African Nations Move Toward Political Unity

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP)—Leaders of independent Africa Sunday adopted a bold plan aimed at turning their nations into a single powerful political force dedicated to eradicating foreign and white-minority rule from the continent.

Against Portugal, a colonial nation, and South Africa, ruled by a white-supremacist government, the African leaders decided to apply such boycott measures as refusing air space and landing facilities for South African planes.

The task of actively aiding nationalist guerrillas in the colonies was turned over to a nine-nation committee.

The unanimous adoption of the charter, the first step toward pooling the continent's human and material resources, and the sweeping resolutions underlined the Africans' desire to fight underdevelopment and acquire equal status in the world.

Memorial Day Ceremony Set

A Big Spring native returns Thursday to take part in the annual Memorial Day Ceremony.

Rear Admiral John Quinn, now serving as director of Pan American Affairs, will be guest speaker at the event to be conducted this year at the Veterans Administration Hospital. It is being sponsored jointly by the VA Hospital and the American Legion Post No. 355.

The Senior High School Band will open the program with music at 10 a.m., and a Webb Air Force Base Color Guard will present the Colors. After welcome by V. J. Belda, hospital director, Dr. Halvard T. Hansen, of the American Legion Post, will present the guest speaker.

Gold Star Mothers will again be guests of honor. A special section will be reserved for seating the Mothers and transportation to and from the ceremony can be arranged through the hospital.

The invocation will be given by the Rev. C. O. Hitt, chaplain for the hospital.

Rear Admiral Quinn is a familiar figure to many Big Springers. He has returned here many times for brief visits whenever his duties permitted it. He completed training at the U. S. Naval Academy in 1928 and only last year his son, Ensign Tommy Quinn, followed in his father's footsteps.

Soviet Spies After Polaris Secrets

LONDON (AP) — Britain's spy catchers believe the Soviet espionage system soon will mount a great assault on the West with one major objective—to get the U.S. Navy's Polaris secrets.

To this end shadowy Russian agents, using techniques as old as sin itself, even now may be blackmailing a Westerner into feeding information into a Soviet spy net. These are among the implications of lessons learned from the Vassall case.

British security men are deeply involved in efforts to foil the Russians. The idea this time is to keep ahead of the other side—to spot potential security risks before any damage has been done.

The British detectives' task is far from simple.

Soon Britain will possess information about Polaris missiles under terms of the Kennedy-MacMillan agreement. When Britain's own Polaris submarine fleet begins to take shape some of the secrets along with construction contracts will make their way to private industry. The security screen will have to be enlarged.

Informants predict this will be the time of maximum danger.

To meet the expected Russian moves, Britain's counter-espionage agents figuratively must operate with old-fashioned cloaks and rusty daggers.

Of all the great powers Britain's security arrangements seem the most haphazard. They are

Dr. Smith To End District Tenure

Whatever else comes from the annual Northwest Texas Methodist Conference it is almost certain that the Big Spring district will lose Dr. H. Clyde Smith as superintendent.

The beloved minister is due to be assigned to a pastorate in evening with a policy of rotation from superintendencies after a maximum of six years. There is no indication as to his successor.

Dr. Smith said Friday in Abilene where he has been attending the cabinet sessions in advance of conference opening Monday that he and Mrs. Smith would return here Friday and be in Big Spring until about June 5.

Dr. Smith spent most of his ministry in the Northwest Conference, having transferred from East Texas after feeling the call to preach. He is a graduate of West Texas State College and held his first pastorate at Roaring Springs where he was pastor from 1923-27.

Other pastorates include Happy 1927-31, Tahoka 1931-35, San Jacinto (Amarillo) 1935 - 41, Big Spring First Methodist 1941-49.

DR. H. CLYDE SMITH

Pampa First Methodist 1946 - 49, San Jacinto (Amarillo) 1954 - 57. Dr. Smith was superintendent of the Abilene district in 1949-54 and came to Big Spring as superintendent in 1957.

During that period the district has experienced exceptional growth. Actually, almost one-third of the conference growth in the past five years has occurred in this district.

Contributing in a measure to this was the organization of four new churches, Wesley, Andrew, Kentwood, Big Spring, Northridge, Lamesa, St. Paul, Midland. These started with 173 members and at last conference report had 1,279. One of them, St. Paul's, rocketed from 104 to 794. The combined budgets rose from almost nothing to $90,000. The 33 churches in the district have spent $1,602,000 in expansion, of this a million and a quarter in 20 church plants.

Lamesa's Electric Rates To Be Cut

LAMESA (SC)—A rate reduction proposed by Texas Electric Service Company here has been accepted by Lamesa City Council.

LeRoy Olsak, manager of the TESCO office here, presented a schedule of reduced residential and general service electric rates that will result in an average reduction in residential bills of 8.2 per cent and an average dip in commercial-industrial bills of 9.3 per cent. The new rates will become effective on June 20.

The last rate increase of 3.3 per cent was granted here in December of 1961. It is the sixth voluntary reduction by TESCO in Lamesa.

Rev. Navarro Is Returned

The Rev. Ramon Navarro, pastor of the Methodist Mission, 600 N. Goliad, has been reassigned to the church here for another year. This will be his third year in Big Spring.

He has returned from Kerrville and the Rio Grande Conference of the Methodist Church, the Spanish-speaking division of the Methodist Church in Texas. The meeting covered the work in both Texas and New Mexico and adjourned on Friday.

Among outstanding developments of the conference was the creation of a new district for the northwest part of the state to be called the Central District. Headquarters will be in Lubbock. District Superintendent for the new district is the Rev. Narciso Saenz, Dallas. He will move to Lubbock soon.

Pastors reappointed, in addition to Rev. Navarro:

Colorado City, Enrique C. Piqueno; Midland, Vicente Moreno; Odessa, Jose Y. Solveto; Lamesa, Fidel Alcalá; Lubbock, Ben Zermeno and Amarillo, Daniel Arguño. Newly appointed pastors are Silvestre Gallardo, San Angelo; and Rodrigo Castillo, Abilene.

WE ARE "LEARNERS"

In Australia a person who has not received a driver's license, but is learning to drive, must display a large "L" on his automobile. This means, "I am a learner. I am likely to make mistakes. Please take care!"

Every member of the Lord's church is a learner (disciple). We must not claim perfection. Self-righteousness (a claim of perfection) on our part will turn people from the way to which we are pointing. We have a perfect Teacher and a perfect rule-book, but we have not mastered the rules.

The apostle Paul said: "Not that I have already obtained, or am already made perfect, but I press on." (Phil 3:12).

(From Truth in Love, Melbourne, Australia).

You are invited to come and study the divine rule-book with us today. Bible classes for adults and children, 9:30 a.m. Communion and sermon, 10:30 and 7. Be "learners" with us.

By F. H. Taylor, preacher for Christ's church, 2000 West Highway 85, where you are always welcome.

Ten Breath-Taking Acts Pace Aerial Performances Today

For two hours this afternoon spectators at the Air Show will see ace pilots and aerial performers flit with death as they whiz through one spectacular air act after another.

Harold Krier, Charles Hillard and Leslie "Reds" Didget, individually and in team shows, will demonstrate what has made this group the best National Air Show in the country.

Didget will start the performance by leaping from a plane at 2,000 feet in the American Flag Para-Jump specialty of the troupe.

Free As A Bird

Leslie "Reds" Didget is almost as comfortable as a bird when he floats through the air in performances with the National Air Show. He will make two jumps, one from almost two miles, today at Howard County Airport.

CHARLES HILLARD

Makes Plane Do Impossible

The youngest member of the National Air Show is a 24-year-old native Texan named Charles Hillard Jr. He also happens to be the nation's youngest precision acrobatic ace.

Hillard, who hails from Fort Worth, is a top-flight performer and two-time winner of the triple-A Light Plane Aerobatic Championship. He is also given credit for being the greatest "dead stick" acrobatic pilot in America.

"It can't be done," America's recognized air experts said of Hillard's "dead stick" repertoire, but today the youthful performer will again show that it can be done.

Starting at 3,000 feet, Hillard will cut his switch, stopping his plane's engine completely. He will then put the tiny 620-pound sport monoplane through maneuvers which will end with a one wheel landing.

The Texan is equally as adept at handling the clipped-wing plane when all four cylinders of the engine are working at their utmost.

Hillard is also considered one of America's foremost skydivers. He was a member of the United States Olympic skydiving team in 1959-60 which placed third in international competition at Paris, France.

Didget Near 300 Mark

Leslie "Reds" Didget, who makes his home in Collegeville, Pa., started his jumping career in 1959 and is fast approaching the 300 jump mark. This jump master made his first parachute leap on his first airplane ride.

"Reds" is a graduate from an accounting college, but when he started work he found he did not like the confinement of an office. Now all he has around him when he does his work are the straps of his parachute and plenty of air.

Didget starts the National Air Show off by leaping from a plane at 2,000 feet and opening a red, white and blue parachute in an American Flag Para-Jump spectacular. Later he climbs via a rope ladder from a speeding car to an airplane flying overhead at about 100 miles an hour.

Another way Didget gets all the fresh air he needs is to ride the top wing of the Great Lakes Special plane of the show while its pilot, Harold Krier, puts the ship through a series of acrobatic maneuvers.

Addresses Class

B. M. Keese, Howard County Junior College registrar, was graduation speaker for the senior class at Roscoe High School Friday night. Mr. Keese spoke on the "Unchanging World." There were 19 graduates in the senior class. The auditorium was jammed to capacity for the exercises.

Veteran Announcer To Narrate Show

The voice for today's Air Show at Howard County Airport will be an old hand at the business. He is Bill Sweet, who has been talking his way through air shows for 38 years.

Sweet is director-announcer for this and numerous other aviation sporting events.

"At the first air show for which there was a charge in 1930, we collected 10 cents a person. The total gate was $90," Sweet said.

Sweet, a native of Columbus, Ohio, has directed and announced every major national air sports event in this country since 1930. He has become an international personality as "Bill Sweet" in the Mosley comic strip "Smilin' Jack."

He has a feature column, "Cruising with Bill Sweet," which appears each month in Aviation News Illustrated magazine.

Simultaneously he will open his chute and unfurl a giant American flag. As he floats to the ground, Krier and Hillard will circle the jumper with billowy trails of white smoke. Exploding aerial bombs serve as a background for the playing of the National Anthem.

Krier and Hillard team up for the second part of the show in executing the Cuban eight, loops, a bomb burst, cobra roll and a head-on snap roll.

Hillard is a lone performer in the third act as he goes through maneuvers of championship caliber in a light plane power aerobatics display.

"Reds" Didget becomes a part of the upper wing of the Krier's bi-plane in the fourth performance. He stands atop the plane while Krier puts the plane through a series of loops, Cuban eights and a low-level inverted fly-by.

DEAD STICK
In the fifth act Charles Hillard, the nation's youngest precision acrobatic ace, has the sky to himself as he goes through a series of "dead stick" maneuvers in his clipped-wing sport monoplane.

At 3,000 feet Hillard will cut the switch of his engine, whip upward in a full cobra roll, stall and drop in an 11-turn spin, right the plane and send it into loops, Texas eights and barber poll rolls. The performance climaxes with Hillard landing on one wheel in front of the crowd.

The automobile and airplane both take part in the sixth attraction. While Krier flies a sport monoplane with a 12-foot rope ladder dangling from the underside, Didget, who is in a car speeding below at about 100 miles an hour, will grab the rope ladder and scramble up to the plane.

COMEDY-BATICS
A demonstration on how not to fly is the seventh event in a performance of comedy-batics.

In the eighth act, Krier will take only 16 minutes to put his plane through the 10 basic maneuvers which are required to determine the grand national championship.

The ninth performance has Krier looking upside down at the earth as he first flies inverted through a simulated hangar door. Then, still in the inverted position, Krier spears a small red ribbon strung 20 feet above the turf between two cane poles.

The final scene has Didget dropping almost two miles, gliding earthward in a series of twist-turn-rolls. His flight path will be marked by a smoke trail. At 1,500 feet Didget trips his parachute release cord and floats to land in front of the crowd.

HAROLD KRIER

Skydiver Is Without Peer

Harold Krier, shy champion of the United States, was a flight engineer on B-17's and B-26's during World War II, but he did not learn to fly until later.

Using his GI bill at Garden City, Kans., Krier took his flying training and obtained an FAA pilot's license, as well as an airplane and engine engineering inspector license.

Krier soon built his first experimental plane, a Pipe Cub powered with a four-cylinder, 85 horsepower engine. After much practice, Krier found he was not completely satisfied with the plane's maneuverability. He and his brother, Larry, bought a 1932 model Great Lakes bi-plane, and for two years they worked to rebuild and modify the "biplane."

Then followed more hours of exacting test flying. It paid off, for the plane is now acclaimed as the finest special purpose aircraft ever produced in the United States. With it Krier has captured every major sport flying precision airmanship award during the past five years.

In addition to being America's precision acrobatic flying expert, Krier is a performer for movies and television. He has been featured on "Danger Is My Business" and "Sports Spectacular."

Krier has won the title of "Sky Champion — U.S.A." every year since 1959. He is a three-time winner of the National Precision Aerobatic contests. Since 1959 he has been winner of the Colonel Joe Mackey Trophy.

Back From Hospital

Carl Strom, Big Spring real estate developer, who has been in a hospital in Houston for surgery, has returned to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Hershel Ezell, in Midland. He and Mrs. Strom will be back at their residence here at 501 Westover on Sunday.

Giant Explosions Rock Baton Rouge

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Two pre-dawn explosions Saturday broke windows in the skyscraper Capitol built by Huey Long and rocked students out of their bunks in a Louisiana State University dormitory.

No one was hurt. The motive and the method remained mysterious as police sifted through a skimpy collection of clues.

"We just don't know what was the cause of it all," said Police Chief Wingate White.

"We don't know whether he is a nut or just a prankster," said Inspector Howard Kidder, who headed the search for the bomber.

Both blasts occurred on open ground away from buildings—the first on the LSU campus in a parking lot in the vicinity of the combination football stadium and dormitory, the second on the edge of a spacious sunken garden in front of the Capitol.

The two sites are about four miles apart in this southern industrial city of about 170,000 population. The explosions came about 30 minutes apart.

The only clues disclosed by police were three pieces of an automobile — the right front door handle, a piece of chrome trim and a muffler.

A student told police he saw a car speeding away from the stadium dormitory shortly after the blast. The car scraped a traffic sign and lost its door handle and a piece of chrome trim. Then, it bounced over the neutral ground in the divided road and lost its muffler.

These were the third and fourth explosions — all of them unexplained — in Baton Rouge the past two months.

A dynamite blast ripped out the rear of a nearly completed brick building, home of Southern National Life Insurance Co., on March 22. A blast occurred on the LSU campus the night of May 4. It did no damage.

Louisiana's Legislature is in its fiscal session this month, but both the House and Senate had adjourned for the weekend.

Baton Rouge hasn't had serious racial demonstrations since December, 1961, when police used tear gas to disperse a crowd of marching Negroes protesting lunch counter segregation.

Next Area Parley Of JPs Set Here

Martin Gibson, Stanton Justice of the Peace, and newly elected president of the West Texas Justices of the Peace and Constables Association, has announced that the 1964 convention of the association will be in Big Spring.

Gibson said that no official date has been set but that the meeting will probably be in the latter part of May.

Gibson was elected president at the meeting attended by 50 in Lamesa last week.

Walter Grice, Big Spring Justice of the Peace, was elected as secretary-treasurer.

Probation Revoked

STANTON — Judge Ralph Canton, 118th District Court, Friday revoked probation of Conway Arnold Pears who had pleaded guilty previously to a charge of driving while intoxicated second offense. Pears had been sentenced to a year in jail and a fine of $250. He failed, the court was advised, to live up to his probation. HCJC 18

Ghost Town Slates Reunion June 8-9

A deserted building in a ghost town will come to life on June 8-9. On this date, more than 1,000 students, teachers and patrons will meet to renew old friendships and associations started in the Thurber schools.

This gathering and reunion is unique because it is being held in a town that no longer exists. Thurber, a town that once was the largest between Fort Worth and El Paso, was a cosmopolitan city whose citizens came from all over the world. Thurber thrived on coal mining, then faded with advent of oil and gas discoveries.

Registrations expected at this reunion will read from Aaron to Zuniga, with Farneschski and Ogletree in between; from Hiatt who left Thurber in the sixth grade to Livingston who graduated in the last graduating class in 1935.

Suslov Is Sighted As Red No. 2 Man

MOSCOW (AP)—The lanky smiling figure most frequently seen at Premier Khrushchev's elbow these days is the Kremlin's little-known "Red Professor," Mikhail Andreyevich Suslov.

The dour Marxist theoretician, 61, appears to have moved quietly into Soviet hierarchy's No. 2 power seat vacated by ailing N. S. Khrushchev.

Suslov has taken over many of Khrushchev's duties as Khrushchev's ever-ready secretary of the massive party apparatus. He faces one of the toughest assignments on the Kremlin's docket—handling negotiations starting July 5 with the Chinese Reds.

Suslov has been Khrushchev's key adviser in the four-year-old ideological struggle with Peking's leaders. He is credited with mapping much of the Soviet's strategy.

Since then, Khrushchev and Suslov appear to have been working closely together on relations with the Chinese.

The argument has been conducted in the jargon of Marxist ideology in some times subtly worded statements in official propaganda organs.

Khrushchev, whose long suit is practical politics, not theoretical exercises, clearly has leaned heavily on his chief Kremlin "egghead" for guidance.

Many think Suslov served as a sort of bridge in the transitional period from Stalinism, through the brief period of Georgi Malenkov's premiership, to the era of Khrushchev.

Suslov once was regarded as a protégé of Malenkov. He was powerful when Malenkov was Stalin's right hand man.

He is a bookish, withdrawn figure. He rose quickly during the bloody purges of 1937-38. In 1941 he became a member of the central committee and was a political commissar during the war.

Suslov supervised mass deportations from occupied Lithuania in 1944.

After Stalin's death Suslov appeared to have withdrawn into his propaganda work, steering clear of the struggle for power.

Suslov's stature was underscored Nov. 20, his 60th birthday. Pravda carried a big photograph of Suslov on its front page, hailed him for his services to the party and announced new honors for him, including the Order of Lenin.

Suslov appears to be a good bet to be close at Khrushchev's side for some time to come.

Scholarship Winners Are Announced

Douglas Earnest Coahoma, and June Ritchey, Westbrook, have been announced by W. H. Cooper, president, as winners of the first annual scholarships given by the Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative.

Douglas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Earnest, Sand Springs, and is a senior at Coahoma High School. June is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ritchey, Star Route, Colorado City, and is a senior in Westbrook High.

Each will receive $300 from the cooperative to apply on books, tuition, dormitory fees, etc. in the college of their choice. Present plans for Douglas are for him to enter Howard County Junior College, while June plans to enroll at Arlington State College.

Cooper expressed appreciation to all students in Colorado City, Westbrook, Lorraine, Roscoe, Highland, Hermleigh, Ira and Coahoma who participated. Sixty-six seniors applied, and the field was reduced to eight—four boys and four girls—whose essays were judged without names attached. Screening the essays were Joe Bell, publisher of the Colorado City Record, Olaf South, Sweetwater school superintendent, and Bruce Frazier, head of the H.C.J.C. agriculture department.

Participants wrote on the history and development of the Lone Wolf Cooperative from its inception in 1939, incorporating human interest stories with statistics.

Clothing, Mattress Thefts Reported

More than $100 worth of clothing and assorted items were reported taken from the car of Andy Gamboa, 305 N. Lancaster, some time Friday evening. Gamboa said the articles were taken while the car was parked on the lot at the Bowl-A-Rama.

Saturday morning J. E. McNeese, 807 N. Scurry, told police that a mattress valued at about $30 was taken from his garage late Friday night or early Saturday morning. Entry into the garage was made by removing a board which acted as a lock on the inside of the garage.

Some believe Moscow's restraint and stubbornly conciliatory attitude in the face of vitriolic Chinese and Albanian attacks is largely due to Suslov's influence.

Suslov flew to Peking in 1959 to placate Peking's leaders who were fuming over Khrushchev's good will tour of the United States.

The Soviet leader himself showed up a few days later, straight from Washington, to answer the Chinese criticism of his talks with President Eisenhower.

Although Suslov appeared somewhat less enthusiastic than Khrushchev about the possibilities for relaxing East-West tensions by diplomacy at the summit, he firmly backed his chief's rejection of the Chinese protests.

