Terrorists Battle To Block Election

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Defying death threats from Castroite terrorists, Venezuelans poured into the streets in above normal numbers Saturday—eve of a historic presidential election. In what appeared the last gasp of a long campaign against the election, the terrorist underground fought gun battles with police, scattered tacks in the streets and burned three buses—all apparently to no avail.

TERROR

Terrorists drenched the interior of another bus and its 21 passengers with gasoline, but fled before setting it on fire when they were attacked by the driver. Before fleeing, they shot the driver dead.

Above Caracas and other cities, Venezuela air force cargo planes with powerful air-to-ground loudspeakers urged the people to vote.

The pro-Communist Armed Forces for National Liberation—FALN—which the government charges receives arms and instructions from Cuba, sought by terror to block the balloting of a successor to President Romulo Betancourt. But every indication is the voting will be held on schedule.

FALN leaflets strewn about the city warned the 1.5-million people of this capital to stay indoors until after the election or face the prospect of being shot down by snipers on rooftops. The leaflets said women and children were included in the warnings.

Four pedestrians and a policeman were wounded in gunplay in a slum district Saturday morning. Police said the pedestrians were hit by stray bullets fired in a gun fight between police and terrorist snipers.

TREATS

The FALN imposed its curfew by death threat as of the Friday midnight deadline that closed the campaigning of seven candidates for Betancourt's job. He is prevented by the constitution from seeking a consecutive term, but his candidate is expected to win.

During the night, terrorists slipped about the city tossing tacks into streets in an attempt to keep motorists at home. But soon afterward, street cleaners went into operation, scooping most of them up. Motorists began appearing in heavy numbers by noon—many with brooms and tree branches attached to their front bumpers to sweep away remaining tacks. About 10,000 police, reinforced by National Guard troops, were deployed throughout this capital. An estimated 40,000 other troops were stationed at polling places throughout the nation.

TENSION

Tension grew Friday with a government disclosure it had uncovered a huge cache of arms on the Paraguana peninsula in guerrilla-infested Falcon State in the west. U. S. and Venezuelan officials said the arms came from Cuba. Venezuela plans to lodge an official charge of aggression against Cuba before the Organization of American States in Washington Tuesday. The United States joined the Betancourt government in demanding stricter measures against the regime of Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

On Wednesday, FALN terrorists kidnaped Col. James K. Chenault, deputy chief of the U. S. military aid mission to Venezuela, and now were demanding the release of 71 terrorist prisoners as ransom.

Experts Seek Cause Of Jet Liner Crash

Tragedy Leaves No Survivors

STE. THERESE DE BLAINVILLE, Que. (AP)—Canadian and American experts joined Saturday in a hunt for the cause of the fiery crash of a Trans-Canada DC8F jet liner that killed 118 persons.

There were no survivors of the tragedy Friday night, the worst aviation disaster in Canada's history.

The victims included Ronald Kerne, about 28, a fur buyer from Brooklyn, N. Y., and Mrs. Zoltan Hankovszky, 40, part owner of a Toronto dress factory and wife of a chef who works on a Sands Point, Long Island, estate.

WIDE RANGE

The rest represented a wide range of Canadian life—including commerce, food-processing, sports, television and police work. The chief of the seven-member crew was pilot Capt. Jack D. Snider, 47, Toronto, a veteran of World War II service with the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Workers labored in rain, snow and mud to recover bodies and belongings scattered over a quarter-mile section of the Laurentian countryside. Soldiers and police guarded the death zone—centered around a flooded crater containing the main wreckage—against curious sightseers and morbid souvenir hunters.

Two representatives of the U.S. Federal Aviation Agency sped in to help Canadian agents in the effort to determine why the four-engine, American-built plane—in service just 10 months—plunged to earth near this factory town four minutes and 20 miles after taking off at 6:32 p.m. from Montreal's Dorval Airport for Toronto.

EXPLUDED

Witnesses said the plane exploded, but disagreed whether the blast came while it was airborne or after it plowed into the ground, digging a crater 6-feet deep and about 90-feet wide.

A Trans-Canada Air Lines spokesman said there was no question of sabotage. The president of the company, G. R. McGregor, said later, however, that, with two exceptions, "no possible cause should be ruled out."

"There was no discernible mechanical fault with the aircraft before departure," McGregor said, "and the crew was well-trained."

Road Deaths Move Higher

By The Associated Press

Deaths on the nation's highways during the extended Thanksgiving holiday moved steadily higher Saturday.

With about one full day remaining of the 102-hour period covered by the holiday, the number of dead in traffic accidents totaled 355.

The counting began at 6 p.m. Wednesday. It will end at midnight Sunday.

The National Safety Council offered no estimate in advance of the holiday because, it said, Thanksgiving is a family holiday and involved little long distance travel.

The greatest death toll for a Thanksgiving holiday was in 1962 when 514 persons died in a 106-hour observance. The lowest death toll was in 1960 when 442 persons died in traffic accidents.

For comparative purposes, The Associated Press surveyed a nonholiday period of 106 hours from 6 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 13, to midnight, Sunday, Nov. 17, and counted 477 traffic deaths.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

As with every other community in the nation, Big Spring sought last week to throw off the numbness inflicted by the assassination of the President, and to get back about the tasks at hand.

There were major news developments here, too, for McGrath & Smith No. 1 J. E. Brown Estate, a re-entry project on a previously abandoned tract at 9,000 feet, blew out and caught fire soon after starting drilling. The test roared lustily for a day, reminiscent of the Deep Rock No. 1 McCrary five miles to the southeast, back in 1951. Unlike the Pan-American No. 1 Holley in 1950 which roared defiantly for a month, this test died after a day.

Five years ago the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron was assigned to Webb AFB. In all that time not a pilot had been lost, although a couple of planes had to be abandoned in flight. Tuesday, however, the super-sonic F-104 flown by 1st Lt. Harry McDowell tumbled out of a low approach and scarcely missed the 331st complex as it

YOU MAY HELP Cheer Fund Is Opened

Again, as at this time of year for more than a quarter of a century, The Herald opens its annual Christmas Cheer Fund, in which good people who want to express the true Christmas spirit by helping those in need may have a part.

Money raised from now until Christmas through this Fund finances the repair of toys being renovated by city firemen. This requires purchase of parts, paint, etc. Also, holiday "goodies" are provided for children who otherwise miss these things at Christmas time.

Any surplus in the Fund is used during the next year to provide food, milk, and medicine when families are in real distress and are not helped through any other agency.

Every cent of the CHEER FUND goes for these purposes. There is not a penny used for administrative or any other type of expense. The Herald is happy to handle the collections, firemen donate their services, a local bank keeps a safeguard on administering the Fund.

You are invited to help, just as so many have done in the past. You can be sure you are helping children in want. Be sure to make your check to CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND, and send it to The Herald for acknowledgment.

Two anonymous gifts have started the Fund, at a total of $15. Will you join?

Warmer Weather Predicted Today

The weatherman promises warmer temperatures today and tonight, cooling off a bit Monday.

The high reading today should be around 70 degrees, dropping no lower than 40 degrees early Monday morning. The high tomorrow is expected to be about 60 degrees.

The low reading Saturday morning was 27 degrees and ice was reported in low places. Some cloudiness is predicted today.

Trinity River Project Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The proposed $911 million Trinity River development program in Texas has been approved by the Commerce Department, clearing the way for its submission to the President's Budget Bureau.

Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., who announced the Commerce Department action Saturday, said it was the last of 18 state and federal agencies required to do so which have passed—all favorably—upon the undertaking.

Johnson began the day slowly. He arrived at the office late, for him, conferred with members of the White House staff, and omitted, the White House said, any formal appointments.

Johnson signed the third and fourth bill as president—one of them to keep government agencies whose appropriation bills have failed to clear Congress in spending money until Jan. 31

Gale Batters East Coast

A southwesterly gale battered the northeastern coast with torrential rain, fierce wind and abnormally high tides Saturday while a blinding, wind-driven snow storm moved into western New York State.

At least 10 deaths were attributed, directly or indirectly, to the weather.

The coastal storm destroyed at least 25 homes and damaged uncounted numbers of other waterfront dwellings.

The Weather Bureau measured wind gusts up to 71 miles an hour at Portland, Maine, and tides up to 10 feet above normal were reported on Cape Cod.

Snow depths up to 8 inches halted traffic in some sections of New York State.

Police at Mattapoisett, Mass., reported 25 shore homes leveled 17 of them at Crescent Beach but no casualties were reported. Wind gusts blew a 50-foot section of the roof of the Sands of Time Motel at Woods Hole, Cape Cod, for several feet onto some parked automobiles. Fifteen occupants fled unharmed.

The coastal storm virtually closed the port of Portland, Maine, sank pleasure boats at Groton, Conn., cut a 200-foot swath through Fire Island, N.Y., and caused the evacuation of several families on the southern shore of eastern Long Island, particularly at Mastic Beach.

Flood waters isolated some 30 homes at Dighton, Mass., and inundated roadways and lowland areas in many sections along the northeastern coast.

Man Injured In Accident

Muncie B. Moore was seriously injured about 10 p.m. Saturday when struck by a car at Third and Galveston.

He was taken to the Veterans Administration Hospital in a Nalley-Pickle ambulance where attendants listed his condition as serious.

He was still unconscious late Saturday but doctors said they believed he would recover from his injuries.

Driver of the vehicle which collided with Moore was Dave J. Paradowski, 23, of the 2560th Field Maintenance Squadron, Webb AFB. He told investigating officers he did not see the man prior to the accident.

Moore lives in the R. W. Hewitt Rooming House, 1107 W. 3rd, and was apparently going home when the mishap occurred.

Vietnamese Girl Dies In Flames

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A 20-year-old girl said to be protesting the war in Viet Nam sat down in front of the villas of an international truce mission Saturday, soaked herself in gasoline and burned herself to death.

Vietnamese sources said she left behind a note protesting "Vietnamese fighting Vietnamese."

Viet Nam is split in two, with Communists in control of the North and a pro-Western government operating in the South—much like Korea. The South Vietnamese are fighting a hard war against Communist guerrillas, the Viet Cong.

One political source said the girl, Tran Bath Nga, possibly could have committed suicide on behalf of the Communists.

Although it was not known whether she was a Buddhist, Miss Nga carried out self-immolation in the style of six Buddhist monks and a nun who sacrificed their lives in protest against the regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem, who was killed in the Nov. 1 revolt.

Johnson Backs Up Pledge Of Thrift

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson backed up Saturday his pledge of thrift and frugality in government. He told top officials he will hold their net budgets "to the barest minimum consistent with the efficient discharge of our domestic and foreign responsibilities."

Johnson asked the officials for a prompt report on major actions taken during the past year to cut costs — "and a statement of the steps which you propose to take in the next year to tighten your operations and effect savings."

Once again, Johnson repeated his pledge for getting a dollar's value for a dollar spent by the government and for prudence and economy in government.

He already had hammered this home to the military in a conference Friday with the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

And he is conferring Monday with Budget Director Kermil Gordon on the spending blueprint for the government for the 1965 fiscal year starting next July 1. This must be ready for Congress in January.

Johnson began the day slowly. He arrived at the office late, for him, conferred with members of the White House staff, and omitted, the White House said, any formal appointments.

Johnson signed the third and fourth bill as president—one of them to keep government agencies whose appropriation bills have failed to clear Congress in spending money until Jan. 31

The other would increase authorizations for appropriations for the Atomic Energy Commission so it can carry out nuclear weapons research and other safeguards in the wake of the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

As a result of the meeting with his adviser on District of Columbia affairs, Charles Horsey, Johnson got out a statement calling for self-government for the national capital and promising to do everything possible to make the city beautiful.

The White House also released the text of the executive order, signed Friday night, setting up a seven-man commission under Chief Justice Earl Warren to investigate the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The order said the inquiry will be financed from the presidential emergency fund.

It omitted any reference to subpoena powers, although the White House said Friday night and repeated Saturday that the commission will have such powers.

Johnson had left the White House at 10:27 Friday night and returned Saturday morning at 10:13 after spending the night at his home in the Spring Valley section of Washington. He is not expected to move into the White House before the close of this week.

Monday it will be back to the business of formal appointments again, with the topics ranging from civil rights to national defense and the upcoming budget, which must go to Congress in January.

Traffic Takes Fewer Texans

By The Associated Press

Car-train and highway crashes at widely scattered points edged up the death toll in Texas traffic Saturday to 23 for the Thanksgiving weekend.

While fewer persons had been killed than during most ordinary weekends, additional accidents were almost certain to occur as hundreds of persons return home Sunday from holiday trips.

The somber counting of fatalities began at 6 p.m. Wednesday. It will end at midnight Sunday. Five people died in the worst single accident, a Friday afternoon collision of two cars in Central Texas. It happened 3 1/2 miles south of Marble Falls in Buriet County. Four other persons were injured.

State police listed these dead in the Marble Falls crash: Tommy F. Hackney, 30 and his wife Alice, 26, of Hurst; their daughter Stephanie, 1; Ervin P. Goldson, 51, of Luling and Elmer E. Leonard, 46, of San Antonio.

A special train taking football fans from Grand Prairie to Amario hit a pickup truck and killed its driver, Ivan Phillips, 27, Saturday at the east edge of Wichita Falls. There were no injuries aboard the train.

Another motorist in a pickup truck, Ernest W. Handy, 73, of Tomball, was killed Saturday when a train struck his vehicle in Harris County north of Houston.

Mrs. Cynthia Ann Jennings, 23, of Richardson and her 18-month old daughter Elaine were killed Saturday as two cars collided on U. S. 75 at Melissa, north of McKinney in Collin County. The driver of the other auto, Lewis Baldwin, about 45, of Rt. 1, Anna, suffered serious injuries.

Water Report Brings Studies Into Focus

FACTORS INFLUENCING WATER DEMANDS IN NEXT 50 YEARS

The third of three reports on the over-all problem of Texas in dealing with development of its water resources helps bring the studies into focus. Under the title of "The Texas Water Problem," the Bureau of Reclamation has followed up its "Texas Basins Project" which was begun 12 years ago. This concise report is accompanied by several charts and maps to show the rates of growth, currently and projected, potential dams, pipelines and canals, irrigation, inter-basin transfer plans, etc.

	1960	2010	Increase
Population.....	9.6 million	22 million	2.2 X
Employees.....	3.5 million	8.5 million	2.5 X
Personal Income...$1.5 billion	$64 billion	4.5 X
City, Ind. Req'mts.	2 million a.f.	12 million a.f.	6 X

The hard fact is that the rate of water supply development may be the controlling element in the rate of Texas growth in the decades ahead," said the analysis, but it added hopefully: "Texas is well along the road to a solution of its water problem. There is more than enough water to go around with water still washing into the Gulf." The interbasin transfer of water in Texas is a fundamental key to solution of the problems of Texas water supply. Yet this latter conclusion, despite some grandiose proposals, has its problems for "legally, the State of Texas can divert excess waters from an area of water surplus to an area of water deficiency where such is to the economic advantage of the state. But it is clearly and legally stipulated that the state cannot exercise this right to the detriment of an exporting basin." Looking 50 years ahead, the report observed that the "future of Texas is urban and industrial; its fundamental water problem, consequently, is one of municipal and industrial uses." This may be compounded by the fact that "per capita consumption of water for domestic purposes increases decade by decade."

INCREASE DUE SOLUTION'S KEY

In this connection, it should be noted that the agricultural acreage sustained by irrigation will decrease by one fifth in the next 50 years despite an increase of 2.2 times in the population. This means that there will be a pronounced shift in the types of crops supported by irrigation — more food and fiber. Eighty per cent of the present seven million acres of irrigated land in the state is sustained now by depleting waters. Within the next half century, according to the report, 83 major new dams impounding 17,000,000 acre feet of water are due to be installed. The 532 miles of present water conveyance (interestingly the Colorado River Municipal Water District has one-fifth of that total) will be increased by 1,100 miles. The most dramatic conveyance proposed is an inter-basin coastal canal to shift surplus water from the Sabine and Neches to the less favored areas as far south as Brownsville. By serving needs in the lower reaches of other basins, the canal would permit other basin yields to be committed more heavily if not almost exclusively to these areas. At any rate, assuming that the dams and reservoirs are developed as planned, the key to the solution is "mechanical" — adjusting the imbalance of water supply and requirements. This will call for a vast network of pipelines, and it may mean sharp costs in some areas. However, for the most part, water will be delivered at astonishingly low rates considering the magnitude of action to provide it. Assuming that the population and standard of living increase according to estimates, one other great benefit will be in water recreation. Currently there are 650,000 acres in lakes completion and under construction. The new dams would triple this—1,800,000 acres. Texans would have proportionately more surface acres of water to help them enjoy increasing leisure time.

Stock Market Recovers, Marks Record Advance

NEW YORK (AP)—Recovering from the shock of President Kennedy's assassination, the stock market last week rolled up an advance equal to the greatest weekly rise in market history. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks spurted 11.3 to 279.6, matching the gain it made in the week ended Nov. 3, 1962, when stock prices soared on President Kennedy's successful confrontation with Russia over the missile bases in Cuba. That was the largest gain in history for the AP average, far exceeding its previous record of 8.4 made in the week ended Dec. 7, 1929. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials last week advanced 39.03 to 750.52, exceeding its rise of 35.56 made in the record-shattering 1962 week. Confidence in President Lyndon B. Johnson was the key note of the week's rally and this was accompanied by a continued flow of good news from the economy and various corporations. Brokers were already talking about the "Johnson" market as previously they had referred to the "Kennedy market" and the "Eisenhower market." As Wall Street faced its final trading month of the year, it was borne in mind that industrial issues have risen 41 times in the past 65 years and that a rally at the year end is a tradition.

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

Weather Puts A Crimp In Local Flying Activity

By M. A. WEBB
Although the weather and other developments put a crimp in local flying at Howard County Airport during the week, there was some activity by Big Spring Flying Club and Webb Aero Club members, including some cross-country flying. Big Spring Flying Club's Piper Colt was not flown during the week. The Skyhawk was not used Monday, was in the radio shop Tuesday, had an oil change Wednesday, and a 100-hour inspection Friday. It was flown by Joe Clark Thursday. Jay Lebowitz and Doug Warren were to make cross-country flights late Friday and Saturday. John Stanley was to get a check flight Sunday afternoon. "I have been paying on that Skyhawk for three months and have got to fly in it once. Looks like I am finally going to get lucky enough to get at the controls," John said Friday afternoon. Ted McClung made a trip to Oklahoma City Friday and was expected back late. Howard Loyd, Ted's partner, was doing his flying at home Friday, since he was reported under the weather. There were two big twin-engine multi-passenger airplanes on the ramp at the airport Friday afternoon. One is owned by an oil company and brought officials into the city. Big Spring Aircraft's gasoline truck looked like a tool-box-type vehicle beside the big craft. Another was parked and tied down for the night, but the owners were not known. About a dozen smaller airplanes were on the ramp. Trans-Texas Airways has released a report on October's passenger-mile record, saying it was the best month in the company's 16-year history. A total of 41,167 passengers, an increase of 22.3 per cent over the same month in 1962, was reported on the six-state system. Previous high month was August when 39,578 passengers were flown. A 41.87 per cent load factor was also established in October, compared to a 38.8 per cent load in October, 1962, and a 40.78 load in September, 1963. The company says a part of the increases were due to the 13 new cities being served under the Southwestern Area Local Service Case decision by CAB. Final service was established in November over the El Paso-Houston routes; Amarillo-Houston; non-stop over the Austin-Houston route, and non-stop Houston-Dallas.

Senator Sees Humphrey In '64

NEW YORK (AP)—A Republican senator from Colorado, Peter R. Dominick, says "it isn't necessarily true that President Johnson is going to be the Democratic candidate" in 1964. Dominick said in a television interview there's a "definite possibility" that Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota will get the Democratic presidential nomination.

Delinquency Climbs Here

There has been a slight increase in juvenile delinquency during April-October, according to Police Chief Jay Banks. Juvenile offenses in 1963 has totaled 417 compared with 409 for the same period in 1962. Of the total offenses, 113 resulted in arrests of juveniles this year. An additional 120 youths were released to the juvenile probation officer, 67 were turned over to their parents, and 132 were counseled or warned by the police department. From April to November of last year, there were 93 juvenile arrests. During the same period, 100 youths were released to the probation officer, 84 were released to their parents and 194 were warned by police. Banks said fewer youths are being released to their parents. This is being done in an effort to curtail juvenile offenses. A talk with the probation officer or an appearance in court usually straightens out first time offenders, police said.

Police Planning Holiday Party

A Christmas party for city policemen, reserve officers and their families will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 17 at the Cosden Country Club. The police fund committee is sponsoring the party. Funds for the party were raised through the recent Policeman's Ball. A buffet dinner will be served, and a Christmas tree gift exchange will be held for children. Each family will bring gifts for its children. The remainder of the funds raised through the Policeman's Ball will go for the support of a Boy Scout Troop.

