

'Big Lift' Smoothly Rolls Along Ahead Of 72-Hour Deadline

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Exercise Big Lift moved swiftly and efficiently ahead today with all indications pointing to completion ahead of schedule for the historic airlift or more than 15,000 American troops from Texas almost to the Iron Curtain.

By 9 a. m. (3 a. m. Eastern Standard Time) 162 of the big four-engine transports had brought 10,109 men of the 2nd Armored Division to bases in West Germany and France. Military spokesmen thought the bulk of the transatlantic ferry job would be completed by 10 p. m.—some 63 hours after the first C135 jet took off from Bergstrom Air Force Base near Austin, Tex.

LAST MAN BOARDS 'BIG LIFT' PLANE
Sgt. Thomas L. Perry of Columbus, Ga., at Austin

72 HOURS
The Army and Air Force had set a 72-hour deadline for completion of the biggest airlift in U.S. history.

The last of the 234 airlift planes left Bergstrom base just before midnight and headed for Germany at 600 miles an hour. "Smoothest thing I've ever seen," said Brig. Gen. R. H. Safford. "I'm sure that in a tighter situation we can even beat this time."

Big Lift's clockwork operation and assurances by top American officers did not quiet the fears of West German officials and newspapers that the airlift presaged a reduction of American troops in Europe.

BE REDUCED
The worrying Germans believe the United States will argue that it has demonstrated its ability to ferry large numbers of troops over quickly to meet threats of trouble and the 250,000 U. S. troops in Europe therefore can be reduced.

A high U.S. official in Washington already has said that Secretary of State Dean Rusk will announce on a visit to West Germany this weekend that the United States does not expect to cut its forces in Europe. But a spokesman for Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's government gave notice Erhard will question Rusk about the situation when the secretary arrives in Bonn Friday.

FOG, FORECAST
Big Lift's schedule appeared threatened for a time during the night by a forecast of fog for part of the force was landing and four planes were diverted. With five planes that were diverted Wednesday, this made only nine diversions, in more than 150 flights. Officers said this was a low figure for an operation of this size at this time of year.

Troop Reduction Becomes Likely

WASHINGTON (AP)—The question does not seem to be whether the United States will reduce its combat forces in Europe, but how soon it will be done.

The State Department is concerned over a recent speech by a top ranking Pentagon official which dealt, among other things, with "evolutionary changes" ahead for units deployed overseas. And it is anxious to get word out that no immediate troop reduction in Europe is planned.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk is expected to use the occasion of a visit to West Germany during the next few days to make a formal announcement. It will be aimed at calming alarm in West German government quarters, evidenced by a request for clarification of the speech of Deputy Defense Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatric in Chicago last Saturday.

CHANGE
In that speech, Gilpatric talked about change in the size and type of forces overseas which "lies ahead" and said the current test airlift of 16,000 troops to Europe demonstrates the capacity to deploy military power far faster and longer than ever before.

Gilpatric and others have talked publicly and privately on several occasions about improved strategic deployment capabilities, with implications that economics and other factors were pointing to an eventual cut in forces abroad.

But the Saturday speech was almost on the eve of the dramatic Exercise Big Lift demonstration and test. It was followed closely by an Army announcement that atomic arms for ground forces in Europe and elsewhere overseas would be increased—something that suggested there was a way to maintain the same amount of defensive firepower with fewer men.

FIVE DIVISIONS
There are now five Army divisions and other units amounting to the strength of a sixth division deployed in West Germany. Secretary of Defense Robert

S. McNamara has insisted that no immediate cutback in combat strength in Europe is planned. But he also has decided that some of the non-combat strength can be brought home.

Although the Defense Department has kept secret any plans it has for an eventual trimming down of European combat strength, it is probable such plans exist.

BUDGET
It should be noted that the Pentagon now keeps current a five-year projected budget, prepared along with each annual budget. The projected budget contains general estimates of forces and equipment needed during each of the following five years. McNamara and his fiscal aides are now completing work on the fiscal 1965 budget request, a request which also includes programs extending through to 1970.

Money is directly related to overseas deployment. Not only does it cost more to maintain a military unit overseas, but it costs more as measured in gold dollar expenditure. The imbalance of several billion dollars which has developed is mentioned by McNamara as one of the prime reasons for cutting down at least noncombat forces overseas.

U.S. dollars are spent abroad in two ways by the military: expenditures for supplies, utility services and similar service from the country in which troops are stationed and private spending of soldiers and their dependents.

Senate Committee Orders Full Baker Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The unanimous vote gave him broad authority to seek information from the FBI, Senate payroll records and income tax records, bearing on possible conflicts of interest. And the committee didn't limit the study to Baker.

The committee said in a statement that before the hearings are opened to the public, "every witness and all matters shall be first heard in executive session through sworn testimony."

The closed sessions begin next Tuesday, Sen. John Williams, R-Del., who proposed the investigating machine company allegation, was invited to appear with any information he has as well as a list of suggested witnesses.

Baker has denied the allegations in the pending civil damage suit that he used his office to prevail on a major defense contractor to give a franchise to a vending machine corporation in which he had a financial interest.

Baker, 26, and the father of five children, began his Senate career as a page boy. He was named Democratic majority secretary in 1956.

The closed sessions begin next Tuesday, Sen. John Williams, R-Del., who proposed the investigating machine company allegation, was invited to appear with any information he has as well as a list of suggested witnesses.

There are no ugly women; there are only women who do not know how to look pretty.

—La Bruyere
DAILY GUIDE—Women, look your best today. There is excellent cooperation in the planetary set-up yesterday and today, for you to improve your appearance and use your charm. Yes, shop to your heart's content; what you buy should prove very flattering.

It is also a good day for artistic recreations and interests, but make it snappy as the influence does not last long. In fact, tomorrow could bring disappointment, so if you didn't catch the passing glamor, you will be out of luck.

Scorpios are highly favored to win flattery. Taureans should seek to express their creative talents, and seek favors through alliances.

Capricornians and Cancerians should enjoy loved ones and social activities; Pisceans and Virgoans have inspiration through correspondence or contracts with near kin or neighbors; Arians and Librans could expect luck with finances.

Tomorrow and the next day somewhat disappointing and even depressing socially.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY SCORPIO! Make plans now that you can talk about starting next week, and continue to air in the weeks ahead. Action shifts from your personal ambitions to finances this week.

Perhaps you will be tempted to spend lavishly. Next February some responsibility at home base could create a problem, bring opposition to your own way of looking at things.

A parent might give cause for concern. Next year you can count on happy alliances, even marriage. In June and December some special expansion of your personality can bring you favorable attention. Unusual friends can come into your circle in these immediate years.

CIRCUMCISION

The Great Surgeon, Jesus Christ, operates on the spiritual heart of the sinner. This surgery is called circumcision; for the sinner is "uncircumcised in heart" (Acts 7:51).

Just as the sick in body must cooperate with the doctor in being prepared for the operation and in submitting to it, so the sin-sick soul has things to do. "In whom also we are circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh by the circumcision of Christ; buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are

Sprawling Brazil Open To Communist Attacks

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—A Communist book on the newsstands here begins with this attack on the United States: "The cost of living is always climbing. Why?"

