Communist Leaders Gather In Moscow

BERLIN (AP)—East European Communist leaders were gathering in East Berlin Saturday night for a conference with Soviet Premier Khrushchev expected to hammer out a solid Soviet bloc stand against Peking demands for a militant swing in the cold war. Khrushchev called the satellite leaders to the Berlin meeting less than a week before Soviet and Chinese party representatives are to meet in Moscow to try to smooth out ideological differences that have driven a deep gulf between the two Communist giants.

dered three Chinese diplomats and two other Chinese expelled for having distributed Peking propaganda assailing Khrushchev's avowed policy of peaceful coexistence. The Kremlin also released a Khrushchev speech assailing the Communist Chinese for having sharpened Moscow-Peking relations and reaffirming his determination to pursue peaceful coexistence. Besides Khrushchev and East German Communist boss Walter Ulbricht, Czech President Antonin Novotny and Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar are already on hand for the Communist summit conference. Poland's Wladyslaw Gornulka and Bulgaria's Todor Zhivkov are due in Sunday. Khrushchev presumably wants to make sure of their support for him before the Russians sit down with the Chinese in Moscow. Still uncertain was whether Romanian party chief Gheorghiu-Dej would attend the Berlin meeting. The Communist chieftains gathering here first will go through public ceremonies occasioned by Ulbricht's 70th birthday, the reason given publicly for their gathering in East Berlin.

Call For Freedom Sounded At Gettysburg Battlefield

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A dramatic call for freedom for the Negro was sounded Saturday on this Civil War battlefield where 100 years ago Monday great, groping armies from North and South locked in a crucial struggle. The scene was the Eternal Light Peace Memorial, where a crimson and gold temporary altar had been erected so that a military field Mass could be celebrated under auspices of Notre Dame University.

in individual hearts and consciences. The appalling death of freedom for millions of Negro Americans today, in voting, in employment, in housing, in education in public accommodations, and in the administration of justice, is not something automatic. "It is a positive act; it is freedom denied from one American to another American, and until every white American decides to act morally towards every Negro American, there is no end to the unfinished business."

pected to visit this hallowed ground during the centennial observance. This historic town is aglow with bunting, flags and store window displays recalling the Civil War. Some 4,000 persons attended the Mass, which was held in the open in temperatures in the high 90s. Nineteen persons suffered heat prostration and had to be removed.

The speaker was the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, president of Notre Dame, who said in a sermon that the Civil War was fought for the Negro's liberty but that this remains unfinished business. Calling on all Americans to become great emancipators like Abraham Lincoln, the educator-priest said, "Moral issues must be recognized and acknowledged

The Mass was the unofficial beginning of a great commemoration of the Battle of Gettysburg, which marked the high tide and ebbing of the Confederacy. The ceremonies, including a dramatized version of Pickett's charge without any firing of shots, will last through July 3, the day Confederate Gen. Robert E. Lee gave up his Northern invasion attempt. About 250,000 persons are ex-

Among those attending were former President and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower. The general was called to the platform after the Mass to receive a plaque which read: "With special gratitude from a lady we lovingly call Notre Dame." President Kennedy, who is in Europe, sent a special representative, John S. Gleason Jr., veterans administrator. Gleason also received a plaque.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

The calendar said summer came a week ago, and the news fare confirmed this. Weather warmed and activity eased to a more leisurely pace. And for a change, we went a week without a shower. Most farmers were in the fields fighting weeds. Prospects are good that cotton will be up to a point soon where we will have to worry only about bugs and subsequent dry spells.

Steelworkers, Union Ink Historic Labor Contracts

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—The United Steelworkers Union and the basic steel industry made their historic relationship formal Saturday, signing contracts achieved by informal talks. President David J. McDonald and other top officers signed for the union while high-ranking officials represented the 11 major companies. Colorado Fuel & Iron Corp. signed first. U.S. Steel Corp. was last nearly 3 1/2 hours later.

Aug. 1, both sides have the right to terminate the agreements upon 120 days notice after Jan. 1, 1965. The old contracts called for a 90-day notice. The reopening wasn't used though. The new agreement came after some 3 1/2 months of informal talks in the Human Relations Committee. Thus it was the first time labor and management reached agreement without a strike or fixed strike deadline.

Jay Gooch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Gooch, told the week he was happy to work with you. We hope that you can keep the order books filled and that we will enter a prosperous period with full production and full employment.

Highlight of the pacts which last until May 1, 1965, is a 13-week extended vacation plan. This is a really historic occasion, McDonald told the company men at the conclusion of the signing session. "I have been happy to work with you. We hope that you can keep the order books filled and that we will enter a prosperous period with full production and full employment."

The vacation plan gives 13-week paid vacations every five years to half of each company's steelworkers with the longest service. Some 400,000 basic steelworkers are affected by the contracts.

Big Springers went crazy over Crazy Days, a shopping promotion here Friday and Saturday. When a neighboring city twice the size of Big Spring attempted a similar affair, there were only a handful of winners. Friday alone produced a lot more winners here, which just goes to show people read the Herald and visit cooperating merchants.

Signing in between Colorado and U.S. Steel were Wheeling Steel Corp., Inland Steel Corp., Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., Pittsburgh Steel Co., Armco Steel Corp., Great Lakes Steel Corp., Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., Republic Steel Corp., and Bethlehem Steel Corp.

But a spokesman said Kennedy on that day now will travel from Naples to Rome "for a complete free night, free from business." The President is scheduled to leave for Washington from Rome July 3—a day later than originally set.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—State investigators are probing reports a lobbyist passed around the favors of call girls in an effort to get a bill passed at the recent session of the state legislature in Sacramento. A spokesman for Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk disclosed Friday that special agents of the state justice department's criminal investigation and identification bureau are handling the case. The investigation is based on published stories that a lobbyist hired eight girls in an effort to get a bill through the closing hours of the legislature. The bill, not identified, reportedly failed to pass.

Pontiff Gets Ready For His Coronation

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI prepared himself with prayer and meditation for his twilight coronation Sunday before powerful and humble people from every corner of the earth. Vatican officials set up a canopy before St. Peter's Basilica. The great church will serve as a backdrop for this open air ceremony. This will be the first papal coronation outdoors in this century and is designed to let more people see the ceremony.

As the time drew nearer for placing the beehive crown on the head of Pope Paul, a feeling of intense expectation built up in Rome, now bursting with visitors and sweltering in a heat wave.

The Vatican made every effort to organize the ceremony to give the world a picture of the pageantry, solemnity and traditions of the Roman Catholic Church.

The Pope on his coronation eve said Mass at the downtown Church of Saints Ambrose and Charles.

Pope Paul spent Saturday performing the functions of his office. He granted an audience to 600 newsmen during which he asked for friendly and sympathetic understanding between the Vatican and the world's news media.

He also received his first chief of state—President Joao Goulart of Brazil. The two men conferred for about 35 minutes.

Goulart was one of a number of dignitaries already in Rome with more arriving every hour. About 100 special diplomatic missions will witness the coronation in addition to the 50 envoys regularly assigned to the Vatican.

OTHERS PRESENT

Others present included Chief Justice Earl Warren who heads the U.S. delegation; King Baudouin of the Belgians; Foreign Minister Feridun Cemal Erkin of Turkey; Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder of West Germany; and Chief Justice Cesar J. Benzon of the Philippine Supreme Court.

Britain's Queen Elizabeth II dispatched the Duke of Norfolk as her representative. The coronation procession, with the Pope carried on a portable throne, is scheduled to begin at about 6 p.m. The entire ceremony is expected to take three hours.

37 Colombians Killed In Crash

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—A bus crowded with holiday travelers overturned on a twisting Andean mountain road Saturday and authorities said 37 persons were killed and 38 others injured, six of them seriously.

Fire Insurance Rates To Go Up

AUSTIN (AP)—The Insurance Board announced Saturday an average 1.9 per cent statewide increase in fire insurance rates.

The raise, the board said, was caused by an unusual number of large insured losses and a shift in the source of arson losses from fraudulent intent to those set maliciously. Additional investigators from the board and local fire departments have exposed an increased number of fraud cases, thereby excluding such losses from statistics, the board said.

But juvenile vandals, burglars and mentally disturbed persons have started insured fires that more than offset those gains. This trend, plus the non-recurring large losses, has prevented rate reduction otherwise earned through reduced normal losses. Windstorm rates also will go up, the board said, because of Hurricane Carla losses and increased

Kennedy Arrives In Great Britain

Plans Talks On Prospects For Test Ban

CHELWOOD GATE, England (AP)—President Kennedy arrived in England Saturday and joined Prime Minister Harold Macmillan for talks on prospects of negotiating a test ban treaty with the Soviet Union. Youthful Britons welcomed him with a ban-the-bomb demonstration.

Kennedy first made an unannounced pilgrimage to the grave of his younger sister, Kathleen, in the Derbyshire village of Edensor. Kathleen died in a 1948 plane crash.

Then the presidential jet, which has carried Kennedy through a rapturous tour of West Germany and a sentimental journey to Ireland, look him to a quiet welcome at Gatwick Airport in Sussex. He was greeted by the Earl of Munster, representing Queen Elizabeth, and by Macmillan.

A mile or two away, outside the airport grounds, about 100 youthful ban-the-bomb demonstrators paraded with banners saying, "Welcome Mr. K but no Polaris missiles."

Kennedy never saw them immediately after the airport greeting and Macmillan boarded a helicopter that took them to the prime minister's home, Birch Grove House, about 35 miles south of London to spend the next 24 hours.

But outside the gates of Macmillan's country home, ban-the-bomb demonstrators staged a hunger strike in protest against nuclear weapons. They vowed to refuse food until Kennedy leaves for Italy Sunday, Kennedy didn't see them, either.

The new American-British bid for agreement with Russia on a test ban treaty appeared to be the dominating theme for the brief conference.

Macmillan, brushing aside his domestic political woes, went into the talks prepared to press for a bold Western diplomatic initiative.

He had his eyes on an early Big Three summit conference, which could consolidate his leadership and perhaps even allow him to retire in a blaze of greater glory than now seems possible.

The conference at Birch Grove began shortly after Kennedy and Macmillan had arrived by helicopter.

Lady Dorothy Macmillan was on the steps of the square, Georgian-style family home to greet Kennedy in his blue, pin-stripe suit.

After the greetings Kennedy and Macmillan retired to a study for a brief conversation completely in private. Later they were joined by advisers and spent 90 minutes going over the nuclear test ban negotiations with Moscow.

"The occasion of the meeting provided a useful opportunity for the two men to see how they should play their hand," said Harold Evans, a spokesman for the British government.

Kennedy was guest at a select dinner party given by Macmillan Saturday night.

Underlining the nuclear weapons issue, Kennedy said in answer to Macmillan's speech of welcome, "I am glad to have an opportunity to talk about the forthcoming trip of our representatives to the Soviet Union."

This was a reference to the mission U.S. special ambassador W. Averell Harriman and British Science Minister Lord Hailsham are making to Moscow in mid-July to discuss a treaty to ban nuclear testing.

Kennedy and Macmillan are expected to broaden the scope for their envoys in the coming Moscow talks.

Specifically they are likely to try to convince the Russians that international inspection of any test ban treaty is not intended to set up a spying system inside Russia. Special measures may be offered to insure that inspectors do not spy.

To go beyond the central issue of the test ban by taking up such other questions as preventing the spread of nuclear weapons to countries which do not now have them.

Negro Is Named To Texas Post

AUSTIN (AP)—Phillip Crawford of Austin will become Texas' first Negro assistant attorney general July 1, first Asst. Atty. Gen. Albert Jones said Saturday.

Crawford, 33, will be assigned to the state and county affairs division which represents a large number of state bureaus and boards in suits.

At The Family Hearth Beside the fireplace in the old Kennedy home—stead in Dugantown, Ireland, President John F. Kennedy had a cup of tea. With him is his cousin, Mrs. Mary Ryan, and her daughter, Josephine Ryan.

Macmillan to join with other North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries, entirely without commitment, in a study of the legal, political and military aspects of the scheme in Washington almost at once.

Broadly, Macmillan's defense advisers don't think much of the scheme militarily. They think such a surface fleet would be too costly, too vulnerable and would add little to the West's present deterrent power.

JFK Meets Pope Tuesday

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI and President Kennedy meet Tuesday in an historic encounter at the Vatican.

It will bring together the first Roman Catholic president of the United States and a pontiff whose reign will then be just 12 days old. Pope Paul, who has promised to do everything possible for world peace, will be conferring with the leader of one of the two great protagonists of the cold war. Neither nation, the United States nor Russia, has diplomatic representation at the Vatican.

The subject of Vatican-Washington diplomatic ties, left untouched by the United States since 1951, is not expected to figure in Tuesday's audience in Pope Paul's apartment.

PRECEDENTS

President Kennedy's scheduled audience has precedents. President Dwight Eisenhower and President Woodrow Wilson called upon reigning pontiffs.

Eisenhower was on an 11-nation tour when he came to Rome and the Vatican in December 1959. Pope John XXIII, then starting his second year on the throne of Peter, received Eisenhower in his private library on Dec. 6.

It was the second time the strains of the Star Spangled Banner, played by the band of the Vatican's Palatine Guard, had echoed through historic St. Damasus courtyard outside the papal apartment. The first time was in 1919 when President Wilson saw Pope Benedict XV.

GOOD WISHES

Pope John told Eisenhower at the 27-minute audience he rejoiced at seeing the United States and its president aspiring toward "the lofty ideals of a loyal and effective concord between nations." He invoked fervent wishes for the continued prosperity of the American people and "celestial blessings for all the families of the noble American nation."

President Eisenhower told the pontiff he was grateful for the blessing and added, "I assure you that I will take your words to my country and make them known there."

It was one of the few audiences at which Pope John spoke English.

NOT IN OFFICE

Both Eisenhower and Kennedy met Pope Plus XII but neither was yet president. When Wilson saw Pope Benedict

Jan. 4, 1919—Wilson was on his way to Paris for the Versailles peace treaty conference that formally ended World War I.

The period was one in which American Catholicism was just emerging from almost four centuries of designation by the Vatican as a mission-land church. American Catholics then numbered only a third of today's almost 50 million. The world now has half a billion Catholics.

Wilson and Pope Benedict conversed in English. The Pope praised the American president for his efforts to form the League of Nations. Wilson, like Eisenhower 40 years later, marked the day of the papal audience by going to the Church of St. Paul, the American Protestant Episcopal Church in Rome.

SPECULATION

At the time of Eisenhower's visit there was some speculation about whether the subject of re-establishing diplomatic ties between the Vatican and Washington would come up. It didn't, as things turned out.

Even in the new climate of Catholic-Protestant friendliness stirred in the reign of Pope John, there was little likelihood that any big change in diplomatic status would come out of President Kennedy's meeting with Pope Paul.

Webb Pilot Dies In Viet Nam

Webb Air Force Base has seen one of its own products go forth to die in a remote jungle on his mission in the cause of a free world. Thursday, Capt. Condon H. Terry was reported a casualty of the Viet Nam "police action." Flying a T-28 on a strafing run, his plane was knocked out of the air by Communist guerrilla forces.

Word of his death reached his wife in Dallas Friday. Capt. Terry, schooled in Dallas and at Texas A&M, spent most of his Air Force career at Webb. He was graduated here in pilot training, went to Craig AFB, Ala., for instructor training, then returned here as an instructor pilot in 1959. He later was advanced to the standardization board at Webb.

His last assignment in the U.S. was at survival school in Nevada, before going to Viet Nam.

Besides the widow, Capt. Terry is survived by two sons, Donnie and Dennis. The family has been living in Dallas while he was on the Viet Nam tour.

The Dallas News Saturday published a letter Capt. Terry had written his wife just nine days before his fatal mission. Part of it read: "This country is the wettest, buggiest, dirtiest place I've ever seen . . . but don't get me wrong . . . there is one big good to all this . . . I'll never again think anything in the United States is bad or dirty . . . We are the most fortunate people in the world to live in our great America . . . This tour is proving it to me every day . . . I don't think I will soon take very much for granted, especially how I live at home . . . This is what we fight for here, and I am proud I have such a fine country and way of life to fight for . . ."

Water Line Completed In Less Than Six Months

The Colorado River Municipal Water District and Sun Oil Co. coordinating their programs, have accomplished a six-month miracle in less than that space of time.

The Water District board plans the drawing board, arranged $2,500,000 in finances for contracts for 32.2 miles of 24-inch and 18-inch pipe and delivered water from Lake J. B. Thomas in Scurry and Borden counties to Sun's terminal in northern Coke County.

While this was going on, Sun Oil Co. planned and then built a filter plant pump stations and 37 miles of distribution lines for a waterflood operation in three Coke County oilfields, all at an expenditure of $2,000,000. Halder Construction Co. of Snyder, Halder Construction Co. of Snyder, Halder Construction Co. of Snyder and Elm Fork Construction Co. of Dallas was the contractor on Sun Oil's Filter Plant which was designed by Freese, Nichols and Endress, consulting engineers, Fort Worth.

When talks between the CRMW and Sun Oil came to a head in January, 1963, and a mid-year completion date was projected, it appeared impossible that $4½ million of work could be engineered and accomplished within that short of space.

Continuing a system of 100,000-gallon-per-day revenue bonds issued $2,750,000 in revenue bonds and tackled the job without help from state or federal sources. Nor did it have to resort to alternating its water rate structure to other customers. What did happen, explained E. V. Spence, general manager of CRMW, was a tremendous effort and display of teamwork by the board of directors, engineers, staff, contractors. The project was thrown suddenly and dramatically into action Jan. 12, 1963, when the CRMW authorized execution of a contract to turn Sun up to 2,000,000 gallons of water per day starting July 1, 1963.

On the strength of this, the district's board has authorized the bids for $2,500,000 in revenue bonds and for the low proposal submitted by Eastman Dillon Union Securities & Company for 2.4039 per cent interest for six-year bonds was accepted.

Meantime, Sun had signed the contract and announced plans for its distribution system in northern Coke County. At this point and all through the project, O. H. Iue, assistant manager of CRMW, and W. Paschal Odum, engineer, conferred regularly with Sun engineers to coordinate the job.

Freese, Nichols and Endress, the district's engineers, hurried the mid-point of the project to time for a Feb. 5 bid opening on the district's pipeline from Lake Thomas to Silver in northern Coke County. B. H. Fulton, contractor of Lubbock, was awarded the contract in the amount of $1,941,435 for 21.2 miles of 24-inch diameter line and 31 miles of 18-inch steel cylinder concrete line.

Things happened so fast, that when the pipeline job was advertised in January, the CRMW and engineers had to lay out the pipeline route from topographic maps then hastily staked it in the field for contractor's inspection.

There were no right-of-way field notes, and these had to be drawn by March. Iue and R. A. Scholinger, the district's lake superintendent, spending night and day in the field with Harry Ratliff, Colorado City attorney, signing easements.

Most came readily in a few instances, negotiations were long and drawn out, yet in every case an amicable agreement was reached without resorting to condemnation.

A Project of this magnitude meant that the pipe manufacturer United Concrete Pipe Corp., Odessa, had to obtain supplies of steel, but during the week ending March 29, the first 200 joints of 18-inch pipe were manufactured. The first load of pipe reached the right-of-way at Silver April 3, and April 11, the first ditch was cut. Four days later, the initial joints of pipe were laid.

Working ahead, contractor first bored under state and federal highways, inserting conduits through which the pipeline would be inserted later. Right-of-way was cleared, and fences were reinforced where they would have to be cut.

Production of the 24-inch line began in Dallas by United Concrete Pipe Corp. and in early May the contractor commenced laying this section. The district awarded a $31,625 contract to Bruce Construction Co. of Dallas for a trestle crossing over the Colorado River, and another to J. D. Jones Construction Co. of Big Spring for $33,040 for a pump station at Lake Thomas.

On June 17, Fulton laid the last joint of pipe, connecting the 24-inch and 18-inch sections, and at noon June 26, first water from Lake Thomas reached Sun's Filter Plant at Silver. Charles B. Perry, Odessa, president of CRMW, signed a letter officially dated June 27, 1963, tendering water to Sun on July 1, and Robert Beggs, Sun superintendent of production, said that water injection would be started on that date in the Jameson Reef and Southwest Nina Lucia Units.

NEW PIPELINE

Spence Explains Other Benefits

While the Sun Oil Co. Colorado River Municipal Water District water supply line project is impressive within itself, it hardly is more important than several other benefits, according to E. V. Spence, general manager of CRMW.

Because Sun has agreed to take as much as 1,000,000 gallons a day of salt water from the Colorado River, this ultimately will open the way for impounding a second major lake on the upper Colorado River. This is vital to the water security of mid-West Texas, he said.

Important too for the Mitchell County and Coke County area, is the increased recovery of crude oil by reason of the waterflood made possible by the ample water supply. Sun is planning to spend $1,000,000 in addition to the $2,000,000 already invested in developing the waterflood project. All of this means longer life and yield for the oilfields, supplying jobs and stable tax revenues for the affected areas.

To the economics of the picture in the Mitchell and Coke County areas can be added considerable recreational benefits, accruing from the second lake, Spence noted.

The CRMW entered into a contract to furnish Sun water from Lake J. B. Thomas at 47.62 cents per 1,000 gallons, and salt water from the Colorado River at 42.62 cents per thousand. The district has available funds necessary for the construction of two low water channel dams and for lateral lines to take intercepted salt water to the Lake Thomas Sun Oil pipeline.

By intercepting and disposing of the salt water, which originated from the open pits in the Sharon Ridge and North Coleman Ranch Oil Fields of Scurry and Mitchell counties, the quality of water on the Colorado River will be improved to the point the Texas Water Commission will allow the CRMW to go ahead with plans for a lake in southern Mitchell or northwestern Coke counties. The district has appropriated up to $50,000 for studies toward location of a dam site.

The availability of a supply of good quality water in northern Coke County or southern Mitchell County has a wholesome effect on the outlook in this area of West Texas for municipal, industrial and recreational purposes. The manager observed. A second lake certainly would result in water security for the area.

Another potential benefit of the project is the added flexibility to the CRMW supply system. The 24-inch section of the new pipeline extends to a point 12 miles east of Moss Creek Lake, the reservoir from which the Standard-Sinclair Oil Companies waterflood units are supplied and from which Big Spring obtains water for peaking periods. Closing this gap and enlarging the line from Moss Creek Lake to Big Spring would insure Big Spring of far more water than it has ever used in a day. Moreover, it would relieve the Big Spring/Odessa supply line of the potential load of maintaining Moss Creek Lake at satisfactory levels to meet Standard-Sinclair demands. It also would assure that Odessa always could receive the maximum of 15,000,000 gallons daily through the 24-inch line from Lake Thomas via Big Spring.

Glasscock To Get 5 Miles Of New Road

The Texas Highway Commission Saturday approved the expenditure of $80,000 for construction of new farm to market road mileage in Glasscock County, as part of the 1963 FM Road program, announced District Engineer J. A. Strell, San Angelo.

Snell said the construction of a farm to market road from RM 33, 9.9 miles south of Garden City west through St. Lawrence, a distance of five miles, has been authorized. The project will be under the supervision of H. L. Bailey, supervising resident engineer, Sterling City.

The work is part of the new $24 million FM Road Construction Program just announced by the Texas Highway Commission.

The program is a yearly road-building undertaking of the Texas Highway Department under which statute specifies that $23 million annually shall be spent for new FM construction. The 1963 program is financed for some $24.1 million, more than a million dollars in excess of the basic statutory requirement.

New farm roads will be built in 172 counties throughout the state for approximately 1,060 miles. Of the new roads added to the highway system by this program, 69 per cent are school bus routes and 65 per cent are mail routes.

