Huge Crowd Enjoys Exciting AF Show

A near-record crowd, comfortable weather, and a split-second, fast moving show of thrills, marked the Armed Forces Day observance at Webb AFB Saturday. Base officials estimated that perhaps 15,000 people—one of the largest crowds ever to gather in the county—went through the main gate in upwards of 5,000 automobiles. In addition, many people witnessed the air spectacle along US 80.

There were awards, supersonic flights, and a tremendously exciting parachute demonstration by the Sky Divers from Kelly Air Force Base.

BIGGEST CROWD

"Every parking lot was full, and the ramp was crowded all afternoon," Capt. Ron Kibler, chief of Air Police said.

"It was the biggest crowd I've ever seen in Big Spring, and I hope area people enjoyed themselves," Col. Wilson H. Banks, base commander, said.

The crowd was welcomed to the base about 1:30 p.m. by Colonel Banks, after the gates opened at 1 p.m.

The Central Air Rescue Center, Detachment No. 32, commanded by Capt. Tom Sebbo received the Outstanding Unit Award; Maj. Barry R. Butler, 3560th Pilot Training Group, received his seventh Oak Leaf Cluster to his Air Medal; Captains Phillip L. Murphy and Robert G. Klein, student pilots of Class 64-F, and 1st Lt. Kenneth L. Furbush, student pilot of Class 64-E, received Air Force Commendation Medals for work at stations before entering the pilot training program. These awards were made following the welcoming.

'LET ME SEE' Familiar ground Saturday

HIGH GEAR
The air show started in high gear with eight T-37s roaring off the runway at 1:57 p.m., followed a minute later by three T-33s. Then the crack National Guard Jump team from Kelly Air Force Base, bloomed out in the sky in colored parachutes. The three men dived through the sky for several thousand feet before they opened their chutes. Each represented one color of the red, white, and blue flag of the United States. They landed on target after deftly steering their chutes onto the big ramp at the base.

Many spectators thought, at first glance, that the first parachute chutes were torn. Two triangular panes of light showed through the opened chutes. These were, however, designed to enable the divers to "steer" their chutes to a spot, landing.

The big crowd surged to the barrier on the ramp as the T-37s and T-33s started their fly-by, and the F-104 scramble started.

OUT OF SIGHT
When the scramble word was given, the pilot had the jet in the air in five minutes, and 40 seconds later he was out of sight, headed straight up. As he went out of sight the two formations of previously airborne jets flew again, and then eight T-33s took off. A single T-33 took off in a maximum performance maneuver which deflected the crowd for a short time.

One minute later a big fire broke out on the dirt island on the ramp and an H-43 helicopter manned by the 32nd Air Rescue Detachment, hopped in to blow the flames and smoke away from fire fighters who had the flames smothered in 10 minutes.

At 2:38 p.m. the F-104, at high altitude, broke the sound barrier above the base, and all other jets flew by at lower altitudes and in different formations.

BOMB DROPPED
A high speed pass, by the F-104, at 2:43 p.m., was used to demonstrate bombing technique. The aircraft came in at low altitude, lobbed his bomb, turned on his afterburner, and headed straight up. A few seconds later the bomb exploded on target and a small mushroom-type smoke cloud was formed to simulate a nuclear bomb explosion.

All the T-33s, the F-104, and the T-33s landed from 2:50 to 2:52 p.m. The F-102, well-known aircraft at Webb, took off on its last flight at 2:53 p.m., made two high speed passes, and landed at 3:20 p.m.

"This simulated the departure of the F-102 from Webb Air Force Base," Maj. Charles A. Smith, wing information officer, said. "It is to be replaced by the F-104." The sky-divers made their second and jump for the afternoon at 3 p.m. and landed on target.

The big KC-135 Stratotanker from Walker AFB, N. M., was the chief attraction in the line of static displays. Lines from two to three blocks long formed to get an inside view of the big ship. All aircraft on the static display lines received a steady line of visitors. These included the types being flown in the air show, a F-100 Supersabre from Cannon AFB, N.M., T-39 Sabreliner from Randolph AFB, Tex., C-130 Hercules from Dyess AFB, Tex., and a C-124 Globemaster II from Travis AFB, Calif.

Children flocked to the T-37 to have their photographs made in the cockpit.

MANY DISPLAYS
Displays set up in the hangar included those of the Chaplain, Civil Defense, Civil Service, Family Services, Red Cross, Pilot Training Group, Maintenance and Supply Group, Air Base Group, Civil Engineering Group, Hospital Group, and 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron.

"I want to thank all the people for coming to the open house," Col. Harold C. Collins, project officer, said. "The air was cool and comfortable. A high cloud cover prevented the glaring sun experienced the past two years."

Thunderstorms occurred in the Amarillo, Lubbock, Wink and Childress areas. Golf ball size hail pelted an area two miles west of Vega.

Alleged Sale Of Indian Baby Probed

GALLUP, N.M. (AP)—Investigation continued Saturday in the alleged $4 sale of a one-month-old Navajo Indian infant to white tourists on a Gallup street.

McKinley County Sheriff D. F. Mollica said the baby girl was apparently sold on Feb. 25, 1963, and he didn't find out about it until May 11, when the mother was jailed on a drunk charge.

Mollica said the 22-year-old mother, who has two other children, told him the following story: The baby was taken into the Public Service Hospital for treatment of a cold Feb. 25. After medication, the parents were to bring the girl back on Feb. 28 for additional treatment.

After leaving the hospital, the mother told Mollica that she and her 27-year-old husband were walking on the Main Street of Gallup when a white woman, about 30 years old, asked the mother if she wanted to sell her baby.

The Navajo mother said no. About two hours later, the tourist woman, who was accompanied by a man about 40 years old, saw the Navajo couple again and said: "Come on, why don't you sell me the baby. I've got the money right here."

Mollica said the mother then took the $4 and gave up her baby. The mother and father split the money.

Mollica said the tourists were reported in a 1952 or 1953 white and black Buick with Texas license plates. They told the mother they were from Houston and on their way to Phoenix but would return to Houston.

Mollica said he issued an all-points bulletin to police departments in Texas, California, Arizona, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Nevada to watch for a white couple with an Indian baby.

If the baby is found, Mollica says he isn't sure what he can do. There is no law in New Mexico that prohibits baby selling, he said.

Mollica said he has checked with federal authorities and they have no law that can cover the incident.

Never before in the more than 100 such farm referenda held since 1939 has there been such widespread interest and so much at stake.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman said almost 64 per cent of the nation's so-called small wheat farms—those with allotments of 15 acres or less—had qualified their owners or operators to vote. Heretofore, they were not eligible because control penalties did not apply to them. The penalties would apply, however, under the new plan.

Tension Grows As Referendum On Wheat Nears

WASHINGTON (AP)—A hotly-waged grassroots battle over a new plan to control wheat production approached a climax Saturday with issues and personalities holding a big stake in the outcome of a grower referendum next Tuesday.

Reports from major wheat-producing areas indicate the balloting will be close. Approval by at least two-thirds of those voting is required to put the new program into effect for 1964.

Agriculture Department officials estimate that more than 1 1/2 million persons are eligible to vote.

The outcome of the referendum on the new wheat plan—advanced by the Kennedy administration—almost certainly will have great influence on future government farm-aid policies ad on the personal and political fortunes of farm leaders in and out of Congress.

Never before in the more than 100 such farm referenda held since 1939 has there been such widespread interest and so much at stake.

Comments After TVA Ceremony

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—President Kennedy wined into a racially turbulent South Saturday and tackled the civil rights issue publicly at Nashville and privately in a brief conversation in the air with Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama.

The President and the governor, who see the handling of the racial problem from different directions, rode a helicopter for 35 miles up the Tennessee Valley from Muscle Shoals to Huntsville.

On the way they held what was described as a "not unfriendly" talk about racial difficulties in Birmingham.

But if anybody convinced anyone of anything, or if anything was settled, there was no indication of it.

Kennedy was silent on racial matters in speeches in Alabama Saturday. He talked about the TVA at Muscle Shoals and about space and defending world freedom at Huntsville.

But at Nashville, Tenn., where racial conflict also has erupted in the last few days, as at Birmingham, the Chief Executive summoned all Americans to uphold the law of the nation while declaring that the determination to secure full rights for all citizens "is in the highest tradition of American freedom."

Men cheered and women and children shrieked with delight when the President waved to them. They yelled, too, when Wallace raised both hands above his head in greeting.

At Muscle Shoals, where Wallace's primary role was that of official greeter, Southern governors and the President honored the founding of the Tennessee Valley Authority 30 years ago Saturday.

Four Local Boys Selected Boys' State Representatives

Four Big Spring High School boys, all juniors, have been selected by the Americanism committee of the American Legion to attend Boys State in Austin June 9-15. The four boys are all football players and on the student council.

Dee Roby Gartman, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Gartman, 620 Caylor Drive, is a two-year letterman on the Steer football team. He has played six years of football and basketball, and is active on the student council.

Dick Irons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Irons, Compress Lane, has played football five years, is a one-year letterman, and active on the student council.

Larry Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Omar Jones, 1502 Pennsylvania, is vice president of the student council, has played football since he was in the fourth grade, and is a one-year letterman.

Robert Goodlett, 1902 Gollad, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Goodlett Jr., has played football seven years, is a one-year letterman, and active as a member of the student council.

All four boys are taking part in spring football training at the high school.

The Legion's Americanism committee, Dr. Halvard T. Hansen, Big Spring Mayor George Zachariah, and Roscoe Cone, met May 6 and named the boys to attend Boys State.

"Boys State is a plan for training youth in the functional aspects of citizenship," Dr. Hansen said. "It is a program of education sponsored by the American Legion, and its purpose is to teach constructive attitudes toward the American form of government. It attempts to show that all a democracy needs is an intelligent citizenry," he continued.

"Male students who are juniors in senior high school during the 1962-63 school year, and who have not previously attended Boys State, are eligible. Selections are made on the basis of leadership, character and integrity, and scholarship. All boys must be physically fit and able to actively participate in this strenuous schedule.

"The boys become citizens of Boys State and they will be divided into two major political parties. The state will be divided into counties, precincts, judicial districts, cities, villages and rural communities, in order to give concrete instruction in the different types of government. Officers will be elected to fill all offices. Under the guidance of a director and counselors, each citizen will function during regular hours each day in some capacity as an officer of the state, or of some political subdivision," Dr. Hansen explained.

"Election of officers will be followed by immediate induction into office. The oath of office will be administered to the Governor and Lieutenant Governor before a joint session of the legislature, presided over by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, immediately after elections.

"The seven-day Boys State program will be a busy one for every one taking part and every boy will be restricted to the campus of the University of Texas during their stay."

Off To Boys State

Robert Goodlett, left, Dick Irons, Larry Jones, and Dee Roby Gartman, all Big Spring High School juniors, will be active in Boys State at Texas University June 9-15.

Fire In Furniture Store Causes Smoke Damage

Fire, starting from a fluorescent lighting transformer, damaged the ceiling and roof at the Texas Discount Furniture Store, 1717 Gregg, around midnight Friday resulting in heavy smoke damage to furniture.

Smoke also penetrated Caudill's Ladies Wear, in the same building at 1711 Gregg, and the Buy-Rite Self Service Shoe Store, 1909 Gregg.

Fire Chief H. V. Crocker said a ceiling had been replaced in the center room and that wooden and cardboard boxes, stored in the former bakery building's attic, caused a lot of the smoke damage. A fire wall, between the center and south room of the store, prevented fire from spreading into that section but smoke filled the room.

The store covers approximately 13,000 square feet and the floor was full of furniture. It was formerly Mead's Bakery and is owned by the Mead Estate, Abilene, who carried insurance on the building.

A. D. Smith, owner of the discount store, said the damage would have been much greater if firemen had not discovered the boxes in the attic and cleaned them out.

"There is no way to tell right now, how serious the damage is," Smith said Saturday morning, "but it will be heavy. The insurance adjuster must make his examination first. Firemen cleaned up the building to keep out dampness preventing further damage."

The Eighteenth and Main Street station firemen received the call at 11:45 p.m. Friday and returned to the station at 3:45 a.m. Saturday.

PRESENT EVERYWHERE

Omnipresence is an attribute of God. "Whither shall I flee from thy presence?" See Psalm 139:7-12. Christ, being in the Godhead, is omnipresent. He said, "If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him" (John 14:23).

He promised, "For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them" (Matt. 18:20).

Only Daily could make such a promise. And we expect to claim this promise when we meet in the services today.

To be together in his name

Legion Honors New Junior Members Here

The Big Spring American Legion, Post 355, and the Auxiliary honored new junior auxiliary members at a barbecue at the hut Friday night. Barbara Thompson, local and district winner of the oratorical contest on Americanism, was also honored.

Dr. Halvard T. Hansen, chairman of the Americanism committee, presented a flag kit to Miss Thompson. She responded with a talk on Americanism and thanked the Legion for the opportunity of taking part in the contest. The flag kit was donated by Charles Kish, Abilene, chairman of Fourth District Committee on Americanism.

Mrs. Tim Jones, Auxiliary chairman of Junior and Child Welfare, presented membership cards and pins to the new junior members. Those receiving cards and pins were: Brenda Jones, Karen Barsimian, Debra Carothers, Brenda Daves, Everta Fisher, Wilma Jean Fisher, Kathy Jones, Barbara Carothers, Sandra Hunter, Olga Perez, and Rosa Mentezco.

Elliott Elated When Jury Returns 'Not Guilty' Ruling

Alexander Claude Elliott, 31, charged with rape of a 19-year-old baby sitter, was found not guilty by a jury in 118th District Court early Saturday morning.

The jurors had deliberated for nearly 10 hours before reaching their verdict. They handed their findings to Judge Ralph Caton at 12:40 a.m.

When the verdict was read, more than a score of spectators who had patiently waited through the long night broke into cheers. Judge Caton had to rap repeatedly for order before he could proceed with the routine recording of the verdict and the discharge of the defendant.

ELATED

Elliott and his wife were elated with the verdict and Mrs. Elliott broke into tears. Friends gathered about the couple, shaking their hands and congratulating them.

Marie Saracho, the alleged victim, was not in the courtroom but her mother, Serafino Saracho, had been on hand most of Friday.

George Thomas and Roger Brown, defense attorneys, voiced satisfaction at the finding of the jury. Gil Jones, district attorney who had prosecuted the case, was disappointed.

The jury apparently did not believe the girl's story of the alleged attack on the night of Sept. 3. It chose to accept the version told by Elliott—that he was at the NCO club at Webb AFB until around midnight, drinking beer; that he "blacked out" at the time he left the base and remembered nothing more until he was aroused from sleep at 4 a.m. Sept. 4 by policemen who came to arrest him.

READ TESTIMONY

The jurors had all of the testimony of two defense witnesses read back to them from the reporter's notes.

They reported at one time they stood 9 to 3 for acquittal. The judge instructed them to deliberate further. At 11 p.m. they told the court they were 10 to 2 for acquittal—and once again the judge sent the 11 men and one woman back to their quarters.

At 12:40 a.m. they reached their final decision—not guilty.

The jury received the case at 3:15 p.m. Friday.

Final argument was made by Jones. He terminated his summation with the statement that he was convinced the jury would find Elliott guilty as charged and send him to the penitentiary for a long term of years. "I believe, sincerely, he is guilty," said Jones, "and I am convinced the jury believes as I do."

DeVaney Issues Warning On Eve Of Wheat Referendum

C. H. DeVaney, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, warned on the eve of the May 21 referendum that approval of the wheat control plan could have serious long-range implications.

"There are more than 75 places in the Agricultural Act of 1962, which provides for referenda such as next Tuesday's vote, where the secretary of agriculture must use his discretion in shaping the wheat program to be offered to farmers," DeVaney said. "A number of the provisions could be more drastic in the future than they are in this 'trial offer' for 1964 which will be voted on Tuesday."

The 1962 Act, he explained, provides authority for a one, two or three year referendum at the discretion of the Secretary of Agriculture. The secretary has announced that the referendum for the 1964 crop of wheat will be for one year only.

DeVaney outlined the following places where a secretarial decision could take the "sugar coating" off future referenda:

(1) National quota would be 1.2 billion bushels for 1964, but could be reduced to one billion. "Obviously, the 1.2 billion bushel quota could not be continued as this is

(2) National acreage allotment would be 49.5 million acres in 1964, but could be cut to whatever acreage the secretary estimates would produce the one billion bushel quota. "With a 25-bushel yield, 40 million acres would produce one billion bushel quota; with a 30-bushel yield, only 33 million acres would be needed," he said.

(3) Certificates would be issued on 80 per cent of the normal output from allotted acreage in 1964, but this percentage could be reduced to less than 50 in the future.

(4) The support on certificate wheat would be $2 in 1964, but could be cut to $1.50 in the future. The second level would be $1.30 in 1964, but this could be set much lower in the future as law does not provide minimum for noncertificated wheat.

(5) Payments for land retirement would be made in 1964 and are authorized for 1965, but not thereafter. The law, if approved, gives the secretary permanent authority to require that land be retired.

"Generally, the wheat control plan, if approved, would place too much authority over the management of our farms in the hands of one government employe," DeVaney declared.

Legislature In Brief

AUSTIN (AP)—The legislature Friday:

Senate: Not in session.

House: Refused to transfer the women's equal rights issue to a new committee and also to move a measure from one committee to another which would have allowed establishment of a retirement system for a Jefferson County drainage district; adopted a resolution allowing the State Highway Department to have a contest in which school students would submit slogans they think should appear on Texas license plates; sent to the Senate a resolution asking the Texas A&M board of directors to reconsider its recent decision to admit female students during the regular session; approved a bill to put the state's 23rd senior college at Odessa and sent it to the Senate; passed to the Senate a bill aimed at stiffening the code of ethics for state employes and legislators.

Odessa College Bills Still Live

AUSTIN (AP)—The Odessa college bills, once considered dead, are now very much alive.

Friday the House passed 65-57 Rep. George Cook's bill creating a state-supported senior college at Odessa after earlier killing the measure.

The Senate also has defeated and then revived a measure to make the Odessa school the state's 23rd fully state-supported four-year college. Sen. Frank Owen, El Paso, says he hopes to get Senate consideration of that measure Monday.

Rep. John Traeger, Seguin, told House members that they are "playing with fire" if they don't think the Senate would pass the measure.

Already this session the Legislature has created the state's 21st and 22nd senior colleges at San Angelo and Pan American at Edinburg.

Both bills would elevate Odessa Junior College, a two-year school, to Permian State College of Technology, with entry into the state system set for 1965.

AT VA HOSPITAL

Social Work Students Complete Field Training

The first social work students to take field training at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital last week successfully completed their four-month instruction period here.

Wally Whitworth, Corpus Christi, and Charles E. Saylor, San Antonio, will continue their education at the Worden School of Social Service, a graduate of Our Lady of the Lake College.

The two men received orientation at the hospital as well as practical experience in social work.

"They covered the full range of work that a social worker would normally engage in at this hospital," Telford Durham, chief of social work service, said.

Durham was complimentary of the results of this test run for the program. It was so successful that local participation is already assured for next January, when a first year and second year student will study here. Both Whitworth and Saylor were first year students.

Each of the men handled about 25 cases while they were here. One of these will be used on resumption of school for purposes of discussion and analysis. While they were working, progress was checked twice by a supervisor from the school. These factors, along with an evaluation by Durham, will be used to grade them.

"I am sure their grades will be satisfactory," Durham said.

Because of the heavy work schedules and short stay, neither of the men had much of an opportunity to become established in the community. However, they did find time to attend a two-day workshop on alcoholism sponsored by the school of social work service for Oklahoma University, held in Lubbock.

Saylor has left for San Antonio. The Whitworths will leave as soon as Mrs. Whitworth, a student at Howard County Junior College, completes this semester's work.

Control Makes A Difference

Brush control on rangeland makes it more productive, enhancing its value. The difference is shown on the O. E. Hamlin place on the Vealmoor Route. The area on the right of the road received treatment by basal kerosening of mesquite and hand grubbing and piling prickly pear.

Brush Control On County Rangeland Improves Chances For Good Grassland

Brush control on rangeland in the area is getting under way again. At the present time an estimated 19,500 acres of mesquite-infested rangeland is scheduled for spraying in Howard and Glasscock Counties.

About 18,000 acres of this total is to be sprayed under the Great Plains Conservation Program, according to Charles Mickelson, of the Soil Conservation Service. By using the federal program, ranchers can cut costs in half. The main reason for brush control is to reduce competition of brush with good range grasses. Both need water to thrive and a good range grass, such as Blue Grama or Buffalo Grass, uses only about one third as much water to produce a pound of forage. By eliminating the competition, good grasses can yield more forage to be harvested by livestock.

In some instances the number of pounds of beef per acre can be almost doubled, Mickelson said. Spraying is not the only way to control mesquite and cactus, but other methods have a higher cost of application. These range pests can be eliminated by grubbing, root plowing and reseeding, or basal oiling with kerosene and 2, 4, D-T.

Farmers and ranchers who have scheduled mesquite spraying this year include the Douthitt Ranch, Edwards Brothers Ranch, Jim Hodnett, J. W. Overton, Lorin McDowell, L. N. Davis, Lee Reed, T. L. Griffin, F. W. White, and the Dora Roberts Estate.

Kasch Firm Expands Staff

A merging of A. P. Kasch & Sons, building contractors, and the E. W. Riveire Co., Lubbock, expands the Big Spring firm to enable better management of the many contracts over Texas.

Bill Riveire, who holds a degree in construction engineering from Texas A&M College, has been a Lubbock contractor since 1955.

"He will help us in looking after the projects going in several Texas cities," Fred Kasch said Saturday. "He will be on the job at the North Texas University contract site in Denton Monday morning to see that it gets off to a good start, and will help us carry the supervision load."

The Big Spring firm has contracts at Marshall, Junction, Ennis, Lubbock, Denton, Big Spring, and several other places now, and even though the brothers have been using air transportation, management has been a heavy load, Fred Kasch said.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Riveire are seeking a home in Big Spring.

Design Is Selected For State Stamp

Recently unveiled was the design for the West Virginia statehood commemorative to be issued June 20. One hundred years ago on April 20, President Lincoln proclaimed West Virginia a state as a "war born measure" to be effective 60 days later. The five cent multicolored stamp will be issued first in Wheeling, the original capital.

The statehood stamp is based on a design by Dr. Dwight Mutchler, of the school of painting and allied arts of Ohio University. It was the winning entry in a competition sponsored by the West Virginia Centennial Commission, but was not adaptable to present stamp printing processes. However, the three main elements of the winning design—the state map, the state capital, and the black, green, and red color scheme—were retained.

are in white.

Collectors desiring first-day cancellations of this stamp may send addressed envelopes, with remittance to cover the cost of stamps, to the Postmaster, Wheeling, W. Va. Each envelope should be marked in pencil in upper right hand corner indicating the number of stamps to be affixed.

France has issued two stamps for the 20th anniversary of the victory of the Resistance Movement.

Burundi has issued a special series of semi-postals in memory of Prince Louis Rwagasore, the first prime minister of the country. Assassinated Oct. 23, 1961, the additional funds are to go to the construction of the sports stadium and monument named in his honor. The series is composed of six bicolor stamps with three distinct designs portraying the prince with a view of the stadium and monument.

Brig. Gen. Pinkham Smith was the speaker for the Friday luncheon that opened Armed Forces Day observance here. Col. Wilson Banks (right) was host for the festivities.

General Describes Military Planning

A glimpse into the military's planning as it stays ahead in keeping America strong was given Friday for an Armed Forces Day audience by Brig. Gen. Pinkham Smith, deputy chief of staff and deputy director of operations USAF, Washington.

Gen. Smith spoke to some 150 people from the Big Spring area who were guests of Webb Air Force Base at a luncheon. Visitors were present from Odessa, Midland and Colorado City as well as Big Spring.

General Smith outlined the Air Force mission in the application of air power and aerospace power to defend the United States and the free world.

We must have superiority at the highest level, he said, as well as at lower levels to contain war and aggression of different kinds and intensities. The arsenal of defense thus must contain a wide variety of tools and a broad scale of professional proficiencies.

"As the first requirement of defense we must have the power to promise any aggressor a level and amount of punishment he does not wish to accept," said the speaker. The aerospace force now being planned and built is a carefully calculated mix of piloted and pilotless air and space systems, he continued. Manned aircraft still are essential because of their flexibility and because they can perform tasks that missiles do not. Actually, the two types complement one another, each with definite and decided advantages for specific purposes.

The program also stresses the importance of man as the master of the machines said Gen. Smith. "Trained, professional personnel is the major component in our arsenal for freedom. Our most important problem is getting—and then keeping—young men capable of mastering today's highly complex technology."

Aerospace vehicles are much in the planning, and General Smith cited as an example an aircraft that could take off from a conventional runway, fly directly into orbit, and return to earth. Thoughts for the future also include a military test space station and a military space patrol capability. The Space Administration and the Department of Defense are collaborating on the Gemini program, which calls for a two-man space capsule to explore rendezvous techniques and limited control of descent and landing.

These and other projects, said General Smith, keep our military engaged in looking ahead. He quoted Congressman George Mahon:

"I have the feeling that a big war will be averted if we remain strong and if we can find ways to make it clear to our opponents that, regardless of costs and hazards, we will maintain our position in the world."

