Put Them All Together, They Spell Mother

M is for mother, let's say modern. She plays 'cowboy,' hikes and fishes. O is for her outlook—cheerful—all a fellow ever wishes. T is for kids' many troubles; she absorbs 'em by the dozen. H is happy, which is why that house of ours is always buzzin'. E is for enthusiasm—let's just call it lots of pep. R is realistic, or, in other words, she's happy.

Violent Winds, Rain, Hail Whip Texas And Louisiana

Small tornadoes, violent winds, heavy hail and rain whipped scattered parts of Texas and Louisiana Saturday. The only known Texas casualty was a seaman who drowned during a squall in the Gulf of Mexico. Lightning killed a man in Louisiana. A twister smacked the edge of Abilene, in West Texas, late Saturday. Earlier, a small tornado dipped on farms about 50 miles southeast of Alexandria, La., injuring an unidentified woman. Windstorms buffeted Alto and Lufkin in East Texas, damaging buildings and telephone lines and tearing up crops and timber. Hall storms hit the Texas South Plains as hard as the high winds hit other areas. Hall piled up halfway to a man's knee in spots through a strip three miles wide and several miles long near Petersburg, a town northeast of Lubbock. The terrific pounding destroyed wheat and battered in the roofs of several farm homes. Farmer R. L. Kelly reported half of one room had been beaten in by hail. Crops, Buildings Battered Heavy hail also battered crops and buildings at Rails and Abernathy, both in the South Plains; at Abilene, Brownwood and surrounding towns; and near Big Spring in West Texas; at Waco in Central Texas, and at Alto in East Texas. North Texas downpours sent the Trinity River just above flood stage, but the situation didn't appear serious. The gulf squall—a light one with winds registering 25 miles an hour—swept Robert Matthew Gray, about 30, off the shrimp boat Frances G. of Galveston. Gray, mate of the boat, went down. The Coast Guard dispatched a boat to hunt his body. Lightning Kills Man In the Alexandria area of Louisiana, a bolt of lightning killed a man identified as Dewey Foote of Cheneyville. Four inches of rain fell on Alexandria in three hours, disrupting communications temporarily. The West Texas twister demolished a barn and brood house at the south edge of Abilene. A high wind blew down a fence at the Abilene Blue Sox ball park. Reports from eye a small com- (Continued On Page Three)

LATE NEWS FLASHES

HARRISBURG, PA.—(AP)—Union pickets Saturday night failed in an effort to halt Pennsylvania Railroad traffic to Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore and Washington as special workers wearing business suits walked through picket lines and manned the trains. CARACAS, VENEZUELA.—(AP)—The government Saturday night outlawed the Communist Party in Venezuela. FORT MADISON, IOWA.—(AP)—Dr. Robert C. Rutledge, Jr., convicted a year ago for slaying the man accused of seducing his wife, was released Saturday from the Iowa State Penitentiary on $40,000 bond, pending hearing of his appeal in November by the State Supreme Court. TAIPEI, FORMOSA.—(AP)—A new commando-type raid on the Communist mainland 140 miles south of Shanghai was reported Sunday in official Chinese Nationalist dispatches. No details were given.

June 3 Designated Rail Board Day At 16th Annual Rodeo

Texas Railroad Commission Day will be observed here Saturday, June 3—the fourth day of the 16th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo—officials of Midland Fair, Inc., announced Saturday. Observance of the special day at this city's annual celebration, May 31-June 4, was proclaimed following an announcement by W. P. Z. German, Jr., of Midland, executive counsel for the Citizens Statewide Economic Committee, that William J. (Bill) Murray, Jr., Railroad Commission chairman, had accepted an invitation to attend Midland Rodeo that night. Invitations also have been extended to the other commission members, Gen. Ernest O. Thompson and Judge Olin Culbertson. German said Mrs. Murray will accompany her husband to Midland. Railroad Commission Day brings to three the number of special observances scheduled for the famed Midland Rodeo. Wednesday, May 31, will be Gov. Allan Shivers Day.

Big Three Pledge Cold War Effort

LONDON.—(P)—The Big Three foreign ministers ended a three-day cold war council Saturday night confident the West can build freedom into a dynamic force that will secure defense against communism and win prosperity at the same time. In an obvious challenge to Republican critics of the reciprocal trade agreements program, the President said the same people "who always stand in the roads of progress" want to follow the road of "economic isolationism." After a day in which he inspected the world's largest earthen dam at Fort Peck, Mont., and spoke briefly at whistle stops in Montana and North Dakota, Truman turned to a discussion of foreign trade at Fargo, N. D. Calling for congressional approval of the International Trade Organization Charter, the President (Continued On Page Three)

El Paso Officer Cuts Wire Carrying Race News To Coast

EL PASO.—(P)—A sheriff's officer scaled a pole at the New Mexico border Saturday night and cut Western Union wires serving an Anapra, N. M., News Service. Sheriff Joe Campbell said this disrupted race news service to the West Coast and Mexico. The wires were cut after County Attorney Ernest Guinn ruled the act would not violate state or federal laws. Thus, Campbell said, Continental Press Service's relay of racing news over the nation was interrupted in transmission to the West Coast, Mexico, and Las Vegas and Reno, Nev. Campbell said he hopes the action taken here will set a precedent throughout the nation. "If the Western Union wires are restored they'll be cut again in the morning," he added.

Anti-Truman Forces Gain New Member With Guill's Arrival

WASHINGTON.—(P)—Anti-Administration forces in the House gained a recruit from the Democratic ranks Saturday with the arrival of Ben H. Guill, the first Republican representative from Texas in 19 years. The 40-year-old Navy veteran, who said he was "born in bred" a Democrat and voted twice for President Roosevelt, reported people in his section of the Lone Star State are "fed up" with the Administration. "They can't understand why with incomes and taxes so high we can't stay within the national budget," Guill told his first news conference here. "If President Truman ran today in the Panhandle, he would be soundly defeated," Guill said. "That is, if the Republicans had a good leader." The new congressman went on to say he thinks Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower "fitted that specification, but that Harold Stassen also is 'very popular' in Texas. Polls 22 Per Cent Guill, who is due to be sworn in this week—probably Monday—defeated ten Democratic opponents in a special election to fill out the unexpired term of Rep. Eugene Worley who recently was named a federal judge. However, he polled only 22 per cent of the vote—a victory margin he'll have to better if he expects to cop the regular congressional election in November. Asked why he had switched parties, Guill replied that "When you don't like things, you have to get on the other side—you can't reform the other fellow." As to whether he considered himself a "permanent Republican," the Pampa real estate broker said: "I consider myself an American citizen and vote as I please. I think I have a right to switch forces."

Czech Envoys Ousted

WASHINGTON.—(P)—The United States Saturday ordered a wholesale ouster of Czech diplomats from this country and charged Czechoslovakia's Soviet satellite government is unable to control its own foreign policy. The American counterstroke, following a Czech ejection of about 40 U. S. diplomats last week, will send an estimated 22 out of the 33 Czech representatives homeward "within a reasonable time." The Prague government was ordered to close its consulates in Pittsburgh and Cleveland, leaving only the Washington Embassy and the New York consulate to operate at a reduced level. Furthermore, the State Department declared in a coldly angry statement, "This government is examining the situation not only with respect to the present but also for the future—a clear hint of possible further moves against the Czechs." The action was announced by the State Department as the latest in a series of clashes with the Eastern European state which, in its pre-Communist days, was tied closely to the United States in friendship and trade. The State Department issued a statement which reviewed all the recent actions by the Czechs against this country and asserted: "It is all too apparent that such actions of the Czechoslovak government are not dictated by the interests of the Czechoslovak people or for that matter by the interests of the present regime in Czechoslovakia. They follow a set course which appears to have been prescribed for the State of Eastern Europe and indicate the inability of the Czechoslovak government to follow an independent policy." In these words, without directly mentioning Russia, the department gave expression to a conviction widely held by top officials here. This is that the Kremlin is trying to make the Iron Curtain airtight against Western ideas and contacts and that the satellite governments have to go along.

Airways Workers Walk Out, Return

NEW YORK.—(P)—A strike of 700 Pan-American World Airways stewards, stewardesses and pursers was called off late Saturday. The flight service employees, who walked out Friday midnight, agreed to go back to work immediately after an agreement to submit the issues to arbitration. The dispute over wages, seniority, severance pay and other issues brought about the strike after lengthy mediation efforts had failed. The strikers had been supported by 3,000 maintenance workers who refused to cross the flight attendants' picket lines.

State Completes, Opens New Paved Highway To North

Construction work on the first segment of the proposed Midland-Lamesa road (State Highway 349) has been completed and the new paved outlet to the north now is open to traffic, John P. Butler, chairman of the Highway Committee of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, announced Saturday. The new road, a north extension of the Rankin-Midland highway, intersects Farm Road 87 (Andrews-Lenora highway) 25 miles north of Midland. The highway connects with Big Spring Street at the north city limit. The paving work was done for the State Highway Department by the Collins Construction Company of Austin. S. C. Dougherty, senior resident engineer for the highway department here, supervised the project. Right-of-way for the new highway was contributed by property owners along the route, and the fencing job was financed by contributions obtained by the Chamber's Highway Committee from individuals and business interests of Midland. Joe Copeland, Midland contractor, had the fencing contract. The Midland-Lamesa road long has been a major project of the Chamber of Commerce, and officials of the organization expressed satisfaction upon the completion and opening of the initial 25-mile segment of the highway to the north.

Tex Thornton Slayer Denies Stealing Cash

AMARILLO.—(P)—Red-haired Evald Johnson testified Saturday he found his wife in bed nude with a famed oil field fire fighter he is accused of murdering. The 30-year-old Air Force veteran spoke slowly, nervously, as he described events in the Amarillo truck cabin where W. A. (Tex) Thornton was found bludgeoned to death the morning of June 23, 1949. Thornton had picked up the hitch-hiking pair—Johnson and his shapely, blond 19-year-old wife, Diana—Tucumcari, N. M. Johnson said they stopped at 8:30 p. m., for drinks before all three checked into a two-room tourist cabin here. Johnson said he dozed on and awoke to see his wife standing in an archway between the bedrooms, and then went to Thornton's room. "When I opened the door to see my wife on the bed and Thornton x x x didn't have clothes on either. "I started in after him. I don't know why. I was running toward him when he rolled over on his back and started mewing with pillow. He hollered at me, 'Till you die.' "I don't remember how many times I hit him. But I know I hit him on the head. "State witnesses have testified that Thornton was a famous oil field troubleshooter of skull fractures and a brain hemorrhage. They also said a blood-soaked shirt was knotted tight around the neck when Thornton was found nude body was found. The jury learned Saturday, the first time, that murder charges against Diana have been dismissed on grounds of insufficient evidence. This makes Diana available as a defense witness. Asked by Defense Attorney E. (Continued On Page Three)

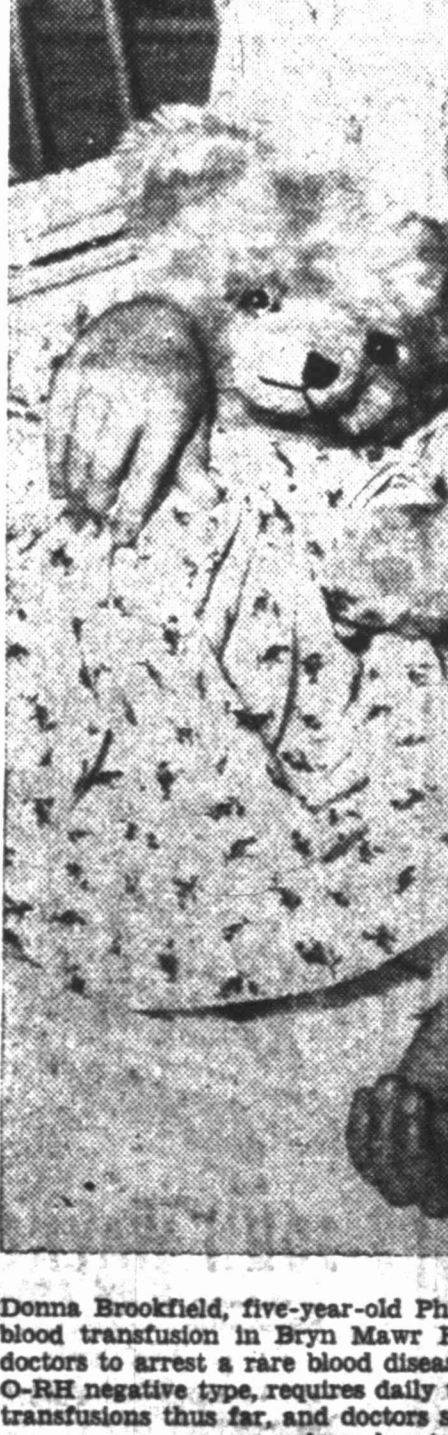

Rail Strike Spreads In East, West

CHICAGO.—(P)—Federal mediators brought both sides together in a joint conference Saturday as the locomotive firemen's strike spread in the East and West. The meeting broke up without a settlement, but Francis A. O'Neill, Jr., chairman of the National (Railway) Mediation Board, said: "We said there was a deadlock yesterday. Today all we can say is that the case is not settled." But even as the union representatives were attending the conference, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen extended its strike to the Southwestern District of the Union Pacific Railroad and sought to cut the Pennsylvania Railroad's operations in the East and South. From Coast To Coast The move had the effect of stretching the strike operations from coast to coast. A few additional trains are involved in the new strike developments. The brotherhood directed its members to refuse to man Union Pacific trains on the Southwest District between Salt Lake City and Los Angeles. At Los Angeles, K. B. Walton, acting vice president of the firemen's brotherhood, said the men were being pulled out "because the Union Pacific has been helping the Santa Fe operate by allowing the trains to use their yards." The union also set up picket lines at its important Pennsylvania Railroad division point of Harrisburg, Pa., in an effort to halt eastbound traffic to Philadelphia and New York and southbound traffic to Baltimore and Washington. SEEKS COURT PLACE AUSTIN.—(P)—James Hill Lets, veteran Houston attorney, Saturday became the fifth announced candidate for the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Top Oil Executives To Tell Import Plans At Proration Hearing

AUSTIN.—(P)—Top oil executives of the nation will be on hand Wednesday's statewide proration hearing to tell the Texas Railroad Commission their import plans for the next six months. Plagued the last two years continuing complaints that import of foreign crude oil has depressed the market for Texas oil, the commission wants an up-to-the-minute picture. "At this late date we are now just getting data on May imports," Chairman William Murray said Saturday in announcing that 14 presidents or chairmen of boards of major oil import companies will be here Wednesday. "Since imports have such an effect on our domestic demand, it is most difficult for the Railroad Commission to judge the proper level for Texas production with some advance knowledge of what the importing companies plan," Murray continued. Testimony at the statewide hearing will help the three-man regulatory agency decide how much oil production should be allowed June. Crude Stocks Increase The commission also will call for statements from principal purchasers of crude oil as to desired stock levels for the nation of crude and products. "The commission is anxious to receive testimony as to whether it is desirable to build stocks to higher levels than 245 million barrels or whether this is approximately the desired level for the nation," Murray said in a prepared statement to the press. He reported that crude stock declined gradually from 281 million barrels on January 7 to 245 million on April 8, and then rose to 244,744,000 on April 29. Abilene Almost Doubles Population Since 1940 Census ABILENE.—(P)—Abilene almost doubled its population during the last ten years, a preliminary census report released Saturday night showed. Donald Pulver, census supervisor for the 17th Texas District, said the population within the Abilene city limits was 47,102. The 1940 measure eight square miles. This was an increase of 85 per cent over the 1940 population of 25,512. Saturday night's preliminary report is subject to a final revision. The 47,102 population was 30 per cent more than had been expected. The Chamber of Commerce had estimated the population at 35,000.

Arrest Of German Party Leader Hints At Titoist Purge

FRANKFURT, GERMANY (AP)—The Communist East German government Saturday solved the mystery of the disappearance of Kurt Mueller, 47, long the No. 2 Communist in West Germany, by announcing his arrest.

High American officials expressed belief his arrest signaled a sweeping purge of "Titoists" in the West German Party. They said they had information that 31,000 members of the party have deserted or been expelled since June, 1949, cutting the roll to 185,000.

Soon after the Berlin press printed the announcement of the arrest, Hanover police disclosed that a girl friend of Mueller has been missing two days.

Communist authorities did not disclose how or when they arrested the 47-year-old Mueller. Social Democratic Party officials here said they believed he had been kidnapped and spirited into the Eastern zone.

The announcement said he was charged with being an "agent for a foreign power" and committing "other crimes."

Mueller, deputy chairman of the West German Communist Party and director of organization, was expelled from the party Wednesday and resigned from the West German Parliament by letter Thursday.

Winds, Rain—

Heavy hail—some stones as big as golf balls—beat down on Abilene for 15 minutes. Heavy rain accompanied the hail.

Winds Last East Texas

Hail and high winds cut a mile-long swath through Alto, in Cherokee County. An inch and a half of rain fell in 20 minutes. Corn and tomato crops were battered to the ground, lost.

A windstorm unroofed a house and barn at Lufkin, felled poles and knocked out several electricity and telephone circuits. Some reports said gusts reached 75 miles an hour. Nearly an inch and a half of rain fell. A radio station went off the air. The police radio was knocked out temporarily. Power and telephone service was restored to all but some rural communities in the northern part of Angelina County. The winds felled many trees in stands of timber in the northern end of the county.

In the South Plains, hail fell and stacked two to three inches deep on the ground northeast of Abilene, near the Lakeview Community. Some wheat damage was feared. Heavy rains spotted the area, and turbulent winds and thunderstorms whipped the plains.

The Lubbock Weather Bureau, five miles north of Abilene, said Plains city, reported 1.61 inch of rain in an hour and a half Saturday afternoon. The bureau recorded winds of 55 miles an hour, with 65-mile gusts.

At Dallas, the Trinity River was nearly four feet above its 28-foot banks at nightfall Saturday. The Weather Bureau predicted a 34-foot crest Sunday. The river's levees are expected to handle the flood waters, but more heavy rains north of Dallas could cause trouble.

Rain was forecast in the area, but the Weather Bureau said the showers probably would be scattered and not too heavy.

Waco's hall storm hit the north side of town, stacking up in drift so solid and deep they gave the appearance of snow. A number of windows were knocked out. About a half inch of rain fell in 30 minutes.

DALLAS—President W. A. Smith of Texmass Petroleum Company said Saturday the company has filed a deed of trust involving about $15,000,000 worth of property in 26 Texas counties and in counties in other states.

College To Honor Memory Of Founder Of Mother's Day

STAUNTON, VA.—Sunday messages of affection, flowers and candy will mark the nation's annual observance of Mother's Day. And alumnae of Virginia's Mary Baldwin College for the first time officially are going to remember the redheaded girl from West Virginia who started it all.

In West Laurel Hill Cemetery, Philadelphia, where Anna Jarvis lies buried, Mrs. Nellie Edmann, president of the Mary Baldwin Alumnae Association, will place a wreath of carnations on the grave of the woman whose ideal led to national observance of Mother's Day.

"On the campus here, just 'down the street' from the birthplace of Woodrow Wilson, Mary Baldwin College, which she attended, will accept from an anonymous donor a portrait of Miss Jarvis, who died in 1948.

It was in 1914, during Wilson's Administration, that Congress authorized the President to designate the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day.

Deeply sentimental, Miss Jarvis conceived the idea after the death of her own mother, Mrs. Anna Reever Jarvis, and arranged in 1908 a memorial service in Anderson's Methodist Episcopal Church, Grafton.

The second Sunday in May, on which her mother had died, was chosen as the date and the carnation, her mother's favorite flower, was selected as the floral symbol.

Johnson—

"I didn't know my rights then. I just wanted to get away from there."

The car and Thornton's shiny, nickel-plated '45 Colt automatic pistol were found a few days later at Dodge City. Special Prosecutor George McCarthy handed Johnson the pistol and asked him to "show us how you held the gun."

Johnson, who has testified he "found himself" standing over Thornton with the bloody gun clutched in his hand, gripped the pistol by the barrel.

Repeats Bedroom Story

Johnson was asked by his attorney to repeat several parts of the tourist cabin bedroom scene and events leading up to it.

The slender Michigan man said he had dozed for about 20 to 25 minutes after the three checked in at the cabin.

"I woke up and saw my wife standing in the archway (between the front bedroom which he said he and his wife were to occupy and Thornton's back bedroom). She didn't say anything at all. She did have any clothes on at all. She just stood there a minute and then disappeared."

"I got up and looked in the bathroom, and she wasn't there. The door to Thornton's room was half closed and I couldn't see the bed."

Johnson then told of entering Thornton's bedroom.

Of the shirt found knotted around Thornton's neck, Johnson said "I remember that but I don't remember doing anything with it."

Changes Bloody Clothing

Johnson said his memory of events thereafter was vague but that he remembers his wife brought him a change of clothing because those he was wearing were bloody, and that the two left in Thornton's car.

Asked why he took the car, and if he intended to steal it, Johnson declared he did not intend to steal the car and added:

"I didn't know my rights then. I just wanted to get away from there."

He said he and his wife then wandered through several states but that while he had a job re-decorating hotel rooms in Tampa, Fla., Diana left him with a woman he knew only as Edna. He said he did not see her again until both Johnson and his wife were arrested after Diana told Washington, D. C., police her husband had killed Thornton.

'Never Stole Any Money'

Johnson said he was on the trip from Tucumcari to Amarillo Thornton twice tried to get him to leave the car. Near Adrian, Texas, Thornton asked him to get out while he (Thornton) showed Diana some money he had brought to jail here. Thornton asked him to get his mail at the post office, Johnson said. The defendant said he refused each time.

Special Prosecutor McCarthy repeatedly asked Johnson about the money he spent after the slaying.

"You did take the money, didn't you, Ewald?" asked McCarthy.

