MAHON RESIGNS

McCloud Named
New District Judge

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Austin McCloud, 34-year-old Colorado City attorney, was appointed Saturday as judge of the 32nd Judicial District Court.

McCloud will take the seat now held by Eldon Mahon. Mahon, a native of Mitchell County, has resigned as judge. He will become associated with the Texas Electric Co. in an administrative position effective Sept. 15.

Mahon was elected to the bench at the last general election. He was district attorney of the 32nd District prior to being elevated to the bench.

Mahon said that his new position with TESCO will place him in a post directly under Beeman Fisher, the president of the company. Mahon will move his family to Fort Worth in the near future.

EARLY SATURDAY

He said he had dispatched his resignation to the governor early Saturday and the appointment of McCloud was made a short time later.

McCloud has been practicing law since 1957. He moved to Colorado City from Houston where he practiced for two years following his graduation with an LL.B. degree, cum laude, from Baylor University.

He has been a law partner in Colorado City with Harry Ratliff. He is past president of the Mitchell County Bar (1961), Jaycees (1962) and past president of the Mitchell County Heart Association. He on the official board of the First Methodist Church where he is an active member.

TWO DAUGHTERS

He was born in Edom, Texas. He is married and has two daughters. He attended high school in Lubbock and received a B.A. degree from Texas Tech before enrolling in Baylor.

Mahon was born in Loraine community and attended the Loraine schools. He is an active member of the First Methodist Church.

Mahon, now 45, became judge of the 32nd District, which includes Mitchell, Fisher and Nolan counties, after serving 13 years as district attorney for the same district. He had served a year as county attorney at the time he was appointed as district attorney for his first term in that office.

MEMURRY DEGREE

He holds a B.A. degree from McMurry College and a law degree from the University of Texas. He is a member of the board of trustees of McMurry College. He

Reviewing The Big Spring Week
With Joe Pickle

If you want to make a good investment, won't you consider a contribution to the high school Bible fund? Because tax funds may not be used for this credit course, it is dependent upon voluntary support. Nearly 100 young people are enrolled, and around $1,500 more is needed to make sure they have that opportunity this year.

We've been hit-or-miss — mostly miss — on our weather pattern. There were a couple of good chances last week, but the results were spotted. Here and there narrow belts got up to as much as an inch and a half, and quite a few places in the north half got one half to three-quarters of an inch, but the rain was anything but general.

The Herald last week went on the AP Wirephoto network, which means that we now get pictures of important news events almost at the moment they happen. With the trapped miners in Pennsylvania, the civil rights march, the potash mine explosion in Utah, we couldn't have started on a newsier week.

Schools started with the usual rush, and by the end of the week over 7,200 youngsters had reported in. Another influx is expected about Tuesday when more families get back from the late summer vacations and Labor Day holidays. Figures are running about 100 ahead of last year and officials think the peak this year will be around 7,600.

Oil interest last week shifted to Sterling County where three deep tests were announced. Chambers, Chapman & Kennedy No. 1 Foster, will seek the Wolfcamp 10 miles northwest of Sterling City. It is seven miles south of the Triple M field. Four miles southwest of the same field, Crown Petroleum No. 1 Batjer will be re-entered as a Wolfcamp try. Williamson No. 1 Atkins will be drilled 15 miles south of Sterling (See THE WEEK, P. 2-A, Col. 5) holds the Mitchell County DSC awarded to a citizen who is rated the most outstanding young man and he was named in 1955 by the Texas Law Enforcement Officers Association as one of the five most able prosecutors in the state.

Commenting on his decision to accept the new post with the utility company, Mahon said: "It has been a very high honor and a privilege to serve this district as judge and as district attorney. The people have been wonderful to me and my family and there will never be a place more dear to us than this, our home area. The decision to leave public office for private business has not been easy and has been made only after long serious consideration. It offers an opportunity that is advantageous and challenging and still provides an opportunity for service to my home area in West Texas."

HOLIDAY COUNT

Death Toll Moves
At Record Pace

By The Associated Press

Traffic fatalities were occurring Saturday at a record pace for a Labor Day holiday.

At least 164 deaths in traffic accidents were counted less than 24 hours after the start of the three-day, 78-hour weekend which began at 6 p.m. Friday (local time) and ends at midnight Monday.

The National Safety Council said the hourly rate of traffic deaths thus far was higher than during the first 24 hours of the 1962 Labor Day weekend when a record 501 deaths were reported.

The council estimated 430 to 520 lives could be lost in traffic accidents during the current holiday weekend.

Howard Pyle, council president, noted that a cause survey of the record four-day 1963 Independence Day holiday traffic toll of 557 lives showed that speed too fast for conditions figured in more than half of the fatal accidents.

It certainly still applies today. With millions of motorists on the highways for summer's last holiday, the council estimated vehicle travel would total 8.4 billion miles during the weekend, highest in history for a Labor Day holiday.

The lowest traffic toll for a Labor Day weekend was 246 in 1946. An Associated Press survey of traffic deaths during the nonholiday period from 6 p.m. Friday Aug. 16, to midnight Monday Aug. 19, showed 461 fatalities. The survey, made for comparison with the current holiday toll, also showed 13 deaths in boating accidents and 49 drownings.

The Labor Day death count began at 6 p.m. Friday, Texas time, and will continue to midnight Monday when the bulk of the holiday travel has ended.

The Labor Day traffic on the highways is heightened by vacationers returning home for the beginning of school, which will begin in most places immediately after the holiday.

The local count in Texas varies somewhat from the national count for the state, since the Texas totals include deaths from all causes. The national tabulations include only deaths from traffic and drownings.

Latest reported deaths include: Robert Smith Mead, 33, of Fort Worth died Saturday after a car struck him.

Connie Sue McCoy, 3, was killed in a traffic accident at Grand Prairie Friday night. Her mother, Mrs. Bobby McCoy, and another child were injured.

Two persons died when their car struck a utility pole in San Antonio Saturday. They were Mr. and Mrs. Juan M. Hernandez, 44 and 42.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Emil Noska, 34 and 31, were killed Saturday in a two-car collision at Bay City.

Maynard Mundine, 48, of Denison was killed early Saturday with a butcher knife. Police questioned his wife.

Early Paper
Monday

In observance of the Labor Day holiday, The Herald will be issued early Monday, and the office will be closed during the afternoon. Because of the early edition, Classified Ad "deadline" must be moved up to 9 a.m. and people wishing classified services are asked to call by that hour.

JFK Appeals
For Harmony
On Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy appealed Saturday to businessmen to back prompt tax-cut legislation and cautioned "if we quarrel over every sentence the book will never be written."

Kennedy set forth his views on taxes, the balance of payments, prices and equal economic opportunities in an article in Nation's Business, the magazine of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

He reported some improvement in the balance of payments problem but asked business to exert still more efforts to boost exports.

The President said no general price increase is justifiable, asserting "current prices cannot be looked upon as a floor—let alone as a springboard — for higher prices in the future."

The article said, in part: "Members of the business community play a vital role in maintaining and building the strength of the American economy—in converting its great potential into higher standards of living and free world leadership."

"It is to this community—guided by the free play of market forces but responsive to the national interest—that I address these thoughts on what business can do, and what government and business can do together, to achieve these common aims:

"Getting our economy back to maximum operation.
"Speeding our rate of growth.
"Improving our competitive position in world markets."

"Avoiding inflation, and
"Equalizing opportunity for all."

"These are the aims all of us share. Each group in our economy has a responsibility to take actions to help achieve them—and in so doing to help America and help themselves."

President Facing Busy Few Weeks

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — President Kennedy is going to get a lot of public exposure in the next few weeks. But a White House spokesman said Saturday it's all nonpolitical.

Within the next 10 days the President is going to be interviewed for two television network news shows, in pretaped segments marking the program's expansion from 15 minutes to a half hour.

Later in September he will swing across the country to inspect national parks and other conservation projects, visiting 10 states from Pennsylvania to the West Coast.

The trip will take the President to Pennsylvania, Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Utah, Washington, Oregon, California and Nevada.

The President is being interviewed Monday at his Squaw Island summer home by Walter Cronkite for the Columbia Broadcasting System. The interview will be taped for televising on the CBS network at 6:30 p.m. EDT, Monday night at the inauguration of the expanded half-hour show.

HEART ATTACK IN MOSCOW
FELLS BRITISH SPY BURGESS

LONDON (AP) — Guy Burgess, British Foreign Office official who fled to Russia in 1951, has died in a Moscow hospital after a heart attack, friends reported Sunday.

A message announcing his death was received Saturday by his mother, Mrs. Eve Bassett, 76. It came from Melinda Maclean, American wife of Donald Maclean, the Foreign Office security chief who defected with Burgess.

Burgess, 53, slipped out of Britain with Maclean 12 years ago and set off one of the greatest spy scandals of the cold war.

Maclean had been first secretary at the British Embassy in Washington and had worked in security in the Middle East. Together, Burgess and Maclean held a host of Anglo-American secrets.

They were tipped off by yet another defector, Harold "Kim" Philby.

Burgess was exposed as the third man in the affair this year. He vanished from Beirut in January and the British have evidence that he, too, is in the Soviet Union.

Welcome Rain
Falls Saturday

Afternoon showers Saturday provided most parts of Big Spring with half an inch or better of welcome moisture.

Few official readings were available last night but Texas Electric Service Co. switch plant gauged 44 inch in the earlier shower. An additional .06 or more fell later in the afternoon to bring the total to a half inch. A gauge in Kentwood showed half an inch and there were reports from other points in town estimating the total about the same.

The U.S. Experiment Station was closed and no report of what its gauge caught was available Friday night, but the station reported .13 inch rain was measured.

Webb AFB had only 17 inch from the showers.

Assuming the rain at the experiment station was half an inch, August is in line to wind up with about 1.25 inches. Officially the station had gauged only .86 inch through Saturday forenoon. The year's total is now 13.34 inches.

Most parts of the county have had more rain in August than Big Spring but there are some areas as dry or drier than the city itself.

Showers of Friday afternoon and night dumped 30 inch on farms near Kott and Ackery. Some farms north of Vealmoor had about the same amount.

Other communities checked Saturday morning reported only light showers from Friday's promising cloud banks.

Glasscock County fared better than Howard County Friday night. In Garden City, the gauges showed 21 inch but in the St. Lawrence community from 30 to 140 inches of rain was reported. The heaviest rain was on the Eugene Hirt farm, Bruce Hanson ranch 30 miles southwest of Garden City, reported

Diem Meets, Has Tea With Nuns

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — President Ngo Dinh Diem's government eased up on its Buddhist opposition Saturday. Saigon's main pagoda, center of Buddhist resistance, was allowed to open for the first time in 10 days and Roman Catholic president took tea with Buddhist nuns.

Amid the further easing of restrictions under martial law, U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge strolled Saigon streets unguarded in what was said to be the first such walk by an American ambassador in this sometimes violent capital.

The return of a Buddhist monk and 50 shaven-headed nuns in dingy purple robes to the Xa Loi pagoda from their river-front prison coincided with a tightly controlled demonstration the Diem government marshaled in its own behalf in front of the U.S. Information Agency in downtown Saigon.

Cheerleaders led scattered applause for motions expressing support for Diem, his government, the army, national unity and the martial law imposed at the height of the Buddhist crisis last week.

There was applause, too, for denunciations of all anti-government actions and "people who have exploited religion for the benefit of the Communists."

The government claimed more than 200,000 Vietnamese turned out to shout support of the Diem regime, but best estimates placed the crowd at under 60,000.

FRIENDLY CROWD
The figure was amiable but not overwhelming in its fervor, and the demonstration obviously was less a success than the government had hoped. But there was no indication that Diem and his family have lost their grip on the nation, despite their current Viet Nam's chief ally in a war against Viet Cong Communist guerrillas.

U.S. officials reinforced the Marine guard at the U.S. Information Agency building and Americans were requested to remain indoors throughout the two-hour demonstration, but there were no incidents.

Now was there anything more than surprise during Lodge's stroll along Saigon's main boulevard with only his wife and 15 foreign newsmen.

Startled Vietnamese policemen snapped to attention and saluted the ambassador. Troops standing guard at intersections near the presidential palace tilted their helmets as Lodge passed. Some who apparently recognized Lodge stared at him with open mouths.

A Vietnamese civil servant called Lodge's stroll "revolutionary."

OPEN SOCIETY
Lodge's walk was considered a demonstration of his belief in an open society in which national leaders should be as close to the people as possible. Diem and his family are criticized frequently as too aloof, for they rarely have contact with the Vietnamese people.

Diem visited the Tu Nghiem pagoda, another Buddhist resistance center, and drank tea with nuns there. The government-controlled press said the nuns were "deeply moved" by Diem's visit, an apparent peace gesture toward the Buddhist leadership.

The opening of the Xa Loi pagoda under the watchful eyes of Vietnamese troops brought to light bloody evidence of the government crackdown on Buddhists several days ago, when police and troops with rifles and bayonets raided pagodas and hauled Buddhist monks and nuns off to prison.

Western newsmen permitted inside the pagoda briefly saw blood-stained clothes, bullet-pocked walls, holes left by grenade explosions and the tail fin of a rifle grenade.

OFF TOWER
"They (the soldiers) dragged us out into the courtyard and we heard many screams from our monks upstairs," one nun recalled. Another said two monks were thrown off a tall bell tower.

The nuns bore cuts and bruises. Business practically came to a standstill in the heart of Saigon for the two hours of the pro-Diem demonstration, staged on a square at the intersection of several boulevards.

The preparations, including installation of banners and loudspeakers, led U.S. officials to strengthen military guards at the information agency and the American bachelor officers quarters facing the square. They ordered Americans to stay indoors because of a possibility of trouble.

But, amid martial music, it all passed peacefully.

Most of the cheers came from the front rows of blue-clad, pro-government youth groups. Many of the demonstrators smiled and chatted, apparently paying little attention.

So far as could be determined, no appreciable numbers of students participated. More than 2,000 students were arrested recently after denouncing the government's moves against the Buddhist leaders, who claimed their goals were religious freedom and social justice.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Asst. Secretary of State Roger Hilsman, a key figure in Far Eastern policy making, canceled plans Saturday to visit Japan this week in order to remain in close touch with the developing crisis in South Viet Nam.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk conferred on the crisis with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, presidential assistant MacGeorge Bundy, Hilsman and other officials.

U.S. leaders were reported fearful that if the political crisis in South Viet Nam continues unresolved for too long a time it will begin to upset the U.S.-supported Vietnamese war against Communist guerrillas.

At the same time responsible authorities here discounted news reports that a military coup against the government of President Ngo Dinh Diem was imminent.

There is a growing belief among well-informed officials that the crisis may be dragged out for days or even weeks, even though the United States, on which the Saigon government is dependent for support, has repeatedly made clear its dissatisfaction with that government's policies and particularly its handling of Buddhist opposition.

Early last week the United States was outspokenly critical of widespread arrests of Buddhist leaders and the attack on them and their pagodas which were characterized by officials here as brutal.

Search For Bova Still On
HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—Drillers kept doggedly at their task of driving shafts deep into the earth Saturday, hopeful that their fresh efforts will reveal the whereabouts of the trapped coal miner, Louis Bova.

The renewed attempts to locate Bova, 34, entombed Aug. 13, more than 100 feet underground, along with David Fellin, 38, and Henry Throne, 38, came after Friday night's failure to find him in the chamber from which the others were rescued last Tuesday.

Andrew Drebitko, 36, a miner from Pottsville, Pa., who volunteered for the job, was lowered down the 308-foot escape shaft to identify what some on the surface thought might be Bova's body, crouched against a wall. That impression was quipped from a study of pictures picked up by a remote control television camera lowered into the chamber.

Drebitko, whose identity was a carefully guarded secret until he was raised from the shaft, reported that what some suspected to be the body of Bova actually was a 12-inch-wide plastic and metal plug used in the rescue of Fellin and Throne. It prevented earth and rock from falling on them as the original 12-inch hole into their chamber was reamed wider.

Drillers now pin their hopes mainly on a 22-inch-wide shaft about 10 feet from the hole that made the Fellin-Throne rescue possible.

Gordon Smith, deputy state secretary of mines, said another volunteer may go down the 22-inch hole, perhaps about 6 p.m. Sunday.

BORDEN VOTES 144-0

Vealmoor Patrons Vote
39-21 For Annexation

Howard County lost its last common school Saturday.

Voters of Vealmoor and Borden County wholeheartedly endorsed a proposal to consolidate the two districts. When the county commissioners courts in Howard and Borden counties have canvassed the votes and found them to be correct, Vealmoor will cease to exist as a school district.

The combined vote on consolidation was 183 for consolidation and 21 against consolidation.

The 21 votes opposing the plan were all cast in the Vealmoor district. Borden County voters balloted 144 to 0 in favor of the proposal. There were 39 voters in Vealmoor who endorsed the consolidation.

This was the second time in two years that a consolidation proposal has been laid before the Vealmoor patrons. The other was defeated by three votes. The proposal at that time was to consolidate the district with Sands Independent School District. In that election, the vote in the Sands territory was top-heavy for the consolidation. The three-vote majority against the plan came in the Vealmoor district.

Howard County voters were cast at the Vealmoor school. Mrs. Juanita Edwards, judge of the election, said that the vote was fairly heavy for the district.

The Borden County vote was cast in six voting precincts. Results of voting: Precinct No. 1, Borden County Courthouse, 53-0; Precinct No. 0, Billy Willis residence, near Ackery, 11-0; Precinct No. 4, Ralph Miller residence, near Fluvanna, 6-0; Precinct No. 6, Plains School, on the road to O'Donnell, 37-0. Precinct No. 9, Murphy School, north side of the lake, 22-0. Precinct No. 11, Willow Valley School, south side of the lake, 13-0. Total, 144 for, 0 against.

Vealmoor School, with approximately 49.5 square miles of territory and value for tax purposes at $4,500,000, was the last surviving common school district in Howard County. Sixty years ago, there were 28 such districts operating in this county.

DOLLAR DAY
TUESDAY

Because of the Labor holiday, September Dollar Day occurs Tuesday in Big Spring, with most stores participating in a giant value carnival. Dollar Day offerings will be found in ads of today and Monday.

'The Freighter'

Local Artist Restores Paintings By Caylor

By KATHLEEN DOZIER
Harvey Caylor, who spent much of his lifetime in Big Spring, is considered by historians and critics as one of the great artists of the Southwest. While living here, Caylor captured on canvas the true spirit of West Texas — its vastness, its conquest and settlement. Most of his paintings depicted wildlife of the area for which he had a great appreciation.

Caylor's paintings are owned by a select and fortunate few. Among them is Adm. John Quinn, U.S. Washington, D. C., a Big Spring native. While here on a recent visit, Adm. Quinn commissioned Mrs. Myrtle Lee to restore eight of his valuable Caylor paintings.

The restoration of beauty and the preservation of history is presently underway at Mrs. Lee's home and studio, 1311 Park, where several years ago she carried out the restoration of "Stamped" by Caylor. "Faded with her task, Mrs. Lee says, 'It is delightful to feast on the grounds from the brush of such a genius painter of nature. The spirit of the early West will live historically as long as the artist lived at his Main Street home, which, in his late years, was sold along with many of his paintings to Mrs. Tom Quinn, Adm. Quinn's mother."

NATURE TEACHERS
Caylor's work, now classed along with Frederic Remington and Charles Russell, captured the sunsets, beautiful, turbulent clouds, ranch life, open range country and the wild life. Remington was the artist who advised Caylor to go to nature for his teaching. The resulting "Prayer for Rain" is classed as a masterpiece along with "Stamped." The former shows the cowboy standing with his horse on the parched plains holding intercourse with the Master in a plea for rain. The artist kept a pen of blue quail which he studied and used as models for his numerous bird paintings. One hangs in the home of Mrs. T. S. Curry. A copy of this was made by Mrs. Lee with permission of the owner, was painted for Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr. for her husband, Dr. Thomas. Mrs. Lee has been studying Caylor's work and trying for 30 years to obtain one equal. She has had years of study on how to preserve aging canvas and is the owner of a large collection of antique paintings, engravings and etchings. Restoring the Caylor oils will be carried on between classes which Mrs. Lee conducts during the winter months. Some 50 pupils will receive instructions at her home studio, beginning Sept. 3, in the media of oil, water color, pastel, pencil, charcoal and ink.

PLANTING DELAY

Texas Crops Hard Hit By Dry Siege

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Dry weather has ruined many crops across Texas and now threatens to delay planting and growth of fall and winter crops as well.

Moisture levels are critically low in most areas. Plowing is difficult if not impossible, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The dry conditions have aided the harvest of some crops but others have been seriously harmed by drought, he said.

The moisture shortage in South Texas is becoming critical and pastures are burning. More cattle are being marketed. The cotton harvest is ending in the Valley and Coastal Bend.

The upper Gulf Coast area is critically dry. Soil is too dry and hard to plow and all vegetable plantings are being delayed. The hay harvest is at a standstill. The corn harvest is almost complete and yields are good considering the weather. The pecan crop is heavy, and some limbs are breaking. The rice crop is good but the cattle outlook is poor.

In South Central Texas, livestock conditions are critical due to the shortage of grass, hay and water. Ranchers are culling and shaping up herds for the drought conditions.

Moisture is very short in East Texas and ranges are below normal.

Moisture is very short in Central Texas. The few local showers were of little help. Cotton and corn harvests are in full swing and yields fair to good. Peanuts are holding on but need water. Grasses are very dry. Feeding and livestock marketing are increasing. Lack of rain and the heat are causing cotton to open prematurely in West Central Texas, and prospects are poor. Scattered showers helped some ranges but in general pastures are dry. Goat shearing is past its peak. Lamb shearing is on.

Ranges in the Davis Mountains area look good but other areas of far West Texas have poor range conditions. Livestock conditions vary from good to poor. Cotton is generally in good condition but insects are active.

Moisture is very short in North-east Texas. The cotton and corn harvest has begun. The pecan crop looks good but needs rain. Pastures are below average. Cattle marketing is increasing.

Livestock and all crops except cotton are suffering from drought in North Central Texas. Rangelands are very dry and stock water is low in some areas. The dry weather has helped the harvest of extra good grades of cotton.

Moisture is needed in all the rolling Plains and stock water is low.

Cotton and grain sorghum harvesting and plowing are active. The southern part of the South Plains is dry and ranges need rain badly. Dryland cotton needs rain but irrigated cotton is good. The grain sorghum harvest and planting of wheat have begun.

The same story prevails in the Panhandle where moisture ranges from adequate to very short. Cotton conditions are normal and grain sorghum conditions are average to below normal. Silage is being harvested. Livestock conditions are still good.

HCJC Expecting Another Increase

Another slight increase in enrollment following the trend established during the 17-year history of Howard County Junior College, is expected this year, according to B. M. Keese, registrar.

Some 800 students are expected to register, and the number could go as high as 900, Keese said. Last year the high was 784 students. The school has shown a consistent rise in enrollment since it was established. In only one semester have fewer students enrolled than during the corresponding semester the year before. Usually about half of the total enrollment is in full time students.

With present facilities HCJC could handle about 1,000 students if teaching time was extended with no afternoon gaps, Keese said.

ORIENTATION DATE

Freshman orientation and assembly is scheduled for 9 a.m., Sept. 10, in the HCJC auditorium, with registration beginning at 9 a.m. the next day. General registration will be from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and from 6:30-9:30 p.m. Sept. 11-12. Classes begin Sept. 13.

The enrollment procedure at the college, as at all state-supported schools, is comparatively simple. The student should fill out an application form and sign a request for a transcript of high school work. This can be done at the registrar's office.

Three types of students can be accepted by the college. Any graduate from an accredited high school may enter. There are no specified courses which must be taken prior to entry other than those required for getting a high school diploma, but certain courses are recommended to eliminate the need for make-up courses before college credit work can begin.

ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS

Transfers are accepted from other accredited colleges. This does not include business colleges which have no standing with the Southern Association, Keese said.

Any person who has not completed high school, but who is at least 21 years old can enter provided that he can successfully complete the General Education Development (GED) test. The college is strict in this requirement, much more so than most schools in the state, Keese said. Any student taking a course for which college credit is offered must meet these requirements.

"Sometimes working girls come to us wanting to take a course in typing to become more proficient at their jobs. They are not interested in getting college credit for it and cannot understand why they must meet our college entrance requirements before they can take the course," Keese said. "Whether or not they want credit for it is of no concern. Before anyone can take a course for which we offer college credit, he must pass the entrance qualifications."

AG TESTS

Students who expect to go on to degree work at another college are required to take the American College Test (ACT). It should have been completed already for beginning freshmen, but if not, it can be taken Nov. 9. There is a small fee. Freshmen will be acquainted with the testing schedule during their orientation.

"Contrary to popular opinion, the ACT or other standard test batteries required are not admission tests," Keese said. "They are placement tests."

The tests are a fairly accurate way of determining whether the student has the potential to complete a college program. They are not infallible, but when used by a good interpreter they are the best way available today to determine this unknown.

STILL ACCEPTABLE

Students who live out of town should already have applied at HCJC, but it is not too late. There are still vacancies in the dormitories, although both girl and boy dormitories are expected to come near being filled this year for the first time. Capacity is for 52 girls and 104 boys. Dormitories open at 2 p.m. on Sept. 9.

The cost of residence (including meals) is $292.50 per semester if the fee is paid at the time of enrollment. However, it can be paid in four equal installments bringing the cost up to $300. All out-of-town students are required to live in the dormitory unless they reside with a blood relative. Should the dormitory be filled, there is a list of acceptable rentals.

Tuition cost is $50 a semester, with general fees another $20 and laboratory costs varying from $3 on up, depending on the courses taken. There is also a deposit of $2 to cover library fines, breakage, etc. which is refundable if not used. Books run about $30-$40 a semester, but they can be resold for half of what they cost.

LOWEST COST

"Any student who lives in the dorm can attend school here for about $800 a year," Keese said. The dormitory costs include three meals a day, except on Sunday, when we have two meals and a sack lunch for the evening meal. Most schools only have two meals included in their fee."

The cost compares favorably with other institutions. At Texas Tech tuition and related costs are $76 or more. Room and board at dormitories cost another $655 a semester. At Abilene Christian College, Baylor, Southern Methodist University and other privately supported schools the costs are generally twice that at HCJC because of higher tuition rates.

HCJC holds the same accreditation as any other state college in Texas and courses here carry the same credit as they do anywhere else. They can be transferred if they count toward a degree at another school and a grade of C or higher has been recorded.

Elta Clanton Wins District FB Contest

LAMESA — Elta Clanton, 18, graduate of Seminole High School, will represent District No. 6 in the state Farm Bureau Queen contest.

Elta was selected by judges out of a field of approximately a dozen lovely young ladies here last evening in the district eliminations.

The winner is planning on enrolling at South Plains College in Levelland this month.

First runner up in the contest was Jean Hillen, Pecos, and the second runner up was Peggy Corley, representing Coke County, a junior in Bronte High School.

Marvin Jones, the Tom Green County representative, won the talk contest and will go to the state meet.

Judy Aler, Nolan County entry, captured the talent contest honors with a medley of popular songs.

July Building High In Texas

AUSTIN (AP)—July construction in Texas reached the third highest monthly level in 17 years, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research said Saturday.

The bureau said permits for new residential construction reached the highest level since 1947.

The $81.7 million bulge in estimated values of residential building in July pushed that category of new construction to a cumulative total of $519 million, $22 million more than the estimated valuations recorded in January 1962, the bureau reported.

Apartment building comprised 35 per cent of the residential permits. Actual valuations rose from $17.1 million in June to $28.5 million in July.

One-family home values in July rose about $6 million, or 13 per cent, but still showed a downward trend of projected investment in this area, the bureau said.

Non-residential activity in July was at its lowest level in a year, except for June 1963, the bureau said, but authorized construction still showed increases in estimated value in July.

Texas Free Lance Writer Succumbs

MARLIN, Tex. (AP)—Gordon Lewis, 61, a free lance writer, died in a hospital here Saturday after an extended illness. His stories and articles had been published in more than 50 national magazines.

He lived for a number of years in the Florida keys. Much of his writing was on fishing.

SANE AND PRACTICAL

Both sermons today are timely and vital; and I believe all of you would profit from being with us (not because of who the speaker is, but because of what the messages are). At 10:30 a.m. the sermon shall be, "They Have Taken Away My Lord." At 7 p.m. "A Sane and Practical Plan of Salvation."

The Bible plan of salvation is sane and practical. It has been often misrepresented as something mystical, unreasonable and impractical. It is sometimes described as "something better felt than told." One man is told that if he has it, he will never doubt it. Another is told that if he doubts it, that is a sure sign he has it. Salvation is reasonable. "Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord" (Isa. 1:18).

The Bible plan of salvation is something you can understand and take hold of. You can know exactly how and when you have taken hold of it. Come and see.

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher, Church of Christ, 200 West Highway 26, where you are always welcome.

"I am the teacher," Mrs. C. J. McClendon explains to her pupils in this Cedar Crest third grade class. English went out of style temporarily in this and other classrooms in Big Spring public schools with introduction of Conversational Spanish in third and fourth grades.

No English Is Allowed For Third Graders

By JOE BEYER
English has become a "foreign language" for third graders in Big Spring public schools—during certain parts of the day, at least. In the recently-instated Spanish classes being conducted by Mrs. C. J. McClendon, English is taboo. After the first get-acquainted sessions last week, only Spanish is allowed during class periods.

The language instruction was opened with only one teacher for all third grade pupils, but has since been extended to fourth grades also with addition of Mrs. Rose Harris, whose husband is stationed at Webb Air Force Base. Mrs. McClendon was very appropriately selected to kick off the program, the first locally in these elementary grades. In addition to extensive study of Spanish, she has spent 20 years in Mexico, where she taught and assisted her husband in missionary work for the Presbyterian Church. Mrs. McClendon is currently pastor of the Coahoma Presbyterian Church, coming here in October of last year. Mrs. McClendon remained behind until July of this year to help complete a new church.

They live in Coahoma, where three of their seven children attend school. Another will probably enroll in Howard County Junior College this semester. Mrs. McClendon tutored all of her children while they lived in Mexico. She also taught English for the University of Guerrero, in the state in which they resided. Mrs. McClendon was born in Nogales, Ariz. and lived there the first 16 years of her life. Her father, however, worked with the oil industry and the next few years found the family in several oil towns. She graduated from Gladewater, an East Texas oil town. After attending the University of Rochester, in Rochester, N.Y., for two years, she graduated in 1939 from the University of Texas. On return trips to Texas while doing missionary duty in Mexico, she returned to the University of Texas to obtain first her master's and then her doctorate.

Virginia Group Seeks Barry

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—A plan to assure Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., a spot next year on the presidential ballot in Virginia—and hopefully in 37 other states—was unveiled here Saturday.

The Virginia Conservative Council announced the move to give Goldwater backers a chance to vote for their man even if the Republican convention in San Francisco next July makes another choice.

As running mate they plan to offer Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., for vice president.

The idea is to qualify Goldwater as the Conservative candidate in Virginia and a majority of other states. Petitions signed by 1,000 qualified voters are enough to put a slate of presidential electors on the Virginia ticket for any party.

Aside from giving Goldwater fans a chance in the election as long as their man is one of the alternatives, a supporter of the move said its primary aim is to exercise some potent leverage on the Republican convention. The council hopes the move will snowball to the extent that the Republican convention will have to turn to Goldwater or risk a big split among conservatives in the election.

John W. Carter, a Danville, Va., attorney and city councilman who has headed the Conservative Council since its formation in 1961, said the group would do after names for the qualifying petition immediately and expect to have the necessary 1,000 in a week.

He added that the Goldwater-Tower electors would be put on the ballot for the Conservative party only if the Republican convention bypassed the Arizona. Virginia is one of the 38 states where the filing deadline falls on a date after next year's Republican convention. A dozen other states have earlier deadlines or require approval of the candidates selected.

Over A Million, Houston Claims

HOUSTON (AP)—The Chamber of Commerce claims the population of Houston now is 1,913,000, an increase of 76,781 over the 1960 census.

The Chamber predicts Metropolitan Houston or Harris County, will have 1,870,000 people by 1970.

Chamber officials said Baltimore led Houston by 805 persons, 839,024 to 838,219, to become the nation's sixth largest city in 1960, but Houston will overtake Baltimore in the 1970 census.

Lecture Series

GENOA, Italy (AP)—Giuseppe Cardinal Siri, archbishop of Genoa, will give a series of lectures in the United States and Canada in September.

"What signs?"

UF Office Will Open This Week

Wheels will be set in motion this week for preliminaries to the community's biggest annual undertaking—the United Fund campaign.

UF campaign offices will be opened, in rooms 306-308 in the Permian Building, through courtesy of Cosden Oil & Chemical Company.

Angy Glenn, office manager for the organization again this year, is in process of accumulating necessary furniture, and shortly will have a staff at work preparing prospect cards and getting all records for the solicitation which will be getting under way around the end of September.

Jack Y. Smith, general chairman of the campaign, requested that division chairman visit the office soon, and get acquainted with headquarters activities. He said that virtually all division organizations are completed, and various chairmen already are lining up workers.

Crowds Expected

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Because the president's state of the union message will be delivered on Sunday this year, officials expect crowds to line streets to the chamber of deputies where the address will be delivered today.

Brush Control By Aerial Spraying

This photograph, by the Soil Conservation Service, shows mesquite spraying on the J. W. Overton Ranch 10 miles south of Big Spring. The area to the left was sprayed. That on the right was not.

Ranchers Turning To Aerial Spraying For Brush Control

Brush control by aerial spraying, in the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District's Big Spring Work Unit area, has totaled 26,000 acres this year. Earl V. Hogan, conservationist, said this week. The season for brush control by the chemical aerial spraying has ended. Hogan said the SCD cooperators, spraying mesquite this year under the Great Plains Conservation Program and the Agricultural Conservation Program, were J. W. Overton, Edwards Brothers Ranch, Lorin McDowell, L. N. Davis, Lee Reed, C. J. Engle, F. W. White, W. L. Wilson, Charles Wolf, and the Douthit Ranch.

"The largest acreage was sprayed by Lorin McDowell," Hogan said. "The spraying of 7,618 acres pushed his total spraying to 18,625 acres. Spraying is also scheduled for the next two years and when completed, the entire ranch will be controlled." The Douthit Ranch, Edward Brothers, and J. W. Overton also have spraying scheduled under the same program for 1964. "Spraying mesquite by airplane is the cheapest method of controlling the pesky invader," Hogan continued. "It is sprayed by using a half pound of 2, 4, 5-T in one gallon of diesel fuel, and enough water to make a total mixture of four gallons per acre. "Any farmer or ranchman having a brush problem can contact the local Soil Conservation Service for information as to the most feasible method of control," Hogan said. "He may also get information on cost-share assistance available to the farmer or ranchman."

$2 Billion In Construction Seen For State

DALLAS (AP)—The publication Texas Contractor will say Tuesday that construction already approved in the state for next year amounts to nearly $2 billion.

The annual prediction is based on research in Washington and Austin and surveys of cities and counties.

William Morrison, editor, said the figures show that "1964 will be one of our best years." He added that the total is "a near record."

Highways and dwellings will pace the building, Texas Contractor research shows.

Approved spending for highways, streets, roads and bridges by federal, state, city and county governments is $496.5 million. The federal government will spend $172 million of this in aid to the state highway program. State construction and maintenance will amount to $194 million.

Future expenditure for dwellings, including apartments, is $337 million.

Construction projects by the federal government or with federal participation for next year amount to $495 million. Spending by cities, a category including private construction, totals $326 million. The state spending figure is $44 million, while counties indicate they plan to spend $105 million for building.

The publication also reported that for the first eight months of this year, construction projects have totaled $811.8 million—a $50.5 million increase over last year and the third best total in the decade.

Two New Fire Stations

Big Spring's two new fire stations, designed by Architects Gary and Hohertz, will look alike when viewed from the front. The photograph shows the buildings for which bids will be received about Sept. 24. One will be built on Wasson Road on the city golf course, and the other west of the rodeo grounds near Airport School. Both are included in the Master Plan bond program.

Fire Department Will Get 2 New Stations, 4 Trucks

Two new booster trucks for the Big Spring Fire Department are to be delivered next week and bids will be called for two new fire stations in September. Bids will be tabulated Sept. 5 for two more pumper trucks for the fire department under the Master Plan bond program.

"Jim Brown, driving instructor for the fire department, will leave Amarillo Monday and fly to Anderson, Ind.," Fire Chief H. V. Crocker said Friday afternoon. "He and a representative of the Howe Corporation, builders of the equipment, will drive the two new boosters back to Big Spring. They will probably be here Thursday. "The two trucks were held up over three months due to a strike at the Howe plant in Anderson," Crocker said.

Bids on two new pumpers, scheduled for delivery about the time two new fire stations are completed, will be opened and tabulated Sept. 5. The city commission will consider the bids at the Sept. 10 meeting. "Alternate bids will be taken on 750-gallon and 1,000-gallon - per-minute pumpers," Crocker said. "We have also asked for alternate bids on gasoline and diesel engines for the trucks."

Gary and Hohertz, architects on the fire stations, said they will send out plans, specifications and bid forms to contractors about Sept. 9 and expect bids to be opened about Sept. 24. The stations will be built alike.

One new station will be constructed on the city golf course property near the intersection of Wasson and Parkway roads. The

Stickers Ready

AUSTIN (AP)—Director Homer Garrison of the State Police said Saturday the new 1964 vehicle inspection sticker will be available Monday at all official inspection stations. More than 5 million vehicles must get the stickers at one of the 5,000 stations before April 16.

other will be built north of Airport School and west of the rodeo grounds on a lot deeded to the city by the Big Spring Rodeo Association.

Two old-model Seagraves pumps are to be traded in on the new pumps. One is a 1925 model and the other 1930, but both are in operating condition.

Monticello Addition Houses Being Renovated

Around a quarter of a million dollars is being spent to remodel 114 houses, regrade and sod the lawns, and build concrete garage floors and driveways, in the Monticello Addition. Seventy-five of the FHA houses have already taken on new looks, and 39 more are under contract for renovation. These are houses reclaimed by the Federal Housing Administration when loans were defaulted.

Paul E. Organ, representing Cortese Real Estate in the addition between Eleventh Place and South Monticello, holds open house daily at 1304 Grafa.

Starzel To Join Faculty At UT

LE MARS, Iowa (AP)—Frank J. Starzel, who retired this year as general manager of the Associated Press, says he has been named a teacher of journalism at the University of Texas at Austin.

Starzel, 59, a native of Le Mars, disclosed his plans during a visit here with his brother Horne, who is publisher of the Le Mars Globe-post. The former AP executive left college before getting a degree but plans to complete requirements by taking correspondence courses from the State University of Iowa.

Repairs For Brain Damage Offers Hope For Injured

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A hint of hope for injury victims was offered today by a neurosurgeon who reported seeing new tissue grow in damaged brains.

Dr. Leonard I. Malis of Mount Sinai Hospital, New York, made the disclosure of brain cell regrowth—heretofore believed impossible in higher animals—at a symposium on the effects of radiation on the nervous system. The meeting is being held at the University of California at Los Angeles.

"I don't know whether you could call it regeneration of tissue or whether this is a process that goes on all the time in the brain and has never been discovered," Dr. Malis said in an exclusive interview.

"But when we examined these damaged brains several months later there was a complete reorganization of the brain cell structure. The only difference from normal was that the new structure in the area of the damage was a little more dense."

Dr. Malis said the discovery was made in studies with monkeys, cats and rabbits. No experiments have yet been made with humans.

Since the brain tissue growth processes are similar, however, the possibility exists that someday this knowledge can be used to help military, industrial and other casualties, he said.

The new find was made accidentally during research seeking a way to strip off the extremely thin layers that make up the cortex of the brain. The cortex, composed of billions of interlaced cells, is the center of consciousness.

French Speakers

OTTAWA (AP)—The government is sending six French-speaking Canadians to join the staff of the new University of Butare in the Central African republic of Ruanda. They go under the government's program of aid for French-speaking countries in Africa.

MISSION, Tex. (AP)—Texas appears to be well on the way to wiping out the most costly livestock enemy by the sterilization of flies.

The object is to break the life cycle of the screwworm fly. The fly lays eggs in cuts or any other skin openings. The larvae which hatch are screwworms and cause death or serious wounds in the animal.

The plant here which produces sterile flies and sterilizes them has produced 130 million insects and released them wherever an outbreak has occurred.

Evidence of the success is shown by the week ending Aug. 3, when only 13 cases of screwworms were reported, compared with 2,287 cases the corresponding week of 1962.

Infestations averaged about 125 per week this summer—95 per cent below the same period in 1962.

Prior to the first distribution of sterile flies in the Southwest on Feb. 14, 1962, screwworms were taking an estimated $100 million annual toll in livestock and wildlife. The U.S. Agriculture Department said this was the most expensive livestock pest in the area.

C. G. Scruggs, president of the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, calls the screwworm "far and away the worst pest we have in the livestock industry."

The goal of the program is eradication of screwworms in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana within 15 months.

The program is based on the fact the female fly mates only once in her lifetime, and if she mates with a sterile male she will produce no eggs.

The fly factory about 15 miles north of here grows the pupae from eggs and uses cobalt-60 radiation to sterilize them.

Pupae are measured into small boxes (about 440 per box) and held until the flies begin to emerge. The boxes are loaded aboard planes and flown to a predetermined portion of the 70,000 square mile primary drop area or a special high infestation region.

The flies' first concern is to find shade, water and food.

The flies mate a few hours after they are dropped from the plane, and shortly the female lay eggs in any skin break.

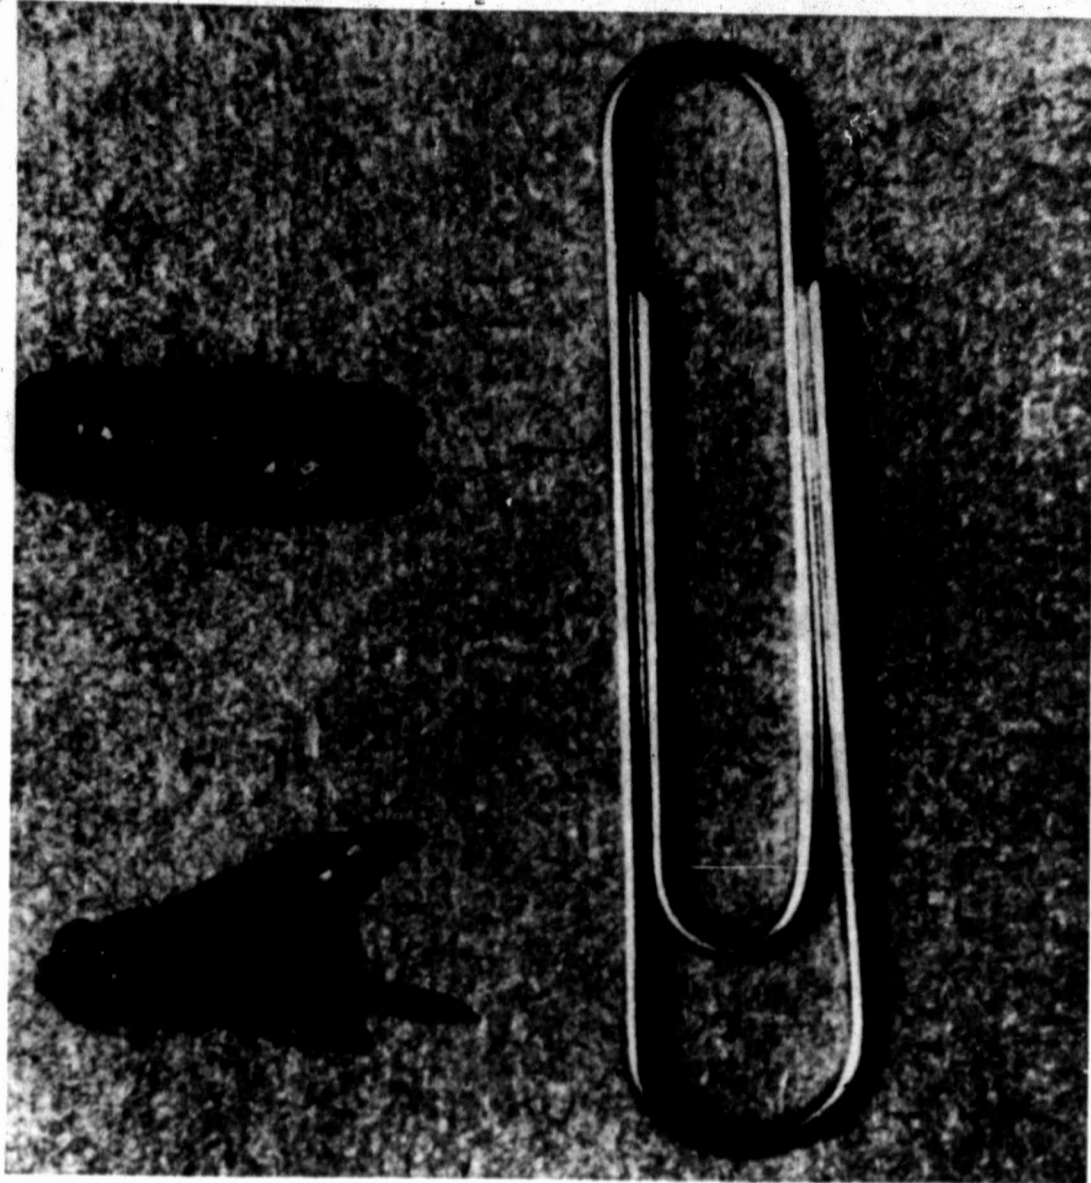

A strong infestation can kill a grown steer, and a calf is easy prey for even a small collection of the insect's various stages.

Even when treated in time, the infestation may still maim and stunt animals, retard weight gains and increase the animal's susceptibility to disease.

A program similar to the one here operated in Florida from December of 1957 until Nov. 14, 1959. The screwworm was wiped out in the control area.

The fly plant was built from funds contributed by more than 100,000 livestock producers and sportsmen.

This amount was matched by federal funds. This week, $1 million in state funds were authorized. This will be matched by federal funds.

RELIGION HIT

Red Fairy Tales Show Party Line

MOSCOW (AP)—"Once upon a time" the little boy began "there was a black cat and a little mouse."

Then he told a story of how the cat had deceived the mouse. This was no ordinary cat. Actually it was a priest in disguise. Which, of course, would explain why it had tricked and cheated the poor mouse.

It was a Communist fairy story—a Communist fable with a Communist moral.

Priests and religion deceive ordinary people.

The hall was crowded with children in the crisp red and white uniforms of the Soviet Young Pioneers movement. This was their summer camp and they were having a concert.

It was a remote spot about 20 miles out of Moscow in the heart of woods of pine and silver birch, off the main road to Leningrad.

Here, 400 children of workers at a Moscow dairy combine were taking a month in the sun learning things and being taught the rudimentary arts of being Communists. Their ages range from around 8 to 14.

Boys and girls learned how to do such things as to wield a wood plane, take care of animals, make dresses and dolls and cook.

Political indoctrination, said a camp official—a matronly figure with brown hair drawn tightly back in a bun—played only a small part in the work of the camps. What the children learned there about the party was merely a continuation of what they were learning at school.

