

Oregon Officials' Deaths Affirmed

Four Bodies Found

KLAMATH FALLS, ORE.—(P)—The wreckage of a plane carrying Gov. Earl Snell of Oregon, two other top state officials and the pilot was reached by a search party Thursday and there were no survivors, Fremont Forest Supervisor Merle Lowden said.

Lowden said Ranger Jack Smith, with the party at the wreckage, reported by portable radio that the aircraft was demolished and four bodies were found.

Lowden said the bodies were being brought on litters from the wreckage by a party of some 100 men.

They formed the group searching the area where two volunteers, Chet Ellis and Gregg Tainter, both of Lakeview, Ore., found the wreckage, Lowden said.

Because of the difficult terrain, it was believed possible it might require hours to bring out the bodies, but Lowden said the message from Smith did not say how close the wreckage was to the nearest logging road, so no time estimate was possible.

Killed with Governor Snell were State Senate President Marshall Cornett, 49; Secretary of State Robert S. Farrell, Jr., 41, and Cliff Hogue, 42, Klamath Falls, the pilot. They had left here Tuesday night on a one-hour hop to Lake County's Warner Valley to hunt waterfowl.

The wreckage was found in heavily timbered country 70 miles east of here and a few miles north of the Oregon-California border.

Hall News Governor

Throughout the night state police forest rangers, Army air rescue units, Oregon Coast Guardsmen and volunteers had combed the area, operating from headquarters at the Dog Lake Forest Guard Station.

Confirmation of the governor's death immediately elevated John H. Hall, 48, Portland attorney, to the governorship by virtue of his position as speaker of the House. He will fill by appointment the vacancy in the secretary of state's office.

The succession of the speaker is provided by an amendment approved by the voters in 1946 at the time the nation became concerned over the succession line in the federal government.

Hall has been a member of the legislature since 1939, after a previous two-year term served from 1933, and like all Oregon key executives, is a Republican.

Truman Running Mate Is Demo's Unsolved Problem

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Democratic Party, as represented by its National Committee, gave evidence Thursday that it has settled just about everything for its 1948 convention except who is to run for vice president.

At a one-day meeting Wednesday, the committee unanimously picked Philadelphia for next summer's nominating convocation and elected in 43-year-old Senator J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island a new national chairman who favors non-partisan action on emergency legislation at the November 17 special session of Congress.

Breakfast For Special Gifts Workers Held

The first official meeting of the Midland Memorial Foundation's hospital campaign for funds was held Thursday, when division chairmen of the Special Gifts Campaign gathered for a breakfast in the Private Dining Room of the Scharbauer Hotel. Enthusiasm was at a high pitch as the civic leaders received information concerning the campaign and heard plans to complete in quick order the drive for funds to erect a $600,000 general hospital in Midland.

Meetings of other committees will be held during the next several days.

John W. House, chairman of the Special Gifts Committee, presided. John P. Butler and James N. Allison are vice chairmen.

Ulmer Speaks

M. C. Ulmer, general campaign chairman, outlined the overall campaign program and asked the close cooperation and best efforts of all workers and citizens in the campaign to provide a modern general hospital for Midland.

"We are called upon to do a big job which carries with it a tremendous responsibility, but with the proper cooperation and coordination, the campaign can be (Continued on page 4)

Britain's Labor Government Has Narrow Escape

LONDON—(P)—Britain's Labor government averted defeat by less than 30 votes on two occasions last night, 384 to 261. His previous attempts failed, 381 to 197 in 1945; 374 to 198 last April; and 251 to 148 last August.

These votes followed by only a few hours Winston Churchill's fourth unsuccessful effort to throw the Labor Party out of office by adverse parliamentary ballot. The House defeated his attempt Wednesday night, 384 to 261. His previous attempts failed, 381 to 197 in 1945; 374 to 198 last April; and 251 to 148 last August.

Weather Bureau officials said wind velocity was recorded as high as 85 miles an hour.

A plane was demolished and several buildings damaged at the Municipal Airport. No storm damage was reported within the Galveston city limits.

★ LATE NEWS FLASHES ★

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Attorney General Tom Clark Thursday announced the filing of a civil antitrust suit against 17 of the largest investment banking firms in New York. The suit charges a conspiracy to monopolize the handling of securities issues.

NEW YORK—(AP)—A quick denial of the charges of conspiracy to monopolize the securities business was made by leading investment banking firms Thursday after the government announced such charges had been filed.

EL PASO—(AP)—Wreckage of a two-seater plane believed to have carried two El Paso physicians, William A. Glasier and Frank C. Goodwin, on a flight from Carlsbad, N. M., was sighted near Salt Flats, Texas, Thursday by an Army search plane from Biggs Field.

CHICAGO—(AP)—President William Harbridge of the American League Thursday called a special meeting of the club owners to be held at Cleveland Friday to consider the suspension of Leslie O'Connor, general manager of the Chicago White Sox.

Marshall To Lead In Recovery Plans

WASHINGTON—(P)—Secretary Marshall returns to his State Department desk Thursday to take a leading role in shaping final recommendations to Congress for a four-year European Recovery Program that may cost up to $20,000,000,000.

The program he and other top Administration officials are due to turn out within the next week is expected to be laid before congressional committees November 10 with the argument that it offers a "reasonable" chance of saving Europe from economic disaster and preventing a vast westward extension of Russian Communism.

Marshall returned late Wednesday from New York, where he has been personally directing the American diplomatic offensive in the United Nations Assembly.

Diplomatic and economic officials say that while almost no final decisions have been made, the broad outlines of the "Marshall Plan" already are well laid down. In general they cover these main points to be laid before Congress when the special session opens November 17:

Two More Cited For Contempt

WASHINGTON—(P)—Two more Hollywood screen writers were cited for contempt by a House Un-American Activities subcommittee Thursday, bringing to 10 the number thus accused.

Ring Lardner, Jr. and Lester Cole were cited when they refused to give "yes or no" answers to questions whether they are or have been Communists.

As in the eight previous cases, the committee presented testimony from its investigators of finding evidence that the men cited have been affiliated with the Communist Party.

Like the others cited, the witnesses took the stand that the committee has no right to ask questions about political beliefs.

Lardner, a script writer who adapted "Forever Amber" to the screen, was the first witness called as the committee went into the ninth day of its public hearings in its investigation of Communism in Hollywood.

Mystery Witness

The resumption of the hearings was delayed by a closed-door session of the committee to consider the future course of its hearings. No announcement was made as to any decisions reached.

Thomas had said earlier that before the day's hearings were concluded the committee would develop from a "mystery" witness "sensational evidence about atom bomb espionage."

A top committee official said this witness evidence that certain "MovieLand Reds" were key figures in a plot to steal the secret of the bomb.

The 400-seat hearing room was filled with spectators and nearly 200 waited outside for a chance to get in when Lardner went on the stand.

To "Pull Fuse"

There were reports at the capitol that the mystery witnesses would be Louis J. Russell, a former FBI agent now on the committee staff.

"We're going to pull the fuse off an atom bomb," was all Thomas would say to newsmen who pumpe him in vain for information.

Except for a few odds and ends to be pulled together Friday, the "espionage" chapter was scheduled to be the last in the committee's investigation, now nearing the end of its second week.

Ramadier Given Confidence Vote

PARIS—(P)—Premier Paul Ramadier's coalition government won a vote of confidence from the French National Assembly late Thursday in Ramadier's move to steer the nation between the extremes of Communism and De Gaullism.

The resumption of the hearings was delayed by a closed-door session of the committee to consider the future course of its hearings. No announcement was made as to any decisions reached.

AAL Inaugurates Regular Service Here Saturday

Final preparations were being made Thursday for the inauguration by American Airlines of fast flagship service to Midland, beginning Saturday, with four daily flights.

The American office in the new terminal building at Midland Air Terminal was a beehive of activity as personnel worked diligently to finish the installation of instruments and to complete final details in preparation for the beginning of regular service.

J. W. Campbell, manager of operations at Midland, said everything will be in perfect readiness when the first DC-3 flagship lands at Midland Air Terminal at 9:05 a. m. Saturday. The eastbound ship will depart at 9:15 a. m. Another eastbound plane will land here at 5:05 p. m. Westbound flights will arrive here at 10:27 a. m. and 8:32 p. m.

J. W. House, chairman of the Aeronautics Committee of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, Thursday was making arrangements for a delegation of Midland citizens to be on hand at the airport when the first flight arrives. A brief ceremony commemorating (Continued on page 4)

Dairymen Get 35-Cent Boost In Milk Price; Bread Goes Up, Too

Dairy producers in Midland County this week received a 35-cent-per-hundredweight advance in the price of raw milk, and a creamery official Thursday predicted it will not be long before the advance is reflected in the retail price.

Dairymen now are getting $6.35 per hundred pounds for their milk, it was reported. Although the retail price for the locally-produced milk has not risen, Tennessee Dairies milk being transported here from Dallas went up a cent a quart this week. Groceries Thursday quoted it at 23 or 24 cents a quart as compared with 21 or 22 cents for locally-produced milk.

Rising cost of feed and other production expenses were cited as reasons for the increase in prices being paid producers.