Texas now has a designated farm to market road system of 36,000 miles including 172 counties throughout the state. The new program, most of these miles having been built since 1949 under an expanded farm road building program.

In 1962 the Texas Highway Commission revised its goal for farm road mileage upwards from 35,000 to a total of 50,000 miles. The ultimate 50,000-mile farm roads network will be developed over a period of years and geographically distributed throughout the state.

650 May Die On Holiday

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council estimated Saturday that traffic accidents may kill 650 to 850 Americans in the Independence Day holiday observance. It says that during a four-day period in 1961.

The council also estimated that 24,000 to 28,000 persons would suffer injuries that would disable them beyond the day of the accident during the celebration of the nation's independence.

The 102-hour tally period will begin at 6 p.m. Wednesday, July 3, and will end at midnight Sunday, July 7.

Rail Mishap Injures 30

KENOSHA, Wis. (AP)—A five-car Milwaukee Road passenger train packed with vacation bound travelers to Wisconsin plowed into an oncoming freight train and jumped the tracks Saturday. There were no fatalities but at least 30 persons were injured, none critically.

Two diesel units of the railroad's Chicago to Milwaukee train left the rails after smashing into the caboose of the freight train, which was preparing to back into a siding. The baggage car and dining car tilted but did not fall over. Two coaches and a mail car were derailed but remained upright.

Four units of the freight also were derailed. The caboose was demolished.

Injured passengers, most of them cut, bruised and shaken up, were taken to St. Catherine and Kenosha Memorial Hospitals. Others were taken to Kenosha by bus. Charles Gust, engineer of the passenger train, told authorities he applied the brakes at approximately 90 miles per hour, then turned and ran the rear of the cab seconds before the collision. He suffered cuts and abrasions.

PREVENTION WEEK

Protect Home From Burglars

"This is the time of year when burglars and prowlers have easy pickings," Chief of Police J. Jay Banks said Saturday. "Most citizens will soon be going off on weekends or vacations and virtually abandoning their homes to burglars."

The Texas Police Association has declared Burglary Prevention Week starting today and continuing through July 6. In cooperation with the TPA and the Big Spring Police Department, Mayor George J. Zachariah proclaimed it Burglary Prevention Week in Big Spring. The police department hopes to make all home owners more aware of the precautions they may take to frustrate the attempts of would-be burglars this summer.

240 LAST YEAR
The unconcerned and careless attitude of many was largely responsible for the 240 burglaries committed in our city last year, Banks said. Although most people did not intentionally invite intruders to ransack their homes, they might just as well have hung up a sign saying "no one's home, burglars welcome!"

"A stroll around your neighborhood any day will tell you at a glance who's away," he said. "Their porches will be cluttered with circulars, an accumulation of milk bottles, an unkempt lawn, an empty garage with the door open, or a bulging mailbox. Tips-offs that will broadcast 'no one's home' to anyone canvassing the neighborhood."

In the evening, most empty homes can be spotted too, he explained. Just look for the dark houses. "Light is one of the best deterrents to crime, yet some homeowners go out for an evening and leave homes completely dark. Or, they will go off for a weekend or vacation and leave the same light burning day and night. No light at all, or the same light burning continuously is a dead give-away."

A simple, but effective means of having light in your home every evening, is by connecting an automatic timing device to one or two lamps, he pointed out. Such a timer will turn a lamp on early in the evening, and then turn it off several hours later. With lights turning on and off during the evening hours, it will give the appearance someone is at home and may avert a possible burglary attempt.

Homes and apartments account for more than four of every 10 burglaries. By observing a few simple precautionary steps, you can reduce the possibility of a burglar selecting your dwelling as his target next time you are away.

Kennedy Signs Tax Extension

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy Saturday signed legislation extending for the 10th time the corporation income and major estate tax rates originally imposed during the Korean War.

They retain $4.2 billion in annual revenue for the federal government.

The President acted on the bill in Europe where he is in the latter stages of a 10-day, four-nation tour.

The legislation, which was flown to Kennedy by courier, had to be signed into law this week to prevent an automatic drop in the rates on July 1. They were first levied to help finance U.S. participation in the Korean hostilities.

Levies involved include the 52 per cent corporation tax, and excise rates on whisky, beer, wines, cigarettes, automobiles, auto parts and accessories, air travel and telephone service.

Work Begins On Ponderosa Inn On South 87

A 34-unit motor motel is currently under construction at the south edge of the city. Being built by Ponderosa Motor Inns, Inc. the $200,000 facility will have a motel with pool, restaurant and liquor store.

The unit will be built in the shape of a large U, with the open end of it facing west. It will be directly south of the Jet Drive in Theater entrance.

Work should be completed in September, according to Kent Morgan. It was designed by J. Frank Powell, Midland architect, and work has been contracted to Harley Boldin of San Angelo.

This is the second such unit for the Ponderosa corporation. A similar unit was constructed in Alpine last summer.

The single-story building will have the pool in the center of the enclosure and the restaurant, capable of seating 82 persons, will face US 87 south. Each unit of the motor inn will consist of two large

THIS IS WHY

Why do we have services on Sunday? Of course it is right to preach the gospel this day; but it is also right to preach it any other day. Why then the first-day-of-the-week meetings? When did this all start? It started with the first century church. Men have continued meeting on this day, because it is recognized that we should follow the early Christians, who themselves were under the direct leadership of the Apostles of Christ (Heb. 6:12; and 8:3).

The church at Troas met on the first day of the week. The purpose of this meeting was to observe the Lord's Supper (break bread). Acts 20:7. That was their reason; and it is our reason for meeting on Sunday. Most churches meet on Sunday, but have lost sight of the Bible reason for meeting. They do not meet for the Lord's Supper.

Come, and be with us today; and hear the sermon, which is also a part of each service, 10:30 and 7:00.

Continental Has New Half-Fare Plan For Military Men

A new military half-fare plan with a savings of 50 per cent over present special round-trip fares for armed forces personnel has been placed into effect by the Continental Trailways Bus System west of the Mississippi River.

Frank Rice, local manager of the bus line, said that servicemen and women are guaranteed seats at the time they purchase tickets and are able to board the particular schedule of their choice without having to be placed on a "stand-by" basis. They must be in uniform and present their furlough or leave papers to purchase tickets.

The new half-fare plan is also available for use by military personnel who are being transferred from one base to another and who plan stopovers en route for personal, business or vacation sight-seeing.

In the case of personnel being separated from the service, the trip must be started within 10 days from the date the ticket is purchased and must be completed within 45 days from departure.

Spence Attends Dedication Of Conversion Plant

E. V. Spence, manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, will be on hand this weekend for the dedication of the Roswell Salt Water Conversion plant.

This is one of several experimental units being installed by the department of interior to test various processes of converting sea and brackish waters to domestic and industrial uses. The Roswell, N. M., plant, one of two inland ones, is four miles east of that city. While at Roswell, Spence will attend the eighth annual New Mexico Water Conference at the invitation of Dr. Robert B. Corbett, president of New Mexico State University.

Sales Tax Changes Effective Monday

AUSTIN (AP)—State sales tax changes take effect Monday. That is good news for diabetics, newspaper readers, farmers, coffee stand operators, churches and the state treasury.

The changes will be unhappy for clothing buyers.

Many retailers say most Texans won't notice the changes in the 22-month-old 2 per cent sales tax.

"I don't think the changes will affect anything. The sales tax has been taken as a way of life," said a Sanger-Harris executive in Dallas.

W. W. Garrett, manager of an Austin discount store, dissented. "People who shop with us are looking for bargains and they watch every penny they spend. A lot of people don't know what is taxable now and they will hold their breath when we start taxing something new."

He referred to a removal of the exemption on outer wearing apparel, costing less than $10. The change is expected to net $20 million in new state revenue in 1964.

Most retailers say the clothing change is a blessing.

A Sears Roebuck salesman recalls that some customers decried that he had to put separate tickets on each of three pairs of $9 slacks to evade paying a tax of $27. The tax will be due either way under the revision.

W. G. Novasid, assistant manager of Montgomery Ward in Austin, had a hard time explaining to an angry customer why a $9.95 hat she wanted would not be taxed but the $10 hat would be taxed.

Charles Blankenship, assistant manager of J. C. Penney Co. in Austin, said that many customers haven't gotten used to not paying the tax on items under $10.

Bill Wallace, manager of the Houston Retail Merchants Association, said the clothing change "will help at the point of sale and in bookkeeping. Department store salesmen won't have to remember so much."

Economists estimate the change will cost the average family several dollars a year.

A $4.95 raincoat, formerly tax-free, will be taxed 10 cents. A $3.50 pair of blue jeans will be taxed 7 cents. A $9.95 dress will be taxed 20 cents.

Another change, which may be greeted favorably by most motorists and auto dealers, will tax autos at 2 per cent of the trading difference instead of 1.5 per cent on the sale price.

"Our members are most anxious for this change," said H. C. Pittman, director of the Texas Auto Dealers Association.

"Autos are the only commodity where you couldn't subtract the trade-in," Pittman said. "On washing machines, airplanes and

More Student Housing Planned For Texas Tech

COLLEGE STATION — Construction is expected to begin in July on the first phase of a $4,700,000 student housing program at Texas A&M to provide air conditioned quarters for 2,120 students.

The basic construction contracts totaling slightly more than $4,000,000 have been awarded by the board of directors.

Plans call for completion of two new dormitories and complete renovation and air conditioning of four existing dormitories by September of 1964. Completion of the third new dormitory is expected by the end of 1964. Five student lounges will be built at the same time.

Construction will begin soon on the new dormitories. Renovation of the existing buildings will be started in February 1964. Student housing at Texas A&M is financed by rental fees from students. The new student housing program is being financed under a $4,743,000 federal loan.

everything else, you pay the tax on the trading difference.

"People are so accustomed to paying taxes now that a little more just doesn't bother them," said Ed Lamm, sales manager of O. R. Mitchell Motor Co. in San Antonio. "They are used to paying 2 per cent on everything else and some have been surprised when they had to pay only 1.5 per cent on a car."

"It's a whole lot fairer than before," said Jim Sanders, a Houston car dealer. "All Houston car dealers I have talked to are 100 per cent for it."

If a dealer gives a buyer $1,500 trade-in for his old auto on a $2,500 new car, the tax will be $20. Under the old system, the tax would have been $34.50 regardless of any trade-in. If the buyer doesn't have a trade-in, the new tax on the $2,500 car will be $50.

The revision will remove one of the druggists' big worries. Collecting the tax on insulin from diabetics. An Austin druggist said many of his diabetic customers got prescriptions for insulin to evade the tax.

Druggists still will have to explain why prescriptions are tax-free and aspirins are taxed.

Newspaper subscribers won't have to fish for pennies when the carrier collects—subscription rates will not be taxed.

The hundreds of coffee shops in courthouses and office buildings will have to pay only the taxes they collect if more than half of their sales are of 24 cents or less.

The coffee shop operator in the Capitol estimates her tax payments to the state will drop from $900 to $300 a month.

Churches and public schools can forget about taxing their meals. Meals sold by schools during school days and dinners sold by a church at a church function are non-taxable.

Farmers' widespread demands that farm machinery be taxed, but must sign a certificate indicating the machinery will be used for agriculture. Farmers will not have to pay a tax on herbicides, defoliants and desiccants, items formerly taxable.

Navy Secretary Says No Influence In TFX Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP)—Navy Sec. Fred Korth says no political, financial or other outside influences entered into award of the controversial TFX warplane contract.

Korth defended the award during more than five hours of closed questioning by the Senate Investigations subcommittee Friday.

A transcript of testimony made public Saturday showed that Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., asked Korth:

And there were no extraneous influences of any kind of character, financial influence, politics or anything else?

Korth and other top Pentagon officials, including Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, are defending their decision to give a $2.8 billion development contract to the General Dynamics Corp. of Fort Worth.

The decision overruled findings of military evaluation boards which reported that a design proposed by the Boeing Co. gave promise of a better and cheaper plane.

Korth said the TFX (tactical fighter, experimental) as designed by General Dynamics would be up to twice as maneuverable at extreme altitudes and speeds. He said also it would be vastly superior for two prime Navy combat uses—defense and beachhead support.

Korth defended his decision as Navy secretary to overrule the recommendations of aeronautical experts and veteran Navy officers.

As an experienced businessman, Korth said he was and is convinced that the General Dynamics version will be better and less costly than that of Boeing. He conceded he had spent many weeks preparing his testimony to justify this decision.

NEVER TAKE ANY MEDICINE IN THE DARK

Modern drugs are much more potent than past medicines. Taken when indicated, preferably with the advice of a physician, they accomplish almost miraculous benefits.

But any medicine wrongly used can be harmful. Always carefully read the label before taking one. Lock them safely away from children. Don't forget three or four 5-grain aspirin tablets are a fatal dose for an infant. Pharmacists read every label three times before dispensing. Do likewise and be safe.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Post Office Begins New Mail System

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mr. ZIP flashes across the country Monday in a government advertising campaign that should make Madison Avenue hang its head.

The orange-skulled, blue-suited cartoon mailman is the symbol of what the Post Office Department believes is a revolution in the distribution of the U.S. mail.

Mr. ZIP will beam at you from the corner letterbox. He will catch your eye from the side of the mail truck. You'll see him on your mountain's peak and your television screen.

Press a button on the right side of his belly at your post office and Ethel Meriman will stagger and by belting out the ZIP code sound-mimicry words to go with the tone of "what-ese"—Zip-A-Dee-Do-Dee.

And the department will become its own biggest customer as Mr. ZIP is seen carrying the largest single mailing in post office history—mail stopped at every mail box and address in the country, more addresses than even the Census Bureau and Internal Revenue Service have hit.

What they're trying to tell you is that you now have a ZIP code number to add to your list of area codes, numbers, digits, phone numbers, Social Security number, income taxpayer number and credit card numbers.

ZIP stands for Zone Improvement Plan.

Postmaster General J. Edward Day likes to point out that under the conventional city-and-state addressing system in use since Benjamin Franklin's time, addresses must be read as many as ten times en route by various postal employees.

While the immediate impact, in terms of speed, will be on the nation's large-volume mailers, the department is urging everyone—including the once-a-month letter writer—to use the code number in addressing and on the return address.

You'll hear this many many times in the next few months, but here's how ZIP code works.

Simply look up in the 3300 Yellow North Dismal Street book, the ZIP code for your present address in Zone 7.

Your ZIP code number will be 2207. The first numeral 2 designates one of 10 national service areas, consisting in this example of Columbia, West Virginia, Virginia and the Carolinas.

The second 2 identifies the service area, subdivided in northern Virginia. The third 7 identifies the action post office. The last two digits—07—identify the station from which mail to your address is delivered.

And if you have any question about it, write to:

Peace Corpsmen Divided On How Program Has Worked

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—"I came here two years ago with the attitude of a social worker who was going to help the country's peasants," said the young Peace Corps volunteer bitterly. "And now I feel I've been with them."

"You wouldn't catch me drinking beer again with a bunch of campesinos (peasants) to get to know them or staying up nights arguing with anti-gringo university students to change them," he said. "It just isn't worth it."

The speaker was Bruce Lane of Austin, Tex., who was one of an enthusiastic group of 62 young Americans when he came here on the Peace Corps' first Latin American program.

That program ended this week, with the volunteers fairly evenly divided on whether it was a success or a failure.

Lane's job, and that of others, was to go into the Colombian backlands and show the peasant how to work with his neighbor to get things done to build a better, healthier community.

"We just couldn't break through the inertia," Lane said. "The program hasn't worked because the Colombian government won't support it and the peasants won't cooperate."

Not all the volunteers feel as Lane does. Terry Adcock, also from Austin, is enthusiastic.

Compensation, Not Sensation

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Trudy Tavares got a job at the airport as a cocktail waitress. Her uniform was a Chinese dress with a slit. She wore a slip under the uniform, and was fired for refusing to discard the slip. "The slit was so revealing that when I would bend down it exposed my whole rear end," she swore. The California Unemployment Insurance Appeals Board decided Friday that Miss Tavares was entitled to unemployment compensation.

CONGRESS MAY MEET ITSELF COMING BACK NEXT JANUARY

There's Thick, Bipartisan Gloom On Capitol Hill

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is thick, bipartisan gloom on Capitol Hill. It begins to look as if Congress may meet itself coming back into session next January. It became a probability when President Kennedy added a top-priority civil rights bill to his top-priority tax program. A Southern filibuster would make it a certainty. Vacation plans are going glimmering for thousands of staff aides, Capitol employees, and workers in the executive branch—and an army of lobbyists who dare not leave town while the legislative mill is grinding, however slowly. Majority Leader Mike Mansfield told the Senate it is "not at all impossible" that Congress will sit until 1964 without a break between this session and next. His Republican counterpart, Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, matched Mansfield's pessimism. With rare brevity he intoned: "We'll probably still be marking up a tax bill by Nov. 1. We could still be here when the snow flies." Congress is attacking the problem by arranging a Fourth-of-July holiday lasting all next week. Token sessions are planned, under a gentlemen's agreement, that nothing controversial will come up. There is also talk—just wishful, go far—of a fortnight's recess starting in mid-August. This would be a king-size fortnight, because Congress wouldn't reconvene until after Labor Day. The House majority leader, Carl Albert, D-Okla., says adjournment will come in November. The speaker, Rep. John W.

McCormack, D-Mass., just expects "a long session." The minority leader, Rep. Charles A. Halleck, R-Ind., said "it looks as if we'll be here all year," but was not too dispirited to add his familiar gibe: "I've always said that, for the good of the country, you can't adjourn a Democrat Congress too soon."

Crown Jewels

Margo Solomon wore this crown, containing nine emeralds and 600 diamonds, at her wedding. The emeralds, ranging from two to five carats, once were part of a crown worn by Catherine The Great of Russia at her coronation in the 1700's. An uncle of the bride loaned the headpiece to her for the occasion. His company, which owns it, values it at $50,000.

Judge Instructs Jury To Bring In Conviction

AMARILLO — U. S. Dist. Judge Joseph Dooley instructed a jury Friday to convict Dr. Harvey Jackson of detaining at gunpoint three agents of the Internal Revenue Service. The judge said Jackson, 52, had no right to make a civilian arrest of the three agents seeking to collect some $300 in delinquent taxes. "No officer, and much less a civilian, has the right to make an arrest except for some crime being committed," said the judge. "I don't think the evidence here in any way can be translated into the conception that these Internal Revenue Service officers were about to commit a crime." Sentencing was deferred. Defense lawyer Harold Ochener said he would appeal. Jackson testified he drew a revolver on agents Jack Hughes and Bob Hash in his clinic because they threatened to close his business. He also testified he pulled the gun a second time on IRA collection manager Ben Stephens because he thought Stephens was "lunging" at him. Jackson's differences with the federal tax agency date back to 1959 when his 1957 income tax returns came under scrutiny. The IRS filed a levy on the physician's bank account. Still in dispute are taxes on his income for 1958 and 1959. Jackson, free on $500 bond, said of the civilian arrest: "It's one of those unwritten laws of the country, the right of an American."

More Farm Roads Will Be Built

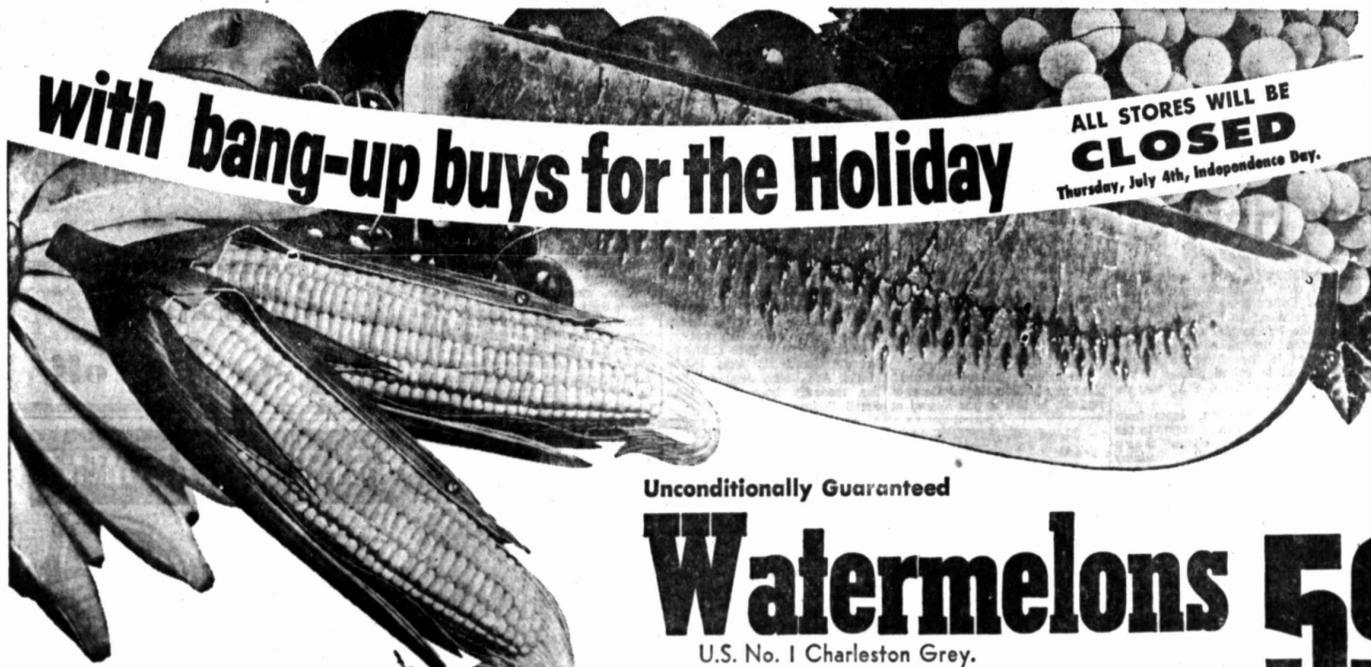

AUSTIN — The State Highway Commission approved Friday construction of 1,060 miles of farm roads to be built in 172 counties under the 1963 program. Cost of the projects will be $1.1 million more than the $23 million required by state law to be spent on farm roads each year. Of the new roads, 74 per cent will be school bus routes and 65 per cent will be mail routes. Texas now has more than 36,000 miles in its farm road system, mostly built since 1949. The commission raised its goal for farm road mileage from 35,000 to 50,000 last year. The commission also authorized studies to establish the location, right of way lines and cost estimates for a proposed loop from U. S. 83A and 84 south of Abilene northeast to Loop 322. Action designating the 5.9 mile loop was taken subject to a condition that Taylor County and the city of Abilene obtain all rights of way.

N. Korea Admits Pilots Are Alive

PANMUNJOM, South Korea — After six weeks of silence, Communist North Korea has admitted for the first time that two American helicopter pilots shot down over Red territory May 17 are alive. A North Korean delegate told the U. N. Command Friday the two Americans have been arrested and detained as criminals. He said they were "in normal condition." But he warned U. N. officials to "stop repeating your fruitless attempts" to obtain their immediate release. North Korea had repeatedly refused to discuss the fate of the Americans, Capt. Ben W. Suttis of Florence, Ala., and Capt. Charles A. Voltz of Frankfurt, Mich. The U. N. Command said they were making a routine border check when they made a navigational error and were forced down by Communist ground fire. North Korea charged them with aggression.

REPORTING IN
Cadets are learning the ropes

ROTC Student Training Unit Completes 2nd Week Here

The USAF ROTC Student Training Unit which reported for the four-week summer training camp June 16 closed out its second week Saturday.

