W-C Kent Opener Is On Production

Caroline Hunt Trust estate No. 1 J. W. Young, new Canyon-reef opener in West-Central Kent County, is now completed and on production.

On the 24-hour potential, it rated a producing capacity of 2,184 barrels of 39.2-gravity oil. The daily figure was based on a nine-hour flow of 91 barrels an hour. Tubing pressure was 225 pounds; casing pressure was 325 pounds. Gas-oil ratio was 338-1.

Production was from a perforated section at 8,484-520 feet in the Canyon. That section had been treated with 500 gallons of acid.

Reef-Top Picked

The No. 1 Young is bottomed at 7,232 feet. Seven-inch casing is cemented at 6,520 feet. Reef-top is picked at 6,214 feet on a minus datum of 4,116 feet.

This discovery is 1,640 feet from east and 467 feet from south lines of section 166, block G, W&NV survey, and seven and one-half miles northwest of Claremont.

The Hunt interests are drilling south and west offsets to its No. 1 Young.

Borden Pool Gets Profiling Producer

Official completion of the George P. Livermore, Inc. No. 1 D. F. Whitaker, south offset to the discovery well of the North Vincent (Riencke)-Canyon pool in Southeast Borden County has been reported to the Railroad Commission of Texas.

From a six-hour flow through two-inch tubing, the No. 1 Whitaker rated a daily potential of 3,976.48 barrels of 46-gravity oil. Casing pressure was 1,250 pounds, and tubing pressure was 263 pounds. Gas-oil ratio was 1,203-1. Production was from open hole. Top of the pay is at 6,731 feet, and total depth is 6,792 feet. Five and one-half inch oil string is set at 6,723 feet.

Before the test, the pay section was tested with 3,500 gallons of acid. Included in the production was five-tenths of one per cent basic sediment and water.

This new producer is 660 feet from north and west lines of the south half of section 53, block 23; H&TC survey, and 18 miles south-east of Gail.

Cogdell West Stepout Reaches Water Level

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Spire, was offset to the discovery well of the Cogdell-Canyon field in Central-South Kent County, and 467 feet from south and 573 feet from east lines of section 717, block 97, H&TC survey, finally found the water level in the Canyon horizon of that region.

The prospector took a one and one-half hour drillstem test at 7,000-15 feet. Recovery was 136 feet of oil and gas out of drilling mud and 350 feet of salt water.

Operator is running electric log surveys, preparatory to plugging back above the water and completing.

This venture topped the Canyon line at 6,815 feet, which is a datum of minus 4,374 feet. It showed good possibilities of production between 6,815 feet and 6,905 feet and operator then cemented 3 1/2-inch casing at 6,905 feet to protect the pay, while the hole was cored deeper to check the full thickness of the pay and to find the water.

The section was drilled to 7,905 feet and 7,000 feet flowed oil in drillstem tests. No spray was found above 7,000 feet.

Mud Cases Off Pay In Benedum Flanker

Drilling mud has apparently cased off the pay section of the Plymouth Oil Company No. 1-42 Barnett, possible northeast extension of the Benedum multi-pay pool, to such an extent that operator is considering setting a whipstock above the pay in the Fusselman section of the Silurian and then drill into that horizon from an angle.

Located two and one-quarter miles northeast of the nearest production in the Benedum pool, which straddles the Upton-Reagan County line, the 1-42 Barnett County line sprayed distillate on a drillstem test 11,800-580 feet. On a 30-minute test at that depth, distillate began spraying in 16 minutes and continued to do so throughout the rest of the test.

Assured of a Fusselman producer, operator then drilled to test the Ellenburger. The project bottomed in that formation, which proved barren of production, at 12,370 feet; then plugged back to 12,000 feet to complete from the Fusselman.

After extended testing and acidizing of perforations above 12,000 feet, operator concluded that the drilling mud used to drill deeper after the distillate-spraying drillstem test—has cased off the pay zone to such an extent that commercial production is impossible.

Operators were last reported running directional surveys, preparatory to possibly setting the whipstock for the new hole.

The 1-42 Barnett is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 42, block Y, TCRB survey, approximately 18 miles northwest of Big Lake.

Hunt For Missing U. S. Plane Centers Off Danish Island

WIESBADEN, GERMANY—(AP)—The search for a missing U. S. Navy patrol plane concentrated Wednesday off the Danish island of Bornholm after a rescue pilot reported he had sighted what appeared to be either traces of survivors or wreckage from the plane.

But three hours after receipt of the first report there was no confirmation at U. S. Air Force Headquarters in Wiesbaden that this was a positive clue to the plane, a four-engine B-29 bomber. The American plane was unarmored and had instructions not to fly over Soviet territory, U. S. officials said. It carried a 10-man crew.

Budenz Claims He Can List 400 Reds

MIDLAND, MICH.—(AP)—Ex-Communist Louis Budenz, who may have an answer to the Senator McCarthy-Owen Latimore dispute, says he could name 400 "concealed" Communists in the United States.

"But I won't do it," he declared here Tuesday night. "I can't afford libel suits."

The former managing editor of the Communist Daily Worker was in Midland for a lecture. While here, he was notified of a subpoena to appear before a Senate subcommittee investigating McCarthy's charge that Latimore is a Soviet agent.

Budenz, named as McCarthy's "mystery witness," would offer no comment on the dispute. But he did say that he had never met, talked with, or given documents to McCarthy.

"In justice to the investigating committee," he said, "I cannot say anything further."

Sandia Secret Base Is Scene Of Air Mishap

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—(AP)—A B-29 bomber carried all 13 airmen aboard to fiery deaths in a crash Tuesday night into Sandia Secret Weapons Base.

The Air Force drew a tight secrecy curtain on the tragedy in a remote area of the atomic bomb assembly installation.

News men were barred from entering the area, a spot 7,000 feet high in the Manzano Mountains. The scene is some five miles east of Sandia headquarters and 17 miles east of downtown Albuquerque.

A road block was thrown across the only trail leading into the area just off transcontinental U. S. Highway 66.

The giant Strategic Air Command plane from Walker Base at Roswell plunked to the ground and burned three minutes after it took off from nearby Kirtland Field.

Emphasizing secrecy cloaking the locale, one officer observed: "Not even the President of the United States could get into the place."

Plan For Sea Evacuation Abandoned

For more than two months, the State Department has been pressing the Communists to approve arrangements for the departure of the foreigners from Shanghai. Among them are some 300 Americans and 450 British citizens.

The Americans include United States diplomatic and consular staffs who have been ordered out.

School Board Names Officers; Hamilton Elected President

Following the canvassing and acceptance of the April 1 election returns, the retiring chairman George T. Abell, asked for nominations for new officers. Others named were Mrs. W. H. Gilmore, vice president, and Mrs. Ernest Sidwell, secretary.

Hot War As Result Of Plane Incident Is Believed Unlikely

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A hot war with Russia as a result of an air-plane shooting scrape or any other single incident is regarded by American diplomatic and military authorities as highly unlikely.

At the State Department and Pentagon, there was no inclination to treat lightly an official protest from Moscow that an American B-29 type bomber had violated Soviet territory in the Baltic area, fired on Russian fighter planes and been fired upon in return.

But neither was there so much as a suggestion that either country might want to go on from there to knock chips off shoulders.

U. S. officials indicated the truth of the matter may be that an unarmed American Navy patrol plane, missing since Saturday, was shot down by Russian fighters.

