★ IN HOLLYWOOD ★

Walter Saxer Worries About Present 'Shape' Of Things

HOLLYWOOD — Walter Saxer isn't worried about the shape of things to come. He's worried about the shape of things already here with movie kings and queens.

Saxer is a nervous, well-muscled man who teaches a rhythmic movement to movie stars.

He's been teaching stars how to make Renouars and Dalis out from their hips, ribs and shanks for 10 years. It isn't easy, says the torso Pygmalion. When he gets through with a thick-hipped, stumbling star, she's as lithe as Pavlova, but Saxer is ready for a month's rest.

But about his worries:

"Such physical inefficiencies," he wails to the walls of his mirrored studio.

"People on the screen do not know how to enter a room. They stick out in the wrong places. And the way they sit down—ugh! Audiences get tired just looking at those terrible movements."

He watched Saxer, who hops around like a ballet star, demonstrate how a glamor doll should sweep into a room and park on the sofa.

He was weary from an afternoon's workout with his prize pupil, Jennifer Jones, but he drew in his middle, flexed his shoulder bones and sailed right into it.

"You see," he said, "I make a beautiful picture. I am three-dimensional. There is posture all over—in my hands, my chin, my elbows, my feet. You see, I do not sit in the middle of the sofa and let myself spread out in an ugly way. You see I sit on the edge, thusly, with one leg behind the other and my hands gracefully arranged. A sofa, you see, is for background, not for sitting."

Indispensable

The lean poet of million-dollar bodies isn't sure how the movies got along without him. He arrived in the U. S. during the New York World's Fair as choreographer for the Swiss Pavilion dance troupe. Irene Selznick discovered him a couple of years later at Elizabeth Arden's beauty farm.

"Working for Arden," says Saxer, "was like being in the dog-house from sunup to sundown. I was glad when Mrs. Selznick sent Jennifer Jones to me and I had the chance to prepare her for 'The Song of Bernadette.' She was awkward, but today she walks and moves like beautiful music."

Saxer once "recreated" the bodies of Ingrid Bergman, Dr. Peter Lindstrom and daughter Pia in his studio.

"Ingrid wants too much to be very very good," he says. "Then she does things too well and it is bad. Her overperfection makes her tight and tense. She should go back to Mr. Selznick. He alone in Hollywood knows how to cover up the inefficiencies of stars."

Greta Garbo is indexed in Saxer's vital statistics as a star with a knockout body. "Not an ounce of excess flesh on her," he raves. And she has a sardonic sense of humor.

Whenever Saxer would tell her that her hips must be curved a certain way, Gee Gee would twist her mouth Bogart-fashion and mutter, "Who told you?"

Clifton Webb and Claudette Colbert are beautiful specimens, according to Saxer. "Beautifully controlled," he says of Claudette. Class Bad Girl.

"Paulette Goddard," he says, "doesn't stick to anything. She comes here to my studio, needing the rhythm and exercise so very, very much and she tells me what to do. You see, she does not like anything that is not all peaches and cream."

Saxer's satin-draped diploma goes to Gary Cooper.

"Ah," he rhapsodizes. "Gary has a big brain and a foxy eye. I make like this with my hands, Gary takes one look and he does it better. He is the most graceful of Hollywood male stars. He knows the poetry of movement."

DALLAS.—P.—Being neighborly cost a West Dallas man all the glass in his automobile.

"I loaned my car to a neighbor's wife so she could pick up her laundry and take her kids to the movie," he complained to Justice of the Peace W. E. (Bill) Richburg Monday.

The woman's husband saw her in the car, pushed her in another, then proceeded to break all the glass in the neighbor man's car with a heavy wrench.

Richburg said the jealous husband would get a lesson in neighborliness—when he found.

Families, Houses Become Smaller, More Monotonous

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK.—Families and houses are getting smaller today. Drive through the suburbs of any city and you can see many 8-to-12 room homes of 50 to 75 years ago standing boarded up and empty. Some have been turned into duplexes or triplexes. And still others are being torn down.

I hate to see these fine old houses die. It is like watching a kindly elephant go down. Architecturally, with their sprawling porches and gingerbread wooden trim, they may have been monstrosities. But they had a virtue above ordinary art—they were lived in, and well-lived in, by sprawling happy families. Whatever they lacked in beauty, as houses, they made up for in the love they held as homes.

Cells In A Beehive

The smaller, close-packed dwellings that are replacing them have many more conveniences. They do look neater, too, and they have gadgets in them no one even dreamed of in 1900. But they also often have the monotonous look of a row of cells in a beehive.

The idea used to be to build houses far enough apart so that each family would have some privacy, a lawn and backyard with space to raise a few chickens. Now, a lot of folks appear to be uneasy unless their houses are close enough for them to hear what the neighbors are calling each other.

And without getting maudlin about it, I sometimes feel sorry for these small families living in their small and sanitary houses. I guess this is progress, but I can't fight progress; but I can't, for the life of me, see just what the progress amounts to.

Andrews News

ANDREWS.—N. N. Jones recently was named Cubmaster of Cub Pack 56, at a meeting held in the elementary school cafeteria. Jones succeeds C. E. Robertson, R. Cunningham was appointed as secretary. Mrs. E. M. Taylor, Mrs. Helen McPherson, Mrs. Mel Everetts, Mrs. R. Cunningham and Mrs. Berry were named Den Mothers.

Billy Sue Patterson was appointed delegate to the Eighth District Convention of the Texas Federated Women's Clubs to be held in April in Big Spring. The appointment was made at a recent meeting of the Progressive Study Club.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Weaver and son, Joe Tom of Kermit, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Ray Foster of Eunice, N. M., were in Lovington, N. M., last week to attend the funeral of Pat Lee, a longtime friend of the family.

W. C. Arledge, Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Company field man, represented Andrews County at a banquet held recently in Midland. The Andrews County camp reported a perfect record for 1949, with no accidents or employe injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Connie Haskins left Saturday for Dallas. Mrs. Haskins is to undergo surgery.

Mrs. Johnnie Hinkle, who suffered a broken leg in an automobile accident recently, has been released from Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene, and is now at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pinnell and children and Mrs. D. M. Pinnell were Lubbock visitors last week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Wilson, G. N. McKinney and Mr. and Mrs. Othel Ogden and son Walker, have returned from a fishing trip to Lake Don Martin in Mexico.

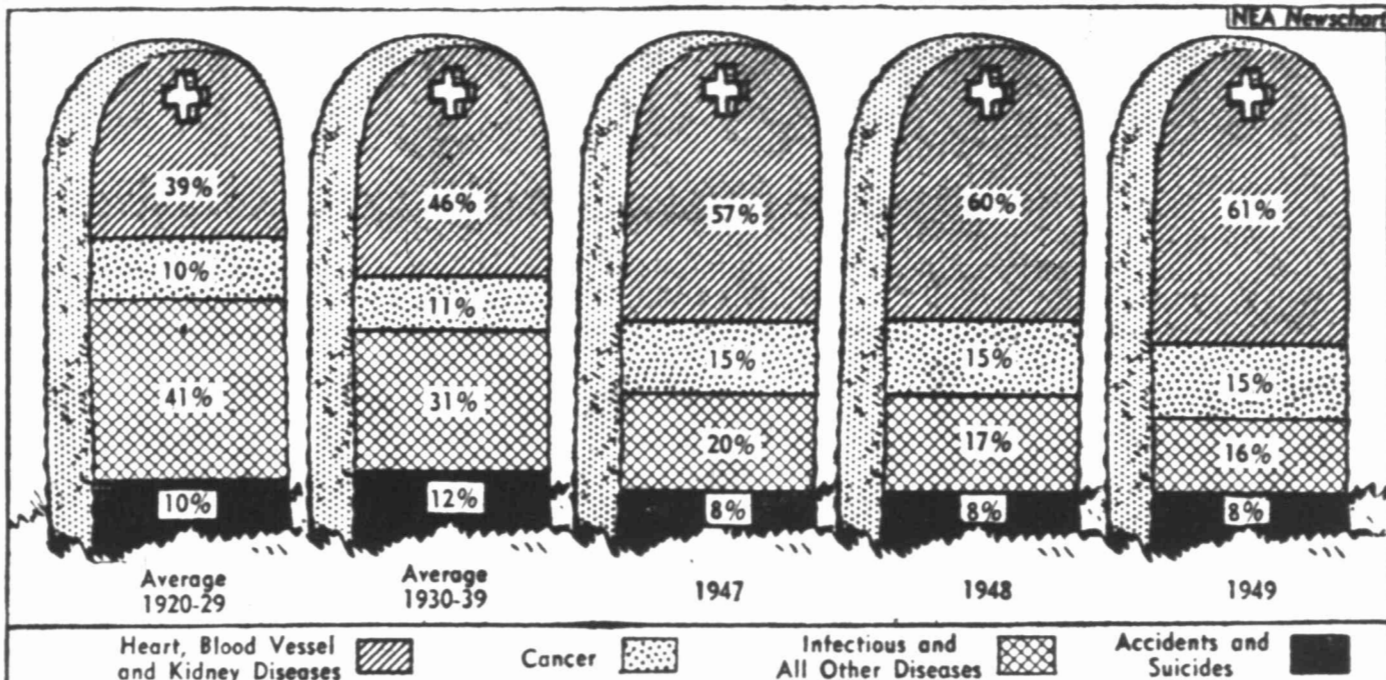

J. W. Turner, Hiram West and White West were in Antler, Okla., last week to attend the funeral of Bill Walters, former Andrews resident.

Mrs. C. O. Bennett was admitted to a Big Spring hospital for medical examination.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Ham and Elizabeth left Saturday for Corpus Christi where they will spend a few vacation. They were accompanied to Brownwood by Mrs. Aud Jones and daughter, Audena, who will visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Peacock are parents of a daughter, born March 28 in Andrews County Hospital.

Causes Of Death

The newschart above shows how diseases of the heart, blood and kidneys have grown as major causes of death—from 39 per cent in the twenties to 61 per cent in 1949—while deaths from infectious and other diseases have declined. The development of "miracle drugs" to curb infectious diseases, and the fact that people live longer now, accounts for the rise of diseases associated with old age.

PETER EDSON'S Washington News Notebook
Sly Rhetoricians Confuse Plebeians With Words Of Little Meaning

WASHINGTON.—(NEA)—How big words can be used by politicians to confuse the public is well illustrated by a story going the rounds in the Florida Democratic primary campaign. Rep. George A. Smathers is in a nip-and-tuck fight there to take the U. S. Senate seat away from Claude Pepper. Opponents of Pepper have started a whispering campaign against him.

"Senator Pepper," they confide, "is not only an extrovert, but he also practices nepotism."

If passed along in just the right tone of voice, this sounds terrible to the average Cracker, already badly confused by stories of Washington "perverts" and "communism."

Nobody using this story takes the trouble to explain that an "extrovert" is merely a person who expresses himself vigorously, or that "nepotism" means giving your relatives a job.

High Cost of Nose Counting

It will cost the U. S. government an average of about 89 cents a head to conduct the 1950 census. The total bill for counting about 151,000,000 noses is expected to be about $90,000,000. This includes cost of tabulating and publishing results. The job has to be completed before Dec. 31, 1952.

Weather Experts

Department of Agriculture and U. S. Weather Bureau officials don't like to talk for publication about dust storm possibilities in the great plains area. Principal reason is the effect on farm credit. Any prediction that a particular area is likely to have dust storms this year, because of low rainfall and lack of snow cover last winter, will cause banks to tighten up on their loans to farmers for spring planting.

Not Glad To Be Back

Secretary of State Dean Acheson was chipped as could be when he returned to the capital from his California speaking trip. He told his press conference brightly that he had enjoyed the California Spring climate and added with a laugh, "I wish I could say that I am glad to be back in Washington."

As a battery of press photographers closed in about him for a variety of angle shots, the secretary cracked, "I assure you I do not need this protection which is being furnished me."

The day before, there had been several congressional demands for his resignation. But when reporters questioned Acheson on his reaction to the charges being made against him he said, "I have not reacted yet. I suppose I should have, but I haven't. There has been no reaction, unfortunately as that may be."

Reformed

There has been a lot of talk in Congress about keeping questionable immigrants out of the United States. Senate Judiciary Committee, however, has recommended passage of a personal bill, introduced by Senator Harry Cain of Washington state, which would prevent deportation of a woman whom U. S. Immigration Service has been trying to send back to Canada since December, 1948. The case involves Mrs. Marie Yvonne Mueller, Department of Justice charges her with overstaying a visitor's permit issued to her in 1933, and with moral turpitude. Mrs. Mueller is the fourth wife of Paul J. Mueller and she has had four previous husbands. Mueller is an important labor union official in Washington state, which explains Senator Cain's interest. Senate Judiciary Committee recommends that deportation order be cancelled because Mrs. Mueller "has been completely rehabilitated" and because she and her husband are "respectable, trustworthy people."

Flying Saucer Talk

Biggest off-the-record story in Washington today is the flying saucer. Officially, Air Force and Navy officials deny the existence of the position that there ain't no such animal as a flying saucer. They never have seen one and have no photographs or visible proof. Privately most officials believe there's something to it.

Bulgaria Crossed Off

U. S. State Department has turned over to the Swiss government the job of clearing up American interests in Bulgaria, but there isn't much to do. Following recall of U. S. Minister Donald R. Heath and the breaking off of diplomatic relations with Bulgaria, there were only 64 Americans left in the country. Twenty-two of these have indicated they desire to leave Bulgaria as soon as they can get visas. Of the 22, seven have dual nationality and 15 are U. S. citizens. The other 42 choosing to remain are mostly older people who had been something to it.

born in the U. S. of Bulgarian parents or naturalized Americans who went back because they had inherited property. There are no American business interests in Bulgaria. Stevenson and American export shipping lines brought vessels into Black Sea ports once or twice a month, but their main cargo was supplies for the U. S. embassy. They took out little or no American exports. So American loss on closing down this operation was nil.

