Deep Tester Slated For Central Terry

Union Oil Company of California has scheduled a 12,000-foot wildcat in Central Terry County, four miles southeast of Brownfield. The well is to be drilled on a 60-acre tract owned by A. Cotten which is 650 feet from east and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 91, block T, D&W survey.

The venture will be drilled on an 80-acre farm tract from Phillips Petroleum Company. J. W. McMillen of Midland worked up the deal and turned part of his interest to Union to drill the well. Union has 2,365 acres of scattered leases in the area.

Operations on the No. 1 Cotten are to begin by May 22.

SE Lynn Discovery Swabs, Flows Oil

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Garza Cattle Company, Southeast Lynn County discovery from a Pennsylvanian lime, was swabbing and flowing load oil on open hole at 8,615-30 feet.

After drilling plug on 7-inch casing, which had been cemented at 8,615 feet—the top of the pay-operator conditioned the hole to the total depth at 8,630 feet.

The well was then loaded with oil. At last report the project was swabbing and flowing an average of 20 barrels of load oil per hour. No oil had been developed—but is expected at any time.

This prospective new field opener is 14 miles east of O'Donnell and 1,980 feet from south and 650 feet from west lines of the southeast quarter of section 431, block 9, EL&RR survey.

It flowed 14.25 barrels of oil in one hour in a drillstem test at 8,585-8,630 feet which was run before the casing was set.

New Pay Tapped In North Pecos

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2 State-Volmer stepout from the proven area in the Abell-Silurian-Montoya field in North Pecos County has found good natural flowing production from the Waddell sand of the Simpson, after missing pay in the upper horizons. This project is 330 feet from north and west lines of lot 7, section 28, block 9, H&GN survey. It is four miles northeast of Imperial.

It topped the Waddell sand at 6,005 feet. A drillstem test was run for two hours and 44 minutes at 6,000-23 feet. A five-thirds inch bottom hole choke was used.

Gas showed at the surface in four minutes and oil started flowing in 49 minutes. The oil was flowing at the rate of 10 minutes and it then flowed to tanks for one hour and 45 minutes.

During that period the well made 44.8 barrels of 45-gravity oil, with a gas-oil ratio of 652-1. There was no formation water.

Operator is preparing to complete the new producer. It found only a thin streak of Montoya lime. None of the upper beds showed any possibilities of production.

Large Flow Gauged By Scurry Flanker

Esperado Mining Company and associates No. 1 McDonnell, Central-Northwest Scurry County wildcat, one mile north and the same distance west of the nearest completed producers from the Canyon lime reef on the northwest side of the Kelley-Snyder field had flowed for several hours at the rate of 150 barrels of oil per hour, through a three-quarter inch tubing choke, and is now taking potential test to complete and put on production.

This important extension is eight miles northwest of the town of Scurry and 467 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 336, block 97, H&TC survey.

It topped the Canyon reef at 6,748 feet, which is a datum of 4,227 feet. Total depth is at 6,936 feet.

Acidized

The 5 1/2-inch casing is cemented at 6,775 feet. The open hole at 6,775-6,936 feet was treated with 4,000 gallons of acid.

The well kicked off without swabbing after the injection and started making the 150-barrel per hour flow. The choke was reduced to a one-half inch opening for a part of the preliminary testing and during that time the flow was at the rate of 100 barrels of oil per hour. Flowing tubing pressure, while the well was being flowed on the one-half inch choke was 750 pounds.

John Darden of Midland owns a one-eighth interest in the well and in the lease on which it is located.

Pegasus Slated For Upton-Side Outpost

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2-42 T. R. Wilson is to be a new exploration in the Northwest Upton County side of the Pegasus field. Location is 650 feet from northwest and southwest lines of section 42, block 40, TP survey, T-4-S.

The project is to be drilled to 13,100 feet to explore the Ellenburger. It is in the southwest side of the field. Operations are to begin in the near future.

N-C Sterling Test Drills In Strawn

G. W. Strake No. 1 Bird, North-Central Sterling County wildcat, 11 miles north of Sterling City, and at the center of the northeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 59, block 2, H&TC survey, was making a test on May 13.

Agreement Ends Railroad Strike

Carrier Wins Dispute Over Diesel Crews

CHICAGO—(P)—The nation's worst railroad strike in four years was settled Tuesday and striking firemen of five major rail systems were ordered back to their jobs immediately.

The struck carriers—their passenger and freight service disrupted by the six-day-old walkout—were resuming normal service “as rapidly as possible.”

The striking Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers recalled picket lines and ordered the strikers to return to work.

Both sides expressed satisfaction over the settlement terms.

The railroads affected said they expected to be back to full scale operations by Wednesday.

The carriers said they won the fight on the principal issue—their strike against five major diesel locomotives. They said the union withdrew its demand for a 10 percent wage increase.

Panel Votes Plan To Nip Tax Evasion

WASHINGTON—(P)—The House Ways and Means Committee Tuesday approved a 10 percent withholding tax on corporation dividends.

This withholding, if it finally becomes law, would put no new tax obligation on any taxpayer. But it is designed to get taxes from persons who now fail to report their dividends in their personal income tax returns.

The committee had received estimates that the plan would bring $150,000,000 more a year into the Federal Treasury.

The vote was taken behind closed doors. The committee sent both Treasury and its own staff experts from the committee room.

Like Wages, Salaries

Representative Mills (D-Ark.) developed the idea in the committee's hunt for new revenues, when he learned that approximately $1,400,000,000 paid annually in corporation dividends never shows up in the income tax statements of persons receiving the dividends.

Annual total corporation dividend payments now are running close to $5,000,000,000.

Under Mills' proposal, the corporations would hold back 10 per cent from every stockholder's dividend payment, and turn the money over to the Treasury—much in the fashion taxes now are withheld from wages and salaries.

Then, at the end of the year each taxpayer would get credit against his total tax obligation in the amount withheld from his dividend check. His tax obligation would be no greater than it is in present law, but under the new proposal there would be no way for him to avoid listing his dividend income without the Treasury catching him.

Midland Nose Count Will Be Completed, Says District Chief

Midland's 1950 census enumeration still is incomplete and persons who have not been enumerated will be given an opportunity to get in the count, it was announced Tuesday.

George Kesler of Odessa, district census supervisor, Tuesday told The Reporter-Telegram the Midland count is not complete and two enumerators still are working in their respective districts.

Kesler said every Midland citizen still will have the opportunity of advising census officials if they think they have not been included in the census enumeration.

A survey Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning by two Reporter-Telegram employes showed that 25 persons out of a total of 111 questionnaires have not been enumerated. Four others were not sure whether they had been counted.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Delbert Downing said he and other Chamber officials planned to go to Odessa Tuesday afternoon to contact the district supervisor concerning prompt completion of the count here.

Several area cities already have announced unofficial counts.

Truman Plots All-Out Battle For Fair Deal

ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN—(P)—President Truman put opponents of his “Fair Deal” program on notice Tuesday he will fight to drive “obstructionists” out of Congress.

He rode happily back to Washington in the wake of Democratic cheers to put new heat on those he termed “backward-looking” senators and representatives to fall in line with the Administration.

Speaking to a roaring crowd of 22,000 party faithful overflowing the Chicago Stadium, the President Monday night gave his party this keynote for action:

“The Democratic Party will carry on its fight for its program during the remaining months of the 81st Congress, and, after that is over, we will carry on the fight in the 82nd Congress.

“I hope that by next January some of the worst obstructionists will be removed.

“We will carry on the fight, this year, and the following year—because we are a party that is not afraid to dream and plan and work for a better future.”

Whistling, Yells, Cheers

The Chicago Stadium, the setting for his own nomination for the vice presidency in 1944, resounded with whistling, handclapping, yells and cheers, as the gray-haired Chief Executive enunciated the party doctrine.

Truman, Vice President Barkley, cabinet and other party notables paraded from the Blackstone Hotel along two torch-lighted miles to the West Side Stadium, carrying the procession along Chicago's notorious “Skid Row.”

Police Commissioner Prendergast estimated the street crowd at 400,000.

The President was interrupted frequently by applause, once, when, departing from his prepared text, he declared:

“I wish the opposition would come up with something and be a real opposition. A great political party can not survive and be against everything.”

He went on to say the Whig and Federalist Parties vanished because they lacked programs. He added he sincerely hoped “the Republican Party will profit” by their examples. He declared “We need a strong two-party system.”

Rains, Hail Continue To Batter State

Heavy hail battered three communities in Uvalde County early Tuesday.

The hail fell during rainstorms at Knippa, Concan and Sabinal. Roofs and houses were damaged at Knippa and a heavy loss to crops was feared around Knippa and Concan. Telephone connections to San Antonio were out for several hours and some streams in the area were reported running out of their banks.

Texas weather generally was clear to partly cloudy with a few widely scattered showers.

At mid-morning, showers were reported northeast of Abilene, south of Wichita Falls, northwest of Austin and at Mineral Wells. San Antonio had an early-morning thundershower. Further thundershowers were predicted in both East and West Texas.

Concho Hit Hard

Hail and rain storms pounded West Texas and the South Plains area Monday.

Agreement Moves European Aid Bill Near Final Passage

WASHINGTON—(P)—A $3,121,450,000 program of American economic aid to Europe and other non-Communist areas is ready for final votes in both Chambers of Congress.

Chairman Kee (D-W Va.) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee predicted House passage without difficulty. He said he would bring the measure up for a vote Wednesday.

The big global aid program was sprung from a week-long deadlock Monday by agreement between Senate and House conferees. It was a partial victory both for the Administration and for an economy bloc which had fought to trim it.

As finally agreed on by the conferees—named by the two chambers to iron out differences between the Senate and House versions—the bill provides up to $2,850,000,000 for the third year of the four-year Marshall Plan for Europe's economic recovery.