But even in the remoteness of the woods, there is no chance for the children to forget that they are Communist youth, that their country is a Communist state.

Busts of Lenin frown down at them from the walls of rooms. Photographs and paintings of him adorn almost every room in the camp.

A white crane statue, the use of the hero of Soviet Communism stands high above the center of the camp.

As the girls busily sew dresses, a banner above them proclaims: "Long live the Leninist youth movement!"

In the hall the concert ends. The choir sings. They are dark little girls with pigtails and children with the wide, flat faces and strong blue eyes that mark them unmistakably as the children of peasant folk.

Their voices rise high. They sing.

"We are young pioneers, children of workers. Be always ready to fight for communism."

The Leninists in kneepants and pigtails cheer. They sing again.

The tune has a lively, gay rhythm. Feet begin to tap. Then the words come through and bring a visitor down to earth.

"Cuba, you are my love," the children sing. "Cuba, you are a legend."

Chessman's Judge Dies In California

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Superior Court Judge Clement D. Nye, who passed the last death sentence on so-called "Red Light Bandit" Caryl Chessman, is dead at 69.

Judge Nye, who retired last November because of ill health, died early Friday at his West Los Angeles home.

Nye sentenced Chessman to death in 1960 after a long series of appeals failed.

Fossils Robbed

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP)—Scientists in Alberta are concerned over raids on the Canadian province's rich deposits of prehistoric fossils.

"People from other parts of Canada and the United States have dug out our fossils and carried them off for their own museums," says Dr. H. M. Ross, head of zoology at the University of Alberta.

How Texans Cast Votes

Neighbors Help

KNOTT (SC)—Friends of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Airhart brought their tractors Thursday and plowed the Airhart cotton crop. Mr. Airhart is in Cowper Clinic and Hospital.

Brown Community volunteers were Alfred Herren, J. W. Motley, Jiggs Gaskins, Henry Paige, Arch Hodnett, David Davidson, and Quinton Airhart. From Knott came Tom Castle, and Velah Kemper.

Stock Market Heads Into Labor Day With Optimism

NEW YORK (AP)—With solid gains under its belt from a traditional summer rally, the stock market this week heads into the decisive post-Labor Day period with considerable confidence.

Averting of the much-feared railroad strike accompanied the market's fifth straight weekly advance.

The gain was capped Friday by the rise of the Dow Jones industrial average to a new high for 1963, topping the previous peak for this year of 726.96, reached May 31.

The Dow Jones industrials this week rose 6.18 to 729.32. For the month of August this closely watched barometer made an impressive gain of 33.89.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks this week rose 1.7 to 279.6, the latest in a series of historic highs it has been making for some time. This average rose 12.2 in August.

Volume for the week was 23,535,130 shares compared with 20,530,001 the week before.

The trading week began with a reasonable degree of confidence as the market rose cautiously amid a general conviction that Congress would do something to prevent the railroad strike threat ended for Wednesday midnight. Sentiment was bolstered also by a solid gain in weekly steel production, the first since mid-July, and by rising car sales.

As Congress fumbled with proposed legislation to stop the strike, Wall Street became highly nervous on Tuesday and stocks suffered their worse decline in more than a month.

Overnight news that the lawmakers were really on the road toward a measure that would stave off the rail strike accompanied a vigorous rally on Wednesday. After the market close, came news that the strike had been averted.

On Thursday the market had a brief follow through to the Wednesday rally, but ended the day with only a slight gain on average.

Both Wednesday and Thursday, however, were 5 million shares each, the first since June, and reflected some very heavy buying. Trading simmered down a bit

Friday when the list made another gain.

U.S. government bond prices continued to slide while corporate issues dawdled along, lacking a definite tone.

QUALITY IS GOOD

Farmers Needing Cotton Pickers As Well As Rain

Planters Gin at Luther has already handled 33 bales of 1963 cotton and, if pickers could be found, farmers in that community have 100 to 125 bales in the fields in need of immediate pulling.

Quality of the cotton, according to the gin officials, is exceptionally good. It is ginning out strict middling, 15-16ths staple and the yield per acre is better than would ordinarily be anticipated at this early season.

Farmers are still hoping for a general rain of heavy volume. Spotty showers moved across the county last week and they were most helpful and welcome.

In general, the fields are dry.

Late cotton needs moisture to help it fill out.

In addition to the drought, the big problem, a new worry, is becoming increasingly acute. Fleahoppers, which have been in evidence all season, are still on hand and in some fields are so numerous as to constitute a distinct threat to production possibilities. These insects keep the late cotton from forming bolls and in some fields devastation from the attacks is plainly evident.

Herb Helbig, county farm agent, said the pest is heavier in some parts of the county than others and that in general the invasion has to be termed as spotty. Poisoning is under way on many fields and will probably be stepped up in the weeks ahead.

In other fields, Helbig said, bollworms are making a belated but nevertheless decidedly unwelcome appearance. This slight buildup in bollworms is being watched closely and in some instances poison is already being used to control the pest.

A few leafworms are found in some fields but Helbig said these insects are not, as yet, causing any serious damage.

Meantime, gins are ready or getting ready for the harvesting season. Texas Employment Commission has fixed an estimate of 36,330 bales for the county. This estimate is regarded as conservative by some observers. TEC estimated the dry land cotton in the county would average around half a bale and the irrigated fields a bale to the acre.

The hot dry weather has caused some deterioration in the prospects, especially in the younger cotton. A general rain would merit an increase in the production estimate, according to most observers.

Meantime, Luther's difficulty in finding workers to pull its cotton, is said to be general over the county. As a result, the bulk of the 1963 crop will be machine harvested. TEC has estimated in its initial report that nearly 26,000 of the 36,000 bales it forecast will be stripped.

County Clerk Has Big Volume

Howard County Clerk Pauline Petty said that August was one of the busiest months of 1963. Her records show total fees collected by her office to be $2,879.55. July, a busy month on its own, showed $2,551.46. Federal revenue stamps, attached to warranty deeds, and to a few other documents filed in the office, reflect the real estate activity each month. In August, Mrs. Petty's office attached $1,134.20 in these stamps. In July, the stamps totalled $829. June total was $744.30. Federal revenue fees are charged at the rate of $1.10 for each $1,000 valuation shown in the deed. There were more than two times as many marriage licenses issued in July than in August, however. July total marriage licenses was 45, August was 20.

It's No Contest For The Elderly

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — John Gordon decided recently to call it quits as a motorist after, police said, he ran a red light and hit a parked car, continued on and hit another, then turned the wrong way on a one-way street. "I guess I'm getting too old to get around in this kind of traffic," Gordon said. On Gordon's promise he was through driving, light fines totaling $25 were imposed in traffic court. Gordon is 93.

Plans Buildings In Austin, Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Carr Collins plans to build two structures, in Austin and in Dallas. In a letter to stockholders of Fidelity Union Life Insurance, he said one building will be a 15-story luxury apartment building at Lavaca and 19th streets in Austin, between the Capitol and the university. The Dallas structure is to be an eight-story office building and parking garage in the northern section of the downtown area.

Killed In Crash

CUERNAVACA, Mexico (AP) — A few hours after he was named director of the civil hospital in nearby Tetejala, Dr. Felipe Herrera, 30, was killed in an automobile accident.

School Bells Toll End Of Segregation's Era

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — School bells tolling this week measure the ending of an era in the South where ironclad racial segregation once was the rule. White children will have Negro classmates for the first time in grade schools and high schools in Alabama and South Carolina. Only Mississippi holds out against taken desegregation of schools below college level.

The percentage of Negroes attending formerly white schools in most Southern states remains small — but significantly the number takes a rather big jump this term.

Trouble could come. But authorities for the most part are optimistic about peaceful change though tight security measures are set up in several cities.

There was an uneasy prelude last Tuesday night.

A mysterious blast left a crater in the ground near the home of Henri Monteith, 18, one of three Negroes enrolling in the formerly white University of South Carolina.

Another blast in Buras, La., damaged a Roman Catholic parochial school which has been the center of a desegregation dispute.

Police officials in Birmingham, Ala., said they don't expect trouble. But they are prepared to cope with any disorders that might arise.

2-COUNTY UNIT

Jim Wright New President Of NF

Officers for the Howard-Glasscock County Chapter of the National Foundation were named at a meeting Thursday evening.

New president is Jim Wright, replacing Rad Ward, who has served in that capacity for several years. Other officers chosen Thursday are: Bo Bowen, vice chairman; Mrs. Betty Rains, treasurer; and Edith Gay, secretary.

The medical advisory board consists of Dr. R. E. Koenig, Dr. Louise Worby, Dr. M. W. Tallet and Mrs. H. A. Sherrill, County Health Nurse.

The board approved purchasing equipment for the Howard County Rehabilitation Center in lieu of paying therapy fees for individuals treated at the center and under the care of the local chapter. Equipment recommended by Jim Thompson, physical therapist, will be purchased.

The group also approved new by-laws to bring the local operation in line with those of other chapters in the nation.

Four Injured, One Critical, In Stanton Car Accident

STANTON — A young Waco woman was gravely injured and three others hurt sufficiently to require hospitalization at 4:45 p.m. Saturday when a small compact car and a pickup truck collided at the St. Peter Street intersection on IS 20.

Police officers who investigated the crash said that Mrs. Mary Hogan, 20, Waco, had been taken to a bone specialist in Midland. Her condition was described as critical.

Her husband, Donald Ray Hogan, 21, is in Doctor's Hospital and Clinic with severe lacerations and bruises. His condition is not believed serious.

Ostrio Contrado, about 30, Lamesa, driver of the pickup, and his passenger, Jose Leon Mata, 29, also of Lamesa, are also in the Stanton Hospital. Extent of their injuries had not been determined last night.

Officers said that the Hogans were going west enroute to Odessa. At the intersection, the truck driven by Contrado, going east, sought to make a turn to the north. It crashed into the side of the Volkswagen in which the Hogans were riding.

Officers said both vehicles were extensively damaged.

Contrado, according to papers works for David Hughes, Rt. C, Lamesa. Mata is also employed on a farm near that city.

Driver Jailed For 2 Wrecks

A driver who Friday night was involved in two automobile collisions within the space of 15 minutes was still being held by city police Saturday.

That driver was Ruben Torres, Elsa At 10:36 p.m. Friday he was involved in an accident at Northwest Third and Grege. The other operator was Bobby Dean Warren, Andrews. At 11:01 p.m. police received another call of an accident involving Torres at 1628 E. 23rd. In this instance the other driver involved was Dale C. Bulough, 1600 Indian Hills.

Three other minor accidents were reported to police that night. At Fourth and Lancaster, drivers were Roy Lee Holley, 1401 E. 18th, and Gibby Artis Ingram, 1307 Mount Vernon, at US 80 west and Airbase Road, drivers were James Arthur Roberts, Clarence, and David Allen Gurnea, Webb AFB, and at 1300 Goliad, drivers were Bal Wayne Renshaw, 1500 E. 15th, and Iris Ellen Boyd, Gail Route.

Man Injured By Shot Saturday

Marcos Lerma, 210 NE 6th, Saturday was injured when a bullet fired through the door of a north-side bar about 8:30 p.m. lodged in his left forearm.

Lerma was taken to Howard County Hospital and was retained for the night to permit X-rays before the bullet is removed. His condition was not believed to be serious.

The shooting occurred at Marguer Place, 401 NW 4th. No charges had been filed late Saturday, but police were interrogating several witnesses.

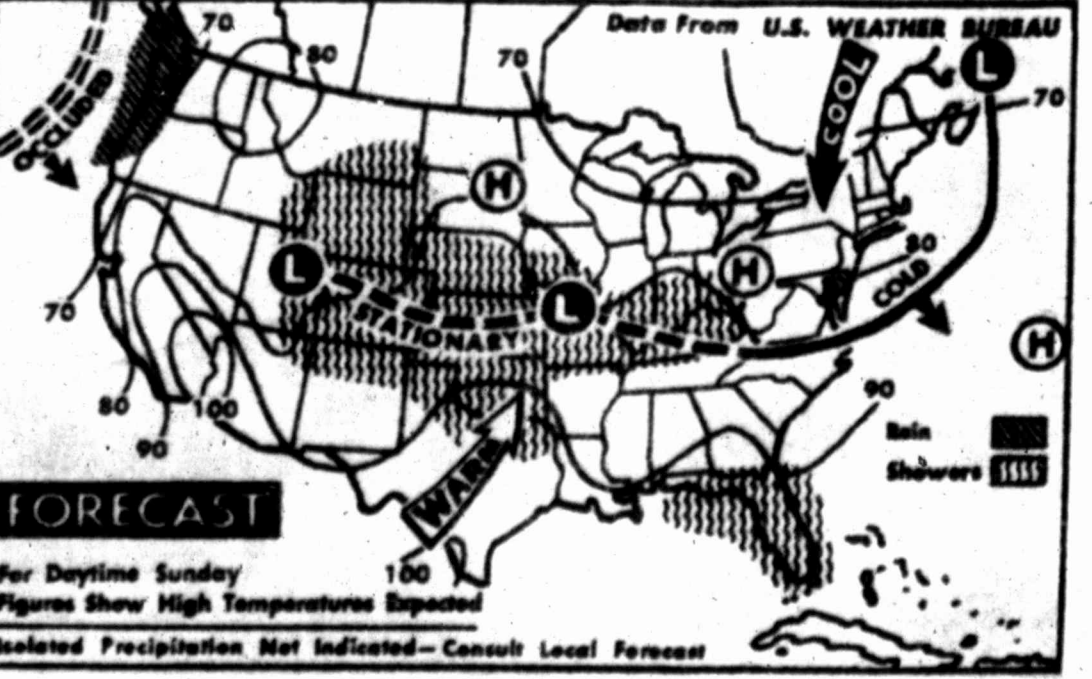

IN APPRECIATION

The families of Bill Hale and Charles Meacham wish to express their appreciation for the kindness and consideration shown them following their automobile accident, and expressly to those who gave aid at the scene of the accident.

'Non-Political' Fete Planned To Honor Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adm. Lewis L. Strauss said Saturday a gathering of about 700 prominent Americans in Hershey, Pa., Oct. 12 to honor former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will have "no political significance."

Strauss, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, said politics didn't enter into the matter when former guests of Eisenhower at White House stag dinners decided to return the compliment with a celebration two days before the former President's 73rd birthday.

"I am sure there will be prominent Democrats there as well as prominent Republicans," Strauss said in an interview.

There have been reports from other quarters that informal discussion of 1964 GOP presidential possibilities could be expected when Eisenhower chats with some of the party's large financial contributors who rated invitations to the White House dinners.

Despite Strauss' disavowal, it seems likely that anyone who wants to talk a little politics on the side will not be ostracized.

Eisenhower has made it clear to associates that he intends to do all he can to see to it that a moderate Republican is the nominee. But he and his friends have not settled on any individual to challenge the acknowledged current lead of conservative Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona among those publicly mentioned for the nomination.

Goldwater, who speaks at a Republican fund-raising dinner in Hershey Oct. 10, was not among those invited to the Eisenhower affair.

However, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, for whom Eisenhower seems recently to have little political enthusiasm, could turn up along with several others Eisenhower mentioned as available for the nomination.

Rockefeller and his three brothers were included among guests at the White House stag affairs when he said Republicans should "not make any minds so rigid there are only two people" available. These include Gen. Lucius D. Clay and Gabriel Hauge, now president of the Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co.

The White House stopped making public the names of guests in 1955 so it was not immediately clear which, if any of the others on the general's list might show up.

They included Gov. Earl O. Harold of Oregon, William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, George W. Romney of Michigan, John Anderson Jr. of Kansas, and John A. Love of Colorado.

HONOR STUDENT

Teen-Ager Missing After Rights March

NEW YORK (AP) — Jacqueline Wilson, 16, a high school honor student eager for adventure in the big city, was sought here Saturday after her parents reported she did not return to the Michigan home she left last Tuesday for the Washington civil rights rally.

The girl, a 5-foot-6, 140-pound, statuesque brunette, also was found in 15 other states, but her friends said she had indicated she would come here after the rally with Allen Ehrlich, a University of Michigan student.

They were among 43 who went from Ann Arbor to the rally by chartered bus.

Her father, Dr. Russell Wilson, a professor of education at the University of Michigan, said his daughter told friends she wanted to come to New York to seek adventure.

Ehrlich was described as an officer in the university chapter of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, which he recently joined and which participated in the Washington rally.

Wilson said he could not find Ehrlich at his apartment in Ann Arbor, a short distance from the girl's home in suburban Dexter.

When the bus returned without his daughter, Wilson questioned her friends and learned that she told them she would return by car with Ehrlich. He contacted a married daughter, Mrs. Barbara Ann Jacobson, 23, who lives in Manhattan.

He also contacted Ehrlich's parents, who live in Brooklyn. They said they had heard nothing from their son.

Another of Wilson's daughter's, Patricia, 20, returned Tuesday from a year's study in France and was staying with her married sister.

The two girls went to police Friday and asked their dad, "They told us it was like looking for a needle in a haystack," Mrs. Jacobson said. "But, they assured us they would help."

THE WEEK

City as a 9,000-ft. Ellenburger explorer.

The Big Spring Country Club annual golf tournament is in full swing, just as it has been for the past 39 years. From the point of continuity and annual participation, there likely is not an amateur tournament in West Texas that touches it.

The welcome mat is out for Capt. and Mrs. William Thomas, formerly of Longview, but now of West Coahoma, officiating. They are the new commanders of the Salvation Army ministry in Big Spring.

Maybe it doesn't seem that time of the year, but football season is just around the corner. Some teams will be at it hammer and tong within a week, and on Sept. 5 the Big Spring Quarterback Club will have its annual barbecue honoring the squad and coaches. This always constitutes a big send-off to the team, so make plans to be on hand.

Big Spring had the honor of hearing one of the leading Christian missionaries and inspirational speakers of the generation Wednesday when Dr. E. Stanley Jones came here. He spoke for an hour and 27 minutes, and you could have heard a pin drop most of that time.

The parents of a student pilot who died while in training at Webb AFB have made a gift of $100 toward a memorial for all young men of past and present classes who may die while in training. They are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Heynone, and the parents of Lt. Douglas D. Heyhoo, who was killed in a car crash July 12 near Kerrville. His class officials and chaplains have launched a $5,000 effort to provide a beautiful stained glass window for the base chapel.

The continuous paving program continues to move right along. The city commission last week approved 35 additional blocks under an assessment program. Around 150 blocks of needed paving have come into being or have been started since this program was launched.

Junior volunteers were honored in an affair at the Veterans Administration Hospital last week, and a surprisingly large turnout was on hand. The young people put in 9,556 hours during the summer season. Who said the news about young people is always about something they do wrong? Good kids make a lot more news.

B. S. Davie Rites Today

Funeral will be held at 4 p.m. today for Benjamin Shannon Davie, 83, who died Saturday in a Big Spring hospital after a lengthy illness. He resided at 504 Rummels.

The service will be at the Nalley Pickle Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. Jack Stickle, pastor of the East Fourth Street Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will be in City Cemetery.

Mr. Davie was born Feb. 2, 1880 in Tennessee and was married to the former Miss Dena Mae Maud in 1903. She preceded him in death May 29, 1958. Also preceding him was a daughter, Novelle Davie, in 1945, and in 1962, a son, H. A. Davie.

The family moved to Big Spring in 1942 from Colorado City, where they had lived 23 years. He was retired from farming when he moved to Big Spring, but worked here for several years at a laundry. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

Bearkeepers will be Kent Carpenter, H. G. Starr, Eston Barbee, Gary Barbee, Walter Barbee and Thebert Williamson.

Survivors include two daughters, Edith Joyce Davie, Big Spring, and Mrs. Estelle Carroll, Lorraine; three sons, Robert D. Davie, Big Spring, Dixie L. Davie, Fort Worth, and Victor B. Davie, Hollywood, Calif.; one sister, Mrs. Annie Davie, Maybank; six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Enrollment Up By 35

Enrollment in Big Spring public schools took a small jump Friday, going up by 35 to 2,187 pupils, Sebren B. Williams, assistant superintendent, said.

Elementary grades had 4,142 pupils enrolled. There were 815 in Lanes Junior High, 814 at Lakeside Junior High, 185 in Special Education and 1,250 in Senior High.

Survivors in addition to the widow, include four sons, I. C. Stanton, O. C. Midland, Roscoe Stanton, and Loyce E. Stanton; four daughters, Mrs. C. A. Koonce, Midland; Mrs. E. J. Russell, Midland; Mrs. A. N. McDowell, Midland; and Mrs. J. E. Angelle, Stanton; a sister, Mrs. Hattie Sawyer, Cisco; 17 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 3 p.m. today at the First Methodist Church, Rev. C. R. Lamond will officiate, assisted by Rev. W. L. Shilman. Burial will be in the Evergreen Cemetery in Stanton under the direction of the Arrington-Gilbreath Funeral Home.

Hazlewood had been a patient in the Baptist Memorial Geriatrics Hospital in San Angelo until recently, when he was removed to a Big Spring nursing home.

He married Letta Farrington in Cisco Dec. 15, 1901. They moved 1914.

Man Injured In Mitchell Collision

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Derrill C. Anderson, San Angelo, received minor injuries late Saturday when his car struck the parked car of Sheriff Lewis Claxton on SH 550 in the northwestern corner of the county. He was taken to Coghill Hospital at Snyder where he was hospitalized for the night.

Sheriff Claxton and Highway Patrolman Buddy Hertenberger had gone to the scene where heavy trucks were attempting to pull a third truck from the borrow ditch where it was stuck. Claxton parked his car on the roadway, with red lights blinking to halt approaching traffic. It was heavily damaged in the crash.

Other survivors include three sons, J. L. Joiner, Coahoma, J. W. Joiner, Monahans, and S. E. Joiner, Colorado City; four daughters, Mrs. Fred Dodson, San Antonio; Mrs. Claude Calloway, Artesia, N.M.; Mrs. Lee Riggsfield, Colorado City, and Mrs. A. E. Lendermon, Coahoma; two half-brothers; four half-sisters; 15 grandchildren; and 14 great-grandchildren.

Stabbing Victim

L. G. Bell, 805 Cherry, was treated at the Howard County Hospital Saturday evening for stab wounds. His injuries were not considered serious. No charges had been filed late Saturday.

Collegiate Tone Heralds Miss America Show

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The Miss America Pageant, once a shabby boardwalk leg show, dons a mantle of refinement and culture this week as 52 beauties vie for the 1964 crown under a college campus setting.

The pageant, grandma of all national beauty contests, will have as its theme, "Hail, Alma Mater," when it opens here Wednesday and nothing could be more appropriate to put the girls in their natural setting.

All but one of the contestants are currently enrolled in a college or school this year. The lone exception is Cheryl Jeanne Thompson of Las Vegas, representing Nevada, who plans to study music in New York City.

This array of intellect is a far cry from what promoters envisioned the contest would be when it was first held here in 1921.

Miss America started as a bathing beauty contest on the uncomplimentary theory that it might help fill Atlantic City hotel rooms for an extra week after the normal Labor Day end of the season.

Today, by careful pruning and shaping, it has grown into a year-round, nationwide project based on more than 3,000 local and state contests. The majority of which are sponsored by junior chambers of commerce.

The change from just a bathing beauty contest to a pageant in which a girl endowed equally with looks, talent and brains can win a $10,000 scholarship swells the heart of Miss Leonora S. Slaughter, a longtime St. Petersburg, Fla., community publicist whose constant effort has been improvement of the cultural and moral tone of the contest.

Latest figures show 60,000 acres of the county and tracts that the average half irrigated c to the acre, mly 36,500 bales l present at the Grubkyer, assist er, Texas Er sion of San An lum and James TEC office.