It is in that sphere of thought, said General Smith, that the military continues to work.

General Smith was introduced by Col. Harold C. Collins, Pilot Training Group commander at Webb, who also introduced other guests. Col. Wilson H. Banks, Webb commander, presided.

Baptist Calls For Christian Summit Meet

DETROIT (AP)—A Baptist observer at the second Vatican council called Saturday for a world summit conference of the three major Christian faiths.

Dr. Stanley I. Stuber, Augustin Cardinal Bea's personal guest at Vatican Council II, told the 56th annual meeting of the American Baptist Convention here that such a meeting should include top Catholic, Protestant and Eastern Orthodox leaders.

"They should meet and try to determine what they can do in a combined effort to solve such problems as race, world peace, population, hunger, poverty and family relations," Dr. Stuber said.

Dr. Stuber, executive director of the Missouri Council of Churches, said such a summit conference could start with Pope John XXIII's recent encyclical, Peace on Earth, a document which he said "must be implemented not by Catholics alone, but by all Christians."

He went before the full convention Saturday to recommend that American Baptists send "unofficial" representatives to the next session of Vatican Council II.

"I think we should have some of our people there," he said, "because there is a very great possibility that the council will adopt a decree on religious freedom, a subject in which the American Baptist Convention has tremendous interest."

Rites Set For Rufus C. Riley

Funeral is scheduled at 3:30 p.m. today in the Alford Cemetery for Rufus C. Riley, 78, who died in a local hospital at 1:07 a.m. Saturday. Graveside rites will be conducted by the Rev. Bill Gresham, pastor of the Alford Methodist Church, and Masonic rites will follow. River Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Riley made his home at the Wyoming Hotel here. He was a retired plumber and a member of the Alford Masonic Lodge.

Survivors include one son, Glen Riley, Garden City; one sister, Mrs. Mary Pigg, Alford; four grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Cotton Weevil Checks Slated

LUBBOCK — W. L. Owen, associate entomologist at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Lubbock, has reported to Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., that TAES will begin an intensive vigilance for cotton boll weevil appearance in 28 counties in and around the High Plains Area. Actual checks for weevil presence will start Monday, and will continue for two weeks. Among the early planting check plots are some in Mitchell County.

To assure a complete check, the Plant Pest Control Division of the USDA is sending about eight men into the area to work with TAES personnel; the aid of county agents and Future Farmers will be enlisted.

THE WEEK

there since the base dedication back in 1962.

Contract was awarded by the board for special schools and hospitals to J. W. Cooper Construction of Odessa for building a $366,000 new general hospital building at Big Spring State Hospital. Work will begin soon while construction is being completed on the $346,999 rehabilitation unit. These are two sorely needed structures.

Big Spring has been fortunate about rains, and last week was no exception. For a few minutes it seemed too much of a good thing as an inch to an inch and a half fell within about half an hour. Three-fourths of the county is now in pretty fair shape with generally good stands of cotton, but the northwest quarter is critically dry meanwhile, ideal planting time is easing by.

Readers Digest contains an anecdote in the May issue (page 250) about a Big Springer answering one of those recording devices. You might want to look it up.

Texas Electric Service Company served up one of those surprises we all love so well—a rate reduction. This one amounts to about 8.5 per cent for the average residential user, or roughly a dollar a month for most of us. Interestingly, this was the 11th reduction in rates in the past 30 years against only two raises. B. L. Beale, manager, pointed out that in the deep depression days 288 KWH cost $15.50; today the same amount costs $8.97. Can anyone approach, much less tie that record?

That time of the year is here. Coahoma begins the parade this Sunday with its senior sermon.

An interesting thing happened at the second of the Investors Clinic series Tuesday evening at H.C.J.C. Attendance increased, and half of those registering were there for the first time. A third session is set for this Tuesday, and you're urged to attend, even if you missed the other two.

Women in the Big Spring area are being asked to answer a survey form to determine the availability of labor for potential industries. There have been inquiries on this point, but this is information the Chamber of Commerce needs regardless. If you think you might be interested, even though it would be some time in the future, please send in your survey form.

Two old timers slipped away last week — Charlie Dublin, who seldom if ever had a sick day and seemed as hardy as a mesquite knot, and Sid Reeder, veteran sheriff of Borden County. Heart attacks took them both unexpectedly.

The other day when Gilbert Gibbs suffered that two-story fall from the roof of his house and miraculously escaped without broken bones, he had insult added to hurt. As the top rung of the ladder broke and he plunged to the ground, the family cat jumped on him and inflicted a long facial scratch.

Texas Crude and Sinclair Oil No. 1-333, 12 miles north of Tarrant, continues to look like a deep discovery. On last tests from 11,932-72, it flowed 149 barrels of oil in 24 hours.

The Big Spring Concert Association re-elected officers last Tuesday, returning Annie Matt Angel as president; Dr. Josh Burnett and Dottie Duncan as vice presidents; Elizabeth Pickle as secretary; and Clara Zack as treasurer. These (together with Anne Swift and other board members) have done a tremendous job during the past year. Every person who appreciates better entertainment ought to take occasion to give them a pat on the back.

23 Workers Killed

PAHOKEE, Fla. (AP)—A busload of migrant Mexican farm workers plunged off a rural road into a canal Saturday, killing 23. Fifteen others survived.

Youth Jailed After Chase; Police Car Is Damaged

A 16-year-old Port Arthur boy is in Howard County jail following a spectacular chase by law enforcement officers through Big Spring Saturday afternoon. A police car, driven by Patrolman Bob Broughton, received about $200 damage and the car driven by the boy was damaged in the same amount. The car, owned by a Grand Prairie bank, was reported stolen in Fort Worth Friday.

Broughton said the chase began when the youth's car passed his patrol car at a high rate of speed in the 300 block of West Third. A second car pulled up beside him and said the speeding car had approximately 35 miles east coming into Big Spring. Broughton took up the chase with his flashing red light and siren operating, but the driver would not stop. Several motorists were forced off the street. The officer called for assistance and Highway Patrolman Arvin Henry attempted to block the highway at Marcy and US 80 west.

Henry said the driver ran through the blockade. Both officers followed and said the driver of the speeding car almost struck a group of spectators watching the Armed Forces Day air show at the north end of the Webb AFB runway.

Henry pulled ahead of the car at the first overpass west of Big Spring and the driver plowed into the overpass guard rail and skidded off the pavement. Broughton attempted to cut off the youth's effort to drive east again and the driver struck the patrol car, damaging both vehicles and striking a guard rail.

The boy drove onto the overpass road and Broughton got in Henry's vehicle and they managed to block the other end of the overpass. The driver showed signs of attempting to hit the patrol car, but stopped in time to avoid contact.

Russ Admiral Waves Sabre

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union said Saturday if the Atlantic Alliance arms merchant ships with Polaris missiles the Russian navy will attack and destroy them.

The threat was made by Adm. Sergei Gorshkov, commander-in-chief of the Soviet navy, in an article published in Izvestia, the Soviet government newspaper.

The U.S. State Department takes the position that, contrary to Soviet charges, vessels would not be "disguised" as merchant ships.

"They would be warships, in law and in fact, clearly identified as part of the Western defensive armory and no attempt would be made to camouflage these vessels as commercial ships," the United States said in a note Saturday to the Soviet Union.

Britain and West Germany also denied any plans to arm merchantmen. Gorshkov said that under international law, armed merchant ships may be destroyed by any country and the crews tried for piracy.

Bombers Hunted

MONTREAL (AP) — Canadian authorities poured money and men Saturday into an effort to halt a wave of anti-government bombings attributed to a French terrorist underground band campaigning for secession of Quebec.

Mrs. Shipley Dies Friday

LAMESA (SC) — Mrs. S. C. Shipley, 82, wife of the late Rev. S. C. Shipley who pastored several Baptist churches in West Texas, died Friday in Medical Arts Hospital in Lamesa.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Milo B. Arbuckle, pastor, officiating. Burial was beside her husband in the Big Spring City Cemetery. Higginbotham Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Shipley moved to Lamesa in 1942. Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. A. O. Read, Lamesa, and Mrs. O. F. Partain, Seminole; two sons, Calvin Shipley, Seminole, and Truitt Shipley, Lamesa; a sister, Mrs. J. J. New, Eagle Lake; four brothers, J. V. Franks, Big Spring; W. S. Franks and A. D. Franks, Luling, and A. B. Franks, Lockhart; 19 grandchildren, 40 great-grandchildren, and seven great-great-grandchildren.

Connally Vetoes Bill

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally vetoed Saturday a bill to permit commissioners courts in Gulf Coast counties to police beaches.

It is Connally's first veto. The bill would have delegated to county commissioners the power to regulate speed and littering on Gulf beaches.

Connally said he objects to penalty provisions in the bill. Aides said the bill in effect would permit commissioners to permit persons other than law officers to make arrests for violations of commissioners' rules.

Everyone In Area Gets Some Moisture—But Not Much

Everybody in the Howard County area got a little rain, but nobody got much Saturday, according to reports from across the county. There were no reports of wind or hail damage.

The gauge at the Big Spring Experiment Station showed 33 inch fell between 8 and 9 a.m. The Webb AFB gauge registered .13 inch. Other reports showed the gauge at Ackery registering .10 inch; Lomax Gin, 10, McKinnon Grocery at Elbow, trace; Otis Chalk 15, and northeast Howard County from a trace to .25.

The heaviest rainfall was reported in an area southwest and northwest of Ackery, where measurements of up to 1.5 inches were registered. Jack McKinnon at Elbow said he heard reports of from .40 to .70 inches west of the store.

Some lightning displays occurred early Saturday morning as the thunderstorms were developing and three head of cattle were felled with one stroke south of Forsan.

Felled By Lightning

These three cows were felled by a bolt of lightning on the H. E. Tubbs place, about one mile south of Forsan Saturday during the thunderstorm about 10:30 a.m. Tubbs is surveying the signs of the lightning burns on the ground. The dead animals were among about 60 head in the field and all three still had feed in their mouths when found by field hands. Tubbs estimated the value of the cows at about $750 and two of them were nursing calves.

Church Unity Talks Near Critical Stage

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Efforts toward Protestant unity were pictured Saturday as nearing a "put up or shut up" stage.

Presbyterian leaders said the conciliatory tide is gaining momentum. They predicted several churches will start drafting a specific union plan within two years—or else quit talking about it.

"I think that by two years from now, there will be a beginning in writing a plan of union, or else we will have found that no plan of union is possible," said the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, Dr. Blake, chief executive officer of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., referred to a consultation going on between representatives of six major church bodies about possible unification into one church, "truly catholic, truly reformed and truly evangelical."

Both he and the Rev. Dr. James I. McCord, chairman of the consultation, said they were optimistic that agreements will be found for launching the blueprint. "The situation has been very promising, more so than could have been expected," Dr. McCord told a news conference, held in connection with the United Presbyterian General Assembly.

Besides that church, others involved in the talks are the Methodists, Episcopalians, United Evangelical Brethren, Disciples of Christ, and United Church (including Congregationalists).

The talks began in 1961 as the result of a plea made in a sermon by Dr. Blake in San Francisco's Episcopal Cathedral. Altogether, the churches include about 22 million members.

Parents Seeking Owner Of Dog

The John Billings family, 2206 Lynn, is anxious to hear from the owner of a small reddish brown dog with a black tail. They are holding the animal because it bit Shelley, seven-year-old first grader at Washington Place School.

Primarily, they want to know if the dog has had rabies shots, or if it might now have rabies. The owner is urged to call AM 3-6061 as soon as possible, so the parents will know what steps to take to care for the youngster.

THOSE NEW RED BOXES
Collection centers for parking tickets

It Will Be Easier And Can Cost Less

By M. A. WEBB
Parking tickets are going to be less expensive and more convenient to pay, beginning in June in Big Spring. At the same time, a car may get more than one ticket if overparked too long.

A choice in how much he wants to pay for overparking. A ticket paid in 24 hours will cost only 50 cents, but if the deadline is missed, it will cost $1. If a warrant must be issued to collect the ticket, the charge will be $2.

One Marine To Another

WASHINGTON (AP)—The commandant of Britain's marines Friday visited the U.S. Marine barracks which the Royal Marines spared from the torch when Washington was burned in the War of 1812.

Another aspect of the new system will be 60 collection boxes—bright red — distributed two-to-the-block in parking meter areas. The motorist can deposit his fine and ticket in any one of these boxes, rather than going to the police station.

Despite all the convenience, the motorist will face expanded enforcement of the parking law. His car will get a ticket each time the meter finds it parked overtime. Under the old system, the car was ticketed only once, the first time it was found overparked.

The city commission authorized the new boxes at last Tuesday night's meeting, and city purchasing agent Roy Anderson sent in the order Thursday morning. Twenty-one thousand new overtime parking tickets will accompany the boxes. The envelopes will be water-proof for safety.

The steel, tamper-proof boxes, were purchased from the Duncan Parking Meter Co. and will be delivered and mounted by the middle of June. An ordinance setting up the requirements will be approved by the city commission by the time the boxes go into use.

Parker's Murder Trial Due To Begin Monday

Jerry Lee Parker, 21, indicted for the murder Aug. 26 of Stanley Williams, 90-year-old retired Big Spring farmer, is slated for trial in 118th District Court Monday morning.

26. The elderly man and his wife lived alone in their small cottage. The state alleges that the attack was made to rob the aged man of money he was believed to have.

Parker is currently at liberty on bond. His case, and that of Roosevelt Carter, another Negro under indictments for two homicides, will be called Monday morning by Ralph Caton, judge of the court.

He was so badly beaten that he died a few days afterwards. Officers searched for the assailant for some days and finally arrested Parker.

The district attorney's office said that Parker made a statement in which he admitted the attack on Williams.

Mrs. Williams was also beaten but not as seriously as her husband. However, due to her age and to the shock of the attack, she has never been able to provide officers with a coherent account of the incident.

Warren Burnett, Odessa attorney who represents Parker, has indicated he would like to have a continuance in this case but no plans to grant his request were evident Friday.

Carter, a 27-year-old Negro, is indicted for two murders with malice—the indictments stemming from the shooting of Arthur Roland Williams and Jerry Johnson outside a beer tavern on the night of Jan. 15. The shooting climaxed a quarrel Carter is in the county jail.

The case has been continued once at his request. Gil Jones, district attorney, said his office is ready to proceed with the case and plans to do so Monday.

Notice to citizens who receive summons to serve on special venire in criminal trials.

A special venire of 125 men and women has been drawn and instructed to report to the court at 10 a.m. Monday.

Recently a number of special venires have been called for duty in the trial of capital cases. One such panel served last week. Another is to report Monday. Cox suggested that members of the venire who feel they have a legitimate reason for being excused, be at the court prior to 10 a.m. and contact Gil Jones, district attorney, and the defense attorneys in the case docketed for trial.

Parker is accused of causing the death of Williams by beating him with the butt-end of a billiard cue. The attack occurred in Williams house on the night of Aug.

Presently it is not certain which case will go to trial—if Jerry Lee Parker is called for trial, Warren Burnett, Odessa, is the defense attorney; if the case against Roosevelt Carter is to be tried, Wayne Basden and Dee John Davis are the lawyers for the defendant.

Emily Garretson To Receive Degree

Emily Ruth Garretson, Big Spring, is one of 51 students scheduled to receive a diploma from Lubbock Christian College May 24.

Presently it is not certain which case will go to trial—if Jerry Lee Parker is called for trial, Warren Burnett, Odessa, is the defense attorney; if the case against Roosevelt Carter is to be tried, Wayne Basden and Dee John Davis are the lawyers for the defendant.

Fern Cox, district court clerk, said that in recent weeks many citizens have felt disgruntled because he has had to tell them that neither the judge nor his office can excuse them from serving on special venires. On ordinary jury panels, such as are

Another Air Show Planned Saturday

Within the space of eight days Big Springers will have had an opportunity to see aerial performances by extreme opposites in aircraft.

Saturday, modern jets of the Air Force were on display. Next Sunday the obsolete bi-plane will be put through its paces during the National Air Show to be sponsored here by the Chamber of Commerce. It will be at Howard County Airport.

Highlighting the show will be performances by champion precision aerobatic pilot Harold Krier, three-time winner of the "Sky Champion — USA" title, three-time winner of the International Precision Aerobatic contests, and two-time winner of the Colonel Joe Mackey Trophy, highest award for precision flying.

Krier will perform in his Great Lakes ZT-1A Special designed to withstand the stress of intricate and colorful maneuvers. It is powered by a 200 horsepower radial air-cooled engine.

In another specialty performance Krier teams up with Red Grant, parachutist who steps from the plane at 2,000 feet.

Another member of the National Air Show team is Charles Hilliard Jr., 24-year-old native of Fort Worth. Hilliard is the nation's youngest precision aerobatic ace.

The fourth member of the group does his work on the ground—at the microphone. He is Bill Sweet. Howard County Airport will buzz with excitement early Sunday with static displays scheduled to be ready by about 10 a.m. Dealers of Cessna, Beechcraft and Piper aircraft will display the planes until 1:20 p.m., when the craft will be flown past the spectators at low levels while an announcer describes each model and its uses.

Champs Aviation, Inc., Midland Air Terminal, will provide a Cessna 310, Cessna 205 and Cessna 172 Skyhawk. Rich-Air Company, Midland Air Terminal, will show Beechcraft's Bonanza, Musketeer and Barron. The Big Spring Aircraft Piper dealer, will have on hand a 190 Cherokee, 250 Comanche and an Artec B.

Although displays will be on hand early for visitors, the show begins officially at 1 p.m. with introduction of city and county commissioners, the mayor, county and district judges, and officials from Webb Air Force Base. At 1:10 p.m. a flyover of four T-37's from Webb AFB will begin the aerial demonstrations. The National Air Show begins at 2 p.m.

No need to worry about dinner on this occasion. Members of the Y's Men's Club will be serving fried shrimp and salad beginning about 11:30 a.m. The Jaycees will be out even earlier manning concessions serving cold and hot drinks and ice cream.

Tickets to the show are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children of school age. Youngsters not yet old enough to be in school are free. The ducats can be purchased from any member of the aviation committee of the Chamber or at the entrance to the Airport prior to the show. They can also be obtained at Prager's Men's and Boys' Wear, Zale's Jewelry, Stanley Hardware Company, Vernon's Liquor Store and at the Chamber. Al Eldridge is in charge of ticket sales.

Helping with the crowds expected for the show will be the Auxiliary Police and Boy Scouts on the airport grounds and the highway patrol and sheriff's deputies outside the airport.

Club Hears
Capt. Seebo

Capt. Tom Seebo, commander of the Air Rescue Service Detachment at Webb AFB, acquainted his listeners with the nature of his unit's mission in a talk before members of the American Business Club at their luncheon Friday at the Settles Hotel.

Members attending the Friday luncheon were reminded that the installation of new club officers will take place at 7:30 p.m. May 21 at the Coeden Country Club.

Garland Nestel, regional director for the ABC, and District Governor Bill Cox, both of Lubbock, may be on hand to officiate in the ceremonies.

Pop Noah, track coach at North Texas State University in Denton, one of the mentors attending the session, was awarded the door prize for attention.

Noah quipped, upon receiving the award from club proxy Elmo Phillips:

"I'm nearly 80 years old. This is the first time I ever won anything like this."

Other guests present included Johnny Morris, track coach at the University of Houston; and Harold Steele, who holds a similar job at Grand Rapids JC, Mich.

Five Big Spring students are among 650 seniors who have applied for bachelor's degrees to be awarded at North Texas State University May 31. Commencement exercises will be held at 8 p.m. at Fouts Field.

The Big Spring seniors are Mrs. Betty Elmore, Sybil Avanel Greenwood, H. B. Henderson, June Johnston and Roy L. Newsom.

Mrs. Elmore, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jackson Cain, 701 Galati, is a candidate for the bachelor of science degree in education. Seeking the bachelor of music degree is Miss Greenwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex A. Greenwood, 1705 Virginia.

Henderson is working toward the bachelor of business administration degree in accounting. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Henderson, 200 Mobile.

Miss Johnston has applied for the B.S. degree in secondary education. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde C. Johnston, 2011 Runnels. Newsom is a candidate for the B.S. degree in physical education. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Newsom, Route 2.

Driver Injured
In Car Wreck

Alfred Munoz, 700 NW 10th, was treated for minor injuries and released from Malone-Hogan Foundation Hospital at 1 a.m. Saturday following a two-car accident at Penney's Drive-In in the 800 block of West Fourth. Munoz was driver of one vehicle involved, and Jesse Chaves Ogin, 801 Nolan, was driver of the second car.

Two other minor accidents with no injuries were investigated by Big Spring police Friday. Ada Clyne, 616 Colgate, and Claud Day Box, Forsan, were drivers of vehicles involved at Tenth and Nolan. At Sixth and Johnson, driver of cars involved in a collision were Susano Cruz Padron, Coahoma, and Richard Lee Henderson, 1305 E. 19th.

Leslie (Reds) Didget, Collegeville, Pa., will be walking the top wing of a special aerobatic exhibition bi-plane which will be a part of the Air Show to be held here Saturday. When he performs this feat, the plane will be flying low over the airport runway at a speed of 130 miles an hour.

Almost 2,000 Reply To Chamber Survey

Nearly 2,000 answers have been received from an employment survey, and the bulk is yet to come, according to Kenneth Pace, assistant manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

morning total as 680, bringing the number of replies to 1,810. Last week, the chamber mailed 13,260 questionnaires in Big Spring and surrounding areas. The survey is aimed at providing employment-prospect data for a clothing manufacturing firm which has expressed interest in building a plant in Big Spring.

Reds Needle U.S.

MOSCOW (AP) — The American project which launched 400 million copper needles into outer space this week is a "criminal experiment," the Soviet Union says, and shows the United States is preparing to use outer space for war.

"Friday and Saturday, we received our first good spurt of replies," Pace said. "We should get most of them Monday and Tuesday."
Pace added that, according to experience in other cities with similar surveys, from 40 to 50 per cent response may be expected.

Oil Pipe Blockade Slows Russia's Fuel Network

By PRESTON GROVER
MOSCOW (AP)—The Western blockade of "big inch" oil pipe has delayed Russia's fuel network by at least two years, Westerners here say.

Some big projects may be delayed even more.

Russia has made impressive progress in getting gas and oil resources from distant desert places to industrial centers. But the Friendship pipeline that is supposed to carry oil for the lamps of Eastern Europe—and perhaps the West—is making slow progress.

SHORTAGE

Shortage of 40-inch pipe is the main reason. Making it is not easy. The Russians also are short of compressors to maintain pressure along hundreds of miles of oil and gas pipe.

The biggest blow to Soviet oil-line progress was West Germany's "no" to a Soviet order for 650,000 tons of 40-inch pipe. This is the variety which is supposed to carry oil to Moscow, westward to Prague, to East Germany—and, at some future stage eastward to Japan and Pacific markets.

The Russians said the Germans contracted to deliver it, then cut it off under NATO pressure. The West German government insisted it was not covered in a trade agreement. The Soviets were boiling furious. This tonnage would produce about 1,600 miles.

FUEL TO TROOPS

The proposed pipeline could supply fuel for Russian troops on the West German frontier, the Germans said, and that is dangerous for West Germany.

The map of Russia is full of lines indicating completed oil pipelines, completed gas lines, for handling gasoline and finished petroleum products. Still more projects are under construction or planned.

The country has some of the world's largest oil and gas deposits. They open the possibility of flooding world markets with low-cost gasoline and oil, and providing Communist industry with low-cost fuel.

Soviet crude oil is offered for delivery at Baltic ports at $1.56 a barrel. Crude oil delivered from Arabia to the Baltic costs $1.80. Russia must haul that oil to the Baltic either by rail or extremely long water routes all around Europe from the Black Sea.

The planned Baltic pipeline would cut the cost of transportation to the Baltic from $1.05 a barrel to 29 cents.

Russia is offering oil to England, Germany, Sweden and other places at prices substantially under world market prices.

Russia seems able to play both ends against the middle. For instance, it sells crude to East Germany for $2.69 a barrel. Japan, not a captive market, buys the same oil for $1.34. China pays $2.92, while West Germany pays $1.38 and Italy $1.41. These prices have been reported by the national (U.S.) petroleum council.

The Friendship line starts at Kubushiev on the Volga and heads west across European Russia to the Czechoslovak frontier. There it joins with a network already largely built to spread the oil to Czechoslovakia and Hungary and later perhaps to Austria. It is virtually on the Austrian frontier now.

The Friendship line was scheduled to be finished this year. Western experts say it will be a near miracle if it is finished in 1965.

Barely half the 2,000 mile Russian part is finished. Only the final 150 miles in Russia actually are working. Tank cars haul oil to this point, Brody, and feed into the system leading to Czechoslovakia.

The Russians have declared they will build their own large-size pipe if Germany, Japan, Sweden, England and Italy don't supply it. But the biggest plant so far known is a new one at Chelyabinsk, which by the end of this year will be producing at the rate of 300,000 tons of big pipe per year. This year's production is estimated at half that. A rule of thumb indicates 163,000 tons builds 400 miles of the big pipe line.

Another gigantic project is pouring oil in the Ural industrial belt, rapidly becoming the biggest in Russia. Then it heads into Siberia and is already halfway to Japan, feeding such growing industrial centers along the way as Omsk, Novosibirsk and Krasnoyarsk.

