Amarillo Man One Of Four Indicted

SAVANNAH, GA. (AP)—A federal grand jury indicted four men Wednesday in an aerial gun-running plot involving stolen Navy machine guns reportedly destined for Venezuela.

The four were indicted for conspiracy in the theft of 25 machine guns from Bush Field, Augusta, last April 13. They are:

Karl John Eisenhart, 50, of Ellicott City, Md., owner of a charter air line and former member of the United States Board of Economic Warfare in Venezuela and Colombia.

Edward Browder, Jr., of Amarillo, Texas; J. Meredith Russell, 24, of Baltimore, and Manuel L. Fuego, no address available.

All pleaded innocent. The case began when the guns were spirited out of Bush Field in a former Navy bomber and hidden in a palatial home near Ellicott City.

When the FBI entered the case, agents recovered 21 of the 25 weapons—which the Venezuelan Embassy charged were destined for the South American country—in the basement of a mansion built on a 400-acre estate owned by Eisenhart. The guns were of a type used on Navy combat planes.

Airline Official Named Purpose of the gun-running, said the Venezuelan Embassy, was to aid a group of Venezuelan exiles.

The FBI said Eisenhart was presently the owner of Pan American Transport, Inc. Fuego was identified by the government as a pilot and mechanic for Eisenhart and charged with taking the guns from Bush Field and transporting them to another field, where they were loaded on the plane.

Russos, former Army pilot, was listed among Eisenhart's pilots and accused of flying the guns to Baltimore from Augusta and then trucking them to the hideaway.

Browder's Part Not Defined The FBI said Browder identified himself in a statement to them as the son of the secretary-treasurer of the Santa Fe Railroad and as a bachelor of science graduate in aeronautical engineering from the University of Texas.

Browder, said the FBI, was a pilot for Eisenhart. The federal agency did not define Browder's part in the plot.

Mrs. Koushland, en route from Rochester, Minn., to Sacramento, Calif., to visit her soldier-husband, was still awaiting the stork Thursday.

Harsher Controls On Foods Hinted

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman's drive for American "self-rationing" to head off starvation in Europe went into high gear Thursday amid hints that the Administration may take more drastic action if necessary.

Leon Henderson, wartime boss of prices and rationing, denounced the President's "buy wisely, eat sensibly, waste nothing" program as one which "falls tragically short of the demands of a world crisis." He asked that Congress be convened and food rationing resumed quickly.

And Secretary of Commerce Harriman indicated that rationing and price controls are not yet out of the picture. He told the Citizens Food Committee at its first meeting Wednesday that the saving of 100,000,000 bushels of grain asked by Truman may be too little for Western Europe's needs.

"I think you will find," Harriman said, "something like 70,000,000 bushels more is really required to do an adequate job."

The Presidential Committee on Aid for Europe, which the secretary of commerce heads, decided not to recommend rationing or price control, Harriman said, because action "must be taken now or today" and can not wait on creation of the "necessary control mechanisms."

Calling it "an adventure in democracy," Harriman forecast success for the giant conservation campaign announced Wednesday night by Charles Luckman, the 38-year-old soap manufacturer who was picked by Truman to head the citizens' committee.

To Broadcast Appeal President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall will broadcast a nationwide appeal on the four major networks at 10:30 p. m. EST, Sunday. This will open what Luckman said at a news conference, "described as an all-media" campaign—including newspapers, billboards, radio, movies and magazines—to spread these slogans over the land:

"Buy wisely, eat sensibly, waste nothing"—especially grain, meat, eggs and poultry; and "don't start the next war in your garbage can."

Must Become World Granary There were no "meatless Mondays" or "eggless Wednesdays" in the Luckman program, and he emphasized that Americans are not supposed to "eat less" but to buy less of the scarce foods, more of the plentiful foods and waste no food at all.

The arsenal of democracy," he said, "must now become the granary of the world, or we shall bury our hopes for peace with those who did to preserve it."

For housewives he laid down simple rules: 1. Buy the cheaper cuts. 2. Don't serve too much—and don't urge people to take "seconds." 3. Don't overcook meat, because that shrinks it.

4. Use leftovers. 5. Save what in every possible way—particularly by going easy on poultry and dairy products because it takes grain to feed chickens and cows.

Gas of 1,307,000 cubic feet per day showed at the surface in three minutes. Drilling mud came to the top in 12 minutes. Oil flowed at the surface in 15 minutes.

During 60 minutes of flowing to storage the well made 57.84 barrels of 38.3 gravity oil with an oil ratio of 94.1. The oil flow was at the rate of 1,388 barrels per day.

Oil flowed in four minutes. It was flowed to pits for 20 minutes and then flowed 131 barrels of oil in one and one-half hours.

That was at the rate of 86.6 barrels per hour, or 2,095 barrels per day. Gas-oil ratio is 664:1.

This exploration was started to go to about 9,000 feet to test the Ellenburger, and is going on down.

Secret Service Warns Of Counterfeit Bills

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A noticeable influx of counterfeit money into the United States with the suspected origin of manufacture in Europe was noted here Thursday by Charles A. Ellis, agent in charge of the U. S. Secret Service office here.

Ellis said the bills "appear to be coming into the country through the seaports of Corpus Christi and New Orleans in this region." He said the counterfeit bills that have come into his possession are often $50 and $100 variety.

The bills, he said, are in the "fair" workmanship class and can be easily identified "if a little care is exercised by merchants when receiving a large bill."

High School Boy Held In Stab Slaying

CHICAGO (AP)—A 15-year-old vocational high school boy, described by his parents as a "very good boy," was held in jail Thursday after, police said, he signed a statement admitting the fatal stabbing of a minister's wife in an attempted robbery September 24.

Police Capt. Patrick Collins said the plump, tousled haired youth, James Hartmann, also admitted he slashed and robbed a young mother in the same South Side district in which the stabbing occurred.

He had been seized for questioning in the attack Tuesday night on Mrs. Mary Clausen, 25, mother of two small children. After she identified Hartmann Wednesday night, two of her brothers grabbed and beat him before police separated them.

Collins said after young Hartmann finished a statement relating to the attack on Mrs. Clausen, he was questioned about the slaying of Mrs. Gracelyn Bush, 32, wife of a minister in a busy south side parking lot.

"Yes, I killed her," Collins quoted Hartmann as saying. "But I didn't mean to kill her. I didn't know the knife was open. She came toward me and screamed. I hit her. Then she fell. I ran away."

Collins said the youth related that as Mrs. Bush was about to enter her new car, he pushed a knife through the door.

Learned Of Death Later "I told her it was a stickup," Collins said Hartmann told him. "She started toward me and it was then I stabbed her."

Fleeing from the parking lot near the busy intersection of 63rd and Halsted Streets, Collins said the youth stopped at a drug store and bought some adhesive tape to bandage the knuckle of a finger on his left hand which he cut.

