Benedum Outpost To Set Deep Oil String

Plymouth Oil Company No. 1-42 Barnett, wildcat in Central-West Reagan County, two and one-quarter miles northeast of the nearest production on the northeast side of the Benedum field, topped the Ellenburger at 12,127 feet. Elevation is 2,885 feet.

On that marker the Plymouth prospector is correlated to be 144 feet high to the same point in Hiawatha Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Barnett, a dry hole in the Ellenburger, two miles south and west.

Plymouth No. 1-42 Barnett is making hole below 12,173 feet. Operator plans to wear out the bit now in the hole and then come out and casing.

The pipe will be set on bottom and the project will then drill deeper into the Ellenburger.

This development has already indicated the discovery of commercial production from the Fusselman section of the Silurian in the zone at 11,800-880 feet.

In a drillstem test of that interval gas and distillate started spraying in 16 minutes after the tool was opened, and continued spraying for 14 minutes when the tool was closed.

Location is 680 feet from north and east lines of section 42, block Y, TCR survey.

SE Gaines Wildcat Reaches Ellenburger

Forest Oil Corporation and Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation No. 1-A Farmer County School Land fee, Southeast Gaines County deep wildcat, 18 miles southeast of Seminole, topped the Ellenburger at 14,050 feet on an elevation of 3,079 feet.

The venture drilled to 14,100 feet and is now being a drillstem test at 14,025-100 feet.

This prospector has indicated the discovery of flowing production from the Mississippian in the zone at 12,045-156 feet.

The development had a fill up of 14.48 barrels of oil per hour during a drillstem test of that interval. Some of that oil was unloaded from the drill pipe after the test.

After the producing possibilities of the Ellenburger are determined operators are expected to go back and make production tests on the Mississippian. Seven-inch casing is cemented at 13,497 feet. The Mississippian testing will be through perforations in the pipe.

Location of this exploration is 660 feet from west and east lines of section 37, Farmer County School Land survey.

Pegasus Flanker Has Deep Zone Prospects

Prospects for development of commercial production from the Ellenburger at Republic Natural Gas Company and associates No. 1 American Republic Corporation field, Central-North Upton County, wildcat have been improved by deepening it from 13,118 feet to 13,160 feet.

This venture swabbed 43.8 barrels of oil in four hours from the open hole at 13,025-118 feet, after that zone had been tested with 30,000 gallons of acid. Operators could not get the project to flow from that zone.

After deepening to 13,160 feet a drillstem test was taken at 13,025-180 feet. The test was open one hour and 30 minutes. Recovery was 1,530 feet of drilling fluid and 1,500 feet of free oil. No formation water was indicated.

Operators are to acidize the new section of hole and then test. This prospector is one and three-eighths of a mile southwest of the nearest completed producer from the Ellenburger on the south side of the Pegasus field.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 6, block 40, TP survey, T-5-S.

Pennsylvanian Void In NW Kent Area

William Herbert Hunt trust estate No. 1 Clinton trust prospect, three miles southwest of the Good field, and 1,980 feet from east and 1,972.5 feet from north lines of section 10, block 33, TP survey, T-3-N, developed a show of possible production in a drillstem test in the Pennsylvanian lime at 6,790-6,816 feet.

The tool was open one hour. Recovery was 10 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water. The prospector is drilling ahead below 6,846 feet in shale.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 98, block 1, H&GN survey.

SW Borden Tester Has Deep Shows

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and Pan American Production Company No. 1 Simpson, Southwest Borden County prospect, three miles southwest of the Good field, and 1,980 feet from east and 1,972.5 feet from north lines of section 10, block 33, TP survey, T-3-N, developed a show of possible production in a drillstem test in the Pennsylvanian lime at 6,790-6,816 feet.

High Winds Cease; Dust Clouds Fade

Winds died down in Texas Wednesday, meaning an end for now to dust storms and less danger of destructive prairie fires.

Left behind the wind was a dust haze and untold crop damage. A new cold wave moved in.

The great clouds of dust—actually top soil—scooped up from the plains area the last two days reached San Antonio and Austin Wednesday morning. Visibility was reduced to two miles at Austin. San Antonio's visibility was cut to three miles.

Temperatures plummeted. Winds in the Panhandle and West Texas fell to a gentle three to six miles an hour Wednesday morning, in contrast to the gales which whipped up the dust. Winds Tuesday in that area reached into the 40's.

In Oklahoma, winds died down along with grass fires which had burned over an estimated 75,000 acres of pasture and destroyed numerous ranch outbuildings in the Pecos area.

Temperatures dropped to a chill 16 degrees at Dalhart in the Upper Panhandle during the night and reached freezing levels in much of the Panhandle and West Texas. Similar chilly weather is expected Wednesday night. A slight temperature rise for the whole state is expected Thursday.

The only strong winds Wednesday were along the coast. Even those are expected to diminish Thursday.

Alpine Boy Drowns; Brother Rescued

ALPINE — Robert Smith, seven, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. (Mitch) Smith, drowned in a water tank here Tuesday night. His brother was rescued from the same tank.

The boy drowned in a six-foot deep steel water tank at the C. F. Burling residence here.

Mrs. Smith was attracted by screams of her older son, nine. She rushed to the tank and took him unconscious from the water. He was treated for a deep head wound and other severe injuries sustained by a fall from the top of the tank.

At that time the mother was unaware that the younger son, Robert, was missing. When she returned to the residence about an hour later and noticed his absence, she plunged into the tank fully-dressed and found the youngster's body.

Efforts to revive him failed.

U. S. Tightens Export Restrictions

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Commerce Department clamped tighter restrictions Wednesday on shipment of strategic goods to Red China or other points from which they might be re-shipped to countries in the Soviet sphere.

Midwest Hit Hard By Late Winter Blasts

The Winter-weary Midwest staggered Wednesday from another round of crippling climatic blows. Snows, sleet, gales and blizzards whipped over areas from the Northern Plains into Iowa and headed for Lake Michigan. A mass of cold air followed in the wake of the blustery, cold March weather.

Hundreds of towns were isolated with business almost paralyzed. Highway travel was virtually halted in many areas. Scores of schools were closed. Many tourists and some school children were stranded. Damage to property was extensive.

Some rail and air travel was curtailed. Communication service was wiped out over most of North Dakota and parts of South Dakota, Nebraska and Minnesota. Amateur radio station operations were ready to areas cut off from outside telephone and telegraph communication.

Fifteen persons lost their lives in a Northwest Airlines plane crash in a blinding snowstorm in Minneapolis Tuesday night.

Winds whistled across the Midwest prairie lands at velocities from 35 to 65 miles an hour, with gusts up to 85 and as high as 100 mph in some parts of the plains states. Moves Northeastward.

The storm, which landed its most devastating blows over the Dakotas, Nebraska and Minnesota Tuesday, centered in Northeastern Wisconsin Wednesday and moved northeastward.

Strong westerly winds and gales swept across Upper Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and Northern Illinois. Heavy drifting and blowing snow accompanied the gales. Blizzard conditions were reported in parts of Upper Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa. Much colder weather moved in with strong winds. Below-zero readings were in prospect for most of the north-central area.

Snow accompanied the blizzard throughout Eastern Nebraska, Eastern South Dakota, Western Iowa and Minnesota. Roads were blocked by huge drifts in many areas.

The winds caused much damage in cities, with hundreds of windows broken. Thousands of telephone, telegraph and power lines were knocked out.

Shafts of flames spewed immediately from the shattered airliner, also firing the neighboring homes of Mrs. Robert Cahn and Irving Luger. Occupants of these two houses fled to safety.

Janet Dougherty, 10, and her eight-year-old brother, Tommy, were engulfed by the first rapid sheets of searing fire.

He said injured when a preheated one on which he was welding exploded. The accident occurred on a lease between Iran and Rankin about 10 a.m. Monday. Abel died in the Iran hospital about noon.

