Demos Win; GOP Claims Big Inroads

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats kept control today of such keenly contested posts as the Kentucky and Mississippi governorships and the Philadelphia mayor's chair.

But tallies from Tuesday's elections led the GOP to speak of "dramatic inroads" into Democratic strongholds.

The Kentucky race was a close one. Mississippi Republicans, mounting their first serious attempt on the governorship since Reconstruction days, rolled up a considerable vote in defeat.

SMALL MARGIN
In Philadelphia, Democrats kept their grip on City Hall by about 67,000 votes—but this was their smallest margin in a mayoral race in 12 years.

In all of these races—plus some others—the issue of civil rights figured. Politicians will be studying the tallies for 1964 omens to learn, for example, whether a so-called "white backlash" against the militant Negro drive for more and better jobs, freer choice of housing and other aims, will hurt President Kennedy next year.

MAYOR POSTS
Republicans could look with satisfaction on such states as Indiana—where dozens of mayors' posts switched from Democratic to Republican. But the Indianapolis City Hall stayed Democratic by a narrow margin.

In San Francisco, Rep. John F. Shelley, D-Calif., apparently won out for mayor in an election officially billed as non-partisan. His opponent was supervisor Harold Dobbs, Republican. The retiring mayor is George Christopher, Republican.

In New Jersey, the Republicans kept control of the State Senate by a sweep, and moved toward taking the Assembly from Democrats.

INCOMPLETE
In Kentucky, a still-incomplete count showed Democrat Edward T. Breathitt Jr. the winner for the governorship, but by only about 15,000 votes out of some 860,000 votes thus far counted.
His Republican foe, Louie B. Nunn, charged voting irregularities and asked supporters to "stand by the voting machines and ballot boxes."
Nunn, after first conceding defeat, said "the race is not over yet." But it appeared the uncounted precincts could not change the outcome.
Nunn, in his campaign, had borne down heavily in criticism of an order, issued by retiring Democratic Gov. Bert Combs, barring racial discrimination in

Latin Elected At Brownsville

BROWNSVILLE (AP)—Antonio Gonzalez, a 54-year-old drug addict, was elected mayor of this border city Tuesday.

He polled 2,978 votes to 407 for Joe Besteiro, 34, a mortician, to become the first mayor of Latin American descent in the 110-year incorporated history of Brownsville.

Only the mayor's post was contested. Incumbents Paul Springman, Albert Besteiro and Paul Pilgrim were returned to the city commission.

Bi-Partisan Push Scores Aid Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has demonstrated that President Kennedy's foreign aid program has an almost equal number of enemies and friends in both political parties.

By a see-saw 43-40 vote the Senate turned back Tuesday a challenge by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., against a bipartisan compromise worked out last week by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

SOMETHING NEW
The Republican vote was smaller than Phillips hoped for — with 1,580 of 1,877 precincts counted it stood: Johnson 172,237, Phillips 101,605. But it's something new for a Republican to get that many votes for Mississippi governor.

The victor in the Philadelphia mayoralty fight was Democratic Mayor James H. J. Tate, for whom Kennedy made a campaign trip. Loser was James T. McDermott, 37-year-old lawyer who never has held public office.

Racial overtones got into this campaign. Tate accused McDermott of playing the white vote. Denying this, McDermott said part of the racial unrest in the troubled city could be laid to indecision on the mayor's part.

GOP TREND
Surveying these and other elections Tuesday night, the Republican National Committee said "there is cause for some Republican satisfaction." It saw "a definite Republican trend" in much of the balloting.

Miner Waits To Connect Shaft With Trapped Men

BROISTEDT, Germany (AP)—A miner waited today to make a perilous trip about 200 feet below ground to connect a rescue shaft with a tunnel in a flooded mine where 11 men have been trapped for 13 days. But rescue remained at least a day away.

Rescuers first hoped to lower tools to the entombed men and have them dig a horizontal tunnel to the rescue shaft.
They announced their new plan after the shaft through which the tools were to be lowered missed its target by five feet. Now a miner from the surface, as yet unnamed, will descend the rescue shaft as soon as it is finished to dig into the chamber.
The trapped men have been receiving clothing and food since Sunday through a shaft too narrow to send tools. Their food has to be mashed to fit into a capsule an inch in diameter that moves up and down the shaft like an elevator.

Officials estimated at noon it would take at least another 20 hours to get the men out.
Drilling resumed early today after crews finished lining the rescue shaft with cement.
Rescuers, in touch with the men by telephone, said they are calm. A doctor reported their condition is good.
A rescuer also descended last Friday when three other men were brought out of another part of the mine, flooded Oct. 24 when a nearby dam broke. Twenty-nine miners are missing and presumed dead.

Both Allies, Russians Claim Berlin Victory

Convoy Moves After 42 Hours

U.S. ARMY CONVOY GREETED BY CAMERAMEN Trucks roll into Berlin after 42-hour blockade by Russian troops

BERLIN (AP)—Two days of crisis on the autobahn ended today as the Russians lifted a blockade of a U.S. Army convoy and it rolled grimly into West Berlin. Both sides claimed victory in the struggle after control of traffic along the super-highway.

Germany to West Berlin in four vehicles.
This convoy, unlike its predecessor, dismounted for counting by the Soviets at Marienborn on the western end of the lifeline highway.
OVER 30
No erosion of Allied principle was involved, however. The Allies accepted counting when a convoy carries more than 30 men in addition to the driver and co-driver of each vehicle.
The Soviets cleared the second convoy quickly.
With the autobahn tension temporarily lifted, the Army reinstated a Berlin exercise which had been twice postponed. More than 5,000 Americans, the entire U.S. brigade in Berlin, were ordered into their annual fall maneuvers to test city defenses.
A U.S. spokesman said the exercise is limited to Berlin and there is no possibility of a confrontation with the Russians.

Rebels Say 'Accidental' Suicide Killed Diem, Nhu

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam's revolutionary government claimed today President Ngo Dinh Diem and his brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, committed "accidental suicide" — they were killed while struggling for a guard's pistol.

Catholic Archbishop Pierre Martin Ngo Dinh Thuc, who is attending the Vatican Ecumenical Council in Rome.

The junta will not request the extradition of Nhu's widow, who is in the United States.

The latest official version of the brothers' deaths contradicts widely believed accounts that they were murdered by rebel troops in an armored personnel carrier last Saturday after they surrendered at a Roman Catholic church.
The revolutionary junta announced Saturday that Diem and Nhu, his closest adviser, shot themselves. Today Brig. Gen. Tran Tu Oai, minister of information in the new provisional government, gave this account to a news conference:

land. A U.S. Embassy official accompanied them aboard a commercial airliner to Rome, where Archbishop Thuc took charge of them.
Mrs. Nhu has been on a lecture tour of the United States with her oldest daughter, Le Thu, 18. She said she could not afford the trip.
It was also believed that she might not be able to get back into the United States if she went to Rome. U.S. officials said she would have to have a new visa and this in turn would require a passport from the revolutionary Vietnamese government.

The three children—Trac, 15, Quynh, 11, and their sister, Le Quyen, 4—were flown by a U.S. military plane to Bangkok, Thailand.

PROTESTED
After the brothers surrendered, Diem entered the armored car but Nhu protested. "Why are you using this armored car?" he asked.
A crowd had gathered and began shouting. The rebel officers were afraid that if Diem and Nhu were not spirited away, the mob would lynch them. An army captain tried to push Nhu into the carrier, but Nhu turned around and grabbed the captain's pistol. As they wrestled for the weapon, the officer managed to drag Nhu into the car. Oai gave no further details but added:

U.S. Reviewing Policies On Arms, Aid Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is reviewing its policies in South Viet Nam — including its military and aid programs — in preparation for backing Saigon's new military regime.

U.S. officials today described the review as normal procedure before resumption of diplomatic relations with a new government.
The U.S. aid program in South Viet Nam which has been running at the rate of more than $500 million a year is being given a sharp review. The general feeling here is that if the new provisional government cooperates as it is hoped it will, there will be many opportunities for more efficient use of the funds.
There is not much hope though for any sharp reductions as long as the Communist threat remains.

TV, Radio Limit Fought

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the federal communications commission goes to Capitol Hill today to try to keep alive his drive against the length of radio and television commercials.

The chairman, William Henry, takes on a formidable critic, Rep. Walter Rogers, D-Tex., who heads a House subcommittee on communications.
Rogers, who says Henry and the FCC are trying to exceed their authority, has introduced a bill that would prohibit the FCC from trying to regulate commercials in radio and television.

DISMOUNTING
"None of the convoys submitted to any Soviet instruction on dismounting, standing up to be counted or lowering tail gates or anything of this kind," he said. "There was no compromise whatever."
In any case, the autobahn was open again and two more U.S. convoys, one eastbound, traveled the length of the highway this morning.

The chairman of the subcommittee is opening hearings on the bill. Henry is the first witness.
Rogers introduced his bill because the FCC proposed a rule last May that would require all radio and television stations to abide by the National Association of Broadcasters code on commercials.
The FCC still has not implemented its proposal. It will hold hearings on the proposal later this month.
The NAB code, which is now voluntary, is aimed at preventing commercials from taking too high a percentage of radio and television time.

French Ask Hike On Steel Tariffs

PARIS (AP)—France is urging her Common Market partners to increase the trade bloc's tariffs on steel—a step which could make the chicken war look like chicken feed.

The United States staunchly opposes any increase in European steel tariffs and is considering taking the matter to the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD). It was learned here today. The OECD links the United States and Canada with Western Europe in an institution designed to remove trade barriers.

Although a relatively small amount of steel is affected—about 3 million tons—the United States was reported to feel that any hike in steel tariffs could have a disastrous effect on the Western commerce. Steel prices directly affect a whole range of other products.
NEGOTIATIONS
The United States also feels that a rise in European duties on steel would have an extremely adverse effect on the forthcoming "Kennedy round" of trade negotiations next year within the framework of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) in Geneva.
U.S. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson took the matter up with officials of the steel-coal pool this week when he arrived in Luxembourg on a visit to the Benelux nations. Johnson told leaders of the six-nation community the Kennedy administration hopes they will continue a policy of low tariffs on steel.

$100 A TON
The average price of steel in the community is about $100 a ton. As of last January, the German price was $101.30, the French price $96.60.
The issue comes under the steel-coal treaty and not under the Common Market treaty linking the same six countries. This means individual states, such as France, have a leeway for independent action which is lacking under the Common Market accord.
In the chicken war the United States demanded compensation from the Common Market for the increase in tariffs on frozen fowl from America.
The chicken war is still pending. An impartial GATT panel has been asked to assess the damages which American poultrymen suffer as a basis for eventual compensation.

UF Surges Toward Goal

The United Fund took another heartening surge forward today, and general chairman Jack Y. Smith reported $90,739 toward a $104,800 goal.

A couple of large employe groups made incomplete reports to account for much of the $2,000 pickup for the day. Smith said these represented contacts where all but one or two employes had made gifts and the reports had been held off in hopes of 100 per cent participation.

Hugh Daniel, member of the Daniel Bros. Construction Company which is headquartered in Lubbock, came in with $300 for the fund. This concern is doing the work on the city's continuing assessment program, and Daniel explained that the firm considered itself a citizen of Big Spring as long as it is doing work here and therefore wanted to have a share in the United Fund.

