Court Upholds State Labor Ban Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court decided today state courts may enforce state bans on agency shop labor contracts.

Justice Douglas delivered the 8-0 decision. Justice Goldberg, former secretary of labor, took no part. Workers under agency shop contracts do not have to become union members but must pay the equivalent of dues and fees which members pay.

The Florida case was appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court by Local 1625 of the AFL-CIO Retail Clerks Union. The local had an agency shop agreement with Food Fair, Inc., stores in Miami. A group of non-union employees of Food Fair protested against paying fees to the union and the Florida Supreme Court ruled in their favor.

Most debate at this final working session centered on a Christian unity schema. The

In the nine weeks since Pope Paul VI resumed the council, which Pope John XXIII called, the Roman Catholic prelates took decisive action in four areas. They also debated three of the 16 schemata, or topics, on their program for renewal of Catholicism and advancement of the cause of Christian unity.

Both topics were debated at the first council session in 1962 and revised during the recess. In one major vote the prelates decided that theology on the Virgin Mary should be treated within the framework of a schema on the nature of the Three persons were killed in motor vehicle accidents here during the weekend, boosting the fatality count to five since the first of the year.

UNAVOIDABLE

The impact occurred near the Galveston intersection. Officers said the airman told them he applied his brakes but did not see Moore until it was too late. Two other airmen from the 3560th FMS were passengers in the car.

THROWN OUT

Investigating officers said Sanchez and Perez were thrown about 50 feet from the driver's side of Sanchez' car. Police said Perez apparently was the driver of the car, which an officer said was traveling on the wrong side of Wasson Road and failed to negotiate a right turn onto Randolph Boulevard. The vehicle hurdled a ditch south of the base access road and crashed into a tree.

Peace Jess Slaughter ruled accidental death in the fatality of Sanchez and Perez.

Law Officers Probe Actress' Strangling

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Homicide officers worked in teams today to question Karyn Kupcinek's host of friends, hopeful of finding some lead to the strangler of the vivacious actress.

Miss Kupcinek, 22, a petite brunette who had appeared in a number of top television shows, was found Saturday night in her modest apartment near the famed Sunset Strip. The body was nude and lay face down on a couch.

The actress was the only daughter of Irv Kupcinek, a Chicago newspaper columnist and television moderator.

Among those questioned was Andrew Prine, 27, a television actor identified as Miss Kupcinek's steady boy friend until a recent disagreement caused them to break up.

Prine, a costar of the "Wide Country" series, told investigators he knew nothing of the slaying but had telephoned Karyn twice on Wednesday evening to discuss their differences.

Investigators said he may have been the last person to hear her voice when he placed his second call about midnight. Officers believe the slaying took place in the early hours Thursday.

TWO OTHERS
Also questioned were two friends of Prine—Edward S. Rubin, 22, a free lance writer, and actor Robert F. Hathaway, 24.

Rubin and Hathaway told detectives they watched television in the victim's apartment Wednesday night. After serving them coffee and cake, they said, Miss Kupcinek retired about 11:15.

The two men said they watched television a while longer, then shut it off and left. They said they made certain the door was locked behind them.

Detectives said the actress' body lay undiscovered—possibly for three days—until actor Mark Goddard and his wife, Marcia, 25, visited the apartment Saturday evening. They were concerned, they said, about her failure to answer their telephone calls for two days. NOT LOCKED

The Goddards found the front door of the second-story, four-room apartment unlocked. They said the living room was dark except for light from the television set. It was playing, although the sound had been turned off.
They noticed that a lamp was upset, an empty coffee pot lay on its side on the carpet and some cigarettes were strewn on the floor.
There was a coffee mug on a low table and three more—also empty—in the kitchen.
Dr. Harold Kade, the autopsy surgeon, said the strangler exerted such force that a u-shaped bone at the base of the tongue was fractured. He said he found no immediate evidence of a sexual attack.

Miss Kupcinek, described by her father as "a bubbling and enthusiastic girl," had studied at the celebrated Actors Studio in New York. She had appeared on the stage, in a movie or two, and on such television programs as "Hawaiian Eye," "Surfside 6," the U.S. Steel Hour, the Red Skelton, Donna Reed and Gertrude Berg shows. She was featured in a Perry Mason program yet to be shown.

37 IN TEXAS

Nation's Holiday Traffic Toll Again Passes 500

The nation's traffic deaths during the Thanksgiving holiday weekend topped the 500 mark for the second consecutive year.

The count during the 102-hour period which started at 6 p.m. (local time) Wednesday and ended at midnight Sunday showed 510 persons lost their lives in motor vehicle accidents.

The death toll during last year's four-day Thanksgiving weekend was 514, the highest since the Associated Press started the count for the holiday period in 1958. The low toll for the holiday is 442, set in 1960.

UNTIL SUNDAY
Deaths appeared running at about the rate of a non-holiday weekend until Sunday when with heavy traffic on the highways, about 130 fatalities were reported. Highway deaths in the first nine months this year have averaged about 100 a day.

The National Safety Council did not estimate a death toll in advance of the holiday. Officials said Thanksgiving is a family holiday and highway travel is about the same as a non-holiday weekend at this time of year.

The Associated Press, for comparative purposes, made a survey of a non-holiday period of 102 hours from 6 p.m. Wednesday Nov. 13 to midnight Sunday Nov. 17 and counted 477 traffic deaths.

WEST VIRGINIA
There were several multiple-death accidents. The latest was Sunday night near Glenville, W.Va. Six persons were killed in a head-on crash on a mountain highway near the northern West Virginia community. There was one survivor in each car.

Earlier, two collisions in Texas killed nine persons. Three soldiers and a civilian died Sunday when hit by a car at the scene of a burning auto near Bruceville, in Central Texas. On Saturday four adults and an infant died in a two-car crash near Burnet, Tex.

Traffic accidents claimed 37 lives in Texas during the extended Thanksgiving weekend.

The holiday toll was recorded between 6 p.m. Wednesday and midnight Sunday.

Three Ft. Hood soldiers and a civilian, Malcolm Romine, 35, of Elgin, Tex., were killed near Bruceville in Central Texas after a car caught fire early Sunday. The soldiers were Johnny Barrone, 23, of Battle Creek, Mich.; Randy King, 19, of Creek-tin, Minn., and Harvey Bush, 23, of Ellisville, Miss.

CAR AFIRE
The soldiers took Romine, his wife and three children to notify firemen at Eddy after finding the Elgin family's car ablaze. Highway patrolmen said they returned to help battle the fire and a car driven by Donald Perry, 23, also of Ft. Hood, struck and killed the four men.

Fire Marshal A. J. Taylor of Eddy, Parry and a companion from Ft. Hood, Thomas Therrine, were injured.

A car hit the motorcycle of Carl McGary, 16, and killed him as he turned into a driveway at his home 9 miles east of Canton in East Texas about dusk Sunday. State police said the driver, Clarence Stafford of Dallas, did not see the youth in time to stop.

FRUIT TRUCK
Barto Rodriguez, 25, of George West was killed Sunday night when his sedan hit a truck loaded with fruit and rammed underneath the large vehicle from behind on U.S. 281 in George West. Officers identified the truck driver as Henry Johnson of La Villa, Tex.

Andrew Lopez, 30, of Fort Worth died Sunday when his car hit a utility pole in Fort Worth.

A two-car collision at Bellmead, a Waco suburb, claimed the lives of James Tyler of Bellmead and a companion, Don Childs of Mart. Another passenger in Tyler's car, Melton Ragsdale of Mart, and the driver of the second car, Lloyd Tremmel, 20, were injured.

Fernan Garcia, 51, of Rio Hondo was struck and killed by a car Sunday on a farm road near that Rio Grande Valley town.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—President Adolfo Lopez Mateos began the last 12 months of his six-year term Sunday. He received a stream of congratulatory messages.

The nomination of former Interior Minister Gustavo Diaz Ordaz as presidential candidate of the government's Institutional Revolutionary Party makes him almost certain to be Lopez Mateos' successor.

INDEPENDENCE
I agree wholeheartedly that congregations should be independent of each other, under the Lordship of Christ. This is Bible doctrine. After affirming this doctrine, the leaflet continues: "But to avoid chaos of action in a framework of such independence, Baptists believe that local churches should co-operate with other churches of like faith to propagate Christian truth as Baptists believe it. This is why Baptist churches function in co-operation with other Baptist churches in city, association, state, nation and world relationships. But Baptists voluntarily choose to co-operate, not because of coercion or fear." I believe the Bible teaches co-operation among churches of Christ (it does not mention Baptist churches). But in co-operating, we must not form organizations different from the local church. "There is one body" (Eph. 4:4). Hence, there is no room for organizations called Associations, Conventions, etc.

Business Still Booms For Many

NEW YORK (AP) — Past halfway point, the final quarter of the year is looking even better for many industries than they'd expected. And that worries some of them a little.

Their sales and new orders are impressive. Their profits have risen. Their inventories are about in line with current and prospective business. Their customers seem in a confident mood.

And, with the exception of a few speculative flareups in the stock market, there's been no sign of a dangerous rush to overconfidence. If there are seeds of boom-and-bust, they haven't sprouted.

WEAKNESSES
About the only expressions of worry come from those who think times are so good that appearances must be deceiving, that inner weaknesses must be hidden.

All lines of business, as usual, aren't prospering. Nor are all regions of the nation. All too many persons are out of work. Many more now working fear their jobs are threatened by machines.

But with a little more than six weeks to go, the economy taken as a whole is making 1963 a top year.

AUTO INDUSTRY
For many businesses the final months are customarily the best of the year. And some see these final weeks as even better than usual. The auto industry is a prime example. And running ahead of a year ago are factory shipments of refrigerators, kitchen ranges, water heaters, dishwashers, and food waste disposers.

New orders for all factories set a record in September and unfilled orders guaranteed busy weeks and months ahead.

Industrial production as a whole has hit a new high, with only a few components lagging.

INCOMES UP
Personal incomes at last report were at an annual rate of $466.5 billion, up $21 billion from a year ago.

All of this adds up to a grand total for the nation's output of goods and services — the Gross National Product—of $588.5 billion at an annual rate, up $32 billion for the year.

These records don't solve all the problems by any means. Some say times will have to get a lot better still, if jobs are to be found for all those who really want them.

Problems there are and will continue to be. But most businessmen admit that 1963 is one of the better years, with the final weeks looking particularly bright.

Yarborough Asks Fight Against Hate Merchants

HOUSTON (AP)—Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., has called on all Americans to fight the "merchants of hate" he blamed for the assassination of President Kennedy.

Speaking at an annual Bonds for Israel dinner, he said Sunday night: "It's our heavy duty to answer, to blunt, to turn back and to defeat the campaigns of hate in our...land."

"The merchants of hate are spreading their poison," he said. "They are sowing hatred, discord and division. They have dreams of destruction and are furiously at work to divide a great people."

"The nation has transgressed and it has transgressed through its hatred."

