Pumping Discovery Is Fined In SE Garza

A new oil discovery has been officially completed in Southeast Garza County by Callihan and Harrison of Abilene, at their No. 1 J. C. Dorward.

The new producer and field opener made 70 barrels of 36.8 gravity oil pumping on a 24-hour potential test. The oil was cut with 10 per cent water.

Location is two miles southeast of the old, shallow, depleted Justiceburg field, and six miles southeast of the town of Justiceburg.

It is 330 feet from north and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 114, block 3, H&GN survey.

The oil is coming from open hole in the San Andres lime between the top of the pay at 2,454 feet and the total depth at 2,470 feet.

A string of 8 1/2-inch casing is set at 2,090 feet. The producing formation had been treated with 10,000 gallons of acid.

C-E King Slated For Deep Wildcat

Earl Callaway Drilling Company has filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting a permit to drill its No. 1 W. R. Ross as a 7,000-foot wildcat in Central-East King County.

The operator plans to begin operations at the venture within 90 days. It is four and one-half miles north of the Ross Ranch field, which produces water.

The well is on the Stratton line of the Pennsylvanian above 5,400 feet.

The drill site is to be 1,750 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 52, block A, R. M. Thompson survey. That makes it 15 miles northeast of Guthrie.

The proposed destination of 7,000 feet likely would take the exploration through the Ellenberger.

Snyder Townsite To Get 8,000 Foot Test

Beard & Tullous, Inc., of Odessa, No. 1 Mrs. E. O. Ritchie is to be an 8,000-foot wildcat to explore to the Bend section of the Permian Pennsylvanian in the west side of the Snyder townsite in Central Severy County.

Location is 429.6 feet from west and 458.35 feet from south lines of the Beard & Tullous lease in section 180, block 3, H&GN survey. The tract is in the Provident Heights addition to Snyder.

Drilling is scheduled to begin by April 1.

Central Lubbock Field To Get SW Flanker

Great Western Producers, Inc., of Lubbock will start drilling at once on a stepout to production from the Clear Fork line of the Permian in the Lee Harrison field in Central Lubbock County.

The location is 330 feet from north and west lines of the southwest quarter of section 4, block A, John E. Gibson survey. It is two miles east of the Lubbock city limits.

Projected depth for the development is 5,000 feet, which will allow a test of the regular pay horizon in the Lee Harrison field.

Another Test Slated For C-S Kent Area

Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation has started location for a 7,500-foot wildcat in Central-South Kent County, and active operations will begin at the venture in a few days.

It will be Mid-Continent No. 1 Bibby Waldie. The driller is 330 feet from south and west lines of section 778, block 97, H&TC survey.

That puts it five miles east and slightly north of the Chapman and McFarlin No. 1 Cogdell, recently completed flowing discovery from the Canyon reef.

The slated depth of 7,500 feet is calculated to take the prospecter into the Strawn lime of the Pennsylvanian, which is below the Canyon.

It is understood that there is a possibility that the exploration might ultimately be drilled to the Ellenberger.

Flanagan-Clear Fork Flanker To Complete

Shell Oil Company No. 1 Coates and Lee, northwest flanker to the Flanagan-Clear Fork field in Central-South Gaines County has been finished for a 24-hour potential of 243.54 barrels of 39.8 gravity oil. The production on the completion test was flowing through a one-half inch tubing choke.

The oil was cut with two per cent basic sediment. There was no formation water. The production was from open hole between 7,096 feet and 7,217 feet. That horizon had been treated with 1,000 gallons of acid.

Location is 680 feet from south and east lines of section 3, block 4-2, plat survey. That makes the new oil well approximately 15 miles southwest of Seminole.

Acheson Target Of GOP Ire

WASHINGTON—(P)—Secretary of State Acheson's suddenly famous statement that "I do not intend to turn my back on Alger Hiss" stirred Republican wrath Thursday.

A number of those who have been arguing that the Roosevelt-Truman Administrations have been "soft" toward communism prepared to follow the lead of Senator Mundt (R-SD).

Mundt directed a three-hour attack on Hiss, Acheson and Administration foreign policies late Wednesday in the Senate.

Of Acheson's statement that he wouldn't turn his back on Hiss—an old friend and State Department associate who has been convicted of perjury in a trial that linked him with Communists—Mundt had this to say:

"The important thing is not the manner in which Dean Acheson permits Hiss to influence the position of his back—the thing that Americans would like to know is how far Dean Acheson has permitted Hiss to influence his mind."

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) wanted to know whether Acheson's statement "might be an indication that the secretary of state is also telling the world that he will not turn his back on any of the other Communists in the State Department."

There were some informal expressions of admiration for Acheson on Capitol Hill, based on the theme of personal loyalty, but there was no apparent rush to his side.

Texas Water Code Committee Meets In Midland

Members of the Texas Water Code Committee, studying possible revision of the state's surface water laws by the 51st Legislature, convened in Midland Monday for the first of a series of West Texas hearings. Other meetings were held in Pecos and El Paso. Pictured in session here, left to right, seated, are Senator George Moffett, Chillicothe; Senator Hill D. Hudson, Pecos; Senator Rogers Kelley, Edinburg, committee chairman; Rep. Byron Tinsley, Greenville, vice chairman; John D. McCall, Dallas, secretary; standing: L. Hamilton Lowe, Austin, executive secretary; Victor Bouldin, Houston; Senator Pat Bullock, Colorado City; Judge M. J. Ramon, Laredo; Rep. Douglas Bergman, Dallas; J. T. Canales, Brownsville; Rep. Jack Brooks, Beaumont, and Col. L. R. Hagy, Amarillo.

Rumors Say Truman May Act Shortly In Coal Mining Crisis

WASHINGTON—(P)—A direct signal from John L. Lewis appeared Thursday to be the only possible move which could head off the spread of strikes in key soft coal mines and intervention by President Truman.

More and more soft coal miners dropped their tools this week and Director James Boyd of the Bureau of Mines told the Senate Labor Committee Wednesday that unless coal production increases at once, "The national economy, health and welfare of the nation is now or soon will be imperiled."

At least 88,000 miners were reported idle and the number was spreading. Steel companies announced more cutbacks and the banking of furnaces for lack of coal. Railroads were laying off workers.

White House policy advisers hinted that if Lewis does not move in the next 48 hours to restore at least three-day production each week, Truman will take the first steps toward invoking the Taft-Hartley Act striking-tending machinery.

Proposal To Extend Beer Zone Rejected

The City Council Wednesday night had the largest delegation of visitors to attend one of its meetings in recent years.

The attraction was a discussion of a Zoning Commission proposal that off-premise beer sale zones be extended.

The crowd, which overflowed the council chamber and the adjoining hall, was estimated at more than 150 men, women and children. Several ministers were in the delegation, which came to the meeting to voice opposition to the further extending of the beer zone.

But the visitors did not get to state their views orally since the council, after a brief discussion, quickly adopted a motion made by W. F. Heil and seconded by S. M. Erskine that the Zoning Commission recommendation be rejected and that the beer zone not be extended.

The Rev. Vernon Yearby, pastor of the First Baptist Church, speaking unofficially for the visitors, expressed appreciation to the council for not extending the zone.

John Hills, chairman of the Zoning Commission, explained that the proposal to extend the off-premise beer sale districts into all zones of G and lower classification was designed to strengthen rather than to relax the city's present beer sale ordinance. It was pointed out that the present ordinance does not distinguish between on and off-sale permits. Hills and (Continued On Page Seven)

New Traffic Lights, Stop Signals To Be Installed In Midland

The installation of needed traffic lights at busy intersections near Midland school buildings for the protection of students, and the placing of stop signs on certain streets in recently paved areas were authorized by the City Council Wednesday night.

The council requested City Manager W. H. Oswalt to conduct a study to determine where the signal lights and stop signs should be installed. Traffic conditions at all Midland public schools will be surveyed.

A request by the Midland Independent School District that East Texas Street, between Carver and Adams Streets, be closed was approved by council resolution. The closed street is at the location of the proposed negro high school in the Moody Addition.

Another request by the school board that a mercury vapor lamp be installed on Illinois Street, between B and C Streets, and across the street from the high school building, was tabled pending further study.

Walter Beardsley, attorney, presented an application by P. D. Moore requesting the closing of Park Drive in Riggles Addition. The matter will be considered at the next regular meeting of the council.

An executive meeting of the council is planned early next week, probably Tuesday afternoon.

Regan Offers Plan To Help West Texans

WASHINGTON—(P)—Two Texas congressmen from widely separated areas want the pending cotton acreage bill broadened to meet what they say are distress situations in their districts.

Reps. Lindley Beckworth of Gladewater and Ken Regan of Midland, Democrats, said they will try to amend the bill.

The measure provides that the acreage allocation to

Smithwick Given Life For Slaying

BELTON—(P)—Defense Attorney Thursday appealed for a new trial of Sam Smithwick, who was convicted Wednesday night of murdering a crusading radio commentator.

BELTON—(P)—Big, slow-moving Sam Smithwick waited in the Bell County jail Thursday, faced with a jury verdict of life imprisonment for the slaying of W. H. (Bill) Mason.

The jury of 12 farmers and small-town businessmen handed down a verdict of guilty of murder with malice early Wednesday night after deliberating three hours and 17 minutes—including an hour off for supper.

Smithwick's attorneys said: "Of course we will appeal."

The ex-deputy sheriff from Alice barely was back in jail when Sheriff E. T. (Buck) Ray revealed he had questioned and released four Latin Americans about an ambush attempt on the life of District Attorney James K. Everts. Two shots were fired at the chief prosecutor Monday night as he returned home from the courtroom.

A group of Belton citizens posted a $1,000 reward for capture of the gunman.

Judge Wesley Dice said Smithwick would be sentenced formally at a later date. If a verdict is appealed in Texas, the formal sentencing does not take place until after the sentence is approved by an appeals court.

any individual shall not reduce his 1950 plantings to less than 70 per cent of the average amount of land planted to cotton, or regarded as planted to cotton (war crops planted instead of cotton), during the 1946-1948 period, below 50 per cent of the amount so planted in any one of the three years.

Beckworth said these provisions do "not meet the problem of the little East Texas farmer who has no record of cotton production in any of those three years but who now wants to grow cotton."

Regan said the bill would give no relief to scores of young war veterans in Far West Texas who had spent much time and money preparing new land for cotton but did not get into actual production until '49.

Uter Financial Ruin

He said many such farmers "face utter financial ruin."

The amendment Regan proposes would provide that no allocation to a "new 1949 cotton farm, which was completed for planting prior to March 20, 1949, by clearing, plowing and cultivating" shall be less than 30 per cent of the land in cotton last year.

Both congressmen in interviews criticized the action of the Texas State Production Administration Committee in setting aside only three per cent of the state's quota for cotton farms which had no records for the three base years. Texas received 7,877,000 acres out of the national quota of 21,000,000 acres.

"Under the law the state committee could have set aside up to 10 per cent of this amount to meet all these emergencies," Beckworth said. "If it had done that the problem would not have been nearly so acute."

Only $17,271.81 to go!

Midland County needs that amount to reach its 1950 March of Dimes quota of $18,000.

Receipts of the campaign Wednesday were $215.37 to bring the total to $728.19.

Returns from mailed March of Dimes cards to adult citizens have just begun to be received.

Service clubs are manning a "Wishing Well" at the Midland Post Office.

Coin containers in business concerns are taking in 10 days.

"We've got to fight polio with dollars as well as dimes," campaign leaders said Thursday.

The drive officially opened Monday.

Temperature Drops To 34 Degrees Here

A semi-cold front moved into the Midland area early Thursday and dropped the temperature to 34 degrees, lowest in 10 days.