New Dominican Issues Decorative

By HAROLD C. PERDUE
Dominica has this month released a new definitive set of seventeen stamps, according to the Crown Agent's Representatives in Washington, D. C. The values range from 1 cent through $4.80. Each stamp includes a portrait of Queen Elizabeth II, but 15 also show special scenes from the country. The 10-cent value pictures a Crapaud, a native frog. The 14-cent is a picture of a colorful native costume. The nation's coat-of-arms is on the $1.20 value, and a Sisserou parrot is shown on the 24-cent issue.

4 in Washington, but it is in 5-cent denomination.

The Texas Philatelic Association Convention will be in Fort Worth, Texas on June 21-23 and a special convention station has been approved by the Post Office Department with a special cancellation die for those dates.

What about collecting stamps for the Iron Curtain countries? Like all things philatelic, there are no hard and fast rules. One should remember, of course, that there is an embargo against goods from Cuba, including stamps. It is now unlawful for anyone in the U.S. to import Cuban stamps for sale. I will try to answer this question more fully in next week's column.

From Canada has come news of a new 2 and 3-cent regular issue that went on sale earlier this month. These new stamps show a portrait of Queen Elizabeth II done by Ernest Roch and are the last stamps in the series of low denominations begun last October. Each of the stamps bear in the upper left hand corner a symbol of a segment of the Canadian economy. On the new 2-cent stamp is a tree, symbolic of Canada's forestry and forest products industries. On the 3-cent, there is a fish, representative of the fishing industry.

NEW NICARAGUANS
Nicaragua has released several new issues recently. Included is a 50-cent adhesive showing a Liberty Bell, for the 150th anniversary of Independence. Three values are in a set for the tercentenary of the death of St. Vincent de Paul and St. Louise de Marillac, a 60-cent and a 1 and 2-cent. Thailand has issued a multicolored for the anniversary of the Asian-Oceania Postal Union and a bicolor semi-postal for the 100th anniversary of the Red Cross.

Belgium has issued a bicolor stamp showing an old mail coach in the market place for the 1963 Stamp Day. Upper Volta in Africa has honored the Meteorological Day of the U.N. with a multicolored issue. Poland has issued nine bicolors that show thoroughbred dogs for the 15th anniversary of the Polish Kennel Club. El Salvador has made a provisional surcharge of 6-cent on 15-cent and 10-cent on 80-cent on certain recent issues.

FIRST DAY COVERS
Collectors of first day covers are reminded that the first day of the 1-cent Jackson stamps in coils will be May 31 in Chicago. First Day Covers may be received in the usual manner but each should remember that each cover must carry the 5-cent postal rate. The Food for Peace will be issued June

Area Lakes Show Gain

Rains last week added almost 12,000 acre feet to area lakes. (Three acre feet approximates 1,000,000 gallons.)

As usual, the biggest amount was caught in Lake J. B. Thomas, the Colorado River Municipal Water District reservoir, where a 8,800 acre foot increase was noted. This boosted the reserve there to 123,000 acre feet (roughly 61 billion gallons).

Lake Colorado City, the Texas Electric Service reservoir southwest of Colorado City, gained 7 of a foot, accounting for an estimated 1,000 acre feet. Champion Creek Lake, to the southeast across the Colorado River, gained 1.7 feet, adding about 1,500 acre feet to that reservoir. Together, Powell Creek (which came up more than four feet) and Moss Creek, in southeast Howard County, caught about 500 acre feet.

Congress Looks For A New Measure For Wheat Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—A move is expected in Congress this week to provide a substitute for the Kennedy administration's rigid wheat control program, soundly defeated at a grower referendum Tuesday.

This action may have bipartisan sponsorship designed to take the wheat program out of party politics and thereby improve chances of enacting a bill.

Before the referendum, administration spokesmen were taking a somewhat different attitude now. They indicate the administration will take a look at alternative plans.

DEMOS ON SPOT

Obviously, Democrats do not want to go into next year's elections in wheat areas and be faced with Republican charges that the party in power thwarted efforts to provide a new program that would keep wheat prices and markets from going to pot, as Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman has said they would if the administration plan was defeated.

Indications are that a coalition of cotton-state Democrats, wanting a different program for that crop from that now advocated by the administration, and Republicans wanting a new wheat program, will get together to pass new programs for these two crops.

FARM BUREAU PLAN

The first move to get a new wheat plan is expected to be patterned after proposals of the American Farm Bureau Federation, which led the fight to defeat the Kennedy wheat plan. The cotton bill also would be along lines advocated by the Farm Bureau and cotton grower groups from Mississippi west through Texas to California.

It is possible that the wheat bill will be introduced by Sens. Clinton Anderson, D-N.M., Spessard Holland, D-Fla., George Aiken, R-Vt., and Bourke Hickenlooper, R-Iowa.

It is reported also that a cotton bill having bipartisan sponsorship will be introduced a little later. The grain bill would repeal the administration's recently enacted feed grain program, eliminate all acreage and marketing quotas on grains, provide for somewhat lower grain price supports than advocated by the administration, and set up a new cropland retirement program.

Code of ethics

The Senate killed a House-passed measure to prevent state officials from investing in businesses over which they have control, and to prevent legislators from accepting fees from clients under state regulation.

Other bills — The Senate failed to consider a House measure to lower the voting age to 20. Slant — hole drilling — The House passed the Senate a measure to create a "theft of oil" statute which penalizes stiffer than present theft laws. It died in a Senate committee.

Government's terms

The Senate passed a proposed constitutional amendment, on which the House failed to act, to limit governors to two elected terms. The proposal was in the Democratic Party platform last year.

Communism vs. capitalism — Over protests of the bill's sponsor, the House passed to the Senate a bill requiring high schools to teach the differences in American and Communist philosophies. The Senate State Affairs Committee never held a hearing on the bill.

Liquor by the drink — Rep. Jake Johnson's bill died in a subcommittee.

Many Bills Remain In Austin Hopper

AUSTIN (AP)—The 58th legislature passed a healthy number of bills and left behind more measures than it passed.

A total of 1,608 bills and several hundred resolutions were introduced during the 137 day session. This session probably will closely parallel the 57th legislature, when 551 of the 1,614 measures introduced were passed.

Some measures, such as bills to increase college tuition, died when they became unnecessary. The legislature passed a $33 million tax bill, which added enough revenue to meet spending plans.

Others, such as a bill to require combination or "pooling" of oil leases, ran into such strong opposition that its sponsor dropped efforts at passage. Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler was an opposition leader.

Others, such as a bill to tax trading stamps, got so little support they died in subcommittee.

BILLS THAT DIED

Proposals which died this session include:

Women's rights — The Senate passed in February the proposed constitutional amendment to prohibit discrimination because of sex, but the controversial measure died in the House.

Primary dates — The House killed 9-7-41 early in the session an attempt to change the "Lyndon Johnson" May primary dates to August.

Code of ethics — The Senate killed a House-passed measure to prevent state officials from investing in businesses over which they have control, and to prevent legislators from accepting fees from clients under state regulation.

Other bills — The Senate failed to consider a House measure to lower the voting age to 20. Slant — hole drilling — The House passed the Senate a measure to create a "theft of oil" statute which penalizes stiffer than present theft laws. It died in a Senate committee.

U. S. To Guard New Targets

OTTAWA (AP)—The United States has pledged to take over major strategic targets left uncovered by any withdrawal of British V-bombers from Europe.

This evidently new American commitment to Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, supreme Allied commander in Europe — SACEUR — was reported Saturday by a high source in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

U.S. authorities who have been attending the session of the NATO Council of Ministers here this week said they were not able immediately to confirm the information. But one official said, "It makes sense."

Lemnitzer and his staff are currently negotiating with the British government terms under which the Royal Air Force's 100 V-bombers are to be deployed with in the new inter-allied nuclear force.

The delicate and complex problems involved were discussed at some length by Lemnitzer and British Defense Minister Peter Thorneycroft in Ottawa last week.

Lemnitzer already has made firm arrangements with the U.S. government concerning deployment of the three Polaris submarines assigned to his command.

NATO chiefs report privately that negotiations with the British thus far have proceeded smoothly. Final agreement is expected in early July.

Texas Teachers Against U.S. Aid, Survey Shows

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas Parent-Teacher Association units favor maximum local control of schools rather than more federal aid to education, the state P-TA headquarters says.

In a letter to local unit presidents, Mrs. W. J. Danforth of Fort Worth state president, disclosed last week the results of a recent survey concerning the National Congress legislative program.

She said of the 1,470 units, or 54 per cent, who answered the survey, 1,014 voted against a survey statement, "We are in favor of any further extension of federal aid to education."

The Texas Congress has taken a position against more federal aid, Mrs. Danforth said, but this position is not part of the national legislative program.

Racial Showdown Coming In Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—

Legal suits were filed this week for the South's last great segregationist stand against the power of the federal government on the segregation issue.

Diminutive Gov. George C. Wallace, a fiery foe of federal segregation, vowed his stand would be at the door of the University of Alabama to prevent the enrollment of two Negroes.

President Kennedy grimly warned that federal court orders would be executed, without the use of troops if possible.

Alabama's governor is the last of the Southern state chieftains to defy the federal government. And Alabama thus far remains the only state without even token desegregation of its public schools.

The showdown was set up Friday when the Justice Department petitioned a Birmingham federal judge for an injunction against any interference by Wallace in the enrollment of the Negro students at the university.

"This action is brought by the United States in its sovereign capacity to safeguard the due administration of justice in its judicial process," said the complaint signed by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

No governor, the suit said, has the authority under any cloak to prevent the execution of federal court decrees.

Wallace, ordered to appear for a June 3 hearing in Birmingham, planned his next move in secrecy.

He pledged Tuesday that under the sovereign power of his state he would personally bar the entrance of any Negro to the once-segregated university.

This was the same route followed by Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi before the University of Mississippi enrolled a Negro student. And it was similar to the original defiance of Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas over Little Rock integration.

At least two persons were injured by the tornado that overturned two large house trailers about eight miles southeast of Wichita near Rose Hill.

A second twister was sighted but it didn't touch ground.

The hail, mostly golf ball size, but ranging up to two inches in diameter, smashed windows, dented cars and stripped foliage all over the city.

Wheat fields in a 20-mile radius of the city were ravaged. One observer said the fields "looked like a war had been fought over them."

Torrents of water poured through the city streets, invading downtown stores, the Lassen Hotel and the Orpheum Theater.

CONQUERORS OF MT. EVEREST

They Saw The U.S. Flag, Climbed Right Up To It

Standing with the flag on the world's highest peak, William F. Unsoeld, 36, Corvallis, Ore., and Thomas F. Hornbein, 32, San Diego, Calif., made mountain climbing history. They were the first men on record to make a successful climb on Everest by way of the perilous west ridge.

The climb, Hornbein reported by radio, was "generally pretty unpleasant" with rock ledges sloping downward. When he and Unsoeld saw the flag, he said, "We aimed straight for it."

Hornbein said he and Unsoeld climbed part of the time on Everest's north face, slightly down from the crest of the ridge. According to the latest maps and an expedition spokesman, the north face is technically in Tibet.

Hornbein said most of the going was on rock until they reached the summit snowfield. Westerly winds kept the rock snow free.

These bits of information on the first double U.S. conquest of Mt. Everest began filtering down to headquarters here over walkie-talkie radios carried by the climbers. They held back on a full report because the radio batteries were running low.

New Premier Designated For Italy

ROME (AP)—Christian Democrat leader Aldo Moro emerged Saturday from behind the scenes of Italian politics and was formally designated Italy's next premier.

He said he will try to form a center-left government "faithful to the Atlantic alliance."

Until a general election last month upset the Italian political scene, Moro was the Christian Democrats' "Mr. Inside" while Premier Amintore Fanfani was their "Mr. Outside."

But the election tarnished Fanfani's image and President Antonio Segni turned Saturday to Moro, a soft-spoken, 46-year-old Bari law professor who had been largely instrumental in forging the center-left coalition that Fanfani headed.

It was a coalition of the Christian Democratic party and the Republican and Democratic Socialist parties. The Marxist Socialist party of Pietro Nenni provided indirect support in parliament.

Minutes after receiving the mandate from Segni, Moro said he will try to base his government on the same parties, which control about 60 per cent of the votes in parliament.

His statement was vague concerning the Marxist Socialists. He said simply that they should be part of his majority. But he did not say whether they should have cabinet posts.

They did not have ministries in Fanfani's Cabinet, and Nenni said Friday that his Socialist role in any new government would be the same as it was under Fanfani.

Greensboro Has Racial Truce

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Negro students called a temporary halt to their anti-segregation demonstrations Saturday night, giving civic officials the weekend to work out a solution to the city's racial crisis.

Bill Thomas, 20, a sociology student who has led 14 consecutive nights of demonstrations, announced that protest marches have been suspended until 4 p.m. Monday.

He said this would give Mayor David Schenk and businessmen time to work on the problem.

Thomas, a North Carolina A&T College student and president of the Greensboro Chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality, had just attended a two-hour meeting 500 Negroes at Providence Baptist Church.

He told newsmen that if a satisfactory move toward desegregation of restaurants, movie theaters and other facilities is not found by Monday afternoon, "there will be no excuse and the demonstrations will be resumed with a more concentrated effort than ever before."

'Mobile Courts' New Cuban Terror

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Officially, they are "mobile courts" but the Cuban people call them "death on wheels."

Comprising the courts, Carrio said, are five men named by Fidel Castro's militia and usually without legal knowledge.

"After a short procedure, they carry out the penalty asked by the prosecutor who always is a Communist lawyer," said Carrio.

Refuses To Tell Where $325,000 Loot Is Hidden

TORONTO, Ont. (AP)—A Canadian armored car driver accused in a $325,000 theft from the vehicle in Vancouver smilingly kept a secret Saturday. He refused to tell where the loot is hidden.
"It's for me to know and up to you to find out," the driver, Douglas John Brown, 33, commented at Idlewild Airport in New York as he was being taken back to Canada, he was picked up Friday in Brazil.
Newsmen at Idlewild asked Brown whether he thought he could clear himself of a theft charge facing him.
"I doubt it very much," he replied. "They're after the money. I know where it is."
Then he added that he wasn't telling.
"Are you going to make a trade or deal?" a newsman asked.
"Right," said Brown.
The implication was that he would reveal the hiding place in return for a light penalty. But there was no indication Canadian authorities would agree to a deal.

Brazilian police took Brown into custody in a Rio de Janeiro hotel at which he had been staying since Monday.
Vancouver police said Brown had been missing since he and another man employed by the Loomis Armored Car Service had collected about $550,000 in cash and checks from 48 supermarkets last Saturday.
Police later recovered $220,000 in nonnegotiable checks and $5,000 in cash in an automobile abandoned at the Vancouver airport. The other armored car employee was not implicated, in the theft.
Brown was accompanied on the flight from Brazil by an agent of Interpol, the international police agency. Sgt. William Porteous of the Vancouver police took over for the trip to Canada.
The warrant for his arrest was read to him as the plane crossed the U.S.-Canadian border.
Porteous said Brown had in his possession about $3,000 in American and Canadian money and about $70 in Brazilian money.

Orvil Dryfoos, N. York Times Publisher, Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Orvil E. Dryfoos, 50, president and publisher of the New York Times, died in Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center of a heart attack Saturday following a brief illness.
He entered the hospital for rest and treatment for heart strain on April 15, less than three weeks after the end of the city's three-month newspaper strike.
His health became impaired during strenuous activity brought on by the dispute.
The Times' staff dropped from 3,000 to 900 during the strike and Dryfoos and his advisers mobilized the 900 to keep the paper's Western and European editions and its news service in operation. He also took part in some strike negotiations.
Dryfoos became head of the Times in 1961 when his father-in-law, Arthur Hays Sulzberger, stepped down. Four years earlier, he had succeeded Sulzberger as president.
A sociology major at Dartmouth College, Dryfoos was the son of the late Jack A. Dryfoos, wealthy Manhattan hosiery manufacturer. He began his business career as a runner in Wall Street and eventually bought a seat on the New York Stock Exchange.
He joined the newspaper in 1942, six months after his marriage to Sulzberger's oldest daughter, Marian. He worked as a cub reporter, a legman for the veteran reporters and a makeup deskman before being named assistant to Sulzberger in 1943.
Dryfoos was elected vice president and a board member in 1954. In 1957, when he was elected president, Sulzberger became board chairman, a new position in the organization. Sulzberger remained as publisher until he retired four years later.

As In Old Days, Kiwanians Prepare Barbecue For Rodeo

Three-quarters of a ton of choice beef will go on the pits before sunrise Wednesday in preparation for the second annual Kiwanis Club rodeo barbecue.
It will be done and piping hot in time for serving at the City Park from 5 p.m. to 7:30 p.m., half an hour before show time for the opening performance of the 30th annual rodeo.
While the public is flocking to the park, visiting riding delegations and other guests of the rodeo association, will be served at the rodeo grounds.
Tickets for the barbecue are now on sale at $1.50 for adults and $1 for children.
The menu, as usual, includes barbecued beef, beans, pickles, onions, potato chips, bread and iced tea.
Last year's barbecue proved such success that the club has expanded it this year. S. A. Walker, Kiwanis president, said that it was just like the old days when a real western barbecue always preceded the rodeo.
He announced these committees:
Ticket committee is headed by Bill Pool, assisted by Bob Bradbury. The advertising committee is Bradbury, chairman. Sam Blackburn, Bill Edgar and Walter Zuhanski.
Harvey Clay heads the purchasing committee aided by Sherman Smith and Jack Roden. Taking care of getting the food to the rodeo grounds will be Delaine Crawford, Joe Ackley, Ervin Fisher and Sam Fuller. The meat slicing committee is Luther Loudamy, Blackburn, Roscoe Cwyper, Lewis Newell, J. C. Pickle and W. B. Hardy.
The City Park serving committees are Bob Travis, Jack Alexander, I. B. Aiken, Stanley Baldo, Jay Banks, John Bennett, E. C. Boatler, J. A. Coffey, Jack Crawford, Walter Eubank, George Franks, Clyde Hollingsworth, Ward Jackson, Bill Mead, G. O. Morehead, Roscoe Newell, Horace Reagas, R. G. Robertson, Nat Shick, Charles Smith, H. W. Smith, Ladd Smith, John Stanley, Marie Stewart, Stanley Trosphank, S. A. Walls and Garland Helms.
The serving committee at the rodeo grounds: Joe Walker, Jasper Atkins, S. Ross, Stanley Bogard, Ed Corson, Bill Edgar, Bill Erssen, Norman Furlong, Neil Robertson, Bill Jay, Wendal Parks, Frank Rice, Bruce Sanders, Robert Stripling, Jim Thompson, George Thornburn, Ervin Vertish, Bill Johnson and Earl Stovall.

Choice Quarter Horses To Go On Block Saturday

Forty-eight outstanding quarter-horses from 17 West Texas ranches will be sold at auction June 1 at the first Big Spring Quarter Horse Invitational sale.
Under auspices of the Howard County Cowboy Reunion, the sale is a special feature of the annual rodeo which opens on Wednesday at the Rodeo Bowl.
"We have had requests for catalogues from all over Texas," said Jimmy Taylor, secretary, "and from nine other states. Last week, a woman in Pennsylvania called by phone to ask about the sale. She said that she and her husband would fly to Big Spring for it."
The water is gone out of Birdwell Dam Plug.
City park crews were busy Friday afternoon cleaning the debris from the lake and planned to stray against mosquitoes.
Workmen managed to pull the "stopper" and let the water out following some seepage which lowered the level. The drain became clogged by weeds and grass during the first big rain of May 5.
Johnny Johansen's park men had just finished cutting the weeds in the lake when the big rain hit. "Director of Public Works Ernest Lillard said, 'The water was so deep nobody could get down to the drain to clean out the big green weeds. We had to wait until enough water seeped out. It's all out now and we are considering some sort of mesh cone around the drain to prevent future clogging.'"

The sale begins at 1 p.m. Saturday in the fair barn. Walter Britten, noted livestock auctioneer, will be the salesman. Preceding the sale, a Midland catering firm will serve a barbecue dinner at the barn starting at 11 a.m. Taylor said that the public is invited to buy tickets for the dinner. The sale is open to everyone, he said.