Levittown Name Change Passes

LEVITTOWN, N.J. (AP)—By a 102-vote margin, the electorate of this central New Jersey township has decided to change the municipality's name to Willingboro.
That was the community name from 1688 to 1959. Tuesday's referendum, in which the name change was favored 3,093 to 2,991, reduced the number of Levittowns from three to two. There is one on Long Island and another in Pennsylvania.
The three Levittowns were built by housing developer William Levitt and sons.

Consequently, Diem ordered priority given to the construction of strategic hamlets, the fortified villages, in the north. American military advisers had strongly urged Diem to concentrate the strategic hamlets in the southern delta region where two-thirds of all the Communist raids are made.
It is expected that some of the strategic hamlets that cannot be defended without tying down a large number of troops will be eliminated.

The French proposal — to return to the tariff schedule that prevailed before 1958 — would virtually double the tariff on certain types of steel imported by the six nations — France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

EDWARD HOWARD MAPS

FBI Fugitive Described As Dangerous Beatnik

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has sounded an appeal to the public to lend a hand in locating Edward Howard Maps, one of the nation's 10 most wanted fugitives.

Maps, described as a "beatnik," firearms expert, college graduate, artist-sculptor, is accused of the murders of his wife and four-month-old daughter. The crimes, committed in Stroudsburg, Pa. Jan. 21, 1962, led the launching of a nationwide search for Maps. Firemen called to the Maps home found the infant dead of smoke inhalation and the young wife dying of a fractured skull and cerebral hemorrhage. There were 10 fires set in the house and the gas oven turned on.

Maps allegedly telephoned two neighbors shortly after the crime was committed, threatening one with being "next." A federal warrant has been on file against Maps since Jan. 23, 1962.

Maps is 41 and a native of New Jersey. He is five feet, eight inches tall, weighs 170 pounds and has a ruddy complexion. He is broad shouldered, barrel chested and unusually strong. He has brown eyes, bushy, curling, gray-black hair. He sometimes wears a full beard and moustache. He is a non-conformist who shuns shoes and goes barefoot in summer, wearing sandals and no socks in the winter.

He is regarded as extremely dangerous and anyone having knowledge of his whereabouts is warned not to undertake his apprehension but to call the nearest FBI office.

Mail Haul Bids Being Sought

Bids for a contract to haul mail to the depot and bus station for the post office are being sought, E. C. Boatler, postmaster, has announced. The bids must be in his hands by 5 p.m. Nov. 6.

The present holder of the contract, Harlan Hickson, has asked to be relieved of the post. He had bid in the job at $3,274.80 for the year. Hickson has told postal officials that he cannot afford to do the work for his bid.

The contract, when awarded, will be left in effect until the holder asks to be relieved or when some other unanticipated factor develops to make refilling the job necessary.

Boatler said that anyone interested in the contract should contact his office and see that the bid is in the post office by 5 p.m. tomorrow.

 The small slam contract in spades is a sound undertaking and, on a day when all suits break, declarer would experience little trouble in winning all 13 tricks. South was well satisfied to be in a slam, however, and he was willing to invest the price of an overtrick to protect himself against adverse distribution.

West opened the queen of hearts which was ducked around to the declarer who ruffed with the five of spades. A club was trumped in dummy, and South reentered his hand by overtaking the jack of spades with the queen. He ruffed another club, led to his king of diamonds and drew the remaining trump with two more pulls.

With two losing clubs left in his hand, there might be a temptation at this point to attempt to run dummy's diamonds for, if that suit divides three-two, as expected, South will have a parking place for his small clubs and can claim 18 tricks.

Declarer was willing to forgo the opportunity to score every trick, however, in the interest of assuring his contract. When he led a small diamond from his hand and West played the eight, the latter was permitted to hold the trick as dummy followed with the three. When East showed out, South's small investment was revealed to have paid a handsome dividend for, had he gone up with North's queen of diamonds, he would have been unable to run the suit, and there would be no way to avoid the loss of two club tricks.

West returned a heart which declarer ruffed. The ace of clubs was cashed on which North's last heart was discarded and another diamond led. The ace and queen picked up West's remaining diamonds, and dummy's six took the last trick.

Just Christians

Speaking of those who were first called "Baptists," the tract under review, says: "They renounced infant baptism as being unscriptural, insisting that a baby was incompetent to make religious decisions, and they urged that no one be baptized except he first repent of his sins and accept Jesus Christ as his Saviour."

Every religious group holds to some truths; some, more than others. The Baptists hold to a number. The things mentioned above are some of them. They are Biblical truths. See Mk. 16: 15, 16; Acts 2:38; Mat. 19:14; Lk. 2:41-49; Jno. 8:24, etc.

I hold to these truths. So do my brethren. We feel free to accept what truth is found in any and all denominations. We are not "married" to any one group of people, and have no man-made creed to which we must adhere. Being only Christians, we are free to accept all the truth. Why should we give up this freedom? Why should we be more than just Christians?

2-Year Texas Drouth Likely

AUSTIN (AP) — How much longer with the drouth grip Texas?

The Weather Bureau says a study of rainfall patterns for the past 75 years indicates the chances are two to one it won't last longer than two years.

Texas is nearing the end of its second year of below average rainfall. State Agriculture Commissioner John White said Tuesday the drouth is costing farmers and ranchers $200 million to $300 million.

The current drouth is most critical through North Central, South Central and part of East Texas, the Weather Bureau says. Accumulated 1963 rainfall is 12 to 16 inches below normal. Two to 5 inches fell in Southeast Texas early this week, however.

In a comparison with past drouths, the Weather Bureau said the most frequent dry period in Texas lasts two years.

"The real killer was the seven-year drouth from 1950 through 1956, the longest and worst in Texas history," it added.

The driest year on record statewide was 1917, when an average of only 14.30 inches fell. This was less than half the 75-year average. During this period, Corpus Christi received only 5.38 inches. Other extremely dry years were 1954 and 1956.

Prospects for November aren't encouraging, according to an extended forecast from Weather Bureau headquarters in Washington.

South, Central and East Texas may expect below normal precipitation for November and near normal amounts are anticipated for West and Northwest Texas.

Statistically speaking, the Weather Bureau said, chances are two to one against the current drouth lasting longer than two years, three to one against it going more than three years, and about nine to one for longer than five years.

State's Skies Clear Again

By The Associated Press

Skies cleared throughout Texas again Wednesday, helping a non-stop drouth maintain a dogged grip on most sections of the state.

A trace of a cool front edged timidly from the northwest corner of Oklahoma into the Texas Panhandle, but the Weather Bureau predicted it would have little effect.

About the only areas not troubled by lack of moisture for the moment were some parts of Southeast Texas, where up to 5 inches of rain at Kountze poured down Tuesday. The rainfall tapered down to around an inch in neighboring parts of South Central Texas.

Record heat followed hard on the heels of nearly 3 inches of rain in the Beaumont-Port Arthur vicinity. Beaumont's high of 86 Tuesday exceeded the 32-year-old record for the date by three degrees. Austin's 88 set another record.

Readings elsewhere across the state ranged from 94 at Laredo — the top mark in the nation — down to 72 at Amarillo and Alpine.

New five-day forecasts issued Wednesday promised slightly cooler weather in most sections by the end of the week, with temperatures averaging 2 to 6 degrees below normal in Northwest Texas, 2 to 4 below elsewhere in the western half of the state and around normal in other areas.

Weather Bureau observers foresaw a possibility of moderate to locally heavy rains by Friday or Saturday in South Texas but no more than .10 to .50 inch over the rest of the state.

Forty-nine worthless check misdemeanor cases were filed in county court during October and four felony cases filed in district court.

The office collected $5,181.90 and offenders paid $644.60 directly to the merchants to bring the total repayment to $6,026.73.

Total collections in November of this year were $2,568.17. For October, 1962, the collection total was $2,981.70.

The 2 1/2 month total collections achieved by the department now stands at $70,883.71. To this must be added another $15,934.17 — money paid directly to merchants by the writers of bad checks but which the merchants credit the check department with bringing about.

The department has filed 456 worthless check cases in the county court and 94 felony cases in district court in its 2 1/2 months of operation.

Matamoros Tops

MEXICO CITY (AP)— Matamoros, across the border from Brownsville, Tex., has replaced Veracruz as Mexico's No. 1 port. Figures released Tuesday show 1,402,875 tons of goods passed through Matamoros in the first six months of this year, compared to 465,000 tons for Veracruz.

George Thorburn, Big Spring accountant, has been employed by the Howard County Commissioners Court to conduct the annual audit of the books of all county and township offices.

Thorburn has indicated he will begin work Dec. 3 and that he will have four men on the job.

The annual audit of the county books is assigned to certified auditors on a "pass around" basis by the county commissioners. Last year, the audit was made by Clyde Hollingsworth.

Racial Collision Course Charted For Aristocratic Alabama Town

SELMA, Ala. (AP)—A racial collision course is laid out for this aristocratic old town where integration inroads would deal a severe blow to the white man's cherished way of life in the Alabama grassroots.

"The white man's not going to give in and the Negro is determined to get his way—a collision course," said Father Maurice F. Ouellet, a Roman Catholic priest whose parish is Negro. He has been active in the Negro drive.

Situated in the heart of the black belt, named for its rich soil, activities in Selma are far more significant to Alabama's rural white population than are the ones in Birmingham, Mobile or Huntsville where token integration has come.

Selma is the seat of Dallas County, where the cotton fields and pastures are watered by the Alabama River and where the white people are outnumbered by Negroes. The ratio is nearly 6-4.

In the surrounding counties, the Negro majority is larger.

REGISTRATION

Negroes are pushing voter registration in the wake of Selma's first street demonstrations. Pickets at downtown stores were arrested and jailed.

The white populace, despite its minority, controls the government and the economy—and has not the slightest intention of accepting any desegregation.

"Selma does not intend to change its customs or way of life," was the blunt, brief comment of Mayor Chris Heinz.

The voter drive helped precipitate Selma's slow boiling crisis but it is only part of the picture.

In a long list of requests presented months ago to the City Council, the Dallas County Voters League called for a non-segregation policy in all public buildings, efforts toward better jobs for Negroes—including their employment as policemen and firemen—and formation of a biracial committee.

IGNORED

This was summarily ignored. The Negro unrest over the small number of Negro voters has been building up for years; there have been several court moves and federal steps aimed at getting more Negroes on the rolls.

Of the 56,667 county residents, only about 300 Negroes are registered. White voters number about 9,600.

"It's a tough place," said Worth Long, 27, a college student from Little Rock, Ark., and staff coordinator for the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, which likes to take on the tough places.

SNCC held its first mass voter registration meeting while Sheriff James G. Clark and more than 100 possemen ringed the church. Clark, whose policy is to arrest all demonstrators, organized his civilian posse several years ago after racial troubles in Montgomery, 50 miles northeast.

every white person, said the Kennedy administration started Selma's racial troubles.

NOT POSSIBLE

"Any form of social or educational integration is not possible within the context of our society," he said.

"What will happen?" he was asked.

"I'm like the majority of Selma's white persons who have grown up and lived with this problem," Hare said. "We don't have the ultimate solution."

Unemployment and low wages greatly influence the Negro unrest here as elsewhere. Farm mechanization and diversification have made the situation worse.

When Negro workers at a rest home demanded a salary increase and later walked out, every one was replaced by a white worker.

Druggist Harmon Carter, whose store was picketed by Negroes, said the demonstrations would not help the Negro's cause.

And The Wall Came Tumbling Down

A vacant house being torn down by the R.I. Building Co., slipped off its foundation at Providence, R.I., and crashed into the three-family house next door. Only three of the ten occupants of the three-family house were in at the time. No one was reported hurt. (AP WIREPHOTO)

NOT GUESS

Long, a Negro, said he could not guess at what chances of success his movement had.

