Boy Scout Training Saves Youth's Life

By JOE BEYER Prompt action by a 16-year-old lifeguard at the North Side Swimming Pool saved the life of a 12-year-old Odessa lad late Saturday.

The youth who narrowly escaped death is Robert Sherman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sherman, 512 N. Clifford, Odessa. He owes his life to the efforts of Rey Navarrete, 16, 506 NW 4th, who pulled the unconscious boy from deep water in the pool.

Last night youth Sherman was doing well at the Howard County Foundation Hospital and grateful to his friend for the good work. He was expected to be released some time today unless complications set in.

he had learned during four years of Boy Scout work. This is his first season as a lifeguard at the pool.

Ed King, a hoseman at the city fire station just north of the pool, went out to help when it became known that there was trouble. By the time he arrived at the scene, however, the youth was rallying.

Another youngster who played a timely part in the rescue effort was Arthur Hernandez, 12, 506 NW 4th, who reported the accident to Navarrete.

DAVID GOMEZ JR., 15, a cousin of Sherman, said that he was across the way from the scene of the accident and did not see it happen.

Come August 24, You Can Drive 70 M.P.H. — Legally

Effective Aug. 23, the speed limit for most of the roads in Howard County will be increased from 60 miles an hour to 70 miles for day time driving and from 55 to 65 for nighttime operation.

The county will find new signs along the roadside advertising them of the new speed limits. Most of Howard County's roads have been rated by the engineers as 70-mile an hour roads and they will become a part of the state highway department network of 41,500 miles of highway where such speeds are to be legal. Relatively few miles of local roads are to be set up in the second division of state ratings. The highway department has earmarked 18,640 miles of road to continue under the old 60-55 speed rating.

NEW SIGNS
Clint Kent, state maintenance engineer for the Big Spring office of the state highway department, and his crew will take to the roads a few days ahead of the Aug. 23 deadline replacing the present warning signs with the new models.

The state highway department will leave the old signs reading "60" and "55" until the last possible moment, it was indicated. There are some districts which plan to take down the old signs, put up the new and then cover their faces with paper. The replacement will be made, for the most part, the last two days before the new speed limits go into effect. On Aug. 23, the maintenance men will peel off the masking paper. This may be the plan followed in this county.

It was pointed out that sometime ago a program of placing these speed warning signs on taller standards was initiated. The new signs will be uniformly on 7 foot poles. Where the taller poles are in place, all that will have to be done is to bolt the new signs in place. Where the old shorter poles are still in use, new poles will be erected.

WARNINGS
A state highway patrol officer said that relatively few arrests have been made in the last few weeks for speeding.

"Most motorists are confused on the new speed law effective date," he said. "They have read the legislature has hiked the speed limit. Many think the new rule is already in effect."
"We have been devoting a lot of our time to warning speeders they are jumping the gun but we have been a little easier on tickets."

To Be Replaced

Familiar speed limit signs on state and federal roads like the one above will be replaced Aug. 23 with new signs. The new models will read "Speed Limit 70" and "Night 65."

agencies. Congress has the final say.

Connally transmitted to Army Engineers the favorable decision Friday by the Texas Water Commission on the $900 million Trinity River navigation project.

"The flood protection and recreational opportunities alone mark this as one of the most ambitious projects ever undertaken in the Southwest," Connally said. "With the addition of the channel from Galveston Bay to Fort Worth, the project would open a new era of commercial development affecting the lives of millions of Texans."

The commission asserted the project is feasible and in the public interest.

"This federally financed program should blend in perfectly with the overall local, state and federal plans for maximum development of the Trinity River basin."

Further action is up to federal

The proposal calls for four reservoirs, Lakeview, Roanoke, Aubrey and Tennessee Colony; construction of the west fork and end fork floodways, extension of the existing Dallas floodway, realignment and enlargement of Duck Creek near Garland, 10 miles of levees near Liberty and the multi-purpose channel from the Houston Ship Channel to Fort Worth.

68 Herefords To Go On Sale

Sixty-eight head of the best Herefords in West Texas have been selected for the 20th Annual Howard County South Plains Hereford Association sale Dec. 14, 1963, Loy Acuff, officer of the association, said Saturday.

The 58 bulls and 10 cows were selected from herds on 12 West Texas ranches Friday by Bill Reed, Sterling City.

Reed has made the selections from animals consigned for the sales here for a number of years. He made his choice for the December sale on a tour which took all of Friday and ranged as far as Ballinger.

Schedules for sectional practices will be announced at that time, Wiehe said. Full band practice sessions for the Senior High School band will be held each Tuesday and Thursday from 6:30-7:30 p.m.

Acuff said there were about 50 on hand when the tour began at the Creighton ranch. Most of these tourists continued with the group until after lunch in Lamesa. There were 45 on hand at the luncheon. By late afternoon, when the group had reached Ballinger, the number had dropped to eight.

"These are finest Herefords I have seen offered at the annual sales," said Acuff. "We are expecting a record event Dec. 14 to mark our 20th birthday."

Claims Latins Hold Balance Of Power

LAREDO (AP)—A leader in the political surge of Spanish speaking peoples said Saturday that voters of Mexican extraction can create a balance of power between Texas Democrats and Republicans.

Albert Pena Jr. said 200,000 more Spanish speaking voters will register if voters kill the poll tax Nov. 9.

"The only language politicians understand is power and we will show them power," Pena declared, as keynote speaker for an AFL-CIO panel on Texas-Mexican border wages and jobs.

Pena is a Bexar County commissioner and president of the Political Association of Spanish-Speaking Organizations (PASO). Connally also assailed Gov. John Connally's stand on civil rights. Pena said, "It is bad that John Connally advocated the voluntary approach to desegregation. If he wants to take this approach, I recommend that he voluntarily issue orders for the desegregation of all state parks and public schools."

Pena said Connally took the "moderate approach."
"The moderates are interested in order instead of justice," Pena said.
Connally opposes the public accommodations portion of President Kennedy's civil rights proposals.

The commissioner said Connally and other leaders are trying to give people a sugar-coated pill instead of facing the integration issue squarely.

"I'm tired of eating crumbs," Pena said.

STRONG APPEAL

Why does the church of Christ appeal to so many people today? Why is it growing so rapidly in spite of being the object of much hatred, criticism and ridicule? There must be a reason. It is not because of some reciprocal work-arrangement between it and the denominations. For the most part, when denominational leaders say, "One church is as good as another," they do not include the church of Christ. It is without their help, in fact it is in spite of the opposition of practically all denominations, that the church of Christ is growing.

"The Strong Appeal of the Churches of Christ" will be my sermon tonight at 7. You are cordially invited. Isn't it time that you visited us? Come also for the Bible classes at 9:30 and the worship at 10:30 this morning. By T. H. Tarbet, preacher, Church of Christ, 200 West Highway 80, where you are always welcome. —Adv.

Long-Range Plans To Be Mapped For Halfway House

Progress of Big Spring's Halfway House and plans for the future welfare of its occupants will be reported in detail at a meeting of the board of directors slated for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association community room.

The public is invited, Bennett Brooke, board chairman, said. He urged anyone interested in the program to attend.

The Halfway House is a rehabilitation project for patients at the Big Spring State Hospital. It allows patients, many of whom have spent long periods at the hospital, to make the transition from institutional living to normal existence in the company of others who are under the same handicap. By living in the semi-sheltered quarters, yet at the same time making their own living, they make room at the hospital for patients who are in need of treatment and at the same time improve their chances of staying out permanently after their discharge.

STUMBLING BLOCKS

The Halfway House has encountered stumbling blocks ever since it was begun, but each has been passed and now the program is making progress with nearly the success hoped for by its originators.

The program first had to be temporarily shelved in December of 1961 after a suitable location could not be found for the house. Later, financial difficulties threatened to bring a halt to the project when enough patients could not find regular employment. It was established on its present basis in March of this year as an advisory board was organized and back bills were paid with the help of donations from interested persons.

"The Halfway House has not made a profit, but it is not intended as a profit-making organization," Bennett Brooke, chairman of the advisory board, said.

However, we would like to see it better assured of paying its bills each month as they come due."

REPORTS

At this point the advisory board is taking a look at progress since the Halfway House was started and making plans for the future. A report will be made on the number of men who have entered the House, those who have returned to the hospital for further treatment and the number who have made the transition and been discharged.

The advisory board will also hear a report on the possibility of enrolling Halfway House residents in a vocational rehabilitation program administered by the Texas Education Agency. The program allows persons who are handicapped to the extent that they are unemployable to receive training. During the interval they receive assistance from the state so that they may meet their financial obligations. Employers providing the training also receive compensation.

TRAINING

The on-the-job training usually lasts from 3-6 months, although in special instances the training can go up to two years. The hospital has used the program successfully for several years, Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent of the hospital, said. Cooperation from local employers has been good in the past, he noted.

There are drawbacks, as one such Big Spring employer pointed out.

"For one thing, these employees are seldom permanent. They probably live in another town and when they are capable of making their own living again, they usually want to return home," he said.

He also noted that the efficiency of the students is usually not as high as that of a regular employe. By the time the trainee is fully qualified, it is time to start from scratch with a new trainee. The occupation may be allied to one in which they previously worked, or the patients may be placed in a field in which they have a special aptitude.

One of the biggest problems in treatment of mental illness is finding out how to keep patients from returning to the hospital after they have been discharged. Today 35 per cent return. Where rehabilitation programs have been able to make the patient self-supporting and productive, this rate has been cut to about 15 per cent, Brooke said. "Much has been done to move the patients from the wards back into the community," he said. "We can't let it bog down now by not properly preparing these men and women so that they can stay out when they leave the hospital."

One of the solutions to the problem is the Halfway House.

ALL SEGREGATIONISTS

Four Candidates In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Four political veterans—all avowed segregationists and states righters—will present their cases to the voters Tuesday in Mississippi's first Democratic primary for governor.

An estimated 450,000 voters will choose from a field made up of former Gov. J. P. Coleman, Lt. Gov. Paul Johnson, attorney Charles Sullivan and welder Robert Mason.

After two years of intermittent racial troubles and integration suits, national politics overshadow such traditional topics as state finances, teacher pay, public welfare and liquor as the prime campaign issues.

STATES RIGHTERS

All four candidates campaigned as Mississippi Democrats—a label used in this Deep South state to distinguish a states righter from the national party and its liberal views.

The big question submitted to the voters is which of the four is most opposed to the national administration, or which could most effectively block integration and civil rights movements in the state.

Voters will ballot on all state, county and legislative offices. Because of the long ballot, which must be counted by hand in every county but Adams (Natchez), prospects for an early decision is poor.

Some observers hope for a trend by midnight but most figured it will be Wednesday afternoon before anything definite develops.

RUNOFF

Because Coleman, Johnson and Sullivan are regarded as major candidates all certain to draw good votes, a runoff between the two high men seems assured. The second primary will be Aug. 27 and the general election—more than a formality this year because of serious Republican opposition—will be Nov. 5.

The eventual winner will take office next January.

Most observers predict Coleman will lead the first primary, but opinions differ on whether his runoff opponent will be Johnson or Sullivan.

Gov. Ross Barnett, following tradition in this state where the governor, state auditor and state treasurer cannot succeed themselves, took no public part in the race.

NATIONAL TICKET

During the first primary campaigning, both Johnson and Sullivan hit hard at the backing Coleman gave the national Democratic ticket during the last presidential race.

Sullivan based his campaign on his participation in the unpledged elector movement and boasted he was the only candidate who had not had to change his position on national politics.

Johnson capitalized on his involvement in the University of Mississippi desegregation crisis last fall. On one of Negro James Meredith's attempts to gain entrance onto the campus, Barnett was unable to reach the university in time and Johnson turned Meredith away.

Coleman hammered on the "peace and tranquility" which the state enjoyed during his 1956-60 term and said he was a successful segregationist with experience, and that he had supported the national Democratic ticket in 1960 only after the state's U.S. senators urged Mississippi to vote loyalist to keep important committee assignments.

READY FOR THE REAPER
... Grain sorghum harvest getting underway

Early Grain Crop Coming In Moist

More than half a million pounds of grain sorghum from Howard County fields have been combined and delivered to market here in the past six days. Buyers say they have never before had grain harvested and marketed in July.

Clyde Eager, with the Kimbell Grain Co., says that his company purchased 210,800 pounds of 1963 grain in the past six days. E. E. Tucker Sr., president of the Big Spring Grain and Commission Co., estimated his mail had purchased an equal quantity in the same brief interval.

E. T. Tucker Sr., president of the Big Spring Grain and Commission Co., estimated his establishment had bought about the same amount.

BEEN WET
Most of the grain brought in has been extremely green and moist. However, Eager says that combining will be in full swing across the country within another week.

The early cuttings, he said, were brought on by the prolonged drought and hot weather. Stalks were beginning to fall and farmers were forced to start combining ahead of the proper date.

Uncut fields of grain planted early this spring are rapidly ripening and should be ready for the combines soon. Tucker said some of the grain handled by his plant was exceptionally wet. One load, he said, tested out 29.67 per cent moisture.

LOWER PRICES
Due to heavy moisture content, most of the sorghum reaching the mills so far, have brought lower prices.
Heads are now ripening out in good fashion, farmers report. The flood of grain which will hit town in the next 10 days will probably be of high quality.

Just how many acres are sowed to sorghum in the county is not certain. The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee office said that 96,952 acres in the county were allocated to grain and could have been planted. Probably less acres are in sorghum than this total.

Tucker said farmers report the yield on fields combined so far as disappointing. Instead of getting a ton to the acre as some had anticipated, he said the production is averaging only about 1,000 pounds. He was told by Olen Fryar that he had to cover 50 acres to harvest 44,280 pounds of grain.

Tucker said combines were doing an excellent job of cleaning the grain. Willis Walker, he said, combined the load off the Crittenden field which brought top price. "It is remarkable," he said, "how clean and well threshed the grain is, considering the heavy moisture content and the early date."

CLEAN GRAIN
He also cited the threshing work of Dub Coates, himself a big grain producer, as being exceptionally clean. Coates has brought in a large number of loads from his place averaging about 14,000 pounds per load.

Grain brought to the mills so far has come from all parts of the county. Farmers agree that early planted fields of sorghum now have a chance to reach maturity. However, the drought and hot weather will undoubtedly reduce production totals.

Young fields, planted later in the spring, are hurting badly. A heavy rain, general in nature, could save the bulk of these fields if it falls within the next few days. Rain, at the right time of sufficient volume, could transform fields facing destruction into heavy producers. If the rain does not come, there is little chance many of these fields will mature.

Skip Driver Heads National Group

Skipper Driver was only a year old when the first Howard County Junior Rodeo was held 18 years ago.

Now the 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Driver, is not only an active contender in the annual show here but is also president of a thriving national organization of youthful rodeo hands—the American Junior Rodeo Association. This organization, with 500 members, governs the staging and operation of junior rodeos all over the nation and from its ranks come the national junior rodeo champions of the nation.

Young Driver, while not the top man in the AJRA championship lists this season, has piled up 605 points in three rodeos and won the right to a place in the ranks of "possible" winners. Most of his points have come in the optional roping events where he has 222.

He is currently a student at Texas Tech at Lubbock, and this will be his last year in the AJRA competition. He is getting too "old"—you can't compete in the AJRA meets after you are 19. Skipper, long an active worker and leader in the county 4-H club association, is a graduate of the Big Spring High School.

He has checked over the lists of top hands on the AJRA lists and says that at least 17 of the leaders will be here for the 18th Annual Howard County Junior Rodeo this week.

STANTON (SC) — Stanton High School cheerleaders are sponsoring a car wash at the Stanton Gulf station, Aug. 8 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Proceeds will help finance the girls' trip to Dallas where they will attend a Cheerleaders school, which begins Aug. 18 and continues through Aug. 23. The school will be conducted on the campus of the Southern Methodist University.

Cheerleaders for the coming season are Mary Glaspie, head cheerleader; Claudene Nowlin, Betty Glaspie, Euvonne Welch, and Mary Stewart.

Second Victim Of Head-On Crash

SAN SABA, Tex. (AP)—Wesley Cantrell, 6, of Odessa died Saturday, the second victim of a head-on crash 12 miles west of here Friday.

Killed in the crash was Miss Mary Ann Sprott, 47, of Hobbs, N.M. She was alone in one car.

Injured were Mrs. Myrtle Kennon Gray, 66, of Troy, Tex., and Leslie Cantrell, 4, brother of Wesley. The Cantrell children were nephews of Mrs. Gray.

Water District Establishes New Record

The Colorado River Municipal Water District shattered its production records in July.

The 1,423,695,782 gallons delivered to member cities and customers eclipsed the previous peak of 1,171,425,000 gallons for August 1959. This virtually erased a deficit production brought on by May and June rains and boosted the year's aggregate output to 6,013,166,672 gallons, only .26 of one per cent under the first seven months of last year. If August maintains its current rate, 1963 consumption will move past the 1962 figures.

During July, broken only by some minor showers, the member cities took 1,122,151,490 gallons, a gain of 28.66 per cent over July of last year. Odessa drew 650,318,290 gallons, an increase of 24.01 per cent, Big Spring 338,309,000, a 26.48 per cent gain, Snyder 133,524,200, a 66.41 gain. Snyder's demand was increased by delivery of about 600,000 gallons daily to Rotan.

Oil companies using surplus water took 301,504,292 gallons up 2.8 per cent over July of last year despite a 17.77 per cent decline by the big SACROC unit. Most others were up slightly, and the new Sun Oil unit in northern Coke County took 80,265,000 gallons in its first month of operation.

July's production was 28.04 above the same month last year when 896,090,000 gallons were drawn. Most of the water came from Lake J. B. Thomas, although the district did use the Martin County field, and Moss Creek Lake southeast of Big Spring for peaking purposes.

Coahoma School Budget Hearing Set For Monday

COAHOMA — Public hearing on the 1963-64 budget of the Coahoma Independent School District is slated for 8 p.m. Monday in the school administrative office, according to W. A. Wilson, superintendent.

The budget proposed calls for spending $388,850, up by $8,750 from the previous year. There is no change in the tax rate of $1.80 on 40 per cent of valuation. With a valuation of $13 million, tax and other revenues are expected to total $390,000.

Most of the increase in the proposed budget can be attributed to higher instructional and food service costs. Instruction has been pegged at $229,750 for the 1963-64 budget, up by $8,450, and food services have gone up by $1,500 to $9,000. Other increases are in transportation, up $400 to $18,000, and operation of plant, up $500 to $30,500.

Lowered under the proposed budget are administration, down $100 to $22,000; fixed charges, down $700 to $3,800; and debt service and interest, down $1,300 to $32,500.

