MADAME NHU, DAUGHTER HEAD FOR NEW HOME Hand-in-hand, pair push through crowd of newsmen in Los Angeles

Madame Nhu Says Officers Still Loyal

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu was reported today to believe that she still retains the loyalty of certain officers in the military junta which overthrew her ruling family's regime.

Mrs. Nhu's husband, Ngo Dinh Nhu, the country's political strongman, and his brother, President Ngo Dinh Diem, died in the coup last week.

A reliable source said Mrs. Nhu planned to return to South Viet Nam before the first general election is held under the new ruling group.

South Viet Nam's former First Lady believes she can regain political power in her country with the aid of the dissident officers, the source said.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Nhu was reported to have received a telephone call since the coup from former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Nixon explored, among other things, the failure of American officials in South Viet Nam to grant asylum to another member of the deposed family, President Diem's brother, Ngo Dinh Can.

Can sought protection in the American consulate at Hue, capital of central Viet Nam. But U.S. officials refused and flew him to Saigon, 400 miles south, in an American military plane. Buddhist opponents of the ousted Diem regime charged that Can ruled the central region as a tyrant.

No additional details of the reported conversation between Nixon and Mrs. Nhu were disclosed.

Mrs. Nhu moved into spacious quarters Wednesday in the lavish hillside home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Chase in Los Angeles' wealthy residential district of Bel-Air. With her was her eldest child, Le Thuy, 18, and her secretary.

There they hope to be reunited with Mrs. Nhu's three younger children who were flown from Viet Nam to Rome. They are being cared for by Mrs. Nhu's brother-in-law, Archbishop Pierre Martin Ngo Dinh Thuc who is attending the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council.

Dragon Lady Reported To Have Ample Finances

WASHINGTON (AP)—A qualified source close to Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu's family today described the former First Lady of South Viet Nam as a clever businesswoman with ample resources in other countries, including a villa on the French Riviera.

Reports from Los Angeles said Mrs. Nhu is deeply concerned about her financial outlook. This was greeted with some skepticism by the source, who asked not to be identified.

Mrs. Nhu recently purchased a villa on the French Riviera from her brother-in-law, Archbishop Pierre Martin Ngo Dinh Thuc. He is attending the Ecumenical Congress in Rome and also has been looking after Mrs. Nhu's three younger children since their arrival from Saigon.

A source close to Mrs. Nhu said Tuesday in Los Angeles that when she left Saigon five weeks ago she had $5,000 spending money for herself, her daughter and her secretary. He said she had no money banked abroad and that the only member of the family who had control over large sums of money was the archbishop and that that was "church money."

In London, Ngo Dinh Luyen, Viet Nam's former ambassador to Britain, said Wednesday night he would not be surprised if Mrs. Nhu, who is his sister-in-law, had run out of money in the United States. He said all her wealth probably is held in Viet Nam.

In Washington, state department officials said they were not informed about Mrs. Nhu's finances.

U.S. foreign aid officials have kept a close watch on South Viet Nam's foreign exchange transactions.

Any substantial changes representing a large transfer of capital funds by the Diem regime to foreign banks would have raised questions and brought an investigation, aid officials said.

Fresh Victory Over Reds Noted

SAIGON (AP)—South Vietnamese troops today reported their first victory against Communist forces since the overthrow of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

The official news agency Viet Nam Press reported 38 guerrillas were killed in a battle Wednesday east of the provincial capital of Phu Yen.

Three government soldiers were wounded and a quantity of weapons was seized from the Reds, the announcement said. It added that the operation was continuing.

Meanwhile, the military junta reported that 33 persons were killed and 233 injured in the weekend coup. More than half the casualties were civilians.

The death toll included Diem, his younger brother Ngo Dinh Nhu and several top loyalist officers.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Margaret Chase Smith is seriously considering entering some presidential primaries to offer Republicans a "third choice" in the selection of their 1964 nominee.

Hoffa Issues Pact Demand For Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Teamsters Union will serve the nation's trucking industry with contract demands for about $250 million a year in increased pay and fringe benefits for more than 400,000 workers.

Teamsters President James R. Hoffa said the proposed three-year "master contract" to be mailed out Friday to representatives of 16,000 trucking firms is the biggest single labor agreement ever proposed.

In their first bid for a nationwide contract covering approximately 85 per cent of the U.S. trucking industry, the Teamsters are asking:

- 1. Pay increases of 15 cents an hour per man per year for three years.
- 2. $1 more a week for pensions and $1 more a week for health and welfare.
- 3. Other fringe benefits including three days off with pay in case of death in a union member's immediate family, better vacation benefits, pay for jury service, two more paid holidays and 10 cents an hour for dental care.

CARE CENTER

Hoffa had previously announced a demand that management build and maintain a $1-million dental and optical care center for union members.

Hoffa, who announced the demands Wednesday after hashing out details with a 75-man committee representing all Teamsters locals, called the proposals "a tremendous step forward" for his union.

NO DANGER

Hoffa, at a news conference, repeated earlier statements that there is no danger of a nationwide truck strike.

He also said he does not expect the trucking industry to absorb the Teamsters' demands without raising rates.

He said he hopes to start negotiations early in December in Chicago, personally heading a 5-man policy committee and a five-man negotiating committee in talks with industry representatives.

Barry Sees No Change In Timetable

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater is not expected to shift his timetable for decision on a bid for the White House because of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's declaration that he is a candidate.

50 FEET LONG

Red Anti-Missile Missile Displayed At Celebration

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union marked the 46th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution today by parading through Red Square a rocket which Moscow Radio and Tass indicated was an antimissile missile.

It was a two-stage rocket about 50 feet long, smaller than the ground attack rockets displayed but bigger than any of the other ground-to-air rockets hauled through the square.

"This rocket," said Moscow Radio, "has great military possibilities and can attain hits on all means of air and space attack."

Tass, the Soviet news agency reported: "At recent exercises these long-range antiaircraft rockets proved capable of hitting any up-to-date air-space attack weapons."

A U.S. Defense Department spokesman told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in August that American efforts to develop defenses against intercontinental ballistic missiles "are comparable in magnitude and success with those of the Soviets."

Dr. Harold Brown, director of defense research and engineering for the Defense Department, told the committee the critical factor was development of a system that could detect approaching missiles soon enough, discriminate between decoys and warheads, "handle large volumes of traffic and hit and kill the targets."

Campaigning For 'Vital Principles'

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller formally announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for president today and said he would enter the New Hampshire and other presidential preference primaries between now and the Republican National convention next July.

"I have reached this decision because I believe that vital principles are at stake in the next presidential election," Rockefeller said in a statement to a gathering of newsmen at the state capitol.

Rockefeller said:

CONSIDERATION

"These principles and the policies to best support them must be brought before the American people and the delegates to the Republican National Convention for their thoughtful consideration."

Rockefeller renewed his charge that the national administration of Democratic President Kennedy had failed to understand and meet "the menace of international communism," to stimulate the economy and to strengthen the unity of the free world.

Rockefeller did not refer in his brief statement to his role as the underdog in what has been the undeclared contest for the nomination.

POOR STANDING

Nor did he refer to his divorce and remarriage, which have been largely blamed for his currently poor standing in polls on the nomination.

Rockefeller proposed that Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and other potential candidates also enter the New Hampshire primary.

"It is my sincere hope that other candidates will make use of the (primary) so that all of their views will be clearly known," he said.

UNDILUTED

"The New Hampshire primary presents an excellent opportunity to do so, forthrightly and undiluted by fence-straddling or doubletalk of any kind."

NELSON ROCKEFELLER seeking presidency

Rockefeller, who did not mention Goldwater by name, has been challenging the Arizona senator to join him in a series of debates to determine what positions the Republican party should take on major issues. Goldwater has refused on grounds of party unity.

The governor arranged to leave for New Hampshire immediately after his announcement.

EXTREMISM

Rockefeller, who has sought in recent months to associate Goldwater with extremism, said he was certain Republican convention delegates would "write a platform and select a candidate consistent with the basic principles of the Republican party and the realities of the world in which we live."

Terrorists Kill Two, Burn Plant

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Terrorists killed two soldiers and burned down a Goodyear tire plant in two attacks Wednesday in Venezuela, informed sources reported today.

An army jeep was ambushed in the mountains south of Coro, in western Venezuela where pro-Castro guerrilla bands are active. Informants said two soldiers in the jeep were killed and three other soldiers were wounded in the fighting that followed. One guerrilla was believed wounded.

The strike against the Goodyear plant came at Barcelona, on the eastern coast. Four men armed with machine guns and pistols overpowered a bookkeeper and burned down the plant with gasoline, the reports said.

UF Total At 97 Per Cent

After two good days, the United Fund paused Thursday for breath—and almost didn't breathe at all.

Only $225, which represented a single big gift, was reported for the day. This inched the total to $90,984.15, or about 97 per cent of the campaign goal.

Several division heads and volunteers checked Wednesday evening with Jack Y. Smith, campaign chairman, and selected cards—principally in the big gifts division—to make contacts on these unreported cards.

Smith pleaded with division heads to press their workers for contacts and for reports. The campaign has reached a critical stage and desperately needs every bit of effort any volunteer can give it, he said.

THOUGHT DEAD TWO WEEKS AGO

11 Haggard Miners Rescued

BROISTEDT, Germany (AP) Eleven men were rescued today from a flooded iron mine two weeks after they were entombed and given up for dead.

A huge drilling rig broke through early today to the gallery 183 feet below the surface where they had taken refuge when disaster struck Oct. 24.

The shaft was quickly reinforced by steel tubing, and one by one the bearded, haggard men were brought to the surface in a bomb-shaped rescue capsule.

They were located Sunday and since then had been supplied with food through a shaft less than two inches in diameter.

Heinz Kull, 51, was the first miner to reach the surface. As he was taken from the rescue capsule, a hush fell over crowds, kept at a distance of about 30 yards from the shaft.

In the crowd were members of the men's families who had kept the long watch since the electrifying news came five days ago that these 11 men were alive. Many wept.

Millions watched this last act of the mine drama on West German television.

All the miners were placed on a stretcher and carried to a nearby mobile clinic. There teams of Red Cross physicians examined them. The survivors were offered their first coffee in two weeks and sandwiches.

After happy reunions with their families, the men were taken by ambulances to hospitals for further examination.

The men were brought up in order determined beforehand, apparently based on their age and physical condition.

The oldest miner, Fritz Baer, 53, was the second to be brought up in the rescue capsule.

One of the 11 is not a miner. Adolf Herbst, the only bachelor, is an electrician who was installing equipment in the mine when it was flooded.

When the last man was up, a siren blew, signal the end of the operation.

The breakthrough to the 11 occurred a few minutes after 6 a.m. (midnight EST).

There were 129 men working in the mine last month when a reservoir dam broke and flooded the works.

In the first 24 hours, 86 men managed to save themselves or were rescued. A week later three others were saved by drilling a shaft to an air pocket where they had crawled to escape the flood water.

Today's rescue brings the total saved to 100. The remaining 29 are given up as dead.

The operations here were similar to the rescue of miners Henry Throne and David Fellin, who were trapped for 14 days in a coal mine near Hazleton, Pa., after a cave-in last August.

Senators Delay Bracero Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate action on the Mexican farm labor bill has been delayed until it finishes work on foreign aid legislation.

Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La., said he first planned to bring up the farm labor bill Wednesday but postponed his move at the request of Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

Ellender plans to ask the Senate to accept the House version of the original Senate bill.

Military Solidly Behind New Argentine President

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—As much as any one man can be, Gen. Juan Carlos Onganía, commander of the Argentine army, is responsible for the fact that this country is ruled today by an elected civilian president.

Onganía, 48, in the first interview he ever granted, made it clear that the army is supporting President Arturo Illia.

"You must remember," he told The Associated Press, "that the president is commander-in-chief of the armed forces, and we are at his command."

No one should conclude that Dr. Illia has a blank check from the military to run a free-wheeling civilian government.

INTERVENE

Military leaders are looking over his shoulder. There is no doubt they reserve the right—and they certainly have the power—to intervene if they decide that Illia is making too many mistakes.

Yet they evidently wish him success. They talk about making democracy work.

They are keenly aware that a period of political stability would help the ailing Argentine economy.

The overhanging power of intervention became apparent in the way Onganía sought to define the role of the military in Argentine politics, from the military's own point of view.

SECURITY

In essence Onganía said the military command has a constitutional duty to defend this country's democratic constitution and national security whenever these are threatened by acts or failures of the other arms of government, including the presidency.

The Latin-American word for a military coup is "golpe." In Argentina the years of the golpe go back to 1930, when the old alternation of power between Conservatives and Radicals came to an end.

A military uprising ousted Radical President Hopedio Yrigoyen, the political ancestor of Illia, leader of today's People's Radical party.

BALANCE

Years of turmoil and frequent military dictatorships followed. The old, essentially two-party, order had broken up and since then Argentina has never been able to work out a stable balance of political forces. Corruption and irresponsibility in government frequently have been charged.

The rule of Juan D. Peron, which developed as a labor reform movement, degenerated toward its close in the mid-1950s into a corrupt drive for personal wealth, marked by political oppression and brutality.

Peron rose to power following a golpe, and a golpe drove him into exile in Spain.

CRISES

Arturo Frondizi, an elected president starting in 1958, survived 33 crises during 46 months in office. In the end a golpe got him.

In the post-Frondizi period Onganía jumped to national prominence. A great controversy had raged in the armed forces over whether the country should have an elected government or a dictatorship.

