Showdown Vote On Braceros Due

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate scheduled a showdown vote today on a proposed final one-year extension of the law which permits the importation of farm labor from Mexico.

The central issue is whether the Senate should reverse itself and knock out of the bill language the House has refused to accept.

The hotly disputed program is due to expire at midnight Dec. 31. Backers are seeking to avert a stalemate on the bill between the two chambers.

Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La., the bill's floor manager, promised his colleagues in a Senate speech Tuesday this was the last extension he would seek. He is chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., one of the measure's opponents, hailed Ellender's promise as at least an ultimate death knell for the mass importing of farm labor.

McCarthy told a reporter he would neither claim victory nor concede defeat in his fight to keep the House rejected.

This was a McCarthy amendment adopted 44 to 43 last Aug. 15 declaring that no farm could employ foreign labor without first offering at least as good wages, working conditions and benefits as those required by the agreement with Mexico.

Ellender said the House would not accept this because it "would have the effect of more or less killing the bill." McCarthy did not dispute Ellender's claim.

McCarthy told a reporter later that he felt Ellender's promise makes it certain that the program "if it isn't killed this year, will have only one more year to run."

That was about the way Ellender sized things up in his speech. He said employers of foreign farm labor who contend they just can't find enough domestic workers to fill their needs had better start preparing now to lose the foreign labor supply in 1965.

He said he could not foresee what reaction this might cause in relations with Mexico, or how U. S. farmers would get along.

The program was launched in 1951, partly because of complaints by the government of Mexico that thousands of its nationals were crossing the border illegally to work on U.S. farms, only to be exploited by employers who thrust sub-standard wages, working and living conditions upon them. The program now is supervised by both governments.

There has been tremendous response to The Herald's special issue which groups together in one paper the pages telling the story of President Kennedy assassination and subsequent events which make up one of the dark chapters in U.S. history.

It is a collection of pages from Friday, Nov. 22, through Tuesday, Nov. 26, and makes a compact historical souvenir for easy safekeeping. Through the years — and for future generations — you will find this a factual and moving document of an American tragedy.

A limited edition was printed, so you are urged to come by The Herald promptly and get one of these issues, at 15 cents per copy.

There were no candidates seeking election and the post had to be filled through write-in votes.

One councilman's post was also up for a decision in the election. A. A. Johnson, the lone candidate for the job was elected, receiving 84 of the 164 acceptable ballots cast. Sam Martin, who formerly held the post Johnson will fill, received 66 votes.

The turnout of 173 voters was above average, White said. Such special elections in Stanton usually draw from 135-150 voters.

No date was set for the new officers to be sworn into office. Their terms of office expire April 1, 1964. Votes were canvassed and election results certified at a regular session of the and session of his Ecumenical Council.

He and his bishops gave two Roman Catholicism its first two councilor decrees in 93 years — one on liturgy, the other on mass communications — and then recessed the council until September.

But Pope Paul made clear that the nine-month recess would not be an idle period. He told the council's drafting commissions to rework all pending documents so that they might be completed as the assembly's next session.

The pontiff told the prelates the primary aim of their gathering was to set forth how they share with him, and under him, church government.

In an exhortation obviously aimed at conservative prelates who oppose the concept of shared power, he said:

"The episcopacy is not an institution independent of, or separated from, or still less antagonistic to, the supreme pontificate of Peter. But with Peter (the Pope) and under him it strives for the common good and supreme end (goal) of the Church. The coordinated hierarchy will thus be strengthened, not undermined; its inner collaboration will be increased, not lessened; its apostolic effectiveness enhanced, not impeded; its mutual charity stirred up, not stifled."

"We are sure that on a subject of such importance the council will have much to say that will bring consolation and light."

Miss Roberts said the man, Bernard Weissman, and a roommate, William Burley, paid a month's rent Nov. 5, but unexpectedly departed Nov. 27 — five days after a sniper killed the President and wounded Texas Gov. John Connally. She said Weissman left a New York forwarding address.

Two congressmen have called for FBI investigation of the American Fact-Finding Committee, for which Weissman said he purchased the newspaper space.

Rights Move Finds GOP Stiffening

WASHINGTON (AP)—A plan by House leaders to resort to a petition in an effort to pry the civil rights bill out of the Rules Committee is threatening the bill's shaky bipartisan backing.

Most Republican members oppose on principle the idea of bypassing committees by getting a majority of the House members to sign a petition, and have little sympathy with the drive getting under way to move the civil rights bill to the floor in such a manner.

Meanwhile, civil rights leaders gather today in what was described as "an extraordinary session" to discuss means of implementing President Johnson's appeal for quick action on civil rights legislation.

The group—including Roy Wilkins of the NAACP and Dr. Martin Luther King—is expected to represent more than 70 organizations and plans to hold a closed meeting before visiting President Kennedy's grave in Arlington National Cemetery.

To speed up House action on the bill, Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said Tuesday plans are going ahead to have a discharge petition filed Monday. Democratic leaders are hoping to have a large number of Democrats sign up at once.

They would like to get as many as 150 signatures by Tuesday, in which case they feel Republicans would be under heavy public pressure to supply the rest of the names needed to reach 218—a majority.

Such a strategy is almost certain to produce resentment among Republicans who support the civil rights bill, but who have never signed a discharge petition and never plan to.

They contend that Republicans have done enough to help get a civil rights bill to make them immune from such pressures.

The bill now in the Rules Committee was worked out largely by the Justice Department and key GOP members of the House Judiciary Committee as a compromise to break a committee deadlock.

The original report contains stinging criticism of the bill by Southern Democrats, and seven Republicans took it upon themselves to provide a rebuttal.

The Republicans called the bill the most significant legislation to come before Congress "in our lifetime" and wrote a "strong endorsement of each of its 10 provisions."

Chief Justice Earl Warren called for the first meeting Thursday in Washington of a seven-member special commission named by President Johnson to gather as much information as possible about the assassination of President Kennedy.

Texas Atty Gen Waggoner Carr told newsmen he will request a court of inquiry with like aims before Christmas in Dallas or Austin. The date will depend on when the FBI finishes compiling the evidence gathered so far and it is relayed to state officials.

Under Texas law, a justice of the peace may subpoena witnesses for sworn testimony if he "has good cause to believe that an offense has been, or is about to be, committed." Any refusing to answer questions may be fined $100 for contempt and jailed until they comply—unless they refuse on the ground of possible self-incrimination.

Before concluding the inquiry, the justice of the peace may or may not express an opinion on whether the evidence shows Oswald killed President Kennedy and a Dallas policeman, as he had been charged.

It would be optional with the justice of the peace whether the Oswald family's lawyer—or Ruby's lawyer, for that matter—got to question witnesses," Carr said.

In Fort Worth, Sheriff Lon Evans said the burial of Oswald in that city's Rose Hill Cemetery poses some long range problems. He said guards cannot be kept at the grave forever and suggested there might even be an effort 50 years hence to remove the remains.

Chicago (AP)—The nation's highest fatalities in October totaled 4,000, topping the previous October high of 3,983 in 1936. The toll, the third highest ever recorded for one month, compared with 3,880 in October last year.

Santa Claus will once again favor Big Spring's youngsters with a half-way stop here to talk over Christmas plans.

The jolly fellow will arrive at 2 p.m. Thursday via Texas and Pacific and will then set up his headquarters on the east side of the courthouse, as he has done in the past few years.

Santa has scheduled a short stop at the T&P station to greet well-wishers. He will then board the Borden's Special, a smaller engine with five cars designed for local runs, for his trip to the courthouse.

No streets will be blocked off, Chamber of Commerce manager Carroll Davidson said. Big Spring police will help keep children out of the streets and away from traffic. Parents bringing children to the courthouse will have to observe regular parking regulations, and should stay on the sidewalk at the square, Davidson said.

Other preparations for Santa's arrival are almost complete. Decorations for the season have gone up in shopping areas through the work of the retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce. Christmas lights have been turned on in business areas and several merchants have placed individual decorations at their locations to add to the color.

A Nativity scene has been placed on the east side of the courthouse by the First Christian Church and lights will be strung from the courthouse later.

Santa's arrival will be made known with a loud blast from a T&P locomotive whistle.

Nation Likely To Hear Ruby Facts Before Trial

DALLAS (AP) — People throughout the nation saw Jack Ruby kill the accused slayer of President Kennedy and they're likely to hear nearly all the evidence before Ruby's murder trial ever starts.

Steps to set two formal inquiries in motion raised this prospect today on the heels of an eight-week postponement of the Ruby case, originally set for Dec. 9. The new date is Feb. 3, fixed Tuesday by District Judge Joe B. Brown because the prosecution and defense said they needed more time.

Under Texas law, a justice of the peace may subpoena witnesses for sworn testimony if he "has good cause to believe that an offense has been, or is about to be, committed." Any refusing to answer questions may be fined $100 for contempt and jailed until they comply—unless they refuse on the ground of possible self-incrimination.

Wheeler Returned To Stanton Mayor's Post

STANTON — S. W. Wheeler, who resigned as mayor of Stanton following his election in a September special election, was returned to his former post by write-in votes in another special election held here Tuesday.

Wheeler received 85 of a possible 173 votes cast to lead the second-running write-in candidate by 18 votes. Edmond Tom received 67 votes and several other men received a scattering of votes, city secretary Harvey White said this morning.

There were no candidates seeking election and the post had to be filled through write-in votes.

One councilman's post was also up for a decision in the election. A. A. Johnson, the lone candidate for the job was elected, receiving 84 of the 164 acceptable ballots cast. Sam Martin, who formerly held the post Johnson will fill, received 66 votes.

CHEER FUND UP A LITTLE

THE CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND got a nice boost today, from two friends. Mrs. T. S. Currie sent in $10, and there was an anonymous gift for $50. This brought the fund to $110.

You are urged to act promptly with a gift — no matter the size—that will mean a happier Christmas for poor children in the city.

The fund finances toy repairs on which firemen donate their time; makes possible some holiday goodies; and sees to it that destitute families have food and medicine.

Every cent goes to help people in need. If you'll have a part in this Christmas program, please make your check to CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND and send it right along to The Herald for acknowledgment.

POWER FOR BISHOPS

Pontiff Decrees Vast Church Revamping

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI decreed a vast reform of Roman Catholic worship to day, called on the bishops of his church to share with him in its government, and then announced he would make an historic trip to the Holy Land next month.

The 66-year-old Roman Catholic ruler, in office scarcely five months, took the actions at a momentous closing meeting in St. Peter's Basilica of the second session of his Ecumenical Council.

He and his bishops gave two Roman Catholicism its first two councilor decrees in 93 years — one on liturgy, the other on mass communications — and then recessed the council until September.

But Pope Paul made clear that the nine-month recess would not be an idle period. He told the council's drafting commissions to rework all pending

Oilman Hits FPC Rulings

HOUSTON (AP) — An investment firm president says political pressures often affect the kind of treatment a gas pipeline transmission firm gets from the Federal Power Commission.

A. R. Laforce, president of the Central Securities Corp. of New York, made this charge Tuesday at the 36th annual meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

"Moreover, FPC decisions and policies have been highly inconsistent in that similarly situated pipelines have been accorded vastly different treatment according to the intensity of the political pressures in the individual cases," he said.

Laforce, a former pipeline company official, also said the FPC is handing down "arbitrary decisions" which are undermining the companies' financial positions and chasing away investors.

He said in the past the commission in his opinion treated the gas pipeline industry very fairly.

"However, in the past six or seven years I believe the FPC decisions and policies have resulted in a constant chipping away of allowable earnings," he said. "And more recently this chipping away process has become a chopping process."

"The result has been that the rate of return and allowable earnings for many pipelines have been reduced below the level necessary to maintain financial integrity and to attract capital."

Arms Ban On South Africa Up For Vote

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council is expected to approve today a Norwegian resolution calling for a worldwide arms embargo aimed at forcing South Africa to abandon its racial policies.

Norway's proposal reportedly won reluctant support from the African bloc after behind-the-scenes bargaining showed that the African demand for a total trade boycott of South Africa would run the risk of a Western power veto.

The Soviet Union complained that the Norwegian proposal did not go far enough, but indicated it would support it.

APARTHEID

The resolution calls for the toughest action by U.N. members since South Africa's apartheid policy of racial segregation was attacked in the U.N. 17 years ago.

Designed to paralyze South Africa's arms industry, it goes considerably beyond a council resolution in August calling for a limited arms embargo.

The Norwegian resolution calls on all nations to observe the previous resolution and also to halt at once sale and shipment of equipment and materials for the manufacture and maintenance of arms and ammunition in South Africa.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko told the council appeals to South Africa for moderation had proved useless.

TRADE EMBARGO

"The time for half measures is over," he said.

Fedorenko said the council should call for a general trade embargo and asserted South Africa "is unworthy of being a member of the United Nations."

The South African government has ignored more than two dozen resolutions against apartheid and there has been no indication its policy will be any more affected by an arms boycott.

The United States and Britain, who carry on the heaviest trade with South Africa, opposed the proposal for an economic boycott, arguing that it would be illegal and would serve little purpose.

Cigarette, Liquor Stamp Sales Up

AUSTIN (AP)—Revenue from cigarette, liquor and wine tax stamp sales totaled $9,728,306 last month, State Treasurer Jesse James said Tuesday.

October sales totaled $9,731,649 and November sales in 1962 totaled $8,958,101.

Leaders Appeal To Dallas To Regain Reason, Balance

DALLAS (AP)—Civic leaders appealed Tuesday night for Dallas, the city where a hidden rifleman ambushed President Kennedy, to regain a collective sense of reason and balance.

Speaking at the annual dinner of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, Dawson Sterling, Dallas Assembly President, declared:

"The time to return to reason and reality is at hand. These last 12 days have been a period of more than thoughtful soul-searching... but this can interfere with logic and clear thinking."

Sterling said positive, constructive attitudes and an enlightened and informed citizenry are vital.