How sharp are we?

Sharp in brainpower, that is. It's the sharpness we need to hold America's lead in science, in business, in living standards. How sharp we are depends on how much we back higher education. Colleges develop our brainpower. And leaders. But the cost of leadership is skyrocketing. Many colleges are in a squeeze. They need help... for new classrooms, laboratories, teachers. We will be sharp if we back our colleges. College is America's best friend.

'Hospital Center' Slogan Backed Up

By PAT WASHBURN
Big Spring mothers - to be couldn't be luckier. Statistics show this is the best town in West Texas in which to have a baby.
Persons needing hospitalization of any kind are also fortunate. The same figures indicate that Big Springers have more of a chance to obtain a hospital bed at any time, even during an emergency, than their neighbors in surrounding communities except San Angelo.

In a survey of four surrounding West Texas towns, all with larger populations, Big Spring ranked first in the number of basinnettes and second in hospital beds per capita.

NOT INCLUDED
Not included in the figures were the three special Big Spring hospitals which do not serve the general public: the Veterans Administration Hospital with 250 beds and facilities totaling $7,492,205; the Big Spring State Hospital whose $2,700,000 value includes 950 beds; and the Webb AFB infirmary with 30 beds.

These combined statistics uphold the slogan applied to Big Spring over the years—"Hospital Center of West Texas."
With 177 beds and 36 bassinets in four private hospitals, Big Spring (population 33,500) has one bed for each 189.3 people and one crib for each 930.6. Showing an average of 125.1, only San Angelo (58,815 residents) has a better bed-population ratio than Big Spring. Its figure of 1178.3 on bassinets ranks it third behind Abilene.

VALUE
Big Spring's four private hospitals have a facility value in excess of $3,000,000, and this will increase by about a million within the next year. The $7,492,000 value of the Veterans Administration Hospital and $2,700,000 value of the Big Spring State Hospital boosts the total hospital investment in Big Spring to more than $13,000,000 (and this does not include any estimate of the investment in Webb AFB Hospital).

Here is a breakdown on some of the pertinent figures from four private hospitals in Big Spring:

In the past 12 months, 63,000 persons registered at Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital to see one of the 12 doctors, in either the clinic or hospital, which have a combined value of $1,000,000. Of that number, 3,954 were admitted and spent 15,841 patient days in one of the 57 beds for an average stay of four days per person. They were attended by one or more of 73 full-time nurses.

At the Howard County Hospital Foundation and Clinic, 411 E. 9th St., 33,220 registered to see one of eight staff doctors, five of whom are specialists with two general doctors on duty, and one interne. After consultations, 3,087 were assigned to one of the 53 beds, attended by a full-time corps of 60 nurses. They spent 14,609 patient days for an average of 4.7 days per stay and availed themselves of the $692,345 in facilities.

TOTAL
The Cowper Clinic and Hospital had a total registration to see five staff physicians in 1962 of 36,000, of which 2,023 were admitted to the hospital and spent an average of 4.3 days in one of the 37 beds. They were under the care of 25 full-time nurses and were the patients of either one of the three specialists or two general practitioners. The patients spent 8,167 hours in the hospital. Value of the plant is not estimated.

The Medical Arts Clinic-Hospital logged 9,490 patient days in 1962, as 22,931 paid a visit to one of the doctors. Of that number, 1,959 were admitted and stayed an average of five days in one of 30 beds. They were under the care of one of four specialists and were attended by the staff of 30 nurses. During their stay, they had use of the $750,000 in facilities.

Based on administrative estimates, the four private hospitals do something between $150,000 and $200,000 in charity work each year, and estimates indi-

Among the hospitals, the percentage of local and area clientele varies. Ninety-three per cent of Medical Arts patients live within the county; 75 per cent of Howard County and Cowper patients are local; about 60 per cent of Malone & Hogan are local. Out-of-town patients come from as far as 150 miles.

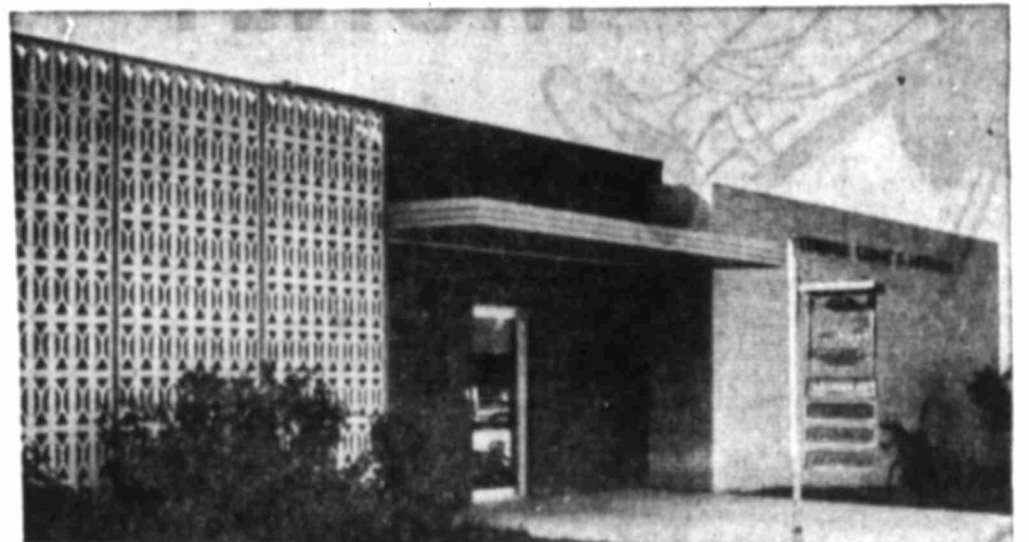

Over 1,100 babies were born in the four private hospitals last year, including 401 at Cowper.

Navy Man Asks About City Job

Public Works Director Ernest Lillard has received a letter of inquiry concerning employment as city engineer from Tom W. Beck, Kittery, Maine. Beck is a commander in the Navy, and has 21 years service with the Civil Engineers Corps. In his letter, Beck expressed an interest in the engineer vacancy here, and said he will complete his naval service soon.

"For a man with his experience we probably could pay up to $650," Lillard said.

Lillard was promoted from city engineer to public works director last April when Bruce Dunn, former director of public works, accepted a position with an Austin firm. The city has been looking for a city engineer since then.

"We've had four applications," Lillard said.

LOVE

Love is the greatest thing in the world. "And now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; and the greatest of these is love" (I Cor. 13:13 ASV). In fact, "God is love; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God." (I Jno. 4:7).

Love must be the basis for all our service and the motive back of all our acts and words. "If I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am become sounding brass, or a clanging cymbal. And if I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and if I give my body to be burned, but have not love, it profiteth me nothing."

Harvest Stepped Up By Friday's Freeze

That "hard freeze" cotton farmers have been anticipating struck Friday morning in many parts of the Big Spring area, and by its appearance, vastly speeded the potential finale of the 1963 cotton season.

Temperatures on Howard Martin, Glasscock and Dawson counties fell to well below 32 degrees for several hours shortly after midnight Thursday and the subfreezing temperatures brought sudden death to the cotton foliage. The leaves have been delaying the cotton harvest and the frost took care of the defoliation better than the best chemical efforts could do.

The freeze also will pop the nearly ripe bolls on the stalks and ready them for the strippers.

A few days of bright sunshine, with the chill nights which are now current, and the cotton season will be ready for the grand finish.

Last week was a bad one for cotton harvesting. There was rain on several occasions and the drizzle stopped the stripping and pulling. The national tragedy of last Friday followed by the weekend of uncertainty tended to deter still further work in the fields. Then, Thursday, came Thanksgiving and another holiday.

The eight counties in the Big Spring area ginned only 18,000 bales last week. This coming week, assuming the weather permits, should see the biggest surge of any week this season.

At least two counties could bring a finale to their harvest this week. Glasscock County with an estimated 10,600 bale crop, has already ginned 10,407. Fisher County with an estimated 39,000 bale crop has ginned 36,563. It is possible that both these counties should finish their harvest within the next 10 days.

The frost, nearly three weeks later than the average first freeze date in this county, extended the growing season for 1963 to an all time record of 265 days. It also vastly augmented the cotton yield.

At the same time, the delay in freezing has brought on a second harvest in many grain fields. Farmers are harvesting second growth sorghum in some parts of the county.

The cold weather was not so intense in the counties served by the Lamesa Texas Employment Commission office but all of these are well ahead of Dawson, Howard, Glasscock and Martin counties in cotton ginning.

Martin County, with only 45 per cent of its crop ginned, is the most backward of the lot in harvest accomplishment. Howard County, where the estimated crop total has been hiked to 42,500 has ginned 24,574 bales.

Major Crimes Are Fewer In Big Spring This Year

By BUCK SITTON

Robbery and larceny are on the decrease in Big Spring, according to Police Chief J. A. Banks. There have been 99 cases of robbery so far this year, April-October, compared with 151 last year.

Larceny over $50 dropped from 93 to 26 cases during the same period. There also was a decrease in larceny under $50 with 171 cases reported this year, compared with 215 cases in 1962.

There was one rape case in each year, and murders have increased from two, during the first seven months of fiscal 1962, to four for the first seven months this year.

The total value of property stolen has decreased considerably.

The 1962 figure of $60,975.48 is $21,625.64 more than the $39,349.84 figure for 1963. These figures include values for all categories of stolen property.

Theft of clothing values dropped from $3,265.78 to $316.84. Other decreases were noted for value of currency and notes, jewelry and precious metals and automobiles.

Although the value of stolen automobiles has decreased, there was two more auto thefts this year than last—34 to 32.

Banks said major crimes have decreased, and the department is solving a larger percentage of them. For instance, 67 per cent of robberies this year have been cleared by arrests. Arrests were made in only 28 1/2 per cent of robberies last year.

Arrests were made in 95 per cent of aggravated assault cases this year, compared with 81 per cent last year. Percentage of arrests for larceny over $50 increased from 11 to 15 per cent, and arrests for larceny under

Meeting Set To Codify City's Many Ordinances

A meeting which is expected to codify city ordinances has been set for Monday, Dec. 16, at City Hall. City Manager Larry Crow said representatives of the city will meet with the Municipal Code Corporation of Tallahassee, Fla.

The city signed a contract with the firm last May for the revision of existing ordinances and repeal of obsolete provisions. The codification work will be under the direction of City Attorney John Burgess.

Under the terms of the contract, the Municipal Code Corporation will receive an editorial fee of $2,500 plus an additional $7.50 for each page of the code. The firm will provide an index and historical footnotes for each section of the code. In addition, the city will be furnished 100 copies of the code. The contract includes revision, re-writing and repeal of ordinances and editing of the charter.

Burgess said similar ordinances will be grouped together in the code. Reference to the code will save considerable time in looking up ordinances, the attorney said.

Crow said codification of city ordinances will put them under one cover in similar groupings and do away with obsolete ordinances.

The city attorney's wife prepared a cross reference file of ordinances for the city last year.

Rain Helped But Still More Needed

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Texas farmers and ranchmen appreciate the recent rain. It has permitted them largely to complete plantings of grain, flax and cover crops, said John Hutchison, director of the Agricultural Extension Service.

He said more rain is needed to replenish subsoil moisture and to relieve the critical water situation in many sections. More warm weather would be welcomed to give emerging grains, other fall crops, grass and weeds a chance to make maximum growth before winter hits.

At midweek, district farm agents summed up the situation this way:

Moisture generally was short over the Panhandle. The cotton harvest still was on and grain sorghum harvest reached the mop-up stage.

The South Plains cotton harvest is resuming. A record soybean crop has been harvested.

Wheat is making good progress. Ranges and cattle are good.

Rains varying from one to two inches fell over the entire Rolling Plains but 17 of the 22 counties still need more. Moisture will permit farmers to complete seeding grains and should make small grain grazing available soon.

Some North Central Texas rains were sufficient to bring up grains but more will be needed soon to keep it growing. Heavy feeding of livestock went on. Much more rain is needed to restore subsoil moisture.

General rains ranging from one and a half to four inches fell over Northeast Texas. Run off was too light to improve the acute stock water shortages. Cattle lost weight and feeding increased. Grains and clovers are coming up.

Light to heavy rains fell over West Texas and moisture conditions improved. The first frost over much of the district stopped vegetative growth. The cotton harvest is still on; most livestock shipments are complete.

Grain prospects improved in West Central Texas from the rains and winter weeds are up in pastures. Warm weather is needed for grain and weed growth. The stock water situation has improved in some areas. Feeding is continuing.

Moisture in Central Texas varies from short in the east to adequate in part of the west. Grain progressed. Grazing is short and feeding and marketing went on.

Much of the southeast and upper Gulf Coast received showers and the moisture situation is much improved. All counties still need more rain. Planted pastures are making good growth but feeding is necessary.

Moisture and warm weather are needed to keep winter vegetation growing and for flax and oat planting in South Central Texas. Ranges are greening but grazing is very short.

Moisture is short to very short in all but two counties in far South Texas. Harvesting of beans, cabbage and pepper in the Winter Garden area is nearing completion. Some citrus is being harvested. Cabbage and carrots in the Valley were making good growth. Feeding increased.

White House Restoration To Continue By Lady Bird

WASHINGTON (AP) — As yet on what to do with their major work of restoration of the White House has been done under Mrs. John F. Kennedy's guidance.

But whatever more is needed, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson will continue the work.

A woman of taste and sense of history, Mrs. Johnson has told friends in the past that she regarded the White House restoration as beautiful.

Soon after she became First Lady in 1961, Mrs. Kennedy began the project of bringing back historic furnishings to the White House and restoring the historical aspects of the public rooms.

"As in doing one's own home, it never really will be completed," a White House aide said Saturday. "But the major work in the state rooms has been done."

The Johnsons are expected to move into the White House possibly late this week.

They have made no decision as yet on what to do with their 12-room home, the Elms, in northwest Washington.

In these past few days, Mrs. Johnson has spent as much time as she could talking with her daughters.

Lynda, 19, will be returning to the University of Texas, where she is a sophomore. Lucy, 16, has managed to get in some studying, though not much, during these rushed days. She is a day student and high school junior at the National (Episcopal) Cathedral School for Girls, where Lynda was graduated in 1962.

Lucy will be returning to school Monday, this time with a Secret Service agent beside her at the all-girl school.

Along with the rest of the family, have been under Secret Service protection since President Kennedy's assassination. Agents will accompany the girls wherever they go—to classes, shopping, even on dates.

Big Name, Big Job

George and Billy Lee, 3 1/2-year-old identical twins, have a formidable disease with a big name — arthrogryposis. But Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children is doing a big job in trying to help them become self-sufficient. Those afflicted with arthrogryposis may have joints that rotate to abnormal positions and muscles partially present or wholly absent. Billy and George, who live in Wortham, Freestone County, spend much of their time at the Scottish Rite Hospital in Dallas, which is sustained by volunteer contributions.

City Gets Bargains In Surplus

By M. A. WEBB

The City of Big Spring has purchased over $80,000 in surplus government equipment during the last 12 months, but paying less than $5,000. Most of these purchases were for heavy equipment, but some was office machinery and wearing apparel.

This surplus is made available to the city through the local Civil Defense office, according to W. D. Berry, county CD director. He said the city pays only 4 1/2 per cent of the federal government's acquisition cost.

However, no surplus item sells for more than $25, no matter what the federal government's acquisition cost may have been.

COMPLETE INVENTORY

"We keep a complete inventory on all equipment purchased through this plan," Berry said. "It is periodically audited and must be accounted for in good condition."

All equipment and supplies must be used for upgrading a readiness program, Berry said. If the city is short on some item and needs it to maintain a program — such as better streets in strategic areas or a health and sanitation program — it is made available to them.

"This equipment cannot be used for 'every day' work," Berry emphasized, "as it would wear out too soon." The city must maintain the equipment.

At the end of two years, the property is checked for condition and maintenance cost, he explained. A decision is made then to scrap it or allow it to become the permanent property of the city.

CITY'S LIST

Items purchased by the City of Big Spring, with government's acquisition cost listed first, and city's cost in parentheses are: two jeeps, $2,004 ($148); asphalt distribution tank $21,657 ($525); a 3-ton truck tractor $4,680 ($495.33); 2,000-gallon tank with pumps, $7,002 ($502); two 5-horsepower motors with transmission assemblies $1,061 ($78.84); 1956 Chevrolet sedan $1,800 ($90) (W. D. Berry's work car for Civil Defense); tools and miscellaneous equipment, such as chairs and office supplies $48 ($2.76); truck with crane $3,500 ($262.50), also duplicated for parts; 15-KW generator and miscellaneous tools and parts $919.69 ($68.98); two tractor tugs (for pushing or pulling other equipment and for attachment of fogging machines) $4,630 ($347.25); one tractor tug for parts $2,312 ($49); two-tone fork lift $3,000 ($225).

OFFICE EQUIPMENT

Also, miscellaneous desks, chairs and repair parts $2,564 ($192.31); truck cargo carrier $3,343 ($257.00); one cargo carrier with which $3,718 ($257.33); helmets, boots, and gas masks $249 ($15.04); Wayne street sweeper $7,000 ($525); trousers, shirts, fatigues, for fire department and mimeograph $87.95 ($66); desk, light fixtures, and portable lights $115 ($8.33).

The City of Coahoma secured a truck for its fire department, $8,000 ($345).

United Fund Ends Short

The 1963 United Fund campaign has ended for all practical purposes 3 1/2 per cent shy of its $104,800 goal.

As of Nov. 30, the campaign had produced $101,231.58 in cash and pledges. This is $3,642.42 short of the target arrived at through the combination of more than a dozen agencies which depend upon the United Fund for support.

Dr. Lee O. Rogers, UF president, is expected to call a meeting of the executive committee soon to hear a final report from Jack Y. Smith, campaign chairman, and to consider the payments to participating agencies.

Webb Calls For Construction Bids

Plans and specifications for repairs to buildings at Webb Air Force Base are available from the base procurement officer.

The work consists of furnishing labor, materials and performing all work in connection with the job according to specifications. Principal features include removing existing clear-story structures above roof line, including structural framing, installing new roof joints and decking, removing skylights and framing, and other work.

The contractor will be required to begin work within 15 calendar days after receipt of notice to proceed, and complete all work within 40 calendar days after date of notice.

All bids must be received in the office of the procurement officer on or before Dec. 7. They will be opened Dec. 18 at 3 p.m.

Man Arrested For Theft By Bailee

A 38-year-old San Antonio man was arrested at 7:30 a.m. Saturday at a local cafe on a warrant charging theft by bailee, police said.

Police Friday picked up a 15-year-old Big Spring youth for questioning in connection with the theft of some copper and aluminum. The boy was arrested at 7:30 p.m. in the 400 block of Channing.

Officers also investigate a complaint Friday afternoon that some youths were shooting plate glass windows at the Wesley Methodist Church, Twelfth and Owens, with a B-B gun.

Vance Expected To Get Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is expected to nominate Cyrus R. Vance to the No. 2 Defense Department post within a few weeks.

Vance, now secretary of the Army and before that general counsel for the Defense Department, is slated to become deputy secretary of defense in the latter part of January. Submission of his name to the Senate for confirmation probably will come much sooner.

The vacancy in the deputy secretaryship was forecast officially as early as last summer and has no connection with the advent of the new White House administration.

The Pentagon announced months ago that Roswell L. Gilpatric had notified his superiors that he intended to resign. Pentagon officials said Gilpatric had taken the deputy's job with the intention of remaining only about two years and that his resignation then was expected to become effective in October.

Since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, rumors have arisen that McNamara himself might quit the government.

Committee Monday Begins Planning To Get School

Will Big Spring be the site for a new state school for the mentally retarded?

A committee of local business and civic leaders will meet at noon Monday at the Holiday Inn to discuss what they can do to bring this about.

The committee was appointed by Mayor George J. Zachariah Nov. 12. Members are Rufus Stallings, Dr. C. B. Marcum, Robert W. Whipkey, R. H. Weaver, Dr. W. A. Hunt, Arnold

Marshall, A. G. Goodson, R. L. Tollett, Ed Carpenter, Charles A. Weeg and Sam Anderson.

These leaders will spearhead a campaign effort to secure construction of the school in Big Spring. City Manager Larry Crow said he and Carroll Davidson, Chamber of Commerce manager, will work with the committee.

"I don't know of any better place to put the school than Big Spring," said Mayor Zachariah. "Geographically, we have the best location in West Texas," he added.

The board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools has received authority to proceed with the selection of a site. An Enabling Act passed by the state legislature states, "The school shall be located at some point west of the one hundredth meridian or within any county through which the one hundredth meridian passes."

Zachariah said many West Texas cities are competing for the school including San Angelo, Odessa and Midland. "The 100th meridian was designated so that the school will be located in West Texas," the mayor said. "Midland is particularly interested in the school."

The act provides that selection of a site shall be determined by "its accessibility and convenience to the greatest number of inhabitants and shall contain sufficient land and have utilities readily available."

