House Leaders
Racing Deadline
For Railroad Bill

Would Avert
Nation-Wide
Strike Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP)—With the strike deadline getting closer the House went to work today on a Senate-approved resolution that would force arbitration to avert a nationwide railroad walkout.

House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., told reporters he was confident the House would win the race with the clock, and get the resolution to President Kennedy for signing into law well in advance of the 12:01 a.m. deadline.

"I would think the railroad bill would pass, and pass with a reasonable degree of rapidity," McCormack told newsmen. "I would think that it would get through very quickly."

NO PREDICTION

He did not predict whether the House would accept without change a measure passed by the Senate Tuesday, or make changes which would necessitate a compromise. But the effort was to send a bill quickly to President Kennedy.

White House officials said that if the House passes the legislation without change, a copy could be placed on Kennedy's desk for signing within a half hour after House action.

A spokesman for the railroads said that as soon as the bill becomes law the railroads will act immediately to cancel proposed work rules changes which the unions have said will cause them to strike.

Notices of the work rules changes have already been posted to become effective just after midnight, but the rail spokesman said that the rail spokesman (See RAILS, Page 4-A, Col. 7)

Postal Plans
Set For Strike

If the railroad strike, set for midnight Wednesday, becomes a reality, trucks, planes and buses will be drafted into service to move air and first class mail to their destination and all other classes of mail within a 150-mile radius of Big Spring.

E. C. Boatler, postmaster, released the instructions he has received from the post office department on operations in the event of a rail shutdown.

Mailings other than first class, air mail and air parcel post which are destined for points further than the second postal zone cannot be accepted. The second postal zone, he explained, is approximately 150 miles from the Big Spring post office.

The rule will be in effect for the duration of the strike, if the strike develops. "We are prepared," he said, "to handle any letters or parcels (See POSTAL, Page 4-A, Col. 3)

Tax Rate, Bond Assumption
Referendum Set For Sept. 21

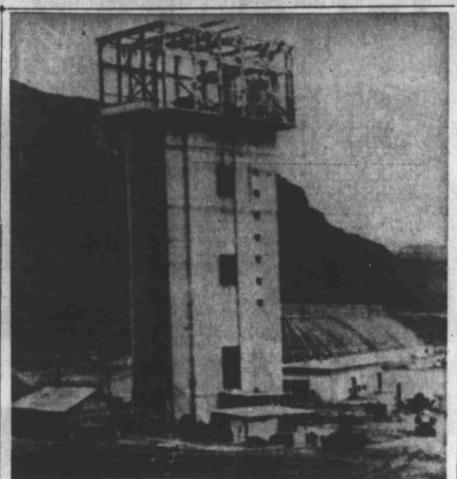

An election to set the ad valorem tax rate for school maintenance and to assume bonded indebtedness of areas annexed to the Big Spring Independent School District has been called for Sept. 21.

School trustees voted the election after considering a petition presented at a special meeting Tuesday evening. At the same meeting, trustees voted to abide by the existing and differing tax rates within the district.

Three polling places were designated for the school election—at the Gay Hill Elementary School, the Big Spring High School library and Kate Morrison Elementary School.

RATE STRUCTURE

Voters will be asked to register their opinions for or against the proposal that the rate be set at a maximum of $1.50 on each $100 valuation. With annexation of the Gay Hill and Center Point Common School Districts, the election is required to set a uniform rate for the consolidated district. It will

Mine Blast Scene

An estimated 25 miners were trapped today 3,200 feet below ground in one of two tunnels extending from the bottom of a 2,712-foot shaft to Texas Gulf Sulphur Co.'s potash deposits 16 miles southwest of Moab in southeastern Utah. The vertical shaft extends from the bottom of the headframe (tall vertical structure in center of picture). The picture was taken before the headframe was completed. (AP WIREPHOTO).

Three Miners
Safe, Six More
Are Still Alive

MOAB, Utah (AP) — Three trapped miners, haggard and near collapse, were pulled to safety from a 2,700-foot mine shaft today.

Rescue was on the way for at least six more miners known to be alive somewhere below the 2,700-foot level of the potash mine. Twenty-five miners were trapped by an explosion at the bottom of the mine shaft late Tuesday afternoon.

The fate of the other 16 still was not known. The three rescued men were sweating, dirty and bare from the waist up. At least two of them appeared near collapse, their heads rolling from side to side.

They had been trapped underground 17 hours. They were taken to waiting ambulances and rushed to the hospital at Moab.

In Salt Lake City, the Utah Highway Patrol said it had been asked to fly a big supply of blood and other medical supplies to a hospital in Moab.

Word that some of the men were alive followed by a few hours the discovery of deadly carbon monoxide gas at the bottom of the shaft. State Mine Inspector Steve Hatis said the gas was discovered at the bottom of the 2,712-foot shaft, one of the largest and deepest in North America.

The missing men are somewhere beyond and below that level in one of two lateral tunnels extending from the base of the main shaft.

Before rescuers can go farther, Hatis said, they must establish a new air supply in the main shaft, which goes straight down the distance of nearly 10 football fields.

He said this would involve installing new tubing in the bottom of the shaft and pumping in fresh air. The old tubing was destroyed by the explosion.

More than 30 men were directly involved in the rescue attempt. They were going down one crew of three at a time, with crews rotating every half hour or so.

The explosion, of undetermined origin, ripped through the mine at 4:50 p.m. Tuesday, catching the men apparently without warning in the two lateral tunnels.

The blast came a little more than an hour after the evening crew had descended to the two tunnels running downward at an angle from the main shaft.

Bova Rescue
Now Target
For Drillers

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP) — Rescuers, spurred by their success in raising Henry Throne, 26, and David Fellin, 58, from a coal mine cave in, drove a 12-inch shaft about 305 feet through earth, rock and coal into a void today, searching for Louis Bova, 54, missing since Aug. 13 in the same mishap.

Meanwhile drilling of two other probes was under way. Mine officials said the drill on the 65-ton rig broke through into some kind of chamber about 6:15 a.m.

BREAKDOWN

The officials said they would be unable to say if it was successful in reaching Bova until the drill pipe was removed and microphones and possibly a camera could be lowered in a matter of hours. The drill started at 5:45 a.m. Tuesday, but drilling was halted by a six-hour breakdown.

Officials said they hit the void at the spot Fellin told them to drill. Fellin had also directed the miners where to sink a successful 18-inch escape shaft to him and Throne.

A three-inch probe reached 132 feet at 7 a.m., said officials. A six-inch shaft, started early today, hit 88 feet by 7 a.m.

Meanwhile mine officials said they plan to close the mine for safety reasons.

SIMILAR SHAFT

The six-inch shaft is similar to the one which reached Fellin and Throne Aug. 18 and served them as a life line until they were pulled to safety before a cheering throng Tuesday morning. Bova has had no food since the day of the cave-in, but may have some water from seepage.

Fellin reported he made contact with Bova Aug. 20, but some officials questioned the contact. No direct communications were ever established with Bova.

Fellin and Throne are convinced their buddy is alive. Fellin is so sure, he has volunteered to return to the scene of his entombment to search for Bova. Dr. H. B. Charnbury, state mines secretary, however said at a news conference that only experts, if any, would be allowed down the 16-inch escape shaft to look for Bova.

DRAWN MAPS

Charnbury said Fellin was "well ahead of us," and had already drawn maps indicating the location where he thinks Bova may be. Bova was separated from Fellin and Throne by tons of debris.

Gordon Smith, deputy state mines secretary, directing the rescue operations, said he plans to condemn the mine.

Smith said, "If we are fortunate to get Mr. Bova out, the first thing I'm going to do is condemn this mine and blast it shut."

Besides Fellin's and Throne's feelings that Bova is alive, the missing miner's family also was hopeful.

"We expect Lou to come up too," said Mrs. John Bova, speaking for her husband, 39, and brother-in-law, Dan, 47.

At the hospital, Fellin's wife, Ann, said her husband's concern for Bova was telling on him.

BIBLE FUND
IN-DIRE NEED

HELP! HELP! HELP! The high school Bible class fund is in dire need of help.

With about a week to go on the formal appeal for voluntary contributions, less than half the amount needed has been given. Public funds cannot be used for support of the course, although it carries credit for the almost 100 who want to take it.

Today brought support from several individuals and groups who have supported the program many years, including Dr. P. D. O'Brien, Houston. (See page 4-A) former head of the sponsoring Pastors Association.

CARRIER BOYS
IN SCHOOL

School starts this week, and your Herald carrier boys, because of class schedules, will be a bit later starting on their routes than they have been during the summer months.

But they will make every effort to be prompt. Please understand that school hours will delay them, and your paper of necessity will be some later reaching your door.

Over 200,000
Join In March
On Washington

Giant Crowd
Is Described As 'Orderly'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Softly chanting freedom songs, a multitude of Negroes and white sympathizers estimated at more than 200,000 moved on Abraham Lincoln's shrine today in a great civil rights march.

A small army of police, national guardsmen and police reservists had little to do because — up to noon at least — the massive gathering was one of the most orderly on record.

MORE COMING And still more were on the way. Deputy Police Chief Howard Covell reported in early afternoon there were many buses still en route through distant avenues in northwest Washington.

Advance crowd estimates had ranged as high as 250,000. The march of less than a mile, from the monument to the Lincoln Memorial, actually got under way in impromptu fashion nearly half an hour before the 11:30 scheduled time.

Some of the placards read: "Before we'll be a slave, we'll be buried in our grave." "Segregation disunites the United States." "No U.S. dough to help Jim Crow."

"In freedom we were born, in freedom we must live." The demonstrating was a giant demand that racial discrimination be abolished, root and branch, throughout America.

POLITE Just about everybody, Negro and white, was polite, and evidently intent on proving false some advance predictions that there might be an explosion of disorder.

Not all the marchers were sober, by any means. "Someone started the yell 'Jim Crow must go' at one point, and this was taken up for a time with the enthusiasm of a football crowd."

The religious tone was reflected in signs which proclaimed "God of justice, God of power, can America deny freedom in this hour?"

The march leaders met with Democratic and Republican leaders of the Senate and House. Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said no commitments were asked or given in the session with him.

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) said Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois pledged support for all of the administration's civil rights program except the public accommodations bill. This has been Dirksen's position all along.

CONFERENCE Wilkins said House GOP leader Charles Halleck of Indiana told them he was "holding conferences (on the legislation) and the Republican attitude always has been friendly to civil rights."

House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., was quoted as predicting the House would pass a strong civil rights bill.

In the late afternoon, the march leaders had an engagement to see President Kennedy.

On the monument grounds there was a carnival atmosphere. Here and there groups of bearded, guitar-playing folk singers performed. Soft drink and sandwich wagons were doing business. Women were selling brochures, priced at $1, entitled "We Shall Overcome."

By a striped canvas tent serving as headquarters for the operation, a group was marching around in a circle, hand-clapping rhythmically and singing.

HEAVILY POLICED The whole area was heavily policed. Along a major part of Constitution Avenue, officers stood shoulder to shoulder. There were civil police and military police. Also available, if needed, were several thousand troops at military posts in the Washington area.

George Lincoln Rockwell, leader of the anti-Negro anti-Jewish American Nazi Party, showed up at daybreak on the fringe of the monument grounds with about 40 young followers, and police promptly ripped them in a tight circle. Barbed wire barricades were removed from the Saigon University area where 3,000 students were arrested Sunday and prevented from demonstrating against the government of president Ngo Dinh Diem.

