Lime Discovery In Borden Sets Pipe

Barnsdall Oil Company No. 1 Wilson, Central Texas, Borden County wildcat, 17 miles southeast of Gall and 20 miles northeast of Big Spring, which flowed oil from a Pennsylvanian lime to indicate a new discovery, has cemented 7-inch casing on bottom at 7,428 feet and will undertake to complete as a new field opener in a short time.

There is a possibility that the prospect will be cored a little deeper. However that has not been definitely decided.

This well showed its production in a drillstem test at 7,410-25 feet. The well was open 53 minutes. Gas showed at 600 surface in three minutes. Oil started flowing at the top in 13 minutes.

No Gauge
The project flowed to pits for 40 minutes through a five-eighths inch bottom hole at 7,428 feet. It was not gauged. Estimates in the flow range from 10 to 35 barrels per hour.

Recovery, when the drill pipe was pulled was 1,801 feet of 43-gravity clean oil. There was a little gas.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was from 1,250 to 2,800 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure, after 15 minutes, was 3,350 pounds.

This wildcat topped the line, called Canyon reef by some geologists, at 7,410 feet. Elevation is 2,481 feet. That gives it a datum of minus 4,929 feet on that marker.

Location is 600 feet from north and east lines of section 16, block 27, H&GTC survey.

It is six miles southwest of the recently opened Reinecke field, which is also producing from the Canyon line.

SW Scurry Wildcat Gauges Flow At 76 Barrels Hourly

Warren Oil Corporation No. 1 Reynolds, Southwest Scurry County wildcat, one and one-half miles southwest of the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field, was flowing naturally at the rate of 76 barrels of oil per hour from the Canyon reef line.

This production is from perforated section at 6,628-80 feet and from open hole at 6,688-6,708 feet. The 7-inch casing is cemented at 6,688 feet.

The flow was through a one-half inch tubing choke. Operator is preparing to complete the extender and put it on production.

Fisher Discovery Swabs Free Oil

Hawatha Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Preston Morrow, a prospective Ellenburger discovery in Northwest Fisher County, was reported swabbing free oil—and no water—at the rate of 15 barrels hourly from perforations at 6,700-6,800 feet.

On last report, the fluid level was constant at 4,000 feet below the surface, and operators were preparing to acidize.

Sulphur water was developed in perforations at 6,820-60 feet. A retainer was set above these perforations, and the above test resulted.

Top of the Ellenburger was picked at 6,985 feet, on a minus datum of 4,972 feet.

This prospective Ellenburger opener is 533 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of section 48, block 2, T&C survey, and two and one-half miles southwest of Roten.

Five and one-half inch casing is set on venture bottom at 6,862 feet.

C-E Garza Slated For Glorieta Test

A 3,200-foot wildcat, possibly to test the Glorieta section of the Permian, has been staked in Central-East Garza County.

The Comanche Corporation, Charles A. O'Neill, Jr., Walter P. Marcus and Meyer Barton have jointly filed the application with the Railroad Commission of Texas for permission to drill the No. 1 Charles A. Bird, 330 feet from south and east lines of the east half of the southeast quarter of section 15, block 8, H&GN survey.

The venture will be 11 miles northwest and four miles north of a recently plugged Mississippi failure, which had possible shows in the Glorieta section of the Permian. The failure was Star Oil Company and others No. 1 OS Ranch.

Benedum Flanker Gets Ellenburger Water

A two and one-quarter-mile northeast outcrop to the Benedum multiple pool, which straddles the Upton-Reagan County line, has developed salt water in the Ellenburger.

Officers Try Here To Identify Slayer As Citizen Of U. S.

Texas Ranger John Wood and Deputy Sheriff Ed Edwards Wednesday were interviewing several Midland persons in connection with the identification of Jose Villalobos, 24, admitted slayer of Presidio County Sheriff O. W. (Blackie) Morrow.

Wood, who claims he has "pretty good" information on the Latin American suspect was born in Carlsbad, N. M., making him a citizen of the United States, has a picture of Villalobos which he said a few Latin Americans here have identified.

One of them is a Midland Latin American woman for whom he claims she was reared with the man at Carlsbad and knew him there for several years.

Fair 54th Checking
Wood and Edwards still were checking on the identification shortly before noon Wednesday. "I'm pretty sure we are going to prove he (Villalobos) is an American citizen," Wood said. He indicated there is a man he and Edwards are seeking who might produce more positive identification.

Extradition of the suspect to face prosecution in Texas would be easier if it can be proved he is an American citizen, Wood said. The suspect is being held in the jail at Ojinaga, Mexico, just across the border from Presidio, near where Morrow was shot to death March 12.

Wood planned to leave Wednesday afternoon for Carlsbad, from which point Villalobos reportedly has received mail since his confinement in the Ojinaga jail.

West Texans Honor Holman, Native Son, At Angelo Banquet

SAN ANGELO—(P)—The San Angelo boy who became president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey last Tuesday night for his first visit.

He is Eugene Holman, born here May 2, 1895.

He was honored at a banquet by the Board of City Development and Retainers at the hotel by paying tribute to West Texas.

"You've taken the potentials here and are making the most of them," he said.

He cited the oil and livestock industries as examples.

And he gave an oilman's definition of what makes the United States great:

"Freedom, in its purest usable form, mixed with some amount of government regulation, is the fuel that powers the United States and has made it great."

Prizes Permian Basin
Holman party pointed the Permian Basin of West Texas is one of the world's greatest oil producing areas. He said its 280 fields and 23,000 wells produce more oil than any foreign nation, except Venezuela, and more than any of the states except the whole of Texas and California.

Holman said stockmen and oilmen (Continued on Page Two)

President Pleads For Housing Bill

WASHINGTON—(P)—Trying to save his $1,000,000,000 co-operative housing program from prospective defeat, President Truman declared Wednesday this plan to provide homes for middle-income families is about as good as any of the states except the whole of Texas and California.

A telegram from the President at Key West, Fla., reached Democratic leaders as a spot poll indicated that almost half of his own party members in the House may vote against the co-op idea. The Senate already has turned it down.

The House will vote on the bill late Wednesday or Thursday.

Crime DOES Pay!—3 'Junior Rackets' Contribute Billions For Crime Chieftains

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—With the fabulous profits from their safe monopoly on off-track betting and slot machines, America's big crime syndicates have successfully promoted other gambling enterprises into the multi-billion dollar racket.

The two most important "subsidiaries" are sports pools and the numbers racket, plus the operation of both of them in the relatively new in-plant gambling business.

'Best Dressed' Women

Mrs. Alben Barkley, left, wife of the vice president, was named by the New York Fashion Academy as the best-dressed woman in public life. Best dressed in the sports world is tennis player Gertrude (Gorgeous Gusie) Moran, whose recent appearance in black shorts almost made her public forget the lace-trimmed ones she wore last Summer. Best-dressed "All-American" woman is screen star Elizabeth Taylor, right, currently shopping for a trousseau for her May wedding to Conrad Hilton, Jr.

New Yorker Would Slash New Billions Off Truman's Budget

WASHINGTON—(P)—A new cut of from two to three billion dollars in $229,000,000 omnibus appropriation bill was proposed Wednesday by Representative Taber of New York.

Top Republican on the House Appropriations Committee, Taber called off upon all members of Congress who "want to keep the national budget" to join him in chopping down the bill's total.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) of the committee retorted that he doesn't see how such a cut as that proposed by Taber can be made "in view of our obligations at home and abroad."

On the basis of the committee's action and the President's estimates of revenues next year, the federal deficit for the fiscal year beginning July 1 would be $4,153,582,312.

Taber's plan of action reportedly will be to try to return the bill to the Appropriations Committee with instructions to slash out some more money, perhaps as much as several billion dollars.