As Yarborough arrived at Houston's international airport, he described President Johnson "as deeply dedicated a man as President Kennedy."

He predicted greater changes in domestic policy under Johnson than in international policy. "President Johnson will be a man of action, a man who plans ahead, a man of great energy," Yarborough said at a news conference later.

Nation, World Impressed By Jackie's Bearing In Ordeal

EDITOR'S NOTE—In the following story, Frances Lewine, AP reporter who covered the activities of Mrs. John F. Kennedy during her White House years, including a trip around the world, recounts in step-by-step detail the former First Lady's ordeal, from the start of the day on which the 35th President was assassinated in Dallas, through the funeral services in Washington.

By FRANCES LEWINE
WASHINGTON (AP)—She chose a gay pink suit that day and was late getting started. Her husband explained her absence to several thousand cheering Texans. "Mrs. Kennedy is busy organizing herself," he confided in an 8:45 a.m. (CST), polittick appearance. "It takes a little longer, you know, but then she looks so much better than we do."

JACQUELINE KENNEDY

There was the inevitable bouquet of red roses as President and Mrs. Kennedy arrived in Dallas, Tex., that fair Friday of Nov. 22. The red clashed with the pink of her wool suit and pillbox hat.

MOTORCADE
 They stepped into the big dark blue convertible they had shared on so many state occasions and the winding 11-mile motorcade began.

The crowds stood 10 to 12 deep on sidewalks and cheered them. They sat there smiling—President Kennedy, Gov. John Connally of Texas and their wives—saying what a fine welcome the Kennedys had been given after all.

Mrs. Kennedy, just resuming official activities after the death of her infant son three months ago, had not been on a speech-making tour since 1960. It was her first visit to Texas. She shook hands freely in the crowds, won cheers with a 73-word speech in Spanish, and admitted she was enjoying campaigning.

EXPECT TROUBLE
 They had expected trouble in Republican Dallas, a center of political conservatism, but their reception was being described as "magnificent."

"Mr. President, they can't make you believe now that there are not some in Dallas who love and appreciate you," said Gov. Connally's wife, Nellie.

"You should know, you sure can't," said the President as the big car, taking them to luncheon at the trade mart, approached the six-story Texas School Depository building at 12:30 p.m.

FACE DOWN
 Mrs. Kennedy cried out "Oh, no!" as her husband fell back face down on the back seat, blood spurting from wounds in his head and neck.

She tried to lift him and cradle his head in her lap. "Oh, my God! They've killed my husband," she cried.

"Jack, Jack," she called the name of the handsome, 46-year-old man who had been smiling beside her moments before. But John F. Kennedy, the man she had married 10 years ago, never regained consciousness.

The Secret Service man, who had been with her for three years, came leaping over the back of the car to throw himself spread-eagled over them. Mrs. Kennedy reached a hand to help him.

INTO BACK
 The four in the car feared they might all be shot. As a bullet slammed into his back, Connally shouted:

"My God, they're going to kill us all!" "Get this car out of here," snapped an agent. And, the limousine made a breakneck dash for Parkland Hospital.

Mrs. Kennedy cradled her husband's head and wept. When she walked with his stretcher to the hospital emergency room, the blood stained her pink suit and soaked one stocking.

The red roses lay crushed on the floor of the car.

FUTILE EFFORTS
 As she waited outside the emergency room while doctors made their futile efforts, Mrs. Kennedy seemed to know her husband was dying.

She was dazed and shocked.

ry on in her husband's tradition of personal courage.

EERIE SCENE
 In contrast to the many happy occasions, it was an eerie sight at Andrews Air Force Base in Maryland, where a great outpouring of reporters, cameramen and officials had gathered in the floodlighted 6 p.m. darkness.

The Kennedys had walked gaily aboard the Air Force One jet two days before. Mrs. Kennedy had turned to wave to son John, who took the helicopter ride from the White House to see them off.

Now a great, ungainly yellow cargo lift lowered Kennedy's casket, with Mrs. Kennedy standing beside it, holding tightly to the hand of her brother-in-law, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy. Her face showed her anguish, but she retained composure.

OPEN DOOR
 A grey Navy ambulance waited. With so many there to help her, Mrs. Kennedy somehow reached out to open the ambulance door herself.

They went to Bethesda Naval Hospital. For almost 10 hours Mrs. Kennedy waited there while doctors performed an autopsy and the President's body was prepared for burial.

Mrs. Kennedy stayed there because she did not want to leave the body, aides said. She took no sedatives.

SHE GUESSED
 Kennedy was declared dead at 1 p.m. The chief neurosurgeon, Dr. Kemp Clark, gently told Mrs. Kennedy the news she had guessed.

"She, like everyone else around there had a paralyzed look. We just couldn't believe this could happen," the priest said.

The events of that day and the ordeal that followed for Mrs. Kennedy were like a Greek tragedy.

SPARED LITTLE
 In the 75 hours from Kennedy's death until his coffin was lowered into a grave at Arlington National Cemetery Monday, Nov. 25, Mrs. Kennedy was spared little.

The death and funeral of John Fitzgerald Kennedy and his widow's grief were a public display.

The world knew of the private and touching moment at the hospital when Mrs. Kennedy had tearfully kissed her husband's lifeless lips and put her wedding ring on his finger.

Then the bronze coffin was closed, never to be opened again in public.

Mrs. Kennedy had started to show the determination to car-

A London newspaper said she gave the American people "the one thing they always lacked—majesty."

While the greats of the world—kings, queens, princes, presidents, premiers—looked on, and nationwide television focused on her every heart-rending moment, Mrs. Kennedy spared herself nothing.

The funeral of John F. Kennedy came on Monday, Nov. 25—three endless days after his assassination and on the third birthday of John Jr. The rites lasted five hours and Mrs. Kennedy stood unflinching through most of the long pageantry. But twice tears filled her eyes.

Twelve hundred persons had been invited to St. Matthews Cathedral, including Kennedy's distant Irish cousin, Mary Ann Ryan, who had entertained the President at his ancestral home in County Wexford in June.

EIGHT BLOCKS
 This time with a long black veil shielding her face, Mrs. Kennedy led the eight-block march from the White House to the church with world leaders following her and the caisson.

Richard Cardinal Cushing, who had married the Kennedys, baptized their children and said the funeral mass for infant Patrick, officiated at Kennedy's funeral.

Tears came when Mrs. Kennedy had to wait halfway down the cathedral aisle while the body was placed on the caisson for the last ride to Arlington.

Six-year-old Caroline wept, too. John Jr., hardly able to grasp the significance of it all, saluted as the coffin left the cathedral.

EYES FILLING
 At Arlington, after the Taps sounded and she had lighted the eternal flame, Mrs. Kennedy suddenly turned to Gen. Maxwell Taylor, chief of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, embraced him and pressed her veiled cheek against his, her eyes filling.

But, she walked firmly out of the cemetery, clutching the flag which had covered the coffin.

Five times, Mrs. Kennedy returned to the grave in the next three days, once late at night. She took Caroline once.

She urged President Johnson to rename Cape Canaveral to Cape Kennedy in memory of her late husband's interest in space exploration—and it was done.

Then, she left for seclusion and a Thanksgiving reunion with the Kennedy family at Cape Cod.

Many memorials have been suggested the world over for Kennedy. But what could match the one his wife gave him?

Living Cost Stuck On High Plateau

NEW YORK (AP)—Living costs are stuck on a plateau. Unfortunately for the consumer, it's a record high one. And the prospects for change aren't impressive.

The consumer price index is 107.1 per cent of the 1957-59 average. This record was reached in July, held through August and September and apparently budget little if any in October.

The most optimistic note sounded so far is that there is little indication of a major upward move in the next few months at the consumer level, despite a rash of price increases in some industrial materials and products.

The statisticians think consumer prices will react seasonally, or normally. By seasonally they mainly mean the effects of weather on food prices. By normally they usually mean that some costs will go up on a bit—the creeping inflation that for years has kept the index always higher than the previous year.

For example, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that its food index in September was 0.6 per cent lower than in August because of seasonally lower prices for fresh fruits and vegetables. But the food index also was up 0.6 per cent from September 1962, largely because prices charged by restaurants have risen 1.9 per cent in the last year.

Some gasoline price wars and cuts in new auto prices also dropped the transportation index 0.4 per cent in September from August, although it's still 0.1 per cent higher than the year before.

All other parts of the index rose—whether seasonally, or normally, or in belated reaction to prior rises somewhere else along the line. Higher were the costs of housing, rents, apparel, medical care, personal care and reading and recreation.

Marine Corps Team To Visit

The Marine Corps Officer Selection Team from San Antonio will visit Big Spring Dec. 13-16 to inform local students of the benefits attached to a Marine Corps commission.

The team, led by Capt. E. P. Trader Jr., will be in the Student Union at Howard County Junior College to provide information on the Platoon Leaders Class and Marine Aviation Cadet Program for freshmen and sophomores.

Of interest is the fact that the Marine Corps Officer Training Programs do not require training during the school year and offer a preference between ground or aviation commissions.

Capt. Trader can be contacted in the Student Union between 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Some people think it never needs service.

It's easy to get that impression. How many other makes have been driven 60,000 miles with the original pistons and cylinders intact? How many ordinarily get 40,000 miles on the same tires? That doesn't mean the Volkswagen never needs service. It does. To get the most out of it, have your VW serviced regularly. We call it preventive maintenance. We'll give you a book on preventive maintenance for the first 30,000 miles you drive. And every 30,000 miles after that. In the book for new VWs, for instance, coupons start you off with two free maintenance services.

One at 300 miles. One at 3,000 miles. After that, the coupons remind you to bring your VW in for specified services at regular intervals. It's the best way to keep your VW in top shape. Service is so important that Volkswagen won't sell cars where they can't be properly handled. By factory-trained mechanics. Like ours. Parts are economical and quickly installed. There isn't a Volkswagen made that you can't get parts for easily. Most are interchangeable from year to year. (You can have a 1963 fender put on your '58 model with 10 bolts. It fits perfectly.) We pride ourselves on this fact: Our service is as good as the car. Ask anybody.

Federal Probe Will Aid Ruby, Declares Attorney

DALLAS (AP) — A defense lawyer predicts the findings of federal investigators will bolster the case of Jack Ruby, who shot down the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

There are increasing signs, meanwhile, of probable delay in the murder trial of Ruby, tentatively set to start a week from today.

Ruby, 52, owner of a downtown strip tease joint, remained under close guard today in the county jail. He has been held without bond since the televised shooting Nov. 24 of Lee Harvey Oswald, charged with firing the shots which killed Kennedy and a Dallas policeman two days earlier.

NO CONNECTION

"When the government's report of the Oswald case comes out," defense lawyer Tom Howard said Sunday night, "I believe then that public opinion in favor of Ruby will be stronger than ever because it will prove conclusively there was absolutely no connection between Ruby and Oswald."

