Exhibit Of Guy Rowe Paintings Opens Thursday By B&PW Club

Members of the Business and Professional Women's Club, which is bringing an exhibit of Guy Rowe's paintings here for three days as a gift to residents of Midland and neighboring cities, will act as hostesses in the City-County Auditorium while the pictures are on display Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The exhibit will open at 7 p. m. Thursday. The paintings are the original character studies done by Rowe to illustrate Houston Hart's book, "In Our Image." No admission charge will be made, and the club has invited church, school and club groups of Midland and nearby counties to see the collection.

Thelma Gardner, chairman of the committee in charge of the exhibit, will be assisted by Marie Balow, Helen Brasher, Opal Cooper and Miri Hall in the first hostess group. The auditorium will be open for visitors from 7 to 10 p. m.

Hostesses Listed

The hostess committee Friday from 3 to 5 p. m. includes Clara Gabbert, Joy McCoy, Neta Sivall and Edith Higdon; from 5 to 7 p. m. Glenyth Herring, Ruth Donnell, Jack Harrison, T. K. White and Winifred Estelle; from 7 to 10 p. m. Margaret Larkin, Susie Noble, Flossie Vaughn, Della Cooper and Delon Hannaford.

On Saturday from 2 to 4 p. m. Nettie Johnson, Dick Looby and Hollye Friberg will be in charge, and from 4 to 6 p. m. Fannie Bess and Cordeia Taylor, Martha Greene and Gustava Easley.

Hostess duties were assigned at a meeting of the exhibit committee Wednesday afternoon on the mezzanine floor of the Scharbauer Hotel.

In addition to the collection of 16 paintings, the exhibit will include a display of the book in which they appear, arranged by Irma Mancill of the Book Stall. Harte, San Angelo publisher, compiled the book by selecting key narratives from the Old Testament, keeping the wording of the King James version but editing them to omit obsolete expressions and irrelevant detail so that they are more readable for modern Americans.

Develops New Style

Rowe, nationally known portrait painter, was chosen to illustrate the book with 32 portraits. He forsook the traditional style of Biblical illustrations and instead painted the faces of everyday people whom he thought characterized the Old Testament figures. Costumes and backgrounds are authentic.

Dixie Williams And Charles Logan Marry

ANDREWS — The home of Mr. and Mrs. David Choate in the Phillips Camp was the scene of the marriage of their niece, Dixie Lou Williams of Odessa, to Charles Gaymon Logan of Tuttle, Okla., Sunday afternoon. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Gail Williams of Odessa.

The Rev. Aud Jones, pastor of the Fullerton Baptist Church, officiated for the ceremony. Choate gave the bride in marriage and honor. Peggy Walton and Reba Galsham were bridesmaids and Johnnie Dennison, the best man.

Corner windows in the Choate home, blanketed by candelabras and baskets of carnations and fern, made a background for the service. It was followed by a reception when the couple cut the wedding cake. After a trip to Galveston, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Logan will live in Tuttle, where he will be a student in an agricultural school.

The bride is a graduate of Odessa High School, and Logan attended the University of Oklahoma and has been employed at Hobbs, N. M., by the Phillips Petroleum Company.

A Little Alibi

Not for 13 years has any newsman had an exclusive interview with a President. But Arthur Krock, New York Times' Washington chief who gained an audience with Roosevelt in 1937, now has managed the same trick with President Truman.

Krock's outstanding impression is of a Chief Executive serenely confident that despite all the world's perils man's better nature somehow will prevail and atomic warfare will be avoided.

No one can take this confidence away from the President. Nor would anyone want to. It would be real ground for general repair to know that our highest responsible official had given up hope of peace.

Truman is perhaps somewhat too charitable toward the Russians, however, when he says their chief trouble is that they still fear us and feel inferior toward us.

Krock led the President to dwell on such varied subjects as Administration spending, socialism and the American economy, the Hess case and civil rights issues.

Truman assured Krock his economic goal is to make America's free system work better, not to replace it with socialism. "There isn't a drop of Marxist or socialist blood in me," he said.

There's no reason at all to doubt the President's statement that he has no socialist leanings. But his remarks on budget deficits sound frankly political.