The colder weather followed another warm day Wednesday. High temperature was 79 degrees.

"Colder" is the forecast for Thursday night.

Engineering Society Pledges Civic Aid

The Permian Basin Chapter of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers at a meeting Wednesday night pledged professional assistance to civic clubs and announced it would participate in civic affairs through its members.

Harold Bahr, president, suggested as the first project that the group volunteer to write the engineering textbook for a proposed Midland Civic Center.

A Civic Affairs Committee was appointed. H. E. Chiles, Jr., is chairman. Other members include R. B. Rush of Odessa; C. J. Anderson of Pecos; K. E. Esmond of Odessa; H. C. Dickson of Monahans; W. A. French, Jr., of Big Spring and D. H. Huff of Kermit.

Chairmen Named

Chairmen for four committees were named at the meeting. They are: S. C. Dougherty of Midland, public relations; J. H. Parmelee of Odessa, membership; M. E. Spry of Odessa, constitution, and R. B. Russ of Odessa, law and ethics.

Following the business meeting, 15 members present heard Nelson Puett, Midland attorney, give his version of "Unpublished Texas History," a collection of anecdotes of early Texans. Puett explained the early agreement between Texas and the United States, which clearly defined Texas' tide-land boundary as three leagues—10 and a half miles—from shore. He also mentioned the early XIT Ranch and its history, and told numerous stories of pioneer Texans.

Scharbauer Names Rodeo Committee

The reappointment of Leonard Proctor, rancher, as chairman of the Rodeo Committee of Midland Fair, Inc., for 1950 was announced Thursday by President Clarence Scharbauer, Jr.

Other members of the committee are Roy Parks, Jr., John Dublin, Jr., Buster Cole and Marion Flynn. All are Midland ranchers.

The 1950 World Championship Midland Rodeo will be held May 31-June 4. Five night shows will be presented.

Scharbauer said the committee already is working to make this year's Midland Rodeo the best and most outstanding ever held here.

The show again will be produced by Everett Colborn of Dublin, Tex., who will furnish the tough rodeo stock and serve as arena director.

Nine Airmen Bail Out Of B-29 Plane Over West Texas

PECOS—A B-29 bomber from Davis-Monthan Air Force Base caught fire while flying over the Pecos area Wednesday and nine airmen bailed out.

According to Captain Frank Turner, public information officer and adjutant of Pecos Air Base, the plane was on a routine navigation flight from Tucson, Ariz., to New Orleans.

The plane was flying at 13,000 feet when a fire started in the rear portion of the bomb bay.

The first airman to bail out was picked up on the Reeves-Pecos County line.

The plane crashed 17 miles north of Fort Stockton. The plane was burning when it crashed.

Fort Stockton hospital attendants reported Wednesday night that the airmen suffered minor injuries including sprained ankles and bruises. Names were withheld pending a check of all.

Officials Fear Many Would-Be Voters To Miss Poll Deadline

Poll tax receipts issued to noon Thursday nudged the 3,000 mark, and officials estimate that even a greater number will rush the office in the next few days in an attempt to meet this voting requirement.

Payments slowed Wednesday, with 204 receipts issued.

Although a Thursday morning official count was not made, one official said the figure at noon probably stood between 2,975 and 3,000.

All efforts are being made by the tax assessor-collector's office to accommodate all poll tax payers before the Tuesday night deadline. Open All Day Saturday.

The office will remain open Saturday afternoon and four clerks will be issuing receipts Monday and Tuesday. At present, poll tax payments are being taken at three windows.

Last year a total of 2,309 receipts had been issued at this stage.

Even though special measures are being taken to accommodate those who delay payment until the last few days, it is likely many persons will be left standing at the window at closing time January 31, according to Mrs. Raynee Carroll, a deputy in the office.

However, she added, there is a possibility this late congestion may be avoided if there are enough visitors to the office Friday and Saturday.

Must Have Receipt

It will be necessary to show a poll tax receipt or exemption certificate at the polls to vote.

Payment of poll taxes is entirely voluntary, officials said, and the tax is not included in tax statements.

Texas voters in a special election last year decided to retain the poll tax as a voting requirement and strict enforcement of the law will be in effect this year, it was pointed out.

Qualified voters in 1950 will have many opportunities to cast their ballots. Democratic primaries are scheduled, in addition to the general election. There will be the usual school board and city and county elections, and several special elections have been proposed.

Stanton Girl Is Reported Missing

A 14-year-old Stanton girl is reported missing. Her father said she disappeared Sunday morning on her way to church.

She is Barbara Charlene Palmer. She was wearing a scarf on her head, dark coat, pink dress, red sandals, when last seen. She carried a Bible.

Area officers are searching for her. Anyone seeing her is urged to call Stanton officers.

Sounds Warning

James Boyd, director of the Bureau of Mines, testifying before a Senate Labor Committee in Washington, declared that coal stocks are near the "danger point" where the public health and safety may be "imperiled."

City Council Appoints 10-Member Midland Park Advisory Commission

A 10-member Park Advisory Commission was named by the City Council at its regular meeting Wednesday night in the City Hall.

The members are Robert L. Dickey, Jack Wilkinson, Mrs. A. F. Shrey, M. W. Collier, Mrs. Bob Clark, Sherwood O'Neal, Vernon Bottoms, Harold Bahr, Mrs. Robert Payne and Art Cole. They will serve three year terms.

The commission was created several weeks ago by the council to advise with it concerning planning, developing and maintaining of city parks, including the proposed civic center development at Midland Airport.

The council, at a hearing held in connection with the regular meeting, approved the application of Cal Boykin for a zone classification change from A to C of Tracts 24 and 25, Gardens Addition, as recommended by the Zoning Commission, Gardens Addition was taken into the corporate limits of the city recently. The council action permits the construction of apartment houses on the property as proposed by Boykin. He agreed to dedicate right-of-way for the extension of Illinois Street through his property.

New Automobiles

A recommendation of the Zoning Commission that a plat of Barberdale Addition be approved was adopted.

A resolution authorizing the purchase of three new automobiles and the trading in of three old cars was authorized. The cars will be purchased from Murray Motors, Ltd., on a low trade-in bid of $3,068.86. Other bidders were Mackey Motor Company, $3,998.80; Bargrove Motor Company, $4,413.80; and Elder Chevrolet, $4,241.55. Two of the cars will be used by the Police Department and the third by City Manager W. H. Oswalt. It was explained by Oswalt that maintenance on the three old cars has averaged more than $500 a month the last six months.

The council authorized the purchase of a duplicating machine at a cost of $1,264.

Highway Right-Of-Way

A resolution was adopted authorizing the payment of $100 to John B. Garner to settle condemnation proceedings for right-of-way for the widening of East Highway 80.

The payment of $5,177.19 to Brown and Root, Inc., for the paving of certain units, including some "cleavours," in the Group A paving program was authorized.

Authorization for two members of the Zoning and Planning Commission to attend a University of Texas-sponsored planning conference at Austin was granted.

All members of the council were present with the exception of Councilman Frank N. Shriver.

Check Your Compliments, Men-Wives Need Right Kind

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

A word to husbands: (Wives, please do not read.)
In order to remain a really satisfactory husband a man should, every now and then, check up on the quality of the compliments he pays his wife.

Think it over, men. When that cute little file clerk in the office twinkles at you it isn't because you've told her how efficient she is, but because you've said something flattering about her.
And your wife is no different. Pay your wife the same kind of compliment—and see if you don't get just as bright a twinkle. (All rights reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

Then he ought to check up on the kind of compliments he is handing her today.

If he finds that whereas he used to admire the tilt of her nose or the shine of her hair he now is telling her she is a wonderful cook or that he's glad she isn't a scatter-brain like Mrs. So-and-So, he's slipping.

And he needn't think she isn't conscious of the change. Wives like, of course, to be praised for their cooking and other home-making accomplishments. They like to be admired when they are all dressed up ready for a party.

Remember Courting Days
But the kind of compliments that keep them feeling young and loved are the kind they remember. From the early days of their marriage.

Compliments that come at unexpected times. Compliments that make them feel more glamorous than they are. Compliments that are strictly man to woman stuff.

Those are the kinds of compliments you paid your wife at the beginning of your marriage and if they've turned into something much, much more prosaic, then you can be sure she misses the kind of admiration she used to get from you.

Betty Joyce Gerald Weds James A. Block

In a mid-morning ceremony in the First Methodist Church, Betty Joyce Gerald and James A. Block of Lubbock were married Thursday. The Rev. Howard H. Hollowell, pastor, read the double ring ceremony.

An informal reception followed in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Thompson, 1400 College Street, and the couple left on a wedding trip to Mexico before returning to Lubbock to reside.

Block is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Block of Port Neches. The bride is a sophomore student in Texas Technological College in Lubbock and plans to return to school to complete the term.

Her maid of honor for the wedding was her college roommate, LeVora Manning of Amarillo, and Joe Musgrove of Port Neches was best man. Other attendants were Paula McDaniel of Fort Worth, the bride's roommate at Tech last year, bridesmaid, and Bobby Statton and Robert Muldrow, ushers.

Mrs. Charles Reeder, organist, played the wedding music, a medley before the ceremony, the traditional marches and a soft obbligato while the service was read.

White gladiolus and stock in baskets with a background of palms, were arranged at the church altar. The center bouquet was of gladiolus and white mums in a fan arrangement.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Mr. Thompson, wore a gown of ivory satin, the sweetheart neckline and long, pointed sleeves edged with narrow frills of Venetian lace, the basque bodice buttoned down the back with tiny, satin-covered buttons and the spreading skirt shaped into a train.

Her veil of illusion was held to her blonde hair with a coronet of dainty flowers, and she carried white gardenias surrounded with white carnations and a net frill in a bridal bouquet. Her only jewelry, a strand of pearls, was the gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Manning wore a bouffant frock of orchid and Miss McDaniel a gown of rose color, both with colonial bouquets of pastel carnations and matching satin streamers.

Relatives and close friends of the couple were greeted at the reception by Mr. and Mrs. Block and her parents. The bride's attendants and Mrs. Dwight Gage of Odessa, her cousin, served the punch and wedding cake from a table centered with pastel spring flowers. Other decorations in the home, as in the church, were in green and white.

Mrs. Thompson was dressed for her daughter's wedding in a grey dressmaker suit with accessories of grey and taupe and a corsage of red roses.

To Live In Lubbock
Leaving for a trip, Mrs. Block wore a grey flannel suit and black accessories, with gardenias from her wedding bouquet pinned on her lapel.

The couple will be at home at 2121 Broadway in Lubbock. Block, who was graduated with honors from Tech in August, is associated with an advertising firm in Lubbock. He is a veteran of Air Force service, and held the rank of lieutenant. Mrs. Block was graduated from Midland High School before she enrolled at Tech.

Out-of-city guests for the wedding included her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Donelson of Stanton; Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Gage and son, Ronnie, of Odessa; Beth Allen of Loop, Marlow Williams of Plainview, and Peggy Williams of Dallas, all students at Tech; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Odum, Mrs. Edmond Tom and Mrs. Bill Etheridge of Stanton.

Teacher Is Guest Speaker For Fine Arts
Standing in line for hours to watch Princess Elizabeth's wedding procession, having tea with the Queen of England and eating four meals a day because of rationing were some of the experiences Lillian McElroy had during the year she taught school in Scotland.

Miss McElroy, a teacher in Odessa and a native Texan, described them to the Fine Arts Club Wednesday when she spoke on the subject, "An American School Teacher in Scotland." Mrs. Y. D. McMurry was hostess to the group in her home.

During the business session, the five recommendations made by the Woman's Club Building Planning Committee were approved.