No changes were shown in first aid supplies, budgeted at $100; maintenance, set at $8,000; and capital outlay, at $8,500.

Clubs Join Tuesday For Road Refresher

Big Spring and Howard County will express appreciation Tuesday for a modern highway system, and at the same time they will get a refresher on the scope and importance of highways to Texas and its communities.

Hal Woodward, member of the Texas Highway Commission and a former Big Spring resident, will be the speaker at a joint meeting of the service clubs.

"While service clubs have graciously agreed to meet together Tuesday noon at the Settles," said Joe Pickle, chairman of the sponsoring Chamber of Commerce highway committee, "this affair is open to anyone who wants to attend to express his appreciation for our fine system of state and county roads. There is a $1.50 plate charge, and we ask only that non-members of the clubs advise the Chamber office of their intention to attend."

Because of the large turnout expected, the Settles management is planning to have the food ready to begin serving about 11:45 a.m.

Mexican Leaders Endorse Speed Speech Program

Leaders of the Mexican nationality who have observed the principles and results of Spanish SPEED SPEECH have given it their endorsement.

Samuel M. Pereyra, Mexican Consul at Fort Worth, has written as follows:

"I want to take this means to commend your newspaper for sponsoring Spanish SPEED SPEECH by William Archer. This work, in my opinion, constitutes a fine contribution to the task of bringing our countries and their peoples closer and I recommend it to those that have the desire to learn the Spanish language quickly and easily."

Of the course, Oscar Arguedo, editor of Alianza Magazine, has written: "It is a symphony of simplicity and can easily accomplish Mr. Archer's claim of learning to speak Spanish in 24 hours." If you have already gotten your SPEED SPEECH aids, give it purposeful study, and make it a point to speak the Spanish language regularly.

If you're not yet in on this wonderful program, call by The Herald office, or use a coupon in The Herald, to get your items.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Russell, 611 E. 18th, are having a hard fight to keep a pumpkin vine which has come up in their back yard from taking over the entire yard. The vine showed up beside the kitchen porch this spring and began to spread out. Russell, a carpenter here for 18 years, said he has cut the vine back several times and cropping only seems to stir it to new efforts. There should be plenty of pumpkins for the Russell Thanksgiving.

Gen. Walker Fires Blast At Govt. Policies

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Former Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker loosed a tirade against the administration Saturday, saying that it is "a socialist - democrat administration headed to a world socialist republic."

"The administration is not an overt Communist administration as an administration because the people of the United States are not Communists and it wouldn't be smart. Castro was not overt until he had complete control of Cuba," Walker said in a speech.

Walker and Robert Welch, founder of the John Birch Society, were keynote speakers at the convention of Dr. Billy James Harris' "Christian Crusade."

Walker, who resigned from the Army in a dispute over anti-Communist indoctrination of troops, charged that the Army must defend its right to fight for the right to fight for the country. This is incredible.

CIVIL RIGHTS
Among Walker's targets were the U. S. Supreme Court and Kennedy's civil rights program.

He said it is "fantastic" that the court "should strike out prayer."

He referred to the civil rights program as "a new name for communism" and said "to adjudicate social rights in only within the capability of a police state."

Walker said his solution to the racial problem would be to "get a new president. We have had too many Kennedys and Eisenhowers."

Frankie Bedell Nominated For Bank Institute Award

Miss Frankie Bedell, an employee of the State National Bank here for the past six years, is one of 10 outstanding women graduates of the American Institute of Banking who have been nominated for the Jean Arnot Reed Award.

For the past three years, Miss Bedell has been a drive-in teller at the local bank. After working three years in the proof department of the bank, she started teller training and was promoted to her present position. She is also responsible for the bank's general ledger.

The Jean Arnot Reed Award is presented annually by the National Association of Bank Women. Candidates are selected on the basis of high scholastic averages maintained while earning the Stardard Certificate of the AIB.

Recipient of the 1963 award will be named at the annual convention of the National Association of Bank Women, to be held in Baltimore, Md., in October.

The award carries with it a $250 cash prize. It was established by the NABW in 1938 in memory of Jean Arnot Reed, who was one of the founders of the bank women's organization in 1921 and served as its third president.

Miss Bedell gained the distinction for having maintained consistently high grades in AIB courses offered at Howard County Junior College. She has already received two certificates for having finished various phases of the training and needs only one more course to qualify for a graduate certificate. She is a night student at the college.

A 1957 graduate of Forsan High

FRANKIE BEDELL

School, Miss Bedell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clay C. Bedell of Lincoln, Ark. Her father is a retired employee of the Continental Oil Company, and the family formerly resided in the Forsan area. Mr. Bedell now operates a small farm near Lincoln.

Miss Bedell serves as vice president of the Cactus Chapter, American Business Women's Association.

The NABW is composed of women who are officers in banks and trust companies. However, the Jean Arnot Reed Award goes to some women bank employee who has not achieved officer status at the time she completed her standard courses with AIB.

Call Meeting On Equal Opportunity In Employment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Lyndon Johnson said Saturday an equal employment opportunity regional conference will be held in Detroit Aug. 18.

The purpose is to inform community leaders about new job opportunities resulting from efforts of President Kennedy's committee on equal employment opportunity, said Robert Taylor Jr., executive vice chairman of the committee.

"It is important that everyone work to eradicate discrimination of all types," Johnson asserted. "Until every responsible American citizen—no matter what his race, his color, his creed, his national origin—has complete freedom of choice, our entire nation suffers."

Cat Caught In The Flooring

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Miss Viola Hatton hadn't seen her cat, Fluffy, for seven days but she could hear it.

She called the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Agent William Kelly pried up floor boards in a second floor bathroom—and out walked Fluffy.

City's New Sewage Disposal Plant Is In Full Operation

Big Spring's new sewage disposal plant, which went into operation July 19, had an average daily pumpage of 1,264,461 gallons by July 31. The odor in the area around the plant is not quite so evident. Ernest Lillard, director of public works, said this week.

The plant was operated for adjustments and tests for five days during the first part of the month, and most of the problems were ironed out, Lillard said.

"One of our worst enemies right now is the dust from the asphalt hot mix plant to the south," he said. "The dust is filling the filter beds, and has helped burn out one air conditioner."

The new plant is designed to do a better job of treatment of sewage and to handle much bigger loads.

The sale of effluent from the plant to Cosden Petroleum Corporation is running about the same volume as in the past, but Lillard said the chemical content has improved effluent from the new plant.

"Bill Gibson, who is in charge of Cosden operations where effluent is used, said the company is using a lot less lime in the mixture now," he said. "There had been an adverse reaction, caused by salt water seepage from the lake in Northwest Big Spring, which made effluent testing a big job. This has been eliminated to a great extent."

Cosden's purchase of effluent was 538,069 gallons in July, where it is used as a coolant in the refinery. The effluent would otherwise "go down the drain," and represents a big monetary savings to Cosden. It would have to purchase raw water, and treat it, if the effluent were not available. The cost of effluent, not requiring as much treatment, is far below the cost of raw water, and at the same time represents income to the City of Big Spring.

Work has started by Shiftlet Brothers, Abilene, to relevel the part of the old sewage disposal plant which floated out of the ground last May.

For several weeks Shiftlet disclaimed responsibility for the damage and refused to accept the job of placing it back in service.

The city of Big Spring maintained that the contractor "owned" the big concrete structure when they took it over for rehabilitation. When the contractor refused responsibility, the city called on the bonding company for completion of the contract.

The contractor moved back on the job and has men and equipment at the site to get the section back in satisfactory operation.

One of the problems faced at the site was brought out when bids ran higher than anticipated on the Beal's Branch trunk sewer line in 1962—sub-surface water. When the big filter and separator tank were drained for work on the machinery it was left empty for several weeks. The buoyancy of the sub-surface water forced the tank out of the ground about three feet, broke connecting lines, and left one corner high.

All three children were born with an abnormal opening between the upper two chambers of the heart.

Youngsters Have Similar Surgery

DALLAS (AP)—Two daughters and a son of Mrs. Myrtle LeRoy do a lot of things alike—even to the extent of sharing heart surgery.

First it was Mary Jo Conner, now 15, who underwent a 1958 operation to correct a congenital heart defect.

"Before, she didn't have the energy to get to the table," her mother recalled. "Now she doesn't leave it."

Bushels Of Pears

L. D. Spradling, 1709 State, proves consistently that a person need not have an orchard to get a lot of fruit. From one tree for the past three seasons he has harvested enough pears for preserving, eating and passing out generously to the neighbors. The seven-year-old tree in his yard has been bearing the past five years and this year the limbs are again breaking under the weight of the fruit. Spradling said he does nothing except water the tree occasionally.

Racial Troubles Continue To Flare

By The Associated Press
Gadsden, Ala., police, equipped with shotguns and electric prods, Saturday broke up a demonstration of Negroes bent on attaining equal rights.
Approximately 300 Negroes, including 75 juveniles, were arrested and charged with violating a state injunction forbidding demonstrations which interfere with normal business or traffic.
In Chicago, religion was brought to bear against racial violence.
Capt. William A. McCann, who commands police in a district where disorders had occurred five nights in a row, attributed the peace Saturday to efforts of clergymen and a group of community leaders.
In Jackson, Miss., Atty. Gen. Joe Patterson said persons unregistered as voters planning to cast ballots in Tuesday's Democratic primary would be committing an illegal act. He said such an "attempt is punishable as a crime."
In New York, civil rights leaders revised upward to 250,000 their estimate of participants in the planned Aug. 28 march on Washington.
Tentative plans were made at a meeting of "Big Six" civil rights leaders for farm hands and factory workers from throughout the Deep South to take a special train leaving Florida.
Montgomery, Ala., James A. Hood, a Negro student who helped to integrate the University of Alabama in June, may be expelled because he criticized state and university officials, the Montgomery Advertiser reported.

In other developments, 12 pickets were taken into custody in downtown Farmville, Va., 7 pickets were arrested while singing and marching at a diner in Newark, N.J., and 10 sit-in demonstrators were arrested in a restaurant at Athens, Ga.
California Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced a far-reaching executive order banning racial and religious discrimination in state agencies and in businesses licensed by or having any dealings with the state.
The order is aimed at preventing contractors on state projects from discriminating in hiring, and stopping barbers, bar owners and other licensees from refusing to serve customers because of race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry.
In Birmingham, Ala., former mayor Art Hanes called for a "human wall of white citizens" around Birmingham white schools in September to block enrollment of Negroes. The city has been ordered by federal courts to desegregate in September.
At a rally Friday night, Hanes also appealed for contributions to a fund for the defense of groceryman Floyd Simpson, charged with murdering a white integrationist, William Moore of Baltimore.

Two Trainmen Are Murdered

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP) — Two veteran railroaders were shot to death Saturday in a bizarre assassination as they sat in the cab of a locomotive in a Hammond freight yard.
A fellow crewman found the bodies after leaving the diesel switching engine for only five minutes to get clearance for the 55-car train to pull out of the yards.
No gun was found. Police said they were unable to uncover any motive or suspect in the slayings.
The bodies of the victims, Roy M. Bottorff, 66, Lansing, Ill., and Paul A. Overstreet, 44, Hammond, lay in their seats on opposite sides of the cab. Bottorff, the engineer, was partially slumped out the window.
Two .22 caliber exploded cartridges were on the floor, another had fallen in Overstreet's travel kit, and a fourth was on the ground.
In a second outbreak of railroad violence, a bomb exploded on the New York Central tracks in Ashtabula, Ohio, late Friday night and hurled rocks through windows of nearby homes. No one was hurt. A 4-foot-wide hole was torn in the roadbed.
A New York Central spokesman in Chicago said there was no apparent link between the Hammond and Ashtabula incidents.

Unwelcome Visitor

Mrs. R. J. McCartney holds a rattler which came knocking at the door of their house about 1 1/2 miles southeast of Forsan Friday night. The four-foot, 9 1/2-inch snake was trying to get to some small puppies on their porch. While the mother of the puppies kept the snake at bay, Mr. McCartney killed it with a .410 shotgun. They have killed other snakes near the house, but none nearly as large as this specimen. It had nine rattlers.

Korean War Turncoats Find Their Decision All Wrong

AFTER 10 YEARS

EDITOR'S NOTE — In August, 1953, the nation was shocked and appalled when 21 Americans, who were prisoners of war of the Communists in Korea, repudiated their former allegiance and returned to the United States. But in the past 10 years, 23 have left. What do the others think? Where are they and what are they doing? On the 10th anniversary of their repudiation, the Associated Press looks at their lives.

By CHARLES WEST
Associated Press Staff Writer
Ten years ago today 21 American GIs, taken prisoner in the Korean War, rejected repatriation and remained with their Communist captors.
Seven stayed. One is dead. Thirteen came back.
They came back, for the most part, to broken lives of despair and tragedy, inwardly retreating from each encounter with the words "turncoat" and "collaborator."
Some sought oblivion with alcohol. Others dropped out of sight, leaving the communities where a neighbor's casual glance was a compulsion to avert the eyes.

mother said, refusing to tell where. "He is doing very well where he is. He has made a good adjustment. I feel very good and happy about him now."
The difficult adjustment lies ahead for Lowell D. Skinner, the 13th turncoat to renounce the Communist life. He now is in Hong Kong, trying to raise passage to the United States where his elderly parents await him at a two-bedroom trailer at Portage Lakes, Ohio, near Akron.
Skinner, as other disillusioned turncoats before him, left Red China—and an ill Chinese wife—because of a lack of individual freedom and low living standards. He had asked permission to study, but was assigned to a factory job where he worked for nine years.
"I was given no choice," he said.

Fortuna's half-sister said she had not heard from him since his return in 1957. "Where he's living or what he's doing, I don't know," she said. "I've always wondered what happened to him."
After a divorce from his Chinese-born Russian wife, Tanya, in 1962, Hawkins left Oklahoma City. His foster mother and grandmother believe he went to Los Angeles, but have not heard from him in some time.

since about the time of his scheduled graduation in 1959.
Sullivan was discharged from the Napa State Hospital in California last May 15, after his third confinement there. A judge sent him to a rehabilitation center for alcoholics in February, 1962, but he stayed only a few days.
Bell, the first turncoat to come back, also had trouble with alcohol. For a time he was in and out of jail for scrapes he blamed on drinking. His wife said their three children were subjected to taunts whenever his name appears in print, but the harassment soon died down.
Bell, who has worked as a fruit picker and packer, was laid off his job with a Christmas tree firm about two weeks ago and is on relief. He had been working steadily there while trying to buy a home in a small community five miles east of Olympia, Wash.
Dickenson, too, is presently out of work. Until a month ago he had been a laborer for a construction firm in Cracker's Neck, in the economically depressed, hilly section of southwest Virginia.
The former corporal, who served 3 1/2 years at hard labor for informing on fellow prisoners in Korea, married a local girl and has four children. There appears to be no resentment of Dickenson in Cracker's Neck.

Bracero Payoffs Are Charged In Speech

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — U. S. Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio said Saturday that payoffs are being made on both sides of the Texas-Mexico border because of the bracero program.
Gonzalez was the keynote speaker at the final meeting of a border wage and job conference called by the Texas AFL-CIO.
"If the full story is ever told on the pay-offs it will be a black mark in the history books," Gonzalez said.
The bracero program, controlled by the federal government, allows Mexican nationals to come into the United States under contract to do seasonal work.
He said kick-backs are being made on insurance employers are required to carry on their employees.
Gonzalez said, "I don't want to raise walls between the Texas and Mexico border, but I do want to raise standards."
The Democratic congressman arrived here late Saturday and spoke for about 60 minutes on how he has fought an extension of the bracero program now pending before Congress.
"If this program is not slave labor, I don't know what it is," he said. "Americans will do stoop labor but they don't want to do stoop labor for stoop wages."
Gonzalez said that domestic labor is available without importing workers from Mexico.
"Never before in history has there been more shameless, un-

Mrs. Cora Priddy, Pioneer, Succumbs

STANTON — Mrs. Cora Mae Priddy, 72, member of a pioneering West Texas family, died shortly after noon Saturday at the Physicians Hospital here. She lived about eight miles south of Stanton, having moved from Martin to Glasscock County in 1926.
Mrs. Priddy taught school in several West Texas towns, including Stanton, and was instrumental in the founding of the Martin County Library. She was a graduate of the old Simmons College in Abilene. At one time she was a member of the faculty at Howard Payne College, where she was head of the speech department and also taught French.
Her father, D. G. Wells, was a pioneer Baptist preacher. He was responsible for founding the Stanton Study Club.
Mrs. Priddy was listed in the Golden Book of Texas Federate Women's Club.
She was born Aug. 1, 1891 in Gordon, Ark., and was married to John F. Priddy at Brownwood on May 29, 1920.
Funeral will be at 10 a.m. Monday at the First Baptist Church in Stanton with the Rev. W. C. Wright, from the Bethel Baptist Church in Ackerly, officiating. He will be assisted by the Rev. W. H. Uhlman, pastor of the First Baptist Church here.
Burial will be in the Big Spring City Cemetery under the direction of Arrington Funeral Home.
Mrs. Priddy is survived by her husband; two sons, Holt Priddy, Odessa; and J. F. Priddy, Albuquerque, N.M.; one brother, Sid Wells, Roscoe; three sisters, Mrs. Minnie Fickas and Mrs. Alma Wells, both of Lubbock, and Mrs. Howard Hodge, Midland; one niece, Lola Gentry, Wichita Falls; one nephew, Herman Rushing, Eastland; and three granddaughters.

250,000 To Make March

NEW YORK (AP) — "Big Six" civil rights leaders Saturday revised upward to 250,000 their estimate of participants in the Aug. 28 "jobs and freedom" march on Washington.
A National Council of Churches spokesman said that organization alone would provide 40,000.
Earlier the highest estimate for the march had been about 100,000.
Disclosure of the projected increase came in a meeting at which sponsors mapped final plans for the march, intended to be a show of unity in support of President Kennedy's civil rights proposals.
"Big Six" leaders present were Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People; James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality; Otis Finley, deputy director of the National Urban League; A. Philip Randolph, president of the Sleeping Car Porters Union, and the Rev. Walter Fauntroy, of the Washington, D.C., Southern Christian Leadership Conference, who represented the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr.
They heard reports that airlines in some Midwestern cities were putting on extra planes, and that "bus companies and railroads were having trouble filling orders for special trains."
Wilkins said marchers would begin arriving in the nation's capital as early as 2 a.m. on the morning of Aug. 28, and should stop coming in around noon. A plan to have march participants converge on at least 50 meeting places was abandoned.
Three Washington members of the march committee presented detailed information on problems that could be expected in controlling "a quarter of a million people."
It was decided that all marchers would converge on two areas, the Ellipse and the Washington Monument. The group would then take two march routes to the Lincoln Memorial.
"It was agreed that invitations would go to all congressmen to attend the rally at the Lincoln Memorial."