The Glasscoe tee met in the i Henricks, E. Hirt, Kinney, G attending. A t cal with that was predicted, 9,600 bales.

Sweetwater Man Injured

T. A. Warren, Sweetwater, was treated at Howard County Hospital-Foundation Saturday evening for minor injuries sustained in a four-car accident at Third and State.

Warren was taken to the hospital by Nalley Pickle ambulance. He was released following treatment.

Drivers of the vehicles involved in the accident were G. A. Ellington, 4207 Dixon; Lawrence Allen Warren, Sweetwater; Dichman Wood Estes, Pecos; and Neil Catton Holden Street, 2715 Carrol.

Two other minor accidents occurred. At Third and Price, drivers were Ralph Hale Swartz, Dallas; James Columbus Hunt, 709 Anna; and Leonard E. Griffith, Colorado City. Drivers in collision at 607 NW 8th were Manuel M. Morales, 606 NW 8th, and Helen Nicholas Gindlow, 1717 Yale.

Other minor accidents occurred. At Third and Price, drivers were Ralph Hale Swartz, Dallas; James Columbus Hunt, 709 Anna; and Leonard E. Griffith, Colorado City. Drivers in collision at 607 NW 8th were Manuel M. Morales, 606 NW 8th, and Helen Nicholas Gindlow, 1717 Yale.

Loot Little In Break-Ins

Two burglaries Friday netted the intruders only a small amount of change, according to police reports.

Alton Braswell reported that about $5 was taken from a cigarette machine which had been entered at the Wagon Wheel No. 3, 2105 W. 3rd. The burglary occurred some time after midnight Friday and before 7:15 a.m. Saturday.

G. W. Daniels reported that someone had entered the Rockwell Brothers Lumber Company, 300 W. 2nd, and taken about $2 from a drink machine. A hatchet and screw driver had been used to jimmy open the machine.

No Injuries In Two Accidents

Two minor automobile collisions occurred Saturday. No injuries were reported.

Accident locations and drivers involved were: at Seventh and Lamesa Highway, Jim Mitchell, 808 Abrams, and Jeff Johnson, 902 NW 2nd, and at Fifth and Main, Ode Norris Green, 2105 Johnson, and Norman Andrew Hall, Stanton.

Tarp Is Stolen

A tarpaulin valued at about $25 was reported stolen from, Don Blackwell, 3200 W. 8th, some time Saturday afternoon. It had been left beside a rented trailer outside the residence.

Course In Care Completed Here

A course in care of the sick and injured, tutored by Catherine Blasen, nursing field representative of the American Red Cross, was completed Friday at the Big Spring State Hospital.

Registered nurses from the hospital, along with Bill Breeding, Midland, a Red Cross field representative, took the course. They will be used later as instructors in home nursing for hospital patients and employees, and if local demand for such training exists, for community classes.

Cotton Crop Is Pegged At 36,500 Bales

A definite trend away from hand labor to machine harvesting was reflected in estimates of the Howard County Farm Labor Committee and the Glasscock County Farm Labor Committee at meetings held last Thursday at the Texas Employment Commission Office in Big Spring and at the St. Lawrence Gin office in St. Lawrence, according to Leon M. Kinney, committee chairman. The Howard County Committee is composed of Carlton Chapman, Ted Fields, Harvey Adams, Rev. Patrick Casey of Sacred Heart Church, Jack Irons, and Kinney.

Latest figures indicate there are 69,897 acres of dryland cotton and 1,600 acres of irrigated cotton in the county and the committee estimates that the dryland cotton will average a half bale to the acre and the irrigated crop about one bale to the acre, making approximately 36,500 bales for the county. Also present at the meeting were Lee Grublikey, assistant district director, Texas Employment Commission of San Angelo, and Billy Gillum and James Price, of the local TEC office.

The Glasscock County committee met in the afternoon with Fritz Henrichs, E. J. Bednar, Sidney Hirt, Kinney, Grublikey and Gillum attending. A trend almost identical with that of Howard County was predicted with a total crop of 9,690 bales.

Stricken Chuck Pulls One Out

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—Wimbledon champion Chuck McKinley, wincing with pain from a back injury and playing largely on nerve alone, won a dramatic comeback victory over Ecuador's obscure Eduardo Zuleta Saturday 4-6, 3-6, 8-6, 6-3, 6-1 in the first round of the National Tennis Championships.

The stocky 22-year-old star from San Antonio, Tex., suffered a muscle spasm in his back stretching for a wide backhand in the sixth game of the opening set, and from then on hardly could raise his racket over his head.

The crowd of 10,000 was stunned when the 26-year-old, dark-skinned South American spun off the first two sets against the player rated the best in the world. There was a feeling of high excitement when McKinley, scrambling for every ball, pulled out the third set after 14 games and went to intermission.

Doctors quickly diagnosed the trouble as a spasm in the lower back and gave him pills to relax the muscles so he could continue.

"Still, he can't go all out for a couple of days," said Bob Kelleher, captain of the U. S. Davis Cup team.

"He had to win on guts alone," Kelleher said. McKinley's injury is a minor one, not expected to interfere with the United States major Davis Cup matches.

The Americans, with McKinley their No. 1 ace, are scheduled to meet Venezuela in the American Zone final at Denver Sept. 13-15 and, if successful, play the British at Bournemouth later in the month.

Then follow matches with India and Australia, unless the team is beaten. "We expect to go all the way—and with Chuck," said Kelleher.

Knowledgeable tennis fans were stricken with a strange feeling when they saw McKinley suddenly go off his robust, ball-smashing game midway of the opening set. Wincing on almost every shot, McKinley battled hard to take the third set, despite the sparkling play at times of the resourceful and cagy Zuleta.

The 26-year-old Ecuadorian, son of an oil distributor, stayed in the back court and peppered McKinley with sharp slice shots off both backhand and forehand, occasionally putting over a drop shot or wafting a lazy lob over McKinley's head.

Instead of smashing the overheads, McKinley had to run around the lob and hit them on a bounce from the back court.

In the final two sets, the thick-legged Trinity University student was tremendous. He scrambled to the net for Zuleta's drop shots, raced back to retrieve his lobs and outfought him in exciting baseline duels.

The crowd gave McKinley a standing ovation when the match ended with Zuleta sending a short shot into the net.

Twins Blanked By Two Sox Hurlers, 2-0

MINNESOTA (AP)—The Chicago White Sox took over second place in the American League race Saturday with a 2-0 victory over the Minnesota Twins on ninth inning back-to-back home runs by Jim Landis and Floyd Robinson.

Boyer's Blow Pushes Cards Past Phillies

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Ken Boyer slammed a two-run homer with two out in the top of the 11th inning to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 7-5 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Saturday.

The Phillies had forced the game into extra innings when Clay Dalrymple came through with a game-tying two-run homer in the bottom of the ninth.

Bobby Shantz, in relief of starter Ernie Broglio, picked up his fifth victory keeping the second place Cardinals alive in the National League pennant race.

Johnny Klippstein, who replaced Dennis Bennett in the eighth, was the Philly loser. After Klippstein had retired Julian Javier in the 11th, Shantz struck singled. Bill White fired out but Boyer lined his 19th home run into the left field roof.

Three of the Cards runs were unearned in a comedy of errors. There were seven miscues with the Phillies guilty of five.

Seven Horses Show Up In Order
SCARBOROUGH, Maine (AP)—Odds on this oddity are incalculable but it may divert the "Figuring Fibers" crowd.

There were seven horses entered in the ninth and final race at Scarborough Downs Friday night.

They came across the finish line in the exact order of their post positions.

Three-Way Combo Of Ron Not Lucky
LONDON (AP)—A horse named Ron trained by a man named Ron and ridden by a jockey named Ron in the Daily Mirror Handicap at the Sandown Park race track Saturday. He lost easily.

Ron—the horse—started at odds of 100 to 1 in a field of 21. The race was won by El Gallo at 100 to 8.

Equipment Issued To Baylor Bears
WACO (AP)—Baylor issued equipment Saturday to 75 football players, several more than expected.

"I didn't see a fat man in the lot," Coach John Bridgers said. "The boys appear to have all reported in first class condition and eager to get started."

Practice begins Monday.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

One hears that coach Bear Bryant of the University of Alabama, feeling himself vindicated in Wally Butts' libel action against the Saturday Evening Post, may dismiss his suit against the magazine.

Bryant has plenty of money. Ronnie Welty, the Hereford athlete who had agreed to accept a half scholarship from Howard County Junior College, will attend Amarillo College instead on a full scholarship.

The St. Louis-Baltimore franchise is the only American (baseball) League club to lose more than 5,000 games since 1901.

Johnny Warren, who competed for the visitors in the Fina-Cosden Cup matches at the Big Spring Country Club here Friday, recently won the City golf championship in his home town, Midland.

As if the prospect of facing a reved-up Lamesa football team this weekend isn't bad enough, the Big Spring Steers must also try and get ready for Snyder, where coach Horace Bostick has conceded prospects are better than he had dared hope.

Two big guards Bostick hadn't counted on are coming through in fine style and will go a long way toward solving the club's line problems.

Snyder boasts one of the finest backfields in the state. The only problem there is which quarterback to play.

The one who sits on the bench could be resentful.

For that reason, Bostick may divide those duties as evenly as possible.

The District 3-AAA race could go right down to the wire, with Brownfield, Lamesa and Snyder all in a position to make serious bids for the title.

Right now, it'd say the championship over will be determined when Lamesa and Snyder meet.

Bobby Lee Horn, a fine young middleweight boxer, died recently in an auto crash near Oyo.

He had been beaten only once in 18 fights and was booked to fight again four days after he departed this vale of tears.

Miss Smith, from Albany, Australia, made only 12 errors—six of these in one game—in crushing Mrs. Lisa Gran Andersen, 100-pound Danish mother of a 15-year-old boy, 6-0, 6-0.

Miss Hard, winner here in 1961, was far off her usual form in beating Edda Herdy of Austria 4-4, 6-3. The husky California girl had no zap on her shots and she flubbed a number of easy volleys.

Also disappointing was Rafael Osuna, the cat-like Mexican Davis Cupper, who upheld his No. 4 seeded position by beating Jean Loup Rouyer, an 18-year-old Algerian, 6-1, 8-6, 6-3.

Ham Richardson, of Dallas, seeded No. 8, downed Tony Lieberman of Philadelphia 6-3, 6-1, 6-1.

Groat And Kaline 'Most Valuable?'

Wichita Falls, which will send its Coyotes against Big Spring here the night of Oct. 4, was once applauded for the fans who gave its high school teams unwavering support but coach Hunter Kirkpatrick of the Coyotes says the town is split wide open now that two more high schools have been added to the system.

Abilene High and Odessa Permian, rated high in pre-season football polls, are both faced with line problems and no one knows it better than their coaches.

As if things weren't bad enough at Permian, coach Jim Cashion recently learned he would lose Jeff Ellig, one of his regulars, for at least six weeks due to a siege of Bright's disease.

Another Permian player got married and quit the squad after last season.

Joe Sibley, the former Big Spring coaching aide, considered an offer to join the Port Arthur staff before signing on with Ball High of Galveston.

Bradley Mills, the Odessa High mentor, says one of the things that brightens his outlook is the strength of his defensive secondary, which rates with the best in the area.

When asked recently what defense would prove most effective against the powerful Ross Montgomery, Midland High's Harold King remarked facetiously, "a 30-ounce 6-man boxer."

Carpenters are replacing the floors out there.

tremendous this fall. I look for Dick Groat of the St. Louis Cardinals and Al Kaline of the Detroit Tigers to be named the most valuable players in their respective leagues this year.

Hugh Cochran, the former Big Spring who is now basketball coach at Odessa High School, is paid $15 a game for operating the clock at Odessa High School home tilts.

H.C.J.'s basketball team probably can't get into his gym for practice sessions before Oct. 15, if by then.

Carpenters are replacing the floors out there.

Cowboys Still Need Two Linemen

Big Spring's Al Kloven gained serious consideration recently for the coaching job vacated by Jerry Cunningham at Westbrook High School.

Local football coaches are still talking about the devastating job Vernon Jackson did in the Exes' line in that spring game against the Steers.

Jackson played as a sophomore here, then quit.

He would have been a tremendous athlete his senior year.

Eddie Acri, the local golfer, went to school in Hazelton Pa., with Tony Bova, brother of the entombed miner, Louis Bova.

The University of Washington is really loaded for the approaching football season but probably will have to play second fiddle to Southern Cal on the West Coast again.

The Washington stadium, which seats 55,000, is already sold out for every home game.

Abilene Cooper has a football squad this season consisting of 16 seniors, 18 juniors and a lone sophomore.

Clovis Riley, the Cooper coach, says Barry Phillips will probably be his best lineman.

"We'll definitely be better than we were last year," Riley said recently.

Riley wanted to meet Monahans in a pre-season scrimmage here next Saturday morning but the field had already been reserved by Odessa High and Sweetwater.

Average score of a Dallas Cowboys' NFL game last year was 28-28.

The Cowboys still need a couple of linemen who know how to rush a passer.

Coach Tom Landry of the Cowboys speaks out boldly about the future.

Raych he: "We have the nucleus of a team that I'm sure will reach the Green Bay now enjoys."

One of the most pleasing additions to the District 2-AAAA coaching fraternity is Dub Headrick, Midland High's new baseball mentor, who really isn't new at all.

Headrick held that job from 1953 through 1958.

Tigers Surge Late To Win

CLEVELAND (AP)—Bubba Phillips squeezed the winning run home to cap a three-run ninth inning rally Saturday and the Detroit Tigers trimmed the Cleveland Indians 9-8.

Jerry Walker, who snuffed out a Tiger rally in relief in the fourth inning, was the victim of the ninth Dick McAuliffe singled, Al Kaline doubled and Rocky Colavito walked.

Norm Cash singled home two runs before Phillips bunted the winning run across.

Fred Gladding won his first major league victory in relief. Walker got the loss.

Cowboys Slam 49ers, 37-24

Boston and New York met today at New Brunswick, N. J., to end the AFL warm-ups for a new season that begins next Friday.

Monday, the NFL—which opens on Sept. 14—has a big one, a night battle at Green Bay between the Packers and the New York Giants, the team they've licked in the NFL title game the last two years.

Friday night, five field goals by Lou Michaels carried the Pittsburgh Steelers to a 27-7 victory over Detroit at Tiger Stadium, and in Bakersfield, Calif., the Dallas Cowboys dealt San Francisco its fourth straight loss, 37-24.

Michaels, a left-footed kicker, clicked on field goals of 42, 20, 36, 27 and 16 yards against the impotent Lions in Friday night's Pittsburgh-Detroit game.

The Steelers also scored on John Henry Johnson's short plunge set up by a pass interception, while Detroit's only touchdown came on a 31-yard pass play from Earl Morrall to Gail Cogdill.

Cogdill worked as a flanker back instead of split end because of injuries to the two top Detroit flankers, Terry Harp and Pat Sturdivant.

Plum, the Lions' regular QB, also was out—recovering from injuries suffered in the pre-season opener.

Jim Steiger, a rookie halfback from the University of Washington, scored on runs of three and 35 yards and Sam Baker kicked three field goals as Dallas rallied from a 21-13 halftime deficit against San Francisco.

Abe Woodson raced 62 yards to score with a punt for San Francisco and Jerry Overton went 63 with a 49er punt for Dallas in the free-wheeling game.

Herring Fights Bill McMurray

HOUSTON (AP)—Bill McMurray of Sacramento, Calif., and Tod Herring of Houston, heavyweights, fight a 10-round main event Tuesday.

Both are Class A fighters.

McMurray, at 212, has won 17 pro fights. He has lost seven.

Herring, Texas state heavyweight champion, weighs 210. He will be going after his 23rd win against two losses.

Preliminary matches have Benny Bowser of Austin, Texas light-heavyweight champion, facing Sherman Goodman of Houston in one six round bout, and light-weight Henry Dominguez of Houston meeting Leon Amie of Dallas in another six rounder.

In a four round preliminary matching heavyweights, Clarence Boone of Fort Worth meets Irish Jimmy Manahan of Houston.

John Bateman, Houston catcher, looks up to the top of the steel works of the Houston domed stadium as he takes on some high dropped balls. Bateman took on the challenge to catch the high drops. # Texas' Future To Be Outlined DALLAS — A look into the future of Texas oil operations—petroleum markets, U. S. space programs, and Congressional attitudes toward the industry—are scheduled for the 44th Annual meeting of Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association at the Rice Hotel in Houston, Sept. 23-25.

Growth Of Fina Noted

Entry of American Petrofina into the petrochemical field was noted in the August issue of World Petroleum, the management publication of the international petroleum industry.

Permian Area Rotary Count Holds Steady At 199 Units

Rotary drilling operations in the Permian Basin Empire held to a steady level on the Friday survey of Reed Roller Bit Company operations in the local eight county area, however, showed another drop.

Cosden Chemist Attends Course

Doug Warren, chemist with Cosden Oil and Chemical Co., recently completed a course in infrared and ultraviolet absorption spectroscopy at Arizona State University in Tempe, Ariz.

Shaheen Trying To Dual In Wolfcamp

Shaheen and Sons of Abilene will try to dualy complete their No. 2 Nellie P. Sellers, Sterling County operation, from the upper and lower Wolfcamp through perforations.

No information on shows or tests have been released on this venture 20 miles northwest of Sterling City. It spots 2,066 feet from the north and 2,057 feet from the east lines of section 63-17, SPRR survey.

The test is three-fourths mile northwest of the same operator's No. 1 Sellers, which was recently completed from both the upper and lower Wolfcamp.

That well was designated as the opener of the Victoria (lower Wolfcamp) pool and its production from the upper Wolfcamp was assigned to the Triple M (upper Wolfcamp) area. It was a 1 1/4 mile southwest extension to the latter reservoir.

Two of the projects are in the Sharon Ridge (1,700) field in Mitchell County. Both are filed by W. C. Russell of Lubbock.

No. 13 E. T. Strain spots 1,240 feet from the south and 2,310 feet from the east lines of section 10, George J. Reiger survey, on a 190-acre lease about 12 miles southeast of Ira No. 12 E. T. Strain spots 1,240 feet from the south and 1,650 feet from the east lines of the same section. Both are contracted for 1,750 feet and will be drilled by cable tool rig. In Howard County, Sawnie Robertson, Dallas operator, steaked No. 1-1 W. N. and L. R. Reed as a Howard-Glasscock field location. It spots 467 feet from the north and west lines of section 14-29, W&N survey, on a 160-acre lease about seven miles southeast of Forsan. Projected bottom is 3,200 feet by rotary.

Mitchell County also picked up a new Turner-Grady (Clear Fork) well with completion of C. W. Guthrie No. 6 Murphy. The well made 66 barrels of 28-gravity oil, with two per cent water, on initial present proportion. Oil's share of total energy consumption in the United States, however, is expected to remain relatively constant.

The postwar growth in demand for oil in foreign areas continues to chip away at the dominant role the United States long has held as the world's leading oil consuming area.

U.S. demand averaged 4.9 million barrels a day in 1946, compared to only 2.8 million for all other areas. Domestic demand had jumped to 8.7 million barrels by 1957 but the total for other areas had zoomed to 9.4 million daily.

World oil estimates the United States demand will increase about 2 1/2 per cent a year with areas outside the U.S. increasing about 8 per cent a year.

"Sharp gains abroad will reflect both growing use of energy and oil's increasing share as the source of energy," the magazine said.

"By 1975, Western Europe, for example, will be using much more energy than now and oil will then be supplying 60 per cent of its energy needs, or double the

Pan Am Files Deep Wildcat

Pan American Petroleum Corp. and Westbrook-Thompson Holding Corp. No. 1 T. G. Hendrick, Winkler County wildcat, has been re-scheduled to 14,000 feet as a Pennsylvania test. It is nine miles west of Kermit.

Originally projected to 12,500 feet, it had reached 11,860 feet in an unidentified lime, shale and chert section and was making hole.

The location is 1,980 feet from the south and east lines of section 34-27, PSL survey, about 6 1/2 miles northwest of Pennsylvania production in the multipay Emperor field.

Tom Green County gained a 4,100-foot Cisco sand explorer about nine miles north of San Angelo and 1 1/4 miles southwest of the Devil's Courthouse (Cisco sand) pool. It is LS&R Petroleum Company of Midland No. 1 E. M. Baker. Location is 660 feet from the south and west lines of W. J. Skinner Survey No. 1.

Standard Oil No. 50-15W A. M. Bell was finished in the Iatan (San Andres) field in Howard County as a water-injection well. It was bottomed at 2,440 feet in section 7-30, T&P survey.

Col-Tex Man Ends Service

R. C. Johnson today retires from the Col-Tex Refinery, Colorado City after nearly 38 years with the company. Only two men have amassed longer terms of service.

Col-Tex was barely a year old when Johnson visited a friend at the plant Oct. 3, 1925 and decided to stay. He had been employed in the oil industry in California and was visiting his mother in Texas.

Johnson has handled almost every job at the plant since he began as a maintenance man. He progressed to crude stillman, night foreman and then took charge of blending and treating of gasoline and asphalt.

Retirement for Johnson will mean more opportunity to green up the garden at his home in Colorado City. Mrs. Johnson, however, has no plans for retiring. She operates a beauty shop.

Commission Notes 161 Oil And 25 Gas Wells Completed

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission said Saturday 161 oil and 25 gas wells were completed last week.

The year totals are 5,686 oil wells, compared to 7,001 and 1,658 gas wells, compared to 2,284.

A total of 169 wells were plugged last week, including 105 dry holes. The only wildcat completed with an oil well.

The total average calendar day allowable is 2,993,768 barrels, an increase of 11,459.

COSDEN meet the SENIORS of the Cosden family... MRS. ELEANOR R. MATHENY

One day Mrs. Eleanor R. Matheny had a telephone call from a friend who reported that Cosden needed an additional billing clerk in the refinery's accounting section. She re-arranged her household schedule and drove out to have an interview with the personnel manager. He asked if she could begin the job that noon. So it was that Mrs. Matheny joined Cosden on May 26, 1948.

Her scope of responsibility has shifted through these 15 years as a billing clerk in sales accounting; presently she is increasing her versatility by learning to operate the flexewriter. The job has meant even more to her since her 23-year marriage ended four years ago with the death of her husband, Chester D. Matheny.

Mrs. Matheny is a steadfast booster of Big Spring. She was born here to the late Mr. and Mrs. Harvey L. Rix, who for 40 years operated a furniture store. She graduated with the Big Spring High School Class of 1934.

The role she most enjoys is being aunt to nine nieces and nephews and great-aunt to eight more, scattered through Texas, New Mexico and California. Always an avid fan of the Steers, she follows all their games. Her cheering was even louder when one of her nephews, Gary Pickle, was on the team as a lineman. Professional football also strikes her interest.

Three years ago she bought a house at 407 Pennsylvania and happily plunged into a redecorating project to adapt it to her own personality. From girlhood she has had a penchant for cooking, her skill at baking being well known among family and friends. She has given away scores of recipes.

Mrs. Matheny is a member of the First Methodist Church. Long involved in Desk & Derrick Club, she has attended three national conventions. She is a charter member and former treasurer of the local group.

Drivers! Stop And Think About This Message; TRAFFIC SAFETY DEPENDS ON YOUR ATTITUDE!

One of the biggest differences between a safe driver and one who has a record of accidents is each driver's mental attitude. The safe driver is a person with a mature outlook — he knows that operating a motor vehicle is not kids' play; he knows that the machine under his guidance can be a lethal weapon. It can kill. The safe driver knows that traffic rules have been designed not to "catch him up," but to keep him safe. He knows, too, that driving skill is not enough; it must be combined with common sense and courtesy. Have a safe driver's attitude!