"Is it because of increasing salaries?"
 "No."
 "It is because of imperialist exploitation."
 The book is dedicated to Luis Carlos Prestes, leader of the Communist party in Brazil, and to Leonel Brizola, brother-in-law of President Joao Goulart. Brizola has the reputation of being an ultranationalist leftist, but not an actual member of the Communist party.

BOTH CAMPS
 The leftists and the Communists work hand-in-hand to attack and discredit the United States in this key South American country. The leftists evidently intend to get a foot in both camps in the great world struggle by pulling Brazil apart from the United States and toward the Soviet Union. One highly placed U.S. authority said they seek to play Washington and Moscow against each other and get more aid for Brazil.

The Communist purpose, however, is different. Allied diplomats and a few Brazilian leaders, Gov. Carlos Lacerda foremost among them, feel the Communists are following a carefully developed strategy to take over the country.

TWO-STAGE
 These authorities see the strategy as a two-stage affair. First, they reason, Prestes aims at alienating Brazil from the United States by hammering home the charge of "imperialist exploitation."

Second, he aims at creating closer ties between Brazil and the Soviet Union, perhaps through Cuba, and then moving to seize power peacefully through Communist infiltration in the government.

Although it is obvious that Brazilians generally are quite friendly to individuals from the United States—and there are many thousands in this country—it is also obvious that in politics the United States has few public defenders here.

INFLATION
 That includes President Joao Goulart. Goulart's relations with American officials are further chilled by the fact that he spends his time playing Brazilian politics while the country burns with the fever of inflation and other problems go unsolved. The Alliance for Progress is under constant Communist attack in South America, and in Brazil is tied in with the charge of U.S. imperialism. The attack is made by word of mouth through university students and other intellectuals, who carry high prestige here as elsewhere in Latin countries.

The Brazilian's reaction to the Communist line is reinforced by his own political experience. He has found that while his leaders talk a lot about the interests of the people, road building, power development and such political pawns as agrarian reform, what they are actually interested in is personal power and opportunity for enrichment.

ONE BILLION
 U.S. investments in Brazil total about a billion dollars, less than one-third the size of U.S. investments in Venezuela. Investors have been discouraged by fears of government expropriation of foreign business. The inflation also discourages foreign capital.

The foreign aid program, which is now all embraced under the name Alliance for Progress, is committed to build roads and schools and teach better agricultural methods, thereby helping eliminate the conditions on which the Communists thrive.

Lacerda, who is governor of the state of Guanabara that includes the city of Rio de Janeiro, has built roads, parks, schools and waged a bitter battle with Goulart. Lacerda has a rasping political tongue. His denunciations have triggered more than one political crisis.

WAGE HIKES
 Most recently he assailed Goulart in a newspaper interview and predicted that the Goulart government may not last out the year. The attack coincided with a wave of demands for wage increases to balance inflationary price rises.

Goulart's armed forces ministers proposed that he ask for a state of siege—virtual martial law—which would have given him power to use force to deal with any uprising or crippling strike.

The proposal met opposition from all political quarters, including Goulart's own Brazilian Labor party.

Three days after Goulart introduced the measure as a necessary step to save the country from chaos, he asked Congress to withdraw it and forget the whole thing. It was enough to set off an uprising or trigger a military coup in many Latin American countries, but in Brazil everybody went to the beach for the weekend and when they got back the crisis had eased.

Micro-Wave System Links Texas, Arkansas Papers

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The construction of a micro-wave network to make possible the production of better newspapers faster has been announced by the Palmer newspapers of South Arkansas and East Texas.

Walter E. Hussman, publisher of the Palmer group, said the network would be the first such operation in the United States. "We will be using relatively new but proven electronic techniques in a combination made possible by the final realization of offset printing as a practical method of producing daily newspapers," Hussman said.

Micro-wave towers 100 to 300 feet in height and similar to those used in beaming television network programs will be located in Hot Springs, Jacksonville, Mountain, Gurdon, Camden and El Dorado, Ark.

The initial circuit will be composed of the El Dorado Daily News-Times, the Camden News and the Hot Springs Sentinel-Record and New Era. Other papers in the Palmer group are the Texarkana, Ark.-Tex. Gazette and Daily News and the Magnolia, Ark., Banner-News.

Each of the initial circuit locations will be capable of sending and receiving. When in operation, the circuit, utilizing a combination of micro-wave and facsimile, will be able to transmit an entire newspaper page in four and one-half minutes.

The network will utilize the section of the radio frequencies reserved by the government for use of the press.

Heavy Rain Hits Parched Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Heavy rains dumped more than an inch of water over south-central Brazil overnight, bringing hope for an end to the area's nine-month drought.

Adm. Miguel Magaldi, chairman of the electric power rationing commission, warned much more rain is needed before the city's six-hour daily electric power turnoffs could be suspended.

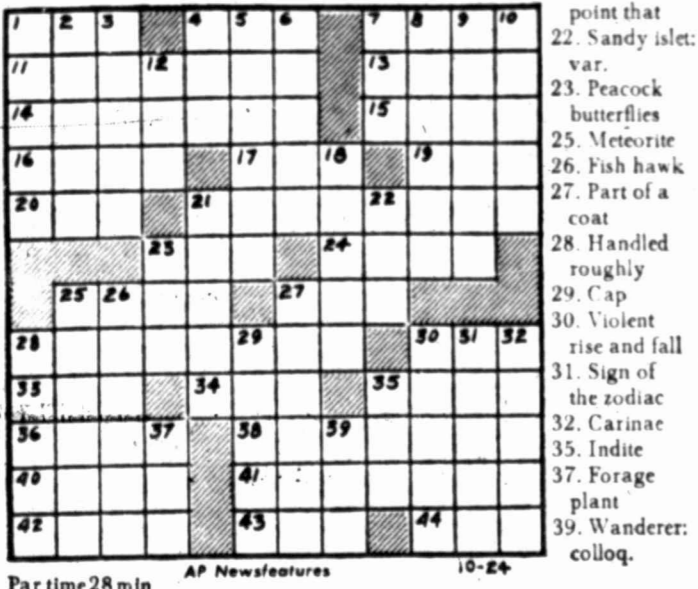

Besides the power rationing, the drought has lowered drinking water reservoirs to critical points.

THE BIG PROBLEM IS THE *P.O.'S

A *P.O. is a *Putter-Offer. He has good intentions of having a part in the community's United Fund; or, if a worker, he fully means to work those prospect cards tomorrow or the next day.

The P.O.'s are really hurting this, the biggest community effort of the year. Surely you're not one of the P.O.'s. You know that the United Fund collects and distributes vital operating funds to 13 worthwhile organizations that work in the field of health and welfare, in youth guidance, and in heart-warming philanthropies. You know that to make the United Fund a success, every citizen must do his fair share. Any salaried person, any wage-earner, can pledge a dollar or so a month - and will have a part in keeping our city and county in the rightful position of taking care of those who need help.

If you're a worker, won't you please complete your calls right away, and report to the campaign office? If you're not a volunteer, but have been "waiting for someone to call," won't you please make your gift now? You may call the UF office, AM 4-5588, and you will have immediate response. Or you can mail your gift. There is nothing to keep the United Fund from being another resounding success, without a great waste of people's time, except the Putter-Offers. Do your part in the United Fund - today - and nudge your neighbor to do so, too.