Fresh from their respective colleges and universities, the 191 cadets are following an equally tough schedule. Up at 4:45 a.m. and lights out at 9 p.m., the 14-hour day begins with reveille at 5:05 a.m. This allows 20 minutes to make ready for inspection—no wrinkles in his blanket, or specks of dust on shoes.

The cadets arrived on the base Sunday morning and the remainder of the day was devoted to checking in, filling out forms, drawing equipment, uniforms and ear plugs.

The unit is divided into flights of approximately 25 designated from A to H. Duties, assignments, physical training, lectures and meals are all staggered by flights and each flight has a tactical officer whose responsibility is training his flight.

Physical and military training, although scheduled for approximately four hours each day, actually adds up to much more, due to the rigid military manner in which the cadets move from class to class and from barracks to mess halls.

One feature of the month-long training is assignment of each cadet to an activity of his choice for a minimum of two of his 28-day stay at Webb. Cadets were furnished blank forms on arrival at Webb through which they could indicate a preference.

Those who were interested in administration were assigned to the chief of administrative services. Cadets whose major was public relations or information went to the Information Office. Cadets assigned to these activities reported to the officer in charge, and sat in on all phases of the work for which the officer was responsible.

Most of the cadets came from the Midwest, assignments to the various summer camps were made through Student Training Unit Headquarters AFROTC—and the lion's share came from colleges and universities in Texas.

Of 191 students reporting, 71 came from Texas schools. The Aggies (Texas A&M College) lead the field with 26; Oklahoma State was second with 22; Texas Tech, 16; University of Nebraska, 14; Texas Christian University, 12; University of New Mexico, 11; Oklahoma State, 9; Kansas State, 8; Baylor and North Texas State, 6 each; Texas University and the University of Wichita, Kan., five each. These 12 schools account for 136 of the 191 students; the remaining 55 come from schools as far away as Los Angeles on the west; to Princeton, N. J., on the east.

Other schools represented are Central State College of Oklahoma, Citadel, Charleston, S. C.; Case College, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Colorado State, Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa; East Texas State, Commerce, Texas; University of Kansas; Louisiana State; University of Missouri; New Mexico State; Notre Dame, Occidental College, Los Angeles, Calif.; Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio; Princeton University; University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn.; Southern Methodist University, Southwest Texas State Teachers' College, San Marcos; Stantford University, Stantford, Calif.; Trinity University, San Antonio; Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Ala.; Washburn University, Topeka, Kan.; Washington University, St. Louis, Mo.

The unit completes training July 22.

New Sewage Plant Now In Operation

By JOE BEYER

As a city becomes larger, the problem of disposing of wastes increases. In Big Spring, the investment in sewage treatment plants approaches $1.25 million.

Most recent addition to the system is a $770,000 sewage disposal plant and improvements on the old plant. For the first time in many years the sewage will be treated adequately before it is released.

"For all practical purposes, the sewage was not being treated," Ernest Lillard, director of public works, said, "before the new plant went into operation."

The old facility could treat 1.5 million gallons of sewage daily and from two to 2½ million gallons was being run through it. Overloading cut the efficiency to about half normal operation, Lillard said.

Shifflet Brothers, contractors, have completed the new plant and gave it test runs all last week. At the weekend it was completely checked out and operating smoothly, Larry Crow, city manager, said. Unless unexpected trouble develops, it can be considered to be "on stream."

The original sewage treatment plant was built in 1930 at a cost of $115,000. In 1943 it was altered at a cost of $138,000 to convert to a Hayes treatment plant, a more efficient sewage processing method than was used previously. Again in 1961 the city spent $183,500 to bring capacity to par, but this did not last long. Soon the plant was overloaded again.

With the addition of a new trickling filter plant at a cost of $666,000 and another $104,000 in improvements at the old plant, treatment capacity has been raised to 3½ million gallons a day.

The new plant, a trickling filter system, uses aerobic treatment, a more effective treatment than the anaerobic process used by the old plant. It can take an overload more readily than the old and still do a satisfactory job of processing the sewage, Lillard said.

"There is another advantage to the new plant," Lillard said. "The capacity can be doubled for less than half the cost of the initial plant."

Cost of treatment with the new plant will be lowered slightly. The old plant cost from 5½-6 cents to treat each 1,000 gallons of sewage. Sewage entering the new plant first passes through a bar screen which removes all large objects which might not be handled efficiently by the plant. The remainder is then ground thoroughly to reduce it to an emulsion which can be fed into a sludge digester. After treatment in the digester, the sewage goes to a primary clarifier, where solids settle out. This is then usable for fertilizer. The effluent passes through a primary filter and a part of it leaves the plant. The rest is returned to the primary clarifier for further processing. The fluid leaving the plant goes through a secondary filter.

Could This Mean No Winners?

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—Three Fresno girls are hoping that beauty contest judges will not be influenced by their titles.

The girls are entered in a contest to select the queen of the Fresno County employes' picnic. All girls who entered the contest were given titles to designate the department in which they work.

Gloria Arns is Miss Criminal, Brenda Gaddis is Miss Public Works, and Donna Jean Ashjian has modestly been titled Miss Small Claims.

Lodge To Install Officers Thursday

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Reader Urges Displaying American Flag More

To the Editor:

It seems to me that we are taking too much for granted. Can we live in the present and forget the past so quickly? Have we forgotten our forefathers and our great heroes who helped make our history great and memorable?

Have we forgotten Francis Scott Key's reaction when he saw the flag in the dawn's early light and then wrote the Star Spangled Banner, our national anthem? Must we be reminded through a national crisis to display our flag which is only a part of our patriotism?

With our flags and decorations we continue to glorimize the grand openings of various occasions, but haven't we forgotten our victorious wars our fight for independence?

Have we really lost our sense of value?

June 14 was Flag Day. How many flags did you see displayed in our city? Nov. 11 is Veterans Day. Let's make it a real Veterans Day by displaying the American flag in our neighborhood, honoring the veterans who fought wars to protect our freedom and liberty, honoring those who gave their lives—the brave ones who never came home.

So let's start a crusade for the displaying of the American flag here in Big Spring and let the world know that we are proud to be a part of this wonderful country in which we live.

Respectfully yours,
H. L. SHIRLEY
911 Lancaster St.

To the Editor:

I read with interest the letter written by Morris Kressel in the Big Spring Herald Monday June 24, 1968, regarding my stand against communism. I am glad to know that there are other people who are also concerned about this great fight which we are now in against this Godless, satanic movement called communism and let themselves be known. If you realize that this battle is a great conflict between God and Godlessness, between matter and spirit, between Christ and Satan, between heaven and hell, and are willing to fight it with all sincerity and seriousness of life, then neither welcome aboard.

There are two statements in Mr. Kressel's letter which I wish to mention. First he said: "I don't believe democracy is dependent upon a government run by Christians and people who accept the King James version of the Bible as being the word of God."

It might not be dependent, that I wouldn't know until I had studied your "ism." But this one thing I believe and I don't think it can successfully be contradicted by anyone who knows anything about history. The person, or the teachings of the person, who played the far the most influential role in influencing our forefathers who set up our U. S. government and its Constitution was none other than Jesus Christ. This was done by the people who represented Jesus Christ in that day.

Secondly there are at least seven different "isms" in the world, and this majority group represents 70 per cent of the earth's population, which could mean only 10 per cent per "ism" and Christianity 30 per cent. I wish all people who believe in God would go all out in this fight against the deadliest enemy the world has ever been challenged to fight. May God help us.

Green Stamp Center Moving

Zone Manager Perry Wenzel of the Sperry and Hutchinson Co. has announced that the S&H Green Stamp Center, presently located at 905 S. Johnson, will move soon to 903 Johnson.

The center will close down at the present location July 13 and reopen at the new shop Aug. 1.

"We are delighted to report that the increase of S&H Green Stamp savers in this area has made it necessary for us to move to larger quarters," Wenzel stated. "We will completely remodel the building at 903 Johnson, giving Big Spring one of the finest stamp centers anywhere."

The new center will be twice the size of the present one and according to Wayne Foster, S&H district merchandise manager, will enable the local store to increase its inventory in keeping with the company's policy of "having what the customer wants... when she wants it."

Way Opened For New Missile

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The third straight successful launching of an early Wing 2 model of the Minuteman missile has opened the way for the first test firing of what the Air Force terms the "all-up" Wing 2 missile.

The early model propelled an instrumented nose cone more than 4,000 miles last week after darting out of an underground launching pit. The intercontinental range missile tested many components designed for the all-up Wing 2, which is being developed for greater range, payload and accuracy than the operational Wing 1 Minuteman.

A Spaceship Built For Two

John Young, left, and Elliott See, two of the nation's newest astronauts, get acquainted with a Gemini cockpit console newly installed at Ellington Air Force Base, near Houston, by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. At center is a spacecraft control stick. Astronauts and engineers learning the operation of the two-man spaceship will use the device.

House Rights Bill May Be Accepted By Administration

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration apparently is going to accept as the strongest bill it can get any compromise civil rights legislation passed by the House.

And any bill it gets through that body seems likely to be plastered with Republican amendments.

Senator Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Senate Democratic leader, told reporters that "any bill that the House passes will be it."

"For practical purposes," he said, "we cannot expect to get through the Senate any bill stronger than that the House votes."

Just how far the House will follow President Kennedy's recommendations is not yet clear. The heart of his program—enforcement of desegregation in privately owned firms serving the public—ran into hostility in the House Judiciary Committee this week.

This hostility may be duplicated when Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy opens the administration's case Monday before the Senate Commerce Committee. That group will consider a separate bill involving only the accommodations feature of the President's program.

Humphrey predicted committee approval of the measure, possibly in revised form. But he said there is no leadership intention of trying to bring it before the Senate before the House acts, a move which would be certain to touch off a Southern filibuster.

The Minnesota senator made it clear that leaders want to compile a record of hearings in both the Commerce Committee and the Judiciary Committee, which will consider the President's full package measure. They want to be able to counter complaints that the subject hasn't had committee consideration when they seek to bring a House-passed bill before the Senate.

Attorney General Kennedy already has indicated he will accept amendments to the accommodations section of the bill. One of these may be a provision excusing from its enforcement terms firms doing less than $150,000 yearly business.

This exemption was reported to have been listed in the administration's original draft of its measure but was deleted for strategy purposes before it was sent to Congress.

Texas Makes Strides In Racial Integration

By RONNIE THOMPSON
 Associated Press Writer

The racial curtain that has existed for decades between Negroes and whites in Texas' hotels, restaurants, theaters and other public facilities is gradually and calmly being raised.

In many areas where strict segregation was once enforced, a Negro now can get service.

Demonstrations have been few. Violence has been almost nil.

In many cases, desegregation in Texas has been voluntary. A marked increase has been noted since recent uprisings in Southern cities such as Birmingham and Jackson.

Some businessmen have integrated silently, without fanfare. Bilingual committees are working in several cities, seeking a course of action.

Many city councils, chambers of commerce and business associations have disclosed plans to work with mixed committees of Negroes and whites.

NO FIGURES

Figures on desegregation moves in Texas don't exist. Businessmen appear to think that the "less said, the better."

Ten of Texas' largest cities have taken long steps to end racial discrimination. These include:

Houston: Most privately owned public facilities are integrated, including hotels and restaurants. Except for a few sit-ins several years ago and an Emancipation Proclamation Day mass meeting this year, no incidents have been reported.

Dallas: A community relations committee of white and Negro leaders recently reported that every phase of the business community had responded "exclusively by voluntary action." Some hotels and restaurants are integrated. The State Fair Music Hall admits Negroes.

San Antonio: The City Council Committee for Voluntary Desegregation set July 4 as a target date for voluntary desegregation of all private businesses to integrate on a voluntary basis. Integration pledges came from 42 restaurants, 28 motels, the San Antonio Motel and Hotel Association and all public bowling alleys. All downtown lunch counters serve Negroes. All theaters are integrated, although one still maintains a Negro box office.

ALL FACILITIES

Fort Worth: A race relations committee recently said all public facilities would begin serving all customers regardless of race. This included all hotels, restaurants, theaters, department stores and athletic contests. Complete desegregation was timed to coincide with the desegregation of the city's schools.

El Paso: Total integration exists in this city where only about 4,650 of the 310,000 area residents are Negroes. The City Council approved an ordinance a year ago prohibiting any hotel, motel, restaurant or theater from refusing to serve any persons because of race, creed or color.

Austin: The capital has been in the forefront of integration moves several years. Some 42 eating places which make 70 per cent of cafe sales are desegregating. All downtown hotels are integrated. The Chamber of Commerce recently passed a resolution urging all local businesses voluntarily to integrate their facilities.

Corpus Christi: Most downtown coffee shops, theaters and many restaurants are integrated. Negro leaders say bowling alleys, hotels and motels are the major holdouts to total integration. A Negro spokesman predicted hotels, motels and restaurants will fully integrate soon.

NO BIG PROBLEM

Amarillo: The Panhandle city is generally desegregated, although some businessmen maintain a segregated operation. A major problem does not exist because less than 5 per cent of the population is Negro. About 30 Negroes lined up in front of a theater last week to buy tickets and were refused while they were en masse. Later two Negroes were admitted.

Lubbock: Some 72 cafe owners said this month they had integrated. The action was taken, a spokesman said, "to continue racial harmony."

Beaumont: C. O. Herbert, president of the Beaumont chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said last week all race barriers had been broken and residents were complying in all areas with NAACP demands for equal rights. Major hotels are integrated, he said. A spokesman for local theaters, now desegregated, said a significant announcement concerning the policy toward seating Negroes with whites will be made Monday.

Marshall: In deep East Texas where the Negro population is extremely large, has held at least one public meeting recently to discuss race relations.

Waco: Chamber of Commerce is working with restaurant owners on plans for desegregation. Lunch counters integrated without incident some time ago, although hotels and theaters still bar Negroes.

Laredo: Generally is segregated. Hotels accommodate Negroes attending conventions and Negroes in the annual Border Olympics stop at some local hotels.

Gov. John Connally recently said Texas is "extremely fortunate at this point that we have been able to make very substantial progress without the difficulties which other parts of the nation have had."

"We have much to be done, but I think the most successful way to do it is on a voluntary basis."

BEHIND SCENES

He said he had been working behind the scenes in meetings with hotel and restaurant owners in an attempt to drop the racial barrier.

Even if a city announces total desegregation, it does not necessarily follow that the city is completely open to the Negro.

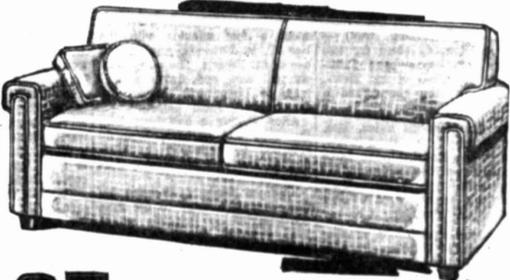

There often are holdouts—businessmen who absolutely refuse to serve a Negro, under any circumstances. Many others maintain a "wait-and-see" attitude.

CHICAGO (AP)— Directors of the Rock Island lines have voted unanimous approval of a plan for merger with the Union Pacific Railroad.

The board said that another merger plan which was proposed for the Rock Island and the Chicago and North Western Railway was considered before the vote was taken on the Union Pacific proposal, but the board "decided that the Union Pacific merger plan was in the better interest of Rock Island stockholders."

Breaking The Barriers For Kennedy

A crowd breaks through barriers to hem in President Kennedy's car as his motorcade moves through Cork, Ireland. Ceremonies in Cork, Ireland's chief port, included the parade, a ceremony making him a freeman, and a reception by city fathers.

President Pays Homage At Sister's Grave In England

EDENBORO, England (AP) — President Kennedy stood for two minutes with bowed head Saturday at the grave of his sister, Kathleen, in a tiny churchyard in the English Midlands.

With him were his sister, Mrs. Jean Smith, his sister-in-law, Princess Lee Radziwill, the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire and K. Lemoine Billings, a New York advertising executive, a close friend of the President.

The group placed four wreaths at the grave of Kathleen—the wife of the Duke of Devonshire, the Marquis of Hartington. She died in a plane crash in Southern France May 14, 1946. Her husband was killed in action in France a few months after their marriage in 1944.

Kennedy flew to Edenborro by helicopter after his transport stopped at Waddington Royal Air Force base en route from Ireland to England for a meeting with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The helicopter landed in a field near the small graveyard. The party walked to the grave atop a tree-lined hill.

This was Kennedy's first visit in 14 years to the grave of his younger sister. Kathleen, who had seen the simple headstone bearing that tribute to Kathleen.

"Joy she gave—joy she has found," the President stood in silence while Mrs. Smith placed three bouquets of red and white roses on the grave.

The flowers had been picked in Ireland before Kennedy's departure. Leaving the grave, Kennedy

U. S. Space Chief Urges More Work

SHAWNEE, Okla. (AP) — The director of Project Mercury told a space symposium Saturday that failure of the United States to expand its space exploration program would halt progress in the "golden age of discovery."

Dr. Robert R. Gilruth, who heads the Manned Space Center at Houston, Tex., said "space is the prelude of technology. Failure to press this spearhead when it is within our power and resources would halt progress in what can and should be a golden age of discovery."

Maj. L. Gordon Cooper Jr. received a round of cheers when he made a brief address to the symposium attended by about 200 persons. Cooper returned to his native Oklahoma Friday and has been a center of festivities here.

Cooper termed his work "very fascinating," adding, "It's been more reward than anything else I could have chosen."

The astronaut said he remembered well the days he sat in the high school auditorium where the symposium was held. "I wish now," Cooper said, "that I'd paid a little more attention to education while I was in high school. Then it wouldn't have been such an uphill climb after I got out." Gilruth urged the continuation of Project Apollo, the United States effort to land a man on the moon within this decade.

"The real value of Project Apollo lies not only in exploring the moon, but also, and more importantly, in acquiring the technological know-how in spacepower that is required of a leading nation in today's dynamic and complex world."

Other men elected as officers of the motor patrol were Col. Haskel Beavers, Lubbock, president, and Lt. Connie Jones, Waco, second vice president.

Smith, who was reared in Snyder, went to Abilene Christian College for one year and then joined the Navy. Upon discharge, he went to work for the Santa Fe Railroad in Snyder.

He moved to Big Spring and began working for the Texas and Pacific Railway on Dec. 16, 1927, as a brakeman. He has been with T&P since then, serving as a conductor from 1942 until 1960 before assuming his present job as a brakeman between Big Spring and El Paso.

Smith has been secretary-treasurer of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen for the past 20 years. He is next to the oldest brakeman in seniority between Fort Worth and El Paso.

Smith was elected a Shriner in 1941 when he became a member of the Alameda Temple in El Paso. He became a charter member of the Santa Fe Temple when it was organized in San Angelo. He is a member of the Masonic Orders, American Legion, and the First Methodist Church.

Smith was charged with mail tampering. He was arrested in Bryan Thursday by secret service agents and was arraigned before a U. S. commissioner in Houston Friday.

Felony theft charges were filed on the examining docket of the U. S. district court in Houston by Commissioner Ralph Fowler. Geiber waived a hearing and was released on a $2,000 personal recognizance bond.

The charges state that Geiber "while officially employed as a clerk at the Bryan post office did remove from the mails a letter mailed at Kingsbury, Texas, to Mrs. Josefa Oldham, 1010 Lee St., Bryan, wherein the sender was shown to be Manuel Oldham, Rt. 1, San Marcos, and opened said letter and converted enclosure and $15 to his own personal use."

Geiber's case will be heard in federal district court in Houston. A trial date has not been set.

Range Prospects Are Improved

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Rains ranging from light showers to downpours have fallen over Texas.

Range prospects improved. Crops were delayed in water-soaked South Plains counties. The rains came too late for early crops in southern and coastal counties.

It would be difficult to find any large areas, said Director John Hutchinson of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, where conditions are excellent.

Moisture in the Panhandle ranges from surplus in Castro and Farmer counties to short in Hutchinson County. Moisture is adequate in most other counties. The wheat harvest goes on as weather permits. Grain sorghums are being replanted. Range and livestock conditions are good.

South Plains farmers still are plagued by rain, hail, blowing dust and cotton diseases. More than half of the area's cotton was planted in June and hot, dry weather is needed. Hail and sand are taking a toll of young cotton. North of Lubbock, soybeans are now being planted on cotton land.

Some cotton is being replanted. Sorghum is doing good. Castor beans, sugar beets, ranges and livestock were in excellent shape. The Rolling Plains area has adequate rain. Cotton planting and replanting is on following heavy rains. Thrrips and fleahoppers are causing damage. Boll weevils have been found in early cotton. Sorghum is heading.

Moisture in North Central Texas ranges from adequate to short. The wheat harvest is about over. Corn, cotton and sorghums look good. Farmers are poisoning cotton, haling hay and plowing. Range and livestock conditions are good.

Plentiful supplies of peas, tomatoes, cucumbers, sweet corn and other vegetables are being harvested in Northeast Texas. About a third of the district is dry. Other counties have adequate moisture. Vegetable prices are good. Record yields per acre of vetch are now being harvested. Livestock and pastures are good. The hay harvest is on.

Light to heavy rains hit far West Texas improving range and livestock conditions. Cotton is in all stages of growth. Alfalfa is about ready for the second cutting. Some heavy lambs are moving to market.

Moisture is adequate in West Central Texas except in the Kerrville and Fredericksburg areas. The grain harvest is about over. Stubble is being plowed. Cotton and sorghum are making good growth. Good hay crops are being harvested. Ranges and livestock are above average in condition except in drought areas.

Moisture is short in the south-east counties of Central Texas. Cotton looks good but boll worms are causing trouble in some blackland counties. Sorghum and corn are maturing and showing the effects of dry weather. Peanuts are in all stages. Fruit and vegetables are being marketed. Livestock conditions are about normal but water in some tanks is low.

Moisture is short in East Texas where pastures and ranges are below average. Livestock have made some gains. No screwworm cases were reported during the week.

Showers in long-dry South Central Texas brightened range prospects and will help some cotton and watermelons but more rain is needed. The marketing of livestock is expected to slow down. The harvest of a light sorghum crop has started.

Rains varying up to five inches fell in the upper Gulf Coast area but more general rains are needed to break the long drought. Cotton is fruiting rapidly since the rains. The sorghum harvest has started. Rice is heading.

Rains covered the entire South Texas area, ranging from 1.50 to 7.00 inches in local areas, but were too late for some crops, especially in the Coastal Bend. The vegetable harvest is about over. Livestock were generally in fair condition.

Big Crowd At Friday Show

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Friday the Western Riding Club played to a capacity crowd. So many entries signed in the calf roping and bulldogging events that half the list had to be scheduled after the show was over.

Stock, which had lived Thursday's opening show, was rough and ready again, so much so that none of the eight bull riding contestants stayed aboard.

Stock, which had lived Thursday's opening show, was rough and ready again, so much so that none of the eight bull riding contestants stayed aboard.

In the open calf roping event, J. L. Sawyer, Garden City, set the pace with a 12.6 catch and tie. Then, to dominate the evening's activities, he bulldogged his steer in five second flat. Louis Rice, Snyder, downed his steer in six seconds.

Boy Jarnigan won the Mitchell County Calf roping event Friday with 13.8 seconds. The roper who ties his two calves in the smallest aggregate time will receive a hand-tooled saddle.

Sidney Johnson won the bareback bronc riding Friday with 167 points and Kenneth Cunningham of Galveston won the saddle bronc event with 168 points. Lynn Wilson negotiated the clover leaf course in 21.4 seconds to win the girls' barrel racing, followed closely by Iris Smith, Lamesa, with 21.8.

