Dodgers Are Moused By Ex-Halfback

By The Associated Press

Somebody should have warned the Brooklyn Dodgers about halfbacks. Here they go traipsing West, secure in their own little baseball world with never a thought about a man-in-motion, and in their first start they are moused by an ex-Green Bay Packer named Cliff Abernethy.

Abernethy, a fellow who appears to know his own mind, is said to have threatened to desert baseball for football, his first love. If he wasn't moved up from Des Moines of the Western League to the Chicago Cubs.

Tuesday when Manager Charlie Grimm sent him to the plate as an eighth-inning pinch hitter with the bases loaded and the Cubs trailing Brooklyn, 2-0, Abernethy belted a Vic Lombardi pitch into the stands for a grand slam homer.

Lombardi had been pitching a one-hit ball game for seven innings, until Bob Scheffing and Bill Nicholson opened the eighth with singles. Ray Mack, making his first start for the Cubs, bounced an easy double play grounder to Pee Wee Reese but the Dodgers' shortstop muffed it up and the bases were full. Clyde McCullough fanned then came Abernethy to make his 1-5 game.

The St. Louis Cards, whose season record is dotted with missed opportunities, didn't fail to take advantage of this one, moving down the Philadelphia Phils, 2-0, in a night game to slice that full game off the Brooks' lead.

Bucky Walters of the Cincinnati Reds, turned in a job that would have been enough to grab the headlines most days, when he celebrated Walters Night by blanking Boston, 2-0, with four hits. After accepting a shiny new car, and other gifts, Walters mowed down the tough Braves for his one hundred and ninety-eighth victory and forty-second shutout, tops among the active hurlers in the league.

Giants Beat Pirates

The New York Giants continued to make the most of their speciality, the home run, downing Pittsburgh, 3-1, on Jack Lohrke's blast over the fence with one on in the ninth. It was Clint Hartung's ninth triumph and Preacher Roe's thirteenth setback.

American League action centered around the second-place scrap between Boston and Detroit as the New York Yankees and Cleveland were not scheduled.

With the help of Jake Jones' three-run homer and some relief pitching by Johnny Murphy, Joe Dobson copped his sixteenth game for Boston by a 5-3 edge over Detroit. The result left the Red Sox a game and a half ahead of the third-place Tigers.

Al Zarilla's triple, followed by Jeff Heath's fly, enabled St. Louis' Ellis Kinder to down Philadelphia, 1-0, despite a three-hit job by Phil Marchildon. Kinder struck out seven 'A's and walked five, while scattering five hits.

Luke Appling set a new American League record by playing his one thousand nine hundred and eighty-sixth game as shortstop for Chicago, breaking the old mark set by Ross Peckinpah, as the White Sox thumped Washington, 6-1.

Singer Sewing Center Open In New Location

The Singer Sewing Center now is open in its new location at 115 South Main Street. E. W. Jennings, manager, announced.

The center will handle notions of all kinds, irons and ironing equipment, Singer vacuum cleaners and Singer sewing machines.

Services include the making of buttons, belts, buckles, button holes and other items.

The personnel, in addition to Jennings, includes Mrs. A. H. Hood, bookkeeper; Mrs. L. L. Calvin, sewing teacher; Mrs. N. H. Edwards, and Hazel Shell, service operator.

State May Offer Tideland Leases

AUSTIN—The State School Land Board Thursday will decide definitely whether submerged lands in the Gulf of Mexico will be offered for lease at the November 4 disposal of oil exploration privileges.

"There are still several factors that we must consider," said Bascom Giles, land commissioner and member of the board.

Texas officials are in the midst of a fight to firmly assert its tideland title, following the recent United States Supreme Court decision in the California case.

Giles said other public school lands will be offered November 4 regardless of the decision on the submerged areas.

Making the Overhead Pay Off

A new department store in suburban New York City offers this solution to parking problems: just leave your car on the roof and come on downstairs to shop.

Ken Regan Day Luncheon Plans Going Forward

Invitations to friends of Ken Regan all over West Texas to attend a luncheon in his honor Tuesday in the Scharbauer Hotel are in the mails.

The "Ken Regan Day" luncheon is sponsored by the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

Midlanders are urged to get tickets at the Chamber of Commerce office for the luncheon.

Many out-of-town persons are expected and a large attendance by Midland citizens is evident.

