Among casualties of Big Blue River flooding at Beatrice, Neb., was somebody's rocking chair and jug, spotted drifting along in the flood waters on a porch ripped loose by the torrent.

Schools Satisfactory, Local Survey Indicates

By JOE BEYER

The average Big Spring is pretty well satisfied with the public schools available to its children, according to reports from a team of prospective school administrators who Wednesday completed a three-day survey of local residents.

In all new buildings and 76 per cent wanted it in existing buildings. Five or six years ago the percentages would not have been as high. Sam M. Anderson, superintendent, said "These days, everyone wants air conditioning."

TOO MANY About one third of the persons thought there were too many extra-curricular activities in junior high schools. The percentage rose to 41 when only parents of junior high school children were considered. Thirty-one per cent of the total and 41 per cent of the junior high parents believed the activities were about right. Hardly anyone thought there are too few.

NOISE IS TEMPORARY

Construction work on one of the Webb AFB runways is forcing more base pilots to fly east over Big Spring, with the resulting increase in noise for many sections of the city. "Every effort is being made to speed repairs so the annoyance to residents will be quickly abated," Col. Wilson H. Banks, commander, said.

Successor To Profumo Named

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan named Joseph Godber, 49, to succeed the disgraced John Profumo as Britain's war minister. Godber has been speaking for Britain at the United Nations and East-West disarmament conferences since 1961.

Negro Candidate

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sam Jordan, a Texas-born Negro who was once a Golden Gloves boxing champion, announced Wednesday he will be a candidate for mayor of this city, and described himself as "the little man's candidate."

U.S. President Has Tea With Irish Cousins

DUNGANSTOWN, Ireland (AP)—President Kennedy returned to the homestead of his Irish forefathers today and drank tea in the barnyard with cousins and their neighbors.

The President's third cousin, widow Mary Ann Ryan, laid long tables for tea, cakes and pies to serve "Cousin Jack."

Neighbors, some in their Sunday best and some in aprons, helped serve.

The party assembled in the barnyard between Mrs. Ryan's house and the tin-roofed cottage the President's great-grandfather, Patrick Kennedy, left when he emigrated to Boston 120 years ago.

The cottage now is a storage shed. Hundreds of jubilant Irish milled around the lane in front of Mrs. Ryan's home.

The President came to the hamlet of Dunganstown after a tumultuous welcome from thousands at nearby New Ross, the port from which Patrick Kennedy sailed to the United States.

"If he hadn't left, I'd be working at the Albatross company," Kennedy told the welcome, drawing a roar of laughter.

The Albatross company is a fertilizer factory on the other side of the River Barrow.

The President thanked Mrs. Ryan and "all the Kennedys who stayed here" for the party.

"This was a fine effort and we thank you very much," the President said. "I promise you we won't come back oftener than once every 10 years."

Ambassador Matthew McCloskey kept reminding the President it was time to go but Kennedy was having too good a time to tear himself away abruptly.

Finally the President boarded his helicopter to fly to Wexford.

In Wexford, by the Irish Sea, thousands greeted the President and offered him the freedom of the city.

The President landed in his helicopter at the Wexford park soccer field and motored past cheering crowds to the Barry statue on Crescent Quay.

The town declared the day a holiday except for essential services.

The President had left Dublin in a cold gusty rain for the 110-mile flight to New Ross, but the skies cleared and the weather was bright and clear when he landed to the cheers of thousands.

The streets of New Ross—a virtually sleepy port of 5,000—bulged with crowds of excited Irish who cheered wildly as the President rode to the quay in an open car.

Chairman A.R. Minihan of the Town Council told Kennedy the late Pope John XXIII was known as the Pope of Peace. We would like you, John Fitzgerald Kennedy to be known as the President of Peace.

Minihan and the other councilors presented Kennedy with gifts of lace jewelry and china.

At the President's request a group of violins and flutes struck up a melody of Irish reels.

Kennedy tapped his feet in obvious enjoyment. The public address system broke down midway through the ceremony.

There were some hasty repairs just as Kennedy stood to speak. He introduced his sisters, Eunice Shriver, and Jean Smith, along with Ambassador McCloskey and labor leader George Meany, whose family came from Ireland.

After the ceremony, the crowd swarmed in on the President and the police gave up trying to lend off the enthusiastic Irish.

Dunganstown consists of a couple of farmhouses, a country lane and a few pastures.

The ancestral home was last visited by Kennedy in 1947 when he was a congressman. It bears a sign identifying it as the Kennedy homestead.

For this visit, the barnyard was covered with concrete, a manure pile was removed from a nearby field, and the farm animals were taken away.

Vatican Council Will Meet Again

Young GOP Hears From Senior Chiefs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Feuding Young Republicans took time out today to hear from senior party leaders expected to counsel unity.

The main excitement centered over the night speech due to be delivered by Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., clearly the hero of more than 1,000 youthful Republicans going into the third day of their four-day convention.

Also slated to appear were former U.S. Sen. William Knowland of California in the morning, and freshman Sen. Jack Miller of Iowa at noon.

All three were expected to follow the lead of Oregon Gov. Mark Hatfield, who advised the Young Republicans Wednesday to form a united front and stop intra-party warfare.

However, discord appeared both in the organization ranks and in the concurrent meeting of the Collegiate Republicans.

After a day of wrangling, the college group wound up with two chairmen elected for the next two years—each claiming to be the "legitimate" chairman.

The more moderate of the two is Ward White from Russell, Kan., a student at Cornell law school. He was backed by outgoing Young Republican chairman Leonard J. Nadassy, Sandra Spence of Allegheny College, Pa., was named co-chairman on the White ticket.

On the other side of the hall-room, a more conservative group chose Jerry Dickson, a law student at the University of Kansas from Newton, Kan. He had the support of outgoing college chairman James Harff, Sharon Powers of Durham, N.H., was elected Dickson's co-chairman.

The two groups started out as one, but split after a lengthy, uproarious haggle over whether Nadassy or Harff had the right to appoint the credentials committee. Uniformed, armed private officers patrolled the meeting.

The Dickson-Harff faction approved conservative Trent Deveney of Pepperdine College in a contest over California seating, while the White-Nadassy forces backed the more liberal Randy Sierkin of the University of California at Santa Barbara. He recently formed a new California Republican College Group.

No one was certain how or when the argument would be settled, veteran delegates said it was typical of college GOP meetings.

Sept. 29 Is Date Set By Pope Paul VI

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI has formally ordered the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council to reconvene Sept. 29, the Vatican announced today.

An announcement by the Vatican's special council press officer disclosed the date and said the text of the order will be sent to Roman Catholic bishops around the world.

More than 2,500 are expected to come to Rome for the assembly, the biggest gathering of Roman Catholic prelates in history. The council was first called by Pope John XXIII to promote the cause of Christian unity.

The council convened last Oct. 11. Pope John recessed it on Dec. 8 until Sept. 8, but it was automatically suspended by Pope John's death.

Pope Paul, 24 hours after his election, announced in his first message to the world that he would continue the council.

There was still a question, however, whether Pope Paul would bring the council to a conclusion by Christmas, John had hoped to do so.

Vatican circles said the three-week delay might not permit this, and that a third council session might be necessary.

Other Vatican sources said Pope Paul also might be considering prolonging the council to take up some matters that John apparently had decided to put off in order to complete the council by Christmas.

Russians Knock Kennedy's Visit

MOSCOW (AP)—Tass, the Soviet news agency, said today that President Kennedy's visit to West Germany is a "provocative step."

Other Tass sources said West Germany's seeking vengeance for their defeat in World War II.

Tass summed up the President's trip as a "provocative step" and said it was a "provocative step" to seek ways to rid mankind of the threat of war.

Tass was especially bitter at Chancellor Konrad Adenauer leading his host in Bonn where it asserted the West German leader has no legal right to negotiate with the Soviet Union.

The Soviet Union claims that West Germany has no connection with West Berlin, which it insists is an enclave controlled by the Soviet Union, Britain, France and the United States.

Three More Jurors Needed For Trial

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Three more jurors were needed today for the rape trial of Virgil Hallock, 26, principal in a mid-March sex spree.

Six were selected Wednesday. Many jurymen have been disqualified on the death penalty with the state indicates it will ask for the ex-convict, charged with raping a girl, 9.

Police say the attack on the little daughter of a highway patrolman in Mineral Wells came after two other young women were molested in Dallas County.

Convictions In Hot Oil Case

TYLER (AP)—A federal court jury convicted two East Texas men and a drilling company today on hot oil charges growing out of last year's slant-well scandal in Texas.

TYLER (AP)—Jurors argued an hour without agreeing on a verdict late Wednesday in the government's hot oil case against two East Texans and a drilling firm.

U.S. Dist. Judge Joe Sheehy excused the jury overnight. Wednesday was consumed by closing arguments and the charge to the jury in the case of E. B. Hearn Jr. and Darrel Gaumer, both of Longview, and Associates Drilling Co.

An indictment which also named E. B. Hearn Sr., charged interstate shipment of illegally produced oil and filing of false production reports.

The trial is in its fourth week. Sheehy acquitted the elder Hearn earlier and dismissed all but one count against young Hearn. Left for jury consideration were 15 counts against Gaumer and 14 against the drilling company.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Leighton Cornett in arguments called the remaining defendants as "masters of deceit in the art of drilling slant wells."

Happy Over Court Ruling

Carolyn Ann Lima, left, shown at Goree Women's Prison, and Leslie Douglas Ashley, right, an inmate at the state prison, Huntsville, were happy over the news that the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans overruled the death penalty assessed the pair. They were convicted in the gun-torch slaying of Houston real estate man Fred Torres during a sex party.

Big Goof

There is concrete evidence of a goof-boon in Tucson, Ariz. A 30-ton transit mix truck loaded with seven yards of cement did a backward dive into a 16-foot pit. Driver Luis Ortiz, 49, suffered only minor lacerations. Ortiz said "I was watching another truck and I did not see the hole. I stood on my brakes but it was too late." The truck was lifted out by a 60-ton crane with six-way cable lines.

Scandals Provoke A Curious Silence In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—A trio of sex and spy scandals in Europe and the United Nations seems to have aroused some curiosity, but little excitement in official Washington. The FBI won't say anything of its own, but U.S. agents obviously are investigating the Profumo affair, the Swedish spy scandal and an alleged call girl racket at the United Nations. But no official either in the Kennedy administration or in Congress is conceding that the succession of scandals has wrenched the security of the United States. Most officials are keeping their views to themselves. "You don't hear it talked about much in Congress," said Sen. John Tower, R-Tex. Tower, one of the few congressmen to comment had this to say about the Profumo affair in England: "I think the concern on the U.S. security side is relatively mild." But Tower added, "My big concern is what this will do to the Tory government." Tower said the latest scandal—the arrest of Swedish Air Force Col. Stig Erik Wennerstrom as a Soviet spy—broke too recently to see how it affects the security of the United States, but "I would be more concerned about the Swedish affair than the British affair." At the State Department, all officials were meeting requests for comment with a stiff "no comment." Wennerstrom, arrested in Stockholm, was accused of turning over military data on Sweden and other countries. The Swedes did not name the other countries, but they presumably included the United States.

Ex-Deputy Describes Gun Incident

FORT WORTH (AP)—Former deputy Sheriff Troy Bartlett, confessing fright over his role as a key witness, told Wednesday of seeing convicted slayer Jimmy Clardy shot beside a country road. A passing motorist found the wounded man Monday after he crawled to the edge of the roadway. Hospital attendants describe his condition as poor. He was partly paralyzed.

Segregation Ordered Out In Kentucky

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—A legal show down loomed today on Gov. Bert Combs' executive order directing the end of segregation in all state-licensed businesses and professions. Jack M. Lowery Jr., attorney for the Louisville Tavern Operators Association, said the order is unconstitutional. "No provision I know of authorizes a governor to regulate the affairs of private citizens by proclamation," he said. Civil rights leaders generally hailed the order. The governor's office, which sought advice from the U.S. attorney general before drawing up the order, said it is valid and enforceable. Practically every retail outlet in the state and almost every profession serving the public is affected by Combs' directive, to take effect in two months at most.

A COMPARISON

To understand the meaning of the phrase, "Be baptized . . . for the remission of sins" (Acts 2:38), let us compare that verse with Matthew 26:28. "For this is my blood . . . shed for many for the remission of sins." The phrase "for the remission of sins" is alike in both verses, whether we take the English or the Greek. Did Christ shed his blood because man's sins had already been remitted? Or "with reference to" sins that had been remitted already? Certainly not! He shed his blood to obtain the remission of man's sins. And since the language is exactly the same in Acts 2:38

DEAR ABBY Teach Them While Young

DEAR ABBY: This morning while in the grocery store my four-year-old son took one grape from a display. I saw him take it, but thought that one grape was nothing to make a fuss about. A woman saw it and said to me, "My, they learn young. When he is 16 he'll be stealing cars." Abby, what I want to know is this: Was I wrong in not making a scene over one grape? Or do you think a four-year-old child should get a sermon in a grocery store starting with, "Thou shalt not steal?" YOUNG MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: A child should not be permitted to help himself to ANYTHING that does not belong to him. The size of the theft is unimportant. (A 10-carat diamond is no larger than a grape, you know.)

DEAR ABBY: You are not so "dear" to me after your advice to the camping mother. "Check into a motel," you tell her. If she's anything like the camping wives I've seen, she'll ask for a room for ONE. Just a bed. Don't need a kitchen. The kids will sleep in the car—or the tent. The next morning it takes the maid four hours to get the chocolate milk out of the bedspread, dig the hamburger onions out from under the bed, and get the dog hair out of the rug. It would be easier to burn down the motel and start

Texas Coast Areas Soaked

By The Associated Press
Bristling thunderstorms soaked several areas along the upper Texas coast again Wednesday. Showers held temperatures down a bit in other sections except the Panhandle - Plains, which remained bone dry. Houston's 10th downpour in 11 days brought an estimated 2 inches of rain on the south side of the city and 1.39 downtown, where an inch poured down in 20 minutes. The wind smashed a plate glass window and caused minor roof damage in Houston. Isolated thundershowers dotted South Central and Southeast Texas in the evening, but they played out well before midnight. Skies were clear throughout the state Thursday morning. Forecasts called for hot weather through Friday and occasional thundershowers everywhere except the Panhandle and South Plains in West Texas. Top temperatures Wednesday ranged from 103 degrees at Presidio down to 85 at Galveston.

New Rules Due On Labor Racism

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said today the government soon will issue new standards to make sure there is no discrimination in employment on federal projects. The government's nondiscrimination policy in the construction industry will be tightened, he said, to make sure before a contract is awarded that contractors can comply — not after work on the contract begins. The forum for Wirtz' announcement was a meeting of a House judiciary subcommittee where he testified in support of President Kennedy's civil rights package. Of the quest for improving the lot of the American Negro, Wirtz said in his prepared testimony, "There has been no more important issue before the country and the Congress—save only the issue of war and peace."