City Workers Pull Birdwell Dam Plug

The water is gone out of Birdwell Dam Plug.
City park crews were busy Friday afternoon cleaning the debris from the lake and planned to stray against mosquitoes.
Workmen managed to pull the "stopper" and let the water out following some seepage which lowered the level. The drain became clogged by weeds and grass during the first big rain of May 5.
Johnny Johansen's park men had just finished cutting the weeds in the lake when the big rain hit. "Director of Public Works Ernest Lillard said, 'The water was so deep nobody could get down to the drain to clean out the big green weeds. We had to wait until enough water seeped out. It's all out now and we are considering some sort of mesh cone around the drain to prevent future clogging.'"

Church Is Urged To Back Negro Rights

NEW YORK (AP) — The presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church called on the body's 3.5 million members today to actively support the Negro movement for increased civil rights.

In a statement sent to every bishop and minister in the Church, Presiding Bishop Arthur Lichtenberger warned that "Present events reveal the possible imminence of catastrophe."

He referred to racial troubles in Birmingham, Ala., Chicago, Nashville, Tenn., New York and Raleigh, N.C., and said they demonstrate that countless persons have lost patience with the "slow pace of response to their legitimate cry for human rights."

His statement, stressing a sense of urgency, said, "It is not enough for the Church to exhort men to be good. Men, women and children are today risking their livelihood and their lives in protesting for their rights."

"We must support and strengthen their protest in every way possible, rather than give support to the forces of resistance by our silence."

The bishop said "It should be a cause of rejoicing to the Church community that Negro-American and oppressed people everywhere are displaying a heightened sense of human dignity in their refusal to accept second-class citizenship any longer."

"The right to vote, to eat a hamburger where you want, to have a decent job, to live in a house fit for habitation, these are not rights to be litigated or negotiated. It is our shame that demonstrations must be carried out to win them."

Bishop Lichtenberger noted that the Episcopal General Convention has repeatedly stressed Church responsibility for racial injustice. He urged Episcopalians to take these steps immediately:

1. To become individually involved, in both the North and South, in such community matters as housing, employment, public accommodations and education.
2. To give money to aid Negroes in their struggle for equality.
3. To strive to end any discrimination in local parishes and diocesan institutions because "discrimination within the body of the Church itself is an intolerable scandal."

A 15-year-old Big Spring boy was in the hands of the juvenile officer today after he allegedly stole a car, abandoned it, and then took keys from another car. He was arrested about 12:30 a.m. today when a witness to the key thefts reported to Big Spring police.

Social Security Rolls Increase

More than 1 1/2 million men, women, and children were added to the social security benefit rolls in fiscal year 1962, and benefit payments rose $1.8 billion over the previous year, according to the latest annual report submitted to Congress by the board of trustees of two social security trust funds.

Trustees of the social security trust funds are the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, and the Secretary of Labor.

Robert M. Ball, commissioner of Social Security and secretary to the board of trustees, said that about half the increase of 1 1/2 million in the number of social security beneficiaries was attributable to 1960 and 1961 amendments to the law. About 723,000 persons were awarded benefits under the 1961 amendments making monthly benefits payable to men 62-64 and to their dependents, and an additional 169,000 were awarded payments as a result of provisions in the 1960 and 1961 amendments which reduced the amount of work needed to qualify for payments.

New cost estimates presented by the trustees confirm earlier findings that the old-age, survivors and disability insurance system as a whole is in close actuarial balance, he said. This means that estimated future income from the schedule of tax rates in the law seem to be sufficient to pay the benefits now provided. An exception is the Disability Insurance Trust Fund which is 14 of one per cent shy.

Deadline On Transfers

Parents whose children will have to attend some other school district than the one they attended this year have but one week in which to obtain official transfer approval.

Walker Bailey, county superintendent urged parents who have this problem to clear the transfers prior to June 1. He thinks many more need to act.

He pointed out that such transfers are needed by youngsters in the two common school districts who have completed elementary school training and must enroll next fall in junior high school.

He also emphasized that transfers are not required where a child plans to attend another school located in the same school district where he was in school this year.

Webb In Bill

Webb AFB is included in the military projects appropriation advanced Friday in Congress. The figure set for Webb is $125,000, but base officials said that they were not certain what it was for. # Legislators Leave Money Bill To Connally

AUSTIN (AP)— Texas legislators checked their voting records with the home folk Saturday and waited for the word from Gov. John Connally.

The 58th Legislature's regular session became history Friday at midnight in the midst of the usual speeches that "We wuz robbed."

However, most departing senators and legislators expect their big job, the 1964-65 spending bill, to be undone by Connally's veto, probably this week in a statewide television speech.

Speculation on the start of the special session centered mostly around June 10 or 17. Actually, the governor has until June 17 to sign or veto the spending bill without it becoming law without his signature.

He could set the date of a special 30-day session any time within 3 days of his announcement.

"I don't know what I'll do myself," Connally said Friday. "I'm not going to say anything until next week at least."

During the final day Friday it was a common sight to see a legislator with a big yellow tablet and pencil trying to figure up his batting average for the session.

"I won some, I lost some, and some were rained out," said Rep. W. H. Miller, head of the Houston delegation.

Connally could say the same. In his Jan. 16 speech to the legislature, Connally made 37 specific recommendations in what he called moving the state toward "a new destiny of greatness that will eclipse anything in history."

Here's the scoreboard:

Water conservation—Bill allowing state to buy storage in local and federal reservoirs signed into law.

Law enforcement—Revision of the code of criminal procedure, first in many years, finally passed.

Loan regulation—State's first small loan regulatory act finally passed.

Public welfare—A proposed constitutional amendment raising the state ceiling on welfare benefits from $54.4 million to $60 million to be voted upon this fall.

Padre Island—Procedure for creation of the national seashore area signed into law.

Election reform—Proposed constitutional amendment banning poll tax to be on the Nov. 9 ballot this year, annual voter registration law finally passed to take effect if poll tax abolished, omnibus election law revision passed.

Taxation—$33 million tax package, mostly from increased sales taxes, passed and effective July 1 just as Connally recommended.

Family sanctity laws—Number of bills introduced but most died in committee.

Equal rights for women—Passed Senate but died in House.

Speed limits—Maximum speed limit for automobiles raised to 70 miles per hour on designated highways, effective Aug. 23.

Limiting governors to two terms—Passed Senate, failed in House.

Constitutional revision—No definite action taken.

Industrial safety—No definite action taken.

Tourism—Tourist Development Council created to attract visitors.

Industrial attraction—Request for a new agency called office of economic development failed, but money was allocated for old Texas Industrial Commission.

Higher education—The cause of Connally's dissatisfaction with $3.1 billion spending bill, because he said $13 million was cut from state college funds. Special College Study Committee of 25 created. New senior colleges at San Angelo and Edinburg authorized for 1965.

Parks—State Parks Board and Game Commission merged into Parks and Wildlife Commission in one of the session's sharpest controversies. Some of the financing still is in doubt.

Railroad Commission—Set up a special operating fund and gave additional funds to hire more investigators. Slant hole drilling bill passed House, died in Senate.

Bureau of Labor—Failed.

Reorganization of State Banking Board—Failed.

Division of finance in governor's office—Failed.

Texas Aeronautical Commission—Connally and House recommended abolishing it, but conference committee provided $354,000 for continuance.

In counting up his wins and losses Connally could count the Senate's refusal to confirm former state Supreme Court Justice St. John Garwood as a University of Texas regent as a defeat and the confirmation of the Rev. C. A. Holliday to the Board of Corrections as a victory.

And that is the record of a governor who has already said he wants to be re-elected.

Wine Experts Meet

GALLIOLI, Italy (AP)— The third national convention of Amici del Vino—lovers of wine—brought 100 vintners, wine experts and professors to this southern Italian town.

New Hospitals

MONTREAL (AP)— Emile Cardinal Leger, Roman Catholic archbishop of Montreal, is establishing four leprosaria in Africa. The hospitals for a total of 3,500 lepers will be at Nua, Nyasaland; Gomba, the Congo; and Ngozi and Nurudi, Burundi, a spokesman said.

Highway Deaths

AUSTIN (AP)— State police said Saturday 836 persons have died on Texas highways this year, compared to 728 last year.

Story Of Virgin's Apparition Draws Thousands To Cistern

Editor's Note:—More than a month ago a farm woman in South Texas says she saw an apparition of the Virgin Mary on a cistern near Alice, Texas. Thousands have visited the cistern. The San Antonio Express-News sent a Spanish-speaking reporter to investigate.

By M. RUIZ IBANEZ
San Antonio Express-News
Written for The Associated Press
ALICE (AP)—"I saw her, and it was all so impressive that I haven't been able to sleep or eat well since," Mrs. Tony Botello Jr. said Saturday.

Mrs. Botello, 35, an attractive mother of 3, is the woman who says she saw an apparition of the Blessed Virgin Mary on the side of a cistern at her farm home 7 miles from Alice.

She says she saw the life-size image on the morning of April 17. Word spread and since then almost 20,000 people—by estimates of public officials—have visited the cistern to pray or scoff.

PARKING FEES
The owner of the land has turned a field nearby into a parking lot and charges $1 a car for parking. Water from the cistern is free.

"The real story some day will be printed all over the world," Mrs. Botello, a Roman Catholic, said. "But I cannot make it public until I'm allowed by the church to do it."

"You are the first reporter that I have talked to personally, but you understand there are things I cannot do until the priests allow me."

Mrs. Botello claims the Virgin spoke to her and the voice made her change her mind about moving into Alice to avoid snakes. She had all but packed for the move, she said, because her son killed a rattlesnake near the house and other snakes had been seen.

"DO NOT BE AFRAID"
The image of the Virgin told her "do not leave, do not be afraid. This is the place where you'll find happiness," Mrs. Botello said.

"El tanque milagroso" (the miraculous cistern) is behind the Botello home on a farm they rent from Jack Butler, a plumbing contractor in Alice.

Several persons claim to have seen the vision later. Still others claim to have been cured, or partially cured, of physical ailments by praying at the cistern.

Mrs. Botello's church, which always adopts a skeptical attitude toward such claims, has started no investigation.

Msgr. Gerald O'Doherty, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Alice, said if the case justified it the church in these instances makes a thorough investigation.

Accepted appearances of the Virgin Mary—such as those of Our Lady of Fatima, Lourdes, and the Virgin of Guadalupe—are few, although thousands have been claimed through the centuries.

WILL PASS AWAY
If there is nothing to the alleged apparition, the monsignor said, the commotion will die by itself.

The church has, in some instances, proved the alleged apparitions false and forbidden the faithful to visit the spot.

Mrs. Elvira Gaytan, 66, of Corpus Christi, claims she saw the vision about two weeks ago. She took some water to put on her arthritis-afflicted leg, she said.

"I'm not completely well," she said. "But for the first time in four years I have been able to take a few steps."

Mariano Mendez and his wife, Bersabe, visited the cistern today. She is paralyzed and confined to a wheel chair. The Robstown couple prayed for good health.

Josefa Ortiz and Catarina Aguilar, two young women from Odem, said they saw the vision several weeks ago and were back in hope they would "see the Beautiful Lady again."

Some visitors say the vision is nothing more than grain deviation in the wooden tank.

Realtors Hear State Official

Shop talk occupied the time and attention of 15 Big Spring realtors and their wives at a dinner meeting Friday in the Blue Room at Cosden Club. Guest speaker was A. B. Beddoe, Austin, president of the Texas Real Estate Association. Also appearing on the program was Ervin W. Leudtke, Austin, state secretary.

George Elliott, president of the Big Spring Real Estate Board, was master of ceremonies.

The state president, who is making personal visits on each of the real estate boards in the state—his visit here was his 28th this year—discussed real estate problems in general with considerable emphasis on the part that governmental regulations and rules have to do with the business.

Leudtke reviewed the legislative program which the state association sought to push through the state legislature. He told the realtors that the drive to have ad valorem tax stricken failed but that other phases of the program submitted had met with fair success.

To Soviet Union
LONDON (AP)—Aviation Minister Julian Amery will begin a visit to the Soviet Union Tuesday on a long-standing invitation, the ministry announced.

COMFORTABLE LIVING ACCENTUATED IN NEW HOME
Robert Heinze develops house around pretty patio

Comfort Of Spanish Design Incorporated In New Home

A strikingly different home will be on display at 610 Highland Drive today between the hours of 1 p.m. and 6 p.m.

Done in a contemporary adaptation of Spanish architecture, the home makes maximum benefit of its 2,700-square feet of floor space. Robert A. Heinze is builder-designer.

This also is a Blue Flame house with an impressive array of gas appliances, including outdoor lights, charcoal broiler, dishwasher, drier, air conditioning (heating and cooling), hot water heater, etc.

The three-bedroom home, Heinze explained, is done in the old Spanish tradition of a house centered around a patio. It illustrates how money can be applied in custom building to what the home-owner actually wants.

Facing north on Highland and overlooking the city, the painted white brick home has its patio on the south side facing South Mountain. The west wing contains the garage, den, kitchen and entryway. The center portion has the living room, and the east wing contains three bedrooms and two baths.

All three sides facing the patio are glassed in to provide an open view from the house, and two sides of it have an eight-foot overhang for outdoor living. The patio has Spanish clay tile treatment with redwood strips and a raised planter for a tree. The den, kitchen and entryway have the same tile which carries into the patio.

At the entrance, the treatment is accentuated by exposed beams and cove lighting. The house is carpeted and draped, and the den is finished in pecan stain birch paneling. The den also has a fireplace with massive chimney on the west side.

While the plan embodies the gracious living of Spanish design, the plan is contemporary and functional. The home is topped by a distinctive shake roof.

Library Gets Blair Booklet

Howard County Free Library has been presented with a copy of the new Post Office publication on the career and postal contributions of Montgomery Blair. Blair, postmaster general under President Abraham Lincoln, was one of the most controversial public officials in the history of this nation.

The 44-page pamphlet, which E. C. Bostler, postmaster, handed to Mrs. Opal McDaniel, librarian, is a part of the Post Office Department observation of the centennial celebration of the Paris Conference of 1863.

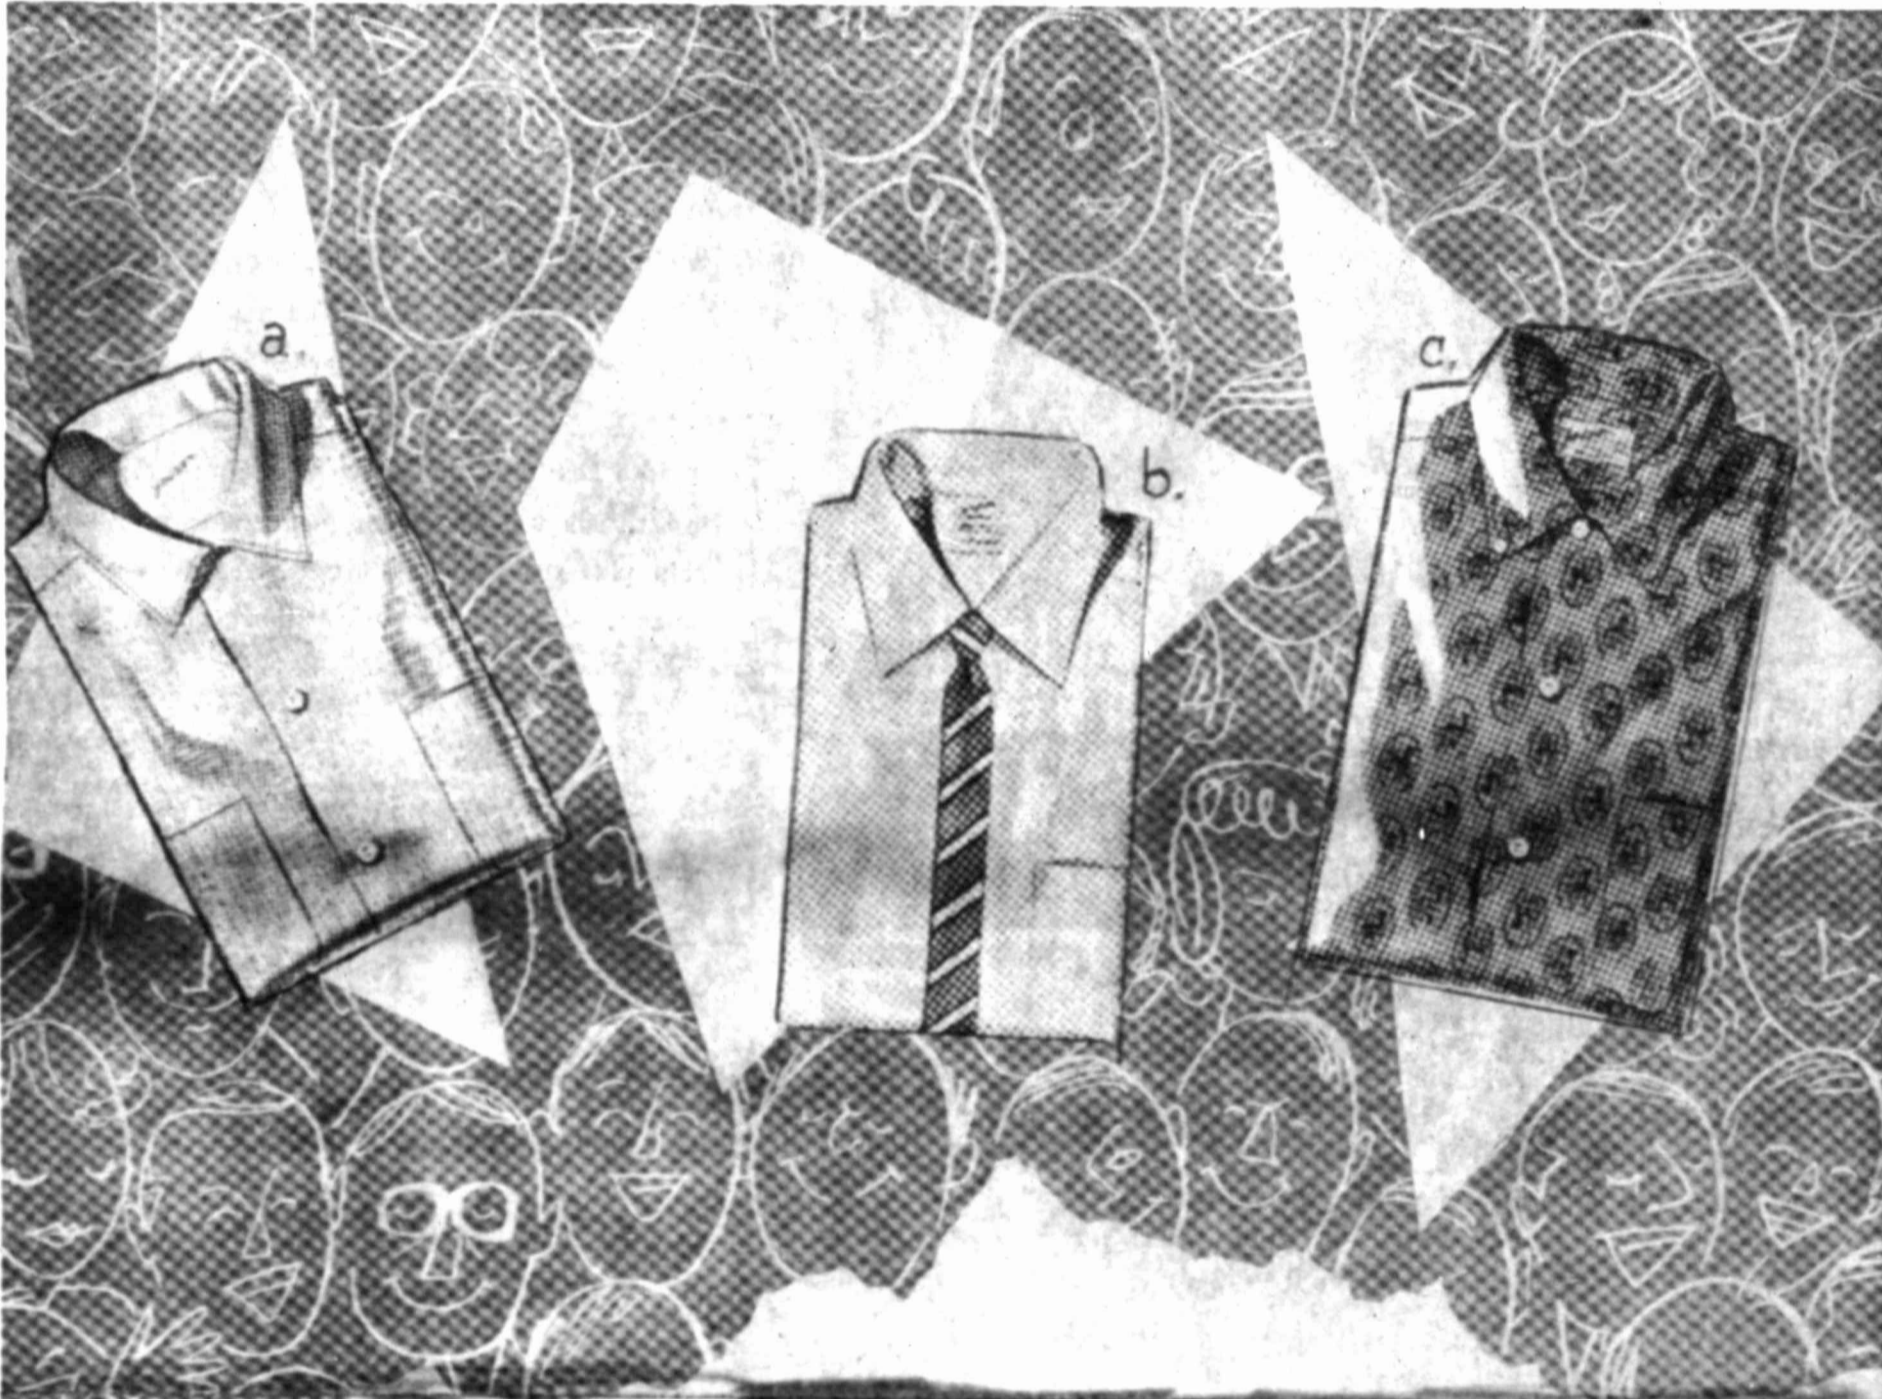

The Paris Conference, which was a brain child of Blair, was the first international meeting on postal problems and led to the founding of the Universal Postal Union which regulates the handling of international mail.