Hiss 'Not At Home'

Victor Lasky of the New York World Telegram and Sun, and Ralph de Toledano of Newsweek Magazine, had no luck whatever in getting any cooperation from Alger Hiss for their new book, "Seeds of Treason." It is the first effort to put together a connected story on the 17 months and 17 days from the time Whittaker Chambers first made public his charges against Hiss, to his conviction.

Lasky and Toledano both covered the original Hiss trial and the second trial for their publications. They found that their day-to-day stories did not present the picture in accurate perspective. Putting it in book form proved "difficult and exhausting," they confess. They wanted to explain Hiss, if they could, and went to him for help.

"After stalling over a period of weeks one of his (Hiss's) lawyers told us rudely, 'I can't expose Hiss to Red baiters,'" writes Toledano in the preface. Then he adds, "Why an innocent man, who protested that he hardly knew what a Red was, should be afraid of Red baiters was slightly puzzling."

Mother, Father Must Share Equally In Children's Esteem

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

One of the most foolish mistakes a woman can make is to line her children up on "her side" and see to it that she comes first with them, and that their father isn't really very important in their scheme of things.

Yet I frequently receive letters from men who say that their wives have done just that.

What the mothers hope to gain, I can't figure out. Perhaps they shut Dad out because they are determined to be first with their children at any cost.

But the cost is always great. Girls who are brought up to believe that fathers don't understand them, and that it is all right to deceive a father if mother is in on the deception, grow up to make poor wives. And boys who are always championed by "Mama" whenever Papa puts his foot down usually turn into "Mama's boys."

Also, the father who feels he doesn't share with their mother an

May 2 Set As Date For P-TA Installation

Date for the annual installation of all Parent-Teacher Association officers of Midland Units will be May 2 instead of May 9, the time originally set, it was decided at a meeting of the City Parent-Teacher Council Monday afternoon in the school superintendent's office.

The High School P-TA will be hostess this year for the joint installation ceremony, which will be conducted in the new school auditorium.

Plans for a large Midland delegation to be held April 21 in Abilene, were discussed. Members interested in going to this meeting are asked to notify the president of their P-TA unit so transportation can be arranged.

The goal for any mother to strive for is to encourage her children to love, respect and admire their father as much as they love, respect and admire her.

That way both parents get the most out of their children and the children get the most out of their two parents.

"Your father and I will talk it over," is always a better attitude for mother to take than "I'll see if I can't talk your father into it," or "You'd better not mention that to your father."

DATE PUDDING

By MRS. R. F. CARROLL
1113 North Colorado Street

Mix three beaten eggs and 1 cup sugar. Beat until mixture is light and fluffy. Add 4 tbs. flour, which has been sifted with 1/4 tsp. salt and 1 tsp. baking powder. Stir in 1 lb. dates, pitted and chopped, and 1 cup broken nuts.

Turn into a greased, 8-inch square pan and bake in a pan of hot water in a moderate, 350-degree oven for one hour.

Serve warm. Spoon out and top with whipped cream or hard sauce.

This recipe is supposed to serve six people, but I have found that it is so rich you can eat only a small portion of it at a time, and that this will serve several more than six.

Edward J. ### Mrs. Starley Is Girl Scouters' Guest Speaker

Mrs. J. E. Starley of Pecos, Girl Scout executive for the Permian Basin Area, was the guest of the Midland Girl Scout Association at its April meeting in the Trinity Episcopal Parish House Monday night. She discussed plans for various activities in the area, especially for the summer camp program at Mitre Peak Camp near Alpine.

Building committee members announced that the Midland Girl Scout Little House has been completed and the ground landscaped. The furniture has been ordered and as soon as it is in place and the grass has started to grow, the association plans an open house to permit inspection by the public.

Present plans are to begin using the building the last week in April. A final report on the recent Girl Scout cookie sale showed that the profit was $1,464.88, all of which is being spent on furnishings for the house.

Association members voted to make the cookie sale an annual event, to be conducted near the National Girl Scout birthday, March 12, each year. Funds from the sale will be used to maintain and improve the "Little House."

Printing As Mission Aid Is Subject For First Baptist WMS

A program centered around printing and its use in mission work was given for members of the First Baptist Women's Missionary Society who met Monday afternoon in the church. After the meeting, the group toured The Reporter - Telegram plant.

The Rebekah Circle was in charge of the program and Mrs. E. H. Thacker, circle chairman, was the leader. The topic was "Presses at Work for God." Mrs. George Johnson, Mrs. Clint Dunagan and Mrs. Thacker discussed questions of the general program subject. Mrs. Eddie Frank Conner led the devotional period.

PRINTING STRESSED

The importance of printing in carrying on mission work was stressed by the speakers. As examples, they used the church pamphlets, books and bulletins which are used in missions throughout the world and are printed in many languages. This literature is available to mission workers largely through support of the women's groups in the Baptist Church.

During the tour through The Reporter-Telegram, the complexity and cost of printing was emphasized, so members would realize the amount of effort that goes into the preparation of printed material for mission work.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. W. L. Johnson, Ruth Stumbo, Mrs. W. B. Preston, Mrs. J. P. McBee, Mrs. Vernon Yearby, Mrs. W. B. Johnston, Mrs. Billie Gilbert, Mrs. H. A. Palmer, Mrs. J. W. Congratulations, MHS Band

It was "first" all the way for the Midland High School Band as it made a clean sweep of top awards in the Region 8 Band Contest and Festival held here Saturday.

The fine MHS Band (Class AA) earned First Division ratings, the highest obtainable, in all divisions—concert, sight reading and marching.

It was the first time a Midland band ever has won First honors in all divisions in any single contest. The achievement evidences the rapid improvement and development of the musical organization under the direction of Jerry Hoffman.

In addition, 10 members of the band won First Division ratings for proficiency in solo and ensemble competition.

All in all, it was quite a memorable occasion for the Midland High School Band, which, by the way, also acted as host to the regional band festival for the first time.

Midland is proud of its First Division high school band and every Midlander joins in expressing congratulations and best wishes for continued success to the band members and to Director Jerry Hoffman.

Citizens soon will have the opportunity of showing their true appreciation to the MHS Band for its outstanding achievements by attending a Band-Aide-sponsored concert in which the musical organization will be presented to the public. The event will be held in the new high school auditorium, which should be filled to overflowing for the special attraction.

The MHS Bands of future years doubtless will continue to win First Division ratings as members of the fine Junior High School Bands graduate into the senior unit.

Congratulations also go to other area schools—Kermit, Andrews and Odessa in AA, and McComey, Wink and Seminole in A, whose bands won First ratings in the contest's three divisions.

The Permian Basin Empire well may be proud of its many fine high school bands.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Drew Pearson says: Former Presidents would agree with Truman re withholding loyalty files; Living Buddha asks Prime Minister Nehru to protect fleeing Mongols.

WASHINGTON—When it comes to turning over loyalty files to the Senate, the Republicans are up against the fact that William Howard Taft, father of their top leader, sided against them and with Harry Truman. So did six other Presidents of the United States and a House Judiciary committee.

President George Washington was the first to say flatly "no" in 1796 when he refused to give the House a copy of instructions that the U. S. diplomats who had negotiated a treaty with Great Britain, George Washington said: "As it is essential to the due administration of the government that the boundaries fixed by the Constitution should be preserved, a just regard to the Constitution and to the duty of my office forbids a compliance with your request."

President Thomas Jefferson continued the precedent by refusing to allow two Cabinet members to supply documents at the Aaron Burr trial. President James Monroe also declined to give up papers about the conduct of naval officers, while Andrew Jackson was ordered by the Senate to supply a memo read by him to his Cabinet on removal of public money from the Bank of the United States. He refused.

Later President Grover Cleveland backed up his attorney general who would not give the Senate documents on the removal of a district attorney.

President John Tyler even sent a message to Congress spelling out his reasons for refusing to give War Department reports on Cherokee Indians to the House of Representatives.

Senator Taft's father spelled out the issue quite clearly, though it was after he left the White House. "The President," he said, "is required by the Constitution, from time to time to give Congress information on the state of the Union. But this does not enable Congress or either House to elicit from him confidential information which he has acquired for the purpose of enabling him to discharge his constitutional duties, if he does not deem the disclosure of such information prudent or in the public interest."

In 1879 the House Judiciary Committee once rebuked an investigating committee for trying to pry out State Department records regarding the conduct of George F. Seward, a consul-general in China. "Under our theory of government," the Judiciary Committee ruled, "all the records of the Executive Departments are under the control of the President. Whenever the President has returned (as sometimes he has) that in his judgment it was not consistent with the public interest to give the House such information, no further proceedings have ever been taken to compel the production of such information. Indeed, upon principle, it would seem this must be so. The mischief of the House calling for documents might easily be a very great one."

Blocking Asiatic Communism This column recently obtained a copy of a letter written to Prime Minister Nehru of India by the Living Buddha of Western Mongolia, now a refugee in Baltimore living under the wing of Owen Lattimore, the Johns Hopkins professor whom Senator McCarthy has charged with being the top communist spy in the United States. India long has been considered by the United States as the key country in blocking the spread of Communism, which is one reason we gave Prime Minister Nehru the royal-cerpet treatment on his visit here last Fall. The Living Buddha seems to have similar views. Any-

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Late Card Authority Written for NEA Service

There is unending interest in the planning and execution of the squeeze play in its varied forms. In today's hand, before declarer could perfect the squeeze that enabled him to make his contract, it was necessary for him to transfer the squeeze from one opponent's hand to the other.

West won the first three tricks with the king, queen and ace of diamonds, East discarding the seven of spades and deuce of clubs. West now shifted to the ten of spades, which was won in dummy with the ace.

Declarer realized that his only chance to make the contract was to develop some type of squeeze. Up to this point the play seemed to indicate that the queen and jack of spades were in the East hand. West should hold the king of clubs to justify his opening bid.

If East held the jack of clubs, he might be squeezed between the spade and club suits; but the jack of clubs would have to be set up as the high card in the club suit, transferring the squeeze to East's hand.

Declarer played two rounds of trumps, ending in his own hand, then led the queen of clubs. West covered with the king and dummy's ace won. A heart was led from dummy and declarer ran off all of his remaining trumps, discarding a low spade and the ten of clubs from dummy.

East was pressed for a discard on the last trump. To protect the queen-jack of spades, he discarded the jack of clubs, hoping that his partner held the nine; but declarer cashed the nine of clubs and claimed the last trick with dummy's king of spades.

Hearing Aid Must Be Adjusted Carefully to Get Good Results

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M.D. Written for NEA Service

An electrical hearing aid has many intricate parts and even if adjusted to the hearing of the wearer at first may require additional adjustment later on. The batteries which supply the electrical energy have to be kept up. A hearing aid sometimes is worn for a while with satisfaction and then discarded because it does not seem to continue to supply the benefit which it did at first. This is not always the fault of the device and sometimes all that is necessary is suitable adjustment.

Variety of Models Several manufacturers have acceptable instruments on the market. There are several varieties and models to choose from. Whether or not the manufacturer or agent supplies an adjustment service for those whose instruments require it is one of the factors to be used in picking the hearing aid.

In choosing a hearing aid, it is important to pick one which, if possible, can be adjusted to the peculiar defects in hearing of the person who wears it. This requires some knowledge of the degree of hearing loss and the nature of it, that is whether the loss is greater for some tones than for others.

Hearing is often better some days than others. A person who is slightly deaf may be able to hear spoken voices well in a relatively quiet room but hardly able to hear anything when there is noise in the background, such as comes from street cars or elevated trains. Hearing for such things as symphonic music may be retained after ordinary business conversation has become seriously impaired.

Loss of hearing usually is not alike for the different tones; also the hearing loss may not be equal in both ears. Many people, for example, can continue to hear low tones just about as well as ever even after their ability to hear high tones, such as a high-pitched voice, has become seriously impaired.

A person who is slightly deaf may be able to hear spoken voices well in a relatively quiet room but hardly able to hear anything when there is noise in the background, such as comes from street cars or elevated trains. Distant Star BY HERMINA BLACK

CLEMENCY leaned back on the wooden seat of the waiting room of the Bellevue Employment agency and wondered why it was necessary for prospective employees to sit on anything quite so hard.

The room was bare and austere; decorated, though that hardly seemed the word, by a large square mirror. It was probably put there on the wall as a hint to those being called upon to interview important clients of the firm to make sure that they presented a scrupulously neat appearance.

Clemency looked at her reflection in it and the reflection looked back at her without any of the satisfaction which an ornamental young woman of 22 has the right to feel with the knowledge that she is rather charming to look at. Up to now this particular young woman had found good looks rather more of a liability than an asset. Quite a number of women seemed to prefer their children's nursery governess to be elderly and not so good looking.

She was conscious of mounting nervousness if she didn't get a job soon she would have to go home and that was the last thing she wanted to happen. The little flower-decked railway station at Belsham Lacy the country town in the West Country of England where her father's legal practice was established, seemed like a prison gate.

At that moment the door of the inner sanctuary opened and the tall, fair girl who had gone in last came out, shutting the door behind her.

Clemency glanced at her hoping to ask the outcome of the interview to which the girl had been called 10 minutes ago. Their eyes met, as though in answer to her thought, the other paused beside her.

"No luck. She wanted me to go abroad, but I don't intend to do myself up. When my fiance comes back from Germany we'll be getting married."

THE office door opened again and Miss Simpson, the proprietress of the agency, looked out. "Miss Norton?" She beckoned. Clemency rose at once to obey the summons, with a smile at the fair girl.