This Fireman Was Too Eager

MARYSVILLE, Calif. (AP)—At the rural Linda Fire Station, Chief Charley Miller could always count on volunteer Larry Barrie, 19. But lately, fighting 16 grass fires, Miller said Barrie outdid himself. The chief said the lad often was the first to report into the station and often had the engine warmed up ready to go when the chief showed up. After blaze No. 16, Miller found out why. Police said witnesses saw Barrie driving his car along a road dropping lighted matches into the dry grass, then roaring off to the fire station. Barrie was booked on an arson charge.

Pope Pledges Progress Path

By JAMES M. LONG VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI has pledged himself to follow the path of progress pioneered by Pope John XXIII.

He embarked with administrative experience and important pastoral preparation on his way to the more conservative Pope Pius XII.

Pius became Pope after a career in the Vatican Secretariat of State. But Pius has understood the value of the man in public life and deep personal satisfaction of the papacy, experience which he has not had.

Pius first was appointed Battista Montini, a head of the office of the Secretary of State and then sent him to Milan as administrator of Italy's metropolitan diocese.

At that time Pius was 29, his main administrative experience that he had gained in preparation to become pope.

There were no addresses in his career. One was that he delivered the red hat of cardinal, but 10 years before he was elected Pope.

But there was the underlying consistency of his life as he devoted service to Pope Pius and Pius' political support of Pope John's program of progress.

When he moved into the papal apartment of the Apostolic Palace after election last Friday it was almost as if coming home. Pope Paul's office and home had been in the Vatican Secretariat of State since 1924, soon after his return from his first diplomatic assignment as secretary of the apostolic nuncio in Warsaw. He was 27.

His rise was slow. In 1927 he became substitute secretary of state. Pope Pius XII promoted him in 1932 to pro-secretary of state in which he was the Pope's right-hand man in church government.

In the history of 1963, Pope Pius announced he had asked Archbishop Montini to accept the red hat of cardinal. The Pope said Montini refused "from his high sense of duty" preferring to serve the Pope in his office in the Secretariat of State.

SACRIFICE It was a sacrifice of principle, history dictated in the modern history of the Roman Catholic Church. Pius obviously was deeply moved. A year later, in 1954, the Pope sent Montini north to Milan, as archbishop of the most important diocese in Italy outside Rome.

History may record it as an act of destiny. At the time Archbishop Montini wept and said sorrowfully "Today I have become an orphan."

It was a token of his love of Pope Pius, as for a father. Yet on Epiphany Day of Janu-

Long-Peaceful Buddhists Become Determined Force

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—From a peaceful monotony of temple bells, incense smoke and meditation, a new force has emerged in South Viet Nam—a force that can drive a man to burn himself to death in the fervor of his belief.

For the past month, yellow-robed Buddhist monks have moved and acted with the determination and precision of soldiers in a drive that has shaken the government and nation.

Even U.S. policies here have undergone some re-evaluation. Never before have Buddhist monks of this country shown such zeal in their non-violent campaign for religious equality and social justice. Many sects have settled old differences among themselves and there is sense of rejuvenated faith.

WORK TOGETHER "We are all Buddhists and we must work together," one said. On the surface little seems changed.

Monks rise with the first clang of the temple bell at 4:30 a.m. Their lives are austere and dedicated. In the major sects, monks may not marry, and are forbidden to eat meat, fish or eggs. Their heads are shaved.

Daily activities for senior monks include prayers and meditation, and teaching classes in theology, Vietnamese culture and foreign languages. English is the favorite foreign language.

Novices and junior monks study, prepare food, keep buildings clean and run errands.

For the Buddhist followers, monks officiate at weddings and funerals, give lectures and minister to spiritual needs.

SMALL CHANGE Saigon monks, formerly forbidden to touch money, now carry small change in tin cans in their hats and in satchels. They have treasurers. Even the monks practice of begging for rice and clothing from house to house largely has died out. Begging now is handled by lay business managers on a more efficient basis.

Contacts with foreigners have brought new ideas to Vietnamese Buddhism. Monks often study abroad.

The Rev. Thich Quang Lien, a 37-year-old monk who studied comparative religion and political science at Yale University, now teaches fellow monks English.

Buddhist protest, activity came to a climax June 11, when the Rev. Thich Quang Duc, a 72-year-old monk born in the coastal town of Nha Trang, set fire to his gasoline-soaked robes in a main street intersection, and burned to death.

SUICIDE IS NEW Suicide is new to Vietnamese Buddhist leaders, whose faith pledges them to nonviolence.

"Normally," Quang Lien said, "we strictly forbid such things. But we have never been faced with dangers like the present."

"The Rev. Quang Duc came to us from his pagoda (at Cai Lay in the Mekong River delta), offering to burn his body for our cause of religious equality. At first, Buddhist leaders said no. But the situation for us became more difficult, as the government made new restrictions. So, in the end we voted to accept the courageous offer of Quang Duc, and permit him to do as he wished."

While monks insist they are not concerned with politics, some say openly they would prefer a government under which greater freedom of thought is possible. Monks have been arrested on street corners while handing out tracts that say so.

NEW IDEAS New ideas about Buddhist activities have brought radios, tape recorders, loudspeaker systems, telephones and pickup trucks to the ancient pagodas. When Quang Duc died, monks with cameras photographed the scene.

Outsiders have expressed puzzlement by the strident new tone of Vietnamese Buddhism. For about 80 per cent of the population, a Buddhist monk is both a part of the community and a symbol of spiritual authority. Some say Buddhist leaders' potential saviors of Viet Nam.

asserting his determination to get it.

But the President cannot lead the rest of the alliance around De Gaulle's road block unless other allies cooperate on specific projects.

He is assured of cooperation from Chancellor Konrad Adenauer on all issues involving resistance to the Soviets and building up NATO military forces.

Kennedy is convinced that cooperation will continue and probably will be extended in other fields when the 87-year-old Adenauer steps aside next fall for Vice Chancellor Ludwig Erhard. The President conferred with Erhard as he left for Bonn.

But in Britain Prime Minister Harold Macmillan is so paralyzed by the Profumo scandal that he hardly is able to lead his government any more.

Italy is in political turmoil as a result of last April's inconclusive general election. For weeks Italy has been without effective leadership, and no solution is in sight before fall.

Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson, having committed his Canadian government to arm some weapons with nuclear warheads, is reported reluctant to get involved in the proposed NATO nuclear fleet project at this time.

Thus one specific Kennedy project is stalled for the moment. Kennedy may get the project moving in a few months, but his timetable is definitely slowed down.

His partnership goals, however, are much broader than that.

He wants the nations forming the Common Market—France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—to join the United States in sweeping tariff reductions. Tariff negotiations are scheduled for next year. Preliminary talks have not gone as well for Kennedy's purpose as U.S. officials hoped they would, largely because of France.

The President also wants European allies to carry more of the cost of helping underdeveloped countries and to join with the United States in forming common monetary policies. He is particularly concerned that the United States is still spending more money abroad than it is taking in. Much of the time he and other U.S. officials spent with German leaders was devoted to economic problems.

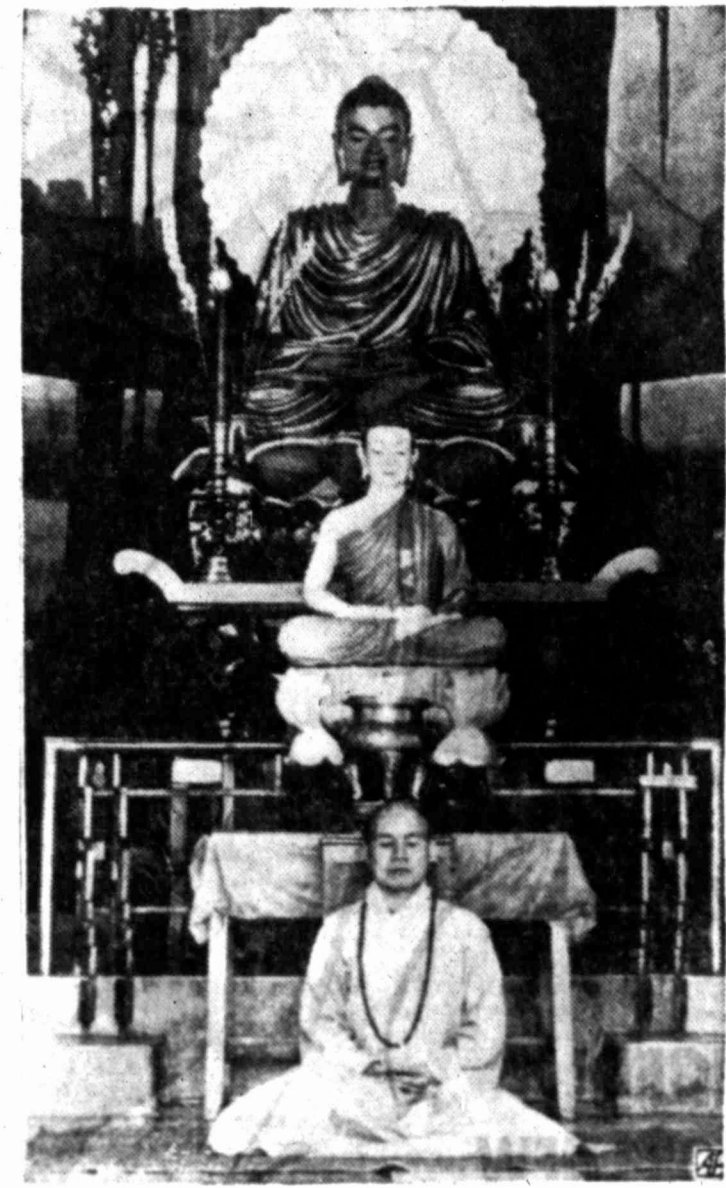

He asked acceptance of a guiding principle that trade barriers should be lowered and that no western nation seek economic advantage at the expense of the others.

The President recognized that when there is no crisis with the Soviet Union the western powers draw apart. He argued that the allies need positive goals to unite them.

Kennedy in effect asked Western Europe to abandon national rivalries and work toward creation of "a great new union for us all." He did not say whether he envisioned some kind of super-state but that seemed to be implied.

The Way To Meditation

Sitting beneath a statue of Buddha, this monk in Saigon demonstrates what Buddhists believe to be the proper position for meditation—the same position a fellow monk took in a Saigon street as he set his gasoline soaked robes afire and burned himself to death. The monks, traditionally reserved, have become a new power in Vietnamese politics.

JFK Trip Has Spotlighted Areas Of Foreign Policy

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER An AP News Analyst

BONN (AP)—If John F. Kennedy had been running for office in Germany, this week he would have won by a landslide.

But the attraction of a new generation President on this continent ruled by old men is not enough to shake the old men out of their water. To get the Atlantic alliance moving on the great new mission, which Kennedy proposed.

The President faces the challenge of producing a practical program to convert his oratorical action. In his speech at Frankfurt Tuesday he spelled out what he wants but not how to get it.

The address explained in part why Kennedy made this visit. He wanted a platform in Europe from which to counter French President Charles de Gaulle's isolationist aspirations for Europe.

Kennedy repeated to the 15,000 Kennedy supporters in the city that European independence is the goal.

He was lined up in the work shops there in industrial blue overalls. Many eyed the slight, ascetic-looking archbishop defiantly.

He hit out straight from the shoulder. "Let it not be said that religion is an opium which seeks to dull us men from their drive for progress and better life. To the contrary, religion is the light, the glory and the force behind this hope."

That was one of the first of many of his dramatic speeches on social justice. Once he faced the Red Belt's workmen and told them: "The first to abandon Christian teachings were not you, the workers, but the great industrial bosses of the past century."

The two great aspirations of workers—security of their jobs and bread and the move toward gradual association in the profits and direction of their industry—must be supported.

He did not stop at visiting the workers in their plants and at their assembly lines. He went to their wives and their children in humble homes.

A large segment of our bridge playing population has been brought up in the belief that a defender should constantly lead thru strength and up to weakness. For the child who has just emerged from his perambulator this is a reasonably good rule of thumb, but for those who have acquired the knack of thinking we recommend personal planning and sometimes this involves leading right into strength. Observe East's performance in today's hand.

East's jump raise of West's two diamond overall is not absolutely forcing. It announces a good trump fit and a willingness to go on if partner has any additional values. When South persisted to four spades, West doubled, primarily as a warning to East not to bid five diamonds. The king of diamonds was opened and South ruffed. He cashed one high spade and when everyone followed he abandoned the suit. South switched to the king of clubs and East played the ace.

At this point East paused to assess the defensive prospects. West was for a certainty marked with a trick in spades, for he would hardly have doubled the final contract with only the ace and king of diamonds. East's two aces completed book for his side. Since declarer's side strength seemed to be in clubs, the only hope for a setting trick lay in the heart suit. To take a second trick in hearts, East must find declarer with at least three small hearts and West with the queen.

At trick three, East accordingly shifted to the ten of hearts in an effort to drive out the dummy's stopper in the suit while West still had his trump control. North won the trick with the jack of hearts. South cashed the king of spades and began to run the clubs. West ruffed in on the third round with the queen of spades and a lead thru dummy's king of hearts netted two more tricks to set declarer down by one.

Observe that, if East fails to make his heart shift when he is in, South can throw two hearts from the North hand on his established clubs. Even though West ruffs the third club, dummy retains a heart stopper as well as a trump to ruff declarer's third heart.

K May Bring Spacewoman

BERLIN (AP)—There is speculation that Premier Khrushchev may bring Soviet spacewoman Valentina Tereshkova to East Berlin Friday in an attempt to offset President Kennedy's triumphant visit to West Berlin.

Observers said the Soviet leader will have to do something spectacular to whip up enthusiasm among the East Berliners.

There has been speculation that Khrushchev might reveal a new Soviet policy on German problems. But the general feeling is that he is too busy disputing with the Red Chinese to take on the West for a new period of acute tension.

There is little chance, however, that even the 26-year-old spacewoman could bring out the crowds or arouse the enthusiasm that greeted Kennedy in West Berlin Wednesday.

Gerhard Goetting, an East German Communist party official, said during a round-table discussion with East Berlin newsmen that "The visits of Khrushchev and Kennedy cannot be compared."

Khrushchev, said Goetting, was coming to support East Germany's policy of peace as well as to honor East German Communist boss Walter Ulbricht, who will be 70 Sunday.

Kennedy did nothing but "aid the West German militarists who want to start another war . . . He never said a single word in West Berlin about the necessity of keeping peace in the world," Goetting said.

Khrushchev is scheduled to land at Schoenefeld Airport, on the outskirts of the city's Soviet sector, and drive in a motorcade to the East Berlin city hall, the East German news agency ADN reported.

Khrushchev will be given a reception by the city government, then go to Ulbricht's residence. It was not known how long Khrushchev would stay in East Berlin.

Kennedy Pays Visit To His Ancestral Home

DUBLIN (AP)—President Kennedy put aside world problems today to make a sentimental pilgrimage to the Irish hamlet where his great-grandfather was born. The President clipped three days from his crowded European itinerary to visit Irish cities and towns. He reserved an hour for a helicopter hop to Dunganstown, which Patrick Kennedy left 120 years ago to seek his fortune in the United States.