WIVES NOTE HOLIDAY

BULLETINS ARE BOUNTIFUL as shown by Mrs. A. G. Goodson, center, to her friends, Mrs. Frank Parker, right, and Mrs. Roy Watkins. These wives of officers in the International Union of Operating Engineers Local 826 find that "ABCs of Trade Unionism" and "Your Social Security" are of vital concern to them and their children. Labor Day means the end of the Houston convention of the Texas State AFL-CIO, which Goodson and Parker serve as vice presidents. Goodson is president of the IUOE Local 826. Parker is the IUOE business manager, and Watkins is the treasurer.

since the founding of the division. Earlier in the year, a luncheon was served in Carpenter's Hall in observance of the year. A special feature of the luncheon, the history of the Lone Star Division, was given by Mrs. Charles Koberg who received her 50-year GLA pin.

TRAINMEN LADIES, the auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, this weekend are making plans for Mrs. Ellie Lowry's visit. Mrs. Lowry of Pine Bluff, Ark., will be here in October to conduct a class of instruction. She is the Seventh District vice grand president. Preliminary planning took place this week at the home of Mrs. J. P. Meador, 111 N. Nolan. Shown from left are Mrs. A. J. Kane, president; Mrs. W. C. Moore, vice president; Mrs. Meador and Mrs. Frank G. Powell, treasurer. One hundred and 20 women make up the local auxiliary which was chartered Jan. 13, 1913.

LABOR DAY WEEKEND means a special holiday to the wives, from right, of David Faulkenberry, John Pitts and Oscar Pitts, members of the Brick Masons Local No. 35. The Faulkenberrys planned their vacation at Carlsbad and White Sands, N.M. Wichita, Kan. was the destination of the John Pitts family, and the Oscar Pittses decided to "take it easy" right here at home. Faulkenberry and John Pitts are past presidents of the local.

B OF LF&E wives were organized in 1902 and in their charter were named the Ladies Society of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers. Here, Mrs. J. C. Cravens, president, and Mrs. D. C. Pyle, vice president, examine the 50-year pin which will be presented to Mrs. R. V. Jones at the Brotherhood dinner Oct. 4 in Carpenter's Hall. The Ladies Society is comprised of 150 members.

Big Spring Daily Herald

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1963

MRS. BEN HOWARD FRANKLIN

NTSU Students Are United In Marriage

Miss Deanna Lea O'Brien and Ben Howard Franklin exchanged marriage vows Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the First Baptist Church. The double ring rites were read by the Rev. Robert E. Polk, pastor, before sunburst arrangements of white gladioli and mums placed before a background of palms. The nuptial scene was illumined with wedding tapers, and aisles were marked with satin bows.

Mr. and Mrs. Bledsoe O'Brien, 1205 Goliad, are parents of the bride. Franklin's parents are Mrs. O. K. Fletcher of Snyder and Ben. H. Franklin, Dallas.

Jack Hendrix, organist, played "Aria" by Peeters, "I Love Thee" by Greig, "Liebestraum" by Liszt and "O Promise Me" preceding the ceremony. He accompanied Walter Wheat who sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer." Processional music was the traditional "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin by Wagner. The recessional was Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

A deep-pleated imperial gown of white organza and taffeta was worn by the bride, who was given in marriage by her father. Applied panels of Alencon lace, detailed with sequins and seed pearls, adorned the full, sweeping skirt and the contoured bodice. Long sleeves tapered to points over the hands, and the neckline was scooped. A flowing chapel train was formed by the skirt. Ropes of seed pearls formed scallops between points of the pearl and lace crown which secured her veil of illusion. She carried a semi-cascade bouquet of white frenched carnations and white orchids, showered with white ribbon and lily-of-the-valley.

ATTENDANTS
Miss Kerry O'Brien, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Katherine Hepper and Miss Marilyn Gum. Their aquainted, organza dresses were designed with scooped necklines, capped sleeves and belted skirts which were smocked with seed pearls. Their hats were of matching aqua shade, and they carried bouquets of white and aqua feathered mums and asters.

Clark Jennings of Tulsa was best man, with Robert Vermillion of Dallas, uncle of the bride, and Tommy Kelley of Coleman, cousin of the bridegroom, serving as groomsmen. Ushers were Jerry Gilmore, Roger Hubbard and Maynard Wilson, Austin, cousin of the bridegroom.

Tapers were lighted by Jana Hubbard of Odessa and Glenna Brown, Hobbs, N.M., cousins of the bride. Kelly Vermillion, Dallas, also a cousin, was flower girl. All were attired in aqua-tinted organza. The flower girl's lace basket was filled with rose petals.

RECEPTION
Guests were received afterward in Fellowship Hall by the couple, the parents and the bride's attendants. They were registered previously in the sanctuary by Miss Susan Bean.

Mrs. A. D. Bryant of Denton, Miss Genevieve Spray, Denton, Miss Locke Crossland and Miss Freda Bonfield were those who presided at the bride's table spread with a skirted, white satin cloth and an overlay of silk organza. Bouquets of the bride's attendants formed the centerpiece, and the bride's cake, designed with white columns and three tiers, was frosted white, embossed with white bells, roses and petals, and topped with the bridal figurines.

Others in the house party were Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Creighton, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Coker, Mr. and Mrs. Dwan Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Proctor, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hagood, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Hudgins, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hendrick, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Coker, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dunlap, Mr. and Mrs. Zack Gray, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Hubbard of Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Draper, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Vermillion of Dallas, and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Brown of Hobbs, N.M.

OUT OF TOWN GUESTS
Out of town guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Oakes of Lubbock; Mrs. Mack Simmons of Clyde; Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Close, all of Coleman; Mrs. Jeanne Pepper of Hamlin; Mr. and Mrs. L.

G. Wilson, Big Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Wilson, Austin; Mr. and Mrs. James Shields, Charles Muslowwhite Snyder, Mrs. Lena Crow, Ahlene, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Woods, Snyder; Mrs. Edna Crouch and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lynn, San Angelo; and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Wilson, Houston.

HOME IN DENTON
After a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the couple will be at home in the Graduate Apartments, Denton. For traveling the bride wore an oyster white silk suit, a coordinate print blouse, oyster white accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

The bride, a graduate of Big Spring High School in 1961, is a senior Spanish major at North Texas State University. The bridegroom is a 1960 graduate of Snyder High School and is a senior history major at North Texas. Both will return to school for the fall semester.

REHEARSAL DINNER
Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Fletcher were host and hostess for the rehearsal dinner held Thursday evening at Coker's Restaurant.

Twenty-two guests were seated at a U shaped table centered with a runner of aqua ribbon. At the head table a miniature bride and groom were placed in a base of white net, before a large heart made of ruffled net. Attached to place cards were miniature rings and garters.

Following the dinner, Miss O'Brien and Franklin presented their attendants with gifts.

Meet Madame President

A 10-year-old sixth grader heads the Junior Garden Club. She is Patricia Ann Shapland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Shapland, 2701 Cactus Drive. Patricia attends Parkhill School, and for the past three years she has studied organ with Mrs. Champ Rainwater. A talented young lady, Patricia also travels to Midland for art lessons with Mrs. Elda Prickett. Besides her school, gardening, art and music work, she is an active member of the youth program at St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

Parties honoring Maj. and Mrs. Harry Hon have been given this week prior to their departure for Turkey. Maj. and Mrs. Hon are reassigned to Ankara, and will leave Big Spring about Sept. 9.

BUFFET LUNCHEON
Mrs. Rex Fryar, Mrs. John Larson and Mrs. Dave Hodson were hostesses for a buffet luncheon Friday at the home of Col. and Mrs. Fryar, 5 Albroom.

Attired in a gray summer suit, Mrs. Hon received a white orchid corsage from the hostesses. She also received a Texas charm, the hostess gift, and a silver tray from the Wing Wives.

The green linen covered table was centered with a contemporary centerpiece formed of polystyrene and summer blossoms. Seventeen guests were served.

OFFICE FETE
Personnel from the Procurement Office at Webb came to the home of the Hons, 92 Ent, bringing with them ice cream, cake and a gift for the couple. The refreshments were served on the lawn.

MR. AND MRS. JACK K. DUMPHY AND DANA

Native Texan Becomes Loan Officer Here

By JO BRIGHT
New to Big Spring, but native Texans are Mr. and Mrs. Jack K. Dumphy, 2712 Lynn St., who came here Aug. 5, when he accepted the position of loan officer with First Federal Savings and Loan Co.

Born in Kilgore, Dumphy spent most of his boyhood in Sour Lake, near Beaumont.

He describes four years spent in the Air Force as rather like attending college on an athletic scholarship. A great deal of his service time was spent in competitive team sports, including football, baseball and volleyball. His team was, at one time, champion of the Fourth Army competition and was afforded the opportunity to go to the national events.

"Sports is still my hobby," said Dumphy, "and I plan to do some golfing in the late afternoons." He may have a companion in his wife, Betty, who has just taken up the game.

Mrs. Dumphy was raised in San Antonio, where she attended San Antonio College and worked as a legal secretary until her marriage. The Dumphys continued to make their home in San Antonio where he attended St. Mary's University. In 1958 he received his BBA, majoring in economics.

BANKING

While attending the university, Dumphy worked part-time at a local bank, which sparked his interest in that field. Following graduation, he became an examiner for the Federal Home Loan Bank Board in the Ninth Banking District, his travels taking him and his family over 300,000 miles.

Dumphy worked with banks in Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas. The family, which by that time included a daughter, Dana Kay, was rarely able to spend more than three weeks in one city. They sometimes went through much of a state in a matter of weeks.

"At first we traveled with everything we needed — including an ironing board — packed in the car," said Mrs. Dumphy, "but it was a miserable way to travel, so we soon invested in a large trailer."

Even then, travel was never dull. Sometimes there were towns without trailer parks so the Dumphys camped on river banks or in a friendly resident's yard. If they arrived in a town in the wee hours, they parked by the side of a filling station until morning. Once, in Little Rock, when they were stuck in deep mud, strangers invited them in for supper and helped them dislodge the trailer.

SIGHTSEEING

While Dumphy was at work, his wife and daughter visited historical sites along the way. Mrs. Dumphy was most impressed with the mountains because of their beauty and the often harrowing experiences they had when pulling the trailer over them.

Settled at last in a home without wheels, Mrs. Dumphy plans to garden and continue her study of foreign languages. When the family has time together, she plans to teach her husband and Dana to play the organ during musical evenings at home.

Joe Mize Visits

Joe Mize has been spending a vacation here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Mize, Hilltop Road, before returning to Purdue University where he is working on his doctoral program.

Couple's Vows Said In Parsonage Service

The parsonage at Wesley Methodist Church was the scene for Miss Ginny Elizabeth Newman's marriage to Jackie Don Crawford. The double ring service, read by the Rev. J. H. Sharp, pastor, was solemnized at 8 o'clock Friday evening.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Newman, Route 2, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Crawford, 1111 W. Seventh.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white embroidered organza styled with a full, street length skirt, scalloped neckline and sleeves and a lowered V-shaped waistline. She wore a small, veiled hat of white and a pearl necklace was her only ornament. She carried a nosegay of white carnations with a white Bible.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Willard Doshier of Stanton, was matron of honor, with Melvin Fryar serving as best man to the bridegroom.

After a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the couple will be at home at 1600 Jennings St. For travel the bride wore a sheath of orange and white accessories.

The bride attended Stanton High School, and the bridegroom, presently employed with Fiveash Plumbing Co., attended Big Spring High School.

Miss Hinkle Is Honored

Mrs. John B. Knox and her daughter, Sue, were hostesses Friday evening at a dinner party honoring their houseguest, Miss Ann Hinkle. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hinkle and is spending the weekend in the Knox home.

A graduate of Midland High School, Miss Hinkle will leave soon to enter Sophie Newcomb College in New Orleans.

The guest list of 15 included a number of young women who are returning to college this month. Serving was on the garden patio where tables were covered with pastel cloths and centered with fresh flowers.

Other guests in the Knox home are Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lock of San Angelo, who will be here through the holiday.

MRS. DONALD ZUREK

Miss Griden Becomes Bride Of Lt. Zurek

Repeating their vows at Immaculate Heart of Mary Church Saturday morning, Miss Rotha Gretchen Griden and Lt. Donald Joseph Zurek, Webb AFB, were united in marriage by the Rev. Francis Beazley officiated in the double ring service.

White gladioli and basket arrangements of white gladioli marked the nuptial scene and wedding music was presented by Mrs. Leslie Green, organist. Mrs. Harold Talbot sang "Ave Maria" by Schubert, "Blessed Be This Day," "Panis Angelicus" and "Thanks Be To God." As the bride offered her bouquet, "Mother at Thy Feet Is Kneeling" was sung.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Garland Howard Griden, 1007 Scurry, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zurek, Chicago, Ill. Given by her father in marriage, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin designed with a princess bodice, a scooped neckline, tapered, petal point sleeves, and full, sweeping skirt. A patterned detail with satin bows enhanced the skirt and the neckline border. A crown of pearls secured the bouffant, tiered veil of illusion. With her prayer book, the bride carried a white orchid in a bouquet of feathered chrysanthemums.

Miss Bernadine Zurek of Chicago, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She and the bridesmaid, Miss Jo Ann Horton, were attired in identical, full skirted dresses. The peau de soie fabric was peacock blue and was matched by their slippers. They wore short white gloves and single strands of pearls. Their flowers were nosegays tied with white satin streamers.

Lt. George Forbes of San Antonio was best man, and Lt. Steve Hopkins, South Windsor, Conn., groomsmen. The bride's brother, Kenneth Griden of Idaho, served as usher.

GUESTS RECEIVED

A reception was held afterward at the Officers Club, Webb AFB, with the couple, the parents and attendants in the receiving line. The refreshment table, spread with a Madeira, cutwork cloth, was centered with an arrangement of blue and white carnations. Blue flowers adorned the white frosted wedding cake which was three tiered and topped with bride and groom figurines.

Guests were registered by Miss Shirley McCray. Others in the house party were Mrs. John Puckett, Mrs. James Horton, Mrs. Richard Thomas, Mrs. Otelle Puckett, Mrs. Albert McGuffey and Mrs. L. P. Saunders.

Out of town guests were Mr.

TRAVEL ENSEMBLE

For their wedding trip to Carlsbad, N.M., the bride chose an orlon knit suit in blue, a matching blue hat and black accessories. Lt. and Mrs. Zurek will reside at 511 Bell St. until his orders have been processed. They soon will go to Chicago and on into Canada.

The bride, a graduate of Big Spring Senior High School and McMurry College at Abilene, is a member of Gamma Sigma Social Club. Zurek is a graduate of Mendel Catholic High School, Chicago. He received his bachelor of science in electrical engineering at the Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago, and is presently a second lieutenant in the Air Force.

Orientation Course Is Slated At Webb AFB

For the purpose of providing Air Force families with essential information on matters pertaining to the Air Force Personal Affairs Program, the mission and organization of the Air Training Command and this Wing, and to provide general information to assist the enrollees to better adjust and enjoy their AF way of life, a Family Services Orientation Course is slated for Sept. 4, 5 and 6.

Col. Howard J. Withycombe, commander, points out that an understanding of these facets of military life will be invaluable information toward insuring optimum benefits from the military career chosen by the men and their wives.

REGISTRATION
Registration will begin at 8:45 a.m. Sept. 4 at John Lees Service Club, where the course will be conducted from 9 until 11:30 a.m. each day.

Speakers and instructors including Col. Withycombe, will be specialists in their fields. Subjects to be covered during the seven and a half hour course will include the Mission of Air Training Command and 3560th Pilot Training Wing, Mission of the 3560th Pilot Training Group, Mission of the 31st Fighter Interceptor Squadron, Allotments and Pay, Medical Care, Personnel Services, the Base Chaplain, Air Police Activities, Wing Office of Information, Base Legal Lecture, Personal Affairs, Air Force Wives' Program, Services of the American Red Cross to Assigned Military Personnel and Dependents at Webb Air Force Base, the Base

Exchange and the WAFB Federal Credit Union.

Concluding the course, certificates will be given to those who complete it. Also, recognition will be given to volunteers whose services will be terminated.

Rings Are Fashion Comeback

Back in fashion are grand and important costume rings that could have been worn by any of the famous women in history, says Morique, Chicago Tribune writer. Usually straight copies of beautiful old rings, they show a large center stone surrounded by a halo of smaller ones. Set in gold metal with an antique finish, they gain attention with entirely new artificial gems of great brilliance that change color as you look at them. Also popular is a new repertoire of stones that mimic pale aquamarines, amethysts, topazes, as well as smoky crystals that look like the old-rose diamonds featured in 18th-century jewelry.

In a newer vein are baby charm rings by Jeanne Peral made of as many as 10 beads and tiny gold motifs each mounted on a hook to dangle independently from one another. The result is a delicious bush of beads and charms worn on the little finger and running down the side of the hand. A typical mixture may include among enamel beads of all shades and sizes, tiny goldfish, hearts, and baby owls—all symbols of good luck.

WEBB WINDSOCK

By MARGE LYNCH
Wednesday, at 12:45 noon, those interested in bowling will meet at the Bowl-A-Rama for roll-offs to determine averages and form teams for the coming season. The roll-offs are necessary for regular and substitute members of teams. The following week, on Sept. 11, the regular bowling sessions will begin.

The executive tea for Mrs. Howard J. Withycombe, the new wing commander's wife, will be at the O'Club on Thursday, Sept. 5, from 3 to 5 p.m. Mrs. Withycombe will be receiving for the first 45 minutes only, so plan to arrive before 3:45 p.m. All officers' wives should plan to attend this tea. Hats and gloves should be worn.

Capt. and Mrs. Al Lindsley and Lt. and Mrs. Jack Fetty were honored last week at a dinner party given by the Medical Group at the O'Club. The Cosden Club's Blue Room was the scene Tuesday morning for the Medical Group's Coffee hosted by Mrs. Charles Lillie, Mrs. Thomas Carroll, Mrs. Raymond Kasher and Mrs. Robert Koberstein were welcomed to the group and farewells were said to Mrs. Al Lindsley and Mrs. Jack Fetty.

Capt. and Mrs. Frank Johnson have returned from a camping trip in Yellowstone National Park. Capt. and Mrs. Leonard Trovra had a trip to New Orleans for the wedding of his brother.

Lt. and Mrs. Robert Wray have recently visited Ruidoso, N.M., and Oklahoma City.

Lt. and Mrs. Donald Greenwade are enjoying a visit from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Smith from Greenville, during this long weekend.

A Hi and Bye Coffee was given by Mrs. Richard McClurg for the residents of N. Chanute last Tuesday morning in her home. Bye was said to Mrs. Paul Lee and Hi was said to Mrs. M. Swann. Banana bread, orange tea doughnuts, coffee cake and melon balls were served on a pink cloth, with butterfiles perched on a small tree for the centerpiece.

Park Hill Terrace Pool was the scene of a swimming party and pot luck supper for old and new members of Hammer Flight. Welcomed to the group were Lt. and Mrs. Charles Brame, Lt. and Mrs. William Scott, Lt. and Mrs. William Cottrell, and Lt. and Mrs. Thomas Skanehy. The latter two will be going to Hatcher Flight shortly. Farewells were said to Capt. and Mrs. George Fortner, now assistant operations officer; Capt. and Mrs. Gerald Terreau, Lt. and Mrs. William Hales, Lt. and Mrs. Kenneth Koskela, gone to Falcon Flight; Capt. Nelson Allen, to academics; and Lt. Paul Sullivan, gone to Maxwell AFB for Squadron Officers' School.

Resin Disappears

When fresh pine or fir lumber is being handled, a sticky resin often oozes out to stain hands and mess up tools. Though this sappy residue is difficult to remove with conventional soaps or hand cleaners, it will wash off easily with ordinary rubbing alcohol.

To remove excess solvent or thinner from a paint brush after cleaning, the brush should be twirled rapidly by spinning the handle between the hands. To avoid spattering, the brush should be held down inside an empty pail or carton while the handle is held between the palms. The spinning action will clean the brush far more effectively than any amount of shaking or wiping.

Orr-Pavlis Wedding Solemnized At Chapel

The marriage of Miss Carol Jane Pavlis and Jack Udell Orr was solemnized at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the chapel of the First Methodist Church. The Rev. H. B. Graves Jr., pastor of the First Baptist Church, Coahoma, read the double ring service.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Pavlis of Omaha, Neb. are the bride's parents, and Orr is the son of Mrs. James Lawrence Orr and the late Mr. Orr of Coahoma.

Candelabra holding cathedral tapers and arrangements of white flowers were used at the altar. White bows with flowers and greenery marked the aisle.

Miss Delores Howard, organist, presented a program of traditional music and accompanied Lester Morton who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Sheathed in white cotton acetate brocade, the bride was given in marriage by her father. The street length sheath was styled with a scooped neckline and capped sleeves. She wore long, white gloves and a two-strand, pearl necklace. Her veil of illusion was attached to a crown of pearls, and a white orchid and stephanotis formed the bouquet which was carried with a white Bible.

Miss Kay Dewitz, Salt Lake City, Utah, maid of honor, wore a light pink silk sheath, a matching pink hat and slippers. Her flowers were pink rosebuds and feathered mums in a nosegay bouquet.

Glen D. Wells of Fort Worth served as best man, with ushers being Robert F. Pavlis, Omaha, brother of the bride, Dabert Lawrence Orr, Corpus Christi, brother of the bridegroom, and another brother, Roy H. Orr of Slaton.

Tapers were lighted by Master John Lusk.

CLUB RECEPTION

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the Cosden Country Club. In the receiving line were the couple, the maid of honor, the bride's parents and the bridegroom's mother.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Lynn Fairies of Fort Worth. A white and pink motif was featured in the wedding cake and centerpiece on the silver appointed refreshment table.

Out of town guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Laurence W. Ellis of Arcadia, Calif., grandparents of the bride; Mrs. C. L. Raymond, Independence, Iowa, aunt of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Dabert L. Orr and family, Corpus Christi; Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Orr and family, Slaton; and the bridegroom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Hollishead, and family of San Antonio.

WEDDING TRIP

After their wedding trip to Monterrey, Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Orr will make their home at 305 1/2 East 8th St. For traveling, she chose to wear her wedding dress

Murphys En Route

Guests in the home of Mrs. W. Crawford, E. Highway 80, are her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Stover, Dallas. The Stovers will remain here over the weekend.

MRS. JACK UDELL ORR

with a matching white brocade jacket trimmed with mink collar. Completing her attire, she selected a matching mink hat, white shoes and accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, where she was a member of Delta Gamma sorority. She was a member of Chi Beta, home economics honorary fraternity, the American Home Economics Association and the Texas HEA. She is serving presently as home economist for the Texas Electric Service Company in Big Spring.

Orr attended Howard County

Shouls Family Visits In Spur

FORSAN (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Shouls and children, Joyce and Jackie, have been visiting in Spur with Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Girder Jr. and sons.

Mrs. Howard Dallas, who has returned from Dallas, is spending several days in Alpine.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Gilmore of Abilene have been visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Gilmore. Others here were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gilmore and children from Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Griffith and children, Kathie and Jeff, of McCarney, also guests of his parents, the J. W. Griffiths.

Furs Look 'Way Out'

There wasn't a mink stole in sight at a recent showing of new fall fashions at the Evans Fur Company according to a Chicago Tribune Fashion writer. The nearest thing to it was a mink coat-stole, an interesting design that from the front looked like a belted coat but ended at waist-level in back.

Among the exciting fashions were a leather-belted lynx ski parka; a hooded ski jacket of white mongolian lamb; a white mouton sweater jacket ribbed in black knitting; a mink sweater (one way to get up on friends with mink-trimmed cashmeres); and a black and white calfskin seven-eighths trench coat.

