WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States Saturday gave Communist Czechoslovakia two weeks to close down its New York Consulate. It was the latest of a series of tit-for-tat crackdowns on Russian satellite countries.

Head First—At Midland Rodeo

The "head first" off of Old Paint for this loud-shirted cowboy, as thousands of Midland and Permian Basin Empire residents "head first" for the 16th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo, which opens a five-night stand here Wednesday. The 1950 show promises to be the biggest, best and most thrilling ever, and thrill-packed action scenes like this will be reproduced time and time again at each performance as the contestants tackle the tough broncs, Brahman bulls and steers in the various cowboy events. It's Rodeo Time in Midland.

Political Cauldron Bubbles

AUSTIN — (AP) — Attorney General Price Daniel Saturday yanked himself out of feverish weekend speculation on the governor's race by announcing for reelection to his present post.

Other developments in a day-full of guessing on what W. Lee O'Daniel's Sunday radio broadcast will say about his future political plans included:

The filing of Pierce Brooks of Dallas and Ben Ramsey of San Augustine in the crowded lieutenant governor's race; Robert W. Calvert of Hillsboro announcing for the State Supreme Court, Place 2; and formal announcement of Will Wilson of Dallas for the Supreme Court, Place 1.

Already opposing incumbent Gov. Allan Shivers' candidacy for reelection to his first full term in the office he inherited at the death of the late Gov. Beauford H. Jester are Casco March, Waco; Charles B. Hutcheson, San Antonio.

Cowboy He-Men Left At Ranch When Carolina Cotton Rides

By ESKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—I'm smiling when I say it, pardner, but so will a fiddin' ropin' and shootin' cowboy. It's about to show the big he-men cowboy stars a thing or two galloping heading into the ris of the celluloid west.

Carolina Cotton is the lady's eye and from the looks of things will be braver than even Errol Flynn. What's more she'll ride a black named Dolly instead of the usual white stallion, she'll have a minnie sidekick a la Gabby Hayes and she'll leave the cowboy to lend a sittin' on the ranch house porch while she rides off into the sunset.

"In Old Utah," an Eagle-Lion movie, is the horse opy in which Carolina will trade powder puffs for smoke puffs.

"Everyone in the picture is scared," Carolina said in an Arkansas draw. Arkansas is her home state but she started out in now business as a Western band leader in San Francisco at the age of 14.

MacArthur Thinks War Not Imminent

NEW YORK—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur was quoted Saturday as saying he does not believe a shooting war is imminent—because public opinion on both sides of the Iron Curtain is against it and because Russia is "doing so well" without war.

MacArthur's views, based on a recent interview in Tokyo, were published by the New York Times. The dispatch quoted the supreme commander in Japan as saying: "The public realizes all too well in terms of the last war that there can be no real victor in a future war. Therefore on neither side is there psychological preparation."

Methodists Swing At Liquor Traffic In Big Spring Meet

BIG SPRING—(P)—Two speakers took swings at the liquor business Saturday at the forty-first annual meeting of the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference here.

H. Millard Jones of Dallas, executive secretary of the United Texas Drys, called it the "most avaricious and greedy business in the world." He predicted a "knock-down, drag-out, head-on fight with the liquor interests on the state level."

Bishop W. C. Martin called alcoholic drink a "curse which threatens to engulf our civilization."

The conference, favoring a higher minimum salary for its ministers, set $1,925 as the minimum. It had recommended $2,000 and had sent one proposal of $1,925 back to a committee for study.

A membership report showed 92,932, a gain of about 2,500. Sunday School enrollment was 60,000, up 6,000.

Women Consecrated
Mrs. Marvin Hilburn of Lubbock reported a gain of 37 per cent in Woman's Society membership.

Total funds raised in the conference last year exceeded four million dollars.

Dr. Caradine Hooten, Washington, secretary of the Methodist Board of Temperance, addressed a temperance rally Saturday night. The rally was headed by Dr. Harold Cook of Abilene, president of McMurry College.

Five women were consecrated as directors of Christian education. They are: Hughie Presley of Midland, Oreta Brown of Childress, Barbara Lowry of Lubbock, Ann Casner of Levelland and Lucile Hester of Big Spring.

Air Force Midget Jet Plane Aims At 1,700-Mile Speed

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Air Force says it will begin flight tests early next year of a tiny rocket plane designed to hit a top speed of 1,700 miles an hour.

The plane is the X-1A, a successor to the faster-than-sound X-1. Like its forerunner, it is a product of the Bell Aircraft Corporation.

The X-1 itself was designed to have a top speed of 1,700 miles an hour. But design problems delayed completion of the turbine-driven fuel pump which was supposed to force alcohol and liquid oxygen into its engine.

How fast the X-1 went with this substitute fuel delivery system never has been disclosed officially. Prior to flight tests, its top speed was estimated at 1,000 miles an hour at an altitude of more than 11 miles.

During the tests, which were completed early this month at Muroc, Calif., the Air Force announced the plane had traveled faster than sound repeatedly. Sound travels 763 miles an hour at sea level and slightly less than that at higher altitudes.

Flood Isolates New Zealand Island Towns

AUCKLAND, N. Z.—(P)—Severe floods on New Zealand's South Island have isolated the main coal towns there and brought death to one person.

Many families have been removed to safety. The flood waters began roaring down the slopes of the Southern Alps after 16 inches of rain fell in 24 hours.

State's Construction Totals $340,053,932

AUSTIN—(P)—Texans started to work on $16,150,993 worth of construction last week, half of it non-residential projects.

The Texas Contractor trade publication, said non-residential work amounted to $8,050,761, residential jobs $5,999,800 and engineering $2,104,321. It boosted the year's overall total to $340,053,932.

EXPECTANT MOTHER HELD ON BURGLARY TOUR CHARGE

SAN DIEGO, CALIF.—(P)—A cross-country burglary "tour" in which an expectant mother admitted participating in almost 200 home burglaries with her husband, was described by police Saturday.

Mrs. Jacqueline Hussey, 26, and her husband, Billy, 27, are in city jail under suspicion of burglary. Sgt. Harlan Gibbs said Mrs. Hussey kept a diary of her burglaries which listed almost 200 "jobs."

TO HOUSTON

Bill Collins, editor of The Reporter-Telegram, left Saturday afternoon for Houston, where he will attend an Associated Press committee meeting Sunday. Mrs. Collins and Lorraine accompanied him to San Angelo. They will visit relatives there over the weekend.

Texas Employment Soars Near Record

AUSTIN—(P)—The year's highest level in non-farm employment was hit in April, the Texas Employment Commission reported Saturday.

Addition of 17,700 workers brought total employment to the 2,325,000 mark, TEC Chairman Harry Bengtson Crozier said.

Crozier said the figure would have exceeded the November, 1949 total of 2,344,900 had it not been for labor-management disputes which kept some 6,000 men off jobs. November, 1949, was one of Texas' greatest employment months — exceeded only by December with 2,375,300.

WATER, SEWER PROJECT CONFERENCE SAT

City officials Tuesday afternoon will confer with Joe Ward, Wichita Falls consulting engineer, concerning a report on water and sewer improvements prepared by Ward for the City of Midland. City Manager W. H. Oswalt announced Saturday.

Young Democrats Vote For Expansion

AUSTIN—(P)—The Texas Young Democratic Clubs executive committee voted here Saturday to undertake an extensive membership campaign aimed at chartering clubs in the state's 254 counties.

The committee also scheduled regional conventions at undecided dates this year and voted to make a bid for the 1951 national convention of Young Democrats.

College President To Get Two Degrees

Cottonseed Crushers To Honor 10 Texans

DALLAS—(P)—Ten Texas agricultural leaders will be honored for their work in behalf of farming at the fifty-sixth annual convention of the Texas Cottonseed Crushers' Association June 12-13 in San Antonio.

C. B. Spencer of Dallas, the association's agricultural director, said they are: Rufus P. Peoples, Tehuacana, a Texas A&M director; Dean W. L. Stangel of Texas Tech, Lubbock; K. P. Ewing Waco, Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine; B. F. Vance, College Station, chairman of the State PMA Committee; L. J. Cappelman, Dallas, state director of the Farmers Home Administration; Eugene Butler of Dallas, editor of Progressive Farmer; C. Davis, of Austin, state supervisor of veterans education; Paul Waiser, Temple, state soil conservationist; Bill Tipton of Abilene, farm radio broadcaster; and Robert A. Manire, Austin, state supervisor of agricultural education.

Jury Disagrees In $200,000 Libel Suit By Two Entertainers

HARTFORD, CONN.—(P)—The federal court trial of a $200,000 libel suit by entertainers Paul Draper and Larry Adler against Mrs. Hester R. McCullough ended Saturday in a jury disagreement.

The jury of eight women and four men, was unable to decide whether Mrs. McCullough, wife of a Time Magazine staff member, libeled Draper and Adler when she accused them of pro-Communist activities.

Lawyers for both sides said the case automatically will go back on the court calendar for re-trial at a later date.

Indications were that a second trial would not take place for at least a year.

Federal Judge J. Joseph Smith discharged the jury when it reported for a second time its failure to reach a verdict.

Envoy Needed Cooling Off, Says Defendant

NEW DELHI, INDIA.—(P)—The trial of a young Englishman accused of dousing Argentine Ambassador Oscar Tascherer with a pitcher of water ended Saturday. Judgment will be handed down Tuesday.

The incident occurred in a New Delhi hotel tavern. The Englishman, bearded John Edwards, who has conducted his own defense, claimed had been provoked to the act because Tascherer had "acted in extremely insulting way to my niece in particular and the public in general."

"I thought the water would hit him off," Edwards said.

Attorney Requests Investigation In William Ray Case

CORSICANA—(P)—Attorney Doyle Pevehouse has asked Gov. Allan Shivers to investigate the retraction of a plea for commutation of the death sentence of William R. Ray.

Ray's execution for the rape of a nine-year-old Fort Worth girl was postponed 20 days last Friday on the application of the girl's parents, which later was retracted.

Pevehouse represented Ray's mother, who has made strenuous efforts to save her son from the electric chair.

The Corsicana attorney Saturday made public his letter to the governor, written Friday. It said in part:

"This seems to be a strange happening in such a serious matter, and it should be investigated thoroughly and determined to a certainty why there was a retraction after a voluntary plea had been made."

TYPHUS FEVER CASES DECLINE IN TEXAS

AUSTIN—(P)—Typhus fever has shown a 50 per cent decline in Texas, the State Health Department said Saturday.

Pleasant Weather Due Most Of U. S.

By The Associated Press
 Most of the nation will have pleasant Sunday weather, except for a damp, chilly spot in the Central Plains and a persistent cold spell in the Great Lakes area.
 Fair and warmer" was the prediction for the Upper Mississippi Valley and the Northern Great Plains, while "fair" was the outlook for the South Atlantic States down into Florida, "fair" in California and the Pacific Northwest, and "generally fair and warmer" in the Rocky Mountain area. A few isolated showers may fall in the Northern Rockies.
 However, it will rain off and on all day and temperatures will be unreasonably cool in portions of Nebraska and Iowa, and in Kansas, Oklahoma and Northern Missouri. The U. S. Weather Bureau predicted. Some cloudiness and continued cool weather are forecast for the Great Lakes.
 Ten regulars of the University of Arizona baseball team hit over 300 during the Wildcats' 1959 campaign.

Fight Predicted On Effort To Boost Old Age Tax Base

WASHINGTON — P — Senator George "D-Ga" Saturday said a drive to boost the tax base for old age pensions may provide the hottest fight when the Senate takes up Social Security legislation, probably early in June.

State Administration leaders have come out strongly for a $3,500 tax base for old age and survivors insurance benefits.
 The House fixed such a base in its bill, but the Senate Finance Committee reduced the figure to $3,000. President Truman has proposed a $4,800 figure.
 George is chairman of the Senate Committee.

Daniel Too Busy
 In a prepared statement, Attorney General Daniel said pending litigation and "other circumstances" influenced his decision to seek another term as the state's chief legal counsel.

The pending litigation includes the state's important Tidelands suit denoting ownership of three million acres of submerged school lands and the Sweatt case contesting separate education for the negro and white races in Texas, both in the U. S. Supreme Court.

Daniel's is the only announcement so far in the attorney general's race. In Corsicana, a group of about 40 persons in a motor cavalcade filed "Perce Brooks' name in the lieutenant governor's race."

Brooks is head of a Dallas insurance company. He has made previous state races unsuccessfully, including a close one for lieutenant governor. He ran for governor in 1936.

Ramsey Files Officially
 The caravan filed only Brooks' name, putting to an end a rumor that it also would file O'Daniel's name for governor.

Ben Ramsey's filing fee in the lieutenant governor's race also was received at Calhoun's Corsicana office. Ramsey is a former state senator and a recent secretary of state.

There are 10 other candidates: R. B. McAshan, Ingram; Kyle Vick, Waco; W. O. Reed, Dallas; A. B. (Cyclone) Davis, Dallas; G. C. Morris, Greenville; Preston Smith, Lubbock; Fred Harris, Dallas; Virgil Arnold, Houston; Roger Q. Evans, Denison; and Rev. P. E. Womack, Austin.

Calvert made his announcement for the Supreme Court, Place 2, at Hillsboro. The place is held by R. H. Harvey of Texas who has announced for reelection. Alfred Scott of Austin also has announced he will be a candidate. Calvert is a former member of the Texas House of Representatives where he served a term as speaker. He was chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee in 1946 and 1948.

Wilson, Dallas district attorney, who is seeking nomination to the Supreme Court, Place 1, is opposed by Fagan Dickson, Austin and San Antonio attorney, and George Harwood, a former Dallas County judge. The position will be vacated by retirement of Associate Justice William M. Taylor.

Hugh Scott Flays Southern GOP's

WASHINGTON — P — Former GOP National Chairman Hugh Scott, Jr., said Saturday the Republican Party in most of the South is run by "hard-bitten professionals" who "sell the party down the river for patronage, power and personal advantage."

Scott, a House member from Pennsylvania, made a biting attack against what he called the "paper" Republican organizations in several Southern states. He exempted Georgia, Virginia, Florida and Arkansas. He singled out certain individuals for criticism—particularly former Rep. Carroll Reece, a Tennessee Republican who was Scott's predecessor as chairman of the party's National Committee.
 One of the reasons for the weakness of the Republicans in the South, Scott said, is that "there have been too many behind-the-door deals with the Democrats to get favors as a minority group in exchange for Republican inactivity."

Rodeo—

 well pleased with their new surroundings.

Colborn show director, is on hand to put the final touch to rodeo arrangements. He said the stock is the toughest ever brought to Midland, and predicted the top cowhands will have plenty of difficulty in handling the animals.

Down town streets and storefronts are decorated for the occasion, and "Welcome—Midland Rodeo" flags are much in evidence throughout the downtown district. Many stores have Western displays in their windows, and as usual, merchants are supporting Midland Rodeo to the limit.

Tickets On Sale
 Rodeo tickets, on sale at various stores and office buildings the last 10 days, will go on sale early this week at a booth in the lobby of Hotel Scharbauer.

Midland is ready and anxious to welcome an anticipated record attendance at its large and widely-known Western celebration.
 The show has been widely publicized by individuals and organizations, and everywhere Permian Basin residents are planning to be in Midland this week. Interest also is at a higher pitch here than ever before.

A parade at 4 p. m. Wednesday officially will open the 1959 Midland Rodeo.

Gov. Allan Shivers, Congressman Ken Regan and other state and national officials will ride in the parade. Wednesday will be "Governor Shivers Day" in Midland, and a barbecue in the governor's honor will be held at noon in Indian Park.

"All-Sports Night" will be observed at the Thursday performance, when prominent figures in the sports world will attend the rodeo as honor guests.

Friday will be "State Highway Commission Day," when the three members of the Highway Commission—Chairman Fred Wemple of Midland, A. F. Mitchell of Corsicana and R. J. Potts of Harlingen—will attend the performance that night and will be introduced from the distinguished visitors' box in the grandstand.

High School Band
 With many cowboys and cowgirls already on hand, others are expected to arrive early this week, along with Announcer Ray Lackland, Clowns George Mills and Jack Knapp, and the scores of trick and fancy ropers and riders. The added attractions this year will be the best ever.

The top-ranking Midland High School Band, under the direction of Jerry Hoffman, will lead the opening day parade and will furnish the music at each rodeo performance.

Many of the world's best cowhands already have sent in their entrance fees and have announced they will compete in the various cowboy events in which purses and prizes total more than $8,000, including entrance fees. The events include bareback bronc riding, saddle bronc riding, calf roping, wild cow milking, steer wrestling, Brahman bull riding and a Cutting Horse contest.

Thrills And Spills
 It will be the world's best cowhands against the world's toughest and toughest livestock. And the fans will get the benefits of the many thrills and spills.

Rodeo officials said the huge Fair Park is ready to handle the crowds, and that the show directors are ready to produce a speedy, smoothly-operating show.

It again is rodeo time in Midland. Night shows only will be presented Wednesday through Sunday. Everyone is invited.

by SHORTY SHELburnE

resident Hal Sayles reports that the Longhorn League and the loop now has the better outlook than when started.

allinger and Vernon have rallied enough financial backing to them through the campaign.

ut over in Sweetwater the same action has developed which existed in Ballinger.

y Fawcett has given the Sweetwater fans until June 3 to show they want baseball. He says he takes an average of 800 fans each game to keep the club out of the red.

ayles says the Sweetwater attendance has picked up some but is short of the 800 average by one way.

le had a little to say about the possibilities of moving the Sweetwater franchise if Fawcett decides pull out.

I believe Cy would favor shifting franchise to Carlsbad, N. M., if he decides to give it," Sayles said.

arlsbad doesn't have a ball park which would be adequate for the Longhorn League but one might be constructed there. We understand town is hot to get a hand in professional baseball.

There are other possibilities besides Carlsbad, however.

Hobbs, N. M., one of the old oil towns, has been talking of going for a spot in the Longhorn League if one of the present members drops out.

Hobbs has a nice ball park which would be good enough to start with. It shouldn't be hard to get Hobbs interested to take over a job if Fawcett wanted to sell out.

A couple of other things might favor Hobbs over Carlsbad.

Hobbs is nearer to the Texas League which operate in the Longhorn League. That would make for a break in the jump to Roswell and the break would be better than a break at Carlsbad.

Hobbs once was a member of the West Texas-New Mexico League and turned out some good ball.

That's some background for a new start in baseball, to say the least.

Taking it all in all, President Sayles thinks the league is in pretty good shape right now. The Sweetwater situation is the only bad thing outstanding.

Oh, of course, there still are tiffs between the umpires and managers around the circuit which Sayles has ruled on but those incidents don't threaten the life of the league.

Right now we would say Roswell, Odessa, Midland and San Angelo are the most stable clubs in the league. All are well backed with finances and all are drawing good crowds.

Roswell and Odessa are out to win and fans in both towns know it. The others are out to win, too, but haven't come forth with the real power yet.

Roswell fans like a winner. When Odessa played there last week an estimated 3,300 jammed the park.

Roswell has reached out and bought the contract of Dean Franks, the giant righthander who hurled for the Rockets last season, to strengthen its none-too-weak hurling staff.

Franks has been toiling for Amarillo this season.

When ball clubs go after ball players like Franks and Julian Pressley, you can bet your hat they are out to win.

It takes money to buy ball players and it appears Roswell has plenty.

So, if there has been any speculation on Roswell folding, just forget it. It ain't true.

The Longhorn is a tough league this season and it's gonna get tougher. The weak clubs are going to be forced out.

If you want a good bet, lay your money on the loop changing at least two cities before next season starts.

But at the same time, don't be surprised if it stays just as it is until the end of this year.

Down deep, we believe Cy Fawcett is getting too much good out of Sweetwater as an "assembly plant" for his Albuquerque Dukes to let the franchise go.

Fawcett swaps players between Sweetwater and Albuquerque so fast now a guy may be pitching for the Swatters in the second inning and find himself playing right field for the Dukes in the seventh.

And it seems to be the "old Army game" with Sweetwater getting the short end of the swaps.

Fred Besana, the really promising hurler on the Sweetwater staff this season, was whisked off to Albuquerque just as the Swatters were nearing the first division.

The Swatters are near the cellar now and Besana continues to toil along with many other former Swatters, in Albuquerque.

Commission Urges Texas Duck Hunting Dates Be Changed

AUSTIN —P— The State Game Commission has recommended that Texas be zoned to give the Panhandle the same duck hunting rules as Oklahoma and New Mexico. Those two states are framed around the Panhandle area. This prompted the commissioner's suggestion to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, which will set hunting dates and bag limits.

Last year's extremely low daily bag limit of four caused great waste of the smaller and less desirable ducks because many hunters left them where they fell, the commission told the Federal Wildlife Service. The same possession limit as last year's, eight, was asked.

NO OPTIMIST MEETING

The Midland Optimist Club will not hold its regular meeting Tuesday because of the Memorial Day observance. Pete Van Horn, president, announced Saturday.

Baylor Catcher Signs Pro Contract

WACO —P— H. G. (Hog) Pearson, Baylor University's three-time all-Southwest conference catcher, has signed with the Texarkana Bears of the Big State Baseball League.

He will join the league leaders when they open a three-game series here Tuesday night. Pearson won four letters behind the bat at Baylor. In 21 games for the Bruins in 1950, the 26-year-old, five-foot, 11-inch Waco native batted .284, drove in 14 runs and scored 16 more.

Seven Players In WT-NM Hitting .400

DALLAS —P— Almost fifty players in the West Texas-New Mexico League are hitting .300 or better. Seven are batting above .400. Edward Palmer of Albuquerque is tops through games of May 22, with a .459 average. Fred Williams of Borger, who also leads in total bases with 83, is second with a .423 mark and Jodie Beeler of Lamesa is third with .422.

Ragtime Doubles At Plamor Lanes

Ragtime doubles, with teams from throughout West Texas competing, will be staged Sunday at Plamor Lanes. Midland bowlers will be hosts for the event. The public is invited to attend.

Bulldogs, Coaches Take Fishing Trip

The Midland Bulldogs Saturday went to Sweetwater Lake for a weekend of fishing and recreation. Coach Tugboat Jones sponsored the trip as the final outing of the year for the football players. Coaches Pat Patterson, Audrey Gill, Red Rutledge, John Eidgen, Bob Cochran, Jones and Jack Mashburn accompanied the boys. They will return to Midland Sunday.

French Nag Wins Epsom Downs Derby

EPSOM DOWNS, ENGLAND —(AP)—Galador, a French 100 to 9 shot, outran the favored American-bred Prince Simon in the stretch Saturday and won the famed Epsom Down Derby to the surprise of King George, Queen Elizabeth and some 500,000 other spectators.

The victory margin was by a mere head with Double Eclipse a 40 to 1 stalemate of Prince Simon, four lengths further back in third place. Twenty-five three-year-old colts started.

Prince Simon, 2 to 1 favorite, was two and a half lengths in front as the huge field turned into the uphill home stretch. Then Galador, running for Marcel Boussac of Paris, came shooting out of the pack to collar the prince 220 yards from home.

A hundred yards from the finish Jockey Rae Johnstone got Galador's nose in front and kept it there. Thus New York Banker William Woodward's eleventh try to win the famed Derby was frustrated again. Woodward listened in New York to the race, won but once in its 172 runnings by an American-bred horse.

Chastened Dick Wakefield heads back to Smalltime

ANN ARBOR, MICH.—(P)—Chastened Dick Wakefield is putting his pride in his pocket and heading back to the minors he left eight years ago. Dick agreed—still with some reluctance—to abide by the New York Yankees' sale of his $17,000-a-year contract to the Oakland Oaks of the Pacific Coast League.

It was a talk with Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler that led Wakefield to change his mind after saying for weeks he would quit baseball before going down to the minors.

He said he would leave for the West Coast "within 48 hours—probably Sunday" to join the Oaks.

But the 29-year-old former University of Michigan star, who received a $52,000 bonus from the Detroit Tigers when he entered organized baseball in 1941, still seemed uncertain as to what turn his career might take next.

"I'll be back, bank on that," he promised.

The 400 at Oakland and show Weiss (George Weiss, New York general manager) what a poor judge of ball players he is.

Wakefield said he was "too young to give up the game" but added: "When I get old and decrepit, then I'll quit. I can always dig a ditch."

Doubleheader is rained out

A doubleheader scheduled Friday night between the Midland Indians and the Odessa Oilers in Odessa was postponed due to rain.

The games will be made up later in the season.

To Hit Tournament Trail

Shirley Culbertson, class Midland Country Club golfer, will hit the tournament trail this summer. She is to play in the Women's West Texas Tournament, June 13-19, the Trans-Mississippi in Dallas, the Women's Western Tournament at Denver and the Broadmoor Invitation in Colorado Springs, Colo. Pat Garner also will play in all these tournaments.

Invitations For NBC Tournament Mailed To Teams

Invitations have been mailed out to a dozen of the top semi-pro baseball teams in West Texas to enter the National Baseball Congress' District Tournament scheduled June 24-25 and July 1-2 at Indian Park.

Definite entries are expected to come this week from the Kermit Oilers, Jal Gassers, Knott Hillbillies, Odessa Stars, and teams from Marfa, Ackerley, Coahoma and several other cities.

The four-day event is one of several to be held in Texas as part of the biggest semi-pro baseball program in history. The winner of the district will go to a state tournament at Sinton or Branhm in July. The state champ will battle for a $10,000 jackpot in the national tourney at Wichita, Kan., August 18-30.

This year the national winner will be sent to Tokyo to play the Japanese national champion in a series. The trip will be a $50,000 expense-paid deal.

Trophies Ready

Midland firms already are co-operating in the staging of the district meet here. Trophies, given by Midlanders, will be awarded to the runner-up, third and fourth-place teams.

The Service Club will present the runner-up trophy, having ordered it already.

The first-place trophy in each district is presented by the Coca-Cola Bottling Company. The cup for the winner of the Midland tourney will be on display downtown next week.

Teams which enter the tournament also will get travel expenses on a pro-rata basis and the first four placers will share in the gate receipts.

It is expected the tournament will run nine games with the finals slated Sunday afternoon, July 2.

Sauer's Two Homers Lead Cubs To 7-5 Win

PITTSBURGH—(P)—Hank Sauer smashed out two home runs, good for five runs, to lead the Chicago Cubs to a 7-5 victory over the hapless Pittsburgh Pirates here Saturday. Roy Smalley, who won Friday night's game for the Cubs with a grand slam homer, also hit for the circuit. No one was aboard.

USGA Qualifying Round Is First On Schedule

A full week of big time golf opens Monday at Midland Country Club with the qualifying round for the National Open of the United States Golf Association.

Qualifying for the National PGA will follow on Tuesday and a Pro-Amateur to qualify amateurs for the Texas PGA Tournament will be held Wednesday.

The big event—the Texas PGA—gets underway over the nine-hole layout Thursday and will run through Sunday.

The two national tourney qualifying rounds will be over the 36-hole distance and the state tourney rounds will be 18 holes each day, totaling 72 at the end.

The top professionals and amateurs from all over Texas and adjoining states are pouring into Midland for the golf attraction. A field of more than 150 is expected to try for the state tournament. All PGA professionals will enter and the 120-man field will be completed with low-scoring amateurs from Wednesday's program.

Favorites Listed

Byron Nelson, Raymond Gafford, Elroy Marti, Frank Champ and Sam Schneider are the pre-tournament choices to battle for the state PGA crown. A close race is predicted by many observers.

Nelson, one of the greatest golfers of all time, won the title in 1948 and was runnerup last year to Raymond Gafford.

Gafford will be on hand to defend his crown. He probably is the most solid favorite.

Champ won the title in 1947 and Schneider in 1946. Both have arrived here for practice rounds.

Marti, ranking Houston pro, jumped into the favorites' circle last week when he fired a 66 on the Midland Country Club course in a warmup round. He shot a 35-31 which is near the record for the course.

The pros will be battling for $5,000 in cash prizes and the high-ranking amateurs at the end of the tournament will receive merchandise.

Golfers are coming from as far away as Torreon, Mexico, Al Escalante, a pro who was stationed at Midland Army Air Field during the war, is the Torreon representative. He played some fine golf while living here and is rated high for the tournament. He once won the Big Spring Invitation Tournament.

Morris Norton of Dallas, a former assistant pro at MCC, has entered the tournament and will command some respect. As they say of Ben Hogan when speaking of Fort Worth's Colonial Country Club, "He knows every blade of grass on the course."

J. C. Hardwicke, Midland Country Club pro and host professional for the week's events, Saturday said the course will be open for practice rounds all day Sunday. It has been closed since Friday due to heavy rain.

Hardwicke said that in spite of the rain, the course is in top condition for the tournament. The greens have been worked constantly the last several weeks and are smooth as glass. The par 72 course is one of the finest in the state.

Entries for the state tournament will not close until Monday and a definite list has not been released. Many professionals who will play here are competing in the Colonial Invitation at Fort Worth and will not arrive until late Monday or Tuesday. However, a record field is indicated.

All of the professionals who finished in the first 10 last year have entered the event. They are Raymond Gafford, Byron Nelson, Charles Klein, Jack Harden, Warren Smith, Wally Harden, Tod Meneffe, Frank Champ, Elroy Marti and C. B. Mims, in that order.

Don Cherry, Joe Conrad, Hezelle Carson, Jack Munker, Norris Russell, Billy Walker, Tommie Roberts, and many other ranking amateurs will be on hand to play in the state meet.

Jack Williams, last year's Midland Country Club Invitation champion, also is expected. He is from Plainview.

The program for the week, besides the tournament play and qualifying rounds, will include the annual PGA meeting and dinner Tuesday night, Byron Nelson's famous golf clinic and a barbecue Wednesday, and social events for golfers and their wives Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Prizes will be awarded Sunday. Record crowds are forecast for the entire week with hundreds expected to watch the finals. Tickets for the show are on sale at Midland Country Club.

Out Of Trouble

American Legion Wins Civic Loop

The American Legion won two games from the JayCees last week to nose out the Lions Club for the Civic Bowling League title. The JayCees finished third and the Kiwanis Club fourth.

The Lions took two from the Kiwanians, the Wranglers defeated the Optimists in three and the Eagles won two from the VFW.

American Legion swept team honors with 937 for high game and 2,527 for high series.

Runyon of American Legion had high game of 234 and Copper Daugherty of the Lions took individual series with 604.

Jack Onslow Gets Boot As Manager Of Lowly Chisox

CHICAGO—(P)—The ax has fallen on Manager Jack Onslow, striking a blow for the men vs. women of the Comiskey Clan, sole owners of the Chicago White Sox.

Overcoming opposition from his mother and president of baseball's pioneer club, Mrs. Grace Comiskey, 24-year old Chuck Comiskey and General Manager Frank Lane announced the firing of Onslow.

It followed the 2-1 Sox defeat by the Cleveland Indians—their twenty-second loss in 39 starts.

John "Red" Corriden, 62-year old minor and major league veteran serving his first hitch as a White Sox coach, was appointed field pilot for the remainder of the season.

Art Mahan, baseball coach at Villanova College, started with the Philadelphia Phillies before entering the service in 1941.

Bulldogs Through For Season; School Closes This Week

The Midland Bulldogs have packed away their sports gear for the season. The annual Spring football game Thursday night ended football workouts.

White Sox Trip Tribe 6-1 For New Manager

CHICAGO—(P)—The Chicago White Sox launched the major league managerial career of Jimmy Dykes with a 6-1 victory over Cleveland Saturday at the third home run sparked by the Cagago's five-run eighth inning launch Corriden's career, with victory after the 62-year-old coach was moved up as ousted Jack Olsow's successor Friday night.

Dykes, Cochrane Advance In Shift Of A's Command

PHILADELPHIA—(P)—Jimmy Dykes was named assistant manager and Mickey Cochrane general manager as the Philadelphia Athletics underwent their most drastic high command shakeup in 50 years.

The sweeping changes were announced by 87-year-old Owner-Manager Connie Mack after a hasty meeting of the club's directors.

In disclosing that Dykes would take charge of the farm system and all playing personnel, Mack said:

"In an effort to bolster the playing personnel of the Athletics, Earle Mack will assume duties as chief player scout. Earle will leave immediately to tour the A's farm clubs. Jimmy Dykes will become the new assistant manager. Mickey Cochrane has been named general manager and will give up his duties as coach. Cochrane will have complete charge of the farm system, all playing personnel, the signing of players, future trades, etc."

Directors, in whose name the changes were announced, are Roy Earle and Connie Mack, Jr., Benjamin Shibe MacFarland and Bertram Pierre Rambo. Earle was ill, and not present at the meeting but when informed of the changes, said: "If everyone feels I can be of more service seeking out talent, I am more than happy to do what I can."

Sitting alone on the bench for the first time since he withdrew Earle from the coaching lines in Boston in 1948, Connie said he was convinced the change would benefit the club.

"I have great confidence in Cochrane and Dykes and I know they will continue to do a great job. We will miss Cochrane on the field, but Mickey is the type to do a great job in the front office. Yes, I am quite happy about the new setup."

The Midland Bulldogs have packed away their sports gear for the season. The annual Spring football game Thursday night ended football workouts.

Records To Tumble In Southwest - Big Seven Cinder Meet

DALLAS —(AP)—There's a good chance eight meet records will tumble next Saturday night when track stars of the Big Seven and Southwest Conference vie.

This will be the fourth dual meet between the two conferences. Each has won one and there has been one tie. From comparison of individual performances, records should fall in the mile, 1,200-yard dash, 440-yard dash, high jump, shot put, pole vault, two-mile run, and relay.

Job Karnes of Kansas has run a 12.6-mile mile that is a good bet to better the record of 4:13.3 set by McGuire of Missouri.

Cox of Rice stands an excellent chance of bettering the 4:00 dash record of 48.4 set by Art Hadden of Texas A&M. Cox tied in a time of 46.9 in the southwest conference meet this year.

Job Walters of Texas, Bob Gorman of Missouri, and Elmo Adams of Arkansas are expected to battle for first place in the high jump. Walters won the Southwest meet by a leap of six feet, 8 1/2 inches. Adams cleared five feet, 6 1/2 inches in the Big Seven meet.

Bill Carroll seems set to crack his record of 13 feet, six inches in the pole vault. Carroll tied in the Big Seven event with 13 feet, eight inches.

In the javelin throw, George Holton of Colorado and Tobin Rote of Texas will battle it out for the honor of cracking the meet record of 200 feet 11 1/4 inches set by Frank Jess of Texas in 1948. Holley tied the spear 204 feet, two inches in the Big Seven meet while Rote was way out in front in the Southwest with a toss of 202 feet, 11 1/4 inches.

There also is a good chance Jerry Thompson's three-year-old record of 9:22.2 in the two-mile run may be broken by Herb Semons of Kansas, who did the eight-mile in 9:21.0 in the rain to set a new Big Seven record this year.

The Southwest Conference has on the mile relay event in all previous meets, and should tie the record again this time. The meet record of 3:16.2 set in 1948. A Rice foursome of Jack Udgins, James Hoff, Arthur Bown and Tom Cox set a new conference record of 3:14.3 this year.

First National Bank Gives PA Unit To JayCees

'Pressure' To Block Crime Probe Charged To Big City Crooks

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Senators investigating crime and gambling struck on distant fronts Saturday amid charges that "crooked big city organizations" are pressuring "high-up channels" to block the probe.

These were highlighted developments:

1. Senator McFarland (D-Ariz.) asked U. S. District Attorney Morris to check on the possibility of filing perjury charges against two reputed kingpins of the underworld, Frank Erickson and Frank Costello.

The two New York figures who have been linked with gambling enterprises throughout the country testified some weeks ago before McFarland's Senate Commerce subcommittee which has just won clearance for a bill to curb interstate relay of horse and dog racing information. McFarland said later developments have raised the question as to whether Erickson and Costello gave false testimony to the committee.

Speculation Grows
2. Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn.) who heads the special investigating group, pressed super-secret hearings which he launched without advance notice Friday in Miami.

Around the parade of witnesses marching into the closely-guarded Federal Building at the Florida Revenue Bureau's intelligence unit and four of his agents. Their presence bolstered speculation that the Kefauver group is hoping to use the same income tax weapon against today's gambling overlords as was used years ago to put Al Capone behind bars.

3. Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) a member of the investigating group, said "certain outside influences" connected with the Democratic political organization "have already attempted to put the heat on" in an effort to squelch the investigation.

In a speech from station WGN, Chicago, Wiley did not name any individuals but he said they were "subtle, silk-glove influences—the sort of thing one would expect from billion-dollar racketeering influences tied up with shady politics."

Texan Tosses Cash To Chicago Crowd

CHICAGO —(AP)—A tall Texan in a 10-gallon hat amused himself Saturday night by throwing money out of his hotel window.

The Texan and a shorter friend came to a window on the Michigan Avenue side of the Stevens Hotel.

They quickly attracted a crowd by tossing quarters wrapped in halves of $20, $10, $5 and $1 bills.

When they came down to the Stevens lobby and passed out whole bills.

Who is the generous Texan? That's something he didn't give away.

And the Stevens is helping keep his secret. The hotel declined to identify him other than to say he is a "guest from Texas."

Longhorn Nine Plays Series With Arizona

AUSTIN —(AP)—Texas starts defense of its National Collegiate Baseball title June 5, 6 and 7 with a district playoff series with Arizona's potent Wildcats.

The Longhorns, champions of the Southwest Conference, are host for the three game series to determine District Six's representative in the National Collegiate Athletic Association Baseball tournament.

Because the series will be played here on Clark Field's diamond, Big Park's Longhorns will be favored. But there's really not much difference in the records of the two teams.

Arizona has won 27 games, lost two and tied one; Texas has won 20 and lost four.

Last Fall, Syracuse University's Bob Koleser added the point after touchdown 22 times in 23 tries.

Crash Kills Student

Nationalists Give Up Wanshan Islands

HONG KONG —(AP)—A British Navy spokesman reported the Chinese Nationalists abandoned the Wanshan Islands Saturday morning, less than one day after they had announced a smashing victory over Communist invaders.

The group, also known as the Ladrone (Thieves) Islands, are about 40 miles southwest of Hong Kong and 20 miles southeast of the Portuguese Colony of Macao. They have blockaded the Pearl River estuary approach to Canton since the Reds seized that major South China city last November.

The British informant said Nationalist warships completed evacuation of the islands at 8 a.m. Saturday. They took temporary shelter, he said, on Lunging Island, only 10 miles south of Hong Kong.

Only Friday the Nationalist Navy had issued a communique stating that it inflicted 4,000 casualties and sank a Communist landing craft, 20 gunboats and 54 motor-driven junks in a routing victory over a seaborne Red invasion force.

Cold Weather Cuts Holiday Fatalities; Traffic Toll Climbs

By The Associated Press

Chilly weather kept Memorial Day outings—and drownings—at a minimum Saturday, but highway fatalities mounted steadily in all sections of the country.

The weather was chilly in most sections except the Southeast as the nation began swinging into the four-day holiday weekend.

Saturday the violent death toll since 6 p.m. Friday had risen to 90. This included traffic deaths, 10 drownings and 10 deaths from miscellaneous accidents.

The National Safety Council forecast that 290 persons would be killed in highway accidents by Tuesday midnight. Heavy road traffic was expected. But Ned H. Dearborn, council president, said the figure could be cut in half "if motorists meet the holiday hazards with extra caution and courtesy."

The meeting will be held in Apartment C, Mrs. P. K. Landtiser said.

Endorses Shivers

DALLAS —(AP)—The Dallas Times Herald in a Sunday morning editorial endorses Allan Shivers as a candidate for governor of Texas and "recommends him to the voters."

Berlin—

of the precision Hitler's generals once used to move armies.

In the three days since the youth demonstration began, 35 policemen from the Russian sector have fled to West Berlin seeking asylum. Fourteen of these deserted Saturday afternoon and turned themselves over to West Berlin refugee centers. They were accepted as political refugees.

Arrests Stir Partisans

A taunting crowd of anti-Communists gathered Saturday afternoon on the west side of Potsdamer Platz—the Times Square of divided Berlin—and became furious when Eastern police arrested a girl and two men in a no-man's-land corner.

West German police cleared their civilians out of the troubled area.

In East Berlin—to chant of "Long Live Stalin"—PDJ legions carried on a vast 12-hour program of fets and pro-Soviet oratory.

Before a crowd of 70,000 Communists, Ulbricht dedicated a sports stadium bearing Stalin's name. "See in Stalin your best friend," Ulbricht urged.

More than 3,000 youngsters paid tribute to Red Army dead at the Soviet War Memorial in Treptow Park. Their spokesman promised: "We will fight to liberate our brothers and sisters in the West from Anglo-American colonial reign."