"No, sir," replied Johnson, his voice rising. "I never stole any money in all my life."

"Are you going to tell the court Diana stole the money?" the special prosecutor asked.

"I didn't say she stole it," Johnson replied. "She said Thornton gave it to her." He said she had $150 to $200.

Miller brought out that Johnson was honorably discharged from the Army in December, 1947, at Fitzsimmons Hospital, Denver, on grounds of lack of adaptability.

Test Recuses

Johnson was cross-examined more than four hours. At one point the court ordered a glass of water brought to him.

When he left the stand the defense called three witnesses: a sister of Johnson's, his former first sergeant in the Air Force, and an Amarillo deputy sheriff.

After their testimony the trial was recessed until 9 a.m. Monday.

Defense attorneys said they had "two or three" more witnesses to call. They said they would not call Johnson's wife.

State's attorneys said they would have "four or five rebuttal witnesses."

First Sgt. William W. Stoddard, stationed at March Air Force Base near Riverside, Calif., testified Johnson was absent without leave when assigned to Stoddard's outfit at Colorado Springs, Colo., in February of 1947. He said he believed Johnson was of unsound mind.

Stoddard praised Johnson's war record.

Johnson's sister, Mrs. Edith Louis, testified that her brother was a good boy. It was in her home Johnson was arrested.

Sheriff Declares Jailbreaker Fled

MONAHANS—Sheriff W. B. (Blackie) McMerlin Friday night said he had proof that James (Fet) Corbin was not now in Monahans.

He did not disclose what that proof was. He said, however, that he was certain Corbin, the only member still at large of a four-prison jailbreak team, was "miles away from here."

Corbin, 47, was awaiting trial for burglary. The seven-time convict Wednesday morning fled Ward County jail after a colmate, Freddie Hoyt Hamm, 22, placed a knife at Jailer A. B. (Slim) Bruce's back and told him to "open that cell."

With Corbin and Hamm went Jack Cuzick, 24, and Woodley Horn, 17.

Hamm was returned to his cell atop Ward County courthouse Thursday night. He was recaptured at Artesia, N. M., Thursday afternoon when he attempted to buy gasoline with a forged check for a car stolen here earlier in the day.

Horn and Cuzick were recaptured Wednesday.

The Daily Texan, student newspaper of the University of Texas, Friday published a seven-section, 84-page 50th Anniversary special edition, copies of which were received here Saturday. Twenty thousand copies of the edition were printed.

The special edition is said to be one of the largest, if not the largest, of its kind ever published. Color is used extensively throughout the issue.

Tom Carter, Midland journalism student and editor-elect of the Texas Ranger, student magazine, has a page one by-line story and other articles in the special edition.

Rodeo—

(Continued From Page One) being carried forward at a rapid pace. Officials said arrangements will be completed by the end of this week. Interest in the show is at a high pitch throughout the city and area and attendance this year is expected to break all previous records.

Everett Colborn of Dublin, Texas, who again this year will direct the rodeo, is expected to arrive in Midland next week to wind up final details. The tough rodeo stock which he and Gene Autrey will bring here from their Lightning C Ranch is said to be the wildest and the meanest ever seen in the Permian Basin Empire.

Best Cowboys

"And the best cowboys in the world will be here to contest the wild and woolly stock for the more than $5,000 in purses and prizes being offered this year," Leonard Proctor, Rodeo Committee chairman of Phoenix, and the cabin of the plane was "pressurized" for 8,000 feet. Suddenly the window near which Horner was sitting blew out.

The heavier air inside the B-36 exploded out into the thin air through which the bomber was flying—and Horner was blown out the window.

Wearing Parachute

Horner was wearing a parachute but the Air Force gave no indication it was believed to have opened.

Search planes and helicopters from Carswell Air Base here, Davis-Monthan and Williams Air Bases in Arizona and the Fourth Air-Sea Rescue Squadron of March Air Base, Calif., scouted the Arizona area Saturday. Three ground searching parties were sent out from Phoenix.

The B-36 was enroute from Carswell Base to Fairfield Suisun Air Base, Calif.

Horner's wife said she and her husband came from Miles City, Mont. The three Horner children, Wayne Greg, two; Gary Bernard, three; and Shirley Ann, five, were told by their mother Saturday that their father was believed dead.

"It was the hardest job I ever had and now I'm all right," she said. "They took it pretty well because they're so young and it won't sink in for awhile."

Two Candidates Filed With Party Chairmen

Two more candidates filed locally Saturday with Louis A. Lauder, chairman of the Midland County Democratic Executive Committee.

They are Calvin V. Milburn, Odessa, candidate for district judge of the 70th Judicial District and Noel D. Cason, candidate for Midland County judge.

Bartha said Monday is the day to file for district offices. Deadline for state office filing June 5, and the last day to file county and precinct offices is July 17.

Air Searchers Fail To Find Bombardier Blown Out Of B-36

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Search planes dived over a wide Arizona area Saturday, searching for an Air Force bombardier who was blown out a window of a giant B-36 bomber Friday.

First Lt. Freeman B. Horner, 32, was presumed dead. Horner was a victim of what is called explosive decompression. The plane was flying at 28,000 feet, 80 miles south of Phoenix, and the cabin of the plane was "pressurized" for 8,000 feet. Suddenly the window near which Horner was sitting blew out.

It's Mother's Day in Midland, in Texas and throughout the nation.
Mother today is the leading lady of the land, and to Mothers—from the young wife with her first born to at-grandmother—we pay tribute.

Middle Cleared Up

Frederick Joliot-Curie, one of the top atomic scientists the world, has been discharged as French High Commissioner for Atomic Energy because he openly supports policies of his country's Communist Party.

Apparently the French were willing to take the risk return for capitalizing on his scientific talents. What really stopped them was a statement Joliot-Curie made before a Communist Party conference recently.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Acheson says: Acheson is overwhelmed by European problems; Outlook is depressing in all trouble spots; U. S. Steel fails to impress Congress.

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Acheson now is on the most important diplomatic mission of his life. Upon its outcome depends whether Europe will begin working in earnest to build up its defense against Russia or will look for an excuse to let the North Atlantic Pact fall apart.

Germany—We have no real policy and live from day to day. We may expect anything short of war in the expected Communist putsch in Berlin in May. However, the Russians will not catch us off guard.

Iran—Iran should be a pillar of anti-communism in the near east, but poverty and corruption make it an easy target for our enemies. It is difficult to understand what has happened to the Shah in recent months. He appears to have lost control of his government, and in the face of this situation, a dangerous condition is almost certain to develop.

Philippines—There has been a shocking deterioration in the strength of the Philippine government in the last few months. Today, the government is unable to maintain order even on the outskirts of Manila. The Huk (Hukbalahaps) are operating in the very shadow of the presidential palace.

United Nations—The UN is not an effective instrument in waging the cold war. In addition to the obvious problems we have with Russia, we have the more recent and almost equally serious problem of the increasing division of the Western powers—such as the Anglo-American split over recognition of China, the difficulty in making plans with the shaky British and French governments.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

"I made the percentage play the other day," writes a Memphis bridge player, "but it didn't work very well. Please tell me if there was anything wrong with my calculations."

West opened the queen of clubs, and bang went two tricks in that suit. I trumped the third club and drew three rounds of trumps. Then I led a diamond from my hand.

"I reasoned that if West had the ace of diamonds, I would be able to win two diamond tricks in dummy."

My Memphis correspondent is evidently an experienced bridge player, and his reasoning was excellent in the main. He simply overlooked the fact that he could have his apple pie and eat it too!

There are a great many simple hands in which the best play is to draw trumps as soon as possible. When the hand looks hard, it pays to give the trumps a second look.

Marine Membership Is Family Ideology

NEW ORLEANS, LA.—(AP)—Membership in the Marine Corps is a family ideology with the Ingraham family. Five brothers presently are serving here with the Marine Reserve 10th Infantry Battalion.

PIERS AMBERLY continued his story of Jon and Syria's marriage, while Clemency listened intently.

"Syria had never attempted to make the marriage a success. Jon had always been a playboy and she had never tried to make him anything else. She knew of his hereditary weakness for alcohol which might come out in him, yet when he was utterly miserable and worried about money, she never attempted to stop him from drinking too much. I have heard it said she encouraged him."

HE paused, looking down at the glowing end of his cigaret, an expression of intense distaste on his face.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Admirals Say Flattops Would Launch Atom War Offensive

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

NORFOLK NAVAL BASE, VA.—The Navy may have shushed its open criticism of the Air Force B-36 super-bomber. But the admirals are sticking tight to their belief that the aircraft carrier task force still is the most effective weapon to use against a potential enemy.

Time and time again, this idea was drummed into a group of 80 businessmen, educators and newspaper men invited to attend Navy Secretary Francis P. Matthews' Civilian Orientation Course at Norfolk Naval Base.

"We are still on the edge of a shooting war," said Undersecretary of the Navy Dan A. Kimball, keynoting the course.

England can't exist without food imports, said the admiral. That means there must be full control of the seas. And with seven-ninths of the earth's surface water, the Navy still is a factor.

The carrier task "group" as used at the end of World War II consisted of three to five carriers, maneuvering in a five-mile area. If the carriers are kept at least a mile and a half apart, the group is safe against atomic attack.

Of the 110 U. S. aircraft carriers of all types in the last war, 16 were sunk—none of them in the big Essex class. All of those lost were hit by dive bombers and kamikaze—the original guided missile.

While operation in close quarters involves obvious risks, one of the frequently overlooked carrier advantages is speed.

PIERS AMBERLY continued his story of Jon and Syria's marriage, while Clemency listened intently.

"Jon ought to have known me better—he admitted that for the first time today. But Syria was desperate; she hated her husband, and imagined that she was still in love with me."

SYRIA was in the night nursery when after dinner that evening Clemency passed through, ready to go for a drive with Piers.

Stanton Seniors Attend Senior Day

STANTON—The seniors of Stanton High School will leave Sunday for Pullman for New Orleans for their senior trip. They will return Thursday.

But, thought Clemency as she went downstairs, she will always hate me.

Piers was waiting outside with the car. He helped her in and, taking the wheel beside her, drove off.

5,000 Midlanders Expected To Get Free Chest X-Rays

More than 5,000 Midlanders are expected to receive free chest X-rays from May 24 to June 1 during the combined Midland Tuberculosis Association and Texas TB group drive here. F. H. McGuigan, chairman of the drive, said Saturday.

In the last survey made here, 1,500 persons received the free check-up, he said. Since that time, however, the TB groups have obtained a special mobile X-ray unit, bus-mounted, as a gift of Texas chapters of Beta Sigma Phi, international social and cultural sorority.

Three Midland chapters of the sorority aided materially in the drive, which raised $23,000 for the specially equipped bus. Nearly $600 was contributed by the Midland groups toward the state wide project.

The mobile unit was given by the sorority to the state health department, which has overall charge of public health in Texas. It now is on loan to the Texas TB Association, and is touring population centers of the state for free X-ray survey.

Unit Is Mobile
In the first four months of this year, more than 40,000 persons have been checked by the unit. The unit will come to Midland from Sweetwater and San Angelo. Scheduled after the Midland survey is a two-month stay in Wichita County.

In March, figures released by the State TB group show 139 definite TB cases located by the free survey out of 8,911 persons who underwent the inspection. At the same time, 119 "suspected" cases were found, and 174 other ailments were located by the X-ray.

Several locations are planned for the Midland Survey. McGuigan said details of time and locations will be announced later.

The week's drillings included eight oil wildcats and four gas wildcats completed.

Total average daily crude oil allowable as of Saturday was reported at 2,225,876 barrels, up 9,586 barrels over a week ago.

TEXAS OIL ROUNDUP— Independents Differ On Foreign Imports Solution

By MAX B. SKELTON HOUSTON—(P)—Two independent oil associations seem to have sharp differences of opinion on how their foreign imports problem is to be solved.

Recently the president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association predicted early relief. He left little doubt he expects such relief will come from the major importers themselves.

Last week the directors of the Independent Petroleum Producers Association of America abandoned hope of aid from the importers or the Washington Administration. They said any relief will have to come from Congress.

The Texas Railroad Commission is to give serious study to the imports problem Wednesday when it meets in Austin to set the state's crude production allowable for June.

Chances are the testimony will be repetition of what happened at last week's IPAA convention in Los Angeles.

Magnolia To Set Pipe And Test Devonian At Chaves Discovery

Magnolia Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Lightcap Land Company, flowing discovery from the Devonian in Central-East Chaves County, New Mexico, is to set casing at the top of the pay and make production tests.

This important development, located 35 miles northeast of Roswell, and 35 miles northwest of the Bagley field in Northwest Lea County, the nearest Devonian producing area, is bottomed at 7,975 feet in Devonian, topped at 7,955 feet.

The project flowed 146 barrels of 52-gravity oil in 135 minutes during a drillstem test at 7,940-78 feet. There was no formation water. Gas-oil ratio was 1,527-1.

Oil Flowed Quick

The oil flow came during a two-hour and 35-minute drillstem test. A five-eighth inch bottom hole choke was used.

Gas came to the surface in three minutes and mud began flowing in nine minutes. Oil flowed at the top in ten minutes.

The oil was run to pits for ten minutes and it was then turned to tanks. It made the 146-barrel recovery in the next 135 minutes. The tool was then closed and the remaining oil in the pipe was reversed out.

Elevation is 4,078 feet, to give the well a datum of minus 3,877 feet on the top of the Devonian.

Location is at the center of the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 6-8-30e.

Basin's Nuisance Gas May Be Commercial Compound

AUSTIN — West Texas oil men someday may be turning an old nuisance, hydrogen sulfide, into hard cash.

The compound is available in commercial quantities in the 30,000-square-mile Permian Basin of West Texas and New Mexico, a University of Texas researcher reports.

Dr. W. A. Cunningham, chemical engineering professor, has completed a study of the two-state area's hydrogen sulfide reserves and current output of the substance as a petroleum by-product.

Most of the 40 natural gasoline plants now operating in the huge basin are stripping hydrogen sulfide from their commercial fuel gas and burning the surplus compound in scrubbing plant flares, Dr. Cunningham explained.

Contains 500 Tons

"Assuming an operation at 60 per cent of capacity 26 of those plants are processing 125 billion cubic feet of gas per day. The gas contains hydrogen sulfide equivalent to more than 500 long tons of sulphur. Gasoline plants, proposed are now under construction, will increase that estimate 25 per cent," he said, adding:

"Sulphur can be produced economically from hydrogen sulfide by adding facilities at the gasoline plants."

Tech Speaker

Reef Sedimentation In Pacific To Be Featured By WTGS

Under the auspices of the distinguished lecture committee of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, Dr. Sherman A. Wengert, assistant professor of geology at the University of New Mexico, will discuss Friday night at the meeting of the West Texas Geological Society "Reef Sedimentation of the Majuro Atoll."

The meeting will be held in the City-County Auditorium in Midland. The program will begin at 8 p.m.

Dr. Sherman A. Wengert

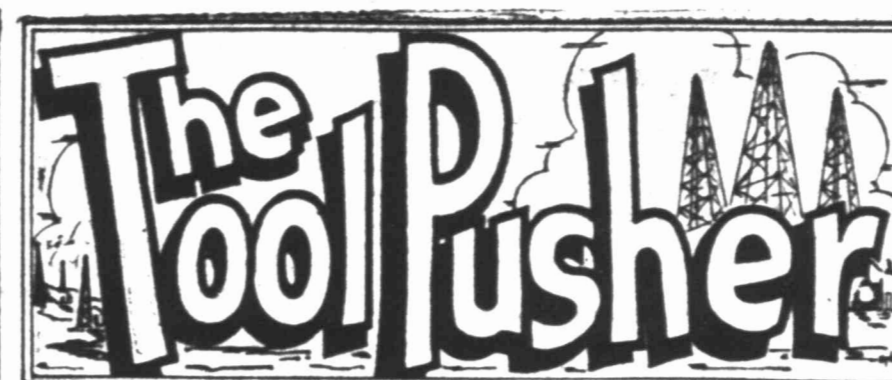

Majuro Atoll is a typical Pacific coral mass located in the Rodak (East) chain of the Marshall Islands.

Wengert is the author of several published papers on geology dealing with sedimentation. He was the '48 recipient of the President's award of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists for the most significant original paper by an author under 35 years of age.

He served as a naval officer during World War II and was assigned to photographic work. This division of the navy found oil for the Naval Petroleum Reserves.

His four months' study of the Majuro Atoll was made during his Navy service. He was several years engaged in oil exploration and geological research with Shell Oil Company.

Wengert's talk will be illustrated with kodachrome slides.

Frontier Chemical Expands; Buys Brownfield Salt Plant

Frontier Chemical Company of Midland, through its affiliate The Frontier Salt Company, has purchased a salt producing plant south-east of Brownfield, formerly owned by American Cyanamid Company.

The Midland concern, producer of caustic soda and muriatic acid for the Permian Basin, plans to produce over one hundred tons of salt per day in its new Brownfield plant for consumption in West Texas and New Mexico.

In addition to supplying liquid caustic soda for the area, Frontier manufactures flakes and solid caustic soda, the major portion of which goes to distributors handling oil well mud.

The concern shortly will introduce "Bronco Brand" bottle washing alkali for use by dairies and soft drink bottlers. The Frontier research department has spent some months developing this product for the hard water areas of the Permian Basin.

Daily production of Frontier chemicals now exceeds 80 tons. The company is planning an expansion program in all departments.

Key personnel of Frontier includes: Curtis W. Cannon, president; D. A. Dunn, secretary-treasurer; C. M. Thompson, sales manager; Charles J. White, plant manager; W. H. Kolins, plant superintendent; S. D. Tapp, packaging and transportation superintendent; and Edward Smith, maintenance superintendent.

Seaboard Completes Vealmoor Stepout

Seaboard Oil Company has run tubing and is preparing to complete its No. 1 Lockhart on the southeast side of the Vealmoor-Canyon pool in Central-North Howard County.

The venture is bottomed at 7,905 feet in Canyon lime. On a drillstem test at 7,884-7,905 feet, gas surfaced in five minutes, mud in 20 minutes, and clean oil in 25 minutes. The oil was not gauged or estimated.

The No. 1 Lockhart is 660 feet from south and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 34, block 32, T&P survey. It is three miles southeast of Vealmoor.

Midland Prospector Cores In Devonian

Magnolia No. 2 Parks, West-Central Midland County prospector, 11 1/4 miles southwest of the city of Midland, and 660 feet from north and 2,180 feet from west lines of section 10, M. Daugherty survey, had perforated to 12,228 feet in Devonian limestone and chert, and was coring.

So far this wildcat has not shown any possibilities of production from the Devonian. It has proven for an oil well from the Pennsylvanian.

NE Garza Prospect Will Core Deeper

Spartan Drilling Company, L. M. Glasco, and associates, No. 1 Emery Trust, Northeast Garza County wildcat, swabbed between one-half and one barrel of oil per hour from open hole in the Pennsylvanian lime at 6,171-6,237 feet, after treating that horizon with 3,500 gallons of acid.

Plans to re-treat with a larger injection of acid were abandoned and operators are preparing to core 30 feet deeper from 6,237 feet, and test again.

Location is at the center of the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 29, block 2, H&GN survey.

Abell Taps Basal Permian In Pecos

George T. Abell of Midland, has completed his No. 1-B-Eberhard, as a producer from the basal Permian in the Abell multi-pay area of North Pecos County, four miles east of Imperial.

This development, located 330 feet from south and west lines of lot 4, section 29, block 9, H&GN survey, completed from that basal Permian at 4,789-4,815 feet, through perforations in the casing.

The section made a 24-hour potential of 249 barrels of 40-gravity oil, flowing through a one-half inch tubing choke. There was no water. Gas-oil ratio was 905-1.

Operator plans to dualy complete from the Sulgrian-Montoya pay of the field which is between 4,886 feet, where the 7-inch casing is cemented, and the total depth at 4,954 feet.

Stanolind To Give Employees Stock For Buying US Bonds

TULSA — A liberal new savings and stock bonus plan for employees of Stanolind Oil and Gas Company has been announced by E. F. Bullard, Stanolind president.

Under the first plan year, employees participating in the program will receive a bonus of one share of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) stock for each $106 which they have invested in United States Savings Bonds.

Enrollment in the plan will begin during the annual Treasury Department national savings bonds campaign which opens May 15.

The Stanolind plan provides that an employee enrolled in the company's retirement plan may authorize pay deductions of from two to four per cent of his yearly earnings for the purchase of United States Savings Bonds. The employee receives his bonds as they are paid for. At the end of the plan year, he will receive a free share of Standard stock (the market value was $47.12 on May 10) for each "bonus unit" that he has invested in bonds during the year. A bonus unit is equal to 1 1/2 times the book value of a share of stock at the end of the preceding calendar year. The current bonus unit is $106, but this amount will vary from year to year.

Two-Fold Purpose

Bullard stated that the new plan will serve two chief purposes. It will encourage employees to save regularly by purchasing bonds through payroll deductions. Because employees become shareholders and part-owners in the parent company, Standard (Indiana), it will increase their interest in the operation of the company.

As most of the company's employees are members of the retirement plan, well over 6,000 Stanolind men and women are eligible to participate in the new plan, Bullard said.

The savings-bonus plan is another in a series of major benefit plans which the company has made available to employees. In addition to Stanolind's retirement program, instituted in 1939, there are also group life insurance, vacation, sickness and disability, and hospitalization and surgical benefits plans. Last Fall the hospital and surgical plan was liberalized in order to increase sickness benefits to Stanolind employees.

Midland Geologist Supervises Wildcat Spudding In Canada

C. E. (Chuck) Bradford, Midland geologist, is in Calgary, Alberta, Canada, to supervise the starting of drilling operations at a 6,500-foot wildcat which is located 65 miles east of Calgary.

The prospector will be Brown, Heep and Rutherford, of Houston, No. 1 Canadian Pacific Railroad. It is in the province of Alberta, and in section 2-26N-19W.