For those who hanker after something more conventional, there were numerous street-length coats and capes. Qualifying for the more taste than money category was an opulent coat of horizontally worked black rabbit and an Indian gray kidskin coat belted polo style. Somewhat more fabulous (as far as price is concerned) was a round-necked coat of yellow Japanese marten, belted in suede and slit in back, and some very dashing capes.

New furs whose names should be noted include Japanese marten (a gorgeous golden color), shaggy kit fox, curly Mongolian lamb and long haired baby black hair seal. Also important are such striped and spotted furs as zebra and leopard.

Vows Said In Welch Service

LAMESA (SC)—In a solemn candlelight ceremony, Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church at Welch, Miss Frances Elizabeth Wilson became the bride of Vinson Carroll Stanphill of Denison. The Rev. Don Crossland officiated in the double ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson, Welch. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Vinson Stanphill of Denison.

The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of white brocade satin fashioned with a scalloped neckline and sleeves tapered to petal points over the hands. A lowered waistline accented the front and back of her gown and featured a gathered skirt. The gown was designed by the bride.

Her shoulder-length veil of white tulle was attached to pearl tiara, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Wanda Wilson, the bride's sister, was maid of honor and Nolan Clark of Lubbock served as best man.

For traveling the bride chose a blue faille suit fashioned with a buttoned back overblouse, short sleeves and a bias cuff around the waist coming to a "V" in the front. Her suit featured a fitted skirt. She wore a corsage of white carnations from the bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Dawson High School in Welch and South Plains Junior College in Levelland. The bridegroom is a graduate of Denison High School and Texas Tech.

September Song Sung By The Scroll Writer

By NANCY FRANCO
The weatherman may not agree with me, but the fall social season is beginning. I may be wrong about the fall part of the preceding sentence since I find that my air conditioner still is doing a full time job in spite of the fact that it is September. I know, however, that a new social season is beginning.

The first activity of the month will be the welcoming tea for Mrs. Howard J. Withycombe, wife of the new wing commander. The tea will be held at 3 p.m. Thursday at the Officers' Club and a large turn-out is expected.

The monthly student squadron meeting will be held on Sept. 12, hosted by Class 64-H. The board members of the student squadron will meet as usual this month on the Monday preceding the business meeting.

September will be a meaningful one for the wives of Class 64-B for their hard working husbands will receive their wings on the 11th, although I doubt if they need to be reminded of that date.

CLASS TREAT
Speaking of Class 64-B, the wives of that class treated their husbands to a barbecue dinner last weekend at the pavilion. The wives used their monthly dues to pay for all the refreshments and from all reports, the husbands were quite pleased.

Lt. and Mrs. Dean Shawl were visited recently by Mrs. Shawl's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Teafattler, from Coolidge. The Teafattlers spent three days in Big Spring before continuing on to visit other relatives in Louisiana.

Lt. and Mrs. Ken Furbush celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary last weekend with a buffet dinner at their home. Some of the guests were positive that Earl Scruggs was at the party, but in reality, it was Lt. Ken Keeler doing some rendering.

The wives of Class 64-E honored their tactical officer's wife, Mrs. Neil T. Reaveley, Wednesday, with a champagne brunch at the Officers' Club. Eggs benedict was served and the ladies had a most enjoyable morning. Lt. Reaveley's mother, Mrs. Gordon L. Reaveley from Owosso, Mich., also attended the brunch.

Secretaries Gather For Planning

The Big Spring Chapter of the National Secretaries Association met for a salad supper Tuesday in the snack bar of the new First National Bank building. Among the various topics of business discussed was the study course planned to begin around October 1. More details on the study course will be available at the next meeting.

It was suggested that the Big Spring Chapter participate in the Lions' Club carnival to be held in September, and members will be notified early in September as to the final plans on this project.

The September program will be an orientation program presented by the members to familiarize all members of the club with the background and history of The National Secretaries Association (International) and the history of the local organization. This meeting will be held on Sept. 24 and will be open to guests.

MRS. THOMAS ED BREWER

Brewer-Anderson Rites Solemnized In Evening

A candlelight ceremony was performed Friday evening at 8 o'clock for the marriage of Miss Lyn Dawn Anderson and Thomas Ed Brewer. The double ring service was read by the Rev. Richard Deats at the First Methodist Church. Candelabra entwined with fern and cathedral tapers were used with fern trees of emerald and huckleberry to form a background for an array of mums, stock and gladioli. A white prie-dieu centered the nuptial scene.

Tobin of Berger, John Ford, Galveston, Jack Gravitt of Seguin, and Lt. Werlein attending as groomsmen. Ushers were Lyn Nesbitt, Galveston, and Ronnie Ramsey, Houston.

The bride, laid with a white aisle cloth, was marked with candelabra. Huckleberry and white poms with satin bows designated the family pews.

Dr. Charles Webb, Bloomington, Ill., organist, presented the program of music which included Chorales of Johann Sebastian Bach, "Now Thank We All Our God" by Karg-Elert, "Andante" from Sonata in B Flat by Mendelssohn, "Arie," Flor Peeters and "Choral Prelude in F" Brahms. With organ accompaniment Mrs. Don Neason sang "I Love Thee" by Greig and "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte. The procession was the traditional march from "Lohengrin" by Wagner, and the recessional, the wedding march from "Midsummer Night's Dream" by Mendelssohn.

The bride, gowned in candlelight peau de soie was given in marriage by her father. The classic design of the gown featured a moulded bodice with decollete enhanced by a double, hand-rolled cording. The cording was repeated on the elbow sleeves, which were complemented by short kid gloves. Tiny covered buttons fastened the back of the gown, and an empire effect was created at the waistline with appliques of Alencon lace. The slender, belted skirt was enhanced by a wide band of hand run Alencon lace, complemented by a full chapel train.

The bride's tiered veil of imported candlelight illusion fell from a calof of matching lace. She carried a cascade of gardenias, showered in staphanotis and interspersed with miniature ivy leaves and picot satin. With her flowers, the bride carried a Bible which was given to her by her grandmother, Mrs. P. M. McMillan, and covered with lace to match that in her gown. The Bible was marked at the Book of Ruth.

ATTENDANTS
Mrs. Ewing Werlein was matron of honor and Miss Jane Cowper, maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss LaFaye Cunningham of Galveston and Miss Nancy Andrews, Graham.

All wore bronze-gold velveteen gowns and pillbox hats. The gowns were designed with scooped necklines, elbow sleeves, fitted bodices and belted skirts. Each carried a crescent bouquet of bronze and gold mums showered with miniature ivy, tipped in gold and tied with matching velvet ribbon.

Max Sherman of Amarillo served as best man, with Bob Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Knute Knudson, Midland; Mrs. P. M. McMillan, Clifton, and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Knowles, Berger.

After the reception the couple left on a wedding trip. For traveling the bride chose a moss green tailored suit of fibranne fabric, a white crepe blouse styled with a scarf neckline, a black velvet hat and matching black accessories. Her corsage was of yellow-tinted gardenias.

The couple will be at home at 1001 Ninth St., Galveston, where he is a senior and the bride a sophomore in the University of Texas Medical School.

Mrs. Brewer is a graduate of Big Spring High School and the University of Texas where she was a Plan II pre-med major, an active member of Delta Delta Delta sorority, and a member of Alpha Epsilon Iota at the U of T Medical Branch, Galveston.

REHEARSAL DINNER
A rehearsal dinner, with the bridegroom's parents as hosts, was served in the Gold Room of the Big Spring Country Club. Double wedding rings of gold, formed with gold mums and leather fern, centered the table. On either side of the arrangement were spiraled gold candelabra holding matching tapers.

About 35 guests, including the bridal party, friends and immediate families, attended.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Gibbs, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Coffey, Dr. and Mrs. Anthony Hunt, Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fielder, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Blankenship, Mrs. J. H. Fryar, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Rutherford and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bentley.

Others assisting were Mr. and Mrs. William R. Dawes, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Shive, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. L. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Reagan, Mr. and Mrs. Sebron B. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe T. Newell and Mr. and Mrs. John F. Smith.

And, Mr. and Mrs. John Hardy, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Baird, Mr. and Mrs. William T. McRee, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hale, Mr. and Mrs. Harland Huijbregtse, Lt. Werlein, Miss Ann Gibbs, Miss Dolores Howard, Miss Beverly Alexander, Mrs. John Ford, Mrs. Bob Tobin, Mrs. Max Sherman, Miss Elizabeth Knowles and Miss Camille Heffey.

OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS
Guests registered from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Holand Ramey of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McMillin, Waco, Mr. and Mrs. Vernoh Speer, Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Andrews,

McClanahan-Moelling Rites Held Saturday

Miss Barbara Jo Moelling became the bride of David Wayne McClanahan in a double ring ceremony performed at 6:30 p.m. Saturday in the First Christian Church. The Rev. John C. Black Jr. officiated at the nuptial rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Moelling, 1405 Mesa Ave. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. W. N. McClanahan, 3808 Parkway Drive.

Green palms formed the background for an arch of greenery centered with a sunburst arrangement of white gladioli and yellow pom pom chrysanthemums. Flanking the arch were branched candelabra entwined with greenery.

Accompanied by Mrs. Bob Simpson at the organ, Mrs. David A. Rhoton sang "O Promise Me" and "One Hand, One Heart." Mrs. Simpson also played the traditional wedding marches.

WEDDING DRESS
The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white lace over white satin with scalloped neckline and petal point sleeves ending at the wrists. A crescent of satin roses accented the back of the full skirt. Her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion fell from a tiara of pearls.

The bridal bouquet was a white orchid nestled in feathered white chrysanthemums and tied with white satin ribbon, carried atop a white Bible.

Attendants of the bride were Miss Carolyn Halbrook, maid of honor, and Mrs. Charles R. Roland, cousin of the bride, who was her matron of honor. They were identically dressed in street-length dresses of yellow organza over satin, styled with V necklines. The bouffant skirts were accented at the waist with a yellow satin rose, and their veiled hats and gloves were of matching color. Both carried nosegays of yellow and bronze pom pom chrysanthemums, tied with brown satin ribbon.

Kenneth Gafford, Houston, served as best man. Groomsman was John Hickson, Oklahoma City, a brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and ushers were Lanny Baize and Kenneth Moelling, brother of the bride.

RECEPTION
Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the parlor of the church. With the bride and bridegroom in the receiving line were their parents.

A white satin cloth with net overlay covered the refreshment table where candelabra flanked an arrangement of yellow gladioli and chrysanthemums. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Crystal appointments were used.

Pressing at the registry was Mrs. John Hickson, Oklahoma City, sister of the bridegroom. Members of the house party were Miss JoEllen Fiveash, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Kenneth D. Moelling, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Nancy Graves, all of Big Spring, and Miss Dorothy Higdon, Canyon.

Heading the reception hostesses was Mrs. Chester E. Sturdevant. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Lula Vaughn, grandmother of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. Simmie Vaughn, all of Tulsa.

For the wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride was attired in a three-piece brown and beige suit of cotton and dacron, with which she wore beige accessories and the orchid corsage from her wedding bouquet.

Upon returning, the couple will live at 2703 B 45th St., Lubbock, where both plan to continue classes at Texas Technological College.

SCHOOLS
The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School and Howard County Junior College where she was a member of Phi Theta and the College Y. She later attended West Texas State College and was a member of the Buffalo Gals, Phi Alpha Theta and the Christian Presbyterian Student Center. She is now a student at Texas Tech.

The bridegroom attended Howard County Junior College following graduation from Big Spring High School. He was a member of the Baptist Student Union and College Y. He has been attending Texas Tech, where he is secretary of the Tech accounting society. He is employed by W. R. Gaddis Concrete Co. in Lubbock.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Today DR. and MRS. OTTO WOLFE arrived by air in London, England, on the first step of a six-weeks tour of Europe. This will be more than a tour for the retired veterinarian... it's a sentimental journey. It has been almost 50 years since young Otto Wolfe left his home town of Wittgenhof in the eastern part of Germany.

The young man came to the United States in May of 1913, arriving by boat in New York City. He then went to California and later to Fort Collins, Colo., where he received a degree as a doctor of veterinary medicine. He came immediately to Big Spring on June 3, 1921 and established a practice.

The Wolfes left Big Spring Friday morning and drove to Dallas where they planned for the flight to England where they will spend four days. In Belgium they will attend the famous flower auction at Aalsmeer on Sept. 8. The next day they will be in Bremen and Hamburg where the special intercontinental tour begins so far as the doctor is concerned. He had the trip planned with emphasis on the stay in Germany. At Bremen they will visit points of family interest and also hope to see many old friends.

They have received a permit to visit in East Berlin where his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hans and their daughter, Annemarie, and Miss Gerda Beck who live in Saxony are to meet them. They are hoping for more than a short visit with the relatives. The tour then takes them to Cologne and Wiesbaden where they will spend several days at the resort before going to Heidelberg and Munich.

A reunion looked forward to is the one with MRS. HENRY FRANK, Vienna, Austria. Mrs. Frank and her late husband, who was a chemical engineer for Cosden, returned to their native land several years ago. They had been good friends of Dr. Wolfe's mother who came from Germany to spend her last days in the U.S. with her son and his wife.

After several days in Salsberg and Innsbruck, the Wolfes will go to Zurich where they will visit the homeplace of a late uncle who was a musician, artist and a university professor. They will also be in Lucerne and Geneva before going to Paris.

The touring party will have a chance to visit the museums and galleries in the French city before returning to London to take their flight back home. Departure time is set at 2 p.m. on Oct. 8 and arrival in Dallas at 7:40 p.m. with the advantage of a little time change in the interim.

The Big Spring heat felt good to the Gilliland families who returned here Tuesday evening from three days spent at Lake Texoma at a reunion of the Watson family.

One hundred and twelve members of the family were present and the number almost matched the degrees of heat. Going from here were the A. F. GILLILANDS, the R. W. GILLILANDS, the MARVIN WOODS, RALPH GILLILAND and his daughter, Ruby and Barbara. The DEAN L. GILLILANDS of Slaton and their son, LORAN, and his family from Plainview joined the local party for the trip.

MRS. S. V. JORDAN is expected back the first of the week from Shreveport, La., where she went to attend the wedding of her granddaughter, JEANETTE MITCHELL. Mr. Jordan, who is convalescing from surgery, is in Odessa with a son, Robert Hatcher, while Mrs. Jordan is away.

MR. and MRS. RAY ABEL, Ray Jr. and Carris of Fort Worth are here for a visit with her parents, MR. and MRS. VERNON SMITH.

ROSS REAGAN plans to return to Dallas Monday after spending several days with his parents, MR. and MRS. HORACE REAGAN. Ross has been attending summer classes at SMU and working.

Guests of MRS. KATHLEEN WILLIAMS during the week were her daughter and son-in-law, MRS. W. ATCHISON, ATCHISON and their children who live in Junction.

MR. and MRS. LES EWING are expected to arrive today from their home in California to be the guests of MR. and MRS. FRED STITZEL. Mrs. Ewing is the former CHARLOTTE SULLIVAN who taught at HCJC several years.

Although the three-week vacation trip of the two eldest children of the JOHN TAYLORS was planned to extend over the arrival time of the new baby, the youngsters had their stay, came back home and got started in school before the Friday arrival of their new brother, MATTHEW ALAN.

Cynthia vacationed with the ELMER ATWOODS in Belem, N. M., and was thrilled with a trip to Gallup to the big Indian pageant. John Jr. had the time of his life in Roby with another aunt, MRS. O. B. CAVE, and her family. He spent the time swimming and fishing and is completely sold on the small town for boys his age.

Departing on the morning plane out of Midland, MISS CATHERINE GREENLEES and her sister, WINNIE, are to arrive in New Orleans today in time for the latter to participate in rush week activities at Loyola University.

Miss Catherine Greenlees, who was subject to travel in the Dallas offices of Petrofina, will be working instead in the Louisiana city. Her mother, MRS. WINIFRED GREENLEES, is making plans already for a flying trip to spend the Christmas holidays with her daughters.

COL. and MRS. CHARLES E. PIERCE, and daughter JEANNIE, formerly stationed at Webb Air Force Base, are weekend visitors in Big Spring. Colonel Pierce recently has been assigned to Laredo AFB as deputy commander, after a tour in Okinawa. He was commander of the Pilot Training Group at Webb in 1957-59.

As yet unnamed, a son was born Saturday morning at 2:30 o'clock to MRS. and MRS. JAMES H. SHAFFER at Oak Ridge, Tenn., weighing 8 pounds and 10 ounces. The mother is the former MARY NELL COOK, daughter of MR. and MRS. MANLEY COOK, Big Spring. MR. and MRS. W. L. SHAFFER of Oak Ridge are the paternal grandparents. Mrs. Cook is with her daughter and new grandson.

For traveling the bride wore an avocado green silk knit with white gloves and jewelry. She wore a corsage of roses from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will make their home in San Marcos after a short wedding trip.

The bride is a graduate of Lamesa High School and the bridegroom is attending Southwest Texas State College in San Marcos.

The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown fashioned of silk peau de soie and peau de ange lace. Her gown was styled with a fitted bodice of lace with long sleeves tapering to metal points over her hands and a high, scalloped neckline dipping low in the back. The controlled skirt featured a panel of lace beginning at the waist and ending with a scalloped edge at the hem line. Soft pleats added fullness to the sides and back of the skirt that flowed into a chapel train.

Her elbow length bouffant veil silk illusion was secured by a crown of pearlized flowers. She carried a cascade bouquet of white baby roses, lily of the valley with white lace leaves and showers of satin ribbon atop a white Bible.

After Sept. 7, Mr. and Mrs. Brown will be at home at 3501 Bellaire Drive, North, Fort Worth.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENTS Mrs. Gus Ragsdale was hostess for the bridesmaids' luncheon Friday at noon in her home, 805 N. 16th Street. The bride's colors, yellow and white, were accented in the floral arrangements and table appointments.

The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Brown of Hooks, were hosts to members of the wedding party at a dinner Friday evening in the Flame Room, following the wedding rehearsal.

Majestic daisies and white button mums were arranged along the U-shaped table. Plates were laid for 31 members of the wedding party and guests.

Saturday at noon the Flame Room was the setting for a buffet luncheon attended by 50 out-of-town guests and members of the bridal party.

Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hartman of Perryton, aunts and uncles of the bride. They were assisted by Meses. Mable Lee Ray, D. J. Bolch, Edwin Olson, Beatrice Nell and Janice Bradford.

MRS. HORACE BROWN

Miss Lee Is Bride Of Horace Brown

LAMESA (SC) — In a double ring ceremony, performed at 3:30 p.m. Saturday in the chapel of First Baptist Church, Miss Carol Lee became the bride of Horace (Sonny) Brown of Hooks. The Rev. Walter G. Horn, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, was the officiating clergyman.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Bradley B. Lee and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Brown, Hooks.

A graduate of Lamesa High School, the bride this spring received a BA degree in journalism from Texas Christian University where she was a member and immediate past president of Zeta Tau Alpha, social sorority; Pi Sigma Alpha, national political science honorary; fraternity; on the Dean's List and in Ampersand, honorary scholastic women's organization.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Hooks High School, is also a Texas Christian University graduate, receiving his bachelor of science degree in marketing from the School of Business Administration in May.

Mrs. Lorine S. Groves, pianist, presented a medley of Chopin waltzes and études as a prelude to the traditional wedding marches. Yellow floribunda roses were interlaced with garlands of English ivy and smilax on a trellis to create a garden setting at the chapel altar where the wedding party assembled.

Lee escorted his daughter and gave her in marriage. She wore an original gown of white silk peau de soie with torso line bodice, portrait neckline and deep v-neck of rosepoint lace embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The back yoke extended to form a panel, and the rosepoint pattern was traced with sequins and pearls to form the edge of the chapel length train.

The bouffant skirt was accented with intricate draping, and a large self bow and single rose were details at the waist.

mother's gold wedding band was knotted in the satin ribbon of the bouquet.

ATTENDANTS Maid of honor was Miss Judy Smith of Hooks. Mrs. Roy T. Pointer of Tulsa, Okla., cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Troy Howard served as bridesmaids. The trio wore identical, street length dresses of sapphire blue, lustre satin fashioned with princess bodices, elbow sleeves and bateau necklines ending in a V-center back. The full, controlled bell skirts were tucked beneath a shepherd's back, accented by large self bows, and hemline streamers. Their matching, heart-shaped headpieces were adorned at the center front point with a pearl drop. They carried cascades of majestic daisies and smilax.

Lt. James Coley of Rossell, N. M., cousin of the bridegroom, was best man. Groomsman were Thomas Smith of Hooks and Bill Phillips of Houston.

Bobby Ferguson of New Boston, Leslie Farris of Hooks, Bobby Kinzel of Three Rivers and Mike Moore of Eldorado shared the ushering duties.

RECEPTION A reception was held in the church parlor, where music was provided by Mrs. H. B. Miller.

Members of the house party included Mrs. Ken Fulkerson, Fort Worth; Mrs. James Stell, Lubbock; Mrs. C. T. Beckham, Dallas; Mrs. Phil Adams and Ann Adams, Midland; Miss D. Linda Shillingburg and Mrs. Edward Lauderdale, Mrs. Dave Knapp, Mrs. Charles Warren, Mrs. Doy Ferguson, Mrs. Carl Cox, Mrs. Gus Ragsdale, Mrs. Mable Lee Ray, Mrs. C. E. Green and Mrs. J. D. Harris.

The bride was wearing a silk linen suit of toast and oyster white when the couple left for a wedding trip to Red River. Her hat was Persian blue sheared beaver and her shoes and bag of oyster white lizard.

After Sept. 7, Mr. and Mrs. Brown will be at home at 3501 Bellaire Drive, North, Fort Worth.

Nuptial Rites Held At Lamesa

LAMESA (SC) — The Second Baptist Church was the scene Friday at 8 p.m. for the exchange of vows between Miss Ruby Darlene Mitchell and William Gopffarth Jr. of Lolita. The Rev. Clifton Igo, pastor, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mitchell of Lamesa. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Bobbie Lee Fitzpatrick of Lolita and the late William Gopffarth Sr.

Marriage Vows Are Exchanged

Marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Phyllis Marie Palmer and Jerry Don Wilburn Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in a double ring ceremony performed at Phillips Memorial Baptist Church. The Rev. H. G. Barnard officiated in the nuptial rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip R. Palmer, 1416 Stadium. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Wilburn, 1009 Shelton, Abilene.

The ceremony was performed before a white wrought iron arch entwined with garlands of huckleberry and centered with a sunburst of white gladioli and chrysanthemums. Seven branched candelabra, emerald palms and white wrought iron altar markers completed the background.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of Chantilly lace over satin, styled with scalloped neckline and cap sleeves. The full, hooped skirt was caught at the back waist with lace rosettes. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones, and her gauntlets were of lace.

The bridal bouquet was of white orchids, surrounded by frenched carnations tied with white picot streamers.

Maid of honor was Miss Elaine Shaw, Abilene. She wore a street length dress of pink polished cotton with Sabrina neckline and cap sleeves. Her accessories were white. She carried a nosegay of pink carnations showered with pink streamers.

Serving as best man was Ronnie Jeffries, Abilene. Ushers were Mac and Waymon Wilburn, brothers of the bridegroom, and Steve Lineweaver, all of Abilene. Tapers were lighted by the ushers.

RECEPTION

The reception was held in Fellowship Hall where the bride and bridegroom were joined by their parents in the receiving line.

The bride's table was covered with white ruffled net over a satin cloth. The three tiered white wedding cake was decorated with white confection roses and based on a revolving tray edged with net ruffles. Topping the cake were bride and groom figurines. Serving as a centerpiece were bouquets of the bride and maid of honor.