Some 135 participants entered the crowd as they just for a cut of the $3,500 prize money. The announcing of John Townsend, Wichita Falls, and antics of the clowns added to the delight of fans.

Crater Covers Thresher Site

ABOARD THE USS FORT SNELLING (AP) — The crew of the bathyscaphe Trieste Saturday photographed what was described as a huge crater just behind a debris area where the submarine Thresher is believed to have sunk last April 10 with 129 aboard.

The Trieste had been assigned on its fourth dive to follow the area of the previously photographed debris to see if it could come upon the nuclear submarine. Capt. Frank A. Andrews, search commander, said the Trieste did not sight the Thresher but instead found the crater which he estimated measured 40-foot deep and 200-foot wide.

Andrews said some scientists have advanced a theory that the submarine could have taken on water and plummeted to the bottom of the ocean at a speed of some 100 knots, burying herself in the ocean floor.

Cooper Gets A Rousing Welcome In Oklahoma

SHAWNEE, Okla. (AP) — Maj. Gordon Cooper, his face a little sunburned, received a rousing Oklahoma "howdy" Saturday when he revisited the land of his youth.

The astronaut cracked a broad grin and waved to an estimated 50,000 persons lining downtown Shawnee streets for the largest and most festive parade auld timers can recall.

Six weeks ago Cooper braved searing heat during re-entry when his 22-orbit flight. He braved Oklahoma's scorching summer sun Saturday. The open convertible gave him a protected view of the city as the mercury neared 95 degrees.

Spectators began pouring into this central Oklahoma City of about 24,000 early Saturday morning. Necks craned to get a glimpse of the start of the parade. As the car carrying Cooper and his wife Trudy approached, a wave of cheers and applause and waving banners swept along Main Street.

Near the end of the parade route Cooper and his family mounted the reviewing stand and watched the floats, clowns, bands and horseback riders.

Four Air Force jets flew low over the reviewing stand in a salute to Cooper. Cooper, his wife and their teenage daughters, Amalia and Janita, stood in the center of the covered stand. Nearby sat Cooper's mother, Hattie Cooper, and his grandmothers, Orena Herd and Cora Cooper.

Following the parade Cooper attended a luncheon at Oklahoma Baptist University, then turned the first spadeful of dirt for a school for mentally retarded children, named "Faith 7" for Cooper's space capsule.

Later the astronaut was guest of honor at a space symposium attended by about 200 persons, mostly high school students.

Dr. Robert R. Gilruth, director of Project Mercury, was principal speaker. He called for a continuation of the United States' space effort—saying a slowdown could cause the nation to miss out in the "golden age of discovery."

Cooper spoke briefly to the audience after receiving a standing ovation. He termed his field "fascinating."

After the symposium, Cooper, his wife and daughters, attended a family picnic at the home of Shawnee friends.

Cooper's busy day began with a breakfast-news conference at 4:00 p. m. Monday. Arrangements are in charge of Kiker and Son Funeral Home.

Survivors, in addition to the parents, include a sister, Marcia Lynn LeMaster, brother, Tom Jr., both of Colorado City; the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simmons, Guyton, Okla.; and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. McEver, Amarillo.

Dan Terry Dies Saturday

LORAIN — Dan H. Terry, 33, died at 8 p. m. Saturday in the Johnson Hospital here following an extended illness.

He was the brother of Dr. Joe Terry, who manages the hospital. Dan was a licensed architect. He worked for an Abilene firm and had drawn up plans for several buildings erected in Big Spring. He was also in business for himself at one time.

At the time he became ill, Dan was doing post-graduate work at the University of Texas. He was unmarried and had resided in Loraine with his brother since last February.

Born in Mineral Wells Jan. 8, 1930, Terry was a long-time resident of Lamesa, where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Terry, still live. A sister, Mrs. Hugh Monroe, Sherman, also survives. He was a member of the Baptist Church.

Loraine arrangements were in charge of Kiker and Son Funeral Home, Colorado City. The body was transferred to the Higginbotham Funeral Home in Lamesa Saturday night.

Arrangements are incomplete, but services will be conducted in the First Baptist Church in Lamesa, probably Monday morning. Burial will take place in the Lamesa Cemetery.

Crater Covers Thresher Site

ABOARD THE USS FORT SNELLING (AP) — The crew of the bathyscaphe Trieste Saturday photographed what was described as a huge crater just behind a debris area where the submarine Thresher is believed to have sunk last April 10 with 129 aboard.

The Trieste had been assigned on its fourth dive to follow the area of the previously photographed debris to see if it could come upon the nuclear submarine. Capt. Frank A. Andrews, search commander, said the Trieste did not sight the Thresher but instead found the crater which he estimated measured 40-foot deep and 200-foot wide.

Andrews said some scientists have advanced a theory that the submarine could have taken on water and plummeted to the bottom of the ocean at a speed of some 100 knots, burying herself in the ocean floor.

Cooper Gets A Rousing Welcome In Oklahoma

SHAWNEE, Okla. (AP) — Maj. Gordon Cooper, his face a little sunburned, received a rousing Oklahoma "howdy" Saturday when he revisited the land of his youth.

The astronaut cracked a broad grin and waved to an estimated 50,000 persons lining downtown Shawnee streets for the largest and most festive parade auld timers can recall.

Six weeks ago Cooper braved searing heat during re-entry when his 22-orbit flight. He braved Oklahoma's scorching summer sun Saturday. The open convertible gave him a protected view of the city as the mercury neared 95 degrees.

Spectators began pouring into this central Oklahoma City of about 24,000 early Saturday morning. Necks craned to get a glimpse of the start of the parade. As the car carrying Cooper and his wife Trudy approached, a wave of cheers and applause and waving banners swept along Main Street.

Near the end of the parade route Cooper and his family mounted the reviewing stand and watched the floats, clowns, bands and horseback riders.

Four Air Force jets flew low over the reviewing stand in a salute to Cooper. Cooper, his wife and their teenage daughters, Amalia and Janita, stood in the center of the covered stand. Nearby sat Cooper's mother, Hattie Cooper, and his grandmothers, Orena Herd and Cora Cooper.

Following the parade Cooper attended a luncheon at Oklahoma Baptist University, then turned the first spadeful of dirt for a school for mentally retarded children, named "Faith 7" for Cooper's space capsule.

Later the astronaut was guest of honor at a space symposium attended by about 200 persons, mostly high school students.

Dr. Robert R. Gilruth, director of Project Mercury, was principal speaker. He called for a continuation of the United States' space effort—saying a slowdown could cause the nation to miss out in the "golden age of discovery."

Cooper spoke briefly to the audience after receiving a standing ovation. He termed his field "fascinating."

After the symposium, Cooper, his wife and daughters, attended a family picnic at the home of Shawnee friends.

Cooper's busy day began with a breakfast-news conference at 4:00 p. m. Monday. Arrangements are in charge of Kiker and Son Funeral Home.

Survivors, in addition to the parents, include a sister, Marcia Lynn LeMaster, brother, Tom Jr., both of Colorado City; the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simmons, Guyton, Okla.; and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. McEver, Amarillo.

He has also set down a docket of 25 criminal cases for trial July 22. He plans to sound this docket Monday afternoon and find out just how many of the cases will be ready for trial when the jury reports.

Wayne Burns, county attorney, said that while he has not had time to go over all of the appeals which are pending, he has checked some of the files.

Crops, Pastures Flourish After Heavy Rains

Crops and pastures are flourishing in Howard County, according to Lovell Kuykendall, assistant county agent.

The younger cotton in particular, he said, is doing exceptionally well. The rains of last week did some slight damage to crops in some areas but the extent of damage was not large.

The rains, he said, have not been harmful — on the contrary they are proving beneficial. Pastures, the assistant agent said, are in the best shape they have been in many years.

Some farmers report that weeds are more abundant in cotton this year than usual but so far no insect problems of importance has developed.

The extremely warm days of the past week have been helpful to growing cotton and the fields present the most flourishing look they have offered in a long time.

Grain fields are also doing well, he added.

Meet Cancelled

The retail committee meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, originally set for Tuesday, has been cancelled, according to Adolph Swartz, chairman. It will be called at a later date, he said.

Men's Wear of Character

Russia Ousts Three Red China Envoys

MOSCOW (AP) — Red China brought its ideological feud with the Soviet Union to the door of the Kremlin Saturday. It announced to surprised Western diplomats that three Chinese embassy officials have been declared unwelcome in the Soviet Union for distributing a letter assailing Premier Khrushchev's cold war policy.

Peking was apparently ready to play by diplomatic rules and recall the officials. But diplomatic sources said the Chinese were preparing to defy a Kremlin ban on the letter and begin a new distribution in Moscow.

The sources reported the Chinese had flown in large batches of English language copies of the letter in handsomely printed pamphlet form. The letter was issued by the Chinese Communist party and the Kremlin had taken the unusual step of announcing it would not be published in Moscow.

"UNREASONABLE"

A statement defiantly released in Moscow by Peking's official New China news agency called the Kremlin action against the officials unreasonable.

Quoting Red China's foreign ministry, it demanded to know if the Russians were trying to undermine Chinese-Soviet unity almost on the eve of talks here to discuss ideological differences between Moscow and Peking.

Western diplomats said the Soviet action may prompt the Chinese to boycott the talks scheduled to open July 5.

"The Chinese could have kept the matter quiet," said one Western diplomat. "It's beginning to look as if they don't really want to come here next month."

But there were indications the Russians, too, may want out of the talks.

The Soviet Communist party organ, Pravda, Saturday printed a sharp speech by Khrushchev, accusing the Chinese of using a "racial approach" on ideological matters.

This was a reference to the fact that Chinese have not hesitated to use their skin color to win friends in such places as Africa and Southeast Asia.

NO COMMENT

But there was no comment from the Soviet foreign ministry on the Red Chinese disclosure that the Russians had demanded the recall of three Chinese embassy staff members in Moscow, a Chinese post graduate student and a Chinese Institute official. The Kremlin note was sent to the Chinese embassy Thursday, the Chinese news agency said.

The Kremlin announced June 18 it would not publish the letter in the Soviet Union.

But this did not inhibit the Chinese. Members of their embassy freely distributed it to other embassies in Moscow and to foreign newsmen.

Chinese students at Moscow University passed it around to fellow students.

The Chinese apparently have been distributing the letter in the Communist countries of Eastern Europe. In East Germany, now host to Khrushchev, their actions brought an angry protest from the East German government. Portions of the letter were published in Romania, which has shown signs of restiveness.

STRONG POINT

One of the strongest points in the Chinese letter is the statement that it is "sheer illusion" to believe that general disarmament is possible so long as Western "imperialists" are allowed to function.

This is a direct attack on one of Khrushchev's pet propaganda themes. He claims that eventually communism will triumph, even though there is peaceful coexistence with the West.

The Chinese news agency quoted a Peking foreign ministry spokesman as saying the Soviet action was "unreasonable and its excuse untenable."

"It is normal and unimpeachable for the Chinese embassy and Chinese personnel in the Soviet Union to distribute official documents of the Central Committee of the Communist party of China," the statement said.

"The Soviet establishments and personnel in China have always been doing the same and no objection has ever been raised by the Chinese government."

"What justification has the Soviet government to lodge a protest with the Chinese embassy in Moscow in this connection?"

"What justification has it to demand that the Chinese government recall the five Chinese?"

"One is fully justified to ask this. In taking this step, which is unprecedented in the history of the relations between the two socialist countries of China and the Soviet Union, on the eve of the talks between the Chinese and Soviet parties, whether or not the Soviet government is deliberately trying to undermine Chinese-Soviet unity, vitiate the relations between the two states and create obstacles to the talks between the Chinese and Soviet parties."

Chained Boy Is Found

EL PASO (AP) — A priest found a boy naked and chained to a washing machine Friday. Police were seeking Mrs. Carolina Valenzuela, 40, identified as his godmother.

The boy, Antonio Valenzuela, 9, told police he had been beaten and left at home in chains for years.

"She would leave me some water but I could not reach it as my hands were always tied up," the boy said. "I don't know why she beat me up all the time."

"She has been hitting me with the end of a fly swatter and has been tying me up in chains and locks."

Police located the boy's father, Ignacio Fax, who said the boy was turned over to Mrs. Valenzuela when he was about six months old.

Fax said he and his wife had marital troubles after Antonio was born and the boy was left with Mrs. Valenzuela, a waitress, and her husband.

"After we settled our differences, we decided to leave Antonio with the Valenzuelas as they were crazy about him," Fax told police. "Also, at that time we have seven other children."

Antonio said his last beating was Friday morning after Mrs. Valenzuela discovered he had put coffee grounds in the sink.

"I make coffee for my mother almost every morning," the boy said.

Lamesan Hurt In Fatal Wreck

HOBBS, N.M. (AP) — A rear-end collision involving a car and a pickup truck killed a Wichita, Kan., man Saturday and injured five others, one critically.

State police said the dead man, John Aaron, 39, was riding in the car which hit the pickup from behind. The car driver, Frankie Davis, 33, of Wichita, suffered a crushed chest and was in critical condition.

The vehicles met 4.2 miles north of Hobbs on State 48.

Also in the car and injured was Ray Rising, 54, of Wichita. The pickup carried Adolph Garza, 29, of Hobbs; Adam Granger, 21, of Lovington; and Silverter Torres, 29, of Lamesa, Tex.

Capable Connie

Connie Catlin, 19, of Eyota, Minn., is a capable young lady when it comes to handling a well-drilling rig. Working for her father, Casey Catlin, she has run well-drilling rigs during the summers since she was a high school freshman. She expects to start college at the University of Minnesota in Duluth next fall. She got into the unusual occupation, Connie says, "because there wasn't a boy born first in our family." She can handle the whole job, from starting to the final gush of water.

Appeals Court Orders New Trial For McClelland

AUSTIN (AP) — The Court of Criminal Appeals ordered a new trial Saturday for former Houston Probate Judge Clem McClelland, charged with conversion of an estate.

McClelland was convicted in Belton Nov. 17, 1962, of conversion of $10,000 from the Clara Currie estate and sentenced to 10 years. Also indicted in the alleged conversion was Houston lawyer Richard Putney.

The appeals court said that "Under the facts, appellant (McClelland) was not shown to be a principal to the crime of conversion of the estate, but was shown to be merely an accomplice thereto."

"In this state, an accomplice cannot legally be convicted of a felony as a principal."

McClelland is under indictment on several other allegations, including unlawful appropriation, conversion, felony theft and perjury. The charges grew out of a June, 1962, court of inquiry into dealings of his court.

McClelland, 45, was appointed the state's first full-time probate judge in 1949 and was elected twice without opposition. He agreed to suspension last year after he was indicted.

Powell, Hohertz Both Ousted From Tourney

"I'm happy to win any match." That's about all a beaming Jack Cook could say late Saturday afternoon after he had suddenly turned giant killer and eliminated Sam Powell, 4 and 3, from any chance of repeating as champion of the annual Fourth of July Country Club Tournament.

On a day when challengers to the favorites played like champs, Powell's defeat wasn't the only surprise. Weldon Bryant, listed as a co-favorite for the match play tournament, fell to Gil Jones, 1 up in 19. Young Eddie Don Harris was the only pre-tourney pick who advanced unscathed into the second round of play as he shot a consistent even par to defeat Harold Hall, 3 and 2.

Powell and Harris had shared medalist honors, each with a 74. Cook, who blasted home birdies on the long second and short seventh holes, had to settle for bogies on the third, fifth, and eighth greens as he posted a 37 for the round nine, good enough to give him a five up lead over Powell.

In shooting a 72 over the 18 holes, Cook never three-putted a green as he took only an amazing 27 taps to tour the course.

"Powell wasn't playing up to his capability," Cook said as he relaxed afterwards over a game of dominoes. "It would have been a lot tighter if he'd have been playing his usual game."

In other matches, W. E. Ramsey won the right to face Cook by defeating last year's finalist, Daryl Hohertz, 1 up; J. W. McClelland turned back Bill Edwards, 1 up; Jack Wallace staged a mild upset in nudging Obie Bristow, 1 up; youthful Jody Thompson shocked Earl Reynolds, 3 and 2; and Sam Thurman lost to Lester Morton, 1 up on the 20th hole.

McClelland plays Wallace, Harris opposes Thompson and Morton tries Jones in quarterfinal tests today. The first of the championship flight players is due to leave the first tee around 12:30 or 1 p.m. today.

Semifinal and final matches will be unrepeatable Thursday.

Ramsey also made the rounds in 72 strokes. Wallace enjoyed better luck than any of the other players. He finished with an even par 71.

Harris was even through 15 in his romp over Hall. McClelland had a medal score of 76 Saturday while Jones toured the layout in 75.

Harris and Thompson are favored to make it to Thursday afternoon finals.

Reading The Green

Lester Morton bends to read a green at the Big Spring Country Club as Sam Thurnan (left) and Gil Jones lend assistance. The three are playing in the annual Fourth of July Tournament. Quarterfinals in the meet will be played today.

Cardinals Win 2-1 Thriller Over Houston

HOUSTON (AP)—Ernie Broglio and rookie reliever Ron Taylor pitched St. Louis' National League leading Cardinals to their fourth straight victory Saturday night, a 2-1 decision over Houston.

Dick Groat's single in the sixth inning scored Bill White with the winning run as the Cards made it 7-for-7 against the Colts this season.

Broglio, 9-3, yielded six hits before giving way to Taylor after a leadoff walk to Taylor after the eighth, and Taylor held the Colts hitless the rest of the way.

St. Louis managed just four hits.

Roden Back Safely

A nifty motion by Lefty James Wyatt kept local players hopping back to first base in Saturday's American Legion baseball game here between Big Spring and Lamesa. Lamesa Hands Locals Second Legion Loss

Lamesa all but clinched the District 19 divisional baseball crown in American Legion play by defeating Big Spring, 8-5, behind the nifty pitching of Lefty Jimmy Wyatt here Saturday afternoon.

Lamesa has yet to suffer a defeat in league competition. Big Spring has now lost twice, both times to Lamesa, and needs a win over Brownfield in Brownfield Tuesday night to clinch a spot in the district playoffs.

"The first and second place teams in each division of the district become qualified to take part in the tournament, which will take place in Littlefield."

Big Spring now stands 3-2 in the race.

Wyatt surrendered ten hits to the locals but kept them well scattered. One was a first inning home run by George Ryan, which came with the sacks deserted. Ryan's blast tied the score.

The visitors struck for two runs in the fourth. Charles Burleson and Nolan Glasson crossing the plate. The Lamesas never trailed after that.

Big Spring used three pitchers but one of them, Pat Reilly, faced only one batter. Freddie Mears started on the hill for Big Spring and worked until the fifth, when Reilly took over. Roy Newlin ashed up for the resident nine.

The three gave up a total of nine hits, Burleson accounting for three of them. Glasson connected safely twice.

For Big Spring, Bill Andrews, Ryan and Rickey Wisener each drove in two hits. Ryan had a double in addition to his circuit play while Jack Roden connected for a sixth inning triple driving in a run.

The Big Spring nine scored once in the seventh inning and had two runners aboard when Wyatt fanned Neil Robinson to end the game.

Feelings ran high late in the contest but cooler heads prevailed and trouble was averted.

Dodgers Hang On In Brave Battle

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers, trailing by four runs after six innings, finally caught up in the ninth on a run-scoring single by Jim Gilliam, and went into extra innings in a 5-5 tie with Milwaukee Saturday night.

The Bengals come into today's contest boasting of an 11-6 record — having won three out of the last four games — which they played against the Alpine Internationals. Two weeks ago the Tigers won the first game in Alpine 13-8 only to lose the nightcap 9-2. Last Sunday at home they swept both ends of a double-bill, 9-6 and 10-2.

The probable starting lineup for the Bengals will be: Albert Mendoza, center field; Jimmy Fierro, shortstop; Herbert Perez, second base; Billy Weatherall, first base; Andy Gamboa, third base; Robert Hammock, left field; Tom Arista, right field; and Sonny Dutchover, catcher.

Henry Saizar is the probable starter on the mound in the first game, while Tony Fierro or Santiago Lopez will pitch the second contest.

Pauly Triumphs In Oregon Meet

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP)—Steve Pauly of Oregon State University, compiling his personal high won the 1963 National AAU Decathlon Championship Saturday.

The 6-foot, 4-inch, 190-pound senior scored 7,852 points. His previous best was 7,226 points at last year's national meet when he finished third.

Dick Emberger of the Camp Pendleton Magpies closed with a 4:19.2 effort in the 1,500-meter run to edge Dave Edstrom for second place by three points.

Nelsen Passes Tip Easterners, 22-21

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Bill Nelsen, quarterback of the 1962 national collegiate champs from Southern California, threw two touchdown passes to Hugh Campbell Saturday night as the West shaded the favored East 22-21 in the All America football game of last year's college stars.

Campbell, the former Washington State end who led the nation in receptions for three years and set records, was voted the most valuable player of the game co-sponsored by the American Football Coaches Association and the Buffalo Evening News.

The 6-foot-1, 185-pound athlete from Saratoga, Calif., who will play pro ball with the San Francisco 49ers, barely shaded quarterback Nelsen with 11 votes to 10.

Trailing 13-14 going into the final period, the East took the lead when Daryl Lamonica of Notre Dame connected with Willie Richardson of Jackson, Miss. State on a 28-yard touchdown pass.

Back came the West with Nelsen hitting Campbell from seven yards out for the touchdown that tied the score. Ray Mansfield of Washington then kicked the conversion that gave the West the victory.

In the final analysis it was a two-point conversion in the first period, after Ronnie Goodwin of Baylor scored the first West touchdown on a two-yard run, that meant the difference. Nelsen passed to Conrad Hitchler for the big two-pointer.

Bases-Loaded Walk Gives Pirates Win Over Mets

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A bases-loaded walk to Bob Bailey forced in the winning run as the Pittsburgh Pirates scored twice in the last of the ninth inning for a 4-3 victory over the New York Mets Saturday night.

Trailing 3-0 after three innings, the Pirates got to Met starter Carl Willey for two runs in the sixth, then mounted their winning rally against rookie reliever Larry Bearnarth in the ninth.

Dick Schofield opened it with a single and after a sacrifice, Roberto Clemente beat out an infield hopper and Jerry Lynch walked, loading the bases. The tying run came across as Smoky Burgess grounded out, and then Bailey walked.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Chico Vejar, the former welterweight boxer who fought out of Stamford, Conn., has been sworn in as a ring referee in New York. Sunny Edwards, the ex-Big Springer, forwards word that he'll stage his Cree Meadows Invitational Golf Tournament in Ruidoso, N.M. Aug. 5-6-7-8. Winners will be determined in all flights by matched play. The field will be limited to the first 160 players to enter. All flights below the fifth flight will be nine-hole matches up to the final (which will be over 18 holes). Entry fee will be $20. Those interested in playing can write Sunny through P.O. Box 380, Ruidoso, or by telephoning him at CL 7-4985. Bill Craig of Colorado City is the defending titlist in the meet. Thirty years ago this month, Barney Ross defeated Tony Canzoneri in a furious ten-round fight in Chicago to win the world's lightweight championship. Tommy Hightower, who once played football for Spur High School, recently was named head grid mentor at Las Alamos, N.M. A J. Williams, the San Angelo sprinter who had thought about enrolling at HJCC, has accepted a McMurry College scholarship instead. Congressional Country Club of Washington, D.C., site of the National Open next June 19-21, will be the longest golf course in the 64-year history of the USGA. Its projected playing yardage now is 7,042 yards and the distance may be increased. Over 2,000 people have taken tours through baseball's Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N.Y. Leonard Shipley, one of the footballers coach A.G. Langford is counting on for next fall, broke a small bone in one foot recently but Leonard will probably be ready when the Tornados face Big Spring here the night of Sept. 13. Neil Moran, the ex-Big Springer coaching aide, is being nominated for Texas High School track coach of the year for the fine work he did with the Nederland team the past spring. Moran served as an assistant to Bo Christian until just before the district meet, then took over when Bo resigned to enter private business. Moran's mile relay team cut four seconds off its time between the regional and state meet.