It is slated to try for production in the Devonian lime. Brown, Heep and Rutherford have a 220,000-acre block of leases surrounding the well.

Bradford is in charge of the oil operations of Herndon and George R. Brown in the Permian Basin, the Rocky Mountains and in Canada. He maintains headquarters in Midland and will return here the last of this week.

R. Rutherford and Herman F. Heep are the other owners of the Canadian operation.

Shell Pipe Line Employees Win Safety Contest

Shell Pipe Line employees have been recognized again for their achievements in working safely. The National Safety Council has announced that the Company won first place in the 1949 nation-wide safety contest for oil and gas pipe line companies.

Also, the Joseph A. Holmes Association has granted awards to five Shell Divisions for working consecutive days without a disabling injury, ranging from 1,240 to 715 days. Contributing to these records are employees at Garden Station, located at Garden City.

Shell's accident frequency rate (number of disabling injuries per million man-hours worked) was 2.43 for every million man-hours. This rate was far below the average of 11.02 established for oil and gas pipe line companies entering the contest.

Second Top Award

This is the second time in three years Shell Pipe Line has attained this coveted first place, and in the intervening year it won the second place award.

The Joseph A. Holmes Association, administered by the U. S. Bureau of Mines, recognizes outstanding safety achievements in the mining and petroleum industries. Their latest awards to Shell will be presented to employees this Summer at Safety Chapter picnics. The Association has presented eight other such awards to Shell Division in 1948.

The five divisions recognized in 1949 were Austin, East Texas, Ozark, Tonkawa and McCamey.

Heading Shell Pipe Line's Safety program is D. M. Farrell, assistant personnel and industrial relations manager, Houston. The West Texas program is directed by John Reese, area safety engineer, with headquarters at Colorado City.

Area Geophysicists To Meet Tuesday

The Permian Basin Geophysical Society will hold its monthly meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the City-County Auditorium in Midland.

"Geologic Responsibility in Seismic Exploration" will be the featured topic. B. W. Beebe of Oklahoma City, exploration manager for Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation, has prepared a paper on the subject and will lead the discussion.

A film, "Neptunes Oil Fields," also will be shown at the Tuesday session.

A special invitation is extended to geologists. The newly organized society now has 230 members.

SE Terry Oil Field Renamed Corrigan

The Fusselman oil field in Southeast Terry County, opened several months ago by Tide Water Associated Oil Company and others, No. 1 Nystel, et al, has been re-named the Corrigan field.

At the time the Railroad Commission of Texas recognized the Tide Water wildcat as having discovered a new field, the area was given another name despite the fact that Tide Water and the other companies interested in the well and in the surrounding area, asked that it be designated the Corrigan field.

The prospector who changed the name to the one originally suggested for it was issued by the commission last week in Austin.

The field is named for Hugh Corrigan, pioneer West Texas oil operator, who has pioneered petroleum development and exploration operations in Terry and adjacent counties.

Dorbandt Is Now With Bradford Oil In Midland Office

L. W. Dorbandt, formerly of Abilene, has come to Midland and is now associated with Bradford Oil Corporation. Dorbandt is a geologist.

He has been working for Stanolind Oil & Gas Company as a geologist in that concern's Abilene office for three years.

Dorbandt graduated from the University of Oklahoma in 1943. He majored in geological engineering.

New Name For Concern

Bradford also owns and operates Andrew A. Bradford, Inc., which is another oil industry development and production organization.

Mightier Jets And Airborne Artillery Boost Air Punch

New and more deadly equipment continues to add punch to the nation's defense lineup. At right is the Air Force's new YF-96A, a sweptback version of the P-54 Thunder-jet, longer-ranged and more heavily armed than its predecessor. Seen in taxi tests at Farmingdale, N. Y., the new jet will be flight-tested this month at Edwards Air Force Base, Muroc, Calif. Below, at Fort Bragg, N. C., a formation of Air Force C-82 "Flying Boxcars" drops 105-mm. howitzers in a demonstration staged by men of the 82nd Airborne Division. Seconds later, the planes dropped the jeeps that pull the howitzers.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And His Puffen Speech

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey was sitting out on the porch monkey house. He was wondering how he was going to get in. Ringtail wasn't at home. Daddy Ringtail didn't know she had left the key. It in the mail box, or under some mat on the floor, or in the Daddy Ringtail could be Mother Ringtail has told e to tell me where she put y," said Daddy Ringtail to and then he heard a something along on the Elephant. The someone was the Huffen, the friendly wolf who o say his Huffen Puffen of how he can huff and nd even blow houses in. Daddy Ringtail! It is I, your old friend, the Huffen Puffen!" called out the Huffen. Daddy Ringtail slid down to the ground.

"Do you know where Mother Ringtail left the key to the monkey house?"
"That I do, I do," said the Huffen, "but first let me say my Huffen Puffen speech. May I say my Huffen Puffen, Daddy Ringtail?"
Daddy Ringtail said that the Huffen could, and the Huffen said that he would, and he did. A Huffen Puffen, you know, can't think about a key to a monkey house, or about anything but a Huffen Puffen speech, as long as a Huffen Puffen speech is what he wants to say.

"I'll say it now!" the Huffen Puffen said in his friendly voice. And what he said was this: "I'm the Huffen Puffen, I am, I am, and I can huff, and puff, and puff and huff, and even blow houses in, I can!"
"There now! There now!" Daddy Ringtail said. "And now about the key?"

"Oh! The key!" the Huffen said in his laughing voice. "Why the key is up in the monkey house. Daddy Puffen, and the door isn't locked at all."
And how now Daddy Ringtail found the key and got in the monkey house at last. He first had to let the Huffen say his Huffen Puffen speech. With people who like to talk, you know, the way the Huffen does, they first have to say what they want to say before they can tell you what you want to know.

California Leading In Fruits, Vegetables

BERKELEY —(AP)—Almost one-third of all cash received by American farmers for fresh fruits and vegetables goes to the California farmer, reports Sydney Hoos, University of California economist. Almost 3,500,000 tons of fresh fruits, nuts, and vegetables are produced in the state yearly, he notes. About 12 per cent of California's total crop land, and about 20 per cent of its irrigated land, is used for this purpose.

Singleton Hurls Four-Hitter But San Angelo Wins

The Midland Indians go home with the San Angelo Colts for three games this week, opening in Guinn Park at 3 p.m. Sunday. The Tribe returns to Indian Park Wednesday night to face the Big Spring Broncs in a two-game series.

Acting Manager Jim Prince named LeRoy Jarl as the starter for Sunday's game.

John Singleton, Midland's leading hurler, joined the "hard luck" club Saturday night. It's hard to believe but he tossed a four-hitter and lost it to the San Angelo Colts by a 4-2 score.

The Colts got four runs in the first inning. Singleton shut them out from there on but still lost.

Durwood Cox, ace right hander of the Colts, also had his stuff and tossed a five-hitter. He scattered his hits well enough to hang on for the win.

Singleton was in rare form, allowing a double and a single in the first, a single in the third and a single in the ninth. That was all. He whiffed four and walked only one.

California Breaks Speedway Records In Qualifying Run

INDIANAPOLIS — (P)— Walt Faulkner of Long Beach, Calif., Saturday qualified for his first 500-mile Memorial Day race and smashed the Indianapolis Motor Speedway records for both two and one-half and ten miles.

He averaged 134.343 miles an hour in the four-cylinder rear-drive Grant Piston Ring Special. His best lap was 1:36.013.

The 30-year-old Faulkner's performance broke the four-year-old qualifying records set by the late Ralph Hepburn in 1946 in an eight-cylinder front drive Novi Special.

Hepburn's top speed was 134.499 for two and one-half miles (one lap) and 133.944 for ten miles.

Faulkner took to the track just as the gun fired ending the opening qualifying session, but his car was rolling and the run counted. It gave him the No. 1 starting position for the race and the day's top prize of $500. Besides, he has a good chance for the $1,000 prize for the best qualifying time in the three weekends before the race.

A crowd estimated upwards of 50,000 saw 11 cars qualify—ten averaging better than 130 miles an hour.

Steers Win; Clinch Tie

AUSTIN — (P)— Texas defeated Rice 5-0 Saturday to clinch at least a tie for the Southwest Conference baseball championship.

Advertise or be Forgotten.

Texas Wins SWC Track, Field Meet

AUSTIN — (P)— The University of Texas returned to glory in Southwest Conference track and field Saturday, winning the championship by a margin of 17 points over Texas A&M, which had held the title three straight years.

Five records fell before the onslaught of the finest field in cinder path history in the Southwest with chunky Tom Cox of Rice and Flynn Charley Parker of Texas the standouts of a meet that did not go true to form.

It was supposed to be a gripping battle between A&M and Texas, but the latter jumped in front from the start with a record breaking 440-yard relay and went on to produce two of the marks hung up.

Parker, running his last time for Texas, won the 100-yard dash for first time and also took the 220 for the fourth straight time, and topped off his performance with a great anchor lap on the record-running sprint relay team. He was high point man with 11 1/4.

Cox, the tremendous Rice quarter-miler, set a new record of 46.9 in this event and ran a 47.4 anchor on the mile relay team that set a new mark of 3:14.3.

Bob Walters of Texas tied for top honors by winning the high jump with a leap of six feet, 8 5/8 inches, which not only was a new conference record but was the highest anybody has jumped in the nation this year. Walters also tied for first in the pole vault.

A tragic figure of the meet was J. D. Hampton, the Texas A&M distance star, who holds the conference records in the mile and two-mile. He was beaten in the mile by teammate Julian Herring by a yard and lost the two-mile by more than 10 yards to Jim Brown of Arkansas.

In fact, Hampton was third in the two-mile Brown's teammate, Jim West, was second 50 yards behind. Brown ran the event in 9:34.6, almost four seconds off the conference record of 9:30.7.

Texas scored 60 points, Texas A&M 43, Rice 32, Arkansas 30, Baylor nine, Southern Methodist seven and Texas Christian five.

The Texas 440-yard relay team of Floyd Rogers, Carl Mayes, Perry Samuels and Parker turned in 41.1, a tenth of a second under the record set by Texas in 1947.

Cox's time in the 440-yard dash bettered the conference record of 47.3 set by Ray Holbrook of Texas A&M last year.

Walters' jump bested the record of six feet, 7 7/8 inches set in 1943 by Pete Watkins of Texas A&M.

Otha Byrd, little red-head from Rice, topped the half-mile in 1:53.6 to smash the conference record of 1:53.8 set by Mac Umstadt of Texas in 1941.

The Rice mile relay team that broke the record of 3:14.9 set last year by A&M was made up of Jack Hudgins, Jim Hoff, Arthur Brown and Cox. Brown did a 47.8, Hoff 49.3 and Hudgins 49.9.

Parker ran the 100 in 9.6 and the 220 in 21.0. He had a stiff breeze in his face in the 220.

George Kadera of Texas A&M won the discus throw for the fourth straight year with a pitch of 152 feet, seven inches—7 1/4 inches away from the conference record.

Walters' jump was the best he ever did and bettered his leap of six feet, 8 3/8 inches at the Kansas Relays last year.

Texas now has won the title 21 times, A&M eight and Rice four in the 34-year history of the Conference meet.

First place winners were: 440-yard relay, Texas (Rogers, Mayes, Samuels and Parker), 41.1 (new record); mile run, Herring, Texas A&M, 4:17.4; shot put, Morton, TCU, 49 feet, 4 1/2 inches; 440-yard dash, Cox, Rice, 46.9 (new record); 100-yard dash, Parker, Texas, 9.6; javelin throw, Rotte, Rice, 202 feet, 3 1/4 inches; high jump, Walters, Texas, six feet, 8 5/8 inches (new record); 120-yard high hurdles, Leming, Texas A&M, 14.5; 880-yard run, Byrd, Rice, 1:53.6 (new record); 220-yard dash, Parker, Texas, 21.0; discus throw, Kadera, Texas A&M, 152 feet, 7 inches; two-mile run, Brown, Arkansas, 9:34.6; mile relay, Rice (Hudgins, Hoff, Brown, Cox), 3:14.3 (new record); broad jump, Meeks, Texas, 24 feet, 4 3/4 inches; pole vault, Graves, Texas A&M and Walters, Texas, tied at 13 feet, 6 inches.

Simmons Hurls Phils To Win Over Giants

PHILADELPHIA — (P)— Curt Simmons, $65,000 bonus pitcher, looked like a million dollars Saturday as he allowed only three singles in tossing the Philadelphia Phils to a 7-1 triumph over the New York Giants.

Home runs by Dick Sisler and Del Ennis were the big blows for the Phils, who won their sixth straight victory.

The box score: R. H. E.
New York 100 000 000—1 3 0
Philadelphia 000 402 01x—7 7 0
Koslo, Maglie, Higbe and Westrum; Simmons and Seminick.

Tebbetts Drives In Run To Spill Nats 5-4

BOSTON — (P)— Catcher Birdie Tebbetts celebrated his 1,000th major league game Saturday by driving in the run that gave the Boston Red Sox a 5-4 win over the Washington Senators.

Tebbetts batted out two singles as he extended his consecutive hitting streak to 14 games. Among the Sox' nine hits off Sid Hudson were homers by Ted Williams and Walter Dropo.

The score: R. H. E.
Washington 000 000 400—4 10 1

Hudson and Evans; Stobbs, Masterson, Dobson and Tebbetts.

Pinch Single Gives Cards Win Over Reds

ST. LOUIS — (P)— A single by pinch hitter Eddie Kazak in the seventh inning drove in two runs and gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 6-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds in a loosely played game here Saturday night.

Howard Pollet gained his third victory of the season, giving up 9 scattered hits.

The score: R. H. E.
Cincinnati 000 000 100—3 9 1
St. Louis 000 100 50x—6 10 1
Wehmeier, Peterson, Fox and Howell; Pollet and Rice.

Read It Fast, Pal; Nats Buy DiMaggio

WASHINGTON — (P)— If you read the next paragraph you'll think the Washington Senators pulled the biggest deal in all baseball Saturday.

The club obtained Joe DiMaggio and farmed him out to the Concord, N. C., club.

After a pause to let the shock settle in, the Senators' Farm Director Osele Biuge added: "We didn't get the Yankee Clipper himself, we got the second best thing—his second cousin."

The new DiMaggio is an 18-year-old outfielder from Monterey, Calif. Senator scouts say he has great possibilities.

Yankees Celebrate Ed Barrow Day By Trouncing A's 9-3

NEW YORK — (P)—The New York Yankees celebrated Ed Barrow at Yankee Stadium Saturday lambasting the Philadelphia Athletics 9-3 behind the six-hit pitcher Vic Raschi and Bob Porterfield.

Barrow, former chief executive of the Yankees during the 1920 to '30 era, received a plaque and autographed by all participants in oldtimers game which preceded regular game. Barrow, who was command when the Yankees won their 16 pennants, was feted at a banquet Saturday night.

The American League "Oldtimers" composed of former Yanks, but group of former National League stars 3-1 in two innings. The national leaguers were made up of players who faced the Yanks in World Series from 1921 to 1945.

Once the regular game began, Yanks wasted little time in setting up.

The score: R. H. E.
Philadelphia 000 001 020—3 9 1
New York 001 030 01x—9 9 1
Wise, Scheib, Fowler and Tip Raschi, Porterfield and Berra.

Whites, Reds Go Together in Squad Tilt

The Midland Bulldogs thought they had been in some rough scrimmage sessions before, but Friday's workout topped all the rest by a wide margin.

Coach Tugboat Jones sent the Reds against the Whites in a regulation game scrimmage complete with officials, penalties and accurate tab on the scoring.

The Whites, composed mostly of last year's B Bulldogs who are battling for first-string assignments this year, ended out just about all the variety Reds could take.

In fact, the Whites led 21 to 20 at the end of the regulation time. A five-minute "overtime," added Coach Jones, so he could see the boys work some new plays, produced a final score of 27-21 in favor of the Whites.

The game developed one thing for sure. Not a man has clinched his position. It's going to be a nip and tuck battle for the starting line-up and backfield positions next week.

Some Clicks with the Whites and Reds looked exceptionally good on several offensive maneuvers Friday. The passing game was working for both teams and ate up much of the yardage gained. Some of the running backs also showed improvement in the broken field.

The Whites used a variation of the Kimsey, Larry Friday, Dan Mack, Robert Melton, Robert Keisinger and Ralph Brooks to make their offensive game go.

The Reds, made up mostly of freshmen from last year, showed some polish as a team but had their acts full all the way. Stan Coker, Bob Wood, Jimmy Neal, Jimmy Lineberger, Graham Mackey, Dalton Byerley and Pete English composed the forward wall. Charles Crowley, L. C. Thomas, Mack Burris, Johnny Kennedy, Jack Burris, Ralph Brooks and Reed Gilmore saw duty in the backfield for the varsity. Friday, Keisinger, Kimsey, Melton and Black got a few plays in at times with the Reds' secondary.

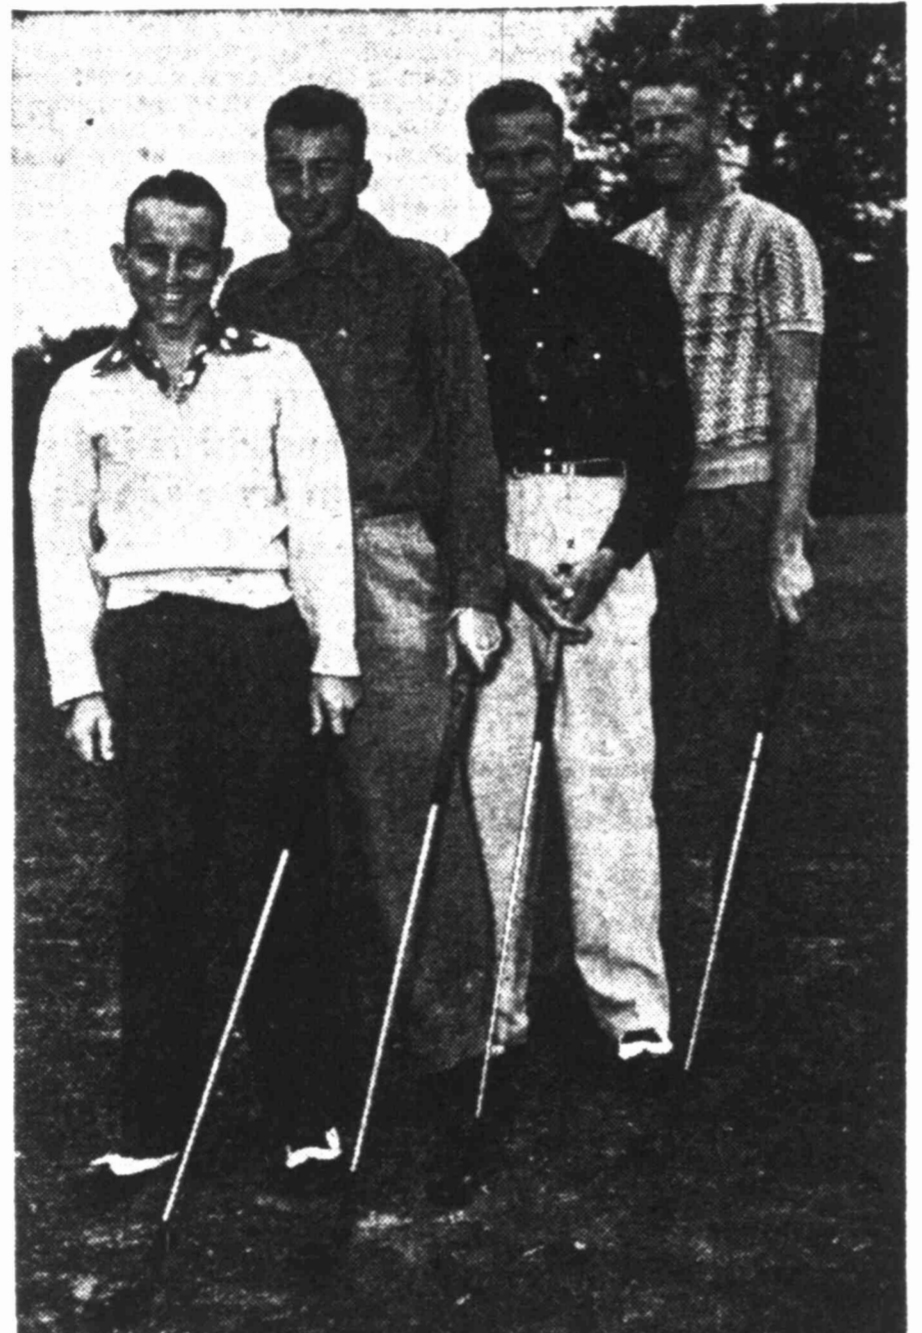

Clara Kreigline swings two bats just like her boy teammates before taking her cuts. A 15-year-old freshman, she plays right field for Hyndman, Pa., High School.

SWC Golf Champions

This quartet of golfers grabbed the Southwest Conference team championship for the University of Texas. The individual title in 72-hole medal play went to Buddy Weaver of Rice Friday. The Longhorns won the round-robin team title before the schedule was completed. They scored 261.2 points to 31.2 for their opponents. The golfers, front to back, are Reece Alexander of Nocona, Morris Williams, Jr., Marion Pfleger and Billy Penn, all of Austin. Pfleger and Williams are two of the ranking amateurs who are expected to enter the Texas PGA Tournament in Midland this month.

Raymond Gafford, Defending Champ, Coming For PGA

Raymond Gafford, the defending champion in the Texas PGA, will be one of the favorites this year when the state tournament comes to the Midland Country Club May 29-June 4.

Gafford recently moved to Dallas after living in Fort Worth several years. He is a club pro but his game ranks up there with some of the touring professionals.

Gafford is one of the finest golfers Texas ever produced. Had he chosen to make the tournament swing he undoubtedly would have been a top money-winner.