GIVE YOUR FAIR SHARE GIVE THE UNITED WAY

West German Natural Gas Developing

BONN, Germany (AP)—West European businessmen are looking forward to a big increase in the use of a fuel that has transformed part of American industry—natural gas.

Holland is busy developing the biggest field yet discovered in Europe, with reserves estimated at 21 trillion cubic feet. By American standards this is modest. The United States produces more than 13 trillion cubic feet a year.

PIPELINE

West German gas companies are talking about building a pipeline to carry gas from the field at Slochteren, near the Dutch-German border on the Ems River estuary, to customers in the Ruhr area, Germany and Switzerland. The line would cost about 500 million marks ($125 million).

EXPORTS

Nothing has been said publicly about export prices, or how much gas the government controlled Dutch firms would be willing to export. German coal producers are already worried. A pipeline bringing in 170 to 220 billion cubic feet of gas a year could reduce their customers' coal consumption by as much as 8 per cent, and might drive some marginal coal producers out of business.

Syrian Spy Net Found In Israel

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—A Syrian spy net has been discovered inside Israel following the arrest 10 days ago of three armed Arab infiltrators close to the northern border, a police spokesman said today.

He said investigation showed that the three infiltrators had been sent by Syrian intelligence authorities and that more Arabs had been detained in the Acre area in northern Israel since then.

Area Of Dispute On Georgia Border

The state of Georgia will ask the U.S. Supreme Court to decide whether shaded Tennessee area above Georgia's northern boundary belongs to Georgia or Tennessee. Georgia officials claim the 60 square mile area and say an error in surveying years ago is responsible for the dispute. At stake is a rich copper basin near Copperhill, Tenn. (AP Wirephoto)

High-Level Public Posts Attained By Negroes

NEW YORK (AP)—A new boss always attracts attention, but an extraordinary amount focused on Lawrence N. Houston. It was expected, when he was appointed director of the New Jersey Highfields project for rehabilitating juvenile offenders, Houston became the first Negro ever appointed superintendent of a state institution in New Jersey.

FACTORS

His is only one example of the appointment or election of Negroes to state or municipal posts in recent months. Negro claim for recognition and job equality was a factor in some cases but not in all.

In St. Louis, the Rev. John J. Hicks became the first Negro elected president of the city Board of Education. In New York, Manhattan Borough President Edward R. Dudley was elected without opposition as chairman of the New York Democratic County committee, the first Negro to hold the ceremonial post.

PORT POLICE

A year ago, Ross L. Morgan of the Port of New York Authority police became the first Negro to reach captain's grade in the 1,200-man force. Now he has scored another first for his race, he has been named head of the 100-man police force at Idlewild Airport. He will be responsible for keeping peace at the airport where 35,000 persons work.

In Albany, N.Y., Lawrence W. Pierce, a deputy New York City police commissioner, was appointed director of the State Division of Youth. Other examples of Negroes appointment or election to important posts: Los Angeles—Leslie N. Shaw, acting postmaster of Los Angeles. He is vice president of a savings and loan association. San Francisco—Dr. William J. Cobb, a civic leader, the city's first school department human relations officer. He is a school administrator in the San Francisco Bay area. His task is the elimination of racial tensions in the city's schools.

Oakland, Calif.—Aramis M. Fouché, city library commission. A businessman, he was the sixth Negro named to Oakland boards and commissions. Sacramento, Calif.—Joseph Kennedy from the State Industrial Accident Commission to a San Francisco judgeship.

Lansing, Mich.—Damon J. Keith, a Detroit attorney and active Democrat, co-chairman of the state's new civil rights Commission, State Supreme Court Judge Otis N. Smith. Twenty Negroes have been named to state posts or advisory commission jobs by Republican Gov. George Romney since Jan. 1.

Cleveland, Ohio—William Walker, publisher of the Cleveland Call & Post, became the first Negro of Cabinet rank to head a state department, that of industrial relations. He was appointed by Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes. Chicago—Lou Irons, former University of Illinois and Olympic track star, supervisor of physical education in the office of the state superintendent of schools; Municipal Court Judge Edith Sampson and Superior Court Judge James Tresson.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Edwin Gibson, director of Public Works Division in the State Department of Administration. Omaha, Neb.—Donald Benning, wrestling coach and football assistant at University of Omaha—the first Negro to hold a head coaching post at the university. Seattle, Wash.—The Rev. Samuel B. McKinney, pastor of Mount Zion Baptist church—largest Negro church in the city—and painting contractor John Allen, members of the new 12-man Seattle Human Rights Commission.

Austin, Tex.—Phillip Crawford, Austin attorney, one of 90 assistant attorneys general for Texas. Phoenix, Ariz.—The Rev. G. Benjamin Brooks, vice chairman of the Maricopa County (Phoenix) NAACP chapter, elected member of the Phoenix School Board, the first Negro so named. Denver, Colo.—Jerome C. Rose, director of the city motor vehicle department. He had been employed in the city auditor's office and was high man in a 1960 civil service examination for the assistant director's post. Portland, Maine—Harold E. Richardson, co-owner of an office cleaning concern, elected trustee of the Portland Water District. He is the first Negro to hold the post and one of the first elected to any public office in Maine. Academy Begins Research Study

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Six Naval Academy midshipmen have been freed of regular classroom work this year to concentrate on research and studies of their own choosing. They are known as "Trident scholars," the first participants in a scholarship program (the academic program) and thus create a new source of pride for the whole brigade and for the faculty.

Hand-picked for the program from the upper 10 per cent of their class were: Clark Graham of Jacksonville, Fla., tennis player and captain of the Navy squash team. He'll do research on factors affecting submarine construction. Bobby Joe Haynes of Watauga, Tenn., who will study chemical characteristics of a heretofore unreported salt compound. Barry M. Platt of Scottsdale, Ariz., studying civil-naval relations of Argentina and their effect on governmental stability.

Jeffrey V. Wilson of Kansas City, Kan., studying concepts of fire control in laser or energy-beam weaponry. Leon P. Brooks Jr. of Jacksonville, Fla., who will do research on radiation effects on transistors. Melville H. Lyman III of Glen Ridge, N.J., who will conduct research on applied navigation. The program grew out of a visit to Yale University last spring by Rear Adm. Charles C. Kirkpatrick, academy superintendent, and Capt. Robert W.

McNitt, secretary to the academic board. Kirkpatrick was impressed with Yale's "Scholar of the House" program and decided to try something similar at the Naval Academy.

Each of the Trident scholars works under guidance of a faculty adviser. The program is under supervision of a standing committee from the faculty. A project report or thesis is required of each scholar at the end of the year. The midshipmen, all seniors, must participate in regular brigade activities except for time they would normally devote to classes.

DEAR ABBY

Report It Or Share Guilt

DEAR ABBY: This isn't the type of letter you usually get, but maybe you can do something about it. Every night a gang of neighborhood teenagers search for, and find, poor stray kittens and cats. They torment these poor animals by sticking needles into them, breaking their legs and burning them alive. They even give kittens to large dogs to chew and maul. I have seen them, and so have others. Everybody complains, but nobody does anything about it. I am willing to do anything I can to stop them. Where do I start?