Abel had been employed by the Gilcrease Oil Company since 1937. He was born at Osage, in Coryell County, April 19, 1908. He came to West Texas in 1929 and married the former Miss Billie Manning of Midland on Feb. 14, 1934. She survives.

Other survivors include a daughter, Adrian; two sons, Shannon and "Chippie"; the mother, Mrs. W. G. Abel of Clifton; two brothers, Chester of Clifton and Luther of Hamlin; and two sisters, Mrs. J. A. Cox of Valley Mills, and Mrs. J. M. Drace of Kingsland.

High Winds Bring Protest, Action In Garbage Situation

High winds this week sent trash and waste paper swirling through city streets and brought forth a storm of protests and complaints. City Manager W. H. Oswald said Wednesday. Most of the complaints, he said, came from the downtown area where trash of all kinds was blown from alleys, through the main thoroughfares and into business establishments.

The city manager said that as a result of the high winds and the numerous complaints, the city immediately is launching a campaign to remedy the "bad situation."

Uncovered garbage containers and the indiscriminate placing of trash and waste of various kinds are responsible for the unsanitary, unattractive and dirty situation, Oswald said. "The condition must be corrected."

The City Council at a recent meeting discussed the garbage situation and indicated strict enforcement of the city's garbage ordinance may be ordered.

We are calling upon all business firms and others to obtain and use covered containers sufficient in number to take care of their garbage, trash and waste of all kinds," Oswald stated. "The contacts are being made in a true spirit of cooperation."

Other inspectors this week will visit business firms, calling attention to unsightly and unsanitary conditions and requesting the cooperation of all concerned in improving the trash situation here.

Top Military Man Outlines Future Plans

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Gen. Omar N. Bradley, America's No. 1 military man, said Wednesday that present forces cannot give the United States "an absolute guarantee against a disastrous blow."

"But I feel that we are going to have the necessary forces to prevent a disastrous attack from crippling this country," the chairman of the joint chiefs of staff said in a speech before the Women's National Press Club.

"I also believe that our forces in being, and our mobilization base, will be sufficient, together with the forces and potential of friendly nations, to win a war if it comes," he added.

Bradley made a sober analysis of this nation's military position as compared with that of Russia. He praised the Navy's anti-submarine program and the Army's economy-gear emphasis on combat strength at the expense of supporting personnel.

Of atomic power, he said: "Our stockpile of atomic bombs, and our ability to deliver them, affords us an immediate but inconclusive blow of retaliation. Our research and development program, not only in bombs and rockets, but in other weapons and techniques, if properly maintained and supported should continue to improve the position of the United States and its friends."

Progressing Rapidly
Bradley urged that the Navy's submarine and anti-submarine program go along "as fast as our research and development facilities will permit," and added: "I am glad to be able to tell you, from my personal observation, that we are progressing rapidly in this field."

Over a long period of peacetime, he said, the United States "should not expect to match the Soviet Union in the number of military divisions for division, without lowering its standard of living."

"If it is the desire of the American people to assemble forces that will statistically give the United States a preponderance of military power next year, then we shall have to become an armed camp," he declared. Such a force eventually "will be a drain, not only on the economy, but on democracy and its many freedoms," he added.

Off Screen For Ten Years, Ruby Far From Retired

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—Mrs. John Lowe, a pretty housewife and mother who lives a few blocks away from Jane Russell in Van Nuys, is worried about Larry Parks.

She has her hands full with five children, but every now and then she finds herself wondering how in thunder Larry Parks will ever make the public accept him as anything but a mammy singer.

I thought Mrs. Lowe would be the last person on earth to be concerned about Larry Parks.

She was a big star herself as Ruby Keeler and then as Mrs. Al Johnson.

"Larry will have a difficult time. I'm afraid," Ruby said. "But I think the two Johnson pictures were wonderful for Al. It's just amazing. Knowing him as I do, I would say that he almost has to have fame to be happy."

But Ruby makes no bones about her disapproval of the pictureization of her marriage to Johnson in "The Johnson Story" with Evelyn Keyes impersonating her.

"I wasn't for it," she told me. "It seemed silly to me because the script really had nothing to do with our lives together. But there wasn't anything I could do to stop it."

Still The Same
"It has been about 10 years since Ruby did her farewell buck-and-wing to both Al Johnson and the screen.

But she doesn't look a day older than the day moviegoers first heard her sing and dance in the big Warner musical, "42nd Street."

Not long ago Ruby ran into Ginger Rogers at the Lakeside Country Club.

Ginger, who played a chorus in "42nd Street," kept staring at Ruby's slim figure and muttering under her breath.

Ruby bristles when people talk about her retirement.

"I didn't retire and I never said that I wouldn't make another picture. Besides, I've been having babies most of the time."

Her children have never seen her on the screen.

Ruby and her husband, who is a real estate subdivider, rarely see movies. They never even got around to the two Johnson films. If the pictures are ever shown on television she says they'll see them.

But Ruby is glad that Hollywood has buried the backstage-understudy-takes-over plot in film musicals.

"In my day," she said, "musicals didn't get better—they just got bigger. Every picture I made had one line in it: 'I'm free, white and 21.' I just got tired of repeating it."

The Lowe ranch is only half an hour from Hollywood and Vine, but names like Gene Kelly and Vera-Ellen are practically Greek to Ruby. She can tell you all about Ben Hogan, though. Her golf game isn't far from championship form.

Might Take Another
I asked her if she would do another picture if the right one came along.

"Sure, I would," she said. "The children are older now and can take care of each other. Fred Astaire? Of course I could dance with him. Dancers move around a lot more than I did in my buck-and-wing style, but I'm a quick pupil." Then she added:

"I marvel at the young kids who combine tap and ballet. They do it so well and they look like they're killing themselves."

Ruby is sure that everybody in Hollywood thinks she's as old as Grandpa Moses.

But as the crow's feet fly, she's comfortable margin away from the age at which life is supposed to begin.

She started her career at the age of 14 as a dancer at Texas Guinan's night club in New York. The Gerry Society yanked her right into school and she put down her sixes and carried her two with Lillian Roth and a Milton Berlinger.

He also produced a tintype picture of himself as a youngster in uniform.

But the land board had disappointing news—the parcel he had an eye on is reserved by the reclamation bureau, Ramsey said he'd try something else.

You Can Have The Hippo, Prof—We'll Take Vanilla

AUSTIN—A beautiful woman is no more beautiful than a beautiful hippo or horse, says Art Professor Henry N. Rasmussen.

"There is no artistic grounds for assuming that a woman is any more beautiful than a horse or an old gnarled tree," the University of Texas teacher says.

Rasmussen made the statement in his new book, "Art Structure," published by McGraw-Hill.

He disagrees with the centuries-old assumption that the female form is the highest form of natural beauty.

"With rare exceptions," Rasmussen says, "nature lavishes each single organism, from an ant to a hippopotamus, from an onion to a mountain, from a snake to a sunset, with structural harmony, balance and color."

resentment her sister's getting married; leaving her unmarried. The manifestation of the resentment was self-pity, resentment that she was left alone in the world. Her life has been rendered impossible to herself and to others by that basic resentment.

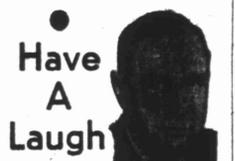

It is obvious that to hold hate and resentments is to throw a monkey wrench into the machinery of life. Structurally you are made for positive good will, in other words, for the Christian way of love. When you try the other way, then the machinery of life breaks down, or at least works so badly that it leaves you exhausted and ineffective.

Hate is sand in the machinery of life; love is oil—and life works better with oil than with sand. The lovers love others—and themselves; the haters hate others—and themselves.

O God, my Father, I have now come point-blank to the necessity of getting rid of all resentments, all hates. If I live with my hates, I shall not be able to live with myself. So now I ask for help. I shall need Thy help to get rid of these things which have become rooted in me, which have become me. I offer them all to Thee. Amen.