Others attending were: County Judge Clifford O. Keith and W. M. Stewart and Sherwood O'Neal, county commissioners; John P. Butler, chairman of the Highway Committee of the Chamber of Commerce; Delbert Downing, Chamber of Commerce manager, and M. W. Collier.

The problem centered around flood waters which flow east along Midland highway and railroad grounds before entering Midland Draw. Judge Keith said the county will dig an open ditch from the county road west of the rodeo grounds, south to the highway and railroad tracks, and east to Midland Draw.

The question of financing the necessary culvert under the highway and railroad was discussed. It was agreed to ask the district highway engineer for approval of the project before approaching either the Highway Commission or the T&P Railway.

Schubert asked that the project be carried through without delay, in order to insure the rodeo against being flooded this year. He said plans for improving the rodeo grounds could not be carried out as long as the threat of flooding existed.

Other plans, to divert the water to the north of the rodeo grounds, and a plan to divert water through the tank farm south of the railroad, were discussed.

Mayor Neely pointed out the advantage of the ditch south of the railroad. He said it is a part of the already approved master drainage plan for the city, and would be a step in the accomplishment of that program.

Spy Accusations May Stand, Fall On FBI Records

WASHINGTON—(P)—Secretary of State Acheson Wednesday backed up contentions from associates that the United States is being harmed in its foreign relations by charges from Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) of Communist infiltration of the State Department.

At a news conference, reporters recalled that Ambassador-at-large Philip C. Jessup had called McCarthy's charges "utterly irresponsible" and harmful. Acheson said he fully supports Jessup's declaration.

Acheson went on to say that while Jessup's statements are true he did not like to repeat them because repetition might leave the impression the department opposes a Senate investigation of McCarthy's charges. Acheson said he welcomes the investigation.

The Senate inquiry—being made by a Foreign Relations subcommittee—now is centered on a charge from McCarthy that a top Russian spy is connected with the State Department.

Asked about that, Acheson said that if there is a Soviet spy now connected with the department he does not know it.

Name Given Frebers
McCarthy is reported to have told the Senate investigators he believes the FBI trailed four Soviet spy suspects to contacts with the American intelligence community in an espionage ring. The man's name was revealed to the subcommittee but not made public.

McCarthy's reported testimony came in a closed session of a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee. Democrats said he had thus far produced no primary evidence.

The Wisconsin senator was said to have agreed there that his accusations were based on information from a source that the State Department is (Continued on Page Two)

Trygve Lie Suggests 20-Year Peace Plan To End 'Cold War'

WASHINGTON—(P)—Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, proposes a 20-year peace program to relax international "tensions" and "bring the cold war to an end."

Calling for periodic meetings of "foreign ministers or even heads of governments" to discuss controversial issues, Lie said in an address here:

"I do not think the world can safely delay taking the first steps on this road of negotiation and conciliation. The danger of an indefinite continuation of the cold war in this age of the atom bomb, the hydrogen bomb and bacteriological weapons is too great."

The UN official made his peace proposal in a speech Tuesday night at the national B'Nai B'Rith annual convention dinner.

Top-Level Meetings
Vice President Barkley also spoke. Lie pointed out that top-level meetings within the 11-member Security Council are called for in the United Nations Charter and that if so far none has been held.

He said there would be held in the future a series of meetings devoted to a periodic review of outstanding issues before the United Nations and be accompanied by "quiet and private consultations among the foreign ministers."

"Great results should not be expected from any one of these meetings," Lie cautioned. "Their success or failure should not be measured in terms of decisions reached, but in terms of step by step progress toward better understanding and the restoration of an atmosphere of mutual confidence x x x."

A last-minute check on your appearance each time you go out is an excellent rule for good grooming. Such a check-up, with the aid of your mirror, is the best guarantee against an uneven hem, crooked stockings, clinging threads, a slip which shows, or straggling hair.

Make your mirror tell you the story from both front and back view. The front view alone isn't enough. It's the one you see in the mirror most often, true, but others catch the full-length back view just as often.

Start with the top of your head and make a complete check down to your toes. Is your hair clean, glossy and attractively done? What about your make-up? It should be subtle, not shouting. Is the powder out of your hairline? If you're wearing a hat, is the veiling crisp and fresh?

Watch for split seams, for small rips, for chipped nail polish. Be sure that your clothes fit smoothly, that there are no bulges or gaps. What about your hemline? Is it even? If your slip is showing, adjust it quickly. But never raise a slip at the waist. Always shorten it slightly by the adjustable shoulder straps.

Allow enough time so that you're not rushed in making any needed small repairs. Then, as you go out that door, you'll have complete confidence that you look your very best.

Employer's Married Life Is Not His Secretary's Business

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Here's a letter from a secretary who claims her employer's wife doesn't understand him. The secretary, I gather, does.

Well, Miss Secretary, don't you bother your little head about your boss' relationship with his wife. That is his and her department—and strictly private.

And if it isn't too impertinent, may I ask you a few questions? What makes you think that you are working for a misunderstood man? Did he tell you so himself? Or did you just sit down and figure out for yourself that you are the only woman in the world who has his best interests at heart?

Either way you're on dangerous ground. If he told you, then you can be pretty sure he is up to no good. Self-styled misunderstood husbands never are.

And if you've figured it out for yourself that is a pretty good indication that you are taking too personal an interest in your boss. It's even possible that you're getting ready to sell yourself on the idea that, since his wife doesn't understand him, you can convince him

THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, MARCH 22, 1950—3

New Student Council Has Large Place In Junior High School

The Student Council is a new organization this year in the John M. Cowden Junior High School, made up of a representative from each home room working under the sponsorship of Mrs. Monetta Brown.

All assembly programs are directed by the council and it has originated several projects to improve school citizenship and the attitude of students toward the school. The council sponsored an all-school election of officers which placed Wayne Farmley in office as president, Stewart Chancellor, vice president, and Jake Matthews, secretary-treasurer.

The council president presides for assembly programs, assisted by the secretary, and the vice president is ready to take charge when the president is absent.

Award For Attendance

An honor plaque was purchased by the council and awarded each six-week period to the room with the highest per cent of attendance and the lowest per cent of tardiness. If one room retains the honor plaque twice in succession its name is inscribed on the plaque.

Recently a School Citizenship Pledge was adopted and copies were sent to each room to serve as a reminder of the things in which the school citizens believe. Another effective reminder was placed in the school cafeteria several weeks ago, a mural designed and painted by John Scott with the aim of improving table manners in the cafeteria. Scott is one of the council representatives. Others, in addition to the officers, are Helen Golladay, Marilyn Dunagan, Jo Ella Gill, Shirley Brown, Elaine Conger, Charlotte Prasher, Estelle Hooper, Addison Young, Sherrel Yancey, Virginia Wilkinson, Don Hargrove, Kay Little, Nancy Guyton, Eleanor Wheeler, Robinette Curry, James Sidney Green, Graham Newgent, Suzanne Deats, Jonanna Sewell, David Stubbeman, Michael Patton, Betty Acker and Pickens Moore.

Informal Coffee Is Given Club Officers

New and retiring officers of the Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club were entertained with an informal coffee Tuesday morning by Mrs. Margaret Frances Barber, who was hostess in the home of Mrs. R. A. Wright. Coffee was served from a table centered with Easter bunnies and eggs.

Guests were Mrs. Bill Oswalt, Mrs. W. S. Key, Mrs. W. D. Gill, Mrs. E. T. Puller, Mrs. James Brown and Mrs. J. E. Derrington.

Mrs. Hill Tells Of Experiences To Garden Club

Mrs. Bob Hill, a member of the Midland Garden Club, was a guest speaker at the Pyracantha Garden Club meeting Tuesday in the Midland Officers Club. Mrs. Lamar Lunt was hostess.

Mrs. Dick Cowden and Mrs. E. R. Woolfolk were welcomed as new members of the club. Members answered roll call with an Arbor Day report and each member reported having planted something before April 1 of this year.

