Rodeo Plans Are Nearing Completion

Rodeo fever—Midland Rodeo fever—will mount rapidly here this week as citizens don cowboy clothing, make booster trips and complete final plans for the staging of Midland's big annual celebration—the 16th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo—May 31-June 4.

The "Dress Western" edict will become effective Monday morning when all residents, both men and women, are expected to don loud shirts, cowboy boots, big hats, and other articles of Western-type clothing. Members of the Optimist Club, under "Sheriff" John Friberg, will enforce the edict, rounding up the "delinquents" who are not properly dressed for the occasion. Exemptions may be obtained after "trial." "Fines" collected will go to the Optimist Club's Boys Work fund. It is all in fun to boost interest in the Midland Rodeo.

Goodwill tours will be made Wednesday and Thursday over a wide area. The Wednesday trip will be sponsored by the Midland County Sheriff's Posse, and the Thursday tour will be handled by the Chamber of Commerce. Persons interested in making either of the trips are asked to contact C. C. Manager Delbert Downing Monday.

Ticket Sale
The advance sale of tickets to the big rodeo opened Friday, with ticket agents functioning in all downtown office buildings. Midlanders are asked to obtain their tickets in advance of the show's opening in order to avoid congestion at ticket booths during the show. Tickets also may be obtained at the Chamber of Commerce or (Continued On Page Six)

As these Western developments were taking place United Nations General Secretary Trygve Lie, just back from "save the UN" conferences in Moscow with Premier Stalin and top Soviet officials, talked with French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman in Paris. He plans to meet with British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin in London early next week.

A token show of American military strength was seen in Berlin, where American occupation forces staged their biggest "Armed Forces Day" celebration parade. The show of highly-polished teamwork came just a week before the scheduled "Whitsuntide" assemblage of 500,000 Communist youth in Berlin.

That the Texas Highway Commission has been "struck at" many times, yet continues its policy of building for the present and future industrial and rural development of Texas, is pointed out by Highway Commissioner A. F. Mitchell of Corsicana, in a recent letter to Bill Lee, manager of the Monahan's Chamber of Commerce.

PORTLAND — (AP) — Oregon Republicans endorsed their liberal Sen. Wayne Morse with a thumping majority that was approaching 2 to 1 as counting went on Saturday night.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Navy said Saturday that due to reduced requirements, it plans a two-thirds cutback in its aviation cadet fleet assignments. But it emphasized that no reduction is contemplated in the Naval Reserve pilot training program.

TAIPEI, FORMOSA — (AP) — The Chinese Nationalists Saturday night announced abandonment of two small groups of islands off the mouth of the Yangtze River, further weakening the blockade of Communist Shanghai.

Four Killed, 22 Missing In Explosion

SOUTH AMBOY, N. J.— (P) — Demolition experts probed cautiously through a mine-strewn area Saturday for trace of 22 men missing from Friday night's shattering explosion which injured hundreds in this waterfront city.

Four bodies have been recovered, two of them identified. Residents toiled to restore order, and make temporary repairs in the wreckage of their homes.

South Amboy Fire Commissioner William O'Leary said property damage might exceed $20,000,000. O'Leary said it was believed the men who were loading four barges with 600 tons of ammunition probably had been "blown to bits." The blast was heard in New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania.

L. Hugh Casey and four enlisted men of the 10th Engineers, Fort Devens, Mass., arrived and began the dangerous job of detecting and deactivating mines in the area. Casey looked grimly over the scene and said tersely:

"We'll take four days to clean this up. We should have a battalion here."

To Investigate Blast
The State Department said in Washington it would investigate the blast to determine whether explosives involved had been properly licensed for export.

It was not at once determined how the explosion occurred or where the ammunition was destined to be shipped.

The American Red Cross reported 312 persons had been treated for injuries. Five were wounded critically, the Red Cross said.

This figure was believed low since many persons cared for their own injuries from flying glass. Saturday they walked the streets of this 10,000 population city 21 miles southwest of New York with dazed expressions.

Mayor John Leonard said every house in the city had been damaged. Most of the injuries were from flying glass.

Army troops, Marines and Coast Guardsmen guarded banks and other public places. There were no reports of disorders.

The force of the explosion blew anti-personnel mines over a wide area.

One steel plate was hurled more than two miles and imbedded in concrete in Perth Amboy. In that sister city of South Amboy across the Raritan River there were reports of many injuries from flying glass.

55 German Miners Killed In Explosion
GELSENKIRCHEN, GERMANY— (P)—An explosion ripped through the Dahlbusch Coal Mine near here Saturday, killing 55 miners and injuring 39 others.

That was the official count early Sunday when all miners who had been working in the 3,022-foot deep seam had been accounted for by rescue squads.

More than 300 miners were at work when the blast, attributed to a gas accumulation known as fire-damp, occurred.

Storm Is Blamed For Accident In Which Two Hurt

Stormy winds, laden with dust, lashed Midland early Saturday night inflicting considerable damage in all sections of the city.

Rain followed the duster. The wind storm came boiling in from the northwest at dusk. It reached 60 to 65 miles per hour in gusts. Its velocity was gauged at 49 miles per hour steady by the CAA station at Terminal.

Citizens labeled it the worst dust storm here in many years.

At least one accident in which two were injured was attributed to the storm. Mr. and Mrs. Billy Cozzins were injured in an automobile accident six miles east of Midland on Highway 80. They were brought to ambulance to the Western Clinic Hospital here where they were treated for head injuries.

The blustering winds scattered trash fires in the city resulting in four fire calls during the storm. No extensive fire damage was reported.

Fires Reported
Fires were reported at 1900 West Wall Street, at the Latin American ball park, at 2700 West Washington Street and on a light pole at Roosevelt Street location.

Three or more live wires were reported down in Midland. They fell across two automobiles at the Mill Hall Buick Company used car lot and one was in a tree near the City Hall.

Even as the wind howled intensely, damage reports began to come from all areas of the city.

Trees and branches were snapped. A citizen in the north sector saw the wedding ceremony of Elana Eastham and F. D. O'Connor scheduled in the garden of the Eastham residence early Saturday evening was moved to the First Presbyterian Church.

The wind and dust storm wrecked wedding decorations at the Eastham home.

his trees were leveled by the wind blast.

Plate glass windows were reported blown in at Broadway Motor in the business district.

A brick and tile wall at the construction site of the new Mill Hall Buick Company on West Washington Street (Highway 80, west) was blown down.

Barricades at the Magnolia Petroleum Company on West Washington Street were buckled. Construction work is underway there for the erection of additional floors.

The Street Department of the City of Midland went into immediate action, clearing streets of debris and eliminating traffic hazards.

Heavy Rains

Chest X-Ray Drive Opens Here Monday; Locations Listed

The Midland County Tuberculosis Association campaign to conquer tuberculosis gets underway here Wednesday as a modern, well-equipped mobile X-ray unit moves into the city for an 11-day stay.

Pointers to the unit during its Midland stay are being distributed by the Midland association, and it is hoped by directors of the drive that more than 5,000 persons will take advantage of the opportunity to get the free chest X-ray.

F. H. McGuigan, general chairman of the drive, announced locations of the unit and urged Midlanders to visit the unit while it is in the city.

The unit will be located at Benito Juarez Hall, at Lamesa Road and Houston Avenue on Wednesday, May 24. On Thursday, it will move to the Ace Theater, on South Lee Street.

The next location of the mobile unit will be at the Baldrige Broad Company office, across the street to the north of the South Elementary School. The unit will be there Friday, May 26.

For the rest of its Midland stay, the unit will be located at the City-County Auditorium at West Missouri and Colorado Streets.

McGuigan said Saturday the Midland Kiwanis Club will visit the unit in a group Monday, May 29, for the free X-ray. The club will forego its usual program after luncheon to take advantage of the X-ray service.

Dr. C. S. Britt is chairman of the Midland County Tuberculosis Association, sponsor of the drive. The Texas TB association is sponsoring the state-wide drive, and secured the use of the mobile unit from the State Health Program.

Power Show Marks Armed Forces Day

By The Associated Press
America's defenders "reported to the people" Saturday in their first nationwide display of unified strength even as their leaders proclaimed that armed power is the one way to prevent World War III.

President Truman reviewed a 70-minute parade of 6,500 members of the four services beneath chill, gray skies to open Washington's observance of the first Armed Forces Day. He was flanked by top military and civilian defense officials in a flag-draped stand on Constitution Avenue near the Washington Monument.

Later, 143 military planes of the latest types from B-36 atom bombers to darting jet fighters thundered over the city and nearby Bolling Air Force Base where scores of thousands gathered to see land, sea and air combat equipment displayed.

The capital city topped it off with a salute to the armed services in a program at the Washington Monument grounds. On the program were entertainment stars followed by a fireworks display.

Johnson Finds Out About The Star's Reading Habits

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—A glamor queen who's been the serpent in the garden of love before the cameras all day can turn into a bookworm with horn-rimmed glasses come sundown.

I got the lowdown on Hollywood's literary tastes at Martindale's book dispensary in Beverly Hills. Two clerks there, Constant B. Sims and Rachel Brand, sell deathless tomes to glamor folk as casually as hot dog vendors hand out the mustard to Sunday bathers at the beach.

More than 75 per cent of Martindale's business comes from the film industry—actors, writers, directors, producers and art directors.

"But," says Sims, "I think they beef about prices more than other people. Once a day some big movie star screams, 'What, $3 for this book?'"

Betty Grable is one constant reader who has Constant Sims all frustrated.

"I've tried to wait on her, but she seems to have a prejudice against me," he protested. "She likes anything that's tough, gitty or earthy. Things by James Farrell, for instance, or books like 'The Man With the Golden Arm'."

Constant says he does much better with Katharine Hepburn and Joan Fontaine who aren't above getting real chummy with a book clerk in trousers.

"They know what they want," he says. "Miss Hepburn flies in and out like greased lightning. Doesn't even bother to sign her charge slip. Miss Fontaine hurries, too. Maybe they don't want people to see them and think they're intellectual."

Farley Granger is a let-me-browse-around customer who always ends up by buying a couple of yards of printed matter.

Constant isn't any too sure about Shelley Winter's influence on Farley's literary taste. He recalls that when Shelley waited in with Farley, they stayed strictly away from Santovana and Thomas Wolfe, and paid for a couple of movie fan magazines.

"They discovered their pictures in the magazines and left the place giggling," he remembers.

Constant writes up his biggest orders when Margaret Whiting drops by. "She's an indiscriminate reader," he says. "You can sell her anything but comic books. She buys truckloads."

Books of humor, cartoon collections, biographies of stage and film stars and books explaining how to lick nervous tension and ulcers are best sellers at Martindale's Rachel Brand said.

"Cook books, too.

"Take Judy Canova, she always buys cook books," Rachel said. "No, she doesn't cook. Judy just likes to read cook books. Lots of stars do. Maybe it's relaxing. I don't know."

Mrs. Cary Grant—Betsy Drake — is a prize customer. "Her mind is so open," rhapsodizes Rachel, "and helps out starving poets by buying slim volumes of verse."

Rachel has yet to see Cary trotting after Betsy with a literary light in his eyes.

Whenever Lana Turner gets ready to say it with books for her pals, Rachel knows exactly what to wrap up. She whispered: "Lana loves 'The Prophet,' a profound book of East Indian philosophy by Khalil Gibran. She buys copies by the dozen."

Peter Lawford, Rachel reports, is a fiction and current events reader. Van Johnson likes novels with supernatural themes and Barbara Stanwyck lately has taken to reading travel volumes about Italy.

Rachel's favorite is Ethel Barrymore. "She buys almost every novel and mystery story published—at least 50 a month. Her chauffeur, I understand, is starting a lending library."

Right now, John Hershey's "Memories and Desire," T. S. Eliot's play, "The Cocktail Party," and "The Naked Eye," a thriller-diller by a couple of ladies named Martin and Lewis, are the books that are selling best.

Hollywood agog. Kathleen Winsor's "Star Money" isn't big box-office yet.

"Kathleen's book is hardly the type of novel we would recommend to Oona O'Neill, Ann Baxter or Jeanne Crain," says Constant, echoed by Rachel. "They would freeze up on us, but in a constant way, of course."

Constant almost forgot.

Ray Milland is a big about who-dunnits, preferably the type with a crisp British accent who can smell a body floating in the Thames. Ray sounds off right in front of everybody when the gumshoes and cadavers let him down.

"He lets you know when he hits a lousy book," Constant shudders. "So does Marie McDonald."

Radars On The Rails

C. W. Gahr, operator of a new-type rail inspection car built by the Sperry Corporation, pauses during tests over Texas & Pacific's Dallas-Fort Worth tracks to show how the radar testing mechanism works. Gahr holds sensitive crystal searching units and explains operation to T&P foreman, H. L. Pulliam, left, of Denton and Signal Maintainer S. Miles, of Marshall.

T&P Using Radar To Detect Dormant Rail Troubles

FORT WORTH—Now it's radar on the rails! Wartime's super detective has been put to work in peacetime by the Texas & Pacific Railway to nip rail trouble in the bud.

Ordinary fast-moving rail detector cars never have been capable of picking up trouble signs within limits of the rail joint bars. (That's railroad lingo for the 24-inch area where one section of rail is bolted to the next one.) That area formerly had to be inspected tediously by unbolting the bars at each joint. But radar has the problem whipped. Mounted on a railroad motor car, the radar equipment is nearing Fort Worth over the T&P searching out dormant rail trouble to make traveling and shipping even safer for railroad patrons.

The searching wizard pauses at each of the 270 rail joints in each mile of track, thus can average only two miles per day. Four of the little machines, built by the Sperry Corporation, now are at work on U. S. railroads, according to C. W. Gahr of St. Louis, Sperry representative.

As the car moves over T&P's double track between Dallas-Fort Worth, T&P General Foreman H. L. Pulliam, of Denton, his four-man crew and a signal maintainer accompany the car to change-out rail needing replacement.

The test car operates with an electric motor while at work, thus is geared to stop automatically at each rail joint where the operator meets a paper-weight-size crystal searching unit by hand back-and-forth over the rail joint area. All the while Gahr keeps his head under a black leather hood and watches for trouble signs which the searching unit picks up and flashes on a small television-type screen. Repairs and replacements are made accordingly.

Iran Man Found Hanging From Tree

IRAAN—The body of Theodore Leo (Shorty) Peters, 59, was discovered about 1 p.m. Friday hanging from a tree near Camp Webb on the Pecos River about a mile from Iraan.

The body was found by four women who were picnicking. Peters' car, containing a fully packed suitcase, was parked nearby. Dr. Allen V. Sherrod gave the verdict that Peters had been dead about one and a half hours.

Funeral services for Peters, an employee of Standard Oil Company of Texas for 27 years, were held Saturday at the graveside in Sheffield Cemetery.

Survivors include his mother, an uncle and step-father, all of Iraan.

Regan Protests Enforcement Of Land Limitation

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rep. K. E. Regan (D-Texas) Friday protested to Interior Department officials against enforcement of the 160-acre ownership limitation on Federal Reclamation Bureau projects.

He conferred with Reclamation Commissioner Michael Straus, criticizing a recent announcement of the agency that it plans to break up large land holdings in the Elephant Butte Dam Project in the El Paso area of Texas and New Mexico.

"The proposal of the Reclamation Bureau would penalize those men who have been industrious and thrifty and managed to accumulate additional lands," said Regan.

On Committee

As a member of the House Public Lands Committee, Regan asked for detailed information later as to the exact number of farms which exceed the 160-acre limitation and how much money is due the government on them.

Approximately 15 per cent of the 155,000 acres in the project is in excess holdings, owned by individuals over and above the 160 acres they are permitted to have under a law passed in 1902, the reclamation officials said.

The land is owned by 7,770 individuals, of whom approximately two-thirds live in Texas and the remainder in New Mexico. The New Mexican lands in the project, however, comprise 84,000 acres as against 67,000 in Texas.

Regan said the reclamation officials reiterated they would recognize the Texas community property laws, so that a husband and wife each could hold 160 acres.

Two Republican Senators Withdraw Opposition To Canadian River Dam Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Representative Guill (R-Texas) announced Saturday two Republican members of the Senate Interior Committee have withdrawn opposition to a bill to authorize an $85,000,000 dam on the Canadian River near Sanford, Texas, providing certain amendments are adopted.

The senators assured him, he said in a statement, that the House bill probably will be reported out of a Senate interior subcommittee Monday. It has been pending before the subcommittee for some time.

Guill said it is expected to reach the Senate floor in time for action this session.

Senators Watkins (R-Utah) and Gordon (R-Ore) authorized him to announce the conditional withdrawal of their opposition, after a conference with the two and Senator Malone (R-Nev), Guill said.

Amendments to be recommended, he explained, relate to ownership of the dam and the method of paying construction costs of the project, which would be used for flood control, irrigation and municipal water supplies for near-by towns.

Since about 90 per cent of the water from the reservoir would be used for municipal supplies rather than for irrigation, the Republican senators oppose establishment of a government utility which would put the government into the municipal public utility business, Guill said.

Opinion Is Shared
They feel, he stated, that if the government went into such business it would result in the largest nationwide bureau ever established. He shares that opinion, he added.

The senators also insist, according to Guill, that within a reasonable time after the dam is completed the ownership revert to the people of the area and that it be operated thereafter through a local district authority instead of a federal agency.

This, he said, would mean that "we would not have to pay rental on the water forever." Guill explained that the senators also insist that payment of construction cost be made annually over a period of years, being smaller during the first years of operation and larger when the projects get into full operation. He said they want a local water authority set up in the area which could hold benefiting towns responsible for payments.

Cordon and Watkins believe people of the Bend and South Plains of Texas are "at least as able as the federal bureau to operate the Canadian River Dam efficiently and economically," said Guill.

"They believe the reversion of ownership to those citizens benefiting from it will be an important step away from federal interference in local affairs," he stated.

Prince Philip Wins First Navy Command

LONDON (AP)—Princess Elizabeth's husband, Prince Philip, won his first command in the British Navy Saturday.

The Admiralty announced the tall, handsome Philip will take charge of an anti-aircraft frigate in August.

Courier circles also predicted that about the same time he would be upped from lieutenant to lieutenant commander.

Philip, 29 next month, now is first lieutenant of the Destroyer Chequers, based at Malta. He returned to active Naval duty last fall.