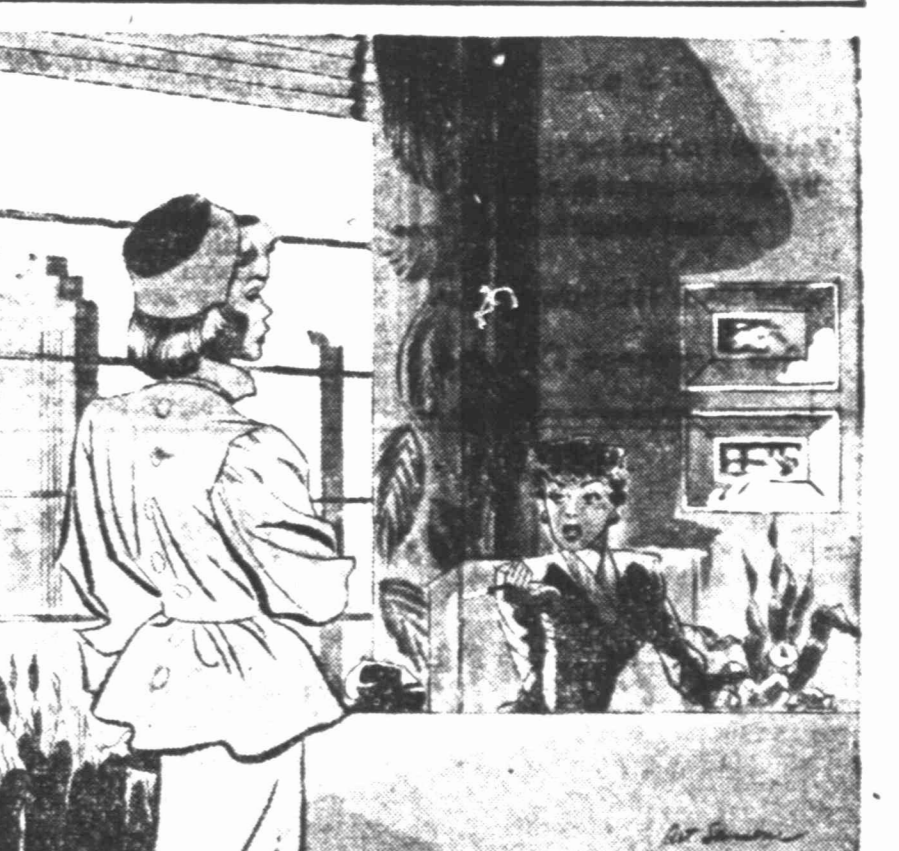

Miss Simpson drew the door, she was holding a little closer. "Just a minute," she said in a low voice. "Is he no use wasting any more of my client's time unless you are willing to consider a post abroad—North Africa?"

North Africa? Farther than Clemency had ever hoped to go. Visions of things she had always dreamed after a little brilliantly out. Her heart gave a little excited leap, but her voice—the and a particularly pretty speaking voice—was calm as she answered: "I've no objection to going anywhere abroad."

"Good." Miss Simpson motioned her to follow. As she entered the inner office she said: "I don't think we need despair Mrs. Ambery. There is the other young woman about whom I spoke. I think she would suit you."

"That sounds too good to be true." There was a touch of acidity in the slow slightly drawing voice. Clemency's first impressions of Mrs. Ambery were that she looked as though she had stepped out of the pages of a fashion magazine and that she was one of the most breath-taken lovely creatures she had ever seen. She had dark red hair and the swiftest skin that goes with it. The whole effect was so dazzling that Clemency did not attempt to analyze them.

Sir William Blackstone, great English legal authority, was a firm believer in witches.

Clemency noted that Syre Ambery had a distinct suggestion of bad temper about her lips.

to the door disappeared through another door on the other side of the room.

MRS. AMBERLY lit a cigarette as she appraised Clemency. Then: "Are you sure you are willing to go to North Africa?" she asked. "Make up your mind definitely before we go any further. I would be too crasching boring to find out all about you and then have you say, like that idiot who just left, that you don't want to travel."

"On the contrary," Clemency replied quietly, "there is nothing I'd like better than to travel."

"Good." Clemency's prospective employer's smile seemed spontaneous and brilliant, although it did not change her eyes. They were strange eyes, almost shaped with an uncommon shade of hazel-green with a line of gold around the edge of the iris.

She continued: "I've one little girl, nearly four years old. She's rather out of hand at present. I brought her back for a tonsil operation and her governess with her. I thought the governess would go back with me—but she suddenly decided that she must stay here. A most abominably dirty little girl."

"I don't intend to do anything about that. I'm not shocking you?" "If people don't like children, they just don't," said Clemency. "Exactly you and Baba have one wing of the house practically to yourselves and your own courtyard. There's a car for your use whenever you want to go out and can arrange time off. We have an Arab nursery maid whose quite good. I'd like you to agree to stay for two years."

"You might want me to leave long before that?" "Not as long as you carry out the duties I have outlined. The salary is 200 pounds a year."

"It sounds wonderful." "One more thing. Are you engaged or anything like that?" "Nothing."

"You won't suddenly want to get married then?" "I should think it the most unlikely thing in the world."

"Then, will you be ready a week from today? And can you come and see me at the Savoy tomorrow at 4?" "If you care to take up my references quickly I could start tomorrow," said Clemency.

"Oh, bother the references. I'm sure you won't disappear with my jewelry." Syre's laugh could be pretty though it was a little harsh. "Come tomorrow. As a matter of fact I want to go out of town for the week-end and if you were with Baba it would be a relief. What's your name?" "No, Clemency Norton."

For A Short Bob: Self Scissoring

A sharp pair of scissors and a simple technique provide the pattern for home hair-cutting. The first step (upper left) is parting off hair one inch square at the scalp. Next, taper one strand at a time with scissors held with thumb and third finger. The best practice is to trim hair slightly longer than the wanted length. To cut bangs (lower left), taper them first and trim edges into a straight line. The result (above) is a successful short snip.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

To keep a short bob trim and neat, most women have to have it cut and shaped every two or three weeks. This means a dent in the beauty budget unless you develop a home scissors technique. To be your own barber, you need a sharp pair of scissors, some knowledge, and a lot of courage. Your

Guitar Plays Classics For CMA Audience

The guitar, an instrument familiar to West Texans as a background for cowboy songs and yodels, became a vehicle for the classics Monday night when Andres Segovia played in the Midland High School Auditorium. He was presented by the Civic Music Association.

Segovia, a native Spaniard and one of the most popular and talented of modern guitarists, convinced Midlanders that the guitar is an instrument of the concert stage as well as the cowboy camp. His selections ranged from Bach to Albeniz, but all were played with the same relaxed air and technical precision.

One of the most interesting of his selections was "Etude" by Tarrega, a quiet and very technical work. In its many runs, Segovia displayed a technique and finger agility that was fascinating and almost impossibly precise.

Probably the most familiar number on the program was Granados' "Danza in E." This was the first of four native Spanish numbers that made up the last section of the program. The others were "Serenata" by Malaga and "Granada" and "Sevilla" by Albeniz. The two Albeniz numbers showed a contrast between two types of Spanish music, the quiet and the fiery, and the ability of the artist to change quickly the mood of the music as well as its tempo.

MUSIC OF OLD MASTERS
Segovia's first number was "Suite in D" by Robert De Visco, a Sevillian composer. It was in four movements—entre, bourree, sarabande and minuet. A "Scarlati" "Sonata," composed for the harpsichord, was the second selection on the program. The rather flat tone of the harpsichord was well duplicated by Segovia on the guitar in a selection reminiscent of an Eighteenth-Century drawing room.

Bach's "Prelude and Gavotte" and "Variation on a Theme by Mozart" by Sor again showed the adaptability of the guitar to classical music.

Turning from the classics, Segovia chose four contemporary works, all written for the guitar, as his second group of numbers. "Pandangulo," written by Turina and dedicated to Segovia, was the first Spanish music of the program. The contrasts between light and dark, quiet, rather mournful melodies and gay passages, showed the wide range of the guitar and the deep tonal quality so rarely heard in the instrument.

"Cancion and Danza" by Torroba and "Peruvian Melodia" by Crespo, both dedicated to Segovia, were two short melodious works.—F. H.

Fashion Helps Hide Defects

The woman who has a problem resulting from a long, thin neck has fashion on her side this Spring. The high, close fitting necklines found on many of the new suits and blouses are just right for concealing a thin neck.

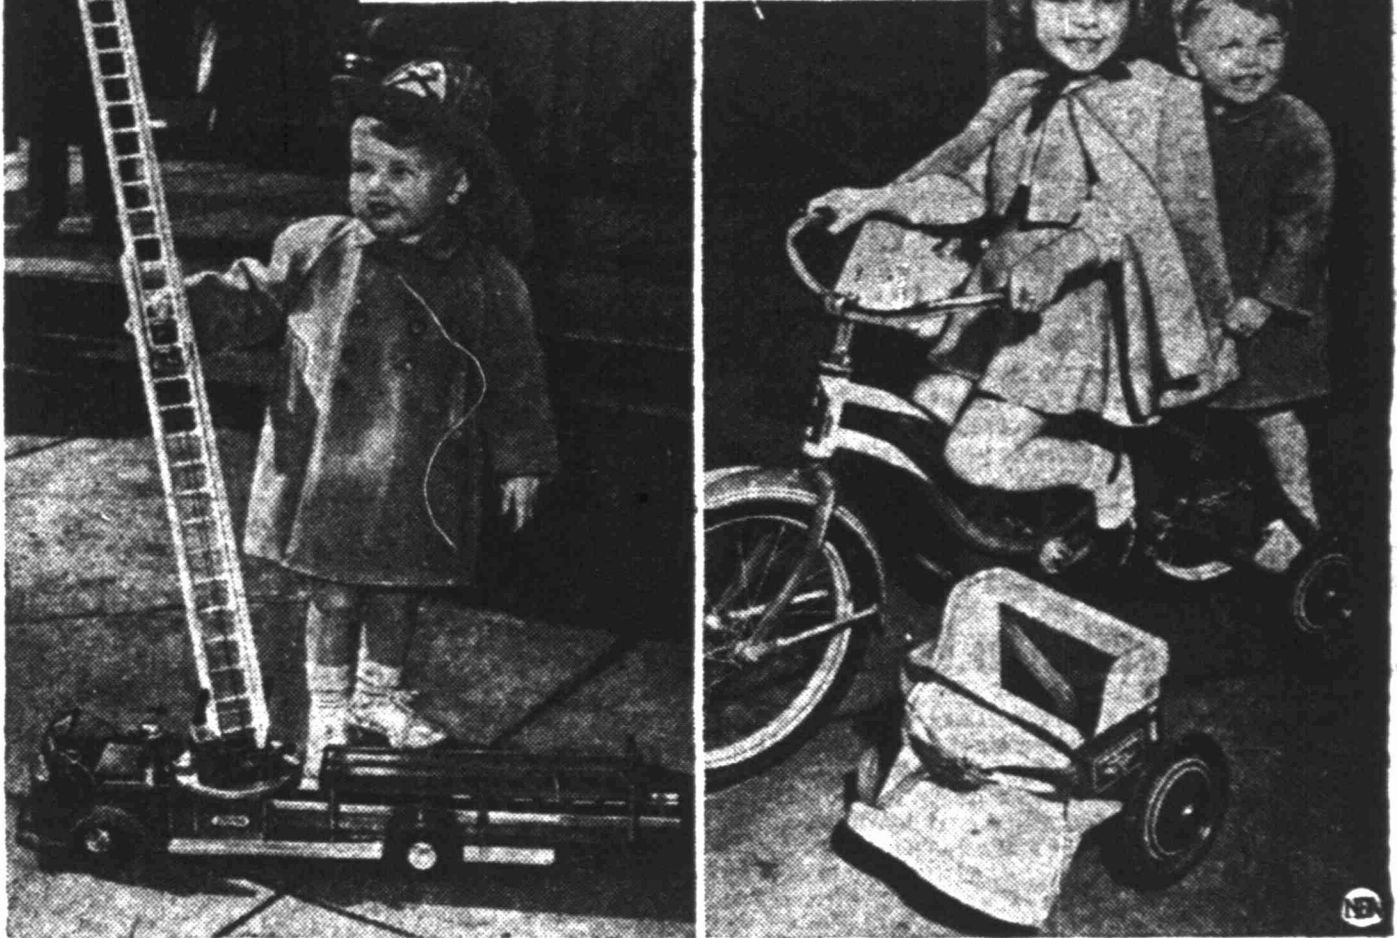

If you have a long neck, you'll be wise to stay away from collarless coats, suits and dresses. Avoid, too, the shingled hairline and keep your hair long enough to create a graceful line at the back of your neck. Be sure that your necklines fit well and are snug.

Any type of neckline fullness is right for you. Thus, blouses with ruffles, or with bows, are your dish. Try the frilly nylon blouses; they look soft and feminine and are practical.

The stress on scarves this Spring is also just right for you. Shaded silks and chiffons, taffetas and rayon faille are among the materials fashioning high style scarves which conceal your neck. These scarves can be given tricky twists with large silk roses and long single strands of pearls.

TOY PREVIEW

New toys shown recently in New York include this scale model of an aerial fire engine (left) and a convertible four-wheel bike. The bike keeps pace with the growth of a child from three to seven years. It has a special seat expansion and extra balance wheels which are removable.

By GALE DUGAS
NEW YORK—The toys previewed at the 1950 American Toy Fair are spectacular and practical. The direct results of child research, they are aimed at increased play value for the different age levels.

Leading off the list is a convertible four-wheel bike which, because it uses an internal locking device rather than the conventional seat post clamp, permits seven-inch expansion of the seat to pedal length. This frame makes it possible, for the first time, to provide the right bike size for a three-year-old and, by adjusting the frame, to keep up with body growth until the child is seven. The extra balance wheels are designed to be removed later and converted into a trailer, doll stroller, or shopping cart.

