Castro And Khrushchev Begin Talks

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro pose at the Kremlin in Moscow as they opened talks aimed at further cementing relations between their two Communist regimes. Dominicans Charge Cuba, Haiti In Pact

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican Republic charged today that President Francois Duvalier of Haiti had offered military bases to Cuba's Fidel Castro.

The charge was made by Foreign Minister Andres Preites to the Organization of American States — OAS — which arrived here this morning.

Members of the mission flew to Port Au Prince, the Haitian capital, after an airport conference with Preites.

War threats had receded as the Dominican Republic claimed a bloodless victory over Haitian dictator Duvalier.

Preites told the OAS mission that the Duvalier government had links with Iron Curtain countries.

Dominican President Juan Bosch in a cable to the OAS Monday night said he would cooperate with the OAS mission but that he feared new outbreaks of violence against the Dominican Embassy in Port Au Prince.

The trouble between the two occupants of the island of Hispaniola erupted when the Dominican government charged Haitian troops invaded the embassy in Port Au Prince.

As the expiration of a Dominican ultimatum neared Monday night, Haiti announced its guards had been withdrawn from the embassy grounds and it would respect the security of diplomatic missions in the capital.

Bosch said he had withdrawn a threat to send troops and warships to Haiti on condition "that no act be taken to aggravate the state of affairs existing between Haiti and the Dominican Republic."

The Dominican Republic broke diplomatic relations with Haiti last weekend but Bosch said embassy personnel would not leave until Haiti grants safe conducts to the Haitian foes of Duvalier sheltered in the embassy.

The Dominican government has asked Colombia to take over Dominican affairs in Haiti but has not yet received a reply, Preites said.

The Dominican government radio proclaimed a "triumph for our national dignity" in the Haitian government's removal of guards from the grounds of the Dominican Embassy in Port Au Prince. Alleged opponents of Duvalier had taken refuge there.

President Bosch's government also took satisfaction from assur-

Technicality Delays Voter Registration In House

AUSTIN (AP) — Backers of a voter registration system began preparing amendments today after a technicality barred a Senate-passed measure from today's House calendar.

Rep. Don Heffon of Sherman, House sponsor of a Senate-passed annual voter registration bill, said a rule kept the Senate bill from the calendar Tuesdays in the House are for consideration of House and not Senate proposals.

On the House calendar is a House bill by Rep. Malcolm McGregor of El Paso setting up an annual voter registration system, such as the one backed by the Texas League of Women Voters.

McGregor's proposal would provide that a voter would re-register by voting at least once in a four-year period. No fee would be charged for voting.

The House spent the morning on a "local and uncontested" calendar.

The voter registration system will be needed if Texas vote to abolish the $1.75 poll tax.

Rep. Y. E. Berry of San Antonio told the House Monday he will attempt to bring up a proposal to let 19 year olds vote in Texas.

The House last week voted 91-49 to submit this constitutional change to Texas voters, but lacked 9 votes of the required 100 to send the bill to the Senate to get it placed on the general election ballot.

Sweepstakes Plan Legalized

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Democratic Gov. John W. King, announced to the Republican-controlled New Hampshire Legislature today that he had signed a sweepstakes bill which had kept the state in turmoil for months.

Gov. King called on the legislature to help him "make a first state operated sweepstakes in this country, one that will be conducted honestly, efficiently and in compliance with the laws of the United States government."

King told the lawmakers his legislative counsel, Joseph Millimet, had discussed the sweepstakes with U.S. Department of Justice lawyers and was convinced that the New Hampshire sweepstakes would not violate federal law.

He said tickets for the sweepstakes, the first to be legalized in any state in nearly 70 years, could be sold to people whether or not they live in New Hampshire.

The U.S. government disclosed that it was withdrawing a 30-man naval training mission from Haiti at Duvalier's demand. Duvalier's demand was made Saturday, before the flareup in relations with the Dominican Republic, and obviously resulted from Washington's open opposition in recent months to the Duvalier dictatorship. The United States declined Monday to serve on the OAS peace mission because of its strained relations with Haiti.

More Peace Talks Planned Today In Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma flew to the Plaine des Jarres area today to resume peace talks with the Communist controlled-Pathet Lao.

He faced widening demands from the Pathet Lao in the talks, originally confined to hostilities in the Plaine region but later enlarged to include political questions dividing the shaky coalition government. Fighting in the Plaine has lull since Friday.

The Pathet Lao demanded an expansion of the truce talks after charging that right-wing forces of Gen. Phoumi Nosavan were airlifted aboard American planes to the Plaine to reinforce outnumbered troops of neutralist Gen. Kong Le.

Medics Elect

DALLAS (AP) — Dr. Max Johnson, a physician in San Antonio for 38 years, was elected president-elect today of the Texas Medical Association.

FEARS DOUBTED

"I have respect for those who have an honest sincere concern about the morality of this action, although I do not agree with them," he said.

"As for those who raise the fear of undesirable elements invading our state, I firmly believe the fear is without foundation. I am convinced that we can conduct an honest and respectable operation that will have the tendency to discourage those who seek gain in this field."

DENY CHARGES

Kong Le, Phoumi and the American Embassy denied the accusations.

Western officials have charged that Communist North Viet Nam is aiding the Pathet Lao drive to overrun this strategic Southeast Asian kingdom.

Sixteen North Vietnamese technicians employed at the Plaine des Jarres airport were repatriated to Hanoi today by agreement of the North Vietnamese and Laotian governments.

North Viet Nam also announced it will withdraw for "security reasons" an estimated 300 other workers constructing houses at Khang Khay, the Pathet Lao headquarters.

The International Control Commission charged with maintaining peace in Laos, said it would establish a continuing observation base to the Plaine.

Informed sources noted, however, that Poland, the Communist member of the three-nation commission, opposed the decision Canada and India, the other two members, apparently decided on the continuing observation post over Polish objections. The Pathet Lao previously had opposed stationing over an ICC team permanently in the troubled area.

CITY PULLED THE STOPPER

A steady stream of water running down Lancaster, Gregg and Scurry streets this morning was not from a broken water main.

City crews pulled the "stopper" at the detention dam, in the 1400 block of Gregg, to drain off water caught from Sunday morning's rain.

Purpose? To prevent an extra mosquito breeding place.

10 Days Given For Trial Briefs

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Dist. Judge Louis Holland granted 10 days Monday for both sides in a $2.6 million slant hole damage suit to file briefs on a defense motion to move the trial to East Texas.

Nortex Oil and Gas Corp. of Dallas is seeking $2,645,278 in damages from the Burk Royalty Co. of Wichita Falls and its head, George Kimball.

Three Gregg County residents, Don Meabon, Hunter Parks and Mary Kemp, also are defendants.

The defendants asked for a change of venue when the case was called Monday. The plaintiffs objected.

IN HANDCUFFS

Sheriff Miller Harris and Deputy Sheriff Wes Patton took Myers, in handcuffs, to the church. The prisoner was wearing clean khaki trousers and was smooth shaven.

As soon as the ritual ended, he was returned to his cell in the county jail. He was carrying a carton of cigarettes he had been given as a present. Two women, the church janitor, a newswoman, and the two officers were the only spectators.

"I am glad that I have done this," said Myers.

Christian Demos In Worst Beating

ROME (AP) — The Communist left and the liberal right made unprecedented gains in Italy's parliamentary election, newly complete returns showed today.

Premier Amintore Fanfani's Christian Democratic party received its worst beating.

The outcome of weekend voting for a new Chamber of Deputies and Senate showed a political upheaval that raised a big question mark over Fanfani and his experiment in left-leaning government for Italy, a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

First in the Senate, then in the chamber, the Communists pushed their total popular vote above the 25 per cent mark.

And in both houses the Christian Democrats—who led Italy out of postwar ruin to economic boom—slumped below the 40 per cent level.

The Italian Communist party—the biggest such party outside the Red sphere and second biggest in Italy—improved by almost 4 percentage points over its showing in the last general election, in 1958.

Communists were jubilant at the outcome. The party boss, Moscow-trained Palmiro Togliatti, said it was a real victory, "better than our forecasts and hopes."

Fanfani withheld comment. His campaign workers watched the returns with gloom.

The results were astounding in an election where little change had been anticipated.

There was a surprising flight of voters from the Christian Demo-

In both houses, for the first time, the Communists and Marxist Socialist parties together polled more votes than the Christian Democrats.

Over all, the parties backing Fanfani's "opening to the left" maintained a majority in the new Parliament, though their edge over the opposition was reduced.

There was no chance of a Christian Democratic majority, but one had not been expected.

The elections, first since 1958, chose 630 members of the Chamber of Deputies and 315 senators. In the last Parliament Fanfani headed a minority coalition government of Christian Democrats, Republicans and Democratic Socialists, but support from Pietro Nenni's left-wing Socialists gave him a voting majority.

It was this alliance with the Nenni Socialists and a policy of limited government nationalization and control of industry that constituted Fanfani's "opening to the left." The premier was opposed by rightist members of his own party. But he maintained that only a vigorous government program of economic reform could combat Italy's chronic economic ills, particularly in the south.

Fanfani's pro-NATO foreign policy was not a major issue in the campaign despite Communist opposition. The Nenni Socialists, who formerly were allied with the Socialists, campaigned for an independent foreign policy within the North Atlantic Alliance.

Gay Hill, Center Point Ask Re-Hearing Of Case

Gay Hill and Center Point Common schools have filed a motion for a re-hearing in the Texas Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland. Gil Jones, attorney for Big Spring Independent School District and the County School Board, said he had been handed a copy of the petition which contains 63 typewritten pages.

The two common schools, appealing from a ruling of 118th District Court upholding the action of the Howard County School Board in annexing the districts to Big Spring, is asking the appeals court to hear their case again.

Jones said the deadline for filing a petition for re-hearing would have expired Monday. He said the petition was filed Friday.

"I have considerable time under the law in which to file my answer to the motion," said Jones. "But I do not intend to wait. I will file in the immediate future."

The state appellate court upheld the finding of a jury in 118th District Court in all particulars. The common schools had sought to have the case reversed and remanded.

In the event the appeals court elects to deny the petition for re-hearing, the next step open to the two common school districts will be to file a petition for a writ of certiorari before the Texas Supreme Court. This could shift the matter to the Supreme Court for ruling and take it out of the hands of the inferior courts. Whether the Supreme Court will accept the assignment is up to the court to decide.

Meantime, the courts are nearing their summer vacation time. When this arrives, the higher courts will be closed down until next fall. It is possible the motion for a rehearing cannot be brought before the appeals court before the vacation begins.

Jones has indicated that he may file a special plea with the appeals court asking that it take up the case ahead of its scheduled time in order to further advance the prolonged litigation.

The dispute over the annexation order dates back to May 4, 1960. On that date, the Howard County School Board, by a 3-2 vote, ordered the two common schools annexed to the Big Spring district. Immediately the two districts brought action to set aside the order. This issue has been before the courts continually since that time.

Ultimately, if the matter hangs fire in the courts, as it probably will on the way to the State Supreme Court, some modification in the injunction order may have to be made.

ated a problem of considerable significance in that it restricts the Big Spring district from a number of activities which, normally, it would pursue. Bond elections for permanent improvements, for example, are not possible in the district until the final decision on annexation is settled—the independent district being unable until that time to define accurately its boundaries.

School officials point out that the situation could become critical in view of the steady growth of the population and the increasing need for new buildings and facilities.

Ultimately, if the matter hangs fire in the courts, as it probably will on the way to the State Supreme Court, some modification in the injunction order may have to be made.

How The Area Got Its Name

These moss-covered jars are scattered over a large area of the strategic Plaine des Jarres (Plain of Jars) in north central Laos. The jars date back to pre-Lao times. The area is the crossroads of three main roads connecting Communist North Viet Nam to the north and east, Vientiane to the southwest and the rest of Laos to the south. A neutralist soldier stands at the right in this view of the area, scene of many clashes between Communist and neutralist forces.

Ready For Action

A member of the neutralist forces of Prince Souvanna Phouma, Laotian premier, is armed to the hilt with a submachine gun, extra rounds of ammunition and a supply of hand grenades at neutralist headquarters at Muong Phan near the strategic Plaine des Jarres. A shaky truce existed at the Plaine and Rightist Gen. Phoumi Nosavan threatened to send his forces into action if the pro-Communist Pathet Lao completes its conquest of neutralist forces and takes control of the Plaine area.

Steamboat Race Revives History

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Two well-worked old steamboats race up the Ohio River today—and the thousands expected to watch their duel are sure to include many who can see why Huck Finn got so excited.

The contestants are the Belle of Louisville and the Delta Queen. The Belle is carrying the hopes of the homefolk—all of Kentuckians, in fact—and the sleek Queen, a passenger craft, will be cheered on by the folks at her home base, Cincinnati, Ohio.

The boats, their stern wheels flailing, will race upriver from the downtown levee to Six Mile Island, turn around and head back. The first one to pass under the downstream side of Clark Memorial Bridge, between Louisville and Jeffersonville, Ind., will be the winner. The total distance is about 14 miles.

The Belle will be making a real comeback. She is 49 years old and not as powerful as the Queen. She was on the skids when Jefferson County (Louisville) Judge Marlow Cook bought her for use as a recreational facility last May.

Mad Dogs May Have Killed Capital Punishment Repeal

By RUSSELL LANE
CHICAGO (AP)—Charles Starkweather, the 19-year-old Nebraska ex-garbage hauler who turned killer, and Connecticut's mad dog slayers, Joseph Taborsky and Arthur Colombe, may have killed, besides their 17 victims, the chances for capital punishment repeal in their states.

Moves to abolish the death penalty, regarded as gaining strength, shriveled in both Connecticut and Nebraska in the wake of horror left by the outlaws in the late 1950s. Taborsky and Starkweather were put to death in the electric chairs. Colombe is serving a life term in Connecticut.

BILLS BACK

This year, bills to abolish capital punishment are back before the legislatures of Connecticut and Nebraska, and the perennial fight against execution as a crime penalty is being waged in a score of other state assemblies.

Dedicated leaders of the fight against the death penalty say it is as wrong, morally, for the state to kill a citizen as it is for a murderer to take life. They argue the death penalty is not a deterrent to murder.

