Drilling is to be started at once on a 13,000-foot wildcat to test the Ellenburger in Northwest Martin County.

The prospector will be drilled by Spartan Drilling Company and Lewis T. Lohman of Dallas, and Sydney Gardiner of Los Angeles, Calif., as their No. 1 Mrs. Ida Wolcott.

The drillsite is 13 miles northwest of Lenora, and 5,864 feet from west and 1,471.8 feet from north lines of league 251, Ward County School Land survey.

The venture is on acreage secured by Spartan and associates, in a farmout deal with Magnolia Petroleum Company.

That concern had held leases on a solid block of more than 11,000 acres in the vicinity adjacent to the wildcat location.

Approximately half of that block has been checkerboarded and is to be turned to Spartan, et al, for the drilling of the exploration.

The location has been staked, the application to drill has been filed with the Railroad Commission of Texas, and it is expected that a rotary rig will be moved in immediately.

New Pay Found Near The Tex-Harvey Field

A new and shallower pay has been proven for the Tex-Harvey field in Central-East Midland County 15 miles southeast of the city of Midland.

Harry B. Lake of New York, and associates, have officially completed their No. 1 Hugh Dixon, as a producer from an upper section of the Clear Fork-Permian line. That horizon is between 7,110 feet and 7,317 feet.

The two other wells so far completed in the Tex-Harvey field have found the oil and gas in a lower zone located between 7,610 feet and 8,055 feet.

Is A Flowing Well

The Lake and associates, No. 1 Dixon reported a 24-hour flowing potential of 456 barrels of 30.8 gravity oil, plus 10 per cent water. The flow on the completion test was through a three-eighth inch choke. Gas-oil ratio was 520-1.

The open hole pay section between 7,110 feet and 7,317 feet, has been shot with 550 quarts of nitro glycerin.

The new producer is 680 feet from north and east lines of the north-east quarter of the southwest quarter of section 9, block 37, TP survey, T-3-S.

It is one and one-quarter miles northwest of the nearest completed oil well in the Tex-Harvey field.

Pegasus Extension Testing Ellenburger

Republic Natural Gas Company, and associates, No. 1 American Republics Corporation fee, Central-North Union County wildcat, three miles south of the discovery well of the Pegasus-Ellenburger field, and one and three-eighths of a mile southwest of the closest completed producer in that field, is testing the top of the Ellenburger at 13,025-118 feet.

The drillsite test was started at 11:30 p.m. Thursday. The tool was still open at 9 a.m. Friday. Gas showed at the top 40 minutes after the tool was opened. No fluid had come to the surface at the time this report was prepared.

Tester Still Open

It was understood that operators planned to leave the tester open for several hours longer, and then come out and see what the recovery was.

This prospect is 860 feet from north and west lines of section 6, block 40, TP survey, T-5-S. Top of the Ellenburger is at 13,025 feet, which is a datum of minus 10,164 feet. It is 82 feet less than the same company's No. 1 Powell, a producer from the Ellenburger one and three-eighths of a mile to the northeast.

Cable Tool Venture Staked In Crockett

Cummins, Berger & Smith No. 1-B Shannon is to be a 2,000-foot wildcat in Central Crockett County, 13 miles northwest of Ozona.

It is to use cable tools to test to the San Andres-Permian line. The location is in the center of the northwest quarter of the north-east quarter of section 17, block UVX, G.O.S.P. survey.

That makes the prospector one and one-quarter miles northwest of the Vaughn-San Andres field. Operations are to start immediately.

New Parleys Slated In Soft Coal Dispute

WASHINGTON—(P)—Northern and Western coal operators agreed Friday to start new contract negotiations with John L. Lewis Wednesday but held out for an hour late enough to let a court hear unfair labor practices charges against Lewis before the bargaining begins.

They suggested a meeting at 1 p.m.

Lewis had proposed renewal of contract negotiations next Wednesday at 9 a.m.—the same hour when the United Mine Workers are due in court to answer a petition of General Counsel Robert N. Denham of the National Labor Relations Board.

Denham contends Lewis has not been bargaining in good faith and has asked the court to order an end to production-stopping tactics on grounds they are "unfair" labor practices.

Frank Amos, chairman of the North-West negotiating committee, wired Lewis of his acceptance of the proposal for talks Wednesday without qualification except to change the hour of the proposed session.

Resolution Pigeon-Holed

At the Capitol, meantime, the Senate Labor Committee pigeon-holed a resolution by eight Republican senators asking that President Truman invoke the Taft-Hartley Act to restore full coal production.

A motion to postpone action indefinitely was approved 6-5.

The motion was offered by Senator Humphrey (D-Minn.) as a substitute for a resolution by Senator Donnell (R-Mo.) that the committee approve the resolution.

Humphrey argued action should be deferred because "negotiations are underway" looking toward a settlement of the coal dispute.

Art Cole Is Man Of Year

Art Cole, director of the Community Theater here and a prominent civic worker, was named Young Man of the Year 1949 in Midland at a meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Hotel Scharbauer Friday noon. Col. John Perkins, city attorney, made the principal address and presented the award.

Art Cole, chairman of the North-West negotiating committee, wired Lewis of his acceptance of the proposal for talks Wednesday without qualification except to change the hour of the proposed session.

Poll Tax Payments Will Be Accepted All Day Saturday

The total number of poll tax receipts and exemption certificates issued for 1950 totaled 3,152 Friday morning, according to officials in the tax assessor-collector's office.

Receipts and exemption certificates issued Thursday numbered 251.

Officials were getting set for a busy day Saturday and will remain on duty in the afternoon to accommodate those persons who have been unable to get away from their jobs to visit the tax office.

The office usually is closed on Saturday afternoon.

Three clerks were issuing poll tax receipts Friday. Monday and Tuesday there will be four persons on duty in an attempt to take care of the expected rush on these last two days to pay poll taxes.

Voting Requirement

Payment of the tax is a voting requirement and receipts or exemption certificates must be shown at the polls.

It was pointed out that payment of the poll tax is voluntary and is not assessed or included in tax statements.

The JayCees, League of Women Voters and other organizations and individuals are engaged in a campaign to encourage poll tax payments.

This year is an especially important one for voters. Democratic primaries, city and county elections, a general election, school board and special elections are to be held.

Wood Accepts C. Of C. Position By Telegram

Accepting the presidency of the Midland Chamber of Commerce by telegram from New York City, where he is on a business trip, Robert L. Wood pledged his best efforts in the office and urged the continued cooperation of Chamber members in 1950.

Wood was elected president at the annual membership meeting of the organization Tuesday night.

His message to Manager Delbert Downing follows:

"Am highly honored by action of board of Chamber of Commerce. It is with a great feeling of humbleness that I accept this responsibility, but I am assured by the fact that we have the greatest membership in the world. Continued cooperation and work such as our membership has displayed in the past will enable this year of 1950 to be a most successful one. As your president, I pledge my cooperation to each member, director and our staff."

Midland County's total is $18,000.

Bandits Return Half Of Aga Khan Jewels

MARSEILLE—(P)—Half of the Aga Khan's stolen fortune in jewelry—$420,000 worth of gems—turned up mysteriously on a police station doorstep Thursday night.

French police, looking for the last six months for Tommy-guns who held up the Moslem leader on a Riviera highway last August 3, found the valuables in a package outside the Ninth Police Brigade Station here after an anonymous telephone tip-off.

Investigators announced no theories as to who tossed the mysterious package. Presumably it came from one of the holdup gang, possibly alarmed by a series of arrests recently.

The fabulously wealthy Aga Khan, father-in-law of Film Star Rita Hayworth, and his wife, the begum, were robbed as they drove away from their Riviera estate.

Coleman Brothers "Millionaires" will not be able to fill an appearance here Friday night as scheduled, the Optimist Club, sponsor of the program, was advised by telegram Thursday. The singers instead will appear at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Junior High School Auditorium.

Club officials expressed regret that the change was necessitated but they were assured by the "Millionaires" manager that developments had made the Friday appearance impossible.

Warren Approves NPC Findings On Petroleum Imports

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER

WASHINGTON—J. (Ed) Warren of Midland, Texas, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, Thursday afternoon voiced approval of the National Petroleum Council's findings on oil imports.

"We've made a constructive approach," he said, "but we've got to go a lot further to lower imports to the point where they supplement rather than supplant domestic production."

Warren spoke to The Reporter-Telegram's correspondent in Washington shortly after the council had adopted a report finding that "the sharp increase in imports of oil has hurt the domestic oil industry."

The Midland man is a member of the council.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren plan to leave by train for Texas late this week.

Republicans Seek Acheson's Ouster, Renewed Spy Hunt

WASHINGTON—(P)—Producing a fresh sheaf of documents from Whittaker Chambers, Representative Nixon (R-Calif.) Friday demanded a new House investigation into Communist spy activities.

Nixon quoted Chambers—an admitted courier for a Soviet espionage ring in the prewar years—as saying he "got the eight new documents from the late Harry Dexter White, former assistant Treasury secretary."

White died in 1948, a short time after denying to the House Un-American Activities Committee that he ever had passed on confidential data to Chambers. Papers which Nixon showed the House Thursday dealt with such things as U. S. policy toward Japan and the assignment of an American Navy captain to England in 1938 as a "secret liaison man."

Nixon said he will insist that the House committee, of which he is a member, resume the spy inquiry it suspended during the two perjury trials of Alger Hiss, former State Department official.

Blasts Administration

In a one-hour speech in the House Thursday, Nixon denounced the Administration's attitude in the Hiss case and said the Justice Department once had considered prosecuting Chambers instead of Hiss. He said that course would have been to ruin any case against Hiss and others because their principals would have been an "indicted perjurer."

Nixon also claimed President Truman had access to a secret memorandum dated Nov. 25, 1945, saying the Soviet had an agent in this country "who was an assistant" to Edward R. Steettin, then assistant secretary of state.

The lawmaker made clear he (Continued On Page 10)

House Panel Defers Further Inquiry On Export Of Uranium

WASHINGTON—(P)—House investigators gave up for the time being Friday trying to find out just who was responsible for licensing a 1,000-pound uranium shipment to Russia in 1943.

The Un-American Activities Committee may try again late next week. It expects to bring back then the wartime head of the atom bomb project, Lt. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, retired.

Uranium is a key material in the atom bomb. All week long the committee has been trying to learn exactly how and why Russia was allowed to take 1,000 pounds of atomic materials out of the country when atomic project officials thought they had bottled up all sources of supply.

It didn't find out Thursday from former Vice President Henry A. Wallace. It failed earlier with men who used to handle uranium purchases for the atomic project.

But the man President Truman booted out of the cabinet on grounds he took a too pro-Russian foreign policy attitude testified under oath that never at any time, directly or indirectly, have anything to do with expediting any export license of any kind to any nation, or try to influence anybody to issue a license for a uranium product.