Responsible Democrats like Senator Douglas of Illinois, who stand firmly for Truman's social program, believe substantial economies can be achieved without hurting necessary government services.

His responses to some of Krock's questions indicate that Truman has either forgotten or is glossing over things that he said months and years ago.

For example, he was asked about the "sense of inadequacy" he expressed when he took office. At that time Truman repeatedly and often strikingly declared his unfitness and his distaste for the job.

Now he says he intended simply to indicate he felt unprepared because he wasn't briefed on the urgent problems of that hour and didn't know where to turn for wise counsel.

Likewise, his defense of his frequent "red herring" comments on the Hiss case and related spy activities sounds a trifle contrived.

Truman could have made that distinction clear on any of the occasions when he used the term "red herring." But he didn't.

But these aren't intended as carping criticisms. Krock's interview shows the President basically honest, courageous, imbued with high faith.

No matter what the times, old George Bernard Shaw always manages to get into the forefront of his country's effort.

In 1940, when this nation allotted 50 over-age destroyers to Britain, Shaw felt the debt keenly.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Justice Department reopens income-tax fraud case, one marked "closed," following Merry-Go-Round disclosures; President's advisers find unemployment "not yet alarming" in secret analysis of country's economic problems.

WASHINGTON—Last June after a huddle of lawyers in Birmingham, Ala., an important income-tax fraud case was sent back to the Justice Department in Washington where it was marked "closed."

The case involved Joe Mitchell and Sam Rippes of Mobile who were alleged to have profited from the sale of jewelry to army post exchanges during the war and then cheated the government out of income taxes.

Six months later, however, on Dec. 16, 1949, this column published the whole story of the Rippes-Mitchell scandal, including the fact that they were defended in Birmingham by Ben Leavelle, former law partner of U. S. Attorney John Hill, the man who was supposed to prosecute them.

Just a few days before this story was published, John Hill telephoned the Justice Department from Birmingham warning that "Pearson had one of his investigators in Birmingham probing the Rippes-Mitchell case." Three days later, when the story was published, Hill issued a general denial.

However, the Justice Department, with some of the new facts disclosed by this column, reopened the Rippes-Mitchell case. And last week, in Mobile, the two men were indicted.

Unemployment Picture
The Council of Economic Advisers has just presented a significant, secret, three-page analysis of the country's economic problems to the President. Here in brief is what Truman's advisers told him:

Questions and Answers

Q—When our national flag is displayed with a group of other flags, what is the position?
A—The United States flag is at the center or at the highest point of the group.

Q—What is the origin of the expression "to get one's goat"?
A—Several theories have been advanced. One of the most popular explanations is that the phrase originated in America in the fact that the old-time horse trainers, having a nervous horse to handle, put a goat in its stall to keep it company.

Q—Why is it sometimes stated that George Washington was not our first president?
A—George Washington was the first president of the United States under the Constitution. Others for whom the claim has been frequently made were merely presiding officers of the Continental Congress.

Q—Are there any chapters in the Bible alike?
A—Two chapters in the Bible, authorized version, are essentially alike—the 19th chapter of II Kings, and the 37th chapter of Isaiah.

Q—How many presidents have belonged to the Masonic fraternity?
A—Harry S. Truman is the 15th president who is a member of the order.

We would not be importing potatoes now if the Republican and Farm Bureau-dominated coalition in Congress had not rejected the Pace Bill providing for a trial-run on the Brannan plan.

The President could stop the (potato surplus) situation by cutting off these Canadian imports, which he has the authority to do.

It (Russian government) is incompatible with the present achievement of a world situation which is based on peace and the maintenance of national independence and freedom.

We are sure that Soviet policy will never succeed in forcing us, this free city, to our knees.

We must be ready to meet any emergency by maintaining what we can afford, what will avoid disaster and what will win a war.

CHICAGO—(AP)—A letter addressed to the Chicago Police Commissioner set forth: "I do not know how to make out my income tax. I made in 1949 $1,223.19 and $15.20 was withheld. Would you please figure this out for me?"

Another popular executive of the American Contract Bridge League who served as vice president in 1947 and 1948 is John A. Barry of Pittsburgh, Pa.

