PREVIOUSLY UNCLIMBED SOUTH SIDE IS SCALED

American Teams Cross Everest, Establish Records

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—Two American teams scaled Mt. Everest from different sides today, missed each other at the exact peak but staged a dramatic meeting at the slightly lower south summit.

It was the first such encounter in history and the first time any nation had four of its citizens atop the mountain on any one day.

Expedition leader Norman R. Dyhrenfurth, Santa Monica, Calif., said Barry C. Bishop, Washington, D.C., and Luther G. Jerstad, Eugene, Ore., got to the top via the traditional south col.

He said they looked for William F. Unsoeld, Corvallis, Ore., and Thomas F. Hornbein, San Diego, Calif., who were struggling up the hitherto unconquered west ridge of the 29,028-foot mountain.

When they didn't see them at once, they started down the way they had come. Then, Dyhrenfurth said, they discovered that Unsoeld and Hornbein had made it to the top and also started down the southern route.

They waited for the other two and had their reunion at the south summit before going on down together.

Unsoeld and Hornbein had, thereby, made the first traverse of Everest in history.

The four, said Dyhrenfurth, bivouaced outdoors because they could not find Camp 6 in the dark. They were without sleeping bags, tents and probably without oxygen.

Houston Readies A Ticker Tape Parade For Its Hero

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Astronaut Gordon Cooper was returning home today and Houston readied a ticker tape parade to welcome America's newest space hero.

Cooper, his wife Trudy and daughters Camala, 14, and Janita, 13, were due to reach Houston's International Airport at 7:30 p.m. (Central Standard Time).

Mayor Lewis Cutler will greet Cooper at the airport. Mrs. Cooper will present flowers to Mrs. Cooper. Then police will escort the party to Sam Houston Coliseum, where the parade will begin.

On the way here this morning Cooper received the final flourishes of his East Coast visit at New Jersey's Newark Airport, where his party boarded three planes after motoring from New York.

A crowd of between 3,000 and 4,000, led by Gov. Richard J. Hughes, were on hand to salute Cooper and his family.

Hughes presented the Oklahoma-born spaceman with a plaque. Cooper again gave credit for his successful space flight to the rest of the Project Mercury team.

"I thank you for all the tributes," he said. "Not just to me but to all of us."

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, Gov. John Connally and members of the Texas congressional delegation were invited to take part in the parade, the fifth for Cooper since he completed his 34-hour space flight last Thursday.

Johnson sent word he would be unable to attend. He will speak at the President's birthday party in New York City tonight.

Eyes On The Moon

The 36-year-old Air Force major made one of the shortest acceptance speeches in memory:

"I don't generally say very much. I'm so impressed that today I'm going to say even less. On behalf of myself and the entire Mercury team, I want to thank you very much."

His words delighted the audience, which included former President Herbert Hoover.

Cooper sat in the back of a limousine leading the 15-minute parade. Beside him was his wife, Vice President Johnson rode with the couple.

In the third car was the astronaut's mother, Hattie Cooper. Cooper's daughters rode in the fourth car.

At City Hall, Mayor Robert F. Wagner told Cooper: "New York goes for you in a very big way. America owes much to you, to each and all of you, in bringing closer the day when man will reach the moon."

Cooper responded: "I'm certainly very impressed. I never dreamed that I would find myself at a reception like this. Thank you for turning out and paying us this tremendous honor. I thank you for all of us from the bottom of my heart."

The 600 seniors were jubilant when they learned the presidential banquet was moving out for the prom.

The principal, students and student-faculty adviser all sent telegrams to the President thanking him for his kindness and inviting him to the prom.

Connally Disappointed Over Education Funds

No Dumping Of Wheat Is U. S. Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has given Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman special power to prevent dumping of American wheat on world markets if the U.S. price on next year's crop plummets, as Kennedy has predicted.

The White House announced today that Kennedy signed Wednesday night and executive order granting Freeman broad authority to deal with possible dumping under the provisions of the International Wheat Agreement Act.

The President moved after the wheat growers voted Tuesday to reject a program of strict production controls and high price supports.

Unless new legislation is enacted, farmers will be permitted to grow unlimited quantities of wheat in 1964 but without any government supported price floor.

Kennedy has forecast that as a result the price of wheat will drop from the current level of about $2 a bushel to $1.10. Should this happen, American prices would drop below the world level of $1.45 to $1.50—and if action weren't taken—American wheat might glut foreign markets.

At his news conference Wednesday Kennedy said he thinks the farmers who voted to reject his wheat program have let themselves in for smaller incomes and larger surpluses. And he expressed a belief that they may change their minds next year and vote for controls.

Kennedy Saves Senior Prom

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—President Kennedy is invited to an $18-a-couple high school senior prom which was almost displaced by a $1,000-a-couple Democratic banquet in his honor.

The President's impending visit to Southern California coincided with the prom planned for June 7 by the senior class of John Burroughs High School of Burbank.

Southern California Democrats wanted the Beverly Hilton Hotel's grand ballroom, which the youngsters had reserved a year before. The class of '63 was told to go elsewhere — until President Kennedy intervened on its behalf.

"I just heard about it a few minutes before I came here," he told his Washington news conference Wednesday. He explained that if the seniors couldn't be taken care of, "we will postpone our dinner and I will come out on some other occasion."

The 600 seniors were jubilant when they learned the presidential banquet was moving out for the prom.

The principal, students and student-faculty adviser all sent telegrams to the President thanking him for his kindness and inviting him to the prom.

Last Mercury Space Flight

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. space officials have locked the door against any more Project Mercury space flights—but have left the key handy just in case.

The next space project is Gemini—two-man flights.

The case went to the jury Wednesday.

Dist. Judge H. A. Coe delivered his charge and lawyers presented arguments Wednesday. The state demanded the death penalty.

The jurors retired to start weighing their decision at 2:45 p. m. they returned to ask the court an undisclosed question at 4:40 p. m. Coe replied that under the law he could not answer.

The defense gave notice of appeal.

Prices Slip In Sluggish Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Prices slipped slightly in a sluggish stock market early this afternoon.

Changes of key issues were mostly fractional.

The market opened a little higher, then deteriorated.

However, brokers felt the trend was still upward although there may be considerable churning before a further approach to new highs.

The rails presented one of the brighter pictures among the blocs. Steels and motors were off.

Although sugar prices were up for the 14th time, most sugar issues declined on profit taking.

Children Back In School, New Birmingham Regime

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A federal court order sent a thousand Negro children back to school today and a state court ruling gave this racially beleaguered city a new government.

The Negro pupils, ousted for antisegregation marches, returned to classes under an appellate judge's ruling that reversed a Birmingham district court judge.

Fast-breaking legal developments then produced an Alabama Supreme Court decision which put newly elected Mayor Albert Boutwell, a comparative moderate, and nine councilmen in charge of the city's government.

The state tribunal upheld a lower court and said a change-of-government special election superseded any title to office by veteran Police Commissioner Eugene Connor, an archsegregationist, and two other commissioners.

School Supt. Theo Wright said the 1,061 pupils were being reinstated immediately in compliance with the decision rendered on Wednesday night by Judge Elbert P. Tuttle of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

School board attorney Reid Barnes said he would press for a new hearing on Tuttle's decision.

News of Tuttle's decision set off wild celebrations at a mass meeting and integration leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said his position had been vindicated.

School board members held a night meeting but made no immediate comment.

The legal developments unfolded as President Kennedy announced in a Washington news conference that his administration is considering new civil rights legislation. He said a search is on for a legal outlet, other than demonstrations, in racial problems.

VOICES OF HOPE
Kennedy voiced hope that federal marshals or troops would not be needed when a Negro student attempt to enroll next month at the University of Alabama. About 3,000 soldiers are standing by at two Alabama bases under the President's orders.

Shortly afterward, Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama said at a Huntsville news conference, "The President has no right to threaten or send troops."

Wallace, who pledged Tuesday to bar personally any Negro at the university, told newsmen: "I have a right to do that which I'm going to do."

He called it "testing," not defiance of federal authority.

Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers, the only state official who has criticized Wallace, reiterated that the governor's intention might touch off violence. He said further racial trouble "could wreck the state's economy."

OTHER ITEMS
In other developments: Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas said Wallace stands little chance of keeping the state university segregated. "It's not an optimistic situation," said Faubus, who tried to block desegregation of Little Rock schools in 1957.

Directors of the Alabama Chamber of Commerce asked the state's businessmen to give leadership in solving racial issues.

A legislative committee approved a $250,000 emergency appropriation for the Alabama Highway Patrol. The state has about 700 officers among nearly 1,300 on call in the Birmingham area.

Vigorous opposition to legislation extending the life of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission was sounded by Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala.

Troops May Be Used At Alabama U.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has made it clear he will use U.S. troops and marshals if needed next month to crack racial barriers at the University of Alabama.

But he voiced hope at his news conference Wednesday that Alabama's segregationist Gov. George Wallace would back away from the threatened federal-state collision by heeding court orders to integrate the school.

A federal court at Birmingham told the university Tuesday it must admit two Negroes June 10—one at the main campus at Tuscaloosa, the other at the Huntsville branch.

BAR ENTRANCE

Wallace has declared that he personally "will be present to bar the entrance of any Negro who attempts to enroll. This is legal resistance and legal defiance."

Alabama is the only state with all its public schools still segregated.