In this connection, Zachariah said: "We have 400 acres of land available adjacent to the Big Spring State Hospital. The site is located near two transcontinental highways, and two interstate highways eventually will be located near there."

Other requirements of the act are that the site should be near a medical center or a college or university.

Attendants and food service personnel comprise the two largest groups of employees in a school for the mentally retarded. City officials said Big Spring has a favorable labor market for these categories of employees.

Other state schools for the diagnosis, training, education, supervision, treatment, care and control of mentally retarded are located in Abilene, Waco and Corpus Christi.

Mayor Zachariah pointed out Abilene is excluded from consideration for the new school as it lies east of the 100th meridian.

FOLLOWING ASSASSINATION

Investigators Tracking Down Many Aspects

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — While Americans grope with the enormity of a presidential assassination, they also are asking questions about the details of John F. Kennedy's slaying Nov. 22.

the bolt-action rifle police say is the assassination gun—in other words, did another man stand beside accused Lee Harvey Oswald and fire with him?

SOME ANSWERS

Some answers were given by Dallas police before FBI agents took over both the investigation and the physical evidence and immediately halted progress reports.

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade, who like other officers has said repeatedly that Oswald killed Kennedy, also repeatedly has said: "We have no concrete evidence that anyone assisted him (Oswald) in this."

Was the assassination a conspiracy followed by the slaying of the accused triggerman so he could not reveal the plot?

What group of conspirators, for instance, would entrust such a mission to a troublemaker who never got along with people

While he lived in New York's Bronx, Fort Worth, New Orleans, occasionally in Irving, Tex., and for a brief, tragic time in Dallas.

There is evidence that the Russians were glad to let him leave their country with his Russian wife after he lived there three years and renounced his American citizenship—and then had a change of mind.

When Jack Ruby darted out of a crowd 48 hours after Kennedy died and killed Oswald, the question arose:

Was this the silencer for a conspiracy, ordered to seal Oswald's lips with death?

Investigators promptly probed this possibility and Wade was asked if there was any connection.

"I know of none," Wade said. There have been reports that Oswald was seen once in Ruby's stripper joint, the Carousel Club but this is of questionable significance to the case.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Garment manufacturer Abraham Zapruder doesn't want to talk any more about the $25,000 he gave to the family of slain policeman J. D. Tippit.

Zapruder, an amateur photographer, is taking no telephone calls and giving no information about the sale of the film or the gift, his wife said.

Small Turnout For Kiwanis' Chili Supper

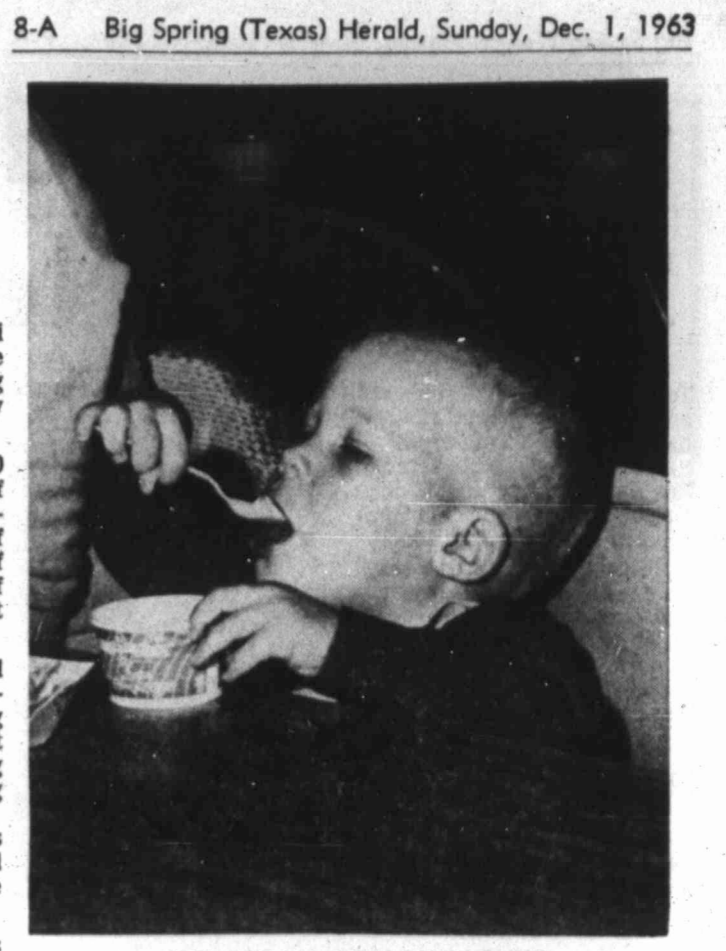

The Kiwanis Club's first chili supper, served Saturday in the H.C.J. Student Union dining room, failed to draw as many "chili eaters" as expected.

The products made from 250 pounds of meat, 50 pounds of pinto beans, and other ingredients, along with 10 cases of crackers, a small mountain of ice cream, several pounds of coffee, and cold drinks, did not go as fast as anticipated.

Harvey Clay, chili maker, and Delaine Crawford, mess sergeant, indicated that the timing might have been bad when it was set up for the Thanksgiving weekend holiday when many Big Springers were out of town.

Starting at 5 p.m., patrons came in steadily, but slowly, and the tables were never full in the dining room.

All Kiwanians were drafted as cooks, dishwashers, waiters, bus boys or ushers.

THE WEEK

carried the young pilot to his date of her birth. Diane was born prematurely Sept. 23. At 1 pound and 12 ounces none thought she could survive, especially when she lost three ounces. But she clung to life, with everyone at the hospital puffing at that tiny flame. Now up to 5 pounds, 2 ounces, Diane has gone home, and there may be just a wee job of unspooling to do.

Now that it's all over, we're sort of glad the University of Texas came through and retained its No. 1 national football rating. Seeing that they had the noble Steer on the ropes, you can't blame the Aggies for calling them the Texas Luck-horns.

Our Sam Blackburn has an unhappy way of altering the weather. Back in October he wrote about the unprecedented period of autumnal calm which had fastened itself on the area. By the time his bit saw print, the wind was blowing like what-for. Last week he wrote about the unheard-of situation of no frost by Thanksgiving, and presto, it got down to 25 degrees. The cotton farmers and hay fever sufferers could applaud that, for they were ready for a record 265-day growing season to end.

There are a couple of new organizations on the horizon—the Choir Boosters which has a $1 membership fee and is open to any parent or friend of school choral programs. Another is a Howard County unit of the American Cancer Society, which last week had a preliminary organizational meeting and set Dec. 10 as the date for naming the first regular slate of officers.

Our people appear to be in a worshipful mood. Last Sunday unusually large crowds were on hand for church. Several hundred then went to the amphitheatre for brief memorial rites for the late President Kennedy, followed by upwards of a thousand for religious memorial rites at the First Methodist Church next day. Thursday the union Thanksgiving services at First Presbyterian attracted nearly 400.

Those who may have been slumbering during the long period of litigation which precluded school bond issues were awakened last week by a board of trustee estimate of needs by the time this decade is out. It adds up over five and a half million dollars.

The Quarterback Club's banquet (Dec. 12) for the Steer football team seems to be one affair that won't require any ticket peddling. Even before the tickets could be printed, our office was besieged with calls for them. Speaking of football, Charley Johnson continues to spark the St. Louis Cardinals. He passed the Cards to an upset victory over the New York Giants and into a three-way tie in the western division of the NFL. How's that for a record?

Oswald Employed Typist For Book

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Lee Harvey Oswald, obviously scared and nervous at the time, enlisted the help of a public stenographer while working on what a public stenographer called an anti-Communist book in 1962.

The stenographer, Miss Pauline V. Bates, said he told her to stop typing the manuscript after three days, explaining he had only $10.

17 MONTHS This occurred only 17 months before Oswald, an admitted Communist sympathizer, was to be accused of killing President Kennedy. In turn, a Dallas night spot owner killed Oswald two days later as city police started to move him to the county jail.

Oswald had returned after nearly three years in Russia. He went there in 1959, declaring he wanted to renounce U.S. citizenship, but later obtained a State Department permission and loan to return to this country.

Miss Bates said Oswald came to her office with a mass of notes condemning life in the Soviet Union, presumably jotted down while he was abroad. She recalled typing this paragraph at one point:

"The TV (in Russia) carries nothing but the Communist party line, but you have to turn it on or somebody gets suspicious. A few have hidden radios and are enthusiastic over the Voice of America."

Miss Bates estimated she had transcribed a third of a book manuscript June 18, 19 and 20 last year while Oswald waited, "fidgety and jumping up and down." She related these details:

He did not permit her to keep his notes overnight or even to see them alone, Oswald refused to let Miss Bates keep copies of what she typed and he ordered the carbon paper destroyed.

Once he displayed a letter from a Fort Worth engineer expressing interest in getting the book published. She did not recall the name of the engineer.

WORRIED On the third day he went to her office, Oswald, seemingly worried or scared, stopped Miss Bates after she had finished 10 pages.

"Ten dollars is all I've got," he said and handed her the money.

She offered to finish the typing job and let him pay later. He refused the offer and left.

Two days after that Miss Bates saw him on downtown streets. Oswald did not speak.

Wants Kennedy On Half Dollars

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Tex., wants Congress to authorize a special 50-cent coin in memory of President Kennedy.

The bill introduced Friday by Gonzalez calls for proceeds from sale of the coins to finance the erection of a Kennedy monument in Washington. It proposes a nationwide contest on a design.

The time required for three shots was 3 1/2 seconds.

These are the answers known by Dallas authorities to date. The final answers may not be known until the presidential investigating commission reports to the nation, if then.

Top-Level Panel To Investigate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson named a top-level panel to investigate the assassination of President John F. Kennedy so that the nation, the world and history will know the facts.

That was Johnson's mandate to the special presidential commission named Friday night. He chose Chief Justice Earl Warren to head it.

In addition to Warren, Johnson named these six to the commission: Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga.; Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky.; Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La.; Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich.; former Central Intelligence Agency Director Allen W. Dulles, and one-time disarmament negotiator John J. McCloy.

Long Line Waits To Visit Grave

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 40,000 persons moved in a long line under dark skies Friday to view John F. Kennedy's grave—and the fulfillment of a prophetic wish.

Jack Metzler, director of Arlington National Cemetery, said just a few months ago the late President stood near the spot where he is now buried.

Paul Fuqua, 23, a guide at the Custis-Lee mansion which sits on high ground surrounded by the sprawling cemetery, recalled Kennedy's unexpected visit last March 3.

"It was a really beautiful day, just one of those days," Fuqua said. "We were walking around, and I told the President: 'If I lived in the White House, I'd move the White House out here, the view is so beautiful.'"

"The President said yes and added: 'I could stay up here forever.'"

Findings Vital

DALLAS (AP) — Gov. John Connally in a statement issued from his hospital bed Saturday said it is vital that the world be given all the evidence in the assassination of John F. Kennedy.

Record Of Truancy Revealed From Bronx

NEW YORK (AP)—The Post said Saturday that Lee Harvey Oswald, accused as the assassin of President John F. Kennedy, had a psychiatric and truancy record in the Bronx.

The newspaper, in a copyright story, quoted Florence M. Kelley, presiding justice of the Family Court, as saying the information has been given to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

"It was learned from other sources that the psychiatric report recommended young Oswald—then only 13—for commitment," the Post said. "The recommendation was turned down by the court."

"The probation report found schizophrenic tendencies and said that Oswald was 'potentially dangerous.'"

"The boy's mother testified that she could not cope with him."

Young Oswald had been taken to the court in 1953 for long-term truancy.

Justice Kelley, who was not a member of the court at the time, confirmed that there had been a psychiatric report on Oswald, but declined to disclose the nature of it, the Post said.

It quoted her as saying: "Our records are always confidential and we never reveal them to anyone. I did give some information to the FBI, as an exception, and contrary to our regular rules, for the simple reason that Oswald is dead and if this kind of report could cast light on what kind of person he was, that would be in the national interest."

Oswald and his mother came to the Bronx from Fort Worth, Tex., and the boy attended two Bronx junior high schools.

HUBERT N. SMITH, Age 54, passed away Friday evening at Big Spring Services 3 p.m. at the Berea Baptist Church. Interment, Trinity Memorial Park.

Child Injured In Shooting

Cindy Thompson, 6-year-old granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Carpenter, 2300 Runnels, remained in critical condition Saturday following an accidental shooting.

Friends of the family said the girl was accidentally shot in the head Friday night in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Caldwell, 4401 N. 27th Drive, Phoenix, Ariz. The girl is being treated at St. Joseph's Hospital in Phoenix.

Church Forcibly Entered Saturday

Someone forced entry into the First Methodist Church, Fourth and Scurry, about 4:30 p.m. Saturday. Rev. H. Clyde Smith, pastor, said apparently nothing was taken.

Police investigated one traffic accident Saturday. The car of Robert Sanderson, 2401 Morrison, slipped from the handbrake and rolled into the car of D. E. Powell, 1105 N. Bell. Police said the mishap occurred about 10 a.m. in the 1300 block of Gregg.

DEAR ABBY

Another Generation

DEAR ABBY: Why do adults make fun of teen-agers? They laugh at our clothes, our hairstyles, our music and our dances. If they would just sit back and remember what they were like when they were teen-agers, maybe they would stop criticizing us. Please print this letter, Abby. It means an awful lot to us kids.

DISAPPOINTED IN ADULTS DEAR DISAPPOINTED: Adults who make fun of today's teen-agers must have amnesia. Ask them to refresh their memories with their old high school yearbooks. The clothes and hairstyles between 1935 and 1945 were as crazy as anything seen today. As for the music, can you top "I'm Dancing with a Dolly with a Hole in Her Stocking"? and the "Big Apple" should have been left in the Garden of Eden.

Man Charged With DWI

A 42-year-old Big Spring man was charged with driving while intoxicated, second offense, in Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter's Court Saturday morning, and bond was set at $1,900.

Charged was Theodore Noel Flippen, 1300 Marjo. Police said the charge stemmed from a two-car accident about 3:15 p.m. Friday at Sixth and Gregg. Driver of the other car was Domingo R. Castillo, Route 2.

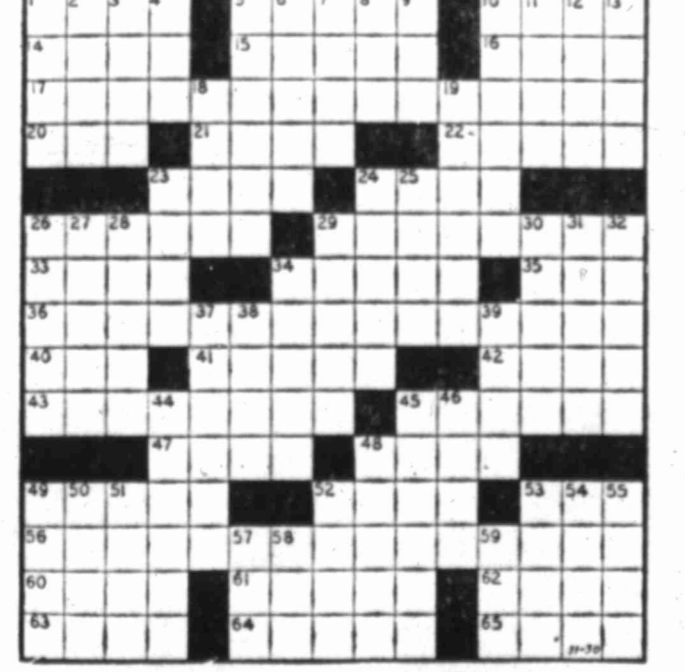

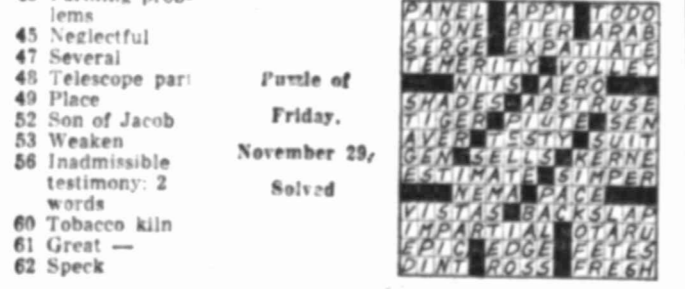

Police said the accident occurred while Flippen was traveling west on Sixth Street and Castillo was driving north on Gregg.

A car driven by Pola Alaniz Cristian, Lamesa, backed into a gas meter in the 800 block of North Lancaster about 11 p.m. Friday, causing an estimated $15 damage. Damage to the vehicle was set at $250, police said.

Locations of other accidents investigated by police Friday and drivers involved: Wacker's parking lot, 1103 Eleventh Place, C. C. Long, 1206 Wood, and Gray Anderson, 2204 Runnels; Madison and Airport Road, Henry E. Moore, 405 State, and Ronald Eugene Pace, 123 1/2 Mobile; 2200 Gregg, Tommie Lou Hutto, 801 W. 15th, and Jesus Ariaz Alvarez, 704 N. Goodlad.

Ranger Talking Up Plans To Improve State Park

A first-rate tourist attraction for Big Spring, at the state park, is envisioned by park personnel as a long-range project. While working on a first goal of reopening the park on a full-time basis, Regional Park Ranger Jerry Tshauner has ideas on the addition of camp sites, trailer spaces, greatly enlarged picnic facilities, modern restrooms and other additions. A few days ago, however, Tshauner and the local park manager, Burrell Cramer, declared they were ready to open the park full-time and to push for more and better facilities. The only stipulation is that law enforcement on the local level must protect it. Cramer has an occasional camping family or trailer travelers to request—and be given permission to make overnight use of the park. The visitors must "rough it" on the mountaintop, though, because there are no accommodations except a paved road and a water tap. And they are locked in the park from dusk to dawn. Tshauner foresees inviting clean trailer and camping spaces for visitors, especially since the park is located just a mile or so off IS 20. Facilities would also include running water at a number of spots, electricity, garbage collection, toilets—and patrol protection. The park's greatest appeal would continue to be to local and area residents—Big Spring families and social groups on outings, a showplace for visitors from out-of-town, and a drawing card for folks from surrounding cities like Midland, Odessa, Lamesa, Snyder and San Angelo. Another factor in the full-time use of the park is its economic contribution to Big Spring. While the figures are slight compared to the city's gross dollar activity, visitors from out of town spend money locally for food, gas and the like. Tshauner cited survey reports that show the average traveler in a trailer spends $7 to $8 per day per person for necessities and incidentals along the way. And the picnicking family's average expenditure runs from $3 to $4 on just a day's outing. The park officials are telling this story to church, civic and public groups in Big Spring.

First Things First On Future Letters

By SAM BLACKBURN

"New York, 'Tootleville, '1000 Main Street, 'Mr. John Q. Smith."

As soon as we get used to employing the ZIP code system, there's a high probability the Post Office Department will launch a campaign to have us address our letters as listed above.

The idea is not entirely new. They do things that way in Russia. Postal officials say that the Red method is more efficient than our own.

When you attended school, you were taught to read from the top down. Yet, the Post Office Department says, the postal clerk to do his work properly has to read from the bottom up.

MOST IMPORTANT
It's like this:
When a letter is dropped into the mail slot in a post office the most important information on the envelope is the city and state to which it is dispatched; second most important is the house number and street address. Least important of all to the postal worker is the person's name to whom the letter is addressed.

The post office is first of all interested in getting the letter to the state and town where it is destined. When it reaches the town, the clerk in the post office there is concerned primarily in the house number and street name to which it is to go.

Only one postal worker—the route carrier—is at all interested in the name of the person on the envelope and his interest is more or less academic. If the street is given and the house number listed, he is not likely to pay any attention to the specific individual the letter is intended to reach. Which, if you please, accounts for letters often falling into your mail box addressed to persons who may have once lived at that address but who are long since gone.

LIKE BETTER

The Post Office Department would like things better, they admit, if the city and town was the top item of an address with the street and house number second and the name of the addressee last.

The postal department is not going to attempt this "reform" right away. The department has already initiated several innovations. One is the ZIP code number. It's taking time to acquaint John Q. Public to making use of this device. There have been other projects. Therefore, the post office is chary about launching so drastic a proposed change as this upside-down letter address plan until the public is in a proper mood to consider it.

Officials are deeply interested in the way the plan is working in Russia. Likely, sometime in the future, the idea will be broached in this country.

Phase 4 Paving Program Begins

Public Works Director Ernest Lillard Friday said work on 12 of 15 paving units in Phase Four of the bond paving program is under way, he estimated completion some time next March.

Cost of the project has been estimated at $190,252.48. Property owners will pay $107,133.77 of the total cost with the city paying the remaining $83,118.71.

The widest streets in the project are 60-foot wide paving for two sections of Birdwell Lane and one section of paving for Twenty-Fifth Street.

