King's Return Postponed By Sudden Crisis

BRUSSELS, BELGIUM —(P)—The Belgian government resigned Saturday and thereby postponed King Leopold's chance to return to his throne.

The collapse of the government was caused by the eight Liberal ministers, who refused to go along with the nine pro-Leopold Social Christians in calling a joint session of the two Houses of Parliament to end the regency and invite the 48-year-old monarch to return from exile in Switzerland.

One of the possible results may be new general elections.

The king, still in a jam because of his surrender to the Germans after only 18 days of fighting in 1940, will not be able to come back until Belgium has a government which agrees to call Parliament into joint session. Parliament then must repeal a law of 1945 which bars Leopold from resuming his constitutional powers without its permission.

Prince Charles, brother of the king and regent since the liberation, began consulting political leaders Saturday afternoon. He saw Robert Gilson, Liberal chairman of the House, and Franz Van Cauwelaert, Social Christian president of the Senate, and then called in the presidents of the Social Christian, Liberal and Socialist Parties. Julien Lahaut, president of the Communist Party, was summoned too, but he could not attend. The regent then suspended consultations until Monday.

Liberals Refuse To Yield
In refusing to agree to call a joint session the Liberals stood by their pre-plebiscite position that the king must obtain a majority of the votes in the French-speaking South and East (Wallonia) and the Socialist-dominated Central Brussels area as well as the Flemish-speaking North and West.

In the advisory plebiscite of last Sunday, in which the people were asked whether they wanted the king back, 57.68 per cent voted "Yes." Leopold won 71.08 per cent of the vote. (Continued On Page 10)

Gale Winds Stir South Plains Dust

By The Associated Press

Gale winds blinded the South Plains with Texas' worst dust storm of the year Saturday and cast a haze in the air from the Panhandle to Dallas.

The winds whipped out of a Midwestern snow storm and brought chill air with them. But the Weather Bureau said there was no chance the Texas plains would get snow—badly needed as a moist covering for dry farmland.

Although temperatures dropped sharply as the norther pushed toward Central Texas, the Weather Bureau said there would be no extreme cold because readings were high to begin with.

Heavy dust storms blew up at Big Spring and Abilene in West Texas, as well as in the South Plains. Clarendon and Childress, in the Panhandle, reported visibility cut sharply by dust in the afternoon, but the sky was clearing rapidly Saturday night.

Light winds fanned Central and East Texas, and spanking breezes brought out small craft warnings along the Texas coast.

The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal said the South Plains storm eclipsed last Wednesday's gritty blow, which has been described until Saturday as the year's worst dust.

But as the cool air from the Midwest moved in, the atmosphere began clearing.

Woman Dies On Airliner

AMARILLO —(P)—A Kansas City woman died quietly aboard an airliner enroute here Saturday. She left a pathos-filled note regretting that she would not see her 10-month-old son, Michael, grow up.

Aboard the plane with her was the boy. She left careful directions to the airline hostess of what and how to feed him.

The woman was Mrs. Clifford Snow, 32, whose husband works in the baggage department of the Kansas City Union Station.

Dr. Guy Owens, who was called to the airport, was quoted as saying he "surmised" that she swallowed an overdose of sleeping pills.

Neurological Patient
The woman's mother-in-law, Mrs. Harry T. Snow of Kansas City, and a sister, Vernita Bowlin of Kansas City, said the victim long had suffered from sleeplessness and nervousness and had been under a physician's care in the past for overuse of sleeping pills. Mrs. Snow had been a patient at a neurological hospital for the same reason, they said.

Mrs. Ivy Wilkinson, justice of the peace, indicated that she would not return a coroner's verdict until Sunday. It was she who quoted the doctor on the probable overuse of sleeping pills. Mrs. Snow was enroute from Phoenix to Kansas City. She had been (Continued On Page 10)

Eddie Chiles Named On Special Board To Advance Texas Tech

LUBBOCK —(P)—The Texas Technological College Board of Directors Saturday awarded construction contracts totaling $2,159,941 on four new buildings and additions to existing buildings on the campus.

The contracts went to the R. S. Hall Company of Houston. They were for music, science, engineering and home economics structures. Construction is expected to begin within 30 days.

A total of $3,897,441 has been awarded in contracts to date on Texas Tech's new extension program.

The directors also expanded the Texas Tech Foundation by naming a 10-man board "to relate the college to the needs of people in the Southwest."

Members named were Eddie Chiles, Midland; Ray Willoughby, San Angelo; Jack Frost, Dallas; Don Harrington, Amarillo; Obie Bristow, Big Spring; Clifford B. Jones, Lubbock; Raymond Buck, Fort Worth; O. B. Ratliff, Lubbock; Spencer Wells, Lubbock, and C. T. McLaughlin, Snyder.

The board also reelected Charles C. Thompson, Colorado City, as chairman and named Ed Smith, 33, formerly of Del Rio, assistant to the president. Smith has been a teacher of accounting at the college.

Bids on three agriculture buildings will be accepted at the board's April 22 meeting in Lubbock.

Chilly Breeze Changes Summer-Like Weather

A chilly north breeze, accompanied by some sand, changed the weather picture in Midland Saturday night after a Summer-like day.

The change was abrupt—and surprising—since Midlanders had enjoyed shirt-sleeve weather. The temperature rose to 80 degrees Saturday afternoon.

The forecast for Sunday was partly cloudy and colder. A few snow flurries were predicted for the Panhandle.

West Texas Teachers Meet In Midland

Panic Seizes East Berlin As Russian Mark Value Plunges

BERLIN —(P)—The Soviet zone's east mark plummeted in value to little more than two cents Saturday. The collapse paralyzed trade in the Russian sector of Berlin.

Merchants held onto their goods rather than accept a currency which dropped 30 per cent in 24 hours.

Rumors that the Russians would make their revalued ruble the monetary basis in the Soviet satellites, including East Germany, touched off the panic. A denial by the East German Bank of Emission failed to break the slide.

The situation dramatized Germans' faith in the west mark backed by European Recovery and the reputation of the American dollar. It is worth 23.8 cents.

Fifty-two money exchange offices, where Berliners trade east marks for west marks and vice versa, were thronged with long lines of persons trying to unload East marks.

The exchange offices refused to handle any big amounts. The offices closed at noon with the official rate pegged at nine east marks to one west mark. The usually realistic black market hit ten to one. Banks indicated new official rates are a virtual certainty when business is resumed Monday.

Coke Calculates He'll Try Again For Senate Post

AUSTIN —(P)—Coke Stevenson said Saturday he probably will run again for the United States Senate. He said he hasn't had any thought of seeking any other post.

The former governor said by telephone from Junction he would not run for the Supreme Court post now held by Meade F. Griffin of Plainview.

"Meade Griffin has been my friend for years and I sure wouldn't run against my friend," Stevenson said. "I haven't had any thought of running for anything except the race for reelection to that office for that again."

Stevenson was defeated by Lyndon B. Johnson for the junior senator's post by 87 votes in 1948 after one of the bitter races in Texas' political history. He charged illegal vote-counting. Johnson denied it. The Senate seated Johnson.

Denies Court Ambitions
There will be U. S. Senate races both in 1952 and 1954.

Stevenson said a story in Saturday's Austin American saying he was preparing to run for the Supreme Court was "the first suggestion from any source" he run. "I haven't discussed it with anyone," he added.

Griffin said he would make the Supreme Court race a top priority. He had no comment on the report Stevenson would seek the (Continued On Page 10)

Joe Mims, Midland County attorney the last eight years, said Saturday he is withdrawing from the race for reelection to that office for "business reasons." He had filed as a candidate for reelection to a fifth term early in January.

He expressed appreciation to citizens who had pledged their support in the July primary and to those who have supported him in past years.

A native West Texan, Mims has practiced law here the last 14 years, and is well-known throughout this area.

City Hall Open House Set Friday

The City of Midland will show off its enlarged and remodeled City Hall at a special open house and public information program to be held from 7 to 9 p.m. Friday.

Plans for the function, to which all residents of Midland and vicinity are invited, will be to show the new building and its facilities and to afford citizens an opportunity to become better informed concerning their city and its government.

The two main purposes of the event, officials said, will be to show the new building and its facilities and to afford citizens an opportunity to become better informed concerning their city and its government.

Construction work on the two-story building was completed several weeks ago and all departments now are operating in the spacious structure.

Various Displays
Personnel of the various departments will be on duty at their respective stations Friday night to answer questions concerning the operation of their departments. Charts, maps, displays, drawings, and pictures of all kinds will be on exhibit in the various rooms and in the hallways. Large zoning, drainage and master plan maps will be on display.

Judge Refuses Change Of Venue For Evald Johnson

AMARILLO —(P)—Judge Henry S. Bishop Saturday denied a motion for a change of venue for Evald Johnson charged with the murder of W. A. (Tex) Thornton.

The state had asked for the change of venue.

Johnson's trial has been set for May in Amarillo. A 500-man venire will be summoned.

Johnson and his young wife, Diana, are charged in the slaying of Thornton in a tourist court here last Summer. Thornton was a well-known oilfield explosives expert.

Struggle For Extradition Of Slayer Begins

MARFA —(P)—The attempt to bring the slayer of the Presidio County sheriff to the United States settled down Saturday to work on extradition.

County Attorney Norman C. Davis and District Attorney Travers Crompton were to meet here this weekend to work on the documents.

The admitted slayer, Jose Villalobos, escaped across the border and was jailed at Ojinaga, Mexico.

The sheriff, O. W. (Blackie) Morrow, was killed with his own gun a week ago when he tried to question Villalobos on a lonely road near Presidio.

Extradition may be a long process. Papers must go to Austin and Washington. The question then will be taken up by officials of the two nations.

The United States may attempt to prove Villalobos is an American citizen. Officers have documents indicating he is an American. Villalobos has been considered a Mexican citizen at times.

If Mexico determines Villalobos is an American, extradition probably will be much easier.

Registered In Midland
Friday at El Paso an immigration officer said border patrolmen have written documents in which Villalobos described himself as a U. S. citizen and called himself Juan Carrasco.

The officer said other documents include an original birth certificate showing Juan Carrasco was born Nov. 28, 1926, at Saragosa, Texas, described by officers as a small border settlement; an original certificate of the Church of St. Catherine, Pecos, Texas, showing Juan Carrasco was baptized there on Jan. 23, 1927; a Selective Service registration card which showed Juan Carrasco registered Oct. 5, 1945, in Midland, Texas, and a Social Security card made out to Juan Carrasco.

Red Cross Returns Hit $10,480 Mark

Returns in the Midland County Red Cross fund drive Saturday totaled $10,480.65—only $1,519.37 short of its $12,000 goal—Mrs. Vic Rogers, campaign office manager, reported.

Drive leaders encouraged by the sudden spurt in contributions, predicted the quota will be reached early this week. They said all volunteer workers, both men and women, are determined to complete assignments promptly in order that the campaign may be concluded successfully and quickly.

Chairman J. M. McDonald said the campaign will continue in full swing this week. Vice Chairman John W. Hill and John Parker urged workers to turn in their completed reports as promptly as possible. The leaders expressed appreciation to all who have participated in the county-wide effort.

Persons missed in the drive may leave contributions at the Chamber of Commerce.

Successful WTTA Meeting Concluded

Members of the West Texas Teachers Association Friday night concluded their annual two-day convention here. The session, the first WTTA gathering ever held in Midland, was termed one of the largest and most successful in the history of the organization. It also was the largest convention ever held in Midland.

The "Standing Room Only" sign was up in the new and beautiful Midland High School Auditorium Friday afternoon as more than 2,500 WTTA members assembled for their first general session.

The 1,800-seat auditorium was filled, and many persons were standing in the back of the hall as Dr. James L. Hynes, Jr., professor of education, George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, Tenn., addressed the group. More than 200 delegates, unable to find seats in the auditorium, heard the address over the new inter-communication system in classrooms of the main building.

A sizable crowd also was on hand for the evening general session in the auditorium, when Dr. A. Lester Pierce, director of the Center for Psychological Research of the University of Houston, told of "Factors Underlying Emotional Problems of Children."

Gasoline Blast Injures Midlander

Billy Hill was admitted to Western Clinic Hospital Saturday afternoon for treatment of burns suffered when gasoline exploded while he was working on an automobile.

A hospital report said he suffered second and third degree burns about the arms, chest and neck.

Influenza Cases On Decline Here

A substantial drop in influenza cases was reported Saturday by Dr. F. E. Sadler, director of the Midland City-County Health Unit. Flu cases for the week totaled 376 as compared to 633 a week ago.

Other communicable diseases reported Saturday included: chicken pox, 23; mumps, four; pneumonia, 12; scarlet fever, four; and whooping cough, two.

Man Injured While Moving House Here

O. E. Martin suffered a shoulder injury and bruises and lacerations in an accident on South Garfield Street Saturday afternoon. He was injured when a winch being used to move a house slipped, crushing him between the house and a truck.

Martin was rushed to Western Clinic Hospital by Neville W. Ellis ambulance. He is under treatment there, but is not believed in serious condition.

Brooklyn Beauty Is Convicted; Gets 15 Years In U. S. Prison

FRANKFURT, GERMANY —(P)—Mrs. Yvette Madsen, hysterical Brooklyn beauty, was sentenced Saturday to 15 years in an American prison by a U. S. court which convicted her of murder in the shooting of her Air Force husband.

"Will they let me see my babies before they send me away?" the 22-year-old mother of two asked her lawyer as she left the court.

The question went unanswered. The children are under the care of her mother in Brooklyn.

After breaking up several court sessions with hysterical outbursts of weeping and fainting, Mrs. Madsen was surprisingly calm at the verdict.

Defense Plans Appeal
She was pale and thin. She trembled. Her long dark hair was straggly. But she held herself erect and she walked dry-eyed out of the courtroom from which she had to be carried several times during the two-week trial.

The defense plans to appeal to the U. S. Court of Appeals in New York.

Mrs. Madsen shot her husband, Lt. Andrew E. Madsen of Oakland, Calif., the night of October 20 when he followed her home from a party at which the prosecution said, she angrily slapped the bond for leaving her about her Brooklyn accent.

The defense did not deny Mrs. Madsen shot her husband. Her attorney entered for her a plea of insanity by reason of temporary insanity.

The three-judge court rejected the insanity plea and ruled she was "able to realize the forbidden nature of her act."

Council Candidate Drops Out Of Race
Harold J. Rucker, landman for the Shell Oil Company, has withdrawn from the race for Place 4 on the City Council. City Secretary J. C. Hudman said Saturday, Rucker, in a letter to Hudman, asked that his name be withdrawn as a candidate for the office in the April 4 city election.

1,655 Death Drivers

The fatal accidents involved 1,655 drivers, of whom at least 1,530 were men. Sex of 19 drivers was not indicated in reports, which indicated only 106 drivers were women.

Drivers in the 25-44 age group were in 803—almost half—of the fatal wrecks, while 301 drivers were 45 to 64, and 244 were 21 to 24. A great majority, 1,319, of the drivers were from cities.

The report showed 152 of the drivers were intoxicated; 412 were exceeding a safe speed limit; 246 were exceeding the legal speed limit, and 209 were driving on the wrong side of the road (not in the act of passing another car).

In 87 instances, drivers were reported fatigued or asleep when the fatal accident occurred.

Woerner listed 1,356 of the drivers as white; 150 as negro and 133 as Latin.

Travel on federal highways produced 619 fatal accidents. There were 358 on state highways and 177 on county roads.

Engraving Plant Opens In Midland

Opening of the Reynolds Engraving Company, at 211 East Wall Street, here has been announced by Forest Reynolds, owner.

Featuring all new and modern equipment, Reynolds and his son, Hugh, bring to Midland several years of experience in the engraving field. The company is equipped to handle all types of engraving and offers one-day service to printers and publishers. Full-page engravings, half tones and special color work, are important features of the new company.

Reynolds moved to Midland recently from San Angelo where he was associated with an engraving firm for 10 years. He has had 17 years of experience in the field and offers guaranteed work. His son has been trained thoroughly in engraving work.

Forest Reynolds

Reynolds' presence in Midland means fast and quality engraving service. Printers and publishers of newspapers and other publications will find the Reynolds plant ready to take their orders and issue prompt, courteous and high quality service. Several thousand dollars worth of new and high-grade equipment has been installed in the new plant.

Reynolds recently purchased a home in Midland and has moved his family here. His son will serve as assistant manager of the firm.

Telephone number of the Reynolds Engraving Company is 3839. Reynolds invites the public to drop by and inspect his new plant. In addition to all types of engraving, Reynolds will do photo copy work and can offer three-day service on rubber stamps.

Flying 'Object' Is Star Or Planet, Says Navy Station

CORPUS CHRISTI—A plainly visible white object, soaring high across the sky at an estimated speed of 1,000 knots an hour, was reported seen here Saturday.

Two federal agencies, checking the object with calculating instruments, said it definitely appeared to be either Venus or Jupiter. Another agency opined it was the setting moon.

It was spotted by Corpus Christi resident, the Weather Bureau and an Eastern Air Lines pilot.

The U. S. Naval Air Station sent a Corsair fighter plane racing after the object, but after reaching 35,000 feet the pilot radioed he could not find the object. The Navy entered the search at the request of the Weather Bureau.

For an hour precision instruments clocked the movement of the object and revealed that it maintained its 30-degree lead on the sun, lending weight to the belief it was a star or planet.

The airplane pilot, flying on to Brownsville, said he still had the object under observation as he passed over Raymondville.

Darwin was wrong about giraffes, according to a London naturalist. The giraffe got its long neck, not through the necessity for reaching upward into treetops for food, but through having to stretch downward to ponds and streams to get water.

South's Largest Newspapers Merge

ATLANTA—The Atlanta Journal and the Atlanta Constitution Saturday announced an agreement had been reached for a merger of the two papers.

The announcement was made in front page statements published in both papers.

The Journal, an afternoon and Sunday paper, has the largest circulation in the South. The Constitution, a morning and Sunday paper, has the next largest circulation. They are the only dailies of general circulation in Atlanta.

Search For Cohen's Henchmen Shifts To El Paso, Juarez Area

EL PASO—Flashy Juarez nightclubs—just across the Mexican border from this Texas city—are being watched closely for two of Mickey Cohen's missing lieutenants.

Frank Nicoll, 38, and David M. Ogil, 29, wanted in Los Angeles, Calif., on several charges, are believed to be hiding in the vicinity of the Mexican border city.

Investigation into Cohen's activities also spread into Southern New Mexico.

Armed with photographs of the fugitives, Capt. Frank Manning of the El Paso County Sheriff's Department Investigation Division, and El Paso Police Detective Bill White provided the night spot Friday night in an effort to locate the men.

Reported Killed, Buried

Officers also said they were checking a report that Ogil was being killed and buried near Juarez.

Cohen sold his fancy clothing store in Los Angeles to post $74,000 bail for Nicolo and Ogil, who vanished last September.

Charges against them include conspiracy, assault with deadly weapons and obstructing justice.

Sheriff Joe Campbell of El Paso recently conducted a quiet investigation at Las Cruces, 40 miles to the north in New Mexico, at the request of Inspector J. G. Bowers, of the Detective Division of the Los Angeles Sheriff's Department.

He said he was attempting to confirm a report that Cohen was purchasing what was described as a rest home in the Southern New Mexico City.

El Paso officers were alerted to the possibility that Nicoll and Ogil might be in this area "recently."

Reverend Scheduled

Inspector Campbell called Sheriff Manning to warn him Nicoll and Ogil had left Tucson headed for a rendezvous with a man described only as an El Paso gambler.

A hotel room in El Paso, where the meeting reportedly was scheduled, was surrounded by five deputies and watched for two days and a night. The men failed to appear.

A later report to Captain Manning said another "local gambler" and the two men and a woman crossed the Zaragoza Bridge from El Paso into Mexico, Nicoll and Ogil, Manning said, did not return.

Captain Manning said even later reports indicate the men may have moved farther south to a large hotel in Chihuahua City.

Reserve and National Guard officers from the five-state Fourth Army area attended the course, which ended Saturday.

Citizens Recently Through Tax Winger Get Good News From Food Industry Group

NEW YORK—For citizens just through the tax winger, here are a few kind words from some men in the food industry. The cost of eating is expected to go down.

Not very far, and not very fast, and not all items. The government, food processors say, is right in there pitching, with its price supports and subsidies, to see that food prices don't drop fast or far, at the farm level. One food executive thinks farm prices may hold about where they are, but most seem to think they'll slip a little lower.

The surpluses hanging over the market should lend their weight to pushing prices, at the store level, a little lower. And the big food processors, who have been doing very well in recent years, have put large sums into expansion, and also into better equipment. That's beginning to pay off now in more efficiency and lower production costs.

Trend Downward

"The trend of food prices in general is downward," says Clarence Francis, chairman of General Foods Corporation. "The slide will be very gradual because of government farm price supports, and also because of the government's policy of any budget slashing by Congress."

Domestic spending is ticketed for a $1,213,000,000 reduction as the House Appropriations Committee begins work on it. This part of the budget is all wrapped up in one bill. Foreign aid will be handled separately.

The senators' action served as significant notice to the House that the Senate committee won't go along with the domestic cut unless reductions are made in Marshall Plan and Atlantic Pact funds.

The House committee Monday takes up the domestic money bill totaling $29,113,000,000 and covering funds usually handled by Congress in nine separate measures. The overall total is $1,213,000,000 less than Truman requested for the department for the fiscal year 1951.

May Ask Deeper Cuts

The four per cent cut was recommended by a central group manufacturing the bill before the committee starts work on it. Republicans are expected to try for much deeper slashes.

The Administration has asked $4,356,000,000 for foreign spending. Senator Maybank (D-SC), an appropriations member, said he for one isn't going to vote for cuts in domestic spending until he gets a chance also to support some reductions in the foreign program.

"I'm in favor of using every effort to balance the budget and a big part of any reduction that is made in appropriations is going to have to come out of what they are asking for ECA and Atlantic Pact military funds," he said.

Senator Russell (D-Ga) said he doesn't regard the House measure as an omnibus bill at all.

"ECA and arms aid ought to be included if we are going to have a single appropriations bill as has been promised," he said.

Senators To Demand Foreign Aid Share In Budget Slashing

WASHINGTON—Senators on the Appropriations Committee agreed informally Saturday to demand a share of any budget slashing by Congress.

Domestic spending is ticketed for a $1,213,000,000 reduction as the House Appropriations Committee begins work on it. This part of the budget is all wrapped up in one bill. Foreign aid will be handled separately.

The senators' action served as significant notice to the House that the Senate committee won't go along with the domestic cut unless reductions are made in Marshall Plan and Atlantic Pact funds.

The House committee Monday takes up the domestic money bill totaling $29,113,000,000 and covering funds usually handled by Congress in nine separate measures. The overall total is $1,213,000,000 less than Truman requested for the department for the fiscal year 1951.

IN HOLLYWOOD

No Reason Why Irene Dunne Shouldn't Play Queen Victoria

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—The British are boiling again about Hollywood.

The London Evening Standard headlines: "Why Bring an American Here to Play Victoria?" and then goes on:

"Hollywood has done nothing so tactless as the casting of Irene Dunne to play Queen Victoria (in 'The Mudlark') in an English film studio."

The writer, Harold Conway, adds:

"Equity... intends to oppose the granting of a labor permit to Miss Dunne for this role and is also planning public protest against the entire policy of displacing British stars in our own studios."

Sylvia has been bedeviled with arthritis. "Sometimes I think I've got arthritis of the brain, too, if you know what I mean," she slipped. "I'm still not sure what she meant."

The Humphrey Bogarts had a nursery scoop for me.

"Young Stephen took a step today," Bogart announced, his eyes misting with paternal pride.

"Not a step, honey," corrected baby. "Stephen walked—actually walked—for the first time today. And he didn't fall down and go boom, either."

Neither Bogey nor Baby have the foggiest idea what their next film roles will be. Lauren said she's the only player in "Bright Leaf" who doesn't tackle a Dixie accent. Not a single "you all" or "pass the julep, honey chile," passes her lips.

"I play the character as a woman from Pittsburgh," she said. "I'm no good at Dixie accents."

Rex Mays Story

The biography of Rex Mays, the famous auto race driver killed at Del Mar recently, is making the rounds of the studios. John Barclay is the author. Sam Goldwyn, Jr. finally has joined papa's studio as a producer. He's worked for J. Arthur Rank and UI since leaving the Army in 1946. He's 23.

The censors are unhappy about the childbirth scenes in "Paid in Full."

FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS

By DALMON McNAIR

Only one of Midland's three gin mills was operating last week, the others having closed down until next cotton picking season.

Ten bales were ginned last week to bring the season's total to 18,158 bales.

The manager of the lone gin said Friday he had not set a definite date for closing down.

The Midland livestock market was steady and active on all classes Thursday. Four hundred and fifty head of cattle and 40 hogs were consigned and sold. Stockers were more plentiful and several bunches of good steer calves brought up to $28 a hundred and odd light weights went higher. C. A. Sullivan, Oklahoma cattleman, bought 88 head of stocker steer calves and yearlings for shipment to Guymon.

Fat calves and yearlings sold for $22 to $25.50 and medium kinds for $19 to $22. No fat cows were offered. Most cows were in the canner and cutter class and brought $12.25 to $15. Common and medium bulls went at $17.50 to $18.50.

Heifer Calves
Stocker heifer calves sold for $24.50 to $26.25. Yearling steers in the 500 to 700 pound class brought $22.50 to $24. John Dunagan of Monahan got $27.80 for a package of eight head. A few cow and calf pairs were offered and brought up to $211. Top price for hogs was $16.50.

Guy Cowden bought 12 good calves. Odessa Packing Company bought 30 butcher cattle. C. J. M. Packing Company bought a load of cattle and hogs, and John A. Pearson of Lamesa bought 15 good steers.

Among consigners were Burkholder and Daniels, Burkholder Brothers and Bob Turner of Bartstow; Otis Levie, Pecos; W. A. Yaws and Lloyd Waller, Grandfalls; W. L. Cathey, Kermit; W. H. Weddel, Big Lake; Myrtle Keiton, Crane; C. C. Brunken and Lonnie Fryburger, Andrews; Bob Atwater, J. W. Close, Clyde Bennett and H. A. Perry of Odessa, as well as Midland and Stanton stockmen.