A new doll which is nearly alive was molded life-size from a lately invented plastic resembling human skin. Given sharply defined features, it is an exact replica of a young new baby.

Terminal Lions Club Performs Chamber Of Commerce Function With Invitation Letter

Letters listing the possibilities that are available at Terminal, Texas, have been mailed by the Lions Club of that location to other Lions clubs in the nation.

Terminal aims to become a thriving industrial city, the letter explains. The Lions Club there performs as a Chamber of Commerce.

Here is the letter:

"Midland Air Terminal is the former Midland Army Air Field, the largest Bomber School in the world, from which the 'Hell from Heaven' boys originated. It is now owned by, and is a part of, the City of Midland. Located eight miles from downtown Midland.

"This is now being converted into a residential and industrial section and offers exceptional opportunities for any industry that wishes to secure a desirable location. This prospectus is put out by the Terminal Lions Club in order to acquaint industries with the excellent opportunities offered here, and inviting them to investigate.

"Terminal, as it is called, is located in the heart of the Permian Basin, the largest existing oil producing area in the world. Thousands of oil wells dot this area and bring related industries of untold numbers to this area with large payrolls and sales of oil field equipment and supplies. Every oil well supply company in the world is represented in the Permian Basin.

"Terminal is located approximately 10 miles from Odessa, and is half way between Fort Worth and El Paso, 315 miles from each. The climate is typical of West Texas and while the Army was here the record shows that the weather was suitable 93 per cent of the time for flying. Ranching and agriculture also are very active here, making a well balanced and diversified community.

Transportation
"Terminal is well provided with transportation. The Texas and Pacific Railroad has a siding which serves Terminal. The City of Midland owns the tracks on their property and the warehouses have loading docks on the railroad side. In addition to the dock area there is room to load twenty cars on tracks which are accessible to trucks.

"All the motor freight lines leave freight at this point. Highway U. S.

80 passes on one side of Terminal and many truck lines pass here daily.

"We have local and long distance bus lines for service to any part of the U. S. and have regular mail in and out of Terminal.

"Three air lines, the American, Continental, and Pioneer have a total of seventeen landings and take off each day. From here one can travel to any place in the world and can ship air freight or air express to any point.

"Terminal has an abundant supply of good water with a modern up-to-date water distribution system. A full time fire department is maintained with good equipment, plenty of fire hydrants and an automatic fire alarm system to protect the warehouses.

"A sewage disposal system is maintained and its operation is excellent. A main gas line carrying 800 pounds per square inch passes close to the field and supplies all the natural gas that would be needed for any industry. There is also a high voltage electric line that enters the field that can supply any amount of current that would be required. The present entrance voltage is 66,000.

Paving, Drainage
"The field was laid out and built according to Army standards and has good street paving and adequate drainage. The buildings are well constructed and while they were built for Army use they are available for industrial units.

"Quarters for about one thousand families are available. Some buildings have already been converted into very desirable quarters and others remain to be remodeled.

"Warehouses and hangars are available for storage and industries also ground school buildings and other buildings that would be excellent for manufacturing and industries. Buildings have 9,000 square feet and over and have good floors and roofs. They are suited for any type of industry; could be readily made suitable for cold storage, or manufacturing.

"The Terminal Lions Club invites investigation by any individual, firm or company that has need for an excellent location for any type of storage, industry, or manufacturing, with all the facilities re-

Abundant Living

By E. STANLEY JONES

Pa. 23.

FAITH IN HIS FAITH

We did not quite finish the step of the inward repetition of the words, "In quietness and confidence shall be my strength." If "confidence" is having faith with God, then the Christian life is not lifting oneself by the bootstraps. It is linking our littleness with His greatness, our incompleteness with His completeness. It is doing what the little boy did when he offered his five loaves and two fishes to Christ. That multitude could not be fed without His co-operation, and the feeding couldn't be done with his five loaves and fishes alone. He and Christ together did everything necessary.

Very often when I haven't faith in my faith, I have to have faith in His faith. He makes me believe in myself and my possibilities, when I simply can't. I have to rise to His faith in me. A woman who was inwardly collapsed said to me, "Well, I have no faith of my own, but I do have faith in your faith." "Good," I replied, "take faith in my faith as a first step, and then you will go on to something infinitely better—faith in His faith." With faith in His faith you can do anything—anything that ought to be done.

There is a passage which touches your need. "For the Eternal . . . will not let you go." (Deuteronomy 3:1, Moffatt.) Faith is not merely your holding on to God—it is God holding on to you. He will not let you go! As Walt Whitman puts it, "Not until the sun refuses to shine, do I refuse you." Then keep saying to your soul, "Your strength is quiet faith." (Isaiah 30:15, Moffatt.) Then repeat to your soul these words: "To say what ought to be done."

cannot be a brief and a complete statement of atheism." It is. Say to yourself, "What ought to be done, and I will make it so." And you will. You will go beyond yourself.

O living Christ, I see that life is communion—a union with Thee. Not merely in the quiet segregated moments, but in the moments of stress and strain and toil. I now see I can be the happy warrior, for I am drawing heavily on Thy power and going forth in Thy confidence. I can actually do what I can't. I thank Thee, I thank Thee. Amen.

HEARTLAND OF AMERICA

Yes, The Prudential Insurance Company of America is going to make Texas home—by establishing a home office in your state to serve you more efficiently.

In this modern home office in HOUSTON will be centralized all our facilities for serving the States of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, and Kansas.

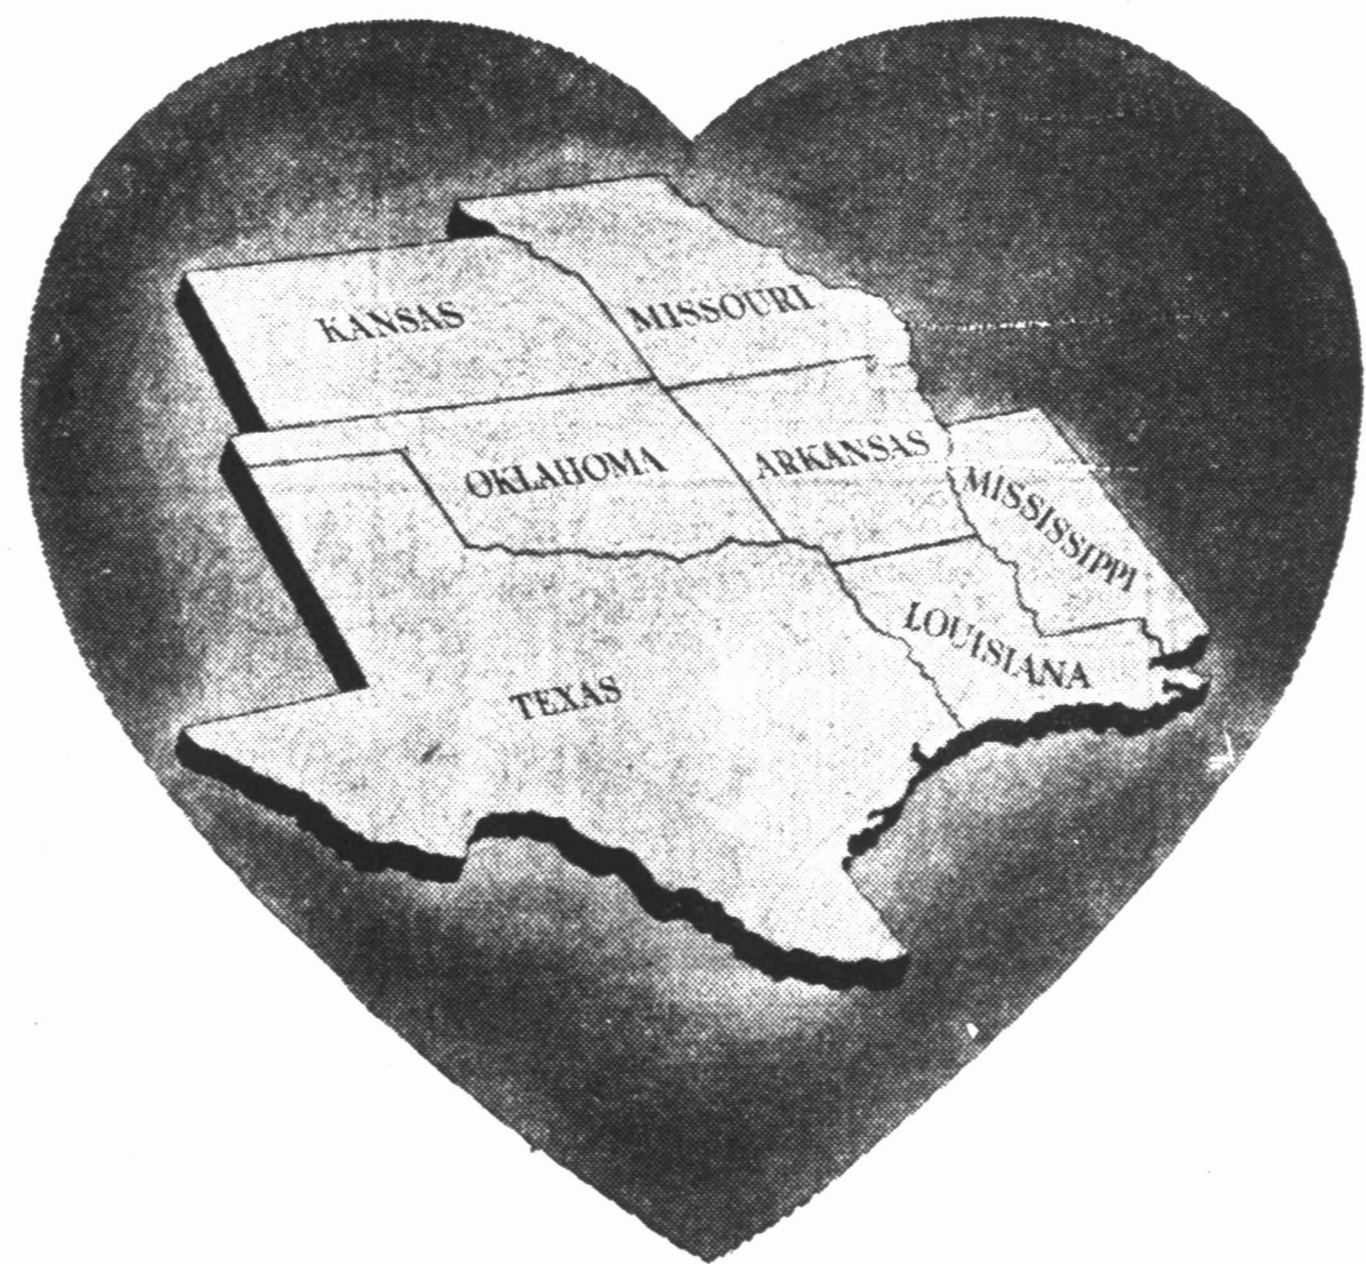

Our objective in establishing this office is to provide even better life insurance service to your community. It will also enable us to do a still better job of making Prudential dollars available to industry, and to individuals interested in owning their own homes, ranches, or farms.

This new Home Office will be the third of its kind announced by THE PRUDENTIAL. In 1948 the Western Home Office was opened in Los Angeles to administer the Company's business in the 11 western states and Hawaii. A similar office will be opened soon in Toronto to handle our Canadian business.

The Prudential was founded in 1875 as the Prudential Friendly Society to bring life insurance protection to the working man on terms he could afford.

As the original name implied, it was a friendly company whose operations were geared to the needs of its policyholders. Throughout our 75 years of service, we have kept it that way. And today, as we celebrate our 75th Anniversary year, one in every six persons in the United States is a Prudential policyholder.

Our decision to place a home office in your state is further tangible proof of our determination that THE PRUDENTIAL shall never grow away from the people it was created to serve.

The Heartland of America is the nation's biggest bright spot. During the last 10 years, its growth . . . in population . . . industry . . . manufacturing . . . farming . . . finance . . . has been far greater than the rest of the United States.

The Prudential is proud of its contribution to this progress through its investments in homes, farms, ranches, industries, which now total more than 750 million dollars.

But Mugwump said: "I betcha I can make you say 'Oh no I haven't'!" Muscle Monkey said Mugwump couldn't either make him say "Oh no I haven't" and so Mugwump said: "Once upon a time there was an Elephant who had wheels where his feet ought to be, and he had ears like a donkey and a nose like a rabbit and a tail like a lion." "My, my, my!" said Muscle Monkey. "It's just a playlike story," Mugwump explained. "Uhuh," said Muscle Monkey, "but I want to hear about it." Mugwump explained that the elephant with wheels where his feet ought to be never ran or walked anywhere in his life. He always rolled on his wheels wherever he wanted to go.

Muscle Monkey was very excited to hear it. He pushed over another tree with his hands he was so excited. He wanted to hear the rest of the story about the elephant. "What happened to him?" Muscle Monkey asked. "Where did he go?" Mugwump laughed and shook his head. "Now, now," Mugwump said, "I betcha you already have heard the story."

"Oh no I haven't!" Muscle Monkey said, and then he began to laugh. Mugwump laughed with him, because Muscle Monkey had said "Oh no I haven't!" Mugwump had tricked him into saying it, although Muscle Monkey had said that nobody could make him say or do anything. And that will show you, I think, how big strong muscles like Muscle Monkey's aren't nearly as happy a thing to have as muscles in the head like Mugwump's thinking muscles—the muscles that Mugwump used to do this. "Oh no I haven't!" Happy day!

Laredo, Mission To Break Calm Of City Elections In Texas

By The Associated Press
Heated campaigns in Laredo and Mission promised to bring a big vote, but interest in many municipal elections in Texas Tuesday has been low.

Cities not under home rule charter hold elections to select city officials and many have special issues to be voted upon.

Texas Rangers have been standing guard in Laredo since last Friday—requested by both sides in the fiery campaign.

