Man Shoots Wife, Self As Ambulance Waits

HOUSTON (AP) — An ambulance was parked in the driveway at a frame home, and passersby who noticed it sensed some kind of misfortune. But they could not have guessed the tragedy which happened moments later. Edmund Maeker, 39, shot his estranged wife to death and then fired a bullet into his head with a .38 caliber pistol. He died in the driveway while Mrs. Maeker's sister-in-law lay in the ambulance and wondered what the shots were. Police said this was the course of events. Maeker, a doughnut baker and his wife Emma Marie, 38, had been separated about two weeks. She had been living with her mother, Mrs. Marie Prime. Earlier Monday, Mrs. Prime's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Prime Jr., were injured in a car accident. An ambulance was summoned to take Mrs. Prime, 46, to the hospital. Maeker drove up, stepped from his car, and after talking to the ambulance driver, asked his wife: "Where are you going?" She told him she was going to follow the ambulance to the hospital. "No, you're not," he said. "If you're not coming home, you're not going anywhere." Witnesses said he ran to his car, grabbed a pistol and ran back to the car where his wife sat behind the wheel, with his mother-in-law next to her. He fired three times at his head, put the gun to his head and pulled the trigger again. Earlier Monday, Mrs. Prime's son and daughter-in-law, Mr.

Pakistani-Indian Ties At New Low

RAWALPINDI, Karachi (AP) — "Make us your colony. We'll submit to that. We'll submit to Communist rule before we will bow down to the Hindus." A Pakistani businessman said to an American correspondent. He was not actually advocating colonialism. He was trying to explain why Pakistan-India relations are near an all-time low. "Call us sick if you want to," said a high Pakistani official heatedly. "But don't question our belief that India is a much greater menace to us than communism."

CLOSER TO REDS Despite the anti-communism of President Mohammad Ayub Khan, Pakistan today is moving closer to friendship with Communist China. The motive: Fear of India. India for her part worries about a Pakistan-Peking axis against India. Pakistan is only a third the size of India, less than a quarter as big in population and has an army less than half India's. Much more fear of India is expressed in Pakistan than vice versa. Indian Prime Minister Nehru says Pakistan's fear is irrational. Foreign observers tend to describe it as an inferiority complex. Pakistanis themselves agree that India is an obsession with them.

LARGELY MOSLEM Pakistan is largely Moslem; India is largely Hindu. In the middle ages Islamic (Moslem) conquerors often destroyed Hindu temples and idols. The power of the last Moslem dynasty, the moguls, was chipped away by Hindu warriors and finally overthrown by the British. By the time Britain granted independence to India in 1947, the Moslems had become a large but powerless minority compared to the Hindus.

Western-educated Hindus like Nehru and Mohandas K. Gandhi envisioned a united India, a state where Hindus, Moslems and the warrior Sikh sect could forget differences. VIOLENCE RISES But in 1946 other Hindus pressed for a "Hindu" India. Violence between the communities rose. Pakistan's founder, Mohamud Ali Jinnah, saw the differences between Hindus and Moslems as "so fundamental that there is nothing that matters in life upon which we agree." In addition, Jinnah and his followers were aware that Hindus by and large ran the colonial administration under the British—the same administration which would run independent India. Hindus outnumbered the Moslems nearly 4-1 in the country. Pakistan was created out of the body of British India. Nehru and Gandhi had to consent in the end. Tensions generated during the long argument burst forth in terrible riots between religious groups in 1964-47.

IN PUNJAB The worst carnage occurred in the Punjab, where the partition line divided the state. Whole populations of Moslems and Sikhs exchanged places there. Riots and slaughter occurred in the process. By the best estimates, a million persons died. Today Pakistanis find themselves little better off than India. Massive American aid has not made Pakistan progress faster than her big neighbor, which has received much less foreign aid per person. India is a parliamentary democracy today. Pakistan is still groping for a workable democratic form of government. Rich and poor treat each other as spiritual equals in Pakistan, however. You do not see that generally in India. But the poor in Pakistan are as miserable, materially speaking, as in caste-conscious India. About 50 million Moslems still live in India, having stayed behind at partition. They are probably no worse off materially than the masses of Pakistan, although Pakistanis contend the Indian Moslems are discriminated against.

Light Rain Dots Texas

Overcast skies held promise of needed rain Tuesday for southern sections of Texas, but the weatherman said there wouldn't be much moisture. It was clear over the rest of the state. Light rain fell during the night around Laredo and Del Rio on the Mexican border and there were a few showers from north of Mineral Wells into Oklahoma. It was foggy at Lubbock on the West Texas plains and at Beaumont and Lufkin in Southeast Texas before dawn Tuesday. Well spaced showers were predicted through Wednesday in the southern half of the state and northward into the edge of Northwest Texas. Top temperatures Monday ranged from 89 degrees at Presidio down to 74 at El Paso.

Kashmir, a Himalayan state peopled mostly by Moslems, was not given to either India or Pakistan in the partition. The two countries fought over it. The United Nations keeps watch on a cease-fire line that divides the state. Kashmir is more than a garden spot to the Pakistanis. They have made it a test of India's sincerity. By denying Kashmir Moslems the right to self-determination, India denies the basis on which Pakistan itself was formed, so the argument runs. From this it is easy for Pakistanis to conclude that India may try to reunite the countries. On the Indian side, a few fanatic Hindus provide ammunition for this argument. But Nehru's attitude is that he wishes Pakistan would just mind her own business. His policy on Kashmir is that Pakistan is the aggressor there and anyway it is too late for a plebiscite. Nehru says India's troop buildup in the east is for defense against another attack by Communist China. America and Britain have guaranteed that new weapons they supply India will not be used for any other purpose.

Sentence Probated In Failure To Stop Charge

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Kenneth X. Carson, 22, Sweetwater welder, pleaded guilty to a charge of "failure to stop and render aid" in 32nd District Court Monday in connection with the death of Robert Free, 12-year-old Colorado City youth, Aug. 7, 1962, and was sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary. The sentence was handed down by District Judge Austin McCloud and Carson was placed on probation to the probation officer of Nolan County. Robert Free, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Free, Colorado City, was killed while riding his bike along Colorado City's East Hill about 9:15 p.m. The automobile which struck Free and a companion did not stop but was later picked up for driving without lights. The automobile was later identified as the one involved in the fatal accident. Carson, driver of the automobile, was charged with "murder with a motor vehicle." This charge was later reduced to the hit and run driving charge.

No Bail For Genovese As Conviction Is Reviewed

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington: NO BAIL. After leafing through the law books, the Justice Department finds that Vito Genovese, named by informer Joseph Valachi as the boss of the crime syndicate Cosa Nostra, is ineligible for release from prison while his narcotics conviction is reviewed. A department spokesman gave this opinion after study of the Supreme Court's order Tuesday that the Federal Court of Appeals in New York consider the case of Genovese, whom Valachi contended was still ruling the rackets from prison. The Justice Department said that until the lower courts act, the 1959 narcotics racketeering conviction remains in effect and that Genovese must continue serving his 15-year sentence at Leavenworth, Kan., federal prison.

DIAGNOSIS

The Great Physician has diagnosed your trouble and mine as sin. "Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned" (Rom. 5:12). The disease is defined in Jno. 3:4. "Sin is the transgression of the law." Just as physical diseases are often brought on by violation of the laws of nature, so sin is a violation of the law of Christ as found in the Bible. Every accountable person has violated some law of the Lord. "For all have sinned..." (Rom. 3:23). The malady of sin is more severe and more advanced in some than in others; yet all are victims, and unless we go to the Great Physician for treatment, we shall suffer the "second death," which is the "lake of fire" (Rev. 20:6, 14). And sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death" (Jas. 1:15). By T. H. Tarbell, preacher, Church of Christ, 200 West Highway 86, where you are always welcome. —Adv.

College Construction Bill Given Senate's Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed and sent back to the House an amended $1.9-billion college construction bill. But prospects for final enactment still are uncertain.

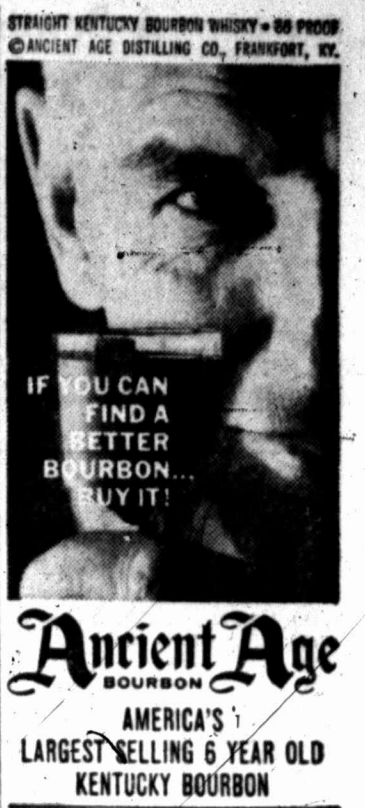

The long-time supporters of such federal outlays noted that while both branches passed a college bill last year the final compromise product worked out in conference died in the House. But they said there appear to be more favorable factors this time.

The Senate gave a solid 60-19 vote to the bill Monday, with 41 Democrats and 19 Republicans favoring it, while 11 Democrats, all Southerners, and 8 Republicans voted no. The House passed the bill 287 to 113 Aug. 14.

The limitations were put in the Senate measure in deference to senators who felt that grants to religious colleges could well violate the separation of church and state doctrine.

Both versions of the measure contain grant and loan funds for new classrooms in public and private four-year colleges, community, junior colleges, technical institutes and graduate schools.

There is one big difference in the two bills, an issue growing out of the church-state relationship. The grant funds in the Senate bill could be used only for buildings intended for instruction or research in natural and physical sciences and engineering and for libraries. The House version would permit spending on all types of buildings.

Party Official Takes Dim View Of Dog's Election

LONDON (AP) — A local party official took a far from optimistic view today of a group of young Liberals who elected a dog as their chairman.

The dog — a 6-year-old mongrel — is named Bruno. "It was a gross piece of stupidity," said Eric James, "and it's embarrassing to the party." James is ward chairman of Britain's third party in suburban Teddington. The young Liberals in his ward nominated and elected the dog.

"The parliamentary way out of this mess," said James, "is to pass a resolution of no confidence in the dog. He would then be relieved of his duties."

He promised such action probably next week. The chairmanship of the Teddington Young Liberals came vacant and "no one was prepared to fill the post," said the dog's owner, David Crawford.

"So for a joke, I nominated Bruno."

U. S. Hails Continued Opposition To Chinese

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations has again rejected membership for Communist China in a vote Monday.