Blair ran the post office department for Lincoln during the chaotic Civil War period. He was the man who introduced free mail delivery in cities and created the money order system. He also devised the railway post office to assemble mail en route.

Blair was one of Lincoln's most trusted and closest advisors. He was a strong willed man, however, with a marked tendency to mind other peoples' business. Other cabinet members were often infuriated with him for giving them gratuitous advice on how to run their departments. In order to retain the support of Blair's many enemies in his bid for reelection, Lincoln finally had to fire his postmaster general.

Bengals Oppose Loving In Pair

Boasting a 5-2 won - lost record, the Big Spring Tigers return home today to oppose Loving, N.M. in a baseball doubleheader at Steer Park.

The first game gets under way at 1 p.m. Admission fee is 50 cents.

Tony Fierro (3-1) will probably pitch the first game for the locals while Horace Yanez is apt to charge the hill in the afterpiece.

Joe Cadenhead and Jimmy Roger will be available for relief work on the hill.

Other starters for Big Spring, listed with batting averages, will be: David Holguin (.429), left field; Jimmy Fierro (.333), shortstop; Herbert Perez (.400), second base; Albert Mendoza (.625), center field; Joe Martinez (.500), des drove it all the runs for Hester's.

Joe Mathes had a double for Parkway.

The 331st flattened Skateland, 6-2, behind the two-hit elbowing of James Fluey. Fluey fanned two and issued five walks.

Shortstop Paul Smith drove out a two-run homer for the 331st. Louis Heine was charged with the mound defeat. In all, Skateland used three pitchers.

Tiny Bayes smashed a two-baser for Skateland, which was held scoreless until the final inning.

In the evening's other game, Texas Electric won its first game in two starts by belting Pioneer Natural Gas, 15-7. The Electricians scored in each of the three innings they went to bat.

Belton Brunson and Ernest Barbee had round-trippers for Texas Electric. Each drove in a total of four runs in the game.

Pioneer Gas out hit the winners, 9-5, but couldn't overcome the effects of TESCO's long-ball hitting. Barbee got credit for the mound win while John Kennemur was saddled with the defeat.

Monday's schedule will send the 331st against Hester's at 6 p.m., Skateland against Polard Chevrolet at 7:30 p.m. and Texas Electric against Parkway Foods at 9 p.m.

GIBREL® MAKES EXTRA 6¢ COTTON

(PLANT GROWTH SUBSTANCE)

You don't need many bales of 6¢ cotton to boost your profits plenty. Decide this year to get your share of this low-cost lint. Spray at least once with GIBREL. You'll get earlier growth, more branching and provide a broader framework for building more bolls with a heavier boll load. Four years' experience with GIBREL shows increased cotton, with top producers getting up to 200 pounds extra per acre. In 1962 the average was 68 pounds per acre with a cost of only 6¢ per pound.

You can't increase your cotton allotment but you can increase lint per acre with GIBREL. In actual dollars, GIBREL for spraying costs $4.00 per acre. Fifteen extra pounds of lint pays for the program. You stand to average 68 pounds extra and may get up to 200 pounds extra. What other production practice gives you a better payoff?

Spray versatile GIBREL by airplane or ground rig. If you spray once use 1/2 to one pint of GIBREL per acre when squaring starts. A spray lasts up to three weeks so it's generally better to use GIBREL a second time and get six weeks of continuous growth in spite of drought or just plain crop-load stress.

Now just one more word of plain talk. If you're like most cotton producers, you won't be able to see the extra cotton in your fields. But it sure shows up at the gin! Remember GIBREL—the nontoxic growth-stimulant, chemically related to the naturally occurring growth hormones. It's fully field-tested to provide: earlier cotton maturity; cheap insurance against early freeze-up; and plenty of 6¢ cotton. Check your dealer about GIBREL. Then show your neighbors how to overcome the allotment handicap.

Gasoline War Drops Prices By One Third

Gasoline prices continued to drop in Big Spring Saturday—the price quoted at most stations on regular being 7 cents under that in effect last Monday.

Regular gasoline was being sold at some stations for as low as 21.9. Bulk of the stations—nearly all major company outlets—posted 22.9 listings. Ethyl was generally selling at 28.9 with a few independents quoting it at 25.9.

"One more cut—maybe two more—and then I think things will level off," one veteran filling station operator predicted.

Stations were not rushed by motorists despite the low price. The fact that all were involved and that, with only a few exceptions, the 22.9 price was all over town made it easy to find gas at the cut price. One or two stations were desperately clinging to 24.9—the price posted Friday.

Major outlet stations did not anticipate any further cuts before Monday at the earliest. They pointed out that orders for another cut would have to come from the company head offices and that these offices were closed for the weekend.

Who can bring the price war to an end?

"The independents," reply the operators of major company stations. "They'll have to restore the price and when they do, the war is over."

Chisholm Is Promoted By Phillips

Phillips Petroleum Co. has appointed Malley J. Chisholm Jr., former Big Spring, as manager of its Amarillo sales division effective June 1.

Chisholm replaces W. C. George, who is retiring to enter a partnership with a company jobber in Tampa. They will form Philger 66, Inc., a Phillips jobbership operating in Amarillo and Borger.

Chisholm joined the Phillips sales department in 1950. He later was employed at Big Spring before moving to Amarillo. During his employment, he has also served as assistant division manager at Tampa, playing an important role in the company's sales expansion in Florida. Chisholm has been manager of sales in Maplewood, N. J., since January, 1962.

Rotary Strings Decline By 15

A decline of 15 units was shown on Reed Roller Bit Company's Friday listing of active rotary drilling rigs in the Permian Basin Empire.

On the latest tabulation 195 working rigs were listed, compared with 210 counted a week earlier. The Friday total was down 44 from the 239 active rotaries credited to the West Texas-Southeast New Mexico region on the same survey a year ago.

Lea County, N. M., with 43 units working on the Friday tabulation, down two from 45 the prior week, continued in first place.

The local eight-county area showed no change, remaining at 17 operating rotary rigs. Dawson, Howard and Sterling counties paced the area with three each.

A look at the counties of the Basin, with the previous week's totals in parenthesis, follows:

- Andrews 13 (15), BORDEN 2 (3), Chaves 1 (1), Cochran 1 (1), Coke 0 (1), Crane 9 (8), Crockett 2 (2), Crosby 1 (1), DAWSON 3 (3), Dickens 0 (1), Ector 13 (14), Eddy 13 (9);

API Chapter Slates Meeting

The Permian Basin Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute will hold its second meeting in Midland Tuesday at the Ranchland Hills Country Club.

Featured speaker will be Martin Row, general counsel for Sun Oil Co., Dallas. Martin will address the meeting on "Federal Problems of the Oil Industry."

The meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m. with a social hour, followed by a buffet dinner at 7:30 p.m. Tickets for the buffet will be $3 per person. They are available at the door.

Hamon To Test Bend Pay Zone

Jack L. Hamon of Midland will attempt to complete No. 1 North-East Lynch Unit, Lea County, N. M. wildcat, as a Bend gas-dis-tillate discovery.

It will test through perforations at 13,714-730 feet and 13,766-774 feet. Production was indicated on three drillstem tests between 13,282-13,839 feet, with distillate being recovered on one of them.

The prospector is five miles northeast of Lea, about 2 1/2 miles from the Lea multipay area and spotting 1,900 feet from the north and 660 feet from the east lines of section 17-20S-35E. It drilled to 15,040 feet in barren Devonian and has been plugged back to 14,000 feet.

Delhi-Taylor Oil Corp. No. 1-A Jones-Federal, east Eddy County, N. M., prospector about 18 miles southwest of Maljamar, encountered shows of gas and oil from the Wolfcamp.

A one hour and six-minute drill-stem test was taken at 10,544-566 feet, with recovery of 2,430 feet of gas, five feet of oil and 20 feet of drilling mud. Flowing pressure was 19-45 pounds. One-hour initial shut-in bottom hole pressure was 776 pounds and final shut-in pressure, after one hour, was 3,502 pounds.

The exploration is contracted to 12,500 feet to test through the Morrow sand. It was drilling below 10,730 feet in lime, shale and sand on last report.

The site is two miles southwest of the Lusk (Bone Spring, Strawn and Morrow) field across the county line in Lea County. Drill-site spots 1,650 feet from the north and east lines of section 25-19S-31E.

Floyd W. Smith, Midland, has staked No. 1 Light as a 3,250-foot Permian venture about 15 miles southeast of Maljamar in Eddy County, N. M. It is 1 1/2 miles northwest of the Benson, North pool.

Location is 1,980 feet from the south and east lines of section 29-18S-30E.

William G. Wright and V. G. Sprabery prospector spots 1,980 feet from the west and 660 feet from the south lines of section 39-2, T&P survey, on a 640-acre lease about three-eighths mile north of the Cope (Sprabery) field.

In Sterling County, Southland Royalty No. 1 C. H. Sugg is drilling ahead in an unreported formation below 5,128 feet. Operator previously reported coring, but no description was given.

DRILLING AHEAD

Standard Oil Co. of Texas has cut through more than 140 feet of Devonian pay without encountering water at No. 1 Dodson, wildcat located about 11 miles northwest of Seminole.

The Gaines County prospector had a good air blow throughout on one-hour drillstem test of the Devonian, between 11,365 - 417 feet. There was no gas to the surface and no free gas was recovered, but the operator recovered 3,650 feet of 37-gravity oil and 100 feet of oil and gas-cut drilling mud.

Flowing pressure was 450-1,225 pounds. Thirty-minute initial and final shut-in bottom hole pressures were 4,325-3,955 pounds.

Operator is now coring below 14,425 feet.

The Devonian was topped at 11,272 feet and two previous drill-stem tests of the formation have returned shows. A 2 1/2-hour test from 11,270-316 feet returned 8,000 feet of gas, 1,478 feet of oil and 180 feet of oil and gas-cut mud.

From 11,310-367 feet, 1 1/2 hour recovery was 4,900 feet of gas, 1,600 feet of 37-gravity oil and 270 feet of oil and gas-cut mud.

The explorer spots 1,900 feet from the north and west lines of section 31S-G C&S&R&G survey, about four miles northeast of the Block G (Devonian) pool.

ILLINOIS made the greatest gains in underground storage capacity, adding 85 billion cubic feet to its existing 157 billion. Other major increases were Montana, 62 billion cubic feet increase, bringing total to 156 billion cubic feet; Iowa, 47 billion cubic feet increase, total, 187 billion; Texas, 21 billion cubic feet increase, total, 91 billion; California, 18 billion cubic feet increase, total, 283 billion; and Pennsylvania, 17 billion cubic feet increase, total, 529 billion.

Pennsylvania ranks first in the nation in underground gas storage capacity, followed by Michigan, 563 billion cubic feet; Ohio, 449 billion; West Virginia, 345 billion; California, 283 billion; and Oklahoma, 254 billion.

During the year, the number of storage pools in operation increased by 29, bringing the total to 238. Ten years ago there were 151 pools in 16 states.

These storage areas now have reached a record capacity of 3.5 trillion cubic feet, equal to one-quarter of all gas used last year. The investment in these facilities reached the billion-dollar mark after a year-to-year increase of 100 million dollars, according to the 12th annual report of the American Gas Association's Committee on Underground Storage. A significant part of the billion dollars is invested in equipment, plant facilities and gas.

These subsurface reservoirs play an important role in delivering gas. They were especially important this past winter, when severe weather caused unprecedented demands on utilities.

Storage areas are located in depleted gas and oil fields, natural geological formations, and, in one case in Colorado, in an abandoned coal mine. During the summer, when demand is lower than

Silurian Explorer Slated In Martin

More deep drilling is in store for the northern parts of Martin County. Pan American Petroleum Corporation has slated a 13,000-foot Silurian test in the area of the multipay Breedlove field.

The new project is No. 1-F F. D. Breedlove, spotting 660 feet from the west and 990 feet from the south lines of tract 95, league 23S, Briscoe CSL survey. It is about 15 miles northwest of Tarzan.

There is no nearby Silurian production. The Breedlove field is about 1 1/2 miles to the west.

The new venture is about three-fourths of a mile northeast of a 13,416-foot hole which was taken to the Ellenburger by Stanolind and plugged and abandoned May 13, 1958. That project topped the Siluro-Devonian at 12,260 feet.

In Sterling County, Southland Royalty No. 1 C. H. Sugg is drilling ahead in an unreported formation below 5,128 feet. Operator previously reported coring, but no description was given.

Rathbone Appraises Industry Position

HOUSTON (AP)—The chairman of Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey sounded, at times, more like the secretary of state.

M. J. Rathbone's report before stockholders here included appraisals of political and economic affairs in Latin America, Europe, Africa, the Middle East and Asia.

Jersey has a vital interest in such matters.

Rathbone said Jersey Standard's security is strengthened by broad geographical diversification.

He said this leaves Jersey in an excellent position to meet an industry trend that began developing two years ago.

1961 DEMAND

"In 1961 demand for oil outside the United States exceeded domestic demand the first time,"

Rathbone said. "As time goes on, foreign demand will take on even more importance because the rate of increase is much higher."

Jersey's domestic sales last year increased 4 per cent over 1961. Latin American sales were up 10 per cent. Sales in Europe, Asia and East Africa increased 13 per cent.

"Having foreseen this change and planned for it, Jersey is now in a strong position to share in the growing market and, at the same time, to keep a sound balance between it and our operations in North America," said Rathbone.

OPERATIONS

Operations in the U.S. and Canada account for 44 per cent of the company's sales. Europe and North Africa make up 34 per cent. Latin America, 15 and the Far East 7 per cent.

The United States and Canada furnish 24 per cent of Jersey's crude oil supply. Latin America 46 per cent, Europe and Africa 6 per cent, and the Middle and Far East 24 per cent.

"Our crude supplies literally flow from all corners of the world," Rathbone said.

Jersey's Latin America oil is mainly in Venezuela.

CAN YOU PLAN REMEDIAL WELL WORK BY GUESS AND BY GOSH?

You can. But it's expensive that way. Successful and economical oil recovery operations depend on a thorough analysis and appraisal of down-hole conditions. That's where the Western Company comes in.

Through its "Well Evaluation Service" Western will check everything before hand: the competence of the cement, permeability of the formation, effectiveness of previous treatments and possible gas, water or oil zones. That way you know where to put your rework dollars.

When you invest in remedial operations, don't guess... consult your nearest Western Engineer, or Write for brochure

Officials Moving Against Falsifying Of Home Loans

By KENNETH MAY
Lubbock Avalanche-Journal
Written For The Associated Press

LUBBOCK (AP)—A grand jury and Dist. Atty. Alton Griffin are taking first steps in an attempt to counter the reportedly widespread practice of falsifying applications for real estate loans.

Their specific target is forgery on papers supporting loan applications and—in a broader sense—"double contracting," a practice which mortgage bankers say is widespread over Texas.

Stronger state laws will be necessary before the practice can be eliminated, however, Griffin says.

"Double contracting" is a method by which up to 100 per cent financing is obtained on homes and other real estate by falsifying sales prices and down payments, and inflating appraisals. The home buyer gets one contract, the loan company gets another one, with different figures.

Actually, only one contract—the one that goes into loan company files—is necessary.

our handling of conventional loans.

Although evidence shows double contracting has been known to exist in the state for years, little has been done in official circles to eliminate it. One reason is the reluctance of victimized firms to file a complaint.

Another reason, others allege, is that some mortgage lenders encourage the practice in order to find a lucrative outlet for surplus funds. So long as the economy stays at a high level and borrowers are able to repay their home and other real estate loans on schedule, no one suffers.

IF SLUMP COMES

"If our economy ever slumps, however, lending agencies holding double contract mortgages will suffer heavily," says a Lubbock mortgage banker. "Also, the numerous foreclosures which would result would compound the problem of economic recovery."

Atty. Gen. Wagoner Carr has helped Griffin in the inquiry.

The investigation has been confined to conventional loans. Those insured by either the Veterans Administration or the Federal Housing Administration are under the jurisdiction of federal authorities.

Earlier, a federal grand jury indicted a Grand Prairie salesman, Lewis Decker, on charges of making a false statement in order to secure an FHA-insured loan for a home-buying couple.

Two New Mexico home builders are under a similar federal indictment.

The buyer of a home or other real estate may or may not know that misrepresentations are being made in securing a loan for him.

GRAND JURY

The Lubbock grand jury began its inquiry after the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal published a series on double contracting.

The complaint which started the Lubbock probe has been termed a typical instance of double contracting.

A home buyer paid $17,200 for his house, making a down payment of just under $500 and securing a loan for the balance. Five months later, the loan company told him the taxes on his home had been "under-estimated" and his payments were being increased $15 per month.

When he complained, he discovered his loan papers in the company's files indicated he had paid $24,000 for his house and had made a $7,300 down payment—a $6,800 falsification. Looking further, he found papers supporting his loan application he said he had not seen before. Initial court action is expected on this alleged forgery aspect.

RESTRICTIONS

Savings and loan associations and insurance companies normally can make conventional loans of from 66 2/3 to 90 per cent of the sales price or the appraised value of real estate. The exact percentage depends on governmental regulations or charters. Double contracting is a means of circumventing those restrictions.

Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, Midland, Odessa and El Paso are cities in which Lubbock sources say double contracting is a widespread practice.

Under the Texas real estate license act, a real estate dealer may have his license lifted if he is judged guilty of "knowingly making any substantial misrepresentation."

The Texas Banking Commission also could become involved in cases in which firms under its jurisdiction hold double contract mortgages. The same is true of the Texas Insurance Commission.

The grand jury is expected to recommend stronger penal code provisions that could be brought to bear against persons who deliberately falsify real estate loan application figures.

Griffin says there now is no clear-cut law covering the misrepresentation of sales prices and down payments in order to obtain higher loans unless the loan application is accompanied by falsified supporting papers.

Three Defendants Free Under Bond

Lorenzo Pineda, 20, of 509 N. Lancaster, has been released from county jail under $1,500 bond on a charge of aggravated assault on a city policeman May 18. He was transferred to the county from the city Saturday morning.

Earnest Strugeon, 53, of 810 Cherry, charged with writing a worthless check, posted $1,000 bond and was released Saturday.

Floyd Earl Young accused of DWI, has been released on $500 bond.