The Rangers are at the Texas-Mexican border city to maintain order and insure a quiet, bloodless election.

Mayor Hugh S. Cluck heads the incumbent party at Laredo, called the Independent Club. The Popular Party, headed by E. J. Dryden, Sr., its candidate for mayor, is the first organized opposition encountered by the old party since the 1934 election.

Both sides predicted victory. Few Special Issues

Charges of lies, special privilege and political machinations have been exchanged by various candidates at Mission.

Three candidates want to be mayor of Mission—Logan Duncan of the Citizens ticket, O. V. Bridges, a city commissioner running as an independent, and John Peters.

A $600,000 water and sewer system bond issue is to be voted upon in Kilgore, while voters at Port Arthur will name city officers, vote on six charter amendments and decide two referendums.

Lubbock voters will decide whether the city should apply for a 600-unit federal low rent housing project. Odessa has a street closing proposition on the ballot.

No Such Thing As 'Non-Virgin' Club, Says Borger Jury

BORGER.—(P)—There is no such thing as a "Non-Virgin" club among teenagers in Borger, the Hutchinson County grand jury has reported.

The newspaper articles had said there was evidence such a club existed and that it was believed to require its members to have sexual intercourse at least once a week.

The grand jury report Monday described this as "wholly without basis in fact, and completely unwarranted upon the basis of the suspicions and rumors it repeats."

In publishing reports of the club The Borger News-Herald said its information did not consist of proved facts. But the paper said the alleged existence of such a club became a matter of common gossip in Borger.

Commenting editorially on the grand jury report, which it printed in full, the newspaper said:

"It was only after a period of several weeks of considering information, most of which was volunteered, during which time the alleged existence of such a club became a matter of common gossip in the community, that The News-Herald finally released its article.

"During this time the city editor was in close contact with certain local officials, and the article itself was not published until after it had been shown to both Sheriff Hugh Anderson and Superintendent (of schools) D. A. Cryer."

The newspaper's editorial said the grand jury report should comfort parents of the community.

The report was made to the 84th District Court at Stinnett. It was signed by Foreman Martin Beasley and 11 other jurors.

The report then said flatly: "We report that there is no such club as the alleged 'non-virgin club' in existence in the Borger High School nor among its students, nor otherwise existing in this county x x x."

"In particular, we report that the grand jury has investigated the incident wherein a young man of this community was supposed to have been invited to attend a meeting of the alleged 'Non-Virgin Club' where he might be accorded the privilege of 'initiating' a new member, during which time the alleged existence of such a club became a matter of common gossip in the community, that The News-Herald finally released its article.

"This much has been established not only by the testimony of the young man in question, but by other independent investigation."

Texas Gain Paces National Increase In Crude Oil Output

TULSA, OKLA.—(P)—The United States daily average crude oil production during the week ended April 1 was 32,635 barrels more than in the previous week, the Oil and Gas Journal reported Tuesday.

Total output, the Journal said, averaged 4,809,300 barrels daily.

With only one day of an increased allowable for April included, Texas jumped 30,625 barrels to 1,859,075 barrels, the healthiest gain.

Other major increases included: Colorado up 2,900 barrels to 60,200; the Eastern fields, up 2,150 to 58,850; Illinois and Kansas, each 1,700 barrels to 180,800 and 266,400, respectively; Oklahoma, 1,650 to 421,800; Mississippi, 1,150 to 98,850; Montana and Indiana, up 1,100 to 23,100 and 28,000, respectively.

Arkansas was up 100 barrels to 80,700, and Louisiana added 900 to 507,000.

Top losses were in California, down 1,100 barrels to 860,700, and Wyoming, also off 1,100 to 157,000.

Disappearance Of Traitor Is Ruled Possible Suicide

LOS ANGELES.—(P)—The sheriff's office Tuesday listed the puzzling disappearance of a convicted wartime traitor as a possible suicide.

Theodore Donay, 51, a Detroit importer who served more than six years in prison for failing to reveal the whereabouts of an escaped Nazi flier, vanished Saturday from Catalina Island.

His disappearance took a dramatic twist as it coincided with the sighting of a mysterious submarine in Southern California coastal waters.

However, authorities said they had no concrete evidence by which to tie the two events together.

Found at sea Sunday was the 18-foot motorboat the German-born Donay had rented from an Avalon dock. The boat was empty save for a suitcase full of clothing.

Sheriff's Captain Garner Brown Monday released a note found in Donay's Avalon hotel room. Brown said it indicated suicide. It read in part:

"I am lying under the constant fear of deportation through the Detroit immigration authorities. x x x The outlook for my future is a very dark one. x x x Goodbye my good friends and thank you so very much for all the good things you did to me. Theodore Donay."

Lady In Distress Finds Champions On House Subcommittee

WASHINGTON.—(P)—A lady in distress, Ellen Knauff, German-born bride of an American GI—and an Ellis Island detainee since August, 1948—found champions on Capitol Hill Monday.

A House subcommittee heard her story and voted unanimous approval of a bill to allow her entry into the United States. The bill now goes to the full Judiciary Committee and then to the House.

Mrs. Knauff, small and attractive, hinted that her husband normally may be at the root of her troubles.

Members of the subcommittee nodded understandingly.

The Immigration Service barred Mrs. Knauff as a poor security risk, refusing to give its reasons on grounds it did not want to disclose confidential sources.

Mrs. Knauff testified she was the object of malicious gossip after marrying Kurt W. Knauff, now a civilian military employee, in Frankfurt, Germany, in February, 1948.

Political Refugee

She denied she was a spy or had been "planted" here for political or other purposes.

Her husband, she said, had many girl friends before their marriage. "One of these women," she added, "promised before witnesses that she would spoil my entrance to the United States."

The comely, gray-eyed Mrs. Knauff told the committee this story of her life.

Marriage at 19 for two years to a Czech traveling salesman. Flight to England as a political refugee when Hitler moved into Czechoslovakia. Training as a nurse for the Czech Army. Enlistment in the Women's Auxiliary to Britain's Royal Air Force.

Both her parents, she said, died in a German concentration camp.

She was checked thoroughly by the British, she said, and later by American military authorities when she was hired as a civil censor in Frankfurt.

After the subcommittee hearing, she told reporters:

"Wonderful—This is truly American."

Assault Charge Filed On Midland Negro

A charge of aggravated assault was filed in county court Tuesday against Willie Montgomery, Midland negro, in connection with the shooting Sunday of Jamie Gill, negro, on Marshall Street.

The woman was shot in the thigh about 6:20 p. m. Sunday. She was reported in satisfactory condition Tuesday by Western Clinic-Hospital personnel.

Montgomery was arrested by police shortly after the incident.

Soldier's Wife Dies In Traffic Accident

BEAUMONT.—(P)—Mrs. Edna Willis, 28, was killed near here Monday night when her car collided with a farm truck.

She was the wife of S. Sgt. Legette Willis, stationed at Ellington Field near Houston but now taking a training course in Las Vegas, Nev.

Mrs. Willis' sister, Mrs. Edith Dempkowski of Vidor, was injured seriously.

The occupants of the truck, Louis Thate and Joe Clinton, both of Pharr, suffered minor injuries.

Lethal gas is used to execute criminals in Colorado.

House Pays Tribute To Eugene Worley

WASHINGTON.—(P)—Eugene Worley of Shamrock, Texas, was scheduled to be a judge on the U. S. Customs and Patent Appeals Court Tuesday.

He said farewell Monday to the House of Representatives, declaring the Democratic form of government "is safe so long as it is in the hands of men" like those with whom he has served the last 10 years.

He received tributes from both Democrats and Republicans.

Worley, 42, brushed a handkerchief to his eyes as he sat quietly in their midst.

The tributes were capped by Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham, Texas, he said.

"I have not seen a young man with more sterling qualities or promise of ability. If he had chosen to stay, he could have been one at the top."

The veteran House leader then smilingly wound up his tribute, saying the Worleys had "really capped the climax" of their friendship with him by naming their third child Sam Rayburn Worley.

Dallas House, Sold To Negro, Blasted

DALLAS.—(P)—A bomb Monday night damaged a vacant two-story house in a white neighborhood, sold only hours earlier to a negro.

Police Lieutenant L. S. Reeves said a bomb had been thrown through a window or placed under the house.

"I made the down payment and signed a mortgage for $5,444 at seven per cent interest," said Garland Mathis. "I intended to move into the house, but I don't know what I'll do now."

The house is only three blocks from a section where a home occupied by a negro family was damaged by a bomb explosion several weeks ago. No one was injured.

Mrs. Jewl Harper said she had already given the key to the house to Mathis. She said she had evicted two white families from the house last Friday for non-payment of rent and decided to sell the house to negroes.

Neighbors told police that all the other houses in the South Dallas neighborhood were occupied by white families, some living in the block for as long as 25 years.

Page Filched From Betsy Ross' Bible

PHILADELPHIA.—(P)—Somebody has stolen a page from Betsy Ross' Bible.

Vexil D. Weisberger, curator of the Betsy Ross House, reported to police Monday the page, bearing original records of the Betsy Ross family, was torn from the Bible, apparently during Sunday visiting hours.

It is the second time this particular page has been missing. The curator said records show the same page was "lost" from 1853 to 1897. After it was recovered the Bible was rebound to fit the page into its proper place.

The Bible was displayed in a glass case in the house where Betsy Ross made the first U. S. flag under commission by the Continental Congress.

Winds Delay Search For Victim's Body

FORT WORTH.—(P)—High waves and gusty winds Tuesday delayed a search on Eagle Mountain Lake near here for Eddie Simmons, 36, Dallas auto salesman believed drowned with two other persons Sunday night when their fishing boat capsized.

The bodies of his companions, Mrs. Grace Nell Ingersall, 26, Fort Worth, and Paul Gandy, 30, Dallas steel company draftsman, were recovered Monday.

A third man in the boat, J. D. Maxfield, 31, Fort Worth aircraft electrician, swam 200 yards to safety.

Teacher, Parent In-Service Groups Hold Sessions Here

Midland teachers and parent study groups met Monday and Tuesday with Dr. Don Graffam and A. C. Murphy of the University of Texas, as a part of the regular In-Service Training program for schools of the city.

Monday night, the two leaders met with supervisors, principals, leaders of the In-Service program and with Superintendent Frank Monroe at the junior high school cafeteria, to make plans for the closing of study for the year. The last regular meeting is scheduled May 15 and 16.

Meetings Tuesday were held in the morning with parent study groups. Murphy met at North Elementary with the parent group, and Dr. Graffam was at the high school with the parent group there.

Meetings were scheduled at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday in South Elementary school for teachers participating in the program, and at 4 p. m. in West Elementary school. Attending the 4 p. m. meeting will be teachers of Terminal school, the Latin-American school and West Elementary.

Three more regular meetings are to be held before the May 15 closing session.

They Made It—The Stockdales And Taj Walk Across Nation

They made it. Bill and Connie Stockdale of Putnam, Conn., arrived in Los Angeles a few days ago, after walking almost 3,500 miles across the country.

The attractive young couple passed through Midland January 11, 163 days after leaving home.

The reason for the long hike? They decided they wanted to see the country and thought the best way would be by hoofing it.

The third member of the party, a 60-pound Boxer dog named Taj Mahal, proved to be the weakest member of the trio. Only a few days out of Putnam, the dog developed sore feet, so they returned to Putnam while the dog recuperated. Then, with the addition of a small covered wagon in which the dog rode most of the time, they picked up the trip in New York State where they had turned back, and walked on.

Nearly eight months later, Bill, Connie and Taj arrived at Los Angeles City Hall.

They plan to return to Connecticut by plane.

No more walking for awhile.

Fire Department Makes Four Runs

The Midland Fire Department made four runs Monday.

Grass fires were extinguished at 201 North Jefferson Street and 800 South Main Street. A trash fire was put out at 922 South Main Street.

A blaze at 506 West California Street did some damage before being extinguished.

Airplane Beats Time Mark Of Pony Express

ST. JOSEPH, MO.—(P)—A flier took the high road Monday and beat the earthbound Pony Express to California by 241 hours and 11 minutes.

On the ninetyeth anniversary of the start of the first ride by the famous mounted mail carriers, Lt. Col. J. Byrne Logan flew over their route in four hours 49 minutes in a B-26 plane. It was 1,445 miles.

The first Pony Express rider delivered mail to the Western Terminus at Sacramento, Calif., in 248 hours. That's six hours more than 10 days.

The flight was made as part of a celebration marking restoration of the original Pony Express stables here.

Here's the only possible source of a fourth-round increase in telephone wages

If telephone union leaders are successful in their campaign for a fourth-round increase in wages, the money to meet their demands must be reflected in your telephone bill.

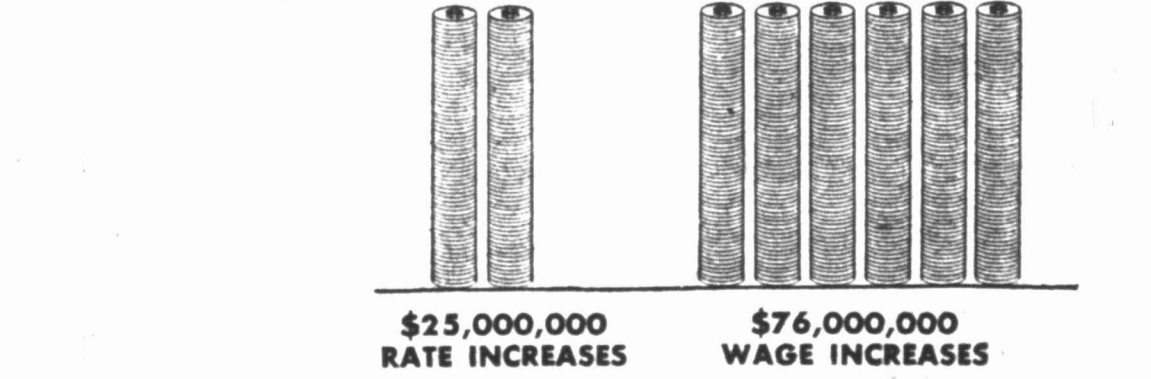

The company's position is this: It is in the public interest to pay fair and reasonable wages. It is not in the public interest to increase wages which are already fair and reasonable. If a wage increase were justified, the employees would be entitled to it even though it became necessary for the company to seek rate increases beyond those already needed.