I recall playing today's hand with Barry in one of the Pittsburgh Interclub matches and I think you will admit that he got himself into some contract. Barry likes to bid, and he did not like the idea of West trying to shut him out of the bidding.

The opening lead of the king of hearts was won by Jack, sitting South, with the ace. A small spade was led and when West played low, dummy's seven was played. East won the trick with the jack.

The ace of diamonds now was played. Of course, the drop of the king by West warned Jack of a singleton, so at this point, after the ace of diamonds held the trick, he cashed the ace of spades.

The eight of diamonds was played and when East refused to cover Jack let it ride. He took another diamond finesse which established the diamond suit.

FINGERPRINTS Don't Lie

THE STORY: Police are investigating the murder of the wealthy Wendell Palmer, whose skull was battered with the butt of a rifle in his home.

By the shattered form that had gathered all this through, the Medical Examiner knelt and busied himself about his grisly chores, unrestrained by any of the warnings not to touch or move anything.

With delicate caution the Scientific Investigation Division man, James Stivers, groped and peered and photographed with his self-lighting camera the surfaces here fingerprints could be seen.

IN the meanwhile, Stivers had gone straight to Pete Kelo and shoved him back from the telephone, as he growled:

He did not note that Kelo was pushing back into his pocket the handkerchief he had cautiously drawn out. He did not note how anxiously Kelo watched as Stivers, with exquisite caution, pushed his camera close against the curved sides of the telephone and illuminated the camera flare and illuminate the surface where Stivers' keen eyes could see the patterns of fingerprints. He gave each about eight seconds' exposure. To the glowering Kelo he said:

"This is the way it was, I guess. The old man tried to telephone for help. He had the handset off the cradle when the killer lifted the big heavy base in both hands and smashed the edges down on the

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Capital Lobbying Shows Big Cast, Some Pretty Good Plots

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Every so often, it is useful to make a list of what some of the bigger lobbies and pressure groups in Washington are working for and are up to. It gives a better idea of what goes on here. It helps explain why a lot of things are or aren't being done by Congress.

Biggest lobbying activity in town right now is on tax reduction. More than 200 organizations and individuals wanted to testify on this subject before the House Ways and Means Committee.

Perhaps the newest organization to appear on the lobbying front in this connection is a National Committee for Repeal of Wartime Excise Taxes, of New York.

Stanley Ruttenberg of CIO also favored repeal of excise taxes, but the similarity stopped there.

Right up the same alley, the Radio Manufacturers Association was on hand to register a protest against Treasury's proposal to slap a 10 per cent tax on new TV set purchases.

James C. Petrillo of the musicians' union was the 20 per cent entertainment tax cut. He says this tax is responsible for the 23 per cent drop in cabaret and dance hall business in the last two years.

American Automobile Association, Automobile Manufacturers' Association, American Trucking Associations and similar groups are concentrating against automobile and lubricating oil excise taxes.

National Associated Businessmen, Inc., announces a two-day crusade to have Congress put a tax on all cooperative businesses.

National Highway Users Conference is interested in seeing that gasoline and auto tax receipts are used only for the building and maintenance of roads.

Railroads are fighting Post Office and Justice Department efforts to get a full Interstate Commerce Commission trial on the railroads' request for a mail pay increase, without trial.

American Farm Bureau Federation is opposing boosts on parcel post rates. The national magazine are bucking proposed increases in second-class mail rates.

Pacific American Steamship Association and a number of West Coast Chambers of Commerce and trade associations are waging a campaign to have Panama Canal tolls reduced.

Aircraft Industries Association is plugging a proposal to have the government finance the building of jet-powered transport and cargo plane prototypes, on the grounds this subsidy is necessary for defense.

Veterans' organizations all are attacking Hoover Commission reports, as they would affect Veterans' Administration reorganization, the handling of vets' insurance, GI benefits and hospital care.

The National Association of Home Builders and the National Association of Real Estate Boards are trying to block passage of the Administration's middle-class bill and cooperative housing aid bill.

The United States Cuban Sugar Cane Industry is protesting against restrictions on imports of raw sugar from that island.

The National Petroleum Council has a war on against the British decision to cut down on imports of oil from the U. S. and other areas which require payment for the oil in dollars.