'Foot Health Week' Observance Opens

Stressing the fact that good feet are the foundation of good health and that the care of the feet is essential to good health and comfort, "Foot Health Week" now is being observed in Midland and throughout the nation. The observance opened Saturday and will continue through May 27.

The public health education program is sponsored annually by the National Association of Chiropractors. This event has a single prime objective—to impress on the public the important need for preventing and treating foot disorders.

Sponsors of "Foot Health Week" say that more than 72 per cent of the American people have foot ailments, with a noticeable increase in such ailments having been observed in recent years. Good posture is a part of good health and is dependent on sound feet, they say.

Simple Rules
The following simple rules are suggested:

1. Take proper daily care of your feet.
2. Wear the right kind of shoes and be sure they fit correctly.
3. Regular examination of children's feet, and shoes will prevent serious foot ailments later.

Russia Conditioning People For War With U. S., Former German Army Colonel Says

DUESSELDORF, GERMANY (AP)—A former German Army colonel just back from the Soviet Union said Saturday the Russians are conditioning their people for war with the United States.

Not only are the Russians storing food and supplies in great quantities, said Col. George Feldmann, but they are carefully schooling the people to hate and distrust the United States.

Colonel Feldmann, who was captured in Romania in 1944, said in an interview, has been the scapegoat for all of Russia's internal ills.

"If there is not enough to eat the peasants are told: 'That is America's fault.' If the crops are not good that, too, is 'America's fault.' Day by day the Russian people are schooled to think only in terms of enmity against America. Of course all the Western Allies are blamed for nearly everything, but the emphasis is placed against America.

"The Russian people think we with America will come soon. They are constantly told that the United States wants to fight Russia in order to rob her."

"I feel certain in saying that war should occur soon between America and the Soviet Union. Russian people would not be surprised."

"But from what I saw I do believe the Russians are preparing to wage a war yet."

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drugstore and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Barcetrane. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

LOST 40 POUNDS
"Before taking Barcetrane, my weight was 250 pounds. After taking seven bottles for nearly a year, I feel better, my weight is better, thanks to Barcetrane." Signed, M. L. M. Robinson, Seabrook, Texas.

Probe Of Gangsters' Investments Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Investments in legitimate business by gangsters and mobsters were proposed Saturday as an initial target for Senate crime investigators by Senator Wiley (R-Wis.).

Wiley, one of the five senators appointed to conduct a nationwide study of crime, told a reporter "many members of these big crime syndicates now are investing in utilities and other legitimate business."

Wiley said he wants the Senate crime hunters to concentrate their investigation—to "do our shooting with a good rifle and not a shotgun."

"One of the best fields," he said, is the vast amounts of money piled up by many of these criminals without paying taxes."

Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn), chairman of the crime investigators, has suggested asking President Truman for authority to examine the income tax reports of suspected members of the big crime syndicates.

Armed with $150,000 and a staff of attorneys and investigators, Kefauver has indicated that the committee will operate under wraps for several weeks before public hearings can get under way.

Senator Morris Wins Decisive Triumph Over Conservative

PORTLAND, ORE. (AP)—Oregon's Senator Wayne Morris decisively trounced conservative opposition to win Republican renomination in Oregon's primary election.

Since 1914 Republican nomination has been tantamount to election.

To those who contended he voted more often with Democrats than with Republicans, Morse promised to keep on voting "independently upon issues as I see them."

Morse defeated Dave Hoover, a former Los Angeles deputy sheriff who became a dairy farmer. He was unknown in Oregon until party conservatives led him through a campaign which Morse described as "the worst smear campaign in 25 years."

On a basis of Oregon's 2017 precincts, Morse led 64,270 to 34,417. John McBride, a House committee clerk in Washington, D. C., trailed with 8,507.

Hoover, called "a reactionary and an isolationist" by Morse, admitted "Carries Only Two"

Of the 36 counties, Hoover carried only two. Both are small counties in the central Oregon rangeland country.

Morse's big margin was in sharp contrast to his first primary campaign six years ago, when he unseated former U. S. Sen. Rufus C. Holman, 70,716 to 60,436.

The Democrats heartened by the fact that for the first time they have more registered voters than do the Republicans, are making a supreme effort this year to win control of this last GOP stronghold of the West. Oregon is the only western state to vote Republican in the 1948 presidential election.

There are more Democratic candidates than ever before, and they are after every major office, and most of the minor ones.

But most of the Democratic nominees won't be known until the last votes are counted because of close primary contests.

CIO Protest Dies As Speaker; Probe Due

PASADENA, TEXAS (AP)—School board members want to investigate a CIO protest over the naming of former Congressman Martin Dies as commencement speaker for Pasadena High School.

The board said it wants to probe into the purpose of the union's protest and determine whether the letter received from the Oil Workers International Union, Local 367, represents the views of a majority of the local's 3,000 members.

Dies is scheduled to speak here May 31.

The board may consider the protest Wednesday.

Dies, upon being advised of the union's protest, offered to withdraw his acceptance of the invitation to speak.

Advise or be forgotten.

Price Supports Cost Consumers, Says Industrialist

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—If the U. S. Government eliminated farm price supports, says a Chicago industrialist, the average American might save 15 per cent in food and clothing bills.

But a federal official defended farm supports as necessary.

Richard F. Uhlmann, president of the Uhlmann Grain Company of Chicago, said end of supports would save consumers $7,500,000,000.

"Likewise," Uhlmann added, "retail costs of clothing might be five per cent lower were it not for the maintenance of cotton linters at artificially high levels by government supports."

Frank K. Woolley, vice president of the Commodity Credit Corporation, said the purpose of supports was to try to bring agricultural economy into line with the industrial and labor economies.

Farmers want supports, Woolley declared at a conference on commodity prices and public policy sponsored by the University of Pennsylvania, "because they learned they could not stay in business long by selling on an unprotected market and buying on a protected market."

Rail Switchmen Postpone Walkout

WASHINGTON (AP)—The switchmen's union will start new wage-hour talks with 10 Western Railroads Tuesday—instead of going on strike that day, as originally scheduled.

The walkout was postponed Friday—until June 1—by Union President Arthur J. Glover, after the National Railway Mediation Board promised to begin new peace talks here this week in a last-ditch effort to break the deadlock.

The dispute affects some 6,000 switchmen in vital yard service on lines operating west of Chicago.

New Red Proposals

Two new Russian proposals, one on Berlin and one on the long-delayed Austrian peace treaty...

Never before, in all the years an Austrian treaty has been hanging fire...

As for Berlin, the Soviet Union has accepted the idea of citywide elections...

It isn't necessary to examine the full list. The Russians want all occupying powers to remove their forces from Berlin...

Freedom for "democratic" groups in all Berlin means a license to Russian-inspired Communist activities...

Like the Austrian suggestion, these conditions all are designed to weaken or eliminate western control of critical European sectors...

It's not likely the Russians expect us to take these proposals to heart. They're following their usual formula asking, as a very minimum, sacrifices they know the West can't afford to make.

The newest moves are just further threads in the skein of propaganda by which Moscow eventually hopes to have strong pro-Communist support in Germany...

In the case of Austria, the Soviet leaders apparently have no real desire to negotiate a treaty...

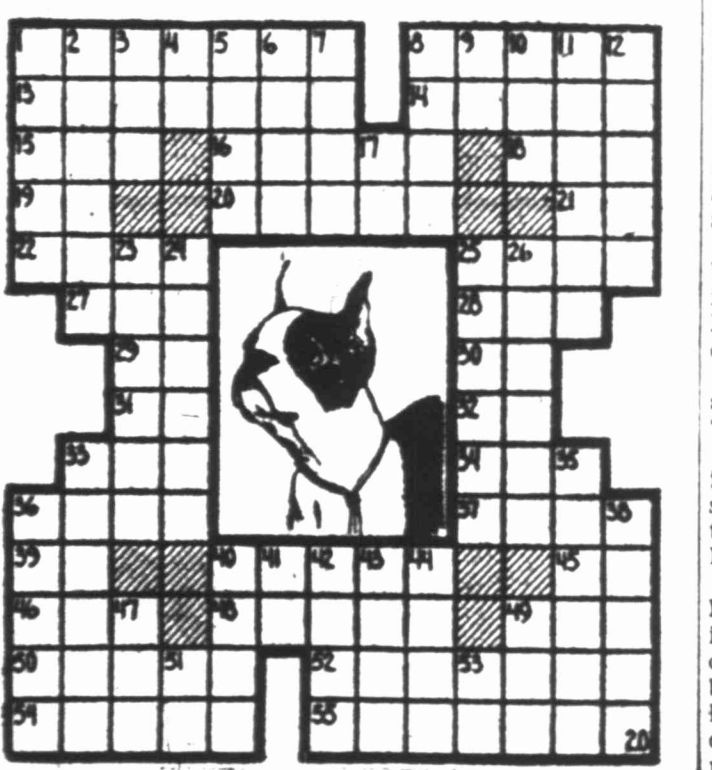

Something else to lose sleep over: The odds against getting your name in "Who's Who in America" are 1,000 to 3.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: Admiral Sherman fears strength of Russian Navy; Stuart Symington begins tough A-bomb defense program; Bob Kenny receives intimidating letter from Los Angeles Klan klegale.

WASHINGTON—Admiral Forrest Sherman has received a highly important intelligence report on the strength of the Russian Navy which has him worried.

He also has ironical evidence that three 40,000-ton battleships are being constructed at the Schdanow Yards in Leningrad...

As a result, the Navy may ask Congress for permission to de-moth-ball some of the American fleet.

Toughest Job in Washington—The National Security Resources Board—slowly is being unraveled by Stuart Symington, former secretary of Air.

Symington is one of those handsome, smooth, soft-spoken persons who remind you of a society matron's dream of a dinner companion and a maiden's dream of a dancing partner...

The job of A-bomb defense, Symington believes, will require more cooperation between the 48 states and the federal government than we have dreamed possible.

The British trained for five years before the last war to be ready for the Nazi blitz, Symington points out, and it will take a lot of community cooperation with the U. S. A. to catch up with the British.

Note—On December 21, long before Symington even was thought of for the National Resources-Civilian Defense post, the President signed an order giving the chairman chief power on the board of Cabinet members.

Monogamous Steve Early—A visitor to the Pentagon was admiring undersecretary of Defense Steve Early's efficient and attractive secretary, Dorothy Brady.

Seventeen years with one woman as secretary, "Why, that is monogamy!" "Seventeen years with one woman isn't monogamy," replied the undersecretary of Defense.

Most people have the idea that the Ku Klux Klan has flourished chiefly in the South. Actually, while it's on the wane in Georgia and Alabama, it appears to be taking new life in California.

With lower-bracket PTC officials at odds as to whether the Britannica case should be pushed or suppressed, the matter now will go to the commissioners themselves for a decision.

Kermit Lions Party Honors Roy Carter

KERMIT—Approximately 180 persons, including Kermit Lions, their wives and a number of out-of-city guests, attended a banquet here Thursday night honoring Kermit Lion Roy Carter...

Gov. James L. Daugherty of Midland, L. Cochran, deputy district governor of Odessa, and four zone chairmen were among the visitors.

Elmo Glass was master of ceremonies, introducing Noble Armstrong of Alpine, who expressed congratulations to Carter.

Former Midlander Operates Amazing 'Ranch' At Sonora

A former Midland resident, J. Wray Campbell, who now resides in Sonora in Sutton County, is written up in a recent issue of a Sonora newspaper as running close to a million head of stock...

Campbell, according to the article, went into the business a few months ago with a brood stock of 50,000 worms and 5,000 eggs.

The former Midland man is quoted as saying that one of the advantages in worm ranching is that both males and females lay eggs, thus more or less doubling production.

For shipping, worms are packed in peat moss and placed in paper cartons. Inscribed on each carton is the company motto, "We Want The Worms To Turn."

Four Midlanders To Get H-SU Degrees

ABILENE—Four students from Midland are among the 290 students who will receive degrees at Hardin-Simmons University May 29.

Caffey, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Caffey, will receive a Bachelor of Business Administration degree from the university.

Shelburne, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Shelburne, will receive a Bachelor of Arts degree. He was a member of the Midland Club, Chow Hands and president of Alpha Chi.

Wingo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wingo, will receive a Bachelor of Science degree from the university.

Students receiving degrees in five various fields will hear Dr. John Wesley Raley, president of Oklahoma Baptist University, speak at the commencement exercises.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

"You'd never get away with that play against an expert," snarled West when today's hand was played.

West opened the five of diamonds, East played the jack, and Lou won with the queen.

Lou could count four club tricks, two hearts, and two diamonds. The only suit in which he could produce the ninth trick was spades.

For this purpose, Lou led a club to dummy at the second trick. He then returned the six of spades from dummy.

So They Say War can only be stopped by the establishment of some form of world government with sufficient power and authority to keep the peace.

We would lose much of the Middle East and much of the Pacific.

In the end it will be up to our teachers to educate children on the good uses of atomic power.

Suspicious Natives Hinder U. S. Aid To Southeast Asia

By PETER EDSON WASHINGTON—Five governments of Southeast Asia now have plans and requests for technical assistance on file with the U. S. government.

Technical experts in the fields of medicine, education, agriculture, mining and engineering.

Viet Nam—Indochina—has asked for the largest assistance, about $20,000,000. The remainder has been requested by Burma, Siam, Malaya and Indonesia.

Most significant news in these disclosures is that assistance can be given to Southeast Asia for "reasonable" amounts.

There is a six-months' recruiting job ahead to find the necessary technicians. Most of the materials required are hand tools, farm tools, basic machine tools, medical supplies and similar equipment which it will take some time to ship.

This speed-up in aid to Southeast Asia comes as the State Department's sending a technical economic survey mission to the area last February.

When the mission first arrived in Viet Nam, it was greeted in one civil war-ravaged village 12 miles from Hanoi by an arch bearing signs, "Communism—Not Colonialism—Never!"

Summary reports and recommendations were sent back to the State Department as the Griffin mission completed its survey in each country.

Gov. Allan Shivers Friday afternoon approved a reprieve recommended by the State Board of Pardons and Paroles. The board made the recommendation in Austin after hearing a plea from the parents of the nine-year-old Fort Worth girl.

Ray had been scheduled to die in the electric chair early Saturday. Upon hearing he was saved temporarily from death, Ray broke down and cried.

"It certainly is wonderful," he said. "I want to thank those people from the bottom of my heart. I don't know what did it except prayer."

The child's parents asked that the death sentence be commuted to life imprisonment. The governor approved the stay by telephone from Amarillo.

Shocked And Surprised

Prison Chaplain B. G. Anderson took the word of the stay to Ray in the death cell. A few minutes later Ray agreed to see a reporter.

"I never gave up," he said. "I just got through writing my mother and sister my last letter."

Ray said he was shocked and surprised that the girl's parents had saved him. "I know my mother must be very happy," he said.

Then he wept.

Ray's mother waited in Austin until she learned the reprieve had been approved. Then she left for Huntsville.

Ray, slender, black-haired and saw-toothed, is married and has a four-year-old daughter. His wife, Mary, a native of Wisconsin, reportedly had returned to her parents' home here with the child.

'Hot Lead' In Bank Robbery Cools Off

JONESBORO, ARK. — The first "hot lead" in Jonesboro's four-day $18,000 bank robbery apparently was cooling rapidly Saturday.

Jack Charles Walden, already charged with one Arkansas bank robbery, was questioned here Friday about Jonesboro's and Lieutenant H. R. Peterson said one bank employe "positively" identified Walden as the lone robber.

But at Little Rock, officers said, six persons, including a city policeman, agreed they saw Walden there between noon Wednesday, when the robbery took place, and 2 p. m.

There was no official announcement by officers of what they considered Walden's status in the investigation.

The People's National Bank here was held up by a gunman, wearing dark-colored glasses, while four employes were the only other persons in the bank. The robber got $18,370.

Shrimp bran, ground shells and heads, is a high-protein livestock feed.

Nationalists Claim 200 Reds Wiped Out

TAIPEI, FORMOSA — Naval headquarters said Saturday Chinese Nationalists wiped out more than 200 Communist troops who landed at noon Friday on Chingchow Island in the Wanshan (Ladrone) group southwest of Hong Kong.

In Hong Kong, the independent newspapers Wah Kiu Yat Po said the Chinese Reds had seized all the Wanshan area. The Nationalists evacuated the two main islands, Lapsappei and Tungao, Friday morning.

The Nationalists said their troops, learning of the Communist landing at noon Friday, immediately launched a counter-landing. They encircled the Reds in the hills and in a four-hour battle killed all but 22 who were captured, headquarters said.

On Formosa, Nationalist generals bolstered key defense areas with troops withdrawn from Chushan. Some expect the Reds to invade Formosa before July.

Newspaper Claims Cutoff In Pilot Training Scheduled

CORPUS CHRISTI — The Corpus Christi Caller-Times, in a copyrighted story, says Washington announcement of a two-thirds cutoff in the Navy's reserve pilot training program was being withheld until after celebration of Armed Forces Day Saturday.

The Caller-Times article said that only one out of three of the 500 cadets now training at Corpus Christi and Pensacola, Fla., will receive reserve commissions because the Navy has no money to finance the two-year fleet training which was promised the cadets.

The cadets were recruited in a program which was to have replenished the Navy's reserve aviator pool. Thus, the article says, only a third of today's cadets will get the post-graduate training considered necessary for top-notch combat aviators.

The 200-odd cadets at training here were given the information yesterday, the article said.

While there was no official word from the Navy, members of the Caller-Times staff saw copies of information which was distributed to the cadets.

Freed Airman Has Lipstick-Smeared Reunion With Wife

GLENVIEW, ILL. — Marine M. Sgt. Elmer C. Bender of Cincinnati, a prisoner of the Chinese Communists for 18 months Saturday, held a lipstick smeared reunion with his pretty brunette wife, Shirley.

A mob of well wishers was on hand as his plane landed at this naval air base, but Bender grabbed his wife and their daughter, Kathy, four, and ducked back inside the plane for a greeting in private.

Then he reappeared on the ramp, holding Kathy in one arm, his other hand clasping his wife's, and his face smeared with lipstick.

"I'm overwhelmed," Bender said, beaming.