District Atty. Henry Wade, who has said he will demand the death penalty for Ruby, declined to go into this aspect of the case.

Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, mother of the slain suspect, asserted she was sure her son did not kill President Kennedy. In angry tones, she blamed authorities on guard and asked in a Fort Worth interview why Oswald, who sought to renounce U.S. citizenship when he went to Russia in 1959, was not under surveillance.

OFFICIAL SILENCE

Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and city police continued to dig for evidence. Official silence cloaked any fresh discoveries. It was indicated they would need considerable time to sift reams of notes left by Oswald, an avowed Marxist.

Howard, a veteran of criminal law trials, all but said he would seek postponement of the Ruby trial on a state charge of murder, set for Dec. 9 in a Dallas district court. Earlier the lawyer said he expected the defense to be ready by that date.

"We need considerable time to develop our case," Howard said Sunday night. "I don't see how we could be ready before February."

MORE DONATIONS

Every mail delivery brought more donations for the families of Dallas policeman J. D. Tippit, whom Oswald was accused of killing as the officer tried to stop him for questioning, and for Oswald's Russian-born wife and two small daughters.

The Tippit fund was estimated at $65,000 before counting was suspended for the week-end.

Howard reported receipt of about 300 letters and telegrams, including one from a Los Angeles man pledging $500 for the defense of Ruby. He said several applauded the slaying of Oswald and only four were unfavorable in tone.

Oswald's Mom Blames Lawmen For Killings

FORT WORTH (AP) — Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, mother of the accused slayer of President Kennedy, angrily blamed authorities Sunday night for the killing of her son.

The 56-year-old mother of Lee Harvey Oswald blamed the same authorities — government agents and Dallas peace officers — for the Nov. 22 assassination of the late President.

She said protective precautions were being taken before Kennedy arrived in neighboring Dallas. Since her son was known to have defected to Russia at one time, Mrs. Oswald asked why he was not under surveillance.

"I would like an answer to that question," she said.

SEEKING FACTS

Mrs. Oswald, a practical nurse, repeated several times during an interview that she is a person seeking the facts and not merely a mother trying to defend her son.

In a discussion punctuated by moments of anger and tears, she talked to a reporter in the small duplex apartment where local and federal authorities are standing guard.

Mrs. Oswald said she would accept the findings of a state court of inquiry headed by Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr into circumstances of the assassination.

ACCEPT THEM

"If they are proven facts, I will accept them," she said. "But I would like an opportunity to verify that they are proven facts."

"I want another question answered: Why would Jack Ruby be allowed within a few feet of a prisoner — of any prisoner — when I could not see my own son?"

Oswald was slain in the Dallas city hall Nov. 24 by Ruby, a Dallas night club owner. Ruby strode through a crowd of reporters and policemen as Oswald was being transferred to county jail.

RUBY PICTURE

Mrs. Oswald renewed a claim that an FBI agent had showed her a picture of Jack Ruby. An FBI spokesman said earlier it was not the photograph of Ruby.

She said that at 6:30 p.m. Nov. 23, an FBI agent with another man knocked on the door where she and her daughter-in-law were staying and asked to talk to her daughter-in-law.

"The agent told me, 'Mrs. Oswald, you're ready for bed,'" Mrs. Oswald related.

She told the man she was sorry but she couldn't permit him to talk to her daughter-in-law because the younger woman was tired, she said, adding: "Please forgive us and when we get counsel, you will be able to talk to her."

QUESTION

She stated the agent then said to her, "Mrs. Oswald, I would like to ask you a question."

"He had a picture cupped inside his hand and asked me if I had ever seen that man before," she said. "I told him, 'No sir, believe me, I never have.' Then he left."

"A few days later, I walked into the room where I was staying and in front of my son Robert and a lot of witnesses, I picked up a paper and when I turned it over I said 'This is the picture of the man that the FBI agent showed me.'"

"I did not even know at the time that he was the man who shot my son. I was told that the picture was Mr. Jack Ruby."

Mrs. Oswald said she saw her son once while he was in the Dallas city jail. She said their interview on Nov. 23 was brief and she did not ask him whether he had shot the President.

WASHINGTON TODAY

JFK Coverage Cost $25.6 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

COVERAGE COSTS: Broadcasting Magazine estimated Sunday that the four-day omission of commercials while reporting on events relating to the assassination of President Kennedy cost the radio and television networks $25.6 million.

The networks spent an additional $3.1 million in providing coverage, the industry magazine said.

"No government official had to tell the broadcasters what to do," the magazine said. "In a time when the trend of federal regulation has been running toward tighter editorial control, broadcasters made their own best case for editorial freedom."

FOREIGN AID: Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo, says tightened administration is needed to prevent waste and overstaffing in the foreign aid program, which he calls "a bulwark in the turning back of the Communist offensive."

McGee reported Sunday to the Senate Appropriations Committee on a special investigation he made last spring into the administration of the foreign aid program by the Agency for International Development.

LBJ Has Knowledge Of Oil, Gas Issues

HOUSTON (AP) — President Johnson has a detailed knowledge of the problems of the oil and gas industry.

Never before in history has the President so familiar with the complexities of the industry that so frequently has been embroiled in Capitol Hill controversy.

Johnson possibly would rate as an expert on the industry's two most pressing Washington problems: Natural gas price controls and the controversial 27 1/2 per cent depletion tax allowance.

He battled for the natural gas bills that were vetoed in 1950 and 1956. He led successful Senate floor fights that defeated efforts in 1958, 1959 and 1960 to cut the tax allowance the industry considers so vital.

NO SECRET
The circumstances surrounding Johnson's ascendancy to the presidency have minimized public comment by oilmen but the general reaction to the change is no secret.

The oilmen expect no miracles. They expect no abrupt policy changes.

But they are hopeful there will be a gradual change, particularly within the executive branch, that will lead to frank and open discussions on oil problems.

Many oilmen opposed President Kennedy politically but a major portion of their criticism of him involved administrative procedure instead of party philosophy.

In recent months, numerous oilmen have criticized Kennedy's executive branch for making what they termed secret reports and studies on the industry without consulting with oilmen.

The criticism became so widespread that on Nov. 7 three of the industry's top spokesmen conferred with Kennedy at the White House.

ONE RESULT
Only one result of the conference was announced—Kennedy's assurance the industry would be given an opportunity to comment on future oil studies before they reach the report stage.

It is known, however, the oilmen also were advised the administration normally bases its oil decisions on recommendations from the Interior Department.

Ironically, it was Kennedy's rejection of a late 1961 Interior Department report on oil imports quotas that led to the charges of secret reports and studies. In turning down Interior's recommended 1962 imports quotas, Kennedy ordered an inter-agency petroleum study.

LAST JULY

The report was completed in September, 1962, but was not published until last July. One recommendation that really upset the oilmen said complete abandonment of import controls could lead to a substantial reduction in the price of domestic crude oil. Interior's representative on the study group dissented.

While members of Congress, Kennedy and Johnson were on opposite sides on both natural gas legislation and on proposals to cut the depletion allowance.

Kennedy, in the House, voted against the Kerr Gas Bill in 1950, and, as a senator, against the Harris-Fulbright Bill in 1956. As a senator he twice voted for a graduated reduction of the 27 1/2 per cent tax allowance.

Johnson was chairman of a Senate subcommittee that held hearings on the Kerr Bill that President Truman later vetoed as not being wise public policy.

Southeast Asia Sees No Change

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—Southeast Asian nations expect no basic changes in their present relations with the United States under President Johnson's administration.

But the turmoil sweeping this disturbed area of the world may force the new chief executive to take a new posture toward some of them as possible new crises develop.

South Viet Nam and Laos remain for Johnson, as they were for President John F. Kennedy, the two most volatile problems facing the United States in Southeast Asia. The bulwark against Communist incursions hinges on them.

STABILITY
Hostility of Indonesia toward the infant confederation of Malaysia presents another serious threat to the stability of the area.

Official relations between the United States and South Viet Nam, which also lost its President Ngo Dinh Diem in a coup, in November, are likely to be better than ever. The Vietnamese are expecting the best from Johnson.

Allied with the United States in a war against Communist guerrillas, South Viet Nam probably will be ruled by a military junta for about the same period as Johnson's current term of office. Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, leader of the junta, has long been on close and friendly terms with Americans.

MAJOR FRICTION
The fate of land-locked Laos with its three-pronged coalition government remains a major friction point.

Despite repeated provocations and military incursions by the pro-Communist Pathet Lao faction, Kennedy steadfastly maintained his support for the coalition government headed by neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma. A crisis might arise if the Pathet Lao launch another military drive.

Cool relations are expected to continue between the United States and the little neutralist monarchy of Cambodia, which recently cut off further American aid in any form.

Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the fiery young chief of the Cambodian government, accuses the United States of backing a plot to overthrow his government. American authorities deny this.

Stock Market's Advance Slows But Prices High

NEW YORK (AP) — A stock market advance lost some of its push early this afternoon but prices remained irregularly higher. The trading pace slackened after having been active. Changes of key issues ranged from fractions to about a point with a few wider moves being made. IBM and Xerox were delayed in opening by an accumulation of buy orders. IBM opened at 490, up 4 1/2, on a block of 2,000 shares. Xerox soared 10 1/2 to 385 on opening blocks of 4,500 and 500 shares and later increased its gain by a point.

The Associated Press average at noon was up 1.0 to 286.6 with industrials up 1.9, rails off .3 and utilities up .7. The Dow Jones average of 30 Industrials at noon was ahead 1.78 at 752.30 after having been up 4.80 an hour earlier.

Among active gainers were General Instruments 1/4 at 17, Delta Air Lines 3/4 at 69 1/2 and Zenith 1/4 at 8 1/4. Reynolds Tobacco was off 3/4, Liggett & Myers and American Tobacco each were down half a point.

Another Freeze Due Here Tonight

Another hard freeze is in the making, the forecast for Big Spring and area indicates. The temperature should drop to a chilly 25 degrees tonight and tomorrow will be much cooler than today, the Weather Bureau said.

The coldest night of the fall season had a low reading of 25 degrees. Another of the same type will finish off the killing of shrubs, flowers and plants and firmly establish the winter season, observers said.

Steward Case Goes To Trial

A jury to try James Monroe Steward on a charge of murder with malice was being selected this afternoon in the 118th District Court. Judge Ralph Caton announced Monday morning that Steward, accused of the Nov. 26, 1961 shooting of Travis R. Hicks, would be the first case to go to trial.

Examination of the panel members from the special venire was taken up at 1:30 p.m. Of the original panel of 150, only 42 remained in the courtroom when the exemptions, excuses and other reasons for not serving had been heard.

Three murder cases had been set for tentative disposition this week. Steward's case was No. 1 on the list but the cases against George Ives and Emzie Woodard were held ready in event trial of Steward had to be continued.

Examination of the jurors individually was under way Monday afternoon. The remainder of the special panel had been divided into groups of 10 and were being called one at a time.