RUTH MILLETT Pampering Your Husband May Make Him Forget Your Rival

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Writes a seeing-eye wife: "A young divorcee in our neighborhood is making an utter fool out of my husband."

"She has used every trick in the book to gain his sympathy and enlist his help in her personal and business affairs. She often manages to head for the bus stop just as he is driving to work. She gets him to make some small repair for her—then offers him a drink, etc. But why go on—the tricks are as old as time, and seemingly as endless."

"How can I make him see that she isn't the poor, helpless little thing she pretends to be, but an experienced woman who is enjoying her conquest and probably thinking

"Furthermore, your husband probably would jump to the woman's defense—and you wouldn't like that. Ignore The Whole Thing. So just go on about your own life—and sit out this episode without comment. It will pass, make no mistake about it. Women who enjoy making a fool of a man easily are bored with success. One of these days—if you refuse to let this business affect your marriage—this woman will decide that she has proved herself irresistible, has done what damage she can do, and will move on to greener pastures."

When she does your husband may feel a trifle foolish. But don't expect him to admit it. And don't even hope it will teach him a lasting lesson. He'll probably be an easy mark for the next woman who sets out to make him feel like a big, strong, wonderful man.

By the way, have you tried to make him feel like that yourself lately? (All rights reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

Second U.S. Capital

There's lots of talk these days about having a second capital for the government to skip off to in case we get into an H-bomb war. Rep. John Rankin, the Mississippi fireball, suggests we go underground at Mammoth Cave, Ky.

That presents some challenging angles. Right off, a big problem would be to find some echo-proof chambers for Congress, for not even the lawmakers could endure a constant play-back of their own sonorous phrases. It's bad enough that they bump into them now in the Congressional Record.

They shouldn't have too much trouble running interference among the stalactites, stalagmites and other rocky obstacles dotting their underground path. Years of experience in fending off job-seeking constituents would come in handy here.

The standard gripe about climate won't exactly fit at Mammoth, though some undoubtedly would find the place a trifle cool and moist. We could expect a big boom in sales of footwarmers, de-humidifiers, heavy woolen goods.

And despite all cries for economy, some new agencies would be bound to spring up. Certainly a federal bat control authority would be one. Today anti-stream pollution control gets attention. At Mammoth, anti-stream control would be more to the point.

Many members of capital officialdom probably would feel safer if their cave-dwelling were an around-the-clock affair. But others surely would prefer to climb out of the hole at sundown and scatter to snug Kentucky hide-outs. Vice President Barkley, who hails from Paducah, easily could slip home weekends.

Ground Hog Day likely would be matched by Congressman's Day. If a lawmaker climbed out of the cave and saw his shadow, it would mean another year of an unbalanced budget.

Vacations would pose a difficulty. For short trips, nearby Fort Knox might have some appeal. The place could be expanded to include a few choice suites. Snuggling up to all that gold would be comforting to men who had just voted another ten billion.

About the only passable substitute for Florida or California would be the giant Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico. Plenty of space there, but you have to bring your own ultra-violet.

Not much to cheer about in all this, admittedly. But Rankin nevertheless may have something. Offhand it sounds better than exposing oneself to a radio-active rash by strutting around Des Moines or Denver in broad daylight.

Good Idea, If It Works

Britain's Liberal Party made an interesting eleventh hour offer to the rival Laborites in the election campaign. The Liberals promised to support Labor in the new Parliament, provided that party would abandon its aim to nationalize the iron and steel industry.

As we read this, the Liberals have said they will be happy to join the Socialist Labor forces if they only will cease being Socialists. This falls somewhat short of being the most compelling proposition of the year.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: N. Y. tax chief and four aides indicted on extortion charges after Merry-Go-Round expose; Acheson suffered special variety of hell in Senate committee's grilling on "security risk," but State secretary passed his trial.

WASHINGTON—It looks as if the U. S. attorney, some of them hitherto phlegmatic about prosecuting income-tax frauds, now were getting to work.

On January 20 this column published the sordid details of a hold-up scheme by which five Internal Revenue agents in New York City shook down federal taxpayers who either had violated the tax laws, or else wanted to avoid tax argument.

The column cited dates, names and places regarding these shake-downs, and raised the question as to why this type of fraud had not been prosecuted. One of those named, incidentally, was William A. Gansy, chief of the fraud squad.

New York's third Internal Revenue collection district, and a friend of certain high-up democratic politicians.

Finally, on March 3, six weeks after the column expose, the five men were indicted.

Acheson Passes Test
A tall man with an elegant mustache and a soft, cultured voice went through a special variety of hell in a tiny, smoke-filled Senate room the other day.

His agony was there for the world to watch. Glaring cameras stared at him. Reporters scribbled notes. Hostile words picked at him savagely. No tempers flared or voices raised. It was very polite and very, very deadly.

Dean Acheson, the secretary of State, sat before the mighty Senate Appropriations Committee and an intent audience.

The test began when urbane Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire casually asked: "Mr. Secretary, what do you consider a security risk?"

"Yes," the secretary said, quietly, "I think probably so. He parried the thrust and was on guard again for the next one.

"Would you say a friend of a person who is a member of a Communist front organization would be a security risk?"

The audience was watching with awed fascination. Would the secretary of State fall into the trap? This was a game for keeps. Acheson, still in the low, cool voice, said, "It all depends on whether the person would know what his friend was up to."

So they say

Experience has taught us that paying money for things by way of Washington is not the way to save money. A dollar seldom travels to Washington and comes back whole.

The Republican Party has failed, not in principle but in selling that principle to the people of America.

We have learned to split the atom—achieving a means of self-destruction for the world—but we still don't know how to feed the hungry.

No two senators are less alike than Republican Owen Brewster of Maine and Democratic Glenn Taylor of Idaho. But when it comes to getting support prices for potatoes, they battle side by side.

There are few, if any, diseases known to medicine where so many different methods yield good results. The majority of warts yield to mild treatment, though occasionally, especially for warts on the feet, simple medical treatment is not always successful.

Warts usually are not serious but there are many unsolved problems about them still. They are surrounded by more superstitions than almost any other medical condition.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

I suppose one of the most satisfying plays in bridge is the "grumpy coup." Today's hand came up at the New World Chess and Bridge Club in the Churchill Hotel, New York City.

Naturally Strasberg thought he had nothing to worry about when the dummy went down, but nevertheless he was alert enough to know that if there were four diamonds in one hand, the only way he could make the hand was to find them all in the East hand. If so, he would have a chance to execute a grand coup.

The opening lead of the five of hearts was trumped by Strasberg, sitting South, with the three of diamonds. He cashed the ace and king of diamonds, discarding a small spade from dummy.

Now, with the queen of hearts in the dummy, East was trumped by declarer with the ten of hearts and trumped it with the five of diamonds.

The ace of spades was cashed and a small club won in dummy with the queen. The six of spades was trumped by declarer with the six of diamonds.

East, however, refused to trump the queen of hearts. He discarded the ten of clubs, so declarer discarded his good king of clubs. On the next play East had only the jack and nine of diamonds left in his hand and he was forced to trump. He trumped the trick with the nine of diamonds, declarer overtrumped with the ten, and won the last trick with the queen of diamonds.

Warts—Weird Ailment—Responds To Weirder 'Cures'

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Sen. McCarthy's Case No. 9 Backfires As 'Security Risk'

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—First one of Wisconsin Republican Senator Joseph R. McCarthy's 81 security risk cases to be identified by name is David Demarest Lloyd. He now is employed as an assistant to Charles V. Murphy, who recently succeeded Clark Clifford as President Truman's counsel.

Senator McCarthy may have a lot of stuff in his 80 other cases. But even Senator McCarthy admits today that he is not going to push Case No. 9. The record of David Demarest Lloyd's life may indicate why.

David Demarest Lloyd is 38. He is married and the father of two children. He was born in New York. His own father and mother were Democrats, but most of his relatives were Republicans.

