Handful Of Good Eating

Beans to be served at Friday's Howard-Glasscock County Old Settlers Reunion barbecue got a fast once-over this morning during bean-pickin' time at City Park. Culling of the beans puts the finishing touches on preparation until cooking and barbecuing begins. Aiding with the chore were, left to right, Linda Mayo and Rita Mayo, former residents of Big Spring now living in Arlington. They are here visiting with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Moore. About 15 old timers also turned out.

Contributions Pep Plans For Annual Old Settlers Reunion

Weekend contributions have added more than $300 for the Howard-Glasscock County Old Settlers Reunion barbecue to be held Friday in City Park. Donations now total more than $525 according to Jess Slaughter, president of the association.

P. Ricker, Big Spring Theaters, Cosden Oil and Chemical Co., Hemphill-Wells Co., The Herald, Emmett Grantham, Toby's Drive-In Grocery, First Federal Savings and Loan Assn., Zacks, Morgan Coates, Elmo Wasson, Gibbs and Weeks, Lucille and Eugene Thomas, Prager's Mens Store, J. H. Homan, Big Spring Savings Association, Trinity Memorial Park, Joe Hayden, M. R. Koger, Mellingers and C. A. Walker.

Some 15 persons, most old hands at preparations for the annual event, turned out at the Old Settlers' Pavilion in City Park today to pick pebbles and other trash from some 200 pounds of pinto beans which are included on the menu. Most of the other ingredients for kettles and grill have already been obtained.

Rites Tuesday For Jesse T. Thornton

Jesse Toombs Thornton Jr., 55, founder of the Eleventh Place Shopping Center, 4-H Club adult leader and a leader in city zoning work, died at 2 a.m. Monday in a hospital following a lengthy illness. He had entered the hospital three weeks ago, suffering from a heart involvement. Complications caused his condition to worsen.

Services will be held at 3 p.m. Tuesday at the Wesley Methodist Church. A former pastor, W. L. Porterfield, minister of the Community Bible Church at Gruber, will officiate, and burial will be in the Trinity Memorial Park mausoleum. Pallbearers will be Ted O. Groehl Sr., E. P. Driver, Joe Pond, George Bair, Charles Tompkins, Grady Dunnam, Randall Polk and Jim Owens. There will be committal services by Masonic lodge No. 598.

JESSE THORNTON

Mr. Thornton was born in Walnut Springs on Dec. 23, 1907 to the late Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Thornton. (His father was for many years chief of police here.) After graduation from Sulphur Springs High School, he entered Texas Christian University in 1929 but withdrew after a year when crops failed at home. In 1928 he entered Southwest Texas State Teachers College with the idea of becoming a school teacher, but in another year he had to leave to take employment. His job was with a baker, working 12 hours a day. He determined upon a law course, and with 60 hours of college work to his credit, he entered University of Texas law school. Again economic conditions intervened, and he had to drop out to earn money.

Hardly had he entered upon a job with an insurance company in Austin when a younger brother passed away, so he decided to move to Big Spring to be near his parents. Mr. Thornton arrived here May 21, 1934 and the next day he was at work on a construction project at Cosden. By July he had acquired a position in collections at Texas Electric Service and continued with this firm until he acquired a small grocery business in 1943.

This was at Eleventh Place and Donley, and he saw the possibilities of a business center in that area. In 1945 he built a building and moved across the street, and added another unit in 1947, two more in 1950 and still another in 1954. He was a member of the Wesley Methodist Church, a member of Staked Plains lodge No. 598, of the Big Spring chapter No. 178 RAM, Big Spring Council No. 117 R&SM, Big Spring Commandery No. 31 Knights Templar, a past president of Big Spring Shrine Club, a member of the Suez Shrine Temple in San Angelo.

He was president of the Pioneer American Acceptance Corporation, a director of the Big Spring Savings and Loan Association, founder of the Thornton Insurance Agency, past secretary of the Big Spring Downtown Lions Club. At the end of World War II, he became a member of the panel which drafted the first zoning code for Big Spring, and for nine years he continued on the zoning and planning commission. In recent years he had taken an active interest with his daughters in 4-H Club work, and he served as one of the county adult leaders.

President Proposes Plan For Rail Dispute

Nuclear Test Ban Treaty Looks Near

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet sources said today a working party put finishing touches this morning on an East-West treaty banning nuclear tests in the air, outer space, and under water.

U.S. negotiator W. Averell Harriman was expected to initial it today or Tuesday and return to Washington Wednesday, sources in Washington said.

Drive Against Discrimination Is Announced

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new major national campaign against racial discrimination was announced today by the AFL-CIO.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said he will assume personal command of the effort. He named four other union chiefs to serve with him on a special committee.

Rails Pacing Market Decline

NEW YORK (AP)—Rails paced a stock market decline late this afternoon following news that President Kennedy had proposed that the railroad labor dispute be referred to the Interstate Commerce Commission for disposition.

Trading was moderate. Volume for the day was estimated at 3.5 million shares compared with 3.36 million Friday.

Simple Form Of Learning Spanish Is Guaranteed

Spanish SPEED SPEECH, which is now being offered in this area by The Herald, was discovered by William Archer, a Texan who has had years of training in languages.

With his method, you can learn to speak Spanish in only 24 hours. This is the first time that Spanish has been offered to anyone in such simple form, and The Herald is so confident that the plan is successful that a money-back guarantee is attached to every course sold.

A working knowledge of conversational Spanish is of tremendous importance in the Southwest, and the many people who vacation in Mexico would find it extremely helpful.

Judge Called 'The Enemy'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A recently appointed Negro municipal judge now is one of "the enemy" and will be picketed at his installation, the San Francisco branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People decided by an 18-15 vote.

In a heated meeting Sunday night, the branch asked Joseph G. Kennedy, 46, to resign as a national NAACP director and president of the Northern Area Conference.

Rescue Crews Still Search For Victims

QUEBEC (AP)—Rescue crews continued to search today for the bodies of 15 victims of the collision Saturday of an ore carrier and a freighter.

It was the worst maritime disaster in the St. Lawrence River since 1914, when the Empress of Ireland sank with the loss of more than 1,000 lives.

Apparently 33 men—31 Chinese, a Canadian and a Briton—from the 12,863-ton British ore boat Tritonica were killed.

The Tritonica sank eight minutes after the collision 45 miles northeast of Quebec with the 6,000-ton British freighter Roanah Head in a fog.

Eighteen bodies were recovered. Seventeen of the Tritonica's crew were rescued.

All 35 crewmen and 12 passengers aboard the Roanah Head escaped injury.

Big Spring's city jail was bulging at the seams Saturday night and Sunday morning. The cash box in the corporation court safe was also bulging Sunday night at shift time when the cash received from those pleading guilty and paying their fines was tallied. It held slightly over $835.

More than 60 arrests for drunkenness, vagrancy, disturbance, affray, minors in possession, assault, and driving while intoxicated were made between 2 p.m. Saturday and 10 p.m. Sunday, according to police activity reports.

Seventy-seven entries were made on the activity sheet for the 24 hours beginning at 6 a.m. Saturday and ending at 6 a.m. Sunday. The same period Sunday showed 46 entries.

PARTY BROKEN UP
One included the arrest of a man at 311 N. Scurry who was charged with possession of narcotics. Four were arrested for drunkenness, four calls were answered on domestic trouble, two for disturbances, five for prowlers, and two for vandalism.

R. L. Millaway, manager at Moss Creek Lake, reported to police that he broke up a Saturday night beer party among some boys. One of them shifted the city-owned pickup truck out of gear as they left, and it rolled back into another car. Police had a description of the boys' car.

Seven minor accidents were investigated Saturday and Sunday. No injuries were reported. One involved a car driven by minors, who backed it into a ditch at Moss Creek Lake. A wrecker was sent to pick up the car, and the boys were charged as minors being in possession of alcohol.

ACCIDENTS
Locations of other accidents, and drivers of vehicles involved, were: Unknown location, Trinidad Arsiaga, 215 NE 8th, and Joe Morda Garcia, 811 N. Goliad; 700 Lamesa Drive, Claudio Servin Lopez, Rt. 1, and Elyre Thomas, Webb AFB; Northwest Fourth and Lancaster, Manuel Hinojos, 408 N. Lancaster, and parked car owned by Ray Gomez, Lamesa; 500 block Northwest Fourth, Manuel A. Hinojos, 408 N. Lancaster, and a car which left the scene; Fifth and Douglas, Fallise Scott Lane, Coleman, and Billy Estas, 1609 Osage; 1219 Lloyd, Alex Walters, Jr., 1700 Harvard, and Richard R. Pfeiffer, 608 McEwen.

DR. STEPHEN WARD Christine Keeler Is 1st Witness In Trial

LONDON (AP)—The crown put Dr. Stephen Ward on trial before a jury of 11 men and a woman today and accused him of keeping pretty girls as sex pets for hire to men.

Christine Keeler, wearing a gold suit, was the first witness for the prosecution. The red-haired party girl's relationships with a British Cabinet minister and a Soviet Embassy aide came near to toppling Prime Minister Macmillan's Conservative government.

As she had done before, Miss Keeler denied a prosecution claim in historic Old Bailey court that she ever went to bed with the 50-year-old society osteopath. But she said it was with a man introduced by Ward that she first committed an act of prostitution. Prosecutor Mervyn Griffith-Jones told the jury Ward took a cut from the immoral earnings of Miss Keeler, 21, Marilyn (Mandy) Rice-Davies, 18, and other girls who sold themselves to wealthy Britons.
The prosecutor said Ward held Christine under a spell.

"Christine Keeler was completely dominated in some curious way, under the influence of Ward and being used by him, not only to make a little cash from intercourse she was having from time to time with men who visited his flat, but also to procure girls for his own satisfaction," Griffith-Jones said.
The prosecutor said Miss Keeler sought out girls for Ward and brought them to him.
The prosecutor said the high jinks took place in two apartments Ward rented in London.
A center of the vice, Griffith-Jones asserted, was a cottage on the Cliveden estate of Lord Astor, son of Virginia-born Nancy Lady Astor, in Buckinghamshire.
Ward was brought to trial on five charges—basically, living on the earnings of prostitution by Miss Keeler, Miss Rice-Davies and other girls who used his flats as a base of operations.