Air Of Tension, Readiness

The quiet West Side had an air of tension and readiness. Allied authorities have threatened the sternest measures to put down any organized entry from the East and Eastern officials have warned their youth not to stray across the line.

Sunday's march brings the greatest concentration, with the half-million starting to parade at 9 a. m. The parade is expected to last eight hours.

There has been nothing like it since the Nazis formed the Hitler Jugend Brigades. Observers remarked on the snappy marching discipline of Saturday's parading groups.

The youth brigades assailed the Western powers as "warmongers" and the Marshall Plan as a plot by big business to control Europe's assets.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of the West German (Bonn) Republic declared the Eastern youth are being coerced by communism just as they once were by Nazism.

Top Russians Leave Japan For Moscow On Mystery Mission

TOKYO —(AP)—Forty-nine top-ranking members of the Russian Mission left hastily for Moscow Saturday. Some observers believe it foreshadows a stronger Soviet drive in Southeast Asia.

Lt. Gen. Kuzma Derevyanko, Russia's leading veteran on postwar affairs in Asia, headed the departing group. He took with him his major policy makers.

The Russians sailed from Tokyo Bay on the Soviet Trawler 284 for the Siberian port of Vladivostok. The time of their departure, first reported as Sunday morning, was confirmed by a Soviet Mission spokesman.

Informed sources said General MacArthur was told in advance of the departure but that it was "unusually short notice." They sailed on the same vessel that brought in 35 Russian replacements. These last were described by informants as very junior military men.

Conflicting Theories

These sources speculated on these two conflicting theories for the Russians' departure:

First, Moscow is withdrawing its experts in the Far East who also are experts on U. S. military forces in Japan in preparation for new pressure on Southeast Asia.

Second, Derevyanko is being recalled for failure to build in Japan through indoctrinate Japanese patriots, the core of a disruptive guerrilla force such as in Indochina and elsewhere in Asia.

The mysterious Soviet move took diplomatic circles by surprise. They noted that Derevyanko took his wife with him—something he had not done on the two other occasions when he reported back to Moscow.

Firemen Corral Bees, Then Ask For Relief

NEW YORK —(AP)—When Mrs. Michael O'Brien found herself and her family of 11 children imprisoned by bees covering the doorways of her Brooklyn home she called the police Saturday night.

The police referred her to the Park Department, which referred her to the Fire Department, which sent Fireman Arthur Lih, 46, a one-time beekeeper in Norway.

While other firemen stood by—at a good distance—Lih, wearing heavy gloves and his face swathed in gauze, invaded the swarm and managed to scoop most of the bees on the doorways into cardboard cartons.

The cartons were taken back to the firehouse.

Before long, the bees were slipping out through the cracks.

Harried firemen called police, who referred them to the Park Department, which was pondering the case of what to do with the cartons.

Dirty, Squirt and Quit

FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS - A bunch of the boys will be whooping it up out at the Midland Fair Grounds this week...

It's the annual Rodeo Week in Midland—so load all the kids in the car or buggy and head out East Highway 80.

The Midland rodeo stadium is one of the finest you will find anywhere. Of all-steel construction, the huge stadium will seat at least 5,000 persons.

The presence of one person this year will be enough to lure hundreds of fans through the turnstiles.

Midland County continued to get its Spring 'drenching' last week. However, some hail, high winds and a twister took some of the joy out of the newly-acquired precipitation.

Business went on as usual Thursday afternoon out at the Midland Livestock Auction Co. The sale was strong and active.

A small booklet, showing pictures and explaining traits of cotton insects has been distributed to most Midland County farmers by Charles Green, county agent.

Barkley Praises Party As Texas Democrats Dig Up $100,000 War Chest

AUSTIN — Republican mouthpieces claim we are on the road to bankruptcy and we are on the last mile toward the police state.

Barkley declared his party "has written into the statutes of this nation a greater record of progressive legislation than all other political parties combined."

He added that a "great record of progressive legislation and administration has been continued by President Harry S. Truman, who is carrying on the burden of government in the tradition of Jefferson, Jackson, Cleveland, Wilson and Roosevelt."

Senators Lyndon B. Johnson of Johnson City and Rep. Homer Thornberry of Austin arrived from Washington with the vice president.

He recommended either dusting or spraying by ground machine or plane with 20 per cent toxaphene and 40 per cent sulphur as a dust and a 2-1 mixture of toxaphene and DDT as a spray.

Area farmers are urged to register with the PMA for deferred grazing benefits, according to H. J. Matejowski, head of the Abilene office of the cotton branch.

Members of the County Committee are W. E. Piggs, chairman, Dwight E. McDonald and Terry Elkins. County Agent Charles Green also is a consulting member of the group.

Officials of the Texas Cowboy Reunion, Stamford, are getting set for their biggest show in history.

Cotton farmers now can secure applications for 1950 Smith-Doxey benefits, according to H. J. Matejowski, head of the Abilene office of the cotton branch.

Groups should file their applications for Smith-Doxey benefits as soon as their cotton is planted to be sure of getting them approved in ample time to get the first bale classified. All applications must be filed before August 15.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By OSWALD JACOBY Written For NEA Service When you have played canasta once or twice, you find out that you must pay a lot of attention to the discards of the player at your left.

Since the opponents already had a lead on the meld, he was not at all in melding deuces with the aces. The player considered putting one deuce with the jack and another deuce with the nine.

Q—Are you compelled to use the top card of the discard pile when you take the pile? A—Yes.

NEW YORK — Cotton futures closed irregular Saturday with prices 30 cents a bale lower to 15 cents higher.

New Home Planning ARE YOU BUILDING IN NEW HOME DREAMS?

You want a plan that will be a home, not just a house? You want to select colors for the living room? For the kitchen? For the outside? To get away from the "sameness" of these new houses? You can do this by getting your own lot and building BUT you spend hundreds of extra dollars needlessly. We have homes started with all city utilities, choice of floor plans, choice of colors, closets, paper or texture, landscaping as you want it, and many other details that go into building a real home. We can give you a choice and save you money at the same time!

Let us prove this with facts and figures!

The Dramatic New Cul-matic
Culligan Zeolite Co. Trade mark.
WATER SOFTENER
with Push-Button Control!

We don't just sell you this new Cul-matic Water Softener and then forget it . . . or forget about you!

We are a soft water service organization which has been in business in Midland for twelve years. When you buy a water conditioning product from us we stand behind that product! When you buy a Cul-matic you get a warranty certificate backed by us and by the Culligan Zeolite Company, world's largest producer of water-softening zeolite! WHAT GOOD IS A WARRANTY? Only as good as the company behind it.

West Texas water supplies are corrosive. The average life of a water-softener tank has been less than three years . . . until the availability of Cor-Con-Trol. Years of research by Culligan Engineers perfected corrosion-resistant Cor-Con-Trol, which is standard equipment with the new Cul-matic.

Over 1500 families in Midland prefer to have their water softeners on a service basis . . . the Culligan way . . . but if you prefer to buy and operate your own water softener we sincerely recommend the dramatic New Cul-matic.

Model 3279 - 52,000 grain capacity - 199.50
—Can be purchased on liberal terms—

An exclusive feature of the New Cul-matic is that it is interchangeable with our Service Softener. It can be returned to our plant periodically for expert service — meantime a service softener placed in your home, on a no charge basis, will continue to provide you with Culligan Soft Water until your Cul-matic is returned.

Mrs. Rachal Hostess To North Elementary P-TA's New Board

An initial meeting for the new Executive Board of the North Elementary Parent-Teacher Association was held Friday morning in the home of the president, Mrs. Hal Rachal. Mrs. Rachal and the other officers for next term were installed recently and the new president appointed the committee heads who complete the board personnel.

Chairmen present were: Mrs. Hilton Kaderli, program; Mrs. J. T. Sikes, membership; Mrs. Ray Seifert, hospitality; Mrs. T. R. Houghton, legislation; Mrs. Earl S. Ridge, periodicals; Mrs. G. L. Barnard, safety; Mrs. Tate Brady, budget and finance; Mrs. Leo Brady, art; Mrs. James Marberry, parent education; Mrs. Bill Glasscock, audio-visual education; Mrs. A. T. Barrett, health; and Mrs. Ed Pierce, publicity.

Mrs. Robert Donnell, recording secretary; Mrs. S. M. Erskine, immediate past president; and W. D. Ladd, principal, were present also.

Mrs. Rachal greeted the board and spoke briefly of possibilities for the new year. Mrs. Erskine discussed the importance of the organization's reaching parents of all pupils, adding that average attendance of approximately a hundred at meetings last year represented one out of nine parents for the year. Mrs. Erskine stressed the need for leaders to accept the responsibilities as well as the privileges of authority. She suggested a number of projects suitable for the P-TA and these were discussed by the group.

Midland Student Is UT 'Goodfellow'

Dorothy Wolcott, Midland student in the University of Texas, has been chosen a Goodfellow by a committee including the staff of "The Cactus," university yearbook. Goodfellows are chosen each year on the basis of outstanding campus activities and are honored in a special section in the yearbook.

Council Of Church Women Will Hear Guests On Program

All Midland women are invited to the quarterly meeting of the Midland Council of Church Women at 3 p.m. Monday in the First Methodist Church, Mrs. P. N. Shriver, president, announces.

A called session of the Executive Board at 2 p.m. will precede the program.

Women's organizations in the Presbyterian, Episcopal, Christian and Methodist Churches of the city are affiliated with the council, and will not have their usual Monday afternoon meetings because of the council meeting. J. M. of the city is in charge of the program on the subject, "Our Daily Bread."

Speakers will be Frank Monroe, superintendent of Midland schools, with the topic, "Economics and the Schools;" Mrs. C. H. Ervin, president of the First Presbyterian Women of the Church, on "Church Women and Economics;" and Mrs. Willie Harding, child welfare supervisor in Midland County, on "Economics and Welfare Work."

Music On Program
Mrs. Frank Thompson will be the vocal soloist, with Ben Danby as her accompanist. Hughie Presley will conduct the devotional period and Homer B. Meek, Jr., will be the organist. Mrs. Luther Tidwell will give the closing prayer.

Members of the First Methodist Woman's Society will be hostesses. Mrs. F. C. Myers will be in charge of registration, and the ushers will be Mrs. E. P. Birkhead, Mrs. J. A. Sewell, Mrs. Richard Storey and Mrs. J. C. Wilson.

Tea will be served in the Scharbauer Educational Building after the program. Mrs. E. A. Crisman, president, and Mrs. Edwin Hall, vice president of the Woman's Society, will pour. Mrs. W. F. Shafer is chairman of the tea committee, with Mrs. C. H. Shepard, Mrs. R. D. Myers and Mrs. Sam Preston as members.

Mrs. Shriver has urged that all board members be present for their session, when a newly-drafted district constitution and by-laws is to be submitted for their approval.

Will Marry Midlander

Mr. and Mrs. Earl McLemore of Kermit announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Sue, to William B. Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Shaw of Midland. The wedding will be solemnized June 24, in the Community Church in Kermit with the Rev. Ronald E. Hubbard officiating. Miss McLemore is a graduate of Kermit High School and attended North Texas State College in Denton. Shaw was graduated from Allen Military Academy in Bryan and is attending the University of Texas. The couple will live in Kermit this summer and will return to Austin, where Shaw will continue his studies, in the Fall.

Afternoon Shower Is Given

Barbara Brannen, bride-elect of Eugene Lynch McKenzie, was honored with a pottery shower Saturday afternoon. Betty McWhorter was hostess in her home, assisted by Bebe McAnnally and Dorothy White.

Miss Brannen and McKenzie will be married July 1 in Abilene. The bride-elect will leave Midland soon for Abilene.

Blue and white, the bride-elect's chosen colors, were used in the decorations. Blue and white Esther Reed daisies were arranged for the centerpiece of the refreshment table. The same flowers in yellow were used on the registry table.

The guest list included Mrs. Marie Nichols, Mrs. Odell Biddy, Mrs. Travis Lars, Mrs. Zack Henderson, Mrs. Mann Rankin, Mrs. Velma Stewart, Cathy Harrington, Mrs. Bill Green, Mrs. Jack Wood, Peggy Heyser and Mrs. Bob Myers.

June Wedding Date Set

Clara Joyce Jenkins, bride-elect of Lee Roy Woodard of Midland, has been complimented with parties by friends here before the close of the school term. Miss Jenkins, a teacher in the John M. Cowden Junior High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jenkins of Mart and her wedding is planned for the evening of June 30 in the Church of Christ at Mart. Woodard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Woodard of Coleman, a graduate of Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, and is employed as a geologist with the Atlantic Refining Company. Miss Jenkins is a graduate of Abilene Christian College. The couple will live in Midland.

Miss Glynn Weds In Parsonage Ceremony

In a ceremony solemnized Friday evening in the parsonage of the First Methodist Church, Maxine Glynn became the bride of Homer Eggleston, Jr. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Glynn of Stanton and the Mrs. Homer Eggleston of Midland.

The Rev. Howard H. Hollowell, pastor, read the single-ring ceremony. The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. R. E. Tomlin of Midland. Raymond Griffith of Midland, uncle of the bridegroom, was best man.

Only the immediate family was present for the ceremony.

Wears White Lace
The bride wore a ballerina-length dress of white lace and navy blue accessories. Her dress was fashioned with a full skirt, cape collar and three-quarter length sleeves. Her corsage was of red roses.

Mrs. Tomlin wore a blue dress and a pink carnation corsage.

Immediately after the ceremony, a small reception was held in the Tomlin home. An arrangement of roses centered the table, which held the tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Tomlin and the bride's mother served.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to New Mexico, Mrs. Eggleston was wearing a gold linen suit with brown and white accessories. On returning, they will be at home on the George Glass ranch north of Midland where the bridegroom ranches with his father.

Mrs. Eggleston is an employee of the Continental Oil Company and has lived in Midland about one year.

Golfers Will Entertain For PGA Visitors

Wives of the visiting Professional Golfers' Association Tournament entrants at the Midland Country Club this week will be guests of the Ladies Golf Association at its weekly luncheon Friday. It was announced at last week's luncheon. Mrs. Frank Johnson, Mrs. Charles Wilson and Mrs. W. D. Lane will be hostesses and all members are urged to make reservations early in the week and be present to meet the women who will be visitors in Midland during the tournament.

Progressive bridge games followed the luncheon Friday, when Mrs. L. E. Patterson and Mrs. Fred Kotzky were hostesses. Mrs. C. W. Crowley made high score, Mrs. Alton Brown second high, and Mrs. Bob Rainli, a guest, received the bingo award.

Gay Week In View For Rodeo

Entertainment of Rodeo Week in Midland will include more than the performances of the annual World Championship Rodeo; a number of residents will take the holiday spirit and the presence of rodeo visitors on the city as inspiration for parties with an appropriate Western theme.

Preliminaries to the rodeo included a Western dance given for Junior Chamber of Commerce members by the JayCees-ettes recently, while two bridge-luncheon parties of the month have taken their decorative motif from rodeo plans.

Guests in many homes, some of them from distant parts of the nation, are here for the rodeo. Entertaining for them is generally in informal style with the flavor of old-time West Texas hospitality which is especially suitable for rodeo times.

Turn Outdoors
With the return of warm weather and the close of a school term to encourage a holiday mood and urge for the outdoors, picnics and backyard meals are gaining in popularity and offer an opportunity to get groups of friends together for friendly suppers before time for the rodeo performances.

Going to the rodeo is family entertainment and many families are being reunited in time for the event with the return of students from colleges.

Some of the parties of this week will have decorations in a Western note, like those of the American Association of University Women's "Bridg" Group Thursday when Mrs. Sam Geffen and Mrs. John Fletcher entertained in the Ranch House and the Tally Hostess Club recently at a luncheon with Mrs. R. E. Morgan and Mrs. J. V. Hardwick as hostesses.

DENTON TO GET DEGREE IN DENON EXERCISES

DENTON—Albert R. Conly of Midland will be a member of the largest Spring graduating class in the history of North Texas State College. Graduation exercises will be held Sunday in Denton, Conly will receive a bachelor of arts degree.

Dr. T. V. Smith of Syracuse University, Syracuse, N. Y., will be the principal speaker and 500 students will be graduated.

Wedding Date Set

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Mears of 411 West Nobles Street announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Dixie Ann to Howard Ray Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Edwards of 1805 North Bryant Street.

A garden wedding at the home of the bride's parents is planned for June 28. The couple will live in Midland.

Popular Ranch House To Celebrate Its Fourth Anniversary

What time could be more proper for Midland's Ranch House Restaurant to celebrate its fourth anniversary than during the annual Rodeo Week celebration?

And Midlanders by the scores find the menus of the Ranch House to their liking.

Located on Highway 1, near Eddie Simms, J. H. Wallace and Bill Connor are owners of the restaurant, situated on West Highway 80.

The Ranch House offers a wide variety of sea foods, Mexican dishes and other appetite-satisfying dishes.

Quiet, comfortable surroundings await all Ranch House visitors.

Members of the organization who do not belong to either group acted as hosts, and were assisted by Mrs. D. O. McEwen and Mrs. R. H. Johnson.

Crane Cub Scouts Schedule Card Party

CRANE - Cub Scout Pack No. 4, of which Mary Baker is leader, is mapping plans for the staging of a canasta, bridge and "42" party June 22 at the Crane Community Hall.

High School Seniors And Chorus Honored

RANKIN—The Methodist Youth Fellowship group honored the senior class and the Choral Club of Rankin High School in the church educational building Sunday night immediately following the Baccalaureate services.

Members of the organization who do not belong to either group acted as hosts, and were assisted by Mrs. D. O. McEwen and Mrs. R. H. Johnson.

Erbert Eckols, MYP president, and Esther Clark, vice president, greeted the guests. Wanda Burleson presented and Betty Bodine cake from a refreshment table centered with high score prizes for each of the three games.

Money raised by the project will be used for a special outing for the Scouts during the summer.

Knowing How To Be A Friend Is Just As Good As 'Glamor'

By RUTH MILLETT NEA Staff Writer

It started out as one of those "Why do you suppose he ever married HER?" marriages.

That was 14 years ago. Today people have quit wondering why Jim married Louise.

in such a way that it seems she is doing them for her own pleasure, not as a do-gooder at all.

So people no longer wonder why Jim married Louise. If a woman has enough character, enough true kindness, and enough appreciation for other people she doesn't have to dazzle.

Quints To Celebrate 16th Birthday Sunday

CALLANDER, ONT. (AP)—The Dionne quintuplets, 16 years old Sunday, are not interested in boys. So says their dad. He adds that the five girls won't be permitted to go out alone with boys until they graduate from school in two years.

"Some people think I should give the girls more freedom," the father, Olive Dionne, commented in an interview. "But I feel it is my duty to keep a close check on them, and I intend to do so until they have finished school, at least."

The quintuplets—Annette, Cecile, Emilie, Marie and Yvonne—now are in grade 10. Their 10 girl schoolmates in Callander will be among the few guests at a quiet birthday party, which is to be featured by a single cake with 16 candles.

You can prolong the life and beauty of ivy and other growing potted plants with gentle sudsing. When dust and grime settle on the leaves, the plant has difficulty in breathing.

NEA Staff Writer

All set for the first sunbath of the season? In your eagerness to get out and get under the sun, it's a temptation to disregard the warning to "go slow" on the initial exposure of skin to sun.

I've even heard girls say, "I don't mind a sunburn; I think it makes my skin tan faster." This, of course, is nonsense. Skin that has been seriously burned may fall to tan not only this year but for several seasons. Even a mild sunburn can be painful. A severe sunburn can be dangerous to health and damaging to skin tone.

With the improvements made in sunburn preventive lotions and creams in the last few years, it's folly to risk your tender skin. You can coat skin with a preventive that will screen out burning rays and permit you to build up a lasting tan slowly and painlessly.

How long can you safely expose your skin at first? That depends on your skin sensitivity, which may vary from year to year. A good rule of the thumb is to apply a sun-screening lotion or cream to every exposed area of skin and to limit yourself to 15 minutes the first day.

If you're a blonde or redhead or your skin is unusually sensitive, better use a double coating of lotion and cut down exposure time to 10 minutes. You can usually increase exposure time five minutes a day as long as you keep skin protected by a good sunburn preventive.

When the children join you in the sun, coat their skins with the same lotion you use. Applications, as a rule, should be renewed after swimming or when perspiration floats off the initial coating.

Don't forget that faces need protection from an overdose of sun when you're playing golf or tennis, or hiking. For this purpose, a non-greasy lotion which provides an invisible film is especially welcome.

You needn't rely on lipstick alone to protect sensitive lip tissues against unsightly sun blisters. There are medicated lip pomades which contain the same filtering ingredients used in suntan lotions. These pomades can be used under lipstick and should be renewed every time you touch-up lips.

Croutons make lots of dishes taste good—soup, salad, scalloped vegetables. For an extra-special touch serve them over chicken that's been simmered in a spicy tomato sauce.

HOSTESS TO CLUB
McCAMEY—Mrs. F. C. Reimers was hostess to the Home Arts Club in her home recently. Members who served and were served refreshments were Dot McNamary, Aileen Gibson, Ida Belle House, Oreon Werst, Gertrude Gibbs, Lucille Huffman, Pearl West and Delia Cox.

Get A Healthy Tan Without A Burn

The pleasure of a pretty suntan without the pain of a burn is the reward for protecting skin against an overdose of sun. Mother coats Junior's skin, right, with the same non-greasy sunburn preventive lotion she uses and limits their first sunbath of the season to 15 minutes. Sportswoman, left, applies sun-screening lip pomade under her lipstick to guard mouth against blisters.

McCamey Teachers Starting Vacations

McCAMEY—With the close of the term, teachers in the McCamey schools are starting vacations with a variety of plans. Some will study, others will visit or remain at home.

+ Pecos News +

PECOS — An evening barbecue dance will be held June 9 at Spitzgarber slab, four miles out the El Paso highway from Toyvale, for all former students of Texas A&M College. The Reeves and Unity Club, sponsors of the event, have issued invitations to all clubs in the Trans-Pecos area to attend dinner.

Delbert Downing To Speak At Sweetwater

SWEETWATER—Delbert Downing, manager of the Chamber of Commerce at Midland, will be the principal speaker at the Rotary club's 25th anniversary and ladies luncheon program at the Blue Bonnet Monday night.

Cottonwood Creek, as the result of a meeting Tuesday when interested Pecosites presented a discussion of the creek problem. Alton Hughes, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, Mayor Cecil Cothran and G. W. Parkhill, engineer, each testified in the discussion. They told of a flood on the creek which caused $54,000 damage to irrigation systems here.

Pecos' famed cantaloupes will be grown this year on more than 1,100 acres, though exact acreage cannot be determined until June when the PMA office completes land measurement, Jimmy Taylor, county agent, said recently.

Pecos is to receive a dusting with DDT Monday if weather permits. Cy Coleman, Pecos pilot, is to perform the dusting, at the rate of three cents per pound to be released. The action is the result of a newspaper survey indicating favorable response. The City Council okayed the plan at a recent meeting. Each water user in the city will be billed $1.25 in June for the dusting.

Oak wilt will kill a white oak in one or two years.

Baptist Church Will Open Vacation Bible School Wednesday

Vacation Bible School in the First Baptist Church will start Wednesday and continue through June 9. Lois Farnsworth, educational director of the church, has announced. The first session will begin at 9 a.m. Wednesday, open to all children from nursery through junior age.

Volunteer teachers and supervisors of craft work will conduct the school and various classes of the adult department will take turn serving refreshments to the children. Classes will meet each weekday morning during the school.

Miss Farnsworth is principal for the entire school and Mrs. Bob Goff will be the pianist for the general sessions. Mrs. Vernon Yearby will tell character stories to the assembled group and for the first few days of the school Howard Bryant, missionary to Chile, will meet with it.

Divisions of the school and the faculty have been announced as follows:

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drugget and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Barcontrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

LOST 40 POUNDS
"Before taking Barcontrate, my weight was 200 pounds. After taking seven bottles my weight is now 160 and I feel so much better, thanks to Barcontrate." Signed, Mrs. L. M. Robinson, Seabrook, Texas.

Press a luncheon salad of cooked or canned fish flakes with sour cream mixed with a little chopped fresh dill. Crisp crackers or melba toast are good with this.

Cut a fresh tomato into cubes, saute it in a little butter, and leave it in the pan when you scramble eggs for a flavor change.

Halve large oranges and serve them with a spoon, just as you would grapefruit. Children especially enjoy oranges this way for a breakfast change.

Jeanne Godshall of Victorville, Calif., well known in rodeo circles from Hollywood to New York, is one of four renowned women trick riders who will perform at the 16th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo, which opens here Wednesday. Aside from adding charm and beauty to Midland Rodeo, the attractive young woman will provide thrills galore by her daring rides in the arena at each of the show's five performances.

Miniature Pitchers Total 600 In Mrs. Herzog's Collection

By SUE COLEMAN

Packed and stored for seven years, a collection of 600 miniature pitchers belonging to Mrs. Lela Herzog now is on display in shelves built especially for them in the new home of Mrs. Herzog's daughter, Mrs. Paul Callahan, 1900 West Ohio Street.

Mrs. Herzog started collecting pitchers many years ago when a friend brought her two miniatures from a trip to Mexico. She added a few interesting pitchers that belonged to her family, then began buying those she saw which were unique or especially pretty. Learning of her hobby, relatives and friends gave her pitchers to increase the collection.

Her home was in St. Louis then, and she had special shelves built between dining room windows and painted a gleaming white as a background for the pitchers. After her children grew up and she decided to leave St. Louis to be near them, she simply packed the collection.

It was destined then for Mrs. Callahan's home, but during World War II the Callahans often were on the move and later, when he was employed with oil companies, the family never was settled long enough to feel at home. They came to Midland to "settle down" about a year ago, living at Terminal until their house was built.

Only when they moved into the new home early this year did the pitchers see the light of day again. They are set now on shelves in the living room, where the deep gray-green background displays them to advantage.

Mrs. Callahan shares her time between Mrs. Callahan's home and that of her son in New York, where she plans to go soon. She returns often to her old home, St. Louis, where there are numerous friends to see, and lately she has paid a long visit to friends in San Antonio.

White-haired and brown-eyed, Mrs. Herzog enjoys showing her collection to callers and she declares that she even enjoys washing and dusting all the tiny pitchers because she keeps finding something new in the various materials and patterns to interest her.

She knows the story of each piece in the collection, from the less-than-a-half-inch smallest one to the largest, the few normal-sized cream pitchers. She was assured when she found it in a shop in Nashville, Tenn., that her smallest pitcher is the smallest size made.

Rather than mere quantity, Mrs. Herzog has tried to keep her collection varied and seek the unusual. Although she has been in all but four states in the United States and in Mexico and Canada, she has not made any particular effort to get a piece for the collection from each state. Wyoming, Nebraska, Utah and South Dakota are the states she has not visited and she hopes to include them on a trip this summer, after her visit in New York.

She owns pitchers from many foreign countries, which she has received as gifts or found in shops. One of her oldest is a cream pitcher in the shape of a deer head, which came from Austria. Another, from Germany, has a pewter lid and is decorated in a small print design of wine color, and one is a Bavarian pitcher with a pastoral scene in somber colors.

From Many Lands

Of the miniature pitchers, one is in grape design from Czechoslovakia, some of Mexican blown glass, one with a German inscription and another from Germany with elaborate floral decoration, one of French porcelain with elegant flower and scroll design and one in the shape of a woman's head with a gilded crown.

Several from Italy have colorful patterns featuring flowers, one from Holland is of brilliant orange-colored Royal Gouda pottery and one from Denmark of deep blue pottery. The Royal Worcester and Royal Crown Derby pieces are fine miniature examples of English china. Bone china Toby jugs from England are rare, while there are other conventional Toby jugs in colored ware. An especially dainty Oriental pattern marks a piece from China.

Material of the pitchers includes not only pottery, china, porcelain and glass, but wood and metal. There are two made from English walnut shells, one that was carved for Mrs. Herzog from a peach stone by an elderly man who became interested in the collection, and two tiny crocheted pitchers.

Of Native Woods

The wooden pitchers are made of myrtle from Oregon, redwood from California, cedar from Colorado and hickory from Tennessee. One piece is a souvenir of Lincoln's home in New Salem, Ill., and a pair of tall, slim pitchers are decorated with pictures of George and Martha Washington. One of blown glass, made in Virginia, is made with a penny inside.

Two of special interest to Mrs. Herzog are a pitcher from a doll tea set and another in the shape of a cow, decorated with delft blue, which she had long before her collecting began.

Her interest in pitchers is an outgrowth of a lifelong love for china and glassware. In china cabinets of Mrs. Callahan's dining room are pieces of cut glass and hand-painted china which she owned as a bride. She says that people wondered why she kept those pieces when they went out of fashion, but now that they are antique collectors' items, she finds her friends eager to inspect them.

Co-ordinate Kitchen Color

Coming into the kitchen to make it brighter and meal preparation simpler are a drip coffee maker which triple filters coffee and comes in modern decorator colors, and clear frozen food containers which can be used over (above); color coordinated kitchen towel ensembles (below).

By GAILLE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK (AP)——Kitchen towels designed around a solid color are the newest contribution to a smart, co-ordinated kitchen. The theory is that any kitchen will look better by introducing the same decorator principles used for bathroom ensembles.

These new sets team solid color terry hand towels and potholders with dish towels in stripes and plaids. The solid colors—dark green, cardinal red, nutmeg, cornflower blue and sunflower yellow—pick up one of the plaid or stripe colors. The whole makes for harmony among the pots and pans.

A drip coffee maker which doubles as a tea pot and which, when it makes coffee, extracts 98 per cent of the coffee flavor, is another contribution to kitchen harmony. The coffee it makes is triple-filtered; it comes in modern decorator colors to carry out a kitchen theme.

Clear plastic frozen food container covers are flexible and lock tight maintaining a complete seal. The containers can be used over and over again.

A new rotary grater, which places the grater against the food, rather than the other way around, is now available. Made of steel and coated to prevent rust, this design has 180 cutters which grate up every bit of food put into it.

RENOVATE A NURSERY

Furnishing a nursery on a limited budget is possible with a raid on the attic or second-hand shop. These shabby pieces (left) were transformed with two coats of fast-drying, high-gloss enamel into an attractive set (right).

By GAYLE DUGAS, Staff Writer
NEW YORK—In many an average budget, there is no room for brand-new nursery furniture. But babies need their own sets. When an income won't stretch to cover a bed and chest of drawers, the obvious solution lies in a raid on the attic or second-hand furniture shop. Since babies quickly outgrow furniture, the pieces need not be picked with a view to years of service. But they should be attractive while they're in use. And they can be with the use of paint remover, sandpaper, paint and brush. In big cities, for instance, it is possible to buy a second-hand bed, with finish in poor condition, for as little as $5. If such furniture, after being prepared the surface by removing paint thoroughly. Directions vary as to method for commercial paint removers. Since the surface must be dry and clear before you start painting, sand the surface smooth and dust it off. The first coat will act as undercoat. When it's completely dry, put on a surface coat. Flow it on with a clean bristle varnish brush. And be sure the paint you use is free of lead ingredients; paint containing lead is not safe for children's furniture. Enamel, ordinarily used for nursery furniture, may be the fast-drying, high-gloss type. It should not flow too heavily or it may sag on upright surfaces, or dry too slowly on level areas. Such an enamel is not affected by liquids, won't chip or crack, can be washed indefinitely without losing

Texas And Chicago Take Beating From Red Propagandists

BERLIN—Texas and Chicago take an awfully beating from the Communist propagandists. Though the Texans may not know it, they're still in the "wild West." Let a GI get into a knife of shooting scrape here and he's identified—in the Russian-controlled press—as a Texan, though he may come from Jersey City or St. Joseph, Mich. Chicagoans may have forgotten Al Capone and the prohibition gangster era. But the Russians here haven't nor are they going to let the Germans within their hearing forget. The Soviet Army's newspaper, Taegliche Rundschau, which sets the pace for a dozen Russian-controlled papers here, usually refers to the U. S. sector of Berlin as the "gangster sector" or the "Chicago sector." A favorite headline and editorial theme is "Berlin must not become Chicago." Must Be Kept Out This means, in Communist language, that the "terror" which prevails in Allied-occupied West Berlin must never penetrate into the "democratic" sector of the city—which is the "American sector." And when the Communists are not assailing the "American gangsters from Chicago" they are lapping the "cowboys from Texas." "Texas is West Berlin" is a standard headline of a German cigaret being named "Texas—the cigaret which tells you something." Matter of fact, Texans also might consider it a libel if they ever smoked one. Leopards like the meat of domestic dogs and cattle.

Calm After Hysterics In 'Miranda'

Nurse Cary, seated on the left end of the couch, is aghast after being slapped out of a fit of hysterics by Sir Paul Marten, standing left, at the end of the first act of "Miranda," current Community Theater production. The reason for the hysterics of the nurse, played by Marymargaret Corbett, is that she has just had her first view of Miranda, the mermaid, played by Sue Coverley. A hold-over presentation of the play will be staged at 8:30 p.m. Monday, with the ticket board open all that day at Tailorfine. Elizabeth Pennbaker as Clare Marten, wife of Sir Paul, is seated next to Nurse Cary. John Hughes has the doctor's role. Standing behind the couch are Betty, the maid, played by Gwen Workman and Charles, the chauffeur, played by Charles Berg. The other two characters, Isobel Lamber and Nigel Hood, are played by Betty Simpson and Roger Coverley.

Armontrout School Presents Pupils In Term-End Program

A program for parents and friends of the pupils was presented at Mrs. Vivian Armontrout's Day School for Little Children, 1425 West Kentucky Street, Friday night when the youngsters had their "graduation exercises." First grade, pre-school and kindergarten pupils took part.

The program of the kindergarten group was as follows: "Welcome," David McCloy; pledge to the flag; "Shopping," Richard Wallace; "If I Only Knew," Judy Wecker; "Mud Pies," Carolyn Dawson; "Grandpa's Glasses," Tony Johnson; "What I Like," Bert Bienvenu; "My Kitten," David Watson; "Crickets," Paula Wecker; "Ambitious," Tommy Hollis; and "Big Returns," Billy Don Bamber.

Numbers by the pre-school children were "Wise Bobby," John Green; "Fishing," Sammy Webb; "Helping Mother," Judy Hollis; "I've Learned," Sharon Bienvenu; "Chickweek," Max Hendrick; "Class Will," Anna Rogers; and a song, "America," by the group.

Diplomas signifying that they have completed the pre-school course were presented to these children, and diplomas were given also to those who have completed the first grade and who presented the following program numbers: "Welcome to Our School Room," Mary Evelyn Snody; "Our Confessions," Judith Dawson, Ruth Schneider and Sharon Ross; "Whispering," Paula Ford; "Reading Books," Cynthia Siver; "Our School," Judy Edman; "Picnic Time," Diane Busby; "Friendship's Rule," Nancy Jo Buss; "Safety First," Janice Yoakum; "Johnny's Pa," Tommy Rowe; "School Days," by the group; "Class History," June Ellen DeArmon; "The School Year Is Over," Nila Lee Smith.

Hospital Auxiliary Discusses Projects At Charter Meeting

Projects to be undertaken immediately for the Midland Memorial Hospital and plans for encouraging gifts to the hospital were discussed by the Women's Auxiliary at a meeting in KCRS studio Friday morning.

From numerous suggested projects, the group decided on furnishing a sewing room, equipping a children's room and supplying accessories for the nurses' home as work to be undertaken at once. The auxiliary had tentatively decided to furnish the nursery as its first project, but found that nursery furnishings had already been donated.

The president was authorized to appoint a committee to confer with trustees of the hospital and study plans for encouraging gifts from groups and individuals.

Announcement was made that the Sewing Committee of the auxiliary has been formed with 31 members and divided into five groups. Group leaders are Mrs. Ralph Barron, Mrs. W. P. Buckthal, Mrs. A. P. Callahan, Mrs. Carl Westlund and Mrs. R. A. Wright.

Mrs. Barron, membership chairman, made her report on the charter membership registration, which closed with the meeting. Dr. Dorothy Weyell, the only woman physician in Midland, was voted an honorary charter membership.

Lola Albright, movie starlet, gives a fresh, summery look to a simple blouse (left) by substituting artificial carnations for cuff links and using another pose as a collar button. For a quick trick to brighten a navy blue ensemble she ties patterned scarf at the neckline, wraps a matching scarf around her hat (right).

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

How to pack more variety into a weekend wardrobe is a problem for the summer traveler when suitcase space is at a premium.

Best answer says Lola Albright, movie starlet who is stumping the country for her new picture, "Good Humor Man," is to tuck in a few small accessories such as artificial flowers and scarves. These are easy to pack and can be used to give a sprightly new twist to a familiar outfit.

Take artificial flowers, for example. Three white carnations with flexible stems are used to ring in a change on a simple, long-sleeved blouse. Two of the posies take the place of cuff links. This she does by simply pulling the stems through the holes and bending them to hold cuffs closed. The third makes a fresh-looking replacement for a clip at the collar line.

Clustered together, the lacy white flowers make an eye-catching pocket ornament on a dark dress. As another switch, she pins two on her navy blue hat band and wears the third on a suit lapel.

Two scarves in the same pattern are teamed up to give an ensemble effect to a tailored costume. One scarf she ties gilet-fashion around her neck. The other is wrapped and knotted around her navy blue hat. On the basic dress, one scarf ties under the collar, the other peeps out of a side pocket of the skirt or is looped over her belt.

New Bykota Class Of Baptist Church Plans Tea Monday

A class recently organized in the First Baptist Church School for women in the 24-26 age group will entertain prospective members Monday with a tea in the home of Mrs. R. L. Richardson, the teacher. Her address is 1907 West Kentucky Street.

Women in the age group who are not members of another class are invited to attend the tea and become members, Mrs. J. E. McCain, superintendent of the young adult department, announced. Hours for the tea are 3 to 4:30 p.m., and the nursery at the church will be open then to care for children.

The new class has chosen the name, Bykota, formed from initial letters of the words, "Be ye kind, one to another." Mrs. H. C. Jones is its president.

Andrews County Takes Early Lead In Bond Campaign

Andrews County led others in the Permian Basin Empire from a percentage quota standpoint for the first week of the Independence Savings Bond Drive, according to figures released from the state headquarters in Dallas. Andrews citizens purchased $1,062,250 worth of Series E Bonds, 55.31 per cent of the county's $2,000 quota. The campaign will continue through July 4.

Howard County was first in volume, reporting sales of $25,781.25 against its quota of $19,000 (136.6 per cent).

Quota and sales figures from other area counties include: Crane—$12,000, $2,806.25; Dawson—$16,000, $18.75; Ector—$92,000, $1,837.50; Gaines—$22,000, $1,592.75; Martin—$12,000, $206.25; Midland—$187,000, $3,890; Pecos—$26,000, $1,518.75; Reeves—$54,000, $8,118.75; Upton—$30,000, $25.00; Ward—$22,000, $3,131.25; Winkler—$32,000, $375.

Midland Rodeo, 1950

Midland Fair, Inc., this week will present its 16th annual World Championship Midland Rodeo—the big and colorful entertainment event of the Southwest.

The first performance will be presented Wednesday night, with succeeding shows scheduled Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights.

Officials have gone all out in arranging the biggest, most and most thrilling show in the long history of Midland Rodeos, and the spectators will be more than satisfied with the 1950 spectacle.

Midland Rodeo has developed into a West Texas institution and is supported widely by residents of the vast Midland Basin Empire. It is one of the top-bracket West attractions of the nation, and each year attracts the world's top rodeo performers.

Interest this year is at a high pitch, and the support organizations, groups, business firms, merchants and citizens in general has been excellent.

Midland Rodeo is one of the new big-time cowboy attractions in Texas which never has lost money, due mainly to the fact that the show consistently has improved the quality and caliber of its performances to the satisfaction of spectators and contestants.

It takes big money to produce such an outstanding attraction, and for that reason Midland Rodeo never has lost a cent of big money.

Midlanders and West Texans demand the best and Midland Rodeo provides the best in rodeo entertainment.

The stage is set and everything is in readiness for the 16th World Championship Midland Rodeo, which belongs to all Midland and Permian Basin Empire residents.

We will see you at the Midland Rodeo Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights. WELCOME TO MIDLAND RODEO.

So They Say

With the problems facing the United States in the field of foreign relations, it is most important that every effort be made to maintain a true bipartisan foreign policy.

I am gravely concerned with the status of American foreign policy in Asia and the deteriorating situation in that continent in the cold war.

Too many important Republicans now seem to regard the people as dupes who have been suborned by tax money.

I am confident that a number of excise taxes put on during the war will be completely repealed.