There is simply no justification for a wage increase at this time. Wages and working conditions compare favorably with those in other jobs in the community that require similar skills and experience.

Basic wage rates have more than kept pace with the cost of living. They attract and hold the capable people it takes to give you good service. Employment turnover in the telephone company is less than half the average rate for all manufacturing industries.

But telephone rate increases in the company's territory lag far behind rising operating costs and have even failed by a wide margin to cover the current cost of wage increases granted during and since the war. This has been a big factor in pulling the company's rate of earnings down to the lowest level in its history.

Yet we are faced today with the job of raising millions of dollars in new investment money to meet the growing telephone needs of the communities we serve. This we can hope to achieve only with the prospect of improved earnings—which means that higher rates are already a necessity.

Any fourth-round wage increases would mean rate increases in addition to those now needed. Premium wages for telephone work—above community levels—would place an unnecessary burden on telephone customers.

An increase of one cent an hour would add one and a third million dollars a year to present telephone costs. Union leaders' demands for 15¢ an hour would add $20,000,000—an average of $8 a year per customer.

15¢ = $8 A YEAR PER CUSTOMER

To grant such an unwarranted wage increase would not be consistent with our obligation to furnish the best possible service at the lowest possible cost.

HOW DO THESE EARNINGS LOOK TO YOU?

The real test of telephone wages is how they compare with those paid in the same communities for jobs requiring similar skill and experience. Here are average weekly and annual earnings of telephone people.

Job Category	Weekly Earnings	Annual Earnings
FULLY EXPERIENCED PLANT CRAFTSMEN (Such as Repairmen)	$78	$4,072
FULLY EXPERIENCED OPERATORS	$46	$2,401
FULLY EXPERIENCED BUSINESS OFFICE WOMEN (Service Representatives)	$49	$2,558

Plant craftsmen with five years' service: $64 a week, or $3,341 a year. One year's service: $43 a week, or $2,245 a year.

Operators with five years' service: $44 a week, or $2,296 a year. One year's service: $39 a week, or $2,035 a year.

Business office women with five years' service: $45 a week, or $2,349 a year. One year's service: $38 a week, or $1,984 a year.

The above figures include basic wages for a 40-hour week plus extra pay for overtime, night, Sunday, and holiday work.

 vey was taking a drillstem test with total depth at 6,896 feet in lime. A drillstem test run at 6,761-6,810 feet, was open 30 minutes. Recovery was 15 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water. A sand zone was logged at 6,814-44 feet. It had no petroleum signs. Description of the samples from 6,844 feet to 6,876 feet has not been reported. The section from 6,870 feet to 6,896 feet was reported to have been all lime.

SE Borden Offset Makes Big Oil Flow

George P. Livermore, Inc., No. 1 D. F. Whitaker, and others, south offset to the discovery well of the Reinecke-Canyon field in South-east Borden County, about 18 miles southeast of Chilton and about 20 miles northeast of Big Spring, flowed an average of 139.8 barrels of pipe line oil per hour, through open two-inch tubing, and is now shut in to prepare for potential test. This new producer is 660 feet from north and west lines of the south half of section 53, block 25, H&TC survey.

Top of the Canyon pay is at 6,731 feet. Elevation is 2,348 feet. Total depth is at 6,792 feet. The 5 1/2-inch oil string is cemented at 6,733 feet. After drilling plug and conditioning the hole operator washed the section at 6,733-92 feet with 300 gallons of mud acid. The well kicked off and flowed to pits for three hours and cleaned to a breakout of only three-tenths of one per cent sediment and acid water. It then flowed to tanks for two hours and averaged 138.2 barrels per hour during that period.

Barnsdall-Seaboard Test In Kent Lime

Barnsdall Oil Company and Seaboard Oil Company, Delaware No. 1 Spires, Central-Southwest Kent County wildcat, six and three-quarter miles northeast of the Cogdell-Canyon field, and 3,300 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 22, block 4, H&TC survey, was taking a drillstem test on a section at 6,760-80 feet. This venture topped a lime of unidentified age at 6,760 feet. It entered a zone at 6,758 feet which showed lime and shale. The project went back into straight lime at 6,775 feet and continued in that material to 6,780 feet. Some of the lime samples showed a slight indication of petroleum. Elevation is 2,157 feet. The current section is the first lime this venture has logged since it entered the Pennsylvanian.

Hiawatha Completes Fisher Discovery

Hiawatha Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Preston Morrow, an Ellenburger discovery in Northwest Fisher County has potential for 84.09 barrels of 40-gravity oil, flowing; but after the 20-hour test, the well died, and a pump is to be installed. On the potential, production was from perforations at 6,700-6,800 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 100-1. Casing pressure was 100 pounds and tubing pressure was 35 pounds. Five and one-half inch casing is set on the bottom at 6,862 feet. After the test, the well flowed 20.6 barrels of oil in 12 hours, then died. Operators are preparing to install a pump. This discovery was treated with several shots of acid in an attempt to make the flow constant, but was unsuccessful. The 1 Morrow is 933 feet from the north and 330 feet from west lines of section 48, block 2, TC survey, and two and one-half miles southwest of Rotan.

Adkisson Finishes SW Pecos Flanker

A. W. Adkisson No. 6 J. S. Oates has been completed to extend the Oates-Permian pool in Southwest Pecos County one-quarter mile to the northwest. It pumped naturally for a 24-hour potential of 85.42 barrels of oil and no water. Neither the gravity of the oil nor gas-oil ratio was given. Pay was topped at 877 feet, and total depth is 880 feet. A five and one-half inch oil string is set at 688 feet. This shallow pool extension is 2-100 feet from east and 2,580 feet from south lines of section 204, block 3, T&P survey. Elevation of the 6 Oates is 3,578 feet.

Lubbock Extension Takes Potential

A one-mile southwest extension to the Lee Harrison-Clear Fork pool in Central Lubbock County has potential for 126.23 barrels. HUNTSVILLE — (AP) — Two men convicted of killing a Houston bus driver are to die late Tuesday night in the Texas Penitentiary's electric chair here. The men are James Willis Blackmon and William Smith, Jr. Both were given death in the Dec. 22, 1948, slaying of Bus Driver Leslie D. Gibbins. Blackmon originally was sentenced to die early last summer but the sentence was stayed until Smith's trial and appeals were completed. What Smith's execution date was fixed as April 5, Blackmon's was moved to coincide.

Corrected Site For SW Gaines Wildcat

Ralph Lowe of Midland No. 1 H. T. Wolfe, a Clear Fork wildcat in Southwest Gaines County wrongly reported recently to be an outpost of the Flanagan multi-pay pool, is instead eight miles southwest of the Jenkins-Devonian pool and 13 miles southeast of the East Hobbs field. However, the location given was correct. The 7,500-foot venture is to be 660 feet from north and east lines of section 20, block A-28, psi survey. The 1 Wolfe is a farmout from The Texas Company. Drilling is to begin in the near future.

West Cogdell Flanker Is Low To Discovery

D. D. Feldman, et al. No. 1 Fuller, one and one-quarter miles west of the discovery of the Cogdell-Canyon field in Central-South Kent County, topped the Canyon reef at 6,881 feet, and not at 6,881 feet, as had been previously reported through error. Elevation is 2,451 feet. That gives the project a datum of minus 4,430 feet, and not 4,230 feet—as reported on the incorrect call. The project is bottomed at 6,915 feet in lime. It has cemented 5 1/2-inch casing at 6,881 feet. It will drill the plug and start testing shortly. This prospector is 65 feet low on the top of the Canyon to the same point in the Cogdell discovery. Location is 467 feet from north and east lines of section 703, block 97, H&TC survey.

Movie Stars Stake Three Scurry Tests

Moncrief, Hope, and others have staked three explorations on the east side of the Kelley field in Central Scurry County. All three projects will be in section 15, block 1, J. P. Smith survey. The project is approximately one mile west of Snyder. Moncrief et al. No. 4 J. A. Joyce will be 702 feet from east and 467 feet from north lines of tract 29, section 15; No. 6 Joyce will be 467 feet from south and east lines of tract 29; and No. 3 Nannie L. Harrell will be 467 feet from north and west lines of tract 34, section 15. Drilling will begin at once on the three, each of which has a slated depth of 7,000 feet. Another For Lion Lion Oil Company has scheduled its No. 7 Ohlenbusch on the southwest side of the Diamond M-Canyon pool in Scurry County. Exact location is 660 feet from east and 1,933.93 feet from south lines of section 181, block 97, H&TC survey, and 13 miles southwest of Snyder. Barnsdall Oil Company No. 2 Lillian Williamson will be in the Kelley field 660 feet from north and 467 feet from west lines of southwest quarter of section 246, block 97, H&TC survey. This places it approximately seven and one-half miles west of Snyder. Three more explorations are slated for the North Snyder-Canyon pool. Sun Oil Company No. 6 H. J. Brice will be eight miles north of Snyder and 2,020 feet from south and 1,618 feet from west lines of section 292, block 97, H&TC survey. Proposed depth is 6,950 feet. Bright Makes Location H. R. Bright of Dallas will drill his No. 1 Scurry County 337.5 feet from west and 2,923.9 feet from north lines of section 18, J. P. Smith survey, and two and one-half miles northwest of Snyder. Slated depth is 7,500 feet; thus if the venture fails in the Canyon, it could be drilled into the Strawn. Lone Star Oil Company No. 4-A Gary Glenn has been staked in the North Snyder-Canyon five miles northwest of Snyder. Exact location is 2,077 feet from north and 467 feet from west lines of section 18, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

Land Clearers Get 'On The Ball'

Giant 4 1/2-ton steel balls, eight feet in diameter, are trucked to the 25,000-acre site of the Hungry Horse, Mont., reservoir for use in a novel scheme of land-clearing. Big diesel dozers, hooked together with logging chains, will drag the heavy balls down steep hillsides to scrape off small trees and brush.

Worsted Makes Comeback To Village Of Worstead

All Worstead is learning about worsted these days from Schoolmaster Henry Wright, here explaining the town's new loom to Pamela Batchelor, 12, and David Carver, 10.

Worsted, England—(NEA)—They're learning how to make worsted again in this dreamy little Norfolk village, where centuries ago the famous cloth was first woven.

Six hundred years ago, Worstead was a busy industrial town in which Flemish settlers wove "worsted" cloth and made their community one of the wealthiest in East Anglia. But with the industrial revolution the weavers moved on to bigger titles. Worstead's worsted became a forgotten art. What is bringing it back is the determination of Henry Wright, the town's 39-year-old schoolmaster. Browsing through some old books on a recent visit to Leeds University, Wright discovered that Worstead was the birthplace of a famous industry. As a start, he took a course in weaving, and now he's teaching the art to Worstead's children on a modern 42-inch handloom presented by the International Wool Secretariat. Many of his pupils are descendants of the old Flemish weavers who brought the town its first fame. Wright hopes weaving worsted will again become the main occupation in this town of 700, where a 14th century church and two ancient weavers' cottages are the only landmarks of busier days. One of these cottages has been bought by a Yorkshire weaver as the result of Wright's campaign, and weaving has started on a small commercial scale. And while the townspeople have to learn about worsted all over again, they already have a new trademark: "Worsted from Worstead."

Look how you save with Dynaflo

FIRST thing you notice, of course, is the bother and effort Dynaflo Drive* saves. You may well discover another pleasant surprise, too. We are getting a steadily mounting number of well-satisfied letters about gasoline mileage with Dynaflo cars. The SPECIAL has shown some records little short of phenomenal. The SUPER is delivering mileage that compares most favorably with gear-shift cars. And the ROADMASTER more than holds its own with cars of its size and bulk.