Designer Has No Edict For Dress Hemlines

PARIS (AP)—Jacques Esterel hedged on the hemlines as the Paris fall and winter fashion showings opened today.

Esterel, a favorite designer for movie starlets and other young performers in the entertainment field, accented gaiety and fun. But he laid down no edict on the hemline—some hit the knee-cap and others dropped to two inches below the knee, leaving the wearer to make up her own mind.

Esterel showed knee-high buttoned gaiters with many street outfits.

He exploited the peasant shirt for winter; one in camel hair with its white reverse side tailored and seamed in horizontal sections, worn with a gray skirt and high boots.

Others are treated to cape backs, or dress length fishtail backs on accompanying peasant shawls.

Esterel's showy fluid, flowing floor-length hostess gowns cut in voluminous circles and either forming fingertip tunics with batwing effects, or night butterfly lines, shrouding the figure completely.

The antifreeze look—reported to be popular this year in all houses after last year's rigorous winter—appeared in hooded coats, shawl wraps and head kerchiefs with built-in pillboxes, often covering evening glamor.

Agree To Air Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States announced today agreement with Britain and India to strengthen India's defenses against possible air attacks from Communist China.

Announcing the air defense agreement between the three countries, the State Department said that in the event of renewed Chinese Communist aggression against India "the United States has agreed to consult with the government of India regarding possible measures to strengthen India's air defenses in the light of the situation existing at the time."

The State Department said the agreement "does not, however, involve any commitment on the part of the U.S. government to come to India's assistance in the event of a renewed Chinese Communist attack."

Under terms of the agreement, the U.S. Air Force and the Royal Air Force will hold periodic, joint training exercises in India with the Indian air force.

The United States also will provide India with radar and communications equipment.
The first radar will be sent in the form of mobile units until fixed radar units can be installed in Buckinghamshire.
The United States also will provide training for Indian technicians in the operation and maintenance of mobile and fixed radar installations and communications equipment.

One of Taylor's most controversial proposals in that book called for replacement of the joint chiefs with a single chief of staff supported by a military advisory committee.

Ready For Another Picnic—On Land

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—"Let's have another picnic."
So said Christy Martine, 3, who was rescued Sunday after she had been lashed for nine hours to the bow of a swamped boat in Lake Pontchartrain.
"But this time not in the water," she said as she rested in a hospital here.

She and a Catholic priest, the Rev. Anatole Baillergeon, O.M.I., 40, a professor at the Oblate Seminary at Natick, Mass., were pulled, nearly unconscious from the water Sunday.
Another priest, the Rev. John Sauvageau, O.M.I., 45, of New Orleans, swam seven miles to shore, without a life preserver. He summoned the Coast Guard. Father Sauvageau made the swim towing Lana Fagot, 14, buoyed up by a plastic ice box and a life preserver fashioned from a boat seat cushion.

Mrs. Jean Martine, 26, the mother of Christy, also with a life preserver, swam some five miles toward shore before she was picked up.
Father Baillergeon, who could not swim, stayed behind to take care of the child until help came.
The 18-foot motorboat, which was swamped in a sudden squall, settled in about 12 feet of water, with the bow of the boat above the surface. The boat was about seven miles from the north shore of the 24-mile wide lake.

Father Baillergeon tied the little girl to the boat and to himself. After the other priest gave the alert, a Coast Guard helicopter picked them up. Another boat picked up Mrs. Martine.
The boating party had crossed the lake from New Orleans to visit some church people who were picnicking on the north shore.
Mrs. Martine is secretary to Father Baillergeon. The Fagot girl is her baby sitter. They were returning from the picnic when the mishap occurred.

Gen. Taylor Blends Into Chief's Post

EDITOR'S NOTE—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, formerly a controversial figure in defense policy battles, has been blended into the background as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. From personal observation and almost a dozen interviews, AP military affairs writer Fred S. Hoffman presents this report on how Taylor is doing in his second hitch as the country's chief military man.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, once a firebrand in defense policy battles, has been packed away his "Uncertain Trumpet" and deliberately blended into the Pentagon background.

In the year since President Kennedy chose him as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Taylor has kept away from the public eye while developing his chosen role—that of a bridge between the professional military and the civilian authority.

He has purposefully subordinated himself as Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's chief military adviser.

AVOID CHANNEL
From all available evidence, Taylor has avoided trying to keep open any special channel to the White House where he served as Kennedy's personal military adviser before the President elevated him to JCS chairman.

But he retains undiminished stature at the White House where the multilingual soldier-scholar is accepted as an intellectual equal.

Those in position to know say McNamara and Taylor make a good team. Both are strong willed men of firm opinions. They have differed, and will again, but there is mutual respect.

There is respect, too, between combat-veteran Taylor and the other military chiefs—but the Air Force and Navy feel the JCS chairman still has too much of an Army point of view.

On a number of key issues, Taylor has disagreed with all the service chiefs—Gen. Early G. Wheeler, Army chief of staff and a protégé, as well as Gen. Curtis LeMay, Air Force chief of staff, and Gen. George W. Anderson, soon to leave as chief of naval operations.

NO CONFLICT
These disagreements have been marked by an absence of personal conflict.

A year ago, there were all sorts of predictions that Taylor would clash heatedly and repeatedly with LeMay and possibly Anderson.

This was because of Taylor's background of strong partisanship for Army views and his record of conflict particularly with the Air Force in the days when he was Army chief of staff during the Eisenhower administration.

People remembered the stands he took in the "Uncertain Trumpet," a book he published after retiring as Army chief in 1959.
The book was a blast at Eisenhower administration defense policy, particularly reliance on massive nuclear retaliation and what Taylor considered neglect of conventional forces, especially the Army.

PROPOSAL
One of Taylor's most controversial proposals in that book called for replacement of the joint chiefs with a single chief of staff supported by a military advisory committee.

When Taylor, his chest stacked with ribbons, appeared before the Senate Armed Services Committee last August he declared: "I am not returning, if you gentlemen confirm me as a crusader for change but rather one to make the present system as effective as possible."

It should be noted that much of what Taylor has advocated in his book already had been adopted as policy by McNamara and his new civilian leadership before Taylor returned to the Pentagon last Oct. 1.

The slim, frosty-eyed general who jumped into Normandy during World War II with his 101st Airborne Division and who commanded the 8th Army in Korea has seen his doctrine of flexible response become the order of the day.

FLEXIBLE RESPONSE
By flexible response, Taylor meant the ability to deal with any kind of military threat from subversion and guerrilla warfare to all-out nuclear war.

Under the Kennedy administration, the Army has been built up markedly—although it still is 25,000 men below the million-man level he has advocated and still supports.

GEN. MAXWELL D. TAYLOR

Instead of moving to junk the joint chiefs system—as many had feared—Taylor has bent his efforts to streamlining its operations. He prods the joint Army-Navy-Air Force-Marine staff to develop studies and papers that are clear and persuasive, and to have them ready in time to have impact on the civilian leaders making the decisions.

Taylor tries to make certain the views of the chiefs—their separate positions as well as his own, which may differ—reach McNamara and the President in time to figure in the decisions to be made. The chairman's duty, he believes, is to see that every service gets its day in court.

During the Eisenhower days, the emphasis was on reaching a compromise—on avoiding "split papers," and some decisions were delayed as much as two years until some compromise was ready to be forwarded topside.

ENCOURAGES
In contrast, McNamara encourages the presentation of individual views.

But the defense secretary is more demanding. He requires that all presentations spell out reasons and alternatives. It no longer is enough for the JCS to send up a paper saying simply "the joint chiefs recommend."

McNamara, hard driving and sometimes accused of being ruthless, is admired by Taylor who has been accused of being ruthless himself.

The defense secretary and the JCS chairman are on a "Bob" and "Max" footing and lunch together at least once a week.

McNamara does not stand on protocol. If he feels the need to, he sometimes comes down one flight from his spacious office to visit Taylor in the chief's suite on the Pentagon's second deck.

When Taylor sits in with the top level National Security Council at the White House, he does so on McNamara's invitation.

Of course, Taylor's relationship with Kennedy has definitely changed from the time he was on the White House staff as the President's military adviser. He sees Kennedy much less, but he feels his words carry greater weight now by virtue of his position as JCS chairman representing the other military chiefs.

Taylor's influence remains undeniably strong in the executive offices. He has had a leading part in formulating policy on aid to Communist-threatened India, on the war in South Viet Nam, on a host of other problems.

During the Cuban crisis—which broke out only two weeks after Taylor moved into the JCS chairman's post—the general was picked by Kennedy for service on the "Ex Com," a top level group which charted U.S. moves that ultimately led to the Soviet Union's backdown.

NOTHING PERSONAL
Although Taylor sometimes splits with the other chiefs, there is nothing personal in their disagreements.

Some high Air Force officers profess to see a pattern in which they say, Taylor and Wheeler tend to line up on many issues against LeMay and Anderson. But top Navy authorities say they have detected no firm pattern.

On two major issues, Taylor opposed the stand of all the other three—LeMay, Anderson and Wheeler all favored pushing ahead with the Air Force's R70 bomber development and with the Skybolt missile. Taylor ranged himself on the side of McNamara against both projects. Both have been dropped.

Approaching 62, Taylor carries his age well. He is slender and wiry, and his iron-gray hair shows no sign of thinning.

The four-star general lives at nearby Ft. Myer, Va., in a comfortable home overlooking the capital.

Early in the morning, he walks much of the way to the Pentagon, cutting through Arlington National Cemetery where many old comrades lie.

A six-day work week is normal, but on Saturdays he shows up sometimes in a relaxed mood wearing a sport jacket and slacks.

Sicilian Widow May End Mafia Terror

ROME (AP)—A grieving Sicilian woman whose family was wiped out by Mafia vengeance finally said "basta"—enough. Because she did, 29 "mafiosi" (Mafia members) are now accused in 9 of 600 murders blamed on the Mafia since 1945. The shotgun blasts that killed Rosa Messina's husband and five sons ripped away the fear that had long stilled her tongue.