Dunganstown consists of a couple of farmhouses, a country lane and a few pastures. The ancestral home, a tin-roofed hut, is a storage shed on the farm of widow Mary Ryan, the President's third cousin.

The hut, last visited by Kennedy when he was a congressman in 1947, bears a sign identifying it as the Kennedy homestead. For Kennedy, the barnyard has been covered with concrete, a manure pile has been removed from a nearby field and the farm animals are gone.

NOT FLUSTERED Mrs. Ryan did not seem flustered by the President's visit. She prepared a pot of tea and tangy soda bread for "Cousin Jack."

Kennedy received a ringing welcome from about a quarter of a million jubilant Irishmen Wednesday. Dubliners waved banners reading "Welcome Home, John Kennedy," as the presidential motorcade drove to the residence of U.S. Ambassador Matthew McCloskey.

American flags flew on buildings all over the Irish capital. Many signs greeted the President as "Sean"—the Irish version of John, pronounced Shawn.

Speakers lined up from Dublin along O'Connell Street, Dublin's main thoroughfare. They clung to Lord Nelson's pillar and perched in the trees.

As the Kennedy party drove past the General Post Office—where a famed battle for Irish independence was fought in 1916—ticker tapes and torn paper rained from windows.

Kennedy was greeted at the airport by President Eamon de Valera, now 80 and nearly blind, in the Irish tongue.

FITTING TONGUE "I have thought it fitting to speak to you in the language of your ancestors," said de Valera. Switching to English, he said: "We welcome you as the chief executive and the first citizen of that great republic which is the hope of the world."

"We welcome you for yourself. We are proud of you."

Kennedy's itinerary for today included visits to the towns of New Ross and Wexford about 120 miles west of Dublin, several wreath-laying ceremonies, a garden party given by de Valera and a dinner and reception at the residence of Prime Minister Sean Lemass.

Kennedy winds up his tour with a visit to Italy next week. Observers in Rome think it likely he will invite Pope Paul VI to visit the United States.

There has been mounting speculation that the new pontiff will be the first Pope in modern times to travel outside Italy.

Masonic Lodge 1340 will have its installation of officers at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the lodge hall, 2101 Lancaster.

A. J. Allen will succeed P. D. Ausmus as worshipful master. The meeting is an open one, and master Masons, O. E. S. members and their families and friends are invited to participate. Refreshments will be served following the installation by O. O. Hughes, senior past master.

Mrs. Gamble's Funeral Set

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday for Mrs. W. L. Gamble, 63, who died Tuesday while on a visit to Roseville, Calif.

The remains will arrive in Big Spring at 11:35 p.m. Friday. The Rev. Curtis W. Smith, pastor, will conduct services in Airport Baptist Church and interment will be in Colorado City Cemetery.

Mrs. Gamble was born July 26, 1889, in Dover, Ark. She married A. L. Gamble Jan. 8, 1916, in Colorado City and the family moved to Big Spring in 1949. She was a member of Airport Baptist Church.

Survivors include her husband; three daughters Mrs. Bobby Stevenson, Big Spring; Mrs. Francis Walden, Lovington, N. M.; Mrs. Mattie Lou Carpenter, Carlsbad, N. M.; six sons, W. L. Gamble, Roseville, Calif.; Joe Tron Gamble, Big Spring; Mack W. Gamble, Big Spring; Prentice Gamble, Roseville, Calif.; Vernon Gamble, Big Spring; and Carlos Gamble, Roseville, Calif.; 20 grandchildren, four sisters, Mrs. Alfred Carrey, Colorado City; Mrs. S. R. ## Smith Serves His Last Time

One member of the Howard County Grand Jury, which met Tuesday and Wednesday, has served his last day as a Howard County juror.

He is Ladd Smith, who is one of the Couden staff being transferred from Big Spring to Dallas under the new Fina reorganization movement.

Smith told Judge Ralph Caton that he would be happy to serve on the grand jury if it doesn't take longer than 12 1/2 weeks. Judge Caton told him he would be all through within two or three days.

Caton added that the current court term for which this grand jury was named is one of the shorter sessions of the year. It is rare that a grand jury is called into session again at this term. Even if it is needed again, the jury could function without Smith, the judge said—'not being required that all 12 members be in attendance at a session.'

No Concessions

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda, the Communist party organ, indicated today the Soviet Union will make no concessions at nuclear test ban talks opening with the United States and Britain here July 15. Commentator Yuri Zhukov, reviewing the Soviet position on enforcement of a ban on underground nuclear explosions, spoke only of detection of illicit explosions by each nation's detection systems plus a limited number of robot "black box" installations in countries signing a ban.

New Ticket System Gets Good First-Day Response

Big Springers are apparently taking quickly to the new system of paying for traffic violations which went into effect Wednesday. Sixty-eight of the 131 persons issued tickets paid promptly and got off at half the normal cost.

Under the system an overtime parking ticket can be paid for 50 cents if it is deposited in one of the Fine-O-Meter boxes before 7 p.m. on the date it is issued. Tickets for parking violations which bear a $2 fine can be paid for $1 if deposited within 48 hours of the time issued.

Collections totaled $72 on the first day. The figure would not have been as high, but some persons deposited old tickets in the boxes instead of mailing them or carrying them to the station.

"Some persons have not gotten used to the system yet," Warrant Officer Sherill Farmer said. "One ticket contained only 48 cents. Several had $1 in them when they only needed 50 cents. A couple had nothing."

"One person said he did not know about the new tickets and was about par for a weekday. It is still too early to determine whether income from parking fines will show an appreciable change."

Waco Requests Road Extension

AUSTIN (AP)—Mayor William Lenamon of Waco told the Highway Commission today a proposed $670,000 extension of Farm 434 in Waco is necessary as a principal access into the downtown area.

Lenamon headed a large Waco delegation which asked the road be extended 1 1/2 miles from LaSalle Ave. to Interstate 35. Estimated cost would be $75,000 for the state. The city would pay $30,000, primarily for right-of-way.

"The City Council is unanimous in support of this project and we are ready to post our part of the finances for it when the time comes," Lenamon said.

County Judge Raymond Morino told the commission McLennan County commissioners also unanimously endorsed the project and pledged full support.

Hilton Howes, chairman of the Baylor trustees, said "The university is vitally interested in the construction of this segment of the Division Drive."

The road would pass by the Baylor campus. The commission took the request under consideration.

Cadet Iker Wins Honor

AFROTC Cadet Billie G. Iker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd J. Iker, Cleburne, now attending summer training camp at Webb AFB, was named "cadet of the week."

The selection is made by a board of officers from nominations of eight flights.

Basis for the selection is leadership, ability, military bearing, and attitude. The Cadet of the Week receives a ride in the super-sonic T-38. The customary "Mach-buster" certificate was presented to Cadet Iker.

He is a graduate of TCU and was Group Information Officer of his university AFROTC Detachment. He was awarded the Chicago Tribune's Trophy for outstanding performance in his home unit.

Cadet Iker is a senior and will be commissioned in the USAF Reserve as a second lieutenant upon graduation, here. On completion of the summer camp he goes to Forbes AFB, at Topeka, Kans., where he has a berth as engineering officer.

Bible Reading Will Continue

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky teachers may continue to read the Bible in school until somebody tells them to stop.

The State Board of Education took this position in reference to the Supreme Court ruling that required worship is unconstitutional. To emphasize its point, the board opened Wednesday's meeting with the customary Bible reading, brief sermon and prayer.

If the procedure is illegal, "I move we violate the Constitution," board member and former Gov. Keen Johnson said.

U.N. Finances

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly today approved a stop-gap financial package to keep the Congo and Middle East peacekeeping operations going for the rest of the year.

Crash Kills 3 On Freeway

HOUSTON (AP)—A head-on crash just outside the east edge of Houston on the Eastex Freeway killed two women and a man early today.

Officers said a small foreign car occupied by the man and one of the women was on the wrong side of the divided freeway.

Officers spotted the foreign car shortly before the collision, turned on their red warning lights and headed into the opposite lane to give chase.

The crash occurred before they could overtake the smaller vehicle.

The woman driver of the small car was at once identified. Her companion, Henry Bullard, 51, of Houston, was a septic tank salesman.

The other driver, also killed, was identified as Mrs. Zelma Baranovsk, 28, of Houston. She was alone.

TYLER (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge Joe Sheehy has denied a writ of habeas corpus for Dr. Harold Edinoff, who was declared insane at the time of a spectacular 1959 slaying in El Paso.

Edinoff, 54, who claims to have regained sanity since the slaying, is seeking release from the Rusk State Hospital.

Writ Denied

Standard of Texas has filed a one-half mile southeast offset to its No. 1 Canon, Fusselman discovery in Dawson County. The new project is No. 1 E. S. Whitley et al., located about 15 miles east of Lamesa.

The venture is projected to 10,500 feet by rotary tool. It is C SE NW, section 27-33-36, T&P survey, on a 320-acre lease. It has been filed as a Jo-Mill (Fusselman) field project.

Fusselman production in the area was opened May 31 when Standard's No. 1 Canon was finished for 91 barrels of 43.7 gravity oil from a notch at 10,181 1/2 feet. This well and the new project are separated from the Jo-Mill 'Sprabery' field by a 10,364-foot failure plugged and abandoned in February, 1955.

Analysts regarded it as a technical bounce from Wednesday's sell-off, the worst in four months. At the same time, stock chart followers saw the market nearing a level in the averages at which stout resistance to further decline could be expected.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1 1/2 at 271.5 with industrials up 1 1/2, rails off 2, and utilities off 1 1/2.

Trading Spurs Fair Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rebounded in moderately active trading early this afternoon. Steels, motors, oils, and retail were among the gainers.

The recovery was irregular and began to lose some of its steam as trading went into the afternoon.

Analysts regarded it as a technical bounce from Wednesday's sell-off, the worst in four months. At the same time, stock chart followers saw the market nearing a level in the averages at which stout resistance to further decline could be expected.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1 1/2 at 271.5 with industrials up 1 1/2, rails off 2, and utilities off 1 1/2.

Mary Martin To Be Honored

WEATHERFORD, Tex. (AP)—The town that calls itself "home" of Parker County, watermelons, and Mary Martin plans to erect a statue of Peter Pan in honor of Miss Martin.

The actress portrayed the mythical character on Broadway in 1954 and on television numerous times.

Howard Gets Three

The Snyder field picked up a new site and two were filed in the Howard-Glasscock field, giving Howard County three new projects.

Borrance Oil Co. No. 10-W M. H. O'Daniel will try for the San Angelo and Clear Fork in the Snyder pool to use those zones for a water injection well. It is slated to bottom at 2,800 feet by rotary tool. Location is 10 feet from the north and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 34-30-1s, T&P survey, about eight miles southeast of Coahoma.

In the Howard-Glasscock field, C. D. Turner has filed No. 1-A. A. J. Hooks as a San Andres test about seven miles east of Fortan. It is on a 20-acre lease with projected depth of 2,600 feet by rotary. Location is 1,320 feet from the

Reds Beaten Off

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Neutralist troops beat back a Communist Pathet Lao infantry attack Wednesday night against neutralist forward positions north of the Plain de Jarres airfield, Premier Souvanna Phouma's office announced today.

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The visit of an Indian weapons mission to Moscow next week is interpreted in diplomatic circles as a demonstration of Soviet firmness in the ideological struggle with Communist China.

Cadet Benny E. Edwards, University of Texas, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Edwards, 423 Westover, Big Spring, is one of 1,891 Reserve Officer Training Corps cadets attending the General Military Science ROTC Camp at Fort Sill, Okla., to become future Army officers.

OIL REPORT

Standard of Texas has filed a one-half mile southeast offset to its No. 1 Canon, Fusselman discovery in Dawson County. The new project is No. 1 E. S. Whitley et al., located about 15 miles east of Lamesa.

The venture is projected to 10,500 feet by rotary tool. It is C SE NW, section 27-33-36, T&P survey, on a 320-acre lease. It has been filed as a Jo-Mill (Fusselman) field project.

Fusselman production in the area was opened May 31 when Standard's No. 1 Canon was finished for 91 barrels of 43.7 gravity oil from a notch at 10,181 1/2 feet. This well and the new project are separated from the Jo-Mill 'Sprabery' field by a 10,364-foot failure plugged and abandoned in February, 1955.

Analysts regarded it as a technical bounce from Wednesday's sell-off, the worst in four months. At the same time, stock chart followers saw the market nearing a level in the averages at which stout resistance to further decline could be expected.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1 1/2 at 271.5 with industrials up 1 1/2, rails off 2, and utilities off 1 1/2.

Robert Goodlett Elected To Methodist Youth Post

Robert Goodlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Goodlett Jr., 1802 Goodlett, Wednesday was named vice president for the Northwest Texas Conference Senior Methodist Youth at the Methodist Youth Assembly being held on the McMurry College campus.

Goodlett is president of the Big Spring District of the Methodist Youth Fellowship. A member of the youth organization since his junior high school days, the 17-year-old high school senior has held several offices with the local group. He is a member of the school football and baseball teams and has been a member of the student council since he was in junior high school.

Bob Cummings, Lubbock, was named president for the NWT; Peggy Barber, Tulsa, secretary; and Janice Ratlow, Phillips, publicity chairman. Five other presidents of their districts were named to the conference executive council. Conference officers are elected from among the nine district presidents by their own vote.

The week-long conference closed Friday.

Other youths attending from the First Methodist Church are Pat Hamilton, Mark Alexander, Bryans Pittsburg, Mitchell McNeese, Don Alexander, Sara King, Merry Lee Dibrell, Pat Bunch, Brenda Reid, Candy Bacus, Judy Hinds and Lynn Christensen. Adults accompanying the group are Mrs. R. L. McDonald and Mrs. Lloyd Hamilton.

Second Damage Suit Begins

A jury was seated at 10:30 a.m. today to try a damage suit for $40,000 brought by C. B. Acuff against Jud Goodson. The case is on trial before Judge Ralph Caton in 118th District Court.

The suit resulted from a traffic accident Jan. 12, 1963. On that date, Acuff alleges he was walking across Main Street when the defendant, whose car which had been parked at the curb, backed out, Acuff was struck by the car, he alleges, and injured.

Plaintiff's attorney is Wayne Basden and the defendant is represented by Charles Tighe, Midland.

The jurors in the case are Ray Dunlap, L. D. Kiser, Mrs. B. J. Petty, Charles Shanks, Mrs. V. T. Anderson, J. V. Cherry, A. A. Vanderford, Robert A. Sparks, Floyd Moss, Victor E. Baldridge, Mrs. Joseph T. Hayden and Conard Miller.

This is the second civil jury trial of the current week. Two other cases were tentatively slated for trial if time permits.

Equalization Board Has Few Visitors

Even less interest is being shown today than Wednesday in the sessions of the tax equalization boards at the Howard County Courthouse.

At noon, only 15 taxpayers had shown up Thursday to ask for interviews with the tax boards. Wednesday, the boards interviewed 38.

The equalization sessions end today.

The purpose of the sessions are for a taxpayer, who feels he is being unjustly treated in the matter of tax assessment, to present his case to the boards. Where injustice or inequity can be established, the boards, representing the county, junior college, common schools, the independent school district and the city, are empowered to make suitable adjustments.

