Firemen Rescue Gull After Kite Collision

ROCKLAND, MAINE — (AP) — Firemen think nothing of rescuing cats from trees—but a seagull tangled in kite string and telephone wires is something new.

The gull collided with a runaway kite Tuesday. The string put one wing out of commission. Bird and kite crashed into the wires.

Rockland's aerial ladder crew got the kite and gull off the wire. After the firemen unhooked "about a mile" of kite string, the bird flew away.

Ralls Denounces VA Red Tape In Address Before Vets Group

Charles C. Ralls, national Veterans for Foreign Wars senior vice commander, Tuesday night, told a group of approximately 300 Midland and Odessa VFW members and their guests that the VFW is giving 65 per cent of all the service to veterans in the United States.

Ralls, currently visiting West Texas VFW districts, spoke at a dinner-dance given in his honor at the Midland VFW Hall. He is accompanied on his tour by Julian Dickenson, Texas departmental commander, and J. T. Rutherford, Texas senior vice commander. The program was broadcast by KCRS.

Ralls told the group less red tape in the Veterans Administration would result in more and better benefits for veterans. Especially needed at present, he said, are more and larger hospitals. He stressed community service for VFW organizations and urged leaders to work for larger memberships. Ralls said the national VFW had 20,000 community service projects in operation last year.

Rutherford, state representative from Odessa, spoke briefly and introduced Ralls. Also on the speaking agenda was Dickenson, Texas commander.

John Henderson, commander of the Midland VFW post, presented the visiting delegation with gifts from the Midland and Odessa posts.

A barbecue dinner was served guests prior to the speaking program. Following the program a dance was held in the VFW ballroom with Andy Schroder and his Western Band providing the music. The Odessa Church Wagon Gang provided the dinner.

Shanghai Nationals May Be Evacuated

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — President George L. Killion said Wednesday his American President Lines had received a report Chinese Communist officials have agreed to evacuation of 1,600 foreign nationals from Shanghai.

The group includes about 400 Americans. Killion said the evacuation would be made on a ship owned by the China Navigation Company. He said he had no further information. And he did not disclose the specific source.

The APL Liner Gen. W. H. Gordon left Yokohama four days ago for San Francisco after earlier evacuation plans fell through. The evacuation had been arranged by the State Department and APL, but Red officials refused to permit two shallow draft vessels to enter Shanghai Harbor to ferry passengers to the Gordon.

Killion said that if the Gordon is needed, it probably would continue to Honolulu and discharge passengers before returning to the Orient.

FORT WORTH — Robert Appleton (Bob) Calen, 58, former world's champion trick roper and a popular rodeo performer in the Southwest many years, died at 3 a. m. Tuesday in a veterans' hospital at Los Angeles.

Calen had been ill several months and recently underwent an operation. Friends here were in contact with hospital officials Tuesday to make arrangements for services and interment.

Ranked at the top of the heap of rodeo performers during the height of a long career, Calen's last appearance in the rodeo arena as a trick roper was at Eureka, Calif., last July. During the Denver Stock Show in January 1949, he collapsed but, despite the warnings of friends, went through with his work in the show. Since that time his health had become worse.

He had performed at the Midland World Championship Rodeo.

Monroe Asks Parents Of Six-Year-Olds To Help In Census

School census figures, being completed Wednesday at the office of the school superintendent, indicate that not all children who will enter schools here in the Fall have been enumerated, Frank Monroe, superintendent, announced.

In an appeal to parents to see that children are counted for the census, Monroe said, "If you have a child who will start to school in the Fall, and who has not been counted in the current census, please contact either the school superintendent's office or the principal of the nearest school."

The census is necessary for schools to be financed under the Gilmer-Aikin Act, he said, and it is imperative that all children who will be of school age by September be counted in the census.