CONSTANT CORING

Another Big Change In Drilling Foreseen

By JOE BEYER

The drilling industry has seen one major change—the rotary drill—since it began as a cable tool business. Another revolution may be in the offing.

A recent innovation in coring to obtain samples of a formation now makes it possible to obtain cores all the way down as a hole is being drilled.

Cores in hand from all sections of a well can be touched, smelled, tasted or scrutinized with instruments by the oil geologist to force the earth to give up secrets it has kept locked under thousands of feet of earth for millions of years.

Koredrill, the new drilling method, is offered commercially by Core Drillers, Inc., San Angelo. It was invented and developed by Homer I. Henderson, chief engineer for the company. His original work was for Stratco Drill, Inc. of Houston and now of San Angelo.

CENTRAL CORE

With the new technique, the bit bores into the earth and leaves a central core which is automatically broken off into segments and carried to the surface by an ascending fluid stream. Reverse circulation makes it possible for the driller and geologist at the well site to have continuous samples of the geological section drilled almost simultaneously with the drilling.

A specially built rig must be used in the operation and the use of dual concentric drill pipe is necessary. Present equipment is restricted to a 4½-inch hole, yielding a two-inch core. It was built by Walker-Neer Manufacturing Co., Wichita Falls.

"Equipment can be built for various sizes of hole, into the 13 or 14-inch range," Gilbert Theriot, president of Core Drillers, Inc., said.

USED SUCCESSFULLY

The rig has been used successfully in a wide variety of sedimentary formations, from recent to Pennsylvanian, unconsolidated to very hard, and including most of the evaporites, according to the inventor.

The derrick resembles a gantry more than the conventional drilling derrick. Above it towers a stand-pipe to deliver cores to the shaker screen. Drillpipe is made of two concentric pipes. Drilling fluid descends between these two pipes, discharges through the bit and ascends within the core tube—the inner pipe. Cuttings and cores are carried to the surface by the ascending drilling fluid.

DRILL BIT

The drill bit may be any type of core bit—drag, roller, or diamond. Diamond appears to be the best according to Henderson.

Just above the bit is an automatic core-breaker which breaks off the core when it is six inches long.

Normally two different liquids are used in the Koredrill. The drilling fluid, a light mud, is compounded specifically as an efficient drilling fluid. In the hole is a heavy or static mud to protect the hole walls and act as a lubricant to reduce drillpipe rotational friction.

AIR DRILLING

Air drilling has been successful with no liquid in the hole. One of the air drilling tests was with two salt water sands "weeping" salt water into the bore hole.

There are several lost circulation advantages, according to the inventor. The static mud can carry "loss-circulation" materials. Once the drill has passed the thief zone the drilling fluid no longer passes the face of that zone as in conventional drilling. In extreme cases, the operator can "spot" cement at the zone through the drillpipe without pulling the drillpipe out of the hole.

Blowout hazards are substantially less than in conventional drilling since the drillpipe weighs 16 pounds per foot. Any blow is through the core tube, where it can be easily controlled.

All drilling to date has been with a prototype drill, a 2,500-foot rig.

10,000-FOOT HOLE

"There is no reason why the Koredrill should not be practical for drilling 10,000-foot holes, or even deeper," Henderson noted recently in a paper presented to the Exploration Drilling Symposium at Golden, Colo. "To drill deeper means only increased pressure and stress."

Recovery of cores is virtually 100 per cent. A core of unconsolidated sand comes out as a single pile of loose sand. There is only one exception, and that occurs in drilling soluble salt sections. The salt core dissolves into the drilling fluid in transit to the surface unless the operator uses a saturated brine or a drilling fluid that is not a solvent for salt.

"There have been many surprises in the types of cores recovered," Henderson said. "Cores so friable that they could be crumbled, cores so soft they could be extruded through one's fingers, very thin wafers and a two-inch core of indurated volcanic ash, an excellent time marker."

NO CAVING TROUBLE

At the time the method was conceived, there was much apprehension that shales and unconsolidated sections might cause a great deal of hole caving trouble, he said, but there has been much less trouble from this than with conventional drills.

One of the most important reasons for this is that there is no erosion of the hole walls by a flowing fluid stream carrying sharp bit cuttings. The clearance between the hole wall and the drill pipe is radially only one-eighth of an inch, not enough to permit appreciable sloughing. If any sloughing occurs, it is not carried away by the bore fluid stream to make space for more sloughing.

STRAIGHT HOLE

As might be expected with the small clearance between drillpipe and hole wall, the technique drills a straight hole.

"Surveys have shown that Koredrill holes are less than one degree off vertical," Henderson said. The rate of making hole is a little faster than conventional drilling in hard rock and slower in soft rock. The most hole drilled in a 24-hour period was 854 feet, in the redbeds section in the Permian Basin of West Texas.

Cost of drilling with Koredrill is presently more than that with conventional drills. The price now quoted for continuous coring in the Permian Basin of Texas is $5 a foot. This is a turnkey price, including transportation, setting surface casing, bits, mud, water and cementing. No special services are required, such as logging, testing, etc.

FAVORABLE COST

"The price of $5 a foot compares favorably with conventional exploration holes when all associated costs are considered," Henderson said.

Among the information acquired from directionally oriented cores are samples of the full thickness of every formation, magnitude and direction of dip in each formation, changes in thickness and facies (depositional conditions), existing faults, unconformities, directional orientation of sand grains, etc.

"Every hole drilled has yielded some interesting geological surprises," Theriot said. "For instance, on two wells drilled in the Yates field area, the technique produced two inch samples of indurated volcanic ash at the same interval in both holes. To the best of our knowledge, this volcanic ash strata has never been revealed with any other method of drilling although hundreds of holes have been drilled in the same area."

OIL SPOTLIGHT

Two Deep Tests Reported Staked

Delta Drilling Company of Odessa has staked locations for two Eilenburger wildcats in Schleicher County. Both are contracted to 7,100 feet and are approximately three miles north of Eldorado.

No. 1 Delhi-Jones is 1,787 feet from north and 2,007 feet from east lines of section 36, block L.L. TCR survey and 14 miles northwest of Delta and Pauley Petroleum, Inc., No. 1 A. Whitten Canyon sand gas-distillate discovery from pay between 6,185 and 6,750 feet, which was a failure in the Eilenburger in drilling to total depth of 7,210 feet.

No. 1 A-Jones will be 1,787 feet from north and 2,007 feet from east lines of section 35, block L.L. TCR survey, 11 1/2 miles north-east of the No. 1 A Whitten discovery.

Delta No. 1 Jones, 1,630 feet from south and 492 feet from west lines of section 36, block L.L. TCR survey, presently is bottomed at 8,968 feet and shut down for orders after a one-hour drillstem test of the Canyon at 6,843-68 feet recovered 18 feet of undrilled fluid, 1,200 feet of drilling mud, 600 feet of salt water and 1,900 feet of gas-cut mud. This prospector originally started ed out to go to 7,000 feet to test the Eilenburger.

William D. Austin of Abilene and other No. 1 C S Coleman, six miles northwest of Rowena in Runnels County, pumped 25 barrels of 43 gravity oil in 24 hours from the Dog Bend and continues testing for a discovery completion.

The production is from perforations between 4,079 and 97 feet.

The operation is 3 1/2 miles north-east of the Urban-Miles (Coppa) pool and 2,026 feet from west and 2,000 feet from south lines of J. H. Wylie survey, 148.

George R. Brown of Houston No. 1 Marcos Medrano is to be a 4,000-foot Noodle Creek venture in Fisher County, seven miles west of Rotan.

The location is 2,000 feet from north and 1,982 feet from west lines of section 104, block 2, H&T survey and six miles southwest of the Rough Draw (Noodle Creek) pool.

The Atlantic Refining Company will drill a 4,500-foot wildcat in Otero County, New Mexico, five miles south of Pinon.

It is in the eastern sector of the county and 1,990 feet from south and 1,650 feet from east lines of section 16-206-15e.

W. A. Black & Sons, Midland, No. 1 L. McDowell Jr., Glasscock County, will drill 10 miles northwest of Garden City, has set 5 1/2-inch casing at total depth 3,025 feet and will test the San Andres through perforations.

Located 660 feet from south and west lines of section 35, block 34, T-2-S, T&P survey, and 3/4 miles west and slightly north of the depleted Rosemary (San Andres) pool, the exploration has reported no shows on tests.

Oil Domestic Demand Forecasts Revised Higher

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP)—Oil executives are revising upward their forecasts of 1963 domestic demand for petroleum.

Most early estimates were for a gain of 1 1/2 to 2 per cent. Demand in the first three months rose 4.2 per cent above 1962.

This sharp upward trend is not expected to continue through the year but revised estimates for 1963 now are for a gain of from 2 1/2 to 3 per cent.

L. F. McCollum, president of the Continental Oil Co. and chairman of the American Petroleum Institute, made a late December forecast of 1 1/2 to 2 per cent.

With caution, McCollum boosted his estimate this week to 2 1/2 per cent.

McCollum told Continental stockholders strong demand for light heating oils and gasoline eliminated about 15 million barrels of excess inventories despite record refinery operations the first three months.

"In the final analysis, the industry's financial success in its domestic operations will continue to hinge on rational economic practices in marketing and the successful management of excess crude producing and refining capacity," he said.

Morgan Davis, chairman of the Humble Oil & Refining Co., said

Industry inventories of crude and products are in the best shape in many years.

"This product situation could continue for the balance of 1963, depending, of course, on the level of refinery runs," he said.

Davis said the domestic industry has been slowly recovering from its own private recession. "Our difficulties began in late 1957, and since that time we have been trying to adjust our operations to fit more closely with the changes that have occurred in both the demand and supply aspects of our business," he said.

Operators List 210 Strings On Work Sheets

Rotary rig activity in the Permian Basin registered an increase on the Friday count of Reed Roller Bit Co., over the figure shown seven days earlier.

On the latest count, 210 strings of tools were listed at work in the West Texas-Southeast New Mexico area. That was an increase of eight from the 202 tabulated on the previous week survey.

The Friday total was eight under the 218 active units credited to the two-state region for the same week in 1962.

Again Lea County, N. M., rated first position—even with a decline of four—from 49 to 45.

The county-by-county count, with previous week's totals in parenthesis, included:
Andrews 15, (13); BORDEN 3, (2); Chaves 1, (2); Cochran 1, (1); Coke 1, (1); Crane 8, (8); Crockett 2, (2); Crosby 1, (1); DAWSON 3, (3); Dickens 1, (1); Ector 14, (18); Eddy 9, (8); Fisher 3, (1); Gaines 10, (8); GARZA 1, (1); GLASSCOCK 1, (2); Hockley 3, (3); HOWARD 1, (1); Irion 1, (1); Kent 1, (1); Lea 45, (49); Loving 4, (1); MARTIN 3, (2); Menard 1, (0); Midland 2, (2); MITCHELL 1, (0); Nolan 3, (2); Pecos 17, (16); Reagan 0, (1); Reeves 3, (4); Roosevelt 5, (5); Runnels 5, (5); Schleicher 3, (4); Scurry 2, (2); STERLING 2, (2); Stonewall 1, (1); Sutton 1, (0); Terrell 2, (2); Terry 1, (1); Tom Green 1, (3); Upton 10, (9); Ward 5, (4); Winkler 4, (4); Yoakum 7, (4); TOTAL 210, (202).

Three Locations Are Staked

Three new locations were reported in the area Saturday in Dawson County, Ard Drilling Co. No. 1-A D. R. Kimsley in a West Lamesa field well to be worked over. The project was bottomed at 8,557 feet and abandoned in 1956. Operator will plug back to 8,300 feet for tests. It is a mile southwest of Lamesa, spotted 1,900 feet from south and west lines of section 11-36-5n, T&P survey.

Shell Oil Co. will dig No. 1-A C. A. Bird as a Duffy Peak (Glorieta) project, 10 miles northeast of Post in Garza County. It is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 19-8-H&G survey. On 560 acres, it will go to 3,085 feet.

Rutter and Wilbanks will test (drill) No. 1 Chiesman at 7,500 feet in the Spraberry Trend of Glasscock County. It is an old well to be worked over, located 14 miles southwest of Garden City, 660 feet from south and east lines of section 12-36-5s, T&P survey.

Angelo College Bill Is Signed

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Connally signed into law Friday a bill creating Texas' 21st state-supported senior college at San Angelo. He predicted the school ultimately would "make a great contribution to education in Texas."

"I want to pay tribute to all who had a part in this," Connally told a group of legislators and school officials.
"It was a difficult task, but I'm sure everyone eventually will be very happy and pleased with the outcome," the governor said. The measure, sponsored by Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo and Rep. Forrest Harding, both of San Angelo, passed after a hard fight in both houses.

San Angelo Junior College has about 1,000 students. It will enter the state system in 1965.
At the signing were Dr. R. M. Cavness, president of the college;

Dr. Harmon Lowman Jr., dean; Porter Henderson Sr., a trustee; and J. C. Kellum, a Texas State Teachers College regent.
Shot To Death
FORT WORTH (AP) — Robert Rice Jr., 16, son of a chiropractor, was found shot to death in his home Friday. Suicide was ruled.

More Building Materials Stolen

Two thefts of building material and appliances were reported to Big Spring police Friday. Both were late reports, by an insurance firm on merchandise missing since April 23.
Housing and Development Industries, 2714 Larry, reported the theft of an oven, range top, and hood, valued at $350. All merchandise, of the built-in type, was stored in the garage at the house under construction.

Milch Construction Co., 2500 Rebecca, reported the theft of 200 lengths of redwood fencing material valued at $400.

Master Plan Committee Meets Monday

Big Spring's Master Plan committee, including business leaders and representatives of consulting firms, will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the police department classroom. It is the first such meeting since the Master Plan bond program was approved and work started.

Dr. J. E. Hogan, chairman, said City Manager Larry Crow would give a progress report on the program, now in its third year of operation, and a financial report on work completed.

Carl Shimek, representing Forest and Cotton, consulting engineering firm of Dallas, will discuss construction phases.

Marvin Springer, consultant, who has worked with the committee in developing the city's new zoning ordinance, will make a report and discuss "the next five years" for consideration of the committee.

A question and answer period will conclude the program. The committee will consider future plans for further development of the city, after hearing from the consultants. Recommendations for city action will be made at a later date after a plan has been developed.

Shimek, in his progress report, will tell the committee why some of the projects, including water distribution lines, filter plant additions, and sewage disposal plant, have gone under or over the original bond fund estimates and what to expect in the remainder of the program in 1963 and 1964.

Crow will report on the financial condition of the bond program and the city to keep members advised of the city's ability to meet interest and sinking fund payments to retire the bonds.

Junior College To Graduate 40 Students Here Thursday

Forty students are scheduled to receive associate in arts and applied arts degrees in Howard County Junior College commencement ceremonies May 23.

The Rev. Donald Hungerford, pastor of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, will deliver the commencement address. The schedule calls for the affair to be held in the college auditorium at 8 p.m.

The procession and recessional organ music will be played by James T. McDaniel. The Rev. R.

Gage Lloyd, First Presbyterian minister, will word the invocation and Martin W. Landers, of the college faculty, will pronounce the benediction. Mrs. Dorothy Downey, sophomore, will sing, accompanied by Sonnet Johnson.

Conferring of the degrees will be Ben Johnson, dean, and Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, will award them.

Candidates for associate in arts are James Delbert Brown, Donald Gene Carter, Walter A. Carter, John C. Cone, Jana Kay Crowmover, William Paul Famin, Jo Anne Forrest, Nancy Lee Graves, Billy Ray Harless, Jane A. Harrington.

Joe Frank Overton, John Douglas Parker, Roger Carroll Parker, Joseph Gary Pickle, Patricia Eugenia Saunders, William Hiram Thompson, Peggy Toops Tubb, Gary Lee Walker, Kenneth Ralph Windham, Thomas Daniel Yarbrough.

Candidates for applied arts are Austin Neal Brinson Jr., Bobby Duain Graves, Harvey Leon Henderson, Tommy Joe Johnson, Kay Starr Mills, Linda Sue Paige, Fred L. Pickett Jr., Laura Jane Whitworth and Wanda Jeanette Wolf.

More Screwworm Cases Found On County Ranches

Airborne sterile screwworm flies were dropped over three Howard County ranches over the weekend to combat three confirmed cases of screwworm infection in stock, Herb Helbig, county farm agent, reported.

He said a fourth case seems most certain of confirmation and that when he talked with the screwworm control center in Mission, he suggested that flies be dropped over this area at the same time the confirmed areas were being treated.

All of the cases confirmed are in the southwest part of the county. One is on the Caudle Estate property in the Elbow community. T. Willard Neel has horses on this land and one of his fillies developed screwworms.

Another confirmed case was on the V. E. Phillips land near Forson. This land is two miles north of the J. W. Overton property where a third case has been found. The infected animal actually is just across the line in Glasscock County but Helbig said it is so close to the line that he is having it treated as a part of the county.

Bill Mellvain, with Wilkinson ranch west of town, brought in some worms Friday from the ranch of Mrs. G. W. White, which is near the Wilkinson place. Mellvain and Helbig are both convinced these grubs are screwworms.

Helbig complimented the ranchers and farmers in their diligence in keeping a lookout for the pest and their promptness in reporting cases to his office.

It is helping tremendously, he said, to control spread of screwworms in this county and speeding treatment to infected areas.

Nuclear Ship Contract Lost

WASHINGTON (AP)—States Marine Lines, beset with months-long labor troubles, has lost its government contract to operate the nuclear ship Savannah.

In announcing the cancellation, Assistant Secretary of Commerce Frank D. Roosevelt Jr. told the firm Friday it may get its contract back if the labor difficulties are straightened out.

VA Promotes Dr. Fechner

Dr. Albert H. Fechner, director of the Veterans Administration Hospital at Salt Lake City since 1952, has been appointed VA Area Medical Director. He succeeds Dr. Charles H. Beasley, who will become director of the Jefferson Barracks VA Hospital in Missouri.

Dr. Fechner will be responsible for VA hospital and medical activities in Arkansas, Colorado, Kansas, Louisiana, Missouri, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas.

DEAR ABBY Rules Of A Wise Woman

DEAR ABBY: Years ago, when my widowed mother came to live with me and my husband, she made our lives so miserable that I determined that I would never bring such misery to my children if I ever had to live with them. One day I sat down and wrote myself a letter. In it were some pertinent rules, and on the outside of the envelope I wrote, "To be opened on the day I go to live with my daughter, heaven forbid." I tucked it away in an old book and forgot about it. I've been widowed and self-sufficient for six years, but now I was recently forced to give up my job and go to live with my oldest daughter. I've opened that letter and I think your older readers might benefit from it, as I intend to. Here they are:

1. Give what you can toward your keep. Any budget will stretch just so far.
2. Keep yourself clean and neat.
3. Remember, it is THEIR home. Be especially considerate of HIM. He allowed her to bring you here.
4. Give them privacy at every opportunity.
5. If they want to go away on a vacation, but are hesitant because of you, offer to visit another relative or friend so they will be free to go.
6. Don't offer any advice or express any opinions unless asked.
7. Volunteer information that they might be too embarrassed to ask for, such as arrangements for your burial, hospitalization, etc.

These rules were written over 20 years ago. I read them often and am determined to keep them. Sincerely, WIDOW X

DEAR ABBY: Whoever started that stupid rule of courtesy, stating that ladies should leave an elevator first? I am always annoyed with gentlemen who stand rooted to the floor of an elevator and refuse to get out ahead of women who are in the rear of the elevator, struggling to get out. If those stupid men would just step out of the elevator ahead of the women it would be so much simpler for everyone.

"ANNOYED" DEAR ANNOYED: "Women and children first" is the rule when abandoning a stricken ship, but common sense should prevail when leaving an elevator.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BENNY: No, I am not a "nut" on the subject, but I still think that anyone who smokes is advertising the fact that he has money to burn.

Yes, Abby will send you a personal reply if you send her a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your problem.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Two Reasons Why HCJC Won Title Again

Kenneth Windham, in the sixth lane (right), and Tommy Wise, in the first lane (left), finished one-two in the 120-yard hurdles Saturday night, providing much of the power that led Howard County Junior College to its third straight national track crown. Both lads stepped over the barricades in 14.8 seconds, but Windham was three first. Windham tied the national record in the preliminaries Friday, with a fast 14.8 clip. This lineup for the final Saturday included, from left, Wise, Larry Sallinger, Scotts Bluff, finishing fifth; Archie McClure, Victoria, fourth; Jim Felkins, Victoria, sixth; Cyler Thompson, San Jacinto, third, and Windham.

HCJC Wins 3rd Straight National Track, Field Title

By TOMMY HART

L. L. (Red) Lewis' HCJC legions, showing great strength in the hurdles and weights, swept to their third straight victory in the 22nd annual National Junior College Track and Field Meet here Saturday night, racking up a total of 113 points.

In running away with first place, the Jayhawks exceeded their point aggregate last year. Four meet records fell in the two-night cinder show and two others were tied. Standards overhauled included the mile run, discus throw, shot put and pole vault. Both hurdles records were tied.

Phoenix, Arizona, was second in the chase, with 66, beating out Victoria by a mere point. Fourth was Schreiner Institute of Kerrville, which wound up with 46 points. All four teams earned trophies.

High point man of the meet was HCJC's Mike Hill, who scored a total of 24 points. He beat out Schreiner's brilliant Keith Owen by a mere quarter of a point.

Two of the most thrilling events of the night occurred in the relay events. The Big Spring collegians won both races — the sprint and the mile relay.

Terry Williams, the Hawks' lead-off man in the sprint relay, appeared to slip at the starting gun but he recovered fast. Tommy Wise, Tommy Yarbro and Don Carter took the baton in that order and the Hawks finished all alone in 42.1 seconds.

In the mile event, which ended the show, Owen of Schreiner appeared ready to overtake Carter in the back stretch but the gritty Jayhawk refused to quit. He ran the mountaineer into the ground around the turn and brought the baton home several yards in front of Owen. The HCJC foursome was clocked in 3:19.5.

Tommy Wise and Kenneth Windham of the Hawks finished 1-2 in the low hurdles and reversed that order in the highs. Wise tied the meet record in the lows Saturday night after Windham had equalled the record in the Friday night prelims of the highs.

Howard County won five first places in two each for Victoria and Schreiner and one each for Blinn, San Antonio, Spring Arbor, Mich.; Phoenix, Lubbock Christian, Hutchinson and Wharton.

The Hawks' blue ribbons came in the mile relay, sprint relay, the two hurdles and the discus.

HCJC began to show its muscles in Saturday afternoon's finals when it picked up 24 points in two field events.

Mike Hill, the 222-pound sophomore from Libertyville, Ill., cut loose with a record-breaking throw of 170 feet 1 inch in the discus throw and had a surprising third place finish in the javelin.

Mike hurled the spear 190 feet 3 1/4 inches.

Gary Walker, also of HCJC and the defending champion in the event, broke the discus record, too, with his second place finish. His throw was a robust 166 feet 6 inches, his best effort this season.

First place in the javelin went to Dick Carpenter of Hutchinson in a mild upset. Carpenter's toss was 207 feet 3 inches, which lacked an inch tying the meet record.

Victoria, making its best showing in the meet since it ruled the roost in 1958, shot into the lead Friday night in the four final events staged.

The Pirates, coached by Monroe Northcutt, won the sprint medley in the sizzling time of 3:29.9; had a fourth place finish in the high jump, a third place finish in the broad jump and a fourth place in the shot put.

One record fell Friday night when Rex Jacobson of Schreiner Institute, Kerrville, Texas, pushed the shot 52 feet 3/4 inch. The old record had been on the books 23 years.

Kenneth Windham of HCJC tied the meet record of 14.6 in the preliminaries of the high jump.

A sudden shower which dumped 38 of an inch of moisture on the track about daybreak Saturday caused semifinals to be postponed until late in the afternoon and forced tournament director L. L. (Red) Lewis and his co-workers to "bend to" in frantic efforts to dry out the racing oval. It proved to be quite a job, because much of the track was under water after the rain.

Twins Rap Indians, 8-1

By TOMMY HART

Lefty Jim Kaat pitched a five-hitter Saturday and gave the Minnesota Twins their second straight victory over the Indians, 8-1.

Kaat won his second against four losses with the help of a pair of two-run homers by Harmon Killebrew and Wally Post who was starting his first game for the Twins. Post was purchased from Cincinnati Thursday.

Killebrew belted a ball about 420 feet into the left field seats, practically duplicating his clout of Friday night. This was his third round-tripper.

Kaat permitted four hits during the first eight innings, one of which was rookie third baseman Max Alvis' fifth homer. Kaat retired 10 men in a row entering the ninth.

Jofre Scores 38th Knockout

MANILA (AP) — Brazil's Eder Jofre scored his 38th knockout in 48 fights tonight, successfully defending his world bantamweight championship against Johnny Jamito of the Philippines. Jamito failed to answer the bell for the 12th round.

It was scored a technical knockout in the 12th round.

Jofre, 117 1/2 pounds, was making the sixth defense of the bantamweight crown. He won all of his defenses by knockouts. Jamito weighed 117 1/2.

Jones Qualifies With New Record

By DALE BURGESS

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Par-nelli Jones, a mild-mannered craftsman who makes high speed driving look easy, cracked his qualifying record for the 50-mile Memorial Day auto race Saturday in spite of gusty winds.