Mrs. F. N. Shriver, another guest, spoke to the group about cancer. Mrs. Hill's topic was "Plants that Grow in the Shade" and she stressed the fact that in this part of the country gardeners can not always depend on gardening books because so many of them are written with an Eastern climate in mind.

Grass Cuttings

She said that after many years of experience she had found that commercial fertilizer was not the best for this soil and advocated the use of manure, grass cuttings, leaves and garbage, with the exception of grease.

Mrs. Hill said that she has been gardening on the same spot 25 years and must enrich the soil constantly. By trial and error, she has developed a satisfactory fertilizer.

Plants, both annuals and perennials, that will grow in the shade were listed in the talk and Mrs. Hill brought a basket of perennials which she passed around for members to see. One of the plants had come originally from George Washington's grave. A friend of hers got a sprig from the gardener at Mount Vernon and it multiplied rapidly.

Other members attending the meeting were Mrs. Henry Conking, Mrs. T. P. Drew, Mrs. L. A. Kuykendall, Mrs. O. L. Stalcup, Mrs. C. R. Webb, Mrs. Fred J. Hill, Mrs. Ben Harwit, Mrs. Willard Bumpass, Mrs. C. M. Chase, Mrs. E. W. Cowden, Mrs. Max David, Mrs. W. H. Dunn, Mrs. B. G. Graf, Mrs. Brutus Hanks.

Mrs. H. W. Mathews, Mrs. E. V. Mitchell, Mrs. Harry Murray, Mrs. C. E. Oberholzer, Mrs. Harry Russell, Mrs. Joe E. Smith, Mrs. Stuart Slayley, Mrs. E. A. Wahlstrom, Mrs. F. C. Myers and Mrs. Kenneth Newton.

No Short Cuts To Peace

The easy solution is a will of the wisp Americans still pursue in an age when easy solutions almost never are found.

In a world with little simplicity left, we yearn for the simple answer. At a time when virtually all issues come through in varying shades of gray, we keep looking for black and white.

So powerful is this urge that it blinds us to the plainest facts of even recent history. Thus many of us ignore the Russians' shocking record of obstruction in international conferences, and suggest that everything would be fine if Premier Stalin and President Truman could just get around a table again.

There isn't a microscopic bit of evidence to indicate that another meeting with the men in the Kremlin would be any more productive of real peace than past parleys.

That Henry Wallace's Progressive Party ever enjoyed any popular following at all is another mark of the impulse in people toward comfortable answers to uncomfortable problems. The party promised that peace and security would be born without accompanying pain. The sign was out: All grievances fixed cheap.

A good many Americans tend to think of the nation's defense in the same way. The notion is that if we can just get enough A and H bombs and the planes to carry them, we'll be all set. But safeguarding the United States is actually a complex and costly job. Are we prepared to face that fact and its consequences?

There's slim doubt, too, that the current surge of isolationism in the country is fed by the compulsion to seek easy solutions. If Europe and Asia are chaotic, what's simpler than to turn our backs upon them?

All this yearning is understandable, for nobody exactly thrives on strain and confusion and uncertainty. But we must realize that the urge is primarily emotional. It's a recoiling from trouble, a running away from reality.

And we simply can't afford this escapism. There aren't any short cuts to peace and security and we'll save our breath for more realistic tasks if we stop prattling about quick treatment of our ills.

The brutal truth is that there is nothing ahead but tension and crisis. Whatever solutions we manage to achieve in this age will be hard-won. Our job is to face up to the realities and support leaders in government who show the same courage. Only that way can we steer a sane course in today's unsmile world.

Politics Again

Statehood for Alaska has been voted by the House, but observers say the Senate isn't likely to act on it this year.

With Alaska now one of the nation's key military outposts for defense against a potentially menacing Russia, it seems sensible that that territory now should be woven more tightly into our political and economic fabric.

The barriers to action on statehood in the Senate are, for the most part, narrowly political. Senators object to the idea that an area with only some 100,000 population should gain equality in the upper chamber by having two senators just like every existing state.

Yet Nevada's population isn't much larger. And Alaska's representation in the House would be limited strictly in accord with its population rank.

To argue against equal status in the Senate is to contend against the whole theory on which the Senate was organized.

Get The Facts

There's little to be commended in the publicity methods by which Senator McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, is seeking to establish that there are card-carrying Communists in the State Department.

But bad methods sometimes produce good results. Witness some of the work of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Now that McCarthy has inspired a Senate inquiry into his charges, it should be the responsibility of both the lawmakers and the Administration to cooperate in producing the facts—nothing else. And President Truman's remark that he will do everything possible to disprove McCarthy's charges hardly fits the desired spirit of impartiality and complete honesty which should mark the inquiry.

Economy Begins At Home

Senator Wherry's urging a 50 per cent cut in European aid funds is hardly news. For the Nebraska Republican, who happens to be GOP floor leader, it's merely a playback of last year's record.

What would interest us is Senator Wherry proposing specific budget cuts in some other area of the economy. Funny how the big axe swings always manage to spare the lush growth of federal vegetation right in their own yards.

"Don't Tell Me—Let Me Guess"

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Atomic-hydrogen defense could bankrupt nation; McCarthy's attacks confuse Europeans, delight Communists; Senators heckle Truman to ditch Acheson.

WASHINGTON — Here are some situations which most Americans don't know about, but which concern them vitally:
Situation No. 1—The future atomic-hydrogen defense of Washington, D. C., according to atomic scientists, must require a ring of fire stations fifteen miles out of the city and completely around the city. Present fire stations inside the city would be wiped out and futile in case of an enemy attack. It will require from 10,000 to 15,000 good trained and paid firemen to man these stations. The defense of New York, a city nine times the size of Washington, would require at least nine times as many firemen—about 100,000—and cost nine times as much. In brief, the defense of our big cities against future hydrogen bombing just about would bankrupt us. Peace will be cheaper.

Situation No. 2—In Paris, French Foreign Minister Schumann told critics of American arms under the Atlantic Pact that these arms would permit France to defend itself against Germany. He did not mention Russia, the nation which actually inspired the North Atlantic Pact. Some Europeans now are wondering whether we ourselves really mean business in opposing Russia. The U. S. A. is caught in a European cross fire—Communists who hate us and non-Communists who think we are governed by Communists. The latter have been reading Senator Joe McCarthy. Only brief cables regarding the McCarthy charges are carried to Europe. Cable tolls are expensive, newspaper precious. As a result, European non-Communists are confused, the Communists gleeful. McCarthy has done a great job for Moscow.

Situation No. 3—Every noon when Republican senators sit down at lunch they ask each other: "How's Joe doing?" They are referring, not to Joe Stalin, but to their colleague Joe McCarthy. Wisconsin. They agree that Joe isn't doing well, but they think he's winning votes for Republicans. Senator Taft, now the leader of the party, expressed it this way: "I told Joe," he said, "to keep talking. But the longer he talks, the more people will think he has something."

Midwest opinion—Partly inflamed by the Chicago Tribune, partly worked up by astute political speeches, the drift toward isolation continues. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, a scholar more than a politician, has lost so much political appeal that some senate leaders want Truman to dump him.

Prague, Czechoslovakia—The Iron Curtain really is becoming iron. Hitherto the satellite countries were ruled by local Communists. Now Moscow plans to take over Bulgaria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Rumania in toto, putting them under Russian dictators. Poland already is under Dictator-General Rokossovsky. Bulgaria probably will be next. That was one reason for cracking down on the American Legion in Sofia and on Vogel in Budapest. Moscow wants all Americans out from behind the Iron Curtain, also wants this vast area ruled as an integral part of Russia. If and when this happens, the chances of another Tito vanish.