It also calls for: $100,000,000 for Korea; $94,000,000 for non-Communist forces in the China area; $27,450,000 for Palestine refugees; $15,000,000 for the International Children's Emergency Fund; and $35,000,000 for President Truman's Point Four program.

Risk Of Depression Haunts Pact Nations

LONDON—(P)—The risk of a possible depression if too much is spent on defense lies squarely before the foreign minister of the 12-nation Atlantic Alliance at their meeting here.

The fateful questions whose answers may mean the difference between peace and peace built down to these:

How many guns must the West muster to be confident of knocking back any Russian aggression which they fear may come?

If they build and pay for a safe number of guns, will the gun-making bring on economic misery which communism can use to capture the Allies one at a time from within?

Committees of experts met Tuesday to write resolutions attempting to answer both these questions safely and translate their answers into a plan of action.

Later the foreign ministers, with U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson presiding, were to take up the resolutions. Two or three sessions stretching through Wednesday probably will be needed to iron out conflicting views and to decide on a course of action.

Chiang Deserts Chusans; Pledges Fight 'To Death'

TAIPEH—(P)—Nationalist China late Tuesday announced abandonment of the Chushan Islands.

The official announcement, coming on the heels of vows by the Nationalists to defend Formosa to the death, said 150,000 troops were evacuated.

Only Monday a Nationalist general from there, who insisted that he not be named, said the battle for the Chushans had not started.

The Chushans were extremely important to the Nationalists. From that base, 100 miles southeast of Shanghai, an effective air and naval blockade of the big Communist port had been effected.

Earlier Tuesday, Chiang Kai-shek pledged to die defending Formosa—the only island left to the Nationalists—if he cannot beat back the Communist tide that previously swallowed all of mainland China.

Where There's A Will, There's A Way

AMIENS, FRANCE—(P)—Marcel Brognard, housepainter of Amiens, committed suicide Tuesday on his third attempt—by swallowing his shirt.

First he threw himself under a bus and was taken to a hospital for an operation. He threw himself 30 feet from a hospital window, fracturing his skull. Still he did not die.

Although under guard, he managed to tear up his shirt and swallow the pieces. He died of suffocation.

Jurist Lists Three Possible Defenses For Evald Johnson

AMARILLO—(P)—District Court recessed at noon Tuesday, leaving only the final argument by Special Prosecutor George McCarthy to be heard in the afternoon before the Evald Johnson murder trial reached the jury.

AMARILLO—(P)—The judge who delivered his charge to the jury and attorneys were to begin final arguments Tuesday in the murder trial of Evald Johnson.

Johnson, 30-year-old Muslim Mich. redhead, is accused of murdering W. A. (Tex) Thornton, famed oil field tourist shooter, June 2, 1949, in a tourist cabin here.

District Judge Henry S. Bishop gave copies of his charge to new men and attorneys Monday. He outlined these three possible defenses which could be considered.

1. Justifiable homicide. Johnson testified he beat Thornton after finding him and his 19-year-old wife, Diana, in bed together nude. Under Section 1220 of the Texas Penal Code it is justifiable homicide for husband to kill a man if catches in adultery with his wife, there is no connivance between husband and wife.

2. Self defense. Johnson testified that Thornton yelled “I'll kill you” and grabbed a pistol from under his pillow when he was caught in bed with Diana.

3. Insanity. Defense witnesses testified they believed Johnson is an unbalanced mind.

Diana's Mother Testifies

Attorneys said they believed arguments could be concluded by noon sending the case to the jury.

Thornton had given Johnson and his pretty, blonde wife a ride from Tucuman, N. M., to Amarillo that night he was beaten to death.

Johnson's mother-in-law, Mrs. W. Heaney of Lynnwood, Calif., said the slain man's widow concluded a brutal testimony for the state Monday.

Mrs. Heaney said Johnson was nothing wrong in his wife's supporting him for prostitution.

Mrs. Thornton said her husband made a practice of picking up hitchhikers.

“He (Johnson) told me he had no objection to her (Diana's) making a living for him with her body. He said there were cases of the kind in the Bible,” Mrs. Heaney testified.

Diana originally also was charged with murder in the slaying, but that charge was dropped for lack of evidence.

Defense Attorney E. T. (Dust) Miller objected repeatedly and strenuously to Mrs. Heaney's testimony. He contended it was inflammatory and damaging to his client's rights.

Abundant Living

By E. STANLEY JONES

John 16:32; Matt. 28:19-20; 14:16-21
NEVER ALONE!
As you turn away from all negativism and inferiority attitudes to positive, abundant living, now take the next step.

The American Indians trained their boys in courage by making them spend a night in the forest amid the wild animals. How dreadfully alone each boy would feel on the night of his testing; but when the day began to dawn he would see his father behind a nearby tree with drawn bow.

Say to yourself, "I live and move and have my being, in all inner thoughts and outer expression, in the wealth of God every moment."

The world must hear what America is about, what America believes, what freedom is, what it has done for many, what it can do for all. —Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

We have got to get into the black and begin to do it now. —Edwin G. Nourse, former presidential economic adviser.

Middle-Roaders Victorious

The decisive victory scored over Senator Claude Pepper by Rep. George Smathers in the Florida primary must be viewed as a triumph for the middle-roads.

The result means, of course, that Smathers will go to the Senate. In overwhelmingly Democratic Florida, the all election normally is a mere formality. The primary is the real test.

The 36-year-old winner, a former Marine who once was a protegee of Pepper's, campaigned on a platform that was essentially anti-Administration. He spoke out for revocation of the Taft-Hartley Law, against President Truman's health program, against his civil rights planks. He refined the issue as the "free state vs. the jail state."

Furthermore, Smathers bitterly assailed Pepper for alleged softness toward communism at home and abroad, his part of his campaign largely was personal, but voters did have gained the impression that Smathers would follow himself in the Senate with those trying to ferret out any traces of communism in the government.

Pepper, on the other hand, placed himself right in the anguard of the Fair Deal. He urged repeal of Taft-Hartley and passage of Truman's health plan. In this matter he went beyond Senator Herbert H. Lehman, who found it wise to adopt a more conservative position in the 1949 New York campaign.

Pepper defended his attitude toward Russia by saying he was sympathetic only so long as there appeared real hope of getting along with Stalin. He resorted to platform antics in an effort to discredit Smathers' charges on his score.

On the civil rights issue, Pepper found himself in a difficult spot. He contended that he is today against a fair employment practices commission, though he voted for federal agency of that sort in wartime. Smathers suggested the senator was trying to play both sides of the street, that he actually is behind the President on all civil rights proposals.

There seems to be no question that many Florida Republicans registered as Democrats to cast their vote against Pepper. Undoubtedly, too, Smathers got the bulk of the business vote. But these elements alone could not have accomplished Pepper's defeat by so broad a margin.

Smathers commanded the support of veterans, of young voters who liked his looks and his University of Florida background, of doctors who favored his stand against health insurance. And, judging by the geographic readth of his victory, he cut sharply into the labor and inert groups which Pepper relied upon heavily.

In the light of the sharp division between the two men on basic national questions, an argument by Pepper or his Administration supporters that this campaign was purely local and personal should probably not be taken too seriously.

McCamey Water Rates

The City of McCamey has announced a reduction in summer water rate from a $3 minimum for 2,400 gallons to $2.50 for 3,000 gallons.

McCamey is fortunate in that it has a supply of water efficient to warrant increased usage at reduced rates during the summer months. The effect should be quite noticeable in the increased number of lawns and gardens ere.

It was not too many years ago that water shipped to McCamey in tank cars cost more per barrel than did a barrel amount of Upton County oil. But fortunately for McCamey, that situation has changed, now that the city is developed a more abundant supply of water.

Rains Came—But How?

The scientific rainmakers hired by New York City to produce some extra rain to help fill the city's depleted reservoirs must be pretty unhappy by now.

Countless times their experiments have been postponed—on account of rain. On other occasions, they've produced clouds with the necessary chemicals, only to find that it rained over a wide area anyway. Thus making it impossible to tell what effect their work actually had.

Above all, the scientist dearly loves what he calls the "controlled experiment." The test, that is, where other factors are so carefully measured that the effect of a new factor can be gauged beyond doubt.

The New York rainmakers have been engaged in experiments that probably rank with the most uncontrolled experiments in history.

You won't find a cagier bunch of guys in the country than a championship basketball team.

It's a shame pessimists don't realize how easily they could pep up any party—by staying away.

Baseball Men Have Trouble Keeping Up With Young 'Veep'

WASHINGTON (NEA)—(NEA)—Vice President Alben Barkley got a real belly laugh from a story told him after opening-day ceremonies for the Washington National's first game. Barkley was walking across the field with Connie Mack, aged 87, and Clark Griffith, aged 80. The two sportsmen seemed to be having difficulty keeping up with the quick pace of the Veep, who never takes any exercise except socially. A woman in the stand said, "That young fellow ought to slow down for those two old men, he'll wear them out." Barkley is 73.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

"Every day," said Generous George, "is Be Kind to Your Opponents Day. You don't get anywhere being greedy and trying for all the tricks there are in the deck." "A very pretty sentiment," growled one of his opponents. "Only wish your kindness didn't cost me so much!" He had good reason to complain. George had just made game and rubber where a greeder player would have been set. The opening lead was the jack of spades, dummy covered with the queen, and East put up the trick. It was at this point that George, playing the South hand, made one of the plays for which he was so well known. Instead of taking the trick with his ace of spades, he played a low spade, allowing East to hold the trick.

Now the defenders were unable to defeat the contract. If East continued spades, South could take his ace and trump the last spade in dummy. It would then be easy to draw trumps, giving up one spade, one trump, and one club.

East actually decided to lay down the ace of hearts, drawing dummy's only trump. He then led another spade, hoping that his partner had the ace. As it turned out, however, South was able to win that trick with the ace of spades, draw the rest of the trumps, and then run the diamonds. He therefore made his contract with an overtrick.