Firemen Hoyt Burris and E. D. Fitzgerald manned the equipment to administer oxygen to J. J. Kelly, an emergency medical patient at a Western Clinic-Hospital.

The oxygen was administered from midnight to 2 a.m. when Kelly was declared by physicians to be out of danger.

Master Plan For Defense Kept Secret

WASHINGTON—(P)—The United States and eight North Atlantic Allies signed agreements Friday which will govern the flow of $1,000,000,000 worth of American arms to Western Europe's defenses against possible Russian attack.

It was the last-step-but-one before guns, tanks, planes, ships and raw materials begin moving under the aid program Congress approved last year.

The final step is President Truman's approval of the secret master defense plan worked out last month by military chiefs of the 12 Atlantic Pact countries. That is expected momentarily.

The master defense plan will be kept secret.

It is known that the largest share of the American weapons and raw materials will go to France.

Countries signing agreements, in addition to France, are Britain, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Denmark and Norway.

The language of each country's agreement varies, but the main commitments are identical.

No Armament Transfers

These provide that all countries will pool their defense plans to defend Western Europe against any attack and that no arms furnished them will be turned over to any other nation "without the prior consent" of the United States.

All pledge to "take such security measures as may be agreed" to "prevent the disclosure or compromise of any classified (secret) military articles, services or information."

Spelling out the conditions for American help was the primary purpose of the agreements.

But they also pledge that the United States can get raw and semi-processed materials from the eight countries "upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon."

Plane With 44 Aboard Is Missing

EDMONTON, ALBERTA—(P)—A United States Eighth Air Force C-54 with 36 passengers and eight crew members aboard Thursday, RCAF officials announced Friday.

The four-motored plane is from a strategic support squadron based at Biggs Air Force Base, El Paso, Texas.

The plane was enroute from Edmonton Field at Anchorage, Alaska, to Great Falls, Mont., and last reported its position at 7:09 p.m. over Snag, Yukon Territory. Snag is 1300 miles northwest of Edmonton.

Air Sweep Underway

RCAF said a sweep was being made Friday of Amber Airway No. 2 from Northway, Alaska, to Fort Nelson, British Columbia, covering an area of 20 miles on either side of the air route. The sweep got underway about noon.

An RCAF Dakota stationed at Whitehorse, Yukon, made a night search but found no trace of the missing plane and a communications search also carried out was negative.

American and Canadian Air Forces are standing by at Ladd Field, Alaska, Whitehorse, Watson Lake, Yukon; Fort Nelson and Edmonton.

Air Force officials said the 10th Rescue Squadron USAF at Ladd Field has 12 aircraft either in the area or moving in and the RCAF has a Dakota and a Norseman and a helicopter already in the search district or ready to fly in.

House Democrats Back Truman Stand On Excise Slashes

WASHINGTON—(P)—Key House Democrats were reported standing firm Friday behind President Truman's insistence that any cuts in excise taxes should be balanced by tax boosts elsewhere.

Democratic members of the tax-drafting House Ways and Means Committee were said to have agreed on that position in order to prevent the government from losing revenue through cuts in levies on such things as transportation and amusement tickets, luggage and jewelry.

Republicans kept up pressure for a simple excise repeal bill without the balancing features asked by Truman. One GOP effort to push through such a measure failed Thursday.

That effort came as the House took up a bill—which it later passed—levying a $90,000,000 income tax on part of the $4,500,000 investment earnings of life insurance companies which were untaxed in 1947, 1948 and 1949.

Amendment Rejected

When the bill was brought up, House GOP Leader Martin of Massachusetts offered an amendment proposing a $700,000,000 excise reduction. It would have halved the 20 per cent retail levies on furs, jewelry, luggage and toilet articles and reduced many others.

He failed to get a vote.

Representative Green (D-Tenn.), presiding at the time, held that House rules bar an excise amendment to a bill dealing only with the corporation income tax section of the Internal Revenue Code.

Mrs. B. C. Cook Dies At Residence

Mrs. B. C. Cook of 402 South Fort Worth Street, Midland resident since 1933, died Thursday afternoon at her residence here following a long illness.

A member of the Baptist Church for more than 50 years, Mrs. Cook was born in 1882 in Hood County, Texas.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. Saturday in the Newvie W. Ellis Chapel, with the Rev. Vernon Yearby, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Interment will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Surviving are the husband; four daughters, Mrs. Velma Harms of Houston, Mrs. Lona Mae Cadenhead of Midland, Mrs. Dorothy Harper of Abilene and Mrs. Zona Ward of Fort Worth; three sons, L. M. Cook of Midland, R. L. Cook of Mineral Wells, and Coy B. Cook of Fort Worth; one sister, Mrs. Jennie Baker of Mineral Wells; five brothers, Sam Yeats of Corpus Christi, H. C. Yeats of Cleveland, Texas, C. F. Yeats of Midland, Ervin Yeats of Mineral Wells and Will Yeats of Weatherford. Seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild also survive.

Coffee Drinkers To Aid March Of Dimes

Employees and "grazers" who drink coffee in the Western Clinic-Hospital kitchen during the March of Dimes will be contributing to the polio fund.

French police looking for the last six months for tommy-guns who held up the Moslem leader on a Riviera highway last August 3, found the valuables in a package outside the Ninth Police Brigade Station here after an anonymous telephoned tip-off.

Investigators announced no theories as to who tossed the mysterious package. Presumably it came from one of the holdup gang, possibly alarmed by a series of arrests recent.

The fabulously wealthy Aga Khan, father-in-law of Film Star Rita Hayworth, and his wife, the begum, were robbed as they drove away from their Riviera estate.

Singers' Appearance Here Rescheduled

Coleman Brothers "Millionaires" will not be able to fill an appearance here Friday night as scheduled, the Optimist Club, sponsor of the program, was advised by telegram Thursday. The singers instead will appear at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Junior High School Auditorium.

Club officials expressed regret that the change was necessitated but they were assured by the "Millionaires" manager that developments had made the Friday appearance impossible.

Warren Approves NPC Findings On Petroleum Imports

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER
WASHINGTON—J. E. (Ed) Warren of Midland, Texas, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, Thursday afternoon voiced approval of the National Petroleum Council's findings on oil imports.

"We've made a constructive approach," he said, "but we've got to go a lot further to lower imports to the point where they complement rather than supplant domestic production."

Warren spoke to The Reporter-Telegram's correspondent in Washington shortly after the council had adopted a report finding that "the sharp increase in imports xxx has hurt the domestic oil industry."

The Midland man is a member of the council.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren plan to leave by train for Texas late this week.

Stanton Girl Found

Barbara Charlene Palmer of Stanton, reported missing since Sunday from her home there, was located in Midland Thursday. She was returned to her parents.

Amarillo Newspaperman Is C. Of C. Speaker

Wes Izzard, editor-in-chief of the Amarillo Globe-News, addressed the Midland Chamber of Commerce at its annual membership meeting and banquet Tuesday night in Hotel Scharbauer. Izzard was introduced by Tom Sealy, right, a past president of the Chamber of Commerce, who served as toastmaster. R. D. (Bob) Scruggs, retiring president, who presided at the meeting, is pictured at left. More than 250 persons attended the annual function.

Republicans Seek Acheson's Ouster, Renewed Spy Hunt

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Producing a fresh sheaf of documents from Whittaker Chambers, Representative Nixon (R-Calif) Friday demanded a new House investigation into Communist spy activities.

Nixon quoted Chambers—an admitted courier for a Soviet espionage ring in the prewar years—as saying he got the eight new documents from the late Harry Dexter White, former assistant Treasury secretary.

White died in 1948, a short time after denying to the House Un-American Activities Committee that he ever had passed on confidential data to Chambers. Papers which Nixon showed the House Thursday dealt with such things as U. S. policy toward Japan and the assignment of an American Navy captain to England in 1938 as a "secret liaison man."

Nixon said he will insist that the House committee, of which he is a member, resume the spy inquiry it suspended during the two perjury trials of Alger Hiss, former State Department official.

Blasts Administration

In a one-hour speech in the House Thursday, Nixon denounced the Administration's attitude in the Hiss case and said the Justice Department once had considered prosecuting Chambers instead of Hiss.

Had that course been followed, he said, the effect would have been to ruin any case against Hiss and others because their principal accuser would have been an "indicted perjurer."

Nixon also claimed President Truman had access to a secret memorandum dated Nov. 25, 1945, saying the Soviet had an agent in this country "who was an assistant" to Edward R. Stettinius, then assistant secretary of state.

The lawmakers made clear he (Continued On Page 10)

House Panel Defers Further Inquiry On Export Of Uranium

WASHINGTON —(AP)— House investigators gave up for the time being Friday trying to find out just who was responsible for licensing a 1,000-pound uranium shipment to Russia in 1943.

The Un-American Activities Committee may try again late next week. It expects to bring back then the wartime head of the atom bomb project, Lt. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, retired.

Uranium is a key material in the atom bomb. All week long the committee has been trying to learn exactly how and why Russia was allowed to take 1,000 pounds of atomic materials out of the country when atomic project officials thought they had bottled up all sources of supply.

It didn't find out Thursday from former Vice President Henry A. Wallace. It failed earlier with men who used to handle uranium purchases for the atomic project.

But the man President Truman booted out of the cabinet on grounds he took a too pro-Russian foreign policy attitude testified under oath that never at any time, directly or indirectly, have anything to do with expediting any export license of any kind to any nation, or try to influence anybody to issue a license for any uranium product.

New Resuscitator Used For First Time

The combination resuscitator and inhalator purchased this week by the Midland Fire Department was put into use for the first time Friday.

Firemen Hoyt Burris and E. D. Fitzgerald manned the equipment to administer oxygen to J. J. Kelly, an emergency medical patient at Western Clinic-Hospital.

The oxygen was administered from midnight to 3 a.m., when Kelly was declared by physicians to be out of danger.

Weather Pattern In Texas Is Mixed

By The Associated Press
Texas had two kinds of weather Friday.

In West Texas it was fair and cold.

In East Texas drizzling rain fell in many sections. In other places it was foggy. Low clouds during the night kept temperatures from dropping as low as had been forecast.