Lloyd's father-in-law was Charles Tuttle, a New York Republican district attorney who was GOP candidate for governor of the Empire State in 1928, running against Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Young Lloyd himself is of medium-build, light-haired, and wears glasses. He is quiet, serious, scholarly type. He is an Episcopalian. His hobby is painting water colors. He was graduated from Harvard in 1931 and Harvard Law in 1935. He got into government service through Department of Agriculture's Retirement Administration. For three years he was on the staff of Senator LaFollette's Civil Liberties Investigating Committee.

In this period he joined the Washington Cooperative Bookshop, along with a lot of other Washingtonians who thought they were going to get discounts on books. Later on most of them found they had been suckered in on a Communist plot, and got out. Lloyd also joined the National Lawyers' Guild, in the days when Supreme Court Justice Jackson, Judge Ferdinand Pecora and other prominent attorneys joined. When the guild reversed itself, Lloyd was over to the left, Lloyd and all the other anti-Communists got out.

In 1945 Lloyd went to Europe with the Harriman economic mission. While there he says it became clear to him that communism was trying to destroy European recovery. When he came back to the U. S. in 1946 he looked around to see what could be done about it.

Americans for Democratic Action was being formed. Lloyd helped in its founding, joined its staff, and helped draft the anti-Communist plank in the ADA constitution. In ADA, one of Lloyd's principal activities was in fighting the Henry Wallace influence tooth and nail.

About this time Lloyd made application for a job in the State Department. While he was being investigated, he got a job in the National Defense establishment. But he asked the State Department to keep his file pending because he might want to transfer to State.

In 1947, Rep. Karl Stefan (R-Neb) asked the State Department for an abstract of its files on employees and applicants for jobs under investigation. Lloyd's file was sent to Representative Stefan. It became his Case No. 98 in hearings of the House Appropriations Committee in January, 1948.

When these hearings were published, Lloyd recognized his case, though he wasn't mentioned by name. He protested to the State Department, and he went to see Stefan.

From the State Department's John Reufrey, now deputy under-secretary of state in charge of administration and security, Lloyd got an apologetic letter. It included an admission that there were no questions of security risk in connection with his case, and an explanation that his file should not have been sent to the House Appropriations Committee.

From Representative Stefan, Lloyd got assurance that a statement on his protest would be filed with his record. Lloyd thought the matter closed. Nevertheless, two years later he was to find that Senator McCarthy had picked up the old Stefan file and published it without any qualifications as Case No. 9.

In 1948 Lloyd worked with the Democratic National Committee's research man on the election campaign staff in Washington. He did not travel on any of the Truman campaign staffs. But in December, 1948, he joined the White House staff.

Senator McCarthy's reference to Lloyd as "a White House speech writer" hardly is correct. He works under Presidential Counsel Murphy, principally on legislative matters. Murphy's former Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross describes Lloyd as a man of all work, one of a team of able young men on the White House staff. His salary is about $10,000 a year.

Questions and Answers

Q—Who originated the baseball rain check?
A—Amner Powell of New Orleans gave to baseball one of its most valuable assets—the rain check. In 1889 it was the custom to climb the fence of old Sportsman Park to see a game. If it rained, the fence-walker walked out the main gate and received a ticket to the next day's game. That was no way to make money so the rain check scheme was invented.

Q—Does the use of aluminum cooking utensils cause any possible danger from aluminum poisoning?
A—No. Aluminum is not considered to be poisonous.

Q—Which character in Little Women is supposed to represent the author?
A—The character of Jo generally is considered to be the author, Louisa M. Alcott.

Q—Was Columbus really the first to believe that the earth was round?
A—Proof of the roundness of the earth was recognized among the ancient Greeks, especially from observations of eclipses of the moon. However, this knowledge later was lost to mankind for centuries.

Q—Are men or women considered better shoppers?
A—Women are better shoppers than men, and spend 85 per cent of the family budget, according to statistics prepared for a life insurance organization. Sixty per cent of the clothing worn by men is bought by women.

climbed the steps and disappeared from Kelso's sight—as Kelso did from his.

WHEN Stivers came back down the steps, Kelso was at the opposite end of the great studio minutely examining Paul Moody's complex model for the National Electric Building.

Stivers could not see him at first but at the sound of his steps Kelso came out from behind the model. He tried to crush his beaming smile into a look of compassion.

"Too bad this guy Moody won't never finish that job."

"Too bad," said Stivers and sat at the desk to finish his work. He was just making his last record in his notebook and packing his kit for departure, when he heard a footstep.

He looked up and saw a man whom he assumed to be Paul Moody. The man who entered looked like a sculptor. He looked like sculpture. His head and features seemed modeled with keen knowledge of bony structures and as if with a chisel in them. His long hours in the hot sun, beating tennis courts had tanned him till he had almost the look of bronze.

His features were set in a stern and fixed expression of anger and wonder at the intrusion, but his eyes were alive and gleaming. His shoulders were square, his torso solid and powerful, and the hand that held the cigar he had just taken from his surprised lips was a potent hand, a hand that Stivers had been coming to know very well from his fingerprints.

Stivers was sure of the man's identity Stivers said: "Who are you?" "Who are you?" came the echo in a belligerent voice. "This happens to be my studio."

Music And Settings Add Interest To Puppet Stage Show

Sponsored by the Midland Elementary Schools, the famous Suzari Marionette Company from New York will bring to Midland Monday its Broadway success, "Pinocchio."

This production is a musical puppet show, with both human and puppet characters, and has been scaled to Suzari's new large-sized stage.

"Pinocchio," in the Suzari version, tells the well-known story that children always have loved, and yet new York audiences, both of children and grownups, are reported to have enjoyed the suspense of the story exactly as if they didn't know what "happened next."

For "Pinocchio" is one of the stories that never grow old.

For novelty, the company has provided a whole series of colorful settings which make the unusual feature of depth, making possible a variety of new lighting effects, and a lot of lively action.

One performance will be given in the High School Auditorium at 4 p.m. Monday. Tickets may be bought in advance at offices of the elementary school principals.

SOCIETY

THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, MARCH 8, 1960—3

Children's Clinic Friday Financed By Easter Seal Sales

The annual clinic for crippled children, which the Children's Service League will sponsor Friday in the City-County Auditorium and Midland Health Center, is one of the services financed by the seal sale of Easter seals in his county.

Each year the league conducts the seal sale which will begin for 1960 with the mailing of seal packets Monday to hundreds of Midland County residents. Sixty per cent of the proceeds remain in the county for assistance to crippled children; ten per cent goes to the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults to finance its program of research and education and a national program to aid the cerebral palsied, while the remainder goes to the Texas Society for Crippled Children.

Aid from the latter organization comes directly back to the county through hospital treatment of crippled children who are sent from Midland county to the hospital maintained by the state society.

Specialists To Be Here

The clinic Friday will be conducted by three specialists and a nurse sent here by the state society. It will be for children of Midland County and nearby counties. Members of the Children's Service League and other volunteers will assist in clerical work. Mrs. C. H. Atchison, league president, has announced that use of the Ellis Funeral Home ambulance has been donated to take some Midland children, who are not able to be taken in ordinary automobiles, to the clinic.

Mrs. Atchison explains that services of the league to crippled children are available the year round, and asks that names of children, and of crippled adults whose handicap may be given attention by the national society, be reported to the league.

"Facilities for the treatment of these persons are maintained through community participation in the Easter seal sale," she added. "We want to extend these services to every person who needs a helping hand to overcome a handicap. We cannot do this unless we have funds to work with, for services to the crippled are expensive because they require highly trained professional personnel."

 SAN ANTONIO — Margaret Truman, daughter of the President, has arrived here for a concert she is to give Thursday night.