Only five states currently outlaw capital punishment. They are Alaska, Hawaii, Maine, Minnesota and Wisconsin. In Michigan, the death penalty may be imposed only for treason in wartime.

North Dakota, too, may execute for treason, and for murder by a convict serving a life term in prison. In Rhode Island, the only time death is prescribed is when a lifer commits murder in prison; and it is mandatory in this case.

OTHERS HAVE IT

The 42 other states, the District of Columbia, and the federal government have capital punishment powers.

Yet, in 1961—the latest year for which the Bureau of Prisons has statistics—there were only 42 executions by civil authority. In that year, the FBI reported there were about 8,600 instances of murder and nonnegligent homicide in the nation.

The 1961 execution total was the lowest in 31 years of record-keeping. All 42 executions were carried out in 18 of the 44 jurisdictions with the death penalty power. California had the most—eight.

Some states have not used their execution power in decades. Yet, there are 10 crimes which carry the capital penalty in various states; the most common is murder. Thirty-three of the 42 executions were for murder in 1961. Eight were for rape, and one for kidnaping.

OTHER CRIMES

Other crimes which are capital in at least one state: burglary, armed robbery, treason, duelling, unlawful use of explosives, attempted rape, carnal knowledge of a child under 14 or of a demented woman.

The method of execution is a patchwork. The electric chair is used in 23 states and the District of Columbia; the gas chamber in 11, hanging in 10, and Utah gives the condemned man his choice—hanging or a firing squad.

The 80-member California Assembly Tuesday voted 41-37, with two not voting, to send Gov. Edmund G. Brown's bill for a four-year moratorium on the death penalty to the State Senate.

The bill, sought by Gov. Brown for the fourth time since he took office in 1958, faces almost certain defeat there.

The governor's proposal would retain the death penalty for those convicted of murder while kidnaping, killing a policeman, killing more than one person, murder in prison, and murder by or previously convicted of first-degree murder.

SOME NOT SAVED

A survey has shown that even had the bill been law, 18 of the 37 persons awaiting execution California would have been sentenced to death anyway.

In New York, the 1963 legislature approved a bill to revoke the mandatory death penalty for persons convicted of premeditated murder.

Under terms of the bill now under consideration by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, a person convicted of premeditated murder would be sentenced to life imprisonment unless the trial jury or another panel decided unanimously after a hearing to recommend the death penalty.

The death chair at Sing Sing Prison was not used from June 1961 until March 21 of this year, when Frederick C. Wood was electrocuted for the slaying of two men.

There are 19 condemned men in Sing Sing's death row at the present time. Gov. Rockefeller or the courts could save them.

COMMUTATION

Another governor, Endicott Peabody of Massachusetts, has announced that he will commute any death sentence imposed while he is chief executive of his state.

The Massachusetts Legislature has a bill to abolish capital punishment—as in every session of recent years. The Senate has approved it and the House, which still must vote final passage, overrode a ways and means committee recommendation that the measure be rejected.

Despite the small number of criminals executed—about one such death for every 1,000 in highway traffic accidents—the pressures continue for elimination of the state's power to take life.

Perhaps the most rock-ribbed demand for the death penalty lies in prisons where guards and wardens argue the specter of execution keeps killer convicts relatively safe to deal with.

Yet a study of murder convictions over 15 years in Illinois, where the legislature has pending a proposal for a six-year moratorium on the death sentence, showed that only 1.2 per cent of killers liable for capital punishment was executed.

Castro Prisoner And Father

John Robert Gentile, shown being reunited with his father, Basil, at Cleveland, Ohio, after 2½ years in a Cuban prison, was being held for questioning by police on charges of passing bad checks and probation violation. Gentile, 31, was one of 21 freed Americans who told of harsh treatment while in Castro's prison.

Rocky Says U.S., Reds Could Trade

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he believes the United States could make a profitable swap with the Soviet Union on Cuba—the Soviets to stop training saboteurs there in exchange for the American restraints placed on anti-Castro "freedom fighters."

He said President Kennedy should advise Premier Khrushchev. "If you continue this, we will be forced to take drastic action."

The New York governor did not spell out what he meant by drastic action.

Rockefeller set forth his views on Cuba Monday night in a speech before a Republican fund-raising dinner in Cincinnati, Ohio. He spoke to an audience of 1,500 who paid $100 a ticket.

During his one-day visit to Cincinnati, the New York governor also said President Kennedy has made a "clear failure of leadership in Washington."

He said Kennedy has not lived up to the "lavish promises" made during the 1960 presidential campaign.

"The American people are being short-changed—in jobs, in security, in living standards, and in social advance," he said.

The governor drew his biggest round of applause when he discussed Cuba and said "perhaps we can get some reciprocity from Mr. Khrushchev."

Before the speech he said in a television interview:

"It seems to me that it might be a very valuable thing if the President of the United States should say to the Soviet Union that we would like to demand that the Soviet Union give the same guarantee to prevent those Cubans who are being brought into Cuba for training in sabotage and subversion in the whole area of penetration and disruption of the free governments of Latin America.

"We might demand from the Soviets this action on the part of the Cubans, which is very comparable to what the (anti-Castro) Cubans are trying to do to the Cuban government."

Rockefeller said "this is the most serious threat to the Western Hemisphere."

Indirectly, he attacked the administration over the situation in Laos where the coalition government is threatened by Communist troops. He said the United States has had experience with coalition governments in China and Berlin and he asked, "Did they work?"

Who wouldn't have thought this would happen in Laos?"

In his speech, Rockefeller said that, as a result of the administration's monetary policies "our people have neither the confidence nor incentives to make the free enterprise system work. Fiscal integrity is as important in government as fiscal integrity in the home."

On the way from his hotel to the music hall speech, the governor met two sharply different receptions.

Several hundred people lined the streets in front of the hotel. They clapped when he emerged. The governor crossed the street and shook hands with a number of persons.

In front of the auditorium, however, he met another crowd who said they were "Goldwater Republicans." They carried placards that said "Rockefeller Is for the Birds, Goldwater for President, and 'Rocky Can't Win'."

Rockefeller returned to Albany by plane after the speech.

Village Hit By Illness

ALAZAN, Mexico (AP) — Virtually every resident of this tiny northern Mexico village is ill, and at least eight are believed to have the dreaded smallpox.

Doctors from the Red Cross hospital in nearby Rio Bravo said early today that the tentative diagnosis of the illness of the Israel Gomez family—all eight members—is smallpox. They add, however, that the diagnosis has not been confirmed in a laboratory.

The other 17 families in the village have illnesses ranging from tuberculosis to diarrhea.

Most of the villagers also are suffering from dehydration and malnutrition, Dr. Socrates Garcia Cantu said.

This tiny farming community is about 25 miles south of the Mexican-Texas border and some 45 miles northwest of Brownsville, Tex.

Dr. Garcia said although the diagnosis had not been confirmed, all possible sanitary precautions were being taken at the village which already is plagued with a severe drought and lack of food. The community is not listed as an epidemic area, however.

The area is accessible only by vehicles with four-wheel drive. Rugged ambulances were due in the village early today to take the Gomez family to the federal hospital in Reynosa.

There have been no deaths, but two doctors and a group of nurses were in the village immunizing all residents against smallpox.

Dr. Garcia said many are suffering from a lack of vitamins and have lost the ability to see at night because of vitamin deficiencies.

The Mexican Public Health Service reported 15 infants from the area have been treated for dehydration in the last two weeks.

Residents of both sides of the Rio Grande, which separates Texas and Mexico, are attempting to aid the villagers.

Lamesa Begins Clean-Up Push

LAMESA (SC) — Lamesa's first organized Clean Up-Paint Up-Fix Up campaign in over six years got under way here Sunday. Conducted by the Jaycees in cooperation with the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce, the 1963 effort started with "church cooperation day" and will be climaxed on May 4 with "vacant lot" and "inspection day."

Special emphasis days have been set aside during the week and various civic, service, church, fraternal and other local organizations have offered services.

Mayor Clyde Branon designated April 28-May 4 as "Clean Up-Paint Up-Fix Up" week and urged the participation of all residents.

Special covered trash cans are being offered at the wholesale cost of $3.99 each by DeMolays and Evening Lions have manufactured special holders for them. A plant exchange has been arranged by three local garden clubs for Wednesday.

Girl Scouts Saturday distributed special banners for display in the downtown area and special drives have been planned by fire and police departments, traffic safety committees, the Lamesa Boys' Club of America, the Royal Ambassadors and other organizations.

YOU HAVE A HEADACHE?

By HALVARD T. HANSEN, D.C.

We have written many articles on headaches. Headaches occur with almost all organic disorders. Then too the eyes and eye strain are often blamed but blameless. Migraine is rare, though frequently mis-called because of the nausea.

Almost any headache can, if the pain is severe enough, cause that sickish feeling about the stomach that is so common in migraine cases.

Nervous headaches caused by female disturbances, tension and the inability to relax is perhaps the most common. Other headaches are liver-gall bladder ailment, others a bad stomach or kidney disease and the emotional type of headache.

Here are several cases which we have treated lately which have failed to respond by earlier treatment.

This man suffered daily headaches which started at the base of the skull and went to the top and front of his forehead. At least once a week, the headache would get so bad he became sick, had blurred vision and his ears would feel full and have a ringing sound. His neck and shoulders would draw tight as a drum. He suffered from indigestion—gas and bloating. Fatigue, without energy was his constant feeling. No. 1568.

This woman came to us complaining of constant headaches, tension and tightness of the neck and shoulder muscles. No. 1637.

This young woman with nervous tension and daily headaches No. 1490.

This local business executive with one headache for 10 days or longer. No. 2103.

These different people, of different ages and different types of headaches are only typical of the cases arriving daily at the Hansen Chiropractic Clinic. Some just look us up and some come from reading our articles but most are referred by grateful patients.

As they come, some are skeptical—many have tried elsewhere. In each case our spinal analysis found nerve irritations and interferences and our X-rays disclosed spinal lesion responsible for the offending nerve disturbances causing their painful symptoms.

Whether or not your body responds favorably to chiropractic care depends upon the degree of damage to your nervous system and the limitations of matter—not upon age, sex or circumstances.

Telling you of our amazing results does not guarantee a cure for you. To guarantee a cure is quackery! We can tell you that while we do not except all cases, we do rest in most all cases we do accept. You too, may be suffering needlessly. Why not investigate as other wise readers are doing? HOW TO TELL

How can one tell the miracles of God from the miracles of Satan or the works of men? God, by the hand of Aaron turned a rod into a serpent and the water into blood; he brought on the plague of frogs. Magicians were able to do the same things. A difference developed, however. Aaron's rod swallowed up the others. The magicians could not remove the frogs from the land; but Aaron could. Then when Aaron caused the plague of lice, the magicians were unable to do the same. They were unable to do any more of the plagues. They admitted that the plagues were wrought by "the finger of God" (Ex. 8:19). The difference was in the quality and extent of the miracles wrought. Satan has power, but it is limited. There is a real difference between the miracles of the Bible, and those of today's "healing campaigns." Today people are not being raised from the dead after four days in the grave, etc., etc. By T. Grass Roots Problem In Spending Told To Chamber

AUSTIN (AP) — Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe said today that "some of the roots of so-called high and reckless spending, by the legislature are in the grass roots."

"To my knowledge the people of Texas have never defeated a constitutional amendment which called for spending money," Moffett told a breakfast meeting sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Moffett, chairman of the Senate subcommittee which wrote the appropriations bill, joined with Rep. W. S. Healy of Paducah in a discussion of Texas' financial needs and ways the legislature is trying to meet them.

"We're in an era of big time spending," Moffett said. "In this biennium, appropriations bill there are about 10,000 items."

"When the 59th Legislature

meets (1965) members must find a way to meet an increased expenditure in public education alone of not less than $100 million," Moffett said. "And I've said before and still maintain that the state sales tax will be up to 3-3/4 per cent in less than 100 years, 4 or 5 years less."

Healy said the money spent is paying dividends.

"We have the finest highway system in the nation, we'll soon be second in the nation in the number of state-supported medical schools, we won't be far behind that when our study of higher education is completed and we have as many people coming out of our mental institutions as we have going in," he said.

The group also heard Rep. George Cook of Odessa explain briefly the operations of his committee. Guests included Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and Highway Commissioner Hal Woodward.

Dr. O'Brien Here For Base Mission

Dr. P. D. O'Brien, Houston, formerly a pastor in Big Spring for a score of years, brought the first of a series of messages at the Protestant preaching mission in the Webb AFB chapel Monday evening.

The services will continue through Thursday evening. Dr. O'Brien is basing his messages on the Book of Job, a field in which he is regarded as a scholar.

Monday he brought a message of hope and confidence, pointing out that God does not immunize His people from trouble and temptation, but he does supply strength to meet these.

"The next time you face trouble," he urged, "do not ask 'how can I get out of this?,' but rather 'What can I gain from this experience?'"

Judging Team To Enter State Finals

COAHOMA—The livestock judging team will enter the State FFA Finals at Texas A&M College Saturday, on the heels of the team's showing in the Area Two and Texas Tech contests held last week in Lubbock. The team of Vernon Long, Olen Fryar Jr., and Tommy Menser placed fourth in general judging and fifth in swine judging.

Gerald Oakes, FFA supervisor, said the school also entered a dairy team, a poultry team and a wool team.

Individual honors went to Ricky Hicks, who placed second in wool judging and first in wool grading. Teddy Merrick placed first in poultry production.

Annual awards presentations will be made Thursday during the Parents-Son Banquet, to be held at 7:30 p.m. in the elementary school cafeteria.

Low Ball Tourny Set This Weekend

A low-ball partnership tournament will be conducted by the Big Spring Golf association at the Myrtle course this weekend.

Rolling Rattler Roundup

Miss Ethel Sperry of Tulsa captured a rattler during the annual Rattlesnake Roundup at Okeene, Okla., even though she's confined to a wheelchair by polio. Miss Sperry and a fellow employee, Juanita Moore, went hunting, not really expecting to catch anything. They found this 4-foot snake and Miss Sperry held it with a snake-catching tool and some men completed the capture. It was Miss Sperry's second snake hunt, but her first catch.

Morris Receives Fraternity Honor

Charles Morris, who will receive his academic degree from Texas Christian University in June, has been named the outstanding member of his fraternity.