"It depends on the federal government," he said. "We have dramatized the situation."

The Negroes do not have any big weapons here. Their buying power is significant but Selma is a wealthy town and can absorb considerable dollar loss. Efforts at a Negro boycott have not hurt business substantially.

The economy still is agricultural with industrial and commercial overtones. Craig Air Force Base, a pilot training facility, adds a large share to the economy.

"I see no possibility of Negroes making their boycott effective," said Circuit Judge James A. Hare. The judge, who was brought up on a plantation where there were 60 Negroes to

Absentee Voting Total Reaches 55

Fifty-five absentee votes have been cast in the Nov. 9 special election, Pauline Petty, county clerk, said today. Absentee voting closed at 5 p.m. Tuesday. The election is to approve or disapprove the adoption of four amendments to the Texas Constitution. Mrs. Petty said that all election supplies for the Nov. 9 voting are ready and that judges of the voting precincts may pick up boxes as soon as they like.

One of the most important proposed amendments on the ballot would abolish payment of poll tax as a qualification for voting in Texas elections. Meantime, poll tax sales in the office of Zerah LeFevre, county tax assessor, are extremely slow. She said that approximately 50 to 55 citizens have paid a poll tax in spite of the possible abolishment of the requirement on Nov. 9. She had been advocating that all taxpayers wait until after Nov. 9. If the poll tax is abolished, a registration system for qualifying voters will be set in operation. Fee for this will be 25 cents.

Key Leaders Guide 4-H

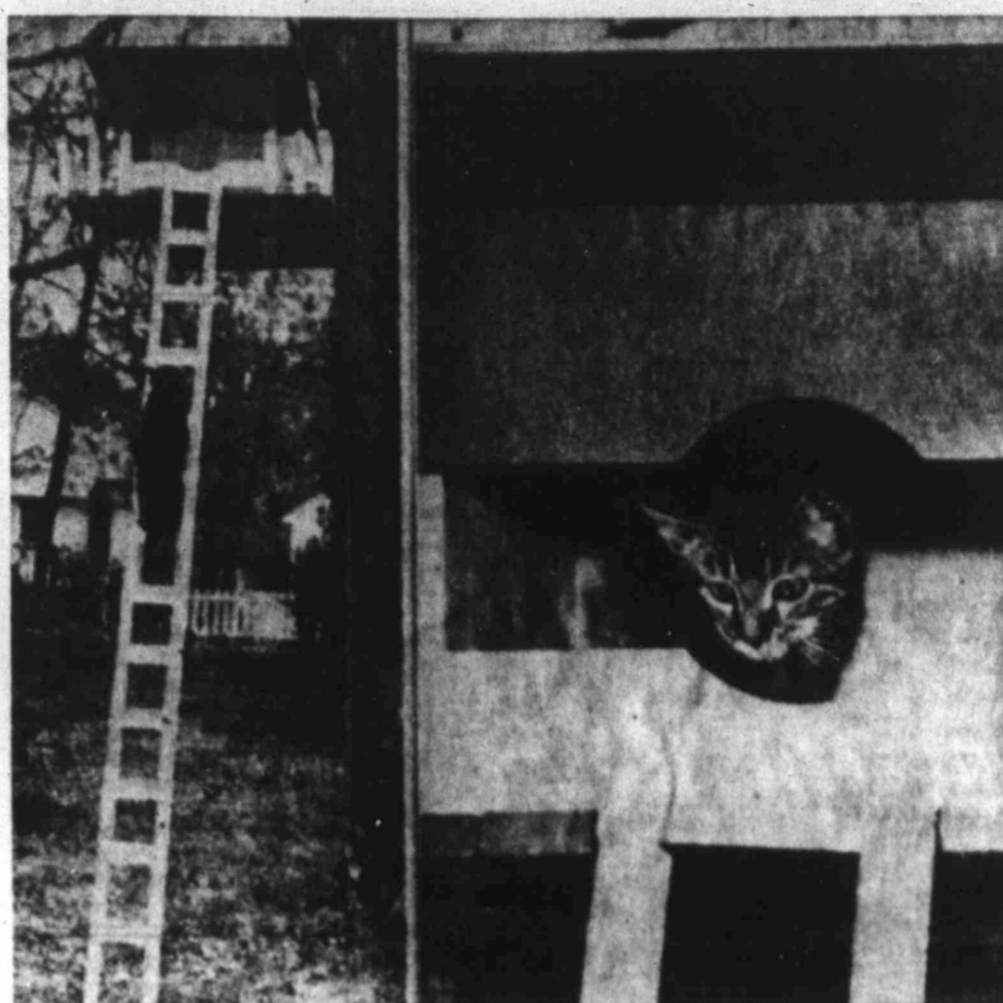

The key individual in the home economics program of the 4-H Clubs is the adult subject-matter leader, Mrs. Catherine Crawford, County Home Demonstration agent, insists.

The leader, she points out, plays an important role in giving the girls more guidance than would otherwise be possible. The subject-matter leader works with the 4-H Club members individually and in groups on a specific project.

Mrs. Crawford said that the projects now offered by these adult leaders in this county include favorite foods, clothing and money management.

The leaders are Mrs. John Couch, Gay Hill; Mrs. Frances Zant, Gay Hill; Mrs. R. C. Thomas, Big Spring; Mrs. M. D. Soechting, Big Spring; Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Big Spring; Mrs. Carl Fambro, Lomax; Mrs. J. L. McIlvain, Lomax; Mrs. Robert Brown, Knott; Mrs. Jim Zike, Big Spring; Mrs. Ray Swann, Coahoma; Mrs. Donald Webb, Coahoma; Mrs. Ralph White, Coahoma; Mrs. D. S. Phillips, Coahoma; Mrs. L. G. Adkins, Lomax; Mrs. Gilbert Grantham, Center Point; Mrs. H. N. Reed, Coahoma; Mrs. G. W. Murphy, Gay Hill; Mrs. L. C. Underwood, Gay Hill; Mrs. W. A. Jackson, Knott; and Mrs. James Shaw, Big Spring.

Leaders receive training which is planned by the county home demonstration agent. Training during the past year has included: getting the most out of your sewing machine, given by the Singer educational director, Mrs. Delores Bilderback, Denver, Colo.; training in foods and clothing, given by extension agents from other counties; training in foods, by Marie Tribble, extension foods and nutrition specialist; group and individual guidance in the subject matter areas and 4-H records by Mrs. Crawford.

DEAR ABBY

Time For A Family Talk

DEAR ABBY: My husband works the second shift, which means he leaves home at 2:30 in the afternoon and comes home after midnight. By the time he wakes up in the morning the children have gone to school. He doesn't even know he has a family. I have all the decisions to make and all the discipline problems I am fed up with the full responsibility. Don't tell me he is earning a living for "his family." He has plenty of seniority where he works and could get on the first shift by asking for it. What do you think I should do?

FED UP TO HERE

DEAR FED UP: I think you should tell your husband what you have told me. Unless you have already told him so many times he thinks you're kidding.

DEAR ABBY: Just read "ALL MAN'S" LETTER. He said, "Women drivers, bah!" I am a woman driver who has been driving since the age of 16. I am now over 60 and have yet to be involved in any kind of accident, stopped for speeding, or given a ticket for overparking or wrong parking. Show me a man with the same record!

I find that most men are "weaver boys." They weave in and out of traffic to get ahead, and when you reach the next stop light, they are sitting there—waiting.

ALL WOMAN

DEAR ABBY: I have a relative (through marriage) who is far from poor. In fact she is a lot better off financially than I am. But this woman gives used things for gifts. And she doesn't even bother to have them gift-wrapped. She just puts them in a paper sack. Last week she gave me such a "birthday gift." I gave it to a needy person. She could have bought me three new powder puffs for 25 cents and I'd have appreciated it more. What is wrong with people like that?

DEAR HURT: It's hard to say. If she's off her rocker, you shouldn't be critical. But if she's simply ignorant, continue to accept the gifts without comment and pass them along where they will bring some joy.

CONFIDENTIAL TO M. W.: A man should never be ashamed to admit that he has been in the wrong. It is another way of saying that he is wiser today than he was yesterday.

Mrs. Connally Ends Visits Of Hospitals

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Mrs. John Connally ended a two-day flying trip of the state's four tuberculosis hospitals in San Antonio Tuesday.

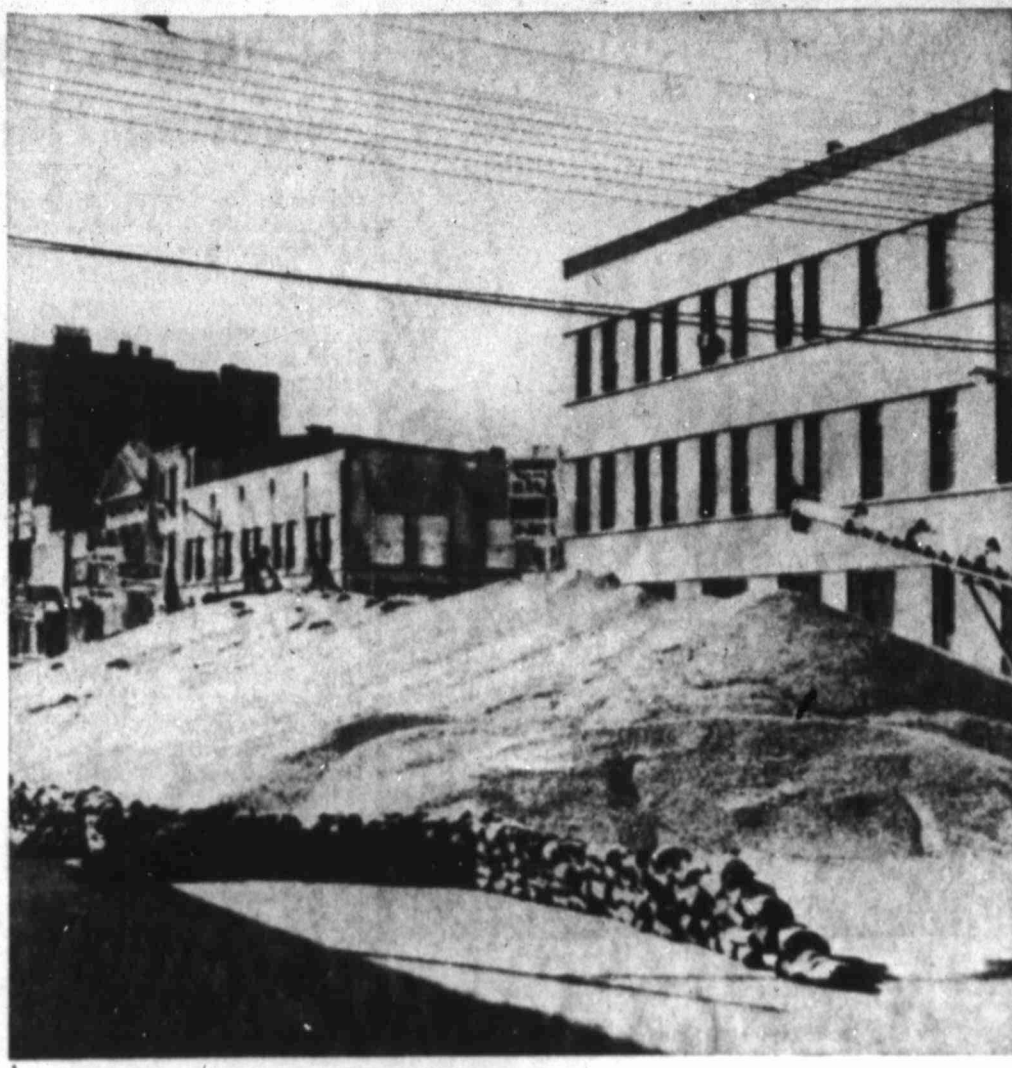

"My head is full of new information and my heart is filled with compassion for all of you who are fighting to overcome tuberculosis," the wife of the Texas governor told patients at the San Antonio hospital.