Curfew regulations eased. (See MARCH, Page 4-A, Col. 1)

IN AUSTIN

First Of Two Marches
Has A Small Turnout

AUSTIN (AP) — A handful of men and boys who claim they represent indignant white citizens of Texas demonstrated today against a state edition of the national march for jobs and freedom.

One of the observers on Austin's steamy streets was former Army Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker, according to State Department of Public Safety officers. They said Walker said he was in town only to observe the two demonstrations scheduled today.

The 11 a.m. march staged in the name of a group called Indignant White Citizens Council began with nine men and youths following a 1954 red panel truck splattered with hand-painted signs.

JOINER SHOUTS "Come on, get in the march," shouted Bob Joiner, driver of the truck and an organizer of IWCC.

Indications pointed toward at least 1,500 persons in a 2 p.m. march on the state capitol sponsored by the Freedom Now Committee, a support effort for the national Negro march on Washington.

STAY FOR MARCH Joiner said his group would stay for the 2 p.m. march "because they have got to have heckling to show them that they are not appreciated. It is our U. S. constitutional right to heckle."

A group of 15 city policemen stood across the street as Joiner talked with newsmen. His automobile carried the sign "Integration is Communism."

Accompanying Joiner, 34, were Ray Joiner, 16; Roy Joiner, 14; Bill Miller, 23, and Prentice Goforth, 17, all of Grand Prairie.

Booker T. Bonner, Austin Negro waiter and an organizer of the Freedom Now Committee march, said he was confident "at least 1,000 Austin Negroes and whites would take part in the march."

A Houston group of about 300 left during the morning for Austin, traveling in three chartered buses.

A chartered bus in Dallas picked up a load of passengers. Dallas civil rights leaders predicted others traveling in cars would raise the Dallas delegation to 200 persons.

40 TO 50 Negro attorney Clifford Davis of Fort Worth estimated 40 to 50 persons left Fort Worth traveling in private cars.

Diem Charging
'Unjust Doubt'

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — President Ngo Dinh Diem's regime charged today the U.S. State Department has shown "a profoundly unjust doubt in the government of (South) Viet Nam, based on totally erroneous information."

A government note referred to a State Department declaration of Aug. 21 which deplored methods used by Vietnamese security forces against Buddhists on Aug. 21. Pagodas throughout the nation were raided and thousands of Buddhist monks and nuns were beaten, shot or arrested.

"The government of Viet Nam reaffirms its determination to continue its policy of conciliation toward the Buddhists," the latest note said. "But it is also resolved to unmask all political saboteurs hiding under various disguises."

The State Department declaration was called "prejudicial to the honor and prestige of Viet Nam, which has never broken its word to whomever it made promises."

The note followed up a declaration by the joint military command in Saigon, broadcast by the official Viet Nam press, that high military officers persuaded Diem to impose martial law last week.

Barbed wire barricades were removed from the Saigon University area where 3,000 students were arrested Sunday and prevented from demonstrating against the government of president Ngo Dinh Diem.

Militant Segregationist Wins Mississippi Primary

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Lt. Gov. Paul Johnson, militant anti-Kennedy segregationist, ended 16 years of political frustration today, winning the Democratic nomination for governor of Mississippi by a record vote.

Johnson overwhelmed former Gov. J.P. Coleman after a bitter campaign which centered on white voters' deep-rooted opposition to President Kennedy and his civil rights program.

Johnson reminded voters he still faces federal contempt of court charges for his part in temporarily blocking Negro James H. Meredith from enrolling in the University of Mississippi last September.

He also called Coleman the "Kennedy satellite candidate." Coleman supported the President in the 1960 presidential race.

Coleman argued that he was anti-Kennedy, too, saying he served in 1960.

With 1,861 of the state's 1,877 precincts reporting, Johnson had 258,427 votes, highest ever given a gubernatorial candidate, to 193,021 for Coleman.

The previous high for a winning candidate was 233,237 votes for Coleman in his 1955 runoff victory over Johnson.

Johnson faces Republican Rubel Phillips in the Nov. 5 general election. A newly expanded Republican state headquarters staff promised Phillips would be more than the usual token GOP candidate in this overwhelmingly Democratic state and there were indications many anti-Johnson Democrats might vote for Phillips.

An independent has also announced for the general election. Johnson, son of a former governor, lost three previous races for the nomination, including one to Coleman in the 1955 runoff. He also was beaten in a race for the U.S. Senate before being elected lieutenant governor four years ago.

Gov. Ross Barnett, barred by law from succeeding himself, joined the crowd of cheering Johnson fans at an election party. He said he voted for Johnson.

There was no indication of how the state's estimated 30,000 Negro vote went. However, in a mock election for unregistered Negroes, Coleman got 26,721 votes to 949 for Johnson.

Texas Towns To Get Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service and the Federal Housing Administration have announced funds for projects in several Texas towns.

FHA loans for construction of low-rent homes were approved for Omaha, $133,978, for 10 units; Whitney, $297,803 for 24 units; Groesbeck, $476,213 for 40 units; Willis Point, $316,079 for 26 units.

Two health service grants totaling $1,987,022 were approved for the Mother Frances Hospital in Tyler to help finance construction of a 134-bed addition with a total cost of $3,975,844.

Approved for the Nacogdoches City Memorial Hospital was a $385,450 grant for a 54-bed addition and other improvements to cost a total of $1,185,000.

Other Public Health Service grants included the following with total project costs in parentheses: Alva, $25,000 ($50,000); Jefferson Water and Sewer District, Marion County, $85,350 ($170,700); Maude, $87,750 ($215,500); Jefferson Water Control and Improvement District No. 9, Jefferson County, $22,600 ($45,200); Jefferson Water Control and Improvement District No. 14, $60,850 ($121,700); Pinehurst, Orange County, $75,000 ($150,000); Marlin, $150,000 ($300,000); Texas City, $477,950 ($955,900); Pearsall, $84,950 ($169,900).

School Hit By Blast Is Closed

BURAS, La. (AP)—Moving to "protect the lives of the priests, sisters and children," a Catholic archbishop has closed a parochial school hit by a midnight blast.

The Roman Catholic elementary school, here has been a desegregation storm center since the New Orleans archdiocese ordered Negroes admitted to parochial schools last fall.

No one was inside the Our Lady of Good Harbor School No. 2 when the explosion occurred shortly before midnight Monday. The school, closed for the summer, was to reopen Sept. 3.

Buras is deep in Plaquemines Parish where segregationist Leander H. Perez Sr., 72, has ruled as political boss for 40 years.

Perez was excommunicated in April, 1962, for leading a fight against the move to desegregate parochial schools in the 10-parish archdiocese.

Archbishop John Cody, in New Orleans 85 miles north of here, said he hoped his order closing the school was temporary. He called the explosion an outrage.

Man Killed In Abilene Fracas

ABILENE (AP)—Herbert Penney, 40, one of three Negro brothers charged in the shooting of a policeman, died Tuesday night of a bullet wound inflicted by another officer.

Patrolman Ray Young, 35, was shot in the left side during the melee, which occurred about 4 a.m. Sunday at a cafe owned by Penney.

Patrolmen George Hooker and Jimmy Day said they entered the cafe after hearing sounds of a dice game in a back room. They arrested two men and Day went for a police car, parked half a block from the place.

Trouble started then, ending in a gun battle which saw 14 shots fired. The policemen gave these details:

Penney attacked Hooker with a knife and they fell to the ground fighting. Hooker fired three times, hitting Penney in the stomach.

Robert Penney, 33, of Abilene and George Penney, 36, of Odessa, brothers of the cafe owner, overpowered Hooker and seized his gun.

Young and a fourth policeman arrived about that time to investigate a fight reported in the cafe by neighbors. They found two men kicking Hooker.

As Young went to Hooker's aid, Robert Penney shot and wounded the officer. After a flurry of shots, Robert Penney fled.

Officers took George Penney to jail. Robert Penney surrendered next day. Both are charged with assault with intent to kill.

George Penney posted $5,000 bond yesterday. Robert Penney is held in lieu of $10,000 bond.

Two Escape From Hospital

VINITA, Okla. (AP) — A Texas jailbreaker and an accused murderer forced their way at gunpoint from Eastern State Hospital here Tuesday.

Police said a woman smuggled a gun to the Texan. They warned that the escapees were dangerous.

The fugitives are Leonard Baker, 28, who fled the Paris, Tex., jail in June and was arrested on a robbery charge in Tulsa, Okla., and Jack Lepley, 40, charged with murder in the July 13 shooting of his wife Della, 29.

Both men were committed to Eastern State Aug. 7 for observation. They were held in a maximum security ward.

Dr. Ruth Annadown, hospital superintendent, said Baker pulled a gun in the ward and forced an attendant to free Lepley from a locked room.

The two men compelled a guard to let them out of the building.

Baker apparently obtained the gun from a woman visitor who identified herself as the prisoner's sister, the superintendent said.

"She got it to him in front of a guard," Dr. Annadown added.

Grenade Kills 3

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A supposedly dead hand grenade exploded unexpectedly and killed three persons Monday. They were Lt. Col. Antonio Castro Gamboa, his daughter Maria, 8, and law student Joel Uranga David, 26.

Sabine Basin Can Yield Much More

AUSTIN (AP)—Geologists say the Sabine River basin, a 74,000 square mile area in East Texas, can support greatly increased ground-water withdrawals.

A report by the U.S. geological survey said about 46,000 acre-feet of water per year could be taken from the Gulf Coast aquifer in the basin. Only 11,000 acre-feet were pumped from the basin in 1960.

An acre-foot is 325,851 gallons. "Greatly increased withdrawals were also found possible in the north and central parts of the basin from the sands of the Carrizo formation and Wilcox group, said the report, released by the Texas Water Commission.

"Also available for increased use is water in sands of the Queen City formation," the report said.

Crop Insurance

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexican farmers will be able to obtain insurance against crop and livestock losses from drought, floods and other disasters through the new National Agricultural & Livestock Insurance Co. It is sponsored by the government.

Texas Is Still On The Griddle

By The Associated Press

Summer kept Texas on a red hot griddle Wednesday.

Hot weather gripped all sections of the state, steadily heightening drought conditions in most areas.

The Weather Bureau foresaw no appreciable change. It predicted a few thundershowers in the Panhandle and near the mountains in extreme Southwest Texas.

New five-day forecasts called for temperatures averaging as much as half a dozen degrees above normal and nothing more than light showers.

Fort Worth was the hottest spot Tuesday with a high of 105 degrees. Thermometers climbed to 104 at Mineral Wells and Wichita Falls, 103 at Austin, Dallas and Waco. Top marks elsewhere ranged down to 89 at Corpus

A correspondent has expressed an idea which is all too common. I quote: "I would say that probably more people have been saved reading John 3:16 and the book of John than those who read Acts 2:38 and the book of Acts."

My correspondent may not have meant to do so, but his statement actually makes one more Scripture more important and essential than another. This is too common a practice. Today people are being told they only need the book of John.

Man must live by "EVERY WORD" of God (Mat. 4:4). He must not "take away" from the words of the Bible (Rev. 22:19).

Seven Indictments Returned, Two Charges Are Reduced

Seven indictments against six persons were voted Wednesday afternoon by the Howard County grand jury. Included were two indictments alleging fondling, one charging rape, and two alleging armed robbery.

The grand jury, with one of the shortest list of cases before it in many court terms, found the going slow and did not complete its work until 7 p.m. Tuesday.

Gil Jones, district attorney, said the tedious proceedings were largely because of difficulty in dealing with a number of Latin-Americans who spoke little or no English.