His colleagues in the Epsilon Beta Chapter of Delta Tau Delta, a national fraternity, presented him with a plaque to symbolize the honor.

Charles is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Blackie Morris, 1012 Stadium, and he is a political science major. During his undergraduate career he has served as president of his fraternity chapter, was a member of the student committee, and served on the executive committee of the Young Democrats Club and took an active role in other campus affairs.

Grand Jury Begins Session Today

Howard County grand jury, facing some 30 or more cases pending its attention, convened Tuesday morning and immediately began interrogating witnesses.

Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, had called the grand jury back for a new session, a regular procedure at this time of year. The current term of court is the "long term" and it is always necessary to have the grand jury sit two times to keep abreast of its work.

The current list of matters Gil Jones, district attorney, is presenting to the grand jury should absorb its time through today and all of Wednesday.

There are three murder cases to be investigated by the grand jury.

Conservative Coalition In Congress Losing Power

WASHINGTON (AP)—The once powerful conservative coalition in the House has lost every test so far in the present Congress.

Leaders of both parties agreed today, in separate interviews, that the combination of Republicans and Southern Democrats that dominated the House for nearly a generation just isn't what it used to be.

A review of the four major test votes that have taken place in the House since the new Congress convened in January bears them out.

What has happened is this: the Republican ranks are as firm as ever, but more and more Southern Democrats are voting like Northern and Western Democrats.

However the four votes are not all clearcut indicators of conservative strength. There is some indication that Democratic leaders have put their best foot forward by bringing up bills on which they felt their chances were best.

For the purposes of the analysis the votes of the 95 Democrats from the 11 states that made up the old Confederacy were examined. The total party division in the House is 257 Democrats and 177 Republicans, with one vacancy.

Here is the pro and anti-administration split among the Southern Democrats on the four votes:

—Jan. 9 to keep the Rules Committee membership at 15, aimed at making it easier to get administration bills to the House floor. Southerners voted 50-44 with the administration.

—April 10. To restore $450 million for emergency public works. The split was 60-28.

—April 24. Against removing a $30-million student loan provision from the doctor-dentist training bill. Southerners 53-28.

—April 25. Against killing the administration's feed grains bill. Southerners 67-18.

On all these votes Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana held his party members in a virtually solid block.

But, Halleck said in an interview, "we can't do anything for fiscal responsibility without some support for the other side. And that support just hasn't been there."

Robert Carter Wins Honors

Robert Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carter of Garden City, was among the recipients of honor awards at a recent Texas Tech foreign language department annual awards banquet.

He was a first place winner in poetry, and won second place in fiction citations.

Robert also made presentation of Spanish awards, as president of the Copay y Espada organization.

Optimists Award Safety Plaques

LAMESA (SO)—Plaques were awarded to 11 youths who topped honours in a bicycle riding contest sponsored here by the Optimist Club as a climax to special observance of bicycle safety week.

Receiving awards were Clifton Fletcher, Rusty Parsons, Reggie Addison, Glenda Flenniken, Joe Bill Peterson, Robert Carter, Dean Maltberger, Jerry Brown, Mike Stephens, Jayne Riker and Janis Parson.

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP)—Actress Jayne Mansfield's attorney said the bosomy blonde was to fly to this Mexican border town today for a quickie divorce from her musician husband, Mickey Hargitay.

French Canadians Pose Problems For Pearson

OTTAWA (AP) — One of the pressing problems facing Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson on the home front is growing discontent of Quebec Province with its role in the century-old Canadian confederation.

During this spring's election campaign Pearson, like other Liberal party leaders, acknowledged the need for urgent action to improve the lot of the country's 5 1/2 million French-speaking citizens. He indicated he would propose a commission to study the problem.

Most French-speaking Canadians live in Quebec, which includes the city of Montreal and is after Ontario — the second most populous province.

A terrorist organization called the Quebec Liberation Front has pulled off several bombings in the past few months. It says its object is to separate Quebec from the rest of Canada.

More peaceful French-Canadians say there is discrimination against them, especially in the choice of business executives and national officials. Many prominent leaders are pressing for official action to abolish such barriers. —Voted to continue talks with the United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., and other reformed churches in order that the General Assembly might "better equip itself for negotiations toward union with any or all churches committed to the reformed faith."

As a result, the lobby of the Howard County Tax Assessor's office was thronged today with taxpayers who wanted to make certain they had a right to the exemption classification.

Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, county assessor, had warned that Tuesday was the last day such applications could be made. She pointed out that May 1 was the deadline.

She stated today that most of those who were not signed up for the exemption allowance were persons who are paying out their homes to mortgage companies. These companies pay the taxes through the property but are not empowered to sign for homestead exemption for their clients.

The exemption allowance covers taxes on the first $3,000 valuation for state purposes. Only actual homesteads are involved.

Graveside Rites For Youngster

Graveside rites will be held at 4 p.m. Wednesday in the Yantis Cemetery at Yantis for Feloe Sue Howie, one-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Howie, Lenora. The infant died this morning in a local hospital.

The parents are originally from Yantis. They taught school for four years at Elbow before going the Grady Elementary School, where Howie is principal. They are members of the Lenora Baptist Church.

The Rev. C. R. Mathis, pastor of the Lenora Baptist Church, will officiate. Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Survivors include the parents; one sister, Kathy Howie, and one brother, Kim Howie, both of the home, paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Howie, and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Boss Bryant, all of Yantis.

On Honor List

Joan B. Rae, daughter of Mrs. H. T. Bratcher, 1505 Aylford, a junior at Michigan State University, has been named as one of 250 students achieving an all-A record during the winter term. She was one of two Texas students included in the honor list. She is a business services student.

The students will be feted at a dinner May 4 by Dr. John A. Hannah, MSU president.

Panel Okays Ban On U.N. Banner

AUSTIN (AP) — A House committee approved Monday night a bill which would make it unlawful for a United Nations flag to be flown from a public building in Texas.

Sen. Frank Owen of El Paso is sponsor of the measure which already has passed the Senate.

The bill says that the U.N. flag cannot be flown from any building which was built, or whose employees are paid, from state money.

The State Affairs Committee approved the bill.

Eichmann Aides To Go On Trial

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Two former aides of Adolf Eichmann will go on trial soon for sharing responsibility for the killing of at least 900,000 Hungarian Jews in World War II.

Herman Krumei, 58, and Otto Hunsche, 51, also are accused of extorting millions from their victims on false promises to save them from extermination. Krumei was Eichmann's representative in Hungary in 1944 and Hunsche was one of Eichmann's legal advisers.

Probe Is Due

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Republican House member says the House Armed Services Committee will investigate the ouster of a former Marine officer who says he took part in a bush-bush attempt to dispose of the body of a Cuban shot to death outside the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo.

Navy Unloads Trieste

The Navy unloads its 58-foot bathyscaphe Trieste at the south annex of the Boston Naval Shipyard from the well deck of the LSD, USS Point Defiance, after an 11-day trip from San Diego, Calif. The Trieste will be used to search the bottom of the Atlantic when the lost submarine Thresher with 129 men aboard is pinpointed. The Thresher sank in 8,400 feet of water off the New England coast.

STYLISH, TOO

The Nosebobs

NEW YORK (AP) — Plastic surgeons here and elsewhere report that the Jackie bob, fashioned after Jacqueline Kennedy's attractive nose, is in demand by women here.

From time to time American women, in passing through various phases of beauty worship, beseech doctors to recreate for them the cute noses of Debbie Reynolds, Elizabeth Taylor or Mrs. Kennedy.

Unless by some strange coincidence the desired type of nose is an apt choice for her face, the surgeon will probably not accede. Rhinoplastic specialists do not condone nose fads.

"A nose must be harmonious with the rest of the features, depending on age, sex, height, build, and ethnic background of the individual," asserts Dr. Samuel M. Bloom, an eminent surgeon who has been improving noses for the past 15 years.

The patient is able to reach a less arbitrary but far more satisfactory choice after carefully studying her own profile photograph on the reverse of which the surgeon has sketched a planned outline.

NEW NOSE? WHY NOT? Today the entire matter is discussed without embarrassment, Dr. Bloom says, and with no fear of ridicule from associates. Yet 20 years ago anyone considering facial changes risked scorn as a Narcissus, ashamed of the features nature gave him.

The need to repair and rehabilitate the broken bodies and spirits of military men after World War II, however, engendered a psychological era in which everyone became conscious of the devastating effect of facial disfigurement.

"Now there is a wide acceptance of the fact that everyone has a right to look his best," says Dr. Bloom.

So healthy is the public attitude today that women—and rhinoplasty is thrice as common among them—discuss their new noses at fashion shows and cocktail parties with the matter-of-factness they would apply to a pair of new eye glasses.

In some circles, the doctor concedes, an improved nose is indeed a status symbol.

THE WAITING ROOM Still, it is not status but the very human problem of self-consciousness that draws most patients to the surgeon's waiting room.

For example, a young lawyer had a distorted nose that gave him a thug-like appearance which militated against his profession. He had it corrected with salutary effect.

A 63-year-old widow in good health sought a second chance for happiness and remarriage by changing the unsightly nose she had endured for so long. Improved in looks, she got her man.

Parents brought in a tearful young girl so embarrassed because of her oversized, ugly nose that she refused to attend school. In these mitigating circumstances, Dr. Bloom performed the necessary surgery to erase the defect. However, Dr. Bloom generally believes that the nose must achieve adequate growth and development before being reshaped. This is usually late adolescence but optimum growth is variable and depends on the individual.

HOW LONG? Most operations require four or five days of hospitalization. Slight discoloration about the eyes may last for a week or more.

At the Mount Sinai Hospital, the rhinoplastic clinic headed by Dr. Bloom makes it possible for persons of limited means to have the operation performed without surgical fee. Although many other hospitals throughout the country have established rhinoplasty clinics as a part of their free services, the hospital takes the credit for pioneering in the field some 25 years ago.

Ethical surgeons do not re-shape noses unless a real esthetic deformity exists, Dr. Bloom emphasizes.

The patient is warned not to expect her entire life to change as the result of her new nose. But very often the attitude changes with her looks, the personality becomes more outgoing, and a change in her life is inevitable.

Marriage Date Set

LAMESA (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. Bernice Beeman announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kathleen, to Johnny D. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson of Loco Hills, N. M.

Miss Beeman is a graduate of Klondike High School and will graduate in January from Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene. She was the first runner-up in the Miss Lamesa Pageant in 1961 and sweetheart of Pi Mu Alpha in 1962.

The prospective bridegroom graduate from Graham High School and Draughton's Business College. He will receive his BSA from H-SU in January, 1964. Johnson was a freshman cheerleader and member of Tau Alpha Phi fraternity.

The wedding is set for June 15 in Lamesa.

'ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

The projects that are planned far ahead of time are always the ones most successfully completed and MRS. S. T. CHEATHAM JR. is laying her plans for Bible School now. For the work she has planned at the Airport Baptist she will need plastic containers of the type that liquid bleach and detergents come in. She has asked and advertised for any that people empty and would otherwise throw away. Her telephone number is AM 4-6710.

In Midland Sunday for the garden pilgrimage sponsored by the Midland Garden Club Council were MRS. J. E. HOGAN and MRS. ROBERT STRIPLING. Also there were MRS. SHINE PHILIPS and MRS. EARL EZZELL who made the pilgrimage and met the plane from El Paso which brought CHAMPE PHILIPS home for several days stay.

MR. and MRS. BROWN ROGERS have received word that their son, LT. BROWN ROGERS JR., who is presently stationed at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., is being sent to school in Los Angeles for special training. Lt. Rogers is a 1955 graduate of Big Spring High and a 1959 graduate of Texas Christian University.

MR. and MRS. H. J. JOHNSON of Shreveport, La., are guests of her parents, MR. and MRS. ROSS BOYKIN.

The Christmas decoration that is going through a trial period is certainly being tested. Snow is the only hardship it hasn't gone through. Since it has been up we have had high winds (with and without sand) rain, (thank heaven) hail and 90 degree temperatures.

Sweetwater gained a family and Big Spring lost at least one over the weekend. The A. J. PIERSON family was transferred by its company, Texas and Pacific Railway Co.

MRS. HOUSTON PARKER has returned from Amarillo where she spent two weeks visiting. She has been a guest in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, MR. and MRS. TRAVIS AARON.

Miss Bentz Will Marry In June

LAMESA (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lentz announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Judy Kay, to Dennis Ray Leatherwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Custer Leatherwood.

Miss Lentz will graduate from Lamesa High School in May. The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Dawson High School in Welch, presently employed in Lamesa.

The wedding is set for June 4 in the Grace Lutheran Church here.

OES Tea Is Honor For Two

Officers of Laura B. Hart Chapter 1019, of the Order of the Eastern Star, honored Mrs. Royce Womack, worthy matron, and Elzie Worthan, worthy patron, with a tea Sunday afternoon. The hostesses were Mrs. A. C. Bass, 106 Washington Blvd.

Mrs. Bass, Mrs. Womack and Worthan were in the receiving line to greet the 54 members and guests attending the luncheon.

A red and white color scheme was used in decorations throughout the entertaining area. The refreshment table, covered with white satin with an overlay of white lace, held a centerpiece of red roses. Appointments were of crystal and silver. Officers of the OES alternated at the punch service.

Presiding at the register was Mrs. M. C. Lawrence. Guests attended from Chapter 67 of Big Spring and from Midland and Coahoma.

Announce Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Robinson, Ackerly, announce the birth of a son, Lloyd Scott, April 28, at Howard County Hospital Foundation, weighing 7 pounds, 12 1/2 ounces.

The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Floyd White, 106 Circle Drive. The mother is the former Sue White. Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Robinson, Ackerly, are the paternal grandparents.

Church Panel Names 'Ideal YWA' Of Year

Miss Jo Nell Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Turner, was named "Ideal YWA of the Year" Monday evening by the Big Spring Association Young Women's Auxiliary.

Miss Turner will receive an expense-paid trip to Glorieta, N. M., during the YWA encampment in July.

The auxiliary met at the Phillips Memorial Baptist Church for the program "Publish Glad Tidings." A guest was the Rev. J. W. Arnett, pastor of the Stadium Baptist Church.