Then he went to a neighborhood theater and saw Farmville, Collins said the boy learned about Mrs. Bush's death when he left the movie about four hours later.

Mrs. Bush was the wife of the Rev. Francis P. Bush, pastor of a Seventh Day Adventist church and the mother of an adopted two-year-old son.

ROAD BLOCKS SET UP TO HALT BANDIT TRIO AMARILLO (AP)—Road blocks have been set up throughout the Panhandle to trap three gun-slinging bandits who held up a service station here early Thursday.

The trio—two men and a young woman—escaped in a late model Cadillac coupe after robbing the service station attendants of over $200 in cash.

WASHINGTON (AP)—If consumers stopped buying and farmers stopped producing choice, juicy beef steaks and roasts during the next eight months, the food conservation battle for aiding the hungry abroad would be half won.

The goal of the food conservation program is to reduce domestic consumption of grain at least 100,000,000 bushels so that exports may come as near as possible meeting essential needs of shortage areas in Europe.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson told newsmen farmers could help save grain by selling hogs at much lighter weights and by abandoning, for the time being, the practice of fattening beef cattle to the top grade.

Cattle fall into four major grades—choice, good, commercial and utility.

The bulk of the grain used to produce choice, or top grade, cattle goes toward putting quality on the meat rather than in adding additional pounds.

Russian Vetoes May Hurt Italian Communist Aims

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—Diplomatic experts predicted Thursday that Russia's veto of Italy's bid for United Nations membership would badly handicap Italian Communist efforts to gain greater power and prestige in that strategic Mediterranean country.

American officials privately expressed surprise at the action which Russia took Wednesday night in a session of the United Nations Security Council. Some called it a "political blunder" which would work strongly to the advantage of Italy's present non-Communist government.

The Italian application was supported by the United States, Britain and seven other members of the council and blocked only by the "No" vote of Russia's Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

American Ambassador Warren Austin indicated the United States would take the Italian case and those of other Soviet-vetoeed countries—Finland, Austria, Ireland, Portugal and Trans-Jordan—to the larger forum of the General Assembly.

Reds Clamp Down The ballot on Italy was one of a series of votes taken in the 11-nation council, which split cleanly along the usual East-West line. Not one of five applicant countries considered Wednesday received the required veto-free majority.

Russia also vetoed Finland, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria, opposed by America and Britain, failed of approval because they could not get the necessary affirmative majority of seven.

Thursday Russia's string of vetoes stood at the total of 22. The Security Council was not the only UN agency tied in knots by the East-West feud, however. The 57-nation General Assembly was so badly deadlocked over efforts to fill remaining prospective vacancies in the Security and Trusteeship Councils that it gave up the whole effort, called off temporarily any more meetings in its bid auditorium at Flushing Meadows and returned to Lake Success to committee work.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A hall full of policemen failed to penetrate the disguise of a fake Russian banqueter, Wednesday night.

Introduced as "Gen. Feodor Tanteff," chief of the N. K. V. D. or Russian Security Police, the phony general brought tempers to the boiling point with his disparaging remarks on the American capitalist system.

He launched into a tirade against the FBI for using "old fashioned hawkshaw methods" and hinted that an American policeman could not find a peach in Georgia.

About the time the hissing began, Ole Olsen of the Olsen and Johnson comedy team silenced the speaker by squirting him with seltzer, pouring a pitcher of ice water on him, and mashing a custard pie in his face. The "general" was an Olsen-Johnson stage character.

The banquet guests were peace officers from all over the country, gathered for an FBI training course.

Mrs. Mary Zinn, 101, Dies At Big Spring

BIG SPRING (AP)—Mrs. Mary Zinn, 101, the oldest and one of the most beloved citizens of Big Spring, died here Thursday.

She met and married R. B. Zinn, son of a German immigrant who became president of the first college founded at Austin, when he drove cattle from Fort Worth to Missouri in 1873.

There are no immediate survivors, her husband and five children having preceded her in death. Funeral arrangements are pending.

Disease Of Alcoholism Has Become America's Fourth Health Problem

Horace B. Fort of Dallas, a member of the National Committee for Education on Alcoholism, told a large group attending an open forum in the North Elementary School Auditorium Wednesday night that "an alcoholic is a person suffering from an ailment that compels him to drink to excess." A man becomes an alcoholic because of a compulsion to drink, Fort said, and a compulsion is a building up of tensions and forces which overcome good judgment. A man is on the road to alcoholism, he declared, when he drinks for a deliberate purpose.

Alcoholics are not necessarily weak-willed people, any more than a tubercular patient is weak-willed. Alcoholism is a disease of which the victim cannot cure himself, but it has to be treated. Treatment of alcoholism has failed so often in the past because the effects of drink, rather than cause of drinking, have received attention.

Demand Proper Treatment
The number of alcoholics in America is approximately the same as the population of Wisconsin. Alcoholism ranks as the nation's fourth public health problem, affecting the country's social, economic and moral fiber.

Alcoholism demands proper treatment, as any other disease. It is a public problem of major importance. Enough public funds are spent in putting alcoholics in jail—a futile practice, as far as cure is concerned—to erect hundreds of clinics in this country each year. These were among the concise statements with which Fort effectively drove home the salient theme of his address: Alcoholism is a malady over which the victim himself has no control after the disease has progressed beyond a certain stage.

DECATUR, ILL.—(AP)—Death beat Santa Claus by two days to Carolyn Robb's big "Christmas party."

Santa was ready for it. The kids of the neighborhood were ready, too.

There was a brightly trimmed tree and plenty of presents. They poured in from all parts of the county after sympathetic readers learned that the little four-year-old was partially paralyzed by a brain cancer and had little time to live.

But Carolyn died after just a brief preview of Christmas.

Among her gifts were more than 100 recordings of "Jesus Loves Me," which Carolyn had named as her favorite hymn.

ISLANDER ARRIVES TO COLLECT $1000 PRIZE

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Klenre, a 27-year-old native of the Marshall Islands, has arrived here to collect a $1,000 radio show prize for finding a note, enclosed in a container, which drifted 4,000 miles from California to his island.

Twelve of the plastic containers with notes were dropped from an airplane into the ocean December 1, 1945, with the notation that the finder to contact the radio program "People Are Funny" in Hollywood would receive the $1,000 prize.

Klenre, a short and tanned South Sea islander, found the container on the beach of his island, Enny-lageban, last June 15 while hunting lobster crabs. Just one day after Klenre found his note, another turned up in the Banning Islands.

Navy officials aided him in contacting Art Linkletter, quizmaster for the show. Klenre will visit night spots, appear on the radio show and be actor James Stewart's guest at a movie premiere during his visit here. But he is looking forward most to a scheduled visit to a zoo.

Dry Norther Could Spread Forest Fires

CONROE—(AP)—Forest fires continued to burn in five East Texas counties Thursday but J. O. Burnside, Texas Forest Service official, said they were "in hand."

"I don't know when they'll be finally halted," he said, adding: "That depends on a lot of things."