Congressional Probe To Ask: 'Is RFC Too Easy A Banker?'

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Reconstruction Finance Corporation's $37,000,000 loan to Lustron prefabricated housing corporation and $4,000,000 loan to Waltham Watch Company now are being investigated by Congress.

These new hearings will be follow-ups on the Fulbright subcommittee's investigation of the RFC's $15,000,000 loan to Texaco Petroleum Company of Dallas.

Senator Fulbright soon hopes to have a report on all RFC operations ready for the Senate.

Senator Fulbright makes no personal charges against any of these men. There is no indication of fraud or dishonesty.

For service after June 30, the President is expected to nominate two directors for one-year terms, two more for two years and one for three years.

Present RFC directors are Chairman Harley Hise, Walter L. Dunham, Harvey J. Gunderson and William E. Willett.

Senator Fulbright cites several examples. He mentions how hard it is to get a $1,000,000 appropriation through Congress.

Headings before the Fulbright committee disclosed that the Texaco Petroleum loan was made in 10 days by a vote of only two RFC directors.

Interest Rates

Snare Fulbright declares it has been difficult to get the facts straight about RFC operations.

Questions and Answers

Q—What is a dogie? A—In the West, a dogie is a motherless calf or one which, on the range, is separated from its mother.

Q—How old is the art of wrestling? A—Wrestling, one of the most ancient of sports, had reached a high stage of development in Egypt at least 5,000 years ago.

Q—Was it ever a custom to peddle fire on the streets? A—In medieval Europe and Colonial America, it was customary for a peddler to go about the streets carrying live coals in a container.

Q—In what state was slavery first forbidden? A—Vermont.

Q—What is unique about the church of the Italian Swiss colony in Asti, Calif. A—It is shaped like a wine barrel.

What's RIGHT?

You are telephoning to invite a couple to your house for dinner and the husband answers the telephone.

RIGHT: Ask to speak to his wife. The St. Johns River, in Florida, is the only important river wholly within the United States whose course is in a northerly direction.

In whatever century his mind happened to be wandering. "Yes," Gloria snapped. "Oh Gloria, is that you? You ought to know better than to call me at this hour. I am preparing a lecture for tomorrow on Aristophanes.

"It is best to be hanged on a good tree," as the ancient proverb goes," the professor murmured absently. "Murder? Did you say Mitlades had murdered someone? I'm sure the fellow deserved it. Or was it a she?"

"No, he didn't murder anyone but the police think he did," Gloria wailed, trying to snap him back 23 centuries. "I called up to ask if you knew a good lawyer?"

"WAS it a funny corpse?" the professor asked, interestedly. "The Greeks often made death the object of much mirth in the drama," you remember when Bacchus is trying to get someone to carry his parcels for him down into Hades, he stops a hearse and asks:

"Holla! you there! You Dead-man, can't you hear? . . . " "Listen, Mitlades is in jail!" Gloria yelled desperately. "What shall I do about it?"

"Get him out, of course. Good-by," said the professor and hung up the phone but he took it up again instantly to add, "Don't bother me again unless it is really important." This time the line stayed dead.

But the simple manner in which the professor had disposed of the question without worrying about lawyers or other legal quibbling had done Gloria good, for it clarified her own mind and confirmed her suspicions that when the law acts stuffy and hide-bound, refusing to believe in the innocence of one as obviously a good citizen as Mitlades, it is better to take things into one's own hands.

It was eons before the professor answered but she had the operator keep trying and finally she heard the familiar irritation of his voice as being interrupted.

Their Dollars Helped

Mrs. Harold Robinson, Mrs. A. R. Ayles, Verda Bartlett and Cathy Harrington are shown, left to right, viewing the mobile tubercular X-ray unit their dollars helped to buy. The unit was presented to the Texas Tuberculosis Association by Texas Beta Sigma Phis. The women shown are members of Midland chapters. Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Ayles are Xi Theta members, Miss Bartlett is president of the city council and a member of Beta Delta Chapter, and Miss Harrington is president of Iota Beta Chapter.

Several Openings Listed By TEC

Several new job openings are listed by the Texas Employment Commission office, 200 East Wall Street. Openings for male stenographers, female stenographers, typists, wool pressers, silk finishers, car hops, waitresses, domestic maids, cooks, auto mechanics and auto mechanic helpers, and a chief photographer for legal documents, all are listed at the TEC.

Leopards sometimes serve a good purpose by keeping down animals that would destroy crops.

Beta Sigma Phi Members See Their Gift Being Used Here

The mobile tubercular X-ray unit, currently checking the health of Midland citizens was presented to the Texas Tuberculosis Association by Beta Sigma Phi Sorority members in Texas.

Midland Beta Sigma Phis participated in this project and are being rewarded by having the tangible result of their efforts here for two weeks. They are assisting at various times with work connected with the use of the X-ray unit here.

The purchase of this unit was adopted as a state project at the sorority convention in Dallas in November, 1947. At the membership total in 1947, the membership total in 1947, purchase of the $23,000 unit amounted to approximately $8 per member.

Midland gave Two Midland chapters, Beta Delta and Xi Theta, contributed $480, or $8 for each of the 60 members. Beta Delta Chapter had not been organized at this time. Among the projects the Midland group sponsored for raising its share of the money were the 1949 Fall style show and the sale of a saddle during that year's rodeo.

The X-ray unit was presented to the state association at the sorority's state convention in Houston in 1948 and has been in continuous use throughout the state since that time. This is the first time it has been in Midland.

In further support of the Tuberculosis Association program, $5,000 was voted to be contributed by Texas Beta Sigma Phis during 1948-49, for operating expenses. The goal was more than met, with $13,410 having been given up to May 21, 1950.

Inspection Of City's Restaurants Begins

An intensive campaign is underway in Midland to inspect all restaurants, grocery stores and other food establishments, according to Dr. F. E. Sadler, director of the City-County Health Unit.

During the summer months improper food handling can more easily cause serious illness and diseases, according to Dr. Sadler, and all citizens are urged to inspect their premises for fly breeding and places for other insects.

The recent rains will cause flies and other insects to breed faster, Dr. Sadler said. All operators of food establishments will be expected to have unsanitary conditions corrected in a reasonable time, he said.

Good results have been obtained in sewage connections. However, the sewage campaign will be continued until all property with access to the city sewer is connected, Dr. Sadler said.

North Carolina researchers have found that, unfortunately, cattle grazing in timberlands, will eat the most valuable species first.

Beauty and the Bride

The smart bride shuns artificial make-up effects. Vaseline brushed on lashes (top left) gives eyes a glamorous silky fringe without risking smudges. To play up the natural glow of her skin, she uses a transparent lotion as powder foundation (bottom left). At last minute, she fluffs extra powder on nose and chin to keep down shine.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Probably on no other occasion is it more important to a girl to look her loveliest than on her wedding day.

If wedding bells will be ringing for you soon, a few tips from make-up experts experienced in helping brides look their prettiest may prove helpful. The day of the wedding is no time to be experimenting with new or unusual make-up effects. Keep your make-up simple, urge the experts. Same advice goes for the hair-do.

The bride's blush is no myth—happy excitement usually does heighten natural coloring. So go easy on rouge and deep-toned foundations. The experts suggest using a transparent foundation for powder which keeps down shine without covering up a flattering natural glow.

Light, clear reds for lipstick—either in coral or pink tones—are a better choice with delicate white veils and gowns than deep fuschia or burgundy tones. A smart precaution is to brush on a clear fixative over lipstick so that color won't rub off on linen or the cheeks of well-wishing guests who want to kiss the bride.

Unless you actually have tested your mascara and know it is absolutely waterproof, better not take a chance on streaks and smudges should you shed a happy tear. You can give lashes a silky and luxurious look by brushing on vaseline with a small mascara brush. Give brows the same glossy treatment.

You'll want to have your hair done one or two days before the big occasion so that it won't look too set. As a rule, it's prettier not to have lots of little curls and ringlets clustering around your face, particularly if you headress is elaborate. To keep fly-away wisps in line, moisten a cotton pad with hair lacquer and smooth it lightly around the hair line.

At the last minute, after you are dressed and your veil is anchored in place, take two seconds to fluff an extra bit of powder on nose and chin.

Byron Nelson To Be Lions Speaker

Byron Nelson, one of the greatest golfers of all times, is scheduled to be guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Midland Lions Club Wednesday in the Scharbauer Hotel.

Members of other service clubs are invited to attend. Roy Minear, Lions president, announced.

Nelson and other name golfers here for the PGA tournament are to appear at the luncheon.

Graduates Honored With Breakfast By Methodist Seniors

Honoring the 1950 graduates of Midland High School who are members of the Senior High Department of the First Methodist Church School, a breakfast was given in the Scharbauer Educational Building of the church Saturday morning.

Robert E. Stripling was the guest speaker. John Van Buskirk, department president, presided. Program arrangements were in charge of a committee headed by Marjane Forrest, with Helen Hollowell and Camilla Birkhead as other members.

Senior students in the department are Jo Ann Boykin, Virginia Bredlow, Margi Carter, Helen Cartwright, Frances Claybrook, Irma Driver, Pat Emmons, Wilma Hall, Rosalynn Leggett, Katherine Lewis, Peggy Minear, Betty Nix, Marian Richardson, Marilyn Wheelless, Betty Wilson, James Chauncey, Dan Dickinson, Ronnie Estel, John Klingler, Wayne Richardson and Max Schaffer.

The largest white spruce on record in the U. S. measures 8 feet and 8.77 inches around at 4 1/2 feet above the ground.

Two Hostesses Entertain At Stork Shower

Complimenting Mrs. C. W. Chancellor, Jr., Mrs. Allen Wemple and Mrs. Paul Jordan entertained with a layette shower Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Fred Wemple, 504 North Loraine Street. Decorations were cleverly arranged in a stork motif.

As guests entered, they saw a huge stork figure standing over a crib where the gifts were heaped. A smaller stork figure, surrounded by pink snapdragons and blue daisies, centered the refreshment table. The pink net cloth was caught on either side with colonial bouquets of pink and blue daisies. The cake was in bassinet shape with blue net over it.

The honoree was presented a pink and blue corsage fastened to rattle, and corsages for members of the house party had teething rings tied to their ribbon streamers. Mrs. Hank Avery and Mrs. Don Crookham assisted the hostesses in receiving guests and serving the refreshments.

Entertainment was by three small pupils of Nadyne Griffin, who presented tap dances. They were Susan Pretzel, Judy Jeter and Norma Ann Phillips. Diana Daugherty was their accompanist.

He's Just A Bouncing Baby Boy

Store Is Wrecked, Three Hurt In Fire Blast At Big Spring

BIG SPRING—(AP)—An explosion and fire, apparently set off by light switch, wrecked a downtown furniture store Friday and injured three persons.

The blast came in the Bar Douglas Furniture Store as Manager Joe Smith switched off lights at closing. Two nearby buildings were damaged.

Mrs. Lorena Lynch suffered bruises and shock. Mrs. Garrettton, who was passing, suffered a cut.

Smith had cuts and a possible fractured ankle. Fire Chief H. V. Crocker said explosion came from accumulations of gas. Firemen fought the blaze for an hour and a half. An estimated damage was not available.

To Appear In High School Auditorium

These five petite dancers will be among those appearing in the high school auditorium Wednesday night when Nadyne Griffin's third annual production "Stars of Tomorrow" and Georgia Goss Harston's "Toy Shop Ballet" are presented under the sponsorship of the Optimist Club. The performance will begin at 8 p.m. Pictured, left to right, are Ann Mackey, Susan VandenBark, Kay Mackey, Ardis Joy Griffin and Judy O'Neal.

Liberty Bell To Visit Midland

The voice of American liberty and independence will ring out here Tuesday when a full-size, exact duplicate of the Liberty Bell will visit Midland while on a tour of the state as a symbol of the Independence Savings Bond Drive now underway. The Liberty Bell, one of 52 now touring the nation, will be displayed on the courthouse lawn here. The Ford Motor Company is providing the transportation of the bells across the nation.

Independence Drive—
Liberty Bell To Ring Out Here Tuesday Afternoon

A bronze replica of the original Liberty Bell will be in Midland Tuesday afternoon in connection with the sale of United States Savings Bonds during the Independence Drive, which now is underway throughout the nation. John P. Butler, Midland County Savings bond chairman, said Saturday. The bell, transported on a special truck, will arrive here at 12:30 p.m. and will remain on display on the courthouse lawn until 3 p.m. A special ceremony will be presented at 2 p.m., Butler stated. Mayor William B. Neely, Jr., Clifford C. Keith, county judge, and Robert L. Wood, Chamber of Commerce president, will be among the speakers. Representatives of various patriotic organizations will participate in the ceremony, including Mrs. Nelson Puett, regent of the Midland D.A.R. Chapter; Leonard Miller, Veterans of Foreign Wars; and Perry Pickett, American Legion. The Disabled American Veterans post also will be represented. Butler invited all citizens to see and hear the Liberty Bell and to attend the special ceremony. Most Cherished Relic "It is fitting that the Liberty Bell should be displayed here on Memorial Day, and it is hoped as many of our citizens as possible will avail themselves of the opportunity to see an authentic replica of America's most cherished relic," Butler said. Midland County's quota in the Independence Drive is $187,000 in Series E Bonds. The state quota is $24,088,000. Campaign leaders urge the cooperation of all residents in meeting the quota. Slogan Cited The campaign slogan is "Save for YOUR Independence." Midland County is one of 87 in Texas which will be visited by the bell, which is an exact duplicate except for the crack, of the original Liberty Bell which is preserved in Independence Hall at Philadelphia. The crack is simulated in the duplicate bell so that it will have the same "voice" that proclaimed liberty 174 years ago when this nation declared itself "free and independent." The bell will be rung during the ceremonies. The bell is one of 49 which the copper industry is furnishing as its contribution to the Independence Drive. One bell each will tour the 48 states and the District of Columbia during the drive which ends July 4. The Texas bell and the 48 others are transported on specially equipped trucks which are being furnished by the Ford Motor Company.

By SUE COLEMAN

Women of the week in Midland are the girl graduates who are to receive their high school diplomas Tuesday. Around them, and their classmates, the world revolves right now. In a few weeks they will lose their distinction as graduates and just be prospective college freshmen or job-holders or—some of them—brides, but at the moment each one of them is centered by an individual spotlight and is enjoying the most important period of her life thus far. Congratulations, every one of you!

"Just a hole in the ground" is all the evidence she has now of prospects for a new house. Maurine Shoemaker says, but that start on a foundation out in the west end of Midland is occupying her attention and she expects to have her mind strictly in the construction business most of the Summer. It's her first experience in the "Mrs. Blandings" role and she can hardly wait for the dream house to be finished. Already she is getting acquainted with other residents in the new neighborhood so she won't be a stranger when she moves in.

Young visitors in our office lately have included Judy Clarke, who sometimes accompanies her mama, Dura, and always is in a friendly mood. And red-haired Mrs. Benton Howell was escorted the other day by her two small red-haired sons, one of whom has blue eyes and the other brown.

New acquaintances in person after many telephone conversations: Mrs. E. P. Birkhead, who dropped in on an errand after her Sunday School class coffee at the Methodist Church, and Mrs. Richard Hinkle, who is the new president of her garden club.

Seen coming or going: Mrs. M. S. Dickerson in a summery iridescent green tailored dress, carrying an armful of packages down the street; Mrs. Louis Ayres, whose hair, which definitely is coppery in color, still seems to match exactly her eyes, which are certainly brown; Mrs. Robert Donnell, a brown-eyed blonde, driving by and watching traffic intently; Mrs. Don Johnson, bareheaded, stopping to chat with a friend downtown.

Close of the club season means more to the newspaper society writers than it does to anyone except the club members themselves, we suspect. Not only do we change our routine completely, but we miss the regular visits, mostly by telephone, with the club reporters.

This year we have enjoyed bi-weekly chats with Jay Westlund, Mary Jane Schabarum, Mrs. Al Cowden, Billie Kolyza, Jamie Jimerson and Lorena Jones of the study clubs and Marian Aldrich, Louise Sadler, Earlene Christy, Mrs. Sam Preston, Mrs. M. R. Hayes and Mrs. Frank Reeves of the garden clubs. Mildred Goodman of the Seneca Club moved to Dallas just before the season ended and we were only beginning to get acquainted with her successor, Mrs. F. N. Littlejohn, when the club ended its year.

And there are dozens of others, reporters for social clubs and P-TA units and church organizations, whom we will miss while they are taking a well-earned vacation. Of course some of the clubs will continue to meet through part or all of the Summer, so we won't be lonesome; we'll just appreciate the Summer reporters more because they are not numerous.

Contracts Let For Three NTSC Buildings

DENTON —P— Contracts for three buildings at North Texas State College have been let. The contracts, approved by regents Friday, are for a new education building, women's gymnasium and classroom adjunct and a library wing. The buildings are to cost about $1,000,000. James T. Taylor and Son, Inc., of Fort Worth received the contract for general construction of the three structures on a bid of $670,197. The regents talked of future building and called a meeting of the building committee to plan an athletic stadium and dormitory structures. Staff additions and faculty appointments for the Summer and Fall sessions were made.

First Christian To Dedicate Church Plant

By FAYE SHELBURNE

With a sanctuary which glorifies the Lord, and an educational plant that is modern and efficient, the First Christian Church formally will dedicate its new building Sunday.

Every effect of the sanctuary points to the fulfillment of its one purpose—worship. On entering, the worshiper finds his attention immediately drawn to the chancel and its background. In the center of the chancel is the communion table with a brass cross in the middle and matching flowers on either side. These are the gift of Mrs. W. R. Bowden. The silver communion service, which is used each Sunday, is a gift of the Grave family, including Elma and Dick Graves, Susie Graves Noble and Mrs. Charles Brown.

Behind the communion table is the baptismal font. A stained glass window of the "Study of Resurrection," resembling the work of Ender, completes the baptismal scene. The window was near the entrance of the old church, but was noticed by very few persons. Now it is highlighted by the light shining on it from behind in the setting of the baptismal font. The baptismal font is arranged that the candidate for baptism is in the fold-ups of the water before being seen by the worshipers.

On each side of the chancel are the choir seats with an electric organ on the left. The organ has a large speaker cabinet 30 feet high in the front and an echo cabinet in the rear. A switch at the console makes it possible to use one or both of these. Seating capacity of the choir is 30, the number of the present choir.

Pulpit Bible
To the right of the chancel is the lectern which holds the large pulpit Bible, a gift of Mrs. S. W. Estes, oldest woman member of the church. The pulpit is to the left of the chancel.

The pews, the chancel and waist-high wall-panelling are light oak. The pews have wine velvet air foam rubber cushions. The floor is covered with rose and wine carpeting. The walls from waist up are celotex in variegated colors with rose and wine dominating.

The large beams coming together in the middle of the ceiling are made of a dark wood with the ceiling contrasted in a lighter finish. Slim-line lights—more or less hidden from members of the congregation as they face the worship center—run the full length of the "V" shaped beams. Where each two beams come together in the center are spot lights which use 1,000 watt bulbs. With these lighting facilities the mood for worship is created before and after the service begins.

When the churchgoers are beginning to assemble for worship only the front slim-line lights are on. Then as more people come, all of the slim-line lights are turned on. Just as the song service begins the spotlights are lighted. When it is time for the sermon the slim-line lights are turned off and the spotlights focus attention on the center of the chancel is the communion table with a brass cross in the middle and matching flowers on either side. These are the gift of Mrs. W. R. Bowden.

There are five narrow, tall stained glass windows with Gothic heads on each side of the sanctuary and two behind the sanctuary. The stained glass is predominantly blue with excellent light-admitting qualities.

Each window has an emblem portraying a scriptural thought and a crown worked into the design. Emblems included on the various windows are the sheaf of wheat representing the loaf of communion, grapes representing the wine of communion, the cross and crown, a torch with the words of the Psalmist, "The Lord is my light," the Alpha and Omega of the open Bible, the Ten Commandments tablet, the arc, the Bible, a cross and anchor with the words, "faith, hope and charity," a descending dove emphasized in the baptismal passages of John the Baptist and Jesus, a lamb representing Jesus Christ, and a lamp.

Behind the baptismal font is a large stained glass window facing Louisiana Street. The window highlights the cross. This window will be lighted every night.

Doors on either side of the chancel and choir seats lead to dressing rooms, used for the choir and for candidate for baptism. In the passageway between the two dressing rooms are closets for the choir robes. An outside entrance is provided from each of the dressing rooms.

Porch Entrance
To the rear of the sanctuary, opening on the west, is a drive-in porch entrance, designed primarily for funerals. Also it will be ideal for bad weather and taxi service.

The comfortable, seating capacity of the sanctuary is 250 persons. On overflow days the accoridian doors of a blond material which separate the Social Hall and the sanctuary may be pushed back, making the maximum capacity of 550 persons.

Wine velvet curtains, which will be controlled by an electric push button, will be hung on the sanctuary side of the doors. The largest congregation number that the church expects to have is 750. When the congregation reaches 600, plans will be made for another Christian Church in Midland. The membership today is 403.

The Social Hall accommodates 150 persons for dining purposes. The tables for the hall are stored in a small room under the starway accessible from the Social Hall. The

Leads The Church

The Rev. Clyde Lindsley, shown seated at his desk in his office in the new church, can see a dream come true as he views the new building which will be dedicated Sunday. Mr. Lindsley, minister of the church, is the spiritual as well as practical leader of the congregation.

Beliefs And Tenets Of Christian Church Discussed By Reverend Clyde Lindsley

The following is a speech made Tuesday by the Rev. Clyde Lindsley, pastor of the First Christian Church. Mr. Lindsley spoke to the Methodist Men, men's organization of the First Methodist Church, at its semi-monthly meeting. The speech, which explains some of the beliefs and tenets of the Christian Church, is as follows:

"Our church is only 60 years old. But it has historic connections with the fellowship that began nearly 150 years ago as a movement of Christians within several bodies of believers. Such bodies were not congenial to the reform ideas advanced by the minority groups. Consequently, the religious body known internationally as the Disciples of Christ, and locally as the Christian Church, came into being. What were the ideas that were so strange then?"

"In a word, the ideas were for the restoration of New Testament Christianity and the union of all Christians upon this basis. Our ideas have grown more mature, but they have not changed. We still urge upon our religious neighbors the necessity of beginning anew, at the beginning, disregarding all decrees of Popes, Councils and Synods, all pervasions and corruptions. We would help work out, not a reformation of the church as sought by Luther and Calvin, but its complete restoration to its original constitution as envisioned by the Lord and His Apostles. Our conclusion is that the union of Christians for which the Master prayed can result from nothing short of the destruction of creeds and confessions of faith, inasmuch as human creeds and confessions destroyed Christian Unity; that the teaching of the Apostles is the only and all sufficient means of the Apostles' testimony is all sufficient, and alone sufficient for the conversion of the world to Christ.

Many Things
"A broad and bold position involves many things. It is a plea for the restoration of the original creed of the church in place of all human substitutes. Said Jesus, in answer to Peter's confession, 'Thou art the Christ, the Son of the Living God.' 'On this rock I will build my Church.' Peter's declaration is the only Apostles' Creed, the New Testament Creed, the statement that must ultimately be the universal creed of the Universal Church.

"Is there a grand proposition in the universe? Is there another that shall stand when the heavens and the earth shall pass away? We think not. The centrality of Jesus in Christianity is the one fundamental fact of Scripture. Martha said, 'I believe that Jesus was the Christ, the Son of God, that should come into the world.' John declared: 'These things are written that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that His name, Paul commanded: 'Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved,' and declared, 'Other foundation can no man lay, than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ.' When the Apostles went forth they preached 'Christ,' earnestly testified that Jesus was the Christ, 'determined not to know anything else but Christ and Him crucified,' and when men heard, believed, and confessed their faith, they said, 'I believe that Jesus is the Christ.' It is a person, not a system, upon which faith centers. It is a divine person, not a body of human speculations, upon which the church is founded. 'What think ye of Christ?' is the great question. 'Thou art the Messiah, the Son of the living God,' is the great answer. 'On this rock I will build my Church,' is the great oracle.

Upon Himself
"Christ founded His Church not upon a book, a statement, a series of propositions, but upon Himself. 'Jesus is the Christ,' is the Creed of Christianity; it was the creed of the churches in Judea and Samaria, in Corinth and Ephesus and Rome; the only article of faith in the creed of inspired men and the churches established by inspired men. All other creeds, we believe, stand in the way of the peace, union, cooperation and triumph of the followers of the Son of God, and should be put away. Christ is the head of the Church. The gospel is the power of God unto salvation. No man is saved or lost by believing or disbelieving any human system of doctrine. Confess Christ. Surrender your heart in holy, unreserved confidence to Christ. Crown Him

Lord of all. This is the Rock of Ages upon which alone the Church is invulnerable, and eternal. So we of the living God can stand united, believe.

"Taking Christ as the living Creed of the Church, this plea involves a restoration of the original names for the Church and the followers of Christ. The disciples were called Christians first at Antioch. It is not only scriptural and right that the Lord's people should be known by His name, but human names are divisive and wrong. We would in no sense esteem ourselves 'only Christians,' but we would be better than others, still less the 'only Christians,' but we would be known as 'Christians' only.

In Name
"There is much in a name. When the Babe was born in Bethlehem the word of the angel was, 'Thou shalt call His name Jesus.' Why? 'Because He shall save His people from their sins.' When the gospel was preached on Pentecost and men cried, 'Men and brethren, what shall we do?' the answer was, 'Repent and be baptized, every one of you, in the name of Jesus Christ, for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit.' 'Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian,' said Agrippa to Paul. 'If any man suffer as a Christian,' says Peter, 'let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God in this name.' 'Every one of you saith I am of Paul, and I of Apollos, and I of Cephas. Is Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you or were you baptized in the name of Paul?'

"The great body of the Lord's people will become one only under the names found in the New Testament. 'I pray you,' said Luther, 'leave my name alone, and do not call yourselves Lutherans, but Christians. Who is Luther? My doctrine is not mine. I was not crucified for anyone. Paul would not that any should call themselves of Paul nor of Peter but of Christ. How, then, does it fit me, to give my name or system to the children of Christ?' 'Would to God,' said Wesley, 'that all sectarian names were forgotten and that we, as humble, loving disciples, might sit down to the Master's feet, read His Word, imbibe His spirit and inscribe His life into our own.'

"The church is the bride of Christ and should wear the bridegroom's name; not the name of the bridegroom's friend, John the Baptist, nor the names of the bridegroom's servants, Luther, Calvin, Campbell. The early Christians were known throughout the length and breadth of the Roman Empire as Christians, and it was enough to distinguish a follower of Christ every place to call him simply Christian. Party names perpetuate party strife. It is enough to be Christian, and the only name that will be Christian. 'We shall have His face, and His name shall be in our foreheads.' So we would persuade men to be Christians, simple Christians, and have all of Christ's people wear Christ's name.

Faith And Order

Two Services Will Dedicate Church

Two services of dedication will be conducted Sunday for the new First Christian Church building at North F and West Louisiana Streets and some of its furnishings. A guest speaker will assist the Rev. Clyde Lindsley, minister, at each service, one at 11 a.m. and the other at 3 p.m.

Dr. Patrick Henry, Sr., secretary of the Texas Christian Missionary Society, will give the dedication sermon at the afternoon meeting, when the building itself will be dedicated. Noel Keith, special assistant to Dr. M. E. Sadler, president of Texas Christian University, will speak at the morning service, when the lectern, communion table and pulpit will be dedicated.

Both the visitors are from Fort Worth. The morning sermon subject is "A Wise Master Builder," and Dr. Henry's topic will be "The Church's One Foundation." There will be no night service because of the Midland High School Baccalaureate program, Mr. Lindsley announced.

Choir Will Sing
Music for both dedication services will be by the church choir under direction of Mrs. Marian Alles. The minister and the congregation will conduct the dedication responsive readings.

The afternoon program is arranged as follows:
Organ prelude.
Processional hymn, "The Church's One Foundation."
Scriptural call to worship.
Chorale, "Send Out Thy Light and Thy Truth," Gounod, choir.
Invocation, Tom B. Campbell.
Reading of Scriptures, Mrs. Paul McGarue.
Hymn, "All Things Are Thine; No Gift Have We."
To Accept Keys.
Presentation of keys, Guy Brenneman, with acceptance by Hilroy Bedford.
Solo, "Bless This House," Brahe, Everett Shipp.
Act of dedication, with responsive reading followed by prayer of dedication by Ralph Auer.
Anthem, "Come Unto Me," Burford, choir.
Sermon.
Hymn, "Take My Life."
Congratulatory greetings, W. P. Z. German.
Benediction, Ivan Hood.
Organ postlude.
The morning service will begin with an organ meditation and processional hymn, "Holy, Holy, Holy." The lectern, the communion table and ware and the pulpit will be dedicated in separate periods of the service. Prayers by two elders, Clark Steinberger and Bedford, will be a part of the dedication of the communion table.
Mrs. Alles and Penny Brown will sing a duet, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee." Lachner, preceding the sermon and the choir will sing the anthem, "Go Not Far From Me, O God." Zingerelli, George Ratliff, elder emeritus, will give the benediction.

Christian Church In Andrews Has Gifts From Midlanders

The First Christian Church at Andrews has taken the old pulpit, the communion table, the chairs from the rostrum, the pews, kitchen stove, coffee urn, cabinets, stoves, book cases, small chairs, etc., to their new building, Mrs. G. H. Butler gave them her river baptism scene. Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Shannon gave the electric refrigerator they had loaned to the Midland church. The Rev. Clyde Lindsley gave his old mimeograph to the church.

To Speak Sunday

Dr. Patrick Henry

The Rev. Noel Keith

The speakers for the Sunday services in the Christian Church at 1301 West Louisiana Avenue are Dr. Patrick Henry, Sr., secretary of the Texas Christian Missionary Society and the Rev. Noel Keith, Christian minister, now the special assistant to Dr. M. E. Sadler, president of Texas Christian University. Mr. Keith will speak at the 11 a.m. service upon the theme "A Wise Master Builder." Dr. Henry's theme is "The Church's One Foundation" which will be delivered at the 3 p.m. service.

Sanctuary Glorifies God

The sanctuary of the new First Christian Church was built around the idea of glorifying the Lord and preparing a place with an atmosphere of worship. Lighting comes through the stained-glass windows and from artificial lights placed so that they will shine indirectly from the beams, always giving a soft glow to the room. The pulpit is on the left of the divided chancel and the lectern is on the right. The stained-glass window of the baptismal font was moved from the old First Christian Church.

 is covered with tan and black. The kitchen is done in red and white with a dark green tile floor. It is equipped with cabinets, 11-foot refrigerator, range, hot water heater and coffee maker, a gift of the Scharr Coffee Shop. A large pantry is provided for storing canned goods, heavy pots and pans. The men have an outside entrance on south. The main entrance to the building is through the north or east side of the 50-foot tower which contains the building and is located at the right angle formed by two wings of the building. From vestibule in the tower, doors lead into the hall leading to classrooms, the downstairs classrooms, stairway leading upstairs and sanctuary. The spotlight in the third floor of tower shines against the roof which diffuses a light through the tiny openings. This light burns all times. At the extreme end of the east side of the building is the church office. The floor is covered with carpet like the one in the sanctuary. Waist-high gray paneling is used by variegated celotex like walls of the sanctuary. The end of the parlor will be carpeted completely with green mesh tains, making a background for all weddings. The other windows of the room will have like drapes, valances will top the drapes. The furnishings are of a light wood. This is the meeting place of the men's Bible Class, a class for the women of the church. An painting done by Mrs. G. H. tier, a member of the class, is on the wall. Down the hall from the parlor are three pre-school Sunday school rooms. On the right, the 3-year room has a green carpeted floor. Small tables and chairs, a cabinet with the top space and the teacher's cabinet space is provided for the tiny tots. The 4-year room has a green carpeted floor and a guard at the door. The guard is provided for a nursery. During the worship hour the four-year room and the 3-year room which adjoins it are used for the pre-school children. There are approximately 15 children in Sunday morning. The nursery is equipped with two beds and play pen. The women's lounge is off the nursery for the convenience of the nursery keeper. Next to the five-year room is the 4-year study which has green and brown walls with a light green tile floor. The north window behind a desk will be draped with curtains of a brown, floral and vine design. The secretary's office is just off the study on the left. The stairway leading to the second floor, which is over the east wing and the Social Hall, is just off the main entrance in the tower. Sunday School classrooms are provided on this floor. The first, second and third grade pupils and the fourth, fifth and sixth grade pupils each have an assembly room and two adjoining classrooms. Through the sixth grade rooms solid wood tables and heavy oak chairs are furnished. There are steel cabinets for the teacher's supplies. Other Class Rooms
 Beginning with the seventh grade room some of the furniture from the old building is being used. The seventh grade room has steel folding chairs and wooden tables. The eighth grade room is in the tower. The Sunday School secretary's table is in the hall just outside the tower room. At the far end of the hall is the freshman room which is being used for the high school room until the proposed youth building is completed. Then the sophomores, juniors and seniors will move to this building. A mixed adult classroom for couples 35 years and up is provided. The business and professional women's classroom, furnished by the class itself, has a rose carpet and 20 theater seats with rose plush bottoms. A classroom for Delbert Downing's young adult class is provided just at the head of the stairs. Venetian blinds will be installed at all of the windows in the building, and fire escapes are a must in the near future. The heating and cooling of the building is accomplished by a forced air mechanism. In the Summer the forced air over a mechanical refrigeration unit makes it possible to keep the entire building at 70 degrees. In the same manner the forced air over a furnace unit makes the 70-degree temperature in the winter. The third floor of the tower holds a portion of the cooling equipment. The rest of it and the heating equipment are in a room just across from the second floor tower room. The outside of the building is made of mat faced brick in very light colors with cast stone trim and a roof of red asbestos shingles. The church voted May 7 to begin construction of a youth building on the northwest corner of the block, all of which is owned by the church. This building will be a 30x60-foot structure to be used by the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, the Christian Youth Fellowship and other youth groups which are not under professional leadership. Playground
 Plans for the future are to make a playground of the south half of the block. Tennis courts, slides, seesaws, merry-go-rounds and other equipment will be installed. This area will be planted in grass. The church has a water well which produces more than 75 gallons per minute. Immediate plans call for landscaping of only the area around the church. Parking space is provided around the street on the church property. The First Christian Church broke ground for this building at the evening service, July 24, 1949. The Rev. Clyde Lindsey, pastor, has been with this church since July 1, 1945. The church was organized in Midland in 1890. Now with a future brighter than ever, it has added another beautiful church plant to Midland, a city of many churches, and has added to the tribute which Midlanders are paying to God. First Christian Church To Have 103 New Members

 A Visitation Evangelism is scheduled in the First Christian Church in Midland for June 11-18. The members of the church will do the visiting during that week. On Sunday, June 18, more than 103 people are expected to take membership in the Midland church. This will bring the total membership to over 500 people. The church has called Mr. Bayne Driskill to lead this program. Mr. Driskill has had remarkable success in this work. Since Oct. 1, 1949 he has conducted visitation programs in several Texas communities and has led over 3,000 people into Texas Christian churches. Over 50 members of the church have signed a Covenant with God to pray daily for 103 or more persons who will take membership in the First Christian Church of Midland on June 18. Midland Cadet Gets Promotion In Rank
 SAN MARCOS—Cadet James L. Gordon of Midland has been promoted to the rank of second lieutenant in the junior cadet battalion of San Marcos Academy, where he is enrolled as a sixth grade student. As a cadet officer, Lieutenant Gordon will help direct the program of the junior military unit in the school. His commission was awarded during the annual federal inspection of the corps. Gordon is the son of Mrs. Margaret Gordon, formerly of Midland, and the nephew of Mrs. Robert L. Clarke, 2295 West Brunson Street, and Mrs. D. L. Coleman, 1101 West Kentucky Street, Midland. He formerly attended West Elementary School here. For a frosting change, cream butter or margarine with confectioners' sugar, thin with orange juice and mix in a little shredded moist coconut. ## Beliefs And Tenets—

 would urge the administration of the ordinances as given by Christ and the Apostles. Taking Christ as our Creed, we must necessarily hold to what Christ taught and practiced, and the things He commanded His Apostles to teach and practice. Protestant Christians are unanimous in accepting two ordinances, baptism and the Lord's Supper. We accept them. As for the Lord's Supper, we observe it often, that is, on the first day of the week. We do not practice open or closed communion. We hold that the communion is placed on the Lord's table, in the Lord's house, on the Lord's Day, and for all of the Lord's people. Let a man examine himself and so eat of the bread and drink of the cup. As for baptism, we agree that it was administered by a burial in water in the days of the Apostles. The testimony is clear. Then went out to him Jerusalem and all Judea, and all the region round about Jordan, and were baptized of him in Jordan, confessing their sins. And it came to pass in those days that Jesus came to Nazareth of Galilee and was baptized of John in the Jordan, and straightway coming up out of the water the spirit descended upon Him. John was baptizing in Enon, high unto Salem, because there was much water there. He commanded the chaos to stand still, and they went down both into the water . . . and he baptized him, and when they were come up out of the water the spirit of the Lord caught away Philip. We are buried with Christ in baptism. Planted in the likeness of His death, and raised in the likeness of His resurrection. As many of you as were baptized into Christ have put on Christ. Restore Creed
 "So in administering this ordinance, we go to the water, go where there is much water, go down into the water, bury men in the likeness of Christ's death, plant them, raise them in the likeness of Christ. We do this to believing persons who upon their own volition accept Christ. We do it in accordance with the Greek lexicographic definition of baptism; in agreement with the practice of the united church in its primitive days; in accord with the universal practice of the Greek Church, and the frank acknowledgement of great reformers. We want to be certain. We would do as our Lord has done and as he commanded the church to do. Pleading for the restoration of the ancient order and the union of all Christians upon the original foundation, our plea is for the administration of the ordinances in their unquestioned integrity for the scriptural basis. One Lord, one faith, one baptism." Restoring the creed, the name, the ordinances, our plea involves also the restoration of the primitive practice by which regeneration is experienced. In consistency with the call to believers to return to the simple faith of the gospel, the Disciples of Christ would give to inquirers the Scripture answers to that question, "What must I do to be saved?" Men have paid little attention to the right division of the

Many Members Serve On First Christian Church School Staff

Elder Ivan Hood, Superintendent of the First Christian Church Sunday School, has been one in a long list of superintendents. Before him were W. E. Shipp, Ralph Auld, Floyd Dennis, and Hilroy Bedford. Bedford has by far the longest period of service, over a dozen years. The school is carefully graded through the first 14 years with a classroom for each year beginning with the three year old children. Officers and teachers include Ed Pierce, Miss Josephine Guly, Mrs. Al Boring, Mrs. S. P. Hall, Mrs. J. W. Gregston, Mrs. J. H. Doran, Mrs. O. L. Darden, Mrs. Tom Potter, Mrs. Jenny Guthrie, Mrs. Frank Curtis, Mrs. Vurn E. Chapman, Mrs. J. Q. Russell, Mrs. W. G. Attaway, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Sides, Mrs. Paul McHargue, Tom B. Campbell, D. D. Downing, Mrs. Van Camp, and Mrs. Mittie Norman. Assistants and helpers include Jo Dean Downing and Nancy Webb. Ann Boring is the pianist of the adult assembly. Area Students To Be Graduated At H-SU
 ABILENE—More than 300 candidates receiving degrees in five various fields will hear Dr. John Wesley Raley, president of Oklahoma Baptist University, speak at Hardin-Simmons University's fifty-eighth annual commencement exercises Monday. Preceding the commencement address which is slated at 10 a. m. Monday morning, Rev. James Landes, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Wichita Falls, delivered the baccalaureate service Sunday. Permian Basin area students to receive Bachelor of Arts degrees include: Virginia Ann Dunagan, Gene Shelburne, Jr., Midland; James Edwin Dean, Elden G. Moody, Lamesa; John Ivey, Seminole. Students to receive Bachelor of Science degrees include: Bobbie Hardesty, Lamesa; Glen Sutton, Odessa; Gary Douglas Deshazo, Kermit. Area students to receive Bachelor of Business Administration degrees include: Ralph Haskell Caffey, Midland; Travis Dale Hendrick, Goldsmith. Kansas Grows Fine Radish Crop In Yard

Church Custodian Has Long Record

J. M. Hughens has served the First Christian Church here for two decades as janitor. No one knows how many miles this man has pushed a broom or guided a carpet sweeper. Hughens has also served other Midland churches in this capacity. He said today, "I have swept enough dirt out of churches to make a small farm almost." A church spokesman said: "It is always good to find any workman who takes pride in excellent work. Hughens is that kind of a man. His church always has been clean. No sand storm could blow close enough to the morning service to make impossible the dusting of the pews in time for the opening hymn. The last person who never out of the church before this fine workman was re-arranging the song books and picking up the programs. "There will be a star in Mr. Hughens' 'Heavenly Crown' for the work that he has done for the First Christian Church in Midland," the spokesman said. Diced ham mixed with diced hard-cooked eggs and cream sauce may be turned into a casserole, topped with tiny squares of buttered bread, and baked in a moderate oven until thoroughly hot and the topping is lightly browned.