It is interesting to note that George would have been set if he had not been so generous at the first trick. For example, if South wins the first trick with the ace of spades, and then leads trumps, the opponents can take the ace of hearts, two spade tricks, and the ace of clubs.

If declarer tries to get a spade ruff by returning a spade at the second trick, the defenders can take that spade, draw one trump with the ace of hearts, and then take another spade and the ace of clubs. South cannot gain by trying to get a discard on the diamonds before drawing trumps. West would be able to ruff with an otherwise worthless trump.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson
(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Too many ghost-writers spoil GOP soup;
GOP bigwig Pat Hurley fell for Chinese Communist camouflage;

Senate elder statesmen call each other names.
WASHINGTON—General GOP Chairman Guy Gabrielson now has so many statement-makers that he's had to hire a boss to control them. In fact, there are almost more ghost-writers and publicity men in and around Republican headquarters than there are potential candidates for the White House, and each ghost-writer seems to be working for his own party's dark horse.

Some time ago, the Republicans decided to follow the lead of the late Charley Michelson, who, with astute statements written backstage for big-name Democrats, helped put across several Democratic victories. But now there are so many high-priced GOP publicity men that Chairman Gabrielson finds himself a quarterback on a team where every-one else is calling the signals. Here is the roll call of the GOP ghost-writers and the party factions they represent:

Bob Humphreys—ex-INS correspondent, paid $20,000 a year by the national committee, but actually works for ex-Speaker Joe Martin. With a staff of 15 at the George Washington Inn in Capitol Hill, Humphreys grinds out speeches, statements and strategy for Martin and his small crew of kingmakers in Congress.

Vic Johnston—Former Harold Stassen lieutenant, paid $15,000 by the national committee to find words for senators. He has a staff of five. The white-haired, easygoing Johnston represents the mildly progressive wing and is popular with newsmen.

Arthur Hachten—An ex-INS reporter, is Senator Ken Wherry's "brain." He is paid $10,800 annually by Congress and is the man who studies every word that comes quick comebacks at Truman. Hachten writes 'em and Wherry speaks 'em.

Dick Gayley—Oncetime New York Herald Tribune newsman, now a public relations and advertising expert specializing in Republican campaigns. He is paid by Senator Robert Taft out of his own pocket.

Bill Mylander—Former correspondent for the Cowles papers, he has the unhappy task of trying to coordinate all the GOP press agents. Bill gets $25,000 a year as the new GOP publicity director.

Before Mylander was appointed, Chairman Gabrielson wanted to eliminate the large word factories on Capitol Hill paid by the national committee. But this brought such snorts of rage that Gabrielson backed down.

Note—What got Gabrielson really sore was a rumor apparently circulated by GOP ghost-writers that Gabrielson was on his way out as national chairman. Canadian Minister of External Affairs Lester B. "Mike" Pearson, once ambassador to the U. S. A., picked up a cablegram the other day and showed it to friends. It was addressed:

"Hon. Drew Pearson, Secretary of State for External Affairs, Ottawa." "Fame at last!" exclaimed Mike, who always delighted FDR with his sense of humor. He explained that the cable, which had been sent from Paris, obviously was an error.

"But of course," he added, "it could have been 'George Drew Pearson.' George Drew is opposition leader in the Canadian Parliament. Agrarian Reformers

One of the chief proofs offered by Senator McCarthy and Louis Budenz that Owen Lattimore is a Communist is that he called the Chinese Communists "Agrarian Reformers" and got other writers to do the same. Thus they deceived the American public and the State Department.

However, careful research into the writings of American experts on China now reveals that it was not Lattimore who called the Communists "Agrarian Reformers," but a high-ranking Republican—none other than Patrick J. Hurley.

Hurley, who was secretary of War in Hoover's Cabinet, GOP candidate for senator from New Mexico, and U. S. Ambassador to China, has been held up by the McCarthy group as the man who was dead right about the Chinese Communists, and whose work Lattimore was trying to undermine. Yet on returning from his ambassadorial post in China, Hurley, speaking before the National Press Club on Nov. 29, 1945, was quoted in the Washington Post as follows:

"In discussing the Chinese Communists, Hurley said there might be some among them who look to Moscow for guidance, but he thought most of them were just reformers—outs who wanted to be the ins."

"The only difference between Chinese Communists and Oklahoma Republicans," he said, grinning, "is that the Oklahoma Republicans are not armed."

Note 1—In the same speech, Hurley blasted the State Department. And already having resigned, he hardly could have been reflecting its or Lattimore's views.

Note 2—Lattimore says he knew that the Chinese Communists were not simply peasant reformers, therefore never wrote anything to that effect.

Two of the most powerful men in the Senate are old-timers Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee, appropriations boss, and Tom Connally of Texas, foreign relations chief. Both are granddads in experience and "snapping-turtle" dispositions. However, they turned their sharp tongues on each other last week during the debate over "Point Four" aid to backward nations.

"Where are we going to get the money?" demanded McKellar in the middle of Connally's plea for the Point Four program.

"We are going to get the money out of the Appropriations Committee, that is where we are going to get it," snapped Connally.

"I am opposed to the amendment, and I shall oppose it in the Appropriations Committee," announced the senator from Tennessee, who is chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

"The senator will probably kill it if he opposes it in the Appropriations Committee," bristled Connally.

"I shall do my best, I assure the senator. I think we are going wild, we are going mad, and I do not intend to go along," blurted McKellar angrily.

"We shall certainly miss the senator," sneered Connally.

"The senator may miss me, but I am going to keep my record straight," McKellar cracked.

"The senator has a very fine and splendid record, and I hope he will keep it unblemished and unblemished legislatively, socially and otherwise," flung back the gruff Texan.

Grandpa McKellar spluttered with rage, but Grandpa Connally outshouted him and refused to yield for a reply.

Finally the presiding officer interrupted with the announcement: "The time of the senator has expired."

"I am very glad the time has expired," snorted Connally and sat down.

Note—Despite his temper, Connally has done a remarkably good job in pushing Foreign Affairs measures through the Senate. Though he gets little notice in the headlines, his legislative record is one of the best in Washington.

What's RIGHT?

You receive a number of graduation invitations from young people in your community and are wondering about the necessity for sending gifts to all of them.

WRONG WAY: Feel obliged to send a gift to each person who sent you an invitation.

RIGHT WAY: Send gifts to those you really want to and to those who aren't sons or daughters of particular friends write a note of congratulations in place of sending a gift.

The LONESOME BRIDE

By Grace Nies Fletcher
Copyright 1950 by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Gloria and Mittie-Ann Brown, newlyweds, live at the Splendid Apartments, 477 Prospect Park West, New York. The Browns, lately of Boston, are in a work for Mittie-Ann. She has just learned how to cook before she was married. When she falls miserably for a friend, she wishes she had an older woman to help her. It was then that she begins to notice a mysterious and interesting looking couple who live next door.

THE next morning when Gloria was starting out for the supermarket on Fifth Avenue where she did her shopping because it was cheaper, she noticed a letter not quite slid under the door of the interesting family next door and, her heart thumping for fear someone would see her, she picked up the letter.

His name was Benito Benoni, a "cat" missing, like running down piano keys." Gloria thought it sounded, wondering if she'd ever get to know them. Being opera singers, or artists or something exciting would explain the green hat because artists notoriously dressed and acted as they pleased.

Later that very day, she and Mrs. Benoni actually came face to face over all things, their garbage pails!

Gloria and Mittie-Ann used to giggle because this was such a ritzy apartment that even the janitor spoke French, with a Brooklyn accent. Every morning at 10 o'clock sharp he would appear at the bottom of their dumb waiter shaft and below: "Debris! Debris! Debris!" he pronounced the final S like a "cat" missing. And seven flights up and down the shaft, 14 doors would open and housewives or maids would deposit the debris pails at the dumbwaiter, beginning at the top floor, sank slowly toward the basement.

Gloria and Mrs. Benoni being on the top floor had to hurry to get theirs on the dumbwaiter first, and it was hard not to see the older woman a mere two feet away. She looked plumper and more motherly in a pink print house dress with her gray hair just a suspicion rumpled as if she'd slept with a net on to save her wave and Gloria wondered wistfully if she dared venture "Good morning." Better not, she decided, dumping her pail on with such energy that the lid fell off and her latest concrete pile fell onto the dumbwaiter with a thud.

Gloria giggled and Mrs. Benoni could hardly help smiling as the bride explained ruefully, "I've been married four months now and I can't manage a decent crust yet. I can't imagine where I go wrong. And my husband does so love apple pie!"

"A bride?" The older woman's face softened. "My Benny loves apple pie, too. With little slivers of lemon in it. You never made it that way? It is delicious." "It sounds wonderful," Gloria agreed so ardently that the older woman hesitated. In her green taffeta lounging pajamas with her hair caught in a gray knot of curls on the top of her small head, Gloria looked as young and artless as a stray kitten, so Mrs. Benoni suggested, "Why don't you come over into my kitchen and I'll show you how to make pie crust that is pie crust!"

"Now?" Gloria gasped, seizing opportunity by the tail.

"If you want," the older woman agreed.

NOT only a cooking lesson but a friend at last! Excited, Gloria loaded a big tray with everything she might need, apples, sugar, flour, cinnamon, lemon, lard—anything else?—oh yes, a knife to prick the crust so the juice wouldn't sizzle over and fill Mrs. Benoni's apartment with black smoke like it had yours.

At their kitchen shower some months ago, some way had presented Gloria and Mittie-Ann with a "Mr. and Mrs." set, two knives with sturdy steel blades and bright red handles, on one of which was lettered "Mr. M. B." and on the other, "Mrs. M. B." while both bore the touching legend, "No knife can cut our love in two."