MRS. B.: You start by calling the police—and you don't stop there. You also call the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (S.P.C.A.). Anyone who has knowledge of such cruelty and neglects to report it, shares the guilt with the tormentors.

DEAR ABBY: I have been divorced for nine years. I met a man at work (also divorced) and we have been seeing each other for six months. As I am writing this, I am in the hospital recuperating from my second cancer operation. This man really worships me and insists on getting married right away. I have explained the whole thing about the operations, but he says it makes no difference. All he wants is to marry me and take care of me. I love him very much. We are both in our early fifties. Do you think I would be doing wrong in marrying him? I want an honest answer.

DEAR BORROWED TIME: Marry him. And enjoy as much time together as the Lord allows.

DEAR ABBY: Half the time I don't get a chance to read the newspapers, but I always save them to wrap potato and onion peelings in. I want you to

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1963 SEC. B

Permanent Grass Seeding For Pasture

This big grass drill was used to plant grass seed in a protective dead litter cover of sorghum on Mrs. George White's farm 10 miles west of Big Spring. Crop land is being converted to grazing land for livestock.

Cropland Being Returned To Pasture With Grasses

More than 700 acres of cropland have been returned to permanent pasture status, by operators in the Big Spring portion of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, according to a report by Charles Mickelson, conservationist with the SCS work unit. The seeding to permanent grass was done last spring and the pastures will be used for livestock grazing.

Mrs. George White has seeded pure plantings of weeping lovegrass, and mixtures of side-oats grama, plains bristlegoat and blue grama. Lorin S. McDowell has seeded pure stands of weeping lovegrass. Other operators planting grass include Charlie Creighton and Jack Buchanan.

These plantings were done under the Great Plains conservation program with federal cost-share assistance to landowners.

"All of the pasture plantings on old cropland were seeded in dead litter cover crops of sorghum," Mickelson said. "These cover crops were seeded before the sorghum seed matured, and the stubble was then left undisturbed until the seed was drilled in the following spring.

"To give the young grass seedlings a chance to become established," he continued, "there should be no grazing allowed during the growing season, immediately after planting. Without this chance for the grass to become established, it is almost impossible to obtain a good stand and keep it. Once the grass is established the most important point to consider, in maintaining a high level of production, is management. With proper management, the grass planting can continue to improve each year. Without it the grass will not maintain high production and possibly could not survive."

The conservationist explained that the removal of more than 50 per cent of the growth from a plant would stop the root growth. He said tests have shown that a single clipping of 90 per cent of the growth could prevent root growth for as long as 17 days. Continuous clippings have kept roots from growing any for the duration of the tests.

"Grass plants have to depend upon their root systems for food when the top growth is clipped or grazed too closely," he said. "When sufficient leaf growth has been made the plant can manufacture its own food and allow the roots to resume growth.

"Logical reasoning shows that continuous close grazing, of 50 per cent or more, will prevent the grass from making growth at the most productive level."

Rebuilding Work Begins On Gail Road Segment

A. F. Seidel, Ballinger contractor, has begun work rebuilding Gail highway from its intersection with SH 350 to a point eight miles north.

A conference was held Wednesday morning at the office of the State Highway Department resident engineer on the job and how problems relating to it would be handled.

Joe Smoot, resident engineer, said that because the entire road is to be rebuilt that traffic in the eight mile segment will be handicapped for some time. He urged that all persons using the road to exercise caution.

The State Highway Patrol and other officers will cooperate with the engineers' office and the contractor in making the program as safe as possible. The job will involve expenditure of $121,800 by the State Highway Department. The 20-foot road bed will be completely torn out, rebased and rebuilt.

All structures on the road will be widened.

The contractor has 50 working days in which to complete the job.

Still Good Enough To Go On Display

THOMASTON, Ga. (AP)—Sheriff E. T. Bray is proud of his copper liquor still—it is in good enough condition to put on public display.

"We've tried for a long time to get a still that we could put up for display and let the public see what one looks like," he said Wednesday. Bray and state revenue agents found the still on a recent raid.

"It's a well-built still and looks like a model operation," Bray said. "I know it will run because it was running when we captured it."

Loan Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Area Redevelopment Administration has approved a $149,500 industrial loan to the Henderson, Tex., Industrial Trust to help it establish a plant for lease to Wood Carv. The plant will cost $230,000 and use about 65 workers.

Looked In Cubans' Guns, Says Skipper

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Capt. Gerhard Krause said today that "We looked right into their guns" as he described the strafing of his ore ship off Cuba for 61 minutes early Tuesday.

"We laid on the floor but it wouldn't have helped, really. We were lucky—just plain lucky" not to be wounded, Krause said in a heavy German accent.

His ore ship, the SS J. Louis, docked here about dawn.

The ship had two-inch bullet holes on the right side and others along the deck.

Krause said none of the crew saw attacking planes because it was dark. Flashes of the planes' guns were visible.

MORE THAN ONE

It sounded like there were more than one (plane) because the attacks came one after the other," the captain said.

Krause said he was on the bridge with the junior third officer and a helmsman when they saw flares lighting the sky and Cuban coast 20 or so miles to his right.

The J. Louis was then about 16 miles off Cuba, he said.

"The sky was lighted with flares a long time before we got to the place where we were attacked," Krause said.

OVERHEAD

"Two flares then were dropped directly overhead," and the attack began.

Asked if he thought the pilots knew the type of ship they were firing on, he answered:

"I think they knew what they were doing. They were shooting up the ship."

Seven crewmen were on duty, three on the bridge, three in the engine room and one in the radio shack.

The rest of the 51-man crew were below.

"I couldn't sound the alarm because that would have brought all the men on deck. This is what I didn't want to do. I phoned the officers to take the men to safer places."

SHIP SAFE

The captain said he did not fear for the safety of the ship, but was worried about his crew.

He ordered his radio operator, Will Urbanus, 27, from The Netherlands, to raise the U.S. Coast Guard. He was in touch with Galveston 20 minutes after the attack began.

Krause said he was told by radio that Navy planes were sent to the area. He said he saw none, however.

The captain said the planes were too fast to be picked up on the ship's radar before they struck.

Havana Radio had acknowledged that Cuban planes gunned and set fire to a ship in the attack area.

All the bullet holes were above the water line.

Krause, 54, of Hamburg, said two feet of water accumulated in the cargo hold before the crew after two hours subdued flames which broke out in the forecastle.

"We were stunned in the beginning," said Krause, a veteran of 37 years on ships. The crew offered no resistance.

"We have nothing to fight back with," he said. The J. Louis is a 33,000-ton ship.

No injuries occurred in the 61-minute attack.

"This was our 91st trip to Jamaica, so we have passed that same spot 181 times before," he said.

FURTHER AWAY

"We will go by further offshore next time."

The J. Louis carried 31,500 tons of bauxite aluminum ore for the Reynolds Metal Co.

Details of the attack went to the Navy and the State Department.