Mrs. W. Cowden Tells Club Of Showy Blooms

"Flowers to Brag About — Grow Glads and Dahlias" was Mrs. Walter Cowden's subject in a talk Tuesday morning to the Pyraeantha Garden Club, of which she is president. Mrs. Barney Grafa was hostess to the club in the Midland Officers Clubhouse.

Three new names were added to the club's expanding membership list: Mrs. Henry Conkling, Mrs. T. P. Drew and Mrs. O. L. Stalcup. The Pyraeantha Club, organized late in 1948, changed its meeting place this season from members' homes to the Officers Clubhouse so it could enroll more members.

Roll call was answered with plans for beautification of alleys, a project of this year. Mrs. Robert C. Spivey made the flower arrangement shown at the meeting, of peach blossoms, bachelor buttons and pansies in a large black container, with the figures of two small green elves.

Flowers Men Like

Mrs. Cowden described gladiolus and dahlias as "men's flowers," with showy blooms which are attractive in the garden or as cut flowers. She gave information on their culture, based on the "Better Homes and Gardens Garden Guide."

Points she listed as important in growing dahlias were: Don't plant too early; prepare the soil well and insure full sun; allow enough room; tip and disbud the plants; take care in feeding; stake when the bulb is planted; dig and store the tubers carefully. For gladiolus culture, she said, remember that the larger the bulb the larger the bloom; give them lots of sun and fertile, well-drained soil; and plant them about seven inches apart.

Other members of the meeting included Mrs. Kenneth Newton, Mrs. L. F. Uhrig, Mrs. Frank Whitaker, Mrs. E. A. Wahlstrom, Mrs. Stuart Slesley, Mrs. Joe E. Smith, Mrs. Harry Russell, Mrs. Frank W. Reeves, Mrs. C. E. Oberholzer, Mrs. Harry Murray, Mrs. Coe Mills, Mrs. Lamar Lunt, Mrs. Roy Lockett, Mrs. Paul Lathrop, Mrs. Brutus Hanks, Mrs. W. H. Dunn, Mrs. Max David, Mrs. Willard Bumpass, Mrs. C. R. Webb and Mrs. L. A. Kuykendall.

'Neater Town' Is Club Discussion

McCAMEY—"Pro and Con for a Neater Town" was discussed by the Neater Town Club in the home of Mrs. C. W. Culwell recently. Mrs. J. T. Gibbs and Mrs. Don Smith discussed the affirmative, and Mrs. Bess Moorman and Mrs. R. L. Basham, the negative.

The house was decorated with Spring flowers, and the serving table was centered with an arrangement of iris. Thirteen members were present. The next meeting was announced as "Exchange Day," with Mrs. J. T. Gibbs as hostess. Each member will bring plants to be exchanged and extra plants and seeds are to be given to the negro schools.

Mitre Peak Camp Schedule Announced For Girl Scouts

PECOS — Eight camping periods, beginning June 11 and ending August 5, will make up the established camp program for Girl Scouts of the Mitre Peak Camp near Alpine. Mrs. J. E. Starley of Pecos, business manager, has announced.

Mrs. J. J. Black of Midland will be camp director again, and Mrs. L. A. Teplicek of Alpine is camp chairman. The third week of the camp, June 25-July 1, is for Senior Girl Scouts only; the other periods are for Brownies and Intermediate Scouts.

Any actively participating registered Girl Scout is eligible to attend the camp for one or two weeks. Preference will be given in order of applications received, with first consideration given to girls of the Permian Basin Area.

Applications with the enrollment fee of five dollars per period are to be sent to the area office in Pecos. The camp operated under health and safety rules of Girl Scout established camps. Each girl must have a health check within a week before going to camp and each is urged to have an inoculation for typhoid.

Rules For Visits

Visitors are permitted in the camp on Saturdays and Sundays only, but frequent letters from home are recommended by camp officials. Emergency telephone calls may be made to the camp director or chairman although the girls will not be permitted to telephone or to answer calls.

Each camper may deposit one dollar a week with the camp trading post, drawing upon that amount for purchases from its stock, and she is allowed an additional dollar for handcraft materials.

Because of the danger of sunburn, campers are being asked not to wear halters in camp this year. Suggested camp equipment, not all of it necessary for any one girl, is listed as follows:

Pillow and case, Girl Scout uniform, Girl Scout camp uniform, shorts and blouses, blue jeans, bathing suits, shoes, anklets, pajamas, underclothing, sweater or warm coat, handkerchiefs, blanket, two sheets, comb, towels, tooth brush and paste, wash cloths, drinking cups, face and laundry soap, flashlight, dark glasses, stationery and postage, camera, films, pocket knife, laundry bag, notebook and pencil, Girl Scout handbook, costumes, musical instruments, bath robe and slippers, rain coat, hat and rubbers.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And The Bridge

The rain rained and rained all night in the Great Forest. It rained rivers and oceans and lakes of water. The water filled the Duck Pond, and the creek, and even the Whispering River. When morning came, the Whispering River wasn't a river that whispered any more. It made a loud roaring noise.

"I don't know. I don't know."

Daddy Ringtail said when he heard it. He said it to Sammy Ringtail, the monkey boy, for the day had come when they were going to the other side of the river to look for chinkapin nuts on the Chinkapin Tree. Daddy Ringtail didn't know how they were going to get across the river. It was too full of water to swim, and the Whistlesniffer had borrowed Daddy Ringtail's riverboat.

"Maybe we can go way up the river and cross over the bridge," said Sammy, and so off they started through the forest, on up the river to the place where the bridge was.

Daddy Ringtail shook his head. He didn't know how they would get across, or what they would do, if the bridge were gone. "Well, just have to wait and see," he said. "Anyway, we don't cross a bridge until we come to it."

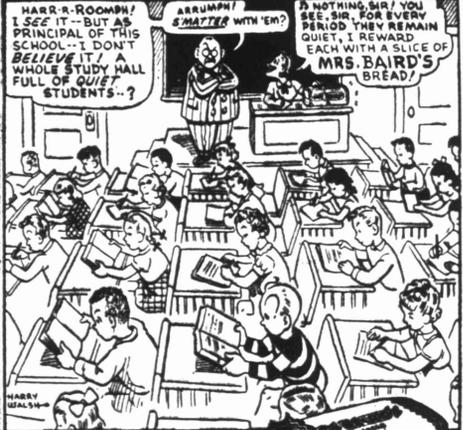

Sammy almost laughed when he heard it. Of course people don't cross a bridge until they come to it. And when they did come to it, the bridge was there all right. It wasn't washed away at all. Daddy Ringtail and Sammy crossed over it. They got their chinkapin nuts and came back home again safe and sound. Yes, and there never had been a reason to worry about the bridge being gone. It was not gone.

And if you ever see anyone who is worried about how to do something long before it is time to do it—or worried about how to cross a bridge that may isn't there—you can tell them what Daddy Ringtail said: "You don't cross a bridge until you come to it." Never worry until time to worry, and then you won't have to worry at all, maybe. I hope. Happy day! (Copyright 1950, General Features Corp.)

Convicted Rapist Starts Prison Term

ORANGE — (AP) — Paul LaFleur has started serving prison sentences for raping an Orange school girl and shooting and robbing her teen-age escort. He was given a 99-year sentence in each case. Officers Tuesday took him to the Huntsville State Prison. Judge E. A. Lindsey ruled the 30-year term would start after the 30-year-old convict finished serving four other sentences. District Attorney Robert Hillin said this means LaFleur must serve about 50 years before becoming eligible for a parole or a pardon.

American Petroleum Institute, production division, in Dallas Friday. The paper will be read by Lambert, the senior author, at the Friday afternoon session. After the presentation, there will be an open discussion conducted by Lambert and Hippard.

