Magnolia 2 Parks Tops Ellenburger, Logs Good Shows

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2 Parks, Central-West Midland County wildcat, 11 1/4 miles southwest of the city of Midland, is preparing to run a drillstem test in the top of the Ellenburger at 12,946-970 feet.

The section to be covered by the test had good porosity and good oil stain and good oil odor.

Top of the Ellenburger was picked to be at 12,955 feet which gives it a datum of minus 10,120 feet, and makes it 183 feet high on the top of the Ellenburger to the same point in The Texas Company No. 1 Scharbauer discovery well of the Warfield-Ellenburger field, which is four miles north and slightly west of the Magnolia prospect.

Flowed Pennsylvania Oil
The Texas Company well is a small pumper from a thin streak of Ellenburger above the water table in that horizon.

Magnolia No. 2 Parks is 860 feet from north and 2,180 feet from west line of section 10, M. Daugherty survey.

It has already shown for a flowing oil discovery from the Pennsylvania lime and also showed for one and three-quarter miles southeast extension to the Salt Creek-Canyon field, which was opened several weeks ago by Caroline Hunt trust estate No. 1 Young.

The Haysyer development, located 660 feet from north and west lines of section 114, block G, W&NW survey, was flowing between 25 and 30 barrels of new oil per hour through a one-half inch tubing choke.

The production was coming from pay between 6,474 feet and the total depth which has been corrected to be 6,534 feet.

That zone had been treated with 10,000 gallons of acid. The oil being produced at last report was out with one per cent acid residue. There was no formation water.

The well was to be flowed until it was cleaned out and it was to then take potential test and complete.

The production from the zone at 6,474-6,516 feet is through perforations, and that from the 6,518-6,548 foot interval is in open hole.

The originally reported depth of 6,530 feet has been corrected to be 6,534 feet. The 7-inch casing is cemented at 6,516 feet.

Kewanee Finds New Pay In S-C Hockley

Kewanee Oil Company No. 1 C. T. Pace, wildcat in Central-South Hockley County, is swabbing and flowing three barrels of new oil per hour from the San Andres, and operators expect to complete the venture as a new discovery as soon as it is cleaned out.

This indicated discovery is three miles east of production in the Slaughter field and immediately northeast of the town of Clatsone.

Production in the area is 5,123-51 feet. The zone had been treated with 10,000 gallons of acid. No water is being developed. Fluid is standing at 800 feet below the surface and operators are unable to lower it from this point.

Kewanee has a 1,800-acre block in the area surrounding the discovery.

Exact location of the No. 1 Pace is in the southwest corner of labor 13, League 33, Baylor County School Land survey.

Indicated Discovery In Kent To Set Pipe

Kewanee Oil Company has cemented 5 1/2-inch casing on bottom at 6,880 feet in its No. 1-C Well (Connell), indicated Pennsylvania lime discovery in Kent County.

Production in the area is 5,123-51 feet. The zone had been treated with 10,000 gallons of acid. No water is being developed. Fluid is standing at 800 feet below the surface and operators are unable to lower it from this point.

Business Tax Hikes Hinted By President

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) talked over prospective tax legislation with President Truman Monday and said later that a rise in business taxes "could offset" some of the proposed cuts in excise levies on such things as luggage, furs and telephone bills.

Rayburn did not say Truman had urged that; he merely mentioned it in talking with reporters. Truman recommended revision of business taxes earlier this year. Rayburn spoke of a boost from 38 to 40 per cent in the corporation income tax.

The House speaker and other Democratic congressional leaders spent an hour and 15 minutes discussing the legislative program with the President.

They said one thing that did not come up was the question of when Congress should adjourn.

Adjustment Far Off
That now looks too far off. The leaders have about abandoned earlier hope of adjournment by August 1.

The leaders gave newsmen these reports on matters other than taxes: Rent control—Lucas said he expects the Senate to pass a bill this week extending the controls. Rayburn said that if the Senate does act this week, the House will pass it next week.

Draft—Lucas said he wants to get Senate action as early as possible on a House-passed measure continuing the draft law on a "stand-by" basis.

On taxes, the House Ways and Means Committee now is drafting a bill and has voted for scaling down the excise taxes.

The cuts approved by the committee would cost the government more than $1,000,000,000 a year in revenue. The Administration wants raises in other taxes to make up for at least a major part of that.