"It is in keeping that we have bowed to our fallen President," Sterling said, "and now it is in keeping that we raise our heads to the world as an educated and dedicated people."

Charles A. Meyer, a Sears, Roebuck stores executive, and Dr. Willis Tate, president of Southern Methodist University, likewise addressed the crowd of about 1,500 people.

"There is a philosophy here that Dallas has never failed what she put her mind to," Meyer said. "Her next object is balance."

"We must not lose the precious quality of individualism. We must respect Texas history, but unthinking regionalism is as bad as unthinking individualism."

"We need quality to balance quantity, restraint to balance excesses and humility to balance our pride."

Tate urged "fair and considered treatment of others — even our adversaries" and said at another point:

"We do not need conformity. We need the richness that comes with diversity, we need open examination and debate. We must rely on truth and wisdom. When feelings are rampant, reason goes out the window."

"GREATEST"

Coming near the end, the tract continues: "Baptists have been history's greatest champions of a free church in a free state. They believe and practice the separation of church and state."

All credit to the Baptists, and all others who have stood up for the separation of church and state. But, may I kindly say that boasting does not become any of us. Freedom of church and state is not a Baptist doctrine; it is a Bible doctrine. It was advocated by Jesus (Matt. 22:21). This was long before there were people called Baptist (as per the admission of this tract). May I also be bold enough to plead with Baptists and all others that we not only talk about the separation of church and state; but that we act accordingly. Often the pulpit is used to air political matters, and to influence votes. These things ought not to be!

DEAR ABBY
Watch That Literature

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law, who is otherwise a very decent and moral person, reads trashy literature. She gets all the confession-type magazines, illustrated with pictures of passionate kissing, or a drunken man ripping the nightgown off his wife. (You know the kind.) What she reads is her business and I really don't hold it against her, but I take my children to visit her often, and I don't want my 10- and 12-year-old daughters getting interested in trash like that. Lately when we go to Grandma's the girls head right for the magazine pile. They adore their Grandmother and I wouldn't have it otherwise, but what can I do?

IN BETWEEN
DEAR IN BETWEEN: Tell Grandma that you would rather not expose your daughters to such "sophisticated" literature at their impressionable ages, and ask her kindly to ditch her collection when you visit.

DEAR ABBY: There's a very cute girl in my room, but I am sorta shy. Should I wait for her to drop a book or something before I give her any encouragement?

DEAR D. D.: Wait until she drops a LOOK. She could be "sorda" shy, too.

DEAR ABBY: It grieves me to see a wonderful woman like my stepmother treated the way she is. Abby, she has done things for my father that my real mother never did. He was a drunk when she married him (my mother divorced him) and he hasn't had a drink in over two years. She has worked by

First Conviction Under New Law

Howard County had its first conviction this week under the new state law dealing with persons who fraud inkeepers of their fees.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Nolen, who gave San Angelo as their home address, were arrested after a motel operator complained the pair had fled his place without paying for their room.

They pleaded guilty in Howard County court and Judge Lee Porter assessed a joint fine against them. They were charged as man and wife and the fine of $50 and costs was made applicable against the pair as though they had been one person.

They paid $78.85 and were released from the county jail.

Study Links Smoking To Higher Death Rates

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—You are past 40: Been smoking since age 15 or before? Inhale? A new barrage of figures linking smoking to disease and death may seem centered on you. The broadest study of the subject yet made shows death rates increase with extent of exposure to cigarette smoke, says the American Cancer Society. Its report today came on the heels of a proposal by the American Medical Association's Board of Trustees for a research program on tobacco and health "beyond statistical evidence."

34 MONTHS
The American Cancer Society's report was based on 422,094 men who filled out detailed questionnaires and then were traced for an average of 34.3 months.

Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond, the society's director of statistical research, outlined the new findings at the 17th annual clinical meeting of the American Medical Association. The figures confirm previous findings and go further, he said. Pipe-smoking Dr. Hammond reported death rates were far higher among cigarette smokers than non-smokers, they increased with amount of smoking, and they were lower among ex-smokers of a year or longer than among current smokers.

NEW FACTORS

The latest study, aimed at refuting challenges to six earlier ones, includes many new factors. One part of it compares death rates of 36,975 matched pairs (one smoker and one non-smoker).

The "twins" were matched for age, race, height, urban or rural residence, and numerous other characteristics—even degree of baldness and frequency of eating fried foods. The smoker in each pair used a pack of cigarettes a day or more.

Of the 36,975 matched pairs, 1,385 of the smokers died during the study compared with 663 of the non-smokers.

smokers, 12 of the non-smokers. Fifteen smokers died of emphysema, another lung disease, compared with 1 non-smoker. More than twice as many smokers as non-smokers (684 and 312) died of two arterial diseases. Other causes felled 576 smokers compared with 329 of the non-smoking "twins."

BEFORE AGE 15

Among smokers age 40 to 69 who started before age 15 the death rate was 2.9 as high as among those who never smoked regularly.

Lung cancer death rates of current cigarette smokers were 11 times as high as non-smokers—18 times as high among very heavy smokers.

The American Tobacco Institute has said conclusive scientific evidence is lacking to show connection between cancer and smoking.

Dr. Hammond said other diseases found related to cigarette smoking included cancer of the mouth, throat and bladder, and gastric ulcers.

County Criminal Docket Scheduled For Dec. 10

Lillian Clark, who faces two charges, will be the first defendant to be called for trial when Howard County criminal court convenes at 9 a.m. Dec. 10. She is charged with driving with a suspended license and also with driving while intoxicated.

Also set on the same date is the retrial of Trinidad Torres, accused of shoplifting. She was found guilty in this court of the shoplifting charge at an earlier hearing. She appealed the conviction and the Criminal Court of Appeals reversed the lower court and ordered her case tried again.

Another case on retrial, on orders of the appellate court, is set for Dec. 11. This is a charge of unlawful possession of barbiturates against Albert Rodriguez. Like the Torres woman, Rodriguez appealed a local court conviction and won a reversal.

These cases and numerous others were sounded Monday afternoon by Judge Lee Porter and were set for trial. Other cases and the disposition made of them:

die Reed, transporting, taken under advisement; Emzie Woodard, illegal liquor sale, Jan. 14; Manuel Hinojos, DWI, pleaded guilty Monday and was sentenced to serve three days in jail; Robert O. Pearson, DWI, Jan. 14; Dana O. Burton, DWI, Jan. 14; D. W. Dilbeck, pleaded guilty Monday to DWI, fined $50 and sentenced to serve three days in jail; William Paul Darrow, carrying arms, Jan. 14; Johnny Baldrige, DWI, Dec. 13; Jerry Glenn Hinson, DWI, Jan. 13; Rafael R. Trevino, DWI, Jan. 14; James L. Rutherford, DWI, Jan. 14; Joe Q. Laijos, DWI, pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and sentenced to serve three days in county jail; Eugene Moten, carrying arms, bond to be forfeited; Inez M. Hawkins and Joyce Mosley, shoplifting, to be tried before court without jury; Tanya Franklin, transporting, bond to be forfeited; Ed Flores, DWI, bond to be forfeited; J. C. Steward and Nina Cox Davenport, contributing to delinquency of minor, defendants have not been arrested; Douthitt Clay Buchanan, driving under influence of drugs, passed, defendant in hospital; Roy L. Wyrick Sr., DWI, Jan. 14.

Other cases called but in which no answer was made and in which bonds will probably be forfeited are:

Carroll A. Trantham, driving with suspended license; Floyd A. Ramon, worthless checks; Ramon Nunez, DWI; Elton Crutcher, driving with suspended license; Hector Sanchez, DWI; Helen Kirk Burnham, theft; Maynard Bishkin, DWI; Willie Miles, transporting; Jackey Hance, worthless checks; Dewey McBreath, worthless checks; D. C. Buchanan, worthless checks; and Frank Rogers, theft by bailer.

Wayne Burns, county attorney, said that a number of the defendants whose cases have been docketed for trial may enter guilty pleas later on. He said that plans are to try as many of the cases which have been assigned trial dates as possible. Jury panels are to report the weeks of Dec. 10, Jan. 14 and Jan. 20.

Dietician To Attend Clinic

Mrs. Mary Blackbird, clinic dietitian at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital, will attend a postgraduate course for dietitians being offered Friday and Saturday at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School in Dallas.

The course is offered by the school in association with the University of Texas Postgraduate School of Medicine. Dr. Erceel S. Eppright, assistant dean and assistant director of Agricultural and Home Economics for the Iowa State University, will be guest speaker at the clinic.

Of special interest to Mrs. Blackbird will be a presentation by Dr. Robert Walker, one of the 13 program speakers, on diets for patients who have wired jaws. Frequently patients at the local hospital have received broken jaws in automobile or other accidents. Present feeding for such patients consists mostly of liquid diets.

Other topics for discussion include chemical, antibiotic and microbial contamination, feeding of burned patients, iodine in nutrition, nutrition of children and disturbances of appetite.

Veterans Slate Holiday Party

Second annual Christmas party of the Christiansen - Tucker Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be held Saturday at the post home, beginning at 8 p.m.

The Texas Plainsmen of Midland will furnish music, post commander Granville Miller announced at the VFW's regular meeting Tuesday night. Tickets will be $1 per person.

Also at the Tuesday meeting, quartermaster Harold Danford reported that 45 members were now on the post's rolls, and Miller expressed appreciation to the VFW Auxiliary for decorations furnished for the holiday season.

Hereford Sale Banquet Set

Following an annual custom of long standing, the members of the Howard County - South Plains Hereford Association with their wives and a number of special guests will dine on big Hereford steaks the evening of Dec. 13. These banquets are held on the eve of the annual association sale. This year's sale—the 20th annual event of its kind in the history of the association—will be Dec. 14. The banquet for the members and their special guests will be at 7 p.m. in the dining room of the Settles Hotel. Jimmy Taylor, secretary of the association, said the sale and show will begin at 1 p.m. Dec. 14 in the fair grounds building west of the city. Sixty-one prize Hereford bulls and 12 cows will be sold. These have been consigned for sale from famous herds all over West Texas.

ANYONE LOSE A TURKEY?

Anybody lose their Christmas dinner? The Joe Mosby family, 2163 Cecilia, awoke this morning to find a nice-size turkey hen in their backyard. The bird later flapped over the fence and strolled down an alley toward Alameda Street.

Art Of Quilting Lives On In Service Project

By JO BRIGHT
Once a month they come to the basement of the First Baptist Church—26 women whose hearts are filled with love for their Lord and compassion for people who need help.

Each Sunday they might greet each other as they enter the sanctuary to worship. Another day they may gather in the upper rooms for study, but when the third Thursday comes, they labor.

Members of the Hannah Sunday School Class, First Baptist Church, have held this regular workday longer they can remember. Some joined the class as young brides—and are grandmothers now.

In 1919, the world had just been made safe for democracy when Mrs. J. F. Skalicky's name was placed on the roll. Legalized killing had stopped in France, but the roaring twenties had brought violence to American cities as Mrs. Olen Hull, Mrs. John Leyseth, Mrs. R. Richardson and Mrs. W. A. Stall were welcomed to the group. All said the quilting project was begun before they joined the class. No one knows how many quilts have been lovingly made and quickly given away. EFFICIENCY

The women have learned to work together so efficiently that a quilt is completed during one session. The workday begins at 9:30 a.m. when the quilt top is assembled into the frames. Quilting frames have two horizontal bars about nine feet long and two vertical bars about four feet long. The bars are approximately two inches wide and the same depth. They are held together at each of the four corners with clamps. The frame always sets so the corners make true right angles, rests on chair backs while the work is in progress.

The lining or backing of the quilt (cut several inches larger than the quilt top to allow for possible stretching of the top or for fraying) is placed in first by basting to ticking on sides of the frame. The quilt is rolled on the longer sides. Stretched and clamped, the lining is taut when the cotton batting is spread evenly and at the desired thickness.

The patchwork top is then placed over all, and its edges are basted to the edges of the lining at all sides. The women start to quilt from both sides, loosening clamps and rolling the work under as the quilting progresses.

As for actual quilting technique, most practitioners declare the only way to quilt is in two separate movements, one stitch downwards, the next upwards. The needle is guided through all three thicknesses by the forefinger. However, there are those who say that they quilt in a running stitch, two little stitches at a time. Some use a long needle while others praise the advantages of a short one. The quilt is finished by binding with a bias band of material.

GIVEN AWAY
The quilts are never sold, but are given to families who need them. The need may arise from financial difficulty over a period of time or the sudden loss of home and possession by fire. Recipients' names may come from the Salvation Army, newspaper stories or a friend's suggestion.

According to Mrs. B. F. Tingle, materials for the quilt top are donated. Class members contribute as they wish to a fund from which is purchased thread, lining and batting.

Other class members are Mrs. C. S. Berryhill, Mrs. Mary Brown, Mrs. Delphia Gordon, Mrs. L. A. Griffith, Mrs. Euta Hall, Mrs. F. W. Harding, Mrs. C. T. McDonald, Mrs. Irepe Mc-

Kinley, Mrs. Roy Odum and Mrs. G. C. Potts. Also, Mrs. C. C. Ryan, Mrs. Ruby Simpson, Miss Patti Ruth Ross, Mrs. J. M. Smith, Mrs. R. H. Snyder, Mrs. H. D. Stewart Sr., Mrs. I. S. Story, Mrs. Dock Wallace and Mrs. O. E. Wolfe. The teacher is Mrs. Omer Williams.

A recipe for fine quilting? One expert said, "It takes steady nerves, pleasant temperament, equal dexterity with either hand, an inborn sense of line and form, Job's patience and time galore."

Engaged

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Nancy Lou Hall and A.C. Robert Daniel Adams is announced by her mother, Mrs. S. C. Hall. Adams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Adams of Bentleyville, Pa. The couple will exchange vows Jan. 2 at 7 p.m. in the home of the bride's mother, 1563 Main.