Harvey Wooten Seriously Ill

Harvey Wooten, operator of Wooten's Transfer and Storage, and widely known Big Spring resident, is in Baylor Hospital in Dallas seriously ill.
He was removed to Baylor Hospital Friday from a local hospital where he has been a patient since July 22.
His condition was described Saturday as grave. Baylor Hospital attaches said he was badly dehydrated and efforts to offset this condition are under way. He was removed to Dallas to find out just what his malady may be.
Mr. Wooten, who has lived here since 1923, was accompanied to Dallas by Mrs. Wooten and his sister, Mrs. L. H. Steward and her husband, Wooten's son, Ronald, and his wife, of Houston, are also at his bedside.
Another son, Gerald, Big Spring, is associated with his father in the operation of the business and Terry Wooten, 12, is at the home address on the San Angelo Highway.

Hat Thief Wins Race, Keeps Hat

Cuin Grigsby, manager of C. R. Anthony's lost a footrace with three youths Saturday who made off from the store with a hat valued at less than $3. Grigsby told police he had seen the youths loitering about the store and saw them take the hat from a rack and leave. He pursued them, but to no avail.

MINNESOTA YOUTH WINS AKRON DERBY

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Harold (Bo) Conrad, a 12-year-old blond from Duluth, Minn., won the 26th All-American Soap Box Derby Saturday in a photo-finish race at the Duluth Derby.
The winner, son of a Duluth widow, will get a $7,500 college scholarship among his prizes.
The sun was absent most of the afternoon and rain interrupted the races for more than a half hour. But it was clear when the final heat was run down the 975.4-foot slope.
The fourth place finisher was Bill Ledding, 15, of Ambridge, Pa., followed by Sidney Lands, 15, of Charlotte, N.C.; Patrick Seaton, 11, of Columbus, Ohio; Larry Waits, 13, of El Dorado, Ark.; Joseph Kovas, 15, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.; and Joel Gorski, of Tacoma, Wash.

THE WEEK

year, it will be wise to poison early and retain foliage, which is essential to plant health.
After his long fight with cancer, Marion Edwards rode over the divide last week. In appearance and in character, he was the epitome of the cowboy and the West. Among the many activities in which he took part, one was overlooked. He served several years on the Big Spring School board.
Our Little League champs got ousted from the district championship at Big Lake, dropping a close one 4-3 to Haskell. On the other hand, the Kiwanis Club Junior Teenage team rode over Floydada 5-0 to win a berth in the state playoffs.
A distinguished visitor in the city last week was Dr. Albert H. Fechner, medical director for the St. Louis district of the Veterans Administration. He got to know the staff, facilities and problems of the VA Hospital here first hand.
Oil development was placed on a low key during the week, but Sterling County did get a Wolfcamp wildcat. Tice No. 1 Collins, seven miles east of Sterling County. Another outpost to the Triple M, Wolfcamp pool northwest of Sterling City was staked. If it hits, it will extend the pool three-fourths of a mile to the northwest. A show of oil and gas in a Dawson County Montoya venture, Ashmun and Hilliard No. 1 McBrayer was tempered by some salt water.
One of the signs that school is not far away is the increase in summer short sessions or pre-cessions. Last week the Driver Education courses started; Monday the high school choral units will begin their program.
The new collection box system is proving popular for those who normally pay their parking tickets with dispatch. Proof is a decline of overtime ticket revenue by about half. Police are taking steps to remedy that by stepping up pressure against those who drag out ticket payment.
An outbreak of sleeping sickness among horses has caused major concern among veterinarians. This year the incidence seems to be earlier and possibly more severe. A major outbreak may be thwarted by the prompt action of horse owners who have already had 1,500 or more mounts vaccinated.
It was too bad that there is no simple way to vaccinate crops against drought. More of the early feed was threatening to fall, and late feed was about to twist. Cotton was hurting right at the fruiting time when moisture is most needed.
No injuries were recorded in a minor automobile accident which occurred about 1:45 p.m. Saturday in the 3500 block of U.S. 80 West. Drivers were James Halton Burch Jr., Meridian, and Larry Calvin Clay, 1004 Goliad.

Junior Rodeo Set For Annual Show

Some of the top hands of the American Junior Rodeo Association, including Ernie Taylor, Hugo, Okla., leading contender for 1963 all-around cowboy honors, will compete here in the 18th annual Howard County Junior Rodeo which opens Thursday night.

The rodeo, staged by the Howard County 4-H Club Association and sanctioned by the AJRA, will run through Saturday night. It will be staged in the rodeo bowl west of town and each performance starts at 8 p.m.

PARADE THURSDAY

Initial event will be a parade which will move through the downtown area at 4 p.m. Aug. 8. Boys and girls who are to compete in the show, members of the 4-H Club, as well as mounted patrols, floats and other features will mark the parade.

Stock for the big show, supplied by the Aull Rodeo Producers of Lubbock, is expected to begin arriving at the bowl Tuesday.

More than a score of rodeo performers have already officially entered the show and additional entries are being received daily at the office of Herb Helbig, county farm agent, who is rodeo superintendent.

Telephone inquiries about the show are being received from many parts of Texas and from Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Seventeen youthful performers who are listed on the AJRA sheet as championship contenders, have said they would participate here. Points gained here are vital and will do much toward determining the national title holders at the Junior Rodeo National Finals Aug. 21-24 at Odessa's County Coliseum.

AREA STARS

Two area riders are in the list of top performers—Skipper Driver, Big Spring, and Freddie Fields, Sterling City.

The rodeo will offer events for boys and girls of the age groups 12 and under; 13 through 15 years; and 16 through 19 years of age.

A performer cannot be over 19 years of age.

Events featured for the show include bareback bronc riding, calf roping, barrel races, ribbon roping, bull dogging, pole bending and bull riding. Added events will be a wild calf race and goat sack-ing.

Tickets are now on sale. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. Members of the 4-H clubs have tickets for sale and they are available at the county agent's office.

PRIZES

The allround cowboy or cowgirl of the show will receive a hand engraved trophy saddle. Eight trophy belt buckles are to be awarded at the conclusion of the show. These go to the winner in each event.

Helbig said that 150 members of the Howard County 4-H club association will be on hand to help with staging this annual event.

All entry fees are paid back as prize money to winners.

Rodeo directors for the show are Donnie Anderson, Bob Adkins, Bud Saunders, H. K. Elrod, Mary Thornton and Freddy White. Saunders is president of the County 4-H club association. Rip Bailey will be arena director. Time keepers are E. P. Driver, Jay De-ment and Harry Middleton.

Entries will be accepted at the office of the county agent in the court house to 5 p.m. Wednesday.

DEAR ABBY

He Sings— She Seethes

DEAR ABBY: I hope you won't think this is too trivial to answer. I have recently begun to go out with a distinguished bachelor who is in his fifties. I am a widow in my forties. He has escorted me to the ballet, concerts and symphony. He is a patron of the arts and I love music. But, Abby, when he sings along with the performing artists, or orchestra, I want to run and hide. I haven't the courage to tell him how much this annoys me, and the "looks" he gets from those seated near us don't seem to penetrate. Is there a polite way to tell him how I feel? I don't want to lose him.

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: He appears to be a man who wants everyone to know that HE knows the score. Tell him in a friendly way that his "singing along" bothers you and those around you. If he has done this unconsciously, he'll appreciate knowing. If he is aware that he's disturbing others and doesn't care, he's selfish and inconsiderate, in which case, if you lose him, you haven't lost much.

DEAR ABBY: My husband (and

I spew the words out of my mouth) was found dead with a woman, in a suicide pact. I made all the necessary funeral arrangements, but did not attend the rites, nor did I send flowers. It may seem hard to believe, Miss Abby, but in the 16 years we were together, right up to the day of his death, I had no knowledge that there was another woman. His family, and mine, condemn me for the stand I have taken, but I cannot be a hypocrite. I have debated writing this letter to you for over a month but, somehow, I feel that your wise counsel will help me. Sincerely,

WITHHOLD MY NAME

DEAR MRS. —: Under the circumstances you should not be condemned for refusing to go through the motions of a grieving widow. You have suffered enough humiliation. Don't let his family, or yours, punish you further.

DEAR ABBY: We have a seven-year-old grandson who is smart as a whip. The big problem is that he uses some of the dirtiest words in the English language. At first we thought he didn't know what he was saying, but he uses the words in all the right places. His parents said he must have picked it up at school. His parents tell us to pretend not to hear him. How can you pretend, Abby? My husband almost choked once, and I came close to fainting. What should we do?

HIS GRANDPARENTS

DEAR GRANDPARENTS: Seven-year-olds who are this smart in the head should "smart" someplace else more often.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "INTERESTED PARTY"

Read Proverbs 26:17: "He who seizes a passing dog by the ears is he who meddles in a quarrel not his own."

Tell your troubles to Abby. For a personal, unpublished reply, please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dallas-Fort Worth Airport Controversy Keeps Boiling

DALLAS (AP)—Dallas and Fort Worth have been arguing about airports since the early 1940s, and hearings now could possibly settle the dispute within 10 years.

The Civil Aeronautics Board begins its fifth week of hearings Monday on a proposal to designate a single airport as a regional field for the cities, only 30 miles apart.

Fort Worth wants its Southwest Airport designated. Dallas wants its Love Field.

Mayor Earle Cabell and the Dallas City Council say that if the CAB decides that the two cities should be served through a single airport, and that airport should be Southwest, then Dallas will liquidate Love Field, a $45 million installation. Everyone expects Dallas to fight any adverse decision through all courts available to it.

The dispute stretches back more than two decades. It once appeared the two cities would decide on one airport.

Fort Worth went to a point about midway between Dallas and Fort Worth and built a beautiful and extensive airport and named it for Amon Carter, the late publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Dallas matched that with a new and expensive terminal building and better and longer runways at Love Field.

Love Field could not expand north because of a lake. To go south for its extended runways, it was required to level homes.

The airports are 12 miles apart. Dallas got the bulk of flying business. Cabell says Love Field generates four times the business of Southwest.

Love Field has a steady stream of passengers. Southwest seems almost empty.

The hearings with their millions of words boil down to this: Fort Worth says it has an airport with facilities to serve both cities, and it has a $68 million plan for still greater facilities. It has room to expand its runways to 12,000 feet, which experts say will be needed shortly.

Witnesses, testifying in favor of Fort Worth, contend Dallas would have to spend $200 million more to make its field adequate for the great jets now on the drawing board.

The Dallas position remains that it is happy for Fort Worth to have its airport and Dallas to have its facility. It rejects Fort Worth's offer to create a regional airport authority with Dallas having full representation.

Gene Fullmer Wins Title Saturday

By KENNETH WHITING

Associated Press Sports Writer

IBADAN, Nigeria (AP) — Dick Tiger puts his world middleweight boxing crown and a large chunk of Nigerian prestige on the line next Saturday night against former champion Gene Fullmer of the United States.

This first title bout ever in Nigeria is the third meeting of the two strong 160-pounders. Tiger took the title from Fullmer with a 15-round decision in San Francisco, Oct. 23, 1962, and retained it on a 15-round draw last Feb. 23 in Las Vegas, Nev.

More than the championship is at stake however. The Nigerian government raised guarantee for the fighters, put a cabinet minister in overall charge, induced British promoter Jack Solomons to stage the affair and made clear the 15-round fight is regarded as a way to show the world Nigeria can do things in a big way. Tiger, whose real name is Dick Thetu, is without doubt the hardest hitting holder of the M.B.E. (Member of British Empire). Queen Elizabeth cited the 33-year-old father of four in an honors list earlier this year.

Texas Electric and Hester's advanced to the finals Saturday night in the American Softball League post-season tournament. Texas Electric chilled the 33rd Squadron, 10-5, after Hester's fought back following a Friday night defeat to topple Skateland, 16-6.

Giants Stamped Cubs With Aid Of Homers

Chicago Cubs 9-5 Saturday and broke their six-game losing streak. The Cubs, who erased a six-run deficit Friday to whip the Giants 12-11, made another key with a four-run fifth inning led by Billy Williams' 17th homer, good for three runs. It shaved the Giants' edge to 6-5, but Jack Fisher stifled the Cubs on one hit the last four innings for his sixth victory.

VanderKelen MVP In Chicago Game

CHICAGO (AP) — Wisconsin's Ron VanderKelen, the late-bloomer pros ignored, was named the most valuable player Saturday in the College All-Stars 20-17 upset of the National Football All-Star Green Bay Packers.

The 6-foot-1, 180-pound VanderKelen, signed as a free agent by the Minnesota Vikings after all 14 NFL clubs shunned him in their December draft, is a resident of the Packers' home base, Green Bay, Wis.

It was far from a one-man all-star show in the balloting, with big end Bob Jenks of Miami, Ohio, who kicked two field goals, pushing Vandy with 24 votes and a record total of 15 colleges sharing the widespread vote.

Tigers To Play Midland Today

The Big Spring Tigers invade Midland today for two baseball games with the Colts of that city. First game gets under way about 1:30 p.m.

In two games here last Sunday, the Tigers won twice by scores of 4-3 and 9-7. Overall, the Bengals boast a 18-7 won-lost record. Midland is regarded as one of the hottest sandlot clubs in this section of the state.

Henry Salazar will probably pitch the first game for the Tigers. Either Santiago Lopez or Tony Fierra will toll on the mound in the afterpiece for the locals.

Mammoth Job Awaits New Coach At Stanton High

By TOMMY HART

STANTON—A job of monumental proportions awaits the new coaching regime at Stanton High School.

No one knows it better than Bill Milam who succeeded Harlin Dauphin as head mentor after last season.

A veteran of 14 years in the coaching fraternity, Bill is a realist about the task that confronts him. The 1962 Stanton club was practically wiped out by graduation.

With an extremely green and sophomore unit, Milam must send his boys out to play what is generally regarded as the toughest schedule in the history of the school.

The schedule might scare lesser men. Milam hasn't flinched a losing team in a dozen years now and he doesn't intend to start now. He says if his 1963 players approach the season with anything like the enthusiasm and desire his 1962 club at Early High School had he will be completely satisfied.

BILL MILAM

ried. Last year his club finished with a 7-3 record.

The Buffaloes, entries in District 7-AA, hit the practice field two weeks from Monday. They have only two weeks in which to get ready for their season's opener against Merkel.

Merkel is rugged every year. This fall it is generally rated among the top half dozen Class A squads in the state.

After Merkel, the Buffaloes will play Coahoma in their home opener, Fort Stockton, Seagraves and Big Lake before plunging into district play.

Fort Stockton was a district co-champion last fall. Seagraves is rated third in the state in some quarters. Big Lake was champion of its district last fall. Down in the season, the Buffaloes will meet Muleshoe in a non-conference joust. Muleshoe is rated as one of the top teams of its classification in the Panhandle.

McCarney, a conference foe of Stanton, has nine starters back from last season. Crane, which opened the Buffs' conference season, is the defending titlist and considered likely to repeat.

Milam is expecting around 50 boys out for initial workouts. Only returning regular on offense is guard Donnie Polson, who is being moved to tackle. The Buffs field 22 boys from last year's squad, including 15 by graduation—others moved away or quit the game.

Polson weighs 230 now and is a three-year letterman. He'll serve as captain.

Only returning starters on defense are Polson and guard Ronnie Hays.

Milam's team will run off the straight T. Right now, he's looking for a quarterback. Candidates include senior Ronnie Driggers, who didn't play last fall; Buddy Shanks, a junior high boy last season; senior Donnie Thompson and Ronnie Johnson. Milam does not know much about any of them, so he'll give each a thorough trial and all the encouragement he can.

In his eight years at Early (near Brownwood), Milam guided his teams to four conference championships, two bi-district titles and one regional crown. The latter occurred in 1958, when his squad hurdled Meridian in the finals, 27-6.

A graduate of Daniel Baker College, Milam spent three years at Miles, two at Lometa and one at Rising Star—before moving to Early.

He is married to the former Eula Williams of Hobbs, N. M. They have two children, Stephen Ray 14, who'll be a freshman this fall and who will probably try out for the quarterback spot; and a daughter, Steveanna, an eighth grader. Stephen Ray is also regarded as a promising hurdler. The family is making its home on Santa Ana street in Stanton.

Bill is passing up the coaching school in Houston this year in order to wind up a driver's education course he's been teaching. His two assistants, Doyle Edmond and Roy Dodds, will be attending, however.

Milam has lined up five games for his B team and is seeking several more. Stanton's junior high team, coached by Floyd Sorley, has six games carded and needs two more.

The Buffs will work out twice a day until school starts. The morning session opens at 7 a.m. and extends for two hours. The two-hour night session begins at 6 p.m.

There is a possibility the Buffaloes will scrimmage Roscoe. The Plowboys owe the Buffs a scrimmage.

Stanton's schedule:

Sept. 6—At Merkel.
Sept. 13—Open.
Sept. 20—At Coahoma here.
Sept. 27—Fort Stockton here.
Oct. 4—At Seagraves.
Oct. 11—At Big Lake.
Oct. 18—Crane here (C).
Oct. 25—At Muleshoe.

Trinity Plan To Inundate Wildlife Area

By The Associated Press

Sportsmen usually benefit when water conservation authorities build reservoirs. The Trinity River development plan is an example.

The $900 million navigation project also will create several detriments to sportsmen, and increase water pollution.

The biggest job for the Game Commission will be relocation of the Engeling Wildlife Management Area in Anderson County, one of seven such areas in the state.

The reservoir will inundate the management area.

Army Engineers plan to replace the 11,000-acre area, which the commission values at $1.2 million, but the transition will interrupt 10 years of commission research.

The East Texas area developed the track count method of counting deer.

Together with feeding studies of deer, the census procedure will be used to get a better idea of just how much game and livestock the post oak land in the East Texas area can support. These findings will be passed along to land owners, so they can improve prospects for both livestock and deer.

The commission plans to continue its research in the area up until the last moment, which might be a good many years away. The area will be inundated by the largest dam in the project—the Tennessee Colony Reservoir, a $330 million project to store 3.3 million acre-feet of water. An acre-foot is 325,851 gallons.

Benefits from Tennessee Colony will include a national waterfowl refuge, a boon to hunters. Present wildlife refuges are in the Panhandle, the Rio Grande Valley and on the Coast. The reservoir, along with Lakeview Reservoir, southwest of Dallas, will be zoned to segregate skiers and fishermen.

Fishermen will get two other large lakes, plus a series of "oxbow cutoffs" where the navigation channel departs from the river bed. These cutoffs, game commission officials say, will provide good fishing, and will not be hurt by pollution in the navigation channel.