Judge Caton, obviously unhappy that 25 members of the original 150 special venire had not reported nor had sent in any reason for their failure to report, ordered Sheriff Miller Harris to find these jurors and bring them into court.

"Unless these veniremen have good excuses," the court said from the bench, "they will regret they did not show as instructed in their jury summons."

He added that he proposes to fine the delinquent jurors where they have no valid reason for ignoring their jury summons. Steward, dressed in a white shirt, black tie, black slacks and wearing neatly polished shoes, sat quietly at the counsel table with his two court appointed attorneys, R. H. Weaver and Larry Hamby, while the task of qualifying the jury panel moved ahead. Gil Jones, district attorney, was alone at the prosecution table.

Meantime, a woman, said to be the state's star witness against Steward, was in the courthouse and will be called to the stand. She allegedly was in a motel room on the night of Nov. 26 when Steward is accused of firing a bullet into the brain of Hicks.

The body of the victim was then taken, the state alleges, from the motel to a lonely Martin County field where it was dumped in tall weeds and brush. The skeleton was not found until Sept. 1, 1962. It was identified by markings on the victim's dentures.

Steward, charged with the crime, is now a convict in the Texas penitentiary, serving a burglary sentence. He was returned here on a bench warrant to face trial.

Eight Big Springers are among 77 West Texans who have been granted licenses after successfully completing the state examination of the State Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners.

Included on the list are Georgia P. Arnold, Sharon A. Blythe, Shirley H. Davis, Martha F. Dawdy, Johnnie D. Dean, Janice P. Dodd, Stella R. Hines and Irene L. Honea.

Others from area cities are: from Snyder, Martha W. Bruce, Mamie L. Burditt, Doris M. Comer, Bettie C. Huddleston, Nova M. James, Dora J. Mc Lane, Andrea L. Moore, Neva J. Stephens, Mary M. Turner and Sharron A. Watson; and from Colorado City, Mary Valdez.

"O. K.," said Harris, "Come with me." He marched Banks into the sheriff's office and up to the jail.

Then he filed charges against Banks. The charge? "Theft by bailee."

Funeral for Juan Polanco, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Polanco, 411 NW 10th, is pending at River - Welch Funeral Home. The infant died at 8:17 a.m. Monday in a local hospital.

Other survivors are five sisters, Sylvia, Margaret, Cynthia, Erna Louise and Cherrise Polanco, all of the home; the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Benita Polanco, Big Spring; and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Manual Luna, Odessa.

Three representatives from the Big Spring State Hospital today will take part in the program of a meeting of thearrant County Mental Health Association in Fort Worth.

Dr. Preston E. Harrison, hospital superintendent, will give a demonstration of hypnosis. Assisting him will be Mrs. Hila Weathers, volunteer coordinator, and Mrs. Ruth Pulliam.

Handel's 'Messiah' Set Today, Tuesday. The presentation of Handel's "Messiah" will be at 8:15 p.m. today in Odessa, and Tuesday at the same hour in Midland's Lee Auditorium. A previous announcement erroneously listed the Midland concert as Wednesday.

Under the direction of Dr. Lara Hoggard, the 72-piece Midland-Odessa symphony and the 82-voice chorus will present this immortal work. Eight of the area's top soloists, including Mrs. Don Newsom and Ira Schantz, Big Spring will be featured. Jack Hendrix, chairman of the Howard County Junior College department of music, will be the pianist.

Originator Of Anti-JFK Ad In Dallas Disappears

DALLAS (AP) — The man whose advertisement — "Welcome Mr. Kennedy" — in a Dallas newspaper has brought demands from Congressmen for an FBI investigation has dropped from sight.

The ad appeared in the Dallas Morning News on Friday, Nov. 22—the day President Kennedy came here and was assassinated. It was placed by a man who identified himself as Bernard Weissman for "the American Fact-Finding Committee."

The ad asked the President 12 questions and said the committee demanded "answers to these questions and we want them now."

Typical questions: "Why do you say we have built a 'wall of freedom' around Cuba when there is no freedom in Cuba today? Because of your policy, thousands of Cubans have been imprisoned, are starving and being persecuted—with thousands already murdered and thousands more awaiting execution and, in addition, the entire population of almost 7,000,000 Cubans are living in slavery."

"Have you ordered or permitted your brother Bobby, the attorney general, to go soft on Communists, fellow travelers and ultra leftists in America, while permitting him to persecute loyal Americans who criticize you, your administration and your leadership?"

After the assassination, news- men tried to find Weissman. He is not listed in either the Dallas city directory or telephone directory.

Reps. Bernard F. Grabowski, D-Conn., and Silvio O. Conte, R-Mass., asked the FBI last Friday to investigate the American Fact-Finding Committee.

The congressman described the ad as "vicious, cruel and abusive and the kind of malicious verbiage that tends to incite fanatics."

They also expressed shock that a publisher would accept such material on the morning of the President's arrival. Executives of the News declined comment on the congressman's statement.

No one can say for certain why this occurred, although a few opinions exist.

Haskell then and now possesses no distinctive advantages over other towns.

It is farm - ranch country, subject to periods of drought like so many Southwestern areas. Like a lot of such communities, it felt early the economic setback that resulted finally in the Wall Street crash.

INFLUENCE

Haskell products have made their influence felt in industry, oil, insurance, utilities, medicine, literature, theology and football.

Charles Thornton is chairman of Litton Industries of Berkeley, Calif., a huge electronics firm making articles from business machines to nuclear powered subs.

Troy Post of Dallas has built an insurance business covering several states.

POWER SYSTEM

George McGregor is a top executive in Dallas, president of Texas Utilities Co., parent company of several power systems.

Margaret Cousins, for years managing editor of McCall's Magazine and now senior editor of the Doubleday book publishing firm, claims both Haskell and nearby Munday as home towns.

Anson, 30 miles south, was the birthplace of Morgan Davis, for many years chairman of Humble Oil & Refining Co.

French Robertson, one of the state's major oil and gas operators and former chairman of the State Board of Corrections, is

Balloon Telescope Project Lauded

KOSCIUSKO, Miss. (AP) — Scientists from Princeton University labeled a balloon-borne telescope project "very successful" Sunday and put the huge instruments on a truck en route back to the Palestine, Tex., launching station Sunday.

The 5½-ton telescope was carried 80,000 feet into the air overnight by the balloon, as large as a six-story building, to observe Jupiter and some of the red stars.

Princeton's Dr. Martin Schwarzschild said results of the project still must be evaluated.

Technicians ripped up the balloon and used the fabric to protect the instruments from moisture in the heavily wooded country where they landed.

ONCE AUSTERE

"After all," he says, "this is still a materialistic society. The hungrier they are, the better hustlers they become. I think this is why this area of once most austere living has produced the men it has."

The leaders still are remembered here, of course, and some stories told about them.

For instance Post is quoted as saying the only reason he left Haskell was that "there weren't enough folks around here to sell." Among his many enterprises is Great American Corp., an insurance holding company.

Thornton is still known for beating out larger boys for the first string center job on the high school football team. He attended Texas Tech at Lubbock and now has an electronics plant in that city.

WHIZ KIDS

Thornton helped develop the famous "whiz kids" at Ford Motor Co. One of them now is Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara.

The Dennis Ratliff family is one largely of judges and lawyers. One member of the family who isn't a lawyer is the clan's strongest politician. He is State Sen. David Ratliff, now of Stamford.

Chief Justice Clyde Grisom of the 11th Civil Appeals Court in Eastland began his law practice at Haskell in 1922. He successively became county and district attorney, district judge, associate justice of the appeals court and then chief justice—and never has he had a political opponent.

MANY BOOKS

Dr. Sherrill, member of a prominent Haskell family, died six years ago. He distinguished himself in the Presbyterian Church in the United States particularly through numerous books he wrote. The church has budgeted $1.5 million to publish books for which he did the pilot work.

In football, memories are still fresh of jarrin' John Kimbrough, the great Texas A&M back who was twice All-America. The memories are refreshed almost daily, for he is a successful rancher, businessman and civic leader in Haskell.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:
♠AKJ94 ♣AKJ862 ♦A3
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
1♣ 2♣ Pass 2♣
Pass ?
What action do you take?
A.—Three diamonds, intending to bid and rebid hearts if circumstances permit. It is not necessary to take any more drastic action at this particular time inasmuch as a game forcing signal has already been flashed.

Q. 2—As South you hold:
♠AKT ♣KQ103 ♣KJ5 ♦Q72
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South
1♣ Pass ?
What do you bid?
A.—One heart, with two hearts as a very close second choice. This may come as a slight disappointment to those who have heeded my earlier advice to make direct bids whenever possible. A three no trump bid is, therefore, tempting. The top limit of a three no trump bid is 18 points. On this hand, however, we have an additional ten and the added factor that the queen of clubs, in view of partner's bid, is apt to be worth more than the two points normally assigned to it. While our preference has been for an approach bid, we would not look down our noses at anyone who bids a three no trump bid.

Q. 3—As South you hold:
♠K874 ♠A92 ♠73 ♠KQ62
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
1♣ Double Pass 1♣
What do you bid now?
A.—Pass. Despite the fact that you are pleased with partner's response, your double is of minimum proportions and it is not appropriate for you to make a free raise. If partner has any constructive values, he will set again and a delayed raise by you will indicate that you had no distinct excess values.

Q. 4—Your partner has opened with one spade, and you hold:
♠KJ842 ♠765 ♠92 ♠K53
What is your response?
A.—Two spades. This is an even-

Brown Rips Record, Cleveland Remains Atop Eastern NFL Race

By The Associated Press

Things were considerably clearer in the National Football League title picture today—with two weeks to go, there are only six teams left with a chance to win.

And just five with a chance to tie.

The Pittsburgh Steelers can only win or lose—they have too many ties to tie.

Action over the long weekend produced three ties in seven games, believed to be a record dating way back beyond the days when such as Kenosha, Hammond and Stepleton, for example, were in the league.

Sunday, the Chicago Bears played their second 17-17 tie in a row, this time with Minnesota. That left the Bears one-half game in front in the West over the Green Bay Packers, who tied Detroit 13-13 on Thanksgiving. The Bears are 9-1-2, the Packers 9-2-1.

In the East, the Cleveland Browns broke up the three-way deadlock at the top by trimming the St. Louis Cardinals 24-10. The New York Giants kept pace with the Browns by scratching past Dallas 34-27, as old Y. A. Tittle set an NFL career record of 197 touchdown passes.

The Browns and Giants are 9-3 each.

The Steelers played their third tie of the season and second of the year with Philadelphia, this time 20-20.

That left St. Louis and Pittsburgh tied for second; the Cards at 8-4 and the Steelers at 6-3-3. In other Sunday games, Los Angeles won its third straight, Tittle (14) gets off a 17-yard pass (photo at right), despite the rushing of Dallas Cowboys end George Andrie (66), to Del Shofner, Giants end (85) (left photo), for a fourth quarter touchdown. It gave the Giants a 34-27 victory over the Cowboys at Dallas yesterday.