Key West, Florida — President Truman sits in the sun, oblivious to Congressional bitterness, oblivious to his slipping foreign policy. If the United States drifts back into isolation, there is no other way but the ring of fire stations around Washington, New York, Detroit. In addition to Republicans, many Democrats are bitter at Truman. They feel that overnight—election night of November, 1948, he was transformed from a humble little man who asked all Americans to help him, to a boastful little "I did-it" Harry. The Wardman Park Hotel—Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan, the Republican who has had the

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Special Summer Camps Fit Needs Of Handicapped Child

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service.
Great progress has been made in the medical care and in the understanding of children who are crippled, deformed or handicapped by injury or disease. A number of voluntary organizations have helped for children with diabetes. Youngsters suffering from this condition can profit greatly from a properly conducted camp experience.

I am gratified, therefore, to be able to report that the American Diabetes Association (1 Nevins Street, Brooklyn 17, N. Y.) also has offered its services as a clearing house for information on diabetic camps.

Certainly all children should have a camp experience if it can be arranged. Certainly, too, there are special needs for those who cannot take part in all forms of strenuous camp life. Generous help in supporting camps such as those mentioned, and in making it possible for deserving children of modest means to attend these camps, is worthy of ungrudging support. Although it may get tired of giving, it is hard to think of any cause more worthy-while.

So they say

Even as a subsidy program, the silver purchase program is defective because it grants aid to producers without any test as to whether aid is needed.
—Sen. Paul Douglas (D) of Illinois.
It is our duty . . . to concert more forcibly and tenaciously our efforts with those of the other democratic peoples . . . if we are to prevent a conflict.
—President Vincent Auriol of France, toasting George VI of England.
I may be idealistic, but I take the premise that there are no really warlike people in the world and, for that matter, no government that has done us any harm, is for any reasonable alternative.
—Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, acting assistant secretary general of United Nations.
Today, in many countries of the world, the concepts of freedom and self-government are merely vague phrases. They express little to people who are engaged in a desperate struggle with ignorance and poverty.
—President Truman.
Every type of blackmailer from the imperialist camp has tried to frighten us (Russia) with the so-called hydrogen atomic bomb which does not exist in fact.

Ninety per cent of the time that the declarer says "Partner, get a bad break on that hand," he only is covering up his mistake. Many of these would be avoided if he would first count his tricks, and then try to employ some type of safety play to make sure of getting all the tricks he counted on.

When the jack of hearts is opened in today's hand, South wins with the queen, and then he should start to count. Two spades, one heart, four diamonds and two clubs will give him nine tricks.

Of course, he would not object to making five diamond tricks, but certainly he must try to make four.

His first play should be a diamond to dummy's king, and the five of diamonds should be led back to the king. The declarer must make his safety play. He should play the nine of diamonds, not hoping to hold the trick, but to guard against four diamonds to the jack-ten in one hand.

If he did not make this safety play, and East held four diamonds to the jack-ten, declarer would have to let East in the lead before he could establish his long diamond. East would return a heart and defeat the contract.

When the nine of diamonds holds, declarer gets five diamond tricks, making four no trump. When this hand was played in a tournament, several good players first tried to split the diamonds 3-2, and when that failed, they tried to play the spade finesse. That play also lost and they were defeated.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Who Should Man H-Bomb Ark? Picking Ten Is Tough Chore

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—There's a new wrinkle going around on the old wheeze about, "Who would you like to be stuck on a desert island with?" To make the question fit the atom age, it has been revised to, "What 10 persons should be given top priority protection for posterity, in the event of national destruction by hydrogen bomb?"

This is a fair enough question. It should be good for an evening's lively conversation at any cookies and carrot juice party. It makes you think. It makes you think who is essential and who is non-essential. And it brings you up against the stark realization that there are many more of the latter than the former.

In the first place, there is no way to carry anyone more than 30 years old. The 10 to be protected will have to be young enough to carry on civilization. So all the old gals and gaffers are out. Much as you would at first be inclined to nominate for salvation John L. Lewis and Eleanor Roosevelt or Senator Charles McNary, the sad truth is that they'll have to be sacrificed. No personal reflections about this of course. It's all in the interest of posterity, and the wisdom of the age counts for nothing.

Some people working on this list no doubt would like to approach it from the Dan Cupid angle and do some ideal matchmaking. Margaret O'Brien and my friend, Joe DiMaggio and a young woman, Ingrid Bergman or Rita Hayworth and their latest, Clark Clifford and Miss America, Margaret Truman and Mr. America, Yehudi Menuhin and somebody to play the piano.

But that's no go. It's too much like the old story about the proposal that Bernard Shaw marry Eleanor Duse. The idea was that their children—would all be geniuses. Shaw discovered the catch in that one. What if the offspring turned out to have his beauty and her brains?

Perhaps the easiest way to start on this problem would be to conduct a national lottery. Leave it to chance. That's what Mother Nature has done since the beginning of time. It has produced some terrible misfits. It also has produced Abraham Lincoln, Thomas A. Edison, Mark Twain and Walt Whitman. Ten people picked at random—if of sound body and average intelligence—probably would do as good a job as five ideal couples.

Another approach would be to pick 'em the way they pick race horses. Get good stock. Perfect physical specimens, high I. Q. Or pick one couple on those standards. Then surround them with four other couples who would contribute most to their staying alive.

First off, you would want a scientist. Somebody who could run a Geiger counter and tell you where it would be safe to put your tooties without getting them ray-burned in an atom-contaminated world. That suggests some young atomic scientist like J. Robert Oppenheimer, generally conceded the smartest of the American geniuses. Only he'd have to promise not to build another bomb. If his wife is a school teacher let him bring her along to educate the next generation.

You would want a young doctor and a nurse, to carry on what mankind has learned so far about curing illness and saving life.

Next you would want a good farmer and his wife. Somebody who knew how to grow potatoes and can come up with a few chickens. He'd command a 4-H Club boy and girl each year, and keeping them available. They're young enough, of good country stock, sound of heart, health of mind, and able to do a little mechanical and jack-of-all-trades work. Somebody who could build a porch on the cave, rig up a waterwheel, hook it to a grindstone and whet a few rubbing sticks together, trap a squirrel.

Questions and Answers

Q—What is a Julian day?
A—The Julian day calendar, used chiefly by astronomers, eliminates all ambiguities due to years, centuries, B.C. and A.D., for it is simply a count of the total number of days that have passed since Jan. 1, 4713, B.C. Thus the date will not change in the middle of a night's observations. The Julian day begins at noon instead of midnight.

Q—How did the acre measurement of land originate?
A—Traditionally the acre was the area of ground that a plowman with one ox could turn over in a day.

Have A Laugh

By BOYCE HOUSE
Joliet, Illinois, is the location of a well-known penitentiary. A swindler, who defrauded a large number of people, was convicted and given a long prison term. He made the trip by train. The conductor had been one of his victims. As the train rolled in, the conductor called out, "Joliet! Joliet! Change clothes for 20 years."

Ring Lardner, the brilliant sports writer and weaver of short stories, penned this descriptive line, "She gave him a look you could pour on a wafter."

Stivers knew Queripel by reputation and knew also that Queripel was well informed on fingerprint methods. Although he was working on another case Stivers was glad to interrupt his task and show the eminent sleuth every-thing he had to see.

By apparently casual questioning, Queripel verified all that Azalea had told him; but he avoided any mention of Kelo's name. Stivers definitely identified Paul Moody's fingerprints by showing Queripel first acknowledged prints he had made from Moody's own fingers at the studio, where Moody had made no objection to the ordeal. Indeed, Moody had brazenly welcomed it.

Next, Stivers produced the prints he had found at the studio. They all conformed to the pattern. Finally, he brought forward the eight fingerprints taken from the base of the telephone.

He said with a kind of solemn elation: "These are the prints that will give Moody his cuffs of gas."