The vote Monday constituted another victory for the United States in its battle to keep Red China out of the world organization. It was the 14th time the General Assembly has either rejected or sidetracked Peking's admission.

BEFORE U.N.

Portugal Target Of Africa Bloc

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — war struggle Thirst for power Armed with the most powerful voting force the United Nations has ever known, 32 African countries have set out to bring South Africa to its knees and drive Portugal from the Black Continent.

The 111-member General Assembly defeated an Albanian-Cambodian resolution to seat Peking and oust Nationalist China, 57-41 with 12 abstentions. Ethiopia, which voted for admission last year, was absent. Passage of the resolution would have required 74 votes, a two-thirds majority.

The strength mustered by the young African states to ram through resolutions denouncing race segregation and Portugal's treatment of its territories has made a deep impression.

Diplomats doubted the changes in votes indicated any trend. Cyprus, Malaysia and Togo switched from abstentions to opposition this year. Mauritania switched from rejection to abstention, while Yemen changed from acceptance to abstention. Kuwait, the United Nations' newest member, abstained.

It has also caused apprehension at the U.N. as extremist African elements step up demands to expel both South Africa and Portugal. This fear is prominently prompted by threats from both nations to quit on their own rather than submit to ceaseless invasion in the world forum.

This was the first year the resolution for Peking's admission was not sponsored by the Soviet Union, currently embroiled in an ideological dispute with Red China.

"These Africans, with the help they get from Asia, could probably get anything they want," comments one Western diplomat.

The Monrovia group leans toward the West and advocates moderation, even when dealing with colonial and racial issues. The Casablanca group includes anti-Western and outspokenly anticolonial elements. A leader of the pro-Western faction is Nathan Barnes, 49, delegation chief for Liberia, oldest republic in Africa.

The Africans are dedicated to the common aim that they must never again undergo servitude. Cohesion stops there. The group likes to look on itself as the balance of power in the cold

Barnes believes political moderates in Africa will check Communist expansion and keep the nationalist surge within bounds. Prominent in the other camp is Alex Quaison-Sackey, mercurial chief of Ghana's mission. Quaison-Sackey, 39, attended Oxford and plays the bongo drums for relaxation. He has roused mixed emotions among his colleagues. Admirers hail him as a rising star. Critics distrust him as a flashy orator with the tactics of a rabble rouser.

ARM and SHOULDER PAIN

By Halvard T. Hansen, D.C. Neuritis is one of the most painful, nerve-wracking experiences known to man. The pain is boring and stabbing. The victim is unable to get any rest or sleep. Every movement means suffering. There is loss of power and feeling.

A local inflammation of a nerve is called simple neuritis. It is localized in one spot and is usually caused by pressure on a nerve at a point of exit from the spine. Pressure on a nerve near the surface of the body, such as the shoulder or elbow will result in numbness and tingling.

Repeated constriction and pressure may result in inflammation of the affected nerve. The nerve sheath or neurolemma may squeeze the sensitive

A Devotional For The Day

Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour unto him that fell among the thieves? (Luke 10:36.)

PRAYER: Dear Lord, we are grateful to Thee because Thou dost give us opportunity to choose the type of life we want to live. Help us, O Father, we pray Thee, to make the right choice and to realize that we serve Thee by serving our neighbor. We pray in the name of Thy Son, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

Curious Decision

In setting aside the conviction of Vito Genovese, reputed head of the Cosa Nostra crime syndicate, the United States Supreme Court in tracking a previous but curious decision.

The action was based on the case of Alvin R. Campbell, convicted in a bank robbery case. The issue here was that an FBI agent refused to turn over to the defense notes he compiled in interviewing a witness prior to the trial.

The Constitution is clear that an accused is entitled to be confronted by his accusers, but the examining trial seems a proper means for requiring the nature of the prosecution's case to be shown. Certainly the individual is entitled to every safeguard of his rights, but requiring the prosecution to bare every shred of its case in advance seems to be stretching the point.

The Redistricting Case

In light of previous rulings, the decision Saturday by a 3-man Federal District Court holding Texas congressional districts to be unconstitutional is not altogether surprising.

The burden of the decision, similar to some others returned previously, was that representation is now weighted in favor of rural areas. That means in so many words that the major urban centers are not getting their proportionate share of representatives if population is considered as the primary basis.

Of course, this is the case, but Texas officials argue that redistricting is to be accomplished and ultimately, greater weight will be given to the metropolitan centers. What the court has said in essence is that representatives represent people and not geographical areas. The adjustment will be made in that direction, and it will be made by the Texas legislature with the knowledge that if does not act, voting will be on a statewide basis for places rather than by districts.

Ultimately, redistricting will have to be accomplished and ultimately, greater weight will be given to the metropolitan centers. What the court has said in essence is that representatives represent people and not geographical areas. The adjustment will be made in that direction, and it will be made by the Texas legislature with the knowledge that if does not act, voting will be on a statewide basis for places rather than by districts.

One effect of the ruling could be to require all Texas congressmen to run at large (on a state wide basis) in the next election.

This is highly unlikely. The probability is that the ruling will be appealed and a stay of the judgment obtained. One reason is that a similar case is coming up in November when the United States Supreme Court is due to rule on litigation from Georgia. There could be many guidelines germane to the Texas case. Another reason, and a more practical consideration, is that Texas officials could choose the time for calling a special session if redistricting is to be done prior to next year's primaries and general election. Whether a special session is called will depend upon the time table of probable U.S. Supreme Court action.

Holmes Alexander Gigantic Castroism

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil — "We'll have another Cuba here within three years," declared a Brazilian Army Colonel to an American banker. "You will all go home where you belong. Oh, well, be nice to you and let you take your belongings—but you will go."

ANOTHER CUBA? But it would be a mammoth Cuba. Brazil, the largest American country, is a land mass bigger than the continental United States, including Alaska. There are 70 million people here, in a country rich with nearly every natural resource, from diamonds to the purest iron ore, a 400-year European-oriented history, a variegated population that is Mediterranean, Middle Eastern, mulatto, Jewish, Moslem, Catholic and Communist, yet so individualistic that there's a folk saying which comes close to being a national policy: "God is a Brazilian."

problem alone. It may not be so bad next time we examine it.

THE SAME goes for the political crisis. On a Friday, a few weeks ago, President Goulart asked the Congress to declare a state of siege, suspending practically all the civil liberties except the right to strike. But Congress, in the mountain vastness of the new capital city Brasilia, couldn't summon a quorum to attend to this allegedly pressing national emergency. After adjourning over the weekend, both the Congress and the President decided not to bother about the emergency after all.

BUT WHILE NATURE, or fate, or divine will is regarded as benevolent, there is a matching malevolence at work. According to the doctrine of the Left, which is a catch-all phrase to include Communists, Yankee-go-home nationalists and assorted malcontents, Brazil is poor because the USA is rich. Brazil is "aiding" the USA because of all these imperialistic profits which flow northward to Washington and Wall Street. It is a simple doctrine of "extremism," the demagoguery of scapegoatism of which we have seen some relatively minor symptoms in our own country. But in Brazil, where the demagogues can count on hordes of illiterate, superstitious, suffering natives, and through Communist-led intellectuals, the message goes like a gospel.

IT GOES, to a large extent, because it has at least the permissive blessing of President Goulart, of whom there are two fairly common unfriendly estimates. Either he is a rather crude political boss who finds himself in a position of great power and responsibility which he doesn't comprehend, but which he means to keep at all costs, or he is a sinister schemer who is mounted upon a thunderhead of crisis and intends to ride it all the way to a dictatorship that will make him a Western Hemisphere colossus such as has never been seen on our side of the Atlantic.

Billy Graham

When two or more acceptable routes are open to us, how can we be sure which is God's will? —W. W.

This is a problem all Christians face, and there is no set, simple rule for discerning the will of God. However, I have used the following course in trying to ascertain His leading for my life.

First, make sure that your own desires will not affect your decision. Too many times we say, "I believe it is the Lord's will to do this and so," when we really mean "I will do this and so." Our Lord said in the Garden, "Not my will, but thine be done." That is the pattern for us—disregard your own desires. That is important!

Then pray! Sincerely seek God's guidance. Tell Him that you want His will to be done, and that you are putting the matter completely into His hands. Then simply trust. Don't turn the matter over in your mind. Simply let it rest in His hands. Don't clutter up your mind with anxiety, but "stand still," as Moses did at the Red Sea, and a way will open up.

The answer will come, clear and definite, and you will have the satisfaction that it has come from Him, and is not just a reflection of your own desires.

Barnett Case Parallels Red Trial

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's odd what time does.

Take the case of two Communists in 1958, Gilbert Green and Henry Winston, and today take the case of two Mississippians, Gov. Ross Barnett and Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson Jr.

Another Mississippian, Sen. James O. Eastland, constant critic of the Supreme Court, figures in this, too. Lawyers for Barnett and Johnson were arguing for both of them today before the court.

In 1949 Green and Winston were two of 11 top Communist leaders convicted in U.S. District Court—after a jury trial—of conspiring to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the government.

Life may begin at 40—but more than half the people on earth today haven't reached their 26th birthday. It's a young folks' world.

We think we have a parking problem. But Britain has even more crowded roads—one car to every 38 yards of highway, street and country lane.

STARTING about 1850, Amelia Bloomer crusaded unavailingly until her death in 1894 to make "bifurcated garments" popular with the ladies. While her famous bloomers evoked snickers, she finally has won her point—America now produces 75 million pairs of women's slacks and shorts a year.

To Your Good Health The Patters And The Wetters

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I've read your column for years about bursitis, neuritis, urethritis, cardiac failure, spinal curvatures, peptic ulcers, possibility of pregnancy during menopause, and obesity.

of the bill. We can borrow the rest or I can go back to work. Just rest and don't worry about a thing.

During this time she's slipping wet cloths on his forehead, patting his hands and rubbing his arms.

Tender, loving care is fine, but can't you realize that the patient needs a little rest? When men come to visit their wives, they usually sit quietly beside the bed and read a paper. If mama awakes and he's there, she's satisfied.

Why can't women let men and babies alone in the hospital? If a baby is able to be held, someone will sit there and pat its back until it couldn't possibly go to sleep because of the constant whinnying.

I've been nursing for 27 years and have never been told that wet cloths and constant annoyance were part of therapy for anyone. Make them comfortable and leave them alone!

I realize that these people mean well, but can't you mention something about this?

—H.S. R.N.

It doesn't matter if he's had a sedative or "hypo" for pain. He must be made to know that she's there. Here is the poor guy trying to get some rest and someone is constantly patting him, changing the temperature of his skin and murmuring, "It's all right, darling. You're going to be fine. Mama will be right here. Now you just go to sleep (pat-pat) and don't worry. Your insurance will take care of most

But you're right. There are also times when a patient needs nothing so much as rest.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is there any pill to make men sterile? —MRS. S. H.