Dry weather is seriously threatening hatchery operations at San Angelo, the Game Commission reports. Rapidly dropping levels in Lake Nasworthy, the hatchery's primary water supply, has caused the hatchery to begin delivering fingerlings that usually are not distributed until early fall. Regional director Henry Burkett said that after fingerlings are distributed, hatchery ponds will be allowed to dry up and only five will be kept full as long as possible with pumps in order to keep brood fish for next year's production. Burkett added that unless rain comes soon, even the brood fish may be lost.

All-Stars Play Two Twin Bills

American Softball league's all-star contingent will engage in two doubleheaders this week, meeting the Merchants of the Fast league at Webb AFB Monday evening and the Webb AFB team at the City Park Wednesday evening.

The first game in each instance gets under way at 7:30 p.m.

The Merchants are marking time for the State ATA tournament in Brownwood, which begins Thursday.

Dallas Club Makes Good Progress In Coast Camp

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. — The theme song to date has been strictly "The Good Old Summer-time" as the Dallas Cowboys prepare for their fourth National Football League season.

As his charges ended a grueling three-week program of two workouts a day, Coach Tom Landry was accentuating the positive as well as the defense.

"We've made good progress," Landry noted. "The squad reported in good condition. They did a lot of hard work before reporting (rookies have been here three weeks, veterans two) and it's showing."

The camp has been an unusual one for the Cowboys. The folks back in Dallas keep asking who has been released and are surprised to find most everyone is still in camp. It's quite a switch when players were shuttled in and out of camp in an effort to field a solid team. This year, so many positions were set that the small turnover amazed the club followers back home.

But there are some interesting battles taking place as the Cowboys prep for their Thursday night pre-season opener in Los Angeles against the Rams.

One of the best is at offensive halfback where the incumbent, All-Pro Don Perkins, is gradually working into shape after an off-season bone graft in the foot. His seasonally-speedy understudy of last season, Amos Bullocks, finds himself behind a rookie free agent, Wendell Hayes of Humboldt State. Hayes was an eleven-hour addition to training camp, signing with the Cowboys after scholastic difficulties terminated his college eligibility.

And to further confuse the happy halfback situation, rookie James Stiger of Washington had the best day in Thursday's wrap-up scrimmage.

Another battle will have to wait until this week. It involves an outside line — backing post, where rookie Harold Hays of Southern Mississippi operates as the standout rookie of the camp.

He'll get some heady competition, though, from Lee Roy Jordan of Alabama and Jim Price of Auburn. Both reported to the Cowboys Saturday after playing in Friday night's All-Star game against the Green Bay Packers.

Stagers' coaches indicated that Jordan and Hays might battle for a starting outside backer spot while Price works at middle linebacker, manned by Pro Bowl star Jerry Tubbs.

With the all-veteran defensive backfield set—although two members are just in their second year—rookies Ed Ulmer of Ohio State and Nat Whitmyer of Washington are still waging an argument for jobs. Defensive end Robert Lilly, a Pro Bowl selection last season, has relinquished his position to rookie Paul Holmes of Georgia while he nurses a slight knee injury. Holmes has impressed coaches by turning in a credible job.

The consensus around the Cowboys camp after Thursday's scrimmage was that the team has never had so much defensive potential. Defense was the albatross last season as the Cowboys amassed a glittering record as the NFL's No. 2 offense, but still managed only a 5-8 record.

And there's no indication the offense will slump in '63. Quarterbacks Eddie LeBaron and Don Meredith, who operated the most consistent shuttle service west of the Station Island Ferry in '62, have both enjoyed some outstanding days this summer. It looks like another year of dual controls for the Cowboys offense and a year of relatively little game action for rookie Sonny Gibbs of TCU, the third Cowboys contribution to Friday's All-Star game.

Mexico Is Going All Out In Olympics Bid

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico is adding athletic coaches to its long list of imports from the United States.

Bringing in the U.S. coaches is this country's way of trying to guard against the possibility that it will wind up as the site of the 1968 Olympics and be embarrassed by the team it fields.

The imported talent is headed by Lloyd C. (Bud) Winter, the astute track and field coach at California's San Jose State College and former president of the National Collegiate Track Coaches of America.

Winter is an old hand at teaching foreign coaches. He helped set up the U.S. State Department's exchange program for athletes and coaches.

Says Winter: "I believe Mexico has an excellent chance of getting the Olympics, and if they do, the eyes of the world will be on the performance of their athletes. They have to go all out to improve their program."

Mexico's way of going all out is to bring together about 150 coaches from throughout the country in a five-week clinic given by

Winter in Mexico City, then to send him traveling through the countryside to hold similar teaching sessions for coaches who couldn't get there.

All the activity is prompted mainly by confidence that Mexico City will beat out three competitors when the Olympics site is chosen later this year in a meeting in the African city of Nairobi, Kenya.

The competitors are Buenos Aires, Detroit, and Lyon, France. If Mexico should lose out in the bidding, sports officials here figure the crash program of preparation will be worth the effort anyway because it fits into a general plan of sports development already under way.

Winter sees Mexico's athletic situation like this: "There now are about 10 men in the whole country who we would classify as senior coaches by U.S. standards. They need several hundred. But one big thing in their favor is that they've got one of the best sports organizations I've seen, much better than in the United States. Here, there's none of the bickering and fighting between rival organizations that exists at home."

He sees Mexico's chances for getting the Olympics like this: "Buenos Aires is out because of Argentina's unsettled political situation, and Detroit doesn't have a chance because of its weather, its lack of facilities and because of the fact that the U.S. has already had the Olympics. That leaves Lyon and Mexico City, and Mexico City has far better facilities."

Winter's first connection with sports clinics on an international basis came in 1956 when he sparked the first International Track and Field Coaching Clinic at the University of California at Berkeley.

That set off the State Department's interest in sending athletes and coaches to far-flung corners of the world to conduct clinics and, at the same time, create good will.

That same year, Winter went to India under the State Department's program, found three men in the entire country whom he rated as senior coaches. He launched his program, and four years later counted 400 senior coaches.

Here in Mexico, however, Winter's presence is strictly on a personal basis. He's been contracted by the Mexican Sports Confederation.

Hester's Upset By T. Electric

Texas Electric upset Hester's Office Supply, 5-3, and the 331st Squadron kayoed Skateland, 9-6, in first round games of the American Softball league playoffs at the City Park here Friday night.

A two-run outburst in the sixth inning turned the trick for the Electricians. Tom Enlow smashed a home run for the winners.

Joe Blasingame received credit for the mound victory. Only one of Hester's runs was earned. Blasingame gave up four hits, fanned five and walked five.

The Texas Electric gang collected a total of eight hits off Bob Riceman, the losing pitcher. Enloe, Gibson and Williams each had two safeties for the winners.

Danny Valdes, Jimmy Roger, Tom Arista and Freddie Blalock each collected a safety for Hester's.

The 331st rallied for five runs in the sixth inning on its way to its win over Skateland.

All-Stars Vanquish Green Bay, 20-17

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN CHICAGO (AP) — The College All-Stars, in an amazing 20-17 upset victory, have proved the mighty Green Bay Packers can be had.

Their demonstration before 65,000 fans in Soldier Field and a national television audience Friday night should throw the 1963 National Football League race into a more unpredictable tizzy than ever.

The Green Bay dynasty, built on two successive NFL championships, may be showing a crack. At least the All-Stars, beating the pros for the first time since 1953 and only the ninth time in the 30-year history of the series, have made the Packers seem human after all.

And guiding the college senior football greats of last season — who now scatter to NFL and American League clubs as pro rookies — was quarterback Ron VanderKelen of Wisconsin, a player none of them wanted.

Vandy wasn't even drafted. But after his sensational showing in the Rose Bowl game — although the Badgers lost to USC despite his record-making passing — he suddenly became popular. Winning the bid for his services were the Minnesota Vikings.

After the Packers had grabbed a 7-0 lead in the opening five minutes by recovering a Larry Ferguson fumble on the All-Stars 11 and sending Jim Taylor across from the 6, Vandy steered his team 57 yards. The drive — behind the running of Ferguson (Iowa-Detroit Lions), and the passing of Paul Flatley (Northwestern-Vikings) and Bob Jencks (Miami Ohio-Chicago Bears) — ended with Jencks booting a 20-yard field goal.

Before the first quarter closed Tommy Janik (Texas A&I-Denver Broncos) had stolen a Bart Starr pass and returned it to the Packer 27. Vandy hit his Wisconsin teammate, Pat Richter (Washington Redskins) for 21 yards. Then, in the first four seconds of the second period, Ferguson barreled over from the 5, and Jencks added the first of his two extra points to put the All-Stars ahead 10-7.

Green Bay's Tom Moore and Taylor lit a 59-yard push capped by Jerry Kramer's 21-yard field goal that locked the score 10-10. It stood that way at the half after Jencks' field-goal attempt from the Packer 19 failed when deflected by Herb Adlerly.

After a scoreless third quarter, as Glynn Griffing (Mississippi-New York Giants) spelled VanderKelen and got off some nifty passes, the All-Stars again took the lead, 13-10, on a 33-yard field goal by Jencks.

This came after Danny Brabham (Arkansas-Houston Oilers) had recovered a fumble which launched a 63-yard march directed by Griffing and featuring the running of Charlie Mitchell (Washington-Denver) and Bill Thornton (Nebraska-St. Louis Cardinals).

Later, when Jerry Kramer's 37-yard field goal was wide of the Green Bay, the most sensational play of the game developed. Vandy passed 20 yards to Richter near the sidelines, and the 6-foot-5 All-American end romped 53 more to score. The 73-yard play put the collegians on top 20-10.

With six seconds left, the Packers climaxed a 63-yard aerial drive with Taylor bounding over from the 1.

ing here," said Graham whose teams had suffered four straight losses at the hands of the professionals since an inaugural 35-19 victory over Detroit in 1958.

Graham refused to compare this squad with the 1958 team saying, "That's too tough to do but I can't say enough about these guys."

Asked why he switched to Glynn Griffing of Mississippi in the second half after VanderKelen had guided the team effectively in the first half, Graham said he wanted to give somebody else a chance.

"The fact that we had a couple of fumbles also went through my mind. It was all a tossup who would start at quarterback. All four guys are good. Terry Baker (Oregon State) and Sonny Gibbs (Texas Christian) can both throw."

"VanderKelen won the job the last few days. He and Griffing did so well I just didn't have a chance to use the others. I went back to VanderKelen because I felt he could do the job at that specific time."

Vince Lombardi, coach of the Packers, said: "We have no excuses. That was a fine All-Star squad and VanderKelen is a great pro prospect. He handles himself exceptionally well."

Lombardi said the Packers missed the services of injured linebacker Ray Nitschke and that full back Jim Taylor was not up to par.

"I tried to get Taylor out of there a couple of times but he managed to get back in there. Our morale was high but we simply couldn't get going."

COLLEGIANS ELATED

Gibbs And Baker Run Sidelines

CHICAGO (AP) — "Wowee," shouted hard-running fullback Ben Wilson, the first College All-Star player to get to the dressing room after a 20-17 victory over the Green Bay Packers Friday night, and that set off the general reaction among the youngsters who had their first taste of professional football.

"Great wonderful, how about that, unbelievable." Those were the remarks shouted in the hot, steamy shower room.

Pat Richter, the All-America who took a pass from Wisconsin teammate Ron VanderKelen for a 73-yard touchdown play in the final quarter, admitted the All-Stars were only trying for a first down.

"Never mind," hollered head Coach Otto Graham, "we'll take it. Sure, we were going for the first down but anytime you try a play in football you're also trying to go all the way."

Graham moved through the dressing room slapping the players on the back and congratulating them.

"You know," said Graham, "a couple of days ago line coach Dick Stanfel said Ed Budde (Michigan State) was our best offensive lineman. During the game he told me they were all great and I have to agree with him."

"It's the best offensive line we have had since I've been coaching here," said Graham whose teams had suffered four straight losses at the hands of the professionals since an inaugural 35-19 victory over Detroit in 1958.

Graham refused to compare this squad with the 1958 team saying, "That's too tough to do but I can't say enough about these guys."

King Respects TWC's Tucker

By J. T. KING
(Texas Tech Head Coach)
LUBBOCK—A better year than this probably could be picked for renewing Texas Tech's historical football rivalry with Texas West-ern.

Ten of last season's Texas West-ern starters are available to the Miners when they are hosts in their excellent new stadium to Texas Tech Nov. 16.

Sure, the 1962 Miners weren't worldbeaters. But give a year's experience to a youthful team able to compile a 4-5 record, which was better than predicted, and you have a terrific threat for 1963.

Besides one starter, the Miners have lost only one other of the 18 lettering last season.

Sophomore Jerry Tucker of Big Spring is an excellent passer who has an equivalent receiver in Jim Evans, also of Big Spring, an end. Tucker has another good target, who wasn't available last year because of injuries, in Ralph Kennedy, previously an All-Border Conference end.

Some other standouts returning are halfbacks Robert Mortimer and Louis James, fullback Ray Jackson, end guards Mart Adams and Leroy Johnson, tackles Tim Morton and Robert Glover, and end Ulysses Kendall.

Boasting the squad considerably are 13 junior college transfers and center Bob Windham, from the armed services. The Miners will use the winged-T.

Warren Harper is in his first year as the Miners' head coach, but, as Burn Phillips' assistant at Texas Western last season, he has an excellent knowledge of the

Mets Upended By Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves erupted for five runs in the sixth inning to beat the New York Mets 10-7 Saturday.

A two-run pinch single by Roy McMillan was the key blow. Frank Thomas of the Mets and Joe Torre of the Braves hit home runs.

The defeat was the Mets' 30th in their last 35 games and their 26th in the last 28 games on the road.

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers mixed 11 singles with a two-run double by Don Wert Saturday for a 7-5 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Five straight singles started the four-run third when the Tigers broke a 2-2 tie. Wert's two-run bloop double climaxed the rally.

Gen. Viccellio stressed "Three Words," budget, complexity and judgment.

He explained the current budget of $19 billion of the Air Force

Three Treated For Injuries After Crash

Three persons have been hospitalized following a major automobile collision which occurred Friday about 7:30 p.m. at the intersection of East Third and Birdwell Lane.

Woman Charged In Husband's Death

FORT WORTH (AP)—A frail Fort Worth woman, Mrs. Peggy Joyce Satovich, was charged with murder Saturday in the early morning pistol slaying of her husband.

Her husband, Robert Satovich, 39, died before dawn from the bullet.

Tuesday, Cox will open the Howard County jury wheel and all remaining cards with names of intended jurors the past year will be removed and destroyed. Then he, with the help of representatives from the sheriff's office, and the county clerk's office, will systematically place the 11,000 new cards in the wheel. Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, will be on hand to supervise the operation.

When the cards are all in place, the jury wheel will be locked, given a half dozen brisk turns for luck, and declared ready to serve out jury lists for the next 12 months.

Cox said this will be the third time the jury wheel will have been filled. The wheel became the official method selecting jurors in this county after the 1960 Federal Census which moved Howard County into the population bracket where such systems are mandatory.

Lutheran Group Would Study Other Religions

HELSINKI, Finland (AP)—The Lutheran World Federation Assembly was urged Saturday to establish a foundation to carry on theological conversations with Roman Catholicism and other communions.

A commission on interconfessional research submitted this recommendation in a report read by its chairman, Bishop Hermann Dietzelbinger of Munich.

The commission suggested "appropriate and critical research, both historical and systematic, in areas where Christian churches divided on matters of doctrine and church order and where there are theological questions which form the subject of controversy."

The commission added that the proposed foundation could also arrange for theological seminars and academic conferences to increase contacts with other churches. Its report asked the assembly to request member churches of the federation to provide about $25,000 to establish the proposed foundation, and to make additional contributions in later years until it is fully developed.

The idea for interconfessional research, especially on debate with the Catholic church, was first raised by the German national committee at the Minneapolis Assembly in 1957.

"We do not want to talk prematurely or jump to conclusions about a reunion of Christendom," the commission said, "but the mere fact of the new dialogue with Rome — which reached a pitch of special intensity at the time of the Vatican (ecumenical) council — is in itself important enough."

GOPs Ask Action On Wheat Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nineteen House Republicans have written to President Kennedy urging a bipartisan effort to enact a new wheat bill for the 1964 crop year.

The administration has said it does not intend to propose a substitute for the strict planting controls which were rejected by wheat growers in May.

The Republicans told Kennedy, in a letter which they made public Saturday, that in that referendum, "The wheat farmers of America were denied the opportunity of choosing between reasonable alternatives."

"With complete justification," the letter continued, "they now look to your administration and both parties in Congress for positive action."

The Republicans are sponsoring bills that would include wheat in the present voluntary feed grains programs. Under these, farmers who voluntarily reduce their plants receive land diversion payments and price supports.

Price supports for 1964 wheat would be fixed by the secretary of agriculture at a level between $1.62 and $2.24 a bushel for farmers who agree to reduce their plantings by 20 per cent. Without new legislation, wheat producers next year will be free to plant as much wheat as they choose. Those who do agree to comply with plantings allotments would be eligible for price supports of $1.25 a bushel.

The GOP House members told Kennedy:

"Based on our studies the cost of our voluntary program, combining wheat and feed grains, would be from $500 million to $1 billion less annually than the combined cost of the proposed wheat certificate program that wheat farmers rejected and the 1964 feed grain program."

Arrests Made In Racial Fighting

CHICAGO (AP)—At least 49 persons, including 22 juveniles, were arrested Friday night as racial tension continued for the fifth successive evening on Chicago's South Side.

One policeman was slightly injured by a bottle thrown from a crowd which has been protesting the presence of three Negro families in a previously all-white area.

During the 24 hour period ending at midnight, more than 100 persons had been arrested for some form of racial protest.

Col. Howard J. Withycombe, 3560th Pilot Training Wing commander, attending his first graduation, introduced Gen. Viccellio.

Following the address, Col. Harold C. Collins, deputy commander for operations, gave recognition to the honor graduates.

Diplomas were presented by Colonel Withycombe and the wings were presented by the graduates' flight instructors. Gen. Viccellio presented the pilots' wings to his son.

A reception was held for the graduates following the graduation at the Officers Open Mess.

Graduates are 1st Lt. Thomas Lyons, 2nd Lt. Henry Askin, Paul W. Benz, Michael P. Blaidell, Jerry W. Daughterty, Barry R. Delphin, Byron M. Fox, Gene D. Framton, Bruce E. Fullerton, Bernard D. Giere and Gary A. Godard.