Along with the coming boost in milk prices, Midland consumers this week were faced with a one-cent jump in the cost of a pound of bread, which makes a pound loaf cost 16 cents now instead of 15 cents as in the good old days of last week.

Bomber With Five Aboard Is Missing

MARCH FIELD, CALIF.—(P)—An Army A26 Attack Bomber with five men aboard is missing on a flight from here to Burbank, Calif., and Air Force and Coast Guard planes have been ordered into the search, March Field officials announced Thursday.

Pending determination of its fate, they withheld names of the men aboard the craft, which was home based at Biggs Field, Texas, but had been assigned to temporary duty here in aerial tow target practice.

Campaign Vice Chairmen

Mrs. Ruth Scharbauer

Clarence Scharbauer, Jr.

Scharbauers Named Vice Chairmen Of Big Gifts Group

Mrs. Ruth Scharbauer and Clarence Scharbauer, Jr. Thursday accepted appointments as vice chairmen of the Big Gifts Committee of the Midland Memorial Foundation's hospital campaign to raise funds to construct a $600,000 general hospital here, it was announced by A. N. Hendrickson, committee chairman.

Other members of the committee will be announced soon. The chairman and vice chairmen will direct the solicitation of firm gifts from large companies of Midland as well as national corporations with out-of-city offices. The workers also will contact some of the leading citizens of Midland County.

Hendrickson's appointment was announced Tuesday by M. C. Ulmer, general chairman. Ralph M. Barron is vice chairman of the campaign.

Civic Leaders

Mrs. Scharbauer and her son, Clarence, Jr., are among the outstanding civic leaders and builders of Midland and West Texas, and are well-known throughout the Southwest. They head the vast Scharbauer interests of West Texas and Southeastern New Mexico.

Plans for the all-out hospital campaign are taking shape rapidly and the whirlwind drive is expected to be completed before Thanksgiving. Funds raised in a drive last year will be applied toward the $600,000 goal.

The modern, spacious and fully-equipped general hospital will be erected on a seven-acre tract at the intersection of Illinois Street with the Andrews Highway. The site was donated by E. P. Cowden and the late Clint Dunagan.

Sponsors point out that Midland, one of West Texas' most progressive cities, now has only one and one-half hospital beds per 1,000 population, whereas the national standard is four and one-half beds per 1,000 population.

Every citizen of Midland County will be given an opportunity to contribute to the Midland Memorial Hospital, a community-wide project.

OHIO TO DIG 1,500-FOOT WILDCAT IN NE GARZA

The Ohio Oil Company is moving in rotary tools to drill its No. 1 Swenson Land and Cattle Company, as a 7,500-foot wildcat in Northeast Garza County.

The prospector will be 2,307 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 26, block 2, H&CIN survey. It is on a total of leases of five sections which Ohio owns in that region.

The project will be one mile west and a little south of Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-B Swenson, drilled about 10 years ago at 8,104 feet, in the Ellenburger.

The Gulf venture was dry in the Ellenburger, but did flow around 150 barrels of oil and about the same amount of water per day from the Pennsylvaniaian, for a short time. It was later abandoned.

NO CONFIRMATION OF RUMORS ON SKELLY'S NOLAN WILDCAT

There was no verification of rumors that Skelly Oil Company No. 1 L. E. Adrian, Northeast Nolan County wildcat, about 10 miles southeast of Sweetwater, had flowed at an estimated rate of from 30 to 40 barrels of oil per hour, by heads from a pay above 6,400 feet, in a lime, which some observers think may be Ellenburger.

This venture has been drilled tight. Operator representatives are not releasing any information on its progress, or showings at this time.

Unofficial observers report that a three-hour drillstem test was taken, over total depth of about 6,400 feet and that during the investigation the drill pipe headed considerable oil, with a heavy gas flow.

It is understood that operator is now running casing and erecting a high pressure separator at the drill site. It is expected that definite production tests will be undertaken at No. 1 Adrian, in a few days.

Skelly is credited with owning leases on a block of 18,000 acres, which surrounds the prospective new discovery, solid.

Your Community Chest— Salvation Army To Receive $1,500 Of Community Chest

The Midland contributor to the Community Chest will be interested to learn about the Salvation Army as one of five agencies benefiting from the returns of the campaign which opens Saturday.

The Salvation Army will receive $1,500 from the $22,000 which the Community Chest checks.

A good explanation why the Salvation Army was included in the agencies to benefit is best given in a letter from Dan Eddy, campaign director, Texas division, which follows:

The Salvation Army now is conducting its first national financial campaign in history. This effort is being put forth to provide service in communities heretofore neglected, due to lack of funds.

"On my recent visit to Midland, my intentions were to form a Salvation Army Advisory Committee and to conduct a financial cam-

MABEE TAKING ANOTHER DST AT NO. 1 HEYDRICK

Guy Mabee Drilling Company No. 1 Heydrick, Central-Southwest Andrews County, deep wildcat, about two and one-half miles northwest of the Martin field, was bottomed at 10,654 feet in Ellenburger, entered at about 9,970 feet, and was taking a drillstem test.

A test at 9,969-10,004 feet, open for 15 minutes, recovered eight feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water.

The project will test through the full Ellenburger section.

P-TA Sponsored Halloween Carnivals Scheduled This Weekend At Schools

The Midland P-TA units will stage their annual Halloween Carnivals this weekend for the festive enjoyment of the entire family, with each school featuring midway packed with thrills, spooks, food, and Autumn holiday spirit.

The carnivals were started several years ago by the various schools as a means of providing wholesome entertainment for youngsters and to keep them off the streets on Halloween night. The events have grown in popularity and each year are attended by hundreds of children and adults, who look forward to the gala occasions.

Proceeds from the carnivals are used in financing activities and in providing special equipment by P-TA organizations within their respective schools.

The elementary schools are scheduled to open carnival booths at 6:30 p. m. Friday, while the High School Carnival will be conducted beginning at 6:30 p. m. Saturday in the gym. All Midlanders are invited to attend each carnival.

Featured among the many popular booths will be the cakewalks in each school, where homemade cakes will be awarded to the tune of a musical game.

Elementary School Booths
The North Elementary Carnival will have several new booths, including a plastic bubbles booth, while a genuine county fair booth and cat-rack will adorn Lackey Field, where the John M. Cowden Junior High School Carnival will be conducted with the traditional fish ponds with live goldfish to be captured. Junior High P-TA fathers will have charge of a new booth, the ball-witch, under the direction of Larry Burnside and J. J. Black.

The South Elementary P-TA will unveil 15 booths Friday night, such as the beauty parlor where people will emerge with comical faces, the ring-the-witch booth, clothespin and guessing, men only, and ground hog booths.

In West Elementary's spook house, a hunchback will guide visitors through the ghostly tunnel into a bat room where a live bat woman is in captivity and witches' brew, in individual bottles, may be had for the asking. The toyland theater will show Donald Duck movies throughout the evening, and the fairyland peep show is another attractive addition to the 16-booth carnival. Two giants actually will fight, and many will want to see Snow White talking to the seven dwarfs.

Public Invited
The Midland High School Carnival will begin Saturday with dinners served to the public at 6:30 p. m. and to the carnival workers at 8 p. m. Carnival proceeds will go toward the unit's project for the year, "Youth Recreation," which includes the fund for securing a permanent building for the Junior Center. The high school promises mystery and thrills for those attending.

All citizens, regardless of school affiliation, are invited and urged to attend the Halloween carnivals.

SACHET IS A GOOD BUDGET PERFUME

By ALICIA WART
NEA Staff Writer

Does your budget say "no to good perfume?"

Settle for sachet. Our grandmothers found this perfumed powder to be most satisfactory as "come-hither" during their day. Now sachet is a modern perfuming aid, as popular as it was during the turn-of-the-century. It bows back to a modern encore along with 1900 revival fashions.

Sachet concentrates are actually satellites of fine perfumes and duplicate their fragrance with the same kind of essential oils. Small bags of sachet tucked into chests and bureau drawers sweeten bed linens and clothes and make up for sunshine so often denied them with drying on winter's wash-line.

Sachet may be dusted into gloves, linings of hand bags, and shoes to pinch-hit for perfume. This highly scented powder is nice to use on furs. Dusted into the lining of a coat or muff, the fragrance lingers and doesn't need frequent renewal.

Sachet dusted into muff lining leaves a lingering fragrance.

Health Program Features High School P-TA Meet

A health program, featuring John J. Redfern, Jr., in a discussion of the "Tuberculosis Association" and Dr. J. M. Devereux in a report on "Tuberculosis," was presented to members of the High School P-TA at a meeting Tuesday night in the auditorium, augmented by a movie, "This Is TB."

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. J. M. Devereux and Mrs. C. M. Dunagan, while Mrs. Lennie Davidson, executive secretary of Tuberculosis Association, had charge of the program and guests were introduced by Mrs. Tom Bobo.

During a business session under the direction of Mrs. W. H. Rhodes, president, it was recommended and approved that the city council dues be increased and that the next meeting date be changed to November 13 to comply with national "Education Week."