MURDER CASE PASSED

One murder case presented to the grand jury was passed and no indictment voted. This was a complaint against Ramon Quintana charged in the death July 20 of Simon Miller.

The rape indictment is against James R. Sims. He was indicted for criminally assaulting his 14-year old daughter, July 20. Bond in his case was set at $10,000.

James Kenneth Smith, charged with fondling, was indicted on two counts and his bonds in each case set at $3,000. The defendant allegedly mishandled his daughter May 15.

Gary Allen Slack and Bruce Troy Melvin, itinerants arrested after the holdup of a Big Spring service station Aug. 20, were billed for armed robbery. Their bonds were set at $5,000 each.

David Roma, accused of forgery and passing in connection with the cashing of a forged check in Sand Springs, was billed and bond set at $2,000.

E. A. Leonard, accused of giving McEwen Motor Co. a worthless check for $55 for the purchase of a used car was indicted for felony worthless check and his bond set at $2,000.

OTHER CASES

A complaint against Dana Oscar Barton, accused of DWI second offense, was ordered reduced to simple DWI and transferred to the Howard County court. Another complaint, accusing Lee Barber of felony theft, was also reduced to misdemeanor and remanded to the county court for disposition.

No indictments were voted in burglary complaints against Gaylon W. Dabbs, Elton Cooper, Jerry Rogers and Robert W. Ezell, book ed in connection with a burglary case. Charles A. Scott, accused of car theft, was not indicted on the felony charge but his case was reduced to misdemeanor and sent to the county court.

STATE AFL-CIO

Convention Faces Heated Campaign

HOUSTON (AP) — The state AFL-CIO convention went into its next-to-last day today with the campaign for secretary-treasurer growing more heated.

A compromise, however, apparently erased the threat of a bitter floor fight between industrial and trade unions.

Parties in the dispute agreed Tuesday to let the convention's general resolution's committee rewrite a strongly worded resolution proposed by the Texas State Industrial Union Council.

A resolution drafted Sunday by the council threatened to ask industrial unions to withdraw from the AFL-CIO unless members of crafts and trades unions stopped crossing picket lines.

The secretary-treasurer campaign was stirred when Allen Maley, the challenger, said Roy Evans had not carried his share of the work the past two years.

Evans, the secretary-treasurer, countered by saying Maley often has proved to be an impediment and obstacle in labor work.

"I think Hank would welcome a change," Maley said, referring to H. S. (Hank) Brown, the group's president.

"It's obvious to me that Hank has had to carry more than his share of the load in the past two years," Maley added.

Brown has been working for the re-election of Evans. The two have served as the top elected officials of the state AFL-CIO since 1961.

In committee action Tuesday, the civil rights committee drafted a resolution which asks Gov. John Connally to call a special legis-

One Founder Of NAACP Dies In Ghana

NEW YORK (AP) — W. E. B. DuBois, one of the founders of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, died in Ghana Tuesday night, dispatches from Accra reported today. He was 95.

The controversial Negro leader joined the Communist party in 1961 when he was 93. In his letter of application he apologized for waiting so long.

DuBois, who helped found the NAACP in 1909, finally broke with it in 1948 and devoted time to extreme left-wing causes. In 1959 the Soviet Union awarded him the Lenin Peace Prize.

He moved to Ghana last year and became a Ghanaian citizen.

DuBois was born in Great Barrington, Mass., of mixed Negro, French and Dutch ancestry. He graduated from Fisk University in 1888 — and from Harvard in 1890.

He received a doctorate in philosophy from Harvard in 1895. Among his better known books were "Souls of Black Folk," 1903, "Darkwater," 1920, "Dark Princess," 1924, and "The Encyclopedia of the Negro," 1931-1946.

DuBois was the first Negro elected to the National Institute of Arts and Letters.

late session to take up the problems of civil rights.

The committee also voted a full endorsement of President Kennedy's civil rights program and approved peaceful demonstrations.

The constitutional committee recommended the convention vote to give the Committee on Political Education a 5-cent-a-month-a-member raise in assessment during the next 20 months.

The Latin American Affairs Committee drafted a resolution calling for the setting up of three permanent public relations offices in South Texas at a yearly cost of $30,000.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough said Tuesday night at an appreciation dinner for him and his wife that the United States and especially Texas should strive for continued development in the education of their youth.

S. J. Johnson Rites Friday

Funeral will be at 10 a.m. Friday in the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home Chapel for Sidney Jarrett Johnson, 73, former resident of Big Spring who died at his home in Wilson, Okla., Tuesday.

The Rev. Kenneth Andress, pastor of the Westside Baptist Church, will officiate at the service and burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park under the direction of Nalley-Pickle.

Mr. Johnson was born July 23, 1890 in Goldthwaite, moving to Big Spring when he was a small boy. He lived here until 1926, when he moved to California. He returned to Big Spring in 1929, leaving again in 1933 to go to Uvalde. He moved from there to Wilson in 1940.

Mr. Johnson was a member of the Baptist church.

He is survived by his widow, Wilson; four sons, Sidney Johnson, Wilson, M. T. Johnson, Big Spring, W. E. Johnson, Ardmore, Okla., and Harlan Johnson, Artesia, N. M.; one daughter, Mrs. Hoyt Hallford, Big Spring; three brothers, Wiley Johnson of California, Ellis Johnson of Nevada, and Aaron Johnson, Galveston; two sisters, Mrs. Pearl Watkins, Sulphur Springs, Ark., and Mrs. Cora Hill, Fort Worth; 14 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

Christian Leaders Eye Civil Rights Demonstration

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Christian leaders from abroad today eyed the civil rights demonstration in Washington, and some notables said it posed a summons to all men to follow justice.

The Most Rev. Arthur M. Ramsey, archbishop of Canterbury and primate of the world-wide Anglican Communion, said "we who are guests from other countries are very much moved by what is happening" in Washington.

However, it is not just a matter of watching as bystanders, he said, but of taking the message of the event to heart in examining "our own consciences." He added:

"Are we doing in our own countries, our own churches and our own cities all that we should be doing?"

The council includes most major Protestant, Anglican and Orthodox church bodies around the earth.

At a Tuesday night reception, W. Averell Harriman, in the prepared text of an address, had included some sharp words about "Communist aggression against the free world" and Communist "atheism, discipline, conformity and rigid control" over every aspect of life.

Jimmy Felts Is Named To Board

Jimmy Felts, formerly a member of the Gay Hill Common School Board, Tuesday was appointed to the board of trustees for the Big Spring Independent School District. He will serve out the unexpired term of Johnny Johnson, who resigned at the Aug. 13 meeting. The term runs until April of 1964.

Before the Gay Hill School became a part of the Big Spring district, Felts served four years on that board. Two years as secretary and two years as president of the board.

He is a plant technician for Reef Corp., working at the East Vealmoor plant. Felts has been with Reef for 10 1/2 years. Prior to that the 35-year-old licensed diesel engineer operated a water treatment and conditioning service in Big Spring. He lives 27 miles northeast of Big Spring in the East Vealmoor area.

Felts is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Felts Sr., Big Spring. He attended school in Dallas and later attended for two years at Howard County Junior College when the school was located at the old Air Base. He came to Howard County in 1946 when he was discharged from maritime service, where he was a chief engineer. During his first two years here Felts worked with Big Spring Motor Co.

He married the former Debra Bradford of Big Spring. They have three children. Farr L. Felts is married and a resident of Big Spring; Annette will be in Burnes Junior High; and Bruce will be a student at Gay Hill.

Felts is a member of the Vincent Baptist Church, where he teaches a Young People's Sunday School class. Mrs. Felts teaches a primary class. Both have been active in the Parent-Teachers Association and he is a former scoutmaster of the Gay Hill troop and Explorer advisor for the Gay Hill post for two years.

A member of the Quarterback Club since it was organized, Felts is an enthusiastic football, baseball and track fan. He likes all forms of sports.

Trustees Approve Spanish Starting In Third Grade

Trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District Tuesday put their stamp of approval on a new Spanish program for elementary schools.

Two teachers were approved for the instruction. The program will be instituted in all schools except Kate Morrison, where administrators may use it if they feel students will benefit. Students at opportunity to study Spanish from the third grade on and until foreign language becomes an elective course.

Trustees Tuesday disregarded a policy established at a regular meeting two weeks ago and granted 17 requests for transfer from Goliad Junior High to Rannels. The policy set earlier was that, because of overcrowding at Goliad, a student must attend the school serving the area in which he resides. The only exceptions were to be for reasons of health or physical disability. Goliad is better designed to serve wheelchair patients or persons who are physically disabled.

Former Pastor Urges That Bible Class Fund Be Aided

To the Editor: While speaking in a Bible conference at Colorado City recently I got hold of the Herald and noticed the Bible Fund campaign is on. Remembering the way it started and the vicissitudes through which it has passed, I am enclosing a small gift with a sincere prayer that the conscience of the community shall be stirred to come to the support of this very vital program in our high school.

Eternity alone will reveal all the good that it has done. When Elizabeth Johansen came on the scene my worries about a teacher ceased. She is destined to live over again in the lives of hundreds who have sat in her classes.

The decision to stand by the district lines established took 84 pupils out of Goliad Junior High, where they had been attending. This lowered the number to about the level the school is capable of handling efficiently.

MARCH

circle. The Nazis were not in uniform and Rockwell said they did not plan a counter-demonstration but would only act as observers. Words of encouragement came from President Kennedy. Although he did not mention the march specifically, he issued a statement saying: "These recent months, one hundred years after the Emancipation Proclamation, have seen the decisive recognition by the major part of our society that all our citizens are entitled to full membership in the national community."

I read about the church and rejoice in the progress indicated. I thank God for Bob Polk and he is constantly in my prayers. P. D. (DICK) O'BRIEN 11942 Wink Road Houston 24, Texas

Boatler advised mailers that any emergency shipment, such as medicine or badly needed parts, should be sent first class or air mail during the strike, if it occurs, where the shipment demands delivery beyond the 150 mile point. Perishable items, such as baby chicks and honey bees, should not be mailed, he said, during the strike. Deliveries on any mail cannot be guaranteed.

Midwest Splashed By Rainstorms

Thunderstorms swept areas in the Midwest and more light rain splashed along the southeastern coast today but mostly dry weather prevailed in other sections of the nation. Heavy rain doused areas of the northern Plains from a low center in southeastern Nebraska northward into the Dakotas and Minnesota. Strong winds were reported in some sections. More than one inch of rain fell in Creston, Neb., in a 20-minute period. Hail pelleted some parts of the storm belt.

Isaac Smith, 27, who received a full charge of No. 6 shot from a 12-gauge shotgun blast in the face early Tuesday morning, was reported off the critical list at Howard County Hospital Foundation this morning. The incident occurred at a Northside residence. Eddie Lee Wright, 21, of 414 NW 4th, was transferred to the county jail late Tuesday. Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter sent bond at $3,500 on the charge of assault with intent to murder. He had not made bond Wednesday morning.

Police Detective Jack Jones, who questioned Wright and two witnesses, said the matter would be left to the grand jury. Smith received the shotgun charge, from just a few feet, while he was lying on the bed at 205 NW 7th. Jones said both the Negro men and the two women witnesses claimed the shooting was the result of a "horseplay" accident. Wright had borrowed the shotgun from a friend earlier that night and said it was for protection from a man who was supposed to come from Midland to cause trouble.