Mrs. Bender, 24, was overwhelmed too. Her husband's plane was an hour late on the trip from Burbank, Calif., and she was nervous and upset during the wait. She was given sedatives and lay down.

But when the silver, two-engine Navy plane taxied down the runway it was a different story. Holding hands with Kathy, she ran up the ramp and the three embraced.

Bender, 27, and William C. Smith, 32, of Long Beach, Calif., Navy chief electrician's mate, were seized by Chinese Communists when their small observation plane was forced down Oct. 19, 1948, near Tsingtao, then a base for the U. S. fleet in the Western Pacific. They landed just across the Chinese Nationalist lines in Red territory.

They were released May 3 at the North China port of Tsingtao.

Batting The Bull

At Spokane, Wash., President Truman pats a prize-winning bull on the nose as its owner, Ed Riser, smiles proudly. The President took time out from his whirlwind "whistle-stop" tour to award blue ribbons to junior livestock exhibitors.

Rodeo—

(Continued From Page One) Show officials said the advance ticket sale committee. Decorations also will go up in the downtown section this week. Meanwhile, plans for the actual tagging of the big annual event are nearing completion, and officials of Midland Fair, Inc., said everything will be in perfect readiness for the show's opening Wednesday, May 31. Night performances will be presented through Sunday, June 4.

Show officials said the Saturday night rains will put the grounds at Fair Park in top condition. The pasture also will put ranchers in the right frame of mind for the rodeo.

Tough Stock
The rough rodeo stock is expected to arrive here by train from Dublin, Texas, late this week. Verrett Colborn, who furnishes the stock and serves as arena director, is expected here within the next several days.

Leonard Proctor, chairman of the rodeo committee, predicted the show will be the best ever presented in West Texas. He said the world's best cowhands will be here to contest the rugged stock for cash prizes totaling more than $8,000. The specialty acts also will be the best ever seen here, he said.

Interest in the show is at a high level here and all over the Permian Basin Empire, according to Clarence Scharbauer, Jr., president of Midland Fair, Inc., who predicted previous attendance records will be smashed this year. More than 20,000 persons saw the five shows last year.

Opening Day Parade
A parade at 4 p. m. Wednesday, May 31, will open the annual celebration. Gov. Allan Shivers and Congressman Ken Regan will ride in the procession, which will be led by the Midland High School Band. The opening day has been designated "Governor Shivers' Day."

June 2 will be Texas Highway Commission Day at the rodeo, with the three members of the commission, Fred Wemple of Midland, Alvin Mitchell of Corsicana and R. F. Potts of Harlingen, scheduled to attend the rodeo that night.

William J. Murray, Jr., chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, and possibly other members of the commission will attend on June 3, Railroad Commission Day.

Big Gas Strike Made At Exploratory Well

NAVAJO, ARIZ. — A second and much larger gas strike was reported Saturday at an exploratory well four miles south of here. The gas, believed to be helium, is escaping under tremendous pressure at an estimated rate of 40,000,000 to 50,000,000 cubic feet a day.

The previous strike on May 11 was reported to have yielded 20,000,000 cubic feet daily. Company officials could not be reached immediately for comment, but townpeople said drillers who came in on the job Saturday stated the new deposit was reached at a depth of 1,056 feet.

This is only 55 feet beyond the previous strike level. The Kapling Petroleum Company is drilling the well in an attempt to find oil. Test samples of gas have been sent to the U. S. Geological Survey at Amarillo, Texas, to determine if the gas is helium.

Truman—

(Continued From Page One) mission by referring to his recent Western trip. "If that trip was a success," he said, "it was due to the fact that the President had the most efficient staff that has ever been gotten together for the purpose."

Continuing on the loyalty there, he declared: "Nobody can operate unless he has cooperation and loyalty from those who work for him. There is nothing more important than those who work in the carrying on of the government of the United States."

Reed Asks For Quick Cut In Excise Taxes

WASHINGTON — Representative Reed (R-NY) Saturday called in Congress to cut excise taxes immediately, without trying to raise additional revenue in the same bill. Otherwise, he said, there won't be any excise reduction at this session.

Reed, the ranking Republican member of the House Ways and Means Committee, criticized Democrats on the group for attempting to meet President Truman's demand for action to prevent any loss to the federal treasury in an excise-cutting bill.

Five Men Missing After Tugboat Sinks; One Swims To Shore

OPELOUSAS, LA. — One of five men missing after the tugboat James Smith sank in 100 feet of water at nearby Melville, La., shortly before midnight Friday was found a little before noon Saturday two miles downstream.

He is Lemnis Verret, pilot from New Orleans. Verret was found on the west bank of the Atchafalaya River. He was taken to the office of Dr. E. E. Merse, a Melville physician.

Dr. Merse said Verret was exhausted and had suffered abrasions and contusions of the forehead and right arm, but that he was rational and his injuries were not serious.

He told Dr. Merse he did not know what happened to the other five missing men.

Verret told the doctor he jumped from the sinking tugboat as it slipped beneath the waters of the Atchafalaya River after crashing into a bridge piling at Melville.

He struck a part of a pier extending into the river from the west bank. He said he swam in the river's strong current for some four hours during the dark night until sunrise when he struck out for the bank.

There he found a fisherman late in the morning, and they were plugging their way by foot toward Melville along the bank when a patrolling party found them.

The tugboat owners, the Oil Transport Company of New Orleans identified the missing men as: Floyd L. Ashley, an oiler from New Orleans; Timothy Cushing, a deckhand from Gretna, La.; Hagold Lynch, cook from New Orleans; Russell Randolph, pilot from Paducah, Ky.; and W. R. Weldon, master from St. Louis, Mo.

Police School To Resume Monday

A six weeks police school for all officers of the Midland Police Department will be resumed Monday with Wallace Beasley of the Texas A&M College Extension Service in charge.

The school started last month but was recessed so Beasley could attend a special course for instructors.

Midland Firemen Make Three Runs

Midland firemen extinguished three minor blazes in a period of less than an hour Saturday night. Weeds on a vacant lot in the 1900 block of West Texas caught fire, a trash fire broke out in an alley behind 2700 West Washington and a minor blaze was reported at Colts Park in the Latin American section.

THIRD BLAZE
NEW ORLEANS — Historic St. Paul's Evangelical Church, twice destroyed by fire in its 110-year existence, suffered an estimated $15,000 damage from a third blaze Saturday.

A minor traffic collision was reported at the intersection of Lee Street and East Highway 80 during the storm but no injuries were reported.

Total rainfall reported by the CAA station at Midland Air Terminal was 45 of an inch at 11 p. m. Saturday. Gulf Pipe Line Company reported 33 of an inch at its station just east of the city.

One Midlander walked and tried to run six blocks during the fury of the storm to put down the windows at his home. He found a new rug ruined by muddy water. The wind also had ripped down his awnings.

Another Midlander said he rescued a cat, which had been knocked down by the wind. The cat couldn't get up, so intense was the blowing.

It takes about 44 hours to freeze the standard 300-pound block of ice.

Hearings Expected To Lead To Higher Oil Imports Tariff

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Neely (D-W Va) said Saturday he expects Senate hearings starting Monday to lead to higher tariffs against imported oil.

He heads a labor subcommittee that will investigate causes of "increasing unemployment" in the coal, oil, railroad, silver, zinc and lead industries.

First witnesses will include Thomas Kennedy, vice president of the United Mine Workers, and Dan T. Buckley of the National Coal Association.

Neely, who proposed the investigation, said "a destructive flood of imported oil" had thrown thousands out of work in the coal and railroad industries and the domestic oil industry.

He told a reporter he thought testimony would show the need to raise import duties on foreign oil and expressed hope this would be done by executive action.

But he said that, if necessary, he would press for legislation at this session to raise tariff rates on oil.

Winds Cause—

Sheet metal and lumber were peeled from the Chambers Lumber Company's building in South Midland.

Outhouses in the Latin American and negro sectors were tumbled over.

Shingles were peeled from roof tops all over the city and sent flying in the air. Shingles were standing up on many roof tops as if drawn out of place by a huge magnet.

Midland had power failures intermittently for 45 minutes during the height of the storm. Some areas were without lights longer than others.

A tree was down in the 100 block of West Tennessee Street and blocked part of a street and alley. The fence and neon sign of a drive-in theater, The Texan, were damaged. Letters were ripped off of theater marquees in downtown Midland.

"Little Tornado"
"A little tornado" was reported north of Midland but this report was not confirmed.

The dustier attack was terrific. It was visible to less than half a block. When large raindrops fell during it, there were mud balls.

The winds sent garbage cans spinning down the streets. Some crashed into houses and some smashed into automobiles.

As the blast hit, citizens scurried for shelter. Headlights of automobiles cut the dust as persons caught out hurried home.

Midland's old standbys, the tumbling trees, again were sent rolling and tumbling by the boiling winds.

The Reporter-Telegram was besieged with telephone calls about "the storm."

Most persons were of the opinion there had been a "tornado" somewhere and Midland caught the after blast.

Hail At Seminole
But no tornado was reported in this immediate area. High winds blew dust in a wide Permian Basin area. Oil pipe line companies reported a one-inch rain and hail at Seminole with some windows blown out. High winds were reported at Fullerton and Kermit. The blasting wind leveled a fence at the Odessa Oilers baseball park. Odessa reported heavy dust and near-zero visibility. Heavy hail was reported at Coahoma. Trailer houses and small residences were buffeted by the wind at Odessa.

During power stoppage, telephone operators worked with emergency lights. The Western Clinic-Hospital had its emergency lights ready for use.

A minor traffic collision was reported at the intersection of Lee Street and East Highway 80 during the storm but no injuries were reported.

Total rainfall reported by the CAA station at Midland Air Terminal was 45 of an inch at 11 p. m. Saturday. Gulf Pipe Line Company reported 33 of an inch at its station just east of the city.

Walks After 'Miracle'

Sister Beatrice, above, 39-year-old crippled Catholic nun at Parell, India, a suburb of Bombay, was reported miraculously cured after seeing the statue of the Catholic Saint, Our Lady of Fatima, next to which she is standing. On seeing the statue, Sister Beatrice was said to write in her wheel chair and then stand up and walk. Roman Catholic authorities view the reported faith-cure with caution.

Newsboy Praised For Saving 20 Lives

DALLAS — (AP) — A husky, 18-year-old Dallas News carrier led firemen to a gas-filled East Dallas apartment house in the dark of Saturday's early thundershowers and won credit for saving 20 lives.

The vibration of thunder Friday night loosened a rubber gas hose. It seeped for four hours in a ground-floor apartment.

Carrier Tom Bradley heard the noise of leaking gas when he reached the house on his morning route. He drove his motor scooter to Fire Station No. 8, Carroll and Live Oak, and returned with a squad led by Capt. H. L. Gates.

The firemen roused 20 sleeping tenants and warned them against turning on lights. All were evacuated.

Gates said the gas was strong enough in eight of the building's 12 apartments to explode at the turn of a light switch.

Mitchell—

"The State Highway Commission has been struck at many times, but has always tried to perform its duties to Texas as a whole, believing that the right of the masses is worthy of our most careful consideration."

"If you will take a Texas highway map and draw a line from the southeast corner of New Mexico to the Oklahoma-Texas state line in the bend of the Red River at Vernton, then draw another red line east and west extending the south boundary line between Winkler, Ward, Crane, Midland and Upton east to the Louisiana line—and west to the Texas-Mexico border near Clint in El Paso County, you will have this area in a funnel shape covering a large portion of Texas—a population of approximately 2,800,000 people—who would most likely use the most direct highway in going west to El Paso and the California Pacific area."

"Approximately 2,800,000 Texans would be better served by our highways if this cutoff were constructed. Reduced Distance

"The distance of travel would be greatly reduced, and the present congested traffic on portions of U. S. 80 would be partially relieved. This is an economic factor that you fail to mention in your letter to Commissioner Potts, and is one deserving of your study."

"In this area you would have much of the development of the oil industry in the counties of Jones, Fisher, Kent, Scurry, Borden, Dawson, Martin, Ector, Winkler and other counties."

"The people living in this area would have a more direct route to El Paso and the California Pacific Coast area."

"I can assure you it is not the desire of the Highway Commission to hurt or injure any community or locality. We build for the present and future industrial and rural development of the great State of Texas."

"I am enclosing a marked map in order that you may follow the above discussion."

Power Show—

The observance took the place of the separate Army, Navy and Air Force Days celebrated in previous years. The merged celebration was in line with the program of military unification.

President Truman sounded the keynote of preparedness—to deter aggression when he declared America's armed forces are being developed to maintain peace and because "there are certain people in the world who only understand the fist."

Keeping the peace requires "the necessary forces in the hands of honest civilians," he added in a speech Friday night.

Truman spoke out again for universal military training which Congress repeatedly has ignored since he urged it in October, 1945. If it had been set up then, there would be no cold war now, the President contended.

Midlanders Saturday observed a quiet first Armed Forces Day.

About the only reminder of the day was a display of warfare equipment exhibited by Midland's National Guard unit and the U. S. Army and Air Force Recruiting Service. The display was located on the east side of the courthouse square.

An M-24 light tank and a two and one-half ton cargo truck were parked along the curb. On the lawn were several modern weapons which are used in drills by the National Guard unit here.

Sgt. I-C Shely Wheelus, head of the Army and Air Force recruiting station here, had a display of literature, publicizing the branches of service he represents.

Members of the Midland National Guard Company E, 112th Cavalry Regiment L, donned their uniforms for the day and showed their modern warfare devices to curious onlookers.

Clay tiles decorated with family coats-of-arms or symbolic representations of sports or hobbies are an increasingly popular means of giving individuality to the fireplace.

Eight B-36 Bombers Salute Cities On Armed Forces Day

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Eight giant B-36, largest bombers in the world and potential A-bomb carriers, were scattered across the United States Saturday in flights over as many cities as daylight hours permitted them to salute on Armed Forces Day.

Several were delayed in their takeoff from Carswell Air Base here, home of 8th Air Force Headquarters and the 7th Bombardment Wing, by a terrific electrical storm and downpour.

The first ship, away at 12:09 a. m., by midafternoon was over Kalamazoo, Mich., and had expected also to fly over Cleveland, Toledo, Detroit, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Utica, South Bend, Fort Wayne, Indianapolis and St. Louis.

A second, off at 6:37 a. m., flew over El Paso, Albuquerque, Denver, Cheyenne and Salt Lake City and was expected also to make its appearance over Spokane and Seattle.

Position Reported
A third plane, leaving at about the same hour, planned to fly over New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk, Atlanta and Montgomery. It reported its position at 4:30 p. m., over Roanoke, Va.

Another which left here at 9:30 a. m., expected to fly over Louisville, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Columbus and Washington, D. C.

Minor troubles beset the other four. One got away at noon for a route to take it over Texarkana, Fort Smith, Oklahoma City and Kansas City.

A sixth took off at 1:24 p. m., planning to fly over Houston, Beaumont, New Orleans, Mobile, Tampa and Miami.

The seventh, also belated, headed for Tucson, Phoenix and Los Angeles and if daylight permitted planned to dip low over San Francisco.

The eighth and last, off at 4 p. m., (CST) was crowding its daylight schedule as planners hoped it could be seen over Omaha, Sioux City, Des Moines and Chicago.

All eight planes were expected to go on and fly 25-hour training missions before landing again at Carswell some time Sunday.

PLAINVIEW — (AP) — Frank R. Day of Plainview resigned Saturday as a trustee of Wayland College here because of the college's new rule against smoking.

Day, who smokes, said he believed the ban would "materially affect Wayland adversely."

IDENTIFICATION MADE
HOUSTON — (AP) — Tentative identification was made Saturday for a woman who died Thursday night after being found critically ill in a hotel here. Homicide Detective C. L. Phillips said it is believed the woman was Carolyn Evans, who had come here from New Iberia, La., to visit her nine-year-old son.

There are 28,000,000 acres of public domain timber and wood land in the U. S.

Winnipeg's Flood Situation Improved

WINNIPEG, MANITOBA — (AP) — The Red River, whose rampaging waters have flooded nearly a fifth of greater Winnipeg, Saturday showed its first drop—a half-inch. Experts hoped that at last it was the beginning of a gradual draining off. The flood level stood at 90.3 feet.

Although the water still was at record height for the century, hopes were spurred by bright sunshine and a forecast that threatened rainstorms from the United States would not materialize. Officials said the "situation looks good."

Colorado, Mother of Waters, has exactly 13,022 miles of trout streams and 2,311 trout lakes which are free and open to public fishing.

Cub Scouts of Den 3, Pack 6 of West Elementary School present 800 books they have gathered and repaired to E. L. Jordan, principal of the Carver School. These books will go into the new school library. Pictured, first row, left to right, are Jerry Fitzgerald, Bill Statton and Nolan Dunnam, denner, handing a book to Jordan. Cub Scout Den Collects Books For Carver School

Choosing community service work as their major project, members of Den 3 of Cub Scout Pack 6 have ended their year by collecting more than 800 books for the Carver School. These books will be the nucleus of the school's new library. They presented the books to E. L. Jordan, Carver School principal, Tuesday. Scout activities for the year ended officially at a Pack meeting Thursday night. Activities of the den have included construction projects, trips to various points of interest in Midland, numerous cookouts and an all-day journey to Big Spring. Mrs. Bob Duffield and Mrs. Laurence F. Lees are den mothers. Members are Jerry Fitzgerald, Bill Statton, Nolan Dunnam, Don Henderson, David Duffield, Kenneth Newton, Kurt Von Osinski, Bill Lees, Jarrell Bolton, Jean Paul Scott and Joe Griffith. Have Advanced In September, all boys in the den had the title of "Wolf" lowest rank in Cub Scouting. Now, all except Billy Statton have become "Bears" and "Lions" and received their Webelos badges, highest Cub Scout honor Thursday. Next September they will become Boy Scouts. Billy Statton is two years too young to become a Boy Scout and for that reason only he will remain in Den 3 until he passes age requirements for promotion. Jack Crockett, Joe Koegler, John Redfern, Jr., and Bobby Smith have been graduated from Cub Scouting during the year. The den had a choice of a community service, home service or den service for its major project. After selecting the book project under community service, members began mapping out specific territories in which to work. They began the collection work about two months ago and since then have gathered and repaired the 800 books, about one-half of which come under the class of children's literature. Another highlight of the year was

Sheriff Set To Fight WU Damage Suit

EL PASO — (AP) — Sheriff Joe Campbell says he is ready to fight a $75,000 damage suit filed against him by Western Union for snipping the company's wires to an Anapra, N. M., race news service. The company Friday also asked a federal court injunction to prevent Campbell from carrying out a threat to cut the wires each time they are restored. "I suppose they will be granted a temporary injunction," Campbell said Thursday night. "But I don't believe there is a federal court in the land which would give them a permanent injunction." He said he would fight the suit with all the means at his disposal. Campbell sent a deputy up a pole just this side of the New Mexico border last Saturday night to cut the wires. Besides Campbell, the suit filed Friday named County Attorney Ernest Guinn, Assistant County Attorney William C. Collins and Deputy Sheriff Earl C. Hammock as defendants.