Earlier Mrs. Connally visited the Harlingen hospital. On Monday she toured facilities of tuberculosis hospitals at San Angelo and Tyler.

"My husband asked me to tell you all of his sincere interest in the complete eradication of tuberculosis in Texas," Mrs. Connally told patients and staff members of the San Antonio hospital.

She presented Henry Guerra of San Antonio, a member of a statewide committee on eradication of tuberculosis, the governor's scroll proclaiming Christmas Seal Days in Texas from Nov. 15 until Dec. 24.

Christmas Seal sales provide most of the operating expenses for county tuberculosis associations throughout the state.

Abundance Of Corn

An almost perfect harvest, along with a shortage of railroad cars and barges has created a glut of grain at some terminals. The Hannibal, Mo., Grain Terminal received permission from Mayor Harry Musgrave to temporarily store grain in the street on lower Broadway. (AP Wirephoto)

Teachers Demonstrate Spanish Course To Club

Conversational Spanish, as being taught in third and fourth grades of Big Spring Public Schools, was demonstrated to Rotarians Tuesday. Mrs. Juliette McClendon and Mrs. Rose Harris brought nine of the 1,466 students to the club and demonstrated the method of teaching.

Collegian Hits The Books At 86

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Adrian C. Kett, a student at Calvin College here, does his homework in philosophy in his room at a home for senior citizens. He is 86 years old.

Kett, a widower and former college employe, attends classes three times a week. He received an A-minus on his first class paper, but says he isn't concerned about getting a degree. Furthering his special interests in life is reward enough, Kett says.

Sebron Williams, assistant superintendent - curriculum, introduced the program and told of its purpose. He said that while the program is now in an experimental stage in the third and fourth grades in all schools, the hope was held for extending it through the next two grades in the future.

Mrs. McClendon said the first step was to learn to speak basic Spanish (American Spanish instead of Castilian) and to understand the culture of Spanish speaking nations.

"On the first day we introduced ourselves to the students, explained the purpose of the course, and told them something of Spanish countries," she said. "From that day on, no English has been spoken. The children told me a few minutes ago that they had forgotten we could speak English."

Support Payments Are 20 Cents Short

The 118th District Court, in a decree of divorce granted a Big Spring woman June 23, ordered the ex-husband to pay $60 a month to the support of the couple's two minor children.

Under the plan followed in child support cases, the former husband in a divorce matter pays the stipulated sum to the District court clerk. The rule is that the clerk will accept only cash, a cashier's check or a money order.

The man in the case of June 23 now resides in Terrell. He sends his monthly payments to the clerk from Terrell.

His most recent payment arrived 20 cents short. The cashier's check enclosed was for $59.80.

The letter with the check explained: "Deducted from the $60 will be 20 cents, for charges on the check at the bank are 15 cents and stamp 5 cents. So out of each check from here on this amount will be deducted to cover this charge at the bank and for mailing. Thank you."

Judge Ralph Caton, told of the man's ultimatum, was not impressed. The support ordered for the two children, his month pointed out, was $60 a month. It was not subject to any discounts and there was a tacit suggestion that the court would not be antagonistic toward the former wife, if she saw fit to formally complain.

Meantime, for the record, each payment the Terrell citizen makes short 20 cents will be charged against him on the clerk's records. Ultimately, he may find he is in contempt of court.

Cheap Way To Feed Cattle

COLLEGE STATION — Most of Texas is dry and much of the state is now faced with the problem of poor grazing, says Uel D. Thompson, animal husbandman with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

When this condition exists and the total feed intake of cattle must be supplied, probably the cheapest method is to supply energy by feeding sorghum grain, and limit the animal's intake with salt, explains Thompson. Although roughage is expensive and low in energy, some must be provided for proper ruminant digestion, he adds.

Alternatives for producers who have no pasture, includes: sell replacements if necessary, wean and sell calves as early as possible, cull low producers and confine animals to traps or drylots and feed them.

A mixture of 34 per cent ground sorghum grain, 33 per cent of a 41 per cent protein supplement, 31 per cent salt, and two per cent trace mineralized salt, can be self-fed. Cattle will consume about five pounds of this mixture daily depending on the quality and quantity of the roughage they receive. However, such a mixture is deficient in Vitamin A, states Thompson. Mature cattle need about 40,000 International Units of Vitamin A per head daily and the synthetic form may be fed, placed in the drinking water or injected into the animal, advises Thompson.

The amounts of roughage fed daily should be limited due to their high cost and low energy value, and low quality roughages should be ground.

Festival Draws Good Response

STANTON — Stanton's annual Fall festival, including a chili supper and an implement and automobile show, found a good response. Mrs. Maurine Varnadore, Chamber of Commerce manager, said Tuesday. The festival was held downtown in the area around the First National Bank, from 4 to 7 p.m. Monday.

"More than 300 were served chili," she said. "The money will be used for Christmas activities. The festival was also the kick-off for the annual Chamber of Commerce membership drive. We now have around 150 members of the Martin County Chamber and hope for more. Cards were not turned in by noon today so we are hoping for a good increase."

Stanton new car dealers and implement houses displayed automobiles and farm implements at the festival.

Easy-To-Take Vaccines Eliminating Polio Horror

AUSTIN (AP)—Summertime in Texas once had in it an element of horror—polio.

But today, due to the mass immunizations with easy-to-take vaccines, the disease is vanishing from the state.

As recently as 1956, more than 1,300 Texans were struck by the infantile paralysis.

This year only six cases have been reported to the state Health Department.

The worst polio year in Texas was in 1952, when 3,984 persons caught the disease. Tens of thousands of Texans wear leg braces and other encumbrances because they once had polio.

TWO FACTORS

How has this dread crippler been brought to heel so fast and decisively?

Dr. Van Tipton, director of the Communicable Diseases Division of the Health Department, says two factors are primarily responsible:

The ease of taking Sabin oral vaccine, and efforts of doctors to get people to participate in the mass immunization.

Tipton estimates that over 4.5 million Texans have taken the oral vaccine.

"But we can't afford to be complacent. We could easily lose all the gains we've made if the immunization is not continued," he warned.

NOT AFFECTED

Polio virus itself is not affected by the vaccines. It is still with us and can strike any person not immune.

Tipton said mass immunization seeks to develop what is known as "herd immunity" in the population.

The theory is that the more people who are not carriers of the disease, the fewer non-immunized people will be exposed to polio. Thus, a person who takes the vaccine protects himself and others too.

Doctors don't yet know how many boosters a person must take after the initial dose of vaccine to be completely immune to polio for their lifetimes.

TWO YEARS

"The program has only been in effect for two years," Tipton commented. "We simply don't know what the booster picture is yet."

His advice is that people consult their physicians in regard to boosters until Health Department studies can be finished and made public.

Most Sabin oral vaccine in Texas was given under the auspices of county medical societies. Doctors supervised.

Asked if polio is no longer a health problem in Texas, Tipton replied:

"The acid test will be whether we have an epidemic. It's never

Where Polio Struck

Dr. Van C. Tipton, Director of the Communicable Diseases Division, Texas State Department of Health, pin-points the lower Rio Grande Valley—where four of Texas' six polio cases have occurred. Tipton credited the widespread acceptance of oral vaccine as the chief reason infantile paralysis has been virtually eliminated in Texas. But he said the immunization program must be continued if the state is to hold down polio. (AP Wirephoto) wise to try to predict the effect of a vaccine."

1952 WORSE

The national polio results are encouraging. In 1962, only 910 cases were reported in the United States. The worst year was 1952, when 58,000 persons were struck.

Salk vaccine, an injection, was introduced in 1955. Its use cut the 1955 national polio figure of 28,985 down to 15,140 by 1956. In Texas, the same years show 1,931 and 1,359 cases.

Tipton said Texas has a bad reputation for polio.

"A lot of people used to think we had a lot more polio here than in other states. But that's not necessarily the case. Polio is a seasonal disease.

Once A Fear, But Has Now Disappeared

Polio in Howard County, once a fear in every household, is virtually a thing of the past. Statistics compiled by the local city-county health office show that there hasn't been a case of polio in Howard County since 1961. One case last year of a Sterling City resident was handled through the local office, however.

The Howard County figures show that in 1954, the year before the Salk vaccine was introduced, 17 county residents were struck down by polio.

Since 1955, when Jonas Salk's discovery came into wide usage, the number of cases has slowly dwindled. Then in 1962 the popular Sabin oral vaccine, with its mass dosages in the easy-to-take sugar cubes, kicked the once-dreaded disease further downstairs.

Three Howard residents suffered polio attacks in 1961. In '62 there were no cases, and none have occurred thus far in 1963.

It gets hot earlier in the year in Texas than in, say, New York. Our first polio cases got publicity.

"Actually, the Texas cases merely served as a warning to the rest of the nation."

Tomb Thefts Discovered

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Thefts from tombs dating back almost 200 years to Spanish colonial days have been discovered by investigators for the National Institute of History and Anthropology.

These were the tombs of a former Spanish viceroy, Matias de Galvez Madrid Garcia y Cabrera, and his son. The viceroy died in 1784 and his son a year later.

The Spaniards were buried beneath the altar of a Roman Catholic church. Violations of the tombs were discovered during repair work.

Among the stolen items were believed to be personal jewels and papers normally buried then with members of the Spanish royalty, the investigators said.

Prairie View Students Vow Hempstead March

PRAIRIE VIEW (AP)—A student leader at Prairie View A&M College says the students will march on nearby Hempstead within three weeks.

Robert Franklin said Tuesday the Negro students also will continue peaceful demonstrations until Hempstead's businesses are desegregated.

Franklin, co-chairman of Students for Equality, Liberty and Freedom, said the students intend to act since no headway had been made in efforts to get college officials to help desegregate Hempstead, 5 miles from the campus.

Students have sought to integrate public facilities at Hempstead since early September.

Posters may be 14x20 or no larger than 14x28 inches and must be submitted no later than March 15, 1964, to the Texas Historical Committee, Box 2276, Capitol Station, Austin. Reference material for the poster also must be included. The same deadline is in effect for essay contestants, who may submit entries from 500 to 2,500 words in length. These should be primarily concerned with the entrant's county history during the Civil War, or on some special phase of the war in Texas. Original memoirs of Texas Confederate soldiers may be edited and submitted.

Winners will receive a year's scholarship in any Texas state supported college, or $100 in U.S. savings bonds in lieu. There also will be an expense paid trip to Austin for the winning entrant as well as his or her teacher, so they may attend an awards ceremony during the special week starting April 20, 1964.

Record Hoped For Cranes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wildlife officials are hoping for a record flock of whooping cranes at the wintering grounds off the Texas coast.

Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall reported here that 31 of the rare birds, including seven youngsters, have arrived at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge.

The seven young are the largest number of small cranes counted since the winter of 1958-59. It is hoped that at least four more of the big white birds may still be en route to Texas.