For the first time in a century and a half cracks are beginning to open in the solid wall of silence that has shielded the dread Mafia secret society from the law.

TYPICAL
The Messina case is typical of many pressures that may eventually spell the doom of Sicily's so-called "Honorable Society."

Word is out in the rugged hill country around Palermo in Sicily's northwest coast that the "gaddu Caiaris" (Cairo roosters) have begun one of the biggest "civari" (nestings) of all time. This is Mafia underworld lingo meaning that police patrols have taken to the bush in one of the most determined anti-Mafia drives ever.

Why is there so much expectation that this time the Mafia may be shaken to the ground, when thousands of Benito Mussolini's troops could do nothing in a similar campaign almost 40 years ago?

Part of the answer is to be found in the slaughter of seven policemen, blown to pieces June 30 in a booby-trapped car. They were investigating a similar time-bomb blast that killed two workmen the day before in a Palermo suburb.

SHOCKED
The deaths shocked the Italian nation. They launched a mass police roundup of suspected Mafia henchmen, with hundreds bagged so far. It prodded Parliament in Rome to move faster in a special commission investigating the Mafia. It gave Italian newspapers incentive to publish photos of wanted mafiosi and to write articles after articles against the primitive Mafia code of protection. The Mafia provides this protection in exchange for special considerations, with death and violence for those who get in the way, back out, or talk.

But the broader answer is seen in changing attitudes of the crowded island at Italy's tip, where Palermo is the Mafia's headquarters.

The Sicilians are beginning to see the world outside. Television and the new prosperity on the Italian mainland are showing them it is possible for people to live peaceful, private lives without being forever tied to a web of fear, extortion and murder.

FROM LONGER LOOK

Scientists Expect Valuable Information

EDMONTON, Canada (AP)—Scientists believe a longer look at the sun's eclipse will provide valuable information about solar flares and a better understanding of how the sun affects weather.

For 100 seconds Saturday Canadians got to see a total eclipse—a chance to pause in the moon's shadow as the earth's big satellite moved between this planet and the sun.

But high overhead, in a speeding jet transport, scientists raced along under the shadow at 525 m.p.h.—and got this reward:

They were able to see the eclipse for exactly 42.4 seconds longer than people on the ground.

Aboard the plane were astronomers, researchers, cameramen and astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter. They assembled here from all over the United States for this moment's chance to shadow a shadow.

Here's why: When the sun's bright light is blocked by the moon's interposition, scientists can study solar flares from the sun's surface—the ones which generate the radiation menacing manned space flights. They can also photograph "weak, distant lights in space—the ones which normally pass unseen because they are blocked out by the sun's bright glare."

The 42.4 seconds given astronomers by the speed of a DC8 jet is just the beginning of a new era of eclipse-watching, the experts say.

Plane builders expect a super-sonic transport to be ready for eclipses July 10, 1973, in northern Alaska, and Feb. 26, 1979, in the Pacific Northwest. They say such a plane could keep up with the moon's shadow, which travels at 1,700 m.p.h.

The eclipses can't be seen over more than a section of the globe because the moon, although large, is still too small to cast a shadow over much of the earth. That's why Saturday's eclipse was total only to a 10,000-mile arc over Japan, Alaska, Canada and Maine.

In other parts of the United States, a partial eclipse was visible.

Spencer Tracy Is Improving

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor Spencer Tracy was reported improving today from an attack of lung congestion suffered as he was going on a picnic with actress Katharine Hepburn.

Tracy, 63, was stricken Sunday in front of Miss Hepburn's Malibu Beach home.

An ambulance rushed him to St. Vincent Hospital where his physician, Dr. Karl Lewis, said Tracy was suffering from a congestive lung condition.

HOPE
For generations the Sicilian looked to the Mafia as his hope for the future. It was the "Honorable Society" and for many it will always be. No one opens a bar or a shoe store around Palermo without permission. No farmer's acreage prospers unless the Mafia gives its okay. For the entrepreneur that means "wetting the beak"—paying his secret taxes to the Mafia.

No prison or fortress is too strong, no foreign land too distant for the Mafia to catch up with those who break its rules.

A Socialist deputy from Sicily said 153 persons from his home town alone had been slain by the Mafia in the past 20 years.

"A democratic state cannot tolerate that any longer," he added. The parliamentary investigation, with every Italian political party in support, is developing a two-pronged approach.

One plan is to draft immediate emergency measures to hunt out the Mafia itself. The other is a long-range program to overcome the "state of necessity" by bulldozing the ground that allows the Mafia to flourish—poverty, ignorance, superstition—through a flood of economic, educational and social aid for the lethargic regions of Sicily.

Used Reactor Fuel Back From Sweden

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—A railroad flat car carrying 400 pounds of used but heavily shielded reactor fuel is on its way to Idaho.

The fuel arrived Sunday from Sweden, cradled in four lead-lined casks weighing about 12½ tons each.

The reactor fuel, valued at about $50,000, is the first to be returned to the United States for reprocessing under the Atoms for Peace program.

The casks were loaded on a special flat car for a 10-day trip to the Atomic Energy Commission's Idaho chemical reprocessing plant at the National Reactor Testing Station.

Miss Hepburn called the fire department for a rescuistator when Tracy was taken ill. She told the dispatcher the actor had suffered a heart attack. Dr. Lewis said later that was incorrect.

Tracy and Miss Hepburn are longtime friends and costars. They first appeared together in 1941 in the film, "Woman of the Year." Later they costarred in five other films, including "Adams' Rib" and "State of the Union."

The actor has long been estranged from his wife, former actress Louise Treadwell. Miss Hepburn divorced Ludlow Ogden Smith of New York and Philadelphia in 1934.

DEAR ABBY

Build Own Reputation

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and have just received a telephone call from the boy I've been dating. He told me that his mother didn't want him to date me any more because she had heard some things about my older sister. Of course, he said we could date on the sneak, but I don't like that idea. I have had girls tell me that their parents didn't want them to run around with me because of my sister. Sure, my sister has a bad reputation, but I have never done the slightest thing out of line. Why do brothers and sisters have to suffer because of something they couldn't help? I'm not the only one with this problem. How can I prove to people that I am not like my sister?

HURT: Don't try to "prove" anything. Build your own good reputation. Those who are not willing to judge you on your own record are not worth having for friends.

DEAR ABBY: I wish you could make mothers understand that no matter how cute their little darlings are, they are a pain in the neck to service men. When I go into a home to repair plumbing and heating, my biggest problem is combing the kids out of my hair. If they aren't watched, they get into my tool box and walk off with my tools. Or worse yet, they stand a chance of getting hurt. They ask a million questions and breathe down your neck. I like kids, Abby, don't get me wrong, but it's hard for a repairman to tell a mother to keep her kids away while he's working, so will you do it for us?

TEACHER: Tell your troubles to Abby. For a personal, unpublished reply, please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Getting married? For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BUDDY: I know why some golfers don't wear wedding rings. It interferes with their "swing"—and, oh, boy, how most golfers like to swing.

TELL YOUR TROUBLES TO ABBY. For a personal, unpublished reply, please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Editors Concerned Over Viet Nam News Obstacles

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Society of Newspaper Editors has told President Kennedy it is concerned over "indications that obstacles have been put in the way of American reporters in South Viet Nam."

"No one in ASNE has authority to comment in the name of the membership on events in Viet Nam themselves," Herbert Brucker, president of the society and editor of the Hartford (Conn.) Courant, wrote Kennedy in a letter released Sunday.

"What does concern many of us," Brucker added, "is the right to report without intimidation or obstacle tending in the direction of censorship."

In recent weeks, "as you are aware," the ASNE president told Kennedy, "there have been charges that Vietnamese secret police pumpeled, knocked down and kicked American reporters and smashed their cameras."

"And these events follow complaints over a long period that American reporters are hampered by the South Viet Nam government in going about their duties, and that sometimes American officials do not support their efforts to report events as they are."

The correspondents who charged they were assaulted in South Viet Nam, on July 7, are Malcolm W. Browne of New York, and Peter Arnett, a New Zealander, both of The Associated Press.

American correspondents sent telegrams to the White House, protesting the incident.

Slant Well Suit May Go To Jury

TYLER (AP) — The federal district court suit in which Texaco Inc. seeks $600,000 in damages from H. M. Harrington Jr. and others in a slant oil well case approached the jury stage today.

Final arguments were scheduled to begin soon after court convened after a weekend recess, and there was speculation that the trial which began only last Thursday would go to the jury in late afternoon.

Texaco claimed an oil well on the Harrington lease in the Hawkins Field was slanted to drain oil from the neighboring Texaco lease and asked $600,000 damages.

Harrington denied this. Named in the suit with him were Reid Allgood and Charles W. Lutes, individually and doing business as HAL Co., Charles Lutes, individually and as independent executor of the estate of Mary Noel Lutes.

Much of the testimony dealt with the possibility that a fault, or a broken rock structure, existed in the area of the Harrington and Texaco leases.

A. H. Douglas, consulting engineer from Longview and a defense witness, said he believed there was a fault between the two leases and that it put the Harrington

Mounties Legend Turns Out To Be Fictional

WASHINGTON (AP)—Alas, another legend has come crashing down: Canada's famed Mounties don't always get their man.

In fact, says the head of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, they don't even try to all the time.

"It would be utterly ridiculous to continue chasing a man through hell and high water, no matter what offense he had committed," Commissioner C. W. Harvison said today in a copyright interview with U.S. News & World Report.

The legend that the Mounties always get their man "was never true," Harvison said. "That expression has been built up—principally by Hollywood."

"We try to discourage young men who want to join the force thinking they will ride gorgeously across the prairies in their red coats to the tune of 'Rose Marie.' Our men can expect long, hard work and not much pay compared with the responsibilities they carry."

Regular size. Large economy size.

Volkswagens come in two handy sizes: Sedan and Station Wagon.

The packages are very different, but the works are about the same.

There is a genuine Volkswagen engine in the back of each. It gives both cars solid traction on ice and snow.