The 29-year-old Torrance, Calif., driver smoothly guided his Offenhauser-powered Agagianian Special to a 10-mile record of 151.153 miles per hour for the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. He also set a new standard of 151.847 for a single lap around the 2 1/2-mile asphalt track.

Jones earned the No. 1 or pole starting position, the inside of the three-car front row, for the second straight year. He became the first to reach 150 m.p.h. on the 53-year-old track last year with a record of 150.370 and a best lap of 150.729.

Saturday's seven qualifiers averaged 150.048 and three had 10-mile averages well over 150. Jimmy Clark of Scotland, No. 2 in world road racing last year, joined the record-breaking with a new mark of 149.750 for a semi-stock engine. He qualified a Lotus-Ford after teammate Dan Gurney, Costa Mesa, Calif., escaped injury in a practice run crash on the southwest turn.

Jones will share the three-car front row May 30 with Jim Hurtubise, North Tonawanda, N.Y., the former qualifying record holder, and veteran Don Branson, Champaign, Ill.

Hurtubise put a super-powered Novi into second place at an average speed of 150.188 and had one lap at 151.281. Branson averaged 150.188 in one of three Watsons entered by Bob Wilke of Milwaukee. Teammate Roger Ward of Indianapolis, last year's 500 winner, made the No. 4 starting position at 149.800. Ward had a new car and Branson drove Ward's old one.

In the second row with Ward will be Clark and Jim McElreath of Arlington, Tex., who did 149.744. Bobby Marshman, Pottstown, Pa., was the only other qualifier at 149.458.

Gentile Slugs Orioles To 2-1 Win Over Chisox

BALTIMORE (AP) — Jim Gentile drove home the winning run with a ninth-inning single Saturday night as the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Chicago White Sox and former teammate Hoyt Wilhelm 2-1.

The result elevated the Boston Red Sox into the American League lead, and dropped the White Sox into a second-place tie with the Orioles.

Left-hander Steve Barber fired a four-hitter for the Orioles and became the first big league to win seven games this year. He has lost three.

Wilhelm, the relief specialist traded to Chicago during the winter, put down an Oriole rally in the seventh inning when Baltimore scored its first run off Chicago starter Gary Peters. Chicago 010 000-1 4 0 Baltimore 000 000 101-2 5 1

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Affordable Don Fairfield shot a 4-under-par 68 Saturday and slipped into the lead of the $35,000 Oklahoma City Open Golf Tournament with a 54-hole total of 211.

Fairfield's 68 backed up rounds of 72 and 71 over the 7,059-yard, par 36-36-72 Quail Creek Country Club course and gave him a one-stroke lead over six others.

The 33-year-old Illinois native, who hasn't won a tournament in almost three years, was elated over his round, but said there hasn't been any sudden change in his game.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

HOUSTON RODEN WISENER

The Exes will field a 17-man squad for their Saturday night football game with the 1963 Steers. Several of the boys didn't play the sport in high school but the seniors should prove salty, nonetheless. Coaches R. E. Dodson and Dan Lewis can call upon the following boys for duty with the Exes: Eddy Nelson 185, split end; Jack Roden 185, strong end; Vern Jackson 205 and Jeff Brown 205, strong tackles; Mike Houston 170, strong guard; Robert Wilson 200, center; Buster Barnes 170, quick guard; Walter Minter 175, quick tackle; Rick Wisener 155, quarterback; Humberto Hernandez 145, Danny Coats 165 and Lefty Renshaw 150, wingbacks; Eric Nichols 185, Donnie Phillips 155 and Joe Don Musgrove 160, halfbacks; and Dickie Spier 175 and Rick Peters 185, fullbacks. The Exes should be tough defensively, with boys like Spier, Barnes and Minter ready to smack down the opposing ball carriers. Odessa Permian lost two veteran players it was counting on for next football season. They are letterman tackle Bruce Strahan, who took unto himself a wife; and fullback Kenny Jones, who failed to report for spring practice. Incidentally, the Panthers were limited to two weeks of spring workouts under rules laid down by the Odessa school board. End Johnny Collins and halfbacks Johnny Vacca and Harmon Smith will serve as co-captains of the Permian club next season. Ex-Big Spring Billy Maxwell picked up $350 in a one-day proam held in Dallas the day after the Colonial Golf Tournament ended in Fort Worth, while marking time for the Oklahoma City Open. Two basketball players for Dallas Thomas Jefferson High School last season, Jimmy Haller and Noel Stout, will attend Lon Morris Junior College in Jacksonville next fall. Haller stands 6-4, Stout 6-3. The latter was regarded as the best high school defensive player in Dallas last year.

Robbins To Take Estimates On Cinders

School officials here have asked coach Don Robbins to get estimates on a cinder track for the old football stadium at State and Tenth Streets. The old plant could be improved to the point that it could become a first class conditioning arena. The Steer tracksters now have to go across town to Memorial Stadium to get any practice on cinders. There's some talk, too, the baseball field will eventually be moved to a spot near the edge of town. The present diamond has a notorious reputation as an 'ash-heap'. If plans for a new baseball diamond do materialize, the architects could study the Snyder park as a model—it's the finest in West Texas. The excellence of the Snyder diamond (on city-owned ground), reflects in the defensive work of the Tiger baseball team, too. After the New York Mets won four straight games in April, Met coach Ernie White had this comment: "They're pouring concrete like mad at the new stadium this morning. They have to get it ready for the World Series." One thing the local high school athletic teams can point to with pride this school year: The Steers beat Odessa Permian in football, basketball and baseball—for the first time in history. Southern Cal has landed Dennis Carr of La Habra High School, holder of the national interscholastic mile record of 4:08.7. Midland High's Eddie Shirley finished no better than third in the mile run in the state high school track meet this spring but his time would have been good enough for a first place trophy in the Southwest Conference meet. Bobby Nichols, the Kentonville golfer who plays out of Midland, says Fort Worth's Colonial is the toughest course he's ever played—and Bobby has competed in the Masters at Augusta, Ga.

New And Brown Led Steers In Hitting

Roy New and Jeff Brown were the only Big Spring baseball players to hit 300 or more in District 2-AAAA play the past season. New wound up with a .327 mark while Brown weighed in with a .300 mark average. Booky Kumble of Midland Lee paced all hitters in the circuit with a .524 average. The Arkansas Razorbacks expect to play before four crowds of 41,000 each in Little Rock's War Memorial Stadium next fall—against Oklahoma State, Missouri, Texas and Texas A&M.

Dodgers Add To Win Skain

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers scored four runs in the second inning Saturday and ran their winning streak to four games by defeating the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-4. Right-hander Don Drysdale was touched for 10 hits but picked up his fourth victory in eight decisions. Tom Davis drove in three Dodger runs with a pair of singles, while Jim Gilliam batted in two and extended his hitting streak to 14 games. It was the fifth straight loss for the Pirates and their 19th in 12 games. The Dodgers have won nine of their last 11.

Braves Beat Cubs, 10-6

CHICAGO (AP)—Henry Aaron's grand slam home run capped a six-run, seventh-inning uprising and lifted the Milwaukee Braves to a 10-6 victory over the Chicago Cubs Saturday before a crowd of 16,162. Aaron's homer, helping Milwaukee win its fourth straight game, was his 12th of the season. Going into the big seventh, the Braves had been held to four hits by Bob Buhl and were trailing 4-1. Doubles by Del Crandall and Mack Jones in the third accounted for the run. Milwaukee 091 000 020—19 Chicago 100 010 000—14

Candy Spots Winner Of Pimlico Classic

By JOHN CHANDLER. By The Associated Press. BALTIMORE (AP)—Favored Candy Spots from California removed the Kentucky Derby stain from his record Saturday when he overtook the pacesetter Never Bend turning for home and sped off with the $180,000 Preakness at Pimlico. Chateaugay, who won the Derby at Louisville two weeks ago, came up on the outside in the stretch and passed Never Bend for second place in the 87th running of the famous Maryland classic for 3-year-olds, 3 1/2 lengths behind the winner. Chateaugay finished 4 1/2 lengths ahead of the tiring Never Bend and Lemon Twist came home fourth in the field of eight. Lemon Twist was 2 1/2 lengths back of Never Bend. It was a flip-flop from the Derby by finish where Chateaugay came home in front followed by Never Bend with Candy Spots third in the first of the triple crown series. Candy Spots, owned by Rex C. Ellsworth and trained by Mesh Tenney and ridden by Willie Shoemaker, justified the confidence in the Westerner who had maintained all along that the California-bred colt was the best 3-year-old in the land. A crowd of 35,263 also was convinced of his superiority. They made the big chestnut son of Nigromante-Candy Dish by Kahled the 3-2 favorite. Cain Hoy Siabie's Never Bend was the second choice at 9-5 while John W. Galbreath's Chateaugay was sent off as third choice at 5-2. It was the first time Ellsworth and Tenney had started a horse in the Preakness and it was the first victory in the race for jockey Shoemaker in four tries. Again there will be no triple crown winner this year, but that'll take nothing away from the third in the series. Most of these leading 3-year-olds are going on to New York for the wind-up, the $125,000-added Belmont Stakes to be raced at Aqueduct on June 8. No horse has managed a triple crown sweep since Citation in 1948. This was not only the third richest Preakness but it was the third largest crowd and the winner's time was the third fastest. Candy Spots was clocked in 1 minute, 56.1-5 seconds on a track which was fast by post time although it was covered with water Saturday morning. The time equaled Greek Money's winning time of 1962 and Bojd Ruler's clocking in 1957. Nashua set the record of 1:54.3-5 in 1935 and Cap did it in 1:56 in 1949. The winner, who also was favorite in the Kentucky Derby, returned $5, $3.20 and $2.20. Chateaugay, ridden by Braulio Baeza, paid $4.40 and $2.40 and Never Bend, with Manuel Ycaza in the saddle, was $2.20 to show. Candy Spots picked up a purse of $127,500 to run his career earnings to $476,812. Ycaza, who was involved in the famous finish line bumping with jockey Johnny Rotz last year, sent Never Bend to the front immediately after the start. Bill Robinson's Rural Retreat went right with him and Shoemaker came along in third place with Candy Spots. They went to the first turn in the same order with Chateaugay rated well back in sixth place. Baeza had held Chateaugay off the speedy Derby pace and came around the leaders at the head of the stretch with a late rush. He applied the same tactics again this time but Candy Spots didn't cooperate.

Future TV Policy Is NFL Discussion

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The first meeting of the National Football League since Commissioner Pete Rozelle lowered the boom on Paul Hornung, Alex Karras and the Detroit club will open Wednesday with future television policy up for consideration. The NFL is operating on the last year of a 2-year, $9.3-million TV package deal with the Columbia Broadcasting System which carries the road games of all 14 clubs. The recently completed $926,000 contract for the championship game with the National Broadcasting Co. is only a one-year deal for 1963. The owners will take up the question of the length of future contracts, the manner of bidding and kindred business matters. They probably will also take a look into the future and do a little off-the-cuff talking about closed circuit television and pay television.

He said the investigation had been delayed by legal proceedings involving Rosenbloom and those who made the accusations. Several matters tabled at the winter meetings in Miami Beach in January will be brought up again. They include a suggestion to increase the player limit from 36 to 38 men and establishment of an injured reserve list to take care of disabled players. The new championship game contract, considered a solid vote of confidence after the league's betting scandal, represented an increase of $311,000 over the old contract of $615,000. Under the old pact, $300,000 went directly into the players' benefit plan and the remainder went into the player pool. The owners must decide how to split the extra money. Still pending from the big investigation of the winter is a final determination in the case of Carroll Rosenbloom, president of the Baltimore Colts. When Rozelle announced the indefinite suspension of Hornung and Karras April 17 and the firing of five Detroit players at $2,000 each and $4,000

Great Football Star Loses To Leukemia

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Ernie Davis, voted America's greatest collegiate football player of 1961 and a symbol of tremendous courage to all who knew him, died peacefully Saturday in Lakeside Hospital after a 13-month battle against a cruel leukemia. Davis, 23, former All-America halfback at Syracuse was the only Negro ever to win the Heisman Trophy, the highest honor accorded a college grid star. He was a member of the Cleveland Browns in the National Football League, but never played a game professionally.

He was stricken with the deadly blood disease at the College All-Star camp in Evanston, Ill., last July. However, doctors now have concluded the 6-foot-2, 212-pounder actually was afflicted in April 1962. Leukemia Research. "The Browns will make a substantial contribution to get the fund started," Modell said. "His mother has asked that instead of flowers, contributions should go to University Hospitals in Cleveland for the hospital's leukemia research projects."

In his home town of Elmira, N.Y., Davis' mother, Mrs. Arthur Radford said the death was a "terrible shock." She said she was numbed by the loss of her only son. His father is dead. The body was being shipped by airplane to Elmira for funeral services either Monday or Tuesday. The Cleveland club signed Davis to a three-year contract for $80,000—including a $15,000 bonus. That was the highest price ever paid for a rookie in the NFL. The club kept Davis on the payroll throughout his long illness and paid the entire medical and hospital bills, believed to be about $10,000.

Qualifying Tabs Needed In City

Golfers have only two more days in which to enter the 1963 City Golf Tournament, tournament director Shorty Gideon has announced. As of now, 32 players are in the fold. In a normal year, as many as 80 players register for the tournament. Gideon said it is imperative the tournament be held as early as possible due to the fact that improvements may be made on the back nine later in the summer. Entry fee is $5. All flight winners and the medalist will share in the awards. Low man in the field through Saturday evening was Jimmy Neilson, the defending titlist, who toured the course in an even par 72. Qualifying scores will be accepted up until Monday at dusk, Gideon said.

Willey Shuts Out Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Carlton Willey pitched a three-hit shutout Saturday as the last-place New York Mets whipped the San Francisco Giants 4-0, snapping a four-game winning streak for the National League leaders. It was only the Mets' second victory in seven meetings with the Giants this season and Willey has won both. The right-hander trimmed San Francisco 4-2 with a seven-hitter two weeks ago. Jack Sanford was the Giants' starter and loser. It was his first defeat to New York in two years. He had beaten the Mets six straight times. The Mets scored three times in the third inning as Duke Snider drove in one run and Tim Lincecum singled in a pair. New York 000 000 000—3 San Francisco 000 000 000—0

Sacrifice Fly Wins For Colts

HOUSTON (AP)—Ken Aspromonte's sacrifice fly with the bases full and one out scored Ron Davis with the run that gave the Houston Colts a 3-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Saturday. The Colts scored twice in the last of the ninth after the Phillies had rallied for two runs in the top of the inning to take a 2-1 lead. Aspromonte's pay-off fly came in the last of the ninth. Jack Baldschun, who relieved starter Dallas Green for the Phillies, was the loser. The victory went to Ken Johnson, who had replaced Houston starter Bob Bruce in the ninth. Tigers To Oppose Lamesans Today

Held to a draw in two games last week, the Big Spring Tigers hit the road again today, meeting the Lamesa White Sox in two baseball games at Lamesa. The first contest starts at 1:30 p.m. The Bengals now boast a 5-1 won-lost record. Tony Fierro will probably toss the first game for Big Spring while Jimmy Fierro is poised to pitch in the afterpiece.

Webb Wins, 9-2; Smith Tips Morton's

Webb AFB handed the Merchants their second straight Big Spring Fast Softball league defeat at Webb Friday night, winning 9-2. Webb now has a 2-0 record and remains tied with E. C. Smith Construction Co., which vanquished Morton's 6-0 in the other game. John Pekar and Bob Pekar of Webb and Marion Tredaway of the Merchants hit home runs in the first game. Pekar, the winning hurler, gave the Merchants six hits. Webb broke through for two runs in the first and salted away the decision with a three-run third. Lonnie Crosby was saddled with the mound defeat. He yielded eight hits while fanning eight and walking five. Pete Cook drove out two of the Merchants' safeties. The second game went nine innings and was decided when Gerold Cox clubbed a three-run homer for Smith's. D. A. Miller and Danny Valdes had both reached base on errors to set the stage for Cox's home run. Smith's drove out a total of 11 hits, with Spec Franklin and Char-

Local Lad Is Named No. 1 Sophomore Golfer At OC

ODESSA — Jimmy Patterson of Big Spring has been presented with the Abe Gerson Jewellers' award as the outstanding sophomore golfer at Odessa College. Patterson was informed of the honor during a fete honoring the 1963 Wrangler squad held the past week at the home of coach Jimmy Russell. The award, winner of which is picked by a three-man committee, goes annually to the sophomore who exhibits leadership, scholarship and golfing ability. Jimmy, a member of last year's National JC championship team, is captain of this year's OC team and was low scorer in the latest qualifying round staged by coach Russell. Cardinals Win Over Dodgers

The Cardinals scored in every inning but the third in defeating the Dodgers, 16-6, in a National Little League game here Friday night. Mike Hull led the Red Birds' 13-hit attack with three safeties, including a double. No one on the Dodger club had more than one hit.

Mustangs Book Arlington Game

DALLAS (AP)—SMU completed its 1964 football schedule Saturday, booking a game with Arlington State for Oct. 3 in the Cotton Bowl. Other nonconference games for 1964 are against Florida at Jacksonville and Ohio State at Columbus.

PUBLIC OFFERING FOR SALE BY COMPETITIVE BIDDING

The Federal Housing Administration invites bids for the following group of properties. Sale will be by oral competitive bidding for all of the properties as an entity following the submission of qualifying tenders at the minimum price as to each property stated hereafter. To qualify for the minimum price on its face shall be firm, unconditional, responsive, fixed in an amount certain and not in the alternative, not to the FHA, and shall be submitted on a form to be obtained from the undersigned.

Bids are returnable for public opening at 1:00 P.M. local time on May 17, 1963 at the Federal Housing Administration Office indicated below.

1001 Avenue N., Lubbock, Texas.

All of the properties, identified as Group No. 34 for bidding purposes are located in Big Spring, Howard County, Texas.

A. PARCEL B. MINIMUM BID AMOUNT

NUMBER	ADDRESS	PRICE NOT LESS THAN
1	1502 Virginia Street	$ 6,415
2	1504 Virginia Street	6,530
3	1506 Virginia Street	6,605
4	1600 Virginia Street	6,705
5	1711 Alabama Street	11,410
6	3707 Dixon Street	9,185
7	2615 Cindy Lane	12,975
8	2708 Lynn Drive	14,395
		$73,370

TERMS: The properties are sold as is. Upon execution of the sales contract the successful bidder is required to pay over to the FHA Earnest Money equal to the difference between the aggregate Minimum Bid Amount stated above and the price established by oral competitive bidding. This to be applied on the purchase. The successful bidder is required to close the sale by payment of the agreed sales price in cash upon receipt of Third Party Purchaser by the successful bidder and, as to any property not sold by a Third Party Purchaser within 6 months after execution of the sales contract by paying to the FHA the amount established by the competitive bidding, the FHA to accept a purchase money mortgage for the Minimum Bid Amount.

FURTHER INFORMATION: An Information Bulletin with copy of the sales contract, indicating as to the Minimum Commitment Amount (including repairs required to support such commitment amount), bidding instructions, and an authorization to examine the properties, may be obtained from the undersigned.

The Federal Housing Administration reserves the right to reject any and all bids, to waive any informality in any bid, and to reject the bid of any bidder who, in the opinion of the FHA, lacks the essential qualifications, intentions, or means of successfully performing the contract. If an acceptable bid pursuant to this advertisement is not received on the date on which bids are returnable, the FHA, without further notice may thereafter accept the first bid meeting the requirements specified herein, or withdraw this offering.

LINEUPS NEEDED

More Than 200 Enter June 8-9 Golf Open

More than 200 players have entered the first annual Big Spring Golf Open, scheduled to be unveiled over the Country Club course June 8-9, but meet director Obie Bristow reminded there is a need for many of the players to identify their partners.

"We now have the True Amateur (lower) division filled," Bristow said Saturday, "but we know that some of the players will team up down there. There'll be room for more players in that flight, but we won't know how much until the players declare their partners."

C. A. DeWEEES

Deadline for entry is June 5 but indications are the full complement of players will be attained long before that time. A total of 288 players, or 144 teams—equally divided into two flights—will be accepted.

Entry fee in the Open flight will be $15 per person. A pro can team with an amateur or two amateurs can form a tandem in that division.

The cost per player for the True Amateur division will be $5. The ten low teams in each flight will share in the awards, as will low individual scorers.

Among pros who have signified they will be here are Iverson Martin, El Paso, the former Texas PGA king; Dick Turner, San Angelo; Sunny Edwards, Ruidoso, N.M.; C. G. Griffin, Brownfield; Pearl Ward, Midland; C. A. DeWees, Arlington; Jerry Green, Big Spring; Frank White, Henderson; W. O. Maxwell, Big Spring; and Gibb Faircloth, Kermit.

Also Benny Adams, McCamey; Eric Palmros, Fort Worth; Bill Bruce, Snyder; Lloyd Carter, Sweetwater; Dennis Lavender, Dallas; Labron Harris Sr., Stillwater; Oklahoma, Jimmy Adams, Lamesa; Ronnie McGraw, Abilene; and Horace Moore, Plainview.

If Labron Harris Sr. shows up, he is almost certain to bring his son, Labron Jr., the reigning National Amateur king.

Charles Coody of Stamford, a semifinalist in last year's National Amateur, is an entry, along with Hezzie Carson, San Angelo; Frank Mackey, Fort Worth; Bill (Red) Roden, Odessa; Jack Williams, Plainview; Travis Horton, Stamford; J. C. (Jake) Morgan, Tulsa, Okla.; Bobby Layne, Lubbock; Gil Jones, Big Spring, and many others.

Play will be over 36 holes and winners will be determined on a low-ball basis. A buffet dinner will be served the entries June 8 at the clubhouse.

No handicaps will, of course, be used in the Open flight—but the True Amateur flight will make use of them.

Entries should be mailed or wired to Jerry Green, Country Club pro, PO Box 1027, no later than 6 p.m. June 5. Starting times and pairings will be posted June 7. No qualifying will be required of the players.

The Country Club course extends over 18 holes and measures 6,940 yards from the championship tees. Par is 35 going out and 36 coming in for 71.

Gallery tickets will be 50 cents daily.

Pack, Wolves Dominate All-District 3-3A Team

SNYDER—The champion Snyder Tigers and runnerup Colorado City Wolves dominate the 3-AAA all-district first team as announced here today, cornering nine of the 12 berths on the mythical dream team as chosen annually by the coaches and sports-writers from among the competing schools.

The Tigers, coached by Speedy Moffett, raced to the district pennant with a 7-1 record. Their only loop loss was to the Wolves, who were second in the yearly scramble at 5-3 Brownfield and Lamesa followed with look-alike marks of 4-4, while Sweetwater was winless in its eight starts.

Due to there being a pair of ties in the voting—at the catching and second base positions—12 players were picked to the first team. A total of 10 snared berths on the second unit, which includes two pitchers as specified by the voting procedure.

The foremost vote-getter among the crop of hopefuls was Snyder's fireballing senior, Dalton Walton. Eight of the 10 halting parties chose him as a first team hurler, while the other two had him a first team outfielder.

When not tending to mound chores, he patrolled the center field garden for the Bengals.

The pacesetter hitter among the selections was Snyder first sacker Kenny Wellborn, who stroked out 14 base knocks in 28 platter appearances for a torrid 500 mean. Also a senior, he serves as a team co-captain along with Walton.

Lamesa's brilliant senior do-it-all backstop, Woodie Scott, earned for himself an all-district grand slam when he tied with Charlie Houston of Colorado City for the first team catching slot. He had previously fallen in line for all-league billing in both football and basketball.

Youth was reflected repeatedly in this year's selections, with there being a total of four sophomore performers named to the two units. A number of repeaters graced the squads, also. Houston stood pat as a first team choice, while Wellborn, Walton, Scott and shortstop Mike Hart (Colorado City) increased in stature by lifting themselves up from the second team echelons.

On the other hand, Lamesa first baseman James Woods, and key-stone sacker John Martin tumbled a peg down to the second unit.

Teammate Sherrill Kidd, an outfielder, sat tight in the number two grouping.

Hester's Wins; TES Shaded

Hester's Office Supply blanked Pollard Chevrolet, 10-0, and Skateland turned back Texas Electric in Big Spring American Softball league games played at the City Park Friday night.

Bob Riceman, who divided time on the mound with Theibert Camp, received credit for the Hester victory.

Hester collected only five hits but used them to good advantage. Don Sparks was the loser.

The game was fairly close until the third, when Hester's broke loose for eight runs.

Pollard Chevrolet collected only three hits, two of which were by Dickie Gregory.

Texas Electric scored its only run against Skateland in the first inning. TESCO had only two hits, all told.

Eddie Kobanek collected two of Skateland's six hits while Dick Nichols drove out a double.

Charley Williams fashioned the hill success while Ernest Barbee was saddled with the loss.

No Marks Fall In Coast Meet

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Little Jim Beatty of the United States and Peter Snell of New Zealand shared victory tributes today but there won't be any need to revise the world record book of track and field after Friday night's Coliseum Relays.

None was threatened.

A crowd of 32,450 turned out for this 23rd annual event, with these major results:

Snell, world record holder for the mile, easily won in what he frankly conceded was the disappointing time of 4:00.3.

Beatty, at 28 America's premier distance runner, conquered Murray Halberg in the 5,000 meters in 13:57.4.