Tittle's nine-yard shot to Frank Gifford during the game and the 17-yard scoring throw to Shofner set a National Football League record for touchdown passes. He now has 197—one more than the record set by Bobby Layne. (AP WIREPHOTO)

21-17 over San Francisco, and Baltimore whipped the Washington Redskins 36-20.

In the American Football League, San Diego defeated Houston 27-0, New York beat Kansas City 17-0 and Boston whipped Buffalo 17-7, Sunday.

Underdog Minnesota did everything to the Bears except beat them. The Vikings held Chicago to 22 yards rushing in the first half and led 17-3 at intermission, as Ron VanderKelen guided the team in place of injured Fran Tarkenton, and completed his first NFL touchdown pass.

The Bears battled back in the third quarter on a 49-yard run for Brown and a 22-yard rushing march to close the gap and then got the break of the game. Tommy Mason fumbled on the Viking 11, and two plays later Bill Wade hit Joe Marconi on a touchdown pass for 'the tie.

Frank Ryan returned to form for the Browns and Jimmy Brown blasted his own season rushing record. Ryan, benched two weeks ago when the Cardinals trimmed the Browns, ridden the St. Louis defense for 210 yards, and Brown gained 179 yards on 29 carries. Jimmy also took the league scoring lead with 90 points, as he scored two touchdowns from close in.

The Browns wrapped up the game in the first half with a 21-3 lead.

Brown broke his own record of 1,527 yards set in 1958 as he ran his total to 1,677 yards with two games to go.

Tittle threw for two touchdowns against the Cowboys for 197—one more than the career mark set by Bobby Layne.

The old Bald Eagle was superb in the second half as the Giants came from behind a 27-14 halftime deficit, but he was less than sharp in the first half, when he had three passes intercepted.

SPRING BRANCH, PASADENA MEET

Class AAAA Showdown Set For Friday Night

By The Associated Press

The Texas schoolboy football race rumbles into its quarter-finals this week with clear-cut favorites for the four championships as scarce as upsets can make them.

Only three undefeated teams remain in Class AAAA and two of them meet in the headline game. And they'll be playing off a tie when Spring Branch and Pasadena, two of the unbeaten, get together at Spring Branch Friday night.

During the regular season these two teams wound up in a 14-14 deadlock.

San Antonio Lee is the only unbeaten and untied team, but it won't be favored to win its quarterfinal game. The opponent will be Corpus Christi Miller, which appears to be the championship favorite if anybody is Lee and Miller play at San Antonio Friday night.

San Angelo and Amarillo Tascosa tilt at San Angelo Saturday while Fort Worth Paschal and Garland tangle at Dallas Friday night in the other Class AAAA quarterfinals.

Dumas, Class AAAA defending champion and one of 'sur undefeated, untied teams left in the division, tackles Graham at Borger Saturday. While Graham has been defeated and tied in its drive to the playoffs, the Steers still appear to be the strongest challenge for Dumas to date.

McKinney and Corsicana play at Dallas Saturday night, Conroe and LaMarque get together at Houston Friday night and Gonzales and Pharr-San Juan-Alamo tangle at McAllen Saturday night.

Corsicana, LaMarque and Gonzales are the other three undefeated, untied teams. Corsicana and LaMarque will be fa-voiced to win, but Gonzales appears to have its hands full with Pharr-San Juan-Alamo.

Dalhart, the only team with a perfect record left in Class AA, takes on Crane, while Rockwall plays Paul Hewitt, Taylor meets Liberty and Missouri City Dulles plays Sinton in the quarterfinals.

Dalhart and Crane clash at Lubbock Saturday. Rockwall and Hewitt at Commerce Saturday night. Taylor and Liberty at Victoria Friday night.

Petersburg, Hallsville and George West will be favored.

LA Skipper Is Signed

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Walter Alston, dean of active major league managers in point of continuous service with one club, signed for his 11th season with the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers today.

Alston immediately announced he wants to retain all his coaches, including Leo Durocher.

No salary figure was released but a reliable source said Alston will make $50,000, about $7,000 more than he received this year. Like all his previous Dodger contracts, this one runs one year.

Since Alston became manager in 1954, the Dodgers have won four National League pennants and three world championships. They have finished second three times, third once, fourth once and seventh once. They never won a World Series before he became manager.

The coaches, besides Durocher, are Pete Reiser, Joe Becker and Greg Mulleavy.

Bears Ready To Take Bid

DALLAS (AP)—It appeared only a formality today for Baylor to get permission to play in the Bluebonnet Bowl.

Coach John Bridges polled the Baylor athletic council Sunday and got unanimous approval and then asked the Southwest Conference for permission to host Louisiana State in the Houston game Dec. 21.

Executive Secretary Howard Grubbs polled conference members by telegram and said he would give their decision today. He said there was no doubt the conference would grant permission. It never has turned down an applicant for a bowl game yet—it gets some of the money.

Agreement Sought

CHICAGO (AP)—A men's track and field committee of the United States Olympic Committee failed to reach an agreement Sunday in an attempt to devise a formula for selecting American athletes for the 1964 Games in Tokyo.

Parks Is Drafted By San Francisco

CHICAGO (AP)—The San Francisco 49ers drafted Dave Parks, a Texas Tech end, as the No. 1 pick in the National Football League draft today.

Parks is 21, 6-foot-2, 193 pounds. His home is in Abilene, Tex.

Parks was chosen by San Diego in the American League draft Saturday in the fourth round.

The Philadelphia Eagles selected Bob Brown, a 269-pound guard from Nebraska as their No. 1 draftee. They must outbid Denver, which picked him in the American League.

Brown highly regarded by most of the pro clubs, is 6-4, a native of Cleveland. He has a game remaining in the Orange Bowl at Miami against Auburn.

Here is the order draft, which changes on the odd and even rounds:

On the odd number rounds, the order is: San Francisco, Philadelphia, Washington, Dallas, Detroit, Minnesota, Los Angeles, Baltimore, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, New York, Green Bay and Chicago.

In the even number rounds, it will be San Francisco, Philadelphia, Dallas, Washington, Detroit, Los Angeles, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, New York, Cleveland, Green Bay and Chicago.

The draft is in inverse order on the finish of the clubs in the two divisions.

The National League surprisingly at the start followed the pattern of the AFL, which put more emphasis on linemen and defensive talent than on backfield men.

Parks is reputed to be an outstanding all-around player, a good catcher, blocker and defensive man. He has made a number of interceptions during his college career.

Five of the NFL clubs were operating by telephone from home offices, with a representative at the draft but with the coaching staff and officials at their desks giving instructions.

They are the two West Coast teams, Los Angeles and San Francisco; Dallas, St. Louis and Baltimore.

Washington, next in line, took Charles Taylor, an Arizona State halfback, who is 21 years old, 6-3 and weighs 205 pounds. He is from Grand Prairie, Tex.

A speed merchant, he has piled up considerable yardage in college as a running back. He also was good at running back kickoffs and punts.

Several Clubs Seek SF Star

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—High level trade discussions involving front liners Felipe Alou, Bill Skowron, Jim Bunning, Jim Kaat, Ray Sadecki and Claude Osteen gave promise of several major player transactions today as the National Baseball Association officially opened its 62nd baseball convention.

The most sought after player appeared to be Felipe Alou, the star right fielder of the San Francisco Giants. At least two clubs, the St. Louis Cardinals and the Detroit Tigers, have made overtures for the 28-year-old Dominican Republic native who batted .281, hit 20 homers and drove in 82 runs last season.

St. Louis has offered Sadecki, their promising 23-year-old southpaw, who divided 20 decisions with the Cards, winning four of his last five decisions.

The Giants, on the lookout for a starting left-hander, expressed interest but asked the Cards to "sweeten" the offer.

The other proposed deal involving Alou is more complicated. The Tigers would like to have Alou but do not have a left-hander the Giants consider of equal value. The Giants, on the other hand, are interested in Minnesota southpaw Jim Kaat.

The Twins are looking for a starting right-hander.

"We would like to have Jim Bunning of Detroit and the Tigers are interested in Alou," a Minnesota spokesman said. "I understand Calvin (Calvin Griffith, owner of the Twins) has offered Kaat to the Giants for Alou with the intention of sending Alou to the Tigers in exchange for Bunning."

A trade between the Los Angeles Dodgers and Washington Senators appears imminent. The Dodgers are said to have offered Skowron and an unidentified player to the Senators for Osteen. Washington's ace left-hander despite his 9-14 record.

More trade talk was expected today when the club officials gather for the annual draft.

The Senators, having first pick because of their last place finish in the American League were expected to select one of two pitchers, Camilo Esteves of Albuquerque or Howard Koplitz of Syracuse.

The draft was divided into two groups. The first selection was to be made from veteran minor leaguers at a cost of $25,000. Most of the activity, however, was expected to center around the first year draft, which includes young bonus players signed after Dec. 1, 1962. These may be acquired for the $8,000 price.

SETS 11 RECORDS

St. John Wins Bowling Title

CHICAGO (AP)—Jim St. John of St. Louis rewrote the record book Sunday as he won the $48,000 seventh annual World's Invitational Bowling Tournament by the widest margin in history.

St. John, 33, who still resides in Chicago although bowling for a St. Louis brewery, set 11 world's records on his path to the title and the $7,500 first prize.

The slender St. John finished almost 30 points ahead of second place Johnny Meyer of Noneset, N.H., who had 314.17 Petersen points as compared to 343.26 by St. John.

St. John Meyer collected $3,750 as a runner-up and Bill Johnson of Kansas City got $2,000 for his third place finish. In the women's division, the defending champion and three-time winner of the event, Mrs. Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., donned her fourth crown by beating lefty Joanne Chapman of Blencoe, Iowa, in the final round.

St. John, a former Navy career man, averaged 233 for the 64 games in the finals of the 10-day tournament.

Don Carter, 37, of St. Louis, who had won five of the six previous tournaments, was far off his usual pace and finished his long grind on the new lanes at McCormick Place in 15th place and a prize of $915.

Carter, in the previous six tournaments, held the record for winning the most money, $35,331.

Mrs. Ladewig, 49-year-old grandmother, obviously tired at the 48-game grind in four days.

Hamilton Gets Grey Cup Win

TORONTO (AP)—The Hamilton Tiger-Cats got their Grey Cup victory: Hal Paterson got a scoring record, and a television network got a break in the Canadian pro football championship game.

Hamilton ended a frustrating run of four playoff losses by trimming the favored British Columbia Lions, 21-10, at Vancouver, B.C., Saturday. Paterson, veteran Ti-Cat flanker, scored his fifth touchdown in Cup competition to top the old mark by one.

And WABC-TV beamed the game throughout Canada and the United States in little more than three hours after struggling through a two-day nightmare last year when a dense fog caused a halt in play on the scheduled date.

