CORNERS PEGGED FOR NEW CLINIC BUILDING K. C. Collier, superintendent, directs operations

Contract Signed, Work Begins On New Clinic Structure

Initial work toward construction of a $71,045 clinic building was launched Tuesday morning when doctors of the Malone & Hogan Clinic executed the building contract.

A. P. Kasch and Sons, contractor, started staking the corners and preparing to begin excavation and foundation work.

The clinic structure will be three stories, one underground and two above, and will accommodate eight separate departments.

In addition, there will be a second-story parking deck. While it will be a separate clinic-hospital facility at 9th and Main, the new clinic building will be connected with the present plant by means of a tunnel under Ninth Street.

SEVEN DEPARTMENTS Jacob Anderson, Dallas, architect for the project, said it would be one of the few clinic buildings in the country specifically designed for particular departments.

Plans are for accommodating as many as 19 doctors, half a dozen more than the present staff. A mechanical room for heating and cooling will be in a separate structure on the east side.

SPACIOUS The clinic will contain 30,000 square feet of space not including the parking area. Of the total outlay, some $446,000 is applicable to the building proper.

ARRANGEMENT The ground floor will include laboratories; X-ray (diagnostic and treatment); chart-file room which connects with departments and offices by pneumatic tube; offices for radiologist and orthopedist; treatment rooms; doctor's lounge; central supply; physiotherapy.

On the first floor will be the lobby; bookkeeping department, secretarial and business offices; department of pediatrics and examining rooms for doctors; department of general surgery with offices and treatment rooms; minor surgery room.

The second floor will contain the department of internal medicine; department of obstetrics and gynecology; department of urology; department of eye, ear, nose and throat and with refracting rooms, small dispensing room and small laboratory for correcting glasses and contact lens. Departments will be separate, and each will have its own reception room.

The building will front west in the 900 block. Patients may be unloaded by ramp on the south ground level or may park under the shelter of the parking deck and not be exposed to the elements.

Doctors will own and operate the clinic. When they occupy the new facility, Malone & Hogan Foundation plans to convert the present second floor to 30 additional patient rooms. Bids were opened originally in the project Feb. 28.

BY UNION LEADER

Brink-Of-Strike Tactics Charged

WASHINGTON (AP) — A union leader accused the nation's railroads today of using brink-of-strike tactics to pressure for compulsory arbitration to settle the rail work rules dispute.

H. E. Gilbert, president of the Brotherhood of Enginemen and Firemen, testified before the House Commerce Committee.

Five on-train unions have said they will strike if new work rules, which would slice crews on freight and yard runs, are imposed by the industry.

DEADLINE The railroad deadline for posting of the new rules is 12:01 a.m. Aug. 29.

Gilbert spoke in opposition to President Kennedy's proposal the controversy be turned over to the Interstate Commerce Commission for the next two years.

He said that would be compulsory arbitration, pointing toward the end of "that kind of bargaining which has become a part of our system of free enterprise."

Gilbert said "the only solution to this case is to be found in collective bargaining—collective bargaining which has had a shot in the arm."

He said Congress can provide that booster shot.

He added both sides should bargain with the knowledge that "the heavy hand of congressional power is ready to punish a party failing to meet his public and private responsibilities during negotiations."

ENCOURAGED Senators working for a settlement said they are encouraged by a union official's announcement that the brotherhoods have submitted a new proposal.

L. J. Wagner, president of the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen, told the Senate Commerce Committee the new offer was made Saturday in the reopened bargaining session.

He said no reply had come from the carriers and said he didn't believe they had had time to present one.

However, Daniel P. Loomis, president of the Association of American Railroads, was at the hearing and when asked by a reporter about Wagner's statement, he said: "I have heard about nothing new that amounts to anything."

Navy, Army Planes Crash GANDER, Nfld. (AP) — A U.S. Navy Superconstellation making a practice approach at the International Airport here crashed in flames at the end of the runway today.

All crew members aboard were reported to have escaped, the Canadian Press reported.

Airport firefighting crews, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and volunteers were battling the blaze.

No further details were immediately available.

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A twin-engine Army aircraft and a small private plane collided in the air near Allentown today and fell in flames in a cornfield.

Two bodies were found in the wreckage of the Army plane, which was from the U.S. War College at Carlisle, Pa. Another body was found about a mile away.

Broad Support Seen For Treaty In Senate

No Summit Talks In Sight

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials expressed strong doubt today that Secretary of State Dean Rusk's forthcoming talks in Moscow will become a prelude to a summit conference.

They said Rusk will carry a letter from President Kennedy to Soviet Premier Khrushchev, but it is expected to be only a reply to the message Khrushchev sent to Kennedy via Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman.

LETTER Khrushchev's letter, high ranking sources said, expressed his satisfaction with the agreement to ban all nuclear tests except underground but did not offer any suggestions on further steps to ease East-West tensions.

Kennedy's reply is expected to express similar feelings without attempting to break new ground.

State Department officials denied any thought is being given to Khrushchev and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Great Britain.

That possibility was mentioned by a Lord Hailsham, British negotiator at the test ban treaty talks in Moscow.

Officials here pointed to Kennedy's remark at a press conference July 17 that "there is no evidence that a summit is indicated or needed."

DOESN'T WANT Also, U.S. officials don't believe Khrushchev himself wants a summit meeting now.

Rusk is scheduled to leave Saturday for Moscow to sign the U.S.-Soviet-British partial test ban treaty and to check on the way the Kremlin wind is blowing.

While in the Soviet capital, Rusk intends to continue exploratory talks Harriman began on proposals Khrushchev made in a Kremlin speech July 19.

Among other things, the Soviet leader suggested tensions could be eased by a nonaggression pact between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Communist Warsaw Pact countries.

U.S. officials stressed that Rusk has no mandate to negotiate for NATO, and Rusk has declared "we are not going to negotiate the interests of other nations without the participation of those other nations."

CONSULTATIONS Any meaningful negotiations on a nonaggression arrangement and other proposals Khrushchev has made require full consultations with the allies and authorization from them.

Consultations are being carried out in Europe by William R. Tyler, assistant secretary of state for European affairs. He was with Harriman in Moscow, and went from there to NATO's Paris headquarters. He is scheduled to visit

Huge Payroll For New Space Center HOUSTON (AP)—The monthly payroll at the Manned Spacecraft Center is expected to rise to $3,200 million within nine months.

Dave Lang, procurement officer, made the forecast today.

SKOPJE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Dynamite squads spelled the final doom today of what remained of pestilence-threatened Skopje, 90 per cent of which was ripped beyond repair by Friday's earthquake.

Rescue crews dug 10 more persons from the rubble before the blasting began Monday night. Trapped for more than 80 hours, they were located by a tiny microphone inserted into the ruins.

In case there were more survivors, the dynamite charges were planted only in buildings where no one could be alive.

Disarmament Meet To Hear Treaty Report

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — The 17-nation disarmament conference resumes amid uncertainty over its future today to hear a report on the three-power agreement to ban nuclear tests above ground and under water.

U.S. Ambassador Charles C. Stelle, Soviet negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin and Britain's Peter Thomas were to outline the limited test ban accord.

All major disarmament issues before the conference, resuming after a six-week recess, were still deadlocked after 16 months of negotiations.

The only two steps forward since the beginning of the Geneva talks—the test ban treaty and the direct Moscow-Washington "hot line" communications link to prevent accidental war—were negotiated outside the conference.

It generally was believed here that any further progress to ease the cold war would have to come from similar direct negotiations.

Other Americans known to have been in Skopje escaped.

Under government orders, 150,000 residents had left by Monday night.

Crews labored in an almost unbearable stench of the dead and broken sewers. A heat wave and a water shortage compounded the atmosphere of nausea.

The government promised that Skopje, capital of Yugoslav Macedonia, will rise again. Geologists are to decide whether the present, centuries-old site is safe for rebuilding or whether survivors should begin life anew at another location.

Dynamite blew apart cracked buildings checked first for signs of life with the microphone, so sensitive it can pick up the sound of a man breathing.

The count of dead stood near 1,000. Hundreds more bodies were believed buried in acres of ruins.

Two of the bodies recovered were presumed to be those of U.S. Air Force Sgt. Harold R. Stacy of Gouverneur, N.Y., and his German wife.

CRAZY WHEEL AT IT AGAIN The Howard County jury wheel, which has shown a penchant for odd selections of prospective jurors, has come up with another example of oddity.

The name of Roy J. Smith, 419 Dallas, turned up as a juror, and then the name of Mrs. Gussie L. Smith, his wife, was drawn for the same panel.

Both were qualified on general tests. There are about 11,000 names in the jury wheel, so the odds against man and wife being on the same panel are considerable.

To the whacky jury wheel, however, this made no difference.

Mansfield Says 'No Gimmicks'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana said after a conference with President Kennedy today that there are "no gimmicks, no side issues," tied to the Moscow test ban treaty.

The Senate Democratic leader said the limited test ban agreement has broad support not only in the Senate which must ratify it, but in the House as well.

BIPARTISAN "We informed the President the chances for strong bipartisan ratification of the treaty by the Senate were excellent and that we expected the ratification would come as soon as possible," Mansfield said after the weekly White House breakfast session of Democratic congressional leaders.

Mansfield said Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman created a tremendous impression in his appearance before the Senate Foreign Relations and the Armed Services Committees and the Joint Atomic Energy Committee Monday.

He said Harriman answered all questions frankly and openly.

KILLED CHANCE It appeared, however, that Senate Republican leaders have killed any chance of a bipartisan display at the formal signing of the test ban treaty in Moscow.