Onganía argued for elected government and finally in September 1962 led a revolt against the military high command. He won the support of President Jose Maria Guido, then running a caretaker government. From that time on he has been the country's No. 1 military figure.

Onganía is a professional soldier. He was born of middle class parents in a small town in the Pampas. He entered military college in March 1931.

ASSOCIATES

This correspondent and an AP colleague spent several hours with the general and his nominal chief, Gen. Ignacio Avalos, the secretary of war. Both have close associates among U.S. military men.

In essence their concept of the military role in Latin-American affairs is that military leaders are the final defenders of the constitution.

Onganía was asked: "Now that the country has a constitutional government, will the military back the government of Dr. Illia in any situation?"

"The army believes," Onganía said, "that everyone has his duty and his missions within the constitution. The armed forces, the president, the congress, and the judiciary.

"Our mission is that of security, internal and external, for the national defense. Any action by the president or the congress is no immediate concern of ours. The armed forces as the president's advisers on security matters at the highest level will give their opinion when it is requested."

"Of course, there are times that actions of the president or of the congress or even of the judiciary may over a long period of time result in a matter

Drinks, Donuts, Seat Covers Are Made Here

Soft Drinks

The Big Dipper Donut Shop, 1600 Gregg, has been in operation since March, 1961.

Owned by Virginia Davis, 623 McEwen, the firm is operated by Clinton Northcutt. All of the business is handled by Northcutt and one other employee—Jackie McBroom, 305 W. 16th.

The firm is a retail outlet. Most purchases are made over the counter, although specialty orders are accepted.

Northcutt said seven or eight different kinds of doughnuts are produced. They are hand made and glazed.

There are several booths in the front of the store where customers can be served doughnuts, coffee, cold drinks or milk.

Mrs. Northcutt purchased the firm from Clark Tandy, a Young County man who ran the business for about two years.

Building Homes

Talbott and Talbott Builders, 283 Gregg, has been building homes for Big Spring since 1937. Owned and operated by F. H. Talbott and his son, W. S. Talbott, the company builds custom homes in the $30,000 to $90,000 bracket and does mill work and cabinet work for the completed structures.

Using $35,000 worth of equipment, Talbott and Talbott build five or six homes a year for an annual sales volume of $250,000. The seven employees make up a payroll of $20,000 a year.

Talbott and Talbott are planning to expand in the next couple of years. "You don't have competition if you do a good job," F. H. Talbott said.

Still Serving

Although 81 years old, R. M. Webb is still serving Big Spring in the wood working business as he has been doing since 1928.

Working by himself, Webb makes cabinets, repairs furniture, and copies wooden duplicate parts for machinery in his shop at 1402 W. 4th. He has been in his present location since 1952.

He has facilities valued at $15,000.

THE LORD'S NAME

The leaflet continues under the heading of Baptist Beginnings: "Because they baptized by immersion those who already had been sprinkled with water they were called 'Anabaptists,' which meant 're-baptizers.' The same came to them in derision, but it stuck in its shortened form, 'Baptists.'"

This is interesting to me; but puzzling. During the days of the apostles, the Lord's church was referred to in derision as "the sect of the Nazarenes" (Acts 24:5); but we do not find where they ever accepted this name or any name given in derision. Rather they obeyed the command to do everything, whether in word or deed, in the name of the Lord Jesus (Col. 3:17; Rom. 16:16). Should we not do the same?

The church is the house of God (1 Tim. 3:14, 15). Solomon's temple was its type; and all the people of the earth were to know that it was called by the Lord's name (1 Kings, 8:43).

Recording Stars

The Singing Sisters of Mount St. Mary's College in Newburgh, N.Y., have cleared more than $100,000 from their hit record of popular songs. The Roman Catholic nuns, one of several religious groups who have turned to records to raise money for building funds or convent use, run a recording operation almost on a do-it-yourself basis. Advice to try popular rather than liturgical singing came from TV star Mitch Miller. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Dodd Ripples Senate With Searing Blast Of Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington: LEADERSHIP: Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., has shattered the Senate's clubby atmosphere with a blistering attack on his leader, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana. For good measure, Dodd tossed a few darts at the Senate's Republican chief, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. Liked by the slow pace the Senate is setting, Dodd took the floor Wednesday to declare "unless we have leadership we'll go on dribbling our way through this session." Mansfield, said Dodd, is a gentle, kind, just and understanding man, but "I am concerned about his leadership." As for Dirksen, Dodd said without mentioning the Illinoisan by name "the Republican opposition is so soft, so cozy, that it doesn't amount to much." Dodd's particular complaint was the lack of night sessions to speed legislation. "We are not sent here for a 9-to-5 job," he said. "We cut off these sessions as if we were clerks in an insurance company." Mansfield was not present, but his assistant, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, rose to praise the Montanan's leadership. And Dirksen's assistant, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, said no apology for the GOP leadership was necessary. RAIL RULES: U.S. Dist. Judge Leonard P. Walsh has ruled that the Southern Railway System may continue to hire as firemen elderly, inexperienced men whose only duties are to sit in the cabs of diesel locomotives. Operating rules "were and remain the sole responsibility of management," Walsh said Thursday in dismissing a contempt charge brought by the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers. The federal judge had ordered last May 29 that the carrier hire firemen for all locomotives. The union contended the Southern violated its order July 1 by changing its operating rules to eliminate any duties for its firemen. Putting 223 "aged men" without physical or educational qualifications in firemen's positions was like "having a bag of sand occupy the fireman's seat," the union argued.

FALLOUT: Unless there is further nuclear testing in the air, the United States appears to have passed the peak of strontium 90 fallout, a Public Health Service official said Wednesday. Dr. John R. Chadwick, chief of the service's division of radiological health, gave that assessment on release of a report showing that the strontium 90 content of milk continued to decline in August in most of the nation. Strontium 90 is one of the most feared elements of radioactive fallout, being a source of bone cancer. Chadwick said it appears the peak was reached in June.

Maritime Computer System Lifeguards World's Vessels

NEW YORK (AP)—Far out in the North Atlantic, aboard a freighter slowly steaming for Europe, a boy complains to his parents of a dull pain in his lower right abdomen. The pain persists. Other symptoms show this is no ordinary bellyache. The captain is informed. Since freighters carry 12 passengers or less are not required to have a doctor, the captain urgently radios the boy's symptoms to the Coast Guard here.

The U.S. Public Health Service Hospital on Staten Island sends the freighter a message: "Probable acute appendicitis, advise immediate evacuation." LAST MONTH This happened last month. The freighter was the S.S. Wolverine

State and the lad was Ruykert Fowler, 9, of Nyack, N.Y. He likely owes his life to the things that happened after the diagnosis was made. The Coast Guard instantly fired up a system which it says is the only one of its kind in the world—centered in a winking, blinking computer lifeguard called AMVER. It stands for Atlantic Merchant Vessel Report.

Under the direction of Cmdr. Mark F. Mitchell, AMVER was asked to name the ships anywhere within 200 miles of the rendezvous at sea.

AMVER swallowed the questions, its console lights winking across and up and down and its memory drum spinning 1,200 times a minute. The life-saving answer came five minutes later: Humming pleasantly, AMVER click-clacked the reply on a roll of paper. The best ship for the mercy mission, it said, was the German passenger liner Bremen, less than 200 miles away and with a doctor aboard.

The Bremen steamed with Wolverine State for two days waiting for the seas to calm down. Then young Ruykert was transferred in a small boat and soon Dr. Jacob Suderman cut from him an inflamed appendix.

There are about 3,500 merchant vessels of all nations in the North Atlantic at any one time. Of these, about 800 ships report in their movements each day to AMVER for plotting. Prior to AMVER, the Coast Guard could make only a haphazard try to choose appropriate ships to aid other ships in distress.

"No attempt was made," said Mitchell, "to plot and advise on the hundreds of ships on the ocean each day."

AMVER does that, and more. In the shiny magnetic coils that store information are the capabilities of 15,000 ships of the world. They represent 61 nations. The goal is to enroll ships of all nations in the system. Uppermost, however, is the aim of getting every ship that sails the North Atlantic each day to report in. "Some don't even know about it," said Mitchell. One nation that does know about it is the Soviet Union. But it has reported to AMVER only once, Mitchell said. That was in 1960 when Premier Khrushchev sailed back to the Soviet Union from the United States aboard the Baltika. AMVER plotted Baltika across the ocean.

RESCUES AMVER also is used to solve some air-sea rescue problems. The Coast Guard has been renting the computer for $60,000 a year since 1958. Despite its good work, the machine is considered obsolete. Mitchell said the Coast Guard is already thinking about ordering a new model that can solve more intricate problems of air-sea search and rescue.

Murder Trial To High Court

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The trial of T. Eugene Thompson, accused of arranging the murder of his wife, went before the Minnesota Supreme Court Wednesday in an unprecedented move.

Attorneys were closed with five Supreme Court justices for an hour and a half while the trial was recessed.

Judges and attorneys wouldn't discuss the conference, but it was learned the meeting concerned a ruling by Judge Rolf Fosseen in Hennepin County Court, where testimony began Monday.

Fosseen had ordered Prosecutor William B. Randall to deliver to defense counsel a statement given to police by a state witness who had sold $250,000 accident and travel insurance on the life of Thompson's wife, Carol.

Randall told the court he was "very, very sorry but I am unable to comply." Attorneys were summoned to the judge's chambers. Fosseen returned to the bench soon and announced court recessed. The Supreme Court was the next move.

Mrs. Thompson, mother of four, was bludgeoned and stabbed in her home March 6. The state claims the crime was engineered by Thompson, 35, so he could collect more than $1 million in life insurance and marry another woman.

The bidding:
South West North East
1♥ Pass 1▲ Pass
2♦ Pass 2NT Pass
3♦ Pass 3▲ Pass
4♥ Double Pass Pass

Opening lead: King of ♠ From the manner in which North and South staggered into their four heart contract, West diagnosed that his opponents had a serious misfit. He doubled the final bid in the hope of scoring a big killing, but North put down a very creditable dummy and South proceeded to complete West's humiliation by chalking up an extra trick.

The first round of bidding was routine but, when South rebid two diamonds, North would have been better advised to show his clubs in preference to making the cheaper rebid of two no trump. Holding ace, king, ace, there was little reason for him to suppress his distribution for the sake of economy. When South bid three diamonds, North was afraid to carry on in no trump with but one club stopper, so he rebid his spade suit.

South by this time had formed a deep emotional attachment for his hand and, instead of discreetly returning to three no trump and leaving the final decision to his partner, he persisted to four hearts forcing North to choose between his two suits. At this point West felt that the enemy was floundering and he entered into the proceedings with a double.

The opening lead was the king of clubs and the ace was played from dummy. With the trumps obviously massed behind him, South realized the futility of leading hearts himself, and he decided to single in as many little trumps as possible by ruffing.

He cashed the top spades throwing away his other club, and then trumped a club with the three of hearts. The ace, king of diamonds came next followed by a diamond ruff in dummy as both defenders obligingly followed suit. A club was trumped for declarer's eighth trick and he led a fourth diamond.

West could have ruffed in with the nine of hearts, but he realized that by so doing he would abandon all chance of defeating the contract, so he discarded his last club in the vague hope that East could overruff the dummy. North's eight of hearts held the trick however, and South proceeded to apply the crowning touch by leading a spade off dummy and discarding a diamond from his hand. West was unable to let his partner hold the trick for he had only trumps left in his hand. West was obliged to ruff with the deuce of hearts and then lead away from his king into South's ace queen. In all, declarer limited West to two trump tricks.

Fire Program Held At Coahoma, Sands Schools

Fires don't just happen, they are caused, Joe Smetana, safety director of the Texas Farm Bureau, pointed out in fire demonstrations held Wednesday at Coahoma and Sands high schools. In the 45-minute programs, Smetana used a variety of demonstration equipment and materials to dramatize what fire is, how to control fires, the fact that nothing is fire-proof, kitchen fires and their control, fuel vapors, the power of petroleum products and household wiring and overloaded electrical circuits. Using a "fire triangle board," Smetana illustrated that fire is like a three-legged stool — it can't work with one of the legs missing. The "legs" fire depends on are fuel, heat and air. Smetana pointed out that many fires are blamed on faulty wiring, but that faulty thinking is involved more often than faulty wiring. The demonstration was sponsored by the Howard County Farm Bureau. It is a part of a long-range fire prevention program now being conducted by the Texas Farm Bureau Safety Department.

Club Winners Named In Borden

LAMESA (SC) — Don Nunnally, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Nunnally, and Shawna Wills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wills, have been named 1963 Gold Star winners for Borden County 4-H Club. Nunnally, 14, has been in 4-H Club work since 1957 and has won grand championships and reserve grand championships with hog and steer fair entries since that time. Miss Wills, also 14, has won a number of top area fair awards with livestock entries and has copped several showmanship trophies.

U.S. Admits Federal Car Used By King

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A Justice Department admission that Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. rode in a department-rented car while in Alabama prompted an I-told-you-so reply from Gov. George Wallace.

King called the issue "a futile attempt to smear the federal government and block the civil rights movement."

"I knew it all along, so did Rev. King," Wallace said Wednesday at New Haven, Conn. He is on a speaking tour of New England.

"I guess he (King) just didn't want to talk about it."

Several hours earlier, the Justice Department confirmed his charge that King had ridden from Birmingham to Selma, Ala., in a car rented by the department.

Edwin Guthman, information officer, said a department Negro lawyer, Thelton Henderson, had used the car and then lent it to a private citizen who subsequently drove King to Selma from Birmingham Oct. 15.

The department originally had firmly denied the charges.