Nothing as specific as for women. There has been work with that goal in mind, but to my knowledge thus far it is not too practical.

NOTE TO H.Z.: "Tennis elbow" is another way of saying "bursitis." It's the same as "chouffeur's elbow," or "housemaid's knee," or "politician's shoulder" (from shaking hands) or other instances in which continued, excessive stress has inflamed a bursa, or fluid-filled sac on which a tendon rides in a joint. Resting the joint is the best, basic cure, but there are several medical methods which your doctor can use to help your condition.

Around The Rim

Sound Sleeper

I had a bedroom in a house which was directly across the street from the county jail. The jail, which had been built in the territorial days, was a sprawling red brick structure. Its windows were small and the bars which had seen service for more than half a century were rusty and rough.

MY BEDROOM was in the rear of the house, and its one window looked out on the kitchen window of the house next door. There was a very narrow passageway between the two houses.

My job was night work, and I slept through much of the day. I had no idea who lived next door and cared less so long as they remained reasonably quiet in day time and let me sleep.

A YEAR PASSED. In the summertime, (these were days before air-conditioning) the one window in the bedroom was always up. Street noises would drift in sometimes but, in general, the room was quiet. I liked it for that reason, and the relative lack of light was of no issue to a day sleeper.

I came home one night and went to sleep. Later I was awakened by a sound of loud talk. There was a clatter of some sort as if someone had torn out a piece of metal piping. I heard doors slam. There came to my irritated ears the sound of some heavy object being dragged or bumped across a floor.

MY NOSE became aware of a strange smell—a sourish odor, reminiscent in a way of the aroma one encounters near a pipe.

"What the blankety-blank's going on?" I asked myself.

I made my way to the window and hoisted the shade.

The kitchen next door was thronged with men. I saw several peace officers I knew. They were welding axes and were obviously wrecking some part of the kitchen.

The sourish odor was sharper. Out in the backyard of the house next door, other men were doing something to several small barrels.

I HASTILY pulled on my pants and shoes and made my way across the passageway.

The sheriff was standing on the rear steps of the house.

"What's cooking?" I asked.

"Knocking over a big still," he said. "A still?" I said. "Right here across the street from the jail and your office? What was he doing—just rigging up?"

The sheriff snorted.

"RIGGING UP?" he replied. "Why that jasper had been running for months! Come on in and take a look."

And inside I saw that the kitchen wasn't a kitchen at all. The occupants had refurbished it with a copper boiler, with coils that led through condensation vats, shelves to hold empty fruit jars, and those not empty. The pantry, padded with felt was the storage quarters for the mash barrels.

I didn't stay long.

A mash barrel on the bank of a creek in the woods doesn't smell like a vial of French perfume; in a small kitchen, the odor is overpowering.

I NEVER COULD explain to the sheriff how it was I slept for a whole year, within eight feet of that still and never knew what was going on.

All I know is—that's what happened.

Big Singer Turned Composer

In every way Jerome Hines is bigger than life size. To begin with, the bass pride of the Metropolitan Opera House stands six feet, six and one-half inches with or without his shoes, and he is weary (but not worn down) from the strain of answering "How's the weather up there?"

But his height is the least of him. Hines is a quadruple threat, with talents riding off in all directions. He started out as a mathematician, and has contributed a number of treatises on that specialty to learned journals.

IN ADDITION to a B.A. in mathematics, he also has one in physics and another in chemistry. And he has only to finish his thesis to receive his master's degree in chemistry. When the Met signed him in 1946, it not only got a great American singer, but its first artist able to mix a nontoxic smoke to get Mephistopheles on and off stage in "Faust."

Now Hines is not only about to open "his" season at the Met (in Verdi's "Don Carlos"), but is orchestrating one of the most ambitious musical projects of our time.

A DEEPLY — perhaps "profoundly" is the better word—religious man in an age of skepticism, Hines for several years has been working on a cycle of three operas based on the life of Jesus Christ. The singer is author of both libretto and music.

Hines is now orchestrating the first two operas, having completed the piano and vocal scripts some months ago.

THE FIRST OPERA, which is called "I Am The Way," is the life of Jesus from His baptism to the Sermon on the Mount. Hines said (Part of it was produced on the Firestone Hour a year ago, with Hines singing the role of Jesus.)

The second opera is called "I Am The Truth" and encompasses His life from the Sermon to the resurrection of Lazarus. The singer continued, "The third opera is titled 'I Am The Life' and deals with the final week of Jesus' life, from Palm Sunday to the Resurrection.

"EACH OPERA IS approximately three hours long," said Hines, speaking in this true labor of love. A close friend and supporter of Billy Graham, the singer was chairman of Graham's music team when the evangelist held his New York crusade a few years ago.

Hines, who has four sons, has a chemistry lab in the basement of his suburban New Jersey home, and he thinks the two oldest, 9 and 7, are beginning to be interested.

A BORN CRUSADER, Hines believes it is important that there should be greater cooperation between the arts and the government.

"There are arts which simply cannot be self-supporting and are hence dependent on charity in the United States," he maintains. "I mean opera and symphony orchestras. They always wind up the season in the red, and have to be bailed out by private donations."

"YET THE VERY word 'subsidy' in reference to the arts raises an awful hue and cry," Hines continued. "But that's what they need. I doubt if there are 200 American singers of solo quality who make a full-time living out of music in this country."

"I don't understand why 'subsidy' should be a dirty word with reference to the arts but fine with reference to peanuts."

Problems Of A Mach 3 Plane

WASHINGTON — A Senate subcommittee hearing testimony about the proposed supersonic transport plane was told that with a speed of Mach 3 — over 1,800 miles an hour — as against Mach 2 the flying time from New York to Los Angeles could be cut by 30 minutes.

"But who the hell wants to go that fast?" Sen. Thurston Morton of Kentucky demanded of the witness, Chairman Alan S. Boyd of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

THIS IS ONE of many unanswered questions about a passenger plane designed to travel from two to three times as fast as the speed of sound which in scientific shorthand is designated as Mach. The cost of developing a first flyable model is put at $1 billion. It will probably come closer to $1.5 billion.

Yet, with the sponsorship of the Kennedy Administration and the strong support of the aircraft industry and the airlines, the initial stage of calling for designs is under way. This has become a race comparable in some respects to the race for the moon. The United States is determined to build a faster plane and to bring it out in advance of the Concorde with a speed of Mach 2, which is being jointly developed by France and Britain. The Concorde will cost $100,000,000. Last spring Pan American Airways put in an order for six Concorde, Continental Air Lines for three.

THAT GAVE a new impetus to the race and the Federal Aviation Agency stepped up design plans. Since then, according to Najeeb Halaby, FAA administrator, 27 of the American supersonic planes—the SST—have been ordered by American companies.

One of the biggest question marks concerns not just the safety and well-being of the comparatively few passengers—only eight per cent of Americans use the airlines—who will fly in SSTs. All airbound mortals, and particularly those living near airports are concerned with a still unresolved problem—the sonic boom.

ANOTHER SOUND problem to be solved is noise on the runway. The present subsonic jets have a noise thrust of about 17,000 pounds. The new engine will have 40,000 pounds. This means a compressor whine well over twice that of the scream of jets now in operation. Despite hopeful pronouncements about ways to combat it in new design, the far higher scream on takeoff and approach for landing is sure to stir angry protests.

AS FIRST contemplated the SST was to be windowless because of the tremendous pressures at great altitudes. From 125 to 160 passengers would be hurtled through space in a sealed metal tube. One hazard at 70,000 feet is radiation from solar storms and a warming system must be worked out so the SST can drop to a safe level. It is a strange world ahead and whether man, who has already done so much to destroy and distort his environment, can take it is the biggest question of all.

It's That Time Of The Year

Halloween is fast-approaching and art student Barbara Rubino is taking advantage of the season to help finance her college career. She's a "pumpkin painter" for a Buffalo grocery store. School Is Conducted For Lodge

STANTON (SC) — Rebecca Lodge 287 had a school of instruction Monday evening at the lodge hall. Mrs. H. F. Jarrett of Big Spring, District 11 deputy president, conducted the school, pointing out 12 rules to be observed by all lodges.

Mrs. Jarrett was assisted by Mrs. Clayton Burnam and Miss Sammie Laws of Stanton and Mrs. Jones Lamar and Mrs. O. G. Burns, Big Spring. Mrs. Larry McDonald and Mrs. Joe Lowe were also counted in the Big Spring group.

Twenty-five visits were reported by the lodge members and Mrs. Durwood Clardy received the traveling gift. A donation was made for the birthday parties at the IOOF home for the aged and for the children.

After the meeting a buffet supper was served to 25 members and guests. Appointed with silver, the table featured an arrangement of autumn flowers.

Sorority Hears Talk

"Environment Versus Heredity" was the topic for a group discussion Monday evening by members of Mu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. The sorority meeting was held in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Co. with Mrs. Richard Lindsey the main speaker.

A report on profits from the Lions Club Fun-O-Rama was given by Mrs. Louis Jones, ways and means chairman.

Refreshments were served to 13 members by Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Roy Granberry from a polished table centered with a dried arrangement of orange and yellow flowers.

The next social meeting of the sorority will be a preferential brunch at Cosden Country Club Oct. 26. The next general meeting will be in the Flame Room Nov. 4.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Particular Parent Plies Pockets For Playpens

Dear Heloise: When my daughter was old enough to sit up in her playpen, she needed something to occupy her attention.

I bought a piece of material to cover one side of the playpen and sewed two rows of pockets on it—just like a shoe bag.

One large pocket was in the middle of the bottom row with two small pockets on each side. There were four pockets across the top. I attached this toy bag on the side of the playpen with ties through the rungs.

Into these little pockets I would place all her toys, plastic measuring spoons, all the things that were safe for her to play with.

Then I put her in the playpen and showed her where the toys were kept. She would reach over and get one out of the pocket and chew on it and knock it around until she tired of it.

Then she would reach in another pocket and get something else. This consumed a great deal of time, and she had all the fascination of opening stockings on Christmas morning.

This stimulated locomotion since she wanted to get around the playpen, but most important it allowed me to do my necessary household chores.

After I removed her from her playpen and put her to bed for her nap I would pick up all the toys and place them back in the playpen neat and it was all ready for her the next time.

It was exciting for her to find which pocket had the special toy she wanted.

If any child's mother is too busy to make the above, a shoe-bag (the kind that hangs on closet doors) could be purchased and would serve the same purpose.

Marion P. Gossett

her nap. This way . . . by the time she got old enough to clean her own room she would have already learned discipline and orderliness. Eh? Heloise

Dear Heloise: When I want to slice potatoes after they are boiled, I put them in my little egg slicer and press the top down!