"The whooping crane has become a national emblem of a determined conservation effort to preserve an almost vanished species," Udall said. "The good news on the flock's growth is heartening evidence that thoughtful men can help undo the ravages of thoughtlessness."

A record 38 wild whoopers arrived in the fall of 1961 and spent the winter at Aransas. Six failed to return last fall and there were no young.

Seven whooping cranes are in captivity—six at the New Orleans zoo and one at the San Antonio zoo.

A Devotional For The Day

"If you had faith the size of a grain of mustard seed, you could say to this hill, 'Move from here to there,' and remove it would; nothing would be impossible for you." (Matthew 17:20. MOF-PATT.)

PRAYER: O God, I come to Thee with the faith that I have. It is not so strong as it ought to be, but I consecrate it to Thee. Do with me whatever Thou wilt; for Jesus' sake. Amen.
(From The 'Upper Room')

Be Stubborn About It

It became apparent after the Russians had halted English convoys on the heels of holding up one of our fortnight ago that this was not a local snafu. It was rather a part of a policy. This has become increasingly clear with the holding of another convoy destined for West Berlin.

None can be sure just what is the Russian purpose in this harassment, but some seasoned observers feel that it is a probing device to test the degree of reaction it provokes. Some feel that it is a means of trying to create a tension in a sensitive spot in order to obtain some advantage in another area. Still others feel it is something to be used as a propaganda piece at home to assure the Russian people that despite a softer line to the West the Comintern is still in the saddle.

Whatever the purpose, we should make sure that we stand on our right of uninhibited normal movement of personnel and supplies into West Berlin. We have made it clear before that we intend to stay there, and if it takes reiteration, then we should take what measures are necessary to get this message over again.

It may be that Ivan is reacting to our big airlift to West Germany. If so, perhaps we might do well to leave that division there a bit longer and even strengthen it.

Issues Can Change Fortunes

A newly published biography of an influential senator of about a century ago recalls a fact that is of particular interest as we move toward a presidential election year. It is that three men have missed the presidency by just one vote.

In 1880, Aaron Burr tied Thomas Jefferson in the electoral college and Jefferson was later chosen by the House of Representatives. When Rutherford B. Hayes and Samuel J. Tilden were neck and neck in 1876, the final settlement gave Tilden 184 electoral votes but Hayes got 185 and the presidency. The third man to come so near and yet fail was Sen. Benjamin F. Wade of Ohio, president pro tem of the Senate in 1868. His life has now been written by Prof. H. L. Trefousse of Brooklyn College.

When Vice President Andrew Johnson became president upon the assassination of Lincoln, there was trouble because his views on reconstruction of the defeated South ran counter to those of Congress. That body passed bill after bill over the President's veto, and finally decided to remove him by impeachment. The removal plan was beaten in the Senate by just one vote.

One reason for Johnson's victory was distrust of Wade, who would have been his successor. He was a violent radical who favored severe treatment for the South. On the other hand, his stand for labor antagonized the prevailing conservative sentiment. Also it was thought that as a senator who would become president if Johnson were removed, he should not have voted on the question.

All these arguments combined cost Wade the presidency. And as he had just been defeated for re-election to the Senate, his career was ended. It all comprises an interesting lesson in how issues and attitudes of the day can vitally affect the political fortunes of able men.

They Want Us To Be Polite

BUEENOS AIRES, Argentina—Turning it around, would an Argentine journalist on a visit to the United States find himself entertained at a Sunday luncheon on a golf course terrace, at the Jockey Club for supper, at an ancient and elegant fencing club, Circolo Armas for luncheon, in a private dining room in the splendid hotel, the Alvear-Palace, and at a private Argentine home?

TO MAKE an extremely telling point, at the risk of playing the snob by name-dropper, I don't think Americans will ever understand the Argentines with whom we do diplomatic and commercial business without pinpointing this prime characteristic of theirs—their culture, which is expressed by an inborn cordiality and the finest manners of the Old Europe tradition.

WOULD AN Argentine free lance journalist, neither rich nor famous, be given a personal interview with our equivalent of Argentina's Foreign Minister, Dr. Zavala Ortiz, who was less than two weeks in office and trying to organize his department on a couple of hours' sleep a night? Would a visiting newsman to our shores sit at a small stag luncheon, given for him, with some opposite number of Dr. Alberto Galnza Paz, owner of the renowned newspaper La Prensa? Or with national business leaders such as Ricardo Honorio Pueyrredon, Alberto Benegas Lynch and Carlos Mihaonovich—all of them familiar names in the top circles of New York and Washington?

AGAIN, THOUGH usually bored and always suspicious at signs of name-dropping in other people, I do it here as an extra-hazardous duty to show the admirable desire of Argentine leaders to make the United States acquainted with Argentine situations and attitudes. It is not, as cynics may say, an effort to fleece Uncle Sam for more AID money. The fierce Castilian pride, which is a component of the national character, forbids the kind of panhandling that goes on in other countries.

The Argentine leaders and spokesmen whom I have met and interviewed did none of these things. On the contrary, they made it clear that they would far rather do business than accept charity. They despise their own Communists, and despise many of their own Left-Wingers, and they loathe the uncouth Castro. But their hatred of communism and their distaste for some aspects of the U.S. "presence" in Latin America are almost equal.

ON THAT MATTER of distaste, I pressed hard to get a frank explanation. I got it, with utter politeness, from a young Argentine law student and automobile race driver, who said: "Your country is a leader in science, and its military power protests the whole Free World. No, we would not like the American firms to go home because they are why we have automobiles, tractors, Coca-Cola and a high living standard. But..."

"You would like to receive these things, but with a difference?"

"I THINK it is politeness that some Americans do not have," he said. "I have visited Europe because I feel welcome there. I would not go to the United States, although I speak English, because of what you say—politeness."

There are so many well-mannered and popular Americans here, such as Robert Martz of the International Telephone and Telegraph interests and George Smith of Pan American Airways, that it was hard at first to credit this sort of criticism. But our ambassador, Robert McClintock, is a brusque professional who will never win any popularity prizes here. Everywhere he is unfavorably compared with the former Ambassador Roy Rubottom, although Argentines like McClintock's politics and respect his toughness. An Argentine businessman whom I asked, "Why the devil don't you like us?" put his feet on the table and thumbed his nose by way of illustration.

Billy Graham

Please give me your opinion on eternal security. I believe this is a dangerous doctrine. M.A. The words "eternal security" are not to be found in the Scriptures, but there are many promises in the Word of God that give us confidence to believe that the Lord will keep us safe to the end.

Many people object to such a teaching because they believe it is conducive to a rather free kind of living that has no regard for moral or ethics. That is as false as anything could be. There is no security from sin. If anyone thinks that because he has a faith in Christ he can go on sinning, it is the clearest possible evidence his faith is purely a theoretical one. He has never committed his life to Christ.

The Apostle Paul anticipated this problem and in Romans 6:1-3 he gave the answer to it in advance. Many people would say that if we were saved by the grace of God alone and not by our own works, we could continue in sin. His answer was, "God forbid. How shall we be that are dead to sin, live any longer therein?" This is an utter impossibility.

John gave the same answer in I John 3:8, "He that doeth sin is of the devil, for the devil sinneth from the beginning. To this end was the Son of God manifested, that He might destroy the works of the devil." This is not a teaching that lends itself to any kind of licentious living or sinful practice. Rather it is to give assurance that Christ is able to keep those who commit their lives to His care.

No Reason Visible For Convoy Blockades

WASHINGTON (AP)—Need of one mind-reading. The Russians make no sense on the surface—in what they have done. In the past, in mid-October and in the two days, they blockaded American military convoys going to and from Berlin in East Germany.

The reason they gave: They wanted to count the number of troops in the convoy. The Americans refused to get out and be counted. That's too thin an excuse for the tension caused.

Both times the Russians abandoned the blockade without explanation. Their newspaper, Pravda, said "much ado about nothing." That was in October. Now they have done it again.

YOU COULD think up reasons and none might be true. The Soviet actions make even less sense—on the surface—when considered against what was happening elsewhere.

Oct. 9—President Kennedy announced this country would sell Russia $250 million worth of wheat. The Russians had to consider this a friendly move, even though it caused controversy for Kennedy.

He made one provision: The wheat had to be hauled in American ships—which charge more than foreign ships—but foreign ships could be used "as reparation." As it turned out, the Soviets balked at this extra, high cost.

OCT. 10—The Soviets began the blockade but several other things happened that day. For one, it was the day the limited nuclear test treaty went into effect, a treaty which certainly was a possible step toward better relations.

And that same day Premier Khrushchev messaged optimism to Kennedy about future American-Soviet relations. And that same day Kennedy conferred at the White House with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

THE TWO MEN agreed to search for new agreements to end East-West tensions. Gromyko said he didn't know anything about the blockade. But just a year before, at the White House with Kennedy when Khrushchev was shipping missiles into Cuba, Gromyko expressed ignorance about that, too.

OCT. 11 The United States and Russia announced they were exchanging persons—two on each side—who had been charged with spying, although this swap had been under discussion for weeks and perhaps months.

BUT THAT day the Russians continued to blockade the American convoys.

OCT. 12—The Russians suddenly lifted the blockade. The Kennedy administration attributed it to a misunderstanding.

OCT. 31—At his news conference Kennedy said Khrushchev had steadily been pulling his troops out of Cuba. Since the presence of those troops in Cuba had kept Americans angry, their withdrawal could be considered friendly.

THEN IT started again.

Nov. 4—The Russians blockaded another convoy in East Germany. The State Department called this action very serious and "completely unacceptable to us." There were calls in Congress to smash the blockade.

Then late Tuesday once again the Russians lifted the blockade. The fact that the Russians had twice invoked a blockade disproved any suggestion that the first blockade was misunderstanding or an accident.

Everyone Can Be Confused

NEW YORK (AP)—How can you tell if you're normal? There is great interest in mental health today in a world so confused and confusing that everyone at times feels so mixed-up he must be off his rocker.

The chaos is compounded by the amateur prescribers, who feel that having read 10 pages of Sigmund Freud entitles them to turn every cocktail party into a session of group therapy.

THIS IS the kind of person who used to have a cure for the common cold that never worked. Now he feels entitled to dip his clumsy hands into your mind and play marbles with your phobias and fears, or separate your id from your idiosyncrasies.

Perhaps such a person has you convinced you are hopelessly neurotic.

But are you really? We have prepared a small guide for the mentally perplexed that may be of help to you. Ask yourself the following questions.

DO YOU, while making a deposit at a bank, often wonder secretly how hard it would be to rob the place? Are you convinced that most repairmen are engaged in a conspiracy to rob you blind? Does the butcher habitually give your neighbor a better piece of meat than he does you? Are you sometimes terrified by whether you should eat your dessert with a fork or a spoon? Do you often feel that every other shopper in the supermarket is trying to push in front of you in the checkout line? During an argument with your wife, if male logic fails to impress her, do you find yourself resorting to shouting? While shaving, do you talk to yourself in the mirror more often than you did 10 years ago? If you answered yes to all these, quit worrying about your mental health. Your mind is as sound as a nut. You are just neurotic enough to be properly adjusted in a world in which a guy who has no suspicions also lacks the common sense to know what's really going on.

Only by being unreasonable now and then can you stay normal in an abnormal time.

To Your Good Health
Glaucoma A Dangerous Eye Disease

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Sir: Recently my eye doctor told me I was on the verge of having glaucoma. He explained a little about it but not thoroughly. Will you please elaborate?—MRS. W. V. A.

