The Chiropractor and You

No. 2 of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of Chiropractic.

THE SPINAL CORD begins at the brain and proceeds down through the center of the spinal column, supplying nerve fibers in pairs to body cells through the various openings or inter-vertebral foramina. These nerve fibers radiate to all parts of the body in such volume that the prick of a pin on any part of the flesh will strike one or more of them. If the spinal cord itself is impinged sufficiently it will cause total paralysis of the body below such pressure. This proves that motor power originates within the brain. If any of the nerve fibers emitting through the openings between the vertebrae are impinged, it will accordingly affect the body part which the impinged nerve supplies and the flow of nerve energy will be obstructed in much the same manner as a flow of water from the nozzle of a hose would be interfered with, should one step on the hose at some point between the source of water supply and the nozzle of the hose. To restore the flow of water to full capacity of the hose, one must first find and adjust the cause preventing the flow. So it is with the Chiropractor. He locates the subluxation causing impingement on the nerve, which is the impediment to its normal flow of nerve energy, and adjusts it away, health resulting from nature itself.

CASE HISTORY NO. 2870. A girl of 7, both deaf and dumb. When she was 18 months old, had fallen out of a high chair receiving some injury which affected her hearing, consequently she never learned to talk. Three different specialists were consulted and the consensus of their opinion was that the child was normal except for an affliction of the auditory nerves, which could not be cured. In January her parents heard of a Chiropractor, and took the child to him. He X-rayed the spine, adjusted a misaligned vertebra over a period of time, and by May the child's hearing was fully restored. She is now attending school and progressing favorably.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION concerning the modern Chiropractor and what he can do for you, phone 1256 for your appointment.

This Is Newspaper Week

Once a year we in the newspaper business invite the attention of our readers to the function of the press in community and national life. The feeling that prompts this invitation is a mixture of gratitude and pride, with the former predominating.

We have the blessed good fortune to operate under a government which permits us to report news without interference or censorship, except in cases where national security is involved. But it does not seem immodest to say that the American press as a whole has appreciated its freedom and cherished its good fortune in such a way that that freedom exists undiminished after 160 years.

The slogan of this year's National Newspaper Week, October 1-8, is "Your Newspaper—Serving Freedom by Serving You." It is not necessary to catalog the many examples of public service which are evident in every edition of an American newspaper. That service can be summed up in the words information and opinion, two indispensable elements of a true democracy.

The unhampered gathering of information and expression of opinion by private citizens may not be the most important factors in a government by free people, but such a government could not endure without them. In order to know the issues facing their government—local, state or national—and in order to choose wisely the officers of government, people must have access to information they can trust.

Lacking that information it is almost impossible for them to guard their civil rights intelligently or, once those rights are taken from them, to restore them without violence and bloodshed. This is the history of too many countries in the world today.

Suppression of information and free opinion has reached its height, of course, in the Soviet Union. There the press is simply part of the government propaganda organization. Criticism is permitted only of those persons who deviate from party line or government policy. Truth is not only unimportant; it is an active enemy which must be silenced and banished.

Elsewhere this control of free expression takes the somewhat milder form of suspensions of publication by government order, or withholding of newsprint which eventually drives the offending publisher out of business. But wherever the circulation of true information is discouraged, there one finds individual freedom weakened and the cause of peace endangered.

In this country our government, far from interfering, is endeavoring through treaties to guarantee a greater measure of press freedom abroad. Let us hope that many other governments may follow the American example, for in it lies the best hope of better understanding among nations.

The American people's heritage of a free press, which they have guarded and protected, has done much to make this nation strong and keep it free. The press' own heritage, bequeathed by generations of intelligent, honest and responsible newspapermen, has also been guarded and protected.

That heritage, in short, is the obligation of newspapers to give its readers the truth. So long as that obligation is met there is no danger that either the press or the people will lose their freedom.

Success is what you have when you make a fortune. Luck is what the other fellow has.

Beauty secret: closing the eyes early every night keeps away those dark circles.

YOUR NEWSPAPER— SERVING FREEDOM BY SERVING YOU

FREE PRESS: Your newspaper serves freedom by serving you—but it has to be free itself, to do that. Throughout American history, the press has waged ceaseless war on those who would shackle it. From John Peter Zenger, the pre-Revolutionary War printer whose seditious trial was the first great victory for a free American press, to today's publishers and editors, a free press has been the watchword of American journalism. Conscientious newsmen are constantly alert to even the most subtle or carefully disguised attack on that freedom, carrying the fight at times to Congress and the Supreme Court.

Faculty And Students Ask Return Of Dobie

AUSTIN—(AP)—Both faculty and students Wednesday were seeking the return of dismissed Professor-Folklorist J. Frank Dobie to the University of Texas.

Dr. Walter Prescott Webb, professor of American history at the University, Tuesday made public a statement apparently intended to mediate between Dobie and the administration to reinstate his dismissed fellow-professor on the university faculty.

"The administration can be generous and Dobie can be considerate" to prevent a loss that "will be everybody's" if Dobie leaves the university permanently, Dr. Webb declared.

"Dobie is by nature a maverick, and has always been so," Webb said. "He wears no man's brand."

"That and the further fact that in late years Mr. Dobie has for practical purposes associated himself with the 'wrong crowd' at the University of Texas," he said.

Dobie had actively supported Dr. Houbert P. Rainey, deposed University president.

Bulldogs Throw Passes In Drills

The Midland Bulldogs were "up in the air" at practice Tuesday.

They were not in a quandary, just seeking a passing attack to throw at Plainview Friday night.

And passing may well be the weapon Friday night. Midland's defense has been satisfactory in three games to date but the offense has not blossomed.

Dunny Goode was throwing the passes for the first string. At times he was spelled by Steve Stephens or Don Hamlet, also throwers. The receivers were Ed Ken Goode and tall Fred Dunn. Coaches believe Goode is the passing answer. His tosses are longer and more accurate than those Stephens throws.

Joe Ed Filler, who was a power on the "B" Bulldogs last Fall, was in a backfield slot in the day's drill. Joe previously this campaign has been worked at center and end.

of the gridgers. Goss Yeager, a "B" Bulldog back, was out with one.

Three sets of backs threw passes. Then the first quartet was thrown at the "B" team defense.

The Bulldogs and coaches will leave by bus early Friday morning for Plainview. They will return to Midland Saturday following the game Friday night.

Plainview is a strong 1-AA ball club. Midland carries the honor of 3-AA in this battle.

It's a toss up!

Denver U. Gridder Killed By Lightning

DENVER.—(AP)—A ripped and torn pair of football shoes showed Wednesday the terrific force of a lightning bolt which killed a 17-year-old Denver University freshman football player and knocked four others unconscious.

The lightning cut the shoes of Ken McCauley, Jr., son of the superintendent of schools at La Junta, Colo., to shreds and they were found over 10 feet from his burned body.

The bolt leaped from a cloudy sky late Tuesday to a dirt football practice field north of Denver University Stadium, flattening virtually the entire freshman squad and coaches, Paul McClung and Mike Jurich.

Oxygen constitutes about 21 per cent of air volume.

Quite often it is difficult to follow the reasoning in the bidding and play of a hand by reading about it in a bridge column, because of the lack of the personal touch that there is at the table. Today's hand, from the recent world championship knockout team-of-four match, brings out this point.