The building that housed the First Christian congregation for 43 years has been sold to George Abel. The downtown property on which old church stands was owned for 60 years by the First Christian Church of Midland.

History Of Christian Church In Midland Covers 60 Years

In the Fall of 1890, a group met for the purpose of organizing a Christian Church in Midland. They were assisted by Brother Thurman of Big Spring, who came to Midland occasionally on week nights. These were charter members at the organization meeting: L. W. Vaughn, elder, Mrs. L. W. Vaughn, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Smart, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Johnson, Miss Mary Johnston, B. W. Lee, Professor Bell, Mrs. M. E. Ellis, Mrs. Kendall, Mrs. H. M. Horton, Mrs. W. E. Connell, Mr. and Mrs. Hampton, and Mrs. J. V. Stokes, Sr. Early in 1891 the church was more fully organized by J. B. Sweeney, who held a meeting here. Two lots located at the corner of Lorraine and Illinois Streets were purchased in 1892 and a frame building was erected the same year. It was dedicated by J. B. Sweeney. During the time between the organization and the completion of the frame church, services were held in the homes of members, with an occasional Sunday afternoon service in the Methodist church. The third lot of the quarter block was purchased in 1896. Brick Building The frame building served the congregation until 1907, when construction of the red brick church was started. It was completed and dedicated on Easter Sunday of 1908. Services were conducted in the Midland County Courthouse during the construction. On Feb. 17, 1946, the congregation approved a recommendation of the Board of Directors that a new location be selected farther from the business district, rather than add to the facilities at the original location. Block 2 of the New Park Hill Addition was purchased in 1946 as the site for a new combined worship and educational building. Various factors delayed construction until 1949, when plans for the present structure were submitted for consideration and accepted by the congregation. Ground breaking services were held Sunday, July 24, 1949 and construction work was started the following day. Today, the congregation is dedicating the new church to "the glory of God and to the spiritual uplift of the community, the nation, and the world." The church is now located at Louisiana Avenue and F Street.

Kitchens Is Store Manager Of Year For White's Chain

Richard H. Kitchens, manager of White's Auto Store in Midland, recently was named "store manager of the year" at a meeting of managers of all 29 White's stores. The award was based on a nine-point program checked carefully by a group during 1949. Kitchens has been manager of White's Store here since 1947. He came here from Austin where he was assistant manager of a White's Store. New York City's first water mains were hollow logs.

Laymen's League Organizes Christian Men For Action

The men of Christian Churches have organized themselves into Laymen's Leagues. The local organization was slow in forming. Elder Emeritus, George Rathiff, suggested the need of such an organization in the Midland Church over two years ago. The men met for fellowship without organizing for the first year. Then the organization was formed with W. P. Z. German, Jr., as the president. The president at the present time is Wayne Moore. Other officers include Malcolm Brennehan, Jerry Sides, and Clarence Snyes. The men have been well represented for the past two years in the Texas Convention of Christian Churches. They also have led in the formation of leagues in McCombs and Fort Stockton. The new church at Andrews has been

Adult And Junior Choirs Lead Musical Worship Of First Christian Congregation

Mrs. Marian Ailes came to Midland as minister of music of the First Christian Church in September, 1949. She succeeded a long line of volunteer directors as head of the church choir. For a period of ten years the choir was directed by Mrs. Lee Cornelius, a graduate of Texas State College for Women in Denton. She was succeeded as pianist and director by various volunteer choir members. Campbell, Barbara French and J. R. Robinson. Members of the junior choir are Tommy Campbell, Dick Campbell, Janice Kimberlin, Suzanna Hood, Mary Jane Potter, Olivia Rayburn, Anita Lou Frizzell, Bobby Spaw, Dwight Lindsay, Eddie Pierce, Jan Burke, Ann Guherie, Michael Brady, Marianne Melzer, Jay Coulter, Hugh Dilly, Jean Dilly, Judy Six, Billy Pannill, Johnnie Faye Davis, John Younger, Dickie Walker, Dixon, Juanita Jones and Joe Chambers.

Minister Has Served First Christian Church During Five Years Of Growth

The pastor of the First Christian Church, the Rev. Clyde Lindsley, first became acquainted with Midland on May 25, 1945 when he stepped from the train early in the morning to be greeted by three elders of the First Christian Church, George Rathiff, Hilory Bedford, and Ralph Auld. His first sermon in the Midland pulpit was entitled, "Whatever Jesus Says To You, Do It." It was preached Sunday morning, May 27. His ministry in Midland actually began in July, 1945. Columbus, Kan., had been the city in which Mr. Lindsley ministered.

The Rev. Clyde Lindsley

There are three children in the Lindsley family: Larry, Dwight, and Judy. The family resides in the parsonage at 403 North Marienfeld Street. Homer Meek was organist from September, 1947, until June, 1948. Betty Pickering, a graduate of Texas Christian University and daughter of a former minister of the church, has been the organist since September, 1948. Mrs. Ailes received her bachelor of music degree from Westminster Choir College, Princeton, N. J., and was a student of Dr. John Finley Williamson, director of Westminster Choir. She did major musical work under the direction of Bruno Walter, Leopold Stokowski, Arturo Toscanini and Charles Munch. The personnel of the adult choir includes Patsy Arrington, Ernest Babb, Dell Babb, Jennie Brennehan, Malcolm Brennehan, Maurine Camp, Carolyn Claborn, Mary Conkling, Quinnie Myrick, Margaret Downing, Charles Dixon, Calva Ann Frizzell, Joan Pultz Betty Ganes, Edna Lee Grigsby, Whaunita Lindsay, Evelyn Olsen, Flo Pierce, Ed Pierce, Tom Potter, Dorothy Moyer, Quinnie Myrick, Eloise Shipp, Everett Shipp, Bernice Stevens, Yuva Spaw, Martha Sides, Jerry Sides, Will Salmon, Jerry Salmon, Nancy Webb, Shirley Webb, Edith Webb, Delia tered before his call to Midland. His ministry also had previously been centered in Concordia, Kan., and Redwood Falls, Minn. Kansas was the state of the minister's birth. He was educated in the schools of a small village, Morrowville, from the first grade through his graduation from high school. He then went to Manhattan, Kan., where he attended Kansas State College of Agriculture and Applied Science. He recalls that he was there when the great Lynn Waldorf produced the "Wildcat" championship football team. Mr. Lindsley was graduated from Manhattan Bible College in 1935 with the Bachelor of Arts degree. He also holds the Master of Arts and the Bachelor of Divinity Degrees which were earned through graduate study from Phillips University, Enid, Okla. Started At Home The childhood church of Mr. Lindsley ordained him to the ministry in 1933. Among the signatures upon his ordination papers is that of his father, Ralph Lindsley, now deceased. The senior Lindsley was an elder in the Morrowville church. It was in the old home church that the young minister was baptized and married to Whaunita Barnes, daughter of a deacon of the church. It was there that he baptized his first convert and married his first couple. The convert and the groom was a teammate on the same high school football team. When Mr. Lindsley was called to the Midland pulpit he was told by the Board of Directors of the church, "We have in prospect a rather ambitious program of plant expansion... and it will require consistent, hard work... to complete it." After five years, that objective has been reached and exceeded. Growing Church There were 219 members of the Midland church when the minister began. There are now 408 members and other advances have been made. Mr. Lindsley has recognized his civic responsibilities and the church

Now You Know—Hi-D-Ho Is New Drive-In Restaurant

Formal opening of Midland's only exclusive drive-in restaurant has been set for Monday. . . . The Hi-D-Ho Drive-In, located at Missouri and South Pecos Streets, offers the latest in equipment and service designed to let you relax in your automobile while enjoying a good meal. . . . New type trays for foul weather use will be featured by the Hi-D-Ho during rainy weather. The trays may be installed inside parked automobiles, insuring prompt service even during a deluge of rain. . . . All-weather parking space is available for 75 cars at any time and the management guarantees the fastest service in Midland. . . . Everything is new at the Hi-D-Ho. All cooking utensils are made of stainless steel and the fountain and kitchen are in public view, insuring patrons of sanitary service. . . . One of the outstanding features of Hi-D-Ho will be the sundaes. Malts and milk shakes, all of which will be topped with fresh whipped cream and cherries. Borden's ice cream and milk products will be used exclusively by the Hi-D-Ho. . . . All equipment for the new and completely modern drive-in was purchased from the McGuire Sales Company, of Lubbock. A new, 225-foot awning will be erected within the next two weeks. . . . "Raised in Restaurant" . . . Owner and manager of the new drive-in is W. E. King who says he was "raised in the restaurant business." . . . King has been a resident of Midland since 1934, with the exception of a period spent in service during the war. He began his own restaurant management prior to the war at the Tasty Grill. He recently has been operator of the Crawford Coffee Shop on West Wall Street. . . . King has a total of 10 highly-trained and experienced employees behind the fountains and in the kitchen. He promises to fill your orders with food and fountain products prepared by those skilled in their profession. . . . The Pony Express began east-west operations through Utah in 1860.

Snowwhite Bakery Has Anniversary

Sunday marks the first anniversary of Snowwhite Bakery, 105 North Pecos Street, and a whole week of celebration is on tap for patrons and visitors. . . . During the entire week, free samples will be given to all visitors to the spacious Snowwhite plant. Anything on display—cakes, pies, cookies—may be sampled. The Snowwhite policy for the entire week will be: "If you like it, buy some. If you don't, try something else." . . . There will be many new creations in the pastry world which never before have been placed on display. Many of the cakes and pies are Snowwhite's own creations. . . . A hostess will be employed to greet patrons and visitors and direct them through the plant. This will continue for a full week. . . . Many specials will be featured during the celebration. Monday's special will be donuts, which will sell for only 20 cents per dozen. There will be many others during the week. . . . Walter Burgess is manager of Snowwhite. He invites all Midlanders to drop in and inspect the spacious plant and sample the products which Snowwhite produces. . . . Special door prizes will be awarded visitors Saturday.

Nursery Of New Church

Miss Josephine Guly, left, is shown with a group of younger children in the nursery of the new First Christian Church. The nursery is open during worship services for children too young to attend them and also is open during special meetings at the church. The nursery enables many women who would otherwise have to stay at home to attend services.

MHS Seniors Get Preference Test

"I've always known I was a literary genius." "Guess I can be an archaeologist after all." "Math isn't for me. It didn't even show up on the graph." The event which brought on the above remarks was the Kuder Preference Test which was given to each Senior. A graph tabulating results showed student preferences in the fields of science, literature, art, music, persuasion and social service. . . . The tests were given by representatives from the Odessa Junior College during the student's English classes. Career suggestions for those who preferred each division were given. . . . The FBI examined 792,029 fingerprint arrest records in 1949. This exceeded 1948 by 4.3 per cent.

BANKS WILL OBSERVE HOLIDAY TUESDAY

Both Midland banks, The First National and The Midland National, will be closed Tuesday in observance of Memorial Day, officials announced Saturday. . . . The FBI examined 792,029 fingerprint arrest records in 1949. This exceeded 1948 by 4.3 per cent.

President Truman Going To Jamboree

President Truman will go to Valley Forge, Pa., June 30 to open the National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America, according to word from the White House received by Amory Houghton, president of the organization and announced by Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, Chief Scout Executive. . . . The Buffalo Trail Council, with Headquarters in Midland, will be represented by 117 Scouts and Leaders. . . . More than 47,000 Boy Scouts and Leaders from all parts of the nation and its territories, including about 570 from 15 other nations, will make the encampment the largest gathering of youth in the Western Hemisphere. The jamboree will close on July 6th. . . . President Truman, who is Honorary President of the Boy Scouts of America, will drive past most of the 35 sectional camps which will occupy about 625 of the 2,033 acres of Valley Forge Park, owned and maintained by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. . . . A three-cent commemorative postage stamp in honor of the Boy Scouts of America, authorized by Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson, will be placed on first day sale at Valley Forge, Pa., the day of Truman's visit. . . . Pep up tomato juice, for a dinner-time first course, by letting it stand in the refrigerator with some finely chopped onion, celery tops and some lemon juice in it. Strain before serving in attractive small glasses. Pass the crackers.

ape Shuns Idea Of Mapes

By HAL BOYLE
YORK—(AP)—Shall we have "in the world?" presumably, is what you would get if you cross-bred a human and an ape.

He said it was scientifically possible and might help our hairy forest cousins speed up their evolution—bring them out of the woods and onto civilized sidewalks, their bodies stronger. They are more polite to each other than people; they require no police force to keep them in order. Divorce is rare among them. Without benefit of child psychologists they rear their babies into fine healthy apes instead of juvenile delinquents.

No Juvenile Delinquents
As it is now, apes in the jungle live a more naturally moral life than human beings, they are less confused of mind and they are bodily stronger. They are more polite to each other than people; they require no police force to keep them in order. Divorce is rare among them. Without benefit of child psychologists they rear their babies into fine healthy apes instead of juvenile delinquents.

I'm against the idea, too. I don't think it would be fair to the apes. I just can't believe a mape—half-man, half-ape—would be happy in our culture, physically, mentally or morally.

While men scuffle dustily with each other for power and more power, the apes enjoy peace in their time. They don't start wars. And who can say they don't enjoy a lovely sunset just as much as we?

Would it be justice to marry this fine clean race to the troubles of mankind? If by doing so, human beings might gain the elemental common sense virtues of the apes it would be a worthwhile project—for our own sakes. But the chances are we wouldn't raise the apes higher—we'd merely educate them to our vices, rather than ourselves acquire their merits.

Crane West Pointer To Be Graduated In June; Ranks High

CRANE — Dan R. McDaniel, 21, who was the salutatorian for the class of 1945 from the Crane High School will be graduated from West Point Military Academy June 6th, and after receiving his commission as a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army he will report for duty following a 90-day leave, at Fort Bliss, El Paso, where he will serve with the anti-aircraft artillery.

Cadet McDaniel who ranked 166th man in a class of 670 during his senior year at West Point, received his appointment in 1946 from Congressman R. E. Thomason, from the 16th Congressional District. He lettered two years on the army swimming team, this year on the medal record breaking relay team that won him a major "A" in a minor sport, being the ace swimmer on his team this year.

After graduating from the Crane High School, McDaniel entered Texas A&M College where he completed a year and a half of work before entering West Point. His younger brother, Bruce now is a student at Texas A&M college and

Buffalo Bill's Historic Old Winchester To Museum

CODY, WYO.—Buffalo Bill's historic old Winchester is coming home.

The famous old repeater used by William Frederick Cody, and symbol of the spectacular fighting days of the early West, will join other historic mementos of the legendary scout, hunter, Indian fighter, and showman in the Cody Memorial Museum here on July 4.

The rifle is from the private firearms collection of Colonel Walter F. Siegmund, official of the Winchester Repeating Arms Company division of Olin Industries, Inc., and will be presented during the Frontier Day celebration, according to Mary Jester Allen, niece of Colonel Cody and founder of the Museum.

Buffalo Bill's rifle which he made famous as "the gun that won the West" is a Model 73 lever action repeater. Cody described it as "the boss" for hunting and Indian fighting and said an Indian would give more for it than any other rifle. One of the first repeating rifles, it had a 15-shot magazine, and it was said that it could be loaded on Sunday and fired all week.

The Model 73 is also the namesake of the new motion picture "Winchester 73" with James Stewart. Saved His Life

Once in the Black Hills Cody saved his life with one of these rifles by firing eleven shots into a wounded bear that charged him from only 30 feet.

Frequently described as the "Buffalo Bill rifle," the Model 73 established the world-wide reputation of the arms company founded by Oliver F. Winchester in New Haven. A total of 720,610 rifles of this model was made until 1924 when it was discontinued.

Buffalo Bill's famous rifle is still in excellent working order and it contains two new "features" which Buffalo Bill knew nothing about. These are the autographs of two heroes of World War II, Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz and General Jonathan M. Wainwright, hero of Bataan and Corregidor, who found inspiration in Cody's colorful career.

Buffalo Bill, who was both a live hero and a legend during 48 out of the 71 years of his exciting life, was born Feb. 24, 1846, in Scott County, Iowa, near the town of Le Claire and died Jan. 10, 1917, in Denver, near which he now rests on a promontory of Lookout Mountain.

Cody who became known to the Indians as Pa-Has-Ka, the Long-Haired Chief, shot his first deer at the age of 8, his first Indian at 11, rode for the Pony Express at 14, and became a scout at 15. At the ripe old age of 22 he began a dual career as a picturesque live hero as well as the legendary figure who fought his way as a champion of

SS Legislation Will Make Grade

NEW YORK—Legislation expanding social security seems certain to make the grade, says Business Week magazine.

The magazine says that the final version apparently will shape up along these lines:

Pensions will be about doubled on the average, but still will be short of union goals. The drive for private pensions will continue.

Coverage will be extended to 10,000,000, chiefly self-employed, non-profit employees and domestics (a headache for housewives).

The payroll tax will stay at 11.2 per cent for the next few years.

Being Honest Saves Man Damage Bill

CLARKSVILLE, TENN. —(AP)—When Elbert Ferrell found a badly mangled bumper on his parked car he was fighting mad.

But bitterness turned to benevolence when he found a note inside. It read—"Dear sir, I came a bit too close to your car in heading into a parking place. Send an estimate to Liberty Mutual Insurance Company of Nashville."

Ferrell said it won't cost the insurance company a dime. "It's a pleasure to find an honest man."

Trammel, formerly with Smith's Men's Store here, has been a resident of Midland for several years. He cordially invites his friends to visit him here and to patronize his new business.

Phone number of Yellow Cab Company is 555. Headquarters for the company are located at 107 North Colorado Street.

WHERE POLITICIANS RULE REPORT CARDS

AP Newfeatures
BERLIN—If you were a pupil in East Germany, today, you'd be free to demand better marks from your teacher.

You'd just mention casually that you might take the matter up with the Communist youth commissar at your school. Your worries about grades would be over. What teacher would risk losing his job for the lack of "political judgment"?

Two millions East Germans are enrolled in two government sponsored Communist groups. To make the program attractive, pupils are granted the right to sit in conference with teachers to help determine their marks. The "political adviser" is the final arbiter.

Here's a good Sunday night supper dish: Cream oysters and serve between rich drop biscuits that have been split and buttered. Add a little celery salt and Worcestershire to the cream sauce for the oysters.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON—

Texans Aid In Speeding Measures Through House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texans have had no small part in achieving the House's reputation for handling legislation with more speed than the Senate. Another factor contributing to this reputation is the fact that the Senate has permitted unlimited debate most of the time.

Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham primarily is responsible for the pace of the House. It is his job to see that the committees grind the bills and that the House moves along with the business before it.

Rep. George Mahon of Colorado and Albert Thomas of Houston have been two of the busiest House members this session. They are the leaders in pushing through a two-year extension of the $1,000,000,000 general appropriation bill—those dealing with national defense and most of the government agencies.

Rep. J. M. Combs of Beaumont has been active in speeding work of the House. He is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, the tax-writing body of the House. A goal of July 15 has been set by congressional leaders for adjournment. Indications now are that the House will be ready by the date.

It is not clear about the Senate. Delay in the Senate is caused largely by the rules which permit members to talk at great length, so long as they want to except in the case of a bill when the Senate votes to limit debate.

Frequently one may find less than half dozen senators on the floor while a colleague drones on in the middle of a lengthy address. This is sometimes called "talking for the record." The speech is printed in the Congressional Record and at small cost can be reprinted and circulated among home-state voters.

peaking Of Elections
The Democratic National Committee has published a state-by-state listing of votes cast for President in 1948 and in 1940 with a plea that the "Democratic Party do everything in its power in every county and election district in the United States to guarantee fullest participation of all citizens in the election of 1950."

The tabulation shows Texas' voting population increased 12.2 per cent in the eight-year period. As for actual votes cast, it shows that 10.2 per cent more Texans went to the polls in 1948 than in 1940. The presidential vote in Texas in 1948 was 1,147,245; in 1940 it was 1,041,168.

The record for states adjoining Texas:
Oklahoma—voting population increased 3.3 per cent in the eight-year interval, but the percentage of votes cast dropped 12.7 per cent. Louisiana—voting population increased nine per cent, while those actually voting increased 11.8 per cent. Arkansas—voting population dropped 0.1 per cent; percentage voting increased 20.1 per cent. New Mexico—voting population increased 3.8 per cent; percentage voting increased 1.5 per cent.

Midland Livestock Auction Company Celebrates Birthday

The Midland Livestock Auction Company is celebrating its second anniversary during Rodeo Week, boasting the smallest, the loudest and the sellingest auctioneer in the Southwest.

He is Don Estes, that four-foot, 11-inch hunk of humanity who draws money out of stockmen's pocket books faster than they can bid.
Born in Kansas, but boasting and Arkansas accent, Estes was the son of a hardware and furniture dealer. He got his first taste of the auction business while still at a tender age, auctioning hardware and furniture in Arkansas.

He gradually worked up to the livestock auction rings, taking his first big job at Port Smith, Ark. Estes came to Texas in 1939 and has auctioned at Port Worth, Lubbock and San Angelo before settling in Midland.

Sam Houston Shrines On College Campus

Thousands annually visit shrines to General Sam Houston on the campus of Sam Houston State Teachers College in Huntsville, the home and burial place of Texas' first president. The Houston home, top, in its original location, is furnished throughout, many pieces the personal possessions of the family. The Memorial Museum contains relics of Texas history from the early beginnings to the present. Among them is Santa Anna's bronze-trimmed saddle being examined by Dr. J. L. Clark, head of the college's history department and curator of the museum.

False Alarm Now Blows Its Own Horn

NEWTON UPPER FALLS, MASS.—(NEA)—False alarms may soon be a thing of the past. Not because would-be false alarm turners are turning over a new leaf, though. They may give up the practice because they can't stand the noise.

A new gadget, called the "Arrestalarm," is already being installed on fire boxes in many cities. When the lever is pulled to turn in an alarm, the box sets up a terrific clatter—a wailing, intermittent howl. The raucous noise attracts immediate attention in the vicinity of the box, and the person who pulled the lever is the center of all eyes.

The device is the latest in a series of products turned out by a company here which specializes in annoying noisemakers, principally for fire signal and detection equipment.

To Get Attention
Under Frank Bridges, chief engineer for the Gamewell Company, sound machines are devised with the express purpose of being obnoxious.

Frank Bridges: The best signal is the most annoying.

The main idea of any fire alarm system is to get attention fast, Bridges reasons, so the best signal is the one that is the most annoying.

Through tests, the company has learned that mere loudness isn't enough for an alarm horn for volunteer fire departments, for example. If tests are conducted with a group of sirens, rarely will two people agree on which horn is the loudest.

But generally they'll be in accord on which one was the most unpleasant to listen to. This psychological fact is therefore incorporated into alarm systems—they try to make the sound as unpleasant to the ear as possible.

No Indoor Test
Because of the volume of most sirens, they can't be tested indoors. If they were, the listeners would be in danger of losing their hearing. So the company's important sound testing laboratory is an outdoor affair.

The proving ground is a flat field, about a mile square. The flatness is necessary, because even a slight rise would affect the sound waves and give an inaccurate measurement. Testing is never done on a windy day, either, because that would also play havoc with the sound waves.

The science of sound is a complex one. It involves many complicated phases. When discussing his noisemakers, for example, Bridges talks like this:

"In any natural sound, there is a fundamental frequency or tone. In addition, each natural sound has harmonics or overtones. The overtones give a horn or musical instrument—or any other sound-making device, for that matter—its distinguishing quality.

"For example, a C-note played on a piano and on a violin has the same fundamental tone. Only the overtones enable the listener to distinguish one from the other."

The secret of making a noise obnoxious, Bridges explains, is to make the overtones approximately equal in value to the fundamental tone. You may not completely understand that, but you'll get a direct demonstration if you turn in a false alarm on a box equipped with his newest noisemaker.

Fancy up baked apples or rice pudding for unexpected guests with whipped cream (sweetened and flavored with vanilla) or with vanilla ice cream.
Starched white-pique or linen collars are important accessories for Spring. They are worn on plain dark dresses or suits, and may freshen up an old outfit.
To salvage a worn-out sports jacket, sew patches of leather or suede on elbows and around pocket and sleeve edges. Your shoe repair shop can do it.

Interior Colors Affect Lighting Needs In Home

COLLEGE STATION—The color schemes chosen for the various rooms in the home materially can affect the amount of artificial light needed to give comfortable and economical lighting. For thrifty with light, either daylight or electric, there is an advantage in light-colored walls, woodwork and furnishings, says Mrs. Bernice Clayton, extension home manager, specialist of Texas A&M College.

She points out that in many cases homemakers in redecorating the home are using the deep shades now in vogue for wall paper, interior paint, curtains and other furnishings. This shift in colors may require more lamps or the use of higher-wattage bulbs for adequate illumination, especially for the rooms where the more tedious home tasks are performed.

To be adequate, she says good lighting must satisfy four major requirements. There must be plenty of light for adequate seeing and this will vary with the task. Good lighting is free from glare. The proper placing of lamps and fixtures will give the proper distribution of light and in turn will mean an absence of shadows on the visual tasks.

Professor Hopes To Cross-Bred Apes And Humans

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA. —(AP)—The artificial cross-breeding of apes with humans would raise a batch of moral and ethical questions, says the University of Virginia's Dr. Sydney William Britton.

But, he declares, he would like to conduct such an experiment "from the standpoint of cold scientific curiosity."

The physiologist made his statement in answer to criticism over a recent suggestion he made at a Washington meeting that such cross-breeding be used to give the ape a boost up the evolutionary ladder.

"I tried not to be funny," said Britton of his comment at the meeting of the National Academy of Sciences at which he spoke mainly on the probable effect that gravity played in the development of man's brain.

"All I did was quote other physiologists on the subject and remark that creation of a new type of beast might again lead to traffic in slavery," he declared. And he maintained that the breeding poses no scientific difficulty and will be tried eventually—if it hasn't already.

"After all," he observed, "it's time to stop fooling around with fruit flies and start on the apes."

Adaptable Exterior, Flexible Interior

Smooth lines of this ranch house make it readily adaptable to any setting. Its flexible floor plan is a fine example of ingenious home-planning, priced under $12,000. Of frame and brick construction, it contains expansion a title with finished area for rooms and bath; full basement; over-sized living-dining area. The exterior is beautified by 12' window, semi-enclosed porch, sweeping roof lines. An oil-fired hot-water air-conditioning plant serves the entire house. Building costs, including price of heating unit and installation of heating system, are cut substantially if the house is insulated full-thick with mineral wool at time of construction. Wall between house and attached garage should be of fire-resistant construction required by most building codes. This is provided at low cost by filling the hollow space between the walls with non-combustible mineral wool, which has been given a fire-retardant rating of 1 1/2 hrs. by the National Bureau of Standards. Features of the house include: in basement, modern laundry trays and heating unit placed to clear recreational space; built-in kitchen work-counter, electric exhaust fan, wall and floor cabinets; built-in breakfast-bar in dining area; set-in bath-tub and shower; hardwood flooring; copper plumbing. Bedrooms are cross-ventilated. Roomy closets have flush sliding doors. All rooms have ample wall space for attractive furniture arrangement.

Right Plan And Materials Cut Home Building Costs

Keep the layout of a house simple and select materials which will save waste motions if you want to cut home building costs.

That's the advice of lumber dealers who list waste motion as one of the costliest phases of home building. Without sacrificing quality, larger or more rooms can be built today, they say, if care is exercised in planning and selecting materials.

Keeping the plan and elevations as free of breaks as possible is the first step. The almost square or rectangular plan is cheapest. A simple gable roof without dormers is least expensive, because every change in a roof line adds extra cutting, fitting, roofing and flashing. Trusses Speed Work

Trussed rafter construction, spanning outer walls, permits the finishing of the entire interior without waiting for partitions and framing. The use of trusses alone are reported to save as much as five per cent.

Open planning of rooms and the use of dwarf partitions—walls that don't reach to the ceiling—and built-in storage compartments are methods used to minimize interior walls and costly closets. This also means a saving in time and materials required to trim and hang doors.

Double duty materials play an important part today in getting more for your building dollar. Insulating board sheathing, for example, is being widely used instead of ordinary sheathing because it insulates as it builds.

Plumbing Economy

The cost of roughing in plumbing for a small house can be cut in half if bathrooms, kitchen and laundry are centralized. Much economy in plumbing can be achieved merely by planning a kitchen and bathroom back-to-back, or in the case of a two-story house, by placing the bathroom directly above the kitchen.

June Is Good Time To Check The Home For Needed Repairs

NEW YORK—If you're not satisfied with the looks, utility or safety of your home, this is a good time of year to do something about it. Mild weather and more daylight make June and July the best months for major repairs, especially on the house exterior.

Early June is an ideal time to check your house thoroughly—to feel its pulse and determine its health. Minor repairs can be done any time. But improvements such as painting, plumbing replacement, insulating, bathroom tiling and roofing renovation can be done most conveniently in summertime.

Inspection of exterior parts—roof, walls, windows, doors, and foundation—will detect any damage done by winter weather. Interior surveys can also reveal any havoc. Stains on the roof's interior or on upper floor walls may indicate need for roof weatherproofing.

Plumbing Needs

If plumbing needs repair, it can be done without disrupting household routine in Summer when children may be away and the home is run at a more leisurely pace.

The inspection should include a safety check of all danger spots. Your safety check-up should answer these questions: Are stairs in good condition and well lighted? Do electrical wiring or appliances need replacement or repair? Does the kitchen stove operate properly? Is the roof vulnerable to sparks?

Valedictorian

Rosalynn Leggett, who won top honors in the senior class with an average of 95.33, will deliver the valedictory address at the commencement exercises. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Waldo Leggett. A resident of Midland for 16 years, Rosalynn is a three-year graduate. She plans to continue her education at Sophie Newcomb College, the women's division of Tulane University in New Orleans, La.

Athlete Feats—

By DAN DICKINSON
Sports Editor—The Bulldog

Athletics have been in an all time low in Midland for the past three or four seasons. Starting next season, it appears that MHS sports will be better and better.
In football, the sport of major interest, the Bulldogs will have 17 returning lettermen from a team that was one of the best in the district at the close of last season. The returning lettermen are Jim O'Neal, Bob Burks, Bob Wood, Dalton Byerly, Dwane Bush, Jim Lineberger, Graham Mackey, Pete English, Jerry Culp, Larry Friday, Bill Medart, Jack Burris, L. C. Thomas, Ralph Brooks, Reed Gilmore, Charles Crowley and Stan Coker.
The football team also will have help next year from several promising newcomers to the varsity.

In basketball six lettermen will be back next season. Although the Bulldogs had only one conference win last year they should do very well next year. The lettermen who will return are Bill Phillips, Walter Spiller, Reed Gilmore, Bob Burks, Corky Moss, and Norman Drake.
In baseball the same story holds true. There will be lettermen returning for every position. Among the returning baseball lettermen are Jim O'Neal, Bill Medart, and Don Smith, who are pitchers. They will also have infielders Robert Melton, Reed Gilmore, Bob Wood, Bill Grissett, and Norman Drake. In the outfield the returning lettermen are Jerry Culp, L. C. Thomas and Loren Roberts.

The entire district championship golf team will return to MHS for the more season. They are Graham Mackey, Roane Pugh, Bill Franklin and Johnny Ward.
In track next year the Bulldogs will have two boys returning who were state champions. They are high jumper Ralph Brooks and pole vaulter W. H. Black. The track team will also be aided by the freshmen who this year took the Junior District Track Championship.
In every sport next year opponents will find MHS a very hard mark. The Bulldogs from next year on shouldn't be anybody's soft touch.

Senior Class Day Is Slated Monday

Monday, May 29, at 2:45 p.m. in the high school auditorium, the Annual Class Day Program will be presented. Getting off to a rip-roaring start, Senior Yell Leaders Janish Slough, Jo Ann Boykin, Jean Blackwell and Richard Patton will lead the group in yells.
A piano solo, "Stardust," by Hoagy Carmichael, will be played by Kathryn Lewis. The class history by Nick Harrison will follow and Ann Boring will accompany Bill Burnside on "Blue Orchids."
John Steinberger will give the class prophecy. Rosalynn Leggett will play a piano solo, "Lento," by Scott. Presentation of the gift to the school by Obie Staicup followed by the Class Will by Maggie Murphey.
Mrs. John McKinley and Mrs. Keith Stuart will present the DAR and AAUW awards. "A Perfect Day" will be sung by Eddie Jean Darnell accompanied by Jo Ann Nelson.
Helen Cartwright, Sammy Koen, Max Schaefer accompanied by Rosalynn Leggett will lead the MHS student body in singing the Alma Mater.

Congratulations To 1950 Senior Class

To the Seniors of 1950:
I congratulate you, the class of 1950, for completing a highly successful year of operation. You have been very instrumental in making Midland High School a school with a spirit. I believe that in future years you will remain alert and progressive.
Charles F. Mathews, principal.

Out In World, On Your Own

(An Editorial)
A Chinese proverb says, "Learning is like rowing upstream, not to advance is to fall back."
This is a statement that the class of '50 should keep in mind as they leave MHS and go on to college or as Mother pig said, "Out into the world to make their own way."
These young people will have many problems and make many mistakes as they go through life, but if they know that all in life is a lesson they will gain from every moment a bit of knowledge.
Please, seniors, don't ever be disheartened by your downfalls, but take them all as advancements in your learning, and keep rowing.

FLYING SAUCER SKEETER BITES—

Seniors "Trip" To Christoval

By CAROL GLAHN
The sun-burned, peeling faces of the seniors this week are souvenirs of their day at Christoval Park, Friday, May 19. Few of the 92 making the junket escaped the tell-tale burn of a red, red face.

However the discomforts of blistered backs and mosquito bites "as big as flying saucers" did not keep the majority of the seniors from agreeing it was a day to remember.
Starting time was 5:30 a.m. and at approximately that time the sleepiest bunch of people imaginable were on hand and ready to go. Looking almost as sleepy as the seniors were the sponsors, Jack Mathison, Frank Blackwell, Keith Donnell and Green Gordon. The three buses were waiting and left almost on schedule.
Sleep was the objective of some of the students, but they soon were offered discouragement in the form of the "fresh-air" lovers, who flung open the windows, letting in the chilly morning air. When a few with vocal talent (and more than a few) began to sing the renowned song "99 Bottles On The Wall," sleep was abandoned as a lost cause.

Waffles And Doughnuts
After much comparing of time and wondering if it'd ever get there, the lively group arrived in San Angelo in time to wake up the town and eat breakfast. Even though several seniors testified it seemed closer to lunch time, hungry students were not deterred. The local restaurants, with waffles and doughnuts being the most popular fare.
Within 20 minutes most of the seniors had returned to the buses and the place echoed with the cry of "Where's Charlie?" (Charlie was one of the bus drivers) by the impatient ones who were anxious to get to Christoval.
Charlie finally was located and the trip was resumed. The destination was reached at 8:45 a.m. and the park was besieged with seniors the instant the buses stopped.
Within five minutes practically everyone had changed to his bathing suit and the river was swarming with swimmers and boaters.

Boatback riding, swimming and boating composed the morning's activities. The place echoed with the cry of "Where's Charlie?" (Charlie was one of the bus drivers) by the impatient ones who were anxious to get to Christoval.
Charlie finally was located and the trip was resumed. The destination was reached at 8:45 a.m. and the park was besieged with seniors the instant the buses stopped.
Within five minutes practically everyone had changed to his bathing suit and the river was swarming with swimmers and boaters.

Eventually almost everyone recovered enough to continue the morning's activities. The rowboats were abandoned in favor of motor boats which were much easier to operate (until the motor conked out in mid-river).
Mid-afternoon marked a number of mishaps but by 6:30 p.m. everyone had recovered from his varied injuries to eat a hearty meal. A barbecue dinner, served by the "M" System of San Angelo, was proclaimed by many to be the best they ever had eaten. Eyes proved to be bigger than stomachs, however, and supper was followed by a period of loud moaning and groaning by seniors who sincerely felt they had partaken of their last meal.
A dance, shuffleboard, and still mud-boating kept everyone occupied until 9:30 when departure time arrived. After the last couple had been located down the river and everyone answered roll call, the buses were on their way.
Those who had the foresight to bring lotion and cream proved to be very popular on the return trip as the 92 sun-burned creatures made themselves more hideous by applying a one-inch coat of grease. Ah, Sweet Sleep!
The desire of everyone with the exception of Marion Richardson who insisted on singing every song she ever knew, despite classmates' threats to put her off the bus. The most eviled people in the lot were Bobby Evans, Richard Patton, and Patsy Wood who stretched out on the floor of the bus and slept through the whole ordeal. Others twisted and turned as they found that the wool upholstery scratched their sunburn, and every bump brought back memories of rocking boats and the swaying suspension bridge.

Barnett, Chapman Named Captains Of 1950-51 Band

The Midland High School Band elected officers Friday, May 19, for the school year 1950-51.
Barnett and Chapman. Lieutenants will be Kenneth Wright and Don Drummond.
Selected to act as sergeants-in-charge: first sergeant, Clint Dunsmuir; to take charge of drill instructions: second sergeant, Rusty Fuller; and fourth sergeant, Dephane Tabor. Will supervise loading and unloading of buses; and third sergeant, Billy Crites, will do small instrument repairs and work in the office.
Drum Major position is given to Beverly Keisling. Beverly will also double as librarian with Wanalee Greene. Martha Schaubauer will be uniform manager.
It will be the duty of the officers to take the responsibility of seeing that everything is done as it should be.

Jerry Hoffman, MHS band director, expressed hope that the officers selected by the band will carry out their duties and work with the greatest of effort, efficiency, and diligence.
Attempts to revive themselves with Cokes and coffee.
At 1 a.m., the "dead-to-the-world" group arrived home and collectively staggered to the waiting cars. The girls confessed that there was not much remembering that night as everyone fell into bed as soon as possible.
Many have not yet recovered from the ill effects, but it is the general consensus it was a wonderful trip.

Salutatorian

Marilyn Wheelers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Wheelers, will deliver the salutatory address at graduation exercises May 30. Marilyn attended grade school in El Paso and junior high and high school in Sweetwater before coming to Midland at the beginning of this year. She plans to attend Texas Tech in Lubbock and major in business administration or interior design. Her average was 94.31.

Roving Reporter

By CYNTHIA PARKER
Twelve years of work will come to an end Tuesday night, May 30 when the Seniors of 1950 graduate. Rita Joyce Johnson, "the senior year" seems to grow in the minds of all ten-agers. They begin to plan their activities and look forward to graduating.
Midland High School Seniors seem to be divided half and half on the joys and sorrows of graduating.
The question: "How do you feel now that you are graduating and what do you think about it?"
Marilyn Wheelers: "I'm glad it's over. I feel wonderful."
Vi Jean Fuglaar: Yippee and a great big hurrah!
Helen Cartwright: "I'm glad it just happens once—but I'm glad it happens."
Peggy Minear: "At last I'll be on my own for a while—I'm looking forward to college."
Kathryn Hopper: "It has finally happened. Now I can stay home and take care of my house."
Myrna Faye Johnson: "I'm glad! Now I can change my chains to a house dress."
Billie Nell Robertson: "I just feel wonderful! Can't wait to get out!"
Dan Dickinson: "Same way I felt when I was a freshman."
No More Homework
Chris Cunningham: "Oh! Boy, now I can ride motorcycles all the time and no more homework that I don't have to worry about."
Ann Boring: "I hate to lose you. I'm so used to you now!" (Don't you believe it!)

Esther Pearl Reeves: "Wonderful. No one will ever know how happy I am to be out."
Rosalynn Leggett: "When I was a freshman I used to think I would be very sad to graduate. Unfortunately, my views have changed."

Graduating Class Has 46 Members Of Original '47 Class
The 1950 Senior Class has grown in more ways than in wisdom, knowledge, and intelligence. When the class came into high school in 1947, there were only 82 members to compare with the 132 students today. Of these 132 students, only 44 have gone through four years in MHS.
Three members, Patsy Wood, Frank Ashby, and Bill Burnside, started as freshmen here but went to other schools awhile, only to return and graduate from MHS.
Others Listed
Maggie Murphey, Donald Pyle, June Pyle, Pauline Rasco, Esther Pearl Reeves, Bobbie Reinhardt, Wayne Richardson, Dow Scott, Janis Slough, Homer Snodgrass, Obie Lee Staicup, John Steinberger, R. O. Story, Buddy Stovall, Nancy Trauber, Frances Tredaway, Marion Tredaway, Cecyl Wilson, Loveta Wreyford, Patsy Wreyford.