Pyles Elected To Directorate

Austin Pyles, operator of Phillips 66 Cafe, was named to the board of directors of the Permian Basin Restaurant Association during a three day conference in Houston this week.

Replacing Al Bagwell, manager of Wagon Wheel Drive-Ins, as president of the group is Lawrence Day, Odessa. Other area officers and directors were named at the Texas-Southwestern Regional Restaurant Educational Show which closed today.

The Big Spring delegates joined some 6,000 other representatives from seven states to view the exhibits and displays covering the progress and development of the food and beverage industry.

Rites Set For Mrs. Herm

LORAINE — Services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday in the First Baptist Church for Mrs. A. A. Herm, 66, who died Wednesday following a heart attack.

Mrs. Herm was admitted to Johnson Hospital here Wednesday morning and died at 11 p.m. The Rev. Jim Turner, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Lorraine, assisted by Lenard Hartley, pastor of First Baptist Church at Hamlin, will officiate.

Interment will be in Hermleigh Cemetery.

Mrs. Herm was born Jan. 2, 1897 in South Texas and married the late Alfred A. Herm in 1913 at Cameron. He preceded his wife in death in 1946.

The family moved to Hermleigh in 1938. Mrs. Herm moved to Lorraine in 1950 and at the time of death was living with a daughter, Mrs. Roy Little.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Roy Little, Lorraine; Mrs. Virgil Parnell, Lorraine; Mrs. Coolidge Logan, Las Cruces, N. M.; Mrs. Edgar Martzalf, Inskiper, Mich.; five sons, James Herm, Coahoma, Edgar Herm, Ackerly, W. C. Herm, San Antonio, Harold Herm, Austin, and Leonard Herm, U.S. Navy, Virginia Beach, Va.; one sister, Jimmie Welch, Fresno, Calif.; a half-brother, Raymond Little, Waco; 23 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Final Budget Hearings Today

The final hearings by the United Fund screening and budget committee are scheduled for 6:30 p.m. today in the Chamber of Commerce conference room.

Appearing before the committee will be representatives of Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Texas United Fund and the Howard County Rehabilitation (Crippled Children's) Center.

In previous interviews this week, the committee heard from YMCA, Air Force Aid Society, Milk and Ice Fund, Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, Salvation Army, Westside Youth Center, Summer Recreation Program and American Red Cross.

New Hearing On Creighton Suit

Charles W. Creighton, Howard County rancher, has won his contention that the finding of a jury in Howard County Court did not suitably compensate him for damage to his ranch caused by right-of-way land taken from him.

The Texas Supreme Court has upheld the 11th Court of Civil Appeals and ordered a new trial for Creighton in Howard County Court. The appellate court had ruled some time ago but the state had appealed to the higher court.

Creighton owns a 1912 acre ranch, just to the west of Big Spring. The state took 87.6 acres of this land for right of way for 15 20 and the road split the ranch—the principal ranch improvements, as well as a water well, were separated from the grazing land by the highway.

The state offered Creighton $35,140 for the land taken but Creighton refused the offer, holding damages to his property were greater than that. He filed a suit.

In the trial, state witnesses testified that the road would enhance the value of the land for Creighton. County Judge Ed Car-enter, now state representative from this county, decreed that the state payment be further reduced to $31,605. This was June 21, 1962. Creighton appealed, contending that a hearsay promise by the state engineer that the rancher could run his cattle under a highway bridge with a permit caused the jury to hold that his property would not be damaged materially.

The appellate court agreed with Creighton that the hearsay evidence probably injured Creighton's cause and ordered a retrial. The ruling of the high court this week has sustained the appeals court ruling.

Union Elects Goodson As New President

A. G. Goodson was elected president of International Union of Operating Engineers Local 826, it was announced today. He was chosen over S. E. Gressett, 205-140.

Goodson has served two terms as president in past years and he was the first full time business agent of Local 826. Also, he served as business representative of Local 347 in Texas City. He served one term as city commissioner for Big Spring and he is an electrician in the Cosden refinery.

Lloyd Thomas was elected vice president over C. L. Gooch. Gooch is a pumpjack for Continental Oil Co. and was the incumbent vice president.

Other officers named in the secret mail ballot election were: Floyd E. Young, financial secretary; Roy E. Watkins, treasurer; and E. C. Gressett, recording corresponding secretary. Alva Kenndie, trustee; C. B. Franklin, auditor; Clovis Phinney Jr., conductor; T. V. Thompson, guard; and J. C. Humphries, organizer.

Clovis Phinney Jr. was elected chairman of the largest group in the Local—Cosden refinery—by a close vote of 114 to 111 over Frank Goodman.

Scandal Called Smoke Screen

LONDON (AP) — Convicted prostitute Maria Novotny has ridiculed as a smoke screen reports that U.S. security agents are investigating a call girl racket that catered to United Nations diplomats in New York.

The shapely blonde, now 21, a relative of President Antonin Novotny of Communist Czechoslovakia, said the U.S. agents are only "appearing to be active in a case they blundered over two years ago."

Two years ago Maria was convicted in New York on prostitution charges. She was released on probation.

Harry Alan Towers, former executive of the British Broadcasting Corp., was charged with importing her into the United States to work as a prostitute. Towers, now 40, jumped bail and vanished behind the Iron Curtain.

Maria said she believes U.S. authorities are embarrassed by the fact that Christine Keeler, the leading woman in Britain's sex and security scandal, knew American servicemen.

Hello, Out There

GREEN BANK W.V. (AP) — A spokesman for the National Radio Astronomy Observatory says construction will begin this week on an 85-foot radio telescope to listen in on outer space.

Dr. Frank Drake, chief of the observatory's telescope division, said the movable scope will be paired with an 85-foot telescope already in use.

The instrument, expected to cost about $500,000, is to be completed early next year, he said.

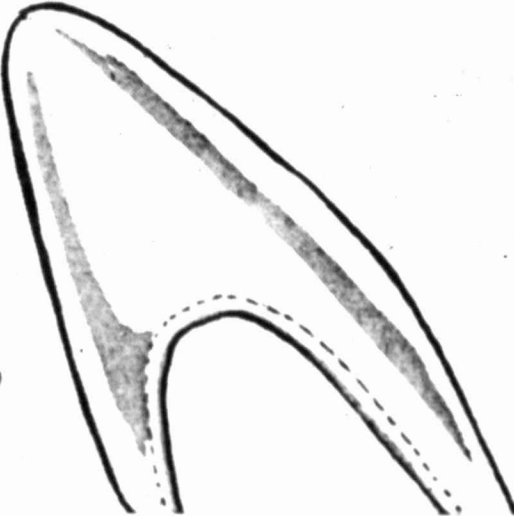

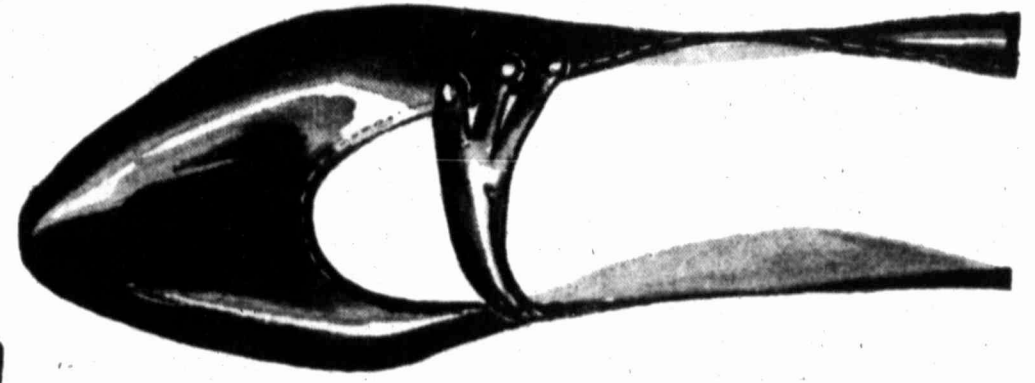

Associated Universities, Inc., a nonprofit organization of eight colleges, operates the observatory, which monitors radio emissions from the galaxies.

SNYDER (AP) — Joe Williams of Ballinger was killed and his wife was critically injured Wednesday when their car rolled down an embankment at a road construction site on U.S. 84 about 5 miles north of Snyder.

Suit Filed For Sewage Damage

Manuel Pineda, who came home April 7 to find his residence four inches deep in sewage, wants the city of Big Spring to pay him $3,831.43 damages.

A petition, filed in 118th District Court Wednesday by Pineda's attorney, alleges that April 7 a sewer line operated by the city at the rear of the plaintiff's property on West Second Street was permitted to become overloaded.

As a result of this, the petition claims sewage backed up in the line, filled the commode, sink and bathtub in his house. The fluid overflowed he alleges, spreading over the house and running carpeting and furnishings. He also alleges his grass and shrubs were damaged.

He claims he is entitled to $3,831.43 damages.

Stars Teamed Once Again For Another Horror Yarn

Peter Cushing and Christopher Lee, the stars of "Horror of Dracula," are teamed again in a new thriller. The film is "The Mummy."

The new "terroscope" version in Technicolor is set to open Saturday on the screen of the Sahara Theatre. Christopher Lee plays the 4,000-year-old Egyptian mummy which goes on a lustful rampage of murder in England and Cushing is again his nemesis.

The two stars first appeared together on the screen in "The Curse of Frankenstein," in which Lee played "the creature."

In "The Mummy," with Yvonne Furneaux, the lovely French-born actress, co-starring in the top feminine role, the direction is by Terence Fisher from a screenplay by Jimmy Sangster—the master-specialist production team responsible for the "Dracula" and "Frankenstein" films. Produced by Michael Carreras, the picture is a Universal-International release.

U.S. Airmen Cleared In Sex Scandal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department has cleared three U.S. airmen of any involvement in Britain's sex-and-security scandal and sent them back to duty in England.

Investigation has not given any indication whatsoever of any security violation," Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense, told a news conference.

"No military information was ever solicited from these men nor was any ever furnished by them."

The Pentagon's chief spokesman—still refusing to identify the men—said "they have been returned to their unit in England."

The three, all below commissioned rank, were brought here from Britain last Friday for questioning about rumors connecting them with British party girl Christine Keeler.

Summarizing the results of the investigation, Sylvester said none of the men was involved directly or indirectly in any way. One had never met Miss Keeler, central figure in a scandal which resulted in the resignation of British War Minister John Profumo and the arrest on morals charges of Dr. Stephen Ward, a fashionable London osteopath—and two of the men casually met a girl named Christine through mutual acquaintances in London.

Until the publicity broke, Sylvester said, the airmen had never heard of Capt. Eugene Ivanov, former Soviet naval attaché in London and described as one of Miss Keeler's lovers.

In disclosing that the airmen had been brought to this country, Sylvester emphasized that the Defense Department's concern was with security aspects.

Although Sylvester declined to give the names of the men, British newspaper reports named two of them as Charles Lee Wright of Mount Vernon, Ill., and Sgt. George Hopkins of Bellaire, Ohio.

Sylvester was told at the news conference that there were reports the men are Negroes. He declined comment.

Hard-Luck Story Not For Conway

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Hard-luck stories of poor timing and bad breaks are a common television commodity, but there very definitely is another side to the picture. Witness the success story of Tim Conway of "McHale's Navy."

Tim became a member of the comedy show's cast—playing well-intentioned, bumbling Ensign Charles Parker — after exactly three appearances on the Steve Allen Show, his first national exposure.

Before that he directed an old-movie program on a Cleveland, Ohio, station. Conway began doing some on-camera comedy sketches to fill in the minutes between the end of the film and the time he was allotted.

One day, Rose Marie of "The Dick Van Dyke Show" came to the studio to make some promotion tapes, caught Tim's monkey shins and announced: "You ought to be on the Steve Allen Show."

"I said thank you very much and forgot it," related the round-faced young comedian, "but two months later I was on the Steve Allen Show."

Rose Marie was acting as his manager—as she still does. Conway accepts the whole thing rather calmly.

"I'd always know that I'd be a success," he said. "I didn't know how, but I knew it would be before I was 30."

He still has six months before his deadline.

In the continuing simmering stew about the accuracy of audience ratings in television, much has been made of sampling methods used, faked interviews and such. But not too much attention has been paid to the validity of the answers by the public to questions.

One rating service recently skipped the name of one of its vice presidents into a list of television personalities. Fourteen per cent of the people questioned said they knew him. Two per cent said they liked him very much; another two per cent knocked him.

CBS' "Talent Scouts" has two versions of its opening show ready for July 2: one with George Maharis and one without. The latter will be used if a court order prevents Maharis' participation. He is in a legal battle with producers of "Route 66" because he quit the show.

Recommended tonight: Bob Hope Moscow Show, NBC, 10-11 EDT—Rerun of a program made by Hope and troupe during a 1958 visit to the Soviet capital.

Youths Accused Of Flag Burning

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Police have accused five teen-aged boys of building a bonfire with hundreds of flags from veterans' graves.

The boys were charged Wednesday with malicious mischief. Detectives quoted one as saying: "We did it for the heck of it." Four of the boys are 15. The other is 14. They were released to their parents pending family court action.

Bare Scene Not So Bad

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Carroll Baker, dressed in nothing but a blush, banned all but her cameramen and director from the opening scene of her new film.

Carroll, 32, a lissome blonde with ample curves, plays it in the nude. She was a little nervous.

Only director Edward Dmytryk and cameraman Joe MacDonald were permitted to watch.

But a film clip, slipped from the Paramount set, showed Carroll had nothing to worry about. As one technician said: "It's a view any woman could be proud of."

Carroll, who plays Hollywood sex symbol Rina Marlow in "The Carpetbaggers," said later: "Film players are called upon to do many things for the sake of realism. And if it's a vital and integral part of the story, actors should live their parts to the best of their ability."

A studio spokesman said the producers aren't too worried about getting the scene through the censors.

"It's a part of the story," he said. "They're pretty good these days about not cutting a scene like this when it's part of the story."

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JUNE 27, 1963 SEC. B

CITY'S NEWEST PHARMACY
Holds Open House Friday, Saturday

Professional Pharmacy Holds Friday, Saturday Open House

Professional Pharmacy, conveniently located at Tenth and Main, holds open house Friday and Saturday to acquaint Big Spring residents with its modern new building and friendly service. James C. Calmes, with eight years experience as a pharmacist, is operator and co-owner of the new pharmacy. Mrs. Juanita Hagood, formerly at Ritz Drug and Hemphill - Wells, has charge of the cosmetics and sundries departments.

Gifts and favors will be given visitors during the open house and store hours have been set for an 8:30 a.m. opening with closing at 7 p.m. However, Calmes said he would offer 24 hours service.

Free coffee will be a daily feature at Professional Pharmacy. The pot is always brewing near the lounge area and customers are invited to help themselves when in the neighborhood.

Free delivery is another service Calmes offers. Just call your prescription in and it will soon be on its way to your home or office. "We offer a complete prescription service," the pharmacist said. "Whenever you need a prescription filled, tell your doctor to call us."