The office of the superintendent is located in the east wing of the new high school building.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Sick Abed

Daddy Ringtail was down on the ground beneath the very tall tree with his Monkey House in the top. He kept looking up the Elephant Path, and listening, listening. He knew the noise he was listening for, and pretty soon he heard it. Faster and faster came the noise. Closer and closer.

ning fast to come in a hurry. He held his hat with his hand while he ran. In the other hand was the bag full of the doctor things he used with his doctor business. He skidded to a stop by Daddy Ringtail.

"Happy day!" Daddy Ringtail said. "Uh, yes!" said Dr. Shoobug. Then up the tree they went in a hurry. Up and up to Daddy Ringtail's monkey house. In they went to the room where Sammy and Bobby, the monkey boys, were sick in bed.

Oh, those boys had been feeling awfully bad. I can tell you. Their heads had been hurting with a headache—two headaches, really, for Sammy had one and Bobby had one. And they hadn't felt like doing anything but lying back in bed with their heads on a pillow. "Ummmm," said Dr. Shoobug when he saw them. "Bobby, let me see your tongue." But Bobby shook his head from side to side. He was very fond of Dr. Shoobug, and he thought maybe he shouldn't be sticking out his tongue for Dr. Shoobug to see it. It isn't polite, you know, to stick out your tongue at people.

But Dr. Shoobug explained that a doctor is the one somebody in the world that it's all right to stick a tongue out at, and so Bobby stuck out his tongue. "Ummmm!" said Dr. Shoobug when he saw it. And then he told Sammy to stick out his tongue, and Sammy did it. "Ummmm!" Dr. Shoobug said again. And Sammy and Bobby were feeling much better indeed for Dr. Shoobug had come to see them. They were happy to hear him say his "Ummmm!" And Dr. Shoobug explained that it was measles they were having. They would have to stay in bed with the measles until the sickness had gone away. Well, that was all right with Sammy and Bobby. Anything that Dr. Shoobug

U. S. Bureau Offers Nuggets Of Advice To Gold Prospectors

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Going prospecting for gold? Don't forget your frying pan—and try to develop a patient attitude toward donkeys. This is some of the advice in a new guide to prospecting for gold issued by the U. S. Bureau of Mines and available free of charge from its Pittsburgh office.

E. D. Gardner, the bureau's chief mining engineer, says it's true that gold is where you find it—but it still helps to know something about geology. He also points out that while most metal mines in this country have been discovered by qualified prospectors, others have been found accidentally by men rounding up burros, hunting game, building roads—or even by burrowing animals and ants.

"Probably one prospector out of several thousand ever finds anything worth developing," Gardner says discouragingly. "Moreover only one out of every 300 or 400 properties developed becomes a profitable mine."

"To prospect for lode gold, the miner should know first of all how to take care of himself in the hills or on the desert.

"Most prospectors work alone and are accustomed to solitude. Many work in mines in the Winter and prospect in the Summer.

"In the old days, many prospectors were grub-staked by merchants, individuals or companies, usually on a fifty-fifty basis. The practice now is followed less than formerly, but a professional prospector of good repute usually can get a backer."

Gardner said most prospectors appear to prefer a small cheap frying pan for painting rock samples.

WATCHES CLOCKS 50 YEARS

PEORIA, ILL. —(AP)— Fred E. Brown has been a clock watcher for 50 years. He soon will round out a half century of teaching students how to repair clocks and watches at Bradley University's school of horology.

Only the belly skin of crocodiles is used for leather. He described the equipment a prospector should carry and said burros generally are the best form of transportation in rough country.

"The principal objection to burros is that they must be rounded up each day to keep them from wandering off," he said. "A prospector will spend about a fourth of his working time chasing his burros."

Senators Discover Economic Question Has Stubborn Angles

WASHINGTON — (AP) — How much interest should you pay when you borrow money to buy a home? How much should you expect to receive if you lend money to a home-owner. These are two sides of a tough economic question, as the members of the Senate learned when they wrangled over the proposed middle-income housing bill. Much of the debate hinged on this point.

Proponents of the bill said they had found a way to provide cheaper housing for the middle-income group. It wouldn't involve government subsidy, they said—it would all be done through private enterprise. The most striking feature of the plan was the method of reducing financing charges from the usual 4 1/2 per cent, charged on loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA), to about 3 1/4 per cent.