Theme Of Holiday Featured

Mrs. James Duncan's home, decorated in keeping with the approaching holiday season was the Green Thumb Garden Club's meeting place Tuesday. Covered with a red Christmas cloth, the refreshment table was appointed with silver and featured a Christmas centerpiece. Mrs. Roy Reeder presided at the silver coffee service.

After a gift exchange, members agreed to contribute to the Christmas Tree Seal fund. Several members then made and delivered Christmas decorations to Ward 10A at the state hospital. Participating in decorating the ward were Mrs. Lee Rogers, Mrs. Arch Carson, Mrs. John Fish, Mrs. H. W. Smith, Mrs. Hubert Stipp and Mrs. Reeder.

Pythian Sisters Elect Officers

New officers for the Pythian Sisters were elected Monday evening at Castle Hall. Mrs. Bonnie Bennett, presided. Installation ceremonies will be held Dec. 16.

The charter was draped for Mrs. Mae Weiland, past supreme chief of Texas, and for H. M. Rainbolt.

The capsule was won by Mrs. E. H. Renshaw and the silver drill by Mrs. Choc Smith. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Herbert Johnson and Mrs. Squeaky Thompson.

Hostesses for the next meeting will be Mrs. J. O. Tines and Mrs. Rosebud White.

Library Club Hears Review

The Library Club of Big Spring High School heard a review of the book, "In His Steps" by James Sheldon, Tuesday evening in the school's library room.

Mrs. J. K. Cunningham, coordinator of Volunteer Service at the VA Hospital, presented the review to 15 members. Afterward she received a gift from the club and its sponsors, Mrs. Miller Harris and Miss Kathleen Fisk.

Former Resident Undergoes Surgery

Mrs. Jack Wilson, the former Jean Ann Black, underwent an emergency appendectomy Tuesday at a Denton hospital. Mrs. Wilson is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. John Black, 1505 11th Place.

LGA PARTY SCHEDULED

The annual Christmas party and luncheon for members of the Ladies Golf Association is set for Friday. The party will begin at 11:30 a.m. with the luncheon slated for 12:30 p.m. Officers and chairmen of the LGA will serve as hostesses. The usual bridge sessions will begin at 1:30 p.m. galore."

New Officers Elected, And Degree Given

Officers were elected and the Rebekah degree given in the John A. Kee Lodge session Tuesday evening. Mrs. Ray S. Doty, noble grand, presided.

Mrs. Carl Whilite was chosen to serve as noble grand for the ensuing year. She will be assisted by Mrs. Laverne Rogers, vice grand; Mrs. Jones Lamar, recording secretary; Mrs. Homer Petty, financial secretary; Mrs. E. C. Buchanan, treasurer; Mrs. Leon Cole, three-year trustee; Mrs. Lamar, team captain; Mrs. Doty, representative to the Grand Assembly in March, and Mrs. John Cate, alternate representative.

In a candlelight service the degree team gave the Rebekah degree to Mrs. U. S. Beechly, Mrs. Flo Dawson and Mrs. Lois Redmon. Mrs. Maggie Beasley was accepted for membership by transfer from Abilene Rebekah Lodge.

Friday night at 7 o'clock the Rebekahs, their husbands and wives of Odd Fellows in Lodge No. 117, will be guests of Lodge No. 117 at a Christmas dinner in the lodge hall. Miss Myrtle Russell of Electra, state secretary of the Rebekah Assembly, will be the featured speaker. The Rev. Elrah Phillips of Hart and a member of the lodge, will be master of ceremonies. The Rebekah membership was urged to hear Miss Russell's address which will stress the Odd Fellowship in the American way of life.

A letter was read from Mrs. Ellen Kreitzmeier, state president, which called attention to programs during January for promoting the International Peace Gardens between the United States and Canada. Odd Fellows will dedicate the Peace Gardens Gate July 26, 1964.

Hosts to the 37 members present were Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Kent and Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Martin.

BIG SPRING LODGE

Rebekahs of Big Spring Lodge No. 284 nominated and elected officers and made final plans for a chili supper during a Tuesday evening session at the lodge.

Mrs. Akin Simpson Sr. was nominated for noble grand; Mrs. A. J. McCall, vice grand; Mrs. J. R. Petty, recording secretary; Mrs. Gordon Gross, financial secretary; Miss Shirley Lee, treasurer; Mrs. Travis Melton, representative to grand lodge; and Gene Crenshaw, team captain.

In the final plans for the Saturday night chili supper, members were told that Tom Castle and his Knott Siring Band will play for the evening. The lodge discussed the Christmas party to be held for Ward 9-B at the state hospital Dec. 19. Twenty-eight members were present.

REPORTS MADE

Runnels P-TA Hears Carols By Chorus

Choral music in the Christmas theme was presented for the Parent-Teacher Association's program Tuesday evening at Runnels Junior High School. Reports were made and the Rev. E. A. Seddon of St. Paul Presbyterian Church gave the devotion.

Under the direction of Mrs. Forrest Gambill, the Runnels Choir sang Christmas carols with accompaniment by Mrs. Larry Sims at the piano.

Mrs. Dwight McCann reported on the magazine sales and sales at the concession stand. She outlined the proposed budget for the year. A City Council report was made by Mrs. J. H. Homan who announced a procedure course to be held Thursday at the First Federal Savings & Loan Building from 9 to 12 a.m.

R. T. Newell, principal, told of the state convention in San Antonio. Seasonal greetings from the president, Mrs. Curtis McCartney, were extended, after which refreshments were served.

The 100 adults and students were served from a holiday table by Mrs. Alden Ryan, Mrs. Henry Dirks and Mrs. Leonard Hanson.

Holiday Pilgrimage Slated By Hyperions

Christmas '63 in Big Spring will be marked with a Christmas Pilgrimage of Homes, sponsored by the 1944 Hyperion Club. The event is scheduled for the afternoon of Dec. 15 from 2 until 5 o'clock. Each home will be decorated by individual committees.

Mrs. E. H. Bouillon Jr., 807 W. 14th St., will have her home decorated by Mrs. Milton Talbot, Mrs. Carl Marcum and Mrs. Rene Brown; Mrs. Les Beauvais, 615 Highland, decorated by Mrs. Robert Johnson, Mrs. Charles Rainwater and Mrs. Wes Shouse; Mrs. Bennett Brooke, 700 Dallas, Mrs. J. H. Fish and Mrs. Mel Porter.

Mrs. Gil Gingold's home, 1717 Yale, will be decorated by Mrs. Jerry Jenkins, Mrs. Jack Cook and Mrs. T. W. Fetters; and Mrs. Grant Boardman's, Edgemere Addition, decorated by Mrs. Dean Armbrust, Mrs. Edwin Ballard and Mrs. J. W. Tipton.

Tea will be served at the Brooke residence. The social committee for the tea includes Mrs. H. M. Jarratt, Mrs. Delaine Crawford and Mrs. Charles Warren. It will be catered by Mrs. Don Wiley.

Mrs. P. D. Meek is ticket chairman, and publicity is being handled by Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Meek and Mrs. Shouse.

Those making the tour may start at any home on the list and progress from there. Individual committees will greet guests at each home.

Yuletide Spirit

Party And Dance Set By Juniors

A young people's dance and a Christmas party were planned Tuesday evening by the American Legion Junior Auxiliary. Eleven members and a guest, Judy McMullan, gathered at the Legion Hut to set the date for the dance. It will be held Friday night at 8 o'clock at the Legion Hut. The charge will be 50 cents per couple.

A Christmas party for the juniors and their families was scheduled for Wednesday Dec. 18.

Other projects for the month include a Christmas basket to be completed by the next meeting and delivered to a needy family. Also, the girls will provide cookies for the patients at the state hospital Dec. 12.

The members prepared a large box of funny books and signed a Christmas card. Both were taken to the state hospital patients.

Missionary Is Program Topic

A program concerning the life of M. Theron Rankin, a missionary to China, was presented at the Monday evening meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union, First Baptist Church, in Sand Springs. Those participating were Mrs. Bill Ford, Mrs. O. H. Denning and Mrs. Harvey Paul, in whose home the group met.

The 11 attending brought gifts which will be given to the shop at the Veterans Administration Hospital. The closing prayer was by Mrs. Don Burrows.

A Week of Prayer program will be given next Tuesday when an all day meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Bill Tucker.

Baptist Circles Meet Jointly

A combined session of the Anne Dwyer and Lucille Reagan circles, First Baptist Church, was held Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Welby Jackson, 2502 Lynn Drive. Ten members were present.

The prayer calendar was read and prayer offered by Mrs. Richard Grimes. The members voted to meet together again Dec. 12 and to visit the Bennett House for their community missions activity.

Mrs. R. F. Polk and Mrs. Charles Warren reviewed the last two chapters of the mission book, Mandelbaum Gate. In conclusion, a prayer of dismissal was given by Mrs. Ben F. Johnson Jr.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Having had an over generous amount of turkey dinners lately we are about ready for liver and onions or turnip greens and corn bread for a meal or two. In this age of deep freezing turkeys it's not like it was 20 years ago when the only time a family had a turkey dinner was when the turkey crop came off and that happened in November and December. At my parent's home we always had turkey on New Year's Day also the next Thanksgiving. Not so now. We may have turkey in the middle of summer if turkey suits our fancy... but right now we don't fancy it for a while.

MRS. FRANKLIN NUGENT is back from Ruidoso, N.M. She has been there since early November when she went to be with her daughter, Mrs. W. R. EDWARDS, when the Edwards' second child was born. Little WILLIAM ROWEN II was born on Nov. 7 which happens to be the birthdate of his sister, Sarah, who was two that day.

MRS. CURT MUZZALL, her son, HAROLD MUZZALL, and his son, JOE, all of Fulton, Ky. have been houseguests of Mrs. Muzzall's sister, Mrs. ARTHUR PICKLE, and the J. C. PICKLES. Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Pickle came from Lubbock Saturday to spend the weekend with their Kentucky kin.

We didn't miss the FLOYD PARSONSES after all. They stopped by on their way home and we had pot luck together and feasted on words. They had been in Odessa visiting the BILLY SMOOTS and planned to return to their home in Little Rock Sunday.

We enjoyed the exhibit of beautiful handpainted china worth your time shown by members of the Permian Basin Porcelain Art Club Sunday. The honored artist, MRS. E. H. HAPPEL, though not a member of the club was a happy little lady to be among fellow artists and see so many of her friends who called during the afternoon. She is a delightful person who can tell stories the evening long and each of them with flavor.

MISS CARRIE SCHOLZ displayed an antique vase which she won many years ago here by selling the most votes in a contest. It was given by Mr. Parks of the MITCHELL and PARKS JEWELRY CO., one of the early day businesses in Big Spring.

MRS. DORIS KISTER of Midland, one of the club members, was a most interesting guide and told us some of the better points of china painting and restoration. Mrs. Kister teaches china painting and says she urges her students to date their work because so much of the china found in antique shops is undated which might make the difference in whether it sells or not. Antique pieces that are not attractively painted can be restored to their unpainted state by a good boiling in a soda solution. Many such pieces were displayed Sunday. We were attracted to a piece that looked like a big salt shaker with extra large holes. We found it was either a hat pin holder or a cinnamon and sugar shaker which ever the user liked the best. Either way it is very pretty.

This exhibit was the first the local group has had, and all the members worked hard. MRS. LETA MILLER, MISS SCHOLZ, MRS. FLORENCE McNEW and MRS. V. L. PERKINS were some of the local painters who set up the show at the Big Spring Country Club when they host the showing again. Be sure you make an effort to see it. It will be well worth your time.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Pampers Herself As Well As The Sheets

Dear Heloise: For ladies who hang their sheets on the line. During cold weather remove the sheets from your washing machine and straighten them out while they are still in the house where it's warm.

Take your clothespins and clip them on the sheet while you are still in your warm utility room. This saves time standing outside in the cold and trying to straighten the sheets.

This same method also works in the summertime for those who do not like the heat! Straighten out the sheets in your cool house, clip on the pins and then when you go out in that hot sun you don't have to stand so long.

By using this method the year round you can hang your sheets twice as fast.

OLDER HOUSEWIFE

Dear Heloise: With Christmas coming I have purchased red nylon net to wrap all my Christmas packages. I will first cover them with white tissue paper.

I will also use the red net to make Christmas bows and pom-poms, and of course, I will indicate to the one who gets the box to save the Hello-Ease net for later use as dish cloths, etc. Thanks to the gal who suggested putting a thin sheet blanket over our electric blanket and folding it down over the top. Helps keep the blanket clean. The sheet blanket also holds in the heat so that the electric blanket can be set at a lower temperature thus uses less electricity.

gested putting a thin sheet blanket over our electric blanket and folding it down over the top. Helps keep the blanket clean. The sheet blanket also holds in the heat so that the electric blanket can be set at a lower temperature thus uses less electricity.

One more thing, Heloise. Can you tell me how to keep raisins soft?

MARY BUCK

Dear Mary: When you bring those raisins home from the store and they are still soft in their wax paper inside the box... dump them into a fruit jar with a screw top and cap it tightly.

This is the only way I have found to eliminate the problem once the box has been opened.

Love,
Heloise

Dear Heloise: Marshmallows are a good insulator for cookies or cakes which go through the mail. The marshmallows not only keep the product fresh, but act as a cushion for fragile wafers and cookies. (Also they may be eaten when they arrive at their destination.) Use plenty of them and stuff them in all corners to insure a safe journey for the gift.

Dear Heloise: I got so sick of spotted asphalt floors near both my kitchen doors, and on the hardwood near my front door, I finally found that I could take a newspaper (after cutting your column out), fold it in half and lay one by each door. Now my family puts their overshoes and umbrellas on the paper and hang their raincoats above, thus preventing spots on my floors.

Makes no difference whether it's January or June. When a thick rain comes up always throw newspapers in front of your doors to eliminate the marks on your floors...