The Tiger-Cat victory, which gave the Eastern Division champs their first title since 1957, was a personal triumph for 30-year-old Paterson and his 31-year-old batterymate, former Maryland quarterback Bernie Faloney.

It seems that writing letters to the San Angelo sportswriters is becoming a fad. But whether quite a few people some good to read the latest literary effort, this by TOMMY HART, Herald sports editor, to BOB MILBURN.

HANK FOLDBERG

"I want to take this opportunity to wish the San Angelo Bobcats all the luck in the world in the upcoming playoffs. I'm sure they will acquit themselves most creditably in the forthcoming games and nothing would thrill me more than to see them emerge as the state champions.

"Those who would downgrade them for their loss to Big Spring do not understand the intensity of football in District 2-AAAA, the pride the coaches and athletes take in it, nor the loyalties all principals have for the grand old league. May 2-AAAA continue to rule as the strongest in the state.

"I think you'll agree that it is next to impossible to keep a football team mentally 'up' through 10 games. There's not the shadow of a doubt in my mind but that San Angelo was not ready for Big Spring. Neither is there any doubt on my part that Emory Bellard, who in my mind is one of the great organizers in Texas high school athletics, resigned himself to the fact that his ball club was 'flat'—knowing full well the magnitude of his job beyond that game. I think it is to his credit that he faced the risk of defeat here in hopes he could re-instill their spirit when it counted most—in the playoffs.

"Some of our people, I know, tend to gloat over the victory achieved last week by forwarding you letters. A few are guilty of perhaps using intemperate language. They do not speak for the majority, however, who wish San Angelo—as a duly delegated representative of the district—the best in future campaigns."

—Regards,
TOMMY HART.

That pretty well sums it up.

Texas University's head mentor, DARRELL ROYAL, only minutes after his Longhorns finished their first undefeated season in 43 years by edging the Texas Aggies, 15-13, on Thanksgiving Day.

"I'm going to do my damndest not to even think about football for the next few days," HANK FOLDBERG, A&M coach, said. "It was the greatest injustice on a group of young fellows I've ever seen. Our Aggies were No. 1 today. We played them right off their feet. They (Texas) have always been able to come up with the big play when they really need it."

EARL RUDDER, president of the College Station school, declared Monday an extra holiday "because of the tremendous effort the Aggies made against overwhelming odds."

Holiday Bike Is Traditional

Christmas traditions in America spring from a wide variety of sources, each contributing to the happiness of the festive season.

The wassail, or Christmas punch bowl, for instance, comes from the ancient Saxons, the mistletoe from the Scandinavian Vikings. Tradition tells that the hanging and filling of stockings began in Asia Minor with the Bishop of Myra in the fourth century, and that Saint Francis of Assisi sang the first Christmas carol. While Saint Winifred is credited with starting the custom of the Christmas tree, to Martin Luther goes credit for the first decorating of it.

And whether you have roast goose, roast beef and plum pudding, turkey or pasta, for Christmas dinner depends largely on the traditions established by your family through the years.

A tradition that seems valid for all Americans is the giving of gifts to loved ones and friends, particularly to children.

And the one gift that is traditionally "Number One" on a youngster's "What I Want For Christmas" list is a bicycle.

Over one million Americans made two-wheelers were found under the nation's Christmas trees last year, and department store Santas confirmed once again that the bike was the single most-asked-for gift.

Cecil Thixton at Thixton's Motorcycle and Bicycle Shop, 908 W. 3rd, joins with the Bicycle Institute of America in recommending early shopping for the

Virginia High Court Okays School Closing

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The Virginia Supreme Court said today Prince Edward County had the right to close its public schools to avoid racial integration.

In a 6-1 decision, the majority said the Virginia Constitution gives its localities the option of operating or not operating public schools.

The dissenting judge was Chief Justice John Eggleston, who held that the State Legislature was obliged to provide public education in the county which abandoned it four years ago.

The final adjudication in the long-fought school case hinged in part on the action of the Virginia high court. The case is already before the U.S. Supreme Court on its latest trip and Eggleston's dissent offered this forecast.

"The refusal of the highest court of this state to recognize here the rights of the citizens of Prince Edward County guaranteed to them under the Constitution of the United States is a clear invitation to the federal courts to step in and enforce such rights. I am sure that invitation will be promptly accepted. We shall see."

Prince Edward abandoned its public school system in 1959 in the face of court-ordered integration. It took the move by refusing to appropriate local matching school funds.

A private educational foundation immediately organized a school for white pupils. Negroes turned down offers of assistance in opening similar private schools and continued to fight in the courts.

The first break in the education blackout for Negroes came last September when a free privately financed system was set up and is now providing education for the Negroes. The new free schools are being held in former public school buildings.

'A Time To Be Born'

One of President John F. Kennedy's favorite verses from the Bible was Ecclesiastes 3:1-2: "To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven: A time to be born, and a time to die . . ." President Kennedy is dead. But John Fitzgerald Gervais, named in memory of the slain President, was born at 7:55 p.m., Monday, the day President Kennedy was buried. The 9-pound, 14-ounce infant is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Francis Gervais of Houston. (AP WIREPHOTO).

Mail Pours In For Fund

DALLAS (AP)—Dallas policemen on the J. D. Tippit fund accounting team faced 14 mail sacks of letters today as they resumed counting operations.

The letters with donations are coming from across the nation for the family of patrolman Tippit, who was slain while trying to arrest a suspect in the assassination of John F. Kennedy.

Lt. Verne Hipskind, assigned to handling mail coming in to the police station, said an estimate of how much money has been received is impossible.

"It will be a tremendous job for my men if we can sort through one sack of mail a day," he said.

Hipskind said the first deposit of money taken from the mail was made Friday.

"It amounted to just under $20,000 and I imagine we will be able to sort through about that much more today," he said.

"From our experience so far with these mail sacks, I would guess that we have about 50,000 letters in the 14 unopened sacks," he said.

Meanwhile, accountants started going through mail coming into the Dallas Times Herald-KRLD-TV.

The Times Herald fund contains about $55,000, the accountants estimate.

Modifications On Apollo Project Still Under Study

HOUSTON (AP)—The Manned Spacecraft Center said today a contract amendment in the amount of $49,000 has been issued for an extension of a study on modifications to the Apollo spacecraft.

The Apollo project has been the objective of putting the first American astronauts on the moon.

The center said the contract amendment was issued to the space and information systems division of North American Aviation Inc., Downey, Calif.

The center said it wants to learn if it can adapt the spacecraft for long earth orbital missions. North American was asked to investigate and define concepts evolving from its initial studies, suggesting link-up of modified Apollo vehicles.

North American's initial study determined man's requirements for protracted space missions and evaluated the physiological capacity to work in space under zero gravity.

Hospital Set For Holidays

Signs of the time—Christmas time—are beginning to go up at the Big Spring State Hospital today.

Patients of the hospital today began decorating wards in a contest sponsored by the Hospital Volunteer Council. The council has provided $5 for decorations for each ward. On Dec. 15, Dr. J. H. Burnett, chairman of the council, and a committee will judge the work and will give a prize to the group which has done the best with the decorations.

Canteens, kitchens, day rooms, the auditorium and other areas of the hospital will be decorated later by volunteer groups.

Other Christmas activities slated this month are a Christmas Pageant, directed by Chaplain Max Maguire, on the evening of Dec. 18, and a party for patients Dec. 19. On the latter date, Christmas gifts purchased for each patient by the Volunteer Council will also be distributed.

A Devotional For The Day

Naomi returned, and Ruth the Moabitess, her daughter in law, with her, which returned out of the country of Moab; and they came to Bethlehem in the beginning of barley harvest. (Ruth 1:22.)

PRAYER: Merciful Father, too long we have stumbled in darkness, error, and sin. We come to Thee, asking forgiveness, seeking Thy grace. Receiving us, for there is no other to whom we can turn. At Bethlehem's manger we kneel and behold the Savior of mankind. Grant us salvation through Him. Amen. (From The 'Upper Room')

Hope For Leukemia Cure

One of the more heartening things about our troubled society is that we do continue to make progress toward cures for some of the ills that afflict humanity. Though solutions of world problems are terribly elusive, solid advances are reported now and then from the medical research frontiers.

The latest of these is the announcement of possible breakthroughs in the search for a leukemia cure. The importance of this is heightened by the fact that most of the many thousands who suffer from acute leukemia, for which no cure is known, are children. It is estimated that in this country alone the number of new leukemia victims next year will be 17,000.

From the National Cancer Institute at Bethesda, Md., comes word that a combination of leukemia-suppressing drugs and radiation effected cures in 70 per cent of mice on which tests were conducted. The same treatment has been started on a few human patients, without ill effects.

Further hope arises from a report in the authoritative British medical journal, Lancet, on treatment of leukemia patients with a chemical extracted from a tropical plant. Several of the patients treated showed no further evidence of the disease, and in others the leukemia was substantially controlled.

Much further work with these promising means must yet be done, and this should be emphasized upon the public mind. There is now a sound basis, however, for believing that before long a genuine cure for this cruel disease will have been developed.

Revealing All The Facts

Almost 100 years ago this nation faced an ordeal in many ways similar to that presented now by the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. Then, upon the assassination of President Abraham Lincoln, as now, the American people and others throughout the world require the fullest, the most complete and public investigation of the circumstances surrounding that act.

The question then, as now, is how the American people can be persuaded that all facts touching upon that tragedy will be revealed and published. But even the fullest and most penetrating investigation will not satisfy everyone. The story of Lincoln's death, and of the circumstances preceding and following it, is still a matter of dispute among historians of this generation. The same may prove true of Kennedy.

At the moment at least the prospect of more than one investigation looms.

President Lyndon Johnson has named a commission to probe fully into all aspects of the case. Attorney General Wagoner Carr has announced that he would launch a court of inquiry into the Kennedy assassination. At the same time the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Secret Service are in the midst of the most far-reaching inquiry in modern times. State and local law enforcement agencies may proceed to investigate on separate or parallel lines.

The American people will not be satisfied by a Texas investigation. Even a congressional investigation might bear the taint of politics. A presidential commission chosen largely outside the world of politics appears to be in the best position to persuade the American people that everything possible or conceivable has been done to bring every relevant fact to light.

Holmes Alexander Man Who Escaped Surveillance

WASHINGTON—Was John F. Kennedy assassinated because the Secret Service and FBI were watching every Radical Rightist in Dallas and letting Lunatic Leftists like Lee Harvey Oswald run wild?

Sen. John Tower (R-Texas) has raised this question in an interview with me. The senator waited for a decent interval after Mr. Kennedy's stately, heart-touching funeral, but now he says:

"WE HAVE REPORTS from Texas that the Rightist figures were closely watched during the President's visit to Dallas on November 22nd. It appears that the Leftist figures were not watched."