WITHHOLD CAPITAL

As a result, some companies withhold investment capital from Texas. One large insurance company, for example, wrote in 1960 it had become "aware of some misrepresentation by real estate brokers in various areas of Texas and have been extra cautious in

Semester Concluded For HCJC Students

A SPEECH MAJOR, Mrs. Dean (Jo Anne) Forrest says that it took 13 years to attain the graduate rank which she proudly possesses. She is a housewife and the mother of two little girls, Jan and Jill. Too, she has followed a career in radio and television while pursuing her education. Her college major was speech with several courses added in her field of work. She would like to qualify as a teacher of speech therapy.

IN ENGLISH, Mrs. Walter Carter is an apt student classified as a junior. The mother of a small son, Stephan, Mrs. Carter and her husband divide their time between class work and their home.

The head of the Carter household, an HCJC basketball player, is a student in business administration. Mrs. Carter's desire is to teach.

BUSINESS EDUCATION was Mrs. Donald McAdams' major. She attended college in 1951-'52 and resumed her study last year at HCJC. Her goal is to teach. Mr.

and Mrs. McAdams have two sons, Rieky and Terry, who have cooperated in their mother's efforts to complete her education.

By KATHLEEN DOZIER

A semester is ended at Howard County Junior College. During the week, examinations were concluded and on Thursday evening graduation exercises meant, for some, the rewarding attainment of a goal.

Higher education is taken in doses — a course or two now and a course or two later — by many of the students at HCJC. It might be a matter of years before graduation, and especially so for the housewife who seeks to improve upon her education. Her husband, too, goes along with the idea of knowledge in the upper bracket, so on campuses over the nation there are more and more man and wife teams attending classes.

Many aim for a degree with a career in mind; some review courses which they had in earlier years; while others are exercising their faculties for learning, keeping informed on subjects of importance and making use of idle hours.

Those of the aforementioned who took advantage of the facilities at HCJC the past semester include a professional man and his wife, housewives and mothers and a business woman who may one day be a teacher.

PSYCHOLOGY on Thursday nights with hospital duties and housework to occupy their time the remainder of the week keeps Dr. and Mrs. Frank Appel mentally alert and physically fit. Besides her studies and household chores, Mrs. Appel undertook the drivers' training course and, completing that, she took tests to obtain her first driver's license. Dr. Appel is a physician on the staff at the State Hospital. He believes the course, which he reviewed, has given his wife a better insight into his field of work.

EDUCATION classes have found Mrs. Billie McClure, a former Baylor U. student, seated among the scholars. Her's is a night schedule since she is employed during the day as a secretary in marketing for American Petroleum of Texas. If possible, Mrs. McClure wants to obtain her degree, but presently her aim is to complete one semester at a time. She is shown discussing future academic plans with Dr. W. A. Hunt, HCJC president.

Won't You Come In?

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall McAdams and son, David, little frame house affords a cool, comfortable place to play and always the children of the neighborhood are invited to enjoy it.

Make-Believe Land Is Through These Portals

By JO BRIGHT

There is a house at 1815 Benton St. that isn't a home at all. A grownup would have to stoop, to enter the door here, but a child can walk through easily—and enter the world of make-believe.

The little white house in the backyard of the Marshall McAdams home is what attracted the family to the place when they moved here last month from Lubbock. The McAdams girls, Brenda, 7, and Rebecca, 6, are at the proper age to best appreciate a playhouse, and this one is all that a little housekeeper could want.

McAdams is a district salesman for Behrens Drug Co., a wholesale drug firm with home offices in Lubbock. His job involves considerable traveling to service accounts, but the territory is small enough to enable him to drive back home at night to be with the family.

Born in Hillsboro, McAdams was reared in Lubbock where he met his future wife when both attended the same high school. They were not attracted to each other then. It was not until much later when they met again that the friendship developed. After a year and a half of steady dating, they were married in June of 1954.

A job that he had taken while in high school as delivery boy for a florist shop opened the door to McAdams' career for the next 12 years. To learn the business, he studied floral design, one of his instructors being Bill Draper, who is now a local florist. During the ensuing years, he was a designer for several shops in Lubbock.

Mrs. McAdams is intensely interested in promoting activity in the Calorie Counters TOPS Club here. The initials stand for Take Off Pounds sensibly. The purpose of the club is to help members lose weight by a planned program, with the encouragement that group effort affords.

Active in the Lubbock chapter, Mrs. McAdams has high praise for the organization and the inspiration it has given her. Since joining the group, she is 30 pounds slimmer and plans to lose more during the next year.

Right now, she runs a few pounds off by keeping up with son, David, 8 months old. David doesn't crawl, his mother says he's a laddy who is too lazy to make the effort, but he has developed a unique method of motivity—he rolls. Stretched out on the carpet, he continues turning until he gets where he wants to go.

Mrs. McAdams writes songs as a hobby. With the help of a chord organ, which was a gift from the children's grandfather, she and the girls sing—Rebecca taking the lead and Brenda, the alto.

Fishing is McAdams' favorite sport. He has joined a fishing club at Colorado City, so the family is getting its gear together to spend some lazy days there this summer.

The Daleys Are Hosts For Party

Some of the departing officers and their wives of Webb Air Force Base were complimented Thursday evening in the home of Capt. and Mrs. Robert Daley.

A cocktail party was followed by a sukiyaki dinner and cards, all in honor of Col. and Mrs. Wilson Banks, Maj. and Mrs. Thomas A. McArdle and Maj. and Mrs. Lawrence Casey.

The affair was one in a series of parties being given for each couple. Col. and Mrs. Banks will be going to New Delhi, India; Maj. and Mrs. McArdle, to Elmendorf Air Force Base, Anchorage, Alaska; and Maj. and Mrs. Casey, retiring to Phoenix, Ariz.

Credit Women At Conference In Galveston

Four local women have returned from Galveston where they attended the Texas Credit Conference Convention this week.

Mrs. J. B. Apple represented both the Big Spring Credit Women's Club and the credit bureau. Others from the local club, who made the trip, are Mrs. A. G. Eitzen, Mrs. R. L. Nall and Miss Pyrie Bradshaw.

Over 100 members of the Lone Star Council attended the meeting. In the scrapbook competition, the local club won third place.

Mrs. Apple, who was appointed state historian, also received a plaque from the Associated Bureaus of America making her a certified instructor in the educational department of the bureau. Less than 100 of these awards have been given in the United States. The plaque is presented to those who have conducted management courses for the benefit of executives in the credit bureaus of collection service industry.

Barbecue Dinner Honor For Couple

A barbecue dinner held Thursday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wheat, 421 Westover, was followed by a surprise baby shower for Mr. and Mrs. Morris Rhodes.

Gifts were presented by the seven couples who were seated at tables covered with red and white checked cloths.

Host couples with Mr. and Mrs. Wheat were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bradford and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Henry.

Fly-Up Ceremony Held For Troop

A fly-up ceremony was conducted for 12 members of the Girl Scout Troop No. 205, by leaders, Mrs. Mel Stinson and Mrs. Lester Goswick. All 23 members were present for the service at the Scout Hut.

Those who received their wings were Susan Beard, Nancy Bortner, Carla Burks, Mary Nell Carson, Becky Easley, Mary Beth Faulks, Kay Fiveash, Jill Forrest, Pat Stinson, Brenda Young, Fay Deaver and Teresa Johnson.

Students Are Banquet Guests

The Woman's Missionary Union of the Baptist Temple was the sponsoring group for a junior-senior banquet Thursday evening in Fellowship Hall. Theme for the evening was "Somewhere over the Rainbow."

The rainbow was constructed in pastel hues to form a background for the main table. A star-studded backdrop for the rainbow was in blue. Pots of gold marked the foot of the colorful arch. Tables were centered with candles and sprays of sweetpeas.

Doyle Grice was master of ceremonies, and the invocation was given by Carl Reynolds. The welcoming address was made by Mrs. H. M. Jarratt who also recognized those taking part in the banquet preparations. Joel Molpus gave the response, after which Carol Odum presented the class prophecy.

Ira Schantz sang "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" and other appropriate numbers, with piano accompaniment by Jack Hendrix. The Rev. James Puckett, speaker for the evening, revealed the four ways to become a champion. The benediction was worded by Dr. Jarratt.

Mrs. Alvis Harry, Mrs. Charles Dunnam, Mrs. Fred Overton, Mrs. Bob Newsom, Mrs. Curtis Reynolds, Mrs. J. B. Riddle and Mrs. Otto Couch were those who served.

The annual presentation of cape and crown to the circle chairman having the most members present was made to Mrs. Bennie Porter, chairman of the Arlene Bradford Circle. Some 50 persons were present.

Don't Scrap Traditional Furnishings

If your furniture is "traditional," don't scrap it; you can still have the contemporary touch. While "contemporary" is a term applied to furniture with clean, simple lines, it also can be a principle of room planning that can be applied to many styles of furniture. If the refurbishing budget is tight, it's acceptable to mix styles — contemporary and traditional, for example — so long as room planning follows good decorating practices. The key to contemporary planning is function; plan your furnishings and their placement according to use. Eliminate the unnecessary. No matter what style of furniture is used a contemporary room should look uncluttered. Don't mistake the elaborate for beauty. Furnishings should be scaled to the size of the room and their usage; small period chairs won't withstand rugged day-to-day use, for example. Floors should be surfaced with materials that blend with any decor. Another point to remember: draperies should cover walls, not windows. Windows are one of the major areas that contribute a sense of spaciousness to a room, in addition to their basic function of admitting light.

Exhibit-Tea Slated Today

An art exhibit and tea is planned for this afternoon from 3 until 5 o'clock in the old Student Union Building at the Howard County

'ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

Gather round folks and hear what some of our home town grandparents and parents are telling about their chief interests . . . namely the children.

MRS. E. H. HAPPEL, has received word that one of her grandsons, WILSON AKINS JR., son of MR. and MRS. "DOC" AKINS of Lake Charles, La., has been elected into membership of Kappa Delta Phi, oldest honorary leadership fraternity at Tulane. Akins is a senior student in the Tulane University School of Medicine.

The D. C. DUNCANS were happy with news from their daughter, MRS. H. M. REAVES, and Mr. Reaves who now make their home in Shreveport, La., but formerly lived in Big Spring. Mrs. Reaves wrote that the son, GARY, who has been teaching at Sam Houston University in Huntsville, Texas, will receive his masters degree in English soon; their eldest daughter, SHERYL JEAN, was named a maid to the Fiji court of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity at Louisiana State in Baton Rouge; and the youngest, JAN, was chosen one of the junior maids in the Acclade Court at Woodlawn Hill High in Shreveport. The junior girl was named head cheerleader for next year and also has been the Key Club sponsor, a member of the National Honor Society, and a delegate to Pelican Girl's State.

If the children of this family are so busy, think how busy their parents must be.

The W. L. (SQUEAKIE) THOMPSONS are looking forward to a full week, Tuesday night their daughter, MARTHA ANN, will complete her work at Big Spring High and on June 1 their son, BILL, will receive his Bachelor of Commerce degree from Rice University in Houston. This is the first group to be awarded the commerce degree. Bill plans to report to Lackland AFB on July 1 for officers training. The Thompsons are all planning to be in Houston for the ceremonies at Rice.

MRS. IRA RICE, and her daughter, MRS. RAY HUGHES, plan to return here tonight after spending the weekend with MRS. ART JONES, the former Peggy Isaacks. The two young women were high school classmates. The party took a day off to see Six Flags Over Texas.

Back home for a visit are CAPT and MRS. C. D. SNYDER and their children, Keith, 4, and Cindy, 2. They are to be at the home of her parents, MR. and MRS. CHARLES STAGGS until June 14. The family has lived in Bentwaters, England, for three years and they will now be stationed at Randolph AFB in San Antonio.

Mrs. Staggs met the family at McGuire AFB two weeks ago and they drove to Hazard, Ky., where they spent two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Snyder.

Flying to Reno, Nev., MRS. MODESTA SIMPSON spent a week there renewing acquaintances and visiting with friends while indulging in the vacation pleasures of the resort area.

Wide Range In Design Is Achieved

Curve spring flowers—such as snapdragons, iris, delphiniums, and even pussy willows — to achieve a wider range of design in arranging flowers.

Pussy willows may be curved by grasping the stem end firmly with thumbs underneath, fingers on top. Curve over the thumbs, gently softening fibers with both thumbs. Continue doing this to the tip, working between catkins.

To curve snapdragons, first insert heavy florists wire into the pithy stem as far up as it will go. Then carefully curve the stem as with a pussy willow.

Myths Exposed In Foods

Myths or old wives' tales are repeated so often that frequently they're accepted as facts.

Myth: Dried apricots are poisonous. Fact: Sulphur dioxide may be used in drying this fruit, but the microscopic amount remaining on the apricot is not harmful.

Myth: Lemon juice cures diabetes. Fact: Lemon juice does not affect diabetes.

Myth: Eating only bananas and skim milk is a good way to lose weight. Fact: Such a diet, aside from being monotonous, would eventually cause nutritional deficiencies. For example, a 1,400-calorie-a-day diet of bananas and skim milk would be below recommended daily dietary allowances in iron, Vitamin A and niacin.

CIVIL DEFENSE Talks Reveal Target Areas, Danger Source

Speaking to members of the Home Demonstration clubs this week, W. H. Heibig revealed that there are 300 major target areas in the United States. These areas are the most likely to be attacked in case of war. Also, he pointed out that there are 400 warning systems throughout the nation and the call number, in event there is an attack in this area, is CONELRAD 640-1240.

Too, he explained radiation symptoms as nausea and diarrhea. Heibig concluded his talk by stating that the Soviet Union is the main source of danger.

FAIRVIEW CLUB
Ten members gathered at the home of Mrs. Irene McKinley Tuesday afternoon to hear Heibig, the agricultural agent, in his talk on Civil Defense. Slides were presented in illustration.

Guests for the day were Mrs. Neil Norred, Mrs. T. K. Price, Mrs. Ruby Simpson, Mrs. E. W. Richardson and Mrs. C. F. Hulking.

The next meeting was announced for June 4 at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. R. N. Adams, 1209 Dixie.

FORSAN CLUB
Mrs. L. M. Duffer's home was where seven members of the Forsan Club gathered. Mrs. Kenneth Duffer was the hostess, and the program presentation was by Mrs. Lewis Sales.

Plans were made to sell pepper and vanilla, after which refreshments were served by Miss Anna Duffer. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Lester Duffer June 13 at 1:30 p.m. in the club house.

LUTHER CLUB
The Civil Defense talk was given by 10 members of the Luther Club Thursday at the home of Mrs. Pauline Hamlin, 1208 Pennsylvania Ave. Guests were Miss Juanita Hamlin, Mrs. C. E. Prather and Mrs. Emmett Grantham.

What's In The Bag?

Patches 'N Zip

A casual country style bag, top photo, in a gloved grained white leather is trimmed with smooth navy blue patches. The bag with the zip, below, features a zipper with bamboo knob, to match the double handles, which opens the soft scarlet leather bag across the top.

Despite sugar bowls and savings and loans, many ladies bank on handbags. Nothing else they put their good money into pays off so well in fashion interest.

Actually, there is all kind of interest in a woman's pocket book, purse, or carry-all today, and not all of it stems from other women.

Congressmen have debated the handbag's worth in its hallowed halls. (It is a taxable luxury, or as necessary as the pockets in men's pants?)

So-called comedians have poked fun at the myriad contents in the commodious depths of a woman's bag. Would-be muggers have quailed at a bag thought to harbor a gun, a hatpin, or a brick.

SUSPICIOUS
Customs officers have suspected them of concealing diamonds in their seams. Train conductors have conjectured the presence of petite pets.

When actress Lillian Roth related in "I'll Cry Tomorrow" that an alcoholic woman increases the size of her handbag as her condition worsens in order to carry larger flasks, an entirely new area of curiosity boomed.

Having the eyes of so many people, with or without ulterior motives, on one's handbag makes the choice an extremely important responsibility.

MADE TO SIZE
Fortunately, the industry is making the matter much easier by creating small scale ones for small-sized people and large-sized bags for women tall enough, and strong enough, once they are filled, to carry them off.

The season is geometric, say the designers, with a collection of squares, rectangles, circles, arcs and envelopes. Newly returned to the fashion scene are shoulder bags with adjustable straps. Many are shaped like lunch boxes and long loaves of bread. Envelopes are gently rounded in handsomely grained leather set off with rigid bar handles, gold bracelets and filigreed detail.

FOR EVENING
Although shapes for evening are pared down, they remain copious enough to hide emergency spectacles, mad money, and the make-up repair kit. Required to accompany name label dresses and status symbol furs, dress bags follow the status trend of off-beat leathers. Among the newest of these for summer is black antique suede which also shows up in pastel hues.

They are good investments in style interest.

Gleaming Patent Shoes For Baby

Baby's first step may not be taken in the time-honored white shoe after all. The infant, boy or girl, may wear bright patents, or even velvets. These variations were displayed at the National Shoe Fair recently.

Children have the choice of sleek, tapered styles in gleaming patents, or squarish, countrified shoes in rugged suedes and leathers.

A style-hep Pop is expected to shine up to waxy finished leathers in casuals, cordovan - types in dress shoes, and even orange leather golf shoes.

Morning Coffee A Pacific Voyage

By NANCY FRANCO
Hard work and enthusiasm paid off handsomely Thursday morning when the wives of Class 64-E hosted the OWC Hi and Bye Coffee.

The decorations, provided by Mrs. Robert Pedigo and Mrs. Robert Fox, transported the guests over 2,000 miles away to the island of Hawaii. The refreshment table, which held punch, fresh fruit wedges and pigs-in-blankets, took on the appearance of the ocean floor. A huge horse-hoof clam shell, containing fresh strawberries, was decorated with golden sea horses and flowers. Covering the table were tiny shells, sand dollars, starfish and coral, which were imported from California by Mrs. Pedigo. A musical get-acquainted game was played after the entertainment. Hawaiian music was played throughout the coffee, and everyone present forgot about the cold misty weather outside, thoroughly enjoying their trip to sunny Hawaii.

ELECTION
The wives of Class 64-A held a meeting at the home of their tactical officer's wife, Mrs. A. J. Grill. Elections were held and Mrs. Robert Hopkins was chosen as class

Know Your Local Nurseryman For Superior Plant Quality

How many times have you purchased nursery stock only to find later that the plants were inferior or misrepresented?

It happens all too frequently. Many times the plants fail to grow at all. If they do, the gardener may discover he has a weak, multiflora hedge rose instead of the American Beauty he was expecting—or perhaps a tree crippled with disease when he was entitled to healthy stock for the price paid.

For many years, legitimate nurserymen have suffered the consequences of these actions by unscrupulous operators. Reliable houses are eager and willing to cooperate with Texas officials in wiping out the fly-by-night firms which abuse the public trust. One of the duties of the Texas Department of Agriculture with which few people are aware is the inspection and certification of nurseries operating within the state. The department, under Commissioner John C. White, also checks with similar agencies in states from which dealers want to ship plants into Texas. When the firms and their nursery stock meet state specifications, a certificate is issued. There are over 6,000 state inspected nursery firms operating in Texas. Each one has been issued a license which certifies that the stock and grounds were free of disease or harmful insects. Each nursery is spot-checked periodically to make certain a high standard is maintained.

Every person who sells plants, or exposes plants for the purpose of sale, whether in the field, off a

Beach Umbrellas To Match Bikini

That little, yellow polka dotted bikini is not enough, says Italian fashion designer Ferdinando Dianno of Como. Although he wouldn't add a single thread more to the garment itself, he does suggest a matching parasol.

In fact, he has a complete line of gaudy cotton beach umbrellas to be worn with brief swim suits. Striped and polka dotted, they are also lavishly embellished with ruftruck, or in a business house, is required by the Texas Nursery Inspection Law to secure a license. The buyer who desires good stock should make certain that he is doing business with a legally operating, state licensed firm or individual. It may save disappointment later.

When you have reason to believe the nursery stock you bought is inferior, diseased or misrepresented, it should be reported at once. Contact the regional office of the Texas Department of Agriculture which is nearest you. They are located in Lubbock, Stephenville, Tyler, Austin, San Marcos, Houston and Pharr.

Traditions To Winds In Old England

Many young English people are throwing tradition to the winds, copying American taste in their homes, says Stanley Lister, a merchandising director of a London store, one of the large retail chain operations in the world.

Houses that young people buy or rent in England now are likely to be built in contemporary style, similar to American homes, he points out. Even flats have waste disposals and the American-style built-in dining recesses, dining bars, dressing tables and wardrobes, all obviously not the proper setting for good Queen Anne, William and Mary or the Georges, popular English furniture styles. But modern furniture suits it to a "T."