A new government corporation would lend money to owners of cooperative housing projects at this rate. The corporation would obtain the money by borrowing from private sources. It would get the money at a cheap rate, possibly about 2 1/2 per cent. That's the main reason why it could lend so cheaply.

Would Be Insured

But why could the corporation get lenders to invest money at such a low rate? Because, say backers of the plan: (1) Like FHA mortgages, the loans would be insured by the government. The lender couldn't possibly lose money as long as the U. S. government credit was good.

(2) The lenders would not be purchasing mortgages; they would be buying debentures. FHA mortgages, or any other mortgages, cost the lender a considerable sum in service charges. The Senate Banking Committee was told by various insurance companies that when they received an interest rate of 4 1/2 per cent from mortgages, they only cleared a net of about 3 per cent. The difference was made up by administrative costs and the cost of procuring and servicing the loans. Interest from debentures could be collected at practically no cost.

This lowering of interest rates would undermine the whole home mortgage credit field in the opinion of opponents of the bill. What would be the effect on persons now paying 4 1/2 per cent—particularly the great multitude of persons who borrowed under the FHA and Veterans Administration plans? They would demand that Congress find a way to reduce their interest payments, say opponents. Then would Congress be forced to revise the whole program of home financing through government help, probably with heavy losses to the government?

What About Banks?

What of the effect on banks, insurance companies and savings and loan associations, now charging the higher rate of interest? Already the government has effectively reduced the income from mortgage interest on which such institutions depend. Before FHA was created, persons who borrowed on their homes paid from 6 to 7 per cent interest. When FHA was set up, with its 4 1/2 per cent interest rate, it was arranged that persons who had been paying the old, higher rates of interest on existing homes could refinance through FHA. Then all mortgage interest rates tended to go down to the FHA level.

"But what is so sacred about a 4 1/2 per cent interest rate?" asked Senator Douglas (D-Ill). "Might it not be in the public interest to replace it with a collective debenture, guaranteed? With a 3 1/4 per cent interest rate?"

"If that is good, why isn't it better to have no interest at all?" inquired Senator Fulbright (D-Ark).

New Mexico Lays Down Conditions On Canadian Dam

SANTA FE, N. M. — (AP) — Before any dam is constructed on the Canadian River in West Texas, New Mexico wants three things, Gov. Thomas J. Mabry declared Wednesday.

They are:

1. A Canadian River compact between Texas and New Mexico, apportioning future use of the river's water.
2. Assurance that the proposed dam, when and if constructed, will comply in all respects with the compact agreement, even though it may require some revision of the present plans.
3. Protection of New Mexico water rights for possible further development in the Conchas Dam area northwest of Tucuman, on the Canadian, and for possible future developments on the Ute, Pajarito and Tucuman Creeks downstream from Conchas.

Gov. Mabry said he has transmitted the state's views on the Texas dam project to Secretary of Interior Chapman, to be made a part of the Canadian River Dam report submitted by the Bureau of Reclamation.

The Canadian River Dam would have a total capacity of 1,956,000 acre feet and would store water for municipal and industrial use for the Texas cities of Amarillo, Borger, Lamesa, Levelland, Littlefield, Lubbock, O'Donnell, Pampa, Plainview, Slaton and Tahoka.

Fireman's First Aid Teaching Backfires

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Fireman John C. Hees, 40, gave his Boy Scout son a lesson in first aid for an hour Tuesday night.

Then said son Robert: "But how do you do the fireman's lift?"

"Simple," replied the fireman. "I'll show you."

Hees then tossed the boy over his shoulder in proper fashion and straightened up. His heel caught in a rug.

The fireman was taken to French Hospital with a broken leg.

Midwest Shivers In Below-Zero Weather

By The Associated Press

The Midwest, raked by strong winds, snow and rain storms this week, shivered in freezing and below-zero weather Wednesday.