Disgusted with spots
(Mail letters to Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald.)

Bride-Elect Honored At Pre-Nuptial Party

A bridal tea, honoring Miss Sandra Baker, was a pre-nuptial event given by Miss Frances Bartlett and Miss Gwynn Moizahn at their home, Park Hill Terrace.

Miss Baker is to be married to Joe Bob Clendenin Dec. 21 at the First Presbyterian Church. Her mother, Mrs. Dena Baker, and her fiance's mother, Mrs. R. A. Clendenin, were special guests for the Tuesday evening affair.

A pink and white motif was used for the silver appointed tea table. The pink linen cloth was centered with a pink candle based in an arrangement of white carnations and pink mums. Pink petit fours and pink and white pinwheel sandwiches repeated the party colors.

About 25 guests were served, and those in the house party were Miss Cheri Bunch, Miss Susan Baker and Mrs. Wesley Phillips.

State Witness Testifies She Saw Hicks' Shooting

"I was coming out of the bathroom. James (James Monroe Steward) was sitting on the bed. The door was opening and Travis Hicks was standing in the doorway. He yelled 'What are you doing in here with my girl?' I saw James get up off the bed. He pulled a pistol and fired one shot. He and Hicks were about five feet apart at the time. Hicks fell to the floor—he didn't move but just lay there. I ran around him, out of the door and down an alley. I went to the home of a friend."

Thus did Dorothy Marie Hayes, 24, Burnsville, Okla., describe the shooting of Travis Hicks in a room at the Big Spring Courts. The incident, she said, was sometime in November 1961 but she did not remember the exact date.

STAR WITNESS The slender brown-haired witness, a former waitress in the White Way Cafe here, spoke clearly and promptly in answer to interrogations by District Attorney Gil Jones. She was the star witness—the mainstay of the prosecution's case against Steward, now on trial in 118th District Court for murder.

Mrs. Hayes had completed her direct examination and was waiting to be cross examined when the defense attorneys in-

Good Report On Cake Sale

Preliminary reports on this year's fruit cake sale of the Band Boosters Club indicate that the 1963 effort should top them all, according to Walter Stroup, president of the group. The fruit cake committee was among others reporting at a meeting of boosters Tuesday. Twenty-three persons were present, Stroup said. No figures are in yet on cake sales, he said, but sales are running ahead of last year. Band members have slacked off in their efforts this week to prepare for an Interscholastic League marching contest to be held Saturday in Odessa, but they will be hard at work again next week. "We hope to wind up the sale in the next couple of weeks," Stroup said. Money from the cakes will be used to help pay for a trip of the band and choir to Los Angeles next year. The trip was approved at the last special meeting of trustees a week ago.

Saturday all three Big Spring secondary school bands will march in competition against other area schools at W. T. Barrett Stadium in Odessa. Junior High divisions begin at 9 a.m., with high school bands marching during the afternoon.

Gregg Dial AM 4-6331

terposed a motion asking that the state be forced to provide the defense with all memoranda, all records and all statements that might be helpful in their cross examination of the witness.

RECESS The court asked Jones how long it would take to gather up the material. Jones replied that the investigation had been made by a dozen or more officers over 15 months and that the file was voluminous and would take time to go through it and pick out the matters asked by the defendant.

JONES CALLED Jones had been called as a witness just before the noon recess. He was asked about existing records and memoranda he has relative to Mrs. Hayes' testimony.

He said he had only one statement, which the court had given the defense. He said there were no electronic tape recordings that he had heard of. What memoranda the other officers might have, he said, he could not say. His own file on the case, he emphasized, was "very voluminous."

Testimony Tuesday afternoon dealt largely with two important state points—proving the identity of the skeletal remains found Sept. 1, 1962 to be those of Travis Hicks and connecting Steward with the occupancy of a motel room here on or about Nov. 26 and with the purchase in a local pawnshop of a .22-caliber Derringer pistol.

TOXICOLOGIST The state presented Wayne Merritt, Midland, a chemist-toxicologist with the DPS, as one of its witnesses. He was one of the officers on the scene Sept. 1, 1962, when the skeletal state claims to be Travis was found. He told of finding and removing a metal fragment from the skull and also said the skull had a break similar to a bullet wound, just to the right of the left eye.

Inside the cabin, she said they drank some beer they had brought with them. Then she said she went to the bathroom. Steward, fully clothed, was seated on the bed. When she came out of the bathroom, she testified, Hicks was coming in the room. The shooting followed. "I never told anyone about it that night nor afterwards," she said. "I met Steward several times after that. We talked but neither of us said anything about what happened that night."

PAWNBROKER Earlier in the morning, the court had heard Ralph Fox, a pawnbroker, testify that a .22-caliber Derringer pistol, said to be the death weapon, was one which had been bought by Fox's shop sometime before July, 1961.

Inventory records from the shop, he said, showed the pistol was in stock July 31 but that at the inventory taken Nov. 14, the pistol was not on the inventory. He testified earlier in the trial that the pistol had been sold by a former employee to some person who identified himself on a signed card as H. O. Smith, Westbrook.

Ralph Fox, pawnbroker, testified to the sale in his shop of the Derringer shown by Saunders. It was bought, he said, by a customer who signed a card with the name "H. O. Smith, Box 87, Westbrook." Fox said the transaction was handled by Morris Redding, at that time a store employee. Redding has since died. The pistol, later, was repurchased at the shop, Fox said. He was not certain on dates and Jones instructed him to dig deeper into his records and find the actual dates the deals were made. He will be recalled later, Jones said.

MRS. SHAW Mrs. Mattie Bell Shaw, proprietress of the Big Spring Courts on West Third Street, identified the register for her place and said that on a date, approximately Nov. 26, 1961, Cabin No. 17 was rented to a patron who signed the register as "Bill Smith." She said that she did not recall the specific person. On cross examination she said that the cabin showed no signs of a struggle nor blood stains after Smith checked out. The state alleges that Hicks was shot in his cabin and his body removed to the lonely pasture afterwards.

Paul W. Hansen, Austin, handwriting expert for the Department of Public Safety who has been in his profession for more than 15 years, identified the "Bill Smith" signed to the motel register and the "H. O. Smith" on the pistol sale card as having been written by the same person and further testified that it was his judgment these signatures were done by the same person who wrote handwriting examples Steward filled out in the DPS office. "All of these handwriting samples," he testified, "were written by the same person."

DR. FURLONG Furthering the state efforts to prove the identity of the skeleton as that of Hicks, was the testimony of Dr. Norman Furlong, dentist at the VA Hospital. He said that his records showed Hicks was a patient in the hospital and, while there, had his teeth removed. He was provided with dentures which were similar to the ones found beside the skull. The doctor said the markings on the dentures (which had been the original clue to the body's identity) were those used at the VA Hospital. The records in the case were introduced as evidence.

Clarence Airhart, deputy sheriff from Martin County, also testified to finding the body and how the scene appeared when he reached it.

Seth Lacy, Big Spring electrical contractor, identified two pay checks issued by his firm to Hicks one of the checks was dated Nov. 23, 1961 and the other Nov. 28, 1961. They were issued to work on an electrical job for work done by Lacy. The checks were both cashed, apparently by Hicks, at a local store. They cleared the bank Nov. 30.

SINCE 1961 The state alleges that Hicks has not been seen alive since late in November, 1961 and that the cashing of the two checks is the last record of activity that can be traced to him. The state contends that on or about Nov. 26, he was shot to death in the tourist cabin. The state accuses Steward of the shooting.

Scouting Slogans Are More Than Words, Speaker Says

Scouting slogans are more than words, Brig. Gen. Howard J. Withcombe told upwards of the 200 gathered for the annual Lone Star Scouters banquet Tuesday. "They are actions and attitudes which make men of character."

The military services, and particularly the Air Force, are glad to get boys who were former Scouts, he declared in his address at the Cosden Country Club. Membership at this time includes 625 Cubs, 556 Scouts, and 177 Explorers, said Tollett. The 1,358 total is slightly ahead of a year ago but is under the figure at the end of 1962 and about 140 short of this year's goals.

Earl McKeehan, Midland, new executive of the Buffalo Trail Council, made his first official appearance by installing the officers. Scouting, he said, was the biggest business in the country because it was the business of making good men out of boys. With Tollett, other officers installed, were Joe A. Moss, Jack Alexander and Joe Pickle, vice chairman; Jack Gulley, commissioner; Col. Charles W. Head and Moss, council board members; Erven L. Fisher, advancement; Lige Fox, health and safety; Joe M. Jackson, organization and extension; C. H. Rainwater, finance; Harry Blomstedt, leadership training; Frosty Robson, camping and activities.

PARALLELS Gen. Withcombe drew several parallels between scout training and military service, pointing out that both had objectives of making the nation secure, preparing men, wearing uniforms with honor. Over 70 per cent of the Air Force Academy graduates are former Scouts, and they have greater staying power. For instance, the academy's freshman class had a slightly over 60 per cent former Scouts, but the graduating class, with many washed out, had well over 70 per cent. Gen. Withcombe, speaking with a background of experience as a Scout and as a father of two sons who were in Scouting, said that Scouting did indeed help shape character and prepare boys to serve in a better tomorrow.

INJURED CHILD STILL CRITICAL Cindy Thompson, 6, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Carpenter, is still in critical condition in the St. Joseph Hospital in Phoenix, Ariz., following a gunshot wound. She is, however, slightly improved and barring complications, she may recover. Cindy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Caldwell, 4401 N. 27th Drive, Phoenix 6. She was struck above the right eye by a bullet from her father's .38 police revolver, and the missile emerged above her left ear. Her father, a member of the Phoenix police force, was cleaning his pistol when it discharged. Physicians said she would likely continue on the critical list for another week and would be unconscious probably for a longer period of time. They are hopeful, however, that she can make a good recovery despite paralysis in her right hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter are in Phoenix, where they have been since receiving word of the mishap last weekend.

Couple Held In City Jail A 36-year-old woman and a 23-year-old man have been in city jail since their arrest, Nov. 27th, at the Airport Grocery, 3107 West 80. The woman is serving out a fine on a vagrancy charge, and the man, who pleaded innocent to a similar charge, has been unable to post bond, police said. Detective A. P. Hurley said a charge of carrying a pistol will be filed against the woman. Female officers who searched the woman at the time of her arrest found a pistol in her possession, Hurley said. The detective said a charge of house burglary will be filed against the man. He is a suspect in the burglary of the Harry Godwin residence, 204 Eleyenth Place, on Nov. 15th. An undetermined amount of jewelry, a television set valued at $140, a radio valued at $125 and a table lighter valued at $10 were taken, police said. Hurley also said the Lubbock Police Department has a felony warrant for the arrest of the man.

What happens next will come after the two have cleared up the vagrancy charges—either by paying a fine, serving a jail term in lieu of a fine, or by posting bond, he explained.

Burglars Take Clothes, Watch A burglar took clothes and a pocket watch valued at $47 from the home of Mrs. Maggie G. Coburn, 610 S. Nolan. Police said the theft was reported Tuesday by Edward Odum.

Jury Rules Not Guilty

A Howard County Court jury Tuesday afternoon found William Sampson not guilty and thereby cancelled his payment of a fine in the corporation court. Sampson's was the first case to go to trial in the county docket of appeals from the city court.

Sampson had been charged with being drunk and had been found guilty of the charge in city court. He appealed. His appeal was one of several cases which are set down for disposition in county court.

No jury cases were ready for trial Wednesday morning. Judge Lee Porter had to excuse the jury until Thursday.

There were promises made, according to Wayne Burns, county attorney, that some of the appellants would enter guilty pleas in their cases before the week ends.

Optimists Begin Yule Tree Sales

A small forest of trees, which need only decoration, is due to sprout tonight at the parking lot opposite Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home at Tenth and Scurry as Big Spring Optimists begin their annual Christmas Tree sale. The first shipment of pine, spruce and fir has arrived from Canada. Trees vary in height from about two feet to 12 feet, with prices ranging from 50 cents upward.

Members of the organization, including Mrs. Mabel 17, are shown here in a pulpit car.

Zone Change Requests Approved

The planning and zoning commission Tuesday recommended approval of three requests for zone changes. Marshall Field's request for a change from residential to retail zoning for his 1.49 acre tract of land in the 2000 block of Birdwell Lane was approved although commissioners were divided on the vote. Commissioners Dewey Martin and Horace Reagan voted against the request, but it carried with George Elliott, Wendal Parks and Brown Rogers favoring the proposal.

Property affected is out of Lot 5, Block 22, T-I-S & P Railway Co. Survey. Fields, is presenting the request, said he plans to develop a shopping center in the area. Board members favoring the request seemed to take the position the request should be approved since the surrounding property already has been zoned for retail business. Reagan and Martin said they were against approval because Fields did not have any specific commitments for development of the property.

The entire half block of property bordered by Ninth Street, Nolan, Tenth Street and the alley between Nolan and Johnson was approved for retail zoning upon petition of property owners. The original request, by Mrs. Johnnie D. Winham, was for her property at 904 Nolan. However, two property owners south of her property requested retail zoning in the half block. Robert Henry Johnson and James M. Carver, owners of the other two tracts in the half block, also favored the change. Their property was non-conforming. Mrs. Winham said the area had previously been zoned for retail business. She said she wanted the change so she could rent a storage building on her property. Other surrounding property owners voiced no objection when they were told the change would not increase taxes. The change is from two-family to retail.

Board members also approved a change from two-family residence to neighborhood service for Lot 12, Block 60. Original Township. Approval came after Randal Hamby changed his request for a retail change to a neighborhood service change. Property affected is located at the southeast corner of Nolan and Seventh Street. Hamby showed the board members a plan for an office building which is to be erected on the site. Commissioners determined that ample parking facilities would be provided. City Commissioners will consider the board's recommendations at their next regular meeting, Tuesday, Dec. 10.