A NEW START

Though Americans are on a traditional furniture binge at the moment, he noted, it is our contemporary styles that are now going into English homes.

The traditional cream-washed walls have given way to colorful easy-care wallpapers, and more pictures and curtain fabrics. Nylon net and other modern window draperies have replaced laces. There are more ceiling and wall lamp fixtures, but fewer portable lamps than found in American homes.

In lower-priced carpets in England the best seller is a mixture of florals or some type of flower.

Author Writes Of Need For Woman's Identity

NEW YORK (AP)—By now there can't be many women unaware of the existence of a book that says husband and babies aren't everything; that a woman must have goals and identity as an individual.

It's "The Feminine Mystique," and long before the book was published and became a best-seller its author, Betty Friedan, was getting bushels of letters attacking or approving excerpts printed in two top women's magazines.

All of this success can be pretty heady, especially to a woman on a soapbox, but the biggest compliment came from an unexpected source. Betty Friedan tells it this way:

"I honestly thought my husband would hate the book. He had never read it in production, but we had had arguments when we discussed it. Then the book came out—and he rode past his subway stop reading it, he was so engrossed."

DEFENDING
Her husband, a New York advertising man, has taken a lot of kidding, though, she says, and he has said he'll have to write a "Masculine Mystique" in self-defense.

"It takes a strong man to be pleased when his wife does something in the world," she says,

BETTY FRIEDAN

"and I guess my husband is one." The Friedans live in Rockland County, not far from New York City, in an old Victorian house Betty calls "early Charles Adams."

"My housekeeping leaves something to be desired," she admits. She has part-time help that lets her come into the city to do research.

"I have three children, a girl, 6, and boys 10 and 14, that are all brilliant and very individual. They lead their own lives and are more capable of taking care of themselves than most."

CHILDREN PROUD

She says the children are proud of her activities—she's a free-lance writer and does serious community work—and the boys stop in a bookstore on the way home from school every day to see how her book is selling.

During the three years she worked on it, "sheets and pillowcases wore out, my teeth suffered because I never got to the dentist and, since I lived like a hermit, I never bought any clothes."

"Well, when it was finished I bought sheets, went to the dentist, painted the living room purple, made a tile table and shopped for clothes."

Betty, brunette and 42, passionately believes women shouldn't live like salmon. After those unenviable fish go upstream and spawn their life is over.

"A woman has got to be able to say, and not feel guilty, 'Who am I, and what do I want out of life?' She mustn't feel selfish and neurotic if she wants goals of her own, outside of husband and children."

Mix-And-Match Units Popular

The versatility of mix-and-match furniture is unlimited. Many firms offer coordinated groups of 15 pieces or more. The furniture can be lined up as a single wall unit. It can be stacked to become a whole storage wall. It can be divided as accent notes among several rooms. Moving day offers no problem because the stack units always fit a new home.

A typical mix-match walnut group offered by one firm includes dresser units, base cupboards, bookshelves, desk-vanity units, armories, china storage units. The furniture can be used with or without shallow wood bases.

Bases usually are required for a carpeted room but not on a polished parquet floor or similar surface, unless extra height is wanted. Measurements of all units are coordinated so that they form pleasing arrangements whether you line them up vertically or horizontally.

Fine walnut furniture often calls for a few accessories of equal merit. Decorative items can be picked up for a few dollars at craft bazaars, out-of-the-way shops, or vacation shopping centers. Museum gift shops are a good source too. Swedish wood carvings, Japanese lotus dishes, Mexican tincraft, American Indian bowls, African sculpture are all good choices, usually reasonably priced. They show the collector's eye, and are pleasant to gather.

Scholarship In Hawaii

Mrs. Zollie Mae Rawlins, a sixth grade teacher of Rankin Junior High School, has received a scholarship to attend the Fifth Summer Institute on Asian Studies at the University of Hawaii.

Mrs. Rawlins' award is one of the 202 offered by the East-West Center, two of which will be awarded in each of the 50 states of the Union and the District of Columbia. The Institute will feature a program for teachers, military and civilian government service people, journalist and business people as well as regular graduate students wishing a general introduction to the life traditions, customs and institutions of Asia.

A native of Big Spring and daughter of Mrs. J. F. Dodge, Mrs. Rawlins received her BS and masters degrees from the Texas Women's University at Denton. She has been teaching school for 18 years, having taught in Big Spring 10 years before going to Rankin.

Active in civic affairs, she has served as chairman of the March of Dimes for the past three years, is vice president of the Parent-Teacher Association, treasurer of the neighborhood committee of the Girl Scouts, past president of the Texas State Teachers Association and is a member of the Exemplar chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi.

Having traveled extensively throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico, Mrs. Rawlins has visited every state with the exception of Alaska.

After a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Le Roy Arthur, in Los Alamos, N.M., she will attend "June Week" activities at the United States Air Force Academy where her son, A. C. Rawlins III will become first classman.

Mrs. Rawlins is to fly by jet to Hawaii to begin her studies on June 24. A tour of the other seven main islands is planned before her return home in August.

Bunnies On Way Out As Favorite

NEW YORK (AP)—Fowl are in, bunnies are going out as Easter-time favorites.

The traditional Easter bunnies have declined in favor as symbols for the Easter basket, according to Carl W. Holstrom, buyer for a chain store (F. W. Woolworth Co.). A survey of company stores shows chickens and ducks combined now outsell bunnies by about 4 to 1.

The general popularity of Easter baskets filled with artificial grass, dyed eggs, candy and animals keeps on growing, Holstrom noted. And the traditional Easter bunny is not completely lost, for "he is immortalized in chocolate."

Best Gift For Grad

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—His graduation isn't until Sunday, but Lake High School senior Francis Ladario received one present, probably the best, Tuesday.

Francis, president of the senior class, has been attending school in the United States since his seventh grade, living with an aunt and uncle in Fossia, Italy.

The senior class of 117 students called Francis to a special assembly Tuesday and told him they had raised enough money to bring his parents to Walbridge to attend the graduation. Francis' parents will arrive Friday.

The students raised the money by washing cars and running dances. Some of the boys even contributed money earned on jobs last summer.

Fund Raisers Can Irritate

Fund raisers, however well-intentioned, by the sheer weight of their numbers can be a source of irritation.

Los Angeles is one city, though, that seeks to keep the public fully informed of every fund raising appeal.

In the May Good Housekeeping Magazine an article in "The Better Way" section of the magazine explains how Los Angeles controls fund raising and suggests other cities might profit by a look at Los Angeles' success with its regulation of fund raising — even rummage sales.

Blooming Period Is Prolonged

Proper care of spring potted plants will extend their blooming period and increase your enjoyment of them.

Hydrangeas are thirsty plants which may need watering every day, even twice a day in a dry atmosphere. Water Easter lily plants every other day and, as new buds unfold, remove the yellow anthers carefully.

Keep hyacinths, tulips, and other potted plants in a cool, light location and water them when the soil starts to dry out. For best results, keep the soil of azaleas uniformly moist. If the soil becomes dry, submerge the pot in water until the topsoil is wet again.

New Project Begins

Year-round planting at Trinity Memorial Park is the new project for the Junior Garden Club. O. C. Chapland, owner and manager of Trinity Park, has sanctioned the planting, according to Mrs. J. I. Balch, sponsor of the junior group. From left, above, Ellen Gossett, Anne Talbot, president, Melinda Brooke, vice president-elect, and Pat Chapland, president-elect. The young gardeners visited the park Friday to make notes of work to be done toward the ever-blooming flower plan.

Brownies In Fly-Up Ceremony

Twenty girls of Brownie Troop 390 became Junior Scouts in a fly-up ceremony Friday evening at the Girl Scout Little House. Following the flag ceremony, the girls re-dedicated themselves to scouting in a candlelight service. Color guards were Marcia Staggs, Cynthia Cook, Helen Tidwell, Barbara Gannon and Marsha Kuhns. Candelighters were Mary Kay Cochran, Elaine Grifford, Cynthia Davis, Karen Spradling, Donna Shirley, Linda Horton, Terri Martin, Kay Rowland, Martha Lewis and Debra Awtry. Each girl received a bracelet as a token of her days spent as a Brownie. Following the ceremony, members of the troop presented a style show "Hat Modes for Mother" during which the girls modeled original creations. A yellow cloth covered the refreshment table which held cakes decorated in the Scout colors. Hostesses alternating at the punch bowl were Susan Plowman, Dana Griesler, Mary Alice Terrazas, Kelly Thames and Linda Stevens. Troop leaders are Mrs. Hollis Grifford, Mrs. Martin Staggs and Mrs. Janet Awtry.

The next meeting will be June 4 with Mrs. C. L. Gooch as hostess. College students returning home are Joyce Shultz, from Hardin - Simmons, Abilene; William Conger, Jerry Bardwell, Gerry and Terry Harkrider, Sul Ross, Alpine; and Johnny Bob Asbury, Jan Stockton and Danny

SEASONAL CARE OF ### Lawns Can Increase Value Of Property

A beautiful, well-kept lawn adds to the material value of a home and is a basic requirement of an attractive yard. The beauty of a lawn depends largely on the care it receives during the growing season, points out A. C. Novosad, extension pasture specialist. He lists fertilization, watering, mowing and weed control as important considerations in a good lawn care program. Fertilization, he says, is one of the most neglected. The best indicator for fertilizer use is a soil test. However, if soil test information is not available and the lawn has not already received a spring application of plant food, Novosad recommends an immediate treatment with a complete fertilizer, a 1-1-1 or 2-1-1 ratio. Enough should be applied to supply two pounds of nitrogen per each 1,000 square feet of lawn area. In addition, nitrogen should be applied every 30 to 40 days during the summer at a rate of one pound per 1,000 square feet of lawn. Such applications will keep the lawn grasses green and vigorous during the growing season. In the fall, 30 days before the first expected killing frost, the lawn should get an application of a complete fertilizer such as was applied in the spring. The lawn should be watered only when the grass needs it. A slight wilting is an indication the grass needs water. Frequent light waterings are not recommended. Wet the soil to a depth of six inches or deeper. This will encourage deep root systems and enables the plants to utilize the plant food applied. It is best to water in the mornings. Proper mowing gives a healthier and thicker turf. Mow regularly and don't clip more than one inch at a time. Keep the mower sharp and in proper adjustment and mow Bermuda grass at a height of one to one and a half inches; St. Augustine and bluegrass at one and a half to two inches for an attractive lawn, says the specialist. A thick, vigorous turf is the best defense against weeds but if they are a problem chemicals can be used for control. Ask the local county agent for details.

Dump Digging Viewed As The Newest Hobby

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — "Oh you poor lady!" exclaimed a fastidious teen-ager, suddenly catching sight of a mud-streaked woman shouldering a hole at Key West's abandoned city dump. The "poor lady" needed no pity. She was having the time of her life. She was one of a growing number of bottle collectors who are making the deserted dump into an unusual tourist attraction.

It's A Real Prize

Retha Sellers proudly displays a flask she's just excavated in the Key West dump. Markings show the liquor it once held was bottled in Havana.

Almost any time you pass by, you can see half a dozen or so people wielding shovels and "scratches." There are others whom you don't see because they're down in deep holes.

They come from all over the country to prospect in the wide stretch of vacant ground on the edge of the ocean. The area is littered with common bottles rejected by the diggers and sparkling with thousands of chips of broken glass, many turned violet by the subtropical sun.

The old dump was leveled off years ago and covered with a deep layer of sand so the waterfront could be improved with bath houses, picnic shelters and the like. A hurricane did away with the buildings but the sand remains. That's why collectors have to dig so deeply.

DIGGERS WELL INFORMED Once the desired level is reached, the shovel usually is abandoned for the "scratcher"—a three-pronged tool more generally used for cultivating flower gardens. It is employed gently. Old glass is fragile and the ancient flasks sometimes break as they're being retrieved. Numbers survive, though, and are borne off proudly to be washed and put on display.

Most of the diggers are well informed about their hobby. Some have sizeable libraries on the subject. A searcher will excavate a round-bottomed bottle, for instance. He'll give its age within a year or so and explain that the rounded end was to induce its return to the soft drink maker who used it.

Bottles were scarce in the days when the round-bottoms were in use and people wanted them for many purposes. However, a bottle that wouldn't stand up was of little value. So its owner usually got it back.

SOME THINK THEY'RE NUTS Even children become experts. A beginning collector looked up the other day to find a little blonde girl regarding the newly dug bottles. "You've got a schnapps bottle," observed the small one. "That's a good one." Of course, many people think the diggers are nuts. Uninitiated passers-by, attracted by the activity, will peer down into a hole and ask what's going on. "Looking for old bottles," comes the reply. The questioners usually shake their heads sadly and turn away.

None Knows Why Sugar Market Has Gone Sour

By SAM BLACKBURN

Sugar is sweet but the retail price has gone sour. The pounds of sugar bought this week will cost you from 35 to 45 cents more than the same 10 pounds would have cost you a week ago. Two or three weeks ago, you could have bought the same sugar for $1.20. Today it will cost you $1.49 or $1.59.

Why? No one seems to know. There is an ample supply of sugar, grocery store operators say. Yet the price has been climbing steadily for the past months. Luther Loudamy at Safeway, said that in April, his store was selling sugar for as little as $1.20 for 10 pounds. Today that same brand sugar is on the store shelves at $1.49. The first jump was from $1.20 to $1.37. Since then the price has climbed weekly and the store managers glumly see no hope of any relief.

WELL STOCKED

Newsom's Food Stores had sugar Saturday at $1.59 for 10 pounds, a jump from $1.35 a week ago. No hoarding has developed, according to Don Newsom. Local housewives may have been well stocked with sugar because a recent competitive battle resulted in sugar going at 10-cents a pound where a minimum food purchase was exceeded. Piggy Wiggy was selling su-

Most Of First Paving Program Nears Finish

Twenty-six blocks of new curb and gutter — both sides — have been completed in the city's continuing assessment paving program. Out of 33 blocks, included in Project II of the program, seven remain to be constructed, Ernest Lillard, director of public works, said Friday.

"If the rain holds off now we will get some topping laid in a couple of weeks," he said. "The curb and gutter and grading crews will then start on Project III which will include another 26 blocks."

Lillard said the rains had not left much damage on paved streets except for dirt washing into low places. "We have an unusually small number of pot holes left in the pavement," he said. "I guess you can call it lucky, because even the stabilized streets in the heavy drainage areas on the north side did not sustain many holes."

"We have some alleys in the city in such condition that garbage trucks can't make their regular runs. One truck got stuck this week and we had to send a maintainer to pull it out. A winch truck could not get close enough to handle it. Our future planning is going to call for stabilization of some of the residential alleys, but we have to do the best we can now and plead for patience."

Road Building Has Small Stall

Rains of last week have hampered construction work on IS 20 and on Third and Fourth Streets to some extent, but the jobs have not been brought to a halt because of the weather, according to the Texas Highway Department local engineering office.

Dirt work on both the east and west legs of IS 20 has been slowed down but concrete work is moving steadily ahead. There has been some slight washing but the damage caused has been minor. Actually the rains will settle the dirt already moved.

The engineer's office said that the work on the three road projects is progressing at good speed and is on schedule. The west end of IS 20 by-pass is about 25 per cent completed, it was said. Parker & Parker and M. Bailey are the contractors on this job.

The east leg, started a few days earlier than the west, is about 28 per cent completed. M. C. Winters is the contractor. Clayton Equipment Co., which has the contract on the rebuilding of the east ends of Third and Fourth Streets are about 20 per cent along with the work.

Webb Information Officer Draws ATC Assignment

Maj. Charles A. Smith, Webb's information officer for the past two and one-half years, has received orders reassigning him to Headquarters Air Training Command, Randolph AFB, San Antonio. His new duty will be as assistant chief of public information for ATC.

Maj. Smith came to Webb from Clark AFB, Philippine Islands on Sept. 18, 1960. He was already well known in civic and military circles in West Texas, having served two years as information officer at Goodfellow AFB in San Angelo.

While here he has taken an interest in all phases of base-community activity, working with newspapers, radio and television stations, the Chamber of Commerce, and other civic organizations.

Maj. Smith is holder of the Silver Star, the Distinguished Unit Citation, Air Medal and other decorations. He accumulated 141 combat hours in 127 combat missions flying helicopters in air rescue work in Korea in 1951-1952. He served in the Europe-Africa-Middle East Theatre during World War II.

Maj. Smith began service Dec. 26, 1939, and was admitted to the aircraft mechanics school at Chanute in 1940. For several years he served as an aerial engineer crew chief and became a sergeant. In 1949 he completed the primary and advanced pilot training program graduating at Barksdale Field, La., and in 1951 completed helicopter pilot training and graduated from the academic instructors course and squadron officers school at Maxwell AFB, Ala., and the ECI at Gunter AFB.

Last year was selected by Air Training Command to attend the two-month course in public relations at Boston University. He is a graduate and holds a BA de-

Better Use Of Religious News Subject Of Clinic

Where is the "gold" of religious news hidden?

Often, it's just beneath the noses of the congregations that fail to see the glitter of its real news value. It's in the front pews of the church, in the sermons, the activities, and most of all, in the people.

Church stories should never be confined only to a change in the schedule of services, groundbreaking for a new building, or the arrival of a new minister.

A youth program that dares to clear the air with open debates on faith... an unusual hobby of a minister of member... a bell that houses a bell with a history... warm, human incidents about children, elderly people, or any of the members — these are the "nuggets" of news that put a human touch into the news of religion.

The Herald, aware that many churches do not fully realize the impact events in religion have on today's living, has scheduled a Religious News Clinic — to aid church leaders in "digging for gold" in the news field.

The full importance of religious news reporting, and how churches can better assist the newspapers to report it, will be covered thoroughly in the Religious News Clinic to be held Thursday, June 6, in Room 1 on the Settles Hotel Mezzanine. It will start at 2 p.m. and last for two hours.

The clinic is being sponsored by The Herald and will feature a talk by an expert in this field, as well as a question-and-answer forum. The affair is open to all denominations, and to church staff members, pastors, priests and laymen. A blanket invitation is issued to all who might be interested.

A Devotional For The Day

Be still, and know that I am God. . . . I will be exalted in the earth. (Psalms 46:10.)

PRAYER: O eternal Father, we pray that Thy heavenly goodness may so shine upon us that we will dedicate ourselves to Thy work. Inspire us not only to preach Thy Word, but also to live it, with Christ as our guide. In our Savior's name we pray. Amen. (From The 'Upper Room')

Welcome To A New Commander

Col. Howard A. Withycombe has been announced as the new commandg of Webb AFB, succeeding Col. Wilson H. Banks when Col. Banks clears for his impending mission to India.

Col. Withycombe's current assignment is chief of staff at the Air Force Academy although he is on temporary duty in Pakistan. He has a long and impressive record of service, including command experience.

The new wing commander will come to Webb as a stranger to the base and to this area, but we trust he will not long be so.

Although reluctant to give up good friends, it has come to him with a sense of responsibility. Men who attain to these high places in the Air Force invariably are men of high character and ability, and we know this will be the case with Col. Withycombe.

He will have the unstinted support of the community and its best wishes, just as Col. Banks will have them in his new opportunity of service.

More Facilities, Another Name

Speaking to the Kiwanis Club last week Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College, made three interesting observations about the college. All three could have some bearing on its future.

One had to do with the need for additional physical facilities, based on the projected increase in enrollment in light of space which has been fairly well committed to present demands. The pressure is primarily on science and library areas of plant, he said, and provision for these would free their present quarters for other classroom use. The method of financing has not yet been decided, nor indeed has the decision to actually undertake the program, but it could be that trustees will ask the public to provide the funds from taxes.

The other observations are less direct, yet they might have an intangible effect on promotion of the college. They are wrapped up in his suggestion that a new name should be sought for HCJC on the grounds that the full title makes a pretty good mouth full. It also has a localizing connotation and would tend to impite a certain provincialism to the college. Most important, however, is the word "junior," which the doctor thought might give an erroneous impression of inferiority. Although there are no grounds for it, some people will always fear a two-year college with the brush of immaturity simply because of the word junior. Perhaps the president has a point, both as to a name and as to the urgency of need for expanded facilities.

Marquis Childs Agriculture Potentially Explosive

WASHINGTON—No way has been found to control and contain the revolution in agriculture. The outpouring of plenty is like an oil gusher that cannot be capped or even directed into useful channels.