Midland County farmers who wish premeasurement on plots of acreage for 1950 allotted cotton acreage, must have their requests in the Midland Production Marketing Association office by April 1.

Forms to be filled out by farmers requesting the measurements, were mailed out by the PMA office force this week. Costs of the pre-measurements will be $6.00 for each farm and an additional $1.25 for each plot to be planted to cotton plus three cents for each acre in the allotment.

Veterinary authorities have warned cattle owners to be on the lookout for leptospirosis, a dangerous cattle disease which first appeared in this country six years ago and appears to be spreading.

"Symptoms of the disease vary so widely that cows may be stricken without the owner's knowing it," an American Foundation for Animal Health bulletin reports, "but sudden illness, loss of appetite, fever, depression and thick milk are all suspicious signs."

"Owners may think some light cases are only indigestion, particularly since the cow may recover without serious illness. In other cases, however, the disease strikes hard, killing many animals."

Recovered animals may act as disease carriers for a considerable length of time, so even light cases may prove dangerous.

The only sure way of determining if leptospirosis is present is through blood tests and isolation of the disease-causing organism. If cattle owners suspect an outbreak of the disease, they are urged to obtain a veterinary diagnosis immediately, since the sooner blood transfusions and medical treatment are started, the better the chance of saving the affected animals and preventing the disease from spreading.

Several Midlanders were active in the annual Sand Hills Livestock Show buying at Odessa last weekend. George Glass purchased the reserve sale champion bull, Strauss 144, for $1,100.

Foy Proctor made three purchases. He bought the MHR Pinup Prince, bull, for $660, Royal Tarzan, bull, for $230, and Pub B., bull, for $210. Arnold Scharbauer paid $500 for the R. I. Ambrose Domino 19, bull. H. S. Foster bought Gwen Mischief 209, bull, for $45.

Sorghum silage-fed lambs out-gained lambs fed a straight alfalfa ration during the first 56 days of a 75-day dry lot feeding research project now in progress at Texas Technological College.

Prof. Ray C. Mowery, head of the animal husbandry department at the college, said concentrates in the project consisted of cottonseed and Milo. Roughages are varied to determine the most effective type for dry lot feeding. Alfalfa hay, red top sorghum silage, red top sorghum bundles, African millet bundles and heira bundles provide the roughage. Lambs fed on the silage gained an average of 36 pounds per head, compared to 23 pounds per head for alfalfa, 31 pounds per head for sorghum bundles, 38 pounds per head for African millet and 27 pounds for heira.

Silage feeding was cheaper, too. Mowery said that for 100 pounds of silage was $13.30, as compared to $16.50 for heira. Costs of other feeding ranged from the silage figure to the heira cost.

Henry Arledge, Seymour rancher and well-known Hereford breeder, was re-elected president of the West Texas Hereford Association at its annual membership meeting in Abilene last week.

Other officers include D. H. Jefferies, Abilene, first vice president; Lee Atkinson, Throckmorton, second vice president, and Mrs. Rupert Hawker, Abilene, secretary-treasurer. New directors of the organization are: Dorothea Griffin of Lawn; Jay Pumphrey, Old Glory; Bob Bowen, Coleman, and W. J. Pulwiler, Abilene.

Date for the annual Hereford Tour under the sponsorship of the organization was set for May 15-16.

A letter addressed to the "Ranch and Oil Menk of Midland" was received by the Midland Chamber of Commerce last week. It was written by Dewayne Peterson, Star Route, Stanton, in appreciation for the ranch and oil men's purchase of his hog in the recent Midland junior livestock show.

Peterson's letter reads as follows: "This is to let you know how much I appreciate your buying my hog. It is surely encouraging to know that people like you are backing us 4-H and FFA boys."

"I think I can speak for all the boys in saying that when at the end of a project we find that people like you are backing us, it just gives us a feeling of having accomplished something, of having taken another step toward our goal of trying to make a better rural America."

Charlie Green, Midland County agent, reports that the 4-H Club boys wish to start a good start on their calf projects for next year. An estimated 12 or 13 calves will be put on feed this year by about 11 4-H boys under the supervision of Green. The county agent hopes to set the stage for an even greater livestock show in 1951.

Green is getting much good service out of a one-half ton pickup truck donated to the 4-H Club work recently by Broadway Motors. The truck, a 1950 Studebaker model, is furnished entirely for the use of the county agent's projects.

J. R. Cuffman and his Midland High Future Farmers have been given a Chevrolet pickup by the Elder Chevrolet Company. Cuffman and his boys also are putting their gift to good use.

The 1950 Census of Agriculture will be taken in April with an estimated 6,300,000 farms to be enumerated. Approximately 46,000 census takers or rural enumerators will be employed in the rural areas with one crew leader for approximately every 15 rural enumerators.

The census enumerators will visit every dwelling and farm in their area to obtain answers to every question on an agriculture census questionnaire. These questionnaires will be mailed to every rural boxholder between now and April 1.

The agriculture census is important to farmers and farm leaders for several reasons. It provides an inventory of farms and our farm resources. It gives facts indispensable in dealing with current farm problems.

The census figures will aid county agents in planning future farm program and provides the benchmarks to which most estimates of farm production are adjusted every five years. It also provides the basis for the making of allocations among counties of quotas for the acreage of many important farm crops.

All the information given the census enumerators is confidential. The Act of Congress providing for the census provides for a maximum penalty of a $1,000 fine or two years in jail for any census taker or other census employee convicted of revealing census information regarding an individual person or farm. The information cannot be used for taxation, investigation or regulation.

The 1949 Texas wool clip and mohair crop were the lowest since 1930 and 1937, the U. S. Department of Agriculture revealed recently. The wool clip in 1949 was estimated at more than 52,000,000 pounds, six per cent below the previous year's figure. Prices averaged 56 cents a pound, two cents higher than the 1948 figure and 13 cents up from the 1947 average. Mohair production was figured at almost 14,000,000 pounds, 12 per cent below the 1948 yield. Average price of mohair was 47 cents, a cent above the 1948 figure but seven cents down from 1947.

Believes Old Herd Sire Set Record

DALHART—P.—W. O. Culbertson, Jr., and Sons Ranch of Dalhart and Bueyeros, N. M., thinks one of their herd sires may have set a record for long life.

D 132nd died recently at the age of 14 years and eleven months. He was buried on the range at Bueyeros, with a special marker over his grave, young Culbertson said.

"Other herd sires," he said, "may have lived longer. But I never heard of it. Their average age is about ten."

He said D 132nd remained active to the last. He had been out of service about a year and half. The morning of the day he died he ate breakfast as usual. At noon he got up and ate a lot of hay. Then laid down again and in thirty minutes died peacefully.

D 132nd, his sire and his dam, were all raised on the Culbertson Ranch. The ranch in 1933 bought his grandfather, Prince Domino Lad, who had at the time just topped the Western National Livestock Show in Denver, Colo.

D 132nd sired Prince Wilton, II, who later sold for $23,350 at the Dan Thornton sale, Gunnison, Colo. A California ranch was the buyer. He also was the sire of the dam of CW 21st who went to the W. J. Largent Herd, Merkel, Texas, and who stands first in registered merits among all Hereford sires in the U. S., Culbertson said.

He also sired many of the sires and dams now in the Culbertson herd. Young Culbertson said the ranch had had excellent results from crossing the D 132nd blood line with the Jayhawk Blood Line.

Howard Champion Brings $1.25 Pound

BIG SPRING—P.—Darrell Robinson received $1.25 per pound Friday night for his 780-pound grand champion steer of the Howard County Club Boys Livestock Show.

In another sale, Bobby Powell drew $2.50 per pound for his champion lamb. Sale prices average 59 cents for steers and 67.4 cents for lambs.

Although the country is as used to coal strikes as it is to cold snaps, the stoppage just ended was especially nightmarish.

In the last decade repeated coal strikes have turned more and more fuel users to other more reliable energy sources.

Refugee Takes Janitor's Post

Dr. W. Ward Davis, left, associate pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Oklahoma City, Okla., shows Dr. George Torsy Biber the similarities of songs in the hymnal used in the United States with those used in Hungarian churches. Dr. Biber, a former Hungarian problem man, is offered, and accepted a job as janitor at the church as a means of livelihood. The church sponsored this displaced person and his family, and now is trying to find a position more in keeping with his abilities. He is an L. D., a professor of philosophy, and a lecturer.

Skipper, Crew Vow To Bring In Charred Ship; All Hands Reported Safe

PEARL HARBOR —(AP)— The nifty skipper and crewmen who saved the Navy net tender Elder from an explosion and fire in a week-long ordeal in mid-Pacific, vowed Saturday to see their charred little ship into harbor.

Winter Hits Nation With Triple Blow

By The Associated Press

Storms hammered the plains states, eastern seaboard and Atlantic shipping lanes Saturday as winter dug in for what may stretch into a marathon siege.

In an experimental monthly forecast, Jerome Namias, chief of the Weather Bureau's extended forecast section at Washington, predicted 30 more days of unusually cold weather for the eastern two thirds of the country.

Three separate storms were acting up. One boiled eastward toward the Midwest from the Southern Plains, laden with snow. A second, moving over the Atlantic from Portland, Me., caused stiff winds, snow, and heavy seas. The third was sweeping northeastward about 400 miles a day.

The twin storms in the East pounded shipping and caused heavy snows. The Queen Mary, scheduled to dock in New York Monday, was expected on Tuesday. Ships generally were being delayed 24 to 28 hours.

A vigorous storm center over New England brought lashing winds and snow to the Northeast. The storm caused three deaths in upstate New York where an overnight snow up to four and one-half inches fell.

A new blast of cold pushed across the Canadian border into the Northeast. It was followed by a cold front from the north, dropping from North Carolina to Kansas. Freezing temperatures extended from the east coast across the Central Plains and Central Rockies to Nevada and the eastern parts of Oregon and Washington.

All the Elder's crew of 40 were found safe late Friday, 26 of them in life rafts into which the skipper, Lt. William F. Adams, had ordered them when the fire spread March 10.

Lieutenant Adams and 13 volunteers who had stayed aboard and snatched the Elder from doom after a long struggle, were located 17 miles away aboard their charred and helpless ship.

The Pacific Fleet commander, Adm. Arthur W. Radford, Saturday dispatched the traditional "well-done" signals to all hands involved.

Inquiry Is Launched But the Navy also started organizing an inquiry to find out why a military transport sailed near the stricken Elder last Monday without responding to frantic distress signals, including gunfire and flares.

Lieutenant Adams in a radio-telephone interview, was outspoken about his failure to attract attention of the transport Gen. A. W. Brewster.

The transport is enroute to Yokohama from San Francisco. When the Navy began inquiring about the overdue Elder on Wednesday, the transport reported sighting the missing ship Monday in no apparent distress 700 miles from its destination—the atomic weapons testing island of Eniwetok.

Lieutenant Adams said the Brewster passed within two miles and was in sight for an hour and a half but did not heed signals.

"We signaled with flares, international distress flags, smoke signals and mirrors," said Adams.

"We fired 20-millimeter guns and Very pistols. The crew jumped up and down on deck, waving anything they could lay hands on."

"We signaled with everything we had aboard except our three-inch gun. If we had ammunition left for that, we would have used it, too."

The ammunition had been jettisoned while fighting the fire, which started at 2 a.m. Friday and finally was extinguished shortly before the Brewster how into view.

Formerly an Army transport, the Brewster recently was placed under Navy control along with all other transports in the military service. The Brewster has an all-civilian Civil Service crew.

Called To Oklahoma

Mrs. J. W. Skinner, 803 Cuthbert Street, has been called to Oklahoma City because of the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. C. M. Hunter, of that city.

Pecos News

PECOS—A second kick-off breakfast for Red Cross drive workers has been scheduled for 8 a.m. Tuesday in a Pecos cafe.

The Pecos Valley chapter of the Red Cross has collected $756 of a $8,800 quota. An intensive campaign is planned this week.

Water in the Pecos River approximately is two feet in depth as the first quota of water is being released from the Red Bluff reservoir. The 30,000-acre feet of water which the seven water districts will receive in this quota is only 7,000-acre feet short of the entire quota for 1949.

Funeral services were held March 16 for William Alpha Spencer, 74, who died after a long illness. Spencer had lived in Pecos since 1942.

Gilbert McGregor of El Paso has been named new manager of the Western Cotton Oil Company, Pecos, replacing George Hall. Hall is 44 years old and has been in the company since 1938.

More than 200 Girl Scouts, their fathers, and other interested persons attended a Father-Daughter banquet last week, honoring the thirty-eighth anniversary of the Girl Scouts of America. Dr. Byron Lackey was master of ceremonies.

Mrs. R. E. Roberson, president of the Junior-Senior Parents-Teachers Association, has filed her candidacy for school trustee.

County Service Officer Aubrey Shoemaker has been appointed county service officer by the Reeves County Commissioners' Court. Shoemaker replaces John P. Dennison, who resigned the post after being named district attorney for the 10th Judicial District.

Awards for the establishment of an outstanding safety record by company employees were presented last week at the Southern Union Gas Company's banquet. Employees from Pecos, Barstow, Crane, McGee, Monahan, Proke, Wickert and Wink were honored.

Approximately 900 vehicle licenses have been sold by the Reeves County tax assessor-collector's office.

County Judge Dick Slack and Capt. E. H. Vaughn have returned from a tour of National Guard training at Fort Knox, Ky. The two men received 10 days of training.

The Pecos City Council has named streets at the air base after former Pecos mayors and city officials.

Geiger Counters For Civilian Use

The Atomic Energy Commission has announced a cheap Geiger counter which could be used by civilians in case of an atomic attack. Here, at a hearing of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee in Washington, where the disclosure was made, are, from left to right: Gordon E. Dean and Henry D. MHS Students Rank High In Literary Meet At Lubbock

LUBBOCK — Robert Stubbeman and Eugene Cooper walked away with first place awards for Midland High School here Saturday in the Texas Interscholastic League's District Two, Conference AA Literary Meet.

A total of 134 students from Midland, Lubbock, Odessa, Lamesa and Brownfield entered the literary competition, held in the Lubbock High School.

Stubbeman was given the first place award in the junior boys declamation event. Cooper won the slide rule contest.

Six second places, three third places and one fifth place award also went to Midland participants in the meet.

Mary Nell, entered in the typing contest; Clifford Wilcox and Nancy McKinley, senior boys and girls declamation divisions; Katherine Carter, junior girls declamation; Jean Ferguson, extemporaneous speaking, and the Midland High one-act play team, all captured second-place awards.

Third places went to Roane Puett, slide rule; Tommy Vannaman, boys extemporaneous division, and Lou Prouty and Mary Ann McRae, spelling and plain writing contest. Barbara Aker won fifth place in typing.

The one-act play team included Dois Thompson, Jimmy Locke, Clint Dunagan, Betty Wilson, Agatha Tabor, Toya Chapple, Virginia Breedlove, James Johnson and Robert Stubbeman.

Two members of the Midland play cast made the all-meet cast. They were Dois Thompson and Betty Wilson. The Midland play was unofficially declared the best-directed play in the contest. Miss Vernia Harris is director.

Plates Will Be Lasting Reminder

TEMPLE —(AP)— An automobile owner applying for new plates at the tax office inquired: "Could I have license number forty-nine fifty-one?"

Asked why that particular number, he said it was "because I bought my car in '49 and will get it paid for in '51."

By coincidence, No. 4951 was the top plate in the stack. He got it.

Cotton

NEW YORK —(AP)— Cotton futures were firm Saturday, advancing 25 to 75 cents a bale. Deferred deliveries here and at New Orleans moved into new highs for the season.

Silurian Extension Assured To Winkler's Wheeler Pool

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1 R. P. Waddell, et al, Central-East Winkler County wildcat, one and one-quarter miles north and slightly west of the nearest completed petroleum producer on the northwest side of the multi-pay Wheeler field has shown for flowing production from the Permian section of the Silurian, to assure an important extension to that field.

This prospect, located 15 miles east of Kennel and 600 feet from south and 1,800 feet from east lines of section 5, block B-7, psi survey, flowed oil at the rate of 14 barrels per hour during a drillstem test in the Fossilman at 9,295-9,375 feet. Large Gas Volume.

The well was open two and one-half hours. Gas showed at the surface in four minutes. Maximum gas volume was at the rate of 1,785-2,000 cubic feet per day. Oil started flowing at the surface in nine minutes. A one-hour flowing test was made through a five-eighths inch bottom hole choke. During that 90 minutes the section produced 14 barrels of 48.2 gravity oil. Gas-oil ratio was 4,996-1.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was between 1,100 pounds and 1,375 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure, after 10 minutes built up to 2,500 pounds.

When the tester was pulled recovery was 350 feet of free oil. The bottom part of that oil was cut with 11 per cent water. Source of the water has not been determined.

Operator is drilling ahead and will go on to around 11,000 feet to test the Ellenburger.

Top of the Fossilman was picked at 9,394 feet. Elevation is 3,107 feet.

SW Pegasus Stepout Flows To Complete From Ellenburger

Republic Natural Gas Company and associated No. 1 American Republics Corporation, Central-North Upton County wildcat, one and three-eighths of a mile southwest of the south side of the Pegasus field, flowed a total of 798.90 barrels of gas and 10.17 barrels of oil through a one-quarter inch tubing choke, from open hole in the top of the Ellenburger at 13,025-160 feet and was continuing to flow to test and complete.

Flowing tubing pressure at the end of the 17 hour period was 2,025 pounds. The 17 hours extended from 12 noon Friday until 5 a. m., Saturday.

The open hole at 13,025-160 feet had been acidized with 3,000 gallons and with 25,000 gallons. After the 25,000-gallon injection the well kicked-off and flowed out the load sand and mud of the residue.

The open hole at 13,025-160 feet had been acidized with 3,000 gallons and with 25,000 gallons. After the 25,000-gallon injection the well kicked-off and flowed out the load sand and mud of the residue.

In the following eight hours the well flowed 948.75 barrels of oil and 12 barrels of acid water, through a 3/4-inch choke.

The choke was then reduced to a 27/64th opening and the well flowed a total of 420 barrels of oil in the next four hours.

Flowing tubing pressure during that period built up to 1,550 pounds.

The choke was then changed to a 12/64th opening and in the next four hours the well made 147 barrels of oil. Flowing tubing pressure was 2,100 pounds.

Quarter-inch Choke. Then the choke was set at one-quarter inch opening and the 798.90 barrel flow in 17 hours resulted.

This well is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 6, block 48, TP survey, T. & S.

Top of the Ellenburger is at 13,025 feet, which is a datum of minus 10,164 feet. On that marker the well is 82 feet low to the Republic Natural No. 1 Powell, one and one-eighth of a mile to the northeast, the nearest completed Ellenburger producer.

A string of 7-inch casing is cemented at 13,025 feet in the No. 1 American Republics.

Permian Basin OIL & GAS LOG flowed for two and one-half hours through open tubing for an average of 60 barrels of fluid per hour, mostly oil.

Operators then changed to a quarter-inch choke, and in the next hour, the estimated flow was six barrels of fluid, mostly oil. Shut-in pressure after 15 minutes was 810 pounds.

The well is now shut-in for more storage.

The venture is bottomed in the Ellenburger at 7,895 feet. That formation was topped at 7,842 feet, and a test of the section yielded sulphur water.

Casting was run, and operators plugged back to make the Strawn test.

The project is northwest of acreage obtained by Humble Oil & Refining Company recently for $1,380,000.

This prospective Strawn discovery is 11 miles west of Claremont, in the center of the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 98, block G, W&NW survey. Associated with Lohman in the venture are Paul C. Texas, Roy Guffey, both of Dallas, and Sidney Gardner of Beverly Hills, California.

Barnes Stakes First Of 14 Ector Projects. J. C. Barnes of Midland has staked the first of 14 Clear Fork projects on the southeast side of the TXL multiphase field in Central-West Ector County.

Drill site of the Barnes No. 1-B Parker will be 330 feet from north and east lines of section 40, block 45, T-1-S, TP survey. It will be 2 1/2 miles northwest of Odessa.

Barnes has a contract with The Superior Oil Company to drill 14 Clear Fork operations, with all pay formations above and below the Clear Fork remaining in the hands of the Superior Oil Company.

There are Ellenburger and Devonian producers on the leases taken by Barnes, but as yet no Clear Fork production. The sites will be outside of the proven limits of the Clear Fork pay of the TXL pool.

All 14 projects are to be completed by October 1.

Midland-Side Outpost Of Pegasus Has Signs. Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 3-30 Glass, three-eighths of a mile northwest of the closest completed oil producer from the Ellenburger on the north side of the Pegasus field, showed some signs of petroleum in the basal Devonian and is drilling ahead to the Ellenburger.

NW Tom Green Slated For Shallow Wildcat

A 2,000-foot wildcat has been scheduled for Northwest Tom Green County, 15 miles southwest of the town of Water Valley.

The proposed cable tool venture will be the Guy R. Anderson and W. A. Brimberry of San Angelo, No. 1 D. D. Wall, located 330 feet from north and 1,850 feet from east lines of section 32, block 5, H&TC survey.

Slated depth should top the Strawn in that part of Tom Green. Dril site is near the Funk-San Anderson pool, which produces from 1-116-75 feet.

Pipe To Be Run In NE Howard Venture

It is believed that casing will be run in the Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Hutto, a wildcat bottomed in sulphur-watered Ellenburger in Northeast Howard County.

If the casing is set, operators will perforate in the Wichita Albany or Wolfcamp, where free oil was recovered on a drillstem test. Wichita Albany recovery at 5-285-6,372 feet was 120 feet of free oil and 630 feet of oil, cut with mud. Shows of gas and oil were recovered in test of the Wolfcamp at 7,385-7,410 feet.

Location of this doubtful discovery is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 4, block 31, T-1-S, T&P survey, four miles west of the Iatan-Est Howard pool.

NW Martin Test By-Passes Fish

Operators of The Texas Company No. 1-X State, Ellenburger wildcat in Northwest Martin County, have drilled past a fish which has delayed operations for several weeks.

The fish, a tool anchor, was lodged some 200 feet above project bottom of 11,940 feet in the lower Pennsylvanian.

Operators were last reported drilling in original hole with a pilot bit below 11,775 feet.

This project, which has been void of production possibilities thus far, is 660 feet from north and 1,890 feet from east lines of section 17, block 7, University survey.

It is 11 miles north of the Mabey pool and virtually on the Andrews-Martin County line.

Abandonment Slated For Borden Project

In Central-South Borden County, Honolulu Oil Corporation is running electric surveys preparatory to abandoning its No. 1 Good.

Total depth in the Ellenburger is 9,698 feet. Tentative unofficial top of that formation is 9,665 feet. On a final one-hour drillstem test at 9,634-98 feet, recovery was 810-foot water blanket and 870 feet of muddy sulphur water.

This failure is 1,890 feet from north and west lines of section 2, block 32, T-3-N, T&P survey. It is three miles north of the Vealmoor-Canyon pool.

Shell's 'Head Money Man' Visits Midland

A. G. Scheel, of New York, treasurer of both Shell Oil Company and Shell Chemical Company, paid his first visit to Midland and West Texas last week. While in this region he made a trip to the TXL field in Ector County to inspect Shell's operations in that district. He was accompanied on that trip by C. E. Mueller, treasury manager and J. L. Brown, gas department manager, both of the Midland area. While in Midland he reviewed Shell's activities in the Permian Basin, relating to treasury matters, with B. L. Ryan, area manager, and Mueller. Ryan was host for a luncheon Thursday, at the Petroleum Club, honoring Scheel. Those attending include, Scheel, M. C. Ulmer, president of the First National Bank, and John P. Butler, vice president of the same institution; Mueller, H. M. Spinning, of the Midland area treasury department, and Ryan. Managers of the various departments of Shell's Midland area attended a luncheon for Scheel on Friday. Shown above, left to right, are, Scheel, Ryan, and Mueller. They had just completed a conference on Shell's operations in the Midland area when the picture was made.

Brownfield Meeting Of AIME Hears Talk On Oil Well Spacing

BROWNFIELD — The long-standing controversy centering around the question of how closely or how widely oil wells should be spaced to obtain maximum recovery was aired again Thursday night in Brownfield.

The occasion was the March meeting of the South Plains section of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers.

The group had as guest speaker W. O. Keller, reservoir engineering supervisor of Stanolind Oil and Gas Company. Keller presented a paper entitled, "Critical Analysis of the Effect of Well Density on Recovery Efficiency," which was originally published on the subject in 1924.

That article was written by W. W. Cutler, Jr., and appeared in the Bureau of Mines Bulletin No. 228. Cutler attempted to analyze the relationship of well spacing versus recovery of the nation's reserves. It also had a similar percentage—or 99 trillion cubic feet—of the nation's natural gas reserves.

Yet the state's Railroad Commission, an oil and gas regulatory body, is having an unusually large quota of troubles keeping producers—and laymen—happy with crude oil allowances.

This particularly is true with laymen. During the war and the postwar peak demand years Texas produced oil at maximum rates.

Prosperity soared and it was easy for the layman—the oil town business banker and city and county official—to forget about the early 1930's when crude prices in some areas dropped to 10 cents a barrel below the days of proration.

The Railroad Commission and Texas oil operators have been wrangling over the market slump problem ever since the commission ordered a cutback in production for January 1949.

The occasion alarmed long ago but it was only a few weeks ago the average layman began to show signs of strain.

He has been slow in grasping what has happened in that the cutbacks have been distributed statewide. Business and incomes slumped gradually in any specified area.

But last month the commission means of using a cushion to soften the effects of the cutbacks. The proration formula had been applied so long to cutbacks it threatened to shut down many low producing wells.

Allowable cuts had seen the state's crude output drop from a late 1948 daily average exceeding 2,700,000 barrels to an average last March 11 of 1,956,346.

The commission decided a new formula that would place all the wells in the state on an equitable basis was essential.

A formula known as the 1947 yardstick was adopted. It gives identical allowances to wells of equal depth and serving similar acreage.

TEXAS OIL ROUNDUP— Railroad Commission Has Troubles Trying To Please Laymen, Too

The new proration formula caught a number of city and county officials and institution trustees with monthly oil incomes approximating only one half the monthly payments due on long term commitments.

Residents of several areas placed these problems before the commission last week and asked that the new formula be tossed aside or amended.

The commission now must decide what to do. Most every one agrees everyone is on a spot.

The University of Houston is affected. Its regents had pledged oil income to payment of interest on loans made for five buildings now under construction.