In Mrs. Guy McMillian's report on the membership drive, it was announced that the unit has 275 members, with 100 fathers in regular attendance. Captains named to assist Mrs. Rhodes in the Community Chest drive are Mrs. E. W. Anguish and Mrs. L. G. Mackey.

Following announcement of the Saturday night carnival by Mrs. Al Cowden, Principal Charles Mathews spoke briefly on next week's meeting and explained the forthcoming "back-to-school" program for parents, while Dr. H. A. Ireland spoke on the parents' responsibilities in helping with the Community Chest drive.

The Galveston convention, scheduled November 19-21, was announced by Supt. Frank Monroe.

Community Chest And Girl Scout Programs Outlined At Meeting

Community Chest campaign plans and Midland's Girl Scout program were outlined at the regular meeting of Rotarians Thursday noon in the Scharbauer Hotel.

Dr. H. A. Ireland outlined the Community Chest plans, asserting it seeks $22,000 from Midland and that 90 per cent of the money will go for youth service in the city. Organizations participating in the chest are the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Goodfellows, Salvation Army, and Junior Canteen.

Girl Scout Program

In observance of National Girl Scout Week, Mrs. C. E. Bissell, commissioner of the Midland Girl Scout Council, outlined the work of the organization here and asserted happy recreation and training for girls, supplementing home, church and school are the goals of the program.

Mrs. J. J. Black, senior Girl Scout and camp chairman, outlined the work of troops of her division, asserting Girl Scouts make good citizens. She told of the varied activities of the senior Scouts.

The Rev. Howard Hollowell, Rotary president, presided at the meeting.

To Sell Surplus Clothes To Germans

FRANKFORT, GERMANY—(AP)—American authorities have agreed to sell $100,000,000 worth of surplus Army supplies to the Germans to clothe western Germany's miners and industrial workers, it is revealed here.

Huge quantities of American army uniforms and shoes will be turned over to the Germans soon, it was said. Officials of western Germany's Economics Administration said the surplus clothes would be sold on a deferred credit basis—that is, as western Germany builds up export credits the cost of the clothes will be deducted.

German officials said the agreement between the U. S. Military Government and the German bi-national economic administration was designed to improve the conditions of German workers, particularly miners.

Distributed By Priority

The continuous flow of coal into the industries of western Germany is regarded as essential to the speedy integration of the combined British and American occupation zones into the Marshall Plan for European reconstruction.

A German spokesman said the surplus clothes, which will be dyed before they are distributed, will be allocated on a strict priority basis with workers in key industries getting preference. German refugees from eastern Europe, this informant added, also will get priority.

Salvation Army—of the war-torn countries in which the Salvation Army operates. The remainder will be used in the Salvation Army's home and hospital for unmarried, motherless, prison work, and in setting up eight disaster relief stations, such as were used in the recent Texas City and Higgins disasters.

Ten Cents Per Capita

"By establishing the Service Unit in Midland you will become an active part in the Salvation Army's vast scope of work, both locally and in its statewide institutions. The State institutions will enable you to solve some of your most serious welfare cases. In the event the Service Unit's share of the funds are exhausted before the 1948 campaign, you will find the Texas Divisional Headquarters in Dallas very liberal in cooperation with this work. The $1,500 quota is based on ten cents per capita, and, of course, your population exceeds these figures by far.

"For a number of years the Corps out of Big Spring has been selling War Cries and soliciting funds in Midland, but have not given you any direct service. These funds are collected weekly by sincere and conscientious Christian people, but you have no actual accounting of the money given to the Salvation Army each year. Under our new plan we will appoint a committee of three local people to administer the funds and centralize your welfare work in Midland. The Salvation Army's policy and dispensing of these funds requests that this money be spent on welfare cases, dental care and glasses for children, with all rulings to be made and governed by the local Service Unit Committee."

Philippines Typhoon Frustrates Rescue Of Motorship Personnel

MANILA —(AP)—Towering seas whipped by the winds of a typhoon frustrated attempts Thursday to rescue 26 crewmen and one or more passengers from the stricken motorship FS277, in distress in Butuan Bay in the Mindanao Sea.

The FS277 reported Thursday afternoon that the 270-ton inter-island freighter was "in a sinking condition very close off shore."

Ahead of the distressed vessel lay the rocky cliffs of Mount Tubay, Northern Mindanao.

The FS277 said it had been forced to give up rescue attempts and seek shelter because of the violent seas.

The Philippines Weather Bureau reported all communications with its stations on the island of Samar, Leyte and Masbate were out.

The Philippine Airlines radio operator at Tacloban, Leyte, went off the air with a final report that heavy waves, whipped by 120-mile winds, were flooding the airfield.

Airline operators at the town of Masbate Island, directly in the path of the oncoming typhoon, reported winds of 100 to 120 miles swept the island.

One witness, Howard Rushmore, former New York Daily Worker film critic, said Lawson is the "red commissar of Hollywood."

U. S. Discharging Veterans, Says Sallon

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rep. Rees (R-Kan.) said Thursday the government is firing more war veterans than it is hiring, although such federal workers "were promised and have every right to job security."

The federal payroll stood at 2,021,760 at the end of September, Rees said, and 818,840 were war service and temporary employees.

He declared the Civil Service Commission has made "little progress" in replacing these with career government workers and veterans who are supposed to have precedence.

During September, the chairman of the House Civil Service Committee added, 34,897 veterans were dismissed from federal jobs while 26,390 others were hired, a net reduction of 8,500.

Baby Born In California But His Name Is Texas

AMARILLO —(AP)—Mrs. Ralph Youngblood, Italian-born wife of a California-based soldier, has named her son after the state of Texas, and here's why:

Late last month, before the baby was born, she was flying over Texas en route to California from Iowa to join her husband when she believed motherhood was imminent.

The plane made an unscheduled landing at Amarillo and the mother-to-be was taken to a hospital.

Nothing happened—so she continued her trip.

The Amarillo Globe got a telegram from the couple saying the baby, weighing almost nine pounds, was born October 24 at Merced, Calif.

The child was named Texas Wayne Youngblood.

Safeway's Meat Counters are Open on Tuesdays (and every day except Sunday)

HERE IS WHY:

1. Many people need fresh meat in some form every day as prescribed by their physicians for specific health conditions.
2. Certain creeds and religious faiths may observe a day other than Tuesday as their meatless day.
3. Many consumers may find it necessary to buy their meat on Tuesday for use on Wednesday.

In having meat for sale every day Safeway is simply fulfilling its obligation to serve the needs of all customers.

In addition, Safeway believes that an important contribution will be made to cutting down waste by maintaining an even flow of perishable foods from producer to consumer. For its part, Safeway intends to wholeheartedly cooperate with President Truman's program by doing everything possible to eliminate spoilage and waste in its stores and warehouses. Closing the stores or withholding food from sale on any business day would simply mean an extra storage period for perishable foods which in turn would increase the amount of waste and spoilage.

Gas-Oil Ratio In Wasson Field Reduced

AUSTIN—(AP)—A special order to reduce the gas-oil ratio in the Wasson field, Gaines and Yoakum Counties, from 5,000 to 2,000 cubic feet of gas per barrel of oil produced was issued Wednesday by the Railroad Commission. This, said the Commission, will allow the reworking of wells without any loss of allowable. Chandler 'Statement' Due On O'Connor, White Sox

CINCINNATI—(AP)—Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler's office promised a "statement of facts" Thursday following suspension of the Chicago White Sox and General Manager Leslie O'Connor Wednesday in a case pivoting on an alleged violation of the national pastime's high school rule. O'Connor and the American League club were suspended, Chandler's secretary, Walter Mulbry, said, after the general manager refused to remit a $500 fine levied in the signing of 17-year-old George Zoeterman, a Chicago Christian High School pitcher who won't finish his studies at the institution supported by the Reformed and Christian Reformed Churches, until January.

Rain last May washed out the scheduled Women's Invitation Tournament at the Country Club after extensive plans had been made for it.

Penn State Tops In Grid Defense

NEW YORK—(AP)—Penn State's granite-ribbed rushing defense was cracked wide open as West Virginia gained almost three times as much ground as its predecessors last Saturday, but it's still tighter than a "new look" corset. Last week's National Collegiate Athletic Bureau figures showed the Pittsford Lion line yielding but an average of five inches per try on the ground. This week, as a result of the West Virginia game which Penn State won, 21-14, it's now 14.4 inches per crack.

For the second straight week the Penn Staters lead the nation in both total defense against rushing and passing, and in rushing defense. The enemy has averaged only 69 yards per game in combined rushing and passing, and has dented the line for only 10.8 yards per game in five games. The Lions yielded only 54 yards in 135 ground thrusts. North Carolina State (105.8 yards average per game), and Georgia Tech (125.4) rank second and third, and Texas Christian (136.3) advanced from seventh to fourth at Oklahoma's expense in total defense. Baylor (128 yards) is fifth.