One of the worst things that could happen now, he said, would be a dry norther. "That would fan the flames and cause the fires to spread."

Burnside said that several farm homes in the path of the flames were saved Thursday by fire fighters who diverted the flames. The homes were situated in the old Waverly community in San Jacinto County.

Cannot Estimate Damage
Winds of between 14 and 17 miles an hour were predicted to aggravate the situation Thursday, Burnside said.

The forest service official said it would be hard to estimate the amount of damage to date, but approximately 10,000 acres were a "100 per cent loss."

He said the fires, discovered September 22, have covered "trouble spots" in an estimated 2,000,000 gross acres of land.

Wire Walking Attempt On Dare Is Fatal

MEMPHIS, TENN.—(AP)—The young mother of three children dared—and died—in a fatal attempt to walk a high wire at the Mid-South Fair here.

The woman, who fell 50 feet to the ground without an outcry, was identified as Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Davis by Police Inspector Pete Wiebenga.

Inspector Wiebenga said Mrs. Davis picked her way up the flexible ladder leading to the high wire in semi-darkness, grabbed for a balance pole and slipped when the unattached pole gave way.

He said she apparently made the attempt on a dare.

IT'S A SMALL WORLD

Ever run into a friend in Tokyo, or meet one of your neighbors in Amsterdam? Maybe not—but such things are happening every day!

It makes you stop and think—the way this world is shrinking. It makes you wish that the men and women who live on opposite sides of the globe had more things in common.

There can be no more unifying force in the world than a common belief in God. And toward that ideal we are rapidly progressing. Christians the world over are feeling and expressing their unity of faith and purpose.

Next Sunday is World-Wide Communion Sunday. On that day, within the space of a few short hours, Christians in every land will reverently participate in the Lord's Supper which has been a mark of Christian faith for almost two thousand years.

Worship with the World in the Church of your choice!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

Punch Sought By Bulldogs; Pups Scrimmage Frosh

Still seeking offense punch, the Midland Bulldogs drilled against Plainview's defense Wednesday. Also there was defensive action study of stopping the North Plains Bulldogs.

Midland's Bulldogs play the Plainview Bulldogs at 8 p. m. Friday night at Plainview.

There may be a shuffling of backfield assignments in the Midland lineup for the Friday game as the coaches try the various combinations of four backs to get offensive firepower and a tight defense at the same time.

Most of the scoring against Midland in three games this season have been on passes over the defensive halfbacks. This has been the big problem of the week with Midland in its drills.

The Bulldogs will depart by bus for Plainview early Friday morning. About 35 gridders and the coaches will make the trek. Some fans are expected to follow the Bulldogs in automobiles.

While the big Bulldogs were working Wednesday so were the little Bulldogs. A rough and tough scrimmage session sent the Bullpups of John

Official Trends Threaten World Freedom Of Press

By KENT COOPER
Executive Director of The Associated Press
NEW YORK—In the year since last Newspaper Week, statements have been made indicating growing official appreciation that a free press is vital. "I appeal for a free flow of knowledge and ideas that alone can lead to a happier world," said President Truman July 4 in one of the most important of such pronouncements.

But official acts in several countries often failed to show real understanding of the freedom to know and the freedom to print that are the basis of a free press. During the year, editors and publishers have given evidence of the continued vigilance needed to maintain press freedom. But they also have seen intensification of efforts to continue government propaganda and news control as a substitute for news and new developments of the strange idea that the way to obtain press freedom is to regulate ownership of news media instead of leaving control free to all.

There have been many warnings. October 23, 1946, on the heels of last Newspaper Week, John S. Knight, publisher of the Chicago Daily News said an "amazingly large proportion of American readers are not convinced that the press is really free." At the same Chicago meeting, Byron Price, U. S. wartime censor, reported that there had been real danger of outright government press control during World War II.

In Bogota, November 26, 1946, Albert Lleras, Camargo, former president of Colombia, addressing the fourth Inter-American Press Congress, warned that economic and other governmental restrictions threaten freedom of the press.

December 13, 1946, the American Society of Newspaper Editors said the United Nations has shown apparent indifference to freedom of the press. And subsequent United Nations action has been depressingly slow in this as in other world programs. It was not until August 14, 1947, that the Economic and Social Council set the date for the world conference on freedom of the press—and the date set is March 23, 1948.

The newspaper editors later found 'wise to set up their own committee to study U. S. government news releases. Wilbur Forrest, president of the Society warned January 25, 1947, that 29 of the United Nations have erected serious barriers to the free flow of news.

May 14, a Sigma Delta Chi meeting in New York warned that the Mundt bill in Congress would have set up a government news service. One of the most discouraging developments during the year was a report issued by a group led by Robert M. Hutchins, chancellor of the University of Chicago, insinuating that the government should be the judge of what people should know. Why men come to believe that any group of government employees can better judge news values than the thousands of men and women who now earn their livings maintaining a free flow of news, is difficult to understand.

But the Hutchins report had a strange echo in an "International Conference on Human Rights" convened in England by Britain's National Council for Civil Liberties. This conference urged taking news media away from private owners and putting them in the hands of "recognized responsible bodies such as political and other groups."

It is notable that the British socialist government has set up a royal commission to investigate ownership and control of the British Press, another example of the paradoxical hope that freedom can be established by taking rights away from somebody. Closing of "opposition" newspapers in some countries during the year is merely a development of such ideas.

The United States was the last country to act on the false notion that government propaganda can be a substitute for news. I personally hope it will be the first to reject the idea. But a survey of the year's developments proves that news men everywhere still have a hard fight on their hands.

French Communists Picket American Sugar

With "They Shall Not Pass" as a slogan, French Communists at Verdun, France, massed behind an oil drum barricade to prevent the shipment of American sugar to U. S. troops in Germany. After being held on barges for 11 days, the sugar finally was on its way in 142 French army trucks after a brief but violent fight in Verdun between Communists and the police.

STANTON—A calf and pig show, parade of veterans of two world wars, a football game between Stanton and Crane, and exhibits of handcraft, farm products and latest improvements in farm machinery will help entertain visitors to the first Martin County Fair since 1941. The fair opens here Friday at 3 p. m., and continues through Saturday.

Stanton streets and business houses are decorated for the event. Under direction of Horace Blocker and J. C. Mott of the building arrangement committee and O. B. Bryan of the parade committee, citizens have worked zealously to make this year's fair compare with pre-war events.

The Crane High School band will lead the parade Friday afternoon. W. O. Adams, Upton County agricultural agent, will judge the 4-H Club pig show, and E. J. Hughes of Big Spring will judge the calves. H. L. Atkins, Jr., Ector County agent, will judge the agricultural exhibits. Delbert Downing, Midland Chamber of Commerce manager, and Jimmy Greene, holder of the same position in Big Spring, will judge the parade.