Presiding at the register was Miss Dana Wilburn, sister of the bridegroom. Serving at the refreshment table were Elizabeth and Wauneta Palmer, sister of the bride. Other members of the house party were Mrs. Joe Connally and Mrs. William I. Fenley.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Red Moody, Abilene; Mrs. E. B. Wilburn, Merkel, Marquita and Mark Ballenger of Chester, Neb., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carter, Odessa.

WEDDING TRIP

For the wedding trip to Dallas, the bride wore a green linen suit, black patent accessories and white veiled hat and gloves. Her corsage was the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

After the trip, the couple will live at 1102 N. 15th St., Abilene, where he is employed by the Sojourner Drilling Co.

Change Of Scene Works Wonders

When the sun is high and the dog days are upon us, a change of scene will do wonders for your morale. If you can't travel, then try changing the scene around you. If you sew, it's a simple matter to brighten a room, just by changing curtains. Flowered prints in cool blue or green tones is a good choice for summer curtains, and will go well with most basic schemes. Choose a pattern that will blend with or complement another fabric in the room. A bay window will especially benefit from new summer decor. Take down heavy drapes, and let light and air in with curtains made of a shummy voile. Printed percale sheets are also excellent choices for large window areas. They're economical and breeze to launder, insuring crisp, fresh curtains at windows all summer long.

Historic Design

Straight from historic Williamsburg come two of the summer's newest and most elegant bedspread styles. Selected after studying the archives of Colonial Williamsburg, the patterns are the first two in a planned series, and are called Queen Anne and Raleigh Tavern. Both are available in twin and double bed sizes.

WEIGHS ONE POUND, 12 OUNCES

Child Makes Medical History

By SAM BLACKBURN

Dianna Carrena, now one-week-and-two-days old, is making a little medical history, but the matter is of no concern to the tiny girl.

When she made her debut into this world on the night of Friday, Aug. 21, Dianna tipped (to use the term very loosely) the scales at Cowper Hospital and Clinic at a hefty one pound and 15 ounces. Saturday, Dianna has lost three precious ounces and weighed in at one pound and 12 ounces.

"Doctors said the average baby weighs 7½ pounds and is 18 inches long at birth. Dianna was 14 inches long when born and hasn't gained a smidgen."

Doctors and nurses at the hospital are keeping close watch on Dianna. Ordinarily, babies as small as she is do not survive 24 hours after birth. Many are born dead. Now that Dianna has lived out nine days and still seems to be doing well, there is increasing hope she will make the grade.

"She is not out of danger," said the doctor. "She will have to get by a full month and perhaps a month and a half before we can feel sure she will make it."

The little mite is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carrena who work on the L. S. Moates farm, 22 miles northeast of town. The Carrenas have two other daughters, both young. Mrs. Moates said the couple has been on the farm for several years.

In the nursery next door to Dianna was another little girl born a week after Dianna. The new and younger baby weighed in at seven pounds and her length is 18 inches. She looked like a giantess when tiny Dianna was held up for one of her regular feedings in the incubator which will be her home for a great many days to come.

"She kicks and squirms," said one of the nurses. "She cries when she is unhappy and throws her little arms about. She sleeps well and eats well and we think she's doing fine."

They explained that the loss of the three ounces in weight in the first week after birth was expected.

"All little babies lose weight the first week or two after birth," they said.

Meantime, her mother is back at the Moates' farm. Dianna will not be going to join the rest of her family for some time to come.

You May Not Need It, But Poll Tax Is Payable Oct. 1

Poll tax will become payable Oct. 1. Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector, has announced she will be ready to do business on that date.

The question the voter will have to answer is:

"Should I pay my $1.75 for poll tax or should I wait and find out what happens Nov. 9?"

On Nov. 9, voters will decide whether to adopt an amendment to the Texas Constitution which would do away with the poll tax as a requirement for voting.

Since 1902, the test of a Texan's right to cast a ballot has been whether he held a current poll tax. From 1875-1902, the poll tax, head tax was simply a revenue raiser, but in 1902 it was made the requirement for voting.

Should the amendment be adopted, by Dec. 1 the payment of the $1.75 for a voting receipt would be out and a voter registration charge of 25 cents put in its place.

So, at this time, the problem of a poll tax receipt is a little hazy, but Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, county tax collector-assessor, has to decide what to do come Oct. 1.

"I plan to issue poll tax receipts to those who want them," she said. At the same time, she suggested the taxpayer might find it simpler to wait until after the Nov. 9 election. Even under the present system the deadline is not until Jan. 31.

But for those entitled to exemptions, (persons in cities over 10,000 must have them) she advised that they get them as early as possible. No charge is involved for them.

Those who do insist on paying poll taxes early will plank down the usual $1.75. There will be no refund in event the poll tax is voted out as a voting requirement.

The only advantage of paying early is being sure, regardless of the election, those paying a poll tax will be qualified as a voter.

The U. S. Supreme Court some time ago ruled that no citizen in any state has to pay a poll tax as a requirement for voting in any election where a federal office is to be filled. Should Texas voters not abolish the poll tax voting feature by their referendum Nov. 9, this ruling still would apply in federal elections. Persons who desired to vote only in such elections (where a president, vice president, congressional representatives, U. S. Senators or electors for president and vice president are to be named) could vote without a poll tax receipt. They might secure a receipt stamped "poll tax not paid" and vote only on federal offices on the strength of it.

Voting Nov. 9 will be on two propositions. An affirmative vote for the first proposition (to abolish poll tax voting requirement) would clear the way for SB 132 to become operative. This is a bill which outlines voting qualifications as they apply to Texans (not much changed in general from the form now followed) and sets up the registration system for listing voters. The registration fee will be 25 cents per voter. The county assessor collector will be the county registrar.

Should the amendment be defeated, another election law, SB 61, becomes operative. It includes a provision for the continuance of the poll tax payment. The poll tax fee is divided $1 for the free schools, 50 cents for the state general revenue fund, and 25 cents for the county in which the poll tax is paid.

Mrs. LeFevre says there are not many major changes provided in SB 132 or SB 61 from present laws.

If the amendment is defeated, one change provided in procedure by SB 61 is regarded as important to some voters. It is specified that a poll tax payment (or registration) must be made in the county where the applicant resides at the time of the fee payment. The old law provided a voter might pay his poll tax in the county where he was residing on Jan. 1 for the year for which the tax was assessed. Poll tax receipts to be issued starting Oct. 1 will be dated "1963" but, under the present law, are applicable to elections for 1964.

The new laws also provide that agents cannot be appointed to pay poll tax and obtain receipts for voters. The exceptions are that a husband, a wife, a son, or a daughter may register for an individual (or pay a poll tax) either in person or by mail and be within the law. No other person is permitted to perform this act for any other individual.

The new laws also provide that average persons who were not residents of a community of 10,000 or more population during the registration period, but who move to such a town later, have to apply for registration or exemption at least 4 days prior to any election in which he may wish to vote.

JUST VOTING REQUIREMENT Amendment Will Not Eliminate Poll Tax

Constitutional Amendment No. 1, which will be laid before Texans Nov. 9, does not, as a great many folk probably believe, propose the elimination from the Texas constitution of the poll tax.

It is a proposal to repeal that provision of the constitution, an earlier amendment, which makes payment of the poll tax a requirement for voting. No where in the proposed amendment is there any statement that the poll tax per se will be eliminated from the Texas picture.

Texas constitution, as adopted in 1875, under the Taxation and Revenue division, Article 8, Section 1 reads in part: "The Legislature may impose a poll tax."

No provision was made that payment of this tax has any bearing on the right of the payer to vote in elections.

It was not until 1902 an amendment was adopted, which made the payment of the poll tax and presentation of a receipt as proof of right to vote, appeared on the Texas Law books.

Vermont's Constitution of the State of Texas Annotated, Vol. 2, page 342 reads:

"Not until 1902 when an amendment to Art. 8, Sec. 2 was adopted was the poll tax made a voting requirement. Although it is often contended this amendment was adopted to keep the Negroes from voting, actually, in Texas, such was not the case. By 1902, the Negro section of the Republican Party was clearly on the wane.

If the poll tax had been voted to disfranchise the Negro it would have been more logical to take this action some years earlier when Negro political activity was far more pronounced. The amendment was adopted as a measure against the Populist Party, a strong agrarian movement of low-income white farmers who were well organized and ably led. The Populist Party in the 1890's and the early 1900's made a rapid rise, and constituted a distinct threat to the entrenched Texas Democratic Party. By putting a price on the ballot, it was felt that the poor white vote represented by the Populist Party would be discouraged.

The plan must have worked. The Populist Party disappeared from the Texas scene.

Now, however, the new amendment which would strike out the 1902 action, does not remove the poll tax as a levy against all citizens of Texas. It merely proposes to put the matter back in the same form it presented when the 1875 Constitution was adopted.

Will the citizens have to pay the poll tax in the future plus the proposed 25 cents registration fee suggested as the new way to qualify voters?

It is very doubtful, if the amendment is adopted, that any county would be brash enough to attempt to impose and collect the poll tax as a revenue measure. However, if a county wanted to do so, under the constitution, such a levy would be a legal assessment.

Mrs. Miriam Kennedy Wilcox, Goliad Junior High teacher, was one of 135 students receiving master's degrees from Texas Tech Thursday. Zella Theora Calverley, Garden City, was also listed among the 135. Both degrees were from the School of Arts and Sciences.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith delivered the principal address during ceremonies in Lubbock Municipal auditorium when a total of 552 graduate and undergraduate degrees were conferred.

School Spending

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Education Ministry notes that spending for schools has almost tripled during the administration of President Adolfo Lopez Mateos. Five years ago the figure was 1.1 billion pesos.

Watch For School Bus, Officers Say

If you are driving on a road and a school bus looms ahead of you stopped to take on or unload boys and girls — bring your car to a complete stop regardless of whether you are traveling in the same direction as the bus.

When you are certain that none of the passengers from the bus are moving across the highway ahead of you, you can go ahead but you must drive at a slow rate of speed and not pick up momentum until you are well past the bus.

Highway patrol officers said a number of recent complaints have been filed concerning drivers who have violated this law. They warn that the school year is just getting under way and that school buses will be seen in ever increasing numbers.

Patrolmen are keeping a close watch on traffic when a school bus is on the scene. Drivers who fail to stop as the law requires will be prosecuted, the patrol officer warned. A heavy fine awaits the driver who is convicted of this offense.

Forty-two building permits issued during August, as compared to the same number in August of 1962, showed dollar value of construction at $645,025. Last year's 42 August permits totaled $590,164.

The total for the year now stands at $3,509,090 as compared to $3,981,628 at the end of August last year, a drop of $472,538.

The August total was boosted by a permit for $570,000 for a new clinic and parking ramp for Malone - Hogan Foundation Hospital.

Five permits for new residences totaled $43,000. For the first eight months of 1963, only 94 new residence permits have been issued from Building Inspector Tom Newton's office. For the same period in 1962 he issued 344 new residence permits.

Cast thy bread upon the water: for thou shalt find it after many days. (Ecclesiastes 11:1.)
PRAYER: Dear Lord, we thank Thee for the great privilege we have of being called to serve Thee. Strengthen us to be ever loyal and faithful to Thee whatever difficulties we may face, and to leave the results of our work in Thy hands. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

Busy Times Are Good Signs

This is your last holiday season until Thanksgiving—so relax and enjoy it. Although it means a time of beginning again for many of us, there is a certain sense of expectancy about it, an eagerness to get with it.

There are many big jobs to be done. On a community level we face immediately the tremendously important task of subscribing the United Fund goal. This is the most important single community effort of the year, and it calls for all-out effort on the part of all people with a sense of responsibility and obligation.

Already our schools have started, and by Tuesday the remaining flow of enrollment will reach the school house doors. With three full days of operation behind them, teachers will have their classes in regular gear. Soon Howard County Junior College will be registering what promises to be a new record.

On every hand organizations, which have shut down or turned at idling speed during the summer months, will be getting back into operation. Churches, having weathered the summer slump, will be regrouping for a more vigorous task to fulfill their missions.

The Big Spring Concert Association will be pressing its annual appeal for memberships, one of the cultural and quality entertainment side of our community can be extended.

The YMCA, with new leadership, will be tackling its program with club programs for young people, special activities for adults, and physical programs for all.

In short, there are busy times ahead for all of us. Busy times ought to be happy times. Hence, we hope for maximum participation by our citizens, for a community at work will certainly not atrophy or succumb to dry rot. We hope also that leadership in every phase of our community and institutional activity will make a conscious effort to bring our young people and especially our young adults into the various undertakings, to work side by side in the harness with them. We need their help, and we need strong hands and warm hearts to carry what we are trying to do over into tomorrow's accomplishments.

Complete Dedication

It was gratifying to see the First Methodist sanctuary almost filled last week when Dr. E. Stanley Jones spoke here. And yet, we could wish that there could have been standing room only.

Here was one of the great personalities of our generation, a man who has inspired and lifted millions of spirits around the world. To hear him is a once-in-a-lifetime experience for most of our people.

At four score years he is still carrying a schedule of speaking and preaching which would stagger many men half his age. What sustains him? This is something which he would have to answer, but we venture that it is first of all a complete dedication to his Master, and a sense of urgency about the times. And what is his message? Essentially it is simple. Everything depends on what you do with your life.

Marquis Childs A Day Without Extremism

WASHINGTON—It was part camp meeting, part picnic and part a determined, almost fierce political rally uniting people of so many kinds and conditions.

Above all, it was an answer to the scotters hoping for the worst. Gov. George Wallace of Alabama had sneered at what he called an organized civil war, a rabble looking for trouble.

NO ONE WATCHING that vast crowd sweeping away from the Lincoln Memorial could help but be impressed by the quiet and the patience with which they stood as the hours wore on, listening to a program that was inevitably too long. They had come from all over the country, schooled in the need for dignity and restraint. All the dire forebodings about what might happen with such an influx of people were put to naught.

At times it seemed they were almost too restrained. Only when the chant, "Pass that bill," now and then swept over the assemblage, starting just under the speakers' platform and sweeping out to the farthest reaches until the crowd along the Mall, did the crowd seem to take life.

basic structure of civil rights legislation, then expand upon it in the years ahead. A lot of hard work and a lot of luck will be necessary for even the first fundamental step. But if the legislation is water-tight, the public accommodation section amended to cover only establishments with 50 or more employees for example—the deep and dangerous frustration for which the march was a temporary outlet will be over.

The crux of the whole matter is jobs. The most forthright expression of this came from Walter Reuther of the United Auto Workers. Without jobs for both whites and Negroes in an expanding economy, civil rights tend to seem a theoretical privilege for the affluent of both races.

REGARDLESS of how much it finally means in the civil rights score, this great orderly mass outpouring will go down in the history of the capital as a triumph. The setting and the day were perfect. As the hours wore on, the shaft of the Washington Monument threw a deepening shadow on the reflecting pool, framed by the crowd stretching almost its entire length.

They had sat through to the end with little movement, with only at the extremes people coming and going as the oratory wore on. They were rewarded by the closing speech of Martin Luther King Jr. which rose above mere oratory to a moving peroration of what the future can mean for an America that has wiped out the hatred of race prejudice.

KING AND THE other leaders had shown not only that they could organize such a gathering but also that in this critical juncture they could hold the support of the mass of the Negro people. The extremists were pushed to the remote sidelines. And that is perhaps the greatest measure of the success of a day that has had few if any parallels in the life of this city.

But the depth of feeling was there just beneath the surface. In the response to the fiery words of John Lewis, chairman of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, calling on the marchers and the demonstrators to continue until equality should be won, you could be sure that this was not just a glorious outing that was an end in itself. The Negro leaders who spoke were all veterans of a war still going on, and the march was merely a pause in which to reiterate battles won and wars of the long and difficult campaign still ahead.

HOW MUCH that great demonstration—the greatest test in the history of the capital—will mean for civil rights legislation is hard to say. In the cold light of the morning after, as the weary marchers returned home, it may seem small indeed. Attitudes are hardening on both sides of the integration line.

In the House, members of the liberal bloc feel that the Kennedy administration has made a characteristic tactical error in asking for less than a full measure of civil rights and expecting to take less than that. Rep. James Roosevelt and others have been pressing the White House to include a fair employment practices provision. The crowd held up an impressive number of signs calling for a Federal FEPC.

ADMINISTRATION supporters are saying that it will be enough to get the end of the integration line.

Whether we realize it or not, all of us in this world walk by faith, not by sight. We should love God because He first loved us and we are the recipients of His love every moment of the day. One of Christ's disciples, Thomas by name, refused to believe that Christ had risen from the dead until he could see and touch Him. When he did this, Christ said: "Because thou hast seen Me thou hast believed, blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed." It is not necessary for us to see God with our physical eyes, for He has given the evidence of His presence and power all around us. Tonight, go out and look up at the stars. Remember that this universe, of which we are but an infinitesimal part, all proclaim the glory of God. Look at the world around you, at the beauties and mysteries of nature and you see the hand of the Creator. Take the Bible I would suggest you read through the Gospel of John a number of times, and there you will find the love and mercy of God revealed as it tells of His Son and what He has done for all who will accept Him. If you will accept Christ with a heart of simple faith, you will find these words true: "In whom ye trusted, after that ye heard the Word of Truth, the Gospel of your salvation, in whom also after that ye believed, ye were sealed with the Holy Spirit of promise." Nothing prompts our love for God and His Son more than to realize that He loved us enough to die for us. And nothing makes us realize the depth of sin more than to realize that such a sacrifice was necessary. Ask God to help you realize what He has done for you. You cannot help loving Him if you do.

Prosperity Just Keeps Rolling Along

A year and a half ago, at the University of California, President Kennedy made an observation which anyone interested in today's stock market dare not ignore.

"I sometimes think we are too much impressed by the clamor of daily events. The newspaper headlines and the television screen give us the short view. They so flood us with stop-press detail that we lose sight of the grand movements of history. Yet it is the profound tendencies and not the passing excitements that will shape the future."

As prices advance, dividend yields fall, registering hopes of investors for bigger payments later.

AMID THE HEADLINE clamor and television coverage of the freedom march on Washington, and the rash of legislation through Congress to stop the railroad strike, and despite repeated Presidential warnings that a tax cut is necessary to keep prosperity rolling into 1964, one trend has persisted in Wall Street. Stocks have risen. Is this upswing, this reach for a new bull market, only a passing excitement?

Hence the rise in stocks in Wall Street, and particularly the buoyancy of railroad shares which pushed through to bull market highs in April and again in May and then patiently waited for the industrials to follow.

WEEK BY WEEK, investors and speculators have been prophesying it seems to me that profits and dividends are bound to rise. Perhaps automation—whether in the office or factory—is bringing the long postwar era of wage-push or cost-pull (however you want to call it) to an end. Business, itself, justifies Wall Street's optimism, and it has muted President Kennedy's repeated warning that a tax cut is necessary to spur economic growth.

WE USED to talk of rolling readjustments, or rolling out of recessions. Since President Kennedy took office, despite his fears, we've had rolling prosperity. And recently it has really rolled. Industrial production has had seven consecutive months of advance; personal income six consecutive months, and retail trade—always a useful measure of how people feel about the future and their prospects—has found tendency is inherent in the continue to spend about 5 per cent more than last year.

A RECENT SURVEY by the Census Bureau suggests they will keep it up. Intentions to buy automobiles and household equipment are running well ahead of a year ago. This is one explanation of the optimism in Detroit about putting three excellent automobile years back to back. The other is that every year the number of cars that wear out and the number of youngsters who reach driving age set new highs.

But the most profound tendency of all, and the one that governs the stock market, is the rising floor of income and buying aspirations. Again, the freedom march can be used as a symbol.

IN RECENT YEARS, newspapers and magazines have been bombarded by public relations firms with data on the expanding "Negro market." As if the Negro were an economic group apart! Improvement in the earning power of Negroes is a part of the widening middle-class belt. This is not a Negro product, solely. It is a social product. And it reflects itself in the upward tendencies of business and stock market indexes. Expectations are rising—bursting out—all over.

SAN ANSELMO, Calif. (AP)—Fire Chief Nello Marucci retired after 33 years' service and gave his gold badge to his successor. "I bought the badge myself," he said. "The city gave me a tin one."

Scabies A Skin-Burrowing Parasite

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: What is scabies? What is the cure?
C. N. M.

Scabies is caused by a small mite, or parasite (Sarcoptes scabiei) which burrows into the skin resulting in inflammation and severe itching.

These mites (about 1,500 of an inch long) dig in and then tunnel along under the skin—at least the females do, and they lay eggs along the way. Hence, a short, winding trail, like a mole's tunnel across a lawn, but much smaller, is a typical sign. With small children, little blisters may develop.

It may not be very itchy at this stage—but it will be later, because the tissues can develop a hypersensitivity (allergy) to the mites and their chemical activity.

This delayed reaction means that a person may have this trouble for some time before realizing what it is, or how annoying it can be. Daily and prolonged baths, frequent changes of clothes, and medications are the answer, and a cure takes time.

One clue to scabies (since the mites can pass from person to person) that several members of a family, a class at school, or a neighborhood can be affected.

Medications include lotions containing D.D.T. or benzyl benzoate, sulphur soaps plus drugs to relieve itching. You'll have to see your doctor for a prescription for the best of these.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is osteomyelitis? Can anything be done for it?—MRS. F. W.

This is inflammation of the bone, usually from the streptococcus, staphylococcus or tuberculous germs. It has become a good prevalence since development of the antibiotics which attack these germs, but often it is still necessary to operate, in order to scrape away diseased parts of the bone and get rid of the infection.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have a friend whose husband is diabetic. She feeds him lots of cottage cheese. Another friend tells me this is not good for him. Which one is right?—MRS. B. H.

Cottage cheese is a food, not a medicine. It is neither "good" nor "bad" for diabetes. People with diabetes have to eat.

Too much food, and particularly high-sugar or high-calorie content, is harmful. Cottage cheese, containing some protein, much calcium, and little fat or sugar, is fine for diabetics, but there are many foods just as good. The true answer lies much deeper than in trying to tie diabetes to any one food.

Dear Dr. Molner: What are the indications for surgical removal of a fibroid tumor? My wife, 39, has one which was discovered about two years ago and it has increased in size—E. F.

The fact that it is enlarging is a good indication that removal is in order. It can cause considerable discomfort as well as unusual bleeding.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please explain a cystocele. Is surgery required? Is it associated with malignancy? Is it a serious operation?—T. R.

Cystocele (Sis-toe-seal) is a weakness of tissues of the pelvic floor—the urinary bladder sags and protrudes into the vagina. It has nothing to do with malignancy. The only cure is by surgery, but this is of a type that is being done successfully every day.

Diverticulosis is a bulge in the digestive tract. To become more familiar with the subject, write in care of The Herald for my booklet, "Don't Let Diverticulosis Throw You," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

'In My Day, I Walked To School'

This would be the week when the newspaper reporters, falling into their usual clichés, write that "school bells are ringing again." As a matter of fact, there hasn't been an honest-to-goodness public school bell ring in these parts in empty-school years.

But the automatic buzzer is buzzing, and the teachers hope this noise quiets the thundering herds in the corridors and settles the younguns in their desks for a new year of the educational process.

THIS, THEN, would also be the week that we old codgers give the students unneeded and unwanted advice, just to let them know that there are more trying times ahead.

I would like to tell the kids that I walked four miles to school and back every day, many days through the snow; or that I had to catch a fractious horse and ride it bareback to the school house 12 miles away.

IF I DID THIS I would be telling a big whopper, just like most other students of years gone by. The distance between home and school, you know, grows each year.

Truth is, I never lived more than a block from my classrooms from the day I started to school until the day the teachers washed their hands of me.

BEING THAT CLOSE to school has some compensations. You could wait until the last minute to start, and maybe manage to reach the line for marching in before the bell quit its ringing. You could wag an armload of loose books just that far without having to go through the humiliating business of the book satchel. (After a few years, satchels were OUT, at least for boys, and book straps were IN.)

yard after hours, when it was more attractive because it was supposed to be off-limits.