MHS Seniors Tell Plans For Future

By KATHERINE LEWIS
Graduation means the parting of the ways for many MHS seniors. Some will go to college, some will work, but when they look back on this occasion, they will realize what a milestone graduation is.

Some seniors are undecided about their immediate future but here are their plans at the present time.

George Capps—plans to work in Grammer-Murphey's Men's Store.
Virginia Long—plans to go to a beauty operator's school in Ardmore, Oklahoma.

Portraits Of 1950 Seniors

By MAGGIE MURPHEY AND CAROL GLAHLN
In order that the memory of the 1950 Senior Class will forever be preserved, we have written a portrait in jingle form of each senior. They really have been a classy bunch of kids, these first seniors to graduate from the new building. Read these rhymes and remember your friends by them.

Harland Allen is a likable guy, he's awful nice and a little shy.
Frank Ashby, Gad, what a lad! It's easy to see that he's quite mad. Marlon Ace made two volleyball teams, she's really on the ball it seems.
Wayne Bailey's everybody's friend, he's one guy who is sure to win. Alfred Baze, all-district grid star, has a deep bass voice that's way above par.
Jean Blackwell is a real slick chick, out of life she really gets a kick.
Janell Bolin, Sweetheart of the DE, is just as cute as can be.
Jo Ann Boykin, an all-around gal, teacher's friend and student's pal.
Nada Bramlett, a red head she is, as sweet as tempered as can be.
Rosemary Brazill is very sweet, this little gal is really neat.
Virginia Breedlove, the dramatic star, in Shakespeare's plays she'll go far.
Louis Brooks has a ready grin, it's made a lot of friends for him.
Virginia Brooks, so cute and small, probably won't be very big at all.
Mary Lee Brown is humorous and gay, she will always be the way.
Bill Bryan so shy and reserved, we bet from his purpose can never be swerved.
Is Annie's Beau
Bill Burnside is Annie's beau, he thinks she's keen as we all know.
George Capps, the funny book king, "Tut-tut" is on the beam.

A likable gal is Ginger Carr, she's one miss who should go far.
Margi Carter's twinkling toes have made us all forget our woes.
Helen Cartwright so fair and tall is known as "Red" to one and all.
Jimmy Chauncey, the baseball catch, a swell guy who's hard to match.
Jo Anne Cherry is a married gal, she's awful cute and everyone's pal.
Donald Clark, his ready grin makes "Buck" every body's friend.
Fran Claybrook is so small, there hardly is any Fran at all.
Neliene Colburn so quiet, but yet a true blue pal, the best we've met.
Freston Connors is big and bold, now take the stories that have been told!
Gloria Crowe is shy and small, this little miss is loved by all.
Chris Cunningham her good nature has shown, her art ability should be widely known.
Jane Ann Curedly is a twirling ace, no one could possibly take her place.
Eddie Darnell is extra swell, just one look at her and you can tell.
Dan Dickinson, the Catoico ed, her "Hare" we speak of is not on his head.
Harold Drew has such a silly giggle, it really makes his vocal cords wiggle.
Irma Drivler is a scatterbrain, just like the Irma of radio fame.
Rita Dunlap is quite a cut-up, she's one gal who won't be shutting.
Howard Edwards is very dependable, his work in school is most commendable.
Bill Emmons is rather chubby, he'll be tops as someone's hubby.
Pat Emmons is Bill's sis, she's a very graceful miss.
Ronnie Estel with his crutches is through, he found he'd rather lean on Sue.
Cecil Evans, the good looking devil, never passed the moron level.
George Friday is always gay, and everyone likes him that way.
Vi Jean Figular is like a gypsy fair, with her dark eyes and shiny hair.
Roger Fuller is fresh as a daisy, he tries to drive the teacher's crazy.
Roy Gibson, a fearless man, gets into trouble when he can.
Rita Joyce Guber is one of the best, in our opinion she'll pass the test.
Harry Grandstaff is so doggone shy, you hardly get to know the guy.
Joy Graham is a newcomer here, but she's earned many friends, never fear.
John E. Greene is a five-year man, in Janis' eyes he's really grand.
Louis Griffin has lots of fun, but from the women he will run.
Wilma Green is another bride, she is Walter's joy and pride.
W. T. Hall is a good worker, he'll be more than a soda jerk.
Wanda Hankla's sparkling wit with each of us has made a hit.
Nick Harrison doesn't have to cram to pass any kind of exam.
June Hazlip is a versatile gal, she really has a lot of pals.
Katheryn Hooper is graceful and tall, she has made a friend of one and all.
Leland Howard has an ear-to-ear grin, with that asset he is bound to win.
La Wanda Huckaby since February has been secretly wed, these past three months nothing's she.
Donald Johnson is a tennis king, he really makes those balls sing.
Myra Faye Johnson has long, dark hair, this little miss never has a care.
Joe Johnson is a big brunet, a nicer guy we've never met.
Jo Ann Kappelman, so quiet is she, but still as friendly as a kitten.
Jimmy Kennedy is always polite, in class he is usually quiet.
Denzil Kemp is always busy, her numerous duties keep her "dizzy".
Chris King is always grinning, that smile is really winning.

Mile And Smile
John Klingler who ran the mile, is known as "Pretty Boy" for his smile.
Sammy Koen, the student council head, "As good as they come," would he be called?
Rosalynn Leggett is the class's Big Brain, her studies are never a strain.
Katherine Lewis just bounces along, this cute little gal never does wrong.
Virginia Long will not be an old maid, you see, she plans to wed as soon as she can be.
Billie Love has more than one name, this fact has added to her fame.
Myra Lumpkin has hair of gold, her name is really quite bold.
Nelda McDuffie, with hair so blond, of this gal we're really fond.
Wayne McKandless has a nice disposition, the top will be his position.
Harold Maddera is a likable fellow, eyes of brown and hair of yellow.
Don Mears is big and strong, he's one guy who won't go wrong.
Peggy Minear "Peggy" to all, is awful cute and not very tall.
Jack Mobley is lots of fun, he's always ready with a pun.
Faye Montgomery with hair so black for scores of friends she'll never lack.
Luther Mooney, small guy, big heart, he's Mickey Rooney's counterpart.
Frank Moore of the loud shirt fame, for himself has made quite a name.
Barbara Nichols is quiet and shy, has really captivated that Bill Reeves guy.
Betty Nix, so faithful to her duties, she'll think a lot of you.
Bob Noble makes every girl's heart skip a beat, the boy is really neat.
Oscar Ohio always wears blue jeans, always says just what he means.
Cynthia Parker has a hard time with Sis, but she had fun peroxidizing her tresses.
A classy guy that Richard Patton likes his gals in silk and satin.
Don Pyle is a very quiet guy, he has so many friends he can't be shy.
June Pyle with big brown eyes, is friendly to all the gals and guys.
Jo Ann Ragan goes with Jim, she really thinks a lot of him.
Nicknamed "Polly"
Pauline Rasco is nicknamed "Polly" her disposition is always jolly.
John Rateliff has lots of pals, both handsome boys and cute gals.
Bill Reeves is a swell cartoonist, by Miss Gordon he'll be missed.
Ester Reeves is shy and reserved, all her honors she has deserved.
Howard Reinhardt is nicknamed "Babs," we bet some cute boy she has.
Marion Richardson, the little dip, kept everyone awake on the senior trip.
Wayne Richardson's nickname's "Oxie," this gal is ookie-dokie.
Gwen Roberts is adept at dancing, is equally good at prancing.
Billie Nell Robertson is everyone's friend, they'll stick to her 'til the end of the rainbow.
Lola Faye Rohus with hair so long, with her it's easy to get along.
Archie Row is tall and thin, his friends think a lot of him.
Max Schafer has hair of red, a swell guy as all have said.
Dow Scott who looks so smart, is always ready to do his part.
Janis Slough is a beauty queen, don't take our word ask John Ed Green.
Harrie Smith, nicknamed "Smitty" HE seems to think his jokes are witty.
Nelda Smith's a blond-headed gal and she is everybody's pal.
Tommy Snowgrass, alias "Skeeter" you'll never find anyone neater.
Obie Staicup, nicknamed "Bubbles," always listens to your troubles.
John Steinberger is known as "Buddy."

"Pinky," nothing rhymes with that, but stinky!
Donald Story is friendly too, this guy's kind are few.
John D. Story is Don's brother, he must be a joy to his mother.
Claude Winston, when his name was called, turned out to be our friend Buddy Stovall.
Jimmy Stringer is usually in trouble, for him it seems to come double.
Bet Studdert is full of life, she'll make some guy a peppy wife.
Is Big Tease
Charles Sutton is a great big tease, all the gals try him to appease.
Dois Thompson is the cut-up of the class, he ought to go places in a flash.
Nancy Trauber is nicknamed "Cat," he'd look good in a green baseball hat.
Nancy Trauber always does her part, she's really a little sweetheart.
Frances Tredway's athletic deeds has satisfied the volleyball team's needs.
David Weaver is known as Rail, he's one guy his friends won't fail.
Marilyn Wheelless is nicknamed "Wheel," she is always in on some big deal.
Tina Williams as a drum major was good, at mid-term she moved to Brownwood.
Betsy Wilson has big blue eyes, she's popular with all the gals and guys.
Cecil Wilson is Fay's beau, this guy is a "Good Joy."
Joy Winkler is a lazy guy, but he never does anything on the sly.
A cute little gal Wanda Wise, and she is popular with all the guys.
Another cute girl is Patsy Wood, if you need some help she sure would.
MHS's Belvedere is John Brent Wood, in his studies he's really good.
Loweta Wreyford, an athlete supreme, in all sports she's really keen.
Joy Kreyford, Loweta's sis, is a tall and graceful miss.
Now Carol, and Maggie, they "is" poets, but from these rhymes you'd never know it.

Thanks, MHS, For Everything

For the new building we've been privileged to use! For the new studies which have been introduced in the curriculum and the long-established studies which have been modified to meet our needs.

Thanks too, for giving us a vision of the ways along which we must strive together to increase our effectiveness in securing full freedom to grow toward total citizenship.

Dear Midland High: You've given us a bit of sun, a bit of work and a bit of fun. You've given us sense, for we're some of us duffers, and a heart to feel for all that suffers. You've given us, too, a bit of a song, and a tale and a book to help us along. And given us our share of sorrow's lesson, that we may prove how grief's a blessing. Old Midland High, you've given us a chance to be our goodly best, brave, wise and free, our goodly best for ourselves and others, till we've all learned to live as brothers—Seniors of 1950. Obie Staicup, president.

Betty Marie Nix: "I'm too happy for words, although I have had a great deal of fun along with the work."
Bobbie Reinhardt: "I feel wonderful. I am going to sleep for a week!"

Thanks—
We who have worked on the Bulldog this year, wish to thank the student body, the faculty, the administration, and Mrs. Josephine Parr for the co-operation, encouragement, and constructive criticism given us this year.

We have worked hard to give the students news and happenings of themselves and their friends and though some attempts have not turned out exactly as planned, we believe there has been some good that came out of the Bulldog.

We feel that the Bulldog will advance from year to year and that we sincerely hope those journalists of next year have as much fun in "putting the paper to bed" as we did.

Sincerely,
The Bulldog Staff

'Kidnap' Breakfast Honors Two Seniors

Thirty senior and junior girls were "kidnaped" between five a.m. and six a.m. Tuesday morning. The reason for this mysterious "kidnaping" was to honor June Hazlip and Rosalynn Leggett and 14 other senior girls at a breakfast with Jo Ann Nelson as hostess. The girls were taken from their homes with no time allowed to don "modern wardrobe."
The kidnap breakfast was given in the home of Mrs. W. H. Rhodes, 501 N. Pecos. Helping Mrs. Rhodes were the hostess' mother, Mrs. C. E. Nelson, and Mrs. S. P. Hazlip and Mrs. Waldo Leggett, mothers of the honorees.

Miniature diplomas were given as favors. Center pieces for the table was a nine-inch "graduate" made of eggplants. Napkins were inscribed "June and Rosalynn, Seniors 1950." In each hand of the graduate were boxes of animal crackers which were later given June and Rosalynn. Demitasse spoons in their chosen pattern also were given the honorees.

Seniors who attended were Peggy Minear, Margi Carter, Ann Boring, Maggie Murphey, Jo Ann Ragan, Cynthia Parker, Eddie Juan Darnell, Janis Slough, Bet Studdert, Jo Anne Boykin, Virginia Breedlove, Rosemary Brazill, Helen Cartwright, Katherine Lewis, June Hazlip and Rosalynn Leggett.

Seniors were Martha Scharbauer, Joyce Howell, Gloria Anguish, Beverly Keisling, Suzanne Young, Swan Hagler, Shirley Harrison, Peggy Chalmers, Mary Nell Wanda Burnside, Sue Johnson, Toya Chappie, Mary Jo Hejl and Marjann Forrest.

Monroe's Message To Senior Class:

You, the seniors of the school year 1949-50, have the honor and distinction of being the first class to be graduated from our new high school. This will be one of the things you will remember throughout your lifetime.

You are to be congratulated upon the progress you have made during your high school career and may I wish for you the best of luck as you begin your new journey upon life's highway. During these travels there will be many new experiences and a great many types of situations you will be called upon to meet. I hope that you will be successful in the many endeavors which will be yours in the years to come.

Frank Monroe, Superintendent of Midland Public Schools.

ADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

ddy Ringtail And a Tag-Along

ddy Ringtail, your monkey d, was going to visit with Uncle Bunkum at the zoo. "I don't anyone to tag along after me," Bobby called. "Wait for me!"

something he had to ask. He had to ask Daddy Ringtail. "Daddy Ringtail!" Bobby called. "Wait for me!"

tail had walked too far already. It seemed. But Bobby ran and walked, and walked and ran, hurrying along as fast as he could.

DE GLANCES

"I'll give him the lawnmower treatment when we get home—cutting the grass always takes his mind off buying a farm!"

Daddy Ringtail could hear him. Daddy Ringtail stopped and waited for Bobby to catch up with him. Then he said: "Now what did I tell you before I left home?"

Leading Figures in TCU's 1950 Commencement

Midlander Qualifies In Navy's Aircraft Carrier Operations

Michael K. Lake

Ensign Lake, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Lake of 1204 West Storey Street, Midland, Texas, entered the Navy V-12 program in June 1943. He attended Carroll College, Helena, Mont.; University of Washington and United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., where he obtained requisites needed for service as an officer in the United States Navy. He was commissioned in June, 1949, and was a student naval aviator.

He reported to Pensacola, Florida, "The Annapolis of the Air," in July, 1949, where he has completed a stringent schedule in military, academic, physical and flight training.

From Pensacola he has been sent to advanced training at Corpus Christi, where he now is undergoing a four month syllabus in service type aircraft. Graduation from advanced training will win him the coveted Navy wings of gold.

Ensign Lake then will be ordered to some fleet unit for duty and will serve as an officer and aviator in the United States Navy.

The McCamey Promenaders held their monthly dress-up square dance Friday night in the Park Building, with music by C. W. Lyle's band.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Skains and children attended a family reunion Saturday and Sunday at City Park in Ballinger. Fifty-three attended the reunion, including the children and grandchildren of four sisters, Mrs. B. F. Manning of Carlisle, one of the sisters, is the mother of Mrs. Skains.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. McFadden are parents of a daughter, Mollie Suzanne, born May 19 in the McCamey hospital. She weighed seven pounds, three and a half ounces.

Weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ingram recently were their sons, Roy Murphy and family of Slaton, and D. C. Murphy and family of Odessa.

Large crowds have been visiting the Upton County swimming pool in McCamey since its recent opening, and increased attendance is expected with school's end. Mrs. E. R. Marrs will handle the concession stand, and E. R. Sharp will be in charge of the pool and will be lifeguard.

The VFW and American Legion, together with auxiliaries, will hold informal Memorial Day ceremonies Tuesday at the McCamey Cemetery. The program is slated at 5 p.m. Bill Moore, commander of the American Legion, and Cleatus Brooks, VFW Comman, are to deliver short addresses, and are in charge of the pool and will be lifeguard.

Four cars of boosters for the Midland Rodeo, to be held from May 31-June 4, were in McCamey, visiting stores and passing out literature.

Bill Bridges and Ellen Johnson received the distinguished achievement award of the American Legion at graduation ceremonies Friday, and Paul Rape received the annual award from the Chamber of Commerce. Beverly Harris, class valedictorian, received several scholarships awards for college. H. E. Sharp, principal of the high school, presented the class, and Howard Stoker, superintendent of schools, awarded diplomas.

Perfect Attendance

Ten students in McCamey High School with perfect attendance records for the year were named by Superintendent of Schools Howard Stoker. The students are: Margaret Muschalek, Bernice Weddle, John Edward Frierson, Frederic Matejowsky, Betty Jane Weddle, Carrol Bolen, Gladys Marie Fincher, Randy Spicer, Pete Tjerina and Walker Acuff.

Mrs. Bess Moorhan will leave Tuesday for Midland to visit her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Walcher. Another daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Starnes of Arnett, Okla., is visiting there.

Mrs. Bess Moorhan and Mrs. B. McCollum spent the day Thursday in Alpine.

The paving program in McCamey is nearing completion, and is expected to be finished within two weeks. All curbing has been completed except for a small area around Westover school and the McCamey Park building.

Elaine Harrison, valedictorian, and Jeanne Coriger, salutatorian, spoke at graduation exercises of the Junior High School, as 57 students graduated into high school. Lowell Wallace and Jere Jayne Jones received the American Legion distinguished achievement awards.

Fresh Lard Clears Up Cases Of Eczema

CHICAGO — (AP) — Ordinary fresh lard added to the diet of adults and children can clear up some cases of eczema, a Texas University physician reports.

Dr. Arild E. Hansen gave lard to 90 adults and 73 infants suffering from the skin disorder. He reported improvement in 57 per cent of the adult group, in 84 per cent of the infant group and 62 per cent of the two-to-15-year age group.

The study was reported in an editorial in the National Livestock Producer, a trade publication.

y's Jap Prison Memory ills Ice Cream Appetite

Mackintosh and parents: The nightmares are gone, but the taste for dried bread and dried rice lingers on.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Alex Mackintosh is a good looking, 10-year-old lad who likes nothing better than to sit down to a big meal of bread and dried rice. But there's a grim story behind his unappetite.

Alex grew up in an internment camp in Japanese-held Java. With mother and grandmother, he spent his early boyhood going from one camp to another in the jungles. Like the other prisoners, his main food was dried bread and rice.

These habits are hard to break, says Alex's mother, Mrs. Donald Mackintosh, finds her son still clinging to his prison-inspired taste in le won't touch butter or cream. English-born Mrs. Mackintosh, "and only recently could I get to eat ice cream."

Another Camp

The elder Mackintosh — Alex's father — was interned in another camp in Java — also finds that some of her wartime experiences have red their post-war life.

Some of it has been for the "nightmares," she says. "I don't know what they are, but they're gone now," she says. "I don't know what they are, but they're gone now," she says. "I don't know what they are, but they're gone now," she says.

Method Discovered To Foretell Sex Of Unborn Babies

NEW YORK — (P) — Orange-yellow is the color for boys and bluish green for girls in a new method of foretelling the sex of unborn babies.

This discovery, reported to the International and Fourth American Congress on Obstetrics and Gynecology, goes exactly opposite to the custom of assigning pink to newly born girls and blue to the boys.

The report was by Drs. Pierre Rosa and Aubin E. Fanard, of the University of Brussels, Belgium. They said this is the first test that is certain. They tried it on almost 50 unborn children without a miss.

The color signs come from the amniotic fluid, a watery substance in which a prenatal child grows and lives, up to the moment of birth. This fluid contains tissue cells, from all parts of the little body that is exposed to the liquid.

A small sample of the fluid is withdrawn, centrifuged and then made into a smear on a glass slide. Some of the tissue cells in this smear have natural tints of color.

Yellow Predominant

In boys there is a predominance of cells with yellow tints, giving the smear a slightly orange-yellow hue. In girls the color is bluish-green, for similar reasons.

The differences, the report said, are clear-cut and absolutely constant. The telltale tissue cells were traced to their points of origin. The reason in development for predominance of one kind of cell in the girls was found.

The principal cause of difference was tissue cells associated with sexual development. This fact limited the sex prediction to about four months before birth, when the differences between boys and girls were well developed.

The report said this new method of tapping the prenatal fluid is safe, but only in expert hands. It will be useful, the authors said, for scientific studies.

The Rider Feels He's Outnumbered

Bronc-bustin' is a sport which has no equal throughout the cattle country from the Texas-Mexican border to Northern Montana. Ten seconds may seem short to count, but those same ten seconds may run into ages to the rider atop a sunfishing, twisting bundle of indignant animal energy, impatiently trying to toss his rider, and known in circles of animal lovers as a horse! The thrill packed event plays to a tense, silent audience which explodes into cheers when the man or the horse wins the contest. Sometimes a rider has tried so well to win that when he loses, a moan escapes from spectators, but more frequently the cheers are for the horse!

Riders may be disqualified for losing stirrup, coasting with feet bucked off, changing hands on the rein, wrapping rein around hands, pulling leather (to we mere mortals—grabbing the saddle), falling to spur the horse in shoulders the first two out of three jumps, and not being ready to ride when called, or hitting the horse with hand or hat. Mounts for riders are drawn daily by the judges. Saddles, selected and furnished by the management, are placed on the horses under the supervision of the arena director. A plain halter with one rein is the only equipment allowed in addition to the saddle.

The best bucking broncs in the rodeo game are past masters in their art and seem to know the rules of the contest as well as the cowboy rider—even though wild horses are used in each rodeo every year.

Midland Is Ready For Rodeo Opening

Midland Rodeos, Lum Daugherty Has Seen 'Em All, Since 1896

By BOB PRENTISS

Lum Daugherty will be an interested and critical spectator at the 16th Annual World's Championship Midland Rodeo Wednesday—as he has been at each of the 15 preceding shows.

But Lum's first rodeo in Midland dates back to considerably before the 1934 show.

Born in Midland in 1890, Lum still lives in the same house in which he was born, at 311 North Big Spring Street. And the same bedstead in which he was born, still is in the house.

"The house was worked over once, a few years ago," he said, "but they used the same lumber to remodel it."

The first rodeo held in Midland was in 1896, Lum says. It was held in the flats of what is now east Midland, and there weren't any fences or grandstands. Just a pen. And if a cowhand missed his throw, he might have to chase an onery steer a couple of miles before he could catch him for the tie.

Contestants in the first rodeo were working cowhands from ranches in the surrounding country. Come rodeo time, all the hands knocked off work to enter the show.

a professional rodeo man in sight. All were working cowboys.

A few years later, about 1898, Lum thinks, the rodeo grounds were moved to a new location, a mile north of town. The site is south of the old Brunson home, on the North Lamesa Road.

"It was a fancy layout," Lum said. "They built chutes, pens and grandstands. And they covered the grandstand with tow sacks."

"And they had roping, bronc riding, horse races and a special event—four horse teams in chariot races. There was a lot of money changing hands at those shows!"

The third rodeo grounds site in Midland was built in about 1908, as the show grew in size with the years. The new grounds were "way out in the country"—about where the Farmers' Gin is now, just south of the railroad tracks, east of Main Street.

Still the shows drew only working cowboys. Lum, whose family ran a 250-section spread in Gaines and Andrews Counties until 1920, never rode in a Midland rodeo, but did take part in shows in Juarez in the early days.

In 1914, the site of the rodeo was moved again. The new location was on the Rankin Highway, two miles south of the city. The outline of the ring still may be seen, though all buildings and fences now are gone. Stands, chutes, pens and barns once made the grounds a fine rodeo location.

The south side grounds were used until 1934, when the present grounds of Midland Fair, Inc., were acquired, and the present series of annual World Championship Midland Rodeos was begun.

Asked about the decline of the working cowhand, Lum thought that around 1905 marked the turning point, as the big ranches began to be broken up into smaller holdings. Fencing of pastures reduced further the number of hands needed to man a ranch, and over the years the big ranches reduced their list of employees.

Finally, in about 1920, the profession of roping, and there wasn't

Arena Director

Everett Colborn of Dublin, Texas, co-owner with Gene Autry of the World's Championship Rodeo Corporation, is the arena director of the famed Midland Rodeo, which opens here Wednesday. He will see that the show goes off smoothly and promptly and to the satisfaction of the spectators. Colborn and Autry also furnish the stock for the various cowboy events. Colborn is one of the nation's best-known and most successful rodeo producers and directors.

Midland 'Boosters' Advertise Rodeo

Boosters, spreading the word about the 16th Midland Annual World Championship Rodeo, traveled to 22 Permian Basin cities, advertising one of the biggest events of the year.

Last Wednesday the boosters hit the highways for about 350 miles, making calls at Odessa, Monahans, Pyote, Barstow, Pecos, Fort Stockton, McCamey, Rankin, Big Lake, Garden City, Big Spring and Stamford. Thursday's journey took the boosters to Goldsmith, Wink, Kermit, Andrews, Seminole, Tahoka, Lamesa, Snyder, Seagraves and Colorado City.

The group traveled by automobiles Wednesday and by charter bus Thursday. Midland County Sheriff's Posse and the Midland Chamber of Commerce sponsored the trips. Delbert Downing, Chamber of Commerce manager, served as master of ceremonies.

First Show Slated Wednesday Night

It's RODEO WEEK in Midland and everything is in perfect readiness for the staging of the 16th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo—Midland's one bi-annual celebration—which opens Wednesday and continues through Sunday night.

From now on through the concluding performance of the big rodeo next Sunday night will be a continuous whirl of activities and events, fun and frolic, with everything geared to gaiety, entertainment and the spirit of Midland Rodeo.

Midlanders are prepared to welcome and to entertain the throngs of rodeo visitors while they themselves enjoy the big show.

It's the big entertainment event of the year in the Southwest, and residents of the vast Permian Basin Empire are ready to attend and enjoy it.

A gigantic horsemen's parade at 4 p.m. Wednesday will open the 1950 show. Gov. Allan Shivers, Congressman Ken Regan and other state and national officials will ride in the procession, which will be led by the Midland High School Band.

The first rodeo performance is scheduled at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the all-steel arena at Midland Fair Park on East Highway 80. Shows also will be presented at the same hour Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, with the concluding performance Sunday night scheduled at 9 p.m. No matinee performances are scheduled.

Special nights to be observed this year include: Governor Shivers Night, Wednesday; All-Sports Night, Thursday; State Highway Commission Night, Friday; Texas Railroad Commission Night, Saturday, and All-West Texas Night, Sunday.

Midland Rodeo annually is the high spot in the social, economic and entertainment life of the city and section, and this year more persons than ever before are expected to join in the festivities.

The welcome mat is out, streets and store fronts are decorated in colorful fashion, cowboy clothes are very much in evidence, and the spirit of the World Championship Midland Rodeo prevails. Midland Rodeo is the major topic of conversation throughout the city and area.

Proud Of Rodeo

Midlanders, proud of their fame, have spread the word and the invitation is out to all residents of the Southwest to attend. Boost trips have been made to practical all area cities to extend personal invitations to territory residents visit Midland at rodeo time.

Officials of Midland Fair, Inc. and members of the various rodeo committees say arrangements are complete for the biggest and best rodeo of them all—Midland Rodeo. They will be busy the first part of this week putting the final touch on the big event. Then they will be more than busy the remainder of the week in seeing that the show goes off on schedule and to the satisfaction of the rodeo fans present.

A progress report issued by the Advance Ticket Sales Committee indicates attendance this year will break all previous records.

Cowboys and cowgirls, the best of the nation, already have started arriving here and others will follow early this week. The fair grounds east of the city will be a busy spot as the rodeo participants unload and unlimber their mounts. They are eager for the show's opening and chance at the more than $8,000 purses and prizes offered in the various rodeo events.

Rough Livestock

The rodeo livestock, the roughest and toughest ever brought to Midland from the Colborn-Autry Lightening C Ranch at Dublin, Texas, already is on hand at the rodeo grounds, and several pens reportedly have been torn down by the ferocious animals.

And here to contest: the wild

Small-Pox Epidemic Rages in Rangoon

ANCOON —(P)—An epidemic of small-pox which hit Rangoon, Burma, took a toll of 800 within five months, according to the Health Department of the Rangoon Municipal Corporation. A statement said the disease is still raging in epidemic form in the heart of the city. It stated that teams of municipal cinators sent into stricken areas were hampered in their work by people who barred entry to their homes, fearing the vaccinators were bandits in disguise. Nearly 10,000 people had to be vaccinated forcibly.

The statement added that presently 300,000 of Rangoon's 750,000 population have been vaccinated by the Health Department.

Doing The Jump Aboard The Flying Twins

Byron Hendricks, dare-devil member of the Stunt Kings, one of the top rodeo acts in America, is pictured above doing the famous Roman jump aboard his two trusties, The Flying Twins. The Hendricks brothers, Byron and Lee, and Lee's wife, Ann, combine to give a versatile show which has appeared in all the nation's top rodeos, including the big one of them all, at Madison Square Garden.

Ray Lackland, 'Mike' Vet, To Announce 1950 Rodeo

Ray Lackland, one of the nation's top rodeo announcers, will be back for his second year to handle the "mike" for the 16th Annual Midland World Championship Rodeo.

Lackland, who calls Dallas his home, has been in the rodeo announcing business since he was a boy in New Mexico. He has handled almost all of the nation's top rodeos and is in constant demand. Known as a "show within a show," Lackland has an intimate knowledge of the idiosyncrasies of the nation's rodeo performers, enabling him to give "qu" with colorful descriptions of the arena action to spectators. His knowledge of routines employed by the top rodeo clowns is such that he could, without a second's hesitation, change places with them. Also, he is an accomplished calf roper and knows the problems which face the rodeo performer.

Although he was born in Carroll County, Missouri, in 1911, Ray was raised in Lincoln County, N. M., where Billy the Kid once roamed. It was in Carrizosa where Ray announced his first rodeo at the age of 13.

Graduate of NMMI

After he was graduated from New Mexico Military Institute, Roswell, in 1930, Lackland began a radio career with XEAM, a Mexican radio station located at El Paso. After six months he moved to the West Coast where he continued his radio work until 1932.

Lackland has been affiliated with radio stations in Dallas and was a program director for the Texas Centennial and the Pan American Exposition. In between, he kept announcing rodeos. Among the Texas shows he has announced are rodeos at Brownsville, Houston, San Angelo, Raymondville, Fort Worth and Midland. He also has been with other top shows around the nation.

Ray's wife, Dorothy, travels with him and is training her microphone voice with the thought of becoming Ray's assistant. They were married on Valentine's Day in 1947.

First Show—

bronses, steers cows and bulls will be the world's best cowhands who will do their best to subdue the vicious critters. It will be quite a show.

The big horsemen's parade Wednesday will be the largest and most colorful in the long history of Midland Rodeos. The procession will be led by the Midland High School Band under the direction of Jerry Hoffman. Hundreds of cowboys and cowgirls, including a number of Sheriff's posse units, will ride in the parade as it proceeds through the downtown district.

Then at 8 p.m. the curtain will be drawn and the first of five performances will be underway in the rodeo arena. Cowboys will make their first rides and throw their first loops in the contests for day monies and for the best show averages in the various events. The first Cutting Horse contest entries also will be seen in action, as will the trick riders and ropers, clowns and other special entertainers. The rodeo will be underway and spectators will thrill and chill at the acts of skill and daring in the big and well-lighted arena.

Different contestants

Each performance will see different contestants and fresh livestock in the fast and rugged events.

The rodeo arena is in the best shape ever and the fair park grounds in excellent condition.

The specialty this year will be the best ever, according to rodeo officials, who promise entertainment aplenty for each and every member of the family.

One of the top acts of the 1950 show will be the specialty numbers presented by members of the famed Hendricks Family—Ann, Byron and Lee. Their trick riding acts have won acclaim at big-time rodeos across the nation. The Hendricks come to Midland direct from Hollywood, Calif. Ann Hendricks this year has a new comedy act which is said to be the best and most entertaining ever presented in a rodeo arena.

The trick and fancy riding by several of the nation's best-known cowgirls again will be a popular feature of the show.

The noted "Lightning C Ranch Mounted Quadrille," more colorfully costumed and better mounted than ever before, will be another spectacle at each performance.

Officials are working on another special feature, which, if arranged, will be a top attraction.

Two Clowns

George Mills and Jack Knapp, two of the world's most famous rodeo clowns, have been signed to clown the show.

Ray Lackland, Texas' favorite rodeo announcer, will announce the rodeo.

There will be ample entertainment for everyone Wednesday through Sunday at Midland Rodeo.

The fun and frolic, however, will not be confined to the rodeo alone—many parties, entertainments and special events are planned during the week as Midlanders entertain their rodeo visitors and as the visitors entertain themselves.

It's RODEO WEEK in Midland.

ONLY TWO RETURNED FOR TOUCHDOWNS

NEW YORK—(P)—Only two pro football players returned kickoffs for touchdowns during the 1949 season in the two major leagues which operated last year. And both TD's returned covered 95 yards, and were made by players on teams representing New York.

Jack Salscheider of the Giants was the only player in the National Football League to score a TD on a kickoff return, while in the late All-America Conference, Buddy Young of the Yankees, now Yanks, made the only TD return, a 95-yarder against Chicago.

Lum Daugherty Has Seen

sional rodeo performer—perhaps an out-of-a-job cowboy—began to make his appearance. The Fort Worth show—then the biggest in the country—probably was among the first to go professional, Lum thinks. Now only a few shows remain for the amateur rodeo rider—the real cowboy.

The annual Stamford Cowboy Reunion is such a show—with many a professional in the ranks. Some smaller shows, too, are amateur.

But as the professionals took over the rodeo ranks, new events began to make their appearance. Brahma bull riding—the roughest event in the show, according to Lum—began after the advent of the professional rider. Steer roping, an old standby in early day rodeos, finally was dropped from the list of events. It was considered too rough on man and animal.

In steer roping, full grown steers, weighing as much as 1,000 pounds, came out of the chute at a dead run, with a cowboy in hot pursuit. As soon as the loop settled over the neck and horns of the steer, the cowboy changed direction, riding off at an angle to the course of the steer.

When the rope came taut, the steer was jerked sideways—sometimes turning end-over-end before hitting the ground with an earth-jarring thud. Then, as the cowpoke left the saddle to make the tie, the smart cow-pony kept the loop taut by backing away, keeping the steer on the ground until the cowboy made the tie. Few rodeos now include steer roping on their list of events.

Early-Day Performers

A group of outstanding ropers and riders of the early days in Midland include many names which will be familiar to early-day residents. Such performers as Billie Connell, Clay McGonigle, Joe Gardner, Rollie Connally, Elison Carroll, John Tyson, Joe Brown were early entrants in Midland shows.

Wilbur Wadley, a brother of another pioneer Midlander, Addison Wadley, is among the early riders Lum knew. John Winbarn, Bill Oates, Fish Pollard, Spence Jewell also were in the early shows.

Brothers teams entered in Midland rodeos numbered among them the Vest Boys, Bill, John, Ab and Tom; and the Lee Boys, Dick, Jim, Young and George; and Aris and Lynn Driver, Bert and George Weir, Ace and John Draper and Bud and Boss Estes.

Lum Daugherty has seen the best of them—amateur and professional—and still retains his enthusiasm for the big show. And you can't get Lum to admit that there's a better show anywhere than the World Championship Midland Rodeo. And though the years have bent his back just a little—he still can spot a "screwed-down" rider, and spot a mean bronc all the way across the arena. Lum Daugherty knows his rodeo riders—after 54 years of watching and riding.

Horseback Riding Becomes Too Rugged For Duke Of Windsor; Sticks To Golfing

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(AP)—"To be as happily married as I am—I call that a good life," said the Duke of Windsor.

He had just finished watching a film screening of his first television appearance.

I had been invited to see the screening in the offices of "March of Time." Before going, on the off-chance that the duke himself might show up, I went around my own office and asked a number of men and women: "What is the thing you'd like to know most today about the Duke of Windsor?"

It turned out that most wanted to know these things: Is he happy? Does he have any regrets over giving up his throne?

Shortly before the hour of screening the duke did show up—wearing an ageless smile, a jaunty red polka dot bow tie, and a gray striped flannel suit. The years have touched him lightly. He will be 56 next month, but he still has an air of timeless youth.

He said he was sorry the duchess couldn't come.

During the showing of the film the duke joked light-heartedly about his acting ability.

"My, I look so old," he laughed at one point.

Afterward I joined a group chatting with the Duke. I told him what my fellow workers wanted to know about him, and he seemed genuinely pleased at their interest. "I certainly am happy," he smiled, "although the world today is not a very happy place."

"What do you miss most now from your days as king?"

"I don't miss being king, but I do miss my country and working for it," he said. "I never have an idle moment. The day is not half long enough—even when I'm not writing."

The duke has been busy the last three years writing the story of his life from the end of the first World War to the crowded days of his abdication. It is now appearing in Life Magazine.

The duke has found an author's life isn't an easy one.

"It's hard work—this writing," he grimaced.

Top-Notch Cowboy

Midland's own Flop Roberts, one of the top cowboys in the area, has performed at numerous Midland World Championship Rodeos. He is expected to participate in the 16th Annual Rodeo, which begins a five-night run Wednesday.

The duke declined to comment on world politics' events or the progress of the cold war.

"I'll leave that to others," he said. "I keep my fingers crossed."

The duke no longer keeps a stable of horses and rarely rides. But he has kept in excellent shape by golfing.

"Outdoor life is my greatest pleasure," he said. "I enjoy the country—and my bad golf. I shot an 85 recently. My golf is a little better than it was in the 1920's."

Lots Of Others, Too
"But I'm always pleased to break 90"—and he grinned as he added—"that goes for a lot of people."

His other hobbies are hunting and reading—chiefly history.

Many people in today's world of doubt live by secret fears. I asked the duke what he was afraid of. He thought the question odd.

"This morning I was most afraid of my dentist, but he's a wonderful dentist—didn't hurt at all," he said. "Really, I'm not scared of anything."

How does he feel about life?

"To be happily married as I am—I call that a good life," said the duke.

And, smiling pleasantly, he left to go back to his hotel to join the woman for whose love he gave up the rulership of one-fourth the globe and one-fourth the world's population.

Thirteen years after his abdication this duke who was once a king is still quite a man—and a prince of a guy to meet.

Phrygia was an ancient kingdom in Asia Minor.

Ann is a member of the famed Hendricks Trio, which includes she, Byron and Lee. The brothers also are booked for this year's show.

Ranchers, Farmers Warned That Serious Wind Erosion Nearing

BY WILLIAM C. BARNARD Associated Press Staff

Last week the Federal Soil Conservation Service in Texas issued what is called "our strongest warning in years."

Louis P. Merrill, regional director of the service, said: "The stage is set in the plains areas of the nation for a return to wind erosion conditions approaching those of the 1930's. 'We're in for trouble,' Merrill declared flatly.

The regional director, a big West Texan, said nearly a million acres suffered moderate to severe wind erosion damage in Texas and Oklahoma during the recent blowing season. In these two states, he said, 2,300,000 acres are without sufficient protection from blowing.

Reports show that about seven million acres in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado and North Dakota are ready to blow, he added.

What can farmers do about it? "Plant grain sorghums wherever possible. The sorghum, if it receives moisture, will produce cover which will provide protection next Winter and Spring.

Should Be Left In Soil
"Whatever organic matter, such as wheat or sorghum stubble, remains from past crops, it should be left in the surface soil to help reduce the effect of the wind."

Merrill said "much of the erosion threat stems from the cultivation of millions of acres of land that are too shallow or too sandy to grow crops safely.

There are three million acres in Texas and Oklahoma alone. Such land should be retired to permanent cover as soon as possible. And ranchers should by all means guard against overuse of grazing lands."

Another measure Merrill advocates: "Cotton growers should use wind stripping, with alternate plantings of sorghum and cotton across the path of prevailing winds, to help reduce the erosion threat."

"The plains area apparently is entering the delayed cycle of dry years," the regional director said. "Millions of unprotected acres were damaged by high winds during the recent Winter and Spring and are now even more susceptible to wind damage. The best efforts of farmers, coupled with a good break in weather can only lessen, but in all probability they can't forestall, more damage to the land next Fall and Winter.