During the business session, officers for the forthcoming year were elected. Miss Carol Odum of the Baptist Temple will serve as president; Miss Jean Cox of Stadium Baptist Church, vice president; and Miss Jackie Buchanan, also of Stadium Baptist, is secretary.

Following the program, refreshments were served to 25 members.

Umpires Are Still Busy Calling Balks

By MIKE RATHET

Baseball on the American plan, had an international flavor today with the menu featuring a bunch of men in blue acting like Dutch windmills and a couple of guys wondering whether they'll have to climb into khakis in the Caribbean.

windmill act again Monday night, waving the winning run home on a balk as the New York Mets defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2 in a historic game that insured the 1963 balk controversy its place in the record books.

recalled to military service with the Dominican Republic's armed forces because of their homeland's current crisis with Haiti.

The only other major league games were played at Los Angeles where the Senators and Angels of the American League took turns walloping each other in a two-night doubleheader.

Rain postponed the other games—Houston at Pittsburgh and Chicago at Cincinnati in the NL, and Baltimore at Minnesota and New York at Chicago in the AL.

The runs were forced in by balks in the Mets-Dodgers game. The first, charged to New York starter Roger Craig, gave Los Angeles a 2-1 lead in the second inning.

Ed Roebuck came on in relief and balked while pitching to pinch hitter Marc Thronberry, sending Neil Marcy with the deciding run. Jim Hickman's single drove in the final run, giving Craig a little extra working room as he went the distance with a seven-inning.

The bawks were the 77th and 78th in the NL this season. The previous record was 76, set by the NL in 1950.

The Giants got a lift when slumping Willie Mays tripled and scored the winning run on Orlando Cepeda's single in the third inning against the Phillies. The victory, snapping a three-game losing streak, went to Jack Fisher, who scattered 10 hits for his first NL victory.

Chuck Hinton of the Senators and George Thomas of the Angels took hitting honors in the twinbill, each collecting five hits and driving in four runs.

The Senators wrapped up the opener for Don Rudolph with a four-run fifth inning uprising on a walk, Minnie Minoso's single, a throwing error by reliever Julio Navarro on Hinton's grounder and Ed Brinkman's double. That tagged Bob Turley with his third loss. He was tied to win.

The Angels won the nightcap by sending 12 men to the plate in a six-run seventh-inning explosion. A single by pinch hitter Al Moran drove in the tie-breaking run. Mel Nelson was the winner with Jim Hannan taking the loss.

Local Bowlers In Top Spot

The Big Spring Ladies Bowling tournament got off to a good start the past weekend. Truman Jones Motor Co. is leading the team event with a 2963, followed by Five Questions, 2973, Modestas, 2942 and Rocco, Inc., with a 2879.

In doubles, Isa Mae Cox and Winnie Green are high with 1254, followed by Dee Hull and Laverne Casey, 1184 and Jean Hughes and Nellie Kerby, 1178.

Last Thursday night was the last night of play in the Men's Major League City Radio and T. V. was the winner, clinching the crown by winning its last game. E. C. Smith Construction came in second, Cosden Petroleum Corp. was third.

The local Bowl-A-Rama team in the Longhorn Traveling league had a field day in San Angelo last week. This team was 5 1/2 games behind before the day began, but won 12 out of 12 and finished the day in first place with a 4 1/2 game lead, with only one more month to go.

The men's Trio Classic now has six teams ready to bowl, with another two teams in the doubtful category. The league, with John Harold as president, Leon Kerby as vice president and Bill Carter as secretary-treasurer has voted to limit the league to ten teams, and the vacancies will be filled on a first come, first served basis.

Stars Maul Colts, 16-5, In American L. League

The Stars mauled the Colts, 16-5, in the season's first American Little League game here Monday night.

The Stars struck for four runs in the third inning, added five in the fourth and came back to get four in the fifth.

The winners made the most of ten hits. Of that number, four were driven out by Steve Darden and three others by Kenneth Williams.

Ken Williams, who fashioned the mound win for the Stars, yielded seven hits to the Colts. Two of those were by Steve Russell. Russell clubbed a third inning home run for his team, the blow coming with the bases empty.

Table with columns: Stars, Colts, Runs, Hits, Errors. Stars: 16 runs, 10 hits, 0 errors. Colts: 5 runs, 10 hits, 1 error.

Dupas Claims Fight Title

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—"I still can't believe it," said Ralph Dupas, who won the world's junior middleweight title by training on the red beans and rice for which New Orleans is famed.

Homecoming, with lots of ice cream—was what the 27-year-old ring veteran ate in preparation for his title fight Monday night with Denny Foyter of Portland, Ore.

And Dupas showed more aggressiveness than usual in taking a 15-round split decision.

The third time proved the charm in Dupas' quest for a world title. Previously, the New Orleans scrapper had lost championship bouts to lightweight Joe Brown and welterweight Emile Griffith.

Transfer Can't Play In League

RANGER, Tex. (AP)—Senior college athletes will not be permitted to transfer to members of the Texas Junior College Conference starting May 31.

The conference meeting here Monday passed a motion that "students having participated in senior college organized sports cannot transfer to junior colleges after May 31, 1963, and participate in junior college athletic programs."

William C. Wir, dean of Schreiner Institute, was re-elected president of the conference.

National L.L. Season Opens With Flourish

With a touch of pageantry and an expression of appreciation to sponsors, as well as managers, coaches and officials, the National Little League cracked open another season Monday evening.

More than 200 youngsters, nearly half of them wearing sparkling clean uniforms and the others proudly sporting new caps as the big world of the minors opened to them, massed on the diamond.

Master of Ceremonies Gil Ritchey introduced Bill Smelser, league president; Avery Falkner, vice president in charge of minor league; Mrs. Buford Hull, secretary-treasurer; Don Newsum, Boosters president; Harold Hall and D. R. Gartman, past president.

The raising of the flag and the national anthem were followed by the invocation worded by Rev. R. O. Browder, Wesley Methodist assistant pastor, and then the Little League Prayer.

Plaques of appreciation were presented by managers to sponsors of the teams, including in the majors: Devil's, Anderson Music Co.; Braves, Newsom's Food Center; VFW, the Veterans of Foreign Wars; Cards, Tommy Gage Coltex; Yankees, Dibrell's Sporting Goods; Dodgers, Evening Lions.

In the minors: Red Sox, G. H. Hayward; Tigers, McAdams Drugs; Aces, Hall Auto; Hawks, Newsom's Food Center; Ramblers, Jay Dement; Cubs, Sportsman's Toyland.

Ford Farris and Tom Woods combined to pitch the Cardinals to a 13-0 victory over the Devils in the season's first National Little League game here Monday night.

The two limited the Devils to three hits. The Red Birds collected eight blows, including home runs by Farris and Woods, off Devil hurling.

The Cards were kept away from the plate for two innings but struck for four tallies in the third and added five in the fourth.

Farris struck out five and Woods nine in their stints on the pitching rubber.

Alston Not Losing Sleep Over Woes

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP)—Walt Alston may feel like a man with an axe hanging over his head, but he is losing any sleep over it? Not so you can tell it, the balding, harassed manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers insisted after his team dropped its fourth in a row Monday night, bowing to the New York Mets at the Polo Grounds 4-2.

"How does it feel to read that you're on the griddle and that you may be fired at any minute?"

"Well, I'll tell you—I don't like it a doggone bit. But am I staying awake nights, worrying about it? I certainly am not. I have no apologies to make to anybody. My conscience is clear."

During the past several weeks, the baseball market has been flooded with reports—many of them unofficial—that the Los Angeles team is rent with dissension and that Alston is on the verge of losing his job to his coach, Leo Durocher.

The reports reached such proportions that Buzzie Bavasi, the Dodgers' general manager, found it necessary to call a closed meeting of the players and warn them against criticizing their boss.

Bavasi acknowledged that complaints had come from some of the players and that Durocher had passed along some of the gripes.

Later, Bob Kennedy, head coach of the Chicago Cubs, predicted that Alston would lose his job if he lost a game during a recent series. The Dodgers lost the game but Alston kept his job, Kennedy reportedly sent Alston an apology.

Relations between Alston and Durocher reportedly have become so strained that Durocher has moved his locker from the manager's private enclosure at Los Angeles.

Invisible icicles seemed to drip from their ears when Alston and Durocher dressed after Monday night's game. Not a word passed between them.

Durocher calmly combed his thinning hair while Alston, less than three feet away, answered the reporters' post-game grilling.

The veteran Los Angeles manager's face reddened when the subject of team dissension and job security was brought up.

"Who says I'm in danger of losing my job?" Alston asked beligerently. "Not my bosses. Just some newspapermen. Why ask me about it? Ask them."

"If you want to know whether all this tripe bothers me, the answer is yes," he said. "You can't help being disturbed when you keep reading about it."

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Sports dialogue: DICK GREGORY, Negro comic and champion of his race's civil rights.

"The only way we can get the Negro on TV is the Saturday night fight. A Negro can go to Russia and compete in a track meet as a member of the U.S. track team, but he can't do it in Louisiana... there's a law."

CORNELIUS WARMERDAM, former vaulting great:

"I don't think there's any question that we will see a 17-foot vault this year. The glass pole really launches a man like a projectile. It takes a boy with a lot of courage to stay in there long enough to carry it to its peak. As for technique, the biggest difference is that a vaulter now can't keep his hands close together on the pole as we did. I never had my hands spread apart more than two or three inches.

On the glass poles, some of the boys have spread them much wider. It has led to a problem of controlling the pole."

JIMMY CANNON, New York scribe:

"The quickest way to get the Russians out of Cuba is to stage the next Liston-Patterson fight here."

JOHN P. CARMICHAEL, Chicago writer:

"Perhaps Pete Rozelle (NFL commissioner), in his own mind, might think that no real harm was done in the wake of the player suspensions for alleged betting, but he had no choice except to rule as he did. Maybe even a majority of people will say: 'Oh pshaw,' or something like that and still pack the stadia. But for some, if not all, there'll be the harrowing thought that the games are not on the level, that close games could have been 'fixed' from a scoring standpoint, that the next time the boys will simply be more careful. Therein lies the big harm. An image has been destroyed, an ideal toppled. Perhaps a millennium will be reached if it ever comes out that nothing is on the square. It's tough enough now to keep youngsters in line and give them the proper goal in life without trying vainly to explain how, or why, their heroes laugh at contracts and put themselves above the sanctions of law and order. Ignorance of the law has trapped many a man, but here's a case where there was no ignorance... just disregard for authority."

JULIAN PRESSLEY, Odessa High School baseball mentor:

"We've had more injuries this year than in all my other nine years combined. First, a catcher (James Edwards) is injured in spring football practice. Then about the second day out for baseball, he got hit in the mouth with a bat and they had to take nine stitches to close the wound. Altogether, he was out for about three weeks. Then my only left-handed pitcher, Tommy O'Neil, gets pneumonia and is out for three weeks. Wesley Pyfer twisted an ankle and missed two weeks. And he's still limping. We've had other assorted bruises, too."

BILL GEORGE, veteran lifeguard of the Chicago Bears:

"I'm undecided whether or not to play again this fall. I want to play very much but it'll depend on what the doctors say. I've developed soreness in my elbow. The doctors say it is a different injury but I'm not convinced it isn't part of my neck and back trouble. If I can't play any more football, I think I'd like to stay in the game as a coach or maybe even an announcer. But I wouldn't want to devote all my time to coaching and have nothing left for business."

Tennis star ROD LAVER:

"I'm well aware of the low status of tennis in America. But there are two major possibilities for the future. One is open tennis. That will bring on the competition and eliminate the wide difference between the few pros and the remainder of the tennis players. Second is television on a regular basis. If it is tennis is a better game on TV than golf or bowling, which have caught on here so wonderfully. Good tennis on film would not only provide exciting entertainment but will re-educate the public to our game."

New York Knicks Slated To Grab Off Duke Star

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP)—The other eight teams in the National Basketball Association take their second step today in a campaign to cut the five-time champion Boston Celtics down to size.

The NBA clubs will hold their annual draft of college talent, with picks going to the teams in the reverse order of the standings.

This gives first choice to the New York Knicks, who set an all-time team mark for utility in the recently concluded season, followed by the Chicago Zephyrs, who will move to Baltimore next season.

Then, in order, come San Francisco, Detroit, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Syracuse, Los Angeles and the Celtics.

The Knicks are almost certain to nab Art Heyman of Duke, 6-foot-5 All-America and player of the year, although one mournful Knick official said: "With our luck, he'll probably come to, lame."

Other collegians likely to be grabbed early include: Rod Thorn, West Virginia; Nate Thurmond, Bowling Green; Jerry Ward, Boston College; Tom Thacker, Cincinnati; Eddie Miles, Seattle; Bill Green, Colorado State U.; Roger Strickland, University of Jacksonville; Jim King, Tulsa, and Herschel West, Grambling.

The NBA moguls opened the three-day meeting Monday with a move aimed squarely at Boston's long-time domination of the league.

The officials voted 6-3 to abolish the territorial draft, which gives teams the right to take collegians playing within a 50-mile radius of their home courts. The territorial draft will go with the 1966 season.

Strong Winds Hit S. Texas

By The Associated Press
 Strong winds which produced "evidence of a tornado" lashed the area south of Kenedy in South Texas early Tuesday.

Heavy rains, wind gusts to 60 miles an hour, and hail were reported in wide parts of South Texas.

Victoria had 1.70 inches of rain and strong winds shortly after midnight. Hail peppered the community of "Coste southwest of San Antonio.

At dawn, the thunderstorms continued to roam scattered parts of South Texas.

Dan Stout, a Karnes County deputy sheriff, said strong winds "produced evidence of a tornado" about 5 miles south of Kenedy on U. S. 181.

Utility poles were ripped from the ground and mail boxes and signs were strewn about, he said. An automobile was whisked from the highway, but the occupants escaped injury.

The Federal Aviation Agency weather observer at Palacios said .87 of an inch of rain fell there along with winds gusting to 60 miles per hour.

In North Texas, meanwhile, skies were clear with early morning temperatures generally in the 50s and low 60s.

Rivers and streams were receding following weekend deluges. The Weather Bureau said cool, drier air was spreading into the central portion of the state, but the thundershower activity would continue.

Weather forecasts called for little change the next 36 hours. Cooler temperatures were predicted for North and Central Texas while the thundershower activity was expected to continue in South Central and Southeast Texas.