Most Transfers Are Refused By Board

The Howard County School board in a prolonged session Tuesday afternoon refused special transfer applications for 53 boys and girls and approved 13 others. The number of applications before the board set an all-time record as did the number of requests which were turned down by the board.

There were 24 petitions for transfer from the old Center Point district (now a part of the Big Spring Independent School District) to Coahoma Independent School District. The board refused 22 and approved two.

The board ruled that in the applications it denied it would be economically sounder and better educationally for youngsters to attend school in Big Spring, Center Point and Gay Hill were summarily annexed to the Big Spring district three years ago, touching off a long legal battle that ended last month with a Texas Supreme Court decision upholding the annexation.

Cleaning Money Is Cleaned Out

Four $1 bills were reportedly taken from a dresser in the front bedroom of the Lewis Newell home, 1419 Tucson, Tuesday. The Newells told police they left the bills Tuesday morning to pay the cleaning woman, and when they returned at noon the bills were gone. The screen on the window to the bedroom was cut, and the window raised.

Ignition and other tools, valued at $20, were reported taken from the glove compartment of a car owned by M. N. Brown, while parked at 900 Ohio.

A coin box was reported missing from the booth in front of Allen Bros. Garage, 1800 W. 3rd, last night.

Rising Star Sets Homecoming

Rising Star, once in the middle of a great oil boom and now a peanut-raising community in Central West Texas, has scheduled a homecoming for Oct. 12, 1963.

Plans include a parade, barbecue, football game, crowning of homecoming queen, James A. Rutherford is president of the Rising Star Ex-Students Association and is in charge of arrangements.

Three applications were before the board from Vealmoor Common School District to Borden County District. These were approved.

Vealmoor, last surviving common school district in Howard County, is a county line district with part of its district in Borden County. An election is scheduled Saturday in this district on a proposal to consolidate the school with the Borden County district.

M. R. Spears Heads Up New Pontiac Unit

A native Big Springer, M. R. Spears has been named director of Pontiac Motor Division's newly-expanded owner relations department. Spears has been with General Motors Corporation for 39 years, and recently has been Pontiac's director of field training.

Announcement of the promotion came from Frank V. Bridge, Pontiac general sales manager.

Expansion of our customer relations activities under a new department is further recognition of the importance of the nearly 4,000,000 owners currently driving our products," Bridge said.

The Pontiac sales manager added it would be the new department's primary objective to work and consult with Pontiac customers from coast to coast.

Pontiac owners will be asked questions ranging from their preferences in styling and mechanical performance to what they expect in service from their dealer.

"In addition," Bridge said, "we will also encourage owners to write to us directly to spell out to us how the factory can help to improve both the product and service."

Spears joined General Motors in 1924. He came to Pontiac as a service adjuster in 1934. After various service assignments, in 1949 he was named zone manager in Oklahoma City. Two years later he became zone manager in Dallas. He was named manager of Pontiac's Western sales region in 1955 and in 1958 he became assistant to the general sales manager. He has served as director of field training since 1959.

Some owners said they did not object to the paving but that financing would be a hardship. A few, not living on streets included in the project, wanted to know how to proceed to get streets paved in their areas, and were referred to those handling the petitions and financing.

The ordinance was approved, provided that all property abutting the paved streets is listed by metes and bounds instead of acreage.

Streets to be paved 60 feet wide, include Birdwell Lane, from Marcy to Twenty-fifth, and from East Third to East Fourth; and Twenty-fifth, from Birdwell east to the alley east of Central Drive.

Parkway Road, from Wason to the Douglas Addition, will be 44 feet wide.

Thirty-Five Blocks Okayed For Paving

Sixteen streets, including approximately 35 blocks, will be included in paving contract on Project IV of the city's continuing assessment paving program.

Following a public hearing Tuesday, the city commission adopted an ordinance declaring a necessity, and levying the assessment on curb and gutter and the paving on the streets.

Around 30 interested persons appeared before the commission at the hearing. A few objected to the paving, some came for information, and most approved the project.

Carl Coleman, who owns three lots north of 25th Street, east of Birdwell Lane, told the commission he did not feel that the pavement would enhance the value of his lots since city water would not be available to residents outside the city limits.

Navajo Drive from Wason to the Western Hills Addition, and San Antonio from Fourth to Fifth, will be 40 foot streets.

Thirty-six-foot pavement will be laid on Clanton, from Thorpe to Kennebeck Heights; Lawrence, from Thorpe to Kennebeck Heights; Mishler, from West to Clanton; Ringier, from West to Lawrence; Bluebird, from Marcy to Webb Lane; Twenty-second, from Main to Runnels, and Nolan, from Twentieth to Twenty-first.

One block on Stadium, from Settles to Tulsa Road, will be 30 feet wide.

The total cost of the project will be $190,232.48. Property owners will pay $107,133.77, and the city will pay $83,118.71. The city pays for intersections, alley entrances, and the overwidth when streets are more than 40 feet.

Curb and gutter cost, per running foot, is $1.44; concrete header, where needed, is $0.75 per linear foot, and pavement is $1.52 per square yard.

Participants speak

Some owners said they did not object to the paving but that financing would be a hardship. A few, not living on streets included in the project, wanted to know how to proceed to get streets paved in their areas, and were referred to those handling the petitions and financing.

Nothing Personal, Rockefeller Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington: STILL FRIENDS: New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's sharp assault on the "radical right" was not aimed at Sen. Barry Goldwater, says the Empire State's Republican National Committeeman.

"There was nothing personal in the statements that the governor made," George L. Hinman said Tuesday. "He continues to regard Sen. Goldwater as a personal friend and a great American."

The Arizona Republican complained recently he thought Rockefeller was his friend until the GOP governor's biting attack at elements of the radical right which he said were trying to take over the Republican party and might be coming close to making Goldwater their captive.

WRITING BILL: The House Civil Rights subcommittee starts today on the home stretch of putting together an omnibus civil rights bill.

The group completed its preliminary work on the legislation Tuesday and Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., called the subcommittee together to start giving tentative approval of the measure.

Celler said he expected the subcommittee to complete its consideration of the bill by next week.

FOREIGN AID: A new blast has been fired in the battle over foreign aid.

Last week President Kennedy criticized as irresponsible the House's chopping $85 million from the authorization measure setting a ceiling on foreign aid spending.

Tuesday Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., chairman of the House Appropriations subcommittee drafting the bill to actually finance the program, accused the administration of "hollering wolf" once too often. He hinted the program may be cut further.

IN SPOTLIGHT: Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller, wife of New York's governor, held the spotlight today in Women's Day observances at the 1963 state exposition in Syracuse, N.Y.

Her duties included presenting community service awards at a luncheon sponsored by the women's division of the exposition.

NOTHING VICIOUS: Singer Eartha Kitt said there is "nothing vicious or unpleasant" in her divorce suit.

The 35-year-old Negro seeks a divorce from William McDonald, a white real estate agent, in a suit filed at Santa Monica, Calif. She charged extreme cruelty but gave no details.

The couple, married in 1960, have a 21-month-old daughter. Their marriage was the first for both.

ANNULMENT: Actress Lana Wood, 17, sister of actress Natalie Wood, and Jack D. Wrather III, 19, were made single again in an annulment decree.

Wrather's father, Jack D. Wrather Jr., Texas oil millionaire, television and movie producer and husband of actress Bonita Granville, filed the annulment suit in January. He charged the couple's elopement to Mexico Dec. 16 was without parental consent. Wrather then was 18 and Miss Wood 16.

The couple separated Jan. 11 after 26 days together.

Former Maid Shoots At Actor

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — A former housemaid was arrested for attempted murder after actor George Montgomery said she took a shot at him.

Police said a note in the woman's purse said she was going to kill Montgomery and herself because she didn't want him running around "with those stupid looking glamour girls."

Ruth Wenzel, 37, worked for Montgomery and his divorced wife, Dinah Shore, five years ago. Montgomery, 46, said he spotted Miss Wenzel when he walked into his house Tuesday with airline stewardess Jo Ponce, 25. The maid rushed into a bedroom, pulled a .38 caliber revolver from under a pillow and pointed it at Montgomery, he said. When he grabbed it, it discharged. The shot left powder burns on the actor's face.

Police quoted Miss Wenzel as saying she broke into Montgomery's house Sunday and remained there until the actor returned from New York.

Police said the note in her purse read in part: "... Would you please see that I get buried together with George. I love him so very, very much. ..."

Montgomery refused to discuss the maid or her story.

Western States Have Highest Farm Income

WASHINGTON (AP)—Average net income per farm in 1962 ranged all the way from $21,828 in Arizona to $849 in West Virginia.

In its final estimates for last year, the Agriculture Department showed a wide disparity in net income by states and regions. The 11 western states—Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, Nevada, Washington, Oregon and California—topped the six regions. The average net income per farm there was $6,124.

Net income does not include the value of products consumed on the farm, and minus all expenses connected with farm operations.

Without these deductions, gross income per farm averaged $11,061 for the 48 states. The south central states had an average net income per farm of $2,796, topped by Texas' $4,297. Arkansas was second with $3,619 and Tennessee last with $1,666. Kentucky, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Oklahoma all were below $3,000.

Looks Bare, But Two Are Promising

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP TV - Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The new television season seems rather bare of radically different programs, but a couple of new offerings will be watched closely by industry trend-spotters.

One is NBC's "Richard Boone Show," a dramatic anthology series with a novel—for television—idea of using a repertory company of featured players.

The other is "Burke's Law," which hopes to combine sophisticated humor with homicide. If it strikes the public's fancy, it could initiate a cycle of shows in the sprightly mood of the old William Powell-Myrna Loy "Thin Man" movies.

In this new series, however, our hero is a clever captain of homicide who also is a handsome millionaire bachelor, absolutely irresistible to women. Gene Barry, late of "Bat Masterson," is the star.

One rumble around the Hollywood studios is that the series, stressing tongue-in-cheek situations and off-beat, way-out characters, could be the hit of the season. But for every optimist, there's a pessimist who can explain why a series about a rich lady-killer bachelor is doomed before it starts.

"He starts out on every case in the arms of a different dish—a real dish," raved a partisan (male) of the show.

"These bachelors who have a lot of girls, but who are never caught put off women viewers," said a cynical amateur (male) analyst. "It puts women down, and women viewers don't like to be put down."

"They got away with the rich, attractive detective in 'The Thin Man' — and I mean Powell's version—because he was happily married and didn't play around."

Barry, delighted to be out of the Old West, describes the series as "pure entertainment — just plain fun."

Judy Garland, who has slimmered to worrisome match-stick proportions, is in a Hollywood hospital for what is described as her annual check-up. Her variety series, which lost its producer and writers by executive CBS decision, won't be resumed until mid-September. Only five shows have been taped.

Runoff Is Needed For Mayor's Race

VICTORIA, Tex. (AP)—Unofficial returns from a special election Tuesday indicate it will take a runoff to name Victoria's new mayor.

lawyer, led with 1,231 votes in a three-way race. T. O. Miracle, 64, polled 863 and Cliff Berkman, 54, received 847.

City councilmen will canvass the vote Thursday and set a date if a runoff election is necessary. The winner will succeed Joe Kelly, who resigned Monday after his appointment as 24th District Judge.