But Gafford was a club man. However, he found time to play some on the tournament tour, winning considerable money. He also won the Southwestern pro-amateur at Wichita Falls in 1945 and 1947 and the Amarillo and Oklahoma opens in 1946. He has qualified for the National Open every year since 1939.

He is the defending champion of the Texas PGA. Gafford beat out the great Byron Nelson for the title in Dallas last year.

A native of Coleman, he was a resident of Fort Worth for 29 years. From 1937 until February of this year he was professional at Fort Worth's Ridgela Course. He now is professional at Northwood Country Club in Dallas.

Like most other top golfers, Gafford started as a caddy. It was at Glen Garden Country Club in Fort Worth when he was eight years old.

Gafford played his first golf in 1929 at Meadowbrook in Fort Worth and four years later became assistant to Claude Whalen at this course.

Gafford last year received an invitation to the $15,000 Colonial National Invitation tournament in Fort Worth—a tournament of great exclusiveness. He didn't get to participate when the tournament was cancelled because of a flood. This year he has another invitation and will play in the tournament May 25-28.

Texas Loop Golf, Tennis Decid

ABILENE —(P)— Bob Adair of southwestern University Friday defeated Bob Craig of Abilene Christian one up in 18 holes to win the individual golf championship of the Texas Conference.

Texas A & I's Glenn Shively repeated as singles champion in Texas Conference tennis by beating Harry Tansil of Abilene Christian College in four sets. Jack Coleman and Jerry Hallford of ACC captured the doubles title from Shively and Rig Lindsey of A&I, 6-3, 3-6, 7-5 and 6-4.

The conference voted in a business meeting Friday to hold separate meets of golf, tennis and track on successive week-ends and in different member cities next year.

Tribe Nips Colts With Late Rally

The Midland Indians, rallying in the eighth inning for four runs, whipped the San Angelo Colts 8 to 7 Friday night in Indian Park to move back into the first division. Sweetwater lost to Roswell, dropping to fifth behind the Indians.

The hitting of Kenny Jones and Jim Prince brought the Indians through.

Webb Gets Three Men

Harold Webb, manager of the Midland Indians, Saturday announced the arrival here of three new ball players. A left-handed pitcher, an outfielder and an infielder have been acquired.

Webb returned from a "talent hunt" which centered in Fort Worth, where the Texas League front-running Cats make their headquarters. All the players were optioned to the Indians by the Fort Worth club, Webb said.

Jack Mattiza, a rookie outfielder, broke into the lineup Friday night against the San Angelo Colts. He bats and throws right.

Glenn Edward Austin, a brother to Fort Worth's great hurler, Bob Austin, arrived with Mattiza. He is a rookie infielder with fine prospects. His 170 pounds and five-foot, 11-inch stature make him a potential long ball hitter.

Carley New Hurler

Kenneth Harold Carley, a limited service port-sider, arrived Saturday. Bobby Brazan of the Fort Worth club sent along a good report on Carley and indicated he believes the lefty can win in the Longhorn League.

Carley was with Newport News, Va., in the Piedmont League and with Three Rivers in the Canadian-American League last year. The company up there was a little fast but he showed enough promise to get himself drafted by the Brooklyn Dodger system.

Carley has been at Greenwood, Miss., this season after working out with Fort Worth at Vera Beach, Fla.

Longhorn League—Indians Move Back To First Division; Roswell Is Second

The Big Spring Broncos are not finding the going quite so easy in the Longhorn League this year.

The Broncos walked to a pennant last year, but they took it on the chin again Friday night, 7-12, from the lowly Ballingier Cats. The loss dropped Big Spring into third place, four and one-half games off the pace.

Vernon edged Odessa 3-2 in the opener of a double header, but Odessa bounced back to take the nightcap 3-1. Arnold Davis scored the winning run of the first game in the bottom of the seventh on a passed ball by Odessa Catcher Manuel Escobedo.

Roswell rallied for four runs in the ninth inning to nip Sweetwater 10-8. The win boosted Roswell into second place ahead of the faltering Broncos.

Midland also pulled a garrison finish in downing San Angelo 8-7. Trailing 4-7 going into the eighth, Midland scored for four times on four hits and two walks for the win.

Softball Play Set Monday

The 1950 softball season gets underway Monday night at Wadley Field, north of the city, with two games on tap in the City Major League. A game between boys' teams of the Optimist League will precede the "fast league" opener.

The Church League, a six-team circuit, will kick off Tuesday night with two games.

Hill Prince Gallops Over Derby Winner In Withers Mile

NEW YORK (AP)—Hill Prince, the flying gentleman from Virginia, hung it on the Kentucky Derby winner—Middleground—Saturday in the $25,750 Withers Mile at Belmont Park and proved he is a tough number in the Preakness next week.

A crowd of 40,088 customers, who made Hill Prince and Eddie Arcaro the favorite, gave Chris Chenery's powerful bay colt a mighty cheer as he took command near the top of the stretch and romped home with something to spare.

Hill Prince, second choice in the Derby at Louisville last week, blazed under the finish line in a sparkling 1:35 4/5, which tied the record for the stake first run in 1874.

Hill Prince bounced under the wire, his stubby tail flying, a length and one-half ahead of Middleground, while the King Ranch colt from Texas was four lengths on top of the third horse, Mrs. Andy Schuttinger's Perd. That's the way the crowd had bet 'em, with Middleground at 3-2 on the board and Perd 3-1. Hill Prince paid $4.20, $2.30 and $2.10; Middleground $2.30 and $2.10, and Perd, $2.10.

Your Host, a California Derby favorite, had been entered but was scratched. It was reported trainer Harry Daniels couldn't find a suitable jockey.

The softball program this year is under the direction of the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce. Wade Whiteley, chairman of the JayCee sports committee, will serve as league director.

The City Major will play double-headers on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights of each week. The Friday night games will be exhibition tilts since the loop this year is operating with only six teams.

The Church League is scheduled on Tuesday and Thursday nights of each week.

Plans call for the Optimist League for Boys to play five times a week, starting at 6 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Play in all leagues will continue through August 23 and playoffs will follow.

TCU Official To Succeed Stewart In SWC Position

AUSTIN (AP)—The Southwest Conference Saturday banned television unless there is a sell-out crowd in advance for a football game.

Among other matters it reaffirmed censure of the University of Arkansas for rough football play and appointed Howard Grubbs new executive secretary. Grubbs, athletic director of Texas Christian University, succeeds James H. Stewart, who resigned.

Recognizing the effect on attendance of television, the faculty committee, governing body of the conference, decided that if a football game is shown a week in advance to be a sell-out or strong indications are that it will be, then it may be televised. This, however, is up to the home school.

The committee, acting on an appeal from Arkansas officials for a new hearing in the censure case involving the Texas Christian-Arkansas game of last Fall, decided not to reopen the case. It did, however, appoint a committee of D. W. Williams of Texas A&M, president of the conference, and Dr. H. E. Bray of Rice to confer with Arkansas officials relative to clarifying the meaning of the censure issued in December.

Grubbs was named executive secretary at a salary of $9,000 a year, less than Stewart was paid. The latter has become vice president and general manager of the State Fair of Texas. He will continue as secretary of the conference until Grubbs winds up his affairs at TCU.

Movies for television and news reels will be allowed but cannot be shown until 6 p.m. Sunday following a football game.

The committee penalized Arkansas for five of its freshmen basketball players participating in an AAD tournament against conference rules. The penalty is loss of a year's varsity eligibility, but taking the attitude it was not the fault of the players but of the coach, Presley Askew, the committee penalized Arkansas by forcing it to wait until November 1 to start practice. The rule is October 15. Askew said he did not knowingly violate the rule.

The conference declared an annual dividend from Cotton Bowl receipts of $27,000, prorated among the seven schools.

Dr. Rhea Williams, acting president of the conference since Dr. Robert A. Leflar of Arkansas resigned several months ago, was elected president for a two-year term. Dr. J. D. Bragg of Baylor was named vice president.

Texas A&M College was awarded the 1951 Southwest Conference meet.

Wounded Veteran Slates First Try At Distance Swim

DENISON (AP)—Roy Sutter, wounded war veteran from Fort Worth, will don a 10-pound coat of grease when he takes off at 8 a. m. Sunday on his 15-mile swim at Lake Texoma.

The distance swimmer moved up his starting time one hour and cut his stroke speed at the suggestion of W. R. France, coach and father of English Channel swimmer Shirley May France.

Shirley May, who is training at Texoma for her second attempt to swim the channel this summer, will be on hand to wish Sutter luck when he takes off and then will follow his swim throughout the day.

If Sutter can turn in the 15-mile fresh water swim in a favorable time, he very likely will be invited by Pop France to accompany Shirley May to England and try to cross the English Channel. He will be the first Texan ever to attempt the channel swim.

Vitamins B and C may be destroyed by adding soda to vegetables while cooking.

Studio Showing Of Chinese Paintings To Be Open Sunday

A group of water color paintings by Dr. Chang Shu-Chi, China's "ambassador of art," will be shown from 3 to 6 and 8 to 10 p. m. Sunday in the Palette Club Studio, 604 North Colorado Street.

Sponsored by the Palette Club Art Center and the American Association of University Women, the exhibit is open to the public and no admission charge will be made.

On exhibit will be a group of 16 authentic Chinese scrolls, seven feet in length, and eight original paintings. The size of the smaller prints is 14 by 10 inches, the larger, 22 by 14. Boxes of Christmas greeting cards and informal note sheets are included.

The water colors and prints are delicate and softly shaded and seem to blend the oldness of China with the stark realism of the modern world. They are principally of birds, flowers and trees and are amazingly lifelike.

Anyone who cannot attend Sunday and wishes to see the prints may have a showing by calling Mrs. R. L. Clarke, 1995-J.

Story Of West To Be Reviewed In ESA Benefit

"Jubilee Trail," a lusty story of California in the 1840's, will be reviewed by Evelyn Oppenheimer at 8 p. m. Friday in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer.

Sponsored by Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority, the review is being given to raise money for the sorority's National Articular Foundation. Tickets may be purchased from any member or at The Book Stall.

Miss Oppenheimer comes to Midland through the courtesy of Sangster Brothers in Dallas. She has reviewed several books here and her most recent visit was last Fall, when she discussed "Twilight on the Floods," Margaret Steen's sequel to "The Sun Is My Undoing."

Garnet Cameron "Jubilee Trail" was written by Owen Beistow and tells the story of Garnet Cameron, a New York society girl who marries a California trader. Set in the early 1840's when independence, Mo., was the last outpost of American civilization, the story begins with the trip to the wild, unexplored, California territory. The first lap of the journey is from Independence to Santa Fe and is made by wagon.

After Santa Fe comes the "Jubilee Trail," the long rough ride to California, over bleak and desolate mountains and deserts, with Indians a common menace. The journey will be made on horseback or on mules.

Many things happen to Garnet after she reaches California, and the story tells of her complete change from a delicate, impractical society girl to a woman well able to take care of herself in an unsettled territory not yet a part of the United States.

Mrs. Frank Cole, Jr., who served as president of the Midland City Parent-Teacher Council for the term just ended, was presented a past-president's pin Friday afternoon at the opening general session of a school of instruction for new officers and committee members.

Mrs. S. M. Erskine, who was installed as council president to succeed Mrs. Cole at a citywide P-TA program May 10, presented the pin and reviewed briefly Mrs. Cole's service as council head, a unit president and a committee chairman during the few years she has participated in P-TA activities.

Mrs. Lynn Metcalfe was in charge of the school of instruction, and introduced speakers who gave five-minute discussions of topics which pertain to the work of all P-TA officers, then leaders of a half-hour group discussion period in which the specific duties of various officers and committees were outlined in smaller groups.

Speakers in the general meeting were Frank Monroe, school superintendent, on "Significance of the P-TA Movement," Mrs. J. J. Black, Sixteenth District P-TA president, on "Leadership;" Mrs. Waldo Leggett, state board member, on "Special Projects;" Mrs. Erskine on "Membership;" and Mrs. Cole on "Duties of Executive Committees."

Leaders of the group conferences were Mrs. Erskine, for unit president; Mrs. Charles Shaw, for first vice president, who serve as chairman of room mothers; Mrs. J. B. Elder, for second vice president, whose responsibility is program planning; Mrs. Millward Miller, for secretary; Mrs. Frank Shubbenman, for treasurer; and Mrs. Floyd Coleman, for publicity chairman.

A short summary period followed the group meetings, to close the school. VISITING DAUGHTERS Mrs. Jane Byers of Tulsa is the house guest of her daughter, Mrs. James Price, 1003 North Main Street. She will remain in Midland about a month.

Some Women Have Their Own Leads On Feminine 'Priorities'

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Recently I wrote a column on recalling "priorities." Now some of my men readers have furnished me with a few examples of typical feminine "priorities." According to a man:

Some women seem to think that a wife knows how a house could be furnished, and the first thing to do about a husband's suggestions is to veto them flatly. Some women seem to think that the man of the house should be left with the dishes, he doesn't need any help or encouragement when he tackles the yard.

Some women seem to think that a wife has an excuse for becoming "fed up" with the children occasionally, but when Papa yells at them he is just a brute.

Some women seem to think that a husband and wife are going to a party it's just how the wife looks that matters. Mamma may buy a whole new ensemble for an occasion and forget to send up a blue serge suit to the cleaners.

Some women seem to think that a woman can or does give someone the "best years of my life," when a woman says "I gave you the best years of my life," a husband can answer, "I did the same for you."

Some women seem to think that they know best in any matter that concerns the children. Some women seem to think that only the wife is "tied down" by family life, overlooking the fact that a man is as tied to a job as a woman is to a house and children.

Two-Piecers Can Stretch Out Wardrobe

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—Ready to add the spice of variety to a limited wardrobe are two-piece dresses that swap tops to suit the occasion without losing their style.

These two-piecers state their case most smartly in black and white. Black linen is a favorite. So are black and white pin-checks or shadow stripes.

Taken together, top and skirt are carefully tailored in the same color and fabric to look like a one-piece dress. Wide leather belts hide the joining between blouse and skirt waistband.

When thin, lightweight fabrics are used, skirts are usually full, gathered in at the waist. In heavier fabrics, skirts are slim and straight, sometimes eased by a deep pleat in front. Tops are simply styled; some are sleeveless, some have full, elbow-length or shorter sleeves.

To change the costume, other blouses team up with the skirts. Dress tops make tailored blouses for suits or separate skirts.

GOLDEN 'DESSERT'
Previously announcing it to be choice fruits of the country and astounding his guests, who knew the barren land was fit only for hunting and gold mining, James V. 16th century Scottish king, served a "dessert" of covered dishes heaped high with newly coined gold pieces.

Keep the medicine cabinet clean. The measuring spoon should be kept clean for instant use, the eye cup should be washed after it is used. These simple precautions help prevent serious infection.

These versatile two-piece dresses designed by Brigrance are tailored so that tops can be switched for variety. The tailored black linen dress (left) has a sleeveless top and slim skirt with button-trimmed hip pockets. The skirt serves as well with the dressier sheer shadow-striped silk organza blouse (center). Lack and white pin-checked cotton sheer makes the soft dress (right) with full skirt, bloused top. Top can be worn with black skirt; checked skirt looks smart with black linen blouse.

Abundant Living

By E. STANLEY JONES

RECEPTIVITY—THE FIRST LAW OF LIFE

We carry over from last time our ladder out of negativism and inferiority. Since the Kingdom belongs to you, (9) remember the two conditions for receiving and transmitting the resources of the Kingdom: receptivity and response.

These two words are not only the alternate heartbeats of the Kingdom; they are also the alternate basis of the whole of life. Everything grows and develops by these two things: receptivity and response. John sums up this thought in these words: "As many as received him, to them gave he power to become." How did he give power—power to become? First, by receptivity—as many as received him.

A universal principle is here laid bare. Take a plant—how does it get power to become? By being proud, self-sufficient, unrelated, and unresponsive? No; by surrendering, adjusting, receiving, giving. Suppose a plant tried to get power by asserting itself, by trying to "lord it" over the other plants—result? It would lose its power over other plants and its power to become. It gains power by surrendering and by response to its environment. When it is adjusted, it takes in from air and soil and sun, and gains power to become. Plant sin is anything that hinders that receptivity and response.

Someone has defined life as response to environment. You and I live physically when we respond to our physical environment; we can take in food and light and air. When response is shut off, we die physically. Our spiritual environment is the Kingdom of God. When we respond to it, we adjust ourselves to it, receive our very life from it, then we live—and live abundantly. We are in a state of receptivity, which is a state of faith, confidence, appropriation. We absorb breath of life as the body absorbs food; we breathe in its purifying breath as the lungs breathe in air, we take up its vitality as the skin takes in vitamins from the light of the sun.

To believe is to receive and to receive is to replenish.

O God, Thou who dost wrap me round as the atmosphere wraps my body round, let me respond to Thee as my physical body responds to its environment and lives. Let me breathe Thee near—deep breaths of Thee; let me receive Thee into every pore and fiber of my being. Help me to live by Thee—then I shall live. Amen.

Cut out rounds of rich pastry dough with a cookie cutter. Put a little jam in the center of each and fold over so edges meet; seal well and prick top. These taste best when they are freshly baked.

Midland Altrusa President Shares Honors Given District Governor On Mexico Trip

Traveling with the district governor of Seventh District Altrusa Clubs on an official visit to a club in Mexico can become a gala occasion indeed. Grace Wallace, president of the Midland Altrusa Club, found last week. She returned Thursday from the trip to Chihuahua.

The governor, Willie Walker of Texarkana, and her party were given the honor of leading the annual Mother's Day procession in a large school in Chihuahua; they were entertained in some of the city's handsome homes and when they started for a drive over the city, found three cars lined up at the door to take the four women on the tour.

Others in the party were Susan Wright, past president of the Texarkana Club, and Frances Pettit, president of the El Paso Club. The Texarkana women came to West Texas last weekend, playing an official visit to the Altrusa club on the night of May 6 and coming on to Midland for a luncheon last Sunday.

Accompanied by Mrs. Wallace, they went to El Paso Monday and had dinner with Altrusans there that night. They were met at their hotel in Chihuahua Tuesday by a delegation of club members who presented them with flowers. That night they had dinner in the home of Dr. Pedro Rodriguez Leal, whose wife, a hospital technician, is a member of the Altrusa Club, an Miss Walker made her address to the club.

She does not speak Spanish, but the group found that most members of the Chihuahua Club speak English and an interpreter was present for the benefit of the others. Mrs. Wallace, who does speak the language of Mexico, assisted Miss Walker by interpreting on some occasions during the trip.

May 10 is observed as Mother's Day in Mexico and on that day the Altrusans visited the Colegio Palmore, a school founded by an American and supported by the Methodist Mission Board, which has an enrollment of about 1,800 from the kindergarten upward.

When school officials informed the visitors that they were to lead the annual procession of more than 300 mothers, they were somewhat dismayed as well as flattered, but they marched through the halls of the school to the large courtyard while a school band played, uniformed students lined the way and confetti and paper streamers fell from the upper galleries where the smaller students were ranged.

Seated in the place of honor, they reviewed a program in which songs were sung by a chorus in English as well as Spanish, in honor of Miss Walker. They learned that the director of the school, Luisa Naranjo, was an Altrusan, as were all of the mothers chosen as an honor guard for a flag-raising ceremony.

The president of the Chihuahua Club is the wife of Dr. Arcadio Espinoza, and they were entertained at breakfast in her home Wednesday, and met her husband and eight children. Other members of the club escorted them on visits to a hospital, homes and the city's show places, presented them with souvenirs of their visit and took them on a shopping spree to complete a visit which they all express the hope of repeating.

Miss Walker and Miss Wright went on to visit Altrusa Clubs at Amarillo and Wichita Falls before they returned to Texarkana.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written For NEA Service

"Some people are hard to convince," writes a Jacksonville correspondent. "They won't believe even when they can see it in black and white."

"Last night we had three red treys down on the table, and the opponents were pretty desperate. If we got the last red three, the bonus of 800 points would put us over the 5,000-point mark. So they were drawing from the stock at every turn, trying to get that last three."

"When we saw what they were doing, we didn't bother to make safe discards. Finally, I made a discard that the next player could obviously take, since it matched one of her melds."

"That player thought quite a bit and then drew the top card of the stock. Luckily for her, it was the last red three. She put it down on the table, and then the fun began."

"She tried to take the discard pile! We said she couldn't do it. She said she was entitled to another draw, and she wanted to draw the discard pile. We said she couldn't swap horses in mid-stream. She said horses had nothing to do with it. Pigs might, but horses never. Somebody mentioned cats, and it took an hour and a box of candy to restore order."

"The funny part of it is that I showed her where you covered exactly this point on page 139 of your book, but she wouldn't believe it. She said she'd believe it if she saw it in her own newspaper that she bought with her own money! "Will you cover this point soon?" Glad to oblige. My correspondent is right, of course, but I'm sorry the argument got so hot and heavy. Canasta is much more fun when it's taken good-naturedly.

The rule on replacing red threes covers two completely different situations. In one case you have a red three as part of your original hand. In the other case, you get a red three later on.

When you are dealt a red three, you must put it down on the table before beginning your first play. If you then replace it by drawing from the stock. This is not considered a play—but just a sort of preliminary. In this situation, if you replace the red three, you may then make up your mind about your first play. And you may make your first play either from the stock or from the discard pile.

That is true even if you happen to draw another red three as your replacement. You put that down on the table also and draw still another card. That is still considered a preliminary play, and you may still take the discard pile as your first regular play.

After you have made your first regular play, the case is quite different. Then if you draw a red three from the stock, you must replace it from the stock. You cannot switch to drawing from the discard pile.

Q—I had one card in my hand, and the player ahead of me took the discard pile. He then threw a card that I could meld. Was I allowed to take that card and meld it?