Tornadoes Kill Ten Persons In Nation

TUNICA, Miss. (AP) — Tornadoes roared through widespread areas of the south and central parts of the nation Monday and Monday night, leaving 10 dead and more than 50 injured.

Four persons were killed near this north Mississippi town when a tornado skipped across the Mississippi River from Arkansas and hit the Moon Lake fishing area. Two others were killed 140 miles east at Shannon, Miss.

Farther north, the Tennessee highway patrol reported two killed by a twister at Maury City, about 90 miles northeast of Memphis. One was reported killed in Hamilton, Ala., in the northwest part of the state near the Mississippi line.

An elderly woman was killed in Randless, Mo. Other tornadoes struck Indiana and Kentucky. High winds were reported in Louisiana.

DEAD LISTED
 Those killed at Moon Lake near Tunica were listed as Auley Buchanan; Melinda Foster, 5; Mrs. Tiny Evans, 70, the girl's grandmother; and E. L. Culp. Killed at Shannon were A. C. Pounds, about 35, and Beatrice Hodges.

The Maury City, Tenn., victims were listed as Mrs. Sissie Starks, 86, of Friendship, Tenn., and her daughter, Mrs. Frank Branch, 39, of Jackson, Tenn. They were visiting in the home of Mrs. Starks' son, G. P. Starks. The frame house was destroyed.

The man killed in Alabama was not identified. The Marion County, Ala., sheriff's office said at least 17 other persons were injured in the Hamilton twister, most of them teen-agers gathered in a cafe. Heavy property damage was reported in most of the stricken states. The most destructive twister apparently touched down first at the Moon Lake area in Mississippi and then spun east for five miles to the community of Rich. The four persons were killed and a dozen injured when a row of six tenant houses was flattened on a plantation.

HOUSE MOVED
 One house near Rich was carried one-fourth mile by the twister but its 10 occupants survived. Heavy property damage was reported from winds and hail the size of hen's eggs which pounded the area.

Five persons were reported injured in the Maury City twister. The highway patrol said seven homes were destroyed.

A 6-month-old baby, Sherry Clement, was reported in critical condition at a Jackson, Tenn., hospital. A witness said the baby was blown out of the arms of its father, Ernest Clement, as he

DERRICK TOPPLED
 High winds caused property damage in central and northern Louisiana but no one was reported hurt. A windstorm toppled 21 oil derricks in the Tullos-Olla area in central Louisiana.

Tornado alerts were issued for Georgia by the Atlanta Weather Bureau but were rescinded early this morning. Stiff winds raked Atlanta and other parts of Georgia and caused temporary flooding in some low-lying streets in Atlanta.

Odessa took five first places, Kilgore three and San Angelo two. Navarro College of Corsicana took one. The Roundup, Odessa's newspaper, won top honors in page makeup.

business leader

The unquestioned leader in advertising today is the daily newspaper. Last year, advertisers invested $3.6 billion in daily newspapers—far more than in any other medium. Many were national advertisers. But many more were retailers who have always depended heavily on newspapers for local business because nothing else can do the job as well. These local advertisers—business leaders in their own communities—invested approximately $2 billion in newspapers last year. That's more than they put in radio, TV, and outdoor combined! The leader has authority, believability, trustworthiness. That's why 100 million people turn to newspapers for information on an average day.

Sec. Dillon Reports Deficit May Be Cut Billion Dollars

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said today the economic outlook is so promising that the estimated $11.9 billion deficit in President Kennedy's 1963-64 budget may be cut a billion dollars.

This provides even more reason for reducing taxes, Dillon told a meeting of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Kennedy had forecast the deficit of nearly $12 billion—largest ever projected—when he proposed a $9.8-billion spending program for the year beginning July 1, along with a three-step tax reduction plan.

In his prepared remarks for a tax and spending discussion on the second day of the business group's meeting, Dillon said it would have been unrealistic four or five months ago to expect conditions for a tax cut would be so favorable. Now, he said, "the time is right."

Based upon the economy's performance in the last few months, he added, prospects for the year are relatively better than most observers had anticipated.

"If the improvement continues," Dillon said, "our estimated revenues for fiscal 1964 may well be more than we estimated in January—perhaps by as much as a billion dollars—thus reducing the deficit."

"Even more important, a tax cut when the economy is reasonably buoyant would be far more effective in carrying us toward full employment than a tax cut when the economy is merely limping along."

He said Kennedy's tax program is designed to "accelerate our economy" well into the future. The economy now, he said, is ideal for this kind of program. Responding to critics of budget deficits, Dillon said "the deficit we now face is the result of an economy which produces too little—rather than of a government which spends too much."

"There can be no question," he said, "that if our economy were operating at reasonably full capacity, our tax system would today be producing more than enough revenue to finance our current national needs within a balanced budget. Instead of worrying about deficits we would be enjoying budgetary surpluses."

Dillon asserted the Kennedy administration dislikes deficits as much as anyone else.

"But," he added, "we are prepared to accept them if necessary to preserve our national security. And we are not prepared to sacrifice effective job-producing programs such as the emergency public works bill, during a period when unemployment remains at unacceptably high levels."

The Chamber Monday night conferred its 1963 "Great Living American" award on Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark.

The bidding:
 West North East South
 1♥ 1♠ 2♥ 3NT
 Pass Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Jack of ♠ South brought in a contract in hearts when his opponent failed to dispose of a card he could ill-afford to hold.

West's opening heart bid, North's one spade overcall and East's competitive raise were all of a somewhat synthetic nature. South's jump to three no trump, however, was based on robust values and asked little more from partner than a reasonably good spade suit and a card or two on the side. North was a bit apprehensive at the startling turn of developments, but he decided to let sleeping dogs lie until such time as he was doubled.

West opened the jack of hearts and declarer falsecarded by winning the trick with the king instead of the queen. The anemic dummy was a disappointment and South saw that, even if he located the queen of spades, he would have just eight tricks. The only chance for a ninth seemed to rest in obtaining another heart lead from West for, if East ever got in, a play thru South's queen of hearts would apply the finishing touch to his hopes.

Because of the sparsity of communication between the two hands, South was more or less obliged to take the spade finesse thru West. Declarer cashed the ace of spades first and then led the nine. When the queen came up, the first hurdle was successfully mounted. South ran the dummy's spades throwing a diamond and a club from his hand. West had to make three discards and he elected to part with one heart and two clubs.

A club was led to the closed hand, felling the jack and queen, respectively, and now declarer played a small diamond. West followed with the nine and the ace was played from the dummy. A diamond, return put West in and, inasmuch as he had nothing left but hearts, he was obliged to lead that suit and establish South's queen for the game fulfilling trick.

West should have seen the endplay coming, and when the diamond is led he must put up his king so as to retain the nine for an exit card. If it should prove that South has the queen of diamonds, West's play will establish that card as the ninth trick, but in that event West cannot escape the endplay no matter what he does. His only hope, then, is to find his partner with the diamond queen and a high club honor, in which case East must get in eventually to effect the necessary heart return.

All Sections Of State Need Rain

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—The state's agricultural picture had at least one thing in common this past week, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service: Every district needs rain.

He said district agents used such terms as extremely and critically to describe the moisture situation. High winds and temperatures depleted surface moisture. Pastures and ranges also have been adversely affected.

Rain that fell was in limited areas.

The moisture situation for South Texas was described by Joe Rothe at Weslaco as critical over most of his district. Extremely high winds have sapped moisture and injured young tomato plants. Dryland crops are suffering.

SOIL MOISTURE

Soil moisture in South Central Texas is short in all except the northern counties of the district and high winds have depleted surface moisture, reported Joe Glover from Gonzales. Livestock are in fair to good condition with some feeding and prickly pear burning still needed.

Rain is needed in most upper Gulf coastal counties, especially on late planted cotton and for pastures, said Silver Whitsett from Richmond. Cotton, corn and grain sorghum generally are up to good stands and growing nicely.

The moisture situation has changed for the worse in East Texas where R. J. Hodges from Nacogdoches reported rain was needed. Pastures and ranges were described as below average, but livestock are in fair to good condition.

SHORT SIDE

Although light showers have fallen in Northeast Texas, moisture is on the short side, said John Survik from Mt. Pleasant. Planting of cotton, corn and grain sorghums is continuing.

Ted Martin from Denton reported recent scattered showers were beneficial in North Central Texas and small grains were making fair growth but a general rain would be welcome. Pastures and ranges furnished some grazing.

Soil moisture is short in Central Texas and the high winds have aggravated the situation, said R. G. Burwell from Stephenville. Oats are heading and prospects are poor due to the lack of moisture and the winter damage. Corn and grain sorghum are being cultivated but need moisture. Water in stock tanks was low.

ABOUT DEPLETED

The moisture which covered the West Central Texas area early in the month is about depleted and grain yields will be light, reported Roy Huckabee from San Angelo. Livestock are holding up fairly well.

A general rain is needed in Far West Texas where livestock conditions are poor to good, said Ray Siegmund from Ft. Stockton. Cotton planting was continuing.

Hot, dry winds depleted moisture in the rolling plains, wheat is heading and two counties have reported that some wheat acreage has been plowed or grazed out due to the poor prospects for a crop, reported James Simmons from Vernon. Moisture is needed throughout the 22-county district.

Surface moisture is very short in the South Plains area, but soil moisture is fair to good, reported W. H. Jones from Lubbock. Some early cotton and grain sorghum have been planted but the total will amount to less than two per cent of the expected total. Jones added, Livestock and ranges are in fair condition.

The moisture situation in the Panhandle continued to worsen and the plowing up of dryland wheat is continuing, said W. W. Grisham Jr. from Amarillo.

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

IF YOU KNEW WHAT HE KNOWS...YOU'D BE DRIVING THE 1963 TOTAL PERFORMANCE FORD

Ford is traditionally the nation's Number One police car. The reason: Total Performance!

When it comes to cars the police don't take chances. Put yourself in a State Trooper's shoes. Every day you must patrol hundreds of miles in your cruiser. Mileage and time grind into a man and his machine, but when the hell rings you've got to be ready. Chase. Turn. Corner. Quick stop. You've got to be able to do it all if you're going to do your job.

Listen to a trooper list the reasons why he prefers a Ford and you realize how difficult it is for any car to measure up to his standards. The car must be strong... it has to stand up to big mileage. It must be silent... when you practically live in a car a rattle can sound like a kettle drum. It must be sure... powerful enough to catch any car on the road. It must be... dependable even in the face of the unexpected. Strong. Silent. Swift. Sure. A four-word outline of total performance. The police demand it. That is why they choose the total performance Ford. Why should you settle for anything less?

Whatever your special demands and needs, the total performance Ford is the car most likely to satisfy you all the way down the line. You can prove this for yourself.

First, look at Ford's astounding record in open competition this year in the grueling Daytona, Riverside and Atlanta 500's, and in the demanding Pure Oil Performance Trials. Only a car with total performance could roll up so many impressive wins.

Second, before you buy any new car, test-drive the solid, silent Super Torque Ford. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Make this important discovery—if it's built by Ford, it's built for performance... total performance.

U. S. Wellhead Controls Hit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America said today the industry must make immediate efforts to get Congress to remove wellhead prices of natural gas from federal controls.

"There is no useful purpose in further postponing the inevitable," said Harold Decker, president of the Highland Oil Co. at Houston.

The head of the 7,000-member trade group said totally unworkable efforts by the Federal Power Commission since 1954 to regulate gas prices have created one of the most serious long-standing and frustrating dilemmas ever to confront the industry.

The Supreme Court ruled in 1954 the FPC should regulate the price of gas sold wholesale into interstate commerce for resale. The FPC sought originally to handle each producer's case on an individual basis but switched in 1960 to an area formula under which prices were set for each of 23 major producing areas.

Hearings on prices for the first of the 23 areas—the vast Permian Basin of West Texas and southeastern New Mexico—have been under way since early 1961.

An industry committee has been working on a gas bill several years but a major split within the group developed last year when the Independent Natural Gas Association—the nation's major gas pipelines—endorsed area pricing.

This endorsement will be subject to review when the pipeline holders hold their 1963 meeting in September in New Orleans.

A tax expert told the oil men proposals could lead to higher higher prices for petroleum products.

Americans Hurt In S. Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A Communist guerrilla band and a grenade-throwing terrorist injured several American military advisers in South Viet Nam Monday.

Five Americans were hurt when Communist guerrillas shot down a helicopter 25 miles northwest of the coastal city of Quang Ngai.

Two Americans—a captain and a sergeant—were hurt when a terrorist threw a grenade into the restaurant where they were eating. They were evacuated from the southern delta town of Long Xuyen to Saigon for treatment.

McClelland Faces A New Indictment

HOUSTON (AP)—Former Probate Judge Clem McClelland, already under a 10-year prison term and facing 10 other criminal indictments, was indicted Monday on a charge of accepting $25,783 in bribes from five men indicted together in a separate count. The bribes allegedly were paid by Bryson Martin, Ross Evahn, David Hudson, E. R. Coffey and Robert Durch, all of Houston. The grand jury indicted the five men on a charge of bribery. Dist. Judge Langston King set bond at $2,500 for each defendant. All were stockholders in the now-defunct Tierra Grande Inc., which the indictments allege was the vehicle for payments to McClelland.

Martin and Durch are under earlier felony indictments charging them with crimes in connection with estates and probate matters.

Dist. Atty. Frank Briscoe repeatedly has charged that Tierra Grande, organized and headed by Martin, was a paper corporation to mask illicit kickbacks to McClelland.

All five men have denied this. McClelland is under a $15,000 appeal bond, after being convicted Nov. 17 in Belton, where he was tried on a charge of converting funds from the estate of Clara Currie. Briscoe charted for the jury then the corporate structure and assets of Tierra Grande.

The evidence and testimony showed total deposits of $34,054 were made into Tierra Grande's account during the life of the firm, Dec. 2, 1960, and May 10, 1962.

During the same period, $33,039 was withdrawn. Briscoe developed at the trial that McClelland benefited from Tierra Grande by at least $25,498, either directly or indirectly.

Briscoe also brought out before the jury that during the same period, the five men were appointed appraisers, administrators, or in other capacities, in 1896 cases involving estates.