Tarheels Lead Paniers
Notre Dame dropped from first to third in forward pass defense when Iowa completed nine out of 22 for 84 yards, or more than the Irish had yielded to enemy passes in their three previous games—75. North Carolina again led the nation's punting teams with an average of 44.5 per punt in 36 efforts. The South continued to keep its clutch on the top punting spots as Virginia ranked second and Miami, Fla., third. Figures included: Forward pass defense—Colorado College, 29 yards average yielded per game; North Carolina State, 32; Notre Dame, 39.8; Texas Christian, 42.7. Punting—North Carolina, 44.5 yards average per punt; Virginia, 43.7; Miami (Fla), 43; Holy Cross, 42.8; St. Mary's, 42.3; Duke, 41.9; Texas Mines, 41.9; North Carolina State, 41.7; Kentucky, 41.5; Texas, 41.2.

Mrs. Luise Alexander, a German war bride from Frankfurt, wasn't in her new Dallas, Tex., home long enough to even get homesick. Her husband, a former AAF pilot, got a job with a company that ordered him back to Frankfurt. So Mrs. Alexander, pictured above in New York, is heading back to her childhood home.

Wednesday the Bulldogs scrimmaged for the second consecutive day of the week's drilling. And no quarter was asked or given. The Bulldogs have been bearing down in every work session this week. They will taper off Thursday with the usual pre-game maneuvers, light and snappy. Also in the Wednesday workout, the Bulldogs ran against San Angelo's defenses and tried their own defenses against the Bobcat T formation.

Midland was cheered by the return this week of 207-pound tackle John Scrogins, but John was hurt again in Tuesday's scrimmage. His play in the San Angelo set-to now is doubtful. He is a letterman.

The Bulldogs will get to San Angelo in time for a rest before game time. Many fans are expected to follow the team there for the game, always a rugged encounter.

Leo Durocher Thinks He Knows What Rickey Would Like To Do

NEW YORK—(AP)—Leo Durocher doesn't have the foggiest idea whether he will manage the Brooklyn Dodgers next year, and he doubts whether Branch Rickey, the man who must make the decision, is any better informed. "Let me put it this way," Leo said with every evidence of candor. "I think I know what Rickey, down in his heart, would like to do. But I also realize he has a problem on his hands. We all have problems, including myself. From this it may be judged that the little holler-up guy has mellowed considerably in exile. He isn't demanding his job back. He merely hopes with a terrible earnestness that he can sit in the Brooklyn dugout again. Of only one thing Leo is certain: He expects to have another talk with Rickey before he returns to the coast to open up his sporting goods store. He said the Dodger president, before leaving on a flying trip through the Midwest Wednesday made the appointment: "Maybe I'll have some news for you then," he said hopefully. "This much I can say, that Rickey has a letter from Commissioner Chandler saying I have served the time of my suspension and that I now am eligible again to be employed by any club in organized baseball."

Kermit Preps For Seminole Encounter

KERMIT—Kermit's Yellow Jackets are doggedly preparing this week for their fifth conference game of the season Friday night when they go to Seminole to meet the powerful Indians, who have romped so far through their first year in District 7-A without a conference defeat. Odds mounted against the Jackets last week when they met their first conference defeat, losing to Andrews, 24-15. While Kermit went down before Andrews, the Seminole Indians invaded Wink for a 34-6 win. Andrews had previously defeated the Wink Wildcats 33-20. Comparison of these scores, local coaches moan, indicates Seminole a possible 50 points better than the Jackets. With Seminole and Monahans the only two remaining undefeated teams in the district, a win for the Jackets Friday night definitely would put them back in the running and center district attention on the November 7 Kermit homecoming game against the Monahans Green Wave.

Indian Park Being Improved; Sod Put On Both Infield And Outfield

Improvement and enlargement of the facilities at Indian Park are being made by Harold Webb, manager and owner of the baseball team. Webb has leased the park for next season and for three years. Work is underway to sod the complete infield and outfield and elevate the diamond. Webb said the box seats would be made larger for next season. This is being done in answer to requests by holders of the boxes. The entrances and exits to the park will be enlarged in response to another request by patrons. Also, the concession and ticket booths will be enlarged to afford better and faster service to customers. Definite announcement that the general stands would be enlarged and rest rooms installed cannot be made at this time but is probable in the future, Webb predicted. Webb has a definite program to give Midland an excellent baseball setup for next season. He already has several player prospects to fill the gaps where Indians of 1947 departed. The 10 largest islands in the order of their size are Greenland, New Guinea, Borneo, Madagascar, Baffin, Sumatra, Honahu, Great Britain, Victoria and Ellesmere.

Jewish SS Nazi Stumps Court Of Denazification

MUNICH—(AP)—Things are so mixed up for Dr. Herbert Schwarz and his family that it's now past the funny stage.

Ever since 1932 the Munich physician has been getting into one embarrassing spot after another. As a youth of 25, "incapable of judging correctly," as he puts it, he joined the Nazi party. Later he became a member of the SS.

Scanning through an old military bible of the first World War, Schwarz discovered that his father was born a Jew, but died a Christian.

Then he fell in love with a Jewish girl.

Doctor On Hot Seat
By this time, the SS persecution of the Jews had reached insensate proportions. The doctor was on a hot seat.

In 1938, he managed to prove his own Jewish blood so that he could get expelled from the Nazi party and marry his Jewish sweetheart.

Both the party and the SS, which prided itself on its Nordic purity, were thoroughly confounded. With red faces they begged him to drop his decision to marry.

"I was advised to hand in a petition for mercy," Schwarz says. "They offered to declare me Aryan despite the proof to the contrary." They said the same thing had been done to clean up the background of Field Marshal Erhard Milch of the Luftwaffe.

Married Jewish Girl
Schwarz held out but so did the SS. They wouldn't fire him until 1941, three years later. Then they looked on him as an enemy and stopped him from practicing as a doctor.

Meanwhile Schwarz married. His Jewish mother-in-law transferred her property to him. She was thrown into a concentration camp, but the property was saved.

Along came the Americans and Schwarz was restored to his profession. Then the Germans discovered that Schwarz had been an SS officer so they threw him out as a doctor and seized the property his SS category had managed to save.

Not long ago, Schwarz appeared before a denazification court as a character witness for another SS man. The court threw him in jail for denazification proceedings.

Now the court has to find something in the denazification law which makes it possible to rule in the case of a Jewish SS man.

'Royal' Railroad Man Of England Retires

Partridge's job as a chief inspector for the Great Western Railroad was to arrange and supervise special trains carrying British and European royalty and statesmen.

He always went to work in a morning coat and winged collar with a gold-braced railroad hat.

Giant Tractors, Hungry Men, Seek Oil For Navy Under Arctic Icecap

Point Barrow beach: Three weeks to unload for a year.

By JACK HOLPER
POINT BARROW, ALASKA—(NEA)—Giant "cats"—some of the biggest tractors ever built—are crawling slowly across the frozen tundra here this winter, hauling loads of precious supplies.

On them, and on the men who eat up to five meals a day to maintain their strength, in the 40 to 65 below zero cold, depend the speed with which the Navy assays its oil reserves under the Arctic icecap.

The Navy has until the summer of 1950 to find for Congress the answer to these questions:

Is there worthwhile oil in Navy Petroleum Reserve No. 4, as this wasteland is officially known, and is it worth commercial development?

Would it pay to drill the wells and build the necessary pipelines for oil production in the American Arctic?

Answering the first question first is the immediate job of Arctic Contractors, a combination of two civilian firms hired by the Navy to handle its oil exploration. But Arctic Contractors already has completed a pipeline survey from the Arctic plateau through Anaktuvuk Pass, the Endicott mountains of the Brooks Range, across the lake-pocked plains and into Fairbanks.

Bartlett W. Gillespie, manager of the contractors, is reluctant to discuss the pipeline.

"We are only up here to find out if, and we stress the if, there is enough oil in Naval Petroleum Reserve No. 4 to justify commercial type operations," he says.

Oil Is There
Some oil is there. Shortly after the turn of the century, explorers confirmed Eskimo stories of oil seepages near Cape Simpson. In 1922, several California oil companies made a preliminary survey of the Point Barrow area. Then President Harding, on advice of the Navy Bureau of Engineering, created the Alaskan Oil Reserve, halting commercial exploitation of any oil that may be below the ice.

During the war, the problem of getting Alaskan oil fell to the Seabees. With peace, Congress directed the Navy to retain control but to hire civilians to do the work.

Commander P. W. Roberts is the Naval resident officer in charge.

He and Gillespie have to plan at least a year in advance to keep the work running smoothly. Transports that bring food and other supplies to Point Barrow have only three weeks during the entire year when they can unload this far north.

There are no dock facilities here. The five ships that came up from California last July used double crews, both aboard ship and on the beach; and unloaded 24 hours a day into landing barges and scows. By the middle of August the ships were gone, the beaches were piled high with discharged cargo and the ice was beginning to re-form in the waters off the Point.

At other times of the year, emergency supplies come in by plane. But supply officers depend on the once-yearly arrival of the needs.

Morale is high, despite the loneliness and cold. The men are certain they will hit pay oil soon. Samples from one well seem to confirm their optimism. While the Navy is keeping details of the operation secret, quality of the crude reportedly is running high and there are indications that oil is being found at nominally shallow levels.

Point Barrow Has Grown
Every scientific instrument that can speed the search for oil is being utilized. But there are 35,000 miles of tundra and ice in the area.