The revolt of the wheat farmers is simply another evidence of the reluctance to face up to the mechanization of mass farming and the fact that in America fewer men produce more and more food. But the rejection of a control plan by an outright majority, as against the two-thirds vote required for approval, comes at a moment when America's agricultural production is threatened from another quarter.

THE SIX EUROPEAN nations comprising the Common Market are trying to determine their own agricultural policy as their farmers are beginning to benefit by the new revolutionary techniques. The pressure is great to use government subsidies to build up production, making Europe not only self-sufficient in major commodities but to create surpluses for sale abroad.

To do that it would be necessary to put up tariff walls against American agricultural products and shut out roughly $1.5 billion currently sold in the European market. Most of this is in feed grains which are in the greatest surplus here at home. With as little stir as possible the United States has been saying to Europe:

IF YOU DO THIS you will cause a political reaction so violent that it can wreck the Atlantic alliance. You should not forget what happened when you doubled the import duty on American chickens. The angry outcries from a half-dozen Southern senators would be as nothing compared to the blast that will come if you keep out our grains.

The cliff-hanging at Geneva this week, when failure of the over-all effort to agree to negotiate tariffs downward seemed about to fail, shows how hard and narrow are the trade divisions between Europe and this country. Groping for a solution of the agricultural revolution, Europeans and Americans have looked to a world conference.

SUCH A CONFERENCE would work toward setting separate national goals for a policy of abundance and help the hungry peoples. The alternative is grim—free competition for markets, dumping of surplus commodities and sooner or later an end to the Atlantic partnership.

But putting order into the world picture implies the ability to rationalize production within each nation. And it is here that the returns from the wheat referendum will be read in Europe with special interest. As with everything this country does, or fails to do, with its overwhelming economic power, the consequences flow out to the farthest corners of the earth.

THE LONGER a subsidy system exists the more beneficiaries it brings into being, and they fight like tigers against any change. Some of the juiciest benefits have gone to the commercial storage industry for holding the great mountain range of surplus grain off the market. How important they were in lobbying against the administration's wheat control program is hard to say, since the conservative American Farm Bureau Federation apparently supplied a sufficient margin.

But the stake of these commercial interests in wheat alone is huge. The storage of surplus wheat in 1953 cost just under $20,000,000. In the seven years of the Eisenhower administration it went to $190,800,000 and of that total in 1960 the commercial storage industry got $185,900,000.

THE RATES PAID for storage were reduced that year. Yet, despite this, the building of new capacity went right ahead. One June 30, 1960, when the rates were down total capacity was 4,240,000 bushels. It is currently nearly five billion. And while the total annual storage bill dropped by $34,000,000 from '60 through '62 unlimited production under the old program will be guaranteed to send it up again.

Farmers the world over are stubborn individualists. For so many centuries they have wrestled with the adversity of soil and weather, that they harbor today a deep-seated suspicion that the city dweller wants to cheat them out of their new found bonanza.

PRESIDENT DE GAULLE has had almost more trouble from the French peasants than from organized labor in his attempt to put controls on the French economy. The German peasant treasures his traditional handicraft farming. These are the forces Europe reckons with and they have a potential fully as explosive to world order as America's mountainous surpluses.

Prosperity May Stimulate Corporate Borrowing

"Blue Monday"—that dreadful day of panic on the New York Stock Exchange—seems far away and long ago.

At President Kennedy's press conference on Wednesday, not one question was asked about the state of the general economy, not a reference to unemployment or slow growth. The wheat referendum, Cuba, and Alabama dominated the dialogue.

Yet, only a year back—on May 28—stocks tumbled violently and spread forebodings in Wall Street, Main Street, and the financial centers of the Western World. Was a recession in store, or worse, a depression?

WEATHER VANE The decline—the fear-affected consumers. Those who owned stocks felt poorer. They spent less. It affected business men. They were less inclined to make bold forward-looking plans. It affected the administration, which restudied its promise of a tax cut in 1963. And it reinforced the so-called "leading business indicators," many of which tilted downward.

And after all that, where are we now? Possibly on the threshold of a boom.

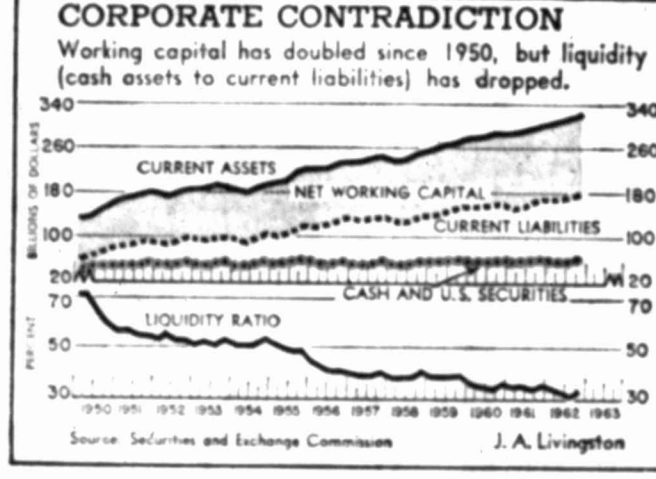

As noted last week, industrial production, which moved in a narrow band of 119-120 from June 1962 through February 1963, has finally broken into new high ground. It rose to 121 in March and to 122 last month.

Personal income continues to advance and add to the buying capacity of consumers. At present rates, steel production could exceed the 1955 high of 117 million tons, though executives at the general meeting of the American Iron & Steel Institute talked of only 105 to 108 million tons.

HOUSING UP Housing starts bounded upward in March and April. Inferred: A strong upward trend has been established. Even employment may rise unexpectedly. That frequently happens when an advance gathers headway.

UPWARD PRESSURES In an effort to measure inventories and capacity against production, Fortune magazine has developed an "index of industrial pressure." It's an attempt to relate supply to demand. The index is at the highest level since early 1956.

Recurrent announcements of plans to increase capacity are a response to this pressure. And corporate outlays on plant and equipment this year are headed bear-market loss has been regained. Quite a resurgence! Only a small advance—less than 5 per cent in the Standard & Poor's and less than 2 per cent in the Dow-Jones industrials—would carry these averages to new bull-market highs. That would generate—if the past is a guide—widespread enthusiasm.

YOU CAN SENSE IT You can sense it now. M. J. Rathbone, chairman of Standard Oil (New Jersey), told shareholders that April net income looks "awfully good." The Coleman Co., Wichita, Kansas, manufacturer of camping, heating, and air conditioning products, expects a 30 per cent rise in earnings this year.

FINANCIAL PARADOX For here's a paradox. Corporate working capital has doubled in the last dozen years. Yet corporate liquidity (cash and government security holdings divided by current liabilities) has declined. Why is this?

The increase in current assets has gone mainly into inventories and accounts receivable. Cash and government holdings have held steady (see chart). Therefore, cash reserves relative to business done have diminished.

Inference: A prosperity spiral will send corporations to Wall Street for new capital.

Gourmet News BALTIMORE (AP) — The meal was prepared in New York for explorers and others who live dangerously. Judge Albert H. Blum of Baltimore Municipal Court, one of those attending, said he ate baby bees, roast alligator tail, agave worms, fried grasshoppers, ziti worms, sparrowbrochet, guinea worms, sauteed calf eyes, caribou meat balls and roast monkey. These were only the appetizer. The main course was roast beef.

Around The Rim A Pretty Wonderful Teacher

Over in the old home town a short while back, a gracious lady went on to her eternal resting place. And her passing put a nick of sorrow into my memories, because she was the first school teacher I ever had.

She was later Mrs. Jerold Riordan, but a long, long time ago she was Miss Sally Hutton, and for a number of years rode herd on the urchins who trooped through her first and second grade classes.

I BELIEVE everybody, if reminiscences are permitted to review all the teachers that one had through the grades of school, will inevitably pick a few—probably fewer than a half-dozen—who left a lasting impact, through personality, example, and sheer instructive genius. Don't you recall your best teachers?

Well, not only because she was the first one, but for a variety of reasons, Miss Sally would be one of my standouts.

I REMEMBER principally because she always seemed to be smiling. I know she had her moments of frustration, despair, and loss of patience. But this didn't seem to show through to the tots who looked up to her as if she were some sort of a queen.

She was a disciplinarian, all right, and slapped her share of little hands with her ruler. But even then she managed the punishment without creating fear, hatred or resentment.

I SUPPOSE you could say that some of us learned to spell and read a little bit, and perhaps do some modest numbers.

I recall very definitely that Miss Sally was a whiz at phonetics, and we were drilled on symbols for pronunciation until we weren't about to forget soon.

board were the letters of the alphabet, done in chalk in Miss Sally's splendid Spencerian hand. Over at the left, the bold capital A, and right by it, the little a. And then the fat B and the little b, the circular C and the little c, and on down through the alphabet. These were there before you every day, and it was pretty silly not to be able to learn your abc's.

AND SHE had little cards with the pronunciation symbols on them, and when she held up the "a" with the little dash over it, you knew that was for "ale." If it had an inverted eyebrow over that was for "add." If there were two dots over it, that was for "arm." And so on with the other marks.

Vowels were "a," "e," "i," "o" and "u" (the best I can remember), and all the rest were consonants. And it was also pretty silly not to learn this, the way Miss Sally tossed it out.

IN RETROSPECT, I would have to say that Miss Sally managed to keep learning from being a chore, but dressed the process up so that it seemed to be not only a challenge and the accepted thing, it was also a pretty bright adventure.

This would be the mark, I think, of a great teacher. God bless 'em, they take so much criticism this day and time, and are so bedeviled by demanding parents, superhuman schedules, and extra-curricular supervision that it may be a wonder that there are still those with a great talent of Miss Sally Hutton. But there are, of course. And through her memory—one who opened many enclaving doors for kids of long ago—I salute them all.

Inequality At Princeton, Too

WASHINGTON — Woodrow Wilson, one of the century's early equalizers, lost his big battle with the Club System at Princeton in 1907—but the struggle to Wilsonize campus life at Old Nassau still persists, as feebly as ever.

My own 53th reunion next month will take scant notice of the pressure, of the Woodrow Wilson Society in Wilcox Hall. There the incongruous marriage of democracy and intellectualism has produced what the Alumni Weekly calls an "unclubbable" atmosphere in a chill environment of "impersonality."

NATURALLY, the Wilson Society isn't doing very well. A three-year drive for membership (everybody's eligible and must be accepted) has reached only 149 at the last count. The dining facilities could feed at least 100 more. The Princeton student body, like the majority of humanity, practices inequality and abhors intellectualism. The undergrads riot for no other reason than spring fever.

IN THE DAYS between Scott Fitzgerald and Soapy Williams, which was my time at Princeton, more than half the sophomore class was discriminated against by being left out of clubs.

Viewing all this misery from the comfortable, anti-intellectual confines of the Cap and Gown Club and the Polo Team, I had somewhat the same adolescent reaction which today causes grown-up princes of privilege like the Kennedy brothers and Nelson Rockefeller to blubber for the undergrad. I went so far as to write a book about it, and was chagrined when I didn't change the world.

LATER I READ and concurred in the opinion of H. L. Mencken that Wilson was "the perfect model of the Christian cad" and that we ought to "dig up his bones and make dice of them." The sophomores who hug the sin of inequality, even when they are victimized by it, are wiser than the reformers and level-down statemen.

THE CLUB SYSTEM, at its zenith of snootiness, taught more about life than the Supreme Court did in its integration decision. The earlier a child learns that he is probably the inferior of the boy next door, the better for him. He will sooner understand the competitive system, and make the best of it. He might as well find out that if he has pimples, the girls will discriminate against him, so that the texture of his skin is a handicap. He has no "right to belong," no right to prevent others from belonging where he isn't welcome, and demagogues in white collars, like Wilson, are only preaching untruth and unreality.

They never succeed, but to this day they are the world's worst mischief-makers.

Illegality Breeding More Illegality

WASHINGTON — Illegality is breeding more and more illegality. The biggest question confronting the country today is by what means a respect for law and constitutional processes can be achieved.

THE DISQUIETING facts are these: 1. The Supreme Court of the United States asserts the right to amend the Constitution by an order or decision. If the people don't like it, their only redress now apparently is to go through the long process of adopting constitutional amendments that would specifically nullify every decision which is not sanctioned by the written Constitution.

2. The President of the United States orders troops into Alabama in direct violation of the provisions of the Constitution which deny him that power in dealing with threatened disorder. Some of the best constitutional lawyers in the country—including members of the United States Senate—are pointing to this violation.

3. George Wallace, governor of Alabama, has petitioned the Supreme Court of the United States to order that federal troops not be used in Alabama unless there is formal application by the state for such use, as required by the Constitution.

4. Meanwhile, the Alabama governor announces that he will stand in the doorway and block the admission of two Negro students who have been accepted by the board of trustees of the University of Alabama.

5. The United Press International in two dispatches—one from the North and the other from the South—reports the defiance of official authority in connection with race problems.

FROM ENGLEWOOD, N. J., comes the following: "The parents of 34 Negro children today defied a board of education order to cease boycott and sit-in protests. They sent the unregistered youngsters to the predominantly white Cleveland school for the 12th consecutive school day."

From Greensboro, North Carolina, comes the following: "Almost 700 Negroes jailed for racial demonstrations were released early today. The Negroes, some of them crying, marched out but later claimed they had been tricked into leaving."

6. In a speech in the United States Senate on Tuesday, John Stennis, Democrat of Mississippi, who is one of the foremost lawyers in Congress, spoke as follows: "The recent mobilization of the armed might of federal military forces in the vicinity of Birmingham, Ala., raises a constitutional question of grave proportions. In addition, it provides another unhappy example of how the rights and privileges of the states of the union are gradually being usurped as a result of continued encroachment by the executive branch of the federal government . . .

"NO FEDERAL COURT order was involved. "There was no violation of a federal statute. "There was no abandonment of their functions by the local police. To the contrary, local police officers and state troopers were in control and functioning fully and effectively."

"Thus the President apparently believes that there has been an unlimited and unrestrained delegation of authority to him to call forth federal military forces to supersede and replace local law-enforcement agencies whenever he sees fit—even before there has been a violation of federal law or a defiance of a federal court decree. If we accept this belief or doctrine as valid, it simply means that we abandon our historic freedom and liberty under laws prescribed by the people through their elected representatives. They thus open the doors for a future military dictatorship in this country . . .

"IT BEGS THE QUESTION, of course, to minimize the importance of the actions with respect to Birmingham by saying that the troops have not been used and may not be used. It is the threat of their use and the principle which is involved which is of importance. None of us should be content to sit idly by in the face of this direct assault upon and threat to historic constitutional principles. Whether the troops are actually used in Birmingham or not, we may be very sure that—with the precedent thus established—they will be ordered into action on some occasion in the future when the executive department should so desire . . .

"If the President has such unrestricted and dictatorial power as is claimed for him, then no state and no city in the country is safe from the threat of military rule at the whim of a chief executive. Indeed, one must wonder why federal troops were not called into action following the racial disorders and rioting at the (Washington) D. C. stadium last Thanksgiving."

SEN. STENNIS charged Martin Luther King Jr. and other Negro leaders, with deliberately inciting disorder. He said: "The hard truth of the matter is that Martin Luther King and his co-workers went to Birmingham for the express purpose of stirring up conflict, strife and disorder. King wanted to be put in jail. He and his co-workers took children out of school and marched them into the business district of the city, seeking to have them arrested. In addition to violating local statutes and ordinances, he committed the common-law crime of inciting to riot."

To Your Good Health Periodic Pelvic Examination Recommended

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Dear Dr. Molner: Several of us women (and I imagine a great many more) who would like you to write about pelvic examinations. We have all had hysterectomies.

Can a doctor tell by touch if there are any growths? Can they examine far enough? We feel we may be paying for an examination that isn't good enough—i.e., fibroid tumors or uncontrollable bleeding are the most frequent reasons for hysterectomy plus, of course, such cases as may involve cancer.

The pelvic structures are low enough in the abdomen so that the uterus, tubes and ovaries can be palpated (examined by touch) by "bimanual pelvic examination." That is, by use of the hands.

If all the structures—uterus, ovaries, tubes, cervix—have been removed by hysterectomy, there is nothing to feel. If the uterus alone has been removed, any enlargement of the ovaries can be detected. If the cervix remains, it should be inspected by instruments and by periodic "Pap smears," a simple method of detecting cancer. I commend all of you for being wise enough to have a periodic post-operative examination. It catches trouble—if there is any more—early. Doctors are aware of a woman's natural concern over this area, and also the extent to which examination should be made. The tests outlined above have proved to be effective protection, plus, of course, further ones which would be indicated if any symptoms appeared, such as bleeding.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am an 18-year-old boy. I have a lump in my breast and it stays sore all the time. It changes from one side to the other. Could it be cancer, or what? Is it serious?—G.W.W.

If it moves around like that it isn't cancer. If it's sore, have your doctor examine it.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have a polyp in my nose. I'm so nervous that I couldn't have a local anesthetic for its removal and the doctor says if I am put to sleep a tube would be inserted. I gag so easily I would hate for that to be done. Is it dangerous to leave the polyp alone? It doesn't bother me at all.—J.C.L.

causing some interference even though you do not notice it; otherwise I wonder how the doctor discovered the polyp in the first place. A local anesthetic is simpler and more economical than a general one (being "put to sleep"), and with the help of sedation you might be surprised to find that you aren't as nervous as you think.

If you do have a general anesthetic, I can almost guarantee that you will not have the trouble you fear with the tube. It is inserted deftly and even people who have worried about gagging find it in place readily. You are worrying too much. . . .

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald requesting a copy of the booklet, "The Real Cure for Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

May Rains Make Crop Outlook Best In Years

By SAM BLACKBURN
It has been a long time, in the view of experienced observers, since the fields and ranges of Howard County have been so well blessed with moisture as they are at this season.

Rains of May, described by farmers as nearly perfect, have brought the total rainfall in the county for the year to more than 8 inches. The year to date, the U.S. Experiment Station shows 8.03 inches for the year—with 3.78 of that total credited to May. Several parts of the county have received much more than that, but certain other parts—particularly the northwest and southwest corners of the county—have probably not gotten as much as has fallen at the station.

FINE SHAPE

J. P. Taylor, former county farm agent, said the moisture situation now is excellent. He said that cotton crops so far planted are spotty. Some of the fields planted early are in fine shape, and the crops are well along. Others, where rains and wind were heavier, have been cut back sharply and will have to be replanted. Scores of fields are not yet planted but there is plenty of time.

Pastures, which a few weeks ago were beginning to suffer for rain, are now plentifully supplied and those which have not come out full force will be in flush condition in a few days, Taylor said.

Mrs. Yarborough Dies At Fort Worth

Funeral services were held Friday in Fort Worth for Mrs. J. A. Yarborough, 78, former resident of Big Spring. Mrs. Yarborough died Thursday in a Fort Worth hospital following a lengthy illness.

The Yarboroughs were among early residents of the Big Spring area. Mr. Yarborough, who died about eight years ago, was employed by the Texas and Pacific Railroad Company.

Mrs. Yarborough is survived by three sons, Milton Yarborough, Harold (Plush) Yarborough and Don Yarborough.

TIMELY AID FOR YOUNG COTTON
Farmers break crust to benefit most from moisture

The one problem which has not as yet been completely solved is replenishing the stock tanks. The rains so far this year, while ideal to put moisture in the soil, have produced little runoff. Only in the last few days have any of the stock tanks gained a reserve.

SOAKING IN

The cool damp weather, following the rain, according to Herb Helbig, county farm agent, is just what was needed to permit the soil to soak up the maximum amount of moisture. The damp weather and cool days have stalled evaporation.

"In general," said Helbig, "all parts of the county are now in good shape insofar as moisture is concerned."

"Feed crops, which are planted and those which are to be planted, will do well with the weather like it is. The feed already up looks good."

The cool weather may have another side-benefit, Helbig said. There has been a marked drop in the number of suspected screw worm cases.

NO DAMAGE

The rains have been mostly free of damage. A few areas suffered from wind and sand. Other areas had some washing, and hail hurt some other fields.

Highways and roads have not been seriously damaged by the rains. Some washing on unpaved county roads has been reported.

but in general the damage has been much lighter than usual for this season of the year.