Judges of homemaking, hobbies, antiques and similar exhibits will be Mrs. Nettie B. Messick of Midland, Miss Sallie Ferrell of Kermit, and Mrs. Nattie Owen of Odessa, home demonstration agents in their respective counties.

Refugee Jews Scorn French Bid To Return
LUEBECK, GERMANY—(AP)—Jewish refugees of the Exodus 1847 only laughed when a renewed French offer to take them back to France was broadcast in the camps where they are being held.

None of the refugees accepted the offer, despite a British warning that those who turned it down would find their rations cut from the present 2,800 calories a day to the regular German ration of 1,500 calories.

"If the Jews refuse," the broadcast and posted handbills said, "it will be clear that they remain in the British zone of Germany of their own free will."

Refugees in the two displaced persons camps—Poppendorf and Am Stau—went about their normal duties after the broadcast, voiced in English, German, Polish and Yiddish, with children attending school and women busy at domestic tasks.

The Poppendorf commandant said earlier that the refugees obviously were settling down for a long stay and their leaders here said they intend to go nowhere but to Palestine.

Author Of 'The Egg' Faces Damage Suit
SEATTLE—(AP)—Superior Judge Hugh C. Todd, ruling in a case involving the rights of privacy, has handed down a decision which permits an Olympic Peninsula couple to proceed with a $100,000 damage suit against Mrs. Betty MacDonald, author of "The Egg and I."

PHIL YECKEL HEADS MIDLAND RONS UNIT
The judge held that a cause of action exists in the suit of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Bishop, farmers living near Fort Ludlow, against Mrs. MacDonald.

The Bishops are not identified by name in the book but contend that they are sufficiently identified to be held up to ridicule by friends and acquaintances as "Mr. and Mrs. Hicks."

Harley Sadler May Run For Governor

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN—(AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester's advocacy of the college building amendment has drawn sharp criticism from Rep. Harley Sadler of Sweetwater who may run against him in 1948. Sadler said a statement he made several days ago has been misinterpreted as meaning that he would not run against Jester. He told The Associated Press by telegraph and telephone from Midland that he is "leaving the gate wide open," indicating he might run "if Jester's popularity continues to wane and there is enough demand." Sadler also said it is "entirely too early" to make a definite statement as to whether or not he would be a candidate, that he regarded Jester as a personal friend, and that he was not seeking any political advancement. 'Blood On The Moon' Over Palestine, Says Analyst

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
The United Nations is essaying a tough role in playing Solomon for adjudication of the Jewish-Arab controversy over Palestine. Its decision, no matter what it may be, must be backed by protective armed force if further bloodshed is to be prevented in the Holy Land—and the UN hasn't any armed force as yet.

That tragic fact becomes increasingly clear as the UN cautiously maneuvers through hearings on the highly controversial report of the special committee on Palestine which recommends that the country be divided into two separate states, one Arab and the other Jewish. The indication is that the Jews would accept this as a minimum requirement. The Arabs, however, insist there must be only one state, and that one Arab. In support of this claim they advance the argument that they outnumber the Jews about two to one. They have the backing of neighboring Arab states. Situation More Tense Both sides have made it uncom-

World War III Lies Ahead, Says Patterson

NEW YORK—(AP)—Robert Patterson, former secretary of war, says "World War III lies dead ahead" unless the American people drop their "business as usual attitude."

"Describing American military strength as 'hopelessly inadequate,'" Patterson wrote in a Cosmopolitan Magazine article: "Foreign governments need a minimum of four, a maximum of 10 years to produce an atomic bomb. But these estimates hold true only if they make the bomb the same way we make it—a highly complex operation.

"If some nation finds a simpler way, it is altogether possible scientists might produce another atomic bomb tomorrow."

"We have begun once more," Patterson said, "to think that because we don't want war, nobody on earth wants war."

President Says Press Can Be Counted Upon

HARRISBURG, PA.—(AP)—The newspapers of America "can be counted upon in the future to extend the blessings of freedom throughout the world," President Truman said in a message to the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association, sharing in the observance of National Newspaper Week, October 1-8.

"We are too much inclined to take freedom as a matter of course," the President said in his message. "We need to defend it, always, and we need now to do all that we can to extend the blessings of freedom throughout the world. The newspapers have played a splendid part in this great cause, and I know they can be counted on in the future."

Taft Thinks Radio Gives GOP Bad Break

PORTLAND, ORE.—(AP)—Senator Taft of Ohio tallied this box score for newspapermen on his idea of press and radio treatment accorded Republicans in Washington: "Newspapermen generally—"An even break."

Radio columnists—"Less than an even break."

Taft's "scoring" was in response to questions at a news conference. He said he thought "the orthodox view among everybody in Washington, including newspapermen, was still the New Deal view."

Radio, he thought, gave the Republicans a "bad break," while "two-thirds of the radio comment is anti-Republican."

Loveless Love Bird Is Happy As A Lark Now

CHICAGO—(AP)—Sam Gordon's loveless love bird is thriving — on self esteem.

It's a good thing, because Sam was getting pretty tired of the loveless love bird, or, as he calls it, the "lovesick feathered pet."

Sam has had awful luck with his love birds. Seven years ago he bought Antony and Cleopatra, a pair, for $1. Then Cleo died and Antony drooped until Sam bought Peewee for $5.

Sam gave it the bird name, Antony, and Peewee billed and cooed a while, until Antony died. Then Peewee drooped, so Sam bought Jake for $7. Peewee perked up briefly, but finally she died too.

and Jake was inconsolable. Sam thought of how the cost of love birds kept going up, and tried to comfort Jake with a lifeless china mate. Jake gave it the bird name, Then Sam tried a new stunt, and Jake has been happy as a lark ever since. He put a mirror in the cage and let Jake admire himself.

Texas Youth Wants Games, Soft Drinks—Not Dames, High Jinks

By JACK RUTLEDGE

DALLAS—(AP)—Everyone admits these days that one of the best ways to keep the teen-agers out of trouble is to provide something good and clean for them to do. A place to go with games and soft drinks instead of dames and high-jinks.

But how many towns have such recreation centers?

Temple does, for one. It's called the Teen-Age Barn, and it's on the main highway on the edge of town. It's big and clean, and popular.

Down in New Braunfels, the boys are trying to build what they call the Unicorn Stables. (Unicorn is the nickname of the school football team).

The Chamber of Commerce and parents and business men are helping, but it's the boys themselves who are promoting it, and doing the work.

Use Surplus Barracks

They want to get surplus barracks—two of them—from a nearby Army camp. These will be placed parallel, with an open space between which will be cemented and roofed later.

The Unicorn Stables will have a canteen, a recreation hall, dance floor, games.

And the boys, who have asked for the barracks, are going from house to house raising funds. They say their mothers may help that way, too.

Virgil W. Johnson of the Chamber of Commerce says the project is not only sound and sensible, but that the training the boys get in doing the job will be invaluable later.

There are, scattered over Texas, numerous such teen-age centers. They're becoming more and more popular.