Booklet Explains All Vehicle Lighting Laws

Highway Patrolman Royce Blackmore announced Wednesday that drivers who are uncertain as to lighting requirements for vehicles are at liberty to consult an illustrated booklet in the Highway Patrol office in the courthouse.

His office soon will have enough of the charts for public distribution, the officer said. Meanwhile, the copy at the office may be studied by anybody who will go there. The pamphlet explains clearly the state's requirements for vehicle lighting.

Peppy's Pepper Sells For Record Price

FORT WORTH (AP)—A world's record price of $26,500 for the breed was paid here Tuesday for Peppy's Pepper, a three-year-old quarter horse stallion. This was $1,500 more than the previous record established in Fort Worth sale two years ago when Ramon Wood of Henrietta sold Buckskin Joe.

Danny A. Fowle, Grapevine industrialist, and J. T. Boothman who operates the Boothman Saddle here, are the new owners of Peppy's Pepper. They bought the horse from Lloyd Jinkins, Fort Worth cattleman.

In the last two years, Peppy's Pepper has made 31 appearances to take nine grand championships, two reserve championships, two seconds and one third place.

6—THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, SEPT. 10, 1947

Tribe Even, Win 9-1—

Playoff Payoff Comes Wednesday

Which will it be—Midland or Ballinger? The team which comes off the diamond of Indian Park with a victory Wednesday night will enter the Longhorn League championship playoff.

Midland and Ballinger now are tied with three games each won and the deciding tilt is Wednesday at 8:15 p. m.

Tickets for the final game of the stirring series went on sale Wednesday morning at the ball park.

A record throng is expected.

With a smashing 13-hit attack behind Claud Gray's good pitching plus sparkling errorless ball, the Midland Indians beat the Ballinger Cats, 9 to 1, Tuesday night in Indian Park before the season's largest turnout of fans.

The win gave Midland life in its Shaughnessy playoff series with Ballinger. The count is now three games all.

Harold Webb had to go (he got ejected from the game early) but his charges carried on the fight. The Tribe was away early with Hank Ramsdell cooking out a home run in the first inning scoring Eddie Mellillo in front of him.

Rain resulted in postponement of the game in the series between Sweetwater and Big Spring at Sweetwater Tuesday night. The game has been reset for Wednesday night. Both teams have won three games each.

Midland was still hungry in the second and got four. Arnold Davis smacked a homer. Keon walked and Henry Mellillo scored him with a singled. Gray singled and later scored. Prince hit and scored H. Mellillo. And in the third, Keon hit and scored Davis, who had singled. Jim Prince hit a home run in the fourth, nobody on base ahead. The last Indian tally was walked in, in the seventh frame. Alvis countered it after he had hit and the sacks filled.

Cats Are Docile
Ballinger was pretty docile throughout. Stu Williams hit a home run in the fourth stanza. That was all the scoring for the visitors. Gray limited the Felines to seven hits and they were scattered.

Great infielding by Midland required the Cats, inning after inning. Alvis, E. Mellillo and Prince especially were sharp affield during the night.

Bulldogs Prep For Invasion Of Ysleta

A long, long drill Tuesday and the Midland High Bulldogs had completed the last rough stuff before opening the 1947 season at Ysleta Friday night.

It was dummy scrimmage and real scrimmage and plenty of fundamentals. There was polish too, as the coaches put the gridders through every offensive maneuver in the books.

The Bulldogs will taper off Wednesday in a stadium workout and they depart for Ysleta by bus early Thursday.

PLACED PRINTS
American pioneers were able to determine the tribe to which an Indian belonged by examining the footprint of his leather heel.

Football Funnies

If this horse were rough-shod, it might be said that these Hardin-Simmons backs, Pat Bailey, left, and Hook Davis, were going to ride that way over the opposition. Anyhow, Texans probably understand this new football formation. The two Cowboys will attempt to fill the spot left vacant by the Little Doc Mobley, one of the nation's leading ground-gainers.

Rice Expects Greatest Team

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
HOUSTON (AP)—Rice Institute confidently—perhaps too confidently—is ready to greet its greatest football team.

It appears overconfidence is the only thing which might throw the blue clad legions who, according to all except a very few (strangers, no doubt), will furnish the mightiest Owl team of all time.

Watch their actions and study their background and you become one of the faithful. Football ability sticks out in gobs as the finest squad Rice ever has known frolics in heat which is tough on the spectators.

