U.S.-Japanese Test Rocket Is Launched

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (AP)—An Aerobee rocket carrying an 185-pound instrument package of United States - Japanese experiments was fired 139 miles into the ionosphere today.

The eight-minute flight was "considered good," said the National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman.

The payload splashed down in the Atlantic 80 miles from NASA's launching station here and the spokesman said "a preliminary look at telemetry from the flight indicates all experiments functioned."

The rocket was launched at 3:09 a.m. NASA said the second flight in the series is scheduled for Thursday and will be a day-time launching.

Today's shoot was designed to measure electron density and temperature simultaneously by different methods.

Measurements made by a Langmuir probe, supplied by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Goddard Space Flight Center at Greenbelt, Md., were to be compared with measurements made with a radio-frequency resonance probe developed by the Radio Research Laboratory in Tokyo, Japan.

The Aerobee payload also carried equipment for two secondary NASA experiments. One was a narrow-band receiver for a study of radio wave propagation at very low frequency (vlf) and the other was a small sodium lamp to measure the sodium gas content in the lower ionosphere.

Ole Miss Becomes All-White Again

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—The University of Mississippi has again become an all-white school with the ouster of Cleve McDowell.

McDowell, 21, was a second-term law student until Tuesday when the school expelled him for carrying a gun.

Asked about the decision as he left campus for his home at Drew 60 miles to the southwest, the Negro replied: "I have no emotions about it whatsoever."

McDowell faces a justice of the peace trial on Saturday on charges of carrying a concealed deadly weapon, a loaded 22-caliber revolver. Maximum penalty would be three months in jail and $100 fine. He is free on $250 bond. Officers arrested him on campus Monday.

The Student Judicial Council held a hearing Tuesday on charges that McDowell violated a university regulation against carrying arms on campus. McDowell and his attorney appeared before the council.

The student group recommended expulsion to Dean L. L. Love, who passed the recommendation to Chancellor J. D. Williams. Both the dean and the chancellor concurred.

The decision may be appealed to the State College Board of Trustees.

Charles Evers of Jackson, state field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said he thought the university "went by the policy of the school."

Earlier, Evers had said he hoped that McDowell would get off with a strong reprimand.

McDowell had been the only Negro at Ole Miss since James H. Meredith graduated last month. Unlike Meredith, he was not protected by federal marshals while on campus. Meredith's enrollment last fall set off rioting.

White House Hopes For Red Followup On Peace Safeties

WASHINGTON (AP)—With the test ban treaty safely through the Senate, administration leaders were reported cautiously hopeful today that Soviet Premier Khrushchev will be ready soon to negotiate on a "second step" to reduce dangers of nuclear war.

The same pressures believed to have influenced Khrushchev's decision to sign the limited ban on nuclear weapons testing are still present. Thus U. S. experts think Khrushchev may see further need to improve his relations with the Western powers.

These pressures include the bitter and growing differences between the Soviet Union and Red China and the apparently severe crop failure in the Soviet Union this year which makes Khrushchev partially dependent on Western sources for wheat and other food grains.

FUTURE RISKS

Furthermore, U. S. officials believe that after the Cuban missile showdown last October Khrushchev decided the danger of nuclear war had been so great that steps toward minimizing future risks of worldwide destruction were necessary.

Possible next steps include proposals which Khrushchev himself has made for an East-West non-aggression pact and for the stationing of observers on both sides of the Iron Curtain to guard against surprise attack.

Of the two propositions, U. S. authorities think agreement on the observer plan is more likely because the nonaggression proposal has been tied by the Western powers to counterproposals for greater security for West Berlin.

The test ban treaty cleared the Senate Tuesday by an 80-19 vote. It will prohibit all but underground testing.

President Kennedy called the fact "a single but substantial step in the direction of peace." Secretary of State Dean Rusk has characterized it as a "first step" with the implication there must be other steps if Soviet-Western relations are to continue to improve.

So far, Khrushchev has shown no pressing interest in proceeding urgently with further negotiations. Several reasons have been advanced for this in official Washington.

Khrushchev may have wanted to be sure the treaty would win Senate ratification before proceeding with further measures. He may also have decided that urging consideration of other issues during the Senate debate might complicate matters.

Another and more generally accepted reason is that Khrushchev wanted to assess the impact of the nuclear test ban, particularly on his struggle with the Red Chinese for leadership of Communist parties in Asia, Europe and Latin America.

The problem of food shortages relates to the question of the resources Khrushchev has available for maintaining Soviet military forces, building Soviet nuclear strength, and promoting the expansion of his country's civilian economy with some rise in the level of consumer goods.