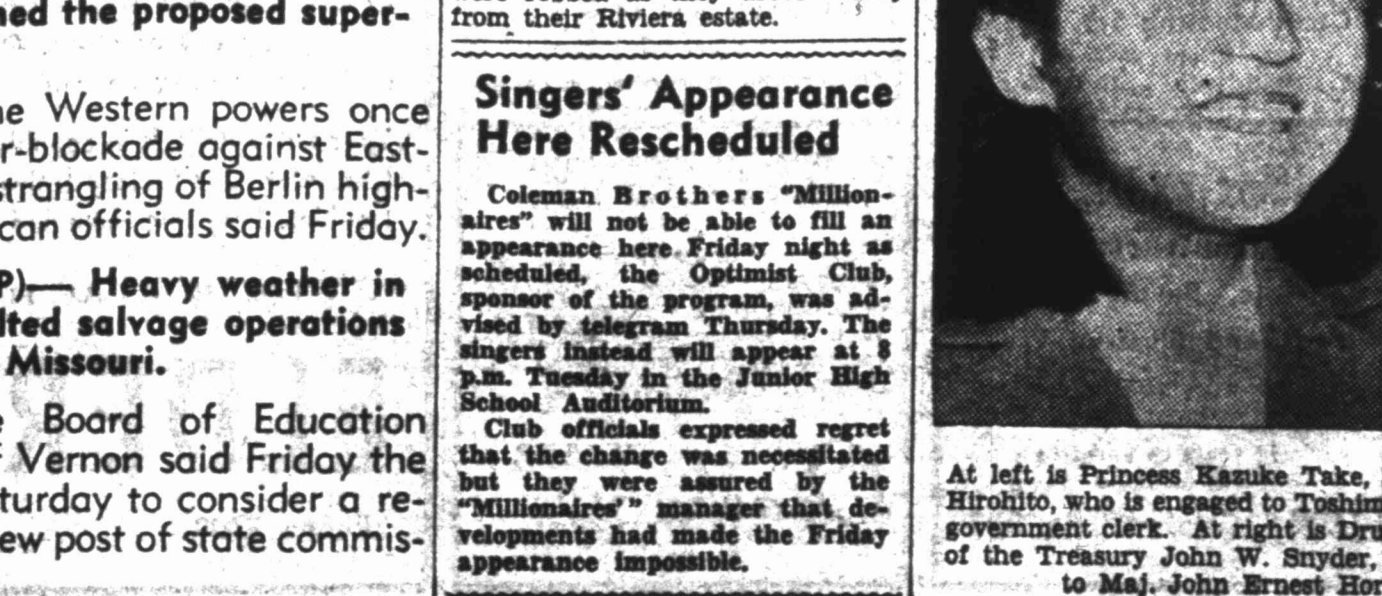

Early morning temperatures included Dalhart, 9, Amarillo 15, Clarendon 12, Childress 13, Lubbock 18, Wichita Falls 16, Midland 23, Dallas 27, Corsicana 29, and College Station 36.

Coffee Drinkers To Aid March Of Dimes

Employees and "grazers" who drink coffee in the Western Clinic-Hospital kitchen during the March of Dimes will be contributing to the polio fund.

W. W. Olson, business manager, Friday announced that he had clamped the 10-cents-per-cup charge on coffee, effectively immediately and the entire proceeds will go into the March of Dimes.

Romance In The News

At left is Princess Kazuko Take, 20, daughter of Japanese Emperor Hirohito, who is engaged to Toshiichi Takasakusa, 26, a 320-a-month government clerk. At right is Drucile Snyder, only child of Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder, who was married Thursday night to Maj. John Ernest Horton, a White House aide.

WEATHER

Fair and not so cold in the Panhandle and South Plains Friday night. Partly cloudy and warmer Saturday. Maximum temperature Thursday 56 degrees. Minimum Friday 23 degrees.

'Poisonous Cooking Utensils' Is A Silly Stubbly Persistent, Old Wives' Tale

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service

The first question in today's group has been coming up again and again for many years. As indicated by the inquirer, it is kept alive by commercial interests.

Q—A certain party is holding demonstrations of stainless steel utensils in and around this community. He gives a health talk with the demonstrations claiming that if we use aluminum cooking ware we are slowly poisoning our families. Is this true?

A—This is certainly not true. There have been careful and extensive studies made of the possibility of poisoning from aluminum cooking utensils and it has been concluded that there is no harm whatsoever from this source. So far as I know, there has never been a single proved case of poisoning from aluminum cooking ware.

Q—Is there any way to dissolve a small kidney stone?

A—Probably not. A few years ago there were some studies made with a solution which could be injected into the upper regions of the urinary tract which seemed to offer some hope of dissolving kidney stones. This has not stood up very well, however, and is not used much.

Q—My little seven-year-old girl has pus on her kidneys. Where else besides the tonsils and teeth could the infection come from?

A—Pus in the urine means that there is infection somewhere in the urinary tract between the kidneys and the external opening. The problem is to find the location of the infection and identify the germ responsible. There are several treatments including streptomycin (a relative of penicillin) which usually can be used to cure such infections. Often the original source does not lie in the teeth or tonsils.

Q—Is there any connection between dandruff and excessive falling of the hair?

A—There is a connection between dandruff and excessive falling of the hair. There is no doubt that many people with dandruff have a tendency to lose hair more rapidly than others do. The cause of dandruff, however, is not exactly known and no one has ever been able to find a fungus responsible. This, of course, is not true for so-called ringworm of the scalp which is a fungus infection.

The cause of dandruff, however, is not exactly known and no one has ever been able to find a fungus responsible. This, of course, is not true for so-called ringworm of the scalp which is a fungus infection.

Q—I always had the idea that anemia and low blood pressure are the same thing, but some tell me they are not. Am I right or wrong?

A—You are wrong.

Q—Is there any known cure for catarrh?

A—I presume by catarrh you mean a condition in which the nose tends to run and there is a drip in the back of the throat which requires a constant hawking and spitting. This probably comes from an irritation of the mucous membrane of the nose from low-grade infection, from irritating chemicals in changes. But fasten your attention on yourself as the center of your difficulties. You will be tempted to confess marginal sins and leave untouched the central sins. But nothing permanent has happened until the center of your difficulty, a wrong self, is replaced by another Self—God—as the center of reference, the center from which you get your life commands and orders. A highly cultured and beautiful woman, after reviewing her life, said with a sigh, "We have everything—and nothing." Everything in the way of outer comforts, yet empty of heart.

You remember the blind man sitting by the wayside begging, who, when they told him that Jesus was calling him, "flung away his garments" and ran to Jesus. You must fling away everything that would hinder you from getting to Christ—your inner dishonesties, and your outer ones, too, your resentments, your wrong sex relationships, your self-centered attitudes—yes, your very self—and run to Him.

O Christ, where else can I run? If I run away from Thee, I shall run away from life, from release, from the Open Door. Help me, then, to fling away everything—yes, my very self—and come to Thee. For I cannot live any longer with myself until I find Thee, my true Self. So I come. Amen.

NOTE ON QUESTIONS

Dr. Jordan is unable to answer directly individual questions from readers. However, once a week, in this "Q & A" column he will answer the most interesting and the most frequently asked questions received during the week.

Q—The air, from allergy to house dust or other substances, or perhaps from climate. Cataract is often difficult to cure although some people get rid of it by a change of climate.

Q—Are any of the competitive sports, such as basketball, crew racing, and track, too strenuous for the boys of about 13?

A—This is a highly complicated question which never has been altogether satisfactorily settled. It has been stated that "a normal healthy child cannot do himself permanent organic injury by physical exertion." However, in my opinion, the desirability of long distance and middle distance track for growing boys has never been proved. The same is true for some of the other sports mentioned. Certainly in the younger-age groups, a careful medical check-up of the condition of the youngster and his ability to engage in strenuous physical competition should be studied at frequent intervals. It is simply not worth taking any unnecessary chances of causing permanent harm by overstraining the heart or other parts of the body.

The cause of dandruff, however, is not exactly known and no one has ever been able to find a fungus responsible. Water Engineer Reports Progress

ABILENE—(AP)—A survey of West Texas water needs will get down to individual town level by March, says Harry Burleigh, state planning engineer of the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation.

Burleigh made this statement Thursday at a meeting of the West Texas Domestic Water Association, an affiliate of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The WTCC last year asked the bureau to survey West Texas water needs and make recommendations for huge multi-city dams to solve municipal shortages.

He said discussions will be held with representatives of the Upper Colorado River Authority, the Bob Baskin Dam Association in Haskell, Stonewall, Knox and Seymour Counties, and an Eastland County project.

He said all projects would be considered on the basis of reimbursements if congressional appropriations for construction are authorized.

Andrews Sisters Say Films Don't Do Them Any Justice

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Current popularity of the Andrews Sisters (their "I Can Dream Can't I" recording was one of the year's biggest sellers) is dusting off some of their old movies for reissue. The girls have been turning down film offers because they feel none of their earlier pictures did them justice.

"The guy who made us up," says Maxine, "was the same guy who made up Frankenstein's monster."

Shirley Temple says she's turning deaf ears to local wolf whistles. Score last week: Ten refusals for dinner dates.

George Jessel's current feelings about reissue: "If I elope with anyone it'll be Ethel Barrymore."

Larry Parks certainly is getting away from his Jolson characterization. In "Prowl Car" he plays a cop and in his own independent "Straw Hat," he'll be a crusading attorney. Ben Bogaus, who produced "Johnny One-Eye," says Wayne Morris will be hot at the box office again when the film is released. It's Wayne's first role as a hero. His career has been in a slump since his heroic duties with the naval air corps... Charles Bickford is booked for an anti-communism lecture tour with funds dug up during research on "Guilty of Treason," the Cardinal Mindszenty story.

What A Mixture It could only happen in Hollywood: A Chinese restaurant, Chang's on the Sunset strip, serves "Chinese Smorgasbord."

Nate Blumberg, president of UI, read the novel, "The Dream Merchants" which lampoons Hollywood, and decided he wanted very much to meet the author, Harold Robbins. He telephoned Annie Laurie Williams, the literary agent, and asked her to arrange the meeting.

Annie chuckled and said: "It won't be very difficult." Mr. Blumberg, "He works in our statistical department as a cost analyst under the name of Harold Robins."

Letter to Ella Raines from an RAF jet squadron in England: "We just organized an Ella Raines fan club. No useful purpose. We just sit around looking at your photograph and go 'Rrrrrrrr.' That's a fan club I'd even join..." The cast of "Kim" will get a five-day vacation at the Normandy Village in Palm Springs when they return from India. Producer Leon Gordon's reward for a job well done... Aside to Quick Magazine, Reader's Digest and Arthur Godfrey. Thanks for the quotes from here.

Wonderful life by George Murphy at a charity drive luncheon where Kirk Douglas was the speaker and Murphy the chairman. Before the luncheon, Kirk told Murphy his stomach was full of butterflies about speaking. Then he stood up and made a brilliant speech. Murphy followed him with:

"Kirk told me he had butterflies in his stomach. I can only say he doesn't have butterflies in his head."
Murphy, by the way, says he's Hollywood's problem boy.

"It's too odd to get the girl and too young to play her father."

THE FIRST STEP UPWARD
You are now ready, I trust, to put your feet upon the ladder and climb out to release and victory. I shall make that ladder very, very plain, for the greatest moment in life has come. The moment of the great choice has come—a decision that will decide all other decisions down the line—a master decision, psychology there is what is called "a major choice"—a choice that doesn't have to be made over again every day. Lesser choices fit into it, not into them.