The Owls went through their first real scrimmage Tuesday. Their blocking was poor and their tackling lackluster but this was easily explained: Coach Jess Neely has't been driving them very hard as he brings them on slowly for one of the toughest schedules a college ever attempted. Too, the boys may be believing everything they read in the papers and magazines and figure if they're that good they don't need to work.

Plenty Of Ability
But the ability is there for Rice's greatest team. This, according to Neely, might not be good enough as he reads reports about what's going on at Texas and Arkansas and other conference camps. But the head man of the Owls appears mightily optimistic nevertheless.

He admits he has the best group of backs he ever has had and the finest array of ends since he has been at Rice. He rates J. W. Magee a better guard than All-American Welton Humble, who is one of three important losses from 1946. He expects his team to be better than last year. "If we're not we probably won't win a ball game," he warns.

There certainly is no reason why Rice shouldn't have a great team. It is three deep in good men for every position, it has 28 lettermen—22 of them men from last season's co-conference champions; it has great passing, a squadron of excellent receivers, fine punting, a flock of elusive, hard-running backs and it has all-around speed.

The starting Owl team which takes the field September 27 against Louisiana State at Baton Rouge probably will be made up of Windell Williams and James (Froggie) Williams, ends; Henry Armstrong and Ralph Murphy, tackles; Magee and Novice Nicholson, guards; Joe Watson, center; Virgil Eikenberg, quarterback; Huey Keeney and Don Anderson, halfbacks, and Carl Russ, fullback.

One of the moon's craters is as large as Rhode Island.

Ranking Golfers Remain In Tourney

PEBBLE BEACH, CALIF.—(AP)—The forty-seventh annual U. S. National Amateur golf championship reached the dead-serious stage Wednesday as the field of 64 survivors, which includes almost every ranking contender, headed into two rounds of play over the Pebble Beach course.

Still on deck are such threats as Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Marvin H. "Bud" Ward of Spokane, Dick Chapman of Mamaroneck, N. Y., Bruce McCormick and Johnny Dawson of Hollywood, Frank Strafaci of Flushing, N. Y., Johnny Goodman of Omaha, Skee Reigel of Monterey Park, Calif., Chuck Kocsis of Royal Oak, Mich., and a wily darkhorse, Ray Sleppey of Los Angeles' Palms Verdes community, who sank an 18-foot putt on the nineteenth green to whip the Northern California star, Ernie Pieper, San Jose, before the day's largest gallery.

Rufus King, Wichita Falls, Texas, defeated Junius J. Hebert, Baton Rouge, one up, on the twentieth hole.

GIs Keep Lone Vigil In Soviet Germany

By AL COCKING
NEA Staff Correspondent

NAHMITZ, GERMANY—(NEA)—On the edge of a Prussian farm village, deep in the Soviet zone, lies a patch of land, 30 by 50 yards, with the American flag flying over it.

By agreement this fenced-in island is populated and administered by a handful of American soldiers who leave it only in case of emergency. No one sets foot on America-in-Prussia without permission of the outpost commander.

Because of the boredom at the outpost, the American command in Berlin rotates its island dwellers every two weeks.

Nahmitz outpost serves as an aid station for allied travelers on the autobahn which runs past it.

Links Two Zones

This stretch of road, 112 miles long, is the only link for Americans, British, and French between Berlin and the western zones of Germany.

The GIs are there to cope with accidents and emergencies on this stretch where communications do not exist.

The troops, consisting of medics, ordnance, signalmen, and consular troopers, are on duty 24 hours daily. They do not mind it too much because there is nothing to do until an emergency arises.

The nearest other Americans are 27 miles to the east. The entire Russian zone is off-limits.

Radio Stations Seek Freedom Of Expression

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Federal Communications Commission has announced it will hold hearings here beginning Jan. 12 on what the national policy should be with respect to "editorializing" by radio broadcasting stations.

The announcement said the FCC will:

1. Determine whether the expression of editorial opinions by broadcast station licensees on matters of public interest and controversy is consistent with their obligation to operate their stations in the public interest.
2. Determine the relationship between any such editorial expression and the affirmative obligation of the licensees to insure that a fair and equal presentation of all sides of controversial issues is made over their facilities.