Reynolds Vice President Walter Rice of Richmond, Va., said Washington also was told "of our concern about the fact that the Reynolds-owned ore carrier the SS Inger, flying the United States flag, is now approaching the same general area of the attack on the SS J. Louis."

Inspectors Take Look At Airport

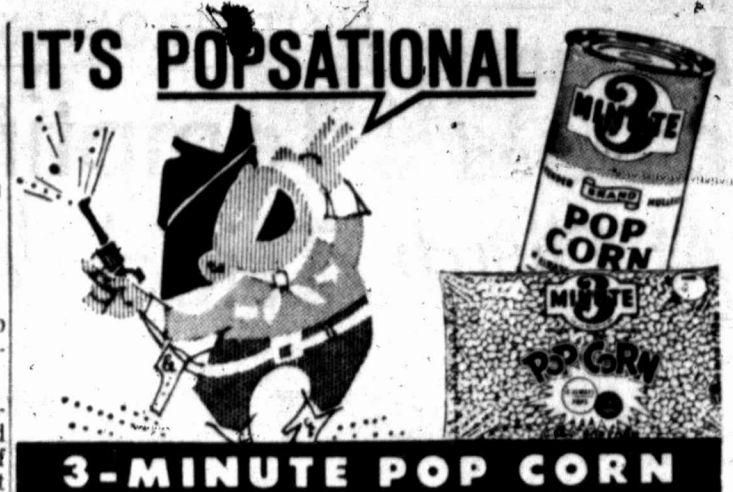

Trans-Texas Airways officials and Federal Aviation representatives made an inspection tour of Howard County Airport about 8 a.m. today and flew on to cover the new TTA route north.

Ted McClung, airport manager, said the group of about 20 men arrived early in a DC-3, looked over the local facilities and then left to go over the route to Lubbock, Santa Fe, Albuquerque, and other points north.

Service by Trans-Texas will begin Sunday. Preparations are being made now for the first flight.

Six flights will serve Big Spring each day when TTA takes over.

The group included W. W. Franklin, TTA vice president in charge of customer service, pilots, dispatchers and five FFA inspectors. They will return to San Angelo tonight before going on to Houston, where suggested changes and operational plans will be prepared.

Elks Hold Homecoming

The Texas Elks Crippled Children's Hospital held its tenth annual homecoming at Palmerton State Park at Ottine Sunday.

More than 1,500 Elks and their families attended the event. Principal speaker was George J. Hall, a Past Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks, from Lynbrook, N. Y.

The Texas Elks Crippled Children's Hospital is supported entirely by contributions from members of the 65 Elks Lodges in Texas. The hospital is non-denominational and makes no charge for its treatment of crippled children.

A delegation from Big Spring Lodge No. 1386 attended the Homecoming and presented hospital officials with a check for the lodge quota.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Tempting Tid-Bits Tried And Tested

Dear Heloise: I wonder how many housewives know the wonderful uses for the tube-type refrigerator biscuits? (Bought at our grocery store.)

Jelly doughnuts: Remove the prepared biscuits from the cardboard tube. Fry in deep, hot shortening until brown and floating on the surface. Turn them over so the other side can brown. Drain. When cool make a slit with a small sharp knife and insert a teaspoon of your favorite jelly. Sprinkle with powdered sugar and they are fabulous.

HELOISE

Regular doughnuts: Cut out the center of the biscuit with a large thimble or the center of any doughnut cutter. (One can also cut biscuits in quarters.) Fry, drain cool and sprinkle with cinnamon sugar or powdered sugar. Plain sugar can be put on the doughnuts when they are warm. These biscuits may be put in a pan as usual and then dotted with margarine, sprinkled with cinnamon sugar and baked. They may also be rolled in a combination of nuts and cinnamon and sugar, after coating them with margarine. Then place the biscuits on edge, one resting on another to form a ring (such as a breakfast roll). This makes a fast homemade coffee cake. Raisins may also be used.

many uses. Shine a bowlful of beautiful Jonathans and Red Delicious apples for juicy, fresh eating and apple bobbing and offer these to the hobgoblins and

For A Halloween Party

Happy faced sandwiches, filled with a tasty mixture of mashed sardines and chopped cucumber—or your own favorite filling—will be the conversation piece at a Halloween party for any age group.

Plan For A Party

One of the best deterrents for Halloween mischief is a Halloween party.

Here is an anniversary that might have been created for the delight of small fry. There is the opportunity to dress up in laughter-provoking costumes, to play odd and unusual games, and last but certainly not least, to eat the kind of food that youngsters regard as ambrosia from the gods—doughnuts, hotdogs, hamburgers and plenty of soda pop.

Home-Bound Spooks Might Encounter An Early Riser

By JO BRIGHT
If there are witches riding or spirits still spooking at the eerie hour of 4:30 a.m., Nov. 1, they may wonder at the lights flashing on in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Reed, 1700 S. Monticello St.

Mrs. Reed will not be ghost-hunting. She'll be rising at the usual hour to prepare breakfast for her family before reporting at 6:30 a.m. to Malone-Hogan Foundation Hospital where she is a student in Licensed Vocational Nursing.

When the aroma of bacon and coffee begins to fill the kitchen, Mrs. Reed awakens her husband, and they breakfast together. Reed, a mason leader in the civil engineering group at Webb Air Force Base, sees that the children get up and supervises their breakfast before he leaves for work.

"Our mornings are hectic," sighed Mrs. Reed, "but the children eat well and are healthy, so I guess we'll survive this period while I am training."

Their children are Nancy, 13, and the twins, Sammy and Sandra, 10.

The noon meal takes care of itself, for the children eat in the school cafeteria and Reed takes a lunch.

EAT EARLY

The family has its evening meal earlier than most. There is no "dinner-at-eight" nonsense when the children have homework to do and their mother must study, too. Mrs. Reed begins cooking before four o'clock and the family eats by five.

"Some mothers tell me their children are up until 11 o'clock doing homework," said Mrs. Reed. "Our family just can't live that way. By serving an early meal, we can get on with the studying and be through at a reasonable hour. We're usually all in bed by 9:30 p.m."

Mrs. Reed does her food shopping every two weeks, except for bread and milk. Trips to the store for those two items are not made as often now as they once were.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed smiled at each other as they recalled the day he grew weary of being stuck to the store for bread. He came home with 12 big loaves, stacked them in the refrigerator and sat back down to enjoy his paper.

"That bread was getting a little dry by the time we finished it," said Mrs. Reed, "but

TRICKS MAKE TREATS

Cut These Out For Cut-Ups

Tricks make treats for Halloween. Are your youngsters having a party? They'll enjoy making tricky open-sandwiches with goblin-type toppings, cut from slices of cheddar cheese.

If no party is planned, the sandwiches will still be fun to serve to the family.

All these sandwich cut-outs are made from bread, deviled ham and cheese. First the bread is spread with the ham. Then the sliced cheddar cheese is cut out in Halloween shapes and arranged over the ham.

If you have a set of tiny canape cutters, your youngsters will have fun using them to cut out the features for pumpkin-face sandwiches. A tiny triangle-shaped cutter will make a fine nose, a little half-moon cutter will fashion alluring eyes.

Boys and girls can also cut out center rounds from cheese slices for Halloween cat sandwiches and add the garnishings that make the features on the cat's face.