Glaucoma means that the pressure inside the eyeball is increasing. If this is allowed to continue, the eyeball gradually hardens, and in time this destroys the optic nerve. By then you are blind and nothing can be done.

Glaucoma is one of the most dangerous of all eye ailments because it causes such a large percentage of blindness.

Fortunately we now have a method of discovering glaucoma in its early stages, rather than after it has done damage beyond repair. With a small instrument called a tonometer, an ophthalmologist (eye specialist) measures the tension of the surface of the eye. (No, it does not hurt. A medication is used so you are not bothered by the touch of the instrument.) If the tension is normal, fine.

But if it is beginning to be too high, treatment is required. Some general physicians also use the tonometer. When a reading is too high, the patient is sent to a specialist for more intricate diagnostic tests.

Treatment for glaucoma varies, but the purpose is the same in all cases: To reduce the pressure inside the eyeball. Medication may be used. In addition, if the patient has high blood pressure, treatment aimed at lowering it is in order. The patient may be required to lose some weight, to be careful of diet, to get more rest and relaxation. Tranquilizers may also be prescribed.

In some cases, surgery may be necessary. A tiny vent is opened at the back of the eye to relieve the pressure inside.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 64 and am feeling tops. My doctor discovered from X-rays that I have diverticulosis and to watch it, but he didn't say what to watch. I understand most older people have this condition. Some say it starts cancer. Do you have a booklet on the subject?—E. M.

Yes, "Don't Let Diverticulosis Throw You." To receive a copy, write me in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 20 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Diverticulosis doesn't require special "watching" in most cases; knowing it exists saves time and trouble if it ever bleeds or becomes painful. No, it does not "start cancer."

Dear Dr. Molner: I am suffering from a gassy stomach and my doctor tells me it is from swallowing air when I eat and even when I talk. How can I avoid this?—R. N.

Eat slowly. Don't gulp liquids. When talking, notice whether you have the unconscious habit of pausing between words and taking a "gulp" of air through the mouth. The best way to avoid this is to always breathe through the nose, with the mouth closed. Tense people may also swallow frequently—and this contributes some air.

Around The Rim

Right On The Dot

Time tables are wonderful things, for even the universe moves with split second precision. I suppose we would have chaos if we didn't have a time for almost everything, and if matters didn't move within schedule.

But there is such a thing as carrying it a bit too far. For instance, the other morning I was watching this fellow on TV as he presented his library of vocal recordings of famous personalities.

SOME OF THEM went back to the 1890's soon after Thomas Edison (whose voice was among them) had invented the Gramophone or phonograph, whatever it was called in those days. A bugler, who had sounded the charge at Balaklava on Oct. 24, 1854 for the lamented Light Brigade, once again used the same bugle to sound the call for the phonograph 50 years later.

AND SO IT WENT, building up to a recording that this gentleman had acquired as a youngster when Teddy Roosevelt was running for president. Earlier he had contact with the colonel and had become his young friend. Recalling a promise Col. Teddy had made to help him out someday, he went to ask if Mr. Roosevelt could address his boys club. Regrettably, the great man said he had conflicting engagements, whereupon the lad said he had anticipated this and had brought along his phonograph recorder. This, he said, signaling for the record to be played, was the result I strained to hear.

SUDDENLY, there was this tele-op with a voice vigorously urging us not to miss Richard Boone. I sat stunned while the voice cried on, and then while a commercial followed with its breathless message. Presently, we were returned to the scene to find the moderator was thanking his guest for having brought this extraordinary recording.

You'll never be able to prove it by me.

This reminds me of the days when radio broadcasting was young in our city. The Herald had sponsored a district Golden Gloves eliminations, and one of our best bets was Ellis Read, who had shown a lot of class in capturing the district title in his weight. He went to Fort Worth and waded successfully through the preliminaries and had his chance at the state title.

THERE WAS such terrific interest in this that the station decided to carry a ringside account of Ellis' bout. Well, sir, just about everyone in town was glued to his set to see how our gladiator was doing, and as it turned out, he got off to a slow start. It didn't look so good, but as time went on, Ellis seemed to be gaining strength, and when it came down the home stretch of the third and deciding round, he was rallying like nobody's business. There was less than a minute to go, and we hardly breathed, much less noticed that the minute hand had moved to 9 p.m. on the dot.

AND RIGHT ON the dot, too, the announcer broke in, gave the time, went through some announcements, and put on one of the latest recordings. Before anyone could find out what happened (we lost the decision), it was signoff time and Rome already had burned. But by golly the schedule had been kept. —JOE PICKLE

The Losing Battle Against Smut

The great City of New York has once more girded itself to fight a problem universal to the United States—the sale of pornography, a five-dollar word for smut, to school children.

It doesn't take a prophet to know that the city, no matter how earnest its efforts, is licked from the start. This fight against smut has been going on for years, fought on the same old battlegrounds, and the forces of right have never won yet.

FOR ONCE I am in sympathy with City Hall. It is waging a war that is not only one-sided but fixed from the start. For what the city is fighting is this nation's real untouchables. The untouchables in modern society are the writers, publishers and salesmen of smut. They have both the money and the opinion-makers on their side.

No matter how cheap, scabrous, pathological and clinical a book or publication is today, its opponents flee into hiding at the mere mention of one word. That word, which banishes all opposition, is "censorship." It—censorship—is equated today with cholera, halitosis and most damaging of all in this age, with unsophistication.

IT IS "censorship" to keep smut out of the hands of children, off newsstands and out of bookstores, and on the rock of phony censorship a ny drives against pornography are doomed to failure.

The plea that smut is preferable to any hint of censorship is a phony cry. Within a few hours after it was announced at City Hall that the municipality would begin yet another drive against smut aimed at its children, this phony cry and its banner had been raised.

BOTH WERE raised by Ralph Ginsburg, the editor and publisher of an erotic magazine, Eros, that has already been suspended. Ginsburg pulled out all the old, tried-and-true stops in behalf of smut when he cried that an "obscenity panic" is plaguing our city and country.

"The number of obscenity cases in the courts of the country has increased alarmingly," he continued. "We're really dealing with something akin to witchery, because obscenity is neither measurable nor definable nor worthy of the law."

SO THERE you have it—"obscenity" is neither measurable nor definable nor worthy of the law." Long live obscenity! Opposition to it is a witch hunt. Before long, I am certain, we shall hear that obscenity is good for children and better for adolescents.

Coupled with this argument of the publisher is the old tried and invincible plea of the seller: "I've got thousands of books and magazines in my store. Am I supposed to have read everyone of them?"

BETWEEN THESE two specious contentions, smut continues unabated. The untouchables who write, print and sell smut prosper as the bay tree. Many prosper because it is the critical fashion today to hail as "art" any book that abundantly contains clinical and/or pathological details of sex. And if it is perverted sex, and described fully, the critical acclaim not only hails it as art but as the product of genius.

To communicate one's own sick pathology, especially if one is a pervert, is now regarded as the highest art form and the quickest entry into the genius sweepstakes.

THE MONEY and the lobby for smut are powerful. The city hasn't got a chance. Recent court rulings all over the country and from the lowest to the highest courts have decreed that anything goes. The untouchables are just that. (Copyright, 1963, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Who Murders Santa Claus?

If, as the proverb had it, all ancient roads lead to Rome, in modern American politics all roads lead to a tax cut. Nobody likes the tax bill in toto, but then nobody likes everything about Christmas. But who kills Santa Claus?

Opponents of the bill passed by the House of Representatives divide into two schools:

NO CUT without a cut in spending: This is the dollar-for-dollar attitude of economizers, headed by Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D. Va.), of the Senate Finance Committee. If we can't balance the budget in times of prosperity, when, if ever, will we? Reductions in outlay must match reductions in estimated tax receipts. Some House Republicans tried to attach a spending rider to the bill.

NO CUT without reform: In this group belong the disappointed and dejected—those who had expected President Kennedy and his New Frontiersmen to clean up the tax mess—overhaul the tax structure by eliminating special exemptions and loopholes. They wanted simplification, instead, the new bill offers more of the same, only more so.

LET'S SPUR expansion: For far too long, economic growth in the United States has been inadequate. That's why we have 56 out of every thousand men and women in the labor force unemployed. As income rises, taxes siphon off an ever-increasing proportion of the increase. This re-wards re-employment.

Taxes are too high anyway: When people in the upper reaches of income have to pay taxes of 91 per cent and corporate rates run to 52 per cent, too many creative minds work on ways of saving taxes instead of increasing production, distribution, and profits.

AND SO, even hard-bitten believers in reform argue themselves into giving up reform for the "greater good" of getting tax rates down. Believers in reduced expenditures—a balanced budget—don't want to risk getting nothing when something is within their grasp. If taxes are lowered, a fight to lower expenses can be made later.

So opposition tends to fade away—from labor, from business, from economists. The bill has candy for everyone.

A bill that has something for everyone is hard to beat. Principles give way to practicality. You can even cotton to the argument that, because prices haven't risen for five years, the tax cut isn't inflationary, even if it does increase the deficit. You tell yourself that we'll get back more than we give away.

MY OWN FEELING is that the administration has thrown away a brilliant opportunity. It is handing over to taxpayers eleven billion dollars in reductions. With that sum it could have "purchased" major reform. It had money power with which to influence politicians. But it played easy politics instead of hard economics.

And so, we're going to get more tax conglomeration. If "all mankind love a lover," all taxpayers love a cut.

Homemakers Need Their Community

EDITOR'S NOTE—The recent report of the President's Commission on the Status of Women made sweeping recommendations for action. What this 22-month study means to the individual woman is explored in a four-part series on American women as homemakers, breadwinners, taxpayers and citizens. This first article deals with what the community can do to strengthen family life.

By JOY MILLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Mary Camp is a young widow who works as a medical secretary to support her 2-year-old son. She pays out nearly half of her salary to the woman who cares for the child during the day. Jean Smith's three youngsters are all in school now and she'd like a part-time job to help out with family expenses. But Jean had never finished high school — along with 11 1/2 million other adult women. What kind of a job can she get?

ESTHER PETERSON
... Commission's executive vice chairman

Florence Wright doesn't need to work outside the home, but she is willing to do a good bit of the housework. Occasionally, running the household is just too much for her, she fears the family might break up as a result. These three women vary in age, economic status and perhaps outlook on life. Their problems are different but they have one thing in common: They're all homemakers—in a changing society.

THEY LIVE LONGER
Assistant Secretary of Labor Esther Peterson, executive vice chairman of the President's Commission on the Status of Women, says:

"We're concerned about the changes in our society—not fully realized—that have affected the lives of women. Women are still being judged by the old patterns, but..."

"The life span is different. The life expectancy of a baby girl in 1900 was 48 years; today it is 73 years. Today's young woman has an additional quarter century of life to plan for."

FAMILIES HAVE CHANGE
It used to be that two or more generations — grandmothers, mothers, maiden aunts, as well as young women with children—shared family tasks. Now, even though fathers are doing more domestic chores, in most families the mother is responsible for keeping the home going.

There are 44 million women keeping house today, and they "can do a far more effective job as mothers and homemakers," the report says, "when communities provide appropriate resources for health, education, safety, recreation, child care and counseling."

CHILD CARE VITAL
With all the Mary Camps in mind the commission urges communities to set up adequate child care services. Costs should be met by fees scaled to parents' ability to pay, contributions from volunteer agencies and public appropriations.

It also supports increased federal tax deductions for child care expenses of working mothers.

For the Florence Wrights, the commission advocates the establishment of professionally supervised homemaker services.