BUT YOU KNOW (more advice to students) you never appreciate what you have. Our adjacency to the schoolhouse made it a matter of common sense for me to come home for lunch. This seemed a pretty prosaic thing to do when a lot of kids who lived 'way out in the west end of town or over across the river BROUGHT their lunches.

I would watch 'em, coming in the morning with a brown cardboard lunch box with shoulder strap, or better yet, a big sack. And when these items would be parked by their desks, there would rise the tempting aroma of apples or (if the kids' families were pretty well off) bananas.

AND WHEN the noon bell rang, I would see the other open those packages and haul out delicacies like cold sausage sandwiches, and perhaps a homemade fried fruit pie. With a feast like that in sight, only a kid out of his mind would want to hike a block home to a hot meal.

I wheeled Mama into letting me take lunch a few times, but she didn't hanker to this. What she couldn't know was that there was a sort of status thing about those sack lunches, and a spirit of camaraderie among those who brought them and shared them. And the teacher usually was right there at her own desk, eating her own lunch with them.

AH, WELL, the cafeterias and the automobiles have swamped the whole school system, and I don't argue with this. I suppose the kids are eating more, but could they be enjoying it less?

The Right Way To Train Workers

WASHINGTON—The most forthright cure for the common cold is to cut off the head of the sufferer. This is not approved medical practice. But the same method is often prescribed and practiced to cure unemployment, our most nagging economic ailment.

MAHATMA GANDHI, who once proposed to create more jobs in India by destroying all the machines, was an extremist in this would-be beheading of industrial enterprise. The Railroad Brotherhoods, with their demand for dead-head firemen, are in the Gandhi tradition of impeding industrial progress. So is the New Frontier whenever it goes in for the American system of business schemes which furnish much copy for this column.

NOT ONLY does the New Frontier want to put the head of private enterprise in a basket, the Frontier desires to adopt the orphan's device—to take over, that is, persons who are disemployed when a business, large or small, suffers injury or death. President Kennedy's Manpower Training Program, along with his several youth training and education schemes, move toward the situation in socialist and Communist countries where the government assumes full control and responsibility for the national work force.

GRANTED that there is a humanitarian element here and that industry is competing not only with government but with its own genius at labor-saving devices through automation, the federal intervention is more a killer than a cure. This is true because the government, while it may be evangelistic in its fervor for social uplift, does not have either the motivation or the know-how to train workers. The bureaucrats who head the retraining program do not have a self-interest in lowering the number of unfortunates in the program. Today they are asking for legislation to increase the number of wards by lowering the age limits, raising the appropriations, expanding the program, and concentrating the control in Washington. Moreover, training by government just is not training-for-industry, and the record shows how miserably it fails to prepare workers for marketable jobs.

ON THE OTHER HAND, industry has a self-interest, and a function for prepping workers. Industry is far ahead of government in trying to combat joblessness. In the past fiscal year government has committed to training and retraining programs only about 60,000 persons, some unemployed, some underemployed. In starting contrast, according to a still-unpublished study by A. N. Weckler, a demographer in these fields, industry has annual programs that train up to 3,000,000 persons every year—at industry's expense.

FOR EXAMPLE, the Westinghouse Corporation, back in 1953, moved into the Raleigh area of North Carolina and set about to retrain 1,000 workers for metropolitan areas from the rural population. Most of the recruits had never had plant experience—none had ever worked on a screw machine. But a sophisticated apprentice program picked out the men with native aptitudes and turned these into skills. In Marietta, Ga., the Lockheed plant has 16,000 workers, of whom roughly 10 per cent are in training programs that supply education from apprenticeship upward. Yet all of the many companies which fight unemployment are also fighting the best-business productivity of government.

Government By Coercion

WASHINGTON—The "march on Washington" will go down in history as marking a day of public disgrace—a step backward in the evolution of the American system of government. For the image of the United States presented to the world is that of a republic which had professed to believe in voluntarism rather than coercion, but which on August 28, 1963, permitted itself to be portrayed as unable to legislate "equal rights" for its citizens except under the intimidating influence of mass demonstrations.

THE PRESS, television and radio, the public forums in halls and stadiums—all have been available heretofore as mediums through which the "right of petition" could be effectively expressed and public opinion formed on controversial questions. But a minority group—led by men who drew to their side church leaders and groups as well as civic organizations—decided that a massive public demonstration would be a better way to impress Congress and the President with the idea that unemployment and racial discrimination can be legislated out of existence. Government by mob has on a few occasions in the past darkened the pages of American history. A Philip Randolph, the leader of the "march," frankly characterized the "march" as a symbol of "revolution." He said:

"IN OUR pluralistic democratic society, we cause moral gain acceptance and approval and support. They can only gain acceptance, approval and support if they can get attention, and in order to get attention—with numerous cases seeking the focus of public opinion—it is necessary for the dramatization to be developed of a given cause."

But could not the merits of the civil rights "revolution" have been presented effectively to American audiences without street demonstrations? Couldn't the State Department and the "Voice of America" instead have dealt comprehensively abroad with the story of the efforts being made inside the United States to deal with the "civil rights" problem?

ALSO, WOULD it not have been better if the leaders of the "march" had not by their tactics incurred some unfavorable publicity? What shall be said, for instance, of the Gallup Poll result published in many newspapers which indicated that 63 per cent of the American people disapproved of the "march on Washington" and thought it unnecessary? Last month another Gallup Poll revealed that six out of every ten Americans believe the mass demonstrations by the Negroes would hurt their cause.

THE "RIGHT OF petition" is a fundamental principle of the Constitution, but it assumes an orderly and non-provocative procedure. The federal government had to go to large expense to police the Wednesday demonstration here and to keep people from crowding into the city who might participate in disorders. To say that the "march" was successful because large-scale violence was avoided is to ignore the bitterness and resentment prevalent on that day in a city whose normal community life was disrupted. Tens of thousands of people remained sequestered in their homes lest they become injured or subjected to unwarranted delays in moving to and from their residences. American citizens were prevented from pursuing their customary ways. Their right to go to their places of employment was impaired by fear of bodily injury.

WOULD THIS have happened if the petitioners had relied on the process of reason in a voluntary society, or was it a sample of what happens in backward countries when some force stronger than the individual takes over and prevents freedom of movement? Are injustices remedied by creating more injustices, and is the cause of civil rights advanced by interfering with the civil rights of non-participants in the mass demonstrations?

These are questions which will need answering, and the full effect of what may come to be called "the mess in Washington" could be reflected in future elections. For what was proved by the big demonstration—that in free America only the mob can get laws passed covering the issue of "civil rights"?

DEAR ABBY

Share And Share Alike

DEAR ABBY: There are eight of us in my family. All married and doing well. I happen to be the oldest, which may explain why I have the dubious honor of paying for everything that should be divided by eight. Our father died over a year ago. I took care of all the arrangements, and paid for the funeral. One sister asked me what her share was. I told her, and that was the end of it. (No one else even bothered to ask.) A year later, when the stone was to be put up, I was elected to select it. I did, and it was billed to me. My husband says I should turn THIS bill over to a lawyer and let HIM collect it. I have no income of my own. It's my husband's money I'm spending and I feel terrible. What should I do?

THE OLDEST
DEAR OLDEST: Call a family meeting and present each member with a bill for his share of the expenses. If you let them know you mean business it won't be necessary to threaten them with legal action.

DEAR ABBY: My cousin recently married a man who holds an HONORARY (yet!) doctor's degree in something that has nothing to do with medicine. It is from a small, unheard-of college with no reputation. Well, when my cousin introduces her husband, she says, "This is DOCTOR—". And when she refers to him, she calls him "The Doctor." When people first meet him, they naturally assume he is a medical doctor and they start telling him about a skin rash or dizzy spells until he sets them straight. Tell me, is it considered good etiquette to use the "DOCTOR" in introducing him? I'd never say anything to her about it, but I'd like to know for my own information.

CUZ
DEAR CUZ: Few people who hold honorary doctor's degrees use the title "doctor." Technically permissible, it is a matter of style. And I'm afraid your cousin hasn't much.

DEAR ABBY: I have lived with my "husband" for over 25 years, but we have never been legally married. We have grown children who think we are married. My "husband" and I can't get along with each other any more and we would like to get rid of each other. I've been true blue all these years, but he sure hasn't. How can we make this separation legal? Do we need a divorce if we have never been

CONFUSED
DEAR CONFUSED: Each state has its own laws with regard to "common law marriages." Your local lawyer can advise you how to handle yours.

Cotton Growers To Meet Tuesday

A meeting is set for noon, Tuesday, Sept. 3, at Cokers Restaurant for the Plains Cotton Growers. A noon meal will be furnished, along with a program, which will be completed by 1:45 or 2 o'clock. The program will be a discussion of the area and national cotton situation, the status of pertinent legislation and the activities of the Plains Cotton Growers.

George Pfeiffenberger, executive vice president of Plains Cotton Growers, may present the program. Also on the program agenda will be the election of two individuals from Howard County to serve as directors for the Plains Cotton Growers, one of those elected to be a farmer and the other a businessman.

The Plains Cotton Growers organization covers a 23-county area for the coming crop year.
More Pawnshops
MEXICO CITY (AP) — Two more national pawnshops will be built this year, bringing to 13 the total in Mexico City. There now are 24 scattered over the country.

Politics On Air
MEXICO CITY (AP)—Political debates may be aired on radio and television during the 1964 presidential campaign in 1964, Luis Farias, head of the Interior Ministry's information office. He warned that politicians must watch their language and make no attacks on "third persons."

MEN IN SERVICE

Airman 1-C Clayton R. Lemire of Willimantic, Conn., participated in the 1963 Air Force Logistics Command Softball Tournament which recently concluded at Wright Patterson AFB, Ohio.

Airman Lemire was a member of the McClellan AFB, Calif., team which fought its way to the quarter-finals in the week-long command athletic contest. The airman is a supply specialist assigned to McClellan Air Force Base.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton R. Lemire of 323 High St., Willimantic, and is a graduate of Windham High School at Willimantic. His wife is the former Pennie F. Newsom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Newsom, 1600 Donley, Big Spring.

Army Pfc. E. C. Whitehead Jr., 20 son of Mrs. Lela Ray Kerley, 403 N. First, Carlshad, N.M., completed a radio repair course at the U.S. Army School, Europe, in Murnau, Germany, Aug. 16. Whitehead, who has been overseas since June, 1962, is regularly stationed in Germany as a field communications specialist in Headquarters Battery of the 4th Armored Division Artillery.

He entered the Army in June, 1961, and completed basic training at Fort Hood, Whitehead was graduated from Carlshad (N.M.) High School in 1961 and was a mechanic's helper with the H and H Garage, Carlshad, before entering the Army. His father lives in Westbrook.

Army Pvt. Jerry M. Wilson, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie M. Wilson, Vincent Route, Coahoma, is scheduled to complete an eight-week personnel administration course at Fort Polk, La., Oct. 4. Wilson entered the Army last May and received basic training at Fort Polk.

A 1961 graduate of Borden High School in Gall and a former student at Fort Worth College, he was employed by the Holder Pipeline Construction Co., before entering the Army.

Major Wiley F. James Jr., of Crane, has arrived at Hickam AFB, Hawaii, for assignment with Headquarters, Pacific Air Forces. Maj. James, a staff intelligence officer, previously was stationed at Fort Nam. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. France James, Loraine. The major received a B.S. degree from Abilene Christian College and an M.A. degree from the University of Texas. His wife, Jane, is the daughter of Mrs. Nelli R. Frazee, 1000 S. Sue, Crane.

A HARVEST OF FAITH

Plant a crop in deep, rich soil and you plant a crop that will flourish. Something gives it life. Sun and rain, yes, and certainly rich, abundant soil . . . and yet, something more, something that gives it the ability to seek and use strength. Someone gives US life . . . nourishing food, warm comfortable shelter, these help certainly. But still . . . something else. Our souls reach far below the surface of everyday existence to find our deeper faith in God's wisdom and power. We place ourselves at His mercy. We seek Him often in prayer and worship, and "times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord." Having found this fountain of faith, like the harvest, we point ever heavenward to share with others our discovery.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Vidal Hit Play To Be Filmed

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — United Artists' "The Best Man," a film version of the hit play by Gore Vidal, has a presidential cast. Starring are such past presidents as Henry Fonda ("Young Mr. Lincoln") and Cliff Robertson ("PT 109"). There also is Lee Tracy, who created the third of three top roles, that of the peppy ex-president, in the Broadway version of "The Best Man." Adapting the play to film is Vidal, by no accident whatsoever. Part of the deal when he sold the film rights was that he would go along as adapter to watch after his baby. His apprehension is understandable. He previously sold a hit play "Visit to a Small Planet," to films and it ended up as a vehicle for Jerry Lewis.

three years old, Vidal said little updating was needed. "I had to take out the line about the difficulty of electing a Catholic president," he said, "but most of the other matters are just as applicable today. The part about whether a divorced man could be elected president couldn't be more timely." "The Best Man" concerns chicanery within a party at convention time and was written by a political insider. Vidal is the grandson of a senator and himself ran unsuccessfully for Congress. He admitted to having some help with the play. "President Kennedy read the first draft and gave me a couple of lines," said Vidal. "One thing he told me was there was one way to be sure when a politician was going to knife you. That was when he said in parting, 'just let me know if there's anything I can do for you.'"

Strumming Magic

Eddie Hodges, one of the music makers of the Walt Disney production "Summer Magic," strums for the benefit of Hayley Mills. The feature continues at the Ritz Theater through Wednesday. Also appearing again in a role in which he sings is Burl Ives.

'Captain Sinbad'

Guy Williams stars in the swashbuckling tale of "Captain Sinbad," which opens Thursday at the Ritz Theater. It is in Technicolor. The production is due for a three-day stay.

Hayley Mills Featured In Disney Production At Ritz

Walt Disney's "Summer Magic," starring Hayley Mills, Burl Ives, Dorothy McGuire and Deborah Walley, is a musical masterpiece certain to be one of the most successful feature motion pictures in the history of the studio.

This Technicolor feature, based on the lovable ragtime era, is hilarious and musical. It has been designed for the family and no one need not worry about bringing the kids along.

"Summer Magic" is the story of the Carey family — a mother, daughter and two sons — who, having lost Mr. Carey, are faced with losing everything else too, including their big Boston home. Hayley, as the daughter, has written Burl Ives a letter about their plight.

As postmaster, constable and representative of an absentee landlord, the good-hearted Ives believes Hayley's tales of rickets and destitution and hands over a mansion in which the family has known happier days.

Seven songs are rendered by entertainers in the film. Hayley and Eddie Hodges team for two numbers. Hodges is the teenager who warbled his first song on radio when he was 18 months old. He does considerably better in "Summer Magic" than he did then with a hymn. By the time he was four years old Eddie was a regular paid singer in the CDO Club at Keesler Air Force Base in Mississippi.

Hodges also appeared on Broadway in "The Music Man" and on the screen in "A Hole in the Head" and "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn."

Dorothy McGuire makes another appearance in a mother role in the Disney film, following that character in such other movies as "Old Yeller," "Swiss Family Robinson" and "Friendly Persuasion."

Burl Ives, acclaimed as the balladier of the century, again displays his acting talent in "Summer Magic." A writer of both prose and poetry, Ives also has a host of top movie appearances under his belt. These include "Green Grass of Wyoming," "East of Eden," "Desire Under the Elms," and "The Spiral Road."

Starring opposite Hayley Mills is the popular young Peter Brown, who hit the television screen before making the movies. He was picked up by Warner Brothers for "Rangers" and "Merry's Maudraiders" before he was cast in the Disney musical.

Music is by Buddy Baker, with orchestration of Walter Sheets and Bobby Hammack. Songs are by Richard M. Sherman and Robert B. Sherman. The screenplay is by Sally Benson based on a book by Kate Douglas Wiggin. Director is James Neilson.

'Giant' Returns To Screen In Showing At Jet Theater

George Stevens' production "Giant" from the best-selling novel by Edna Ferber, returns to Big Spring for showing Sunday through Wednesday at the Jet Drive In Theater.

Starring Elizabeth Taylor, Rock Hudson and James Dean, the three-hour and 18-minute epic chronicles three decades of American life as it was lived in a region of Texas. Although, like most epics, it suffers from excessive length, the production matched in scope and importance the Ferber novel.

Most of the Texas photography on "Giant" occurred at the immense Worth Evans Ranch near Marfa. A three-story Victorian mansion and a dozen imitation oil wells, including one which spouted 2,200 gallons of ersatz oil in a minute, were transported to the location.

"Giant" was the tenth Ferber novel to reach the screen. For the movie, Elizabeth Taylor portrays the wife of Rock Hudson, who is cast as Bick Benedict, wealthy ruler of a half-million-acre ranch. James Dean, who rose to stardom in his first motion picture, "East of Eden," stars as Jett

ROCK AND LIZ

Rink, an ambitious ranch hand who becomes one of the wealthiest of Texans. Making her debut in "Giant" was Carroll Baker, who went on to star in other productions. Carroll received recognition as an actress for her Broadway portrayal of Ruth in "All Summer Long," leading to her movie career.

'Solomon And Sheba' Is Legend Based On Bible

"Solomon and Sheba," starring the versatile Yul Brynner, is one of two Brynner movies playing at the Sahara Drive In Theater Sunday through Tuesday. On the other half of the twin bill is "Gunfight At Dodge City," another United Artists release.

Brynner and Gina Lollobrigida star as Solomon and Sheba in the production which is purported to have cost more than $6 million. It was filmed in Technicolor on location in Spain. George Sanders plays Adonijah, the intriguing brother of Solomon, and Marisa Pavan appears as Abishag, an Israelite whose unrequited love for Solomon brings about her tragic death.

In two hours and 19 minutes tells the legend of intrigue which surrounds the rather dull Biblical version of the visit. The King James version, Sheba visits Solomon out of curiosity after hearing numerous glowing reports of his wealth and wisdom. Upon finding them to be true, the two majestic figures exchange small fortunes in gestures of courtesy and go their separate ways.

The legendary version, however, as portrayed by Brynner and troupe, has the Israelites and Egyptians engaging in skirmishes. Sheba, believing that she can shake the faith of the Israelites in their God, which is their strength, makes a visit to Solomon. The attending intrigue provides another lusty portrayal in epic proportions.

For the film, Solomon's temple was reconstructed according to the description in the sixth chapter of I Kings.

A freight train forty cars long was required to transport the company, crew, equipment and props of "Solomon and Sheba" from Madrid to the Los Monogros desert near Zaragoza, Spain, for battle scenes in the film.

Other highlights of the movie are

Footballer Is Mills' Teacher

Jim Stacy, handsome young footballer, wound up with the enviable job of tutoring Hayley Mills in croquet in "Summer Magic."

While he was attending Glendale Junior College Stacy was drafted by the Canadian Football League for a stint with the Vancouver British Columbia Lions as a half-back.

At this point he decided to try his hand at acting at the urging of actor friend Bob Fuller. Both attended a drama class being conducted by Richard Boone of "Have Gun Will Travel" fame at the Oakland Grammar School in Los Angeles.

Stacy made an effort to get started in television and was successful in getting several small parts in shows like "The Ozzie and Harriet Show," "West Point Story" and "Highway Patrol." Ozzie Nelson liked Stacy's work and signed him as a regular.

Later, during one lull, Stacy decided to travel. He started out by riding the rails across the United States from Los Angeles, hopped a freighter bound for Rome and saw the rest of Europe working as ski instructor and dishwasher.

On his way home he stopped off in New York to study drama with the famed coach, Boris Marshall. Back in Hollywood, finally, he appeared in a more television shows, among them Screen Gems' "Shannon," "The Donna Reed Show," and a pilot, "APO 923."

Training School For Cooks Attracts Only Six Applicants

Texas Employment Commission Office Manager Leon Kinney said Saturday that only six applicants have filed for training as cafe and hotel cooks under the new training program sponsored by TEC.

Classes are to start at Howard County Junior College Sept. 9. He urged all men interested in learning this trade to contact him at the TEC office without delay. Each applicant is given an aptitude test and those accepted will be enrolled in the class which will continue through Jan. 15.

Meantime, Howard County Junior College is setting up a classroom kitchen in the old SUB. Officials of the school will interview an applicant for teacher Sunday — a former chef with college training in cafe and restaurant cooking.

Kinney pointed out that trained cooks in the Permian Basin area are paid good salaries. Some receive as much as $600 to $700 per month, he said. Jobs are always open for good cafe cooks, he said.

Under the training program, underemployed and unemployed young men who have the required educational background and can pass the aptitude test can enroll in the cook's school. Where a student is the head of a family and its principal earner, he can be provided with a small weekly subsistence payment while he attends school. This is currently about $30 per week.

The classes will operate from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. Monday through Friday. Kinney has contacted all restaurant operators and the managers of institutional kitchens in the area informing them of the program. He pointed out to these officials that it would be to their advantage to encourage any qualified young man to take such training and have him contact Kinney. He also suggested there might be employees in local cafes who have shown ability. He proposed they be enrolled in the school.

"I am sure," he said, "we will find ample applicants to start the class as scheduled Sept. 9. It will probably be like the enrollment in the automobile mechanic's class — down to the last 10 days we were worried about enough applicants. The last week saw the number reached and passed."

The auto mechanics class, now well along toward its half-way mark, was set up by TECHCJC early this year.

Seventeen of the original 20 enrollees are still in the class and making good progress, he said.

Canal Is Proposed Instead Of Port

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Experts say a 90-mile intracoastal canal from Tuxpan Veracruz to the Texas border could be built at half the estimated $20.8 million cost of a proposed port at Matamoros, across from Brownsville, Tex.

Engineers drafting an inland waterways plan recommended Thursday that the canal be built to link Mexico's entire Gulf Coast area with United States shipping.

To Improve Port

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A modernization program for the Pacific port of Mazatlan is being carried out, the Navy Ministry said Saturday at a cost of $2,776,000.

Maj. Edwards Assigned As Webb Information Officer

Maj. Roy G. Edwards has reported for duty at Webb as Base Information Officer. 2nd Lt. David M. Hodson, who has been information officer since the departure of Maj. Charles A. Smith, will remain as assistant to Maj. Edwards.

Major Edwards came to Webb from Bolling AFB. He is no stranger to the Lone Star State, having attended Texas Tech at Lubbock from 1939 to 1941. He calls Lorraine his hometown. He entered the service in October, 1942, and received his commission in 1945 following his completion of the aviation cadet training. Then he served as photographic officer at Sumner N.M. and at March Field, Calif., and was discharged from active duty in April, 1946.

MAJ. ROY G. EDWARDS

For a year he was in civil service at Lubbock, later transferring to San Antonio, where he was assigned to the information division of the Fourth Army, at Ft. Sam Houston.

In 1948 he was recalled to active duty as a second lieutenant and served at Trinidad from 1948 to 1949 with the 91st Photo-Recon Squadron; the 91st was then engaged in aerial photography, using B-17s, in that area.

Maj. Edwards was later assigned to McDill AFB, where he served as information officer. While at McDill, he finished up his college work at Florida Southern and was awarded his bachelor's degree. He is a graduate of the Squadron Officers School, the Air Force Information Officers School, and the Advanced Mapping School.

completed tours in England and Japan. One tour to England found him with the 3921st Squadron as Photographic Officer from 1954 to 1957.

In 1959, he was ordered to Japan, this time as Photographic Officer for the 67th Recon Tech Squadron based at Yokota, near Tokyo.

Maj. Edwards is married to the former Maribel Savage of Lubbock. They have two sons—David G. Edwards, a student at Howard County Junior College, and Robert M. Edwards, a senior at Big Spring High School.