Also 2nd Lt. Neil P. H. Hansen, Jack C. Hauser, Robert S. Hopkins, Jerry W. Jameson, Forest M. Kimsey, Claude G. Kincaid Jr., Hamilton T. Lenox, Darrell J. Leslie, Raymond E. Matula, Standley A. McGhan, and Gary N. McNitt.

Will Continue Picket Parade For Connally

AUSTIN (AP)—Booker T. Bonner, a Negro, made plans Saturday for a parade of pickets Monday around the Governor's Mansion that he hopes will change Gov. John Connally's views on civil rights.

Bonner, 35, who lost his job as waiter at an Austin club after a highly publicized 26-hour sit-in demonstration in the Capitol, has a date with the governor for 11:30 a.m. Tuesday.

The governor opposes the public accommodations phase of President Kennedy's civil rights legislative program.

Bonner says he wants to "negotiate" with the governor and try to get Connally's support of the entire administration civil rights program.

Pickets walked around the mansion for the fourth straight time Friday night.

Bonner asserted he is supporting a group of Texans, predominantly Negro, who want to know how Texas senators stand on the President's civil rights program.

Report Reds To Switch Buying

TOKYO (AP)—The newspaper Asahi said Saturday the Soviet Union plans to stop buying textiles from Red China and switch to Japan, India, Hong Kong and Thailand.

Attributing its report to the Japanese textile export industry, Asahi said the Soviet Union plans to buy about 298 million square yards of cotton, silk, rayon and linen from the four areas this year. Most of this business went to Red China before the ideological split.

THEY'RE DANDIES

DELIGHTFUL design for her first formal is this Dandy pixy cut. This coiffure has all of the fashion know-how of the coming season and features the soft bangs of brushed waves adding eye interest. Further emphasis is given to the side wave crescents.

DOWN LINE

THEY'RE DEFLATED

By KATHLEEN DOZIER

Bursting bubbles and deflation are in the news. This was revealed during the July Las Vegas convention of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association. After several seasons, the bouffant is out and the small-head look is in for the fall and winter season ahead. The small, elegant head will be coiffed with soft waves—some rising upward from smooth brows—with emphasis on close fitted napes. Whimsical charm, free brushed and gloriously feminine and romantic, the season's fashions are "Dandies." The NHCA announces the return of the side part after an extended absence. Bangs may be worn or not. And, as opposed to the past few fashion years, ease of care is stressed in the rich soft sheen of naturally healthy hair ends, and individual styling is considered of utmost importance. Color will be in plural use to achieve individualized tonal effects which will complement the individual's eye color and complexion. Among the forecasted popular colors will be subdued reds, natural browns and softly iridescent blond tones. Hair length depends on individual needs and ranges from four to six inches in the top crown to one and a half to four inches at the sides, and zero to two inches at the nape. Evening "Dandies" are dramatically different from the casual daytime designs. They are particularly effective with high waistlines and richly opulent couture fashions for evening. Waves rise from a closely fitted and slender nape area. Or, the hair at the crown can be brushed upward so that it can be layered into falling cadogans of rhythmic ruffles. Again, the low side part is a harbinger of its place in future fashions.

SIDE PART

A, B, C, AND D of it in evening wear is gloriously feminine and romantic. The high brushed waves and softly coiled curls are particularly effective with high waistlines and classic cut of the fall and winter gowns. Note the low side part and the high crowns in the foursome group.

EMPHASIZING the small head silhouette, this style is perfectly done to go with the simple elegant dress. Soft waves rise upward from the brow with the back waves cropped to fit closely at the nape. Waves also brush the cheek at the eye line. A similar design for day wear, extreme right, features the vitally young and sportive look in a casual "down" line of soft waves.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Approximately 60 relatives are expected to gather today at McKenzie State Park in Lubbock when members of the Raspberry family get together. Honored guests are COL. and MRS. DOYLE RASBERRY and Beverly who have recently returned to the states after being stationed for more than three years in Naples, Italy, by the USAF. MR. and MRS. DEXTER RASBERRY and their baby of Falls Church, Va., accompanied the colonel and his family to Lubbock. Others who will be at the party include MR. and MRS. JACK CARTER of HOBBS, N. M.; MR. and MRS. CARLTON OSBORNE and Glenda of Baytown; MR. and MRS. HOWARD WOOD, Lonnie and Laura of Crane; MR. and MRS. DOLPH RASBERRY and Billy of Ackerly; MR. and MRS. PETE GRIGG and Kelly of Midland.

MRS. SAM MELLINGER and her year-old son, VICTOR, left today for a week's stay in Dallas where they will be the guests of Mr. Mellinger's sister, MRS. RICHARD ENGLANDER, and her family. During their stay they plan to spend some time at Six Flags Over Texas.

DR. and MRS. JOHN KINROSS WRIGHT and children have returned to their home in Houston after visiting her parents, MR. and MRS. JOHN LANE, 1602 Nolan.

JOE L. WOOD is back home after going through Scott and White Clinic at Temple as the result of a recent stroke. While convalescence may be slow, doctors gave him hope of complete recovery.

MR. and MRS. WALTER ROWLEY of San Antonio visited during the week in the home of the A. W. MOODYS. Mrs. Moody and Mrs. Rowley, the former MAY-DELL BIRDWELL, were girlhood friends.

Incidentally, the Moodys have two of their grandchildren, SARAH FRANCES and JOE VERNON MOODY visiting them from Rosemond, Calif. They accompanied the FRED STITZELLS back after they spent some time at the home of the Moodys in Rosemond.

Joe Vernon has completely recovered from a most harrowing accident that kept him in the hospital for several days. He was camping with a young friend and a retired naval officer and on an early morning walk tumbled, fell or rolled down a mountain side. Their leader, who is a ham radio operator, called for help on the equipment he had taken along and five officers answered the call.

It took five hours for the men to bring the nine-year-old boy back up the 1,000 feet he had fallen. His only major injury was a broken wrist although he had numerous bruises, cuts and scratches. He was kept in a hospital for several days for observation.

While the Stitzells were in California they visited MR. and MRS. EARL LITHRINGER who were formerly stationed at Webb AFB and are now living in retirement at S. Pasadena, Calif.

MR. and MRS. J. T. BAIRD left Saturday by automobile for Dallas where they will visit MR. and MRS. STEPHEN BAIRD for a week before flying to Boston for a stay with their elder son and his wife, MR. and MRS. J. T. BAIRD JR.

VICKI ANNEN, nine-year-old daughter of MR. and MRS. JOHN ANNEN, is in Palm Springs, Calif., where she is the guest of her great uncle, FRANK BERNARD, who is also entertaining several of his grandchildren. Vicki flew from Midland Monday and plans to return here Aug. 9.

When the JAMES HORTONS were in Sweetwater last week to see their son, Kirby, play baseball for the Kiwanis team, they were delighted to see former residents, MR. and MRS. K. D. HESTES and ROCKY. The Hesteses now live in Kansas City, Mo., and were in Roscoe visiting her sister when they saw that the Big Spring team was to play in Sweetwater. Hestes is a former superintendent of the T&P Railroad here.

MRS. E. V. SPENCE is in Alice with her 97-year-old father, W. T. WRIGHT, who is seriously ill.

A Big Spring party really enjoyed the cool of the Jemez Mountains in New Mexico recently, especially the coolness in the evening that called for a fire in the fireplace.

MR. and MRS. ROBERT McDONALD, their son, ROE, MRS. W. D. McDONALD and MRS. F. S. GRAY spent four days at the Loco Lano Guest House as the guests of the New Mexico Timber Co. The guest house is 45 miles from Albuquerque on the Guadalupe River.

MR. and MRS. JOE PENDLETON who have been in Tunisia for two years are here for a short stay in the home of MR. and MRS. ROBERT HILL.

Presently Mr. Pendleton is a patient at Howard County Foundation Hospital where he has had minor surgery. When they returned to the states ten days ago they went to San Angelo where they will be with their parents until Mr. Pendleton gets resettled.

64-E Defeats 64-F In Picnic Contests

By NANCY FRANCO
Last Saturday the Unit Fund of the Student Squadron treated students, IPs and wives to a picnic at the base pavilion. Several hundred guests enjoyed a delicious barbecue, catered by the NCO Club. Lt. Ed Heim of Class 64-E, splashed his way to victory in a watermelon-eating contest. Lt. P. M. Marschalk, Class 64-F, won the model airplane contest when his glider soared the amazing distance of 20 feet. A tug-of-war between the classes proved that Class 64-E could out-pull anyone. The chug-a-lug contest was won, hands down, by Class 64-E's representative, Lt. Ross Early. Everyone is grateful to the Unit Fund for a most enjoyable afternoon.

There have been several reports that a crank is calling the wives of students informing them

Afternoon Shower Is Compliment

Mrs. Ronnie Howard was honored Saturday afternoon at a stork shower held in the home of Mrs. Don Lovelady, 1702 Laurie. Co-hostess was Mrs. Whitney Reynolds.

Mrs. Howard was presented a corsage made of miniature baby items. She was joined in greeting guests by her mother, Mrs. Gus Barr, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. J. R. Howard.

A white linen cutwork cloth covered the refreshment table, centered with a blue crystal container holding miniature pink carnations. Appointments were of crystal.

Sixteen were included on the guest list, with small baby shoes tied with blue ribbon being given as favors.

Make A Beauty Box For Beach

Beauty on the beach can be organized and colorful if you highlight your beach accessories with a beach beauty box. It's easy to make and ideal for concealing rollers and pins for quick after-swim pin-ups, and make-up supplies to accentuate your mid-summer tan.

To make your beach beauty box, choose a cigar box in good condition. Remove any loose paper clinging to the box. Select a roll of adhesive covering in a solid color or pattern.

Partially unroll the covering, backing side up, on a flat surface. Cut a piece large enough to cover the entire outside of the box. Peel off the backing and apply. Make cuts at the corners and fold adhesive smoothly over sides and lid. Line the box with a matching or contrasting covering cut to size.

Glue a small mirror to the inside of the lid, using a liquid cement.

For additional glamour, trim the box with cut-outs of a contrasting color. Just draw or trace on the backing of the adhesive covering, cut out, peel off backing, and apply.

dahl, her sister, Judy, and her brother, Butch. The Bunzendahl family is from Connerville, Ind.

Saturday night, Capt. and Mrs. Ralph Wetzel and Capt. and Mrs. Donald Quackenbush held a cook-out at the Carleton House. Guests for the evening were Capt. and Mrs. Ken Robinson, Capt. and Mrs. Robert Lippemeier, Lt. and Mrs. Phil Bay, Lt. and Mrs. James Hendrickson, Lt. and Mrs. Howard Lewis, and Lt. and Mrs. Gary Beson.

The home of Mrs. Norman Reagan was the scene of a stromboli punch party for the wives of Class 64-C, Wednesday. Co-hostess for the get-together was Mrs. James Hill. The pink fruit punch was chilled by ice which had been molded and tinted to resemble a red flower. A rainbow chiffon ice-box dessert was also featured. Attending that afternoon was Mrs. Bruce Ferguson, wife of the class tactical officer, and Miss Diane Pretus. Miss Pretus is visiting her sister and brother-in-law, Lt. and Mrs. Glen Hanle, and comes from New Orleans, La.

Student wives interested in singing in the chapel choir should contact Mrs. Benjamin Meacham or attend the next practice. Catholic choir meets at the base chapel at 8 p.m. on Wednesday and Protestant choir meets at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday. New members are urgently needed in both groups.

Heating Vocabulary Fully Explained

If your heating vocabulary is out of date, here are some definitions that will help you. The word "hydronic," for instance, means that the heating system operates on hot water or steam. A "warm air system" sends filtered air throughout the house through ductwork in the walls. And the ultimate in heating is to have a year-round heating and cooling combination in one unit, or a cooling add-on to the heating system that comfort-conditions the house the year around.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

by Heloise Cruse

Dear Gals: For those of you who have bought these new hair dryers—portable type—with the big plastic hoods, and find that after you remove them from the bag and try to place them over your head they are extremely stiff. I have the answer!

Before trying to put the plastic hood over your head, turn on your hair dryer and let the heat warm the plastic. All at once it will become soft and can be placed over your hair rollers and clips very easily.

Dear Heloise: For your reader who wants to know how to remove coffee and tea stains from a tablecloth:

I take a few drops of household bleach in a small container and add about a teaspoon of tap water and dab directly on the white cloth before tossing it into my washing machine.

Dear Heloise: Be sure to spot test your material first to see if it is colorfast... if it is colored.

Dear Heloise: When I am in a hurry to feed the older children, because my husband is late:

I cut up steak in bite-size pieces and fry it in my deep fat fryer, right along with our French fried potatoes!

The children's dinner is just as hot and good as husband's and neither group has to settle for warmed over food or sandwiches as each batch or "order" may be cooked together.

Ladies, I suggest that you test it on a piece of hidden fabric first. But... it does work. Just be sure it's safe for your particular material. So many different kinds on the market nowadays.

Dear Heloise: I keep my baby's bed dry all night and his outside clothing, too, by putting two pair of plastic pants on him over his "night" diapers. It is worth the extra wash you have because you can save on clothes and bedding.

I fill mine with hot water and add two teaspoons of liquid detergent. I leave this overnight. In the morning I pour it out. This removes all of the dark brown sediment which has collected. Give a good rinse and lo... a lovely brand new looking thermos.

If you use the old-fashioned muffin pan to bake cupcakes... try putting a little piece of waxed paper in the bottom of each greased tin. This will make them come out much easier and all in one piece too. I fold my wax paper over and over and cut a dozen or two of these liners at one time.

When the can is full, I close the lid (which has not been completely cut off) and put it in my paper grocery bag which I keep in a small garbage can under my sink.

Cereal boxes are also good to dispose of this kind of garbage as they are lined with waxed paper and do not leak.

I remove starch and needle marks from my materials by dipping a pressing cloth in club soda and wringing it out well. This also removes stubborn creases from woollens when letting down hem.

Dear Heloise: Whenever I empty a can of vegetable or fruit, etc., I put the can on my drain board and use it for putting in soft, mushy food from the plates, seeds from melons, and anything that would mess up my garbage can.

Inspect Before Buying Furniture

Before purchasing furniture notice the fabric. A well-made chair is almost never finished off with shoddy tailoring and sleazy fabric. How well does the design match at the seams? Are buttons even? Do pleats meet?

Note whether cushions are reversible or merely covered with a lining fabric on the underside. Reversible cushions may double the life of the upholstery! Also check to see whether the cushion fabric can be unzipped. If it can, cleaning will be a cinch!

Stretch the fabric between your fingers to make sure the weave is tight; loosely woven yarns tend to roughen with use and hold dirt more tenaciously. Ask about colorfastness and shrink resistance; remember that colorfastness is especially important if the piece is to be in the sun's rays part of the day.

SPRING BYINGTON

Attitude Holds Back Winter Of Old Age

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — Spring Byington is well named for she refuses to allow the winter of old age to take hold of her.

"Never let your attitude toward life be influenced by your birth date. What is important is your psychic age, and you establish that by your point of view and character."

Spring enthused about how much she enjoys working in the "Laramie" TV series.

"It's great fun being my age," she said with fervor. "In fact it's great fun to be any age if you keep your enthusiasm alive. There is a definite pattern for age or youth. It's up to you to choose which one is yours."

"If you find yourself repeating the same stories, you are on the wrong track. Check your conversation. Don't live in the past. Avoid the backward glance. And never stop learning. If you aren't curious about something, you will surely grow old.

"Try to be active. You can't be self-centered and enjoy life. At the end of the day, you have to feel that you have spent it wisely, not wasted it. The fountain of youth, it seems to me, springs from an open mind—one that embraces life and all that's in it."

HOW TO STAY YOUNG

If you want to know what Lydia Lane believes keeps a person young, send for Leaflet M-40, "How To Stay Young." You'll find simple routines that are easy to follow. You'll learn how to benefit from hormone creams and much more. For your copy send 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Big Spring Herald, P. O. Box 1111, Los Angeles 33, California.

'Yes' Experts Say On Eating With Fingers

Is it ever proper to eat with your fingers? The etiquette experts say "yes."

Even at formal dinners, "finger-eating" is the well-mannered way for certain foods. Glamorous artichokes are properly eaten with the fingers down to the artichoke "heart," which is in the fork category. Asparagus, when not covered with a sauce, may be picked up with the fingers in the best of style.

There's no need to hesitate to serve guests such dishes as fried chicken or corn on the cob because they are difficult to eat with knives and forks. Lead the way by picking up the food as a cue to your guests.

At "sit-down" dinners, the thoughtful hostess provides two large table napkins at each place for wiping fingers. If you are serving buffet style, or at informal meals, place tableserver boxes of napkins on the table so dinner guests can help themselves to extras.

Here are some additional socially-correct finger foods:

Bacon: If bacon is crisp, it may be eaten with the fingers. But if you prefer your bacon less than crumble-dry, a knife and fork are required.

Cake: Tiny cakes, such as petit fours, should be eaten with the fingers. Pound cake may be broken into bite-size pieces and also eaten with the fingers. Sticky cake or a larger serving require a fork.

Chicken: Geography has some effect on chicken manners. According to the experts, fried or broiled chicken may be picked up and eaten with the fingers everywhere but in New York. In this eastern area, chicken served at formal dinners calls for knives and forks. Finger eating is for informal occasions only. In other areas it's considered perfectly acceptable to pick up serving-size pieces of fried or broiled chicken on all occasions.

Relishes: Celery and olives should be eaten with the fingers except when they are part of a salad or a cooked dish. Radishes and small pickles also are finger-food.

Fruit: Fresh apricots, cherries, grapes and plums always are eaten with the fingers. However, when eating fresh apples and pears at the table, peel and quarter with a fruit knife before eating with the fingers.

Eliminates Garbage

Owners of homes with incinerators are pace setters in their neighborhoods. The appearance and value of their homes improves because garbage and trash cans are eliminated. Manufacturers point out that incinerators are not expensive. They need only a gas line and flue connection to be installed properly.

Fertilizing

The soil in which lawns were to be grown in front of these houses was pure sand, so soy beans were grown as a green manure crop. Here they are being cut before tilling into soil.

The Soil's The Thing To Insure Results

A "cover crop," planted now as empty spaces appear in your garden, will hold the soil in place from washing by winter rains or snows and from blowing away in the wind.

The second way that a cover crop helps your garden is by improving the soil, which is implied in the alternate name of "green manure."

All you need do is scatter the seeds of the selected type of plant over the bare areas in your garden. No soil preparation is necessary, there are no rows to mark, and the crop will get along without fertilizer or more water than fall rains give it.

Rye, perennial rye grass and oats are all good plants to use for winter cover crops. Any of them may be turned under when the soil is tilled or spaded in spring and will add organic matter to the soil.