Tower, a conservative but no radical by any definition, is an anti-Birchite. The Congressional Record of February 6, 1962, will prove it. On that date, Tower caused the reprinting of a famous article in the right-wing magazine, "National Review," in which the John Birch Society leader, Robert Welch, was drummed out of the Conservative Movement.

NEVERTHELESS, Tower has been the target of Leftist crackpots who blame the Kennedy assassination on Rightist extremists. Undaunted, the senator will demand investigation of his Dallas reports. He sticks by his conviction that America's worst enemies have been misidentified.

"The Radical Right," he says, "is the symptom of the disease we call extremism. The Radical Left is the disease itself."

WAS THERE a failure in high places to take the Marxist menace as seriously as the Birchite menace? Did that failure contribute to the President's coming within gunfire of a Leftist crackpot? It is a hideous thought to contemplate, but it cannot be discarded for that reason. Even if Oswald turns out not to have been the killer (and we may never know), Tower has much documentary evidence to show that the man was one who bore watching.

In January, 1962, Oswald wrote from Minsk, in Russia, complaining to his senator that the Soviets were holding him and his Russian-born wife in the U.S.S.R. against their will. Upon inquiry at the State Department, Tower was told that Oswald was a man who had "requested that his American citizenship be revoked," and also a man who had previously, on November 2, 1959, sworn to this affidavit:

"I affirm that my allegiance is to the Soviet Socialist Republic."

YET THE FEDERAL government, having helped Oswald to return, apparently did not mark him as a dangerous citizen. Oswald was able to buy a murder weapon, hide himself with the weapon in a warehouse along the route of Mr. Kennedy's fatal journey in Dallas. Why wasn't Oswald under surveillance?

These queries at the heart of Tower's main question are going to uncork the vials of political passion which abated, very briefly, during the tragic interval of Mr. Kennedy's death and burial. Three investigations—federal, congressional and Texan—are now haltingly in motion to search out the causes of JFK's foul murder. One or more of these probes had better come up with plausible reports.

Otherwise, the sensational and unprecedented issue of a presidential slaying will be at the center of next year's election.

Long Dry Spell

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The U. S. Weather Bureau here had proof positive that a long drought this fall was one of the worst in area history. A spider spun a web in the official rain gauge and it went unnoticed for several days.

SOMEHOW THE KEY MUST BE FOUND!

James Marlow Portrait Of Oswald Shows 'A Misfit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The picture of Lee Harvey Oswald which emerges so far is that of a crybaby, self-centered, undisciplined, half-educated, a mind too poor to understand what he read, and with delusions about himself.

When the facts are all in, he may look different. But this ex-Marine, 24, assassinated after being charged with killing President John F. Kennedy, was a nobody who clearly wanted to be somebody.

It may turn out he was part of a conspiracy. But the information revealed up to this time indicates the exact opposite. He called himself a Marxist without seeming to understand a Marxist revolution is a job for an organization. Oswald was too undisciplined to be a good organization man.

HE BOASTED about the books he had read, but he never learned to spell well. He was dissatisfied with the American society but never learned how to do a job well enough to keep it so he could support himself in this society.

And while he kept talking of a more perfect society, in this one he skipped out on his rent. He called himself pro-Castro and anti-Castro. He glorified the Soviet Union and wanted to write a book condemning it.

HE COMPLAINED about the hardships his mother had suffered during the depression, before he was born, but the evidence indicates that after he was able to go to work, he contributed little or nothing to her support.

HE COMPLAINED to a family friend he was out of work and his wife was expecting their second baby. The friend drove to New Orleans for the wife and first child, returned to her home in Dallas with them, and took care of them for weeks.

Oswald apparently never contributed a nickel to this woman friend of the family for the support of his wife and child and second baby but, instead, went to Mexico to arrange a trip for himself to Europe.

His problem started early in the very short time he and his mother lived in New York he became such a delinquent in school he was given a psychiatric examination. He was found to be "wild." Perhaps the delusions showed up then.

AT 17 HE quit school to go into the Marines. He didn't do well under the discipline. He was court-martialed twice and was in constant conflict with other Marines.

He was given a special, hardship discharge so he could go home and help his mother, who had been badly injured at her job.

Instead of staying with his mother to help, he got a job on a freighter and, unknown to his mother but with $1,000 saved up from his Marine days, went to the Soviet Union.

In Moscow he called a news conference to announce he was defecting and wanted to become a Soviet citizen. He called himself a Marxist, said he was the youngest in the United States.

This demonstrated, at least, that he had some delusions about his importance. The Russians seemed unimpressed, withheld citizenship, and gave him a job in a factory at Minsk. Two things happened: He got married and became disillusioned with the Soviet Union. The idea of working at the same job perhaps became too much for his undisciplined spirit. Perhaps he felt frustrated by being treated as just another worker.

THE FACT that he had to go to the Soviet Union to understand how it operated—that there was absolute discipline under the Communists and discipline meant work because the Communists dislike bums—is as good an insight as any into the poor quality of his mind and his stability.

He was allowed to return to this country by the American government after three years in the Soviet Union. Here he bounced around from job to job, never really competent in anything except the most menial jobs.

IN THE meantime he tried to call attention to himself as pro-Castro and anti-Castro. He got into a television discussion on communism and Marxism and made a mess of himself.

Last September he went to the Cuban Consulate in Mexico City to get a visa to Cuba and the Soviet Union. When he was told it would take time he stormed out, slamming the door.

It's possible Oswald then felt rejected by both Moscow and Cuba. This is also possible, if he is the man who killed Kennedy, that he decided he would single-handedly show the Soviet and Cuban Communists how a revolutionist should act by killing the President.

To Your Good Health When Should Cataracts Be Removed?

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: I have "slight" cataracts that must eventually be removed. Should this be done now or later?

MRS. A. J.
Some diseases must be treated as soon as they are discovered, and the sooner they are recognized, the better the chance of complete cure. Cancer is one of these.

With some others it doesn't much matter whether you notice them early or late—and cataracts are a good example.

Some people with cataracts wait until they can barely see. Then they have them removed, successfully. Others have them removed early; these usually are people who have to use their eyes a great deal for fine detail work.

The result is the same in either case. Waiting, within reason, isn't going to do any harm, except that while the operation is postponed, loss of eyesight is prolonged.

Since yours were discovered early, and are "slight," and don't bother you seriously now, just use your eyes as long as they will serve.

You'll need glasses afterward because the operation means removal of the lens which is built into the eye.

You'll have to allow some days for rest and recuperation, and having glasses fitted, but you'll then be able to see all right. It may be, and this is usually the case, that you'll have one cataract removed while the other eye is still of some use to you. And then you'll have the other one operated.

Fat! My leaflet, "The Lost Secret of Reducing," tells how to get rid of it the easy way. For your copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner answers readers' questions in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim The Shoplifting Problem

A problem that never 'goes out of season' but is especially troublesome to merchants at Christmas time is that of shoplifting.

Granted that it would be harder to walk off with a motor car than it would, for instance, a pair of nylon stockings or a portable radio, all businessmen must be alert to the problem.

The light-fingered genry, some of whom do it merely for the thrills involved, aim their mayhem principally at the dry good stores, grocery establishments and five-and-dime emporiums.

ALCOHOLICS, especially those who drink cheap wine and who want the merchandise simply so that they can sell it (at a big discount) and use the money to purchase a bottle of spirits, give the store keepers a bad time.

However, that problem has waned to a degree because a suspicious pawn shop attendant will usually not accept their goods, knowing full well that the merchandise can be reclaimed by the original owner without cost.

THE WINOS do steal usually try to sell their goods to some unsuspecting person on the street at a great discount.

A surprising number of women practice larceny in the stores, according to local peace officers. They usually come into a place of business carrying huge purses or wearing loose-hanging coats. They purchase a small item and pop a larger and more valued piece of merchandise into the purse or hide it away in a pocket under their coat.

THE BUSINESS MEN are much more vigilant than you'd think. Some use an elaborate system of mirrors around the walls where every part of the store can be watched. Others locate peep-holes in the upper portions of their walls, behind which are walkways. Attendants can look down upon a suspect through a one-way mirror and see everything that's going on. Most shoplifters will deny all accusations once they are cornered, vowing to prosecute their challengers to the limit of the law.

SUCH THREATS rarely stand up, since the business men invariably have all the evidence they need to prove their charges. Too, they never level a charge of shoplifting at anyone until after they leave their place of business, for the simple reason that the accused can always maintain that they intended to pay for the goods all along.

Shoplifting is a problem that should concern us all, since many of the guilty parties go undetected. It stands to reason that the business world can't absorb all the loss, rather pass it along to the general public in the form of higher prices.

One merchant estimated that it required sales totaling $35 to make up for a $3 loss to shoplifting.

Inez Robb Hate Does Not Vanish Immediately

After its days of grief and soul-searching, the United States is back to normal again.

After all the truly noble words of American leaders urging us to forego insensate and divisive hatred, we are back in business as usual.

BY WAY OF demonstrating our return to normalcy the town of Americus, Ga., the day following the burial of President Kennedy, again indicted four young civil rights workers.

Or rather, the Sumpter County grand jury, in behalf of Americus, demonstrated how much it had been moved by the pleas for brotherhood and healing by indicting the four youths.

These are the same four young men who, in mid-November, were freed by a federal court decision that overturned an old and obscure Georgia law under which they were originally detained. That was a statute, passed in the days of slavery, dealing with insurrection and unlawful assembly, and carrying the death penalty.

BUT AMERICUS and Sumter County were not to be deterred by a mere federal court reversal, or the pleas for love to supersede hate in the American heart. Twenty-four hours after the funeral of President Kennedy the Sumter County grand jury indicted the four young men—the youngest 19, the oldest 22—on charges of rioting and assault with intent to kill.

Both sets of charges grew out of civil-rights demonstrations upon which the local White Citizens Councils, one of the nation's chief repositories of hate, look with extreme disfavor.

AMERICUS DOES not intend to have any nonsense about civil rights. So once more, Ralph W. Allen, 22, of Melrose, Mass., John Perdue, 21, of Denver, Donald Harris, 22, of New York, and Thomas McDaniel, 19, of Americus, are under indictment for their belief in justice. And on the day following the burial of a man whose death caused so many of his peers to cry out for love and understanding to succeed hate as a way of life!

Death does not automatically purge the survivors of their passions and prejudices. Accumulated hatreds on the left and on the right become a habit, and out of habit grows a pattern of life that would be meaningless — to its partisans—without that hate.

THE TRAGEDY, in part, is that what so many of the haters hate is not really their fellow man but the 20th Century, with which they are unable or unwilling to come to terms. The old certainties gone and with science questioning some of the eternal verities, the dissidents find themselves angrily adrift in an alien and revolutionary world.

The rest of us are at sea, too, in a world that is often equally strange and puzzling to us. The only thing that can be said for the majority is that we find it more intelligent to get a fix on the stars and to pull for the shore than to curse the oars.