The commission said it ordered the inquiry because of widespread discussion in the industry over "the exact meaning" of a 1941 FCC ruling which said in part:

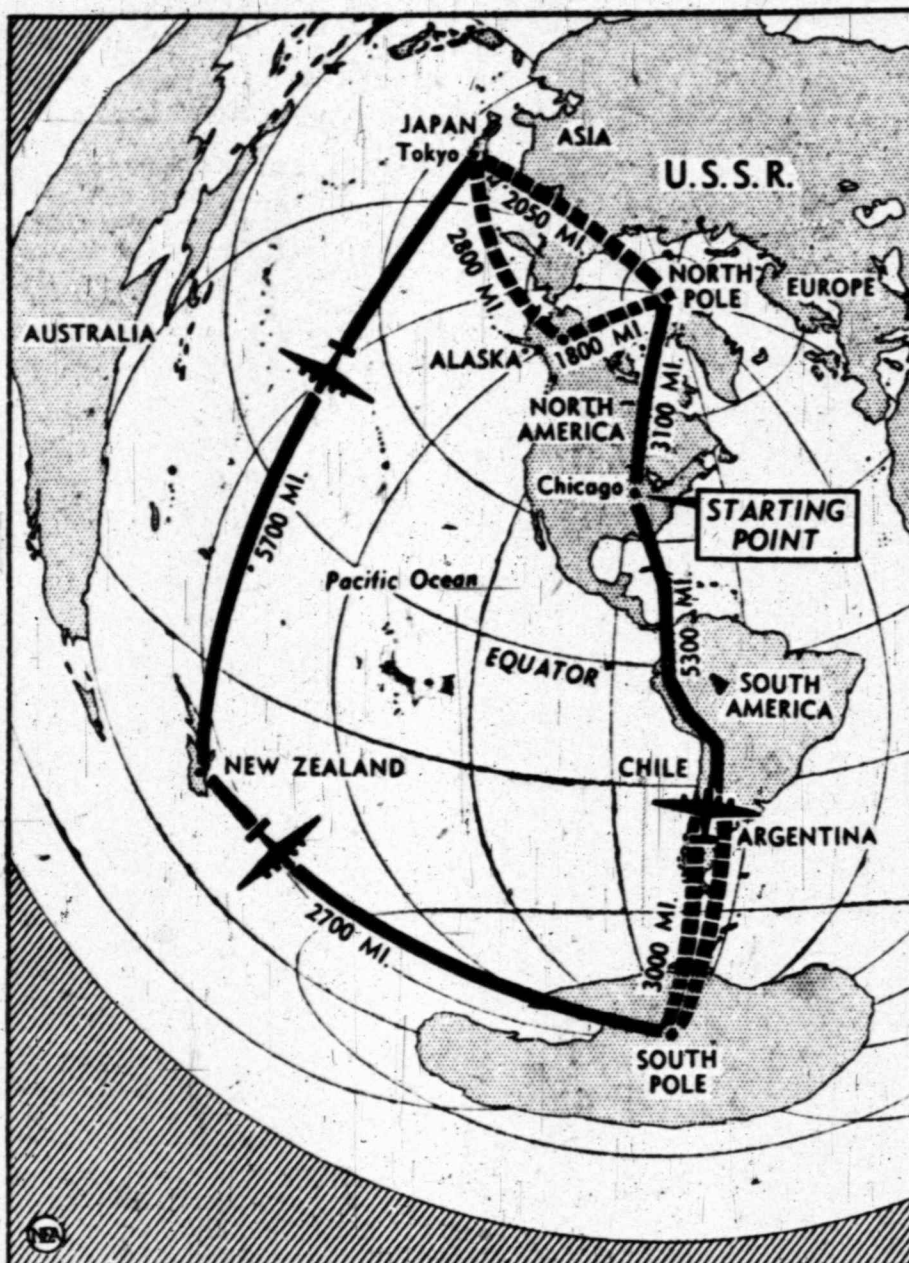

"The broadcaster cannot be an advocate."

It said some radio interests have expressed belief that broadcasting stations should have wider freedom of expression than that allowed in the 1941 ruling.

America's robin redbreast is really a migratory thrush.

"No alcohol, no frauleins" is the standing rule here. A few magazines and some pieces of sports equipment are the only amusement facilities.