Steps Outlined

The next steps appear to be: A tartly worded rejection of the Russian protest. A complaint of our own that the Soviets evidently shot down an unarmed American plane. A sharpening of tensions and a further deterioration of relations, just as there were when Russia blocked Berlin. Additional exchange of angry diplomatic notes.

Yet officials here say we certainly don't want to pick a fight with anyone and they have an idea the Russians want to avoid one within the foreseeable future.

They reason that since World War II the Reds have pushed the frontiers of communism forward here and there without using military force and probably will want to see how far they can go with the process. So they look for continued Russian probing for weak spots, continued pressure short of the use of arms.

Abundant Living

By E. STANLEY JONES

WITHOUT FAITH, YOU CANNOT MEET LIFE'S EMERGENCIES To gather up the meditation of yesterday: we are inwardly fashioned for faith—faith is healing; doubt and fear are destroying.

(2) I see that I cannot meet life's emergencies unless I have confidence and faith. A doctor told me of this procedure in the Mayo Clinic: "A patient who was being prepared for one of the wonderful new operations for reducing high blood pressure had passed every preliminary examination successfully and thought no more were to follow. She was mistaken. Before the surgeon would operate, the patient must pass the test which would make sure that no spiritual or mental trouble was bringing on chronic headaches and hypertension. The doctor, who was firm and would not be sidetracked, questioned the patient closely as to her home life, her married happiness, her religious state. Was she happy? Worried over money? Was she satisfied with her home conditions? Her religion? Until she could pass that test she was not ready to stand the operation, for the doctors knew she could collapse from within in spite of all scientific efforts if there were conflict and worry at the bedside of her life."

A schoolteacher was suffering from heart trouble, her heart beating so loud and rapidly that at the least effort it "seemed to jump out of her body." The doctors could find no physical reason for her heart condition, but they discovered that she was worried over a lump in her breast; she was sure cancer was developing that when she was assured that there was no lump and no cancer, she went home happy and relieved. The heart became normal, and she is happy and efficient in her work.

Tour Of New Hospital Shows Modern And Cheerful Building

By FRANCES HAGAMAN
What modern architecture and construction can do with a building called a hospital—a word once signifying a dreary and frightening place—was shown by a group of Midlanders Tuesday afternoon.

Approximately 40 citizens visited the Midland Memorial Hospital on a tour conducted by E. R. Andres, administrator of the Midland Memorial Hospital Foundation. The tour was the second to be sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary to the hospital.

Although only a few of the furnishings have been placed in the building, most of the painting and installation of wiring and fixtures is complete. It is not hard to visualize what the completed structure will be.

Surgery Floor
The top floor of the four-story building is being designed exclusively for surgery. The minor surgery room as well as the two large operating rooms are equipped with adjustable lamps hanging from the ceiling. The walls are green tile. The large surgery rooms each have film boxes for hanging X-rays for use during operations.

This floor also has a stretcher room, doctor's locker room, waiting room and several recovery rooms as well as the innumerable scrub rooms and storage rooms connected with surgery.

The third floor will be reserved exclusively for obstetrics cases and contains the nurseries and delivery rooms. The delivery rooms also are tile-walled, in the same green as the operating room.

Rooms Colorful
The second floor, like the third and fourth, has a reception desk and waiting rooms. The floors are block tile in brown and cream. The stark whiteness of many hospitals is not evident in the building, since the walls are cream and pastel pink and green. The storage cases are a dark green-gray metal and stainless steel.

The large windows let sunlight stream in, and the color of the walls was selected to blend with it and provide correct lighting.

The first floor contains the large entrance hall, paneled near the floor with marble, and other reception rooms and offices. It also has the large kitchen with tile walls and the dining rooms for the doctors, nurses and hospital employees.

Emergency Entrance
The emergency entrance through the back of the building, where there is an emergency surgery room and an emergency delivery room. The basement also contains the central heating and cooling units.

The hospital is equipped with two elevators for patients and visitors as well as a freight elevator. Numerous dumb waiters will carry medicine, food and other supplies to various parts of the building. A clothes chute on each floor leads to the central laundry and there are many other small conveniences which will contribute to the cleanliness and efficiency of the hospital.

The Nurses' Home, to the back and a little east of the main hospital building, is much nearer completion. The architecture and color scheme follow that of the main building and the furniture is metal of a blending shade.

Rooms For Visitors
The first floor of this building contains a large living room for the nurses and visitors, a smaller men's waiting room, a nurses' lounge with a kitchenette, the director's suite and several bathrooms.

The lounge rooms and the director's suite are done in pale green. Several of the bedrooms are pale green with pale pink furniture. Other rooms have pink walls and deep aqua furniture.

The upper story is devoted to bedrooms for visitors, a smaller men's waiting room, a nurses' lounge with a kitchenette, a bedroom and a bath.

Explosive Issue

Winston Churchill for the second time in recent weeks has proposed that the Germans be called on to aid the defense of their own country and Western Europe against possible attack by Russia.

He insisted that in his first comment he said nothing about "rearming Germany." But he added that he sees no reason why British, American, French and German soldiers "should not stand in the line together on honorable terms of comradeship as part of a combined system of defense."

There's nothing particularly new in Churchill's views. Many Western officials have been saying for some time, either publicly or privately, that Germany must be allowed to take part in the defense of the West.

But it's an explosive issue. Naturally the West, and especially France, doesn't wish to encourage the rebirth of the same German military might that twice carried the world into war. A Germany strong enough militarily to stand on its own feet and throw its weight wherever it chose is considered unthinkable.

What the West wants is a German force that could be incorporated into a general West European army and held under outside control. Such a force would stand, too, as a balance against East German combat units converted from the so-called "people's police" in the Soviet zone of Germany.

As one writer put it, the West is trying to conceive a German army "which will impress the Russians but will not alarm the French."

Yet such an objective may very well be impossible. Germany's military value doesn't lie in her rank-and-file manpower but in her industrial strength, her trained officer corps, her highly developed military technology. It is these the West needs.

The foot soldiers of whom Churchill speaks are not required. The West has plenty of ordinary military manpower. There's a big question, moreover, just how well the German foot soldier would fight under foreign leadership in a cause he thus far has showed no great interest in.

The uncomfortable fact is that the military know-how and economic strength the West really requires cannot actually be gained without allowing Germany to rearm in the very way we consider most dangerous.

There may come a time when it will be safe to permit German rearmament in the only manner that will do the West genuine good. But that moment doesn't even appear to be in sight right now. It will arrive when Germany has unmistakably embraced enough of the West's ideals of freedom and democracy to wish to identify itself voluntarily with the European family of free nations.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc. Drew Pearson says: Truman has changed since he first entered the White House. The President has not kept good men around him; Personal jealousy has hurt our foreign policy.

WASHINGTON—Five years ago today, Harry Truman stood uneasily in the Cabinet Room of the White House taking the oath as President of the United States. He was a humble man, inquiring the Lord for guidance and the American people for help.

A lot has changed since then. The wars then raging on two continents of officials are ended, though they continue unofficially without loss of life. The men who saw Harry Truman take the oath and who helped him during those first trying days largely are gone now. Bob Hannigan, who put his friend in the White House almost with his own bare hands, is dead, saddened by the fact that the President had turned his back.

Three secretaries of State also have come and gone—Ed Stettinius, now dead; Jimmy Byrnes, now bitter; and George Marshall, now retired.