In addition to the pharmaceutical aspect of the new store, a complete line of cosmetics, sick-room supplies, health needs, gifts, candies, greeting cards are available. The store also rents sick-room supplies.

The new building is of white brick framing a glass doorway area, set in a landscape of budding rose gardens. It includes 2,100 square feet.

Year-round air conditioning keeps the building cool in the summer and warm in the winter. Fluorescent lighting, the floor-to-ceiling prescription area add to the modern design.

An office and physician's lounge and a warehouse area back up the vast showroom and prescription area. For the convenience of customers, there is off-street parking on the west and north sides of the building.

Most convenient of all is a drive-in window, where the customer may pick up a prescription without leaving the car. For folks in a hurry, this is a real time-saver. Call ahead and your prescription will be ready when you arrive and come dressed as you are—pick it up at the convenient window.

Mrs. Hagood is attending a Revlon cosmetics school in Midland this week and will be helping local residents with cosmetics problems. Other than the regular cosmetics line, Professional Pharmacy also has Hypo-Allergenic Cosmetics for persons who cannot wear regular cosmetics.

A native of Oklahoma, Calmes is a 1953 graduate of Southwest State College in Weatherford, Okla. Following graduation, he took his first post as a pharmacist at Herford. After a year, he moved to Big Spring, where he

Junior College Reports Are Due

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Board of Education will hear committee reports Monday on proposals to establish junior colleges in Austin and Snyder.

These will be the first applications considered since the board stiffened qualifications May 6 for junior colleges. It now requires that 500 full-time students be projected by the fourth year of operation.

The board also will consider a staff proposal to drop from $79.50 to $76 the state's payment to each school district for each student.

Texas Senators' Votes Cancel Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas senators killed each other's vote Wednesday as the Senate passed a $455 million depressed areas bill 65-30.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough joined 54 other Democrats and 10 Republicans in support of the measure.

Sen. John Tower voted with 20 other Republicans and nine Democrats against the bill.

Movie Houses Are Integrated

AMARILLO (AP)—Two Negroes integrated downtown Amarillo theaters about three hours after a demonstration was staged to protest racial segregation Tuesday.

About 30 Negroes, mostly youngsters, were refused tickets to the State and Paramount theaters when they arrived en masse.

Jack King, manager of Interstate Theaters here, suggested they might get a different reception if they came in smaller numbers. They followed his suggestion.

White and Negro leaders have been negotiating the past 10 days in an effort to determine integration policy, but several young Negroes said the talks had produced nothing.

Meanwhile, officers held a white youth in lieu of $5,000 bond on a charge of assault to murder in a June 19 shooting.

Franklin Passmore, 17, was accused of being in a car from which a shotgun was fired into a group of Negro youths. Three pellets struck Roy Campbell, 16. He was not wounded seriously.

★ YOUR STARS TODAY ★

By Constella

One of those heavenly days that cannot die.

—Wordsworth

DAILY GUIDE—A generally excellent day for small matters, like shopping, visiting, seeing friends, telephoning, entertaining and being entertained. Be sure to plan a little something extra for the evening, which promises to be one of those rare June nights for relaxation. Weather won't matter; it is the atmosphere that will count. Naturally, it is just fine for romantic dates.

Those born around the 10th of this month should have an especially interesting meeting with those of mutual interests, but all Geminians can hope for extra dividends of pleasure. Those who are traveling or start out on a trip should get off well. It is a good time for Geminians to be on the go, last week and this week.

It would be well to schedule many little engagements this week, since next month things are not likely to go as smoothly as now. The atmosphere is more optimistic at the moment.

In the next few days plan to be as cooperative as possible, asking and giving favors, being diplomatic and making the most of little opportunities to spread good will.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, CANCER! Things should be looking up for your career. You can win applause and attention this year.

Financial security may worry you, so keep alert in the early fall, when some complication can come up through either social or romantic ties. The glamor can be synthetic. Some factor at home base can cause some concern about career.

Expect details in the home to be irritating during September. You will find near kin, neighbors or some daily situation accented from time to time as was probably true this month.

Your mind will be stimulated but you can be unusually sensitive to the changes in your everyday environment. Work to gain in reputation.

Grant To A&M

High And Low

High waisted, at left, Miss Cutie beams in daffodil dress with waist line so high the uninitiated might call it a yoke, while the pensive playgirl, right, sports a long torsoed cotton with fluted skirt banded by rick-rack and bonnet to match. Below, the blonnet girl in a sportive mood, this stylish miss wears a shift with a pink watermelon pocket to match her ample bloomers. These are the fashions which the diaper set is hep to, and which their moms call adorable, chic, and the most.

Diaper Doll Says The Set Is Hep To Styles

NEW YORK (AP) — Mothers are so behind the times, really. What is all this jazz about smocked dresses and yoke high waist lines? You'd think they were born yesterday or something.

Gosh, practically the first dress I ever owned was gathered way up to here, and it had one of those yoked backs that Mom and her friends sigh over.

Yes, and I've got some of those long torsoed jobs, too, that the ladies describe with so many gestures at our living room bridge table. I even have the low back, belted kind that they shriek over and say are "so chic."

When I say it I kind of whistle because I've got more chic than teeth I mean I have if shifts are what chic is, and that's the way I hear it from my sandbox.

I've got some dandies that hang cool and free with the barest flare, and are smartened up with some way-out appliques done up in smashing colors. I've even got bloomers to match.

And that's another thing. At nap-time I hear Mom yacking on the phone about those skirt bloomers for ladies with their own wrap-around skirts. She acts as if this is about the newest and coolest idea on earth.

Then, would you believe it? She gets me up and wiggles me into my rompers without realizing that I wear about the same thing.

ALL THE RAVE

I could go on about shoulder-burton dresses, and coat dresses, and gingham, and rick-rack, and fluted sleeves and other things that Mom and her friends rave about at coffee klatches.

Gosh, what I've been trying to say is that I've been hep about these things ever since I was knee high to a knee. Where's Mom been all her life? Isn't she aware?

All she has to do is look around and she'd appreciate that I'm space miles ahead of her fashionable friends. I'm just about the most fashionable girl in our town.

Mrs. Thackrey Is Ma'ams Hostess

Mrs. Lee Thackrey, 1500 Eleventh Place, was hostess to members of the Faculty Ma'ams who met in her home Tuesday afternoon.

Initial plans were discussed for an informal reception to be given in September for new faculty members at Howard County Junior College. Final arrangements will be made on Aug. 15 when the group will meet with Mrs. J. T. Clements, 1604 Tucson Road.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to nine members.

Sew And Chatter Club In Session

Sew and Chatter Club met at the home of Mrs. Herbert Johnson, 601 E. 18th St. Wednesday afternoon. The 10 members had no special sewing assignment. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Lewis Murdock, 605 E. 17th on July 10.

A salad course was served from cranberry crystal appointments.

Marriage Told

The marriage of Miss Allie Jo Johnson and Michael Arthur Rule was solemnized Thursday, June 20, in a double ring ceremony at the First Christian Church. The Rev. John C. Black Jr., pastor, officiated. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Johnson Sr., Route 1. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rule of Kermitt.

Calories Are Counted At Weigh-In Session

Dining within their calorie limits, members of the Calorie Counters TOPS Club met Tuesday evening in the party room at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant.

Preceding the business session, members weighed in and recorded measurements. None present had gained weight and two members had stayed the same. The rest had lost a total of 10 pounds during the week. A new member, Miss Palma Hamill, was welcomed.

Following the dinner, games were played with members donating prizes.

For the July 2 meeting, Mrs. Raymond Eads will be the guest speaker. Her topic will concern exercises for dieters if they have not been forbidden exercise for health reasons.

The club, formed for the purpose of promoting good eating habits and sensible dieting, is still open for membership. Information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Marshall McAdams, AM 4-4761, or Mrs. Grady McCrary, AM 4-2494.

Educational Program In Planning Of NSA

The Big Spring chapter of the National Secretaries Association (International) met Tuesday night at the Cosden Country Club. Various topics of business were brought before the meeting, including the educational program planned for the year.

A proposed study course to extend for two semesters at Howard County Junior College was discussed. The monthly programs

Texas Club Cited In Education

The Delphian Study Club of Brownfield is one of two women's clubs in Texas to receive a national award of $500 for outstanding work in aid to education. The woman's group awarded a four year college scholarship to a Brownfield student.

The award is one of 100 made nationwide in 1963 through the General Federation of Women's Clubs-Shell Oil Company Education Program.

The Delphian Study Club scholarships, $250 per year for four years, was made last year to Granville Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ward of 1218 East Broadway Ward is now a freshman at Texas Technological College in Lubbock. The award is made after study of qualified students at Brownfield High School by a committee of the Delphian Study Club. The 17-member club raised the funds for the scholarship through cake and rummage sales and by sponsoring a game party.

The awards are made through a $50,000 grant provided by Shell. Two $500 awards are made in each state. One is made to a Federated Women's Club in a city of more than 25,000, the other to a club in a rural area or a community of less than 25,000. The Delphian Study Club won in the latter category. Winner in the first category was the Woman's Club of Corpus Christi.

Reba Class Hears Mission Program

"The Rim of East Asia" a mission study book, provided the topic for a program given Tuesday for the Reba Thomas Circle of First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Ed Shives reviewed the chapter on Taiwan and Mrs. Martin Staggs discussed Hong Kong. Both talks concerned the geography, peoples and religious practices of the areas. The book summation was given by Mrs. O. G. Hughes.

During the business session directed by Mrs. Shives, the Sunshine collection was turned in, along with money for world service and study. A family picnic was planned for August with arrangements to be made by Mrs. Staggs.

Mrs. Charles N. Staggs, San Angelo Hwy., was the hostess. She served refreshments to eight members who will resume their regular meetings in September.

Texas Tech Coeds To Be In Waco

Traveling to Waco tomorrow for the Waldrop-Olson wedding rites are Miss Beverly Alexander and Miss Johnnie Lu Raborn. They will participate in the wedding of Miss Suzanne Olson, Miss Alexander's roommate at Texas Technological College, Saturday evening.

Miss Alexander will be a member of the house party and Miss Raborn, maid of honor. They will stay with Miss Cynthia Myrick, also of Texas Tech, and Miss Raborn's father, John L. Raborn and return on Sunday.

Miss Alexander, a recent graduate, will be assistant county home demonstration agent in Levelland this fall. Miss Raborn is a member of the Herald staff and will return to school in the fall.

Hospital Planting Day Set By Garden Council

A work-day was planned when members of the Council of Big Spring Garden Clubs met Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Joe Horton, 3300 Cornell.

Mrs. J. T. Anderson, project chairman, announced that two members from each of the seven local garden clubs will meet at 9 a.m., July 10, at the Big Spring State Hospital to work on the garden project at the new rehabilitation building. Water lilies will be planted in the pool, with violets and periwinkles used in other areas. To head the work group will be Mrs. J. E. Hogan, Mrs. Clyde Angel and Mrs. Anderson.

Mrs. J. R. Tonn, vice president, led the discussion on plans for the fall flower show when Mrs. J. W. Furquerson was named chairman for the event.

Clubs and the duties for which they will be responsible are After Five, schedule and dismantling.

Planters, staging; Big Spring, publicity and admission, clerks and awards; Rosebud, scrapbook, judges and hospitality; Four O'Clock, classification, education and commercial; and Spaders, entries.

Mrs. Hogan described activities at the workshop she attended recently in Snyder and suggested that one be held locally next spring.

Refreshments were served by the hostess. The polished coffee table held a display of curled iris leaves brought by Mrs. Hogan.

The next meeting of the council will be on July 24, with no meeting scheduled in August.

No 'Big Do' Friday

There will be no Big Do games Friday evening at the Big Spring Country Club, according to Mr. and Mrs. Ty Allen, managers. The games will resume on July 5.

One Suitcase Travel Is Easy With Practice

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — With vacation time not too far off, Margie McNally volunteers tips on packing. "When I was a beauty contest winner, I learned how to go half way around the world with one suitcase. The neat trick is to have dresses for the weather, the occasions and to choose fabrics that need little care—washable things that dry quickly.

N-121, Shannon Rodgers for Jerry Silverman

A Figure Flatterer

With its bodice smoothly fitted and its skirt kept on the go by a deep side pleat, this Shannon Rodgers figure-flatterer is ready to swing into summer whenever you say the word. Barely tipping the shoulders with its bib-like panel, the bodice waives sleeves and collar for coolness. A narrow sash fringed with self-bias loops captures the waistline in a charmed circle, tying up the most delightful dress of many a season.

Choose silk or rayon crepe, silk or flax linen, dacron and cotton blends, silk surah or novelty cottons. From these corresponding body measurements select the size best for you. Our sizing is comparable to that used for better ready-to-wear.

HUMOR HIM

Hubby Likes To Decorate

Brides and brides-to-be should let their husbands help them in furnishing their homes, suggests Dede Draper, president of the National Society of Interior Designers.

"Homemakers have found that men are taking a more active interest in their homes. Men have a new appreciation for workmanship, now that they've been active in workshops, building and repairing. A few years ago a man would glance at a chair his wife proposed buying. Now he will turn it upside down to see how it is put together, study the doweling, and everything else about it," she says.

PUT TO TEST

Once they are put to the test, you will find men have definite likes and dislikes, and it's good to find it out right away, she advises.

"Most men like blue, earthy tones and reds that aren't too red. They like saddle leather brown, wood and old beams. They like an old feeling in the background, even though they may like the extreme of modern furnishings. Anything that is a conversational item and has a story about it intrigues them, such as a wood from a far-off place or even from an ancient barn," she says.

Men enjoy shopping for furnishings too, once they get interested. And that's a big change from the past, Miss Draper points out.

"They used to think decorating a home was the woman's business.

They didn't want to get involved. But sometimes now we must hold up a job until the husband gets back from a business trip. Once they get interested, they don't want anything bought when they aren't around," she says.

ANTIQUES?

Many men are prejudiced about antiques until they realize an antique is not a thing that is falling apart—a general misconception—Miss Draper says. Once you explain that a piece of furniture that has stood up 200 years must be pretty good, they begin to have respect for it.

One man who wanted modern furnishings became so impressed with a mahogany Pembroke table that it changed his entire outlook on his home.

HER MISTAKE

One mistake made by women who furnish their homes without the assistance of an interior designer is that they misspend funds, Miss Draper explains. A woman is likely to fall in love with a lush sofa, something she has always wanted, spending $1,200 or half her entire home furnishings budget for it.

"Some women run out and buy wall-to-wall carpet in a brilliant color such as a violent violet, then find too late that it won't go with anything else. It is too late to do anything about it. When you take up wall-to-wall carpet, strip it and re-dye it, the size will change."

It is mistakes like these that have contributed to the rise of interior designers, Miss Draper says. Though many men in the past thought it was a waste of money to hire someone to help do a home, they now see it has advantages.

TRENDS

Besides money-saving techniques in choosing first-things-first furnishings, designers can pass on their knowledge of trends, she says.

"There are changes and trends that are always imminent. Right now the 10-year-beige bingie is over, monochromatic color schemes are out, there is more interest in floors with a traditional feeling and English furniture and American Colonial furniture—not the early American rough country furniture."