They were silly but proved useful so Gloria added the "Mr." knife to her already loaded tray and started out, but before she could knock at the next door, it opened silently, swiftly.

"Thank you, I do have my hands pretty full, Mrs. Benoni," Gloria murmured and then her eyes widened for her hostess had gone white.

"You know my name!"

"I know it was awful of me to pick up your letter," Gloria confessed, dimpling, "but it was just lying there by your door and I was so darn homesick! I hadn't spoken to anyone for days."

It was impossible not to believe her. Mrs. Benoni looked relieved and led the way into a kitchen as big as Gloria's whole apartment, with more chromium than a new car, and room for not only an enormous electric stove standing on its own legs instead of jitters on the hob, but for a washer, a deep freeze and all the other gadgets at which Gloria looked wistfully in the catalogues when Mittie-Ann had gotten a raise.

Mrs. Benoni did not offer to take her on a tour of the rest of the apartment but you could see through the door that it turned the corner, fronting on the Park, and the furnishings, while a little too Hollywood for Gloria's taste, were obviously very expensive.

Figuring on the hundred and twenty-five you paid for your two and a half rooms, the rent for all this must be a king's ransom. Mr. Benoni must be in a very lucrative business indeed.

THIS idea was further fostered in Gloria's mind when, just as they'd scattered flour on the board and started to cut in the lard for the pie crust, the door bell rang and a hat box from Arradine's was delivered to Mrs. Benoni.

It was an adorable hat box in gold and white stripes and a peacock blue ribbon for the handle, but Mrs. Benoni looked startled at the delivery boy, who, come to think of it, was dressed rather strangely for such an exclusive hatter. He was a little wizened man in bright blue pants, a tan jacket, and he wore the green hat Gloria was beginning to think was a sort of uniform for Benoni and Co. And did delivery boys usually wink at the customer?

"The boss sent it," he told Mrs. Benoni, hoarsely.

"Oh," said Mrs. Benoni. "Thanks."

She closed the door and stood holding it in her hand and Gloria cried, "A new hat! I've never even seen one from Arradine's! Do try it on!"

"No, no," Mrs. Benoni said hastily. "Benny sent it and he always likes to see how I look, first. He's funny that way. Have you cut up all your apples?"

Feeling unaccountably that she had been urged to get the heck out of there, Gloria hastily set to work, seeing out of the corner of her eye that Mrs. Benoni locked the hat in the hat closet. Did she think Gloria would swipe it? Still it was rather sweet for Mr. Benoni to be so wrapped up in his wife, after being married all these years, that he wanted to see her try on his present first, Gloria decided.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And the White Elephant

It happened far away in the great Forest, close by the Elephant thicket, not far from the very tail of the one where Daddy Ringtail lives in the top in his monkey house. Little Mugwump Monkey was sitting on top of a great big box. The box was a monkey trap where the monkey catcher had hoped to catch a monkey. But the monkey catcher is the one who was caught. He couldn't get out of the box, with Mugwump sitting on top of it.

asked. "I don't see him anywhere." But the Monkey Catcher heard Daddy Ringtail say it. The Monkey Catcher kicked on the box from inside, and said: "Here I am!"

Daddy Ringtail came walking one just then. "Happy day, Daddy Ringtail!" Mugwump said. "I've caught me a Monkey Catcher!" "Have you now?" Daddy Ringtail asked. "I'm in here! I'm in the box!" The Monkey Catcher giggled about it. He thought it funny to be caught in his own monkey trap. He giggled some more. It was a silly giggle. Mugwump laughed to hear it, and then he said: "Daddy Ringtail, I've caught me a Monkey Catcher, I have, and I'm going to keep him here in the forest." But Daddy Ringtail said: "Oh, no! You don't want to keep him. That's a white elephant you have in there."

Mugwump looked at the box with the Monkey Catcher in it. Mugwump knew it was the Monkey Catcher. Besides, the box wasn't big enough for an elephant to get in. It made no difference whether the elephant was brown or green or red—or even white, as Daddy Ringtail had said.

Daddy Ringtail laughed, but then he explained. "White elephant" is only a name for anything that causes more trouble when you have it than when you don't have it. And a Monkey Catcher makes so much trouble when you have him, Mugwump decided to let him go. Who wants to keep a white elephant when it only causes trouble? Nobody. Happy day! Treasure Hunter Is Bound For Ancient City Beneath The Sea

SOUTH GATE, CALIF.—(NEA)—Sometime this Summer, a lumbering tank-like tractor will slowly edge down the streets of a city that has been visited but once since 1692. And, to make the adventure even more bizarre, the city now is under the Caribbean Sea.

At the controls of the tractor will be Lieut. Harry E. Rieseberg, a California daredevil deep-sea diver. It was in 1935 that Rieseberg, hunting pirate treasure on sunken Spanish galleons off Kingston, Jamaica, stumbled into Port Royal, a fabulous city destroyed by an earthquake and tidal wave in 1692.

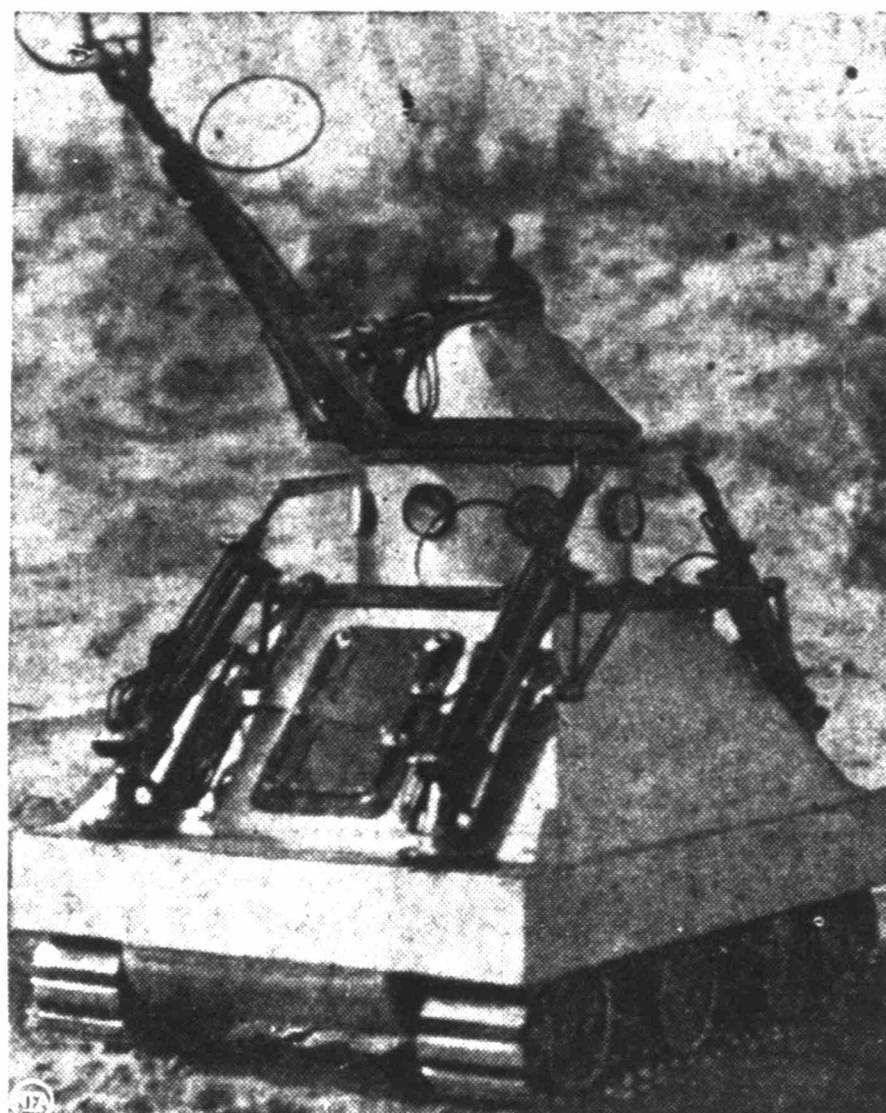

Now, with a costly expedition to back him up, Rieseberg is going back to Port Royal, the city under 30 fathoms. For 15 years, he's been dreaming and planning to revisit Port Royal. What he saw in 1935 is worth a second look.

On Ocean Floor

He stood on the ocean floor. All around him were crumbled relics of buildings now encrusted with dazzling coral formations. Brilliant tropical fish swam in and out of windows.

All alone, he didn't have the equipment to venture too far from his salvage ship. But he could see other streets, other buildings.

Back on shore, Rieseberg learned that Port Royal was the lair of fabulous pirates in the 17th Century. It was known as the richest—and wickedest—city in the world. Captive girls, bedecked in plundered Rieseberg's tractor: From this model, he's building a big one to plow the streets—and treasure—of an undersea city.

Crude Oil Output Increases Again

TULSA, OKLA.—(P)—The United States daily average crude oil production continued to climb during the week ended May 13, reaching 5,045,325 barrels. The Oil and Gas Journal reported Tuesday.

It was an increase of 42,425 barrels over the previous week, and the second straight week the total was above the 5,000,000-barrel mark.

Three states had new 1950 highs for last week. Texas was up 14,600 barrels to a total of 2,085,100. Mississippi gained 7,550 barrels to 101,450 and Michigan increased 1,200 to 48,800.

The biggest jump, however, was in Kansas, up 23,400 barrels to 280,550. Louisiana gained 2,725 barrels to 522,300 and Oklahoma was up 2,400 to 406,500.

More than half of the week's decreases were in the Rocky Mountain area. Sizeable losses also were reported for Arkansas and Indiana, each down 1,500 barrels.

finery, presided over tables set with gold and silver. Then, in 1692, the whole city and 5,000 persons were plunged under the sea.