The engines are air-cooled, too. So you never mess with water or anti-freeze.

The VW Sedan seats 4 adults comfortably or 5 adults uncomfortably. (A mother, a father and 3 kids are about right.)

The VW Wagon is only 9 inches longer than the Sedan, a neat trick all by itself.

It seats 8 comfortably, 9 uncomfortably and 10 very uncomfortably, but it's been done. (The kids that fit are countless.)

The VW Sedan averages 32 miles to the gallon, the Wagon a mere 24.

Once upon a time, people had trouble deciding whether to buy a VW or not.

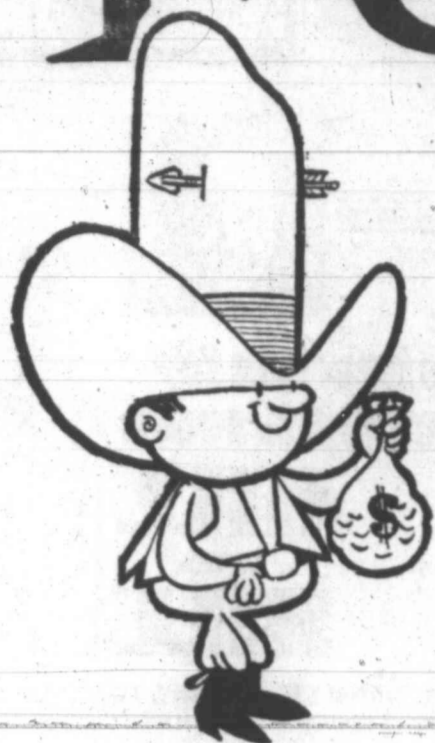

Now they have trouble deciding which size.

Miss Universe Has First Date At Coronation Ball

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Miss Universe, shy 18-year-old Ieda Maria Vargas of Brazil, had her first date at her coronation ball—a thronged formal affair with all the trappings of royalty.

Wearing her jeweled crown and a white floor-length ball gown, the black-haired Miss Universe acknowledged her 1,000 well-wishers Sunday night with a polite "Thank you," the only English she knows.

Her first dance in public—"in my whole life I think"—was with actor Dana Andrews.

The actor, seated at the head table, escorted the 5-foot-6 Miss Universe to the floor where an orchestra waited to play the "First Dance, the Dance of Miss Universe." Ieda's escort, Luis Menezes, 27, didn't show up in time, so Andrews took over.

"I'm a lousy dancer," he said afterward. Andrews speaks no Portuguese and Ieda speaks no English. "You might say it was awkward," said the actor, in Miami for a play.

Ieda won her title Saturday night over 15-finalists chosen from a field of 92 shapely beauties, Alno Korwa of Denmark was first runnerup; Marlene McKeown of Ireland, second; LaLaine Bennett of the Philippines, third, and Kim Myung-ja of Korea, fourth.

Language barriers created several uneasy moments for the world's No. 1 beauty at her coronation.

Twice she was left unescorted and without a translator at the head table.

When 5-year-old Sharon Gray of Miami, "Little Miss Universe," was asked to bow to Miss Brazil so photographers could take a picture, the youngster pouted, stamped her size-3 foot, and stated: "No, I will not. My daddy wouldn't like it because he doesn't think you're the prettiest girl. And I don't either."

As "daddy" wilted into the crowd, Ieda only smiled at the child. The big Miss Universe didn't understand a word of it.

While the orchestra played rumbas, sambas and mamboes—the 92 beauties took advantage of the pageant's last event to say their goodbyes. Many will leave today or Tuesday.

Ieda will begin her year's reign with English lessons and telecasts in New York City. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jose Joaquin de Vargas, who accompanied her to Miami, will return home to Porto Alegre and their other four children.

The shapely (35-23-36½) Ieda spent most of her day Sunday with photographers. Her morning started early, after 3½ hours of sleep, with a roll, coffee and posing for pictures in a pink bed jacket.

By midafternoon and after an hour in Miami's 90-degree heat, the fair-skinned Brazilian complained of being tired and was taken to her hotel penthouse where she burst into tears.

"It's all so much, so very much."

So many people, always so many people. And I cannot even understand them. It's so confusing," she cried.

Ieda's predecessor, Norma Beatriz Nolan of Argentina, said, "She will learn. The year will change her life, as it does for many who receive the honor of being a Miss Universe."

To Urge Negro Votes In Texas

DALLAS (AP)—The United Political Organization of Texas has launched a statewide drive to qualify half a million Negro voters in next year's elections.

The drive will involve 65 district directors, 350 area chairmen and approximately 25,000 workers in the state, the Rev. H. Rhett

James, state drive director, said here Sunday.

He said that the drive will also be aimed at getting out the Negro vote for the constitution amendment to repeal the poll tax in the Nov. 9 election.

James said the drive will stress "job opportunities through the ballot" and increased participation by Negroes in political activities both at the community and the state levels.

Plans for the drive were laid July 2 when approximately 200 Negro delegates from 126 Texas communities met at Austin. James said that a similar drive last year increased the number of Negro voters in the state from approximately 235,000 to 360,000 and that the new drive is aimed at bringing the total to 500,000.

Wets Win In Ranger Election

RANGER (AP)—Voters in the fifth wet-dry election this year approved Saturday the sale of liquor by a 46-vote margin, 658-612.

Drys were victorious in the first three elections by narrow margins. The wets won the fourth election by 11 votes.

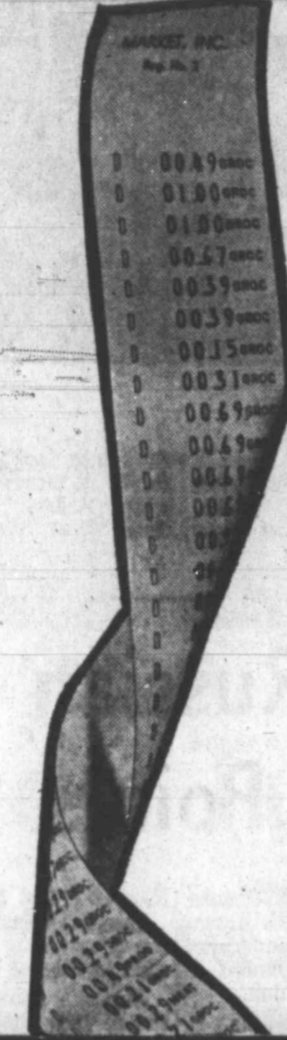

Angelo Store Lost To Fire

SAN ANGELO (AP)—A fire Saturday night destroyed the B.

W. Merchandise Discount store. Four firemen were treated for smoke inhalation. A spark from a floor cleaning machine apparently ignited some paint thinner and started the fire. Loss was not estimated.

Film Stars Tie Knot Sunday

NEW YORK (AP)—Film actor Robert Wagner and actress Marion Marshall were married Sunday by State Supreme Court Justice Joseph A. Brust.

Wagner was divorced from actress Natalie Wood last year. His bride previously was married to Allen Davey and to Stanley Donen.

The couple left for Los Angeles shortly after the ceremony.

DAILY GUIDE—Possibility of criticism from others giving you a little twinge of regret. If shopping or spending for pleasure in entertainment, count on paying more than you bargained for, or on expenses expanding. Leos can expect the criticism, while the Cancerians can expect expenses.

There is a strong accent on the stock market at this time.

Also this week Mars leaves Virgo, entering Libra so some of the violence and group demonstrations should simmer down. However, we must keep in mind that, with Uranus and Pluto in Virgo for several years, "revolution," strikes and outbreaks that were forecast here will be background problems for a long time.

Virgoans can hope to slow down after Friday, while Librans will be energized to take action and make decisions. Scorpius will have a strong accent this week, especially those born around Nov. 6. They may face confusing conditions and uncertainty, or in a constructive way be very creative, inspired.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, CANCER! A socially good year with the possibility of romance, if eligible. However, be alert in early October for complications caused by finances.

Emotional involvement could cost you some security funds. Career matters important all year, as you can collect recognition for past efforts and expand your influence. Daily routines and neighborhood matters are likely to be somewhat erratic for a long time, so adjust yourself to unexpected trips, communications, and changes in schedules and daily surroundings.

In August action is at home base with some special accent on expansion around the 28th. In November watch tensions caused by near kin or neighbors.

Nicklaus Wins PGA, Gets $13,000 Prize

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Big Jack Nicklaus, at the tidy old age of 23 and after a spectacular amateur career, has added the Professional Golfers Association title to his 1962 U.S. Open championship and his 1963 Masters crown. It has left him happy but hungry for more.

NICKLAUS, 23, won the PGA title by beating Bruce Crampton and Dow Finsterwald.

"I'm in this game of 69-73-69-69—279 on the 7,046-yard, par 36-35-71 Dallas Athletic Club course Nicklaus used 134 putts, which averages out to slightly more than 33 a round, and about 14 more than Jack's normal putting pace.

"I felt I could have made a 65 or 66 on the first round, about that or better on the second round—I was playing that well," he said. "I thought it would take 275 to win here and I thought there would be a lot of fellows—certainly more than just four—under par for the four rounds."

WHERE TROUBLE-FREE DRIVING ORIGINATES IN BIG SPRING
Creighton Tire Co.'s Big Spring Station at 601 Gregg Street

Creighton Features Tire That Never Lets You Down

If you enjoy trouble-free driving on your tires it probably originated at 601 Gregg where Creighton Tire Co. handles and installs Seiberling tires of all sizes.

Charles W. Creighton and Dalton F. Carr feature the Seiberling Sealed-Aire puncture-proof tubes, and Seiberling Sealed-Aire tubeless tires that stay balanced.

The firm has handled Seiberling tires—"The tires that never let you down"—for 33 years. Their customers continue to come back for more.

Efficient and friendly service is a feature of the station where car owners can get a good tire, a full set of tires, for passenger cars, trucks, tractors, and trailers, and get a full tank of gas at one stop.

Creighton Tire Co. continues to handle the Seiberling tires because of their long record of trouble-free driving on all vehicles using pneumatic tires. They stand up under tough road conditions and in all kinds of weather.