The statement said Henderson, one of 70 Negroes working for the department, voluntarily gave a correct account of what happened and submitted his resignation, which was accepted.

The purpose of King's trip to Selma was to speak to a Negro rally.

Wallace shortly thereafter charged that King rode in a Justice Department car.

Henderson had been in Alabama since August, working on several department matters, a spokesman said.

JFK Will Lose, Wallace Declares

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. George Wallace of Alabama predicted today that President Kennedy will lose the presidency next year. He said it is not important who is elected, but only that Kennedy is defeated.

He emphasized, however, that he will not support the Republican party in the election.

The governor said there could be a sizable independent electoral vote from the South next year and that these votes could hold the balance of power in naming the president.

Wallace said Tuesday's elections across the nation indicated a trend against the Kennedy administration's civil rights policies.

The governor said there is less racial hatred in Alabama than in New York, Chicago or Philadelphia.

Post Office Still Closed

COAHOMA — Residents of the City of Coahoma have a beautiful new post office building, but the doors are still locked to patrons.

The boxes, letter slots and parcel post drops have not yet arrived, but the factory has a promised delivery Nov. 10, according to Bill Read, president of Coahoma State Bank. The bank owns the building.

"Right now it looks like they will be installed by the contractor Ray Dunlap and ready for use about Nov. 15," Read said.

"They were supposed to have been in Nov. 1, when the government's lease started on the building, but the holdup was at the factory."

The new building adjoins the bank building on the south and has drive-up space at the front for patrons.

Priest Promotes Warren Ouster

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP)—A Roman Catholic priest says he urged his parishioners to sign a petition calling for the impeachment of Chief Justice Earl Warren of the United States.

Members of the John Birch Society collected more than 600 signatures as the parishioners left Mass a week ago.

"I am a member of the John Birch Society — this is well known," said the Rev. Francis E. Kenton, pastor of Blessed Sacrament Church, in an interview.

"They had my approval to seek signatures."

Feed Lot Off To Good Start With 1,100 Animals

In less than two weeks following formal opening, the Howard County Feed Lots have 1,100 animals on feed. Within another week or so this number could double.

John Cowsar, manager of the new enterprise, said that the design for the lots was 4,000 head. This figure can be increased sharply by stepping up the daily feeding routine to four times a day.

Speaking to the Downtown Lions at a Wednesday luncheon in the Settles, Cowsar explained the operation of the custom feeding venture. Small lots will be fed out on a gain basis, whereas larger lots (70 and above) may be fed on a feed cost plus 10-cents per head per day basis. Cattle are watched to guard against illness and to cull out the non-gainers.

Usually, most profitable gains are achieved within 90 days, he told the Lions. Few head will be fed to prime, and the bulk of the cattle will be on the light markets to Clovis, Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston. Feeders may be brought in from as far away as Alabama if local producers cannot supply the demand.

The basic ration is milo with scientifically compounded protein supplement and cotton seed hull roughage. Feed is bought in 4,000,000-pound lots. Water is served through individual fountains, comes from the Colorado River Municipal Water District line which runs under the pens 10 miles northeast on the Snyder highway. The site was chosen because it offered ideal slopes for the 40 feeding pens designed to serve 100 head each. Five people are required to operate the venture.

Ruptured Pipeline Burns 3 Houses

TYLER (AP)—A road grader gouged a hole in a Mobil Oil Co. pipeline, escaping oil caught fire and three homes burned.

Flames shot 150 feet into the air as men and equipment battled the blaze 5 miles southwest of here Wednesday. Numerous grass fires also broke out. There were no injuries.

New Ike Book Shows 2nd Term Quandary

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's Friday the 13th, January 1956. Dinner has just ended at the White House and President Eisenhower puts the big question to 12 key advisers: Should he run for a second term?

Eleven of the 12 say yes. They argue it is Eisenhower's duty.

The 12th man is the President's brother, Milton. On other occasions Milton has urged the President, still convalescing from a heart attack, not to run again.

AGAINST TERM
This particular evening the President asks Milton to state the case against a second term. This Milton does. And the President ponders, for the next six weeks, what to do.

On Feb. 29 he announces he will seek re-election.

Word about the Jan. 13 dinner leaked out after a few days. So did reports that sentiment among the guests had been overwhelmingly in favor of a second-term try.

But now, almost seven years later, Eisenhower himself for the first time tells what went on at that intimate session. He does so in the first volume of his memoirs of White House Years.

INTO POLITICS
Published by Doubleday, it's a 650-page book dealing with his first term, the campaign which led to his election in 1952, and the precampaign pulling and hauling which got Eisenhower out of an Army uniform and into politics. Eisenhower's detailed story on his administration's record — how he and his aides dealt with scores of problems, domestic and international — is one he tells with obvious pride.

On the final page, in reporting his decision to run again as the crossing of "my personal political Rubicon," Eisenhower's theme is the same:

AT PEACE
"We had converted the United States of America from a nation at war to a nation at peace, productive and happy."

Before turning back to that White House dinner in January 1956, there is interesting background in the book on what Eisenhower's earlier thinking was regarding a second term.

He discloses that in January 1953 he wanted to write into his inaugural address a declaration that he would serve only one term. Advisers talked him out of that, saying it would be a political mistake at that stage.

But 11 months later the President wrote brother Milton that if ever he showed any signs of interest in running for re-election, "please call in a psychiatrist — or even the sheriff...I feel there can be no showing that my 'duty' extends beyond a one-time performance."

TO MILTON
And Republican seers wondering today whether Eisenhower has a preference for the 1964 presidential nomination might do some headscratching in reading another note he sent to Milton, in August 1955.

"Don't you know," Eisenhower wrote, "that long before I became president, you were my favorite candidate for that office?"

Milton now is president of Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore.

Inspectors To Visit Stanton

STANTON — A team of inspectors from the Oil Basin Division of the Texas Insurance Fieldmen's Association will be in Stanton Dec. 13 to make an inspection of public buildings and business houses, Chamber of Commerce manager Mrs. Maureen Varnadore, said this week.

"The team, at the request of the City of Stanton and the Martin County Chamber of Commerce, will inspect schools, churches, and downtown business houses for fire hazards," she said. "The inspections are made twice yearly. Recommendations for corrections will be made by the team."

Higher Margin Regulations May Cut Volume Of Stocks

NEW YORK (AP) — Higher stock margin requirements may cut trading volume on the nation's exchanges and also the amount of profit a speculator may hope for—if he guesses right. And it's the speculator, as distinguished from the investor, that the Federal Reserve Board has in mind in raising the cash ante to 70 per cent from 50 per cent in buying stocks.

But the effect on stock prices themselves of changing the margin rules may be only temporary, if past experience is a guide. And the Fed, in truth, disavows any interest in swaying price trends.

VERY LITTLE
Most stock buyers, whether individuals or institutions, probably will be affected very little, since they usually buy for cash as an investment.

Exchange officials stress that the percentage of the daily volume done on credit, although usually rising in hot markets, is probably smaller than most onlookers suspect.

And exchanges and their member brokerage houses also have margin rules, usually calling for more cash to be put up well before a stock's price drops to the official margin set by the Fed.

But that regulator of credit or from banks to buy stock—has risen 43 per cent in the last year to about $7 billion. In that period consumer credit, more familiar to most families, was going up 10 per cent.

Those who buy on margin usually do so because that way they can make more money than if they pay cash—if they've chosen the right stocks. They can lose more, too, if they've picked lemons.

PART EQUITY
Suppose you have $1,000 for stock buying. If the price of your choice is $100, say, you can buy 10 shares for cash Monday, when the margin was 50 per cent, you could have bought—or got part equity in—20 shares. If the price goes up to $125 as you hope, you've made $25, minus commissions, if you paid cash. But you've made $50, minus commissions and interest on the loan, if you bought on margin.

If the stock drops sharply in price, of course, you may find your broker selling it and wiping out your account.

SAME YIELD
Today, with the margin at 70 per cent, you can't buy 20 shares on margin with your $1,000. You'd need $1,400 in cash plus the $600 your broker lent you. And the price would have to rise higher for you to get the same yield on the cash involved.

That's why it's bull markets that attract margin traders.

And it's the recent bull market—and more particularly the notably rising volume of trading and of outstanding credit in-

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., Nov. 7, 1963 7-A viewed—that the Fed is probably eyeing in its move.

Fret About Age? Do Something About It

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD—"Fretting about your age makes you old. You can't do anything about advancing years but you can do something about your enthusiasm, expression and energy for living. The French people are good for my morale. They dismiss young girls as they would fruit which is not ripe," said Olivia de Havilland whose home is in Paris.

Holiday Pilgrimage Of Homes Planned

A pilgrimage was planned and Mrs. Grant Boardman spoke on "The Arab Nations" during the Wednesday afternoon session of the 1964 Hyperion Club.

Speaking at the home of Mrs. Robert Johnson, 510 Highland, Mrs. Boardman told of her visit in these countries and made a comparison of their political situation with ours.

Mrs. Bennett Brooke discussed the club's plan for a Christmas pilgrimage of homes. The event is scheduled for Sunday, Dec. 15, from 2 until 5 p.m. Members will sell tickets for $1. Homes to be visited include the Grant Boardman, the Gil Gingo, the Les Beauvais, the Bennett Brooke and the E. H. Boullion Jr.

Cornucopias, one filled with mums and the other with fruit, were used on the silver-appointed refreshment table Mrs. Boullion and Mrs. M. A. Porter were those who served. Cohostess was Mrs. Gingo.

Knott WMU Has Royal Service

A Royal Service program was conducted Tuesday afternoon for the Women's Missionary Union of Knott Baptist Church. Mrs. T. M. Robinson was in charge of the meeting attended by six members.

Reports On Convention

The Licensed Vocational Nurses Association heard convention reports and set up new committees Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Lewis Overton, 2906 Cactus Drive. Mrs. B. R. Derryberry and Mrs. H. J. Rogers were cohostesses.

Mrs. Willie Lee Butler and Mrs. Juanita Jones told of the Dallas convention of LVNA, stating that the 1964 session will be held in Abilene. They expressed the desire to have the 1965 convention in Big Spring. Mrs. Billie Miller appointed Mrs. Derryberry, Mrs. Overton, Mrs. Marvin Callihan and Mrs. H. Thames to a nominating committee; Mrs. Ann Cox, Mrs. Dorothy Trantham and Mrs.

Virgie Jones, ways and means committee; Mrs. Rufus Tuckness and Mrs. Coye Connors, program; Mrs. V. W. Kemper, flowers; Mrs. Lennie Dennis, LVNA Home fund; and publicity, Mrs. H. J. Rogers.

The group planned to give a Christmas basket to a family at Christmas and entertain patients at the state hospital Dec. 22. The December meeting will be a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Vera Winn, 1310 Virginia.

Concluding the meeting, refreshments were served to 15 members and two visitors, Mrs. Shirley Davis and Gene Tuckness.

Gordon Has Program On Taxes

The Special Education Parents Group heard Joe Gordon of the Internal Revenue Service speak Tuesday at the Special Education Building. Introduced by Mrs. A. C. Kloven, program chairman, Gordon explained tax redemption of vocational employed children. Charles Cain presided.

Mrs. Bill McRee, vocational adjustment coordinator, gave a report on work training in the schools, stating there are 11 students working in business over town and receiving enthusiastic response.

The project committee reported that Christmas napkins are ordered for the school's money-making project. Home rooms of Mrs. Kloven and Mrs. Underwood divided the room count award.

Pictures Created At Home League

Pictures created from drapery material and glitter were made at the Wednesday work day for the Ladies Home League of the Salvation Army. The craft class was held by Mrs. William Thomas in the Citadel.

Mrs. J. R. Kirby conducted the business meeting when a bake sale was set for Nov. 25-26. Advance orders will be taken for cakes and pies. The league Christmas party and a flower fund will be topics for discussion next week.

Refreshments were served to 12, and the devotion worded by Mrs. Jimmy Moore.

Chairman Named; Uniform Plan Made

Mrs. R. D. Tindol was elected chairman for Neighborhood No. 2 of the Girl Scout organization. Her neighborhood will include Parkhill and College Heights schools. Other officers who have been elected are council delegates, Mrs. Mel Stinson, Mrs. Don Williams, and Mrs. Ralph McLaughlin. Alternates for council delegates are Mrs. Lester Goswick, Mrs. James Cherry, and Mrs. Wayne Grey. Mrs. Thomas Macklin is cookie chairman for the neighborhood.

The neighborhoods have decided to set up a uniform exchange for the purpose of putting unused Brownie, Junior, Cadet and Senior Girl Scout dresses into circulation. Those

Mums Featured In Garden Club Theme

Mrs. John Knox and Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow brought arrangements of chrysanthemums for display and discussion during the Wednesday morning meeting of the Big Spring Garden Club.

Held at the home of Mrs. McAllister, the meeting was preceded with a coffee. Mrs. Garner McAdams was cohostess, and the president, Mrs. J. E. Hogan, presided at the coffee service. Toasted linen, having a leaf design, covered the coffee table and was centered with driftwood filled with yellow and bronze cushion mums.

Mrs. Hogan presided. She announced a meeting of the Southern Zone of Garden Clubs to be held Tuesday in Midland. She asked members to have their reservations in by Thursday. Mrs. Ross Boykin reported on the Saturday flower show, and the club was asked to work in patio planting for the Rehabilitation Center at the state hospital Thursday at 9 a.m.