Historical creeds of the church, although couched in heritage, must be made alive for this and coming generations. Dr. John Frederick Jensen, professor of New Testament at Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary, told men of the First Presbyterian Church Tuesday at Men's Fellowship.

Dr. Jensen pointed out how church creeds are handed down as a part of the heritage of the church, noting that they must not be allowed to become only hearsay. They must be made a vital part of the church today. Dr. Jensen was introduced to the men of the church by Dr. Preston E. Harrison. About 85 persons were present at the banquet. The guest speaker was born in the Netherlands, but grew up in Wrentham, Mass. He received his doctorate in Theology from Princeton University in 1945. Dr. Jensen has been at Austin Seminary the past six years. John Fort Jr. was installed as new president of the men's fellowship at the Tuesday meeting. Other officers installed were: Don Hank McDaniel, vice president; and Melvin Brown, secretary-treasurer.

Off For Texas

Mrs. Mabel McMillan, 57, and her son, Roger, 17, are shown on a Northeast Arkansas highway as they set out to walk 700 miles to near San Antonio, where Roger hopes to find work on a ranch. The Shetland pony, Rock, pulls a cart with their possessions. Roger's bicycle also goes in the cart. The McMillans say they like to walk so they can meet people and see the country. Two years ago they went to Florida for the winter. (AP WIRE-PHOTO)

Minister Plans Comeback For Bomb-Smashed Church

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — "Every time I go through there I just get nervous," the minister said. The Rev. John H. Cross goes through his church often — the Sixteenth Street Baptist Church. A bomb killed four Negro girls in the church Sept. 1. He goes with visitors — contractors, workers, and architects—to discuss repair of the bomb damage. The church has been closed since the bombing. One wall is believed unsafe. While city officials proclaim the future of Birmingham and end of racial strife, Cross outlined some of the prospects for his church in a recent interview.

REPAIRS

—The start of repair and construction, possibly within two weeks, of the bombed part of the church, and the first service since the bombing, hopefully within two months.

—The setting up of a trust fund to finance the education and medical expenses of Sarah Jean Collins, 12, Negro girl who lost sight in her right eye in the blast. Her sister, Ada Mae, 14, was killed. —Establishment of an educational fund for the brothers and sisters of the four victims. Cross hopes this fund eventually will be extended to other young members of the church. —Construction of an educational building, to be dedicated as a memorial to the four dead girls.

The church has received contributions from the state and nation, from both whites and Negroes. Expression of sympathy has come from afar—Cross remembers telegrams from Wales, Canada and Australia. Contributions total thousands of dollars. Cross said a committee in charge of the contributions has decided against disclosing the total sum.

NO APPEALS

"We've made no appeals for financial assistance. We have received voluntary contributions. It is our intention to use any money left to begin the educational building, a much-needed facility," Cross said.

The congregation has been loyal, Cross said. Services are being held in an auditorium. Work goes on. There are letters to answer, reconstruction details to work out, etc. Every decision is submitted to the membership or working committees.

As for the tragedy of Sept. 15, there's no forgetting. "I think the shock is just now going to hit me," Cross said. "The farther away you get from these things, the harder it hits sometimes. I think how terrible it could have been. We could have had 25 or 30 killed. "When I think of those narrow escapes, it becomes frightening."

Midland Gets New Hospital

A new 60-bed general hospital is nearing completion at Midland, and will be opened early next year, according to the owner-builders, Wilson H. Brown, Dallas, and Ernest A. Becker, Las Vegas, Nev. The facility will be a proprietary hospital, equipped with modern furniture and medical facilities. The hospital is located adjacent to Parkview Manor, a 100-bed nursing home, which was opened this fall, and is part of a project of health-care and retirement facilities on almost 60 acres in the northeast section of Midland. The first eight units of elderly housing apartments will be opened about the same time as the new hospital. The completed project will consist of the hospital, the nursing home, a medical office building, a neighborhood shopping area, a community building, and single family dwellings designed for retired persons. Parkview Hospital, like its companion nursing home, is a one-story steel and masonry building, fireproof and air-conditioned. Each room has its own controls for individual temperatures, and all are equipped with telephones, televisions, and radio.

New Rotary Members Tell Club Background

Brig. Gen. Howard Withycombe, Perry Cotham, Alex Farrar, and Curtis Mullins, were introduced to Big Spring Rotarians as new club members and inducted by W. C. Blankenship Tuesday. Three have been Rotarians before coming to Big Spring. Each was given three minutes to tell something of himself, or his Rotary background.

Gen. Withycombe said he had been a member of three clubs before coming to Big Spring, and that his father was a Rotarian in California. His former memberships, since being in the U.S. Air Force, have been in Tallahassee, Fla., Pemberton, N. J., and Colorado Springs, Colo. He told members he had been all over the world, and still looked to Rotary as a means of enjoying fellowship everywhere.

Perry Cotham, minister of the Fourteenth and Main Street Church of Christ, was a former member of the Grand Prairie club. He lists his classification as "author," since he has written several books, and is writing another. Some of his writings have been translated into several languages.

Curtis Mullins, local secretary of the YMCA, has been a Rotarian in East Texas. He was, for a time, in San Angelo, and both he and Mrs. Mullins are native Texans. Alex Farrar, with a classification of retail jewelry, is new to Rotary. He said he had known of its objectives and that he wanted to join them in Big Spring.

President E. P. Driver announced that Mrs. Zirah LeFevre would be in the hotel mezzanine next Tuesday to write poll tax receipts for any who wanted to pay them while the program was going on.

Final Touches Put On Play

The final touches this week are being put on "My Three Angels," which Friday will get the first of two showings by the Little Theatre of Big Spring.

The rollicking comedy about a trio of convicts in a French Penal Colony opens at 8:15 p.m. Friday at the Municipal Auditorium. Another presentation is slated at the same hour Saturday.

The "Angels" of the local production will be Tony Giardina, a shy and monklike soul with a talent for embezzlement; Jerry Kasher, a fatherly figure who somewhat regrets murdering his wife; and Ernest Lee as a handsome young romantic who couldn't wait for his stingy uncle to die of his own accord.

The three convicts, who have the run of the island, step into a personal affair when the store and finances of an honest, bumbling merchant, played by Kenneth Birt, are threatened by a relative, Daniel Kester. They quickly institute their own ideas of justice and Robin Hood.

Others of the cast for this delightful comedy are Sandra Storz, Sally Carr, Donald Kusel, Evelyn Pfeil and Jay Lauer. Jack Richards directs the play.

Season tickets to this and the two remaining productions of the Little Theatre group will be available at the door. Single tickets will be $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students and servicemen.

CAPT. JAMES W. HURT

Capt. Hurt Wins Twin Honor Here

Capt. James W. Hurt, instructor pilot in 3560th Pilot Training Wing at Webb AFB, was the recipient of a double-barreled honor this week when he attained the rating of a Master Instructor Pilot by completing 1,000 hours of flying time in the T-38, and by receiving his orders for astronaut training. The newly designated astronaut trainee is one of the 82 first lieutenants promoted to captain in October.

Capt. Hurt took his primary pilot training at Malden AFB, Mo. in 1959, and came to Webb for basic pilot training in the T-33. Upon completion of pilot training, he elected to go to Craig AFB for the pilot instructor's course. Completing the course at Craig, Capt. Hurt returned to Webb as an instructor pilot.

When the T-37's came to Webb, Capt. Hurt went to Randolph for a course in it; returning to Webb he was assigned as a T-37 instructor pilot. Later, when the T-38 supersonic trainer replaced the T-33 as the basic trainer, he enrolled in the T-38 instructor pilot's course in that aircraft. Since that time, Capt. Hurt has been carrying a full load in the T-38.

Capt. Hurt leaves today for Brooks AFB where he will undergo a week's preliminary test for his astronaut's training, after which he will be sent to Edwards AFB for the 12 months course.

Capt. Hurt is married to the former Janet Fish of Indianapolis, Ind.; they have two daughters, Karen, 4; and Kristine, 2.

Therapist Joins VA Hospital Staff

A new chief of occupational therapy has been added to the staff of the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital, filling a vacancy which has existed some five months.

Janet McCall, who comes to Big Spring from the VA Hospital in Salt Lake City, Utah, is filling the position vacated in June by Mrs. Alice Peden.

Born and reared in Spokane, Wash., Miss McCall received her training at the University of Puget Sound in Tacoma, Wash. She has been with the VA Hospital system for five years. Prior to the Salt Lake City assignment, she worked in Fort Lyon, Colo.

Due In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Israel's new ambassador to Mexico, Simcha Pratt, was due here today from New York, where he was a member of his country's delegation to the United Nations.

Pratt, a former minister to South Africa, succeeds Mordechai Schneerson, who left in May to become ambassador to Japan.

Nearly All Johnson's Wealth With Trustees

WASHINGTON (AP)—Almost all of President Johnson's personal wealth has been placed in the hands of trustees, the Washington Post said today.

It also said he has put his Washington house up for sale. According to the newspaper, the new President had put most of his stockholdings under trusteeship when he assumed the vice presidency in 1961. It said most of these have been liquidated.

Since becoming President Nov. 22, the Post said, Johnson has placed some 5,000 acres of unimproved Texas grazing land under trusteeship. He owns the land jointly with Mrs. Johnson. Under the agreement, the trustee may not apply for any provision federal farm or land subsidy under any circumstances. The trust lasts until

Leoni May Face Less Uproar In Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Raul Leoni, apparent winner of the Venezuelan presidential election, may face fewer problems than outgoing President Romulo Betancourt, but Communist terrorism and inadequate strength in Congress will hamper his "consolidation of democracy" program.

Leoni, 58, the candidate of Betancourt's Democratic Action party, probably will begin talks soon with Rafael Caldera of the Social Christian party to renew the governing alliance Betancourt had formed.

Caldera was the runnerup in the seven-man presidential race.

In a surprising show of strength in Sunday's elections, Caldera's Social Christians climbed from third place in the 1958 elections. As their price for supporting Leoni in Congress, they are expected to ask for more than the four ministries they hold in Betancourt's government. Together Democratic Action and the Social Christians will control just over 50 per cent of the seats in the Chamber of Deputies.

OPPOSITION

Betancourt, who leaves office next March after a five-year term, had much difficulty because the opposition dominated the lower chamber.

Leoni won't have to contend in Congress with Communist and other ultra-left members who plagued Betancourt. The president barred them from the election. But the extremists, inspired by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, have vowed to continue the terrorism with which they tried unsuccessfully to provoke a military coup and disrupt the elections.

"The extremists will not halt voluntarily," Leoni told an interviewer, "but they are weaker every day as government forces become stronger."

Terrorist violence has declined since the election but it continues.

McAllen Grets Mexican Guests

McALLEN (AP)—More than 400 Mexicans are expected here Thursday for a tour of 36 private homes.

The visit, which will last until Sunday, is part of the annual Caravan of Friendship. On the agenda for the visitors are dinner, rodeo, barbecue and tour of McAllen High School buildings.

Classing Office Has Sharp Receipts Decline

Sample receipts declined sharply during the past week in the Abilene Cotton Classing Office of the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service. According to B. B. Manly Jr., office in charge, receipts for the week ending Nov. 29, were 4,758 bales as compared to 15,116 for the previous week.

This brought the total bales classed during the current harvesting season to 301,979 as compared to 181,842 bales classed through the corresponding week one year ago.

Receipts from District 1 totaled only 1,770 samples. The reason is that harvesting in the area was slowed because of adverse weather. The portion of District 1 served by the Abilene office is composed of Glasscock, Martin, Midland, and Howard counties.

A percentage breakdown of ing away thousands of troops brought into the capital to patrol during the voting.

Betancourt Tuesday night urged a naval and air blockade of Cuba by Latin-American countries to prevent export of arms by the Castro government to revolutionaries in the hemisphere.

INVESTIGATE

In Washington, the council of the Organization of American States ordered a five-nation committee to investigate Betancourt's charge that Cuban "intervention and aggression" are endangering Venezuela's democratic institutions.

The charge was based on the finding of a three-ton cache of arms buried on a Venezuelan beach. Betancourt charges the arms were slipped into the country by Cuba to supply the pro-Castro terrorists. Cuba said the arms were a plant by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

The terrorist Armed Forces of National Liberation continued to hold Col. James K. Chenuault, deputy chief of the U.S. military mission in Venezuela. Chenuault, 47, of Sherman, Tex., was abducted last Wednesday.

Dawson Crop Is Perking Up

LAMESA (SC)—With almost 92,000 bales ginned to date the Dawson County cotton harvest is expected to get in full swing here this week after 10 days of sub-freezing low temperatures.

The Lamesa cotton classing office also geared for the peak although it is still far ahead of last year's activity, reporting 122,978 bales classed through November. Grades, staple lengths and micronaire readings remained good.

The average high temperature in Lamesa for November was 64.5 degrees while the low was recorded at 35.2—comparing to all-time averages of 65.1 and 34.5 degrees.

Precipitation amounted to .74 inch in November. The average for the month is .70. Rainfall for the first 11 months of the year is 15.23 inches, slightly behind the annual average of 17.08 inches.