The personal service emphasized at Creighton Tire Co. has resulted in personal friendships kept alive by consistently good products.

Farmers and ranchmen who drive their pickups and trucks over all kinds of terrain have found the Sealed-Aire puncture proof tubes to be life savers when time is essential in carrying on their work. These tubes live up to the motto: "They never let you down."

Truck drivers, who must haul heavy equipment over rough ranch and oil field roads, find the satisfaction gained only from experience in using tires that stand up when moving heavy loads counts.

Tractor owners, combine operators, and heavy equipment drivers, all find the same quality enjoyed by passenger car owners who enjoy the trouble-free driving with Seiberling tires.

A trip by Creighton Tire Co., 601 Gregg, will convince you that Seiberling is a good buy.

Call AM 4-7021 for information on tires of all sizes, or go by the station.

LPG Gets Wide Usage Here Keeping Tractors Operating

A lot of tractors are running in the fields in Howard County and area burning liquid petroleum gas. Tractor owners find the gas to be economical, efficient, and minus a lot of mess when it comes to handling fuel.

S. M. Smith Butane Co., on the Snyder Highway, is providing the liquid gas fuel for keeping many of these tractors going. He also provides an outlet for Champion motor oils and greases used on heavy equipment. L. P. G. Engine Oil is also rated as the best lubrication for all engines burning liquid petroleum gas.

In addition to the tractors being fueled from Smith's tanks and trucks, many irrigation engines are using liquid petroleum gas, and there are many in the area.

However, farmers are not the only ones who rely on butane or propane gas from S. M. Smith Butane Co. Many home owners have gas water heaters, ranges, refrigerators, and air conditioning equipment using the economical gases.

Housewives find pleasure in preparing their meals on gas stoves.

A telephone call to S. M. Smith Butane Co., AM 4-5981, will give information to those wanting to change to liquid petroleum gas or to increase the uses.

Drive-Ins Make Meals Lot Easier

Tired of standing over that stove preparing meals for the family after a hot day?
There's a way to dodge this drudgery and still treat all the hungry mouths to a good evening meal.

H. M. and Ruby Rainbolt have three drive-ins in Big Spring. "Where Food and Drink are a Little Bit Better."

You don't have to take a bath, don clean clothes, shave, or have a hair-do, to get in the car and drive to one of three convenient places, sit in the car, order what you want, and enjoy eating it, without the fuss and bother of the kitchen. You can even phone in your order and have it ready when you arrive. You can also have your job-lunches prepared to take with you.

The three locations, and the telephone numbers, are: Wagon Wheel No. 1, Fourth and Birdwell, AM 4-6920; No. 2, 2011 Gregg, AM 4-2851, and No. 3, W. Highway 80, AM 3-4881.

Inquiry Today In Frisco Bomb Drop

ALAMEDA, Calif. (AP)—Naval Lt. R. A. Kiner, who unknowingly dropped a practice bomb into downtown San Francisco Friday, was to appear before a board of inquiry at Alameda Naval Air Station today.

Testimony at the opening of the hearing Sunday indicated Kiner lost the bomb through a faulty mechanism in his plane's bomb rack.

GOVERNORS' MEET

Political Dust Begins To Rise

EDITOR'S NOTE — The major topics at the annual Governor's Conference are civil rights and the political implications involved for Republican hopefuls for the presidential nomination, particularly New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater. In the following article, veteran AP political writer Jack Bell gives an insight into the high-pressure campaigning already in full swing.

By JACK BELL

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., kicked up a cloud of political dust over the annual Governors' Conference today with a whirlwind race for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

Goldwater, the man who isn't here, was keeping a hot pace with Rockefeller, on hand with his new wife and riding a civil rights horse with a heavy hand on the whip.

GOP National Chairman William E. Miller declined to assess the political results that might have been registered by Rockefeller, and by the Democratic governors who pinned a segregationist label on the Arizona senator.

PANIC

In Washington, a Goldwater aide said that the conference statements indicated that "the Democrats are beginning to panic because of Senator Goldwater's dramatic rise in popularity."

"Otherwise," this spokesman said, "I doubt that the Democratic governors would be engaged in low-level smear tactics."

Absent from the political firing front were Republican Govs. George Romney of Michigan and William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, both mentioned as possible 1964 GOP presidential contenders. Romney avoids all political discussions on Sunday because of his Mormon religion. Scranton is not attending the conference.

The Rockefeller objective was to draw a sharp line between himself and Goldwater on civil rights, the only issue the New York governor has been able to find to revive his slumping hopes for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

By all counts the conservative Goldwater has plunged into the lead since Rockefeller divorced his wife of 31 years and married Margaretta (Happy) Murphy, divorced mother of four children.

SENSATION

The blonde, attractive new Mrs. Rockefeller was a sensation at a preconference beachcomber party Sunday night.

Importuned by representatives of national television to appear on their medium with her governor husband, Mrs. Rockefeller answered that perhaps she might go on, "but not with him." The governor, though, said he might consider it.

Rockefeller, hoping the civil rights battle would boost his presidential stock, worked hard for an opportunity to get a conference vote on the issue. He seemed to have the support of most of the Republican governors in this cause.

GLOWING TERMS

GOP Gov. Paul Fannin of Arizona, who described Goldwater in glowing terms at a news conference, remained unsure whether he would support the New York governor's move to put the state executives on record as favoring a strong civil rights stand.

After a series of sharp news conference questions about his candidate's position, Fannin finally said that Goldwater was neither a segregationist nor an integrationist but simply "an American."

term, said Goldwater had come into the position of the civil rights issue occupied by "extreme Southern 'governors' opposing Kennedy's program."

GOP Gov. Henry Bellmon of Oklahoma quickly got out a statement in which he said that "anyone who calls Goldwater a segregationist falls in the same category as the John Birchers who have accused the conservative Arizona senator of Communist leanings."

NEWS ANALYSIS

gationist falls in the same category as the John Birchers who have accused the conservative Arizona senator of Communist leanings."

"CLEAR CHOICE"

With obvious reference to Rockefeller, Bellmon said that those who had injected Goldwater into the conference civil rights civil war were "closely aligned with the present national administration" and are "afraid to give voters a clear choice between the New Frontier frustrations and dynamic conservative leadership in our nation's highest office."

Goldwater has said he could support several of the recommendations Kennedy has made to Congress. But the Arizona senator has voiced opposition to the President's proposals for enforcement of desegregation of all businesses serving the public and to a provision which would permit the attorney general to bring school integration suits. Goldwater has proposed, however, that unions be made subject to fair employment practices laws.

Sanders gave support to the theory of many of Goldwater's backers that the senator can win the GOP nomination—and defeat Kennedy—by gathering support from the South, the border states, the Middle West and the western mountain areas.

SEGREGATIONIST

Sanders said that Goldwater "is thought of as a segregationist in Georgia." He added that Rockefeller wouldn't do well in the state as a GOP nominee but that a Kennedy-Goldwater contest would provide a horse race in Georgia.

Similarly, Gov. Farris Bryant of Florida said that Goldwater might carry his state. He added that Kennedy couldn't get the Florida electoral vote unless Rockefeller happened to be the Republican nominee.

Rockefeller drew back from accusing Goldwater of being a segregationist. He said, in response to questions, that "I haven't seen any statement which would classify him as a segregationist."

But Rockefeller sniped at Goldwater's stand on civil rights and said the Arizona senator ought to clarify his position.