Arizona State University's mile relay team ran it off in 3:05.2, missing its own world record of 3:04.5.

John Pennel of Northeast Louisiana State, who has a world pole vault record of 16 feet 6 1/2 and who has bettered 16 feet five times this year, bowed out at 15-0.

The lone double winner was Bob Hayes of Florida A&M. He won the 100-yard dash in 9.3 and the 200 in 20.8.

Don Nottebart Fashions No-Hitter For Colts

HOUSTON (AP)—Don Nottebart, a relatively unknown right-hander, has joined baseball's elite by pitching the first Houston Colt no-hitter against the Philadelphia Phillies.

A three-run homer by Howie Goss and a 4-for-4 night by Carl Warwick, who also homered, gave Nottebart his 4-1 victory Friday night.

It was the second no-hitter in the majors this year, coming six days after Sandy Koufax of Los Angeles pitched his against the San Francisco Giants. It was the first in which the hitless team has scored a run since July 1961, when Bob Feller of Cleveland no-hit Detroit, 2-1.

The only Philadelphia run resulted from an error by J. C. Hartman in the fifth inning, an unfortunate scratch on a perfect canvas.

It seemed important at the time, but not when Hartman let Don Demeter's bounce scot past him for a two-base error to open the fifth.

The Colts led at the time 1-0 on Warwick's homer in the first inning. With Demeter aboard the Phillies worked for their one run and got it. Clay Dalrymple bunted Demeter to third and he tagged and scored on Don Hoak's sacrifice fly.

That tied the game and for a time Nottebart seemed eligible for special recognition—the kind you get when you lose a no-hitter. But Goss homered with two on in the sixth, and after that much of the pressure was off.

Nottebart retired the last seven

Phillies in order, all routinely. In the ninth, the crowd was standing as Manager Harry Craft sent Bob Aspromonte to third as a defensive sub for Johnny Temple and the game played itself out, three flies to the infield and it was all over.

The victory was the 6-foot-2 Nottebart's fifth of the season against one defeat. It was, however, his first complete game of the year. "I had great stuff," said Nottebart, laughing. "I pitched a no-hitter, so I must have had."

SMU Completes Cage Schedule

DALLAS (AP)—SMU added Stamford, Iowa and Auburn Saturday to its basketball schedule for next season.

These teams replace Tulane, Minnesota and Tulsa.

Vanderbilt, LSU, Oklahoma, Oklahoma City, Northwestern and Georgia Tech are also on the schedule.

The 1963 squad will have six lettermen.

GRADUATION .. A TIME TO REMEMBER

By KATHLEEN DOZIER

When his classes are terminated this month, the high school senior will have completed what is probably the longest, continuous academic experience of his lifetime. Although a monotonous routine, his enforced education suddenly is seen in a new light.

The teachers, with whom he has associated almost daily for the past four years, are no longer the bane of his existence. An almost friendly relationship has been established during recent months. The drab and dreary schoolroom with its militant rows of chairs, books, chalk, erasers and hovering blackboard, bearing out the instructor's theories, now appears bright and warm with sunlight and knowledge. Even the giggling freshmen who invaded the halls last fall, have gained in stature and intelligence.

On the whole, the entire set-up isn't so bad, but there are other hurdles ahead, principally higher education, training in his chosen field and the final giant step into adult realms.

This is a gay, exciting time for the senior. In his privileged status, he is experiencing a happy, carefree existence. In recent weeks he has been involved in a marathon of engagements—sitting for the photographer, shopping and addressing and mailing invitations plus all the social activities. Counted among the latter and pictured on this page are senior prom and picnic scenes.

week's picnic for seniors. A three year letterman in baseball and in basketball, the young athlete personifies the average student.

YEAR BOOKS were distributed during the week, resulting in the usual onslaught of autographing. Here Mrs. L. H. Steward, a senior class sponsor and journalism teacher, signs the El Rodeo for Margaret Gary, art editor on the year book staff. Darla Moore, a member of the Corral staff, looks on. Mrs. Steward, to whom the book is dedicated, is the El Rodeo and Corral sponsor.

activities. In the foreground are Donald Bradford, vice president of his class, and Judy Jones, his date.

PICNICKING is fun no matter where it goes on. Flooding conditions in the city park area changed the picnic plans for seniors. Instead of the park, the gymnasium was where they thronged with sack lunches for picnicking. Cokes were provided for all by Student Council sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Don Green.

Graduation..Time To Remember At The Big Spring High School

How does he feel about finishing the 12-year stint in public school learning? Having mixed emotions now that graduation is at hand, he either takes a dim view of this milestone or is highly elated over a wonderful prospective future.

Upon the heels of May, filled with appointments, examinations, social events and commencement, a long hot summer stretches into fall. These months ahead are when he will catch up on outdoor sports or his loafing, while another plans to work or continue his education in classes at Howard County Junior College. Whatever his choice, each will be occupied.

ALMOST UNBELIEVABLE

Meanwhile, there are end-of-school details to attend to. Carolyn Hoover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hoover, 1612 Bluebird, hopes to finish addressing her invitations by this weekend. She says that graduation is almost unbelievable—but it must be true.

Particularly interested in business courses, principally shorthand and typing, Carolyn may continue in this field of study at HCJC next fall. She is a member of the National Honor Society and various school organizations. Her goal? Marriage is planned, but she desires to make use of her business education.

MUCH TO DO

Marie Neece, overjoyed with the forthcoming graduation, did fill her appointment with the photographer this week. However, she hasn't addressed her invitations nor shopped for a dress to wear to the senior ring dance. This semi-formal affair is slated for May 28, immediately following graduation exercises, at the HCJC S.U.B.

Marie's interest lies in education, so she will attend HCJC to begin preparation for a teaching career. Later she may go to West Texas State. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe F. Neece, 1020 Ridgeway Drive, Marie is considered an outstanding scholar with an above-average grade point. She has followed a well-rounded academic program in which she favored English and physical education. Her affiliations include the Latin Club, the Pep Squad and the girls' volleyball team.

NO TIME ON HANDS

Lately Charles Gray has had little time to spare, what with scholastic obligations, the senior activities and his work at a nearby market. The son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wright, Charles is happy about the prospective graduation, according to his mother. Throughout his high school years, he has been employed, beginning with a Herald paper route. His present job at Piggy Wiggy began as a sack boy. Now he is a checker and stock clerk.

Charles plans to continue his work throughout the summer and at the same time prepare for his new career. He has been accepted by the Airline Training School, Love Field, Dallas, where his in-training will commence in September.

Progress In The Science Of Storage

Today's designers of storage pieces won't accept the word of their elders. And, in a way, it's a good thing they don't. The "science" of storage planning has come a long way in recent years.

Grandma may have stored tablecloths and napkin rings. The modern homemaker stores place mats, slim candelabra and freiform bowls. Casual sports clothes have replaced the hoop and high hat. So have functional storage units in beautiful walnut replaced traditional, outmoded ones. Designers now are measuring the exact space taken by eight stacked shirts, four bulky sweaters, a dozen linen napkins, a portable television set.

One new collection designed by a young couple who are apartment dwellers and professional designers, reflects the emphasis on practicality. A handsome buffet with rounded edges has tambour doors curving at both ends, and room to store the eggnog set, the silver service, the vases.

A desk-divider for a room has neat compartments for typewriter and folders, small drawers for packets of stationery, larger compartments for ledgers and budget books.

Storage units for the bedroom are newly versatile. Bases or dressers may be topped by hutch arrangements. There may be compartments for hats and hatstands, narrow drawers for gloves or handkerchiefs, wide shelving for the bedroom TV set or the small second FM radio. Armoires are updated too. Some have adjustable shelves or rods. Use them for clothing. Or use them for bar units, linen closets, or sports gear.

Even buffet chests have taken our modern lives into account. Instead of straight shelves running across, some have curved, partly recessed or freiform shelves. The advantage? You can store decanters, candlesticks, tall beverage bottles and the giant peppermill along with shorter items.

WEBB WINDSOCK

By MARGE LYNCH

This has been a busy weekend for most of us with the Armed Forces Day show on Saturday, the formal dance that evening at the Officers' Club and numerous private parties.

Saturday evening before the dance, the 60th Pilot Training Squadron honored Maj. and Mrs. Charles H. Preston at a cocktail party at the Officers Club. Maj. Preston will leave us next week for an assignment in the Far East.

The Wing Wives met for an informal coffee May 9, at the home of Mrs. Wilson H. Banks, with Mrs. David M. Hodson as co-hostess. Fresh cantaloupe and strawberries, cinnamon rolls and coffee were served. Mrs. Charles A. Smith revealed that they were being transferred to Randolph AFB in June. A monthly bridge is in the planning stages for Wing Wives. Mrs. J. A. Nichols was welcomed to her first meeting.

Mrs. Larry Lydick and Mrs. Billy Gough were hostesses for a surprise baby shower given for Mrs. Philip Hayden May 10. Miss Cynthia, the new baby, received many lovely dresses. The centerpiece was a large baby bootie filled with gifts. Cake and punch were the refreshments for the evening.

A piano and organ recital by Mrs. James L. Manes and Jack Hendrix made delightful entertainment for the wives of the 60th Pilot Training Squadron. Hammer flight was hostess for the monthly meeting conducted by Mrs. Wayne Kunkel. The table featured roses, lace and silver, with strawberry shortcake to complete the picture. Guests included Mrs. Benjamin Meacham, Mrs. Lewis Vale and the wives of class 64-O, students of Hammer flight. Mrs. Elmer Wasservott, Mrs. Ralph Wetzel, and Mrs. Kenneth Robinson were the door prize winners.

Mrs. Paul J. Plucinsky was honored recently at a bridge luncheon at the home of Mrs. Jerry Welch. There were three tables of bridge and the luncheon consisted of fruit and vegetable salads, rolls, sherbet and cookies. Mrs. Plucinsky received a leather bound address book as a going away gift.

Most of the news from the M&S and CE Groups are transfers. Those scheduled to leave in June are Lt. Col. and Mrs. J. F. Rodzankas, retiring; Capt. and Mrs. Hendrick D. Mol, to Alaska; Capt. and Mrs. Robert W. Allen, to the Pacific area; Capt. and Mrs. Raymond A. Seaman, to Penn for study on a master's degree; and CWO Jack Kennedy, a remote assignment in Turkey. The newly elected officers of the group are chairman, Mrs. Loyd J. McNeil; co-chairman, Mrs. Richard E. Hardie; treasurer, Mrs. Bowden Hampton; telephone committee, Mrs. Joe D. Parker and Mrs. George R. King; spotter, Mrs. James M. Brown and reporter, Mrs. James L. Hudson Jr.

On May 7, at the home of Mrs. Richard O'Leary, the 331st Fighter Interceptor Sq., wives met for a coffee with Mrs. J. J. Rattle as cohostess. Mrs. Fred C. Mueller and Mrs. Ross F. Scott were welcomed to the group. Goodbyes were said to Mrs. Fred Greenberg and Mrs. R. W. Bomkamp. A coffee with an oriental touch was given by Mrs. John Summa and Mrs. K. C. Bruce for Mrs. Bomkamp, who will leave for Japan May 10. For the occasion the hostesses were attired in Japanese dress.

The Officers' Club was the scene for a bon voyage party for Mr. and Mrs. Fred Greenberg and Capt. and Mrs. R. W. Bomkamp, Saturday evening, May 11. There were also six newcomers present, the Fred C. Muellers, the Ross F. Scotts, Frank G. Smith and Howard L. Jones. Both of these men will be joined by their families soon.

Some reminders—the swimming pool at the Officers' Club will open today for the summer. It will be opened only on the weekends through the month of May. Hours on Saturday are from 9 a.m. until 8 p.m. and Sunday, 1 until 5 p.m. The Hi and Bye coffee is Thursday of this week at the Officers' Club.

Mother's Helpers

Leslie and James Lee Curbow are only temporarily distracted from the fascination of watching their mother sew. Little sister, Donna, who eats all sorts of things, may have a little trouble getting that zipper down. Standing in the background is Mrs. Curbow's silent partner, known only as "Sally."

And Sew It Goes, With Help From The Family

By JO BRIGHT

Mrs. Donald L. Curbow used to think she couldn't sew and watch three small children. With the possibility of hanging the little ones on hooks ruled out, she realized that to get any sewing done at all, she'd have to do it a stitch at a time. And so it goes, with any garment—a seam one day, and a hem the next—but the children aren't neglected.

Next to the sewing center in the home, is a work table where Curbow pursues the hobby of building fuel-driven airplane models. The one he is working on now is large enough to cover most of the table. The wing frames are covered with a thin blue gauze, chiffon, in fact. It originally was intended for a scarf, but when Curbow caught sight of it in his wife's sewing basket, he knew it was just what he needed. It's light and airy but will not tear easily as paper would.

Avidly watching these goings on in the family room are the children, James Lee, 4, Leslie Lorene, 2, and Donna LaRae, nine months. Donna's boundless energy provides the motor for her baby stroller which propels her about the house and into all sorts of things. She has recently acquired the unfortunate habit of eating ivy leaves.

Curbow graduated from high school in Hobart, Okla., and attended Howard Payne College in Brownwood. His wife is the former Bonnie Setliff of Robstown. She finished high school there and met her future husband when he visited his cousin, her boyfriend at the time. They were married in the Robstown First Methodist Church in 1958.

The family moved here from Brownwood, where Curbow had an insurance agency. With a father in the construction business, evidently a little of the lure of it rubbed off, for Curbow found the daily routine of selling insurance too tame for his liking. He is now employed by Parker and Parker Inc. of Odessa, and operates a hot-mix asphalt plant.

The canine member of the household is a dachshund named "Puddin.'" Until recently, there were two more dogs, a boxer and a hound. When the Curbows left home for the weekend, so did the dogs. They haven't been seen since.

Mr. and Mrs. Curbow are members of the Kentwood Methodist Church, which they serve as Methodist Youth Fellowship counselors. Their home is at 604 E. 23rd St.

Marriage Vows Are Pledged At Westbrook

Marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Faye Conaway and Stewart Deen Dickson Saturday evening at 7 o'clock in the Westbrook First Baptist Church. The Rev. Kenneth Adress of Big Spring officiated in the double ring service performed before an arch of greenery. Altar arrangements of gladioli and candles flanked the nuptial scene.

Mr. and Mrs. Otha Conaway, Westbrook, are parents of the bride, Dickson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Salma Q. Dickson, 980 E. 13th St., Colorado City.

A program of music included "Whither Thou Goest" and "Because," sung by Judy Ranne and Laverall Sullivan. Piano accompaniment was by Mrs. Charles Ranne.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a formal gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle designed and made by her mother. The fitted bodice extended into points at the waistline in the front and back, and the long tapered sleeves came to points over the wrists. A white tulle veil cascaded from a headpiece of matching lace accented with seed pearls, rhinestones and iridescents. The full, tiered skirt was of lace and tulle. She wore a detachable train of white satin and carried a bouquet of white roses with her mother's white Bible.

ing blue taffeta dresses, were Miss Sue Blakeney, niece of the bride, and Miss Wanda Whitehead of Westbrook.

Elizabeth Conaway, the bride's niece, of Fort Worth, and Linda Ranne of Westbrook were the flower girls. Serving as candlelighters were Gary Dickson, Corsicana, cousin of the bridegroom, and Mike Oglesby.

Attending the bridegroom were

Raye Conaway, brother of the bride, best man, and Dale Mathis, groomsmen, Colorado City. Ushers were Glenn Houck, San Angelo, and Jerry Bryant, Colorado City.

RECEPTION
Guests were received in the church hall where they were served from a refreshment table spread with white lace overlaying a blue cloth. The three-tiered cake, topped with bride and groom figurines, was served with frosted punch.

To Marry

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Nunley of Odessa, formerly of Big Spring, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Miss Sue Carol Nunley, to Billy J. Tolleson, son of Mrs. O. N. Malone of Herrleigh. Vows will be exchanged June 22 in the Northside Church of Christ, Odessa.

Those in the houseparty were Mrs. Jerry Alberts, Colorado City, who registered the guests, and Miss Rebecca Bird, Miss June Ritchey and Mrs. Lary Sullivan, who served at the table.

Guests attended from Abilene, Colorado City, Fort Worth, Big Spring, Midland, Frost, Corsicana and Lorraine.

WEDDING TRIP
The couple left afterward on a wedding trip to New Mexico. For travel the bride wore a navy blue suit with white accessories. Returning, the Dicksons will make their home at 1304 Ridgeroad in Big Spring.

The bride is a member of the graduating class at Westbrook High School. Dickson is employed by the Big Spring Police Department.

Polish-Off Tip
For streamlined polish removal, try pads pre-saturated with remover. Can't spill in use or in storage.

Division Meeting Attended

Cosden was represented at the Refining Division meeting of the American Petroleum Institute this week in Philadelphia. Making the trip were George Grimes, Jack Y. Smith, E. B. McCormick, G. K. Chadd and Ed Boullion.

Tommy and Patsy Willis are in Hobbs for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Haysley have as their guest, his brother, Spec. 5 George Haysley, who is on a 10-day leave from Fort Hood.

Mrs. Theo Earnest is convalescing at a Big Spring hospital following surgery.

Credit department personnel helped W. D. O'Donnell celebrate his birthday Friday.

W. W. Barbee is off for a week of fishing at Colorado City. He is accompanied by Joe Gunning.

J. T. Johnson spent several days at Possum Kingdom.

Credit Women At Thursday Event

Twenty two members of the Credit Women's Club welcomed Mrs. Ray Caudill as a new member when the group held a luncheon meeting Thursday at a local restaurant. Accepted for membership also, but not present, was Mrs. Joe Connelly.

Mrs. Jane Eubanks, vice president, announced that Mrs. J. B. Apple and Mrs. A. G. Eitzen had left to attend the convention in Galveston. Leaving today are Mrs. R. L. Nall and Miss Pyrie Bradshaw.

"Untapped Resources" was the program presented by Mrs. Lloyd Wooten, who also won the capsule prize.

One-Day Invitational Scheduled For Club

A round of sports and social events is scheduled for Tuesday when the Ladies Golf Association holds its annual One-Day Invitational Golf Tournament at the Big Spring Country Club. Heading the sports event will be Mrs. Jack Magee, golf chairman, with Mrs. Harrol Hall, Mrs. Bill Edwards and Mrs. Zolbie Boykin making arrangements for the social affairs. Mrs. Frank Sabatino is in charge of the invitations.

MRS. JACK MAGEE AND JERRY GREEN

Approximately 75 golfers are expected to participate, representing clubs of Midland, Odessa, San Angelo, Sweetwater, Andrews, Pecos, Monahans, Ozona, Big Lake, Lubbock, Abilene, Lamesa, Seminole, Kermit, Snyder and Webb Air Force Base.

The day will begin with a coffee to be served in the dining room of the club. A luncheon will be served at noon, and the day concluded with a cocktail hour when awards will be presented. Mrs. Sam Thurman is chairman of the trophy committee.

The tournament, scheduled for morning and afternoon, consists of five flights. There will be four 18-hole flights and one 9-hole flight played with handicaps. Mrs. G. F. Dillon of Big Spring is the defending champion.

Friday was a work-day at the club and everyone got into full swing in preparation for the event. A painting crew appeared on the scene early to renew the weather scarred patio furniture. At the pro-shop, Jerry Green, golf pro, and the LGA chairman, Mrs. Magee, reviewed last minute plans and had a look at the trophies which are to be given.

Shower Given For Mrs. G. Lackey

A pink and green motif was used for a stork shower given for Mrs. Gaston Lackey Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Ben Nix. Co-hostess was Mrs. Gerald Davidson.

About 20 were served from a table spread with a white lace cloth over pink. Pink flowers formed a center arrangement which was flanked by lighted tapers. Favors and napkins were in shades of green.

Fiftieth Anniversary Event Scheduled Today

Observing their 50th wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Harper will be the honored guests at an open house to be held this afternoon at Gorman. Hours will be from 3 until 5 o'clock in the First Baptist Church's Education Building.

Hosts for the event will be the couple's children, Mrs. La Dola Fleming of New York, Mrs. Nelda Foster of Abilene, Winston Harper of Big Spring and Dan Harper of Fort Worth.

Mrs. Harper was born three miles south of Desdemona, the eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Moorman. The farm where she was born later became the townsite of Jake Hamon.

Her husband, born north of De Leon in the Victor community, was the second son of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Harper. In 1905, he and his family moved to the Salem community near Desdemona not too many miles from the Moorman home.

The two did not meet until 1910, although they were practically neighbors. "Miss Nora," as she was called by her school pupils, reported that year for her first teaching job in the Salem community. It was one year later that Mr. Harper began his first teaching job at Hog Creek, the community in which "Miss Nora" lived. Their acquaintance eventually led to romance and marriage.

Their wedding took place in the home of the bride's parents May 19, 1913 with the Rev. Melvin Cox, pastor of the Desdemona Baptist Church, officiating.

Counted among the educators in the area, Mr. and Mrs. Harper have taught in schools at Salem, St. Joe, Oliver Springs, Hog Creek, Kokomo, Lebanon and in Comanche and McCulla counties.

The Harpers have resided in Gorman since 1915 except for 10 years' residence in Abilene where they moved so that their children could attend the colleges. During World War II, Harper closed his lumber business there and returned with his family to Gorman.

Members of the First Baptist Church, the Harpers have been active in its program of work through the years. He was ordained a deacon at the age of 21.

Mrs. Harper has served as teacher in the Sunday school classes and as president of the Women's Missionary Union. She has recently completed a quilt to be sent to a missionary in Africa.

Friends and relatives are invited to join the family during this afternoon's observance.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENT

Bride-Elect Honored At Evening Shower

A pre-nuptial shower complimented Miss Darla Sue Dunagan Saturday evening in the Blue Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Co. Building. Miss Dunagan, the bride-elect of Thomas E. Gilmore, Forsan, is to be married May 27.

Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. B. J. Petty, Mrs. Leo Parker, Mrs. W. E. Stockton, Mrs. Larry Shortes, Mrs. Jack McKinon, Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Don Johnson, Mrs. D. R. Bates, Mrs. Ross Hill, Mrs. Denver Yates, Mrs. Pearl Cauble and Mrs. Ray Shortes.

With the honoree, in the receiving line, were Mrs. True M. Dunagan, her mother, and Mrs. J. D. Gilmore, mother of the prospective bridegroom. Each received a corsage for the occasion.

Some 200 guests were served at the refreshment table which was spread with a white net skirted cloth and an underlay of yellow. The yellow and white motif, chosen by the bride, was also featured in the centerpiece which consisted of a miniature bride and groom placed beneath a yellow net umbrella. Appointments were of silver and milk glass.

Twenty or 30 years ago it was the general conception that planting or landscaping of a property could only be done in the spring months, but this has changed completely. Today, it is done all year long unless the frost is so deep that it is too difficult to plant, says the American Association of Nurserymen.

The methods of transplanting trees and shrubs from nurseries to home properties has changed considerably. The plants are kept in containers in the summer months so the home owner does not disturb the roots in transplanting to his property. Adequately balled and burlapped plants receive special care in the nursery for summer planting. Plant hormones also are widely used to enhance the growth of newly-set trees and shrubs.

So if you desire to plant this summer, go right ahead and do so, advises the nursery association, so long as you purchase from a source which has given the plants pre-planting treatment, or care for this purpose.

Many Shrubs Need No Care

Everyone, depending on his climate, has seen lovely forsythia, viburnums, hibiscus, oleanders, poinsettias growing and flourishing on home properties with very little, and often no care whatever. Many perfectly beautiful shrubs can be planted in the right places and then forgotten, says the American Association of Nurserymen, and yet produce striking flowers year after year.

Included are certain camellias, rhododendrons, azaleas and many others.

There are all kinds of such plants—daphne, magnolias, philadelphus, syringa, genista, skimmia, and innumerable others that may have delightful aromas, as well as beauty.

Shrubs that require no care can be found at any nursery, who will advise the home owner on this score. The secret of no "after care" usually is to "plant right" in the first place so the plant becomes well established at the start of its long career in supplying beauty to the home property.

Golden Anniversary Observance Slated

By LUCILLE PICKLE
Relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Hill are invited to join them today in celebrating the anniversary of their wedding which took place 50 years ago Saturday.

The Hills are hosts for a reception from 3 until 5 o'clock this afternoon in the Community Room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Building.

It was on May 13, 1913 that Miss Lillie B. Merrick became the bride of Henry G. Hill in a double wedding ceremony at which her cousin, the late Della Merrick, was married to John Dillard, former Judge S. A. Penix officiated for the vows which were repeated in the Community Building where church services, school classes and other meetings were held.

On this particular day, although the two couples were unaware of it, the County Singing Convention was scheduled at the all purpose building. To say there were many wedding guests would be the understatement of the month. There were so many people in the building they had to stand several deep, but the wedding came off in grand style.

WEDDING DRESS
For her wedding, young Miss Merrick (she was 18 years of age) chose a calf-length fine cotton embroidered frock with a shawl type collar, short sleeves and pleated skirt. Her hat was a thing of beauty, made of white chiffon and lace by Big Spring's finest milliner, Mrs. J. E. Moon.

Mrs. Hill came to Howard County from Callahan County in 1906 with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. K. Merrick who were farmers. Mr. Hill's parents, also farmers, came to the Moore Community from Oklahoma in 1907. Both families had 10 children and farmed across the road from each other a mile apart.