Minority leader Everett M. Dirksen said he had not been invited to accompany Secretary of State Dean Rusk on the ceremonial trip and would not go if he were. Rusk visited with the Illinois Senator briefly Monday but Dirksen said they did not discuss the matter.

"I feel that I should not go even if I were invited because acceptance would leave the implication that I approved of the treaty without knowing fully the effects it will have," Dirksen said.

DIRKSEN Dirksen told an informal news conference Monday that the White House suggested but he rejected a conference of leaders of both parties before President Kennedy's Friday night television radio speech on the treaty, which would ban all except underground tests.

Sen. Burke B. Hickel, R-Iowa, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee and Senior Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, said in a separate interview he could not accept an invitation to go to Moscow for the signing ceremony, expected to be held next week.

"I think it would be highly improper for me to go in view of the fact that I have not decided whether I will support or oppose this treaty," he said. "I intend to listen to all the evidence on both sides before coming to a conclusion."

NO INDICATION GOP policy committee members arranged to discuss the treaty but there was no indication that they would take a stand on it.

Dirksen said he had made no effort to poll Republican senators and had no idea how they would vote on the agreement worked out by U.S., British and Soviet representatives. Treaty backers are wooing GOP support because ratification would require approval of two-thirds of those voting.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Democratic leader, predicted the treaty will be ratified.

Humphrey said congressional mail indicates widespread popular support for it. And the White House reported Monday that more than 1,000 telegrams were received since Kennedy's Friday night address and run more than 12-1 in support of his position.

PREDICTS BACKING Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., a foreign relations committee member who is backing the treaty, predicted a 2-1 GOP margin for it in the vote on ratification.

"Magic Keys" Help Learning A child first learns to speak by listening to the voices which are around him. The student also needs to hear words, as they are actually spoken in Spanish. SPEED SPEECH enables you to hear the words, as you study Spanish by this entirely new concept in teaching. The textbook is coordinated with two 45 rpm records, and when you learn the "magic keys" which are explained in the course, you are on your way to learning Spanish. The SPEED SPEECH way. This system is the simplest, yet most effective, way to learn a foreign language, and is now being offered through The Herald.

William Archer was always a diligent student of Spanish, but when he and his family moved to Mexico, he found that he could not converse with the natives. This complete inability to communicate properly was the inspiration for the creation of Spanish SPEED SPEECH. One astonishing fact which is brought out in the course is that there are thousands of words that have the same spelling in Spanish that they do in English. You can control these words in your Spanish vocabulary by simply changing the pronunciation from English to Spanish. "Ideal" is pronounced "E-day-ahl" in Spanish. Simple! Three items comprise the Spanish SPEED SPEECH kit: The textbook, a set of two 45 rpm records to aid in pronunciation, and a handy dictionary of most used words. Each item is offered at only $2.95, plus six cents sales tax, a total of $3.01. You may order any one or all three. Use the coupon appearing in The Herald.

Blames Kennedys For Racial Violence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Joe T. Patterson of Mississippi today accused the Kennedy administration and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy of principal responsibility for racial violence and troubles throughout the country.

His charge, in testimony before the Senate Commerce Committee, was challenged by Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., who was presiding. "I disagree," Monroney said.

Patterson declared: "I firmly believe that the present U.S. attorney general, with the approval of the President of the United States, is far more responsible for the racial violence and troubles we are having throughout this nation than the ruthless leaders who are sponsoring and promoting racial unrest."

"I make this charge because I know, as a matter of fact that down in my state, agents and representatives of the U.S. Department of Justice are ever present where there is racial trouble and instead of working with the duly elected and responsible officials in an effort to prevent violence and disorder, these agents of the U.S. attorney general actually aid, abet and encourage violation of state laws and municipal ordinances, assuring the agitators that if and when arrested the Department of Justice will come to their rescue."

Preceding Patterson to the witness table in today's hearings on the Kennedy public accommodation bill was Gov. Carl E. Sanders of Georgia.

Sanders asked that Congress leave it to men and women of good will to work out voluntary solutions to the racial problems.

He strongly opposed the public accommodations bill and said its enactment would result only in resentment and resistance.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A Blue Scout rocket today propelled an instrumented probe toward a point 8,000 miles in space and the Air Force reported shortly after launching that the package was well on its way.

DELAY REQUEST DENIED

Opens Way For Hearings On Trinity River Project

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Water Commission refused today to postpone hearings on the $900 million Trinity River canal project.

The commission denied a request by 20 railroads to delay the hearings until settlement of the roads' suit to block further action on the project.

A hearing is set for Aug. 23 in a Dallas federal court.

The commission ruling opened the way to testimony on one of five flood protection projects in the Trinity River plan, the most expensive water development project in Texas history.

The hearings will end with testimony on the $78 million navigation channel from Galveston Bay, 370 miles to Fort Worth, the main feature of the project and the goal for Texans since the state's early days.

commission must be in Washington by Sept. 23.

The commission plans to hear testimony on the 11 separate projects.

The U.S. Engineers propose construction of four new dams and 23 navigation locks in a 370-mile navigation channel.

The commission must determine if the federal project is feasible, if it serves the public interest in development of dam sites in water conservation, and if it fits in with local projects.

Findings of the commission will be submitted to Congress along with the federal plans.

The project has been endorsed by the state's San Antonio, Brazos, Upper Neches and Guadalupe Blanco River Authorities.

Protests have come from the railroads, the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce and the Childress City Council.

Four state agencies have surveyed the U.S. Engineers' report—the Highway Department, Water Pollution Control Board, Health Department and Game and Fish Commission.

The Highway Department said the project will require relocation of some roads, at a cost of $70 million to be borne mostly by local groups. It said the project will not hamper the state's road building program.

The other three boards said tight water pollution control will be needed to assure use of downstream water for recreation, municipalities and industries.

The game commission also said commercial shrimp, oyster and crab fishermen in the Trinity and Galveston Bays could lose $285,000 a year if a decreased river flow increases the bays' salinity.

Protection Urged For Migratory Workers

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate Labor subcommittee, eyeing action already taken by the Senate Agriculture Committee, heard testimony today that the American migratory farm workers need protection against imported labor.

Undersecretary of Labor John Henning said that under present law, Mexican workers work in this country at the cost of jobs for domestic workers.

"We are thus confronted at this time with the simple question of whether we should continue to pay an extent subsidizing, at the expense of the taxpayers of this nation, a farm worker program which prolongs and aggravates this situation," Henning said.

Chairman Harrison Williams Jr., D-N.J., of the Migratory Labor subcommittee referred at the outset of the hearing to "the very sudden action" by the Senate Agriculture Committee on a bill to extend the importation of Mexican farm labor for another year.

"I think it is important," Williams said, "that this subcommittee hear evidence on the relationship between the use of these braceros (Mexican workers) and the persistent underemployment and low earnings of our own citizen farm workers."

The subcommittee is considering a bill to provide more and steadier employment for American workers and stable and reliable American labor force for farmers.

Henning testified that under the present system there is "the incredible situation where alien workers are offered better terms and conditions of employment than are afforded our own agricultural workers competing for the same jobs.

"The simple fact is," he added, "that under the present system an employer can refuse to offer to domestic workers the same terms and conditions that he is required to offer alien workers. If the domestic worker refuses to accept the job at less favorable terms, the employer is permitted to bring in Mexican workers who are then afforded the very terms and conditions which were denied to our own workers."

Summer Recreation Totals Announced By Director

Six youngsters were singled out from the 1,475 enrolled in the Summer Recreation Program at the YMCA for special recognition, according to Joe Leach, director of the program.

Emily Schorer, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Schorer, 50B Chenault, Brenda Nichols, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilton W. Nichols, 710 Abram and Denise Bryant, 9, were named outstanding girls in the program.

Outstanding boys for the summer sessions were Scott Adams, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Anderson Jr., 1102 Sycamore, and Donnie Crockett, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Crockett, 101 Lincoln.

The six were chosen for outstanding performance in the physical activities, crafts program, attitude, leadership ability and responsibility. They were awarded certificates of merit and trophies.

Totals for the summer program were revealed by Leach for all classes during the summer.

The six fun clubs enrolled 413 children with a total of 78 sessions, while special classes such as wrestling, tennis, judo, etc., totaled 199 youngsters in 175 sessions.

In the swimming classes, guided by two instructors and eight volunteer aides, 400 learned to swim at the YMCA and 99 at the Lakeview Branch. The total for all swimming, including the advanced and specialized swimming, numbered 863 in 253 sessions.

Climaxing the summer recreation program, 300 persons came to the "Parents' Night" staged for the families of the children so that crafts and skills could be displayed.

In all there were 17 who inducted in the 506 sessions, open to all youngsters but conducted at the YMCA and the Lakeview Branch YMCA. The Citywide Summer Recreation program is made possible by the United Fund, City of Big Spring, the Big Spring Independent School District and the YMCA.

General Motors Chalks Record

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors Corp. made $5.1 million a day in April, May and June, including 1,143,352 passenger cars and 149,775 trucks and coaches produced in the United States.

The No. 1 automaker and world's largest industrial corporation set eight sales and earnings records in the second quarter.

Board Chairman Frederic G. Donner and John F. Gordon, president, said the "excellent" second quarter results reflected continued high demand for GM's automotive and non-automotive products and high in national employment and personal income.

Profits soared to $464 million, GM said Monday in reporting to stockholders on this spring's unprecedented auto boom.

The target figures were the $1.46 billions in earnings and $1.64 billion in sales recorded in 1963 by GM, high unequalled by any manufacturing corporation.

Second quarter net income came to $1.62 a share of common stock.

World-wide factory sales in the second quarter totaled 1,546,747, including 1,143,352 passenger cars and 149,775 trucks and coaches produced in the United States.

The report overshadowed lustrous results announced by the other two of the big three automakers, Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp., last week.