Mrs. Bill Tubb presented the program on "A Study of Chrysanthemum Culture." She pointed out that a large space is not necessary to grow chrysanthemums for horticultural specimens. She enumerated points to observe for raising specimen mums: best stock, rooted cuttings, restricted growth and all

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Pots And Pans Pose Planning Problem

Dear Heloise: I am about to be married and I want to know what type of pots and pans and cookware I should buy? Some are beautiful, but are rather expensive. I would love to have them all matching—Engaged.

Dear Engaged: Congratulations! When I was first married, I wanted everything in my kitchen to match, as I knew I would have lots of company and friends coming in and I wanted everything perfect.

As the years rolled by, it dawned on me what a foolish mistake I had made.

When I visited older people's homes I found out that they used cast iron skillets for frying chicken, aluminum pots for some items, stainless steel for others and glass type casserole dishes for other things. And their cooking always tasted better than mine.

I suggest that new brides not buy one complete set of any particular type of cookware.

Why not buy a basic set of small pots and pans, perhaps three or four at the most. The reason I state "small" is because this is what you're going to use the first few years, kiddies haven't come yet and there is no need for a new bride to buy the huge pots and pans... yet!

I highly recommend two or three cast iron skillets. One large, one medium and one small. You will find you will use these most of all.

I do not think there is anything like glass casserole dishes. These may be freezer-to-oven type or the dime store variety. The latter are inexpensive, but worth their weight in gold.

I am a stainless steel lover myself. This is especially good for cooking vegetables. If you burn them they are easy to scour. They are clean and neat looking. I have never had one dent, warp, or turn dark when certain foods are boiled in them. So easy to care for.

Another thing I think you should spend good money on is a set of good mixing bowls.

Again, one does not have to buy the huge papa bear size Mama bear and baby bear size are perfect for small families.

Some wives boil everything, others fry, others bake... not knowing you or your new husband's preference. I could not tell you exactly what to buy.

It is a good suggestion to look around in your mother's kitchen and see what she has.

And if you can possibly beat her out of one of those cast iron, black, broken-in skillets... for goodness sake do so. You will find that's the best thing in your kitchen cabinet. Heloise

Airport WMS Meets For Royal Service

Both circles of the Woman's Missionary Society met Tuesday morning in the educational building of the Airport Baptist Church for a business and Royal Service program. Mrs. Neal Bryant was in charge.

The gathering opened with a hymn and the watchword repeated in unison. Mrs. Don Williams read the prayer calendar followed with sentence prayers by members. A community missions devotion was given by Mrs. James Denny.

Appointed to the Girls' Auxiliary reviewing council were Mrs. Denny, Mrs. Aubrey Woods,

How first grade students are taught to read was demonstrated Tuesday evening at the Marcy Elementary School for members of the Parent-Teacher Association. The speaker was William Dawes, principal, who used as a topic, "Primer for Parents."

Mrs. William Patton, vice president, conducted the business meeting and called for reports. Sgt. Carey Matthews, community dinner chairman, announced that proceeds from the dinner were $160.

A past president's pin was presented to Col. Charles Head in appreciation for his work last year in behalf of the school.

A Devotional For The Day

God sent not the Son into the world to judge the world; but that the world should be saved through him. (John 3:17. ASV.)

PRAYER: Our Father, we come to Thee with our joys and sorrows, our successes and failures, our perplexities and our sins, always sure of Thy understanding. Teach us to look on others with sympathy and understanding and a love which will lead them to Thee. May we this day come closer to the mind of Christ. We ask in His name. Amen.

There Are Four On The Ballot

There are four proposals to be voted upon Saturday when Texans consider amendments to their state Constitution. So much has been said pro and con about the poll tax amendments that voters may be surprised to find three others on the ballot.

Briefly, here are the four proposals to be voted upon:

1. To abolish the poll tax as a requirement for voting. If this passes, laws passed by the legislature will take effect to govern voter registration procedures with a 25 cent clerical fee.
2. To set a new ceiling of $60,000,000 per annum as the amount the state could appropriate for its old age assistance, disability, disabled children and blind aid programs. In effect, it combines four separate programs, permits the legislature to set residence requirements, erases a constitutional maximum per individual.

3. To permit any political subdivision in Jefferson County (Beaumont, county seat) to join a retirement, disability, and death compensation fund for appointed officers and employees within that subdivision.

4. To authorize the issuance of $150,000,000 in state general obligation (tax bonds to be available if and when present Veterans' Land programs are committed. Authorizations for the program in 1946, 1951 and 1956 aggregate $200,000,000. The bonds are to be retired out of proceeds, but the state is obligated to guarantee interest and principal.

Two-Way Communication

The Texas League of Municipalities, in its annual meeting in Houston took occasion to say a kind word about news media in keeping citizens informed about their local governments. Newspapers are grateful for this expression, and we hope that they may measure up to their responsibility. It is not an easy task to intelligently communicate to the public the essential news of city operations, but it is something that newspapers are obligated to try to do. This is one of the ways to pay on the debt for freedom of press.

We hope also that city governing bodies and city officials will keep open the lines of communication. Here we have enjoyed exceptionally good relations, based on frank and free discussion of any of the public's business. This is not true in some places, but it ought to be true—yes, it must be true—if the public realizes its right to know how its business is being run.

Holmes Alexander Walking Chalk Line In Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela — From the second story window of the Sears Roebuck retail store in this city, you look out upon the war-and-peace parking area.

In a gun tower above the main store's entrance, you see a helmeted Venezuelan infantryman, armed with a machine gun, watching the flow of shoppers. Across the concrete parking space stands another tower, this one with two similarly armed soldiers. Close to the street, still on the store property, there stands a low, dark, temporary building. It is a barracks where a permanent detail of infantrymen wait in readiness to dash or defend or avenge the sneak attack of Castro-trained terrorists.

INSIDE THE rambling department store, offering the usual Sears Roebuck catalog list of household goods, the employees are trained like Londoners during the World War II blitz to another sizzling explosives and to put out fires.

"One hundred thousand dollars a year," said Fred Eaton, Dartmouth '40, head of the Sears store in Venezuela, a silvering, handsome, energetic ex-Air Force officer. He was talking of the company's expense in maintaining military protection over lives and property. "We add it to the cost of doing business in this country under the terror."

LAST FEBRUARY a raiding party of FALN, the Castro underground, broke into a Sears warehouse, overcame the guards and burned down the building — a $2 million loss. Other American firms — Goodyear, Mobil, Creole, as well as the offices of the American Chamber of Commerce — have recently been hit. The terrorists, as they are most commonly known, are trying to drive American business out of Venezuela and to drive Venezuelans away from doing business with Americans.

Neither objective is anywhere near achievement. Sears has 11 stores in Venezuela, and all are showing increased sales in 1963. Sears is building two more stores and putting up a furniture shop and a stove factory. The company does business with over 600 Venezuelan manufacturers, many of them small and vulnerable. With customers, suppliers, employees and executives, it's business as usual.

THE STORY is typical of the 140-odd American corporations in operation here. Capitalism has succeeded here — too well. Virtually all the offshore companies share the wealth by giveaway schemes, partnerships, scholarships and community improvement planning that go far beyond the hefty

THE CONSENSUS here is that Betancourt has managed this near-miracle because of his early training as a Communist. He knows every trick and dodge of Red conspiracy. He has been as skillful in handling Castroites as he has been in walking the tightrope above the chasm of anti-Yankeeism. Luckily for his effort to check the Communists, they have overplayed the terrorism by bombing and shooting Venezuelans as well as foreign devils. Taking advantage of popular anger and dismay, Betancourt carried his case for outlawing the Communist party to the Supreme Court of Justice, where he won a verdict. He stretched the Constitution a little by accusing Communist leaders of "military" crimes, as distinct from civil crimes, and clapped some 300 in jail to stand trial for insurrection before military tribunals.

IT'S SAID of Betancourt that he could have acted sooner, and could have jailed 30,000 as justly as he has jailed 300. But his success at staying in office, and of gradually bringing the terror under control, seems to have been based on a canny sense of moderation.

Dealing with Communist treachery and violence, dealing with American unpopularity and affluence, dealing with his own Armed Forces which do not like him very much, dealing with his own fragmented Democratic Action party and an unstable coalition of other parties, Betancourt has staggered through, not gloriously but satisfactorily.

Billy Graham

I am a Christian instructor of adults. Can you tell me how I can become a better teacher and Christian?

Have you tried the New Testament? I have about every commentary in my library in the English language and I often get some help from them. But I find my greatest help and inspiration in the Bible itself. I'm afraid that too many teachers depend too much on the thoughts and ideas of others. It is amazing how the Scriptures unfold themselves when we study and meditate upon them. One of the secrets of David's greatness was in the words: "In thy law do I meditate day and night." Job said: "Thy Word is more than my necessary food."

I suggest that you read your commentaries, but meditate on the Scriptural texts of the lesson. Read it prayerfully, and I believe that you will find that God will speak to you through its pages. Thoughts will come to you, and they will be relevant to today's problems. And by so doing, your own soul will be strengthened. By the same token, you will become a stronger and more effective teacher of the Word.

— AND THE CLOCK IS RUNNING

James Marlow Nikita Could Make '64 Year Of Crises

WASHINGTON (AP) — It will feel like the center-piece in enough to make President Kennedy uncomfortable. He wants re-election in 1964. His best campaign theme would be peace and prosperity.

And now Premier Khrushchev, who can grant and growl like a mechanical bear, is performing again. Twice in less than a month's time the Soviets have blocked American convoys in East Germany. This could be merely a temporary unpleasantness, like sneezing in the soup. There's no way of knowing that. It could also be the signal of worse to come, with Khrushchev turning 1964 into a year of crises.

IF THAT happens Kennedy

will feel like the center-piece in enough to make President Kennedy uncomfortable. He wants re-election in 1964. His best campaign theme would be peace and prosperity. On one side Khrushchev testing American will and courage with his defiance; on the other, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., campaigning for the presidential nomination with slogans of stiff-arms-the-Russians.

Last fall the State Department, like a man who had just escaped from a furnace alive, developed a kind of euphoria when Khrushchev avoided a showdown on Cuba by pulling his missiles out.

IT BEGAN talking of winds of change sweeping the world, the State Department's way of saying happy days are here again, or hoping they were.

The world did quiet down a bit gradually although an agreement on that sore and ancient subject — a nuclear test ban — seemed not only far off but impossible. Yet, both sides began inching their way toward it. What followed seemed to indicate that Khrushchev finally had been induced to talk reasonably.

On March 8, 1963, the United States and Russia agreed to cultural exchanges in the scientific, technical, educational and artistic fields.

THINGS looked even more comfortable June 20 when the "hot line" between Moscow and Washington was opened to speed communications between the two nerve centers in an emergency.

And on July 25 the United States, Russia and Britain in Moscow initiated a limited nuclear test ban agreement. It ran into a storm here. The agreement meant nothing unless the Senate approved it in the form of a treaty. And for quite a while there seemed some chance it wouldn't. It finally did on Sept. 24.

King, who describes himself as "a blue collar worker in an art form, functioning like a truck driver in the entertainment business," excels at urbanely lambasting the oily foibles and unctuous hypocrites of life.

"But I'm not a violent man — just an emotional man," he said. "If you get people to laughing, you set them to thinking," he said.

"First I get mad at something, then, I think, everybody else is probably mad about this too — so it must be funny. To be funny, a thing has to be true. Only you exaggerate it a little, as if you were looking at it in a Coney Island mirror. That's the comedian's form of poetic license.

"But the distortion doesn't destroy the truth — it merely highlights it." Alan disagrees with those who think Americans are losing their sense of humor. "There may be circles when singers or dancers or cowboys or doctors may be the rage, but the comedian always survives."

To Your Good Health Back Pain Rarely Denotes Kidney Trouble

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I'm experiencing pain in the middle of my back below the waistline. Friends tell me it's kidney trouble. Is this an infection that will run its course and go away, or is it one of those things that should have prompt attention? Specifically, how does a person determine what aches and pains are serious enough signals to consult a doctor? — C. S.

You have asked a difficult question. Knowing when to consult a doctor can't be determined by a simple set of rules. It's like asking, "How can I be a good cook?" or "How should I bring up children?" or "How does a man decide when to give in to his wife and when to argue with her?" You more or less have to learn as you go along.

Lots of things that all us are perfectly oblivious. We know we need a doctor, or we know that even though we cut our thumb, it isn't a great disaster. The in-between decisions are the troublesome ones. So for today's session, let's talk about just one thing: That pain in the back.

Is it kidney trouble? Probably not. For reasons I do not know, a back pain has been appropriated by the "amateur experts" as a sign of "kidney trouble." If it were kidney trouble, then it is not something that will run its course and go away. The sooner you treat it, the easier and better.

Kidney trouble only rarely causes back pain, and even when it does, there are other signs — frequent urination, a burning sensation, pus (or even blood) in the urine, and so on. In such cases, the sooner you see a doctor, the more rapidly he can cure the trouble and not let it become chronic. Kidney infections are prone to become chronic.

could reel off quite a lot of other possibilities, but 95 per cent of the time the foregoing list would include the real answer.

I can't say that it isn't necessary to see a doctor about this. My hunch is that he'll find nothing seriously wrong, but he'll do some other checking on your general health, and learn quite a lot about you — your emotional make-up, your blood pressure, and other general facts.

Dear Dr. Molner: What deleterious effects can consumption of too much canned goods have on the body? — ROBERT B.

None, sir, unless you (1) just eat too much and get fat; or (2) eat such foods to the exclusion of a reasonable amount of fresh fruits and vegetables.

NOTE TO V. E.: To find whether there is a speech clinic to aid stuttering, inquire through the public school system.