To our knowledge, cookie cutters do not come in ghost shape, so to make spook sandwiches a ghost pattern will have to be cut out of cardboard.

Here are specific directions for all three open sandwiches.

SANDWICHES

Pumpkin Faces — Cut rounds from slices of bread with a cookie cutter; spread the bread rounds with deviled ham. Cut out matching size rounds from slices of cheddar cheese; cut out pumpkin-face features — eyes, nose and mouth—from the cheese rounds; place the cut-out cheese rounds over the ham-spread bread rounds. Use parsley for the pumpkin face's hair, raisins for the eyes; make a bow tie from tiny wedges of green pepper placed over larger wedges of pimiento.

Ghosts — Cut a ghost shape out of cardboard and use this pattern to cut spooks out of slices of cheddar cheese. Spread slices of bread with deviled ham and place a cheese ghost over each. Bits of ripe olive or raisin may be used for the spook's eyes and nose and a strip of pimiento for his mouth.

Cats — Cut out rounds from sandwich-size slices of cheddar cheese with a cookie cutter to represent cat faces; make two notches in each cheese cut-out to represent the cat's ears. Use garnishings for the cat's features—ripe olives or raisins for

JACK O'LANTERN CUPCAKES

Raisins make these fruity and fragrant.

Halloween celebration when you have a plate of these saucy faced raisin cupcakes on hand. They're wonderful for autumn parties or snacks — as well as

as the trick or treat crowd. Serve with refreshing pineapple juice.

Little goblins will enjoy filling their sacks with little packs of raisins, too. The 1 1/2 ounce cartons are sold individually or in bundles of six in many grocery stores.

RAISIN FUNNY FACE CAKES

- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup dark or golden raisins
- 2 tpsps. grated orange peel
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 2 cups sifted flour
- 4 tpsps. baking powder
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/2 cup milk
- Butter Sugar Icing
- Orange food coloring
- Dark raisins for "faces"

Cream shortening and sugar until light and fluffy; blend in raisins, orange peel and eggs. Resift flour with baking powder and salt. Add alternately with milk to creamed mixture, blending well. Pour into greased cup cake pans. Bake in hot oven (25 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Cool. Frost with butter sugar icing, tinted orange. Make Halloween faces with raisins for eyes, nose and mouth. Makes about 15 cakes.

There never can be too many cookies for the children around the house at Halloween—especially these cookies you make yourself as a reward to busy little trick 'n treaters. No need to peel and core apples for this recipe—use canned ones.

APPLE COOKIES

- 2 cups all purpose flour
- 1 tsp. baking soda
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 3/4 cup vegetable shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 small eggs
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
- 1 can pie-sliced apples

Sift flour with baking soda and salt. Cream shortening. Gradually beat in sugar. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Add molasses and nuts and blend well. Stir in dry ingredients and blend well. Drop by teaspoonfuls on a greased cookie sheet. Press drained apple slices on each cookie. Bake at 375 degrees F. 10-12 minutes or until cookies are puffed and crisp. Makes approximately four doz-

1900 Gregg — Open Nightly Till 8

Regional Police Parley Slated

Sweetwater police chief Walter E. Eubanks, former captain with the Big Spring police department, will welcome delegates to the second annual regional conference of the Texas Police Association Sunday and Monday, Oct. 27-28, at the Holiday Center Motel in Sweetwater.

Several Big Spring police officers including Chief Jay Banks, assistant chief Leo Hull and juvenile officer Bob Darland will attend. Some 100 law enforcement officers from the West Texas area are expected to attend.

Eubanks served with the Big Spring police department for about 10 years prior to accepting an appointment as police chief in Sweetwater last June. Registration for the conference will begin at 6 p.m. Sunday, and a reception will be held at 7 p.m.

Conference business will begin at 9 a.m. Monday with Gus Krausse, TPA president from Brownsville, giving the call to order. Invocation will be given by Preston Barrett, pastor, First Christian Church, Sweetwater.

Sessions Monday morning will feature talks by: C. C. Benson, manager, National Automobile Theft Bureau, Dallas; chief of police Forrest Keene, University Park police department, Dallas; Maj. Leo E. Gossett, Texas Department of Public Safety, Midland; and E. E. Kuhnel, special agent, F. B. I., San Antonio.

Olaf South, superintendent of Sweetwater schools, will give a luncheon talk.

A workshop Monday afternoon will be held on the exchange of information on current activities in armed robbery, burglary and auto-theft. Joel Tisdale, chief, identification and criminal records, DPS, Austin, will be general chairman. Speakers will include Clinton Peoples, captain, Texas Rangers, Waco; Fred Creech, Laredo; and Ira Scott, chief of police, Kingsville.

Patient Load Up In VA Hospitals

For the third consecutive year, Veterans Administration hospitals in 1963 substantially increased the number of patients treated at the facilities without increasing the number of beds.

During the 1963 fiscal year,

VA hospitals treated 712,800 patients, 75,400 more than three years previously. At the local VA Hospital, the 1963 fiscal year saw treatment of 3,236 persons, a gain of 454 over 1960.

The increase here has been steady since 1960. During 1961, the hospital showed a gain of 71. It rose another 185 in 1962 and 228 in 1963. Meanwhile, there was no increase in the number of beds available locally.

This could be brought about only by shortening the average stay of VA patients through improvements in care and efficiency in operation, V. J. Belda, director, said.

Here the hospital has shown steady improvement. In 1960 the average length of stay, based on the calendar year, was 33.3 days. In 1961, this was cut to 22.5 days; to 28.8 in 1962 and to 24.6 for the first nine months of the current year.

Another way to look at the increase is to consider the rate at which beds are freed so that other patients can be accepted by the hospital. Here the 1961 average monthly turnover rate was 97.3. In 1962, it went up to 104.3. During 1963, it was 112.2 and during the first quarter of the current fiscal year it reached 119.8.

Moseley Visits Local Hospital

Stanley Moseley, area registrar and medical administrative supervisor for the Veterans Administration, is currently on visit at the Big Spring VA Hospital, V. J. Belda, director, said today.

Moseley will evaluate local registrar activities and the housekeeping division. He arrived Monday and will leave Friday.

Tryouts Set For Next Play

Tryouts for the next Little Theatre presentation, "My Three Angels," will be held Friday at 7:30 p.m. and Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Prairie Play house.

The director for the production, chosen Tuesday at a meeting of the board for the Little Theatre group, will be Jack Richards, who also directed "Dial M For Murder." No producer has been selected. Persons interested in taking on this chore are urged to contact Capt. James Marlin.

Cast for the next play requires three women and seven men. Among the lead roles are several suitable for mature performers. No previous stage experience is necessary.

"My Three Angels" is the tale of a chivalrous trio of convicts in a French Guiana penal colony. The men have been assigned to work in the home of an amiably impractical shopkeeper and find that their host and his daughter are about to be victimized by a pair of unpunished scoundrels. They proceed to see that justice is done.

The membership committee reported that about 125 tickets have been sold.

Diana Churchill Took Own Life, Coroner Says

LONDON (AP) — A coroner ruled today that Sir Winston Churchill's eldest daughter, Diana, took her own life through a massive overdose of sleeping pills.