With a switchover to 1964 models near at hand, the industry output of 1963 models has exceeded the 7,130,000 total of 1955, the previous high.

Apartment Burglary Referred To Police, Thefts Reported

Jewelry, and a portable radio, all valued at about $70, were reported missing in an apartment burglary Monday from Mrs. Josephine Couch, King Apartments, 304 Johnson, who told police she was out of town from 6:30 p.m. Saturday until 6 a.m. Monday. She discovered a storage closet ransacked and said the items were missing. The apartment was not locked, she said.

John Taylor, manager of the College Park Safeway store, reported a tire and rim taken from his pickup while parked at the rear of the store.

Two other thefts from automobiles were reported Monday as happening July 25 on the Howard House parking lot. Darrell Scott and Travis Bowsher, both of Albany, and employed by Black Drilling Co., Abilene, told officers that tires and wheels, floor mats, bumper jacks, and other items were taken from their cars between 4 and 11 p.m. on that day.

The lieutenants received their regular commission after being recommended by their squadron commander for outstanding job performance while under his command.

Test Crippled U.S. Satellite

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A Russian nuclear blast detonated in space during the Soviet test series that ended last Dec. 24 crippled the electronic equipment of an American space satellite, the St. Louis Globe-Democrat said today.

In a copyrighted story from its Washington bureau, the Globe-Democrat said the satellite is believed still orbiting the earth, but its communications and control equipment ceased to function after the Russian test.

The effects of the blast have never been made public by United States authorities, the paper said, but are known to the Russians through their monitoring of American satellites.

The Russians presumably now know a great deal about how to knock out any American satellites, whether sent up for photographic work or weather observation or for other purposes, the Globe-Democrat said.

The paper said that Russian knowledge of how to paralyze a satellite without having to hit it directly also would give them a head start toward designing some type of protection for their own satellites.

Conference Opens Today

MANILA (AP)—Indonesia, Malaysia and the Philippines opened a tension-laden summit conference today, and Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal appealed for unity among the Malay nations at a moment of historic importance.

Macapagal told Indonesian President Sukarno and Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman of Malaysia that the projected Federation of Malaysia will be discussed frankly in the manner of brothers.

Macapagal conceded that the conference faces a difficult task. But he said he hopes that by the time the meeting ends Saturday, the three leaders will be speaking with one voice.

Macapagal pointed out that the conference is the first time that leaders of the three Malay nations have come together to consult about common problems.

He said if the three countries can resolve their problems, they will have contributed to the future not only of Southeast Asia but of the world.

Malaysia is the chief issue facing the conference.

Daily Support Is Urged For Virginia

Virginia Morris, Miss Big Spring of 1963, is on her way today to the Miss Texas Pageant in Fort Worth.

Miss Morris left at 8 a.m. with Jim Wright of the River Funeral Home, her business manager, and Jack Orr, First National Bank, assistant business manager.

"The two men are going along to see that she gets a good break in the competition," Gordon Cizon, Junior Chamber of Commerce member, said Monday. "We want her to have just as much a chance as any other girl in the pageant."

Any amount given will be applied towards a big bouquet that will be sent each day.

During the week there will be daily television newscast and telephone remotes from Fort Worth with Miss Morris. KWAB-TV will carry the finals of the pageant on Saturday night.

Showers Dot Area Lightly

Light showers, some perhaps as much as a third of an inch, fell on scattered parts of the southwest quarter of the county Monday afternoon.

South of the county line, the rains were reported to have been heavier. Walker Bailey said light showers which might have amounted to a quarter of an inch fell on the cotton he has planted in the Elbow area. R. V. Fryar, who lives 12 miles southwest of town, estimated his rain at less than a third of an inch.

Colorado City had 1.04 inch rain Monday and .02 inch during the night. Over Mitchell County, rainfall was spotty.

Farmers had hopes raised by promising clouds both Sunday and Monday. Cotton is holding up fairly well in the long dry spell but cannot go on much longer without moisture. Grain is suffering—some farmers are having to reap their crop too early as a result.

Ranchers say that grass is still going along but is beginning to burn.

Police Pick Up Juveniles At Moss Creek Lake

The first trouble, in a long time, occurred at Moss Creek Lake Monday night and early Tuesday morning when one car, loaded with five boys and girls, attempted to drive through the fence after closing hours. At 3:14 a.m. R. L. Millaway notified police that three boys and two girls were caught swimming in the lake, and interrupting fishermen.

Deputy Sheriff J. B. Hall and Police Capt. Stanley Bogard talked to the group trying to drive through the fence. No charges were filed.

Enters Plea

Ramon Cisneros Guzman, Coahoma, charged with DWI, pleaded guilty to the charge Tuesday. Judge Lee Porter, county court, sentenced him to serve three days in the county jail and pay a fine of $50.

Clouds Lower The Mercury, Water Consumption

Clouds were having a double effect here Tuesday.

For one thing, the Monday maximum of 93 degrees and a cooler night was 16 degrees under the all time maximum for the date 51 years ago.

For another, three days of 95-or-below readings had reduced water demands.

Water through the city plant has gone over 10 million gallons on six days in July. Cooler weather dropped this usage below 10 million for the past three days and to a low of 7,794,000 yesterday. The month's total usage through Monday was 240,756,000 gallons, and the months total may go above the June usage of 185,458,500 gallons by approximately 70 million gallons.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market extended its advance into a second session today.

General Motors gained more than a point.

Changes of key issues ranged from fractions to around a point with some bigger gains sprinkled among the specialties.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.0 at 266.7 with industrials up 1.5, rails up .6 and utilities up .5.

PASO Units Being Organized

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The executive secretary of the Political Association of Spanish Speaking Americans (PASO) says the group is organizing units in 10 or 15 towns.

Albert Fuentes Jr. commented, when asked about reports that Seguin had been singled out for a voter organization drive by PASO.

He said 11 new units have been organized since early June. He said 29 residents at Seguin attended the state convention in June.

Fuentes said units were being organized in Wharton, Galveston, Karnes, Bell, Goliad and Hidalgo counties.

Fuentes said a Democratic coalition of minority groups hopes to register 400,000 to 500,000 new voters.

Wants To Ban Confederate Flag

NEW YORK (AP)—An ordinance banning the sale or display of the Confederate flag, except for museums, was advocated today by Amos S. Basel, acting New York County Liberal party chairman.

"The Confederate flag is a symbol of slavery of the Negro," Basel said.

Basel, a lawyer who also is running for councilman, said he got the idea for the ban because the Confederate flag was used by teen-agers during civil rights picketing of a Bronx diner.

"The purpose of the flag was to incite people against the pickets," he said. The flag was a symbol of racism and segregation, he added.

"If they want to use the flag down South on a Rebel day, it's all right," he said.

County Court Due To Begin Hearing

Howard County Court was having a hard time getting off the ground Tuesday, but one case was due to be heard during the afternoon.

Two cases tentatively docketed for trial—Fred Constanco Jr. for DWI and Trinidad Torres charged with unlawful possession of barbiturate—failed to get going. There was difficulty in locating witnesses in the cases. At 11 a.m. Wayne Burns, county attorney, and George Thomas, defense attorney, agreed to bring up the J. W. Purver case on a DWI count.

The jury docket will continue through Friday.

Wednesday Voting To Name New President For Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina names a president Wednesday. The betting is that a strong majority will pick a country doctor named Arturo Illia. He will have a pretty sick country to treat.

Dr. Illia, 62, led the field of nine in the July 7 popular voting, polling one in four votes. Political wheeling and dealing has brought him enough pledges from the far right and extreme left to assure victory. No one has announced any opposition.

If either Illia or his vice presidential running mate fail to get the needed majority, plus one, Congress will decide among the two leading candidates.

The government of President Jose Maria Guido and his military advisors back the doctor. The government said: "Argentina requires peace and work. Join the forces working toward this goal."

Illia can use all the support he can get.

The task is formidable. The problems are illustrated by the top Argentine cartoonist, Landru, who pictured two school children talking as another 48-hour teachers' strike began this week.

"Isn't this country marvelous? We have 40 legal holidays a year, 50 days of revolution, 45 days of strikes and only 15 days of going to school."

Landru is not exaggerating the nation's picture for 16 months. The pangs were felt hardest after March 29, 1962, when the military ousted and imprisoned President Arturo Frondizi.

Together with the political problems, economic ills swept the country. Strong medicine is needed for unemployment, dragging industry and stagnant agricultural production.

Illia may find that the corner pharmacy is still occupied by the armed forces. The military may react sharply to Illia's campaign diagnosis to lift bans against forces of exiled dictator President Juan Peron.

Tall, white haired Illia pledged no one would be imprisoned because of ideological beliefs. He included the estimated 50,000 to 80,000 Communists, outlawed since 1958.

Illia also will face a unique situation in Congress. No party has a majority. His party holds only 71 of the 192 seats in the Chamber of Deputies. In the Senate, he may count on more support but no majority.

Only one of Argentina's last eight finished the constitutional six-year term.

Children Pressed Into Demonstration

NEW YORK (AP)—Antidiscrimination demonstrators sent children into their peaceful fight today for more jobs for Negroes in construction trades.

Willie Brinson, 35, a Negro barber of Brooklyn, led a group of 10 youngsters into the entrance of a Brooklyn hospital site where they sat down and refused to move. Five were his own children and the others were related to him.

The youngsters, aged 2 to 13, broke into delighted grins when policemen carefully lifted them from the ground and put them into unmarked patrol cars. Police said they would not be charged.

"This is the beginning of a stepped-up campaign to make the public more aware of our fight," said the Rev. William A. Jones, minister of Bethany Baptist Church in Brooklyn and one of the Negro leaders of the 20-day demonstration. He implied that other children would be used.