The whole cooked potato is sliced in even slices with no trouble at all and saves much time. I also use this for potato salad and for extra-thin fried potatoes.

When I cook fresh string beans I always use my scissors to cut the ends off and to cut them in any size pieces I want. It sure saves time and my hands, and it is so easy.

I also use a scissors to slice my bacon into small pieces.

Florence O.D.

Dear Heloise: If you are short on cupboard space for linens and towels, put the sheets and pillowcases for each child's bed in his dresser. This saves sorting and looking for double or single, bottom and top sheets. Besides, they're always in the room where and when you need them.

Chapter Will Sponsor Party For Children

A Halloween party will be held at 2:30 p.m., Oct. 31 for children at the special education school; hostesses being members of Beta Omicron Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

The party was planned Monday evening when chapter members met in the home of Mrs. Don Cannon with Mrs. Edward Seay as cohostess. The service chairman is Mrs. Wade Choate who will be assisted by a committee named to provide refreshments and games.

Mrs. Wade Choate announced a City Council meeting for 7:30 p.m., Oct. 29 in her home. She said that the chapter netted $91.90 from the chapter booth at the Lions Club Fun-O-Rama.

The sorority will hold a rummage sale Nov. 9.

Mrs. Choate also presented the program which was an outline of Beta Sigma Phi on an international basis. She gave a brief history of the organization from its founding 32 years ago, saying that there are now chapters in 14 countries.

Twenty-one attended, including six rushesses, Mrs. Leiland Pierce, Mrs. James Cook, Mrs. Morris Griffice, Mrs. Tom McAdams Jr., Mrs. Jack Taylor and Mrs. Merle Ringener.

Refreshments were served from a table spread with a pale yellow cloth and centered with an arrangement of fruit, silver and crystal appointments were used.

Welcome Planned For Rev. Salley

The Rev. Henry Salley, new pastor of Kentwood Methodist Church, and his family, will be welcomed by the Women's Society of Christian Service. The women will prepare dinner for the family while they are getting settled in their home Thursday.

The plans were made Monday evening at a salad supper and business meeting attended by 15 members.

A parcel post auction and a rummage sale were planned as fund raising projects.

The call to prayer and self-denial for mission work in the United States and India was presented, and an offering taken for the cause. Mrs. Henry G. Parmenter worded the benediction.

The Golden Circle Class of Phillips Memorial Baptist Church elected officers and planned for an installation during the Monday evening meeting in Fellowship Hall. The opening prayer was offered by Mrs. R. J. Barton.

The Golden Circle Class of Phillips Memorial Baptist Church elected officers and planned for an installation during the Monday evening meeting in Fellowship Hall. The opening prayer was offered by Mrs. R. J. Barton.

Officers elected were Mrs. Irvin Fenley, president; Mrs. Elzie Ledbetter, vice president; Mrs. J. M. Rauch, secretary; and Mrs. Cecil Mason, Mrs. C. D. Lawson and Mrs. P. O. Russell, group leaders.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Football, interspersed with rain, interested Big Spring people over the weekend. Football came out on top and the rain which helped buoy the spirits of those teams came out on the short end of the score.

In El Paso for Parents' Day at Texas Western College were MR and MRS PAUL SOLDAN, Paul Jr., and Christine, MR and MRS BILL PATE, Gregg and Terry, MR and MRS JACK IRONS, MR and MRS REX BISHOP and MR and MRS JAMES JOHNSON and Jimmy.

KATHLEEN SOLDAN is a featured twirler, as is MIKE BISHOP, both of whom got special recognition in the pre-game activities. JACK ED IRONS and DEXTER PATE play ball on the team that opposed Arizona State Saturday. CATHY JOHNSON was the attraction that took her parents to the border city.

Tech has the most colorful band accessories like majorettes and twirlers. Big Spring has their young women in the group. CLAUDEEN TERRAZAS and BEVERLY DOBBINS are part of the big show that has all the sparkle of a Billy Rose spectacle. Saturday was also Dad's Day so there were added attractions.

Included among the many localities who were in Lubbock for the game were MR and MRS ROXIE DOBBINS, MR and MRS COTTON MIZE, MR and MRS D. M. MCKINNEY, the CHARLES SWENNEY, Mark and Patsy, MR and MRS J. COFFEY, JOHN RICHARD COFFEY, MR and MRS WALTER R. TRIM, L. T. KING, MRS CHESTER MATHENY.

They were near Danville, where they were to join his sister and her husband for the Champaign event, so she came for them and they made the homecoming on time. They will be with Lt. Babler's parents until Nov. 4.

A recent guest in the J. C. PICKLE home has been MISS GAIL SCHMIDT of San Antonio. Miss Schmidt has recently returned to Texas from Europe where she spent a month with her two brothers who are stationed there. In Germany she was persuaded to remain and teach GIs who are working toward completion of high school work. She stayed six months as a teacher.

Visiting for the past two days in the home of his sister, MRS W. C. TWIGDALE, has been her brother, JOE ALLEN TURNER, a member of the Border Patrol stationed at Calexico, Calif. Turner left today at noon to return to his post after a vacation spent in Tyler with his parents.

and us, along with No. Three son. We stayed over and visited Sunday with the H. R. Pickles.

MR and MRS JAMES L. RIPPES, who live near Fort Worth, visited here Monday evening with his parents, MR and MRS A. M. RIPPES, before continuing to El Centro, Calif., where they will be with her mother, Mrs. J. T. Howell.

LT. and MRS MYRON J. BAHLER (Rosalie Devaney) are in Mt. Morris, Ill., visiting his parents for two weeks before going to New York where they will spend several days prior to sailing for Europe. Their port date is Nov. 7 and the voyage will take five days on the USS United States. Their destination is Evereux, France, which is 30 miles from Paris.

When Lt. Babler spent a month in Nevada for survival training, Rosalie stayed in Coahoma with her parents, MR and MRS C. H. DEVANEY. She later joined him for a trip to Lake Tahoe and they were pleased to find the WELLINGTON TRIO singing at the lodge. The men were fraternity brothers at the University of Illinois.

There has been much excitement in the Bablers' lives since they left here Thursday morning. After getting their belongings packed for sending on to Europe, the two took off for Champaign to attend homecoming at the university. At St. Louis their car was wrecked and their luggage ruined. Fortunately they had their seat belts secured so they had little discomfort.

End For Lull In Cold War Seen By U. S. Experts

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials expect the diplomatic truce on Cuba in the East and the West—to begin warming up again.

They feel that the relatively long period of calm during the limited nuclear test-ban talks with the Soviet Union and during the changes of government in Britain and West Germany is over.

But no real drama is expected, nothing like the U.S.-Soviet crisis over Cuba a year ago. The truce on the cold war is believed here to have ended with this recent series of happenings.

Soviet troops blocking American and British convoys on the Berlin autobahn; the Soviet attack on the planned NATO multilateral force; and Ivestia's bitter comment on Exercise Big Lift, the U.S. experiment in transporting a whole division across the Atlantic by planes.

POLICY FORECAST
With the seeming end of the thaw, U.S. foreign policy experts figure the Kremlin will—

—Prod the West with tangible reminders that the Berlin issue is still alive

—Seek opportunities to split the Western allies

—Continue to seek understanding with the United States on pending issues, especially on minor ones

The more peaceful activities will consist of talks on a variety of topics, ranging from negotiation on purchases of wheat to disarmament.

The situation with the allies appears to be a more complicated one. It will be Secretary of State Dean Rusk's task to find out, and soon, what if any changes in foreign policy the new governments in Britain and Germany represent.

M. F. Ybarra Rites Slated

Graveside services will be held at 8 a.m. Wednesday in City Cemetery for Miguel F. Ybarra, 50, 801 NW 5th, who died Monday afternoon following a lengthy illness. Nalley-Pickles Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Ybarra was born March 9, 1913 in Sherwood. A carpenter, he had lived in Big Spring the past eight years, coming here from Colorado City. He was married Aug. 20, 1937 at Colorado City.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Manuella Ybarra, Big Spring; five sons, Joe Ybarra, Midland, and Jessa Ybarra, Mike Ybarra; Manuel Ybarra and Joel Ybarra, all of Big Spring; three daughters, Mrs. Raymond Valencia, Mrs. Igenoa Hernandez and Rosa Ybarra, all of Big Spring; one brother, Manuel Ybarra; and one sister, Mrs. Herman Ornelas, both of Colorado City.

District Officials Visit Robert Lee

E. V. Spence, general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, and O. H. Love, assistant manager, are in Robert Lee for a speaking engagement today.

They were to address the Robert Lee Board of Community Development on the CRMW's researches on the upper shed of the Colorado River. Much of this has had to do with pollution of the Colorado River and efforts to reduce the salinity of the low flow. Projected plans of the district also will be outlined by the CRMW officials.

Scouts Host Downtown Lions

Downtown Lions will be guests of their Boy Scout troop (No. 7) for a chicken barbecue today. The affair is set for 6:30 p.m. at the Old Settlers pavilion in the City Park, and Bert Andries, scoutmaster, will be in charge. The meeting, which is not a ladies night affair, will take the place of the regular Wednesday noon meeting.

Little Theatre Board To Meet

Preliminary work on the next production of the Little Theatre will be among items of business during a director's meeting at 7:45 p.m. today in the home of Capt. James Marlin, 104A Gum.

Stated next by the group is "My Three Angels," coming Dec. 6. A director and producer must be selected for the play. Also, a time must be chosen for tryouts for the 10 parts.

Other business will include a discussion of membership and finances.

Hospital Staffers Taking Training

Four employees of the Big Spring State Hospital are spending this week at the Rusk State Hospital for advanced training in remotivation.

Taking the instruction are Mrs. Mary Hughes, local instructor and director of remotivation; Mrs. Kate Foster, Mrs. Ruth Eubanks and Mrs. Mary Lou Heims. They will return Friday.

Forgery Charged

Charles R. Jordan, 19, Webb AFB, is being held in the Howard County jail on charges of forgery. Bond has been set in his case at $1,000 but he had not posted bail Tuesday.

Cherry Takes Deputy Post

Ed Cherry, long-time Big Spring and Howard County resident, will become civil deputy sheriff in Sheriff Miller Harris' office Nov. 1. He will replace A. G. Mitchell, who is to become a field deputy taking the post now held by Bill Whitton.

Whitton is to be assigned as Coahoma deputy. Whitton will fill the job formerly held by J. B. Hall, who has been released from the sheriff's force. Whitton was formerly Coahoma deputy but was moved into the courthouse when Hall was appointed two years ago.