And so on. But of all the pressure groups operating in Washington, union labor headquarters now are the most vocal and put out the largest volume of stuff. They take stands on everything, whether the issue has anything to do with labor or not.

It takes a smart congressman to chuck all this stuff in the wastebasket, or let it flow in one ear and out the other, in order to make up his own mind on all issues, in the national interest.

Building Contracted For Bank At Vernon
VERNON—(AP)—A new $250,000 building has been contracted for the Waggoner National Bank here. The new structure on the bank's present site, is expected to be completed around September 1.

Stivers laid the handset on the table and studied the base, turned it over and stared, gasped with professional rapture. "Beautiful! The guy who did the killing left prints on the bottom of the base here! All four fingers of both hands! See? His thumbs were on the curved sides. But look at those eight fingers! Perfect! A ticket to the gas chamber for the guy."

Abundant Living

By
E. STANLEY JONES

Mark 3:5; Ps. 95:10; Eph. 4:30; Prov. 8:3; Ps. 97:10.

A GOOD ANGER
Yesterday you saw that anger is a driving force—it throws adrenaline into the blood stream, and you are then ready for fight or flight. If anger is to be constructive, it must be harnessed to great causes. It must be like the explosions in the engine of your automobile—these explosions are under the control of purpose and will drive you to your destination. But if, instead of harnessing the explosions, you lighted all the gasoline in your tank at once, with one great "blowup" you would blow yourself and the car to pieces. That is what happens to the insides of you when you have a "blowup" of uncontrolled, non-constructive anger. It leaves you and your situation torn to pieces.

Jesus was an example of controlled anger. When He was about to heal the man with the withered arm, He saw the hard faces of religious men who opposed the act because it was being done on the Sabbath. He "looked around about on them with anger being grieved for the hardness of their hearts." Here His anger was not personal pique, a wounded egotism—it was grief at the hardness of men's hearts that could block the healing of a poor unfortunate. His anger drove Him to oppose these men on behalf of the underprivileged. It was therefore a righteous anger.

Anger is righteous if it has in it grief on account of what is happening to others, and not a grudge on account of what is happening to oneself. But one must be careful at this point, for the mind plays tricks on itself: it will dress up its personal resentments in garments of righteous and religious indignation so that they will pass muster before our religious self. Many a man fights "for principle," when he is fighting only for personal pique and pride.

But righteous indignation, even when it is almost pure righteousness, should not be kept overnight: "Be ye angry, and sin not"; "Let not the sun go down upon your wrath." Here is an anger that sins not, and yet it must not be kept overnight lest it corrode the soul into bitterness.

O God, give me clear insight and courage to see myself truly, for I may be cloaking my resentments with garments of piety, and I know these resentments are deadly in whatever form they gain a footing in my life. I would harbor no dangerous Trojan-horse enemies within me. Help me then to be completely honest with myself. Amen.

Their Paths Did Cross Again With Cross To HR Driver

CUMBERLAND, MD. — (AP) — Joseph Scaletta drove into a repair shop after his automobile had been damaged by a hit-and-run car. In the shop—also for repairs—was the hit-and-run vehicle.

The coincidence was an unhappy one for the driver of the wayward vehicle. He was identified and fined $71.50 for reckless driving and falling to stop after an accident.

Jackson Hole, Wyoming, was set aside as a national monument in 1943.

Baked Apples Are Novel Dish

IMPROVE BAKED APPLES—While apples are abundant, serve baked Winosaps with marshmallows and nuts for a novelty dessert.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Apples are abundant and good. It's delicious economy to use them often. But use them intelligently and give them new interest.

Marshmallow Nut Baked Apples
Four Winosap apples, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1/8 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 cup seeded raisins, 4 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, 1/2 cup water, marshmallows, walnuts.

Wash and dry apples, core carefully, then pare one-third of the skin away from the blossom end. Combine brown sugar, raisins, cinnamon and softened butter or margarine. Pack this mixture into apple cores and place apples on a rack in the bottom of a saucepan or skillet. Add water, cover and steam slowly until apples are tender, about 50 minutes.

Place a marshmallow on top of each apple, glide under broiler for a few minutes until marshmallow is melted. Dot with halved or chopped walnuts.