Eight persons, including Brinson, were arrested in Brooklyn and one at a similar protest at a housing project in Queens.

Shortly after the demonstrators arrived at the Downstate Medical Center project in Brooklyn—one of several locations in the city where almost 700 civil rights pickets have been arrested this month—the pattern of the protest was repeated.

Pickets marched in orderly fashion, individuals leaving the line periodically in small groups or alone to block entrance to the project and provoke arrest.

The first persons charged today were two ministers, one white and one Negro, who civilly disobeyed police orders to allow a cement truck to pass.

Fifty-five demonstrators were arrested Monday, the majority for interfering with work at public construction projects and three for blocking the entrance to Mayor Wagner's office.

Ten of the arrests occurred at the Brooklyn hospital and 42 at the Rochdale Village Apartments construction in Jamaica, Queens.

Judge Warns Jurors Against Guessing

LONDON (AP)—Justice Sir Archie Marshall today warned jurors they must not try to guess why Dr. Stephen Ward's high society friends—such as Lord Astor and actor Douglas Fairbanks Jr.—have not sprung to his defense.

Summing up near the end of Ward's seven-day trial on vice charges, the judge said: "There may be many reasons why he has been abandoned in his extremity. You must not guess at them."

"But this is clear: If Stephen Ward was telling the truth in the

Rain Falls In Some Areas

By The Associated Press

A near cloudburst set off a flash flood at Atlanta, near Texas' northeast corner, and thunderstorms ranged over much of the northern half of the state during the night.

Moderate to heavy storms or showers extended as far west as Wink and Lubbock, and southward past Waco and Mineola.

Some of the unsettled weather continued past dawn, particularly in the Red River Valley from Wichita Falls to Sherman and Paris, and in the area between Abilene, Brownwood, Mineral Wells and Fort Worth.

Four inches of rain poured down in 45 minutes at Atlanta. Water rose waist deep in some streets, stalling 50 to 75 cars. A city park was flooded for a time.

Forecasts called for little change—more scattered showers and summery temperatures in all sections.

The mercury climbed to 102 degrees Monday at Laredo. Afternoon marks elsewhere ranged down to 72 at Texarkana and 84 at El Paso. Mineral Wells and San Angelo registered 101, and Austin, Fort Worth, Presidio and Waco 100.

Gins Reaching A Slow Peak

MERCEDES (AP)—The Farm Bureau says gins in the Lower Rio Grande Valley are reaching a normal peak after a slow start.

The bureau said Monday that 45,536 bales were ginned last week. The season total is 69,022 bales compared to 200,656 for the period last year.

Cameron County ginned 30,746, Hidalgo 28,874, Willacy 7,546 and Starr 1,856.

Ginnings will increase because much defoliation was completed last week for mechanical harvesting.

About 75 per cent of the cotton ginned so far has been machine harvested.

Nuclear Center

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico is planning to build a nuclear investigation center to seek peaceful uses for nuclear energy.

Morning Headaches — Plus

By HALVARD T. HANSEN, D.C.

Headaches occur with most all organic disorders. The eyes and eye strain are often blamed and as often found innocent.

Migraine is rare, though frequently mis-called because of the nausea. Most any violent headache, if the pain is severe enough, causes that sickish feeling on the stomach that is so common in migraine cases.

Nervous headaches caused by female disturbances, tension and the inability to relax are perhaps the most common. If you neglect these or stop them with a pain killer or tranquilizer, you are inviting trouble and future female surgery. Consider the following case from our clinic files as a fair example:

Violent pains in her right eye and over the entire right side of her face and in back of her head and neck that lessened during the day but invariably greeted her upon awakening nearly every morning for as long as she could remember finally brought this pretty 29-year-old mother to the Hansen Chiropractic Clinic asking for any relief we could give her. She was another previously diagnosed "migraine" case that had

Family Found Shot To Death

DALLAS (AP)—A neighbor found Clarence M. Kneese, 40, his wife and their two children slain in the family's blood-spattered home Monday night.

Police said Kneese, who recently quit his job with an electronics firm, apparently killed the others Sunday and then fired a rifle bullet into his head.

Relatives told detectives Kneese had been despondent over financial troubles. Justice of the Peace David Johnston withheld an inquest verdict pending further investigation.

The slain woman, Mrs. Para Lee Kneese, 33, failed to appear for work at an advertising agency yesterday. A friend telephoned Doyle Wright, one of the neighbors, and Wright spotted the bodies through a window.

Patrolmen entered the locked house, in Northeast Dallas, by breaking a door pane. They found Mrs. Kneese on a bathroom floor, her feet bound together with rope and strands of shredded rope attached to her wrists.

Blows on the head from a blunt instrument apparently killed Mrs. Kneese. Officers said a trail of blood indicated she used a broken drinking glass to sever her wrist bonds and crawled through a bedroom and dressing room before she collapsed.

The body of Roger Kneese, 10, shot twice in the head, was in a back bedroom. His sister Cynthia, 6, and the father lay in the other bedroom near where Mrs. Kneese was found.

Bullets from a .22 caliber rifle killed the children. A .303 caliber British army rifle lay beneath the body of Kneese.

A Devotional For The Day

Pray at all times in the Spirit, with all prayer and supplication. (Ephesians 6:18, RSV.)
PRAYER: Help us, O Lord, to be unselfish in our praying. Use us as an open channel for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon all mankind. Show us how we can be more helpful to others. In the name of Thy Son, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."
(From The "Upper Room")

Personification Of An Era

The death of Marion Edwards reminds us once more how thin is becoming the once hearty line of early day settlers and ranchers.
Because of his vigorous personality, his steel-trap handshake, his wry humor and twinkling eyes, it was difficult to put Marion Edwards in the role of a pioneer. Yet he grew to boyhood here right after the turn of the century and to manhood by the time the plowpoint assault on ranch empires had reached its peak.

Marion Edwards was personification of an era, rugged and direct, and open to new ideas and new friends. He fit into any situation, yet there was no pretense about him. Always he had time to sit and talk a spell. What he had and what he was are the very flavor of our vicinity.

Getting At The Problem

Gov. Carl Sanders of Georgia, addressing the County Planning Congress section of the National Association of Counties, contends that counties must modernize or collapse under their own archaism.
Like other issues, this may have been overstated for effect, but it is not far wrong. There is no denying that county government generally, whether it be in Georgia or in Texas, is behind the times and in many instances out-of-touch with reality.
Gov. Sanders suggested some multi-county or regional accommodations, seemingly on the basis of a buffer between state and county. Perhaps there are areas of regional cooperation which would be both economical and helpful, but it is not in such arrangements that county structural reform is most urgent. While some combinations are desirable, it is not impossible that super-counties could compound the difficulties.

Largely from the springboard of existing localities, county government needs to be reformed on the basis of modern conditions and methods instead of those existing a century or half a century ago. It needs to issue from a recognition that any approach of maximum efficiency cannot result from a patchwork, a hodge-podge of independent hedgemongers. It must also take into consideration the realities of change from rural to urban complexes, the need of dual alterations to reduce duplications in accounting, taxing, enforcement, health and welfare, clerical services.
There also must be due consideration to reconciling the philosophy of some dozen and a half elective posts to the necessity of responsible administration. Yet, none can seriously doubt the need for general reform in this area, and it is surprising that so little is being said or done.

'After Me, A Mess'

WASHINGTON (AP) — French President Charles de Gaulle, in front of a splendid red silk curtain, talked to a news conference 80 minutes Monday and brushed off as if it were stupid, one of the most important questions.
He was asked his ideas about a successor.
De Gaulle, 72, has another three years to go as president. When he took power five years ago, France, in political chaos since World War II, was teetering toward civil war. Politics were a nightmare.
AFTER FIVE years, he has failed to achieve lasting political reform or to provide for what comes after him. He once said: "After me, a mess."

Thus, while his whole career has been dedicated to the restoration of French grandeur and influence, he has done little to make sure France after him will have the stability necessary to endure.
For this reason, he gives the impression of a mystic trying to play a celestial slot machine.
For years he has pulled the lever, seeking the right combination to fit his dreams: a new Europe under French leadership, a firm new relationship with Germany, perhaps a new relationship with the Soviet Union and an undeniable place for himself in history. It has eluded him.

BUT HE acts and talks, as he did Monday, as if it were only a matter of time when somehow, perhaps because it's De Gaulle wishing it so, he will give the lever a magic pull and hear that tinkling, tumbling sound that means a jackpot.
Three years ago in Washington, to Congress and newsmen, he made easing relations with the Soviet Union "paramount."
But last week Khrushchev finally agreed with the United States and Britain on a nuclear test ban in the atmosphere, outer space and under water. De Gaulle wanted no part of it. He said the world situation hasn't changed "one whit." He said France would not join.

Better Than Money

NEW YORK (AP) — Memories are life's true gold.
Memories are better than money. Stored in the mind, they always draw a high rate of interest. Unlike money, nobody can steal them away from you.
Chances are that you are personally wealthy in this timeless currency yourself if you can remember when—
Children envied rags, because rags were usually beaten only once a year.
The first thing a boy did when he got a new bicycle was turn the handlebars down so it would look like a racing bike.
A guest, after a bounteous family meal, would compliment the beaming hostess by saying, "My, you certainly put the big pot in the little one!"
Cautious mothers in small towns kept their kids in the house when a gypsy caravan rolled by. Teen-age, would-be romances were called "drugstore cowboys." Those a little older, known as "sports," gave forth with their views on life and love at the corner barber shop or the local pool hall.
Everybody in the neighborhood felt sorry for a baby whose mother didn't breast-feed it.
You could get a thick, creamy chocolate milk shake—made with two dips of real ice cream—for 15 cents.