Compact Charm

In her own apartment, decorator Frances Lee fills the bay window with plants. Miss Lee currently is getting the new Richard Nixon apartment ready for family living on the Nixons' return from Europe.

Black Is Speaker

Roy Black, assistant director of civil defense in Howard County, was the guest speaker when the Ladies' Home League of the Salvation Army met Wednesday at the Citadel.

Black described the local defense operation and told how it would function in time of national emergency or local disaster. Accommodating from 50 to several hundred people, public shelters are located in the Crawford and Settles hotels, Howard County Courthouse, First Methodist Church, and Veterans Administration Hospital.

According to Black, the model home shelter, located at the 18th and Main St. fire station, has been thoroughly tested and may be inspected by the public.

Mrs. Bevrva Kinley presided during the business session with Mrs. Robert Short thanking all members of the league for assisting a local family during their recent period of bereavement.

Concluding the meeting, Mrs. Short served refreshments.

Reports Made To Does On Trip

Mrs. A. N. Rutherford reported to the BPO Does Club Wednesday on her trip to the National Convention The Los Angeles convention was held June 8-15.

In the absence of officers on vacation, Mrs. Charles Coley acted as counsel pro tem; Mrs. Glenn Gale, secretary pro tem; Mrs. A. J. Eldridge, treasurer pro tem and Mrs. Leland Graves, chaplain pro tem.

The next meeting is scheduled for July 24.

Indoor Picnic For Business Women

An indoor picnic, with each member bringing a covered dish, was held Tuesday by the Business and Professional Women's Club in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Co.

Hostesses were members of the new executive board, which includes Mrs. H. E. Meador, Mrs. C. R. Rhoades, Mrs. M. E. Ferguson, Mrs. Garland Morrison, Mrs. Delphia Gordon and Mrs. R. J. Smith.

The buffet table featured a mixed bouquet in yellow and gold tones. Members and a guest, Capt.

Marguerite Wyatt, of Webb Air Force Base, were served at tables for four.

Return From Trip

Two and a half weeks of touring and visiting has been a vacation for the Champ Rainwaters who returned home Monday. They visited her brother-in-law and sister, Capt. and Mrs. J. W. Wade, at the Naval Air Station, Patuxent River, Md., on Chesapeake Bay, and with his brother-in-law and sister, the Roy Lovetts of Muskogee, Okla., at their place on Lake Fort Gibson. Travels took the Rainwaters to points of interest in the Eastern States, into Illinois and back to Texas.

Sitting On The FRONT ROW

With Bob Smith

Beauty Queen's Family Has Winning Habit

That Virginia Morris should have won the Miss Big Spring title is no phenomenon—she comes from a winning family. Her father, T. R. Morris, was state checker champion in 1947. In 1954, her brother, "Lefty," was the first winner in a long series of local Soap Box Derby champions who were sent to Akron, Ohio, for the national races.

That winning trait was in evidence a couple of weeks ago when Virginia's personality, beauty, and talent brought her the local crown and a chance at the Miss Texas title in Fort Worth Aug. 1. The 19-year-old queen had appeared in previous local pageants, to no avail, but this year she blossomed out. In fact, it was only two days before the pageant that she decided at the last minute to enter. That left precious little time to work up a talent demonstration or to practice walking in evening dress and bathing suit, so she had to depend more on intuition and innate talent.

HOPES AND DREAMS

Miss Morris talked enthusiastically about her hopes and dreams, and about the pageant, in a recent interview. Her likes run to the artistic, but her big vision is to become a writer.

Here are excerpts from the interview, on varying subjects.

What have you been doing the past year, since the date of the last pageant?

"It's been mostly a year of self-examination. It really helped me, because I went to college during the first semester at Howard County. I went to California the second semester and visited some friends. I did a great deal of writing here and in California.

I tried sort of putting my hand in here and there and seeing what I would need and the things I would like to do, and also being kept on information I would like to write about.

And in my writing the past year, I've been trying to develop a style.

INTIMATE STYLE

Onstage during the pageant was it on purpose or did it just happen—instead of bedecking yourself with lights and fancy trimmings to read your poetry, you sat down, leaned over as if in intimate conversation with the audience, living room style? Was it on purpose?

Yes, I was. I wanted to create a warmer atmosphere, to really communicate.

And the way you presented your song—it sounded as if you were singing what you felt rather than following the orthodox techniques.

That's exactly right. It really is. The only training I have had was classical. I've never had any training in popular singing. I didn't have enough vocal training for infection, you know, self-expression. With a popular song, though, I think it is something you have to express yourself. It's a thing for which you can be trained too well.

IMPROVEMENT

About the style of walk, when you went out onto the ramp before the audience. It was a vast improvement over last year.

I was more relaxed this year. And my posture was more natural, because I decided to just be more natural. I had no training—that is the more formal, charm school kind of training.

I hadn't really given a thought to joining the pageant... on my birthday which was just two days before the pageant. I decided, "well, I may as well."

The support of the people was wonderful. Not knowing there were people out there like my parents and my friends supporting me whether I won or not.

Usually, when a girl wins the Miss Big Spring title and is preparing for the ordeal in Fort Worth, every man and his dog suddenly discovers this young lady exists, and starts giving her advice on what to do and how to do it—all of them, of course, experts on how to win the Miss Texas title.

"They've already begun."

TOO CONFUSING

You know, too much advice can be confusing.

"I was telling Mother that some of it just seemed like—well, if I really listened then I wouldn't be the person who won Miss Big Spring and actually I've had so many people tell me so many things I'm already a little bit scared. But I am going to try in Fort Worth."

Only the officially appointed judge committee has anything to say about Miss Morris' training and preparation for the Fort Worth pageant. Since this interview, the committee has been at work, and their beauty queen has managed to turn an ear only to her official guardians in such matters.

MOTHER'S DAY

There was a later event which happened on Mother's Day. Mrs. Morris related.

She came in and asked me how to spell a word, and I didn't think anything about it until she came back in. She'd written a poem on a piece of cardboard, as my Mother's Day present, and I could hardly believe she wrote it. It was so good.

Virginia sets the time of her first writing at about the age of 10. She says:

"I've kept a diary since I was 10 years old. And I've never put down items like, 'I went to town today' or anything like that. It's really been more a reflective thing. Of course, being 10 years old, I started out very childishly. But I can see the development, and it gives me the impression that over the years my writing talent can be improved."

My journalism teacher in high school once assigned me to write a column similar to the Dear Abby, and I said, "Oh no, I'm not going to let anybody write me any letters," so I ended up writing some ridiculous little things—I was writing and answering my own letters, and the column was a success as satire which it would not have been with real letters."

What is it you like to write?

"Many, you did an example of it Saturday night, the part of the pageant. I like to write things that are personal expressions. Like in the Infant Earth, a poem she read for the audience. I like to set down my thoughts, to express my feelings for things. Now, I do like short stories as well as poetry, and I have written a play. I have no particular specialty yet. I think I should keep myself open for change."

ART APPRECIATOR

Miss Morris also enjoys jazz and classical music. She does not claim to be an artist, but classifies herself more as an appreciator.

She's working on her talent demonstration for Fort Worth now, and probably will keep a similar format to the one she used here—reading of her own poems followed by a vocal blues number.

"But whatever I do at Fort Worth, I want to do it right."

to try to change the rules if they can.

The IRS has issued its new rules on tax deductions for business expenses with an Aug. 1 deadline for the bookkeepers, but rules apply to tax returns for all 1963. Now all that businessmen have to do is to study and try to understand them.

Wives enter the picture both as convention companions and as hostesses at home. If they are bona fide spreaders of goodwill in furthering the company's business by entertaining customers and their wives, they are tax deductible. This applies to the cost of restaurant and night club entertaining and also to the cost of home dinners and parties.

The business aspect of yacht and hunting lodge maintenance and of country clubs dues is something the host will have to prove. The IRS says the fine line here between business and pleasure must be clearly established by the taxpayer.

Meaning Behind Deduction Rules

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Wives and yachts and a night on the town have the slightly restrained approval of the tax man today. But such business entertainment expenses can't be lavish and extravagant.

The Internal Revenue Service has yet to spell out just what will be dubbed lavish and extravagant. What is lavish for one man can be just the way of life for another. And the modest buildup that will sell one customer might offend another as demeaning.

In any case, business firms' bookkeepers will have a lot more work keeping records of all the goings-on for the tax collector to inspect if he chooses. Corporation tax lawyers are likely to be busier, too. And hotels, night club and resort owners, and waiters, in general, will continue to be unhappy because of fears of losing business from free spenders and the bother of giving receipts. They are sure

Enjoying some quiet

Helen Keller Relaxes On 83rd Birthday

EASTON, Conn. (AP)—After a bustling life, Helen Keller had decided to relax a little.

So there won't be any special fuss today—her 83rd birthday.

But there was no rest for the mailman as he bore his heavy burden to Miss Keller's sprawling 63 house, Arcan Ridge.

Greetings to the blind and deaf author came from the big and the great. There also were bouquets of roses, Miss Keller's favorite flower.

"You are one of the select company of men and women whose achievements have become legendary in their own time," wrote President Kennedy.

In recent years, Miss Keller has limited her activity but she continues as a consultant to the American Foundation for the Blind.

"Miss Keller is happy, alert and content," says Mrs. Evelyn Seide, her secretary and companion. "But she now wants to enjoy some of the quiet that has been denied her over the years."

With Miss Keller today were her brother, Phillip Brooks Keller, of Dallas, Tex., and her sister, Mrs. Mildred Tyson of Montgomery, Ala.

The cook baked a three-tiered cake for the family gathering. A bottle of champagne was chilled.

Some neighbors stopped at the door of the country house but they left quickly after offering good wishes.

Miss Keller was especially pleased by a letter from Sen. Lester Hill of Alabama, her native state. He told her the Senate recently gave overwhelming approval to legislation providing assistance for training teachers of children who are deaf, blind or otherwise handicapped.

Miss Keller hopes to catch up with some of the reading she has been too busy to do.

She likes to soak up the sun on a terrace overlooking her garden. Her pet dogs give her some merry moments.

Storms Rake Flood Areas

By The Associated Press

Scattered severe thunderstorms occurred early Thursday over Eastern Nebraska, an area just beginning to recover from floods caused by heavy rain earlier in the week.

Continued heavy rains over Georgia have threatened the state's $90 million tobacco crop. Some 74 inches of rain fell Wednesday on Athens, Ga., while 11 straight days of rain have dropped almost 65 inches of rain on Atlanta.

Scattered severe thunderstorms occurred over South Dakota, Iowa and southwestern Minnesota. Wind gusts up to 67 m.p.h. were measured at Sioux City, Iowa.

American Seeks To Escape Firing Squad In Mexico

MONTERREY, Mex. (AP)—The first North American ever sentenced to death in Mexico asked the Supreme Court Wednesday for an "amparo" (similar to an injunction) in a last attempt to escape the firing squad.

He is Dykes Askew Simmons Jr., 37, a former Fort Worth, Tex., mechanic. Simmons drew the death penalty on conviction of slaying three members of a Mexican family in 1959 beside a lonely highway near here.

The victims were two sisters and brother waiting for an older brother to return with a mechanic. Their car broke down as they were returning from a trip to Mexico City.

Simmons was arrested shortly after the triple slaying. He was convicted in 1961, mainly on a deathbed identification of Simmons by Hilda Perez Villagomez, 22, who died 17 days after being attacked.

Church Lowers Racial Barriers

AUSTIN (AP)—Austin's 3,000-member First Baptist Church voted Wednesday to extend its membership to all persons regardless of race.

About 350 persons attended a business meeting and voted overwhelmingly to integrate.

Acting pastor Carroll Weeden said he was pleased.

Barry Raps Labor Racism, Defends Business Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater said today he intends to offer an amendment to President Kennedy's civil rights program, the Arizona Republican said in an interview. "I don't think the administration will support the amendment in a show-down but I am going to give its supporters a chance to go on record."

A Labor Department spokesman, asked how the government of Kennedy's civil rights package which discriminate, said apprenticeship programs often have to be certified with the government and when discrimination is found the government can and has denied certification.

Last month, Undersecretary of Labor John F. Kenning said racial equality in high-skill apprentice programs will be enforced despite lack of punitive authority in the law.

Goldwater, being touted by some Republicans as a possible presidential opponent of Kennedy in 1964, said he will support most of the proposals made in a bill offered by Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

This particular bill embodies all of Kennedy's legislative proposals except for the provision to enforce desegregation of privately owned businesses which serve the public.

"So far as I am concerned," Goldwater said, "that section is not going to affect what some backers say is widespread support of him in the South if he gets into a presidential contest."

Goldwater said he believes some limitations beyond those proposed by Kennedy should be put on the authority of the attorney general to sue to enforce school desegregation.

"I think the attorney general already has this power," he said. "But I don't want to give him broad powers to act in any area that he chooses. I am willing to hand him a rifle, but I don't want to give him a shotgun."

Goldwater denied that his position on civil rights has changed materially. He noted he had voted for similar bills in the past.

The Arizona senator, who said he is only running for re-election "right now," obviously believes that his position on the issue is not going to affect what some backers say is widespread support of him in the South if he gets into a presidential contest.

Mrs. Linney's Funeral Friday

STANTON (SC)—Last rites will be said at 3 p.m. Friday for Mrs. Martha Vera Linney, 53, who died unexpectedly here Wednesday.

Mrs. Linney, a member of the First Methodist Church, had resided here since 1948, residing at 503 N. Gray.

The services will be conducted at the First Methodist Church with a former pastor, the Rev. Ellis Todd, Haskell, officiating. He will be assisted by the Rev.

W. H. Uhlman, Baptist minister, and the Rev. C. R. LeMond, pastor of the First Methodist Church. Interment will be in the Evergreen Cemetery under the direction of Gilbert Funeral Home.

Mrs. Linney was born at Paint Rock March 30, 1910, and she was married to Mr. Linney at Colorado City Dec. 5, 1928. He survives her as do one son, Leroy Linney, Stanton, and one daughter, Mrs. Robert Herzog, Stanton. Also surviving are six brothers, Lee Garrett, and Herbert L. Garrett, Midland, Leonard F. Garrett, Odessa, L. C. Garrett, Eugene, Ore., Lonnie E. Garrett, and M. C. Garrett of Denver City; two sisters, Mrs. V. I. Walker, Grants, N. M., and Mrs. R. M. Cox, Lubbock. There are four surviving grandchildren.

GOLDWATER WANTS LABOR DISCRIMINATION CLAUSE

GOP Price Tag On Civil Rights: Hand In Writing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican price tag for helping the administration get a civil rights bill through Congress is clear: A strong hand in writing the legislation.

GOP members of a House judiciary subcommittee showed Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy Wednesday he can count on their support only if he is willing to compromise on the administration's seven-point program.

A second administration witness goes before the subcommittee today. Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz will concentrate on President Kennedy's proposals to improve the job opportunities of Negroes.

In advance of Wirtz' testimony, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., made known that he intends to offer an amendment to deny National Labor Relations Board and other benefits to unions that practice discrimination.

"I don't think the administration will support the amendment in a showdown but I am going to give its supporters a chance to go on record," Goldwater said in an interview.