The young Miss Merrick, having completed her school work, took the Normal training which was held at the old Central Ward Building where the post office now stands. When she completed the tests, under the supervision of Professor Dees, her grade warranted a four year certificate for teaching primary work. Her first job at age 17, was at the Moore School where she taught two terms. During this time she also played the piano for church services for all denominations that met in the Community Building. When the teacher at the Center Point school, Miss Valerie Davis, left to marry Merton Garrett, Mrs. Hill finished out the term for her.

MR. AND MRS. HENRY G. HILL

MOVE FROM FARM
In 1928 when their daughter, Beatrice, reached high school age, the Hills thought it best to move in to town to be near the high school and bought a home at 1308 Johnson St. Mrs. Hill took up her church work in town at the First Christian Church and was pianist there for several years with her daughter assisting her when she needed help. She played the piano during the pastorates of Rev. Shurman, Rev. Lindley and Rev. Wingo. The former Mrs. L. A. (Jackie) Eubank was in charge of music for the church.

The Hills moved their family to a new home at 811 E. 13th St. in 1945 and have lived there since that time. He busies himself with managing the original Moore farm which is one mile north of the school house, and also three others which he has acquired through the years.

HERE FOR DAY

Miss McWilliams To Marry B. Overman

MISS McWILLIAMS

Miss Dana McWilliams of Lubbock will be married to Bobby Dees Overman Aug. 31 in Lubbock's Broadway Church of Christ. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. McWilliams, Lubbock, and Overman's parents are Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Overman Sr. of Stephenville, formerly of Big Spring.

A graduate of Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, and the Harris College of Nursing, the bride-elect is a member of Kappa Delta Sorority.

Overman, a graduate of Big Spring High School, attended Howard County Junior College. He is a senior in park management at Texas Tech in Lubbock.

MISS WOOD

Miss Frances Lenieu Wood, daughter of Mrs. G. H. Wood, 1500 Runnels, has been honored for her outstanding work in the field of language at Christian College for Women in Columbia, Mo., where she is a junior student.

She has been elected to Sigma Phi Gamma honorary language fraternity, in which members must have superior scholarships in either Spanish, French or German and have completed 10 hours of work in one of the three.

Chestnut Trees Are On The Way

Don't be too impatient for the new chestnut trees comparable to the American chestnut, the American Association of Nurserymen states. The new chestnut trees are on the way, but it may be several years before they are available to any great extent.

Home owners are advised to check with their nurseryman to be placed on a list to be among the first to receive the new trees when they finally become available. Tremendous demand for the trees is expected.

The majority of persons in the United States have never experienced the fine flavor of the American chestnut, which was just about wiped out by blight in the early 1900's. Only a few out of many millions of trees survived.

Summer Cooler

The skip-the-body silhouette is one of fashion's fads these days, but Harvey Berin likes to incorporate a little bit of definition to show off the figure and add to its femininity. In this sleeveless model, he puts across the idea by indenting the waistline and emphasizing it with the slightly higher line of the make-believe bolero. The bolero effect is in the front only, leaving an unbroken and slenderizing back view. To maintain the slight outward flare of the skirt, he suggests lining it to give it the necessary crispness. Linens, piques, novelty cottons, shantung, raw silk are all ideal. From these corresponding body measurements, select the size best for you.

Armed Services Day Rounds Out The Week

By NANCY FRANCO
 Yesterday, the people of Big Spring had the opportunity to tour Webb and inspect the planes and equipment on display for Armed Services Day. Here in West Texas, we don't think too much about the threat of war, yet the display yesterday indicated that the Air Force is prepared to defend our country. Why? After World War II, the use of air power demanded a strengthening of military forces in the States. For the first time in history, our isolated geographic position would no longer provide a suitable defense. The Air Force was assigned the task of maintaining forces to deter war and, if this failed, to have the capability of preventing destruction to the extent that sufficient force would remain to provide retaliatory strikes.

This then, is the reason that Webb exists. The men who are in pilot training here will expand our nation's ability to deter war by increasing the size of our professional ready force. The Fighter Squadron on base stands ready to protect the southern approach to the states from any aggressor. We, who are connected with the military, are proud of the facilities at Webb and we hope that yesterday's display helped everyone to understand better the mission and capabilities of our base.

After watching the air show yesterday from the base pavilion, Class 64-D had a Western party for the wives. The men decorated the pavilion with bales of hay and saddles, and served a delicious meal of barbecued beef, potato salad and baked beans. After dinner, the class members enjoyed dancing to records and everyone agreed that the men had planned a most delightful evening.

Tuesday evening, the wives of Class 64-F gathered at the home of Mrs. D. E. Hope for a combined baby shower honoring three class members who are expecting in June. The guests of honor were Mrs. L. G. Hodge, Mrs. A. J. Provoost and Mrs. J. P. Brown. The wives enjoyed doughnuts and lemonade while the mothers-to-be opened their gifts. Mrs. Ernest Provoost, who is visiting from Chicago Heights, Ill., also attended the shower for her daughter-in-law.

Lt. and Mrs. D. E. Hope were visited last weekend by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hope, from Loveland, Col.

Mrs. Willoughby Johnson, from Columbia, Mo., is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Lt. and Mrs. Ross Early. Mrs. Johnson arrived in Big Spring two weeks ago to see her new grandson, Jeffrey Allen, who was born on May 6. She plans to remain here until the end of the month.

Most Teen-Age Girls Make Same Mistakes

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — "Most girls in their teens make the same mistakes and have the same longings," Annette Funicello commented from the ripe age of 20. "Eating the wrong things is one of them."
"I try to be disciplined when I'm at home, but when I visited Italy, I fell in love with food. The pasta is out of this world and I had it three times a day—even for breakfast. I tried to diet, but the food was too tempting. I gained 20 pounds in three months. When I came home, I stopped eating. I went to work with an empty stomach. For lunch I had a salad and at night my family made me sit at the table with them, but I refused to eat. I was losing a pound have to touch them up to match the rest of your hair, the trouble begins. If you overlap, you may damage the hair.

Even when it's done by a professional, your hair is apt to become brittle. And if you let it grow out, it takes about six months before your natural color is back." Annette sighed. "I get steamed up every time I see kids going to school with their hair all streaked. There's plenty of time for them to dye their hair when they are older, can afford it and need a lift."

PASTY-LOOK

"Another mistake we make," Annette admitted, "is plastering our faces with make-up. It looks so ridiculous. These girls with Cleopatra eyes! They probably wait until they leave the house to put it on because their families do not approve. My mother could not convince me that it was not becoming to use gobs and gobs of make-up base. I wanted to wear it because I thought it made me look older, but I know now that it only made me look ridiculous."

a day, but at the end of two weeks I was in the hospital. I thought I was going to die. The pain was so awful. Don't ever think that the best way to lose weight is to stop eating. It was a crazy thing to do and I was lucky that it didn't kill me. You can go on a diet without starving and without being hungry. If you want to be thin, don't ruin your health by foolish dieting."

COLOR CHANGE

"Changing the color of their hair is another mistake. You can't go against nature too far and look well. Dyeing hair sounds so easy on the bottle. There's nothing to it just put it on and rinse it off. The first time you do it, it may look dreamy if you're lucky. But when the roots grow out and you

But you have to learn these things for yourself. It's a shame to rush into adulthood when there is such a long time for being grown-up.
"Don't go along with the trend without considering what is right for your face. I was fortunate in having lessons from a make-up man at Disney's studio. He told me to experiment until I found what was most becoming to me."

Italy Topic Of Program

An informal talk on Italy and installation of officers highlighted the year-end meeting of the Woman's Forum Friday in the home of Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr. Mrs. Wayne Vaughn and Mrs. Clyde Johnston were cosponsors.

Her trip to her father's birthplace in Italy was the subject of the talk by Mrs. Lucian Jones who has recently returned from a three-week tour accompanied by her father, Frank Testi, whose home is in Michigan.

Mrs. Jones related incidents of her plane trip and noted that she flew on five different airlines during the trip. After she and her father arrived in Milano they traveled by automobile some, but most transportation was by train between the crowded cities. The two travelers were guests of numerous members of their family and spent much of their time in Lama Mocogno. Mr. Testi's home town, and in the surrounding area where their relatives are farmers.

Touring in Florence, Mrs. Jones viewed the city from the Piazza Michelangelo which looks straight down on the city. The most dominating and impressive sight was the Piazza del Duomo with Santa Maria del Fiore built in Florentine-Gothic in the 13th and 14th century. Mrs. Jones said it is an incomparable creation.

MUSEUMS

Museums were of greatest interest: Here the travelers viewed works of Donatello and Michelangelo and were fascinated with the great beauty of the statues. At St. Mark's they saw the original of Michelangelo's "David," "Prisoners" and "Pieta di Palestrina."
In Rome the Americans spent much time in the Borghese gallery which is a treasure house of great masterpieces. Here they saw a statue of the sister of Napoleon and were most impressed by the fluidity of lines in the work.

The colosseum was another of the fascinating places Mrs. Jones and her father visited as well as the Basilica of St. Peter. They went to Pincio Park where the mausoleum of Caesar Augustus stands along with numerous other sights of historical interest.

In addition to the Italian stay the visitors spent time in Paris and Geneva and saw Mt. Blanca and the Matterhorn in the Alps.

INSTALLATION

Mrs. W. N. Norred conducted in installation for the officers for 1963-64. President is Mrs. Jack F. Johnson; vice president, Mrs. Jack Y. Smith; recording secretary, Mrs. Elvia McCrary; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Dwan Leonard; treasurer, Mrs. Escol Compton.

Committee chairmen and members are: yearbook, Mrs. Smith; Norred, home life; Mrs. Cecil McDonald, public affairs; Mrs. Clarence Percy, Texas heritage; Mrs. Leonard, council of international clubs; Mrs. Coker, federation councilor.

The club voted to join other Forum groups in continuing the annual luncheon.
Announcement was made of the Revolving Loan Fund that has been set up to assist vocational nursing students at Howard County Junior College.

Resignation of Mrs. Buel Fox from the club was accepted by the 18 attending.

Meet Madame President

MRS. ROBERT SHORT

A native of Greenville, N.C., Mrs. Robert Short is the president of the United Council of Church Women in Big Spring. She was married to Major Short April 27, 1945 in New Bern, N.C., and for the past 20 years she has been an officer in the Salvation Army. Mrs. Short was an active member of the UCCW in several communities before being sent to Big Spring by the Salvation Army in 1961. She is responsible for the women's work of the local Salvation Army post and acts as advisor for the Ladies Home League which spends its time working for others. Also, she gives each Tuesday to volunteer work at the VA Hospital. Her hobbies are ceramics and all kinds of hand work. The Shorts have no children.

Pierce-Faubion

The betrothal of Miss Lou Wanda Pierce and Danny Carl Faubion is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Pierce of Tarzan. Faubion is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Faubion of Talpa. July 6 has been set for the wedding at the Tarzan Baptist Church. Miss Pierce and her fiancé are freshmen at Howard Payne College.

'ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

The cactus plants that are growing in the city parkways at the intersections about town are really beginning to take on some beauty with their growth. The Spanish daggers have already bloomed and have great bunches of seed pods where the blooms once were and now the cholla appears to be about to burst into bloom as well as the ocotilla. The bear grass is full of the pretty creamy hued blossoms.

Word from Fort Worth is that DR. ARCH CARSON is making satisfactory progress at St. Joseph's Hospital (room 506). He was taken there last week when he suffered a detached retina while attending the Colonial Hills golf tournament. He may be able to avoid surgery if his present rate of convalescence continues.

MRS. D. D. DYER is a patient in Malone-Hogan Foundation Hospital where she underwent surgery Saturday.

Expected to arrive here today for a two week visit are the REV. and MRS. WARREN LEE WILBUR who have recently lived in Flinthill, Va. The couple will take a pastorate at the Grace Baptist Church in Fairfax, Va., after the five weeks vacation is terminated. Fairfax is 10 miles out of Washington, D. C.

The Wilburs have visited his parents in Miami, Okla. attended the Southern Baptist Convention in Kansas City and spent some time with friends in Fort Worth and Waco. They will be at the home of her parents, MR. and MRS. B. F. PETTY, 1502 Nolan, during their local visit. They will also spend some time in Midland with Mrs. Wilbur's brother and his family, the BENNETT PETTYS.

MRS. A. M. RUNYAN is in Corpus Christi with the HOWARD BURLESONS who came here to spend Mother's Day weekend. Mrs. Runyan accompanied them home. The Burlesons also visited their son, JIMMY, who remained here to finish the school year when the family moved to Corpus.

MRS. LUCIAN JONES learned a great number of things about Italy during her recent visit there, but the one thing that she learned very well was that in Italy it's very cold in April. All of her relatives with whom she visited were aghast that she didn't have on her "wools" (that's almost the equivalent for longies over here). She was a little sorry she didn't have some too. She removed her dress and slippers at night and put her pajamas over her clothes and piled on the cover, thereby managing to keep warm. She found out they just heat one of the kitchens and you're on your own after that. She has a gorgeous reproduction of the Mona Lisa which she bought in the museum homeplace of Leonardo di Vinci. Mrs. Jones says she never could figure it out, but every time she started out for a visit with other relatives someone always met her halfway. . . . and she wouldn't even know they knew she was coming.

Leaving Friday, MRS. WINNIFRED GREENLEES drove to New Orleans La., to join her cousin, MRS. DODIE FORCHHEIMER, for a week's vacation in Jamaica. They will leave tomorrow from New Orleans and fly to Montego Bay. Their time will be divided between Montego Bay and Ocho Rios. Before returning home, Mrs. Greenlees will visit her mother, MRS. JANE BOLLING in Mobile. On the return trip to Big Spring she will be accompanied by her daughter, WINNIE, a student at Loyola University, New Orleans, who plans to spend the summer here and work with her mother at the First National Bank.

Useful Hobby-Photography

A camera can be something more than a source of pleasure—it can be a practical instrument. Insurance Claims Photographs can help to support insurance claims in these situations: storm, flood and wind damage. You are probably insured against losses from these and other casualties. However, it helps in settling claims if you have pictures of your property as it was before the loss or damage occurred.

Fire loss. Your insurance agent has probably suggested that you keep a complete inventory of the items in your home. With a camera you can compile a complete inventory easier and faster. It can be invaluable in case of loss or damage by fire.

Automobile accidents. Suppose your car is damaged in an automobile accident in which you believe the other car was at fault. Naturally, you feel you have a claim against the other driver. However, he may disclaim responsibility. Snapshots taken at the scene of the accident before the cars are moved may help to support your claim.

Immaculate Heart Of Mary Club Reports

The Immaculate Heart of Mary Mothers' Club met in the school Thursday evening for the last business meeting of the present school term.

Officers for the new year are Mrs. Mary Alice Anderson, president; Mrs. Eugene Sieja, vice president; Mrs. Paul Della Rocco secretary; Mrs. James Alexander, treasurer; Mrs. C. A.

Amundson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. M. E. Rupel, reporter.

Mrs. George Aubry presented final plans for the benefit card party to be held at Cosden Country Club, May 24, at 7:30 p.m. Discussion was held concerning door prizes to be given and desserts to be served. Winners in the bridge marathon will be announced that night, also.

Mrs. G. D. Gingold discussed the "back to school" style show and luncheon to be presented early in August.

Sister Rose Claire expressed appreciation to all the members for their generosity and cooperation during the past school year. The meeting was adjourned with a prayer.

Duplicate Winners

The regular duplicate bridge session was held Friday afternoon at the Big Spring Country Club with nine tables in play.

Winners in the north-south position were Mrs. Glen Lingenfelter and Mrs. B. B. Badger, first; Mrs. Riley Foster and Mrs. Elvis McCrary, second; Mrs. Joe Herbert and Mrs. Hollis Webb, tied for third and fourth with Mrs. Fred Lurting and Mrs. Tom South.

Placing high in the east-west position were Mrs. E. L. Powell and Mrs. Elmo Wasson, first; Mrs. Gerald Harris and Mrs. Ladd Smith, second; Mrs. John Stone and Mrs. J. D. Robertson, third; and Mrs. Ward Hall and Mrs. E. O. Ellington, fourth.

Players were reminded that the sectional tournament will be held in Midland June 6-9.

McMichaels Are Bound For Italy

Mrs. G. D. Gingold discussed the "back to school" style show and luncheon to be presented early in August.

Sister Rose Claire expressed appreciation to all the members for their generosity and cooperation during the past school year. The meeting was adjourned with a prayer.

Mrs. McMichael is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Winterrowd, 805 Runnels. This is the fourth trip overseas for the McMichaels. The major was stationed for three years in Germany, two years in the embassy in Bangkok, Thailand, and was with SHAPE in Paris, France, for three years.

Ready For Sunday's Show

Annual Paint Horse Show Expects 100 Entries Today

The second annual Big Spring Paint Stock Horse Show is scheduled to get under way at the Horse Motel, one mile west of Big Spring, at 1 p.m. Sunday. About 100 horses are expected.

Kenneth Williams, secretary-treasurer of the show, said it was approved by the American Paint Stock Horse Association and the West Texas-New Mexico Paint Stock Horse Club. "We will have 21 classes for horses entering the halter and performance divisions," Williams said. "Under the adult performance will be Western pleasure, reining, pole bending, barrel racing, and calf roping. In the junior division will be Western pleasure, barrel racing and pole bending."

Weldon Johnson, Snyder, will be the judge, and he will decide awarding over $300 in trophies," Williams continued. "There will be 18 first place trophies, and ribbons will be awarded to the first six places in each class."

Williams said the show promised to draw the largest showing of paint stock horses west of Fort Worth. He said he had received a telephone call from a woman in Gunnison, Colo. who was sending five or six head of horses to arrive some time Saturday.

"We have also had telephone calls from Phoenix, Ariz.: from San Antonio, where two animals will leave Saturday; from a woman at Anson who is bringing a mare, for which she paid $5,000, and from all over Texas and Oklahoma," he said. "If we have as many as 60 entries we will have the biggest show ever held west of Fort Worth."

The public is invited.

VA Hospital Seeks Recruits For Junior Volunteer Posts

Career opportunities at the nation's hospitals are being brought into focus at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital where possibilities are being pointed out to Junior Volunteers now signing up for work this summer.

"Hospitals have far more jobs open to high school graduates than is generally realized," V. J. Belda, hospital director, said. "Hospitals need engineers, cooks, typists, maids, orderlies, nursing aides, librarians and technicians, among others."

By working in the hospital's Junior Volunteer program, high school students can find out requirements of career jobs with hospitals and find out earlier in life if they would like to continue with the work, he noted.

Administrative personnel are an important part of any hospital. Records must be maintained on patients, supplies ordered, insurance handled. All of this work requires trained personnel.

Housekeeping is essential to keep hospitals clean. Dietitians must prepare general and special menus. Laundry is a constant work area.

"Hospitals have jobs to meet many interests. They might well be called career centers for America's youth," Belda said.

Summer days are ideal for high school students to form an acquaintance with the hospital. Regular volunteers often find they must curtail their hours of service because of vacations and other special activities. The gap has been adequately filled in the past by Junior Volunteers.

Last year there were 105 high school students in the program, with more helping out occasionally. At least that many will be needed again, Mrs. Ara Cunningham, director of Voluntary Service, noted. Special interviews with prospective volunteers are being conducted at her office each Monday through Thursday between the hours of 3:30 p.m. and 5 p.m.

New volunteers will receive orientation June 3. Formal orientation with the hospital will be from 9-11:30 a.m., with a grand tour of the facility at 1 p.m. At this time the volunteers will receive further briefing from chiefs of the areas in which they will work.

Signing Up

Changing Economy To Be Theme Of Meeting

"Emphasis — Our Changing Economy" is to be the theme of the 15th annual meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, to be held in Wichita Falls May 24-25. Sessions will be at the Kemp Hotel.

The convention opens with a luncheon session at noon on the 24th, when Dr. L. V. Berkner, president, Graduate Research Center, Dallas, will speak on "Advanced Education and Educational Growth of the Southwest."

Agriculture topics are on the program Friday afternoon. John C. Lynn, legislative director for the American Farm Bureau, Washington, will speak on "Business Stake In A Healthy Agriculture," and there will be a panel presentation on "How Every Community May Share in the Newest Agriculture Development — Stock Feeding."

The WTCC's annual dinner event is at 7 p.m. on the 24th, when the speaker will be Donald I. Rogers, business and financial editor of the New York Herald-Tribune. He is to talk on "There Goes Free Enterprise."

Speakers and topics for the Saturday morning program:

"The Status of Your Business in Congress," Eugene F. Rinta, executive director, Council of State Chambers of Commerce, Washington. "What Are We Going to Do with All This Salt Water?," Joe

D. Carter, chairman, Texas Water Commission and Texas Water Pollution Control Board, Austin. "Tourism - All Its Potentials," is your business — your community prepared to share in new tourist business? — James M. Gaines, president, Texas Tourist Council, and president, Southland Industries, San Antonio.

A Saturday luncheon climaxes the convention. A host city for 1964 will be chosen, and new officers of the WTCC will be presented. Luncheon speaker will be J. Robert Welsh, president, Southwestern Electric Power Company, Shreveport, La. "Meeting the Competition for New Industries."

How You Benefit From Our Contact Lens Experience

Science has made great strides in the design, processing and fitting of CONTACT LENSES. Yet, they are made better by some laboratories and fitted better by some practitioners . . . those who have kept abreast of improved techniques and procedures by way of RESEARCH and EXPERIENCE. ■ Some have only recently begun to fit contact lenses, because so many people now want them. Most of these practitioners are using the latest fitting procedures in an effort to bring about perfection. But the proper fitting of contact lenses is aided greatly by knowledge acquired through persistent RESEARCH and EXPERIENCE. ■ TEXAS STATE OPTICAL has successfully fitted many thousands of patients with contact lenses. These are produced in our own contact lens laboratory where improvements in design and processing have been effected through RESEARCH and EXPERIENCE.

The practical application of this vast EXPERIENCE provides you with EXTRA ASSURANCE OF PRECISION-FITTED CONTACT LENSES. ■ Because we produce contact lenses in our own laboratory, our cost is greatly reduced. As a result, TSO patients get the benefit of a most reasonable price for contact lenses of unsurpassed quality. ■ Combine EXPERIENCE, KNOWLEDGE, and COMPETENCE with LOW COST and CONVENIENT CREDIT TERMS and you will realize how smart it is to consult a DOCTOR OF OPTOMETRY at TSO about CONTACT LENSES for YOU. Finest quality, precision-fitted TSO CONTACT LENSES are ONLY $65, complete with examination. BIFOCAL CONTACT LENSES ARE ALSO AVAILABLE AT REASONABLE COST. There are no finer CONTACT LENSES AVAILABLE ANYWHERE AT ANY PRICE.

Directed by: Dr. S. J. Rogers, Dr. N. Jay Rogers, Optometrists.

Idaho's Pair Lead Circuit

DENVER — Idaho's pair of top cowboys, Dean Oliver and guest Harry Charters Jr., today were still running neck and neck for pro rodeo's top money spot, after the 25th annual Tulsa, Okla., Stampede, a major rodeo which ended late Sunday.

Oliver, 33, from Boise, found himself with a narrow $158 edge—$10,674 to $10,516—on his 6-foot, 6-inch, 240-pound rival after finishing third in calf roping at the six-day contest. He earned $468.

Charters, 38, from Melba, came away from Tulsa empty-handed. He had gone ahead of Oliver, reigning world champion calf roper, the previous week.

Both men compete only in calf roping and steer wrestling. Last year's big money champion, Tom Nesmith, 28, Sulphur, La., who enters the same events, is running third this year in defense of his title, behind the Idahoans with $9,587.

Leaders in various events are: Saddle broncs — Guy Weeks, Abilene, Texas, $7,038, and Marty Wood, Bowness, Alta., Can., $6,633; bareback broncs — Don Mayo, Denver, Colo., $6,425, and John Hawkins, Twain Harte, Calif., $5,217; bull riding — Dickie Cox, McKinney, Texas, $6,878, and Howard Carroll, Draper, Utah, $5,621; calf roping — Oliver, $10,075 and Sonny Davis, Kenna, N.M., $9,446; steer wrestling — Jim Byrum, Waxahachie, Texas, $7,357, and C. R. Couchner, Burkburnett, Texas, $7,258.