In summer, a tracked Jeeplike machine called a weasel is used to cover the territory. The weasel won't bog down in the soft ground. In winter when the tundra is frozen solid, ski-planes and cat-trains work best. This year, 19 D-8 tractors hauled 74 massive sleds over a 400-mile round-trip without an accident.

Since Arctic Contractors took over, Point Barrow has grown into a fair sized community. There are more than 30 Quonset huts here. A mess hall, administration building, storehouses, machine shop and air strip. There is even a garbage collector. In winter, he hauls his refuse by tractor out over the frozen Arctic Sea and dumps it into the water for him.

Social Adequacy Of Deaf Gauged With Word Test

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—To help the deaf, a word test at Washington University Medical School measures the "SA" of hearing.

SA in this case means social adequacy—whether a person can hear enough words and different syllables to be able to get along in normal conversations.

The word test was designed to find an accurate measurement of normal hearing abilities at different intensities of everyday speech, said Dr. Theodore Walsh, professor of otolaryngology.

This standard then can be used to measure just what impairment the hard-of-hearing person may have, and what improvement is achieved through hearing aids or by operations.

The test takes about an hour. The patient is put in a sound-proofed room at the Central Institute for the Deaf, an affiliate of the medical school. Through ear-phones he hears selected lists of words from a recording. These words cover all sounds used in spoken English.

The patient has to repeat what he hears, and the tester checks his accuracy of hearing. The results show what the person's hearing threshold is—how low words have to be before he can hear them correctly.

It also shows any inability in hearing certain pitches of sound. Pitch is important in distinguishing between words that sound alike, like "seen" and "sheen."

"A person is especially adequate in hearing if his hearing loss by the usual tests is not more than 35 or 40 decibels," Dr. Walsh said.

"The important thing," he added, "is not how loud or how soft sounds a person can hear, but whether he can distinguish between words, and that is what this test is designed to do."

Sensitive Recorder Can 'Hear' Molecules

STOCKHOLM—(AP)—The unsteady molecules can be listened to in a "wire-gramophone" constructed by an electric firm in Norrköping, Sweden.

The apparatus which was built by the Norwegian-born engineer, N. Oelias, was shown for the first time in a radio exhibition.

The purpose of the "wire-gramophone," however, is not to listen to the grumbling molecules but to record and reproduce music and speech. The sounds are recorded on a piano-wire which can absorb two hours of music or, four hours of speech through magnetic influences.

A magnet in the neighborhood of the wire roll causes the molecules to turn with a crashing sound.

Hobby Grows To Big Business For Fisherman Who Never Loses Catch

By JOE DONOVAN
MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—Al Pfleger has an undisputed reputation of never losing a fish—once it was hooked. Regardless of size, viciousness and gameness, Pfleger gets them. Because he gets them,

Texas Wants To Beat Russian 'Chute Record

SAN ANTONIO — (AP)—Douglas Williams of San Antonio would like to take on the Russians in parachute jumping. That is, Col. Vesely Removok of Russia claims the current "chute record" of 1,962 feet. Williams, who served in the 101st Airborne Division during the war, making 11 jumps at distances of 750 to 3,000 feet, says he can beat that.

"The low jumps are the ones that are hard," he said. "He wants to challenge the Russian record, says all he needs is a back to furnish proper equipment and a plane that'll take me up there."

VALUABLE CATCH

Prize amberjack catch of all time was that of a mantucket captain, who brought in 900 pounds of the whole product some 75 years ago. The catch was sold to perfumers in Paris for $125,000.

Your newspaper — serving freedom by serving you.

he has mushroomed a boyhood hobby into big business as a taxidermist, specializing in mounting fish. Men and women of the world's fishing grounds beat a path to Pfleger's impressive laboratory in downtown Miami, so whoopers can be preserved and hung up in living rooms, dens, clubs, bars and restaurants, vivifying the good fortune of the fisherman and supporting his veracity, to the extent, at least, that here is one that didn't get away.

Pfleger, who has been in the business 26 years, mounts an average of 5,000 fish of all kinds and sizes a year. He employs 50 men and women experts in their particular lines. It costs from $12 to $16 a foot to have a fish mounted by his organization. The laboratory is a haven of saltfish, merlin, blue fin tuna, allison tuna, obacore salmon, arctic bonito, amberjack, sea trout turtle and many rare varieties of sea life.

Catches From Everywhere
Catches come from all over the world, many from Maine, Newfoundland and Nova Scotia. At least 95 per cent of the fish Pfleger mounts are salt water species. Because they are the biggest fishing months at resorts, Pfleger's business months are June and December. Six weeks are required to mount a fish of any type or size and make it ready to be shipped back to the fisherman.

Some of the fish shipped to Pfleger come in dry ice. Fish traveling a great distance by air, boat or railroad are already skinned. Only the hide, tail, head and fins are sent.

Pfleger pointed to a 1,900-pound tuna caught off Miami. "If the man who caught this wanted to dispose of it, he'd make a good penny," he explained. "Tuna is always salable. The big canneries have men on the lookout for such fish. But this man wants this one as a souvenir. It represents his biggest catch. When our laboratory is finished with it and it is mounted, it will weigh no more than 70 pounds."

Processing Is Thorough
All dimensions of a fish arriving at the laboratory are recorded. When only the skin arrives it is dipped in a solution to make the hide flexible. It is then wrapped around a metal form and measured.

Once the true outline of the fish is determined, the skin is degreased, the process removing all oil. The hide is dried and preserved. When the fish is about to be mounted, the skin is dipped into an arsenic solution. This restores naturalness, protects it from insects.

The next step is placing the fish on a plastic mould. It is drawn tight and secure. The mould, of course, remains in the finished mounting. Eyes, teeth and fins are replaced. The fish is lacquered, sprayed with a silver base of aluminum, closing all the pores. It starts to assume all its natural beauty.

Means For Famous Fishers
In the paint shop Pfleger gives the fish the appearance of having been freshly pulled from the water. It takes him about five minutes to paint a saltfish. He uses a dozen or more colors. Given a day to dry, the fish gets a coat of synthetic varnish. A wire mesh fastener is hooked into the mould, and it is ready to be shipped.

Pfleger is amused at a lot of people believing that mounted fish are stuffed with sawdust or something. If there are rips in the skin they are repaired by wood fiber and covered.

Pfleger has mounted fish for the famous—Herbert Hoover, Rex Beach, Jane Froman, Bill Dickey, Gary Cooper and many more.

Could Pfleger give one an idea where to catch big ones? "Deep sea fishermen go to Nova Scotia, Cuba and Chile. They catch really big, game-fighting fish there, although there are many huge catches made in our own waters.

"There is one thing to always remember in fishing. Have a tight line," said Al Pfleger, the man who never lost a fish once it was hooked or gaffed.

Battle Front Of The 'Cold War' Moves West

With revival of the Communist International, representing Reds of nine European nations who aim to scuttle the Marshall Plan, the USSR has opened its campaign to win Western Europe for communism. Having "swept up" the Eastern European nations (cross-hatched shading), the Reds are concentrating on France and Italy, without lessening their efforts to transform strategically located Greece into a Soviet satellite.

Texans Dominate Scene At Redskins Pro Football Camp

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON — (AP)—Texans dominate the scene around the Washington Redskins pro football camp, and it's not all just because of Sammy Baugh.

The Texas State Society of Washington plans to honor the Texans on the Redskins team at a dance Saturday night, and besides Baugh there are a half dozen others to be honored.

Incidentally, the players live under strict training regulations which among other things require them to be in bed by 10:30 on Saturday nights. Redskins Club President George P. Marshall has agreed to make an exception this week provided they make their appearance at the dance brief and get home quick.

Texan By Adoption
The exception probably was easier to get for the reason that Marshall himself is a Texan by marriage and adoption. His wife is the former Movie Actress Corinne Griffith of Texas, and he has personally been close to Texas since 1936 when he helped stage the Texas Centennial Celebration.

Although Sammy Baugh is now in his eleventh year of pro football, since joining the Redskins after leaving T.C.U., he's going stronger this season than ever before. Redskins press agents hail him as the greatest pro of all times, and you can get support for that belief from virtually everyone among the 36,000 fans who pack Griffith Stadium on the Sunday afternoons the team plays at home.

Dick Todd, a '39 output of Texas A. & M. College, is probably next to Baugh in popularity among Washingtonians. Todd plays halfback for the Redskins. The pair are close friends, too, for they are roommates at the Roosevelt Hotel, where most of the team lives.

Another Texan is Ki Aldrich, the big Redskin center from Fort Worth who came out of T.C.U. in 1941. The team's officials say he's an "inspiring leader" when the going gets hot.

Others on the team include George Wilde, Texas A. & M. '47, a halfback from Olney; Henry (Demp) Harris, University of Texas '47, tackle originally from Camden, Ala.; Harvey Jones, Baylor University '44, a halfback from Beaumont, and Jack Jenkins, fullback from Texarkana, who went to Vanderbilt.