Harris said that he is pleased that Cherry has accepted the appointment. Cherry had been a leader in the activities of the Howard County Sheriff Posse—a riding group which participates in rodeo parades and other events.

He has engaged in the operation of a lumber yard, a used car lot and in the management of two farms, Harris said. The sheriff said the new deputy is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University.

Small Gain In Enrollment

Another small gain in enrollment was noted by the Big Spring Independent School District last weekend, S. M. Anderson, superintendent, said. The total was up by six to 7,619 pupils.

A year ago at this point the count was 7,459 students, meaning a gain for the year of 160 students. Discounting the gain of about 115 pupils through annexation of Gay Hill and Center Point schools, enrollment shows a net increase of about 45 students.

Elementary grades Friday were up by nine to 4,433. Secondary grades had six fewer students, standing at 3,047. Special Education reflected a gain of three with a 139 total.

By school, enrollments were Airport 506, up six; Bauer 515, up three; Boydston 500, down three; Cedar Crest 291, up two; College Heights 472, up seven; Gay Hill 132, up one; Kate Morrison 245, down two; Kentwood 114, no change; Lakeview 192, down one; Marcy 535, up four; Park Hill 253, no change; Washington 678, down eight.

Goliad 819, no change; Lakeview Junior High 64, no change; Runnels 862, down three; and Senior High 1,302, down three.

No Interest In Absentee Voting

No absentee votes have been cast in the Nov. 9 election. Absentee voting opened Monday and continues through Nov. 5. Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, said that no interest is being displayed in the voting so far.

She pointed out that the history of absentee voting in this county, particularly in special elections, is that most such ballots are polled the last two or three days before the deadline.

Season's Opener Pleases Concert Series Members

The approximately 1,200 who turned out Monday evening for the season's opener for the Big Spring Concert Association apparently found "Mary, Mary" lively enough. They brought the cast all back on stage and held members there with vigorous applause for three curtain calls.

Jean Kerr's sophisticated comedy was for adults, and the author's salty dialogues kept some mamas and papas squirming in their seats, wondering how much junior knew.

The story of a near-divorced couple, who after all are still very much in love in a screwball sort of way, relies mainly on the author's wry and dry dialogue machine gun bursts of subtle barbs, and well-timed trabs of double-meaning. Apparently, most adults found it pleasant enough, for they responded increasingly to the quips as the evening moved along.

This offering of a Broadway hit was as well cast as any play on the stage here in years. It's hard to compare the performances with those of stars in such productions as "Diary of Anne Frank" and "The Rivalry," but the uniformly bright and convincing work Monday was exceptional.

Mrs. A. F. (Jean) Hernandez, 30, 508 NW 5th, remained at Howard County Hospital Monday for treatment of bruises and contusions. Her condition is good and she probably will be released Wednesday, hospital authorities said.

Gerard, two-year-old son of Mrs. Hernandez, has been released, hospital officials said. He was treated for minor injuries Monday.

The other two persons in the wreck who were hospitalized, Mrs. David (Anabelle) Garcia, 37, 212 Nolan, and her two-year-old son, Larry, were released from Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital Tuesday morning. Spokesmen said "their condition is satisfactory." Mrs. Garcia had received treatment for a head laceration, a leg injury and a mild concussion. Her son was treated for a mild concussion.

Four persons injured in the collision were not hospitalized. Released after treatment were Harvey Burl Holloway 32, driver of the truck, David Garcia, 40, driver of the car, his 4-year-old son, Robert, and the 6-year-old grandmother, Josephine Dutchover, 60, 406 NW 5th.

Oil Report

The second discovery in two days has been reported for Mitchell County. Latest successful wildcat is General Crude Oil Co. No. 1 V. T. McCabe, drilled by Orbon H. Tice and B. L. Coulson, Abilene, who were formerly listed as operators. The project struck Strawn sand pay for 92 barrels flowing through 14-1/2 inch choke on initial potential.

The gas-oil ratio was 1,234:1 and the gravity was not reported. Tubing pressure was 200 pounds. Operator drilled to 7,086 feet and set 4 1/2-inch casing at 7,046 feet. Perforations are between 6,120-29 feet.

This prospector is about two miles northwest of the Jameson North (Strawn) field and one-half mile southeast of a 6.343-foot failure. Location is 660 feet from the south and 2,001 feet from the east lines of section 3-1-A, H&TC survey, on an 80.6-acre lease about 22 miles south-east of Colorado City.

The other strike reported Monday was Burk Royalt Co. No. 1-B Hodnett, which picked up Pennsylvania pay in section 87-97, H&TC survey.

Report No Shows

Gordon Knox and Associates No. 1 Kent CSL, Dean test in Dawson County, is shut in and moving in pulling unit after no shows were recovered on tests of that formation.

Operator bottomed the project at 9,763 feet and ran logs before performing the Dean before 9,645-51 feet. The zone was then acidized with 1,000 gallons of mud-acid. Formation broke at 2,500 pounds. Two hundred barrels of fluid were recovered, consisting of the total load of 62 barrels and 138 barrels of salt water.

This explorer is C SW SW, labor 19-265, Kent CSL, Survey, about eight miles west of Patricia.

Law Officer, Driver Die In Gun Fight

KINGMAN, Ariz. (AP)—Sheriff Robert Tarr and the driver of a stolen car were killed Monday in a brief gun battle at the agricultural inspection station near Kingman.

Witnesses said Sheriff Tarr, 55, and Donald Carpenter, 29, of Warsaw, Ill., fired almost simultaneously. The sheriff fired three more times before he collapsed. He was struck in the chest.

Carpenter was hit once in the head and three times in the chest.

Two passengers in the car were held for questioning. They identified themselves as Robert L. Roberts, a parole violator released from the Arizona State Prison Aug. 25, and Robert E. Brainard, 21, who said he was a hitchhiker from Buffalo, N.Y.

Ronald DeLong became suspicious of the three men while they were stopped at his inspection station for a routine check on entering the state from Nevada.

Carpenter couldn't produce the title to the vehicle, which was later found to have been stolen in California. DeLong called the highway patrol. The call was relayed to the sheriff's office.

Mohave County officers said they found discharge papers on Carpenter indicating he was released from the Army under "conditions other than honorable" at Ft. Hood, Tex., in 1959. They said he was wanted in California for a parole violation.

No Cases Ready

Several civil cases concerning condemnation of land owned by H. S. Moss and holdings owned by Moss, slated for disposition this week in Howard County court, have had to be continued to November. Lee Porter, county judge said. He added that none of the cases docketed for jury trial in his court this week were ready and that he will call a jury panel later when a case develops which can be tried.

Politicians Eye Dakota Election

FARGO, N.D. (AP)—National leaders of both parties watched closely today as voters in 23 eastern North Dakota counties chose a congressman in a special election.

The result of the race between Republican Mark Andrews and Democrat John Hove is expected to provide a clue to electoral sentiment in farm areas.

Andrews, 38, rancher and former GOP national committee man was a slight favorite in the traditionally Republican district. His political future was regarded as being on the line after his 2,007-vote loss to Democratic Gov. William L. Guy last year.

FARMER-BANKER

Viewed also as a threat to Andrews is the candidacy of John Scott, 61, wealthy farmer-banker from Gilby. Scott decided to run as an independent because he said the Republican convention did not nominate a candidate conservative enough to suit him. He has denied being a member of the John Birch Society but has attacked both regular candidates as too liberal.

Hove, making his first bid for office, had Gov. Guy running interference for him during much of the brief campaign. Hove, 47, is a university English professor who made much in his talks of having spent the first half of his life on a farm.

WHEAT DEFEAT

Andrews, using the defeat of the wheat referendum earlier this year, has banged away at the Kennedy administration's farm, economic and foreign aid programs. He has been a constant critic of Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman. Andrews favors crop controls but at county levels.

Hove, generally backing Kennedy policies, has been reluctant in his speeches to identify himself with Freeman. He, too, favors a voluntary system of controls but has not spelled one out in detail.

NORTHERN TIER

In a campaign limited to his northern tier of counties in the district, Scott has called for the federal government to get out of farming, business and education and to halt large-scale spending.

Republican observers claim Andrews would be in trouble if Scott polled as many as 5,000 votes. Others set the danger point at 8,000 before Hove could slip through the back door.

Pollsters estimate 80,000 to 90,000 will ballot today.

The contest is this year's fourth congressional election.

Earlier, Republicans took seats held by two Democrats who died in California, and a Democrat succeeded a Democrat after the death of a Pennsylvania House member. The House stands today at 237 Democrats and 176 Republicans with one vacancy left by death of Rep. Leon H. Gavin, R-Pa.

Close Watch Kept In Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—Swift-rocket jet fighters are poised in Florida. Navy planes watch for large-hatch ships. High-flying U2s cover the island at least once a week.

It is a year to the day since the Cuban missile crisis pushed to a peak, and the United States has spent the time beefing up its military forces—particularly in Florida and the Caribbean.

The buildup is also global. In the fall of 1962 the Air Force had about 150 liquid-fuel intercontinental ballistic missiles in place. Now about 460 are combat ready.

The Navy had nine Polaris missile submarines. Now 13 are in commission.

The Soviet Union and Cuba face a much stronger and more alert United States than they did on the night of Oct. 22, 1962, when President Kennedy declared to the nation: "I have directed the armed forces to prepare for any eventuality."

Through the summer of 1962 the United States was aware of a military buildup in Communist Cuba, but its proportions and offensive nature came as a surprise.

Today, Soviet military forces on the island number something over 7,000—about one-third last fall's top strength—and "those remaining are largely engaged in training and advising Cuban units," according to the Pentagon.

Still in Cuba is a formidable array of up-to-date Soviet-supplied tanks, artillery, battlefield rockets, MIG fighters, missile-equipped patrol boats and anti-aircraft missiles.

The latest intelligence information indicates there has been no Soviet effort to reintroduce offensive missiles or bombers. The Pentagon says the old missile bases "are still in a state of disrepair." There is no reason to believe, it is indicated, that strategic missiles are stored in caves.

Everything that moves in or around Cuba is under constant reconnaissance. The island is regularly photographed by U2s. The Navy maintains an air and surface patrol around the passages leading toward Cuba's ports. The Guantanamo naval base has been strengthened.

The Army has a Nike Hercules anti-aircraft missile battalion and two Hawk air defense missile battalions in the Miami-Homestead Air Force Base area and Key West regions.

A detachment of four F102 jet interceptors at Homestead has been increased to a squadron of 24 faster F104 jets.

More powerful radar is being installed at McCoy Air Force Base in Florida and a squadron of radar picket planes has been added.

U.S. authorities apparently believe the military threat from Cuba has been contained. But until all Soviet forces are removed from Cuba, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said recently, they will be a "source of danger to the hemisphere."