Paving on Birdwell Lane will be from the south property line of Twenty-Fifth Street to the south property line of FM 700, and from the south property line of Third Street to the north property line of Fourth Street. The unit on Twenty-Fifth Street is from the east property line of Birdwell Lane to the east property line of the alley east of Central Drive.

Respective costs for three items are $54,598.43, $4,997.67 and $39,042.84.

Phase I of the bond paving program was completed last year at a cost of about $30,000. The $108,000 Phase Two project was completed in March of this year, and the $104,000 Phase Three project was finished last August.

Other work units in Phase Four are: Parkway Road, from Wasson Road to Block 9, Douglas Addition No. 1; Navajo Drive, from Wasson Road to Block 5 in Western Hills Addition; San Antonio, from Fourth to Fifth; Clanton, from Thorpe to Tract No. 5 in the Kennebeck Heights Subdivision; Law-

Steward Murder Trial Is Expected To Begin Monday

The long delayed trial of James Monroe Steward, charged with murder with malice, seemed likely Saturday to go to bat Monday in 118th District Court.

Steward is one of three defendants, all charged with murder with malice, whose cases had been set for trial this week. The other defendants are George Ives and Emzie Woodward. District Attorney Gil Jones had set all three for trial—planning, it was explained, to go to trial with Steward if at all possible but, should that case fail to be ready, to take up the trial of one or the other of the two remaining defendants. Steward has been called for trial on other occasions. The most recent was earlier this fall. At that time, all plans were apparently set for the case to go ahead when the state's star witness declined to testify. It is understood this same witness has now reverted to her old viewpoint and has said she will testify.

Steward is a convict currently serving a six year sentence for burglary. He was brought back to Big Spring from the state penitentiary some days ago.

He is charged with shooting Travis R. Hicks, an itinerant electrician, to death in a motel room in Big Spring. The alleged homicide occurred, the state will assert, Nov. 26, 1961. Hicks' skeleton was found Sept. 1, 1962 in a lonely field in Martin County about 100 yards west of the Howard County line.

The body was identified by serial numbers imprinted on dentures found nearby. Hicks, a veteran, had been provided teeth by the Veterans Administration Hospital.

A small calibre bullet was found inside the skull.

An investigation ultimately led to Steward and the indictment charging that he shot the man to death and then dumped the body of his victim in the brushy field where it remained for nearly a year before being found.

Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, has appointed R. H. Weaver, former county judge.

and Lannie Hamby, young Big Spring attorney, as attorneys to represent Steward.

Hamby said Friday, insofar as he knew, the defense would be ready for trial when the court calls the case Monday. A special venire of 150 was called for the trial of the murder cases. There is little probability more than one of the three homicide cases will be heard this week.

George Ives, the No. 2 defendant on the list, is charged with having shot Oma Flippen O'Neal to death last March 31. The shooting occurred in the woman's home.

Emzie Woodward, a Big Spring Negro charged in the fatal shooting of Robert Lee Tillis, Oct. 25, is the third defendant whose case is set for trial this week.

First Kill For Youngster

A hunting trip nine-year-old Jack Broughton took with his father, Harold Broughton, in the Rocksprings-Brackettsville area, the past week proved a fruitful one. Jack felled a ten-point buck, his first one. His father got an eight-point buck, along with two javelinas. The two are shown here with their trophies.

Fumble Helps Frogs Turn Back Ponies

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—SMU fumble at the 27 and punched the distance in four plays to win the Southwest Conference thriller. Only 2 minutes and 12 seconds remained as Chipman defended through the Mustang siffed for the crucial marker. The game had no bearing on the conference race and both teams were eliminated from any bowl picture weeks ago. The Methodists had taken a 15-14 lead in the third period after tailback Billy Gannon drove in from the three and then a two-point conversion pass from quarterback Mac White. The game, played before 19,294 fans on a crisp, sunny afternoon, was riddled with fumbles, pass interceptions, penalties and heated disputes. Linebacker John Hughes appeared late in the fourth quarter to have clinched victory for the Mustangs when he burst through to block a field goal by TCU specialist Jimmy McAttee at the 27. But Dave Rettig a couple of plays later draped himself across a fumble by SMU quarterback Mac White and the gates were swung open for the furious Frogs. TCU moved to a 7-0 lead in the closing seconds of the first quarter on a 14-yard TD toss by Randy Howard to Bill Bowers. SMU tied it in the second stanza as quarterback Danny Thomas slipped in from the one on a keeper. With time running out in the first half, TCU once again jumped ahead as sophomore quarterback Kent Nix connected on a 32-yard touchdown pass to halfback Bobby Patton. SMU 0 7 8 0-15 TCU 7 7 0 8-22

Golf Pros Facing A Hectic Winter

This is a $10,000 tournament open to Class A professionals. John Barnum of Blytheheld Country Club, Belmont, Mich. will have a chance to defend his PGA National Golf Club title on Jan. 28-Feb. 2. This will be a six-day 72-hole stroke play tournament with $25,000 in prizes. All PGA members except J and H apprentices are eligible. The Senior-Junior best-ball title, 36 holes of stroke play, will be decided Feb. 6-7. # Tascosa Wins By 34-0 Tab

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—Little Pat Harkins passed for one touchdown and ran for two in leading Amarillo Tascosa to a 34-0 victory over Grand Prairie in the first round of the Texas schoolboy football Class AAAA playoff Saturday. Tascosa dominated the game with 336 yards rushing and passing to 124 for Grand Prairie, rolling up 25 first downs to eight. A crowd of 8,000 saw Tascosa score its first touchdown midway of the opening period on a 16-yard pass from Harkins to Harlan Green. Harkins ran nine yards for another touchdown with 1:23 left in the period. Billy Hobbs kicked the extra point. Harkins capped an 83-yard march with a four-yard touchdown run midway of the second period. Hobbs again converted and Tascosa led 20-0 at the half. In the fourth period Tascosa marched 90 yards in 19 plays with Tommy Gergini going the last four yards but a run for the conversion failed. Ted Pospisil skipped five yards for the final touchdown, then passed to Chris Simmons for the extra point. Tascosa plays San Angelo in the quarter-finals next week and officials of the two schools conferred tonight on the site and date.

Ohio State Wins Over Coast Five

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State totted up a 21-point half-time margin Saturday and cruised to a 68-42 basketball triumph over the University of California at Davis in the opener for both schools. All-America Gary Bradds led a first half assault with 18 points, hitting eight of nine field goals. Three other Buckeye starters were in double figures as the taller and more experienced Ohioans completely dominated the action. A crowd of 10,521 watched Ohio take a 5-4 lead early in the contest. The Buckeyes were never headed. They led 21-12 midway through the first half and steadily pulled away to a 41-30 halftime bulge.

Bobcats Top Bel Air, 42-0

SAN ANGELO—The San Angelo Bobcats entered the first round of the state football playoffs Friday night as they completely outclassed a group of Highlanders from Ysleta Bel Air, 42-0. The Cats now play the winner of the Grand Prairie-Amarillo-Tascosa game. Junior fullback Jim Rich racked up three touchdowns while his running partner, sophomore halfback Julio Guerrero, pushed over two as the game turned into no contest. Beginning in the first quarter the Bobcats marched 68 yards in 12 plays in the first 5 1/2 minutes for the initial score. Rich got the score on a 14 yarder around the right side on a pitchout from Henson and Guerrero duplicated the play for two points. The Cats weren't able to get into paydirt again until with only 2:46 left in the first half when they marched 60 yards in nine plays. Rich again got the TD, this time from three yards out, while Henson accounted for the conversion. After Bel Air couldn't move the ball, Bel Air's Jim Alsup dropped back to punt and booted to Guerrero on the 30. After retreating back to the 23, he cut up the middle and then to the sidelines and went the last 50 yards for a touchdown after the clock had completely run out of time. Paul Bean ran the conversion. The Bobcats scored the second time they had the ball in the third frame as they went 57 yards in only four plays. Rich got his third touchdown of the night as he broke over left guard and raced 40 yards untouched into the end zone. The try for extra points failed. Guerrero got the next touchdown as he broke over the right side for 63 yards in the early moments of fourth quarter action. The try for extra points again failed. The final TD came late in the game as Eddie Reyes, fourth string fullback, scored the first touchdown of his varsity career from the two yard line. The try for extra points failed and the scoring was over.

Longhorns Played To Record Gates

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Don Unverferth threw for one touchdown and ran for the second, but the Ohio State defense had to fight off a furious, last-minute Michigan attack to preserve a 14-10 football victory Saturday. A crowd of 36,424, smallest in Michigan Stadium in 20 years, watched as Unverferth rolled around left end for the come-from-behind touchdown midway in the final quarter. The Ohio State quarterback broke with tradition in this tradition-filled Big Ten battle when he passed to Paul Warfield for 35 yards and the first OSU touchdown. It came with 41 seconds remaining in the first half. Michigan had held a 10-0 lead up until the long Unverferth pass. With time running out, Michigan marched to the OSU seven. But a fourth down pass into the end fell out of the hands of halfback Dick Rindfuss. However, OSU couldn't move and punted. Michigan tried to pull the game out of the fire with sideline passes, but an Ohio State interception saved the game. The normally ground-minded Buckeyes tried 14 passes and completed seven for 105 yards while Michigan, more of a passing team before Saturday, threw 13 times, completed five and gained only 35 yards. Michigan opened the scoring with less than four minutes gone in the game when Bob Timberlake booted a 28-yard field goal. Jack Clancy had recovered a fumble by Matt Snell on the OSU 27 on the second play from scrimmage to set up the score. The Wolverines marched 63 yards in 10 plays at the start of the second quarter with Rindfuss leaping in from two yards out to cap the march. Ohio State threatened just before going in for its first half touchdown when it marched to the Michigan six. Unverferth passed to Warfield in the left corner of the end zone on fourth down, but the Buckeye halfback dropped the ball. # Longhorns Played To Record Gates

Although the Steers drew no record-breaking crowds like last year's attendance at the San Angelo slugfest (14,242 paid), the Bovines still managed to set a record in the 1963 campaign for both admissions and money received. During the ten-game spread this fall, 64,163 people passed through the gate to see the locals while $71,707.00 was paid out by the spectators. The previous high totals in both categories had been set in 1961 when 61,935 paid $65,395.75. The figures for this fall average out at a cash income of $7,170.70 per game and 6,416 spectators. The largest crowd to ever see a home game turned up at this year's Lamessa contest as 7,235 came through the gates, contributing toward an income of $7,919.75. # Houston Cougars Ripped By Memphis St., 29-6

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The Memphis State Tigers raced to their first undefeated football season in 25 years Saturday with a spirited 29-6 victory over Houston in a last effort to impress the bowl scouts. The dependable power of fullback Dave Casinelli and the spectacular efforts of reserve quarterback Billy Fletcher provided a fine ending to a season marred only by the scoreless tie with third-ranked Mississippi. Casinelli and Fletcher scored two touchdowns each and Fletcher contributed a bizarre field goal that took three attempts before getting on the scoreboard. The Tigers' first scoring drive began in the second period when a stiff wind blew a Cougar punt out of bounds at the Memphis State 45. Casinelli and quarterback Russell Vollmer alternated running it to the one and Casinelli whipped into the end zone.

49ers To Have Initial Pick

CHICAGO (AP)—The San Francisco 49ers will have first pick in Monday's National Football League draft if they lose Sunday's game to the Los Angeles Rams. If the 49ers win, the No. 1 selection will be up for grabs with Philadelphia, Washington, Dallas and San Francisco as possibilities. As the 49ers had to grab Lamar McHan from the scrap heap when John Brodie was unable to play, the management undoubtedly will go for a quarterback it could be Pete Bearden of Southern California or George Mira of Miami. Five of the 14 NFL teams will have extra choices in the draft of college talent. The session starts at 10 a.m., EST.

Vols Hammer Vandy, 14-0

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Tennessee stuck with simple single wing power plays Saturday in punching out a 14-0 victory over Vanderbilt in a Southeastern Conference football game. Tailback Mallon Faircloth gave the shivering crowd of 21,696 one of its rare opportunities to stand and cheer when he raced 72 yards for Tennessee's first touchdown late in the second quarter. The triumph evened Tennessee's record for the season at 5-5 and it may have preserved Coach Jim McDonald's job. The Tennessee athletic board meets Monday and there have been some reports McDonald and his staff might be dismissed. Vanderbilt, under new Coach Jack Green, finished the campaign with one victory, seven losses and two ties. Fullback Stan Mitchell crashed over from the one for Tennessee's second touchdown early in the second period. The TD was set up when Buddy Fisher recovered Toby Wilt's fumble on Vandy's 12. David Lake made good his second straight conversion attempt.

Fumbles Hurt But Wreck Defeats Georgia 'Dogs

ATLANTA (AP)—Georgia Tech, led by Billy Lothridge and Ray Mendheim, overcame a bad case of fumbles Saturday and defeated the Georgia Bulldogs 14-3 in a Southeastern Conference football game. Lothridge set a Tech record by completing the 18th touchdown pass of his career, a three-yard toss to Frank Sexton in the fourth quarter. Mendheim scored Tech's first touchdown in the opening quarter on a one-yard plunge. Georgia, which also had trouble holding onto the ball, scored on a 27-yard field goal by Bill McCullough late in the second period. Fumble recoveries led to both scores in the first half. Mendheim recovered one by Georgia quarterback Larry Rakestraw at the Georgia 23 in the first quarter and Tech scored seven plays later. Lothridge fumbled at the Tech 32 in the second period and George Nowicki recovered for Georgia. When the Tech defense held, McCullough kicked his field goal with only 41 seconds remaining in the half. After fumbling away a scoring chance at the Georgia three in the third period, Tech drove 53 yards for its other touchdown in the final quarter. Tech lost four fumbles and Georgia three.

Tigers Grab 9-7 Victory

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Missouri combined a 22-yard field goal by Bill Leistritz and a 102-yard run by Vince Turner with a recovered fumble for a 9-7 victory over arch-rival Kansas Saturday. The winning field goal came after Missouri's only sustained drive of the game, 77 yards in 17 ground plays, to the Kansas five. Turner's run stunned the record Kansas crowd of 45,000 in the first period. Kansas had moved 74 yards on the ground to the Tiger two-yard line. Fullback Ken Coleman was hit at the one, the ball squirted into the end zone. Turner picked it off and had a clear field for his 102-yard jaunt. Kansas struck back in the second period after fleet halfback Gale Sayers grounded Tony Leiker's 67-yard quick kick at the Missouri one. The Tigers punted out to their 44, but Kansas drove in to score in 10 plays. Steve Renko plunging from the one. Gary Duff's kick put Kansas ahead 7-6.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Pittsburgh, Calif. Mallards finished an undefeated, unscored-upon football season by scoring a 33-0 victory over Philadelphia's Mayfair AC Friday in the fifth annual Pop Warner Disneyland Bowl 130-pound football game played in the rain and on a muddy field.

Las Vegas Is Slated To Get Liston Bout

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The latest on the heavyweight title fight between champion Sonny Liston and Cassius Clay is that it may come off in Las Vegas Feb. 24. If not then, possibly Feb. 17. Or maybe even Feb. 10.

Of course there's not much chance the situation will remain that definite.

These two guys may have fixed the date of a rematch before they agree definitely when they'll fight the first time.

And when they've exhausted the publicity potential of vacillating about the date of their ground confrontation, they may be expected to honor an old boxing tradition by arguing about the size of the ring, the weight of the gloves, the color of the trunks, the wattage of the ring lights and the position of the pianos on the most recent fight date, which they will have just changed.

Here, selected at random, are a few chapters of the Clay-Liston story:

Philadelphia, Aug. 1, 1963—The Pennsylvania Athletic Commission indicates Clay and Liston can fight in Philadelphia in September, provided Liston renounces his role as co-promoter. But "formal agreement" is postponed.

Philadelphia, Aug. 6—Liston says tax problems compel him to postpone his Philadelphia title defense against Clay until "some time next year."

Los Angeles, Aug. 7—Matchmaker George Parannus says Clay, forgetting Liston for the moment, might fight British heavyweight Brian London at Las Vegas in September.

London, Aug. 9—Brian London's manager says he has agreed to terms for a Clay-Liston fight at Los Angeles in September.

Louisville, Aug. 20—Clay's manager says negotiations for a Clay-Liston fight "have completely broken down."

San Francisco, Oct. 15—Chairman of Gov. Brown's committee for boxing safeguards says a Clay-Liston fight would be "a mismatch of the first magnitude."

Denver, Oct. 31—Liston denies report that he and Clay will sign early in November for a title fight, but says "serious negotiations" are in progress.

Denver, Nov. 5—Liston and Clay sign for fight to be held in February at a site to be announced about Nov. 20.

Los Angeles, Nov. 7—Matchmaker Parannus says Los Angeles "definitely is the No. 1 choice to land a Sonny Liston-Cassius Clay heavyweight title fight."

Denver, Nov. 20—The fight site that was to be announced about Nov. 20 is not announced.

Las Vegas, Nov. 26—A friend of Liston says Clay-Liston fight probably will be held Feb. 10 or Feb. 17. Las Vegas is likely site.

Las Vegas, Nov. 29—Liston's friend says please add Feb. 24 to list of possible dates. The exact date, he says, will be announced next Monday, maybe.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Midland Lee will quite probably rate as the District 2-AAAA favorite in basketball this season but the biggest individual surprise could be Big Spring's Ronnie Banks, who was rather timid when attacking the basket last year . . . Banks is already being compared to Odessa's Dubby Malaise . . . Ronnie may not have the shooting eye Dubby has but he could be more adept at handling the ball and setting up plays . . . Cassius Clay recently moved his legal residence from Louisville to New York City to escape an immediate Army physical, which prompted someone to say: "If he fights Sonny Liston first, he won't be able to pass a Service physical" . . . The Arkansas Razorbacks should be rough again in football in 1964 . . . The Hogs lose only eight of their first 33 boys this season . . . When Big Spring bowling magnate Bobby Layne visited the University of Texas recently to be enshrined in the Longhorn Hall of Honor, it marked his first visit to the campus during a football season since 1948 . . . Texas will be the first team ever to play in three consecutive Cotton Bowl games . . . I think it's high time the local school assigned someone to help basketball coach Delnor Ross . . . The job of coaching three teams is too much for one man . . . Al Kloven might be the ideal man for the job . . . Warren Cantrell, who used to live here, could be the next president of the Professional Golf Association . . . Cantrell, an architect at the time he resided in Big Spring, is now living in Lubbock . . . Jerry Tyson, a six-foot senior from Odessa, will be a starter on this year's St. Ross College basketball team . . . Naaman Nickell, the Odessa scribe, says Odessa College's basketball team will be handicapped by a lack of height again this year . . . Tallest boy on the squad is 6-3½ Keith Kuhn of Evansville, Ind. . . Next is Chic Kiefer, 6-3, of Alamogordo, N.M.

DIAL

Godfrey To Pass Up Basketball

John Godfrey, who seriously considered enrolling at HCJC before checking in at ACC, will miss the coming basketball season . . . He's been sidelined with a heart ailment and surgery will probably be required . . . Doctors say he has a hole in his heart, between the right and left ventricle . . . Godfrey is an Aspermont product and twice rated the all-state team . . . CBS may bargain for a new understanding with the NCAA concerning its fall coverage of college football . . . Invariably, the network televises games that the public doesn't particularly care for . . . Quarterback Club officials here estimate it will cost at least $754 for their Dec. 12 banquet honoring the Steer football team . . . Pairings for that Dec. 20-21 series of doubleheaders here will send Amarillo against Lon Morris and Jacksonville Baptist against HCJC the first night, Amarillo against Jacksonville and HCJC against Los Morris the second . . . The two doubleheaders replace the annual HCJC Christmas Week tournament . . . The late Mandy Ruel might have become the commissioner of baseball, had he not quit a job as Happy Chandler's assistant more than 15 years ago to take a position as manager of the St. Louis Browns . . . Ruel lasted only one year as boss of the Browns . . . Odessa Permian's Alan Moravick completed 75 of 140 passes for gains totaling 1,031 yards and seven touchdowns over a period of ten games . . . He and Ross Montgomery of Midland are probably the biggest "name" players returning in District 2-AAAA next season . . . Three of the top four receivers in the NFL—Bobby Joe Conrad, Del Shofner and Eaddy Dial—played their football in the Southwest Conference . . . Baylor coach John Bridgers says his interior line is the best he's had in his five years at the Waco school . . . Elvis Spradling, the HCJC ex, is due to start for the Rice Owls in their basketball opener against Vanderbilt in Houston Monday night.