Queripel shuddered, thinking more of Azalea's grief than of Moody's exit from the world he had hoped to adorn with status.

Queripel studied the prints with feverish eager eyes. To his sorrow he could find no least excuse to doubt that they were all the portraits of Moody's talented fingerprints.

But it was his custom to probe ever deeper and deeper, and he said: "Could I see the telephone base these prints were taken from?"

"Sure," said Stivers. "We cut the instrument loose and brought it in for safekeeping."

He produced the telephone and part of its severed end, carefully wrapped in cellophane so as to be visible without being touched. He held it while Queripel studied it through a magnifying glass.

Abruptly Queripel winced as if struck with a knife.

FINGERPRINTS

THE STORY: Although fingerprints found on the telephone used to lead to Paul Moody as the culprit, the murdered man's daughter, who is Moody's fiancée, refuses to believe his guilt. She asks Queripel to investigate the case.

Queripel had Moody's fingerprints on the phone and when he left Moody he was alive. A woman in a passing car had waved to him, and he had waved back when he left. Moody was dead.

MARTIN QUERIPPEL considered Harry Kenyon's suggestion to advertise for the woman who could supply evidence that Wendell Palmer was still alive when Paul Moody left his home.

"We can try it," said Queripel, "but in the first place, she might not see the ad. In the second place, she might prefer to keep out of this base."

"I don't know about her not reading it," Kenyon objected. "The reporters would certainly find news in the fact we're advertising for a witness."

Queripel said, "That's true." Queripel said, "with a nod," but if she did not appear, it would tend to weaken Paul's story. Furthermore, all the testimony of all the women in the world wouldn't weigh against those fingerprints on the telephone." Kenyon nodded and Queripel went on.

"Harley, you stay here and make your notes and your plans, and see about ball and habes corpses and what-have-you. I'll go take a peek at those prints."

Queripel shook hands with Paul and left the jail in a state of extreme conflict between what he wanted to believe and what he could not believe. He was in the mood of the Scriptural prayer: "Lord, I believe; help thou my unbelief." The torment gave the lie to Dryden's cynicism: "With how much ease we believe what we wish."

He was tempted to throw away his principles and his convictions for the sake of his new and faithfully love Azalea Palmer. In a daze he made his way to his car and

Shirtwaists Turn Dramatic

By KAY SHERWOOD

NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—The light, soft silhouette of the sheer shirtwaist dress takes on more interest when the fabric used is given crisp handling or prints in unusual patterned effects.

Gossamer silk chiffon, for example, is stiffened by a lining of silk organza to define the silhouette of one trend-setting dress designed by Christian Dior. This two-piece dress has a skirt that follows the straight and narrow line to point up the casual, bloused shirtwaist top with full sleeves which are tightly cuffed above the wrists. Rose chiffon printed with black squares is back-shown in chiffon is a tweedy print which peeps up styling details for another afternoon shirtwaist sheer. Two layers of chiffon are used here. Beneath the floating, full-skirted dress is a gray silk slip covered with another layer of the chiffon. Raspberry chiffon printed in the same tweed pattern is crushed into a sash. One end of the sash is left free to ripple down the skirt front. A black leather belt worn over the sash provides the sharp contrast needed to accent the misty layers of chiffon.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And The Yellow Cat

It happened far away in the Great Forest, up in the top of the very tall tree, there in Daddy Ringtail's monkey house.

The Ringtail family had a cat whose name was Minnybell. Sammy Ringtail said he never did some talking about her and so Daddy Ringtail sat down in his chair by the fire. Said Daddy Ringtail:

"What is it you would like to talk about her?"

Before Sammy could answer, however, Minnybell came in from the kitchen. Minnybell had been drinking milk from a bowl. He sat down in front of the fire and began to wash his face.

When a cat is washing his face—I suppose you have seen one do it—he first licks his paw with his little red tongue. Then he rubs the paw over his face. When that is finished, the cat will lick his paws some more and rub them all over his face again. That's the way a cat is always doing his face washing. And I don't suppose that anyone washes his face any more than a cat does.

Said Sammy: "Maybe we ought to give Minnybell away to some-body else." Sammy didn't want to give Minnybell away, but he was afraid maybe it ought to be done. Oh, but you will never guess why. Daddy Ringtail couldn't guess why either. Why, Minnybell was a nice old fellow, but Sammy said: "Minnybell washes his face all the time. He is always and always washing his face, and so his face is always dirty. I guess, or why would he be washing it all the time?"

Sammy was afraid that anyone with such a dirty face should never get to live in a monkey house where everyone tries to stay nice and clean. But Daddy Ringtail said: "Why, I guess Minnybell has about the cleanest face anywhere." He washes it more than anybody."

Sammy laughed to hear those words, and Daddy Ringtail laughed, and they didn't give Minnybell away at all. I'm glad they didn't, even as you must be very glad, for a cat is almost one of your family when he has lived with you a long, long time—like Minnybell with the Ringtail family. It's good to have a cat or a dog, so some kind of pet, I think, don't you? If you have a place to keep a pet, I mean. Happier day!

'Rackets'—

Dormitory. Calkins was discovered accepting a bribe to manipulate the number so that a minimum number of voters would win. He now is in prison.

Operating Everywhere
There is hardly a city of any size in the U. S. where some form and degree of the numbers racket isn't operating. A conservative estimate places it as a $2,000,000,000 business.

The Massachusetts report says: "A typical numbers-booker organization includes 'writers,' who make daily rounds accepting plays by individuals, retaining up to 30 per cent commission for their efforts, the 'group men' who receive the collections of the writers and write numbers themselves, also on a basis of a commission of up to 20 per cent, the 'pick-up' men who pick up the play from the group men, usually on a salary basis, turning these sums over to the 'bankers.'"

The bankers themselves have direct contact and are controlled by the syndicate. Nobody below the bankers knows anything about the details of the syndicate operation. Also, sometimes the bankers only deal with one syndicate representative.

Millions Of Customers
Both of these forms of gambling, as well as horse race betting, have found millions of brand new customers among workers in big industrial plants around the country. Factories became the scene of major gambling operations during the war. A careful study made by "Business Week" magazine reveals these startling facts:

"On the average, one out of every 200 employees of industry is also employed by a gambling syndicate as an in-plant agent. In plants of 1,000 employees or more, an average of 10 per cent of production workers consistently gamble on the job. "Around 50 per cent of all employees in these plants gamble at some time or other."

Risk Is High
"For every job opening as a gambler's agent, there are dozens of applicants from among workers regularly employed in the plant. The risk of being seriously punished if caught is relatively slight. In-plant gambling is a much more highly organized business since the end of the war. National syndicates are involved as never before."

What this activity means in the loss of production, in addition to the loss of income by workers, is obvious. And the part that violence and bloodshed play in this situa-

Highway Panel Wins First Round In Wage Contest

AUSTIN —(AP)—Organized labor failed Tuesday to convince the 10th District Court judge that Highway Commission wage rates in El Paso County are not the actual prevailing rates.

The court refused to grant a temporary injunction restraining the commission from use of its wage schedule in letting contracts for two projects.

The injunction is sought by the El Paso Building and Construction Trades Council (AFL). That organization tried to prove Monday and Tuesday that the commission did not follow the law in determining prevailing wage rates for highway construction work in the El Paso area.

Judge J. Harris Gardner ruled the plaintiff failed to substantiate his charges.

"I think the best procedure at this time would be not to grant the temporary injunction. Then the parties can take the case to the court of civil appeals to be reviewed," he said, adding:

"If the (appellate) court disagrees with me, it can send it back for trial on its merits."

Immediate notices of appeal was given by Nat Wells of Dallas, attorney for the trades council.

One project involved is the Main Street overpass in El Paso. The other is a 10-mile paving job on U. S. Highway 80 from White Spur to near the New Mexico state line.