May Find Treasure

Rieseberg thought that some of the pirates' treasure might still be in the water-covered buildings of Port Royal. At least there would be relics of a glamorous, adventurous age to be found in the water-logged ghost town.

Together with Charles G. Warren, he designed and is completing the tank-tractor. With this monster, he'll be able to roam the streets of Port Royal.

The adventure will be filmed by Hollywood cameramen, in color. The actual salvage operations will be part of a forthcoming movie.

based on a book he wrote called "I Dived for Treasure" in which he tells of his 25-year hunt for wealth under the seas.

Thus far he's recovered more than $100,000 from ancient wrecks in Central American and West Indian waters. He's sure Port Royal will be his greatest hunting grounds.

A White Rose On Mother's Day Is Phenomenon Here

A single white rose, which opened on Mother's Day, is blooming on a rose bush in the yard of Clara Jesse's home, 406 North Main Street. That would not be unusual, except that the bloom is the only white one on a bush which has been bearing tallisman roses, yellow-pink in color, for three years.

The branch on which it is growing has several other flowers, all ordinary tallisman roses. The white bloom is shaped like the others, but is somewhat smaller.

Miss Jesse, for whom the white rose is the Mother's Day symbol, has no other white roses in her yard.

Risken Still In Jail For Non-Payment Of Horsemeat Fine

DALLAS — (P) — Louis K. Risken of Minneapolis still is in jail for non-payment of a $5,000 fine for shipping horsemeat into Texas.

Mayer Gilgus of Kansas City was released Monday after he paid a similar fine.

Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson Monday reversed a previous stand that neither of the men would be released unless both fines were paid when he allowed Gilgus his freedom.

M. L. Miller of Dallas, attorney for Risken, told Judge Davidson that Risken had been unable to raise the amount for the fine while in jail and asked that his client be released and given time to pay.

Judge Davidson ruled that Risken would have to spend "another couple of days in jail to see what he's going to do about this."

The two men had been in Dallas County jail since Friday when Judge Davidson fined them and also sentenced them to six months in federal prison.

Gilgus' six-months prison sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation for two years.

The pair was accused of shipping more than eight tons of horsemeat, disguised as beef tenderloins, into Texas this year.

Mexico Racers To Receive Awards; Texan Ruled Out

MEXICO CITY — (P) — Winners of Mexico's border-to-border race will receive their prizes at a ceremony Wednesday.

The list of winners was officially Monday night when protest committee of the race qualified Roy Pat Conner of Coahuila, Texas. The committee he substituted Orlis Turner Robert Owen as co-driver on last lap in violation of race rule.

The change costs Conner $5,780 (50,000 pesos) third prize $231 (2,000 pesos) for winning last lap. The third prize will go to Al Rogers of Colorado Springs, Colo., who finished fourth.

The committee rejected a bid of Tom Deal of El Paso, Texas, and place winner, that he be cited with a three minute stop aid the victims of an accident. It was less than three minutes before the first place winner, Hershel Griff of Portland, Ore., and extra time would have put Deal first place.

Helicopter Rescue Almost Ends In Disaster

(NEA Telephotos)

Mrs. Jeanette Bugay, 25, a housewife and mother of three children, clings to a rock in the Niagara River near Niagara Falls, N. Y., as a Bell Aircraft radioman, Joe Cannon, tries to pass a life line from a helicopter. Seconds later the copter crashed, throwing pilot and radioman into the surging river. In the lower photo Niagara firemen haul Joe Cannon, the radioman, to shore with tow lines. The helicopter crashed when the weight of Mrs. Bugay threw too much weight into the nose. All three were rescued in the same manner as Cannon.

Ice Day—Texans To Observe 100th Birthday Of Ice-Making In U. S.

Ever hear of Dr. John Gorrie? It isn't surprising if you haven't. Unless you're from Florida the chances are pretty slim—and even if you are from Florida, the odds are against your knowing what Dr. Gorrie did to make him any different from any other small town doctor.

In Apalachicola, Fla., where Dr. Gorrie practiced, there is a statue in his memory, among other community reminders. In Jacksonville there is a junior high school named after him, and in Washington, D. C., there is another statue.

Strangely enough, it isn't Dr. Gorrie's medical accomplishments that these various monuments commemorate.

First Ice-Maker
John Gorrie, M. D., invented America's first ice-making machine. In 1850, just 100 years ago, Dr. Gorrie perfected his machine. He wasn't thinking of the preservation of food, or the making of ice cream, or any, save one, of the thousands of uses to which ice is put today. His sole purpose as he worked on his crude apparatus was to make ice available at all times for the treatment of patients suffering from fevers.

Dr. Gorrie accomplished his aim—and unintentionally made a contribution to American living far greater than that of most of the famous doctors reverently remembered for their medical discoveries.

Certainly someone else soon would have developed an ice-making machine of some kind if Dr. Gorrie hadn't done so; but he did do it, and as a result was responsible for the beginning of an industry which affects every human life every hour of every day, year in and year out.

The total production of Dr. Gorrie's ice machine during 1850 was probably less than 150 pounds. Today, more than 7,000 ice manufacturing plants throughout the nation produce more than 50,000,000 tons of ice each year. In Texas alone there are some 600 ice plants employing more than 7,500 persons.

Technical Advances
In the hundred years since Dr. Gorrie's machine produced the first American-made ice, the technical advances in ice manufacturing have been constant. Early to recognize the advantages of cooperative effort, ice manufacturers pooled their knowledge and their research dollars—and the result is one of the most efficient, smoothest-operating industries in existence.

To commemorate the 100th anniversary of the ice-making industry in Texas, Wednesday has been proclaimed as Texas Ice Day. The occasion is sponsored by the Southern Ice Manufacturers Association, in cooperation with ice manufacturers throughout the state. Midland ice plants are joining in the observance.

Thousands of ice-making, ice-handling and ice-using Texans are expected to pause Wednesday to mark the 100th anniversary occasion.

Continental Adopts Liberalized Employee Retirement Program

OKLA. CITY, OKLA. — Continental Oil Company has liberalized its employee benefit plans to include, among other improvements, a minimum retirement payment of $125 a month, President L. F. McCollum announced Tuesday.

"Continental has taken the initiative and adopted these changes after extensive study of other plans and trends throughout the oil industry," McCollum said. "They assure Continental employees of the management's progressive interest in their welfare and security."

Employees retiring at age 65 for men and 60 for women, and who have at least 20 years of service, will receive a minimum payment which, together with revised federal old age benefits, will total at least $125 a month, he said.

The improved plan also provides for a separation retirement allowance (sometimes called a "vested right"), under which employees leaving the company after 10 years will be entitled to a deferred retirement payment, at age 65 for men and 60 for women, provided they have not withdrawn their own contributions from the fund. These employees get credit for a portion of the company's contributions after 10 years, this portion increasing to 100 per cent after 20 years of service—without regard for age.

Based On Highest Earnings
An unusual feature of the improved retirement plan, said McCollum, bases an employee's annuity on his highest 10 consecutive years of earnings. This means that periods of low earnings at the beginning or the end of a man's working career will not affect the amount of his retirement payment. This revision especially protects employees who have to work on less strenuous and lower-rated jobs after 55 years of age, due to health or physical condition.

Another improvement in the retirement plan is the extension from 90 days to 12 months the period in which an employee laid off or on leave of absence will not lose his membership in the plan—provided he has not withdrawn his contributions.

Continental also increased financial benefits for employees who lose time because of sickness or accident, McCollum stated. Employees with 10 years or more of service will be entitled to full pay for three months of absence, with liberal payments for longer absences up to a total of 14 months. Benefits for employees with less service have also been increased.

All of these changes, said McCollum, will become effective July 1, 1950, except the minimum retirement allowance provision, which will go into effect on that date or the effective date of amendments to the federal Social Security Act whichever is later. For employees represented by labor unions, the changes are subject to collective bargaining.

"They are being offered," McCollum said, "to the respective labor unions, representing such employees and, therefore, the effective dates of changes as to such employees cannot be stated at this time."

New Year's Eve and New Year's Day together are known as the "daft days" in Scotland.

Arraignment Set For Man Accused Of Drowning Wife

NEWARK, N. J. —(AP)—Joe Olohan was to be arraigned on murder charges here Tuesday, when funeral services go on in Danbury, Conn., for the wife he is accused of drowning in a bathtub.

The drowning happened Sunday morning, on their first wedding anniversary. Then Olohan walked to police headquarters and told police about it. The desk sergeant quoted him as saying he went out for a heavy drinking Saturday night, came home at 2 a. m., drank a beer, and then "All I remember that I shoved her with both hands while she was in the bathtub," he said, "Drown, you—"

Police found the nude body of Louise, 38-year-old blonde, still in the tub.

Olohan, 37, is a shipping clerk.

Sander Ends Plowing, Needs Another Job

CANDIA, N. H. —(AP)—Dr. Hermann N. Sander has completed his task as a plowman.

The young country doctor, who was acquitted March 9 of murder in the death of a cancer patient, has been plowing neighbors' fields for the last month at $4 an hour. He supplied his own motorized plow.

With the season for plowing ended, the doctor did not say what kind of employment he would turn to now to support his family.

He has been stripped of his right to practice medicine in New Hampshire until June 19, when he may apply for reinstatement of his license.

Approximately $20,000 raised by friends has been used largely to defray expenses of his trial.

'Shadow' Says Public Lukewarm To Truman

CHICAGO, (AP)—Victor A. Johnston, Republican observer whom President Truman calls his "little shadow," says this about Truman: "Nobody hates him. But nobody seems to love him very much, either."

Johnston traveled by airplane to observe Truman's Western trip and prepare GOP ammunition.

He was eating a meal alone in the midst of dozens of Democrats at the Blackstone Hotel Monday when a reporter asked how he liked the Chicago Democratic slugging. He replied:

"It was a good show—a hoopla medicine show, maybe, but good. The President is a very masterful politician and has exceptionally good staff and research work behind him."