Farmers Planning No Planting Hike

DES MOINES (AP)—With the defeat of marketing quotas for wheat in last May's referendum, do wheat farmers plan large increases in their fall planting? They do not, a poll by "Successful Farming" magazine indicates. A survey of 308 farmers in 14 major wheat producing states conducted during July showed that 75 per cent of those interviewed planned to stay within their 1964 acreage allotment. Of those interviewed, 14 per cent planned to exceed their allotment and 11 per cent were undecided. Citing reasons of farmers planning to stay within their allotment, the survey said 43 per cent feared overplanting might result in reduced wheat allotments in the future. Another 11 per cent expressed the hope their action would bring better prices or fear that overplanting might help depress prices. One Texas radio farm director told interviewers: "Farmers aren't just going to plant wheat everywhere. They're still cautious and still feel they can't afford to go all out. They're thinking in terms of price drops and possibility of getting a lower allotment if there's a surplus of wheat." Of those planning to stay within their allotments, 22 per cent said such planting fit in best with their operation, 5 per cent said the allotment was sufficient for their farm and 5 per cent said they felt the wheat supply should be controlled. "We didn't vote against the referendum in order to grow more wheat, but against the principles it represented," said one Illinois farmer. The 14 per cent who said they plan to overplant their allotments cited the need to seed more at expected cheaper wheat prices, the lack of a program and the idea of gambling that prices won't be allowed to fall too far.

Steel Industry Is Recovering

NEW YORK (AP)—The steel industry is starting to recover from the strike that never was. Orders are a bit higher than in previous weeks when customers were living off stocks built up while unions and management were negotiating a new labor pact. So production has turned up, too, for the first real gain since May. And confidence is growing that this summer's slump will prove to have been exceptionally mild. Part of the credit goes to the general gain in industrial activity. But part also goes to the manner in which the labor parleys were conducted this year. The threat of a strike was less pressing this time than in previous years. Therefore, customers built up stocks at a less urgent pace. Labor contract years traditionally put the steel industry through a fever and chills cycle. First, the customers over-order as a hedge against a possible strike and the mills work feverishly. Then, if there's a strike, much of the economy is thrown out of joint. If there's a settlement, steel users live off their out-size inventories, and the mills are chilled by few orders and little output. This happened in 1962. The pattern was different in 1963. The pattern — now being tried or considered in other industries —was to keep a negotiating committee working more or less around the calendar on points of differences as they arose. The aim was not only to make a strike less likely, but also to bring the final critical negotiations to a head without working under the gun of a strike deadline threat. But while reports of progress were frequent, many steel users weren't taking any chances. They put in hedge orders anyway. The build-up in stocks wasn't as large as the year before. Still, there was a considerable let down in steel ordering and production this summer. That may be ending now. A number of mills report a pickup in new orders and inquiries, looking toward a better fall business. The American Iron and Steel Institute reports that last week the mills poured 1,742,000 tons of steel, up 1.1 per cent from the previous week, and nicely ahead of the 1,611,000-ton output of the like week of 1962. With the exception of one week in July, a fluke, this was the first rise since May. The metal working trade weekly, Iron Age, says earlier predictions that fourth quarter shipments would be about 16.5 million tons are now being jumped in some industry circles to as high as 18.3 million tons.

May Hurt Scouting

SALISBURY, SOUTHERN RHODESIA (AP)—Prime Minister Hastings Banda of Nyasaland is calling on all youngsters to join the Pioneer Movement. Banda, a fervent nationalist, said "foreign" organizations like the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides do not teach the young the essence of manual and physical labor or old African customs. The move is expected to hurt the 5,000-strong Nyasaland Boy Scout Association. Nyasaland's government previously withdrew an annual grant of $7,000 made for many years to the Boy Scouts. The pioneer movement is similar to an organization in Ghana which President Nkrumah of that country modeled after Russia's Communist youth organization. The Young Pioneers are instructed to enlighten youth about the motherland and to center attention on the African personality as seen in Banda. Emancipation from colonial, imperialist and slave mentalities is described as one of its objects.

Grant Approved For Tyler Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal grants of $1,967,422 have been approved for the Mother Frances Hospital in Tyler, Tex., Rep. Lindley Beckworth, D-Tex., said Tuesday. The Welfare Department has approved use of $967,422 in accelerated public works funds and a $1 million grant of Hill-Burton hospital funds. The money will be used to build a 130-bed addition, costing about $4 million.

A Devotional For The Day

They took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus. (Acts 4:13.)
PRAYER: O Christ, we rejoice that thou didst commission Thy disciples to be witnesses throughout the earth to Thy gospel of power. Help us to speak forth by word and deed the honor of Thy name. For Thy sake. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

Fruitless Months

After months — weary and virtually fruitless months — of negotiating, arbitration and supplication, it now appears that a railway strike is imminent.

This is needless. Short-sightedness and stubbornness has blocked efforts to work out a transitional policy which would cushion the effect of job elimination under work rule changes.

The carriers, possibly because of previous favorable decisions and a confidence that new results would continue them, have agreed repeatedly to compulsory arbitration. The worker representatives have not, possibly because they too felt that additional arbitration would repeat previous results.

A lot of jobs, by some estimated 40,000, are at stake in the work rules changes. Even this formidable total would not be insurmountable, but the nagging fear has plagued union officials that acquiescence in a policy would mean a progression of this reduction. And well it might, for it would not be reasonable to believe that the threshold of automation is the end of automation.

But this does not answer the question, nor does it get to the heart of the issue of who has the right to manage one's own affairs. If private enterprise is to survive, management must have this right, and it must exercise it with enlightenment and statesmanship.

Thus, in this case and hundreds that will follow it, the human equation needs to be figured in and ways found to mitigate personal displacements.

Compulsory Education

A recent page of "news briefs" contained two related items. One noted that 70 per cent of American young people complete high school. The other recorded that last January 800,000 persons aged 16 to 21 were jobless and looking for work.

The perhaps inadvertent juxtaposition of these items points up a disturbing fact about American life. Though we get a large proportion of our youngsters through high school, hundreds of thousands who want to work cannot find jobs.

In part this reflects general unemployment, which in turn reflects the impact of automation and our failure to keep the economy rising at a pace fast enough to absorb the growing work force. But the high proportion of young people seeking jobs also is related to the problem of dropouts before high school graduation. Youngsters who quit school because of failure or lack of interest and motivation, or for various other reasons, come onto the labor market unfitted by education or training for any but menial work.

Much thought is being given to the dropout question. Various methods are being tried to discourage quitting and to get dropouts back into school. One approach worth considerable attention is that of raising the compulsory school age. In all but 10 states, the cutoff time is age 16 as it is in Texas. In Maine it is 15; in five states the age is 17, and in four it has been raised to 18.

The results in the latter four—Utah, Oregon, Ohio and Oklahoma—should be carefully watched. Raising the compulsory school age adds to the costs of education, but there are good arguments in favor of it. A low age limit encourages dropouts, which in turn overburdens the labor market. Keeping boys and girls in school longer, or until they graduate, has much to recommend it.

He's Making A Mint

BERLIN (AP) — There is at least one jolly East German.

He drives a taxi in the Communist sector of Berlin, knows about 14 words of English and makes most of his money on Sunday.

That's the day off for East German sightseeing buses. A fellow with get-up-and-go can make a mint hauling curious Westerners around.

Lines of tourists come to East Berlin on Sunday, passing slowly through a hut just beyond the wall, showing their passports. The average time spent waiting to get in is about an hour.

Some visitors walk about a block, then turn around and return to West Berlin. Others strike out for the railroad station, where the jolly taxi driver lies in wait.

He crams a couple of visitors into his battered cab — it's only five years old but looks as if it went through the war — and begins roaring down the wide, tree-lined avenues.

He points out the magnificent

Greek-style museum and church, and the former royal palace across the street. The museum is restored and open, the palace is being rebuilt, but the bombed out church is bricked up.

He passes a white-painted reviewing stand, similar to the one in Moscow's Red Square. Soviet Premier Khrushchev and German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht speak there.

He drives down Karl Marx Allee, formerly Stalin Allee. It is lined with apartments in the grotesque wedding-cake style dear to the heart of Stalin—and the buildings are crumbling already.

"Karl Marx Allee," the jolly German says. "Before Stalin Allee. Here big statue Stalin. Now down Kaput."

He points to the buildings. "Russian. Fall Down Kaput."

Then off to a street lined with tasteful, modern apartments and past an open air cafe, with strolling fidlers.

"Only rich peoples here. No Goot."

Off to the Brandenburg Gate, where a knot of American tourists has gathered to photograph a knot of American tourists on the West Berlin side.

Past the square where Hitler made his speeches, the headquarters of the Luftwaffe and the bunker where Hitler took his life.

"Here Hitler talk. There Luftwaffe. Goering. Here Hitler kaput."

Back to the border crossing point. "Check Point Charlie. Hah, hah, hah, Maybe varoom. Hah, hah, hah."

He makes motions as if to drive right through.

"Wall," he says, and points to the badly plastered wall, topped with jagged barbed wire.

"No goot," and he spits in its direction.

The performance is good for a big tip.

The Best Escape

NEW YORK (AP)—Let's take a look back along the way.

When the world is too much with us, the best escape is to recall a time when things were different.

Your memory is still hitting on all eight cylinders if you can remember when—

Movie actresses were expected to have class and stature—like Clara Kimball Young.

Shirley Temple's dimples had been seen by more people than the Grand Canyon.

People said Enrico Caruso had a voice so powerful that when he sang in a small room it would break the windows.

It was part of the act in a Chinese restaurant for the waiters to pretend they couldn't understand English well. That kind of lent the place a shuddery sense of mystery.

The only people who ate pizza pies were those just over from the old country.

Rin-Tin-Tin earned more take-home pay than Lassie.

The greatest test of a middle-aged man's athletic ability was having to climb into the upper berth of a Pullman car.

You could always achieve a sound social position in the community by playing a good game of checkers.

No husband had to bother about keeping his wife's cigarettes lit—as good women didn't smoke in public.

No woman needed more than $5 to go to the grocery store, because who could carry home that much worth of groceries?

The common man was in favor of high income taxes because he felt only the rich would ever have to pay them.

Only cowboys wore high heels.

The people in comic strips were always slipping on banana peels, or being hit by flying bricks—but they never seemed to have any emotional problems.

It cost less to spend a full year in college than it now takes to send a small, squirmy child to camp for a month in the summer.

Many high school seniors could write in Latin an essay containing fewer misspelled words than one written in English by a modern student today.

If a girl had a tan you knew she was from the country. City girls prided themselves on their milk-white complexions.

People in most small towns never locked the front door unless they were going on a long trip.

You could impress the average gathering by whipping out a snapshot of yourself taken on top of Pike's Peak. That let them know you were someone who'd really been around.

You didn't have to land on the moon to become a hero. All you had to do was stop a runaway horse single-handed.

Mumps The Result Of A Virus

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Doctor: Is there a difference between mumps and swollen glands? Is treatment the same? Are they both contagious?

Is it an old wives' tale that it hurts to drink orange juice with the mumps and not with swollen glands?—MRS. C. N.

Yes, there's a difference. With "swollen glands," we usually mean the lymph nodes, or glands, and the swelling is generally due to infection in the neck-area—a sore throat, for one. These glands are in the side of the neck.

Mumps, on the other hand, is the result of a specific virus which affects the parotid or salivary glands located forward of the ears, at the angle of the jaw.

Since causes are different, so is treatment. For swollen glands, it may be antibiotics, or removal of infected tonsils. For mumps, there is no specific treatment except to guard against complications, and to get rest and let nature drive off the virus.

It is true that anything sour will aggravate the pain of mumps, so the orange juice idea is not an old wives' tale. Sometimes eating a sour pickle can give a pretty good indication that mumps is present.