HUGE ORANGE POOL

tion is explained by the Massachusetts report:

"Rumors have been persistent in crime prevention and law enforcement circles and in the labor movement itself that the nearly successful attempt on the life of Walter P. Reuther, president of CIO United Auto Workers, several years ago, was possibly motivated by efforts of Reuther to cope with this problem from a standpoint of organized labor's responsibility."

Abundant Living

by E. STANLEY JONES

Luke 2:9-11; Ps. 11:13; 52:3.
HOME-GROWN FEARS

Fear attacks the digestive system in a great number of subtle ways. A mother had a daughter who was shy. Wanting her to "come out," she arranged a party for her, against the daughter's will. The daughter was afraid of people, and before the party she became violently ill and went to bed. Never again did the mother try to get rid of fears in this frontal-attack method. She built up confidence in other ways.

Some friends brought a man into one of my meetings. He was afraid of crowds, suffering from ophthalmia. When he got to the door, he tried to run away. But they insisted and took him in. During the whole service he sat full of fear, with perspiration rolling down his pale and clammy face. At the close he said, "I'm glad to get out of here." The fear of crowds was an obsession. But there was nothing to fear except his fear. That fear was a disease.

At one of the maneuvers of the West Point cadets some of the students for a prank put some chestnut burrs under the saddle of a horse. The cadet riding the horse was thrown 25 times on a 38-mile ride. The experience filled him with fears and shock, so that he became a wreck. The gland secretion was so upset by the shock and fears that he could not move when placed in a certain position. If he was stood up and his arm raised, he could not put it down. Only by a course of mental training which helped him past the fears and shock did the youth return to normal health.

In the last World War one of the amazing discoveries made by the doctors during the draft examination was that so many perfectly healthy young men had all their lives been convinced that they had heart or kidney trouble or some other malady and had feared to undertake arduous occupations for that reason. With very few exceptions, says Dr. Albert Wiegman, their fears had been started by hearing symptoms discussed at home. They were home-grown fears.

To implant fears in the minds of children is a crime against the child. Parents try to rattle the child by fear, and then fear rules the child.

O God, our Father, we have filled Thy world and our hearts with fears—needing, devastating fears. Help us, we pray Thee, to find release from these fears and power over them, for they are not our real selves—they are an imposition. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Bulldogs Show Up Well At Andrews

The Midland Bulldog track team battled the Andrews High thinny clads in a dual meet in Andrews Tuesday afternoon and made a remarkable showing.

Coach Tugboat Jones carried only a dozen boys to Andrews for the meet. They came away with six first places and several second and third places. The meet strictly was for practice and no points were kept.

Roy Kimsey and Jack Burris made surprising showings in dash events. Kimsey won both the 100 and 220-yard dashes and Burris ran second in both.

Burris finished second in the 440-yard dash, being edged out only by a step at the finish.

Dwane Bush, returning to workouts after a siege of sickness, breeched out to win the 880-yard run in good time.

John Kilger ran his best mile of the year. He finished out front easily in the good time of five minutes, nine seconds.

Harrie Smith skipped over the high hurdles in 16 seconds flat to tie for first in that event. He took third in the low hurdles.

Leo Hatfield, the leading low hurdler for the Bulldogs, had hard luck and stumbled on the last barrier.

Ralph Brooks won the high jump going away and W. H. Black and Robert Keating finished second and third.

Black won the pole vault, clearing 10 feet. Yates Brown annexed second place.

Black also finished second in the broad jump.

A sprint relay team composed of Smith, Burris, Kimsey and Keating covered the 440 yards in 49 flat.

TV Enter Odessa Meet. Stan Coker and Dalton Byerley were entered in the discus throw and the shot put but failed to place.

It was the first outside competition for the Bulldogs this year and served as a warmup for the West Texas Relays which will be held in Odessa Saturday.

Coach Jones said he probably will enter a 10-man team in the Odessa meet.

He also announced the seventh, eighth and ninth grade track teams will participate in a junior meet at Andrews Friday.

Coach Jones was well pleased with the showing of his boys against Andrews. It was evidence of improvement being made.

Colonial Invites Hogan, Sneed, Burke

PORT WORTH —(AP)—A top field is shaping up for the fourth annual $15,000 Colonial Invitation Golf Tournament May 25-28.

Max Highfill, tournament chairman, announced Tuesday that Ben Hogan, Sam Snead and Jack Burke Jr. have been invited to join the 20 players who already have entered.

Today's Pitch

Jack Kramer, who buys his Argyle Sox by the dozen, and arrived in Phoenix, Ariz., with two trunks and a dozen suits, selects something casual for lounging at the Giants' hotel. Waived out of the American League from the Red Sox, Handsome Jack will do his pitching for Leo Durocher in the New York Polo Grounds.

Major League TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, seems to have plucked another ripe plum from a fruitless orchard.

The Dodgers' deacon, in a deal with the Philadelphia Athletics last winter, acquired Pitcher Dick McCahan, a young gent with some promise but a supposedly dead right arm.

Rickey gave up Third Baseman Kermit Wahl, who, apparently, had no future in Dodgertown. In addition, Rickey paid $25,000 from Connie Mack to complete the deal.

McCahan had a respectable 10-5 record with the A's in 1947. He even hurled a no-hit, no-runner against Washington. But his arm went sour in 1948 and he was sent to Buffalo last season. It was there Rickey picked him up.

Assigned to Brooklyn's Montreal farm team, McCahan pitched for the Dodgers Tuesday against Fort Worth. And off his performance, Rickey has come up with another "steal."

McCahan hurled the first three innings, allowing one infield hit and one run. He fanned three and walked three. More important, after the workout the husky hurler remarked: "I haven't thrown like that in almost three years."

It was catcher's day in the Grapefruit Circuit Tuesday... Shera Lollar, backstopper for the St. Louis Browns, smashed a three-run homer in the ninth inning of the hot Babe Ruth made famous Philadelphia's Phillies hit six of 'em while whipping the Cincinnati Reds 14-4... Mike Gollat led the offense with two homers.

Granny Hamner, Del Ennis, Eddie Sanchez and "Buddinhead" Jones got the others.

MALLETTE ON WAY OUT
VERO BEACH, FLA.—Mal Mallette, Branch Rickey's "sleeper" draft choice, may not be long with the Brooklyn Dodgers, Rickey acknowledged concern Wednesday over the rookie southpaw pitcher from Sacramento and said, "I don't see how we can carry him if he doesn't improve."

HARD LUCK YANKEE
ST. PETERSBURG, FLA.—Bob Porterfield, the New York Yankee's hard luck right-hander, can't seem to get away from the injury jinx. The 25-year-old promising pitcher, out repeatedly last year with a recurring arm ailment, now turns up with a sore leg.

STARR, BAUERS SLATED
BURBANK, CALIF.—Dick Starr and Russ Bauers are slated for mound duty Wednesday in the Louis Braves' windup game of their two-day series with the Cleveland Indians.

SAIN FACES RED SOX
BRADENTON, FLA.—Johnny Sain, who beat the rival hometown Red Sox twice in Florida last Spring, will start against them Wednesday when Boston's Braves endeavor to snap a pre-season losing streak of eight. Vern Bickford and possibly Bob Hall may follow Big John on the hill for the Tribesmen.

Baylor, Rice Win; Buckeyes Nip A&M

By The Associated Press
Southwest Conference baseball clubs made it two out of three in the victory column Tuesday.

Baylor and Rice won, but Texas A&M lost—all in non-conference play.

The Baylor Bears came from behind in the last inning to take a 7-6 triumph over the University of Minnesota at Waco.

The Rice Owls also gained a one-point victory, edging Sam Houston State 3-2.

Ohio State handed the Texas Aggies their first defeat of the season 10-9 after scoring nine runs in the first three innings.