Briscoe's records, and records in the county clerk's office, reflect the five were actually appointed in 3,511 cases.

McClelland and the five men contend Tierra Grande was a legitimate investment corporation, and McClelland was employed in an advisory and legal capacity—hence his freedom to draw on account funds.

McClelland faces 10 other felony charges arising out of the probe.

British Company To Help Soviet Petrochemicals

LONDON (AP)—A British firm signed a $56-million contract Monday for the design and supply of four complete polythene factories to the Soviet Union.

The deal follows a recent Soviet purchase of nearly $10 million worth of synthetic rubber-producing equipment from Britain.

Soviet trade mission chiefs here have displayed interest in a British fertilizer plant able to produce 400,000 tons of fertilizer annually. The plant is valued at about $33 million.

Official sources reported the British government has taken no action yet to sanction the import of Soviet oil in return for purchases of British ships.

Odessa College Bill Approved

AUSTIN (AP)—A bill creating a new state-supported school at Odessa won approval Monday night from the House State Affairs committee. The bill, by Rep. George Cook, Odessa, would elevate Odessa Junior College from a two-year school to Permian State College of Technology, a four-year institution, effective in 1965.

The same committee approved measures last week which would set up new state colleges at San Angelo and Edinburg. San Angelo currently has a junior college while Pan American College at Edinburg is a four-year school, but only partially state-supported. Debate by the entire House is pending on the San Angelo and Pan American bills. Voting against the Odessa measure were Reps. Sam Collins, Newton; David Crews, Conroe; Gene Hendryx, Alpine; John Allen, Longview; and Wilson Foreman, Austin.

Allen, chairman of the committee, said last week that pressure was put on him and his committee by "the speaker, the lieutenant governor and the governor" to give committee approval to the San Angelo and Pan American proposals.

"And friend received with thumps upon the back" Edward Young

DAILY GUIDE— Rather a too hearty day, so if you don't feel up to the hustle and bustle, stay out of the main highways of traffic, shopping, entertainment. There is an aggressive quality in all the action. If you have the business that needs the hard sell, this is the day to do it. Gentle April is going out with an impudent grin as if she knew May was likely to be anything but soft and balmy.

People can be touchy and on the defensive, so do not challenge them unnecessarily. But if a showdown is due, approach it courageously. This is not the time to be nabby-pabby.

Some may have wondered why people in general have seemed so difficult in the past months. The same conditions have prevailed in world affairs; even good friends and allies have differed. Mars long stay in Leo has touched off many disagreements which have not been easily dissolved and have lasted from last fall through this spring. Take it easy; don't get involved in controversy.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, TAURUS! The special pressures which Taurus has had to bear in the past months are nearly over. June can bring sudden releases, but there is some danger you could jump too quickly to the conclusion that all your troubles are over. Your career, or your authority in outside matters, can continue to be a major issue in your life all this year. June can be excitingly romantic or social, but there is hard work in the background. Your talents can be directed to new fields in the future. Unusual people can help you project your gifts, and some behind-the-scenes help can be expected from now through to next spring.

A Devotional For The Day

Thou shalt be his witness unto all men of what thou hast seen and heard. (Acts 22:15)
PRAYER: O God, who art revealed through the witnessing of Thy servants, set our hearts to the task of winning, our tongues to the task of witnessing, and our lives to the task of sharing; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Responsible Action

Mitchell County Commissioners Court has faced up to a matter which, because of the failure of a number of Texas Counties to act, is commanding attention in the legislature.

Mitchell Commissioners voted to redistrict the county, equalizing both the voter representation and the road mileage in each of the four commissioner precincts.

One evidence of the positive attitude which the court took toward this problem is in the unanimous vote by which the lines were relocated. The matter was not a hasty action; on the contrary it had been under serious study for four years. As Judge Elmer Martin observed, any continuing inequities may be examined from time to time and may be adjusted if the court believes there is valid reason. The important thing is in having made such a splendid start.

Of course there is no such thing as absolute equality in the number of voters, nor in the miles of road, but had not the court acted the voter ratio would have been 30-1 as between Precinct 1 (Colorado City) and No. 3 (formerly the Spade precinct). Under the new lines, the ratio is 8-6.

If commissioners courts in other Texas counties (Midland, for instance, where 97 per cent of the voters are in one precinct) had as keen a sense of responsibility and of fairness as the Mitchell Court, there would be little need for compulsory legislative action.

Let's Take A Grown Up Attitude

Lifting one voice, a junior high parent here has protested formal affairs at the junior high level, because it is part of a trend to encourage dating.

"I feel strongly that social programs of this type in junior high and elementary schools are one of the basic causes of dating too early, going steady too early—and most important, of marrying too early," he wrote. He went on to say his youngsters would not be allowed to attend and would be keenly disappointed, that he not only owed them an explanation but felt obligated to protest.

He is not alone in that feeling, for all over the country there is an increasing awareness that the pressures on the young, younger set are largely adult-made.

In a conference here recently with parents, Dr. Jimmy Allen, chairman of the Christian Life Commission for his church (Texas Baptists) said it had been established beyond doubt that early dating leads to early going steady and in some cases to teen-age marriage. Back of this are the adults, pushing their children to be grown up ahead of their time. He suggested that the Parent-Teacher Associations are an excellent starting point to at least set up a parents code regarding dating, hours, etc. In Abilene, some progress was made in this direction. At Pasadena, as our letter writer, pointed out, the school board had taken action.

This is not something that concerns a single junior high school, nor indeed all junior high schools. Actually, with the tendency to move dating down to a "partner" basis to even the pre-teens, it is something that is reaching down to the top elementary level. It's time grown ups take a grown up attitude toward this business of letting youngsters grow up without being made a pawn of parental pressure and pride.

Holmes Alexander Poets, Politics And Pathos

WASHINGTON — Toward the end of his life Robert Frost came closest to being the American poet laureate. It was too bad that he had to muffle that great moment on the Capitol portico when he became sun-blinded by the glare on marble and snow and couldn't read the poem he'd dedicated to President Kennedy on Inauguration Day.

IT WAS TOO BAD, also, it always seemed to this witness of the event, that Frost ever attempted to harness his muse to any political handwagon, even for a special occasion. For it is, the nature of poetry — and the quintessence of Frost's finest creations — to have no other god than God.

When he was depicting Nature and enunciating Truth, he achieved a lyrical simplicity that was matchless in our times. Like the best of the English Poets Laureate, from Chaucer through Masselief, Frost wasn't born to be a king's canary, and nothing any of them wrote in praise of political dignitaries or institutions had much validity.

FROST WAS an excellent publicist in his own behalf. He built the public image of the ruffled, gray-shocked poet who liked people to call him Robert and who used quaint expressions, such as "to say" his verses. I knew him briefly during the Breadloaf Writers Conference back in 1939. He was not without the temperament of a prima donna. He insisted upon silence when he talked. He did not suffer rival celebrities (Bernard DeVoto and J. P. Marquand were at the Conference) very gladly. I am told by Louis Untermeyer, who knew him intimately and visited his deathbed, that Frost had an inner sweetness and charity which was not revealed to the world. Frost's publishers will soon release a 400-page volume of Untermeyer-Frost letters, which will show the man whom few others knew.

UNTERMAYER, now in Washington as Poetry Consultant to the Library of Congress, recently delivered a "rediscovery" lecture on one of Frost's New England contemporaries, Edwin Arlington Robinson, whose life and works were in many ways the antithesis of Frost's. Untermeyer calls Robinson the poet of the misanthrope and the misfit, of the discarded and the dispossessed. Robinson had no flair for publicity, but in the end he found a measure of success by writing with sad sincerity about this material dealing with the medieval romanticist, born too late into a world of greed and ugliness, and who "scratched his head and kept on thinking; Miniver coughed and called it fate, And kept on drinking."

Billy Graham

QUESTION: I have noticed in a recent newspaper that they refer to you as a good actor and a psychologist. It does seem to me that to make so many people come forward and make "their decisions for Christ" as you do must involve something of this nature. I, myself, am in the process of being converted and feel it would be desirable to have such a crisis experience as these people do. But I find that it is almost impossible. How, then, do you account for such sudden conversions without being called a good actor and a psychologist? H.J.W.

ANSWER: It is inevitable that an observer watching one of our crusades would think of me as either an actor or a psychologist. I must admit that there is a certain dramatic effect created by vast crowds and by large numbers coming forward making decisions for Christ.

But there are two reasons among many, why I know that this is not the answer. In the first place, while psychological tricks might be used to influence some people, those who come forward in our meetings are not all ignorant or unlearned people, neither are they all intellectuals. They are from the middle classes as well as the lower and higher classes of our society. They are from the most well-educated down to the almost illiterate.

Conversions even take place in the lives of psychologists and psychoanalysts who have come to study the method. This is because it is a work of God and not of man. It depends upon the work of God Himself and not upon the cleverness of the preacher.

Another reason why this could not be due to acting or psychological method is the fact that the converts continue serving the Lord long after the crusade is over. The effect created by psychological methods would soon be nullified, whereas we have ample records of persons living active Christian lives ten years after the crusade is over without having had any renewed contact with me or with any part of our evangelistic team.

There are many other reasons I could give but space does not permit.

Heresy

BALTIMORE (AP) — At a luncheon given by the Oyster Institute of North America and the National Shellfisheries Association, the main course was hamburger steak.

It was no surprise to the main speaker, Frank P. Briggs, assistant secretary of the interior for fish and wildlife. In his hometown of Macon, Mo., Briggs said, the Black Angus Association once served shrimp at its annual banquet.

HIS STRONGEST ALLY

James Marlow World Is Run By Old-Timers

WASHINGTON (AP) — All around the world younger men are in the wings, waiting to take over. It looks like some wait.

Power is like glue. When a man has it he sticks to it unless he's pried loose or there's a rule against sticking too long. There are few such rules. So the world is run mostly by old-timers.

President Kennedy at 45 is the only leader of a major nation under 60.

The oldest, 87-year-old Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany, is the only one who shows signs of stepping down this year. And that's not certain.

IN BETWEEN Kennedy and Adenauer are Macmillan (Britain), Khrushchev (Russia), and Mao Tse-tung (Red China), all 69; Tito (Yugoslavia) and Franco (Spain), both 70; De Gaulle (France), 72; Nehru (India), 73; Salazar (Portugal), 74; Chiang Kai-shek (Nationalist China), 75.

In the past 10 years only one top leader stepped aside because of a rule. This was President Eisenhower who served two terms and could not have run for a third, even if he had wished to, because the Constitution bans it.

In Britain Winston Churchill, growing feeble at 80, showed no desire to quit as prime minister until in 1955 his Cabinet prodded him into going.

His successor as prime minister

Anthony Eden, was pried loose in 1957 after bad public reaction to the failure of the British-French-Israeli attack on Egypt.

IN RUSSIA, Georgi Malenkov, who became premier when Stalin died in 1953, was pushed out in a power play. So was his successor, Nikolai Bulganin, the power-player was Khrushchev who became premier in 1958.

Even in a country as small as South Korea, power had its fascination. President Rhee, really dictator Rhee, saw his country through the Korean War but at 78 in 1960 was thrown out by a military junta which has ruled since.

In one of his bubbling moments last week Khrushchev caused more talk than understanding when, mentioning he was 69, he said "everyone understands that I cannot hold for all time the position I now have in the party and in the state."

Besides being premier, he's also secretary boss of the Russian Communist party. He has had some ups and downs — like the split with Red China and having to pull his missiles out of Cuba — but there's no reason to think he's shaky.

LIKE THE other old-timers of the world, he'll probably stick to what he has until he's pushed out.

The departure of each elderly man now heading one of the countries mentioned above will mean some change. But in none of them can any safe prediction be made of drastic change of reversal when he's gone.

Adenauer's Christian Democratic party, over his protests, has picked a successor for him when he goes. If he goes, Vice Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, if there's a change it probably won't come before next fall.

Erhard may reverse Adenauer a bit, swinging more toward the United States, less toward France. No one is suggesting he'll fuss with the NATO alliance. Chances are he'll try to make it stronger.

Khrushchev loosened some of the tyranny of Stalin and loosened the unity of world communism by his downgrading of Stalin. He talked about getting along in a peaceful world. This didn't mean he wouldn't try to grab all of it, if he could. No one expects his successor to be less eager.

Hal Boyle No Weaklings Here

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy may be worried about the physical fitness of the younger generation, but I can set his mind at ease about the younger generation in our household, at least.

In just one 30-minute phone conversation my daughter gets enough exercise of various kinds to qualify her for entrance into almost any Olympic event.

She's a natural for the discus throw, having an unerring arm with apple cores and peanut shells that sends them straight into the wastebasket, in the far corner of the room.

As for me—I'm in shape for the broad jump, since Gay is always in a heap in the middle of the floor right between where I am and where I want to be.

She walks, jumps, skips, does pushups, practices deep knee bends and stands on her head, all while eating raisins, drinking soda pop, munching on bread, brushing her hair and keeping up a running conversation with another 13-year-old on the other end of the line—who is doubtless doing these same things in her own indoor gym.

My amateur athlete keeps her self in superb condition with two or three hours a day of these calisthenics, all while clutching the phone between her ear and shoulder, in the crook of her arm, or balanced on her stomach while she sprawls comfortably on the floor.

A good deal of her activity is concerned with supplying herself with the necessities of life from the various storage places within her reach. Fortunately for her, the telephone is in the kitchen and the cord stretches just enough to allow her free access to the refrigerator and to cabinets stocked with food to give her energy for her talkations.

Besides serving as a medium of communication and an opportunity to do the daily dozen, the prolonged sessions with "Mr. Bell's beamish" give did the perfect excuse when he's late for dinner. He can always claim he tried to call and the line was busy—and it always was.

Realizing that telephonic is just as much the disease of adolescence as measles is common to childhood, I try to be patient with my AT&T addict.

To Your Good Health Most Babies Outgrow Thumb-Sucking Habit

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: My 11-month-old baby girl sucks her index finger constantly. The very first time I saw her (two hours old) she was sucking her finger.

As soon as she finishes her bottle, her finger is in her mouth. My real problem is that her gums are very crooked. Will this affect her teeth and can it be corrected?—MRS. J. S.