Steers Were Alert Ball Club In '63

One pre-season football poll had Irving, Galena Park, Kingsville, Houston Austin and Midland in the top ten among Texas Class AAAA high schools and none made the playoffs . . . Wichita Falls is finding the going much tougher in football, now that the city has two other high schools . . . The Coyotes haven't made the playoffs in two years now, whereas they formerly dominated District 4-AAAA . . . TCU's Tommy Crutcher will appear on the Ed Sullivan Dec. 8 television program as a member of the All-America football team picked by the American Football Coaches Association . . . Crutcher almost enrolled at Baylor before he settled on TCU . . . The 1963 Big Spring Steers had trouble moving the ball on the ground but the team statistics revealed, in part, why they wound up with an 8-3 record and 5-3 in conference: 13 passes intercepted in district play, only four fumbles lost . . . And Albert Fierro had only six aerials intercepted in seven league contests . . . San Angelo, to use a comparison, yielded the ball 12

Lee Upsets San Angelo

SAN ANGELO—The San Angelo Bobcats, 1963 Class 2-AAAA basketball champs, opened defense of their crown on somewhat of a sour note Friday afternoon as they were edged out by visiting San Antonio Lee, 46-42.

The big difference came at the foul line where the Volunteers showed a decisive edge with 22 points on charity tosses while the Bobcats only tallied 13.

Johnny Coles of Lee was the high point man for the game with 17. Three San Angelo ball-hawks took second place honors with 11 apiece—Ralph Sherry, Alan McGill, and Willie Allen.

Score by quarters: Lee . . . . . 11 10 16 9-46 San Angelo . . . 14 9 5 15-43

Handball Club Meets Monday

The YMCA Handball Club, known as the Killshots, will meet at the Y at 7 p.m. Monday.

A review of rules and techniques will be given during the convale. The meeting will be followed by demonstration singles and doubles matches, at which time experienced players will do the commentary.

A spokesman for the game said it is a highly competitive sport, not unlike golf and tennis where the rules, properly followed, make the sport far more interesting.

Dallas Game Set

DALLAS (AP)—Corsicana and McKinney will meet in Dallas next Saturday for a Class AAAA quarterfinal game in the state schoolboy football playoffs. It is set for 7:30 p.m. at Forester Field.

Persol Triumphs Over Thomas

NEW YORK (AP) — After only 10 pro fights Johnny Persol is ready to step into the light heavyweight division's top 10.

The undefeated, 22-year-old Brooklyn shipping clerk served notice on the other top-notchers by whipping ninth-ranked Allen Thomas of Chicago in a television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

"I can hold my own with any of them," he said.

The upset victory made it 10 straight for the polished youngster who turned pro in January after winning all of his 85 amateur fights.

Called in to sub for Peruvian Maruo Mina only 11 days ago, Persol displayed poise, skill and stamina in going 10 rounds for the first time.

The rangy, broad-shouldered underdog swept the first five rounds, tried and lost the next two, and then came on to wrap up the verdict over the 12-5 favorite.

A natural light heavy, Persol weighed 174½ to Thomas' 172½. Thomas' record now is 19-3-1.

Frank Ryan Is Fast Man With Ball — And Pencil

CLEVELAND (AP) — Frank Ryan, quarterback of the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League, is a handy man to have around when a mathematical problem pops up.

Aware that Ryan is about to get his doctor's degree in mathematics—a subject which he hopes to teach in college someday—Hal Lebovitz, sports writer of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, telephoned Ryan with this problem: "As of today, how many possible 'final standings' combinations are there" among the top four teams in the NFL's Eastern Division?

"This is a challenge," Ryan, whose team is a contender, said eagerly. "I'll call you back."

"Remember," Lebovitz cautioned, "in your league tie

Tittle, Brown Gun For Records Today

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bald old Y. A. Tittle and bruising Jimmy Brown will be shooting for National Football League records Sunday afternoon while the New York Giants, Cleveland Browns and St. Louis Cardinals attempt to solve the three-way snarl at the top of the Eastern Division standings.

The three teams share the top with 8-3 marks, but it would take a couple of ties for it to remain that way after the Sunday affairs. Cleveland plays at St. Louis in the key game while Giant quarterback Tittle shoots for a couple of passing marks at Dallas, 3-8.

In the West, the big game has Minnesota, 4-7, visiting leading Chicago. The Bears are 9-1-1 and hold only a half-game lead over defending champion Green Bay, tied 13-13 by Detroit Thanksgiving Day. The Packers are 9-2-1.

Two Champs On Sidelines

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Two defending state champions were ushered out and such stalwarts as Katy and Hull-Daisetta were eliminated as smashing upsets hit Texas schoolboy football Friday night.

San Antonio Brackenridge found out something everybody has been telling them—a one-man team just can't win them all.

The Class AAAA defending champions made quite a fight of it and Warren McVea rolled up 38 points but still the Eagles lost 55-48 to San Antonio Lee in the highest scoring game of schoolboy history.

The other defending champion taking the counts was Jacksboro of Class AA. Jacksboro was knocked out by Rockwall 26-6.

Katy, a highly-rated undefeated, untied team of Class AA, was upset by Liberty 26-6.

Hull-Daisetta, also undefeated and untied, was tumbled by George West 22-14. Hull-Daisetta, the state's highest scoring team with 418 points, was one of the big favorites in Class A.

Another mild surprise was a 21-21 licking Pasadena handed to Port Arthur. The latter was the pre-season favorite for the finals of Class AAAA.

Reaching the quarter-finals of Class AAAA were San Angelo, Garland, Spring Branch, Pasadena and San Antonio.

Dumas, the Class AAAA defending champion, is the only title team still in the race. Others in Class AAAA quarter-finals bracket are Graham, McKinney, Corsicana, Conroe, LaMarque and Gonzales.

Dalhart, Crane, Rockwall, Taylor, Liberty, Missouri City, Dulles and Sinton have gained the quarter-finals of Class AA.

All eight teams have been decided for the quarter-finals in Class A, which has no defending champion but has established Albany as the favorite.

Albany, however, was unimpressive Friday night in eking out an 8-0 victory over Henrietta. It was the fourth quarter before the heralded Lions could score and Henrietta lost a touchdown on a clipping penalty.

Petersburg, Merkel, Van Alstyne, Hallsville, Bastrop, and George West and Woodsboro are other teams in the Class A quarter-finals.

Undefeated but tied are Garland, Spring Branch, Pasadena and Amarillo Toscana Garland was the most impressive team in the opening round last night as it smashed Texarkana 58-14.

Dumas, Corsicana, Gonzales, LaMarque and South San Antonio are the unbeaten, untied

FIGHT RESULTS

FRANKFURT, Germany—Karl Mildenberger, 160, Germany, knocked out Billy Daniels, 167, New York, 2.

These are not just ordinary shoes. The "DURAMOLD" and "DURASHINE" features make them outstandingly different.

Men's-Boys'-Youths' Black OXFORDS & LOAFERS

KINGSWAY SHOES FOR MEN

Brown And Black

Here at last is a shoe that can perform double duty. The Durashine treated leather uppers practically take care of themselves, resist scuff and scrape marks, new full dress appearance, easy to restore with soap, water and the whisk of a cloth. The Duramold wonder sole in normal conditions will out-live the life of the shoe. The sole is mar-proof—positively will not mark expensive floor coverings or rugs. See these wonder shoes now at Anthony's . . .

Men's Sizes 6½ To 12 B, C, D Widths 6<sup>88</sup>

Boys' Sizes 3½-6 B, C, D Widths 5<sup>95</sup>

Youths' Sizes 12½-3 B, C, D Widths 4<sup>98</sup>

Here is why these shoes are superior SEVEN WAYS

1. The soles and heels will outlast the uppers and the shoes (under normal wearing conditions) may be outgrown before soles are outworn.
2. The DURAMOLD PROCESS moulds the sole and heel to the upper in a seal that repels dampness.
3. Sole and heel are moulded in one flexible piece.
4. No sole stitching to rot or tear, much stronger than ordinary construction.
5. Sole and heel are non-marking and are embossed with slip-resistant grids.
6. These shoes are lighter weight than ordinary shoes.
7. The upper leather, with new Durashine Process treatment, is exceptionally resistant to scuffing, scraping, staining. Shoes have a smooth satiny appearance, stay new-looking longer.

Consulting Geologist To Study Potential Dam Sites

A consulting geologist is due here this week to make studies of two potential dam sites for a second lake on the upper Colorado River. Aside from the member cities of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, his evaluations will be of interest to some oil operators.

A second unit in northern Coke County has made inquiries to the CRMWD about the availability of water for a waterflood project, but until the CRMWD can see another major lake in sight it may not be able to commit additional supplies.

E. V. Spence, CRMWD general manager, said that surface and sub-surface geology of a projected dam site in southern Mitchell County, about a mile north of the Coke County line, and one in central Coke County above Robert Lee, are being analyzed for foundation and general holding purposes.

At mid-year, CRMWD completed a pipeline from Lake J. B. Thomas to supply the Sun

Oil Company waterflood project in the North Jameson area of Coke. The line has some excess capacity so that additional water could not be delivered, but this must be weighed against the available reserves in Lake J. B. Thomas. The member cities of Big Spring, Odessa and Snyder have priority rights to that water over all users, then other customers have priority in order of their contracts.

When the CRMWD can settle on a dam location and prepare for construction, it may be in a position to talk about more water from Lake Thomas. When oil companies talk about secondary recovery, they talk about big amounts of water, and thus they have a prime interest in the new lake project. Hardly a month goes by that the CRMWD does not receive some inquiry from oil companies or combines of companies about a future supply of surplus water for repressuring.

AREA OIL NOTES

Pure Kills Flow In Blowing Well

The Pure Oil Company has killed a flow of gas, mud and water in No. 1 Red Hill Unit, Southwest Lea County, N.M., wildcat, 25 miles west of Jal, and now is preparing to pump in heavy mud to be sure the project is kept under control while the drill pipe is being pulled.

The prospector blew out several days ago when total depth was 14,814 feet in the Atoka section of the lower Pennsylvanian. The gas flow was estimated at 20,000,000 cubic feet daily. That situation developed while the crew was going back in the hole after making a trip to put on a new bit.

The tools had gotten down to 400 feet above the total depth when the well started unloading. During the more than four days in which the well was out of control the gas did not become ignited and no personal injuries were sustained.

Paul 'Red' Adair of Houston, oil well fire fighter, directed the activity which brought No. 1 Red Hill under control. Presently, operator is preparing to perforate the drill pipe and pumped extra heavy mud down through those holes in the effort to completely kill any kicking. When the hole is in condition it is planned to drill ahead to 22,000 feet to test the Ellenburger.

It is 330 feet from south and 2,310 feet from east lines of section 32-25s-33e and, 2 1/2 miles northwest of the shallow Salado Draw (Delaware sand) pool. There is no nearby deep production.

Ashmun & Hilliard Oil Company of Midland and Pan American Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Roy D. Jones, Midland County wildcat which has indicated discovery gas-distillate production from the Strawn, has set 7 1/2-inch protection casing at 10,620 feet, two feet off bottom, and will drill ahead to 11,800 feet to explore the Devonian.

Located 1 1/2 miles east of the northeast edge of Midland, the prospect kicked out heavy gas and distillate cut mud while drilling from 10,462 feet to the total depth.

The shows of petroleum are coming from the zone between 10,462 and 10,492 feet. Informed observers think the section can be completed for commercial production.

No. 1 Jones is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 32, block 38, T-1-S, T&P survey, 3/4 mile northwest of E. P. Campbell and Leland Fikes No. 1 Elkin, a depleted Strawn discovery, which also logged indications of production in the Devonian.

It is five miles west of Strawn production in the northwest side of the multipay Azalea field and four miles northwest of Devonian gas-distillate production in the same area.

The operation is 7 1/2 miles northeast of Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 1 Bertha Kessler and others, recently completed Fusselsman and Ellenburger discovery, one mile southwest of Midland, Southwest field. The Kessler strike also encountered strong shows of gas-distillate production in the Devonian.

Locations for wildcats have been staked in Pecos and Reeves counties.

Socony Mobil Oil Company, Inc., No. 6 Wayne Moore is scheduled as a 17,000-foot Ellenburger explorer in Pecos, 29 miles northwest of Fort Stockton. It is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 5, block C-3, PSL survey and inside the Waha, South (Delaware sand) gas area.

Continental Oil Company No. 3-31 TXL, 10 miles northwest of Orla, in North Reeves County is projected to 4,500 feet to test the Cherry Canyon in the "shallow Geraldine" (Ford) pool, where the production is from pay above 2,600 feet. It is 467 feet from north and 1,210 feet from west lines of section 31, block 57, T-1, T&P survey, regardless of what the operation encounters in the Cherry Canyon it will be plugged back and completed as a field well in the Ford pay section of the upper Delaware.

JACK M. CAMPBELL

Campbell Is To Be Speaker

MIDLAND — The Honorable Jack M. Campbell, governor of New Mexico, will speak on "Conservation and the States" at the annual meeting of the Permian Basin Petroleum Association at 7 p.m. Thursday in Odessa's Lincoln Hotel Ball room.

In addition to hearing Gov. Campbell, PBPA members and their guests will hear remarks by outgoing president W. T. Edwards, Odessa. Election of officers for 1964 will follow reports. John Ben Sheppard, Odessa, will preside.

Registration should be accomplished in advance if possible since attendance will be limited to seating capacity of the ballroom. New Mexico Senator Harold Runnels, Lovington, N.M., program chairman for the meeting, said.

Dow Men Re-Assigned

MIDLAND — Beryl Gaines, manager of the Dowell Division of Dow Chemical Company at Hobbs, N.M., will be transferred to Abilene as area sales manager, according to E. J. Davis, Texas district manager.

Gaines has been with Dowell since 1953. He started as a service engineer at San Angelo, working later at Rule and Abilene before taking the New Mexico assignment in 1962.

Paul Crenshaw, area engineer for Dowell, will take over as manager at the Hobbs station, Davis said. Crenshaw, a graduate of Texas Tech, has been with Dowell since 1955.

PHILADELPHIA — Richard G. Dulaney, 47, has been named manager of the southwest division of Atlantic Pipe Line Co., which has headquarters in Dallas, Tex. Harry G. Schad, president of the subsidiary, announced the selection.

Dulaney, former manager of the technical section at Dallas, succeeds Winfield S. Schmidt, who is retiring after 46 years with the firm. Dulaney is a native of Fort Worth and a graduate of the University of Oklahoma. He has been with Atlantic since 1946.

NGPA Names Consultant

The Natural Gas Processors Association has appointed R. W. Scanlan as consulting agronomist to guide the industry's efforts in development of techniques and markers for flame cultivation with LP-Gas.

Scanlan was, until his retirement Oct. 31, chief agronomist and head of agricultural relations for Phillips Petroleum Co. Bartlesville. He has been a prime mover in the development of technology and markets for anhydrous ammonia fertilizers.

Scanlan's principal duties will be correlating and coordinating flame cultivation research, consulting with and assisting agricultural research programs in flame cultivation and forming industry recommendations for full development of the flame cultivation market.

Flame cultivation is a relatively new weed control practice which replaces mechanical or hand cultivation. About 30 million gallons of LP-Gas are consumed each year in flame cultivation, principally in the cotton country.

New Compressor Station Makes More Available

DALLAS — A new Lone Star Gas Co. natural gas compressor station, now under construction at Hermleigh, will make additional gas available for the Sweetwater and Abilene area, according to T. J. Skrabanek, Dallas, superintendent of Lone Star's compressor department.

Construction began in mid-November and the station should be in operation by April 1, 1964. Construction is being handled by Lone Star's engineering department plant construction crew under the supervision of Floyd Wells.

Purpose of the station is to compress about 25,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily from a supply source in Coke County. The gas will be injected into the 12-inch pipe line that extends from Snyder to Sweetwater to Abilene. Location of the station is on the Roscoe highway, 13 miles southeast of Snyder.

The station will have two 330-horsepower compressor engines. These engines are controlled automatically to adjust to the amount of gas coming into the plant. The station will be virtually unattended and its operation will be observed from the Snyder Compressor Station, Mr. Skrabanek said.

Rig Activity Gains Four Making Hole

A gain of four over the prior week was registered on the Friday survey by Reed Roller Bit Company of rotary drilling operations in the Permian Basin Empire.

On the latest tabulation, 299 working units were counted as compared with 265 on the previous Friday report. The 299 was an increase of one over the 208 on the comparable survey in 1962.

Shamrock Gives Dealer Honors

Key Dealer certificates were presented by Shamrock Oil and Gas Corp. this week to two Big Spring men, recognizing them as outstanding Shamrock dealers.

Receiving the awards were Barton D. Rich, of Bill Rich Shamrock, 2191 S. Gregg, and Joe Martinez, Cactus Paris Co., Inc., 4300 West Highway 80.

The special recognition is given to stations meeting high standards for cleanliness and customer service. Plaques identifying Key Dealers will be displayed at each station. The certificates were presented after each station consistently passed regular official inspection over the past four months.

Retail Sales Up At Gas Stations

Total sales at the nation's 200,000 service stations show a 77 per cent increase during the past 10 years despite a decrease in the average retail price of their principal product — gasoline. Service station sales in 1962 amounted to $18.6 billion, up from $10.5 billion a decade earlier. During the same period retail sales in general increased by 39 per cent.

ROBERT L. CARLILE

Robert Lee Carlile, who celebrated 15 years with Cosden on Oct. 14, is a member of the family with the fabulous record of service to the company. His brothers, Elwood and Billy, achieved 18 and 14 years respectively in October. Their father, A. L., will mark his 34th anniversary with Cosden this month. Together, their tenure adds up to an impressive total of 81 years.

After a year on the refinery yard, Bob Carlile went into operations as utility man at the crude unit. Duty at the No. 2 Dubbs, the catcracker and the poly plant preceded his transfer to the alkylation unit which he helped bring on stream July 4, 1954. He is No. 1 Operator there, a classification he has claimed for five years.

The native Big Springer married a local girl, Koleta Hoisager, on June 7, 1951. Four children enliven the scene at 1000 E. 21st St. Cathlynn, 11, Bobby, 9, and Kelly, 7, attend College Heights sixth, fourth and second grades. Bruce, at 5, is looking forward to school days next year. All are faithful to Trinity Baptist Church, where Carlile is a deacon and assistant superintendent of the junior high department and his wife is superintendent of the primaries.

Water skiing at Lake J. B. Thomas is a family affair. They also go in for traveling in their camping trailer, which was especially handy for the trip to the World's Fair last year. While Mrs. Carlile is busy as president of the Big Spring Garden Club Council and as a member of the Spaders Club, her husband takes some time for fishing.

Festivities Canceled In Mourning Period

By BARBARA HORNING
The first of December begins a festive month, but due to a period of mourning all receptions and the Christmas Ball have been canceled. The OWC luncheon and Student Squadron meeting will continue as scheduled.

The wives of Class 64-E met at the home of Mrs. Don Genevieve Tuesday evening for refreshments and to put the final polish on plans for a pot-luck dinner.

Wishes for a speedy recovery go to Mrs. Robert Pedigo of 64-E who is recuperating at home after surgery, and also to Lt. Robert Horning, Class 64-G, who is convalescing in Lackland AFB Hospital following a hunting accident.

SPOTLIGHT

The Student Squadron Spotlight shines today on Mrs. Charles Houser. Being OWC representative keeps her busy as she attends both OWC and Student Squadron board meetings. However, she finds she is busiest at home with Bambl Lynn, 3, and week-old Cindy Ann. Coming from Hamilton AFB where she was very active in welfare volunteer work, she is looking forward to becoming a Gray Lady here at Webb.

Lt. and Mrs. Gary Beson of 64-D were visited this week by his brother, Jim, from Columbus, Ohio.

Capt. and Mrs. Ken Robinson, Class 64-D, went to Carlsbad Caverns last weekend.

The wives of Class 64-F have elected new officers. They are: Mrs. Steve Winebarger, coordinator; Mrs. Larry Hodge, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. John Puch, reporter; Mrs. James Brown, telephone chairman. Coffee and brownies were served by Mrs. Ronald Storz after the meeting.

HOUSEGUESTS

Lt. and Mrs. Scott Stewart, 65-B, are hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wolfe and Louise Ritchie who joined them for Thanksgiving.

Lt. and Mrs. Robert Donceel, Class 64-H, are being visited by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Cox, this weekend. They are from Oklahoma City, Okla.

Lt. and Mrs. Keith Irwin, 64-H, are going to Tampa, Texas, to visit his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Irwin.

Sportive Sleep Wear Is Solid

AP Newsfeatures

There is no escaping it. The sportive look is so solidly in fashion this season that you will even go to sleep in it.

For example, an authentic Scandinavian sweater motif is centered on the pullover top of a pair of ski lounge pajamas. Still, if going to bed in ski clothes has you dreaming you're freezing, you can warm up with an African safari sleep shirt teamed with boxer shorts and still be sportively stylish.

Mrs. Fleeman Has Visitors

Guests in the home of Mrs. G. E. Fleeman, 901 Lancaster, for the Thanksgiving holiday were Mrs. C. W. Shafer, Lamesa; Mrs. Elmer Dickens, Fulton, Calif.; and Mrs. Jack Shafer, Sunset, Calif.

Cake and punch were served at the baby shower for Mrs. Charles Houser. It was held at the home of Mrs. James Trombley and was followed by a business meeting.