U. S. policymakers have been impressed by the recent emphasis Khrushchev has put on his country's need for fertilizer to increase agricultural output. If he is to expand fertilizer production and the output of farm machinery generally, he will need to build more nonmilitary factories.

This is interpreted in Western capitals to mean that he has a continuing problem with military leaders over the allocation of resources between military and civilian purposes.

Another consideration bearing on the civilian economy is that Khrushchev has had to purchase huge supplies of grain in the West to feed the Soviet people and to maintain the Soviet Union's grain commitments to Eastern European satellites and to Cuba.

Opening lead: King of ♠ Commendable restraint by East during both the auction and play of today's hand deprived declarer of information that would assuredly have enabled the latter to walk off with his contract.

While East could not be subjected to criticism for doubling the five club bid holding both minor suit aces, his partner's preemptive three spade call suggested that little defensive assistance could be expected from that quarter. Prospects for a major killing were not bright, therefore, and East decided that a double would locate cards for the declarer.

West opened the king of spades and the ace was played from dummy on which South discarded a diamond. The six of diamonds was led at the second trick, and East made the key play of the deal when he followed with the trey. Failure on the part of declarer to throw a heart from his hand on the ace of spades strongly suggested that he had no heart losers. Accordingly, East could see that releasing the ace of diamonds would serve only to assist South in the quick establishment of his side suit. Altho his duck risked the loss of an immediate trick, East knew that it would leave declarer with considerable washing to be done before the latter would be in position to claim the hand.

Altho South could have simplified his problems by putting up the king of diamonds when East played low, declarer can hardly be blamed for placing the ace with West under the circumstances. The jack was therefore played from the closed hand and West was in with the queen. A spade return forced declarer to ruff.

South proceeded to establish the diamond suit by ruffing three times in dummy but, in so doing, he was obliged to force his own hand twice more, reducing his trump holding to three, one less than the number held by East. The latter was ultimately able to claim the setting trick with his long club.

Had East played the ace of diamonds at the second trick, it would have enabled declarer to establish his suit with a single ruff, and East would have been restricted to his two aces.

Expect great things from Chevrolet again—for '64

Tomorrow...Jet-smooth Luxury '64 CHEVROLET

'64 Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan—one of 15 Jet-smooth Luxury Chevrolets.