University Business Manager C. L. McElhinney told the commission: "Whether the new formula is fair or not, it has created problems which must be solved. It suggests a compromising solution or segments of the state's economy will be out of balance."

Nichols Quits Job With Skelly Oil

Karl E. Nichols has resigned from Skelly Oil Company, after working for that concern for approximately 22 years.

He has been connected with the land department of Skelly's Permian Basin district office in Midland for the last three years.

He plans to remain in Midland as an independent oil operator. He has established a temporary office at 212 Hotel Crawford and is already working on several deals.

Conoco Completes Drinkard Discovery At E-C Lea Wildcat

HOBBS, N. M.—Continental Oil Company has completed its No. 2-28 Warren as a flowing discovery from the Drinkard zone of the lower Permian in East-Central Lea County.

This new field opener is one mile east of the Warren-McKee field, which produces from the McKee sand of the Simpson. It is two miles north of the nearest completed producers from the Drinkard pay in the North Drinkard pool.

The well flowed 197 barrels of oil and 88 barrels of water in 24 hours on the completion test. The flow was through a 2 3/4-inch tubing choke.

The oil is coming from perforated section between 6,764 feet and 6,804 feet. Those intervals had been treated with a total of 2,000 gallons of acid. Gas-oil ratio is 7.123-1.

Bottomed In Granite. No. 2-B-28 Warren drilled to a total depth of 9,072 feet in granite wash. It penetrated a barren Ellenburger section. The McKee sand, which is above the Ellenburger, also failed to show any signs of petroleum production.

The venture was plugged back to 6,950 feet and a string of 7-inch casing was cemented at that point. The zone between 6,806 feet and 6,950 feet was tested through perforations. It failed to show any commercial amounts of oil and gas and the prospect was then plugged back to 6,806 feet and finished from the zone between 6,764 feet and 6,804 feet.

Location of the discovery is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 28-20-38e. Top of the San Andres was at 4,038 feet; top of the Giorita was at 5,738 feet; top of the Tubb, 6,310 feet; and top of the Drinkard, 6,593 feet. Elevation is 3,549 feet.

Buffalo Oil Company No. 20-P-B Mitchell is to be a 5,000-foot wildcat in the Maljamar area of Central-West Lea County. Location is 1,980 feet from south and 867 feet from east lines of section 19-17a-32e.

It is surrounded by producers from the Grayburg and San Andres lines of the Permian from above 3,700 feet in the regular Maljamar field.

This venture is projected to a lower section of the Permian. At last report it had produced 290 feet in redbeds and was drilling deeper.

Lea Venture Falls. C. L. Norworthy, Jr., No. 1 Sinclair wildcat, attempted to produce from the Drinkard lime in the House field of Central-East Lea County, and 1,980 feet from south and 690 feet from east lines of section 1-20s-38e, has been plugged and abandoned as a failure on total depth of 7,190 feet.

The Drinkard horizon made a little oil and some salt water. The project then plugged back to 4,500 feet and tested the San Andres lime at 4,350-92 feet. That zone was treated with acid, but it failed to develop any shows of production.

Still Making Hole. Union Oil Company of California No. 1 C. H. Kyle, scheduled to produce from the Drinkard lime in the House field of Central-East Lea County, 10 miles southeast of Hobbs, and 1,980 feet from south and 330 feet from west lines of section 8-20s-39e, had reached 7,210 feet in lime, and was drilling deeper.

The prospect took a 30-minute drillstem test at 6,952-7,154 feet. Recovery was 300 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water.

Shell Oil Company No. 1 Carter, six miles northeast of Hobbs in East-Central Lea County, was at a total depth of 13,930 feet in a lime and shale, thought to be in the middle Ordovician, and was taking a drillstem test at 13,735-930 feet.

A previous effort to run a drillstem test in 13,734-930 feet was abandoned when the packer slipped. Location is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 23-19s-38e.

Scurry Reef Pools Get 16 New Sites

Latest Railroad Commission reports list 16 new locations in Scurry County reef pools. Of the new locations, seven were spotted in the North Snyder field; four each were scheduled in the Kelley and Diamond M Canyon pools and one to be drilled in the Sharon Ridge Canyon. In the North Snyder, Lone Star Producing Company No. 3-A Guy Glenn is to be 1,717 feet from south and 367 feet from west lines of section 12, block 1, P. Smith survey, and five miles northwest of Snyder.

Standard Oil Company of Texas will drill two explorations in section 496, block 97, H&TC survey, No. 15-2 J. W. Brown is to be 1,980 feet from west and 680 feet from south lines of the section; No. 15-3 J. W. Brown is to be 710 feet from south and west lines of the section. Both are approximately nine miles north of Snyder. Another Standard exploration is to be 1,171 feet from east and 680 feet from south lines of section 441, block 97, H&TC survey, and eight and one-half miles north of Snyder.

Standard No. 1-5 Brown is to be 660 feet from south and 1,717 feet from west lines of section 392, block 97, H&TC survey, and approximately eight miles north of Snyder. Another Standard exploration is to be 1,171 feet from east and 680 feet from south lines of section 439, block 97, H&TC survey. It will be eight and one-half miles north of Snyder.

The Water Associated Oil Company for the Dodson House Unit will be a North Snyder project, to be 666 feet from east and 1,959 feet from south lines of section 384, block 97, H&TC survey. This places it six and one-half miles north of Snyder.

Wilshire Stakes Two Wilshire Oil Company has staked two explorations in section 292, block 97, H&TC survey. These possible Kelly additions are the No. 1 and 2 W. Brown is to be 467 feet from north and east lines of the northwest quarter of the section; No. 2 W. Brown is to be 561 feet from north and east lines of the northwest quarter of the section. Each is approximately six miles northwest of Snyder.

Pan American Production Company No. 4 Maud Carrell is to be 467 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 248, block 97, H&TC survey, and approximately six miles northwest of Snyder.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 R. B. Rossen will be in the Kelley, 660 feet from north and 467 feet from west of the north-east quarter of section 306, block 97, H&TC survey. The other two stakes are three and one-half miles west of Snyder.

Three Stipulations Staked The Texas Company has staked three edge-well sites on the north-east side of the Diamond Canyon pool. The two ventures will be in section 244, block 97, H&TC survey, and approximately nine miles northwest of Snyder.

Texas No. 1 R. J. Randalls is to be 660 feet from west and south lines of the section; No. 2 Randalls is to be 660 feet from north and west lines of the section. Texas No. 1 J. J. Holt, and others is to be 660 feet from west and south lines of section 147, block 213, block 97, H&TC survey.

Lion Oil Company proposes to drill its No. 1 Velman in the Diamond M-Canyon pool 660 feet from south and east lines of section 147, block 25, H&TC survey, and 14 miles southwest of Snyder.

The single Sharon Ridge-Canyon site is The Superior Oil Company No. 4 F. M. Addison, to be 660 feet from north and west lines of section 122, block 25, H&TC survey. It will be 15 miles southwest of Snyder.

Price Resigns As Manager For Bay James A. Price, who has been division manager in Midland for Bay Petroleum Corporation, has resigned, effective April 15. He has not announced his plans for the future, other than to say he will stay in Midland and in the oil business.

Price is to Midland in October 1949. He has been connected with Bay during all of that time.

Offshore Drilling Is Not Yet Economically Practical

By JACK B. BENEFIELD Reporter-Telegram Oil Writer The future of offshore drilling depends on the actual need for oil, stated Mercer H. Parks of Houston, Humble Oil & Refining Company marine and offshore engineering supervisor. "Actual cost per day of a drilling project in 65 feet of water and as far as 70 miles from an operating base is three to five times as much as land drilling," stated Parks. He spoke Friday night at the March meeting and barbecue of the Permian Basin Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute at the Ector County Auditorium in Odessa.

Much Lost Time The natural elements: winds, waves, and currents, are the most important factors considered in offshore drilling. Weather must be forecast correctly to avoid much loss of time and money. "Operators on offshore rigs were able to work only 40 per cent of the time last year," said Parks. Some offshore platforms cover almost an acre of space and cost as much as $1,250,000. They are independent cities on piles driven into the sands of the Gulf.

Besides the building of the rig platform, transportation of men and supplies from rig to shore is the most hazardous and expensive part of the drilling. "Transportation alone, per rig, runs as high as $750,000 a day," revealed Parks. The question arises, is offshore drilling practical?

Washington Oil—Texas Gets Saudia Arabian Crude; Industry Appears To Have Won Income Tax Scrap By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER WASHINGTON — You've heard it old saw about bringing coals to Newcastle. Now it's crude oil to Texas.

Customs records for January reveal the shipment of 97,455 barrels of Saudi Arabian crude oil to the Sabine, Texas, customs district. The official "entered value" is given as $139,361, or $1.43 a barrel. Customs officials withheld the name of the importer.

The American petroleum industry appears to have won its battle to preserve the 27.5 per cent depletion allowance given for income tax purposes. While House Ways and Means Committee members still are studying the proposal in executive session, reports from insiders is that the lineup is either 13 to 12 or 14 to 11 in favor of retaining the present system.

If so, it's of outstanding importance to the industry, which has asked Congress to roll back the allowance to 15 per cent. This would have cost oil men an extra $200 million a year in taxes. Not so fortunate in the committee's hands will be the Gossett bill to raise oil import duties to $1.05 a barrel. It will get support, but not enough, insiders say.

While the Gossett measure, which would keep out much foreign oil, is hitched to the government's frenzy to raise additional revenue, a Senate measure took the same revenue-raising color, it is said. Reintroducing his measure to hold imports to five per cent of domestic demand, Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) explained it would protect domestic oil and domestic oil against displacement by foreign oil "thereby causing an ultimate net loss of revenue by reason of contraction of the tax base from which federal revenues are derived."

Eugene Holman Is To Speak In San Angelo On Tuesday Night A large group of oil men from various cities in the Permian Basin, and from other areas of the Southwest, will be in San Angelo Tuesday to attend the annual banquet of the San Angelo Chamber of Commerce.

Eugene Holman of New York, president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, and an international figure in the petroleum industry, will speak at the banquet. Holman was born in San Angelo May 2, 1895. The Tuesday night appearance will be the first time he has made a public address in that city.

The dinner will start at 7:30 p. m. It is to be held at Hotel Cactus. Holman spent his boyhood in Monahans and graduated from Simmons College, now Hardin-Simmons University, at Abilene, in 1916. He took a master's degree from the University of Texas in 1917. He went to Cuba in 1917 with an oil exploration party. Then he was associated with the United States Geological Survey for several months before entering the army in World War I as an aerial photographer.

Shortly after the war, his connection began with the Humble Oil & Refining Company, an affiliate of Jersey Standard. He advanced rapidly to chief geologist of Humble. Holman became a Jersey Standard director in June, 1940; vice president in 1942, and later a member of the executive committee. He has been president of the company since June 12, 1944, and chairman of the executive committee since 1946.

Solidity Terms Cheap Oil From Shale 'Misleading'

TULSA—Claims made by the U. S. Bureau of Mines that motor fuels could be made from oil shale for nine cents a gallon are termed "misleadingly low," Solihay, executive vice president of Stanolind Oil and Gas Company. He charges that the government is confusing the public by basing its cost figures for synthetic fuels on calculations that are sometimes "no more than wishful thinking."

The Tulsa oilman, whose company has conducted extensive scientific work on synthetic gasoline for nearly a decade, sharply criticized features in the annual report of the Secretary of Interior, which contains Bureau of Mines cost figures on the manufacture of synthetic liquid fuels. "According to the Bureau of Mines, jet, diesel and residual fuels could be manufactured from oil shale for nine cents. The industry has indicated that it would cost 22.5 cents to make gasoline from shale. Estimates are misleadingly low," Solihay said.

Calling the bureau's estimates "misleading to the American people," Solihay said that the industry and government figures were not comparable. He stated that: "The bureau has computed its costs on jet, diesel and residual fuels which have little market value or demand, whereas industry has based its cost on high premium motor gasoline; 3. The bureau allows too low a return on capital investment—only 3 per cent—in spite of the great risk involved in such a venture; 14. The bureau puts capital investment at unrealistic low levels. 'Only Wishful Thinking' The Stanolind executive also charged that the bureau used investment costs which have been lowered in anticipation of possible future developments.

"To figure probable costs on the basis of processes which have not yet been discovered is no more than wishful thinking. Our estimates have been worked out on the basis of processes which we know are here today, and not based on what we hope may work in the future," he asserted. The secretary's report also contained bureau figures on cost of gasoline from the coal hydrogenation process. This cost would be 14.5 cents a gallon, as compared to industry estimates of 22.5 cents. As in the case of oil shale, the bureau's figures inadequately show the basis for arriving at their estimate, the oilman said.

To enable the public to judge whether synthetic fuels represent a sound or unsound investment, he said the bureau should publish detailed breakdowns of all its economic calculations including investment costs. "Until the bureau does so, the public will continue to read conflicting reports about the cost of synthetic fuels. The end result will be confusion on this vital subject—confusion which we as a nation cannot afford."

Texas Oil And Gas Producers Account For 75 Per Cent Of New Reserves

DALLAS—Texas oil and gas operators accounted for 75 per cent of all the new additions to the nation's oil and gas reserves during 1949, an analysis of newest reserve estimates showed Saturday. "Although Texas operators are suffering from reduced incomes occasioned by decreased demands for Texas oil at present time, they contributed mightily last year to the development of the state's petroleum reserves. The role of the Texas oil man in the national economy and national defense is highlighted by the revelation that he has discovered for Texas 55 per cent of the nation's oil and gas reserves. These reserves provide the basis for the national economy and national prosperity," said Charles E. Simons, vice president and general manager of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

The Texas statistics on reserves were released last week by the American Petroleum Institute and the American Gas Association. During 1949 the crude oil reserves in Texas now estimated at 13,509,732,000 barrels, increased 7.6 per cent, or 1,025,514,000 barrels. This was 74.9 per cent of the total national gain in reserves. National reserves are now estimated at 24,649,480,000 barrels. More than a third of the national gain in reserves of liquids obtainable from natural gas was made by Texas which has 2,143,711,000 barrels, or 57.5 per cent, of the liquid reserves which can be extracted from natural gas. Adding both the reserves of liquids which can be extracted from natural gas and the reserves of liquids which can be extracted from natural gas, Texas has 3,169,445,000 barrels, or 57.5 per cent, of the total national gain in reserves. The figure on March 15, 1949, was 366 working rotary units. The March 15, 1950, figure is a net increase of 161 over the total of one year previous, and is a net increase of two during the last 15 days.

Drilling operations in Scurry County showed a heavy increase between March 1 and March 15. There were 173 active rotaries in that county on March 1, and 196 on March 15. Borden County had 15 active rotaries on March 15, and Kent County had 11 working strings of rotary tools on the same date. Unless they are supplied with fresh water, hens reduce their production of eggs and finally cease laying entirely.

Rotary Candidate Lloyd Wicks of Falls is a candidate for governor of the 183rd District, Rotary International, which includes Midland. Wicks, who resides in Midland, is a resident of Crosby county since 1907, and joined the Falls Rotary Club as a charter member in 1928. His candidacy is sponsored by the Falls club.

Farnsworth Is New Texas OIIC Chief HOUSTON—Madison Farnsworth of the Gulf Oil Corporation, Houston, has been named chairman of the Texas Oil Industry Information Committee for 1950. He succeeded C. S. Block of the Standard Oil Company, who was 1949 chairman. The announcement was made by G. L. Tate, Magnolia Petroleum Company, Dallas, chairman of the Gulf-Southwest District Oil Industry Information Committee, following a meeting here of key oil men including OIIC chairman from all states in the Gulf-Southwest District which includes Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and New Mexico as well as Texas. According to Farnsworth, local committees of oil men have been or will be formed in all principal communities throughout the state, whose purpose is to make all possible information about the oil industry. Literature, motion pictures, speeches and radio material will be used to explain oil's function in America's economy, he said.

Heavy Casualties Hit Paratroopers

Of the 82nd Airborne Division paratroopers seen descending in the photo above, one man was listed as missing, probably killed, and 65 suffered broken limbs and other serious injuries. The percentage of injuries, about six per cent, was much higher than usual in training jumps. The parachute drop was part of an invasion of Vieques Island, near Puerto Rico, during the largest peacetime maneuvers ever held by U. S. armed forces.

Week's Permits Are $238,850 For Year Total Of $1,763,736

Expropriation Fete Observed In Mexico

MEXICO CITY — Mexico celebrated Saturday the twelfth anniversary of the expropriation of nearly all foreign oil companies here. As is the custom, the head of Pemex, the Mexican government oil industry, reported at a public meeting on how Pemex has done. Figures from Pemex, which took over the oil properties after the March 18, 1938 expropriation, show production is up 23 per cent over the private oil production. The last full year showed production of 57,875,000 barrels.

Former Abilene Man Killed In California LA JOLLA, CALIF. — Morgan Williams, who recently returned here from Abilene, Texas, was killed by a policeman's bullet Friday night. Police Sergeant A. B. Davis reported Williams, about 50, kept advancing on him with a drawn gun, ignoring orders to stop. The officer had responded to an appeal from Tommie Williams, estranged wife of the man, for help. The officer reported that Williams had been in a quarrel with the woman.

DIES IN PLANE CRASH VERNON — Frank Dobbs, 29, was injured fatally Friday when his crop dusting airplane crashed as it took off from North Airport here.

Rotary Cops Easy 46-43 Win From Walker's Quintet

By SHORTY SHELBERNE
Reporter-Telegram Sports Editor
Rotary Engineers toyed with the heralded Arkansas Travelers here Saturday afternoon and walked away with an easy 46-43 victory in a mediocre exhibition of "big time" basketball. The Engineers could have won by any score they chose but kept the count as even as possible.

The more than two hundred fans who sprinkled the bleachers in the huge new MHS Gym got a few good laughs as the girl charges of Hazel Walker frowned.

The running score in the tilt favored Rotary all the way as Paul Haskins, Charlie Kelly and Leonard Shepherd connected with some beautiful shots.

Haskins was the star of the afternoon. He handled the ball in great form and scored from every angle. He also held his own with Mrs. Walker in a free-throw exhibition staged at halftime.

National Coach Walker is a six-times national free throw champion. She proved it by making 13 out of 15 shots standing and nine out of 10 while on her knees in the exhibition.

But Haskins performed creditably against the champ while shooting from both positions.

Stubby Winter, chubby comedian of the Travelers, connected with a couple of long shots which thrilled the crowd. She went through several routines that produced cheers and laughs.

Carolyn Daniels, Georgia Mullins, Wilma Bogan and Helen Arends, all class looking young ladies, added to the show with good shots on occasions.

The crowd got a kick out of it when the girls grabbed hold of one of the Rotary players as he started to shoot or liberally gave him a back-hand while scrambling for the ball.

Slow Down
Rotary slowed down in the fourth quarter and allowed the girls to close the gap in the score. The tally was 30 to 20 at the half, favoring Rotary and was more than that at times in the third quarter.

The Travelers defeated Bill Hale Motors of Odessa Friday night. They were scheduled in Hobbs, N. M., Saturday night.

The cage show was sponsored by the VFW. Rotary Engineers donated the services of the team.

Former Baylor Star Named On Louisiana College Sports Staff
PINEVILLE, LA. —(AP)—An all-time Baylor University athletic "great" has been named to the coaching staff of Louisiana College.

Wesley Bradshaw, an assistant football coach and head coach of basketball and track, Bradshaw was head coach at Ouachita College of Arkadelphia, Ark., before his resignation after football season.

He is expected to assume his new duties at the beginning of the next school year.

Bradshaw starred in football, basketball, track and baseball at Baylor. He was on the ill-fated Baylor bus in which ten basketball players were killed in a collision with a train in 1926.

After leaving Baylor he played professional baseball and football.

Tyler Looms As Team To Beat In Junior Tournament

HUTCHINSON, KAN. —(AP)—Defending Champion Tyler Junior College of Tyler, Texas, again may be the team to beat in the National Junior Basketball Tournament opening here Tuesday.

But plenty of rugged competition is expected from the 15 other teams entered from over the country.

Tyler has a 35-2 season record but was invited to the tournament this year after being eliminated in regional play at Lake Charles, La.

Hit by injuries and illness toward the end of the season, Tyler dropped its last three games after winning 35 straight. The Texas team was invited to participate this year after Keystone, Pa., winner of Region 14 tournament, declined to take part.

Tyler's alling are expected to be back in the lineup and in shape when play opens next week.

City Cage League Playoffs Enter Final Go-Round

The City Cage League playoffs swing into the final round at the Junior High School Gymnasium here Monday night. Rotary Engineers, undefeated in league play and the first round of the playoffs, is seeded top spot in the tourney.

The Engineers will be meeting the capable Ted Thompson quintet which whipped out the JayCees in the first round. It took the Teds the limit—three games—to win, however, while Rotary swamped the Watkins Mobli outfit two straight.

The JayCees and Watkins Mobli tangle in the consolation bracket to decide third place in the final standings. Both are classy but lack the individual stars boasted by Rotary and Ted Thompson.

Rotary and Ted Thompson finished one, two in the regular season of play.

Two Games Slated
The Monday night card calls for a double-header starting at 7:30 p.m. The JayCees and Magnolia meet in the first game.

The battle will continue Wednesday night with the same teams opposing each other. A date will be set for a third night of play if it is needed.

The Cage League annually is sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars here. It has become increasingly popular in the field of Winter sports.

Six teams, including the four mentioned and Mid-West Lumber and the VFW, entered the loop this season.

DOAK WALKERS LEAVE ON HONEYMOON JAUNT
DALLAS —(AP)—Doak Walker, Southern Methodist University's lifetime All-America football star, left his bride, the former Norma Peterson, en route to a honeymoon in Canada.

The star back and his college sweetheart were married here Friday night.

Penn State and the University of Pennsylvania will resume their gridiron rivalry at Philadelphia in 1952.

Lefty George Milstead, one of the legendary figures in Texas baseball circles, is off again to another manager's job.

Last season Milstead was with the Ballinger Cats as a player-coach for a short time. He moved from there to Henderson as player-manager.

This season he will be manager of Lake Charles' club in the new Howard Green-promoted Gulf Coast League.

J. D. Bechtel, Texas Employment man here, once played ball with Milstead. Bechtel quit long ago. He's wondering how long Milstead can last.

Coach Tubboat Jones believes he has uncovered a fine 440-yard dash prospect in Jack Burris.

Burris is one of the fastest men on the track team but isn't a sprinter. Coach Jones decided to experiment with him at a longer distance.

Aggies Beat Owls In Cinder Contest

COLLEGE STATION —(AP)—Texas A&M's track and field team won its third straight 1950 victory in as many starts by outpointing the Rice Owls 73-49 on a wind-swept field here Saturday afternoon.

The Owls' speedy Arthur (Red) Brown overtook Bernard Place on the last quarter of the last lap to bring Rice a victory in the featured mile relay race. Time was 3:17.2.

Owls copped eight firsts but the Cadets won by scoring clean sweeps in the 880, mile, two-mile, low hurdles, pole vault, and discus events. Rice won both relay races and swept the broad jump.

No PGA final match ever has gone beyond two extra holes before a winner was found.

SPORTSLANTS

BY SHORTY SHELBERNE

Life, the national publication which featured the Bauers of Midland in an article last week, has furnished us another story on Marlene which ran in 1947.

Marlene was only 13 at that time and was gaining national publicity in California tournaments. She had won the Palm Springs, Calif., event by shooting a 70 just before the article was written.

A full-page picture, carried along with the story and several other poses, shows Marlene practicing putting in the living room of the Bauer home.

She has two large dolls standing on the floor and is putting between their legs, demonstrating her accuracy even at that time.

Another person who is making a mark for Midland in the world of sports is Dunny Goode, former MHS track, football and basketball star.

Goode lettered on the Hardin-Simmons University football team last fall.

He currently is a member of the HSU track squad. He performs in the 220-yard dash for the Cowboys.

Down at TCU, a fine son of Pecos is getting much publicity following Spring grid drills for the Horned Frogs.

John Medanich, a star for Pecos when the Eagles were higher up in the standings in 5-A than they were last season, is counted on strongly by Dutch Meyer.

Medanich has been shifted to a halfback spot for 1950.

SOUTHWESTERN TRACK MEET—

Baylor, Oklahoma A&M, Schreiner, North Texas, Odessa Win Divisions

By HAROLD RATLIFF

FORT WORTH—(P)—Seven records fell, two were tied and Baylor won the university division of the Southwestern Recreation Track and Field meet Saturday—the first time any school outside of Texas or Texas A&M had taken the title in so many years few remember.

The reason was that Texas and A&M both snubbed the meet this year, grumbling over a poor track last season when they lost some key men in mishaps.

While the university class was weak—with only one record being hung up—the other divisions did all right for themselves.

The college freshman class, won by Oklahoma A&M, set four records.

North Texas State, headed by the brilliant Luther Fambro—who won two first places and tied for another—ran away with the college division, rolling up 70 points to 26 1/2 for McMurry. Fambro took the broad jump and 220-yard low hurdles and tied for first in the pole vault. He was the high individual scorer of the big, five-division meet with 14 points.

College Freshman Winners
120-yard high hurdles, Jones, Hardin-Simmons, 16 seconds; pole vault, Peery, Oklahoma A&M, 42 feet, 11 inches; shotput, Forester, Southern Methodist, 47 feet, 5 1/4 inches (new record); mile run, Hoeffer, Texas Christian, 4:42.5 minutes; high jump, Jeans, Baylor, 5 feet, 9 inches; 100-yard dash, Wells, Oklahoma A&M, 9.8 seconds; 440-yard dash, Mueller, Oklahoma A&M, 52.6 seconds; broad jump, Rice, Oklahoma A&M, 20 feet, 7 3/4 inches; 220-yard dash, Wells, Oklahoma A&M, 21.5 (new record); discus throw, Hooper, Texas A&M, 145 feet, 5 inches; 220-yard low hurdles, Williams, Oklahoma A&M, 24.9 (new record); 880-yard run, Rainey, University of Houston, 2:04.3; mile relay, Oklahoma A&M, 3:39.4.