MR. AND MRS. SIDNEY CLARK, SIDNEY JR., AND LUCRETIA

Move Creates Void In Plainview Civic Club

By JO BRIGHT
Optimist International in Plainview was dealt a blow when the Sidney T. Clark family decided to return to Big Spring, Clark, the club's secretary-treasurer, was named "Optimist of the Year" in 1962, and his wife, Joy Dana, served as president of the Opti-Mrs. "My wife and I believe strongly in the work of this group," said Clark. "As soon as I can get my office in order, I want to join the local club."
Clark has just opened a bookkeeping and tax office at 204 Midwest Bldg. He worked here previously for the Internal Revenue Service as collection officer and agent. That was after his graduation from Texas A&M where he received a BS degree in accounting in 1949. Later he was comptroller for Rutter and Wilbanks Brothers, independent oil operators in Midland. He resigned to accept the same type of work with Wilson Grain Co. in Plainview, serving in this capacity for three years before returning here this month.

making a career except for a brief period when she worked as office nurse for a local doctor.
The Clark children are Sidney Jr., 18, a freshman student majoring in accounting at North Texas State University, and Lucretia Ann, 10, a fifth grader at Washington Place School. Sidney, home for the holidays, hoped to get in some tennis and golf before returning to Denton today. Lucretia, a bit of a tomboy, likes to play football, ride horses, and romp with King, the collie dog that has been a member of the household for the past year.
"King feels confined here," said Clark, who explained that the dog was allowed the freedom of the neighborhood in Plainview. "I understand the city ordinance is different here. We have only a small fenced area at the home we are renting, and King misses being able to follow the children."
Clark enjoys sports and working with boys. He managed a Little League team for three years in Plainview.
"I do not hunt or fish but enjoy immensely the time I can spare to supervise youngsters in their activities," continued Clark. "They need help and guidance, and helping provide it has been a source of pleasure for me." He asked about several local men whom he was associated with at the Young Men's Christian Association when the family was here before.

The Clarks live at 1811 Alabama. They are members of the First Baptist Church.

Scraps Of Fur Go Underfoot

If artists can create masterpieces with old beer cans, match covers and lipsticks, why can't they transform bits and pieces of furs into luxurious dimensions of art?

Jacques Kaplan, an imaginative furrier, experimented with the idea successfully to the delight of his friends. Then he began to paint fuzzy pelts.

Now his latest project is fur art under foot. He is commissioning well-known American artists to conceive of new designs for artistic fur rugs which he hopes to market this spring.

Russian Home Replicas Built

"For Sale: 384-square-foot house for $22,000."

Don't laugh. While you'll never see such an ad in the United States, it's an accurate indication of the housing situation in Russia.

To illustrate the point, several American builders have erected replicas of the Russian home. Some 300,000 visitors have toured the models and have felt convinced that the Soviet home is at least 100 years behind its American counterpart.

Wonders With Pile And Paint

AP Newsfeatures
Women can do just about everything with their shoes but change them into pumpkins.
Maybe you want fake leopard, dalmatian, zebra or pony shoes. One company has the "fur pile" in a plastic squeeze bottle. You squeeze this over another coat of color while it is wet, and later add the spots and stripes with a brush and a bottle of tan or black.
Matching velveteen at home skirts or trousers is easier. You just squeeze the same pile (a snowy substance) onto the shoe after it has been painted with one of the 18 designer col-

Once you are weary of velveteen, or fur shoes, or you need to match your shoes to something else, you remove the velveteen with a bottle of conditioner.

MRS. ROBERT JOSEPH BRECKENRIDGE

Double Ring Service Read In San Angelo

Miss Lela Viola Richardson and Robert Joseph Breckenridge, both of Lubbock, were married Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Angelo Heights Methodist Church, San Angelo. The Rev. M. D. Lowry officiated in the double ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Frank Richardson, San Angelo, and the bridegroom's parents are Dr. and Mrs. E. O. Breckenridge, VA Hospital, Big Spring.

White spider mums and red roses formed the center arrangement for the altar. It was flanked by baskets filled with mums and roses, while on both sides of the altar were candelabra and lighted tapers. Organ selections, played by Mrs. Jerry Jenkins, included the prelude, an original composition by the bridegroom, Lela Richardson was the vocalist. Candles were lighted by David Davis, San Angelo, the bride's cousin.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of angel-peau featuring a sculptured bodice of Chantilly lace, a sweetheart neckline and long petal point sleeves. The bouffant skirt was detailed with a vertical border of Chantilly lace adorned with self bows. Her three-tiered elbow length veil of silk illusion cascaded from a silk pillbox. With a white Bible, the bride carried a white orchid.

Miss Nancy Dean of Dallas was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Bill Ballard, Garden City, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. J. F. Richardson, Alpine, her sister-in-law. All wore identical floor length dresses of ruby red, satin brocade styled with bouffant skirts. Their headpieces were roses of matching fabric with maline veils, and their bouquets were white pom-pom mums.

Leasel Richardson, the bride's brother, has best man. Groomsmen were J. F. Richardson, Alpine, another brother, and Bill T. Bradley, Memphis, Texas. Herb Germer and Horton Struve, both of Lubbock, were ushers.

RECEPTION

The reception was held in the recreation hall of the church, where the refreshment table was spread with a white net cloth and centered with white mums. It featured the bride's cake which was square with four tiers.

Members of the house party were Mrs. J. A. Scott and Mrs. Charlie Davis, both of San Angelo; Mrs. Everett Carver and Mrs. Larry Kyle, both of Lubbock; Mrs. Wilburn Luna, Corpus Christi; Miss Davelyn McGill and Mrs. Dave McGill, both of Alpine; and Mrs. Ervis Coggins, Odessa.

RESIDENCE

After a short wedding trip the couple will reside at 2208-A 35th, Lubbock. For travel the bride wore a white knit suit, black accessories and a cranberry red feather pillbox.

A graduate of San Angelo High School, the bride received her bachelor's degree in music education from Texas Tech. She is now teaching at the George A. Rush School in Lubbock.

Breckenridge, a graduate of Big Spring High School and Howard County Junior College, also holds a bachelor's degree in music education from Texas Tech. Presently he is working on a master's degree in music education.

DATE SET AT HALL

A change of time for the meeting of the Ladies Society of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen is announced. The next session will be held at 3 p.m. Wednesday in Carpenter's Hall. Lodge officers will be elected at this time.

FACE BISECTION

Brows that are too straight and short have the effect of bisecting the face and thereby detracting from its over-all beauty look. To correct this, simply provide an attractive arch at the top and extend the length when you pencil them. A sad look, created by droopy brows, can be corrected by plucking at outer edge from the underside, then penciling above parallel to the line of the natural brow.

Shaggy brows sometimes take more care but you can bring them into line by plucking clean, clipping long hairs a little shorter, and training them to lie flat. This can be accomplished by using hair wax or an application of hair spray. If the latter is used, spray it on fingers and then transfer it to your eyebrows. If a look of fierceness is due to sharp angles, soften the arch and round out the curve when you apply your eyebrow pencil.

Legislation Checked Out

TORONTO, Canada (AP)—Eight of Canada's 10 provinces have legislation based on the principle that a woman doing the same job as a man should be paid the same rate. But are the laws effective?

A cross-Canada survey by the Canadian press shows women's groups involved in the long campaign for equality agree the laws have helped but they feel improvements are needed.

TETE-a-TETE

by kathleen dozier

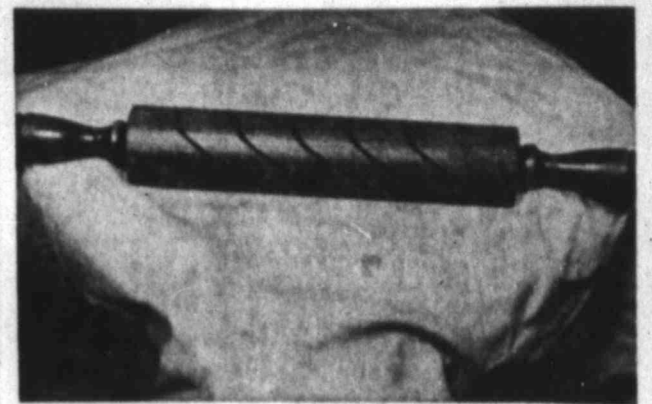

Roll up your sleeves, take a deep breath and make ready for the " . . . season to be jolly" I've always scoffed at the familiar "60-more-days" routine, but comes the first of December, time looks mighty short and duties many. Now if you haven't started, then you'd better not dilly-dally. Take the kids to school and blast right on to town in the morning. You may not get all that shopping done, but you can get those packages ready for out-of-town mailing. It's important to do this, otherwise it won't be much of a Christmas for the overburdened postmen. They'll work like crazy, so lets give them a hand by posting early. O. K.?

Have you heard? This week some of the BSHS graduates in classes of '20, '21 and '22 got together at Elmer Boatler's house. It was just a gab session, with refreshments on the side, taking up one whole evening. The J. I. Bonners, there from California, were called upon to tell of their experiences while imprisoned in North China. There also were the Hubert Bartons from Sweetwater . . .

STELLA STEVENS

Glamorous Woman Creates Excitement

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — "Stella Stevens has an old-fashioned idea of glamour," a veteran producer remarked, "and Hollywood needs this."

Intrigued by his remark, I visited Stella on MGM's set of "Company of Cowards."

"What does glamour mean to you?" I asked.

"There is an excitement about it. It appeals to all, in a sense, whether you are aware of it or not."

Hollywood Beauty

Glamour is a combination of poise, posture and good taste in clothes and hairstyle. I can't imagine anyone being glamorous who is lacking in any one of these.

"And, of course, grooming is of great importance," she added. "That means caring about your appearance. Being so organized and disciplined that you check all the little and big things that need to be looked after."

"Tril and error has taught me everything I know. I enjoy experimenting, and I am willing to discard my mistakes. You can't be glamorous with a closed mind."

"When the new fashion of eye make-up was introduced, I tried every type of eye-liner and mascara on the market. I brushed on liquid liners. I put on artificial lashes. I tried mascara in tubes, wands and bottles, but I decided the most flattering effect for me was my old method of cake mascara. I brush it across my lashes and then under and up. I get them coated without looking too artificial."

"When you notice make-up rather than the face, it is not glamorous. Theatrical tricks should be saved for the theatre, for characterization and strong lights."

"I used too much make-up in my early teens. Most girls do until someone they admire very much tells them to go wash their faces."

"As for colors—they're important to the way you look, feel and act. I am very sensitive to them and get a lift or a let-down. I get depressed if I wear brown. I want to run from Kelly green. Blue is my favorite, but I like basic black, white and red."

"But dark red lipstick or nail polish makes me uncomfortable. When it comes to lipsticks and nail polish, I prefer pale shades."

"I tried many colors of eye-shadow, but I found that the natural shades were more flattering on me. I like to wear a pink-brown, but when I wear a blue dress I use blue shadow."

"You can't follow fashion at the expense of your individuality, but you can't ignore it either. When in doubt consult a man. He'll know what is becoming. It is a big mistake to dress for women. I choose all my clothes for the opposite sex. I am from the South and we appreciate femininity in every form. A soft voice and manner is more effective than an aggressive approach."

"I forgot to mention," Stella said in parting, "with trial and error I learned about perfumes. I used a great many scents until one day I used a perfume and everywhere I went I received compliments. Every time I wore it someone wanted to know the name of it. I realized that I had found my fragrance. There is an air of mystery to it. And I think with true glamour, there is also an air of mystery."

TEN top stars tell their favorite beauty secrets in a brand-new Leaflet M-114, "Glamour Recipes from the Pantry." For your copy send 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, care of The Herald, P. O. Box 1111, Los Angeles, California 90053.

You'll Have It Made In Year '82

AP Newsfeatures

Today a woman's work may never be done, but if she can just hold out until tomorrow, or 1982 to be exact, she won't have any housework to do.

By then she will throw away the plastic dishes spawned by her individual home molding set. An ultrasonic closet will automatically dryclean her garments hanging inside.

Other articles of clothing that might ordinarily fill her laundry hamper will be made of a cheap paper composition and therefore can be discarded into the incinerator, along with the dirty dishes.

These are a few of the joys of future homemaking prophesied by professional home economists during a "Modernize Your Homemaking Ideas" program sponsored in Washington, D. C., by the American Home Economics Association and the National Association of Home Builders.

Others include duct work that will permanently deodorize the entire home and windows that close at the first drop of rain.

Wrap With Imagination

A pile of colorfully wrapped gifts under the tree is a decorative and tantalizing sight. Packages in bright red and green wrappings; mysterious looking packages, odd-shaped and interesting... these are all part of the excitement of Christmas.
A big part of the fun of Christmas is wrapping gifts, and wrapping them with imagination. You can find unusual and, inexpensive gift wrap ideas around the house, especially in your sewing room.
For instance, wrap a gift for an Americana buff in a gay provincial print fabric, and tie it with twine. For a child's gift, use the color edition of the comics page, secured with strands of cotton yarn. When you give a kitchen accessory, wrap it in a cotton dish towel for two gifts in one.
To please a lady of any age, fashion a very special present with frostings of eyelet ruffings and lace over velvetene. Wrap each gift with imagination and you'll add an extra measure of thoughtfulness to the simplest present.

Granny Gown Has Old-World Charm

While some loungewear is so glamorous that it can mingle with the formal wear, others are frankly intimate and old-fashioned. A heart and foot-warming design popular for winter are Granny gowns from Australia, long-sleeved, floor-length, smocked, and delicately embroidered in the style of the Old World.

'ROUND TOWN
By LUCILLE PICKLE

Today will see most of the Thanksgiving holiday visitors on their way back to their homes for at least another month when many will leave again for the Christmas vacations.
In Our Town this afternoon the public is invited to several interesting places, and both the activities planned are to be held between the hours of 1 and 5 p.m.
All the old timers in this area know Mrs. E. H. HAPPEL, who is to be honored by the local members of the Permian Basin Porcelain Art Club at their exhibit in the Big Spring Country Club. Mrs. Happel has for many years taught china painting as well as other media of painting.
Each member of the Porcelain club is required to exhibit one piece of new work each year, and although there are only 46 members in the club, each year there are several hundred pieces of work shown. There will be between four and five hundred pieces on display today at the first show given in Big Spring by the club.
Also while you are out driving today you will probably enjoy dropping by Estah's, Faye's, or Quigleys flower shops and seeing the beautiful seasonal arrangements for tables, buffets, doors and other decorations. The pre-Christmas showing in these florists' shops will include many beautiful gift ideas. One shop has a fascinating display of Christmas candles which are on the suggestion list for nice gifts.
MR and MRS TOBY PURCELL were joined by her son GARY LYNN O'DELL, a San Marcos Academy student, for Thanksgiving Day with his grandparents, MR and MRS LEROY ECHOLS, in Coahoma.
MR and MRS. FRED MARDIS, Jim and Cathy, of Clovis, N.M., were weekend guests of her parents, MR and MRS HERBERT JOHNSON. The Mardises teach school in Clovis.
Five sisters and their families gathered in Big Spring this Thanksgiving Day and climaxed their big day by telephoning the mother, MRS. ANNIE WILLIAMS, at her home in Glenwood, Ark.
The youngest sister, MRS. TERRY WALTON, and Mr. Walton, were hosts to the family dinner at their home 2007 N. Monticello.
Others were MR. and MRS. RAY MORGAN, Ann and Pam, of Hobbs, N.M.; MRS. NEOLA MILES and Rhonda, Odessa, and the JEFF JENKINS and MRS. REXIE CAUBLE all of Big Spring.
MR and MRS. RONNIE WOOTEN and Martha plan to leave today for their home in Houston after spending the holidays with the LLOYD WOOTENS and other members of the family.
Also from Houston for the holidays were MR. and MRS. BOB FOX, Vicki and Amy who visited her parents, MR. and MRS. BUEL FOX.
The BUFORD HULLS entertained their uncle and aunt, MR. and MRS. J. C. POST of Dallas, over the holidays. This group joined the R. B. HALLS who had their son, R. B. Jr., and his wife and sons here from Altus, Okla. Local members of the family with their for Thanksgiving Day were the PERRY HALLS and the FLOYD HULLS.
This was the first Thanksgiving for little eight-months old

Mrs. Emmett Grantham was hostess to six members of the Knott Home Demonstration Club at her home. Plans were made for a Christmas party Dec. 10 at the home of Mrs. Sony Shroyer. Each member is to bring a toy for a collection to be turned in to the Fire Department.

MRS. RUSSELL L. KRAUS

Vows Said In Church Rites

The East Fourth Baptist Church was the scene of marriage rites uniting Miss Mel-dean Marie Kinman and Airman 2.C. Russell L. Kraus II of New Orleans, La. Vows were exchanged Friday evening at 8 o'clock with the Rev. Jack Strickland officiating in the double ring service.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Kinman, 610 Settles, and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Kraus, Baton Rouge, La., are parents of the couple.

The nuptial scene was marked with baskets of white gladioli, palms and candelabra holding lighted tapers. Traditional music was played by the organist, Mrs. Keats Watts. She also accompanied the vocalist, James Kinman, the bride's brother, as he sang "Because" and "Walk Hand in Hand."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white imported satin with a basque bodice of jeweled lace. It was designed with belled skirt, detailed with appliques of jeweled lace and swept into a chapel train. The veil of illusion fell from a crown of lace.

and she carried a crescent bouquet of white feathered mums and glamellas.

Mrs. James L. Kinman, sister-in-law of the bride and matron of honor, wore a dress of blue taffeta adorned with a cabbage rose at the front waistline. She carried a nosegay of white mums and pompons.

Airman 2.C. Richard Parkinson was best man, Airman 2.C. Bob Green and Airman 2.C. Hollas Hoffman, ushers, also lighted the tapers.

RECEPTION

Following the wedding, guests were received in Fellowship Hall. The bride's parents and members of the wedding party formed the receiving line. Miss Sheryl Whiteside was at the guest register.

Spread with white lace, the table was centered with an arrangement of white mums. The three-tiered wedding cake featured wedding bells placed on the top layer.

Misses Janine Watts, Judy Engle, Susie Engle and Carolyn Cook were in the house party.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Looney and children of Odessa.

Parents Are Left To Mourn

By VIRGINIA PALMER
So few parents have lived to see what Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy once called "the culmination of my dreams"—a son in the White House.

Yet of the four Presidents who were assassinated, three left loving parents to suffer this greatest of all losses.

At their son's inauguration on that bitter cold, snowy January morning less than three years ago the former Ambassador and his wife sat side by side and witnessed the event as no other American parents had ever done.

(Grant's father attended the ceremony, but his shy, or in-different, mother refused the invitation and never appeared in the public eye.)

For the elder Kennedys, who appear to have all the worldly goods they could possibly desire, it is the third time they have faced the death of a vital adult child. The President is also survived by Mrs. "Honey Fitz" Fitzgerald, his maternal grandmother, who recently celebrated her 98th birthday in Boston.

When President Lincoln was slain on Good Friday (in the same year Mrs. Fitzgerald was born) his "angel mother" grieved quietly on her farm in Goose Neck Prairie, Ind.

Before leaving for Washington five years before, President-elect Lincoln had made a sentimental journey to her home. Afterward, Sarah Lincoln told others she had a weird premonition something tragic faced him.

The President's stepmother outlived him by four years, seven months.

Sweet-faced, quick-witted Aunt Eliza Garfield captured the imagination of the American public when she became the first mother to attend her son's inauguration.

Less than four months later on July 2, 1881, Mrs. Garfield, "the star White House boarder," saw him off for the 25th reunion of his class at Williams College. Within the hour, a total stranger, Charles Guiteau, a disappointed office seeker, shot the soft-spoken President at the Washington depot.

"It's only a slight wound—Be careful how you tell my mother," the mortally injured man cautioned.

President Garfield died 80 days later, survived by his pioneer mother, wife and family.

Like so many others, the parents of James Garfield, William McKinley and John F. Kennedy worried when their young sons donned a military uniform. All men returned home with distinguished war records only to be sacrificed for their country.

Those who knew the closeness between William McKinley and his mother felt it was a blessing she was spared knowing of his murder. A paralytic stroke had taken the former Nancy Allison during her son's term in the White House and the entire country went into a 30-day mourning period at that time.

Only one other father has outlived his President son. Dr. George T. Harding, a retired surgeon, had married three times and produced eight children, the oldest of which was the President who died of apoplexy in a San Francisco hotel in 1923. Dr. Harding lived on five years longer.

Plans Near Completion For Scouters Dinner

Plans are virtually complete for the annual Boy Scout Leaders' banquet Tuesday at Cosden Country Club.

Besides the address by Brig. Gen. Howard J. Withycombe, there will be reports or activities from each of the movement's branches—Cubs, Scouts and Explorers.

Bill Crooker will serve as master of ceremonies, and he also is serving as attendance chairman. R. L. Tollett, district chairman, said he was anxious for those who had received tickets to report in by the end of the week if at all possible in order that ample preparations may be made.