EDUCATION FOR LIFE
And Jean Smith, with her limited educational background? It recommends that means of acquiring or continuing education be made available to every adult, beginning at whatever point he or she broke off traditional formal schooling.

Vocational training should be included at all levels. And educational counseling is especially important for mothers who want to go to work.

H. N. Godby Speaks At D&D Club

H. N. Godby, account representative with Ethyl Corp., presented a film entitled "Fire Power" to the Desk and Derrick Club Tuesday evening. The dinner meeting was held in the Patio Room of Holiday Inn.

The film outlined the fact that oxygen, fuel and heat must combine in order to have fire. It was stressed that gasoline is a motor fuel and not for the purpose of cleaning. Various methods of fighting gasoline fires were demonstrated, including carbon dioxide foam, air agitation, screening and fine water spray to cut off the fuel supply and smother the fire. Gasoline fires are difficult to control since gasoline will burn at 45 degrees below zero Fahrenheit. During a business meeting, Mrs. Stanley Ballou, president, announced that election of officers will be held Dec. 5th at the Cosden Club. The club voted to give a donation to the Christmas Cheer Fund in lieu of exchanging presents. Mrs. Paul Van Sheedy won the attendance prize.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Heated Cup Repels 'Goo'; Stays Clean

Ladies: When you are measuring something for a cake or anything else for that matter...

Heat your aluminum measuring cup or that old ice cream dipper, hold it under your hot water faucet for a few minutes until it gets real hot, then—measure your shortening.

You won't have any sticky "goo" in that measuring cup!

The heat (which the aluminum absorbs) will melt the shortening slightly when it touches the cup and it falls out onto whatever you are mixing.

This also works when dipping or measuring molasses.

Dear Heloise: I remove stains and mildew spots from my rubber toilet tray with diluted bleach, then soak it in hot water and then rinse it off well.

While it is still soaking in the hot water I put an all-purpose dye in the water and dunk the still-hot tray in the colored water. Any color you choose may be used.

There must be enough colored water to completely cover it. In about a minute you have a nicely tinted tray to match your bathroom decor! — Mrs. A. Borobicha

Ladies: This will not remove the rust.

J. F. Howells Jr. Have A Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Smith, 712 Dallas, announce the birth of their first granddaughter. Lesley Laurin Howell was born Oct. 21 at Wilford Hall Hospital, San Antonio, to Dr. and Mrs. John Frank Howell Jr., San Antonio. The baby weighed 7 pounds and 3/4 ounces. Her paternal grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Howell of San Antonio.

Mrs. Smith has just returned from San Antonio where she was a guest in the Howells' home.

Clubs To Serve Lunch At Sale

Mrs. Alton Underwood announced that the group's county-wide Christmas party will be held at 2 p.m., Dec. 18, in the First Presbyterian Church hall. Achievement Day events were reviewed by Mrs. Delaine Crawford, agent, to the 23 members present who represented 11 area clubs.

The devotion was given by Mrs. Waymon Etchison and refreshments served by the Lomax Club in December. The Luther Club will be hostesses.

Program Planned For Garden Clubs

Don Johnson of Lubbock will be the speaker for a special program Nov. 14, sponsored by the Abilene Garden Club. He will talk on "Christmas Splendor." All presidents of District 8 Garden Clubs are asked to extend an invitation to their members.

FIVE BIG HOPPERS PROVIDE INGREDIENTS
Clyde McMahon Concrete Co. trucks ready to go in minutes

McMahon Concrete Co. Is Hometown Industry

Texas Products Week finds Clyde McMahon Concrete Co. and Clyde McMahon Supply Co., putting in five and one-half full days each week in providing their products to Big Spring residents, business firms and contractors.

The firms, located at 605 N. Benton (Snyder Highway), are open from 7 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. (except Saturday, from 7 a.m. to noon), with 25 employees ready to handle requests for ready-mix concrete or other supplies.

BIG FLEET
McMahon started his ready-mix concrete business 11 years ago. His fleet of mixing trucks has steadily grown, from the original one, to 12 big "huskies."

Clyde McMahon and his son, Clyde Jr., own most of the stock in the two firms and see after their operation. They furnish concrete for any job, large or small, and their trucks are ready to go in minutes in the city and area.

HOPPERS

Five big mixing hoppers on the northwest corner of their property are filled with the proper amounts of sand, gravel and cement for any job. The big mixing trucks back under the spouts, get their fill, including the right amount of water, and are on their way in a few minutes. The five hoppers permit quick mixtures of different specifications to fit the jobs.

The firm also handles White-man finishing machines and tools to complete the work on the poured concrete. Rotary blades finish off the mixture to the proper surface.

OTHER TOOLS

Other tools and equipment handled by Clyde McMahon Supply Co. are Eveready brick saws and blades, expansion joint material, wire mesh for re-enforcement, re-enforcement steel, Richmond snapties; Remington stud drivers; for driving studs or nails into concrete; wheel barrows for brick, tile, or concrete; vibrators for settling and eliminating air pockets; and all kinds of small tools for concrete or masonry work.

Whether the job is large or small, Clyde McMahon Concrete Co. can handle it. A telephone call to AM 4-6348 will get your order processed, or furnish information on what you need to have done.

Big Spring Firm Fits Hearing Aids

Most people used to feel embarrassed about wearing hearing aids. That is no longer true. Modern aids are as inconspicuous as a white button on a white shirt, and are much more efficient than old-fashioned "head phone" aids worn a few years ago.

HOME-OWNED

The Hearing Aid Center, home owned and operated, is located on the first floor of the Permian Building in Room 104. Mildred Smith, operator, can determine whether a person needs a hearing aid or not, and can provide the proper type.

She is also ready to give a demonstration of small, new hearing aids. Some are fitted on a person's eye glasses. Some fit behind or in the ear, and some are conventional. The individual may choose the best kind suited to his need.

NOT CONSPICUOUS

Hearing aids are considered much less conspicuous today than embarrassment caused by not being able to hear what is said, and repeated questions to get information straight.

The marvelous thing about modern aids is that they may be tuned to pick up sound frequencies not usually audible to a person's ears. The listener may be unable to receive these frequencies and, at the same time, pick up others normally.

The old aids, worn over the

Cars Not Immune To Cold Weather

Chuck's Automotive suggests that your car needs winterizing before the cold weather begins. He and his force specialize in automatic transmissions, and can give quick service on regular tune-ups, brake adjustment and general automobile repair.

Call Chuck's Automotive Repair at AM 4-8957, or drive by 900 W. 5th, for service or a schedule for the work your car needs.

Heavy Clothing Time Has Arrived

Those Western clothes you have been wearing during the summer may seem a little scanty as cooler weather moves into Big Spring. Heavier shirts, trousers, jackets or coats may feel better.

Ward's Boot, Saddle and Western Wear, 212 Runnels, has a full line for dad, mom and the youngsters. They feature Acme, Tony Lama, Justin, and shop made boots in all sizes, from infants to adults.

Repair Service
Montgomery Ward service men are ready to handle repair service on all appliances at the shop or in the home. They are trained in electrical service, radio, television, sewing machine, washing machine and dryer, refrigerator and other appliance repair. Three men are on duty.

Blue Lustre, the first choice for cleaning home carpets for many years, now makes available a new, efficient electric carpet shampooer for easier and quicker home carpet cleaning. The portable machine can be carried in a car and is designed so that twin brushes adjust automatically to the carpet nap, providing excellent cleaning action. It is easy to maneuver on the floor covering and the method of disposing blue Lustre avoids overwetting of carpets or rugs.

STAND UP AND SHAMPOO

ers, this Blue Lustre machine is a gem in getting carpets and rugs cleaned with the least time and trouble. With the purchase of Blue Lustre shampoo, the shampooer can be rented for $1 per day. It leaves the nap open and fluffy. Colors are restored and soiled traffic lanes are removed.

Housewives are finding this new method of cleaning carpets saves time and money. A half gallon of Blue Lustre, available at Big Spring Hardware, will clean three 9 x 12 rugs.

White's is getting bigger and bigger as the months go by. A big selection of quality furniture is on the floor at all times. A suite, or particular piece of furniture, is available with some liberal trade-ins allowed.

White's Has Big Selection

If furniture is not on the floor your particular choice may be brought from centrally-located warehouses in a few hours.

The demand for major appliances, such as refrigerators, deep freezers, ranges, washers and dryers, has led to heavy stocking.

Additional purchases may be made from such sections as garden tools, lawn needs (and winter time demands a lot of spade and dirt work), guns, auto accessories, tires and batteries.

A customer parking lot is available on the south side of the store located at 202-204 Scurry.

Commission Denies Kentwood Change

The city planning and zoning commission Tuesday turned down a request by Al Milch, local contractor, for a zone change from IF-2 (single family) to NS (neighborhood service) for the northeast corner at Twenty-Fifth and Birdwell Lane.

This action of the commission followed on the heels of remarks given by several homeowners in the Kentwood Addition, who spoke against the change. They stood in opposition to several other persons who favored the change.

Milch was represented at the hearing by R. H. Weaver, local attorney, who introduced a petition signed by people who have no objection to the change.

Tom McAdams, who owns property north of the affected property, said he favored the change. Weaver also introduced Joe Jordan, a representative of Shamrock Oil Company, who said his firm plans to construct a service station on the affected property. He showed the commission pictures of similar stations, noting that Shamrock would work out grades on Twenty-Fifth Street with the city. He said construction could begin 30 days after the firm purchases the site.

Ted Groebel, who said he has been in the oil business for 32 years, favored the change. Mrs. Glenda Pharr, 2508 Carol, said it would be convenient to have a service station on the property. Several other persons spoke in favor of the change including Jack Boyd, a builder in the Kentwood Addition, and Frank Morris, Kentwood resident, who said he favored "anything that would contribute to the growth of the city."

Opposed to the zone change were Mrs. H. B. Perry, 2408 Robb, who said people in the Kentwood Addition do not use the existing service station located north of the affected property. "I have lived there four years and think it would hurt property values," she said.

Mrs. James B. Frazier, who lives near the site said she was opposed to the change because, "we do not want this filling station by our homes." She pointed out the corner would be more dangerous. Another point brought out by Mrs. Frazier is that the affected property lies outside the Kentwood Addition, and the station primarily would be used by home owners in the addition.

Band Boosters Begin Annual Cake Sale

Members of Big Spring's three bands will hit the street running today as they launch their annual Christmas sale of fruit cakes. One of the major fund-raising events of the club, the effort will continue until nearly Christmas, Walter Stroup, president of the Band Boosters Club said.

The sale, along with other events sponsored by the club, was reported on during a meeting held Tuesday. According to chairman of the events, the club's part in the Fun-O-Rama netted $245 and Friday's Chili Supper added $300 net to the treasury.

Fruit cakes will have the same price tag this year as last. A two-pound cake is $3.75; a three-pounder is $5.25 and a five-pound cake is $8.75. They can be purchased from any member of the senior high, Goliad or Runnels band. Cakes can also be purchased at a pick-up station at Gibbs and Weeks.

Heading the drive this year will be Mrs. D. W. Pierce, general chairman.

"We still have a long way to go to meet our budget obligations and I can't stress enough the need to sell cakes," Stroup said.