Lambert is the company's division reservoir engineer at Odessa, and Hippard is exploitation engineer in the Hobbs, N. M., district. The paper is a statistical summary of gas-oil ratio repair operations and results in 24 fields in the Permian Basin of West Texas and New Mexico. Covers 563 Jobs. Five hundred three repair jobs were analyzed and classified as to type, results, location and cost of each job. All jobs were grouped according to type and field in which located, and analyses were made giving pertinent data for each classification. It was found that 49 per cent of all jobs were successful, 36 per cent were partially successful, and 15 per cent were failures. In the study based on 144 successful jobs of all types in several fields, it was found that the average gas-oil ratio was reduced from 12,700 to 1,230 cubic feet per barrel by remedial work. The average "life" of all repair jobs, based on the same 144 representative jobs, was indicated to be two and one-half to three years.

It was revealed that the particular subsurface and reservoir conditions existing in the various fields where repair work was attempted influenced the results and costs of all types of jobs. An analysis of those jobs which failed to reduce the gas-oil ratio indicated that approximately 80 per cent of the failures can be attributed to mechanical failure, improper application, or reservoir conditions, while a lack of data and specific knowledge of field and well conditions made it impossible to determine the causes of the remaining failures.

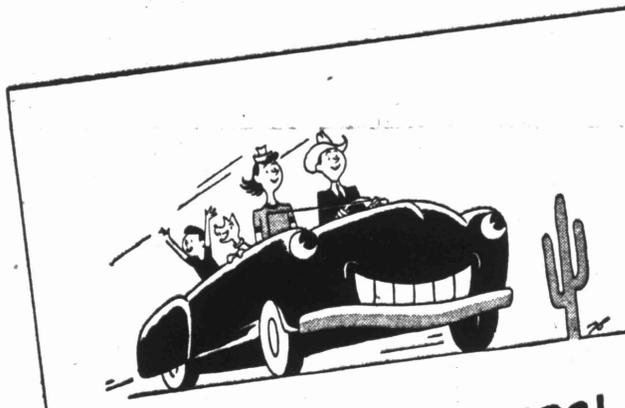

Match Experience
Lambert, an engineering graduate of Stanford University, has been employed by Shell since 1933, and has worked in various exploitation engineering positions in Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana, Michigan and Iowa. In 1948 he was superintendent of the Hobbs District and in 1947 was transferred to the Midland area office on a special assignment. For the last two years he has served in his present position of division reservoir engineer at Odessa. Hippard has been exploitation engineer in the Hobbs district since March, 1949. Prior to that assignment he served in a similar capacity in the Houston district for several years. Hippard received a B. S. degree in petroleum engineering in 1942 from the University of Oklahoma and has been employed by Shell since 1945.

Bradley Favored To Cop NIT Toga

NEW YORK—(P)—Bradley University's Braves are a 7-2 favorite to win the National Invitation Basketball Tournament opening at Madison Square Garden Saturday. The odds makers Wednesday conceded a couple of Blue Grass entries—Western Kentucky and Kentucky—the best chance to derail the pride of Peoria's march to new honors.

Western has rated a 4-1 choice and sophomore-laden Kentucky was figured at 5-1. Odds of the other nine teams spread from 6-1 for St. John's and Duquesne to 30-1 and up for Arizona. The Far Westerners shouldn't feel too upset about those figures, however. San Francisco was equally as long a shot last year when it waded through a wave of upsets to the title. The defending champs are 12-1 this time.

Here are the other odds: Long Island University and CNY 7-1, LaSalle 9-1, Syracuse 10-1 and Niagara 15-1. Meanwhile, the NCAA tournament still had some berths open. Brigham Young, the Skyline Six champion, was chosen to represent District 7 and Baylor, co-champ of the Southwest Conference with Arkansas, was picked to represent District 6.

NCAA Berths Unfilled They will play in the Western regional playoffs at Kansas City March 24-25. The Eastern playoffs are scheduled here March 23-25, with the finals at the Garden March 28.

Three berths in the Eastern field are filled—Holy Cross, No. 1; North Carolina State, No. 3, and Ohio State, No. 4. The District Two spot still is wide open with Duquesne, St. John's, LaSalle, CNY, Niagara and Princeton in the picture. UCLA and Washington State clash in a playoff this weekend for the District 8 assignment. Bradley, the Missouri Valley champion, will meet the Big Seven titlist in a playoff at Kansas City March 20 for the District 5 berth. They play in the Western eliminations.

Kansas moved into a tie with Nebraska for the Big Seven lead by humbling Kansas State Tuesday night 79-68. Each has eight victories, three defeats and a tie. Kansas State still is in the running with a 7-4 record and conference games coming up this week.

In other games Tuesday night, CNY barely edged past New York University 64-61, and Wyoming tripped Colorado 50-41.

Dyer Sees Three-Way Flag Chase

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA.—(P)—Eddie Dyer looks for another hot race in the National League involving Brooklyn, Boston and his own St. Louis Cardinals.

"We're not conceding a thing," said the personable Card skipper, "but we've all got a job trying to stop Brooklyn. They're the team to beat. Boston looks much improved. They probably have more power than anybody else with Sid Gordon and Willard Marshall in the lineup. Don't overlook us. We got some problems but our pitching should be better with Max Lanier and Fred Martin with us all the way."

Maybe you think Dyer spent the winter moping about his troubles of last fall when the Cards crumbled just when they seemed ready to win the pennant.

"No, that wasn't my greatest disappointment, pard," he said, "I think we just had our slump at the time we just had our slump at the wrong time. We hadn't had one since May 23. Then the boys who carried us all summer just couldn't seem to help us any."

"We got our problems," Eddie continued. "Nobody knows how Nippy Jones is going to go after his serious back operation. If he can't make it, then we'll have to see if the Big Boy (Stev Biko) is ready."

Biko, a hulking young giant who hit 310 for Rochester, impressed at first base last season during a late trial.

Eddie Kazak, regular third baseman, is another question mark. Kazak was well on his way to rookie-of-the-year honors when he injured his ankle July 23. He never got back to full time duty.

Every Day's Ladies' Day For A's Aunt Ida Shibe

WEST PALM BEACH, FLA.—(P)—Every day is ladies' day at the ball park for Aunt Ida Shibe.

The widow of Tom Shibe, who succeeded his father as head of the Philadelphia Athletics, has missed only one Spring training trip in 40 years. She has rooted for the A's, both as pennant winners and tail-enders.

The 1950 edition bringing Connie Mack to his Golden Jubilee year as manager of the Athletics has her pulling harder than ever. "I'm pulling awful hard for the A's to win this year," she said Tuesday.

Just For Connie Mack "I want us to win the pennant—just for Connie Mack. Of course, it would be nice for all of us. But I'm thinking of Mr. Mack. He's such a wonderful man. There's just nobody like him. Every night, I pray the A's win for him. That would be the finest thing that ever happened to him."

Mrs. Shibe never missed a Shibe Park game until recent years, not even during that seven-year stretch from 1915 through 1921 when the A's consistently finished in the league cellar. Now, she said, she sees all the night and Sunday games, and "every afternoon, too, when I can get somebody to go with me."

In addition, she takes an Eastern trip with the club and makes one swing through the West each year. "I'm the hardest loser in the A's organization," she readily confessed. "Why, my heart breaks when we lose a game. I go home and talk to myself. I say we should have done this . . . or done that . . . and then we'd have won. But I go back and feel sure we'll start a winning streak."

Texas Tightens Boxing Regulations

AUSTIN—(P)—Fighters knocked out in Texas now will have to take a 30-day layoff before they can box in the state again. And eight-ounce gloves will be the minimum instead of six-ounce gloves.

These two changes in Texas boxing rules were announced Tuesday by Commissioner of Boxing M. B. Morgan. They're designed to prevent deaths from injuries in the prize ring and were spurred by the recent death of Texas' Lavern Roach after a fight in New York City.