The House legislative docket is in fairly good shape but Rayburn said it would be "optimistic" to look for adjournment by August 1.

Major Bills Pending
There is just too many major legislative pending and many members seeking reelection this year are reluctant to go home until the performance record looks more impressive.

The outlook isn't so rosy in the Senate, where four big bills passed by the House are bottled up, and each of them is controversial enough to require lengthy discussion.

Still to be acted on are House-passed bills creating a Federal Employment Practices Commission (FEPC); appropriating $29,000,000,000 for operation of the government in the fiscal year which starts July 1, broadening the Social Security Program and extending the draft law.

An earlier attempt to take up the FEPC bill ran into the threat of a filibuster, but Senate leaders say they still hope to get the bill to a vote.

Texas Temperatures Skyrocketing Again

By The Associated Press
Texas warmed up again Monday and in some sections—especially around Denton in North Texas—the hot sun is shining brightly.

The weather is drier and standing water in fields after weekend rains ranging up to 6.75 inches.

The 6.75 inches fell Saturday night at Sanger, ten miles north of Denton. It was water standing several feet deep in the east part of the city of about 1,000 population.

Denton itself had 4.30 inches of rain Saturday night and Sunday morning and .19 of an inch Sunday afternoon. Unimproved roads were impassable Monday in some places.

Lake Dallas Overflows
Lake Dallas, Denton County lake which supplies water needs of the city of Dallas, was running two and one-half feet over the spillway.

Monday's hot sun was pushing temperatures up throughout the state.

Even by mid-morning, temperatures had climbed into the high seventies and low eighties. There were some low clouds in Central Texas and along the Gulf coast.

Elsewhere only high thin clouds offered any resistance to the hot sun, and in West Texas and the Panhandle there were no clouds at all.

Widely scattered thundershowers were expected to relieve the heat—temporarily—in some sections of both East and West Texas. The hot spot was Presidio, where the mercury soared to 104 degrees.

Johnson To Mayo's For Physical Checkup

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas) has gone to the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., for a physical checkup. Aides of the senator said he left Sunday and will be gone two or three days. He formerly had received treatment in Rochester for kidney stones.

Amerasia Probers Turn Eyes To Jaffe

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senators hunting jigsaw pieces in the 1945 Amerasia case turned to Philip Jaffe Monday for more of the picture in the secret documents episode.

Jaffe, subpoenaed to a Monday afternoon closed session of a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee, is a key figure in the five-year-old controversial case.

He was editor of the now-defunct Amerasia Magazine, in the New York headquarters of which were found hundreds of confidential government papers.

Jaffe and five others—three of them government employees—were arrested on charges of conspiracy to commit espionage. The charges later were reduced to conspiracy to obtain illegal possession of federal documents.

Jaffe pleaded guilty and was fined $2,500. One of the others pleaded to defense and paid a $500 fine. Charges against the other four were dropped.

Why, Why, Why?
Why that happened, why there were no jail sentences, why the charges were reduced—all those points stirred up a controversy in Congress and brought a cry of "whitewash" from some legislators.

Justice Department officials have said their case practically collapsed when one of the defendants learned that the government's evidence was obtained without search warrants.

The Senate inquiry committee tried to find the answers summoned Jaffe as it awaited certain excerpts from the personal papers of the late James V. Forrestal, who was secretary of the Navy when the Amerasia case broke.

The Justice Department confirmed Saturday that Forrestal intervened to postpone the six arrests until President Truman could be fully informed.

A House committee which looked into the Amerasia case four years ago got testimony from FBI Agent Myron Gurnea that Jaffe was a known contact of Earl Browder, who until 1946 was chief of the American Communist Party.

Another Jaffe contact, said Gurnea, was Alexander Trachtenberg, described by the FBI agent as head of the Communist International Publishers. Gurnea also said the FBI had trailed Jaffe, prior to his arrest, to the Soviet Consulate in New York.

Jaffe, a naturalized citizen of this country who was born in Russia, did not testify at the House inquiry four years ago. He waived immunity and agreed to go before the grand jury which eventually indicted him in 1945, but later changed his mind and did not appear.

Another grand jury now is looking into the case in New York. So far as is known, Jaffe has not been before that panel.