Mrs. L. G. Byerley, state chairman of higher institutions in the Education Department of the Texas Association of Women's Clubs, announced that this group will offer $10 to the Midland High School senior winning an essay contest. The Club voted to add $5 to this, making the total $15. The contest will be for Midland High School seniors and the essay subject is "Why I Wish to Continue My Education."

In Country
Mrs. W. H. Sloan introduced Miss McElroy, who said the school in which she taught was similar to American county schools and was located on the East Coast of Scotland near Edinburgh in a chiefly agricultural district. The climate was rainy and foggy year round and heating presented quite a problem, she added.

Scotch schools differ from ours, Miss McElroy said, in that they are divided by social classes. The free schools are supported by the government and are for the lower class of children. The public schools are for the higher classes, who pay tuition for their support. The public schools are similar to our private schools.

"You can't buy an education in Scotland," she said, pointing out that in all schools there entrance is based on strict examinations. The poor students fall by the wayside, she said, while the good ones spend almost all of their time studying. She added that these entrance exams are very strict and their results are final, regardless of the social class of the child.

Miss McElroy described side trips through England on weekends and trips over the European continent in the summer. She also told of seeing the royal wedding procession and of having tea with Queen Elizabeth and her daughters in a castle near the school where she taught. Twice when the royal family was visiting at the castle, the teachers were invited to have tea with them and Miss McElroy described them as "very charming."

A tea hour was held after the program and Mrs. Henry Murphree poured. Refreshments were served to a guest, Mrs. W. E. Mitchell, and Mrs. Wilson Bryant, Mrs. George Kidd, Mrs. Harry Miller, Mrs. Ralph Oberholzer, Mrs. Roy Parks, Mrs. Nelson Puetz, Mrs. B. R. Schabrum and Mrs. J. M. White.

RELATIVES GATHER AT MRS. COOK'S BEDSIDE
Mrs. B. C. Cook who has been ill for several months is reported in a serious condition. She and Mr. Cook have as their guests, their children and Mrs. Cook's brother, Ervin Yeats, of Mineral Wells. Children and their families who are here include Mr. and Mrs. Coy B. Cook of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Cook and family of Mineral Wells, Mrs. F. O. Harms and daughter, Georgia, of Houston, Mrs. Zona Ward of Fort Worth and Mrs. Carl Harper of Abilene.

Study For Credit Closed In Society

RANKIN—Credit was granted to 13 members of the Methodist Women's Society here who recently completed a study with the topic, "We the Peoples of the Ecumenical Church." Mrs. R. O. White directed the course and Mrs. D. G. McEwen is secretary of missionary education in the society.

Adults Of Rankin Church Entertained

RANKIN—The Adult Class of the Methodist Church School entertained all the adults of the church Monday night with a pot-luck supper and 42 party.

Members who received credit were Mrs. D. S. Anderson, Mrs. A. B. McGill, Mrs. R. H. Johnson, Mrs. McEwen, Mrs. Ross Wheeler, Mrs. Walton Harral, Mrs. S. H. Boyd, Mrs. Ted Hogan, Mrs. Hamp Carter, Mrs. Clint Shaw, Mrs. Don Cochran, Mrs. Bodine and Mrs. White.

Reservations for the dinner are to be made with Mrs. M. A. Sherwood or Mrs. James T. Smith, and those who plan to attend the dinner are asked to make reservations this weekend.

Generators with capacity of 424,000 kilowatts were installed by the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation in 1949.

Election of new directors is scheduled and there will be a resume of the last year's activities and an outline of plans for 1950 presented. Paxton Howard, president, will preside.

The speaker is head of the drama department at Baylor University, Waco. He came to that school in 1934 as a youthful director who had just completed a year's graduate study under George Pierce Baker of Yale, and later returned to Yale to receive his Master of Fine Arts Degree. Then he traveled around the world, studying theaters in Europe and Asia.

He built the drama department at Baylor to an organization with a staff of 12 which has its own theater building, one designed by Baker in a unique plan with five stages and a sunken auditorium with swivel chairs so that the audience may turn to face any of the stages.

Baker was instrumental in founding the Waco Civic Theater and in 1940 he started the Southwest Summer Theater, a stock company which presents a new play every two weeks during the Summer.

He was among the first 10 men commissioned in the Army Special Services at the beginning of World War II, and he became chief of the Special Services Entertainment Branch in Europe.

His work at Baylor was resumed after the war and he took the Summer Theater on tours for appearances in 55 cities of Texas. He supervises a Children's Playhouse, television productions and religious drama in 10 Waco churches, as well as the stock company and the university dramatic activities.

The Third Term

Quiet reports are circulating that President Truman has decided to run for a third term.

Few people expect Truman to admit this intention now, if he has it. There's too much political advantage in keeping everyone guessing.

But if he should run again it would be the strongest evidence yet of how greatly he has changed from the days in 1945 when he was telling the world he didn't want the job—that it had just been thrust upon him.

We have a popular notion that the third term never really became an issue until Franklin D. Roosevelt's time.

"It is hardly an exaggeration to say that since Jackson every incumbent who finished his second term has been an active or receptive aspirant for a third one; and in this respect there has been no distinction between the parties."

Grant wanted a third term in 1876, was discouraged from trying, but then came back and bid for the office again in 1880. Grover Cleveland, finishing his second go in 1896, neither confirmed nor denied ambition for another term.

Theodore Roosevelt, after expressly supporting the two-term tradition and bowing out to William Howard Taft in 1908, changed his mind and actively sought another term in 1912.

Woodrow Wilson was an invalid in 1920, but historians are agreed he wanted a third term to vindicate his stand on the League of Nations.

Although Calvin Coolidge appeared to many to remove himself completely by his "I do not choose to run" statement in 1928, numerous observers believe he actually was willing to be drafted for further White House duty.

You can't explain this behavior among Presidents simply by saying that, once kindled, ambition burns exceedingly bright. Historians see more to it than that.

They find that most Presidents develop two worries: (1) that their "program" won't be finished unless they complete it themselves, and (2) that a man of true presidential stature can't be obtained to replace them.

If Truman really is thinking seriously of another try in 1952, chances are that thoughts like these have at least crossed his mind. For they seem to go with the office.

"We May Have A Small Part For A Guitar After All!"

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Georgia's Senator Russell, spokesman for Southern Democrats, "needed" into offer to compromise on civil rights; Ex-Rep. Bender advises GOP policy-makers "party's too orthodox."

WASHINGTON—P.—Georgia's cagey Senator Dick Russell, spokesman for the Southern Democrats, announced at a recent closed-door meeting of Senate Democrats that he was ready to compromise on civil rights.

Since this is the biggest issue splitting the Democratic Party, the announcement is considered significant. However, Russell failed to amplify it and some senators are skeptical, since Russell was needed into his offer of compromise. What brought him to his feet was a lecture on party harmony from Illinois Senator Paul Douglas.

"Remember, party harmony is a two-way street," Douglas scolded the Southerners.

Citing instances in which Northern Democrats had bowed to the will of their colleagues from the South, he urged:

"I hope the Southerners will remember this and likewise give a little."

Russell retorted that the Southerners had been willing to compromise, but "no one wants to compromise with us." He then made his offer to come to terms on civil rights. It was suggested by other Southern senators afterward that they would not back down on a fair-employment bill but might pull in their horns on the anti-lynching and anti-poll tax bills.

Back Truman on Formosa. Most of the closed-door meeting was spent in a technical discussion of pending legislation and a floor strategy into which, however, Senator Clegg Anderson of New Mexico injected the question of Formosa. He suggested that the State Department keep the Democrats better informed so they could answer their Republican critics who, he added, seemed to be well supplied with speeches on the subject.

"Every time the Republicans get up, they have a prepared speech," Anderson complained. "If they are able to do that on 11-a-plate dinners, we ought to be able to get a few speeches prepared for us on $100-a-plate dinners."

Except for Ellender of Louisiana, the attitude of the Democratic senators was to support President Truman's stand on Formosa. Their view was voiced by Senators Russell of Georgia and McKellar of Tennessee, who agreed that the "American people don't want to go to war over Formosa."

"Unorthodox" Mr. Bender. The Republican Policy Committee, assembled from all over the country to write a new GOP policy statement, was stolidly eating lunch in the Mayflower Hotel.

Across the room, a big, well-dressed man spied the policy-makers. He looked vaguely familiar—like a floorwalker at a swank department store or a Hollywood director. It was George Bender, congressman from Ohio and a Taft booster.

Happily Bender strode across the room, whiskered a few Democrats in the Mayflower's orchestra director, Sidney, cleared his throat, and rared into song:

"I'm looking over a 4-leaf clover that I've overlooked before. The first leaf is courage, the second is fight."

The third is our party that's always right. No need explaining, the one remaining leaf is Taft that we adore."

Then, eyeing Harrison Spangler, the GOP national committeeman from Iowa, Bender switched his tune to "Ioway."

Finished with his singing, Bender boomed at the Republican elders: "I'm unorthodox, and I know it, but sometimes I think the party's too orthodox."

Note—Ex-Congressman Bender rented a small elephant to pose with a somewhat pained Taft at the Philadelphia convention in 1948.

Texas Farm Income Tops Entire Nation

WASHINGTON—P.—Farmers in only six states—among which Texas was the only major producing state—took in more dollar volume from their marketings in the first 11 months of last year than in the corresponding period of 1948.

The Agriculture Department so reported Wednesday. The monthly farm income report showed that in the other 42 states farmers found their revenues down 10 per cent or more on the basis of the 11-month comparisons.

The states with higher farm income, in addition to Texas, were Delaware, Florida, Arkansas, New Mexico and Arizona.

Texas moved into top place in the country for the January through-November period with total income of $1,908,182,000. California took the second spot with $1,850,761,000, with Iowa slipping from the first position down to third with $1,808,543,000.

With only December income yet to be reported, it appeared these are the only states whose total farm income last year may clear the two billion mark.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority Written for NEA Service

Here is an interesting hand taken from the national open pair championship event, which was held at Philadelphia recently. The bidding shown is the way the hand was bid by Simon Becker and his brother, B. Jay Becker, both of Philadelphia, who finished second in the event.

A Simon Becker (South) made the natural bid of one club. B. Jay Becker in the North bid two clubs. The bid of two diamonds by Simon

Bridge hand diagram showing cards and dealer position.

Lesson Hand—Neither vul. South West North East 1♣ Pass 2♣ Pass 2♦ Pass 2♥ Pass 2♠ Pass 5♣ Pass Opening—♠ 2 2♠

is a reverse bid and shows an exceptionally strong hand. B. Jay did not make the mistake of bidding two no trump—he bid two hearts.

Simon knew that the two heart bid did not show a suit, because, if B. Jay had a heart suit, he would have bid it over the one club bid.

Therefore it was a cue-bid to show control of the heart suit. Also, you do not show controls if you want to play a hand at no trump. So Simon jumped to four clubs, taking the contract out of the no trump zone. B. Jay then bid game in clubs.

The defenders cashed two spade tricks and West then shifted to a heart. Declarer did not bother to take the finesse, but went right up to the ace. He played two rounds of trump, then cashed the ace, king and queen of diamonds. When the suit split he was able to discard his losing heart on dummy's good ten of diamonds, thus making his contract.

True Source Of An Infection Can't Be Traced In All Cases

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service

The idea that infection in such places as the teeth or tonsils could cause trouble elsewhere in the body is old but the late Dr. Frank Billings of Chicago had much to do with its modern study.

The early studies by Billings and his coworkers indicated that many patients with chronic arthritis, chronic infection of the kidneys and various other infections were relieved after the removal of an abscessed tooth or infected tonsils or after treatment of other chronic infections. Now these reports started a terrific hunt for infected teeth, tonsils, gallbladder, sinus, and the like, in the hope that almost every disease would clear up if only one could find the true source of the infection in some distant location.