And, in most instances, the sparkplug behind them is the younger generation itself—the teen-agers who know what they want, and go get it.

This Woman Was Once Dead

Looking the picture of health, Mrs. Martha Chorech, 58, of Akron, Ohio, finds pleasure in sweeping her stoop. But she was once dead.

While undergoing abdominal surgery in an Akron hospital, her heart stopped beating. It was still for two minutes, and the surgeon was about to give up the fight for her life. But in a desperate attempt, he made a swift incision, laid bare the heart, lifted it out and massaged it in his hand. Within 30 seconds, it began to beat feebly. He replaced it, and, 11 days later, Mrs. Chorech left the hospital after one of most amazing recoveries in medical history.

Cotton Seeds Changed By Atomic Radiation

COLLEGE STATION—(AP)—Changes have occurred in hereditary elements of cotton plants grown from seed exposed to atomic radiation in Bikini atom bomb tests, the Texas A&M College experiment station says in a report released recently.

Many of the cotton seeds carried on ships exposed to atomic radiation at Bikini failed to germinate, indicating a deadly dose was received, R. D. Lewis, Texas A&M agricultural research director, said in releasing results of the experiment station's atomic radiation studies here.

Fish Steaks Take Place Of Beef

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Fish steaks can take the place of high-priced beef steaks, both nutritionally and for eating enjoyment. They are ready to cook, practically boneless, and are easy to keep for a few days in the refrigerator, being solid sections of fish. Wrapped tightly in waxed paper, they should be kept in cold section of refrigerator.

One pound of fish steak cut from cod, salmon, halibut, tuna, carp, whiting, swordfish, makes two or three servings, depending on your family's appetite. Steaks are cross-section cuts of fish varying in thickness from one-half to one inch.

Preparation Simple

To broil a swordfish steak, follow these simple steps. First, dust it quickly in cold, salted water. Dry it with a damp cloth or drain it on absorbent paper. Then dust steak lightly but thoroughly with flour. While doing this, preheat broiling compartment at full flame or 350 degrees F. Place the steak on the broiler pan and brush it evenly with butter, fortified margarine, shortening or oil. Make sure the steak is two inches from the flame. Broil it for three minutes on the first side. Season and turn. Brush second side with butter, or other fat. Broil for three minutes on second side. Season and serve immediately. If the steak is one inch thick, it should be broiled for three minutes on the first side and five minutes on the second side. Cod steaks one-half inch thick should broil three minutes on the first side and five minutes on the second. If one inch thick, five minutes on each side is the correct time. For real, extra broasting is required for each side during broiling period. Halibut and striped bass also require an extra broasting for each side. Salmon and tuna steaks need just the preliminary brushing on each side.

Nature's Violence Never Surprises Red Cross Head

By HOWARD DOBSON

WASHINGTON—All you can do about a disaster, says Colin Herrie, is get ready for it.

And he is. As national administrator of Red Cross disaster services, nothing that man or nature may cook up in the way of devastation can surprise or dismay him.

Herrie, a tall, gray native of Washington, is 55 years old and has spent 37 of those years with the Red Cross—33 of them setting ready for, and getting over, disasters from Vermont and Louisiana to China and Serbia.

The Red Cross depends primarily on its local chapters—one in every county, at least—for its disaster preparedness. Each chapter has a disaster chairman in charge of surveying local resources and getting them lined up for emergency use.

Best Setup In Florida

"One of the best setups we have is in Florida, the Dade County organization in Miami," Herrie told me. "If they had a hurricane this morning they could put 30,000 people under shelter tonight."

Disaster business in this country is big. The Red Cross gets about a disaster a day, ranging from small fires up to floods, cyclones and hurricanes. It still is paying for the care of people injured in cyclones 10 years ago and expects to be taking care of injured from the Texas City, Tex., explosion and fire 10 years hence. Here, roughly, is the way the Red Cross goes to work on a disaster:

The U. S. Weather Bureau makes daily rainfall reports at noon, to Red Cross headquarters here. When a hurricane is spotted, it reports more frequently, sometimes a half-dozen times a day, on the storm's progress and probable path. Chapters prepare ahead.

When a hurricane is headed for Florida as the one there recently the Weather Bureau tries to determine where it will hit first. The Red Cross area office nearest the area in danger makes sure the local "hunters" have been warned and are getting ready. It may establish a temporary regional headquarters to direct the work of chapters in several counties or even several states.

The local workers get their machinery in operation and make sure that families along the coast have been warned and moved out. If necessary, the Red Cross moves them.

When the storm strikes, emergency aid—food, shelter, clothing and medicine—is on hand. The local chapter even plans truck routings in advance.

Follow Up With Gifts
After the storm, specially trained disaster workers go into the area and make a rehabilitation survey. The people help themselves as much as possible, then the Red Cross carries on from there with gifts of money for hospital care, to replace furniture and clothes and even to repair or rebuild houses. Sometimes the gifts run into thousands of dollars, for a single family.

"For years that rehabilitation work ran about $4,000,000 a year," Herrie said. "Last year it was $5,000,000, and the Lord only knows what it will be this year."

On the wall behind Herrie's desk is a 1906 photograph of the San Francisco earthquake and fire and an artist's drawing of the Louisville, Ky., cyclone, tornado and fire of 1890.

Floods, Hurricanes Toughest
"Those were a little before his time. His first big job with the Red Cross was to work on a study of flood problems in China in 1914. When World War I broke out he returned to this country."

"I in 1915 went abroad with the Rockefeller Foundation's war relief commission."
Herrie returned to the Red Cross after the war. He hit the big leagues in disaster relief with the 1926 Florida hurricane and has been at it since.

His toughest jobs have two Florida hurricanes, two Mississippi river floods and the 1927 flood in Vermont.

Apricots Are Cheap, Use Them

Attractive to the eye, the taste and the pocketbook are these delicious apricot tarts.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

A dessert that uses cream cheese (a good source of essential protein), dried apricots (in super supply and consequently cheap), and no eggs to scare the budget is just what every troubled housewife is looking for today.

Apricot Tarts

(Serves 9)
Tarts: One-quarter cup shortening, 1 package cream cheese (3 ounces), 2 3 cup sifted flour, 1 4 teaspoon salt, 18 cooked dried apricots.

Thoroughly combine shortening and cream cheese. All flour and 1 4 teaspoon salt. Mix well. Place pastry in refrigerator to chill thoroughly, preferably overnight. Roll pastry into a nine-inch square. Cut into nine three-inch squares. Place two cooked apricots on each square. Bring corners of each square together in center and press together firmly. Bake in moderately hot oven (425 degrees F.) for 20 minutes.

Sauce: One-quarter cup sugar, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1 8 teaspoon salt, 1 cup apricot juice, 1 2 cup water, 1 2 cup whipping cream.

Mix together sugar, cornstarch, 1 8 teaspoon salt, apricot juice and water in a one- quart saucepan. Cook over low heat for 10 minutes. Remove from heat and cool. Whip cream and fold into cooled apricot mixture. Serve apricot sauce on tarts.