The Rev. James Puckett, Baptist Temple pastor, will word the invocation and Tollett will extend the welcome. Unit leaders will be recognized by Joe Pickle, a vice chairman of the district. Cub Den 3, Pack 14, with Mrs. W. D. Broughton as den mother, will present a skit, and David Tribolet, Troop 179, will lead in the rededication to Scouting. Bob Husson, Sea Scout Ship 111, will make the Explorer report.

Earl McKeehan, Midland, making his first appearance as the new scout executive of the Buffalo Trail Council, will install the district committee.

Gen. Withycombe, wing commander at Webb, has had a long interest in Scouting in addition to an illustrious military career.

Squelch Tears; Leave Onion Root End On

Dear Heloise: I must tell you that I tried one of your readers' ideas a couple of weeks ago and was amazed. I just happened to be making spaghetti sauce one day and you told about not cutting the root end off of an onion if you want to avoid crying and onion odors.

HELOISE

I tried this with both the onion and the garlic, which I then chopped up finely, and after I washed my hands there was no smell on them. Usually the odor lasts for days after making spaghetti sauce!

Even the soaps guaranteed to Corduroy Can Be Tumble Dried

Corduroy clothing can be tumble dried, but for best results, remove garments from drier before they are completely dry. For line drying, first smooth out wrinkles, and straighten collars and cuffs. Remove from line while still damp, and press lightly on wrong side.

Printed corduroy shows wrinkles less than a solid color, and can be washed along with other colored clothes.

Make The Tree Gleam, Glitter

When you trim your Christmas tree, buff each ball before hanging it on the tree. To remove a stubborn spot, whisk with glass cleaner and buff, and your tree will glitter and gleam.

remove odors did not help previously. I cannot figure out why not cutting the root ends off would have any effect, especially if the hands are in the chopped up pieces like mine always are. But this is the first time that it has ever been effective for me. Kay Jones

Dear Kay: I don't know why it works either. We tried three different types of onions. We were amazed too.

Our chemist told us that the odor was in the root end of the onion. All he said was that if you did not cut off the root end you would have no odor and smell on your hands.

He couldn't explain it either! Can anyone?

If you can, pick up that old pencil, jot your answer down on a postcard and shoot it off to us. We would love to hear how and why this works! Address your letters to Heloise in care of the Herald. Heloise

Dear Heloise: If you place a bag of hard granulated sugar in your refrigerator and leave it for four days, at least half of the sugar will flow without lumps on the second day. By the fourth day I had 10 pounds of lump-free, usable sugar! My bag was partially open. Newly Wed

Dear Heloise: To remove the ring of alkali formed from water near the top of flower vases, fill the vase with water and add two tablespoons of vinegar (or more depending on the size of the vase).

Let stand one hour or more if necessary. I have tried this successfully. K.K.

Dear Heloise: Here's an idea for little girls' dresses that come with pretty bows and rosebuds loosely tacked to the garment. I remove them with a snip of the scissors and use a tiny safety pin to pin them back on the dress in the proper place.

When the dress is laundered I remove these bows — setting them aside. Once a satin or velvet ribbon is washed it just doesn't seem as pretty. The bows never get as dirty as the dress does. It certainly saves a lot of trouble for me, makes the dress have that continued new look. Mrs. Alfred W.

Dear Heloise: Don't throw away those lumpy polyester fiber or dacron filled pillows. Just rejuvenate them. It really doesn't take long to do and our children think it's fun. Just open the ticking and dump the filling out on the kitchen or dining room table. Do not worry about any mess. This fibre does not blow around like feathers. Now pick up all the lumps and pull them apart and shred with your fingers.

By pulling the fibres apart, the lumps again become soft, downy puffs. There may be some fibres still matted firmly. Separate these into another pile. . . and believe it or not they will never be missed.

My pillow ticking now has a zipper on one end and all I do is dump out the filling on wash day. I like to wash my pillow ticking as often as my bed spread. Carole

Dear Heloise: Instead of heating my oven to bake a meat loaf I just prepare it as usual, brown it on each side in a heavy skillet on top of my stove, cover and steam until done! Mrs. John L. Oates

(Mail letters to Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald.)

Boxes Are Dual Gift

Pretty gift boxes that do after-Christmas duty as decorative closet accessories or drawer organizers turn one gift into two, and make the time spent gift wrapping pay extra dividends.

All you need to make these double-duty gift boxes is a few rolls of adhesive covering in assorted colors, and sturdy boxes. The plastic-coated covering transforms ordinary boxes into durable and attractive storage boxes.

Select gift boxes slightly larger than the size of your gift. For example, present a sweater in a dress-size box so that several items may be stored in the same box. Shoe boxes and hat boxes are especially welcome gift-holders.

DIRECTIONS
To cover boxes, simply measure and cut the covering to size, then peel off the backing sheet and apply. Cover the outside of the box first, then cover the inside of the box with a contrasting color. Use the lining color to decorate the top of the box with a monogram, flowers or star cut-outs. Simply trace the design on the backing sheet and cut out. Peel off backing sheet and cut out. Peel off backing and apply.

You might cover a hat box with canary yellow, line it with "orange ice" covering, and trim the outside with pink and orange flowers. A square box, covered white star cut-outs makes a pretty scarf holder.

TOTE BOX
A gift for the career girl might be presented in a shoe tote box covered with red check, trimmed with her monogram in white, and equipped with a carrying cord. Attach the cord by punching a hole in each long side of the box, just below the edge of the lid. Punch two holes at one short end of the box. Run the cord over the lid, in through the side holes, and out through the holes on the end. The ends of cord to form the carrying handle.

Fringed Shifts Give Dual Wear

A shorter version of the sleep shift is trimmed with a wide band of cotton fringe. It comes with solid-color capri pants, and can be worn as sleepwear or sportswear.

Another interesting style in the collection is a cotton knit pajama designed like a gondolier's outfit. The slim pants are topped with a turtleneck pullover. . . its gaily striped bodice cut to look like a jumper.

Be Original In Wrapping Gifts

Colorful, original-looking packages can be created with fabric scraps and trimmings. For a gift of sheets, use a length of striped cotton ticking and trim with ree ball curtain fringe.

Or choose a cotton fabric in a red, white, and blue star print and accent with a star-shaped ribbon. Attach trimmings with household glue, cellophane tape, or a few stitches with needle and thread.

AFTER FOUR DECADES OF MEASURING

Grady Randel Retires Dec. 21

By SAM BLACKBURN
Grady Randel, the man who probably knows more about the weather records of Big Spring than any other person, is retiring from his post with the U.S. Experiment Station here Dec. 21.

His retirement will terminate 41 years of continuous service with the two U.S. Experiment Stations—the one formerly at Dalhart and the one in Big Spring.

The four decades he has been with the government have been wholly devoted to the study of soil moisture—a study which in West Texas is inextricably tied to the vagaries of the weather.

OWN STATION

Randel, who lives at 207 Jefferson, is not too happy that time and circumstance is forcing him to relinquish his work, that he has loved so long. And, likely before too long, he will have acquired his own standard rain gauge, anemometer and barometer to operate his own weather station for his own pleasure.

Meantime, he is on leave pending arrival of his official retirement date. "I had accumulated considerable unused leave time," he explains. "If I hadn't taken it now, I would have lost the time."

At his home, Mrs. Randel has discovered that having a husband around is handy. She has dug up a lot of odd jobs that need to be done.

"He might as well be doing them as not," she reasons. Randel has been kept busy cleaning up the yard and making minor repairs. "I might as well be doing my regular work," he observed, as he diligently put a flower bed in shape for the winter.

FISHING

When he gets caught up on his chores and his official retirement becomes effective, Randel thinks he would like to do some fishing. He explains that he is not a good fisherman but he likes to try. However, he concedes that fishing is hardly enough to absorb all of his idle time.

"I used to play golf," he recalls. "But when I played golf—to give you an idea how long ago that may have been—all of the clubs had wooden shafts." He plans to do a lot of reading, too, and do ever so many little things about the house that he has been postponing.

Randel has lived here and been with the U.S. Experiment Station in this city since 1921.

He was born in Anson and moved with his family, as a small boy, to the Oklahoma Panhandle. In 1912, the Randels moved to Dalhart. Grady grew up there, attending school and graduating from high school in 1922. In July, 1921, in need of work, he took a part time job as a laborer with the U.S. Experiment Station there. H. J. Clemmer, the superintendent, liked his work and he was given a job the following summer. He re-enrolled in school to take a post graduate session as a bookkeeper, short-hand writer and typist. In 1923, Clemmer put Randel on the job full time.

THREE CHILDREN

Four years later he married Juanita Moore, who had been a schoolmate. They have three children, Lloyd Randel, who lives in Arlington and is with Chance Vought, Kent Randel, Midland, a commercial artist; and Connie Randel, who is a student in Howard County Junior College.

He continued with the Dalhart station until 1951 when the station was closed out. At that time he was acting superintendent of the establishment. He was transferred here where he worked at first with the late Fred Keating, a pioneer superintendent of the Big Spring installation.

His first full time work in Dalhart was the study and recording of soil moisture; his entire career has been dedicated to that study and he has made a major contribution to the knowledge the experts have on this problem.

Dr. James R. Box Jr. pointed out that few men in the experiment station service have had more years or made more friends in the work than Randel. He also recalled that the department gave Randel special recognition last June 26 when he was presented a 40-year pin by the service.

GREAT IMPORTANCE

"His weather studies have been of great importance to West Texas," said Box. "We will be making good use of Grady's detailed and meticulous data for years to come."

Meantime, the news media in this area will probably go on depending on Randel's memory and knowledge of Big Spring and West Texas meteorology.

He may miss it now and then, but many times if you call him and ask the details on some special weather development, the odds are he'll have the answer on the tip of his tongue.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Suggests Name Change, Policemen Thanked

To the Editor:
Out near my house there is a street named Central. It strikes me that this is a very unoriginal name, so I suggest that it be changed to Kennedy Street in honor of our dead President. Barring that, perhaps the next new street in Big Spring might be named Kennedy.

Regards,
JERRY MOORE

To the Editor:
We want to express our thoughts and thankfulness to our city policemen who directed the funeral procession (for Mrs. C. A. Burkes) from Carl Street Church of Christ to our City Cemetery. There were so many compliments from others on the understanding and efficient manner in which this was carried out that we wanted to express appreciation for our policemen and encourage them.

To the Editor:
The Sanctuary, a refuge for homeless dogs on an old hill-farm, comes again with asking hand, I, who am the staff, take new courage as autumn is over the land. First, I would thank all who have helped in the years just past. I would like you to know how responsible I feel in the use of the things you have sent and how much comfort they have given.

We need food (of any sort), old blankets (or pieces), old sheets and towels. Just about anything can find a place here and will be used with care and appreciation.

A Devotional For The Day

The Lord called unto Adam, and said unto him, Where art thou? (Genesis 3:9). Where is he that is born King of the Jews? (Matthew 2:2.)

PRAYER: O Lord, I am a sinner, and Thou art ready to receive and save me. Help me to seek until I find the Savior and know my sins forgiven, that I may go on my way rejoicing. In His name. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

Shaken To Attention

After a four-year respite from school bond appeals, the Big Spring Independent School District patrons have been shaken if not shocked to attention by an estimate of capital needs.

Trustees, in a meeting last week, pegged a sort of "master plan" figure at $5,600,000.

This figure was arrived at by listing the buildings and facilities which the district feels will be needed to serve and sustain an educational program at the point the city reaches a high school enrollment of 2,500. This should, if current trends continue, come sometime between 1970-75.

The breakdown goes like this: Site development $100,000; Auxiliary structures $278,000 (administration, warehousing, bus barns); 42 new elementary classrooms $1,123,000 (eight at Kentwood for $243,000, 12 at College Parks at $34,000, same at Balch site in northeast part of town, 10 at Goliad $260,000); renovation and extensions

$1,182,000 (Marcy library $22,000, Runnels modernization $350,000, same amount for modernization at Boydston, Bauer, College Heights, Cedar Crest, Kate Morrison which are buildings mostly 35-40 years old); and $3,000,000 for senior high school.

Whether this is undertaken piecemeal or in a package, the figures represent the board's estimate of physical costs over the next decade.

Whether and how this is supplied will depend upon a number of factors. In due season, there must be made a first rate case in the public's mind both as to the justifiability and probability of needs and the ability to finance them in an orderly manner which will not inflict undue burdens.

Doubtless the board has given months and months of consideration in making this assessment of the ensuing decade. It now faces the formidable and delicate task of communicating this to the public. In view of the amounts involved, it will not be an easy one.

Tender Spot

Crusty Adm. Hyman G. Rickover has touched an exposed nerve among the nation's industrialists and workers.

He let loose a blast in which he said that the nation's factories are not meeting the challenges in his field—nuclear submarines. He cited poor workmanship. Many of the problems are with conventional parts—parts delivered late, parts not made to standard, or made of the wrong materials.

Adm. Rickover added a little turpentine to this raw spot by adding that management shoulder most of the blame for being "content to sit in plush offices, far removed physically and mentally from the design and manufacturing areas."

This brought a pained rejoinder from industrial chiefs who said it was too vague, off base, or that industry was spending a lot of time and money trying to improve quality control.

The peppery admiral may have over-stated his case a bit, but anyone who has had to go through the ordeal of getting the wrong parts, incorrectly made parts, etc. for construction and machines knows full well that he has found a tender spot.

Marquis Childs Succession To The Presidency

WASHINGTON — No one who has spent even a brief time with President Lyndon B. Johnson can doubt his remarkable vigor.

Even for the auditor a conversation with the man who was Senate majority leader and then Vice President is a physical exercise. While the visitor sits beside his desk he takes not one but two telephone calls simultaneously, speaking first on one extension and then another.

HE BOUNCES UP and prowls the room with restless energy. His points are made with sharp emphasis as he speaks with machine-gun intensity. By way of underscoring what he is saying he pounds the desk and, leaning forward, he grips the arm of his listener to accentuate the gravity of his words.

The drive, the pace, as the last few critical and demanding days have shown, is unflagging. Yet, when this is said, the fact remains that in the cliché so often used one heart beat separates the presidency today from House Speaker John McCormack. McCormack, who does not appear to be in the most robust health, will be 72 years old next month.

THE FACT, too, is that in July, 1955, Mr. Johnson suffered a severe heart attack. It was announced that he would be unable to resume his duties as majority leader during the current session of Congress. The acting leadership role was taken over by Sen. Earle C. Clements of Kentucky. Two months after the attack Johnson was discharged from Bethesda Naval Hospital after a report of "steady improvement."

WHEN HE HAD been in office only two months upon inheriting the Presidency on the death of Franklin Roosevelt on April, 1945, Harry S. Truman sent a special message to Congress on the Presidential succession. The succession act, which had not been amended since 1886, provided that following the Vice President the office should pass to the president pro tempore of the Senate and then to the Speaker of the House. Third in line would be the Secretary of State, with the other Cabinet officers following in the order of their rank.

Truman proposed that the order of 1886 be reversed and the Speaker of the House put first in line with the president pro tempore second. Speaker Sam Rayburn was then 63 and regarded as one of the wisest and most knowledgeable men in the entire government. One of his principal allies in the House was a rising young Texas Congressman named Lyndon Johnson.

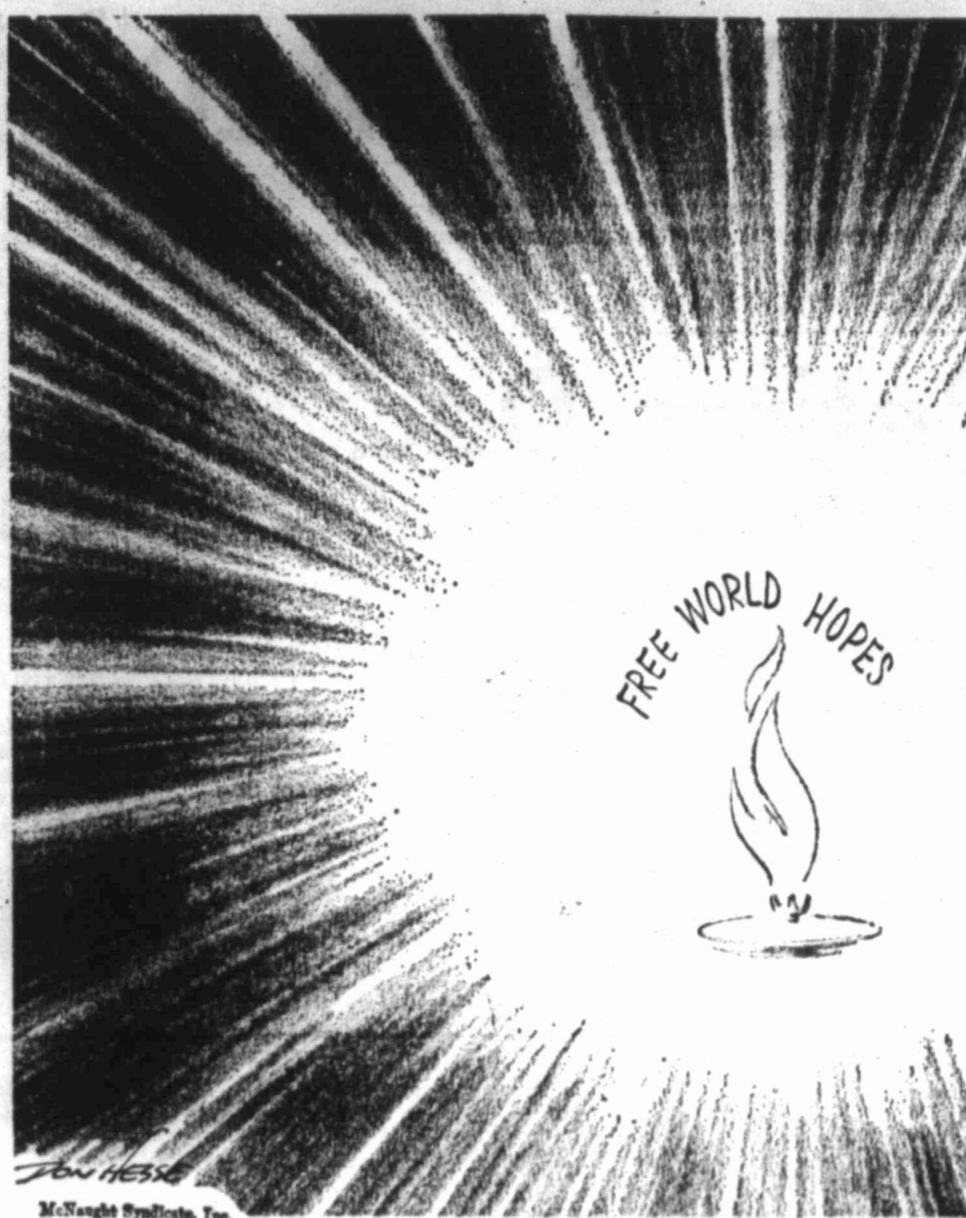

UNDER THE Truman plan a successor would hold office until the next Congressional election or until a special election had been called. The House, eager to endorse this tribute to Rayburn, adopted the Truman proposal almost at once, omitting the special election provision. Not until June 27, 1947, did a reluctant Senate follow suit.

The president pro tempore of the Senate today is Sen. Carl Hayden of Arizona. He is 85 years old. Neither McCormack nor Hayden has had any experience in foreign policy. Surely they must both feel a sense of dread that the Presidency in a time of fearful responsibility and extraordinary peril might by some tragic mischance devolve on them.

SURELY, therefore, this is the time to adopt a carefully thought out plan of succession. Congressional committees have piled up reports on the subject and political scientists galore have analyzed it. A broad range of proposals is at hand. They could be considered without lengthy committee hearings.

"You assume," a wise foreign observer once remarked, "that your Presidents are immortal. In view of the record it is a false assumption as well, in view of the need for continuity of government, a dangerous assumption."

THE FLAME IN ARLINGTON

J. A. Livingston Assets, Liabilities In The Economic Picture

President Lyndon B. Johnson has the same economic assets working for him as had John F. Kennedy—with unity added. The tragedy that lifted him to office has purged the nation of dissension—at least, temporarily—and produced a spiritual solidarity. We're all in this. This momentarily overshadows the economic liabilities, which also were his legacy.

The assets are easy to enumerate: Rapidly rising income and resumption of the upturn in industrial production. These are perennial handmaidens of prosperity (see chart). They create or parallel strong demand for goods and services of all kinds, retail and wholesale.