The ladder will have seven steps. It will be built around the thought of "turn," for that world is a central word in Scripture.

"Turn over in mind your life, its direction and spirit. As you turn it over, you will be tempted to get on the defensive, for it is a hard thing not to defend your life patterns. But be relentlessly honest—look at yourself objectively and refuse to defend any wrong thing in your life. The first step toward complete mental and spiritual health is complete honesty. That ugly self of yours, which you perhaps have dressed up in righteous garments, will plead, excuse, and rationalize. It will try to keep the throne amid all marginal changes. But fasten your attention on yourself as the center of your difficulties. You will be tempted to confess marginal sins and leave untouched the central sins. But nothing permanent has happened until the center of your difficulty, a wrong self, is replaced by another Self—God—as the center of reference, the center from which you get your life commands and orders. A highly cultured and beautiful woman, after reviewing her life, said with a sigh, "We have everything—and nothing." Everything in the way of outer comforts, yet empty of heart.

You remember the blind man sitting by the wayside begging, who, when they told him that Jesus was calling him, "flung away his garments" and ran to Jesus. You must fling away everything that would hinder you from getting to Christ—your inner dishonesties, and your outer ones, too, your resentments, your wrong sex relationships, your self-centered attitudes—yes, your very self—and run to Him.

O Christ, where else can I run? If

Birds And Houses For Them Discussed By Young Sprouters

Discussions on three bird topics were held during the Young Sprouters Junior Garden Club meeting Thursday in the home of Mrs. C. E. Nelson. Mrs. R. C. Bowden was the councillor.

Seven-year-old Corky Moss described the bird house that he has designed and built and the group discussed it.

It was announced that pictures of flowers, birds and animals will be sent from the National Wild Life Conservation Federation, Washington, D. C., upon request.

The three topics discussed were "Why We Have Bird Neighbors," "Ways of Attracting Birds" and "The Uses of Birds."

Attending the meeting were Ann Allen, Linda Bowers, Kathy Nelson, Carolyn Nelson, Martha Bowden, Georgene Peters, Margie Crisman, Patricia Ann Stafford, Charles Leeper, Carolyn White, Wayne Dickerson, June Melton, Allen Smith and Pingle Bowden.

Painting Display To Show Biblical Study

An unusual interpretation of a religious theme in painting, Cecil Casabier's study titled "Joseph in Egypt," will be among the Casabier paintings to be shown in a display at the Palette Club Studio on February 5.

Casabier, young San Antonio artist who is a native of Fort Stockton and the brother of Mrs. V. C. Major of Midland, will be a teacher for a winter art class sponsored by the Midland Palette Club Art Center, beginning immediately after the exhibit.

The painter has a number of awards, including a prize in the Houston Annual Exhibition of Painting and Sculpture in October and third place in popular voting at the River Art Show in San Antonio, where work from over the Southwest, New York and Hawaii were exhibited.

He has been absorbed recently with Old Testament themes, which he approaches in the abstract. "Joseph in Egypt" is a symbolic study built about the small figure of Joseph. It has been selected to hang in the Wittie Museum at San Antonio, where another religious painting, "And God Looked Upon the Children of Israel," has been shown. The latter picture represents God as a huge eye from which flow crystal teardrops.

The painter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Casabier of Fort Stockton and was reared in that West Texas town. His work was featured in an art exhibition held recently by the Magno Ustil Study Club of Fort Stockton, which was similar in scope to the Midland Art Festival of last May.

Casabier holds a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Southern California and plans to go to New York next fall for further study.

Full-Dress Staging Points Up Children's Theater Play Story

Fantasy plus homely sentiment, which are blended in the familiar tale of Rip Van Winkle, are emphasized in the Children's Theater production of "The Return of Van Winkle," a three-act play to be presented Friday and Saturday nights and in a matinee Saturday afternoon. They used Valentine decorations on the tables.

Production details for this play have been worked out more carefully than is customary for Children's Theater programs, where the audience is often called upon to use imagination to supply backgrounds. The settings are supplied this time, with such realistic effects as a painting that comes to life and a mountain thunderstorm.

Art Cole, Midland Community Theater director, directs the play and is assisted by a committee from the Midland Service League.

Costumes of the Dutch villagers of New York in the late eighteenth century, and staging, especially in the mountain scenes with thunder and lightning adding to the wild aspect of rugged rocks, help make the fantastic story of Rip's 20-year sleep believable.

Opening Friday Night

Lights, setting, costumes and makeup had their effectiveness tested at a preliminary performance Thursday night in the City-County Auditorium, where the curtain will rise at 7:30 p.m. Friday for the actual opening. The pre-showing was presented for negro children—and a number of adults, whose full attention was held by the play.

Norris Creath in the title role is the only adult in the cast. He plays the happy-go-lucky Rip of the earlier scenes and the bewildered old man of the last in the frankly sentimental fashion that the lines call for.

Adult actors traditionally do not relish the competition of child actors, who are notorious "scene stealers," but Creath shares the

Heartening Signs

Here and there heartening signs are seen that the country is starting to grapple seriously with the problem of protecting its basic wealth—its resources of land, water,
minerals and forests.

Yale University has announced establishment of a new graduate program of research and teaching in conservation of natural resources. The school believes the time has come for the colleges to undertake the training of competent personnel in this field.

Backing for the program comes from the Conservation Foundation, an organization headed by Fairfield Osborn, noted conservationist, who calls it a "step of extraordinary importance." Osborn's group currently is engaged in a painstaking survey of the nation's ground water resources.

At the same time, we learn that President Truman's special Water Resources Policy Commission already has met and agreed to survey water problems "from the headwaters of the country's rivers to the sea."

Water is of course only one part of the general problem, but right now it is uppermost in people's minds because of shortages in the East. And it's as good a place as any to begin. Failure to maintain ample water supplies will throttle the country's growth as emphatically as any other resource failure.

But the kind of thing the commission is doing should be done for all resources. Congress often must regret having abolished the old National Resources Board. It was well equipped to keep the nation wisely informed on its inventory of natural wealth. The job it could have done now must be performed by other agencies—piecemeal.

We should chart carefully the known resources, measure them against the likely consumption of an expanding population, set up rules for their wise use. Where shortages are presently or potentially serious, we also should focus on further explorations to turn up new supplies.
And as a vital backstop we should push the development
of adequate substitutes to have ready when any key resource plays out.

These steps are so elemental they sound obvious. But up until now we haven't done very much about them.

Pretty Rough Treatment

Charles Waichekaskauskas of Collinsville, Ill., has been a coal miner for 37 years. And now, suddenly, he's out of a job because other men in his union, the Progressive Mine Workers, refuse to work with him.

Why? The 56-year-old miner plans to heat his new home with gas instead of coal. And the union local's by-laws bar its members from using gas for home heating.

Waichekaskauskas is well aware of the rules. But he says fumes from coal in his present house make his son violently ill.

Attention rival United Mine Workers: if the PMW
local declines to reconsider what appears to be its extremely harsh action, we suggest that you recruit this veteran miner and find him a good job.

No one can blame miners for trying to protect themselves by keeping coal in wide use. But rules that can't be relaxed to meet special human needs don't deserve much general sympathy.

The Woman Pays?

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

—By Drew Pearson

Drew Pearson says: Taft works miracle pulling stingers from Democrats' report on T-H Act; Instances of intimidation by Southern employers blue-penciled by him; Truman planned to use report against Ohioan in coming campaign.

WASHINGTON — GOP Senator
Bob Taft has just shown himself a real miracle worker—this time by pulling wires inside the Democratic Party.

Taft, generally considered the arch enemy of labor, would be the last person expected to dictate a Democratic report on the Taft-Hartley Act. But that is essentially what he did behind closed doors of the Senate Labor Committee.

Although the Democrats have the votes to say what they please in any Senate labor report, Taft managed to milk the vinegar out of a Senate report criticizing the Taft-Hartley law.

Worn by Tom, comma by comma
the Democrats gave in to Taft until he slashed the original, 49-page report critical of the T-H Act down to 16 pages which weren't critical at
all. All that is now left is an outline for future investigation, written in genteel Sunday school language.

Two Democratic senators, Jim Murray of Montana and Matt Neely of West Virginia, put up a fight against Taft. But even they backed down in order not to antagonize Republican support for a $135,000 appropriation to continue investigating labor-management relations.

The original report—before Taft pulled out the stingers—won't be released to the press, but this column
has obtained a copy.

Uncensored Version
The most important section chopped out by Taft, deals with trade unionism in the South, and charges that "industrial unionism (in the South) has lagged far behind other parts of the country."

"Desire for union organization has been successfully resisted by a substantial number of employers," declared the uncensored version before Taft toned it down. "Terrorism and intimidation, often resulting in violence, is still reported in some sections, although this tendency is thought to be on the decrease. On the other hand . . . organized labor feels that an employer determined to resist
union organization can do so successfully and remain substantially within the law, and that an increasing number of attorneys have developed expanding practices advising employers of the devices available to them in this field."

All this was blue-penciled by Taft,
even though the National Labor Relations Board was cited for proof.
Here are some of the shocking case histories which Taft chucked in the wastebasket:

Regarding the Russell Manufacturing Company of Alexander City, Ala., the original report declares:
"The trial examiner (of the NLRB)
found that the company management planned and carried out an assault on the union organizer, that the personnel director of the company hired a man to beat up a union employee and that the local chief of police, acting in behalf of the company, ordered the union organizer to 'leave town or he would be taken out and mobbed.'"

"Had 'Killed People Before'"
"It was found that a Mr. Alford, acting for the company, stated to a group of company employees that 'he would kill him (the union organizer) if it took him two years,'
adding that he had 'plenty of ammunition' that he had 'killed people
before' and that he would do it again."

Again, in the case of the Anchor-Rome Mills, the uncensored report declared: "The NLRB ordered the company to cease and desist from 'instigating, encouraging or assisting physical assault or threats of physical violence.' The trial examiner's report refers to the shocking assaults
upon two female pickets and upon several other male strikers." The company was also ordered to cease
and desist from procuring pistol licenses for its management officials for the purpose of intimidating or coercing strikers."

Taft also deleted the experience of Mrs. Edna Martin, a middle-aged woman who tried to organize employees of the American Three Co., in Tallapoosa, Ga.
"She was kidnapped from her room
and ordered by his abductors not to come back to Tallapoosa, or you will be shot on sight," according to the uncensored report. Later,

"armed employes came out of the plant, drove union representatives from the gates when they were passing out union literature. And at another time a man and his wife were beaten into insensibility when the man attempted to pass out copies of the Georgia Labor News
on a public sidewalk."