High School Winners
100-yard dash, Childress, Odessa, 9.8; 220-yard high hurdles, Coleman, Sunset (Dallas), 15.2; mile run, Rodriguez, Crozier Tech (Dallas), 4:46.2; shotput, Goss, Sunset (Dallas), 48 feet, 200-yard low hurdles, Henry, Ardmore, Okla., 148 feet, 7 inches; 880-yard run, Hawkins, Lamesa, 2:05; mile relay, Central (Oklahoma City), 3:35.9; broad jump, Caviezer, Austin, 21 feet, 13 1/4 inches; pole vault, Dial, Marlow, Okla., 44 feet; 440-yard dash, Fowler, Amarillo, 50 (new record); 220-yard dash, Thomas, Cleveland, 21.4; high jump, Mullins, Woodrow Wilson (Dallas), 6 feet, 1 1/4 inch.

Junior College
Junior college division winners: high jump, White, Edinburg, 5 feet, 9 1/2 inches; shotput, Quinn, Tyler, 44 feet 7 1/2 inches; 120-yard high hurdles, Carter, Texas Southmost, 15.2; mile run, Rundell, Schreiner, 4:51.5; pole vault, Walker, Schreiner, 12 feet, 2 3/8 inches; 100-yard dash, Otuski, Texas Southmost, 10 flat; 440-yard dash, Martin, Paris, 52.3; 220-yard dash, Otuski, Texas Southmost, 22.1; discus throw, Lock, Schreiner, 124 feet; broad jump, Waters, Victoria, 20 feet, 8 inches; 220-yard low hurdles, Nalley, Victoria, 25.5; 880-yard run, Toliver, Schreiner, 2:00; mile relay, Victoria, 3:34.8.

University of Arizona Dean of Men Louis A. Sionaker captained the Wildcat football team in 1920.

Galen Fowler of Amarillo hung up a record of 50 flat in the high school 440-yard dash. It wiped out the mark of 50.4 set in 1945 by Desmond Kidd of Austin. But the effort was too much for Fowler; he became ill and couldn't run in the mile relay. Amarillo, favored to win this event, wound up last because of the loss of Fowler.

Ties Furlong Mark
Charles Thomas, the brilliant sprinter from Cleveland, tied the record for the 220-yard dash in the high school division. He did 21.4—the same as Charley Parker of Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) made in 1944.

Double winners for the day included D'Ambrosio in the university class, Slack in the college class (he also won the shot put), Wells in the college freshman division and Carl Otuski of Texas Southmost (Brownsville) in the junior college division. Otuski won the 100 and 220.

High point man of the university class was D'Ambrosio with 10. Fambro led the college division, Wells and Merwin Carter of Texas Southmost the junior college division with 10 1/2, and Joe Childress of Odessa and Thomas tied for high point honors in the high school class with eight apiece.

The summaries:
University Winners
University division winners: 120-yard high hurdles, Valls, Baylor, 14.6 seconds; 100-yard dash, D'Ambrosio, Baylor, 9.7 seconds; shotput, Kurtz, Oklahoma A&M, 47 feet, 7 inches; one mile run, Brown, Arkansas, 4:29.5 minutes; 440-yard dash, Bradford, Arkansas, 50.2 seconds; high jump, Adams, Arkansas, and Berry, Arkansas, 6 feet, 11 1/2 inches; discus throw, Addison, Southern Methodist, 144 feet, 3 inches; broad jump, Lucas, Baylor, 22 feet, 6 1/2 inches; 220-yard dash, D'Ambrosio, Baylor, 21.5 seconds; pole vault, Schmidt, Texas Christian, Pinnell, Texas Tech, and Valls, Baylor, 41 feet; 220-yard low hurdles, Walker, Southern Methodist, 24.1 seconds; 880-yard run, Stephenson, Baylor, 2:00.3; 440-yard relay, Baylor, 42.5; mile relay, Arkansas, 3:27.

College Division Winners
College division winners: shotput, Slack, North Texas State, 46 feet, 8 inches; high jump, Grundy, North Texas State, 6 feet, 2 inches; pole vault, Fambro, North Texas State, and Bonnell, Stephen F. Austin, 41 feet, 6 inches; 120-yard high hurdles, Moring, McMurry, 15.1 seconds; 100-yard dash, Renfro, North Texas State, 9.8 seconds; discus throw, Slack, North Texas State, 149 feet, 11 inches (new record);

Ballyhoo Baby

Apple-cheeked Bobby Morgan is expected to play third base in Brooklyn. Named the International League's most valuable last season, Morgan is aggressive and a grand competitor, described as an Eddie Stanky with talent.

Rotary Engineers Cop Keg Crown

Final tabulation in the five-man team division of the City Championship Bowling Tournament shows Rotary Engineers on top by the scant margin of three points.

The Engineers rolled a total of 3,049 to take first place in the division. Pabst Blue Ribbon finished second with a score of 3,046.

Yanks Tumble Boston 15-9 In Free Hitter

MIAMI—(P)—Boston's Red Sox blew a six run lead Saturday and fell before the world champion New York Yankees 15-9 in a free hitting, poorly pitched pre-season exhibition. The score:
R. H. E.
New York (A) 011 074 011—15 22 3
Boston (A) 800 100 200—9 8 2
Shea, Portierfield, Page and Berra; Masterson, E. Johnson, Papp, Dorish and Rosar.

Three Late Runs Give Indians 7-4 Victory

OAKLAND—(P)—The Cleveland Indians pushed across three runs in the ninth Saturday to win 7-4 over Oakland of the Pacific Coast League. The score:
R. H. E.
Cleveland (A) 100 020 103—7 11 0
Oakland (PCL) 003 010 000—4 9 1
Flores, Zoldak and Hegan; Nelson, Jones and Padgett.

HOMERS WIN FOR PONIES

HUNTSVILLE—(P)—Kyle Rote and Gerald Jensen hit consecutive home runs in the sixth inning Saturday to pace the Southern Methodist Mustangs to a 6 to 3 baseball win over Sam Houston State College.

AGGIES 8, HOUSTON 4

HOUSTON—(P)—The Texas Aggies Saturday stopped a ninth-inning University of Houston threat to take an 8 to 4 baseball victory from the Cougars.

Lowest batting average of any American League player who appeared in more than 100 games in 1949 was .218 by Gil Coan of Washington.

Training Camp Briefs

By The Associated Press
MOST IMPROVED
PHOENIX, ARIZ.—Catcher Wes Westrum is regarded as the most improved player on the New York Giants by Manager Leo Durocher. West took over as first-string catcher when the Giants sent Walker Cooper to Cincinnati.

EAT TOO MUCH
PASADENA, CALIF.—Luke Appling, the Chicago White Sox sage, says young players eat too much. Luke's weight now is almost the same as when he broke in with the Sox in 1930—between 175 and 180 pounds.

PLAYER PERSONNEL DIRECTOR
LOS ANGELES—Wid Matthews, the Chicago Cubs new director of player personnel, is expected to report back to Manager Frankie Frisch next week after making the rounds in Florida. Matthews already has talked to the Reds, Cardinals, Braves, Phils and Dodgers, as well as several American League clubs during a Spring shopping tour.

JUGGLE FOR PRODUCTION
SAN BERNARDINO, CALIF.—Manager Billy Meyer is planning to juggle his lineup in order to get a little more production in the hitting department of his Pittsburgh Pirates. Meyer was more than irked as the Bus left 11 men stranded while losing a 6-4 decision to the Chicago Cubs.

YELLING FOR PITCHING

NOT OVERJOYED
WEST PALM BEACH, FLA.—Manager Burt Shotton is not exactly overjoyed about the status of his Brooklyn starting pitchers with Spring training past the halfway mark. Don Newcombe was well cuffed by the Braves; Ralph Branca was no mystery to the Athletics, and Preacher Roe was unimpressive against Mobile.

ONE BALL OF FIRE
LAKELAND, FLA.—The Detroit Tigers can boast one ball of fire in this Spring exhibition season. He's first, Baseman Richard Kuyhokki, obtained in a swap with the New York Yankees.

BILKO GETS CHANCE
ST. PETERSBURG, FLA.—It looks like Rookie Steve Bilko will get more than an even chance to prove he can hold down first base for the St. Louis Cardinals. A big obstacle was removed—temporarily at least—when Vernon (Nippy) Jones announced he would not make a real bid for the first base job until June 1.

ONLY A SPLAIN
BRADENTON, FLA.—Boston's Braves reported X-rays showed Del Crandall, 20 year old, first string catcher, had suffered only a sprain when he jammed his foot a few days ago in an intra-squad game.

NEW SMILE ON FACE
CLEARWATER, FLA.—Manager Eddie Sawyer has a new smile on his face. And two young righthanders are responsible. Emory (Bubba) Church, a rookie from Toronto, and Bonus Pitcher Charley Bicknell performed admirably against the Kansas City Braves.

'I'll Run The Club As Long As I Have My Faculties,' Says 87-Year-Old Connie Mack

WEST PALM BEACH, FLA.—(P)—"As long as I have my faculties, I'll run the club," Connie vowed. "As a matter of fact, the longer I stay around the more I don't want to leave."

Baseball's oldest inhabitant also gave the lie to the rumor that Mickey Cochrane, his new coach, would replace him as Philadelphia manager.

"If I should ever decide to retire," he said, "and that is a long way off, my son, Earle, will replace me."

Earle, 57, currently is coach of the A's along with Cochrane and Jimmy Dykes.

Babe Nears Victory, New Tourney Mark In Titleholders' Golf

AUGUSTA, GA.—(P)—Babe Didrickson Zaharias, a champion of women and a competitor without a leup, edged toward a titleholders' golf victory Saturday with a 73 which put her far ahead of the field.

The Babe, registered from Chicago, shot the second finest round of the tournament. The best round, a 299, was shot in the 1949 tourney. Her total is 223.

If she can shoot a 75 Sunday in the finale a new Titleholders record will be set. The present mark, a 299, by Peggy Kirk of Findlay, Ohio, was shot in the 1949 tourney.

Alice Bauer Rallics
Claire Doran managed to hold second place with a 74 for a 229 total—a lag of six strokes.

Louise Suggs—National Open champion from Carrollton, Ga., moved into third place with Saturday's 75 for a 232 total. Her playing mate, Carol Dringer of Tiffin, Ohio, is fourth with 233.

Other great comebacks were by Veterans Estelle Lawson Page of Chapel Hill, N. C., Betty Bush of Hammond, Ind., and Little Alice Bauer of Midland, Texas. All shot 74's for 237 totals.

Barber Has Slim Edge At Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE, FLA.—(P)—Jerry Barber, likeable little pro from Overland, Mo., gave them a show of record-breaking golf Saturday.

On a 32-33-65 turn of the 6,508-yard Hyde Park course, his seven-under-par score went nicely with his 71 of Friday for the 36-hole lead in the Jacksonville Open at 136.

He is 65 was only one stroke better than the round turned in by veteran Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md., who tied the old competitive record.

Hawkins In Running
Hamilton had a starting 71 and halfway through the tournament trailed the leader by a single stroke.

Al Besselink, 25-year-old Detroit professional and former University of Miami golfer, bettered his opening 69 by a stroke and was tied with Hamilton for second place.

Skip Alexander of Knoxville, Tenn., and Jack Burke, White Plains, N. Y., carded 67 apiece.

Burke had company at 140 in the persons of George Pazio of Washington, D. C., and young Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Texas.

Key Jump

Eddie Stanky makes the pivot in Phoenix, Ariz., base, marking the fiery little second baseman's debut in Giants' regalia. Shortstop Alvin Dark and Stanky were traded from the Braves to make the double-play for the New York Nationals.

MESQUITE GIRLS ENTER NATIONAL AAU TOURNEY
ST. JOSEPH, MO.—(P)—Mesquite, Texas, High School Saturday entered the Women's National AAU Basketball Tournament. The games begin here Sunday with 33 teams now entered.

The Naval Academy baseball team will play 22 games during the 1960 season, closing against Army on May 27.

CCNY Wins Over Bradley In NIT

NEW YORK.—(AP)—The sizzling sophomores from CCNY staged a brilliant second half comeback Saturday night to defeat favored Bradley and capture the 13th National Basketball Tournament, 69-61.

Thus CCNY, like San Francisco last year and West Virginia and Utah before that, wrote a cinderella finish to the Madison Square Garden event that first was staged in 1928.

It was the first NIT championship for the CCNY Beavers, and the fifth failure for Bradley—rated the nation's No. 1 team this season—to come through in this event.

Three Persons Hurt In Explosion, Fire

STATESBORO, GA.—(AP)—An explosion and fire demolished half a business block Saturday, leaving three persons injured and damage estimated at $300,000.

Firemen used blow torches, axes and saws to rescue two men trapped in the wreckage. One was in serious condition.

Hobbs Ex-Mayor Acquitted By Jury On Bribery Charge

CLOVIS, N. M.—(AP)—J. Paul Heard was acquitted Saturday of receiving a $1,000 bribe to protect gambling while he was mayor of Hobbs.

A district court jury deliberated two hours 23 minutes. District Attorney Randolph Reese announced plans to go ahead with trial of Heard on charges of ballot box tampering and falsifying public records.

Governor Inspects Texas Prison System

HUNTSVILLE.—(AP)—Governor Allan Shivers inspected the main unit of the Texas Prison System here Saturday and liked what he saw.

It seems to me the Prison Board and the general manager are spending the money the Legislature voted wisely and economically," the governor said. "I am proud of the job they are doing. The morale of the prisoners seems good."

Long Separation Stymies Memory

WILLIAMSON, W. VA.—(AP)—"Please send me a copy of my marriage certificate. I have been separated for so long that I can't remember my wife's name. But her first name was Mary and we were married in Williamson."

When Mingo County Clerk Elmer Ferrell received that letter from a man in Roanoke, Va., recently, he leaped through the records.

He found that two men with the same name as the letter writer had been married here. Both brides were named Mary.

Ferrell said he would send the information along to the Virginian and let him figure it out.

Texas Runs Away In Three-Way Meet

AUSTIN.—(AP)—The University of Texas racked up 92 points to sweep a triangular track meet here Saturday over Howard Payne and Abilene Christian College.

Howard Payne finished second with 43 points. The Wildcats had 35. Little Eugene Carter won both the 100 and 200-yard dashes and anchored the losing 440 Yellowjacket relay team to take high point honors with 10.34.

President Declines To Accept Phone Call

KEY WEST, FLA.—(AP)—Presidential headquarters here declined Saturday to accept a telephone call from the Duncan-Paris American Legion Post of New York.

The post reportedly was arranging to put President Truman in touch with Premier Stalin of Russia.

Charles G. Ross, presidential secretary, had said in advance the call would not be accepted.

Friends Will Aid Accused 'Mercy' Slayer's Defense

ALLENTOWN, PA.—(AP)—Folks in the tiny suburban community of Coplay are going to make a door-to-door canvass to raise a defense fund for Harold Mohr, accused mercy slayer.

Mohr is the 36-year-old ex-tannery worker, who says he shot his blind, cancer-ridden brother, Walter, 55, because he pleaded to be put out of his misery. The victim had been hopelessly blind for 15 years.

His face had wasted away until only his lips remained. Friends and neighbors believe Harold acted with his heart. They said they feel he bowed to a call even greater than the law. To prove their sentiments are not empty words, they are going all out to back the defense.

August Hobel, Jr., Coplay coal dealer and lifetime friend of the defendant, has called a meeting at Town Hall Monday night. Most of the community of 3,000 people is expected to attend.

Tentative plans call for a door-to-door canvass, jars to be left in central locations for donations, and individual pledges.

Young Jail Breakers Are Back In Custody

FRANKLIN, TEXAS.—(AP)—Sheriff Bob Reeves said Saturday night three Houston youths who saved their way out of the Robertson County Jail here are back in custody.

Reeves said Gene and Bob Donaldson, first cousins, were arrested late Saturday at Brenham. Freeman Canada, a young negro who escaped with them, was caught Friday in Houston, Reeves said.

Reeves said he has in custody three youths suspected of helping in the escape Wednesday. One of the two first arrested signed a statement that the three passed hacksaw blades to the escapees, Reeves said. The third suspected accomplice was arrested Friday.

Deadlock—

(Continued From Page One) vote in Flanders. But he failed to capture the Walloon provinces where he received only 42.11 percent, and the Brussels area, where he got only 48.17 per cent.

Former Premier Paul—Henri Spaak's Socialists, bitter Leopold opponents, said this showed Leopold would not be king of all the Belgians, but only of the Flemish.

Socialist labor union leaders Friday called thousands of workers out in a 24-hour warning strike to demonstrate a contention that chaos would result if Leopold returns.

One way out of Belgium's deadlock would be for Leopold to abdicate in favor of his 19-year-old son, Prince Baudouin. This is not likely.

Struggle—

Crumpion said some of these papers found near the scene of the slaying first had led officers to believe Villalobos had an accomplice. He said they now are convinced, however, that Villalobos worked alone—sometimes using his own name, sometimes that of the dead Carrasco.

El Paso immigration officers said Villalobos crossed from El Paso into Juarez many times and once from Presidio into Ojinaga, each time claiming that he was a U. S. citizen and producing documents in the name of Juan Carrasco to prove it.

Impressed As Carrasco
The officers also showed to an El Paso Times reporter a letter which they said Villalobos had written while serving a four-month sentence at the Federal Correctional Institution at La Tuna, Texas.

He was imprisoned under the name of Juan Carrasco. The letter, addressed to the U. S. Justice Department, said:

"I'm writing you in regards to my case. As you know, I'm serving a sentence for being in this country illegally, although I'm a citizen of this country, therefore, I don't see how or what authorizes you people to deport me. I'd like very much to be given another chance against deportation" because I can prove that I'm an American citizen so please inform me of your decision whatever it may be."

The letter was signed "Jose Villalobos."

Villalobos has been held in jail in Ojinaga since his arrest Thursday.

Charges of murder with malice have been filed against him by Davis.

WTTA—

(Continued From Page One) come they received and paid high tribute to Supr. Frank Monroe and other school officials for the well-integrated program.

Newly-elected President Ross A. Buckner, superintendent of Seagraves school district, Midland, on its fine new school plant, and declared other cities will have a hard task to match the hospitality of Midland.

It was decided by delegates at the Thursday evening banquet and business meeting to hold the 1961 meeting in Lubbock, site of all former conventions. Plans for future meetings, according to officials, call for rotating the meeting places between Lubbock in the northern division and Odessa, Midland and Big Spring in the south. Outgoing President W. A. Miller of Odessa also paid tribute to Midland's school officials, and said he believed this was the greatest turnout ever recorded at a District Four meeting.

Dr. Hymes, in his afternoon address, told teachers that too often, children are given the impression they are not quite good enough.

"We seem to instill in them the feeling that we are constantly reminding, improving and polishing,—hoping someday they'll be 'good,'" said Dr. Hymes.

He suggested instead that parents and teachers attempt to develop a trusting, accepting and enjoying attitude, in which we treat children as allies.

"Every child," he said, "needs a sense of 'I am good. I am able. I am loved'—from adults—and it will result in a feeling of joy we haven't always been able to capture."

Dr. Pierce, an outstanding psychologist, told the teachers of several underlying emotional factors which, when instilled in children, may crop up later in life with harmful effect. Fear of the future, frustration, ridicule and a feeling of loneliness all are factors in children, he said, which may affect the adult. He urged teachers to respect the privacy of children, to give them a sense of belonging, and of being individuals.

A poem, quoted by Dr. Pierce, expressed the thought that children are like pliable clay, to be molded by the teacher or parent. But, he said, as the clay hardens with age, no one can change the shape in which it originally was cast.

"Can we take the credit for those who bring credit to the community," he asked, "if we are not willing to take the blame for those who do wrong?"

Good attendance was reported at the sectional meetings scheduled in the morning and afternoon. Several meetings were shifted from originally scheduled rooms to make room for larger attendance.

School administrators of District Four met for luncheon and business meeting Friday in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer. They heard a talk on "Administration Means People," by Dr. Hymes. At the meeting officers for 1960-61 were elected. Named to head the group were: Ishmael Hill of Lubbock, president; Foster Cook of Spur, vice president; and Miss Gail Erwin, secretary-treasurer.

College Teachers Association
An election was held by College Classroom Teachers Association members, who met at 3 p.m. Friday in the high school building. Three colleges were represented at the meeting: Texas Technological College in Lubbock, Howard County Junior College, Big Spring, and Odessa Junior College, Odessa. Officers named were: J. H. Waldrum of Odessa Junior College, president; Lida B. May, of Texas Tech, vice president; and N. R. Vaught of Odessa Junior College, secretary-treasurer.

At the Friday afternoon general session, the Andrews High School Band opened the program, with a varied selection of musical numbers. The retiring president officially opened the convention with an address of welcome to delegates, and a report on the business meeting. Miller then turned the program over to the Buckner, new president, who introduced Dr. R. Matthew Lynn, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, who gave the invocation.

Following Dr. Hymes' address, Monroe made announcements concerning the program.

At the evening session, the Midland High School band, Capella Choir sang for delegates. Jeanine Blank, junior high school music teacher, sang two solos, "Through The Years" and "Deep River," accompanied by Mrs. Frank Miller, The Rev. Howard H. Hollowell, pastor of the First Methodist Church, delivered the invocation.

Officers of the district, elected at the Thursday night banquet in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer, were: Buckner, president; Walker Bailey, Howard County superintendent of school. Big Spring, vice president; Lucille Lucas of Odessa, secretary; and J. H. Waldrum, director of Extension Service, Texas Tech, Lubbock, treasurer.

District Four of the Association includes schools within an area bounded by Plainview on the north, Colorado City on the east, and by a line from Odessa to the corner of the New Mexico state line on the west. Official membership is 2,988 in the district.

Woman—

An airline hostess noted that Mrs. Snow did not leave the plane with other passengers when they arrived here and found her dead. Airline officials said she had been dead only a short time.

Note To Husband
A note to the husband was found on the body. "Dear Clifford," it read. "I can't bear to face what is coming. This seems to be my last night to stay and hear him say better and see him walk. He will be with this way. He will have a home, food, and clothes. I'll have peace of mind and no fear."

The note also included directions to the airline hostess as to the feeding of the child.

The child was placed in charge of Mrs. Wilkinson. At the husband's request, Trans World Airlines arranged to send the infant home in care of a hostess Saturday night.

The plane was due at Kansas City at 11:40 a.m., but discovery of the death caused a delay of nearly two hours.

Mrs. Snow's mother-in-law said her son went to the air terminal to meet the plane at 11:40, not knowing his wife had died.

They had been married 13 years. Michael is their only child.

Is ADVERTISING helping you?

The Pay-off is your Pay Envelope

What One Worker Says:

MACHINIST—I'll say advertising helps me. We make typewriters. I get paid because my outfit—and thousands of other companies we sell to—can sell their products or services at a profit. They do this mainly through advertising—modern mass-selling operation without which we'd really be in a fix. Advertising, by selling goods, protects my job.

Perhaps You've Never Seen It Put This Simply Before

ADVERTISING has been defined as "salesmanship in print—or on the air waves." The more advertising sells, the more goods are needed to fill that demand. The more goods needed, the more men and women are needed at the factory that makes those goods—yes, and on the farms and mines and mills that make the raw materials needed to make the product. In addition, more men and women are needed by the railway and trucking companies that ship the goods, and by the stores that sell it.

Advertising, by selling goods, starts a never-ending chain that leads to more jobs, better jobs, greater personal security.

So when you hear or read advertising—remember, it's helping you by making your job, your home, your income, far more secure!

1. Brings you better goods for less money.
2. Makes shopping more pleasant and easier.
3. Has given us the world's highest standard of living.

Other Ways Advertising Helps You:

Advertising... BY SELLING MORE GOODS TO MORE PEOPLE

WE MOVED

Ted Thompson

In March, 15 years ago, we moved from the little farm in Cottle County to Wichita Falls, and started our career in the Insurance Business. In March a few years later, I got married and moved—moved into a house with my mother-in-law. In March the next year, we moved.

6th Anniversary

This move was made on March 19th. We then moved to Midland and this has proven to be one of our smartest moves. We have enjoyed this 6 years of friendship and business in Midland in the Insurance, Real Estate and Loan Business. Words cannot express our sincere appreciation to you, our friends and customers of Midland, for permitting our company to enjoy the most prosperous and happy 6 years of our life. It has been our pleasure and privilege to help thousands of our friends in Midland and West Texas with their Insurance, Real Estate and Loan Problems. And with your permission, we will stay and continue to give our friends and the public of Midland the finest Insurance, Real Estate and Loan Service in West Texas.
Yes, we invite your loan problems, regardless of size or kind of loan—FHA, GI, Conventional or Commercial. We can make them the size you want them. We can carry the way you want them. We can make them, and the entire personnel invites you to come to see us. Bring your Insurance, Real Estate and Loan problems to us.

Marries In Afternoon Ceremony

Mrs. Ray Phillips

Harbison-Phillips Vows Are Repeated

In a four o'clock candlelight ceremony Lafara Harbison of Midland became the bride of Ray Phillips of McCamey Saturday in the First Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Harbison of Lovington, N. M., and Phillips is the son of Mrs. May Phillips of Whitesboro.

The Rev. Howard H. Hollowell, pastor of the church, read the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of white stock, palms and candelabra. The altar rail was covered with white stock.

Attendants Listed

Bonnie Dale Anderson of Big Spring was the maid of honor and Mrs. Albert Sutton of Whitesboro, sister of the bridegroom, was the matron of honor. Ruby Nell Braly and Mrs. J. A. Rogers were bridesmaids. Nancy Robnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Robnett of Lovington, was the flower girl. Nellie Clark and Betty Clark lighted the candles.

Mernice Newton of Laredo served as best man and Bill Daniel and Charles Suter of McCamey and C. D. Hodges of Midland were ushers.

Mrs. Joseph Mims, organist, played "Thine Alone," Herbert, "Until," Sanderson, and "Intermezzo." Provo, before the ceremony and "Clare de Lune," Debussy, during the ceremony. She played Wagner's "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" for the processional and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" for the recessional.

Wears Sister's Dress

Mrs. Holice Pruett of Lubbock played "Indian Love Call," Primm, as a violin solo. Duke Jimerson sang "Because," D'Hardelot, before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer," Malotte, after the ceremony.

Wearing the wedding dress of her sister, Mrs. R. B. Harmon of Chicago, the bride was given in marriage by her father. The dress was fashioned with a fitted bodice, the nylon net yoke edged with a nylon net ruffle. The bodice was fastened with tiny covered buttons down the back beyond the waistline. The long fitted sleeves were edged with lace ruffles. A panel of lace ruffles about six inches wide at the waist and gradually flaring out, centered the front of the gathered skirt. The back of the skirt fell into a train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught with a tiara covered with tiny beads. She carried a bouquet of white tulips tied with white satin streamers.