DEAR ABBY

Forget The Deer, Remember Deers

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I are having an argument and have agreed to let you settle it. I made plans to go deer hunting from December 13th through December 22nd. My wife is expecting her second baby on December 14th, and she wants me to be home to take her to the hospital. Our first baby came two weeks late, and I have a hunch this one will, too. My wife says she has a hunch this one will be on time. If I am needed, I can get back home in 12 hours. I can't change the date of the trip because I am going with two other men and all the plans are set. Don't you think I should plan to go?

DEER HUNTER
DEAR DEER HUNTER: Tell your friends to go without you. A dear in the cradle is worth two on the fender.

DEAR ABBY: I am 24 and my husband is 26. We have three lovely children who mean the world to us. Yesterday my husband was sleeping. I went into his wallet to get some snapshots of our children to show a neighbor. I came across a picture of a young, pretty girl, and written on the front was, "To Wally with love from Bijrle." On the back in my husband's handwriting, was a phone number, so I called her up. She said she didn't know any "Wally" and she hung up on me. When I asked my husband about it, he admitted he had been seeing her at a bar every Friday night for a few months, but that was all there was to it. He swore he loved me and said if I forgave him, he'd never see her again. What should I do? I am all broken up.

ALL BROKEN UP
DEAR BROKEN: Despite your efforts to be everything a man wants in a wife, nagging will only give him good reason to turn his attentions elsewhere again. Tell him you forgive him and then really forgive him, and put it out of your mind.

CONFIDENTIAL TO F. AND H.: You could live on a lot less if you had a little more to live for.

Herd Wants Long Honeymoon In Poll

By The Associated Press
The Texas Longhorns, who kept Arkansas from breaking up their marriage to the No. 1 spot in college football, are out to make sure that Rice won't interfere with an extended honeymoon.

The Longhorns completely outdistanced second-ranked Wisconsin in the voting despite a 17-13 squeaker over the Porkers from Arkansas. The Badgers, 10-7 winners over Iowa, drew the other three votes for the top spot. Texas wound up with 527 points, Wisconsin 470.

Pittsburgh was third in the voting, Illinois fourth and Mississippi fifth, followed by Alabama, Oklahoma, Auburn, Northwestern and Navy. Ohio State, fourth a week ago, dropped out of the Top Ten after a 32-3 loss to Southern California and Georgia Tech, eighth last week; went out after a 29-26 loss to Auburn.

The Longhorns will be facing a tough assignment this Saturday night in the Rice Oval, who tied Texas 14-14 last year at this same stage of the season. That knocked the Longhorns from the No. 1 position they also held at this time last year.

The other members of the elite — with the exception of idle Auburn — also may be in for stiff competition this week on a program headlined by the meeting between Pitt's third-ranked Panthers and Navy's 10th-rated Middies.

Wisconsin faces Ohio State, Illinois takes on UCLA in a Friday night game, Mississippi meets Vanderbilt, Alabama tackles Houston, Oklahoma plays Kansas State and Northwestern goes against Michigan State.

The Top Ten teams with first-place votes in parentheses, and total points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis:

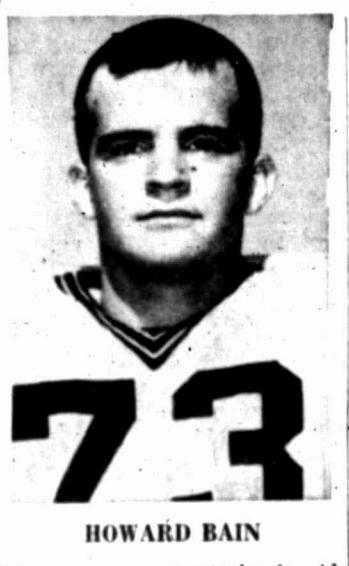

1. Texas (50) 527
2. Wisconsin (3) 470
3. Pittsburgh 383
4. Illinois 264
5. Mississippi 249
6. Alabama 215
7. Oklahoma 210
8. Auburn 177
9. Northwestern 141
10. Navy 96

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Arkansas, Army, Duke, Florida, Georgia Tech, Louisiana State, Michigan State, Mississippi State, Missouri, Notre Dame, Ohio State, Oregon, Princeton, Rice, Southern California, Syracuse.

defense. He participated in 12 tackles, which did a lot to stay the Crane express. His coach, Bill Milam, remarked: "Rodney caught several passes and when he did he took off."

BACK — A junior fullback named Mike Hall, who weighs 195 pounds, reaps the award this week. Coach Milam said: "We've been looking for him to do something all year. He did a fine job of carrying the ball for us. I think he's finally coming around."

Lamar McHan Earning Keep With Pro 11

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out the pro football wash—and save a couple of clothespins for the uniforms of Lamar McHan and Roman Gabriel, two guys who usually don't have much of a cleaning problem.

McHan got his from end Gary Knafe. Both were former teammates on the Green Bay Packers.

John Roach Inherits Huge Green Bay Job

By The Associated Press

Quarterback Bart Starr's injury thrusts a back-breaking burden on John Roach, a 30-year-old benchwarmer, in Green Bay's bid for a third straight National Football League title.

JOHN ROACH

Roach, who has completed only two of seven passes as a starter for Starr and has had three intercepted, joins King Hill and Lamar McHan as former Chicago — now St. Louis — Cardinals who suddenly have become No. 1 quarterbacks.

Hill moved into the front row at Philadelphia after Sonny Jurgensen suffered a right shoulder injury in Sunday's game with Cleveland. McHan, cut loose by the Baltimore Colts, finally decided to join the San Francisco 49ers and passed them to their first victory of the season Sunday, an upset over the Chicago Bears. He replaced the injured John Brodie.

Pitt Panthers Will Take Fight To Enemy Saturday

By HERB THOMPSON
ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Navy expects to meet a Panther with blood in its eye when it comes up against third-ranked and undefeated Pitt in a football game here Saturday.

"It's a big game for us and could make us or break us," said Middle quarterback Roger Staubach, who has the job of delivering Navy's major offensive punch. "We know they're going to be out for revenge."

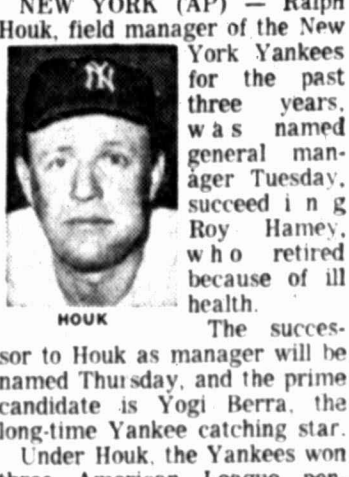

Did that mean he thought Pitt would be remembering the controversial sleeper play, which Navy scored on after faking an injury that started a 32-9 rout of the Panthers in the Oyster Bowl at Norfolk, Va. last year? Staubach threw the scoring pass to flanker Jim Stewart, who had headed for the sidelines as though injured.

Coach Wayne Hardin, who apologized for the play after the game although he had cleared it in advance with officials, prefers to forget it. "Navy coach said Pitt needs no psychological weapon."

"They said before the season they would have the No. 1 team in the country, and I don't see how anybody can argue with them," he said.

Houk Named To New Job

NEW YORK (AP) — Ralph Houk, field manager of the New York Yankees for the past three years, was named general manager Tuesday.

HOUK

The successor to Houk as manager will be named Thursday, and the prime candidate is Yogi Berra, the long-time Yankee catching star.

STANTON — Left end Rodney Payne, a 160-pound senior, displayed tremendous desire against Crane and was tops on the team.

COAHOMA — Ted Cearley, who plays guard on both offense and defense, was primarily picked for his play on defense in the Jim Ned game. A junior, Ted stands 5-11 and weighs 196 pounds. He was in on many tackles and showed his techniques properly.

BACK — Sophomore quarterback Marvin Williams had much to do with Coahoma's impressive win over Jim Ned. The 135-pound lad scored twice. His coach, Jimmy Spann, remarked: "He didn't throw a pass that shouldn't have been caught. He looked real well, we thought."

SANDS

LINEMAN — Right guard Randy Hambrick, 5-foot-10, 135-pounder, was outstanding in Sands' losing effort against Wilson. Randy came up with 11 tackles and assisted on four others. Of his play, coach Arlen White said: "Randy broke through the line many times and set Wilson back for losses."

GARDEN CITY

PLAYER OF WEEK — Middle linebacker Jimmy DuBose was exceptional on defense for Garden City in the Bearcats' uphill battle against mighty Grandfalls. Jimmy, who weighs 210 and stands 5-11, made 17 tackles, ten in the opening period. The Grandfalls coach was heard to remark after that opening period: "We knew we had to get out of the middle or we were going to get someone hurt." That was his way of paying tribute to the vacuous play of DuBose.

FORSAN

PLAYER OF THE WEEK — Forsan started off conference play with a victory over Sterling City and much of the credit must go to Mack Henderson, a senior 175-pounder who stands 6-3. Henderson had been favoring a back injury up until this game. He played as if he were making up for lost time. His coach, Oscar Boeker, lauded Mack's performance by saying: "He looked better in this game than he ever has. It was our first conference game and he was really fired up. The other boys played steady football. But Mack's improvement was so noticeable that he had to be our choice." Henderson was in on 12 tackles and turned in a fine game on offense.

"I really haven't made any adjustments since I moved from the AFL to the NFL. My philosophy of coaching is the same wherever you are. The main thing is to get the most from your players. I believe that you get it when they're happy and enjoy what they're doing. I thought for a while last year that theory was backfiring, but now it appears we're on the right track. We do your work but we're not slave-drivers. We try to enjoy ourselves."

JIMMY CANNON, New York scribe:

"Maybe Los Angeles is the right place for Walter Alston at that. It is strictly a hick's town. They arrive by the bus load every day. But Alston wants no part of it. He just works there, and the pay's good. Before they leave where they came from, most of them make up their minds to change as soon as they get off the bus. Walk the Los Angeles streets and a lot of people look as if they were all dressed up for some permanent carnival. They're the kind who only look comfortable in overalls. The dark specs and the jazzy sports clothes are merely a rube's disguise. After a while, they won't eat a hamburger unless it comes in a jacket of melted cheese. You wouldn't believe that Alston belongs in a serywy place where Bo Belinsky kidded them out of their slacks." The parking lots have so many foreign cars in them you'd think Italy was playing Spain for the soccer championship in Milano. No one turns native faster than a hick who makes it big in Los Angeles. But it hasn't touched Alston and he was anxious to go back to Dartmouth, Ohio, as soon as the final game of the World Series was played. What Alston wants is back there and he'll be down in the cellar making chairs in the workshop when Leo Durocher is sitting in the Hillcrest Country Club telling the famous actors about baseball."