Ever try Freda DeKnight's Baked Apple Dumplings?

Baked Apple Dumplings
(Serves 8)
Two cups sifted flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 6 tablespoons shortening, cinnamon, 2 3/4 cup milk, 8 small apples, 8 tablespoons sugar, 4 teaspoons butter, 1 tablespoon sugar, crab-apple jelly.

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and 1 tablespoon sugar. Cut shortening in with pastry blender. Add milk gradually to form a soft dough. Knead lightly. Roll out to 1/4-inch thickness. Cut into eight squares. Pare and core 8 apples. Place one in the center of each square.

Fill each cavity with a tablespoonful sugar and sprinkle with cinnamon. Add 1/2 teaspoon butter and 1 tablespoonful crab-apple jelly. Fold dough over apple lightly. Put each dumpling into small, coarse, well-floured cloth.

After dipping in hot water, tie cloth securely around them to keep room enough for dumpling to swell. Put in pot of boiling water and boil 45 minutes. Serve with sweet sauce.

McKenney On CANASTA

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written For NEA Service

Penalty cards long have been a bone of contention. The easiest way to get around them is to carefully count your points before melding. Here's what should have happened to one of my readers who didn't:

Q—I had two kings and a joker down on the table, but they were penalty cards. On the previous round I had melded three kings and a joker, not sufficient for our minimum requirement of 90. I had discarded one of the kings. At his turn my partner melded 90 points, but the next player, my right-hand opponent, went out.

I claimed that as long as my partner had made an initial meld, my joker and two kings counted as a meld. The opponents said they counted as if they were in my hand. Was I right?

A—No. Your opponents were right. Penalty cards count the same as if they were in your hand until you either discard them or meld them. If the play had come around to you again, you might have elected to use your joker in some other fashion, and leave the two kings as penalty cards. But in any case, until you have a turn to play, they remain penalty cards.

Q—My friend A. had enough count in his own hand to meld 90, his initial requirement, but he wanted the pack. The up-card was a ten. He put down two tens, and took the up-card of the pack, then melded enough cards from his hand to meet the minimum count of 90. Now he took another ten from his hand and added it to the three tens already on the board, after which he picked up the pack. Did he have the right to take the pack, since he did not need that up-card to complete his initial meld, having another ten in his hand which would have completed it without the ten on top of the pack?

A—Yes, your friend had a perfect right to take the pack in this situation. The top card of the pack may be used (but no other card of the pack) in counting to the minimum for the initial meld, regardless of whether or not the player would be able to complete his initial meld from his own hand without the ten on top of the pack.

Q—When a player discards a card that matches an opponent's meld, does the opponent have to pick up the pack?

A—Only if there are no cards remaining in the stock pile. If cards remain in the stock pile, he may always choose whether to take the pack or draw from the stock pile.

Q—What is the penalty if you are caught with a black tray when someone goes out?

A—There is no penalty except that it counts five against you.

Q—If the last card of the stock pile is a red trey, may I draw it and go out?

A—Yes, if you can meld all of your cards and have completed or can complete a canasta. You may not discard, however, as the red trey counts as your discard.

TUBERCULOSIS CROSS

The double-barred cross, emblem of the fight against tuberculosis, is the old patriarchal cross known as the Cross of Lorraine. When the International Conference on Tuberculosis met in Berlin in 1902, a Parisian doctor suggested that it be made the distinctive badge of the war against the white plague, since the cross symbolizes hope and humanity, and the suggestion was adopted.

Youth Center Chatter

By Joyce Howell and June Haslip
Once again from amid piles of homework, we are writing the Youth Center Chatter. Six weeks tests are over, but we still have a lot of homework. Next week reports cards will be issued—no further comment is necessary.