For luncheon, here's a protein rich salad:

Fish and Vegetable Salad

Michigan College Boy Killed In Pep Rally

Department Stores Reverse Sales Trend Of Pre-War Period

WASHINGTON—Northern and Eastern states are doing a big share of the nation's postwar department store business than they did before the war, the Commerce Department reports.

Reversing a prewar downward trend in these areas, stores in the more highly diversified sections of the North and East are showing "large gains relative to the country as a whole," the department said.

In the South and West, however, areas of highest gain in the prewar and early war period, the postwar trend has been a reduction in department store gains relative to the nation.

May Not Be Permanent
Smaller cities in many cases have reversed a prewar upward trend which increased in the early war period and now shows a leveling-off or reversed direction. Among such cities are Buffalo and San Diego.

The department said that the short time since the war's end makes it impossible as yet to determine "the exact nature" of the postwar sales pattern in different regions, since the last two years may reflect transition from war rather than a permanent shifting in basic sales proportions.

Messages travel along the nerves of a human being at a rate of approximately 400 feet a second.

Times Have Always Been Tough In College

NEW YORK—College men are perennially broke. But Harry Augustine of Sherwood, Wis., doesn't believe they are having any tougher time financially than they did in the years when he was at the University of Wisconsin in quest of a sheepskin.

"My roommate and I were so poor," he recalled, "we stayed home on Saturday nights and played poker for raisins."

Dutch Sign Trade Pact With French

THE HAGUE—A new one-year trade agreement has been concluded between the Netherlands and the French Zone of Germany, it was disclosed officially here. Mutual deliveries will amount to 7,500,000 guilder (about $2,500,000). The Netherlands will receive from the French Zone wood, chemical products, textiles, needles, building materials, machines and instruments in exchange for potatoes and seeds.

Serve toasted frank on toast with spicy cheese sauce.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Want some less expensive meat dish that everyone will like? Try this.

Split frank and brown lightly in a small amount of butter or fortified margarine. Served on toast, topped with a tangy cheese sauce. Serve with mellow ripe peach halves filled with a colorful jelly.

Here's another good dish for dinner, a cracker ring filled with sliced frank in a light tomato sauce.

Cracker Cheese Ring
Two eggs, slightly beaten, 2 cups

milk, 1 cup shredded sharp cheese, 1 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon butter or fortified margarine, 30 crisp crackers, crushed (makes 11 1/2 cups crumbs).

Combine slightly beaten eggs, milk, cheese, salt, pepper and butter or margarine in a saucepan. Heat over low flame, stirring constantly, until cheese melts. Add cracker; mix well. Pour into a well greased one-quart ring mold. Place mold in a pan of hot water. Bake in a 350 degree F. oven about 45 minutes or until firm. To unmold, loosen edges and invert on hot serving plate.

Snap Beans and Tomatoes
Serves 4-6

One cup finely chopped onions, 1 1/4 cup fat, 1 pound snap beans, 1 cup cooked tomatoes, 1 1/4 cup water, 2 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, speck pepper.

Cook onions in fat until tender. Cut beans lengthwise. Add the beans and rest of ingredients to the cooked onions; cover; simmer about 35 minutes or until beans are tender.

Soviet Will Develop Rich Irkutsk District

MOSCOW — The Irkutsk District in Eastern Siberia is slated for industrial development in the near future, according to Pravda, which summed up the results of a recent conference on the productive forces of the district.

The conference was attended by some of the outstanding economists of the Soviet Union and studied various problems of the economic growth of the area.

The Irkutsk District, which is larger than Texas, is located along the shores of Lake Baikal, fifth largest and deepest lake in the world. It has developed rapidly since the Bolshevik revolution.

Wealth Of Resources
During these 30 years, according to Pravda, production of coal has increased 12 times, salt mining 10 times, lumber output 10 times and total industrial production 18 times.

All this development has not even scratched the surface of natural resources, Pravda stated.

The conference was told that on the basis of local coal, water power, iron ore and salt the whole region would be turned into a tremendous electric power and industrial combine.

The Angara River, according to Soviet sources, is the most economical source of electric power in the world, largely because of the fact that Lake Baikal with its tremendous water reserves guarantees year round flow through the power turbines.

Bronx Zoo Shows First Living Yapock

NEW YORK — A female yapock, an almost legendary water opossum, never before exhibited alive, is among the most important collection of birds and mammals ever received by the New York Zoological Society from Central America and now on exhibition at the Bronx Zoo.

Captured in Costa Rica by Charles Corlier, staff collector, the shipment includes a three-wattled bellbird, a sickle-bill hummingbird, male bare-neck umbrella birds, and Costa Rican quetzals.

The yapock, rarest and most peculiar of the world's opossums, is covered with silky gray fur. Sometimes it forgets to chew. A tug at a crawfish projecting from its mouth reminds it, and the yapock starts to chew again. Twelve inches long, it has a 14-inch tail.

Old Dobbin Goes To Dental Chair If In U. S. Army

By LYNN HEINZELING
BERLIN—AP—The Army's horses in Berlin are having their teeth looked after by Germany's leading horse dentist.

Dr. Erwin Becker, inventor of a mobile "dental chair" for horses and modern equipment for filling and smoothing down horses' teeth, headed a special horse hospital for the Wehrmacht during the war.

He has invented an apparatus which permits him to get at horse's teeth and repair them with as much ease as his colleagues enjoy in attacking human molars. He is working at present as veterinarian for the horse platoon of the 15th Constabulary Squadron in Berlin.

Need Dental Care
Horses are peculiarly free of tooth decay, only about two per cent of them suffering from caries, the veterinarian says. On the other hand, about 97 per cent have tooth deformities, which hinder their chewing, cause mouth sores and make life uncomfortable for them.

"If horses could cry, no farmer would ever get a good night's sleep," Dr. Becker says.

Because of the way they chew, horses wear off their teeth unevenly and develop long, sharp corners on the outside of their molars which lacerate the skin.

Dr. Becker said the first instrument for holding the mouth of a horse was invented by an Arab, Abu Bekr. With a screw arrangement, the horse's jaws are widened to the point necessary for Dr. Becker to operate within the mouth with his drilling instruments.

Saves Tons Of Feed
The carburetor wheel which does the grinding is about the diameter of a half dollar. A small stream of water plays over the horse's teeth as Becker grinds down the sharp edges.

After having its teeth ground down, a horse feels much better without eating so much, the veterinarian says. He figures that he could save 4,200 calories a day in food per horse by his treatment—more than twice as many calories as the average German receives daily in his official rations.

Calculating on the pre-war horse population of Germany—about 3,000,000—Becker figured he could save a million tons of oats and a million tons of hay yearly if all the horses could receive one of his treatments.