They wore elbow length mitts and half-crown headresses of the material of the dresses with bandeaus made of net ruffle topped with forget-me-nots. The headresses caught shoulder length veils. The maid of honor wore a pink dress with white forget-me-nots on the headress and a corsage of white split carnations. The other attendants' frocks were of pea green with corsages of pink split carnations and pink and green forget-me-nots on the headresses.

The candlelighters were dressed in marquisette. Nellie Clark wore a light green dress fashioned with a peplum and Betty Clark a yellow dress styled with a ruffle forming the neckline and a full gathered skirt. The flower girl wore green net over chambray with a full skirt and fitted bodice. The round neckline was trimmed with a double ruffle of net. She wore pink pearls, a gift of the bride. Her bandeau (Continued On Page Four)

Work To Aid Crippled Children

Children Sent To Clinic By Seal Sale Fund

Three children will leave Midland Monday for Lubbock to enter a clinic for the cerebral palsied, officers of the Children's Service League said Saturday. The children were examined at a clinic for crippled children which the league sponsored on March 10. Specialists who conducted the clinic believed that their handicaps will respond to treatment.

Examination and treatment for these children, as well as for many more in Midland County each year, are made possible by funds raised in the annual sale of Easter Seals. The league conducts the annual sale, which now is in progress for 1950.

Funds from the seal sale financed the clinic and will pay all expenses for the three children who are going to Lubbock. Some of the money goes to the Texas Society for Crippled Children and some to the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, which supports special research on cerebral palsy, the disease which has crippled these Midland children.

Sale of the Easter Seals will continue until Easter Sunday. Mrs. Fred Cassidy is chairman of the campaign.

Delegates Selected In P.E.O.

Mrs. James Sprinkle was elected an alternate to the state convention in Houston in April at a meeting of the BS Chapter of P. E. O. in the home of Mrs. George Turner Friday.

She will take the place of Mrs. David Henderson who has been named delegate with Mrs. John Casselman to replace Mrs. James N. Allison, who will be unable to attend.

Mrs. Paul Kolm was in charge of the chapter in appreciation for her work as president last year. She was reelected president of the chapter in a recent election.

Two unaffiliated P. E. O. members present were Mrs. D. A. Ross and Mrs. W. B. Buckthal. Members present included Mrs. Van Camp, Mrs. J. M. Devereux, Mrs. T. S. Head, Mrs. Herbert A. Remphill, Mrs. Glen Mershon and Mrs. L. E. Patterson, Jr.

New HD Agent Is To Start Work March 27

Pauline McWilliams has accepted the position of home demonstration agent for Midland County, effective March 27, it was announced Saturday by Grace M. Martin, agent for District 6 of the Texas Extension Service, A&M College.

Miss McWilliams was named to succeed Mrs. Clay Miller, the former Nettie Messick, who served as home demonstration agent several years in Midland County before her marriage in December, when she left for a home in Gresham, Ore.

Formerly with the Texas Extension Service as home demonstration agent for Hudspeth and Pecos Counties, Miss McWilliams recently has held the position of home economist for the Rural Electrification Administration with headquarters in San Angelo.

She received her BS degree in home economics from Texas Technological College, Lubbock, and has done graduate work at Colorado A&M College, Fort Collins, Colo.

She is expected to arrive in Midland next Sunday and to be in the agent's office on the third floor of the courthouse the next day.

While the county has been without a home demonstration agent, work of the club has been continued with their own members supplying the programs and demonstrations. The County Council of Home Demonstration Clubs has functioned under the leadership of Mrs. B. L. Mason, chairman.

Plan League-Sponsored Quiz Show

Midland Service League members who head committees arranging for the "Dr. I. Q." show to be sponsored by the league in the high school auditorium March 31, recently had a general meeting to coordinate their plans. Seated left to right are Mrs. J. W. Starr, chairman of prizes; Mrs. W. A. Hoyer and Mrs. Tom Sealy, co-chairmen of advertising; Mrs. Lynn Durham, general chairman; Mrs. Walter Ducease, member of the club's Ways and Means Committee; Mrs. Thornton Hardie, production committee chairman; and Mrs. Leland Thompson, who with Mrs. James L. Sleeper, Jr., standing at right, is co-chairman of tickets. Committee leaders not in the picture are Mrs. James T. Smith, co-chairman of production, and Mrs. Wright Cowden, co-chairman of prizes.

Midland B&PW Will Sponsor Stanton Club

Members of the Midland Business and Professional Women's Club will assist in the organization of a club in Stanton at 8 p.m. Monday in the home of Mrs. Carrie Alvis and her sister, Mrs. Long, a block from the Methodist Church in Stanton.

Mrs. Neta Stovall, president of the Midland club, and Mrs. D. R. Carter, state vice president, will direct the organization meeting.

All Stanton women interested in the club are urged to attend. Members of the Midland club are asked to contact Mrs. Stovall if they can attend the meeting.

Mrs. Carter, a teacher at Stanton, is a long-time member of the Midland club. She has held various club offices and now is third vice president of the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Breakfast Honors Joan Steinberger

A breakfast and surprise "gadget" shower complimented Joan Steinberger, bride-elect of David H. Donaldson of Odessa, in the home of Mrs. Joe Kaiser, 709 North Main Street, Saturday morning. Mrs. Paul Anderson was hostess with Mrs. Kaiser.

The centerpiece was a sewing box, a gift from the hostesses, with a spray of daisies arranged in the top drawer. The box was filled with "gadgets" necessary to the housewife, gifts to the honoree. Place cards were in the form of packets with the names stitched in threads of various color and with needles and spoons of thread attached.

The hostesses presented the honoree and her mother, Mrs. C. H. Steinberger, with corsages of white daisies. The table was covered with a brown cloth and yellow napkins added color emphasis.

Miss Steinberger and Donaldson will be married in the First Christian Church here April 8. The breakfast is one of a series of small parties complimenting her before her wedding.

The courtesies will continue through the remainder of this month. Pre-wedding parties started March 3 with a kitchen shower given by Mrs. H. Winston Hull and her daughter, Mrs. Charles Pierce, and hostesses for the next three entertainments were mother and daughter teams.

Mrs. Louis Ayres and Mrs. Paul Jordan honored Miss Steinberger with bridge on March 8; Mrs. James C. Watson and Mrs. Jim Lane of Rankin with a luncheon on March 12; Mrs. W. P. Knight and Mrs. Dayton Bliven with a luncheon Tuesday.

Elana Eastham, another bride-elect, was complimented with Miss Steinberger at a luncheon given by Mrs. Henry Shaw and Mrs. Oliver Morgan Wednesday. Miss Eastham's engagement to Frederick D. O'Connor of Bronsville, N. Y., was announced recently. Another luncheon of last week was given by Mrs. Paxton Howard, Mrs. John Fitzgerald and Mrs. W. H. Pryor Thursday for Miss Steinberger.

Downtown Booth To Aid Cancer Program

An information booth will be opened Monday and will be manned all this week by members of the Midland Service League, to continue the cancer education program in this county. Speakers are appearing in various organizations to conduct one phase of the program.

Pamphlets printed in English and Spanish will be distributed from the booth, to be set up in the Woolworth store and kept open during business hours each day. Mrs. Paxton Howard, chairman of the information program, announced.

Men's luncheon clubs are to hear talks this week by Herschel Ezell, who will visit the Kiwanis Club Tuesday, the Optimist Club Tuesday, the Rotary Club Thursday and the Junior Chamber of Commerce Friday. He is to speak to the Lions Club on March 29.

Mother Goose Characters To Present Juvenile Style Show

Characters right out of Mother Goose will come to life on the stage of the Junior High School Auditorium when the St. Ann's Mother Club presents Jack and Jill Fashion Shows from Kiddies Toggery Friday, at 7:30 p.m.

The original script for the juvenile fashion show was written by Mrs. Ray Kelly. Mrs. Fredric S. McLaren will narrate the jingles which introduce the nursery characters. Wendy Woolcock will portray the Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe.

A. G. Davis is constructing the enormous shoe which will serve as the background for the show. Mrs. Paul Callahan is chairman of the stage setting committee, assisted by Mrs. L. J. Gibson and Mrs. Vester Collins. They will undertake the decoration of the show.

The fashion show will be presented in several acts, with the Old Woman showing how she dresses her numerous children for play, for a birthday party and bedtime.

Plans Progress For Woman's Club Building

The planning and finance committees of the Woman's Club Building had separate meetings Friday. The planning committee met in the home of Fannie Bess Taylor Friday night. Miss Taylor and her committee next week will begin work on the constitution and by-laws for the Women's Club.

The planning committee met in the home of Fannie Bess Taylor Friday night. Miss Taylor and her committee next week will begin work on the constitution and by-laws for the Women's Club.

Changes in the present constitution are necessary if the club owns property.

The club will be incorporated and begin its fiscal year June 1. Miss Taylor will remain as treasurer of the building committee and will receive all funds from the various clubs contributed to the building fund, it was announced.

Cordelia Taylor, a representative from the finance committee, was a guest at the meeting. Members present were Mrs. George Glass, Mrs. W. G. Epley, Mrs. A. P. Shirey, Mrs. Leonard Thomas, Mrs. Earl Johnson, Mrs. C. M. Goldsmith and Mrs. Neta Stovall.

Pledges Reported

Reports were made that 14 clubs each have pledged $1,000 for the building fund, in the meeting of the finance committee Friday morning in the KORS Studio.

A meeting has been called for 9:30 a.m. Thursday in the home of Mrs. W. H. Sloan, 1310 West Wall Street, to complete business started in the meeting Friday.

Present were Mrs. Clyde Cowden, Mrs. Lamar Lunt, Mrs. W. H. Sloan, Cordelia Taylor, Mrs. Harlan Howell, Mrs. Otis Baggett, Mrs. L. C. Link, Mrs. Earl Statton, Mrs. John Stille, Mrs. C. S. Britt, Mrs. C. M. Goldsmith and Fannie Bess Taylor.

DAR Members Asked To State Meeting

Mrs. John Perkins, regent of the Lieut. William Brewer Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, has received an invitation to the fifty-first annual convention of the Texas Society, DAR, to be held in Dallas March 27-30.

Delegates and visitors are expected to go from the chapter here to the convention. Mrs. Frank Aldrich, Mrs. Nelson Puett, Mrs. R. W. Hamilton and Mrs. Eric Payne have been elected delegates. Other members who plan to go are asked to notify Mrs. E. N. Gideon, transportation chairman, at telephone No. 2767-W.

The invitation to Mrs. Perkins came from Mrs. Frank Garland Trau of Sherman, state regent. Convention hostesses will be the chapters of Division 3, including Dallas, Commerce, Denton, Gainesville, Greenville, Longview, Mount Pleasant, Paris, Sherman, Texarkana and Waxahachie.

Special events of the convention are a style show luncheon in the Baker Hotel, other luncheons and teas.

RECOVERING FROM SURGERY

Mrs. Joe Norman of Midland is convalescing in the home of her son, Joe Norman, Jr., in Houston, after undergoing major surgery.

Symphony Orchestra To Play As Highlight Of CMA Season

A complete symphony, Mendelssohn's "Italian," the second "Daphnis et Chloe" suite of Maurice Ravel and two overtures, one by Beethoven and one by Tchaikowsky, are included on the program which the Dallas Symphony Orchestra will play Sunday at 3 p.m. for Civic Music Association members.

This concert, the high spot of the season for CMA members and the one they have anticipated since the association was formed here in 1948, had to await completion of the new Midland High School Auditorium because the auditorium used last season did not have a stage large enough to seat the musicians.

The Sunday matinee engagement was arranged with some reluctance by officers of the association, who believe that a night appearance of the symphony would be welcomed by a larger number of members, but the orchestra had no open date left at night by the time the auditorium was finished and the Midland CMA was ready to fix the definite time of the performance.

Under New Conductor

A number of Midland residents heard the Dallas Symphony last year when it was a Civic Music Association attraction at Odessa, and they will have the opportunity of comparing its performance under two conductors. Walter Hendl, who directed the group this year, succeeds Antal Dorati at the start of this season.

Music chosen for the program here is in the realm of familiar classics, or rather the classics from which most people have heard selections.

The "Italian Symphony" is Mendelssohn's No. 4 in A Major. It is in four movements, marked allegro vivace, andante con moto, con moto moderato and saltarello. It was completed in 1833, after the composer's travels in Italy three years earlier, and first performed by the Philharmonic Society in London with Mendelssohn himself conducting. It was received enthusiastically, but the composer was not entirely satisfied with it and kept revising it so that it was not published until after his death.

The concert Sunday afternoon will open with Beethoven's overture to "Egmont," a play by Goethe for which he composed songs and entr'acte music as well as the overture and finale. The play was presented with the specially composed music in May of 1810 at Vienna.

The other overture programmed is Tchaikowsky's "Overture Fantasy" on Shakespeare's tragedy, "Romeo and Juliet." It was composed about 1870.

Ravel's "Daphnis et Chloe" music was composed for the ballet which tells an ancient Greek story of nymphs and shepherds.

Golf Foursomes Postponed For Concert Date

Scotch foursomes will not be played Sunday afternoon at the Midland Country Club because of the Civic Music Association concert, it was announced at the luncheon meeting of the Ladies Golf Association Friday in the clubhouse. The foursomes will be played March 28 instead.

Mrs. B. R. Schabrum and Mrs. Nelson Puett were hostesses. Tables were decorated with St. Patrick tablecloths, shamrocks and green top hats. The centerpiece was an arrangement of white stock with greenery.

Mrs. Frank Shriver, a representative of the Midland Unit of the American Cancer Society, was a guest speaker at the luncheon. Members were urged to bring guests to the next luncheon, which will precede games of progressive bridge.

Mrs. Frank Downey and Mrs. L. E. Stewart will be hostesses.

Guests for the luncheon included Mrs. Alma Thomas of Austin, Mrs. C. C. Taylor and Mrs. Miles Hall. Members present were Mrs. Leland Davidson, Mrs. D. B. Dickson, Mrs. Vann Ligon, Mrs. A. C. Castle, Mrs. A. C. Clevenger, Mrs. Alton Brown, Mrs. Delo Douglas, Mrs. Ted Love, Mrs. Bob Franklin, Mrs. J. C. Harwick, Mrs. J. E. Burton, Mrs. J. D. Millard, Mrs. Boy Mizeen, Mrs. J. E. ANXIETY AS ASSET AND LIABILITY

We saw yesterday that the Christian is one who cares about the past, the present, and the future—he is not a lotus-eater. The fact is that he cares more than anyone else, for he is in the process of being sensitized on a world scale. This is his greatest asset. It gives him drive, direction, and determination. It makes him a progressive person. All other things being equal, the Christian should be the most progressive person on earth. He is awakened in every fiber of his being, and he is a man of the open road.

But if this awareness is his greatest asset, it may also become his greatest liability. The fact that he is sensitive and aware to himself and to all men may make him worry. If so, then his light has turned to darkness. For worry and anxiety and fear can block the whole process of progress and paralyze him. The fact that he is sensitive and aware to himself and to all men may make him worry. If so, then his light has turned to darkness. For worry and anxiety and fear can block the whole process of progress and paralyze him. The fact that he is sensitive and aware to himself and to all men may make him worry. If so, then his light has turned to darkness. For worry and anxiety and fear can block the whole process of progress and paralyze him.

I was afraid, and went and hid my talent. Both are profoundly true—there is a fear that is wisdom, and a fear that makes one bury his life talents.

Fear, like any other drive, has to be brought under control and used for constructive purposes. Out of control, it turns into worry and anxiety and becomes destructive to itself and others. "Fret not—it only leads to evil." (Psalm 37:8, Moffatt.) Or, as another version puts it, "It tethers only to evil-doing"—its whole tendency is destructive rather than constructive. Jesus says this new life is often "choked with worries." (Luke 8:14, Moffatt.) The probabilities are that fear, worry, and anxiety are the greatest single trinity of evils a man can take into his life. He must root them out at all costs.

O God, I fear the fear that gets rooted in my life. I am anxious about the anxiety that infects me. I am worried about the worry. Give me deliverance from them. Help me to complete freedom from any cramping inhibition of my life.

After Forty: Stimulate Circulation

A friction mitt makes a good aid for stimulating circulation. It is softened before use with a dash of refreshing skin lotion (left). Then it is stroked vigorously over the skin starting up from the toes (center); and from fingertips to shoulders (right).

If you slip a friction mitt on your arms, begin at the fingertips and stroke towards the shoulders. Because this stroking speeds blood to skin surfaces, you'll be rewarded for your efforts by a glowing complexion instead of the former pallor. Better circulation of blood also helps to relax tense muscles.

Many mature women look and feel older than their years because of a slowing down of circulation which is apt to manifest itself during middle age. Because strenuous exercise is usually ruled out after 40, circulation may be stimulated by less drastic and equally beneficial means. One of the best ways is the friction rub-down after your bath. Best aid to a good rubdown is a coarse-textured mitt of goat's hair or nubby terry cloth.

Man's Love Isn't Guaranteed, But You Can Help to Keep It

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

"How can I keep my husband's love through the years?" a young wife wants to know.

No advice on how to keep a man's love comes with even a five-year guarantee, but here are a few suggestions:

Be a lady. Styles come and go, but a man always likes to think that his own wife is a lady—in the finest meaning of that old-fashioned word.

Be independent. Have some ideas of your own, some friends of your own, some outside interests of your own. You don't have to be a doting wife to be feminine.

Be happy. Too many wives think it is up to their husbands to make them happy. But you'll never be happy if you demand happiness as a gift from someone else. Make yourself happy and you'll do the same for your husband and your home.

Be generous. A selfish woman is often successful at getting a man, but rarely successful in holding his love.

Be companionable. That isn't a matter of sharing your husband's interests, but also of fitting your moods to his.

Pride Is Important

Be proud of your job as wife and homemaker. Be good at the job and let your husband know you consider it your best.

Be trustworthy. A man needs to know that he always can count on his wife.

Be fun to live with. A sense of humor is a woman's best weapon against being bored or boring.

Be brave. A "cry-baby" wife or one who is afraid to meet life's challenges is never a real partner to her husband.

McCamey Club Will Give Library Book

MCCAMEY—A book will be given to the new Rankin Library by the McCamey Home Demonstration Club, members voted at a meeting in the Park Building recently. Mrs. F. C. Reimers presided in the absence of Mrs. West, club president. Mrs. Tom Hudson was hostess.

Myrna Holman, county home demonstration agent, discussing "How to Plan a Wardrobe," advised a definite color plan and mentioned that shades of blue are most popular this Spring. Five members reported using whole wheat products in preparing meals, as shown in a recent demonstration.

Mrs. J. B. Henderson and Mrs. W. C. Ingram will be hostesses at the next meeting, March 24, when members will select patterns and material for dresses.

There are more than 400 rubber parts to the average automobile.

New Device Stops Slipping

Ever had a shoulder strap break at an inopportune moment? Or have to hitch up straps that persistently slip off shoulders? These common annoyances have sparked one manufacturer into designing a

This girl uses a new shoulder-strap guide of sponge rubber and plastic to keep bra and slip straps in line.

This device is a narrow strip of flexible plastic backed by a cushion of neoprene sponge rubber. Slipped over straps, the guide holds them in position on the shoulders. The spongy cushion which is worn next to the skin braces the guide and reduces strain on straps which can be adjusted to a comfortable tension. Braiding and cutting of straps is eliminated as well by the soft cushion.

Women Can't Remake World

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Any hour now, some exhorter will be urging women of the nation to get together and do something about the state of the world.

The job of patching up an ailing world is too big a job for even the best organized group of women in the United States.

Conceded, no women want war or mass destruction. It has always seemed a ridiculous way of settling disputes, even when the combatants were slinging stones at each other.

Big Decisions
Obviously, the decisions on the manufacture and use of atomic weapons must be decided by qualified authorities as circumstances dictate.

Peace Hysteria
This alleged peacetime is not too different from war. And in wartime, crime increased, juvenile delinquency soared to new highs.

After all, we reasoned logically, it's hard to act as if it were business as usual when within hours, days or weeks a young man might find himself in battle danger, wounded or even dead.

These elements are in our lives today. It is hard to plan for a relaxed, secure future when there is a serious possibility the planning will be taken out of our hands.

We can hope that the worst won't happen. It's the job of the mothers and the wives to keep hysteria at a minimum, and to maintain a hopeful attitude.

Veterans May Waive VA Benefits To Get ORC Training Grants

AUSTIN—Veterans, who are members of the Organized Reserve and desire to participate in reserve duty training pay, may waive any Veterans' Administration benefits, such as pensions and disability allowance, and receive reserve duty training pay, it was announced by Texas Military District here Saturday.

These waivers, which were provided for in Public Law 434, 81st Congress, are to be prepared in duplicate and forwarded to the Veterans' Administration office having jurisdiction over a claim. The waiver is to be certified by the commanding officer of the Organized Reserve Corps unit to which the reservist is assigned for pay purposes.

AAUW Juniors Hear Book Review; Talk Of Women's Work

Dr. Louise Fillman reviewed the book, "Women Are Here to Stay," Agnes Rogers, at the meeting of the Junior American Association of University Women in the home of Lily Marie Carter, Thursday.

A general discussion of women in business followed. Those present included Patsy Skrabanek, Sue Caruthers, Nancy Caldwell, Patty Dillman, Anne Harris, Lucille Pearce, Sylvia Cearley, Betty Esty, Marilyn Norman, Carolyn Minton, Nancy Ward, Kay Kendrick and Florence Henderson.

Harbison—

was of white carnations and she carried white petals in her basket.

Mrs. Harbison chose a navy dress with a small white design in the blouse and a bolero jacket for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Phillips wore a black dress designed with short sleeves and unpressed pleats in the skirt.

Out-of-city guests included Mrs. Hubert Recor, sister of the bridegroom, and her daughters, Mary Beth and Doris Ann, of Collinsville. Other out-of-city guests were from Lovington, Lubbock, McCamey, Stanton, Odessa, Rankin, Big Spring, Eunice, N. M., and San Angelo.

Will Live In McCamey
Mrs. Phillips wore a pink gabardine suit with navy accessories and a gardenia corsage when the couple left on a wedding trip. They will be at home in McCamey after March 26.

The bride attended public schools in Lovington and was graduated from Lubbock High School and Texas Technological College. She is a past president of the Iota Beta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority and recently resigned as president of Midland City Council of Beta Sigma Phi and assistant advisor of Nu Phi Mu Sorority.

The bridegroom attended public schools in Whitesboro and was graduated from North Texas State College in Denton. He formerly was employed by the Department of Interior, Washington, D. C., and served three years in the Navy during World War II. He is employed by the Humble Pipe Line Company in McCamey.

For the night scene, when the landman comes to bid good-night, the following children will appear: Larry Grossman, Cricket Coates, Robbie Richard, Sandra Brewer, Sandy Stoddard, Krysta Bagwell, Sharon Skvorc, Eian Ford and Judy Hollis.

There will be a rehearsal for all who are participating in the show at 4 p.m. Thursday in the auditorium.

Tickets may be obtained at Habit Cleaners or Kiddies Toggery or from Mrs. Hugh Munn, who is general chairman of the show, or from any member of the St. Ann's Mothers Club. Tickets also will be available at the door the night of the performance.

GARDEN CITY STUDENT ON TECH HONOR ROLL
LUBBOCK—Frances Cox of Garden City, a freshman student in arts and sciences at Texas Technological College, has been named to the Fall honor roll at the Lubbock school.

Moving stairways soon will be helping jet flight operations. These will be capable of carrying 30 Navy pilots a minute from the hangar deck of a warship up to the flight deck, 28 feet above.

A TRUE SENSE OF DIRECTION

AMERICAN COMMON-SENSE still prevails on ANY question—where the majority speak their minds. The great danger on many highly important issues, however, is that those VITALLY interested and affected fail to assert themselves.

Every American who possesses a true sense of direction wants individual freedom. He cannot have that freedom, and at the SAME time turn billions of payroll deduction dollars over to thousands of Federal bureaucrats, so they may ration all phases of health service.

Write your Congressman and Senator, that you want no COMPULSORY TAX health insurance, with all its redtape evils, and LOWERED quality of medical and other health services.

National surveys show that the vast majority prefer VOLUNTARY health plans.

Easter Fashions Set Spring In Motion

Mobile silhouettes star in the Easter parade, achieved by a wide cape collar and gored skirt (left), by a winged cape that sweeps below the elbows and around the back (center), and by the intricate joining of a cardigan costume's skirt (right). The double-breasted coat is in black and white checked worsted, trimmed in jet black around cape edge and fake pocket flaps. The short, breezy topper in summer-weight red tweed teams up here with the accordion-pleated skirt of a navy wool dress. There's a black silk blouse, hidden by the brief jersey cardigan, attached to the skirt worn by the girl carrying spring furs to top off her bright 1950 ensemble.

NEW YORK (NEA)—Easter fashions set Spring in motion. Rippling capes, flaring pleats, winged sleeves and fluttering panels give mobile silhouettes to the costumes that step out in front of the parade. Clever restraint in the use of fabrics is exercised by designers to avoid any look of bulkiness. Many of the top designs balance slim lines with motion-making details.

An outstanding example of this flattering combination is a black and white checked wool coat designed by Phillip Mangone. It's slim, fitted and fastened with a double row of jet black buttons to the waistline. A wide cape collar mantles the shoulders and ripples across the perfectly tailored back, and the gored skirt flares out in action. Narrow black trim edges the cape and outlines fake pocket flaps.

Made for action are the brief, flaring topplers that may be jackets for suit skirts or the covering companion for a separate dress. Because design interest is concentrated in small space, these topplers manage to look in motion even when they're not.

For example, there's a sleeveless waist-length topper designed by Bruno in bright red Summer weight tweed. What gives a mobile look to this shortie is a winged cape that swings out in a wide arc over the arms and back. The cape is anchored in narrow points at the throat. The front of the topper is fitted at the bodice and banded snugly at the waistline.