Recent warm weather has made us wish the swimming pools were open. We have despaired of having any snow this winter. (It is still winter, you know.) But with weather like we often have in West Texas, we just won't make any bets.
All the girls have blossomed out in their summer clothes. By afternoon it usually is hot enough for shorts and that is just what we see the girls wearing after school.
Casualty List
Our casualty list has grown this week. Lavonne Clark still has a cast on her leg and Ronny Estel still is sporting his beautiful cast. Maggie Murphy injured her foot last week and may be seen limping around the halls of MHS or over at the Center. Shirley Pulliam has been seen limping around, too. Roy Mann had some warts burned off his hands, which are well bandaged at present. Another Youth Center member injured in battle recently is Russell Moore. His wounds aren't quite as serious as those of the others; however his arms are black and blue.
Next week we begin the ping-pong tournament at the Youth Center. Friday the tenth is the date for the event. Those wishing to participate may sign up with the emcee and the tournament will begin that night. Hope we see you at the tournament.
Jay Johnson, our dancing instructor, was injured this week in a car accident. Until further notice, dancing lessons are cancelled. Watch the bulletin board.
While we are on the subject of dancing—there is to be another big dance at the Youth Center soon. March 18 is the tentative date for the juke box dance. More about that next week.
Style Show
This weekend the Woman's Auxiliary of the Midland Memorial Hospital is sponsoring a style show in the high school auditorium. Several teen age girls will model in this show. Sue Johnson, Tony Chapple, Gloria Anguish, Roxie Leggett, Jo Ann Nelson, Margi Carter, Irma Driver, Katherine Lewis, Nancy Webb and Wilma Like are the teenage models.
Next weekend the Optimist Club is sponsoring a circus in the high school gym. On March 11 the new Midland High School is to be dedicated. The Gold Jackets, the A Cappella, and the band will take part in this dedication, in addition to the Home Ec departments and all class officers.
We notice a little bit of "decoration" has been added to Ronny Estel's plaster "leg." Margie Crammer gave him a very pretty little blue and pink lace garter which he is wearing about his ankle.
This week we asked several teenagers for information concerning their activities last week. The replies were different and quite interesting. Everyone had some sort of answer, even if only to get his name in the paper.
Buddy Stovall was very busy last week. He said he spent most of his spare time kissing all the girls! This, undoubtedly, proved most interesting.

Mark McKinsey could think of only one very interesting thing which happened to him last week—he beat John Zant in tennis by a score of 6-4. Congratulations, Mark.
Sue Johnson thought for quite a while before giving us her answer. Perhaps we should give her a badge for being the meepest girl. She socked Ronny a few weeks ago and broke, or rather chipped, his tooth. (As if a broken leg weren't enough!)

Roy Gibson and Morris Basham were seen wandering around the Center looking for poor innocent girls. These dear boys delight in tossing ice down people's backs and getting them shivering wet!
Which reminds us, just what was Roy Gibson doing out on the La-mesa Highway last Tuesday afternoon?
We now have some new ping-pong paddles at the Center. Be sure to take good care of them, and they will last a lot longer than many of our others.
William Engel, our ex-director, is in a hospital in New York at present. He suffered a heart ailment the first of February and a second attack occurred about the twentieth. Anyone wishing to write him may get his address from this column.
Congratulations
Midland has some real artists. Mr. Mathews announced in assembly Tuesday that five Midland students won awards in the state exhibit of high school art. Those winning honorable mention were Vi Jean Pughart, Kay Stalcup, Virginia Wilkerson, June Haslip and James Johnson. James also won a first place award for his painting, after being on display in Fort Worth, will be sent to the national contest. Congratulations, teenagers!
The trip to Austin was the highlight of work. Richard Hull, Daphne Tabor, Richard Hull, Alan Olson, Gerald Adams, Pat Emmons, Mary Nell, Don Drummond, Marion Richardson, Carolyn Curd, Jean Ferguson, and Mrs. Estel were "escorts" for the group. (We got to go, too!) The Teeners visited the capitol, the Senate and House of Representatives, Texas University Tower, the Governor's Mansion, Memorial Hall, and other points of interest. They also talked with Gov. Allan Shivers and acting Lt. Gov. Grady Hazelwood. Senator Hill D. Hud-son and Representative J. T. Rutherford were "escorts" for the Teeners. (We won't go into detail because we are sure that by now most of you have either heard or read about the trip.)
Congratulations this week go to Nancy Gray and Kingsley Blackman who were married recently. Both are Youth Center members and graduates of MHS.
Bowling Club
Bowling has become the latest Midland High craze! Ann Boring, Wanda Burnside, Mary Nell, Shirley Pulliam, Moe Price, Bill Adams, Dwayne Hanway, Corky Moss, Jimmy Greene, Dick Monroe, Clint Morgan, Billie Love, Max S. Miller, David Anguish, Bill Franklin, Roan Puett, John Ward, Graham Mackey, Jim Ervin, John Zant, Dan Black and Pat Douglass are just a few Teeners who may be found at the bowling alley almost anytime. Some of these fellas and gals are doing so well they are bowling in the city league.