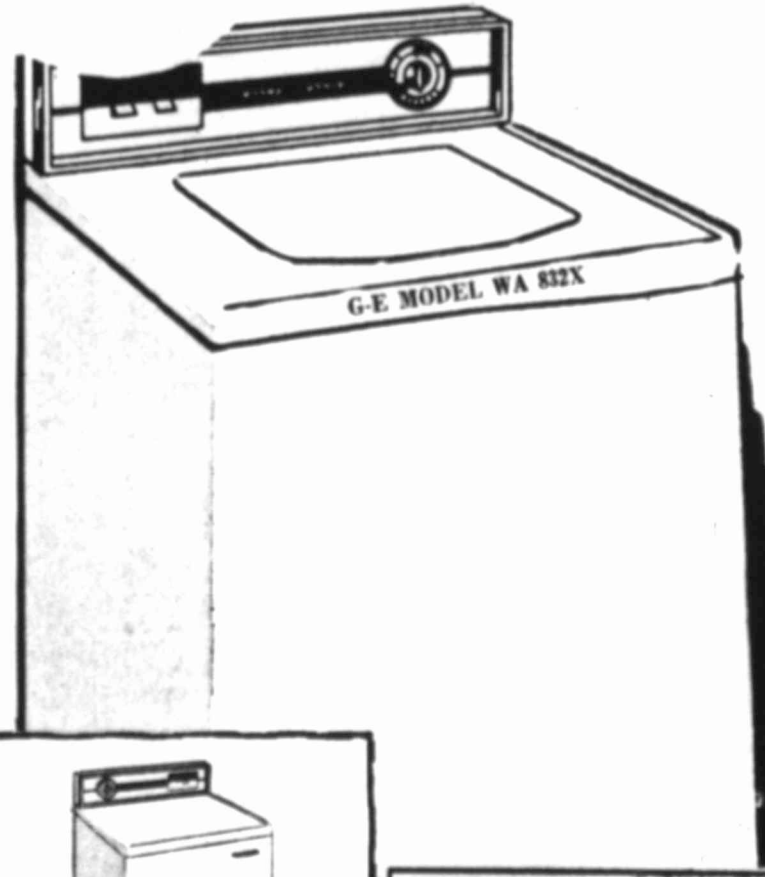

The growing season here was one of the longest on record.

A Devotional For The Day

The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light; those who dwelt in a land of deep darkness, on them has light shined. (Isaiah 9:2. RSV.)

PRAYER: Our Father, help us and Thy children everywhere to long for the light Christ is ready to grant us. Strengthen our purpose to practice faithfully the holy habits through which His light grows brighter and brighter in us. In our Savior's name we ask these things. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

Farmland Becomes City Sod

Congress has not been able in the 18 years since World War II, which generated agricultural over production, to solve the costly chronic problem of huge farm surpluses. But what Congress has been unable to solve by law, the population explosion—and its corollary, urbanization—may solve by economic evolution, even possibly by turning today's surplus problem into tomorrow's shortage problem.

What is happening in California, the nation's top food producer, points to that conclusion. The California State Department of Agriculture has taken a long, hard look at that state's farm future and found cause for serious concern. California has some 16 million acres suitable for farming, about half of which is prime farm land. Urban development has already covered 2½ million acres and the department estimates that cities will cover 4 million acres by 1975. Formerly almost exclusively an exporter of foodstuffs, California is becoming a heavy importer.

Relating the exceptional California experience to the national outlook, Daniel G. Aldrich Jr., dean of agriculture at the University of California at Berkeley, notes that throughout the United States a million acres of agricultural land a year is being lost to urbanization. And usually it is the best farm land, for cities—now sprawling between wasteful land uses—originally located in the best-watered areas of richest soil.

There appears to be no practicable way to slow down the rapid rate of land withdrawal from agriculture, and so long as there are huge surpluses no one but farsighted experts are likely to spend much time worrying about it. What they foresee, however, constitutes a compelling argument for continuing agricultural research in the midst of surplus and planning great water projects which can eventually open up vast new productivity and new areas to agriculture.

What If Other Officials Were Killed?

WASHINGTON (AP)—The assassination of President Kennedy raises some grisly questions which were not a problem when John Wilkes Booth planned to kill President Lincoln and some of the highest officials around him.

There were no intercontinental ballistic missiles in Lincoln's day. At that time the nation could not be in immediate danger if someone were not found within a matter of minutes to become president and commander-in-chief.

NOW A FEW moments—the time between the start of an enemy nuclear attack and the order to make a nuclear counter-attack—could mean the difference between annihilation and some survival if not victory.

Officials have said American nuclear missiles are so well scattered and protected and could reply so fast that an enemy beginning an attack would be equally devastated.

Such statements, a discouragement to an enemy, are based on the assumption that at the moment of attack there would be someone in supreme authority to order, and very quickly, a counter-blow.

As commander-in-chief, the president would give the order. If the president were killed, the vice president, by becoming president and commander-in-chief, would give the order.

UNDER A 1947 law, if there is no president or vice president, then next in line of succession to the presidency are the speaker of the House and the president of the Senate, and then the Cabinet officers, starting with the secretary of state.

So the line of succession, spelled out this way, looks clear and simple. If the enemy began an attack by dropping nuclear bombs on Washington, the president and all those next in line might be wiped out.

Since time then would be so precious, the highest military officers would have to give the counter-attack order. This might be done quickly—although there's a question it would be—once it was learned Washington was gone.

BUT SUPPOSE an enemy decided, before beginning an attack, it would be shrewder first to create such confusion and chaos in America that a counter-attack might be fatally delayed after the barrage on this country began.

Such a foe might think in terms of assassination, not of the president alone, but those in the immediate line of succession: the vice president and the two congressional leaders.

It isn't hard to imagine the dismay and confusion after four such assassinations if they all occurred within a few minutes. The telephone lines would be a mess. And how could anyone be sure who was dead and who was alive?

IN SHORT, then, who would be sure for some time that he was the next in line to take the oath of president and become commander-in-chief? And suppose right then the enemy began the attack.

Who could order the retaliatory nuclear blow if there were no president?

This writer asked the question around Washington and was told, although not officially, that undoubtedly the secretary of defense would take it on himself to issue the counter-attack order, since every second counted.

ANY SECRETARY of defense in such a situation would probably do that even though he was exceeding his prescribed authority. If anyone was left to dig himself out of the American ruins, he wouldn't be thinking about fine and unprecedented constitutional questions.

But suppose, in the general assassination plot, the secretary of defense was also killed. What then?

This can be said on excellent authority: There is a secret procedure in the government for action in case of an emergency. Maybe it answers the questions raised here, but it isn't likely to be made public.

Flowers For Every Sentiment

LONDON (AP)—You love the girl? Then send her a rose. You're sick of the guy? Then send him a bouquet of Michaelmas daisies.

Want her to marry you? Send her sprigs of ivy. Those dozens of other sentiments and declarations—which can be expressed by flowers—are the subject of a book published here.

IT'S CALLED "The Language of Flowers."

Explaining it, the publishers said: "To express gratitude or affection by the gift of flowers is common enough, but nowadays few people make use of the opportunities provided by this pleasant custom to express other and more specific sentiments."

"For instance, how nice and delightfully simple, to be able to express one's constancy with a bunch of bluebells, or to declare war with a sprig of wild tansy," they said.

THE BOOK, with illustrations, has 88 pages. The author is a Mrs. L. Harris.

It has two easy indexes. One explains what the various flowers, fruits and plants mean. The other explains numerous sentiments—and what to send to express them.

Here are a few: Admiration—amethyst. Ardor—the cuckoo plant. Beware—oleander. Coldheartedness—lettuce. Dangerous pleasures—tuberose. Disgust—frog ophrys.

FALSEHOOD—yellow lily. Fascination—fern. Hopeless love—yellow tulip.

There are three ways to express horror—by sending mandrakes, dragonswort, snakes-foot.

If you want to say "I'm worthy of you" you send a white rose.

Should you want to say "My best days are past" send colchicum or meadow saffron.

Should you want to say that someone's absolutely perfect—the pineapple is the answer.

—By EDDY GILMORE, for Hal Boyle

To Your Good Health

Cause Of Frigidity Usually Psychological

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. So, with this in mind, a woman should see a gynecologist (specialist in feminine diseases) or alternatively her personal physician.

Dear Dr. Molner: What can be done to help overcome frigidity? This condition has persisted for 10 years.—MRS. M. C.

Since the cause of frigidity is usually psychological, the answer might be "consult a psychiatrist." However, if one is not readily available what other approach is there?

Sex is a basic biological drive, and when it is absent (or rather when it is thwarted or suppressed) the point is to figure out why.

Quite a few factors can be involved. Leading among them are: early training concerning sex activity—the imparting of an attitude is "training"; a distorted moral viewpoint; distaste for the physical aspects; overwhelming modesty; lack of love for or subtle resentment of your mate; fear of pregnancy.

Physical factors may be present. Infection or other disorders of the genital tract can be a cause, not necessarily recognized by the patient.

That look like scars, but aren't. Sometimes the color, which is red, disappears. Could this be a rash? Can it be cured?—C. C.

They are probably stretch marks. Are you overweight? Skins vary in texture, and some, when stretched, get these marks. There is no cure for them, but the color gradually fades.

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband broke out with a brown pigment that has been diagnosed as mycotic fibrosis. The dermatologist says it can be cleared with X-ray, but isn't this treatment dangerous, and a cause of cancer?—I. F.

It's a fungus type of skin disease and requires a vigorous treatment; hence X-ray. Properly used, X-ray is not dangerous and does not cause cancer. So don't worry.

True, in earlier days, X-ray sometimes caused skin cancer, but it was the doctors, rather than the patients, who suffered from it.

Around The Rim

Still A Booster

Last Sunday while viewing the many exquisite displays at the Permian Basin Porcelain Art Club at the Big Spring Country Club, Miss Nell Hatch observed, with a sparkle in her eye:

"My aren't we getting cultured?"

MISS NELL wasn't being facetious, either, for she added: "I can remember when this would have been unheard of. When we got the first china kiln in town, you would have thought it was one of the seven wonders of the world."

Indeed, when her family came here, there wasn't a lot of culture in the frontier railroad and cattle town. Mrs. E. H. Hoppel, whom the Sunday show honored, was one of those who did keep alive the tiny flame of appreciation for painting, porcelain art, music and literary events. In those days of rugged existence, the atmosphere wasn't exactly conducive to the finer things of life.

MISS NELL could remember when there were scarcely any streets, mostly passages better than a good cow trail. Pavement was something only the metropolitan centers had. Most of the downtown area, such as it was, had rickety board walks or dirt paths. A one-lung engine turned an electric generator on a restricted schedule, and few people could afford the novelty of electric lights. Telephone service likewise was limited, and householders looked to the wood and coal yard for fuel.

A LOT OF this was to change, however, about the end of World War I. S. E. J. Cox, that unrestrained creator of sales promotion, picked out Big Spring as the locale for his five-ring oil exploration extravaganza. The Big Spring Commercial Club leadership knew full well that it had to come up to date as a Chamber of Commerce and needed a manager. Who else could do the job half so well as Nell Hatch, they asked?

Miss Nell had been working for the power company and with some reluctance took over the duties as chamber secretary, thus becoming the first woman manager in Texas.

SHE ALWAYS had been a booster for her town, but now she was getting paid for doing something she loved to do. Within the next year she was in the center of some of the most fabulous and exciting times the town has ever known. The big boom didn't come off due to one small detail—the one well which struck oil wasn't much of a well.

Miss Nell stayed on the job, however, laying the groundwork for many things which were to come later, such as a paved highway system, the first paved streets, natural gas service.

WHEN THE REAL boom did come in 1926, after the discovery of oil the previous November, she took stock and decided what lay ahead was a job for a man trained in the field... So she retired from that job and went back to the power company.

She didn't retire from her hometown boosting, however, and today there's no bigger backer of Big Spring than Nell Hatch. Maybe it's because you have to be able to look back to appreciate what you have, but likely it's because Miss Nell is just made that way. Recently she returned from a trip, and when she drove her car in the garage, she said: "Thank you Lord for letting me get back to my town."

The Brotherhood Of Man

The United Press International reports that on November 27, in Jackson, Miss., a "group of housewives charged in a bitter hearing today that their children were being subjected to brainwashing textbooks that teach that prejudice is wrong."

"The women also contended that the schoolbooks introduced pleas for world government into examples of bad grammar and tried to further a 'belief in the brotherhood of all people.'"

THE WOMEN had gone on to equate brotherhood with atheism and communism, and to profess that both would triumph if brotherhood was tolerated and prejudice unpreached.

Up to a point, I had clung to the belief that this nation really believed in "The Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man." On Thanksgiving Day, President Johnson, in his address to the nation, phrased it eloquently when he said, "God made all of us, not just some of us, in His image. All of us, not just some of us, are His children."

BUT THE CITIZEN'S Educational Association, a new Mississippi organization to which the protesting women belong, not only reject this ancient belief out of hand, but decry it as atheistic and Communist.

It is interesting that the women testified in Jackson at the invitation of Gov. Ross Barnett.

GOV. BARNETT is chairman of the Mississippi Textbook Purchasing Board, before whom the women testified in behalf of prejudice and against brotherhood. Of course, he agreed with the women. However, the board, composed of five members, has voted against any immediate book burning.

WASHINGTON—The untold story of Jacqueline Kennedy may inspire the poets of tomorrow to write the epic of a tragedy almost unparalleled in history.

Three times in a matter of seconds did death whiz her by—the wife of the President of the United States and the mother of their two little children. Only a few inches spared her the same fate that befell her husband. Instantly he lay prostrate in her lap. She saw the bleeding body—his head injured beyond description and never uncovered again.

AS JACQUELINE KENNEDY went to the hospital in a speeding car, as she waited for the final word of the physicians, as she traveled by plane to Washington and emerged there in the same blood-bespattered dress that she had worn at the moment that changed history, there was no outward sign of the grief which she felt within. She could have collapsed in tears. She might have sought the solace of solitude. But she exhibited instead the courage of a person who felt an overwhelming sense of duty. She alone could express the wishes of a wife and the nation's First Lady. She began to think of her husband as the fallen President of the United States—as the man to whom the people generally would wish to pay solemn and significant tribute.

STILL IN HER thirties, Mrs. Kennedy has been in the public eye as a gracious hostess to heads of state, to artists, to poets, to distinguished authors. She has dedicated herself to the arts and to the encouragement of cultural as well as charitable endeavors. She is fond of horseback riding and water skiing. Yet, despite her many activities, she has never failed as the mother of two little children, ever anxious about their schooling and the overemphasis that could come to them from their conspicuous position in life.