Democratic Party Issues Statement On Reds, Smears

CHICAGO, (AP)—The Democratic Party said Tuesday it is against government employment of Communists but it is also against "smears."

A policy statement adopted by the party's national committee declared:

"We condemn efforts to gain partisan advantage of smears and innuendoes which hamper our government and blacken the characters of innocent citizens."

No specific mention was made of charges by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) of Communist infiltration in the State Department.

However, the statement, voted at a midnight session of the committee following President Truman's Chicago Stadium speech, said:

"It is the duty of every citizen who has evidence of disloyalty to furnish any such evidence to the government x x x."

Belief Reaffirmed
"We reaffirm our belief in fair play and honest factual investigation x x x."

Turkey's New Strong Man Vows Friendship With Western World

ISTANBUL, TURKEY.—(AP)—Turkey's new strong man, Celal Bayar, said Tuesday his nation's newly-elected government stands loyal to its alliances and friendships with the Western world.

He gave his pledge in an interview after discussing his five-year-old Democrat Party already had taken 375 of the 487 Grand National Assembly seats in Sunday's general election.

The Democrats' triumph left in ruins President Ismet Inonu's People's Party, which has ruled Turkey for 27 years.

With returns still awaited from some provinces, some observers said Inonu's group might have no more than 80 seats when the assembly meets next Monday to elect a new president.

Gets Marshall Aid
Turkey receives American military aid under the Truman doctrine and economic assistance under the Marshall Plan. Though not a signer of the Atlantic Pact, Turkey also has been frequently mentioned unofficially as seeking membership in the alliance.

Bayar said his party "shall definitely be most loyal to our alliances and friendships."

"I hope that in our dealings with our allies and friends we shall be more attentive and progressive so that the outcome of our relations may be satisfactory to all parties concerned," he continued.

Turkey's political and economic relations with the West "will be stronger and more understood in a more understanding manner," the 67-year-old party leader declared.

Amarillo Works Out System To Warn Of Possible Tornadoes

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD Associated Press Staff This is a prime tornado season and Amarillo has set up a tornado warning system that other sections of the state might duplicate. It is reminiscent of the hurricane warning network along the gulf coast, although not nearly so elaborate. The system at Amarillo covers an area with a radius of 60 miles, with the Panhandle city as the hub. Twenty-three men over the area act as spotters, phoning pertinent information to the Weather Bureau. The system is the Weather Bureau's own plan. Strong winds or tornado conditions are reported quickly. Amarillo became tornado-conscious last May when a big twister roared through one section of the city, fatally injuring seven persons and doing a great deal of property damage. Advice To Public Besides supervising the spotting system, the Amarillo Weather Bureau handed the Panhandle public some advice about tornadoes which was printed in the Amarillo Globe-News. "A tornado usually travels from southwest to northeast with a forward motion of 25 to 35 miles an hour. Circular winds inside the storms are too violent to be measured. "Tornado weather may be discerned by a sticky, sultry, oppressive day with southerly winds. An hour or two before a tornado a topsy-turvy sky of clouds appears to be bulging downward crazily instead of upward. "In the west and northwest, great thunderstorms appear. The towering clouds have an ominous appearance—the color often is described as a sickly greenish black—and the lower clouds are perhaps visible in rapid and confused motion. Safety Measures "Then out of the dark thunderclouds, a rope-like funnel cloud reaches toward the earth, spinning counter-clockwise. The funnel varies greatly in appearance. Often it is thin. In other cases it has the appearance of a gigantic elephant trunk, and occasionally it is the shape of a solid funnel. "People in open country can view the approach of the storm and should move at a right angle to its path. Persons caught in the open country without time to escape should lie flat in the nearest depression.

Republicans And Democrats Give Guill Glad Hand

WASHINGTON — That Republican representative from Texas, Ben Guill of Pampa, is getting the glad hand in Washington and it's not all from the GOP contingent. House Minority Leader Martin of Massachusetts and others of the party welcomed him with open arms Monday as the first Republican from Texas to serve in the House since the death Nov. 6, 1931, of Harry M. Wurzbach of San Antonio. He was sworn in by a fellow Texan, Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham, after being presented by Martin. A burst of applause from the Republican side of the aisle greeted his introduction. But Democrats shook hands and the Texas congressional delegation was present at a luncheon Martin gave for him in the Capitol. Rayburn assured Guill he would be welcomed at the delegation's regular weekly luncheons and wished him well in everything except next November's balloting, when he faces a lone Democratic opponent for a regular two-year term in the House. Russian Immigrant Buys First Bond In $653,950,000 Drive

PHILADELPHIA — A Russian immigrant opened the 1950 U. S. Savings Bond Drive buying $500 worth of individual and national security.

Benjamin Poysoff, 54-year-old custodian at Independence Hall, bought the first bond Monday after Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder kicked off the nationwide "E" Bond drive by tapping the historic Liberty Bell.

At Chicago, President Truman said purchasers of U. S. Savings Bonds can "achieve personal financial independence and preserve our national freedom."

The Chief Executive spoke prior to a major political speech at Chicago Stadium. He took part in a radio and television show opening the $653,950,000 bond drive.

World War I Veteran
Snyder sold Poysoff a $500 bond after ringing the bell at Independence Hall, where it is enshrined. Poysoff came to this country in 1906. He fought in World War I and his son served five years in the South Pacific in the last war.

The secretary said the bond drive was of three-fold significance:

1. "Every bond that is purchased will contribute to the economic independence."
2. "These purchases will contribute to the economic security of the nation."
3. "A nation of free and independent individuals is the proof we can offer to other nations of the value of the American system of free enterprise."

Boy Chooses U. S. Over Dog, But Gets Mongrel Anyhow

NEW YORK —(P)—Eleven-year-old Eugene Gutner had a dog back in Germany. It was a mongrel named Putze, German for pal. But when red-haired Eugene's turn came to leave as a displaced person, he had to choose between the dog and the United States. The Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society here guessed what it must mean to a boy to give up his dog—especially a boy who spent most of his childhood in wartime German concentration camps. So Monday when Eugene arrived with 1,352 other DP's aboard the Gen. R. L. Howze, the society had something waiting for him. It was a three-month-old black, wire-haired terrier, which the boy looked at the dog and the memories of war and prison camps washed out of his eyes. The pup looked back and then snuggled in as Eugene dropped to his knees. They might as well have been alone on the ship for all the attention they paid to any one else—this boy and his dog.

Ringling Brothers Giant Now World's Tallest Salesman

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK —(P)—The thing Jack Earle hated most about being a circus giant was having people ask, "How's the weather up there?" "I figure I was asked that question at least 10,000 times," recalled Earle. At 44 and still standing eight feet, six and a half inches, he is happy in his new career as "the world's tallest traveling salesman." You must remember Jack, probably the most famous and certainly the most talented of a long line of Ringling Brothers circus giants. "I used to sell my giant's lucky rings for a quarter," he grinned. "I sold thousands upon thousands of them. Every once in a while I still bump into someone who pulls out one of those rings, tarnished with age. I always offer to give him his quarter back if it hasn't brought him good luck." Started in Films Jack got his circus job in an odd way. As a child he had wanted to be a motion picture actor. And from the age of 13 to 17 he did appear as a gangling, overgrown kid in some 48 film comedies with Baby Peggy and other stars of the day. "One day I fell off a truck and went blind for more than four months," he said. "The injury hastened the growth of a pituitary tumor."

Jack shot up weedlike as he was recuperating at his home in El Paso. One afternoon he went with some other boys to see the Ringling Brothers sideshow. He was amazed to find he was taller than "the world's tallest man." So was the circus. It promptly offered the youth a contract. "I didn't want to be a sideshow freak," Jack said. "But I did want to earn my living. I traveled with the circus for 14 years. And by then all its glamor and color had ended for me."

Merchandising Specialist After a trip to Australia, Earle returned and looked up an old friend who was working with the wine division of Schenley Industries. The company hired Jack to make a three-month good will tour—and he's been with them ever since. He has graduated from being an oddity to becoming one of the ablest merchandising specialists in the wine business. Jack spends more than 11 months of the year on the road.

"Learning to overcome the physical hardships of traveling—such as having to buy my socks a gross at a time and sleeping doubled up in train berths—wasn't the chief difficulty," he said. "It was psychological—getting other people to realize that, despite my size, I was just another man trying to earn a normal living in a normal manner. "But that worked out, too, in time. When I call on dealers now, they know I'm there on business. And my height has even been an advantage. No receptionist ever tells me her boss isn't in." Jack only met one man taller than himself in his life—Robert Wadlow, the late Alton, Ill., giant. "He stood eight feet, nine and three-eighths inches," Earle said. "I was so flabbergasted when I saw him the only thing I could think to say was, 'How's the weather up there?' "He didn't like it either."

Crest Of Flooded Rivers Holds Steady

WINNIPEG, MANITOBA —(P)—Hip-booted volunteers and soldiers piled more and more sandbags behind Winnipeg's sodden levees Tuesday, hoping they would still hold as the Red River's flood crest surged through the greater Winnipeg area. Brigadier Ronald Morton, flood control chief, warned "a catastrophe could still happen." But early Tuesday the Red and its two tributaries, the Seine and Assiniboine, had held steady for 30 hours at 30.1 feet. That was 12 feet above flood stage for the district but represented a drop of one-tenth of a foot from the 1950 high reported Sunday. There appeared some slackening off in the steady stream of women and children who have been leaving the city. Already an estimated 80,000 have gone to safer villages and towns north, east and west of the city. They left in answer to official appeals for a voluntary lightening of the load on the city's overtaxed public utilities. D. M. Stephens, deputy minister of natural resources for Manitoba, said Monday night the river's crest was passing the Metropolis. He predicted the waters would start a gradual drop later Tuesday if no complications occurred. However, Army flood control authorities still warned that "tragedy of life or further loss of property still is quite possible."