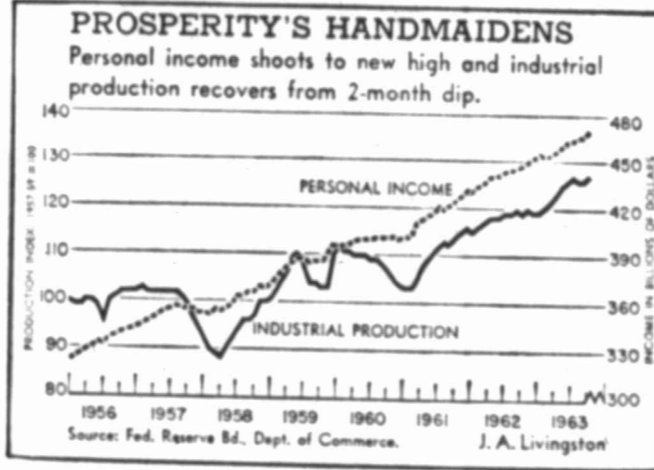

MOREOVER, the fear, doubt, and panic which instantly followed the assassination (as reflected in Wall Street's behavior—we're just a bunch of sheep in men's clothing) has now been allayed. No run on the dollar has occurred. And, as President Johnson asserted in his opening address to Congress, President Kennedy's policies will be his policies.

Immediately to the point, the tax bill—which most business men, economists and investors had been counting on to support prosperity into 1964—is likely to be expedited through Congress. Opposition for opposition's sake will disappear. That is the big economic plus.

BUT THE minuses persist. Most persistent has been unemployment—5.5 per cent of the labor force. This could change. Recent economic indicators have been thrusting upward with tremendous vitality.

Automobile production has run at record levels—well above an 8,000,000 yearly rate. Major companies have worked their plants on Saturday, paying overtime. Dwelling unit starts jumped awesomely in October to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1,576,000. Never before had they topped 1,730,000 and that was in September. Prior to that the highest was 1,618,000.

AND MACHINE tool orders climbed to $68,000,000 last month—the best level since 1956. In 1963 to date, orders have run 22 per cent ahead of last year. Here is strong evidence that capital expansion—a boom in installations of machinery—is accelerating. It is the basis for much of the optimism about 1964.

The minuses are not as clearly on the surface. They can be summarized in a question: Is the economy getting up on stilts, are things moving too fast too soon? Consider automobiles. Suppose we do put three seven-million-passenger-car years back to back. Even then, production some time in the winter months is likely to drop sharply. What we gain in overtime now, we're bound to lose in undertime tomorrow. And, if sales should fall off...

OR TAKE housing. We are on the threshold of a marriage boom—no doubt of that. But it isn't here today. It will not really come till 1965. In the meantime, is it possible that in their drive to do what they have been doing only more so, builders are overbuilding? Momentum—the inertia of continuing—is always prosperity's undoing.

And, finally, take that commodity incident. The New York Stock Exchange acted boldly and wisely in guaranteeing customers of Ira Haupt & Co. against loss. Yet, here was another airpocket in prosperity—a series of acts of carelessness in extending credit, in taking for granted the ability of the now bankrupt Allied Crude Vegetable Oil & Refining Co., of Bay-

Around The Rim Not Much Help To LBJ

As gregarious, as active and as thorough as he is, Lyndon B. Johnson, now President of the United States, has managed to make himself known to most of the people of Texas. He has not been a man to leave a stone unturned in his political ascendancy.

He has been, of course, in Big Spring and in the surrounding area many times, so it's no great personal distinction to be able to say "I knew Lyndon when," or "I talked to Lyndon at such-and-such a time."

IT JUST HAPPENS that one of my experiences with the President would not be anything for me to boast about. It was back in May of 1941, when the then young Congressman from the Austin district, was running mightily for a seat in the Senate, as successor to the deceased Morris Sheppard. Some people might not recall that this is one race Lyndon lost, by a squeakingly small margin, to W. Lee (Pass the Biscuits, Pappy) O'Daniel, although Johnson carried Howard County handsomely.

ANYWAY, Lyndon flew into Big Spring, had a breakfast session with friends, made a public talk on the courthouse lawn, and was scheduled to get off in a hurry for subsequent appearances at Lamesa, Lubbock and Plainview.

I can't recall exactly what happened to foul up his transportation to Lamesa, but something did, and arrangements had to be made hurriedly to get him up there. I volunteered to drive him up in my car, although I should have known better, because it was getting along in its last days.

NOTHING DAUNTED, we took off, and I was driving faster than perhaps the law allowed, and certainly more than the engine could take.

We were out some 15 or 18 miles, as I recall it, when terrific pounding set in under the hood, and it was but a few miles as I recall it, when terrific pounding set in under the hood, and it was but a few miles until the whole engine gave up the ghost, its bearings burned to a fare-you-well.

A LITTLE SICK at heart, not only for my distinguished passenger's welfare but for the money that repair bill was going to cost me, I managed to get the old clunk off the shoulder of the highway.

Now you couldn't expect a candidate for the U. S. Senate to worry much about my problem. Lyndon leaped out, almost immediately was able to flag down an oncoming car. He thrust his hand through that auto's window and said "I'm Lyndon Johnson, and a candidate for the Senate. Could you give me a lift to Lamesa?"

NATURALLY the folks did, and I'm sure were his ardent supporters by the time they got him to his destination.

Meanwhile, I was left standing, all forlorn, and worrying about the fact that I had messed up the whole deal. It was a number of hours before I got towed back to town, and—memory serves—several days before I had transportation and several months before I was out of hock to the garage.

THEY TELL ME that Mr. Johnson, a man of forceful purpose and diligent organization, is not very patient with ineptitude. I must have been very inept that day. Forgive me, Mr. President.

Holmes Alexander Opposing Views On Wheat Deal

WASHINGTON — Sen. Karl Mundt was a schoolteacher and school superintendent in Bryant, South Dakota. Sen. William Fulbright was an instructor in law at George Washington University and President of the University of Arkansas. Fulbright founded one student exchange program, and Mundt co-founded another. Fulbright, a Rhodes Scholar and a world figure, has achieved glamour. Mundt, although he shares the same interests and has an equal capacity in international affairs, has little sparkle and strives for none.

YET, SUCH IS the paradox which always somehow intrudes into politics, that these two men, as adversaries in the Wheat Deal controversy, appear to reverse their roles. It is Fulbright who seems to take the narrow view, Mundt who takes the broad one. It is Fulbright who seems earth-bound, Mundt who seems wafted into idealism.

"The proponents of the Mundt bill," said Fulbright in testimony before the Banking and Currency Committee, "view the cold war as an ideological struggle, which is to say a religious crusade, comparable to the conflict between Christianity and Islam of one thousand years ago. If the cold war is approached from this point of view, there can be no compromise, no accommodation, no substitute for victory."

MUNDT DOES believe this, and for that reason was not willing to use the tax-supported Export-Import Bank to underwrite a Wheat Deal with Russia.

Mundt does believe that the struggle of East vs. West must go to its bitter end—not necessarily as a shooting war—until Russia is defeated by strong American policies and strongly-held American creeds.

Fulbright believes the ideological differences to be relatively unimportant. To Fulbright, we are mainly in a power struggle which would not occur if Russia were no bigger than Albania.

BUT MUNDT detests communism for itself, and has many times shown alarm over its inroads into American economics and government. Fulbright has consistently been a scoffer at the evidence of internal subversion.

Mundt's theory is to deny the Soviet Union any assistance that will strengthen it. Fulbright's theory is to trade with Russia, play for time and to count on the saying, which he often cites, "Man is a revisionist by nature." Mundt sees Soviet history as proof that the Communist purpose to destroy Capitalism is fixed and implacable. Fulbright says:

"THOSE WHO attribute to the Soviet leaders a permanent and unalterable determination to destroy the free societies of the West, are crediting the Soviet Union with an unshakable constancy of will that, so far as I know, no nation has ever before achieved."

Two men—two teachers—two experts in foreign policy—two dimetrically contrasting views of the same problem.

David Lawrence New President's Firm Resolve

WASHINGTON — It was not just the eloquent words but the firm resolve and spirit of dedication manifested by President Johnson which enabled the American people and the peoples of the world to derive from his first address to Congress a feeling of continuity in the high purposes of our national and international policies.

The frequent applause that came spontaneously from all sides was an answer to those persons who had worried about the impact of change itself. Confidence comes now because the new President interprets so accurately the basic desires of the American people.

MR. JOHNSON reflected a universal view when he said that "we must be ready to defend the national interest and to negotiate the common interest." Reiteration of America's objectives in supporting the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Alliance for Progress was not unexpected. Nor was it surprising that the new President said: "This nation will keep its commitments from South Vietnam to West Berlin."

With respect to the highly controversial domestic issues, Mr. Johnson said "the ideas and the ideals which he (President Kennedy) so nobly represented must and will be translated into effective action." These, of course, are broad principles and necessarily will have to be defined by Congress in the coming weeks and months.

THIS MEANS that a spirit of compromise will doubtless develop. Mr. Johnson pointed the way to it as he said:

"As one who has long served in both houses of the Congress, I firmly believe in the independence and the integrity of the legislative branch. And I promise you that I shall always respect this. It is deep in the marrow of my bones. With equal firmness, I believe in the capacity and I believe in the ability of the Congress, despite the divisions of opinions which characterize our nation, to act — to act wisely, to act vigorously, to act speedily when the need arises."

THERE WILL be much discussion about the implicit phrases of Mr. Johnson's address, for they were indeed significant. He spoke of the need for "tolerance and mutual understanding." The following paragraph especially will log be quoted:

"The time has come for Americans of all races and creeds and political beliefs to understand and to respect one another. So let us put an end to the teaching and the preaching of hate and evil and violence. Let us turn away from the fanatics of the far left and the far right, from the apostles of bitterness and bigotry, from those defiant of law, and those who pour venom into our nation's bloodstream."

THIS IS BUT another way of saying that in America the voice of reason can be triumphant over violence and that debate and discussion—and even vehement expressions of opinion—can be phrased to reflect the sincere beliefs of conscientious citizens. But, even in saying this, there is need for self-restraint among those who have become impatient with the slow-moving processes of the law and threaten arbitrary steps to force action.

OUR NATION was waiting for words from the new President which would bring confidence and quiet the emotions arising out of our controversies in domestic and foreign issues. Mr. Johnson met the test. He gave the country and the world assurance that the government of the United States continues to reflect the ideals and high purposes of the American people unmarred by the tragedies of the past few days.

New Type Paper Money Due Soon

DEAR BOSS:

They're going to issue a new type $1 bill, Boss, and I have not had a chance to get my hands on but a few of the old type. You might say that they are going to turn out a new design even before I have become familiar with the old one.

Early in 1964—which is right around the corner, Boss—the Treasury will come out with a new looking $1 bill. It all comes about, as I understand it, because Congress passed a law last June requiring the retirement of the $1 Silver Certificate now in circulation and their replacement with $1 Federal Reserve notes.

The consoling thing, Boss, is that the program may take as long as 10 years to complete. You see there are 1,500,000,000 $1 bills now in circulation. The normal life expectancy of a bill is 18 months. (They don't last that long, Boss, when they get in my hands. Eighteen minutes would be nearer correct.) Anyway it may be 1874 before all of the old bills are gathered in.

I've never tried it, Boss, but they tell me if I took a $1 silver certificate to a bank and said "Look here, you—give me silver for this bill," they'd shell out with the old hard money.

But when the new federal reserve notes are put into circulation, this won't work. According to what I read, there's $1 in silver stored up for each $1 silver certificate floating around. The new federal reserve certificates—like the other money we use—will be backed up, not by metal in a vault somewhere, but by the good faith and soundness of the federal government.

The way I get it, Boss, when these new bills come out you will not notice any great difference in the way they look. (Assuming of course that you now have a $1 silver certificate and later on, a $1 federal reserve certificate.)

The back of the new bill will be the same as the present bills. The backs will be green, with a repi-ca of the great seal on the left, the U.S. seal on the right and the words "In God We Trust—One," in the middle.

Someone pointed out, Boss, that the "In God We Trust" phrase is constitutionally o.k. The Supreme Court so indicated in the decision on school prayers.

Turn that new bill over when you get one, Boss. Note the change. Where the old bills say "silver certificate" the new ones will read "Federal Reserve Certificate."

There are some other minor differences—but you can pick 'em out when you get your hands on one of these new bills.

Meantime, I hear that the presses are all siled and laced to start whipping out the new bills. The first copies should be released in January or February. As they are put in circulation, the old silver certificates will be pulled in and the silver backing them up will be released for melting up and minting into coins.

There is no indication, Boss, that these new bills when they are put into circulation will be any easier to get-ahold of than the old ones.

Your Money-Minded Repo., or, SAM BLACKBURN

Howard County's Gold Star boy and girl for 1963 will join the winners from 19 other West Texas counties Monday night in Lubbock for the sixth Annual 4-H Club Gold Star Banquet. The event, staged by the South Plains Cooperative, Inc., will be in the First Methodist Church at 7 p.m.

Howard County's delegates are Kathy Shaw, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Shaw, 1806 Alabama; and Bob Adkins, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Adkins, Lomax. Two other Howard County 4-H Club leaders are to have an important role at the party. They are Bud Saunders, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Saunders, Big Spring, who was last year's Gold Star boy, and Charlotte Mann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Mann, Vincent. They are to be ushers at the banquet and Saunders will word the invocation.

Attending the meeting will be their parents, also Herb Helbig, county farm agent, Mrs. Catherine Crawford, county home demonstration agent, and Lovell Kuykendall, assistant county farm agent. Several other guests are expected to be on hand.

Helbig and Mrs. Crawford, with county agents from two other counties and the district 4-H Club officers in Lubbock, have worked out details of the program with the Lubbock Cooperative. The speaker will be Waggoner Carr, Texas attorney general.

Each Gold Star boy and girl will be presented with a framed certificate recording his achievement. A gift will also be presented each youngster by the host organization.

By 20 that great Cadillac transmission—the newly improved Hydra-Matic or the completely new Turbo Hydra-Matic—will reveal a smooth, flawless kind of action he's never felt in any motor car before.
And by 30 the whole splendor of this new Cadillac performance will begin to unfold. New response. New quietness. New balance and poise. New alertness.

Youths, Adults Join To Raise Funds

By NANCY HEDLESTON

Until Jan. 1, the youth and adults of the YMCA will join in a combined effort to raise funds for the World Service. On every continent, in 83 countries, through 10,000 centers, the YMCA today is on the job working through the World Service program. There are 37 countries throughout the world which have YMCA fraternal secretaries working in them upon request of these countries. This work differs in every country.

The principal aims of World-Service are to help people help themselves, to help YMCA movements in other countries only upon request, to develop indigenous leaders and to build self-directing, self-financing, and self-expanding movements abroad.

Fun In Acapulco

Elvis Presley shares a secret with comely Ursula Andress in this scene from "Fun in Acapulco," opening a four-day run today at the Ritz Theatre.

Egan, McGuire, Dee Top Cast Of 'Summer Place'

"A Summer Place," the novel by Sloan Wilson, author of "The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit," has been brought to the screen by Warner Bros. as a Technicolor production starring Richard Egan, Dorothy McGuire, Sandra Dee, Arthur Kennedy and Troy Donahue and featuring Constance Ford and Beulah Bondi.

The direction of the motion picture, coming to the Jet Theatre today, was entrusted to Delmer Daves, who also wrote the screen adaptation.

"A Summer Place" is a story with a Maine background. Millionaire Ken Jorgenson, with his wife, Helen and daughter Molly, returns to the Pine Island Mansion where he once worked as a lifeguard. The owner, Bart Hunter, has dissipated the family fortune and is now operating the summer place with his wife Sylvia and son Johnny, as an inn for paying guests.

Ken and Sylvia face their old love, determine on divorce. The scandal causes difficult

Young Henry Silva and blonde Elizabeth Montgomery share incendiary top co-starring honors in "Johnny Cool," the story of a gangster's vengeance on his underworld cronies that opens Thursday through United Artists release, at the Ritz Theatre.

Based on the best-selling novel by John McPartland, the story tells of the adventures of a young Sicilian who is trained by an American expatriate to wreak vengeance on a number of American underworld figures. Locales move swiftly from the rugged mountains of Sicily to the plush environs of New York City's nightclub sector, Las Vegas' gambling row, and Beverly Hills in California.

Playing his first stellar assignment in the title role of "Johnny Cool," Henry Silva portrays a volatile, romantic and adventuresome young Sicilian who comes to America to seek out the enemies of another man's past. The name he adopts is an Americanized version of Colini, the man whom Johnny Cool seeks to avenge.

Elizabeth Montgomery makes it a double star debut by playing her first major screen role opposite Silva. She portrays an ultra-smart, ultra-modern New York career girl, on the rebound from a recent divorce, who gets caught up in the whirlpool of Johnny Cool's mission of murder. The daughter of famed Robert Montgomery, her talent reflects the long-respected Montgomery heritage as a performer.

In the guest-star contingent, Sammy Davis Jr., plays the role of "Educated," a crap-shooter who uses "instructed" dice; Joey Bishop plays a comedy role as a Los Angeles used car salesman. Mort Sahl portrays a highly successful business man and operator of a Las Vegas gambling casino; Telly Savalas is seen in the role of an international underworld figure; Brad Dexter portrays a rich Beverly Hills business man; Jim Backus appears as a Tammany Hall-type politician; Hank Henry, the nightclub and TV comedian, plays an indigent crap-shooting bus driver down on his luck; and Marc Lawrence appears as the American expatriate who groomed young Johnny Cool for his assignment of vengeance.

For two years he was a member of the famous Robert Shaw Chorale on its coast-to-coast tours. He has appeared with several orchestras and has toured Europe with the All-America Chorus. He is a graduate of North Texas State University.

Speaking of CONTACT LENSES

Everyday, more and more people are expressing an interest in wearing contact lenses. If you are interested in wearing them, you'll want to know the following facts about TSO Micro-Sight Contact Lenses—unsurpassed in technical excellence, yet reasonable in cost. ■ TSO Doctors of Optometry, through their vast experience in fitting more than 35,000 contact lens patients during the past 13 years, are highly skilled in this field. Their knowledge and experience acquired through these fittings have given them great insight for determining the variable optical and physical factors which affect the successful fitting of the individual. ■ TSO contact lenses are made with an exclusive, highly-polished edge bevel. This is most important to adaptation, as well as to continued wearing comfort. In fact, until a short time ago, the edges of most contact lenses were not properly beveled. Under a powerful microscope, they appeared distinctly blunt. In TSO's laboratory, precise edge-beveling, polishing and curve-blending on both sides of every contact lens eliminates this edge bluntness. Thus, adaptation time is reduced and maximum possible wearing comfort is achieved. ■ Only the finest quality optical-grade plastic and highly skilled workmanship go into the making of TSO Micro-Sight Contact Lenses. And, the TSO standard of quality is consistently maintained throughout processing by eight distinct, precision inspections. ■ If you are considering contact lenses, join the more than 35,000 patients who have been successfully fitted with Micro-Sight Contact Lenses from TSO. ■ Single vision contact lenses are $65, complete with professional eye examination, prescription and fitting. Bifocal contact lenses are also available at reasonable cost. Convenient credit at no extra charge.

STAMPS IN THE NEWS

Ghana Joins Philatelic Call To Save Monuments

By HAROLD C. PERDUE
Ghana is one of several countries which has heeded the call of UNESCO to "Save the Monuments of Nubia."

As a result of the construction of the Aswan Dam, many historic monuments of the Pharaohs are threatened by extinction and money is being raised to save them by engineering schemes. Thus, Ghana has issued five new stamps publicizing the situation.

RAMSES

Two of the new issues show the giant figures of Ramses. Another value depicts Queen Nefertari using a headgear later worn by Cleopatra. The other two stamps feature rock paintings and a sphinx. Each stamp bears the UNESCO symbol.

The assassination of President Kennedy has affected our hobby as well. Postmaster General Gronouski announced in Washington that the first day ceremonies plans for the Nov. 29 release of the five-cent Audubon has been postponed. This will take place later this year, but no date was given. First Day Covers in Henderson Kentucky will be held until that time. These stamps probably will not be available at local post offices until after those first day ceremonies. KENNEDY STAMP

In connection with this historic event, an issue in memory of our late President can be expected soon. It should be one of the most popular U.S. stamps of the 20th Century.

A report has been received on recent first day sales. There were 860,155 covers canceled Oct. 11 at the release of the Eleanor Roosevelt stamp. The five-cent Science issue total was 504,503 covers canceled. And the Norman Rockwell designed City Delivery stamp had a cancellation of 544,806 on Oct. 26.

JET SERVICE

On or about Dec. 15, Delta Airlines will inaugurate new jet airmail service at West Palm Beach, Fla. (33401). An official cachet will be provided and the usual philatelic treatment will be provided.

A New York collector has turned his hobby into a small fortune, according to reports last week. One sheet of four-cent U.S. stamps purchased for $2 Feb. 28 has been parlayed into $10,000.

The misprints, on which black lettering and colors were missing, have been declared genuine by U.N. Postal Administration officials. They are puzzled, but admit they are genuine. All copies were carefully screened by the printers in London, then by Crown Agents, and finally by U.N. officials. The wholesaler in New York plans to break the sheet down and sell the individual stamps. Each one should retail for about $400.