The enthusiasm for this search went much faster and farther than the facts justified. Teeth were removed wholesale and tonsils were cut out without any real sign of infection.

West Too Far. The results of all this cutting and removal was inevitable. The pendulum swung in the opposite direction and many physicians came to feel that there was nothing in focal infection (the name given to this theory) at all.

Probably this has led, at least in some instances, to leaving bad tonsils or a tooth with a root abscess in place when they should have come out to the benefit of some cases of sciatica, iritis or similar disorders.

There is no method by which one can trace the poison going from one place to another. The decision has to be made in each case on its merits. I know that if I had a certain kind of sciatica, iritis or arthritis and also had a definitely abscessed tooth, I should have the tooth out even knowing that this might not cure the condition.

At present, a reasonable approach to focal infection is coming to be accepted. It is almost certainly possible for poisons and perhaps even germs to be absorbed into the system from an abscessed tooth or diseased tonsils. In some cases this absorption probably causes symptoms elsewhere in the body.

If the infected tissue is removed or treated early enough the symptoms elsewhere may clear up entirely. The problem is to decide what kinds of symptoms may be relieved by such action and whether it is justified in a particular case.

Q—Why is an actor called a Thespian? A—The term is derived from Thespis, the reputed founder of the Greek drama in the 6th century B.C.

Q—Is meerschaum, used for making pipes, really petrified seafoam? A—No. Meerschaum, which is German for "sea-foam," is a figurative name. It is an old designation for the mineral now called "sepiolite," which comes from a Greek word meaning cuttle-fish, an illusion to the fact that the mineral is light and porous, like the bone of the cuttle-fish.

Q—In what year did the major leagues start playing night baseball? A—Larry MacPhail started night baseball at Cincinnati in 1938.

Q—Did Antonin Dvorak write his New World symphony in the United States? A—Dvorak composed the symphony "From the New World," while serving as the director of the National Conservatory of Music in New York City.

Q—Where is the Portal of Peace? A—It is a large monument in the form of a gateway located at Blaine, Wash. Dedicated in 1921, the arch commemorates more than 100 years of harmony between the United States and Canada.

End of a Chapter

By Edwin Rutt Copyright 1950 by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Alice Pine has been the literary secretary of Mrs. Muriel Halleck, who writes popular stories under the name of "LARRY." Alice sees a chance to make a name for herself when Mrs. Halleck's artist son, Brent, comes to town. Alice and Brent are not sure she likes him, Alice has just begun work on her new job and has been reading Muriel's story plan.

IT was then, perhaps, that Alice Pine understood rather clearly. Muriel Halleck had the essentials of a fine, possibly a great, writer. And despite her becoming modesty, Muriel knew it. This book was doubtless an experiment which, if successful, would bring Muriel into a new and more important literary classification. And it certainly promised to be successful. By comparison, the shining but basically shallow serials she wrote under the pen name of Jo Palgrave were trifling.

"Well," Muriel urged, "there must be some bug. Nothing's 100 per cent."

"There is one thing," Alice said. "I couldn't quite get from the outline the payoff on Larry." She referred to the book's central character.

Muriel glanced at her keenly. "Amplify that, will you?"

"Well, just how are you planning to leave him with the reader? I mean, what kind of a man is he, actually? It almost seemed—maybe I shouldn't say this—but as if you weren't sure yourself what to make of him."

"That's a very shrewd observation, Alice. I really don't exactly know what I'll make of Larry, in the end. Oh, I've got some nebulous ideas. But I'm hoping that something will crystallize soon."

"It's bound to," Alice said. "But, outside of that, I can't think of a thing."

Muriel turned back to her typewriter. "All right. You run along and catch some sun. I won't need you for a couple of hours."

ALICE went, thinking that she had not earned her excellent salary this morning. She headed for the garden, and saw Brent.

He was sucking a short pipe and regarding gaily-colored tulips broodingly.

She checked her pace. She did not especially want to talk to Brent. But he beckoned to her casually. "Hello, Miss Pine. Getting into the routine?"

"I've made a start, anyhow. But just now Mrs. Halleck—Muriel—hasn't anything for me."

He knicked out the pipe. "Well, enjoy your freedom while ye may. Usually Muriel goes in for mass production."

Alice looked at him. His dark face and shadowed eyes told her nothing. She had probably imagined the hint of a sneer in his tone. "I wouldn't know about that," she said. "But she's certainly producing a grand novel."

"Is she?" Brent murmured. "I hadn't heard."

"But I'd have thought..." Alice stopped.

Brent stood now between tree and gardener. His face was twisted with anger. "Who told you to do this, Sloan?"

Brent laughed. "That I'd know all about it, eh? Oh, Muriel and I don't discuss our work. Good way to keep a couple of artistic temperaments from clashing, you see."

Alice did not see. Their professions, albeit allied, were non-competitive. Why, then, should there be a question of clash?

She shrugged. It was no business of hers. But her idea of Brent Halleck as a strange, difficult man was growing. She said, over a sudden, indeterminate sound: "Perhaps I shouldn't have mentioned the novel. She may have wanted to surprise—"

Brent had raised a hand interrupting her. "What was that?"

Before she could reply the sound was repeated, more clearly. A solid, ringing crack, as of hard surfaces brought violently together.

Brent swung around, ran toward the house and disappeared behind it. On impulse, Alice followed.

UNDER the apple tree outside of her library window was the surly individual she had seen yesterday. He held an ax, suspended in mid-air. A white gash showed in the tree's gnarled trunk.

Brent stood now between tree and gardener. His face was twisted with anger. "Who told you to do this, Sloan?"

The man slouched off. Alice would have liked to go with him, despite his dour disposition. She felt highly embarrassed.

"Please be reasonable, Brent," Muriel said patiently. "There's no place for Alice to work except in the library. And, with this here, it's practically pitch-black in there."

"I'm sorry," Brent had calmed down, but remained as stubborn as the churlish Sloan.

"Oh, please!" Alice spoke impulsively in there. Muriel, and I—I like the tree."

Muriel turned to her, a little reluctantly. "Well, I was only trying to make you more comfortable. But it wasn't necessary for Brent to act like a spoiled baby."

"I'm sorry," Brent repeated, and this time he sounded so. "I don't intend to interfere with whatever it is you and—er, Alice are doing. But—his eyes, opaque black now, fastened on his wife—"I'd better tell you again, since that does seem necessary. This land, and what grows on it, is mine."

Rotary Engineers Win Again; Jakes Defeat Mid-West

All-winning Rotary Engineers knocked off Ted Thompson 43 to 22 and the JayCeas downed Mid-West Lumber 44-33 in City Cage League cage tilts in the Junior High Gym Wednesday night.

The victory for Rotary kept its record clean in league play and gave it a solid hold on first place.

Leland Huffman and Frank Brahaney, probably the best combination in the loop, carried the load for the Engineers. They scored enough points between them to have won the game.

Brahaney banked 13 counters and Huffman connected for 11.

Ted's Terrors made a fight out of it for the first period and held the lead briefly. Rotary moved away in the second as its sharpshooters got the range. Halftime score was 22-15 for the Engineers.

The lead grew to 33-18 by the end of the third and got bigger in the fourth.

JayCeas Clip Mid-West

Ken Baker was high for Thompson with eight points.

The JayCeas split scoring duty just about evenly to register its victory.

Bill Hopkins was the top man with 10. Chuck Lamb had eight.

Dan Gillette counted seven and Chuck Einarsen had seven.

The score was tied at 6-6 at the end of the first. The Jakes led 20-18 at the half.

A big third period for the JayCeas did the trick, increasing the lead to 37-22.

Harris was high-point man of the game and for Mid-West with 14.

6—THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, JAN. 26, 1950

Bulldogs To Meet Brownfield Cubs Thursday Night

A District 3-AA basketball game between the Midland Bulldogs and the Brownfield Cubs scheduled Friday night, has been moved up to Thursday night. The Bulldogs were to depart for Brownfield at 3:30 p.m.

Coach Jack Mashburn said the tilt was moved up so Midland can enter the Odessa Invitation Basketball Tournament which opens Friday.

Sad news for the Bulldogs came Wednesday when it was announced Reed Gilmore may not be able to play at Brownfield or in the tourney at Odessa. He is suffering from a foot injury.

Coach Mashburn said he probably will juggle his lineup and put Norman Drake and Ollie Phillips at guards. Robert Burks, another first string guard, has been lost for the season due to an operation.

Other starters are Walter Spiller and Harrie Smith who will go at forwards and Ralph Brooks will jump center.

David Weaver, Billy Phillips, Corky Moss, Jack Mobley and Bill Branch will be ready for duty if needed.

Brownfield, although without in conference play, is reported to have a good ball club. The Cubs gave Lubbock a fight in their first meeting.

Both Midland and Brownfield will be looking for their first 3-AA win Thursday night.

The Bulldogs are scheduled to meet Andrews in the first round of the Odessa tournament. The tilt is slated at 12:30 p.m. Friday.

The 'B' Bulldogs will play Brownfield's 'B' team in a warmup game Thursday night but will not enter the Odessa meet.

Negro Blasts Lew's Hopes For Comeback

NEW YORK — (AP)—Former Lightweight Champ Lew Jenkins' hopes for another big-time shot have faded.

Walter Haines, 19, Brooklyn welterweight, gained a one-sided decision over the former Sweetwater, Texas, veteran in the main eight rounder at St. Nicholas Arena Wednesday night.

Haines weighed 138 1/2, Jenkins 139 1/2.

The crack young negro was given a unanimous verdict over the 33-year-old warrior. Referee George Walsh and Judge Arthur Susskind awarded all eight rounds to Haines.

Judge Fred Brunelli scored it 7-1. The defeat—Jenkins' sixth in 18 comeback bouts—snapped his string of three knockout wins.

A crowd of 2,561 paid $5,410.

Harold Webb is negotiating with the Lubbock Hubbers for the return of Jim Prince to Midland.

Webb says it is highly probable the slugger will be on first base here this season.

Prince, who belted 'em out of the park in the league in 1947 while holding down the initial sack for Midland, was with Lubbock last season. He hit .375 for the Hubbers and never has dropped below .340 since breaking into baseball.

—SS—

Webb and Prince have been in contact since last season when Jim indicated he would like to return to Midland.

Dr. Harry Faulkner, general manager of the Lubbock club, told SS Webb could get Prince, for a price.

So far Webb has thought the price was too high.

Webb Wednesday said he had made an offer to Lubbock and is awaiting an answer.

—SS—

Chanes are Marty Filigamo will be in the outfield for Midland again this year.

He's the boy with the big shoulders who can drive the ball a country mile. Filigamo is equally good at covering the territory in center field.

A back and leg injury which forced him to leave last season is healed.

It'll look good, if he does come back, to see him in the plate.

—SS—

We have heard rumors that Ken Jones will be behind the plate again this year. He was drafted by Borger of the West Texas-New Mexico League in December.

But the general opinion is Jones needs another year in Class D ball. And you know for sure Harold Webb put a claim on him when he was drafted.

In other words, if he goes to any league of lower classification than the WT-NM he will have to come here.

—SS—

Mickey Burnett, former St. Louis Cardinal infielder and a power in the coast league the last few years, has been hired to manage the Borger club.

Burnett was with Oakland, Hollywood and some other coast outfits when he came down from the majors. He's 31 years old.

High scorers in the City Cage League have been released and as was expected, Leland Huffman is the top man. Others are listed in order.