To all the world Jacqueline Kennedy presented last week an image which the "London Evening Standard" epit-

And Otis Allen, president of the State Association of School Administrators, who must be a brave man, had the courage to contend at the hearing that professional educators are better qualified and more competent to judge textbooks than women who would apply the torch to tolerance and brotherhood.

THIS SMALL SCENE in Jackson seems the essence of the nightmare that plagues our time and country and of which the President spoke on Thanksgiving night when he said:

"How much better it would be, how much more sane it would be, how much more decent an America it would be if all Americans could give their time and spend their energies helping our system and its servants solve our problems instead of pouring out the venom and hate that stalemate us in progress."

"IT IS THIS work that I most want us to do—to banish rancor from our words and hearts—to close down the poison springs of hatred and intolerance and fanaticism—to perfect our unity North and South, East and West, to hasten the day when bias of race, religion and region is no more and to bring the day when our great energies and decencies and spirit will be free of the burden that we have borne too long."

"LET US PRAY for His divine wisdom in banishing from our land any injustice or intolerance or oppression to any of our fellow Americans, whatever their opinion, whatever the color of their skins, for God made all of us, not just some of us, in His image. All of us, not just some of us, are His children!"

First Lady's Majesty

WASHINGTON—The untold story of Jacqueline Kennedy may inspire the poets of tomorrow to write the epic of a tragedy almost unparalleled in history.

Three times in a matter of seconds did death whiz her by—the wife of the President of the United States and the mother of their two little children. Only a few inches spared her the same fate that befell her husband. Instantly he lay prostrate in her lap. She saw the bleeding body—his head injured beyond description and never uncovered again.

AS JACQUELINE KENNEDY went to the hospital in a speeding car, as she waited for the final word of the physicians, as she traveled by plane to Washington and emerged there in the same blood-bespattered dress that she had worn at the moment that changed history, there was no outward sign of the grief which she felt within. She could have collapsed in tears. She might have sought the solace of solitude. But she exhibited instead the courage of a person who felt an overwhelming sense of duty. She alone could express the wishes of a wife and the nation's First Lady. She began to think of her husband as the fallen President of the United States—as the man to whom the people generally would wish to pay solemn and significant tribute.

STILL IN HER thirties, Mrs. Kennedy has been in the public eye as a gracious hostess to heads of state, to artists, to poets, to distinguished authors. She has dedicated herself to the arts and to the encouragement of cultural as well as charitable endeavors. She is fond of horseback riding and water skiing. Yet, despite her many activities, she has never failed as the mother of two little children, ever anxious about their schooling and the overemphasis that could come to them from their conspicuous position in life.

To all the world Jacqueline Kennedy presented last week an image which the "London Evening Standard" epitomized as "majesty." But people everywhere, hundreds of millions of them, did weep tears and manifest their sympathy. A typical letter—which came to a Washington friend from a French newspaper woman in Paris, a grandmother who has watched historic events for a long, long time—is quoted here:

"I HEARD a flash on the radio: 'Kennedy shot! Badly wounded!' It was a terrible shock. I could not believe it. But I hoped the news had been exaggerated. I let the radio stay on, my heart beating rapidly and about twenty minutes later the tragic news reached my ears—he was dead! I cannot tell you the sorrow which was mine. From that moment on, the telephone began to ring. My friends and acquaintances were calling to tell me how shocked, horrified and grieved they were.

"YOU CANNOT have any idea of the depth of the grief that has spread all over this country. Everybody—yes, everybody—shares the pain that has fallen on the United States. Everybody is concerned. For me it was a terrible blow. I could not eat, could not sleep, could not work. It was as if I had lost somebody very dear to me. And when I say 'I' I should say 'we'—friends, acquaintances, unknown people in the streets. They could not speak of anything else. Never have I seen such a unanimous, general mourning. Words are unable to express the general feeling. How many people have I seen with tears in their eyes!"

WHAT LESSONS do such manifestations of human grief teach us? It is that the hearts of peoples everywhere can be united irrespective of geography or nationality.

But even as the world poured out its sympathy, a lonely woman strolled along the sandy shore of Cape Cod last Saturday comforted only by the living memorial at her side—two beautiful children braving the winds and watching the pounding surf.

Back To The Books

Back in the 1950s there was an at least partially justified wave of despair for America's anti-intellectualism, cultural lag or gross materialism, to mention the commoner phrases used. Such critics usually cited in evidence the relatively low per capita level of book buying and reading in this country.

In that light, today's booming book trade reflects a healthy trend. The American Book Publishers Council reports that book publishing and sales have been in a sharp upward trend for the past five years. And this year's book sales are running well ahead of the impressive all-time record set last year. The increase is outpacing both population growth and general expansion of economic activity.

There are creditable discernible causes for that. The national level of literacy is improving, and the products of an improving educational system are swelling the book market. The extension of leisure time is allowing more people more time for book reading, and the impact of sweeping changes in the world and our society are sending more to books for understanding and knowledge needed to cope with those changes.

Of course, much of the increase in book sales and reading may be discounted as escapist or time-filling or sensation—seeking or boredom-battling. But the rising proportion of good literature and worthwhile non-fiction in the flood of paperbacks bought by the millions suggests that discount should not be exaggerated. Anyway, it is a mighty poor book that doesn't leave a little something of value with the reader.

A Memory To Cherish—Not Smother

WASHINGTON—Extremism in hate is one side of the coin. Extremism in love is the other side.

Polemic feelings of both varieties burst forth at the slaying of President Kennedy. At the National Press Club and at the White House press room on the fateful afternoon of the assassination, veteran reporters, shocked from their professional objectivity, incited by early TV assertions that some Rightist in Dallas had done the murder, turned and snarled at their conservative colleagues. When it appeared that Lee Harvey Oswald was a Castro-Marxist—and apparently the assassin—there were those who awaited no further proof.

"THEY CAN'T hang him high enough for me," said a newsman.

These rabid opinions soon expired among the press corps, where the underlying feeling was one of affection for Mr. Kennedy and dismay at his cruel death. On Saturday it was being asked if Oswald could possibly get a fair trial in Dallas. On Sunday there was unalloyed indignation over the Dallas police force's laxity which allowed Jack Ruby to murder the suspect and prevent Oswald from getting any trial at all. On Monday, the solemnity of the funeral got coverage from exhausted men and women who exchanged reminiscences of the slain President's many acts and words of kindness to them.

BUT THE EXTREME expressions, not long-lived among the Capital press corps, continued to build elsewhere. At first they took the form of a psychotic wallow in collective guilt, much of it in bad taste, by clergymen in their Sunday sermons and by public figures in front of microphones. The "Wall Street Journal" summarized this in a lead editorial on the day after the funeral:

"A senator said that the responsibility lay on 'the people of Dallas' because this is where the events took place. A spokesman for one group of our people said the nation was 'reaping the whirlwind of hatred.' One of our highest judges said the President's murder was stimulated by the 'hatred and malevolence' that 'are eating their way into the bloodstream of American life.' A newspaper of great renown passed judgment that 'none of us can escape a share of the fault for the spiral of violence.' And these were but a few among many."

FOLLOWING THIS deluge of sick, sick exhibitionism in high places, we have had the scramble of local dignitaries and civic promoters to fix the name of Kennedy upon their pet projects and institutions. Some of the proposals are fitting, but some are maudlin, ludicrous and self-seeking.

None of this speaks well for the nation's maturity, nor bodes good for the conduct of public affairs. John Kennedy, whom many loved, was not, as his eulogists are saying, "the greatest" of leaders or Presidents.

JFK will find his rightful place in history. Meanwhile, let's cherish the memory without smothering it in adulation.

Billy Graham

How can a person conquer self-consciousness? When I am asked to do anything in public I almost panic and become paralyzed. Is there something wrong with me? I do want my life to count for God, but I seem incapable of saying or doing anything worthwhile.

Self-consciousness is a natural inhibition, and you should not be self-conscious about it. It may interest you to know that every public speaker has to fight to overcome self-consciousness. When you hear me speak on radio, TV, or in person, you know nothing of the battle I have had to overcome this common foe of public speakers. I have never spoken anywhere, at any time, without accompanying feelings of nervousness, and feeling of inadequacy.

But the difference is: I don't let them keep me from performing my duty, and exalting Christ. I know that most of my anxiousness is imaginary, although it may seem very real. One verse that helps me is this: "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me." Self-consciousness can be replaced with God-consciousness, and then we experience the thrill of knowing that His strength, not ours, is being exerted on our personalities, and that creative life is flowing through us. Don't let fear paralyze you. Conquer by transferring your thoughts from self to God, and little by little you will find triumph over these natural fears.

Rusty Hints

ANITA, Iowa (AP)—The Eugene Trimbles of Anita have a 6-year-old dog. They call him Rusty.

Rusty is fond of milk, and when he doesn't find any in his dish he picks up the dish and bangs it on the floor.

If that doesn't get results, he gets an empty milk carton from the kitchen wastebasket and takes it to one of the Trimbles—just a hint.

DON'T YOU READ BEFORE YOU BUY?

And don't you sometimes re-read, study, compare, figure, measure, clip, save, and show to friends? When you're on the brink of buying, aren't you hungry for facts, features, dimensions, styles, colors, capacities, and prices? Print advertising puts people who are close to a purchase close to the kind of information they demand. Magazines, newspapers and brochures let them linger with your message for as long as they like. Print imparts important details, allows for colorful presentations, makes lasting impressions, takes people straight to the point—of purchase. Print makes sense because print makes sales.

Giant-Card Swap Said Perfect Deal

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN DIEGO (AP)—"The perfect trade."

RONNIE BANKS (24) PURSUES Snyder's Jim Vestal in back

Bovines Rack Up Bengals

Despite occasional lapses when they seemed to forget everything they'd been taught, the Big Spring Steers roared to a 68-56 basketball victory over the tenacious Snyder Bulldogs here Tuesday night.

The victory evened Big Spring's record at 1-1. Snyder was making its first start of the season.

Big Spring next sees action in the 25th annual South San Antonio tournament. The Steers have drawn Devine in the first round of that 16-team meet. The two teams tangle at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Mike Peters led the early surge against Snyder while sophomore Simon Terrazas helped take up the slack in the final two periods.

Peters emerged as the top scorer in the game with 20 points, 14 of which he bucketed in the initial two periods. Terrazas counted 14 for the night, ten of which came in the last half.

Big Spring built up a 20-point advantage at one time, but Snyder kept fighting back, mainly because Leslie Brown zeroed in on the basket from outside. For a long stretch there in the last half, Brown simply couldn't miss.

Drew Bullard emerged as Snyder's leading point getter with 13 points while Brown was close with 12.

Albert Fierro, good on the boards as usual for Big Spring, was also in double figures for Big Spring. He counted 11.

Big Spring hit 17 of 33 shots the first half for 51 per cent and 13 of 33 the last two quarters for 39 per cent. The Steers grabbed off a total of 37 rebounds. Terrazas led the way in that department with seven.

It was "no contest" in the B game. Big Spring won easily, 68-56.

Bailey, pitcher Billy Hoeft and a fourth player to be named later.

The transaction completed Tuesday night was the second major trade made at the winter baseball meetings, which moves from the present minor league headquarters here to Los Angeles Thursday for the major league sessions.

"We gave up a good ball player (Alou) to get two pitchers, Hendley and Shaw are the heart of the deal. But now, with Crandall, we've also got left (Tom Haller) and right-handed hitting catchers," said Giants' skipper Alvin Dark.

Alou was the big man in the deal. The 28-year-old right-handed hitting slugger batted .281 with 20 home runs and 82 runs batted in last season. He will play center field for the Braves, flanked by Henry Aaron in right and either Lee Maye or Eddie Mathews in left.

Bailey, a 32-year-old left-handed hitting All-Star catcher, had 21 homers and 68 RBIs on a .263 batting average.

Hoeft, a 31-year-old southpaw, nursed a sore shoulder all last season and pitched only 24 innings.

Giants and Braves officials expressed complete satisfaction with the trade, which they claimed filled in all the spots.

The rival managers were no less enthusiastic. "We've got a more versatile club than any time since I've been manager," said the Braves' Bobby Bragan. "This really gives us some punch. We picked up 150 RBIs and 41 home runs. Now I think we've got the best 1-2 catcher combination in baseball with Joe Torre and Bailey."

"We gave up a good ball player (Alou) to get two pitchers, Hendley and Shaw are the heart of the deal. But now, with Crandall, we've also got left (Tom Haller) and right-handed hitting catchers," said Giants' skipper Alvin Dark.

Alou was the big man in the deal. The 28-year-old right-handed hitting slugger batted .281 with 20 home runs and 82 runs batted in last season. He will play center field for the Braves, flanked by Henry Aaron in right and either Lee Maye or Eddie Mathews in left.

Bailey, a 32-year-old left-handed hitting All-Star catcher, had 21 homers and 68 RBIs on a .263 batting average.

Hoeft, a 31-year-old southpaw, nursed a sore shoulder all last season and pitched only 24 innings.

Owls Defeated By Bearcats

GARDEN CITY—Garden City bombed Barnhart in both ends of a basketball doubleheader here Tuesday night. The boys won, 57-40, after the girls had routed the visitors, 82-53.

Emile Griffith Named Neil Award Winner

NEW YORK (AP)—"This is the greatest honor you can get in boxing. I hope to live up to it this year and every year."

So said welterweight champion Emile Griffith today when he told the Boxing Writers' Association had selected him to receive the Edward J. Neil Memorial Plaque, awarded annually to the boxer of the Year.

"I'm embarrassed but grateful," said Harry Markson, director of boxing for Madison Square Garden when notified he had been chosen for the James J. Walker Memorial Plaque, awarded annually "for long and meritorious service to boxing."

The writers also named two veterans of the sport, Philadelphia promoter Herman Taylor and Dennis (Dinty) McMahon, chairman of the Connecticut State Athletic Commission, to receive special awards.

All will be presented with their awards at the BWA's annual dinner Jan. 12.