Not all anti-union activity in the South has been so violent, but Taft even went out of his way to emphasize the non-violent practices. Some of these, cited in the original report,
are:
"When organization of the plant is being formed, supervisors and so forth are instructed to warn employees discreetly of the dire results
which will follow if the union is established in the plant, and these warnings usually suggest reduction of the work force or threat that the plant will close completely."

"Harassment of union organizers and sympathetic employes, surveillance of union activities and threats of loss of employment are emphasized by the discharge of those employees most active in the union,"
the original report continued. "These may be accompanied by large scale layoffs with the implied threat that they will be permanent if the union
drive is successful."

"If the union files charges of unfair labor practices, the election for union certification is suspended until the charges are disposed of. On the average, this means a delay of almost 17 months before final determination by the NLRB. Such a lapse of time must often result in the complete disintegration of union organization."

Taft scrutinized each word in the report and knocked out almost everything that displeased him.
Another significant statement that didn't show up in the Taft-censored version was this criticism of Taft's T-H Act: "It is also asserted that since the passage of this (Taft-Hartley) Act there has been a pronounced trend toward a more liberal management relations, making the solution of problems more complex, difficult and expensive and throwing increasingly large numbers of cases into the hands of lawyers, arbitrators and governments."

In short, Taft struck out all the hostile references to the Taft-Hartley Act from a Democratic report which Truman planned to use against him in the coming campaign.
It was like being given the privilege of removing the bullets from a gun
that will be used to fire at you.

Peron Craves Opposition
Diction of Peron or Argentina privately has advised his employees that he wants to see formation this year of a new "opposition" party against him, but
by elements of his own following.
The girl gaucho summoned a dozen of his top henchmen to a secret conference at his Buenos Aires
home the night of January 2.

Peron informed the group that the "old political gangs" (Argentina's long-established Conservative, Radical and Socialist parties) were now
'effectively decimated and thoroughly discredited.' He added that it was time to "implement my recent call for the formation of a new party of loyal opposition."

Then he sprang his surprise proposal that the so-called collabora-tionist radical splinter faction
which broke with the parent party
in 1946 to support Peron be given the task of setting up the new "opposition" party.

These men, he explained blandly,
could be relied upon to found a party "whose basic aims and principles will coincide satisfactorily
with our own, while at the same time providing a separate list of candidates on election day."

This idea was, of course, enthusiastically received by all present.
Thus Peron, who always has favored giving his dictatorship a novel,
personal touch seems about to add other brand-new wrinkles: The totitarian state under two parties
with but a single though—Peronism forever.

Peru's Phony Election
Another democracy gone sour that hopes to be acquitted on a technicality in Peru, where presidential elections will be held later this year

—with about 60 per cent of the electorate deprived of the right to vote
for candidates of their own choosing.

Big Gen. Manuel Odría, chief of the military junta which seized power from Peru's legally constituted government 15 months ago,
recently announced plans for the election "in the near future." Every adult citizen will be allowed to cast
a ballot, he said, but the Apristas,
who cast 62 per cent of the votes
five years ago, cannot put up a nominee.

As soon as Odría made his announcement — modestly refraining from mentioning his own plans—
his loyal stooges of Lima's controlled and government-subsidized press began whooping up an Odría-centered campaign. The smooth scheme, carefully plotted some months ago, is for the tough but colorless little general and some
"old" civilian opponent to run against each other until about a week before election. Then the accommodating "rival" will withdraw in Odría's favor.

Questions and Answers

Q—How did the expression "Not a Chinaman's chance" originate?
A—This expression dates from the California gold rush. Thousands of coolies were imported for labor in the gold fields and elsewhere. The Chinese laborers were paid starvation wages and had no rights whatever. In a miner's court of law, the Chinese were even allowed the plea of self-defense. Hence the expression,
"Not a Chinaman's chance."

Q—Has the President the right to veto any bill that is presented to him?
A—The President may veto any bill regardless of its character. He may veto both private and public bills, but he cannot veto separate items of bills.

Q—What event is celebrated by the Democratic Party on Jackson Day?
A—Jackson Day pays tribute to Democratic President Andrew Jackson and celebrates his victory over the British at the Battle of New Orleans in 1815.

Q—When was the Liberty Bell
cracked?
A—In 1835, while tolling for the death of Chief Justice John Marshall.

Q—Why have geographers discontinued showing the Antarctic
Ocean on maps?
A—Scientists now regard Antarctica as a continent, not an ocean.

Former Scout Leader Faces Morals Charge

DALLAS — (AP)—A one-time Sunday school teacher and Boy Scout leader has been charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor and with sodomy.

The man, James Manly Edwards,
is accused of organizing nude swimming parties involving at least a dozen Southeast Dallas youngsters,
including one ten-year-old girl.
The 47-year-old suburban bank
teller also is accused of taking pictures of the swimming parties and of having improper relations with two of the boys.

Modesty Proves Expensive Trait

TULSA, OKLA. — (AP)—Modesty
comes high in Tulsa.
Frank M. Denham, Jr., Wichita Falls, Texas, salesman, told police a woman entered his hotel room Thursday while he was taking a shower. She grabbed his bluffet containing $115 and ran out,
he said.
"I have chased her," Denham
said, "but I didn't have a stitch of clothes on."

The women's national team-of-four championship was one of the events which established a new attendance record last year with 57 teams entered. This event ended in a tie between a Philadelphia and a Washington, D. C., team.

The Philadelphia team consisted of Mrs. L. C. Robinson, Mrs. Henry Sabott, Mrs. R. H. Sondheim and Mrs. C. T. Evans. The Washington

team consisted of Mrs. F. Eberson of Memphis, Tenn., Mrs. E. P. Cotter, Miss Kathleen McNutt and Mrs. Ernest Boscham, all of Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Cotter (sitting east) won a match for her team when she made a part score contract of two spades
on today's hand.

South cashed her three high diamonds and then shifted to the four of hearts. Mrs. Cotter won this trick with the queen in dummy,
then cashed the ace of spades and the ace and king of hearts. She played a small spade which North won with the king.

Without a moment's hesitation
North returned the five of clubs, hoping to fool Mrs. Cotter. But
Mrs. Cotter had already analyzed South's hand. Having failed to open the bidding, declarer knew that South could not hold the ace of clubs, as she already had shown up with the ace, king and queen of diamonds.

She also knew that South could not have held the king of spades.
That was why she did not bother to take the spade finesse, or to jump up with the king of clubs.

If Mrs. Cotter had been careless and let the club return ride around to her lack, her contract would have been set one trick and her team would not have been tied for first place.

Big Street Parade Opens Fort Worth Stock Show, Rodeo

FORT WORTH — (AP)—Broncs,
boots and blue jeans held sway in Fort Worth Friday.

The 54th Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show got underway for the day-end parade Friday. The parade featured several floats which carried thousands of people to see 'em.

A list of 341 entries were on hand for the big rodeo that goes with the stock show.

Prize cutting horses, Quarter Horses and other show horses also participated in divisions of their own.
Gov. Allan Shivers was due to head the big street parade opening the exposition. He's also down for several meetings and to make several speeches.

More than 4,000 cattle, sheep,

WASHINGTON COLUMN
Expect New Industrial Safety Program To Stir Up Rumpus

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—Quite a fuss may be in the making over President Truman's budget message request for $6-000,000 to start a new industrial safety program.
National Safety Council, the big, privately-financed organization for promoting safety in homes and on highways as well as in factories, foresees encroachment on its activities and feels that business can promote safety better and cheaper than the government.

U. S. Chamber of Commerce, while endorsing present safety programs in which the federal government cooperates with the states,
feels that any enlargement of federal functions is unnecessary.

Beyond this, the issue is somewhat tangled in labor union politics. Railway brotherhoods and mine workers
are protected by federal safety laws.
American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations feel there also should be federal factory inspection. Their position is that state safety laws vary so much in standards and are so poorly enforced in some states that U. S.
government supervision and uniformity are necessary.

Interstate Commerce Commission
now administers four federal safety programs in which the federal government cooperates with the states.
These are: transportation of explosives. A safety section of the Bureau of Motor Carriers inspects trucks and buses. In all these fields, federal employees do the actual inspection and enforcement of specific safety laws.

Uncle Sam Already Active
From this summary, it can be seen that the federal government already is in the safety business quite extensively. There are two bills now pending Congress to extend these programs to factory inspection. In one, introduced by Rep.
Tom Burke of Ohio, a new Bureau
of Accident Prevention would be set up in the Department of Labor to do the whole safety job. This is the AFL-CIO bill.

It would create an Accident Prevention Board for each industry. It would be made up of labor and management representatives, with a public chairman. These boards would be empowered to make rules
for elimination of unsafe conditions.
Federal inspectors would be given the right of entry into manufacturing plants to conduct investigations.
Regulations of the boards would be enforceable in the courts by injunctions. This is the bill of which the National Safety Council, U. S.
Chamber of Commerce and other such organizations are afraid.

The other bill, which the Truman administration is backing, takes a slightly different approach. It has been introduced in the House by Rep. Andy Jacobs of Indiana, in the upper chamber by Senator Olin D.
Johnston of South Carolina. The Johnston bill was reported favorably
by the Senate Labor Committee last year and is ready for a vote. In brief, it would provide only federal grants in aid to the states for enforcement of their separate safety laws.

Would Be Run By States
The actual factory inspection job
thus would be done by the state departments of labor. Grants to any state could be up to three-fourths of its own expenditures to promote safety, on the basis of population,
number of workers and hazards in its industries. A grant could be frozen if the secretary of labor
found that a state's safety program
met specified minimum requirements.

William J. Connolly, director of the Bureau of Labor Standards in the Department of Labor, favors this system of handling factory safety inspection by the states. He is a former labor commissioner of Rhode Island. He says factory inspection is too big a job for the federal government. He points to the fact that Federal Wage and Hour Law inspectors are able to cover only eight per cent of U. S. manufacturing plants a year, and at a cost of $5-000,000 a year.

As to the need for greater safety
promotion, Connolly cites the 2,000-000 industrial accidents and 19,000 deaths every year. Accidents rose to a peak of 2,800,000 in 1943, but have been gradually declining. Direct costs to lost wages and damages have been estimated at $4,500-000,000 a year, with indirect costs
four times as great.

More than 70 per cent of the accidents are in small plants.
It is to strengthen the state safety inspection services that the Truman proposal for $6,000,000 grants to the states has been sent to Congress.
The President's National Industrial Safety Conference, which met at the White House last March and September and will meet again next June, has called for a 50 per cent reduction in industrial accidents in the next three years.

What's RIGHT?

You are going to a distant city

WRONG WAY: Write a friend

RIGHT WAY: Make your hotel

End of a Chapter
By Edwin Rutt

THE STORY Alice Pine is a new literary secretary to the popular writer, Mrs. Muriel Halleck,
whose pen name is "Jo Palgrave."
Alice likes Muriel and Muriel likes Alice, but Muriel's husband, Earl,
has met Brent, the writer's artist husband, and Brent's feelings for year-old nephew who was adopted by the Hallecks after his parents were killed in an accident. Alice is not pleased with Brent's disposition and she has just witnessed earl's quarrel with Muriel. Brent over her cutting down of a hundred-dollar vase. Muriel says that Brent says like a "spoiled baby." Brent says, "This land, and what grows on it, is mine."