Launching the administration civil rights bill on its trouble-strewn course through Congress was a five-hour job for the attorney general, who was subjected to detailed, legislative questioning, mostly by Republicans.

Their chief criticism was aimed at a proposal to ban racial discrimination in hotels, restaurants and other places serving the public.

Rep. John V. Lindsay, R-N.Y., a leader of the GOP civil rights bloc in the House, said after the hearing he thought Kennedy had "acquitted himself very well."

Lindsay expressed disappointment, however, that Kennedy had not even read the 41 Republican civil rights bills introduced last January and the 33 additional bills put in this month, most of them covering the same ground as the bill outlined by the President last week.

The chief disagreement between

Kennedy and the Republicans was over the public accommodations section. The administration is relying chiefly on the federal power to regulate interstate commerce for its authority to act in this field, while the GOP favors pinning any action to the 14th Amendment to the Constitution. At the heart of this disagreement is the traditional Republican opposition to any expansion of federal power in the private enterprise sector.

GOP members said the bill gives too much power to the attorney general, fails to cover discriminatory practices in labor unions and includes proposals already in the law.

Kennedy showed a willingness to compromise on details. He said a suggestion by chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., to set a minimum

BARRY GOLDWATER
Let's go on record

volume of business below which an enterprise would not be subject to the public accommodations law "has a lot of merit," and he promised to help set a cutoff line.

On the Senate side of the Capitol the chief obstacle to the administration's bill is an expected Southern filibuster. Wednesday, those who would shut off debate picked up the support of Republican Sen. Norris Cotton of New Hampshire.

Cotton said in a statement he will vote to end debate "after sufficient time has been given for the issues to be clearly drawn and thoroughly considered."

An AP canvass earlier this month indicated the civil rights forces cannot count on marshaling the required two-thirds of those voting to shut off debate. At that time a question mark hung over Cotton's position. He is the top Republican on the Senate Commerce Committee, which will start hearings next week on the public accommodations proposal.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., chairman of a Senate judiciary subcommittee that handles civil rights measures, told a reporter he has no desire to delay the start of hearings on the administration's package bill.

The North Carolina Democrat said hearings afford the best opportunity to bring before the Senate and the public "the foolish things" and the broad grants of power embodied in the legislation.

Gadgetmen Cashing In On Politics

WASHINGTON (AP)—The campaign gadgetmen have come to town to show politicians how to win in '64 with such sure-fire items as shopping bags emblazoned with "Be Happy — Go Rocky," Indian headdresses and even pickled oysters.

Only congressmen and "practicing politicians" are invited to the showing of the specialty advertising guide, a strictly nonpartisan outfit. And a walk through the 100-plus exhibits stirs thoughts of campaigns past as well as future.

There are buttons and balloons urging votes for "Kennedy and Johnson." Right beside them is the slogan "Our Nation Needs Nixon."

But the apparent frontrunner among new novelties at the pre-1964 campaign showing are shiny metal emblems, ranging in size from lapel tabs to wall hangings, bearing the lettering "AU H20." Any bright schoolboy can tell you that is chemistry language for Goldwater.

The exhibitors are quick to explain that any of their wares can be used by any party or candidate. One salesman proudly shows his "turnout" ball point pen and the little metal elephant and donkey symbols that can be clipped on or off in seconds as the occasion demands.

Yo-yo toys, pencils and plaques are available with "vote for," "support" and other exhortations, leaving only the name or the party to be filled in.

A Pocahontas-style head piece, with a real feather, sells for a nickel for quantity orders. The party name can be changed, but this one says "Little Indian now—big Republican later."

"Don't eat me," warns the label on a transparent plastic bottle containing a pickled oyster. The label also guarantees the oyster will contain "one cultured pearl or more." This costs a dollar or two.

Apparent Low Bid For Water Project

FORT WORTH (AP)—Clement Bros. of Hickory, N. C., submitted an apparent low bid of $5,019,819 Tuesday for construction work at the Waco reservoir.

The contract is for completion of the main embankment of the reservoir and construction of a service bridge.

The other bids were submitted. The government estimate was $5.2 million.

The Army Corps of Engineers said work is to begin within 10 days after notice to proceed and will take about 16 months.

Attorney Resigns

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — John McDonald, 41, assistant U. S. attorney for West Texas, has resigned, effective July 3. He said he will open a law office in Bell County.

Food For Thought

Ronnie Hollis, left, and his sister, Betty Jo, believe that food is the best thought anyone can have. They discuss the dinner hour as their mother, Mrs. W. P. Hollis, brushes the chickens with vegetable oil. Before the meat is completely done, she applies coatings of barbecue sauce.

Home Duties Are Preventative For Case Of Summer Doldrums

By KATHLEEN DOZIER

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," but Mrs. W. P. Hollis believes that all play and no work has the same effect. She isn't old-fashioned, she just thinks that her daughter, Betty Jo, 15, and her son, Donnie, 11, are much happier with duties to perform.

This, she claims, is particularly true during the summer months. So, Donnie is taking care of the yard at their home, 1606 Osage, and Betty Jo is learning how to cook. Then, each day when chores are finished, there's swimming, horse back riding, an occasional movie or maybe a lazy afternoon at home reading. The children have their own horses so much of their leisure time is out at the pasture northwest of town.

This week, Betty Jo's project was homemade rolls. Mrs. Hollis is anxious for her to learn these things because it is easier while she is young. I had to learn by experimenting with recipes. This was after I was married, because I always worked and never had time to cook.

FROZEN DESSERTS

Mrs. Hollis' specialties are frozen desserts, which go well with the family's favorite meal of barbecued chicken," she explained. "Chicken, baked potatoes, tossed salad and a chilled dessert is a meal that W. P. and the children enjoy the year around."

To one side of the fireplace in the family room is a built-in grill and spit where the barbecuing takes place. It is conveniently accessible to the kitchen and to the patio as well. Mrs. Hollis usually prepares from four to five chickens at a time, each weighing about 2 1/2 pounds. They are cleaned, trussed and then placed on the spit for cooking approximately 1 hour and 15 minutes according to Hollis who usually does the tending. If there are chickens left over, they are put in the deep freezer for another meal.

Always Ready

Frozen desserts are made in advance and are ready for summer-time meals at the Hollis home. Here Mrs. Hollis is serving both frozen chocolate pie and cranberry loaf.

The sauce recipe came from a Spanish family, and we like it so well that we put it on the table and use it for other meats," Mrs. Hollis said. "However, while cooking, the sauce should not be put on the meat until just before it is done."

This fine way to season pork comes from a Florida cook.
MINNIE'S ROAST PORK
5 lb. pork loin
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1 tsp. oregano
1 or 2 cloves garlic, crushed
2 tbsps. lime juice
Have chops on roast slit about one-third of the way down. Place roast in a dish. Mix together the salt, pepper, oregano and garlic; with a small spatula rub mixture over pork including slit sections. Sprinkle lime juice over seasoned meat. Cover tightly and refrigerate overnight.
Roast on a rack in a roasting pan in a slow (325 degrees) oven until meat thermometer registers 185 degrees, 35 to 40 minutes per pound.

A Quickie Cookie

Make up these refrigerator cookies and bake them as needed.

BROWN SUGAR COOKIES
2 cups sifted flour
2 tps. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup dark brown sugar, firmly packed
1 egg
1/2 cup medium-fine chopped walnuts
Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter and brown sugar; beat in egg thoroughly. Stir in sifted dry ingredients, then walnuts.
Pack firmly into empty frozen fruit-juice concentrate (6 oz. size) cans; cover tightly with foil or plastic wrapping; dough will almost fill 3 cans.
Chill several hours or overnight. Remove bottom of can; use bottom to force out dough. Slice 1/4-inch to 3/8-inch thick.
Place several inches apart, on lightly greased cookie sheets; bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven for 8 to 12 minutes.
Do not overbake; cookies should be a pale brown color. Yield will depend on how thick you cut cookies.

Omelet Makes Popular Dish

Omelet with Spanish Sauce is an old favorite that is still popular as a luncheon dish.

SPANISH SAUCE

2 tbsps. butter or margarine
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1/4 cup finely diced green pepper
1 can (1 lb.) tomatoes
1/2 tsp. salt
2 tps. sugar, if desired
Pepper to taste
In a 1 quart saucepan over low heat melt the butter. Add onion and green pepper; cook, stirring often, until onion is yellowed but not brown.
Add tomatoes (including liquid in can), salt, sugar (if used) and pepper. Simmer for 30 to 45 minutes to make 1 1/2 cups sauce. Serve with Puffy Omelet for four.

Fourth Of July Go Americana!

Red, white and blue meals can be a barbecue treat for a safe and sane Fourth of July.

Try ham steak sizzled over wood charcoal briquets, creamy potato salad, blueberry pie. Or serve grilled hamburgers with a dressing of blue cheese and pimiento strips. A red checked paper tablecloth helps set a festive air.

Sparklers lend white magic to the deep blue twilight hours, and can be lighted in the rosy embers of a wood charcoal briquet fire.

Soda Sippin' Time

A warm weather treat is this Sambee made of fresh-frozen orange juice concentrate, choice of fresh or frozen mixed fruit and fruit sherbet.

Summer Is For Sodas—Happiness Is A Drink

Sipping sodas is a warm-weather delight that's almost as old as summer itself! So wouldn't you like to know about a tasty new one to add to the refreshing pleasure of this great American pastime?

A Florida Sambee is a whiz of a soda, having lovely looks, super flavor and a definite plus, nutritionally speaking, scrumptious soda, and its high natural vitamin C content and other nutrients are great for helping restore energy sapped by hot weather and summer's active sports.

Your choice of fresh or frozen mixed fruit and fruit sherbet are added to the reconstituted orange concentrate to make a Sambee. Strawberries, blueberries, raspberries, melon balls, diced peaches or pineapple are delicious in a variety of combinations, and orange, pineapple or lemon sherbet gives a cool touch.

FLORIDA SAMBEE

1 can (6 oz.) frozen orange juice concentrate
1 1/2 cups diced fresh or frozen mixed fruit
1/2 pint orange, pineapple or lemon sherbet
Reconstitute orange juice concentrate according to directions on can. In three tall glasses, add a generous spoonful of diced fruit and fill three-quarters full with orange juice. Add a spoonful of sherbet and garnish with remaining fruit. Yield: 3 servings.

Skewer Serves As Work-Saver

Want to feed an army at the charcoal grill? Provide ahead of time and you can do it in work-free ways.

The routine is simple, whether the event is a family reunion, a company picnic, a church social, a Fourth of July or Labor Day celebration.

The work-saver is to skewer wieners or other sausages ladder style. One flick of the wrist will turn as many as six to 10 at a time. Put the sausages on a pair of skewers in rung style, leaving a half inch of space between each. Place on the rack. Turn when needed. Put more than one grill in action if necessary.

Roasted Meats Go With Party

Meats roasted on the rotisserie will serve a hungry throng handsomely. Roast beef, ham or whole turkey are succulent sights. Giant pots of beans on the charcoal grill will help fill hearty eaters. Hot buns and potato salad belong at any crowd party.

Twenty or 30 people usually can be fed adequately with a pair of charcoal grills. If more are expected, a line-up of grills glowing with charcoal is a wise precaution.

Stove Top Main Dish

Savory dish to prepare on top of the range.

CHOW MEIN

1/4 cup salad (not olive) oil
2 cups thin onion strips
2 1/2 cups thin celery crescents
1 1/2 cups clear chicken stock
Soy Sauce Mixture
2 cups cubed leftover roast pork
1 can (1 lb.) bean sprouts, drained
1 can (5 oz.) water chestnuts, drained and sliced
In a large skillet heat the oil; stir in onion, celery and chicken stock. Cover and boil gently for about 10 minutes.

Add Soy Sauce mixture. Cook and stir constantly over medium heat until thickened. Add pork, bean sprouts, mushrooms and water chestnuts; mix well and re-heat.

Serve topped with chow mein noodles. Makes 4 or 5 servings.
Soy Sauce Mixture: Stir together 3 tablespoons cornstarch, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons sugar; add 3 tablespoons soy sauce. Gradually stir in 1/2 cup chicken stock or bean-sprout liquid, keeping smooth.

A Devotional For The Day

Barnabas and Paul, men that have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. (Acts 15:25-26.)

PRAYER: Dear God, we thank Thee for Jesus, for the powerful beginning of His church, and for the Christian church of today. Help us to be faithful in our discipleship, living according to Christ's teachings and example. In His name we pray. Amen.

(From The "Upper Room")

Up And Up They Go

The news is official now—or almost. Your automobile insurance costs are going to go up.

Two things probably made it inevitable—the rising frequency of accidents together with matching claims, and recent legislation in the Texas legislature.

None expect insurance companies to pay out more in claims and operations than they take in, so the only answer to the rising number of mishaps together with greater individual costs and judgments is to hike the rates to cover them.

Nor is there any reason to believe that this will be the last hike so long as automobile insurance remains compulsory and the industry remains largely non-competitive. The compulsory feature is attractive in theory, but costly in practice. When Texas bought this bill of goods nearly a decade ago, it was held out that broad coverage would not only provide general protection but would make possible modest rates. The broad protection, for practical purposes, has worked out, but the human impulse to take an expensive attitude toward claims and costs has prevailed because the "insurance" company is paying. Well, the insurance company isn't paying—it's John Q. Public.

Tight regulation of rates, on the grounds that companies are entitled to a fair rate of return also has the undesirable, patronizing effect of protecting them from themselves. This has dulled opportunity and initiative in private rate quotations which might result in more attractive rates for those with continuing good experience. But as noted the projected hike this autumn is expected and it's not likely to be the last—not unless trends are changed, and not unless auto manufacturers depart from the wasteful design practice which makes small dents a major job.

Spectre Of Hunger

An opinion poll reveals the disturbing fact that the public is not much worried about the population explosion. Two out of three Americans, according to the report, do not think the predicted cost increase in the world population in the next few decades is anything to be seriously concerned about. They are tragically mistaken.

More than half the world's three billion people live in constant hunger. This situation will almost certainly grow worse since experts predict that the population will double by the turn of the century. The future of mankind, Arnold J. Toynbee told the World Food Congress in Washington, is at stake "in a formidable race between population growth and famine." His warning was not exaggerated, what he said is the grim truth.

Public indifference in the United States, as reflected in the opinion poll, parallels worldwide reluctance to come to grips with the crisis. Barriers to population control include poverty, ignorance and religious opposition. Barriers to increased food production include primitive agriculture—particularly in Africa, Asia and South America—indifference to soil conservation, and faulty land distribution.

The war against hunger is mankind's war of liberation, said President Kennedy. And victory cannot be won by indifference.

President's Reassurance To Europe

WASHINGTON — Whether or not a President of the United States should put aside his official activities in Washington and make a trip to Europe 3,000 miles away has often been debated but never resolved to everybody's satisfaction. Yet the most important reason for a President to go to Europe, or anywhere else abroad, is to accomplish something he can never do by staying home—to sway the tides of public opinion on issues of the day.