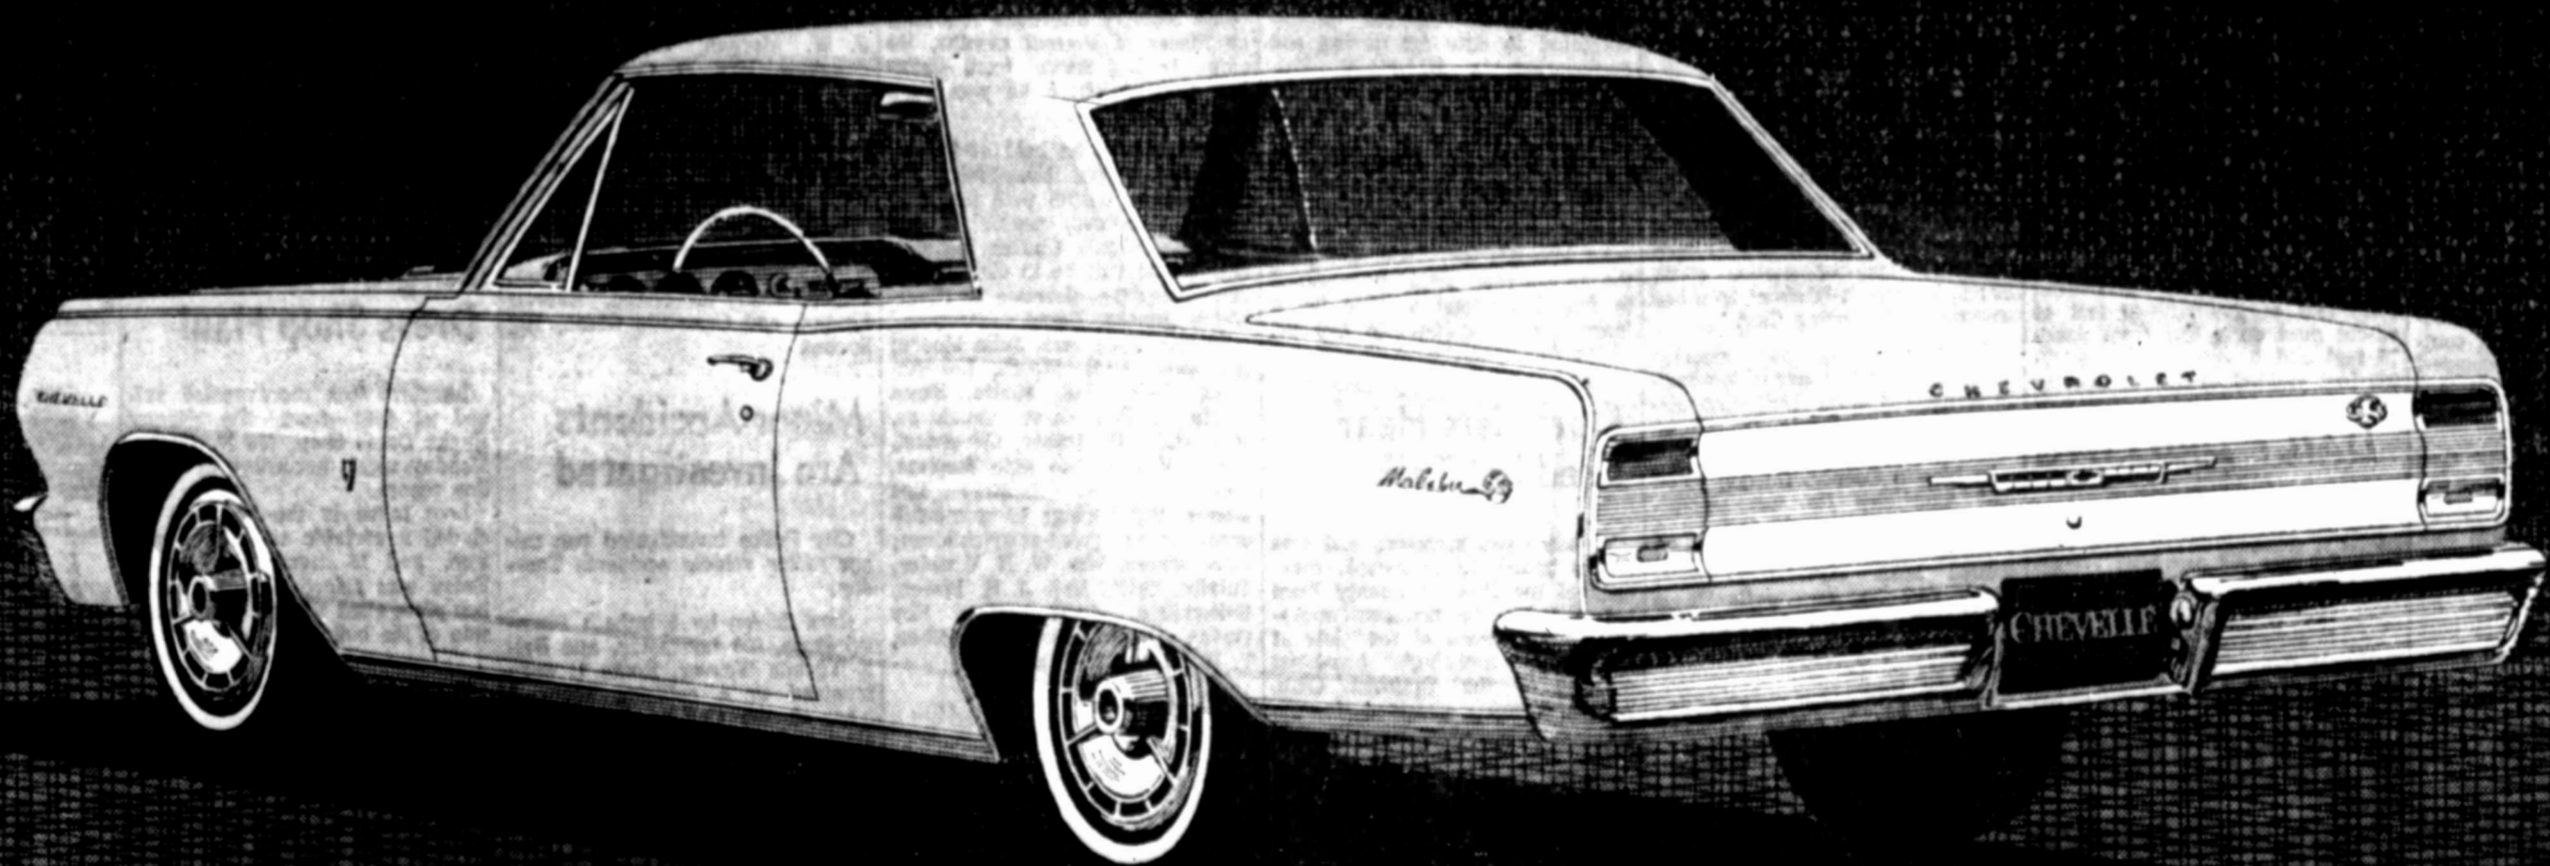

Chevrolet was luxurious before, but you should see it now. With smart new styling, the '64 Chevrolet looks even longer (but isn't). There's even a whole new series this year—the Impala Super Sports—with front bucket seats as standard equipment. (The new Impalas and Bel Airs are more luxurious, too. Even the lowest priced Biscaynes have new foam-cushioned seats front and rear and are fully carpeted.) Of course, you expect more than just luxury from Chevrolet. A choice of 16 power teams, for instance—a 6 and six V8's up to 425 hp (optional at extra cost). New quieter transmissions. Jet-smooth ride with Full Coil suspension. Flush-and-dry rocker panels, Delco-tron generator, self-adjusting brakes and other low-upkeep features. If you've ever wondered how luxurious Chevrolet could get—with all the extra-cost options available at your Chevrolet dealer's—that's entirely up to you.

Take your first look at the first CHEVELLE!

CHEVELLE! by Chevrolet

New Chevelle Malibu Super Sport Coupe—one of 11 models in three great series.

You've never seen anything like this totally new line of cars before. Chevelle is new in everything but Chevrolet quality. Chevelle is a good foot shorter than the big cars, so it parks easily. Yet the interior of its Body by Fisher gives you a generous supply of passenger and luggage room. The ride is surprisingly smooth with a rugged coil spring at all four wheels. And not so surprisingly for Chevrolet, the new Chevelle offers a choice of engines ranging from an economical 120-hp 6 to a 220-hp

V8 (optional at extra cost). Choose the Chevelle you like best from the three series—the Malibu Super Sport, the Malibu and the 300 Series with eleven models in all—at your Chevrolet dealer's. (This good-looking Malibu Super Sport maybe?)

Oil Official Blasts Federal Secrecy

HOUSTON (AP) — The President of the American Petroleum Institute said today that a federal oil study report that was kept secret 10 months may lead to a series of secret reports.

"You never know when a report stops being a study and becomes a policy," said Frank N. Ikard, New York City.

The former Texas congressman said President Kennedy's inter-agency petroleum study committee report was declassified in July after a 10 months delay and only at the insistence of Rep. Walter Rogers, D-Tex.

"The very secrecy of this project, and its long suppression, are entirely in keeping with the nature of its contents," Ikard said in a speech before the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