"Freaks!" "Who let them in?" "Wha' happen?" . . . These were typical remarks heard around the school and Youth Center when Ralph Brooks appeared with a haircut. (At least we think it is a haircut!) Teeners followed Ralph around for days, just staring!! The "haircuts" are called "Apaches" and consist of a completely shaved head except for one streak down the middle. Russel Cox, Elton Kinnican, Larry Friday and several others also got "haircuts!" (We hear that Jim O'Neal is contemplating one . . . Help, JoAnn! Don't let him do it!)

Year Ago in Youth Center
Mike Brunner, Eugene Cooper, Bob Short, (now attending Oklahoma University) and Moe Price (now at Odessa Junior College) were keeping everyone jumping by using flash-bulb cameras in the center at all hours.
Our Snack Bar was doing a booming business and the Loet and Found box was full!
Mr. and Mrs. Halfast, Mr. and Mrs. Mathews, Mr. and Mrs. McKee, Mr. and Mrs. Barnard, Mr. and Mrs. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Daugherty, Mr. and Mrs. Class, and Mr. and Mrs. Oils Hardy received our thanks for starting a square dance lessons in the Center.
The "animal kingdom" was well represented on our register. "Kitty" Ferguson, "Kitten" Wilson, "Monkey" Blackman (now Mrs. J. D. Deavenport), "Blubber" Deavenport, "Little Bull," Whitson (McMurry), "Horse Hay" McKee (SMU), and "Gorilla" Little (Wyoming U.), were a few of the nicknames we mentioned.

Our musical geniuses were the "one finger pianists." Dick Monroe, Don Johnson, Ben Studdert, "Red" Morgan (Odessa Junior College), and Melba Clark (North Texas State), were some of the "accomplished" one-finger musicians. Tony Chapple had just left for Panama to visit, and several

Officers Club Open House Event Slated

McCamey News
McCAMEY—Boy Scout Troop 31 recently enjoyed an overnight camp at the Pecos River. Twenty-one Scouts made the trek under leadership of Scoutmaster Don Cook, Assistant Scoutmaster Jimmie Boy and Post Adviser Jimmy Hayes. Junior Scoutmasters Jerry Lambeth and Lloyd Lee Hayes. Fathers of several of the boys also made the camp.
A revival at the Assembly of God Church will begin Sunday and last through March 19. Evangelist Lois Cockerell of Fort Worth will conduct services. Night services will begin at 7:30 p.m.
Sgt. and Mrs. Louis R. Meier and children of San Angelo are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Herrington here. Mrs. Meier was honored at a picnic birthday party given by Mrs. Carl Doris and Miss Eleanor Volght, February 22. The picnic was held near Sheffield.

Turtle eggs are eaten by natives and Europeans in South America.
"sex" were in the Center on a visit home.
Wandering Thoughts just jumped around, as per usual, over Ray Leggett's middle name, which, by the way, is Francis. Jimmy Connins (Texas Tech) Red Shirt, and Benny Stanley's pipe. Corky Moss was the first boy to sign in for the ping-pong tournament.
And now back to the present and it's good-bye till next week, provided we haven't jumped a fast boat to somewhere after seeing those Report Cards!