Girl Slashed Fatally With Butcher Knife; Suspect Is Arrested

CHICAGO — (AP) — Police reported that a man told them he grabbed a butcher knife, "went out looking for a girl" and fatally slashed a 16-year-old high school junior returning home from a church social program Saturday. Andrew W. Aitken, Chicago's chief of detectives, said Raymond Jenko, 19, on probation for burglary, made an oral statement that he slew the girl. The victim, Patricia Swartz, a pretty brunette, was slashed, beaten and stabbed at the rear doorstep of her South Side home. She screamed and put up a terrific struggle. But when her father, William, 40, a truck driver, and her brother, Edward, 15, rushed outside they found her unconscious and stabbed nine times. Her assailant was gone. Aitken said Jenko gave this version orally: He obtained a butcher knife at his home, stuck it in his belt and went out looking for a girl—any girl. The first girl he saw was Miss Swartz. He came up to her from behind and attacked her with the knife. She was not raped. The girl's finger nails were broken, indicating she had clawed her attacker in a desperate attempt to save her life. Her fight, police said, led to Jenko's arrest. He was picked up for questioning when he appeared at Englewood Hospital, seeking treatment for cuts and scratches.

Fraser Featured In 'Philnews'

T. A. "Slick" Fraser of Midland, oil scout for Phillips Petroleum Company, is featured in the May issue of "Philnews," company magazine of Phillips.

In a four-page spread with pictures, the magazine covers the tremendous job of keeping abreast of drilling activity in the 142,000 square miles in the Permian Basin. This job for Phillips is handled by Slick and three other company scouts.

Slick was picked out of the 28 Phillips scouts to be featured in the magazine. He was described as having the prime virtue of an oil scout: knowing how to make people talk, how to listen, and how to "weed-out" passing conversation into usable drilling news.

Slick each Wednesday attends the all-day session of the Midland scout check, where 78 scouts, representing 36 oil companies, exchange information.

An example was given of Slick's ingenuity, when recently he acquired information on an extra "tight well" which enabled the company to make a profitable business venture.

Slick, his wife, Mildred, and two children, Carol and Thomas, live at 1804 West Kentucky.

Stanolind Oil Invites Public To Inspect Plant Facilities

The South Fullerton gasoline plant, located 17 miles northwest of Andrews, will be open for inspection by the public Sunday, from 2 to 5 p. m., announced C. J. Tighe, plant superintendent.

The plant, operated by Stanolind Oil and Gas Company for the group of 15 owners, will carry on normal operations during the open house. Plant staff will guide visitors through the installation and explain its operation. Refreshments will be served following the tours.

The wishing to inspect the plant may reach it over Ranch Road 87.

The South Fullerton plant was built to process casinghead gas produced in the Fullerton field and is one of the newest gasoline plants of its type to be opened in this area of West Texas. While the plant's processing equipment is designed to process about 55 million cubic feet of gas daily, its compressor installation at present can handle only 38 million cubic feet when operating at 38 million cubic feet rate, it can recover 80,000 gallons of propane, 50,000 gallons of butane and 50,000 gallons of natural gasoline every 24 hours. ## Importers See Domestic Production Nearing '48 Peak Before End Of Year

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON.—Crude oil importers have no objections on schedule but they think domestic production may approach its 1948 peak by the end of the year.

Texas officials, taking the importers at their word, have made it clear the state intends to claim its share of the anticipated increase.

They have warned a 140,000-barrel daily hike ordered for Texas' June crude production allowances may be only a beginning.

The State's June allowable is 2,366,376 barrels daily, considerably above the 1,871,938 average of last July when a seventh consecutive cutback became effective.

But Texas officials and operators think the June allowable still is too far below the 2,717,019 barrel peak of early December 1948.

This became evident last week after the Texas Railroad Commission heard top executives of 12 major oil importing companies testify to plans for the balance of the year.

The commission, in calling the executive to Austin, indicated they are tired of being caught in the middle in the argument over imports.

Blame Is Placed

Texas law charges the commission with limiting crude production to market demand. Most operators have Corporation, blame for the sharp production cutbacks on foreign oil replacing domestic output.

Most of the importers advised the commission:

1. Foreign oil imports are not hurting the domestic industry.

2. No increase can be expected in imports the balance of the year.

3. Texas could stand from one to three additional production days in view of increased domestic demand.

Eugene Holman, president of Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) predicted a sharp increase in demand for domestic crude.

By the end of the year, he said, demand east of the Rocky Mountains will be 400,000 barrels a day higher than the January-April daily average.

S. A. Svanerud, president of Gulf Oil Corporation, thinks the problem is solving itself.

He said:

"With overall demand for oil on the upgrade, it may be anticipated with considerable confidence the so-called import problem is undergoing a natural solution."

Warning Is Sounded

He warned government interference with this solution would weaken the strength, the oil economy.

There was indication in Washington Congress would be most happy to see the problem solve itself.

A House Interstate Commerce subcommittee which has been studying petroleum imports advised Congress, in effect, to wait and see what happens.

It was Ernest O. Thompson, senior member of the Texas Railroad Commission, who warned that Texas will seek its full share of any anticipated demand increases.

He said Texas can increase its output in July and again in August "if the market demand develops as forecasted."

"Texas easily can move up three more days in daily production without taking more than its fair share of the nation's market demand," he said.

Backing his comments with statistics, Thompson said Texas has 56 per cent of the nation's oil reserves but now is producing only about 41 per cent of domestic crude output.

Stanolind To Drill Ellenburger Zone Wildcat In SE Lea

HOBBES, N. M.—Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 2 Federal-Leonard is to be a 12,000-foot wildcat to explore the Ellenburger in Southeast Lea County.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 12-268-37e. Operations are to start at once.

The prospector is diagonally across the section from Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Federal-Leonard, drilled several years ago which had some production in the Ellenburger.

That well produced for a short time and was then abandoned as a non-profitable exploration after the petroleum yield declined to practically nothing.

Extension Completed

Stanolind No. 2-A Foster has been completed as an extension to the Nadine field in Central-East Lea County. The well is producing from the Drinkard, lower Permian lime, the pay formation in the Nadine field.

It was located 660 feet from south and west lines of section 22-193-35e. On official potential test it flowed 103 barrels of 41-gravity oil, in 24 hours through a 16 5/8-inch tubing choke.

Gas-oil ratio was 1,722-1. Flowing tubing pressure was 200 pounds. Casing pressure was 650 pounds. The production came from open hole between 7,300 feet and the total depth at 7,607 feet. The 5 1/2-inch casing is cemented at 7,290 feet. The pay formation had been treated with a total of 6,500 gallons of acid.

Continental Oil Company No. 1-S-A-29 Warren unit is a new exploration for the Warren-McKee field in Central-East Lea County. It is slated to drill to 9,200 feet to try to develop production in the McKee sand of the Simpson.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 20-208-35e. Drilling is to begin immediately.

Lea Wildcat Plugged

James D. Irwin No. 1 Phillips-State, wildcat in Central-West Lea County, in the undeveloped region between the Maljamar and the Vacuum fields, and 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 26-178-33e, has been abandoned and plugged as a failure in the San Andres-Permian lime.

It bottomed at 4,696 feet. Top of the San Andres was at 4,595 feet. Elevation was 4,143 feet. The section at 4,690-96 feet had some shows of oil and it was treated with a total of 10,500 gallons of acid.

In four days of testing the well produced only small amounts of oil and operators ordered it abandoned.

Vilas P. Sheldon No. 1 Amerada-State, about two miles south of the Lynch field in the north side of the southwest quarter of Lea County, has also been listed as a failure.

It was located 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 13-213-33e. It drilled to a total depth of 4,018 feet in Permian lime and sand. No shows of possible production were encountered.

Bough Stepout Deepens

Magnolia No. 1-H Federal-Walker, stepout from Pennsylvanian lime production in the Bough field of Northeast Lea County, and 660 feet from south and 643 feet from west lines of section 6-65-36e, had reached 9,903 feet in the Pennsylvanian and was coring deeper.

The section between 9,837 feet and 9,903 feet had shown a little oil and a large amount of salt water. A heavy gas flow had been developed along with the oily water.

L. G. Petering No. 1 Federal is to be a 3,300-foot wildcat in Southeast Lea County to explore the Delaware. The location is approximately three miles east of the town of Red Bluff.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 4-268-29e. Drilling is to start Sunday.

Oil Is Where You Find It

Osborn Of Midland Addresses PE Club At Dallas Meeting

DALLAS —W. M. Osborn of Midland, addressed the Dallas Petroleum Engineers Club at its luncheon meeting Friday at the Hotel Adolphus.

His talk, entitled, "Improved Acidizing Techniques," dealt with the early history, present developments, and future needs of the acidizing industry. Osborn pointed out that where acidizing once was done haphazardly, it is now becoming a highly specialized business.

More Planning He emphasized the fact that operators are more and more planning their overall well completion programs to gain the most from their acidizing jobs.

"The biggest advance," he stated, "has been the advent of controlled acidizing. The real gain here is not so much the tools themselves but the knowledge that has been gained in the broad techniques of acidizing."

Utilizing drawings and charts, Osborn depicted case histories of wells that might have been abandoned under old methods, but which by the application of controlled acidizing have become producers.

Discussed Improvements Osborn concluded with a discussion of the improvements that have been made in the additive agents for acid and probable future developments in these chemicals and acidizing tools.

Osborn is manager of the geological and engineering departments of The Western Company, oilwell acidizing and perforating concern, with headquarters in Midland.

Drilling activity in the Permian Basin of West Texas and Southeast New Mexico held at a steady rate during the period between May 1 and May 15, according to the latest survey of Reed Roller Bit Company active rotary rigs.

The region had 541 active rigs on May 15, the same number which were operating in the two-state area on May 1.

The total of that item on May 15, 1949 was 348 active rotary rigs, which was 192 less than the total figure on the latest tabulation.

Scurry Off One On May 15, 1950 there were 199 active rigs in Scurry County. That was a decrease of one from the 200 strings of tools which had been working in Scurry County on May 1 of this year.

There were 12 active rotary rigs in Borden County and six strings of tools running in Kent County on May 15.

The Reed report indicated that there were 24 active rotary rigs in the Midland and Northwest Upton Counties, about 30 miles southwest of the city of Midland, on May 15.

There were five active rotary rigs in the Tex-Harvey field in Central-East Midland County on May 15.

Washington Oil—

Old Line Prophets Of 'Oil Shortage' Climb Back Into Saddle; Advocate Controls

WASHINGTON—The old line prophets of "oil shortage" may be climbing back into the saddle again, after years of enforced silence.

In the distress of the coal and oil industries of America, now complaining of excessive imports of oil, they see a vehicle that may permit them to advocate their ideas.

The ideas add up to one thing: government controls over coal, oil and natural gas.

One veteran alarmist, who for decades has been crying "We are running out of oil," now is going the rounds of private groups to sell his ideas. A Bureau of Mines "expert" in the Interior Department and a petroleum economist, he also teaches one class a week at a major Eastern university.

Here's what this member of an educated, influential and pessimistic group, rarely familiar with the practical workings of the oil industry, is telling government policy makers.

"The United States has only 20 years supply of oil within her borders," he says. "No ands. No buts. The 'expert' makes no allowance for the discovery of the new Scurry County or new Alberta's. Twenty years and then we are through."

What can be done? "We should import all the minerals we can," including such "scarce" ones as petroleum, manganese, chrome, tin, iron, cobalt, copper, lead and zinc, he says.

"This can be done without undue strain upon the national budget or the national economy. Some of the imports can be stored, others used in commercial enterprise, while domestic minerals are saved."

In the increasing level of oil imports, this "expert" sees proof that America is becoming a "have not" nation in petroleum. He fails to mention that we have one million barrels daily of shut in producing capacity. He fails to mention the diamond of independent producers against the "flood" of oil coming in.

"In petroleum, we see the handwriting on the wall," he says. "The prospects are that we will be in hot war within a few years. . . we should organize furiously. . . on the concept that we will be in that war."

If petroleum supply has improved over the world, "we are not out of the woods." For one thing, foreign petroleum would not be available in a war. For another, the long range picture is "dark."

By implication, he approves the coal industry's drive toward "artificial restrictions" upon the use of oil and natural gas for heating. He also advocates that Congress should carve out a "National Minerals Resources Policy."

If questioned about the many forecasts that we are running out of oil, which have been heard since the start of the century, this planner is undismayed. "Now, we have explored virtually all of the nation's oil," he says. "Now we can talk with authority." He adds that the U. S. had 100 billion barrels of petroleum. We've used half of it already. Further on the dim side, he says the idealists offer less oil than have been anticipated.

The prospect of synthetic petroleum, produced from oil shale and coal, offers little solution, he adds. "It's almost competitive to produce petroleum from oil shale and coal," he admits, but "that would mean using up our coal, which is a chief source of our minerals strength."

Anyway, he says, we haven't got the coal supplies we thought we had. A recent survey of Pennsylvania supplies shows only enough for 150 years. That's about one-tenth what we had thought from earlier estimates.

Power From Sun "I'd prefer a gigantic effort, something on the order of what we are doing for atomic energy, to try to get power from the sun," he says. If this "expert" is arguing that there's not enough coal to support a longtime synthetic petroleum industry, that appears to be disregarding all the agreed facts for some purpose not explained.

It also it at odds with another of his chief arguments that we are using up our oil too rapidly. For to support that contention, he relies upon the "highest" estimates available for coal supplies, one which says 95 per cent of our mineral energy lies in the coal beds, while only five per cent of our energy is in oil and natural gas. Yet, he says, we rely upon oil and gas for more than half our energy, coal for less than half.

While this man shies away from making statements on the record, his views are being drafted right now into the Secretary of the Interior to go to various congressional committees. The committees have asked Interior's views on pending legislation to create a National Fuels Commission.

If this planner has his way, the American oil industry would be put out of existence as it now is known; there would be rigid limitations upon the use of petroleum; there would be price, production, refining and distribution controls; here would be control by the government of the uses to which petroleum might be put; there would be control of profits all down the line in the oil industry from crude production to the gasoline service station.

If anyone thinks this "expert" is an isolated case, the facts are otherwise. Any Washington observer can name a dozen leaders with the same kind of thinking in government; he can point out a score or more fellow-travelers in this drive to "break up" the oil industry as a private enterprise.

MGS To See Aerial Pictures And Elect Officers On Tuesday

The Midland Geological Society will have a "doubled-barrelled" program at its Tuesday luncheon meeting. That session will be the last of the group until September.

F. H. McGuigan will exhibit series of aerial photographs Central and Northwest New Mexico, and new officers for the year will be elected.

The McGuigan pictures are color slides which show various geological features of the New Mexico territories.

The officers to be elected at Tuesday meeting will assume the duties when the organization resumes activities in the Autumn after being inactive during the Summer months.

Change Of Policy Election of officers at the Spring meeting represents a change in the policy of MGS from that formerly followed when the officers were selected at the end of the calendar year.

The change has been made in order to give the new officers time during the Summer months to plan the program for the school during their administration.

L. E. (Ed) Patterson, president of the organization, will preside at Tuesday session. The program will be in charge of Paul H. Kolm.

Meeting Of AIME Is Scheduled For Tuesday At Odessa

Hill Prince Easy Winner in Preakness

BALTIMORE — (AP) — Hill Prince and Eddie Arcaro ran away with the 74th Preakness Saturday in Pimlico, Md., whipping the field in the bargain.

The powerful bay colt from the Dominion took the lead going to the backstretch of the ancient race course. Those in the lead crowd of 26,599 who had resented him the odds-on favorite or had another worry.

Hill Prince opened up a three-length lead as Arcaro hustled him on a pony express rider fleeing the Indians.

The finish of the mile and a half race was a classic. Christy's stubby-tailed son of Acquilino - Hildene was five lengths ahead of Middleground, beat Hill Prince in the derby weeks ago.

Whitney entry, was fourth, along six lengths back of stablemate.

The track was officially labeled "w" after three days of rain which ended Friday, and the time was a fair 1:59 1/5 coming the conditions.

Capot set track record of 1:56 1/2 in winning the Preakness over a fast last year.

Hill Prince, who beat Middleground in the Wood Memorial, then in the Withers mile after his victory, was the favorite in the mutuels with $3.40 straight $2.40 to place.

Intra-Squad Tilt Thursday

The Midland Bulldogs will lay off the rough stuff most of this week as they prepare for the annual Spring game scheduled Thursday night under the lights at Memorial Stadium. The tilt will send the Purple against the White in a regulation game.

Coach Tugboat Jones has promised to pick teams which will be evenly matched and will give the fans a good show. He already has matched the tentative lineups in a scrimmage session and the score turned out 21 to 20.

The Bulldogs have their enthusiasm up for the tilt and a real preview of next Fall's squad will be given. The boys sometimes scrap harder against their own teammates than they do against opponents.

Regular Game Conditions. Programs, regular officials, regulation time, score board and announcer will give the game a complete air of real football contest.

Coach Jones has indicated he will let Coaches Red Rutledge and Audrey Gill run the ball clubs. He will take to the press box to get a look at his offense and defense in action.

The Midland High School Band and cheering sections for both teams will be on hand to furnish pep and entertainment.

All football fans are urged to attend the game and support the Bulldogs. An admission price will be charged to help defray expenses of the tilt.

THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, MAY 21, 1960—11

Midland Is Site For NBC Semi-Pro Baseball Tourney

Midland has been designated by the National Baseball Congress as the site for a district semi-pro baseball tournament June 24 and 25 and July 1 and 2. The tourney will be held at Indian Park with both afternoon and night games scheduled.