The nude body of 54-year-old Mrs. Churchill, ex-wife of Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys, was found on the floor of her bathroom early last Sunday.

Coroner Gavin Thurston did not specifically call the death a suicide, a legal term. He listed the cause of death as acute barbiturate poisoning, self-administered, and said she took her own life.

Keith Simpson, a pathologist, testified that he had recovered the equivalent of 17 sleeping pills from Mrs. Churchill's body. He said she probably took half again as many in one dose. He also found she had drunk about one-third of a bottle of whisky.

Ironically, for the past 18 months Mrs. Churchill's main interest in life had been work-

Castro Fighters Buy Bogus Arms

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Two anti-Castro revolutionaries complained to police that $2,000 worth of arms they bought turned out to be concrete blocks and grass when they opened the box.

Police tracked down the sellers Wednesday. They returned the money.

Halloween To Be Longest In History, Say Scientists

WASHINGTON (AP)—Halloween, a week from tonight, will be the longest Halloween on record—by a tenth of a second.

Blame it on some terrestrial witchcraft that has been slowing the earth's spin on its axis for the last several months.

Earlier this month, scientists decided to set back their clocks by a tenth of a second to catch up with the slower earth time, as an aid to navigators and astronomers and the like who need precise time.

Man has always used the spin of his earth between night and day as the measure of time. But when he developed atomic clocks that beat to the vibration of atoms, he found he had a far more precise and absolute time measure.

The earth, he discovered, slowed down and sped up at irregular intervals and this had thrown off some of his precise calculations.

Now the National Bureau of Standards and the U.S. Naval Observatory broadcast time signals, in cooperation with other nations, to ships at sea and other interested persons. Their time is atomic time.

From time to time, they have to adjust their atomic time to earth time, but generally the earth's slowing and speeding average out pretty much over the long haul.

However, the earth's slowness of late has been building up a supply of lost time—as compared with atomic or absolute time.

Nearly a quarter of the lost tenth of a second has come in the last month. Now scientists have to do something about it.

So at midnight, or zero hours, Nov. 1, universal time—7 p.m. Eastern Standard Time, Oct. 31—scientists adjust their radio-atomic time to more nearly match earth time. It means setting things back a tenth of a second.

It also means that the witching hour in Greenwich, England—midnight on Halloween—will last a tenth of a second longer than it should. But then witches may have their own time too.

GOP Scores Georgia Win

DALTON, Ga. (AP) — A Republican won a special election to fill a State Senate vacancy, and the GOP state chairman hailed the result as "an indication that Republican gains in the South really are basic."

R. S. Thomas, a carpet mill employe, led Democrat James Phillips, a lawyer, by nearly 600 votes out of the approximately 6,000 cast Wednesday. They are seeking the Senate seat vacated by Charles Pannell, a Democrat who recently was appointed to the Georgia Court of Appeals.

State GOP Chairman James Dorsey said in Atlanta that the election outcome reflected organization and local support for party efforts.

Thomas will take his seat in January along with three other Republicans in the 54-member Senate. Georgia also has 2 Republicans in the 295-man House.

Continental Oil Earnings At Peak

HOUSTON (AP) — Continental Oil Co. has reported record earnings and operating volume for both the third quarter and the first nine months of 1963.

Net income for Continental and its consolidated subsidiaries rose to $21.2 million in the third quarter, and increase of 25 per cent over the $17 million for the same period last year.

Earnings for nine months were $67.5 million, or 28 per cent more than the $52.9 million earned in the same period of 1962.

Net income per common share amounted to 94 cents for the third quarter of 1963, compared to 75 cents for the same period in 1962. For the first nine months, net income equaled $3 a share in 1963 and $2.33 in 1962.

L. F. McColum, president, said Tuesday factors that contributed to greater earnings in the third quarter include expanded sales of Libyan crude oil, a special dividend of $2.6 million from a non-consolidated domestic affiliate, and larger sales of refined products.

USAF Transport Falls In Viet Nam

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Air Force transport plane crashed and burned today about 65 miles south of Saigon, apparently killing all four American crewmen and four Vietnamese airmen aboard.

It was the second major air accident in little more than two weeks involving Americans in South Viet Nam. On Oct. 7 two U.S. Marine Corps helicopters crashed north of Saigon, killing 12 Americans.

Better Rate For Bond Sales

This district experienced a better rate of bond sales during September, but it is still below the area pace. Sales in the eight counties of District 5 amounted to $135,858, which is about a monthly quota in relation to the annual quota.

However, sales for the year aggregate only $867,951, which is only 55.3 per cent of the annual quota. The area percentage is 64.8, and the state average is 74 per cent. State sales aggregated $15,453,976 in September, making $111,504,654 for the year.

Howard County sold $58,832 in United States Savings bonds in September, or 43 per cent of the district total. Cumulative sales for the year are $381,408, which is about 40 per cent of the district total and on a par with the county's percentage of the district quota.

Other county sales in September:

Andrews $11,162 ($27,787)
 55.8; Dawson $9,953 ($63,868)
 63.8; Gaines $8,879 ($96,397)
 87.8; Martin $3,686 ($19,238)
 48.1; Mitchell $19,321 ($142,238)
 13.6; and Scurry $24,019 ($136,991) 41.5.

Charge Filed In Car Death

COLORADO CITY—A charge of murder without malice was filed Wednesday against Juan Gutierrez, 18-year-old Colorado City youth, in connection with the death of Richard Howell, 50-year-old Colorado City farmer, Sunday.

Howell's pickup collided Sunday afternoon with an automobile driven by Gutierrez. Howell was thrown from the pickup and died three hours later.

The accident, which took place on Colorado City's South Bridge, was investigated by county attorney Frank Ginzler, Colorado City Police, the Mitchell County Sheriff's Department and the Highway Patrol. The complaint signed by Police Chief Leon Yeager was filed by Ginzler in Justice of the Peace T. E. Arnold's court.

Bond has not been set and Gutierrez is being held in the Mitchell County jail.

Quads Born At New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Quadruplets, three girls and a boy, were born Wednesday night to a Rego Park, Queens, couple at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center.

Early today the hospital said Rhoda Brecker, 27, and the four babies all were in satisfactory condition.

Mrs. Brecker had known she would have a multiple birth, the hospital said, but had not known it would be quadruplets.

Mrs. Brecker and her husband, Martin, have been married almost six years. They have no other children. The mother resigned last spring as a Brooklyn school teacher. The father is an attorney.

The children, in order of birth were a girl weighing 4 pounds; a boy, 2 pounds, 15 ounces; a girl, 3 pounds, 11 ounces; and a girl, 2 pounds, 12 ounces.

Brecker said "I was stunned. I was dumbfounded. It's a wonderful blessing. It's magnificent."

No Endorsement

HOUSTON (AP)—The Harris County AFL-CIO voted Wednesday night to endorse no candidate in the Houston city election Nov. 16.

MEN IN SERVICE

Army Spec. 5 Thomas E. Gregg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Gregg, Ackerly, participated with other members of the 1st Battalion of the 8th Infantry Division's 28th Artillery in four weeks of extensive field training at the Seventh U. S. Army Training Center near Grafenwohr, Germany.