Snyder Single Wins Decision For Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP)—Russ Snyder, playing the unfamiliar hero's role two days in a row, singled home Bob Saverino with the winning run in the eighth inning as the Baltimore Orioles edged the Kansas City Athletics 3-2 Saturday.

Saverino, an eighth-inning replacement in the field for ailing Luis Aparicio, singled with two out off losing pitcher Moe Drabowsky and stole second.

Then Snyder, whose ninth-inning homer won Friday night's game, singled to right center to win the game for Milt Pappas.

Jim Gentile scored the first two Orioles runs. He hit his 15th homer in the second inning, and in the seventh he doubled and scored on a single by Brooks Robinson.

BUT HE LIKES THE LIFE Stadium Caretaker Has Extended Working Day

By PAT WASHBURN
W. R. Peel is a fighter—but not necessarily a two-fisted type.

He fights the elements—wind, rain, sand, tumbleweeds, goat heads. And he looks like it, too—suntanned, weather-beaten, wind-blown-dry gray flat-top, sweat stained work hat, dust covered shoes and work pants, big slug of tobacco.

As a member of a small minority of Americans who still make their entire living outdoors, cool or hot, he's happy.

"I like outdoor jobs—I was raised on a farm and that makes a difference I used to have an indoor job (construction) but I didn't like it." Now that's Peel. No words wasted, said in a West Texas drawl, straight to the point.

Peel is invaluable. The high school and junior college students appreciate him even if they don't think about it. He's the maintenance man at Memorial Stadium.

It's a big job. "I have to water the grass, keep the grounds clear of weeds, keep up the buildings, get the stadium in shape for games and track meets," he'll tell you.

If you're already saying you wouldn't want his job, don't worry—he wouldn't trade with you. About the time most people are enjoying their first cup of coffee, Mr. Peel is already working. Seven in the morning until 5 p.m.—nine hours a day with an hour off for lunch. Five days a week in the summer and five and a half in the winter.

Footbal means Saturday morning clean-up. He has some help.

"All the janitors from the high school come out here and clean it up," he says smiling. "I clean the ticket booths, pressboxes, concession stands, and locker rooms." He finishes at noon.

Peel is a football fan, despite the work. "I'm glad to see football seasons over and yet I'm glad to see them come," he'll tell you. "I always watch the games."

Hundreds of man-hours go behind every playing minute. Mr. Peel likes to see people enjoying themselves because of him—he likes to make people happy.

He's had his job since 1957—he'll probably have it from now on. "It gets pretty hot out here," he remarks occasionally, but he doesn't care—he's having fun.

Myriad chores for W. R. Peel

Teen-Ager Decisions Aussie Star In Wimbledon Tourney

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Billie Jean Moffitt, the teenaged giant-killer of English tennis, wrenched the hopes of another Australian star at storied Wimbledon Saturday by rallying for a razor-thin victory over Lesley Turner.

The cliff-hanger triumph moved the bespectacled 19-year-old coed from Long Beach, Calif., into the quarter-finals of the Wimbledon Lawn Tennis Championship along with Floridian Frank Froehling who gained the men's round of eight with another come-from-behind win over Britain's young Roger Taylor.

Unseeded Billy Jean, who is ranked third in the U.S., eliminated the second-seeded Aussie 4-6, 6-4, 7-5.

Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla. and Trinity U. of San Antonio, Texas, as seeded fifth, won his round of eight with a 6-3, 6-4, 7-6, 6-3 victory over Lesley Turner.

McKinley of St. Louis, in the quarter-finals with his rambling, interrupted, three hour conquest of Taylor by 2-6, 6-4, 7-6, 6-2, 15-12.

Darlene Hard, the No. 1 American from Long Beach, Calif., and Mrs. Donna Floyd Fales, No. 3 of New York, also reached the quarter-finals, Miss Hard, downed towering Christine Truman of Britain 6-3, 3-6, 8-6, and Mrs. Fales tumbled Mrs. Lorna Cawthorne of Britain 6-0, 6-4.

In another upset, Bobby Wilson, Britain's unpredictable star, eliminated fifth-seeded Martin Mulligan of Australia, last year's losing finalist, 6-4, 6-1, 9-7. Wilson ranked second in Britain, will meet McKinley next week.

Napier Wants To Be Astronomer

Jim Napier, the Fort Worth discus thrower who'll enroll at HJCC this fall, wants to study astronomy in college. He may transfer to the University of Arizona after completing his studies here.

The Texas Western College baseball team executed 23 double plays in 22 games the past season, while fielding its first diamond team in modern history. Bill Fereem, starter for the recent Big Spring Golf Open, formerly ran a sporting goods store in Lubbock.

He now has a trophy shop in Midland. Bill is very much in demand as a golf starter all over the area. Al Rolan isn't lefty regarded as a fight promoter but his ventures have already topped $12 million in receipts. TV hoity included and he could easily become the all-time champ with the $6 million the July 22 bout between Floyd Patterson and Sonny Liston is to bring in. The late Mike Jacobs promoted fights which grossed a total of $14.8 million—a figure that currently holds the record.

Those close to the scene say coach Jack Thomas got a bum rap at Hardin-Simmons. Thomas was fired recently for doing just what he was hired to do. Some of the H-SU faculty played major roles in the upheaval. Thomas is still in Abilene, is undecided whether to take a proffered high school coaching job or go into business. Harold Blackburn, formerly at Wink, is the new baseball coach at Brownfield and will serve as line coach in football.

The down-trodden Houston Colts may have the costliest team in all of baseball. The management paid $4 million just to stock the club with National League leftovers and has since invested heavily in young talent. The Colts are handicapped for three reasons: (1) they didn't have baseball history behind them as did the Braves, Giants and Dodgers when they moved; (2) they don't have a natural rival in the league; and (3) they don't have a permanent home field.

It Never Gets Too Hot For Fish To Take Bait

By BERNIE SMITH DALLAS (AP) — People drive past the lakes all summer, think- ing it is too hot to fish. Can fish go from spring until fall without feeding? One day some friends, Ed and Helen Rouse, called and asked if we wanted to fish that night. "Sure," "OK. Bring your lantern and we'll see you under the bridge."

Someone asked, and a Sol- unar believer replied, "twelve thirty." Occasionally an angler would catch a stray but generally the crappie were conspicuous by their absence. Radios were playing and lures were being eaten. Lots of small talk was going on, just like when people used to sit on their front porches and talk, years ago.

sure were glad we had a long stout rope tied to the bow, other- wise we would have been swamp- ed. And we were lucky the storm hit us head on. The last statement was the tip- off. I asked weather man John Zimmerman if squalls generally hit from a westerly direction. "Yes," he said. "In the spring they almost always hit from the west-northwest. In the summer they hit mostly from north-north- west, and in the winter mostly from the west."

BUILDING A ROAD OVER A LAKE
Major structure on west end of IS 20 bypass taking shape

ANCIENT LANDMARK TO BE REPLACED
Gregg Street overpass contract slated for July letting

Construction On New Bypass Is About One-Third Complete

Construction work on the loop bypass on IS 20 north of town is moving ahead on schedule, according to Joe Smoot, resident engineer.

He said Friday that the east leg, which begins west of FM 700 intersection on IS 20 and extends north and west to a point near the US 87 intersection, and the west leg, beginning on US 87 and going west to rejoin IS 20 near Webb AFB, are both 32 per cent complete and that the contractors are making exceptional speed.

The west leg is being built by Parker and Parker and E. M. Bailey, of Odessa and Abilene. The east segment is being constructed by M. C. Winter of Johnson City. Winter started work a few days ahead of Parker and Parker but Smoot estimated that at the present date both are about at the same stage of completion.

The east end of the loop will involve expenditure of $2,135,199. The contract for the west end is for $2,692,070.

One of the major features on the west leg is the overpass being constructed across the salt lake a short distance northeast of the point where the road rejoins IS 20. There is a major structure on the east end just west of the stockpens. Another is at SH 350 and a third at US 87.

Parker and Parker also have the contract for rebuilding 50 mile on Third and Fourth streets from Tulane westward to Union Street. This $217,334 job is now about 85 per cent complete, Smoot said.

Smoot said that plans call for the start of another $750,000 road project in the city before the summer is over. This will be the new overpass on Gregg Street, for which a contract will be let in July.

Smoot added that the state is ready to award a contract for the north leg of FM 700. "All we are waiting for," he said, "is for the county commissioners to get right of way." This road would extend from the present intersection of FM 700 and IS 20 northward to SH 350.

Demonstrators Invade British Germ War Center

LONDON (AP)—Demonstrators swarmed into the British government's closely guarded germ warfare center on Salisbury Plain Saturday despite stern warnings to keep out.

About 20 of the several hundred demonstrators actually penetrated the Porton center's outer perimeter by climbing wire fences. Army officers said they risked contamination.

Troops in field cars were rushed to the fences to head them off. About 17 were arrested. "They have chosen a dangerous spot to try to get in," an officer said. "This is one of the places where testing of gases has been carried out and it is an extremely risky thing to do."

The demonstrators turned up in buses after the Committee of 100 against Tyranny had announced its decision to invade the area.

About 1,200 troops, without arms, were on hand to receive them. They stood guard in pouring rain round the 22-mile circumference of the restricted area, which is headquarters of British microbiological research and chemical defense.

Army helicopters dived overhead. A leader addressed the demonstrators with the words: "Hello, potential victims," before they went into action. He said many were increasingly aware of what was going on at Porton and the government had a great deal to be ashamed of.

The Committee of 100 said its demonstration was to draw public attention to "the frightening work, a crime against humanity," being carried out at the Porton establishment.

Protests Off Course, Says Negro Student

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—Desegregation demonstrations have gotten off course, says the first male Negro to enroll at the University of Alabama.

The student, James A. Hood, 20, of East Gadsden, Ala., said protest movements have resulted in an unnecessary mess, adding: "I think it has become a matter of excitement rather than conviction for most Negroes."

In a copyright guest editorial published by the Crimson-White, university student newspaper, Hood said education would solve the problem of getting first-class citizenship for Negroes.

He wrote: "Why doesn't the Negro race wake up and go about this thing in a more intelligent way?"

"There must be some more positive way of achieving first-class citizenship, a way without violence or protests."

"The protest movement should be centered around educational objectives rather than immediate social and economic objectives such as sit-ins, lie-ins and swim-ins, etc."

Hood and another Negro, Vivian Malone, 20, of Mobile, Ala., were admitted to the university June 11.

Gun Wound Fatal

Just 15 minutes of vigorous activity

If your child's school offered a daily physical education period—including at least 15 minutes of vigorous activity—the physical fitness of our nation's youth could be improved.

It's a fact that nearly one-third of our children lack the strength and endurance to pass simple physical achievement tests! Your child could be among them.

That's why you should know as much about your school's physical education program as you know about its academic program. Precisely how much time is given to physical education daily? Precisely what kind of activity does it include?

For information about a program that any school can carry out—and that has made a vast improvement in the fitness of many youngsters—write to the President's Council on Physical Fitness, Washington 25, D.C.

New Overpass Bids Slated For July 21

Texas State Highway Commission is scheduled to open bids July 21 for the Gregg Street overpass on US 87.

Joe Smoot, resident engineer for the highway department, has been advised the bids will be considered at the July letting. He has been informed the overpass will be built under the supervision of Ben Wilkinson, Colorado City. Wilkinson is supervising engineer for the Texas Highway Department.

The overpass will replace the present structure which creates a bottleneck on the highway traffic flow north and south on US 87. The commission has earmarked $750,000 for the job.

Cooks' School To Be Sought

The manpower development advisory committee Friday gave the green light to plans for a cooks school.

Possibilities of a course somewhat along the lines of the auto mechanics class at Howard County Junior College will be explored. Restaurant operators who are on the committee thought this might be the better approach, although they left the door open to a combination later with an on-the-job training program.

A survey of 37 local eating establishments show that they employ 181 cooks, could use an additional 62 within the next 12 months. Two years from now the total number of cooks and chefs needed here will be 284, they estimated.

These figures do not take into consideration turnover in personnel. On the basis of past experience, operators estimated that turnover will create a demand for 127 cooks and chefs within a year, 225 within two years. Currently, there are 28 unfilled vacancies in the field.

On the basis of this, the committee concluded that there is a need for training. Leon Kinney, Texas Employment Commission manager, said he believed there is a sufficient number of unemployed or underemployed people who could and would qualify for the course.

Biggest "savings book" in the world

Keeping the Free World free is a mighty expensive proposition.

And our enemies are doing everything they can to make it so. They've said they expect to "bury us" economically.

They see us as soft, self-satisfied, lazy. They don't think we're prepared to make any sacrifices for freedom.

But there's a "special book" in the U.S. Treasury Department that says they're wrong about that as they are about a lot of other things.

It's a symbolic "freedom book" which shows that tens of millions of American families have invested 46 billions of dollars in their country in the form of U.S. Savings Bonds. Dollars the government uses to keep our economy strong. To help keep the Free World free.

This is one way you can meet the challenge to Americans. And there's no need to feel funny about collecting good interest on Savings Bonds. The financial strength of your family is part of the strength of the nation.

So help yourself as you help your country, by regular purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds... through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or from any bank.

- Quick facts about U. S. Savings Bonds
- You get $4 for every $3 at maturity
 - Your Bonds are replaced free if stolen, lost or destroyed

OIL PRODUCTION STEPS UP PACE

Martin County Prospers

By JOE BEYER

Oil had been in West Texas for many years, but Martin County, with prolific production on all sides, was a snake-bitten land. It was 1950 before the first production came to the county.

On June 13, 1950, Texaco completed its No. 1 State as the only well ever to produce in the Block 7, Ellenburger field for 14 barrels of oil and 96 per cent water pumping from perforations between 13,275-300 feet. This was only a taste of what was to come. When that formation played out after producing only 1,250 barrels, the well was recompleted in the Devonian, through perforations between 12,250-295 feet. That zone flowed 391 barrels of oil on a 10-64-inch choke and to date has produced nearly a million barrels of oil.

NEXT PLAY

The next big play in the county came the following year when Pan American Production Co. brought in the No. 1 F. D. Breedlove for a spectacular 2,341 barrels of oil flowing through a 10-64-inch choke from perforations between 12,078-118 feet.

It looked like big production had come to Martin County. But six years later the county oil men still showed an expanse of white with production showing only the four corners in the northwest was the Breedlove and Block 7 production. The northeast had scattered Spraberry and deeper production.

REMEMBERS

"I remember it very well," said W. A. Kaderli, an abstractor who has lived in the area since just after the turn of the century. It was Oct. 8, 1958, that G. M. McGarr came into his office and said he wanted to drill a well in section 10, block 36, 4 south.

COMPARATIVE ROLLS

Year	Oil Roll	Total Valuation
1962	$5,955,740	$11,801,745
1961	3,948,270	9,778,060
1960	3,125,155	8,889,870
1959	2,535,515	8,305,206
1958	1,803,975	7,489,055
1957	1,655,352	7,179,680

THAT ONE'S MINE
W. A. Kaderli spots a well on his land

In 1958 he acquired 2,000 acres at $5 an acre. The price shot up immediately afterward as the leasing line was fanned. It rose to $10, then to $12.50 an acre. Some even got as high as $15 an acre. Very little of the county is not leased at this time. Coming on the heels of the flurry of leasing, which occurred after the Breedlove was discovered, the county was quickly leased.

INTEREST STIMULATED
Interest in the area around Stanton had been stimulated briefly during 1949 when a well was drilled in the Glass (Spraberry) field area northeast of the city, but that well had to be plugged and abandoned because the operators then did not know how to get oil from the Spraberry formation. The well was ruined by acidizing, Kaderli said. The acid treatment brought in too much water. Sand fracing on the adjacent well drilled later has produced an oiler, however.

on small acreage spacing, will never pay out. By drilling on 160-acre spacing and waterflooding the formation, operators hope to coax enough of the oil out of the thick pay section to make the investment pay off.

Most of the wells drop off to about one-fourth of original production and nearly all are put on pump immediately. Most are perforated for around 200 barrels a day.

"I have a good well on my place. It held up about a year before it dropped off. They usually fall off after a few months," Kaderli said.

WOLFCAMP

Another possibility which has not been fully explored is that of production from the Wolfcamp, a deeper pay zone which was tapped southeast of Stanton for 186.30 barrels of oil in February, 1961. Texas National finished the No. 1 Jim Tom through perforations between 9,220-255 feet. Only one other well, an offset to the No. 1 Tom, has been drilled in the area. Otherwise, little effort has been made to drill below the Spraberry. Stanton has been affected little by the drilling, except that it brought in new money. There have been no new firms established and few new residents. Most of the drilling companies have crews headquartered in Midland or Odessa and the men commute.

"Humble set up a camp here back about 1949-50 when it was first learned that the Spraberry Trend was here," Kaderli said. "The company bought about 30 acres of land, but when it learned the Spraberry was so difficult to produce, the camp was moved out about a year later."

INDEX

A good index of the prosperity is shown by bank deposits. In 1957 they stood at $4,225,956. The next year they had jumped by more than 30 per cent to $5,683,933. They have since gone to well over $6 million, according to figures provided by Jim Tom, president of the First National Bank in Stanton.

Texaco Has Strike In Strawn Pay

Texaco Inc. completed No. 229-A-NCT-1 J. E. Mabey as a Strawn discovery on the east side of the Lowe field in Southeast Andrews County to open the fourth producing horizon for the area.

From perforations at 10,560-576 feet, the Strawn flowed 120 barrels of 41-gravity oil in 24 hours through a 20-64-inch choke, with gas-oil ratio of 2,464:1, and flowing tubing pressure of 350 pounds. That pay had been treated with 4,000 gallons of acid.

The strike is 22 miles southeast of Andrews, 2,000 feet from north and 560 feet from west lines of section 30, block 40, T-2-N, G&MMB&A survey.

Earlier it had completed from the Fusselman and the Ellenburger to extend production from both those formations 1/2 mile east. The Dean sand is the fourth pay section in the Lowe area.

Locations for two Pennsylvanian wildcats have been spotted in Eddy County. N. M. Ralph Lowe of Midland No. 1 Hanson-Federal, eight miles north of Carlsbad is contracted to 11,400 feet. The drill-site is 660 feet from south and 1,900 feet from west lines of section 34-20s-27s.

The Superior Oil Co. No. 1 Cone Butte Unit, 20 miles west and slightly south of Carlsbad is projected to 11,100 feet. It is 440 feet from north and west lines of section 19-22s-24e and six miles southwest of the Indian Basin (Ciscon Canyon and Morrow) gas-distillate field.

Completion Try Set For Re-Entry

E. R. Perkins of Wichita Falls will attempt to complete an Ellenburger discovery at No. 1 A. W. L. Lewis, a re-entry of a former 7,062-foot dry hole in that formation in Nolan County, 11 miles south and slightly east of Sweetwater.

The location is 467 feet from north and 1,825 feet from east lines of section 54, block X, T&P survey and 3 1/4 miles west and slightly south of Ellenburger production in the EYB multipay field.

The project is 1/4 mile south of the same operator's No. 1 Barton, an active wildcat in section 45, block X, T&P survey which has been drilled tight. Operator reportedly has set oil string to make production tests.

T. F. LOWE

When T/Sgt. Thomas Franklyn Lowe came home from six years in the Marine Corps and two hitches in the South Pacific, he decided not to go back into farming but to try for a job with Cosden. March 23, 1948, was his first day with the company as a yardman.

He has worked at the boilers and the crude unit, and in May, 1958, went to the polystyrene plant in time for its debut. He is there today, as stillman on the ex-truders.

His wife is the former Nora Smith, who was reared in Lowe's native county of Callahan. They have a daughter, Grace Ann, who is 7 and will enter the second grade in Coahoma schools next fall. The family lives in Sand Springs.

Lowe spends some of his leisure hours hunting coyotes and fishing occasionally. A family membership in the YMCA is expected to offer many pleasant hours to all the Lowes.

Activity Is In Decline

MIDLAND — A decline in rotary drilling operations in the Permian Basin was recorded by the Friday tabulation of Reed Roller Bit Co.

It listed 221 active rigs in the West Texas-Southeast New Mexico area, a drop of nine from the 230 counted a week earlier. The latest total was 11 below the 232 reported in the last Friday in June, 1962.

Lea County, N. M., continued to top the list with 51 active rotary rigs. This was a dip of three from the 54 it listed the prior Friday. Ector County showed a gain of seven from 21 to 22—and held second.

Residents Cash In On Krazy Daze

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sunday, June 30, 1963 7-B

Krazy Daze in Big Spring turned out to be just that Friday and Saturday as 13 residents purchased merchandise in local stores at unheard-of prices.

Careful searching and checking of numbers proved worthwhile to those shoppers who purchased merchandise valued at a total $420.55 for only $12.06. Some bought merchandise for a penny, while others paid up to a nickel. The most any shopper paid was $4.99 and that was for a $50 value.

The search for lucky numbers filled downtown and shopping area streets both days, as shoppers set out on determined searches for bargain-priced merchandise. Despite the many bargains that were matched up with winning numbers, there were many others never found.

Big Spring merchants were pleased with the response the sales promotion had developed here and one said he is ready to do it again. To at least 13 winning residents, they were happy and ready to try again, too. One woman, who did not match up a number, said she enjoyed just visiting all the stores, the first time she had been in so many different ones on the same day in many years.

While some stores reported no winners, there were four reporting more than one person matching up numbers. Merchants were given secret numbers to post in their stores. Herald readers merely matched the number on their Thursday or Friday paper with the merchant's number. Successful matching of numbers gave shoppers the opportunity to buy advertised merchandise at a fraction of the regular price.

These were the winners in the Krazy Daze promotion Friday and Saturday:

Mrs. G. E. Franks, Webb Village, picked up a $20 pair of Paramount Lizard shoes at Pelletier's for only 59 cents.

Mrs. B. C. Coates, Coahoma, paid just 15 cents for a $15.95 reversible school jacket when her number matched the one at Prager's.

Two winners selected bargains at Anthony's. Mrs. Francis Turner, 817 W. 8th, paid a nickel for an $11.95 Marcy Lee summer cotton dress. Lewis Bladock, West Highway, plunked down his nickel for a pair of $12.95 slacks.

At Montgomery Ward, Mrs. H. D. Hodges, 504 Dunley, selected a $69.95 sofa bed for only $2.99.

Lodie Smith, 818 W. 8th, paid only one cent for a $14.95 pole lamp at Wheat Furniture Co.

Hempfill-Wells reported 11 winners. Mrs. Jack Franklin, 3703 Dixon, picked up a $25 Chain-De-Lier Lamp for only 99 cents. Mrs. Walter Barbee, Sand Springs, selected a $40.95 coat by Bataidi for $4.99.

Mrs. C. D. Herring, 1501 E. 2nd, paid only $1 for a $29.95 Gateway luggage set of three pieces at Gibson's Discount Center.

The Goodyear Service Store was another participating merchant with two winners, both getting a $49.95 GE garbage disposal for 49 cents. They were Mrs. Milton Morrow, 1803 Lancaster, and Herman Taylor, 510 E. 6th.