Frank Watkins, Mobil and Mid-West records are for two games while the others are for three. Here they are:

Chick Autry, Pilot Of Beaumont Texas League Club, Dies

BEAUMONT — (AP)— Word was received here that Martin G. (Chick) Autry, 46, manager of the Beaumont club of the Texas League, died at a Savannah, Ga., sanitarium at 10:02 a.m. Thursday.

Autry suffered a heart attack at his winter home at Colored Island, Ga., 11 days ago and had been under treatment at the hospital since that time.

He was a former catcher with the Chicago White Sox and the Cleveland Indians.

Autry had managed the Beaumont Exporter for the last two years and had a contract as manager for next season.

He was born at Martindale, Texas, near San Marcos and started his baseball career at Woodsboro, Texas.

Permian Basin Oil & Gas Log

Benedum Oiler Gets Record Acid Shot

A world record for a one-stage acid treatment of an oil well was set Wednesday when the Walter Wright and associates No. 1 C. W. Chancellor, a producer from the Ellenburger on the southwest side of the Benedum field in Central-East Upton County was treated with a 40,000-gallon injection.

The amount of 15 per cent acid was pumped into the pay zone of the well by the Western Company. A crew from that concern's Odessa station, working under the direction of Clark Campbell and Ted Holland, treating engineers, did the work.

The hole was loaded with 960 barrels of oil following the treatment and that fluid was being swabbed out at last report. Results Not Reported. It probably will be several days before an accurate report is available regarding the effect the record treatment had on the well.

NE Howard Wildcat Logs More Shows

Stanford Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Hutto, Northeast Howard County wildcat, two and one-half miles southwest of Coahoma, and 680 feet from south and east lines of section 4, block 31, TP survey, T-1-S, continues to log interesting indications of possible oil and gas production.

The latest show of oil and gas came in a drillstem test at 6,285-6,386 feet. The tester was open six hours and 45 minutes. Gas came to the surface in two hours and 30 minutes and the blow continued until the tool was closed.

Scurry Has Three New Explorations

Standard Oil Company of Texas will begin operations in the near future on an exploration on the west side of the North Snyder field in Scurry County.

Planned depth is 6,800 feet. Another exploration slated for the North Snyder field is the No. 8 L. S. Herod, to be 660 feet from north and west lines of section 383, block 97, H&TC survey, and eight miles north of Snyder.

Scurry County Lists Seven New Oil Wells

New completions in Scurry County oil fields numbered seven on last report. The Kelley field has four additions; North Snyder, Sharon-Ridge-Canyon, and Diamond M-Canyon fields have one producer each.

The Ohio Oil Company has completed the No. 1 S. D. Hays in the Kelley field, located 690 feet from east and 610 feet from south lines of section 209, block 97, H&TC survey.

On production potential, it flowed naturally for 268.72 barrels of 43.7 gravity oil, plus three per cent water. Production was through a 1 1/2-inch choke.

Pipe Lines Transport 750,000 Barrels Oil Daily From Basin

Ralph Troseth, division manager of the Texas-Mexico Pipe Line Company, told Midland Rotarians at their meeting Thursday noon in Hotel Scharbauer that pipe lines are transporting 750,000 barrels of petroleum and oil products daily from the Permian Basin Empire.

He said the pipe lines transport the oil from 500 to 600 miles and more than 22,000 tank cars would be required to handle this oil movement if pipe lines were not available.

The Big Inch line is now the largest. It extends about 1,250 miles and can move 310,000 barrels of oil daily. The largest constructed with private capital, Troseth pointed out, is the new Basin-Ozark Systems which extends from Jal, N. M., to Midland, thence to Wichita Falls, Cushing, Okla., and on to Wood River, Ill. This system is about 800 miles long and can move 250,000 barrels of oil per day.

Percy Bridgewater was program chairman and Hilton Kaderli, president, presided at the meeting. At the conclusion of the meeting, Rotarians went to the March-O-Dimes Washing Well to make contributions.

Bellamy Addresses Annual Meeting Of Child Welfare Unit

The Youth Development Council is not a new agency but a new approach to the problems of Texas young people. S. L. Bellamy, director of community services of the YDC, said Wednesday night in addressing the annual meeting of the Midland County Child Welfare Board in the Junior High School Auditorium.

Preceding the address, the 1949 financial report of the board was presented by C. W. Ledebur, treasurer, and Mrs. Willie Harding, supervisor with the Midland County Child Welfare Unit, discussed the services of the unit during the last year.

The invocation was by the Rev. Vernon Yearby, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and the Rev. J. Lennox Hester, pastor of the Asbury Methodist Church, gave the benediction. County Judge C. C. Keith introduced the speaker, and L. V. Bassham, chairman of the Welfare Board, presided.

Night Fire Wrecks SP Railroad Bridge

WHARTON, TEXAS—(AP)—Southern Pacific's railroad bridge over the East Bernard River near here was partially destroyed by fire during the night. The blaze swept out of control at 2 p.m. By the time firemen from Wharton and other nearby towns could bring the fire under control about 800 feet of the structure was destroyed.

The bridge was 1,350 feet—almost a quarter of a mile—long. W. A. Buck Lane said the fire apparently started in a car parked from a "hot box" dropped from the last train over the bridge, which is on the route from Houston to Corpus Christi and Brownsville.

Elevators Stall In Hotel Scharbauer

Patrons of Hotel Scharbauer got a workout Wednesday afternoon. Both hotel elevators stalled at the third floor due to an electrical difficulty.

McCamey News

MCCAMEY—C. D. Voss and F. S. Howard, officials of the Humble Pipe Line Company, and George Oliver of Midland were business visitors in McCamey Wednesday. W. A. Hampton, McCamey district foreman, accompanied the visitors to Big Lake and San Angelo.

Smithwick—

(Continued From Page One) jaller, Dick Knowles, that "My conscience is clear. I am an innocent man." Mason was shot to death last July 29 as he sat in his car on a street in the industrial section of Alice. He had made Smithwick the target of his last broadcast, saying the peace officer owned property on which the Rancho Alice, a night club on the edge of Alice, was located. Mason charged that prostitutes frequented the place in search of business.

It Says Here—Seat Of Pants

Midland police Wednesday were called to a Midland hospital when a patient was admitted for treatment of stab wounds. Investigation revealed the victim, a 12-year-old negro boy, had been stabbed accidentally—right in the seat of the pants.

Security Job Worse Than In War Years, Says G-Man Hoover

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The FBI says the job of protecting the country from spies is greater now than at the peak of World War II.

Asking for an enlargement of his force, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said in a congressional hearing that the end of the war served only to balloon the work of his agents in protecting the nation's internal security.

Hoover's report was contained in House Appropriations Committee hearings made public Thursday. In the same hearing, Immigration Inspector Watson B. Miller said there are approximately 3,000-4,000 aliens in the United States—some 3,500 of them deportable and free under court bond, but whom no other nation will accept.

Hoover said internal security problems are growing steadily, with the FBI's work load at a record high, and declared: "The need, I think, is paramount to control the dangers that are inherent in communism and the subversive activities of foreign-inspired espionage groups that are operating in this country."

"The Communist Party, as you know from the recent trial in New York and the conviction of the 11 Communist leaders, has as its aim and program and objective to bring about the forcible overthrow of the United States government."

"Allied with the Communist Party are a number of infiltrated Communist front organizations." Hoover asked for $57,400,000 to run the Federal Bureau of Investigation for the fiscal year starting July 1. This is an increase of $994,859.

Proposal—

(Continued From Page One) members of the council agreed that the ordinance should be amended to define specifically on and off-premise sales and that a firm policy on the handling of out-of-zone permits and the fixing of zones should be established.

Applications for permits for off-premise sales outside the regular beer districts previously have been handled by the council on an individual basis. Mr. Yearby told the council he favored the establishing of a definite policy concerning the handling of requests for beer permits as suggested by the council.

The council for several years has advised the Midland Ministerial Association of all requests for beer zone extensions. The association always has voiced disapproval. The zoning commission proposal first was submitted to the council at its January 10 meeting. The Rev. Howard Hollowell, pastor of the First Methodist Church, and the Rev. W. R. Mann voiced opposition. More than 200 communications protesting the recommendation had been received by the council since that time. One message favored the proposal.

The council Wednesday night named a committee to study the present ordinance establishing beer zones and regulating beer sales, with the idea of amending it to suit present needs, to establish separate on and off-premise sale zones and to clarify its various provisions. The committee was asked to report back at the next meeting. Members are John Perkins, city attorney, Councilman H. E. Childs, Hejl, Mr. Yearby and Mr. Mann. Another member will be named.

Mayor William B. Neely thanked the visitors for coming to the meeting and asked them to come back sometime "when a bond issue is being considered."

Crude Output Cuts, More Discoveries, Hike Texas Reserves

TULSA, OKLA.—Curtailment of oil production in Texas last year brought the state's crude output down to the lowest level since 1943. At the same time that huge new discoveries were made, with the result that Texas' proven reserves now stand at 19.1 times the current annual withdrawal rate, according to the annual review and forecast issue of the Oil and Gas Journal, published here Thursday.

Texas produced 746,244,000 barrels of crude petroleum during 1949, compared with 903,318,000 barrels in 1948 and 820,210,000 barrels in 1947. Curtailments ordered by the Texas Railroad Commission during the year brought the 1949 average production 423,000 barrels per day below the 1948 average rate. The Journal reported that this curtailment of 17 per cent, or slightly more than 157,000,000 barrels, represented as much oil as the combined total production of 13 other states last year.

As of Jan. 1, 1950, Texas had 117,430 producing oil wells, with an average yield of 17.4 barrels per day. The national average yield was 12.0 barrels per day.

A total of 13,865 new wells with a combined footage of 57,462,000 feet were completed in Texas during 1949, which is 13 per cent of all the wells drilled in the United States last year.

Wildcats Produce

Of the Texas wells, 2,791 were wildcats, resulting in 440 oil producers, 112 gas wells, and 2,239 dry holes. This is a success ratio of 19.1 per cent, which compares with the Journal's national computation which showed an average wildcat success ratio of 17.6 per cent last year.

Development wells completed in Texas last year totaled 10,874, resulting in 8,173 oil producers, 634 gas wells, and 2,067 dry holes. This total also included 46 service wells. The average depth of all wells drilled in Texas last year was 4,205 feet, compared with the national average of 3,538 feet.

This year, the Journal predicts, 13,997 wells will be drilled in Texas, of which 2,822 will be wildcats. Footage of all wells which operators have scheduled for Texas this year will total 61,555,000 feet.

In an exclusive estimate of proven reserves, the Journal reported that on Jan. 1, 1950, Texas had 16,227,000,000 barrels of crude oil and liquid hydrocarbons, an increase of 683,000,000 barrels since Jan. 1, 1949. This is almost 57 per cent of the U. S. total reserves. Due to the large number of wells drilled last year, the high ratio of wildcat successes, and curtailment of production, the crude reserves of Texas are now 19.1 times the present rate of production, whereas a year ago the ratio was 15.3. The nation as a whole has reserves equal to 13.8 times the current withdrawal rate.

In addition, Texas had proven reserves of 8,900,000,000 cubic feet of dry-natural gas on Jan. 1, 1950, an increase of 2,700,000,000 cubic feet since Jan. 1, 1949. This is more than 56 per cent of the U. S. total proven gas reserves.

Here's A Formula—How To Live To 100

1950 Model Lincolns Go On Display Friday In Midland

Heralded with the slogan "Nothing could be finer," the 1950 Lincoln and Lincoln Cosmopolitan cars will bow to the public Friday in more than 1,400 showrooms across the nation. The new models will be on display at Erskine Motors in Midland.

Unusual luxury and liveliness combined with the highest standards of comfort and performance mark the new cars which feature 150 changes in styling and mechanical improvements. All models are available with automatic shifting Hydra-matic transmission and the high compression, 152 HP V-type Lincoln 8 cylinder engine.