Around the World, Pole-to-Pole

Bill Odum, whose 73-hour solo flight around the world set a record last month, now charts his course for another globe-girdling jaunt in November. This time he'll fly a four-motored B-32, with eight to ten crew members. Broken lines indicate undecided portions of route, which are negotiable for flight rights.

Most Germans Prefer Girls For Adoption

BERLIN—(AP)—Relatively few Berliners are willing to adopt male children since the war, and psychologists think it may be because no body in this battered land is anxious to raise a boy who may grow up to become a soldier.

Almost 80 per cent of applications for adopting children which come to Berlin's head youth office specify that girls are wanted.

The youth office received 252 applications for adoption during the last half-year and was able to place 114 children in homes after investigation of applicants' circumstances and backgrounds.

21,000 Charges

But the rate of applications has fallen off substantially since last winter.

Berlin has 21,000 children who are charges of the government—7,000 in orphanages and 14,000 in the care of private families. The guardians, about a third of whom live in rural regions, receive pay from the government for each child.

Youth officials who investigate applicants for adoption and guardianship make a major point of checking whether there is any "tint" of "speculation on the child"—just trying to get another ration card for the home.

The reason the depth of a body of water is so deceptive to human vision is that water "bends" or refracts light.

Rural Districts Lack Room For Children

LINCOLN, NEB.—(AP)—American farm children may move to the city when they grow up not because they want to but because there isn't room on the farm, says the Extension Division of the University of Nebraska.

It is economic room that is lacking. The farm birth rate is so much higher than that in cities that farm districts produce a surplus of children. The university estimates that of every five men maturing on the farm, two must leave agriculture if it is not to expand beyond its market opportunities and the cities are not to decline for lack of population.

A little more than one-fifth of the U. S. population is on farms. The proportion has been declining since pioneer days and the number needed to produce farm products is still declining.

This is a long term trend which is sometimes reversed temporarily. The farm population grew during the depression of the '30s and dropped again during the war.

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—The United States has paid $9,741,420.88 as indemnities for slaughter of Mexican cattle infected with foot and mouth disease with the job less than half done, the joint commission fighting the disease reported.

Iceland Tops World In Foreign Trade

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Fish and Wildlife Service estimates that Iceland has the most extensive foreign trade per capita of any country in the world.

The agency bases its guess on a report by Joseph H. Rogatnick, Assistant United States Commercial Attaché at Reykjavik, that Iceland exported $44,838,000 worth of goods in 1946 and imported $68,198,000 for a per capita trade total of $850.

The report said fish products comprised more than 90 per cent of the exports.

After-Hours 'Visitor' Shows Good Taste

HARLINGEN—(AP)—Burglars broke into a display window of a jewelry store here and took several watches.

The next day the jeweler—R. B. Roberts—advertised: "They must be good! Some people can't wait until the store opens to get them! This 'visitor' showed remarkable good taste in watches. We invite you to look at them—but please come around during store hours, won't you?"

Quiet Reigns In Islands Where War Once Raged

KWAJALEIN—(AP)—The GI population 1,400.

"No wine, no women, no fun atoll."

Heart shimmers off wooden buildings lining the airstrip. A black mongrel worries a sand crab. A great stillness swallows the dog's barks. He trots away, panting for porch shade.

Far offshore the waves pound the reef. Dead shells of rusting landing craft line the beach.

Two miles out are many ships, radioactive relics of the Bikini bomb.

Rainmakers Deliver But To Wrong City

ANADARKO, OKLA.—(AP)—Anadarko has dispatched thanks to Chickasha, Okla., 19 miles to the east, for a rain which went astray.

Intending to create moisture for Chickasha, Son King, Gordon Jones and Claude Welch dumped 105 pounds of dry ice into a cloud 13,500 feet over Chickasha.

The rains came, but so did a sudden strong wind from the east. The moisture, one-half inch of it, fell on Anadarko, while Chickasha remained bone dry.

between Honolulu and Guam, population 1,400.

"Tell the veterans it's even quieter now than it was during the war," Maj. C. H. Bird of Fort Davis, Texas, said. "During the war we did average a plane on deck every two minutes. Now, we get about 14 flights through here a day, and believe me, we look forward to them."

Sharks Dangerous

"No, we don't swim—have you seen the sharks?" he asks.

"Two months ago a bomber with seven men took off the airstrip, faltered, and plunged into the ocean. Rescue boats were too late. Seven bloody Mae West jackets bobbed in water clouded with shark-chaser powder."