Many of the President's close friends in the Senate have disappeared from his table, and the coterie surrounding Truman has grown smaller and smaller. The palace guard is as tight as a drum.

It will be for history to evaluate the wisdom of Truman's policies and the efficacy with which they were carried out. It is too early to judge them now. But one factor now moulding the results, which historians later must evaluate is the White House circle and its jealousy toward the outside world.

This zeal to knock off any man who even remotely resembles a rival to the President is the most important fact in the political life of the nation today.

It has been responsible for alienation of one of the strongest members of the Truman cabinet, former Secretary of Agriculture-Clinton P. Anderson, now senator from New Mexico. And it is causing friction between the President and the vice president today.

Those who do not know the little band of zealots around Truman scarcely would believe it, but they have convinced themselves and him that Alben Barkley at the age of 72 is a candidate for President. Furthermore, they have cooked up a tortured theory that Barkley took a young bride in order to demonstrate to the world that he was hale, hearty and able to run. They also suspect that Barkley's many speaking engagements are to build him up for 1952.

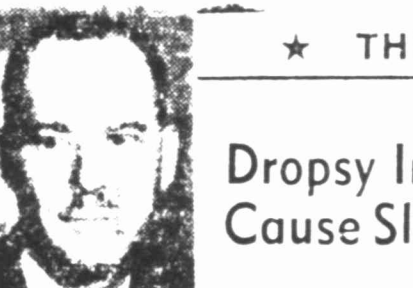

The broad-gauged Barkley, though well aware of this coolness, has chosen to ignore it. On the surface, his relations with the White House remain the same. But the old cordiality, the personal warmth between him and Truman is no more.

Will Truman Run Again? It is not known, even by Truman's intimates, whether he intends to run in 1952. But it definitely is known that the palace guard is itching to have him run. Apparently the lush life of Key West and the White House is something they hate to contemplate losing.

ALONE with Piers, Syrie turned back towards the house. They reached it in unbroken silence, and climbing the three shallow steps which led up to the veranda, she sat down in one of the garden chairs.

Syrie Amberley looked cool, and perfectly groomed, in her fresh linen frock.

"Well, here we are again, my dear—brother!" She gave him a half ironical glance. "I am sure you have missed me?"

"There are various ways of missing people," he replied, without attempting to soften the bluntness of the words. "I rather wondered if you would come back."

"Ah! But even then you remembered what a mercenary woman I am." She smoked for a few moments in silence, staring across the garden, her eyes narrowed against the glare. Then turning her head, she gave him a direct challenging look: "You do dislike me, Piers—don't you?"

"Intensely," he agreed without any trace of emotion. "She was not a sensitive woman; but something in that coldly impersonal announcement got under her skin. She winced, her eyes darkening."

WASHINGTON COLUMN European Dock War Looms Over U. S. Arms Shipments

By PETER EDSON, NEA Washington Correspondent. WASHINGTON—Anti-Communist labor war on the waterfronts of Europe, to insure unloading of North Atlantic Pact military aid supplies from America, has been pledged in Washington by officials of the new International Confederation of Free Trade Unions—ICFTU.

These assurances are given by J. H. Oldenbroeck of The Netherlands, secretary general of ICFTU, and Omer Bercu of Belgium, secretary of the European International Transport Workers Federation.

The major objective of the Communist-led waterfront unions was to pull strikes against Marshall Plan cargo in Antwerp, claiming it was military aid, forcing the ship to unload at Antwerp.

They have had fellow-travelers in Denmark declare that arms shipments would not be unloaded at Copenhagen. They have quoted Harry Bridges, U. S. Longshoremen's leader and president of the maritime branch of World Federation of Trade Unions, against the handling of Marshall Plan supplies.

Major objective of the Communist-dominated labor unions in Western Europe today is to prevent the unloading of these arms from the United States. The counter-attack to this propaganda already has begun, says Oldenbroeck.

Reds Control 'Hiring Halls' Statements in favor of the arms aid program have been issued to dock workers in the principal European ports. Efforts have been made to have waterfront unions vote on this question. Heads of the Communist-dominated unions have tried to block these referenda.

They have thus far been able to block unloading because they control the European equivalents to the American "hiring halls," which supply waterfront labor in both France and Italy. Anti-Communists now are trying to force the election of new union officials to run the hiring halls, so that anti-Communist workers will be assigned to handle military cargo, and prevent sabotage.

Omer Bercu of the International Transport Workers says that will be an all-out fight in the European ports. An international vigilance committee of six longshoremen and seamen has been named to direct operations for all Europe. Regional committees have been set up for Atlantic, Baltic and Mediterranean ports. Local committees are in every port.

"We will use the same tactics the Communists use," says Bercu. "We will not allow our people to be beaten. We intend to fight back. People along the waterfronts have been misled. We have already been successful in Cherbourg and Marseille."

The situation in Italy is peculiar, says Bercu. Arms shipments have been scheduled to go into Genoa, which is Communist controlled. One of Bercu's purposes in visiting Washington is to persuade U. S. officials to ship through Naples, even though cargo there would have to be unloaded on lighters, instead of at docks.

In Naples, Bercu declares, the Communist leader Di Stefano—who was a Fascist under Mussolini—tried to get longshoremen to adopt a resolution against unloading arms. The resolution was thrown out and so was Di Stefano.

Genoa Dockworkers The Communist hold over the port of Genoa is maintained through four big cooperatives which enable laboring people to buy necessities of life at low prices. "It would take an extra 100,000 tons of goods at this time to organize anti-Communist unions. He could not live."

Communists have been trying to gain control of the port in Antwerp, temp. to establish his fourth spouse. West won returned the five of diamonds. The six was played from dummy and East cleverly played the seven. To play the king would be to give up all hope of defeating the contract.

South won the trick with the nine of diamonds, cashed three heart tricks, and then led his last diamond. When West played the eight, South fell into the trap laid by East and yielded to the urge for an extra trick. He finesed the queen of diamonds, and East's king won.

This South was shut out from dummy and at the end was forced to concede a club, going down one trick.

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY, America's Late Card Authority. Written for NEA Service.

Greedy is the cause of many disasters at the bridge table. Hoping for an extra trick, a player reaches out for more than he can make, and as a result loses that which was surely his. Today's hand illustrates this point.

The opening lead of the king of spades here was a trick, and West led the four of diamonds. East won with the jack and returned a spade. West winning. Figuring that it was useless to at-

Distant Star BY HERMINA BLACK

THE STORY: Clemency Syrie is an ordinary governess to Syrie Amberley's small daughter. Her husband, John, is a member of the Piers in Algeria. The married couple obviously depended on Syrie generally. While exploring the garden, Clemency and John were seen with a man who apparently is displaced and orders Clemency to go to her quarters.

"Oh, yes," agreed Clemency. "I shall begin with teaching Boba her alphabet, counting and that kind of thing."

"Well, I shall leave it all entirely in your hands. And of course you will arrange with Lou-lou when you want time off. You can have a car one day a month, and sometimes I prefer if you begin to feel with a charming sentence." She rose surely the most easy of employers. Then hesitating: "There's just one thing—do you mind keeping to your own quarters?" She indicated the flower-hillock square beneath the windows. "I don't like Baba wandering all over the place. You can get out on to the road by that door and there are walks all about the Oasis."