Around The Rim

Just Getting Cheaper

Despite a latter day uprising of those who would support the poll tax requirement, there appears little chance the amendment will be defeated. History, economics, and just about every thing else have been marshaled to support arguments on both sides.

BUT THE ISSUE of "not having to pay to vote" is probably the deciding one. Curiously, this is the weakest of the lot. For even if the amendment carries, there will still be a fee — only it will be much less. The cost drops from $1.75 to 25 cents. And I suppose some future legislature will increase this as other costs go up and eventually we'll end up right where we started, only it will be a registration fee rather than a poll tax.

And so it resolves into a matter of semantics. A registration fee is acceptable, but we don't want a poll tax. Of course, in either case, folks are going to pay to vote.

BUT EVEN HAD the $1.75 been dropped to 25 cents, it would have still been a poll tax and thus drawn criticism.

And the older folks who have been receiving exemption certificates for these many years, will have to pay for them for the first time. For them, it is truly paying for the right to vote.

I'VE NOTED THAT little has been said about responsibility and voting in the current pro and con discussions. In an election of public interest, who should pay the costs of the election but responsible people? Certainly a person with forethought, who plunks down his $1.75 (or whatever amount) ahead of time, is prepared to accept the burden of deciding public issues upon his shoulders. I doubt that such a person could be dissuaded from the polls for any reason, no matter what his economic status.

IS $1.75 TOO much for a poll tax or a registration fee? For that matter, is 25 cents too much? Could the fee be set at $1 or 50 cents or 35¢? Perhaps it should be eliminated altogether and let the real estate tax pick up the tab, as it does on most every thing else. That way, only the property owner is required to support government expenses while the non-property owner gets a free ride.

At any rate, the poll tax may be dommed come Saturday. But "paying to vote" will not be gone; it's just getting cheaper.

Inez Robb Leader For Latin America

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico — Teodoro Moscoso is a man blessed with the sharp intelligence to wrestle with staggering problems and the charm to enlist others in their solution. As the coordinator of the Alliance for Progress, he needs both talents.

He flew home — for Puerto Rico is home to Moscoso — last weekend from Washington, D. C., to help celebrate the opening of the new $12,000,000 Puerto Rico Sheraton Hotel.

MOSCOSO COULD see in the new hotel further evidence of the tremendous success of the economic, agricultural, educational and cultural revolution that in less than a generation has quietly turned this island from "the poorhouse of the Caribbean" into a showcase of democratic stability and progress.

Moscoso was one of the youthful spark plugs of Operation Bootstrap that started the successful transformation of this island in 1940. Now he is both optimistic and pessimistic about the grafting of a similar operation — another and bigger Bootstrap — onto Latin America.

"I AM ENCOURAGED" by what Latin America has done so far and discouraged by the lack of recognition of these efforts in the United States," Moscoso said, as he discussed the cut in the foreign aid bill, particularly as it will affect the Alliance for Progress.

"I think Congress should be more generous," he continued. "The actual reduction in funds available for the Alliance isn't as important as the psychological effect. The nations of Latin America have agreed to certain basic reforms, such as the progressive income tax, agrarian reforms and administrative reforms to modernize government practices.

"IN TURN, we agreed to make a billion in resources available to Latin America. If they keep their pledges, we must keep ours. Undertaking such reforms in Latin America is very difficult — as difficult as integration and tax reform in the United States.

"A number of Latin-American countries have reformed, notably Chile, Colombia, Venezuela and the Central American countries generally."

MOSCOCO SAYS frankly that he is "very concerned" at the danger of more military take-overs in Latin America, following the military coups earlier this year in Peru, Guatemala, Honduras and the Dominican Republic. He refused to say which countries or governments are endangered.

The practical idealist who years ago helped start this island on the road to solvency, self-respect, self-support and democratic stability believes that the best counterbalance to Communist propaganda in South America is a strong program of agrarian reform.

"AS FOR THE GAP between the rich and the poor in Latin America, it could be solved by a good, progressive income tax law," Moscoso added. "But it presents one of the most difficult of all political problems.

"With rare exceptions — and there are some — the overthrow of democratically elected, constitutional governments in our hemisphere at this time is being brought about by the forces of reaction in their attempt to frustrate the aspirations of the underprivileged masses for social reforms and economic transformations which would narrow the gap between the extremes of wealth and poverty."

J. A. Livingston FCC In Role Of Censor

WASHINGTON — The Federal Communications Commission is supposed to be a quasi-judicial and independent agency of the government, but it has just intervened in a Kentucky election — unsuitably perhaps — to help the Democratic party in its effort to win a gubernatorial election there.

THE COMMISSION need not have appraised at all the merits of what Mr. Kennedy said at his new conference. It could have simply told the inquiring broadcasting stations in Kentucky that they were not obliged to carry a statement issued by the Republican party there because no use of facilities by the gubernatorial candidates was involved. The Commission, however, went further and described the Republican statement as a "distortion of the facts." This, of course, was in itself not a comprehensive discussion of the differing interpretations which grew out of the President's ambiguous utterance at his news conference. A reporter, in commenting on current politics and on the Negro vote, asked the President this question:

"APPARENTLY a lot of Negroes support you — that is, the latest poll showed that 85 per cent probably would vote for you next year. Now, in your opinion, Mr. President, does this political self-segregation on the part of the Negroes, combined with continued demonstrations in the North, pose any problems for you as far as the electoral vote in the North is concerned next year?"

"The President: I understand what you mean, that there is a danger of a division in the party, in the country, upon racial grounds. I would doubt that. I think the American people have been through too much to make that fatal mistake.

"So in answer to your question, I don't know what 1964 is going to bring. I think a division upon racial lines would be unfortunate, class lines, sectional lines." In fact, Theodore Roosevelt said all this once very well way back.

"SO I WOULD say that over the long run we are going to have a mix. This will be true racially, socially, ethnically, geographically, and that is really, finally, the best way."

Now, a number of Kentucky broadcasting stations had received a statement on a tape recording from an agency representing Republican nominees in the Kentucky campaign and a voice, presumably that of the President, spoke the last paragraph of the foregoing quotation about the "mix." The Kentucky broadcasters association had asked for an opinion from the Federal Communications Commission in a telegram. The formal answer given by Chairman E. William Henry was that the Republican announcement as submitted to the broadcasting stations was "an apparent distortion of the facts concerning the President's press conference," and hence the "policy" set forth in a previous ruling of the commission was applicable. This "policy" held that "no discussion of the issues involved in any public interest where such discussion must take place in a climate of false or misleading information concerning the basic facts of the controversy."

BUT WHO IS to decide on the "climate" and to determine what is "false or misleading"? Where in the Constitution is it provided that any government agency may censor the writings or utterances of anybody during a political campaign or at any other time? The FCC has hitherto refused to pass judgment in advance, as this would be contrary to the "no censorship" provision of existing law.

IT'S THE President's responsibility to the public, however, to clarify his own statements. That's why it causes surprise to see an official and formal ruling by a quasi-judicial agency of the government telling the citizens what a president's words mean and are not to be construed as having any implications of a "mix" on the social or ethnic side. Yet the latter concept is what the ardent advocates of "civil rights" claim will, in the long run, inevitably be applied.

BALTIMORE (AP) — The sign in the bookstore window said "Books Bought and Sold" so one resident tried to unload a stack of paperback mystery novels.

Exploding Bullet Fatal For Hunter

BOZEMAN, Mont. (AP)—An explosion of a high velocity rifle cartridge or cartridges killed a Bozeman hunter, Coroner Alexander M. Schmall said here. He called it a "one-in-a-million happening."
The body of Victor Vermillion, 25, was found near a deer he apparently had killed and partially cleaned. His rifle was nearby.
The coroner said the cartridges were in Vermillion's shirt pocket.
He added: "As far as we know he was not hit by a rifle slug. Death was from a cartridge explosion. There's definitely no bullet in the man, only fragmentations of the explosion."

Texas Court To Hear Oil Formula Suit

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Supreme Court reversed itself here and agreed to decide whether a delayed court attack on an oil production formula is a valid suit.

The court agreed to hear arguments Jan. 8 on two cases attacking oil and gas allocation formulas set by the Texas Railroad Commission. The suits were brought by Shell Oil Co. and Aluminum Co. of America.

The issue strikes at the heart of a court battle between major firms and independent oilmen backed by the commission.

OVERTURN

At stake, the attorney general contends, is the possibility that major firms may try to overturn allocation formulas favorable to independent oilmen now used in 300 gas and 1,919 oil fields.

The allocation formulas have substantial well factors, long used in commission field production formulas until the State Supreme Court voided a one-third-two-thirds formula in 1961.

DENIED CHANCE

The formula based Normanna gas field production one-third on equal distribution among the wells and two-thirds on the well's acreage. The high court held that the order denied each producer a chance to produce his fair share of gas.

The 1961 Normanna decision discouraged the commission from further use of the well factor formulas. It was followed by several similar suits in which state courts closely followed the Normanna decision.

The attorney general contends that unless the high court rules that long-standing proration formulas cannot be voided unless the court attack is timely, the court will open the door to a flood of litigation.

SPACING RULES

Shell seeks voiding of a June 27, 1962, 50-50 order for the Qultman oil field in Wood County. The commission won a hearing on whether the case is similar to cases dealing with spacing rules.

Alcoa seeks voiding of a commission order setting production in the Apping gas field in Calhoun County. The company contends that small-tract producers will drain an estimated $9 million worth of gas from under leases of major producers.

The commission won a rehearing in the Alcoa case, on whether the Third Court of Civil Appeals erred in finding for Alcoa because of what the state contends is evidence that Alcoa is barred by unreasonable delay.

Baboons Aid Medical Study

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Children with sometimes fatal urination problems may get some help eventually from baboons, a San Antonio scientist thinks.

Dr. I. A. Ratner of the Southwest Foundation for Research and Education said experiments with the baboons indicate this problem may be solved by relocating the bladder.

His paper was presented at an international symposium on use of the baboon as an experimental animal. The symposium is being attended by more than 150 scientists.

"There are a number of children with various types of neurogenic bladder who are unable to urinate properly," Ratner said.

"Previous approaches to the problem have included catheter drainage, bladder neck plastic procedures, attempts to produce automatic bladder function, creation of skin bladder or skin-intestinal-bladder conduits and, more recently, implanting of automatic or semi-automatic electrical stimulators into the bladder.

"At present, none of these procedures is entirely satisfactory."

It seemed a good idea to reposition the bladder just under the skin so it can be seen, grasped by hand and emptied, he said.

The scientists decided to try this on a baboon because of his similarity to humans. The skin was closed loosely over the back of the bladder.

They did this on four infant baboons—two males and two females. In the 10 months since surgery the youngsters have grown and developed as well as baboons that did not undergo the operation.

And they had no urination difficulties—the bladder apparently emptied completely.

"Should re-positioning of the urinary bladder prove to be successful, a new and simple approach to the management of neurogenic bladder in children may be possible," Ratner said.

DAILY GUIDE—This has not been a week when timid souls should venture into deep water. The dangers of getting swamped, being lured off course, and breaking up on hid-

Virgos can expect upsets; Gemini and Pisceans have to move fast to adapt to changes this week.

In general, all should watch out for flare-ups which might break off relationships, bring sudden changes. This is an accident-prone period, so use care.

Tomorrow's outlook rather gloomy, doubtful, with things not likely to work out smoothly.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, SCORPIO! Much light being shed on your endeavors this week, so be sure you have been on the right track and can stand the spotlight on your motives. Confederates Stymied In Hunt For Jap Zero

MERCEDES (AP)—The Confederate Air Force's search for a Japanese Zero fighter for its collection of World War II planes is stymied. Col. L. P. Nolan of the warplane buffs said Wednesday the group has searched the world over for a Zero in flyable or repairable condition. It found only two, both owned by the U.S. Navy.

"One of them is at the Willow Grove Naval Air Station in Pennsylvania and the other is at Clark Field in Manila," Nolan said.

"Our objective is to maintain a complete line of World War II planes for the next 20 years. This is the only collection of its type in the world, and we don't think this collection can be duplicated."

Confederate Air Force members are amateur flying enthusiasts interested in preserving World War II planes and eventually building a museum to house them. All members are colonels. They fly the planes in air shows.

Always Vote, Says Centenarian

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Miss Alvina Olsen, who taught school in San Lorenzo, Calif., for 50 years, told thousands of students they should always vote on election day if they were to be good citizens.

She always did so herself, and still does, she said.

Miss Olsen marks her 100th birthday in Oakland today with a quiet celebration.

Hot Fall Weather Holds Sway Throughout Texas

By The Associated Press

Hot weather lingered Thursday in South Texas, which recorded the highest temperatures in the country the day before. Skies were clear everywhere in the state in early morning, but clouds were expected to form over western areas of the state and start spreading toward the east by evening.

Patches of fog hugged much of the coast and extreme South Texas before dawn. It was foggy at Beaumont, Houston, Galveston, Palacios, Corpus Christi, Alice and McAllen.

The Weather Bureau predicted widely scattered showers in Northwest Texas late Thursday

Women Plan To Organize GOP Club

Howard County Republican women will meet Nov. 14 at 10 a.m. to perfect organization of a County Republican Women's Club. The meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Floyd Mays.

Mrs. A. K. Doss Jr., committeewoman for the 24th Senatorial District whose home is in Abilene, was here Wednesday to discuss the importance of such a club in this community. A meeting of Republican women was held at the Community Room and Mrs. Doss told the gathering of the many important assignments women could fulfill for the party in a campaign year. She emphasized the importance of educational activities.

Mrs. H. M. Hall is serving as temporary chairman of the new club.