A fresh batch of cold air from the Hudson Bay country pushed into the Dakotas and Minnesota and spread over the north central region. Temperatures dropped to below zero in the Red River Valley and portions of North Dakota. The below-zero readings in North Dakota were the first in 10 days.

The cold air extended over the entire Midwest and Middle and North Atlantic regions. The chilly weather was felt in parts of the Lower Ohio Valley and in sections of Kansas and Missouri. The freezing temperatures in the Midwest were expected to remain for at least another 24 hours.

The mercury also was expected to drop over most of the north-eastern part of the country Wednesday night but the cold air moderated as it moved southward. Clear and cool weather was reported throughout the Rockies and the Pacific Northwest. Skies were sunny and the weather was warm in the Southwest.

Skies mostly were clear over most of the country and winds had diminished as the storm moved far inland in the Great Lakes region. There were showers in some parts of the South Atlantic states.

Eisenhower Requests Study Of Rejections

RYE, N. Y. — (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower wants the colleges to undertake a study of why so many American men were rejected for military service in World War II because of mental defects.

There were 2,000,000 of them, the Columbia University president told an alumni meeting Tuesday night.

He urged that colleges seek information on the causes, and help eliminate them.

No other nation involved in the war, he said, had a percentage one-fourth as large as this nation's.

Thousands of Scots left the highlands and emigrated after the defeat of "Bonnie Prince Charlie" in 1745.

Tribe Sluggers Shine In Drill

The Midland Indians continued their assault on batting practice pitchers at Indian Park Tuesday, getting in their best blicks of the training season as sunshine replaced the weekend sandstorms.

Meanwhile, more men poured into camp, creating a problem for Harold Webb. He isn't sure just how many or who he has out for the team.

The double-play combination of George Firnback and Quinten Basco continued to click like the machinery inside a well-oiled clock.

Basco has an exceptionally fast pair of hands and gets rid of the ball in quick style. Firnback crosses the bag fast and always is in position to throw to first.

Balch Improves
The most marked improvement in the infield is coming from Lonnie Balch, who has established himself at third base. He digs 'em out of the dirt just as easily as he takes 'em on the big hop.

Webb gave personal instructions to the Lubbock rookie in Tuesday's session, helping him add polish to his unbroken movement of fielding and throwing.

Big Jim Prince, Lou Dawson, Chuck Stephenson and Balch have been joined by Pat Lorenzo in the heavy-hitters' circle.

Lorenzo smashed out screamers to all fields Tuesday and lofted three to that well known territory outside the park.

Balch's hitting is improving steadily as he gets his eye on the ball. Werne Hurts

Harold Werne was the chief batting practice hurler again and looked better. He has an easy motion and a good, live ball.

Webb has announced the two-day workout schedule will continue until Saturday. A short morning drill will be held before leaving for Amarillo Saturday afternoon.

The Indians will spend the night in Amarillo and proceed to Borger for their first exhibition game Sunday afternoon.

They will return home Monday and get ready to open the home exhibition season against the Albuquerque Dukes in Indian Park Tuesday night.

AUSTIN—(AP)—Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd has returned to his desk after a five-week illness.

He went to a Temple hospital February 20 shortly after taking the oath of office. Shepperd was treated for a throat ailment.

Bulldogs Defeat Big Spring 7-3

The Midland Bulldogs notched their first victory of the season Tuesday, whipping the Big Spring Steers 7 to 3 in an exhibition tilt in Big Spring.

Bill Medart, the fire-ball right hander who came off the sick list only a few days ago, hurled five innings of no-hit, no-run ball to keep the Bulldogs on top.

Jimmy O'Neal pitched the last two innings, allowing only two hits.

Jimmy Chauncey, holding down the starting catcher's spot, led the Bulldogs at the plate with two for two. He clouted two line drive singles and drove in runs with both.

Bulldog Track Team Holds Outside Drills

Coach Tugboat Jones returned his Bulldog track team to outside drills Tuesday, working every man hard in preparation for Saturday's District 3-AA Track and Field Meet in Odessa.