Two other Texans who were in training with the Redskins out in California before the season opened, but are not now with the club are Leon McCormick, center, who comes from Eldorado and went to Baylor, now with Wilmington, Del., Clippers; and Paul Grayson, a Port Worth boy who went to Allen Academy at Bryan, and recently retired from pro football.

RACED FOR IT
On the very same day that Alexander Graham Bell filed application for a patent on his telephone, Elshah Gray filed papers for a similar device. Bell, however, was granted the patent.

Hospital Needs Are Cited By Henry Murphey

Henry Murphey, Midland merchant, when asked why he wants a modern, general hospital here, said, "When I get sick I want some place to go."

Henry Murphey

"Everybody knows we don't have enough room for our sick," continued Murphey, "and I think it is high time we gave the good doctors of Midland adequate tools to work with. The Midland Memorial Hospital will furnish modern equipment so the doctors can provide their patients the best of treatment. If I put the best sales day in the world in my store, but I gave her nothing to sell, what good could she do? It is the same way with the doctors. It is up to the citizens to provide hospital facilities."

"I think any hospital built by the people is best. We have to build adequate community hospitals to assure the safety of our families. When sickness strikes without warning, I want to know there is a hospital I can get into right away. I feel that the proposed Midland Memorial Hospital is the best and only way of Midland's having a modern general hospital any time soon. It's up to all of us to put it over."

Midland's Flower Show

The annual Midland Flower Show, sponsored by the three garden clubs of Midland, is scheduled Saturday and Sunday in the City-County Auditorium, and another well-planned and attractively arranged display of beautiful flowers and shrubs grown in Midland County is assured.

Many persons who view the exhibit will be amazed and some will doubt that such flowers can be grown here, but every flower, shrub and plant displayed will have been produced in Midland—proving what can be done by proper care, study and patience. The basic purpose of the Flower Show is to show just what can be grown in the way of flowers in our community.

Members of garden clubs and others are doing a really outstanding job in making beautiful Midland an even more attractive city. Remarkable results are being obtained in the careful planning and care of lawns and gardens throughout the city. Midland is noted for its attractive and well-kept residential areas and will become even better known over a much wider territory as more and more citizens become interested in programs such as those sponsored by garden clubs and other organizations. Visitors do not forget a beautiful city.

The Midland Chamber of Commerce earlier this year published and distributed, in cooperation with the garden clubs, a booklet, "Gardening in Midland," which has done much to interest and aid residents in planning and maintaining lawns and gardens.

The garden club members have worked long and hard in planning and presenting the Flower Show and are due the commendation of every citizen of Midland. Midland appreciates the time and effort they provide gladly in making our city a more attractive place in which to live.

It is hoped every resident will visit the Flower Show Saturday and Sunday. It will be well worth your time, and what you see there will be both pleasing and inspiring.

Marshall Plan Will Be Rough

Carrying out the Marshall Plan to aid Europe is going to be no breeze. The outlook for getting the Europeans enough to eat is bad, but the outlook for getting them enough steel and manufactured goods is worse.

This is shown by comparing import requirements of the 16 Western European nations with American surpluses available for export. The things Europe needs worst are things the U. S. is also short of. The Paris Report of the 16-nation Committee of European Economic Cooperation admits there will be a four-year shortage of 12,000,000 short tons of ingots and semi-finished steel.

This assumes that Europe will be able to import all the coke it needs, plus 15,000,000 tons of rich iron ore, 8,000,000 tons of scrap and 3,000,000 tons of manganese. There is no assurance this can be done. The U. S. is now exporting steel to Europe at the rate of 1,500,000 tons a year. This is about half of the 3,000,000 tons required.

The U. S. may be able to supply all the coking coal that's needed. There is, however, a U. S. shortage of cokes and scrap. Before the war, this country had great surpluses of scrap which were shipped all over the world—Japan as well as Europe. It's no longer here. Scrap collection drives may have to be reinstated, as in wartime. As shown by Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug's new report on national resources and aid to Europe, U. S. domestic steel consumption is now at peacetime peak. Steel production is running at 97 per cent of rated capacity, but still can't produce enough for home needs.

No More Air Races?

It has been suggested that the Cleveland air races be abandoned as a spectacle whose dangers to participants and spectators alike outweigh its usefulness. This year's experience make the suggestion worth considering.

There were four crackups in one event at the recent Cleveland races. One flier was killed and another badly injured. A third barely missed crashing into a field crowded with spectators. It was only good fortune that some of the disabled craft did not land in the grandstand.

The conventional, reciprocating-engine racing planes were souped-up models of surplus military aircraft, so their performance proved nothing new. There may be a better excuse for the jet-plane competition and the cross-continent races. But the mad races and stunting over a populated area and a field filled with 50,000 spectators offer an increasing annual hazard which might sensibly be dispensed with.

Who's Got It?

Farm incomes are up 11 per cent over 1946, says the Department of Agriculture, but costs are up 16 per cent. The financial statements of many corporations show increases in similar proportion. Millions of workers are getting higher wages than they did last year. But most have found that their living costs have exceeded their pay rises.

Somebody's getting that difference between higher incomes and higher costs, but who? Not the farmers, say government researchers. Not the corporations, say the accountants. Not the workers, say the statisticians. Not the great majority of any of them, certainly.

All of which is turning that handy phrase, "the inflationary spiral," into a painfully clear, three-dimensional picture.

Observer Links Kashmir-India Union With Red Domination Of Afghanistan

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

There is far more than meets the eye, we surmise, behind the official statement in New Delhi, India, that the famed State of Kashmir has abandoned its independence and joined the Dominion of India because it needs aid to withstand the invasion of 2,000 Pathan tribesmen from the adjoining Northwest Frontier Province, bent on raping, looting and murdering.

The situation is exceedingly complicated but we'll worth trying to untangle because of its great importance. The Northwest Frontier Province has a Moslem population and is incorporated in the new Moslem Dominion of Pakistan. There has been bitter feeling between Pakistan and Kashmir because, while most of the state's population is Moslem, it is ruled by a Hindu maharajah who has declined to join Pakistan.

He refused to join the Hindu Dominion of India, for that matter, and maintained an independent status until this week, when Shiek Mohammed Abdullah, president of the National People's Party of Kashmir, declared the invasion was an attempt to coerce the state into joining Pakistan, and the maharajah announced:

In London Limelight
"I have no option but to ask for help from the Indian (Hindu) Dominion."

The maharajah, by the way, is the Prince Hari Singh who was involved in a sensational law case a score of years ago in London when he was heir to the throne, then occupied by his uncle. The prince got mixed up in one of those "un-

Portland Tycoon Sponsors Ryder Cup Golf Matches

By FRANK ECK
NEW YORK—(P)—Some people like to spend their money on yachts and race horses. I like to spend mine on golf.

It was Robert A. Hudson talking. Hudson is the canned food executive who is sponsoring the seventh Ryder Cup golf matches at the Portland, Ore., Golf Club November 1 and 2 at a cost of about $45,000.

This is the fifth Hudson-sponsored golf event in the last four years. While Hudson has spent a lot of his time and money helping young athletes in and around Portland he didn't start spending his money for golf in a big way until 1944 when he sponsored the Portland Open.

Finances Portland Opens
Hudson also handled the financial arrangements for the Portland Opens of 1945 and again this year. In 1946 he was the man behind the birdie and the buck in the PGA in which Ben Hogan shot a record 261.

Hudson came east to meet the English pros and personally escorted them west with all expenses paid by Hudson on a jaunt that will amount to 12,000 miles for the foreign golfers. While in Portland they will be Hudson's guests, as will the American pros.

He says he hasn't stopped to consider how many people will turn out for the matches. But he certainly isn't laboring under the false impression that the gate will help pay the expenses even though on-lookers will pay $5 to see two-ball foursomes for 36 holes the first day.

Fords Sell Cheaper Than T-Bone Steaks

INDIANAPOLIS—(P)—A used car dealer ran a three-column ad in the Indianapolis Star to show that his car prices are cheaper—by the pound—than the average dinner meat.

The ad offered a 1946 Ford club coupe at 56 cents a pound, as a "better, buy than a porterhouse steak."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Sam's a Matrimony Expert

Sam Abernathy never intended to be a matrimony expert, but he hit the nail on the head the other day when he said:

"What marriage really needs is more open minds and a lot fewer open mouths."

Sam may not think much of his missus' choice of hats or her habit of serving watercress and cream cheese salad. But he keeps his mouth shut (I mean, he just uses it to eat the salad). And the missus never criticizes Sam's affection for that worn-out chair before the fire.

Sam's a Matrimony Expert

and his mellow glass of beer and pipe at the end of a long day.

From where I sit, that prescription would apply to most human relationships. Criticism rarely fuses anything but resentment. But an open mind—whether it's applied to a woman's choice of hats, or a husband's preference for a pipe and a moderate glass of beer or two—leads to the conclusion that there's right on both sides.

"The Finest Shop Anywhere"

A superb choice for a party dessert or family dinner treat, is chocolate nut pie. It's as delicious as it is lovely to look at—what's more, it's easy to prepare. For the crust of the pie, lard makes the flakiest and tenderest of pastries. It's been used for many years for this purpose and it's still tops.