A nominating committee was appointed as well as a committee to draw up a constitution and to draft by-laws.

These committees are to report at the Nov. 14 meeting of the group. An intensive effort by the women who attended the initial meeting to persuade all Republican-minded women to turn out for the meeting will be made.

The group plans to adopt a well-filled program of activities for the ensuing year.

MRS. BARBARA EISLER

Like Mother, Like Daughter

Mrs. Barbara Eisler, 2907 Navajo, has joined the Rowland Real Estate firm, owned by her mother, as a saleslady.

"It is the dream of every mother to have her daughter in business with her," said Mrs. Marie Rowland as she announced the appointment Tuesday.

Mrs. Rowland has operated the real estate firm at 197 W. 21st 12 years. Mrs. Thelma Montgomery, a sister of the owner, has been a saleslady with the firm nine years.

A son of Mrs. Rowland, Rufus Rowland Jr., is a junior at Abilene Christian College in Abilene. "I hope he joins the firm when he graduates," Mrs. Rowland said.

Mrs. Eisler is the mother of two daughters, Pam 7, and Robbie 4. She attended public school in Big Spring.

Seek Apology By Foreman

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Political Association of Spanish-speaking Organizations in the home district of Rep. Ed Foreman, R-Tex., will be asked to demand that he apologize to Rep. Henry Gonzalez, D-Tex., a PASO spokesman said Wednesday night.

Charles Albidress Jr., chairman of the Bexar County PASO chapter, said if Foreman refuses to apologize for "loosely hurried" accusations against Gonzalez, PASO chapters in the West Texas congressman's district should ask his resignation.

Foreman is from Odessa. He said Gonzalez threw a punch at him outside the House of Representatives last week. Gonzalez said he was angry because Foreman indicated in speeches that Gonzalez had helped the Communist cause through his voting record.

Albidress said it is possible for persons to disagree on issues "without resorting to attacks on a person's integrity and honor."

"The loosely hurried accusations of Congressman Foreman are shocking to all fair minded Americans," he said.

Lightning Hits

TRIESTE, Italy (AP)—The Paris-Trieste Express arrived 90 minutes late Wednesday night because lightning struck the locomotive near Duino in north Italy. The locomotive had to be replaced, but nobody was hurt.

Detroit Host City For Richest Meet

DETROIT (AP) — Golfers from 60 countries will shoot at a $200,000 jackpot in the first Carling World Open Golf Championship at nearby Oakland Hills Country Club next August. Details of the tournament, which has a $35,000 first prize, were disclosed Wednesday night by Richard Taylor, Carling's tournament director. He said the first round will begin Aug. 27. Taylor returned last week from a world tour during which he worked out details of nine sectional tournaments in which

Mavs Travel To S'Water

Three Goliad squads see action in the gridiron wars tonight with only the ninth grade taking to the road for an out-of-town encounter.

The seventh grade team takes on Colorado City at 5 o'clock in the old stadium and the eighth grade will follow with a 6:30 contest against Sweetwater. The ninth graders will journey to Sweetwater for a 7:30 game.

Although plagued with the usual amount of injuries that have been present all season in the Maverick camp, team spirit has been above average in this week's drills.

The ninth grade has been specializing in defense, getting ready for its second meeting of the season with the Colts. In an Oct. 24 game, the Mavericks won 28-1.

"They've got a good offense and not too much defense," head coach Tom King said Thursday. "Although we beat them last time everyone is saying 'look out.'"

Richard Cauley, out of last week's contest because of a bad ankle, will be again in the lineup at the starting quarterback slot. The rest of the starters will be the same as saw action a week ago.

FIGHT RESULTS
BRIDGEPORT, Conn.—Carmelo Acce do, 131, Hartford, Conn., stopped Tony Tuzio, 131, New York, 2.
RENO, Nev.—Bobby Dlop, 116½, Francis, disappointed Chito Carrasco, 117½, Los Vegas, Nev., 10.

Runnels, Travis Vie In 7:30 Encounter

A full slate of games is on tap tonight for Runnels Yearlings fans but only one of the squads will see action in the old stadium as the other two journey to meet the opposition in Snyder.

The ninth grade, playing a 7:30 encounter against Snyder, Travis, is the only team scheduled to trot out before the home town spectators in the old stadium. The seventh and eighth grades will take a trip to Snyder where they will be in respective 6 and 7:30 tilts, also against Travis.

The ninth grade Yearlings who have depended greatly on passing this fall to move the football will switch over to a balanced attack tonight and attempt to get revenge for an earlier 14-6 trouncing by the invaders.

Lineup changes continue to dominate the big news in the Yearlings' camp with four boys starting at new posts. James Carver will be back at right tackle after a one-game stint at fullback; Henry Dirks will shift over to the other tackle slot; David Gomez will take Gary Turner's place at left end

In the backfield with Turner will be Avel Ramirez, quarterback; Ronnie Anderson, right halfback; and Cooper Procter, left halfback.

Harold Rawls, who has been a stalwart all the season at left halfback, is out with a hurt shoulder.

The eighth grade will be in better shape for this contest than they were a week ago since starting fullback Junior Mendoza will be back in the lineup. He missed one game because of stomach cramps.

The only other lineup change will be Carl Henkle at center in place of Mike Irons.

Leyva, DeMaria Vie For Lead

Elijio Leyva of Alpine leads District 7-AA in football scoring over the year with a total of 78 points while McCamey's Johnny DeMaria is tops in conference play with 30 points.

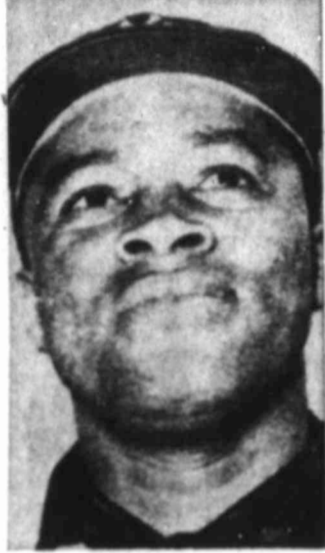

DeMaria, who has come on fast in the last couple of weeks, is also second in overall scoring with 70 points. DeMaria scored both touchdowns for McCamey against Stanton last week.

The scorers:

Player	Team	TD	Pat	Pt
Elijio Leyva	Alpine	11	4	78
Johnny DeMaria	McCamey	5	0	30
Paul Cormier	Crane	3	1	19
Elijio Leyva	Alpine	3	1	24

Howard Is Named MVP In League

BOSTON (AP) — Elston Howard, the take-charge catcher who spurred the hobbled New York Yankees to a fourth straight pennant, became the first Negro ever named the American League's Most Valuable Player Thursday.

ELSTON HOWARD

The National League MVP has been a Negro 11 times in the past 15 years.

Howard amassed 248 points to 148 for runner-up Al Kline of Detroit. The versatile backstop drew 15 first-place votes and was named on all 20 ballots cast by a committee of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

Southpaw pitching ace Whitey Ford of the Yankees was third with 125 points, including three firsts. He was followed by Minnesota slugger Harmon Killebrew with 85 and the Boston pair of Carl Yastzremski and Dick Radatz. Outfielder Yastrzemski was the batting champion and relief pitcher Radatz posted the lowest earned run average of 1.98.

The vote was announced by BBWAA secretary Hy Hurwitz in Boston.

With his MVP predecessors Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris sidelined by injuries for sizable portions of the season, Howard led the league champions with a .287 batting average. The 6-foot-2, 165-pounder paced AL receivers with a .994 fielding average, was fifth in the league with 28 homers and eighth in runs batted in with 85.

"When something like this happens, it makes baseball worthwhile," said Howard from his Teaneck, N. J., home into which he has just moved. "This is the greatest. You know, I was offered 35 or 40 college scholarships when I was in high school. I'm not sorry about choosing baseball, not now, especially."

The son of a New Madrid, Mo., high school principal, the 33-year-old Howard was master receiver with a .994 fielding average, was fifth in the league

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

The Big Spring Steers scored more points in their first game last year than they did in the first six this fall (86 to 85) but this year's club won five of their games, whereas the 1962 team had only a 3-2 record at the same stage.

There's only one way to look at it: The Steers are playing better defensive ball than they ever have before. They're making the opposition commit blunders and then proceed to capitalize on them.

Harold King, Midland High School mentor, paid Big Spring the supreme compliment following last Friday night's game here.

He said the Steers are the hardest-hitting high school team he's ever seen. Let it be said that the Steers carried the fight to the enemy.

Ross Montgomery, Midland's wheel horse, would have to go some to be a better all-around player than his first substitute, Cliff Hoffman. Hollman was Midland's leading ground gainer against Big Spring (55 yards in 15 carries) and was a terrific blocker, in addition.

NCAA rules call for a football game to last 60 minutes. Actual play takes up less than a fourth of that time.

In a recent game between Kansas State and Oklahoma at Manhattan, Kansas, the 14,000 spectators present saw around 14.5 minutes of football.

Jack Becker, a member of the K-State journalism staff, found that the actual playing time was 14:22.5. Of this time, OU, which won the game, 34-9, used 9:21.5 while K-State had the ball in play only 5:01.

The rest of the game, according to Becker, was taken up in unspilling, getting back into the huddle, calling the play in the huddle, approaching the line of scrimmage and calling the play at the line. Actual playing time is from the time the ball is hiked until the official blows the ball dead.

In OU's 9:21.5 on offense, the Sooners ran 77 plays, nine of which were passes. Each play took an average of just over seven seconds. In K-State's 5:01, the Wildcats ran 38 plays and threw 11 passes. Each of their plays took just over six seconds.

Only four of the starters Midland Lee is using on offense in its football games this year are seniors. Nine of the athletes Abilene Cooper is employing on offense are playing their last year of high school football.

Little Davey O'Brien handed the ball on 400 plays for TCU's great 1938 football team.

No other player in NCAA history has even been as busy.

The race track at Ruidoso, N.M., is the No. One employer of people in Lincoln County and is responsible for the Ruidoso area being second only to Carlsbad Caverns in the list of New Mexico's tourist attractions.

The Ruidoso people are planning a 64-day racing season next summer.

They say Odessa Ector wanted off the Lamesa football schedule to book easier opposition, preferably a Class AA foe.

Arkansas has had a backfield man on the All-SWC football team for ten straight seasons.

The fans at Portland, Oregon, must be wild about college football.

When Texan Junior Coffey led the Washington Huskies to a 24-19 win over the Oregon Webfoots recently, a crowd of 35,000 packed Multnomah Stadium and another 4,047 fans saw the game across the city in Memorial Stadium on closed circuit television.

Don Maynard, one of the pass-coaching stars for the New York Jets of the AFL, played his high school football in Colorado City. His parents now reside in Odessa, however.

Ken Talkington, who once punted the ball 71 yards for Texas Tech against Tulsa (1958), is now a student in Southwestern Medical School in Dallas.

His punting record still stands as a school mark.

Beverly Hills Battles Proposal On Freeway

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Actor Clifton Webb gazed at his sprawling, Mediterranean-pink adobe mansion, and wondered what it would look like with a freeway running over the top of it.

Said Webb: "No one ever thought it could happen here." But it could, and it might.

In all this city's Mediterranean-pink mansions—not to mention the glass-walled moderns, the French provincials and the Williamsburg colonials—there is a name to conjure fear.

The Beverly Hills Freeway.

TWO FREEWAYS
The state has two freeways—one of which happened years ago to Hollywood, and the other which happened recently to West Los Angeles. It wants to link them so people can get from West Los Angeles to Hollywood.

To connect them, freeway builders announced that they planned the Beverly Hills Freeway—multiple lanes speeding traffic swiftly and smoothly through the sovereign city of Beverly Hills.

Then came a howl of complaints.

TO PROTEST
Rosaland Russell and Lucille Ball went to protest meetings. Novelist Irving Stone wrote fund-raising letters for the freeway fighters. The anti-freeway Beverly Hills Improvement Association raised $60,000 almost instantly.

Residents of the hill section of Beverly Hills—which is, truly, one of the nation's loveliest residential areas—have decided unanimously that the best place for the freeway is a mile south, under Santa Monica Boulevard.

As Rosalind Russell explains it:

LIKE TUNNEL
"It's called cut and cover, I believe. They cut out the space, put the freeway in it, and cover it over. And there would be no offramps, or onramps. Sort of like a tunnel, you might say."

Exactly like a tunnel, to be precise.

The Beverly Hills Improvement Association wants this cut-and-cover freeway tunneled through the business part of the city, from which neither fume nor commuter could presumably escape.

"There's no question but what a freeway is needed," said Miss

Russell. "But they would not have to have offramps. It would only go through Beverly Hills for a mile and a quarter. People could get off before Beverly Hills, or afterward. That way Beverly Hills could be left intact."

Maternal Mortality Committee Meets

The Texas State Committee on Maternal Mortality will meet Sunday at 9 a. m. at the Cosden Country Club. The 15-member committee is made up of one member from each of the Texas districts of the Obstetrics-Gynecology Society. Dr. W. J. McGanity, chairman, is professor and chairman of the department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the University of Texas Medical Branch, Galveston. Dr. F. W. Lurting, Big Spring, is a member of the committee.

The committee will review reports on deaths of mothers during pregnancy and at childbirth. Constructive pointers, and observations as to causes, are brought out in an effort to learn more of the causes.

Dr. Lurting said a questionnaire is sent to all doctors who had patients died before, during, or immediately after childbirth, and these are presented at the meeting, usually held twice a year, in Austin.