Officers Arrest Pair On Narcotics Charge

City and county officers Saturday night arrested two Latin Americans on charges of illegal possession of narcotics.

The officers were working with a federal narcotics officer who charged the arrested pair with possessing narcotics for "purpose of sale."

Officials Monday said the pair would be taken to Pease for trial in federal court.

Texas Party Chiefs Face Vital Issues

AUSTIN—(AP)—Tide-lands and party loyalty issues faced Texas Democratic leaders here Monday.

Whether or not the State Executive Committee would risk harmony and dig into these controversial questions was somewhat in doubt.

The meeting was called to certify the list of state office candidates for the July 22 primary to county chairmen, to select the site for two upcoming committee meetings, and the site for the September State Convention.

Conference Tuesday
It could attend to this statutory business, avoid any touchy questions, and go into a social session including a luncheon at which Gov. Allan Shivers will be the host, and a barbecue at the home of Fagan Dickson, former first assistant attorney general who is running for the Supreme Court.

Party leaders will listen to advice and perhaps plan strategy at an educational conference Tuesday. The featured speaker is Mrs. India Edwards, vice-chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

The party conference is closed to the public and open to the press—provided the reporters won't write anything about what the speakers will have to say.

Two GOP Senators Belittle Truman Talk Of Red Aggression

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman's assertion that Russia is preparing for war Monday stepped up congressional efforts to get this nation's defenses ready for any crisis.

At the same time, however, two Republican senators suggested that Truman's blunt talk about Soviet intentions abroad may be aimed in part at minimizing public attention to the Communist-in-government charges of Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) and others.

GOP Senators Wherry of Nebraska and Brewster of Maine said they don't disagree with the President's Saturday statement in St. Louis that the Soviets "have preached peace—but devoted their energies to fomenting aggression and preparing for war."

But Wherry, the Senate Republican leader, noted that the President had nothing to say about subversive activity at home.

"It is just as important to clean out the Communists in our government as it is to stop their expansion abroad," Wherry declared.

Brewster said it seems to him Truman has been dwelling on Communist threats in the foreign field almost to the exclusion of any similar damages at home.

"It may be a campaign to take the people's mind off of the McCarthy charges and similar affairs," Brewster said. He is chairman of the GOP Senatorial Campaign Committee.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Netherlands Monday was granted $5,817,000 to buy American wheat and wheat flour under the Marshall Plan.

Three Planes Out Of Ninety-Niners Race

TUCSON, ARIZ.—(AP)—At least three of the 33 planes which started Sunday in the annual Ninety-Niners Women's Air Race were missing from the lineup Monday.

The plane piloted by Irene Gerheart dropped out here when the co-pilot, Mickey Collins, became ill.

Bad weather forced Isabel McKee and Joan Greenman of Lemon Grove, Texas, down south of Odessa, Texas, Sunday night. Mary Packard of Vallejo, Calif., already had been eliminated.

First Flames Bring Death To Geologist

BIG SPRING—(AP)—A wild West Texas oil well which fatally burned a geologist blazed higher than ever Monday.

Clouds of black smoke boiled above the Pan-American number one Holley, 25 miles northeast of here, as equipment was rolled up, preparatory to starting the big job of snuffing the fire.

Road blocks, thrown up by officers, kept hundreds of curious from the immediate area.

Rent Control Wins Initial Senate Test

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate Monday refused to shelve the rent control bill. The vote was 44 to 25.

The vote was regarded as a general test of Senate sentiment toward continuing federal rent controls, due to expire June 30.

The attempt to shelve the bill was made by Senator Wherry of Nebraska, Republican floor leader. Early Saturday, at the end of a turbulent 17-hour Senate session, he moved to send the bill back to the Banking Committee. Such action often means killing a measure.

Final Vote Big Question
By agreement, a vote on Wherry's motion was put off until Monday. For Administration leaders, the big question now is when they can get the bill to the floor.

Senator Cain (R-Wash.) conducted a 12-hour filibuster against the measure last week.

Before the vote, Cain said the outcome of it would determine his future plans.

"If there seems to be a fair chance of winning this thing, I'll certainly be ready to take off again," Cain said, as he directed assistants to assemble a thick stack of ammunition for another long filibuster.

"I'm going to use every legitimate means at my command to see that controls are not extended," he commented.