"We cannot even feel we know the worst about this so-called study now. There remains the danger it can spawn still another series of secret reports. Specifically mentioned as areas for deeper probing are petroleum reserves, productive capacity, deliverability, and industry costs."

The inter-agency report suggests that domestic oil prices are too high and that complete abandonment of imports controls could lead to substantial reductions.

MORE CONTROL

Ikard said both the inter-agency report and Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy's May report on the Interstate Oil Compact Commission the federal government should have more to say, much more to say, about petroleum conservation and supply.

"We should not be surprised that the inter-agency report turned out to be such a one-sided document," he said. "No public hearings were held. The industry was given no chance to examine and reply to any of the unfavorable statements."

He said the theme of the report on the oil compact seemed to be "anything the states do in this field, Washington could do better."

E. D. Brockett, president of the Gulf Oil Corp., also told the Texas oilmen he is perturbed by threats of government intervention in the industry.

PROBATION BAN

The Pittsburgh, Pa., executive said he is also disturbed by some agitation that has arisen for elimination of market demand proration under which Texas and other states limit crude output to demand.

"Nothing would be more conducive to federal control and nothing would be more harmful to the independent producer, who is a most vital and highly regarded member of this industry," Brockett said. "There would be a return to wasteful production practices."

Brockett said it is generally believed within the industry that the inter-agency and oil compact reports portend the acceleration of a movement to have the federal government take over control of the oil industry.

James L. Sewell, Dallas, was elected president of the 4,000-member association. He succeeds another independent, J. Clyde Tomlinson, Longview.

Sewell is president of the Delhi-Taylor Oil Corp., an independent producing and refining firm.

New district view presidents include Tom B. Medders Jr., Wichita Falls, Ralph H. McCullough, Houston, James E. Russell, Abilene, and John Crutchfield, Corpus Christi.

The 1964 meeting will be held Sept. 28-30 in San Antonio.