Princess Couldn't Find Siamese To Suit Her
TOKYO—AP—A pretty Siamese Princess, Mary Visakha Svasta, who has come to Tokyo to marry the Japanese commoner she met during the war, said she picked him as her bridegroom because she couldn't find a Siamese to suit her.

"I looked around but none of them seemed to be what I wanted," she said as she held her future husband's two small children on her lap.

Princess Mary, who speaks perfect English, said she would renounce her title when she marries Shinji Utagawa, an employee of a Japanese trading company at Catholic Sofia University, on October 15.

Utagawa was adviser to the puppet Siamese government during the war. He said he doubted if they would live in Japan, as he aspires to a diplomatic career abroad.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
One of the first questions that a newspaperman asks a woman bridge expert is, do women play as good bridge as men? I have often asked that question myself, and, surprisingly, the women always answer that men play better bridge than women. With all of the first women players coming along throughout the country, I doubt if that is a true statement. In my opinion, good women bridge players play equally as well as good men players.

It was in the national women's pair championship that today's hand came up. You might consider that East and West bid optimistically, but remember that South had opened with a pre-emptive bid.

Over such a bid, a pair will sometimes make an optimistic bid because they are afraid of being talked out of something. A pre-emptive bid usually indicates the lack of high card values in the bidder's hand, and each opponent naturally starts to place those values in his own partner's hand.

The opening spade lead was won in dummy, and declarer realized that in order to make the contract, she would have to find the king of clubs right. So she led the queen of clubs from dummy, took the finesse and it lost to South's king.

South now played the queen of hearts. North might have put the eight-spot on the queen, asking for a continuation of the heart suit. But South would have been unable to continue with a heart and declarer would have made the five diamond contract. North correctly overtook the queen with the king and cashed the ace of hearts, making sure of defeating the contract. She then led the third heart, South trumped, and the contract was down two tricks.

Thousands To View Hangchow Tidal Bore

SHANGHAI—AP—The famous Hangchow Tidal Bore—a swaying wall of ocean water from six to 23 feet high—will hurl itself against a massive 1,200-year-old seawall at ancient Hangchow with thousands of spectators on hand to watch.

The tidal bore occurs annually at the seaport, south of Shanghai, on the 18th day of the eighth moon of the Chinese lunar year.

It forms when a high incoming ocean tide clashes with the swift-flowing Chien Tang River, and rolls in like an elongated battering ram.

Railways operate special trains for the day, and thousands travel for miles to see it strike.

Hangchow's ancient dike, protecting some 6,000,000 Chinese farmers and thousands of acres of fertile land, was recently restored after severe damage resulting from wartime neglect.

It is a great wall of stone, stretching 40 miles along the north shore of Hangchow Bay and 75 miles along the south shore. Its main section is 18 feet high, 18 feet thick at the base and six feet thick at the top, backed with an earthen dike and protected at the base by two stone approaches.

A Hearty Breakfast Puts Pep, Vitality Into Solid Hours Of Work

Let's protect our mornings with a good breakfast! Mornings are the time of day when we're feeling at our best all ready to pitch into some solid hours of work. A hearty breakfast keeps us up on our toes, a skimpy breakfast is likely to let us down right in the middle of the morning's activities.

What's happened to breakfast?
This good meal, which used to have much of the heartiness of other meals of the day, has dwindled down to a mere shadow of its former self. After the body has been without food for 12 hours, it's logical that breakfast should be a hearty meal. It's logical, too, that 1/4 to 1/3 of the daily food requirements should be provided for by breakfast. This means a sufficient amount of protein, carbohydrates, fats, vitamins, and minerals.

Meat for breakfast supplies part of the protein which is needed daily—protein of the highest quality. It also provides vitamins, minerals and fat. Meat in the breakfast menu gives the same eating satisfaction that we find in the midday hamburger and the evening pot roast and it helps us to keep up our pep during the productive morning hours.

A well planned breakfast starts with fruit. A tall glass of orange juice, that popular eye opener, provides the body with the Vitamin C needed for a whole day. Vitamin C is that important member of the vitamin clan which helps keep the teeth and gums in healthy condition and builds resistance to fatigue and infection.

Next in the breakfast parade comes cereal, then a breakfast meat, such as bacon, ham, and sausage links or patties. Eggs go well with all of these meat items. Variety in the breakfast bread gives interest to the menu. Such items as hot biscuits, muffins, sweet rolls, toast, and doughnuts, give breakfast added appeal.

Here is a list of suggested meats for breakfast:
Typical Breakfast Meats
Bacon—fried, baked or broiled.
Sausage links or patties—fried.
Ham—fried or broiled.
Corned beef hash—fried.
Luncheon meat—fried.
Dried beef—creamed or in omelet.

For the queen of all breakfasts, a ham and egg breakfast, use 1/4 inch thick slices of ham. This may be "boiled" ham, baked ham, ready-to-eat ham, or uncooked ham. Cook before eating. Type Pan fry ham slices slowly in their own fat or a little added fat, until hot and lightly browned. Remove to a hot platter, then fry eggs in the hot ham fat. Top ham slices with the cooked eggs.

Another good egg and meat combination is eggs fried in bologna cups. In a little hot fat in a skillet, cook bologna slices until they curl up around the edges. Carefully drop an egg into each cup. Put a tablespoon of water in the bottom of the skillet, cover, and cook until eggs are set but not hard. This takes about 15 minutes.

Breakfast dish hints: To make fluffy french toast, serve with crisp bacon strips, separate the egg yolks from the whites, instead of beating them together. Beat egg yolks well, add seasonings and milk, then fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Dip the bread in this mixture and fry as usual. In making cornmeal mush, add some crisp diced bacon, diced ham or chopped luncheon meat to the cornmeal mixture just before pouring into the mold to chill.

Communists Advance Cause By Terrorism To Impress Populace

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Analyst
The Communist theory that the cause of the Red Era can best be advanced by force and threats is well exemplified in the circumstances surrounding the seizure of American Lt. William Van Atten and two U. S. soldiers by Yugoslav troops while the three Yankees were on mounted patrol duty at a disputed section of the new frontier between the Trieste Free Territory and Yugoslavia.

It required a peremptory demand by the U. S. government to secure the release of the victims of what American circles condemned as wholly unwarranted and brazen aggression. And Van Atten tells us that during the five days of captivity the Yugoslavs "kept repeating that Russia was strong and kept pointing to pictures of Tito, Stalin and Lenin."

Clearly this exhibition had a double purpose: To demonstrate to foe and friend alike the might of Russia and Red Yugoslavia, and to spread the propaganda of fear abroad, especially among weak countries which are under assault by Communism.

Believe in Terrorism
The employment of force and threats stems from the cardinal tenet of Communism which lays down that the ism must be established through a reign of terror so as to impress it on the minds of the populace.

This creed is driven into every true believer in Communism. The Red soldier, for example, is trained on terrorism until direct action becomes second nature to him.