Shorty Shelburne, sports editor of The Reporter-Telegram, has been named district commissioner for the event.

Teams throughout West Texas will be invited to enter the meet and battle for the right to enter the state tournament for West and North Texas.

Teams which will be invited include Kermit, Big Lake, Forsan, Marfa, Pecos, Jal. N. Knott, Snyder, Alpine, Coahoma, the Midland Colts and Joe's Gulf of Midland.

If any of these teams cannot participate an invitation will be extended to other teams in the area.

The winner of the tournament is guaranteed a trip to the state tournament which will be staged late in July. The runner-up, third and fourth place teams will receive a trophy.

The championship trophy has been ordered and will be on display in downtown Midland this week.

Elaborate ceremonies are planned for the opening of the tournament with a noted guest speaker to be on the program. The meet will start at 1 p.m. July 24. Four games will be played the first day and two games each of the other days.

The tournament will draw to Midland some of the outstanding ball players in the state who are below the professional ranks. Many of them will be players who once were in pro ball.

The tournament will be established as an annual event here. It will be developed into one of the biggest baseball shows in West Texas.

Early Hit
He has a stable of eight young white boxers now and says it is just about the smallest he ever had. He once had 28 boxers under control.

Basco's fighters have appeared the world over, fighting in Europe, Africa and the Western countries, including Japan.

In fact, Basco was the first American manager ever to send a fighter to Japan. It was years ago when he dispatched a fighter to the land of the Rising Sun.

Basco never has managed a champion but he has managed fighters who have whipped champions in non-title bouts.

Joe Simonich, the best fighter he ever handled, whipped Guy Dundee and Pete Latzo, who was welter champ-at-the-time.

Simonich was the first boxer ever to knock down Mickey Walker.

Basco handled Chuck Burns of San Antonio who, he believes, is one of the greatest fighters ever to emerge from Texas.

Burns could have made a champion if he had followed the right and narrow and kept the right attitude," the veteran fight handler, said.

Basco opened his boxing gym in Johannesburg, South Africa, and has continued to send fighters there more than 30 years. He paved the way with good boys, giving good fights.

A son of the Basco's, older than Quentin, recently returned from Johannesburg, where he handled his father's boxers in bouts with some of the leading fighters in all weights.

Even though the family includes seven girls along with the two boys, the Bascos are a sporting group.

Quentin's father is a boxing man but he is just as interested in seeing his son succeed in baseball as he is in having one of his fighters win a title.

Mrs. Basco is more interested in baseball, apparently. She wouldn't hear of one of the boys taking up boxing.

Giants Sweep Twin Bill With Cincinnati

Demos Still Reign As Baseball Kings, Thanks To Texan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democrats still are the kings of the congressional baseball world, and one of the reasons is a courageous Texan who wears a boot to cover his artificial foot.

Friday night the Democrats breezed by the Republicans 8-4 for their third straight victory in their annual contest.

And getting a lot of applause from the 4,000 fans was Representative Teague (D-Texas) who answers to the nickname of "Tiger."

The first two balls hit went in Teague's direction. He grabbed the ball each time and threw the runner out.

He also was the middle man in a snappy double play, one of the few in congressional baseball history. To round out a perfect night, he beat out a hit, quite a triumph for a guy who lost a foot in the Battle of the Bulge.

Longhorn League—Indians Lose In Ninth; Odessa Is Defeated By 27-25

By The Associated Press
It was fourth down, one to go and Odessa needed two points to tie the game when the whistle blew. At least that's probably what some 2,000 fans at Odessa thought Friday night as they watched the Odessa Oilers drop a 27-25 decision to Roswell in a Longhorn League baseball game.

Just about everything happened. Each team used six pitchers. There were 13 errors . . . passed balls . . . wild throws, and passed balls . . . an ejected player.

Ray Knoblauch, Odessa pitcher, was ousted when in a moment of frustration he hurled the ball to the ground.

San Angelo got some good hurling to take a double header from Ballinger 2-1 and 9-1. Jimmy Price and Jimmy McClure turned in the wins for San Angelo. Big Spring came out of its slump long enough to score five runs in the ninth inning and down Midland 5-4.

Vernon outlasted Sweetwater 13-12, pushing across two runs in the bottom of the ninth.

Oil Imports Unite Solons of Texas, Other States

WASHINGTON — (AP)— Heavy shipments of foreign oil into this country have allied Texas and many eastern senators who usually are at odds on social, political and economic issues.

Explanation: The oil is being used in industries which have been traditional coal users. Labor leaders say it is an exchange that took place in the Senate recently between the veteran Texas Senator Connally and Senator Mat-Neely, West Virginia Democrat. "Let me assure the senator it is my hope that my remarks help not only West Virginia but also Texas oil. I am sorry the senator is critical of the industry which has, and always has had, more than its share of publicity. "I am asking the senator a question. I am trying to get something. I am a poor formed, ignorant fellow. "I would not permit one of my senator's enemies to say that to me."

Connally: "I thank the senator. I am glad to see that the senator of West Virginia will say some-thing in behalf of Texas. Did not the senator vote against the gas bill?"

Mat-Neely: "Kerr bill to exempt inde-pendent gas-producing companies from FPC jurisdiction. "Yes, against the gas bill monopoly but not against the Kerr bill."

Connally: "So, the senator votes for Texas on everything except the gas bill. He thinks he can help coal, but not Texas?"

Mat-Neely: "Mr. President, of course, the senator is mistaken. I have voted consistently for Texas and consistently voted for the coal and prosperity of Texas."

Connally: "Texas cotton, and many other things in which that truly state has been vitally interested. "All American people do not live in West Virginia. "No, they do not, but many do live in Texas. All Americans do not live in Texas, but I never turn a deaf ear to a call for help simply because it is not within the border of the vast state known as the Lone Star."

Mat-Neely: "The Capital Building mayor of Bastrop, Dr. J. Bryson, has been here plug-ging for selection of his hometown for the proposed new Air Force site."

Connally: "I have talked with Senators Connally Lyndon B. Johnson and with Homer Thornberry, then dis-cussed the matter with AF officials."

Dodgers Win Two; Take League Lead

BROOKLYN — (AP)— The Brooklyn Dodgers moved into first place in the National League Saturday by taking both ends of a doubleheader from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-2 and 4-3. The Dodgers took over the top from the Philadelphia Phils, who lost to Chicago.

Carl Furillo singled home Bobby Morgan with the winning run in the second game, which went eleven innings and was completed under the lights.

The Pirates did all of their scoring of the nightcap in the second inning to take a 3-0 lead. The Dodgers pecked away at Murray Dickson with single runs in the fifth and eighth and tied the score with a run in the ninth.

With one out in the ninth, Pinch-Hitter Roy Campanella singled. Dan Bankhead, who started the first game, ran for Campanella. Pinch-Hitter Jim Russell struck out but Gene Hermanski singled to right to send Bankhead to third.

Dickson was lifted in favor of Lefty Bill Werle to face lefthanded hitting Duke Snider. Snider fouled the move by singling to left to tie up the game.

Werle, in the eleventh, walked Morgan. Hermanski struck out and Morgan moved to second as Snider grounded out. Jackie Robinson was intentionally passed but Furillo then singled to center to break up the game.

Detroit not only starts Art Houtteman, but Red Rolfe calls on the 22-year-old as a relief worker to protect slender margins. Here is the Houtteman smile and grip before he winds up, rears back and fires. 'Falling In Love' A Myth? Remember, It's Springtime!

By RUTH MILLETT NEA Staff Writer

A California educator has written a pamphlet for teen-agers called "You Think It's Love" me down life won't be worth living. When they talk about "falling in love," trying to make them understand that "falling" the right person isn't as important to a happy marriage as "being" the right person.

Says the professor: "Falling in love—just as though you were going along and something tripped up—ain't very accurate. People don't 'fall' in love; they grow into it."

That kind of talk is for disillusioned grownups. It's not for teen-agers who are experiencing all the wonderful excitement of "falling in love."

That may be how it looks to a professor but it's going to be kind of hard to sell that to teen-agers. To begin with, the professor has ought his pamphlet out at a very poor time. Springtime is not a good time to be belittling romance.

"Let 'em fall in love, professor. Let 'em believe in it. They're in no mood for accepting your unromantic theory that 'the idea that there is a one-and-only is pure nonsense.'"

On every college campus and in every high school boys and girls are looking at each other and thinking "This is it. If HE doesn't take me to the prom or if SHE turns

Please, professor, let's not try to spoil that for the young folks. (All rights reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

Wives Of Stanolind Employees To Assist At Plant Opening

ANDREWS—A group of approximately 30 women, wives of Stanolind Gasoline Plant employees, will act as hostesses Sunday afternoon for the formal opening of the plant. They will wear corsages presented by the company, and badges to identify them as hostesses.

One of their duties will be to ask visitors to leave all matches, lighters and smoking equipment outside before starting the tour of the plant, to avoid fire risk. Most of the women are new residents of Andrews County and some are in West Texas for the first time. The five who occupy the houses located on a half-moon drive south of the plant are Mrs. C. J. Tighe, Mrs. Claude Wright, Mrs. Art Denny, Mrs. Arch Barnard and Mrs. Francis Williams.

The Wrights and the Dennys came here from Tulsa, Okla., while the other three families are from Kansas. Mrs. Wright takes piano lessons as a hobby; Mrs. Tighe makes figurines and tints photographs, and Mrs. Denny, who has studied and taught art, paints, with horses as her favorite subjects.

Start Hair Care Early

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer
It's never too late for the average woman to begin hair care, but it's best to start it early. If you give your baby's hair careful attention, she's bound to own healthy, lovely hair when she grows up. All hair care begins and ends, of course, with brushing. But for a baby's head, avoid harsh, stiff bristles. Pick a brush with soft nylon bristles, easy to clean. Such a brush won't damage your baby's tender scalp, but will help train fine baby hair and will coax along any trace of curl. In using a baby brush, wield it gently. And just as you'd do with your own hair, brush first against the grain of the hair and then, to finish off, with the hair. Rubbing baby lotion into your baby's scalp, as well as all over her body, prevents infection and offsets any dryness which may be present.

small TALK

By SUE COLEMAN

Having a house remodeled while you live in it, no matter how carefully you plan each step, can be awfully inconvenient at times. Erma Masnell has found while her place was being worked over inside to make a more convenient arrangement of rooms and storage space. She says the trouble is worthwhile, but she did get tired trying to live while everything was piled into the middle of the floors.

"Is that all the trouble there is to remodeling?" Linnie Davidson asked her. "That's the way my house is now, and only because of Spring cleaning!"

Some Spring cleaning on a grand scale was going on at the S. J. Lones' house the other day, with all the window screens off and the windows being polished furiously. There is a climbing rose in bloom on the Lones' back fence that is one of the floral sights on West Wall Street at present. Another is the pansy border along the walk and around the porch at the H. L. Bray home, and another is the deep rose blooms on the big salt cedar that rises above the wall around the T. N. Sloan place, where there is always a lot of color in the flower beds.

Speaking horticulturally, what is the shrub besides the mesquite that is blooming in the pastures around Midland? It, the mesquites and the yucca are loaded with blooms now and maybe we should brag about them like the residents farther east do about their flowering dogwood trees. Of course a mesquite trail doesn't have the elegant sound of an azalea trail, but mesquite is just as native a Texas shrub and the blooms are beautiful in their way even if they are not so showy.

The summery days lately either have brought more people I know onto the downtown streets or kept them moving more slowly so there was time to see them. Mrs. Kenneth Slough and her pretty teen-aged daughter, Janis, apparently were on a shopping trip one afternoon last week; Adele Vosatko, hurrying down the street on an errand, wore a print frock of vivid blue and black that pointed up her eyes and dark hair. . . . Maurine New-some was accompanied by her daughters, Lynda and Myrna, who were dressed alike in red with white ruffles. . . . Annie Ford, wearing a most becoming wide-brimmed straw hat, confided that she spends most of her spare time now working in her backyard and that it's showing an improvement that encourages her to work some more.

While a lot of other women from federated clubs of this district will go to Boston next week for the General Federation convention, Elizabeth Best of Wink, the district president, hasn't time to be sorry she isn't among them. She is too busy getting ready to leave June 5 for Ireland, to accompany her husband on a visit to his relatives. Joe Best is a native of Ireland and is eager to go back after a number of years in America. Mrs. Best is just as eager for the trip, which will be by plane. They plan to return about August 1.

A "little touch 'o lavender" made Mrs. Robert Tulin a striking figure at the W. T. Harris' reception Tuesday night. She was wearing a simple black dress, touched up with a bunch of violets at the waist. Matching these were the violets across the low braids on the back of her neck. The whole effect was one of freshness.

A Field Office Does Not Collect

Don't send us money." That is the unusual request made George Clark, manager of the Angelo Social Security Administration office. Clark explains that though his office does not collect taxes and has no charge whatever for any of its services, letters frequently arrive enclosing checks, stamps, money orders or cash. All such remittances, he says, are either returned to the sender or if in payment of taxes, forwarded to the Collector of Internal Revenue.

The San Angelo office handles the San Angelo and survivors insurance benefits in 30 West Texas counties, issue new and duplicate social security cards, and gives information and assistance generally to employers and employees. But we do not collect taxes of any kind," Clark declares. "Employment security returns should be sent to the Collector of Internal Revenue—not to our office. He has jurisdiction over collections—our business is primarily the payment of benefits, and the maintenance of individual accounts on which the benefits are based."

Id-age and survivors insurance benefits are payable to retired workers 65 or over who have worked for at least a qualifying period on jobs covered by social security, to certain dependents, and to the survivors of deceased qualified workers.

Care, Patience Beautify Eyes

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Thick, luxuriant lashes are the dream of every woman who doesn't own them. With patience, you can do a lot to transform thin, short lashes into thicker, longer fringes. Each night before you go to bed, dip a small, clean mascara brush into castor oil and brush your lashes. Work from root to tip, and while you're at it, pass the brush over your eyebrows, too. You'll begin to see the difference within three weeks.

Meanwhile, false lashes are not advisable for daytime wear. To go on properly, they must be applied one by one, by an expert. Then they are trimmed to the wanted length. The job must be done every ten days, and thus becomes a costly matter. Moreover, it's up to them when you wash your face, take a bath, or apply fresh makeup. The castor oil treatment is not only less trouble, it's less expensive. And it's permanent.

For a quick dessert topping, mash two ripe bananas and add a quarter cup of prepared marshmallow fluff and a tablespoon of lemon juice; beat until thoroughly blended. Use on sponge cake or pudding.

Baseball Wives Keep Busy To Avoid 'Game Widow' Boredom

By FAYE SHELBERNE

Keeping busy seems to be the secret of happy baseball wives while their player husbands are on road trips.

At least this is true in the case of two of the wives of Midland Indians, Mrs. Jim Prince and Mrs. Edith Nelson. Both say the time they are "baseball widows" about half of the playing season, is a busy time, which makes it easier for them.

Mrs. Prince is kept busy with six-month-old Mike and her house work. She says that she tries to complete as much of her work as possible while her first baseman husband is away so that she can spend as much time as possible with him when he is in the city.

Job And House Work

Mrs. Nelson keeps busy with her job as a secretary in an oil company office and with her new home on 2414 West Michigan Street. She is busy planning and furnishing her home, as well as keeping house and working.

Mrs. Prince is the former Freda Lou Truelove, a native Midlander. She and Prince have been married two years. She says that being a baseball wife is grand and that the only real disadvantage is the road trips. The Princes live in a three-room apartment at 609 1/2 South Main Street.

Edith Nelson has been a baseball wife for five years. Her home formerly was in Waco and Ernie's in San Antonio. Although Ernie has been in Midland since 1947, they have made their home here for the last two years.

Young James Michael is the linking factor of the Prince household. Already Prince has determined that he will make a left-handed first baseman out of him. Michael has a tiny left-handed glove which was a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Joe Roberts before his birth. His hand is already too large for the glove. He has blue eyes and a friendly smile, and doesn't know a stranger.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson moved into their new home about two weeks ago. It is a modern home conveniently located about three or four blocks from the Indian Park. To make their home complete, there is Sammie, their black cocker spaniel.

Can Tell Experiences

Mrs. Nelson can tell of times with Ernie and the baseball team in Lubbock, Greenville and Waco. While pitching for the Waco Army Air Field team, Nelson had some of the best years of his career. For three consecutive years the team won the Houston Post tournament. Games were won by such close scores as 1-0 and 2-0. He played with such players as Sid Hudson, now with the Washington Senators, and Birdie Tebbetts, with the Boston Red Sox. Nelson has been playing professional baseball for about 13 years.

Both Mrs. Prince and Mrs. Nelson are strong supporters of the Midland Indians. Mrs. Nelson says that she never misses a game played in Midland. Mrs. Prince has not been able to attend quite all of the games because of young Mike, but as the weather gets warmer not only she but Mike, too, will be out at Indian Park backing the Indians.

Even though it is hard sometimes, Mrs. Nelson sticks by the team win or lose. Mrs. Prince says the one thing she finds hard to take is the way the fans turn on the players when they are losing. "It's hard to sit there and take it," she says.

When it's "Play Ball" in Indian Park the players know that they have the full sport and interest of the baseball wives.

+ Crane News +

The company also was given the 1949 Safety Award. A barbecue supper was held in connection with the event. The Crane plant had no lost time because of accidents in 1949.

Mr. and Mrs. John Willis and son, Bill, recently made a fishing trip to Spring Creek.

 dress. The bride carried a bouquet of butterfly orchids, white lilies and lilies-of-the-valley, interspersed with greenery. A single and of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, was her only jewelry.

Dresses
 The pink organdy-over-taffeta dresses worn by the bride's attendants were identical. Each round skirt was edged with a deep, scalloped ruffle, gathered over the shoulders to give the effect of butterfly sleeves.

A wide band of tucked pink taffeta formed the waist and was trimmed across the top with a scalloped organdy band. The skirt was full.

The attendants carried organdy dresses with cascades of pink orchids hanging from the drawstrings. All wore white elbow-length gloves.

Eastham wore a dress pink organdy fashioned with a scalloped ruffle neckline and a sash in back with a large bow. Small flowers were applied on the full skirt. She carried a pink dotted parasol filled with garlands of butterfly orchids.