At 11 months, I don't as a rule pay much attention to thumb or finger-sucking. Babies get some comfort or a sense of security from it, and they outgrow the habit. Several years later thumb-sucking can become a real problem.

However, in this case, I'm not so sure. The baby happened to discover her finger almost at birth, and she evidently has become much attached to it.

If the shape of her gums is being affected, then something should be done. This can result from prolonged and excessive pressure of the thumb-in-the-mouth. Or finger it isn't common, but it can happen.

Here are my suggestions:

1. Take extra pains to cuddle her when she finishes her bottle. Maybe this will distract her from the finger.
2. The next time you see the doctor for a checkup, discuss this habit with him. Let him gauge whether she is really deforming her gums or whether you are being too nervous about it.

3. Try tying a mitten on the hand. Even if she manages to shove the mitten in her mouth, the pressure will be distributed. And she may start to lose the habit.
4. She's just getting to the age she can enjoy simple "games," like rolling a ball, or grabbing at your hand, or shaking a rattle. Or grabbing at a top on a string. Several times a day see if she won't get so interested in such little "games" that she'll grab with both hands, and forget sucking her finger.

Dear Dr. Molner: You recently wrote about chest X-rays and radiation. What is your opinion about X-rays of other parts of the body? Our young son swallowed an object and received a series of bowel X-rays. He also had an X-ray with barium enema. Your comments would be appreciated.—MRS. L. W. V.

My answer remains the same, regardless of the area X-rayed. Yes, we should always avoid NECESSARY radiation.

But bowel X-rays, like chest X-rays, are far from needless. The amount of radiation from them is tiny compared to what we receive from natural sources. For millions of years people have been sprayed with a continuing if small amount of X-rays.

X-rays are frequently required for diagnostic purposes.

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband has an ulcer. He smokes cigarettes almost continuously. He can leave home seemingly O.K. and then return in an hour in a bad condition. You would think he is dying.

He also has terrible headaches—just as suddenly. Doctors say it is nerves. Advice, please, so I can help him more.—MRS. P.R.

There's not much you can do if he won't help himself. He sounds like a very tense individual. Sedatives and tranquilizers are an aid for this type. The biggest factor in ulcer care is to change attitudes and habits for the better. It's up to him to control himself; both his smoking and his nerves.

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Molner in care of the Herald for the booklet, "Ear Noises—Their Causes and Cures," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim Big-Hearted, Big-Footed George

When I was a muddled kid, there used to be a boy who was regarded by my set as about the nicest guy going.

"Everyone was real kind to him. If we had an extra apple or a spare stick of candy, we would say, 'Hey George, you want this?'"

All of us wanted to keep George friendly.

ABOUT TWO TIMES each year, we had desperate need for his help, for he was about the only person to whom we could turn, in moments of crisis and expect help.

George was a millrun sort of a kid. Not good-looking, not a brilliant athlete and only a mediocre student.

Physically, he was about average. He had about an average-sized head; average-sized body and, what really mattered, a pair of feet that were just above average for all kids of his comparable age. It was his feet that we depended on. We shuddered when we saw George limping. We were relieved when that disableness vanished.

GEORGE WAS AN obliging fellow—he could always be counted on to break in a new pair of shoes for his friends. Since his feet were about average size, he could do the breaking in for nearly all of us. He must have had real tough feet—the agonies which all of us seem to suffer when we got new shoes never seemed to afflict him.

We'd turn our new kicks over to George. He'd put them on and wear them for a week or so. When he handed them back to us, all of that tormenting stiffness was gone, the leather was soft, the place on the spur which was intended to rub blisters no longer existed.

LOTS OF FOLK who weren't in on the deal, thought that George must be the son of a shoemaker owner. He seemed to have a different pair of shoes on every week. I wonder if he really had any shoes of his own.

What recalled George to my mind was the painful ordeal I am now passing through: I am breaking in (without the kindly help of George) a new pair of shoes. A lot of progress in the shoe manufacturing industry has been made in those years. But there is one step yet to be achieved—at least insofar as my poor old knobby feet are concerned.

THAT'S TO BRING forth a new pair of shoes which I can slip on and walk away with the good old solid comfort I enjoy from the scuffed up, battered old shoes ready for discarding.

There may be shoes like that. I just haven't found them. Every new pair of shoes I get are like all of the other new shoes—they just kill my feet.

Inez Robb The Problem In South America

No sane person will deny that in the second half of the 20th Century we live in perilous times. And perhaps in no sphere is the time so perilous — or so short — as in South America.

The reading I am about to recommend will give pleasure to no one. But at least it will inform Americans of the whirlwind, fed on hunger and despair, that is gathering in the other half of the hemisphere.

THE TIDE of revolution is running so strong in Latin America that Gerald Clark's new book bears the ominous title, "The Coming Explosion in Latin America" (David McKay Company, publishers). Clark, an associate editor of the Montreal Star and formerly its chief foreign correspondent, has written a treatise that ought to have the widest possible audience in the United States.

For his book emphasizes the fact that rampant revolution today is sparked not by Marxism but by hunger, and by men everywhere who are determined no longer to be either hungry, landless or exploited. Marxism rushes in to exploit the situation whenever and wherever it can. But the situation and the acute physical hunger of millions of men, women and children existed before Marxism and certainly before Fidelism.

ANYONE WHO HAS traveled in Latin America must recognize the truth of Clark's factual account of the shuddering poverty that exists side by side with vast feudal wealth coupled with unconcern for the hungry poor.

"They are human cattle," a Peruvian oligarch told Clark. And he heard that phrase repeated over much of Latin America.

LIKE THE other old-timers of the world, he'll probably stick to what he has until he's pushed out.

The departure of each elderly man now heading one of the countries mentioned above will mean some change. But in none of them can any safe prediction be made of drastic change of reversal when he's gone.

Adenauer's Christian Democratic party, over his protests, has picked a successor for him when he goes. If he goes, Vice Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, if there's a change it probably won't come before next fall.

Erhard may reverse Adenauer a bit, swinging more toward the United States, less toward France. No one is suggesting he'll fuss with the NATO alliance. Chances are he'll try to make it stronger.

Khrushchev loosened some of the tyranny of Stalin and loosened the unity of world communism by his downgrading of Stalin. He talked about getting along in a peaceful world. This didn't mean he wouldn't try to grab all of it, if he could. No one expects his successor to be less eager.

shoes) and a decrepit chair or two; any hope of owning more is necessarily slight among human beings with a per capita income of only $280 a year.

"Although 60 per cent of all Latin Americans are engaged in agriculture, the bulk of arable soil — three-quarters of it — is owned by a landlord class numbering two per cent. Similarly, the mines, the oil fields, the utilities, when not under the control of foreign investors, are owned mostly by a thin layer of wealthy families.

"IN ESSENCE, the feudal design created by the conquistadores persists, with minor modifications, to this day."

The above is a moderate statement of facts, as well as an indictment of a system that is leading to what Clark sees as "the coming explosion."

The Alliance for Progress has had little or no effect in changing the social and economic patterns of 400 years. The Alliance has not made even a dent in the tax system "where income tax dodging, next to making money, is the most popular pastime of Latin America's ricos."

IT HAS had even less success in any kind of an equitable distribution of land. There are two kinds of hunger in Latin America: actual, physical hunger, and hunger for land, enough land on which a man can raise food to feed himself and his family.

"If there is no immediate land reform, there will be communism," says Clark.

EVEN BEFORE I read Clark's book, I had read in the April 1 edition of "Christianity and Crisis" a most disturbing article, titled "The New Revolutionary Mood in Latin America" by Richard Shaull, a missionary in Latin America for many years and now a member of the Princeton Theological Seminary.

Neither Clark or Shaull offer comfort. But they offer information vital to us North Americans.

Marquis Childs Effectiveness Of Averell Harriman

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy in discussing foreign policy problems and the men in his Administration who deal with them has often spoken with respect and not unmixed with wonder at the decisiveness and the sure touch of one of his adjutants considered a "discovery."

The discovery is 71-year-old Averell Harriman, recently made Under Secretary of State for Political Affairs, the third-ranking post in the department. Harriman had been in his new office only a few days when he was pitched into the new crisis over Laos.

CHARACTERISTICALLY he proposed to fly at once to Moscow to put directly up to Premier Khrushchev the issue of whether Khrushchev meant to support the accord on the neutrality of Laos and try to put an end to the renewed conflict.

WHILE HE FINALLY decided to move with more deliberate speed, taking soundings first in Paris and London, the younger men who work with him were impressed once again with the swift determination of their chief. Half-humorously but nevertheless with a certain awe they sometimes refer to him as the Tiger of Foggy Bottom or alternately the Wonder Kid. His blunt reply at a session of the American Society of Newspaper Editors to a question that seemed to him to carry overtones of McCarthyism with an eloquent statement of the loyalty and intelligence of his co-workers was typical.

IT IS AN extraordinary climax to an extraordinary career.

His one heady venture into elective politics — elected Governor of New York by a narrow margin in a surprising upset — showed a curious dualism in the Harriman career on which President Kennedy has also commented from time to time. Fired by ambition and backed by former President Truman, he set out to get the Democratic Presidential nomination in 1956.

AS A LATE comer to the political arena, the Governor thought of himself as more of a pro than the pros themselves, and he leaned heavily on his alliance with Tammany's Carmine DeSapio. He was the hard-boiled realist who would not listen to advisers who told him that his strength lay in his independent liberal image in the FDR-Herbert Lehman tradition. In 1958 he was defeated by Nelson Rockefeller by more than a half-million votes.

When he came to Washington with the Kennedy Administration to resume his career in public service Harriman did not repeat the mistake he had made in politics. Unlike some of the intellectuals and brain-trust types who seemed to feel that they had to be more hard-boiled — more "realistic" — than the generals and admirals, he maintained an independent viewpoint.

THIS CAME out in the debate with the impending collapse of the Western-backed regime in Laos two years ago. Harriman argued for trying a political-diplomatic solution that might stabilize a Laos unaligned with either side in the pattern of neighboring Cambodia. Those advocating the use of stepped-up military force from outside argued that this was too great a risk.

"Of course, it's a risk," Harriman snapped in one meeting. "Anything we do is a risk. But at least if it works we will be buying time."

DESPITE the joint communique issued at the end of Harriman's talk with Khrushchev, that may prove to be all that was achieved. But the American position, when the attempt began to establish a neutral Laos, could hardly have been worse. Having rejected the neutralist leaders, Souvanna Phouma, and American-trained general Kong Le, the Eisenhower policymakers backed a bumbling General Phoumi Nosavan.

HIS FORCES fully equipped with American arms fled in panic when the Communist-led Pathet Lao moved with a relatively small show of strength.

In his office in the State Department Harriman works a 12-hour day, arriving usually before 8 a.m. and seldom leaving before 8 p.m. For a man of 71 the mere physical movement of flying overnight from Washington to Paris, to London, and thence to Moscow, conferring at every stop, is in itself no small ordeal. But the new Under Secretary of State takes it in his long, rangy stride.

HIS INDEPENDENCE is perhaps the quality that most impresses his colleagues in this latest phase of a career spanning 30 years in and out of government. The remark of a cynic — "It's easy to be independent if you have $100,000,000" — is not relevant. Harriman has been proving that great wealth does not necessarily inhibit bold and independent thought.

Sweets And Facials

Pangburn's candies and Max Factor cosmetics combine to make exceptionally fine gifts for Mother's Day, May 12. This display is inviting at McAdams Drug, 1714 Gregg.

Time For Mother's Day Selections

With Mother's Day just two weeks off, it is time for young and old to think of gifts for May 12.

Mrs. Tom McAdams, owner of McAdams Drug, 1714 Gregg, has rearranged the former Elliott's Drug and now has a good display of all kinds of gifts for Mother's Day.

Pangburn's candies, long a favorite with lovers of good candies, are available in gift boxes in all sizes and flavors. The giver can select the mixed chocolates with nuts and fruits, or may choose one kind to suit the taste of the mother receiving it.

There are the cosmetics, colognes, bath powders, bath oils, and others in the Max Factor brand, well known by women everywhere.

There is also a good supply and display of Lene's cosmetics. These come in single items or in sets for the discriminating mother. All of them make good Mother's Day gifts.

There is a big supply of Mother's Day Greeting cards by American, to go along with the gifts. McAdams Drug is a self-service store with many items for men and women, and all members of the family, even down to the youngest who may have just arrived.

Costume jewelry, wrist watches, men's cuff links and the clasps, are featured in standard makes.

Women's hosiery in sheer nylons, brushes, single and in sets, a complete hair coloring line in Clair and Technique, with other hair sprays and treatments; baby needs from the birth on up, including powders, oils, bottles, sterilizers, blankets, sanitary diapers, and bags, to name a few, are all on display at McAdams Drug.

For men there are shaving needs, hair oils and tonics, colognes and about any item necessary for the well-groomed look. The store carries a good line of school supplies now, and Mrs. McAdams says there will be a much larger stock for the next school year.

The magazine rack displays all the latest magazines and periodicals desired.

The fountain is convenient for shoppers who need sandwiches, coffee, and cold drinks. All kinds of cigars, cigarettes and tobaccos are well displayed.

The drug store also has a film service, and black and white film is returned in 24 hours. Color film, according to kind and make, takes a little longer.

Mrs. McAdams extended an invitation to Big Spring residents to come by the store and look over the top quality merchandise available, and to take advantage of the off-street parking available in front and at the side.

And don't forget Mother's Day gifts which must be purchased in the next few days. They are available at McAdams Drug, 1714 Gregg.

Big Selection At White's Store

There is a big selection of furniture at White's, 202-204 Scurry. Advertised brands, such as Kroehler, are carried on the floor at the store. If the suite, or particular piece you want, is not on hand it can be brought in from centrally located warehouses in a few hours.

In addition to furniture there are garden tools, lawn mowers, air conditioners, and automobile accessories, including tires and batteries.

There is plenty of parking space at White's too, including a customer lot on the South side.

Quick, Convenient Meals Provided

For quick convenient lunches, for the working man or woman, a call to a Wagon Wheel Drive-In will get the service you need when you need it. Drive in to eat lunch, or have it prepared to take with you to the job.

Three Wagon Wheel Drive-Ins, operated by H. M. and Ruby Rainbolt, provide that convenience for those who want good food and good drinks in the comfort of their cars and dressed for any occasion or in their work clothes.