A Devotional For The Day

God is light, and in him is no darkness at all. If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth. (1 John 1:5-6.) PRAYER: Dear Father, how dark our lives were before the light which is in Christ came into them! Whenever darkness deepens, may we who claim to be Thy children walk in the light. Renew in us that light which, shining out from us, may serve to guide other travelers safely home. For Jesus' sake. Amen. (From The 'Upper Room')

Mahon's Increasing Influence

Publications far from his own district recently have pointed up the rising influence, prestige and dependability of Congressman George Mahon. The Dallas News' Washington Bureau writer, Robert E. Baskin, recently sent in a dispatch citing the attrition in the historic seniority of the Texas delegation in Washington. The loss of Speaker Sam Rayburn was a big blow. Then Lyndon Johnson moved out of the activity of the Senate majority leadership. Then able Frank Icard of Wichita Falls stepped down, and another forceful man, Paul Kilday of San Antonio, moved to a federal appointive job. Now it appears that Rep. Homer Thornberry of Austin will leave his congressional seat for a federal judgeship, and the veteran Albert Thomas of Houston is announcing that he will retire at the end of the current term because of ill health. The News dispatch did not imply that there are not promising men who can take the places of these stalwarts, nor is there intent here to say that any man is indispensable. The simple political fact is that for years Texas had a potent, senior delegation which could not be overlooked in any matter of legislation. Complexities of the Congress being what they are, it takes time for any man, no matter what his capacities, to reach the point of outstanding influence. The News item cites that Rep. George Mahon is among those destined to help uphold the strength of the Texas group. He currently is No. 2 man on the House Appropriations Committee, and in the normal course of events can be expected to become its chairman, since the current chief is Rep. Clarence Cannon of Missouri, past his 84th birthday. Already chairman of the sub-committee on military appropriations—the group handling possibly the largest sum of public monies in the history of the world—

Congressman Mahon has proved his competence, his thorough understanding of national security needs, and his complete integrity on all matters affecting his tremendous job. Which leads to a reference to Congressman Mahon in another publication, the U.S. News and World Report in its issue of May 13. In an article discussing "Politics in Arms Business," the magazine quotes military, political and civilian leaders on the scheme of things which seems to be employed in handling various military contracts, installations and the like. Certainly any member of Congress is aware of the interests of his own district, and they cannot be faulted for putting in a word for same. Says U.S. News & World Report: "The most effective members of Congress are those who never get on a phone or come across the Potomac. These are men like Russell and Vinson of Georgia or Mahon of Texas or Ford of Michigan. They do jobs in Congress that are vital to the armed forces. When everything else is equal in a contract competition, you can bet that those fellows will have influence, though they may never have said a word." This is a reference of respect from those who have dealings with Rep. Mahon and others of his stature. His complete abhorrence of personal ostentation, his full refusal to negotiate in any way but in the full bright light are characteristics which have marked Rep. Mahon in Washington. His stature increases every day because of just these things.

Marquis Childs New Angles On Tax Reduction

WASHINGTON—At a dinner given by David Rockefeller of the Chase Manhattan Bank prior to the economic symposium of the American Bankers Association in February various southerners offered their private prophecies. One of these southerners, bolder than the others, predicted that by mid-1963, if not earlier, this country would be moving into a period of high prosperity to be sustained well into 1964 and perhaps beyond that. MARTIN R. GAINSBURGH, chief economist for the National Industrial Conference Board, which has been on the conservative side in these matters, said publicly the other day that the United States seems on its way to one of the longest peacetime recoveries on record. He said all signs point to a "greatly enhanced" atmosphere now is quite different from that of last winter. President Kennedy was hunting then that a downturn and even a recession was in prospect for the end of the year. While this could be ascribed in part to the effort to sell his tax reduction and reform program, the tone within the government was cautious if not downright gloomy. NATURALLY The changed atmosphere has put the tax program in a different light. An ever-increasing chorus is sounding the note that with the sharp business upturn tax reduction is no longer necessary as a stimulus to business. The comforting thesis is being advanced—comforting, that is, to business—that it will be enough simply to allow the taxes imposed in the Korean War to lapse. To let these taxes expire requires no action by Congress; since they must be renewed each year before June 30. INVOLVED WOULD be a reduction in a number of excise taxes, notably on whisky and cigarettes, and a drop of five percentage points in the corporate income tax from 52 to 47. The argument, as put forward by such able Republican members of the House Ways and Means Committee as Rep. Thomas Curtis of Missouri, is that such a reduction lifting anywhere from $3 to $4 billion of the current tax load can be done effortlessly. The tax on transportation would be removed along with other levies and this would be a boon to commuters in the lower tax brackets. BUT CHAIRMAN Wilbur Mills of Ways and Means has said a firm "no" to this and the Mills "no" is a negative that has an unquestionable and unchallengeable quality. His answer to the argument is that while substantial reductions in the Korean War taxes may be included in the tax bill it would be highly improper to lower the levies on whisky and cigarettes before relief was given to other elements in the economy. Next week for Chairman Mills comes the moment of truth. Under his direction the committee begins to take the decisions shaping the tax bill. He has told the leadership that he hopes to be able to send the bill to the floor of the House by mid-June, which is somewhat in advance of earlier predictions. THE SINGLE most important development pushing the recovery forward, Gainsburgh noted, is private investment in plant and equipment which is expected to rise throughout the year and well into '64. Expenditures for this purpose, moving up not in a boom but in a sustained advance, are expected at the year's end to be well above the rate for the first quarter. Here is a lesson in the mix of politics and economics that administration advocates of a tax reduction this year will not ignore. The tax bill passed by Congress last year—giving business a speed-up in depreciation on plant and equipment and an outright seven per cent investment credit—unquestionably contributed to the upturn. YET AT THIS TIME last year powerful opponents, notably Sen. Harry F. Byrd of the Senate Finance Committee, were saying that businessmen were not interested in the proposed changes and they were unnecessary. Part of the argument was that business had no need for new plant and equipment, since up to 15 per cent of capacity was unused. Yet the late Sen. Robert S. Kerr pulled the measure through the Senate. At the same time, consumer demand is rising and, in the gobbledygook of the economists, all the "attitudinal" indexes are up the second big year in motorists, '63 may pass '62. THE MOST POTENT argument for a tax cut despite the upturn is the one the President developed in the course of his love affair with the Committee for Economic Development—only by really expanding the economy will it be possible to melt down hard-core unemployment. For a continuing 5 1/2 to six per cent of men out of work is the large fly in the ointment of prosperity. (Copyright, 1963, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

J. A. Livingston Prosperity Pushed To Higher Plateau

It took nearly a year, but it finally happened. Industrial production got off its plateau. For ten months, the Federal Reserve Board index hovered between 119 and 120, and justified President Kennedy's impatience: The economy didn't gather vigor. Then in March, the index edged above 120. And now the statisticians of the Federal Reserve Board have raised the March figure to 121 and posted April at 122. Those two points above the previous high of 120 will convince many economists and business analysts that prosperity is in orbit. Confidence abounds. The National Association of Purchasing Agents recently reported that its members were more bullish than they have been in a year and a half. Business men meeting in New York and Washington heard expert investment statements about prospects. Actual investment spending—outlays on new plant and equipment—have tilted noticeably upward. This reaches beyond sentiment into checking accounts. It generates orders and jobs, and ultimately activity in Wall Street. Corporations will want to raise additional funds—through the sale of stock and bond issues. PEOPLE—YOU AND I—are in the same mood. "Good already and looking better" is the Gallup Poll summation of the public's attitude toward business across the country. But it's possible to have too much optimism—or too much money. George W. Mitchell, President Kennedy's only appointee to the Federal Reserve Board, has cautioned lenders against incaution. In so doing, it seems to me, he puts himself in a paradoxical position. "Pressures from a large supply of funds," Mitchell told the Mortgage Bankers Association of New York, "are being felt in virtually all credit areas. But nowhere do the effects seem more pronounced than in the mortgage field. "YIELDS AND RATES have been gradually declining for more than three years—the longest period of downward since the 1930's. Other lending fees and charges have also been under downward pressure. "Average loan-to-value ratios, loan amounts, and loan maturities have gradually increased. There is widespread suspicion—and some evidence—that credit standards have given ground, too. "This is a borrower's market. The supply of money exceeds demand. And Governor Mitchell notes that "when rates are declining" the mortgage lender is apt to "make riskier loans. DR. MITCHELL is not alone. William F. Kelly, president of the First Pennsylvania Banking & Trust Co., and president-designate of the American Bankers Association, has sounded similar warnings at talks to bankers. So has Charles E. Walker, executive vice president of the ABA. ON THE OTHER HAND, the dollar liabilities of companies which have gone into bankruptcy or receivership have been mounting steadily—a reflection of easy credit and the higher cost of starting a business. Foreclosures are also high. This undoubtedly is attributable to "inflation" hope. Many mortgages were underwritten during periods of rising prices. Suppose you did get over-extended. You could surely sell out at a profit. So why worry? Now that inflation has slackened many home-owners and mortgage-holders are worrying—with reason. One thing seems certain: If the production index is the tip-off, if prosperity ascends to a new and higher plateau, easy credit may not be here to stay. Demand for money will increase, interest rates may rise, and lenders will scrutinize loans and mortgages more carefully. THEN THE Federal Reserve will be confronted with another dilemma—whether to keep banks supplied with plenty of reserves to reinforce the economic expansion or to permit somewhat tighter money to rein in economic exuberance. The Reserve Board has a constant, but ever changing, boom-bust dilemma: When business is slack, to build it up to boom potential, and when it nears the potential, to halt it before it busts.

Department officials admit to the bottleneck, and have promised to do better. If they do, there is evidence that they are trying; the need for a Land Court, which will proliferate the bureaucracy and cost about $200,000 a year, may diminish. Around The Rim You Gotta Keep Up A Brave Front

Had a ride in that T-38 jet trainer, the sleek little plane that can fly faster than sound, and duly gave a recital to the effect that I have trouble, but... WELL, it was, but perhaps now we can get down to the unvarnished truth. FIRST OFF, was having lunch a little while before smoke-off with the guy who was to be at the controls, Captain Bob Daley. Now Bob is a personal friend, and I was feeling no qualms—well, not many—until he casually let it out that he had come in for a landing the day before, busted a strut on the aircraft, and blew a couple of tires. It was a special sort of short landing he was practicing, he said, and he had done everything by the book. WHAT I SAID: "Yeah, I suppose that wouldn't happen again in a million years." (What I thought: And this is the guy who's going to take me up in a few minutes? How can I get somebody to phone me that there's an emergency back at the shop?) A little later we were harnessing into all the stuff a jet pilot has to wear and we came to the parachute checkout. Nothing to it, said Daley. At a low altitude, this gimmick hooks to this wire. When we get higher, you simply change it over into the D-ring. If we should have to blow—it which we won't—the parachute does it all. WHAT I SAID: "Sure, I get it. As you wild blue boys say, no sweat." (What I thought: I have trouble, even opening a milk carton. How am I going to switch this thing, and which wire did he say for low altitude and which ring for height?) Then we climbed into the cockpit, and he showed me where to pull the emergency pins, and where to grab for the trigger in case we were to become sky-divers. What I said: "Affirmative, roger, and all that stuff. No problem back here." (What I thought: What's going to happen is, I am going to clutch the wrong trigger, or else the fool thing is not going to work. Wonder if it's still time to back out?) THEN BOB cautioned me about how to close the canopy. Hold it tautly, he said, with your thumb out, or when she comes down you could lose a thumb. What I said: "No trick to that. I got it." (What I thought: Gee, dam, I risk bungee up my thumb right now, so we'd have to abort the ride? Oh, well, I even want to keep my thumbs.) WELL, WE GOT OFF, principally because I was holding my breath to make the whole aircraft lighter. And it made—except for getting down. Then Bob's voice came on the inter-cop, elaborately casual, I thought: Would you look at the third dial down on the second row right, and see what it reads? It's labeled the fuel flow meter. I looked, and what I said: "It's reading zero." (What I thought: Ye gods, here it goes. We ain't getting any fuel to the engine. Which trigger is it I pull?) AND BOB came back: Mine's reading zero, too, but it's just a malfunction in the meter. We're getting the fuel. We're still going, aren't we? What I said: "Sure, old buddy. Let's go." (What I thought: Oh Lord, is there a level place down there, somewhere? We're on our way to a flameout, for sure.) So it was just a bad instrument. A little later, Bro. Daley said: We'll cut her off, and I'll show you a midair start. OK? WHAT I SAID: "Yeah, give me the treatment." (What I thought: Now that a stupa has done it for sure. We'll drop like a plummet.) But you know, the engine started? And we came on in, for a perfect landing. And when we got out, I paid my respects to Captain Daley: What I said: "That was a whale of a ride, and I enjoyed every minute of it, and your tops in my book." (What I thought: Honestly, I thought the very same thing!) —BOB WHIPKEY

David Lawrence Military Dictatorship In Making

WASHINGTON—Have the American people just given an example of how each of the 50 states of the union can be deprived of their sovereignty despite the explicit guarantee written into the Constitution? Has a precedent been established whereby the chief executive of the federal government may at any time in his discretion hereafter use military force or threaten to do so in order to coerce any state, county or city government to obey his decrees? THE ASKING of such questions is occasioned by the mobilization of federal military forces around Birmingham, Ala., following a series of tragic events in that city in the last few days. For when restrictions in the Constitution can be ignored by a President of the United States in order to carry out his personal concepts of what the behavior of state or city officials should be, the facts on which the people can base a judgment should be made available. ON MAY 8, President Kennedy was asked at his news conference about the use of the powers of the presidency in the Alabama situation. The stenographic transcript shows his reply as follows: "There isn't any federal statute that was involved in the last few days in Birmingham. I indicated the areas where the federal government had intervened in Birmingham—the matter of voting, the matter of dealing with education, other matters. On the specific question of the parades, that did not involve a federal statute." THE QUESTIONER started to ask about Negro students, and the President interrupted with the following comment: "As I indicated in my answer, that is the reason why Mr. Marshall (of the U. S. Department of Justice) is proceeding the way he does, and we have not

To Your Good Health Some Gall Bladders Difficult To X-Ray

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Two famous physicians, Dr. Warren Cole and the late Dr. Everts Graham, discovered that a certain dye (tetra-iodo-phenolphthalein) tended to concentrate in the mucous surfaces of the gall bladder. This dye also casts an X-ray shadow. Thus by giving a patient the dye, it frequently became possible to accumulate in a pattern which would show where the gall stones, if any, were. Surprisingly, a good outline could be obtained of a normal gall bladder, but not of one that was faulty or diseased. The dye, in the latter case, just did not concentrate there. Other dyes have since been developed and techniques have been improved, but the riddle of gall bladder X-ray remains. Thus when you write that two X-rays "showed nothing," I can interpret only the following possibilities. 1—You mean that nothing abnormal was found, and the gall bladder was a healthy without

Billy Graham
How can a Christian be "as wise as a serpent and as harmless as a dove," as the Bible suggests?
D. A. These words were spoken by our Lord when He sent His disciples out to preach. They carry much meaning to us today. We, as Christians, live in an alien and hostile atmosphere. The Bible teaches that the world is basically at enmity with God. But God places us here to be as light in spiritual darkness; as salt in a rotting society. That our witness be effective it must at all times be directed by love, tact and good judgment. God expects us to be very wise in sizing up our surroundings and their opportunities for Him. He expects us to be tactful in dealing with others. He expects us to use good judgment in deciding when and how we shall carry out our witness. There is such a thing as a misdirected zeal which barges in at times and places where we should keep silent. On the other hand there is a spiritual awareness which enables us to grasp opportunities when they come. The Christian who exhibits these qualities in his daily contacts will be used for God's glory, not only by the things he says and does but also by the things which he refrains from saying or doing. It is the Holy Spirit living in our hearts who gives us the spiritual qualities of love, tact, patience and good judgment.

Recorder Spiced Reports With Notes In The Margin

By SAM BLACKBURN

When was the first airplane ever seen in Big Spring?

The date was Nov. 20, 1911.

A debate which has been going on for more than two decades regarding this date can now be closed. Unimpeachable proof of the date has bobbed up in the most improbable of all places — on the margin of the official weather observation report for November, 1911.

When the Herald printed its Centennial Edition in 1949, an effort was made to establish the date of this important first. It was agreed the plane came here in 1911 but old timers did not agree on the exact day. The story as printed said it landed in Big Spring in August. No attempt to set the day was made. A man named W. E. Smith was quoted as the authority — he recalled the plane was here shortly before his first child was born and he "fixed" the month by this method.

WRONG

Well, Mr. Smith was wrong by a quarter of a year.

B. Reagan, who was Big Spring weather observer from the fading months of 1899 through 1922, methodically jotted a note along side his meteorological data for Nov. 20, 1911:

"First airship (sic) passed Big Spring — Fowler."

(Robert G. Fowler, an early day pilot on a cross-country pioneer flight, was at the controls of the first plane seen here.)

The appearance here for the Wright Brothers' great invention was deemed important enough to merit a mention but Reagan did not think the matter important enough to require additional comment.

More important to his mind was the drought which prevailed—only .18 inch rain fell that month. Cotton was selling at a dangerously low price. The weather observer wrote in the area on the official report labeled "remarks":

HARM BUSINESS
"Price of cotton so low as to seriously harm business."

This bitter review was a sad commentary on the story of 1911. The year had opened with much promise for Howard County. In February, Reagan wrote:

"Farmers say they have the finest season have had in years at this time of year."

March comment: "Splendid crop prospects." April: "Farmers claim best crop prospect at this time they have ever had in this county."

In May, the tenor of the report changed a little: "Farmers say crops not suffering for rain but it is the driest May in 12 years."

In July he noted the feed crop was good north of the T&P tracks but poor south. "Many cotton crops offer prospects of bale per acre," he gloated.

RAINED AGAIN

It rained again in August in much of the county and crops boomed. "Cotton opened 30 days earlier than ever before on this section," he observed in September, and added "crop fairly good."

The bottom dropped out of the price of cotton in the next month, and he commented "business is paralyzed." For the whole year, his observation was: "Total rainfall in 1911 was 14.88."

Reagan's faded records were brought to light by Grady Randel, the present weather observer at the U.S. Experiment Station. Apparently Howard County has had only three weather observers in the past 64 years. Reagan served faithfully through 1922, taking over the job in December, 1899. The late Fred Keating became observer in that year, holding the post until his death in 1938. Randel is the third man.

When Reagan first assumed his duties, the government contributed a rain gauge but he did not get one until the middle of December. It didn't get around to furnishing him with a thermometer until Jan. 14, 1902.

DILIGENT

However, the weather observer was a diligent worker despite his lack of equipment. He noted all sorts of meteorological data—lunar and solar halos "warm," "cold," "very cold," and over and over again, "sand storm." These varied — often in the old days the adjective was "very severe sand storm."

As in February, 1902 for example: "Sand storm (Feb. 26) lasted for about 15 hours. Wind blew a terrific gale from north-west. A great deal of time, one could not see across the street."

That same year in April, Reagan solemnly observed: "Very dry. Stock dying for want of grass."

However, things brightened as the year advanced, he happily noted in September: "Grass better than it has been in years. Feed stuff good. Cotton very good except where worms bothered."

The year 1905 won his praise: "Total rainfall for 1905—30.73 inches. Best crops in history of county. Cotton averaged about 3/4 bale an acre."

HOUSE DEMOLISHED

In 1906 in June, Reagan noted "severe storm 10 miles N.E. on 25th. Hail destroyed crops. One house entirely demolished."

In January, 1907, he was astonished by a development which was most uncommon here:

"The hot wave on the 16th caused drops of water to gather on all pieces of furniture in houses where doors and windows were closed as if they had been out in a heavy dew."

In 1908 cotton farmers ran into a new problem — cotton boll worms. The year started out great for agriculture — more land, Reagan noted, had been plowed for crops than in any other year. In April, he gleefully noted that rains "have put the farmers in fine condition." Despite a bad sand storm in May, he said "crops are in the best condition they have been for several years."

His notations in June and July were "fine crops." In August he tersely observed "cotton worm has done considerable damage."

SHORT COTTON

As the year ended, he summarized: "Short cotton in parts of county on account of boll worm . . . some cotton over bale to acre."

The next year, 1909, was a bad one. He records there were more than the usual number of sand storms — 10 in February, one continuing for five days. The spring was rated as "very dry."

"The people," he observed in April, "are disheartened."

In May, he noted "First part of the month numbers of cattle died because of no grass." Another cryptic notation for May 30 — "Cunningham Block burned." The record continues to be dotted with "sand storms" and "very bad sand storms."

In August he noted "some sections of it (the county) look like winter." To add to the misery of the farmers, cotton was selling for 13 cents. At the end of the year, however, he said that "the ground was in the best condition (due to heavy snows in December) it has been in several years." He added "This year 1909 almost complete failure in crops."

The next year, 1910, was even worse, the notations by Reagan indicate. Tersely from time to time he noted "No crops, no grass, no money . . . driest ever known here." Total rain that year was 7.22 inches.

The year of the first airplane followed — a good year with good crops and general prosperity.

In 1914 — the year World War I began abroad — Reagan wrote in September: "Best crop in six years but price of cotton ruinous to farmers and merchants alike." The following year he notes in September: "Cotton is selling for 11.50 to 12 cents per pound — good crops — fine grass." In 1916, things were looking a little better. Cotton going higher and in October "the price on streets was 19.75. Crop very short. Grass good."

TERRIBLE YEAR

Then came that terrible year—1917. By May, Reagan noted that no grass remained and that cattle were starving to death. He added succinctly, "County in hard shape." The same drab story continued through October. "Cattle dying — dust storms and sand storms are terrible." In December he wrote, "Driest year in history of this county." Total rain for the 12 months was 4.68 inches. A year later in March, he noted the sand storms are "awful."

"Many farmers," he added, "will leave if no rain falls in April." And in April he observed, "Farmers leaving county . . . no grass . . . nothing planted." Many good roads, he observed, are "impassable due to drifting sand." However, it began to rain as the year dragged to its end and in December, he wrote, "The ground is very wet. Roads almost impassable." And, showing that hope springs eternal in the hearts of men, he jubilantly reported, "Confidence of people for next year's crop great."

In October, 1919, he changed his report: "Too much rain . . . crops injured . . . cotton bringing 40 cents."

In 1920, things were bright and green again. In June he found, "Crops fine, grass good and stock fat." But again old Debil low price for cotton showed up that fall. "Low price of cotton ruining farmers and causing business stagnation," he sadly reported in November.

LEAVES

Then scrawled across the report for January, 1922, is the memo: "I leave for my new home at San Marcos tomorrow and have asked the U.S. Experiment Station to send report for Jan. 28, 29 and 30. Crops good, grass exceedingly fine."

Fred Keating, with the U.S. Experiment Station, took over as of that date. His reports are replete in meteorological data but lack the sidelights and personal observations which marked the records of Mr. Reagan.

B. REAGAN

Weather Observer Had Varied Career

B. REAGAN

Who was B. Reagan, alert weather observer who kept meteorological records for Big Spring for nearly a quarter of a century?

He was the father of Horace Reagan, local landowner and insurance man, and a pioneer school teacher who came here in the middle 1890's. He moved to Big Spring from Brownwood. His full name was Burney Reagan but he generally used only the initial "B."

He taught school for a few years, then bought a drug store which then occupied a part of the building now housing the Big Spring Hardware. He operated this store for several years, moving his location up the street to the present site of Masters Cafeteria. Ultimately, he sold out to Shine Phillips who with his partner operated Cunningham & Phillips in the building for many years.

His residence was at 411 Lancaster. He and his wife had five children. Paul, the eldest son, now lives near Fredericksburg, a retired mining engineer. Horace lives in Big Spring, operating an insurance office and carrying on ranching interests. Mrs. Seth Parsons, eldest of the daughters, lives in Las Vegas, Nev. Mrs. Tracy Smith, another daughter, is on the faculty of the University of Oklahoma. Lucille Reagan, the third daughter, became a missionary as a young woman and was sent to Nigeria in Africa. She contracted yellow fever there and died.

Reagan moved to San Marcos in 1922 but after two years was back in Big Spring. He served a hitch as Big Spring postmaster and once made a race, unsuccessful, for a seat in the Texas Senate.

He became associated with the First National Bank and continued to operate his various holdings until his death, at the age of 81 on Sept. 25, 1950.

His work as a weather observer was highly important in that it set in existence meteorological records of much value for the years from 1900 through 1922.

Chevy II Nova 400 6-Passenger Station Wagon

A Chevy II wagon looks this big when you load it up and this big when you gas it up

That, in the eyes of most Chevy II wagon owners, is just about the size of it.

A king-size appetite for cargo. But a dainty one for gas. And this, we hardly need add, is just the kind of wagon we planned it to be. Just the kind of wagon that makes loads of sense, too, these bright beckoning days when you feel the urge to pack up and make tracks.

Taut and trim as it is on the outside, we went to great lengths to keep it BIG where a wagon should be BIG. The load platform extends a full nine feet from the back of the front seat to the tip of the lowered tailgate. Try that on your surfboards, camping paraphernalia and what have you. And for all the pepper we packed into that 6-cylinder engine (you also have a choice of an even thrifter 4 in most models), we were careful to keep it simple, easy to service—and, as we say, a real stickler on fuel economy. From the way it nurses a gallon of regular, in fact, you'd almost think it makes its own.

Exams Are Slated For This Week

By BETTY CONGER

The excitement of school being out and wonderful vacations ahead are here and students and teachers are ready. The exam schedules were given out Monday. The first second and fifth period exams will be given Tuesday, May 21. The school buses will run at 3 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday, the third, fourth and sixth periods will be given. Buses will run at 2 p.m. on Wednesday.

Pre-registration was held Wednesday for the freshmen, sophomore and junior classes in regard to arranging the schedules for next year. Report cards will be mailed to the students the following week.

Baccalaureate service will be held Sunday, May 19, in the Forsan High School Auditorium at 8 p.m. The invocation will be given by Carl G. Lee, pastor of the Forsan Baptist Church. The baccalaureate service will be given by Darrell Flynn, minister of Forsan Church of Christ. The high school chorus will sing "I Believe" and "He," lead by Mrs. Delnor Post. The benediction will be given by J. W. Overton.