While Republicans are pledged to vote against extending the controls, Lucas and other Democrats said they were confident they have enough votes—with some Republican support—to put through the extension after disposing of the recommitment move.

Leaders Optimistic As Outlook Brightens In Many Businesses

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK—(AP)—How firm a foundation supports the business boom and the year-old bull market in industrial stocks is a matter of debate.

But Monday we find a number of leaders going on record as to the prospects for their specific industries. Most are optimistic.

Edith Eaton, of the American Petroleum Institute, said the industry should jump 100,000 barrels a day next month—this is the estimate of the industry's needs by Ernest O. Thompson of the Texas Railroad Commission. Thompson has been looking at the rash of cars off the Detroit assembly lines, at the new diesels, at the smoke of Eastern factories powered by heavy oil.

Auto producers say this week will show a new record in the output of cars and trucks. Charles E. Wilson, General Motors president, says the year's output for the industry will go well over seven million units and he thinks "the shortage of cars now is worse than it was last year or the year before."

And even a laggard joins the parade. The women's apparel and accessory trade, which has been the year because retail sales have been slow, now reports merchants doing better in some parts of the nation and store buyers writing orders at the Fall market openings of apparel and allied lines.

The business boom has lifted advertising volume and some publishers are worrying about the danger of a newspaper shortage again. But a spokesman for the Newspaper Association of Canada says his mills can keep up with the demand due to increased capacity.

Three Cities Fight Stamford Request For Water Permit

AUSTIN—(AP)—Representatives on six West Texas cities were scheduled to appear before the State Board of Water Engineers Monday to argue for or against Stamford's request for water from Paint Creek.

Backing Stamford were Abilene and Hamlin, Haskell, Aspermont and Benjamin. Opposed granting of the water permit. Presenting arguments was to follow two other hearings.

Stamford seeks 10,000 acre feet of water per year from Paint Creek, a tributary of the Clear Fork of the Brazos, for municipal and industrial purposes.

It proposes to build a dam with storage capacity of 60,000 acre feet. Haskell has filed a cross-representation asking for denial of the water permit. The hearing indicated they would favor a Bureau of Reclamation project.

SAVES FIVE IN FIRE—One father who will always be a hero to his children is Carl Huber, 25, pictured in Elyria (Ohio) Hospital. Although bleeding badly from a severed artery, he carried four of his six children to safety from a fire which wrecked his Elyria home. Then he dashed back into the blazing house and rescued a fifth child. In the meantime his wife, Joyce, 22, had saved the sixth. Huber, who cut his arm when he punched his fist through a window pane "to let the smoke out," collapsed from loss of blood.

New Kermit Station Plans Formal Opening

KERMIT—Residents of Kermit welcomed the newest and one of the most important factors in the city's "growing up" last Thursday, and at the same time George H. Cook, owner and operator, realized a long-cherished ambition—his radio station, KERB, went on the air.

After working more than two and one-half years to bring the station into being, Cook relaxed and smiled as the first strains of music from KERB went on the air.

"They told me," he said, "when I started to get this station it would be a long hard struggle. It has been. It is well worth the trouble. It's going to be another struggle to get that road west and a new hotel, but someday they also will be realities and then, truly Santa Claus will have come to Kermit."

To open and dedicate formally West Texas' newest radio station, Cook and his staff are planning an area-wide celebration Thursday afternoon. Following the ceremonies Cook will be host to a large group of special guests at a barbecue supper to be held in the Community Center. Gov. Allan Shivers and Congressman Ken Regan are among the invited dignitaries.

Mrs. Steele Tells How Hadacol Relieved Agony of Neuritis Pains caused by Vitamin B₁, B₆, Iron and Nicotin deficiencies!

Mrs. James Steele, Harrisburg, Ark., has written us and wants her experience made public. "I was run-down. Couldn't sleep. I had neuritis pains in my limbs all the time. I couldn't do my housework. I've taken 2 bottles of HADACOL, and I sleep all night without pains. There are lots of things I can praise HADACOL for that I'm not writing."

This amazing new vitamin medicine is being recommended by many doctors. It gives such wonderful temporary relief. HADACOL treats the cause of such aches and pains (commonly called rheumatic pain) caused by deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₆, Iron and Nicotin. And so important—and what you want—continued use helps prevent such misery from returning. Trial size, 25¢. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. Photo by professional model.