The 1950 Lincoln and Lincoln Cosmopolitan models are said to be smoother riding, easier steering and quieter driving than ever before. "They give silent, vibrationless riding unequalled in Lincoln history," S. M. Erskine said.

Mechanical Excellence

While mechanical excellence and manufacturing precision are outstanding but hidden features of the 1950 Lincolns, to the public the striking first impression will be a sense of luxury and "life" imparted by the new styling.

A handsome new front grille with severe modern horizontal lines gives a bolder, more massive look enhanced by a newly designed base for the Lincoln crest on the hood.

Eight bright new exterior colors plus maroon and black and seven two-tone color combinations lend distinction to the exterior of the new Lincolns.

But it is in the new "salon-styled" interiors of both the Lincoln and

Texas Counties In Disaster Loan Area

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Eleven counties in Texas have been tabbed as "disaster loan" areas by the Agriculture Department. Eligible farmers in these counties may obtain emergency loans from the department's Farmers Home Administration to carry on farming operations until they produce new crops.

The counties, which suffered in a hurricane last October, are Orange, Jefferson, Hardin, Liberty, Chambers, Harris, Galveston, Brazoria, Matagorda, Wharton and Fort Bend.

World's Crude Oil Production Soars Near All-Time High Mark Set In November, 1948

TULSA, OKLA.—Crude oil production throughout the world during November averaged approximately 9,748,000 barrels daily, the highest level since late in 1948. The Oil and Gas Journal reported Wednesday.

United States production increased 177,000 barrels daily over October. Iran and Kuwait also reported gains in production. As a result, the world total was only about 22,000 barrels daily under the record high rate of November, 1948.

Venezuelan production showed only a slight increase from October to November. Output in Venezuela is continuing at an all-time record due to high seasonal demand for the heavy fuel-oil crude.

In its monthly summary of world production trends, the Journal pointed out that the outlook for further gains in Venezuelan production is made uncertain by recent developments in world petroleum trade. One is the British government policy of restricting imports of American-produced dollar oil; another is the possibility of increased output on foreign oil by the United States.

Colombian production dropped off slightly in November. Canadian production, held down pending completion of a pipe line to the Great Lakes, also showed a decline. The increase in output in Kuwait and Iran reflected the more favorable position currently held by British oil production because of the world dollar shortage.

Douglas Isn't Anti-Truman; He Likes Being 'Independent'

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—There has been some effort here of late to make out that liberal Senator Paul H. Douglas of Illinois was an anti-Truman Democrat. The man himself says it isn't so. By and large, he thinks that President Truman does a pretty good job.

But the junior senator from Illinois maintains that he still has a right to be an independent. He thinks there should be more of them. He says that if a little group of 12 or 15 independents could be recruited from both sides of the Senate aisle, they easily could hold the balance of power on votes. He mentions men like Republican Senators Tobey and Aiken from New England, and Democrat Frank Graham from North Carolina, as independents like himself.

With a little group of independents functioning in the Senate, Douglas believes that a safe, middle ground might be staked out on which to build sound foreign and domestic policies. They would have none of the extremes of new-dealishness and none of the do-nothingness of the more reactionary forces in Congress.

Here Senator Douglas makes clear that he is opposed to political compromise. In compromise, he says, one side gives up something it believes in on condition that the other side gives up what it believes in. By laying out policies on safe middle ground, Senator Douglas believes both sides can come to agreement without either sacrificing anything.

Refuses To Be Blind Follower

He is opposed bitterly to an idea advanced last year by a group of political science professors—he was a professor himself once—to make all members of a party follow its policies blindly and without exception. He doesn't want the United States to follow the British system, in which the legislator is presumed not to have a brain of his own.

Where Senator Douglas refuses to go along with the Truman program, however, is principally a matter of detail, not of fundamental concept. He says it is a program of strong progressiveness. And he says a Republican is somebody who approves everything the Democrats have done so far, but doesn't want to go any farther.

The senator thinks the Truman budget could be cut from $2,000,000,000 to $3,000,000,000 without doing any harm and for considerable good. He mentions specifically cutting defense another $500,000,000. He would reduce lending by Federal National Mortgage Association by another $800,000,000. He would cut government employment by another eight to 10 per cent, to save $550,000,000. He would cut rivers and harbors, public roads and other pork-barrel appropriations by $450,000,000. And he would cut the President's request for a billion dollars' worth of new programs by $300,000,000 or so.

In advocating these economies, Douglas does not mean to imply that the U. S. budget never should get above $39,000,000,000. As the country's economy grows, the budget

Announcing — 1950's First and Foremost Fine Cars

The NEW Lincolns

ON DISPLAY FRIDAY

Nothing could be finer—inside or out—than the beautiful new 1950 Lincoln and the magnificent new 1950 Lincoln Cosmopolitan on display starting tomorrow in our showrooms.

Outwardly, their superb new body styling stamps them as being the most distinctive fine cars in America.

Inwardly, their rich new upholstery and appointments make them the most luxurious, too. For their brilliantly fashioned new "Salon Styled" interiors are definitely the most beautiful in the world.

And on the road, their new range of performance is unquestionably in a class by itself. In the thick of traffic, or on the wide open highway, they are a sheer joy to drive...instantly alert...powerfully responsive. Just a few minutes behind the wheel will convince you that nothing could be finer in action than the great high compression Lincoln "INVINCIBLE 8" engine combined with HYDRA-MATIC...with freedom forever from gear shift and clutch pedal!

And nothing, you will also discover, could be easier than Lincoln's new velvet-touch steering...or more comfortable than its new weather control system...or more restful than its new Fiberglass soundproofing...or more relaxing than the wonderfully soft Lincoln springing.

If you haven't yet made an appointment with us, by all means do so now. Once you drive the new 1950 Lincoln or new 1950 Lincoln Cosmopolitan, you, too, will be certain that nothing could be finer. And we promise you'll be pleasantly surprised about the prices.

*Optional at extra cost

Prexy Didn't Like
The Smoke Puffs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Phineas J. Walker, retiring after 44 years as a stoker in government buildings, recalled the day "resident Theodore Roosevelt almost had him fired."

The District of Columbia had an anti-smoke ordinance even in those days. One day T. R. looked out of his White House office window and saw billows of smoke coming out of the Treasury Department chimney next door. He ordered his aides to tell the Secretary of the Treasury he would fire the man with the shovel if the secretary couldn't stop him from making smoke.

It turned out the Treasury Department was using soft instead of hard coal, contrary to regulations. It quickly shifted to hard coal, but Walker says he "could picture the President out on the White House lawn every day looking for smoke."

CHURCH COMING DOWN
WASHINGTON (AP)—The New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, which President Lincoln attended, is to be torn down.

A new church, larger than the present one but of the same general appearance, is to be built on the site.

Midland Regions Show Increase in Wildcats

Wildcat activity in the Midland areas increased the past week, as shown by records of the oil and gas division of the Railroad Commission of Texas. Thirteen wildcat locations were staked.

A total of 78 projects were listed the past week—a decrease of four from the preceding period.

Kent County received four new wildcats. Borden and Ector Counties each reported two new ventures. The remaining wildcats were distributed one each to Cochran, Gaines, Glasscock, Hockley, Scurry and Sterling.

Surry County led with field projects, listing 32. Pecos County followed with 11 explorations.

Drilleries were established for five new locations in Ector County. Four projects were listed in each of Garza and Hockley Counties.

Cochran, Gaines and Winkler Counties each reported three new locations. Sterling gained two new explorations.

The remaining new locations were divided one each among Andrews, Crane, Mitchell and Yoakum Counties.

Applications to amend previously staked locations totaled nine. They were distributed five to Andrews, three to Ector and one to Pecos Counties.

Andrews County also reported one amended application on a wildcat location.

Make Hot Pudding With Sauce

RICH STEAMED PUDDING—Steamed macha-walnut pudding, made with evaporated milk. Served with fruit in plentiful supply.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

For cold weather appetites the best answer is hot steamed puddings with a rich sweet sauce. Use evaporated milk, one of the plentiful dairy foods, to add particular smoothness and richness to these puddings. Also use one or more of the fruits now in plentiful supply—apples, cranberries, oranges, dried prunes and raisins, as well as nuts, honey or molasses.

Evaporated milk contains all of the nutrients found in whole milk in double their original amounts. And, since it doesn't require refrigeration, it can be stored on the pantry shelf until needed.

For steamed puddings, use a well buttered covered pudding mold. Be sure to butter cover, too. Use a pressure cooker, or a deep covered kettle. In using the latter, place the filled and covered mold on a rack in the kettle.

Pour in boiling water to one-half depth of mold. If pressure cooker is used, follow manufacturer's directions. Cover and steam the indicated time. Replenish water if necessary with more boiling water to keep it up to the original level.

Mocha-Walnut Pudding (Serves 8)

Three tablespoons butter, 2 1/2 cup sugar, 1 egg, well beaten, 2 cups all-purpose flour, sifted, 3 teaspoons double acting baking powder, 1 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 cup evaporated milk, 1 tablespoon soluble coffee dissolved in 1/2 cup water, or 1/2 cup strong coffee, 2 squares, unsweetened chocolate,

1 milted, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract, 1 1/2 cup walnuts.

Cream butter and sugar together. Stir in beaten egg. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Add to butter mixture alternately with milk and liquid coffee. Stir in melted chocolate and vanilla and walnuts. Fill a 2-quart buttered pudding mold, or individual custard cups, 2/3 full.

Steam large pudding for hour. Individual puddings for 30 minutes, or until done. Serve with ambrosia sauce, with sweetened and flavored whipped cream, or with ice cream.

Ambrosia Sauce (Makes 1 1/2 cups sauce)

One-half cup evaporated milk, 1 egg, 1 1/2 cup confectioner's sugar, 1 1/4 teaspoon vanilla extract, few drops almond flavoring, 2 1/2 tablespoon lemon juice.

Pour evaporated milk into freezing tray and chill until icy. Beat egg until thick and lemon colored. Add sugar gradually and continue to beat. Whip chilled evaporated milk until very stiff. Add flavoring, lemon juice and beat the two mixtures together thoroughly. Store in refrigerator.

DROPS ALDRICH ROLE ON TV. NEW YORK (AP)—Because his age doesn't permit him to look the part, although his voice fits, Ezra Stone did not take the lead role when his Henry Aldrich radio program was switched to television.

+ McCamey News +

McCAMEY — George T. Kealer, district supervisor for the 1950 Census, was a visitor Tuesday at the McCamey News office. He announced the opening of offices at the Odessa Courthouse. Thirteen counties are included in this district. They are Brewster, Crane, Crockett, Ector, Glasscock, Loving, Midland, Pecos, Reagan, Terrell, Upton, Ward and Winkler.

At the regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association recently, Robert Single, elementary school principal, spoke briefly on "Health." Jerry Jones and Jimmy Carol, members of the high school band, furnished music.

Mrs. H. W. Driskill, music teacher in McCamey, left this week for Alpine to enter Sul Ross College.

Bobby Brasell, student at Sul Ross College in Alpine, recently visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brasell.

Coach Harold Dooley's junior Badgers came to life in the Fort Stockton basketball tournament. The meet was the first of four to decide the southern championship. Crane beat Fort Stockton 26 to 19.

In the first round, the Juniors beat Crane Juniors, 28 to 13. The Juniors go to Pecos Saturday for the second tournament.

Sam H. Moore, 80, died at Spur Jan. 22, at the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kimbell, J. A. Moore of McCamey, his brother, attended services Monday in Stephenville. Also attending from McCamey were Bill Moore and Mrs. Jim Keffer.