Everybody was careful what he said over the telephone, because you never could tell what gossip would be listening on the party line.
The only labor-saving device the average housewife had was a broom—or a helpful daughter.
During heat waves all the neighbors liked to call on the family in the block that owned an electric fan.
The best thing about the movies was that they were silent. Many people thought that talking motion pictures—if they ever did come about—would be a nuisance.
A man who could brag he had once shaken the hand of heavyweight boxing champion John L. Sullivan could get a free drink in any saloon.
The height of high school reefer was to remark, "So's your old man." It broke 'em up every time.
Little old ladies whirled about the streets in high-seated, battery-powered motor cars that ran on hard rubber tires and contained a vase for fresh flowers.
The postman not only knocked twice—he also delivered the mail (first class letters, 2 cents) twice a day at your home.
Ah, vanished yesterdays. Remember?

Around The Rim

That Cold, Remorseless Look

Back in the late 1920's, Oklahoma decided to impeach a governor.

My newspaper was pro-governor. There was only one other newspaper in the state who felt as we did. All of the state's press, with the exception of these two papers stood 100 per cent for kicking his excellency right out of the governor's mansion.

My newspaper loaned me out to the highway commission (which had to be appointed by the beleaguered state executive) as a sort of free-lance press agent. I was to report the trial as objectively as I could and try to get other newspapers in the state and elsewhere to publish my reports.

(UPSHOT of the whole proceedings was that the governor was impeached and that the vote of the senate court of impeachment which ousted him was the same the day it officially ordered the impeachment as it had been the day the impeachment session opened. I barely escaped being kicked out of the senate chamber because I had published the way the several solons would vote—and as it turned out the way they did vote—about a month before the final ballot was taken.)

However, I wasn't intending to discuss the trail.

SEATED ALONGSIDE me at the senate press table was a lanky, gray-headed man, with cold blue eyes and a thin humorless mouth. He never deigned to speak to me—a lowly small town reporter. He barely nodded to the president of the senate and to the several solons who never missed coming to the press table each morning to speak to this individual, beaming warm smiles of admiration at him.

His name was Carl Magee. He was a Scripps - Howard editor and columnist whose column "Turning on the Light" was supposed to scare the pants off of any official, big or little, it chose to criticize.

NATURALLY I did not get to know Mr. Magee very well even though we sat beside one another for nearly three months. He was on the other side of the fence; he was a big time scribe; I was a brash youngster from a small daily. The only time he showed any interest in me at all was when the senate was debating whether to kick me out of the senate chamber. I noted a gleam of interest in his frigid face—an expression which clearly indicated he hoped they would throw the book at me. I escaped when a senator who happened to be my pal somehow got the outer action relegated to some senate committee which met but once a session and had already met.

AFTER THE trial ended I noted the able Mr. Magee was no longer on the Oklahoma journalistic scene.

He showed up elsewhere though—he was, it seems, the inventor of a gadget which now has spread the length and breadth of the land and has probably caused more innocent motorists to stomp into police courts and stations than all of the cops in the country.

Magee invented the first parking meter and headed the pioneer company which put these things on the market.

I didn't admire Magee as a newspaper man. I admired him still less as an inventor.

THE METERS I face daily likely are not the product of his company, yet I get a sort of fiendish delight when I see someone ride out the time and get away scot free without having paid in the required nickel.
The meters have the same cold, remorseless expression to me that Magee presented each morning that spring we were reporting the Henry Johnston impeachment.

Restraint On Test-Ban Agreement

WASHINGTON—After five years of effort a limited test-ban agreement has been reached. The world does move, even though at a snail's pace.

The keynote here has from the beginning been caution and restraint. This was the view stressed by the President in every private discussion and it was the underlying theme of his address to the nation.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY is thoroughly aware of the sequence—the signing of the Austrian Treaty in 1955 ending the four-power occupation of that country. In the enthusiasm of the moment President Eisenhower agreed to a summit meeting a few weeks later. Hastily convened and poorly prepared, it ended in vague atmospherics and the promise of a subsequent Foreign Ministers' meeting that continued all the old wrangles.

The President and his advisers are coming over every piece of evidence to assess Premier Khrushchev's motives:

ECONOMIC TROUBLE within the Soviet Union itself and the need to divert more resources to the consumer economy?

The military confrontation with Communist China following the split?

A conviction of Soviet nuclear superiority and the certainty that at any given moment Moscow can test again, treaty or no treaty?

Or a genuine and deep-seated fear of the spread of nuclear weapons to fifth and sixth and seventh powers and the growing odds for an all-out nuclear war?

THAT LAST possibility has been the primary motive of the President. Khrushchev has several times expressed the same fear, notably in the letter to Peking charging the Chinese Communists following a nuclear war in the expectation of building socialism on the ruins of the capitalist world.
In the cycle they have been through the two Ks have gone from below zero to a tepid and tentative warming-up. At Vienna two years ago Khrushchev thrust on Kennedy two stiff, almost insulting, memoranda on Berlin and Germany. The President then began the buildup for a showdown in Europe. The change came after the Cuba crisis of last October when Khrushchev was convinced the President would go to the ultimate decision of a nuclear war rather than yield on fundamental security in Berlin or Cuba.

TENTATIVE IS still the appropriate word for this first step on the road toward disarmament. If the treaty were any broader—if it covered underground testing even with seven on-site inspections proposed by the West—ratification by the Senate would be in serious doubt.
The position of the Senate subcommittee on preparedness of the Armed Services Committee is the key. Sen. Stuart Symington (D, Mo.), one of the members of that committee most conscientious and concerned over possible risks of a test-ban agreement, has indicated he will vote for the treaty.

THE OTHER members are Chairman John Stennis, Senators Henry M. Jackson and Strom Thurmond, Democrats, and Senators Margaret Chase Smith, Leverett Saltonstall and Barry Goldwater, Republicans. The likelihood now is that a majority of the subcommittee will favor the agreement. Lengthy hearings on the military impact of a test ban have been held with the Joint Chiefs of Staff and witnesses strongly opposed, among them Edward Teller, the noted physicist, still to be heard.

BUT THE Administration has some big guns that can be extremely effective in the military debate. Two developments hitherto too secret to put the test-ban issue in a new light. One is the spectacular advance in techniques of monitoring to distinguish between a nuclear blast and an earthquake that do not require on-site inspection. These techniques, as revealed to the committee, are considered by Administration spokesmen to answer many of the objections raised by Senators who sincerely want to reach an agreement that will not put the United States at a disadvantage.

The second development is the massive intelligence breakthrough, dating from September, 1961, that gives this country assurance of nuclear superiority over the Soviet Union. It is why Secretary of State Dean Rusk was able to say at the Ottawa conference of NATO Foreign Ministers that we know this beyond any doubt although he could not disclose to them the techniques by which we know.

UP TO THE present the discussion of whether the Senate would or would not ratify a treaty has been a theoretical vacuum. It has not taken into account the reaction of enormous relief currently being registered around the globe that pollution of the atmosphere can be stopped and at least a tentative pause in the arms race achieved. That relief will be registered with perhaps as many as a hundred nations adhering to the treaty. The sense of a shadow lifting gives mankind a glimpse of hope.

Billy Graham

My fellow workers use a great deal of profanity and tell dirty stories. As a Christian, I want to witness but don't know how to go about it.

H. L.
God may have placed you in this particular situation to help some of these people. Profanity is a foolish and sinful habit which most people use to cover up vacant minds. Where the Lord's name is taken in vain you have the right to ask them not to so speak, for you love your Lord and it hurts to hear His name abused. As for the dirty jokes; you can very easily show that you do not like them and that they are in very poor taste. Above all do not assume a holier-than-thou attitude. Try to live a normal happy life in the office, showing by the things you do (and do not do) and by the things you say (and do not say) that a Christian can be attractive and interesting because someone lives inside. Every morning ask God to give you the wisdom, the love and the patience you need for that particular day. Then, when aggravations come, meet them as He will surely give you the wisdom and strength to do. It is in situations such as yours that some of the finest Christian testimonies are borne.

Birth Control Pills Can Produce Side Effects

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: My doctor gave me a prescription for birth control pills and directions to take one tablet daily, from the fifth through the 24th day of the cycle. Which I did.
For several days after the last pill I began to "spot," but no real bleeding. Is this normal? Should I continue taking the pills? I was also quite sick the first week, just like "morning sickness."—MRS. A.D.

Birth control medication has had several years of testing and is currently being taken by a large number of women. Results have been highly dependable when the pills have been used according to instructions. While doctors never stop looking for more information about any medicine, no matter how long it has been in use, I know of no danger with the pills.
The directions you received are correct. The spotting is called "withdrawal bleeding," and is sometimes seen in normal cases. It is frequent enough so I think women should be warned in advance that it may occur.
Your "morning sickness" is not too unusual, either. Some women tolerate the drug very easily; some have to give it up because of too much nausea.
Thus whether you continue to take the pills rests with you and your doctor, but you have no cause for alarm in these symptoms.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can heat from a clothes dryer destroy pinworm eggs? I understand that washing clothes will not destroy the eggs. Would a disinfectant or bleach help? I enclose 20 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope for a copy of your booklet, "Pinworm—The Commonest Pest."—MRS. V. T.

the more important factor of friction and pressure.
I have two suggestions. First, when spring comes start using your hands, whether at swinging a tennis racket or baseball bat. Or chopping wood, or taking a shovel and digging a hole two feet deep, after which you fill it up and start another dig. Anything to accustom your hands to work.
My second suggestion: If that isn't enough, then wear cotton work gloves when you first begin manual labor. They will let your hands toughen more gradually.
Treatment of blisters? Keep them covered with miniature bandages and let them break and drain normally if possible. Pricking blisters with a needle can introduce infectious germs at times.