The rains which have fallen, even if they stop at this point, have afforded ample moisture to hold the crops through June and on into July. Given a little more rain at the right time, farmers say, and 1963 should be a banner production year—provided, of course, that the insects can be controlled, sand storms stay away, and hail does not hammer fields.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sunday, May 26, 1963 3-D

DRY AREA? THEN JUST RUN ALL THIS THROUGH METER

Howard County a dry area? If all of the county has received as much rain so far in 1963 as has been gauged at the U.S. Experiment Station, then the "dry" designation seems inappropriate. The U. S. Experiment Station report shows the year's rainfall through Friday to have been 8.03 inches. There are 912 square miles in Howard County. To cover a square mile with an inch of water takes 17,317,520 gallons. To soak the 912 square miles with 8 inches of moisture takes 126,642,960 gallons. A dry area? Run that much water through your meter and then go down and pay the bill. Then call it dry.

Time Short For Scouts To Sign For Nat'l Jamboree

Time is short for nailing down a seat on one of two buses going from here to the National Boy Scout Jamboree next summer. Carl Campbell, jamboree committee chairman, Saturday urged Scouts, Explorers and leaders in the Lone Star District to mail in their $25 registration fee by June 1.

Of the 4,700 registered boys in the Buffalo Trail Council, he reminded, only 111 can be signed. This will make three troops and three leaders per troop.

So far, Campbell said, only six boys have signed from this district. What places are not taken by this district by June 1 will be made available to other districts.

Plans are for the jamboree troops to travel in three air conditioned buses for colorful tours to and from Valley Forge, Pa., where the massive encampment will be held. There will be stops at points in Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Michigan, Canada, New York, Pennsylvania, the World's Fair in New York, Virginia, Tennessee, Arkansas. The trip will cover about three weeks, including seven days at Valley Forge where 50,000 Scouts from the United States and several other countries will be camped.

A letter of application should be mailed immediately to Campbell (Box 1047, Big Spring) or to the council office in Midland. This should contain the name of the applicant, his troop or post number, age, period of time in Scouting, rank, etc.

Thursday Holiday

Thursday, May 30, will be a holiday for the Howard County Court House offices. Lee Porter, county judge, said that business will resume as usual on Friday morning. Memorial Day is one of the official holidays observed by the county government each year.

DEAR ABBY
He's Still Out Of Step

DEAR ABBY: Can a person who has no "rhythm" ever learn to dance? I am a 44-year-old bachelor. I've always been on the bashful side and was told that a course in ballroom dancing (including the fox trot, waltz, rhumba and cha cha) would help me socially. Well, since 1956 I have spent $4,500 on dancing lessons and still haven't met anybody. Furthermore, I can't dance any better now than I did before I took the lessons. I am not complaining, because nobody forced me to sign up, but I want to know this: Can a person who doesn't have a natural sense of rhythm be taught to dance?

NO RHYTHM

DEAR NO RHYTHM: No, no—a thousand times no! This is not to say that those who have no sense of rhythm cannot enjoy dancing as much as those who have. (Only the partner suffers!) But attempting to "teach" a person who has no "rhythm" to dance is like trying to teach a person who can't carry a tune to sing.

DEAR ABBY: I was engaged briefly while I was in the service, but the girl returned the ring. I am going to get engaged again. Would it be okay to use the same ring? Some people tell me that a girl doesn't want a ring some other girl has worn, but the one I'm marrying says she doesn't care. Do you think it's okay?

LAWRENCE

DEAR LAWRENCE: Even if your girl says she doesn't care, be a sport and have the stone set in a brand new mounting. Why have any of the "old" memories cropping up?

DEAR ABBY: Even more important than whether Jesus Christ drank wine or grape juice is the fact that there are so many self-proclaimed Christians in the world whose minds never rise above their neighbors' garbage cans.

RALPH

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WORKING GIRL": When a single girl accepts a dinner date from her married employer, she should expect the following menu:

Cocktails: A few martinis—just to "relax" us.

Appetizer: "My wife doesn't understand me."

Fish Course: (Very fishy.) "I haven't had any real affection in years."

Entree: Baloney and . . . "I'd have left my wife years ago—if it weren't for the children."

Salad: Grass (other-side-of-the-fence-variety) and . . . "YOU understand me perfectly. If I were a free man I'd marry you tomorrow."

Dessert: Sweet Talk and . . . "It's so noisy in this place. Let's get out of here and go to my place where we can talk."

PIONEERS For TOMORROW

Pioneers are as plentiful today as ever . . . indeed, in this world of ever-new frontiers, you too, are a pioneer.

As such, you bear great responsibility, for defined, "a pioneer is one who goes before, preparing the way for others to follow."

The Church reaches out to you in greatest urgency. It needs you to help, by example and precept, combat the greed and intolerance that today threaten our world.

The Church needs you as another pioneer in Christian example and thinking. You can help prepare the way for others by promoting generosity, kindness, and love toward all other human beings.

Through the Church you can, as a pioneer, strive most effectively toward generous, tolerant tomorrows for your fellowmen.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Giant' Classic Returns To Screen

One of the screen's greatest boxoffice hits, pairing two of the screen's most popular romantic stars—Elizabeth Taylor and Rock Hudson—George Stevens' production of "Giant," a Warner Bros. re-release, opens today at the Ritz Theatre.

James Dean, Carroll Baker, Jane Withers, Chill Wills, Mercedes McCambridge and Sal Mineo are also starred in the epic film based on the novel by Edna Ferber. "Giant" won Stevens the Academy Award as best director of the year.

Filed on a vast scale commensurate with the novel's locale, the vast empire of Texas, "Giant" is more than a regional story of Texas and its people—it is essentially a chronicle of three decades of American life and the human emotions generated out of the problems of our changing times.

Hundreds of actors and actresses were called upon to fill major and minor roles in "Giant." An eye-filling Victorian mansion was built in the Warner Bros. property shop in Hollywood and then shipped in pieces on flat cars to Texas for erection on the location site.

Cattle and horses by the thousands were used for Stevens' sweeping action sequences setting the background of the vast Reata Ranch which is ruled by Hudson and his beautiful and strong-willed wife, Miss Taylor.

Stevens also took some of his principals to Maryland for the film's opening sequences which recount the meeting of the rangy, headstrong Texan and the stunning Eastern beauty, their whirlwind courtship, and marriage.

"Giant" marked a reunion for director Stevens and Miss Taylor. She had starred opposite Montgomery Clift in "A Place In The Sun," the film for which Stevens won his first Academy Award for direction.

The film also was a reunion for Dean and Mineo, both of whom had appeared earlier in "Rebel Without A Cause." Mineo won an Academy Award nomination for best performance in a supporting role in the earlier picture. Dean had already received a nomination for his screen debut in "East of Eden."

Two of the film's stars are Oscar winners: Elizabeth Taylor for "Butterfield 8" and Mercedes McCambridge for "All The King's Men." Chill Wills recently received an Oscar nomination for his supporting role in "The Alamo."

"Giant" was the tenth Edna Ferber story to be brought to the screen. Among the others are "Cimarron," "Show Boat," "Stage Door" and "Saragatza Trunk."

Academy Award-winning composer Dimitri Tiomkin wrote the score for "Giant," which was lensed by Oscar-winning cinematographer William Mellor.

Edna Ferber Film Story Helped Establish Stars

The screen classic, "Giant," was a showcase for the talents of some of the more noted stars to emerge in Hollywood in the last 10 years.

Elizabeth Taylor and Rock Hudson, who head the cast along with James Dean, established themselves as stars with their performances in the film, based on the novel by Edna Ferber.

However, the performing pace set by Miss Taylor and Hudson in "Giant" was sustained by many of the newcomers in the film's big supporting cast.

"Giant" introduced lovely Carroll Baker to the world's motion picture audiences. Making one of the screen's most auspicious debuts, the young Broadway ingenue went from Stevens' tutoring into her starring role for Elia Kazan in the controversial "Baby Doll."

Four young actors advanced their careers considerably by their incisive portrayals in "Giant": Sal Mineo, Rod Taylor, Earl Holliman and Dennis Hopper.

Miss Baker is cast as the headstrong young daughter of Miss Taylor and Hudson. Despite the romantic interest of Holliman, she becomes involved with Dean, an ambitious ranchhand who becomes a millionaire. Hopper portrays her brother who also defies his parents by marrying a Mexican girl.

Taylor, who has gone on to subsequent screen and TV fame, is seen in the film's early sequences as the cultivated young Brinsler who loses Miss Taylor to rugged Texas Hudson.

Mineo is cast in the role of the young Mexican ranch hand who is one of the first to go into service with the outbreak of World War II.

Surrounding this cast of young stars were some of the screen's best known performers. Jane Withers returned to the screen to play a jovial neighbor Chill Wills and Mercedes McCambridge are co-starred.

Local Artists In Austin Show

Local artists work are included in the exhibition in Laguna Gloria, Austin, through June 9, under sponsorship of the Texas Fine Arts Association. They are Maurine Burks, Avery Falkner Jr. and Mrs. Willis M. Parker.

The exhibition was juried and judged by Robert C. Joy, ranking Houston artist; Dr. J. B. Smith, chairman, department of art, Baylor University; and Mitchell A. Wilder, director, Amon Carter Museum of Western Art, Fort Worth.

The association, a non-profit organization located at Laguna Gloria Art Museum, sponsors annually the largest exhibition of artists' work in Texas, as well as circuit shows and scholarships.

The spring exhibition's hours are June 9, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

This exhibition is held each year offering thousands of dollars in prize money.

The TFAA Circuit Exhibition, chosen and sponsored by the State Department, is now on tour in Mexico. TFAA officials hope a selection of Texas art can be acquired for an exhibition at the World's Fair in New York City in 1964.

Cinema Comment

By BOB SMITH

There are quite a few good shows this week, but they are all returnees.

"Giant" plays at the Ritz as if it were brand new—and, since it's been around several years now and is something of a classic, for a lot of people it will be new.

It is a classic dynasty tale, telling of the varied fortunes of a wealthy Texas family, and taking several hours in the telling. It stars Rock Hudson, Elizabeth Taylor and the late James Dean. Nothing tremendously great about the picture, but it is highly interesting.

VIEWERS, REVOLT!

A word of warning to John Wyndham fans. He once wrote a novel called "Revolt of the Triffids," a realistic story of plants found on Venus and what happened when these strange creatures sought to overthrow their Earthman masters. (The Triffids had the ability to pull up their roots, walk to a more desirable location, and plant themselves again—and they had several long, poison-tipped, spiny branches which could injure, and sometimes kill, a man.)

Now comes the inevitable movie version. Hollywood quite often has done well by our better science fiction authors, but for this one Wyndham should sue.

No part of the author's original story is left intact; even the title is changed. Now known as "The Day of the Triffids," the film introduces the pat old formula of monsters threatening to wipe out the entire earth, the population being saved in the end by an idiot solution.

Children may enjoy it simply as a horror movie, but that is its only redeeming social value.

ADULT THEMES

Double-billed at the Jet are "The Apartment" and "Elmer Gantry." Both are adult movies, and each handled with good taste what might have been sleazy subjects.

"The Apartment" sees Jack Lemmon as a likable schmo who panders for favors from the executives for whom he clerks. Shirley MacLaine is the elevator operator who gets involved with Fred McMurray, a very Important Person. Jack falls for the girl, but he depends on McMurray for his hoped-for promotion. It is in the resolution of the ensuing tangles that "The Apartment" becomes a harshly realistic morality play.

But Lancaster is hateful, as he was supposed to be, as the evangelist in "Elmer Gantry." The film is true to Sinclair Lewis' book in all except the final portion, which Hollywood felt should be upbeat, leaving Gantry with a changed soul.

Lewis was not trying to undermine organized religion, as some with little understanding have believed—his purpose was to show that the men of God are as human and frail as the rest of us. The novel, based on some notorious and very real characters, was published many years ago, at a time when the great mass of the American people had the notion that "preachers, particularly evangelists, were somehow bathed in halos and exempt from the temptations of ordinary mortals.

The transcription of "Elmer Gantry" to the screen was so faithful in most parts as to be quite as stirring as the book.

DOWN BEAT

"The Rat Race" is a sort of down beat on the troubles of the upbeat generation Tony Curtis and Debbie Reynolds adeptly portray two youngsters caught up in the coils of Big City sin and gangsterism, finally finding refuge in each other, if not rescue. One part was changed from the original story; however, in the film, Debbie virtuously resists blandishments from the white slaver who otherwise owns her.

GOOD MONSTER

"Gorgo"—also is a monster movie but, being British-made, is several dozen notches above the standard Hollywood product. It is the story of a prehistoric monster dredged up from the ocean, captured, taken to London for exhibition—only to have Mama awaken and come after her child.

True, the plot is wheezy, but the experience of actors, directors, cameramen, and special effects experts, plus a wry twist at the end, make "Gorgo" worth leaving one's TV.

Incidentally, it is triple-billed with "Phantom of the Opera" and "Night Creatures," both of which are standard Hollywood monster epics. You won't miss a thing.

CENSORED BIRDS?

It has been inquired of this critic if Alfred Hitchcock's "Birds" were not censored a bit for the Big Spring showing.

I cannot say yes or no for certain—but it is a fact that the scenes as screened here did not include eyeballs being plucked out by the attacking birds, nor anything else that might really have made the film excitingly gory. In Midland as in other neighboring cities, such scenes were not snipped.

The only other alternative I can think of was that I was blinking at the wrong times during the local showing.

And A Child Shall Lead Them

Janina Faye, English child actress, plays a key role, one of the world's few not blinded by a meteorite shower, in "The Day of the Triffids."

What Happened?

Elvis Presley should be making like the Cheshire Cat instead of looking so glum, posing with his co-stars Sandra Giles and Evelyn Dutton. They are in the film, "It Happened at the World's Fair," which returns to the Jet Drive-In screen today.

Lancaster Stars In 'Elmer Gantry'

The title role in Sinclair Lewis' most angrily discussed novel, "Elmer Gantry," defied motion picture casting for more than 30 years. But writer-director Richard Brooks, the man who managed to transform the book into a screenplay, solved the problem neatly: he brought the script to Burt Lancaster.

As a result, Nobel Prize winner Lewis' controversial hero is on the screen in all his bawdy, boisterous brilliance. Lancaster is "Elmer Gantry" in the United Artists release, also starring Jean Simmons and co-starring Arthur Kennedy, Shirley Jones, Dean Jagger and Patti Page, with Bernard Smith producing in Eastmancolor. It opens Wednesday at the Jet Theatre.

Bringing a script to Lancaster is fairly normal procedure in Hollywood. Most scripts come to him before they are submitted elsewhere, but Lancaster's box office record is evidence of his ability to pick the parts that properly suit his talents.

When Brooks brought him "Elmer Gantry," he immediately was prepared to read it twice—not only because of Brooks' recent reputation, based on his writing and directing of "Blackboard Jungle" and "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," but also because it was Brooks who wrote one of Lancaster's earliest hits, "Brute Force."

After he read the script through once he phoned Brooks and "Elmer Gantry" became a Lancaster-Brooks production that was before the color cameras a few months later.

Lancaster is a man who specializes in success.

As an actor, the husky star with a flair for characterization, has few peers in popularity. He is named as one of the screen's top money-makers at the box-office.

Lancaster came west from New York and captured fame with his first film, "The Killers." This fame has consistently maintained through the years because he continually seeks the unexpected in both story and casting, as witness the versatility in theme and performance of "From Here to Eternity," "Come Back Little Sheba," "The Rose Tattoo" and "Trap-eze," and now in "Elmer Gantry."

Lewis was not trying to undermine organized religion, as some with little understanding have believed—his purpose was to show that the men of God are as human and frail as the rest of us. The novel, based on some notorious and very real characters, was published many years ago, at a time when the great mass of the American people had the notion that "preachers, particularly evangelists, were somehow bathed in halos and exempt from the temptations of ordinary mortals.

'Jamboree' Story Of Record Biz

The "inside" story of the recording industry interwoven with some musical recording stars, is the subject of Warner Bros. forthcoming "Jamboree," Vanguard production arriving Thursday at the State Theatre.

Among the stars appearing in "Jamboree" are Fats Domino, Jerry Lee Lewis, Buddy Knox, Jimmy Bowen, Charlie Gracie, The Four Coins, Count Basie & Orchestra with Joe Williams, Jodie Sands, Carl Perkins, Slim Whitman, Lewis Lyman & The Teenchords, Ron Coby, Andy Martin, Rocco & His Saints, and Frankie Avalon.

In addition, 19 of the disc jockeys appear in special roles, announcing the stars just as they do on their own programs.

In addition to the musical stars and disc jockeys, Kay Medford, Robert Pastine, Paul Carr and Freda Holloway are featured in "Jamboree."

Max J. Rosenberg and Milton Subotsky produced "Jamboree" from a screenplay by Leonard Kantor. Roy Lockwood directed.

Children may enjoy it simply as a horror movie, but that is its only redeeming social value.

Strip Survey Raises Post Office Hopes

What's with the proposal for enlargement of the Big Spring Post Office these days?

While no official word of any development has come down, there are certain clues which might indicate something is in the wind.

A few days ago, two surveyors, armed with transits, note books and a drawing board, arrived on the scene and began making a detailed plat of the area between the present post office and the property line of the Gulf Oil Company to the west.

They were measuring the "forgotten" strip of land which records show divides the property of the post office from that of the oil company. This strip, 10 feet wide and 131 feet long, belongs to the Big Spring Independent School District, which had forgotten about it.

The post office department asked the board to set a price on the strip. Sam Anderson, superintendent, said that the board, asked $2 per square foot or $3,020 for the strip.

"A short time ago," said Anderson, "I received a letter from the general services department of the post office at Dallas, asking that I give the department easement to go on the land and make a survey. I signed the papers and sent them back."

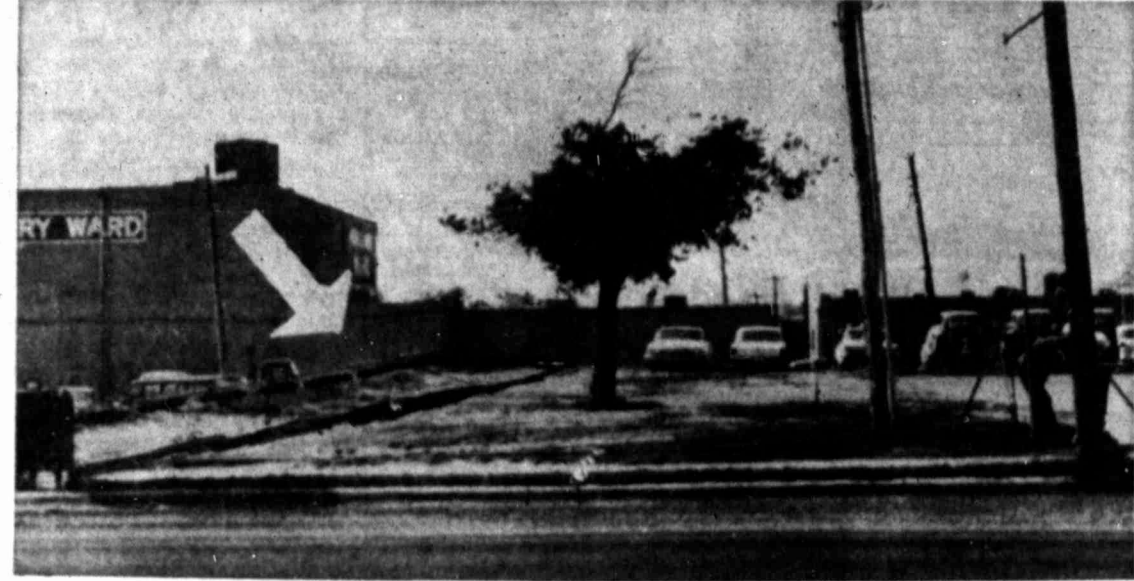

E. C. Boatler, postmaster, said he talked with two engineers on the grounds.

"They said they were from Midland," the postmaster reported, "and had orders to make a plat of the strip. They told me the post office wanted the plat because it intended to 'buy the land.' I doubt if they were so advised. I know we have not heard anything further from the department. However, since the department has been asking for a plat, it might be something is developing. I hope so. We've long since outgrown this building."

Rocky, Bride To Tour State

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, back from an 18-day honeymoon, says he plans to take his attractive, 36-year-old bride on a tour of the state after they "get settled."

Such a tour could test voter reaction to the marriage of the 54-year-old governor and the former Margareta Fittler Murphy, both of whom had been divorced.

Numerous politicians and clergymen across the country have debated the propriety of the marriage and its effect on the political future of the governor, a likely contender for the Republican presidential nomination next year.