In his news conference that ranged from flights to space to his trip to Rome, Kennedy also discussed another facet of the civil rights problem: The recent outbursts of racial violence at Birmingham, Ala.

The President said he will decide in the next few days whether to propose additional civil rights legislation. He did not go into details, but a Justice Department spokesman said any additional proposals would be in the fields of education and public accommodations.

The Birmingham situation prompted Kennedy on May 12 to order 3,000 troops into Alabama military bases — so they would be

Several Bills Move

AUSTIN (AP)—Senators approved on voice vote Wednesday a congressional redistricting measure. It would give Dallas a second congressman and leave the state's other districts little changed. The House must accept Senate changes or ask for a conference committee.

Passage of the redistricting measure broke 20 hours of filibuster.

The House had agreed to place U. S. Reps. Wright Patman of Texas and Ray Roberts of McKinney in the same district and create a new district in South Texas.

Rep. John Allen of Longview protested a bill which he said put members of the legislature under the state retirement act "without anybody knowing it." He and about 30 other members asked Connally to veto the bill, already passed in both houses.

The Senate adopted a conference committee report on a measure revising the Texas criminal laws and removing the attorney general from 16 state boards and commissions.

Standard Pushes Point Firm's In Fuel Business

HOUSTON (AP) — Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey officials say the globe-girdling company is in the petroleum energy business—first, foremost and always.

This theme was struck hard Wednesday by Jersey Standard chiefs in reporting to more than 3,000 shareholders at the company annual meeting.

Represented at the Houston session were 181,416,420 shares of stock, about 84 per cent of the outstanding shares.

"The main stream of Jersey's business is, and always will be, of course, the petroleum energy business, as we have known it in the past," Chairman M. S. Rathbone said.

"But the petroleum business in the future will be a newer, broader, more diversified business in many ways."

M. L. Haider, president, evaluated the long-range outlook for nearby should they be needed to quell any disturbances in Birmingham.

SUIT WELCOMED

Wallace challenged the President's authority on the troop move in a suit filed Saturday with the U. S. Supreme Court. Kennedy said he welcomed the governor's court suit, declaring, "This is where these disputes should be settled."

"I would hope," he said, "that the fact that the governor has chosen to carry out our dispute in the courts indicates that in the final analysis, he will accept the judgment of the court in the cases coming up in June—the enrollment of the two Negro students in the university. The Justice Department had expressed this view for the administration last Saturday."

Speaking of the possible use of marshals or troops if Wallace should attempt to fight the court order, Kennedy said:

"I would be very reluctant to see us reach that point. But I am obligated to carry out the court order. There is no choice in the matter. These decisions must be enforced. Everyone understands that."

WON'T MOVE

On other topics Kennedy said: "We are not going to move" on the question of on-site inspection of a possible nuclear test ban until the Soviets talk about other, less sticky points involved.

The United States hopes to withdraw some troops from South Vietnam by the end of the year but would act quicker should the Vietnamese government request a broader withdrawal—as one of its officials has proposed.

It is "completely untrue" that the United States is preparing to give up the Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba.

Intelligence sources report no buildup of Soviet personnel or equipment in Cuba in recent months.

The United States, so far as Kennedy knows, is not providing arms or economic aid to any Cuban exile group at the present time.

Project Mercury astronauts are lobbying for one more multi-orbit space flight and the question will be decided in the next few weeks.

Project Mercury astronauts are lobbying for one more multi-orbit space flight and the question will be decided in the next few weeks.

Kennedy definitely hopes to see the ailing Pope John XXIII on his trip to Italy next month.

TARIFF CUTS

Negotiating tariff cuts with Europe presents "a long road to hoe" but both sides realize "the West cannot possibly afford to have a breakdown in trade relations."

Kennedy, to no one's surprise, is prepared to respond to "the spirit of the party" should Democrats demand that he seek a second term in 1964. He said he believes the same party spirit would draw a like response from any of three Republicans often mentioned as his probable adversary in the 1964 campaign: Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, Gov. George Romney of Michigan and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Rathbone told the group earnings for 1963 should increase appreciably. Earnings were up $28 million.

"April earnings look awfully good," he said.

Jersey Standard, the world's largest oil firm, had a net income of $841 million last year.

"It seems clear that in view of the very good performance so far this year, and in the absence of a major adverse development, we can confidently look forward to appreciably better earnings for the entire year of 1963 than we had in 1962," Rathbone said.

'Marilyn' Is Montage Story Of Monroe

By BOB THOMAS
 AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)— "Marilyn" is the title of a new movie that 20th Century-Fox has fashioned out of some old ones. It is an account of the acting career of Marilyn Monroe as seen in the films she made at Fox, where she did nearly all of her major work. The span reaches from "Ticket to Tomahawk" (1949), in which she played the chorus girl on the right, to "Something's Got to Give" (1962), from which she was fired. As film entertainment, "Marilyn" has its limitations. The only element that ties it together is a murky narration delivered with as much grace as possible by Rock Hudson. The film concentrates only on the Monroe acting career, which had little variety. Her personal life, which was more dramatic than anything she ever played on the screen, isn't mentioned. Despite all this, "Marilyn" has a certain fascination as a saga of sorrows. First we see Marilyn, still in the chorus, turning on the personality like chorus girls from time immemorial. Then she steps up in class with a bit in "All About Eve." ("The Asphalt Jungle," an MGM film, first caused her to be noticed.) Despite the competition of a high-powered cast, she made her brief scenes count.

OTHER WOMAN

Then comes "Love Nest" as the sexy other woman in the marriage of June Haver and William Lundigan. The sex image continues to build as she plays a beauty contest winner in "We're Not Married" and a street-walker in "O. Henry's Full House." Her first drama is "Don't Both-er To Knock"; poignantly, she acts a poor girl enjoying her first taste of high life. She plays a comic sexpot in "Monkey Business" with Cary Grant and then a sultry sexpot in "Niagara," her first starring role. Now she is on top. She is starred with another reigning sex queen, Jane Russell, in a jazzed-up version of "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." She demonstrates in "How To Marry A Millionaire" that comedy might be her strongest suit. Then she is wasted in a superstar musical, "There's No Business Like Show Business," in which she does a tasteless "Heat Wave" number. "The Seven Year Itch" brings her flowering as a comedienne. In "Bus Stop" she plays her first character role and carries it off. Finally, the prophetic "Something's Got to Give." We see the famous nude bathing scene.

Prints of works by famous painters were compared, showing degrees of realism and widely varying interpretations of similar subject matter. Sgt. Horey, a graduate of the Illinois Institute of Art, told the group he is being transferred to Reno, Nev., next month, and submitted his resignation from the club. He has been in Big Spring for five years, and an active worker with the group.

Cooper Takes His Wife Out To Do The Big Town

NEW YORK (AP)— Astronaut Gordon Cooper topped off a triumphal day by taking his wife to the theater, stopping off at a restaurant where they chatted with Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco, and visiting a hotel night club. Cooper, who was away from the earth for 22 orbits, chose the Broadway musical, "Stop The World—I Want To Get Off." The Coopers were cheered by about 5,000 persons outside the Shubert Theater Wednesday night. The cheers were echoed by the audience before the curtain went up. Anthony Newley, star of the show—which spoofs all manner of topics—made this reference to space: "I see by the paper that if the government spends another $300 million on the space program we can have a white mouse in space in another year." The Air Force major snickered at that one. It was at the Eden Roc Supper Club that the Rainiers were brought over to meet the Coopers. Princess Grace, former Hollywood actress, later told newsmen she was "thrilled" to meet Cooper. The Coopers then went to the Empire Room in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel where Broadway star Carol Channing is appearing. Miss Channing had Mrs. Cooper join her on the floor and told the audience: "Behind every hero there's a heroine." With that, the entertainer gave Mrs. Cooper a diamond pendant, pinning it on her. After seeing Miss Channing's show, the Coopers danced a fox trot and then took the elevator to their 35th floor suite in the Waldorf Towers. The time: 2 a.m.

AS BY FIRE
 "If any man's works shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; yet so as by fire." I Cor. 3:15. You often hear this interpreted as though the "man's works" in this passage are his personal faithfulness as a Christian; and as though it meant a person could prove to be unfaithful, yet be saved "as by fire." This interpretation is born of the wish. Some wish the Bible had said this: "Read the verses that go before. The 'man's works' are his efforts to build a lasting congregation. The burning of his works means he was not successful in

What Makes Great Video Programs?

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
 AP TV Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—What makes a great television program? There are almost as many answers to that as there are viewers. But in the special area of the news and public information, most people on both sides of the screen agree about what makes bad television: A lot of talk by "experts," analyzing and second-guessing. Some television programs of the past are memorable. Who will forget, for example, the exchanges between the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy and attorney Joseph Welch during the fascinating Washington hearings? Or listening to the rather breathless voice of Mrs. John F. Kennedy pointing out the restoration of rooms in the White House? Or the quick shot of a dying bird kicking futilely in the recent television treatment of the pesticide controversy? Gerald Green, best-selling novelist and NBC producer of Friday night's "The Quiet Revolution," insists that television is not able to take any subject, any question or any problem and build on it a satisfactory program. "The most impossible subjects are abstract ideas," he said. "All you can do is line up some experts, put a camera on them and let them talk about it. "News makes itself, but it isn't good television when you set up the experts to talk about it second-hand. I've thought for a long time that there should be a really fine program on subjects like "What's Wrong With Congress" or a really thoughtful treatment of the labor unions. But, although both have been tried, none of them have come off as real television. Maybe it can't be done."