New Double Play Rule Won't Make Baseball Sissy, Declares Veteran Big League Ump

TUCSON, ARIZ.—(P)—Bill Summers, veteran of the American League umpiring staff, wants it understood that there is no danger of big league baseball going sissy through the act of its rules committee. "Don't worry too much, he advises, about this year's new regulation which many students think will prevent a base runner from 'taking out' the pivot man on a double play at second. The play, one of the most spectacular of the game, still will be used within reason, Bill says. A runner will have to be guilty of "obvious unsportsmanship" before he incurs the prescribed penalty. "All the new rule does is give us umpires the power to stop some fellows from chasing the second baseman or shortstop clear out on the grass in trying to break up a double play," Summers explains. "As long as the runner stays within reach of the bag either with a foot or a hand we'll let him go into second as hard as he wants to. That's part of the game. Little changes expected."

Girls Basketball Tournament Opens

WACO—(P)—Seagoville was favored to defend its title as the twelfth annual State Basketball Tournament of the Girls' High School League of Texas opened Wednesday.

The defending champs square off against Lockney at 7 p.m. Aledo played Cotton Center at noon in the first game of the tournament. Other opening round games match Bullard vs. Denton Valley; Bynum vs. Dimmitt; Avery vs. Lawn; Rogers vs. Meridian; East Chambers vs. Meadow; Sweeney vs. Dalhart.

NEW COACH AT ALICE BELTON, TEXAS—(P)—Carl Bage, former coach at Kennedy and Burnet and assistant at Temple High School, has been named head football coach at Alice High School. He has been head coach at Belton.

The Philadelphia Athletics have finished in the first division of the American League only once since 1933.

Manager Lou Boudreau of the Cleveland Indians asked Bill if he didn't think enforcement of the rule might create many a ruckus during the season. "Not at all, Lou," he replied. "And I can tell you why. For about the first or second time we call it on your team, you're going to holler plenty. And then you're going to get to thinking what it's cost you, and the next time you'll tell that runner of yours to be careful how he goes into second."

"Not only that, but the batter, finding himself called out without a chance to reach first, is going to notice that all he got out of it was a time at bat on his record. He's likely to say something to the runner, too. Oh, no, it'll straighten itself out."

"Bill," said Lou, "I believe you've got something there."

Coach Garvin Beauchamp has his eyes on a transfer lefthander to bolster his Midland High mound staff this Spring. The newcomer is Bill Grissett, Jr., a transfer from Mineral Wells, who will be eligible for varsity baseball although he had to settle with performing for the "B" football team. Beauchamp says Grissett is a promising lefthander and may be the boy he is looking for to handle the relief duties this season. He was eligible for football and basketball here but may develop into a good three-sport man for his senior year. Charles Crowley, another lefthander, may be used considerably by Beauchamp this year also. Crowley hasn't performed as much in practice as Grissett. Both of them may make good replacements for righthanders Bill Medart and Jimmy O'Neal.

Midland High's Girls volleyball team had to cancel a tournament engagement which had been set for next weekend in Big Spring. The girls must forego their volleyball dates in order to be here for the school dedication program Saturday. So far this season the team has won seven and lost four games. The girls hope to increase their percentage next week when they meet Rankin in a pair of games.

Coach Wilford Moore of McMurry College hopes that there is a good omen tied in with an injury received by Floyd Sampson, his "Mr. Inside" ball carrier. Sampson broke his leg in Spring drills recently. Moore recalls that during Spring drills in 1949 his big end, Les Cowan, broke an arm and then came back in the Fall to gain an unanimous vote for All Texas Conference, an honorable mention for Little All America honors, and a professional bid.

Diamond Corps In Scrimmage

Coach Garvin Beauchamp sent his squad of Midland High Bulldogs through another long baseball drill Tuesday in preparation for the season-opener nextweek against Odessa.

Beauchamp worked his candidates in a light scrimmage in order to decide on the starters for the first game.

He used four pitchers during the session and came up with two 1949 squadmen, Bill Medart and Jimmy O'Neal, as his first-line hurlers. Lefthander Bill Grissett, Jr., probably will handle the bulk of relief chores.

In the outfield, Beauchamp settled on Jack Mobley, D. Thomason, Jerry Culp and Charles Crowley as the quartet which likely will see major duty. The infield is unsettled with the first base position still wide open.

The Bulldogs will tackle the Odessa High Bronchos in Odessa, March 14, and will play a return game with the Bronchos here, March 31. Two exhibition games also have been booked with the Big Spring Steers.

DETROIT TIGERS TRY ROOKIE HURLERS
LAKELAND, FLA. —(AP)— The Detroit Tigers figured on a look at rookie pitchers in the first intra-squad game of Spring season Wednesday.

Manager Red Rolfe indicated he'd test Righthanders Art McConnell from Little Rock and Dick Kinney from Laconia, N. H.

Permian Basin Oil & Gas Log

Corporation own jointly in Central-West Pecos County.
Hunt No. 21, Elsinore Royalty Company will be 1,220 feet from east and south lines of section 26, block B, GC&SF survey. That makes it six and three-quarter miles southeast of Chancellor.
Hunt No. 22, Elsinore will be 1,220 feet from north and west lines of section 27, block B, GC&SF survey. That spots it four and one-quarter miles southeast of Chancellor.
Both explorations are projected to 2,200 feet. Cable tools will be used to dig the holes. These projects are primarily being drilled to secure sub-surface information.
It is thought that Hunt and Gull will ultimately drill several deep prospectors on the Elsinore block.

San Andres Venture Slated In SE Garza

Drilling is to be started at once on a 2,750-foot wildcat to explore the San Andres-Permian lime in Southeast Garza County.
The venture will be Callihan and Harrison of Abilene No. 1, W. C. Williams. Location is 330 feet from south and west lines of the north half of section 83, block 5, H&GN survey.
That makes it seven miles southeast of Justiceburg, and three miles east and one-quarter of a mile north of the same operators' No. 1 Dorward, recently completed discovery from the San Andres.
Cable tools will be used to drill the exploration.

SW Outpost Staked To West Gaines Pay

A southwest outpost has been staked to the newly designated East Hobbs pool, in extreme Central-West Gaines County.
The possible one-mile extension to the Clear Fork discovery is to be Anderson-Prichard Oil Company No. 1 Alma Hancock.
Drill site will be 660 feet from north and 2,466 feet from west lines of section 15, block A-10, pal survey. This places it four miles east of Hobbs, New Mexico.
Discovery well of the East Hobbs pool was the Mid-Continent Petroleum Company No. 1 L. R. Nichols. On a daily pumping potential from Clear Fork perforations at 6,490-6,448 feet, it produced for 97 barrels of 34-gravity oil, plus 10.2 per cent water.
Projected depth for the possible extension is 6,500 feet.
One mile north of No. 1 Alma Hancock, and three-fourths mile southwest of the No. 1 Nichols, Humble Oil & Refining Company is installing a pump on its No. 1 Bailey to complete a San Angelo discovery.
This new discovery bottomed in the Clear Fork, but could develop no production at that depth. Operators plugged back to the San Angelo at 5,855-5,865 feet. From this section, they swabbed 120 barrels of fluid, 95 per cent oil and five per cent water, in eight hours. They will complete from the San Angelo.

Devonian Site Picked In C-S Crane Pool

Gulf Oil Corporation has staked another Devonian exploration in the Cordona Lake field of Central-South Crane County.
Gulf No. 2-D Jax M. Cowden, to be 660 feet from east and 1,980 feet from south lines of Juan Cordona survey, tract 1, is slated to go to 5,600 feet to tap the Devonian pay of that area.
The drill site will be 12 miles southwest of the town of Crane.

Three WT Discoveries Get Field Allowables

Discovery allowables and field designations have been approved for discoveries in Kent, Andrews, and Borden Counties.
The Chapman and McFarlin No. 1 Cogdell, in Central-South Kent County, is the first well in the Cogdell pool.
In Southeast Andrews County, Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 David Fasken, has been designated as the discovery well of the Fasken oil field.
The Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Von Roeder, a Canyon reef producer in Southeast Borden County, is the first producer in the Von Roeder area.