Taffeta
 For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Eastham chose a gown of imported tulle and marquisette over taffeta. The skirt was outlined with a French design trimmed with gold sequins. Her corsage was of orchids in a deeper shade.

The reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the Eastham home. A four-piece ensemble from the San Antonio Symphony Orchestra played for dancing on the terrace.

The table holding the bridegroom's chair was on the terrace, centered in an arrangement of red roses. The bride's table was arranged in a circle with a centerpiece of white lilies, calla lilies and stephanotis.

A five-tiered white cake was decorated with white sugar orchids. An arrangement of white orchids, lilies and calla lilies decorated the top of the cake. Aunts of the bride served the wedding cake and intimate friends of the bride and her families were in the house party.

Bermuda
 When the couple left for a six-week trip to New York and Bermuda, Mrs. O'Connor was wearing a navy blue dress with a high neckline and short sleeves. The neck, sleeves and slash pockets on the straight skirt were trimmed with white tulle.

Her coat was of navy blue and white striped silk with a velvet collar and a fitted bodice buttoning the waist. The flared skirt was on down the front. She wore tulle accessories and her corsage of orchids.

On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Connor will be at home in Houston, where he is with John Ivy Oil Company. The bridegroom was graduated from Peddie preparatory school and Princeton University where he was a member of the Ivy Club.

Rests Listed
 Mrs. O'Connor is a graduate of Seminary Hall in Greenwich, Conn., and Hockaday Junior College in Dallas. She attended the University of Texas and was a member of Alpha Theta Sorority.

Out-of-city guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Clossut, Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Clint W. Murchison, Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Murchison, Mr. and Mrs. Wofford Cain and Mr. and Mrs. J. ## JACOBY ON CANASTA

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written For NEA Service

"We had a real bang-up argument last night," writes M. B. N. of Dallas, "and it's still going strong. It's a very friendly argument, except that somehow or other nobody has a good word for me."

"Neither side had melted, and each side needed 120 points. My wife finally swooped down on the discard pile, putting down her entire hand to do so. Her 11 cards and the previous discard totaled only 90 points."

"One of the opponents asked what was going on. My wife said she was melting out concealed and therefore didn't need a minimum count."

"The other opponent said we didn't have a canasta. My wife said that there were seven sixes in the discard pile, and that those would be her canasta. She also said that she could meld every card in the discard pile. Both of her statements were quite true."

"Both opponents said that the meld was not legal. They claimed that the canasta in the discard pile didn't count for us until we actually had the pile. They added that even if my wife had a canasta in her own eleven cards, she still couldn't take the discard pile without the minimum count."

"They put it up to me, and I refused to express an opinion. Frankly, I thought the opponents were right but it didn't seem like a good time to say so. My silence got me nowhere at all. The opponents hooted at me for being afraid to talk up, and my wife gave me the old snake-in-the-grass look."

"Who is right, and what should I have done?"

I can tell you who was right, but you won't catch me saying what you should have done about it. In these husband-wife arguments at the card table it's every man for himself.

The opponents were right. No matter what you may be able to meld after you get the discard pile, you must first get the pile. And you can't get the pile unless you have the minimum count. This rule applies, of course, only if the meld is the initial meld for your side.

Q—Are you ever allowed to take the discard pile and meld out concealed when you cannot make the minimum count? Can you do this if your partner has already melded? And if you do so, aren't you making use of your partner's meld?

A—If your partner has already melded, you may take the discard pile and meld out concealed even though you cannot make the minimum count. You are helped by the fact that your partner has melded, but that doesn't matter as long as you don't add any cards to his melds.

Q—My opponent needed 50 points for the first meld. He put down three aces and then put down two sixes to take the six that had just been discarded. Is he allowed to do this with more than the needed 50 points or must he total exactly 50 points to get the discard pile?

A—He must total at least 50 points. There is no upper limit at all. Even if he put down a couple of hundred points the meld would be perfectly legal.

Veterans In England Want NSLI Refunds

LONDON —P—Nearly 1,000 American ex-servicemen living in Britain are deluging the American Embassy here with inquiries about their GI life insurance refunds. Veterans Administration officials say they get between 75 and 100 letters and phone calls a week.

Embassy officials said veterans living outside the United States probably will be paid last.

Graduation Picture...

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—The white graduation dress that walks off with honors is the one with an important wardrobe life ahead after the diplomas are tucked away.

Whether the dress is done up in the starchiness of pique or the frothy sheerness of fine organdy, smart styling keeps an eye on future needs. Two-piece dresses show off in fragile sheers. Layers of organdy, for example, may make a flouncy skirt for a sleeveless sheer top. Virtues of this design are that they can be mated as prettily with other sheer separates for party wear.

Equally versatile are sheer organdy over-dresses which team up with slim sheaths of heavier weight fabrics such as pique. Without its demure companion, the sheath steps out as a sleek sun dress. More tailored sun-back dresses have brief cover-up boleros or jackets of a matching fabric.

For formal graduation festivities, floor-length evening dresses of white cotton have full skirts which will swing out on dance floors later. Jackets to hide bare shoulders are cleverly designed to fit as trimly as a dress top. Some of the smartest of these are short, buttoned from waistline to bosom and have deep, rounded necklines.

REWARDS BASED ON Achievement

RARELY are competent, dependable Doctors, bricklayers or salesmen produced on a foundation of "subsidized security" or "paid idleness." Human nature is just not built that way. Man must strive for his rewards.

The Doctor's rewards and clientele are based on the confidence of patients, built up through years of achievement. He has to study hard, work hard, render service—in order to build and retain a practice.

A great deal of the response to treatment depends on confidence in the Doctor. Not only is there physical reaction to this feeling of confidence, but belief in the Doctor causes us to follow instructions more carefully.

In our present free economy, as his rewards are based on his personal achievement, the Doctor must render the highest type of service, of which he is capable. The vast majority of American Doctors prefer it that way.

Circus Theme Is Selected For 1950 Summer Reading Contest

"A circus clown is coming to town—step right up and meet Joey!" colored sheets with circus illustrations on them are inviting Midland youngsters. They announce the annual Summer reading contest of the Midland County Library, June 1 to August 31.

All children in the county, from first grade level through junior high school age, are invited to participate in the program, which offers Summer reading for fun, opportunities to earn prizes for individuals and schoolrooms and a party for all contestants in September.

A life-sized clown figure, painted by Mrs. P. D. Moore, will be placed in the Children's Room of the Midland County Library, and smaller clowns, painted by Mrs. Marvin Taylor of the library staff, in the Terminal and Dunbar Branch Libraries.

Credit For Reading

To enter the contest, a girl or boy must read one book from the library and answer the librarian's questions about it. Then the library will provide a record book for the child, in which he lists the title and author of the first book and adds those of other books read during the contest period.

For every three books read, the contestant may place a bright polka-dot sticker, in the color assigned to his school, on the plain suit of the clown figure. At the end of the Summer, a prize will be given to the school which has the most dots added by its pupils, and first and second prizes will be given for the best readers among the girls and the boys.

New Books Ready

Colors for the schools are: South Elementary, blue; North Elementary, red; West Elementary, green; Greenwood School, yellow; Junior High School, cherry.

New books have been ordered in preparation for the contest, and most of them have arrived and are being readied for circulation. Mrs. Lucile Carroll, librarian, has announced. A special exhibit of books is planned the first week of the contest. Groups of books for high school readers will be displayed also, though they are not included in the contest.

A number of volunteers have assisted the library staff in preparing for the reading program. Mrs. Carroll said. Mrs. Tom Hills prepared the stencil and helped mimeograph the handbills announcing the contest.

Of Paper Owned By Pecos Man Signed By Eight Presidents

OS —(P)— A Pecos man has a paper signed by eight consecutive presidents of the United States. The paper is Capt. M. L. Swinehart's, which he presented to Theodore Roosevelt in 1904. The in-between presidents signed while they were in office.

Swinehart is a 75-year-old Pecos man who is a railroad man and a contractor as well as an Army veteran. He is a former engineer in the town of Pecos, where he designed the town's water, sewer and irrigation systems. As chief engineer of the Pecos Water Company in Pecos, he built the largest irrigation system in the country. He then became general manager and chief engineer of the St. Jo Valley Railway Company and built and operated a 100-mile line for a time.

The captain was not present in 1929 when Herbert Hoover signed the credential, but he was signed

Washington in 1934 for Franklin D. Roosevelt's signature. FDR called the captain in, and the two talked for about 20 minutes about "this and that."

Captain Swinehart was not present when President Truman signed his document. Federal District Judge Ewing Thomson took the document in. This was while Judge Thomson was in the U. S. Congress. President Truman called in newsmen to show them the rare document.

The captain takes good care of his credentials, taking them out of a bank vault occasionally to show to his friends. The writing is well preserved, considering its age. He had to get a silk back up on the back of the credential while in Korea. He plans some day after getting several more presidents' signatures to turn his credentials over to a Masonic museum.

Program Given To Close School Term

An outdoor program was presented as the annual end-of-school event in the Latin American School Friday morning. Several hundred parents and visitors were present.

Mrs. Jack Mashburn, principal, presented cups given by the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce as awards to the boys' baseball team and girls' volleyball team. Fausta Ramirez received an award in arithmetic and Naomi Concerntons in spelling. Five awards in music competition were given also.

The stage was decorated with Chinese lanterns and cherry blossoms, as the setting for a Chinese opera presented by the third grade. It included dances and songs by groups. Ramon Reyes appeared as the lantern lighter and Juan Sanchez as keeper of the incense burner.

First grade and second grade pupils presented folk songs and dances; fourth graders sang popular songs, as did the fifth grade group with solos by Abundia Reyes and Candy Lopez and songs by girls' trio, Elia Gonzales, Minnie Armendaraz and Alice Perez.

All the pupils sang patriotic songs as the third grade presented the colors in a flag drill. The program closed with a bubble song as all the children blew bubbles toward the audience. Pupils made the decorations and costumes for the program.

Mrs. Wayne Campbell, third grade teacher, directs music in the school. Mrs. William Kaihoefer is the girls' coach and teaches the fifth grade. Mrs. W. B. Standefer, boys' coach, is the fourth grade teacher. Mrs. Mashburn and Mrs. Bill Conner teach the first grade. Mrs. Paul Hickey and Mrs. John Colvin, second grade.

For Evening: Glamor Glasses

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Though most girls have come to accept glasses for business and street wear, some of them still hesitate to wear them in the evening or on a date. Despite the fact that glasses have become fashionable, and fun, they feel that an escort might not find them attractive across the dinner table.

But putting your nose on a menu in order to decide what you want for dinner isn't a beautiful gesture. Neither is peering about the restaurant for a better look at the other diners. Nothing gives any girl such an old lady look as straining to see.

The solution lies in having one pair of glasses for special occasions. They may be the small "restaurant spectacles" which have a lens and frame half the size of ordinary glasses. If these are too specialized for your budget and needs, then choose any frame which is becoming and a bit more glamorous than your daytime frames. Slip them on when you glance at a menu, when you look about, then take them off for the balance of the dinner. Wear them while you are in a movie and take them off as you leave the theater.

If they are in a color, material and design which you wouldn't wear during the day, they'll give you a lift and become as much a part of your evening out as a beaded bag or a chiffon scarf.

Girls who feel that glasses rob them of glamor on dates can have a special frame to slip on in restaurants and theaters.

School-Construction 'Breather' To Be Short, Figures Compiled By Superintendent Show

By BOB PRENTISS

With two new school buildings to be completed in time for Fall opening, Midland can expect a short breather in school construction.

But if figures compiled by Frank Monroe, superintendent of schools, are an accurate prediction — the breather will be short.

Monroe's figures, compiled for study by the trustees of the Midland Independent School District, indicate that the school census here will jump from almost 4,500 this year to almost 7,000 in the 1953-54 term.

And if these figures are borne out, Midland will need at least two additional elementary schools and a new junior high school by that time.

Based on the actual 1950 census, Midland schools will have a potential of 5,200 students for the Fall term. Actual membership in schools close to 4,500, according to Monroe. The gap between census and membership exists yearly, as the census counts all students eligible to attend schools. In the 1949-50 figures, the census listed 4,430, while actual daily membership in school was 3,880.

In projecting the figures to the 1953-54 school year, Monroe's figures do not take into account families with school-age children who may move into Midland, but rather are based on families now living here who will have children of school age by that year.

First grade figures are predicted at 608 for 1950-51; 634 for 1951-52; 660 for 1952-53; and 686 for 1953-54. Predicted Enrollment

Totalling the figures in the 1953-54 predicted enrollment, Monroe shows 3,864 students in elementary schools, also compared with 3,227 this year. Present enrollment in the John M. Cowden Junior High School is more than 900, in sixth, seventh and eighth grade classes.

With the completion of the new elementary school in the Fall, it is planned to relieve the severe overcrowding of the junior high by having sixth-grade classes in North, South and David Crockett elementary schools. West, Terminal and Latin American elementary schools will continue to be five-grade schools.

With a smaller sixth-grade class in junior high school, enrollment there still will top the 850 mark, many more than the building was designed to accommodate.

In 1951-52, when all elementary schools are to be six-grade schools, the junior high will have an enrollment of more than 750, but in the two years following, enrollment again will begin to rise.

Monroe thinks a second junior high will be necessary by 1953-54 to eliminate overcrowding again.

And as elementary enrollment tops 3,900 in 1953-54, two more elementary schools will be needed.

Trustees of the school district are studying sites for new locations, and the next elementary school probably will be built in Northwest Midland, near the Memorial Stadium. The school district has been given a site on Garfield Street, north of Memorial Stadium, which would help to ease the load on the present West Elementary school. Other sites are under consideration. Teachers needed to staff Midland schools in 1953-54, whether or not new schools are built, will increase from 122 to 183, according to Monroe's figures. Present pupil-teacher ratio is one to 31, considered a little high by modern educational standards. The ratio is figured on membership in schools divided by the number of teachers.

Tiny "microwaves," similar to those used by radar sets aboard high altitude bombers during World War II to aim bombs through thick clouds, now are being employed to measure molecules.

Dutch elm disease, which has killed many American elms in New England since first noticed about 1850, is caused by a fungus in the tree's water-conducting system and is spread by elm bark beetles.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
 Drew Pearson says: Tax-fraud case of gambler mysteriously stymied; Churchgoing North Carolina has thriving gambling racket; N. C. police officials work with gambler.

WASHINGTON — A lot of mystery surrounds the income-tax case of a big eastern gambler—that of Vaughn Cannon, the slot-machine king of Buncombe County, North Carolina.

Most people don't realize that North Carolina, despite its record for progressive schools and more churchgoers than most states, also has a thriving gambling racket, and has done little to clean it up. Center of the gambling business in Asheville in the western part of the state, and its big-shot boss, Vaughn Cannon, now appears to have high-up friends not only in North Carolina but in Washington.

More than a year ago, U. S. tax agents slapped a lien of $1,451,000 on Cannon's property in North Carolina and sent a recommendation to Washington that he be prosecuted for tax fraud.

Since then nothing has happened. The case has gathered dust. Why remains a mystery.

False Rumors
 One reason why was reported to be powerful Congressman Bob Doughton of North Carolina. However, this columnist is convinced this report is untrue. Apparently the rumor got started because Doughton is a director of the Northwestern Bank of North Wilkesboro, N. C., which has loaned the big gambler up to $60,000 for the purchase of "music machines."

Another reason, when queried, said he was a director of the Northwestern Bank but that he had not intervened with the Treasury Department to hold up Cannon's income-tax case. In fact, Lamar Caudle, assistant attorney general of the Justice Department's Tax Division, who comes from Western North Carolina, also has been getting blamed for delays in the Cannon tax case. Actually, Caudle has a reputation for letting the chips fall where they may; in addition to which inquiry disclosed that the Justice Department had not received the Cannon case. It still is in the hands of the Treasury—despite the fact that it received the case on March 14, 1949. Meanwhile Cannon already has received a $5,000 fine and two-year suspended sentence from the Superior Court of Asheville for operating gambling joints and being in possession of gambling devices.

Meanwhile also, Cannon enjoys a neat little scheme whereby he is palsied with local police authorities. This, incidentally, is one of the big points behind the crime probe of Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee. Kefauver, who is not a prudish person, is concerned about the big pay-offs that go to local police and judges for gamblers' protection. When police take money from one group, they also will take it from another, and our whole system of law enforcement is undermined.

In Asheville, a local police judge, Sam Cathey, also is the registered agent for gambler Vaughn Cannon. Cannon's property, valued at up to $200,000 in Buncombe County, is registered by Sam Cathey, Agent, the same police judge who sits on gambling cases in Asheville. In addition, Marshall J. West, the Asheville city jailer and a member of the city police force, also has been on Vaughn Cannon's payroll. He drew a salary of $150 a month from the big gambler as a building supervisor at the same time he drew a salary from the city as an enforcement officer.

How city officials can serve two masters at the same time, one interested in the enforcement, the other interested in non-law enforcement, is difficult to understand. But anyway they seem to get away with it in Asheville, N. C.

Two Bachelor Speakers
 Good ol' GOP Congressman Rich of Pennsylvania was worried the other day, as usual, over government spending. In one of his regular economy speeches, he told Congress that its members were piling up debts that their children and their children's children would have to pay.

Then turning dramatically to Speaker Sam Rayburn and Joe Martin, the Republican ex-speaker, Rich said:
 "And that goes for your children and your grandchildren."

There was one important point Congressman Rich overlooked, however. Both Sam Rayburn and Joe Martin are bachelors.

Senator McCarthy recently received a letter from Nukanth Chavre of Foster, Ohio, who wrote: "The following will show you what alarming confusion you have created. I was buying some garden tools at Sears, Roebuck and accidentally picked up a hammer and a sickle at the same time. Knowing them to be emblems on a Russian flag, I quickly let them go thinking such an act might be construed as communistic by you."

New Tax Bill
 As everybody expected in this election year, the tax bill which the House Ways and Means Committee will unveil about June 1 will be kind and generous to the big political contributors who are expected to sugar the campaign kitties of both parties this Fall.

Instead of repealing $650,000,000 in excise taxes and providing for $1,000,000,000 of new tax revenue—as recommended by President Truman—the final tax bill will transpose these figures.