Horse Sense: Lady Wonder Talks' On Big Typewriter

By PAUL DUKE AP Newsfeatures

RICHMOND, VA. — This world could do with more horse sense. Good old fashioned horse sense—the kind Lady Wonder has.

She's a horse I met the other day. Quite a girl, too. The Lady is not only an authority on the earth's problems, but on most any other subject as well. Doesn't mind sharing her knowledge, either.

Oh, she looks like any other horse—black-coated, speckled in gray around the mane, with four white feet. A trifle on the weighty side, too.

But after two hours in her presence I am prepared to admit that Lady is somewhat different from most of her kin—at least the ones I have met.

Animal World Scholar
For one thing, she has more than the usual quota of horse sense. She's a real brain, if you ask me, a sort of Phi Beta Kappa of the animal world.

Oh no, she doesn't talk. The Lady uses the hunt and peck system. In her stall, there's a rather crudely covered board with letters and numbers fitted down into tiny slides.

When Lady voices an opinion she simply lowers her chin, touches a lever extending out from each slide, and the letter or figure shoots up—just like a typewriter.

Lady's owner, Mrs. C. D. Fonda, introduced me as "Mr. Duke." But Lady quickly dispensed with formality and clicked out a chummy "Paul," even though she had no foreknowledge of my first name.

Knows All The Answers
With that sendoff, Lady and I chatted like a couple of old hens—I the asking, she the answering.

From Mrs. Fonda, who has raised Lady since he was a three-year-old colt, I learned that the horse is something of a wizard at soothsaying. Midway in Franklin D. Roosevelt's second term she forecast that he would be elected president not only for a third, but also a fourth term.

In December, 1940, she predicted America's entry into the war a year later.

Don't get the notion Lady is perfect. She's flubbed a few times. Such as two years ago when she fell in line with all the other pollsters and prophesied a Dewey victory.

I asked Lady how much I made weekly. Bingo! Like that, she flashed back the correct figure.

Thinking the digits might be a little low on that one, I scribbled down two other numbers on a pad. Same result.

Mrs. Fonda, a graying little lady, who refers to her pet as an "educated horse," grinned and said something about folks always trying to "catch" Lady. Not long ago, she related, some fellow wanted to know whether his wife was true to him.

To which Lady whimpered and replied: "Are you?"

An Expert On Love
By far the most popular questions are those having to do with love and marriage. Each person gets three questions for 60 cents.

Lady has been doing this type of thing for more than 20 years. Occasionally, a psychologist comes along to test Lady.

In 1945, Dr. Thomas L. Garrett, New York psychologist-editor, declared her to be a "genuine phenomenon." He said he could find "no trickery involved."

The conclusion was nothing new. As long ago as 1928 three Duke University psychology professors reported: "There appear to be no loopholes, no reasonable possibility for signaling, either of a conscious or unconscious character."

Lets Secret Out
I thought about a tipoff system between Lady and her mistress. But she has answered questions when Mrs. Fonda wasn't nearby.

How does she do it? I asked Lady herself.

She paused for a moment, then spelled out m-i-n-d. Then, I asked her if she'd like to be a human being.

Unhesitatingly, she answered "yes." Poor thing, I thought. Maybe she doesn't deserve that Phi Beta Kappa rating after all.

Fought Nazis And Fascists At Ripe Old Age Of 14

CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C. —(P)—When Marine Pfc. Lawrence R. Lamberti of New York City tells of fighting Nazis and Fascists at the ripe old age of 14, many of his Marine buddies are a little skeptical but his is no idle boast.

Born and raised in Italy, Private Lamberti participated in many Partisan sabotage activities including bridge blowing, sniping and small scale warfare, when the Germans occupied that country.

Even though he was a native Italian and didn't enter the United States until 1946, Lamberti is a fully naturalized citizen under United States law because his father came to this country in 1939 and became an American citizen before his son had reached his 18th birthday.

Israeli Government Center Is Jerusalem

JERUSALEM —(P)— By the end of 1950, all Israeli government departments and ministers probably will be functioning in Jerusalem. The removal from Tel Aviv is being made as rapidly as housing is available.

This is in line with the government's policy to firmly entrench itself in Jerusalem as the Israeli capital despite the United Nations decision that the city is to be internationalized.

Can Rope, Tie

One of the fastest and surest ropers you can find at Southwest rodeos is James Kenney of Carlsbad, N. M. Kenney has performed many times in arena of the Midland World Championship Rodeo.

The Bronc Has All Breaks While Poke Only Has Surcingle

Riding a "Texas Twister" or cyclone loaded with dynamite and mischief is a fit comparison to the event called bareback bronc riding in every rodeo. The rider who stays in the middle of one of these weaving, sunfishing, bucking animals sees the arena both up and down and sideways before he hears the whistle blow.

In this test of skill, the horse has the best of it. He can use all four legs and a million muscles in doubling up in the most wrenching contortions and hitting the ground with a bone-shaking jar between each attempt to unsettle his rider. The only aid given the rider in staying aboard his twisting, surging mount is a surcingle.

Unlike the horse, which holds aces in this game, the rider must hold on the surcingle with only one hand while the other arm and hand fans the air. The first jump out of the chute the man must spur the horse in the shoulders, and from then on he must keep his feet in action until the end of the ride. Spills and thrills mark the contest from the beginning until the last horse and rider have sped from the chute.

Bareback bronc riding goes far back into the past when early Indians rode the half-wild equine descendants of horses said to have been introduced into the Southwest by the Spanish Conquistadores.

Many Volunteers Assist In Staging Midland Rodeo

Midland Rodeo is a big show and it takes a lot of work by a lot of individuals and organizations prior to and during the event to assure its success.

Scores of volunteer workers give generously and willingly of their time in staging the big area attraction, which is sponsored by Midland Fair, Inc.

Clarence Schaubauer, Jr., president of the fair association; Roy Parks, Jr., vice president, and J. Homer Epley, secretary-treasurer, of course have their hands full during rodeo time.

But particularly overworked are the members of the Rodeo Committee, including Leonard Proctor, chairman; Roy Parks, Jr., Marion Flynt, John Dublin, Jr., and Buster Cole.

Paul Barron heads the Parade Committee, assisted by Frank Cowden, Jr., and John Nobles, Jr. John Mills and John P. Butler are co-chairmen of the Advance Ticket Sale Committee, and J. T. Baker is the veteran chairman of the general ticket committee.

The Publicity Committee includes Marion Flynt, Delbert Downing, Barney Greathouse, J. M. McDonald and Bill Collins. Members of the Grandstand Committee are Tom Sloan, O. J. Hubbard and Gordon Holcomb, while A. A. "Poosty" Jones is in charge of the folding chairs for the grandstand boxes.

The rodeo timekeepers are Aldridge Estes, Sr. and Hollis Tyson. Officers and directors of Midland Fair, Inc. also take an active part in rodeo activities.

Midland Jaycees will handle the concessions at the rodeo grounds, and Optimist Club members have been in charge of the "Dress Western" enforcement.

The Chamber of Commerce, Sheriff's posse, Wranglers Club and numerous other organizations also are assisting in various ways.

Committees and organizations enlist the help of others in their particular assignments, and as a result hundreds of volunteers assist in arranging and staging Midland Rodeo.

Poliomylitis Virus Bows To Substance In Milk Of Human

CINCINNATI — A substance in human milk, the identity of which still is unknown, has been established as a destroyer of the virus of poliomyelitis.

That report comes from D. Albert Sabin, director of infantile paralysis research in Cincinnati's Children's Hospital.

Dr. Sabin declares, however, studies are being continued in an effort to learn just what the substance that destroys the polio virus is. He said the same success in fighting polio was achieved with the milk from a few cows in a herd of 20 now being studied at two farms near Lebanon, Ohio. There again, more work is to be done, he explained, because researchers have not yet been able to tell why some cows give the substance—containing milk and others do not.

Dr. Sabin said one thing which led to the discovery of the properties of human milk was the experience in a polio epidemic last year in a Canadian Eskimo settlement.

20 Per Cent Paralyzed
There were 275 cases of the disease. Twenty per cent of the victims became paralyzed and 14 per cent died but in no case did a child under three years old, when children normally are being nursed by their mothers, become paralyzed.

He said it first was determined that immunity with which all babies are born was not the contributing factor. Then it was found that human milk coats the mouth, throat and digestive tract to set up a barrier to the polio virus.

That, it was explained, was of particular importance since it is by way of the mouth that the polio virus enters the human system. Continuing the studies, 30 Cincinnati mothers were asked to give both blood and milk specimens. The human milk mixed with polio virus and injected into mice.

Mice which received the mixture survived without paralysis while those which were inoculated with only polio virus developed paralysis. "The findings have opened up many, many more fields of study," Dr. Sabin said. "Where we had only one problem before we now have many to solve."

Sugar Fat Tests Give Odd Results

MADISON, WIS. — Sugars and fats mix in odd ways when you eat them. Sometimes both are needed to make a healthy food mixture. But you have to mix just the right kind of sugar with the right kind of fat. Dr. E. B. Hart, at the University of Wisconsin, worked with milk. He removed the butterfat and substituted a vegetable fat. This modified milk failed to make animals grow as well as milk containing the butterfat.

Next the experimenters changed the sugar in the milk. They retained the vegetable fat and changed the sugar to sucrose or to dextrose. With either of these sugars the modified milk supported animal growth as well as the original, unaltered milk. Sucrose is table sugar. Dextrose comes from bread, potatoes and proteins.

Now Is The Time To Finish History

LONDON — The Staffordshire County History Committee has decided it's time to go ahead and finish the county history. The committee advertised in the London Times for an editor to plan completion of the history and "take the necessary steps to carry this out."

"One volume of the Staffordshire county history," said the ad, "was published in 1908."

The current Gregorian calendar falls by 26 seconds per year to represent the true year.

Today's Bossy Must Behave Like A Lady

By BILL DAVIDSON Associated Press Staff

COBLESKILL, N. Y. — A cow's ability to fill milk pails is not enough. Now she must display "evidence of feminine refinement."

That's one of the points considered in a talent-and-beauty contest used by the breeders of Ayrshire cattle throughout the country.

Approximately 300 herd experts gathered at this upstate New York dairyland community to watch a professional classifier go to work on Philip Schuyler's 80 purebred Ayrshires.

The judge, Roger Denny of New Windsor, Md., tagged all the bulls and cows with numerical scores that will be used by the herd's owners and prospective buyers of the cattle to determine what the animal is worth.

Scores Listed
A score of 90 or above is excellent. Seventy-five or less is fair.

A cow's milk yield is one of the chief factors in determining the score. A bull's sire results helps determine his rating.

The judge's scorecard for cows appears a question that could stump the city slicker:

"Alert but docile, having an impressive carriage, graceful walk and above all, displaying evidence of feminine refinement?"

The experts claim that a cow's milk output actually is dependent to some degree on her grabbing a high score for these qualities.

Each animal was gone over from tip of its tail to the end of its nose. Some of the points Denny noticed included the animal's forehead, horns, neck, chest, hips, hide, hair, udders, facial structure, symmetry, color style and weight. The dairy farmers breeders, 4-H club members and spectators crowded into a large barn on Schuyler's Pine Lake farms near here for the beauty-and-talent show.

The show was part of the national "improvement program" for cattle sponsored by the National Ayrshire Breeders Association.

Hardy Breed
The Ayrshires originally came from Ayrshire, Scotland. They are known as a hardy breed and especially adapted as milk producers.

The day after Schuyler's high blood herd was judged, the experts adjourned to the Cobleskill fair grounds here for their annual New York State production sale.

Ayrshire breeders from 20 states were on hand to out-bid each other for the cream of the herds put on the auction block.

The Ayrshire Association labels cows that win top honors in its classification ritual as "the real American beauties." It adds:

"Like Miss America or Mrs. America) they must have talent as well as beauty—they must be able to produce."

Believes Long Life Runs In Families

NEW YORK — The oldest people now living apparently do not reach greater ages than the ancients, says Dr. Edward S. Deevey, Jr., Yale zoologist, in the "Scientific American."

Deevey thinks long life runs in families, but he believes the amount of living a man can pack into a life is about uniform. Those who live longer live more slowly. The maximum life span seems to be about 115 or 120 years, he says.

WILMINGTON, DEL. — The one-two punch of the Brookmeade Stable, Greek Ship and Sun Glow, romping winner and runner-up in the Louisiana Derby, will be popular contenders for top laurels in Delaware Park's rich three-year-old stakes. Brookmeade has always been a great favorite at the Delaware strip, which will stage a 32-day meeting beginning May 29 and finishing July 4.

Streamlined Reserve Corps Program Listed

AUSTIN—Details of the streamlined new Army Organized Reserve Corps program were announced recently by Col. Oscar B. Abbott, chief of the Texas Military District.

The new program, designed to improve the efficiency and readiness of the reserve, now is being put into effect.

Implementation of the plan will be accomplished as fast as funds and personnel participation permit, said Colonel Abbott, who emphasized that the new program is dependent on the availability of funds.

Salient features of the new ORC program are establishment of a firm troop basis, provision for progressive and efficient training, establishment of a sound promotion system, provision for adequate training equipment and simplification of the organizational structure.

Under the new program, the ORC will have three principal subdivisions: the Active Reserve, the Inactive Reserve and the Honorary Reserve.

The Active Reserve will be divided into two parts: (1) the Organized Reserve, which will include all members assigned to troop basis units plus personnel needed upon mobilization to augment Regular Army units and staff agencies, and (2) the Volunteer Reserve, consisting of individual officers and enlisted personnel needed to increase the Army of the United States in the event of mobilization.

Because of budgetary limitations, a personnel strength ceiling in Reserve duty pay status of 255,000 officers and men has been established for the 1961 fiscal year. This figure is below the planned eventual minimum strength of 367,000 officers and men, which calls for 100 per cent officer strength and a minimum of cadre enlisted strength for required units.

Under the minimum plan, the Organized Reserve portion of the Active Reserve will include a mobilization troop unit and 25 cadre divisions (17 Infantry, 3 Amored and 5 Airborne); non-divisional table of organization and equipment units (those having combat and service support missions), consisting of approximately 4,500 ground and service type units; and tables of distribution units, required for mobilization, expansion and augmentation personnel.

In addition to the requirements in units and personnel of the Organized Reserve portion of the program, there is a minimum requirement for the Army of the United States on mobilization day of some 130,000 officers and 200,000 enlisted men. This group will constitute the Volunteer Reserve.

Aims At Cadre Strength
All present units not included in the new program as of December 31, 1960, will be designated as vacancy exists for him in the Organized Reserve. Transfers from both the Organized and Volunteer Reserve of individuals to the Inactive Reserve will occur when the minimum annual retention requirement of 27 points is not attained, when the individual has a physical disability remedial within one year, when transfer is requested, when official correspondence is not answered, or when the individual is not qualified for promotion to the next higher grade.

Transfer to the Honorary Reserve will take place when the individual involved suffers from a permanent disability, when 20 years of service is completed and transfer is requested, or when the reservist becomes 60 years of age, has attained 20 years of service and requests transfer.

Another feature of the new program is the ORC school system, which will provide progressive training of individual reservists unable to take part in required type unit training.

Plans call for evening training and week-end assemblies to be provided for a minimum of 10 officers of any branch of the Active Reserve. Programs of instruction similar to those employed in the Regular Army schools will be used, with school staffs composed of Reserve personnel.

Location of the home station of units will be based generally on geographical distribution of Reserve personnel; military age-population in the area; ability of the location to support units; location of other Reserve components of the Army and other services, and the availability of adequate training facilities.

Report Equipment Needs
As the new program develops, a plan will be put into effect making it possible for area commanders to control the distribution of equipment so that it may be used to the best advantage in training. Each reserve unit will report the equipment actually needed for training purposes.

On the basis of these reports, available equipment will be allocated to Army commanders. This will insure that each unit receives its proportionate share of available training equipment, enable area commanders to control distribution in a manner commensurate with training needs, and provide maximum economy and utilization of personnel.

First priority is to be given to meeting equipment requirements of ORC elements needed for early mobilization.

Guys like Johnny Reynolds, shown in the act, have thrilled Midland Rodeo audiences with feats of bulldogging—steer wrestling is the more "refined" classification of the event. Nothing in rodeo has the drama of a cowboy fighting a big Texas steer.

Industrial Engineer To Visit All Texas Counties For Survey

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff

Meet a Texan who intends to see Texas.

In the next two years Burt C. Blanton, an industrial engineer, will visit all of the state's 254 counties, making an economic survey.

Bald, brown-eyed and 52, this engineer-economist was hired by out-of-state industries. Blanton has been conducting similar, smaller surveys since 1923.

Blanton gathers his own information: Two secretaries in his Dallas office type up his information. He began the survey recently, and said: "The Lord willing, I'll have it finished sometime in 1962."

The survey will cover agriculture, industry, business in all major phases, both wholesale and retail in every county. It will tell of investment opportunities relating to business, industry and real estate. Blanton will chart the development of every county from 1900 to 1960. Then he'll make an economic estimate for each county for the year 1980.

Has 60 Sections
He figures his finished report on Texas will make a volume of 1,500 pages, divided into 60 major sections, with hundreds of subdivisions and exhibits. There'll also be about 400 colored charts and maps, drawn by Blanton's daughter, Jeanne Freeman.

A native of Gainesville, Blanton said: "I like my work—get a big kick out of traveling around and talking to people." When he arrives in a community he chats with bankers, business and professional people and farmers.

He is optimistic over the future of Texas. Of the future of Corpus Christi, on the Gulf Coast, he said: "By 1980, I predict that, industrially, that city will rank second in Texas only to Houston."

In a survey already completed, Blanton estimated the 1960 "metropolitan populations" of a number of Texas cities. They are: Waco, 147,985; Wichita Falls, 112,190; Brownwood, 30,548; Fort Worth, 412,786; Dallas, 752,812; Bryan, 33,985; Denison, 24,149; Denton, 22,987; Greenville, 25,490; Palestine, 19,241; Paris, 31,955; Sherman, 35,870; and Temple, 38,268.

They extracted confessions that the reports were based on hearsay and imagination. "Stupid and ridiculous," police branded the stories.

Popular Rodeo Feature

The Cutting Horse contest is one of the most popular events at any big-time rodeo, particularly in the Southwest where citizens admire and respect the ability of a quick-thinking Cutting Horse in working a bunch of cattle. The Cutting Horse event will be a feature of each performance at Midland Rodeo this week. Pictured above, a cowgirl and her Cutting Horse go through the paces in a contest in a rodeo arena. Some of the nation's top Cutting Horses will be seen in action at the rodeo here.

Champion Cowboy Says There Just Isn't Any System For Falling Off Bucking Bronc

DENVER—(P)—Paratroops, pole vaulters and football players can learn to hit the ground with a minimum of breakage. Even hoboes have a system for jumping and rolling from slow freights. But consider the lonely cause of the limpingest fall guy of them all: the rodeo circuit's bronco rider. Destined to spend a large part of his time engaged in flip-flops that shouldn't happen to a windshield wiper, there's not much he can do about minimizing the danger. Jim Shoulders of Tulsa, Okla., chosen last year by the Rodeo Cowboys' Association as the best all-around performer in the business, says: "You seldom fall off a horse or a bull the same way." Shoulders, who at 21 was the youngest all-around cowboy champion ever chosen, won the Brahman bull riding division of the Pat Stock Show Rodeo at Fort Worth in February.

Breaks Many Bones
He went on: "One time you land on your neck. Next time you hit the dirt on your left elbow and right eyebrow. I've broken most of the better-known bones in my body that way. You hear a lot of folks talk about how good babies can fall down without getting hurt. Rodeo faps are always telling you just go limp and that takes care of everything. "Brother, you try going limp in the middle of a six-foot dive onto your head. You'll wind up permanently stiff—all over." Shoulders says there's no pat formula for scooting out from beneath the hooves of horse or bull after you've lost intimate contact with the animal. "Every time it's different. A horse may wheel around like he's going away. And all of a sudden he'll skitter back and stomp you with a hind foot. Or he may be on top of you before you make your second bounce." Bulls Are Worst Shoulders says, however, that few bucking horses are killers. "The bulls are worst. They're heavier and they're clumsy. They make a mush of just about anything they step on."

This would indicate that the lanky, brown-haired Oklahoman spends a lot of time in hospitals. He doesn't. He has the feeling hospitals could become a habit. For that reason he just drops in "long enough to get a bone set." He's fractured one arm several times, ditto a collarbone, an impressive series of ribs, a leg and an ankle. And of course, there've been sprains, some of them routine, others peculiar to the business of riding bucking horses. Only protective equipment worn by Shoulders is a logically placed sponge, wedged in the seat of his tight-fitting levis. He figures he's "beat the life out of" enough sponges to window-wash the Empire State Building.

THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, MAY 28, 1954

But from Shoulders' point of view it's been more than worth it and he's anything but querulous about the rugged life he leads. Last year his winnings ran well into five figures. He shrugs off the busted bones as part of the game. "When a man's time comes he'll die just as fast in bed as under a bucking horse."

Trick Riders Are Rodeo Favorites

Trick riders are always ecstatically received at a rodeo. Trick riders are seldom in saddles during performances, are constantly performing, raising stunts atop well-timed horses moving at full speed in the arena. Stunt riding is an old thing from Indians and the Spanish—interpreted those tricks to themselves and added new ones. Today trick riding is one of the most popular parts of any rodeo show. SURE SUPPLY The breadfruit is so important as a food item in the life of Mexicans that it once was the town to plant a new breadfruit upon the birth of each child, insuring its future food supply.

Greeks Get A Kick Out Of Mules From United States

AP Newsfeatures
 Koula is a long-eared mule with USA branded on her flank. And according to legend, American mule-skinners would call her a "55." (*—Censored! But not Evangelos Tertingas, a slight, wiry Greek farmer of Xenias near the rich plains of Thessaly. To Evangelos, Koula is more than a mule. She is hope.

12 hands high—about 50 inches. She is in good health and halter broken. Koula met these requirements before she was approved for shipment from the United States to Greece.

The story of how an American mule travelled 7,000 miles from her native land to labor in Greece is a story of human hope in which the average American—through the Marshall Plan for European recovery—has played a great part.

Example Of Marshall Plan
 The events which led to the arrival of Koula and thousands of other mules in Greece, involved deliberations of recovery planners of the Greek government and of the ECA on the needs of the more than 500,000 refugees who awaited relocation after the war. And the vital part Koula is playing today in the lives of the Tertingas—a part being repeated thousands of times over throughout agricultural Greece—is another confirmation of the Marshall Plan belief that, given the means, free men will struggle to remain free and to build better, happier lives.

Scarcely more than 150 families, among them the Tertingas, people the tiny village of Xenias. The torches of Italian soldiers and guerrillas had left it fire-blackened, little better than the ancient ruins on which it stood.

Evangelos Tertingas returned to Xenias and to the 62 acres of land which were his largest remaining possession. Before the war he had been well fixed for a Greek farmer. He had owned 70 head of sheep, 20 goats, 10 cows and six horses. Also two mules, two donkeys and about 40 chickens. His house had been among the finest in the village. Only the walls remained. The live stock and farm animals were gone.

A Stitch In Time
 Evangelos' supply of money was a two-months allotment of about $54. The other villagers had as little to tide them over until they were able to become "productive." The task seemed almost impossible to Evangelos. It could not be done by hand. Machines and farm animals were necessary.

The Greek Ministry of Agriculture and the ECA Mission anticipated these problems. Whenever possible the Ministry machine-plowed two and a half acres for seeding, free of charge. Plans were made to buy and ship 7,500 mules to Greece at a cost of $250 a head, delivered.

"Happy!" Evangelos cries, when asked how he felt about his mule. "Without a work-animal I was lost."

CUTTING HORSE CONTEST—

The Horse Truly Is Contestant

A cutting horse contest presents a colorful picture of range work at its best, and the show here is expected to attract many of the nation's top cutting horses. Cutting horses are working stock horses who perform to perfection on the range as well as in the arena. They have a high economic value.

The contest at the Midland Rodeo will be staged under the rules of the National Cutting Horse Association, which has a large membership throughout the nation. The NCHA has approved the Midland contest. Four contestants will work at each performance, with the finals slated for the final performance.

The general idea of a cutting contest is for the contestant to cut an animal from a herd of cattle and then keep it from returning to the herd for a given period of time. The horse must anticipate every movement of the animal being worked and must do his own thinking and acting with little help from the rider. Certain penalties are provided for rules infractions. Two judges will work the contest.

Skill Required
 The cattle are held in one end of the arena by the men who do not let any cattle pass them until the contestant has the animal he is to work cut off by itself. After the animal has been driven past the men holding herd, it will have to be turned back so the contestant will have a chance to show the horse's ability to keep it from returning to the herd. White-faced cattle on the yearling and two-year old order give a horse sufficient play to put on a good show.

Contest rules as established by the National Cutting Horse Association, are as follows:
 1. A horse should have some credit for his ability to enter a herd of cattle and bring one out with little disturbance to the herd or to the one brought out. If he creates unnecessary disturbance, she should be penalized.
 2. When an animal is cut from the herd it should be taken toward the men holding herd, or the hazers. If it does down the arena fence, that is all right, but the horse should never get ahead of the animal and duck it back toward the herd to get more play, but should let the hazers turn it back to him.

3. If a horse runs into or scatters the herd while trying to head an animal he should be penalized.

4. If the horse turns the wrong way with tail toward animal, he should be disqualified for that go-round with no score.

5. A horse should be penalized each time he has to be reined to the left or right. If he has to be reined several times during a performance, he should be penalized each time. On a light rein, a small penalty may be enough. When a horse has to be picked up hard with the rein and set over, or one reined, a heavier penalty should be marked against him.

6. For riding with a tight rein through a performance a penalty should be given; for part of the time during a performance, less penalty.

7. If a horse lets an animal get back to the herd that he should have headed, he may be penalized. If one gets back that was almost impossible for a horse to head, he should be penalized very little.

Average Score
 8. When a horse heads an animal and goes past it a step or two, he should be penalized each time he does so. If a horse goes past as much as his length, he should be assessed a heavier penalty.

Usually a judge marks from 60 to 80 points. An average performance is around 70.

Winning points is based on the horse's ability to work cattle and the amount of play he gets from the animal during the performance. The scoring is up to the judges who are selected from a list submitted by the association.

Red Will Be The Predominant Color There, No Doubt

LONDON —(AP)— What the well dressed Russian will wear this Spring and next Summer has been decided partly on his own say so. Anyhow, that's the story the Moscow radio put out.

The broadcast, heard by the London Soviet monitor, said the Soviet model fashion house had designed more than 1,000 new models of men's, women's and children's clothes for the new season. It added:
 "Leading artists, clothing workers and consumers themselves have taken part in choosing new model fashions, which are also discussed by workers in their houses of culture and clubs."

Portsmouth, on the Outer Banks of North Carolina, has more buildings than people. Once a thriving town of 1,000, and North Carolina's first port of entry, Portsmouth's population is now 18. Fishing and hunting are its industries.

City Folks Learning To Brand Steaks

CHICAGO—Many city folks are learning how to handle branding irons. They're using them here—hundreds of miles from the cattle ranges—to brand steaks.

Wielding the hot irons is a pre-dinner ceremony at the new Sir-Loin Room of the Stock Yard Inn, a hotel at the edge of Chicago's stockyards.

The restaurant features a steak throne. It's a large pedestal in the middle of the dining room. Resting in it, in a bed of cracked ice, is an assortment of steaks. The cuts, all aged six weeks, range in size to a 32-ounce double sirloin.

At the sides of the throne are braziers filled with branding irons—miniature replicas of the branding irons of ten western ranches, among them the Matador and King ranches.

The customers go up to the throne, pick out a steak and then brand it. A chief broils it and a waiter fetches it to the table.

Booted cattlemen, who stay at the inn on their trips to the stockyards, handle the irons with practiced ease. But it seems strange at first to a tenderfoot.

Says James V. McGuigan, general manager: "I like to watch the expressions on their faces."

The Cape Hatteras lighthouse warns mariners of Diamond Shoals, off the North Carolina coast.

Roy Parks, Jr., Midland rancher and horse breeder, is vice president of Midland Fair, Inc., and a member of its Rodeo Committee. He will have a big hand in the staging of the 1950 rodeo here. Parks is pictured above with his champion Quarter Horse mare, Powder Parks, who has won honors at several of the state's largest horse shows.

Bucking Horses As Much To Rodeo As Boys Who Ride 'Em

The success of a rodeo depends just as much on the bucking horses as it does on the riders who try their luck atop the cayuses. The meaner the horse, the better he is for work in the rodeo arena.

When a string of bucking horses is brought in for culling in preparation for a rodeo, the owner keeps a watchful eye on them as the cowboys ride every one in a test ride. The gentle or stubborn type that won't pitch are culled back. The bad ones are marked for the rodeo arena.

Every cowboy who follows the rodeo circuit knows a horse has got to buck pretty hard before he can collect any money for his ride. If the nag don't pitch hard enough to suit the judges, the ride will be disqualified and the cowboy usually will be given a re-ride.

Re-Rides Are Tough

There's always a special horse or two in a string which are saved back for re-rides. What they can't do just hasn't been done by a horse. If the cowboy is lucky enough to make a qualified ride on the re-ride mount, he usually earns some top money.

There always are ponies in a string of rodeo stock which will give their best every time they are mounted but many times are ridden to the well known fare-u-well. This type horse is valuable to a rodeo promoter but not near so valuable as the one riders always look at with a watchful eye.

The picking of bucking horses for a rodeo is somewhat of an art. The cash customers have a right to see a contest between rider and horse every time one is turned out of the chute. It's the stock owner's duty to have horses on hand which will assure such a contest.

Something New

So many riders follow the rodeo circuit and mount the same horses time after time they soon know just which way the buckers is going to jump and are set for him. But a top bucking horse will have something new to spring once in a while to cross the riders up.

Rodeo horses have many different ways of bucking. Some buck straight up and down. Others put a twisting roll into their style. Most of them, regardless of their style, buck stiff leaved. Nearly all put their head down just as far as they can.

The shrewdness of their style is something to behold in many cases. No matter how they do it, however, the bucking horse that succeeds in the rodeo arena is the one which can make a pedestrian out of his rider.

Performers Gain Ranch Experience, Go On Rodeo Circuit

Rodeo is one of the few sport attractions which comes from a way to make a living.

Most rodeo contestants start as "buttons" on a ranch, learning to ride and rope and do other ranch chores.

As they develop skill expert enough to compete with other hands, they enter jackpot ropings and thus enter real competition.

Sometimes and quite often, the good range roper however is not good in competitive roping.

From local events, the "button" now a top hand, branches out to area competition and then the big shows.

Rodeo performers follow a circuit from early Spring to late Fall, while some attend picked events.

Old? Well His Kids Are Drawing Old-Age Pension Checks

RIVERSIDE, CALIF.—A black-eyed Indian chief, who thinks he must be the oldest living human being, has told his descendants to prepare for his death. No one, including Louis Levi himself, is certain how old he is. But several of his grandchildren are over 65—and drawing old age pensions. His children are nearing the century mark.

The chief, who lives with his family on the Torres Indian Reservation in the nearby Coachella Valley, recently announced that he was going to die in one more year.

Records at the Indian agency office show he was one of the oldest old-timers when tribe members' names were first listed 75 years ago.

HE TIES UP ROBBERY

CHICAGO—A robber who likes to dress, as well as work, in a quiet fashion collected $150 in a near side men's clothing store. He carried long enough to snatch two garish ties from a rack, fling them into a waste basket, and comment: "junk."

Buster Cole of Midland is a director of Midland Fair, Inc., and a hard-working member of its Rodeo Committee. The popular young ranchman, a Midland Rodeo enthusiast since his boyhood days when he was a member of the Midland Junior Roping team, plays a major role in arranging and staging the 1950 show. He also is a well-known West Texas horse breeder.

Relaxation No Longer Simple Art

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Consider the art of relaxation.

Business brains have tried to think up ways of lulling you to sleep. Some people can get to sleep simply by thinking about the amount of work there is to be done. Others make work out of relaxing.

They blame their sleeplessness on the neighbors, their wives or their off spring. And the next day the hired hands at the office or the mill have a rough time.

Consider a few wonders of science and the ingenuity of industry, as viewed through the ads, aimed at relaxing you with gadgets.

There's the "modern escape bed," which the Lewis & Congre Sleep Shop of New York sells for $600. It is "equipped with automatic control panel for remote control of phonograph, television; for regulating temperature, humidity, and breezes; for instant access to favorite literature, beverages and snacks; for easing the insomniac tension and promoting deep restful sleep."

Some Simpler Gadgets

Here are a few simpler gadgets: The "lullapine," an electrical gadget that "burns a constant drawing tone and dispels relaxing pine fragrance." On the "slumber bath," a concoction to be added to your tub. Or the "pulsating relaxer" an electric oscillating unit to be slipped under the mattress. No matter what you think, the ad says it "sends gentle pulsations that ease the tension."

There are the "pendulation plaque," depicting a gaping gent, "an irresistible yawn-inducer;" and the metronomic luller "with rhythmic flashing flow-light and repetitive, rhythmic lulling tone."

If you aren't worn out by try reading yourself to sleep, a non-skid prop-pillow, a reading stand that holds a "securely in every conceivable position," and a robot cigarette which thwarts your tendency set the bed afire.

About the only thing the don't mention in the way of the goddess of relaxation is remember? A nice grassy hamper an apple tree in full bloom the fish biting—now—and—th-

Leaving By The Side Door

An unscheduled departure via the side door is underway for this Brahman steer-riding cowboy. The hump-backed steers are top thrill producers at any rodeo, and they'll be in action against the nation's top rodeo performers in the 16th Annual Midland World's Championship Rodeo which opens Wednesday.

Cat Owners Have Cause For Yelling

SACRAMENTO, CALIF.—(P)—Cat owners of Sacramento have something to howl about.

City Manager Bartley Cavanaugh proposed that cats be licensed just like dogs. He told the City Council that would be one way of financing the $13,692 item in next year's city budget for support of the pound. The council put off a vote.

Louis P. Merrill, center, regional director of the Soil Conservation Service for Arkansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Texas, listens to a question by W. W. Spradley, left, district traffic and sales manager for Pioneer Air Lines, Inc., about stubble mulching, an important soil conservation practice, which Pioneer passengers see from the air. Dave Clark, Pioneer's district traffic and sales manager at Midland, listens intently as Merrill explains. Pioneer flight personnel also have been learning about soil conservation practices so they can explain to passengers the erosion and conservation they see as they fly the airline's routes in Texas and New Mexico.

Cafe Sitting Doesn't Rate Paree' Sports Certificate

Tourists' idea of favorite French sport is sitting at a sidewalk cafe like this. For Frenchman's idea, see below.

Frenchman's idea of sport is far cry from a cafe table. Swimming is popular; football's tops with 8600 amateur clubs.

PARIS — (EPA) — Many Americans still cherish the idea that the average Frenchman's favorite sport is sitting at a sidewalk cafe, sipping aperitifs while he watches the world go by. Those may be the French tourists have seen—and will see again this Summer and Fall. Hundreds of thousands they don't see, however, will be flocking to football games, watching the yearly six-day bike race, leaving work to cheer competitors in the bicycling "Tour de France," most gruelling endurance test in the world, or taking part in sports themselves. Off the boulevards where the tourists walk, open-air swimming "beaches" dot the quays of the Seine in the heart of Paris. They'll be doing a roaring business all Summer with men and women who devote their lunch hour, on nice days, to swimming.

Budget Voted
Last year the government voted a budget of about $7,000,000 for the country's sports program, which comes under the department of physical training in the Ministry of Education.

Among the things such a budget has made possible is the establishment of 220 "physical re-education" centers to combat the harm suffered by children in the years of undernourishment during and after the occupation. These centers put more than 15,000 physically deficient youngsters back on the road to health during the 1948-49 school year.

This year the requirement that a "sports certificate" be produced before elementary school graduation has been extended to the equivalent of American high school graduates, too. This has built up sports enthusiasm among young women, as well as men. In 1949 there were more than 600,000 French girls holding sports certificates, and 100,000 of them took part in organized competitions.

Not Required
Sports clubs in commercial and industrial organizations are not required by law, but since liberation more than 1270 such groups with 110,000 members have been formed.

Football holds first place in French sports interest. There are something like 8600 amateur football clubs, plus 781 professional groups, and the football federation counts 425,000 members. Basketball accounts for another 82,000.

Biggest handicap to the national sports program is the lack of sufficient instructors. The government's 1450 coaches and 1720 male and female instructors aren't enough to go around, and budget restrictions have limited new appointments.

Manhattan Island's first water reservoir was built in 1776.

Brahman Cattle Are The Wildest, Most Ferocious Anywhere

Brahman cattle are the wildest, most ferocious animal of any assembled for rodeo performances. Steer riding is an event that has been developed just for the thrill of the spectator and to prove the daring nerve of the cowboy in competing for the jack-pot money. The waddy in his daily work needs to ride the bronc, bulldog the steer, tie the calf, single out one cow from a herd, but he doesn't have to ride a Brahman bull.

Courage surpasses ability but not agility in this event. This is by far the most dangerous event on the rodeo bill of fare. The Brahman is not content with just dislodging him. He adds injury to insult more often than not. If the rider is not agile enough to get away, he is likely to be gored or trampled by the enraged animal.

The cowboy is on his own from the second he sails into the arena on the bull, but the clown lends a helping hand when the rider gets into trouble. If the bull decides to turn on the rider after he has been unseated, the clown, with his daring antics, attracts the attention of the bull while the rider makes a run for "the ole top rail."

Clown Saves Lives
If the clown gets into trouble while saving the life of the rider, it is just too bad. But the clown usually manages to take care of himself as he goes through his antics, using several means of deception and escape such as the red cape, dummy strung on wire across the arena or the inevitable heavy stove barrel which he can jump into. Sometimes he is rolled around in his barrels by the bull, but usually escapes injury by using this means of escape.

Farm families in Vermont and New York tap about 6,000,000 sugar maple trees each year.

Cattle Prices Won't Start Drop Before Fall, Is Prediction

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK —(AP)— The happy tune most businessmen are whistling, pleasant as it is, has a little undertone in a minor key. An even greater drain on dad's pocketbook seems likely in the weeks ahead.

Prices on many of the cost of living items are being revised upwards, hand in hand with the business boom. Tight supplies and increasing demand have led producers to hike prices. Some of the increased buying may be due to fear of further inflation, but much of it appears based on meeting present needs. And that leads many to believe that the price rise will continue.

Many foods are going up, in spite of the large surpluses left over from last year. Livestock and grain prices have been climbing. Wholesale prices tend higher. And cantankerous weather dims the prospects for seasonal supplies of fresh fruits and vegetables cutting the total cost of the market basket this Summer.

To Reach Peak
Hog and pork prices are expected to reach a peak late in the Summer. Cattle and beef prices may not start to drop before early Fall. Lamb prices are expected by most observers to stay high, because of short supplies, during the rest of the year.

A bad Spring, with late freezes, cut heavily into the fruit crop. Apples and citrus prices may not rise, but you may have to pay more this Summer and Fall for peaches, pears, plums, cherries, prunes and grapes. Sugar prices may go up shortly, too, just as the canning season starts. Raw sugar costs have gone up and some Eastern refiners are talking of boosting the refined price accordingly.

More homes are going up than ever before, but so is the cost of building them. Builders blame higher material and labor costs. Rents have been climbing slowly but steadily. Controls have been dropped in many areas, and seem due to be relaxed or ended in others. The building boom hasn't yet reached the point where a glut of houses will cut the demand for rental units.

Apparel sales continue slow, and bargains are offered. But record high wool prices dampen hopes for cheaper all-wool suits, although competition from synthetic fabrics hold price hikes in check. A jump in sales of cotton textiles has brought the inevitable accompanying rise in cloth prices.

Costs Going Up
Sales of durable goods—like autos, refrigerators, television sets—have been the sparkplug of the Spring business spurt. But costs of raw materials they use have been going up.

Tires have just gone up again, and may go even higher. Back of that lies the jump of raw rubber to record heights out in the dollar-hungry British, Dutch and Indonesian rubber producing areas.

Gasoline has gone up in many places, as the Summer season of heavy consumption starts. Heavy fuel oil, used by ships and factories, has gone up a little, too.

However, a few things are acting as a brake on all this inflation. Rising productivity is one. Labor costs tend higher, but new machines are getting more products for each hour a man works.

Plant capacity is up, too. The nation's industries can turn out more goods than ever before to keep step with the rising demand which a business in some goods need not be chronic.

Fish Story: 14 Sharks Caught with One Hook

BRIELLE, N. J. —(AP)— Here's the biggest fish story of the season: 14 sharks with one hook.