DUFFY DAUGHTERTY, Michigan State coach:

JOE THOMAS, talent scout for the Minnesota Vikings:

"I watched John Roderick (of SMU) closely against Navy to see if he were just another track sprinter trying to play football. You know, the kind who runs to the sidelines, cuts upfield, straight ahead until he gets tackled. But not this kid. He showed me some moves, some jiggles and jogs to move behind blockers, and then turning on his speed, that just made you doubt your eyes. Not only that, he seems to be a tough kid."

FRANK BROYLES, Arkansas football mentor:

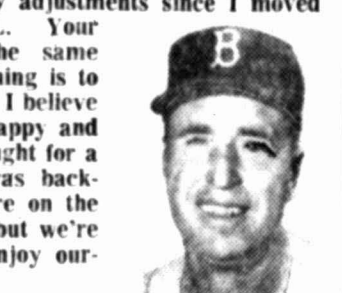

"Our scout on Texas was Jack Davis, an Ole Miss boy. He's seen Ole Miss many times. He said Texas is not only the best team in the conference but against Oklahoma they were the best college team he'd ever seen."

BILL LEISER, San Francisco writer:

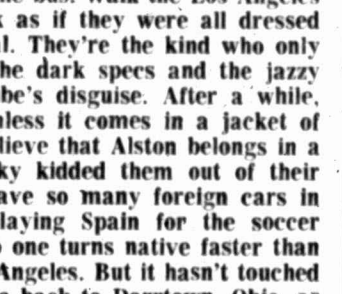

"It appears in due time that Arnold Palmer will take a million dollars off the golf course alone. Golf is truly the sport of millionaires now. . . . And it is the easiest, most simple, biggest cinch sport of all! You don't have to fight anybody. Goodness! People aren't supposed to talk, or even whisper, or drop a package of cigarettes to the turf, when you are concentrating on your next shot. The greatest patsy sport ever invented. . . . BIG SPRING BUSINESS and INDUSTRY

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1963

A LOT OF CONCRETE HAS GONE INTO THE BRIDGES
Clyde McMahon Ready Mix concrete trucks are ready to move to the big jobs as well as the small.

McMahon Builds Lasting Products

Miles of bridges, overpasses, curbs and gutters, driveways, ramps, patios and other concrete structures being built and already built in Big Spring, are in a big measure, products of the Clyde McMahon Ready-Mix concrete company. Its 20 concrete jobs now visible are results of ready-mix.

McMahon has nearly a dozen big trucks moving six days each week to keep up with the workload, and is available on concrete jobs whether large or small.

TILE BLOKS
He is also the jobber for concrete tile blocks in many sizes and patterns. Flower bed edging and other ready-to-use concrete products.

Washed sand and gravel are also available. McMahon can furnish Remington stud drivers, Holiday Hill stone for building and expansion joint material.

McMahon's ready-mix concrete, sent to highway jobs, meets specifications set up for federal-state highway programs.

ANY JOB
Any concrete job can be done quickly, and with a minimum amount of backbreaking labor when a ready-mix truck is backed up to the construction. The mix is poured, spread and then worked down to the required surface. You can even specify your own mixture for tanks, piers, concrete fences, block buildings, walls or decorative ballustrades. Clyde McMahon has probably helped make

There is no need to move food and dishes, or to breathe harmful sprays, when you brush Johnston's No-Roach where you have seen cockroaches. Further, No-Roach contains no DDT or chlordane, which are no longer effective against most German cockroaches—the small ones that are so hard to kill.

The coating left by No-Roach remains effective for months, and kills little roaches just

T&P Seeks To Better Service

Texas and Pacific's roadway, covering 1,800 miles of main line, is constantly being improved through methods learned in research. The roadway, from New Orleans, through Big Spring, to El Paso, forms one of the basic requirements for safe, efficient and fast rail transportation.

Many curves in the main line have been eliminated to permit the operation of trains at increased speeds and on faster schedules.

Ballast, which is usually crushed rock, gravel or cinders, forms an important part of the cushion under the track. The ballast helps spread the load evenly over the bed and holds the cross ties firmly in place, checks the growth of grass and weeds and serves to drain water from between and beneath the cross ties.

The ribbons of steel—the rails—are the result of years of research. Rails weighing from 115 to 132 pounds per yard have replaced the old ones weighing 90 pounds per yard.

Tito Urges Summit Conference To Chart Coexistence Route

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—President Tito of Yugoslavia urged today a summit meeting to chart a route for peaceful coexistence for the nations of the world.

He made the proposal in a speech prepared for delivery before the U.N. General Assembly in which he appealed urgently for an end to the cold war.

The visiting Yugoslav leader asserted that the fundamental political question facing mankind is coexistence among states with different economical and political systems.

Tito put it this way: "It would be of particular importance for the strengthening of peace in the world for the United Nations—as the most representative gathering of equal and sovereign nations and as the most prominent forum through which world opinion expresses itself—further to elaborate and to codify the principles of peaceful coexistence."

He said he is aware that the matter is covered by the U.N. Charter and is also under discussion in the assembly's legal committee.

Nevertheless, he added, because of the fundamental importance he attaches to the question, "I feel that the United Nations should devote particular attention to the consideration of this question on a high level and in a manner which would most appropriately reflect its importance."

Tito, making his first visit to the U.N. since 1960, has contended the international organization should draw up ground rules for peaceful East-West relations.

Tito, who came to New York after talks in Washington last week with President Kennedy, has followed a path of nonalignment in the East-West struggle.

Tito Guard Is Tightened After Brawls In Gotham

NEW YORK (AP) — Police kept a tight protective guard on Yugoslav President Tito and his party today following two incidents involving anti-Titoist factions. President Kennedy asked for a report.

A clash between Tito aides and five persons Monday night, followed by the seizure of two anti-Titoists near the foreign visitor's hotel suite, caused high-level conference about Tito's safety.

United Nations Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, who participated in the talks, said Kennedy had telephoned Secretary of State Dean Rusk Monday night for a report from Rusk and protocol chief Angier Biddle Duke about the incidents at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Stevenson commented as he left his residence in the Waldorf Towers for the United Nations and an address there later by Tito. He said he would talk with Kennedy later by telephone.

Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm said the police security detail had not been increased because the department felt it was adequate.

Police released the three Tito aides after questioning about the clash on a street outside the hotel, and said a routine report of the incident would be made to the State Department. One of the aides reportedly brandished a knife during the struggle.

The two men arrested on the 35th floor of the hotel were charged with disorderly conduct.

Man Arrested On Warrant

Big Spring police arrested a 35-year-old Kingsbury, N. J. man Monday night at a local hotel on a federal fugitive warrant claiming unlawful flight to avoid prosecution. He is John Fredrick Leddy. Assistant Police Chief Leon Hull said a U. S. Marshal from Abilene would take custody of Leddy and take him to Abilene today.

"A sheriff from Albuquerque, N. M. is expected to pick up Leddy at Abilene tonight," Hull said. He said the New Jersey man is wanted in New Mexico for investigation of murder.

"Lester Hays, sheriff of Albuquerque, told me Leddy is a suspect in the beating death of an old man whose car was taken and abandoned in Marfa," Hull said.

Police said the alleged fugitive was taken to district court here this morning where he signed a waiver of extradition.

Goliad Slates Parents' Night

One thousand or more parents are expected to attend the Parents' Night program at Goliad Junior High School from 7 to 9 p. m. tonight. Around 800 attended in 1962. Principal Scott Walker said, and indications point to more this year.

The student council sponsors the event and students will escort parents on a tour of the building, including home rooms. Refreshments will be served.

The choir and the band will be featured during the program in the auditorium.

Special invitations have been mailed, with a request that parents sign up to give some idea of the number expecting to attend. The Parents' Night meeting is held to get parents better acquainted with the school and its facilities.

New Pastor To Arrive Thursday

Rev. Henry Salley, former pastor at the Wesley Church in Andrews, is to arrive in Big Spring Thursday to take over the pastorate of the Kentwood Methodist Church.

He replaces Rev. Marvin James, who accepted an associate pastorate at the First Methodist Church in Kentwood Methodist for about 1 1/2 years. Rev. Salley has been with the Andrews church since June, 1962.

Guilty Pleas Are Entered

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Two Colorado City men plead guilty to charges of second offense DWI in 32nd District Court Monday, and were sentenced by district Judge Austin McCleod.

Riley Austin Jr., 49, Colorado City, was sentenced to 90 days in jail plus court costs.

Henry Grady Daniel, 47, Colorado City, received a year in jail, but the sentence was probated.

Police Calls Keep 'Em Busy

Police Tuesday were investigating a wide variety of reports.

Lloyd McGinn, 299 W. 16th, manager of Hilburn - McGinn Appliance Store at 304 Gregg, reported the theft of $85 from a cash box at the store sometime between Saturday and Monday, officers said.

Bill Scarbor, 1105 N. Monticello, Monday reported the theft of a case of root beer from his truck while it was parked in the 500 block of NW Third, officers said.

A prisoner working off a jail sentence escaped from the work detail at the city barn about noon Monday.

Children were reported throwing rocks at a church at Tenth and North Lancaster Monday evening, and Robert Walker said someone threw a rock through a window of his home at 900 NW 4th Monday night.

Officers said a telephone company operator complained that a man bothered the operators with several telephone calls late Monday night.

Someone broke into a Foremost Dairy truck Monday night and took an undetermined amount of change.

City Manager Back On Job

City manager Larry Crow was back in his office Tuesday morning from the International City Managers Association convention in Denver. Colo. The convention was held last Thursday through Monday.

Trends in municipal finance and problems pertaining to business districts were the main items on the agenda of the convention, Crow said.

He said the meeting was attended by city managers from across the country, England and Australia.

Cubs Prepare For Halloween

Preparations for Halloween was the subject for discussion and activities at a meeting of Den 1, Pack 179 Monday afternoon at the home of Den Mother Mrs. Charles Richards, 1805 Alabama.

Members of the pack have another meeting for preparations before presenting their special Halloween program at a Pack meeting two weeks hence.

Henry Grady Daniel, 47, Colorado City, received a year in jail, but the sentence was probated.

Demand To See Tito Brings Arrest

Yugoslav refugees Dragutin Mundraj, left, and Aleksander Kariljanovic are booked on disorderly conduct charges in a Manhattan police station early today in New York after reaching the guarded 35th floor Waldorf-Astoria Hotel suite of Yugoslav President Tito and demanding to be allowed to talk to him. Their arrest came half an hour after Tito's personal bodyguard, Maj. Gen. Milan Zetzelj, and two members of the Tito entourage engaged in a brawl with five Yugoslav refugees outside the hotel. (AP WIRE- PHOTO)

Korth Sold His Bank Stock To Pay Debts, Aide States

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Fred Korth sold in July 5,000 of his 5,200 shares of stock in the bank he formerly headed to "pay off debts," an aide said today.