FEW PEOPLE on this side of the ocean are aware of the difficulties of getting across the American viewpoint abroad. The press in Europe now seldom treats the United States better than it did in past decades, but the newspapers rarely print in full the speeches or press conferences of a President or his Secretary of State. These are not often broadcast. Editorials continuously print criticisms, but the millions of people in Western Europe rarely have an opportunity to get firsthand the fundamentals of American policy because local differences are accentuated.

When a President goes abroad, therefore, what he says and does becomes news that gets more space than when it is called or radioed from far away America.

THE MOST important issue in Europe today is whether a coalition of the free governments of the West can function effectively. Economic reasons for an alliance are numerous in theory, but in practice there are barriers due to nationalistic emotions and self-interest of a material nature.

Politically, there is usually no difficulty in maintaining the Western alliance whenever there is real danger on the horizon. As a war scare recedes, however, there is a tendency for each of the governments to go its own way.

PERHAPS THE MOST surprising thing about Mr. Kennedy's trip to Europe is that he felt it necessary to declare that the United States intends to defend each and every one of its allies which might be attacked. It is surprising because such an utterance would seem to be wholly unnecessary. For the same pledge was written into the North Atlantic Treaty, which shortly after World War II was ratified by the Senate of the United States. No suggestion has been made from any official source in this country that the treaty be discarded.

BUT THERE HAVE nevertheless been rumors abroad that if the European countries didn't stay together and share more of the expense of defending themselves, the United States would go its own way. Such expressions are not a reflection of the true wishes or purposes of the American people.

Capital Protest Might Not Work Well

WASHINGTON (AP)—Would a massive Negro demonstration in Washington this summer persuade Congress — if it showed signs of balky — to pass President Kennedy's civil rights program?

Not in a hurry and not this year if history is an example. Three times in the past 70 years demonstrators have come to Washington to press for their ideas. Cokey's Army, suffragettes and the Bonus Army all tried it. Each time it took Congress years to do what the demonstrators wanted.

Last Saturday Kennedy met with Negro and white civil rights leaders. He warned them against undue pressure on Congress. So did Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

BUT THE REV. Martin Luther King Jr. and others said that if there is a filibuster by Southern Democrats against a civil rights bill, Negroes will have a "non-violent demonstration in Washington."

If so many thousands may be involved.

It took Congress about 40 years to come around to the idea proposed in the 1894 depression by Jacob S. Cokey, a successful businessman of Massillon, Ohio.

He wanted Congress to do something about unemployment and suggested a big road-building program to create jobs. He rallied about 2,000 jobless men from around the country and led this "Cokey's Army" into Washington.

When he marched up to the Capitol on May 1, 1894, he was arrested for holding a meeting without a permit and damaging the grass.

IT WASN'T until the next great depression—in the 1930s — that Congress got around to creating the kind of make-jobs program Cokey had plucked for.

Next came the suffragettes. As early as the 17th century a few women in this country had called for equal treatment. But it wasn't until the 20th century that the Constitution gave them a national guarantee of the right to vote.

The real agitation by women for equal rights—and eventually the vote—got under way in the middle of the 19th century. As early as 1866 they petitioned Congress for voting rights. States began to

Some Robust Wisdom

NEW YORK (AP)—The robust wisdom of a people is expressed in folk sayings, proverbs and mottoes.

"Know thyself" counseled the ancient Greeks and thereby said it all.

Since then we have become a great deal more verbose.

Through most of human history, folk wisdom has been expressed in direct sayings and forthright advice.

Thus said Benjamin Franklin, an American wellspring of this form of knowledge:

"Penry wise pound foolish. If a man could have half his wishes, he would double his troubles."

He that teaches himself hath a fool for a master.

"Love your neighbor, but don't pull down your hedge."

If you would know the value of money, try to borrow some."

Many a living room then bloomed with samplers that said "God Bless Our Happy Home."

Simpler times were exemplified by simpler sayings:

"Now as we live in a complex and confusing time, and our folk wisdom is expressed in complex sayings with a reverse twist. Our mottoes have become as schizophrenic as our thoughts and reflect the double talk that has become our normal language.

We communicate by speaking backwards.

Go into any office or factory in the land and you'll see on wall and desk the clouded counsel of our day. I have at hand a small book of these sad witticisms entitled "Signs of Our Times."

Here are a few examples of what the book calls "the choicest, most hilarious contemporary signs ever created."

"If you don't understand it, oppose it."

In case of nuclear attack, run like hell."

It's better to give than to receive, so what have you brought me?"

"If I weren't so busy, I'd take time off to join in the confusion."

That seems to be the key word to our attitude today—confusion.

Such mixed-up counsel of despair we give each other and seek thereby a consolation more wry than ribald.

If a people can be judged by their mottoes, then we dwell in a time of hollow laughter that echoes an inner despair.

That's why psychiatry now dwells in a penthouse—and philosophy inhabits a hole!

Precautionary Measures For The Sick Room

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Last winter my entire family came down with flu one after the other. Are there any precautionary measures we can take to avoid a repetition?

MRS. F. P.

Yes, several, and they may apply to diseases other than flu, too. Some, such as the first rule, will apply to virulent infection in the household. Isolate the sick one. Keep him in his room, and don't let others visit him.

Be sure there are plenty of tissues to cover the mouth while coughing, wiping the nose, etc. The used ones should be put in a paper bag, and disposed of.

In the case of flu and other respiratory diseases, the germs are transmitted in droplets of moisture. They are invisible. You don't see anything when a patient coughs, and often you don't when he sneezes, but the tiny droplets are there. Let's go back to the old example of breathing on your glasses to moisten them enough for cleaning. That gives you an idea of how much moisture is present.

Hence a cough can expel thousands of droplets, each capable of carrying a colony of virus particles which are so small that an ordinary microscope won't make them visible.

Talking, and even ordinary breathing, will scatter these germs, but not as far as a cough. Anyone caring for a patient gains added safety by wearing a face mask, which can be improvised from an old handkerchief. It's simple, yet it makes a difference.

Don't touch the bed unless it is absolutely necessary. Besides avoiding actual contact, you automatically stay pretty well out of sneeze or cough range.

Wash your hands frequently, and always immediately after leaving the sick room. Viruses apparently cannot survive very long except in an environment which exactly suits them. If you have picked up the germs on your fingers, it probably does little good to wash your hands 15 or 30 minutes later.

Everyone in the household should get ample rest. Avoid fatigue. A rested person has better resistance against invading germs.

So far I haven't mentioned flu vaccine, because it is too late once the illness strikes a household. But keep it in mind for next season.

The flu vaccine has been improved by addition of more strains of viruses.

The best time for vaccination is in September or October to provide maximum immunity in the usual "flu season." Figure on having two shots, about a month apart. In subsequent years, a single booster each fall probably will be sufficient.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a mild diabetic with almost normal blood sugar, and need only one pill a day. Would it be possible for me to eat a couple of teaspoons of honey a day?—H. M. H.

Honey is chiefly sugar, and I don't think it has any place in a diabetic's diet. However, if you subtract an equivalent amount of carbohydrate in some other foods, I suppose a small amount of it might be tolerated.

NOTE TO MRS. J. S. Neither infectious nor antibiotic treatments would stimulate a sudden growth of hair. One rule of medicine is not to be misled by coincidences. In this case, have your daughter examined to see whether some glandular abnormality might be present.

Dr. Molner welcomes all mail from his readers, but because of the great volume received daily he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner uses readers' letters in his column whenever possible.

Work Outstrips The Force

One of the noteworthy points made in the annual audit of the city books this week was the volume of work handled by the city secretary's office. It has long been pointed out that there is more work handled in this office than there are people to do it. How C. R. McClenny and his assistants keep pace with the large volume is a tribute to them.

IT HAS BEEN pointed out in many budget hearings that other cities our size have substantially more people doing this work. But other than some hand-wringing, nothing has been done.

In another area, the auditor pointed to problems of keeping track of warehouse stores, inventory and purchasing. Roy Anderson, assistant city manager, who has been acquainted with this problem for many moons, pointed out that the city hasn't the manpower or the facilities for doing a better job in this area.

IN BOTH CASES, considerable savings might be realized by giving these departments some help—both in facilities and manpower. Both McClenny and Anderson have for years watched the volume in these departments continue to grow, but with the same space and number of personnel to handle the work.

Reading through the audit report recommendations, it appears to be the trend that in each case more personnel would be needed to bring about some of the improvements in the city operation.

A suggestion to catalogue the city's properties and keep track of them would seem a necessity. But what department would be charged with this work, and more important, which one has the manpower to do it? I doubt that this could be accomplished without leaving something else undone, unless additional help is provided.

AND SO IT GOES through many of the recommendations. We should do it, but how?

More employees, of course, will cost money. But at the same time, some savings would be realized offsetting this added expenditure. In any case, the taxpayer is probably concerned that his city have whatever benefits are necessary to operate his city at its optimum.

Flirtation With The Primrose Path

ROME—It is a matter of gross injustice that Bonnie Prince Charlie, by the time this column sees print may have received a caning instead of a medal for service to his country above and beyond the call of duty.

When Charles flirted with that pony of cherry brandy he performed, even though inadvertently his first conspicuous public benefaction for the nation over which he will one day reign. His drink took the public mind off the Profumo case for 48 hours.

AND IT IS MY observation that this simple schoolboy experimentation with the cup that cheers has inestimably bolstered the spirit and pride of the large British colony resident in Rome. It had sagged in confrontation with the Profumo scandal. But it has now bounced back in the face of this delicious proof that Prince Charles is a chip off the old block who was his great-great-grandfather Edward VII.

There have even been references to his spirited resemblance to his great-uncle, the Duke of Windsor, and to his aunt, the Countess of Snowden. In all, there is again a "tidy feeling in the British colony that 'there'll always be an England'."

"SPIRITED LAD," one hears in admiring English accents. "He'll take that caning like a gentleman."

It does seem to me that there is such innocence, such boyish naivete in Charles's choice of a drink that he ought to be let off that caning. Only a novice, someone woefully unacquainted, would choose to make a night—or a day—of it on a pony of cherry brandy. Heavy, sweet and sticky, it is a triple for maiden aunts and people who think the "Alexander" a cocktail fit for human consumption.

THE CHOICE of cherry brandy by a 14-year-old boy who so obviously was trying to act grown up and play the man-about-town would lead any competent psychiatrist, I suspect, to the conclusion that the lad's elders have not taken him into their confidence about the birds and the bees.

Far from caning the boy, they should go into conference with him. The problems of adolescents are many, as they keep telling us at the top of their lungs. And the desire to prove that they are grown up and "adult" (although what makes them think they were any bargin is another matter) runs as deep in prince as peasant.

IT IS A thousand-to-one that when Charles strode up to that country bar and asked for a glass of cherry brandy he only wanted to prove, and both to himself and his companions, that he was his own man.

Now if he had ordered a dry Martini, or a double Scotch and soda or a pony of Napoleon brandy, the councils of state might well have rocked his parents shuddered and his schoolmaster raised Cain.

BUT THERE IS something pathetic about a boy of 14 who, to assert his manhood, orders cherry brandy and tries to drink it. This isn't "Peck's Bad Boy" but rather "Innocent Abroad."

Poor Charles. The only thing his flirtation with the primrose path has proved is that he is the prisoner of his destiny. And he has learned something that he would have discovered sooner or later: that Paul Prys he will have with him always.

Shakespeare In Connecticut

STRATFORD, Conn. — At a stag dinner in Washington soon after his great Inauguration address, I found myself in a small anteroom with others and with President Kennedy and in the making of conversation, I asked him if he had seen the television show called Shakespearean Age of Kings.

Since he hadn't, I remarked that the transition of power from the elderly King Henry IV to the youthful Henry V was worth the President's watching—for it depicted something akin to his own takeover from the weary House of Eisenhower.

PROBABLY MR. KENNEDY hasn't thought of the incident since, but it jumped into my mind here at the American Shakespeare Festival's stirring performance of Henry V. There is the matchless scene when the young monarch walks unrecognized among his troops on the night before the battle at Agincourt where they await what is anticipated to be their wholesale slaughter.

A good many people, I'm afraid, had had much the same grim expectation at least twice during Mr. Kennedy's term. There was last October's face-down with Khrushchev over the Cuban crisis when some trigger-happiness on either part could have set the nuclear birds in flight. Somehow it has seemed to me that people were calmer then, more fatalistic perhaps, than they are now with the build-up of a racial revolution. As Harry of England soliloquized that night, so it may be that the President sometimes ponders why many people lay the blame upon him and hold him responsible for whatever comes. Harry said:

"Upon the king—let us our lives... our souls, Our debts, our careful wives, Our children, and our sins, lay on the king!"

We must bear all. Oh, hard condition... WELL, SO IT IS, as it must be for any national ruler when the crisis comes. Even those of us who believe that the President might have acted differently in the past ought to have it in our hearts to feel a sympathy for what he lives with now in the lofty solitude of supreme command.

If there are those who do not, and cannot, have that sympathy, it proves to me they need some exposure to the Shakespearean universality which close to 200,000 persons will enjoy this summer at the American Shakespeare Festival.

IT MAY HELP those of us with hardened hearts for the New Frontier to know that the "American" of the festival's title does not signify a nationalistic venture in playacting, but a nationalistic one. In 1951, Lawrence Langer, the Broadway mogul, visited the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre at Stratford, England, and determined that the U. S. A. should have one equally as fine.

I HAVE SEEN enough summer stock and outdoor presentations to feel that poetry sounds much better on soft seats than it does on benches. I have seen enough Broadway stars playing themselves in Shakespearean roles to feel that the Connecticut plan, striving for a year-round, non-star Shakespeare troupe, does better for the Bard than the great ladies and gentlemen of Broadway never quite manage.

SHAKESPEARE IS all over the North American map this summer—in Ontario, in California, in Oregon and in many city parks. And one playgoer, on a stolen vacation, comes away with the notion that Shakespeare has a lot worth hearing about things his century never witnessed—like whatever it takes to live through, and maybe die in, nuclear wars and race revolutions.

Billy Graham

QUESTION: In the New Testament there are many references concerning Jesus praying. What puzzles me is, if Jesus were God, why did He pray?

ANSWER: This is one of the wonderful truths of the New Testament and it is explained in Philippians 2:5-11. We learn there that Jesus during His earthly ministry had condescended to take the form of a man and to accept a position as one under authority, though He was actually equal with God. He did not cease to be equal with God because He did so (John 5:18). No doubt His praying was different from your praying and mine. After all, the primary purpose of prayer is fellowship. Asking for things in order to receive them from God is the secondary purpose of prayer.

Jesus would not have conducted Himself truly as man had He not made Himself dependent by His own voluntary choice. Being dependent, then, He would have to ask for things and rely upon a power outside of Himself. He was not mean. He lacked that power for Hebrews 2:14 says that Christ Himself partook of human nature in order that through death He might bring to naught him that had the power of death—that is, the devil. Prayer, then, for us ought to be the highest privilege granted to human beings.

Death Sentence

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A Phoenix couple sued Arizona Public Service for $2,500. Mr. and Mrs. Eli Lubeck charge that 16 of their shade trees were put to death by gas escaping from one of the utility's pipelines.