"Of course Mrs. Amberley!" "I'm so sorry to—sort of box you in," Syrie's smile faded. "The truth is—it's well, just a little awkward. I like to keep Baba away from Colonel Amberley as much as possible, because really although he is quite sweet to her, I know he is bored with a child about the place. She looked at Clemency with a charming embarrassment. "Between you and me, Miss Norton, I don't think my house was ever built large enough to contain two families—especially such a dorn bachelor as Colonel Amberley. By temperament he is actually a recluse—he wasn't so frightfully fond of Jon, and had not been so worried about his health. I don't think anything would have induced him to let even us into his home. Again, strictly speaking, women are almost dislikers women. You see—of course you won't let this go any farther—he was once terribly in love with someone." Then in a lighter tone: "The trouble for our set is that they will fall for him. He can have very pretty manners, and that raises hope in the poor things. Kathleen used absolutely to be in wait for him; and the first girl I brought out made an absolute idiot of herself."

"You needn't worry Mrs. Amberley," said Clemency quietly. "I shall see that Boba is kept away from her."

"Thank you, but I don't think I am likely to have trouble," Clemency replied, rather surprised. "Lou-lou and Ahmed both seem very willing to do anything for me."

"Good servants can be so difficult!" Syrie jerked her shoulders impatiently. "As I told you, when I engaged you, I hate being bothered over nursery details. This is your unquestioned domain. Don't let anybody interfere with you, not even Jon. I suppose you will have some sort of itinerary for lessons and things?"

"Great game, folks! Every player's wearing a Klippenkupper hat and smoking a Moropa cigar!"

Memorial Service Recalls Events Of Roosevelt's Life

HYDE PARK —P— Five years have passed since Franklin D. Roosevelt's death, but as many as 3,000 persons daily still visit his grave.

Wednesday—the anniversary of the late President's death—the events of his life were recalled once more in a special memorial service at the grave.

The Rev. Gordon L. Kidd, pastor of St. James Episcopal Church here, which Roosevelt attended during his lifetime, conducted the service.

The service was open to the public. The small fee ordinarily charged to look through the Roosevelt home and library was not in effect for the day.

The occasion focused attention on this landscaped burial spot beside the Hudson River—which has drawn an average of half a million visitors a year since his death.

Visitors Numerous

During the tourist season, he often show the Franklin D. Roosevelt national historic site to more than 3,000 in one day," says George A. Palmer, park superintendent.

He says it is surprising how little people "knew" about Roosevelt personally.

"They all are familiar with his public and political life, but very few people are acquainted with the life he lived as a man," Palmer said.

In the library you can see the marriage certificate of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Eleanor Roosevelt, witnessed by her uncle and aunt, Theodore and Edith Kermit Roosevelt, March 17, 1905.

There is a copy of the first FBI industrial address, written in his hand on yellow paper and dated Feb. 27, 1933. And the old family Bible, brought by Roosevelt's ancestors from Holland, is in a prominent place. On this Bible Roosevelt took the oath of office. Figures as President of the United States.

Bainbridge Colby, Member Of Wilson Cabinet, Is Dead

BENJAMIN POINT, N. Y.—P—Bainbridge Colby, 80, last secretary of State under President Woodrow Wilson, died Tuesday night.

Colby, a political individualist throughout his career, suffered a heart attack two weeks ago.

While secretary of State, Colby wrote a historical note refusing recognition to the Soviet government of Russia.

The recognition was granted 13 days later, but Colby contended there had been nothing to justify a change.

Colby never did change his opinion about Russia. Until recently, he gave lectures against communism.

Affiliations Vary

Colby's affiliations with political parties were many and various. He switched party lines possibly more than any other national figure.

As secretary of State from March 22, 1920, to March 4, 1921, he held the highest cabinet post under a Democratic President.

But he had been a Republican at the start of his political career. In 1902, he was elected to the New York Legislature on the GOP ticket.

In 1912, Colby joined Bull Moose when it nominated Theodore Roosevelt for President and in 1916 joined the Progressive Party.

Four years later, however, he broke with Roosevelt and campaigned with Wilson.

For a decade, Colby remained a Democrat. He made a nationwide speaking tour in support of Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932.

That association was short-lived. Within a year, Colby was criticizing the New Deal Administration.

He termed the New Dealers "betrayers of the country," and called for an anti-New Deal coalition.

Shivers Asks Probe Of Child's Status

LOS ANGELES —P—California Attorney General Frederick N. Shivers said at the request of Texas, he will begin an investigation Wednesday into the status of child movie actress Lora Lee Michel, nine, now a ward of the juvenile court here.

Lora Lee has been the subject of various legal suits involving her custody and care.

Shivers said he is acting in the case because of a request from Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas that he make an appropriate investigation and report the facts to him.

The California official said he has asked Lora Lee's foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Michel, to come to his office and discuss the matter.

The Michels adopted the child in Texas. The girl's real mother, Mrs. Lena Brinson, 36, lives in Nederland, Texas. A juvenile court judge here said that the Michels had properly adopted the girl, and suggested they take her away from Hollywood.

Later, when the judge learned that Lora Lee was still in Hollywood, he reopened the case and made her a ward of the juvenile court.

Mrs. Michel was acquitted of child mistreatment charges on a complaint that she punished Lora Lee too severely.

Swallows Come Back To Folsom Prison

FOLSOM, CALIF.—P—For some years the Mission San Juan Capistrano has had an apparent monopoly on a punctual-type swallow which left en masse every October 23 and returned every March 19. Bird experts figure the swallows spend the winter along the Amazon. Poems, songs, and annual newspaper accounts have been written about the way they always come back on the same day.

Comes now, belatedly, Folsom State Prison, California's maximum security institution for the extra-tough criminal, claiming that the swallows are just as punctual here.

Associate Warden W. J. Ryan has been around 36 years. He says the birds never fail. They nest under the eaves of the prison cannery, under corners of the walls, and in rock pockets high in the prison quarry.

City Of Haskell Asks Water Rights Priority

HASKELL —P— This city has asked the State Board of Water Engineers for priority rights to the Paint Creek waters in an area southeast of here.

The request was made in an application filed Tuesday.

The area is a proposed site for a reservoir and dam which will have a capacity of approximately 40,000-acre feet of storage.

Water from the reservoir would be used to provide domestic and municipal supplies to 10 area towns: Haskell, Stamford, Luaders, Avoca, Hamlin, Rotan, Roby, O'Brien, Benjamin and Throckmorton.

Representatives of these 10 towns are to meet in Stamford Friday with U. S. Bureau of Reclamation officials for final decision on cities and towns desiring to enter the project.

Illinois Republicans Pick Dirksen To Oppose Lucas

CHICAGO—(AP)—Former Rep. Everett M. Dirksen, who retired last year after serving 16 years, won the Republican nomination for U. S. senator in Tuesday's Illinois primary election.

Dirksen, who piled up a big lead over two Chicago candidates, will oppose Scott W. Lucas, President Truman's majority leader in the Senate, in the November general election. Lucas, now serving his second term, was renominated without opposition.

Seven of the 23 incumbent congressmen who had opposition in the primary were renominated, as was expected.

There was a light turnout of voters in the election, the first in a series of state primaries this Spring that will nominate candidates for next Fall's decisive congressional contests. The total vote was estimated at about 1,500,000 out of a total of about 5,000,000 registered voters.

Administration Critic
Dirksen, who has been critical of the Democratic Administration's foreign aid and tax programs, returned from politics in 1949 while he recovered from an eye ailment. He had served in the House of Representatives from Pekin from 1933 to 1949.