Tunnell Blamed For Failure Of Women's Rights

AUSTIN (AP)—Rep. Don Brown of Galveston blames Speaker Byron Tunnell for the failure of a constitutional amendment to give equal legal rights to women. Brown said Tunnell refused this week to recognize him as Rep. Bill Coughran of McAllen for motions to suspend the rules and refer the measure to a friendly committee. "Final blame for the failure of the equal legal rights for women constitutional amendment can be laid at the feet of House Speaker Byron Tunnell," Brown said. The measure passed the Senate early in the session.

If you're like most Americans, you probably intend to use your Savings Bonds as a down payment on a house, to help send a child to college or otherwise upgrade your standard of living.

The fact that you and tens of millions of other Americans buy and hold U.S. Savings Bonds helps Uncle Sam manage his financial affairs better and puts him in a position to be a stronger voice and a stronger power in the free world.

And the fact that you and these other millions of Americans have accumulated the savings you have—46 billions in E and H Savings Bonds alone—is one of the reasons why Americans are financially strong and reliant. And their individual strength is the strength of the nation.

When the communists make one of their favorite statements—that they're going to "bury us" economically—your savings and your support of your country are mighty powerful answers. Keep building both with U.S. Savings Bonds.

Freeze Covers Northern Areas

By The Associated Press
Freezing weather nipped areas in the northern half of the Midwest again today as a spring cool wave spread into interior sections of the East and South.

Temperatures dropped into the 20s and 30s in much of the northern Midwest but warmer weather appeared on the way and was expected to break the week's spell of unseasonably low readings.

Cooler weather was indicated in the Atlantic and Gulf Coast areas, with some of the chilly air expected to spread southward into northern Florida. But fair and milder weather was the outlook for the Midwest region during the day. One of the early morning low marks was 23 in Marquette, Mich. The mercury dropped to near freezing in suburban areas of Chicago.

Temperatures east of the Rockies ranged from the 50s across the northern half of Dixie to the 30s and lower in the Great Lakes region. Only Florida and the immediate South Atlantic and Gulf Coasts remained in tropical air with readings in the 70s.

Showers continued in scattered sections along the Atlantic Seaboard and in parts of western Kansas, eastern Colorado and northwestern Nevada.

In the Far West, temperatures ranged from the 50s along the Pacific Coast to the 60s in most interior sections and to the 70s and 80s in the southwest Desert region.

Goldwater Candidate?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Arizona Gov. Paul Fannin says he thinks Sen. Barry Goldwater will announce himself as a candidate for the presidency within the next five months.

Fannin said of his fellow Arizona Republican Wednesday night:

"Right now, Goldwater says he will not run. But at the right time, I think he'll run. I predict he will be the Republican nominee."

Fannin came to Los Angeles to address a GOP $100-a-plate fund raising dinner. He said that he thought most western governors agree that the senator is the most likely candidate for the Republican nomination.

Big Glacier Speeds Up

MOSCOW (AP)—The Fedchenko Glacier, one of the largest in the Soviet Union, has suddenly begun moving thunderously at unexpected speed and Izvestia reported Wednesday night the village of Daini, Tadzhikistan, has been evacuated.

The glacier normally moves a bit more than 50 yards a year. Early this week it was going that far in a day.

Party Endorses Sen. Goldwater

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., has been officially endorsed by the Mississippi Republican party for the GOP's 1964 presidential nomination.

The GOP's state executive committee Wednesday endorsed Goldwater and urged him "to seek the Republican nomination for president of the United States in 1964."

The election of Goldwater as president would "constitute the most effective step toward a return to conservative constitutional principles," the committee said.

DEAR ABBY

Plea From A Newsboy

DEAR ABBY: I have an "honor newspaper rack" and the money I am cheated out of is unbelievable. People put paper clips, buttons or one or two pennies into the slot instead of the price of the newspaper. They think they are cheating the newspaper company, but they are only cheating the newsboy. HE has to pay for every newspaper he gets from the company. Does the general public know this, Miss Abby?
DISGUSTED WITH PEOPLE
DEAR DISGUSTED: They do not!

DEAR ABBY: I have a sister-in-law who has brought her baby over to my house for me to watch as early as 7 o'clock in the morning. And sometimes she doesn't pick the baby up until 10 o'clock at night. Now I don't mind watching her baby because she is a little doll, but don't you think I have a right to know where my sister-in-law goes for 15 hours while I take care of her baby?

NO NAME PLEASE
DEAR NO NAME: Yes, with a casual "Y". And if she's going somewhere she shouldn't be, don't make it easy for her by keeping her baby.

DEAR ABBY: We had a big argument at our house and would like your help in settling it. The other night we had company for dinner. After they left my mother said she had only one bite during the whole meal because she was so busy waiting on everybody else. I told her that I would have been glad to help her if she would have ASKED me. She insisted that I should have NEEDED help. Abby, I am telling you, I didn't know she needed my help. Was I wrong to sit there?

TEEN-AGED DAUGHTER
DEAR DAUGHTER: I don't know how old you are, but any girl over 12 should not need to be told to get up and help her mother. However, I'd call it a draw. Neither should your mother have fumed silently. She could have good-humoredly given you a clue by saying, "Come on, Mother's Little Helper, pitch in!"

DEAR ABBY: I have news for the wife who complained because her husband never told her he loved her. Mine whispered "I love you, Marcella" and then I let him have it with the lamp. Yours truly,

HENRIETTA

Hickson Is ABC Chief

An estimated 50 people attended a Tuesday night banquet at the Cosden Country Club at which R. E. (Bob) Hickson was formally installed as president of the American Business Club.

Officiating at the ceremony was Gordon Nestel of Lubbock, ABC regional director.

Also on hand was Bill Cox, Lubbock, District 6-A governor, who helped install club officers.

All will assume office July 1 and will serve for one year. Others elected and sworn in included Johnny Johnson, first vice president; Charles Dunning, second vice president; Morris Robertson, third vice president; Richard Hughes and R. L. Heath, sergeants at arms; and Elmo Phillips, Garner McAdams, Harold Davis, Walter Stroup, Tom Marr and Byron Neel, members of the board of directors.

Hickson presented Mrs. Phillips, wife of the outgoing president, with a bouquet of roses. Phillips pinned the president's pin upon Hickson's lapel and Hickson, in turn, presented Phillips with a past president's award.

Bob Rogers served as master of ceremonies at the banquet. Bingo was played by the gathering following the business session.

Youth Horseman's Entries Sought

Entry blanks have been distributed for the June 22 show of the Howard County Youth Horseman's Club. These are to be returned to C. H. Harrison, Box 1368, by June 1.

Last weekend six adults and 23 teen-age riders took part on an 8-10 mile trail ride of the club over the Wasson road southwest of town.

Receives Medal

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Dr. Juan Smitmans Lopez of Chile received a medal from the Mexican government. He has been ambassador here since 1953 and is leaving soon.

Valiant Is Economy Compact

The Valiant, Chrysler's economy compact, has new styling for 1963. and has been widely received. It is two inches longer than former models, and now is available in a convertible model, pictured here.

Latest Chrysler Models Offered By Local Dealer

Now available in the Big Spring market through a new franchised dealer, Gillihan Motor Co. at 600 E. 3rd, are the Chrysler cars for 1963 - re-designed models that have new body structure, new brakes, new engine options, new economy features, new interiors and improved passenger roominess, safety and comfort.

miles, whichever comes first, to cover the major power train components on all 1963 Chrysler automobiles sold in the United States and Canada. Chrysler is the first of the medium price cars to offer for such extended owner protection.

Chrysler retains its model lineup which proved so successful in 1962. The Newport, a full-sized, lower priced car, is offered as a 4-door sedan, 2 and 4-door hardtop, convertible coupe and 6 and 9-passenger station wagon. The 300 series, a popular entry in the growing performance sports car market, is available in three body styles. 2 and 4-door hardtops and a convertible coupe. The New Yorker, built for the motorist who wants the ultimate in medium price car luxury, is available as a 4-door sedan, 4-door hardtop and 6 and 9-passenger station wagon.

Uncolored, sharp lines impart a crisp, custom taste of richness to the 1963 Chrysler. The car has a new distinctive single roof panel for both sedans and hardtop models. Another styling feature of the Chrysler is the wide C-pillars and limousine-type rear window.

Chrysler interiors are significantly new for 1963. There is a totally new instrument panel, new high quality appearance improved seat materials and designs, and roomier interiors on two-door body models.

The powerplant for the Newport is the 361 cubic inch V-8 with two-barrel carburetor. The 300 has a 363 cubic inch V-8 with two-barrel carburetor. The New Yorker retains the 413 cubic inch V-8 with single four-barrel carburetor.

A new optional engine is being offered for the 300 sports series. It is a 413 cubic inch V-8 with a single four-barrel carburetor. It is designed for outstanding performance plus smooth and economical operation.

Home Of New Chrysler Dealership

Formal opening of the new Chrysler dealership—Gillihan Motor Company—has been set for this weekend, starting Friday, at 600 E. 3rd. In addition to handling the Chrysler Imperial, Plymouth and Valiant lines, the company is stocking a complete line of parts, plus providing expert mechanical services.