Caso March Tees Off On 'Big Uns' In Drive Opener

SOUTH BEND, TEXAS —(P)—Caso March pitched the tune in his 1950 try for governor here Monday night and headed west in his campaign trailer-cottage. He held a friendly home county—Young County—audience that the present governor is "for the big uns." March said he and his audience were "Littluns" and added: "There are more of us littluns than biguns and I'm thankful for that." March drew enthusiastic applause when he said he would fight school consolidation such as the one that emptied buildings at South Bend and sent the Young County pupils to Graham, nine miles away. He also promised to tax natural gas, "and to tax it plenty" if elected governor. He was to visit Breckenridge, Albany, and Snyder Tuesday.

Troops Clash In Indonesia; 30 Dead

JAKARTA, U. S. I. —(P)—Indonesian troops under Dutch command and Indonesian soldiers of the U. S. I. Army clashed Monday morning in Makassar, it was learned Tuesday. More than 30 casualties, half of them civilians, were reported. The number of dead was not stated. After the outbreak of shooting, Dutch commanders ordered their Indonesian troops to their barracks. Dutch and Indonesian officers, meeting with a neutral United Nations military observer brought the situation under control. The Dutch-commanded Indonesians involved in the clash are members of the Dutch Army in the Indies who have not been transferred yet to the Central Indonesian Army command. Considerable bad feeling has existed between these troops and those of the federal Indonesian government.

Stalin Talks With Trygve Lie About Cold War Problems

MOSCOW —(P)—Prime Minister Joseph Stalin and United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie talked for 90 minutes at the Kremlin Monday night. The conference climaxed the "Save the UN" mission which had brought Lie half-way round the world to see the Russian leader. Diplomats speculated that China's representation in the UN was a major topic at the discussions. No details of the talks were disclosed but it is not thought here that the Russians showed any signs of modifying their refusal to participate in any UN organization in which Chiang Kai-Shek's government is represented. Long Interview Russia has demanded that the Peiping government of Mao Tse Tung be recognized as China's representative in the United Nations. Present with Lie and Stalin at the meeting were Vice Premier V. M. Molotov and Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky. The interview came after Lie—seeking to ease East-West tension—had conferred with President Truman in Washington and with top officials in London, Paris and here in Moscow. The 90-minute interview was considered a rather long one for the Soviet premier. It was considered here that Lie and Stalin discussed not only the China question but other basic points of East-West tension as well. There was speculation that Lie might discuss his talk with Stalin at a news conference Wednesday.

Andrews Worker Wins Injury Suit

PECOS — A federal district court jury here Monday returned a verdict for $60,000 in favor of Paul Gooch, in a personal injury damage suit against the Phillips Petroleum Company. Gooch alleged he was severely injured while working at Andrews on Oct. 15, 1947, for L. O. Stocker Construction Company, a Phillips subsidiary, when the bed of a dump truck overturned and struck him on the head. Sanitation is more important to young turkeys than to any other common domestic poultry.

Preakness Lineup Is Taking Shape

BALTIMORE —(P)—The lineup for Saturday's Preakness took on some shape Tuesday with no change in the first three of the Kentucky Derby batting order. The cleanup starter, from all past performances, should come from among King Ranch's Middleground, C. T. Chenery's Hill Prince and C. V. Whitney's Mr. Trouble. That's the way they hit the Derby wire. There are plenty of backers for Hill Prince and Mr. Trouble who think they will have the lead position come the end of the mile and three-sixteenths Preakness. Hill Prince did it last Saturday, beating Middleground in the Withers Mile. It was the third time the two contenders for three-year-old honors of 1950 finished one-two. Prior to the Derby they had run that way in the Wood Memorial. After Middleground, Hill Prince and Mr. Trouble there are only outsiders to consider, and the best guess there won't be more than two of them. Trainer Ed Kelly insists Kinsman will start after finishing second in Monday's Preakness Prep. The Prep proved little except that Kinsman and Dooly, another Whitney colt, don't mind the mud. S. W. Labrot, Jr.'s Arcave was the only other starter. Dooly beat out Kinsman by a nose in the mile and one furlong run. Mrs. Andrew Schuttlinger's Ferd and Mrs. W. H. Labor's Balkan are other known probabilities.

City Major Loop Opens; Standard, Rendezvous Win

The City Major League got off to a roaring start Monday night at Wadley Field as the 1950 softball season opened. Two hotly contested games gained the approval of the more than 200 fans who braved a cold east wind to watch the proceedings.

Standard of Texas rallied in the last of the seventh inning to edge out Western Plastic 9 to 8 in the nightcap after the Rendezvous had nudged Shell 8 to 6 in the opener.

An Optimist League game scheduled at 8 p.m. was postponed due to a squall.

Western Plastic, loaded with players who combined their efforts to win the City Major League flag last season, got off to a good start but couldn't stop the Chevron nine in the end.

It Took Trick To Make Ump Bill Klem Wrong

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor
SARANAC LAKE, N. Y.—(NEA)—It was a pleasure to be seated next to Larry Doyle at the banquet for the championship Saranac Lake High School basketball team.

It is a greater one to report that the Giants' famous World Series second baseman of 1911-12-13 looks and feels great.

Doyle, at different times the National League's most-valuable player and batting champion, wanted to know about a number of old-timers, Bill Klem among them.

"He was never wrong in his life," remarked Fred Kury, the newspaper publisher.

"Only once that I know of," countered Doyle, "and I was in the league 14 years."

Then he had to be talked out of believing his ears, and we had to produce evidence.

The Giants still had a chance to beat out the miracle Braves in the Fall of 1914, when I led off with the score 1-1 in the ninth inning at the Polo Grounds.

"Get on Larry, get on any way," John McGraw told me as I went to bat. "We've got to win this game."

"A pitch so close to me that Klem, working behind the plate, couldn't possibly see it, tucked my bat, and I started for first base."

"Come here, Doyle," shouted Klem, so loudly that he could be heard in the stands. "I refused to budge from first base, protesting that the ball had hit me."

"But Klem had called the pitch a foul ball, insisted that I swing again, so I started back to the plate."

"McGraw cut across the field from the third base coach's box. 'Did it hit you, Larry?' he wanted to know. Honest Answer

"No," I told him, honestly. "Pinch yourself," he commanded, and I did a good job of that while he was storming at Klem.

"What do you have to do to get on base by being hit with a pitched ball," yelled Manager McGraw, "get killed?" You need glasses, Klem.

"It was a foul ball," said Umpire Klem, coolly. "I heard the ball hit the bat."

But it hit me before it hit the bat. I cut in, giving myself one last vicious pinch.

"Open your shirt," ordered McGraw. "Pull up your sweatshirt."

"There Klem found the nearest red, black and blue spot that he could hope to see on a batter hit by a pitched ball."

"Take your base," he said, reluctantly.

"I was sacrificed to second and the next man singled to chase me home with the winning run."

"And that's how I had to be a real pinch-hitter to make Bill Klem wrong for the only time in his life." In Hospital

Doyle, 61, stood five feet eight-and-a-half and scaled 175 pounds when he was the New York Nationals' clean-up hitter. He weighed only 126 pounds when he arrived at this renowned resort in 1942. He was bedded for eight months at a stretch, for the better part of two years.

Now he weighs 160 pounds, and is ready to leave Trudeau Sanatorium, but will remain in the Adirondacks.

Tuberculosis had all the worst of it when it tackled Doyle.

Obviously the dread disease didn't know Larry Doyle as a Giant.

Race Wire Cutting Upheld In Face Of Company's Protest

EL PASO—The snipping of a race news service wire has New York and Texas spokesmen exchanging charges.

The Paso County Attorney Ernest Guinn said Monday night that Sheriff Joe Campbell did right when he had wires cut to stop horse racing news to the Silver State News Service at Anapra, N. M.

A Western Union spokesman said in New York that Campbell had "no reason" for the disruption of transmission by the Continental Press Service.

He added: "All that any law enforcement officer has to do at any time is to say to Western Union that any wire is being used contrary to law and the company immediately will stop service."

County Attorney Guinn said the Western Union wire was cut after it failed to stop the racing news service.

Western Union officials in El Paso were given notice in writing to stop service—that it was in violation of laws of this state," Guinn said. "They not only failed to cooperate, but made actual misrepresentations of actual conditions to us."

Truman—

He didn't distinguish between Republicans and Democrats when he declared Congress still has "many backward-looking senators and representatives, who have tried and defeat every progressive measure they could, and to obstruct and delay those they could not defeat."

Nor did he specify Republicans only in his expression of hope for the removal of the worst "obstructionists."

However, associates aboard his Washington-bound train said he will support Democratic candidates for the Senate and House all over the country as soon as the primaries are over.

They said his 6,000-mile "non-political" trip to the Northwest last week was just a mild taste of the type of campaign he will wage before the November election.

The 13-car presidential special, with his bullet-proof private car, pulled out of Chicago at 11:30 p.m. Monday. The scheduled arrival time at Washington was 2:30 p.m. Tuesday.

TEL AVIV, ISRAEL—(AP)—Three hundred physicians employed by the Israeli government called a 24-hour strike Tuesday for higher pay.

Trustees Open Bids On School Cafeteria

Trustees of the Midland Independent School District Monday night opened bids on cafeteria equipment for the new David Crockett Elementary School, R. W. Hamilton, chairman of the board, said Tuesday. No contracts were let.

The board will meet again at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday in the board room at the high school to open additional bids on stage furnishings and classroom equipment for both Crockett school and Carver school.

Contracts will not be let until all bids have been received and the board has had an opportunity to study them, Hamilton said.