Sigmund Scharf of New Brunswick hauled in a six-footer off Brielle. Aboard the boat, it gave birth to 13 more, each about a foot long.

Honorary Vice President

Roy Parks, well-known West Texas cattleman, is an honorary vice president of Midland Fair, Inc., which sponsors the annual Midland Rodeo. He served as president of the fair association from 1942 to 1945, and long has been one of the most ardent boosters of the famed Midland Rodeo. Parks also is a director of the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

Waddy Loves His Horse But Rides To Conquer

To ride the wildest bucking, twisting, snorting outlaw has been the secret ambition of almost every horse wrangler from the days of the Indians who captured their horses wild from the wide plateaus to the present day cowboy who rides the range singing.

Every cowboy's first love is his horse. Closely followed in undivided order come his saddle, his boots and his hat. A grizzled old veteran of the cow country once was asked by an eastern dude to define a cowboy. He answered, "Well, sir, a cowboy is a man with guts and a horse." And a cowboy's deep love and admiration for the four-footed animal is mingled with a desire to prove his supremacy.

Breaking a horse depends on the temperament of the animal. And anywhere you go among cattlemen you often will hear the expression "outlaw horse."

Intensified Hate
An outlaw horse proves to be one that has for some reason or other, besides being a natural bucker, developed an inner hate at the sight of man. This hate is intensified when man tries to ride him. The horse usually starts soon after his rider has gotten astride him in the chute, by putting his head between his legs, arching his back, raising all four legs for a sensational jump, and descending with a nerve rending jar. If he proves to be a sincere but unimaginative bucker, he will continue in just this fashion until he is quite worn out, but the more intelligent rodeo type buckers display an almost unlimited repertoire of vanity and invention—all with the sole intent of unseating the rider. Sudden lunges of a shoulder or hip, miraculous convulsions of the spine, jumps rearward or sideways all have a tendency to sort rodeo performers into two classes—those who stay on—and those who don't.

When a rider throws his hat in the ring for the bareback bronc riding contest, he literally asks for it—and more often than not—he gets it. Fate was liberal in dealing out two arms to cowpokes the same as to any other hombre, but the judges and the men who make the rules have proved not quite so liberal. They limit that waddy to using only one arm to stay in the middle of his bronc which makes the rider believe Bikini must have been mild in comparison. Seems as though outlaw horses call on a heritage as old as the peerless stallions that grazed over half a continent with their coterie of mares. And when a man mounts, that bronc is fighting the same as those stallions did with the courage he encountered. He's a bucking, striking, kicking and biting hunk of horseflesh to anything that's close.

Bronc Rider Better Know Rodeo 'Oats'

As rodeo becomes more popular each year and with the attendance steadily rising, people know more and more about rodeo events, its performers, and the chances associated with it. In almost every event will be found tense moments and one of the most breath taking is the split second before the bronc riding event begins.

The nerves of the spectators are taut. Every waddy has his eye on the chute when one of his buddies is getting ready to climb onto the hurricane deck of some glassy eyed pinto.

'Stay On'
What does a cowboy think just before that chute gate is opened? No, he doesn't think of the danger, the chance he has of being injured, the carnis that are stacked against him. His every thought is of staying astraddle and getting a throw at the jack pot money. Ten seconds may seem short on the clock but on the back of a bucking outlaw bronc 10 seconds is an eternity.

And besides thinking about staying in the middle of a sunfishing, crowhopping bronc he has to remember that for the slightest infraction of the rules he will be disqualified. And any of the following offenses disqualifies the rider: losing stirrup, coasting with feet against horse's shoulders, being bucked off, changing hands on rein, pulling leather, failing to spur horse in shoulders first two out of three jumps out of chute, and not being ready to ride when called. He may not hit his horse with hand or hat. The judges draw mounts daily for the riders.

No contestant is allowed to use any saddle other than those selected and furnished by the management. The horse will be saddled and cinched under the direction of the director. If saddles are not cinched tight enough and slip to the side, the rider will be given another chance on the same horse.

The rider will be disqualified for cheating the horse in any manner when it is plain to judges that the rider purposely has cheated the horse from doing his best bucking job. He must not pull the horse's head with the rein or wrap the rein around his hand.

Here again the horse is given every advantage in this contest to prove the supremacy of puncher or pony.

Jap Prisoner Gets Word To Home Folks

TOKYO —(AP)— This Japanese war prisoner found a way to get a message out of Siberia. He floated it off in a bottle, and it arrived more than two years later.

The message, dated March, 1948, and signed T. Takai:

"I'm now in Siberia. The only thing I want to do before dying is to see the face of my wife and child."

Males arrested in the U. S. during 1949 numbered 713,444 or an increase of 4.5 per cent over 1948. Female arrest prints increased only 2.1 per cent over 1948. Fingerprint cards showing the arrests of women made up 9.9 per cent of all the fingerprint cards received during the year.

Most Embezzlers Are White Collar Men; Women Who Dream Too Much Of Fast Life

BALTIMORE—(AP)—These embezzlers you read about, who are they, and what makes them yield to the temptation to dip into the boss' till?

Mostly, they are white collar workers—the manager of your branch bank or store, salesman, collectors, clerks, accountants, cashiers, union officials, and even ship's captains.

Their troubles come mostly from dreaming too much of the flesh-pots.

That description comes from the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company in a study of 1,001 case histories of embezzlements since 1947. They published a similar survey in 1937.

The new study discloses that the typical embezzler today is a "considerably blurred" image of his predecessor of 15 years ago. But there are some differences.

The postwar man or woman who makes off with company funds is younger, earns more money, less often married and has fewer dependents.

Their character and past records are less favorable, and they have worked shorter periods for their companies.

They are more likely to abscond, less likely to commit suicide than their earlier counterparts.

Description Given

The survey describes the 1950 absconder like this:

"As a rule he succumbs to the same temptations and falls his trust under the same general circumstances. Loss of savings, reduction in income, accumulated or foolishly acquired debts, living beyond his means, the 'other woman,' excessive drinking or gambling, an ill, nagging or extravagant wife, sick children, any or all of these may lead him to be false to the trust reposed in him."

The new study of the 1,001 embezzlers covers 845 men and 156 women who among them took $3,684,841.27. The men were responsible for losses totaling $3,544,222.89. The women stole $140,618.38.

Of the total, U. S. F. and G. annually emphasized only $2,066,245.40 was covered by surety bonds. The employers lost $1,618,395.87.

The tabulations show the postwar embezzlers lived anywhere, everywhere. "Every state in the union and all types of business were represented.

Some worked in large establishments, others were the sole employee. And they were in positions of every degree of importance, from handyman to heads of establishments. Here are a few samples from the one thousand and one:

Case No. 57-S-211 was a $10,000 a year financial house official who became an inveterate gambler after a casual visit to the race track. Before he was through he had sunk $192,000 of the firm's money on unprofitable "investments" at the track.

The $5,000 a year business manager of a Western hospital, case No. 53-S-129 eloped with a woman employee, taking $2,270 of the hospital's money. No. 11-S-129 was a 28-year-old bookkeeper who became infatuated with a salesman and advanced him enough of her employer's money to buy a car.

All passed scrutiny of the employer and the underwriter and were bonded against dishonesty.

The U. S. F. and G. saw no reason to change a statement in its earlier survey that embezzlement is "proof that it is impossible to predict with certainty the future actions of any man."

Flying Midget

Don Branson sticks with his car hurtling through space in a four-way collision in a Cedar Rapids, Iowa, midget auto race. Steve Orme, center, is being thrown from his vehicle, while Gene Wyant, driving No. 48, roars into the muddle. Fourth car is handled by Mike O'Halloran in the wreck in which no one was seriously injured.

Boost In Range, Speed, Power Seen In New Turboprop Engine

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Hot test item in U. S. aviation today is the Navy's new turboprop, a very powerful, light, hybrid engine. It uses jet "thrust" to turn a propeller, with an extra 10 per cent power bonus from the thrust of exhaust gases.

After many years of poo-pooing the idea, the Air Force is now making secret plans to install turboprops on its giant, controversial B-36 atom bomb taxi. Several experts predict that the Navy's engine may give the B-36 so much added speed that orders for the plane which is now slated to take the place of the B-36, the all-jet B-52, can be cancelled.

The Navy is now putting the new engines on its huge flying boat, the XP5-Y and on a new fighter, the XA2-D Skyskark. In the civil aviation field, four of the biggest aircraft manufacturers, Boeing, Convair, Douglas and Martin, are planning to put turboprops on some models of their passenger planes.

The announcement that the Navy's turboprop is sufficiently proven to be tried on commercial airlines is a great source of relief to many U. S. observers. Up until recently, the British were believed to be way out in front in the use of turboprops on airliners. But this announcement draws America very close to even. It is also claimed that the Navy engines are better than those of the British.

The Navy's 10-year battle to perfect the controversial engine now looks like it may pay off even better than its backers hoped. At best, critics of the idea said, it would only be an interim development, until jets would completely out-date the propeller.

However, it is now being admitted that the turboprop might make both the piston type engine and the jet obsolete. Since the propeller uses the power of a jet engine more efficiently, the turboprop gives a plane greater range, linking the biggest bug of pure jet planes. And it has much more power than any piston type engine ever developed.

The turboprop gives a military plane more range through fuel economy, and can put a fighter, for instance, close to the 600-miles-per-hour speed of the pure jets. Its extreme light weight permits carrying more fuel.

To Go On B-36
Allison Aircraft Engine Company has done most of the development work for the Navy and now has two turboprop engines—the T-38 and the more powerful T-40 which is rated at over 5,000 horsepower. Pratt & Whitney has developed an even heavier one than the T-40. It is this engine which will be put on the B-36.

The Allison T-40, which will be used on the big Navy flying boat, has two unique features. One engine is actually composed of two separate jet turbines. This permits turning off one turbine during cruising to save fuel. Both are used during the take-off and when extra speed is needed.

The other innovation is the use of two three-bladed, counter-rotating props. The counter-rotating eliminates torque, the opposite twisting force created by a spinning propeller. This is extremely important on the turboprop because of the supersonic speed at which the props whirl.

In discussing what the T-40 can do for the Boeing Stratocruiser, Boeing's vice president, Frederick B. Collins, says, "The light weight of turboprops would permit the carrying of more than 1,000 extra gallons of fuel. Certain ranges would be increased 113 per cent. It would take off in 87 per cent of the distance required by the conventional version."

Airborne innovation is the use of two three-bladed propellers on the Allison T-40, powerful new turboprop engine. They are shown on the Navy's huge flying boat, the XP5-Y.

Rodeo Association Is Well Organized
Rodeo fans are familiar with the term—"World's Championship Rodeo"—because they see it in all the major rodeo cities in the United States, of which Midland is one. It's all worked out on a plan and every city included in the plan has a right to call its show a world's championship rodeo.

The Cowboys Rodeo Association is well organized now and in order for a cowboy to get credit toward a world title in any event, he must perform in association-sanctioned shows only. Midland's annual event is a sanctioned show. Points picked up here can be credited toward a world's title.

FALLING FIGUREHEADS
Ships' figureheads were discontinued with the coming of steam, which caused the old form of bow to fall out of use and the figure to become obsolete. Last ships of the U. S. Navy to have figureheads were the sloops of the Odin class, which, indeed, served with them in World War I.

At one time or another in history, men have made footwear out of wood, ivory, metal, textiles, straw, paper, rubber, raw skins—usually when there was not enough leather for soles and uppers.

In 1947 Americans ate an average of 79.3 pounds of beef and 70 pounds of pork, the first time in 25 years beef exceeded pork.

Illas Takes Diabetes Test To Citizens Unique Mobile Public Health Project

ILLAS —(NEA)— For the first in the nation, a five-minute finger-test for diabetes has been made available to the people by the Dallas Health Department.

Hugh L. C. Wilkerson, chief of the Diabetes Branch of the Public Health Department, the Dallas project is the only testing unit in the United States.

It is estimated that two per cent of the nation's population are known diabetics. The one per cent are diabetics who do not know they have the disease.

By taking the tests to the people, the search for the unknown diabetic is greatly aided. The mobile unit, housed in a trailer, goes to the various suburban shopping centers of the city. During a home show, the free tests were offered the crowds that turned out to see the latest in homes and home furnishings.

A doctor, a nurse, a nutritionist, two laboratory technicians and two volunteer workers staff the mobile testing unit. Persons tested wait the five minutes it takes to determine the results.

The quick tests are made possible by a Hewson Clintron, mounted in the trailer. The Clintron is a machine that can make the diabetic screening tests at the rate of 120 an hour.

Only a few drops of blood are necessary for the test. The blood sample is placed in a special test tube. A small amount of water is added to the sample, and the test tube is put in the Clintron.

The machine automatically heats, drops in four reagent tablets as they are needed and cools the sample. Completing the test cycle, the machine discharges the test tubes to the "completed" rack for reading.

If there is no suspicion of diabetes, the blood sample solution turns blue. A suspicion of diabetes is indicated by a colorless solution.

The reagent tables used by the machine were developed by Dr. Wilkerson and Erich Heftman, Ph. D. These men also made it possible for inexperienced volunteer workers to man the Clintron.

H-SU Is One Of 35 Schools In Intercollegiate Rodeo Association; Owns Arena

By DICK COLLINS
Hardin-Simmons News Bureau

ABILENE—When Hardin-Simmons University staged its Fourth Annual Intercollegiate Rodeo this Spring, it was just another step in the growth of rodeos as a college sport.

"Rodeoing" now has become an intercollegiate sport all over most of the western states. At the recent Hardin-Simmons rodeo, 17 colleges and universities covering five western states sent more than 100 cowboys and cowgirls to the big three-day affair. Cowboys from Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming joined in the rodeo, riding calves, riding broncs and bulls and bulldog steers.

Around 25 cowboys and cowgirls rode for Hardin-Simmons making it one of the most rodeo-minded schools in the west. The rodeo is truly a sport befitting Hardin-Simmons, the early days of the 1880's H-SU has been known far and wide as the "cowboy school."

Last year, just before the H-SU rodeo, a group of cowboys from several western colleges got together and founded the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association following the rules of its brother organization, the Rodeo Cowboys Association. Today there are 35 schools belonging to the organization covering 10 western states. Texas alone has almost half of those schools in the association.

One of the cowboys founding the NIRA was Carl Myers, a former student at Har in-Simmons who lost his life accidentally in a Big Spring rodeo last Summer. Carl had helped found the H-SU Rodeo Association just a year before he helped with the NIRA and was president of the Hardin-Simmons group when a rodeo contestant accidentally shot him last August.

On The Way
Hardin-Simmons held its first intercollegiate rodeo April 18 and 19, 1947, in the Fair Grounds belonging to the city of Abilene. J. Bird Myers of H-SU and Jimmy Bird of McMurry were named champions of the show which started Hardin-Simmons on the way to bigger and better rodeos.

Forty-five schools were invited to participate in the rodeo, which included saddle and bareback bronc riding, bull riding, calf roping, team roping and wild cow milking. Texas Tech was named the champion team after the show was over. It was beat only by Hardin-Simmons who was not able to compete for the school trophy.

In March of 1948, a meeting was called to see if Hardin-Simmons would sponsor another rodeo and make it an annual affair. At that time the H-SU Rodeo Association was formed, the group was given the go-ahead nod, and on April 23 and 24 of that year, the second annual intercollegiate rodeo was held. It was then still under the rules of the Western Intercollegiate Rodeo Association.

Eleven schools and 85 contestants were entered in the same six events as the first rodeo. Buster Lindley of Sul Ross State and John McCormick of Arizona State were named all-around champion cowboys while another tie was made for the champion cowgirl, Doris Reid of H-SU and Wanda Windham of McMurry. Leon Jones and Janet Hightower of Texas Tech were named champions of the Third Annual Hardin-Simmons University Intercollegiate Rodeo which was held under the rules of the newly formed NIRA. Sul Ross State was awarded team honors.

Honored Late Carl Myers
Members of the Rodeo Association drifted back to school this year they began to think about a fourth annual show. They knew, however, that the little western school of Hardin-Simmons would not be the same without Carl Myers, one of the promoters of the annual affair. This did not dampen the spirits of the group so they started making plans for the show. Students wanted a new arena which they could call their own—one they could use each year to put on their own show.

E. W. Ledbetter, business manager of H-SU and general manager of the rodeo, approached the members of the H-SU Board of Trustees with the idea of building a new arena for the school and the board voted yes. Just a month before the rodeo was to be held, the loyal members of the rodeo association joined in and started to work on the new $10,000 arena in hopes of having it completed in time for the show. The arena was named the Carl Myers Memorial Arena in honor of his work toward the founding of an intercollegiate rodeo at Hardin-Simmons. The arena is of all steel construction, 300 feet long and 130 feet wide. All of the fences, gates, pens and chutes are made of thick pipes which will withstand years of service.

The crew of cowboys which go to make up the H-SU rodeo team are most all champions in the NIRA. Hardin-Simmons sends a delegation of cowboys and sometimes cowgirls to almost every intercollegiate rodeo held in this part of country. Two members of the team, James Mickler of Haskell and Bill Guest of Abilene are ranked as the number one men in bareback bronc riding and bulldogging.

Mickler, president of the H-SU Rodeo Association and a regional director of the NIRA, won the bronc riding honor when he competed against other collegiate cowboys in the national rodeo held in the Cow Palace in San Francisco. Guest recently been named the top man in the bulldogging event in the NIRA. Another H-SU rodeoer, Harold Wicker of Pecos, is the number two man in the NIRA in bulldogging. Six three boys have one or two more years to perform for the school.

Other members of the team are Jim Tolles, Laurel, Neb.; Les Strawn, Burkett; Lawrence May, Wilson; Jerry Collier, Fort Worth; Boots Ransom, Merard; and David Rushing, Strawn.

Due to density of population and the importance of marine products in the Japanese diet, coastal fishing off Japan is the most intensified in the world.

Home In Sun Is Yours By Joining Colony Of Nudists

Visitors to nudist colony near McLouth, Kan., are met at the gate in this fashion by David Wilber, Mrs. Emily Karr, Susan Wilber, and Mrs. Gerry Wilber. Gate interview either passes or admission test.

McLOUTH, KAN.—(NEA)—The only nudist colony in Kansas will give you a home forever, if you like the sun.

Echo Valley, now entering its fourth year of operation, has this bonafide real estate offer to make: practice and believe in nudism, and they'll help you build your home, land free, with a building bee in the nude.

A mailbox bearing the name Ahman Karr is the only marker to lead you down the path to the big wooden gate that says: "Echo Valley, members only, sound horn for admittance."

Good manners require you to obey. On a weekend you will be telling some 70 members that "company" has come to the 88-acre tract.

Week-day visitors will probably be answered at the gate by Karr's wife, Emily, or Mrs. Gerry Wilber. The Karrs, Mr. and Mrs. Wilber and the two Wilber children are year-round residents of the camp.

The gate interview—where you either pass or flunk admittance—is always conducted with camp personnel clothed, although occasionally a nude child will scamper down the path before his mother can send him back.

A membership fee of $15 gives the whole family access to the camp for a year, and visitors from other states can stop for sunning if they're cleared with the American Sunbathers Association and Karr by mail.

Single members are welcome, too. Karr, a 33-year-old truck driver, started the camp three years ago when he was single. He met his wife at a sunbather's convention, and they returned to Echo Valley to start making the camp into a colony.

During the week Kerr commutes to Kansas City; weekends he sheds his clothes to enjoy the sun, work on the camp and welcome members.

Graduation Program At Texas A&M Set

COLLEGE STATION—Commencement exercises will be held at Texas A&M College June 2, with 1,179 students having applied for degrees.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the United States Joint Chiefs of Staff, will address the graduating class in exercises beginning at 6 p.m.

Two simultaneous baccalaureate services will be held at 10 a.m. Dr. W. Boyd Hunt, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Houston, and the Rt. Rev. John E. Hines, Bishop Coadjutor of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas, will be the speakers.

The two services are planned to accommodate families and friends of the graduating students. Business commissions will be awarded military graduates at 7 p.m. General Bradley will speak.

A reception in the home of President and Mrs. P. C. Bolton at 4:30 p.m. will honor the graduates, their relatives and friends and faculty and staff members.

A review of the Corps of Cadets will follow the graduation exercises on June 3, at 9:30 a.m.

To Unveil Memorial At Stanton Ceremony

STANTON—The public is invited to attend the unveiling and dedication of a war memorial at Evergreen Cemetery, one mile south of Stanton, at 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

The memorial is to be erected by the Steeger-Estes Post 429, American Legion. It is to honor those of Martin County who gave their lives to their country in World Wars I and II.

OLD BELIEF

Ancient Greeks believed earthquakes were caused by Poseidon, the god of the sea, shaking the earth to wrest possession of it from the gods of the land, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Samuel Parker of Newburyport, Mass., patented the first machine for splitting leather hides in 1809. Prior to that, hides had to be shaved to the thickness desired for shoe soles, with all the shavings going to waste.

Coming In For A Landing

A rough landing is in store for this low-flying cowboy and his horse. The cowpoke has a mighty uneasy seat on this gyratin' bronc, and that ground is going to come up mighty fast. But plenty of cowboys will try to stay aboard for honor and cash at the 16th Annual Midland World's Championship Rodeo which opens Wednesday in Midland. The spine-chilling broncs will be a main attraction at the show, which offers more than $8,000 in prize money.

PRESENTED BY THE HENDRICKS— Flying Twins, King Richard Acts Returning

Those Flying Twins are coming in all the top rodeos of the country, including the big one of them all, at Madison Square Garden. They've been in shows since they were ten years old, but only since the war have they perfected their present daring act.

LONG LIFE
Daniel Boone, generally associated with the state of Kentucky, where he spent 28 years in a total of 57 years in the two states of Pennsylvania and Missouri.

The Shetland Islands were conquered by the Viking king Harald the Fairhaired.

Both Byron and Lee have ridden in all the top rodeos of the country, including the big one of them all, at Madison Square Garden. They've been in shows since they were ten years old, but only since the war have they perfected their present daring act.

The Hendricks boys are billed as the Stunt Kings and their horses are known as the Flying Twins.

Lee's act is no less spectacular. He does the famous head stand and the Roman jump over an automobile.

Roman Race
They combine forces to produce a daring Roman race. Horses used in the act are twins, just as the dare-devil riders who mount them are.

Dear Hearts And Gentle—

Sometimes the horses at the Midland World Championship Rodeo are not gentle at all, the riding people notwithstanding. Here's an action shot of what we mean. Dear hearts, hope that cowboy made it.

Cowboys Are Bigger Than Oil Business

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK —(AP)—The cowboy industry is big business today. And if you want to strike it rich you no longer have to discover oil—just sit down and dream up a cowboy character the kiddies will go for. He'll produce more lasting wealth than any oil well, because a good fictional cowboy never wears out or grows old.

Take "the Cisco Kid," one of the leading rivals of Hopalong Cassidy. Both began mildly enough and now Cisco Kid is reaching epidemic proportions.

He first spurred into public view as a minor character in a short story in a book by O. Henry called "Hearts of the West," in 1907. O. Henry probably got about $100 to $200 for the story.

Today some $5,000,000 is invested in the Cisco Kid, now billed as "the Robin Hood of the Golden West." He is heard over 300 radio stations, he stars in six movies a year, and he also is making $2 television films. Thirty kinds of Cisco Kid merchandise, ranging from books to dungarees, are being marketed.

"We expect to sell $10,000,000 worth of Cisco Kid merchandise this year," said a spokesman for the mythical border Robin Hood. "And we feel that in 1951 it may reach $80,000,000. There doesn't seem to be any limit to the interest in western characters."

The Cisco Kid has been played by four different film actors. Warner Baxter won an academy award in the role in 1931.

He was followed by Caesar Romero and Gilbert Roland.

The present portrayer of the durable Kid is Duncan Renaldo, who speaks nine languages, has three children of his own.

Formula Is Simple
The formula of the Cisco Kid stories is simplicity itself. He and his comic companion, Pancho, played by Leo Carrillo, get involved in some adventure and are mistaken as villains. They always clear up the mystery, after some hard-riding and bang-bang, and emerge as heroes.

The horses take the films more seriously than the cowboys.

"They become camera conscious," said Renaldo, "and if there is a crowd watching, they start prancing around and showing off. They are regular hams."

Rope Once Was Used As Weapon Of War
The art of lassoning didn't originate on the Western Plains nor in Mexico.

The rope was used as a weapon of war according to Herodotus (500 B. C.), who is called "The Father of History" and who wrote:

"The Sargartians used lassoes made of thongs, plaited together, and trust to these whenever they go to the wars. When they meet their enemy, they straightway discharge the ropes, which end in a noose. Then what ever the noose encircles, be it man or be it beast, they drag toward them, and the foe entangled in the coils is forthwith slain."

A male leopard may weigh 160 pounds.

Ridin' Ole Paint, The Hard Way

Faye Blessing, Burbank, Calif., shows one of her tricks aboard a horse for which she is famous. She will thrill thousands of Midland area rodeo fans at the 16th Annual World Champion Midland Rodeo which begins a five-night operation Wednesday.

Loving Cup Will Go To Best Posse Unit In Parade

An engraved loving cup furnished by The Midland National Bank will go to the best appearing Sheriff's Posse participating in the Wednesday afternoon parade opening the 16th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo.

Special parade judges will determine the winner of The Midland National trophy. Judging will be based 25 per cent each on uniforms, equipment, formation and personality.

Sheriff's Posse units from a number of West Texas counties, including Crane, Martin, Howard, Reeves, Pecos, Upton and Ector, are expected to ride in the parade's Sheriff Posse division.

ISRAEL'S POPULATION GROWS
TEL AVIV, ISRAEL —(AP)—The Jewish population of Israel now is 1,080,000 the newspaper "Davar" reported. There are also 168,000 Arabs living in the little state, making a total population of 1,248,000.

Thumb-Nails Of Rodeo Contests

SADDLE BRONC RIDING

Bucking horses are to be ridden only with association saddles. Ordinary halter with but one rein is allowed. It must be only by hand on same side of horse's neck. This rein is either three or four strands of grass or cotton rope, braided and is not more than one inch in diameter. Other hand of the rider must be free at all times. Rider must begin spurring horse up on shoulders while leaving chute and continue to spur throughout the ride. Getting bucked off, changing hands on rein, wrapping rein around hand, pulling leather, blowing stirrup, touching horse or saddle with free hand or falling to spur to suit judge, disqualifies rider.

CALF ROPING

The calf is turned loose and timing starts when it crosses the deadline about 10 or 15 feet in front of the chute. A small rope or sash cord, known as the barrier, is fastened up in front of the roper to the side of the calf chute and released with the drop of the flag. If the roper starts for the calf too soon and breaks the barrier, a 10-second penalty is added to his time. Each roper is allowed a second loop if he misses with his first. If the calf is jerked down when roped it must be allowed to regain its feet and be thrown by hand. With a short piece of light rope known as the little pigging string any three feet must be tied together in a manner to suit the judges.

BULLDOGGING

Contestant and helper or hazer are mounted, one on each side of the chute. Timing starts when steer crosses deadline and contestant must jump from his horse to the steer, catch it by the horns, bring it to a full stop and twist it down on its side with all four feet out from under it. If steer's head is twisted one way and steer should fall the other, which is known as a dog fall, then it must be let up and twisted down again.

BULL OR STEER RIDING

A loose rope is put around the animal like a noose and held tight with a one-hand hold. A ball is fastened to the rope under the animal's belly and a rope or flank strap used as on bareback horses. When bulls are used, spurring is not required continually throughout the ride. Rodeo clowns play important parts during this event by attracting enraged bulls from riders when dismounted or bucked off.

BAREBACK BRONC RIDING
Horse is ridden with surstingle or bareback rigging or with only a loose rope around it and held with but one hand. A small rope or strap is tied around horse's flanks just snug enough to annoy it and make it buck harder. Rules are much the same as in saddle bronc riding.

Parade Chairman

T. Paul Barron, veteran Midland Rodeo enthusiast, again this year is chairman of the Parade Committee of Midland Fair, Inc. He and his committee will be in charge of the staging of the colorful parade which will be held at 4 p.m. Wednesday to officially open the 16th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo.

Congress To Act So Widow Can Settle Account

MINOT, N. D. —(AP)—Congress will be asked to act so that Mrs. Mary Oeadchy can finally settle her account with the federal government. The elderly widow mistakenly accepted $2,350 in dependent's benefits after her son, serving in the Air Force, was killed in 1943 while flying over the North Sea. She thought when the $50 monthly checks kept coming, it was some sort of pension.

The government insisted she refund the overpayments. So Mrs. Oeadchy returned $1,250—her life savings, plus proceeds from poultry and produce she raised. She said she simply couldn't pay any more.

George Bertelsen, Veterans Administration investigator in the Minot office, discovered the widow should have been drawing a $60 monthly pension since the death of her husband in March, 1944. That pension was recently approved, retroactive to last February.

"I'm so happy, except for that $1,100 I owe the government," said Mrs. Oeadchy.

Floyd Henderson, North Dakota veterans' affairs commissioner, assured her he will ask Congress—the only agency that can do it—to cancel the debt officially.

Youth played a predominant part in crimes against property in the U. S. in 1949. 27.4 per cent of the persons charged with robbery, embezzlement, burglary, larceny, auto theft, fraud, forgery, counterfeiting, receiving stolen property and arson were less than 21 years old.

Annual Parade To Open Rodeo

The annual parade will officially open the 16th Annual Midland World Championship Rodeo. It will be held starting at 4 p.m. Wednesday. It's open to the world.

A new route has been selected for this year. The parade will form on North Dallas Street. It will move to Illinois Street and go west on Illinois to Main Street, one block on Main to Texas Street, three blocks west to Big Spring Street, one block south on Big Spring to Wall Street, two blocks east on Wall to Loraine Street, one block south on Loraine to Missouri Street, east one block on Missouri to Main Street, north two blocks on Main to Texas Street, east to Dallas Street and turn north to point of beginning.

Three Rodeo 'Days' To Honor Officials Of State Of Texas

Three of Midland's five big "Rodeo Days" have been given special designation by officials of Midland Fair, Inc.

Wednesday, opening day, will be observed as Gov. Allan Shivers Day. Texas Highway Commission Day will be observed Friday and Texas Railroad Commission Day will be held Saturday.

Gov. Shivers, Railroad Commissioner William J. (Bill) Murray, Jr., Chairman Fred Wemple and two other members of the State Highway Commission, R. J. Potts of Harlingen and Allin P. Mitchell of Corsicana, are expected to be on hand to help observe the special days.

Invitations also have been extended to other Railroad Commission members, Gen. Ernest O. Thompson and Judge Olin Culbertson, to attend the special Railroad Commission day.

Several special entertainment events are planned for the visiting state officials.

Veteran Fair Secretary

J. Homer Epley, long-time Midland resident, has served as secretary-treasurer of Midland Fair, Inc. since 1936, and is one of the busiest men in the city prior to, during and immediately following the staging of a World Championship Midland Rodeo. He is thoroughly familiar with the history, records and affairs of the fair association and is well known in rodeo circles throughout the Southwest.

Non-Profit Organization Has Enviably Record As Producer Of Fine Shows

By BILL COLLYNS

Midland Fair, Inc., sponsor of the 16th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo, which opens a five-night engagement here Wednesday, is one of the best-known and most successful organizations of its kind in the Southwest.

A non-profit association, Midland Fair, Inc., was organized to sponsor and produce rodeos, ropings, horse races, stock shows, fairs and other typical West Texas entertainments and events.

It was back in 1935 when interested citizens—ranchers, oil men and merchants—gathered in the office of the Midland Chamber of Commerce at the call of the late Dr. W. E. Ryan, then president of the C. of C., to discuss the formation of an association to sponsor and stage special events and celebrations in this fast-developing oil and livestock capital of the vast Permian Basin Empire.

Those attending the historic session were determined to get the job done that very day—and thus Midland Fair, Inc., was brought into being.

Foy Proctor, prominent rancher, was elected its first president, serving in that capacity through 1937.

Other Presidents
The late Clarence Scharbauer, Sr., one of Midland's and West Texas' greatest boosters, was president from 1938 to 1942. He was succeeded by Roy Parks, Sr., another prominent rancher, who headed the association through the war years and until 1945. Leonard Proctor, present chairman of the Rodeo

Midland Fair, Inc., All-Steel Plant Is One Of World's Best

The all-steel plant, site of the Midland World Championship rodeo, is one of the best in the world. It is one of the few all-steel equipped in existence.

The plant was erected in 1935. It cost approximately $50,000 but is worth much more at present values.

The original plan was for race track facilities and some race events have been held.

The rodeo grounds consist of 100 acres of land, the race track, steel grandstand, judges stand, stock pens, stables, paddock, several other buildings, and the arena, which is steel-strand inclosed.

Seating capacity of the huge grandstand is 5,500 with 2,500 seats under the roof.

Rodeo Champs To Get Belt Buckles

Champions of the various cowboy events at this year's World Championship Midland Rodeo, May 31-June 4, for the first time will receive attractive Sterling silver belt buckles. Clarence Scharbauer, Jr., president of Midland Fair, Inc., announced.

The engraved buckles, embossed in gold, are on display in the window of the Chamber of Commerce. They will be awarded at the final performance of the 1950 Rodeo.

The events include bareback bronc riding, saddle bronc riding, steer wrestling, calf roping, wild cow milking, Brahman bull riding and cowhorse cutting contest.

Official World's Championship Rodeo Band

The Midland High School Band, under the direction of Bandmaster Jerry Hoffman, has been designated as the official band for the 16th Annual World's Championship Midland rodeo, which opens in Midland Wednesday. The fine MHS band will appear at all performances of the big show, and will appear in the opening day parade and ceremonies. The band recently has undergone intensive training in rodeo music, and will offer a varied repertoire of music to fit all events in the show. The band, for the first time in history, won First Division awards in recent Interscholastic League competitions in marching, sight reading and concert.

The ohm measurement of resistance to electric current, was named after the German physicist George Simon Ohm, who discovered that principle in 1826. The National Geographic Society says the Transvaal district of Africa is the world's leading gold producer.

Heads After Critter

This roper, with picking string in his mouth, heads after a critter in an attempt to register a quick roping time and qualifying for the money. Topnotch ropers are featured in the 16th Annual Midland World's Championship Rodeo which opens Wednesday and closes June 4.

Rodeo Judge Must Know All Angles

A horn blows, a pick-up man rides alongside, and from the back of a bucking bronc doing his best to upset the human gadfly, a cowboy is whisked to the dirt of the arena. Win or lose, the ride is over, and the judges score points for the rider in their books. From the chute dashes a wild calf. Hotly in pursuit and whirling his lariat, gallops another cowboy. The rope switches in a loop over the head of the fleeing calf. The cowboy dismounts and ties three of the critter's legs as fast as he can. The judge's flag describes a circle over his head. It is the notice to the timers that the contest is over. They consult their watches. Dollars And Points Each dollar won by a contestant at any of the seasonal events is one point added to his "box score" for the national championship. Judging rodeo sports is done by the point as well as the time system. The point system applies to bronc and steer riding. All other main events are by the time system. The judges in the arena all take part in scoring points. Judges are severe in their ratings. They are usually former contestants who know every angle of the western rodeo game. They are stationed at various points in the arena during each event, so one judge will pick up some feature of the riding which another judge may have missed. Because of their knowledge of the game, the decisions of the judges are accepted without questions by the contestants.

Waiting for that 10-second whistle to blow is this cowboy, who's still on top of his bronc. Ten seconds on top of one of these bucking, kicking, sunfishing horses is longer than a year in a rocking chair. The best hands in the business will be trying to stick that 10 seconds at the 16th Annual Midland World's Championship Rodeo which opens Wednesday.

Rodeo Announcer Plays Large Part In Rodeo's Success

One of the most important of men at the rodeo is the announcer. He can make or break a show with the brand of announcing he gives. If the show is bad, he can carry the load and make many of the fans forget what price they paid for a ticket.

And by the same token, if the show is extra good and the announcer is bad—it's agony and the show producers will hear about it.

The successful announcer must be master of ceremonies, wit, statistician, commentator, weather prophet and straight man for the clowns.

He should have the knowledge and ability to explain to the crowd what is going on in the arena. Therein his power lies. In addition to announcing, he should be able to give an occasional pointer about the events so tenderfeet in the stands will understand.

However, the announcer must not be boring with full accounts of the rules. He's got to talk layman. The performers know the rules. The spectators probably do not. The good announcer does not bore his listeners with too many explanations. These explanations must be bright and to the point.

Yep, the announcer carries the show along.

He usually has some gas to sooth the most excited, like "wups, looks like an early Fall this year," when a waddy comes out on a particularly mean buckler.

Texas Leads In Stock Production

The State of Texas long has led all other states in the production of horses, sheep, cats' and goats.

In 1949, Texas had 352,000 horses. Missouri was a close second with 347,000. Minnesota, with 264,000, and Oklahoma, with 213,000, ranked third and fourth. Lowest states in horse production were Delaware, with 7,000, and Rhode Island, with 1,000.

Texas has 6,800,000 sheep and lambs, by far the largest number in the nation. Wyoming has 2,000,000 and California, Montana and Colorado, each have approximately 1,700,000.

Texas was estimated to have 2,200,000 goats at the beginning of 1950, the lowest number in 21 years of record. This number still was the greatest of any state.

A total of 8,600,000 cattle roam the ranges of Texas. Iowa, second largest cattle state, has approximately 5,000,000. Nebraska has 3,900,000 and Wisconsin has 3,800,000.

She Leaves Family For Realtor, Dog

KEARNY, N. J.—Rov M. Canfield, 42, told police his wife fed a neighboring real estate man's dog for a couple of years, and then went along when the man and the dog moved out of town.

"My wife said she couldn't bear to be separated from the dog," he said, "so they went off—he, she, and the dog."

He charged his wife, Frances, 40, with deserting him and their five-year-old child.

Immediate Past President

George W. Glass, Midland rancher and registered Hereford breeder, is the immediate past president of Midland Fair, Inc. He headed the organization, which sponsors the fair and Midland Rodeos, in 1948 and 1949. He also is a past president of the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

First Rodeo Held In Midland In 1914

Midland's first rodeo—as such—probably was held in 1914, although an organized Western event known as the Cowboy Carnival was held as long ago as 1898, probably earlier.

The 1914 rodeo contestants were amateur performers, but were skilled at the business, for they came from ranches of Midland and surrounding Counties. They performed their daily chores in the colorful arena—and drew money for it.

Electric fencing for farms consists generally of a single strand of wire. Its potency lies in the fact it gives a slight shock when an animal comes in contact with it.

In gardening, narrow chicken wire fencing may be stretched out to form a trellis for peas to grow up.

steer wrestling — bulldoggin' to and me—is not a sport originated just for show purposes but a necessary part of ranch activities long ago when the Longhorn cattle roamed the range of the country. It has been said that Texas cowboys loved this wild animal because it would fight back and it was a real accomplishment to round-up a herd of Longhorns.

Right Moment
The big, brawny cowpoke excels in bulldoggin', and the action starts when the steer is released from the chute, followed by the mounted cowboy and a hazer. The hazer is on the opposite side of the steer from the cowboy and forces him close to the cowboy's horse. At the right moment the rider leaps from his horse and grabs the steer by the horns. He digs his high-heeled boots into the tanbark and with a twisting force must throw his steer to the ground. If he loosens or knocks off the steers horns he is penalized, or if he lets his steer get up before the judges give the high sign he is penalized.

Quite frequently the steer will get angry and when prodded too far will turn on the man or horse. This is when both the man and the horse must use all their agility to escape being gored.

Broiler type chickens range in live weight from 1 1/2 to 3 pounds.

Headin' for the pea patch. Sometimes they stick and sometimes the cowboy takes a rough tumble when he mounts a shortin', cavortin' bronc. Some of the world's best bronc riders will perform in the Midland 16th Annual World's Championship Rodeo which opens Wednesday.

MHS Band Chosen As Official Musical Unit Of '50 Rodeo

Persons attending the 16th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo will hear fine musical entertainment by the Midland High School Band, one of the outstanding prep school musical organizations in West Texas. The group has been designated as the official band to play at the rodeo.

The best showing in history was made by the band in the Interscholastic League competition this year, held in Midland for the first time.

The band placed First Division in all three categories of the competition—light reading, marching and concert—for a clean sweep of top honors.

Director Jerry Hoffman has drilled the band extensively in preparation for the rodeo, and promises an outstanding performance.