A—No. A player who has only one card is not allowed to take a one-card discard pile. The only exception to this rule occurs when the entire stock pile (undealt cards) has been drawn. In this exceptional case you are forced to take the card and meld out.

Camp Registration For Girl Scouts Is Nearing Completion

Registration is almost complete for the Summer camping season at the Mitre Peak Girl Scout Camp near Alpine. Mrs. J. J. Black, director, has announced. The registration limit is 400 girls, and more than 350 already have registered.

The only open periods now are the third week, beginning June 25, which was designated originally for Senior Girl Scouts but will be open for some Intermediate Scouts also, and the seventh and eighth weeks, beginning July 23 and July 30, Mrs. Black said.

She added that a surprise overnight trip has been planned as one of the features of the Senior Scouts camping period.

Girls from troops over the Permian Basin Girl Scout Area may register for the camp. Periods have been set aside for Brownies, Intermediate and Senior Scouts. The camp will be in operation for the second year and will have additional equipment and many improvements which have been completed since last Summer.

Mrs. Black says that other equipment is needed, with mattress covers and dish towels the most wanted just now. Some troops and individuals have contributed camp equipment and other contributions may be made to Mrs. Black.

Borger's Smoke Problem Solved

BORGER — Big cities in the east aren't the only ones with smoke problems.

This Texas Panhandle city—where the land stretches flat as a table for miles and cleansing winds blow—had a smoke problem until recently. The smoke came from the carbon black plants in this area—plants which make Borger the carbon black center of the world. They also covered the city with a fine carbon dust, waited over the city by strong Panhandle winds.

The smoke was ended by simultaneous action of Phillips Petroleum Company and the J. M. Huber Corporation, operators of the plants.

They are installing smoke cleaning equipment that will eliminate smoke from the carbon black plants. The installation will be completed by early next Fall.

It is known the cost of the installations will be high. But neither company made an estimate of the expense.

The Huber and Phillips plants are the only furnace-type plants here. The other plants, of a different type, produce smoke only in small amounts.

The Borger News-Herald, knowing the no-smoke move answered housewives prayers, bannered its announcement: "Blue Skies Smilin' at Me."

These Are Economical Fashion Finds

These dresses tag fine fashion at a modest 'under ten dollar' price. Imported navy blue dotted swiss dress (left) is crisply accented by horizontal bands of white pique. Yellow sun-back dress (center) of combed broadcloth has a tucked bodice and adjustable shoulder straps. Cover-up, bloused jacket buttons up the front from a snug waistband to the convertible collar. Sheer navy tissue plaid gingham frock (right) is styled with a mitered, flared skirt, cap sleeves and white pique collar.

NEW YORK—For less than $10, American women can buy a lot of fine fashion this season. Washable dresses that carry these modest price tags are carefully designed, made of fine imported and domestic fabrics and boast styling details of dresses that cost five times as much. For the first time since before the war, sheer woven tissue plaid gingham of a quality used in much higher-priced frocks shows up in one group of inexpensive dresses of Nell Bee design. Imported dotted swiss and fine-combed broadcloth are other fabrics proudly displayed by budget-wise fashions. Details like graduated tuckings and mitered plaid skirts add an expensive look to classic styles. So do pearl buttons dyed to match the fabrics. To give a busy woman freedom of movement, dresses are designed with easy fitting bodices and moderately flared skirts. Pre-shrinking insures a sleek fit no matter how often the clothes are laundered.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drugist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Barcenstrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic, from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

LOST 40 POUNDS
"Before taking Barcenstrate, my weight was 220 pounds. After taking seven bottles my weight is now 210 and I feel so much better, thanks to Barcenstrate." Signed, Mrs. L. M. Robinson, Seabrook, Texas.

WILSON'S

Many Of 89 Descendants Near Mrs. Williams On Mother's Day

By FRANCES HAGAMAN
 Few persons ever have even one great-grandchild. Mrs. D. O. Williams has 89.
 The Midland woman also has three great-great-grandchildren, 25 grandchildren and five children, bringing her total of living descendants to 89. Her deceased descendants include six children, three grandchildren, five great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren, raising the number to 105. She'll be celebrating Mother's Day in a big way this year for practically all of her family lives in or near Midland.
 The 86-year-old mother is as spry as a young bird and her eyes sparkle as she names her children and her children's children for you, never missing a one.
 There's her daughter, Mrs. T. M. Dallas of Crane and her daughter, Mrs. Raymond Best, with two chil-

County in a covered wagon when she was four years old. Her family stopped and picked cotton in Arkansas before crossing into Texas and an uncle already settled in the state came across and met them. He warned them not to cross into the territory before he got to them because of the danger of Indians.
 Her mother, Mary Ann David Woodruff, died when Mrs. Williams was five years old and her father, Milton Woodruff, reared her and her two sisters and two brothers. She had one sister who died. For a time, she lived with an uncle's family, but after her sisters married she and her brothers moved back with her father.
 When she was 15, a handsome cowboy named Dave Williams rode up and began to "pay court" to Milly Woodruff. Soon they were married in her home with their entire wedding dinner, cakes and all, cooked in a skillet over a wood fire.
Saw First Store
 "I hadn't seen but one stove before I married and it was one that my uncle had bought for my aunt," Mrs. Williams says. "It was the only one in the county."
 They were married by Parson Austin, a Parker County preacher. Mrs. Williams wore a white lawn dress, cloth-topped button shoes and a wreath of flowers.
 They "set up housekeeping" with what most modern brides would consider less than bare essentials. At that time, they still lived in Parker County, near Weatherford.
 "We had one log room, a straw bed, one quilt I had quilted myself, a skillet and lid, a bread pan, a small frying pan, three cups, three saucers, three plates and three knives, forks and spoons," she says.
Saw Midland In 1903
 Mrs. Williams' first visit to Midland was about 1903, when she came through here in a covered wagon on her way to New Mexico. "There wasn't anything here over two stories high," she says, "and this town has grown a sight since then."
 They went to New Mexico and staked a claim where Hobbs now stands. Because of the climate, they returned to Texas and lived in Parker County and in Eastland County, where Williams' mother lived, until 1926.
 "By this time," Mrs. Williams added, "all our children were out here so we came too. We settled first in Lamesa but then came to Midland."
 Before her husband died in 1941, on the day before he would have been 85, they lived at 1200 South Colorado Street. Mrs. Williams still lives there with Mrs. Hughes.

Mrs. D. O. Williams

dren. Mrs. Dallas had one daughter who died.
Other Children
 Mrs. Williams' other children are Mrs. W. W. Merritt, Mrs. C. F. Yeats, Mrs. R. O. Taggart and Mrs. B. W. Hughes. A son, Henry Williams, died last year in California and a daughter, Mrs. Fanny Whitmore, died four years ago in Odessa. Two children died in infancy in Eastland County and two children, an infant and a 21-year-old daughter, Hannah, in Parker County.
 Mrs. Merritt's nine children are Jasper, who has five children; Mrs. John Woody, with two children; Mrs. Albert Bills of Snyder, with six children; Gilbert Merritt, with one son; Barney Merritt, with two children; Mrs. Era Chilton of Hobbs, N. M., with two children; Pat Merritt, with two children; Mrs. Wayne Hill, with one child and Mrs. G. D. Collins, who has no children.
 Mrs. Whitmore's children are Mrs. Rex Hughes, with four children; Edward Whitmore of Odessa, with four children; Walter Whitmore of Odessa, with two children; and a deceased son, David, whose two children live in Midland.
More Of Family
 Children of Henry Williams, all but one of whom live in California, are Dimple Howard, with three children; Chester, with two children; Charles, with two children; Kenneth, with one child; Annie Frances, who lives in Idaho and has three children; and Lesli, unmarried.
 Mrs. C. F. Yeats has three living daughters and one deceased child. They are Mrs. Alvie Bryant, with four children; Mrs. Arthur Murdock, with three children; and Mrs. Wayne Nutt.
 Mrs. Taggart's two children are Mrs. Arlie Bryant, with two children and Bobby, unmarried and living at home. Mrs. Hughes has no children.
 The remaining five great-grandchildren of Jack Merritt, his daughter, Mrs. Gene Jones, has two living children and two who died, and Donald Merritt has one child.

If you've ever gone to a party and had a yearning to play the piano or violin even though you can't play a note, then you might realize how frustrating it is to have real talent at your fingertips but not be able to afford lessons.
 Think of the kids who have passed the point of successful musical development because necessity took precedence over their inspirations. You can't be a Heifitz, Toscanini, Tchaikovsky or Caruso and spend your working days in an orange packing factory when you should be practicing.

Today there are many more organizations equipped to further the ambitions of these little lost chords. One such project is conducted by the Music Lovers League, a membership of 10,000 music lovers who pay dues of $2 a year to encourage music aspirants.

Heard In Auditions
 Twice a month the league conducts auditions at New York's Steinway Hall and would-be pianists, violinists, accordionists and others with a musical bent are given an opportunity to demonstrate their aptitudes. Then if the music lovers approve, they help launch the aspirants on careers.

Some of these receive scholarships to study under competent tutors, some are presented at concerts, others are helped to get on radio talent programs or are directed to inexpensive music masters for lessons. Often it is a displaced person—a stranded musician from another country—who is helped to get a break by the league.
 At present a few 16-year-olds are making the Music Lovers League mighty proud of their proteges. The league has helped more than 100 of these young hopefuls to date, at present have 35 on partial or full scholarships.

Promising Quartet
 The four most promising are: Murray Adler, an up-and-coming violinist; Joseph Pizzi, who has been called by music critics "the world's greatest accordionist"; Robert Clark and Angela Pistilli—both studying the piano.

The league spends about $15,000 a year on the education of the musically talented.
 Many young people write letters berating Mother or Dad for a curfew they think is beyond reason. Often a 15-year-old girl will write, "Mother is so old-fashioned, she does not even approve of my going to the movies at night with a crowd of boys and girls."

Sometimes we wonder if Mother is as unreasonable as daughter believes. Every Mother wants her girl to enjoy the happy teen years, to make friends and to keep her eyes out for good husband material.

Why, then, does Mom insist on a curfew of which daughter doesn't approve? Usually, she makes the decision for reasons that her offspring does not give her credit for.

Ice Shipped From Boston To China As Clipper Payload

A great deal has been written about oil for the lamps of China—yet few persons know that once upon a time, ordinary ice was shipped all the way from Boston to China as a clipper ship payload.

It actually was, impossible though it may seem.

The year was 1805, and one Frederick Tudor of Boston was the man who had the nerve to ship a multi-ton cargo all the way around South America and across the Pacific Ocean—the longest trade route in the world at that time.

Tudor had some experience upon which to base his venture into the international ice trade—a business which today is more the concern of Departments of State than of Departments of Commerce. He had started out shipping natural ice to Savannah and New Orleans, to meet the demands of the South for some relief from the Summer heat. Then he had shipped a few clipper loads to the West Indies when a scourge of yellow fever hit these islands. Then came the long distance idea. Went 'All The Way'.

Loading a first class sailing vessel with ice until she rode at the plimsoll line, he covered the ice with straw and sawdust, and the captain to ignore all the temptations to stop enroute, and stood on the deck waving an encouraging hand.

The ship went all the way around South America—there wasn't any Panama Canal—finally cleared the coast of China with a surprisingly large part of the cargo intact. This definitely established Tudor as the "Ice King" of his day.

Forty-five years later an unknown Panamanian in Apalachicola, Fla., Dr. John Gorrie, perfected America's first ice-making machine.

It took many years for Dr. Gorrie's invention to spread. It was not until 1875—a short time in those days, but a long time in terms of today's fast-moving history—for the first ice plant to be established in Texas. It was at Jefferson, and it was the third such plant in America.

The tempo of development increased, and with the turn of the century manufactured ice was becoming common. The ice man was a part of everyday life. Transcontinental trains were using ice to refrigerate vegetables and seafoods and other perishables; industry was finding new outlets because of the availability of ice during the Summer as well as the Winter.

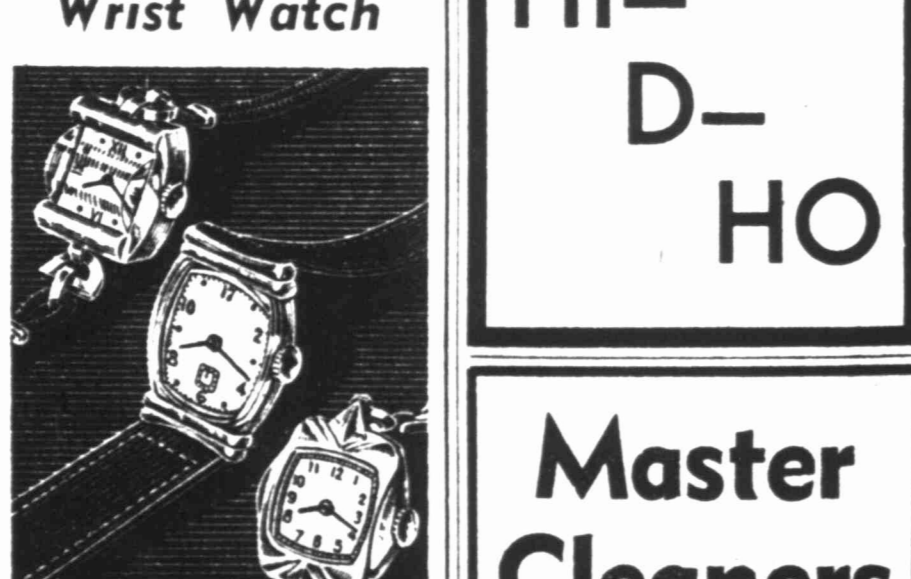

Ice production methods have been steadily improved. Since the late twenties the ice industry has gone ahead in developing new and better ice using equipment for home and industry, with the result that today it is one of the nation's most aggressive industries.

In Texas alone there are some 600 ice plants employing more than 7,500 persons, and indirectly making possible the livelihoods of thousands of other persons. With due respect to the force which history exerts on today's way of living, all of these thousands of ice-making, ice-handling, ice-using Texans will pause Wednesday to mark the 100th anniversary of their industry in America.

To make the observance official, Gov. Allan Shivers has declared Wednesday to be Texas Ice Day.

Cast Honored At Party After Senior Play

Before an almost full house the Senior Class of Midland High School presented the second performance of "The Great Big Oorstep" Friday night in the high school auditorium. The cast was entertained with a supper in the Waldo Leggett home after the play.

The first performance was presented Thursday night. The play is the story of the Crochet family which lives in Grass Margin, La., in a tumble-down shack. After the river has floated down some big doorsteps, the family is concerned with getting a house to go with the steps.

Doris Thompson and Betty Wilson portray the mother and father of the almost poverty stricken family with ability far above the high school level. Jean Blackwell, playing the part of the innocent younger sister, and Rosalynn Leggett, appearing as the older sister who is ashamed of her home and family, are outstanding in their portrayals.

Others in the play doing excellent jobs include Joann Ragan, Vi Jean Fuglaar, Bill Burnside, John Steinberger, Virginia Breedlove, Don Mears, Louis Brooks, Helen Cartwright and Harland Allen.

Vernon Haver, music teacher, directed the difficult comedy taken from a Broadway play. Betty Marie Nix was the student director.

Money raised from this play will be used to purchase a gift from the senior class to the school. This is an annual project.

Dr. and Mrs. Waldo Leggett and Rosalynn were hosts to the cast and production crew and their families at a supper in their home, 901 West Storey Street.

Miss Harris was presented a gift from the cast. Guests included Miss Blackwell, Reed Gilmore, Miss Ragan, Jimmy O'Neal, Miss Fuglaar, Don Bizzell, Miss Wilson, Jimmy Locke, Katherine Lewis, Steinberger, Miss Cartwright, Thompson, Daphne Taber, Mears, Brooks, Allen, Mrs. Nix, Jimmy Kennedy and Max Schaefer. Fashion Borrows Burlap From The Farm

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—Burlap gives a rustic texture to play clothes for juniors. However, there is nothing of the country bumpkin look about these sleek separates designed in St. Louis.

The shorts which the girl wears (left) are lined for comfort and cut for a smooth fit over the hips. Dressed up for market (right), she changes to a skirt and vest combination. The skirt has two wide pleats in front and deep pockets on each hip. Green and white checked gingham blouse has tiny cap sleeves.

'Cowtown' Boosters To Visit Midland On Train-Bus Tour

Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, Saturday was advised by William Holden, general manager of the Fort Worth Chamber, that Midland is included among the cities to be visited on the first day of a two-day goodwill tour which a delegation of Fort Worth businessmen will make into West Texas May 23-24.

The Fort Worthians, according to Holden, will be traveling in a chartered bus and are due to arrive in Midland from the west at 3 p. m. Thursday. The delegation will represent top-ranking banking, manufacturing, jobbing, wholesale, livestock, meat packing, grain, newspapers and other business interests of the City of Fort Worth. The visitors will leave here at 4:30 p. m. for Stanton.

This particular tour, Holden pointed out, is rather unusual in that in the interest of time, as well as travel comfort, the tour will combine the best features of both rail and bus transportation. The tour will originate in Fort Worth at 10:15 p. m. Monday, May 22, when the Fort Worth delegation will board special Pullmans attached to the regular T&P train movement west. Enroute, at Big Spring, diners will be attached thus permitting members of the Fort Worth delegation to dress and have breakfast before arriving in Pecos, which is both the point of origin and the first city to be visited on the tour by bus.

The delegation will arrive at Pecos at 8:30 a. m., Tuesday, May 23, and will begin their visits with local businessmen immediately after their transfer from the train. At 9:30 a. m. the Fort Worth delegation will begin the trip back eastward along U. S. 80 with stops scheduled the first day at Monahans, Odessa, Midland, Stanton and Big Spring. Luncheon the first day will be with business men in Odessa, and with Snyder business men the second day. Dinner stops the first and second evenings will be with business men in Big Spring and Abilene, respectively.

Graceful As An Indian Maid

Movie actress Jeanne Carmen carries herself as proudly as her Comanche Indian ancestors. But her beautiful posture stems from these simple exercises. Top left, she kneels on floor, slowly lowers hips until she sits on heels. Next, she lifts herself to kneeling position again, making thigh muscles do the work. Top right, she sits in chair, arms overhead. Alternating right and left, legs are stretched out straight, toes pointing ahead. Below, Jeanne lies on floor with feet on chair seat, hips raised. Body is slowly lowered to floor by "rolling down" spine from neck to hips.

By ALICIA HART
 NEA Staff Writer

Envy of many a modern miss is the erect posture and graceful carriage of Indian maidens. But you don't need Indian ancestors to boast the beautiful posture of your red-skinned sisters.

So says Jeanne Carmen, lovely part-Indian actress in "Comanche Territory," whose great-grandfather was a Comanche chieftain. When I asked Jeanne the secret of her proud carriage, she admitted that daily exercises safeguard the good posture habits learned in childhood. I asked her to demonstrate the exercises which she learned at a famous Fifth Avenue salon. In the pictures she shows you the simple routines that pull your body into proper alignment.

To get the "feel" of good posture, Jeanne Carmen, movie actress, rises on tip-toes, stretches arms up, pushes shoulders back. Then she lowers arms to sides and heels to floor.

You will note that all are done with arms stretched overhead, and shoulders pushed back. This pulls up the chest and flattens the stomach. And it is a fine corrective for any tendency to slump.

Details of each exercise are given in the captions. Jeanne does each one 15 or 20 times a day, which takes about 10 minutes. It's a sound investment of time. As Jeanne points out, good posture is not only healthy, it makes clothes fit better and corrects many figure faults.

Brush Skin For Beauty

By ALICIA HART
 NEA Staff Writer

Unless your skin is extremely sensitive, it can stand one thorough washing every day, plus several cool water rinsings. Washing with mild soap and soft water is essential for thoroughly removing all traces of cosmetics.

Washing removes dirt, of course, but it also takes away surface oil.

A complexion brush is useful for cleansing pores and toning skin.

For a complete cleansing of your pores, therefore, try a complexion brush. It will, in addition to getting your face clean, help tone your skin by stimulating a flow of blood to the surface.

It isn't necessary to wield the brush with a heavy hand. A gentle but firm rotary motion will get results. Concentrate on the areas where fat glands are most active, particularly the area around the nose and chin.

Make a mask of the soap lather and let it stay on your face for a few minutes. Rinse thoroughly with warm water and finish off with a cold water rinse. Be sure you choose a mild soap which lathers well, such as a solid cream soap. And if the water in your area is hard, soften it by adding one teaspoon of cooking soda and one teaspoon of borax to a basin of water.

Excavations of Alasia

NICOBIA, CYPRUS —(AP)—Archaeologists late this summer will renew excavations of Alasia, fabulous capital of the ancient "Peoples of the Sea." Two thousand individual finds were made in earlier work at Enkomi, where the Royal Palace of Alasia was destroyed in a great earthquake about 1365 B. C. Gold ornaments, bronze inlaid with gold, tiaras, pottery and alabaster were excavated under the direction of M. Claude Schaeffer. The work is considered especially important because it is throwing light on the transition from the Bronze to the Iron Age in the Mediterranean area.

For an easy oven-made dinner serve a ham loaf with baked sweet potatoes, a green salad, and a pineapple-upside-down cake. Rolls may be heated while the oven's on, too.

Married In McCamey

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bob Rowell are at home in Fredericksburg after their marriage in the First Baptist Church of McCamey on May 6. The bride is the former Betty Jo Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Moore of McCamey, and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. Tom A. Rowell of that city. The couple plans to go to Brownwood next month, when Rowell will enter Howard Payne College as a ministerial student. The Rev. W. I. Lee officiated for the wedding and the couple was attended by Ann Hawkins and Tom Lynn Rowell. Mrs. Newton Key was organist. Susan Rowell and Joan Burnett lighted candles. Roger Melton was the ring bearer and Lawton Sides the usher. A reception in the Moore home followed the ceremony.