The pain will not be the same with swollen glands, although sometimes the mere act of swallowing can be painful. This should not be confused with the pain that a sour substance causes in mumps.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please send me your booklet, "The Facts About Shingles." I enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin for handling and printing.

I had two patches of rash from shingles in the sciatic nerve but thought they would go away in a couple of weeks, so I waited that long before going to a doctor. It has been eight weeks now and the rash is almost gone but the soreness hasn't left the nerve. I hope other people don't neglect going to the doctor as long as I did.—MRS. E. E. W.

It is characteristic of shingles in any location for the pain and soreness to linger well after the rash has disappeared.

Dear Dr. Molner: For migraine headaches I have been taking pills containing, among other things, phenacetin, but I feel they are not good for my heart. My family doesn't consider my headaches migraines. They claim I'm neurotic.

Our family doctor didn't treat me for the headaches. He suggested that I try a new drug to see whether it would work for me. He didn't say what drug, and I didn't consent to try it. Should I have done so?—MRS. F. D.

The drug you are taking should be used in moderation. It not only stimulates the heart but contains one ingredient that may produce kidney trouble if taken to excess.

Other drugs have been successful in easing or preventing migraines, so doubtless it is one of these that your doctor suggested trying. Follow his advice. You will be safer—and will probably make more progress—than in trying to treat yourself.

Tensions, whether neurotic or not, often trigger migraine attacks, so depend on your doctor rather than on your family for diagnosis.

Count your calories the easy way! To receive a copy of my pamphlet, "The Calorie Chart," write Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

A Journey Down Below

The highlight of Harold Canning's vacation was wholly unexpected, and it was something he long will remember.

On the way back from a swing up the West Coast and through the breathless scenery of the Canadian Rockies, he stopped in Montana to look up a nephew who was in the Air Force. While June and their son, Barry, settled down in quarters, Harold was on the phone trying to locate Lt. John Canning, only to learn that he was on duty with the Minute Men missile unit. But he kept trying and finally was able to communicate with his nephew.

THERE WAS a slight difficulty — Lt. Canning was on duty and would be for 24 hours. In addition, he was in a control room somewhere deep in the Montana terrain. He was anxious to see his relatives and told them to sit tight to see if it was possible for them to visit him, since he could not come off duty.

Quite some time later, the phone rang and he said he thought they might be able to come, and he had instructions of whom to see. From an officer, they got the necessary clearance and a drawn map to show how to get to the site.

WHEN, AFTER SOME 60 miles of travel, they got there, all they found was an unimposing small building surrounded by a heavy chain-link fence. They parked the car and got out, walked to the gate, which began to slide back.

They walked in, but still no one was in sight. Suddenly, as if out of nowhere, four guards popped up around them. They all were armed, but they said nothing. Harold produced his papers and told them of his mission. They passed around the papers; still not a word. Then a sergeant appeared, checked the papers and identification and said: "Oh, yes, we're expecting you."

WITH THAT, Harold, June and Barry were ushered to what turned out to be an elevator. The sergeant explained how to punch the buttons to work it, adding that they would be on their own since those topside were not allowed below, just as those below were not allowed topside.

Harold set the ponderous elevator in motion, and after what seemed a long time, it ground to a stop. Then a massive, solid steel door—Harold thought it was between two or three feet thick—slid back. It gave them a spooky feeling, but they stepped through the corridor, and the doors slid back. In a matter of moments they were met by his nephew.

HE AND ONE OTHER man were on duty, hovering over two sets of control panels which contained buttons which would send those intercontinental missiles roaring from their underground silos. However, it wasn't that simple. The critical buttons were protected by covers to prevent accidental pressing. Moreover, both men had to press the buttons simultaneously. Still, this would only release the deadly weapons after an interval of six hours. As an added safeguard, officers in several other underground controls would have to press their fire buttons simultaneously to send the missiles out almost instantly. The chance of a berserk firing was thus reduced to an absolute minimum.

THEY WATCHED and listened for a long time. Supper was sent down (all by its lonesome on that eerie elevator)—because they could not leave until relieved. Finally, Harold, June and Barry took their leave and rose back to the surface of the lonesome countryside with the feeling they had been through a weird dream.

'No Good War, No Bad Peace'

One of the parlor games of the Great Depression, when people didn't have the money to live it up all night in lobster palaces and clip joints, was the invention of imaginary conversations between a cast of highly unlikely characters—unlikely in temperament, training and time.

Recently, I have been willing away idle minutes in an imaginary conversation between such disparate persons as Benjamin Franklin, the Founding Father's Founding Father, and Dr. Edward Teller.

FRANKLIN, whose stature continues to grow through the years and whose reputation for wisdom only increases, wrote to Josiah Quincy in September, 1773, "There never was a good war or a bad peace."

I fear the good Dr. Franklin would have a tough time with Dr. Teller and his school of thought, a group that seems far more frightened by the prospects of a nuclear peace than a nuclear war.

Dr. Teller's business is nuclear war and his expertise is not in question. Nor am I unconscious of the gratitude the nation owes him for his perfection of the hydrogen bomb. But, still, Dr. Teller's business is nuclear war, and from his Senate testimony against the test-ban treaty, I gather that he demands business as usual.

ONLY THE building of ever bigger and more beautiful bombs can save us from the hideous terrors of peace, as I read

Dr. Teller's testimony.

How much more sublime, how much more worthy of a great nation, to live always in fear of nuclear annihilation than to live in constant dread of peace!

DR. TELLER earnestly warns the American people of what the populace realizes only too well—that the Russians can break the test ban as cynically as they broke the test moratorium. The American people are not fools; no one is more aware than they that the Russians could and would break the test ban if they thought it to Russian advantage.

But millions and millions of Americans also know that if no effort is ever made to control nuclear armament, and nuclear testing in the atmosphere continues to pour strontium-90 into the air and into our children's milk, then we occupy a death house from which relieve grows less and less likely.

THERE IS, in fact, no ultimate weapon, and there never will be. There can never be an ultimate weapon as long as the Dr. Tellers are around, begging to be permitted to stir up one more batch of death.

The test-ban treaty is a gamble, all right. But the alternative is an even bigger gamble.

It is quite possible that the choice is between peace in our time or no time at all.

The Treaty And The Military Mind

WASHINGTON—Secrecy in Washington is never leak-proof, but a reporter must satisfy his conscience that in revealing hush-hush testimony he is not giving information to the enemy. With that restriction in mind, I think it enlightening to report the tenor of Gen. LeMay's dialogue in his closed door session with the Preparedness Subcommittee.

LEMay and THE other Joint Chiefs of Staff were called separately and individually to the White House, a day or so after the Moscow signing of the Nuclear Treaty. They were told that their opinions on the treaty must be based upon both military and political considerations. The legal basis for asking military men to make political judgments lies in Chapter 5, paragraph D(8), of the fundamental Defense Department statute and it reads: "... The Joint Chiefs shall ... perform such other duties as the President or Secretary of Defense may prescribe."

ON THIS BROAD authority, LeMay was instructed to think politically, but he was then turned over to State Department briefers to be told what to think. He was told that among the major political results expected to flow from the Treaty were (a) widening the Sino-Soviet rift and (b) achieving a world-wide détente, or relaxation of tensions, between the U.S.A. and the U.S.S.R.

LeMay told the Preparedness Subcommittee that he didn't believe either of these results would follow the treaty ratification. That is, he remained unconvinced by whatever proof the State Department offered him. The Air Force Chief of Staff later told the Fulbright Committee in open hearing that, had the Treaty not been already signed, he would have opposed it wholeheartedly rather than accept it, as he did, with misgivings.

WHAT MISGIVINGS? LeMay disbelieves, as does Edward Teller, Secretary McNamara's stated optimism that the U.S.A. has nuclear superiority and can maintain it under the treaty. The McNamara opinion is not based on technical knowledge of Russian nuclear power. It is based on intelligence estimates. This means we take the little that is known about Russian discoveries and then extrapolate this material to reach some conclusions. When asked what if these conclusions were faulty in the wrong direction, the burly LeMay, with his expressive voice and manner said:

"School's out!"

THERE, IN BRIEF, is why LeMay and others are skeptical of a treaty which proposes a limited disarmament on the basis of intelligence estimates. Our policy makers, on whom the President relies, are not good at "evaluation and assessment." They have a "disciplined ... to believe ... the ominous portent." They adopt "the most optimistic estimate possible" and this habit is "in sharp contrast to the military practice."

Underestimating the enemy is the cardinal sin in military strategy. When we did it last year, the Russians moved into Cuba in such force that we dare not try to dislodge them. If we underestimate this year on the matter of Russia's nuclear potential, "School's out!"

THAT'S THE OPINION, not of a newsman, but of our foremost military airman, Gen. Curtis LeMay, and of other military men who are less outspoken.

Billy Graham

You said that when anyone becomes a Christian they should give up sinful pleasures. What are sinful pleasures? I.P.

Anything which comes between you and Christ. It is not for me to be specific because this is a matter between you and your Lord and one which you can easily settle if you are willing to let Him have His way. When a specific issue arises ask God to show you His will. There are several questions you should ask your own heart: Does this keep me from a sense of Christ's presence and blessing? Is it something where I would invite and welcome His holy presence? Is it a place to which I can ask Him to go with me? After participating in this, do I have a feeling that He has been with me all the way? If the answer to these questions is "No" then you should give the habit, or whatever it is, up. Another question you should ask: Does it harm my body, or does it harm my Christian influence with others? There are some things which may be perfectly lawful but which are inexpedient because my participation affects others. The Apostle Paul said he would even forego eating meat if eating meat would offend a weak Christian brother. If you honestly want the answer to your question ask God and He will surely show you what to do.

How Far With Integration?

WASHINGTON—What really is meant by the word "integrationist" or "segregationist"? These terms are widely used nowadays, but accurate definitions are lacking and there is a good deal of carelessness displayed in using them.

Is an "integrationist," for instance, someone who believes in intermarriage of the races, and is everyone who doesn't favor intermarriage to be labeled a "segregationist"?

SOME LIGHT is thrown on the subject by Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. He was interviewed the other day on a TV program on WOR, called "Ladies of the Press." Naturally, he was asked about intermarriage as a part of the "civil rights" program. He replied:

"Well, we've moved into that area some time ago. We have secured, for example, the repeal of a number of laws that formerly existed in some of the other states."

"THIS IS A continuing program of ours on which we do not place high priority and, therefore, it isn't pursued with intensity—but it is pursued. Our basic feeling is that there must be no legal interference with two persons who wish to get married, and especially ought there be no interference on the basis of race and color."

"Where such laws exist, this places a Negro woman, for example, at a distinct disadvantage because she does not have recourse to the ordinary social protections that are inherent in the marriage statutes and in the paternity statutes, and so forth."

WHAT MR. WILKINS says, in effect, is that intermarriage is included within the concept of "equal rights" in the "civil rights" program. Hence, it is an essential part of what is termed "integration," at least on the constitutional side. If, under state law, it is a violation of "equal rights" for a hotel to refuse to receive two male Negroes, it would be a violation of the same rule to turn down a Negro and a white who are married and ask for hotel accommodations.

How many of those who proudly proclaim themselves "integrationists" would accept the intermarriage thesis? Some would concede that it is theoretically a violation of constitutional rights for states to impose any barriers against intermarriage of the races. But could any of these defenders of the doctrine then be regarded as "segregationists" if they objected to intermarriage?