The Purple thinly clad were forced into the gymnasium Monday by a sandstorm.

Coach Jones, with an eye on making every point possible, announced Russell Cox will enter the chinning contest in the junior division of the meet. Cox will complete the roster for the junior division.

Another outside drill was slated Wednesday and Coach Jones was to make his final decision on entries for each event in the 3-AA fracas.

Only Chick Evans (1916) and Bobby Jones (1930) have won the U. S. Amateur and Open Golf championships in the same year.

On what he has seen so far, the little manager with the big voice remains highly pleased with the deal in which he unloaded Sluggers Sid Gordon and Willard Marshall.

Shortstop Buddy Kerr and Pitcher Sam Webb on Boston in exchange for Alvin Dark and Eddie Stanky, a proven second-base combination.

New Deal All Around

"Maybe we won't hit so many home runs," he says, grimly, "but we'll get those double plays when we need them and we'll push across a run we really need now and then. These boys I've got now won't die with their bats on their shoulders."

With this last trade, only one Giant regular remains of the heavy-footed crew which three years ago set a major league record by blasting 221 home runs. He is Bobby Thomson, fleet young centerfielder who contributed 29 knocks to the total.

Otherwise, it is a new deal all around, except for the pitching staff, and if Leo can drive his hand-picked charges to better than their fifth place finish of last year he will have nothing to worry about for some time to come. President Horace Stoneham loved his sluggers, but he is a reasonable man.

Bauer Sisters Head For Ormond Beach

ORMOND BEACH, FLA.—(AP)—A pair of keen-eyed Texans are going to show up here this week with their shooting' irons—and a lot of people had better look out.

They are the Bauer sisters, Alice and Marlene, whose performances on golf courses lately have set sports fans talking. They're entered in the first Ormond Beach Invitational Golf Tourney which begins Thursday over the par-71 Ormond Beach Country Club layout.

Another Texan entered is Fred Mosely of San Antonio, all-service champ in 1949 and 1942. David Goldman of Dallas, former Walker Cup player, also is entered.

In a practice round Tuesday, Mosely shot a 69.

Qualifying is scheduled Thursday with match play running through Sunday.

MIDKIFF TO HOSPITAL
Herb Midkiff, Midland County rancher, is a medical patient at Western Clinic Hospital. He was admitted Wednesday morning for treatment for flu.

Stick Men

Bobby Thomson, left, and Don Mueller are expected to put punch into the Giants' attack. On basis of Phoenix, Ariz., performances, Manager Durocher will go along with Mueller, 311 in Minneapolis, in right field alongside Thomson, 27 home runs and .309 last trip.

Youthful Mother Held In Drowning Of 11-Day-Old Baby

AKRON, OHIO.—(AP)—An attractive, 19-year-old woman was held under guard in city hospital Wednesday, charged with drowning her baby.

Police Captain John F. Struzenski said the woman, Mrs. Angelo Rose Du Pala, had admitted holding the 11-day-old infant, Thomas, face downward in his bath water Tuesday.

The police captain said he had not been able to determine a motive for the act. A psychiatrist was called in to examine the woman last night, but he reported she was too agitated for immediate questioning.

Police said the woman's husband, Thomas R. Du Pala, a rubber company worker, reported he found her crying hysterically when he came home. He rushed the child to a hospital, but efforts to revive it failed.

The baby was the couple's only child. A first degree murder charge was placed against the woman after Coroner C. I. Martin reported the death a homicide.

Laredo Asks Ranger Guard For Election

LAREDO—(AP)—The aid of Texas Rangers in keeping order before and after Laredo's city election next week has been asked by county officials. Col. Homer Garrison, head of the Department of Public Safety, said at Austin he would decide Wednesday after a conference with Ranger Captain Alfred Ailee, whose district includes Laredo, whether Rangers would be sent here. The request was made by District Attorney E. James Kazen and Sheriff J. C. Martin. Kazen said "We do not want bloodshed, a repetition of 1934." Two persons were killed in an election that year. For the first time since 1934, the Independent Club here has opposition in the city election. The Popular Political Party has put a ticket into the race. E. J. Dryden is candidate for mayor on the Popular ticket. Hugh Cluck seeks reelection on the Independent Club slate. Dryden and his son, E. J. Dryden, Jr., who is running for city secretary, have charged poll tax violations and that citizens of Mexico and minors hold poll tax receipts. Garrison said at Austin that "I probably will send Rangers to Laredo, not only because the district attorney and sheriff have asked for them but also because members of the new party have asked, too."