Griffith, a native of the Virgin Islands and now a New Yorker, is the only boxer to win the welterweight crown three times. In two title bouts this year he lost and then won in 15-rounders with Luis Rodriguez of Cuba and Miami.

His record is 37-4, including 14 knockouts. A busy fighter, he will meet middleweight contender Rubin Carter of Paterson, N.J., in a non-title 10-rounder at Pittsburgh Dec. 20.

Griffith, 24, is the sole support of his mother and seven brothers and sisters. He is a leader in youth activities, working closely with the Police Athletic League.

The Neil trophy is named in memory of the former Associated Press boxing writer who was killed while covering the Spanish Civil War in 1938.

McHUGH AND PHERIGO Two Coahomans Are Honored

Two boys who will come back to haunt opposing teams next year have won Player of the Year certificates at Coahoma High School.

The accreditations are awarded by The Daily Herald to area schools.

The two Coahoma boys chosen were Eddie McHugh, a 150-pound halfback, and tackle Larry Pherigo, a 165-pounder. Both boys are juniors.

Coach Jimmy Spann lauded the zeal and the team spirit of both boys.

McHugh scored five touchdowns in Coahoma's game with Hermleigh and was named Back of the Week at Coahoma for four consecutive weeks toward the end of the season.

He also scored three times in the Wylie contest. Against Aspermont, coach Spann said of Eddie: "He was our whole offense."

He was tough on defense against Merkel and proved almost impossible to bring down in the Rotan game.

Pherigo did his job in the Coahoma line week in and week out. Opposing ball clubs learned not to aim a play his way.

Cats Deflate Gail, 67-49

GAIL—Westbrook's boys won their seventh basketball decision in ten starts here Tuesday night, turning back Gail by a score of 67-49.

Leslie Watson, Elmer McMahon and Tommy Bryant played scoring 16, 15 and 17 points, respectively.

Gail was paced by Bill Nunnally, who wound up with 13.

In the girls' game, Gail won a 48-39 decision. The Westbrook girls are now 6-4 on the year.

Janie Putnam tallied 15 points and Fay Ritchey 14 for Westbrook.

The Wildcats return to action at home Friday, at which time they oppose ACC High School of Abilene.

Exes Club Is Talked At HC

An exes club, composed in the main of men who have earned athletic letters at Howard County Junior College and as yet unnamed, is taking shape here.

Six persons attended a discussion panel session held at the Wagon Wheel restaurant recently and another conclave is now scheduled to be held at the same place at 7 p.m., Monday, Jan. 6. Anyone who would like to apply for membership can feel free to attend.

Those attending the original session were Bob Davis, Harold Rosson, Jerry Brooks, Dr. Charles Warren, Jack Griffin and Ray Crooks.

A spokesman for the proposed club estimated that 50 eligible people now reside in the Big Spring area and upwards to 300 are qualified to join in various parts of the country.

One of the purposes of the club, a spokesman stated, would be to help the college coaches in their recruiting programs.

Anyone desiring additional information about the club can contact any of the aforementioned people.

Ticket Sales For Benefit Football Game Are Brisk

By BUCK SITTON
"It should be as interesting as a Dallas Cowboy professional football game."

This statement was made by Sgt. Jack Poole, coach of the 331st FIS Squadron football team, which will collide with a grid unit from the Big Spring police department in the second annual charity game. Kickoff is set for 8 p.m. Saturday at Memorial Stadium.

City policemen began selling tickets Monday, and sales have been brisk, according to assistant police chief Leo Hull. Police had sold about 450 tickets by noon Tuesday. Ducats also are available from representatives of the 331st FIS Squadron. Cost is $1 for adult tickets and 50 cents for student tickets.

The police department team won an overwhelming victory last year. The game netted over $2,000 for charity. Proceeds from the clash next Saturday night will be divided, as follows: 40 per cent to the Halfway House, 25 per cent to the Crippled Children's Center, 10 per cent to the Salvation Army and 25 per cent to be split between the Base Youth Activities and Boy Scout Troop 301, sponsored by the police department.

Scouts have reported spirit high in the camps of both grid teams. Police spokesmen said the tilt this year should be closer than in 1962. Sgt. Poole said, "I think it will be good game."

The police department team has been holding daily workouts at Goliad Junior High School. A couple of the police grid candidates missed Tuesday's drills due to bruised muscles. Tommy McAdams is coach of the law enforcement team. Line coach is Jim McWhorter. A few outsiders will appear in the police lineup, including Oscar Boeker, head coach of Forsan High School.

Assisting Poole with the coaching duties at the 331st FIS grid camp is Lt. Edward Hopkins, a graduate of the Air Force Academy. The Air Force team has been holding nightly workouts at Webb AFB.

Last minute details for the game are to be worked out by the Police Game Committee at a meeting set for 9 a.m. Thursday. Game officials will be Johnny Berry, Wesley Phillips, C. A. Ross, Bill Mims and Jim Black. The Rainbow Girls will operate the concession stand, and Boy Scouts will sell tickets at the gate. The Air Police unit from Webb AFB will provide a color guard.

Probable starters will be announced Friday.

Hawks Coast To Win Over Ranger Quint

HCJC's Jayhawks built up a 20-point lead at half time and coasted to a 98-68 victory over Ranger College in their home basketball debut here Tuesday night.

The success evened the locals' record at 2-2. The Hawks, who recently returned from Kansas, rest a week before returning to competition against Cisco here. Ten Hawks got into the scoring act. Terry Williams paced the locals' surge with 20 points, all but two of which he hit from the field. Tom Carter tossed in 18 for HC while Dick Ebling had 14 and Charles Cumber 13. Dale Ables and Gary Watson each counted 12 for the Rangers, who are now 0-2 on the season. Fred Marshall followed with 11 while Grant Davis accounted for ten. The visitors had trouble keeping men on the court, losing no fewer than four to fouls. In all, 31 personals were called against the Rangers, compared to 22 for HCJC. At the very end, the fans began to urge the Hawks to hit the 100-point mark and it looked for a while as if they'd make it. They had difficulty working the ball in from far court, however, and never did get a good shot at the basket.

Arrangements for a speaker are being completed and will be announced within a couple of days.

No Jayhawk was signalled to the penalty box, although Carter and Eddy Nelson each had four fouls charged against them when the end came.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Big Spring's Charley Johnson, who continues to amaze pro football circles with his money pitches for the St. Louis Cardinals, has been discovered by the New York writers. Some are even prone to compare him favorably with another Texan, Y. A. Tittle, who earns his pay checks with the New York Giants. One doesn't earn much more esteem than that.

Johnson was featured in an article appearing in the good, grey New York Times recently by Arthur Daley, which Mr. Robert Lippman of Big Spring was so kind to clip and forward to this window.

In part, Daley wrote of Charley: "If anyone wants to reach Charley Johnson on weekday mornings during the football season, he need merely call Parkway 1-9660 in St. Louis, a phone booth outside the chemical laboratory at Washington University. If the number is not exactly correct, it has been deliberately changed to protect the innocent. But the quarterback of the St. Louis Cardinals is never too far from the pay telephone booth in the unusual life he is leading.

"The 24-year-old Johnson learns the finer points of football in the afternoons and the finer points of chemistry in the mornings. He has made extraordinary progress at both. Despite his youth, Charley has become one of the tightest forward passers in the sport and is destined to rank as a master at the art. He already has gained a master's degree in chemistry and is working on his doctorate.

"I'm concentrating on polymer plastics," explained Charley to Joe Pollack, a Cardinal executive.

"What does that mean?" said Joe, a more knowing man on a weakside reverse.

"It involves rheology," said Charley, instantly clarifying the subject.

"Make it simple," said Joe, groggy as a mousetrapped guard.

"It involves the characteristics of flow," said Charley. "Different plastics make different qualities of flow. I figure out the whys and wherefores."

"For a couple of hours this afternoon (the day the Cards invaded and vanquished New York), the scholarly Johnson will be confronted by other problems in flow. These will follow less predictable patterns because they will concern the surging rushes of the New York Giant defensive platoon as it strives to apply corrective action on Charlie the Chemist. The Giants will try to reduce him to test tube size.

"(The last time the Giants and the Cardinals met), Johnson gave the Giant defenders fits with his artistry, and he has the skills to do it again. His composure is remarkable, and he is so self-disciplined that he can unwind like a yo-yo. Most football players are so tense that it takes them hours to calm down. Some remain so churned up that they can't eat until midnight. But chemical Charley threw five touchdown passes against Dallas, polished off a quick steak and studied the behavior of plastics for the next five months.

"He's a cool cookie. The Cards were trailing the Steelers, 23 to 10, with 2 1/2 minutes to go. He threw a touchdown pass. The Cards regained possession, and he was spilled for a loss on the first play. The goal was 75 yards away and 1:45 remained. Charley completed six straight passes, the last for a touchdown five seconds from the end. The Cards won, 24 to 23.

"Johnson is strictly a gift from the gods. He is from Big Springs, Texas, and was so unimportant as an athlete that he couldn't get a scholarship. He went to a junior college and finally got a scholarship to New Mexico State—as a basketball player. Once the coaches there saw him throw a football, his court career was ended.

"The Cards were not impressed that quickly. He was third string last year to Sam Etcheberry and Ralph Guglielmi. When both were injured, he broke into the varsity and hasn't been bugged since. But his total big league playing time spans only 20 games. He certainly moved to the top in a hurry.

"The Cardinals are a young team with a young quarterback, the ingredients for a powerhouse in the future. The Giants hope the Cards don't mistake the present for the future and will be manfully enough to wait their turn."

Now that the Gotham scribes have discovered Johnson, the Giants may pay Johnson the supreme compliment by trying to deal for him at some future date. They're taking lessons from the baseball Yankees and have been doing business like that for years.

They may have trouble getting Charley away from the banks of the Mississippi, however. It might be easier to change the course of Old Man River itself, come to think of it—the way Johnson is going these days.

If Charley makes a few more trips to the Baghdad on the Hudson, maybe Daley and the other New York writers will learn to spell Big Spring's name right, or is that too much to hope for?

Forsan Buffaloes Sweep Doubleheader Tuesday

FORSAN—Forsan swept both ends of a basketball doubleheader from Flower Grove here Tuesday night.

The boys won, 55-37, after the girls have prevailed easily, 63-30.

In the girls' game, Betty Conger waxed warm for Forsan, scoring 33 points. Jeanine Carmichael had 16 for Flower Grove.

In the back court, Judy Hughes, Patsy Gough, Susan Elrod, Pam McKinnon and Jan Butcherford excelled for Forsan, which now has a 7-0 won-lost record.

Ski Club Set For Conclave

The newly organized Big Spring Ski Club, which now has 52 members, will meet again at 8 p.m. Thursday in the First National Bank building. President of the budding organization is Lt. Eric Vettergren. Other officers named at the last business session included Joe Dawes, vice president; and Arlinda Alexander, secretary.

Plans for the club's first trip will be discussed during the Thursday session. Club officials hold out hopes that the membership will double in the near future.

Kirby Ready To Regain Allegheny Corp. Control

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—The company empire in May 1961. John D. Murchison, 41, captain of the successful dissident forces of 2½ years ago, was reported inspecting his investment in a Colorado ski resort. Clint W. Murchison Jr., 39, was said to be in Dallas looking after other Murchison interests. A $16.8-million stock-purchase transaction arranged early last July and executed Oct. 31 sealed the victory for Kirby and his allies.

The intervening time was required to tie together loose ends and for procedural steps, climaxed today with election of a new slate of Allegheny directors, headed by Kirby and including his sons, Fred M. and Allan Jr.

More Beds Due In VA Hospitals

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Veterans Administration has allocated 79 additional nursing care beds to the Bonham and McKinney (Tex.) veterans hospitals, Rep. Ray Roberts, D-Tex., announced today. The allocations are part of a 2,000-bed expansion program recently authorized by President Kennedy. Bonham is to get 44 additional beds, McKinney 35 beds.

Cliburn Plays Benefit In Return To Kilgore

KILGORE (AP)—Van Cliburn returned to his hometown Tuesday night and received an ovation from a capacity audience of 1,650 after playing a benefit recital for the East Texas Treatment Center for the physically handicapped. It was his first concert appearance here since December, 1958. That was the year he won the Tchaikovsky International Piano Competition in Moscow, a triumph which brought him worldwide acclaim. Cliburn, 29, received numerous curtain calls and played four encores after completing his program, consisting of numbers by Brahms, Beethoven, Barber and Chopin.

Opening lead: Four of ♠
Declarer had considerably more to fear from one defender than the other in today's hand. Failure on his part to neutralize the dangerous hand led to his downfall.

Against the final contract of four hearts, West chose the four of spades as his opening lead, and the queen was played from the dummy in the hope that East would be induced to cover. East however could not have obliged even had that been his desire, and South overtook the queen with his ace.

A club was led at trick two and, when West followed with the trey, the nine was played from the dummy in the hope that it would force out a high honor. Unfortunately, for the declarer, East won the trick with the ten of clubs and made the killing return of a trump.

South's cause was now irretrievably lost. If he played the ace of hearts from his hand, West would rise with the ace on the next club lead, play the king of hearts to draw North's last trump and then lead another club enabling his partner to cash the setting trick in that suit. If declarer took a trump finesse when East returned the heart, West would win with the king and return a trump so that South would be obliged to concede two more club tricks in the end.

Declarer's error arose from his failure to control the lead. Since it is his desire to ruff a club if possible, he must exert his efforts toward preventing East from getting in profitably to return a trump.

Observe the effect South obtains by crossing over to the ace of diamonds at trick two and then leading the nine of clubs from dummy. If East plays the ten of clubs, declarer covers with the jack forcing out West's ace. The latter cannot lead a trump without sacrificing his heart trick, and South is eventually able to ruff out his third club.

If East puts up the king of clubs when the nine is led, in order to return a trump, declarer will no longer require a ruff. The queen of clubs will drive out the ace and South's jack becomes a winner in its own right.