Good summer green manure crops are crimson clover, red clover, soy beans or sweet clover. All of these are members of the same plant group and have an advantage over plants belonging to other groups. Certain bacteria which form nodules on the roots of these particular plants are capable of taking free nitrogen from the air and "fixing" it in these nodules. Thus, when the plant skeletons are turned underground in the fall, and as the nodules decay, valuable nitrogen (the most expensive ingredient in fertilizer) is added to the soil as well as organic matter.

The advantages of a green manure crop are not limited to garden areas. Lawn areas in which soil is poor may profitably be planted to such crops one after the other, for several years. At the end of each growth season the crop is tilled into the soil with two results: the soil is vastly improved and the gardener saves money by not needing to buy expensive topsoil.

MRS. JERRY WAYNE BATSON

Batsons' Wedding Trip Is To Mexico City

BALLINGER — Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Wayne Batson will be at home in Lubbock following a wedding trip to Mexico City.

The First Baptist Church was the setting for their wedding Saturday. The Rev. J. B. Fowler was the officiating minister. Miss Darlene Cox of Houston, organist, provided nuptial music and Mrs. Tommy Seymour of Fort Worth was soloist. Both Mrs. Seymour and Miss Cox are cousins of the bride.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Charles L. James and the late Mr. James of Ballinger. Mr. and Mrs. Leo Batson, of Ackerly are parents of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her brother, Harrell James of Abilene, the bride wore a formal length gown fashioned of pure silk peau de soie. The fitted sheath skirt was styled with a semi-overskirt which fell into a chapel length train. The fitted bodice was accented with a rounded neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. The neckline and the bodice were adorned with scrolls of applique lace flowers embroidered in seed pearls. Her tiered veil of silk illusion fell from a small pillbox made of peau de soie, lace and pearls.

The bride carried a crescent bouquet of feathered white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Harrell James of Abilene served her sister-in-law as matron of honor, Miss Joyce Smith of Monahans as bridesmaid.

Joe Dean of Ackerly was best man, and groomsmen were Bob Hejl of Seymour, and Delbert Holcombe of Bryan. Ushers were Paul Price of Ballinger, Shultz Hadley of Paint Rock and Don Shortes of Ackerly. Candelighters were Mike Black and Larry Lange, both of Ballinger.

RECEPTION

Following the wedding a reception was held in the church parlor. Receiving guests were members of the bridal party and parents of the couple. The house party

Need Recipe For Onions, Barnacles

VICTORIA BC. — "Common-dore" Margaret Nehl-McLennan of the Victoria Kayak Club allows that her post is a little lonely sometimes.

She's the founder, president, secretary and membership of the One-Woman club.

And she just can't understand why.

Kayaking is loads of fun she insists.

Recently she and seven members of a Seattle club made a seven-day tour through the nearby Gulf Islands, camping on beaches and living off the land.

Barnacles and wild onions constituted a typical breakfast.

(And for those who don't know how on earth you eat barnacles, Miss Nehl-McLennan provides the answer. Drop a barnacle-covered rock into a fire, leave for 10 minutes break the barnacles off the rock and eat out of the back of the shell.)

Armbrusts With Pet—Bones

An energetic pair of newcomers to Big Spring are Mr. and Mrs. Dean Armbrust. He is employed with experimental station as soil scientist and she will substitute in the Big Spring schools this fall.

Lively And Curious-The Armbrusts Stay Ahead

By JOHNNIE LU RABORN
Young couples may have it easier than their pioneer ancestors, but keeping the spirit of curiosity alive in this faster moving world is infinitely more difficult.

Intelligent and educated with a certain quality not barricaded by the avalanche of pre-fabricated answers to everything, this week's newcomers are introduced.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Armbrust, only seven-week residents of Big Spring, are such a pair that keep lively and interested by an energetic drive that makes the usual seem unusual and appealing.

In the living room of their home at 1204 Barnes hangs a large modern painting that brightens the room with its displays of golds, reds and blues. In contrast to the decor is a small ordinary bookcase filled with a treasure of the past.

In this case is a set of century old books—second printing volumes by Shakespeare. The books are a gift from Mrs. Armbrust's grandfather who brought them from England when he moved his book and art shop to Evanston, Ill.

CREATIVE TALENTS
The furnishing of the home gives a clue to a creative talent by the lively brunette of the pair. Having helped in her father's interior decorator's shop, she manages to take a bright pillow, rug or lamp and give a room new dimensions and make both the modern painting and recorded past seem at home.

Armbrust is a soil scientist for the Big Spring Experiment Station where he does research and studies wind and water erosion on soil. Coming to the station from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Armbrust is putting his agronomy talents into use here.

The Armbrusts met and married two years ago at Kansas State University in Manhattan, Kan. where he majored in agronomy. Mrs. Armbrust was an education major and an active coed on campus. They waited until graduation to get married and settle down to follow their respective fields.

Armbrust did research for USDA for one year after marriage and graduation. His wife taught kindergarten in the Manhattan schools. The 25-year-old Armbrust received honors in agronomy by placing in the top per cent of his class and earning both BS and MA degrees.

Although new in town, Mrs. Armbrust has made an easy adjustment to life in Big Spring. "It's just so easy to get acquainted," she said. "And I've had a ball."

AFFILIATIONS
Already, she is affiliated with the Newcomers Club and Panhellenic Forum, being a former member of Alpha Chi Omega, also she holds membership in Daughters of the American Revolution

Camper Is Made From The Trampler

What's the difference between camping and tramping?

It's not a matter of luxury alone, because some veterans make a point of roughing it. To them it's part of the ground rules.

It could be a different kind of luxury, loosely defined as the splendor with which you dispatch the business to get quickly to the pleasure.

The trampler picks his spot and 90 minutes later he's still not fully pitched and there's no sign of chow.

The camper is pitched, can smell dinner and is well on the way to a pleasant evening in less than an hour. And he's got dishwasher heating on a special charcoal pit—no waiting after chow and no constant pumping of a gas stove for this 'big job.' How? Every member of the family who can walk has a job to do.

There are a jillion other factors. Every camper has his favorites. For instance, little conveniences pay big dividends and are worth the price of carting some of them along.

Even the worst trampler does this one only once. He stops too late. Takes a second-best site. Pitches in the dark, ends up more disorganized than usual. Eats by lantern light. All business.

The camper, meanwhile, plainly camps to be camping; often manages a family swim before dinner. He makes more of the woods than mere shelter.

A final tip: If you're a beginner preparing for your first week-long fling in the forest, take a practice run of just one night at a nearby camp. That'll teach you more than all the books and articles you could read in twice the time.

Vacation Theme Used For LGA Luncheon

Draped fabric, pictures and travel folders from foreign lands decorated walls of the Gold Room Friday when the Ladies' Golf Association luncheon was held at the Big Spring Country Club.

The luncheon theme "Around the World in 80 Minutes" was continued at the T-shaped table, centered with a globe encircled with tiny flags of many nations. Placed at intervals along the tables were dolls from foreign countries, attired in native costumes. An arrangement of orange gladioli centered the head table, where Mrs. Zollie Boykin presided during the business session.

SWIMMING PARTY
Social chairman, Mrs. Bill Edwards, announced that a swimming party will be held at 10 a.m., Aug. 21, for children 12 years old and under. Following the swim, punch and cookies will be served in the area being called "the summer house" until a name is officially chosen. The enclosed room, at the east end of the club, is furnished with tables and chairs for the use of swimmers who may wish to eat without changing clothes. That same evening, at 7 o'clock, a swimming party will be held for teenagers.

Mrs. Elmo Wasson gave a pool report in the absence of Mrs. R. H. Weaver, chairman of that committee. She said that bamboo will be installed on the ceiling of the pool area room and expressed appreciation to Mrs. Leta Miller for helping with the decorations.

Test Chair Quality Before You Buy

Take a tip from the flopper shopper and sit in a few chairs before you buy. If convenient, let every member of the family who will use the chair pre-test it for comfort. If it has a good frame, if it's stuffed with a good material, if the signs of quality are all there and if you find it comfortable, the odds are that you will be getting the best possible value for your money. You'll be sitting pretty!

Match 'Em Up

Paper supplies, soaps and water softeners accessorize your bathroom. It's good decorating sense to match the color of bathing supplies, bathroom tissue and facial tissue to the color scheme of the room.

Mrs. Wasson also displayed the copper service which has been purchased by the association for the club's use. As duplicate bridge chairman, Mrs. Wasson presented the group's financial report, along with a check for $500 to be added to the LGA treasury.

VACATION WEAR
Members, who were asked to wear something representing their vacations, displayed various items. Mrs. Ralph Caton showed a hat from Acapulco, Mex.; Mrs. Jim Zike wore a shawl from Mexico City; Mrs. Horace Garrett carried a purse purchased in the Bahamas; Mrs. Grant Boardman wore a dress from Egypt and Mrs. Boykin's gay hat was from Ruidoso, N.M.

Introduced as guests were Mrs. Howard Kemper, Phoenix, Ariz., Mrs. Marvin Miller, a former resident now living in Dallas; Mrs.

Hayden Griffith and Mrs. Jo Bright. Hostesses were Mrs. Boardman, Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Boykin.

Experts Reluctant To Predict Crop

By SAM BLACKBURN
How much cotton will Howard County produce this year? Your guess, it seems, is about as good as anyone else's.

The experts, who usually predict the outcome of the crop, are reluctant to make a guess this year.

All hedge when asked what they think the fields will produce. They agree that never before has cotton looked so good as it does now. However, the prolonged 100 degree weather and the death of rain is hampering prospects badly.

If it should rain—a good, general rain from boundary to boundary—this could be the best cotton crop in many years.

COY
Even the intrepid Jimmy Taylor, former county agent, is coy about making a prediction. Taylor in other years, has exhibited almost uncanny skill in estimating the cotton crop. Usually his early season estimates have proved out at the end of the season to be remarkably close to the official totals.

"If it rains in the next week or so," said Taylor, "I'll make a guess on the cotton production." He declined to hazard a prediction at this time.

Like other observers, he agrees that the crops look exceptionally good. Despite the lack of rain in July—the total gauged at the U.S. Experiment station here was .76 inch—the cotton continues to grow and develop. The burning sun is getting in some good hard licks these days and as the drought holds, younger cotton is certain to begin suffering soon.

FIRST BALE SOON
Howard County's first bale of 1963 cotton, observers said, will probably be ginned this month. Last year, the first bale was brought to the gin Aug. 21 by Cecil Long, who harvested the cotton in the Lomax community. Glasscock County's first bale was ginned on the same date.

There is no reason, farmers said, why the first bale this year should be any later than last year. Cotton, planted early, is ripening well and bolls are expanding rapidly.

The happiest feature of the cotton picture at this time is the almost complete lack of serious insect threat. Last year by this time, farmers were battling bugs almost around the clock.

Not all parts of the county were as dry in July as Big Spring.

Some portions, however, were drier.

Most favored area seems to have been a segment in the Luther community. A localized rain fell on a small part of this district early in the month which gauged an average of 1.50 inches. Cotton and feed stuff responded and the fields are lush and hearty.

RAIN HELPED
A few other sections had rains of greater volume than those in Big Spring and crops have been materially helped. Where rain was short, the 100 degree sun which has beat down so many days is taking its toll. Cotton is still green and growing but is wilting badly as the heat builds up. Usually a revival of strength is noted in the early mornings.

Gins show no signs of getting ready for the season. The date is too early, they report, to require any rush preparations at this time.

Meantime, cotton plants in the fields are loaded with bolls and many of these are already king-sized. Some will begin to crack within a few weeks.

The heat has caused sorghum to begin falling over and has forced growers into the fields with combines two to three weeks earlier than they would have preferred.

Building Down But Postal Receipts Up

Building permits issued by Inspector Tom Newton at the city hall, slumped in July. Fifty-six permits for all kinds of construction ran to only $122,027. There were six new residence permits issued for $62,000 and one new business for $21,000.

Total dollar value of permits issued for 1963 now stands at $2,849,101.

The high month for the year was May when $677,867 in permits were issued. Totals for other months were: January $289,315; February $341,946; March $515,866, April $663,902, and June $238,238.

The 1963 total through July is now $967,127 under the same period in 1962 when $3,816,228 had been issued in permits. (Of this disparity $570,000 was wiped out on Aug. 1 with a permit for the Malone and Hogan Clinic was issued).

There has been a fall off in residential construction in 1963. Permits were issued for 329 residences last year through July, as compared to only 89 in 1962. During the same period in 1962 new business permits issued showed 11, while this year there were 23 issued through July.

Boys Stuck Up In Tax Barrel

DALLAS (AP) — Two Dallas boys got all stuck up and it took 24 firemen and a police squad to set them right.

For three hours, two friends tried to pull Rudolph Neria, 12, and his brother Paul Neria, 13, from a barrel of tar on which they had been playing.

As the sun went down, the tar hardened and their friends decided on other measures.

"You'll never believe this," the fire department was told, "but we have two boys stuck in a barrel of tar."

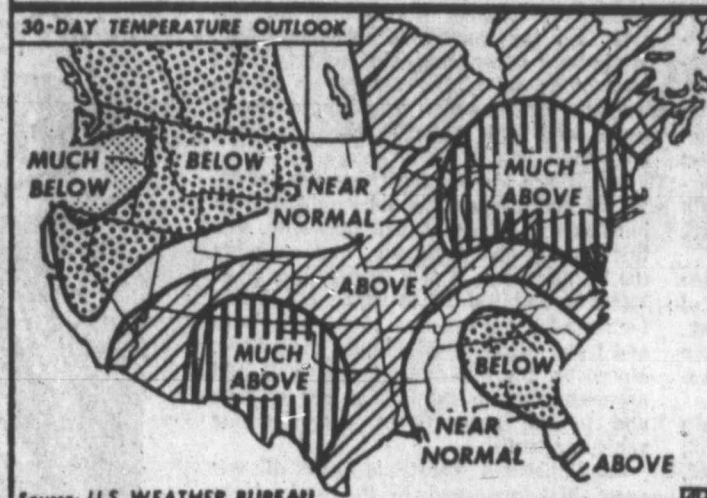

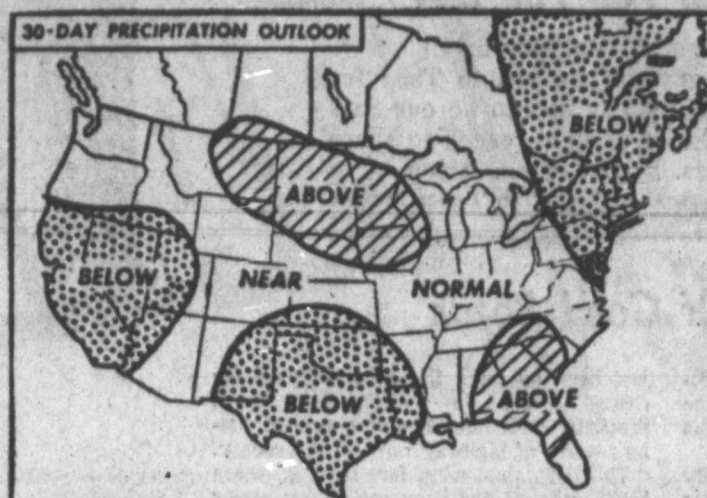

Two dozen firemen answered the call. The boys squirmed as fire axes whacked away at the tar. After a lecture from police, the boys ran home.

Post Office Gains More Than Rate Increase Figure

Big Spring post office receipts for the first seven months of 1963 are now $69,189.26 ahead of the total for the same seven months a year ago.

E. C. Boatler, postmaster, said receipts for last month were $36,796.76 compared with $28,000.59 for the same month in 1962.

The total for this year's first seven months is $291,629.51 for the same period in 1962 the total was $222,440.25. The margin of gain is well above the per cent of rate increase since last year.

U.S. Weather Bureau forecast for the present month shows this area will be hotter and drier than usual. The heat, the Bureau warns, will be "much above," and farmers and ranchers can gain no solace from the precipitation forecast.

Three On Aggie Spring Honor Roll

Three Texas A&M students from Big Spring are among the undergraduate students on the latest Distinguished Student list. To earn this honor a student must be registered for 15 credit hours or more, must establish a grade point ratio of 2.5 points ("A" equals 3 points).

Among those named as Distinguished Students are Donald P. Dorsey, 507 Washington Blvd., sophomore in English; Lawrence Y. Moore, 109 Jefferson, sophomore in pre-veterinary medicine; John R. Schwarzenbach, 806 W. 14th, freshman in pre-veterinary medicine.

A Devotional For The Day

Ye are the light of the world. (Matthew 5:14.)
PRAYER: O God, how grateful we are to Thee for seeing our need and sending Thy Son to be our Savior! May we live as children of light, eager to share Thy blessings with others. In His name. Amen.
(From The Upper Room)

Blessing Of Good Roads

Big Spring service clubs will meet together Tuesday to pay tribute to the splendid state highway system which has been created in Howard County.

The occasion will offer an opportunity also to pay tribute to at least two figures who have had a hand in highway development in the area and the state—Hal Woodward, member of the state highway commission, and Jake Roberts, district engineer. Mr. Woodward, incidentally, is a Big Spring product, although he now practices law in Coleman where his late father was a leading attorney after having practiced here for many years. Mr. Roberts has been in these parts so long that most people regard him as a resident.

It is fitting that our community pause and give recognition to the importance of a modern highway network. If anything, such a program is overdue, for we have been fortunate in the scope of the program in our county.

There are currently 256.2 miles of state highways of all character (Interstate, US, State, Farm to Market, Ranch to Market, Park Road). Moreover, we have authorized another three miles on a key FM road that is in reality a major traffic belt around the city. A contract has just been let on a four-lane overpass for Gregg Street on US 87. There is in progress something like five million dollars worth of highway work in the county.

This explains why for several years highway work has been one of our major industries, infusing several million dollars into the immediate local economy. While none can gainsay the importance of this, it is in reality secondary to the overall contributions that these roads make and will make to the expanding economy.

Roads are above everything else, arteries of commerce. The interstate system handles a fabulous amount of traffic, and this is only the beginning, and certainly the US 87 system is only slightly less vital. The FM and RM roads make it possible for farmers and ranchers to get quickly to and from markets in all kinds of weather. Moreover, the quality of these roads adds immeasurably to comfort of our citizens and to the economy of operation for vehicular traffic.

Our highways constitute one of our great blessings, and to the state highway department—and indeed to our own county officials—125 miles of other fine roads—we express our genuine thanks.

Cruel Creature

There is somewhere in these parts a sadistic creature who has devised about as crude and cruel attempt at ego satisfaction that can be imagined.