Gingham And Dimity Frocks

NEW YORK—Gingham and dimity party frocks, pepped up with velvet ribbons and sequin spangles, rate a double-take in Emily Wilkins' first collection in two years. The popular young designer bows back into the spotlight with fashions that keep young figures in mind—bodies hug the ribs, skirts are gracefully flared. The dress (left) is a two-part harmony of dimity and organdy. First part is a strapless slip-dress of mauve dimity printed with green and purple flowers. Second part is the sheer, short mauve organdy over-dress with off-shoulder neckline and full, scalloped hem. Black velvet streamers dangle from the waistline bow. Sequins twinkling on mauve and white checked gingham catch a second and then a third look for the short formal (right). The sparkle patters the front of the fitted bodice and full gathered skirt. Around the waist is tied a black velvet sash.

Wife's Collection Interested Cason In Miniature Vehicles

By FAYE SHELburne
Because his wife was collecting pressed glass dishes, Noel Cason began his collection of miniature vehicles. No, it wasn't a case of spite or retaliation. Mrs. Cason had in her collection an amber glass original model of the Oldsmobile. On seeing this Cason remembered that he had a glass ship, "Remember The Maine," which had been given him when he was a boy. With these two pieces he began his collection.

Although it isn't large, it has many interesting pieces in it. Cason has picked up various pieces for his collection as he has traveled as a Federal Bureau of Investigation agent during the last eight years. He has a fairly good representation of the various modes of transportation in the various eras of time.

Lindbergh Plane Model
Marking the era of invention and adventure, he has a miniature of the "Spirit of St. Louis," the plane Lindbergh used to make the first flight from New York to Paris. The model is glass with a strip of tin over the wings.

Comparing two modes of transportation, he has a covered wagon and a locomotive done in glass. A water wagon miniature pulled by a mule is among his collection.

The mule and the driver are done in plastic and the wagon in glass. Various vehicles for water travel include a glass canoe, which came from Fort Worth, an amber rowboat and a sailboat of glass with a blue sail. A sleigh also is numbered among his collection.

War-time Vehicles
Indicating the time of war, Cason has a PT-boat, a tank, a jeep and a plane—all of which he obtained during World War II days.

Cason has not added to his collection in the last year due to busy days, but he has not given it up. Nor has Mrs. Cason given up her collection of pressed glassware. She has a large collection of dishes and novelty pieces. She traces many of the pieces to homes of negroes in South Texas. In fact the first piece of Cason's collection was purchased from a negro home for about 30 cents.

He and Mrs. Cason and their two sons, Dick, eight, and George, five, moved to Midland about four years ago and reside at 1901 West Texas Street.

small TALK

By SUE COLEMAN

Feminine fans are sprinkled thickly over the stands of Indian Park at every game to prove that baseball is a favorite sport of Midland women. Mrs. W. F. Knight usually is with her husband in their box, and their daughter, Belva Bliven, is often along. Mrs. J. C. Smith is another regular attendant. Sometimes the Smith box holds a family party, when the James T. Smiths and their daughter join the senior Smiths.

Lotta Williams, Fannie Bess and Cordelia Taylor are usually together at the games—and are usually at the games. Mrs. William Y. Penn watches from a front and center box, but she looks lonesome this year without her mother, Mrs. N. A. Lancaster, who is another interested fan but is in Europe this baseball season.

Mrs. John Casselman and her daughter, blonde Mary Nell Guenther, Billie Kotyza and Mrs. Neal Marks and some other little girls about the same size, often occupy neighboring boxes. Louise Sadler is a regular spectator, as is Mrs. W. E. King.

Frequent visitors to the park are Mrs. R. M. Turpin, Mrs. John P. Butcher and Ruth Scharbauer, sometimes accompanied by her sister, Essie Stafford. The Ken Edmondsons and the Fred Girdleys often come together to the games.

"I'm very happy—very glad to be an American citizen," was Paolina Brennen's reaction to completing the requirements for United States citizenship and taking the oath in Federal Court at Pecos Monday. The Midland woman was one of two West Texas war brides to become naturalized at the court session, to which she had been looking forward for months.

She had studied for the examination, which she took last month, ever since she learned to speak English well enough, so she found the tests easier than she had expected. Her knowledge of the language was very limited when she came to this country in January, 1947, from her home in Florence, Italy, to marry Malcolm Brennenman, whom she met when he was stationed in Italy with the United States Army during World War II. Now she speaks fluently, but with a distinctive accent that would give away her nationality if her dark eyes and quick gestures did not. The Brennenmans have a cute two-year-old daughter, Brenda.

A visit to Marian Aldrich's attractive backyard garden the other day showed an astounding array of blooming flowers. We decided to count them and came up with this list: Verbenas, sweet sultan (the stuff that looks like thistle blooms, but more durable), snapdragons, sea poppies, shaggy poppies, heliotrope, hollyhock, petunias, cosmos, blue flax, yellow jasmine, primroses, larkspur, roses of several colors, flowering honeysuckle, stock, iris, sweetpeas and pansies.

In addition, there are cannas, dahlias, chrysanthemums, daisies, wood fern, ageratum, perennial sweetpeas and desert willow getting ready to bloom later, not to mention shrubs, trees and grass—all on an ordinary lot which looks handsomely landscaped, not crowded. When visitors marvel at the finished look of a garden that was started at a new place last year, Mrs. Aldrich explains she has gardened in this climate for years, and knows what to plant for quickest growth, like the Russian olive and pampas grass which make such nice backgrounds for her flowers.

Midland club delegates who came back from the recent district federation convention at Big Spring enthusiastic about the report made by Mrs. Henry Bailey on the prize-winning library project of El Progreso Club at Alpine didn't say anything about Mrs. Bailey's reporting with her arm in a cast. She was here Thursday as an Altrusa Club guest, with the arm still crippled. Seems that it was broken in an accident in her own kitchen. Not many club presidents with unbroken arms can make convention reports that interest their listeners, so maybe Mrs. Bailey is a genius.

When moving to a new house, it is a good idea to have the house cleaned before you move your furniture to it. The job will be twice as difficult if you have to scrub floors and moldings after you move in.

Life With The Tax Gremlins

By NEA Service
 The ancient maxim about taxation reads: "The most feathers for the least squawk."
 That is the theme of the cartoon with this story.
 Facing a deficit of $5,000,000,000 for the current fiscal year, the President had to think of how to increase the take of the federal Gremlin. But both the sales tax goose and the income tax goose were already squawking murder, and to pluck them any deeper would be politically dangerous, with an election coming on.

 The sales tax goose was the more noisy of the two. And with good reason, since the sales taxes imposed in wartime had never been reduced at all. In this dilemma, as a politician, what would you do?

The corporation tax goose is big and friendly, with no votes at all, and has a squawk absurdly weak for its size. Therefore, Uncle Sam is saying to his Gremlin: "Get more feathers there." And that is the thought that governs tax revision.
 However, besides quieting the geese, what difference would it make in the end? A reduction in sales taxes and at the same time an increase of corporation taxes would give no feathers if what the consumer had formerly paid as sales and excise taxes were added to the prices charged by the corporations. It would mean only more hidden taxes.

India Expects To Get Capital From Britain

NEW DELHI, INDIA—(AP)—Foreign capital investment in India is more likely to come from the United Kingdom than from the United States, according to Finance Minister John Mathai.
 American capital, he told Parliament, was not likely to come in except under "extremely attractive terms." He pointed out that there was a big demand for capital in the U. S. itself and that other countries had a better claim on American investment than India.

One of America's Greatest Retailers Points the Way to MORE SALES TODAY AT Lowest COST

By RICHARD H. EDWARDS, JR.*

Vice President, Jordan Marsh Co., Boston

One of America's Greatest Stores

• Our large use of newspaper advertising should be an interesting subject for explanation.

I am confident that the question that comes first to your mind is, "Why do you use it," and second, "How do you justify such use of newspaper advertising?"

It is not very complex . . . not difficult . . . not mystical. It is very, very simple. We DO use the largest black-and-white newspaper advertising of any store in the world.

COSTS ARE WELL BELOW AVERAGE

Now, the purpose of all advertising primarily is the creation of traffic and resulting sales. The ability to obtain satisfactory results at proper costs is the determinant factor as to whether or not the usage was proper. History — and naked fact — is the best proof of whether our policy is correct. Regarding sales, let me tell you that we have consistently bettered the Federal Reserve average for the city of Boston.

At the same time, using such linage as we do, our newspaper costs in relation to sales are as low—or lower—percentage-wise as those of the average stores of NRDGA whose volumes are $50,000,000 and up.

That is the simple answer as to why we make such use of the newspaper medium of advertising.

Sale results are better than competition by actual record. Costs are as low or lower by actual measure.

I know that another question is "Will your advertising use of this medium continue at its high level?"

I can see no reason whatsoever why it should not continue.

SALES RESULTS GOVERN DECISION

Costs being dependent on sales volume, if that volume continues at a high level, so will the advertising use of the medium. Therefore, is behooves newspapers to do everything within their power to assist the advertiser to maintain sales at the high level in order that they maintain the usage of advertising at corresponding high levels.

I believe each newspaper . . . is a vehicle on which we can ride to display our merchandise to the consumer. The big problem is the use of the proper vehicle with the proper merchandise at the proper time to reach that desired consumer

WHAT ABOUT TELEVISION?

. . . what effect is television . . . a presentation both visual and auditory . . . going to have on the advertising dollar?

*From an address to the Advertising Club of Boston, February 7, 1950.

I believe television is a good and growing and coming medium, but I do not think it will take anything away from the newspapers.

The newspaper is the only medium that permits advertisers to present their merchandise simultaneously before the same public and provides thereby the perfect opportunity of equality for competition.

No other medium permits it to anywhere near the same degree — and the success of one store or the other is dependent on the ability of the public to discern which is the best value and who has made the best presentation.

NEWSPAPERS REACH MORE PEOPLE

Also, newspaper advertising . . . is the only medium which permits an advertiser to reach the greatest and most complete cross-section of the public.

Many magazines direct . . . their readership to classes of readers . . . those interested in fashions, home furnishings, sports, etc.

Radio or television solicits by its programming . . . an audience along the lines of amusement or news and leaves such selection to the choice of the audience itself.

But the newspaper presents all these features to all classes of people simultaneously.

BIGGEST COVERAGE AT LOWEST COST

Further . . . the newspapers offer the greatest possible circulation at the lowest percentage of cost.

I know I am correct when I credit newspaper advertising with a major role in the success of Jordan Marsh' sales accomplishment.

It isn't done with mirrors.

This newspaper is equipped to give you — and all advertisers and advertising agencies — substantial practical help toward more efficient use of your advertising dollar. Why not let us tackle your problem — today?

Bureau of Advertising

AMERICAN NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS ASSOCIATION of which this newspaper

and approximately 1,000 others are members

A lot of cold-blooded analysis of results have gone into the calculation of the advertising appropriation. We know what we must have to succeed . . . and we know wherein we can fail.

NEWSPAPER TIMING FAR SUPERIOR

Another vital factor is timing. Merchandise which arrives in our store this afternoon can be, by dint of hard work on the part of the newspapers, presented to the public within 24 hours in the newspaper.

This . . . virtue . . . is shared with radio, but we do know the newspaper will be printed tomorrow. We do know its circulation. And it would be necessary for us to see if we could find or buy radio time on the spur of the moment.

Remember, the newspaper is the one great advertising medium that awaits the convenience of the reader.

A newspaper ad lives for hours . . . sometimes for days. It is not received in a fleeting moment. It does not have to register within a brief time or be lost forever. It enters the home and is available to every member of the family at a time of his or her own choosing.

Agencies' Obligation Underscored

Now I would like to address the advertising agencies. I think the agency has an obligation to guard against permitting a client to put too much advertising money into an unproven medium of any kind.

Agencies should not . . . be exclusively radio or television agencies or magazine agencies or newspaper agencies. They should be partners in the proper use of advertising expenditures to bring about the desired result for the client as efficiently and economically as possible by making use of the proper media to do so.

I believe agencies can learn a lesson if they will make a study of the advertising habits of some of America's largest department stores and their distribution of advertising dollars.

Senior Play Draws Large Audiences At Two Performances

By BET STUDDERT

The annual Senior Play of Midland High School was presented to large audiences Thursday and Friday nights, May 11 and 12 in the high school auditorium. The play this year was "The Great Big Doorstep" by Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett.

It is the story of a Cajun family in Grass Margin. The mother, played by Betty Wilson, was a sympathetic kind woman who tried to keep her family together. She felt she could do this by getting a larger house with the doorsteps that had come in the river in a flood. Mr. Thet, the father, was well played by Dots Thompson.

The two eldest sisters, Topal and Leta, were entirely different in temperament. Topal, Rosalynn Studdert, was dissatisfied with her life in the tumble-down shack of a house on the river. Her sister Leta, Evvie, Jean Blackwell, was a young girl who planned a big party.

The son, Arthur, split up the family first by leaving home on his father's boat, then he got into a fight with the police. Then the Crochets finally decided to move to a bigger house. Tobin, a slow-talking Texan, had the money to buy the house. He had his eye on the school. He was not able to make money because Tayo Delacroix, smooth barber of the town who once been engaged to Topal, had a fight with Tobin and took him severely. Don Mearns had the part of Tayo.

The mother of Mrs. Crochet's friend was the sharp-eyed Mrs. Dups, the landlady. Her improvements on the house and Mrs. Crochet lived in constant fear that a Dupre would find the lovely Lilies she was growing back the house in the canebrakes. Virgie Bregglove was Mrs. Dups. The boys seem to come from a very low source when Dewey Crochet, brother of Mr. Crochet, came on the boat from his job as a river boat man. As Dewey had no family of his own, he always brought presents for his brother's boat. This was a check for a large sum of money to cover the check and the house of the Crochets had to buy it. It was soon found that Dewey had not sufficient money to cover the check and the family seemed to be in the shak for ever. Louis Brooks had the part of Dewey.

The director of the play was Verna Harris. Student director, Betty Matnix; stage manager, Harland St. Construction was by Mack Mashburn and the LI classes. Bet Parker and the art department, publicity was handled by Marilyn Wheelless. Class sponsor, Mrs. E. E. Wrayford, Bobbie Reinhardt, Wanda Hucksby, Marilyn Wheelless, Irma Driver, Carol Glahn, Ann Frey, Bet Studdert, and Billie St. Class officers are Obie Stalcup, president; Bobby Evans, vice-president; Helen Cartwright, secretary.

Stop And Think

This is an appeal to all MHS students—stop and think before you act. It may have sounded funny to some to hear the plea to bring back the missing part of the water fountain. It may have been funny to see someone standing on a sink—before it broke—and even the tearing of a screen on the balcony door of the Scharbauer Hotel may have been considered cute and funny to those who saw and took part in it.

Besides these damages being costly, sometimes to the individual and sometimes the school, it means some future class may be deprived of privileges. The Scharbauer Ballroom is a nice place to have dances and gatherings and it would be the loss of the entire student body to be deprived of using this place.

Leggett, Wheelless Are High Honor Students

Rosalynn Leggett, with an average of 95.333, took valedictory honors in the senior class and Marilyn Wheelless was named salutatorian with an average of 94.31. The announcement was made from the principal's office, Wednesday, May 10. The other honor students are Cynthia Parker, 94.269, Nancy Trauber, 93.96 and Dan Dickerson, 93.885, who is the high honor boy.

Athlete Feats

Football drills were hampered to some extent last week by the damp weather. The squad, however, as a whole is looking better day by day. Several backfield combinations are looking good with Jack Burris, Reed Gilmore, L. C. Thomas, Charles Crowley, Ralph Brooks, Larry Friday, Roy Kinsey, and others alternating. The MHS line for next season should be plenty tough as well as large. Some of the line mainstays for next year will be Jim O'Neal, Stan Coker, Dalton Beverly, Bob Wood, Jerry Culp, Jim Lineberger, Dwayne Bush, Bob Burks, Graham Mackey, Pete English, and several others. The Bulldogs will have 17 lettermen back next year. As a climax to the Spring work-out, letterman-squad game is scheduled for the night of May 25.

Little and Buster Buckingham, ex-MHS football stars, are home from Louisiana University where they played on the freshman football squad last Fall.

Freshman Student In Stanton Hospital

MHS students were sorry to hear that Jack Tabor, freshman student and candidate for the football squad, suffered a broken leg Monday, May 9 Jack is in Martin County Memorial Hospital where he will be confined until he is able to return to school. A group of Midland students who visited him report that he said "hello" to all of his friends here and invites them to come by and see him if they happen to be passing through Stanton.

Music Festival Presents Varied Moods In Songs

The First Annual School Music Festival presented by the music department of the Midland Public Schools was given Friday night, May 4, in the high school auditorium. R. C. Michener was co-ordinator.

The high school A Cappella, and girls glee club, junior high mixed choir and girls choir, the North, South, West, Terminal and Latin-American elementary and sixth grade choirs participated in the festival. Clint Dunagan gave a reading on music before the program started.

In And Around MHS

Five dollar checks for first places in the JayCee Clean Up Poster Contest were presented to June Hazlip, Cynthia Parker, and James Johnson at the JayCee luncheon, Friday, May 5, in the Crystal Ballroom of the Scharbauer Hotel. The three posters entered by these students all won first place in the high school division. They were, however, graded into groups: June Hazlip's had "punch," Cynthia Parker's art, and James Johnson's originality.

Lions Club To Hear Peggy Minear At Wednesday Meet

Peggy Minear, MHS senior, will entertain the Midland Lion's Club with organ music at a luncheon on Wednesday, May 17.

This girl is quite a musician, being able to play an accordion, an oboe, piano, and organ. She started with the accordion but after about a year of lessons she gave it up. "It was too heavy so I traded it in on piano lessons," said Peggy. She took piano lessons for "about five years" and was honored by playing a piano solo at her eighth grade graduation, in 1947.

Peggy took interest in the organ when she got a small Hammond in November. She was far enough advanced to play Christmas music for a garden party in December and she has played at the Midland Country Club twice during her instructor's intermission. She also played for another party recently. Onan Vaudell is her instructor.

She now has a newer and larger Hammond than the one she had, for the musical minded, this new organ is a concert model but she finds it just as easy to play. She also says, "Organ is so much easier to play than piano."

In her appearance Wednesday, she will play popular music. She says she prefers to play popular songs on the organ and saves classical and semi-classical for the piano.

Ceiling Unlimited Shown To Seniors

The film "Ceiling Unlimited" sponsored by the Army Air Force, was shown to the MHS seniors Monday, May 8, during activity period. Sergeants Wheelless of the AAF and Burris of the Woman's Army Corps, were on hand to explain the advantages of an army career.

"The purpose of the army is to defend our home in time of need," said Wheelless.

AAUW To Give Annual Scholarship; $100 For Aid With College Costs

Applicants for the American Association of University Women scholarship will be judged after Friday, May 19, according to Mrs. Elsie Magee, chairman of the scholarship committee, and MHS math instructor.

The scholarship of $100—an annual gift to a graduating senior girl—is the AAUW's method of furthering the education of a worthy applicant. The money received may be used in any way desired for college expenses.

The scholarship, as provided by the AAUW, has a twofold purpose—to promote the development of leadership and foster the sense of responsibility on the part of the American woman.

The applicants in competition for the award are rated on scholastic ability, leadership, character, and service, as shown in high school life. Consideration is also given for the ambition and future plans of the applicant.

Those who wish to apply and have not done so at this time are urged to see Mrs. Magee promptly. Winner of the scholarship will be announced Class Day, as in the past. Previous winners of the scholarship are Patsy Carroll, 1949; Betty Joyce Gerald, 1948; and Donna Mae Kelly, 1947.

Thanks go to Vostak's Jewelry Company, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Vostak sent the senior boys and girls letters congratulating them upon their graduation. As a gift they have given each girl a sterling silver teaspoon in her favorite pattern and the boys a silver money clip.

Recordings of the songs sung by the Midland High School A Cappella and Glee Club in the First Annual Music Festival were played for those groups during first and second period Monday.

This is a reminder to the graduating seniors who plan to attend college next Fall—leave word in the office as to where you want your transcripts sent.

Morning Watch is still going strong. Every day at 8:30 a.m. until 8:45 a.m. students—those who want to meet in the Visual Education room for a morning devotional. Everyone is invited to attend. Morning Watch is non-denominational.

As seen around MHS!!! Richard Patton, wearing a full cut blue rain coat with matching hood and cape, pants legs rolled up, and pink lip-stick on, trying to sell tickets to the Senior play. What some people won't do! But he sold plenty anyway. Bill Crittles, at his locker door and then opening it, only to have his books topple out on him.

Marilyn Wheelless is the 1950 winner of the Arion Award for band work. The announcement followed a vote taken of the band members and faculty.

The award is given on a basis of citizenship, scholarship, leadership, and service over and above that required. This is the second annual Arion Award to be given. Last year, W. L. Thompson received the honor.

The award is well established throughout the United States as a ranking honor, and many colleges and universities give scholarships to the winners.

Senior Hold Two Class Meetings

Two short class meetings were held by the Senior Class this week, on Tuesday, May 9 and Thursday, May 11. These meetings were held for the purpose of deciding on transportation and food for the senior trip to be held May 19. Other committee reports were given. Scarlett and silver were selected as the class colors. Obie Stalcup, class president, reminded students of the activities of the next few weeks.

Boyle Tells How To Stop The Bookie

NEW YORK—(AP)—There is a way to break up the nationwide gambling ring.

The American housewife can do it. She can succeed where the cops and politicians seem to have failed.

And she can make a mint of pin money for herself in the process.

How? Well, my theory is simple. It is based on taking the gambling out of gambling. You can't beat the horses, girls, but there is a possible way to beat the bookies.

And if you can beat the bookies you can break up organized illegal gambling.

A suburban housewife here has shown the way to do it. Under the law you can sue to recover money paid to settle gambling debts. And that's just what Mrs. Hannah S. Kartiganer did. She sued Jules H. Bender for $11,195 she claimed her husband lost to him in horse race bets three years ago.