"All members of the West Texas Ob-Gyn Society are invited to attend the meeting," Dr. Lurting said.

JFK Recognizes Virginia's Claim

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Virginia's claim to the first Thanksgiving has received official notice from a man from Massachusetts—John F. Kennedy.

In his Thanksgiving proclamation Tuesday, President Kennedy said, "Over three centuries ago, our forefathers in Virginia and in Massachusetts far from home in a lonely wilderness set aside a time for thanksgiving."

San Antonio Tourist Cart Saves Treks For Visitors

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Alonso King spends most of his work days going around in a circle—a circle that saves tourists a lot of shoe leather.

King runs the Tourist Mobile operated in downtown San Antonio by the city and the Chamber of Commerce. Officials think it is the first such operation in the U.S.

The Tourist Mobile is a gally-painted, three wheeled cart on which King scoots around passing out literature about the Alamo City.

PICK UP
He also carries a broom and shovel to pick up the pamphlets after the tourists are through with them.

King is often hailed by a walking-tourist and asked how to find the zoo, San Fernando Cathedral, the nearest restroom or even the Alamo. A surprising number of San Antonio visitors have trouble finding that shrine.

Jack Shelley, city manager, said the Tourist Mobile—in its first weekend in business—increased the number of visitors to the Spanish Governor's Palace by 100 per cent.

Toastmasters To Host Visitors

The Big Spring Toastmasters Club has set Nov. 25 as visitors night. Purpose of this is to give others an opportunity to see the need and value of the Toastmaster program in teaching effective oral communication.

At Monday's meeting, Adrian Randle gave another colorful discussion on the culture of the American Indians. Recently returned from a tour of Indian reservations in the Southwest, he reported a waning of tribal creative skills. Basket weaving and rug making are two fading home industries, and Randle blames government subsidies as a major cause.

V. A. Whittington presented an educational discussion on committees and pointed out that effectiveness of the club is in ratio to that of the committee work. The club meets each Monday at 6:15 p. m. at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant.

Mrs. Kent Morgan Makes Ranch Life Appealing

By JO BRIGHT

The accepted prototype of the "typical Texas rancher is known the world over. No such image has been created for his wife. If it ever is, it would be a compliment to Texas taste if Mrs. Kent Morgan was chosen as the model.

Mrs. Morgan does not have the leathery look favored by novelists. On the contrary, she is blonde and beautiful. Neither does she ride tall in the saddle. Physically, she's rather petite, and when she rides, it's behind the wheel of a comfortable car. There's only one thing about her that would fit an old cliché. Her eyes are blue and clear, and no self-respecting writer of Westerns would describe her gaze as anything but direct and honest.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan's ranch home is located on the family-owned spread east of town. The site is widely remembered as the old A. L. Wasson place. The road to the main house passes through several miles of pasture land, leaving the sounds of the city behind as it winds toward South Mountain. Far to the left is a natural basin which serves as a watering place for the Brahma and Hereford cattle that graze nearby. The hazy distance is dotted with Rambouillet ewes and black-faced bucks, bunched together and braced against the wind. Besides being marketed, the animals provide beef and lamb for the family freezer.

NATIVE ROCK

The home is solidly built of native rock, its inside archways reminiscent of the early Spanish ranch homes. A roofed porch at the back extends the length of the house.

"The only remodeling we have done is in the kitchen and dining area," said Mrs. Morgan, "and frankly, I am very proud of this part of our home."

Focal point in the room is the round, oak table and chairs which have been in the Morgan family a number of years. A tall matching hutch is used for storage and china. At the other end of the room, the kitchen contains two outstanding features, an inside barbecue with charcoal broiler and a commercial-type warming oven.

"I use the oven a lot when the cattle are being worked," said Mrs. Morgan. She explained that at those times she prepares three meals a day for the 6 to 12 cowboys that may be working. The two drawers of the oven keep food hot for as long as 12 hours.

The Morgans' son is Emmett Kent, 20, a student at the University of Houston. Their daughter, Katie Bess, 19, is now Mrs. Franklin Williamson of Houston. Almost one of the family is

MRS. KENT MORGAN

"Miss Ruffles," a small Cairn terrier.

"I think they have a closer relationship for being reared on the ranch," commented Mrs. Morgan. "As children, they learned to appreciate each other more since there were no other companions near." Mr. and Mrs. Morgan are planning on a family reunion during the Christmas holidays.

VISITORS WELCOME

When asked if she had a system for housekeeping, Mrs. Morgan stressed that it was all done "a la Faye"—strictly in the casual manner. Adult and teen-age friends are expected to relax and make themselves at home. However, a casual visitor who dropped in last week was not so welcome. It was a ring-tailed raccoon—and it dropped in through the ceiling. Like other rural residents, the Morgans are visited regularly by the friendly creatures but she was a bit surprised to have one force its way into her living room in such a manner.

Other than the ranch, Morgan's main interest is his partnership in the Ponderosa Apartments and Motor Inn. His cattle and sheep business comes first, however. On the living room wall at the ranch is an oil painting of a cowboy working in the snow. "I'm fond of the picture because I've seen Kent look just like that many times," said Mrs. Morgan.

She is an active member of Preceptor Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi and the Thursday afternoon Bridge Club. She and her husband play bridge, too, with a couple's group that meets weekly. They belong to St. Paul Presbyterian Church.

If you prefer lamb cooked Texas style, try Mrs. Morgan's recipes.

BARBECUED LEG OF LAMB
Trim all fat from lamb as this part is coarse in flavor. Cut small slits and put garlic slices in. Salt and pepper; baste with barbecue sauce until done.

BARBECUE SAUCE
1 clove crushed garlic or garlic salt
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 bottle catsup
1 1/2 tpsps. prepared mustard
1 or more tpsps. Worcestershire sauce
6 drops Louisiana hot sauce
Juice of one lemon
1 stick margarine
1/2 cup molasses
Salt and pepper to taste

BOILED OR CHARCOALED LAMB CHOPS
Use one stick of margarine, a little garlic salt and half a lemon. Brush the mixture on chops, turning several times until done.

"With either one of these, we usually have small, whole onions in a cheese sauce," said Mrs. Morgan. To prepare, boil onions until done, drain off water and salt and pepper to taste. Add a "chunk" of processed cheese, some soy sauce and paprika and let melt in onions. Makes a delicious sauce. She also serves a salad.

HELL MACARONI SALAD
Cook one package shell macaroni with a little bit of butter until tender. Drain and mix with one can English peas, one small can pimientos, one cup chopped celery, one chopped onion and diced cheese to suit yourself. Pour Tomato French Dressing over salad and chill.

TOMATO FRENCH DRESSING
2 tpsps. yellow dry mustard
2 tpsps. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
2 cups salad oil
1/2 cup vinegar
6 tpsps. grated onion
1 can tomato soup (10 ozs.)
Combine dry ingredients and mix with onion. Blend with oil and let stand 10 or 15 minutes. Add vinegar. Add slowly to soup, beating until thick and well blended. Makes one quart.

"This recipe was given to me by my sister-in-law, Mrs. Lloyd Morgan, and is a favorite of all the family."

LAMB AND DUMPLINGS
Use lamb stew meat or neckbone for this. Boil meat with salt and pepper until falling to pieces, then add dumplings.

DUMPLINGS
2 cups flour
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. cooking oil
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup water
Sift flour, salt and baking powder. Add milk and oil, mixing lightly. These can be spooned or rolled out in strips. Keep lid on while dumplings are cooking.

Lamb Makes Exotic Fare For Outstanding Fall Meals

People who travel widely are able to enrich the horizons of their lives to include new and unusual experiences with other cultures in the areas of art, music . . . and food.

Even those of us who stay at home can enjoy meals from the capitals of the world at our own dinner tables. Some perfect dishes to begin worldly wanderings with are given below. They are made with lamb, favorite meat of many countries.

LAMB HAWAII IS SWEET 'N SOUR
It combines ground lamb, raisins and pineapple

Surprise Guests With Yummy Lamb Hawaii

To lend an exotic touch to your next dinner party, try serving Lamb Hawaii, a brand new dish that costs little, tastes delectable. Packaged graham cracker crumbs are the tasty addition to ground lamb and raisins for the savory meatballs which are cooked with pineapple chunks in a pungent sweet-and-sour sauce.

LAMB HAWAII
1 lb. lamb, ground
3/4 cup graham cracker crumbs
1/2 cup raisins, chopped
1 tsp. salt
1 egg, beaten
1/2 cup milk
2 tpsps. salad oil
1 No. 2 can pineapple chunks
1/2 cup water

1/4 cup vinegar
1/4 cup brown sugar, packed
2 tpsps. cornstarch
1/2 tsp. salt
1 medium onion, thinly sliced
In large mixing bowl, combine first 6 ingredients. Mix thoroughly. Shape into balls the size of a walnut. In hot oil in skillet, brown balls, a few at a time; remove. Drain pineapple, reserving syrup. Combine water, vinegar, brown sugar, cornstarch, salt and 1 cup pineapple syrup. Stir into oil in skillet.

Cook until clear and slightly thickened. Add onions, pineapple chunks and meatballs. Cook over low heat 15 to 20 minutes. Serve with hot fluffy rice. Makes 6 generous servings.

PERSIAN LAMB SKILLET

2 1/2 pounds boned, cubed lamb shoulder
2 tablespoons salad oil
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon turmeric
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1 can (1 pound) small whole onions
1 teaspoon white vinegar
1 cup water
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 can (1 pound) kidney beans, drained
Cooked rice
Parsley

Brown lamb in oil in skillet over medium heat, stirring occasionally. Mix together salt, pepper, turmeric and cinnamon; sprinkle over browned lamb. Drain onions, reserving liquid. Pour onion liquid, vinegar and 3/4 cup of the water over lamb; cover and simmer 50 to 60 minutes or until tender. Mix remaining 1/4 cup water with cornstarch; stir into skillet; cook and stir until thickened. Add onions and kidney beans and cook 5 minutes longer or until vegetables are heated through. Serve with rice; garnish with parsley. Makes 6 servings.

HONG KONG LAMB CHOW MEIN

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 small green pepper, cut in strips
1/2 cup chopped scallions or green onions
1/2 cup diagonally sliced celery
1 package (10 ounces) frozen green peas
1 cup water
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 cups diced cooked lamb
1/4 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon soy sauce
1 can (1 pound) meatless chow mein
Hot cooked rice
Chinese noodles

Melt butter in skillet and saute green pepper, scallions, celery and green peas just until crisp-tender. Mix water with cornstarch and stir into skillet; cook slowly and stir 5 minutes longer or until thickened. Add lamb and seasonings; mix well and add chow mein vegetables. Heat and serve with rice and chinese noodles. Makes 6 servings.

MEXICAN LAMB

6 lamb shanks
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
1 large onion, chopped
2 cups milk
3 jars (8 ounces) junior peaches
4 teaspoons Angostura bitters
1/2 teaspoon marjoram
Pinch thyme
1/4 teaspoon rosemary
1/3 cup raisins
Cooked rice
Cling peach slices

Rub lamb shanks with salt, pepper and garlic powder. Place in large pan, cover with boiling water and simmer until almost tender, about 45 minutes. Remove shanks and trim off meat, discarding bones. Cut meat into bite-size pieces. Place lamb in large skillet and add onion and milk. Simmer all together gently until milk is almost absorbed. Add junior peaches, Angostura aromatic bitters, marjoram, thyme, rosemary and raisins. Heat together slowly, stirring occasionally, for about 20 minutes. To serve, arrange hot cooked rice on large platter, spoon meat mixture over top, and garnish with peach slices. Yield: 6 servings.

Lamb Leg As Cooked By Greeks

Garlic powder, black pepper, oregano leaves and fresh lemon juice will give your Sunday roast leg of lamb a particularly new flavor. Greeks, who are skilled in lamb cookery, cook their lamb roast this way.

GREEK-STYLE ROAST

7 to 7 1/2 lb. leg of lamb
Garlic powder
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. black pepper
2 1/2 tpsps. ground oregano
1/2 cup olive oil
1 1/2 tpsps. fresh lemon juice
Wipe lamb with a damp cloth. Make five slits 1/2-inch wide and 2-inches deep in intervals over the top of the lamb. Fill each slit with 1-16 tsp. garlic powder. Mix 1/2 teaspoon of the oregano, 1-16 teaspoon garlic powder, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper and rub over the lamb.

Combine the remaining oregano, olive oil, and lemon juice. Cook 5 minutes and rub into the lamb. Place lamb on a rack in a large shallow pan and put into a slow oven (325 degrees F.) Cook uncovered 3 to 3 1/2 hours, basting several times with herb olive oil and lemon juice. Make a gravy from drippings left in pan. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

GALA LAMB CHOPS

4 lamb shoulder chops, cut 1/2 inch thick
2 tpsps. lard or drippings
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/4 tsp. garlic salt
1 medium onion, sliced
1 can (16 ozs.) cut green beans, drained; or 1 pound fresh green beans, cooked and cut in eighths
3/4 tsp. salt

Brown chops in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season chops with 1 teaspoon salt, pepper and garlic salt. Add onion slices. Cover tightly and cook slowly 45 minutes. Add green beans, tomatoes and 3/4 cup Marsala wine. Continue cooking 5 minutes or until vegetables are heated through. 4 servings.

LAMB CHOPS MADRID
Olives and mushrooms mingle flavors

Popular Lamb Chops May Be Dressed Up With Fancy Sauce

Lamb becomes a dish any gourmet would appreciate when prepared according to this recipe from Spain.