He has telephoned wives of student pilots at our air base, trying to make them believe their husbands have been killed in a plane crash.

While this certainly is unnerving, he ought to know that there are definite procedures under which the Air Force notifies next of kin in event of any sort of significant emergency, let alone a crash.

So if, in his warped, perverted way he thinks his anonymous calls are accepted at face value, he's as big an idiot as he seems. It is, in fact, ironic that pilots are learning to fly to protect even miserable creatures like the would-be hoaxer.

Backdoor Recognition Of East Germany?

WASHINGTON — Sooner or later the trickery in the treaty banning certain nuclear tests was bound to emerge, but it was hardly expected to become evident so quickly. For the stratagem by which the United States and the other Western Powers are to be inveigled into a recognition of the puppet government of East Germany has just been revealed. Walter Ulbricht, head of the East German Communist regime, announces that East Germany will sign the treaty after it has been formally signed by the United States, Great Britain and the Soviet Union. A United Press International dispatch from Berlin says:

"THE EAST GERMAN signature of the treaty could embarrass West Germany and the Western allies because they do not recognize East Germany. They would be in the position of being signatory to a pact along with a nation they do not wish to deal with. East Germany would be sure to consider this a measure of de facto recognition."

But the significance goes beyond a mere technicality. It advertises dramatically to the world the acceptance of East Germany as a partner in international agreements with the West. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Republican leader in the Senate, anticipated this very step when on Tuesday last week he issued a statement which said:

"Any nation can become a party to the treaty automatically simply by notifying the United States, the United Kingdom and the Soviet Union that it accedes to or has ratified the treaty . . .

"SINCE THE SOVIET UNION in 1949 imposed on East Germany its puppet government known as the 'German Democratic Republic,' the United States and the United Kingdom have refused, despite repeated Soviet urging, to acknowledge East Germany as a state because its boundary claims violate the Potsdam agreement."

"Under the treaty draft for a partial test ban, East Germany, by the simple and, at present, meaningless act of depositing with the United States and the United Kingdom instruments of accession to the treaty would compel them under Section 5 to notify all other signatories that this 'state,' which neither the United States nor the United Kingdom recognizes as a 'state,' had become a party to the treaty."

"COMMUNIST CUBA, by complying with procedures under Article III, could, of course, qualify automatically as a party to the treaty. The treaty would prohibit Cuba from nuclear testing underwater, in the atmosphere and in outer space, but would permit—with the United States a party to the permission—underground testing in the caves of Cuba. The United States, which only nine months ago was on the brink of war because of the presence of Soviet nuclear warheads in Cuba, would now find itself in the role of a co-partner extending sanction by treaty to the underground development of nuclear warheads by Cuba."

Did the Soviets put over a fast one on the Western envoys who negotiated the treaty banning certain nuclear tests? Was Premier Khrushchev mostly interested in getting a signature quickly to a treaty whose provisions might be meaningless in themselves but which enabled him to attain a position of parity in the diplomatic world, not only for the Communist bloc countries in eastern Europe but for East Germany itself?

IT NOW BECOMES apparent what the tactics of the Soviets really were. It is inexplicable why the Western representatives were so ready to accept as signatories all countries irrespective of whether they had any real relationship to nuclear testing.

It is being argued in behalf of the administration that any one of the depository governments named in the nuclear-ban pact—Great Britain, the Soviet Union and the United States—can refuse to accept the instrument of ratification of any "state," and thus bar its accession to the treaty. The words of the agreement itself, however, do not indicate any such veto exists. The treaty says that it is "open to all states for signature" and provides that their instruments of ratification "shall enter into force" on the very day that they are deposited with the depository governments.

THE NET RESULT of all this is to put the United States in the position of recognizing the violation of the Potsdam agreement and accepting East Germany as a state. It could raise soon the question of how any military rights can be maintained under the allied agreement of 1945. It paves the way for the annexation of West Berlin by the Communists as an integral part of the new "state"—East Germany.

The nuclear treaty itself can be dissolved at any time on three months' notice when cheating is suspected or for any other reason. But acceptance of Soviet aggression and the continued military occupation of East Germany by honoring an East German signature on the new treaty hardly represents a "victory for mankind," as President Kennedy jubilantly characterized the same treaty just a few days ago.

Billy Graham

In church I hear much about purity of heart, but in a world like we live in, I can hardly imagine a "pure heart."

K. S.
I am glad that your church is concerned about making men's hearts pure. I wish more people were interested in "interior decorating" rather than the frivolous and transient things of life. Civilization as we know it is declining partially because we are losing our appreciation for spiritual and moral values.

Purity of heart is something that only God can accomplish. The Bible says: "If we confess our sins unto Him, He is faithful and just to forgive our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." God not only forgives our sins, but through Christ He gives us a new nature. As Paul said: "Old things are passed away, and all things are become new." Purity of heart is a miracle of God. You are right when you say you can't conceive of it in a world like we live in—this is an "other-world" experience. It is the kingdom of heaven descending to earth. It is "Christ in you, the hope of glory."

You would do well to listen carefully to what your minister has to say about purity of heart, because all of us were born with an impure heart. "All have sinned," declares the Scriptures, but in Christ we have forgiveness and cleansing. His grace prepares us to live in a pure place, with redeemed, pure people, forever.

Welfare State

New Zealand Spends Heavily On Social Services

By GORDON TAIT
WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP)—For every $100 the New Zealand government is spending, $45 goes for "social services," $5.90 for defense, $7.60 for the public debt, and the rest for things like police, roads, administration, etc.

The New Zealand budget means that again the country off Australia will spend nearly half the government's income on welfare for this first of the welfare states. The year's social services expenses, which include free education, will be a slight increase over last year's 44.9 percent.

PERHAPS the most startling figure is that the government expects to pay out during the year $9.40 for pills and other medicines for every one of the 2½ million people in this island Dominion.

This free medicine is more of a worry to the government than free hospitals, dental treatment, universal superannuation, invalid pensions, subsidized medical treatment and all the odds and ends.

The government has indicated to doctors it would like them to go easy on their prescriptions, but the annual bill keeps rising.

NEW ZEALAND is a big market for drug firms, and cupboard are littered with unused pills and half-finished bottles of medicine.

No government has dared scale back the "security from cradle to grave" since the Social Security act was made law in 1938.

Governments, labor and anti-labor, have tinkered with it, but only to provide bigger benefits. New Zealand writers say it would be political hara-kiri to cut back the benefits, or that the Social Security act is a sacred cow the government just can't touch.

THE ORIGINAL act of 1938 says in the preamble it is "An act to provide for the payment of superannuation benefits and of other benefits designed to safeguard the people of New Zealand from disabilities arising from age, sickness, widowhood, orphanhood, unemployment and other exceptional conditions; to provide a system whereby medical and hospital treatment will be made available to persons requiring such treatment; and further to provide such other benefits as will be necessary to maintain and promote the health and general welfare of the community."

That's what it remains today. The result is the government will spend 253.8 million New Zealand pounds ($660.5 million) of its budget on what are called social services.

FIGURES MEAN little, because New Zealand living costs are low compared with the United States and most other Western countries. But to give an idea of the scope: There is $2.10 a week for every child under 16; an age pension ($25.20 a week for husband and wife) at age 60, but subject to a means test; at age 65 that pension becomes universal superannuation, is not subject to a means test, and is enough to get along on.

THERE ARE special pensions or payouts for widows, orphaned, unemployed, permanent invalids, and others who can show they are in need. Illness or having a baby means virtually nothing out of pocket because of government payments and free treatment.

What do the people think about it? New Zealand is to have a general election in November. You can bet your last tooth no campaigning party will suggest cutting Social Security benefits.

Why Not?

Extensive Battle Fought On Destructive Insects

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Chemists have developed more than 50,000 pesticides in recent years to help fight destructive insects, plant diseases and rodents.

Many formulations include a great variety of poisons. Ingredients in these preparations include more than 500 basic individual chemical compounds.

This vast use of chemicals to control pests has, of course, run into some sharp criticism, including some from congressmen. Critics say health and safety are threatened by extensive use of chemicals.

A TOP Agriculture Department scientist has sought to assure the public that the dangers are nothing like that pictured by foes. Dr. M. R. Clarkson, associate administrator of the department's agricultural research service, says his agency is effectively guarding and advising the public to prevent harm.

The department makes a careful study of each submitted pesticide to determine both its effectiveness and its safety.

"The department is deeply concerned with the avoidance of all hazards, of any kind, in the use of pesticides," Clarkson says. "Many of them are powerful substances, and some can be extremely dangerous if misused."

THE OFFICIAL offers a few examples of the way his agency handles a submitted pesticide. A spray might control insects on almond trees without leaving a residue on almonds. But almond hulls are fed to cattle, which presents the possibility of illegal residues in meat or milk. No registration for this product is approved until this question is resolved.

Likewise, a fungicide might control mold or mildew on plaster board, wall paper, or plywood, but leave a hazard for construction men who handle these materials or people who live in the houses built. No registration is issued until this question is resolved.

Dear Dr. Molner: We hear constantly that barbiturates are harmful and even dangerous. Can you tell us exactly the effect of their prolonged use? Do they affect the blood? Or the brain? Or both? Can their use over the years cause pain in the arms similar to bursitis or arthritis?—V. P.

You hear about them so constantly because addiction to barbiturates is second only to that of alcohol in frequency.

But let's get this straight: There is a big difference between prolonged use and excessive use. A science writer of my acquaintance a year or so ago was writing some articles on drug addiction—not just narcotics, but all kinds of addiction. At the Federal drug treatment center in Lexington, Ky., an expert told him that barbiturate abuse is, indeed, a very serious problem. However, in the same breath he added, "But please make it clear that it is the abuse, not the use, that is harmful. If you frighten people so they won't use barbiturates as properly prescribed, you will interfere with one of the most useful of medications."

The "barbs" are not like opi-um, morphine, heroin, cocaine. The use, several times, of a barbiturate does not quickly establish a physiological "hunger" for the drug, so that the victim will rob and cheat to get more. Well, neither does alcohol.

The barbiturates, in their many varieties, are a sedative. They depress the activity of the mid-brain. They slow down motor activity—physical movement. They ease "the jitters." In slightly larger doses, they put one to sleep—other things being equal. The can counteract too much muscular tension, such as in epilepsy and other states. They can be used for years on end, in proper amount, as sleeping pills—if one knows and observes "proper amount."

Barbiturates enter all the tissues of the body—for one instance, if a pregnant woman habitually uses them, they can pass through the placenta and reach the blood of the infant. At delivery, this can cause a "sleepy baby"—one that can be coaxed only with difficulty to start breathing.

However, barbiturates do not damage the brain in the sense of permanency. Excessive use can keep a person dull mentally. As to the effect in the blood, a sensitive person may develop purpura—blotches on the skin. More serious, too much depression of activity, for too long, can add up to great trouble. Barbiturate poisoning causes deaths, although probably many more deaths are from suicide when victims realize that the pills, all by themselves, don't bring happiness. Sensibly used, the barbiturates are not to be feared. The problem is with the person who thinks that if one pill at night helps him sleep, many more through the day will be even better. Or with the person who takes pep pills to wake up, sedatives to go to sleep, and alcohol in between. The person who comes to depend on sedation, expecting or hoping for a magic effect, is in danger.

Pains similar to arthritis or bursitis do not come from barbiturates. If that happens, something else is wrong.

NOTE TO "MRS. PERPLEXED": Urethritis can be very stubborn. While you may feel that treatments give you only temporary relief, continue them anyway. It may take time, but that's better than letting the ailment get beyond control.

Acne is one of the most terrible problems of growing up. If you are afflicted with this aggravation, or if you have children who are, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of his helpful and comforting booklet, "Acne—The Teen-age Problem." Problem." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.

Around The Rim Be Comfortable, Never Mind The Safety

Breathes there the man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself has said:
"That other driver is a knuckle-head."

Universally true, I suspect, is that the time you are always completely right and the other fellow completely wrong is when you are at the wheels of your respective automobiles.

Took a little trip the first of the week, on these highways and freeways, and the near-misses I had—when trying to find my way, or in making a turn that got there before I was ready for it—were always the other people's fault. What you do, of course, in cases like this is to mutter imprecations and shout ugly names and then go on about your business. The other driver is doing the same thing.

WELL, YOU HAVE to watch the other drivers, and I did. They come in all varieties.

The safety manuals say that first of all you are supposed to sit up straight, both eyes on the road, and grasp the steering wheel in the upper quadrants—as the flybys would say, right hand at 2 o'clock and left hand at 10 o'clock.

Let's face it, this gets demanding, and after the first 100 miles or so, drivers begin to work out their own little control systems, safe or not.

There's the left-arm ventilator type. He rests elbow on the car door, arm upward, fingers brushing the top of the door, while he more or less guides his vehicle with right hand. People used to get arms knocked off with this sort of position, but air-conditioning and keeping car windows closed may have proved a safeguard.

There's the thumb-hook type. He hooks both thumbs over the bottom of the steering wheel, and applies pressure there, letting fingers hang loose. This method keeps the car in track, but that's about all. It's better to have power steering here.

AND THE piano-player type. This is a procedure of just putting the tips of all fingers at the top of the wheel, and drumming them a bit while you turn the car ever so delicately. Power steering is an aid here, too.

The wheel-embrazer. He has to let the breeze cool his perspiring back, and to give the old muscles a bit of a rest. He leans forward, arms around the wheel, chin resting on top. Could be hard on chins.

TWO - FINGERS - on - spokes. This character is tired of grasping the wheel, so the forefinger of each hand is held on the cross-bars of the steering wheel. There ought to be an open road here, too.

Right - arm - on - back - of - seat. This fellow is really in need of shifting position, so he leans back in the corner, extends right arm along back of the seat and guides his machine with left hand. He should be ready to jump back to attention on a split-second's notice.

THIS SAME GUY sometimes is so restless that he even crosses feet and uses his left foot on the accelerator.

He could end up with twisted legs, but never mind. The road is clear right now. We won't even mention the spooning couples. That's another technique. When the driver ahead is youthful looking, his right arm is around another figure cuddled up close so that you see only the top of a pretty head, and some degree of driving is done with his left hand—the only thing you know for sure is they're not married.

COME TO think of it, it's a wonder there aren't more smashups than there are. We drivers want our comfort.

—BOB WHIPKEY

Nixon May Be Only Sleeping

WASHINGTON — The word circulating among the politically wise in this cynical capital is: Don't count Richard Nixon out for 1964.

Nixon has formally renounced all future political ambition, when he left California to move to New York, it seemed a confirmation that he was out of politics. But events are shaping up that could leave him with no choice even if his resolution was not qualified by the temptation inevitable for one who missed the grand prize by such a hairline margin.

GOV. NELSON Rockefeller is out to stop Sen. Barry Goldwater and the right wing from capturing the Republican organization and the '64 nomination. He has launched a head-on attack and he means, or so he has told his political allies, to go right down the line in the Presidential primaries.

Thus far, however, he has not made appreciable progress in overcoming the handicap of his divorce and remarriage. The time may come—and perhaps as early as the New Hampshire primary next March—when it will be apparent to all concerned, including the Governor, that his own candidacy will not do the trick. At that point the ancient political axiom—you can't beat something with nothing—must be reckoned with.

ROCKEFELLER might turn to Nixon, prevail on him to overcome his reluctance and make the supreme sacrifice for his party. After all, they got together in that midnight rendezvous in Rockefeller's apartment in 1960 and agreed on compromise points for the GOP platform. The Goldwaters were angered by what they considered a pre-convention sellout by Nixon, who nevertheless had his way in the Platform Committee.

IT IS SOMETIMES forgotten that a second Rockefeller, Winthrop, Nelson's brother, is deep in national politics, and this has a bearing on the South in '64. Winthrop moved to Arkansas before his divorce from his first wife, Bobo, in 1954 which cost him a $5,500,000 settlement. He became chairman of the Arkansas Industrial Commission and threw himself wholeheartedly into the effort to move the state into the industrial age. He fought Gov. Orville Faubus on integration and Rockefeller millions went into schools and clinics.

Setting out to build a Republican party in what has been a one-party state, he became GOP national committeeman. Dr. Kenneth Jones, an orthopedic surgeon, the Republican candidate who tried last fall to unseat Sen. J. William Fulbright, was regarded as Rockefeller's handpicked choice.

FULBRIGHT polled 214,000 votes to just under a hundred thousand for Jones while Faubus won re-election to a fifth two-year term by a larger margin. Next year could, however, be quite different. From all reports Arkansas voters are deeply disaffected over the Kennedy civil rights program.

Only once since the Civil War—in 1868—has Arkansas gone Republican. But Winthrop Rockefeller might decide to run for governor himself in '64, an ambition he is said to have harbored for a long time. And he has the resources with which all members of the family are endowed to pursue his ambition.

DISAFFECTED SOUTHERNERS would like to see Goldwater at the head of the Republican ticket, judging from samplings of sentiment. But what about a Nixon-Goldwater ticket which would have the blessing of both Rockefeller? While this is no more than a gleam in the eye of some hopeful plotters, politics in the past has produced stranger bedfellows.

The Harder Choice Of Merits

WASHINGTON, D. C. — "Neither I nor any Senator must let his antagonism for President Kennedy have anything to do with the way he votes on this treaty," declared Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia from across his office desk.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, who heads the Republican Conference, said "Absolutely!" when this reporter asked him if he assented, as an opposition leader, to Sen. Byrd's statement of political moratorium.

TAKEN TOGETHER the Byrd-Saltonstall declarations represent high-mindedness of the tallest order, but by no means do they represent uncritical acceptance of the President's high-pressure East-West Nuclear Treaty. If the final vote on ratification finds either or both of these two gentlemen, the moral and intellectual elite of Old Virginia and New England, in the opposition, they will be there with heads bowed to a hard duty.

For the President has assigned to this 88th Senate a decision that surpasses in magnitude and difficulty any task faced by the ratifying body since Woodrow Wilson brought home the package that would give us into the League of Nations. This Nuclear Treaty, which calls for partial disarmament in a time of recognized peril, is a more fateful step than membership in the peace-seeking United Nations and a greater gamble than the formation of NATO, which authorized the stationing of American troops abroad, under a united command, in time of peace.

THE UN, after all, was an assembly of supposed neutrals. NATO was a pact among friends. In cutting contrast, the Nuclear Treaty amounts to a trustful, unsuspected accommodation with an untrustworthy, implacable foe. We would be agreeing to surrender, in substantial part, a weapon which we once held as a monopoly and which we still hold in superiority of quantity. We would be pledging our good faith to a nation which has consistently acted in bad faith and which, less than a year ago, committed an armed invasion of the Western Hemisphere.