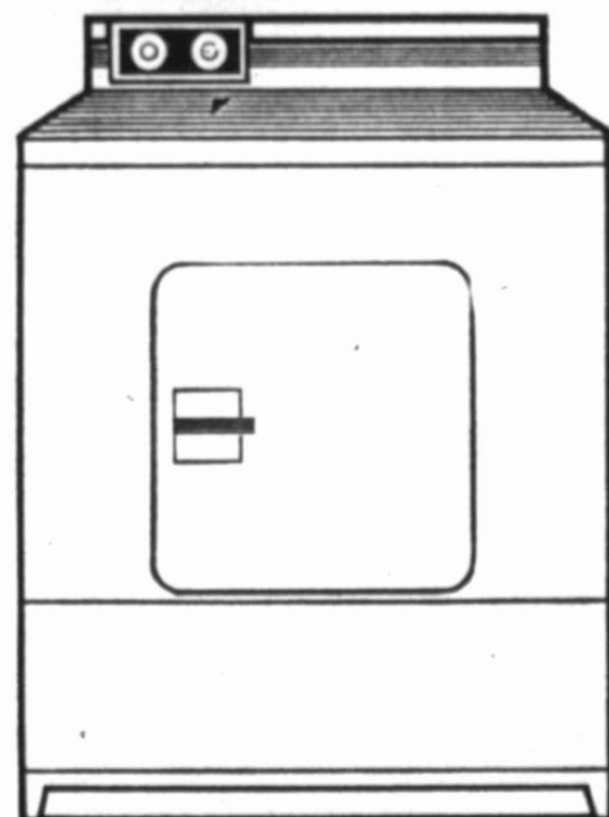

The returns from fund-raising events are shy about $3,500 of paying for the annual trip, awards and medals and band jackets for senior high and Goliad Junior High members.

About 30 persons were on hand for the Tuesday meeting.

TEXAS PRODUCTS WEEK

Three Firms Have Part In Area Construction

Two corporations, the Clyde McMahon Concrete Co., and Clyde McMahon Supply Co., located on SH 350, provide employment for 25 persons in Big Spring. The firms have had a big hand in building construction, highways, streets, patios, sidewalks, driveways, and many other projects, for 11 years.

Twelve ready-mix trucks are ready to move when needed, and other vehicles handle sand, gravel and supplies. All vehicles are equipped with two-way radios.

Supplies for concrete work are: Sand, gravel, cement, reinforcing steel, driveway gravel and ready-mixed concrete.

The supply company also handles finishing machines and tools, brick saws and blades; expansion joint material, wire mesh, snap ties, stud drivers, wheelbarrows, vibrators, all kinds of tools for concrete and masonry work, concrete tile in several sizes and patterns, all kinds of pre-cast ornamental tables, benches, parking curbs, flower bed borders, and other items.

Road Builder
W. D. Caldwell, Inc., located on the Snyder Highway, has specialized in heavy construction and road building for over 20 years.

The firm employs about 30 local personnel. The firm has been a contractor for several street paving assessment programs here in addition to constructing parking lots for many local companies.

A current project is a $162,000 runway replacement job at Webb AFB.

Facilities include a hot mix plant at the Snyder Highway location and a crusher plant on the old San Angelo Highway. The firm produces all of its own road building materials at the hot mix plant.

Equipment includes 15 to 40 ton heavy cranes, drag lines, road graders, bulldozers, dump and winch trucks, steel wheel and pneumatic rollers, front end loaders, air compressors, a concrete saw and a caliche crusher.

Owner is W. D. Caldwell. Tom Kirkpatrick is manager.

Concrete Jobs

One of the most-used big and little job products around Big Spring for the past several months has been ready-mix concrete.

Big Spring Ready-Mix, on US 87 South, has been filling the needs on concrete jobs for 16 months. Raymond Weaver, owner, came here from Colorado City to open the new business.

Products made or handled by Big Spring Ready-Mix are: ready-mix concrete, cement, reinforcing steel, masonry sand, expansion joints, crushed caliche, re-mix sand and gravel, and washed driveway gravel.

The firm employs six persons, including office help, and uses six trucks to deliver products to an area from Lake Thomas to Sterling City, and from Coahoma to Stanton.

A new office, warehouse, and shop building has just been completed west of US 87 south and the moving-in job is about completed, Weaver said this week. The company crushes its own caliche, to city and state specifications, from rock purchased locally.

Custom Boots

Ward's Boot, Saddle and Western Wear, 212 Runnels, makes custom boots for adults, and has been in the business for many years. One employee does the work in the shop from materials selected by the purchaser.

The price of custom-made boots starts at $65 and the total price depends upon the material, size, height, and other work required, to provide the boots wanted.

In addition to the custom made boots and the well known brands handled by the store, Ward's is also known for expert shoe repair.

The demand for saddles and other leather goods today is not as great as it was several years ago, and Ward's stocks all kinds of items made from leather, but does not make them.

Livestock Survey Begins Nov. 15

Annual census of livestock on Howard County farms will be taken starting Nov. 15. Giving the survey an assist will be the six men who carry mail on rural and star routes out of the Big Spring post office.

Starting Nov. 15, E. C. Boatler, postmaster, said the rural and star route carriers will leave survey cards in rural boxes on the routes they serve.

The farmers are asked to fill in the required information relative to livestock and poultry on their place and put the cards back in the box. They will be returned to the post office where they will be sent to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Boatler explained that carriers will distribute the cards on a random basis. In other words, he said, not every box will be given a card. The random distribution, the postmaster stressed, makes it imperative that all farmers and ranchers who do receive cards make certain they are returned.

Facts and figures secured in these annual fall surveys, Boatler explained, form the basis for Texas and national pig crop reports and for inventories on poultry and livestock on farms as of the first of the year. Stockmen use this information in making business decisions.

Results of the survey are also widely released to newspapers, farm magazines, radio and television.

The rural route and star route drivers who are helping in the survey are: Ervin Daniel, Rt. 1; Roland Evans, Gail Rt.; Clyde Payne, Knott Rt.; J. E. Kennedy, Garden City, Rt.; and Pat Duncan, Sterling City Rt.

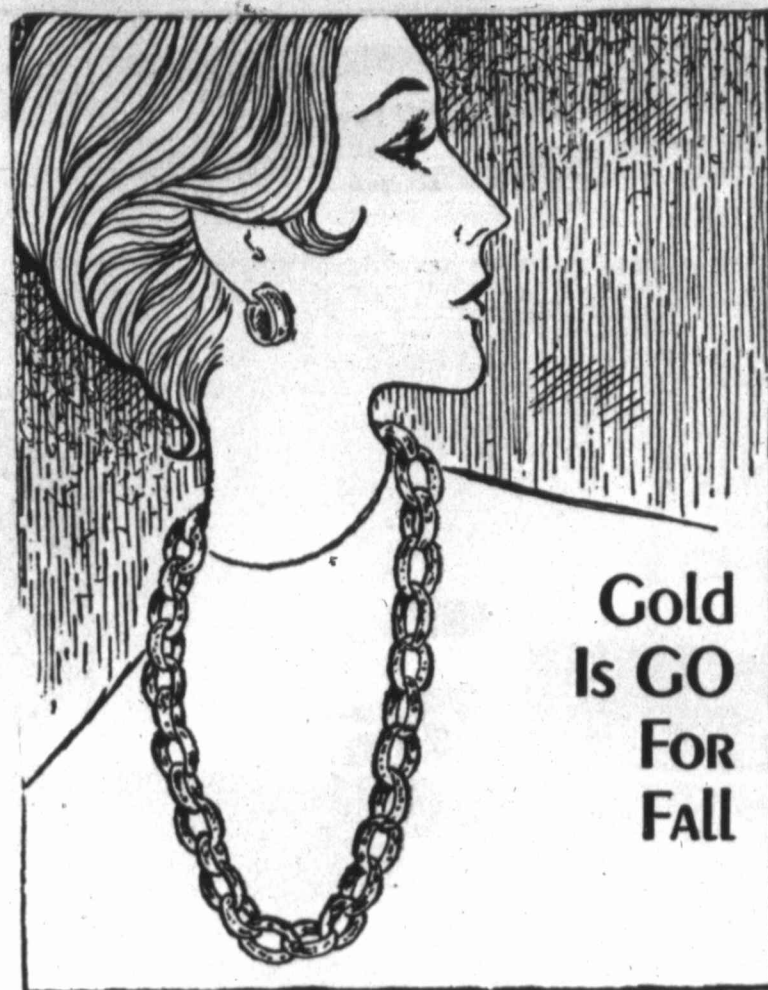

Knott 4-H Club Meets Monday

KNOTT — The Knott 4-H Club members saw a demonstration on electricity and heard a talk on the electrical program offered in 4-H work at Monday night's meeting. The talk and demonstration were given by Conrad Miller, a Texas Electric Service Co. representative. He was introduced by Mrs. Catherine Crawford, County Home Demonstration Agent, who also led the group in games.

President Lawrence Long presided; Cheryl Jones led the pledge and motto, and minutes were read by Robbie Brown. Seventeen members, and six parents, in addition to Mrs. Crawford and Miller, were present.

Interest In Ships

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Seven countries have expressed interest in having ships built at Mexican facilities, Minister of the Navy Manuelo Zermeno Araico reported Tuesday. He said they are Puerto Rico, Chile, Pakistan, Guatemala, Brazil, Colombia and El Salvador.

Gold Is GO FOR FALL

You're fashion-bound with CORO CHAINS

Like the lovely slave Scherezade whose golden chains only increased her beauty, you'll turn many a head this fall, wearing necklaces of twisted gold-tone ropes. Intricately wrought of plain and textured metal loops, the effect of these fashionable fetters is powerful but their weight is slight. Wear CORO chains on sweaters, beneath open jackets, with all the tailored tags you own. They're dazzling, dramatic, definitely enslaving! Bracelets and earrings to match. 1.00, 2.00, 3.00 and 5.00 plus tax.

DAILY GUIDE — Not a day to fool around following the lines of least resistance. Some people are going to be saying more than they should, or saying the wrong thing. We have a few world statesmen who are Scorpios and they may be sounding off. Those born in Scorpio who have their plans well thought out, and the courage and skill to back them up, could be highly creative and come up with some unusual ideas.

Taureans had better listen carefully to what others are saying, especially to mate, partner, associates, or any proposed alliances; don't trust blindly. Aquarians could bring out creative ideas in career matters, but must be ready for severe tests in the next few days. Leos may settle or discuss domestic issues.

The atmosphere in general can be one of confusion, foggy thinking, foolish statements, and all unrealistic. The constructive use is to follow artistic interests, listen to good music, visit art galleries, enjoy romantic entertainment.

Some high tensions expected tomorrow; something in a y break Sagittarians, Virgos, Geminians and Pisceans need to be on guard.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY SCORPIO! A peak for you right now, so use your talents wisely, express your imagination, but be realistic. In the latter half of next year you can expect wonderful cooperation from others, cordial relationships, and opportunities, especially in June and December. Keep things in control at home base since there are still difficulties to overcome in domestic matters and ties; watch ties in February. New and unusual friends continue to be stimulating, but old ties will support you better next summer, so you might have to make some choices in order to help your ambitions. Watch finances this week; you can be tempted to spend freely all month.

Stewardess Dies

BELLVILLE (AP) — Miss Beverly Brooks, 23, a Pan-American Airlines stewardess from Bellville, died Tuesday night of injuries suffered in an auto accident several hours earlier. Her small car overturned at a curve 6 miles east of here. Bellview is 50 miles west of Houston.

Ann Murray

Ann Murray does the jumper with great taste... in fine Italian Dupioni silk with button holes and self belt. Worn over a lovely white rayon and acetate chardon crepe blouse with jeweled buttoned French cuffs and cowl collar that ties flamboyantly in the back. Sizes 8-18.