Chrysler Has Revolutionary Turbine-Powered Car Design

Chrysler Corporation has moved dramatically into the future with its recent introduction of the world's first family-size passenger car specifically engineered and designed for turbine power.

It is the result of long and extensive engineering research and development.

Chrysler will build 50 of the turbine cars, and these are to be distributed this fall to selected users for a consumer test program.

Drivers of the 50 turbine cars will be asked for data covering a broad range of their motoring experience with the new vehicle's behavior on turnpikes, over cross-country roads, in cities, in various geographical areas and climates.

Consumer reaction, Vice President Robert Anderson declared, "could result in such unqualified customer acceptance that we would be encouraged to accelerate our entire turbine program—but on the other hand it could reveal unexpected problems that send us back to our engineering laboratories for further research and development."

"Each of these cars," Anderson continued, "when it comes back to Chrysler Corporation after its year of duty in the hands of four users, will be returned to our engineering laboratories to undergo a painstaking examination. What we learn in our interviews with the users will be correlated and checked against what we learn in our laboratory tests."

"We believe that our turbine car has revolutionary possibilities. At the same time, we are making no promises, no commitments to the motoring public regarding the time when a turbine-powered automobile will be available for purchase by a customer who walks into one of our dealerships. There is still much to be learned about this kind of automobile as an all-purpose passenger car and about the methods needed for building it in volume," he concluded.

Anderson pointed out some of the advantages of the turbine engine over the more familiar piston engine.

"Its basic simplicity," he said, "with 80 per cent fewer parts than that of a V-8 piston engine, is in itself a fundamental advantage. One spark plug, no tune-ups in the conventional sense, no need for periodic oil changes, the absence of a separate cooling system with its requirements for water and antifreeze, and the simplification of the electrical system—all these have been cited as examples of its maintenance advantages."

Chaplain (Capt) Albert J. Blasingame (Webb AFB chaplain on duty with the 331st FIS) is being reassigned to Griffis AFB, N. Y. He has been stationed at Webb since August of 1961.

He is a WWII combat veteran and flew 28 combat missions as an observer and aerial gunner. He wears the Air Medal with 11 Oak Leaf Clusters.

Chaplain Blasingame was discharged as a staff sergeant in 1945 and entered Baylor University the same year. He received his degree in education from Baylor in 1949, and his BD from the Southern Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth in 1954.

Chaplain Blasingame returned to the service following his graduation from the Baptist Seminary in 1954 as a commissioned officer. He and his wife, Virginia, are both Texans; he from Kemp, and she from Commerce.

Chrysler's New Turbine-Powered Car

This is a view of the world's first family-sized passenger car specifically engineered and designed for turbine power. It is a Chrysler development, and was unveiled just a week ago. It will be built in limited quantity, with a few selected users giving them consumer tests. The Chrysler turbine car is a completely new vehicle and not related to any piston engine product, its makers say.

Experienced Personnel At Gillihan's

Rayford Gillihan, head of the new Gillihan Motor Company, is an experienced automotive man. Since 1947 he has headed his own used car firm in Big Spring, which he will continue to operate at 821 W. 4th.

At the new motor company location at East Third and Austin, only new Chrysler products will be sold.

Assisting Gillihan in operation of the motor company will be Mrs. Gillihan as office manager; N. B. Hoover, service department manager; R. Davis, manager of the parts department; Raymond Anderson, Andy Anderson and Nathan Dietz, all skilled and experienced mechanics; "Leslie" and "Preach," the make-ready men; and Stanley Ballou and J. B. Steward, salesmen.

Stewarding the used car operation will be Bene Stuteville and Sam Allen.

RAYFORD GILLIHAN

Open House For Gillihan

The new Imperial, Chrysler, Plymouth and Valiant dealership will hold a grand opening Friday and Saturday at 600 E. 3rd.

Gillihan Motor Co. is displaying these products and new building to the public. Free coffee and doughnuts will be served, and free balloons will be available for the kids.

The 100x140-foot building, formerly Hoover Garage, has been remodeled from top to bottom and front to back. Two sales offices and two bookkeeping department offices, a show and sales room, and a completely equipped garage department for handling any automotive repair and air conditioning installations. The building is air conditioned throughout.

"We want to invite the public to come out and see our new air conditioned building and inspect our products," Gillihan said. "We enjoy seeing people look because it can't help but be interested in Gillihan's establishment of the Chrysler dealership which will broaden sales and service of this veteran nationally known and respected motor line in this area."

Rayford Gillihan, who has been in the used car business in Big Spring since 1947, is the new owner. He will continue to operate his used car lot at 821 W. 4th. There will be only new cars at the East Third location.

"Chrysler products carry a five-year or 50,000-mile warranty," Gillihan said, "and that goes with the car to the new owner, if it is traded in on a new vehicle and we resold it. It is making our products more valuable to the customer."

Severed Arm, Saved By Surgery, Making History

EDITOR'S NOTE—One year ago today surgeons at Massachusetts General Hospital reattached a 13-year-old boy's arm that had been severed by a freight train. Medical history shows no such operation has been successful. Staffer James Calogero of the Boston Associated Press staff, who has covered the case from the beginning, visited with the youngster this week, retraced the accident and the following surgery that may become one of the marvels of medicine.

By JAMES CALOGERO
BOSTON (AP)—Young Everett Knowles extended his right arm and shook hands with a visitor this week.
It was more than a gesture of friendliness.
It was medical history coming alive.
A year ago today the 13-year-old youngster was wheeled into a hospital operating room with his right arm gone from about three inches below the shoulder.

Massachusetts General Hospital reattached the boy's arm to his body for a significant medical breakthrough.
Doctors say they know of no other successful re-implantation of a limb.
BACK TO NORMAL
Today, young Knowles' arm is pulsating, living part of his body, sensitive to the touch and temperature changes.
When an Associated Press reporter called on him, the red-haired, freckled-faced youngster gaily shook hands, gingerly moving the arm that had been lopped off by the wheel of a freight train. And just for the heck of it, he wiggled his right fingers.
Dr. Ronald Malt, who had a major role in the operations, said:
"Although it is still too early to make predictions about the ultimate extent of recovery, there are hopeful signs. Many months of observation and treatment are still in prospect."
Four important operations were involved including the connecting of veins, arteries and the four main nerve cables, as well as skin and flesh grafts.
Knowles told the reporter at the Knowles home in suburban Somerville that he'd rather be playing baseball than recounting the accident.

"Red," as his friends call him, was a Little League pitcher before he fell under the wheel of a freight train that passes near his house.
PLAYS BALL
Now, he said, he plays some first base. Because he must favor his right arm, he added, he catches the ball in his gloved left hand, quickly drops the glove and throws with the same hand.
FAST AMBULANCE
The police call was logged at 2:31 p.m. The ambulance made the four-mile run to Massachusetts General Hospital in a few minutes.
Dr. John B. Herrmann and Dr.

Henry Edmunds Jr., assistant residents in surgery, were among the first to examine the boy and help start the rare operation.
Dr. Herrmann wrapped the boy's arm and carried it up to the operating room under a blanket of crushed ice. He ran a solution through its vessels and found them to be in good shape. It was then the youngster was prepared for the re-implantation operation.
The first step was to sew together the ends of veins and arteries. The arm and hand then turned from white to pink and the doctors detected a pulse.
Doctors knew that a limb could live six hours without the blood flow. They completed the operation with an hour-and-a-half to spare.
They rejoined the bone that same evening and put a cast around the boy's torso, shoulder and arm.
CLOSED HOLE
Five days later, on May 28, they closed the hole with skin taken from the boy's right thigh.
Nearly four months later, on Sept. 11, doctors reopened Knowles' arm and undertook the most critical operation of the series—connection of the nerves.
At the time of the operation doctors said that if the critical nerve operation failed the arm would have to be amputated.
They also said that if all went well, the nerve function would progress down the arm at the rate of about an inch a month.

So far, everything's on schedule, they say.
Dr. Malt said this week:
"Movement of all five fingers of the right hand indicates regeneration of the median nerve as far as the upper forearm muscles that control finger flexion. There is a suggestion that the ulnar nerve has grown to the same level."
"As predicted, the radial and musculocutaneous nerves, whose length was made up by grafts from other parts of the body, are less promising but their function is also less critical."
"Sensation is present to a limited degree in four fingers."
ANOTHER ARM
Last July, when Hazel Donlin, 17, of Kelseyville, Calif., lost an arm in a 50-foot fall from a carnival ride in Calgary, Alta., young Knowles was cheered that doctors were using his own operation as a blueprint to re-implant her arm.
He quickly sent her a telegram saying: "The best of luck and please keep your courage up."
Five months later, however, Knowles received a Christmas card from Miss Donlin in which she wrote:
"Dear Everett:
"Sorry to drop out of our exclusive club but as my arm was amputated Dec. 13 I shall not be able to be a member any longer. I sincerely wish you all the luck in the future and hope your last operation was a success."
"Red's" own attitude about himself is that he is coming along just fine as the only member of what may be surgery's most exclusive club.
"It doesn't even bother me," he says, "when my friends sometime rib me with a crack like, 'Hey, Ev, let's go hop a freight.' I go along with the gag."
"The only time I get a little nervous," young Knowles adds quietly, "is when I hear a train in the night."