There is an adamant bloc of Senators, all Southerners, Republicans and confirmed conservatives, who will oppose the Nuclear Treaty and suffer no tussle whatever of conscience. It is a Kennedy treaty, and a soft-on-communism treaty which fits Khrushchev's domestic and international needs—ergo, it's no good! But men like Byrd and Saltonstall cannot achieve such simplicity of rationalization. To them, and Senators like them, there are those two brutal horns of a high-minded dilemma.

THE PRESIDENT'S commitment: A total rejection of the treaty, or even reservations that could be equated with rejection, would humiliate Mr. Kennedy before the world as only Woodrow Wilson has been humiliated. To mortify Mr. Kennedy would be to demean the United States as a leader in atomic sanitation and non-belligerent negotiation. True, Mr. Kennedy may have been too conciliatory, and certainly the world is too ignorant of the American system of government. Even so, the inevitable byproduct of rejection would be a repudiation of the only President we have.

The military posture: Both Byrd and Saltonstall, as senior members of the Armed Services Committee, are aware that this is a politically-conceived treaty, a diplomatically negotiated pact. Although dealing expressly with military weapons, it does not have anything like the full sanction of our military leaders. To approve it, as written, runs a greater risk than responsible and knowledgeable men would take without deep concern for the nation's defense.

THERE ARE times in statecraft—and this is one—when men of overriding prejudice are to be envied. Those who blindly despise Mr. Kennedy, and blindly hate communism, can stroll up Easy Street when they come to vote against the Nuclear Treaty. But stony is the path and steep the ascent for those who decide this Treaty's fate on its merits alone.

EXTERIOR OF MODEL HOME IN ANTIQUE BRICK
Kitchen view gives glimpse of built-in comfort

Open House Slated Today For Gold Medallion Home

Jack Thorpe, contractor, is holding open house Sunday from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. at 516 Scott Drive in Highland South Addition.

The new residence is a four-bedroom Gold Medallion home with all-electric features including heating, refrigeration and air conditioning. It is also a single-level home and carpeted throughout. The exterior finish is in antique brick.

The kitchen has all built-in cabinets and appliances. The large den features a round fireplace. There is also a formal living room adding a touch of elegance to the imposing home. Thorpe said all bedrooms have walk-in size closets and that square bathtubs are included as new features of the home.

The builder has sought to incorporate distinctiveness as well as comfort and convenience into this center for modern living.

Example Of Amateur Gear

Weldon Low, 1200 Ridgeroad, sits in his ham shack before the transmitter and receivers. His station is K5POK. This is a sample of some gear used by radio amateurs all over the county. Some of this type may be traded for in the Swap Fest here Sunday.

Amateur Radio Operators Slate Swap Fest For Today

An all-day Swap Fest will be held in Big Spring today from daylight to dark, Fred Coleman, secretary-treasurer of the Big Spring Amateur Radio Club, has announced. The registration and meeting will be at the Skating Rink at Andree and US 80 West.

"We have had word from amateurs all over the state and New Mexico," Coleman said. "One family from Corpus Christi has expressed intention to come to the all-day meeting."

Last year's attendance at the Big Spring Swap Fest ran over 500, with families, and more are expected this year.

Volunteer Council Sets Recognition Program Date

Junior Volunteers working at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital will return to school soon and planning is now under way to recruit additional adult volunteers to take their place.

Recognition of the work done by juniors and preparation for adult workers headed the agenda Thursday at a meeting of the VA Voluntary Services Advisory Committee. Mrs. Ara Cunningham, deputy chairman of the VAVS Committee and director of volunteers, reported that a peak of 87 juniors performed in 15 work areas of the hospital. A recognition and appreciation program for the juniors is set for Aug. 26, at 7:30 p.m., in the recreation hall at the hospital.

Orientation and training for adult volunteers is set for 7:30 p.m. Sept. 16, Mrs. Cunningham reported.

Dr. H. C. Ernsting, chairman of the committee, reviewed a report of the 1963 annual meeting of the National VAVS Advisory Committee. The theme for this year's program was return of the patient to the community. Dr. Ernsting outlined how services performed by volunteers can aid the discharged patient. Among these are visiting, assistance with transportation and shopping.

Three Wes-Tex directors whose terms expire are Mrs. Glenn Cox, Martin County; A. A. McKinney, president, Howard County; and John R. Anderson, Borden County.

City Officials Attend Seminar

City Manager Larry Crow, City Attorney John Burgess, and Director of Public Works Ernest Lillard will be in Austin Monday for a seminar on the new Texas annexation law for cities. The seminar will be in charge of the Texas Municipal League legal advisors.

Crow and Burgess expect to stay over until Tuesday for consultation with the city's Austin attorney working on the lawsuit against the State Board of Hospitals and Special Schools for an increase of water rates to the Big Spring State Hospital. No definite date for filing the suit has been set.

They'd Rather Give Up Jobs

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—About 13,000 persons are retiring from government jobs in Ceylon rather than learn the Sinhalese language, official sources report.

Since the British granted independence to this island in 1948, its government has been conducted mainly in English. But under political pressure from the Sinhalese-speaking rural majority, plans were made to switch to Sinhalese.

The prime minister, Mrs. Sirimavo Bandaranaike, recently decided against extending a deadline for complete conversion to Sinhalese in government work by Jan. 1.

Many officials come from the Tamil-speaking minority and either refuse to learn Sinhalese or have been unable to do so. So they are choosing early retirement rather than try to abandon English in their official work.

Imported Bubble Gum Still Coming

WASHINGTON (AP)—Those in the bubble-gum set who prefer the imported gum can relax. The Treasury isn't blowing the whistle on Canadian brands.

U.S. gum makers became alarmed at Canadian imports running to $400,000 annually — at a cent a ball, that's 40 million mouthfuls. They accused Canada of dumping the inflatable stuff at unfair prices.

Not so, the Treasury ruled Monday in refusing the request for tariff adjustments.

Student Makes Good Landing On T-37 Emergency

An instructor and his student brought a T-37 jet training plane down safely Thursday at Webb AFB, after a malfunction prevented one of the main wheels from lowering. The pilots made the landing on one main wheel and the nose wheel.

Flying the craft were Capt. Donald G. Weldman, instructor, and 2nd Lt. Jay C. Callaway Jr., student.

Ground crews spread foam on the runway in the event of fire, but the airplane was not seriously ly damaged and was back in service within a few hours.

Col. H. J. Withycombe, base commander, said the pilots did an excellent job of bringing the craft in on two wheels.

They Settled It; Well, They Tried

LOS ANGELES (AP)—For six weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fries have been arguing over their 6-month-old twin sons. They couldn't agree which was which.

To settle the dispute, the Fries took the twins back to the hospital where they were born.

"The mother is right," one physician said.

Antics Of Boy And Dolphin Seen At Ritz In 'Flipper'

Bill And Kim

"Picnic," Columbia Pictures' top production of the William Inge play of the same name, starts Wednesday at the Jet Drive-In Theatre. It stars William Holden, Kim Novak and Rosalind Russell. Others in the production are Betty Field, Susan Strasberg and Cliff Robertson.

'Mating Game'

Tony Randall and Debbie Reynolds share stellar billing in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's production of "The Mating Game," which starts Wednesday at the Jet Drive-In Theatre. The romantic comedy about love and taxes, two rather common problem areas, is in CinemaScope and Metrocolor.

Moviegoers viewing Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's unusual motion picture, "Flipper," are in for a delightful experience. It is the old story of a boy and his dog told over again in an unusual manner. The boy remains the same, but the dog is a seven-foot, 300-pound dolphin.

'Flipper' Star Born In Ocean

Like all baby dolphins, Mitzi, the star of "Flipper," was born underwater and was pushed to the surface by her mother for her first breath of air. The first 18 months of her life were spent swimming at her mother's side.

Then Mitzi found her life changed completely when a net caught her and brought her to Victor Santini, who is in the business of selling dolphins to scientific institutes and salt water aquariums.

The engaging and friendly personality of this young dolphin was noted by the Santinis and she became a member of the family, with a large sea pool all her own adjacent to the Santini home in Marathon, Fla. When the Santinis brought in a new catch of dolphins, Mitzi took on the role of trainer and tamer.

antics of the friendly and intelligent creature of the ocean. It stars Chuck Connors as a Keys fisherman and Luke Halpin, who appeared as a tot with Natalie Wood in "Miracle at Potter's Farm," as Sandy, who makes friends with Flipper the dolphin.

The story was filmed in color in the Keys, the Bahamas and the Virgin Islands, with many of the sequences photographed below the surface of the ocean, including a scene showing a battle between Flipper and a shark which has attacked Sandy.

Despite the drama introduced from time to time, the show is more one of the intimacy between boy and dolphin after he has found the animal impaled on a spear and caught in a reef. Towing the wounded dolphin home, Sandy houses it in his father's fish pen, where he and his mother nurse Flipper back to health.

Having regained its health, the grateful dolphin becomes Sandy's devoted friend. They swim and frolic together in the water. Flipper is delighted to give its human playmate a ride on its back. The boy teaches the dolphin to retrieve rubber balls, swim-fins and other objects.

An ocean parasite known as the Red Plague kills the local supply of fish, creating a serious threat to the livelihood of the Florida Keys fishermen and when Flipper devours an entire catch of fish, it is a grave matter. Sandy's father (Chuck Connors) has no choice but to threaten to kill any dolphin he encounters.

A desolate Sandy takes his small boat out in the hope of catching a supply of fish to make up for those eaten by Flipper. And it is Flipper who leads him to a new fishing ground unknown to the fishermen. Not only does the dolphin lead him there but it becomes very busy catching fish itself and bringing them to Sandy. The boy leans over the side of the boat, takes the fish from Flipper's mouth and adds it to the increasing catch.

The picture was produced by Ivan Tors, well known for the television show "Sea Hunt" and other TV and motion picture features with seagoing and scientific backgrounds. In the past, trainers of dolphins have always been outside the water, with the dolphins inside a pool. But in making "Flipper," the producer and his underwater unit approached the dolphin in its natural element and thereby were able to accomplish the almost incredible relationship between the dolphin and boy shown in the film.

"Flipper" was directed by James B. Clark. The story was written by Ricou Browning and Jack Cowden, with the screen play by Arthur Weiss. Playing leading supporting roles are Kathleen McGuire as Sandy's mother and Connie Scott as a little girl from the mainland who shares the boy's adventures.

'AMAZONS OF ROME'

Women Battle To Save Their City

An international cast starring Louis Jordan, Sylvia Syms and Nicole Courcel appears in "Amazons of Rome," which opens Thursday at the State Theater.

Set in 476 B. C., the film recreates one of the most incredible chapters in the drama of the dawn of the Roman Empire, when one hundred Roman maidens changed the face of the globe. This is the story of the mighty Etruscan Army which during the siege of Rome demanded one thousand hostages. Among them were the one-hundred maidens who joined the battle against their enemy and helped save their young republic.

MADE IN ROMEO
Filmed entirely on location in the historic settings of Rome, this United Artists release features thousands of players portraying Etruscan, Greek and Gaul horse-soldiers. For a climactic sequence, a replica of the old and famous "Maxima Cloaca," the tunnel used in the collective sewage system of ancient Rome, was built. Presented in Eastmancolor, the epic is produced and directed by Carolo Braggia.

Sylvia Syms, who plays the lead role of Clelia, leader of the squadron of women, was well chosen for the part. She combines the discipline and talent required of a star, which has earned for her the "Best Actress of the Year" award in England, her native country. She studied at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts for two years and shortly afterward made her film debut. Her first role was in "My Teenage Daughter," which was followed in quick succession by "No Time

For Tears," "No Trees In The Street," "Visa for Hong Kong" and others.

FRENCH STARS
France's Louis Jordan, imported by producer David O. Selznick, stars in "Amazons of Rome" as Drusco, Gaulist chief. Another French performer is beautiful Nicole Courcel, who is becoming one of France's most popular stars. Among her appearances on the screen was the role won for her the Best Actress Award at the Vichy Film Festival.

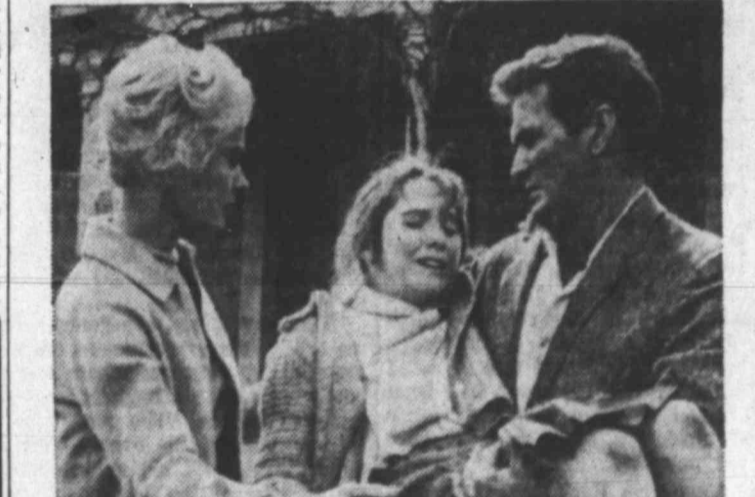

The story finds young Rome trying to defend itself in a battle at its city gates against the powerful Etruscan troops supported by their Greek allies and barbarian horsemen of Drusco. After a truce, Drusco and his hordes are sent to bring back from Rome all of its gold and 1,000 hostages to insure peace.

Intrigue mounts as the Greek allies of the Etruscans plot to break the truce. Fighting again breaks out, building the stage for Clelia and her women warriors to put on their demonstration of courage.

The film is based on a story by Luigi Emmanuele and Gaeten Lofredo.

FISHING
Dolphin seen in "Flipper" takes mullet from co-star

The Birds Return
The Alfred Hitchcock thriller "The Birds" returns to Big Spring for a three-day stand at the Jet Drive-In Theatre beginning today. A Universal release, it stars Rod Taylor and Susanne Pleshette.

Starred On Diamond

Chuck Connors, one of the stars of "Flipper," is a former big league player and a one-time basketball professional with the Boston Celtics.

Speaking of CONTACT LENSES

Everyday, more and more people are expressing an interest in wearing contact lenses. If you are interested in wearing them, you'll want to know the following facts about TSO Micro-Sight Contact Lenses—unsurpassed in technical excellence, yet reasonable in cost.

TSO Doctors of Optometry, through their vast experience in fitting more than 35,000 contact lens patients during the past 13 years, are highly skilled in this field. Their knowledge and experience acquired through these fittings have given them great insight for determining the variable optical and physical factors which affect the successful fitting of the individual.

TSO contact lenses are made with an exclusive, highly-polished edge bevel. This is most important to adaptation, as well as to continued wearing comfort. In fact, until a short time ago, the edges of most contact lenses were not properly beveled. Under a powerful microscope, they appeared distinctly blunt. In TSO's laboratory, precise edge-beveling, polishing and curve-blending on both sides of every contact lens eliminates this edge bluntness. Thus, adaptation time is reduced and maximum possible wearing comfort is achieved.

Only the finest quality optical-grade plastic and highly skilled workmanship go into the making of TSO Micro-Sight Contact Lenses. And, the TSO standard of quality is consistently maintained throughout processing by eight distinct, precision inspections.

If you are considering contact lenses, join the more than 35,000 patients who have been successfully fitted with Micro-Sight Contact Lenses from TSO.

Single vision contact lenses are $65, complete with professional eye examination, prescription and fitting. Bifocal contact lenses are also available at reasonable cost. Convenient credit at no extra charge.

Hunger Freedom Series Is Colorful Stamp News

ABUNDANT YIELDS TELL STORY
Jamaica and Trinidad have plenitude issues

By HAROLD C. PERDUE
The Crown Agents Representatives in Washington have announced the Freedom-From-Hunger issues of Jamaica, Trinidad and Tobago. There are two values in the Jamaica set, 1 and 8 pence. Both have the same design showing a native planting a mango tree with native fruit, cactus, and sugar cane in the background. The Trinidad and Tobago issue is a set of three in 5, 8 and 25 cents. The stamps were designed by Michael Gozman and show a symbolic representation of protein foods with the FAO symbol of three ears of wheat.

When the five-cent Food for Peace stamp was placed on sale in Washington on June 4, 624,342 first day covers were cancelled. The department also announced that a total of 885,230 stamps were sold on that day.

A newly designed international postal card for surface use in 7 cent denomination will be released in the U.S. later this fall. The design of the stamp is vertical with a blue map of the continental United States in the background. "World Vacationland" is in white across the top. Below the map in red, white, and blue stripes are the letters "U.S.A." The 7 cent denomination is centered below this in white.

From around the world comes news of many new issues. From South and Central America comes announcements of "stamps on stamps." Costa Rica has four bi-colored airmails and souvenir sheets of four which reproduced the designs of the first issues for the Stamp Centenary of that country. Guatemala has reproduced the design of the first issue of 1871 on a special commemorative.

Brazil has a single stamp commemorating the 15th anniversary of the Organization of American States. Also released is a portrait stamp of Jose Andrada E. Silva. Chile has issued a single stamp for the 150th anniversary of the first national government.

Sales Follow National Trend

Production and sales have skyrocketed in the automotive industry with local sales following closely the record breaking totals set by July.

Production of all United States manufactures reached an all time high when the industry recorded a total of 7,198,294 units. Retail sales continued to follow the trend with record setting figures for the year, according to a survey of dealers. New car registrations for 1963 national totals place Chevrolet in the top spot with 754,982 units sold in a period ending in May. Since registrations are generally two months behind the volume sales, records of June and July are not available.

Nationally, Ford Motors is running in the number two position with a national record of 509,840. Others in the top 10 are Pontiac, 208,372; Oldsmobile 161,828; Buick, 161,053; Rambler, 141,431; Plymouth, 140,337; Dodge, 116,528; Mercury, 95,394; and Cadillac 58,241.

Locally on volume unit sales, all dealers are meeting and outstripping the national average. For the first nine months of the current model year, beginning in October, local dealers reported these unit sales: Ford, 558; Chevrolet, 521; Dodge, 177; Pontiac, 155; Rambler, 114 and Buick 75. Figures on others were not available.

Pickup Plan Gains Speed And Patrons

Big Spring's new trash and garbage pickup service is gaining in popularity, Director of Public Works Ernest Lillard said Friday. About 70 more containers remain to be placed, and 28 of these will be distributed Monday. By the end of the week 175 will be in store.

"The way things are going now we are gaining new pickup customers daily, many of whom have never used city garbage collecting facilities before. The new truck is now picking up over 50 containers each day, beginning about the middle of the afternoon. As the driver gets more experience speed in handling will increase."