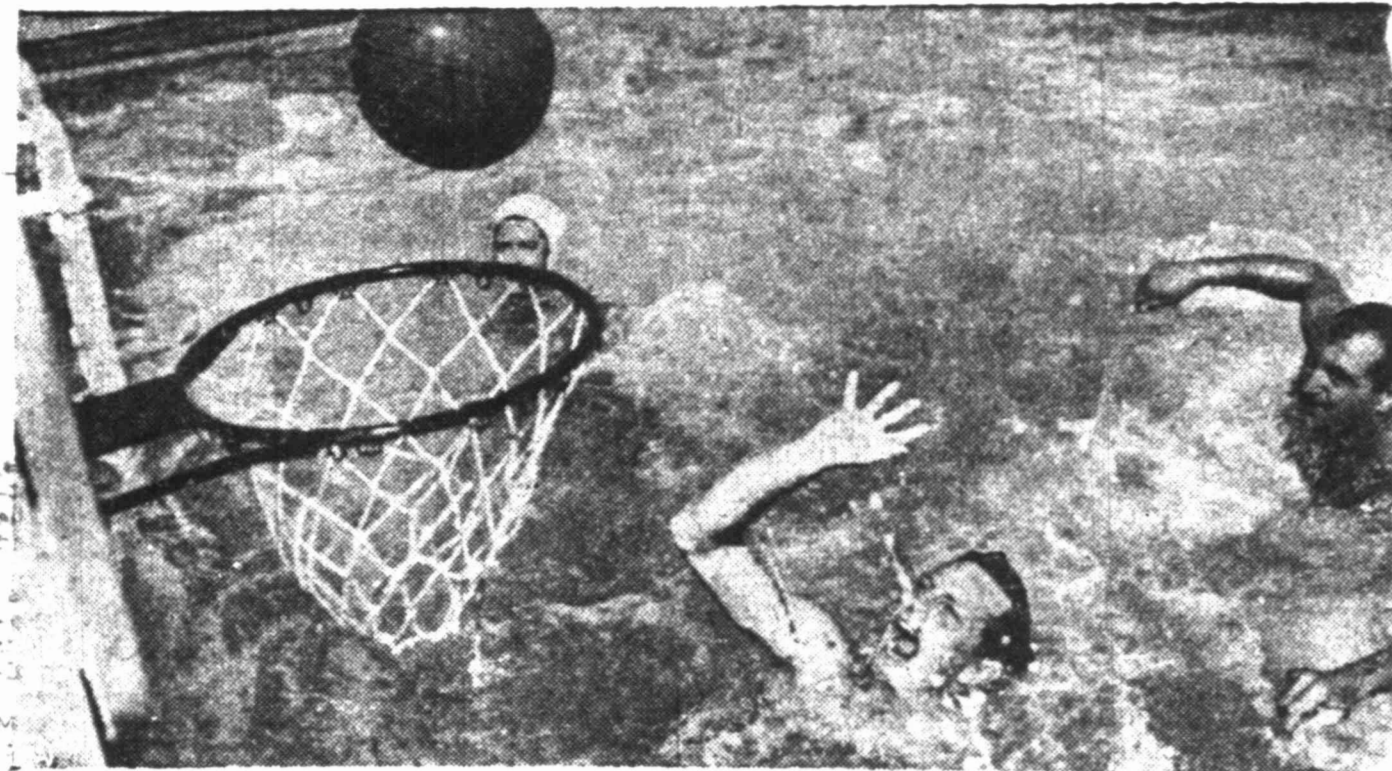

In short, there's a lot more to please your budget in the 1950 Dynaflo than its new lower price. Refinements over the past two years result in savings that are sizable over the life of the car. Knowing that, don't you want us to demonstrate the big side of Dynaflo—the utter smoothness of America's first oil-does-it-all drive?

Only Buick has Dynaflo—and with it goes: HIGHER-GOSSIP Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD fender, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights, WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back, TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius, EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles, SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube, WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with body by Fisher.

Matchless Team — DYNAFLO and F-263 In the Buick beauty pictured here you can have both Dynaflo and Buick's very latest in power. For every 1950 SUPER has the F-263 engine, that lively high-compression stepper that's the big power thrill of the season. Dynaflo Drive is optional equipment at extra cost.

LIPPY ISN'T WORRIED: AT LEAST, NOT YET

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—Leo Duracher, manager of the New York Giants, says he isn't worried about the performances turned in by his pitchers. Not yet, anyway. "But if it keeps up, then I will really worry," he said after three pitchers were bombed for 31 runs in three games.

"The fellows are throwing hard and their arms loose. That's all I'm interested in."

BONIS BEAUTY MAKES YANKEES TAKE NOTICE

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(AP)—Jackie Jensen, bonus beauty from the University of California, has begun to make the New York Yankees' brain trust sit up and take notice.

A mediocre .196 hitter in 10 previous contests, Jensen cracked out a single, triple and home run Monday against the Cincinnati Reds. He scored three times. The home run gave Jackie the club lead with four.

HAL NEUHOUSER MAY MISS TIGER OPENER

LAKELAND, Fla.—(AP)—It looks now as though Hal Neuhofer's mysterious arm trouble may prevent him from pitching the Detroit Tigers' American League opener.

The opener against Cleveland April 18 this year—has been Hal's private property in the past.

However, Manager Red Rolfe is figuring on Freddie Hutchinson or Art Houtteman. He says "It looks like one of the other."

MACK TO GET TOUGH WITH A'S MOUNDMEN

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.—(AP)—There will be no dilly-dallying with pitchers who don't perform in games played by the Philadelphia Athletics this year. Manager Connie Mack said Tuesday.

"We are not going to be so patient this year with our pitchers," the 87-year-old manager said in outlining the A's new policy.

"In the past it has been impossible for us to take a pitcher out of the game after he walked several men in succession because we would not have another pitcher to put in his place."

"This year things will be different. We still don't have as many pitchers as I would like, but I feel that the nine we will have will prove themselves capable."

WERLE UNWORRIED BY SOPHOMORE JINX

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates Bill Werle is moving into his second season with the Buccs and he doesn't give a hoot about major league baseball's traditional sophomore jinx. Werle says.

"I'm not worried about it. I feel I experienced a 'freshman jinx.' Seemed as though every time I was working, the Pirates went on a run famine."

"I feel I know my hitters pretty well now and have a good idea how to pitch to every batter. And another thing, it looks as though we might score more runs this season and that is a big help in beating any kind of a jinx."

ZERNIAL DECLARES HE KNOWS THE ANSWER

AUSTIN—(AP)—Gus Zernial, whose bat is expected to help the Chicago White Sox gain an upper berth in the American League race, says his batting slump is ending.

Having been benched for several games, the big outfielder returned to the lineup with this observation:

"Well, I finally found out the cure to my batting slump. I have been swinging too fast. When I waited for the ball to come to me I got good wood plow power."

Experimental 'Cap Derby' Starts Wednesday Starts Derby Eliminations

NEW YORK—(AP)—The process of elimination for Kentucky Derby candidates in this sector begins Wednesday at Jamaica in the $20,000 added, six furlong Experimental Handicap No. 1.

Tom Gray's Old Capitol, current Derby favorite at 7 to 2, and William Goetz' California flash, Your Host, already are in Louisville, where the big blue grass event will be run May 6. But numerous other stars will be tested at Jamaica as well as in the Experimental No. 2 at a mile and a sixteenth on April 15 and the Wood, same distance, April 22.

Heading the group now in New York are C. T. Cheney's Virginia-owned-and-bred Hill Prince and Robert J. Kleberg's Middleground, both stabled at Belmont Park. Hill Prince has been pointed for Wednesday's fixture and if Middleground goes, it will be their first clash. Neither has started this year.

Joe Bedenk has finished 20 years as Penn State football line coach and is completing his 20th year as baseball coach at the school.

Open Revolt Of Headline Golfers Seen After PGA Boots Out Tournery Chief

CHICAGO—(AP)—The Professional Golf Association awaited Tuesday the aftermath of its firing of George S. Schneiter as tournament bureau manager. Open revolt of headline golfers from the parent organization may follow in the wake.

Schneiter came to Chicago Monday as a player-representative to meet with PGA officials including Joe Novak, president; Horton Smith, secretary; Tom Crane, executive secretary; Harry Moffitt of Toledo, treasurer, and several members of the advisory tournament sponsors' group.

Schneiter was fired outright at the close of the session, reportedly because he negotiated the signing of contracts for the Summer tourney tour without complete PGA authorization. Officials said he was given a chance to resign. But apparently Schneiter, a playing pro from Utah who was named bureau manager in 1946 succeeding Freddie Corcoran, stood his ground until he was ousted without reservation.

"At least the pressure is off," Schneiter explained. "I am no longer an employe (at $10,000 per year) of the PGA. I can now stand as representative of the tournament players. My dismissal is not a satisfactory answer to the player problems."

It is questionable Tuesday just how much force Schneiter has behind him. The test is yet to come. As player-representative, he presumably is backed by a "governing body" of stars who seek legislative power of tournament golf through sponsorship contract signing, control of funds and other administrative functions now dictated by PGA delegates, consisting of country club pros representing three districts in the organization.

The playing group includes virtually all the title and money-winning big shots of the game—Sam Snead, Lloyd Mangrum, Ben Hogan, Cary Middlecoff, Clayton Heafner, Johnny Palmer and others.

Whether they decide to continue as a separate unit of the PGA under Schneiter's guidance in revolt-like fashion remains to be seen.

A meeting of the PGA officialdom and the players is being contemplated following the Augusta Masters' tourney Thursday through Sunday.

Marlene Bauer, left, and sister Alice have been taught all they know about golf by Father Dave Bauer. He didn't take up the game until he was 30 years old.

Colonial Invitation Not Affected By Current PGA Scrap

FORT WORTH (AP)—Officials of the $15,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament scheduled here May 25-28 aren't worrying about the current squabble among the professional golfers, Max Highfill, tournament chairman, said Tuesday.

"We won't be affected at all," he declared. "Colonial deals directly with the players and it makes no difference whether they're affiliated with the PGA or their own organization."

The tournament golfers, led by George Snelter, tournament manager of the PGA, are feuding with the PGA and have said they want to control tournament golf.

Highfill explained that the principle difference between privately conducted tournaments and those co-sponsored by the PGA lies in the matter of player participation. In its contract as co-sponsor, the PGA insists that tournaments be thrown open to as many players as wish to compete.

In addition, sponsors pay the PGA $1,500 for the privilege of staging a tournament and guarantee to divide the gate among participants in the event of a play-off.

Colonial restricts its field to 36 professionals and invites whomever it pleases. Other tournaments that operate beyond the PGA's area of control are the Masters, Tam O'Shanter and the Inverness Four-Ball.

Harold Wearne Named As Starting Hurler

The Midland Indians open the home exhibition season at 8 p. m. Tuesday with a game against the Albuquerque Dukes in Indian Park.

Owner-Manager Harold Webb has nominated Harold Wearne as the starting hurler.

The Dukes will bring along several players who have performed in Indian Park before. It will be the first meeting of the Dukes and the Indians but several of this year's Dukes were with the Sweetwater Swatters last year.

The Indians dropped a 6-0 decision to the Berger Gasser Sunday in their first exhibition of the season. They will be shooting for a win in Tuesday's game.

Kenny Jones, the Rookie of the Year in the Longhorn League last season, probably will be behind the plate for Harold Wearne's crew. He returned to the Indians Monday.

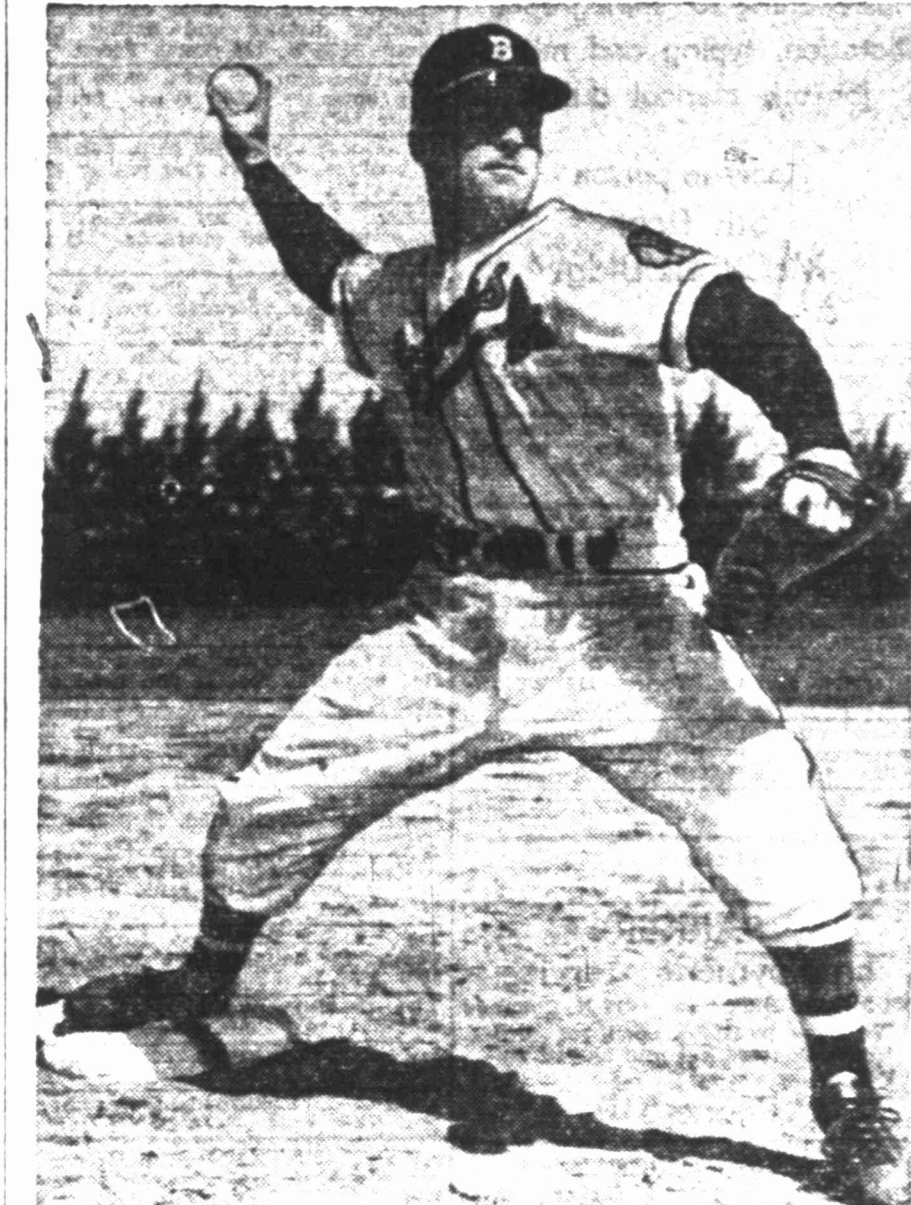

Prince On First

Big Jim Prince will be on first. He collected one of the Midland hits in Sunday's game at Berger and the home fans will be looking for more here.

Quinten Basco, the flashy rookie, will lead off and play second base. George Firnback will return to the lineup at shortstop. He has been troubled with sore feet for several days but is coming around.

Pat Lorenzo is ticketed for third base.

Playing Edge

Second Baseman Roy Hartsfield hit the ball frequently with Milwaukee in 1949, and has an edge to take over the spot vacated by the traded Eddie Stanky in the Boston Braves' line-up.