During the training Specialist Gregg was involved in simulated combat operations including live firings, night maneuvers, road movements and defensive tactics.

Specialist Gregg, a radio repairman in the battalions Headquarters Battery in Germany, entered the Army in January, 1961 and completed basic training at Fort Hood. He arrived overseas in July, 1961.

The 24-year-old soldier is a 1957 graduate of Ackerly High School and attended Howard County Junior College, and West Texas State College in Canyon.

Meeting Hours Changed By Church

WESTBROOK (SC) — New meeting hours have been set by the First Baptist Church here, the Rev. S. L. Yelding, pastor, said.

Beginning Sunday, Sunday School will start at 9:45 a.m., Training Union at 6 p.m. and Evening Worship at 7 p.m. Wednesday officers' and teachers' meeting will be at 6:30 p.m. with Prayer Service at 7:30 p.m. The G. A. group will meet Wednesday at 6:30 p.m.

Monday afternoon G. A. sessions will be at 3:45 p.m. and Tuesday W. M. U. meetings will be at 9:30 a.m.

Mme. Nhu Visits Dallas, Ranch, Heads For UT

BEEVILLE (AP)—Mrs. Ngo Diem Nhu and her daughter Le Thy spent the night on a Texas ranch and today will go to Austin for an appearance before more than 5,500 students at the University of Texas.

Wearing a long skirted, tight-fitting dress of Viet Nam, Mrs. Nhu made a spectacular sweep through Dallas Wednesday on a tour that included an airport reception with both roses and pickets, shopping at Neiman-

Marcus, and lunch atop the city's tallest skyscraper. In interviews along the way she expressed praise for this country and sharp rebukes for critics of her native land.

At a news conference halted after eight minutes here in the evening, Mrs. Nhu had some criticism of the American press.

"My purpose is to present the other phase of Viet Nam—the good things that we're winning the war," she said. She classed reporting of news from Viet Nam by American reporters as unjust—not as to fact, but as to emphasis.

She explained by saying that when the Vietnamese win a battle the news is minimized, but when they lose the story is played up.

The interview was cut short by Paul Reddam, who said he is associated with the visitor's ranch host, Dudley Dougherty, as guests started arriving for a 7:30 p.m. dinner at the Dougherty home.

Dougherty said he had invited Mrs. Nhu to his ranch "in order to encourage, not discourage

Mail Will Play Key Role In Future Absentee Votes

AUSTIN (AP)—Mail will play an important part in future absentee balloting.

Absentee voting for the Nov. 9 election began Monday and ends Nov. 5.

A person may still vote absentee in person at a county clerk's office. All others must have ballots mailed to them and can return them only by mail to the clerk's office, says Stuart Harris, deputy Travis County clerk.

Under the new election code change, all applications for absentee ballots from qualified voters who are ill or suffer a physical disability must be mailed into the clerk's office. They may be returned only by mail.

The new rule ends the practice of a person going to a clerk's office to get an absentee ballot for a sick person. No member of the clerk's office may take absentee ballots to those in hospitals or nursing homes or to voters confined in their own homes, Harris says.

Gulf Buys Firm

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Gulf Oil Corp. said Wednesday it has acquired more than 80 per cent of the common stock of Spencer Chemical Co. of Kansas City.

'Tools For Freedom' Gains Force

NEW YORK (AP)—A little known organization of businessmen is providing underdeveloped countries with the means for industrial progress.

It is called "Tools for Freedom."

The movement got its start in 1960 and has been picking up momentum ever since.

FOUR FIRMS

At that time four Connecticut firms shipped metalworking shapers, lathes, a drill press, a grinding machine and machine tools to St. Joseph's School of Industrial Trades in Dacca, East Pakistan.

This was the beginning of industry's first formal effort to supplement the United States' tax-supported foreign aid program with one of its own operated and supported by private enterprise.

That first shipment enabled student enrollment at the school to more than double. Now St. Joseph's reports that it has become the second best-equipped technical school in East Pakistan, second only to a school sponsored by the Ford Foundation at a cost of nearly a million dollars.

PRESIDENT

Mansfield D. Sprague, president of Tools for Freedom and vice president of the American Machine & Foundry Co., explained the program.

"Tools for Freedom is an action program organized, sponsored and administered by the U.S. business community to foster both self-help development overseas and to give a boost to the U.S. business community here and abroad," he said.

"Its essence is the contribution by American industry of both new or used, outdated machinery, equipment and inventory to qualified technical and vocational schools in the developing countries of Africa, South Asia and Latin America."

FULL VALUE

"The equipment is only for schools. It is tax deductible at full market value. There is no government involvement."

Sprague says the program can become a two-way street. American Machine & Foundry signed a contract with the Pakistan atomic commission for construction of a nuclear research reactor.

Tools for Freedom has nearly 400 contributing companies and has on hand requests for equipment from 480 schools.

Westbrook Baptist To Buy New Pews

WESTBROOK (SC)—Members of the Westbrook Baptist Church last weekend voted to buy new pews for the church.

The pews will be delivered from Brownwood Nov. 1. A pew fund was begun several months ago, according to the Rev. S. L. Yelding, pastor.

Political Crisis Arrives For Italy

ROME (AP)—Italy is at a political crossroads.

A socialist party congress opening Friday may have a crucial bearing on the kind of government that will rule this NATO-aligned country in coming years.

Premier Giovanni Leone's government, formed as a stop-gap Cabinet, is expected to resign early in November.

The Socialist congress may go a long way toward determining what happens when Leone quits—whether Italy resumes its experiment in left-leaning government, turns right, or holds another election less than a year after last April's general elections.

GREAT SHADOW

Few party congresses in recent Italian history have cast so great a shadow over Italian politics.

The issue is whether the 550 delegates will follow Pietro Nenni in his effort to guide the party into political alliance with Christian Democrats, long the dominant party.

The bidding:

West North East South
Pass 1▲ Pass 2NT
Pass 3NT Pass Pass

Opening lead: Six of ♠

A great many apparent guesses can be eliminated if the declarer will make an attempt to obtain a count of his opponents' distribution in today's hand. South was able to obtain a complete inventory of West's holding which paved the way for declarer's successful manipulation of the diamond suit.

The bidding was routine. Against the final contract of three no trump, West opened the six of spades, and East's ten forced out the queen. Declarer played a small club with the intention of passing the trick into East's hand, but West put up the jack of clubs and dummy won the trick with the ace. A club was returned and West was in with the queen as East discarded a small heart.

West led the king of spades to drive out declarer's last stopper. South held up for one round but won the continuation. When East showed out on the third spade, South saw that he could not afford to continue developing the club suit, for if West got in once more he would cash enough spade tricks to set the contract.

With three tricks already taken in the black suits and two more available in hearts, declarer observed that he would be home if the diamonds ran. Before playing that suit, he cashed the top hearts noting that West followed both times. The latter was known to have started with five spades and four clubs so that, when the king and queen of diamonds were played and West followed with the five and then the ten, his entire distribution was accounted for.

A small diamond was led from the dummy and declarer's nine was finessed with West known to have no more diamonds. The ninth and game fulfilling trick was taken with the ace of diamonds.