Returns from 5,048 of the state's 9,424 precincts gave Dirksen 285,154 votes, a wide margin over his two opponents, William J. Baker and Lar Daly. Baker had 87,331 and Daly 26,738.

Among the seven congressmen winning renomination was Rep. Adolph J. Sabath, 84-year-old dean of the House. Sabath, a Democrat now serving his 44th year and 22nd consecutive term in Congress from Chicago's Seventh Congressional District. He defeated Marshall Mendel, whom he also beat two years ago.

Seven Negroes Due To Die For Rape Of White Woman

MARTINSVILLE, VA.—(AP)—Barring U. S. Supreme Court intervention, seven Martinsville negroes will die in Virginia's State Penitentiary in May and June for the rape of a white woman.

The executions officially were set for last Summer but stays were granted while the seven appealed their convictions to the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals.

The state's high tribunal last month upheld the convictions. Tuesday, Circuit Judge Kennon C. Whittle set new execution dates while counsel for the seven men planned an appeal to the U. S. high court.

Joe Henry Hampton, Frank Hairston, Jr., Booker T. Miller and Howard Lee Hairston are to be electrocuted on May 28. Francis Desales Grayson, John Clabon Taylor and James Luther Hairston will go to the chair on June 2.

The seven men were convicted a year ago this month of the rape of Mrs. Ruby Stroud Floyd, 32-year-old wife of a merchant.

Wintry Weather Covers Big Area

By The Associated Press
There was a touch of wintry weather over wide areas of the country Wednesday from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic Seaboard.

The cold breezes which whipped across the Midwest diminished but there was still a lot of blowing in many parts of the Northeastern region.

The mercury dipped to near the zero mark in Northern North Dakota and Northern Minnesota and the freezing line extended into Northern Illinois. The cold air pushed southeastward and not much relief was promised by forecasters for at least 24 hours.

Snow fell in parts of Pennsylvania, New York, Northern New England and sections of Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois. The Dakotas were recovering from a snow-ice storm.

Florida, Texas and Southern New England escaped the chilly blasts. Temperatures were near normal or above season levels over most of the Western and Pacific Coast states.

Hearing Is Scheduled For Teen-Age Texans

PHOENIX—(AP)—A habeas corpus hearing has been set April 22 for two teen-age youths from Waco, Texas, charged with murder in the fatal shooting of Gustave A. Beausseau, 36, near Mesa, Ariz., March 19.

The hearing date was set Tuesday for Ebert Gene Riddell, 19, and Charles Roy Opie, 16.

Their attorneys contend that no evidence was produced at a preliminary hearing last week showing a crime was committed. The habeas corpus hearing also was asked on the grounds that Opie was denied bail bond at the preliminary examination.

The Los Angeles photographic salesman was shot after he had given the two youths a ride in his car.

Hospital Attendant Admits Setting Fires

LANCASTER, PA.—(AP)—Police said Wednesday a 23-year-old hospital attendant admitted setting two fires because he "was mad at everybody and disgusted with the world."

The fires, which swept a warehouse and service station, caused damage estimated at $15,000 Easter Sunday morning.

Corporal James J. Haggerty of the State Police identified the man held on arson charges as Willoughy Lutzenberger of nearby Manheim. Lutzenberger was an attendant at Lancaster General Hospital.

The young man now is a patient at the hospital. He suffered back injuries when he plunged 40 feet from the hospital balcony, Haggerty said, in an attempt to escape police.

Conservation Note Stressed In Kilgore

KILGORE—(AP)—Kilgore's "Appreciation Day" for the Texas Railroad Commission found the two members present giving endorsement and praise to the East Texas Oil Field conservation program.

William J. Murray, Jr., and Ernest O. Thompson spoke at a meeting Tuesday night. Commissioner Olin Culbertson was absent because of illness.

Several thousand persons overflowed Driller Baseball Park to hear the commissioners lauded, and their remarks in reply. A transcribed address by Mrs. Culbertson was played for the crowd.

Commissioner Murray said: "There is no other field in Texas and probably no other field in the world that will ever produce one billion barrels of oil."

"The East Texas field in the last eight years had produced a billion barrels of oil and at the same time has shown an increase of 30 pounds in pressure."

Murray praised the salt water injection program in the field. He lauded it as a means of eliminating pollution of streams and lands and of maintaining pressure in the reservoir.

He predicted that at least five billion barrels ultimately would be produced from the field.

McCarthy Figures To Get Boston Off Fast, Finish First

By JACK HAND
ST. PETERSBURG, FLA.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox look like the class team of the American League with awesome power and enough pitching to win the pennant after two close misses.

All they need is a swift boot out of the starting gate, Joe McCarthy, away from the World Series since 1943, figures to get the Sox off fast and slide home October 1 with a little to spare.

New York and Detroit probably will make the most trouble with their fine pitching staffs. The Yanks also have that "strong bench" to rely in case of emergencies.

Texas League Begins Its 55th Campaign With Record Crowds

By The Associated Press
The Texas League opened its 55th campaign on a profitable—and record—note.

The profits and record came Tuesday night when 73,055 fans paid to see opening games in four cities. That was a record. So was the crowd of more than 50,000 that watched Tulsa trim Dallas 10-3 on a makeshift diamond cut in the gridiron of the huge Cotton Bowl Stadium.

Scores in two of the other three games were a little closer—Beaumont 4, San Antonio 3; Oklahoma City 7, Fort Worth 5. But Houston whammed Shreveport 9-1.

The old opening day attendance record was 70,424 set in 1928. But that was for first games in each of the eight cities in the league. So when the clubs switch playing sites Thursday the new record is going to grow.

More Than 50,000
The 50,000 plus crowd in Dallas topped by a country mile the old best single game crowd of 16,018 at Fort Worth in 1930.

Nine past stars of baseball and the high-stepping, good-looking girl drill squad from Kikore Junior College helped draw the big crowd at Dallas.

Tulsa didn't let the home-town mob scare it at all, banging out 18 hits, including nine doubles. Ground-rules helped swell the doubles total. Dallas got one.

New Records
The ten doubles was no record, but for the record the four games saw 20 pitchers in action, 42 runs scored, 69 base hits and six errors.

Tulsa's catcher, Hobart Landrith, fractured an ankle sliding into home base in the fourth inning and probably will be out three months.

Oklahoma City came from behind to whip Fort Worth, while doubles by Gene Herbert and Marty Hanson in the eighth inning won for Beaumont.

Houston hurler Joe Preko hit a grand-slam home run to highlight a six-run outburst by Houston in the seventh inning.

The same teams meet again Wednesday night at the same sites.

Same Teams To Tangle Here Wednesday Night

By SHORTY SHELBURNE
Reporter-Telegram Sports Editor
The Midland Indians and the Big Spring Broncs tangle at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday in Indian Park in the final game of the opening home stand for Midland.

Manager Harold Webb has nominated Harold Wearne, limited service right-hander, as his starting hurler.

The two teams shift to Big Spring for a two-game series Thursday and Friday. The Indians return home to play San Angelo Saturday and Sunday.

It was a great night for Harold Webb and his Midland Indians and for more than 1,200 baseball fans Tuesday night as the Tribe blasted the defending champion Big Spring Broncs 14 to 6 in a Longhorn League season opener at Indian Park.

Ralph Blair, an 18-game winner here last year, worked with his arm and his head to get by the Broncs and notch his first victory.