MYSTERY MAN HANDING OUT $50 BILLS IN SAN ANTONIO

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A mysterious stranger is making the rounds in San Antonio, handing out $50 bills to people who never saw him before.

Taxicab driver Joe Montalbo told Tuesday of taking the anonymous benefactor, about 35, to deliver the money to women at three homes. Two received $50, the third $20.

Another cabbie took the same man to about eight places.

In each instance, Montalbo said, the currency was in envelopes which apparently bore names and addresses of the recipients. Montalbo quoted the gift giver as explaining his secretary checks on individual needs and he comes here each year to distribute cash.

"My pleasure is from watching the expression on their faces when they get the money," he told the cabbie. "It helps me to think I'm accomplishing something."

Montalbo first picked up the man Sunday at the San Antonio airport. He said the visitor indicated he had no family. Montalbo didn't learn where the man is staying here or what city he calls home, but speculated "he's either from New York or California."

The driver said one woman receiving a $50 bill related:

"He told me he had just come into some money and he wanted to give me some. I told him he came just at the right time, because my husband had been laid off from work. He said, 'Yes, I know,' and handed me an envelope."

Connally Urges Business, Government Cooperation

DALLAS (AP)—Gov. John Connally appealed Tuesday night for "increased understanding between government and business at the city, county and state levels."

He addressed about 800 persons at the annual Oak Cliff Chamber of Commerce dinner.

"Even if we can encourage more self reliance at the local level . . . government is and will remain an important part of our lives," the governor said.

While businessmen enjoy record sales and profits, Connally said, "Some people have grown to regard government of any kind as an evil force, bent on persecution—but actually government is composed simply of people, a portion of our citizenry, rendering order and services. . ."

At one point Connally spoke of "this new industrial area in Oak Cliff that you've worked so hard on."

Oak Cliff leaders said he referred to a projected industrial

DEAR ABBY

Just Let Him Run

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor asked me to write for her as she can't write English. Here is her problem: Her husband is 76 and retired. She is 62. Last May they attended a convention. Her husband is such a playboy she had to shift for herself while he ran after girls young enough to be his daughters. Her question is, should she go to another one of these conventions scheduled in October? She doesn't know whether to go and be hurt again, or to stay home and let him go alone and have the good time he doesn't deserve.

A FRIEND
DEAR FRIEND: A 76-year-old playboy is only running for the exercise. Tell your friend to go alone. She'd be more miserable at home wondering what the old coot was up to.

DEAR ABBY: I feel like a highlight on the local sight-seeing tour. My husband and I have a lovely new home, of which we are very proud, but his mother has gone overboard about it. She brings all the visiting firemen to go through my house without even calling to tell me they are coming. I have small children and the usual chores to do, but that does not bother her. She appears with the sight-seers at all hours. Should I sell tickets, or tell her that appointments must be made in advance, or what? Please don't print my name, or my HEAD will be on display with the rest of the house.

"HATES SURPRISES"
DEAR "HATES": Tell your mother - in-law that you don't mind being an attraction on her sight-seeing tour, but you don't like surprise visits. Ask her please to give you at least three hours' notice.

DEAR ABBY: You always say that a wife should not convict her husband on circumstantial evidence. Just because she happens to find a hairpin in his pocket, or lipstick on his handkerchief, you say is no reason to lose trust in him. Well, I sure disagree with you 100 per cent. Where there's smoke, there's fire. My old man swore on his mother's grave that he was true to me. I found out later that he was lying.

Trustees Canvass Election Returns

Returns of the election held Saturday by the Big Spring Independent School District were canvassed and found in order at a meeting of trustees Tuesday evening.

The official count showed 357 votes for and 228 against setting of $1.50 on each $100 of valuation within the district. The second proposition, that the district assume bonded indebtedness of recently-annexed portions, passed by a vote of 346 to 217.

A survey to determine job opportunities for vocational students in Big Spring was approved by trustees. It will be conducted, probably in October, by the Texas Education Agency at no cost to the local district. Trustees thought it feasible, especially now that expansion of high school facilities is under consideration, to plan for vocational education at the same time.

S. M. Anderson, superintendent, presented a request made by the superintendent at Gail for transfer of elementary students from that district to Big Spring. The students in question are Negroes currently residing in the Vealmoor district, which recently voted to join the Gail school, a segregated school.

No formal action was taken, but trustees were of the consensus that Supt. Anderson should follow present policy regarding such requests and refuse to accept the students. At this time, because of crowding already, few regular transfers and no ineligible students are being accepted.