And a gentlemanly decision by the court and one woman returned a verdict in her favor.

Roving Reporter

Your roving reporter has been presented many suggestions for this column. One of the questions offered was "What pet peeve do you have as far as dating is concerned?" With this as a guide, the students of MHS can perhaps take heed.

Martha Scharbauer — "Make me wince on the outside of the street."

Sue Johnson — "I don't like a boy to be sarcastic, and not to be polite."

Peggy Minear — "To have a boy tell you you're going out somewhere and get all dressed up, and then he calls and says, 'Let's go on a picnic.'"

John Klingler — "Girls that say 'the heck.'"

Wayne Richardson — "When girls make catty remarks about other girls."

Frances Tredaway — "Acting condescending."

Fay Montgomery — "Being taken for granted."

Wanda Wise — "When they wait until the last minute to call for a date."

The U. S. will chip in with military and economic aid in France's fight against Communist-led rebels in the Viet Nam area of Indochina. That was Secretary Acheson's response to French Foreign Minister Schuman's SOS at a meeting in Paris. Map shows where France has been fighting an all-out shooting war since 1946. Communist-trained Ho Chi Minh's 70,000-man army, pitted against 150,000 French regulars plus 50,000 native troops already has cost France some 10,000 soldiers. In return for U. S. help in footing the $500,000,000-a-year bill, France promises independence for Viet Nam and other Indochinese states.

This is a tale of two small boys who were caught in the treacherous web of fate, but who, with the help of police and fire rescue squads, found freedom. Episode 1: Michael Selin, three, of Chicago, peered through the uprights of the balcony railing of his parents' apartment so intently he suddenly found his head sticking through the bars. Above, he contemplates the scene of his downfall, after firemen with crowbars had "sprung" him. Episode 2: While playing cowboy, Jimmy Anderson, seven, of Long Beach, Calif., was caught by his boots in a trash barrel. Jimmy is seen being comforted by his mother while they await the arrival of police and firemen. He suffered slightly skinned knees.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round
By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Exiled farmers plot anti-communist strategy; Baltimore judge shocks game experts; House Republicans resent "poor leadership."

WASHINGTON—A priest with sad eyes stood on a stage in the National Press Building and intoned: "Lord, help Thy wandering children to defend and finally redeem our lost freedom."

Before him stood a conglomeration of men from many distant countries—all exiles. Their faces vaguely were familiar, like photographs in an old newspaper. For these were the delegates to the International Peasant Union Congress and included such leaders as Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, who once made headlines as prime minister of Poland; Imr Kovacs, secretary general of the once powerful Hungarian Peasant Party; and G. M. Dimitrov, a stormy politician of Bulgaria.

After World War I when this writer spent two years in the Balkans, these peasant leaders were considered socialists and radicals by the then rulers of Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia. Later, they came to head the governments of their countries as left-of-center parties somewhat similar to the British Labor Government of today.

But when Moscow took over, the first thing the Russian commissars did was to line the key members of the Peasant Party up against the wall and shoot them. Moscow recognized the agrarians, like British socialism, to be the greatest threat to successful communism.

So, last week in Washington, about 100 of the exiles who managed to escape staged the International Peasant Union Congress, trying to form the skeleton of a "Green Internationale" which someday may overthrow communism in Eastern Europe.

They report that in Hungary less than one per cent of the farmers have joined the Communist collectives; that a new Buchenwald torture camp is located on an island in the Danube; that the independent peasant of the Balkans is the chief enemy of communism.

Chief foe of these peasant leaders is to get U. S. backing for internal revolts.

Note—American hero of these exiled leaders is Mark Edridge, publisher of the Louisville Courier-Journal, who, while studying these Balkan countries for the State Department, was one of the first to see the importance of encouraging peasant independence.

Duck-Loving Jurist

It didn't get into the papers, but a U. S. district judge, William C. Coleman of Baltimore, served virtual notice on a group of duck-hunters recently that they were free to violate federal game laws as far as he was concerned.

Judge Coleman, who has taken an oath to uphold the laws of the United States, announced that he had more than 30 defendants before his court, charged with baiting duck-birds and that he had agreed with the U. S. Attorney's office that they should not be prosecuted.

"We have a miniature reproduction of what we had in prohibition—an unenforceable law," Judge Coleman told Dr. Clarence Cottam, assistant chief of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. "I frankly approve of not prosecuting violators of anti-baiting regulations."

"Ninety-five per cent of the hunting in Maryland is done over baiting," Judge Coleman continued. Then turning directly to Dr. Cottam, he asked: "And what are you going to do about it?"

The meeting before which he spoke was a gathering of sportsmen and wildlife authorities gathered at Annapolis from Maine to Maryland. New England game experts were shocked at the judge's vituperative statements. They also were surprised at the attitude of Eastern shore hunters who wanted to keep the duck season open most of the winter.

Judge Coleman was their most vigorous spokesman. He not only wanted the waterfowl season lengthened, but the daily bag increased, and shooting permitted at sundown. Judge Coleman wanted this unrestricted hunting, regardless of Dr. Cottam's explanation that the supply of ducks was not unlimited, that ducks were settling down for feeding at sundown and were mating in January—a period when the judge advocated hunting.

After the stormy session, Dr. Cottam remarked: "This is the ninth meeting of the sportsmen I have had in various parts of the country. All of them have realized that if we have unlimited shooting there soon won't be any ducks left. But this meeting is the most selfish I ever attended."

Republican Spat

Crumbling of Republican congressmen against their "lackluster" leadership, has buzzed backstage for some time. But it finally erupted into the open at an uproarious dinner party on Capitol Hill.

The meeting started as a friendly pep session for the coming election campaign. However, Rep. A. L.

"Doc" Miller of Nebraska injected some unexpected pep by an argument with ex-Speaker J. Martin, the GOP leader, over a charge that Martin wasn't conferring enough with other Republicans.

Martin and House GOP Whip J. A. Rendell of Illinois were questioned in a friendly way at first. The Miller suddenly burst out: "I can tell you what the trouble is—we have poor leadership. If fellows conferred more with the rest of us the party would be a lot better off."

The ex-speaker angrily shot back that he couldn't hold as many conferences with House Republicans as he would like to, but that always kept in touch with the by letters when meetings were possible.

"I'm tired of hearing about letters, and about policy meetings which we take no part and about statements you issue that do not reflect our views," snapped the Nebraska congressman.

"It all adds up to poor leadership," he repeated.

"Well, now, if you want to be tough—" bristled Martin.

By this time both men were fellows feet glaring at each other. "That's exactly what I meant," shouted Miller.

Before more nasty words could be spoken, Rep. James Dooliver of Port Dodge, Iowa, moved to adjourn the proceedings.

Communist Conquest Of Hainan Island Adds To Problems

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

SAIGON, INDOCHINA —(AP)— In Hainan Island the Chinese Communists have acquired one of the potentially richest regions in east Asia but one which for the present will only add to their severe economic problems. The Japanese made a comprehensive survey of the big South China island while they were occupying it during the war. They found that its mineral wealth may rival that of Manchuria and Sinkiang, China's far western province. Hainan has high-grade deposits of iron, tin, copper, manganese, lead, silver, coal, graphite, and antimony and tungsten. These have hardly been touched. Hainan also can produce rubber, pineapple, sugar cane, quinine, coffee and coconuts.

With industrial development, Hainan could become one of the few Asiatic regions capable of supporting a larger population. Leaders on Hainan say the 2,500,000 population could be tripled without straining the island's resources. But now Hainan has to buy about two-thirds of its food elsewhere. And the Communist mainland has famine instead of surplus.

Besides the immediate problem of feeding the population, the Chinese Communists inherit an enormous job of rehabilitation. After the war the Chinese Nationalist officials almost wrecked the industrial foundation of Hainan built by the Japanese. Their remarkable record of inefficiency, corruption and sheer vandalism ended only a year ago when Gov. Chen Shi-tang took over. Only Dozen Factories

On a visit to Hainan in January, I found only about 12 factories still operating of 170 left intact by the Japanese. Port installations at Hoibow, the capital, and the excellent harbor and naval base of Yulin were neglected. The Japanese had built a new railway. The Nationalists had sold the rails for scrap.

Governor Chen had only begun to repair the damage done by his predecessors when the Communist invasion began. He had restored some of the iron mines. There is little prospect the Communists can begin to exploit Hainan's resources soon. Most of their limited capital is earmarked for north China and Manchuria. The Communists also may hesitate to risk capital on the island because it would be too exposed should a general war come to the Orient.

Game Wardens Count Chickens As They Are Hatched

AUSTIN—(AP)—Game Commission wardens are counting their chickens as they hatch in the Panhandle prairie chickens, that is. They also are counting mama and papa prairie chickens, deer, turkey, quail, mourning dove, and fish. And they are noting where this wildlife was in 28 counties.

This inventory by 12 wardens and 10 biologists will be the basis of hunting and fishing regulations to be adopted by the commission in a special session to let the commission experiment in wildlife conservation.

The law is based on an emergency clause declaring that previous laws did not adequately protect wildlife in the 28 counties from depletion and waste.

Now the commission will have to declare open or closed seasons as it deems necessary. The warden is required to provide an open season whenever its investigations show there is danger of waste of any species of fresh water fish, game bird, game animal, or fur-bearing animal.

Shorten Season
One of the first effects will be to shorten the deer and turkey season in the Panhandle.

"I think the deer and turkey season should not be near as long as it is in other sections," said Howard Dodgen, executive secretary. The law gives the commission power to declare open season on deer, subject to approval of the warden. When we know there's going to be plenty of them, then we can open the season."

Dodgen likes the broad regulatory authority given the commission because he thinks his office can show landowners and sportsmen how to provide better hunting over the ears through a scientific approach. "You take a prairie chicken up here," he said. "You don't know when you'll get a good crop. It's variable from year to year. But we can count them, keep track of them. When we know there's going to be plenty of them, then we can open the season."

Dodgen does not anticipate an open season on prairie chickens this year but says it's too early to say definitely.

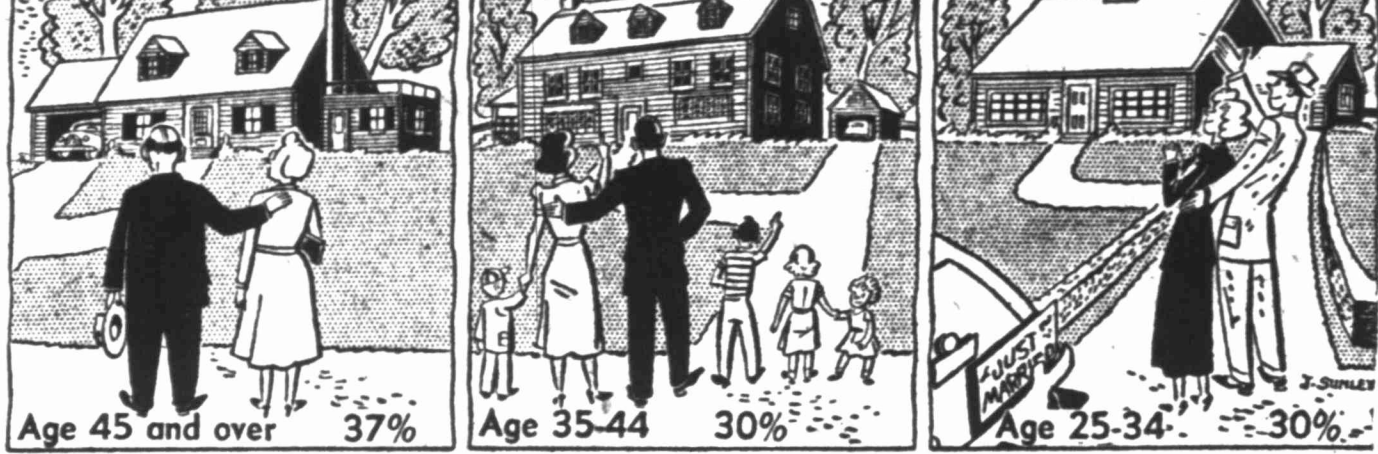

He gets a laugh out of one section of the law.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON—

Pickett Sees Weak Spot In U. S. Water Program

WASHINGTON—(AP)—There's a weak spot in the federal program for harnessing the nation's water resources, says Rep. Tom Pickett of Palestine.

He says there is a gap between the soil erosion program of the Agriculture Department and the flood control and navigation program directed by the Army Engineers.

As Texas' sole member of the House Public Works Committee, which handles legislation dealing with flood control and rivers and harbors projects, Pickett has made a study of just how the improvements authorized by this committee tie in with the soil erosion program.

"There now is the need for installation of such necessary work projects as will effectively close the gap between these two existing programs," he says.

He has introduced a bill, HR 8188, which authorizes the Department of Agriculture to give consideration of and treatment to this so-called "no-man's land" between the uplands and where the Engineers' program ends on the main-stem of the rivers.

Work authorized under the Pickett measure would include construction of barrages, or dike-like affairs along gullies to hold back flood waters. It would include digging channels to divert rushing waters and planting special types of vegetation to check runoff, thus helping prevent erosion.

Such improvements should not be too expensive, says Pickett, and they should bring immediate results in preventing damage to highways, railroads and public utilities. And he believes they also would reduce annual crop losses from overflowing bottomlands.

The Brannan Plan is back in the news with President Truman stumping for it on his cross-country tour.

In the last few months one Texan has continuously plugged it in his weekly newsletter.

"It is my belief that we need the changes outlined a year ago by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan," said Rep. Wright Patman of Texas in one of his recent letters. Describing the present farm program as "outmoded," he went on: "Federal funds should not be used

Housewives Choose Green As Favorite Color For Bathroom

NEW YORK—Green will be the predominant color in tomorrow's bathrooms if Mrs. America has her way, according to a recent survey of housewives' color preferences.

About 21 per cent of homemakers canvassed in a nationwide poll conducted by Howard Ketcham, color and design engineer, chose green over all other colors suitable for bathroom use. Next most popular were white and blue-green. About 18 per cent of those questioned selected white and 17 per cent picked blue-green.

With bathroom fixtures and quality floor and wall surfacings such as clay tile now available in hundreds of colors, the housewife can have a bathroom in any color she wants. Homemakers in four of the nation's eight geographic sub-divisions want green, the poll disclosed.

Green was the top choice in New England, the Middle West, the Southeast, and the Mississippi Valley. In the Middle West and Northwest, white was most popular. Southwestern women picked blue and Pacific Coast residents chose peach.

"Color in the bathroom is just as important as in any room," Ketcham pointed out in commenting on the survey. "The mid-century bathroom, with its streamlined fixtures, waterproof clay tile walls and floors, and scientific space allotment, should help every member of the family to a good start each morning. But when it features depressing colors, combinations that clash, or shades that are unpopular with the majority of the family, it contributes nothing to a family's good morning."

Automatic Heating In Two-Thirds Of Homes Built Today

Two out of every three new homes being built this year contain automatically controlled heating systems, according to Tom McDonald, vice president of Minneapolis-based Regulator Company, who has completed a study of national housing trends.

McDonald said the movement toward automatic heat had been rapid during the last few years. Prior to the war, only about one-third of the nation's houses had thermostat controls, he pointed out.

Virtually all houses built for the speculative market today have at least one thermostat and some have three as a means of providing different temperatures in various sections of the home, he said.

Light, Fish And Cancer Are Study Subjects

NEW YORK—(AP)—On Bimini, a small tropical island in the Bahamas group, 60 miles east of Miami, American Museum of Natural History researchers are investigating in the relationship of light and hormones to growth and cancer.

The scientists divide their time between the museum's laboratories in New York and the Lerner Marine Laboratory, a museum field station, on Bimini. Their project is supported by research grants from the American Cancer Society.

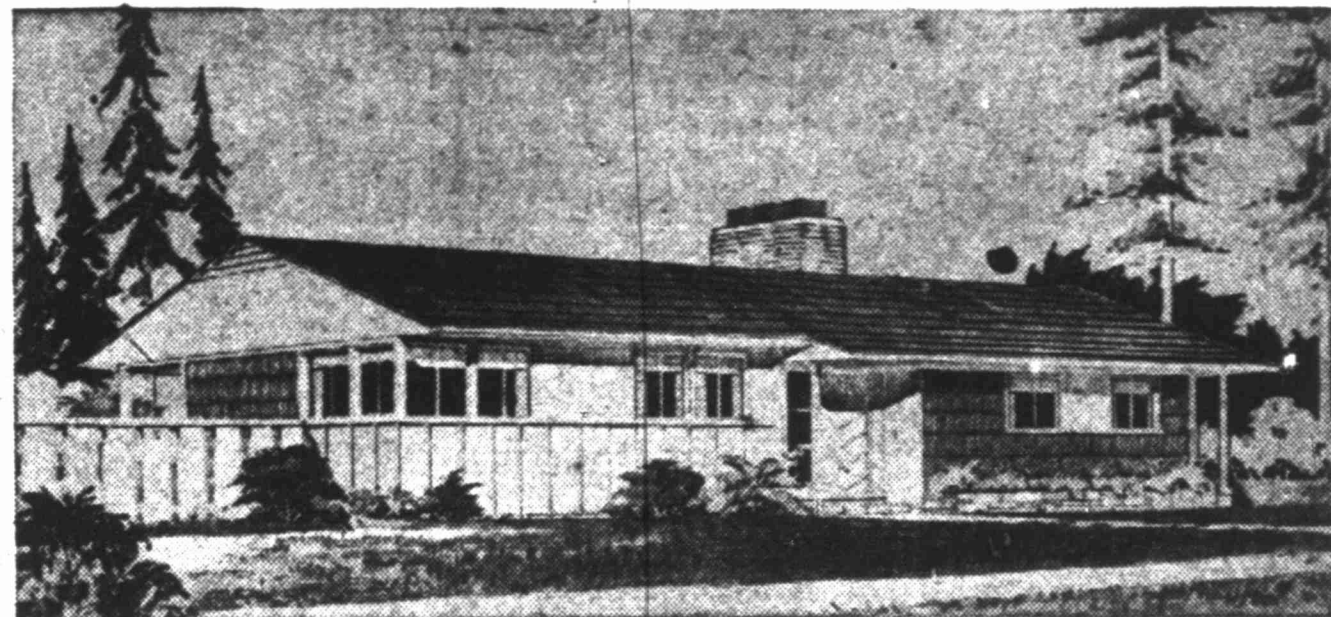

It has been found that fish kept in darkness develop abnormal growths, including several types of cancer. The light factor apparently reduces activity of hormone-secreting glands of the fish. The hormone ACTH is being injected into the cancerous fish and its effects on the tumors are being studied.

Reason Manganese Aids Plants Is Told

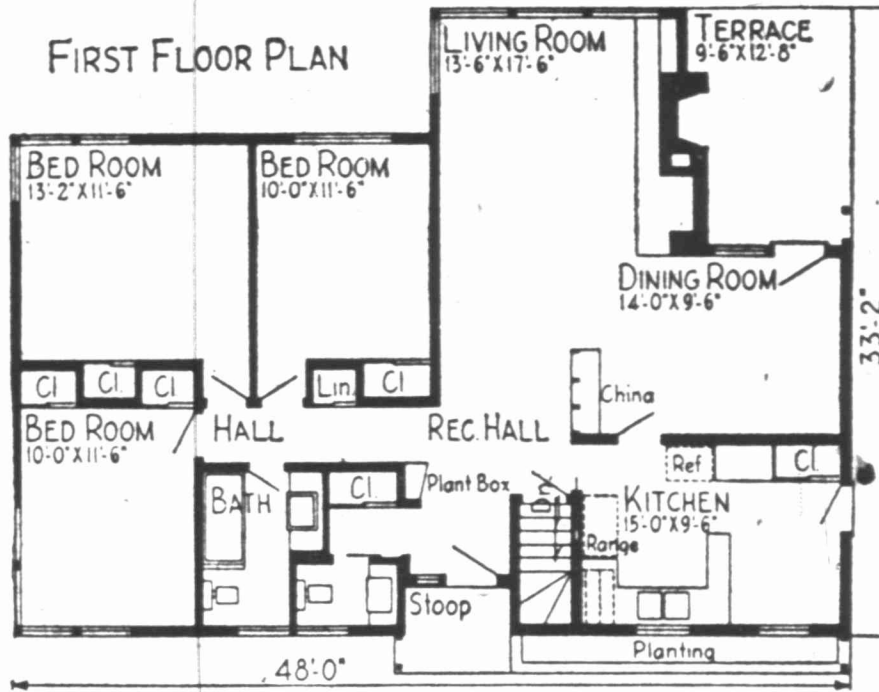

BERKELEY, CALIF.—(AP)—For some time it has been known that plants will not grow unless there is manganese in the soil they feed from. This was discovered by plant nutritionists P. K. Stumpf and C. G. Delwiche of the University of California College of Agriculture.

Now, working with Graduate Students W. D. Loomis and C. Michaelson, they have found out why manganese enables a plant to grow. They discovered a new enzyme in plants that enables them to utilize glutamic acid, one of the building units of protein. Without manganese, this enzyme doesn't work and the plant stops growing. No other metallic element is known to have this effect, and studies are continuing in the hope of increasing crop yields.

House Chosen For 'Livable Features'

Because of its large number of "livable features," this house has been selected as an attractive example of the modern ranch style design. Entrance to a generous powder room is accessible from the reception hall. It also is handy to the kitchen. Economy is considered by the fact the fixtures back up to the bathroom wall. A sliding cupboard door closes the opening between powder room and adjoining hall. The lavatory for the powder room and bath is a built-in type with cupboards below. A china cabinet and plant shelf divide dining room and reception area. Many other attractive features add to the livability of the house. The dwelling has a total living area of 1,312 square feet and a volume of 18,368 cubic feet.