Two Lewis Variety Stores reported winners. Mrs. Birt Allison, 2304 Morrison, picked up a 25-piece set of Ovenproof Franklin Pottery, valued at $30, for 13 cents at the College Park Shopping Center. Mrs. Clarice Butler, 205 E. 6th, purchased two table lamps and a hanging planter, valued at $50, for 13 cents at the Eleventh Place store.

Lubbock Businessman Denies Meeting Billie Sol

LUBBOCK (AP)—The owner of a Lubbock investment firm denied Saturday he had ever met Billie Sol Estes, a former Estes pilot who testified in a suit in this South Plains city.

Both sides rested Saturday, and final arguments will be heard Monday.

Kuykendall Investment Co. is trying to collect $47,199 from Thomas Bell, a Pecos farmer who signed notes in buying fertilizer tanks and then leased them to Estes, and from Lubbock Machine and Supply Co., which endorsed the notes.

Roger Kuykendall took the stand Saturday to refute statements by E. L. Hartman, former Estes pilot, that Hartman had been present when Estes and Kuykendall discussed financing the allegedly non-existent fertilizer tanks.

"I still have never met Billie Sol Estes and have never had any conversations with him," Kuykendall said.

The case is the first to be tried among dozens of suits which seek to fix responsibility for multi-million dollar losses in the collapse of the Estes financial empire.

Thursday, the pilot testified that in rebuttal testimony, Dean said "That is not true. I never saw Mr. Estes until 1962—and I never heard of Mr. Hartman."

Girls Testify At Vice Hearing

LONDON (AP) — The prosecution Saturday brought on the girls — blondes and brunettes, in skin tight slacks or clinging dresses — to support its argument that Dr. Stephen Ward should be tried on vice charges.

The dapper society osteopath, 50, a talented artist who says members of the royal family once sat for portraits sketched the girls as they testified.

Ward is accused of procuring, running a brothel and advising on abortions. The testimony added a lurid court chapter to the sex and security scandal that threatened Britain's conservative government and brought the downfall of War Minister John Profumo.

In the day's testimony — Marilyn "Mandy" Rice-Davies 18, insisted that she had slept with Lord Astor, a friend of Ward.

A "Miss X" wearing dark glasses, said Ward asked her to make love in a bedroom so spectators could watch through a concealed, two-way mirror.

Sally Norris said she had slept with Ward at a cottage he rented on Lord Astor's estate.

A "Miss R" said she had, too. —Margaret Ricardo said that when she visited Ward's London apartment he introduced her to other men and she slept with them.

Christine Keeler, the prosecution's star witness, testified Friday that she had met Profumo while living in Ward's apartment.

General Gent's Wife Questioned

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — The wife of Maj. Gen. Thomas J. Gent Jr. was questioned by Air Force investigators Friday concerning the mysterious shooting of her husband earlier this week.

The Air Force declined comment on the nature of the questioning.

Gent, outgoing commander of the North American Air Defense Command unit at Tinker Air Force Base here, was found in his quarters early Monday with a bullet wound in the head.

Gent is off the critical list, but the Air Force said it will be several days before his condition will permit questioning.

The shooting occurred about 24 hours after Mrs. Gent was arrested following an auto accident here. Police accused her of driving while intoxicated, resisting arrest and assaulting an officer.

Territory Issues Its First Stamps

By HAROLD C. PERDUE

The Territory of Cocos (Keeling) Islands will soon begin to issue stamps. A territory of Australia, its stamps have been used in Cocos up to this time.

Six stamps have been announced for the initial issue. The three show natives at work in the copra industries. The five pence in blue depicts a Super Constellation airplane. A map of the island is shown on the red eight pence. The one shilling shows coco palms while a native sail boat is seen on the two pence issue. A beautiful bird of the islands, a White Tern, is depicted on the two shilling, three pence green stamp.

NETHERLANDS honor windmills

The Chinese Nationalist government is issuing two postage stamps featuring Associated Press photographs of refugees from the Red China mainland in May, 1962. This marked the height of a mass exodus from the mainland region. Chiang Kai-shek's government issued these stamps June 27 to commemorate the first anniversary of these escapes. Two million copies of the 80 cent stamp will show Lee Ying, a refugee girl, in a boat after being told she must return to China. Some 600,000 copies of the $3.20 will show a refugee carrying his son and dragging his wife back to the harbor. Both pictures were made in Hong Kong where refugees can no longer be accepted.

The Netherlands will honor the windmills of their country on a summer stamp issue. All five values are semi-postals with the Denmark is raising funds for the Cripples Foundation with the issue of a 35 plus 10 ore semi-postal. Turkey has two bicolored semi-postals for the 1963 agricultural census. Brazil is releasing a stamp for the fourth Basketball Championships. In Mexico, politician F. I. Madero has been honored with a new 10 peso release.

The United Nations placed new six cent, eight cent and 13 cent air mails on sale June 16 to conform with increases in the U. S. postal rates. Guatemala has a new five cent air mail to honor Father Henriquez de Rivera. Norway has two new postals depicting a boat-swain's knot in 35 and 60 ore. France has released a single for the 40th anniversary of Lycee Louis the Great. Ecuador has issued three bi-colored air mails for the fight against malaria. Argentina has a set of three semi-postals in four plus two, 12 plus six, and 11 plus five for the Fourth Pan American Games.

FLY GETS AROUND Screwworm Army Moves

Forces are being redeployed, but the screwworm battle watchword is the same—be alert.

An outbreak of cases north of the drop zone has caused a change in points of attack, reported County Agent Herb Helbig after attending a 90-county conference in Abilene on Friday.

For instance, a new base of operations for hot-spot drops of sterile flies has been established at Sweetwater. Crews are being moved up from South Texas along the original drop line from Port Arthur to Coleman to Del Rio.

Howard County has had but nine confirmed cases of screwworm this year, but adjoining Mitchell County has uncovered 37 in recent weeks. It is this spotted increase that is causing screwworm fighters to alter their battle plans.

Overall strategy remains the same. Each time a screwworm case is confirmed, sterile male flies are dropped within a five mile radius. Ranchers in the vicinity also are urged to spray.

Helbig urged ranchers and farmers to continue to bring in any suspected samples of screwworm.

"In only four generations, undetected cases of screwworm can produce as many as 14 million non-sterile native flies," he said.

Failure to spot cases or take precautionary steps could touch off a chain-reaction of the damaging flies.

The procedure is simple. If a farmer or rancher thinks he has a case of screwworm, samples should be brought immediately to Helbig. Within about two days he will have a report from the headquarters in Mission. Should the case be confirmed, an inspector is dispatched here at once. A 50-foot lime cross is spread in the ranch and the grid coordinates are spotted on an aerial map so that a pilot, within a few hours at the most can make his sterile male fly drop.

Because no eggs hatch from the sterile fly mating, this reduces the chance of spread. However, spraying of the affected herd and those of neighboring ranchers is urged. The spray will not kill the adult flies, but it will "do-in" the young flies when they hatch or try to get in cattle wounds.

Korian and Co-ral are recommended as sprays to control flies.

The inspector works with ranchers to obtain spraying. Where a herd owner is unable to spray, crews are brought in to do this job.

Dramatic results are being obtained. Helbig explained, Uvalde County, which had 3,500 cases of screwworm last year thus far has only 58. But there can't be any letup until there are no cases, reminded the agent, because the screwworm isn't cooperative.

At first, entomologists figured the fly would migrate 35 miles within his life cycle. Recently some dyed specimen were released, and 10 1/2 days later one was found 180 miles distant. On the strength of this and other developments, screwworm fighters shifted their plan of attack.

Whites Charged In Negro's Death

PITTSBURG, Tex. (AP)—Two white men from Mount Pleasant were charged Saturday with murder with malice in the shotgun slaying Friday at noon of Ed Hatley, 71, a Negro, at his home in nearby Leesburg.

The charges named Hiller Hess III, 20, and Raymond Benson, 26. Bonds of $5,000 were set. Hess was released on bond. Justice of Peace T. H. Miller said an examining trial would be held July 10.

Sheriff H. H. Lovelace said the Negro was shot twice near the heart. Lovelace said it was reported that the men represented a loan company to which Hatley owed money and had gone to see him about the account. Neither of the men made a statement.

Project For Brady

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Frank Carlson, R-Kan., reported Friday that the Army Tank Automotive Command has awarded the Spencer Safford Co. of Augusta, Kan., a $1,103,103 contract for 169 semi-trailers, vans and chassis. The work will be done at Brady, Tex.

Legal Love Requires A License, Five Dollars, Consent Of Two

By JO BRIGHT
Ever since the first June moon, some poet has slicked down his hair, found him a pretty doll and said, "Come live with me and be my love."
Although the poet's passion may touch the lady's heart and his intentions be entirely honorable, she would be wise not to start packing immediately. It just ain't that simple.
In the first place, any woman who has reached the age of consent knows that celebrating the rites of spring and the rites of matrimony are not necessarily the same thing. The rituals are similar, but in the case of matrimony, I believe the name is changed—to protect the innocent.
The woman who desires a legal and binding relationship with a member of the opposite sex, of course, should first determine if what she has received is a firm offer of marriage. (Sometimes, moonlight affects the hearing and disagreement may arise later on this point.) However, if a marriage-minded gal can make the verbal fencing of cocktail conversation sound like an offer of permanent protection, she's half-way home.
LEGAL DEMAND
Lovers require very little of each other—only everlasting love and loyalty. The law requires more.
The Revised Civil Statutes of Texas state that males under 16 and females under 14 years of age shall not marry. Amen. I heard recently a ludicrously funny incident when a local teenager was in tears because her prospective bridegroom said she would have to choose between him and Girl Scouts.
A girl under 18 years of age and a boy under 21 years of age must have the consent of their fathers before a marriage license can be obtained. Legally, the father is considered the head of the house if there is disagreement between parents. A three-day waiting period is required for minors, unless waived by the county judge. If the applicant is a minor, and an orphan without a legal guardian, permission to marry must be granted by the city judge.
DOC'S O.K.
In making application for a license to marry, both men and women must present medical certificates stating that he or she is free from all venereal diseases. The test must be given and the certificate signed by a reputable physician at a state-approved hospital or clinic. The state laboratory in Austin periodically issues a list of approved institutions, which is mailed to the county clerk's office.
Clutching a clean bill of health, and proof of age and identity, the couple is ready to appear at the courthouse where the application is duly "sworn and subscribed" before the county clerk. The application is filed in that office, to become a permanent record.
The license is then issued. It is the authority to solemnize the rites of matrimony. Article No.

Worthys Are Party Hosts

Seventy-five couples were guests at the new home of the Jerry Worthys Friday evening. In keeping with the authentic Spanish architecture and decor of the home, located north on the Snyder Highway, the party cuisine consisted of tamales and beans. Hours for the informal gathering were from 5 until 7 o'clock.
Surprising the host couple, guests provided a pinata stuffed with money. The pinata breaking took place on the patio.
Returns From Hawaiian Trip
Miss Kay Wilcox has returned home from a vacation in Hawaii.

4602 states . . . "all licensed or ordained ministers of the Gospel, Jewish rabbis, or officers of religious organizations which officers are duly authorized by the organization to perform marriage ceremonies, judges of the district and county courts, and justices of the peace are authorized to celebrate the rites of matrimony between persons legally authorized to marry."
LICENSED
Following the ceremony, it is the duty of the person officiating to endorse and return the license within 60 days to the clerk, who is required by law to record it "in a well bound book kept for that purpose," before mailing it back to the now married couple. If the license is lost, a certified copy may be obtained in this county for $1.
The cost of the original license is $5—a bargain if the resulting marriage lasts a lifetime.
When this area was named Howard County, back in 1882, the first records were made pertaining to marriage licenses. They were then recorded two to a page. The first page of the book lists a license sold to George Davis and Gertrude Flowers on August 11 of that year. The couple was married two days later by I. D. Edgins, Justice of the Peace. The second entry, made Oct. 9, 1882, named Charles Higgins and Bura Hodges, who were married the same day. The clerk, J. M. Anderson, obviously was not overworked, with marriages so few and far between.
Pauline Petty is now the county clerk. She noted that the price of marriage has risen along with everything else. The famous $2 license has not been issued for many years. Her records show, too, that the month of June is not always the most popular one for weddings.
I left the bad news for last, girls. In June of 1961, there were 53 marriage licenses sold in Howard County, and in June of last year only 36. Somebody left the gate open.

MRS. EVERETT NEWTON

A Worldly Little Girl

Little girl fashions are making deep impressions on the designers who dream up clothes for their mothers. Shannon Rodgers who designs for Jerry Silverman has picked up one of the most enchanting of the little girl ideas—the scalloped pinafore—and adopted it with great style and taste for the adult contingent. There's nothing "Baby Jane" about this interpretation. It's strictly for the well-groomed sophisticate in spite of its childish charm. The bodice is set over a camisole and is open to about 1 inch above the set-in belt. The scalloped detail is repeated at the skirt hem.

Stick to worldly materials, such as black, white or pastel crepe, linen, pique, sharkskin, slubbed surfaced fabrics. From these corresponding body measurements, select the size best for you. Our sizing is comparable to that used for better ready-to-wear.

Beesons Announce The Marriage Of Daughter

LAMESA (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Beeson of Lamesa announce the marriage of their daughter, Joanne, to Kenneth William Dierschke, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Dierschke of San Angelo.

The couple exchanged vows June 20 in the Saint Ambrose Catholic Church of Wall with the Rev. Bernard Binivise officiating. The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father.

She wore a gown of white silk organza over peau de soie. The bodice, with elbow-length sleeves, was appliqued at the oval neckline with re-embroidered Alencon lace and also accented the bell-shaped skirt and short train.

A lace pillbox embroidered with seed pearls held her bouffant veil of silk illusion. A cascade of white feathered carnations centered with two orchids composed her bridal bouquet.

Miss Cheryl Garrett of Pecos was maid of honor. Norman Dierschke Jr., the bridegroom's brother, was best man.

The bride is a graduate of Lamesa High School and attended Texas Tech and Sul Ross colleges. The bridegroom was graduated from Wall High School and attended San Angelo Junior College and Sul Ross.

Use Modern Aid In Picnic Food

Hearty charcoal-grilled food is a treat at any picnic. Swimmers, hikers or horseshoe pitchers all develop enormous appetites in the open air.

The portable grill and wood charcoal briquets pack easily in a car trunk or station wagon. The easiest way to carry food, many families say, is in insulated bags or lightweight foam ice chests. These are ways to keep food fresh if you're traveling any distance before lunch.

Cut-up chicken can be frozen ahead of time, with each piece wrapped individually in transparent plastic or foil. At the site, set out food to thaw. The wrappings protect it from leaves or insects.

Hamburger patties also can be prepared ahead of time this easy way: form patties and put them on a cookie tray. After freezing, place them in a plastic bag, and they won't stick together.

Steaks can be frozen in advance, too. These frozen foods help keep your salads cool in the ice chest, en route to the lake or state park.

Duke Family Has Visit In Winters

COAHOMA (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. Donald Duke and children, Donna, Mike, and Tresa, were in Winters this weekend to visit their friends, the Virgil Jameses. Mike remained there for a week's visit.

The Donald Lees visited in Norton this weekend with relatives. Recent visitors in the Robert Stout home has been his brother, James A. Stout, his son, Jimmy, and his daughter, Sharon, of San Benito.

Visiting with Smith Cochran and his son, Phill, has been his sister, Mrs. R. D. Bushon, and his niece, Mrs. Blaine Rideout, of Childress.

Wedding Rites Held Saturday

Miss Gwen Proctor became the bride of Airman I. C. Everett Newton in a double ring ceremony at 4 p. m. Saturday in the home of the bride's parents. Officiating at the rites was the Rev. Horace Whiteside.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Proctor of Knott Rt. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Newton of Lebanon, N. H.

The ceremony was performed before an archway enhanced with basket arrangements of blue and white carnations banked with fern. Flanking the baskets were candelabra holding white tapers. Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Porter Hanks, organist, who played "Always" and "I Love You Truly."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of white crepe, with an overskirt of lace fashioned with a scalloped hemline. The bodice featured elbow-length sleeves and a rounded neckline. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion fell from a pearl encrusted tiara headpiece.

The bridal bouquet was a white orchid surrounded by white feathered chrysanthemums and tied with satin ribbons.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Ann Martin, of Midland. Her blue dress styled with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt, was worn with a veiled headband and matching accessories.

Serving as best man was Lanny Proctor, a brother of the bride. The flower girl was Candy Middleton, of Vealmoor.

RECEPTION

The reception was held in the home, immediately following the ceremony. The bride's parents joined the couple in the receiving line.

A floor length white linen cloth, covering the refreshment table, was piped with blue satin ribbon. Large blue bows and wedding bells hung from the front of the table. The four tiered wedding cake was frosted in white and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Presiding at the register was Mrs. Don Sledge, of Lubbock, a cousin of the bride. Members of the house party were Mrs. Faye Sledge and Mrs. Roy Bledsoe, South Plains, aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Dee Ratliff, a cousin of the bride.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Breidemeyer, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Epley, Stanton; Roy Bledsoe, Don Sledge and Bill Bledsoe, all of Lubbock; and Mr. and Mrs. Neal Rosamond, Odessa.

WEDDING TRIP

For a wedding trip to the East Coast, the bride's traveling costume was a navy blue shirtwaist dress of polished cotton. She wore the corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple will live in Big Spring, several weeks before moving to his new station at Kansas City, Mo.

The bride graduated from Big Spring High School where she was named all state volleyball champion in 1961.

The bridegroom attended schools in Lebanon, N. H., and is now stationed at Webb Air Force Base.

Reception, Farewell For Base Commanders

A reception for Col. Howard J. Withycombe, Webb's new commanding officer, and a farewell party for Col. and Mrs. Wilson Banks was held Friday evening at the Officers Club. Hosts for the evening were the officers of the base.

Guests, numbering some 200, were received by Maj. Glenn E. Hartwell, Col. and Mrs. Banks, Col. Withycombe and Col. and Mrs. Rex Fryar.

The hors d'oeuvre and punch tables, spread with white linen cloths, featured large center arrangements of white mums and daisies.

For the occasion Mrs. Banks chose a yellow, silk chiffon dress designed with a full skirt, fitted bodice and deep, rounded neckline. Amber jewelry and a white orchid corsage accented the yellow cocktail gown. Mrs. Fryar was attired in a pink embroidered white linen eyelet sheath in the after-five fashion.

Among the officers' and civilian wives were noted Mrs. Mount E. Frantz, whose dress, purchased in Gibraltar, was nylon, floral print in soft tones of blue shaded into gray. It was full-skirted with bateau neckline and belted with a gray cummerbund. The pencil-skirt sheath worn by Mrs. E. L. Powell was of pink linen and matched with a touch of jewelry. Mrs. V. J. Belda, gaily attired in a Chinese red sheath fashioned with a draped belt pinned with rhinestones, and fo-ral slippers sprangly splashed with Chinese red.

Mrs. Tom Seebo was striking in a cerise silk chiffon over satin with billowy skirt and boatnecked bodice. Her jewelry was crystals. Another wearing red was Mrs. Norman Buhner whose dress was red-topped with full white chiffon skirt boasting a large red flower. Just returned from the West Coast, she also boasted a California tan.

Elegant in black sheath, Mrs. John Summa's hair-do and gold headband was admired, and so were the dashing, shoulder-touching eardrops worn by Mrs. Joe Rattle whose dress featured deep tones of turquoise blue enhanced with a twinkle of rhinestones. Mrs. Fred Lutting was in cool white with shoes lending a touch of pastel color, while Mrs. Maxfield Bence wore a full-skirted dress with splashes of pastel flowers on background of white.

Col. and Mrs. Banks will depart from the base July 8 and will go to Washington, D.C., before filling a New Delhi assignment in India. Col. Withycombe returned to Colorado Springs, Colo., Saturday. He and his family will move

Father's Promise Kept Beyond Initial Vow

By KATHLEEN DOZIER

The Korean conflict was on, and a father, as he watched his son sail from port, prayed he promised that if his son returned safely he would work diligently to help the Korean people.

This father was one of the fortunate ones to welcome his son home, and he has kept his promise. Dr. Walter Parr's story has been told in Time magazine and other publications but not to its fullest.

It was brought up to date this week when Mrs. Harry Leachman of Bowling Green, Ky. visited here with her brother and sister-in-law, Maj. and Mrs. Charles Penn.

The Leachmans and the Parris became friends during Dr. Parr's ministry in a Bowling Green Presbyterian church. Fulfilling his promise he made as many as five trips with as many shipments of supplies to Korea.

Mrs. Leachman said in describing the man who heads the Mexico Good Neighbor Project of West Texas, "He resigned from the ministry to devote his time to this work. Later he became interested in the international picture particularly in regard to Latin American neighbors."

A former Home Demonstration agent and 4-H club worker, Mrs. Leachman is well qualified to be a member of the good-neighbor group traveling into Mexico. Concluding her visit here yesterday, she joined the 30 West Texans en route to Lubbock to return to their mission south of the border.

Mrs. Leachman had as her traveling companion, Miss Jamie Gaddie of Kentucky, a sophomore of Randolph-Macon, who arrived here by plane Friday evening.

The "DISTRIBUTIVE CENTER" will volunteer, ambassador will visit the cities and rural areas of the country during their 15-day tour. They are taking with them cases which will be distributed to initiate a carry-back in a self-help program. "Carry-back" items from these cases are to be given to other families participating in the program.

Among the agencies to be distributed among the Mexican people are 5000 books for the University of Chihuahua. The party will also visit an orphanage taking with them supplies of interest to the children. And Dr. and Mrs. Parr with their entourage, have been invited as guests of the U. S. Embassy for a Fourth of July party in Mexico City.

SECOND TOUR "This is Dr. Parr's second tour which he hopes will be a successful one. Mrs. Leachman explained, "We are expected to meet the people in a friendly manner, refrain from criticism and contribute what we can as far as knowledge is concerned."

The tourists' itinerary includes Laredo, Monterrey, San Luis Potosi, Mexico City, Aguascalientes, Durango, Torreón, Chihuahua and El Paso.

Dr. Parr, a native Texan now of Lubbock has on his advisory committee Dr. G. W. Thomas, Texas Tech dean of agriculture, chairman, Don Jones, honorary chairman, Dr. O. Brandon Hull, Russell Bean, Earl Collins, Frank Gonzales, Jim Sikes, Bob Henderson, W. D. Hord, Larry Bird, Mrs. Roy Riddell, Lee McElroy, T. L. Leach, C. L. Kay of Lubbock Christian College, and H. 'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

There are probably more hellos and goodbys said during the summer months than at any other time of the year and this summer is no exception. Many Big Spring people get to have close relations with the Webb Air Force Base families and when the time comes to tell them farewell it seems like summer comes very often.

It's always a little sad to part from friends and those who know the family of COL and MRS. WILSON BANKS are feeling that way now that the time has come for them to leave. But they are leaving their RONNIE here and the high school will enjoy having him for his senior year. He will have a great number of foster parents who will be glad to help him if he needs it.

The BOB CLARKS of 2100 Morrison Drive are on their way to California for their summer vacation. They will deliver their daughter, MRS. ROBBY ALLEN, to her new residence in Monterey, Calif. where she is joining her husband stationed at Presidio of Monterey, U. S. Army Language School. Their trip includes plans for visits to several points of interest in Arizona and California including the Grand Canyon and San Francisco. Their daughter, BARBARA, is presently vacationing in Waco.