Yes, a dryer will kill the eggs. So will washing and the heat of ironing. Clothing, as you'll note in the booklet, isn't the only means of transmitting the eggs.
Dear Dr. Molner: I'm sure other university students have my problem. At the end of the school year my hands are soft, but I spend the summer doing manual labor. Is it possible to prevent blisters by toughening the skin? Would soaking my hands in salt solution help? And when I get the blisters, what is the best way to treat them?—J. C.

Fat! My leaflet, "The Lost Secret of Reducing," tells how to get rid of it the easy way. For your copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of handling.
Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner answers readers' questions in his column whenever possible.

Russia Has More Nuclear Knowledge

WASHINGTON—Up till the time, in September, 1961, when Russia held mammoth thermonuclear tests in the Arctic, there was well-informed confidence in Washington that the U.S.A. was "ahead" of the U.S.S.R. in the number of nuclear weapons and in nuclear knowledge.

To put the matter very bluntly, Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy could be called justified, before those Arctic explosions, in offering a test ban treaty to abolish further explosions in the air and in the water.

THERE WAS MUCH expert opinion which said that we did not need cooperative inspection of such explosions because both sides had instruments for detection.
But the whole matter of a test ban treaty now must be reconsidered on the basis of that turning point—September, 1961. It is still authoritatively assumed that the U.S.A. is "ahead" in the number of nuclear weapons and in our ability to produce them. But there is another area in which the U.S.A. is definitely "behind"—and that is the area of nuclear knowledge.

BY THIS I mean to convey the positive belief of well-informed men who declare that Russia has learned more about nuclear weapons during 1961-63 than we have learned. Therefore, the advantage of a test ban has altered radically in the last two years. Before the autumn of 1961, a test ban treaty, if honestly observed, would have fixed and perpetuated the American superiority within the limits of air and water. But after the autumn of 1961, the advantage went to Russia.
A good many senators know this. They will say so if protected from seeing their words in print. They do not wish to be premature by opposing a treaty which is not yet before the Senate. But they do wish to find ways of offsetting this Russian advantage by writing certain provisions into the treaty that they finally ratify.
ONE VERY important proviso, mentioned in this space yesterday, is that we will consider the treaty to be au-tomatically violated—whenever we detect unexplained explosions within Soviet territory.

Another proviso is that the three parties to the treaty (the U.S.A., U.S.S.R. and Britain) agree to limit production of nuclear weapons, as distinguished from the testing of them. This limitation is necessary for a reason so sensitive that I prefer to let another writer, who is more familiar than I with "sanitized" Pentagon language, put my information into words. Hanson Baldwin, N. Y. Times military columnist, says it this way:

"THE NIGHTMARE of a few experts is that a number of Russian superweapons exploded in the skies above the U. S. might blur our radar, knock out or confuse command-and-control systems, or destroy our electronic circuits and thus prevent the launching of deterrent weapons."
The "nightmare," to give it Baldwin's term, is that Russia, since 1961, has tested a "super-weapon" which could cripple our military communications and render us incapable of striking back.

THERE ARE senators ready to vow that no treaty shall be signed which leaves Russia free to produce this weapon which "a few experts" believe has already been tested.

Love Me, Love My Cat, Challenges New Bride

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Love me, love my cat, is the challenge put to one 16-year-old by her 22-year-old husband.

"I have been married six months, and I have spent more time coping with my husband's cat, than I have with anything in the house," she writes. He has owned the cat six years, and is very devoted to it, and has permitted it all sorts of privileges. When we have company, it will walk across the coffee table and pick out the snacks it wants.

SHEDDING

"It leaves hair on the furniture, so everyone must be brushed before leaving our house. The cat sleeps on the foot of our bed and leaves its long hairs everywhere, and I must vacuum the blanket every day. My husband says that I should learn to like the cat, instead of being a cat hater, which I'm not. I feel like driving somewhere with the cat and ditching it, but I think it will come back and haunt me."

JOIN 'EM

It is much easier to be friends with an animal than its enemy, especially a cat, who probably suspects you don't like it. You should be thinking of it as our cat, rather than his cat, and once you make it your pet too, you can make some changes. Pet and pamper it occasionally so it trusts you. You may not even have to put the cat in it as they are quick to spot soft places. When the cat jumps up on the coffee table, pick it up gently and firmly and put it on the floor, taking a tidbit of it after, and offering it to him.

COVER UP

Put a cloth over any cushions that the cat favors, and these cloths may be kept under the cushion for emergencies. You could designate one chair and leave the cloth on it, except when company comes. Unlike dogs, cats are easily trained to new situations, if they like you.

'Good Mood' Styles Are Revealed

PARIS (AP)—Yves Saint Laurent today keyed his fall and winter fashion into to "good mood."

There were no bombshells or radical changes. Saint-Laurent, who stepped into the shoes of Christian Dior after Dior's death and later was forced out, has attracted enough wealthy clients to his own house to avoid sensationalism.

Hemlines comfortably cover the knees. Sports and evening wear claimed most of the interest from the collection.

For sports, Saint-Laurent put his models into "puss in boots" styles. Suede, alligator and calf boots climb thigh-high and zip or strap on. Tight pants are worn with them.

The ensembles are completed by tweed or mohair tunics and space helmets or fancy headgear.

Evening wear is restrained in silhouette but opulent. Jeweled and sequined embroideries appear in long, tight sleeves. Jet, topaz, small pearls and rhinestones are used.

Saint-Laurent develops his own trend of past designs and adapts it for winter. His tunics and peasant shirts are promoted to slender shifts with a low waist often marked by a flat welded seam or a line. Low vertical pockets and back belts often coming part way in front also stress a lower waistline.

HINTS FROM HELOISE by Heloise Cruse

Dear Heloise: Because I run an antique furniture store I am always obliged to clean the brass drawer pulls and feet of tables, etc.

HELOISE

It is a slow, hard rubbing chore. However, it can be done an easy way. Here's how: Simply pour the entire contents of a can of liquid metal polish into a deep bowl or can. I remove the brass drawer pulls and feet from the furniture and submerge the item to be cleaned in the bowl of liquid. I let this sit about an hour according to how tarnished the article is.

I remove one piece at a time from the bowl and just wipe the discoloration and tarnish off and polish with a soft dry cloth.

If the piece being cleaned is intricate or ornate in design, a few strokes with an old toothbrush will do the trick!
When all of the drawer pulls and small brass pieces are polished I pour the remaining polish back into the original bottle using a funnel. There is little or no waste of polish.
Ed. Kirkland

Dear Heloise: I would like to try to save those of you who buy refrigerators (without a service policy) a little money.

I recently purchased a refrigerator, but I found that it made a lot of noise. Know what the trouble was?

When refrigerators and washing machines come from the factory (and this especially applies to all of you who get your refrigerators from wholesale places, discount houses, etc.), they come in crates and you are responsible for moving and/or installation. But remember: The motor is bolted to the frame and the box. All the man did for me was to pull the refrigerator out from the wall and remove the bracket which looked like a piece of metal that was attached to the motor and joined the frame of the ice box! And I thought this was part of the refrigerator itself!

The maintenance man told me that one of those brackets was supposed to remain on any appliance including refrigerators until in use.

Read your directions.
Heloise

Dear Heloise: I find that using a dry sponge on a damp sink after sprinkling it with cleanser will remove the stains better!

A. Reader

Dear Heloise: Being a nurse and profiting by my hospital training, I use this idea when my children have colds and it saves me picking up tissues from the floor.

I pin — with an ordinary safety pin — a paper bag or a home-made newspaper bag to the side of the bed so that my children can drop their tissues in it.
Nurse

Dear Heloise: When you use your electric mixer and find spilling a problem, shape some aluminum foil around it "cone fashion" so the large end of the cone will rest on the bowl. Squeeze the cone loosely around the shaft of the mixer's paddle. Ingredients in the mixer will not splash.
Woody

Dear Heloise: Pipe cleaners are wonderful to clean can openers. They will bend to fit all those tiny crevices and round surfaces and the soft pile will pick up all the residue.
Lynn Cather

Dear Heloise: (Letters to Heloise should be mailed to the Big Spring Herald.)

L. Angeles Pulls Out Of Slump

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Handy Sandy Koufax, performing a thorough clean-up job for the Los Angeles Dodgers, has pulled the National League leaders out of their longest losing streak in two months.

Koufax pitched a five-hitter and posted his 17th victory in a 6-2 decision over surging Philadelphia that ended the Dodgers' losing streak at four games and maintained their 4½-game bulge over the pursuing pack.

Winless for 13 days as the Dodgers struggled through their worst skid since early June, Koufax

Stars Work On Defense

CHICAGO (AP)—Head Coach Otto Graham doesn't have a short memory and for that reason it's a safe bet his College All-Stars will be well-schooled in pass defense when they meet the Green Bay Packers in Soldier Field Friday night.

Graham has been coaching the All-Stars since their last victory over the professionals—a 35-19 upset over Detroit in 1958 — and tipped his hand after last year's 42-20 loss to Green Bay.

"They beat us with their pass pattern," said Graham. "There didn't seem to be anything we could do about it."

Bart Starr, Green Bay's methodical quarterback, threw five touchdown passes as the Packers turned a 21-20 lead after three quarters into a rout.

Graham has been carrying a clipboard of Green Bay pass patterns in every All-Stars workout. But whether the All-Stars will try to rush Starr or concentrate on covering the receivers is something that will not unfold until Friday night.

Graham is as secretive as usual about his starting quarterback, the key role in the All-Stars' attack. The choice will be a tough one.