Trustees agreed to use of school playground facilities by YMCA Gra-Y participants in accordance with policy, which states that there can be no charge for the benefit of the sponsoring agency. There had been question about whether the Y was eligible to use the facilities since it required membership, which costs $12 or the equivalent. The Y has since eliminated this requirement.

In other business, Anderson presented a report on payment of funds to the school under Public Law 874. Tuesday the final check of $42,652 was received, making payment in full of $167,930.49 due the school for the 1962-63 school year. The local system is eligible for the funds because of students obtained with establishment of Webb Air Force Base here.

Oil Forecast Down
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Bureau of Mines forecast today that market demand for domestic crude oil will be 7,225,000 barrels daily during October. This compares with the demand of 7,375,000 barrels daily forecast for September.

Webb Chalks Up 'First'

Another "first" has been chalked up on the USAF board for Webb AFB. About 3 p.m. Monday, a T-38—Number 871—piloted by Lt. Oscar Graham, instructor pilot, touched down to put Webb in the record books as the first USAF base to reach the 50,000-hour mark on the new super sonic T-38. The T-38 replaced the old T-33 as the basic trainer in the pilot training program.

The 50,000 hours were accumulated in one year, 10 months, and 19 days—just 42 days short of two years. It was the afternoon of Nov. 4, 1961 when the first T-38 was flown to Webb from the Northrup plant.

When the record was reached, the 871 was on a routine training mission, with student pilot Lt. James F. Brown, and his instructor, Lt. Graham at the controls. It was Lt. Brown's fourth T-38 flight, as a student pilot.

The first class to begin training on the T-38 was class 63-A which graduated Aug. 3, 1962.

A&M Approves Contracts, Grants

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Directors of the Texas A&M University system approved construction contracts totaling $246,341, appropriated $591,988 and accepted grants aggregating $261,785 today.

They also approved a recommendation by Texas A&M President Earl Rudder that the Texas Commission on Higher Education be asked to authorize two new undergraduate degree programs—bachelor of science in construction engineering and bachelor of arts in geography.

Contracts previously awarded by Chancellor M. T. Harrington and confirmed by the board include: To Titcher-Goettinger commercial sales of Dallas, $12,000 for equipment for the Texas Maritime Academy.

In other action, commissioners appointed Joe Jackson, Cosden attorney, to the Planning and Zoning Board.

Commissioners also passed an amendment to an old ordinance providing that the nine members of the city planning board also must act as the city zoning board. Another amended ordinance, passed by the commission, sets terms of board members to expire so that one vacancy occurs after the first year and two vacancies occur in each of the succeeding four years. These terms are to be decided among members by lot.

This would give one member of the board a one year term with two members each to serve for two, three, four and five year terms.

The commission also passed and approved, on second reading, an ordinance changing a tract of land north of Avondale Road and east of Wasson from NS (neighborhood services) to R (retail). Request for the zone change was made by Hank McDaniel.

Cotton Classing Office To Open

LAMESA (SC)—The U. S. Department of Agriculture will open its Lamesa cotton classing office here Sept. 30.

Operated by the USDA's agricultural marketing service the Lamesa office serves 43 West Texas gins—26 in Dawson County, nine in Lynn, four in Martin, three in Howard and one in Borden County.

Joseph N. Brevard, native of Panola County and graduate of Sam Houston State College, will be in charge of the office. He has been with the AMS cotton division for five years, having served as assistant officer in charge of the Austin classing office. His assistant will be J. U. Declear of Austin.

During the peak ginning season, the Lamesa office has facilities for classing about 5,000 samples a day. Last year the local office classed 207,429 samples for cotton farmers belonging to Smith-Doxey improvement groups.

Early ginned cotton in the Lamesa territory was classed in Lubbock. Should a farmer want a review on any of the classifications, the request for review and samples should be sent to Lamesa, Brevard reports.

Cotton is classed without cost for farmers belonging to the organized Smith-Doxey improvement groups.

Farmers who know the grade and staple of their cotton are in a position to get the best market price for it, Brevard said. "That is why farmers in this area have nearly all of their cotton classed by USDA."

In addition to classing cotton, the AMS releases weekly the Texas-Oklahoma Cotton Market Review, describing local, state and national market conditions, trends, quotations, plus facts on picking, defoliating, machine harvesting and ginning. During the harvesting season, AMS issues a cotton quality report by classing offices every Monday and a quality report by districts each month.

Wheat, Chickens Clutter Trade Air

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Trade wars can happen in spite of all the official expressions of distaste for them. Today the international trade picture is cluttered up with wheat chaff and chicken feathers.

The air over the United States also is filled with complaints about foreign dumping of steel products, various textiles and electronic gadgets.