"I had never hopped a freight. I guess I wanted to do it just once. As the train passed under the bridge I was knocked off by a concrete upright."
"When the train was gone, I picked myself up. I walked across the empty lot, up the hill and across the street. I was holding my right arm in the sleeve with my left hand."
"I didn't know where I was going. I was just going, walking fast."
"I was passing the handy card company when a truck driver at the loading platform hollered to me. 'Hey, kid, where're you going?' Come here, your arm's all bloody."
"He grabbed me and made me lie down on the loading platform. I told him I was hit by a car. I was too scared to tell anyone I was hopping a freight."
"By this time my arm fell nearly out of the sleeve and he called inside the plant for help."
Mrs. Alice Chmielewski came running out of the factory with rags she put against my shoulder to stop the bleeding."
"Then a police cruiser came and a few minutes later the ambulance from the Fire Department."

one for substance, scope and beauty. For it is no frothy costume drama. It is a fascinating heroic tale.
The setting is England of the 5th Century, when the Roman legions have pulled away, leaving no central force to maintain law and order, and dooming the primitive land to barbarian darkness.
The hero is Artos the Bear, a hard-riding, sword-swinging leader of cavalry, who is imbued with the ideal and hope of keeping the lights of civilization burning.
Miss Suteliff has looked behind the Arthurian legend in creating Artos. From a few hints and clues sifted from the mist of pagan and Christian legend, she has assumed that there really was a war leader in that era. But he is not the fancy figure of the Malory or later versions; not the Arthur of the Round Table, ceremonial jousting tournaments and courtly love.
Artos is a rougher, harder hero. He personally leads his small band of Companions in ceaseless warfare against the raiding Saxons, fends off the Scots and tries desperately to get the squabbling little British princelings to unite for the common defense.
Of course he is a tragic figure, one idealistic man with a sword, trying to save off the sunset. His personal life is crossed by a fateful, ancient sin. He is betrayed by the man on his right hand. But even as he goes into the last desperate battle, this rude Caesar of the English countryside has become a man of history.
Half Roman, half British, a lover of the hills, the hounds and the horses, he is a man's man who feels, without a trace of self-consciousness, the beauty of the wind through the spring flowers, the melancholy thrill of the harpist's song. He is a memorable figure.
The novel is huge, the characters are many and vivid. It is not a light, time-killing piece of fiction, but a book to live with, keep and read again. There are many dramatic incidents, graphic battle scenes, sensuous, descriptive passages. Many pages deserve to be read aloud for their word-music. The masterful Miss Suteliff has created a greater Arthurian legend than we have had from the old chronicles.

Shakespeare's A Good Teacher

If three of the stars who appear with Frankie Avalon in "Drums of Africa" are a criterion, the best preparation for facing the perils of an African safari is to have a solid background of Shakespeare.
Mariette Hartley appeared in the American Shakespeare Festival in Stratford, Conn.; playing leads in "Winter's Tale" and "A Midsummer Night's Dream."
Torin Thatcher, an alumnus of the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art, has appeared in 46 different Shakespearean productions.
And Lloyd Bochner distinguished himself as a Shakespearean actor in the Stratford, Ontario, and Edinburgh festivals, as well as on Canadian television, where he won the best acting award in 1956 for his performance of "Hamlet."

Two Are Honored At Baby Shower In Lacy Home

Mrs. B. R. Newton and Mrs. Robert Fritz were the honorees for a surprise shower held Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Seth Lacey, 2908 Cactus Drive. Both women received corsages made of miniature baby articles.

Members of Mu Kappa Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi assembled gifts in a pink and white bazaar. They were presented to the honorees by Miss Joyce Lacy.

Appropriate games were played with Mrs. Hanson Lawton and Mrs. Lacy, winning the prizes which they gave to the honored guests.

A white lace cloth covered the refreshment table where the centerpiece was made of miniature pink and white diapers on a green tree.

Fashion-Wise

To be fashionable is one thing. To be fashion-wise is to be not only smartly dressed, but well groomed at all times. Here's an example of what this means today. If the couple's clothing has been silicone finished, neither has "nary a care," for this newest fashion trick makes them water repellent. Those raindrops will harmlessly bounce off. The treatment also improves the feel of the cloth, making it luxurious to the touch. There are many processes, among which there is a silicone fabric treatment which can be applied to any fiber or fabric, including synthetics, cottons, sheers and even velvets.

Barbecues A Batch While Charcoal's Hot

By JO BRIGHT
Cooking and eating out-of-doors have become part of the American way of life to the degree that barbecues have swept the country. The whole family loves them—from Dad, who can express his culinary art this way, to the youngsters who enjoy the casual dress and atmosphere, and to mother, without her apron, who can sit back and relax.

Relax! Mrs. Harold Davis, 1811 Alabama, doesn't relax a bit when it's barbecue time at her house. That's because she does it like grandmother used to bake bread—ALL DAY LONG. Thrifty with her time, Mrs. Davis doesn't believe in firing up that backyard furnace for just a couple of steaks.

COOKING AHEAD
Through trial and error, she has discovered that if the barbecued meat is placed immediately in the freezer, while still piping hot, it does not dry out or lose flavor. So, while the charcoal is burning properly, she cooks three or four chickens, 10 to 15 pounds of hamburger, a supply of thick pork chops and maybe some steaks. Packed in family portions, the foil wrapped meat is frozen for use the next time the family wants barbecue for supper.

To serve, the meat is heated from 45 minutes to an hour in the oven, while side dishes are being prepared.

Mrs. Davis, formerly a faculty member at Big Spring Senior High School and Howard County Junior College, said that her style of cooking has changed since she is no longer teaching. With more time at home, she is able to bake and use more oven type cookery.

SHOPPING HABITS

The Davises do their main grocery shopping once a week, when staples and canned goods are purchased. At least two more trips are required during the week to replenish the bread and milk supply and to buy fresh vegetables.

Mrs. Davis expressed the thought that the once-a-week shopping seems to be a thing of the past. Women are so "mobilized"; most with cars of their own, they are able to shop daily if necessary.

Although no planned budget is followed, Mrs. Davis avoids the "frills" that run up a big grocery bill. Her husband, formerly a ketchup coach at HCJC and Texas Western, is the culprit who tends to fill the cart with luxury items. He isn't assigned the shopping chore very often.

"Our family is very limited in food tastes," Mrs. Davis said. "If I were asked to name things we all like, the list would number about five." The top ranking favorite is potatoes, which is served in some form at every main meal.

TURKEY A FAVORITE

Turkey is served all year 'round at the Davis home. A big one is baked every couple of months with most of it being made into turkey salad which the children love. Alan, 8, is a second grader at Washington Place Elementary School. Chris, 5, will start kindergarten next year.

Menus That Are Manly

In grandfather's day cooking was done indoors and it was, indeed, grandmother's domain. Now that cookery has moved outside it is the man of the house who wears the apron.

Coupled with his skill with the grill is the manly bent for practical foods and a menu which works to perfection. First choice is steak, baked potatoes and vegetables. For the feature bread—a mustard—and the dessert he calls on the baker.

From this point our backyard chef varies the menu and avoids being called Mr. "one-dish." The point of departure this time features Parmesan Onion Toasties, fashioned from a zesty spread and Brown n' Serve French bread. These are threaded on giant skewers, then rotated and toasted to perfection at the cooler edge of the grill.

PARMESAN-ONION TOASTIES
2 3-oz. loaves Brown n' Serve French bread
¼ cup soft butter or margarine
¼ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
2 tbsps. finely chopped onion
¼ tsp. Worcestershire sauce
Dash paprika
Cut each loaf of bread diagonally, almost through to bottom crust, into 12 equal-sized slices. Combine butter, mayonnaise, cheese, onion, Worcestershire sauce and paprika. Spread ¼ teaspoon cheese-onion mixture between each slice of bread.
String loaves on a long, sharp-pointed skewer, inserting the skewer through the center of each one. Heat over hot coals, turning to brown bread on all sides.
Yield: 6-8 servings.

MRS. HAROLD DAVIS

A Western Sandwich

This country we happily call the Golden West has many golden evenings for enjoying outdoor eating. Here's a hearty sandwich of western food just made for an informal supper. Chili with beans, seasoned superbly, is baked in a beef boat and served on individual loaves of Italian bread.

The chili boats can be baked in the kitchen range, or for handier serving, in a portable oven on the patio. With the sandwich, serve a salad of crisp mixed greens and avocado, and for dessert, fresh fruits.

CHILI BOATS
1 lb. ground meat
2 tbsps. minced onion
½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
1 tsp. prepared mustard
1 (15½-oz.) can chili con carne with beans
Set oven at 400 degrees F. Mix meat with onion, salt, pepper, mustard together lightly but thoroughly. On a baking sheet, form into four boat shapes with deep indentation in center of meat. Fill centers with chili with beans. Bake for 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Here's Delicious Side Dish For Steak, Burger

With the cookout season drawing to a close, you probably want to get as much use out of your outdoor grill as possible. Here's a recipe that's great over charcoal and still can come right into your kitchen when the weather gets too cool to cook outside. Zesty American blue cheese is crumbled over potato and onion in individual foil packets for a side dish that's perfect with hamburgers or steak.