The value of the 5,200 shares of the Continental National Bank of Fort Worth, was about $156,000 and Korth gave a note for $100,000 on the purchase, which he had to meet, the spokesman said.

Korth said Saturday he wanted to put to rest rumors about the circumstances of his resignation Korth referred briefly to the bank stock.

He said he told a Senate committee at hearings on his nomination to the Navy post that he then retained a "relatively modest stock interest" in the bank, about 17 per cent of outstanding stock. But he said Saturday, "The financial burden of my service in Washington has been so great that I have had to sell almost all of that stock."

Korth's connection with Continental National has figured in the hearings on the development contract award for the TFX warplane.

Shortly before Korth came into the government, the bank participated in a loan to General Dynamics Corp.

He strongly backed the decision, made last November, to give the TFX contract to General Dynamics of Fort Worth instead of the Boeing Co. whose proposal military evaluation boards had favored. Korth heatedly denied there was any connection between the two matters.

Busy Agenda Scheduled For Commission Meeting

City commissioners today will discuss changing two-three acre tracts of land at the southeast and southwest corners of Marcy Drive and Muleshoe Lane from I-J (one-family residential) to R (retail). Property is owned by Tom and Garner McAdams.

Other items on the agenda to be considered by commissioners, are:

1. Request by College Baptist Church to close utility easement used as alley running east and west in the 1700 block of Eleventh Place.

2. A request by E. C. Smith to build a wall on city easement south side of building at Twelfth and Gregg.

3. A request by R. H. Weaver for a hearing concerning a plat at the Ponderosa Apartments.

4. A petition requesting relief from dust and traffic hazards created by traffic on a road near Webb AFB.

5. Request by Harold Raney for water outside city limits in South Haven Addition.

6. Consideration of proposals received in fire department uniforms.

7. Authorization for the purchasing office to negotiate for purchase of used steel pipe for golf course improvements. Also, authorization for Roy Hester, water plant supervisor, and city engineering department to proceed with repair of old concrete reservoir in City Park area.

8. Resolution releasing paving assessment lien against property of Donnie F. Tubb. Also, resolutions releasing paving assessment liens against property of Gertrude McPherson and D. W. Powell.

9. Second reading of ordinance permitting on-premises consumption at Mitchell's Cafe, 1099 Lamesa Drive, requested by Huey Mitchell.

10. Second reading of ordinance.

Aviation Meeting

The aviation committee of the Chamber of Commerce will meet in the conference room at 5 p. m., Thursday, Dr. Fred Lutting, chairman, has announced. The meeting will discuss Trans-Texas Airline schedules, he said.

Tours Planned For Foreign Students Here

Special tours and hospitality affairs for foreign students who are assigned to Webb Air Force Base for flying training were planned Monday at a meeting of the Base-Community Council. Co-chairmen of the Council, Champ Rainwater and Col. Howard Withycombe, will appoint a special committee to handle details.

Young men from allied nations regularly are assigned here for jet training, and an Air Force policy is to attempt to help these individuals get a close glimpse of life, customs, governmental and business activities in the United States.

Other matters discussed at the Monday Council meeting included progress toward improving the roadway entrance to the Base, and planned renovation of Ellis Homes, a housing project which is near the Base entrance. The road matter is being worked out with the State Highway Department, reported Mayor George Zachariah.

Some discussion was held on the need for improved housing conditions for the Negro personnel assigned to Webb. The matter of integration of various facilities in the community is the subject of a current questionnaire which has come down from the Pentagon.

West did not manage his aces properly in defending today's four spade contract and, by releasing one of his aces prematurely, he handed over control of the proceedings to the declarer.

West opened the bidding with one heart and North overcalled with two clubs. South bid two spades in an effort to improve the contract, and North proceeded directly to game in that suit.

West opened the jack of hearts and the king was played from dummy. Declarer observed that he must lose three aces and loss of a heart also stared him in the face. He must therefore establish a discard before the assault on dummy's heart holding was completed.

The diamond suit appeared to offer the best hope, for declarer lacked the quick entries to his hand required to lead

Barry, Rocky Shelve Dispute For Twin Attack On Kennedy

EDITOR'S NOTE — Two possibilities for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination: Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. In this article give their views on a wide range of foreign and domestic matters. Their statements are in answer to identical questions submitted by The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Sen. Barry Goldwater disagree on some vital issues but they are in accord in advocating a two-front attack on President Kennedy in 1964.

In answers to a series of identical questions submitted to them separately by The Associated Press, the two potential contenders for the GOP presidential nomination disclosed a deep division over civil rights legislation.

OPPOSING VIEWS

The New York governor and the Arizona senator voiced opposing views on how to provide medical care for the elderly, the need for right-to-work laws and whether there should be an immediate tax cut.

In the international field they stood together in opposition to any American pull-out from Vietnam. Both cautioned against being lulled by Soviet overtures for peaceful coexistence.

Their answers about what to do about the Cuba problem were relatively similar. They differed in degree over the limited nuclear test-ban treaty's effect.

Rockefeller served notice he did not regard answers to the questions as a substitute for a face-to-face debate with Goldwater over party policies. Goldwater said he was willing to debate "the weaknesses of the Kennedy administration" but saw little value in Republicans debating Republicans.

PRIME ISSUES

Both men picked foreign policy and the state of the domestic economy as prime two-pronged issues against Kennedy in 1964.

The governor and the senator were asked if they felt a Republican could defeat Kennedy without strong electoral support from the South, where Goldwater reportedly has much more strength than Rockefeller. Goldwater said that to defeat Kennedy would require "substantial electoral support from all sections of the country, not just any particular one."

Rockefeller said he believes "that the Republican nominee running on a forward-looking platform which really meets the nation's needs, will receive substantial support in every section of the country."

The differences between Goldwater and Rockefeller were sharper in response to a question as to what, if any, civil rights legislation Congress should pass.

EQUAL RIGHTS

The senator said his "basic feeling is that legislation will not solve the civil rights problem." The governor contended that "the federal government has a deep moral and constitutional responsibility to guarantee equal rights for every American citizen."

Goldwater said: "I completely oppose the public accommodations section (to enforce integration on business firms serving the public) as being unconstitutional and uncalled for."

Rockefeller said a civil rights bill should "contain provisions for stronger voting guarantees, opportunity for employment, non-discriminatory access to initiative by the attorney general in enforcing civil rights, equal public accommodations, and for helping insure public education on a desegregated basis, in compliance with the law of the land."

ACTION NEEDED

Goldwater said he believes "there are adequate laws on the books to take care of voting abuses and all that is required is action by the attorney general."

He called a provision of the administration's bill to permit the President to withhold federal grants from states which did not comply with desegregation orders interesting. But he said that as it is written "I doubt that it is either constitutionally or morally correct."

The senator said he would support a provision to permit the attorney general to sue in school integration cases if it were tightly drawn so that it could not be used "to invade other fields."

On some other issues, their views could be summarized this way:

HEALTH CARE

Health care for the elderly: Goldwater — Said care was provided through Kerr-Mills Act. Proposed tax credits or deductions "for money paid for the purpose of taking care of the aged."

Rockefeller — Advocated "a broadly based system of health insurance for those over 65, financed by the fiscally sound, contributory payroll tax but offering freedom of individual choice to select voluntary health plan coverage."

Federal right to work law: Goldwater — Said the federal government should not usurp the rights of states to pass such laws. Sponsors legislation to call for an open shop in all states but with provision which would permit states to declare for a union shop.

MAINTAIN STAND

Rockefeller — Intends to make an "effort to assure that the national Republican party maintains the position it took in its 1960 platform against federal right-to-work legislation."

Tax reduction while there is a deficit: Goldwater — "The answer to this would rest primarily on the rapidity of growth of the domestic economy."

Rockefeller — Said an immediate tax cut "designed to stimulate private investment and savings" and to increase consumers' after-tax income should be combined with "a strict policy of holding the line on federal government spending."

EACH YEAR

Goldwater — "The federal budget can and should be balanced during each fiscal year, except during periods of war or other extreme national emergencies."

Rockefeller — "At the federal level I favor, at the absolute minimum, balancing the budget over the course of the business cycle."

Farm price supports: Goldwater — "The 30 per cent of our agriculture now under the present support program should be slowly withdrawn from it, so that at the end of a reasonable period of time the law of supply and demand will determine the prices the farmers receive."

Rockefeller — Said present price supports do not help the farmers who need help most. He added: "For the low-income farmers we need an approach that is entirely separate from subsidies. For the other farmers, we must gradually adopt a new system of supports which will provide true stabilization of prices but not create an artificially high market price in normal times."

Midlander Head Of Broadcasters

DALLAS (AP)—The new president of the Texas Association of Broadcasters is Wendell Mayes, Jr., vice president and general manager of Radio KCRS in Midland.

Other officers chosen Monday include R. Lee Glasgow, Station WACO, vice president from Waco, and Tony Bridge, KMHT, secretary-treasurer from Marshall.

Directors elected included Ray Herndon, KMID-TV, Midland.

Oil Production Shows Increase

TULSA (AP) — U. S. Oil production rose slightly last week, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Average production was 7,528,812 barrels, up 8,236 a day over the previous week.

Oklahoma output of 571,400 barrels a day was up 11,300 daily. Arkansas produced 75,325. Colorado 101,800. Louisiana 1,439,250. New Mexico 299,900 and Texas 2,616,950.

Over-40 Hunters Face Possible Heart Attacks

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — More than one in 10 deer hunters over 40 years of age—possibly many more—face serious heart trouble in an all-out, successful deer hunt.

This was the chief conclusion of a unique series of experiments recently conducted in Minneapolis, in which hunters actually broadcast the strain put on their hearts under simulated hunting conditions.

receivers monitored by doctors nearby.

Of the 37 men, four showed abnormal heart activity sufficient to halt their tests.

The test results, to be published in the November issue of Minnesota Medicine, were released in advance by the Minnesota Heart Association as a warning to deer hunters before the Minnesota season opens next month.

Since more than one in 10 of a carefully screened group failed the test, said Dr. Arthur C. Kerkhof, director of the heart group's work valuation unit, it is probable that the percentage of failure would be considerably higher for the mass of over-40 deer hunters who take to the woods.

However, Dr. Kerkhof said, a deer hunter who takes it easy has the odds much more in his favor.

"The tests were deliberately planned to measure maximum heart stress on a deer hunter who not only gets his deer but who drags it out of snowy woods single-handed," he said.