The wool dress is enjoying high favor for Easter, too. Slim lines are given fluid softness by intricate shirring or knife-sharp pleats. One noteworthy example of this graceful handling is Trigere's cardigan-styled costume in beige-toned kasha wool jersey. Artfully-placed shirring around the waistband forms soft folds which, in repose, accentuate the slim cut of the skirt, but flare out as you walk. A black silk crepe blouse top for the skirt is simply tailored.

Convention Delegates Elected By Council

ANDREWS—Mrs. A. L. Grant, Mrs. J. F. Stephenson and Mrs. Dennis Nix were elected delegates for Andrews County to the District Home Demonstration Convention in Pecos, April 13, in a meeting of the Home Demonstration County Council Monday. Mrs. J. A. Roach was elected alternate.

Mrs. Stephenson presided over the brief business session held in the commissioners courtroom. Plans were made for an open house event in the new Andrews County Hospital, sponsored by the council.

Other members present included Mrs. C. L. Leisure, Mrs. David Choate, Mrs. DeWayne Maddox, Mrs. Ivan Patterson, Mrs. Jimmie Nelson, Mrs. M. M. Baggett and Mrs. F. W. Noble.

Mrs. Williams Is Hostess To Class

CRANE—Mrs. H. A. Williams was hostess to the Ladies Bible Class of the First Christian Church in her home Thursday.

The meeting was opened by a song and prayer led by Mrs. Sam Edwards. Mrs. J. F. Kendrick taught the lesson from the book, "A Day of Miracles." The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. LeRoy Bookover Thursday. Present were Mrs. Glenn Jones, Mrs. O. E. Steverson, Mrs. Wayne Karr, Mrs. Leon Johnson, Mrs. P. M. Cox, David Williams, Beverly Kendrick and Carla Horne.

Rankin News

RANKIN—Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Johnson recently were Mrs. Johnson's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Sikes, Ellen and Susan, all of San Angelo, and a nephew, Joel Sikes of Leonard. Joel is a student at San Angelo College.

Mr. and Mrs. D. O. McEwen recently were in Arkansas City, Kan., called there by the critical illness of McEwen's mother. They returned to Rankin and were notified of the death of his sister, who also lives in Arkansas City. Mr. and Mrs. McEwen again are in Kansas, where funeral services were held March 11.

Mrs. Elizabeth Rains and Mrs. D. O. McKelvey attended funeral services in Lamesa for Ed Carlisle, an old friend, who recently died of a heart ailment.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Blue are parents of a son, Robert Gene, born March 12 in Big Lake. He weighed eight and one-half pounds.

Subtle Uses For Perfumes

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

The lucky woman who found perfume tucked into the toes of Christmas socks will want, of course, to get the utmost from this glamorous gift. Wise use of perfume does not mean "saving it" for special occasions but dipping into it as often as you need it to feel dressed up, heighten a mood, change the rhythm of your day.

Experts of leading perfume houses advise using perfume in subtle, sophisticated ways. Use it, for example, in the lining of a handbag for releasing a heavenly whiff when you open it up. They also suggest perfuming the inside of gloves; even stroking the right palm with perfume for making a handshake a sweeter merrym.

Take a tip from great-grandma's beauty book and use perfume at the hem of a party frock. Granny may have used sachet to tuck into her voluminous skirts in order to scatter fragrance as she walked, but perfume will work as well. Modern gals go earlier belles one better by tucking perfumed cotton pellets into the back openings of stocking welts. Incidentally, perfumers tell you that the use of perfumed cotton, which can be used again and again—until fragrance has entirely evaporated—is one of the most economical ways of applying precious scents.

A final touch of elegance comes through putting just a drop of perfume in sprinkling water for linens and bouquets.

Participate In Festival

Single Saddle Club Arranges Class For New Square Dancers

Membership still is open in the recently-organized Single Saddle Square Dance Club, and instruction periods have been arranged for prospective members who are beginners at square dancing. Carolyn Oates, publicity chairman, said in announcing the next meeting for 8 p.m. Tuesday.

The club meets in the Midland Officers Club building and there is a half-hour class for beginners preceding each dance. Because most of the square dance clubs here limit their membership to married couples, the Single Saddle Club was organized for unmarried persons only.

Information about membership may be obtained from Miss Oates or Juanita Anderson.

Adult Girl Scouters Invited To Council

All adults who are registered in Girl Scouting are invited to a meeting of the Permian Basin Area Girl Scout Council, to be held at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Community Center at Pecos, Oscar Maples of Kermit, area president, announced.

Several Midland residents, including area board members, plan to attend the meeting. Midlanders on the board include Mrs. I. A. Searles, area field director; the Rev. R. J. Snell, treasurer; Mrs. J. J. Black, director of the established camp and member of the office and staff committee.

MIDLANDER'S RELATIVES INJURED IN CAR CRASH

Louanna Roach Will Leave Church Here For New Position

Louanna Roach, director of religious education in the First Presbyterian Church here for almost five years, has submitted her resignation, effective April 15, when she will become director of religious education for the Presbytery of El Paso.

Midland is included in the El Paso Presbytery. The position she will take is a new one in the district, added this year because of expanded work in the Presbytery.

As yet no headquarters has been designated for the director of religious education, so Miss Roach will remain in Midland temporarily and carry on her work from this city. Her successor in the First Presbyterian Church has not been selected, the Rev. R. Matthew Lynn, pastor, said Saturday.

Miss Roach came to the Midland church from Kilgore. She had worked there as director of religious education for the Presbytery of Paris, a position similar to the one she is taking next month.

Presbyterian Church To Ordain Officers

The First Presbyterian Church will ordain and install new church officers for 1950-51 in the morning worship service Sunday.

National VFW Official To Visit Midland And Odessa

Charles C. Ralls of Seattle, attorney and senior vice commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, will be a special guest of the Midland and

Charles C. Ralls, Odessa chapters of VFW March 28 at a dinner and dance scheduled in the Midland VFW building on West Highway 80. Ralls will be making a nine-day official visit to the seven West Texas VFW districts. He will be accompanied by Texas Department Commander Julian Dickenson of Austin, Department Senior Vice Commander J. T. Rutherford of Odessa and Department Junior Vice Commander J. Warren Hoyt of El Paso.

Several Midland and Odessa businessmen and guests have been invited to participate in the program. John Henderson, commander of the Midland post, and Glen O. Rodgers, commander of the Odessa chapter, are in charge of arrangements.

Sixteen VFW posts in the Midland district have been invited to attend the meeting. The visiting delegation will arrive in Odessa Tuesday, March 28, for a short visit. They will be escorted from Odessa to Midland where a reception will be held in the afternoon at the Scharbauer Hotel. At 7 p.m., the group will be escorted to the VFW Hall where an informal reception will be held from 7 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. A banquet will be held from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. with the Chuck Wagon Gang of Odessa entertaining. From 8:30 to 9:30 p.m., the visitors will speak over Midland Radio Station KORS, Odessa Station KECK and the Cactus Network. Dancing will begin at 9:30 p.m. with the Midland VFW band and the Western Band furnishing the music.

West Texas Districts
Seven VFW districts in West Texas are to be visited by Ralls. His first stop will be in Amarillo where he will attend a regional conference. District 7 (Lubbock area); District 8 (Arlene-Sweetwater); District 9 (Amarillo-Upper Panhandle area); District 10 (El Paso area); District 11 (Plainview-Panhandle area); District 15 (Wichita Falls area), will be visited in addition to District 25, the Midland district.

Ralls will arrive in the Midland-Odessa area following a visit to the Lubbock post. He will go from here to Sweetwater and Abilene to wind up his tour. Ralls, while serving as senior vice commander-in-chief of the national organization, has been picked by many as the next Commander for the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The new commander will be named next summer in the national meeting at Chicago.

VFW posts in the Midland district include Midland, Odessa, Andrews, Monahans, Pecos, Pyote, Kermit, Wink, Crane, McCamey, Alpine, Grandfalls, Fort Stockton, Marfa, Sanderson and Big Spring. In the upper ten per cent were William Pate, Mrs. Ruby K. Hill and Jack Cotter Scannel of Midland. Area students on the honor roll included: John Ottis Parks, Wink; John T. Scrogin, Wink; Rex Hester, Kermit.

New Gloves Are Light, Lacy And Airy

THE glove in hand for spring is light, graceful and colorful. Lacy cut-outs, painted floral sprays, contrasting trims and bright tints are noteworthy style details. Short-sleeved fashions boost the popularity of long gloves. Bracelet trimmings and stitching details soften the look of tailored suit gloves. Sport gloves look more feminine, thanks to the use of light fabric backings for pigskin palms. High-fashion colors such as red and yellow compete with perennial favorites, white and navy, for top place in the spring glove picture.—KAY SHERWOOD, NEA Staff Writer.

New gloves wave gaily and gracefully to spring. Scalloped cut-outs give a lacy look to the elbow-length, double-woven white cotton gloves (center). Flower sprays, hand-painted in shades of yellow, green and pink, brighten the backs of white doekin gloves

Candidate small TALK

By SUE COLEMAN
"It's easy to see that there is a convention of some kind today," a bystander observed as a crowd of the out-of-city teachers moved along the aisles of a store Friday afternoon. "I've never in your life saw that many Midland women downtown shopping with hats on."

A common complaint in organizations here is that the members keep moving away, and no matter if there are newcomers to replace them all, the ones who leave still are missed. The latest chorus I have heard to that lament was from a couple of Midland Service League members regretting that the William P. Castleman have moved to Dallas, taking Mrs. Castleman out of the league.

Northside Church Of Christ Meets In New Building Sunday

The new, spacious and attractive building completed last week for the Northside Church of Christ at North A and Tennessee Streets will be used for the first time Sunday, when regular services are scheduled there by the congregation. J. Woodie Holden, who is serving his fifth year as local evangelist for the church, will be in the pulpit for both preaching services. His subject at 10:50 a.m. will be "Open Eyes" and at 7:30 p.m., "Closed Doors."

Mrs. Shaffer Directs Crane OES Program

CRANE—Stella Shaffer was the leader for an obligation program in the meeting of the Order of Eastern Star Monday. Joyce Whitwell was the soloist for the program. Invitations to the Midland Friendship meeting March 28, and to McCamey for the official visit of the deputy grand matron, Mrs. Nan Montgomery of Sonora, March 23 were read. Jewel Hogan and Mae Newland served refreshments in the social hour following the business session.

New Pastor Taking Up Duties Sunday

The Rev. William Peacock will assume his duties as pastor of the Midland Foursquare Gospel Church, West Indiana and South B Streets, Sunday. He succeeds the Rev. Penny McQuatters and the Rev. Esther Haaland, who opened the church more than a year ago. A farewell service will be held Sunday morning with both Miss Haaland and Mrs. McQuatters speaking. The Rev. Ralph Porterfield, Concho District superintendent and pastor of the San Angelo Foursquare Gospel Church, will be in the service. Miss Haaland and Mrs. McQuatters will take a few months rest before assuming other duties.

Curtain time is 7 p.m. in the new Midland High School Auditorium. Members of the P-TA are selling tickets and the proceeds will benefit P-TA projects.

Progress Reported In Garbage Project

Progress in the program to improve the garbage situation in both the downtown and residential sections was reported Saturday by City Manager W. H. Oswalt. The city manager said owners and operators of downtown business firms are cooperating to the fullest extent in providing covered containers and sheds to serve their garbage needs. The program in the residential sections just now is getting underway and will be in full swing this week, Oswalt stated. The cooperation of all householders in obtaining covered garbage containers and in replacing worn out containers is urged.

Midlander Hasn't Seen Daughter In Thirty Years; Happy Reunion Has Been Arranged

R. D. Bauknight, of 600 North Main Street, is looking forward to a reunion here with a daughter he has not seen for 30 years. To arrive by bus, she plans to visit her father here for two weeks or longer.

The daughter is Mrs. Pearl York of Torrance, Calif. Bauknight was married in Muskogee, Okla. He and his wife separated at Okmulgee, Okla., 30 years ago. She was granted custody of their children in divorce proceedings. Their son, Shelby, also resides in Torrance, Bauknight said he has learned.

Bauknight learned of his children's whereabouts through a sister who resides at Bowie. The sister has a neighbor who visited several months ago in Torrance and became acquainted with

Mrs. York, learning she formerly was a Bauknight. She told Bauknight's sister in Bowie, who started correspondence and linked the family once more. Bauknight, who is 66 years old, is employed by a furniture shop here.

MHS Choral Club Presents Assembly For Junior High

The Midland High School Choral Club made its second appearance of the school year when it sang for the Junior High assembly Thursday morning, second period. The Choral Club started the assembly by singing the "Star Spangled Banner" along with the Junior High audience. R. C. Michener, MHS music director, led the group

Midland High Welcomes 20 New Students

Midland High School welcomes a total of 20 new students enrolled here within the last month. The 20 new students are divided as follows: two seniors, two juniors, seven sophomores and nine freshmen. The two new seniors welcomed are Jo Ann Cherry from Dayton and Thomas Stringer from Kermit. In the Junior Class: the additions are Margaret Bell from Sweetwater and Leon Cline who reentered from California.

Charles F. Mathews Helps To Evaluate Lamesa High School

Charles F. Mathews, principal of MHS, spent March 6, 7 and 8 in Lamesa, evaluating their high school. The members of the committee spent time in various classes, and in making suggestions for changes to the school. All schools have to obey a minimum standard and what other higher standards they obtain is up to their credit and advantage. MHS was evaluated in 1944 and probably will undergo the same system again in three or four years. Superintendent Frank Monroe will leave for El Paso March 21 and will stay there until March 29. Mrs. Lucy Wilkinson, librarian, is going to Radford School for Girls in El Paso, May 1, 2 and 3, to help evaluate its library.

The Merry Mortician

While digging through our files this week we have unearthed with the remains of the March 20, 1949 issue of the Bulldog. The first things we saw were the pictures of the boys and girls division of the Inter-school contest in March, 1949. As a typing teacher and assistant coach, I was very interested in the girls' division. The band played western music. Lynn Manning were alternates. Fernon D. Rutledge had recently joined the MHS teaching staff in March 1949. He is well-known throughout school in March, 1949 as a typing teacher and assistant coach. Mrs. Robertson, now a sophomore, broke his arm at this time last year when he was thrown from the running-board of a car. His timely quote after the accident: "I was acting foolish."

'Dr. I. Q.' Will Give Program March 31

"I have a lady in the center aisle downstairs, Doctor," will be heard when the Midland Service League presents "Dr. I. Q." Dr. Jim McClain of Eastland, in a quiz show in the MHS auditorium March 31 at 8 p.m. Those familiar with the radio program know that "Dr. I. Q." uses the famous quotation as one of his questions. Some MHS students will supply that quotation used by "Dr. I. Q." and will receive a five-dollar cash prize. All interested students are asked to submit a famous quotation containing not over 20 words and include the origin of the quotation. They must be handed into the students' English teachers no later than noon, Wednesday, March 29.

Mrs. Tolbert Announces Selection Of Textbooks For Midland Schools

Mrs. Gladys Tolbert, Director of Instruction in the Midland Public Schools, announced Wednesday the selection of new textbooks for the elementary, junior high and high schools had been completed. "Excursions in Fact and Fancy," "Appreciating Literature," "Roundup of Western Literature," "Getting Acquainted with Agriculture," "Today's Agriculture," "Successful Farming," "Our South, Its Resources and Their Uses," "Young Folks at Home," "Our Share in the Home," and "How You Look and Dress." Eighth grade: "Sunshine and Rain"; First grade: "Through the Years"; Second grade: "Winter Comes and Goes"; Third grade: "The Seasons' Pass"; Fourth grade: "Bob-Merrill Readers Book IV"; "Your People and Mine"; "Gateway to Adventure"; "Wings for Words"; and "Prose and Poetry"—the Sunshine Book. Fifth grade: "Bob-Merrill Readers Book V"; "Short Stories of Famous Women"; "Engle Whistles"; "Stories I Like"; "Looking Forward"; "How and Why Experiments"; and "The American Continent." Sixth grade: "Forward Pleasant Shores"; "Traveling New Trails"; "Adventure"; "History of World Peoples"; "Stories to Remember"; "High Road to Glory"; and "Why and How Discoveries." Seventh grade: "Book of Marvels"; "Echoes of the Southland"; "True Tales of Texas."

Oscar Wilde Play Given In Assembly

"The Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde under direction of Verna Harris, speech teacher, was presented for the student body MHS Thursday morning, second period. This is the play that was entered in the one-act play contest in Lubbock, Saturday, March 18. The name Earnest was the centering point of the play. John Worthing, played by Dols Thompson, and Algernon Moncrieff, played by Jimmy Lock, each took the name of Earnest at seemingly unopportune times during the play. John was in love with Gwendolen, his daughter, played by Betty Wilson, and Algernon loved Cecily Cardew, John Worthing's ward. Gwendolen was played by Agatha Tabor and Cecily by Toya Chapple. Lady Bracknell, played by Betty Wilson, refused John and Gwendolen permission to marry because of John's doubtful origin. Love conquers. Matters were cleared up when Cecily's governess, Miss Prism, denysed by Virginia Burdovov, disclosed that John was the child of Lady Bracknell's sister. Clint Dunagan played the part of the minister, Rev. Canon Chasuble; Robert Stubbeman and James Johnson played butlers to John Worthing and Algernon Moncrieff, respectively.

MHS Students In AA Literary Event

MHS was well represented in the Conference AA Literary Meet held in Lubbock Senior High School Building, Saturday, March 18. Midland students entered ten events. The boy entered in the senior declamation department was Clifford Wilcox, alternated by John Petty. Robert Stubbeman entered the junior division. Nancy McKinley entered the senior girls declamation and Inez Hedges was her alternate. In the junior division was Katherine Carter. The boys' debate team was Clint Dunagan and Lynn Nicholson and alternates were Virginia Burdovov and Dow Scott. Girl debaters were Pat Emmons and Joyce Howell.

Charles S. Crowley Names Football As His Favorite Sport

By JO ANNE BOYKIN Charles Stanley Crowley was a football player this last season so naturally football is his favorite sport. He filled the fullback slot this last season and has one more "wonderful" year of eligibility left. When you saw number 13 running around on the field, if you were on the ball, you knew it was Charles. He is looking forward to next football season, when with more experience, he hopes to be in even better shape than last year.

Lyres' Column

Jerry Hoffman, MHS band director, announced that progress is being made on the contest numbers. The contest numbers for the Band Festival, April 1, are: "Americana We," march; "Safari," overture; "Blue is his preferred hue; subject is general science; food is chocolate. With the election of two new band officers, the number now stands at 12. Earl Chapman is the newly elected sergeant and Kenneth Wright was promoted to lieutenant to fill the vacancy left by Bill Emmons upon his graduation. Officers of the band are Obie Stalcup, Joe Barnett, captains; John Klingler and Kenneth Wright, lieutenants; Earl Chapman, Rusty Fuller, Dow Scott, Nick Harrison and Clint Dunagan, sergeants; Beverly Kelsch, drum major; Martha Schaubauer, uniform sergeant; and Ruth Green, librarian.

Band Contest Plan Discussed In Meet

The overall plan for the band contest was the main topic at a contest Band-Aides meeting held in the band hall Thursday night, March 9. The Band-Aides will have concession stands at Memorial Stadium during contests on April 1, for high school bands, and April 13, for junior high school bands. Twenty-five bands are expected to attend each day of the contest.

Student Council Purchases Plans For Midland High

Finishing touches have begun on Midland High School. It has been landscaped inside and out. The Student Council has purchased plants and planters for Charles Mathew's, Frank Monroe's, and Coach Mashburn's offices. The plants are ferns and ivies and come in rectangular brass planters. A four foot copper planter was secured for the cafeteria by Faye Massey, homemaker teacher. Four blooming red begonias, ferns, ivy, and other greenery are in large, palm tree floor planters have been placed in the auditorium. Clyde Farnely, cooking teacher and Mrs. Massey also brought one of the smaller planters for the cooking room and the sewing room. Several potted plants of ivy have been put in the library by Mrs. Lucy Wilkinson, the librarian. Other MHS teachers have brought flowers and plants for their rooms at school.

Biography Department Obtains Aquarium

Something new has been added. John Blahle's room, 249, now has a balanced aquarium. Instructor Blahle ordered seven types of water plants, four water lilies, four dozen small snails, and four clams for it. Many species of fish have been ordered, and will arrive soon. A balanced aquarium is one in which the plants help the animals by furnishing oxygen, food, and protection to the fish, and in exchange the fish furnish the plants carbon dioxide, nitrogen, and keep the plant growth down.

Do You Get Your Nickel's Worth?

(An Editorial) I saw a boy sell his character today. It is said that character is something for which money would be no consideration. Yet, I saw a boy sell his for a nickel, and I thought of what a "raw deal" he got. I was standing behind the candy counter in the cafeteria, when a boy approached and took a five-cent bar of candy. Obviously thinking that no one had seen him, he turned and walked away. Perhaps he thought he was getting the bar of candy free, but he paid his price—and what a price it was! There is an old saying which proclaims, "Nothing in the world is free," and neither was that candy bar, for he laid down his character on the counter in exchange for it. To sell character for a candy bar is to sell your success for a nickel.—Pampa Exchange.

Future Teacher Learns Lesson From Elementary Class

MHS members of the Future Teachers Club visited in the elementary schools last week and taught classes there. The following is a statement of one of the teachers—Billie Love—as she left her class. "Teaching isn't all it is cut out to be, and you can quote me as saying 'it's rugged.' For one hour I attempted to keep order in the first-grade room at the Latin-American School. It was like an eternity before the regular teacher returned. During this hour I made futile stabs at answering their questions. Have you ever tried to keep pace with a fluent linguist? "Those first-grade students will probably carry to their grave the vision of a poor, confused, baffled high school girl. I will carry to the grave the vision of some cute little lumps that thwarted my every intention in shaking their heads and pretending ignorance of the English language. Teachers Teacher "More practical experience could not be desired if one is interested in teaching as a profession. Not only do you witness the subtle humor in their eyes when they profess ignorance of the language, you also notice how quick their minds are in grasping the fact. If you act as if you had shaken them, puff up a little bit, and they begin showing off. "One little boy refused to do his writing lesson so I made him take his paper and pencil up to the teacher's desk." Halfway there, he burst into tears. What's a person supposed to do? The rest of the teachers in the building probably thought I had been lenient. Honestly, I teach him. Teacher's Problems "All in all, the life of a school teacher must be filled with many moments of indecision. You can't help loving the pupils, but you can't help being annoyed with some of their actions. "The attitude of the students depends on the teacher, because as soon as the regular teacher walked into the room the little boy I was chasing sat down and all the rest became meek as little lambs. Say, maybe I'm just not cut out to be a first-grade teacher."

1950 Catoicos Off To Printers

Dan Dickinson, editor of the Catoicos, MHS yearbook, announced Friday that 1950 Catoicos will be completed and distributed within three weeks before school is out this year. All the copy has been sent in and the annual now is being printed by the Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas. Watches are the only kind of thing he likes. He likes to attend the Youth Center because it is "so much fun and there's always something happening." Charles does not know how to dance or he says he would. Charles doesn't especially like to read, and likes this school instead of the old one because "it's more modern." He made his first appearance on the scene February 13, 1933 in Big Spring, Texas, where he spent his first three years. From there he moved to Midland, where he has lived since. Charles' height is six feet; weight 165 pounds; shoes 8 and 1/2; eyes green; and hair blond.

Homemaking Girls Have Busy Agenda

Many new fresh and Spring-like frocks have come out of the homemaking department as the home economics girls were busy making everything from play clothes to semi-formals in the sewing classes. First-year girls were busy with petticoats and blouses while the advanced pupils in the second and third year classes worked on tailored garments from cotton and rayon to leather tooling. The home-ec display window was trimmed with a special arrangement of hobbies and crafts for the WTMA meeting Friday. On display were copper pictures, shellcraft, glass etchings, and chenille.

Athlete Feats—

The District 3-AA track meet will be held in Odessa on April 1. The district meet previously has been held in Midland annually. MHS trackmen with the best chances of scoring in the district meet are Herb Brooks, John Klingler, Harrie Smith and Leo Hatfield. Brooks is a high jumper and broad jumper. He placed last year in the district meet. Harrie Smith and Leo Hatfield are both hurdlers. Smith placed in district competition last year. John Klingler is our miler and is one of the most promising Midland has ever had.

College Octet In Assembly

Midland High School heard a girls' octet from Mary-Hardin Baylor College in Tuesday's assembly. The octet, presented by Betty Wilson who gave a short introduction, was composed of seven vocalists accompanied by Billie Hendrix. Pieces sung were announced by Anne Upham, a 1948 graduate of MHS. The octet, instructed by Florence Bergendahl, presented a program which included: "Hymn to Beauty," "The Last Night," "Silent Strings," "Let All My Life be Music," "Bells of St. Mary's," "Lullaby" from "Show-Boys," "Enchanted Evening" and "Ballad" from "South Pacific." The encore was "Moon Marketing."

Art Department Paints Play Props

Thanks go this week to the MHS art department and its director, Inez Parker. Last week Miss Parker, with the help of Vi Jean Fuglar, Jerry Wallace, Katherine Carter, and a James Johnson painted the props for the one-act contest play, "The Importance of Being Earnest."

Birthdays In March For 44 MHS Students

Congratulations to those MHS students born in March. This month is noted especially for its windy, restless weather. This restlessness must affect people to some degree because the massacre at the Alamo and Patrick Henry's speech of "Give me liberty or give me death" took place in this month. A well-known saying about this month is "if March comes in like a lion it will go out like a lamb." The heliotrope or bloodstone is the birth stone and the flower of the month is the violet. Students born in March and their birthdays are: Wanda Burnside, Audrey Marie Whiteaker, March 1; Charles Jones, Edith Ann Stephens, March 5; Dow Scott, March 6; A. W. WTMA Holds Meet In Midland Friday

Midland was host Thursday and Friday to the largest convention in its history as more than 2,000 members of the West Texas Association met in Midland High School. The party was opened by a meeting of delegates in the Crystal Ballroom of the Scharbauer Hotel Thursday evening, March 16. W. A. Miller, superintendent of Odessa schools and president of the WTMA, officially opened the general assembly in the MHS auditorium Friday afternoon. The invocation was given by the Rev. Vernon Yearp pastor of the First Baptist Church. Vice President of the WTMA Ross A. Buckner, superintendent of Seagraves schools, presided. The address "This We Know About Children" was given by Dr. James L. Myles, Jr., professor of Education, George Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn. The second general session began Friday evening at 7:30 in the auditorium. "Factors Underlying Emotional Problem of Children" was given by Dr. A. Lester Pierce, director of the Center for Psychological Service in the University of Houston. W. A. Miller, president. The Rev. Howard Hollowell, pastor of the First Methodist Church, gave the invocation. The MHS Glee Club choir began the assembly. Friday morning was devoted to sectional meetings from 10:30 to 12:00 a.m. and from 3:00-4:30 p.m. Jack Mashburn was a chairman of the Student Council section; Louise Boyd, chairman of library section; Louis A. Bohn, chairman of science department; Verna Harris, chairman of speech division; Fannie Reeves, chairman of commercial department. Improved electronic equipment automatically will trap a radio-equipped weather balloon and record its flight path. Since the units also can be operated by remote control, it no longer is necessary for the operator to sit through inclement weather while collecting his data.