He gave up 12 hits to the opposing nine but used some crafty chunking in spots to get out of serious trouble.

The Indians jumped on Bert Baez, a worn-out veteran, for five runs in the first inning and there was no stopping them after that.

Shining almost as brightly as the victory was the major-league caliber play of the Midland infield. Scooter Hughes and Quentin Basco, short-stop and second baseman, proved they are a top-rate double play combination.

Hughes to Basco to Prince was the route for three twin killings in the tilt. In addition, Hughes and Basco made outstanding fielding plays more than once.

The Broncs led off the first inning with one run on a double by Bobby Gonzales and a single by Manager Pat Stasey, a batter of note in any man's league. The hits came after two were out and Blair whiffed Potato Pascual to end the inning.

Indians Get Five
The Indians stormed all over Baez and made every break count. Basco opened with a good smash down the third base line but was robbed by Pascual.

Lou Dawson walked, Kenny Jones singled, Jim Pravo walked and George Firnback walked, forcing in a run. Pat Lorenzo forced Firnback at second but Jones scored.

Lonnie Balch, Scooter Hughes and Blair singled in succession and the Indians had five bases to start on. Basco forced Blair to end the inning.

The Broncs added a single run in the third on a single by Danny Concepcion, a walk to Felix Gomez, a walk to Gonzales and an infield error. A double play from Hughes to Basco to Prince cut the rally short.

Add Three
Firnback and Lorenzo singled to open Midland's third and Balch sacrificed them around. Hughes singled to left to drive them in. Hughes advanced on an error and Blair plated him with a single. Three more runs for Midland.

Singles by Gonzales and Pascual and a double by Stasey gave Big Spring two more in the fifth.

The Broncs added two in the sixth on singles by Bob Doe, Baez and Gomez and a walk to Concepcion. Blair closed the door right there and that was all.

The last of the sixth produced three additional tallies for the Indians and the longest base knock of the night, a triple by Firnback.

Basco opened with a single, Dawson forced him at second, Jones went out from short to first and Baez sent Dawson to third and Prince walked on the same ball. Firnback stepped into a curve ball and clouted it between the out-

Three-Time Winner Of Cue Crown Dies

PHILADELPHIA.—(AP)—Andrew Ponzi, 47, three-time winner of the world's pocket billiards title and one of the game's most popular players died Tuesday at Hahnemann Hospital.

Ponzi was stricken with a heart attack two weeks ago.

His death came less than a month after that of another famed cue artist—in the same hospital, Ralph Greenleaf, 50, one of the top players of the game and 14 times world champion, died of a cerebral hemorrhage on March 15.

REIGN ON ROLLERS—Ken Byrne, left, and Jean Phethean practice at Wembley's Empire Pool, hard by London, where they were to defend their European roller skating championships. They also hold the world titles.

Longhorn Loop Opens Its Fourth Season On Usual Wacky Note

By The Associated Press
The Class D Longhorn League opened its fourth season Tuesday night and—yep—it's just like it was last year, wonderfully wacky.

San Angelo used five hits, two walks and an error to score four runs in the first inning and go on to beat Ballinger 11-3.

Vernon nipped Sweetwater, 12-11, in three hours and 15 minutes and in a game that saw a total of 26 base hits.

Odessa outthrew Roswell 17 to 11, but the New Mexicans made their hits count more and won, 8 to 7.

Midland didn't have any trouble with Big Spring, winning 14-6. The difference in hits was closer: Midland 14, Big Spring 12.

The scores:
San Angelo 401 201 003—11 16 1
Ballinger 000 100 101—3 10 5
Cex and Schrengold—Perrin, Gieblear and Funderburk.

Experts Not Ready To Pass Judgment On Texas-Bred Colt

NEW YORK.—(AP)—Turf experts decided Wednesday it would be wise to await next Saturday's experimental Handicap No. 2 before passing judgment on Middleground's Kentucky Derby prospects.

Robert J. Kieberg's Texas-bred, sand-colored colt made his three-year-old bow Tuesday at Jamaica in the Count Fleet Purse, an allowance dash of six furlongs. He lost by a half length to Mrs. Andy Schuttinger's Ferd, whose time of 1:10.45 equaled the fastest of the meeting for the distance.

Middleground was a two to three favorite. While his defeat was a big disappointment to his admirers, the son of Derby-winning Bold Venture was not disgraced.

Won Two Stakes
Ferd won two stakes as a juvenile—in addition to an overnight dash in seven 1949 starts.

Middleground, beaten once last year in five outings, had not raced since winning Saratoga's Hopeful stakes last August.

After Tuesday's race, Trainer Max Hirsch said of Middleground: "He ran a good race. He had his speed, and he was right up with Ferd from the start. I can't fault his effort."

Ferd, a non-eligible for the Derby, led all the way under Eddie Arcaro. Ferd carried 118 pounds, Middleground 117.

There's No Such Thing As An Ex-Texan, Says Tris Speaker, Immortal Of Baseball

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff

"I'm still a Texan," said Tris Speaker, "There's no such thing as an ex-Texan."

The baseball immortal, white-haired, sunburned, and 62, was enjoying a shave and manicule in a Dallas barber shop. The veteran of 22 years in the major leagues, known as the greatest fielder in history, relaxed while a barber smothered his red face in hot towels and a manicurist fied away at his big strong paws.

"What does baseball mean to you, Mr. Speaker?"

"To me, as a player, it has meant a livelihood," he replied. "It's the nicest way I know to earn a living. I was well paid. Baseball players make more these days but I don't know that they wind up with more take-home pay."

"The player who can make the major leagues has a good start in life—a chance for opportunities after his playing days are done."

"Those are some of the things baseball means to me—but the game is bigger than that. I can tell you what I think it means to the country."

"It's the greatest sports activity we Americans have, and athletes of this country have been greatly responsible for our ability to fight and win wars. These psychologists say if you put a baseball and other toys in front of a baby, he'll pick up the baseball in preference to the others. The American boy starts swinging a bat about as soon as he can lift one."

"On baseball diamonds he learns how to win and lose. He acquires the spirit of competition that will mean so much to him in his business life later—the desire to accomplish—the urge to win."

"Baseball as a spectator sport is a fine thing for this country. It helps to ease tension at a tense time. A fellow doesn't carry his worries to a ball game."

"And baseball's a great leveler, too—sort of a symbol of democracy. At a baseball game the bank president rubs shoulders with the laborer. You don't ask the fellow sitting next to you in the stands what he does for a living or how much money he has. You don't care. You're both there for the same purpose—to enjoy the game and root for the home team."

Husky Tris Speaker, a six footer, was born at Hubbard, Texas, and played first in 1906 with Cleburne of the North Texas League. The next year he went to Houston of the Texas League and then on to Boston of the American League, Cleveland and Washington of the American League.

Speaker fielded with incomparable ease and grace. "I could run 100 yards in 10 seconds in a baseball uniform," he said. He established many records, played in more than 3,000 games, went to bat more than 10,000 times. His all-time batting average in the majors was .345.

Today he's with an iron and steel company in Cleveland, coaches fielders for the Cleveland Indians and maintains a farm at Hubbard which he visits six to eight weeks every year. With Ty Cobb and other all-time baseball greats, Speaker took the field Tuesday night at the Cotton Bowl as the Dallas Eagles, and Tulsa Oilers opened the 1950 Texas League season.