Stanolind To Pipe Cogdell Reef Oil

A second pipe line outlet has been scheduled for the Cogdell-Canyon pool in Central-South Kent County. Stanolind Oil & Gas Company will begin laying an eight-inch line into the area by April 15.
It will extend 36 miles from the Stanolind's Post station in Garza County. Initial capacity of the line into the Cogdell area will be approximately 10,000 barrels daily.
Texas-New Mexico Pipe Line Company recently announced plans to lay a line to the Cogdell pool, through the North Snyder sector.
The pool's oil is currently being purchased by Cities Service Oil Company, which is trucking the crude to the Pasotex Pipe Line Station in North Scurry County.

Demotion Of Critic Of Johnson Policy Stirs Capitol Talk

WASHINGTON—(P)—Disclosure that a Navy critic of Secretary of Defense Johnson is being transferred out of his high medical post raised some blood pressures in Congress Wednesday.
The officer involved is Rear Adm. Joel T. Boone, who has called Johnson's economy cutback of military hospitals a "shortsighted" policy.
He has been the senior medical officer in Johnson's office, and during his career has served as White House physician to Presidents Harding, Coolidge and Hoover, besides winning the Congressional Medal of Honor in World War I.
Congressional ire was centered in a House Armed Services subcommittee which has been hearing repeated testimony that without consulting Army, Navy and Air Force medical authorities, Johnson ordered several military hospitals closed in an attempt to save from $25,000,000 to $50,000,000. Boone was a witness Tuesday.
Military headquarters at the Pentagon confirmed that eight days ago Boone was told he was being removed from his post as chief of the joint plans and action division of the Defense Department's Office of Medical Services. The department supplied no reasons.
Boone has been in disagreement during the last month with the proposed cutbacks planned by Johnson and Dr. Richard Melling, director of the Defense Department's Military Medical Services.
What happened shortly to the outspoken officer, a Defense Department representative said, "is up to the Navy."

SE Borden Permian Tester Abandoned

In Southeast Borden County, C. W. Guthrie has plugged his No. 1 V. Wolf.
This prospector drilled to 4,247 feet in middle Permian lime. It did not report logging any shows of oil or gas.
Location was 660 feet from north and 1,320 feet from south lines of section 40, block H&TC survey. The venture was four miles northwest of Vincent, which is in Northeast Howard County.

Cram Named Head Of Conoco's Production, Exploration Work

PONCA CITY, OKLA.—Appointment of Ira H. Cram, Houston, to the newly created position of vice president in charge of Continental Oil Company's production department was announced Wednesday by President L. F. McCollum. Cram will also continue in his position as vice president in charge of the company's exploration, it was said.
It was announced that simultaneously that O. L. Fisher, assistant manager of Continental's production department, is promoted to be assistant regional general manager, new post region, Houston. In his new position, he will assist in the direction of all of Continental's operations in Texas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Arkansas and Mississippi.
Fisher will be succeeded as assistant manager of the production department by H. H. Hinson, chief production research engineer.
Cram is a nationally known geologist and he has carried on exploration work throughout the United States, Canada and Venezuela. He is a past president and past secretary-treasurer of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists.
Fisher has been with Continental Oil Company for more than 23 years, and rose through the ranks to his present position. Starting as a tool dresser for the company in August, 1926, he was advanced to foreman, then to superintendent, and regional production manager in Texas and Louisiana, and became assistant manager of the production department in January, 1949.
Prior to joining Continental, Hinson was with the U. S. Bureau of Mines for 12 years. He was formerly assistant supervising engineer of the bureau of mines in charge of reservoir engineering, and had charge of all government-owned gas fields and pipelines supplying gas to government helium plants.

Expert Declares Patient Was Dead Before Air 'Shot'

MANCHESTER, PA.—(P)—A defense medical expert testified Wednesday he believes the vein of Mrs. Borroto's left arm had collapsed several hours before Dr. Hermann N. Sander gave her air injections.
Dr. Richard F. Ford, head of the Department of Legal Medicine at Harvard, made this statement under a stiff cross-examination by Attorney General William L. Phillips.
Earlier, Ford testified that air could not have caused the death of Mrs. Borroto, as it was impossible for Dr. Sander to inject a needle into the collapsed vein.
Dr. Sander is charged with injecting air into the veins of the hopeless cancer patient to end her suffering.
Dr. Ford Tuesday clearly outlined all the details of the autopsy he performed on Mrs. Borroto January 21.
He was on the witness stand about four hours before defense counsel asked:
"Did air cause Mrs. Borroto's death?"
His answer was sharp and clear, "No, it did not."

MHS Band, Choir Present Concert

The Midland High School Band and A Cappella Choir gave a joint concert Tuesday night in the new high school auditorium to raise funds for an inter-communication system being installed in the school.
The A Cappella Choir is directed by R. C. Michener, director of music in Midland schools, and the band by Jerry Hoffman.
Though neither organization was at full strength because of flu, the small audience responded enthusiastically to the performance.

Stamp Club Holds Monthly Meeting

Members of the Midland Stamp Club met Tuesday night to discuss adoption of a proposed constitution for the organization. President Turner Wynn presided at the meeting, held in the commissioner's courtroom of the Midland County Courthouse.
Howard Davis was in charge of the program. He gave an illustrated talk concerning the history of Central Europe as portrayed by the stamps of Germany and German satellite nations.
Members present included L. P. Boone, Robert L. Clarke, Howard Davis, Clem George, Mrs. Joe Chastain, Leo Goodwin, Dwain Hunter, R. W. Johnston, Albert S. Kelley, Bill Key, Mrs. L. F. Lees, Mrs. Nanette Leikisch, W. R. Mann, Louis Michaelson, Bill Nix, John Reeder, Bill Rutter, W. M. Sandeen and Turner Wynn.

Bill Would Legalize Fishing Contest Ads

WASHINGTON—(P)—Representative Mack (R-Wash.) plans to introduce a bill to prevent the Post Office from classifying certain fishing contests as lotteries.
Mack sniffs at a post office ruling that fishing contests which offer prizes for the catcher of the biggest fish are lotteries—or games of chance—and may not be advertised through the mails.
Mack's legislation would exempt from such a ruling any "biggest fish contest approved by a state's governor."

Dunlap's
Horsemeat Found In Texas Cites Stirs Probe By Officials
By The Associated Press
State and federal officials Wednesday sought the answer to a number of questions in the case of high priced beef tenderloin that turned out to be horsemeat.
They wanted first of all to know where it was produced.
Thousands of pounds of horsemeat—processed to resemble choice beef tenderloin—were seized in Houston and Dallas Tuesday.
At Fort Worth the City Health Department confiscated 3,600 pounds of meat but wouldn't label it horsemeat. "We are not sure what it is," said City Health Director W. V. Bradshaw.
Most of the meat shipments came from Kansas City. A federal investigation was launched there. "Good, Clean Meat"
R. S. Martin, chief of Houston's City Health Department meat inspection division, said an estimated 3,000 pounds of horsemeat had been sold to 12 high class Houston restaurants since December.
"It was good, clean meat," he said, "but it was horsemeat."
Martin said 1,911 pounds of horsemeat had been seized in Houston. More than four thousand pounds of horsemeat, labeled as beef tenderloins, was confiscated at Dallas.
Dallas City Health Officer J. W. Bass said the 4,000 pounds of horsemeat had been sold as "beef tenderloin" for a fancy wholesale price of $1.25 a pound. It was seized because it bore no federal stamp.
"Some of the meat already had been sent out to markets," Bass said. "We have recovered all of the meat except two boxes of 100 pounds."

HOUSTON—(P)—A secret compartment in a packing crate scheduled to be auctioned yielded 231 aquamarine stones, estimated to be worth about $8,000.
Customs Collector Sam Low discovered the stones when he took off the bottom of the crate to catalog its household furnishing contents.
The crate was to have been auctioned Thursday as an unclaimed shipment.