DESPITE ALL the pleas for unity, love and brotherhood that followed the death of the President, the action of the Sumter County grand jury is not surprising. Men do not change overnight and hate does not vanish with a prayer. The nation will have to work long and hard to be rid of it.

David Lawrence The Case Of Lee Oswald

WASHINGTON — The search continues in a distraught world for clues to the terrible behavior of Lee Harvey Oswald. The effort to pin the blame on this or that trend in modern life begets the truth. For this case is like tens of thousands of others, and never would have attracted world-wide attention if the crime had not taken the life of a President of the United States.

Indeed the medical books are full of histories of illnesses with similar climates that have resulted in suicide or homicide after a life of seeming helplessness and frustration. To attribute Oswald's act to the atmosphere created by a "right wing" or "left wing" movement or to a "hate" group or to some foreign ideology or country is to fail to see the forest for the trees.

THE EVIDENCE gathered thus far shows that Oswald had an unhappy life. Family unity was broken before his birth with the death of his father. The young man seemed to lead a purposeless existence. He enlisted in the Marine Corps. He was guilty of misdeeds and twice court-martialed. He was finally discharged in 1959 with dishonor.

All this left a tragic mark on him. He started to read books about communism. He went to Russia, denounced his own country and asked the Soviet government for citizenship, which was refused. He married a Russian girl there and then asked for money so he could get passage back to America. In pity, he was helped by the American Embassy. But after this he seems to have been abandoned. He tried to find a job. He didn't seem to fit into anything.

THE BOOKS Oswald read when he came back to America were critical of communism. But he also read a book on the assassination of U.S. Sen. Huey Long in Louisiana. Oswald now was living in New Orleans. He sought prominence. He wanted to be conspicuous. He distributed in public places some pro-Castro literature. He imagined he could start a "Fair Play for Cuba" committee by himself.

A confused mind certainly must have led Oswald to try to return to Russia. He went to Mexico City a few weeks ago to seek a passport via Cuba. But this was refused. Possibly he wanted to isolate himself in Russia, where his wife's family lived. He returned to Dallas more frustrated than before and perhaps even more desperate about his future. He got an unimportant job in a warehouse. But his mind was the kind that wanted to express itself. He was bitter about his fate.

AT WHAT MOMENT the decision came to commit murder will never be known. His pent-up resentment against the Navy Department because the Marine Corps gave him an undesirable discharge may have made him resentful at Governor Connally, a former Secretary of the Navy, and against the President, too, as the head of the government that he felt had grievously injured him.

What is the moral which such a record so familiar in psychiatric cases presents to us? Can guilt be transferred to a society as a whole? Of what avail is it to cry out that public controversies with their bitterness gave rise to this crime which shocked the whole world? The absence of impassioned debates on public questions could hardly have changed the long history of this mentally disturbed man.

THE STORIES of the tragic end of disordered minds have been told many times. Similar incidents are happening all around us every day, even within families as husbands or wives commit murder and sons or daughters resort to the weapons of death.

Maybe since the assassination of President Kennedy has aroused such world-wide sorrow, it will also focus attention on the case of the madman and bring about intensive studies of these crimes. In our otherwise busy and preoccupied society, constructive help to prevent such tragedies might be extended by friends and neighbors as they come to learn more about the potential dangers in these cases. Maybe a wider knowledge of such matters by people generally might have saved President Kennedy's life and also the life of Oswald, whose wife and children now face a dismal future.

Dear Abby

This Could Backfire!

DEAR ABBY: Ever since I've been married, on special occasions like Christmas, my anniversary or birthday, my husband gives me presents I can't brag about. What I mean is, I am glad to get a new refrigerator or stove or washing machine, but do you think household appliances can be considered "gifts"? Please don't think I am unappreciative, but just once I wish my husband would give me some luxury item on a special occasion.

CHEATED DEAR CHEATED: Send me your name and address and I will tip him off. But don't blame me if you get a dozen roses for Christmas instead of an electric blanket.

DEAR ABBY: Here is the story: A college man invited his mother to parents' weekend. She drove over 200 miles and arrived Friday afternoon. Her son spent one hour with her, then disappeared with her car for the rest of the day and that entire evening. Saturday morning he spent another hour with her, and then took off again in her car for the rest of that day and evening. In the meantime, the mother wandered around the campus alone, trying to follow the program planned for the parents. Everywhere she saw college students with their parents. Was she justified in going to his dormitory, using her duplicate car keys and leaving early Sunday morning without bidding her son goodbye? She left word at the house where she stayed that she had gone home. HIS MOTHER DEAR MOTHER: In a word, yes.

DEAR ABBY: I was engaged to a boy and I caught him stepping out with my best friend, so I broke it off. I missed him something terrible, and he begged me to take him back, so I did. Well, he stepped out on me again with another girl. We were supposed to get married this summer. He said maybe we should wait a while because he thinks there is still some wild life left in him. He is 23 and I am 20. What should I do?

MIXED UP DEAR MIXED: Believe him. He is trying to tell you that he isn't ready to settle down.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MN: It is a switch when an eight-year-old tells his parents what to do—and he could use one.

Closed Bank Opens Today

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — The Southern Hills National Bank of Tulsa reopens today, but the name is the only thing similar to the operation that was shut down Nov. 8.

Southern Hills was ordered closed by Comptroller of Currency James Saxon when a no-service-charge offer to initial depositors caused more business than could be handled.

The bank opened Aug. 5. It had 31,000 depositors when it was closed.

Saxon ordered the bank's assets sold after naming William H. Greenfield of Dallas conservator.

The new directors are headed by Lynn R. Helm, president of the National Bank of Commerce in Tulsa.

Saxon also required the new bank to have a service charge on checking accounts.

All accounts of the defunct Southern Hills National Bank will be transferred to the new model bearing the same name with an "of Tulsa" added.

Many Tulsans who took advantage of the no-service-charge offer found themselves without funds when the bank closed. Unless they had other funds, they had to depend on merchants to hold their checks until the bank opened.

As the days stretched into weeks, many businessmen found themselves with too much money tied up. Signs became common in Tulsa stores reading, "Southern Hills checks not accepted."

Lifetime Of Texas Changes Subject Of Ex-Aggie's Book

AUSTIN (AP)—Caesar (Dutch) Hohn, 76, has seen a lot of changes in his lifetime, and he wants to tell people about them.

That's the reason for his book—"Dutchman on the Brazos"—published this month by the University of Texas Press.

"The older I get the more I believe that, in my time, man has made more changes in his environment than he has in any prior recorded history."

"Also that I, in my country-fied cotton-picking way, have seen more changes in my own environment than I am willing to leave unrecorded. That is why I am going to write my life up, whether anybody reads it or not," Hohn says.

AGGIE STUDENTS
It should be read, particularly by students and ex-students of Texas A&M University, sports fans who like to read about football's early days in the Southwest—and everyone who's ever pushed a plow.

"This book . . . is a fine account of a frontier Texan who fought his way up the hard way and liked it," Agnes Meyer writes in the book's foreword. Hohn admits life's been hard. "In my 76 years I've found out for myself that life can be hard, cruel, and sometimes even brutal. But it's how a person reacts to his knocks that counts."

Hohn's reaction to these knocks is, quite naturally, the theme of the book. He separates his life into three major parts—pre-college, college and his years as a county agent in various Texas counties. The early years can be summed up easily: "We met with hard work almost as soon as we quit toddling." Hohn was speaking of nearly 20 years spent on his parent's farm near Yorktown, Tex., 60 miles southeast of San Antonio. A member of a large family—eight brothers and one sister—Hohn tells some marvelous stories of early Texas farm life and his attempts to overcome his bashfulness around girls.

MAN'S SCHOOL
"In time all of us got to enjoy crude give-and-take with each other, which certainly served me well when I went to A&M, a man's school then and now."

doesn't pretend to be objective about the school, just loyal.

He entered A&M in September 1908, "possibly the greenest freshman ever to enroll." His tales of academic and campus life undoubtedly will bring back fond memories to old Aggies.

At A&M, Hohn got his nickname, studied horticulture under Dr. E. J. Kyle, for whom Kyle Field is named, and took veterinary medicine from Dr. Mark Francis, the man respon-

Seven Farmers Killed In Wreck

CIUDAD VALLES, Mexico (AP)—An open truck taking farmers from this city in northern Mexico to neighboring villages overturned and seven were killed Sunday night.

Fifteen others suffered serious injuries in the accident north of Tamin.

The farmers came here to welcome President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

Five-Legged Deer

E. C. Little of Austin, Tex., left, shot this five-legged deer near Brackettville. The unusual freak of nature was an otherwise well formed buck with eight points. Jim McCaughey helps display the deer. (AP WIREPHOTO) sible for eradicating the Texas fever tick.

He played football under the almost legendary Charles B. Moran when the A&M team was known as "farmers." Hohn credits Moran with having more to do with developing the well-known "Aggie spirit" than any other one person. "We played 'primitive football,' Hohn says.

NOT LAUNDERED

"Our game uniforms were issued at the first of every season and if they were laundered before the last game of the year I don't remember it." In those formative years for Texas collegiate football, teams carried 15 players, freshmen were eligible for varsity competition, the dropkick was a prime offensive weapon and substitutions were rare.

Hohn taught briefly at an agricultural school in Alabama, then returned to A&M for a master's degree in 1914. Fifteen years later Hohn learned his was the first master's degree ever granted by the school.

Then he took jobs as county agents of Sabine County and Grimes County, managed a ranch in Corpus Christi and lost some $3,000 attempting to sell insurance in Houston. "I had visions, I'll confess, of being a big shot in the insurance world."

WASHINGTON COUNTY

It was 1928, however, that he got the job he had been wanting, county agent of Washington County. "From the beginning of my service in Washington County, I tried, and am still trying to give back to the land that previous thing that the land gave to me—life."

Hohn gained national recognition during World War II when he was in charge of wartime labor program in Texas for the A&M Extension Service. "Hohn had the courage to formulate a philosophy that protection of our human resources, in this case migrant and local farm labor, was the surest method of increasing agricultural production," said Agnes Meyer. "The program produced an enormous increase in food which the country needed as much as it needed armaments."

Hohn retired in 1950. He still works with the soil, though, and has strong ideas about the federal farm program. "Under the monstrosity which is now the farm program the farmer is little better off than a serf, and he is ready prey for the Billie Sol Estes type of speculator with government connections."

"With all jobs and all decisions controlled in Washington, the program has made possible—and probable to my mind—such abuses as will make the Billie Sol Estes scandal look like chicken feed."

Hohn and his wife live at Independence, Tex., in an old stone house that once was a Masonic Lodge, the same lodge in which Stephen F. Austin became a Mason.

Cacao Hits Peak

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico's cacao exports hit a record 14,500 tons during the first nine months of this year, officials said Sunday. They said sales more than doubled, bringing in a total of $5,648,000.

Movie Cheered

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP)—A British film, "The Loneliness of the Long Distance Runner," was cheered Sunday night as one of the best yet shown at the World Review of Film Festivals.