Horlen Takes Cardiac Jolt In 9th Round

By JIM HACKLEMAN

Heartbreaking losses for a pair of youngsters and a touch of luck for a veteran. It was that kind of a night on the American League pitching scene Monday.

Joel Horlen of the Chicago White Sox had his brilliant try at a no-hitter—and victory—shattered in the last of the ninth at Washington. Chuck Hinton's single with one out was the first Senator hit off the 25-year-old right-hander, recalled from the minors last week. Then Don Lock's two-out homer pinned Horlen with a 2-1 loss.

At Baltimore, rookie Mickey Lolich of the Detroit Tigers held the Orioles to one single through eight innings, but in the ninth Al Smith singled with one away and one out later pinch batter Dick Brown smashed a homer.

Old-timer Robin Roberts got the victory with a two-hit performance.

At Cleveland, Dean Chance of Los Angeles fired a two-hitter at the Indians and was backed by a free-scoring plurge that included an eight-run third inning capped by Felix Torres' grand slam homer. Score—11-0.

Also in the Al-Dave Wickersham turned in an eight-hit shut-out and Wayne Causey and Norm Siebern banged homers as Kansas City beat New York's first-place Yankees 5-0 and Boston withstood a Minnesota home run spree in downing the Twins 7-5.

Horlen, going for the first no-hitter in Washington in 32 years, retired leadoff man Jim King in the ninth before Hinton bounced his single. Bo Osborne grounded out and Lock followed with his 17th homer. The loss was the third against five victories for Horlen. Ron Kline was the winner after pitching the first 11 batters, gave up a single in the fourth to Bob Johnson, then set down 14 more in a row before Smith batted for Roberts and singled.

Roberts allowed one Tiger hit in the first and one in the ninth, walked two and hit a batter. The only run off the 36-year-old right-hander was unearned.

Fred Whitfield broke up Chance's no-hit bid with two out in the seventh when he looped a single to center. Woodie Held singled in the eighth for Cleveland's other hit. The big right-hander walked three and struck out 12.

The Angels pounded five Cleveland pitchers for 14 hits, getting six in their eight-run burst against Lock. Dick Donovan and Jerry Wickersham's shutout was his first in two seasons as a major leaguer and the first for the A's over the Yankees in almost three years.

Al Downing was tagged for a single by Gino Cimoli and Causey's homer before a man was out in the first, then fell helplessly behind when Siebern connected with two in on the sixth.

Boston took a 7-0 lead in the first three innings. Then the Twins' Bob Allison homered in the fourth, Earl Battey connected in the seventh and Vic Power and Don Mincher homered in the eighth.

Ed Sox strong boy Dick Radatz came on then for his 44th appearance this season and preserved Bill Monbouquette's 14th victory.

Palmer Wins $11,000 In Western Tourney

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—A bogey was worth $11,000 to Arnold Palmer in the strangest putting hole ever to confound golfing greats locked in a major tournament.

Arnie took the Western Open title and its accompanying check as a gift from Julius Boros and Jack Nicklaus in an 18-hole playoff Monday.

Suffice to say that Arnie won by shooting 33-37—70 over the demanding Beverly Country Club course and its par 36-35-71.

Boros, with 36-35-71, and Nicklaus, 37-36-73, each pocketed $4,450.

Palmer boosted his winnings to $96,955, giving him a shot at becoming the first golfer to win $100,000 in a season.

The playoff can be capsule on the par 3,205-yard 17th hole with its tricky, rolling green. Two successive birdies had helped Paul National Open champion Boros in-

Nicklaus Cool Killer When He's Playing

NEW YORK (AP)—They call him the "Heavyweight Hogan."

On the golf course, he is a cool, calculating killer. He is forever thinking, scheming. He grabs Old Man Far in those muscled arms and literally chokes him to death.

Off the course, he is just a big, friendly boy with a pleasant pink face. He laughs constantly. He jokes about his bad rounds. His mood doesn't change—whether he shoots an 80 or a 65.

Jack Nicklaus, golf's new Golden Boy, is a contradiction.

He is an extremely slow player, and he doesn't apologize.

"I never hit a shot until I am ready," he says. "I know I stand over a putt a long time and I can hear people muttering 'Why doesn't he go ahead and hit it?' but the truth is I'm not a good putter. I never had confidence in my stroke. So I make sure of the line before I stroke it."

On the fairway, he is equally meticulous. He is what Ben Hogan calls a "management golfer" like himself. Whereas Hogan memorized desirable positions and played every shot to an area with machine-like accuracy, Nicklaus charts the course and carries a yardage map in his hip pocket. He refers to it before almost every shot.

Jack recalls that Hogan, Cary Middlecott and other great champions have been notoriously slow performers.

"It's ridiculous for anybody to tell someone else how long they should take to make a living," he said.

Nicklaus, it might be said, is living high on the hog. He has earned more than $75,000 in official money winnings. He probably will pay income tax on $300,000 this year.

More amazing is the fact that at 23 he has achieved heights many great players don't gain in a lifetime.

In the 18 months since he turned pro, he has won America's blue ribbon professional championships—the Masters, Open and PGA. Only three men before him have been able to do that—Gen Sarazen, Hogan and Byron Nelson—and it took them much longer.

Bobby Jones was 21 when he won his first major title—the Open at Inwood in 1922. Boney Gene Sarazen was 20 when he won his first Open but he went 10 years before he got his second, 11 before he got his PGA and 13 before he took the Masters in 1935. Walter Hagen was a cocky, skinny assistant pro of 21 when he won the Open at Midlothian in 1914.

None of these immortals could hit the ball as long or as straight off the tee as the game's latest sensation.

Top Defensive Hands Ready

KANSAS CITY (AP)—"Psycho and The Beast"—Sheriff Heckrick and Ed J. Holub—of the Kansas City Chiefs—are ready for another open season on American Football League ball carriers.

Heckrick and Holub were considered the best pair of linebackers in the AFL the past two seasons and helped the Chiefs lead the league in defense last season.

"I guess they call me Psycho because they think I'm crazy to play the way I do," Heckrick said. "I don't mind it. Football is my life and I believe in playing it as hard as I can."

Coach Hank Stram said Heckrick plays middle linebacker with reckless abandon, with utter disregard of his own body. He has played despite a broken jaw, a sprained back and painful neck injury.

Holub was named The Beast in his college days at Texas Tech because he carried a football must be made to suffer.

His hardest adjustment to pro life was learning he couldn't always be the executioner at his corner linebacker post.

Holub, 6-foot-4 and 225 pounds, owns a ranch in West Texas which is 30 miles from the nearest small town and 10 miles from his mail box. He has no television and no telephone. He loves the quiet life.

"I like to sit on that screened in porch and listen to the frogs and crickets, that's really peaceful," Holub said.

Yet he's the holler guy, the noisemaker of the Chiefs.

Heckrick, 6-foot-2 and 220, said his keen diagnosis of plays comes from watching the offensive guards.

"I learned to read the guards from my high school coach, Kenneth Gire," Heckrick said. He attended Texas Christian for three years.

Bill Miller Will Teach In Abilene

ABILENE—Bill Miller, a track star at McMurry College, has been hired as a social studies teacher at Madison Junior High School in Abilene.

Miller did not seek employment as a coach, since it might impair his Olympic eligibility for the broad jumping event in 1964.

Two Americans Killed

A U.S. Army jeep lies on side after two American soldiers riding in it were killed and another wounded in a grenade and machine-gun ambush by North Korean troops. The attack occurred just south of the demilitarized zone at Chungyang-Dong, 20 miles from Seoul. The Americans were riding to a guard post when an estimated seven North Koreans attacked. Sgt. Lee Ford of Shamrock, Texas, poses beside wrecked jeep.

Strengthened Patrols Hunt Armed Korean Infiltrators

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Strengthened U.S. Army patrols backed by South Korean national police, killed four heavily armed North Korean Communist infiltrators today in a hunt for Red raiders who have slain three U.S. soldiers in two days.

Looking "under every bush," in the words of one U.S. commanding officer, the forces hunted down infiltrating saboteurs on missions close by the headquarters of the U.S. 4th Cavalry Regiment command post, six miles south of the Korean demilitarized zone.

The fighting was the farthest south of the buffer area since the Korean armistice was signed July 27, 1953.

The action was set off Monday by the ambush of a U.S. jeep in which two U.S. soldiers were killed and a third wounded, below the Korean armistice line. With vigilance renewed and patrols strengthened, the hunt began for those attackers.

As troops and police scoured the area, another American soldier and a South Korean police officer engaged in another clash that cost their lives in the grassy bottomland south of the Imjin River, near Dangdong-ri.

In Washington the Army identified Cpl. George F. Larson Jr., of Davison, Mich., as the soldier killed today.

Larson, 24, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Larson Sr., of Davison.

Col. George Creel, the U.N. Command spokesman who confirmed the four North Koreans were dead, said they could be part of the same raiding patrol which machine-gunned a 1st Cavalry Division jeep Monday, killing two U.S. soldiers and wounding another on their way to guard duty in the demilitarized zone.

There also was speculation the four North Koreans killed today were agents bound on a mission of violent espionage. They carried automatic weapons and hand grenades.

The first North Koreans were gunned down about 9 a.m. It was in this clash that a soldier of the U.S. 7th Infantry Division and the Korean police officer died.

At about 4 p.m., the other two North Koreans were surrounded in deep grass west of the road to Pannunjom and about a mile south of Freedom Bridge.

While an American Army helicopter hovered overhead, about 50 national policemen and half a dozen U.S. soldiers closed in. Two hand grenade explosions were heard, leading to speculation the agents took their own lives.

Associated Press photographer Kim Chong-kil and reporter An Mu-hun arrived on the spot shortly before the shooting started this afternoon. They interviewed the husband of an old woman who was held captive by the four Communists.