Four Democrats File For Ben Guill's Job

AMARILLO—(AP)—Four Democrats have filed as primary election candidates for the job held by Republican Rep. Ben H. Guill.

They edged the four and six others in a special election May 6 for the 18th Congressional District post vacated by Eugene Worley, who accepted a federal judgeship.

Deadline for filing for the primary was Monday.

The four who filed are Mrs. Al-tavene Clark of Amarillo, who ran second to Guill; Blake Timmons of Amarillo, third; Walter Rogers of Pampa, fourth, and Le Roy La Master of Ferrytown, fifth.

Weather—

The storm, which struck swiftly and then died, moved in a narrow strip from Sterling County eastward into San Angelo and then into Concho County.

Gusts of wind up to 60 miles per hour were reported. Veribest, in Concho County, reported hail and 2.7 inches of rain during a 45-minute storm. Eden received about three-fourths of an inch of rain and had some damage to roofs and windows in half an hour.

Heavy hail damaged young cotton west of Lubbock in the Texas South Plains. Rain was general through the central plains around Lubbock.

Three or four inches of hail hit the smyer and Hurlock communities near Reese Air Force Base, 10 miles west of Lubbock.

Crop damage in this area was expected to be light because the hail was soft and little cotton had been planted.

Egyptian Council Refuses To Approve Princess' Marriage

CAIRO—(AP)—Egypt's Royal Council Tuesday refused to approve the California marriage of King Farouk's sister, Princess Fatima, to a Christian commoner, a palace spokesman announced. The council ordered an administrator to take control of the properties of both Fatima and Queen Mother Nazi.

The council also ordered Fatima's sister, Princess Faika, to return to Egypt immediately from the United States.

In a Royal Council session at which Prince Muhammad Ali, heir apparent to the Egyptian throne, presided, the council announced that so far as Egypt is concerned, the California marriage is considered annulled.

Strike Ends—

Although only some 18,000 locomotive firemen struck, the walkout disrupted much of the nation's rail transportation and had made idle some 200,000 workers—mostly railroad employees.

The break in the strike was announced shortly after 2 a.m., and immediately union sent telegrams to striking locals canceling the strike order.

The union and carriers had met continuously for nine hours. Sitting in at the peace talks were members of the National (Railway) Mediation Board.

The main snag in the negotiations was the dispute over the hiring of a second fireman on the big diesel locomotives.

While the carriers said the union withdrew its demand, a union spokesman said it modified its demand to the extent that the question will be approached through arbitration of the existing contract agreement.

One fireman and one engineer are employed on the big diesels.

The carrier agreed, a spokesman said, to arbitrate the unions' charges "that certain practices in connection with the operation of these engines were in violation of existing contracts."

The union said the agreement eliminated wage differentials which it said had existed in pay of firemen on oil-burning steam locomotives and straight electric locomotives. They have had lower rates than those on coal burning or diesel, the union said. The new agreement, it said, brings all rates at the same level. No figures were given.

The body needs small quantities of iodine for growth and development, healthy skin and hair and mental alertness.

Wink Man Voices Highway Protest

MONAHANS—Winkler County objection to a proposed Kermit-El Paso highway appeared here Tuesday in a letter written by R. A. Lipscomb, Wink school superintendent and civic leader, to Fred Wemple, State Highway Commission chairman. Wink and Kermit both are in Winkler County.

As initiated by Kermit boosters of the proposed highway from Kermit directly west 99 miles to Highway 180 in Culberson County, the route supposedly would miss Wink in Winkler County and Mentone in Loving County.

Lipscomb's letter stated that "approval has already been granted for the straightening of Highway 115 from Kermit to Wink which, when completed, would make the difference in distance from Kermit via Wink to Mentone and Oria only a negligible amount more than any other route which could be chosen."

Wink to Mentone "For many years," wrote Lipscomb, "we have been trying to get a road from Wink to Mentone. It is a much-needed road and we have made trips to Austin and one to Lubbock to lay the matter before the Highway Commission. We were assured on more than one occasion that we would be given further opportunity to present our case before a final designation was made."

Lipscomb's position follows a barrage of protests already offered to the proposed Kermit-El Paso highway by Monahans, Pecos, Van Horn, Sierra Blanca, Fabens and Ysleta.

SEYMOUR BACK Justice of the Peace Joseph A. Seymour Tuesday returned to work following more than a week of confinement at his home with influenza.

Judge Roy Bean steps impatiently out of his special airplane at Chicago, having completed an 8,000-mile air tour of 30 states. The Judge is a 1,200-pound Hereford steer that won grand championship honors and sold for $11.50 a pound at the 1949 International Live Stock Exposition in Chicago. With the prize steer are United Air Lines pilot, Capt. R. E. Parcel, R. J. McLaughlin and handler Henry Gilgillan.

USSR Charges Iran Employs American Experts For Spying

MOSCOW—P—The Soviet Union has accused Iran of using American experts to make aerial surveys of "military significance" along the Russian-Iranian border. The use of such foreign experts, said a Russian note delivered to the Tehran government, "can create a danger to the frontiers of the U. S. S. R." Such action, Russia added, is "incompatible with good neighborly relations" between Iran and Russia.

The note, made public Monday night, called on Iran's government to "eliminate the abnormal position that has been created." Russia said the border surveys, allegedly made during oil prospecting operations in North Iran, should be carried out by Iranians.

The Russian communication declared the Soviet did not object to Iranians developing the northern border areas, but that they did not want Americans doing it. The note made clear that the Russians believe military intelligence operations are included in the work done by these Americans.

The Iranian government, the Russians wrote, "continues to carry out in the area of the Soviet-Iranian frontier measures which, as is evident, are of military significance and what is more, for the carrying out of these measures, foreigners are being brought in and, in particular, American experts." The Russian note said the Iranian Oil Company, Ltd., had been organized to seek oil in Northern Iran and was making aerial photographs, topographical surveys and geological researches.

The Soviet said they protested last March against the use of foreign engineers for the surveys when the planning organization for Iran's seven-year development plan announced it was calling for bids for aerial surveys in Northern Iran. Iran has not replied to this Soviet protest, the Russians added.

Andrews News

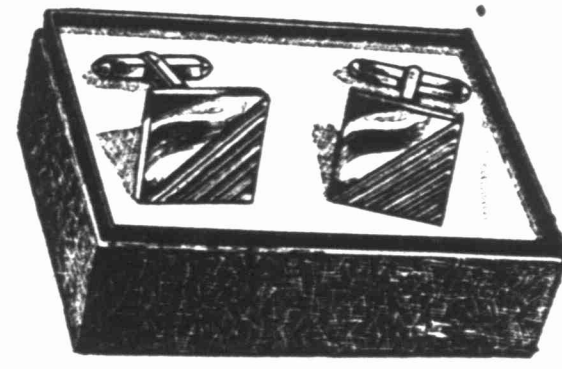

ANDREWS — Ray Givens Construction Company of Lubbock submitted the low bid of $130,000 on the construction of the Andrews High School work-shop and addition to the junior high school. Givens plans to start work on the buildings immediately and hopes to have them completed within the allotted seven months.

Interest in the upcoming county election increased last week with the announcement of Mrs. Cora Heath for county and district clerk. She will run against S. M. Smith, who has held the post 20 years. Five candidates have filed for commissioner of Precinct 3. They are: Tom Jeffreys, H. B. Walters, Garland Lindsey, Wergil Brooks and S. J. Hinkle. Four candidates have filed for Precinct 4. They are: Dennis Nix, Dave Sisson, H. E. Clark and Winfred Hudgens. Nix is the incumbent. Running unopposed are County Judge Milton Ramsey; County Attorney Max Ramsey; Floyd Peacock, sheriff, tax collector and assessor; and Fannie Mathews, county treasurer. Others on the ticket are J. A. Roach and Carl Betenbough, seeking the post of commissioner of Precinct 1, and Melvin Price, Gene Irwin and F. F. Trotter, for Precinct 2. G. C. Olson has announced for reelection as district judge, and Murray House and John Dennison are running for district attorney.

"If the 'little fellow' sends a message by telephone or telegraph he pays a tax. If he travels by railroad or bus he pays a tax. If he buys an automobile, the sale price includes a tax. When he buys gasoline or oil he pays a tax. If he buys cigarettes, he pays a tax. If he goes to a football game or baseball game, he pays a tax. The average working man must work 47 days a year to earn the money necessary to pay his taxes to the Federal Government. This is almost one day out of every week. If the new programs now seriously proposed should be adopted he will have to pay in taxes the equivalent of his wages for an additional 20 days, making 67 days he will work each year for the government instead of for himself and his family. Importers' Answer To Influence Texas' June Oil Allowables

AUSTIN—P—The personal appearance here Wednesday of the policy-making heads of 14 American oil companies is seen by Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson as indicating their willingness to cooperate with the oil regulatory body.

In a prepared statement to the press Monday, Thompson said numerous questions would be put to them at the statewide oil production hearing, which will inquire into the importing plans of the major companies.

Among the questions Thompson listed is one important to Texas producers and to the state's tax revenue picture—"If Texas makes more crude available by increasing allowable production, would you reduce your imports accordingly?"

To Seek True Facts

Thompson said the company representatives also would be asked for figures on imports so far this year and on import plans for the remainder of the year.

"We appreciate the wholehearted cooperation of industry leaders in coming here to testify to the facts," he said. "In this manner we may know the true actual market demand for Texas crude as far as it is possible to ascertain."

The oil company heads have notified the commission of their intention to appear on the commission's invitation.

Part of the decreased demand for Texas crude in recent months—which has resulted in decreased allowables and resulting tax revenue—has been laid to heavy imports of foreign crude.

Wednesday's hearing has attracted one foreign representative, Dr. Eduardo Acosta, chief engineer for Venezuela's oil regulatory agency, arrived here Monday to attend the meeting.