Band Members Listed

JoAnn Nelson, Peggy Charlton, Gloria Anguish, Carolyn Curd, Carolyn Cook, Jane Ann Curd, Frank Miller, LaVerne Wingo, Agatha Sue Tabor, Dow Scott, Bobby Peters, Jeanine Liddell, Robert Stubbeman, Deneva Merrill, Ruby Goins, John Kinsler, Clint Dunagan, Larry Mayfield, Charles Crabtree, Harold Drew, Russell Moore, Norman Myers, John Murphey, De-phane Tabor, Kenneth Wright, Bill Aldrich, Irma Driver, Bill Crites, Don Drummond, Joe Barnett, Rusty Fuller, Roger Fuller, Earl Chapman, Henry Floyd, Basil Weaver, Joyce Howell, R. ### RCA Point Winner Prizes Are Listed

Donors for prizes for 1950 point winners of the Rodeo Cowboys Association include:

Levi Strauss and Co., $1,500 to 1950 all-around champion.
H. D. Lee Company, $1,000.
Blue Bell, Inc., $1,000.
Madison Square Garden Rodeo, New York City, $1,000.

The Argus Printers, $250.
Verne Elliott Rodeo Corp., $250.
White Boot and Saddle Shop, Fort Worth, five pairs of handmade alligator boots, value, $85 each.

Levi Strauss and Co., $100 gold and silver belt buckle to all around 1950 champion.
Paul Bond and The Border Boot Co., one pair boots to winner of each major event.

Rodeo Cowboy Assn., seven gold and silver belt buckles to winner in each contest.
N. Porter Company, Phoenix and Tucson, Ariz., trophy saddle to champion team tier, made to winner's specifications. Three $50 Porter western hats to champion saddle bronc rider, champion calf roper and champion steer wrestler.

Hospitals Become Home To Sergeant

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C.—To Marine Sgt. William E. Sechrest, Naval hospitals have become as much like home as his barracks life. He already has spent three of the past eight years recuperating from seven automobile accidents in which he has been involved, and from wounds received during the Guadalcanal campaign of 1942.

An expert midget car racer on the Midwest circuit prior to his entry into the corps, Sergeant Sechrest is presently recovering in the Naval Hospital, Beaufort, S. C., from a broken back sustained in an auto accident last December. Incidentally, the sergeant wasn't driving at the time of any of the seven car accidents.

The historic Mississippi River steamboat race between the Robert E. Lee and the Natchez started June 30, 1870, and was won by the Lee July 4.

An early experiment in photography consisted of reproducing crude silhouette shadows on chemically treated paper with the aid of the sun. That was in 1802.

Dwarf fruit trees are becoming more widely accepted because they take up less space and make the job of gathering ripe fruit much simpler.

Tall In The Saddle

Fannin's bronc is this hard-ridin' cowboy at a Midland rodeo. Spectators at the 16th Annual Midland World's Championship Rodeo will see riding like this May 31-June 4 when the 1950 event is held.

Steer Wrestling Is Tough Chore

One of the toughest events in any rodeo is the bulldozing or steer wrestling contest. Pictured above is a cowboy leaving his horse, ready to wrestle the steer to the earth. Some of those steers have mean horns and a cowboy has plenty of work cut out for him when he tackles one of the hefties. Bulldozing will be a feature at Midland's 16th Annual World Championship Rodeo, which begins Wednesday night.

Trick Riding Is Highly Developed By U. S. Cowpoke

Trick riding is one rodeo event often presented, which is not based on the cowboy's work as most of the events are. Trick riding is said to have been imported from Russia, where it developed among the Cossacks. But American riders have perfected the art to a high degree of skill and precision. While trick riders may be special billed performers—some truly great trick riders are rodeo performers. Dick Griffith, for example, has been named world champion rider more years than any man he also is a top rodeo cont having won bull riding and riding awards in rodeos over United States.

Pioneer Air Lines Adopts Soil Conservation Education As An Extra Special Project

Folks who travel by plane get a bird's-eye view of the land. They see more farms and ranches in five minutes than people on the ground see in five hours. They get a graphic view of soil erosion and what is being done to conquer it.

A year ago or more, Pioneer Air Lines decided to make soil conservation education a special project. Pioneer wanted to show folks who traveled on its planes the results of soil erosion—help them become aware of the erosion problem and learn about what farmer-managed soil conservation districts are doing to solve it with the help of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service.

Pioneer asked the Soil Conservation Service to give its pilots and hostesses facts on soil conservation which they could pass on to passengers while they pointed out from the air results of soil erosion and contrasts of good farms to poor ones.

The airline's officials recognized the importance of soil conservation farming to all the people as well as the importance of soil conservation to business and industry. They realized that land—productive land on which good crops, pastures or forests will grow—is the most valuable resource on earth—and that productive land is essential to the well-being of any nation and the people living in the nation.

Conservation Conference

Recently W. W. Spradley and Dave Clark, representatives of the Pioneer Air Lines, talked over soil conservation with Louis P. Merrill, regional director of the Soil Conservation Service at his Fort Worth office. Merrill emphasized the importance of the time element in getting the soil conservation job done.

"We don't have any time to lose," Merrill stated. "We have left in this nation today only about 460 million acres of good cropland. That is little more than three acres apiece for all the people in this country. Nutrition authorities have figured that we need 2 1/2 acres per capita of reasonably productive land to maintain a minimum adequate nutritional diet. And we need another half acre for the production of crops used by our expanding industries. I'm getting mighty interested in those three acres of mine and I know that all the people would be just as interested in their three acres if they knew the facts about erosion."

"In spite of the progress that has been made in the conservation of soil and water resources in this country, erosion still is destroying about half a million acres a year. All but about 80 to 100 million acres of our remaining good cropland is subject to erosion, waterlogging, salt accumulation or other forms of impoverishment unless it is adequately safeguarded. And about 70 million acres of it need clearing, drainage, irrigation or other improvements to make them productive."

Rapid Damage

About a quarter of the nation's 460 million acres of good cropland is being damaged by erosion at a critically rapid rate. It is estimated that about 110 million acres are highly vulnerable and much of this land will be permanently damaged and some of it ruined completely every year that it is cropped without protection. If we are not to do too little too late in the nation and in Texas, this land should be adequately protected in the next decade or so.

"Another large area of our cropland, estimated at 115 to 120 million acres, is being damaged seriously but not so rapidly as the other class of land. If we are to do an effective job of conservation time, this area should be protected completely against erosion in the next 25 or 30 years.

"There are additional millions of cropland acres on which erosion is beginning or might begin at any time. This land also must be protected.

"While the job is big, it can be done. And in safeguarding these remaining 460 million acres of good cropland, we can look forward with hope and a feeling of genuine security. Through conservation, this cropland can be made to produce 30 per cent more on the average. That is equivalent to 138 million additional acres at present average yields. The conservation program, therefore, if carried out in time, will give the nation the equivalent of 56 million acres of good cropland. That is a goal worth striving for with hope, determination and enthusiasm."

High Cost Of Erosion

Though good land in the United States has been destroyed at an alarming rate, the situation in

Texas A&M Faculty Members To Study

COLLEGE STATION — Two Texas A&M College faculty members will do additional studies toward their Ph. D. degrees, beginning in mid-August. They will spend a year in their studies.

W. B. Anthony of the Dairy Husbandry Department who specializes in dairy cattle nutrition will do his study at Cornell University. He holds a Master's degree from A&M, 1949 and a BS degree from the University of Illinois. He spent four years in the Navy and is a native of Waco, graduating from that high school.

W. M. Warren of the Animal Husbandry Department will do additional studies at the University of Missouri toward his Ph. D. degree. He has been with A&M since 1941, with the exception of 1943-46, when he was in the U. S. Marine Corps. He is a native of Bancroft, Michigan and a graduate of that high school. He holds a BS degree from Michigan State College and an MS degree from A&M.

Anthony and Warren will do their additional studies under a General Education Board Fellowship which they were granted recently. They will be accompanied by their families to Cornell and Missouri.

boys Have Their Superstitions, Too

Wish a cowboy luck as he enters the arena astride a bronc. They wouldn't say think it's bad luck. Performers have their num-ber superstitions, you know. Some of them shun yellow. They wouldn't in any shape, shade or form in their wardrobe. The rodeo announcer men- the word "champion" before a rider comes out, it's a fore- conclusion the rider will be hit- ground hard. The new bucking reins are shunned. Somebody has to break in a new rein, give it a limbering up like a pair of new shoes, before the cowboy will lay his hand on it. New clothes usually occupy the same status. There are good luck superstitions, too. Charms are numerous. One cowboy may claim a battered hat as his lucky charm, another a pair of spurs. In fact, almost anything may turn into a good-luck charm overnight for the in- dividual cowboy.

There Are Easier Ways Of Getting Off

Leaving a hot seat is this bronc rider. You can see more of this at the 16th Annual Midland World's Championship Rodeo which this year is featuring some especially tough riding stock. The rodeo opens Wednesday.

W. L. Stangel Of Tech To Be Superintendent At Texas State Fair

DALLAS — W. L. Stangel, dean, Division of Agriculture, Texas Tech- nological College, Lubbock, will again serve as general livestock superintendent during the 1950 State Fair of Texas Mid-Century Exposition, James H. Stewart, executive vice president and general manager, has announced. Dean Stangel served as general livestock superintendent of the 1949 State Fair and is well known to livestock exhibitors in all sections of the country as a stock show official of exceptional ability, Stewart said. Arena director will be C. G. Scruggs, Dallas, and official veteri- narian will be Dr. W. G. Brock, Dallas.

Department superintendents for the 1950 livestock show were announced as follows: Beef Cattle — Tommie E. Stuart, Sylvester, superintendent; Garlon A. Harper, Dallas, assistant superintendent.

Dairy cattle — Louis Gilbreath, Alice, superintendent; R. E. Burlison, College Station, assistant superintendent. Swine — Fred Hale, College Station, superintendent; Dan Kiber, Arlington, assistant superintendent. Sheep and Angora Goats — J. P. College Station, superintendent. Palomino Horses — W. E. Shepard Kaufman, superintendent.

Quarter Horses — W. M. Warren, College Station, superintendent. Junior Livestock Show officials will be as follows: Junior Show — Louis Gilbreath, Alice, superintendent; R. E. Burlison, College Station, assistant superintendent.

Junior Steer Show and Junior Commercial Steer Show — A. L. Smith, College Station, superintendent; A. B. Childers, Mart, and U. D. Thompson, College Station, assistant superintendents.

Junior Pig Show and Junior Negro Pig Show — E. M. Regenbrecht, College Station, superintendent; L. M. Hargrave, Lubbock, assistant superintendent.

Junior Sheep Show — J. B. Payne, Stephenville, superintendent. The whopping 1950 premium list totals $72,650, biggest in history. Premium lists are now available and being mailed to purebred breeders in every state of the nation and Canada. Premium lists may be obtained by writing to Ray W. Wilson, manager, Livestock Department, State Fair of Texas, Dallas.

BRAHMAN BULL RIDING— It Takes Nerve To Ride Meanest Critter Of All

Most dangerous rodeo contest of all is the Brahman Bull Riding event — recognized as the most spine-tingling, thrilling performance on the rodeo bill of fare. This is one event in which the rider is entirely on his own in an effort to stay atop the maddened brute which tries everything in the book to rid himself of his unwelcome rider. Not content with merely throwing an unlucky cowboy, the contrary animal stops short and turns to rend his erstwhile master. Only the intervention of a rodeo clown with his comic antics may distract the bull's attention from the rider who make a swift dash for the fence. This is one occasion no cowboy complains of his boots being too tight for walking comfort!

Clanging Cowbell
A loose rope around the bull's shoulders, just behind the Brahman hump, with a clanging cowbell

PLATOON OF MARKSMEN
PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. — P. — A Marine Corps recruit platoon recently completed their "boot" training here by qualifying 100 per cent with the Garand M-1 service rifle over the standard marksmanship course. Out of the total of 67 recruits in the platoon representing almost every state east of the Mississippi River, nine fired expert, 34 sharpshooter, and 24 qualified as marksmen.

Even helicopters contribute to the makeup of New York City's commuting system.

attached, is the only equipment allowed the bull rider. Contestants must ride with one hand on the rope and the other in the air, and riding must be done with a loose rope. A cowboy injured from his fall from the bull's back, is saved from an unpleasant goring by cowboys lining the arena who rush out to assist their companion to safety. It's a rough and rugged sport and only champions can survive a ride on the wildest animal ever released from rodeo chutes long enough to win the contest. This is one contest in the rodeo program where the rodeo clowns are absolutely essential for the safety of contestants.

Behind-The-Scenes Organization Vital For Good Rodeo

There is a wide difference between a good rodeo and a dragging uninteresting one, and most of the difference lies in the behind the scenes organization.

To stage a long list of events with smooth, fast precision requires a high degree of teamwork between contestants and the men who work behind the chutes.

Cattle and horses used in the show are kept in corrals back of the chutes, and workers who know their jobs must be employed to keep fresh "stock" coming into the chutes and at the same time take care of used animals returning from the arena.

One of the best-organized rodeos in the world is the Midland show. Everett Colborn, arena director is a veteran, who understands perfectly the intricate business of keeping the show lively and clicking from one event to another.

Brahman Crossbreds Mild And Gentle

MATHESON, COLO. —(P)— Talk about Brahman bulls and most people picture a wild-eyed critter coming out of a rodeo chute hell bent for leather with a cowpoke hanging on for dear life. Those people have not seen the gentle Beefmaster cattle which are predominantly Brahman being raised in eastern Colorado, Texas and elsewhere in the nation.

About one half Brahman, a quarter Shorthorn and a quarter Hereford, the Beefmasters are so domesticated that in some cases ranchers don't even need cowboys to round them up. They just sound a siren and the cattle come charging in.

Rodeo Cowboys Officers Listed

 Toots Mansfield, president, Big Spring; Charles Colbert, vice president, Hugo, Okla.; Earl Lindsey, manager, Fort Worth.

Directors of the RCA include: Eddie Curtis, steer wrestling, Nowata, Okla.; Buck Sorrels, calf roping, Tucson, Ariz.; Everett Shaw, steer roping, Stonehill, Okla.; Jim Shoulters, bull riding, Tulsa, Okla.; Bill Linderman, bareback riding, Billings, Mont.; Gene Pruett, saddle bronc riding, Teton, Wash.; Chuck Sheppard, team tying, Prescott, Ariz.; and Vern Goodrich, contract performer, Newhall, Calif.

Powers Brothers Are Top Roping Trio

Three of the top ropers in West Texas are the Powers brothers, Ted, left, Louis and Tom. The three were among the leaders in the World's Championship Midland Rodeo last year. Ted Powers lives in San Angelo, and the other two brothers work on the Joe Davidson Ranch in Crockett County. Top ranking ropers will be among the leading attractions at the 16th Annual World's Championship Midland Rodeo which opens May 31 in Midland.

GREEKS GET U. S. MULES

ATHENS —(P)— An additional shipment of 6,000 American mules will bring to 13,500 the number of the animals brought to Greece, and used in the country's agriculture recovery program. Purchased with Marshall Plan funds, the mules are expected to reach Greece this year. Cost of the animals and transportation costs will run close to $3,400,000.

Occasionally, even the best of them get tossed. This cowpoke was caught by the camera as he prepared to kiss the dirt. They'll ride 'em and they'll get tossed at Midland's 16th Annual World's Championship Rodeo beginning Wednesday.

Officials Toil Hard, Get To See Little Of Performance

You might think those officials up in the judges stand at the Midland Rodeo are enjoying the show more than anybody else on the grounds. But chances are you are seeing more of the show than the judges, even though you occupy a seat far back in the stands.

The judges, you see, must concentrate on one particular phase of each contest. They must not relax or look away from the arena lest they miss that which they are to watch.

For example, judges in the roping events cannot watch the calf roper. They must fix their attention on the "flag man." When the latter drops his flag, the judges instantly register the roper's time with their stop watches. To watch the roper instead of the flag is to miss getting the roper's exact time.

So don't waste time envying the judges their choice seats. Just relax and enjoy the show, knowing you're better off without any such responsibility as rests on those fellows in the stand over the chute.

Calf Roping Is Top Competitive Rodeo Contest

The calf roping event is one of the most highly competitive events of the rodeo. It is one of the most popular with spectators and competitors. There is real money at stake as the entry fees in this contest usually are the highest in the rodeo.

This contest is almost converse to that of bronc riding. Here he works keenly with his horse instead of trying to prove his mastery over the animal. Many long and patient hours have been spent training the horse in his part of the contest. And the cowboy's chances depend as much on the horse's performance as the rider's. The cowboy and the horse form a kind of partnership based on a typically Western sense of loyalty.

He admires and respects his horse for his intelligence and the part he plays in the stiff competition. To quote a well-known West Texan: "The cowpuncher is without polish but under a rugged and rough exterior beats a big heart and lives a courageous and generous soul. He is honest because nature, with which he is most closely associated, never misled him or told him a lie."

He is loyal because his existence and happiness depend upon loyalty. One of his first and foremost loyalties is to his horse. Here in the calf roping contest, the cowboy has a chance to show off with pride his well loved and trained horse.

Practically all calf ropers trail their own horses from show to show. When a contestant is not fortunate enough to have his own horse the cooperative spirit of the West is seen again.

Others Use 'Em
 Those with well trained horses let other riders use them. Custom has built up and the rider pays the owner one-fourth of any prize money he may win, but pays nothing if he fails to win.

If there ever has been a doubt in any tenderfoot's mind as to whether a horse is an animal to be guided or an animal with his own judgment, this contest should dispel those thoughts. For as much depends upon horse as rider and if the horse fails to do his part, the rider is at a loss. A well-trained roping horse is the pride and joy of every cowboy.

The contest begins when the calf crosses the starting line in front of the chute. Horse and rider are keyed to a terrific pitch as they await the calf. If the horse jumps too soon, the rider is fined 10 seconds. The horse that stays right on the zig-zagging calf's heels gives his rider the best advantage. When the horse lands over the calf's neck the rider begins to dismount before his horse can stop. The rope tightens and the intelligent, well-trained horse keeps the rope taut without dragging the calf.

As the cowboy runs down the rope, he must let the calf get to its feet if it has fallen and throw it by hand. He securely ties three legs and raises his hands to signify that he is through. If the calf gets up or falls to remain tied until the judges signal its release, contestant is disqualified.

If the horse drags the calf, the rider is penalized 20 seconds. The rider has two chances to rope his calf and if he is competing for the grand prize purse he will be disqualified in all events if he fails to make an honest effort with his second loop after he has missed with his first. If he misses with both he retires from the arena with "no time."

Three New Sorghum Varieties Offered; Meet Definite Need

COLLEGE STATION — Three new grain sorghum varieties — each selected to meet a definite need — have been developed by plant breeders of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and released to certified seed breeders for increase. Director R. D. Lewis has announced. The station will have additional seed at the end of this season for distribution through county agents for demonstration plantings in 1951. The characteristics of the new varieties, as explained by R. E. Karper, agronomist in charge of grain sorghum investigations, and J. R. Quimby, superintendent of the Chillicothe station, are: Combine Kafir-60 — Like Kafir, well in the field. The heavy head is borne on a long stem and stands well above the stalk. The variety is awless and seed are white with black specks, testing 60 pounds to the bushel. The variety blooms in 60 days from June 1 planting at Lubbock, or about a week earlier than Texas Blackhul Kafir or Plainsman. Combine Kafir-60 was developed by crossing a double dwarf kafir selection with Texas Blackhul, followed by selection and back crossing to the Kafir parent several times until a pure type of double dwarf adapted to combine harvesting was obtained. Red Seed Varieties Redbine-60 and Redbine-66 — These new red-seeded varieties are similar except in their maturity. Redbine-60 blooms in 60 days, a little earlier than Martin; Redbine-66 in 66 days, a few days earlier than Plainsman. Both have dry head-stems and rachis, can be combined before frost if desired, and have a long stem so that there are fewer leaves and less stalk to load down the shaker when combining. Both varieties have a brighter reddish-yellow seed color than Martin and have a longer stem, are taller and have better threshability than Plainsman. Redbine-60 has awns, tests 57 pounds to the bushel and is a little surer of production because of its earliness. Redbine-66 is awless, tests 60 pounds to the bushel and will yield higher under favorable conditions because of its longer growing season. These two varieties were chosen after several years of test from numerous selections from the progeny of a cross between Martin and a sib of Caprock. Some of the growers have pooled their seed and planted it in Hidalgo County. This crop will be harvested in early June and the seed shipped to the Lubbock area for planting there for Fall harvest. One such pool of 70 ounces of each variety is expected to yield 20 bushel of certified seed from plants that are bagged to insure self-pollination. This 20 bushels would seed 300 acres or more; if the crop averages only a little over 30 bushels an acre on the South Plains, the increase in one year would be a half million pounds, or enough to plant 100,000 acres in 1951.

Fixin' To Snag That Steer

Bulldogging is another rodeo event which this year will feature some of the best in the business when the Midland World's Championship Rodeo is held. The sixteenth annual rodeo opens Wednesday.

Sul Ross Cowboys NIRA Champions

Sul Ross College cowboys are champions of the Intercollegiate rodeo world. The Sul Ross team in 1950 captured the NIRA rodeo for the second straight year. The NIRA was staged in San Francisco's Cow Palace.

Seychelles nuts are native to the island of that name in the Indian Ocean.

Midland Fair—

(Continued From Page One) Selected president in January of 1949. Late Homer Rowe was the secretary-treasurer of the organization, serving one year in that capacity. J. Homer Epley took over secretary-treasurer in 1936 and fills that important position. Parks, Jr., currently is serving as president. The association has more than 150 members.

Officers Listed: Affairs of Midland Fair, Inc., administered by a Board of Directors, including James N. Allison, Paul Barron, Buster Cole, Franklin Cowden, Jr., John H. Jr., Tom Vance, Clarence Souder, Jr., Marion Flynn, J. P. Hines, Roy Parks, Jr., J. E. Hill, H. G. Bedford, A. P. Scharf, F. A. Bird, E. B. Dickenson, P. Butler, John B. Mills, Jack Er and J. C. Sale. The four living past presidents—Proctor, Roy Parks, Sr., Leon Proctor and George W. Glass—honorary vice presidents.

Midland Fair, Inc., is unique in that it has lost money on a recent year, sponsored by the association officials attributing this fact to the fine support extended the organization by the loyal citizens of Midland and the territory it serves. All profits are used for improvements, maintenance and repair of equipment and facilities on the fair grounds. The all-steel arena and grandstand at the fair plant on East 80 are the largest and best in the Southwest. The huge stand seats 5,500 persons. The plant has been copied by several other southwestern cities.

The first rodeo and stock show staged by Midland Fair, Inc., in Fair of 1933. The Labor Day rodeo then was adopted, and three rodeos, ending on Labor Day, staged from 1936 to 1941, when war halted temporarily such traditions.

Roping Events: The annual one-day calf roping contests were started Labor Day, with the 1942, 1943 and 1944 contests being planned and staged partly for the entertainment of soldiers stationed at Midland Army Air Field. The current season of early Summer rodeos started in 1944, and they have been staged the first week in June each year.

Race meets were held at the grounds until pari-mutuel betting in Texas was outlawed. Rodeos long have been popular in Midland, the first cowboy carnival rodeo having been staged here in the 1890's. They have been preferred off and on—mostly on—since that time.

Gifts To Residents: Officials stress the fact that Midland Fair, Inc., and Midland Rodeo are gifts to the residents of Midland of the Midland area, and they support given by citizens of vast territory largely has been responsible for the remarkable success and growth of the association of Midland Rodeo.

The 1950 World Championship Midland Rodeo, fair officials say, will be by far the biggest, best and most colorful ever staged in the history of Midland Rodeos. The annual celebration opens Wednesday and continues through next Friday night.

Parade—

(Continued From Page One) Following parade winners: most typical old-time cowboy, most typical modern cowboy, best junior cowboy, best senior cowgirl, best junior cowgirl. Ranches are urged to enter chuck wagon and other ranch vehicles as well as their best horses. Service clubs, service clubs, merchants, farm implement firms, organizations, churches, automobile clubs and other individuals or firms are invited to enter floats. Ranch cowboys are invited to come together representing their respective ranches. Governor Allan Shivers is expected to ride in the opening parade. Other celebrities are invited.

In some parts of New England, they are regarded as garden pests. They will eat almost every type of vegetable down to the roots.

Three Midland World Championship Rodeo action shots show as many cowboys taking to the nearest exit. A bronc or bull rider "leaving" his mount really doesn't have much choice in the matter and manner of exit. The action-plus annual Midland Rodeo opens Wednesday at the grounds of Midland Fair, Inc., on East Highway 80.

CALF ROPING—

Speed Wins In This Contest

The bronc and rider who provide such thrills for the rodeo audience in the calf roping contest change magically when a trained horse and experienced cowhand team up together to outwit a scampering, bawling dogie.

Perfect cooperation, coordination, understanding and timing between cowhand and horse, working together to rope, throw and tie a calf makes this event a favorite for spectators. The winner in this contest is the team that can rope and tie the calf in the shortest length of time.

Since calf roping is a practical ranching technique, this event draws a large number of enthusiastic cowpunchers who enter competition in the hope of winning the grand purse money, which includes all entry fees. This is by far the most popular contest of the whole rodeo.

Procedure of the game is simple. If the cowboy is good at it! A well trained roping horse gallops close to the heels of the calf while the rider swings a loop and casts it about the calf's neck. When the loop tightens, the horse stops, then backs slowly away keeping a tight rope to aid the man, who has dismounted by then, in catching the calf. The contestant must then throw the calf and tie the three legs together in a manner approved by the judges.

This contest has a long and colorful background. It's an art the cowboy must learn at an early age since the roping and tying of bawling young mavericks plays a big part on any ranch during branding season.

High School Rodeo Slated June 15-7

Fourth annual State Championship High School Rodeo will be held June 15, 16 and 17 at Hallettsville. The following events for boys will be held:

Calf roping, both breakaway and tie-down; steer wrestling and bareback bronc riding. The girls events include cutting horse contest, and clover leaf barrel race. The barrel race is a new event for girls.

Students placing in the finals in any event will be eligible to enter the National Championship High School Rodeo to be held in August in Santa Rosa, New Mexico.

Cowboy Jargon May Be Greek To 'Tenderfeet'

Cowboys have a jargon all their own, just as persons in other trades do. To hear it is confusing to a tenderfoot, yet it all is very simple.

Here are some examples of rodeo lingo currently in vogue:

Bitin' the dust—Being thrown from a horse.

Blowing the stirrup—Losing a stirrup, disqualifying the rider.

Broomtail—Wild mare.

Buckaroo—A cowboy.

Bronc-buster — A cowboy who "breaks" a horse.

Bucking—The horse's gyrations trying to unsettle the rider.

Cavy—Saddle horse on a roundup.

Chuck wagon—Rangeland lunch wagon which follows roundups.

Crowhops—Contemptuous terms applied to mild gyrations of a horse.

Out out—To separate an animal from a herd.

Dog fall—Putting a steer down with his feet under him; throw is not complete until the animal is on its side with all four feet out.

Dogie—Weaking calf.

Eating gravel—Thrown from a bucking bronc or steer.

Four-footer — Animal roped by feet to be thrown.

Grabbin' the apple—When the rider grabs the saddle horn to keep from being thrown.

Hazer—Bulldogger's assistant who picks up the mount after the bull dogger has leaped to the steer.

Leaps High

High roller—Horse that leaps high when bucking.

Jughead—Silly horse.

Hobbed stirrups—Stirrups up under the horse's belly.

Hoolihaning—Leaping of horns of a steer and knock down without having to y

Loggering—Holding the horn.

Mail-order cowboy—Tend cowboy regalia.

Maverick—Unbranded steer.

Not Many Can Do This

Graceful, isn't he? Not anyone could strike such a pose on being tossed from a wild horse but not many would even care to mount him in the first place, we betcha. This pike will be back to fan the broncs again this year at Midland's 16th Annual World's Championship Rodeo which opens Wednesday.

Six Rugged Cowboy Events Slated Each Rodeo Performance

Six rugged cowboy events—bronc riding, calf roping, bull riding, bareback bronc riding, steer wrestling and wild cow milking—will feature each and every performance of the 16th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo. The events are in addition to a Cutting Horse contest, which is attracting widespread interest. Midland Rodeo opens Wednesday night in the all-steel arena of Midland Fair, Inc., on East Highway 80. The big celebration continues through Sunday. Many of the nation's best cowhands will be on hand to contest the tough livestock, which this year is said to be the most rugged ever brought to Midland. Top cowhands vs. top stock assures plenty of spills, thrills and excitement for the throngs of spectators who annually attend Midland Rodeo. The rodeo stock, the same as used in New York's Madison Square Garden Rodeo and the Boston Rodeo again this year is furnished by Gene Autry and Everett Colborn of the World's Championship Rodeo Corporation of Hollywood, Calif., Phoenix, Ariz., and Dublin, Texas. Colborn will be the arena director.

Pecos Was Scene Of First Planned Rodeo July 4, 1883

Rodeos started because cowboys are proud of their abilities as ropers and riders. Modern rodeos persist largely for the same reason though present-day shows enable expert contestants to make a comfortably living from their skills. Outside of a few top-notch ropers and riders who consistently take high prizes wherever they compete, the great majority of cowpunchers appearing in the nation's rodeos are riding and roping chiefly for the fun of it. If such contestants win a prize, they figure they are just that much better off. Spirit Of Fun It was this spirit of fun which prompted the first planned rodeo, which was held in Pecos, July 4, 1883. Prior to that time, cowboys brought together during the vast open-range roundups of those days would stage contests to determine the best roper or rider in the roundup. The Pecos show offered spectators two events—steer roping and bronc riding. Prizes were $25 and $15 for first and second place in each event. No admission was charged to the show, in which Morgan Livingston won the steer roping and Trav Windham was second. Sougan—Part of cowboy's bedding, similar to quilt.

OPENERS ARE MEMENTOS CLINTON, ILL. —(P)—A friend went to Niagara Falls in 1933 and brought back a letter opener for Mrs. Bernard Kolp. That started her collection of letter openers and paper knives. She now has 150 of them—most of them souvenirs of trips other people made.

NEW LEADERS STATE COLLEGE, PA.—(P)—Pat Helms, of Osceola Mills, Pa., runner-up for National Collegiate 155-pound honors, is captain-elect of the 1951 Penn State boxing team. The lanky junior was chosen on the strength of his outstanding performance in the nationals.

REVELLE POSTPONED GALESBURG, ILL. —(P)—Cottage hospital discarded the old custom of rousing patients around the crack of dawn. Under the new order, nobody is awakened before 7 a.m. Mrs. Irene Donaldson, director of nursing, reports everybody is happy about it.

Scout Ranch Devoted To Teaching Boys The Art Of Living Together And Camping Skill

By ALINE WHITLEY
Pecos, Texas

Smack in the heart of the most rugged terrain of the Davis Mountains is a 6,000-acre ranch devoted to teaching Boy Scouts from 17 West Texas Counties the skills of camping and the art of living together.

Owned by the Buffalo Trail Council, the ranch was bought at a cost of about $75,000 from Hunter Strain. The final payment was made in October, 1949. Camping activities will get underway there on June 11 for the fourth consecutive year.

The ranch itself is a major attraction to Sunday visitors from all over this area. It is about 66 miles southwest of Pecos and 24 miles from Balmorhea. The main canyon is called Aguja, an Indian word meaning needle, for a slender, towering rock situated in the middle of the canyon. Little Aguja creek runs through the Ranch, a clear, cold mountain stream.

The Buffalo Trail Scout Ranch is one of two such scout properties in the United States. The other is the National Scout Council's Ranch at Philmont, New Mexico. Persons who have seen both say the Davis mountain Ranch compares favorably with the larger camp.

Opened In 1947
When the Scout Ranch was first opened in 1947, only about 300 Scouts attended. The number has increased with each year. About 700 boys spent at least one week at the ranch last Summer, and 900 are expected this year.

The camping area being used at present is about 12 miles off Highway 17, and can accommodate about 120 Scouts and their leaders every week. The Council recommends that there be one adult leader for every eight Scouts, so each Scout will receive the attention and training he needs.

Plans now are to build the main camping development in a flat, park-like section farther into the mountains. This proposed site would give much more space for camping more scouts as well as being even better located for nature and wildlife studies.

Facilities at the present camp site include a dining hall and a modern kitchen. Three butane stoves will be used by two full-time cooks this Summer in preparing meals. A deep-freeze unit and a walk-in refrigerator provide storage for perishable foods.

The boys are housed in tents, erected on prepared locations. Water for drinking and bathing is nearby. A full-time doctor will be on hand at the camp infirmary this Summer in case of illness or accident, and will also check sanitation conditions at the camp.

Camping activities are being planned to give each boy an opportunity to engage in the type of recreation he chooses. Special areas in the main camp site will be devoted to teaching leather, metal and wood crafts, cooking, riflery, knife and hatchet skills, archery and other similar avocations. Adult leaders will attend special training schools before the opening of camp to learn more about the activities they will direct. There are 22 horses at the ranch, and each boy will have an opportunity to make a horseback trip into the mountains if he wishes. All-day trips on the ranch's 22 burros have been planned too, and hikes are among the most popular camping activities. Each Scout is at liberty to choose the activities to which he will devote his time.

The Camp Day
The camp day starts at 7:30 a.m. with the flag raising ceremony. Breakfast is served from 7:30 to 8:30 a.m., and activities start at 9 a.m. Lunch is served from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m., with a one-hour rest period planned immediately afterward. Afternoon activities start at 2:30 p.m. and last until 5:30 p.m., with supper at 6 p.m. Baseball, volleyball, and other sports occupy the time until 8 p.m. when a camp fire ceremony is held each night. Taps come at 9:30 p.m.

Parents may visit the camp on Sundays or in case of an emergency. They can reach the camp director by phone through Toyahvale. Joe Nidermayer, Pecos Scout Field Executive, has been selected camp director this year. He is already making preparations for moving equipment in and securing supplies. Although this is his first year as director of the Scout Ranch, he has worked on other similar projects and is well-known for his capable direction of Scout work through his territory.

Other preparations for the coming season are being made by the boys themselves. Several troops have planned or held Parents' Night to acquaint the parents with just what the camp offers.

The Council is proud of the Scout Ranch, and believes every person who has seen it will agree it is a credit to this area. The Council, through its volunteer leaders, now serves about 5,000 boys, approximately 17 out of every five boys in the district. Through the ranch, the council hopes to serve these and other boys even better in the future.

SUMMER ATTRACTION

First big Summer attraction in Northern California will be at Eureka where the Ninth District Agricultural Fair and Horse Show and the Redwood Empire Rodeo at Eureka's Redwood Acres will be held June 14-18.

The tallest lighthouse in the U. S. is at Cape Hatteras, North Carolina—194 feet. It is in a State Park on the famed Outer Banks, now accessible by land, sea and air. Although no streams flow in Colorado from the outside, it is mother of four great rivers—the Kansas and Platte in the east, Colorado and Rio Grande in west.

Rodeo Different In Yesteryear

Gleanings from official souvenir programs of 1910, 1911 and 1912 indicate vast differences in the dress of today and those of yesteryear.

In the 1910 program rules, the ropers were given a 25-foot start for the chase. After having caught the steer, if the roper found that he was unable to tie the animal, he could raise his hands, thus relieving his actual elapsed time plus the minute.

If the steer had been tied, the ropers were required to strike the animal over the head and horns until he made at least one attempt to get up. They were required to tie the three feet of the steer properly crossed and tied sufficiently to guarantee to hold for five minutes. If any person objected, the steer was left tied in the arena until the five minutes had elapsed.

In those days, there was a designated "judges box" and the arena judges were not allowed to render their decisions until they had remained the confines of that spot. If there were no objections from anyone, they released the official decision. After the official decision had been released, objections didn't count.

No Borrowing
Before starting his ride, the contestant was allowed to secure a tie rope from the judges if he had forgotten or lost his own but was not allowed to borrow one from anyone else. For some reason or other there was a paragraph in the 1910 rules which said the contestant must finish his ride with his horse and saddle with which he passed the headline.

In the championship matches each roper was given three steers and the 15 men with the best averages were given an additional pair of steers. A five-steer average decided the championship.

The 1912 rules said a roper whose saddle was broken or horse crippled while trying for his steer, could receive a horse or saddle from anyone with which to finish the contest. If the roper himself was crippled, the management would substitute another roper of like ability to finish for him.

In addition to the standard starting procedure of today, those ropers were given the benefit of a pistol shot to indicate that time had started. All contestants were required to ride in parade wearing chaps and other range attire.

Whoever preserved those early programs had penciled in the official times of several West Texans who still are living or were long remembered for their rodeo ability. Albert Cooksey, Pecos, was given a five-steer average of 38 seconds after having run into difficulty when two grown steers were released simultaneously for him. He was given a time of 1:16 on that try but the time was thrown out. George Weir, Kermit, was given a time of 35 seconds average for his five steers. His third was tied in 21 seconds.

Clay McGonagill, Midland, received a 35-second score after looping five animals. One of his was tied in 26 seconds. Will Glen of Douglas, Ariz., seemed to have won that contest with a 25:1.5 seconds. That contest was held in 1911.

In 1910, Alf Vivian, Pecos, hung up a day-score of 23:2.5 seconds for the second day, Nov. 2. That score seems to have been the best three made that year. Joe Gardner, Sierra Blanca, made a 32:4.5 second tie on his second day try. He came back his fifth day and hung up a 29:4.5 time to add to a pair of 36-second efforts.

In 1912, Vivian was third man in the best single day time with a 28:4.5-second effort. He was beaten by Joe Gardner (28:2.5) and by George Weir, Monument, N. M. (28:1.5). However, the second day, Clay McGonagill came back to hand up a 25:2.5 for the show time of the year.

Through all those old records, run the names of well-known West Texans and New Mexicans: Jim and Ed Hall, Nutt, N. M.; Tom Ogles, Pecos; Sam Roberts, Llano, Texas; O. S. Coates, Pecos; Jess Mosely, Sierra Blanca, and many others took part in those early day rodeos.

During some part of the contests, they hung up good times.

However, the times they made in those days may reflect the impression that they were not as good as the modern ones.

Part of that can be ascribed to the fact that the rodeo ropings of those days employed grown steers weighing as much as 1,000 pounds instead of the little half-grown calves used today. They were giving the steers as much as 90 feet head start in some cases as compared with the 10 feet score being used today.

Once the steer was caught, the cowboy faced the tremendous task of getting him off his feet with the use of the horse. It was out of the question for a cowboy to throw a steer by hand.

When those facts are borne in mind, it then is realized that the old-time cowboy must have been an outstanding master of the art of catching a steer, getting him off his feet and tie a rope securely around three of his legs.

Many changes in rodeos have been made during the last 50 years and many of those early features are no longer found in today's attractions.

The same goes for the methods of holding the actual roping events. Some of the features of the old affairs have dropped out of the picture and, today, the contestant is given a little better chance of catching and completing the tie.

For instance, in an old cowboy park of 1910, a $25 prize was given the cowboy presenting the most cowboy-like appearance during the show that was held November 1-6. Three unknown young ladies were selected to act as judges of the event. The cowboys were judged on the basis of pretty shirts, chaps and boots. Nothing is said in the rules about what kind of a picture he made on the hurricane deck of a horse. He merely had to look like a cowboy.

Western Dress To Add Color To Crowds For Rodeo Week

With the whole city going Western for the Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo this week, some Midland women will go Western in their dress, too. There will be feminine, as well as masculine, versions of big hats, gaudy shirts and scarfs, and boots seen among the rodeo crowds.

The degree of ranch atmosphere in a costume will vary with the individual and with the price she wishes to pay. The costume may be anything from a tailor-made suit, cowboy style, with boots made and decorated to order, handsome hat, belt and neckerchief, and maybe even a horse and saddle, to everyday jeans or gabardine slacks with a gay cotton shirt and bandana.

There is no lack of color in the costumes offered in Midland stores. Suits designed in dude-ranch style, with embroidered designs or material in contrasting colors, and scarfs or ties in bold hues and imaginative patterns are plentiful.

Square Dance Dresses
For parties in rodeo week, many women will blossom out in bright cotton "square dance dresses," which have a distinct Western flavor and which are attractive for Summer dining, outdoor parties and many occasions in addition to square dances.

Youngsters, even more than adults, like to get into the spirit of the rodeo with cowboy clothes. A wide selection is offered for them, both girls and boys, in Midland stores. And the rodeo garb is not a one-occasion dress for the children; they like to wear it for play the year round.

Many Midland women who attend the rodeo performances and parade will not appear in Western dress, but will choose their frocks from the variety of cool cottons now on display in shops here.

Chambrays and the new glamor-gingham will be favored attire for the parade and daytime events, while night performances will call for the same frocks with their cover-up jackets, or perhaps classic gabardines which are a little warmer and more suited to the after-sundown climate.