In other words, excise taxes will be repealed to the tune of $1,000,000,000 while increased revenues to offset this loss will be roughly $650,000,000—just the opposite of what the President requested.

Committee members privately admit that the legislation will be a "deficit" bill. To escape this ugly label in the press, the committee report may be window-dressed to make it appear that the deficit can be offset by closing tax-evasion loopholes.

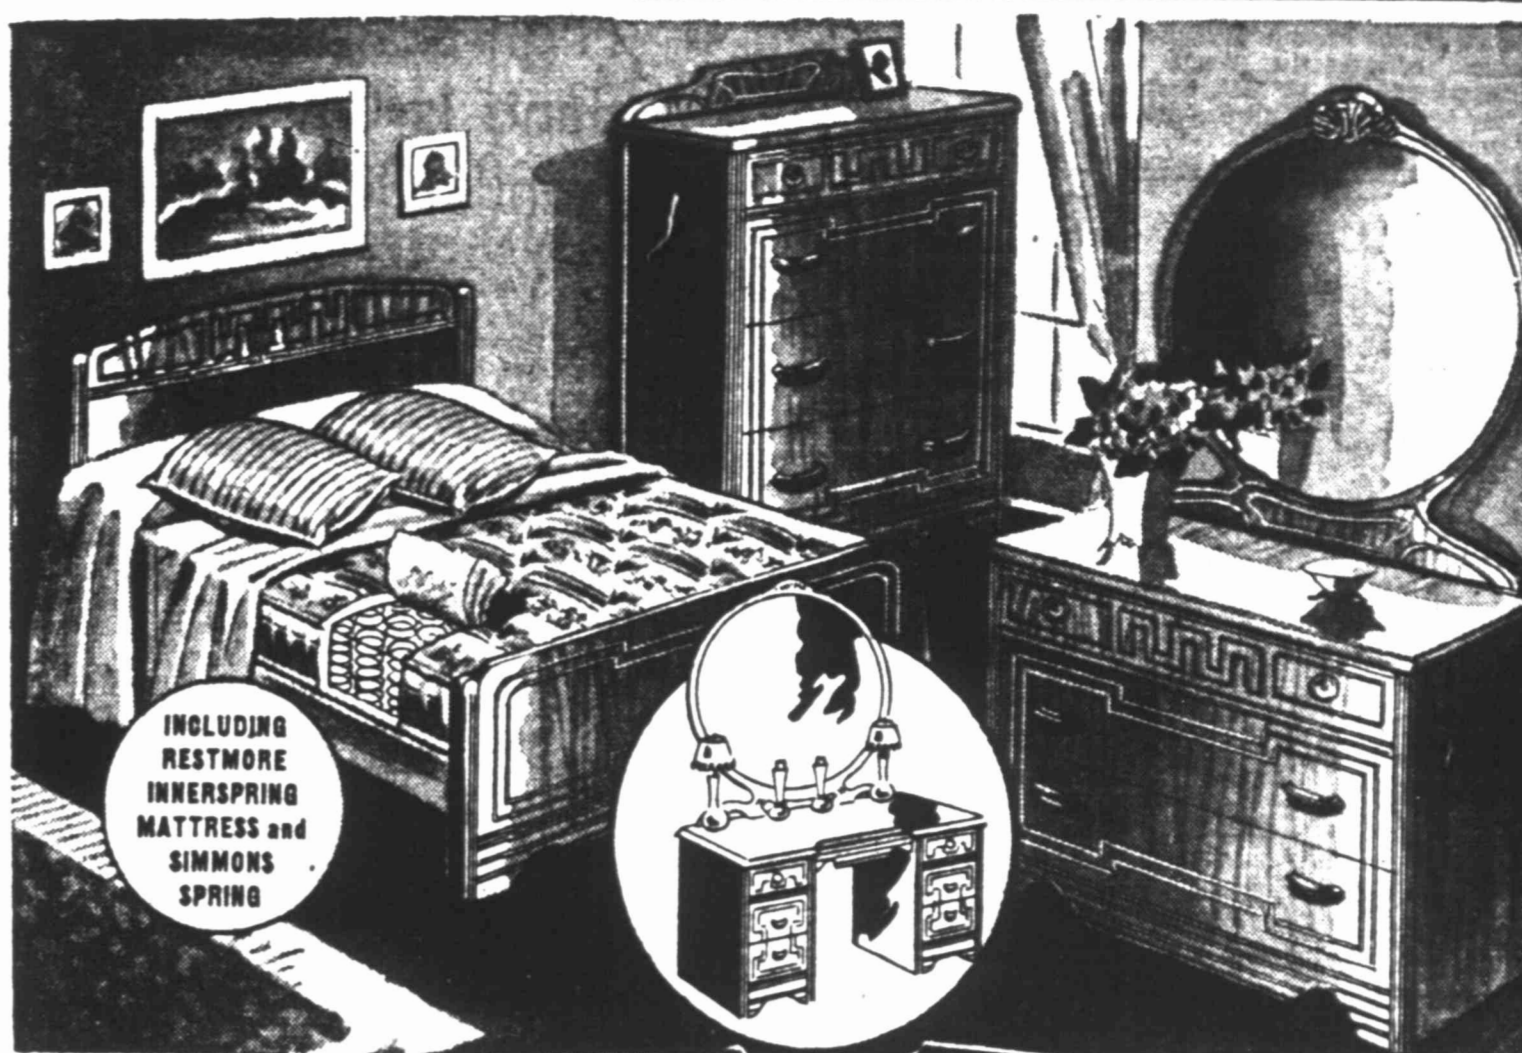

Regardless of what the report may say, however, real fact is that closing loopholes won't capture more than $150,000,000 from tax evaders. Other provisions for added revenues likely to be approved by the Ways and Means Committee are: Corporation income taxes — A boost of around $265,000,000 derived from a two per cent boost (from 38 to 40 per cent) on corporations making more than $119,000 a year. Stock dividends—A proposed 10 per cent withholding tax on dividends is expected to add another $150,000,000. However, this will not be new revenue, but rather a new way of insuring the collection of obligated taxes often evaded. Back taxes by insurance companies—$90,000,000. This also does not represent new revenue, but an old debt which will be collected by tightening the tax laws.

Midland Service League Members Sponsor Latin American Center

By FRANCES HAGAMAN

With a Settlement House as their final goal and temporary relief of a recreational problem as their immediate aim, Midland Service League members are sponsoring a Latin American Recreation Center.

Located behind St. George's Catholic Church, the center is opening next night in Guadalupe Hall, an Army barracks converted by the church which loans it to the group.

Any Monday or Wednesday evening a visitor can find Guadalupe Hall filled with almost 100 youngsters ranging in age from five to 20 years. One group will be leaning over a Chinese checker game in the corner while a ping-pong game holds the attention of another farther down the room. In the other end, older children square dances. Sitting around the walls, wide-eyed little ones will be halfway behind their mothers' skirts.

Parents Come
 The feeling is one of enjoyment—of a happy person showing their good nature. Some of the participants stay all evening, while others drop in for a little while and then go home.

Parents are frequent visitors, dropping in to "check up" on their children.

Around 10 p.m., just before the evening ends, a clean-up committee is appointed to put away the games and other equipment and sweep the floor. They leave the building as they found it.

The governing body of the organization is a council which meets once a month with league workers to establish rules and plan activities.

The first council, which is in operation now, was appointed. Hereafter it will be elected.

The program began in September, 1949, in Juarez Hall. At first, meetings were held only on Wednesday nights, with between 20 and 30 young people attending. The children became more interested in supporting and continuing the program, and sponsored and carried out a rummage sale.

Money they earned was spent for a public address system to facilitate square dancing and folk dances.

Two Nights
 Before long, league members found it possible to expand the periods to two a week, on Monday nights as well as Wednesdays. Now, plans are to have younger children on Mondays, an evening devoted to handicrafts and hobbies. The older group meets on Wednesdays for games and dancing.

Around March 1, Guadalupe Hall was opened. Midland merchants donated equipment including a stove and a refrigerator. League members made curtains and gathered records, games and other recreation equipment.

One ping-pong table is in use and another is being built by Midland High School manual training classes. A juke box, couches, benches and a magazine rack are included in the furnishings.

Boys and girls now are painting some of the furniture and doing

McCamey Seniors Are Graduated

H. E. Stoker presented diplomas to the graduating seniors.

Members of the class were: Bill Baker, Barbara Bridges, Bill Bridges, George Brooks, Kent Brooks, Bill Currey, Dick Furr, Beverly Harris, George Holloway, Ellen Johnson, Ray Kedziora, Joe Kemp, Bill Ogilvie, Pat Peardon, Norvin Pepper, Paul Earl Rape, Edith Sides, Daniel Stacy, Bobby Stapp, Frank Stokes, Vena Gaye Thompson and Gwendell Vaughan.

Programs of this type are being carried on in Corpus Christi and other Texas cities by Junior Leagues, which have been contacted for information.

The National Federation of Settlement Houses also has been contacted for proper methods and feasible plans for working out this type of program.

McCamey Plans Anniversary Jubilee, Homecoming Event

McCAMEY—The McCamey Jubilee and Homecoming, which will commemorate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of this Upton County city, will be held August 18-19. The dates were set at a recent meeting of the arrangements committee.

It is planned to make the celebration the largest in the history of the county. More than 2,000 visitors are expected.

O. O. Jacobsen, general chairman, said a free barbecue will be served the evening of August 18, as a highlight of the two-day event.

A local bathing revue is scheduled the first night of the celebration, with an area-wide event to be held the next night. Ted Robertson has promised to have members of his famous Texas University swimming and diving team on hand for exhibitions.

Rodeo Events
 Eight Sheriff's Possee organizations will compete in a round-robin team roping event, according to Cahal Clinton, captain of the Upton County posse. Roping will be held both days.

An amateur diving and swimming meet will be held during the jubilee.

Rankin Seniors Being Entertained

RANKIN—Among courtesies extended Rankin High School seniors this week were the all-day swimming and theater party which their sponsor, Coach Pitts, accompanied them to Stockton Monday, a lawn party at the Schmidt home in Traan Tuesday, a theater party given by Mrs. Marvin Bell Saturday and a breakfast in the Workman home which will place Sunday morning.

All classes in the grade and school are enjoying parties and picnics this week, with the school to close officially Tuesday when graduation exercises will be held in the High School auditorium.

other work to make the hall more attractive.

Candy and soda pop are sold each night the center is open and the profit is used for equipment. Another rummage sale was held Saturday.

Active Part
 Workers have decided to continue the program through the Summer and a picnic, ping-pong tournament and other activities are planned.

League members who work with the center have taken an active interest in the affairs of Midland's Latin American community. They assisted with the survey of sewage facilities carried on by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and have met with the Juarez Association to plan the recreation program.

Mrs. George Byrne is chairman of the center. League members assisting her are: Mrs. Lynn Durham, Mrs. Thornton Hardie, Mrs. Hugh Liedtke, Mrs. A. E. Pettit, Mrs. Norman Sax, Mrs. George Ulvestad, Mrs. W. B. Yarborough, Mrs. R. J. Zonnee, Mrs. W. C. Liedtke, Mrs. George S. Corey, Mrs. Wright Cowden, Mrs. W. W. Walmisley, Mrs. W. R. Donnell and Mrs. Ronald Jarrett.

Since it has been found that some of the girls and boys would like part-time or full-time jobs, efforts are being made to help them. For this reason, the idea of a Settlement House which would give practical training has been discussed.

It would include an entire community center with a park and playground as well as a day nursery and thrift shop. Classes in cooking, sewing and other manual arts would

Screen Time Is Here Again

Follow these tips if you want perfect-hanging, non-warping, well-protected screen doors this Summer.

By BOB SCHARFF
Written for NEA Service

It is time again to hang your screens, and it also is time that they should receive their annual care.

Before screens are hung, wash them thoroughly and check the condition of the frame joints. If the frame is coming apart, strengthen the joints by screwing small right-angle metal straps to the frame corners.

The prevent staining of the window frames and to preserve the screening, coat with spar varnish or screen enamel. Hot water and soap, then wash screening with turpentine to remove all rust and corrosion.

Any good quality spar varnish can be used, thinned with the equal of half-and-half mixture of linseed oil and turpentine. Wipe on the varnish with a cloth instead of using a brush. One coat should last for at least a full season. Paint the frame, also, to help prevent deterioration.

Patching Procedure

Small holes in the screen can be repaired simply with a patch of screening, placed over the hole and woven to the screen with a strand of wire. However, if the screening is badly broken or rusted, the only solution is to replace with new wire cloth.

To do this place the screen flat on a table. Pry up the molding which holds the screening in place. Remove all the brads or tacks left in the frame of the screen.

After removing the old wire, cut a new piece of non-rusting screening a little longer than the opening of the screen frame.

Start by tacking the screening down at the top of the frame. Then stretch it tightly and evenly and tack the bottom edge down. Keep the wires of the screening straight with the sides of the frame. Now tack one side down and then the other side. Renew the molding back with three-quarter-inch or one-inch brads. Touch up the frame with paint, or repaint the whole frame.

The trend in new home building is away from the big cities toward their fringe areas and suburbs. The smaller city, under 100,000, is still the most frequent location of new homes. The Newschart above, based on findings of a survey of 2000 homebuilders by Better Homes & Gardens, gives preferred locations for new homes now being built. In addition to the categories given, 12 per cent built their homes in large cities and another 12 per cent built theirs in open country.

Nation's Builders Step-Up Low-Cost Home Construction

Encouraging progress is being made by the nation's home builders in their efforts to meet the continuing strong demand for new houses in the lower price brackets, trade reports show.

Dwelling priced at $8,000 and less were being produced in 90 per cent of the 428 cities covered in a recent survey by the National Association of Real Estate Boards. In 66 per cent of those cities, the survey revealed, houses were being built to sell for $6,500 and under. About 45 per cent of the new home construction in the 428 cities consisted of dwellings in those two price classes.

In most cases the construction is substantially superior to that prevailing two or three years ago in homes of that price range. Many of the dwellings, for example, feature hardwood floors and various other high quality items.

A major factor in this trend, along with greater selectivity by buyers, has been the vastly improved material supply situation. Most building materials and equipment again are readily available and price levels are more stable.

Typical of the builders who have succeeded in producing attractive, well constructed homes in the low price range is Robert Parish of Memphis, Tenn. Recently he sold more than a score of five-room dwellings at $6,775 to $6,900. Quality features included clear grade oak floors, conventional plaster walls, insulation, gas heat and built-in kitchen cabinets.

Reports from builders in various sections of the country show that wise home buyers, aware of the increasing availability of such preferred materials as hardwood flooring, are not satisfied with substitutes. This attitude of selectiveness evidently is playing an important part in obtaining better values for the purchasers of low-cost homes in many cities.

Imported Sussex Cattle Herd Draws Attention At Victoria

VICTORIA, TEXAS. — A herd of 11 handsome Sussex cattle imported this year from England, is getting international attention on the Patrick Lambert Ranch near Refugio.

Besides visitors from Mexico, persons from many states have viewed the animals. Texas A&M College experts also have inspected the ten heifers and one bull.

The animals have been at the ranch since late February after months of quarantine and travel. They were imported by Lawrence Wood of Refugio.

Bill McIntosh, writing in the Victoria Advocate, says the heifers are remarkably big and well developed for two-year-olds. The bull, a three-year-old, weighs 1,800 pounds. The Sussex are solid red except for the tip of the tail. At a distance says McIntosh, they could be mistaken for either Shorthorns or Santa Gertrudis, the latter a Texas-developed breed.

The heifers have had brass tips placed on their horns because of their playful habit of hooking each other.

More Spirited

The Sussex are much more spirited than Herefords but are very gentle. They are easier to handle than Herefords because they move faster. J. O. Linney, ranch foreman, has taught them to come when called.

Wood's father, Dick Woods, has a bull and three heifers brought over last Fall. They are near San Antonio. By exchanging bulls, they will be able to avoid inbreeding troubles later.

The heifers are expected to drop calves next November.

The Wood family has been interested in Sussex cattle for generations. Lawrence Wood's grandfather, Tobe Wood imported a group of them shortly after 1900. But they lost their identity by breeding with other cattle.

The cattle had to go through three quarantines, first in Glasgow, then in St. John's, Newfoundland and finally, under United States inspection in Ontario, Canada. This was to guard against hoof and mouth disease.

A young New Zealander, Frank Wilding, accompanied the cattle as caretaker from the time they left Sussex County. He has been staying at the Lambert ranch.

A special scale is to be constructed on the ranch to check the growth of the cattle and the expected calves.

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

By DALMON McNAIR

The market on 400 head of cattle at the Midland Livestock Auction Thursday was steady with the previous week and active. Market on 50 hogs was strong and bidding went up to $20 cwt.

No fat calves or yearlings were offered. Mediums sold for $22 to $24.50. Fat cows were up to $29 and a few heiferette kind went to $22. Medium cows brought $16 to $18; canners and cutters $12.50 to $16; bulls $17 to $21.

Stocker steer calves were bid from $26 to $28.50 and a few better ones were higher. Stocker heifer calves brought $25 to $27.50, and stocker yearlings sold for $23.50 to $26.50.

Don Estes, manager of the sale, said 135 choice quality Hereford four-year-old cows and calves at side will be auctioned next Thursday.

All Midland County farmers have been invited to attend a meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Valley View School. James A. Deer, associate extension entomologist from Texas A&M College, will show slide films and discuss cotton insects and control methods. The meeting is especially important this Spring because of the reported increase of the pink boll worm and other insects which are harmful to cotton and grains. Charles Green, county agent, is in charge of the program.

Midland County still lacks sufficient precipitation in several sections, according to Green. Several portions of the county have received good rainfall this Spring. But other areas have been hit lightly. Green says the eastern half of the county, particularly in the southeast portion, has benefited the most this year. Northwest and southwest sections still need more moisture. Green said the last rain in the county, about a week and a half ago, was the only precipitation to fall this year on some areas.

Most of the Midland farmers have planted their cotton and grains. Green said. A few still are holding out a while longer. But the majority began seeding following the last rain. Sand storms as yet have done little harm to Midland County crops.

Sand love and weeping love grasses planted last Spring by several farm operators in this area are making good progress, the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation Service reports.