Possemen Capture Negro Suspected Of Beating Two Women

LANETT, ALA.—(AP)—A negro wanted for questioning in the savage beating of two white women with an electric iron, surrendered to heavily armed possemen early Wednesday. "I ain't done nothing!" 26-year-old Jack Tucker called out to a band of about 100 manhunters who tracked him to the outskirts of this Alabama mill town of 6,000 near the Georgia line. Sheriff's Deputy C. H. Milford of Chambers County said the fugitive held his hands high and protested his innocence when bloodhounds sniffed him out. Alabama State Highway Patrolmen closed in and pleaded with the searcher to hurry to a neighbor's house without disturbance. Sheriff J. M. Abney had said he feared trouble when he described the 800-man posse as restless and "hot as hell." Widespread Search Tucker, however, was taken to the city jail at Opelika, and later to Montgomery without any untoward incident. He became the object of a widespread search after the assault on the two women became known. The victims—Mrs. Ella Barrow, 68, and her daughter Sara, 35—both were reported in a critical condition Wednesday at a hospital at nearby West Point, Ga. The Barrows are members of a wealthy and prominent family. The attack occurred Tuesday at the Barrows' large country home on a 500-acre farm a mile from Lanett. Officers said robbery was the apparent motive. There was no indication of rape. The mother and daughter were attacked as they listened to a radio. The younger woman staggered hysterically and bled to a neighbor's home to seek aid. She said the first they knew of their assailant's presence was when they saw him standing over them with the iron. Milford said a negro woman reported that Tucker had gone to the Barrow home. Police Chief Jack Rearden said Tucker had "a bad reputation." Tucker insisted to officers, however, that he was in Opelika when the women were attacked.

Refiners Warned Of Complacency In Depletion Fight

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—The Western Petroleum Refiners Association entered its final convention session Wednesday with an admonition from its President W. R. McDowell of Tulsa not to be "complacent" about the Truman Administration's "current attack on the depletion allowance in the income tax law." He said, "may well have to exclude many small refiners from the field of government contracts. Walter S. Hallanan of Pittsburgh, president of the National Petroleum Council, said a governmental proposal that would increase imports above "present ruinous levels," reduce the depletion allowance, invalidate Tidelands, establish federal control over production and distribution of natural gas and use propaganda to "smear oil producers as tax dodgers." Hallanan declared "There is always a last straw and we have just about come to that point now." He said the industry should "use bare knuckles" in fighting back. Other officers reelected included R. L. Tollett, Big Spring, Texas, as a vice president. Odessa Elected To Optometric Board DALLAS—(AP)—Dr. J. Herman Thomas of Fort Worth is president-elect of the Texas Optometric Association. He was elected Tuesday as the association closed its annual convention. He takes office in 1951. New directors elected were Dr. D. W. Leach, Odessa; Dr. John C. Graves, Kilgore; Dr. Jack Zacher, Talpa, and Dr. M. H. Allen, Corpus Christi.

Citrus Man Would Dodge Egg Surplus

COVINA, CALIF.—(AP)—Kermit Wilson wants to change an old White House tradition. He said he has sent this telegram to Senator Knowland (R-Calif): "Respectfully request you intercede with President and suggest rolling of oranges on White House lawn this Easter instead of eggs. This would be in line with government's recommended crop rotation principles and obviously a fair deal for all. Also, it will help take spotlight off Administration's embarrassing egg surplus. x x x" Wilson is the owner of a 48-acre citrus grove.