This Week's magazine section of the Sunday Dallas Morning News, last Sunday carried a nice article on the Bauer Sisters but no mention was made of their being from Midland.

Just the same, the Bauers got the publicity and that's fine.

The article, by Al Stump, brings out many interesting things about the famous Midland girls.

Stump declared 106-pound Alice Bauer is rated the world's longest driver for her weight.

Alice can pump the ball 250 and 290 yards down the fairways just about any time. That's quite a lick for a "lightweight."

Marlene is described as "that marvelous 15-year-old" in the article.

—SS—

The girls at this time are on their way to Houston where they will enter the Texas Women's Amateur Tournament which opens Monday.

J. C. Hardwick, Midland Country Club pro, says they probably will be back in Midland about April 24.

No schedule for appearances here has been made but it is likely the girls will play an exhibition or two.

—SS—

As Harold Webb's Indians launched the season Tuesday night, Webb said: "We may not be the best team in the league but we are in as good physical shape as any."

"That's one thing I learned from Tugboat Jones—get 'em in shape and you have a lot better chance."

Webb referred to Tugboat's never ceasing efforts to maintain himself in the best of physical condition.

—SS—

Chambers of Commerce throughout the state have been invited to nominate "peewee" football teams in their localities for consideration as a participant in the annual Milk Bowl Game played in Cameron.

The game is a charity event and features an outstanding team of junior high lads from Texas against a team from out of the state.

The Sixth Grade Bullpups of John M. Cowden Junior High School would have been a choice selection last season. Maybe Midland will produce another good one this year.

Dr. Earl Edington, Baptist evangelist now engaged in a series of meetings at the First Baptist Church here, has been mixing and mingling with the big leaguers during Spring training at St. Petersburg, Fla., which is his home.

He gets to see the Cardinals and the Yankees each year and knows many of the major leaguers personally.

The doctor says it looks bad for the aging Cards this year.

Wally Moon, Texas A&M outfielder, is the most sought-after athlete of the school since Big John Kimbrough plowed his way to All-America honors twice.

Moon is a long ball knocker and major league scouts are haunting him for his autograph on a contract.

"I may sign," says Wally. "But if I do I'm going to keep going to school until I get my degree."

"I've reached my 20th birthday now and I'm kinda anxious to see what I can do in baseball."

Longhorns In Lead For Circuit Crown

By The Associated Press

Bibb Falk's hard-hitting University of Texas baseball team is out in front in the race for the Southwest Conference baseball title.

The Longhorns Tuesday whammed Texas A&M, 12-2, to knock the Aggies out of a share of the lead and hand them their first setback of the year in conference play.

In another conference game, underdog Rice tripped Baylor 11-9, largely on the fine relief pitching of Walter Deakin.

Texas touched two Aggie pitchers for an even dozen hits with Murray Wall limited A&M to five hits. John Dewitt's second-inning home run raised A&M hopes, but Texas chilled them again with a three-run outburst in the third all another of five runs in the fourth.

The Baylor-Rice game was mostly hit and run, with Rice managing the more important item of scoring more runs. Baylor out-hit the Owls, 14-11.

The Midland Bulldogs fell before the Lamesa Tornados in a 10 to 5, District 3-AA baseball game Tuesday afternoon at Lamesa.

The Bulldogs jumped into the lead in the third inning with a four-run outburst but couldn't hold it as the seasoned Lamesa nine opened up.

Bill Medart went the route for Midland, allowing 11 hits. Jerry Phillips chucked for the Tornados and gave up just five bingles.

Midland's four-run uprising featured considerable power at the plate.

Fans Take Over For Traditional First Night Ceremonies

The traditional opening night pre-game ceremonies were changed up Tuesday night at Indian Park as the 1950 Longhorn League season opened.

In the place of the mayor and other city officials who usually participate in the throwing out of the first ball, three outstanding baseball fans joined Owner-Manager Harold Webb for the event.

Melvin Haney, a fan who is 100 per cent behind the ball club, threw the first ball to Webb who acted as catcher.

Colonel Wright, another staunch Indian backer, was the batter and Bobby Jenkins, a young supporter of the team, acted as umpire.

The show met with the approval of the fans as was evidenced by a hand from the stands.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And The Donkerwonk

The thunder crashed and rumbled and bumped. Big black clouds had filled the sky. Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, knew the rain was coming to the Great Forest. He was climbing through the trees on his way home, when he happened to look down at the ground. He saw a little house that someone was building of sticks and stones. The somebody was hurrying and hurrying to finish the roof, before the rain came raining down.

Daddy Ringtail slid down to the ground and said: "Happy day, Mr. whoever-you-are. Better let me help you. We must finish the roof before it rains."

"Humph!" was all the somebody said, and he seemed to wish that Daddy Ringtail would go away.

Now that somebody was a Donkerwonk. A Donkerwonk is anybody who is cross and unfriendly more. He invited Daddy Ringtail to come in the house and Daddy Ringtail did, just before the rain came raining down. The Donkerwonk now was wanting to be friends, and if you ever meet a Donkerwonk, remember that they're never cross any more, when someone really tries to be friendly and kind and happy. Happy day!

The gas developed at 9,846-76 feet. It kicked some of the drilling fluid in to the pits—but the well did not blow out. No signs of oil were apparent in the mud pits.

This project is 860 feet from north and east lines of section 20 block 41, TP survey, T-4-S. It was projected to 13,500 feet to test the Ellenburger at the time it started operations.

The test was open one hour. There was a good bubble of air at the surface throughout the investigation.

Recovery was 1,350 feet of mud cut sulphur water, and 3,030 feet of salty sulphur water. There were no signs of oil or gas.

Truman Confident As He Ends Fifth Year In Office

WASHINGTON—President Truman ends his fifth year in office Wednesday in what his friends would describe as a confident, happy-warrior mood.

The sun-tanned President, fresh from a vacation in Florida, apparently is ready to carry to the people a counter-offensive against Republican attacks on his secretary of state and other GOP assaults.

Picturing the President as in vigorous health, Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, gave a reporter this description of Truman:

"He is confident and in a happy frame of mind. He thinks conditions throughout the country are good. He thinks world problems are not insoluble. He is ready to fight for his program."

A Republican reaction to Truman was expressed by Senator Brewster of Maine, chairman of his party's senatorial campaign committee.

"We wish Mr. Truman—but not his program—the long life," Brewster said. "We still consider him the Republicans' best asset."

"We think it is obvious he is going to campaign for a Truman-Congress since the Democratic eightieth Congress has been no better, from his standpoint, than the Republican eightieth. We welcome him into the battle on those terms."

Just about the time he is celebrating his sixty-sixth birthday next May 8 Truman will be heading westward for the first political

Marvin Miller of Big Spring, a vice president of the Couden Petroleum Corporation, told members of the Midland Lions Club at their luncheon meeting Wednesday, "the significance and importance of the Permian Basin is well known to the oil industry."

Miller, who was introduced by Reagan Legg, gave a history of the Couden corporation and the establishment of a refinery at Big Spring. He listed the men behind the great growth of the particular corporation.

Three candidates for District Governor of 2-T-2 were presented at the luncheon. Jack Hawkins of Pecos and George Spence of Ysleta presented their candidacies. Bill Conner spoke for Roy Carter of Kermit.