Here for a vacation visit with his parents, MR and MRS H. C. STIPP are their son and his family MR and MRS LOUIS C. STIPP and son DAVID of Houston. The two families will spend the July 4th holiday at the ranch home of MR and MRS WILLIAM F. CUSHING near Clarendon. The Houston couple will also visit with her parents, MR and MRS FLOYD WHITE during their stay here.

Also expected here Wednesday for the Fourth is DENNIS JONES of Las Cruces, N.M. who will visit his parents, MR and MRS LUCIAN JONES. He plans to be here until Sunday.

First year Girl Scouters EVETTE FISHER daughter of MR and MRS JULIAN FISHER, and SANDY WIEDERHOFF, whose parents are the REV. and MRS. CLAIR WIEDERHOFF, have completed their week at Boothe Oaks near Sweetwater. Their Plateau group won a Totem Pole one day for having the cleanest tent, an award that is made following camp inspection each day and means a great deal to the young campers.

Add Freshness To Looks, Use Make-Up Colors

Summer is an ideal time to add a fresh new note of glamour to your appearance, and also realize the full benefits of your beauty requisites, by considering make-up colors as part of your fashion accessories.

For instance when you wear ropes of beads or a necklace with a beige, brown, black, white or neutral-toned dress harmonize your eyeshadow to the predominant color of this jewelry. Or, with accessories that are orange, red, or pink, choose a lipstick in your color range that will match or complement these tones.

By varying these make-up accessories and using them as fashion accessories you can create an intriguing, high fashion look of beauty.

Cassie's Silver Lining Is Showing Through

By SAM BLACKBURN

If all goes as planned, things should look a little brighter for Cassie Lee Randolph, 12, than they have in the past few years. Cassie has had a number of breaks which would be almost overwhelming to most persons much older and more seasoned than she.

First of all, Cassie was born nearly completely deaf. She can barely hear and until recently did not know how to talk. Even now, her speech is sharply restricted. Despite this difficulty, she has managed to reach the fifth grade.

MOTHER LEFT

Three years ago, Cassie Lee's mother suddenly announced, she was leaving town. She made no arrangements for any disposition of Cassie or her brothers and sisters. Cassie was given a home by Mrs. Henrietta Cooper, 406 NW 6th. Temporary homes were found for the other children.

Cassie Lee's father, Mrs. Cooper said, had disappeared prior to the time the mother left. In 1962, word came that Cassie Lee's mother had died.

Meantime, Mrs. Cooper had placed the child in school and had succeeded in teaching her how to talk to a limited degree. Because of her hearing problem, the girl was enrolled in the special school for handicapped children.

It was here that Mrs. Gladys Penney, a teacher, decided that things weren't going as they should. She ran a series of tests and found that Cassie Lee had an unusually high IQ score. "Too high an IQ for her to be kept in the handicapped group," Mrs. Penney concluded.

CONSULTED

She consulted with Mrs. Ruby Phillips, Howard County welfare officer. They decided the best thing would be to get Cassie Lee admitted to the state school for deaf children in Austin. Mrs. Cooper said that although the girl can hear to a restricted degree, doctors have said her difficulty is not one that can be remedied by a hearing aid.

Mrs. Phillips filed an application for Cassie Lee's admission to the Austin institution.

"We have been informed," said Mrs. Phillips, "that the application will be approved." The task now is to provide Cassie Lee with the necessary clothing to get her through the school year.

"She doesn't have anything," Mrs. Phillips said. "Mrs. Cooper is as kind and thoughtful as she could possibly be but she cannot afford to buy the clothing the child will need if she is to go to school. It is up to us to meet this problem."

TRANSPORTATION

She added that the county will see that the girl is provided with transportation to Austin when the time rolls around next September.

Cassie Lee is about average size for a 12-year-old. Mrs. Phillips said. She needs dresses, underwear, coats, shoes, pajamas, hose—everything and anything.

"Anyone who has wearable clothing for a 12-year-old girl is urged to phone me," Mrs. Phillips said. "My phone is AM 4-4191. I will gladly come to any address and pick up any clothing offered."

She said she would take Cassie Lee to a store this week to determine exactly the sizes of clothing she needs.

TIME IS SHORT

One thing is important, Mrs. Phillips points out—time is short to get the job done. Anyone who wants to help Cassie Lee by donating suitable clothing should do so at once, the welfare officer said.

"We must have her completely outfitted ahead of Sept. 1," said Mrs. Phillips. "Present plans are for her to go to the school a little ahead of the opening date, in order to become acclimated by the time the regular work begins."

And what does Cassie Lee think of all this?

When asked, she just grins and happily nods her head.

Insurance Men Await More Information On Rate Hike

Big Spring insurance men are waiting for more official and complete information on the proposed new rates for car insurance than was available in press releases of last week.

Until they have this information, one said, it was difficult to properly analyze the impact it will have locally.

Dispatches related that Howard County rates would go up $5 under the new rate schedule. Most insurance men believe that this will be true if the new increases are approved.

However, they point out that the county had exceptionally low rates under the old schedule and that the $5 increase, if it does become effective, will still leave rates here lower than in many counties of Texas.

One insurance man pointed out that no stress has been laid on whether the car in question is used by its owner to take him to and from work. The rate has been $36 with no questions asked as to the use of the car. Under the new plan, apparently the issue will be put in full effect. This would raise the rate to $41 if the $5 increase is approved.

In some counties — Harris County for example — the difference in rates based on whether the driver used the car to go to and from the job has been important. "The rate has been $48 for a car not used in to-and-from work service and $63 where it was used for that purpose."

It is evident that the costs of one form of car insurance will certainly be hiked in 1964. The legislature approved a measure raising the minimum liability insurance requirements for bodily injury to $10,000 and $20,000. The present requirement is $5,000 and $10,000. This will mean an increase in costs of about $5 for this type of insurance, a local agent said.

Agents here agreed they had been of the impression that the accident record here had been considerably improved in the last year and did not think that this factor would justify any major increase in local rates.

The new rates are tentatively scheduled to become effective Aug. 1. Insurance men here are expecting detailed information from their head offices and from the State Board of Insurance on the proposed rates soon.

Membership In Farm Bureau Soars In Texas

Texas Farm Bureau membership is soaring and the increases shown in state figures are reflected in the totals for Howard County and other counties in District 6, according to local officials.

Total membership in the Farm Bureau of Texas, as reported from Waco headquarters last week, was 2,125 ahead of the same period a year ago.

In District 6, of which Howard County is a unit, the total membership in the bureau as of Oct. 31, 1962—end of the official fiscal year—was 5,788. The state total that date was 84,842. New members and renewals reported by the Waco office since Nov. 1 through the current date is 53,025. Neal Fryar is president of the Howard County Farm Bureau. District 6 president is Claude Anderson, Eola.

There are 18 counties in the district. Dawson County with 1,030 members is the district leader. Howard County membership with 666 is second in the district. Farm Bureau membership in District 6:

Checking Plans

Clyde Brown, builder (left), and Larry Shortes, Pioneer Natural Gas Co. representative, look over plans for the modern new Western Dream Home (background). Open House is slated today.

Western Dream Home Will Be Open Today For Visitors

Big Springers are invited to an open house tour of a Blue Flame Western Dream Home Sunday, between 1-6 p.m., in the Highland South Addition at the foot of South Mountain. The address is 606 Highland Drive.

Perched on the slope of the mountain, the white marble-trimmed residence boasts a complete view of the city from the balcony which surrounds the upper floor. Modern design blends sparkling white marble with chocolate-shaded brick for the exterior, and stucco walls of glass tinted for protection from the West Texas sun.

The house includes four bedrooms, 3 1/2 baths, a family room, living room, dining room, glass-enclosed bar, kitchen area, study—all in 4,000 square feet of floor area.

In addition, the outdoor living area has a balcony circling the upstairs area and all ground floor rooms open onto concrete patios and terraces. The rear yard is built on two levels, the upper one including a stately fountain and gas burning barbecue area.

The house is built with two units which provide year-around air conditioning. Also, there is a built-in intercom-radio system connecting all rooms—two of them receiving stereo sound. The main unit is in the family room.

in the family room, kitchen, dining room, all closets and bathrooms. Roomy walk-in closets round out the custom features.

The kitchen includes food center equipment, with built-in power for operating such kitchen appliances as food mixers, blenders, and other food preparation devices. A modern built-in range, complete with rotisserie, and a built-in dishwasher add to kitchen convenience.

The house has two fireplaces, one in the family room and the other in the downstairs bedroom. Carefully selected light fixtures, all operated by push-button controls, are custom matched in the individual rooms.

The study, facing the front of the house upstairs, is paneled. All of the rooms are carpeted.

A mural decorates the landing on the stairway and Japanese silk wallpaper is used in some areas.

Western Dream Homes, of which this is one, are being built in Big Spring by Clyde Brown. This one will be for sale during the open house, he said.

DEAR ABBY

The Horror Look Is Here

DEAR ABBY: There isn't a day that goes by that my 18-year-old daughter doesn't read every word you write. Maybe you will help me out by telling her something I don't have the heart to tell her. She is scaring me off with her make-up. She is a sweet, wonderful girl, but when she is through with the paint brush she looks like something else. It is something new with her. Her once beautiful eyes now look like something from a horror magazine. I have nothing against make-up, but I hate that cheap, artificial look. I want my daughter to look sweet, wholesome and natural as she used to.

DEAR DAD: Move over. That horror-look is the fashion now, and nothing I could say would convince your daughter to give it up. But have hope. If she meets a young man who tells her to wash her face or no soap . . . you'll have your sweet, wholesome, natural-looking daughter back again.

DEAR ABBY: Please save me and "my" parishioners from further blunders. The wedding season is upon us again, and I would appreciate your printing an answer to this question: Is the minister's wife automatically invited to every wedding in her husband's church?

I have never attended a wedding as a guest unless I have been specifically invited. Yet many parishioners have told me afterwards that they "expected" me and were very disappointed when I didn't show up. MINISTER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: You, my dear, are correct. Nobody is "automatically" invited anywhere. If the Reverend and Mrs. So and So are expected to attend an invitational affair, they should be sent an invitation.

DEAR ABBY: At the place where I work there is a girl who despises me, although I don't know why. When I speak to her she turns her head. I am being married soon and wanted to send all my co-workers individual wedding invitations. Not wanting to leave her out, I asked a co-worker for her address. When she found out who the address was for she refused to give it out. Still trying to be friendly, I sent her an invitation to our place of employment.

She returned it to me through a foreman. Did I do the right thing in sending her an invitation? And wasn't she wrong to return it to me? FRIENDLY

DEAR FRIENDLY: You were foolish to have forced an invitation on the girl, knowing she refused to give her address to your go-between. But she topped you when she sent it back with the foreman.

Sales Tax Reduced On Car Trade-Ins

The new state sales tax regulation applying to automobile sales becomes effective July 1 and, according to Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor, will reduce the sales tax cost slightly for most transactions.

Under the new rule, the sales tax — at two per cent — is collected on the difference between the sales price and the trade-in allowance. In other words, if a customer buys a $2,500 automobile and trades in his old car for $1,000, he will be required to pay sales tax only on $1,500. In the past, he has had to pay the tax on the full sales price of the new car.

Mrs. LeFevre has a limited supply of the forms which must be used to record sales transactions. These forms, officially termed 46-209 but, popularly known as Form 9, cover sales of new cars where trade-in is allowed; deals where a motorcar is given as a gift to another person; and transactions where the car trade was even.

In the instances where a car is given to a person, the sales tax is a flat $10; in deals where two individuals trade motor cars even, the tax is $5 per person. These fees, Mrs. LeFevre said, are unchanged from last year.

Form 9 is also used for registering cars of new residents for the first time (out of state licensed vehicles). Tax on these cars is $15.

She said dealers are already provided with information relative to the tax change. Most of the dealers are also supplied with copies of Form 9.

Cheerleaders To Raise Funds For Training Trip

Benefits from the supper will help finance the cheerleaders going to a training school in Dallas in August.

The cheerleaders are May Glaspie, Claudene Nowlin, Betty Glaspie, Mary Stewart, and Evonne Welch.

One Good Job Emphasizes Another

The completion of the Colorado River Municipal Water District's pipeline from Lake Thomas to Silver in northern Coke County is another milestone in area development. Yet, in a sense this underlines the urgency of efforts to secure a second major lake on the upper Colorado River.

While the project will produce primary economic benefits and several secondary benefits, it does represent another commitment against the reserves in Lake Thomas, the CRMWD's principal source of supply. Up to 1,000,000 gallons a day of the projected 3 million contract could be in the form of water from the Colorado River, but this leaves at least 2,000,000 which the district pledges from the lake, subject to municipal and prior demands.

When all the demands upon the lake are considered, there is actually no leeway and perhaps an over-commitment. This is no cause for alarm, because at the present time the lake is over 50 per cent of capacity and can supply far more than could possibly be drawn from it. Over a long period of time, however, this could be a matter for serious concern.

especially should a prolonged and critical period of drought ensue.

Member cities of Big Spring, Odessa and Snyder will be looking to the district for greater supplies, for both population and per capita use of water are increasing. Some of the other customers likely will want more as the years go by and there will be other requests to be considered by the CRMWD as an area supplier of water.

Thus, an additional and larger source of supply is no longer desirable; it is necessary. Several years normally intervene from the moment a decision is reached to proceed and the time when water can first be delivered from a big lake. If exceptional problems occur, then the length of the interval will be stretched. It is in such a circumstance that conceivably the district could find itself under supply pressures.

The CRMWD has been through half a year of intense activity in bringing the Sun Oil pipeline to reality. The times that lie ahead will be only slightly less busy as the district meets its responsibility in anticipating the water needs of this part of West Texas.

Generous Tribute

With only one dissenting vote, the House of Representatives has adopted the recommendation of the appropriations committee for a $47 billion military budget. This is nearly two billion dollars under the presidential request.

The only vote against approval was on the grounds that the money hadn't been provided. This almost unanimous acceptance of the bill is a remarkable tribute to the House subcommittee on military appropriations and its chairman, Rep. George H. Mahon.

The congressman from this district has been spearheading this tremendously critical job for years and is recognized as perhaps the outstanding authority in Congress on military fiscal affairs. Although there were questions asked, there was not a single change in the bill other than suggested by Rep. Mahon himself. This reflects the confidence and respect with which his colleagues hold him. Now if Congress could slice a few billion more off budget proposals and the upturn in business could continue, we might end the next fiscal year on a sounder note.

Legislation Under Duress

WASHINGTON — A legislative process that operates under duress is unprecedented in the halls of Congress. The attorney general of the United States, Robert F. Kennedy, in presenting to the House Judiciary Committee his proposals for "civil rights" legislation, made several references to recent street demonstrations in various cities and the "violence which has sometimes accompanied them." He said these were a direct result of racial discrimination and that the resentments which had arisen due to racial discrimination were "justified."

Nowhere in the statement was it explained why it required the stimulus of "demonstrations" to bring about consideration by Congress of any of the current legislative proposals.

The attorney general in his statement discussed constitutional doctrines and indicated some of the barriers that have hitherto caused hesitation in dealing with these same racial problems. In recommending to Congress now, for instance, the passage of a law that would forbid racial discrimination in restaurants, lunch counters, places of amusement, stores and hotels, Mr. Kennedy states that because these facilities are open to the public, they are not at all "like a private home or a private club to which the owner invites only the guests he selects." This differentiation has never been sanctioned by the courts as a basis for interfering with the individual rights of the owner of a business.

The attorney general conceded that the Fourteenth Amendment cannot be invoked for equal rights in this category and he correctly referred to the Supreme Court decision of 1883, which specifically held that the federal government could not on its own constitutionally enact legislation in this class of cases because this is a power held by the several states.

Placing reliance therefore, on the commerce clause of the federal Constitution, the head of the Department of Justice, in the course of his statement to the House,

"I BELIEVE a proprietor might refuse to sell to a disorderly or improperly dressed customer, but no American should be discriminated against because of his color, race or religion."

But there is nothing in the court decisions based on the commerce clause of the Constitution which denies to any proprietor of a business the right to use his own judgment as to what constitutes a good customer relationship.

SOME OF THE Democratic leaders who wish to support the proposal by the attorney general are suggesting that local boarding houses and smaller restaurants might have to be excluded from the proposed law in order to get it passed this year. It is not explained just how Congress itself can discriminate as between different sizes of restaurants when the actual test for the legislation is supposed to be racial discrimination, no matter how or where it occurs.

The attorney general in referring to the recent demonstrations said: "The events that have occurred since the President's first message—in Birmingham, in Jackson, in nearby Cambridge, in Philadelphia and in many other cities—make it clear that the attack upon these problems must be accelerated."

BUT SOME MEMBERS of Congress are beginning to ask why it was necessary to be influenced by street demonstrations. Racial problems existed a year ago and two years ago, and the inference now is that only the carefully planned parades and "sit-ins" have brought the administration into action.

Legislating under duress is a new experience for Congress. When the debate really begins, it will become evident that Congress does not relish the idea that the new "civil rights" bills are being considered primarily because coercive demonstrations have occurred or because threats are being circulated that, if Congress doesn't pass the laws there will be outbreaks of violence.

Billy Graham

QUESTION: Why do you continually advise new Christians to become members of a Church? —H. C.

ANSWER: Why should a new-born baby have a home? It is as simple as that. A child can be born outside the home, and a person can become a Christian outside the church, but nurture and care are essential to the development of both. These can be provided in the home in the case of the child, and in the church in the case of a Christian.

Every church is potentially a resurrection center. Into it come people who have been primarily concerned with their selfish affairs. In the church they broaden and come to feel the needs of other people. One of the signs of Christian life is the desire to share.

It is in the Church that you are transformed from a self-centered individual into a self-sacrificing member of society. Only the Church provides the nurture for spiritual growth. Here we are taught to grow in the Word, and here we have the help of other Christians when we are tempted to stumble. The Church is a storehouse of spiritual food whereby the inner man is fed, nourished and developed into maturity.

TAMPA Fla. (P)—Teachers at Henry Grady Elementary School take a coffee break before their workday begins, and profit from it.

Each morning from 8:15 to 8:25, the teachers meet for coffee and conversation. "We go over any new paper work that comes across the desk, we discuss testing and problems and it gives the teachers a chance to exchange ideas and other opinions related to their work," says Principal W. 'NEEDLE AND THREAD'

Baldwin Portrait

The Negroes' Voice Of Protest

By BERNARD GAVZER

NEW YORK (AP)—To those who see one Negro much the same as any other—including countless Negroes themselves — James Baldwin could be the doctor in Chicago, the bootblack in Birmingham, nameless and indistinguishable.

But suddenly, men like Baldwin have become the crest of an historic wave. Some feel that it was Baldwin and other Negro intellectuals who indirectly convinced President Kennedy that Negroes would no longer buy gradualism and would fight in the streets to get their rights. The new militancy of the nation's Negroes at last was being traced not to the hot heads, but to the writers, lawyers, students. Among them, James Arthur Baldwin.

HOW DID HE come to this place in life, and in our society? What spawned him? Who is he?

"I am," Baldwin once wrote, "a very tight, tense, lean, highly normally ambitious, abnormally intelligent, and hungry black cat. I'm not a nigger. I'm a man. Eloquently, the 38-year-old writer has raised his voice in protest. His outrage and sadness focus upon the bitter idea—one he says is borne out by American history—that to the white man all black men are nameless and mental."

His voice is not the firebrand oratory of Alvin Karpis, Malcolm X, or the rationale of Ralph Bunche, or the calm exhortation for nonviolence of Martin Luther King.

IT IS LIKE the voice of an avenging angel which will not quit. Puffing a cigarette, pausing to down a gulp of Scotch neat, Baldwin perched at the edge of a bed in his Manhattan apartment and considered this role as a spokesman.

"I am not a spokesman for anyone," he says with some irritation. "I speak only for myself. 'The cat says, 'Now,' and he means 'Now!'"

This talk has the flavor of Harlem. In its way, it is as effective in getting across Baldwin's message as the brilliant language he uses in his novels and essays. It is his latest essay, published as "The Fire Next Time" which vaulted him from a fairly limited circle of intellectuals to international prominence. In this work, he dissects the anatomy of America's crucial race problem.

THE NEXT WAR, Baldwin warns, will be a color war. In the last paragraph of the book he says that with love and bravery we might be able to end the racial nightmare and concludes: "If we do not now dare everything, the fulfillment of that prophecy, re-created from the Bible in song by a slave, is upon us. God gave Noah the rainbow sign, no more water, the fire next time!"

In his speech as well as his work, he describes the dimension of fear—and more than fear. He describes a bleak, lonely, hungry exile in which he, a Negro, and all Negroes, whatever their station and fortune, go from dawn to dusk to dawn in constant terror.

"I AM SCARED all the time," he says. "I've been scared so long that the only way I can live is to go for broke. This means you have to understand what scares you, to live with these things, and to challenge them. If you fail to do this, you wreck your life."

This, essentially, was the message he gave in an open letter to a neighbor, also named James. Published as a short essay, "My Dungeon Shook," in "The Fire Next Time," the letter says:

"YOU CAN only be destroyed by believing that you really are the white world calls a nigger. There is no reason for you to try to become like white people and there is no basis whatever for their impertinent assumption that they must accept you. The really terrible thing, old buddy, is that you must accept them. You must accept them and accept them with love. For these innocent people have no other hope."

Everything that enters the scope of Baldwin's life is treated seriously.

There is something crackling about him, like a man who gives off electric static as he moves. He creates the feeling that he lives like a man who is going to die tomorrow and there is no more time to say the most important thing in the world, to sing the song that every ear and heart will understand.

"TOMORROW is never promised for any Negro," he says. "For me, I've had 33 years that were never promised. When I was a baby, I was very sick. The doctor told my mother, 'I wasn't going to live past five. And where I come from, that's something he never promised me.'"

It was at the age of 14 that James Baldwin was put forth to preach. The first sermon — one that escapes any hope of recall — was made in the Fireside Pentecostal church, a store front church at 136th St. and Fifth Ave., in Harlem.

"I REMEMBER my last sermon, though," Baldwin says. "I remember it because I knew it was my last. It was a sermon to me. 'Set thy house in order.' It was agonizing for me to face the fact that I didn't believe any more. I did not believe the lies I was telling, or the lies of the other ministers."

One of his first published works was the poem, "Black Girl Shouting," which depicts the lament of a Negro girl whose lover has been lynched.

Baldwin turned down two college scholarships to work and help support the family. Whatever the job, he always wrote. And his writing brought him a number of fellowships and grants — Guggenheim, Rosenwald, Saxton Memorial, Partisan Review, and Ford Foundation.

Around The Rim

Good Month For A Little Fellow

July it is, and if you want to be prosaic, you can observe that the year is half-gone already.

July may not claim much other distinction, but it can have its merits. July is a forthright month, April and May can be fickle, and June wisps back and forth with storms and then sun and then rain. But July is pure summer. There is no question about it.

WELL, WHO MINDS summer? Boys don't, or they didn't a long time ago, when the days were long and lazy, and so many things beckoned to occupy a fellow's time.

For one thing, school was out, and you didn't have to get close to the school ground, unless it was to try a window to see if you could sneak in and find an old basketball that would do for bouncing on the shady side of the building.

BUT THIS WOULD be no good for long. Baseball was better, with no task to get up four or five pals for a game of "one-eye-cat" out on a sticker-strewn lot, and throw and hit and run until the ball got lost or the bat got busted, or impatient Mothers started hollering that dinner was ready.

And July brought special dinners, too. The radishes, the tomatoes and the cucumbers were fresh off the vine. The green beans and the new potatoes were right out of the backyard garden. Crisp, sweet onions, too. All washed down with a big glass of buttermilk. 'Twas enough to hold a fellow 'till the evening meal came — and then you could look for more of the same.