Richmond W. Landon, who won the 1920 Olympic high jump event at Antwerp, has been reapointed handicapper for 1950 for the New York Athletic Club.

No indication has been made as to who will succeed Beauchamp as assistant coach here.

We only hope his successor is somewhat near as capable both as a man and as a coach as is Beauchamp.

Midland has lost something good. That's for sure.

But it has gained an honor never before bestowed upon the city—having a member of the coaching staff of MHS selected as head grid coach of a college.

Beauchamp isn't leaving Midland for good.

Next September 22 he will bring the ACC Wildcats to Memorial Stadium here for a tilt with the Sul Ross Lobbs.

Every Midland football fan will be watching to see just what Beauchamp has done as a college coach. The pressure definitely will be on him.

We'll wager what we see out there will be good regardless of the situation.

Czech Skater Won't Go Home

Aja Vrzanova, the world's champion woman amateur figure skater and daughter of an important Czechoslovakian Communist government official, has announced she will remain in England, joining the parade of political exiles from behind the Iron Curtain.

The prospect of seeing the two famous Sugars battle over the 10-round route in a non-title bout is expected to draw upwards of 15,000 and a gate of about $70,000.

While Robinson's crown will not be at stake, the fight is expected to determine whether Costner will have a crack at the title in a New York outdoor bout this Summer.

The fight originally was scheduled for December 5. For one reason or the other it first was postponed until December 12 and again until February 22.

The meeting will be the second clash between Robinson and Costner. In 1945, the champion knocked out Costner in Chicago. Since then, however, Costner has reached a high place among the 147 pounders. He has won 11 of his 13 fights, eight by knockouts.

Robinson, beaten only by Middleweight Champ Jake LaMotta in more than 100 fights, rules the 5 to 13 fights.

Baseball Rules Meet Scheduled At Dallas

Bulldogs Hold Long Scrimmage; Stress Hitting, Fielding

Coach Garvin Beauchamp's Bulldogs went together in a lengthy scrimmage on the Memorial Stadium practice diamond Tuesday afternoon with hitting and fielding being stressed.

Jimmy O'Neal and Charles Crowley opposed each other on the mound and both showed improved form.

Coach Beauchamp substituted frequently at infield and outfield positions to give all hands plenty of work.

Jimmy Chauncey and Loren Roberts handled the catching chores and looked better.

L. C. Thomas, Robert Melton, Chauncey and Roy Mann collected more than one hit during the session. Several others repped out bingles.

Bob Wood, Melton, Reed Gilmore and Norman Drake worked in the varsity infield. Thomas, Jerry Culp and Don Smith were in the outfield.

The Bulldogs will meet the Big Spring Steers in an exhibition game here next Tuesday.

Viljo Heino, Finland's great distance runner, holds five world records from six miles and up.

Rotary, undefeated in the league this season, takes on Ted Thompson's Terrors in the first game at 7:30 p.m.

The Thompsonmen, who finished second in the regular season of play, will be out to win and send the series into a third game.

Consolation Play
Watkins Mobil and the JayCees, consolation finalists, will play following the championship bracket tilt.

The Midland post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, sponsor of the league, will make awards to the winning teams and individual players.

Bradley Favored To Win Western NCAA Playoffs

KANSAS CITY—(AP)—Tired or souped-up, Bradley University's Braves will be favored to win the Western NCAA basketball playoffs here Friday and Saturday.

Coach Forrest (Fordy) Anderson's Braves, named the nation's No. 1 team in the final Associated Press poll, will play UCLA, Pacific Coast representative, in the second game of Friday's program.

Baylor of the Southwest Conference and Brigham Young from the Rocky Mountains meet in the opener at 8 p.m.

The Western winner will meet the Eastern winner in New York City next Tuesday in the NCAA finals.

Bradley, which won the Missouri Valley berth in the Westerns by beating Kansas 59-52 last Monday, appeared fairly well spent after playing four games in eight days.

Braves' Record Is Best
However, they'll come into the playoffs with some rest. They also have the best record of the four teams participating.

They played three times in the National Invitational at New York, losing to CCNY in the finals last Saturday, before coming to Kansas City to trim Kansas on a late scoring drive.

Bradley, Missouri Valley Conference champion, played 34 games this winter, winning 30 of them.

UCLA, regarded as the second best team in the Western field and winner over Washington State in a Pacific Coast Conference playoff, won 24 of its 29 games.

Neither Brigham Young nor Baylor come up to the Western with good season records, but each was strong in the home stretch.

Baylor, 1948 Western winner, has played 24 games, winning 13 and losing 11.

BYU, Skyline Six champion, played almost as many games as Bradley, but won only 21 against 11 defeats.

Pros Vote Palmer Most Likely To Win Masters Golf Title

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. —(AP)—Here's a tip right from the feed box—Johnny Palmer will win the 1950 Masters Golf title at Augusta, Ga., next month.

Leading professionals of the game voted the 31-year-old veteran from Badin, N. C., most likely to take the important tournament winding up the winter circuit.

Of course, don't say you weren't warned that Sam Snead is a close second choice just in case the veteran from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., repeats his 1949 Masters victory.

Middle-coiff, Demaret High regard goes to National Open Champion Cary Middlecoff of Ormond Beach, Fla., and Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif. Some votes also went to 27-year-old Jack Burke of White Plains, N. Y., and the Argentinean champion, Roberto de Vicenzo of Buenos Aires, although they will be playing for the first time in Augusta.

Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., and Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago got sentimental votes if nothing else. Both are recovering from serious auto accidents. Mangrum has showed he can win the Masters, and Hogan makes no secret of the fact he wants to badly.

To round out the voting, a scattered mention or two went to Jim Turnesa and Lew Worsham.

U. S. Drop Paces Oil Production Decline

TULSA —(AP)— World crude oil production continued its 1949 decline into January, the Oil and Gas Journal estimated Wednesday.

Largely responsible, the periodical reported, was the 90,000 barrels a day drop in the United States output. The world slump averaged 55,000 barrels daily.

Domestic production was 4,934,000 barrels per day, compared to 5,024,000 barrels in December. Major foreign producing areas showed gains which were more than absorbed by the losses over here.

Venezuela, second largest oil country, set an all-time high with a 1,484,900-barrel daily average. Crude production in the Middle East for the first time went above 1,500,000 barrels. Canada jumped from 56,900 barrels in December to 57,500 barrels.

Tucker Asks Million Dollars In Damages

CHICAGO—(AP)—Preston T. Tucker, president of the defunct Tucker Corporation, has demanded that Attorney General J. Howard McGrath dismiss three federal attorneys who prosecuted the mail fraud case against him.

At the same time, Tucker filed a suit in Superior Court against the government attorneys and five other persons for $1,000,000 damages, charging malicious prosecution.

The suit is based on the government's recent unsuccessful attempt to convict Tucker and seven associates on charges of violating the mail fraud statute and the securities act. The government charges stemmed from the collapse of Tucker's $28,000,000 project to mass produce a new type of rear engine automobile.

Barber Confesses Gruesome Slaying

TERRE HAUTE, IND. —(AP)— A 56-year-old Terre Haute barber admitted Tuesday night the fiendish slaying of an eccentric window washer, Police Chief Glenn Reely said.

The police chief said the confession was made by Clarence Taylor after 12 hours of intensive questioning. Reely said Taylor sobbed out the story of the slaying when confronted by marked currency found wrapped in his yard.

The victim, George Willis Baldwin, 54, was found last week, his body dumped in a ditch in a Chicago suburb. He had been shot, beaten and cut in half at the waist.

Reely said the barber admitted shooting Baldwin March 13. He said he kept the body in his basement until Thursday, when he took it to Illinois and dumped it.

Detectives said Taylor admitted talking about $1,000 from Baldwin's body immediately after the shooting.