On the sidelines is that perennial imponderable, the Soviet Union. It can, and sometimes does, stir up trouble by its own form of market raiding—pinpointing localities to flood with cheap oil. Today it is busily building an oil pipeline to put its products in easy distance of industrial Western Europe.

GOLD HOARD

Russia holds a large hoard of gold which it could dump on the market or withhold from the market at will, if it wished to embarrass the United States in its present fight to protect its gold reserves and the price of the metal.

International traders also struggle with the political and economic implications of sugar, tin, rubber, coffee.

Trade sits in at many a conference chiefly labeled as political or ideological.

The chicken war with the European Common Market may look like a small matter. It may be subject to compromise between the United States and the six nations. But with each side budging very little today it could lead to a more important trade war, with a lot of others besides American chicken farmers hurt.

The Common Market has raised the tariff on American poultry 100 per cent to 13.43 cents a pound. Tuesday it offered to cut this back by 13 cents, if the United States would abandon further negotiations on the issue.

TOO SMALL

The United States says the cut is too small and that the tariff hike has damaged some $46 million a year of its poultry trade. It has been studying a long list of European products on which it could raise tariffs with the aim of hurting European trade by an equal $46 million.

Wheat is in the picture because the United States owns huge stocks it has acquired in supporting domestic prices. It has been selling some of this wheat abroad, but has refused to sell to the Red bloc. Canada has just completed deals to sell huge amounts of its wheat to Red China and to Russia, with some of the latter supply being shipped to Cuba.

Russian Cosmonaut Dad Of Daughter

MOSCOW (AP)—Tiny Tanya Titov—day-old daughter of cosmonaut Gherman Titov—gurgled happily Tuesday as she posed with her mother, Tamara, for her first photographs.

The two were snapped snuggling on a bed in a Moscow maternity home as congratulations poured in for the birth of the baby—first child born of a father who has orbited the earth. The Titovs have no other children.

Maj. Titov, 28, and his 26-year-old wife visited the United States in April 1962, and were entertained by President Kennedy.

Titov, son of a Siberian school teacher, made 17 orbits of the earth in 25 hours and 18 minutes beginning Aug. 6, 1961. It was the world's second manned spaced flight.

Ceylon Gives Case Study Of A Population Explosion

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—Ceylon provides a handy case-study of one of the world's biggest problems: The explosive expansion of population.

Malaria was eliminated 17 years ago from this island off South India. Since then the population has been growing at one of the highest rates recorded anywhere. Census director A. B. Pullenayegul estimates the growth rate at 2.8 per cent a year.

The population of Ceylon was 10,644,809 July 2, the 1931 figure. The island still has plenty of room, although it has almost six times as many people as West Virginia puts into only slightly less area. Ceylon is not yet like parts of the world in which rising population has meant sharply decreased acreage of food crops for each month to be fed.

The southwestern quarter is a lush, well-watered tropical area where food grows easily for the dense population. The mountainous central part produces tea and rice. Much of the eastern and northern part of the island can support only thin populations until costly irrigation is provided. The average villager is ignorant of birth control. He has children at a rate that seemed normal when infant mortality was high and life expectancy low. For him, the rapid growth of population is a vague, distant thing. They leave the worrying to people like Eugene Black.

[OR WHAT TO DO TILL THE SIGN MAN COMES]

“MEANWHILE, IF YOU’RE DRIVING DOWN THE ROAD AND YOU SEE A FINA STATION

(EVEN IF THE SIGN SAYS

On May 1, 1963 Fina bought the Cosden Petroleum Corporation and its splendid facilities, including 1100 Cosden and Col-Tex stations in the Southwest. This means that everything we’ve said about Fina in the past now goes for Cosden too.

Of course we are very happy about this new association and would have mentioned it earlier except that we have been trying to figure out some way to get the idea over that wouldn’t be too confusing to advertise. You see, the simplest thing would have been to put Fina signs up on all 1100 Cosden and Col-Tex stations first and then tell people about it; ending up “Yes, if you’re driving down the road and you see a Fina station...”

The trouble with this plan is that it’s impossible; you don’t put up that many Fina emblems just like that, you know.

It has been suggested that one solution might be to paint all these new stations Pink. Why, we aren’t even painting all the Fina stations pink. Well, perhaps by May 12, 1966, the day when we hope to have Pink Air, the ultimate additive, available for your tires, we’ll have solved the problem.

For the moment, however, when you’re in Cosden territory and see a station, you can help out by imagining that it’s pink. Look at it through rose colored glasses.