Theodore Francis Green Has Fooled Doctors Again

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Theodore Francis Green, the oldest man ever to serve in Congress, has fooled the doctors again and returned to his home overlooking downtown Providence.

Green, 95, retired from the Senate 2½ years ago.

Since then, he has twice been rushed to the hospital in critical condition, lingered on the danger list for weeks, then rallied and gone home.

Green doesn't give interviews, but his longtime secretary and administrative assistant, Edward J. Higgins, says his boss' day is a busy one.

Green gets up around 8 a.m., Higgins said, and has breakfast in his room. Around 10, he goes downstairs and starts reading the newspapers.

HEAVY LOAD
 He also deals with a heavy load of correspondence, reads many books and magazines and watches television—especially news and public affairs programs.

"The secret of longevity is moderation," Green once said. "I don't get worried and I don't get excited. It would take more or less of a bomb to upset me."

When he left the Senate, Green had served 24 years, and was the oldest man to serve in Congress. He was three months past his 93rd birthday.

"I didn't have my health given to me," Green once said. "I acquired it."

As a child, Green suffered attacks of pleurisy, malaria and pneumonia which left him too weak to go to school.

Determined to become physically fit, he achieved robustness

BUZ SAWYER

HEY, CHRISTY! WHERE ARE WE?
BUON GIORNO!
NERO! LUIGI! MARIA! NOW I REMEMBER!
THE PARTY! WE SPENT THE NIGHT!
HIYA, BUS, OLE BOY! YOU LIKE A SCRAMBLE EGG, YES? COFFEE?

GASOLINE ALLEY

Slim just brought it in, Dr. Fuddle!
"Cattle and their Diseases-1908." My word!
Is it worth more than a dime?
No hidden pocket-no $250! Here's an inscription-"Hiram Haymaker, May, 1908."
It's another copy of the same book!
A very energetic book salesman must have hit this town back in 1908!
At least one mystery is solved! It's not red and it's not green. It's blue!
You owe me for ten books!

NANCY

I HAVE A STIFF NECK
WERE YOU DOWNTOWN LOOKING AT THE TALL BUILDINGS?
NOPE
WERE YOU LOOKING UP AT AIRPLANES?
NO--- I JUST ATE TWO PLATES OF SPAGHETTI

LIL' ABNER

EAT THIS GREAT BIG BOTTLE CAP OF STEW!
WHO CAN EAT?
INSTEAD OF GIVING ME A MEDAL FOR SHRINKING EVERYONE--THEY THREW ME OUT OF THE WHITE HOUSE!
THEN YOU DIDN'T GET A CHANCE TO TELL "HIM" ABOUT THE SECOND STEP?
NO!-- AND IT'LL HAPPEN IN ONE HOUR!! OH, BOY-- WONT "HE" BE SURPRISED THEN!!

BLONDIE

THERE'S SMOKE COMING FROM DASWOODS DESK DRAWER!
QUICK-- THE FIRE EXTINGUISHER
STOP-- MR. DITHERS!
YOU PUT OUT MY HOT CORNED-BEEF SANDWICH!

ORPHAN ANNIE

OH, HARRY WOLF! YOU'RE BACK, SAFE AND SOUND! DID YOU SEE THE OLD FRIEND YOU HOPED COULD HELP YOU?
SURE DID, MRS. KATE! NOBODY IS GOING TO ROB OUR PEOPLE THIS TIME!
CAN'T PIN A THING ON TH' LILY WHITE SENATOR!
HOW ABOUT DOWN JUST THAT PIN-A LILY ON HIS CHEST?
YEAH! BUT SUPPOSING THAT COLLEGE INJUN HAD A BAD "ACCIDENT"?
WITH HIM OUT, WE COULD MOVE IN, SENATOR OR NO SENATOR!
MY THINKING EXACTLY, BUT IT MUST BE A CLEAN JOB!

SNUFFY SMITH

WHAT ON AIRTH ARE YE BELLERIN' ABOUT, JUGHAD?
I GOT A DRETFUL BAD PAIN IN MY STUMMICK, UNK SNUFFY.
--AN' I FEEL ALL SWIMMY IN TH' HAID AN' MY FEET ARE COLDER'N ICE-SUCKLES AN'-- YE CAUGHT THAT SAME BUG LAST YEAR
TH' WEEK AFORE SCHOOL STARTED

KERRY DRAKE

SOL, YOU WISH TO SEE US ALL SIT IN THE ELECTRIC CHAIR, EH?
ROBBIE! YOU LIED TO ME!
YOU SAID I SHOULD MAKE A FOOL OF 'BOOTS' FERRELL. CON HIA INTO PUTTING ME IN HIS WILL FOR A PIECE OF THE CLUB-- THEN SIT BACK AND WAIT FOR HIS BUM TICKER TO FINISH HIM!
BUT YOU DIDN'T WANT... AND I WANT NO PART OF MURDER!

BETLE BAILEY

LOOK AT THIS NEW GLOBE, YOU CAN FEEL THE MOUNTAINS AND RIVERS
GOLLY, THEY SURE ARE MAKING THEM REALISTIC THESE DAYS
LOOK! HERE'S MOSCOV
YOU MUST HAVE PRESSED TOO HARD-- NEW YORK JUST BLEW UP!

Pros Fire Two All-Americans

By The Associated Press
Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy and Sandy Stephens, All-Americans in their college days, have received their walking papers as pros.

Cassidy, who won the Heisman Trophy in 1955 as the top college player while at Ohio State, was placed on waivers by the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League as the American pros reached a mandatory cut-down date.

Stephens, All-America quarterback at Minnesota in 1961, was dropped by the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League with the Als paying him for the remainder of his three-year no-cut contract.

"Bluntly, we're paying him off," said Dan Pickett, director of the Alouettes' player development. Stephens signed a $70,000 contract in 1962 and has two years to go.

He was unimpressive as a rookie last season and was benched as overweight in the Alouettes third game of the season last week.

Cassidy, 29, a six-year-NFL veteran with Detroit, Cleveland and the Eagles, played 10 games with Philadelphia as a split end last season before he was sidelined with a broken right leg. He has played only a few minutes in Philadelphia exhibitions this season and his release apparently means that Baylor rookie Ronnie Goodwin has won the job.

He was the best known player to get the ax as the NFL and American Football League make their cuts, the NFL teams cutting their rosters to 43, the AFL to 38.

PAT WASHBURN'S Sports Round Table

GARDEN CITY—Jack Woodley has bright red hair that stands out like a wallflower at a dance. It's so noticeable that a mention of it always draws a smile. He's also disarmingly informal—he dresses casually, talks with an unburied drawl, and he's constantly got a genuine grin. He seems to be made of cheerful optimism and when it comes to the Garden City Bears and football, he's honestly personified.

"I feel like we're going to be a contender for the district title until someone beats us," he said Monday sinking his 275, 285-pounds comfortably into a chair. "I'm not going to throw in the towel until the final score shows us on the losing end of the game. We came in fourth in the district last year out of five teams but we'll definitely be stronger this fall. If we can beat Grandfalls in our first district game we'll be over the big hump."

District championships don't come easy. Garden City will be no exception this fall. The biggest blow is the loss of starting quarterback, EARL FLAGENS, for the first month of the season. Flagens lost part of one finger and mangled a second badly in pulling his brother loose from a combine. Although Woodley expects Flagens to return to top form again despite the finger the vacant hole isn't going to be easy to fill in the interval.

"We had our offense built around Flagens and that's what really hurts," Woodley said and for once he wasn't smiling. "It'll also weaken us on defense. He's one of our best pass defenders. He'll be back by the time we play our first district game but the experience he'll miss in earlier games is invaluable."

"I've moved two boys up who are trying out for the spot. One of them is Gary Pagan, a junior halfback who stands 6'4" and weighs 210 pounds. He was an All-District boy last year and our leading rusher. He was a quarterback when he was a freshman so he's had some experience. He'll do a good job but I just hate to move him from halfback when he's such a good runner."

Pagan, who is one of the co-captains of the 1963 squad, will be one of the outstanding players in the district. He's got good speed—he's been timed in the high 10's in the 100-yard dash—and has the power necessary to make valuable yards in a line plunge. Once he reaches the secondary he's hard to stop.

"The other boy we have been trying out for the vacant position is a sophomore center, TERRY FIELDS. He has had no previous experience at throwing the ball and he's got a lot to learn. But he's coming along fine." The smile returned.

Despite quarterbacking problems, Garden City will be tough. With Pagan leading the way, Woodley has 10 returning lettermen, five of them starters. DENNIS SEIDENBERGER, the other co-captain, is another junior halfback who made the honorable mention All-District team in 1962.

Although he's only 5'7", 145-pounds, he has the speed of a sprinter (he was the district winner in the 100-yard dash last year). He's a dependable ball carrier who usually picks up the necessary yards. Woodley rates him the best blocker on the team. Other starters besides Fields are RILEY CHANDLER, a sophomore end, and VERNON NEWSOM, a sophomore guard. There's only one senior among the 18 boys on the team.

"Although we'll be good we could be stronger," Woodley said. "We're still pretty young and we need experience. We'll run probably two formations this year—the split-T and the straight-T. We'll have speed as well as some boys who can catch the ball so we'll use a combination attack evenly balanced on running and passing."

The district shapes up this way, in Woodley's mind:

"Grandfalls is the team to beat. They're big and they have a lot of boys to pick from. One night last year I counted 32 boys on their bench. They're not exceptionally fast but they didn't lose a lot and that's what's going to make them tough."

"Forsan is going to be good again this year. This boy, Kenneth Sales, that they have is real good, both as a runner and a passer. They'll have primarily speed."

"I'll always respect Sterling City just because of their coach, J. R. DILLARD. They're real small but they'll hustle you right off the field until the final whistle. They're likely to surprise somebody. Imperial lost some boys and it won't be too good until some of its younger players get some experience."

The Garden City schedule:

Sept. 6—at Loop; Sept. 13—Wellman here; Sept. 20—Open; Sept. 27—at Gail; Oct. 4—Barstow here, (homecoming); Oct. 11—Symer here; Oct. 18—at Grandfalls (C); Oct. 25—at Jayton; Nov. 1—Imperial here (C); Nov. 8—at Sterling City (C); Nov. 15—Forsan here (C). (C) denotes conference game.

dropped by the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League with the Als paying him for the remainder of his three-year no-cut contract.

Local Lineup All But Set

Barring an upset of major proportions, the Big Spring lineup for Friday's Fins-Coden Cup matches at the Country Club is set.

Bill Craig of Colorado City will play on the local squad. The champion of the annual invitational tournament is awarded a year's honorary membership in the club, which is the reason Craig qualifies for the team.

As of now, the team will line up like this (players listed with 72-hole qualifying scores): Jimmy Patterson, 283; Tommy Wilkerson, 289; Bernard Raina, 290; Daryle Hobertz, 290; Charles Bailey, 291; Frank Powell, 293; Son Powell, 296; and Jody Thompson, 297.

Eddie Don Harris is the local captain and, as such, is exempt from qualifying.

Thompson was a surprise challenger for a spot on the team. He finished with a one-under par 70 after piecing together previous of 75-78-74.

The Powells are one of the few father-son combinations ever to rate the team. Frank is the junior member of the tandem. He teamed with Fort Worth's Frank Montgomery to win the first annual Big Spring Open back in June.

Marvin Williams and Rickie Terry still have remote chances to rate the squad. Each needs nine holes to get in their required 72 holes of play.

The matches take place starting about 1 p.m. Friday. Dewey Burkhart of Midland, visiting captain, picked his squad from Midland players.