Lester Pierce, director of the Center for Psychological Service in the University of Houston. W. A. Miller, president. The Rev. Howard Hollowell, pastor of the First Methodist Church, gave the invocation. The MHS Glee Club choir began the assembly. Friday morning was devoted to sectional meetings from 10:30 to 12:00 a.m. and from 3:00-4:30 p.m. Jack Mashburn was a chairman of the Student Council section; Louise Boyd, chairman of library section; Louis A. Bohn, chairman of science department; Verna Harris, chairman of speech division; Fannie Reeves, chairman of commercial department. Improved electronic equipment automatically will trap a radio-equipped weather balloon and record its flight path. Since the units also can be operated by remote control, it no longer is necessary for the operator to sit through inclement weather while collecting his data.

Youth Center Is Sponsor Of Dance; Membership Drive

A dance was given for the members of the Youth Center from 8 p.m. to 12 midnight Saturday, March 18. The dance was semi-formal and chartered by two members of the Optimist Club and their wives. Music was via the juke-box. Punch and cookies were served to guests. The Youth Center is having a membership drive for the next few weeks and everyone is requested to "pay up."

"Let me see," said Dan Black. "My favorite color is blue. I like fried chicken and sports." When Jackie Ewald was interviewed she said, "My favorite color is blue. My favorite food is fried chicken, and I enjoy sports. The sophomore favorites likes run fairly close.

Art Department Paints Play Props

Thanks go this week to the MHS art department and its director, Inez Parker. Last week Miss Parker, with the help of Vi Jean Fuglar, Jerry Wallace, Katherine Carter, and a James Johnson painted the props for the one-act contest play, "The Importance of Being Earnest."

Birthdays In March For 44 MHS Students

Congratulations to those MHS students born in March. This month is noted especially for its windy, restless weather. This restlessness must affect people to some degree because the massacre at the Alamo and Patrick Henry's speech of "Give me liberty or give me death" took place in this month. A well-known saying about this month is "if March comes in like a lion it will go out like a lamb." The heliotrope or bloodstone is the birth stone and the flower of the month is the violet. Students born in March and their birthdays are: Wanda Burnside, Audrey Marie Whiteaker, March 1; Charles Jones, Edith Ann Stephens, March 5; Dow Scott, March 6; A. W. Booth, March 7; Maria Mejia, March 8; Johnny Adams, March 9; Joe Barnett, Ester Pearl Reeves, March 11; Jane Curd, Edith Scott, Betty Rucker, March 13; Ronald Gene Allison, March 14; Bill Branch, March 15; L. C. Thomas, March 16; Bill Gonzalez, Nellie Parrell, March 18; George Blake, Joyce Galloway, Betty Sue Mastlock, March 20; Robert Noble, Gaylon Hammons, March 21; Gloria Crowe, June Pyle, March 22; James Johnson, Betty Jean Click, Corky Moss, Paty Pyle, March 23; Diana Daugherty, March 24; Fay Montgomery, March 25; Eddie Mae Hs i lin, Bill Medart, March 26; Ania Robertson, March 27; Gerald Adams, George Wayne Galloway, Kermit Lewis, March 28; Jo Ann Nelson, Kenneth Howard, March 29; Roger Fuller, Jeanie Bunt, Faye Anderson, Dols Thompson, March 31.

WTMA Holds Meet In Midland Friday

Midland was host Thursday and Friday to the largest convention in its history as more than 2,000 members of the West Texas Association met in Midland High School. The party was opened by a meeting of delegates in the Crystal Ballroom of the Scharbauer Hotel Thursday evening, March 16. W. A. Miller, superintendent of Odessa schools and president of the WTMA, officially opened the general assembly in the MHS auditorium Friday afternoon. The invocation was given by the Rev. Vernon Yearp pastor of the First Baptist Church. Vice President of the WTMA Ross A. Buckner, superintendent of Seagraves schools, presided. The address "This We Know About Children" was given by Dr. James L. Myles, Jr., professor of Education, George Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn. The second general session began Friday evening at 7:30 in the auditorium. "Factors Underlying Emotional Problem of Children" was given by Dr. A. Lester Pierce, director of the Center for Psychological Service in the University of Houston. W. A. Miller, president. The Rev. Howard Hollowell, pastor of the First Methodist Church, gave the invocation. The MHS Glee Club choir began the assembly. Art Exhibit And Work Session Are In Plans Of Week

Two announcements of interest to artists and art lovers of Midland were made Saturday by Mrs. R. L. Clarke, chairman of the Contemporary Painting Group of the Midland Palette Club Center and the American Association of University Women.

One concerns an exhibit which will be shown to schools, clubs and other groups this week, and the other a meeting Monday night for work in various art mediums.

The meeting will be held in the Palette Club Studio, beginning at 7:30. It is one of the weekly sessions of the Contemporary Painting Group and the Ceramics Group, and it is open to all persons who wish to work in any medium. Mrs. Bryan Denson and Mrs. Clarke plan to start a project in silk-screen printing, to make Easter cards.

Mrs. Leonard Swords and Mrs. R. S. Bogardus will continue work on portraits, with Ann Bell as a model, and invite others to join. Others in the group will paint from a still life arrangement. Three new tables and some attractive drapery have been added at the studio recently to stimulate interest in the still life arrangements.

Exhibit Available
Mrs. Addison Young is one of the workers in ceramics, and has been using a life drawing model to achieve resemblance, as well as structure, in clay figures.

The exhibit which is in Midland now is one compiled by the Creative Arts Department of the Alabama Division, AAUW, and is titled "What Makes Art?" It is being shown now at the Tiny Tot Progressive Art School and is available to other groups in Midland.

This traveling exhibit comprises a leaflet and illustrations which call attention to factors which must be considered in producing a work of art.

Midland Student In Dance Concert

Marilyn Hill of Midland and Elsey Faulk, Jr., of Crowley, La., perform in the annual Orchestral modern dance concert, March 10-11, in the Little Theater on the University of Colorado campus at Boulder. The dancers' program included original numbers ranging from a light satire on soap operas and cow comedies to an interpretation of Yeats' one-act verse play "King of the Great Clock Tower." Miss Hill is a freshman pre-business student.

Junior High School Dramatics Club Begins Work On Last Play Of Year

The Junior High School Dramatic Club has begun working on the last production of the year, a three-act play, and on an assembly program for April 25. The date for the play has not been set.

Seventh and eighth grade students will present this play. Joyce Jenkins is the sponsor of the club. Members of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades are included in the organization. Provided with the drill period only for practice, the members of the club spend much time outside of school working on the dramatic productions.

Two assembly programs which have been presented this year are "Old Maid Specialties," a one-act play, and a Valentine Day program of skits. On December 1 the sixth grade members presented "Murder in the Family," the seventh grade, "The Pot Boiling," and the eighth grade, "Comin' Around the Mountain," all one-act plays. "Well, I Swear," a minstrel show, was presented by the sixth grade members and chorus last Tuesday.

Members Listed
Members of the club include Nancy Breedlove, Larry Ann Burnside, Diane Darden, Jayman Edwards, H. C. Feemster, Joy Faye Glending, Patsy Guyton, Vickie Hillpold, Frances Hefren, Gerry Lynn Hughes, Kay Little, Margie McNeese, Bobbie Ann Majors.

Hegyí Has Earned Reputation As Solo Violinist In Texas

A young Texas musician, born and educated in New York and now a member of one of the fine symphony orchestras based by this state, Julius Hegyí will be presented in concert by the Midland Civic Music Club on March 27 in the new high school auditorium.

Hegyí, concert master of the San Antonio Symphony, will play a program of violin solos under the club's sponsorship. The Civic Music Club makes an annual custom of bringing a guest artist for a public concert in Midland and chooses Texans by preference.

Since he came to San Antonio at the start of last season, Hegyí has been praised by music critics of the state for his solo performances as well as his work with the orchestra. After a recent concert when he played solo variations in the orchestra's first premiere of the suite from Gretchaninoff's opera, "Dobrinia Nikitich," a San Antonio newspaper critic referred to the "glowing performance" and added: "It will be interesting to follow the career of this extremely gifted young artist—he is going places."

Hegyí has been presented several times as soloist on a symphony program, a distinction he has shared with such nationally famous musicians as Rise Stevens, Artur Schnabel and Mischa Elman, who appeared last season with the San Antonio orchestra. Max Reiter is director of the orchestra.

Neat Wardrobe Requires Space

NEA Staff Writer
Clothes which are crushed into a closet helter-skelter are certain to look it. It's impossible to extract a chic wardrobe from a messy closet.

In order to keep your closet both neat and efficient, analyze your wardrobe and its needs. You should, of course, plan your closet to take care of the clothing you use most often. Unless your closet is very large, one simple method is to separate all articles which are seldom used and keep them together. Place ski suits and evening dresses in neat zipper bags; heavy footwear and riding boots in boxes; sweaters and woolen blouses in cabinets or boxes. This frees space you need for the things you use daily.

This seasonal sorting produces another beneficial result; it gives you a chance to eliminate all those things which are not useful to you. You may be surprised at the number of space-wasters you've been harboring.

Make use of vertical space in your closet—along the walls where there are no garments, at the top, and inside the door. Utilize this space. Wall space can be used for stacking shoe boxes, thus keeping shoes dust-free. The top shelf can take boxes for over-season storage.

Don't waste that door space. Equip it with a man's tie rack and use it for belts and scarves. Firm hooks, placed somewhat lower, can take handbags. And the lower third of the closet door will accommodate a wide-mouthed laundry bag suspended from two hooks.

Paris Puts On The Dog

Paris' fashion center is all-a-dither over the showing of its new Spring collection of 1950. Don't be surprised if some of the enthusiasts bubbles over into Mom's own wardrobe. Any evening, for example, you might come home and find her lounging in the impish Dalmatian-hound print costume above. The spotted slacks, topped by a black wool jersey blouse and an orange crepe scarf, were put together by designer Balmain. Or maybe she'll be ready to roam in Christian Dior's onyx-tinted taffeta afternoon dress, below left. Its enormous cowl-collar of starched white handkerchief linen has a black chiffon tie. The dress is finished with a full gathered skirt and long, narrow sleeves. Maybe she'll be cute as a cupcake in Jean Patou's pleated georgette blouse, below, right. This one's done in a cool lime green, gathered into a fluttering ruff at the throat and held in place by a navy grosgrain tie.

Spring Shoes Feature Pastel Tints

skirt, flat-heeled linen shoes (lower left) have an open vamp framed by soft shirring. Soft cinnamon suede walking shoes (top right) shown with cinnamon-checked wool skirt owe their airy look to wide straps which cross the instep and provide good support for feet. Strips of yellow, pink and blue patent leather are braided to make the wedge-heeled sandals (lower right). These sandals are modeled with a pastel sheer afternoon dress.

NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK—The airy new shoes blossoming out in a garden of colors put Spring in your step. With the extensive range of bold new colors, neutral tones and pastel tints to choose from, footwear can be matched with "custom-made" precision to suits and dresses. Pastel patent leathers in bon bon shades of yellow, blue and mauve to team with Spring sheers make news. So does blonde kidskin which is keyed to neutral-toned costumes. Multi-colored or two-toned stripings on sandals pick up predominant colors of Spring prints. Soft lightweight suedes keep company with muted wools. Linen shoes in color, white, black or natural ensemble with matching linen togs. Aiding the light, bright look of shoes are the airy designs. Pencil fine stripings which attach to the sole and wind up to the ankle give dressy footwear its fragile look. Staging a comeback by popular demand, sling-back pumps for street

weather. This is accomplished by the use of wide straps criss-crossing the instep and by opened-up vamps framed by soft shirring.

Mid-Winter Slump

NEA Staff Writer

The best postholiday beauty insurance is plenty of sleep—sleep to erase the damage done by late hours, rich food and general indulgence. Sleep is also a reliable way to thwart colds which prey on lowered resistance.

While no one wants to do away with holiday fun, it's only sensible to resume the regular routine as soon as possible. It's easy to slip into the late hour habit unconsciously.

To prevent the midwinter slump, with its accompanying ills, begin now to get an extra hour's sleep every night. This is the best time, too, to check your food habits. Logic will tell you that if you continue your rich holiday fare, extra pounds will appear. Quite possibly you don't really need to diet, but still this is the best time to cut calory-rich desserts, cream sauces, candy and between-meal snacks from your daily food intake.

This is the right time, too, to check up on your daily beauty routine. Perhaps during the holidays, while you were pressed for time, you neglected your hair and your skin, didn't take your exercises and let your wardrobe take care of itself. Start today to reinstate the hairbrushing, face-creaming habits. Get back in stride with your exercises and go through your closet for clothes with spots, wrinkles, rips and cigaret burns—all the residue of a happy holiday.

Andrews News

ANDREWS—Andrews County Red Cross collections exceeded the quota by approximately $200. Dr. Z. W. Hutcheson, Jr., chairman of the drive, has announced. Several field workers in the various oil camps yet have not handed in their contributions.

Elders and deacons of the First Christian Church recently were ordained at a special service. The Rev. Ray Protzman of Midland, pastoring the Andrews church, had charge of the services.

Elders ordained included W. D. Day, Otis Mock, Ronald Vaughn, and Glenn Dyer. New deacons are Clyde Broam, Glenn Crow, Roland Tilly, Paul Gooch and Mrs. Coom. Jim D'Acosta of Mexico City, now a student at Texas Technological College, was guest speaker at the Means Memorial Methodist Church in Andrews recently. He reviewed Wm. W. Wynn's book, "We The People of the Ecumenical Church," for members of the Wesleyan Service Guild and their guests.

Guest At Supper
Preceding D'Acosta's presentation of the book, he was guest of honor at a buffet supper at the church with Guild members and their families attending. In an afternoon session, he discussed the subject, "World Understanding," before an assembly of junior and senior high school students in the Andrews High School Auditorium.

M. O. Woolam, county Savings Bond chairman, has received a sales report from the state chairman, Nathan Adams of Dallas, reporting that the citizens of Andrews County invested $491.82 in United States Savings Bonds during 1949. Sales in 1948 totaled $4,398.75.

Admitting Alaska To Union Would Demote Texas To Second Place

By TEX EASLEY
 WASHINGTON—(AP)—Admission of Alaska to the Union, as provided in a bill passed by the House, would demote Texas to second place in size among the states. This fact, according to Capitol Hill jesters, accounted for opposition of most Texans to the measure.

Be that as it may, both the Alaska and Hawaii statehood bills got through the House over the protests of a majority of the congressmen from Texas and the South. Their position was that the government could more speedily and effectively defend these areas if they remained under direct federal control.

A trio of Texas House members, Reps. Lindley Beekworth of Gladewater, J. M. Combs of Beaumont and Clark Thompson of Galveston, voted for both bills. Rep. Bob Poage of Waco voted for the Hawaiian bill, but against Alaska. Rep. Wright Patton voted for Alaska but against Hawaii. Rep. Lloyd Bentsen of McAllen voted for Hawaii, but was absent when the Alaska bill came up.

The Lone Star flag of Texas, probably the best known among all the state banners, will have a rival if Alaska becomes a state. The Alaska flag is composed of eight stars on a field of blue—seven stars forming the Great Dipper and one representing the North Star.

The possibility of a 49th and 50th state has started a lot of guessing as to how the new flag of the United States would be made up. As of this moment, your guess is as good as anyone's.

Up To Commission
 The final determination would be made by a five-member commission named by the President. When the last two states came into the Union—New Mexico and Arizona, in 1912—the matter was decided jointly by the secretaries of war and navy.

If only one of the two territories is admitted it would be easy to arrange the stars in seven vertical and seven horizontal rows. Arranging 50 would be more difficult, unless you came up with a long rectangle.

Throughout the history of the country the appearance of Old Glory was changed many times. The law now provides only that it shall have 13 stripes and a star for each state. In some periods they have been arranged in a circle.

Don't worry about your present flag being outmoded for some time. Once legislation admitting a state has finally become law it usually takes a year or so for a local government to be set up and the territory actually taken into the Union.

The Defense Department invited executives of large industrial plants which would fill military orders in event of a conflict to witness war games in the Caribbean Sea.

Bryan Hendershot, formerly of Beaumont and Sherman, was with the group invited to see Operation Caribbe.

He went as a representative of a large Texan blind company which has its California plant ready to turn out millions of ammunition boxes on short notice.

An unusual tribute to Rep. Olin Rankin.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
 Drew Pearson says: Revolutionary War hero at long last will be immortalized; "Wild Bill" Langer surprises senators; Soviet fantasy on life in the United States.

WASHINGTON—A forgotten hero of the Revolutionary War, an unimpeachable money lender, soon will be immortalized not far from Washington, Lincoln and Jefferson. He was Haym Solomon, the little Jewish patriot who raised the money to fight the revolution but died penniless without ever receiving a dime back from the government which he financed.

Now, after all these years, a memorial is about to be erected in Solomon's honor. This was authorized by Congress 12 years ago upon a motion by Guy Gillette, then Congressman but now senator from Iowa.

It was left up to private citizens, however, to raise the subscriptions, so the project lay dormant until this year. Now a Haym Solomon Memorial Society has been formed to raise the money, and the chief thing remaining to have the Commission of Fine Arts approve a design.

Note—At one time George Washington pulled Solomon out of a synagogue to scrape up the cash to meet the Army payroll. Solomon also paid Jefferson's and Madison's board bills so they could attend the first Continental Congress. Senator Orrampage Stormest, figure on Capitol Hill for North Dakota's fearless Senator "Wild Bill" Langer who roars at the Senate like an enraged bull moose, is not afraid of the political odds and kicks his heels at Senate tradition.

No one can predict what Langer will do next, but the Democrats still are burned up over his latest surprise. Out of the clear blue, Langer recessed the Senate the other day right in the middle of its proceedings.

Since the Democrats are steering the Senate, it is majority leader Scott Lucas of Illinois who is supposed to set the quitting time—

Big Send Off To Boys Ranch

Several Midland Optimist Club members give Donald Sanders, 13, a big send-off as he departs for Boys Ranch near San Angelo. The youth is the son of a disabled war veteran and is being sponsored at the camp by the Midland club. Donald will attend school in San Angelo but will reside at the camp, sharing in its duties as well as opportunities. In the picture, left to right, are Mitchell Goran of the San Angelo Optimist Club, Raymond Jenkins and V. H. (Pete) VanHorn, Midland Optimists; Sanders, Cliff Torgeson and Arlo Forrest, Midland Optimists, and Fred Becker of San Angelo, lieutenant governor of Optimist District No. 7.

some newspaperman in the hall, without some other senator taking advantage of his absence. "I know from previous experience," continued Lucas, "that the senator from North Dakota frequently conceals himself in a parliamentary bush, and at the proper time strikes out with the sharp edge of the wedge . . . (but) I do not want to be ambushed any more by my friend from North Dakota." Fantastic Soviet Radio

The American Embassy staff listening to the radio in Moscow hears a fantastic story about what goes on in the U. S. A. The radio report gives a version of life in the United States which the Kremlin hopes the Russian people will believe. Here are a few samples:

"In American towns, one man in seven is starving, and three-quarters of the population do not make a minimum income and cannot make ends meet. The position of the unemployed is most ghastly . . . Millions of American farmers are leading an impoverished life, wandering about on the roads of the United States . . . The unemployed U. S. masses are turning to Soviet Russia . . . Tens of millions of American people live in terrible slums . . . Only the rich can afford proper medical care in the United States . . . Enormous unemployment is misery and the specter of hunger compel thousands of Americans to travel up and down the country all the time to find occasionally some menial work."

This is an accurate sample of Soviet broadcasting as picked up by American intercepts. Inside story behind this fantasy is that the Kremlin desperately is trying to take the minds of the Russian people off their own living conditions and create distrust of the fabulous United States.

Even with the Soviet's new price cuts, the Russian worker must labor 117 hours before he can buy a pair of shoes that would cost $5, the price of living and creating distrust of the fabulous United States. Low-grade stewing beef that costs 19 cents a pound in an American chain store goes for $5 a pound in the Soviet—above the reach of the low and middle classes.

Other price comparisons are: A man's suit that sells for $27 in the U. S. costs $277.25 in the Soviet; a woman's dress, $8.95 here and $111 there; a table radio $38.95 here and $273 there; a pair of men's shoes, $5 here and $87.50 there; and a wrist watch, $30 here and $100 there.

Ironically, in this Soviet "workers' Utopia," a loaf of black bread, the staple of life, still costs 2 1/2 times what it did in 1949. Though luxury items like caviar and good vodka have dropped to prewar price levels.

Handsome Congressman
 It's not news that silver-haired Rep. Mendel Rivers of South Carolina is a handsome man. Everyone concedes it. But it is news when the congressman concedes it himself and also when he reveals that he has a new beauty treatment.

During a speech lauding the repeal of the federal tax on oleomargarine, Rivers recently announced: "The American people bought a billion pounds of margarine last year and was one of them. I buy it every week, at least two pounds, and I look like a million dollars and you know it. I do not look a day over 21."

The vocal, 44-year-old legislator smiled as he continued in this self-deprecating vein.

"The American housewives had been paying tribute on their margarine for 62 years—and then old Rivers came along, with the other people who saw the light."

"This is the day for the American housewife and Rivers is right on their side."

Note—Before the South Carolinian had finished his self-eulogy, some housewives in the gallery were almost humming "Rivers, stay away from my door."

Honors Bestowed On 159 Persons For Heroic Deeds

By NEA Service
 WASHINGTON — One day last Summer, 12-year-old Gwen Angley, of Rigby, Idaho, heard excited cries from the bank of a nearby canal. A neighbor's youngster, two-year-old Dickie Bryce, had fallen into the water and was being carried downstream.

Gwen jumped into the canal, swam out to the boy and brought him to shore. That's not all that he wasn't breathing, she applied artificial respiration and succeeded in reviving the child. She was credited with having his life.

For her quick action and skillful use of swimming and first aid techniques, Gwen was one of 159 persons who received American Red Cross certificates of merit in 1949. The award, limited to those who have successfully completed a Red Cross course in first aid, swimming or life saving, is given in saving or attempting to save a life.

Arrives On Scene
 A few weeks later and a thousand miles away, Richard A. Sedin, a public utilities employe in St. Paul, Minn., arrived on the scene shortly after five men had been hit by an automobile while waiting to board a street car.

Sedin noticed that one victim was unconscious and bleeding profusely from a face cut. He applied pressure to stop the bleeding and maintained it until a police ambulance arrived. Doctors said his action saved the victim's life.

In Tuscaloosa, Ala., high school student Bobbie Jack Bradberry applied artificial respiration to an electrocuted baby for 30 minutes before the child began to breathe. The year-old youngster had touched a live wire and apparently was dead when Bobbie Jack began his first aid treatment. He and Sedin also received Red Cross awards.

Instituted in 1928, the awards are designed to recognize outstanding instances of prompt and skillful use of knowledge gained in Red Cross first aid or water safety courses. The life-saving act must be conclusively proved before the award is given.

Recognition has also been given for knowing what not to do in an emergency.

In a freak accident near Pasco, Wash., an 11-year-old boy was impaled on the hood ornament of an automobile. Some eight inches of steel was buried deep in his abdomen. When Bruce Lee, an emergency ambulance attendant, arrived at the scene he noted that there was little bleeding and realized that serious injury might result if the youngster was moved.

For an hour and a half, while doctors were being located and brought to the scene, Lee resisted the pressure of an angry crowd of spectators demanding that he move the boy. When the doctors arrived, his judgment in not doing so was vindicated. The youngster and a portion of the car were taken to a hospital and the ornament removed by surgery. Lee was given full credit for minimizing the injury and possibly saving the boy's life.

Good Cross Section
 The 1949 group of award winners is a good cross-section of America. Included are housewives, industrial workers, farmers, students, members of the armed forces and law enforcement officers. One certificate recipient is a brigadier general; another, an Army corporal. A father was recognized for saving his son. A storekeeper saved a boy who was choking on a candy jawbreaker.

And a national forest foreman received the award for saving his own life. His prompt application of pressure to a severed facial artery saved him from bleeding to death during a 45-minute trip to a doctor's office.

In all last year, 138 men or boys and 21 women or girls were honored by the Red Cross for their life-saving efforts. They came from 26 states, Hawaii and the District of Columbia.

Rankin B&PW Club Contributes To Fund

RANKIN—A contribution to the Minnie L. Maffett Fund, which the Business and Professional Women's Clubs of Texas maintains to aid the higher education of women doctors, was voted by the Rankin club at its luncheon Thursday.

Members voted to endorse Frances Carter of Midland for nomination as first vice president of the state organization at the state convention in Austin May 20-22. Mrs. Carter is the present third vice president.

Margaret Wheeler was in charge of luncheon arrangements and decorated the table in St. Patrick's Day colors.

Other members present were Leah Johnson, Myrna Holman, Lelia Workman, Minnie Hill, Clara Hill, Neva Rae Taylor, Elizabeth Rains, Edna Maye Patton, Naomi Midkiff and Gertrude Rhorick.

One of the latest farm devices is a crop dryer. Using combined fan, motor, control, and a heat source, such as an oil burner, it can dry ear corn, small grains, peanuts, cotton seed, hay, and other forages.

Rankin Pupils Given Awards For Posters

RANKIN—School children of Rankin entered 71 posters in a Book Week contest sponsored by the Rankin Study Club. The posters were judged Thursday and displayed in the high school building all week.

First place for high school students went to Marjorie White and second to Aaron Longnecker. For students from fourth to eighth grades, John Capps won first place; Barbara Cowling, second, and honorable mention went to Sharon Fairweather and Sybil Patton.