Texas, Rice, A&M Tangle Saturday In 'Little SWC' Event

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Texas, Rice and Texas A&M meet here Saturday night in their annual "Little Southwest Conference" track and field meet.

The triangular meet always establishes the favorite for the conference championship because it is between the three teams which almost always finish one-two-three.

A tight fight between Texas A&M and Texas for first place is indicated with Rice doing much to settle the issue between the top two teams.

Texas boasts marked superiority in the sprints with all three schools strong in the field events and A&M tops in the distance races. Texas has the best 440-yard relay team but Rice is the kinglypin of the mile relay.

The meet here will be in its fourth running. It is sponsored by the Quarterback Club of Corpus Christi.

Several records are due to fall. The mile relay mark of 3:19.3 is almost certain to be smashed by Rice and Texas A&M. Charley Parker of Texas should eclipse the record of 21.3 in the 220-yard dash.

Robin Roberts, pitcher for the Phillies, was primarily a basketball player at Michigan State.

Dave Bauer Begins Playing Golf At 30

BY HARRY GRAYSON
ORMOND BEACH, FLA.—(NE)—David Bauer is a more unusual story than his phenomenal daughters, Marlene and Alice.

Dave Bauer, a Russian immigrant, didn't know what golf was until he was 30.

Invited to play at Eureka, S. D., he was fascinated by the Royal and Ancient, read of the masters, applied engineering principles.

The hotel and restaurant he was running became secondary, golf his life's work.

A year after staggering through his first round, he built a nine-hole course and was teaching.

In 1936, Bauer, a balding, compactly-built little man of 54, sold his business in Eureka, and bought a course in Aberdeen, S. D.

Bauer raised his pretty daughters to be exactly what they are.

He contends that a child can be taught to play with a golf club, baseball bat, tennis racket, or any piece of athletic equipment, in place of a toy.

Bulldogs Play Steers In Exhibition Wednesday

The Midland Bulldogs will play the Big Spring Steers at 3:45 p. m. Wednesday in an exhibition game at Indian Park.

Coach Garvin Beauchamp's boys whipped the Steers 7-2 last week in Big Spring to notch their first exhibition win.

Beauchamp also has announced the District 3-AA opener between Midland and Odessa will be played Thursday in Odessa. It originally was scheduled for Friday but was changed due to the Easter holidays.

Bill Medart is the probable starting hurler in Wednesday's game. He threw five no-hit innings against the Steers last week.

Mohr Is Assured Penalty Of Death Won't Be Asked

ALLENTOWN, PA.—(AP)—Harold Mohr was summoned to stand trial Tuesday in the mercy slaying of his blind cancer-ravaged brother—assured the Commonwealth will not seek the death penalty.

Shortly after the 36-year-old tannery worker was indicted Monday on murder and voluntary manslaughter charges in the slaying of his brother, Walter, 55, District Attorney Kenneth H. Koch of Lehigh County announced:

"I do not feel the facts warrant pressing for the death penalty."

"Although he entered a 'not guilty' plea before the grand jury, Harold Mohr has signed a statement he shot his brother through the head with a deer rifle in their home at nearby Coplay on March 8.

Dr. George S. Boyer, Lehigh County coroner, said Walter Mohr was hopelessly blind and that cancer had wasted away his face until "only the man's lips remained."

On Mercy Aspects

Defense attorney Harry Creveling said he would base his case on the mercy aspects of the killing. In his statement, Harold Mohr said he shot Walter after the brother repeatedly had begged for death.

On the night of the shooting, Harold told authorities, Walter stretched out on his bed.

"Are you ready?" Harold said he asked Walter.

"Go ahead," Walter replied.

The bullet struck Walter in the head. He died instantly.

In charging the grand jury Monday, Judge James F. Henninger said:

"You must decide whether murder was committed and, if so, whether it was with malice or without malice."

DeMolay Unit Has Eight New Members

Degrees were conferred upon eight candidates Monday night at an initiatory service of the Midland Chapter of the Order of DeMolay in the City-County Auditorium.

Five of the new DeMolays—Teddy Kerr, Joe Cates, Robert Stubbsman, Don Bizzell and George James, Jr.—are from Midland, and three reside in Stanton. Those from Stanton are GEARL and EARL KOONCE and RICHARD RIKKI.

Master Masons attending the service included R. A. Whitson, W. L. Simmons and E. E. English of Midland, and R. P. Simpson, R. S. Higgins, Sr., and M. L. Koonce of Stanton.

Observers said the degree team of the new chapter showed marked improvement in proficiency in their Monday night work.

Hijackers Kill Driver In $2,200 Roadside Holdup

CHAPPAQUA, N. Y. — Roadside highjackers shot and killed the driver of a Reader's Digest truck Monday and got away with a $2,200 cash cargo that was being taken to a bank. Four bandits used a trick to halt the panel delivery truck, which was enroute to Pleasantville, N. Y., with a load of mail, cash and checks. As the truck moved along a private road to the publishing firm, approaching a main highway, two men staggered in front of it, pretending to need help. The truck slowed to a stop. The men drew pistols. One of them fired through the glass window of the truck cab, fatally wounding Andrew Petrini, 33, of Mt. Kisco, N. Y. The gunmen, joined by a third from the roadside, bound the dying driver, and his helper, William Waterbury. Both were shoved into the back of the truck. One of the bandits then drove the truck slowly toward Pleasantville, while his companions rifled through the mail bags and bank pouches. A fourth bandit followed in another truck. Both trucks turned off onto a dirt road, where the bandits abandoned the magazine's truck and fled in the other vehicle. Waterbury freed himself and summoned aid from a nearby house. Petrini died later in a hospital. Aaron Burr was the third vice president of the United States.

High Court Hears Segregation Cases

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court was scheduled to hear further arguments Tuesday afternoon on cases testing validity of the "separate but equal" doctrine of racial segregation. Two negro students want the court to order the admittance to white classes in state universities on a completely unsegregated basis. A third negro Monday asked the justices to declare segregation on Southern railroad dining cars a violation of the Constitution. Attorney General J. Howard McGrath, supporting the negro's case against dining car segregation, declared "segregation is a form of inequality and discrimination condemned by the Constitution and the Interstate Commerce Act. Segregation signifies, and is intended to signify, that each and every member of the colored race is not the equal of any member of the white race." Representative Hobbs (D-Ala.), stating that he spoke for Congress, replied to McGrath with the assertion that "God Almighty made people of different colors. God is the author of discrimination and his creatures have proved they liked his handiwork." Hobbs, apparently referring to McGrath and Solicitor General Philip B. Perlman, added: "Both the Big Berthas of the Department of Justice are here—I'm measuring my words—fighting a coordinate branch of the government, when the Constitution gives Congress the exclusive right to regulate interstate commerce, or interstate travel, as it means in this case." The Alabama representative asked the high court to "treat this case on the principles of existing law—not on philosophical grounds or on political evangelism." The first case argued was that of Elmer W. Henderson of Washington. He complained that he could not get a meal on a Southern railway dining car on a wartime trip to Birmingham. The court then heard a few minutes' argument on an appeal by G. W. McLaurin who complains he was required to sit apart from white students at the University of Oklahoma. After arguments in the McLaurin case are completed the court then will call the appeal of Heman Marian Sweat, Texas negro. Sweat claims he was denied admission to the white law school of the University of Texas. He refuses to register in a new law school set up by Texas for negroes. The Justice Department, supporting the arguments of McLaurin and Sweat, asks the high court to "repudiate the separate but equal doctrine as an unwarranted deviation from the principle of equality under law." McGrath and Perlman presented the department's position in a brief filed as a friend of the court. Opposing the department's stand, counsel for Oklahoma and Texas want the justices to stick by an 1896 decision upon which the "separate but equal" doctrine has been based.

Bixbys, Halted By Engine Trouble, To Complete Long Run

CALCUTTA, INDIA. — The globe-circling Bixbys—stopped by engine trouble in their attempt to beat the round-the-world flight record held by the late Bill Odom—are going to fly to San Francisco anyhow. The Aerial husband-and-wife team, Bob and Dianna, hid their disappointment behind philosophic smiles Tuesday as they were told it would be several days before spare parts could be flown here for the needed repairs on their twin-engine Mosquito, the Huntress II. They were well over half their journey—11,836 miles—when they were forced to turn back to Calcutta's Dum Dum Air Field Monday. And they were right on the schedule they had set for topping Odom's 1947 speed record of 73 hours. Dianna was near tears when the plane landed back at Dum Dum. But Bob comforted her with the promise that "We can try again."

An added attraction for the evening was ten-year-old Peggy Owens of Crane in an acrobatic exhibition. The little girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Owens, gave the exhibition on the stage of the auditorium under colored floodlights. She is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bell of Rankin. Oscar Lee was master of ceremonies for the evening, assisted by Ralph Daugherty.

Death Penalty Asked For Youth Accused Of Strangling Co-Ed

IOWA CITY, IOWA.—The state, in a surprise move, Monday, asked a district court jury to send Robert E. Bednasek to the gallows for the alleged strangulation of a pretty University of Iowa co-ed. The jury was to start deliberating the fate of the 24-year-old psychology student after instructions from Judge James P. Gaffney at the opening of court Tuesday. In closing arguments, which ended late Monday night, Bednasek was described by prosecutors as a "cold-blooded killer," and as an "innocent boy" by defense attorneys. County Attorney Jack White, at the end of his final plea, demanded the "supreme penalty" for Bednasek. This penalty in Iowa for first degree murder is death by hanging. Bednasek was tried before the jury of eight men and four women on a charge of murder in the death last December 11 of Margaret Anne (Gee-Gee) Jackson, whom he claimed was his campus sweetheart. The 20-year-old Miss Jackson also was a psychology student. Four Possible Verdicts. The state argued that Miss Jackson "wanted to be free." That she "just wanted to be friends" with Bednasek, and that he killed her because he feared he was losing her, and acquitted. Defense Attorney Clair Hamilton, his voice husky with emotion, told the jury as he placed a hand on the shoulder of Bednasek: "I know Bob Bednasek is innocent. I have faith in this boy as though he were my own kid." The defendant bowed his head and wiped his eyes. Several jurors rubbed their eyes. White declared the beautiful, blonde co-ed "didn't have a chance." The county attorney, softly quoting the familiar child's prayer, "Now I lay me down to sleep," declared: "He didn't let her get her breath. Margaret Anne Jackson didn't even have a chance to pray. He killed her brutally, viciously, in a jealous rage." The state argued that Miss Jackson "wanted to be free." That she "just wanted to be friends" with Bednasek, and that he killed her because he feared he was losing her, and acquitted. Defense Attorney William Bartley preceded Hamilton and outlined the defense case. He stressed that the conflicting medical testimony offered during the trial created a "reasonable doubt" as to the cause of death.

U. S. Unemployment Situation Improved

WASHINGTON — The nation's unemployment situation is showing improvement after sinking to its worst condition in eight years. New Census Bureau figures show 561,000 fewer jobs in March than in February. The March total was 4,123,000 compared with an eight-year high of 4,684,000 in February. Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, in announcing the new figures Monday, said they are encouraging and seem to mean an early start on an expected Spring employment gain. Employment rose almost 600,000 from 56,953,000 in February to 57,553,000 in March but Sawyer was only cautiously optimistic, saying: "It is too early to say whether it reflects much more than the normal pickup in seasonal industries and the end of the coal dispute just prior to the March survey."

MCKENNEY Answers Your

CANASTA Questions

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority Written For NEA Service

Having canastas and no other melds, many readers find themselves perplexed when a wild card enters their hand. This is particularly true when they are holding only a few cards in their hand and hope to go out. A typical question is: Q—I have two mixed canastas and no other melds. Holding a deuce and one other card in my hand, may I place the deuce on a canasta, discard the other card and go out? A—Yes. You may add as many wild cards to the canasta as you wish. Some other questions I have received recently are: Q—My mother placed a red trey on the table and drew a card from the stock pile to replace it. She then made her initial meld and discarded. After the next player's turn, she discovered she had only 10 cards, having forgotten to draw at her turn. She wanted to draw two cards at her next turn but Dad insisted that she play with only 10 cards. Which one was correct? A—Dad was correct. The official rule states that if a player fails to replenish his hand for a red trey, and the error is not discovered until the next player has drawn, play continues without correction. Q—I laid down two natural nines and picked up the discard pile which had a nine on top. After melding three nines and studying the cards of the discard pile I had picked up, I asked my partner, "May I go out?" My opponent said this was wrong, and that I could not ask for permission to go out after laying down the necessary cards to pick up the discard pile. A—Your opponents were right. According to the rules, a player may ask for permission to go out only at his proper turn to play and before melding or indicating a possible meld. As a matter of fact, the rules require that a player must go out if he melds, or indicates a meld, and then asks the question. When you ask the question before drawing, and receive a negative answer from your partner, you still have the right to take the discard pile if you can. Q—My opponent declared himself out in the middle of a hand because he had a count of 5,000 points, including his previous score plus the melds on the table before him. Is this permissible? A—No. Each hand has to be played completely. A score may be added to a previous score only at the end of a hand. According to the official laws, the game terminates at the end of any hand in which a total of 5,000 or more points is reached by either side or both sides. If both sides exceed 5,000 at the end of a hand, the side with the higher total score wins the game, no matter which side went out on that particular hand. Q—Can you put down just a joker for an initial meld of 50 points? A—No. You never can meld a single card. You are always required to meld at least two natural cards with one wild card, and you can meld two natural cards with as many as three wild cards. Wild cards may be added to melds, but never melded by themselves. Q—I have four black treys in my hand and three wild cards. May I play them as a canasta and go out? A—No. You cannot form a canasta of four treys. If you have a base of four natural cards on the table, you can put your three wild cards with that base, thus forming a canasta, then put down your four black treys and go out.