When you serve pie for dessert you satisfy just about everyone. Whether it's a honey apple pie or a chiffony treat for a luncheon party, pie adds a touch of glamour to any meal.

Our grandmothers used lard for their pie crusts and here's one place we can't improve on grand-ma's ways. Lard still is considered tops for making pie crusts! Tests, both scientific and practical, have proved that lard makes the tenderest and flakiest of pastries.

In making good pie crust, there are several other factors, in addition to choice of the right shortening, which influence the quality of the pastry. One of the most important of these is the amount of water used. Too much water can make pastry tough. Here's the way to mix pie crust so that the amount of water will be kept at a minimum:

Blend the lard and flour together until mixture is like coarse cornmeal, then add ice water slowly. Add only a tablespoon at a time and sprinkle this over part of the flour mixture, gathering the moistened flour to the side of the bowl with a fork. When water has been added (see recipe—just enough to make dry ingredients cling together), press dough together into a ball.

Standard Pie Crust
(Makes two 9-inch pie shells or one 2-crust pie)
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 3/4 cup lard
5 to 6 tablespoons ice water

Roll out dough on lightly floured pastry cloth or bread board, using a lightly floured stockinette-covered rolling pin. Roll dough from center to edges, using a light stroke. Roll out to 1/8 inch thickness. If you're baking just one pie shell, wrap leftover pastry in waxed paper, store in refrigerator.

A luscious pie is a special family dinner or any gay company meal is chocolate nut pie. It's easy to make and sets so quickly that it can be made in the morning for a party luncheon. It's delicious made with pecans, walnuts or toasted almonds.

Chocolate Nut Pie
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
1 1/4 cup cold water
1 7-oz. package chocolate bits
1/2 cup boiling water
2 eggs
1 1/4 cup sugar
1 1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/2 cup chopped walnuts, pecans or toasted almonds.
1 cup whipping cream
Soften gelatin in cold water. Melt chocolate chips in top of double boiler then add boiling water. Remove from heat and stir in gelatin. Beat eggs, add sugar, and beat until sugar dissolves. Stir into chocolate mixture. Add salt, vanilla and nuts. Chill in refrigerator until mixture begins to thicken. Whip cream until stiff and fold into chocolate mixture. Pour into 9-inch baked pie shell and chill until firm. Top with good-sized dabs of whipped cream and stud with chocolate bits. (Whipped evaporated milk may be substituted for whipped cream.)

hand my wife, you villain" blackmailing schemes, and paid hundreds of thousands of dollars before he became fed up and called in the authorities.

Well, the clash between Moslem Pakistan and the Hindu maharajah may explain the invasion by the Moslem Pathans. However, I don't believe that's the whole story. Having spent considerable time in Northwest India, my thoughts instinctively jump to Afghanistan, which is connected with India by the famous Khyber Pass.

Afghanistan lies up against Soviet Russia on the North, and long has been much under Communist influence. Ever since the Bolsheviks came to power they have been trying to infiltrate India through Afghanistan.

Red Influence Seen

Last Summer, when the British were organizing the two dominions of Pakistan and India and were preparing to withdraw from the subcontinent, they received a note from Afghanistan. The Afghans—reportedly influenced by Moscow—claimed all the territory inhabited by the Pathans in Northwest India, namely Baluchistan Province and the Northwest Frontier Province. Kabul insisted these areas be given the right to decide by plebiscite whether they wanted to join Afghanistan or be independent. Britain declined the proposition.

Since then the Pathans—wild frontier tribesmen who live by killing and plunder—have been causing much trouble. True, they have been acting up for generations. However, it's a striking coincidence—if it is coincidence at all—that the Pathans should now be raiding Kashmir, adjoining the Northwest Frontier Province.

Chinese art is noted for its precision and attention to detail.

Curie Tradition Lives Again As U.S. Couple Wins Nobel Prize

STOCKHOLM (AP)—The Nobel prize in medicine was awarded jointly to Dr. Carl F. Cori and his wife, Mrs. Gerty Cori, of Washington University, St. Louis, and to a Buenos Aires scientist, Dr. B. A. Housay.

The Coris, Czechoslovak biological chemists who became naturalized Americans in 1923, isolated the particular enzyme which begins the process of converting animal starch into sugar within the body.

Dr. Housay shared the prize for his discovery of the significance of the hormone produced by the frontal lobe of the pituitary gland.

In addition to the honor, the announcement said Dr. and Mrs. Cori would receive half the cash award of 175,115 crowns ($488,921) or $24,460.50. The other half was awarded to the Buenos Aires scientist.

A member of the awarding group said the Coris received their doctorate degrees at the University of Prague in 1929 and went to the United States in 1932. Dr. Housay is an Argentine and a descendant of an old French family.

Dr. and Mrs. Cori were the third married couple awarded a Nobel prize for joint work in scientific research. The 1965 physics prize went to Pierre and Marie Curie, who shared the award with Henri Antoine Becquerel, also a French scientist. The three worked in the field of radioactivity. The 1935 chemistry prize was awarded to Frederick and Irene Joliot, a daughter of Marie Curie.

Youthful 'Acrobats' Join Broken Bone Club

WEST HARTFORD, CONN. (AP)—Life recently has been really rugged for the juveniles of Meadowbrook Road where an assortment of falls has produced an assortment of broken bones. One of the victims, a 12-year-old girl who formerly lived here, returned for a visit and promptly joined the broken bone 'group.'

Here's the box score as provided by assorted family physicians:

Peter Veillette, 10, broke his arm in a fall while tussling with a playmate; his brother, Michael, fell and broke his right wrist in two places while playing soccer during a school gym period; Tommy Fahy, 11, fell from his bicycle and broke his wrist in two places; John Parsons, 8, fell from a trapeze in his back yard and broke his left arm; Salvatore Pinto, 8, taken to hospital for an appendectomy, fell out of bed there and broke his arm; Helen Lamb, whose family moved from Meadowbrook Road a few months ago, returned from Norway for a visit, fell while climbing a tree and broke her arm.

There's Plenty Of Life In The Old Car Yet

JOLIET, ILL. (AP)—Walter Snellgrove of near-by Manhattan, reporting an automobile accident to police, invited officers to look over his damaged car.

They were surprised when they saw the machine—a 1908 model Brush roadster with chain drive. Snellgrove assured them that with a few repairs, which he estimated would cost $37, the 39-year-old car would be in good running condition.

More and more you are going to hear about the point count system for no trump. A great many of the present day experts are employing the point count. Most of them are using 4-3-2-1 count—that is, ace counts four, king three, queen two, jack one. Milton Work made this count popular 20 years ago, and even in those days it had been well established in whist. Dick Richards referred to it as the "pitch" count. Most of today's experts want a minimum of 16 for no trump and 22 for two no trump.

In today's hand the point count is employed to arrive at a correct suit slam. North has a count of 24, a good two no trump bid. South's bid of three spades is not a strength-showing bid. It simply says, "Partner, I have a

Martha Taft Wins Friends And Influences Ohio Voters

By HARRY MAYO
CINCINNATI, (NEA). — Mrs. Martha Taft, the politicians' report, is winning friends and influencing voters like her husband hopes to do in '48. And what, her neighbors on Indian Hill would like to know, is so unusual about that? For they'll tell you, Martha Taft has been winning things a long time. Friends, mostly—and votes for husband Bob.

She's homey and back-fencey, charming and modest, chatty and kind and goes to clubs. But mainly these days she talks about "Bob." She helped send him to the Senate in 1928. And in doing that, she left no doubt among Ohioans that sharp political know-how dwelt behind her motherly mien.

She knew a lot about politics before she knew much about her husband. Her father was the late Judge Lloyd Bowers, Solicitor General of the United States during the administration of the senator's father, President William Howard Taft. Political talk was a part of her childhood.

Campaigns For Husband
She and Taft were married in 1914 and came here to live. He took up his law practice and Martha set about the easy task (for her) of becoming a leader in the cultural, political and social life of the city.

She was one of the founders of the Cincinnati League of Women Voters and was its first president. She was the first woman to serve as a director of the Community Chest and is or has been a member of virtually every Cincinnati social agency.

Friends believe that Taft may never have gone to the Senate if Martha had not campaigned for him so vigorously in 1938.

They had despaired of his going to Washington because of his dry and solemn approach. But Martha supplied the punch. She visited 85 counties. She made speech after speech. And she got along so well that a Cleveland paper headlined the Taft victory: "Bob and Martha Taft Elected to the Senate."

Sometimes, she admits, she feels "a bit self-conscious" when she talks about her husband.

"After all," she says, "praising one's husband is something like praising one's self."

Fishes With Husband
Taft likes to fish, golf, hear the symphony, look at good art. Martha will go along on all of these. She plays golf poorly, but enjoys it. She'll go fishing any time her husband asks her—and he frequently does.

Martha Taft's admiration for her husband is sincere.

"Even if he hadn't been my husband," she says, "I still would have worked for him. Perhaps not so hard—but I would have worked."

The Motherly mien hides political acumen.

Friendly Ribbing

She lays no claim to fine oratory, but she loses no time capturing her audience's attention once she's on the platform. She cuts aside her husband's dry approach. She speaks in a sprightly manner, and she can throw a barb with the best of them.