Darlene Workman placed first in the first-to-third grade group. Curtis Pulley was second; Ronald Orrie, Samuel Little and Priscilla Walker received honorable mention. Judges were Myrna Holman, Mrs. James F. Lane and Mrs. Ted W. Hogan.

Announcement

Policyholders of the United Bankers Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Dallas voted to convert from a mutual to a capital stock old line legal reserve life insurance company at their annual meeting on March 14. The Conversion Plan is a part of a general long range program to give Texas another strong and representative life insurance company.

Under the Conversion Plan holders of policies in the Mutual Company have options on the basis of insurance held to purchase stock of the new company. These options are at $20 per share and may be exercised within 30 days after date of conversion which will not be earlier than April 30, 1950 and not later than June 30, 1950.

Stock purchase options for policyholders were provided in the company's Charter in the event of conversion to a stock company.

This Gourmet Eats Gold Leaf For Dessert; He'd Even Eat Nails If Cooked Properly

NEW YORK.—(NEA)—To Louis von Cseh, a kitchen is a laboratory, a recipe is a challenge and a good meal is the ultimate pleasure to which man can be exposed.

But his idea of what constitutes a good meal is a bit off the beaten gourmet. As an electrical engineer and industrialist, with wide interests in India, he's done a lot of traveling.

But on trips to New York, he has had to suffer through expensive meals in fashionable restaurants. He ate. He did not enjoy. So he Cseh's own recipe for chicken curry, based on Indian recipes but tempered with his own global cookery. Rice is the base. Then comes something called dahl, which is made of lentils, butter, flour, salt and mushrooms, chutney, fried bananas and shredded coconut. And curry, of course.

"The way I make it," he said, "there's not one single American man who wouldn't love it."

Served with the chicken curry, in von Cseh's ideal meal, would be Indian orange fritters, shaped to look like roses and filled with vanilla custard.

In Gold Leaf
Dessert, equally exotic, would be Indian-style halvah wrapped in gold leaf. Halvah is a confection made of crushed sesame seeds and coconut. The gold leaf should be eaten, too. "It's good for the digestion," says von Cseh.

Von Cseh loves the kitchen. He makes his own breakfast, preferring buttermilk pancakes and crepes suzette.

Von Cseh has sampled such delicacies as camels' heels, nightingale tongues, ostrich brains, and spiders in jelly.

"Actually," he says, "there's nothing I wouldn't eat. I'd even eat horseshoe nails, if they were prepared right."

He doesn't encourage his American friends in culinary attempts even with nails.

"American women just don't like to cook," he says.

Chef Von Cseh: He keeps his wife out of the kitchen.

opened his own restaurant. Now he has a place to eat here that pleases his particular, peculiar palate.

From now on, von Cseh won't have to eat flat-tasting things, like he was chewing with obvious distaste at one of New York's finest—so the ads say—eating places.

"Thisham," said the Hungarian-born von Cseh. "It's tasteless, absolutely tasteless. And this saurkraut—it's just water, that's all. Nothing to it."

"Looks good," he said, "but isn't Oustard is too—too slippery. And the dough is crumbly. Could I have another glass of water, please?"

Is Changed Man
But as soon as he starts talking about his own ideas of what constitutes a proper gastronomical orgy, he's a changed man. To von Cseh (pronounced von cheh) a decent little meal would be something like this:

He'd start off with kocsonya, a Hungarian appetizer made of jellyed pork. The pig's ears, tail, feet, skin and cheeks are jellyed for kocsonya. Next, a nice big bowl of vichyssoise, a French potato soup, served cold.

For a fish course, von Cseh prefers pomphord, from the Arabian Sea. "It melts in your mouth," he says, "and it has no fishy smell."

Properly prepared pomphord must be deep fried in coconut oil.

Midget Mummy Up For Exams

Ivan P. Goodman, Casper, Wyo., auto dealer, holds the 14-inch figure which he believes to be the mummy of a miniature prehistoric man. The "mummy" was found by a group of GOC workers in 1934 in a formation of solid granite inside a sealed cave. Goodman bought the figure from a man who believed it brought bad luck. Scientists are studying the piece to determine whether it actually was the body of a man.

Last Ration Coupon Is Gone For French; So Is Appetite

PARIS.—(NEA)—The coffee coupon has at last disappeared from the French scheme of life, wiping out the final trace of 10 years of food dictatorship.

The passing of a decade of rationing was scarcely noticed by the average Frenchman. The monthly four-ounce allotment of coffee per person was so inadequate that only the "economically feeble" bothered with it in the last year of rationing, when coffee was abundant on the Black Market.

Nevertheless, the 10 years brought about a radical change in living for the French. Moralists consider rationing impaired the integrity of even the most honest citizen, and they wonder how long it will take Frenchmen to forget the intrigue, fraud, doubtful exchanges and general trickery which rationing imposed on the most straight-faced citizen if he wanted sufficient food, clothing and fuel.

Without Coupons
The moralists go so far as to trace much of the present social agitation in France back to the days when less-favored citizens overheard their luckier compatriots exchanging addresses where butter, meat, cheese and eggs could be bought without coupons.

Most people in France have forgotten what rationing meant in the dark days of occupation and for two years after. Two ounces of meat weekly, potato coupons, the monthly egg, the long hours spent standing in line outside food stores and the futile visits to Black Market back-shops seem a long way off. Today, food stores are spilling over with goods of all kinds available to anyone who can pay the high prices.

For 10 years, dining out like this was a rare event for the average Frenchman. Now that rationing is over and there's plenty of food, he's lost his capacity.

The salient fact is that Frenchmen eat and drink less than they did in pre-war days, simply because they have lost the habit. More bread, for example, used to be consumed per person in France than in any other European country. Now the French eat 20 per cent less bread.

This also applies to wine. Obligated to do without it, which was practically what the monthly ration of two quarts represented to the average Frenchman, they have not regained their erstwhile drinking capacity. Cost is another factor.

J. Workman Wins Rankin Essay Prize

RANKIN — An essay written by Jimmy Workman, Rankin High School senior, on the subject, "Why I Plan to Continue My Education at University or College," was judged the winner in a contest sponsored by the Rankin Study Club. Papers were judged Tuesday.

Workman's essay will be sent to Odessa for entry in a district contest under the supervision of Mrs. J. T. Long of that city, chairman of higher education in the Eighth District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. The district winner will be entered in a state contest, in which a prize is offered by Mrs. L. G. Byerley of Midland, state chairman of higher education in the federation.

The McMurry College Band Scheduled Here

The McMurry College Indian band from Abilene will present a concert of sacred music at the First Methodist Church in Midland March 26 at the morning service. The McMurry group, under the direction of Raymond T. Bynum, will be in Midland as part of a six-day Spring tour of the Northwest Texas area. The 50-member band will come here from Big Spring, where it is scheduled March 25. Audie Merrell of Midland is a member of the band and is scheduled in mixed quartet to sing a special. The Sunday morning program will be broadcast over radio station KCRA. The band also is scheduled to appear in Big Spring, Andrews, Kermit, Seminole, Brownfield, Levelland, Hereford and other West Texas cities. Both vocal and instrumental music is included on the program to be presented here. The McMurry band was reorganized in 1948 and has distinguished itself in religious and musical circles.

Check Your Clothes With Clothes Chart

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

The teen-ager who has difficulty in achieving and keeping a coordinated wardrobe might borrow a trick from the clothes chart which is made for any fashion show.

No fashion show could run smoothly unless a chart were made in advance to show the models clearly which hat, bag, gloves and shoes were to be worn with which costume. The chart eliminates confusion and saves time. A similar chart will do as much for any teen-age wardrobe.

The chart should have these four basic divisions: daytime clothes, sports clothes, date clothes, and accessories. Under each division, list the type (suit, skirt, jacket), the color, and the accessories for each complete outfit. Then, under accessories, list all shoes, gloves, belts, blouses, sweaters, Spring flowers or scarves, hats, and handbag.

When the chart is completely filled in, have a look at it. It will tell you a story which may surprise you. If you're the rare teen-ager, it will show a cleverly coordinated wardrobe, with no waste and no clothes or accessories which do not dovetail. If you're average, it will tell you that you have closet pruning to do, and it will also show you exactly where to do it.

With such a chart, you have a permanent guide to clever buying and one which will show you how to be well dressed from now on.

Railroads Take The Word 'Express' Seriously In Fast Freight Trains Aimed At Truck, Plane Competition

The New York Central's "Facemaker" freight highballs along passenger tracks at speeds as high as 65 miles per hour—and soon will be geared to hit 75.

NEW YORK (NEA)—Beset by damaging competition for freight from trucks and even airplanes, the nation's railroads are fighting back. For years they watched their trucking competitors slash steadily into their business. They suffered particularly on 350 to 500-mile shipments that trucks could handle on overnight hauls.

After the war, many of the rail lines decided to try to recapture at least part of this lost traffic. They surveyed shippers to find out what they wanted. And they learned that dependable, scheduled express freight service was the answer. The shippers' accent was on dependability—not speed.

In their bid to retrieve overnight shipments lost to highway trucks, railroads pick up "less-than-carload" merchandise at shippers' doors, deliver it right to the waiting box cars.

Several times a week Pacemaker freights depart in the evening from New York and Boston, with Buffalo their destination. In Buffalo, comparable trains leave for the two seaboard terminals.

The Central's lines from New York to Buffalo feature four tracks—two for freight and two for passenger trains. The 50-car Pacemakers highball over the passenger right-of-way at an average running speed of 42 miles an hour in their overnight hauls. By comparison, the line's sleek streamliner, the Empire State Express, averages 53 miles an hour over the same distance.

Going westward, a Pacemaker freight out of New York reaches Buffalo around seven the next morning. Solid trains of Pacemaker cars go no further. But individual cars are hooked onto other trains and hauled on into Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan for second morning delivery. And there is a third morning service to a few more distant spots.

This means a department store in Columbus, Ohio, can buy goods in New York on a Thursday, get delivery in Columbus Saturday morning and display the merchandise for sale the following Monday. Many retailers are said to be doing just that sort of thing.

The railroads discovered it wasn't enough simply to assure dependable schedules from city to city. Shippers want reliable door-to-door service. So the New York Central and many others stress truck pickups of goods, with rail shipment the same day if the freight gets to the loading terminal by four in the afternoon. At the other end, truck delivery on a prompt schedule is also assured.

These trains, the Super Chiefs and 20th Century Limiteds of the freight division, carry a wide range of traffic. But some are giving special attention to the generally light weight merchandise freight—called less-than-carload or LCL. Last year this business accounted for just 12.7 per cent of all loaded cars, and yet the lines want to grab as much of such traffic as they can. It's the cream of the trade.

A good example of how the railroads are battling to make their new headway in this field is the New York Central's three-year-old Pacemaker Freight Service.

The Central has a pool of 1,000 specially-built Pacemaker freight cars capable of rolling 75 miles an hour. Right now the scheduled express freights are being pulled by diesel locomotives that don't go more than 65, but soon they will be geared to hit the higher limit.

Good Planning Of House Cuts Cleaning Tasks

Modern homes still need dusting and cleaning, but thanks to today's builders and decorators, not as much as 30 per cent says. The Council of America report on home construction and furnishing. The report lists nine effective means of dust and dirt control:

- (1) A short entrance hall, serving as a buffer between the outdoors and the interior of the house, greatly reduces the amount of dirt brought into living areas.
- (2) A bathroom or lavatory on the first floor saves children's tracking through the house and upstairs. Finishing the walls and floor of the bath with clay tile makes it waterproof and easily cleaned.
- (3) Good insulation reduces dust intrusion and so cuts down cleaning chores.
- (4) Light woods suggested.
- (5) Windowsills can be made easily cleaned and waterproof by finishing them with clay tile.
- (6) Furniture of simple design with plain surfaces and rounded corners is easy to dust and keeps polishing to a minimum. Light woods are easier to care for than dark.
- (7) Light colors do not show dirt as quickly as very dark ones, and are therefore preferable for rugs and fabrics. Terra cotta, taupes, grays and sand shades are on this account good colors.
- (8) Gloss or semi-gloss paints collect less dust and thus make thorough housecleaning easier.
- (9) Porches finished with a waterproof material such as clay tile can be washed down with a hose.
- (10) A ventilating fan in the kitchen not only removes cooking odors but also dust which otherwise would accumulate on walls.

Season To Repair And Remodel Home Is Here

With materials in good supply at lower prices, better-trained labor and more money available than for many years, home repair and remodeling will reach a high level this Spring, according to the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information.

Inexpensive seasonal improvements which many home-owners can carry out themselves include interior and exterior painting, for which mild, dry weather is ideal; removal and storage of storm-bath and doors; cleaning, repair and installation of window and door screens; building terrace, porch or breezeway; laying or repairing brick, cement or flagstone walks and driveways; adding storage shelves, kitchen cabinets and other built-ins; addition of new steps.

Improvements and check-ups for which the average homeowner requires skilled worker's services include masonry, plastering and roofing; addition of extra bath or lavatory; insulation of walls and roof; removal of partitions to create larger rooms; check-up of electrical wiring; conditioning of heating and plumbing systems; conversion of attic space into living area.

From a comfort and economy standpoint, insulation ranks among the most important of home improvements. Any home can be insulated quickly and without disrupting the normal family routine, by blowing hollow walls full of mineral wool. Batts or blankets of this naturally fireproof material are applied in places where there is room for a man to work such as in an unfinished attic.

Spring improvements and repairs will add to the value of the house, and provide more gracious, comfortable year-round living. Lack of capital need not deter such improvement plans, the Bureau points out. Usually, whether the job is large or small, it can be financed at low interest rates by an FHA-insured home modernization loan. Such a loan is obtainable through most building contractors and banks and is repaid in small monthly sums over a three-year period.

Last year, FHA made property improvement loans amounting to $607,000,000; involving about 1,250,000 individual loans made by private lenders to repair and improve properties.

Build Safety Into New Farm Buildings

COLLEGE STATION—Thousands of new farm homes have been built in Texas during the last few years and several farms as many have been remodeled and plans were needed for all. If you are planning on building a new house or remodeling the old one, you'll want to give serious consideration to your plans to building safety into the structure, says W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer, buildings of Texas A&M College.

Allen points to the number of accidents in the home and around the farmstead as his main reason for checking the plans for safety features. The addition of handrails to the stairways, and this applies to basement and cellar stairways as well as the barn, could prevent many falls. A handgrip placed on the wall over the bath tub is good insurance against a fall—for the tub is always wet and slippery and potentially dangerous. Light fixtures.

He says the use of non-metallic light fixtures should be considered and that light switches in the bathroom should be placed beyond the reach of a person at the wash basin or in the tub. You need a medicine cabinet in the bathroom and it is a good idea to put one in that can be locked, especially when there are small children in the home.

Your plans should include good lighting for every room as well as around the farmstead. Be sure that you have planned for plenty of electrical outlets throughout the entire house—it is much cheaper and easier to install them during construction than a later. Injuries from shock and fire hazards, can be minimized by proper installation of electrical equipment that is kept in good repair.

Very few homes have ever provided to much storage space, says Allen, but in many the lack of storage or closet space contributes to over-crowded closets, stairways and cluttered-up rooms and these create many accident hazards.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And The Stone Thrower

The Weatherman was very busy. He was sitting on a rock beside the Elephant Path very close to Mugwump Monkey's house. He was doing strange, mysterious things with his hands inside his suitcase. The suitcase lid was only partly open so that no one could see inside it. Remember that the Weatherman carried all of his Weatherman things in his suitcase—all the things that he used to tell what the weather was going to be. As he was sitting there very mysteriously, Mugwump's striped dog sniffed up to the suitcase. A dog always sniffs at anything new, so the next time he smells it he'll know right away what it is. The Weatherman and his suitcase were both new to Striped and, since he was a friendly dog, he wanted to get to know them.

Now Striped's sniffing would have been all right, if there hadn't been an accident. The Weatherman had just put his head under the lid of the suitcase to see the strange, mysterious things he was doing. And just as he did, Striped sniffed up to the suitcase and pushed the lid right down on the Weatherman's head! "Klunk!"

Oh, how the Weatherman did fuss! And do you know what the Weatherman did? Remember he was new to the Great Forest and didn't know that everyone was gentle and kind to everyone else. Well, the Weatherman picked up a stone and threw it at Striped. But, I'm glad to say that the Weatherman couldn't throw very well. He didn't throw where he was looking, because that's where Striped was. No one had ever thrown a stone at Striped, and so he didn't know he should run away. He just came on up to the Weatherman, wagging his tail. He licked the Weatherman's hand. This made the Weatherman ashamed that he had tried to be unkind to Striped, and he patted Striped on the head. Yes, and I think the whole world could be filled with kindness and gentleness, just like the Great Forest, if all of us would remember to be like Striped—friendly and forgiving, you know. Happy day! HALF-CENTURY HIGHLIGHTS

Horse and buggy to helicopter is the story of the American Red Cross nurse in the twentieth century. Through the years since this vital nursing service was founded in 1910, Red Cross nurses have gone on their errands of mercy by whatever form of transportation presented itself. They have traveled on skis and snowshoes, mounted horses, paddled boats, driven "tin lizzies" through mud and snow and very often walked to visit the sick and injured in isolated or disaster-stricken areas. The "horse and buggy nurse" picture was made shortly before World War I. The "helicopter nurse" shot was taken a few weeks ago, when nurse Myrtle Wilson of St. Louis, Mo., went by Coast Guard copter to aid flood victims along the St. Francis River in Arkansas.

PECOS NEWS

PECOS—Members of the 4-H clubs in Reeves and Loving Counties have brought home $6,801.39 in cash from the sale of one calf and three lambs. Ronnie Rowe of Balmorhea received $396.44 from sale of his stock, and Doug Miller of Pecos received $570.75.

Mrs. Pearl Massey, deputy tax assessor-collector for Reeves County, has filed for the position of county tax assessor-collector, an office which does not exist. If the population of the county exceeds 10,000 in the coming census, the county then will be entitled to separate offices of sheriff and tax assessor-collector. Mrs. Massey is anticipating the increase in population which will make the job become a reality, and is seeking election on that basis. She is the widow of the late Bill Massey, former Pecos peace officer, and has been a Pecos resident for many years.

Gas Turbine Version Of Jet Engines Someday May Beat The Traffic Light

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—A refined version of aviation's powerful jet engines is on the drawing boards for the automobiles of the near future. The revolutionary new engine would give car owners a motor that would be stall-proof, shift-less and amazingly powerful.

Called a gas turbine, it has already been developed to the point where manufacturers are ready to start giving it practical tests in new trucks. The Navy will soon have it installed in some of its smaller vessels. And it is also expected to prove itself the best motor yet built for hundreds of specialty jobs in manufacturing, transportation, logging and aviation.

The extreme simplicity of the gas turbine is its chief advantage. It goes one step beyond the jet engine of the airplane. Instead of the power resulting from the pressure of out-rushing jet gases pushing against the air, the gases turn a fan which transmits the power to a drive shaft.

Gears Eliminated

Because the power of a gas turbine—blasting and expanding hot gases—can be transferred to a drive shaft without mechanical contact with any part of the shaft assembly, most of the complicated gears required by an ordinary piston engine are eliminated. This also makes it impossible to stall the motor, provides ranges of speed far greater than found in the ordinary car engine and gives tremendous bursts of emergency power.

Trucks powered with gas turbines, for instance, wouldn't have to crawl up steep hills. Shifting would be eliminated. And none of the expensive, complicated automatic shifting devices now being put on most new cars would be necessary.

Hundreds of different models of gas turbine engines are in various stages of development. It is generally agreed among the experts that Boeing Aircraft Company's 180-horsepower "Model 502" is the one most fully developed. Here are some of its advantages:

It weighs only 185 pounds, against 2,850 pounds for a diesel, producing comparable horsepower. There are only one-sixth as many parts as there are in a comparable piston-type engine. One man can assemble and take it apart again in six hours. It can be adapted to use the lowest grade of fuels, including sawdust. It is easily started in the coldest temperature.

Has Its Bugs

It has its bugs, however. Fuel consumption in a version of the 502 which could be put in an ordinary car today would be about twice as much as in present car engines. This trouble is being ironed out.

The extreme high speed of the "fan," which sucks in the air, makes the 502 extremely noisy. This is

Miniature Village In Pennsylvania Attracts Hundreds

AP Newsfeatures

KANE, Pa.—Rostan Village is a pretty little community in north-west Pennsylvania with churches, stores, a post office and a bank, but you'll never find it on a map. Nobody lives in Rostan. Yet the town has had hundreds of visitors since it was founded three years ago.

It is the creation in miniature of Joseph Rostan, a retired grocer, who found that raising chickens and growing flowers wasn't enough to keep him busy.

Rostan came to this mountain town with his wife in 1946 to seek relief from an asthmatic condition.

"The little town in Rostan's backyard is a village of memories for the talented builder—almost a biography in itself. Every structure is a reproduction of a building which played an important part in Rostan's life. Prominent among these is the church from his native village in Yugoslavia, where Rostan was baptized. Also present is the chapel from the cemetery of that village.

Started As Organist

"The churches really bring back memories," commented Rostan. "I started out there as an organist."

When the Rostans came to America they settled near Pittsburgh and soon started operating a restaurant at Langeloth, Pa. Later Rostan was the first postmaster of Sloan, Pa. Then for 25 years he operated a grocery store at Saranac Lake, N. Y.

Jacksonville Man's Worries 200 Times More Than Average

AP Newsfeatures

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—Are your nerves set a-jangle by a traffic tangle? Do you fret, fume or develop a near-psychosis when you're blocked in by a sea of autos? Do you get jumpy and start barking at the driver ahead when you brush bumpers? Feel sorry for yourself because you have to expend all that energy in just driving an auto?

Well, you ought to be ashamed of yourself, says a man whose worries are about 200 times bigger—every day.

He's Bill Sheets, attendant at an average-sized parking lot in a medium-sized American city. The cars are jam-packed there all day long. Starts Early Sheets, who's 51 years old, goes to work at 8 a.m. in the morning and quits at 7 p.m. In between, he moves 200 autos on an ordinary day, shoving them into their proper spots without nicking a fender. He's the only parking jockey on the lot.

This means that a couple of hundred times a day he must get into a car, start the engine, shuttle it into its narrow niche and climb out again—a callsthenic chore that wits the average driver just thinking about it.

Sheets, who came here from Harrisburg, Pa., is a former football player, army sergeant and railroad worker. He likes his present job better than any he's ever had. The exercise makes him hungry. At night he sleeps deeply.

Use Soft Seats

"Most drivers just get lead in their legs," he observes. "They're used to sitting on soft auto seats, and when they have to stir around they get unhappy. It'd be good for most of them if they had to rustle about and get some real exercise. Nobody ever was hurt by it."

The ex-soldier, who helped chase Pancho Villa through Mexico 34 years ago, has developed an uncanny dexterity in driving autos backward. In three seconds flat, he can zip into a space between two parked cars, leaving four inches on either side. In two years—during which he has parked upwards of 100,000 cars—he has scratched only two fenders.

Sheets is half Navajo Indian, which, he figures, gives him more stamina.

Sixty different bird families have been counted in Louisiana by the state department of conservation.

being licked with a soundproof shield. And because no mass production has been started on the 502, the price of one today would be pretty steep. But if it were to be produced in great quantities, the cost could be made comparable with today's engines.

Edward C. Wells, Boeing's vice president, says this about the 502: "Even in today's harried world, it's still a pretty safe bet that the sun will set on schedule each night. And it's an almost equally sure bet that the gas turbine will one day largely replace the conventional reciprocating engine."

Birds eat and thrive on the berries of poison ivy and sumac.

Book Contributions To Rankin Library Reach 287 Total

RANKIN—Total contributions of books for the new library in Rankin totaled 287 Wednesday night, the library committee of the Rankin Study Club, sponsoring organization, announced Thursday.

The first memorial book was given by Maggie Taylor in memory of her mother, Mrs. R. S. Taylor. She succeeds Mrs. R. S. Taylor, who resigned.

Mrs. Durwood Ragland led the devotional discussion before the lesson taught by Mrs. Smith. Others attending were Mrs. A. F. McCasland, Mrs. Clyde Dickerson, Mrs. P. A. Mitchem, Mrs. Frank Lakin, Mrs. G. B. Ingram, Mrs. Chester Davis and Mrs. Ted Sharrock.

Mrs. H. Still, librarian, is sorting and listing the books and expects to have them ready to place on the shelves as soon as the library furnishings arrive. Tables in the library room are holding the books as they are received now.

E. D. Yates Honored On 83rd Birthday

RANKIN—Following a custom which was originated by friends in Iran some 20 years ago, approximately 70 guests assembled Sunday to celebrate E. D. Yates' birthday. Actual date of the birthday, Yates' eighty-third, is March 17.

Dinner was served in the Rankin Park Building with W. E. Yates of Rankin and the friends from Iran as hosts. Guests came from El Paso, Texas. The group from Iran presented Yates a radio as a birthday gift.

McCAMEY—A board of three special commissioners, composed of Sidney Hoffman, J. W. C. Hayes and Jesse Russell, was appointed by Judge G. H. Fisher this week to assess damages to property in the construction of right-of-way drainage ditches south of McCamey on the Iran Highway. The ditches are required to meet the requirements of the state.

Preliminary work for the McCamey Silver Anniversary Celebration—tentatively set for August 25 and 26—began this week with the appointment of Oliver Jacobson as general chairman of the event. He was named by the Chamber of Commerce, which will sponsor the event. Organizations represented at the meeting were: the American Legion, the VFW and the Lions Club.

Mrs. J. V. Glover attended a regional meeting of the Texas Association of Insurance Agents in Midland recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nelson and children, Susan and David, and Mrs. Bessie Tipton, all of Esparto, Calif., have been visiting friends and relatives in McCamey this week.

Construction is expected to begin March 20 at McCamey Airport, according to information received from the J. R. Fannin Construction Company of Lubbock, which is to do the work at the field. Lighting fixtures are to be installed. Trans-Texas Airways is scheduled to begin service to McCamey as soon as rights are installed.

Mrs. F. O. Guyer of San Angelo and Mrs. Webb Townsend of Sanderson were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gibson.

Judge Paul Moss of Odessa, candidate for Congress from District 16, recently was a McCamey visitor.

Mrs. Fred Spencer of Brownwood was a visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Adrian recently.