AND, IF IN JULY a fellow had an eye for other delicacies, it was the month to wander past the neighbor's orchard and cast a covetous eye on the big plump peaches that were beginning to soften, it seemed ever so slowly. Dast one ask for a peach or two, or dast one try and snatch a couple?

And the watermelon patches, it took a stroll out in the country, not too far, to locate those places where farmers had seemingly deliberately planted close to their houses. But wait, the melons would be round and fat, and have a heavy thump to them in just a little while, and perhaps the night would be dark—

OR, ON A HOT July afternoon, a fellow could snag a little burro down by the creek, and ride him up through the cockleburs that were tree high. And pretend he was a mighty mounted warrior going after the black knight. But burros and cockleburs discourage this crusade thing after awhile, particularly along the creek bank.

July was the time to stick a big toe in the pond, find the water was just right, take a stealthy look around to see that there were no intruders, shuck off the britches and jump right in. You can't beat July for naked kids in a swimmin' hole.

BUT THE JULY sun encouraged moments for dreaming, too. Best accomplished if you happened to have a bent after the black knight. But burros and cockleburs discourage this crusade thing after awhile, particularly along the creek bank.

July was a time for harnessing horny toads, counting the legs on a centipede, watching the scissor-tails teeter on the phone wires, or wondering where you left your straw hat, your Mama wouldn't paddle you for losing it.

JULY IS A lazy time, a languorous and slumberous time. A time to fiddle the hours away, to drift, and to dream. July is a fine month for a boy, if he can just be left alone. —BOB WHIPKEY

A President Calls On A Pope

ROME—As President Kennedy is received in private audience by Pope Paul VI the procedure is expected to follow closely President Eisenhower's call on Pope John in December, 1959.

The Vatican gist of the Catholic President will not be a state or official affair. Consequently Kennedy will not have to wear a top hat, white tie and tails in broad daylight. He will wear a dark business suit as did Eisenhower. Members of the Kennedy party also will be in daytime dress.

KENNEDY WILL be driven into the courtyard of St. Damasco and there probably will be met by Monsignor Verolino, Secretary of the Sacred Congregation of Ceremonials.

The President then will take an elevator to the second floor of the Pope's private apartment where he will meet the Pontiff in his library study. It is a long, handsome room with the Pope's spacious work desk at one end.

BEFORE HE reaches the library study Kennedy will pass through a series of beautiful rooms in which he will get a glimpse of Vatican pomp and ceremony. For in this series of rooms will be stationed the Pontifical Noble Guard in dress uniforms of scarlet, white and black, with spongy tails falling from gleaming helmets to their hips.

The Palatine Guard, the Swiss guards and the chamberlains of honor of cape and sword, in their white ruffs and medieval costumes, also will be stationed in the rooms.

IT IS EXPECTED Pope Paul will receive the President alone for 15 to 20 minutes, as was the case when Eisenhower came here. Then the door to the papal study will open and Kennedy will summon into the Pope's presence his highest-ranking advisers, including Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

After the President has presented the top men of his official party the Pope will go into an adjoining room to meet the lesser dignitaries in the group, as well as American newsmen accompanying Kennedy on his European trip.

THEN, AFTER A Pontifical blessing for all the audience will end. The whole ceremony is not likely to last longer than an hour and a quarter.

If the President were making a state visit, the protocol would be much starchier. Such an occasion calls for a stop at the Basilica of St. Peter's, a call on the Vatican Secretary of State and the playing of the visitor's national anthem.

IN KENNEDY'S CASE there is rumor "The Star Spangled Banner" may be played anyway when the President arrives, even though it is an unofficial visit.

When Eisenhower visited Pope John the President's son John and John's wife Barbara remained with the lesser dignitaries and the press. Eisenhower did not call them in to meet the Pope when he summoned in the high-ranking officials with him.

HOWEVER, the guessing here is that if Kennedy's sister, Mrs. Eunice Shriver, accompanies him to the Vatican she will not wait with the White House correspondents while the top-rankers go in for the secondary meeting.

EMPLOYERS, LOOK HERE: The Georgia USES affiliate ran an advertisement asking businessmen: "Why go fishing for the right man? You won't if you hire through the Employment Service. No fee is charged. The Cleveland affiliate of USES advertised in the Plain Dealer (May 20, 1962) for a superintendent with 10 years' experience at $23,754 a year, for a mechanical engineer workers as to get them on payroll. Robert Goodwin, administrator of Employment Security, says USES concentrates better than 90 per cent of its efforts on workless placement. All this sounds fine until the trumpet of bureaucratic imperialism is heard in the land. The trumpet has sounded a war call against private enterprise in this field. It has blared forth in self-praise to the accompaniment of busy hammers building stately mansions for the federalized job-controllers. If you think this is over-writing the prose and understating the case, here are some earthy examples:

It listed jobs that would hardly interest underprivileged, under-educated Americans for whom USES was intended: jobs requiring high school graduation, college graduation, business administration degrees, shorthand, typing and technical "experience."

The Cleveland Local 11, Chain Service Restaurant Employees Union, New York State, notified its members (effective October 15, '62) that anybody looking for a job must do so through USES, and that "Any deviation in securing help from the above procedure will be regarded as a violation of your contract."

THE GILDED DOOR: The Dayton Ohio, affiliate of USES (May 29, 1962) segregated employed and unemployed persons by setting up a downtown office for the former and gave this reason: "The basic reason for establishing the downtown office (7,000 square feet, including conference rooms, testing rooms and counseling facilities) is that workers in these white collar fields do not want to be associated with the image applied by an unemployment office."

Federal Imperialism At Work

WASHINGTON—Regional offices of the U. S. Employment Service (USES) in something like 20 or 22 states were run out of money as the fiscal year ended June 30th. This means that the nation's army of unemployed is being short-rationed on job-finding services. These are guaranteed them by a law that has been on the books since 1933. But it means more than that.

It means that one of President Kennedy's well-intentioned policies has gone awry, that his subordinates who run USES are caught red-handed in a hard-hearted game of empire-building; that the Congressional investigation called for in this place a while back is now almost a certainty.

MR. KENNEDY'S policy has been for USES to find jobs for employed and unemployed alike. Labor Secretary Wirtz has said it is just as important to upgrade workers as to get them on payroll. Robert Goodwin, administrator of Employment Security, says USES concentrates better than 90 per cent of its efforts on workless placement. All this sounds fine until the trumpet of bureaucratic imperialism is heard in the land. The trumpet has sounded a war call against private enterprise in this field. It has blared forth in self-praise to the accompaniment of busy hammers building stately mansions for the federalized job-controllers. Get Inoculated Before Traveling Abroad

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: An argument has started in our family over the use of human waste for fertilizer. One side declares that it is safe and has been used for years in Europe.

The other side argues that any disease germs or viruses would be carried to whatever fruits and vegetables it was used on.

Me, I have two bushels of canned tomatoes which were given to me, that I won't be able to touch until I know for sure, one way or the other.—Mrs. D.

The precise truth is somewhere between the two arguments. Human excreta is used in many other countries, perhaps most of all in the Orient. It contains nitrogen and other elements useful in fertilizer — but the fact that it is used does NOT mean it is safe.

Harmful germs may often be present. This does not mean that the diseases are transmitted to the plants and thus back to people who eat the plants.

However, germs can, obviously, get onto the outside of fruits and vegetables, carried there by wind, splashing rain, birds, insects, and the hands or garden tools used by people working in the fields.

Principal risks are dysentery and typhoid, both under good control in this country, but if the germs start getting around, these are dangerous diseases.

That's why some travelers have typhoid shots before going abroad — and the smart ones also have paratyphoid inoculations. That's also why travelers are warned against drinking water, or eating uncooked fruits or vegetables, except in the bigger cities. Paratyphoid germs can make people pretty miserable, unless they have had shots.

People living in those areas develop resistance to these germs and eat without difficulty the foods that can make Americans decidedly ill, unless we have been vaccinated. I read quite recently of a group of travelers. All had unhappy experiences with diarrhea, except for one or two who had the foresight to get typhoid-paratyphoid shots.

For such reasons, I am most definitely opposed to the use of human excreta, or "night soil" as it is called in some places.

In some foreign countries in which the people are living very close to the edge of starvation, I don't see any likelihood that we can persuade them to abandon this small amount of fertilizer for their hard-pressed farms. We have no such excuse here, where safe fertilizers are plentiful.

As to all those canned tomatoes, they'll be safe to eat if you stew them. The cooking will destroy harmful bacteria if any are present.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is there any way to stop a boy of 19 from snoring? My son seems to be getting worse. We wake him up and he goes right back into his snoring.—A. B.

It's probably that he is a good sound sleeper, and gets so relaxed that his palate flutters, giving off the noise.

Most likely causes that may be helpful are: (1) have him examined to see that no nasal obstruction is causing him to be a mouth breather; (2) try to get him to sleep on his side, because lying on the back accentuates the snoring.

Note to R. O. B. Polycythemia vera involves an over-production of red cells in the blood — quite the reverse of the vastly more common problem of anemia. Drawing off a quantity of blood every several months is one way of meeting this problem.

Never take a chance of diabetes! For better understanding of this disease, write to Dr. Molner, in care of The Herald, for a copy of the booklet, "Diabetes — The Sneaky Disease." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of handling.

Because of the tremendous volume of mail received daily, Dr. Molner regrets that he cannot answer individual letters, but whenever possible, he uses readers' questions in his column.

Peter Fonda--Second Generation's Leader

Talking with Peter Fonda, and his wife, Susan, is like playing roulette—you never know where the conversation ball will bounce next. This personable young couple seem to take rare delight in whatever activity they participate, be it working in the yard of their new Coldwater Canyon home or planning an evening out. Their home reflects not only the good taste of both but the many-faceted aspects of their personalities.

Tammy's A Nurse Now

The first "Tammy" motion picture "Tammy and the Bachelor" was made in 1957, the second "Tammy Tell Me True" in 1961. Tammy is back in town. The doll from the bayous returns come Thursday, in her third screen adventure.

The picture is "Tammy and the Doctor" and as you might imagine, this time she is mixed up in medicine, with more complications than ever Kildare or Casey dreamed of.

Once again Sandra Dee portrays Tammy and tall, blue-eyed Peter Fonda is the MD with whom our Tammy undertakes a scientific experiment in love, including testin' for kissin' Young Fonda, best of the crop of second generation stars, is a re-creation of his father's early charm.

Storywise, the irrepressible Tammy deserts the backwater country of Mississippi for a trip to Los Angeles. What happens to a lil' ol' river girl in a hospital full of handsome interns, probing doctors and kookie patients amounts to a bedlam, all mixed up with a love story. It seems that Tammy's old friend, Mrs. Call, is stricken with a heart attack. Tammy accompanies the old lady to Los Angeles, and in order to stay near her friend, gets a job at the hospital. Love blooms between Tammy and a young surgeon but there are obstacles in the path of true passion. Doctors have no time for marriage. And Mississippi girls have got to know the difference between good kissin' and bad kissin'.

Returning

Robert Taylor and Julie London co-star in "Saddle the Wind," heavy Western dramatic classic returning to the Jet Drive-In Theatre. The picture is co-billed with "One-Eyed Jacks."

When it comes to art, I have to eat humble pudding," says Susan. "Several years ago, long before we thought seriously of each other, we met at a friend's place in San Francisco. We spent an afternoon together at Carmel where Peter, despite my protests, bought an oil of a pitiful little girl. I agreed with him that it might be a good painting, but it made me sad, and the subject was so depressing. It doesn't make me sad anymore—it was a Keane. Peter paid $20 for it."

The house the young Fondas acquired in Coldwater Canyon reflects the good taste as well as versatility of the young couple. Unlandscaped and unfurnished, the "shell" of a house was quickly transformed into one of the most liveable, colorful, warm and individual of homes by Peter and Susan, who worked together on both the landscaping and interior decorating.

"We almost gave up on the landscaping," laughed Peter, and his expression hinted some kind of "private joke."

BIG SURPRISE
"Peter decided to surprise me," explained Susan. "So, one day while I was away shopping, Peter planted the entire backyard with Ivy Geranium. He was so proud and all I did was cry. I am allergic to Ivy Geranium. Then he contracted a landscape gardener to put something else in as by this time he was busy with his role in "Tammy." The gardener put in Ajuga. I'm allergic to that, too. So then, Peter told me to choose something not only that I'd be allergic to but that I'd like. I chose Ornamental Strawberry. You won't believe it—but Peter's allergic to that! We're still trying to decide what to do now. I think we'll get 'veridis' gravel."

BEST COOKING
"When it comes to cooking—we enjoy a true esprit de corps. Neither of us likes to cook, we enjoy eating out—and it seems the love of good dining places in Los Angeles is virtually inexhaustible—as is our appetite," they both admitted.

And inexhaustible is a word which aptly describes Peter and Susan Fonda—in talent, energy, enthusiasm and interests.

'The Robe' Classic Returns To Screen

Twentieth Century-Fox's production, "The Robe," continues to prove that it is one of the great films. The CinemaScope, De Luxe color presentation is now being shown at the Jet Theatre, with Richard Burton, Jean Simmons, Victor Mature and Michael Rennie heading the cast.

Though "The Robe" is a spectacle film, it is never so at the expense of the intimate dramatic story which Lloyd C. Douglas told so well. This is the story which centers upon Marcellus, a Roman tribune who gambled at the foot of the Cross where Jesus was slain and won the garment—the Robe. He wore to His death. It is, moreover, the story of guilt and repentance, of Marcellus' conversion to Christianity and of the final absolution and great love he experiences.

But "The Robe"—for all its pageantry of the hill of Calvary, the Holy Land, the court at Rome and the emperor's palace at Capri—is as effective in its etching of individual characters as in its representation of the mass. One feels deeply for the plight of Marcellus, and as much so for his Greek slave Demetrius, whose early conversion eventually leads

Radio-TV Editorials Due Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House subcommittee has announced it plans to look into radio and television editorializing.

Rep. Walter Rogers, D-Tex., said hearings will open July 15 before his subcommittee with members of the Federal Communications Commission, broadcasters and members of Congress due to appear.

Under FCC policy broadcasters are given the right to editorialize "only insofar as it is exercised in conformity with the paramount right of the public to hear a reasonably balanced presentation of all responsible viewpoints on particular issues."

Rogers said the hearings will explore "whether this is the proper policy to be established by the government," and whether it is being followed by broadcasters.

He said a question has been raised whether editorials endorsing a political candidate conform with the policy.

Jack's Back

Marlon Brando returns in "One-Eyed Jacks," a rather unusual and entertaining Western, at the Jet Drive-In Theatre Saturday. He co-stars with Karl Maldin, the latter being the one-eyed jack who can't be trusted, specially when he's wild.

Starlet Has Nice Legs—All Eight

A talented little American performer named Rosie turns out to be one of the biggest scene-stealers of the new Bob Hope-Anita Ekberg comedy, "Call Me Bwana."

During the filming of the new Hope film, Rosie won considerable praise for her sensational legs—all eight of them, to be exact. Rosie is a tarantula, and already she has credits in three major films. A recent role had her crawling up the bare chest of Sean Connery in UA's "Dr. No." Previous to that, she had another crawl-on part in "Tom Jones," in which she frightened one of the heroines in a dark dungeon. This film also was for UA.

But Rosie gets her best close-up ever with Bob Hope in "Call Me Bwana."

ARNOLD PALMER & BOB HOPE
Which one's giving lessons?

Arnold Palmer Helps Hope Goof Up His Golf

A lot of people pay a lot of money to see the great Arnold Palmer in the midst of the game. You can see him for free when you go to see the new Bob Hope comedy "Call Me Bwana," the Saltzman-Broccoli production in color, opening today at the Ritz Theatre, under the United Artists banner.

Bob, who's no mean hand with the masher himself (and you can quote Bing Crosby on that), engages in a zany golf game with the Great Palmer in the midst of the jungle and the game is said to be really something, quite worth the price of admission itself. You may have seen a bit of it in a recent Bob Hope TV show.

As for other goodies in "Call Me Bwana," there's Anita Ekberg sharing stellar honors with Bob, and Edie Adams and Lionel Jeffries.

Now, what are all these fine people doing in the jungle? Bob, as a scientist, is out to recover a vitally important moon capsule which fell among a primitive race, and Anita, as the exotic secret agent of a "foreign power," is out to get Bob—at any price and by any means.

Bob, it proves, is not hard to get. Gordon Douglas directed "Call Me Bwana" from a screenplay by Nate Monaster and Johanna Harwood.

CAPT. R. E. COIL

Capt. Coil Transferred To Paine AFB

Capt. Richard E. Coil, 331st FIS armament officer, is being reassigned to Paine AFB, Everett Wash. He reports after temporary duty at Perrin AFB, where he will attend the F-102A all-weather flying training course.

Capt. Coil's flying career will be taking an unusual course as he becomes an all-weather interceptor pilot. He had previously flown with the Military Air Transport Service as a rescue aircraft commander. He had just completed a tour in Scotland, flying SC-54s, before his assignment to the armament officer's course at Lowry AFB, Colo., and then to the 331st in the summer of 1961. He was checked out in the T-33 jet trainer by 331st instructor pilots, and has since flown over 250 hours in the T-33.

Capt. Coil and his wife Joyce are both Texans from McAllen. They have two sons.

Lamesa Girl Makes Record

LAMESA, SC. — Sharon Martin, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Martin, has made her first recording and is awaiting the arrival of the first 1,000 copies so she can start selling.

The youngster, who will be in the seventh grade at Lamesa junior high school this fall, has been acclaimed locally for her voice and won first place honors in elementary divisions of this year's Dawson County Farm Bureau and Lions Club talent shows.

Her recording, contracted by Key-Ban-Done Recording Co., headed by Rev. Billy Thompson, pastor of the Church of God here and former entertainer, is a country western novelty. Sides are "I Wish I Was A Boy" written by the Lamesa girl, and "Run Samson Run."

When the recordings arrive, Sharon will appear in several downtown stores plugging her record and signing autographs. The shipment is expected in about 15 days from Nashville, Tenn. She plans four more releases before school starts.

During the interim, she has radio and television appearances scheduled in Odessa, Clavis, N. M., and in the Rocky Mountain jamboree in Denver, Colo.

Church Schedules Annual Picnic

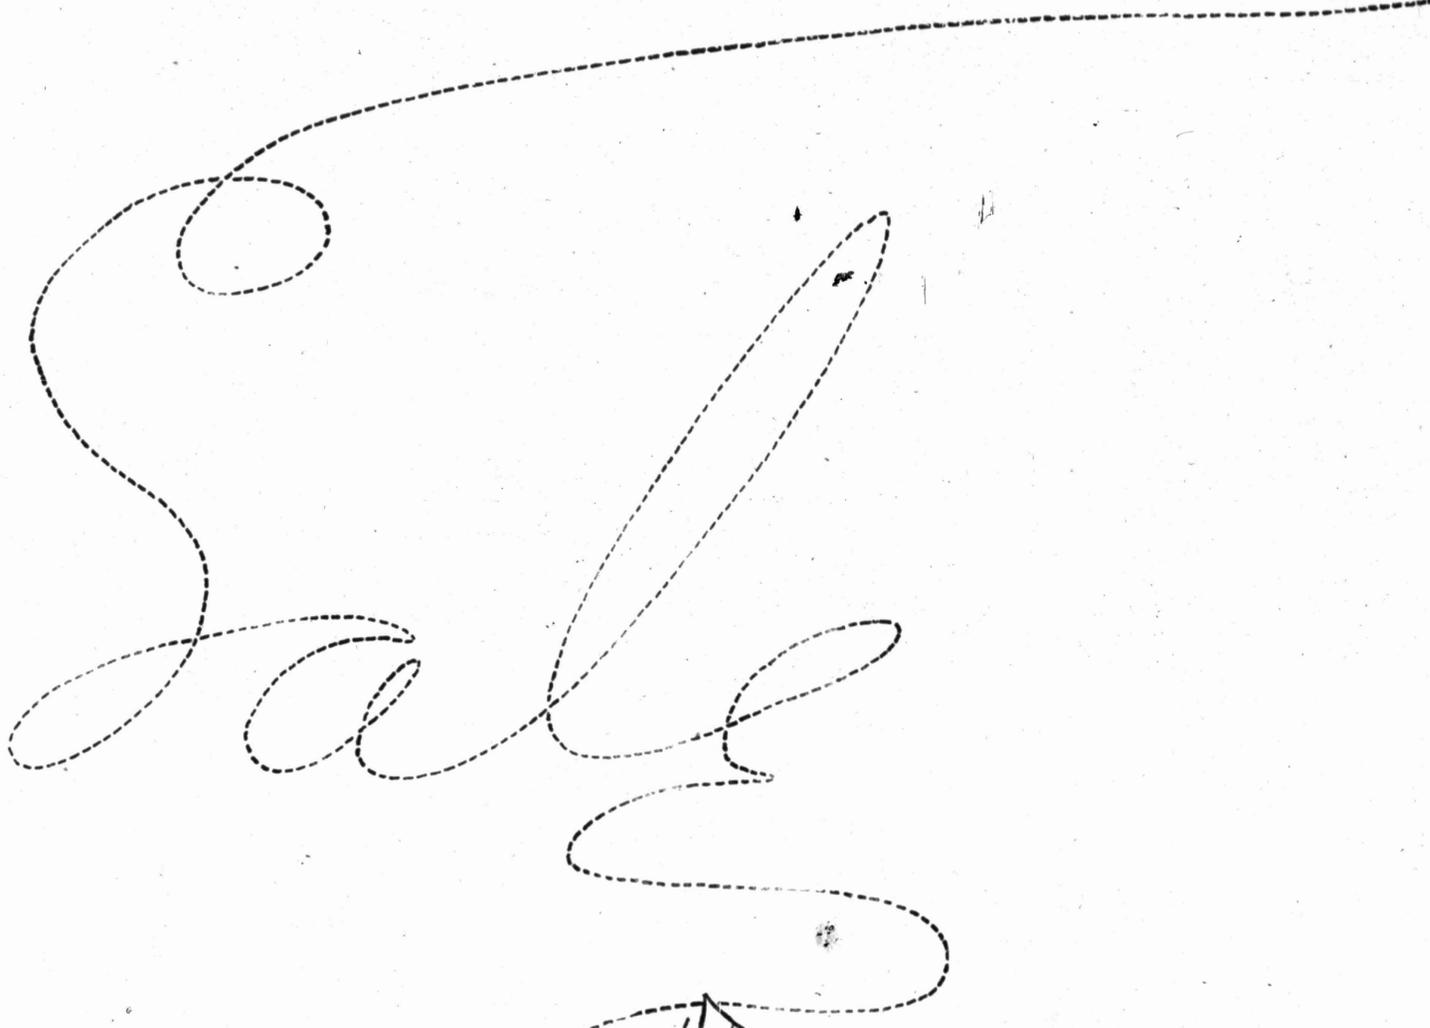

STANTON, SC. — The First Baptist Church will hold its annual picnic July 4 at the District Eight Encampment Grounds, according to the pastor, W. H. Uhlman.

The group will begin assembling around 2 p.m. Games will be played throughout the afternoon and the swimming pool will be opened. A picnic will be served at 6 p.m. and services will follow.

Relieved

Capt. Mathew N. Smith, who has served as chief of the Surgical Service at the Webb AFB Hospital for two years, has been relieved from active duty, and returns with his family to his native New York. Dr. Smith goes to Bellevue Hospital for a residency in neurosurgery. The Smiths' two children, Karen, 20 months, and Danny, four months, were both born at Webb AFB.