BLUE CHEESE-POTATO-ONION PACKETS
(Makes 8)
2 large baking potatoes, peeled
1 large Bermuda onion, outer skin removed (or two medium onions)
½ cup butter
½ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 3 oz.)
Cut each potato lengthwise into 4 sections. Cut onion into 8 thin slices. Make 8 squares of foil, and on each place one potato section topped with one onion slice and one tablespoon of butter. Close foil and cook on charcoal grill (or in 375 degree oven) for 25 minutes. Open foil and top onion and potato with one tablespoon American blue cheese. Return to heat for five minutes until cheese melts.

'Handy' Heat Test Used By Experts

The expert charcoal cook can tell the temperature of the fire by feel. He holds his hand palm down about four inches over the wood charcoal briquets, or approximately at cooking height. If he can keep it there for three seconds, the temperature is about 300 degrees. If he must withdraw it faster, the temperature is about 350 to 400 degrees.

Charcoal Roasted 'Spuds' Hit Spot

Take a tip from your cub scout or boy scout son. Charcoal roasted potatoes, a scout favorite, are a sure sign of spring. He'll probably be around a campfire enjoying them on a cookout before the frost is out of the ground. Potatoes can be rubbed with butter or cooking oil for added flavor. Cook them in their skins on the barbecue rack, or wrap them in foil and place them among the glowing wood charcoal briquets. Turn once with tongs. Cooking time may vary from 30 minutes to an hour. Provide a relish tray of sour cream, crumbled bacon, minced chives, chopped onions, butter. Let guests add their own choices to the savory spuds.

SAUCE
1 stick margarine
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. hot sauce
½ tsp. garlic salt
¼ cup catsup
Melt margarine and add other ingredients. Bring to boil. Use to baste chickens on open grill after coals are white hot. Turn frequently. Baste often with sauce. Cook one to two hours. To freeze for later use, wrap immediately in foil and place in freezer while still hot. Allow at least an hour in slow oven to heat for serving after being frozen.

STRAWBERRY CHOCOLATE CAKE
1 box devil's food cake mix
1 box frozen strawberries
1 box fudge frosting mix
Thaw berries. Prepare cake mix according to instructions, substituting thawed berries and juice for half the required liquid. Bake as usual. Use remainder of berries and juice for liquid in frosting mix. This makes a cake that tastes homemade and will stay moist over a week.

CHICKEN IN FOIL
1 fryer
¼ stick margarine
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. hot sauce
½ tsp. garlic salt
½ tsp. celery salt
Other spices as desired
Flour chicken, cut in pieces as for frying. Place in a pan lined in foil enough to cover and seal chicken in. Melt margarine and add flavorings to make sauce. Pour over floured chicken pieces. Seal in foil and bake in slow oven about two hours. This same sauce makes a good substitute flavoring for swiss steak allowing a little more time in the oven depending upon the thickness of the steak.

COFFEE PIE
1 baked pie shell
¼ cup strong coffee
25 marshmallows
1 tsp. vanilla
½ pt. whipped cream
Melt marshmallows in coffee

Beef Tongue
When you cook a fresh beef tongue, you might like to add some mixed pickling spice to the water. Remember to simmer, not boil, the tongue.

Brown Sugar Beans For A Barbecue Side Dish

You hardly need a recipe for making Brown Sugar Beans. Like your grandmother, you'll cook up a good-sized batch of Idaho's famous dried Great Northern (large white) beans to the almost-tender stage. Then it's one layer of beans about an inch deep in a shallow baking pan or casserole, a liberal sprinkling of brown sugar—the dark variety for deeper flavor, a pinch or three of dry mustard; a good dash of salt and of coarse-ground black pepper, quartered bacon slices laid hit and miss over the top, the bean liquid added. The whole to bake in a 350 degree F. (moderate) oven about an hour. For extra goodness, just before serving sprinkle the bacon with brown sugar and toast gently under the broiler until the sugar is bubbly and the bacon lightly browned. M-m-m, good!

BROWN SUGAR BEANS

This is a treat that goes well with any meat, especially those from the barbecue grill. With a more generous use of bacon atop, it can serve as a hearty and economical main course dish in itself. Perfect partners are cole-slaw or sliced tomatoes, corn sticks or hot brown bread slices, with fresh fruit or chilled cup custards and cookies for dessert. These beans are good warmed over and may even be frozen for future use. But then, you had better not count on leftovers! If you haven't tried the "large white" Idaho-grown Great Northern variety of beans, you have a taste-treat in store. Full of fine flavor, these beans may be used in every recipe calling for their "small white" cousins. Versatile too, they turn into many tempting dishes—dips, soups, salads, casseroles, croquettes.

THE BIG 3 BARBECUE SAUCES

The time is rolling 'round again when your "kitchen" is gradually being moved to the backyard by Dad and the kids. Kitchen, dining room, living room suddenly become outdoor grill, lawn and a shady tree. The man of the house turned "Outdoor Chef" no doubt has his own secret recipe file. Just to help glorify his handiwork beyond his expectations, he should try this spicy sauce for wieners, tangy sauce for chicken and this savory sauce for spareribs. Here is real eating fun for the whole family, the next-door neighbors, Junior's hungry little buddies and your most particular of gourmet guests.

General Directions: To make any of these barbecue sauces, combine all ingredients and blend well. Store in covered jar in the refrigerator. Shake well before using.

For Spareribs:
8-ounce can tomato sauce
¼ cup wine vinegar
½ tsp. celery salt
½ tsp. onion salt
1 tsp. bouquet sauce
3 tbsps. honey
Makes 1 cup

For Chicken:
¼ cup lemon juice
¼ cup salad oil
1 tsp. bouquet sauce
½ tsp. celery salt
½ tsp. onion salt
½ tsp. marjoram
¼ tsp. pepper
Makes ¼ cup

For Wieners:
¼ cup ketchup
¼ cup salad oil
1 tsp. lemon juice
1 tsp. bouquet sauce
½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. dry mustard
¼ tsp. pepper
Makes ¼ cup

Charcoal Cookery Ideas For Outdoor Parties

The charcoal grill is a center of conviviality these days. Part of the pleasure is inventing your own parties.

A young crowd enjoys an outdoor fish-ry over wood charcoal briquets. Clean and bone the fish of your choice, sprinkle it with lemon juice and seasoning, and grill in a hinged wire rack. Frozen French fries heated in a loose foil bag and shaken occasionally round out the "fish bash."

FLOWERPOT GRILL
Ordinary flowerpots make good outdoor hibachis when you entertain the garden club. Line pots with foil and add an inch of sand or barbecue base. Fill them two-thirds up with wood charcoal briquets. Top each pot with a cake rack. Guests can toast their own appetizers or hamburgers or small steaks to order.

EARLY BIRD PIE
If early bird guests gather on the patio you can stave off their hunger with a special appetizer "pie." Have a round loaf of bread on hand. Cut it into inch-thick slices. Spread the circles of bread with cheese mix or deviled ham. Toast over wood charcoal briquets. Cut in pie wedges. Serve. The steak can then go on to sizzle over the charcoal.

LUNCHBOX PARTY
A lunchbox social at the grill is a budget-saver for the high school crowd. Each guest brings a lunch-box or shoebox of foil-wrapped provisions. Hamburgers, franks, cheese, sausage and buns are all easy to grill over wood charcoal briquets. Boxes can be decorated and initialed, and exchanged as a way to mix the guests.

Vegetables And Fruit Plentiful

Fruits, melons and vegetables are arriving in greater volume at Texas food markets, the Agricultural Marketing Service says.

More watermelons, peaches, plums, new potatoes, cantaloupes, green corn, tomatoes, green beans, cucumbers, okra, peas, peppers, yellow squash and cabbage reached food counters.

Watermelon and cantaloupe prices are lower. Avocados and bananas were in good supply and reasonable. Imported limes are lower. The Texas harvest of peaches and plums is increasing.

New potato prices are slightly lower. Both red and white old-crop potatoes carry modest price tags. The North Texas onion harvest has begun.

Eggs, beef, pork, broilers and dairy foods of all kinds were plentiful at modest cost.

This various world with an inconstant wing

As summer winds that creep from flower to flower.

DAILY GUIDE — A restless, changeable day. Allow for little distractions which keep you from concentrating on the job at hand.
Do the things which call for acting on intuition. Adapt to the moods and caprices of people.

This month has not been one in which details could be counted on to be carried through as planned. Some changes may have to be made in whatever you are doing.

Next week you will be able to carry forward, so do not force matters at this point. More frustrations are due tomorrow in communications and travel.

Those born around Feb. 12,
May 14, August 16, November 16,
are likely to have some problems
now, and should be careful tomorrow. This applies also to those with planets in their horoscopes in the latter degrees of Aquarius, Taurus, Leo or Scorpio.

Travel not favorable tomorrow;
watch your step and your speech.
You could say the wrong thing.
Taurians could be hampered, delayed, or receive depressing news.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, GEMINI!
A new design for living can either have taken place or will soon, so that domestic conditions will be somewhat hectic at first, but you will find new freedom.

Be careful in travel this month,
and take care that in June you do not act too hastily.

Hidden complications regarding health or work, or some uncertainty may crop up in early October. Happy associations with friends are promised this year.

Older people, or professional contacts can give you stability during some of the unsettling changes due now and in the future.

Details of travel or communication can be delayed now, but next month things proceed smoothly.