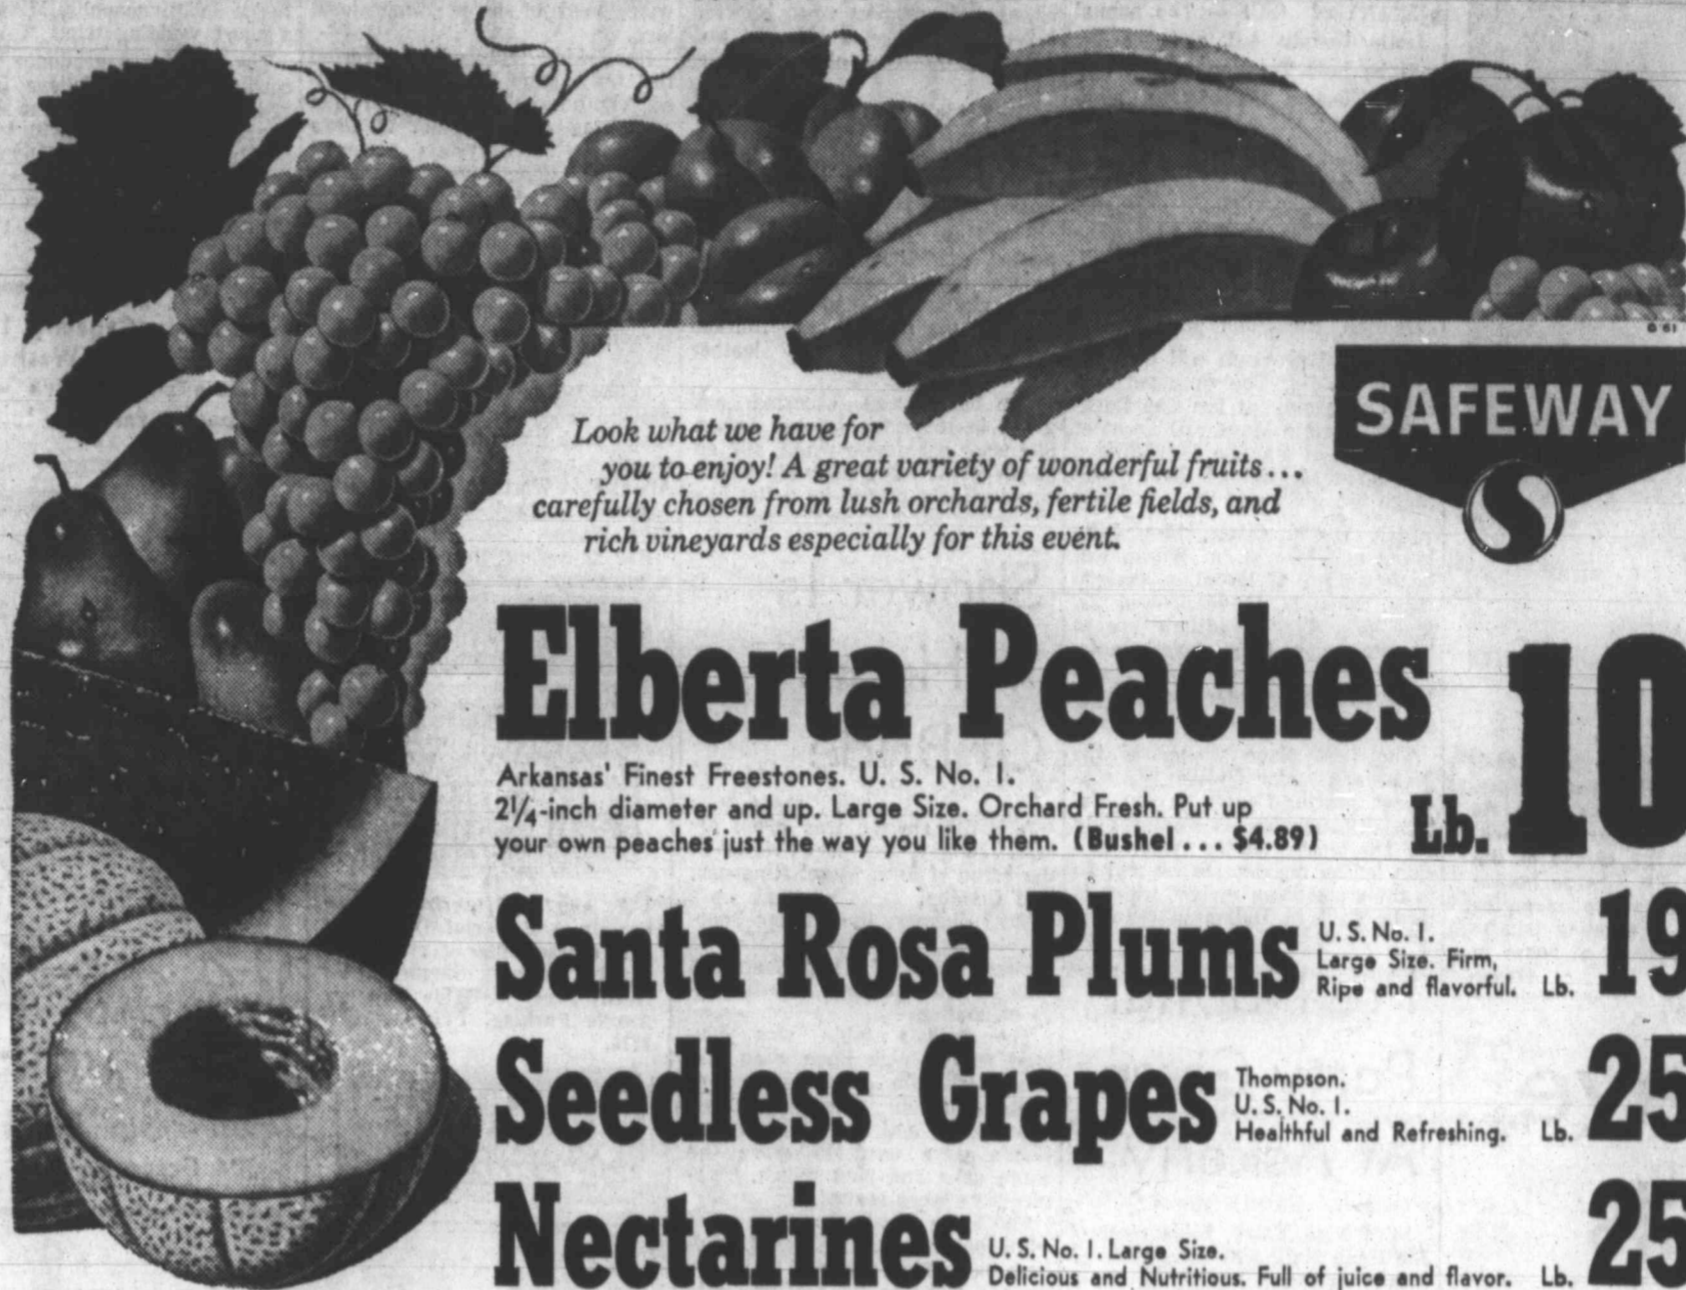

Teachers Get Pay Hike At Lamesa

LAMESA (SC) — An increased budget, which includes a $189 across-the-board raise for teachers, has been approved by trustees of Lamesa Independent School District.

The budget hike was accomplished without a tax rate change and provides for total expenditures of $1,461,000, up $125,000. State funds will amount to $747,000. Instructional expenditures are budgeted at $1,002,977, or up $86,000.

The salary increase granted to teachers puts the Lamesa district $300 above the state minimum scale. Increased enrollment during the 1962-63 term created six new teaching spots. The new posts will amount to an estimated $53,000. The district will hire nine new teachers.

Grace Lutheran Is Scene Of Buuck-Noak Nuptial Rites

LAMESA (SC) — Grace Lutheran Church was the scene Saturday at 7:30 p.m. for the exchange of wedding vows between Miss Drucilla Ann Noack and Arthur Allen Buuck of Fort Wayne, Ind.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Noack of Lamesa, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Buuck of Fort Wayne.

The Rev. Melvin C. Herring, pastor, read the double ring rites before banked arrangements of white gladioli and candelabra.

The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. She wore a blossom white, silk organza gown designed with a figure bodice accented by a flat bow.

Shower Is In Honor Of Bride

A bridal shower was given for Mrs. Johnny Roemer Friday in the home of Mrs. Merel Ringener, 2802 Clanton.

Mrs. Roemer, the former Sharon Mullins, was married May 31 in the chapel of First Methodist Church with the Rev. Dewitt Seago officiating.

The bride's table was covered with a pink linen cloth and decorated with a centerpiece of white gladioli and carnations.

Craberry and silver appointments were used to serve the white cake and pink punch. Thirty guests were served.

The bride received a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. R. H. Mullins, the bride's mother, and Mrs. John J. Roemer, the bride's mother-in-law, assisted in receiving the guests.

Hostesses were Mrs. Dee Bennett, Mrs. H. V. Crocker and Mrs. Eddie DeVore.

The Roemers are residing at 2800 Lawrence.

HINTS FROM HELOISE by Heloise Cruse

Dear Gals: I have had so many letters asking how to arrange kitchen shelves and in what order the canned goods go... that I have tried my best to solve the problem, and, I think I have.

Just think: "I need pickles, they are green," so look at that "green shelf" and find your pickles. They are always there. Also, when you go to the store and start making that grocery list just look at your green shelf and see how many green things you need... and so on down along the line.

I have tried keeping the m alphabetically... I have labeled the edges of the shelves with "peas, beans, spaghetti, pineapple" etc. It's a good system and I have used it for many years... BUT... it's time-consuming and when you get ready to go to the store it's hard to make a list of the things you need.

Then came the dawn... I have taught all of you to cook by color. Just why in this world NOT arrange these darn shelves by color?

Now, don't take me literally when I say "use a shelf," and think you have to use an entire shelf for this system. If you have only three shelves in your home for canned goods, divide those in halves or thirds and do the best you can. The left half of a shelf can be for orange things and the right half red, etc.

A Devotional For The Day

I, the Lord your God, hold your right hand; it is I who say to you, "Fear not, I will help you." (Isaiah 41:13, RSV.)

PRAYER: We thank Thee, our Father, that Thou dost guide us through the dark shadows of despair and defeat. Guide us past the pitfalls of pride and prejudice we pray. Lift us to our feet that we may walk henceforth on the road to righteousness; in the spirit of Christ. Amen.

Challenging Job

The new parks and recreation board for the city has been organized and introduced to its work.

Plats and information on existing parks and facilities are being prepared, and members are asked to give thought to future needs in long-range plans for all age groups in all parts of the city for all types of parks, playgrounds, ball fields, golf courses, swimming pools, etc. Under the circumstances, the board might also take a course in magic, for there is but $75,000 available from the Master Plan bond program for use in development and improvement.

This is not to indicate that the board is facing a hopeless situation. Indeed, the presence and the function of the board heightens the possibility that more can and will be done. Our parks system now will at least have a responsible conscience and voice.

The Chamizal

Terms of a proposed settlement for the Chamizal boundary dispute between the United States and Mexico have been announced. Under it, 437 acres would be ceded to Mexico, while the U.S. and Mexico each would receive 193 acres out of Cordova Island, an enclave heretofore under Mexican jurisdiction. If ratified, the settlement would also call for a re-establishment of the Rio Grande channel to conform with the new boundaries.

The proposal has not sparked unanimity, but there is a probability it will be accepted. For those involved, it will create some serious problems, particularly where facilities have been erected. These, of course, will have to be recompensed, all reasonable efforts made to minimize their discomfort and to establish them elsewhere.

Resolving the problem now will be somewhat expensive and painful, but each year that passes would make it more so, if not impossible. The agreement is regarded in some quarters as a removal of a thorn in U.S.-Mexican relations, although this is likely overstated for it has existed for half a century without becoming a burning issue or barrier. A more accurate appraisal perhaps is that the settlement can demonstrate the ability of two good neighbors to amicably come to an agreement to resolve territorial disagreements. The example ought not to be lost on some other areas of the world.

David Lawrence Just Give Them Good Schools

WASHINGTON — For a long time now, many people in the South have been saying that the newspapers of the North don't understand the "segregation" problem. But something has happened recently which indicates that prominent newspapers in the North — "The New York Times" and "The New York Herald Tribune" — are beginning to understand that "integration" isn't as simple as it appeared to be.

"Equal rights," for instance, are being found to be impractical. Even the literally applied in education. From the viewpoint of the Supreme Court of the United States — that a Negro child can't get as good an education in a segregated as in a desegregated school — is turning out to be more theoretical than practical.