State Board Chief Says Dr. Sander To Regain License Soon

WOLFEBORO, N. H.—Dr. Paul Dye, board president, said Sunday night he believes Dr. Sander's license to practice will be restored "within a few days after he makes application for reinstatement."

The state revoked the 42-year-old Candia physician's license in April shortly after he was acquitted of murder in the death of a cancer patient. The state group said, however, he could apply for reinstatement on June 19.

Attorney Ralph E. Langdell, counsel for Dr. Sander, said the application for reinstatement will be filed before June 19 to hasten consideration of the board.

$23,000 Aid Fund

Dr. Sander declined to comment. The state charged at the physician's trial that he killed Mrs. Abbie C. Borotto, 59, by injecting air into her veins as she lay near death from cancer. The defense admitted the air injections, but contended the woman already was dead.

Dr. Dye said, "The implication in this case was obvious and the board agreed Dr. Sander should be suspended and given the right to seek reinstatement later."

The term "mercy killing" was mentioned prominently after Dr. Sander's arrest, but did not become part of the actual trial record.

Dr. Sander was dropped from the staff of the Hillsborough County Hospital in Manchester after his license was revoked. Two Catholic hospitals, Sacred Heart and Notre Dame, where he had only courtesy privileges, barred him from their premises.

In Bedford, George Woodbury announced that a fund to aid Dr. Sander had reached $23,000. The money, he said, has been turned over to Dr. Sander.

C. Of C. Directors Meet Monday Night

A proposed program of expansion and improvement for the City of Midland will be explained by city officials at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Hotel Scharbauer. The program includes water system improvements, sewage disposal unit installation and street improvements.

Drainage and grade separation projects also will be discussed.

President Robert L. Wood, in urging a full attendance of directors, termed the meeting "the most important of the year."

Four new Community Chest trustees will be elected and other matters discussed, officials said.

Saucers Are Real, Says Rickenbacker

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, World War I air ace, says he thinks flying saucers are real.

Rickenbacker, president of Eastern Air Lines, flew in Sunday and told a reporter: "Too many good men have seen them. And if they exist, you can bet they belong to the United States Air Force."

Air officials have insisted they have no such equipment.

Seven Attend Odessa Altrusa Chapter Dinner

Seven members of the Midland Altrusa Club attended the chapter dinner of the Odessa Altrusa Club Saturday night in the Cathay House.

Attending were Grace Wallace, past president of the Midland club and organizer of the Odessa club, who presided at the banquet; Bertie Boone, new president of the Midland club; Willie Harding, Maurine Mims, Annie Ford, Iva Cox and Virginia Hoffman.

The Midland club entertained out-of-city guests who attended the dinner. Jaston Dickey, past president of the San Antonio Club, was the principal speaker. Reuby Rhodes, who accepted the club in the district, and Margaret Walker of Lubbock, and Clara Hutchin and three other members of the San Angelo club were entertained at a breakfast Sunday morning in Hotel Scharbauer here by the Midland club.

Velma Barrett, Exor County librarian, was elected president of the Odessa club. The Midland members helped in the initiation of 22 charter members.

Miss Dickey conducted the installation of officers and initiation of new members at a dinner for the Midland club Thursday night. Katherine Shriver complimented Miss Dickey with a luncheon in the Midland Country Club Friday.

Rainbow Girls Have Meet At Mineral Wells

Rainbow Girls from the Midland Chapter left Sunday for Mineral Wells, where they are attending the Grand Assembly of Texas.

Final plans for the trip were made at a called meeting Saturday afternoon in the home of Betty Marie Nix.

Wanda Burnside has been recommended for a grand appointment at the convention; Peggy Greshouse will sing in the grand choir, and Wanda Lou Steele will receive the grand cross of colors, an honorary degree granted for outstanding service to the Rainbow Girls.

Mrs. Clyde Hamblen, mother and advisor of the Midland group, also was to receive the grand cross of colors, but was unable to go to Mineral Wells because of illness in her family.

The grand cross will be bestowed on Wanda Lou by the Rev. W. Mark Sexson of McAlester, Okla., founder of the Rainbow Girls.

The Midland group went to Mineral Wells on a charter bus and Mrs. E. W. Edwards and Mrs. Leo Baldrige are chaperones. They will return Thursday.