LAMB CHOPS MADRID

6 shoulder lamb chops, 3/4 inch thick
2 tpsps. butter or margarine
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 pkg. (2 ozs.) spaghetti sauce mix with mushrooms
1 1/2 cups water
1 medium onion, sliced
1 can (3 ozs.) sliced mushrooms
1/4 cup ripe olives, sliced
1/4 cup Marsala wine
Sauté lamb chops in butter in skillet over medium heat until browned. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and stir together sauce mix and water. Pour over chops, cover and let simmer 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir in onion, undrained mushrooms, olives and wine. Let cook 15 minutes longer.

HOT CHILI LAMB SANDWICH

8 slices cooked lamb
4 slices buttered toast
1-3 cup catsup
1-3 cup chili sauce
2 tpsps. chopped parsley
1/4 tsp. garlic salt
Arrange lamb on toast. Combine remaining ingredients; mix well. Heat chili sauce mixture over low heat to serving temperature. Pour chili sauce mixture over lamb. Makes 4 servings.

ONION LAMB SHANKS

4 lamb shanks
3 tpsps. lard or drippings
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 1/2 cups water
1 pkg. (1 1/2 ozs.) dehydrated onion soup
1/4 cup flour
Brown shanks in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season shanks with pepper. Combine water and onion soup mix. Pour mixture over shanks. Cover tightly and cook slowly 2 1/2 hours or until done. Remove shanks from pan. Mix flour with a small amount of water and add to cooking liquid. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Serve gravy with shanks.

Young, Tender Lamb Cooks To Perfection

Young tender lamb is now available and abundant. Many homemakers think only of leg of lamb or loin chops. They aren't familiar with the numerous thrifty cuts, nor with the outstandingly delicious dishes that can be made from them. The pre-sliced square shoulder roast is one of the most economical lamb cuts, yet it is perfect for elegant dinners as well as family fare.

ROAST LAMB WITH WHITE WINE SAUCE

1 pkg. (1½ ozs.) onion soup mix
¼ cup dry white wine
4 to 5-pound pre-sliced square shoulder of lamb, tied ½ cup sliced mushrooms
In saucepan, combine onion soup mix and wine. Bring to boil over low heat, stirring constantly. Place lamb on rack in shallow roasting pan. Pour out some of onion sauce. Bake in slow oven (350 degrees F.) 1½ hours, basting occasionally with onion sauce. Insert mushrooms between slices of roast; bake 30 minutes to 1 hour longer, or until 175 degrees to 180 degrees (depending upon desired degree of doneness). Makes 6 to 8 servings.

CHUTNEY STUFFED RIB CHOPS

6 double rib lamb chops, about 2 inches thick
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
1 egg
3 tbsps. chopped chutney
2 tbsps. orange marmalade
1 tsp. seedless raisins
¼ tsp. seasoned salt
Salt and pepper
Using sharp knife, make slit from bone side between rib bone into center of meat on each lamb chop. Mix bread crumbs, egg, chutney, marmalade, raisins and seasoned salt; stuff chops loosely with chutney mixture. Sprinkle lamb with salt and pepper; broil 3 to 4 inches from source of heat 12 minutes on each side, or until desired degree of doneness. Make 6 servings.

CURRIED LAMB SALAD SINGAPORE

2 cups julienne-style cooked lamb
½ tsp. salt
½ cup diced celery
1 hard-cooked egg, chopped
8 ripe olives, sliced
1 tsp. chopped pimiento
1 tsp. curry powder
¼ cup mayonnaise
Lettuce
Combine lamb, salt, celery, egg, olives and pimiento. Chill. Add curry powder and mayonnaise. Mix lightly. Serve in lettuce-lined salad bowl or lettuce cups. Makes 4 servings.

JIFFY LAMB PATTIES WITH HERB GARNI

4 tbsps. softened butter
½ tsp. bouquet garni for lamb
6 lamb patties 1 inch thick
Pre-heat broiler. Blend butter with bouquet garni for lamb. Place lamb patties on broiler rack, about three inches from flame. Spread top of each patty with seasoned butter, using only half of the butter. Broil 5 to 8 minutes, depending on degree of doneness desired.

Turn patties and spread each with remaining seasoned butter. Broil second side another 5 to 8 minutes. Serve immediately. Serves 6.

LAMB STEAK DINNER

2 lamb leg steaks, ¾-in. thick
Salt and pepper to taste
1 8½-oz. can crushed pineapple
¼ cup mint jelly
Sprinkle lamb with salt and pepper. Broil 3-4 inches from source of heat 10-12 minutes. Meanwhile, combine remaining ingredients; mix well. Cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, until jelly melts. Turn lamb; cook 8-10 minutes, or to desired degree of doneness. Makes 4 servings.

SPANISH LAMB STEW
Marinated meat is mildly flavored with mint

Meet This Meat Dish Straight From Spain

By The Associated Press

Spanish cuisine can introduce you to a meat dish that is most delicious. Our recipe is adapted from a Spanish cook book and is called calderete de cordero—a stew with lamb.

But this is not ordinary stew. Fresh mint is used in some Spanish dishes, and in this one the herb flavors the gravy in a seductive way. This stew should please Americans who are already addicted to roast lamb with mint sauce.

The lamb for this stew is marinated in a mixture of red wine vinegar and water which helps to make the meat tender. As you would expect in a Spanish recipe, the meat is browned in olive oil, and the oil helps flavor the gravy. We use only a small amount—1 cup—of water for simmering so as little as possible of the browned surface of the lamb is washed off.

LAMB STEW WITH MINT

2½ lbs. lamb shoulder (with very little bone)
¼ cup red wine vinegar
¼ cup cold water
3 tbsps. olive oil
2 cloves garlic (peeled and minced)
2 medium-sized onions (peeled and cut into thin strips)
1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
1 tsp. flour
1 cup boiling water
1 tsp. minced fresh mint leaves
Have lamb cut in 2-inch chunks; remove excess fat. Mix vinegar and cold water; pour over lamb. Allow to stand 1 hour, turning lamb once or twice in the marinade. Drain; pat dry with paper towels. Heat olive oil in Dutch oven. Add lamb and brown on all sides; remove

Good Buys List Lamb

By The Associated Press
Vegetables are in excellent supply at modest cost at most Texas food markets. Heavier South Texas shipments of carrots, cucumbers, eggplant, greens, peppers and turnips were noted.

Among best-buy vegetables also are cabbage, celery, onions, red potatoes, sweet potatoes and rutabagas. Some fresh spinach from South Texas has appeared. Wholesale prices on lettuce, tomatoes and yellow squash are sharply higher than last week at most markets, says the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Increased shipments of tangerines and tangelos came at lower prices. Citrus supplies are mostly unchanged. Fresh coconuts are in good volume at reasonable cost. Cantaloupe, honeydew and other melon prices are higher. Peanuts and pecans are available in increased volume. Turkeys, broilers, beef, pork, lamb, cheese and dry beans provide attractive protein buys.

Barbecue Lamb For Company

While the weather is still agreeable and lamb is abundant, try barbecuing a boned shoulder of lamb. With the lamb serve a bowl of spaghetti.

BARBECUED LAMB WITH SPAGHETTI

1 1-3 cups vinegar
2-3 cup salad oil
¼ tsp. thyme
1 tsp. dehydrated parsley flakes
2 tbsps. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
1 5-lb boned shoulder of lamb, rolled and tied
1 tbsps. salt
4-5 qts. boiling water
1 lb. spaghetti
1-3 cup melted butter or margarine
1 tsp. dill seed

Combine vinegar, oil, thyme, parsley, 2 teaspoons salt and pepper; mix well. Add lamb and chill 3 hours, turning lamb occasionally. Remove lamb; reserve vinegar mixture. Arrange lamb on spit. Cook in rotisserie or on outdoor grill 2 hours, or until meat thermometer registers 175-180 degrees F. (depending upon desired degree or doneness). Baste lamb frequently with vinegar mixture during cooking period.

Meanwhile, add 2 tablespoons salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Combine spaghetti, butter or margarine and dill seed; toss lightly. Serve spaghetti with lamb. Makes 8 servings.

LAMB CASEROLE

2 cups diced cooked lamb
1 10½-ounce can condensed creamed celery soup
1 4-oz. can sliced mushrooms
¼ cup milk
½ tsp. rosemary
Salt and pepper to taste
1 tsp. salt
3 qts. boiling water
8 ozs. shell macaroni (about 3 cups)
1-3 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Combine lamb, soup, mushrooms, milk, rosemary and salt and pepper to taste; mix well. Meanwhile, add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Add macaroni to lamb mixture; mix well. Turn into 2-quart casserole. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 25 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

DEAR ABBY

An Affair Uncovered

DEAR ABBY: I am in hot water with a very good friend of mine. I have known for years that he has worn a toupee, which is the only toupee I've seen that looks like the person's own hair. I told a group of men at my club that he wore a toupee. (Some were surprised, and many were not.) Later, when I saw my friend, he let me know in no uncertain terms that he did not appreciate my telling people that he wore a toupee. I did not mean to be unkind. I simply stated a fact. I didn't think he'd mind. Was I wrong?
 CHECKING: Yes, you should have checked with him first. If he didn't "mind"—why do you think he would wear a toupee?

 DEAR ABBY: So often when I am eating my lunch at a counter, two or three people will come in and ask if I would move down a seat or two so they can all sit together. I do not always feel like moving because it involves moving my purse and perhaps some packages. Also, I am usually absorbed in reading something, and I don't like to be interrupted. I used to move without a moment's hesitation, but the more I thought about it, the more I realized that it was just plain rude of people to ask me to move, and I quit doing it. Now when I refuse the request, everyone in the place (especially the waitresses) glare at me as though I were the rude one. Why do strangers feel it is owed them to be accommodated in this way? Or am I wrong?

 NOT MOVING: Moving over a seat or two in order to accommodate people who wish to sit together is, in my opinion, so slight an inconvenience that it is rude to refuse.
 DEAR ABBY: Three weeks ago my husband died of cancer. I can't find the words to tell you how much I loved him. When it became obvious to him that he was dying, he asked me to promise him that I would not grieve and that I would not let others who loved him grieve over his death. I am 38. He was 39. It was his last wish that there be no public type funeral. He requested that our minister say a little prayer with only those present who had to do the actual labor in burying him. He did not want me, our children, or even his parents to "see" him buried. I promised him and he died in my arms. I discussed it with our minister and everything was carried out according to my husband's wishes. Now, my husband's family and even friends and neighbors are saying hateful things about me. Abby, I thought I was doing the right thing. Did I?

 KEPT MY PROMISE: Yes, have no regrets.
 CONFIDENTIAL TO WILIE: Some bachelors do change, but it's not a natural process. It usually takes a good woman to change them.
 What's on your mind: For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Cancer Cells Transplanted In Major Science Advance

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Scientists have transplanted human cancer cells to baboons in what one authority calls a significant advance in the study of cancer.
 The experiment was discussed today at the first international symposium on use of the baboon as a research animal. It's so new the scientists didn't get all their facts compiled until last week.
 The project is the work of the National Institute of Dental Research at Bethesda, Md., Wistar Institute in Philadelphia and the Southwest Foundation for Research and Education in San Antonio.
 "This is a breakthrough," said Dr. S. S. Katter, head of the department of microbiology at the Texas foundation. "It can be as significant as we want to make it."
 It is the first time, he explained, that human cancer cells have been transplanted to an animal as close to man as the baboon. Most other cancer experiments have been on rats or mice.
 "You can't interpret something from mouse to man," Katter said. "But you can relate an experiment on a primate with man because the primates are so much closer to man."
 Dr. J. Moor-Jankowski of the dental institute's human genetics branch presented a paper on the experiments with 20 baboons.
 Diseased cells from cancer of the cervix are planted in an adult baboon's cheeks. The cancer cells cause enlarged lumps in the baboon's cheek that last about 10 days. Then the lumps start going away.

AW, SHUX! WE'RE TOO LATE!

TERRY

THE RECORDS ON COLONEL CONSTABLE'S X-15 FLIGHTS? SO THAT'S IT? THOSE WILD STORIES ABOUT HIM HAVE REACHED WASHINGTON.

COLONEL, AS A SCIENTIST, I SUSPECT THAT SPACE CAN BE EXPLORED MORE EFFECTIVELY BY UNMANNED VEHICLES MONITORED FROM THE GROUND, THAN BY MAN...

...AND I HAVE EVERY REASON TO BELIEVE THAT A REVIEW OF CONSTABLE'S PERFORMANCE WILL BOLSTER THAT OPINION!

SMITTY

...THAT'S WHAT I SAID! SINCE WE'VE BEEN MARRIED YOU'VE NEVER TAKEN ME OUT ONCE!

I'M TIRED OF SITTIN' HOME AND LOOKING AT THE FOUR WALLS! YOU TAKE ME OUT TO THE MOVIES TONIGHT!

YOU ALWAYS SAY YOU HAVE NO MONEY, AND...

OKAY! OKAY! I'LL TAKE YOU TO THE MOVIES!

HOW IN SAM HILL DID I GET HERE?

MOON MULLINS

I SAVED YOU A COUPLA THOUSAND DOLLARS TODAY, MISTER MULLINS.

SAY, THAT'S O.K. JOKE-- HOW?

A TIRE BLEW, AND YOUR CAB SWAYED RIGHT TOWARD A ONCOMIN' TRUCK...

BUT DON'T FRET-- I TWISTED THAT OLD WHEEL IN TIME TO DODGE OUTTA TH' WAY.

'COURSE, TH' LAMPPOST WILL PROBABLY COST A COUPLA HUNDRED, BUT IT'S STILL QUITE A SAVING.