PERHAPS THE most realistic editorial that has been written on the impracticality of racial equality in the public schools appeared last Thursday in "The New York Times." The full text is as follows: "New York City is doing some hard and needed thinking these days about how to give the Negro his equal opportunity in every way — education, jobs, housing, everything. That is good. But the Negro, equally with the white man, should be wary of easy solutions, quick remedies that seem to promise instant success. One of these is inherently unjust and inhumane. It is the quota system.

"IT HAS THE temptation of surface plausibility. If the population of the city is 15 per cent Negro, why shouldn't the Negro have 15 per cent of the jobs? If the population of Manhattan is 25 per cent Negro, then he should have 25 per cent of the jobs in Manhattan. Easy, isn't it? But go on from there.

"If this reasoning were valid, the quota should be immediately applied in every business, in every industry, and on every level — whether there were qualified applicants or not. And it would apply to religions, nationalities — and how many other kinds of divisions? Every floor in every office building would have to have its quota of color, race or whatever. To state the proposition is to show its absurdity and also its inherent evil.

"NOW LET US look at the public schools. With the best will in the world how, in Manhattan, can 'quota' be achieved even if it were desirable to do so? Negro and Puerto Rican children in that borough total 75.5 per cent of elementary school enrollment and 71.6 per cent junior high school enrollment. Citywide there are 117 elementary schools whose pupils are Negro or Puerto Rican by 90 per cent or more. These schools cannot be made 'whiter.' A satisfactory percentage of integration can be achieved neither by bussing, nor by zoning, nor by governmental fiat, nor by magician's wand.

"WHAT IS possible in this impossible situation? The Board of Education can do its best with the fullest use of the tried and true methods, which include the open enrollment policy of moving some Negro children to under-utilized

'IS TIME TO BE FRIENDS—YES?'

James Marlow Like Trotsky All Over Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — The actors are different but the theme of the play is the same.

Nikita Khrushchev's historic split with Mao Tze-Tun duplicates in a basic way Joseph Stalin's split with Leon Trotsky. Khrushchev has even obliquely called Mao, the Red Chinese leader, his own Trotsky.

In both cases the dispute was over when to be fierce. Stalin and Khrushchev decided on restraint, not because they lacked Communist zeal but because the odds were against them.

THERE WAS even a parallel between what Stalin did through a party congress to get support against his rival, Trotsky, and what Khrushchev is doing now. He has called for Wednesday a summit meeting of friendly Communist leaders. There is no question they will back him against Mao.

The Russian Communists had early assumed the success of their revolution depended in similar revolutions by Communists elsewhere around them. The revolutions didn't happen.

In the mid-1920s, with Lenin out of the way and his heirs cannibalizing one another, Russia was faced with Western forces too powerful to be attacked and perhaps too powerful to be withstood if they invaded.

Stalin decided he had better put the Russian house in order before taking chances; this meant building up Russian industry, which would be the backbone of an army, and just trying to make the revolution in Russia work first.

Thus the slogan of the Stalinist socialism in one country.

Diabetes Results When Body Can't Use Sugar Properly

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: Must I continue taking insulin when sugar has cleared up? I mean, unless I eat things with sugar like ice cream, cookies, etc.—M. J.

Yes, insulin almost always has to be continued. The patient also should remain on a diet, although not a stringent or unpleasant one. Let's explain why this is so, even when "sugar has cleared up."

Diabetes is a disorder in which something has gone wrong with the ability of the body to use sugar properly. The pancreas may not secrete as much insulin as is needed. (The degree varies a great deal in individual cases.) Insulin may be secreted but its action in the tissues is thwarted in some manner.

Thus giving insulin by injection supplements whatever amount the patient's own pancreas provides, and helps the body use the sugar it acquires from food.

The insulin does not correct the basic defect in the pancreas. When urine tests no longer show sugar, it means that enough insulin is being added to balance the sugar in the system, with none left to "spill over" into the urine.

If you stopped taking insulin, sugar would begin to build up again. Keep this in mind, too:

You derive sugar from sources other than cake, cookies or other confections.

A little more than half of the protein you eat is converted into sugar by the processes of digestion. Vegetables can contain from 3 to 30 per cent glucose (a form of sugar), depending on the kind. Fruits commonly run from 10 to 20 per cent, and some a little more. Dried fruits will run from 60 to 70 per cent, bread about 50 per cent.

Hence you continue to acquire sugar. The body gets along perfectly well if no ordinary sugar is eaten — and for best results, a diabetic should never take sugar, in the form of sugar in candy or used in cooking.

Except for that, it is usually possible to make the rest of the diet sufficiently liberal. It is true that after insulin has been used for a time, it may be possible to reduce the daily dose, but it is still needed. Only in rare cases can it be discontinued—these usually are mild, or even borderline ones, in which diet plus the diabetes pills can keep things under control.

As a rule, when a case has required regular use of insulin, you should expect to continue with it.

Note to Mrs. M. W.: If you are determined to take those "reducing pills," just remember that I urged you NOT to. The mild ones don't help much; the strong ones carry the risk of upsetting the nerves and undermining the health. There is an occasional case in which the pills depress an abnormal appetite. You must still learn to change your eating habits (no second portions or large servings, or nibbling, and selection of low-calorie foods).

"Daily Reader": There is no reason to believe that use of a diaphragm "bruises the womb and causes cancer."

Never take a chance on diabetes! For better understanding of this disease, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, for a copy of the booklet, "Diabetes — The Sneaky Disease." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of handling.

Because of the tremendous volume of mail received daily, Dr. Molner regrets that he cannot answer individual letters, but whenever possible he uses readers' questions in his column.

Around The Rim

A Few Items On The Lighter Side

How about the logic of that attendant of a pet shop who sold a large and ill-tempered watch dog to a family new to a neighborhood.

The new owners took him home but were back the next day, complaining that the canine was present when some of the light-fingered gentry had burglarized their home but the dog had slept through it all.

"What you need is a little dog to wake up the big dog," the pet store employee suggested.

THE ATTENDANT was probably no wiser, however, than the fellow who was asked, if he had his choice, would he rather be in an explosion or a collision.

"In a collision," he replied, without hesitation.

"How come?" he was asked.

"Because in a collision, there you are; but in an explosion, where are you?"

WHICH REMINDS ME, in a way, of the conversation between two sports enthusiasts.

"What did you think of the big fight on television last night?" asked one.

"Fight?" the other snorted. "If my wife and I had put on a show like that Saturday night, the kids would have boored us."

A WEST COAST writer tells about a fellow who came out of a building to find the side of his automobile bashed in. There was a note stuck behind his windshield wiper which read:

"These people watching me think I'm writing my name and address but I'm not."

I'VE HEARD ABOUT places so cold a man's words would come out of his mouth in pieces of ice and had to be fried to see what he was talking about.

HAVE YOU HEARD about that hen whose owners fed her sawdust rather than corn?

She laid 12 eggs and sat on them until they hatched. Eleven of the chickens had wooden legs and the 12th was a wood-pecker.

A LOT OF people who'd rather do a job than try to itemize it for the parties for whom they might be working.

Consider the case of the old colored gentleman who was told he couldn't get his money until he submitted a statement. After much meditation he evolved the following bill:

"Three comes and three goes, at four bits a went. $3."

THE BACHELORS in this life should perhaps have a better chance at eluding the yoke, as this story would indicate: "Do you think you could support my daughter if you married her?"

"Certainly," was the reply.

"Have you ever seen her eat?"

"Of course."

"Have you ever seen her eat when nobody was watching her?"

Go Forward With Understanding

The nation has its choice of several possible solutions for the civil rights drive of Negro citizens who at last are trying to obtain the basic justice long guaranteed them by the United States Constitution.

There is always the classic Nazi solution of any minority racial problem: the gas ovens. The concomitant of this solution, of course, is the enrichment of the white community by the expropriation of all goods and property of those exterminated.

THERE IS apartheid, in which this nation has had some slight experience (See Indians, Reservations of).

The nation can appropriate the necessary funds and send all colored citizens back to Africa in chains, the manner in which their ancestors arrived here. Expropriation of all Negro properties would pay for this transfer and the white citizen would not be out a penny.

Again, if these alternatives do not appeal to Congress, it can scrap the Emancipation Proclamation and vote for a return of slavery, with no holds barred and the Missouri Compromise out the window.

OR, CONGRESS can decree a return to the status quo 1954, a status quo with teeth that would keep the Negro in "his place," treat him rough and give him nothing.

There are these possibilities. And some have haunted the Senatorial hearings on the civil rights issue.

But the outcome of the civil rights drive by American Negro citizens has never been in doubt. The drive will succeed because the vast majority of Americans are just, and because justice, too long postponed, is on the side of the Negro citizen.

THE NEGRO is not demonstrating in the streets, at the risk of injury and death, because he enjoys it. He has taken to the streets because the rest of the nation has, for a century, been callous to his pleas for human dignity, the right to vote, to be treated as a man and for decent educational and employment opportunities.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk summed it up precisely when he told the U.S. Senate Commerce Committee: "If I were denied what our Negro citizens are denied, I would demonstrate."

THE NEGRO citizen can no longer be denied the civil rights so long overdue. But there could be no greater tragedy for the nation, once those civil rights are achieved, than deep and bitter hatred between colored and white citizens.

The gravest danger is that the Barnetta and the Wallaces on the one side and the Black Muslims and similarly irresponsible groups on the other will foment such a legacy of hate that white and colored Americans cannot talk to each other, after justice has been achieved for the latter.

CIVIL RIGHTS, which are inevitable, must not be accompanied by a residue of hate which will burden this nation for another hundred years.

There is no turning back now. The only hope on both sides is to go forward with understanding, with decent respect for each other and with confidence in our joint future. In this summer of crisis, it behooves the white citizen to take counsel of his heart and his conscience, and the Negro citizen to follow his head.

Republican War—Kennedy Peace

WASHINGTON—From now on, that's a Republican "war" in Cuba, just as it was a Democratic war in Korea. Ten years ago GOP President Eisenhower liquidated Mr. Truman's "police action" in the Far East. Next year, if the Republicans regain the White House, they will be as good as pledged to liquidate Mr. Kennedy's stalemate in the Caribbean. One after another the warriors of the party which freed Cuba from the Spaniards in McKinley's day are agitating for belligerency to liberate Cuba from Castro.