Sometimes she takes a ribbing from her friends. In 1938, after she had spent four months touring Ohio, one of her sons suggested that she was wasting her time.

"Why not write a column called 'My Day'?" he wanted to know. Martha smiles at the memory. "It's been fun," she says.

1,300-Foot Mountain Grows On Jap Island In Less Than Two Years

TOKYO—A 1,300-foot mountain, formed by volcanic action nearly four years ago in a peaceful Northern Japan farming section, has just begun to attract attention of Japanese scientists, reports the Kyodo News Agency.

The reason the hill had not been publicized earlier, Kyodo says, is that news of the development was suppressed by the military. The superstitious connected the volcanic eruptions and quakes with adverse war events of the period, the news agency said.

The hill began to form on a stretch of flat farm lands in the area bordering Uchura Bay, northwest of Muroran, on Hokkaido Island, in January, 1944.

A series of daily earthquakes preceded the slow rise of the land at a rate of about one-eighth of an inch daily during the early part of the year. In June, 1944, the growth was accelerated by the eruption of a volcano in the east chain of the two mountains. Other eruptions followed. The hill continued to grow until December, 1945, it reached its present height, Kyodo said.

A railroad crossing the area was tilted, farm houses, tipped up and farmland ruined by cracks and a thick covering of volcanic ash.

Seemingly Nakamura, terrestrial physics professor at Hokkaido University, was quoted as saying: "It is not amazing for an eruption to occur and a hill to be created, but I think this is the first time a mountain actually has been born before one's eyes."

A Kyodo reporter who visited the hill said it was quiet and that the houses and villages on its slopes were being rebuilt.

MUSICIAN-ASTRONOMER
The planet Uranus was discovered by William Herschel, a professional musician and music master. Interested in science, he built telescopes by the dozen to study the heavens. He discovered Uranus, one of the more remote major planets, in 1781.

Smelly Seals Are Given Speedy Entry

ST. LEONARD, N. B.—A truckload of trained seals rumbled across the U. S.-Canadian international bridge, disturbing a new customs officer's quiet evening.

At a loss as to what to do about the seals, en route to a fair at St. Hyacinthe, Que., the officer telephoned his chief for advice.

"There is a whole family of seals wanting to get across," he said, "and the smell around that truck is something awful. What do you want me to do?"

"Let 'em through and out of town at once," the senior officer advised.

Originally, sweaters were designed for athletes to wear before and after games to prevent them from taking cold. Because of glass-like needles imbedded in their tissues, many species of sponges cannot be used commercially.

Healthy Girl To Wed Leprosarium Patient

CARVILLE, LA. — (AP) — Authorities at the United States Leprosarium told the story here of a healthy, attractive girl who has decided to marry one of the patients here, a handsome war veteran from California.

Dr. Frederick A. Johansen, medical director of the leprosarium, said the couple plans to leave here and live in New York, despite the fact the man is not completely cured.

Johansen said that New York is the only state in America that doesn't have a segregation law in connection with persons suffering from Hansen's disease. Parents Approve

The girl, an Iowan, said she came to Carville from the late Almee Semple McPherson's Tabernacle where she had been a staff member. She is doing secretarial work here and spends much of her time with the afflicted, having met her fiance during working hours.

'Mercy Killer', 73, Gets Seven Months

BANSKA BYSTRICA, SLOVAKIA — (AP) — Jan Pazu, 73, was sentenced to seven months in prison on a "mercy killing" charge.

Pazu told the jury he killed his friend Stefan Abraham, who was suffering from an incurable disease and begged him to cut his throat. Pazu said he did it with a kitchen knife.

The defendant's story was supported by several witnesses who testified that Abraham implored all visitors to kill him.

Good School Lunch Requirements

Most popular sandwich in the lunch box is the meat sandwich. Ask any lunch box carrier and he'll tell you it's so! Meat sandwiches not only taste good, but also they make one feel fit throughout the afternoon. Pictured here are sandwiches made from three popular and easily obtained meats: Bologna, liver sausage, and luncheon meat or ham.

Let's talk about school lunches—the kind, we mean, that go to school in a lunch box!

If carefully planned, these noon-time meals can be daily adventures in eating. On the other hand, if thrown together from odds and ends in the cupboard, they can be pretty dull and uninteresting.

The carried lunch should meet three main requirements: 1. It should be hearty and nutritious. 2. It should be appealing to the appetite. 3. It should include a variety of foods, differing in texture and flavor.

1. A hearty and nutritious lunch should include a sufficient amount of food. Two sandwiches of the filling type, fruit, cake or cookies, and milk usually will satisfy the school child's appetite. To be nutritious, the luncheon should be well balanced. For this reason it should include fruit and often vegetables, relishes, as well as sandwiches and dessert. Milk or cocoa rounds out the well-balanced lunch.

2. An appetite-appelling lunch should include a child's favorite foods. There's no use including a sandwich filling or a fruit which he dislikes. Sandwich fillings should be moist and tasty. Cookies should be fresh, fruit and vegetables should be in good condition.

3. Variety in the lunch box consists of using a wide range of sandwich fillings, different kinds of breads, a variety of fruits, cake and cookies, and so on. Variety in texture can be achieved by including crisp raw vegetables to accompany the sandwiches. Fruit provides juiciness and tartness, cake or cookies give the menu a sweet touch.

Major item of the lunch box is the sandwich. The heartiest and most popular sandwich is the meat sandwich. Ask any lunch box carrier and he'll tell you it's so.

The meat sandwiches for the school lunch box pictured on the previous page are made with three meat standbys—bologna, brunschweiler (smoked liver sausage), and luncheon meat or ham. All of these are easy to obtain and are popular with lunch box loters of all ages. Interesting seasonings are used with the meats to make tasty fillings.

1. Bologna sandwich: Spread both sides of the bread thinly with softened butter or margarine which has been mixed with a little bottled horseradish or mustard. Lay bologna slice on one piece of bread, sprinkle other piece with chopped parsley.

2. Liver sausage sandwich: Mash enough liver sausage (smoked or unsmoked) to make about 2/3 cup. Add 3 tablespoons chopped celery, 2 tablespoons finely chopped sweet pickle and a little pickle juice to moisten. Spread on lightly buttered slice of rye bread and top with hard cooked egg slices. Cover with other slice of bread.

3. Luncheon meat or ham salad sandwich: To 3/4 cup diced luncheon meat, canned or baked ham, add 1/4 cup shredded carrots, 1/4 cup chopped salted peanuts, 2 1/2 tablespoons mayonnaise. Spread on bread and put together with a lettuce leaf, if desired. Or to keep lettuce leaf more crisp wrap it in a piece of waxed paper to be inserted in the sandwich just before eating.

Meat in the lunch box gives the eater a feeling of satisfaction and will sustain the school child until time for his afternoon milk and raid on the cookie jar!

BLM Settles 100-Year Dispute Over Slice Of Oklahoma Panhandle

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Bureau of Land Management has arranged to settle a 100-year dispute over a slice of the Oklahoma Panhandle—a sliver 186 miles long and 500 feet wide—by selling it cheap to persons who have occupied it for 20 years or more.

The land runs along the Oklahoma-Texas border, on the Oklahoma side, some of it through rich farming areas of Cimarron, Texas and Beaver counties.

It passes through part of the townsite of Texhoma, Okla., but the occupied land there, as elsewhere, will be sold for $125 an acre.

Unsettled, undisputed sections will remain in the public domain. Owners May Get Title

The bureau estimated that 80 land owners—most of them Texans—will have the opportunity, finally

Faithful Employee Gets Reward In Court

MACON, GA. — (AP) — A negro's faithfulness to his blind "boss man" at a liquor still had its reward. Federal Judge T. Hoyt Davis let Willie Dent off with three years probation after revenue agents testified the negro had a chance to escape during a raid but would not desert his blind "boss."

The judge gave "Boss Man" Grover C. Holland 15 months in prison and a $300 fine for illegal distilling.

to establish clear title to the disputed land, totaling 9,000 acres. They have more than a year—until November 14, 1948—in which to apply for the land at the government's bargain rate.

The government will retain mineral rights in the area, which is not distant from some productive oil fields.

Disagreement over ownership of the land arose from separate government surveys, one of which proved to be 500 feet out of focus.

High-Price Eggs Are Cut From Cat's Menu

SAN BENITO — (AP) — The high price of eggs has created an unusual problem for a kind-hearted valley woman, writes Mrs. Minnie Gilbert of San Benito.

The woman's pet cat loves eggs, and used to get at least one a day. She would come running when she heard her mistress cracking eggs in the kitchen. But with the price of eggs nudging the $1 figure, the diet has become pretty expensive.

She tried tapping them gently, but the cat would hear and come asking for her egg.

She tried turning on the radio very loud while she cracked eggs, but that didn't help, either.

Someone suggested pricking the ends with a needle and lowering the contents out—a la Easter egg style—but the cat's mistress balks. She's looking for an easier way. Silent, but easy.

The 1940 labor force of 54.4 million in the United States was approximately four times that of 1850 and 50 per cent larger than 1910.