Other members who went are Nancy Kilmer, Deneva Merrill, Jan Houck, Sue Talkington, Diane McDonald, Ann Billingsley, Ruth Ann Rhodes, Lou Prouty and Dorothy Johnson.

Modern Viewpoint On Divorce Isn't As Sensible As It Sounds

A Hollywood star with two divorces behind her has offered her philosophy of life to any girl who is impressionable enough to take it.

She thinks glamor girls should be more sensible about their love lives. And to illustrate just what she means she tells us about the cities her own attitude toward men and marriage: "She has fun while a romance lasts, but when it's all over—it's over. I don't brood about it. And I'm always good friends with them, afterwards."

That all sounds a very carefree and modern and there are quite a few young women today who share the movie star's philosophy. They can shrug off a marriage with the same studied nonchalance with which they'd shrug their shoulders out of a mild coat.

But follow their careers for just a few more years and you see the same things happening to even the most glamorous of the lot.

From Bad To Worse

As they grow a little older the husbands they marry seem to be less and less impressive. The marriages seem to grow shorter each time. And the ex-husbands, with whom they claim to be such good friends, keep taking on other wives chosen from the newer crop of glamor girls.

So what often happens to the glamor girl with the "let's end our marriage when it stops being fun" philosophy is that she has to become less and less choosy as time goes by—and pretty soon she is married to someone she wouldn't have looked at twice when she chose her first husband.

A woman usually has her best chance of getting a good husband when she makes her first choice of a mate. And if she isn't smart enough to realize that and do her best to hold on to him through good times and bad, she just isn't very bright.

Leaving the question of morals out of the issue and just being practical, the "when it's over—it's over" philosophy just doesn't work for women.

Job Not Finished Vital streamlining of the federal government still has a long road to travel.

The Hoover group recommended 18 major administrative shifts. Three others, besides the Commerce Department change, already have been approved.

Not until these are instituted can the government begin to realize the efficiencies and economies promised from this great streamlining program.

Hoover does not appear to be worried because some of Truman's proposals vary from the commission's. "The President has the right and duty to present his own ideas in these matters," he says.

With the exception of the President's back-door effort to amend the Taft-Hartley law by "reorganizing" the office of NLRB general counsel out of existence, the defeated plans should be submitted again.

Toward all of these the Senate and House should take a constructive, statesmanlike attitude. If they do not, congressional spouting about federal waste and inefficiency will have an empty sound for a long time to come.

The Census Bureau estimates that the 1950 census will show 1,000,000 more women than men in the U. S. That's a lot of wall flowers!

DREW PEARSON ON 'The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND'

WASHINGTON—Congressman John S. Wood of Canton, Georgia, is a scholarly, dignified gentleman who looks the way you expect a congressman to look.

On Jan. 23, 1944, Ralph Stanfield of Tate, Ga., a resident of the congressman's district, was struck by a U. S. Army truck, and seriously injured. As a result, he was entitled to damages from the truck owner—namely, the U. S. Government.

Following passage of the bill, however, Carl Tallant, the congressman's law partner, suggested that it was "customary" to pay 10 per cent on compensation bills of this kind.

I have in my possession a photostatic copy of that check, dated Sept. 13, 1947, on the Bank of Canton, Georgia. I also have a photostatic of a check dated the same day, made out to Cokers Hospital for $3,300.

It is significant that after the check was passed, Congressman Wood apparently got worried. For the elder Stanfield says that the congressman asked him to keep the matter quiet.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

"Do you know," said Generous George, "you've seen so much to me lately that I really feel like doing something for you."

West didn't know exactly what to suspect, but he was right to be suspicious. He knew from experience that George was most dangerous when he was apparently giving something away.

A close examination of the hand shows that George had not been so generous after all. The play of the low spade from dummy, although it appeared to give up a spade trick to West, actually assured the contract.

Now South is doomed. He has already lost three tricks and must lose one of his low diamonds. The king of spades offers a discard for one of the diamonds, but the removal of all the trumps prevents South from ruffing any diamonds in the dummy.

It is interesting to note that East could not defeat Generous George by overking his partner's Jack of spades with the ace. That would set up dummy's king and queen of spades, after which declarer would need no diamond ruffs.

During a card game you keep holding poor hands. WRONG: Complain about your run of bad luck. RIGHT: Play the hands you get without comment.