They tried it, exhaustively but futilely. The words that flowed so easily to Muriel's fingertips balked
at getting off her tongue.

"Oh, darn it! Muriel exclaimed at last. "It's no use. The just wooden Indian. Why wasn't I born an Edgar Wallace or an E.
Phillips Oppenheim? They made fortunes simply by talking to pretty girls and into dictaphones."

"You were born a Jo Palgrave," Alice reminded her. "That puts you in the upper brackets."

THE little incident about the tree
in the garden increased Alice Pine's natural curiosity about Brent Halleck. She wondered why anyone who could afford a lei-sured life in this charming spot
could or should be, as Brent apparently was, perpetually discontented and almost truculent. In her opinion, both the Hallecks, Muriel and Brent, were at the top of the world.

Muriel seemed sensible of that fact and was becomingly grateful
about it. She was gay, cheerful, even dispositioned. As her writing,
Muriel drove herself relentlessly,
but she knew how to stop and
throw the work out of her mind.
She had a calmness, even a serenity that was remarkable in a creative person. After the first week of close contact with Muriel, Alice had yet to see the woman actively irritable.

Eventually Alice decided that Muriel had been right. Brent was spoiled. With that conclusion,
Alice stopped thinking about him.
He was a side issue, anyhow. Her business here was with Muriel.
As the days passed she found it a pleasant business. After the feverish operation of an advertising agency's play, she did not even have to take shorthand. To Mu-riel's own great disgust, she could not dictate satisfactorily.

"Well," Muriel tapped a pencil against her strong white teeth,
"Neither Brent nor I play, but we belong to the Tollyver club. I'll fix it for you to have a round occasionally."

That was why, on a certain
afternoon, Alice slipped away, leaving Muriel wrestling with a tricky plot in her story.

The golf club was a nine-hole affair, and informal. It was deserted, too, as far as the first tee was concerned. Alice drove a ball and split the fairway for wild yards.
But on the second hole her drive landed in the rough near a clump of trees.

She found the ball after a short search, in a bad lie. She was pulling out a niblick when she heard the oath. A round, whole-souled oath in a deep contralto voice.
Alice swung around.

A tall woman in tweeds matterialized from the little grove of trees. She picked up a golf bag, hitherto hidden by tall grass, and stamped her foot. Then she saw Alice.

"Heaven! I thought I was alone," she exclaimed.

Alice controlled a desire to laugh. "Well, I just got here."

The woman came up. She had chestnut hair streaked with gray
and a long bony face. "With 'I'
gotten—here," she pointed at Alice's ball. "I'm lost in the blasted woods. But I won't look for my ball any longer."

"I'd be glad to help you," Alice said.

"Thanks. I'm beyond help in this game. Am you playing alone
by chance?"

Alice replied that she was. The tall woman hesitated.

"Well, I'm terrible. But why don't we go on together?"

"Certainly," Alice said.

NOT DEAD... BUT SLEEPING

We know a man who says, "When you're dead, you're dead." Wonder what he would think of this picture?

This is a picture of things that seem dead. Barren trees, shrubs laden with snow, and a million blades of grass buried beneath the winter's mantle.

But we know these things are not dead... just sleeping. Waiting for another Spring... waiting to blossom and flourish again.

And it is that knowledge that enables us to see beauty in a winter scene; how morbid our picture if we didn't know that Spring would come again.

The Christian belief in a life hereafter is vital to man's happiness and courage. It is one of the many truths our Churches teach which can enrich your life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his sake of his community and nation. (2) For the sake of his children's sake. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Pocket Downside Up

Mr. Fixit is the very little man, no bigger than your thumb. He lives in Daddy Ringtail's Great Forest. Mr. Fixit was hurrying down the Elephant Path on his way somewhere to fix something for somebody.

He was just passing the Huffen Puffen's hollow tree house when the Huffen Puffen stuck his head out of his door and called, "Oh, Mr. Fixit, wait up for your old friend the Huffen Puffen." Mr. Fixit stopped when he heard the Huffen Puffen. "Can't help you right now, I'm in a hurry. Be back later," called Mr. Fixit. "But I'm a very important fellow," said the Huffen, and he came out of his hollow tree house and scooped Mr. Fixit up in his hand. "Now my little man," said the Huffen. "I want you to sew up the hole in my coat pocket."

"No No!" shouted Mr. Fixit, shaking his fist at the Huffen. "I'm not your little man, and I am much too busy to fix your pocket now. Put me down! Put me down!"

But the Huffen wouldn't listen. He put Mr. Fixit in the pocket of his coat, and down he sat by the Elephant Path to be very still while Mr. Fixit sewed up the hole in the pocket.

It was a warm, sunny day, and before long the Huffen was fast asleep. When he awoke, he yawned and stretched. Then he remembered about Mr. Fixit in his pocket to fix the hole that was there.

But when the Huffen tried to put his hand in his pocket, it wouldn't go in. He pushed and he tugged and he pushed. "Please let me in my pocket, Mr. Fixit," begged the Huffen.

Mr. Fixit didn't answer, and what do you think? Mr. Fixit had sewed up the top of the Huffen's pocket and had gone out the hole that was in the bottom of it—the one that the Huffen had wanted Mr. Fixit to sew up. And now, the Huffen Puffen had a pocket downside up.

Well, it wasn't too terrible. Mr. Fixit fixed it later, but the Huffen will remember that: it's better to wait for a letter of commendation from the Commander of the Texas VFW for having surpassed 1949 membership in 1950. The records show that through January 19, the post has more than doubled its 1949 membership. Ken G. Spencer is commander of the Allen-Brunette Post.

T. N. White was admitted to Crane Memorial Hospital as a medical patient. His condition is reported good.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Young announce the birth of a son, Maurice Wayne, born January 21. He weighed seven pounds, 11 1/2 and three-quarters ounces. The Youngs have another child, Hollie, three. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. Bromley, and Mrs. Ella Young.

CRANE—The Crane County Hospital under the direction of Mrs. J. H. Brandon, superintendent, admitted more than 250 bed patients during the last three months of 1949. An average of five patients a day were treated in the emergency room. Mrs. Brandon is assisted by Mrs. Lou Huffman. The hospital employs six registered nurses and six practical nurses. The Crane post of VFW has received a letter of commendation from the Commander of the Texas VFW for having surpassed 1949 membership in 1950. The records show that through January 19, the post has more than doubled its 1949 membership. Ken G. Spencer is commander of the Allen-Brunette Post.

Slaying Of Tex Thornton Remains Unsolved Mystery Despite Fingerprint Clues, Tips

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD Associated Press Staff

The sheriff's department at Amarillo still spends a lot of time running down tips on the slaying of W. A. (Tex) Thornton.

"We run 'em all down," Chief Deputy Sheriff Murphy Hurd said, "hoping every tip will lead to a break in the case."

"But we haven't had a tip of any value in five long months." Thornton, daring explosives expert of the world's oil fields, was found murdered in an Amarillo motel last June 23. His skull was fractured in two places and his shirt and a towel were knotted around his throat. His money and his car were gone.

Officers found that the oil field fire fighter gave a young man and woman a ride in New Mexico on June 22 and brought them to Amarillo. They killed Thornton, robbed him, and fled in his car. They abandoned the automobile at Dodge City, Kan.

The hunt for the killers was intense—an intensity fanned by anger at the brutality of the deed and by a $5,000 reward raised in Amarillo.

Suspects Arrested A dozen young couples were arrested in various Southwestern states. Interest ran high with every new arrest—but each was able to prove its innocence.

On June 30, Sheriff Paul Gaither filed a murder charge against "R. L. Leach, address unknown." Sheriff Gaither got the name from a laundry mark.

"We never have been able to find any R. L. Leach," said Hurd. "The name on the charge may be changed to John Doe."

The sheriff's department has four fingerprint clues—two from the motel room and two from Thornton's automobile—but it never has been able to match them.

ponder, said tips on the slaying have come mainly from Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico, California, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

"We get tips by telephone and by mail. A lot of them are anonymous. But we even run down the anonymous tips. We're mighty anxious to catch those killers. And I feel that one of these days, we'll get 'em."

In excavations at the tomb of King Zoser, an Egyptian monarch, who ruled about 3000 B. C., elaborate beer mugs were found.

Prince To Play Here

Webb Buys Slugger In Cash Deal With Lubbock

Owner-Manager Harold Webb of the Midland Indians Friday announced the purchase and signing of Big Jim Prince for the 1950 season. Webb said he bought Prince from the Lubbock Hubbers in a straight cash deal with M. L. Wilkison, owner, and the big first baseman now is the property of the Midland Indians with no strings attached.

The deal had been cooking since the end of last season. Webb made Wilkison an offer for Prince this week and the Lubbock owner accepted it in a telephone conversation Thursday afternoon.

Big Jim was with Midland in 1947 and 1948. He was drafted by Lubbock in 1948 and played with the Hubbers last year, hitting .374.

"I am very happy to be back with the Midland Indians," Prince said. "I had made up my mind to play for Harold Webb this year or to quit the game."

Webb acquired Prince that year and he had his biggest season while playing here.

"Contrary to rumors floating around, there has been no ill feeling between Jackie Sullivan and me," Prince said. "I liked playing with the Hubbers but I like it better in Midland. This is where I will make my home from now on."

Prince says he is in good shape for the coming season and feels ready to go.

Harold Webb expressed appreciation to Wilkison at Lubbock for making the deal and said, "I certainly am glad to have Jim back with the Indians."

Jim Prince

Webb and returned to Midland before the Longhorn campaign got underway.

He had another fine season, batting .343 in the regular season, to help the Indian to a third-place finish. He was even more important in the playoffs, where the Indians won the Longhorn League pennant. His Longest Homer.

Once during the 1947 season, Prince smashed a bases-loaded home run in the last of the ninth inning against Odessa to win the July 4th ball game. The homer is remembered here as the longest ever hit in Indian Park. Prince broke his bat, so much power did he put into the swing.

Again in the 1948 season he came through. Prince injured and was in the stands watching the game. He saw the need for his big bat and got into uniform. He went to the

Citation's Return To Racing Marred By Argentine Nag

ARCADIA, CALIF. —(AP)— Citation, for only the third time in 31 starts, has come off the turf second best.

Citation's return was marred Thursday by Mice, an unraced little gray horse from the Argentine.

The small one, ignoring the greatness of his rival, outgamed Citation and whipped him by a neck in a six-furlong thriller at Santa Anita Park.