It was the tracing of large amounts of these bills spent in Terre Haute and Chicago which led to Taylor's arrest Tuesday.

Intruder Beats Judge To Draw

ATHENS, TEXAS.—(AP)—No one in the courthouse here doubts the story told by Justice of the Peace S. A. Carroll. As Carroll admits, the evidence is too strong. His wife had been complaining that a rat was swiping such valuables as eggs from her kitchen. Tesh, said the judge, rats don't eat eggs. This led to an exchange of words. The upshot was they set a steel trap to catch the intruder.

Next morning both were awakened by a great thrashing about. Judge Carroll rushed to the kitchen.

The judge was armed with a 16 gauge shotgun but a skunk beat him to the draw.

Teachers Favor Book With School Board Ban

HOUSTON.—(AP)—A civics textbook banned by the City School Board last year has been selected by teachers as the text they want to use the next six years.

"American Government," written by the late Dr. Frank A. Magruder, was the unanimous choice among four books examined by the Houston Textbook Committee, composed of seven civics teachers.

Last October, the same book was ordered out of the city's senior high schools.

Early tradition in many different lands declares that the human race sprang from the roots of the ash tree.

Harry B. MacRae Of Dallas Is Christian Science Lecturer

Proofs of healing and redemption are within reach of all through acceptance of Christ's rules for living as revealed in Christian Science, declared Harry B. MacRae, C.S.B., of Dallas, in a public lecture here Tuesday night.

One woman known to the lecturer years ago was in the last stages of tuberculosis. She had gone beyond the help of any human or material remedy. Aid was sought in Christian Science as a last resort, and treatment by a Christian Science practitioner began. The woman was perfectly healed.

This and other actual experiences of healing were related by Mr. MacRae in the Midland High School Auditorium where he spoke under the auspices of the Christian Science Society of Midland. He came here in the course of a national tour as a member of the Board of Lecturership of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. The title of his lecture was "Christian Science: Its Revelation of the Healing Christ."

Further explaining how the woman was healed of tuberculosis in its acute stage, Mr. MacRae said that the practitioner worked from the standpoint of the consciousness of the ailment and perfection of divine Mind, God, and His idea, man, as taught in Christian Science.

False Testimony
"It was reasoned spiritually," he continued, "that the misreading symptoms, terrifying as they seemed to be, in reality meant nothing. They were but the false testimony of the five mortal senses, which never tell the truth about man, the perfect idea of God. What appeared vividly, aggressively, and frighteningly to these senses had to be recognized in the light of Truth as dark images of mortal thought. They had to be seen as having no reality in God nor in His idea, man and the universe. This false plea of mortal mind was overturned or cast out of consciousness under the continued faithful metaphysical work of the practitioner, work that declares the presence of God, good, and revealed the nothingness of the evil malady.

"As confidence in good arose, the suffering one was enabled to obey the healing injunction in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 390): "Rise in the conscious strength of the spirit of Truth to overthrow the plea of mortal mind, alias matter, arrayed against the supremacy of Spirit."

Faithful Effort
"Steady progress was made, though not without much faithful effort; even discouragement raised its head at times. Finally, Christ's dictum, "Thou art whole," came as a voice within the liberated consciousness of the grateful one, and the complete and permanent healing appeared. Today many a man and woman is a healthy, strong, vigorous worker in the public practice of Christian Science."

Such convincing evidence of healing and regeneration has been multiplying through the right use of Christian Science during more than eighty years since its discovery by Mary Baker Eddy, the lecturer added. After a long period of spiritual preparation culminating in her own healing through reading the Bible, she discerned that Christ Jesus had taught the divinity of man as God's expression. This true knowledge is available to everyone.

White Man Gets Life in Prison For Killing Three Negro Children

KOSCIUSKO, MISS.—(AP)—A 38-year-old white man was sentenced to life imprisonment Tuesday night in the massacre of three negro children.

Leon Turner, a former convict, was convicted of the murder of four-year-old Ruby Nell Harris last January 8. The jury of 12 white men, eight of them farmers, was unable to agree on punishment. Under Mississippi law, it was mandatory for Judge J. P. Coleman to sentence Turner to life imprisonment.

The state had asked the death penalty—rare punishment in Mississippi for a white man convicted of murdering a negro.

The jury deliberated almost four hours.

There was no demonstration by the audience of about 800 whites and negroes when the verdict was read.

Two other murder indictments are pending against him. These bills accuse him of the slaying of two other negro children at the same time Ruby Nell was murdered. They were Mary Brunside, eight, and Frankie Thurman, 12.

Windol Whitt, also was convicted of the murder of Ruby Nell and sentenced to life imprisonment. Scheduled to be tried Monday in the same case is Windol Whitt's 37-year-old brother, Malcolm. Windol was convicted Thursday.

The White Brothers, like Turner, are accused in the slayings of the Burnside girl and the Thurman boy.

Ag Commissioner Candidate Visits Midland, Section

Tom Fairley of Travis County, candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture, was a Midland visitor Wednesday while on a campaign swing through West Texas. He was accompanied by his son, Bob Fairley, who is assisting his father in the state race.

Fairley is a native West Texan and has an Odessa residence from 1939 to 1941. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Fairley, are Odessa residents.

Tom Fairley

The Commissioner of Agriculture candidate has owned and operated a diversified farm nine miles out of Austin since 1944. He served as an assistant to Bascomb Giles in the land commissioner's office from 1941 to 1944. He is married and has two sons, Bob and Tom, and a daughter, Lynette. Bob and Tom were well-known entertainers while attending school in Odessa, and performed in Midland on several occasions.

Fairley said he long has been disturbed by the fact that West Texas and the Panhandle never have received equal consideration with the rest of the state in agricultural matters. He said he intends to give all sections of Texas equal consideration and treatment if he is elected to office. He also is opposed to any increase in taxes and said he does not plan any measures which would call for increased expenditures.

Child Star Admits Being Coached For Court Appearance

BEVERLY HILLS.—(AP)—The woman who coached her for the movies, says Lora Lee Michel, nine, also coached her for the court appearance in which her foster parents are accused of beating and starving the child to keep her thin for film roles.

Lora Lee testified Tuesday against Mrs. Lorraine Michel, 55, on trial in justice court on a misdemeanor charge of mistreating her adopted daughter.

The child said Mrs. Olga Wargin, here drama coach, "Told me to say I didn't want to stay with mommy (Mrs. Michel) and wanted to go back to my mother and live in a shack. And she told me to say my father took me into a bar and bought me peanuts while he drank."

She said also Mrs. Wargin told her to steal milk from doorways in the apartment house where she lived. No motive for the alleged coaching has been introduced in court.

Lora Lee cried as she told how Mrs. Michel spanked her with a hair brush "because I went down to the store and bought candy."

"I couldn't eat candy because I'd get fat," she said. "The movies don't like you to get fat."

The Rev. Elford D. Sundstrom, in whose home Lora Lee was placed last December after she first complained to juvenile authorities, testified the girl "evidently had been mistreated."

"She had black and blue marks on one arm, her shoulders, buttocks and legs," he said.

Please Read The Following:

(A statement from men who have built their business on quality merchandise)

It is indeed our privilege to inform the people of Midland that we are in a position to know that Cecil King, in all his many years of operating a fine food service here in our city, has constantly demanded the finest grade of beef the market affords. It goes without saying that the fine business following he has created in this community certainly verifies this fact.

NOW... Here is the TRUTH!

It is our policy to give to the Midland public the finest foods that our fifteen years of experience enables us to do, at a fair price to everyone, BUT, rest assured we are making a very satisfactory profit.

Our real reason for selling the market's finest grade of boneless beef obtainable at $1.25 per pound — Barbecued to perfection over smouldering oak logs (from start to finish) is — that in our opinion, it would be ridiculous, considering the wholesale price we pay for our meat, to charge more.