Aggie Solons Caught With Britches Down

AUSTIN (AP)—Sen. W. T. Moore of Bryan took advantage of a lull in the Senate Tuesday to slip through a resolution commending the Board of Directors of Texas
A&M College for its recent decision admitting women to the school.

Moore interrupted Sen. Abraham Kazen's filibuster of a congressional redistricting bill and brought up what he termed a "congratulatory resolution."

There was no discussion on the measure, which passed by voice vote, as senators wandered around the Senate floor paying little attention to the activities.

Minutes after the passage of the resolution, however, at least five senators rushed to the Senate clerk and asked to be recorded as voting "no." Their requests were denied, though, as Kazen continued his filibuster.

"Some of you were caught sleeping at the switch," said Moore.

Earlier this session, the House passed a resolution asking the board to reconsider its decision which would admit women during the regular session, breaking a 92-year-old tradition.

"We fully endorse the board's action in giving the youth of Texas a great legacy to help them find real success in the years ahead," Moore's resolution said in part.

Dillon Economic Outlook Varies

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's short run economic outlook is bright, "but not perhaps so gloriously rosy as some would paint it," Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon says.

"Our present economic upturn is heartening," he said. But he emphasized that the President's proposal for a substantial tax reduction this year "is our best hope of accelerating the forward pace of our economy."

Federal revenues might top estimates by as much as $1 billion in fiscal year 1964, Dillon said in remarks prepared for the sixth annual University of Connecticut Loeb Awards luncheon at which awards are given for excellence in business and financial writing.
"But," he added, "even such a result would not lead to any appreciable improvement in our employment situation. For that, we must look to tax reduction."

New Oil Wells

VERACRUZ, Mex. (AP)—Five new oil wells have started producing in the Veracruz area, according to a report from Petroleos Mexicanos, the government-operated oil monopoly. It said these wells increased Pemex production to 1,573 barrels a day and the nation's output now totals
335,000 barrels a day.

Red China Bases Ambitions On Growing Young People

EDITOR'S NOTE — Schools in Red China are designed to guide pupils carefully down the Marxist-Leninist road to the Great Leap Forward. Here is a report on the younger generation in Red China by a newspaper author who has just completed a British Travel Agency tour of the country. Fourth in a series of articles.

By RICHARD P. LISTER
PEKING (AP)—A nation undergoes a great change; suddenly everything is new. But within a very few years there appears a generation to whom the new and revolutionary is the old and familiar.

We tourists visited the middle school at Ming Hung, a new industrial and residential area—a satellite town—outside Shanghai. The children now entering the school, at 12 or 13, were born since the Red revolution. None of the pupils can have any real recollection of the old order.

OLD SCHOOL
It is an old, established school, built in 1883. The principal, Mr. Yeh, was more determined than most Chinese we met to impress us with the correctness of his ideology. Before the "liberation," he told us, all the students were from the landlord class or the bourgeoisie. Now, 86 per cent are from worker or peasant families.

There are 1,900 of them, and most of them live here during term. They live nine to a room—small rooms, with double bunks on each side and a single bed almost filling up the remaining space.

The aims of the school? To form the children morally, intellectually and physically, we are told. Cultural and scientific knowledge must be taught, but education must also develop the desired working-class outlook, and some time must be devoted to productive labor.

EXTRA WORK
Every student spends 3 to 4 hours a week either cultivating the school fields, working in the shops, or on domestic duties—cleaning or in the kitchen. We visited the workshops. A line of 14 trucks was drawn up in the yard, engines and chassis only. Girls and boys were cutting up steel angles and sheet for building the bodies. Productive labor is sternly practical. Down the road from the workshops we found the school piggery, and enclosures for ducks and chickens.

The children must learn to serve the Communist reconstruction of the country, so there are two hours a week of classroom instruction in Marxism-Leninism, and two further hours are spent in discussion or in studying political subjects. Three to five days of the vacation are spent in militia training.

SHORTCOMINGS
And how do the pupils—50 to a class—face in their studies? There are still shortcomings, Mr. Yeh told us seriously. In one class there are one or two students who will fail their examination. Still, if a student fails or has a bad record, everybody in the class is to help him. It's the old appeal to "public opinion" however narrow which is supposed to influence the backslider, Yeh said.

The teaching staff appears to be well paid by Chinese standards. One woman who had taught for 30 years, including 20 at this school, received 157 yuan per month ($70)—against the national average wage of 70 yuan.

It does not seem as if the schoolchildren of China have a very gay life. Yet they look happy—the charm of the children is perhaps the happiest impression that the visitor to China carries away with him.

FREEDOM?
When they leave school, what freedom have they in choosing a career?

Like many of our questions, this one seemed to lose much of its meaning in the Chinese context. The child's aptitudes and attainments are known, and he will find employment for them in some field where the state has signified its need for him. They say he will have the happiness of knowing that he is serving the cause of Socialist reconstruction, and this is more important than what the West calls freedom. Against what seemed to be the utter faith of the Chinese in this assumption, argument was pointless.

Ties of family life, in China, are traditionally strong. Yet now, with industrialization and the increased mobility it brings, families often find themselves living far apart. Of three families we met and talked with in the Ming Hung industrial estate, nearby, not one had all the children of the marriage living with the parents. The father and mother both go out to work; most of the children have to be brought up by the grandparents.

Parents seem to accept separation from their children without

Simulated Tests Set For Gemini

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Simulated tests will be conducted this summer by McDonnell Aircraft Corp. to evaluate landing characteristics of the Gemini space capsule.

A McDonnell spokesman said Tuesday the tests will be held at Parks Metropolitan Airport near Cahokia, Ill., across the Mississippi River from St. Louis.

The Gemini spacecraft will hold two astronauts. Unlike the Mercury capsule, it will land on the ground instead of the sea.

any apparent sorrow or resentment. In Peking, we met a Mr. Koo, who had a son named—appropriately, in view of the recent year of his birth—Space-Flight.

Space-Flight Koo lives with his grandmother. Mr. Koo is an amateur painter, and when he visits Space-Flight he tries to paint him. He starts on a portrait of his son, but by the time he sees him again, Space-Flight has grown beyond all recognition.

All this Mr. Koo told us with smiling good humor. The necessity of separation was accepted without apparent complaint.

Next: Living Standards.

Quake Jolts Bay Region

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A sharp earthquake centered on the San Andreas Fault south of Palo Alto shook homes and buildings throughout the San Francisco Bay region Wednesday.

No damage was reported, but dishes rattled on shelves. Dr. Don Tocher, University of California seismologist, said the shock started at 3:41:18 p.m. and recorded for four minutes on the Berkeley Seismograph.

Dade County Will Integrate

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Fourteen public schools in Dade County will admit Negroes for the first time when they open this fall, the school board reported.

They include six senior high schools, six junior highs and two elementary schools.

It will be the county's biggest integration step since its first white school was opened to Negroes in September 1959.

This will bring to 32 the number of integrated Dade County schools with more than 2,500 Negroes in attendance.

Legislature In Brief

AUSTIN (AP) — The Legislature Wednesday:

Senate: Passed and returned to the House with changes, after a midnight to 2 p.m. filibuster, a congressional redistricting bill; adopted for submission to voters a proposed constitutional amendment to require that all applications for new water conservation districts go to the Texas Water Commission before legislative consideration; adopted conference committee reports on bills to revise the criminal code and remove the attorney general from 16 state boards; passed to the governor bills to require wholesale druggists to register with the State Health Department, to let Texas colleges accept credits for government courses taken at other colleges as fulfilling teacher certification requirements and to finance judgments against the state.

House: Passed a group of local and uncontested bills; passed and sent to the Senate a request to recall a bill providing for state employees' retirement benefits; adopted resolutions to set up several interim study committees.

Students Protest Building Delay

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP) — Eastern Montana College students took up carpentry Tuesday night to protest what they called delay in construction of a dormitory, library and classrooms at the school.

Members of the student legislature worked through the night to erect a one-room schoolhouse, facing the school's main administration building. They painted it red, with a sign saying: "We want the best education we can get. Crowded library and living off campus deter us from this goal."

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington: BACK TO WASHINGTON: U.S. Ambassador to Haiti Raymond L. Thurston may return to Washing-ton shortly for conferences on American policy toward President Francois Duvalier's government. White House and State Depart-ment officials want to get a firsthand report from him on condi-tions in the troubled Caribbean land. NO FAVORS: The Defense De-partment has laid down stricter rules against employes and mili-tary personnel—or their families—accepting favors, gifts or enter-tainment from anyone doing busi-ness with the Pentagon. DOMESTIC PEACE CORPS:

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has urged Congress to create a do-mestic peace corps. He said it could help millions of Americans beset by poverty, illiteracy and mental illness. POWERS: Lt. Col. John (Shorty) Powers—"the voice of the astron-auts"—said Wednesday the Air Force has extended his assignment to the space agency for 12 more months—but he didn't say whether he would stay that long. Kennedy, the White House dis-closed Wednesday, will leave Washington June 5 to attend com-mencement exercises at the U.S.

Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo., tour the nearby headquarters of the North Ameri-can Air Defense Command, and then fly directly to White Sands. Originally, Kennedy had planned to visit the test center June 6. Kennedy will fly on from White Sands to El Paso, Tex., to spend the night. The next morning he plans to fly to San Diego, Calif., to address commencement exer-cises at San Diego State College. Later in the day he will view fleet maneuvers off the coast. On Friday night, Kennedy is scheduled to attend a private dinner in Los Angeles sponsored by political pals in show business. He is expected to leave Los An-ges for Washington June 8.