Terrorism doesn't always take the form of force. Propaganda constantly is used for the purpose of instilling fear and causing dissension, a fact we've demonstrated in the United Nations which is being used as a sounding board for the spread of the idea that Russia is too powerful to be challenged.

Taxes Keep A Star Idle, Says Stanwyck

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Barbara Stanwyck is working before the cameras for the first time since February and the reason for her idleness is taxes.

"It's silly to make as many pictures as I did last year," she said on the "H. F.'s Daughter" set. "I netted a total of $7,000 for working in 'California.' I was paid $9,000 for two radio shows and could keep $600.

"Why work? Let us give it away to charity? All I can give away now is $15,000. If the government would let us give more away, we wouldn't mind working more."

Hawthorne House Will Be Reconstructed

DES MOINES, IOWA—(AP)—The National Federation of Music Clubs Executive Board, in its 1947 meeting here, voted a $1,000 gift to reconstruct the "Little Red House" where Nathaniel Hawthorne lived in 1850 and 1851 and wrote some of his most famous stories.

The house will be used as practice rooms by the Berkshire Music Center, which is sponsored by Serge Koussevitzky, the board announced. Full cost of the restoration will be borne by the Federation, which will dedicate the house at the beginning of the annual music festival there next summer.

U. S. OIL CORPORATION LEASES LAND ON RHINE

NEW YORK—(AP)—The California-Texas Corporation, owned jointly by Standard Oil Company of California and the Texas Company, has acquired a long-term lease on 160 acres of land on the Rhine River where it expects to build an $18,000,000 refinery for processing crude oil from the Middle East.

Women Let Hair Down To Match Long Frocks

CHICAGO—(AP)—Women must let their hair down if they want to look new on top.

The National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association has created a "new look" to go with the longer fashions.

It will be flat and smooth and fairly short and will face forward instead of back and up. Mrs. Margaret Condo of Hollywood, association president, says.

The updo, she adds, is as dead as last year's short skirt. Neatness and sleekness is the new standard.

Sheep ticks are insects, but wood ticks are not.

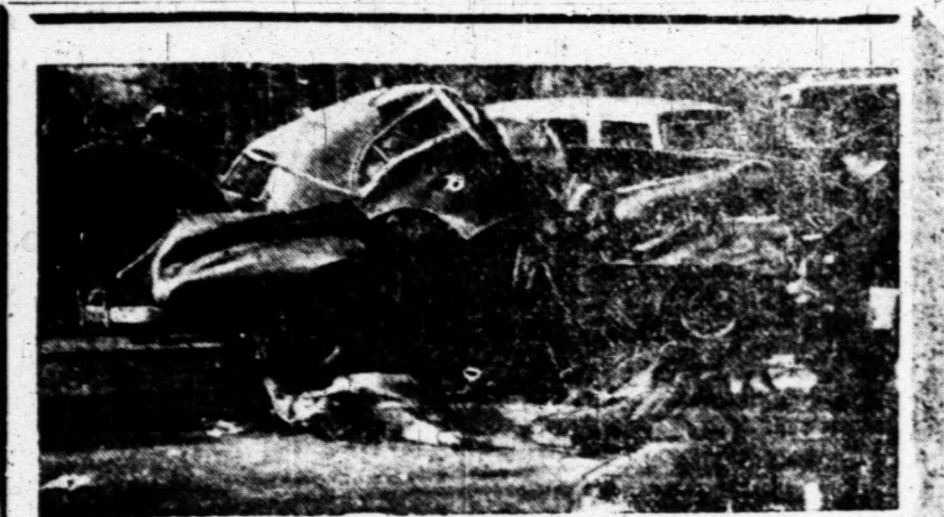

The center of population of the United States in 1790 was near Baltimore, Md.; now it is in Indiana. There are 20,000,000 acres of public domain, or government-owned lands, in Arizona and New Mexico.

East Texas To Have Cherokee Power Plant

LONGVIEW.—The Southwestern Gas and Electric Company plans to build a huge power plant on projected Lake Cherokee near here, company president Frank M. Wilkes announced.

Wilkes recently said the power plant would be located at a point seven miles southeast of Longview and would serve East Texas.

The 150,000 kilowatt power plant will be served by a five-mile railroad spur from Easton to the plant.

V. A. Clements, chairman, said good progress was being made on the Lake Cherokee project.

The proposed lake will contain 4,000 acres of water and will be 11 miles long. It will be located in Gregg and Rusk Counties.

The new electron microscope has a magnifying power of 200,000 diameters.

Shorty Prefers Quiet But Obeys Orders

NEW YORK.—(AP)—Johnny Florea, whose camera caught some of the best pictures, is back from a trek through the Iar East for Life Magazine. He finds it much simpler without the Japanese houseboy, Shorty, he had in Tokyo.

Shorty had the Oriental servant's typical dislike for disturbing the serenity of his master in any way. Once Florea, before setting, cautioned the houseboy repeatedly to awaken him at 7 a.m. sharp, as he had an important engagement.

The next morning Shorty flip-flopped silently in, carefully laid a noise by the bedside, and noiselessly backed out. When Florea awoke shortly before mid-day, he found the note:

"Mr. Florea, it is now seven o'clock. Please wake up."

Newspaper Reporters Acquire New Dignity

BEAUMONT.—(AP)—Even newspaper reporters must be dignified in court here.

A new regulation passed by the Jefferson County Commissioners Court makes it mandatory that newspaper reporters who cover the court's weekly sessions must wear coats.

After the regulation was set up, three reporters hurriedly found coats and donned them in order to be included in the session.

Ohio Man May Eat After 26-Year Fast

PITTSBURGH.—(AP)—Mickey Schuster lay in a hospital bed and concentrated on drawing up a menu for his first honest-to-goodness meal in 26 years.

The 26-year-old Youngstown, Ohio, furniture worker has had to take all nourishment through a stomach tube without tasting or chewing it. His esophagus, through which food passes to the stomach, was tightly closed by scar tissue.

Game Warden Rescues 1,000 Stranded Fish

OAKDALE, CALIF.—(AP)—Game Warden Gus Gebel wishes they had built the outlet tunnel of the Woodland reservoir differently.

It's 200 feet long and 10 feet high, and when they shut off the water flow recently Gebel had to go to the rescue of more than a ton of black bass stranded in the water left in the tunnel.

Garbed in a rubber suit, he pulled one end of a net along while helpers in a boat pulled the other. The first drag netted 750 bass weighing more than two pounds on the average.

It took the rest of that day to plant them in nearby streams.

The next day the rescue squad got 350 bass, and hopes now the tunnel is fished out for good.

Helper's Heroic Try Fails To Save Life

LOS ANGELES.—(AP)—A helper's heroic try to save the life of his painter-boss proved futile.

When a scaffold broke with Herman Gutterman, 39, four stories up, his helper, 22-year-old Bob Chacon, who was on the ground, held out his arms and broke the fall. Chacon was badly bruised himself.

But Gutterman succumbed to internal injuries in a hospital.