The race was Citation's second trip to the post after a 13-month layoff due to leg injury, and it was a tune-up for the Calumet cannon-ball for the $50,000 Santa Anita Handicap February 11 and the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap February 25.

It was a full-scale race for Mice, however, as he took Citation's measure and whipped the winner, paid $30.20. Citation was 1-4.

Veck Reported Angling For Senators Or Bruins

By RUSS NEWLAND
SAN FRANCISCO —(AP)— Baseball's grapevine belts this report clear across the country: Bill Veck has made overtures and now may be negotiating for controlling interest in either the Washington Senators or the Chicago Cubs.

The source of the report may not be disclosed, but always has been reliable.

Veck became baseball's boy wonder while ballpooing and good-willing the Cleveland Indians into one of the best attractions in the majors. Previously he turned in a handsome front office job with Milwaukee of the American Association.

When Veck sold the Cleveland club at a fine profit after last season, there was speculation whether he intended to remain out of the sport, or rest up to take another whirl at it. He demonstrated dramatic ability while operating the Indians. One rumor which dropped later was that he was interested in taking over the Cubs' Pacific Coast League holding, Los Angeles.

Wash. B. Williams, sportsman, expressed disappointment in his deal to purchase 40 per cent of the Senators had been called off by attorneys for the proposed seller.

Could there be any connection between the report that young Veck is dickering for purchase of the Senators and the fact that Williams bid for 40 per cent of the club had been rejected? Williams declared he was "mystified and bewildered" that his bid had been turned down, especially since he had been approached in the matter.

Demaret Is Hogan Open Pace Setter

PHOENIX, ARIZ. —(AP)— Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret renewed their Phoenix golf battle Friday with a fellow named Johnny Palmer given a good chance of fooling them both.

The opening round in the $10,000 Ben Hogan Open tournament went to Jimmy Thursday by a single stroke as he tied the competitive course record with a 65. He also dropped the first hole—one of his competitive cars, as his high number three iron shot on the thirteenth hole rolled into the cup.

Demaret had left the clubhouse when Hogan finished with a 65 to drop the first hole—one of his competitive cars, as his high number three iron shot on the thirteenth hole rolled into the cup.

Marlene Advances, Alice Goes Down In Doherty Golf Play

MIAMI, FLA. —(AP)— Marlene Bauer Friday faced her sternest test thus far in the Helen Lee Doherty women's amateur golf tournament when she met Marjorie Lindsay in the third round of championship play.

The tiny, 15-year-old Midland, Texas, sensation continued her blistering pace Thursday as she scored a lopsided 7 and 6 victory over Claire Doran of Cleveland, Ohio.

Miss Lindsay of Decatur, Ill., 10 years and many tournaments senior to the petite Texas, eliminated Margaret Gunther of Memphis, Tenn., 5 and 4.

Marlene, who stands five feet, two inches and weighs a plump ribbon test her brunette hair, was just two strokes over men's par after 46 holes of competitive golf.

Riley's Putter Sizzles

In the school round match Thursday she turned up after carding a one-under-women's-par 37.

Marlene's 22-year-old sister, Alice, withered under the sizzling putting pace set by Polly Riley of Fort Worth and was eliminated from the championship flight 3 and 2.

The Marlene Bauer-Lindsay match is regarded as the most crucial for the "teen-ager." Miss Lindsay found the going tough the first day but her one-over-par 38 on the front side and her fine back nine play ranked her among the chief contenders.

Mrs. Catherine Foxx Park of Bloomington, N. J., who Thursday beat Betty Mackinnon of Mt. Pleasant, Texas, one up after staging a belated rally, is matched with Miss Riley.

Rotary Engineers Bop Big Lake As JayCees Go Down

Rotary Engineers added another scalp to its long string Thursday night when it blitzed the Big Lake Independents 79 to 30 in the Junior High School Gym.

Holder Grocery of Odessa downed the Midland JayCees 47 to 37 on the same card.

Rotary with Leland Huffman and Leonard Shepherd running wild, in the first period, had the upper hand from the first tip-off. Huffman scored 20 points for high honors while Shepherd sank 14.

The JayCees made it a good ball game until the third period. They led 25 to 14 at the half.

Holder pulled away with a 21-point third and coasted in.

Chuck Lamb was high for the Jakes with 11 points.

Stanton Buffaloes Continue Winning

STANTON—The Stanton Buffaloes continue to lead District 23-B in basketball.

Latest victim of the Buffaloes on the hardwood was Coahoma. Stanton clipped the Bulldogs 40 to 27 to remain undefeated in district play.

The Buffs are playing in the Sterling City Invitation Basketball tournament which opened Thursday. They already have taken on the role of favorite.

Leroy (Red) Gibson sparks a smooth offensive attack for Coach Leo Fields' quintet. He consistently is high-point man for the Buffs.

Stanton's own invitation tourney is scheduled February 2. Eighteen teams will compete, including 10 boys teams and eight girls teams.

NYU Professor Tells Midland Teachers 'How To Bend Twigs'

"It is not natural to be human; we must learn everything that we know and do, and are the product of our culture," Dr. Howard Lane, professor of education in New York University, told faculty members of Midland schools when he spoke to them in the junior high auditorium Thursday afternoon.

Dr. Lane's subject was "How To Bend Twigs." He is in Texas on a tour of schools, lecturing under auspices of the Hogg Foundation, and he was brought to Midland through the In-Service Training Program for Teachers. Faculty members of all the Midland schools heard his lecture.

Frank Monroe, superintendent of schools, introduced the speaker, who said a nation cannot neglect its children and expect fine adults to result. He said "malnutrition of the spirit is more dangerous than malnutrition of the body" and named nine "vitamins of the spirit" which he deems necessary to a well-nourished spirit.

They are: friendliness, self-respect, freedom, respect for authority, the need to be needed and valued, proper use and development of talent, a challenge, need for natural growth and zestful experiences. The latter he defined as "having fun." He told the teachers their job is to make possible the conditions in which these "vitamins" may be effective.

Disease Kills Ducks In Texas Panhandle

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Department of Interior reports an outbreak of fowl cholera in the Texas Panhandle near Bull Lake.

Five Children Die In Fire When Door Locks Accidentally

LAWTON, OKLA. (AP)—Five small children burned to death alone in their flimsy two-room frame home here Thursday. The structure's only door accidentally became locked and thwarted frantic rescue efforts by their 23-year-old mother.

Dead were Judith Aline, 6; Patty Louise, 5; Phyllis, 3; David, 20 months, and Denny, two months, children of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Young.

Mrs. Young said she stepped out into the yard to get water from a hydrant and stopped a few minutes to talk with a neighbor. Then the frantic screams from her children brought her racing to the door, only to find the inside wooden latch had dropped into place.

She tried to reach the crying children by breaking windows, but each time the heat drove her and helping neighbors back.

Chinese Reds Fire On British Freighter

TAIPEI, FORMOSA (AP)—Officers of the British freighter Wingang reported Friday Communist shore batteries fired on the vessel from the mainland Wednesday afternoon.

The ship was attacked at a point about 90 miles northeast of Red-head Army as it was heading for Keelung, the port of Chinese Nationalist Taipei, from Hong Kong.

Ship's officers said about 12 big shells splashed uncomfortably close.

The attack was the first incident of its kind since Britain recognized the Communist government of China.

HALF-CENTURY HIGHLIGHTS

Old "Number 999" was the wonder engine that had tongues wagging and heads shaking at the turn of the twentieth century. No wonder: for the old steam engine, used to haul the incredibly fast Empire State Express, had a few years before barreled down the tracks to set a world speed record of 112.5 miles an hour on a run between Batavia and Buffalo, N. Y. Below is today's Twentieth Century Limited, hauled by a modern counterpart of old 999, a Hudson-type steam locomotive costing about $140,000. Engine 999 cost about $13,000. At the beginning of the century, railroads were still using many old-time locomotives with fancy stacks and cowcatchers. Today, steam power is giving way to electric and Diesel-electric power, along with other refinements in railroading.

Businessmen Try To Guess If Tax Relief Forthcoming

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Business men are trying to guess if any real tax relief is in store for them in the President's promised proposal to change the tax structure. Some rejoice in the prospect of cuts in estate levies. But others remember that the President also wants more higher taxes to bring "a moderate amount of additional revenue."

It is this latter group which looks askance at the billing of the tax proposals as easing the way for industry to get more money out of the investing public. They contend that high taxes is the greatest curb on industry's getting the risk capital it seeks.

Some see in the President's proposal the implied threat that if this changing scene is available, it doesn't bring out the needed capital, then the government may enter more and more into the role of investment banker to industry. In other words, the government will use more of your tax money to finance new businesses—like prefabricated house, auto plants and steel mills.

Case For Concern

The president agrees with businessmen that if the trend of business investment should continue downward, there will be "cause for real concern." Ample funds are available, he says, and there is "no general bar to a steady expansion of business investment." Yet, he thinks "the government can also help."

So, the President tells Congress he will ask that the reconstruction finance corporation be authorized "to increase the maximum maturity of its business loans substantially above the present 10-year limit."

Why must the RFC finance industries? One reason advanced is that the public is indifferent to buying corporate securities. High taxes reduce the chance of gain, making the risk proportionately high. Last year, when Americans had a total of $172 billion in liquid savings, they were investing only $1.3 billion of it in the common stock of business enterprises.

The trend toward provision by the government of venture funds appears already under way in the public power and energy fields. And for a time President Truman sought power to enter the steel business if private capital did not provide as much steel capacity as he wanted.

Permian Basin Oil & Gas Log

from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 78, block 5, H&TC survey, reported a 24-hour pumping potential of 15.2 barrels of 32-gravity oil. No formation water was reported.

The petroleum came from open hole at 906-1121 feet in the upper Permian lime.

Kelley Dominates Scurry Activities

Kelley field of Scurry County dominated that area's oil picture with the staking of one new location and completing three wells.

One Star Staking Company No. 3 Pearl B. Lary will be the new location to be 1.467 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 16, block 1, J. P. Smith survey, and four miles north-west of Snyder. Planned depth is 7,000 feet.

The same company has completed the No. 1 R. W. Webb, one mile north of the new location. On a 24-hour potential the No. 1 Webb produced for 1,584 barrels of 43.6 gravity oil, and no water. Flow was through a 2 1/2-inch choke.

Treated With Acid

The well had been treated with 500 gallons of acid. Tubing pressure was 900 pounds, and gas-oil ratio was 705-1. Pay was topped at 6,570 feet, and total depth was 6,823 feet. A five-inch oil string was set on the bottom and production was through perforations at 575-823 feet.

Flow was natural and no water was reported in section 17, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

Phillips Petroleum Company has completed the No. 1 production potential the No. 1 Mabee produced for 1,092.8 barrels of 44.1 gravity oil, and no water. Flow was through a 2 1/2-inch choke.