Trial plantings were made on the following farms: T. B. Stewart, one and one-half miles southeast of Courtney school; S. E. Cross, one-half mile east of the Courtney school; and W. D. Rayburn, four miles south of Midland. The areas were fenced and were not grazed until last Fall.

Livestock showed a desire for both grasses, especially the sand love grass. The stock now has been removed from the grass areas to allow a seed crop to be produced.

J. O. Nobles, Jr., and A. G. Bohannon, located eight miles northwest of Midland on the Andrews highway, have obtained seed to plant seven acres of blue panic grass this month. Nobles will seed six acres while Bohannon will plant only one acre. Nobles' planting will be used for seed production to seed a larger acreage on his farm eventually.

Castor Beans Replace Cotton Acreage On Texas' Rolling Plains

CHILLICOTHE, TEXAS. — The Texas experiment substation here has been experimenting with a crop which may make a good replacement for acreage taken out of cotton by federal controls.

The crop is castor beans, for which there is a demand in the United States for use in manufacture of paint, varnish, lacquers, linoleum and numerous other products.

J. Roy Quinby and D. L. Van Horn, who wrote the castor bean experiment report, say the bean is well suited to the rolling plains of Texas. Quinby is superintendent of the substation. Van Horn is an agronomist with the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

They report that the castor beans are planted in the early part of the cotton planting season. Yield varied with rainfall and ranged from 1,219 pounds per acre in 1941 to a low of 666 pounds in 1949.

The 1949 crop, if marketed, would have brought about $50 an acre. Harvesting and hulling costs were about $15 per acre.

Production Not Stable

Castor beans now mainly are imported from South America but the production there is not stable enough or adequate for U. S. needs. It is estimated that beans from 500,000 acres in the United States could be disposed of profitably.

The market demand is for clean beans and hulling facilities must be available to a grower before he can produce them. The hulling machine is a simple one.

Castor beans, the experimenters report, are easy to produce and require no unusual equipment except planting hoppers similar to those used in planting peanuts. The labor required is similar to that of cotton.

The report states that there is supply of seed sufficient to plant 10,000 acres in 1950 in the area adjacent to Vernon.

Texas Farm Income Third In Nation For First 1950 Quarter

WASHINGTON. — Texas farm income for the first three months of 1950 was higher than for the same period in 1949. This is a reversal of the national trend.

The Agriculture Department said Saturday cash income for the nation's farmers this year will be well under 1949 totals.

Among the states, Texas was third in the amount of farm income for the first three months of 1950. The total was $381,446,000. For the same period in 1949, Texas farmers received only $262,551,000.

Nationally, cash receipts from marketings in 1950 may total around $25,000,000,000—compared with $27,500,000,000 last year, the Department of Agriculture forecast.

The reason?

"Prices farmers receive for their products generally have been below those of a year ago, while their costs have declined only slightly," the department said. "This situation is expected to continue for the rest of the year."

Iowa led all the states with $520,624,000 received from January through March of this year. That was a drop, however, from the $563,543,000 for the same three months in 1949.

Illinois was in second place with $403,273,000 for this year's three-month figures, a sharp rise from the $369,845,000 that state's farmers got in the same period in 1949.

Fourth-place California with $313,415,000 registered a decline of nearly $70,000,000 from last year's total.

Following are other state totals for the three-month period for 1949 and 1950 respectively:

Oklahoma $97,792,000 and $11,578,000

New Mexico $25,263,000 and $26,981,000

An outstanding feature of the shed will be the handling of cantaloupes for various growers without the loss of the identity of the melons. Each grower's melons will be run through the shed as an independent lot in order that settlement may be made with each grower on the basis of the quality and quantity of his own melons. Conveyor belts, powered by electricity, and a special icing machine also will be installed. Marcus Dingler will be in charge of all operations at the shed.

Texas Tech College's intercollegiate dairy cattle judging team took fourth place at the American Royal dairy cattle show held recently in Kansas City.

The Tech entry won first place in Brown Swiss judging, second in the Ayrshire division and third in the Guernsey judging. In all contests, Kansas State placed first, Iowa State second, and Missouri third.

The Tech team was coached by Roy L. Neely, associate professor of animal husbandry.

It's nearing rodeo time in Midland. Monday, Midlanders will begin donning Western clothes to make the city rodeo conscious.

The actual staging of the five-day rodeo show doesn't begin until Wednesday, May 31, but Optimist Club "officers" will police downtown streets more than a week in advance, jailing or fining those who fail to wear the Western regalia.

The 1950 rodeo is expected to be the largest and best ever held here. Prize money totals over $8,000 and the cream of the rodeo performers are expected to be on hand to claim a share of the purse.

Rodeo association and Midland Fair officials have made plenty of effort to make the 1950 rodeo a success. The largest crowds in history are anticipated as a reward for the careful planning of the 16th Annual World Championship Rodeo May 31-June 2. Tickets are on sale at several establishments.

Ten head of brown wooly Buffalo calves have been moved in to grow up where their ancestors roamed.

W. R. Matthews, operator of the Lambhead Ranch, near Albany's old Fort Griffin, is owner of the Buffaloes, which were to be displayed during the annual Pandangle Show at Fort Griffin.

Site of the herd's new home is the Old Stone Ranch Headquarters, where the Barber Watkins Reynolds family reportedly had 1,000 Buffalo tongues hanging in the smoke house in 1886.

Former Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson of New Mexico, speaking last week at a soil conservation dinner in Houston, warned some 800 guests that unless the Southwest finds more effective ways of conserving soil and water, another "dust bowl" era may come to pass.

Anderson said some farmers had plowed up their land in the Great Plains area, leaving it as open fields. To avoid another dust bowl, such as the one which plagued the Southwest in the 1930's, Anderson says "we must redouble our efforts to make up for the time we have lost through generations of neglect of our rich heritage of these natural resources."

Marcus Gist, owner-operator of the Stoner Ranch at Willow Springs Mo., visited friends here last week. Gist, who formerly resided in Midland, said his Missouri country has had plenty of rain and everything is in good shape. He is the son of the late John M. Gist, early-day rancher and registered Hereford breeder of this section of West Texas.

Poe Woodard of Stanton said here Thursday Martin County has been favored with more rain than has Midland and that conditions to the east are stacking up pretty good.

The Roy Parks-es, Senior and Junior, said Friday it is a pretty good over most of their ranch country to the west and southwest of Midland.

Details of the 1950 Smith-Doxey cotton classing program for cotton farmers have been announced by H. J. Matejowsky, in charge of the Abilene office of the cotton branch, Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

According to Matejowsky, farmers will follow the same procedures they did last year in signing up for this program. Under the program, the farmer will receive, without cost, cotton classing and market news from the USDA. Any group of farmers organized to promote the improvement of cotton is eligible for these services. Applicants and other details concerning the program may be secured at the cotton office, 407 South First Street, Abilene, or from county agriculture agents or PMA officials.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail and 'They' Say

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey and that, and then, because they had nothing else to talk about, they talked about that and this, they sat down on a rock, so they could talk better.

Now it's fun to talk with a friend, a fun to hear what a friend is saying about, but there was something about the Gibberwink that got him from being a whole lot of fun to talk to. He never said anything that he first thought of himself. It was always something nobody else had thought of and later he had to tell, the Gibberwink would tell it this way: "They say, they say, they say." "I'll show you what I mean."

"Daddy Ringtail," the Gibberwink said, "they say you eat a lot of scrambled coconut."

"Do 'they' now?" Daddy Ringtail asked.

"That's what 'they' say," the Gibberwink said. "And 'they' say if you eat enough scrambled coconut, then you'll turn into a coconut."

"But Daddy Ringtail was tired of this business about 'they' say, they say," He knew that he would have turned into a coconut long ago, if eating scrambled coconut would do it to him.

"What do 'they' know about it?" he asked.

"I don't know," said the Gibberwink, "but that is what 'they' say."

"They can't know what they're talking about," Daddy Ringtail explained, and here is what he meant: You know a something when you see it, or hear it, or feel it, or taste it, or when somebody tells you for sure it's true. And nobody like the Gibberwink can ever be sure of anything if all they know is what "they" say.

So you can eat all the scrambled coconut you want to. You won't turn into a coconut if you do. I don't care what "they" say, because I don't know who "they" are, do you? Happy day!

Two Economic 'Left Fielders?'

Nomination by President Truman of Dr. Roy A. Blough, right, to be the third man on this Council of Economic Advisers, and promotion of Leon Keyserling, left, to chairman of the council, brought caustic comment from some Republicans in Congress. Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) quipped: "The President now has three left fielders on the team to advise him on economic affairs." Third member of the council is Dr. John D. Clark. Blough, currently a University of Chicago professor, is a former New Deal tax expert.

Life With The Tax Gremlins

By NEA Service
Then, after all, Uncle Sam's pockets are empty. He is standing knee-deep in deficit, against the background of a mighty national debt, trying to explain the situation to the taxpayer. So much for interest on the national debt, aid to foreign countries, social security, subsidies to agriculture, and all; but the truth is that the Federal Government itself is very dim about what happens to the money.
The Hoover Commission on the organization of the Executive Branch of the Government said: "There is no formal accounting plan for the government as a whole. As a consequence there is no place here where the complete financial picture of our government can be seen. We have not had, to this day, a and make living with the Gremlins more desperate.

The debt behind Uncle Sam represents past inflation. Inflation, remember, is itself taxation, only that instead of taking all of it out of your current income it taxes part of it out of your savings. The dollar you saved 10 years ago now is worth 60 cents when you go to spend it. Therefore, the Gremlins work not only as you have seen them here, but in your safety deposit box while you sleep.
What keeps Uncle Sam's pockets empty?
Answer: Seventeen million people receiving checks from the public treasury.
Representative Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts counts it up as follows:

In last year's federal budget there were almost 100 different programs operating through the different departments and agencies of the government which were making payments in the form of salaries to employees, aids, grants, subsidies, benefits, pensions, and other forms of assistance and contribution to approximately 13,000,000 people in the form of regular direct federal payments. These totaled almost $15,000,000,000 for the year. They can be broken down in round figures as follows:

- 2,000,000 on the executive payroll
- 7,500 on the legislative payroll
- 3,500 on the judicial payroll
- 1,600,000 on the military payroll
- 3,000,000 on the military and veterans' pensions and aid rolls
- 140,000 on the civil pensions rolls (including those who make contributions to be matched by the Federal Government)
- 1,250,000 on the dependent children rolls
- 88,000 on the aid to the blind rolls
- 3,100,000 receiving farm aid payments
- 2,600,000 receiving old age assistance payments outside of the contributory system

This summary does not include the 1,500,000 members of the National Guard and organized military reserves who receive regular checks for training. Nor does it include 2,500,000 beneficiaries of old age and survivor insurance or 500,000 in the Railroad Retirement System. If you add these, there are some 17,000,000 people receiving regular checks from the Federal Government.
Enrico Caruso's voice has been recorded with modern reproducing equipment and with the accompaniment of a 1933 orchestra.

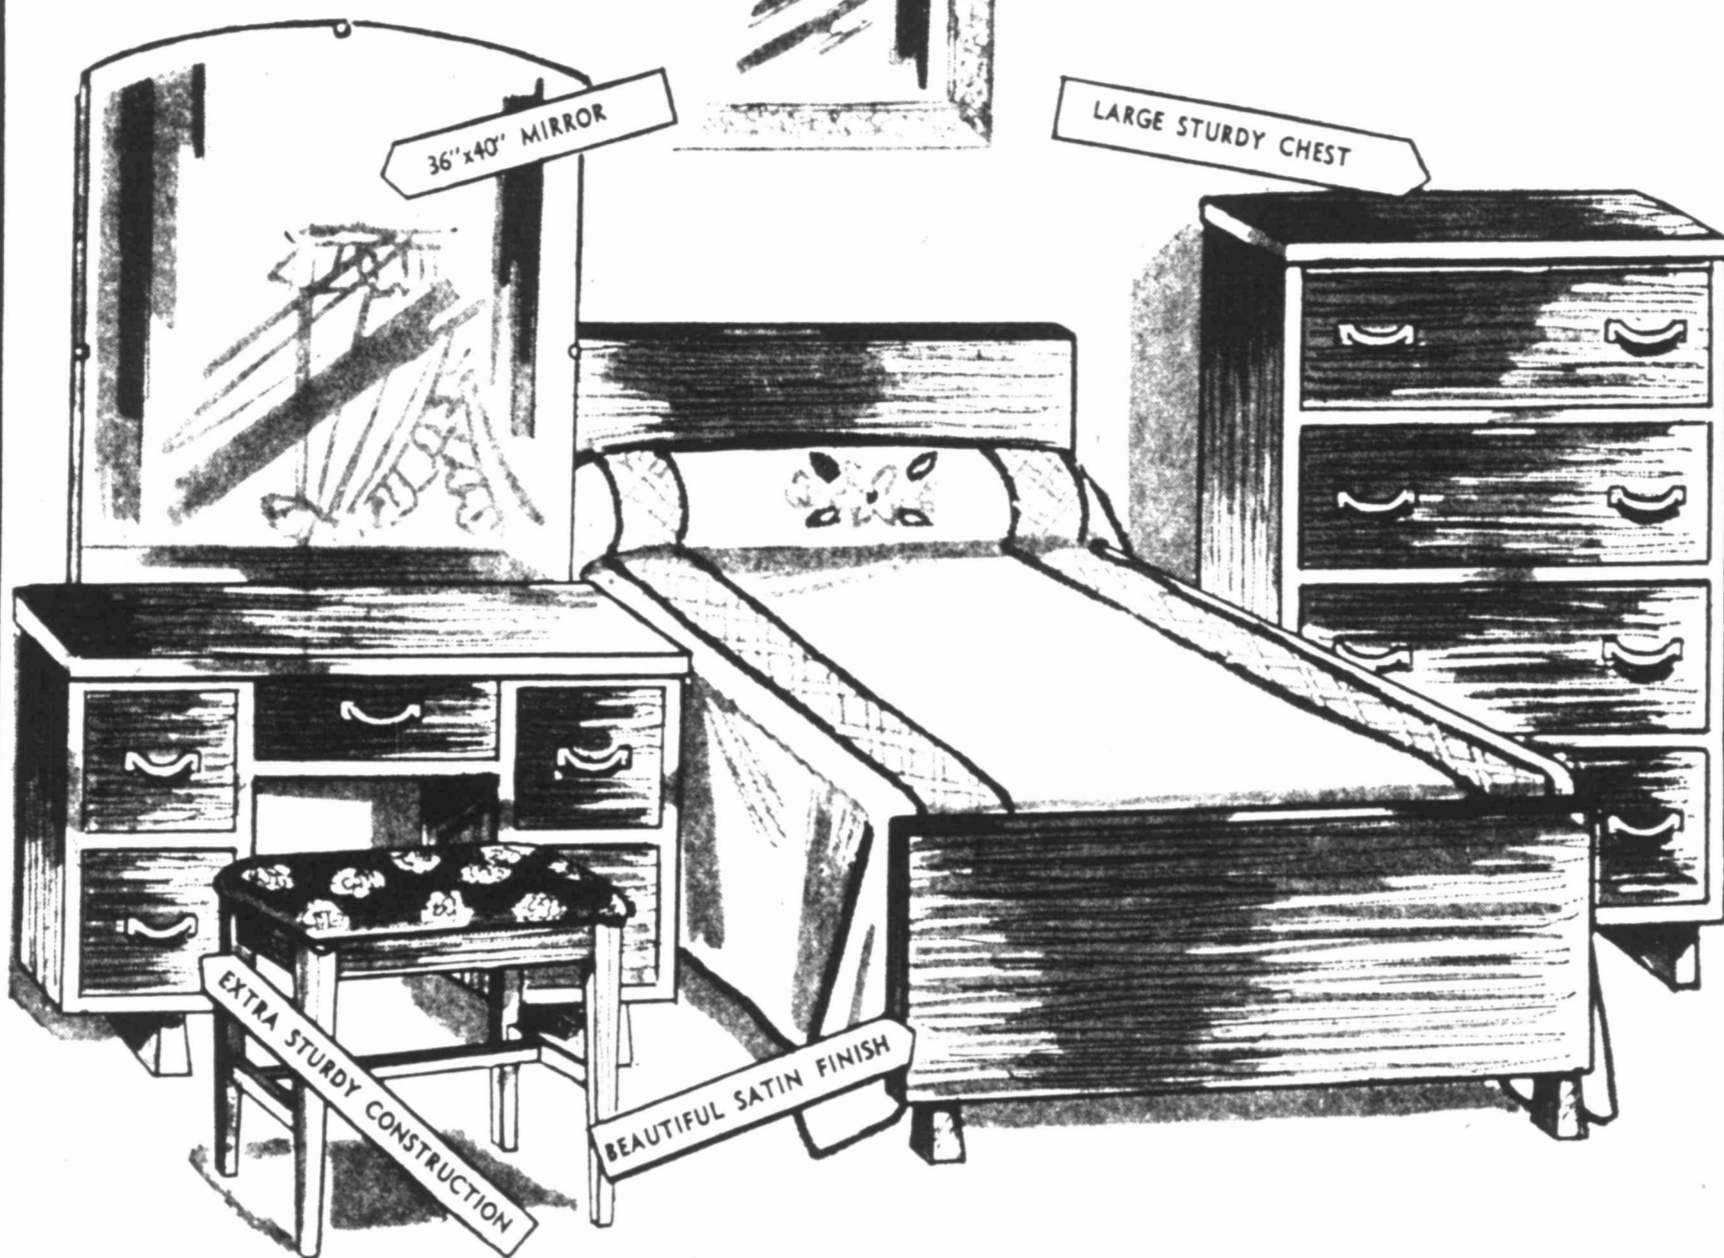

System of accounting that shows the government's true revenues and expenses for any year, that provides for property or cost accounting, or for a positive control of assets, liabilities, and appropriations.
Inflation At Work
And on the cost of national defense it said: "Our military budget system has broken down. Congress allocates billions without accurate knowledge as to why they are necessary or what they are going to be used for."
Moreover, something happens to money before it is spent. That is inflation, which causes prices to rise and the cost of government to increase and makes more work for the Gremlins.
The deficit in which Uncle Sam is standing will presently be translated into more national debt, which will increase taxation again.