Fifty Navy and four Army families live on Kwajalein.

Some dark, stocky members of the Micronesian race, have returned.

There's no fresh water. You wonder how the people got along before the white man came with his distilling equipment. Major Bird explained they drank coconut milk and when rainwater collected they drank that. Somehow, they managed to adapt themselves. "We're trying to do the same thing."

Rust ate at the fenders and hood of the Army staff car. "Everything rusts," grumbled Sgt. Louis Sherrick of Crookston, Minn. "The knife in your pocket, engines, cameras—people rust."

Same At Guam

The humidity is as bad—or worse—at Guam, seven air hours away. Roll up your sleeves, unbutton your collar, good gosh, man, we don't allow ties here. Guam is 32 miles long, four to 10 miles wide.

Five hundred Army and Navy families are on Guam—total population 75,000.

Maj. Gen. Francis H. Griswold says, "We're junking planes because we haven't money to keep them airworthy. This climate eats planes."

"Would a good-sized attacking force find it easy to take Guam?" "It certainly wouldn't," the general replied. "We could put up a stiff fight. But you should consider what countries would be potential enemies and then you would ask the question: 'Why fool with Guam?'"

Some Japanese Remain

In the underbrush and caves on the north end of Guam, starving Japanese soldiers still hide unaware the war is over. No attempt is made to find them—one by one they are killed or captured.

Heavy chains run from the roof of the general's house to empty torpedo tubes in the flower beds. Decorations? No, anchors against the next typhoon.

Wrong Way Is Right For Lucky Driver

TEXARKANA—(AP)—The god of luck was riding with a Texarkana man, says Fred Newberry of Texarkana.

His friend was driving to Dallas. At a certain point on the highway is a sharp figure-S curve. At the center of the S there is an underpass divided by a middle section.

The friend was driving so fast that when he reached the curve he failed to get on the right side of the road. With a prayer, he went through the underpass on the left side.

Just as he flashed through, a car coming from the opposite direction zoomed through the other side. The second driver was in the same fix.

Big engines... long trains

mean lower cost to you!
But union leaders want "half-trains"—double crews!

Big locomotives are built to do a big job in the big country which is America—a big job in peacetime as in wartime. They are built to pull long trains.

Long freight trains can handle more goods at less cost—to you—than short trains.

Long trains mean fewer trains—fewer chances for accidents—fewer interruptions to traffic.

But a few railroad union leaders oppose long trains—among their current 44 demands for changes in rules is one limiting the length of freight trains to 57 average cars. Why do they demand this?

For "safety," they say. But is it? Government figures show definitely that long trains mean greater safety to railroad employes and public alike.

Then, if safety is not the real reason—what is the reason behind this demand? It is to make more jobs which are not needed—to get more pay! This "made work" would be sheer waste. Think of big, modern locomotives using only half their power.

For this waste, you—the public—would have to pay. Higher costs mean a lower standard of living for everybody. Nobody wants that!

Here's the record...

In the quarter century...1921-1946...

Average length of freight trains has gone up..	39%
Average speed of freight trains has gone up..	39%
The rate of injuries to railroad employes has gone down..	60%
Average wages paid railroad workers have gone up..	84%
Price of railroad materials and supplies has gone up..	58%
Railroad taxes have gone up..	76%
But the average charge by railroads for hauling a ton of freight one mile has gone down..	23%

Prices And Politics

When the Federal Trade Commission accused the steel industry of fixing prices and strangling competition, and when the Justice Department went after the tire industry on the same charge, it might have seemed that the government was moving swiftly in its campaign against high prices. After all, these actions came less than a week after Attorney General Clark had announced he was sending his boys on the warpath.

But, much as one might wish that this were the beginning of an all-out drive in the battle against inflation, there is some evidence to the contrary. In the first place, Clark said the price-fixing investigation was to be in the fields of food, housing and clothing. And, while the two products now under investigation may be factors affecting prices in those fields, the present government actions could scarcely be called a frontal attack.

The rise in steel prices gives our economy another boost toward serious inflation. That is apparent without arguing the merits or necessity of the rise. However, the "basing point" pricing system which the FTC is objecting to is neither new nor confined to the steel industry. It is used in most industries whose products are low-priced and heavy.