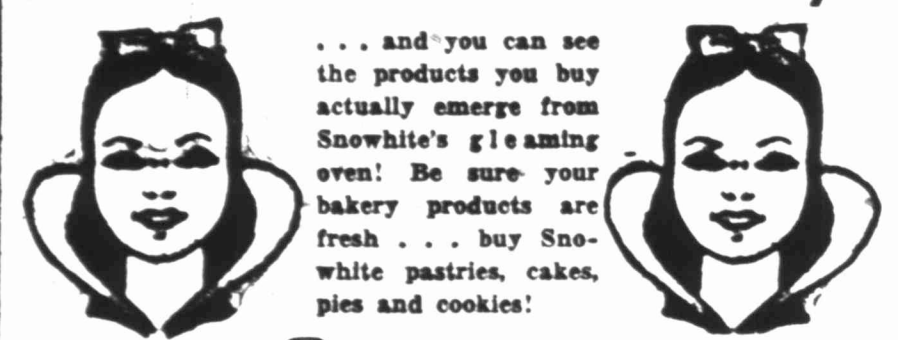

Just Call Him The 'Bashful Robber'

Czechs Digging Up Old Names For New
PRAGUE—(P)—Czech philologists and geographers are digging up old Slavic names to replace German and Austrian place names which abound throughout Czechoslovakia. The German and Austrian names are a heritage of the long time Austrian rule of Bohemia and Moravia followed by the six year wartime German occupation.

The High Cost Of Corrosion Studied

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(AP)—Corrosion costs the United States five and a half billion dollars a year. This report to the United Nations Scientific Conference on the Conservation and Utilization of Resources is made by Herbert H. Uhlig, Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The United Nations released this report in advance of the conference which begins August 17. Biggest single loss is paint, at $2,045,000,000. This total is $58,000,000 dollars worth of paint and 1,460,000,000 the cost of labor to replace the paint. Second largest loss is corrosion in your auto and other internal combustion engines, $1,630,000,000. Third is $600,000,000 for underground pipe maintenance and replacement.

The raising of pheasants has become a regular part of the domestic poultry industry to supply a demand for this delicacy.

More than 2,000,000 servicemen, veterans and their dependents received some form of Red Cross assistance during 1948.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Spilt Milk

It happened far away in the Great Forest, up in the top of the very tall tree in the monkey house where Daddy Ringtail lives. It happened one night at supper on a far away day when Bobby Ringtail, the monkey boy, was a very little monkey. Sammy and Bobby, the monkey boys, were sitting there in the kitchen on opposite sides of the table. Daddy Ringtail was sitting between them, waiting for Mother Ringtail to bring the scrambled coconut.

"Careful there, Bobby!" Daddy Ringtail said. "You'll spill your milk!"

Daddy Ringtail said it because Bobby began to wiggle around in his chair, about to bump the glass of milk with an elbow. Oh, and when a glass of milk is bumped over, you know what happens. The milk runs over the table and off on the floor to make an awful mess. You just don't know how much milk is in a glass until you spill it all over everything.

"Careful there, Bobby!" Daddy Ringtail said again, because Bobby was wiggling some more in his chair. But this time Daddy Ringtail said it too late. Over went the glass with the milk spilling.

Bobby stopped crying and said: "Mugwump cries when he spills his milk. Bigger Monkey, his father, will get hold of him if he doesn't cry to show that he's sorry."

Oh, but that was different, Daddy Ringtail said. With a someone like Mugwump's father, I guess it's all right to cry over spilt milk. I think I'd cry and yell as loud as I could, if that would keep someone like Bigger Monkey from getting hold of me. I'd hope you don't have that problem at your house. Happy day!

Unusual 'Curb Market' Found

JACKSONVILLE, FLA.—A "curb market" here for humans. No one seems to know how it got started but each morning, at one street corner, a large number of workmen assemble, carrying their lunch boxes. They seem all ready for a day's work, but they just stand, waiting.

Then a truck will pull up, the driver will shout a couple of words and a number, and some of the waiting men will scramble aboard the vehicle. This is repeated by other trucks until perhaps a major portion of the men is gone. The corner is the market for a fair amount of Jacksonville's unskilled labor.

If construction business is not so good there may be few trucks of a morning. The men usually hang around the corner until about midmorning. If no job shows up, they go home.

MULHOUSE—When the police of Alsace caught up with Paul Becker, wanted on 15 charges of burglary and armed attacks, they found him living in a special subterranean hideout built underneath his mother's house in the forest of Saint Morand. Becker had a trained watchdog to warn him whenever a stranger approached the house. He then entered a stairway to his underground apartment of two rooms. An electrically-operated trap door closed behind him and an avalanche of old clothing fell to the bottom of the closet covering his means of exit.