On the other hand, we would like Cosden customers to feel free to drive into Fina stations; we’re all one big happy family—tickled pink, you might say. Same gas, same everything, and the credit cards are interchangeable. (Say, here’s an idea: how about sending a Fina Pink Ball Point Credit Card Signing Pen to everyone who has a Fina, Cosden or Col-Tex credit card? We’ll think about it and let you know next time.)

Meanwhile, if you’re driving down the road and you see a Fina station (even if the sign says Cosden) and it’s on your side so you don’t have to make a U-turn through traffic and there aren’t six cars waiting and you need gas or something, please stop in.

A Devotional For The Day

I have never given up praying for you and asking God to fill you, through full spiritual wisdom and insight, with a clear knowledge of what his will is. (Colossians 1:9. Goodspeed.)
PRAYER: O Father, open our ears and eyes and minds to the guidance of the Holy Spirit. As we delve into the revelation of Thy will and wisdom as found in the Bible, help us to translate them into our daily deeds. In Jesus' name. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

The Image Isn't All

It has become commonplace to remark that Abraham Lincoln would not have done very well as a presidential candidate in our time because of his appearance. Honest Abe was an ugly man, as he often acknowledged, and the thought is that he would not have presented an endearing television image.

good looking—preferably young and vigorous, with an easy smile and an air of sincerity. His television "front" must also include a pleasant, handsome family obviously fond of him. He must be notably articulate, with a ready opinion on every subject. If he is clearly a good fellow who gets along well with others and does not lack the common touch, including a predilection for shirtsleeves and hot dogs, so much the better; all this is grist for the image mill.

The difficulty is that the most able man for high office may not fit this picture. He may be rather an ugly sort—Socrates, for example, reputedly was, if not downright ugly, he may yet lack a radiant smile and shun back-slapping. He may fumble a bit in trying to arrive at sound views and express them clearly. In short, his qualities may be fine and enduring, rather than immediately endearing.

Moral: The television is not all.

Committee With Tough Job

It is hoped that Gov. Connally's newly appointed eight-member study committee will be able to help clarify, rather than further confuse, public policy on development of recreational facilities at major water reservoirs in the state.

These reservoirs, however, are developed by federal, state or local agencies—and combinations of any two or all three—and the statutory, financial and political obstacles to a comprehensive, coordinated program of realizing their full recreational use are formidable.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—After paying the parking lot for a new apartment building, owner Bob Withers decided he would be doing everyone a favor if he used the excess asphalt to pave an access alley owned by the city.

Around The Rim Another Link In An Impossible Chain?

On April 15, 1912, the prize of the White Star line, and indeed of the United States merchant fleet, steamed proudly through the North Atlantic on her maiden voyage.

ABOARD HER were some of the most prominent citizens of the country, and a gay spirit attended this unsinkable ship. Earlier there had been warnings of icebergs, but the proud ship sailed boldly on. At 2:20 a.m. it happened. The liner plowed into the submerged base of a massive berg. At near full speed, this tore a gaping hole in the great ship and set into motion a chain of events that could not possibly happen, but which did.

THIS SET INTO motion a wave of inquiries, one in the Congress and one by the British admiralty. How could this happen, and why didn't aid reach the scene sooner?

Inez Robb A Pox On Cordless Dryers

On my desk there is a letter written more in sorrow than in anger by a Massachusetts matron. Just one too many push-button gadgets to "save" the housewife and ease life's strains has come on the market. And my correspondent wants none of it.

THIS MESSAGE for the day is taken from an advertisement for this mobile hair dryer enclosed in her letter by my outraged correspondent. The advertisement goes on to boast "extra long cord assures mobility, lets hair dry while working."

David Lawrence It Was A Good Speech

WASHINGTON — A very good speech was delivered the other day by President Kennedy before the United Nations General Assembly. There may be some disagreement about the practicability of his proposal for a joint effort with the Soviet Union to go to the moon—in fact, many people probably wish there could be a joint proposal to call off the stunt altogether to help poverty-stricken peoples.

IT WAS IMPORTANT, for instance, to give the cause of the United Nations a stimulus so as to persuade many member governments to pay their share of the expenses for current programs. So, too, was the emphasis on the successful negotiation of the treaty limiting nuclear tests.

PERHAPS THE MOST difficult and perplexing topic with which the President had to deal in his address was the continuation of the "cold war." He spoke hopefully of the recent nuclear test negotiations as having brought a "pause in the cold war."

DR. MOLNER is happy to receive readers' questions and whenever possible uses them in his column. However, due to the great volume of mail received daily, Dr. Molner regrets he cannot answer letters individually.