THIS MONTH Chairman Bob Wilson of the GOP Congressional Committee held up to scornful review the President's successive back-slides on the Bay of Pigs Air Support and on-site inspection for missile bases, his passive acceptance of Soviet troops and his active repression of the anti-Cuban freedom raiders. Thurston Morton, Wilson's opposite number in the Senate, gave a blistering run-down of the Kennedy policy. Sen. Allott of Colorado has twice come out for planting an exile Cuban government at the U. S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay. Goldwater has backed the plan. Curtis of Nebraska has boarded the battle wagon with both feet and Scott of Pennsylvania with one foot.

Republican legal researchers are probing for loopholes in the treaty which gives the use of Gito Bay for the protection of an immigration port. It is now argued that the protection clause can be stretched to include the restoration of free government.

CHAIRMAN JIM BATTIN of the House Republican Policy Subcommittee on Cuba and Subversion of the Western Hemisphere has pushed through a resolution for resurrection of the Monroe Doctrine. The House Conference of all Republicans is expected to endorse it. Sen. Mundt, along with Battin, has demanded full enforcement of last year's Foreign Aid bill, which intended to forbid military or economic aid to any country shipping either strategic or welfare goods (except medicines) to Cuba.

Mundt has listed vessels carrying goods into Cuba from January through May, 1963. He finds in this category 33 British ships, 23 Greek ships, 7 Italian ships and 2 Spanish ships—all from countries taking some share of our military dollar. He lists 5 Polish ships and 4 Yugoslavian ships—from Red countries still provisionally drawing U. S. favors.

FROM THE administration's viewpoint any unauthorized use of Gito would risk war by treaty violation, and any further curtailing of Cuban trade by allied friendly nations would have to be permissible. While the Republicans call their measures "short of war," theirs is the counsel of daring brinkmanship.

Republicans have read with alarm certain newspaper reports that Mr. Kennedy is ready to deal with Khrushchev for resumption of normal relations with Communist Cuba. Any formal treaty that included recognition of Castroism in the Western Hemisphere would be doomed in the Senate. But Republicans fear that the President will accept an unofficial but de facto package that trades a nuclear stand-down for "peace" in Cuba and Berlin. The price would be further loss of European confidence in America's trustworthiness as an ally.

DWIGHT EISENHOWER clinched the last Republican presidential victory with, "I will go to Korea." The next Republican nominee for President could well be handed a party banner with the inscription "Castro Must Go"—at whatever the cost.

Billy Graham

There is considerable antagonism to the Christian faith in one of my college groups. Is it true that "There are no absolutes" as one of the students said?

—A.N.

Of course there are absolutes. The statement made that there are no absolutes is itself an assertion of an absolute, although it is not true. Justice is absolute. His holiness, love, justice, mercy, etc. Here in this world, marred by sin, we see the effects of sin. Evil is itself an absolute revolt against God. The effect of evil itself is an absolute. Of course, this philosophy of good and evil being relative only opens the doors for all sorts of compromises. It also permits those who hold such a position to justify their own behavior, no matter how bad it may be. God has given us a moral code in the Ten Commandments and a social code in the Sermon on the Mount, both of them based on His own holiness. While it is true that none of us can attain to perfection until we are made perfect in the likeness of our Savior in eternity, at the same time we should daily strive to live by His holy and absolute standards. When we believe in Christ as our Savior, His righteousness is transmitted to us so that, in God's sight, we become absolutely holy. It is a great mystery but it is also a great truth.

Girl Held On Charge Of Robbing Bank

HONOLULU (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation had an 18-year-old girl confined in a Honolulu jail Sunday after she called police and told them she had robbed a bank in San Francisco.

Her case was turned over to U.S. District Court. She was held under $5,000 bond and charged with bank robbery.

FBI Special Agent Frank L. Price said Lynne Kilpatrick Swisher asked police to come and get her because all she had left from an estimated $450 in loot was 11 cents.

Honolulu patrolman Esmal de la Cruz said the girl greeted officers on Waikiki Beach wearing a blouse, sandals and slacks. He said, "I thought she was crazy when she told me she robbed a bank. Whoever heard of a girl like that robbing a bank?"

De la Cruz described Mrs. Swisher as tall, blonde and shapely. He said she was carrying a pillow case full of clothes. He quoted her as saying she had had a wonderful vacation.

Agent Price said the vacation started when she held up a Wells Fargo Bank branch in downtown San Francisco July 15. A teller was robbed that day of about $500 by a young woman described as pale but cool, wearing a plaid coat, who used a note reading, "I have a gun in my pocket. I am not fooling. I want all your money." Price said Mrs. Swisher told officers the gun was a toy.

Mammoth Blaze Strikes Houston
HOUSTON (AP)—The biggest blaze in Houston in about a year injured two firemen and did an estimated $100,000 damage Sunday night to the Acme Waste Paper Co.

The firemen, neither seriously injured, were Bennie Burnes, 25, and Charley Burnett, 40. Nine other fire fighters were given oxygen.

The flames destroyed 200 tons of baled refuse. It ruined two of the company's large warehouses. Flames could be seen 20 blocks away.

More Showers Fall After Severe Storms

By The Associated Press
More showers splashed across scattered sections of the nation today after another outbreak of severe thunderstorms in parts of the Midwest and Southeast.

Heavy rain, hail and strong winds hit areas in northern Illinois and northwestern Indiana. Nearly four inches of rain drenched Chicago and suburbs and in Hammond, Ind., the airport estimated rainfall at between 5 and 7 inches.

Several sailboats were capsized in Lake Michigan in Chicago and Milwaukee during the storm. Wind gusts up to 60 m.p.h. swept Milwaukee and they were clocked at 50 m.p.h. in Chicago.

Severe thunderstorms dumped heavy rain and large hail on parts of Florida and the middle Gulf Coast. Hail the size of marbles pelted the northern section of Miami and north of Palm Beach. Hail the size of golf balls was reported on the northern edge of Mobile, Ala., with winds above 50 m.p.h.

An 11-year-old girl was killed in Jackson, Mich., when she was struck by lightning during a thundershower.

Temperatures were in the 60s in the northeast quarter of the nation, with the 70s in the Southeast, the Mississippi Valley, the northern Plains and in the west central part of the country. The 80s were reported in the southern Plains, sections of the Gulf Coast, with the 90s in the Southwest desert.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:
♠ 10 6 ♥ Q 9 6 5 4 ♦ 6 ♣ A J 8 5 2
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ 2 ♦ Pass Pass
2 ♥ 3 ♦ ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Four hearts. A single raise would not do justice to the hand and, even if partner has a mild rebid, you should have a good play for 10 tricks.

Q. 2—Partner opens with one spade, and you hold:
♠ Q J 7 5 3 ♥ 6 2 ♦ K 9 5 ♣ A 10 3
What is your response?
A.—There is no satisfactory bid with this hand. It is too good for two spades and not good enough for a jump to three, which guarantees game. Nor is it the proper type for a jump to four. The best bet is to make a temporary bid of two clubs, intending to give spade raise on the next round.

Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠ J 8 3 ♥ A 2 ♦ K 7 5 3 ♣ Q 9 6 2
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
Pass 1 ♠ 4 ♥ ?
What do you bid?
A.—With a likelihood that you can win two tricks defensively, the indicated procedure is a penalty double. There would be no justification for a bid of four spades, which would be a shot in the dark. If partner's hand is unbalanced and contains a long spade suit, he need not stand for the double. He can decide to go on to game in spades.

Q. 4—As South you hold:
♠ K 8 6 ♥ Q 10 5 4 ♦ K 8 3 2 ♣ 4 2
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♣ Pass 1 ♥ Pass 1 ♠ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—One no trump. While partner's rebid is by no means forcing, another bid is recommended just in case he has a pretty good hand. Game is still possible if he has about 18 points. The one no trump rebid in this case does not show substantial values and can be made with as little as eight or nine high card points.

Q. 5—As South you hold:
♠ A Q 10 ♥ A K J 10 6 2 ♦ 5 2 ♣ Q J
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♥ Pass 3 ♦ Pass 6 NT Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—A grand slam bid is clearly indicated. Partner has contracted for a small slam on the basis of a mere opening bid from you with only the added information that you have a riddable heart suit. As far as high cards are concerned, he could not count on you for more than 13 points. He therefore must have 20. Inasmuch as you have 17, you know that you have the necessary 37, together with a good six card suit.

Q. 6—As South you hold:
♠ 8 7 2 ♥ J 8 6 ♦ A 10 6 5 4 8 5
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♦ Pass 2 NT Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Pass. You fully exhausted your values when you responded with one diamond. If this were all partner needed to produce a game, he would have been in position to jump to three no trump instead of only two.

Q. 7—As South you hold:
♠ Q J 5 ♥ A J 7 6 2 ♦ 9 6 2 5 3
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♦ Pass 1 ♥ Pass 2 ♠ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—A return to two diamonds is clearly indicated. There is no justification for a bid of two no trump merely to describe a spade stopper. Such a rebid by responder should be based on a stronger holding. If opener is unable to take further action after your return to two diamonds, you may be sure you are not missing a game.

Q. 8—As South you hold:
♠ K 9 ♥ A Q 7 ♦ A J 8 4 ♣ A 9 7 6
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
1 ♥ 1 NT Pass 3 ♣ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—That East has dragged a red herring across the scene has just become apparent. In view of the fact that North has sufficient high card strength to justify a jump shift, it is barely possible that East may have stretched the truth. In an effort to shed more light on the situation and to expose the gay deceiver, a cue bid of three hearts is recommended with the intention of supporting clubs vigorously on the next round.

Cardinal Valeri Dies Early Today
VATICAN CITY (AP)—Valerio Cardinal Valeri, prefect of the Vatican Congregation of Religious died today in his apartment in the Palace of the Holy Office.

The Italian cardinal, 79, was stricken with a grave throat infection earlier this month.

Pope Paul VI went to his private chapel to pray as soon as word of the cardinal's death at dawn reached him.

Cardinal Valeri's death reduces the College of Cardinals to 60 members.