Back in 1921 the Justice Department brought a price-fixing action against the cement industry under the Sherman Act, and lost the case in the Supreme Court four years later. In 1945 the Justice Department brought a similar suit against the same industry, again under the Sherman Act. Meanwhile, in 1937, the FTC filed a complaint against the cement makers and their "basing point" system.

A cease-and-desist order issued by the FTC in 1943 was vacated last year by the Seventh Federal District Court of Appeals. The court ruled that the absorption of freight costs and identical delivery prices under this system were not evidence of conspiracy, but rather of true competition.

It is conceivable that the steel case might follow the same pattern. The mills of the law will grind slowly, and the issues will not become any clearer in the process.

High prices are the big political issue of the moment, and they promise to remain so until the next election. The shape of things to come is apparent. Both Clark and Senator Taft are looking into the price situation. But one might suspect that each has already picked his own particular scapegoat.

What the attorney general and the senator believe now, might develop into the major parties' policies on high prices. It would not be surprising to see the Democratic big guns turned on business from now until November, 1948, firing charges of price-fixing, collusion and exorbitant profits. The Republicans might respond with the accusation that strikes, low production and union demands for increasingly higher wages exert the greatest inflationary pressure.

It may be hoped that this does not come about. The serious problem of rising prices should be tackled as a whole, and with unified effort. If, instead, it becomes a matter of partisan debate, with charges growing more emotional and reckless as election day draws nearer, then we shall probably be in for a bad time indeed.

America Sets Pace For Big Four With Reduction In Occupation Army

BERLIN—The United States, leading advocate of self-government for the Germans among the four occupying powers, has set the pace in reducing its military government and occupation Army personnel in Germany.

The United States has by far the smallest military government staff composed of its own nationals. Next to French, who have the smallest zone of occupation, the Americans also have the smallest occupation Army and are trying to persuade the other occupying powers to agree to further reduction of their forces.

The Americans have reduced their military government personnel to 4,000 military and civilian, representing a cut of 39 per cent in the last 13 months. This has been accomplished by delegating functional authority to the Germans under supervisory control, and placing Germans in secretarial and similar jobs which formerly were filled by Americans.

British Force, Larger
 Against this, the British—with a zone only slightly larger in population to administer—have a military government force of 20,000. A new 25 per cent reduction has been projected.

The French, with the smallest of all the zones, have a force of 12,280, which includes 2,380 administrative officers and 9,900 French nationals classified as auxiliaries, including secretaries, clerk's chauffeurs, and similar personnel.

The Russians never have disclosed their MG personnel but American sources say that it is "certainly substantially greater than ours."
 The Americans have pioneered in reduction of their personnel in Germany for two reasons—to reduce occupation costs and to return responsibilities for self-government to the Germans as quickly as possible, subject to supervisory controls.

The Russians are at the other extreme. They don't worry about occupation costs because their occupying Army lives off the German economy and control costs are paid by the Germans. The French also make the Germans responsible for their occupation costs.

But the British—whose taxpayers have been sharing with United States taxpayers a bill for millions of dollars worth of food imports monthly to feed the population of western Germany—have tremendous occupation costs, a large portion of which must be met in dollars.

CRANE—An open house was held at the Gulf Hall Thursday night when the Wednesday Bridge Club chose to fete Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Some players take years to come to the front as tournament experts. Some reach the top, only to slide quickly down the other side of the hill. However, in the field at the recent national championships tournament, there were several players who have been recognized for many years as great players, and one of these is T. A. Lightner of New York. "Teddy," as he is known to bridge players throughout the country, got a good score on today's hand when he made four diamonds doubled.

Dummy played low on the opening spade lead. East won the trick with the jack and returned the king of clubs. When East continued...

ued with the queen of clubs. Lightner (South) ruffed, then picked up the trumps by cashing the queen, ace and king of diamonds.

His next play was a small heart from dummy, East played low, Lightner won with the queen and left with the nine of hearts and the ten and seven of spades, while dummy had the ace and queen of spades and king of hearts. Remember that East had doubled, and Lightner had located the ace of hearts. Also he was confident that East held the king of spades, so at this point he simply led the nine of hearts. East had to win with the ace and lead from the king and one spade into dummy's ace-queen, giving Lightner his contract of four diamonds doubled.