Production Through Perforations

Tubing pressure was 420 pounds, and gas-oil ratio was 628-1. Pay was topped at 6,710 feet, and total depth was 6,851 feet. A 5 1/2-inch oil string was set at 5,842 feet, and production was through perforations at 575-628 feet.

The new Phillips well is 467 feet from south and east lines of the lease in section 210, block 97, H&TC survey.

Caraway No. 1 Wilkinson is a new well in the Kelley field. The field addition produced on a 24-hour potential for 1,547.2 barrels of 43.8 gravity oil, with no water. Production was natural through 24/64-inch choke.

Tubing pressure was 900 pounds, and gas-oil ratio was 674-1. Pay was topped at 6,700 feet, and total depth was 6,885 feet. A 5 1/2-inch oil string was set at 6,717 feet.

Galvella, Chronicler Of Border History, To Quit Newspaper

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD Associated Press Staff

The Laredo Times has lost a famous reporter. Jim Galvella, its chronicler of border history, is resigning.

Galvella, after 59 years in the business, is retiring from the newspaper—but not from work.

71, he plans to devote the remainder of his life to writing books and working in his orchard.

White-mustached, bright-eyed Galvella is a Laredo landmark, the man everybody knows. Stored in his encyclopedic memory is the colorful history of the land along the Rio Grande. He saw it made.

He covered the Mexican Revolution of 1911; he saw the burning of Nuevo Laredo in 1914; he interviewed Pancho Villa.

When the news came that he was to work for the old Gulf News in Corpus Christi. Later, he owned and operated the Corpus Christi Herald and the Corpus Christi News. He has interviewed every Texas governor from the time of Jim Hogg.

What an amazing number of stories an interviewee's career spanned! He never interviewed the Buffalo Bill, Gen. J. B. Gordon, Confederate Army commander. He roomed with O. Henry (Sidney Porter) and knew the story of the Uncle Remus stories. John L. Sullivan and Bob Fitzsimmons were once his house guests. He knew the Mexican presidents and revolutionaries—big and little—of the century. He has interviewed every Texas governor from the time of Jim Hogg.

No Pretensions

Never boasting with pretensions of fine writing, Galvella worked only to get the facts—accurately—and get them printed. He's been the correspondent for the San Antonio Express for 42 years, for the Dallas Morning News and the Houston Chronicle 35 years. As a member of the staff of the Laredo Times, Galvella has been sending dispatches to the Associated Press since 1911.

Galvella is proud of Laredo, its people and its leaders. He never misses a chance to plug his city or Nuevo Laredo, right across the river.

He helped spark the development of agriculture in his area.

When Webb County farmers were experimenting with broccoli, Galvella named it "broom of the human stomach." An acquaintance swears Galvella never mentioned broccoli for the next three years without adding, "broom of the human stomach."

Texas newspapermen will await with interest the first border book Galvella turns out in his retirement.

Levelland Field Has Western Extension

A wildcat in South-Central Cochran County has been completed as a commercial producer. The well, located on the west side of the Levelland field, is one-quarter of a mile to the south.

The new producer is Ross E. Williams and Sarah L. Parham of Midland No. 1. It is nine and one-half miles south of Lehman, and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 23, Harrison and Brown survey.

On a 24-hour potential test, the well pumped 174 barrels of 31.4 gravity oil, plus four per cent basic sediment and acid water.

Top of the pay in the San Andres-Permian line is at 5,923 feet. Total depth is at 5,978 feet. The 5 1/2-inch oil string is cemented at 5,017 feet.

The Williams and Parham well is 8,500 feet south of Lion Oil Company No. 1. Masten, which was completed several months ago to extend the Levelland field three-quarters of a mile to the southwest.

Flanker To Runnels Discovery Finished

A one-location north flanker to a recently completed upper Strawn lime discovery in Northwest Runnels County has been officially finished for a calculated 24-hour potential of 1,017 barrels of 48.8 gravity oil, plus 10 per cent water.

The new producer is T. W. Murray No. 1. It is located 330 feet from south and east lines of the north half of the northwest quarter of section 81, CTRB survey.

The oil is being produced from perforated section in the upper Strawn at 4,514-30 feet, which had been treated with 1,000 gallons of acid. The 24-hour potential was calculated from an actual four-hour flow, through a one-half-inch choke. Gas-oil ratio was 591-1. Flowing tubing pressure was 300 pounds. Casing pressure was 379 pounds.

This new oil well is 660 feet north of the Murray, Anthony and Rambo and Stephens No. 1 Williams Stevens. The Strawn discovery. This new pay opener is one and one-half miles west of the shallower North Winters field, and it is six miles northwest of the town of Winters.

Police Seek Arsonist In $1,500,000 Blaze

SANTA BARBARA, CALIF.—(AP)—Police Friday sought an arsonist believed to have set a $1,500,000 fire which destroyed the Goleta Lemon Association Plant.

The three-story building burned completely Thursday night.

A night watchman told officers that he saw a man setting fires on the third floor and shot twice at him but he escaped.

The average American ate 156 pounds of meat in 1948.

Midland service club. Charles McDonald was chairman.

A man of the year must have integrity, be of pleasing personality, have vision, be a practical man, be industrious, informed and have his feet on the ground, "Colonel Perkins declared in making his address.

The speaker developed each point fully and, in closing, said, "I believe our man of the year has all these qualifications."

"Beauty for Ashes" will be the theme of the evening service presided at the meeting. Horace Burton, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

Visitor To Speak At Church Of Nazarene

Dr. Roy Snee of Kansas City, Mo., will speak in the evening service of the Church of the Nazarene here Sunday. The service will start at 7:45.

Snee is the general secretary of the Nazarene Home Mission work of Nazarene Churches. The superintendent of the San Antonio district, the Rev. Hadley A. Hall, will accompany the speaker.

"Beauty for Ashes" will be the pastor's, the Rev. P. W. Rogers, sermon topic for the morning worship service.

Sandra Sentenced; Appeal Notice Given

BRADY (AP)—Sofia (Sandra) Peterson, 18, former Somerville, Mass. girl stood before Judge A. O. Newman in 35th District Court here Friday and was sentenced formally to life imprisonment for the murder of Lewis Patterson, Brady real estate man.

Her court-appointed attorney, Ross Hoffman of Brady, gave notice of appeal and Judge Newman suspended the sentence pending action of the Court of Criminal Appeals. He gave Hoffman 90 days to complete the appeal.

Italy Forms Sixth Coalition Government

ROME (AP)—Italy Friday had her sixth coalition government since 1945. The cabinet, excluding the Communists and pro-Communist Luigi Einaudi.

Premier Alcide De Gasperi, leader of the dominant Christian Democrat Party, won the signature of the president on a cabinet list in which the Christian Democrats hold 13 portfolios, the anti-Communist Right Wing Socialists, three, and the Republicans, two.

The National Geographic Society says the tiny fierier fish hides in the body cavities of sea slugs to escape its enemies.

Rankin News

RANKIN—The Grady Boyd Post of the American Legion in Rankin voted recently to donate $25 to the March of Dimes.

A total of $87.47 was collected at the Ford Theater in Rankin in six collections for the polo fund.

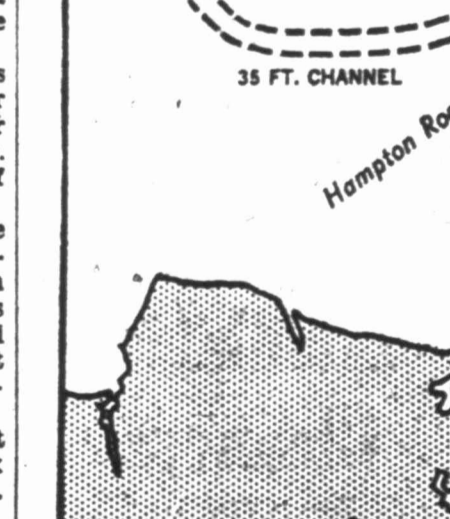

Mrs. Jarrell Russell has been ill at her home in the Slick-Urschel Camp the last week.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. David V. Swenson in a San Angelo hospital January 15. The baby has been named Linda Sue. She weighed seven pounds and 11 ounces. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Claude A. Higginbotham of Rankin, and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Enoch E. Swenson of Spicer, Minnesota.

TCU Benefactor Dies

FORT WORTH (AP)—Tom J. Brown, president of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company here and one of the most liberal contributors to the TCU building program, died early Friday after a long illness.

'Big Mo' To Get Heave-Ho

Cross on top map shows where the battleship Missouri, which has a 34-foot draft, is stuck in 28 feet of water off Old Point Comfort. The Big Mo came to grief on a sandy shoal when, to test electronic devices for recording the presence of passing ships, she tried to cross the acoustic range 400 yards north of the main channel. Diagram below shows how the Missouri will try to "pull herself up by her bootstraps" at the next spring-tide, probably February 2. It is hoped that winding up the heavy cables on four big winches on her deck, plus the efforts of a fleet of heavy-duty tugs, will do the trick.

Vandenberg Resigns From Atomic Panel

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) was missing Friday as the congressional Atomic Energy Committee again looked unsolved and grave problems.

Vandenberg filed his resignation from the 14-member Senate-Atomic panel Thursday. He said he was too slow down because of his health.

REDS RESTORE RAILWAY SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—For the first time in 18 years, it is the Red flag that has been raised in the east of western Europe across the continent of Eurasia to Hong Kong.

The Chinese Communists restored the Peiping-Hankow railway to operation. It had been partly broken since the Japanese invaded China in 1937, according to a Peiping broadcast heard here.

Yeggs Miss Major Haul As Eleanor Wears 'War Paint'

NEW YORK (AP)—Bandits raided the fashionable home of Showman Billy Rose Thursday night, toted off a safe, furs and jewelry valued at $100,000 but missed $250,000 in other gems being worn by Rose's wife, former Swim Champion Eleanor Holm.

Miss Holm learned of the theft early Friday when she returned from the theater wearing jewelry valued by her husband at a quarter of a million dollars.

"I'm glad Baby had her war paint on tonight," said Rose in putting the $250,000 price tag on Miss Holm's necklace, a bracelet and a ring of shimmering diamonds she was wearing.

Police said three men shouldered their way into the Rose town house late Thursday night, tied up the sole occupant—a negro butler—and carted away the jewelry-laden safe and furs.

Rose, a newspaper columnist as well as cafe owner, said the bandits left undisturbed a $500,000 collection of paintings, and a $75,000 worth of antique silver.

Turkey Egg Fraud Defendants Freed

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—John C. Faust was freed Friday of mail fraud charges in what the government argued was a huge swindle of turkey egg growers in the Southwest.

U. S. District Judge Thomas J. Clary, who two days ago quashed similar charges against Faust's wife, Cora, Friday threw out 34 counts against the Lancaster, Pa. man and directed he be freed of all the accusations against him.