A total of 104 players had entered the 32nd annual Big Spring Invitational, which will be held in conjunction with the cup matches. The meet extends through Monday and the winner will be determined in medal competition. Play will extend over 72 holes after qualifying rounds are completed.

Championship contenders will go 36 holes the final day.

Championship flight players will use the yellow tee markers, pro Jerry Green reminded. The others will tee off from the red markers.

Mays Hot But Giants Are Still On Yo-Yo

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Willie Mays has the world on a string, but that hasn't kept the San Francisco Giants from riding a yo-yo in that National League pennant race.

Mays became the 10th major leaguer to reach the 400-homer level when he connected in the third inning Tuesday night, triggering a homer salvo that powered the Giants to a 7-2 victory over St. Louis and into a second-place tie with the Cardinals.

Both the Giants and Cardinals are 6½ games back of pacesetter Los Angeles. The Dodgers, who have held the top spot without interruption since July 2, edged Cincinnati 3-2 as Frank Howard slugged a key two-run homer.

Mays has been trying to keep the Giants within striking distance, but the defending champions have been going up-and-down with such regularity that they actually have lost ground while Willie has hit safely in 27 of 28 games.

On July 28, Willie was hitting 274 with 22 homers and 55 runs batted in. Since then he has hit 10 homers, driven in 31 runs and brought his average up to .308—and the Giants have fallen from 4½ back to 6½ behind.

While Willie was collecting his 32nd homer, Hank Aaron took over the league lead from the Giants' Willie McCovey. Aaron hit his 35th and Warren Spahn posted his 17th victory in Milwaukee's 3-2 decision over Houston. Elsewhere, the Chicago Cubs

Kirby Atwell Leads Texas Qualifiers In Amateur

By The Associated Press
Kirby Atwell of Houston led 12 qualifiers for the National amateur golf tournament in sectional qualifying at two sites in Texas Tuesday.

Atwell's 71-70—141, one under par for the River Oaks Country Club course, was three strokes better than the 144 W. Clayton Cole of Monroe, La., shot in leading qualifiers at Dallas.

Seven qualified at Dallas: Brook Hollow Golf Club. Five got into the national amateur, scheduled for Des Moines Sept. 9-14, in qualifying at Houston.

The Texas qualifiers:
At Houston — Kirby Atwell, Houston, 71-70—141; Homero

Biancas, Houston, 71-71 — 142; James Thompson, Mission, 75-69—144; Ted Hale, Houston, 74-72—146; Mark Hopkins, Houston 74-75—159.

At Dallas — W. Clayton Cole, Monroe, La., 71-73—144; Mike Andrade, Dallas, 73-73—146; Dan Murphy, Texarkana, Ark., 78-68—146; John Farquhar, Amarillo, 73-73—146; Dick Murphy, Texarkana, Ark., 75-72—147; Bill Garrett, Wichita Falls, 77-71—148; Rives McBeen, Denton, 75-73—148.

At Houston seven holes were required in a sudden death play-off to decide the fifth spot. Hopkins won out over Ford Hubbard of Houston, after they tied at 149.

DEAR ABBY

Problem Of Mama's Boy

DEAR ABBY: I am a member of that long-suffering group which I call the GWSOC—"Girls Who Married Somebody's Only Child." I have learned to endure Mama's references to "My Baby" (now gray-haired and 44) I let her cook the way she wants to when she visits us. I even laugh it off when she forgets and calls me by my husband's ex-wife's first name. But she still insists on asking personal questions about our finances such as, "How much are you making now? Did you get a raise? Is your car paid for yet? What else do you owe?" She doesn't help us financially, (in fact we help her) so must we answer her questions?

QUIZ KID'S DAUGHTER-IN-LAW
DEAR D-I-L: Certainly not. Tell her in a nice way that there is no reason why she should have to worry about your financial obligations in addition to her own.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have enjoyed a wonderful friendship with a married couple for over 30 years. They are living on a limited budget, so when I had a big family party to celebrate our anniversary, I did not invite them because I didn't want them to spend the money for a gift. Ever since that time they have been very cool and formal to me. I would give anything to have their friendship again as it was before. Was I wrong to exclude them from a party to which a gift should be taken? How can I let them know I am heartbroken over this?

AN OLD FRIEND
DEAR FRIEND: You should have invited them and have let them decide whether or not they could afford a gift. Go to them and tell them you are sorry.

DEAR ABBY: The 14-year-old who wrote of her disgust at seeing sex books and magazines everywhere brought a good reply from you. (To turn her gaze to higher and better things, and to seek good books, wholesome friends and spiritual learning.) There is a lot of good around. What we seek usually determines what we experience. As parents, we should work to clean up our local stores of this immoral rubbish. How? By shopping elsewhere! We may have to walk a little further, but it is worth it. The merchant who takes a stand against the sale of such trash deserves our support. Find out who he is, and reward him with your patronage.

Governor Calls For Program Of Prevention

LONGVIEW (AP)—Gov. John Connally called Tuesday for a well defined program of crime prevention in which state and local authorities would work more effectively.

He urged also that the schools be included in such a program, adding that any steps taken without the active and continuous assistance of the schools will fall far short.

He spoke to the East Texas Peace Officers Association.

Connally warned, however, that no matter what kind of program might be developed, that the most effective means of implementing it would still remain with the local officer.

State Sen. Jack Strong of Longview, said he strongly endorsed a comprehensive and adequately staffed juvenile parole and probation system. He said he strongly supported the publication of names of juvenile offenders as "both just and a strong deterrent."

County Judge R. E. Blount rapped the patronage emanating from Washington. He said that despite President Kennedy's election promises, he had added more than 100,000 federal employees since taking office.

Spanish Are Learning About Labor Unions

MADRID (AP)—About 300,000 Spaniards are working abroad—and many are learning about labor unions. Far-reaching changes in the labor picture here may be the eventual result.

"Unemployment in Spain—virtually has disappeared because of the continuing drain of labor into other and more prosperous areas of Western Europe," an expert said this week.

So long as the European labor market remains strong—and there is as yet no sign of a serious break in Germany, Italy, or France—Spain's labor problems are likely to remain minor.

At least half these Spanish workers are employed in Germany. The rest are in France, Switzerland, Britain, Holland, Belgium and Italy. Were all these workers to come home suddenly Spain would have problems of employment, housing, and social support. They now send home remittances averaging $100 million a year.

Spain has under-employment, especially in the agricultural sector.

The labor picture is far from healthy. The syndicates, a strange combination of labor, management and government, have been ineffective in solving labor disputes, once they reached the status of strikes.

Workers are forbidden to strike. The penal code provides prison terms of 12 years for striking. The basic labor law forbids workers to conspire or agree to halt national production on pain of arrest and imprisonment.

Yet for the past month hundreds of Asturias coal miners have been idle. Not more than a handful have been arrested and these for causes other than striking.

During last year's wave of strikes—far more general than those on at present—the government agreed not to use arrest and trials as weapons to solve labor disputes.

Former Mayor Is Fined $5,000

DALLAS (AP)—A former mayor of Sonora was fined $5,000 and placed on probation for two years after he pleaded guilty to making false statements on his income tax return.

Gay Copeland, received the sentence from U.S. Dist. Judge Joe Estes. The case was transferred here from San Angelo.

Copeland, a rancher, airplane enthusiast and civic leader, admitted he understated his income from his Sonora-based flying service by $6,000 on his 1958 tax return.

Opening lead: Jack of ♠ Considerable caution was required of South in the management of his game contract in today's hand, and he revealed that there was more than one string to his bow.

Against the three no trump contract, West opened the jack of hearts from his complete sequence. The lead was ducked to East's king, and the latter continued with the seven of hearts which South took with the queen.

If the clubs split in the expected three-two manner, declarer saw that he would have 10 fast tricks. In order to run the suit, he would have to clear the king and queen from his hand and then use dummy's ace of hearts as an entry to cash the remaining clubs. The only objection to this line of play was that, if clubs failed to break, South would find himself in the dummy for the first and last time. It might then be too late to start development of the spades.

Presently he found a way to give himself a chance to test both suits, and all he paid for the privilege was a mere over-trick. He cashed the king of clubs and then played the queen, overtaking with dummy's ace. If clubs were three-two, he intended to concede a trick to the opponents in order to establish the suit. This would still give him five clubs which together with two heart tricks and the diamond and spade aces add up to the required nine.

When East failed on the second club, the wisdom of South's play became apparent, for it was now revealed that the club suit would not have run in any event. The lead was in dummy so that South could play the jack of spades with the knowledge that, even if East failed to cover the jack, the ace of hearts would provide a reentry later on to repeat the spade finesse. When the spade honors divided and the suit split evenly, declarer was able to develop four spade tricks, enough to bring his total to nine.

Had South taken what appeared to be the easy course and banked everything on the club suit, he would have been unable to make his contract against correct defense.

Papa Doc Has Wide Variety Of Terrors Loose In Haiti

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—Haitian roulette is more complicated but no less deadly than his Russian counterpart. Suppose you drive by the heavily guarded national palace at night on four very bad tires.

"If you have a blowout," explained a Haitian businessman, "it's the end. The explosion will draw a barrage of fire from every trigger-happy guard on duty."

Even if apocryphal, the account of this new local sport serves to dramatize two facts of life in the Haiti of dictator Francois (Papa Doc) Duvalier:

1. Very real fear of a blowout in front of the palace is only one of many varieties of terror flourishing here.

2. The main force of this terror is the palace, the arsenal-fortress which Papa Doc, in a bizarre pact with his sense of historic mission, has pledged to turn into a "Himalaya of bodies, rivers of blood" in any attempt to depose him.

Two small invasions by anti-Duvalier armed bands this month resulted in a wave of reprisals here and in the interior demonstrating that Papa Doc is not making idle threats.

Scores are believed to have been killed or imprisoned—where death sometimes is the only parole—on suspicion of disloyalty. Operating in the invasion area, Duvalier's special security corps, the Tonton Macoutes, are said to have hurled hand grenades into homes of those thought to have even smiled at rebels.

There were reports of executions of officers and civilians in the ill-famed prison of Ft. Dimanche. These new victims are only a fraction of those thought to have paid with their lives or limbs for real or imagined lack of faith in Duvalier since he came to power in 1957.

Political reprisal business became so brisk in his time that Duvalier converted the basement section of the National Palace and the one-time military barracks at Ft. Dimanche into special prisons equipped with torture cells.

Here and in the National Penitentiary, solitary confinement means enclosure in the "jolibois," tiny cubicles with just enough room to squat or stand hunched over. The low ceiling is sheet metal on which you can panbroil a steak in mid-day heat. A shallow pan in a corner serves the daily hygienic needs.

Survivors of these political prisons are reluctant to relate their experiences in detail.

But the northern frontier invasions by his enemies have exposed signs that Papa Doc is now a captive of the fear he exploited to stay in power.

Duvalier distrusts the army which he purposely weakened while arming his own civilian militia and Tonton Macoutes. When heavily armed terrorists mounted a spectacular attack on his forces in Port au Prince's foothills last month, the dictator

Sen. Thurmond Is Threatened

WASHINGTON (AP)—The office of Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., said Thurmond has received abusive and threatening telephone calls and reports from three states that he may be harmed because he opposes civil rights legislation.

A spokesman said the FBI has been informed, but that Thurmond himself is unconcerned.

"I am not going to be intimidated by threats, nor am I concerned about the reports of threats. I will be on the job as usual," Thurmond said.