Yang Chon Soon, 52, was out collecting mushrooms in the bushy area where the grass is head high. Suddenly someone grabbed her by the wrist and demanded: "Why are you here? This is a firing range. Do you have anyone working in the government?"

The woman was held about 20 minutes and let go. Her daughter ran to the police box to report the incident to police, but policemen were out searching for the North Koreans.

The first new trash pickup containers were put in position in the immediate downtown area Monday. City Manager Larry Crow said Tuesday morning. More are being placed in adjacent outlying areas this morning.

Crow said the new Pak-Mor truck would begin pickup service this afternoon.

Some readjustment of the first containers may be necessary to give the best service, Crow said, but a lot of time is going to be saved in using them, and the downtown area should have cleaner alleys.

Criminologist Declares Nation At Critical Juncture

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "The current racial crisis is not a crisis of the Negro, or of the conservative, or of the reactionary white. It is a crisis of the American people and the democratic way of life," says criminologist Joseph D. Lohman.

Dr. Lohman, dean of the School of Criminology of the University of California at Berkeley, told the National Urban League on Monday that Negroes make up 10 per cent of the nation's population and yet account for 20 per cent of juvenile delinquency.

year drop out of high school, due to "lack of incentive and a limited career range beyond high school."

Lisle C. Carter Jr., deputy assistant secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare said "Special attention must be given Negroes if full integration in all phases of American society is to be attained." "The damage wrought by generations of deprivation and debasement... must be repaired by concentrated leadership in all phases of our society," he said. "Lowering the barriers of prejudice is not enough. We must work to help repair the damages these barriers have inflicted."

EVIL EFFECT

"Negro youth are exposed to the evil effect of being blocked from cultural assimilation in our cities," said Lohman, "and their crime is the abortive fruit of our failure. We are at a critical juncture in American community development."

Nelson C. Jackson of New York, associate executive director of the league said earlier that the effects of discrimination are becoming intensified as cities grow.

BETTER CHANCE

Otis Finley of New York, league associate director said white dropouts in Louisiana high schools have better job opportunities than Negroes who go on to graduate.

"Negro children do need preferential treatment for some time," he told a press conference. "They come to school from a background of 300 years of deprivation and denial, and even basic reading skills are affected by their cultural background. This could be done with no expense to any other group."

Jackson estimated that the unemployment rate is twice as high among Negroes as that of the nation in general. About 50 per cent of Negroes between 16 and 21 are not working, he said, and more than two thirds of Negroes who do have jobs are grouped in five unskilled and semi-skilled job classifications. He did not list them.

TRICKLED DOWN

"Part of this," Jackson said, "is because fair employment policies in the national offices of businesses and unions have trickled down to the local level for positive action."

BRINGS EATS

DEEPENING CRISIS

Most Segregationists Profess Liking Negroes

EDITOR'S NOTE—What is the naked basis of the white man's resistance to integration of Negroes in America? Here is a hard look at the core of the problem. Often hidden behind polite reasons and rationalizations. Second of a special series of articles, comprehensively surveying both sides of today's racial crisis.

By RELMAN MORIN
MACON COUNTY, Ala. (AP)—It is not uncommon in the South to hear a segregationist say that, by and large, he likes the Negro.

He sees no inconsistency between having an affection for Negroes and at the same time defending a system that denies them full equality. "The Negroes as a whole just aren't ready yet," he says. "It's not their fault, but that's the way it is at this point."

KEY POINT

A key point in his reasoning is that the great majority of Negroes are like children and that, for the time being, they must be treated as such.

A composite of many conversations with the thoughtful type of segregationist goes pretty much like this:

"When I was a kid, my best friend was a colored boy. We played together, fished together, slept side by side on hunting trips. I was in and out of his house every day and he was in mine, eating from the same kitchen table.

"After we grew up, I paid his hospital bills and loaned him money when he needed it. I went to the weddings and funerals in his family and he came to ours. On Saturday night when he got into trouble with the law, who went to the jail at 2 a.m. and hailed him out? I did."

It was a comfortable, harmonious relationship, he says.

STRIFE

Even today, while racial strife rises toward the danger point in many places, you can still see this relationship between individual Negroes and whites in the South.

Here is a cotton plantation deep in Alabama.

It is about 10 miles from the nearest community, the nearest sheriff or policeman. In the county, Negroes outnumber the whites, five to one.

The doors of the planter's home are never locked. When he has to travel, he tells the Negro foreman, "I'll be away a few days. You look after things around here."

Driving into the plantation, you see a softball game in a field near the planter's house. Three of his children, including a girl, are playing with the children of the Negro "hoe hands."

FINDS WORK

In the winter, when the fields are bare, he finds other work on the plantation for his "hoe hands." They have to eat in the winter, too.

The integrationist calls this "Uncle Tomism," and the militant Negro says it is "paternalism," archaic, degrading the Negro, numbing his effort to develop himself.

Let's look further.

The planter frequently works in the fields beside the "hoe hands." The relationship appears completely comfortable. Little jokers in language largely unintelligible to a Yankee—pass between them. They agree that the cotton looks good.

"Way I figure," says the Negro foreman, "the better the boss does, the better we do." There will be a bonus, for them at Christmas.

He has been on this plantation 24 years, another man for 17, several others for 8 to 10 years.

CAME BACK

The foreman once went to Florida and worked for a year. He came back. Some of the others went North for jobs. They came back, too. All of them have been to school, three, five, six years.

You see television antennae on the Negro houses. The foreman says he saw pictures of the distinctions at Birmingham and elsewhere, North and South. What did he think?

"Well," he says, "they is sorry colored folks and they is sorry white folks everywhere, and I wish they'd both jes' leave us alone."

Whether this is the attitude, generally, of the Negro field workers in Macon County is difficult to say. Even the whites who consider themselves on close personal terms with their Negroes say they don't know what "hoe hands" are thinking, as the clash and clatter of racial trouble comes nearer.

Not all segregationists, of course, profess to like Negroes.

For similar reasons, he doesn't want his wife and daughter to sit next to a Negro in a movie theater or a lunch counter, use the same fitting rooms in a store, or the same rest rooms.

Does he really believe the Negro's ultimate goal is to "marry your daughter?" Yes, he does. He's convinced of it.

As to the Negro's right to vote, one segregationist said, "There's no reason why their best people shouldn't vote, those who are educated, literate, and able to make a judgment on candidates and issues. But there aren't many with these qualifications."

SIMILAR REASONS

So it goes, consistently, over point after point—the assertion that the Negro's level of development is not yet at a stage where he is ready for full equality.

In his speech to the convention, Goldwater said he is keeping an open mind on ratification of treaty banning most nuclear testing. He

This strategy, he said, is intended "to have Republicans eat Republicans, and I'll be damned if I'll follow suit."

so much progress in 100 years as the Negroes have made," he says. "But they did it with the guidance of the white man and they still need our guidance."

Flowing from that comes his opposition to integrated schools.

"The Negro doesn't have the same capacity for learning," he says. "Moreover, his home environment is seldom conducive to study. So why should my children be held back to his pace? They're both better off in schools where they can advance at their own pace."

The segregationist also says that Negro children frequently come to school un-bathed and wearing dirty clothes. He says they come from homes with a high rate of illegitimacy and adds, "I don't want my kids sitting next to kids who talk openly about what they have seen at home."

South's problems centered around avoiding the loss of two diamond tricks as well as the development of his heart suit without further casualty. A discard for one of his diamonds was available on North's king of clubs, but first it was nec-

Freeman Sends Khrushchev Pipe Of Peace

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev received an Indian pipe of peace today from U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman. Khrushchev said he didn't smoke but accepted it as a symbol.

Freeman, winding up a three-week tour of Soviet agricultural areas, presented the two-foot pipe in a conference room next to the Premier's Kremlin office. The secretary was accompanied by his wife, members of his party, and U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler.

"Good morning," said Freeman to Khrushchev in limping Russian. Then, in still more halting Russian, he added, "calm." He may have meant to use a Russian word with the same root meaning peace.

He expressed pleasure at being received by Khrushchev, presented Mrs. Freeman, then got busy with the two-foot peace pipe.

"I wanted to present something symbolic," he said, explaining that the pipestone came from a Minnesota quarry from which Indian warriors for centuries had cut the pipes. They smoked when they talked peace.

"It is my privilege to present this as a symbol of a desire for peace in the world," Freeman said.

"I don't smoke," Khrushchev replied, grinning, "but I take it as a symbol."

"Then we will restrict ourselves to a symbolic smoke today," said Freeman.

The pipe was decorated in green and black, with the stone bowl a deep brown, as if stained by years of smoking.

Khrushchev made a quick mock gesture of smoking the pipe then laid it on the table beside him.

American newsmen and photographers were invited in for the presentation. That has happened several times in the past month, the first time in years that American correspondents have been called in for the opening of talks between the Soviet premier and American officials.

Normally only Soviet reporters and photographers have been permitted.

Texas Retail Sales Are Up

AUSTIN (AP) — Retail sales during the first half of this year are 2 per cent larger than in 1962, the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas said.

Total sales were $5.9 billion, with 12.2 billion expected for the full year.

"The conclusion that retail business in Texas continued to grow slowly in 1963 is still borne out," the report said.

"June is normally a slow month for retail business in the state, and this year's June was not the exception. However, sales of most kinds of retail stores for the first half of 1963 showed gains. The kinds of business showing decreases were lumber and building material dealers, apparel stores, except men's and boys' clothing stores, florists, liquor stores, and office, stores and school supply dealers."

The report said store sales dropped 3 per cent in June, but were 5 per cent higher during the first six months.