Eighth grade graduation will be held Monday, May 20, at 7 p.m. in the Forsan High School Auditorium. Susan Heideman is the highest ranking student from the Forsan eighth grade. Tommy Girdner is the highest ranking student from Elbow.

Presentation of the Citizenship awards will be given by Cliff Rutherford, vice president of Forsan Service Club. Presentation of the certificates will be given by Roy Stockstill, superintendent of schools.

High school commencement exercises will be held in the Forsan High School Auditorium Tuesday May 21, at 8 p.m. The invocation will be given by Rev. C. L. Jackson, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Forsan.

The salutatory address will be given by Glenna Ruth Box and Bonnie Sue Simpson will give the valedictory address. The commencement address will be presented by Dr. Theodore Nicksick, president of Ranger Junior College. Awards and scholarships will be presented by Mr. Roy Stockstill, superintendent of schools. Presentation of the Service Club awards will be given by Mr. Cliff Ferguson, president of the Forsan Service Club. Diplomas will be presented by Mr. Paul Lancaster, president of the Forsan school board.

George Graham Gets Degree

ABILENE — Hardin-Simmons University will confer the honorary Doctor of Laws degree on its executive vice president, George L. Graham, during 1963 commencement exercises May 27.

H-SU trustees voted unanimous approval Thursday, May 16, of a recommendation from a joint trustee-faculty committee that the degree be awarded. The faculty had given its unanimous endorsement to the proposal earlier, said Dr. Rupert N. Richardson, H-SU president emeritus, who submitted the recommendation from the special committee.

Graham will be honored for service to Hardin-Simmons, including more than a year as chief executive officer during the period the university was without a president.

Newspaper, Annual Editors Selected

Thursday, May 23, will mark the second year that Howard County Junior College graduates will wear caps and gowns to receive their certificates of graduation. The ceremonies will combine the baccalaureate and commencement at 8 p.m. in the college auditorium.

A reception for graduates and guests will follow immediately after the ceremonies in the student union building.

Valedictorian

Martha Day Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Johnson, Star Route, Stanton, has been named as valedictorian of the Stanton High School Class of 1963. Martha is the granddaughter of Mrs. Joe Millaway and Mrs. Vaule Johnson of Big Spring.

Huss To Finish At Omaha College

William H. Huss, 89A Ent. Big Spring, is among the 673 graduates at the 54th annual University of Omaha Commencement Monday, June 3. This is the largest class in OU's history, 123 more than the 550 graduates a year ago.

Dr. Wilfred E. Payne, retiring head of the OU humanities department and Regents Distinguished Professor, will give the Commencement address. His topic: "The Humanities."

Two honorary Doctor of Laws degrees will be awarded to Dr. Payne and Mr. J. J. Isaacson, executive director of Kas-Sar-Ben. Dr. William J. Grossman, pastor of the Central United Presbyterian Church of Omaha, will give the baccalaureate address Sunday, June 2.

Akins Enters Kappa Delta Phi

Wilson Akins Jr., a senior student in the Tulane University school of medicine, has been elected to membership of Kappa Delta Phi, oldest honorary leadership fraternity at Tulane.

Akins was cited for the following activities: Alpha Omega Alpha, honor medical scholastic society; Owl Club, medical school society; Omicron Delta Kappa, national honor leadership society; commanding officer, Pershing Rifles, honor Army Reserve Officers Training Corps drill team; and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, social fraternity.

Seniors Go To Colorado

By MARTHA BURROW

The seniors left Saturday morning at 6 a.m. for Colorado Springs, Colo., planning to return Thursday night. They will visit the Cave of the Winds, Royal Gorge, Seven Falls, and other points of interest in Colorado, returning by way of Red River. Miss Jane Laetsch, Mr. Roland Mullins and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Underwood accompanied the seniors.

The group also applied for a P.T.A. Scholarship of $100. The winner will be announced at graduation, May 28.

Other classes have taken end-of-school trips. The sophomore and junior classes took a trip Friday to Lake Thomas, and the eighth grade went to the Prude-Dude Ranch in the Davis Mountains.

Elections were held for president of next year's Pep Club. Doris Martin was elected with other officers Zeldia Bodine, vice president; Ruth Lemon, treasurer; Robbie Brown, social director; Don Nell Allred, head cheerleader.

Outstanding vocational agriculture students were announced at a Father-Son breakfast last Saturday. They are Tommy Pitts, Gary Green, Jimmie Schaefer, Keith Gray is sponsor.

Nine weeks tests will be given this week with next Monday and Tuesday used for checking in books and correcting papers. School will be dismissed Tuesday, May 28 with graduation that night at 8 p.m. in the Sands Auditorium.

Senior Graduate Finishes May 27

ABILENE — An Abilene Christian College senior from Big Spring, Mrs. Janace Marie Scott, is a candidate for degree at commencement exercises on May 27.

Mrs. Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Kirby of Big Spring, is a candidate for the B. S. degree in education. She is a 1959 graduate of Big Spring High School.

Colorado City High School Has 76 Grads

Commencement for the 76 graduating seniors of Colorado City High School is set for May 24, according to superintendent of schools, Frank Wilson. The graduation ceremonies will be held in the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. Dr. Gordon Bennett of McMurry College will speak.

Baccalaureate services will be held Sunday, May 19, at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Don Hairston, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hairston of Hermleigh, is valedictorian with an average of 95.74. Hairston also plays football, basketball and baseball, has served as president of the Student Council, and is active in school and honor societies. He plans to attend the University of Texas.

Miss Sue Holman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Holman of Colorado City, averaged 95.069 to trail Hairston by less than one grade point and is salutatorian. She has served as president of several organizations, including the Key Club, FHA and of her class, and is active in other student activities. She plans to go to Abilene Christian College following her graduation.

Future Farmers Of SHS Win Recognition In Meet

By CAROLYN SPRINGER

Baccalaureate services for the graduating seniors will be May 19, at 8 p.m. Rev. C. R. Mathis will be the speaker for the service.

Rev. J. R. Williams will voice the invocation while Rev. W. H. Uhlman will voice the benediction. There are thirty-six graduating seniors in the class of 1963.

The graduation exercises will be held on Saturday night, May 25.

The junior class honored the graduating seniors with a banquet at the Caravan Motor Hotel in Midland on May 11. The banquet theme was "Graduating Day." Tables were decorated with red carnations and greenery. There was a large bouquet at the head table.

Roger Boyce, junior class president, served as master of ceremonies. The invocation was given by Clinton Miller, and Mickey Allen gave the benediction. The class prayer was read by Kay Bryan. The class prophecy was presented by Ronald Hartsell. Delbert Downing was the speaker for the occasion which drew approximately 90 guests.

Two members of the Stanton P.F.A. chapter won district recognition at the District FFA meeting in Big Spring on May 19. Larry Maerrifield was named the District Star Farmer of the El Rancho FFA District. Rodney Robinson won the public speaking contest with the speech, "A Need for National Agriculture." Much honor is due those boys and also their sponsor, Mr. Nolan Parker. The Stanton Future Homemakers

Avery Falkner Wins Scholarship

ABILENE—Avery Falkner, senior art major at Abilene Christian College, has been awarded a Max Beckman Scholarship for a year of professional study at the Brooklyn Museum School of Art beginning in September.

The scholarship covers all tuition and fees for a year of advanced study and the recipient must study full-time under terms of the competitive award, according to Norman Whitefield, head of the Department of Art at Abilene Christian College.

Falkner will have a choice of workshop courses in painting and drawing with Rueben Tam, Mark Sarnenfeld and David Levine, sculpture with Toshio Odate, ceramics with George Kokis, and optional participation in the student forums and lectures by prominent figures in the art world.

Falkner expects to receive the bachelor of arts degree in August. He has won several "best in shows" at several local exhibits, but his most outstanding award is the Foley's of Houston Award in the recent 24th annual Texas Painting and Sculpture Exhibition. His painting "Within-Out" is currently on tour of the state with other winners.

Falkner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Avery Falkner of 708 W. 17th, Big Spring.

'Blue Hawaii' Carried Out At Junior-Senior Banquet Friday

By CAROLYN WILSON

The biggest excitement of this year was the Junior-Senior banquet held Friday night. The juniors honored the seniors with the banquet.

A theme of Blue Hawaii was well carried throughout the banquet. Vernon Long, junior, served as master of ceremonies and gave the welcome to guests present. A Hawaiian beach luau was given. Food was served on a grass matting on the gymnasium floor. After the welcome the junior class prophecy was presented by Shirleen Richters and Carolyn Wilson. The senior class presented their class will to the juniors. After this bit of amusement, "The Lancers" band of Big Spring provided the entertainment. The Rev. Kenneth Andress was guest speaker.

A special thanks is extended to the junior sponsors, Mrs. Paul Allen and Mr. Perry Moring, who made the banquet possible. Senior class sponsors for this year were Miss Janie Tucker, Mr. Gerald Oakes and Mr. Lael Roberts.

Another big to-do this week was the election of 1963-1964 class officers. The up and coming freshmen were the first to get their leaders decided upon. They are Troy Fraser, president; Mary McKinney, vice president; Regina Williams, secretary; Terry Lee Edeas, treasurer; and Donna Coates and Carolyn McHugh, student council representatives.

Eddie McHugh, president; DeWayne Allen, vice president; Shana Fryar, secretary; Leitha Mason, treasurer; and Sherilyn Robinson and Larry Newman, student council representatives.

Last but certainly not least, are the senior '63-'64 class officers: John Lowke, president; Janis Lilly, vice president; Beatrice Torres, secretary; Sandie Clanton, treasurer; Elaine Carpenter, reporter; and Carolyn Wilson and Shirleen Richters, student council representatives.

Thursday morning the senior class returned to school from their annual senior trip. The class had ventured to Corpus Christi and San

Morris Will Speak At Garden City

Baccalaureate and graduation services for Garden City High School will be held Friday night, May 24 at 8 p.m., in the Garden City High School Auditorium.

Dr. L. L. Morris, First Baptist Church, Midland will deliver the sermon. Mr. B. L. Murphy, superintendent of Garden City Schools, assisted by Mr. Bill Ballard, high school principal, will present diplomas to Margaret Jo Cook, valedictorian; Reta Hardy, salutatorian; Betty Jo Schraeder, Ritchie Reynolds, Richard Robinson, Hugh Bryant Schafer, Denny Cypert, and Wayne Low.

The seniors left Garden City Friday for the annual senior trip, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ballard. They traveled to San Antonio, and the Flying L Ranch near Bandera. They will return to Garden City on Tuesday.

Antonio for a very exciting and enjoyable trip. The group returned home late Wednesday afternoon. Everyone said they had a really enjoyable trip and tour. All senior sponsors accompanied the seniors.

Tuesday afternoon, after class officer nomination speeches the FHA organization met in the activity room to have a short meeting to plan their annual slumber party and summer trip. The FHA group leaves for Mo Ranch May 29-30. The slumber party date was set for June 14. Also in this meeting next year's FHA officers were nominated. Mrs. Paul Allen, sponsor, will see each nominee and discuss qualifications, and present final nominees before the group for elections.

Saturday the CHS band made a trip to Colorado City to enter into festivities of the annual Turn-blue Parade.

Congratulations to Douglas Earnest, who won a scholarship from the Cap Rock Electric Co. Douglas is a senior this year and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theo Earnest of Sand Springs. He entered into competition with students all over this area by writing a theme on the Cap Rock. There was one boy and one girl winner from this area.

Tonight in the high school auditorium the baccalaureate ceremonies will be held. The services begin at 8 p.m. with the Rev. H. B. Graves of the Coahoma Baptist Church as the guest speaker. The commencement exercises will also be in the high school auditorium and at 8 p.m. Paul Camp and John Ellen Ford, honored graduates will make initial speeches.

FHA Presents Pins To Chapter Mothers

By MARY NEWTON

Homemaking class meetings were held Friday. The program was "Fun Day." During the Executive Council meeting, the chapter mothers, Mrs. Eldon Cook, Mrs. E. L. Whately, Mrs. J. D. Jones, Mrs. A. B. Pyles, Mrs. Ruth Hampton, and Mrs. Charles Engle were presented with honorary membership pins.

The Runnels Jazz Band gave programs at the Lion's luncheon and the VA Hospital Thursday.

The student council voted to have the Awards Assembly Thursday, May 23. Awards will be given to the honor students top ten of each grade, perfect attendance, etc.

Following the assembly, the freshmen will have a picnic in Birdwell Park. They will return to the school for a sock-hop at 1:30.

The choir picnic date has been set for Saturday, May 25.

The sophomore student council representatives, Sarah Pike, Susie Engle and Sarah Smith, attended a meeting of the BSHS council Tuesday.

Mrs. Jean Warren has selected those to serve on the Round-Up staff next year. Barbara Davidson will be editor with Jan Campbell as Megaphone correspondent.

Other newcomers serving on the staff will be Terry White, Connie Thompson, Igarcia Mendoza, Cindy Maneely, Wanda Ball, Rejina McKinney, Linda Parras and Tynne Puckett.

Mrs. Jo Hill has selected next year's El Palomar staff. They are

THE FAST PACE OF LIFE

You'll find lots of people concerned about the tempo of life today. But most of them simply catch a breath when they can, and try to keep up with the pace.

There is something more important!

The winner trains . . . and plans his race. He may lag behind for a while, but he is confident of hidden resources. When others have burned up their energy and enthusiasm, he forges to the front. As they wilt in the home stretch, he sprints across the finish line.

The Church can help you train . . . and plan! A Christian is concerned with his own spiritual stamina rather than the fast pace of life. He is ready with hidden resources when the moment of challenge comes.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Drums Of Africa' Stars Pops Singer

There is a never ending fascination in adventure-dramas set amid the perils of Africa, with the cameras capturing, in color, close-ups of all the marvelous beasts native to veldt and jungle—elephants, crocodiles, monkeys, hipopotami, pythons and all the others. This is the background for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Drums of Africa."

The picture stars Frankie Avalon, one of the most popular of the country's young singers and recording stars.

Avalon plays a young Englishman who accompanies engineer Lloyd Bochner to Equatorial East Africa, where the latter has been engaged to plan a new route for a railway. The story is set at the turn of the century, a period in which Africa was rife with raiding slave traders.

At Edwardstown, boasting the only European trading post in the territory, Avalon and Bochner meet the white hunter Torin Thatcher and Mariette Hartley, daughter of a doctor who administered a jungle hospital and who has been brought up by the white hunter since her father's death.

When their lives are imperiled by the vicious traffickers in human life, these four people join forces in a series of adventures in which Miss Hartley is captured by slave traders and is ultimately rescued from the "Tambura Kanga" ("the womb of the world") in a climax in which the slavers are blown up and buried under tons of fallen earth.

The action of "Drums of Africa" includes such scenes as the destruction of a native village, the holocaust of a raging fire, the benets in attempting to flee the destruction of a native village, the murder of a native village by slave traders, and absorbing shots of the denizens of the jungle, such as that of a fatally wounded elephant which drowns itself in a stream.

Robin Estridge wrote the screen play of "Drums of Africa," based on a story by Arthur Hoerl and himself. The picture was directed by James B. Clark and was produced by Al Zimbalist and Philip N. Krasne.

A music score has been given the film by Johnny Mandel and Frankie Avalon sings "The River Love."

Greetings

Bob Hope and Lucille Ball get the message from a little leaguer in this scene from "Critic's Choice," comedy about a wife who writes a lousy play and her husband who must review it. The show begins at the Ritz today.

Bob, Lucy Have 'Choice' Roles

Brightening the screen with their brilliant comedy talents, Bob Hope and Lucille Ball star in "Critic's Choice," the laugh-loaded Warner Bros. film version of the hit Broadway play opening today at the Ritz Theatre.

is a veteran member of Hope's famous dedicated troupe of performers who regularly wander the world entertaining servicemen, was delighted to find herself on a Hollywood soundstage "with Bob and without a jungle, an ice floe or a GI in sight!"

Ball Rolls In Luxury

Lucille Ball literally "coops" herself up in what is probably Hollywood's most elegant portable dressing room.

When she arrived at Warner Bros. Studio to star in "Critic's Choice," the Lucy - everybody-loves made an impressive entrance with her 28-foot long, 12-foot wide portable dressing room.

Among its more modest features are peekaboo windows with flower boxes; ankle-deep emerald blue carpeting; chairs and sofas that stir memories of Buckingham Palace; mirrors that evoke images of the ballroom at Versailles; irrefragable gold cupid flying, leaping and occasionally just plain sitting around the walls; air conditioning if it's hot—its own heating system if it's chilly.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sunday, May 19, 1963 7-D

Lucy's Career Is Astonishing

One of the most astonishing women in show business stars opposite one of the most astonishing men in the business in "Critic's Choice." Co-starring with Bob Hope in the Technicolor-Panavision production, Lucille Ball has combined career, motherhood and business into what practically amounts to a one-woman industry since making her fabulous flight from the obscurity of a doubtful career as a New York model to Hollywood and television stardom and a respected position as one of the TV industry's most influential leaders.

As owner of Desilu Productions, the world's largest television film production empire, Lucille heads an organization that really began when she and Desi Arnaz first met on the RKO Studio lot in 1940. Now she owns RKO, and therein lies a remarkable success story—even for Hollywood.

Lucy was born in Jamestown, N. Y., the daughter of Desiree and Henry Ball. Her father, a mining engineer, died when Lucille was four. Her mother, a former concert pianist, her brother Fred and Lucy moved in with her grandfather.

She went to New York and enrolled in the famed John Murray Anderson Dramatic School. "No talent" was Anderson's verdict, tactfully writing Mrs. Ball to suggest her daughter would be better off in another line of work.

Disillusioned but undaunted, Lucy went for bread-and-butter jobs, working as office help, waitress, soda clerk and wholesale garment model. In between she managed to land chorus jobs with various Broadway musical productions, but she never got beyond the rehearsal stage.

Finally, an agent got Lucy a role as a showgirl in Samuel Goldwyn's "Baran Scandals" and Columbia Pictures signed her to a stock contract, leading to a succession of featured roles in "B" films. RKO picked up her contract following a small role in "Roberta." After a musical in which she had a lead closed before making it to Broadway, she returned to Hollywood and went into "Stage Door" and "Too Many Girls." It was during the filming of the latter that she met a young Cuban bandleader and bongo player, Desi.

The pair met again in New York and were married November 30, 1940, in Greenwich, Conn. The newlyweds returned to Hollywood where Lucy resumed her career in "The Big Street" and was well on the road to stardom. But Desi was on the road with his bongo drums, until MGM bought Lucille's contract and also signed Desi.

With the advent of World War II, Desi went into service and Lucy became one of Hollywood's top stars in films like "Easy to Wed."

When Desi returned from service, they resumed discussions on how best to combine their careers with marriage and raise a family.

About this time they got the idea of patterning a show after themselves, and in May, 1950, they formed Desilu Productions, and even though television was in comparative infancy, they confronted CBS with the prototype of the "I Love Lucy" show. The show became a bonanza for Desilu and one of the nation's all-time TV favorites.

The Arnaz grand plan worked with impressive precision: Lucie Desiree was born in 1951; Desi in 1953; a series of special one-hour shows succeeded the "I Love Lucy" shows in 1957; Desilu grew into a TV industry and purchased the RKO studio facilities in 1958; and in 1960 Lucille returned triumphantly to Broadway as the star of the hit musical comedy, "Wildcat."

The Arnazes dissolved their 20-year marriage in 1960. In November, 1961, Lucy married comedian Gary Morkin, whom she had met during her Broadway run.

She Can't Get Enough Acting

You would think if an actress spent the day emoting in an action-filled outdoor adventure-drama, her only idea of evening activity would be to go to bed.

Not so with Mariette Hartley, who co-stars in "Drums of Africa."

Not content with a heavy day's working schedule in front of the cameras, Miss Hartley barely took time out for dinner when she was off performing again.

In the evenings she stepped into a completely different atmosphere, acting at UCLA's extension theatre in the classical play, "Antigone."

MEN IN SERVICE

Three Big Spring Navy men were part of the contingent in the Pacific Ocean that assisted in the recovery operations of Astronaut Gordon Cooper last week.

James D. L. Phillips, seaman apprentice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest H. Phillips, 1201 Mulberry, Big Spring, is serving aboard the radar picket destroyer USS Frank Knox.

James I. Hicks, airman, son of Mrs. Gladys Jackson, 1231 W. 3rd St., and Tony P. Morris, seaman, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Morris, 502 Owens, both of Big Spring, were serving on the aircraft carrier USS Kearsarge.

Thirteen ships in the Pacific Recovery Force were patrolling five pre-planned recovery areas during the flight.

Navy Lieutenant (jg) John F. Westbrook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer S. Westbrook, 1100 Lamar, Big Spring, was designated a Naval aviator in ceremonies held at the Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Ellyson Field, Pensacola, Fla.

He is a recent graduate of the Naval Air Training Command's flight training program and is trained with Helicopter Training Squadron Eight at Ellyson Field.

LT. JOHN F. WESTBROOK

A graduate of the University of New Mexico, Albuquerque, Westbrook entered the Navy in August, 1960.

Major John W. Smith, Marion, Ohio, has retired from the Air Force after more than 20 years of active military service. Major Smith, who served as commander of the 20104 Communications Detachment prior to retirement, holds a command pilot rating. During his Air Force career, he has served as transport pilot, ferry pilot, bomber pilot and fighter pilot, and has been assigned duty in Europe, the Far East and the Far North.

The major is married to the former Lorena E. Clements, Stanton. Major Smith has accepted a pilot position with the Federal Aviation Agency and will reside in Fort Worth.

M. R. Felts, machinist's mate second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Felts, 813 Lorilla, took part in the 20th anniversary celebration of the destroyer USS Mullany in San Francisco, Calif., recently. The Mullany was commissioned during World War II and took part in several actions before it ended. She has made periodic cruises in the Pacific since that time.

Army Pfc Johnny G. Subia, whose wife Anita, lives at 611 N. Douglas, Big Spring, is participating with other members of the 3th Infantry Division (Mechanized), in Exercise Coulee Crest, a 15-day U.S. Army-Air Force Strike Command operation at Yakima Firing Center, Yakima, Wash., scheduled to end May 20.

Subia, an automatic rifleman in Company C of the 61st Infantry's 1st Battalion at Fort Carson, Colo., entered the Army in January, 1962, and completed basic training at the fort. The 23-year-old soldier, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Subia, 602 NW Seventh St., attended Big Spring High School.

Receives Honors

DENTON — Richard Meacham, Big Spring, received Air Science Academic Achievement honors at an Air Force ROTC Awards Day program Wednesday at North Texas State University. The son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Meacham, 12 Albrook, Meacham is a sophomore government major and a member of the Sabres, precision drill team, and Sigma Nu, national social fraternity.

Warns Of False Information On Social Security

Most writers of privately published books and pamphlets about social security make sure that their materials are technically accurate and up-to-date. But, said Erven Fisher, Social Security district manager, a few private publications now in circulation contain information which could mislead those who rely on it.

Fisher cited a book which is being widely publicized throughout the country, in magazine and newspaper advertisements, on the radio, and through the mail, as containing exclusive information and tips on "how to get twice as much social security." Actually, the book does not tell the reader anything basic about the social security law that he would not find in the free booklets available at his social security office. Some of the advice might place a person in a worse, rather than a better financial position.

Scouts Urged To Sign For Big Jamboree

Boy Scouts in the Lone Star District have been reminded again by D. D. Johnston and Carl Campbell, co-chairmen of the camping and activities committee, to make reservations for next year's national jamboree.

The big event will take place at Valley Forge, Pa. in July of 1964. Plans are to charter two big buses to transport the 111 men and boys who are allowed the Buffalo Trail Council. Registrations are on a first-come, first-served basis.

It is estimated that the three-week outing will cost upward of $300, which includes all transportation, lodgings, food and miscellaneous expense. The buses will go through the Lincoln county going up, swing to Chicago, Detroit, into Canada, to Niagara Falls, New York, Philadelphia and Valley Forge.

Initial reservations should be made by June 1 by placing a $25 deposit. Subsequent payments will be made at regular intervals, and refunds can be made for those who find by the first of next year they will be unable to go.

REV. ROY J. FISH

Former Pastor At Salem Baptist Gets Doctorate

Rev. Roy J. Fish, former pastor of Salem Baptist Church in Big Spring from 1953-1957, received the doctor of theology degree from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary Friday at spring commencement.

Dr. Fish, son of C. W. Fish, Abilene, is pastor of First Baptist Church, Fairborn, Ohio. He received the B. A. degree from University of Arkansas in 1952, and the B. D. degree from Southwestern.

He has served as pastor of churches throughout Texas and Arkansas before going to Ohio.

Luft Stuck For Child Support

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former producer Sid Luft, who claims he is living on borrowed money, must pay $300 in monthly child support to his ex-wife, actress Lynn Bari.

Superior Court Thursday ordered Luft to make the payments for six months, at which time a new hearing will be held to examine Luft's financial situation.

Miss Bari, 42, appealed for an increase in child support for her 14-year-old son, John. The actress was divorced from Luft in 1959 and won custody of the boy in 1958.

Luft, 46, was originally ordered to pay $75 a month, plus extra expenses. Miss Bari testified he had made no payments since 1959.

Luft said he had borrowed $32,

000 to promote research development companies. The actress is married to a Beverly hills psychiatrist. Luft is now married to actress Judy Garland.