Serve Roast Duck With Fruit

SAUCE FOR THE DUCK—Serve roast duck with a tangy, delicious fruit sauce or relish.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Put fruit through food chopper. Stir in sugar and honey. Let stand 15 minutes. Blend flavors. Chill before serving.

At the request of many readers, we reprint notes on duck cooking by Mabel Stegner, home economist for Long Island Duck Growers' Association.

You don't have to prick the skin of a duckling because the fat will cook out anyway. Also, trussing, basting and covering are all unnecessary.

It isn't necessary to leave the fat out of your favorite stuffing recipe because very little of the duck fat will cook into it.

Combine sugar, water, spices and vinegar in saucepan and bring to boil. Add diced pears and cook gently for 3 to 4 minutes.

Two cups fresh cranberries, 1 lemon, quartered and seeded, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/4 cup honey.

Midlanders recently visiting the Methodist Home at Waco were pictured in the home's publication, "Sunshine Monthly" for January.

Shown were Mr. and Mrs. A. T. McKee, Mrs. W. T. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Taylor and daughter, Mikel.

Shown with the Midland delegation were three children of the home, who are sponsored by Midland Methodists.

BERLIN—(P)—The German frau burst across the street into the arms of a man. For six years she had not seen her husband, a prisoner of war in Soviet Russia.

The couple went home and the wife picked up the threads of the old existence as though it never had been snapped.

The case wound up in the Lichtenfelde courts. The man wasn't a "husband" and he wasn't a "brother." The court imposed six months prison sentence on him.

SRINAGAR, KASHMIR—(P)—Kashmir's brisk trade in colorful yakrind rugs has come to an end with Chinese Communist control of Sinking province.

Until recently, Moslem traders traveling by yak and horseback came south through Himalayan passes with thousands of small felt rugs.

Here's Just One Big, Happy Family

MONMOUTH, ILL.—(P)—Porky, the pig; Babe, the kitten, and Patsy, the Collie dog, are a happy family on the Leroy Carlson farm near here.

Patsy adopted Babe and Porky as her own. She lets them nurse whenever they are hungry.

The ten-week old Duroc-Chester pig was added to the family circle when it refused to take milk from a bottle.

Youth Center Chatter

By June Haslip and Joyce Howell

We have decided, after all our exams and getting an "advance preview" of our report cards, that maybe we should leave the country! But, since we know all you good people would be looking for the Youth Center Chatter this week, we decided not to disappoint you! (No doubt, this thrills you no end!)

Mid-term exams finally are behind us. Which means, of course, we have only about 90 more school days this year! This is a very, very cheerful thought for the "hard working" (?) geniuses of dear old Midland High School. School was dismissed at 3 p.m. on Thursday and Friday last week and the Teeners took advantage of the extra hour to catch up on their running around, gossiping and comparing of tests. (A few very ambitious students even went home and studied.)

The records on the juke-box have been changed. Thanks to Diana Daugherty, who spent Saturday morning at the record store. The new records are "Jealous Heart," "There's No Tomorrow," "You're Breaking My Heart," "Tea Leaves," "Last Mile Home," "The Old Master Painter," "Slow Boat to China," "Oh, What It Seemed to Be," "Maybe It's Because," "You're So Understanding," "Blue Skirt Waltz," "Someday," "The Foggy Winds and the Seven Seas," "Don't Cry, Joe," "If I Never Love Again," "I Want to Be the Only One," "Two Loves Have I," "That Lucky Old Sun," "Stardust," "Haunted Heart," "Till There's 'So in Love," "I'm afraid to Love You." With this selection of good records the juke-box should be playing constantly! (Maybe we should say more constantly, as it plays almost all the time anyway!)

Children's Theater—This week the big attraction will be the Children's Theater presenting "The Return of Rip Van Winkle," a three act play. The scene will be in the Catskill Mountains in the Dutch colony village of Falling Waters. The time . . . Sept. 18, 1771. (Quite a few years before any of us made our appearance on the earth! However we seem to have some "old timers" around, as there will be several Youth Center members in the production!) The play will be staged in the City-County Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Friday, and at 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Saturday. Admission will be 40 cents for students and 75 cents for adults. Attention, Fellas! Looking for somewhere "different" to take your dates? They'll get a kick out of seeing "The Return of Rip Van Winkle" and besides that . . . you save money! So . . . all you folks, Teeners and Adults alike, don't forget . . . "The plays the thing."

Midland High School was the scene of great confusion and high excitement Monday morning! With the beginning of the second term, many students made schedule changes, and since there is only one Mr. Mathews, and quite a few students several times still were standing in line waiting for the changes when school was dismissed. Tuesday, when those who had completed their changes, reported to their different classrooms, they were more than a little surprised at the complete change! Several were heard to remark it "certainly is a coincidence that I just happened to get in that cute boy's geometry class." Don't laugh, boys. We know of several fellows who besides their classes to suit their girl friends!

Home From Colleges—Mid-term exams have produced several "exes," too! On finishing exams, many "exes" came home for a day or two! E. A. Whitson, Moe Price, Frank Shepard, John Scroggin, Dennis Rhodes, Berneal Pemberton and Larry Messersmith are a few who were seen around quite a lot.

Just off hand, where would you say is the most popular after school "Teen-age hang-out"? If you have any doubt, just drop in the Youth Center for a few minutes and you'll find out. (That is, if you can fight your way past the door!) Teeners just seem to develop a natural hunger during school . . . at least, we say that, after taking a good look at the crowd in our snack bar after school! It seems everyone wants the same thing at the same time! Maybe we could find an educated octopus to manage the bar in the afternoons! (Oh well, it was just an idea.)

There seemed to be a general "exodus" in the direction of the front porch, Sunday afternoon. Thalia Atkinson, Ben Gray, Mark McKinsey, Pat Douglass, John Zant, "Red" Morgan, Dick Monroe, Charles Shepard, Marilyn Wheeler, Gene Thomas, Dwayne Hanway, Jimmy Greene, Diana Daugherty, Sue Ann Francis, Nancy Roberts, Sue Johnson, Ronny Estel and David Weaver were a few, who just couldn't stay inside on such a pretty day!

"Test Your Strength"—The athletic scales are always "new" to the Teeners around the Youth Center. Tuesday afternoon we saw Jack Ivey, Ronny Estel, Bill Grisset, A. W. Booth and Bill Van Landingham getting quite a kick out of watching Margi Carter "try her strength!"

Merchandisers Open Campaign To Induce Increased Spending

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK—(AP)—More people may be trying to get you to spend your money than are urging you to save. But you had better give both forces a big "A" for effort.

Merchandisers are starting an intensive campaign to induce you to spend. But bankers are telling each other, "Saving must be made as glamorous as spending."

And the Federal Treasury constantly urges you to save your money for a rainy day. With one hand Uncle Sam distributes largesse across the land. His other is outstretched to get all the cash back he can in return for savings bonds. In spite of the high cost of living and mounting taxes, Americans continue to add to their nest eggs. Some observers are amazed at this steady growth of total savings.

Favorite Forms—The favorite forms of saving currently are insurance, government bonds and bank accounts.

Some point out that high income taxes have made the building of large personal estates most difficult, compared with 50 years ago. And the falling purchasing power of the dollar has made estates already amassed much less fruitful and attractive. Therefore, the post-war trend has been away from risk, as in corporate securities, to security, as in insurance, government bonds, annuities and industrial pensions.

Many forms of savings increased at a record rate last year. The U. S. Savings and Loan League reports that individual savings in savings and loan associations has reached an all-time high of $12,500,000,000, jumping $1,400,000,000, or 22.6 per cent, last year—the greatest yearly increase ever enjoyed. The gain over the years is even more startling—at the end of 1929 the total was only $4,500,000,000.

Sea slugs must be boiled and gutted before being smoked or dried.

Examiner Vacancy Announced by CSC

The Civil Service Commission announces examinations for filling vacancies in the position of examiner and methods examiner at the entrance salary of $3,325 per annum.

Employment will be with various Federal agencies in the state of Texas. Application forms and additional information may be obtained from the Midland Post Office or from the regional director, Fourteenth U. S. Civil Service Region, 210 South Harwood Street, Dallas 1, Texas.

Sea slugs are caught by hand or speared for market.

WANT TO BE "GYPPED"?

Or do you consider yourself a "smart businessman," a shrewd trader, a man that knows what he's buying. Well, DO you know what you're buying? Have you built a home in the past two years? You probably remember the name of your general contractor—he was the fellow that you entrusted your savings with to construct your home. Do you know who your sub-contractors were? Who did your plumbing, painting, wiring, etc.? You probably don't remember—unless you've already experienced breakdowns, major repairs, call backs, etc. Maybe you've found that your plumber is no longer in business in Midland—yes, maybe your contractor used a "fly-by-night" plumber who promised to do it "cheap." There have been a lot of "do-it-cheap" plumbing contractors in Midland who did it cheap and are out of business because they didn't intend to guarantee their work to the home owners. Yes, they took the "quick easy money"—the cream—and when the cream has been skinned—off they go to greener pastures.

BE a smart businessman, be a shrewd trader, be a man that knows what he's buying. Deal with legitimate, ethical contractors, and know the sub-contractors on your home construction. Remember "quality is long remembered, when price is soon forgotten." Eventually you will pay for good construction and plumbing—why not have it when your home is FIRST constructed?

Test-Tube Incubator For 'Baby' Plants

DAVIS, CALIF.—(AP)—Test-tube incubators are being used here to nurse delicate young hybrid plants through their earliest stage. Many hybrid embryos die easily in the first generation.

Dr. Paul G. Smith, truck gardening expert at the University of California College of Agriculture here, has worked out a way to keep them alive until the second generation produces the customary stronger traits. He keeps the embryo seedlings in warm test-tubes.

At the peak of the second world war, 63,000,000 Americans were working, 34,000,000 supplying civilian needs and 29,000,000 meeting war needs either in the armed forces or in war industries.

Andrews News

ANDREWS—The March of Dimes campaign in Andrews County is well underway. Contributions are coming in rapidly. Craddock Ulmer is county chairman. Quota is $1,500 compared with $1,400 last year. Andrews County suffered its first polio case in 1949. A March of Dimes barrel has been placed at the postoffice. Coin containers are located in business concerns. Coffee-serving businesses have agreed to give coffee proceeds of January 21 and 28 to the campaign. Assisting the chairman are: Thomas D. Hamilton, Mrs. Craddock Ulmer, Mrs. L. B. Thorn, Guy McGill, Charles Dean, Charles Roberts Ulmer, Mrs. R. R. Ramsey, Charlie Burkett, Mrs. C. O. Barnes, B. Williams, Jack Martin, Mrs. Carl Ham and Mrs. J. W. Pinnett.

A committee, composed of Joe Allright, George Norman and C. E. Williams, reports that a protest was made of 1950 cotton allotments for this county. The committee went to College Station to confer with Production and Marketing Administration officials. The state board did agree to study the matter.

A covered dish supper was enjoyed by a large crowd at the First Christian Church. The church recently completed a new building and the inspection tour was made as part of the supper event.

1,920 Bales Ginned—Cotton ginnings as of January 19 totaled 1,920 bales in Andrews County. F. T. McCollum produced 240 bales. George Norman produced 220 bales.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Trotter were Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Morris and Ollinda Gay of Odessa.

Jack Keen of Odessa was a business visitor in Andrews recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Lomis and Miss Frankie Mathews recently visited in Fayetteville, Ark., where Walter Mathews was seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Sikes and daughter, Gay, of Odessa were recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Grant. Other guests included Mrs. Bell Haggard and daughter, Vona Bell.

Wilma Walters of Midland spent a recent weekend here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Walters.