Court Fight Brings Jail

DALLAS (AP)—Lawyer James Donovan drew a 20-day jail sentence and 86 homeowner clients were fined $200 each Wednesday for continuing a court fight against Love Field improvements. Officers escorted Donovan to jail at once after Chief Justice Dick Dixon imposed the contempt penalties in the 5th Court of Civil Appeals. The two justices joined in the decision. Dixon told the homeowners to pay the fines by Monday or they also would go to jail. On order of the Texas Supreme Court, the appellate court here had issued a writ forbidding the Dallas lawyer and his clients to proceed with their legal battle. The homeowners have been trying to block building of a new jet runway. They claim it will send jet airliners over the dwellings, cause disturbing noise and endanger life. Since the writ was issued the homeowners have carried their fight into federal court. Donovan's sentence is the maximum under state law. Denied bail, he twice asked a stay to pursue appeals and was turned down. In jail, Donovan complained he had been sentenced "for a case that's on appeal" before the federal court in New Orleans. Homeowners took the decision hard. Several women cried. A spokesman for the group, M. J. Pellillo, said the fight would continue. "There's still a possibility of final and complete relief from the actions of the Civil Aeronautics Board," Pellillo said.

Pope Reported Much Improved

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII was reported much improved today after going to bed early Wednesday night and resting well. The ailing pontiff was "notably improved," the Vatican substitute secretary of state, Msgr. Angelo Dell'Acqua, told Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski as the Polish primate boarded a train late Wednesday night for his homeland. Other Vatican sources gave the same report this morning and added that the 63-year-old ruler of the Roman Catholic Church had rested comfortably and well during the night. The Pope is said to be suffering from either a stomach ulcer or cancer, as well as anemia and a chronic prostate condition. Vatican sources reported he suffered a severe relapse Monday night and required a major blood transfusion for his anemia. The Pope canceled his regular weekly audience Wednesday but appeared at the window of his apartment to bless a crowd of 15,000 in St. Peter's Square. Vatican sources said he rested most of the afternoon and was feeling well again by evening. They said he retired soon after dusk. The Pope is known to experience wide fluctuations in the way he feels. A high Vatican source said his present condition, although preoccupying, has not resulted in any sort of emergency.

Four Hospitalized After Bus Wreck

SNYDER (AP)—Four of the 16 persons injured when a bus overturned Wednesday remained in a hospital overnight. The bus accident occurred during a rain and wind storm just south of here. Miss Margo Gerber, 18, of Santa Fe was killed. Still in the hospital were Tommy Wheeler, 18, of Santa Fe; Mr. and Mrs. Renato Baustista of Houston, and Newt Holt of Lubbock, the driver. All were in good condition.

French Jews Trying To Care For Refugees
By JOSEPH E. DYNAN
AP Special Report
PARIS (AP) — France's Jewish Community, with an active assist from Jews in the United States, is trying to care for a tide of refugees.

Authorities estimate the community has grown from about 350,000 to half a million in less than a year. France now has the fourth largest Jewish population, after the United States, the Soviet Union and Israel.

There are not nearly enough schools, synagogues and social services for them. Housing for the newcomers is a perennial problem.

Most of the new refugees came from Algeria, which had a Jewish population of 100,000 a year ago. Jewish welfare workers estimate that only about 6,500 are left there. About 10 per cent went to Israel, the others to France.

Algerian Jews were French nationals and thus moved to France with the same status as other repatriates. They thus qualified for government relief benefits. But these benefits are due to halt in July and persons still not established will have to look elsewhere for help.

In addition, 50,000-60,000 Jewish refugees have come from Tunisia and Morocco. There has been a movement from Morocco since that country achieved independence, and a rush out of Tunisia since the Bizerte fighting in 1961. Jews from Morocco and Tunisia lack French citizenship and enter as foreign refugees.

LIBERAL ATTITUDE
In a sense, the burden on the French community is due to France's traditionally liberal attitude toward political refugees. Since the war, succeeding waves of refugees have streamed into or through France. Just when the French Jewish community thought it was finally catching up, there would be another flow. The same has been more or less true for Christians, too, but the impact on a population of some 40 million has been much less.

Through the years the French Jewish community has coordinated its welfare services in the Fonds Social Juif Unifie (United Jewish Social Fund), which receives support from American Jews through the American Joint Distribution Committee.

When the new refugee tide began last year French Jews thus had an experienced apparatus with some degree of financial backing. But the incoming tide threatens to swamp facilities.

For the current year, the Fonds Social Juif Unifie and the AJDC have a joint budget of about $5 million. The French Jewish community, including some well-known fortunes, has been contributing an increasingly larger share of the total. French Jews this year are donating about $1.5 million to the fund, or roughly double what they gave a few years ago. Funds also are being sent by the British Jewish committee and by smaller Jewish communities in the rest of the continent.

Too Sensible To Be A Law
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—The Missouri Legislature is considering a bill to control the sale of items on Sunday, and trying to modernize a 138-year-old law.

Rep. Lucian T. Mace, R-Miller County, a man from the Ozark Mountain area with long dark hair, proposed sale of tobacco products be banned.

"If you can't buy a little kid a rubber duck or a rubber ball on Sunday, why let daddy buy a 10-cent cigar?" he asked.

His tobacco amendment was voted down.

"I always get a lot of laughs but not many votes," he said ruefully.

LUNCH BOX IDEAS

Every working day, according to projected results of a survey conducted in the summer of 1961, an average of over 19 1/2 million wage earners take lunch to work. Altogether the weekly total of lunches brought from home by these hungry workers exceeds 98 million. Moreover, indications are that this high proportion of wage earners carrying lunch to work will remain constant for some time to come.

According to those who best know these lunch carrying wage earners and the contents of their lunches — the wage earner wives and mothers who buy the ingredients and make the lunches — these are hearty meals away from home, comprising, literally in some cases, everything from soup to nuts. Capsule results of an examination of the lunch habits of the one wage earner in each family (usually the husband) who most regularly carries the lunch to work reveal that:

- More than 90% usually take one or more sandwiches
- More than 90% take one or more desserts
- More than 70% take other foods (vegetables, hard boiled eggs, cheese, condiments, canned foods, etc.)
- Nearly 60% take one or more thermos bottles full of coffee, milk, soup and other liquids.
- Between 25% and 30% take salads.
- Aluminum foil is a popular wrap for keeping lunch box foods fresh and tasty. Sandwiches can be made ahead, wrapped in foil and stored in the deep freeze until they are to be used.
- All this despite the fact that nearly a third of those studied work in companies which have employe cafeterias available to them.

Wheat Farmers May Change Minds Next Year, Says JFK

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy says the nation's wheat farmers who voted down his crop control program will have smaller incomes and bigger surpluses. He believes they may change their minds and approve controls next year.

"I think we could have made important progress with our wheat surplus if we had been successful," Kennedy told a news conference Wednesday. It may be that with the experience we are going to have now, the farmers may agree with that next year.

Whether farmers get the chance to vote on production controls next year depends on whether Congress passes any new wheat legislation before next June.

The President said Wednesday a new bill isn't likely to be enacted and administration farm leaders in Congress backed him up. But Republicans took steps to continue the present voluntary controls.

The administration plan turned down in a national referendum Tuesday would have provided tighter controls and higher price supports. By rejecting the program the wheat farmers chose low supports for those who voluntarily cut production and none for those who reject any acreage controls.

On the heels of the program's rejection:

In Chicago, prices of wheat for future delivery dropped as much as 9 cents a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade. They rallied later however, and closed unchanged to 1 1/4 cents a bushel lower.

In Canada, a cloud of uncertainty appeared over the future of grain farming in that country. Farm organizations in western Canada foresee possible depression of world wheat prices and reduction of Canadian growers' income.

Farm state GOP legislators greeted the program's defeat jubilantly and suggested that the usefulness of Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman had come to an end—a point Kennedy rejected.

Farm income is higher than it has been any time since 1953, the President said, "and I think Mr. Freeman deserves some of the credit for it."

Of the massive rejection of his program, Kennedy declared: "The farmers have chosen to plant freely without controls and without that high support. Even though I didn't agree with the choice, I recognize and accept it and we hope that it does not have an adverse effect."

On Capitol Hill, Democratic congressional leaders made it clear there will be no "bail out" legislation for the wheat growers.

Chairman Allen J. Ellender, D-La., of the Senate Agriculture Committee said "the farmers have voted themselves out of a program and I wish them well."

Chairman Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., of the House Agriculture Committee said growers now are free "to plant the whole face of the earth in wheat at prices one-third to one-half below the prices provided by the program they rejected."

"I intend to respect their decision and I do not believe the Congress will now consider any legislation to interfere with that choice," he added.

Republicans thought otherwise. Sen. Karl Mundt, R-S.D., who favored the wheat controls Kennedy proposed, offered a bill for a two-year extension of the present government price support and voluntary controls program.

Rep. Albert Quie, R-Minn., put in a bill to include wheat with feed grains in a voluntary acreage reduction plan with the observation that the referendum represented a crossroads in which the wheat farmers really determined the direction American agriculture wants to go."