Hearing Aid Center Employs All Modern Equipment

How does your hearing measure up now, as compared to a few years ago? Did it ever occur to you that all those sounds you've been hearing, which cause inability to distinguish some, are not actually sounds at all as far as anyone else around you is concerned?

The Hearing Aid Center, on the sixth floor of the Permlan Building, is equipped to measure your hearing in decibels. The decibel is the usual unit used for measuring loudness of sounds. It is equivalent to the loss in power in a mile of cable at 860 cycles.

This may not mean much to the average person but it will reflect, on an audiometer, the efficiency of your hearing, and can tell what frequencies your ears are receiving sounds best, or worse.

Maybe the normal sounds are coming through, in both ears efficiently, but some tones or pitches, may not be registering so that you may distinguish them. Some hearing aids today are so built that they may be tuned like stringed instruments to give you the proper corrections.

Mildred Smith, operator of the Hearing Aid Center, can run an audiogram and recommend the best corrective measures to suit your ears. Your decibel registering may show one or two, or maybe all, frequencies deficient.

It is no longer necessary to feel embarrassed by hearing deficiencies. Today it is a mark of intelligence to wear corrective devices which may often prevent embarrassing situations arising when hearing is defective. There is no need to have others shout at you in a crowd. There is no need to have others feel that you are ignoring them when you may just fail to hear a pleasant "Good morning," or a question.

If your hearing can be corrected, an audiogram will tell the story. You can then put on the aid, for one or both ears, and walk out in public feeling like a "new man."

Mildred Smith can go to the homes if persons are physically unable to go to her office, or are bed patients. A telephone call to AM 3-6383 will get you information about what may be done to see if your hearing is defective and, if so, corrected.

Hearing Made Easier

Mildred Smith, at the Hearing Aid Center, adjusts aid for a customer in her office. These aids are adjusted to fit special sound losses at certain frequencies. They are not, like former aids, designed to magnify all frequencies unless needed, thus preventing "deadening" sounds on some frequencies where the ear records properly.

The Meeting Is Over

New Garbage Collection System Wins Approval

The City of Big Spring will soon have a new garbage container and pickup system for business areas. Authorization for the purchase of a packer body and metal containers was granted at a special meeting of the city commission Tuesday morning at Coker's Restaurant.

The packer body, mounted on a new truck chassis to be purchased, will cost $7,465.00, and four-cubic yard containers for the business area—about 100—will cost $240.77 each. The number to be purchased will be determined by a survey before the order is made. If the containers are given two coats of enamel the price will be higher. The containers will have hinged lids for ease in dumping small trash.

The truck chassis will be modified to fit the packer body and more information will be sought from dealers before purchase is authorized.

The new system will have a hydraulic lift to lift the metal containers and dump garbage into the packer body. The unit will be mounted on the driver's side of the truck and operated by the driver. The same lift will lower containers back into place. Lids of the containers will not permit trash to blow out.

The packer body and containers will be purchased from Pakmor Manufacturing Co., San Antonio.

Bids were received from Pakmor and from Dempster Dumpmaster for consideration. Pakmor was low bidder. Dempster's bids were $8,900 for the packer body installed, $335 for the four cubic yard containers, and $450 for delivery of packer body.

The commission also reviewed preliminary plans for two new fire stations to be started later in the year under the Master Plan bond program. The architects estimated a cost of $40,000 each will run approximately $20,000 under the amount set up in the bond program. Gary & Hohertz, architects, have designed the buildings.

One station will be built on city property west of the golf course on Wasson Road. The other is to be constructed in the west part of the city on property yet to be obtained. Final plans will be submitted at an early date, the architects said.

City Of Lamesa Moves Offices To New Building

LAMESA (SC) — The City of Lamesa, doing business at the corner of South First and Dallas for nearly 38 years, opens up in a new municipal building at 8 a.m. Monday leaving only the police and fire departments operating from the old structure.

The new City Hall is located at 310 South Main and was formerly known as Burkhead Office Bldg., which was purchased last year and renovated for use as a municipal building.

The move from the old building was accomplished Saturday. Police and fire departments will be retained in the former City Hall, which will be remodeled extensively. An enlargement to the city jail also is planned.

The office building was purchased for $30,000. Purcell Construction Co., Lamesa, was awarded contract for remodeling when city council accepted his low bid of $27,000. Extras were added to the structure and total cost of land and building, plus remodeling, has been tentatively fixed at $60,000.

The building is 50 by 110 and includes 4,500 feet of floor space. The lot measures 140 by 150.

A drive-in window has been constructed for the convenience of water users paying bills. The remodeled structure will house the tax office, water office, water superintendent, director of finance, billing office, city manager, city secretary, city inspector and engineer.

A paved parking lot will be completed in the near future on available space adjacent to the municipal building. A council meeting room has also been added to the building. The city council plans to hold an open house in the near future.

Chamber Group Discusses Plans For Film Club

Organization of a Foreign Film Club was discussed Monday night at a meeting of the cultural affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The committee will seek information on equipment needed, a place to show the films and organization of the club. Major and Mrs. John C. Wood will undertake this work.

Dr. J. H. Burnett, chairman of the committee, reported that an appearance by the Permian Basin Symphony may be arranged as a part of the Big Spring concert series. More information will be acquired, he said. Also, the committee discussed the possibility of offering a performance of the Big Spring Civic Theater as a bonus for the concert series.

Help is being sought for restoration of the Prairie Playhouse, which is leased by the theater group. It is used for rehearsing and production preparations. Mrs. Bill Unger, member of the Las Artistas Art Club, said that group is interested in using the facility for painting workshops. With improved lighting and other renovation, the Playhouse could be used for art shows and art displays.

Decisions Listed During Crusade

More than 100 decisions of various kinds have been registered during the first two days of the revival meeting being led at Baptist Temple by Freddie Gage. A number were professions of faith Monday evening. Melvin Lindsey, member of the high school coaching staff, gave his Christian testimony, and this evening Joe Sibley, assistant coach, will give his. An estimated 600 crowded into the auditorium, and Alvis Harry made arrangements for overflow seating. A film, "The Tony Fontaine Story," which premiered recently in Hollywood, will be sent here so young people can see Saturday evening the conversion story of a rock and roller. Friday evening Evangelist Gage will tell his own story of conversion from hoodlumism to the ministry. Special music is being arranged by Steve Taylor, Gospel musician.

Three Named For Boys' State

LAMESA (SC) — Three Lamesa High School youths have been selected to attend Boys' State in Austin June 9-15. They include Bobby Huddleston, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Huddleston; Jay White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus White Jr.; and Larry Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Griffin.

The boys are sponsored by Allen-Houston Post 330, American Legion, Civic groups assisting in the project annually are the Noon and Evening Lions Clubs, Kiwanis, Rotary and Optimists. The local legion post has sponsored the trip for a number of years and has sent 18 youths to Austin in the past seven years.

Oil Rig Fire

Two workmen and the charred steel of a derrick are silhouetted against 80-foot high flames from a blazing well near Perryton, which killed one man and injured two others. Firefighters extinguished the blaze with carbon dioxide.

DEAR ABBY
A Part Of Illness?

DEAR ABBY: My wife has been seeing a psychiatrist for the past four months. She is 29 and quite attractive. I have never questioned her about her sessions with the psychiatrist, but she frequently tells me about the conversations they have. Yesterday she informed me that on her last visit the doctor asked her to kiss him. He is 53, married and has grown children. She said that when she refused him because she didn't think it was right, he tried to talk her into it. I want to know, is this part of the treatment?

DEAR PUZZLED: No. But it could be part of your wife's illness.

DEAR ABBY: The only thing my husband and I fight about is when I ask him to help me with the dishes or laundry. He tells me that he doesn't ask me to come down to the shop and help him, and I shouldn't ask him to help me do my work. Abby, I've got six children. Only two of them are in school all day, and I never seem to get my work done. Don't you think he should help me?

OVERLOADED

DEAR OVERLOADED: If he has helped you score six children, and only two of them are in school all day, I'd say he should help you with the housework.

DEAR ABBY: If animals cannot count, I would like to ask how W.E.S. explains the actions of a mother mink we raised on our farm not long ago. She had a litter of five. Every day at feeding time she would make five little patties from her scoop of ground meat and then call her offspring to eat. She never made six and never made four. Always five. I say she could count.

DEAR VICTORIA: It would appear that your mother mink could indeed count. But not all animals are as smart as the female mink. What other female owns a mink coat as long as she lives?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "J": Could married women hold more fascination for you than single women because they are supported by someone else?

Stop worrying. Write to Abby. For a personal reply enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

ON THE SHELF

THE CONVERSION OF CHAPLAIN COHEN. By Herbert Tarr. Bernard Geis, $4.95.

Sometimes books that fall into the category of "light reading" manage to blend humor, anecdote, pathos, sentiment, and schmaltz in such a way that they satisfy the reader a lot more than "heavy" reading.

Such a book has been written by Rabbi Tarr. It is comedy, primarily, about a young rabbi who has never heard-out of Brooklyn until that is, he is pressured into volunteering as a chaplain and finds himself in the Air Force, though he is terrified of flying.

Young David Cohen goes first to Chaplains School in Texas, and there are some rich ironies about the initiation of the clerics into the absurdities of military life.

Then he is sent to an air base in Mississippi, where he is beset by racial questions over a Negro Jew, and people who want to pussyfoot over the question of Israel. Having alienated his commanding officer, he is tossed into an assignment at an arctic base, where life is grim and he finds a fiercer who like himself is afraid. He also finds a Jewish girl who has survived the hell of the German concentration camps. You may be sure Chaplain Cohen no longer is the provincial Brooklynite when he has finished his tour of duty. You have to laugh and weep with him, admiring him for sticking to his principles through the alternately nightmarish and hilarious episodes of his military career. The atmosphere of this story is authentic, for the author has served as an Air Force chaplain.

The book is full of winks; it has a fine anecdotal flavor, and you won't overlook the undercurrent of serious thought that somehow celebrates the quality of a man's integrity. It is fun to read, too.

NEW YORK (AP) — Constant television viewing has created a new problem for night club and stage performers, says singer Rosemary Clooney, who encounters it.

"Audiences, accustomed to watching entertainment at home, have gotten into the habit of talking during performances," she explained. "Then, when they go to a club or a theater, they keep it up."

Rosie, whose working schedule these days is so hectic that she has been home about four weeks out of the past four months, tackles the problem of the chatty audience in a forthright fashion.

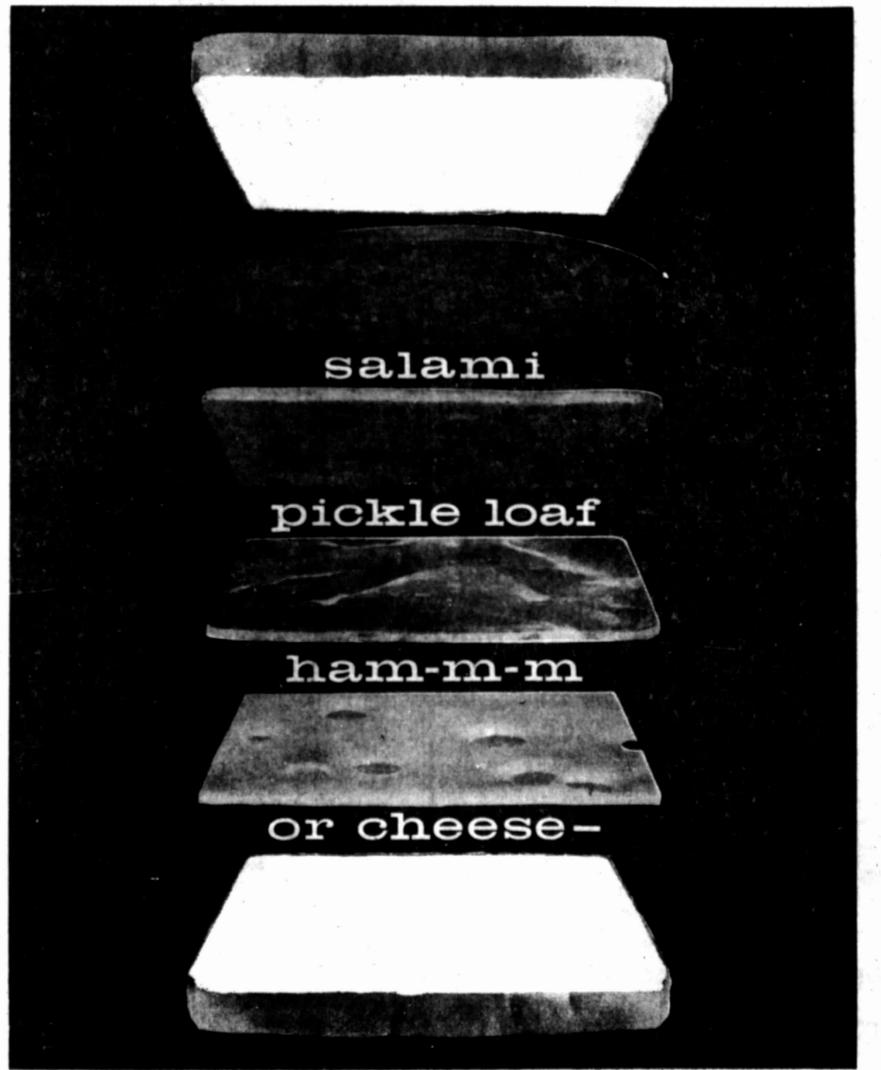

"I tell them that I'm flesh and blood, that I'm not on a screen, that I can hear them as well as they can hear me—and that it distracts me," she said. "The worst

Paint Horse Show Scheduled

Big Spring's second annual Paint Stock Horse show is scheduled for May 19 at 1 p.m. at the Horse Motel Arena, one mile west of the city. Secretary Kenneth Williams, Sterling City Route, said information and entry blanks could be received from his office.

Halter and performance classes will be featured. Trophies, donated by local business concerns, and ribbons will be awarded in each class. The show is approved by the American Paint Stock Horse Association but horses do not have to be registered to show.

Performance classes will include western pleasure, reining, pole bending, barrel racing, and calf roping. Children's classes will include western pleasure, pole bending, and barrel racing.