The National Geographic Society says dried sea slugs are one of the chief exports of Port Moresby, New Guinea.

ARMOUR CLOVERBLOOM "99"

VEGETABLE OLEOMARGARINE

IT'S CHURNED IT'S BETTER

Pamper Your Family—and be Thrifty, too

with this Sensational NEW Armour Food Discovery

CLOVERBLOOM "99"

When your recipes call for the finest ingredients, use Cloverbloom "99" with full confidence of achieving the delicate, appealing flavor that distinguishes cooking where there has been no skimping. You'll be enchanted with the tempting taste Cloverbloom "99" adds when used as a seasoning, and in frying and baking. And, your practical side will purr with satisfaction at the money you save by never having to buy the expensive natural spread to win praise for your cooking magic.

No other margarine has ever had the fresh, natural flavor of Cloverbloom "99" . . . because no other margarine has ever been made like this new discovery. Armour scientists worked many years to discover the exclusive new Cloverbloom "99" process. A process so different from ordinary margarine making, we've built an entirely new plant in Texas to produce Cloverbloom "99" for you. The secret is that Cloverbloom "99" is churned, the natural way . . . just like the expensive natural yellow spread it tastes like.

Feast your family with magic cookery using delicious, nutritious Cloverbloom "99." It will earn instant approval on your table as a spread . . . especially from husbands who insist on the finest.

Cloverbloom "99" costs a few pennies more per pound than ordinary margarine . . . but, it is considerably cheaper than the more expensive natural yellow spread it so perfectly duplicates.

Be first in your neighborhood to try this new spread. Hurry to your store, today, and get a pound of Cloverbloom "99." Double your money back, if not completely satisfied.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Important Fellows

One bright and happy day, Mr. Fixit was walking along the Elephant Path, on his way to fix a window that was broken at Daddy Ringtail's monkey house. Mr. Fixit is a very little man no bigger than your thumb, and he was singing out his fixit speech as he came walking along and walking along the Elephant Path. Said he: "I can put the feathers back on the birds. I can put back the leaves on the trees of the forest. I can fix anything. I can, I can! I am a very important fellow."

Huffen stuck his head out the door of his hollow tree house. Said he: "Wait! Wait! Wait for your old friend, the Huffen Puffen!"

"You can walk along, if you want to talk," said Mr. Fuffen, and he didn't wait at all. He had to go fix a window.

But the Huffen was thinking that he was a very important fellow and that anyone should wait for him. "Mr. Fuffen!" he shouted again, "there's a hole in the pocket of my coat, there is, and I want you to fix it, I do!"

But Mr. Fuffen said that the fixing of the pocket would have to wait until after the fixing of the window. The window was first on the fixit list, but if the Huffen would only come along, the pocket could have some fixing later.

"Hah! I shouldn't have to wait, I shouldn't, because I am the most important somebody there is!" Yes, and he said he would say his Huffen Puffen speech to show how important he was. Said he: "I am the Huffen Puffen, I am, I am, and I can huff, and puff, and puff, and huff, and even blow houses in, I can!"

The Huffen turned around to see what Mr. Fuffen thought about this very important Huffen Puffen speech—and to see whether Mr. Fuffen would fix the pocket without any more talking. But Mr. Fuffen was gone on down the Elephant Path, and so the Huffen still had to wait for the fixing of his pocket.

Too bad he couldn't have waited without all the fussing. I think don't you? Yes, when you have to wait for something, you may as well wait happy. Happy day!

'Phantom Bandit' Leaves No Marks

OTTAWA, ILL. (AP)—Police Chief Walter M. Keim is looking for a "phantom bandit" who leaves no marks to show how he enters or leaves the scene of his burglary jobs.

The American Legion hall first was burglarized of $350. Then a few weeks later members of the Knights of Columbus lodge reported they had the same sum stolen. The "phantom's" return try at the Legion hall was less rewarding because little money was left in the building.

Chief Keim has a theory the burglar hides in the buildings until after the club rooms are closed.

Blaze 'Burns Up' Bank Attendants

CAMDEN, N. J.—Bank vault attendants were "burned up" over a fire that started in a pile of 65 canvas sacks containing $13,000 worth of nickels of undetermined origin—burned holes in most of the sacks in the main office of the First Camden National Bank and Trust Company, scattering the coins on the floor.

After the fire was extinguished, the vault attendants had the job of shoveling the nickels up again, running them through a counting machine and re-sacking them to be sent to their original destination, the Philadelphia Federal Reserve Bank.

MACHINE MAKES FOG

Scientists have developed a fog machine able to make any kind of fog. They now hope to be able to learn enough about it to disperse it efficiently, to design fog lights and beacons of better visibility, and possibly even to develop fog screens for military purposes.

Try Shrimp Salad For Lunch

IDEAL BRIDGE LUNCHEON—Giving a bridge or Canasta luncheon? If so, serve this wonderful shrimp and mushroom salad.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Giving a bridge or Canasta luncheon? If so, serve this wonderful salad as the main dish: Curried Shrimp and Mushroom Salad (4 servings)

One cup shelled Brazil nuts, one 3-ounce can sliced broiled mushrooms, one 5-ounce can shrimp, 1 1/4 cup well-seasoned French dressing, 1 cup diced celery, 1/4 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon curry powder.

Cover Brazil nuts with cold water. Bring to boil. Drain and slice the nuts with a very sharp knife. Drain mushrooms and shrimp, saving broth for use in soup. Place nuts, drained mushrooms and shrimp in bowl. Add French dressing and mix thoroughly, tossing lightly with fork.

Cover and let stand in cold place for at least 2 hours. When ready to serve, add celery. Blend together and stir in mayonnaise, salt and curry powder. Serve on lettuce and garnish with water-cress.

Here's another novel salad you will like: Fruit Salad Plate (Serves 1)

1 ripe Anjou pear, 3 orange slices, 3 cooked dried prunes, cream cheese, lettuce cup, cherries for garnish, French dressing.

Arrange lettuce cup or other salad greens on a salad plate. Wash, halve and core the pear and dip cut side of pear in lemon juice. Arrange through the center of the plate.

Arrange orange slices on the back of the plate and place the prunes which have been stuffed with cream cheese between the pear halves with maraschino cherries. Serve with French dressing.

Fresh Pear Cole Slaw (Serves 4)

One cup diced Anjou or Bosc pears, 3 cups chopped cabbage, 1/2 cup salad dressing or mayonnaise, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Wash, quarter and dice fresh pears, leaving the skins on. Chop cabbage coarsely. Mix pears, cabbage, salad dressing and salt.

Arguments Follow Truman's Optimistic Economic Message

WASHINGTON—(AP)—What are your chances of boosting your income by $1,000 come 1956?

Many factors enter into the answer to that question, which you may have been asking since President Truman outlined his goal of a $300,000,000,000 annual output of goods and services within the next five years.

That kind of money, Truman told congress in his economic message would be equal to an average (gain) of $1,000 for every family in the United States.

Whether Truman's hope comes true depends on many things, including economic trends and governmental policies. And if it should come true, the exact amount of increase each family would get would depend, in part on its position in the economic scale.

Not $1,000 For Each Obviously Truman did not mean $1,000 for each and every family in the country. Note the key word "average" in his statement. Evidently, a $40-a-week laborer could not expect as big a cash increase as a $200 engineer, for example.

And there is a big argument, of course, as to whether the president's policies are likely to make it come true. His critics say those policies are apt to lead either to a bust or disastrous inflation.

His friends say they are the only way to bring about an expanding prosperity.

Interpretive Message As to increase in family incomes, a top administration official says Truman's message, taken together with the recent report of his council of economic advisers, can be interpreted in these terms:

"More of the increase should go to the lower-bracket families than in the past.

"If it goes to the upper brackets, a considerable part will be saved, instead of being spent for more and better food, new cars and household goods that make for more jobs and better production."

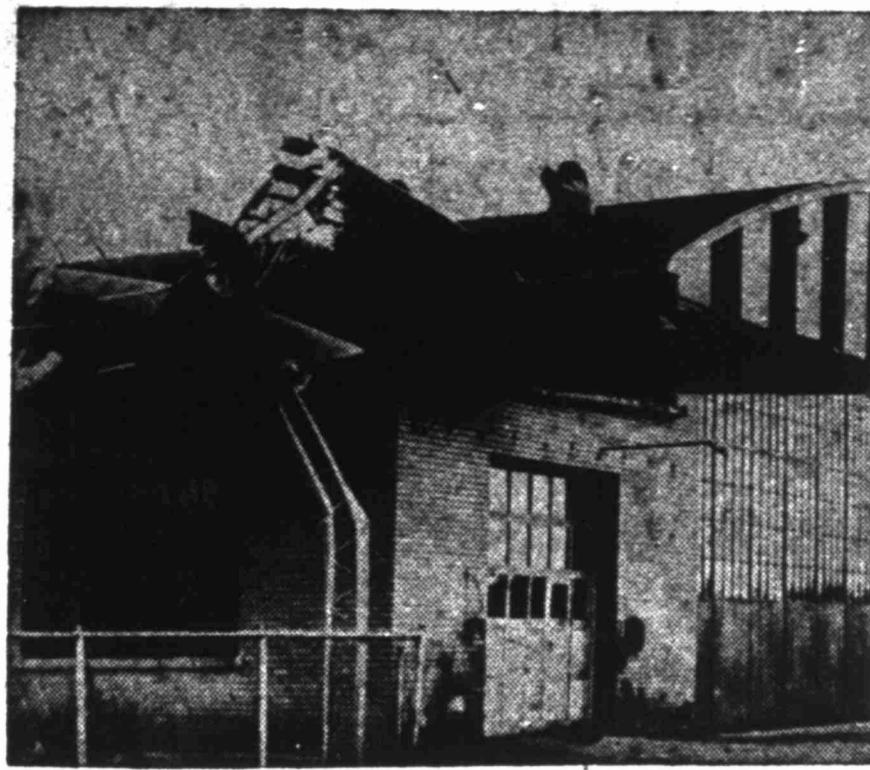

Another school of thought stresses, however, that savings are what make the economic wheels go round by being invested in productive enterprise.

Berlin Is Smaller But Smokes More

BERLIN—(AP)—Berlin's population is about one million less than before the war, but its cigarette consumption has increased by two billion a year.

City statistics show that Berliners smoke eight billion cigarettes a year, compared with six billion in pre-war years. This makes an average of 7 to 8 cigarettes a day for each adult. Also more Berlin women have joined the smokers. Only eight per cent used to smoke 20 years ago. Today it's 36 per cent.

Big Wind Batters Plane

Gale-force winds, ripping through Western New York at an estimated 90 miles per hour, blew this Stinson plane up on the roof of the hangar at Rochester airport. The plane is a total loss. The winds, striking for the second time in four days, caused extensive damage in Rochester. Powerful gusts caused widespread losses along the Niagara frontier.

Russian Influence Not New To Bulgaria

SOFIA—(AP)—The Russian influence is nothing new in Bulgaria. Anybody who walks six blocks through the center of Sofia has that brought home to him by the names of landmarks along the way. The pedestrian can start at the blocklike white limestone mausoleum of Georgi Dimitrov, who came home from Moscow after 22 years in exile to become Communist premier of postwar Bulgaria.

The way leads along a boulevard named for Alexander II of Russia. He warred on the Turks for Bulgaria's freedom. Four blocks down stands St. Alexander Nevsky Bulgarian Orthodox cathedral named for a thirteenth-century Russian warrior. Ahead is a statue of Alexander on horseback. Beyond that is Marshal Tolbukhin street, honoring the Russian leader whose troops were on Bulgarian soil at the time of the 1944 revolt.

Once in danger of extinction, seals breeding on the Pribilof Islands have been restored to abundance.