Right Way To Mow Family Lawn Cited

MARYSVILLE, OHIO — O. M. Scott and Sons Company offer these suggestions for the home owner who'll be mowing his own grass during the months ahead:

1. During cooler periods set the mower to cut the grass at 1 to 1 1/2 inches.
2. When the temperature nears 80 degrees, adjust the mower to cut at 1 1/2 to 2 inches. The longer grass reduces evaporation of moisture, holds down soil temperature and protects the stalks and root systems from blistering sun rays.
3. If a catcher is not used mow the lawn counter-clockwise. Mowers throw clippings to the left into the path of the "next time around." Chopped finer by the second going over the clippings fall out of sight among the masts.
4. If the grass is long when mowed, rake off the heavy mat of clippings to prevent smothering of grass.
5. Mow frequently enough to prevent untidiness and to forestall "topping" of extra tall grass which will smother the lawn.

Girl Brushes Teeth At Restaurant Table

WELLINGTON, NEW ZEALAND—(AP)—Diners at a Wellington restaurant saw a pretty girl put a toothbrush beside her plate. The girl ate her meal. Then she vigorously brushed her teeth and emptied the water into her teacup. Her girl friend looked embarrassed, smiled, but didn't say anything. The girls were two of 170 dental trainees who are carrying through an experiment. Half will brush their teeth after all food and drink, except water, for a whole year.

The other 85 will brush their teeth only twice a week—Thursdays and Saturdays.

Postal Trouble

CHICAGO—(AP)—The Grandmothers Club announced it would award prizes for the best miniature hats. Tiny bonnets soon began to come in from many parts of the land. Mrs. Collette Collins, chairman of the contest, received 75 of them in one day. Her mail carrier seemed perturbed and curious.

"So I smiled and told him about the contest," she said, adding: "He didn't smile back."

South Plains Farmer Shows Off New Irrigation System

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff
"It's just something I dreamed up," said Leslie C. Crews of New Deal, Texas.

Pima Cotton Is Not Suited For Plains, Tech Professor Says

LUBBOCK (AP)—A Texas Tech expert says Pima cotton would be impractical for the South Plains or any section where an early freeze might occur. Pima had its original roots in Egypt. It has aroused new interest because it may be grown without regard for government quotas. It is the first strain developed from planting the Egyptian variety, Sakellaridis, in this country. Its staple length runs from 17/16 inches to 15/8 inches.

It takes a longer growing period, but also sells for a premium on the cotton market. Dr. Lytle Hessler and Dr. A. W. Young of Texas Tech say Hessler is head of the cotton technology department. Young heads the plant industry department.

In far West Texas the Pecos section has planted 30,000 acres of Pima. Its Pima Cotton Committee is determined to sell the yields on a competitive basis with Egyptian strains.

Hessler says Pima has been bringing around 20 cents a pound more than other varieties. Its high grade lint is sought by eastern mills which produce laces and woven goods. Much of the same sort of staple is now imported, with a quota of 127,000 bales for this year.

Best For Dry Area
A small supply of long-staple cotton has come from West Texas, Arizona and New Mexico. A hot, dry area with irrigation facilities is best suited for the crop, says Hessler.

Pecos which isn't in the South Plains, is hopeful it can turn out a product equal or superior to Egyptian strains and convince mills and merchants of it. Shorter staple varieties are mass grown on the South Plains. Dr. Young says Pima would require a longer growing period and also must be hand picked. Because of the long growing an early freeze is a threat.

"In the South Plains there are more than 20 frost-free days, but the longer growing season and a lot of luck will be required before long staple cotton can be a paying crop," says Young.

He says there is a shortage of long-staple seed and cites a quotation of $60 a ton by one firm.

Also, says Young, Pima requires a changed ginning procedure which should be taken into account when figuring the net premium of Pima over short staple varieties.

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —
By DALMON McNAIR

Rains which fell in the Midland area Wednesday and Thursday appeared to be just what the farmer ordered. The fall in and around Midland was light compared to several other sections, but apparently enough fell in the farm areas to insure sufficient moisture for spring planting of cotton and grains.

Many farmers took advantage of earlier rains to plant grains, but the majority were waiting for this one before planting their cotton. District Six county agents, who were here Wednesday, Thursday and Friday for a meeting, hailed the rains as just the thing to start the 1950 crops on their way. Most of them represented areas which are lagging behind in rainfall and Wednesday night's fall was acclaimed as enough to get started on.

The Floyd ranch, located about 18 miles southeast of Midland, reported about four and one-half inches Wednesday night. A draw between Midland and Garden City was running water early Thursday. In the southwestern part of the county the recorded rainfall was not as heavy as other areas.

Rodeos are taking the sporting limelight in West Texas. Odessa completed its World Championship affair Saturday night and the dates for the Midland show are just around the corner. Five full nights of entertainment in one of the best sports in the southwest are scheduled here, beginning May 31.

A rodeo will be staged at Winters June 22-24, and several other ones are being scheduled for the near future in the West Texas area. Ranches of 24 West Texas Hereford breeders are scheduled to be visited on a two-day West Texas Hereford tour which begins Sunday, June 18. Participants making the tour will begin in Stephenville and will cover herds in that area Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Standing herds will be visited. Among them are Earl Guitler's Grisom Hereford Ranch and the W. J. Fulwiler Hereford Ranch, both at Abilene; Roy Largent and Sons Ranch, at Merkel; Walter Boehne, Paul Turner and Dr. T. D. Young, of Roscoe, and Tom Flack, John Perry, Dr. A. J. Wimberly, and Dr. H. W. McIntyre, of Sweetwater.

Dinners commemorating Soil Conservation District Week will be held Tuesday in several Texas cities. Approximately 5,000 farmers and businessmen are expected to attend dinners in more than 20 Texas cities.

The Soil Conservation District Week was designated by Gov. Allan Shivers in an official proclamation as May 15-21. Activities scheduled for the week's observance also include demonstration tours to ranches of cooperators, exhibits of grasses and soil conservation plans in store windows, and talks before schools and civic groups. Programs at the dinners will be designed to give both the farmer and business man a chance to talk about the work that the soil conservation districts are doing, and tell the need of conservation farming, according to Waters S. Davis, Jr., president of the Texas Association of Soil Conservation District Supervisors.

A recently completed survey shows the screw-worm fly survived last winter in a much larger area than ever before. This situation creates a threat to the livestock industry of Texas.

The survey, made by entomologists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, at Kerrville, shows that in Texas the area where the fly was found to have survived the winter extends at least 300 miles farther north, 150 miles farther northeast and 200 miles farther northwest. Flies were found in 134 Texas counties, three of which border Oklahoma just east of the Texas Panhandle. Records show that during previous winters, the screw-worm fly survived in less than 30 counties. This year they were found in three southwestern New Mexico counties, nine southern Arizona counties and three counties in southern California.

A highlight of the program for the annual State 4-H Club Round Up and Extension Service Conference to be held at Texas A&M College June 12-16, will be grading demonstrations involving slaughter steers, calves and hogs.

The slaughter cattle and calves will be graded at 4 p.m. on June 12 at the new beef cattle center. Tom Bruce, correlation grading specialist of the Production and Marketing Administration's Marketing and Grading Division, USDA, will do the official grading. He will use the demonstration at least two animals of each market grade. One animal in each grade will be slaughtered immediately following the demonstration.

The carcasses, according to Smith, will be graded by Fred Beard, head of the Marketing and Grading Division, at another demonstration on June 14, which is to be held in the lecture room of the Animal Industry Building on the A&M campus.

Can Texas farm producers expect as much for their 1950 grain crops as they received in 1949? C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist of Texas A&M College, says most of the U. S. Department of Agriculture crystal gazers don't think so.

More corn and grain sorghums are being planted this year. Bates says the seed supplies of the better adapted varieties have been good and are being used. With average weather conditions and increased use of fertilizers, grain production could exceed the big crop of 1949.

Bates believes plans should be made for the most profitable use of the feed grains that will be produced. Market outlets for cash grains is not bright. Storage supplies are heavy.

Favorable prices are in prospect for hogs, beef cattle and lambs, especially the earlier finished animals, says Bates. But most farmers will need additional equipment such as fences, water facilities, barns, feeding equipment and perhaps more storage space before a feeding program can be started. There also is the problem of securing quality feeder animals.

A nine-point program to help farmers keep their cattle thriving on pasture this season has been issued by the American Foundation for Animal Health. The Foundation's checklist for farmers stressed these points:

Don't let animals gorge themselves on lush, young pastures. Guard against bloat and grass tetany by making animals change to green feed gradually.

Inspect the herd once a week for evidence of pink-eye. Remove any animals with eye troubles to a darkened stall, and get an immediate diagnosis of the trouble.

In blackleg areas, have all calves vaccinated against the disease.

Rainmakers Are Busy In Texas Area

WACO (AP)—The rainmakers are busy in Central Texas. But don't start reaching for your umbrella. The rainmakers operate only on a few square feet. And there are no secrets to their business. They simply pump the water up in the air and let it fall.

The rain experts are scientists who are attempting to find out what kinds of cover crops best allow rains to soak into the ground and prevent erosion.

Their latest test area on the Blackland Experimental Watershed near Riesel.

The Waco Tribune-Herald quotes Ralph Baird, superintendent of the station at Riesel, as saying results of the experiments may be of great help to Central Texas and Blackland farmers.

The equipment used is a tower mounted on a truck which can be taken into fields to make direct tests under field conditions.

Water is sprinkled from the top, drips through a screen which controls the size of the drops and falls on the plot being tested.

Devices Catch Soil
Devices on the ground catch the soil splashed by the falling water and catch the water which runs off the plot.

Baird explains: "By measuring the soil and water caught from each plot the rate of soil detachment and water intake can be calculated for each field condition."

Similar experiments have been made on range lands at the Amarillo Soil Conservation Experiment Station and on a 138-acre plot at Riesel.

For instance, on one plot of excellent range, where there were 4,397 pounds of forage a net 1,318 pounds of litter per acre, the soil splashed amounted to only 1,100 pounds per acre. The soil took water at the rate of 9.36 inches per hour.

On the same kind of soil but with a poor range cover of 252 pounds of forage and 442 pounds of litter per acre, the soil dislodged by the falling water amounted to 66,816 pounds per acre. The soil could soak up only 0.86 inch per hour, meaning there was a heavy eroding runoff.

The experiments now under way at Riesel will be expanded to other cultivated land to determine effects of various previous soil conservation practices.

lot of work for the meeting we held here."

Lynch was a member of a 4-H team which attended a three-day party of District Six county agents here last week. Other state leaders here Irma Wines and Mildred Harris, of the 4-H staff; J. D. Pruett, vice director of the extension service; Joe Matthews, administrative assistant; Gladys Martin, acting vice director for women and state home demonstration agent; Bill Allen, head of the rural housing program; G. W. Barnes, District Six agent; A. L. Smith, beef cattle specialist; and Mrs. Eloise Johnson, family life specialist.

The meeting here was the thirteenth held this year in Texas districts. The fourteenth meeting, which will be the last, will be held soon in San Angelo. District Six comprises a wide area covering territory between Stanton and El Paso.

Hawley Van Court, Crane County rancher, was a Midland visitor one day last week.

Jess Burner of Pecos loaded out 12 carloads of yearling and two-year-old steers there last week. The steers were sent to Spears, Mont., for Spring and Summer pasturing.

Buck Jackson, prominent Pecos rancher and rodeo enthusiast, has purchased 100 calves from John Dunagan of Monahans. He also sold 164 head of calves to Grover Neely of Fabens. Jackson last week delivered 300 black calves to Huling Means of Silver City, N. M.

Floyd Lynch, state 4-H club leader from the Texas A&M College extension service, here for a three-day county agents meeting, had lots of praise for Charlie Green and Pauline McWilliams, Midland county agents. "They are hard workers," he said, "and they put in a

Martin Dies Is Glad Texans Awakening to Communist Peril

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff

"A thing that makes me happy," said Martin Dies, "is that Texas is fast awakening to the terrible menace of communism."
Dies, former head of the Un-American Activities Committee of the U. S. House of Representatives, now practices law at Lufkin. He is in his pine-paneled office and says:

"Ten years ago when I was offering proof of Communist activities in the United States, my fellow Texans refused to take me seriously. Texas has such a free and independent spirit—I guess the threat of communism seemed unreal down here."

"I went through such a long period of unpopularity in my home state. Even my friends seemed to believe the propaganda put out against me by the leftwingers—and they apologized for me."

"My unpopularity reached its climax at the State Democratic Convention in Dallas in 1944. I got up to make a speech and I was voted down."

Draws Big Crowds
"I drew a crowd of 75,000 at Baltimore and 80,000 at Los Angeles, but when I hit Texas just a handful would turn out to hear me."
"I retired from Congress in 1945. In 1946 there hadn't been much change in the attitude of Texans toward me. But in 1947, as the Russian threat became more and more plain, the attitude of the Texans toward me warmed considerably."

"The first year I retired from Congress, I didn't get more than 10 invitations to speak. Now I average 10 invitations a week."
Dies, a 48-year-old, 210-pounder, 6 feet three inches tall, said: "I learned in Congress that a Democrat in the South can't buck his own party and I'd like to tell you about the turning point in my career—a decision I made that put me in bed with the Democratic Administration."

Talks With FDR
"It was in June, 1938, when I was pressing for a full investigation of communism in the CIO. President Roosevelt called me and the late Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas to the White House for an interview."

"President Roosevelt greeted me warmly and told Mr. Sheppard that I had a bright future in politics—that I could go a long way if I would 'play ball.'"

"What do you mean by play ball, Mr. President," I asked.
"I mean you can't go ahead with the planned investigation of the CIO," Mr. Roosevelt said. "We depend on the CIO to carry doubtful votes. John L. Lewis is very disturbed about your plans."

"I told Mr. Roosevelt that I had to go ahead with the investigation that my conscience and self-respect would not allow me to do otherwise."

"If you do, you can kiss your political future goodbye," Mr. Roosevelt said.

"I proceeded with the investigation—and from 1938 to 1945 the administration turned its full blast against me. But I have never regretted my decision."

Man Sells Business To Stump Country Preaching Christ

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—Daniel A. Marra had a half million dollars, a successful business and an idea. The idea was that only by spreading the gospel of Jesus Christ could he become truly happy—and help others to achieve happiness at the same time.

Marra sold his business, the National Torch Tip Company, a year ago and now he plans to stump the country preaching Christ to anyone willing to listen.

He already has rented Memorial Hall in Pittsburgh for a meeting May 28. From Pittsburgh, he will go on to other cities, but there will be no collections at his gatherings.

"As long as I provide a good home, clothing and education for my five children," he said, "I won't worry about the money. I'll spend what I need for this work."

His idea was not recently acquired, Marra said. As a young man of 20—he's 50 now—he memorized the four books of the gospel.

"I knew then," he said, "that I wanted to spend my life reviewing the words of Christ, but realized that I needed more maturity. That's why I worked so conscientiously—to gain that maturity and the money I'd need to do what I'd planned."

Church Has Only Four Pastors In 106 Years

LOUISVILLE, KY.—(AP)—Green Street Baptist Church and its negro congregation is 106 years old, and it has had only four pastors that time.

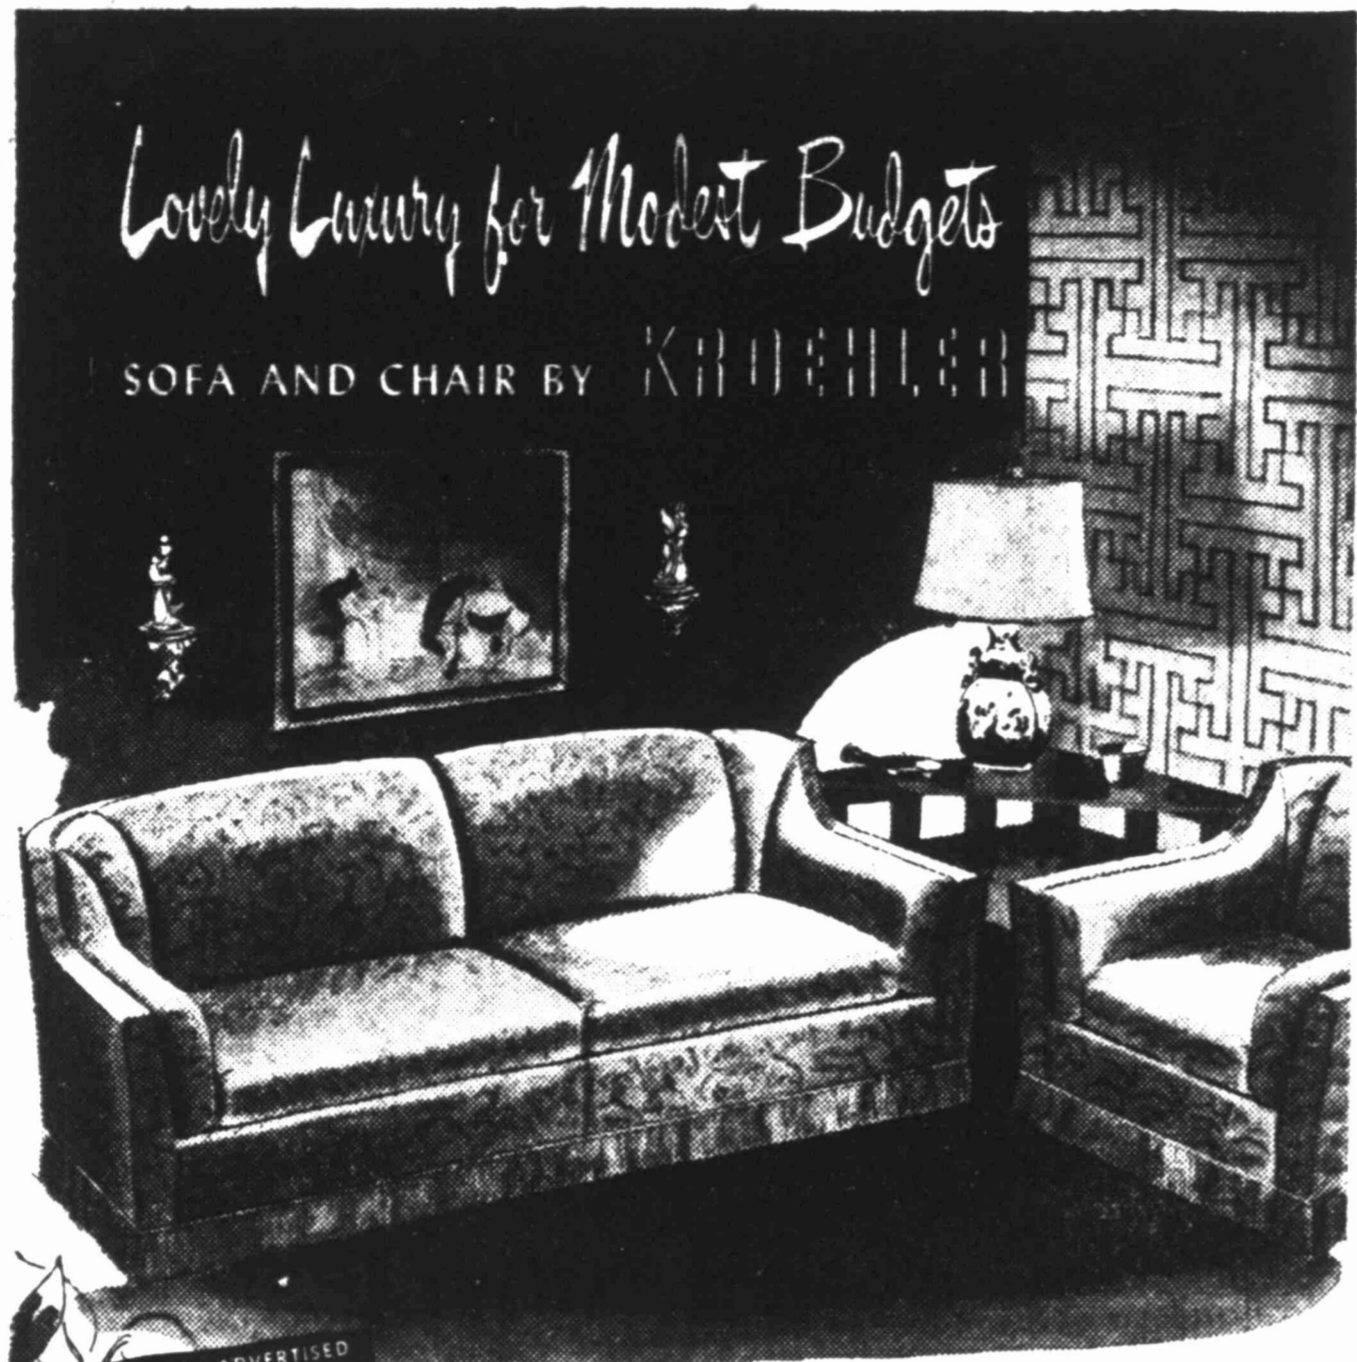

Founded in 1844 by a group of 29 slaves, the church now has an active membership of 500. In contrast to its stately pillared temple of today, Green Street Church had its humble beginning in a livery stable which the members by the work of their own hands converted into a suitable house of worship. The founders could neither read nor write, so an interested white friend served as secretary. The records in his clear script are still legible.

First of the church's four pastors was the Rev. George Wells, who served through six of the congregation's formative years, dying in 1890. The second minister, the Rev. Richard Sneathen, served 20 years, seeing his people emerge from slavery. The Rev. Daniel Abraham Padden guided the flock for 39 years. And a similar period was passed by the service of the Rev. Henry Wise Jones, who has just retired.

MORE TOLL ROADS

CHICAGO—(AP)—Pay-as-you-drive highway systems are growing. The American Public Works Association reports almost 300 miles of toll roads now are in use in Connecticut, Maine, New York and Pennsylvania. An additional 123 miles of toll roads are under construction in New Jersey and New Hampshire.