Clam Rush Crowds Washington Beaches

ABERDEEN, WASH.—(AP)—The State Department of Fisheries has started a clam rush on the ocean beaches hereabouts by offering 25 cents for shells of the razor clam. Of course, you have to get the right clam. Once you do, however, you can eat it and still collect—the department wants only the shells. Biologist G. A. Holland says the clam chase was started in an effort to answer a burning problem of the beaches: Do clams migrate? Baby bivalves were measured, marked and buried along the beaches and notes filed away as to their location. Diggers finding a marked clam turn in the shells and pocket the two-bits, after telling where they found it. The department then studies its records to determine if the clam is an athlete or just an old fat stay-at-home.

Texas City Refinery Sells For $3,250,000

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The War Assets Administration announced the sale of the government-owned oil refinery in Texas City to the Petrol Terminal Corporation of Philadelphia for $3,250,000. It has been operated by the American Liberty Oil Company. The plant consists of 20 buildings of 28,000 square feet of space. It was not damaged in last April's explosion-fire disaster. It was the first sale of such properties since the army and navy requested that future sales be made to parties who will give the armed services preference on their products. Under the agreement, the Petrol Corporation will let the army and navy have first call on 100 per cent of the plant's output this year and an option on its production next year and further agrees to process any petroleum products the army and navy might need.

Texas State Department Records And Papers Are Stored 'Just Any Place'

AUSTIN.—(AP)—State Department records are bulging out all over and beyond the capitol premises here, but very little is being done about it. In the basement of the capitol numerous records, newspaper files and other printed materials are piling up, providing a fine playground for rats and cockroaches. The debris—which state law says must be kept for record purposes—constitutes a "wonderful fire hazard," says Francis Henshaw, State Librarian. Would Eliminate Hazard Not that Henshaw thinks a fire in the basement of the state capitol would be a wonderful thing. He mentions it because he has been plugging for months seeking to eliminate the hazard. Henshaw's real concern is to consolidate the state records. The best method, he says, will be to microfilm the records. The result, in effect, would be to put into a nutshell virtually all the papers relating to the state's past business. The squeeze play would save money for the state in two big ways, Henshaw advises: 1. Thousands of square feet of space now occupied by records would be cleared, thus giving sorely-crowded departments more working space. This would save payment of rentals for new offices. 2. Concentration of all or most of the record-keeping in the state library would cut down the number of personnel now needed in those departments. It would also save man-hours spent in those departments solely on the filing of records. State papers are apt to be found anywhere. Cow Barn, Too A warehouse at Camp Mabry, a cow barn at the state hospital in Austin, and the Confederate Home are all storage spots.

'North Pole' Moves 200 Miles In 15 Years

VANCOUVER, B. C.—(AP)—A natural scientific expeditionary party has flown back from the north magnetic pole with a report that the magnetic center has shifted approximately 200 miles from the Boothia Peninsula site where its position was last plotted about 15 years ago. The new location, said Dr. J. D. Robinson, University of British Columbia natural scientist, is on isolated Prince of Wales Island. He said the research party failed, however, to solve the most baffling polar phenomena—the cause of the oscillating motion which makes the "pole" shift constantly in an elliptical movement. Six In Expedition The party of six natural scientists remained in the North a month and a half. Radar, radio, loran and other war-developed instruments were used to make the expedition what Dr. Robinson described as "comparatively easy." "As far as we can figure out, the pole is not a point; it is a condition," he added. Dr. Robinson said Prince of Wales Island was ice-encircled but snow-free island.

That Can Work Both Ways, Mr.

(NEA Telephoto) Fun-minded conventioners in Cleveland can dish it out all right, but could they take it as well, wondered pretty Louis Baker of Lorain, O. So when Louis Hanson, of Phoenix, Ariz., trained his water pistol on her leg, Louise whipped open her purse and let the vet have some of the same. When he recovered his breath, Hanson laughed heartily, proving he was no "one-way" funmaker.

Checkerboard Move Makes Hoosier Mayor

ELKHART, IND.—(AP)—Checkerboard maneuver in which the chief of police became the mayor of Elkhart by way of the controller's office left residents a little breathless here. Just before Mayor Hallet Neale resigned to return to his real estate business, City Controller Harold Pribble resigned and Police Chief Walter L. Larson became controller. Then Mayor Neale's retirement gave the office automatically to Controller Larson, as provided by state law. Larson said he would be the Democratic candidate for mayor in the November election.