Roy Minear presided. Eugene Cooper was introduced as Junior Lion of the Week. Burvin Hines made an announcement relative to a representative of the Texas University Bureau of Research being in the city. Lt. Paul Jones of the Midland National Guard unit urged cooperation of Midland employers in letting employees off with pay to attend Summer camp. He offered the facilities and men of Midland's National Guard unit in case they might be needed by the city for emergencies.

Crash Reconstructed
The plane took off from Kirtland's east-west runway at 9:38 p.m. (MST). Reconstructing the crash, Air Force officials said the plane did not deviate from its course. It plowed directly into the mountainside instead of making a turn or seeking to gain altitude to clear the peak.

REX CHAMBERS OF ALBUQUERQUE said he watched the takeoff. "A few minutes after it got into the air," he said, "I heard the crash and saw the explosion. The plane seemed to explode when it hit the ground. The smoke and fire mushroomed straight up and the fire then rained very compact. It didn't spread out at all when it exploded."

Teasing Showers Visit West Texas

By The Associated Press
Teasing showers fell over dry West Texas Tuesday night.

It rained in the areas around San Angelo and Big Spring.

West Texas has needed rain for months. In Sweetwater, west of Abilene, regular prayer meetings have been held for rain.

Rainfall at San Angelo was 1/4 of an inch; at Abilene, .04 and at Big Spring, .02. Midland reported a trace.

Ranges have been very dry. "Tuesday night's rains were just enough to let West Texans know it can still rain," the Weather Bureau said.

For the great sweep of dry Panhandle wheat country, there was still no rain and no promise of any. There also was rain Tuesday night—0.8 of an inch—at Laredo.

Conditions were cloudy over most of the state.

Resident of Johnson County Says He Has Cure For 'Gimmes'

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD Associated Press Staff

A Johnson County man has a cure for "a national disease—the gimmes."

Emmett Brown retired in 1946 after 48 years as superintendent of schools at Cleburne, Texas, and looked around for something to do.

And in the Spring of 1947 dynamic Emmett Brown figured a program that may revolutionize the county's economy. It's the Cleburne Rural Youth Dairy Program, already so overwhelmingly successful it is being copied in 30 other Texas areas.

Brown went to Cleburne merchants and asked them to put up $200 each in his plan to make Johnson County "depression-proof."

These $200 "sponsorships" set the program in motion.

Fine Jersey cattle were brought to Johnson County and heifer calves were "awarded" to boys.

"We say award," he don't say give," Brown's big voice boomed at us. "The most damnable disease in the nation today is the gimmes."

Let's say you are a Johnson County boy and you want one of the Jersey calves. The calf is awarded to you on condition that you take excellent care of the animal and give the first heifer calf it bears back to the program. That calf goes to some other boy—and there is a long waiting list of boys.

The calf you get will be inspected regularly by vocational teachers, by the county agent, and by Brown and eight other men on a committee on which he serves. And when you wish to breed your animal the committee will furnish an outstanding Jersey bull. The program has purchased five—worth a total of $20,000.

So far 146 citizens and businesses have furnished one or more $200 sponsorships. Already 176 calves have been awarded. These have already given birth to 100 heifer calves which have been or will be returned to the program. More Than 700.

In 1947, there were 197 4-H boys in Johnson County. Now there are more than 700.

For years, Johnson County got along with one dairy barn at its state fair grounds. Two more had to be built—each larger than the first.

Arthur L. Smith of Joshua was awarded a calf. The calf became champion, junior division, of the 1949 Southwest Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth, champion of the Future Farmers of America and 4-H Division of the 1949 National Dairy Show at Indianapolis and champion of the Texas State Fair.

And at Dallas State Fair last year Johnson County won the first prize for the best herd!

Brown, a 212-pounder, travels hundreds of miles per week for the program. Pays his own expenses. Isn't paid a dime.

"But it's a lot of satisfaction," he boomed. "I promised 10 years to the program. When I'm 80 I'll step out."

HOSPITAL EQUIPMENT CONTINUES TO ARRIVE

New sterilizers have been installed in the kitchen of the new Midland Memorial Hospital, E. R. Andres, administrator, announced Wednesday. Other equipment for the kitchen is expected to arrive by Thursday, Andres said.

World Citizen Davis Is Planning To Wed California Brunette

ELLSWORTH, ME.—P.—Garry Davis, the returned world citizen, is preparing to wed a tall Californian brunette he wooed by trans-Atlantic mail.

Davis refused to say Tuesday night when or where he and Audrey Peters, a former Hollywood dance instructor, would be married. Their intentions are on file with Ellsworth's city clerk.

Miss Peters, whom Davis had not met until his return from France March 30 on an immigrant's visa, has lodgings here. He is staying at the nearby Sorrento Summer house of his father, Bandleader Meyer Davis.

The couple became acquainted by mail through a mutual friend and Davis proposed by letter from Paris. Miss Peters had intended to go to Haiti, as a medical missionary and meet her fiance there.

Davis, an Air Force veteran who renounced his American citizenship in 1947, gave his age as 38 in wedding intentions filed here Monday. Miss Peters said she was 21.

A former student at Whittier, Calif., College, she is the daughter of Mrs. Eugenia L. Peters of Bonita, Calif.

Shell Employees Will See Ad Preview In Midland Thursday

A dramatic stage presentation of Shell Oil's 1950 marketing and advertising program will be presented to the company's Midland area employees at the Yucca Theater at 10:30 a.m. Thursday. All employees and their wives have been invited to attend for a preview of how Shell plans to meet the keenest competition that has prevailed in the oil industry since pre-war days. Similar meetings are being held in all parts of the nation to acquaint 30,000 Shell employees with the program before it gets underway in 500 newspapers and on 47 different radio programs from coast-to-coast.

A team of marketing experts, headed by H. Krass, retail manager for the company's Detroit division, will put on the show here. They will be aided by specially designed electric "props" as complicated and complete as those used by most regular stage shows. The presentation will highlight how and why the company will spend more money on gasoline advertising this year than ever before. The program is built around Shell "Activated" Premium Gasoline, which is the result of several recent improvements in refining.

In addition to the stage show, the theater program will include a new full color movie, "Women Mean Business," featuring Carol Lane, women's travel director for Shell and nationally-known lecturer and newspaper columnist.

Former Soldier Gets 50 Years For Robbery

BELTON, TEXAS.—P.—Luis Borges, former Camp Hood soldier, was convicted Tuesday on charges of robbery with firearms and sentenced to 50 years in the penitentiary.

The court action required only one hour and 30 minutes.

The small Puerto Rico native also:

1. Waived jury trial on charges of assault with intent to murder, pleaded guilty, and drew a 15-year sentence.
2. Waived jury trial and pleaded guilty to two counts of burglary and was sentenced to five years on each count.
3. Waived the two-day waiting period in which an appeal could be asked and was sentenced formally by District Judge Wesley Dice. The sentences are to run concurrently.

The youth escaped through a six by 16-inch hole in the 60-year-old jail here Sunday night, on the eve of his scheduled trial. A group of railroad workers saw Borges covering in a drainage ditch Monday near here and Sheriff E. T. "Buck" Ray recaptured him.

Borges had been charged in connection with robbery of the Eldridge-Peters Service Station in Temple November 29. W. W. Billy Eldridge, part-owner of the station, was injured critically by two shots. Several hundred dollars was taken.

WRONG WAY: Keep the whole paper to yourself.

RIGHT WAY: Offer your wife part of the paper. She will be much less likely to criticize you for reading at the table every morning.