Questions and Answers

Q—What is the origin of the word credenza?

A—Credenza is an Italian word meaning "credence." An archaic meaning of credence is safekeeping.

Q—What are the smallest and largest moths?

A—The smallest moth in the world seems to be the golden pigmy of Great Britain. The wingspread of this tiny moth is hardly a quarter of an inch.

Q—How long did it take to build the Taj Mahal in India?

A—About 20 years. Built of pure white marble, it is one of the most beautiful mausoleums in the world.

Q—In speaking of the American flag is it proper to say color or colors?

A—Colors is the term usually heard, although either singular or plural form may be used.

Q—What do weathermen refer to as the hydrologic cycle?

A—The three stages through which water passes—water in oceans, lakes and streams; water in atmosphere; and water in the soil.

Hungary Installs Lutheran Bishop With Red Leaning

BUDAPEST, HUNGARY.—(AP)—Hungary's largest diocese of the Lutheran Church has a new bishop who favors cooperation with the country's Communist-led government.

The new prelate, the Rev. Laszlo Dezsery, 36, succeeds former Bishop Jajoc Ordass. Ordass last month was released from prison after serving almost 20 months of a two-year sentence for currency speculation.

Dezsery in 1948 attacked Josef Cardinal Mindszenty head of Hungary's Roman Catholic hierarchy, as a representative of "royalist, feudal absolutism." Mindszenty now is serving a life sentence for treason.

The new Lutheran bishop, one of the youngest ever to hold such office in Hungary, in a 30-page "open letter" in 1948, urged his church to seek conciliation with the country's Communist-led government. It was considered apparent here that he had been named to succeed Ordass because of the views expressed in the widely circulated pamphlet.

Bucktails, plugs and spinners all are artificial fishing lures.

15 major enemies: insincerity, conscious and unconscious. We discovered in our study of the major enemies already dealt with that the enemy, insincerity, while implicit in many of the others, is sufficiently important to stand out explicitly. For insincerity is a quality that can undermine it in very hidden way. Insincerity is the terms of the personality.

Since we are all "only Christians in the making," we can find in the best of us insincerities and unconscious hypocrites. These insincerities and unconscious hypocrites are the tribute we pay to truth and goodness. Even when we are not good, and not true, we simulate truth and goodness, thus acknowledging that we ought to be true and good.

From top to bottom life is filled with hypocrites and insincerities. South Africa makes the springbok, a deer, its national symbol—and yet South Africans have exterminated it.

A lady indignantly dismissed her maid: "I had to dismiss her. I found that she was stealing those lovely hotel towels I had." Her moral indignation at someone else's dishonesty made righteous her own!

O Christ, we do not see ourselves, for we look at the sins of others with open eyes and then turn a blind eye upon our own sins and weaknesses. Help us to be as honest with ourselves as we are with others—and more, help us to be honest with ourselves with Thy honesty. In Thy name. Amen.

SNEAR CAMPAIGN

By Edwin Rutt Copyright 1950 by NEA Service, Inc.

THE auburn-haired girl raced across the tennis court on legs like long tanned scissor-blades. She just managed to get her racket on Miss Graydon's scorching return. Then from deep in the corner she brought off an almost impossible shot. The ball cleared the net with a scant inch to spare, a little white rocket exploding at Miss Graydon's feet. Miss Graydon's shoulders moved helplessly and she shook her head.

Asides and glances passed between the young women who watched the tennis match.

She'd had never a chance with that one.

The point gave the auburn-haired girl another game. Miss Graydon, beaten ignominiously on her own service, began baiting balls to her opponent.

Bill Jarvis, on the fringes of the spectators, clapped decorously. It didn't occur to him, at the moment, that he was practically a one-man cheering section. He did not notice the asides and glances that passed between the young women who watched the match.

A funkier woman from the Inn—Look-out Crest Inn where, Bill had been scandalized to learn, rates started at $25 a day—had propped an old lady's wheeled chair to a point from which she could catch every view of the arena of the intramural tennis tournament.

The ancient one had sat quiescent near Bill while Miss Graydon, a determined but outclassed spinner-type, took an unholy shelling.

Now, however, she spoke. "Well, young man," her voice was unexpectedly strong, "I'm glad somebody's got the decency to give that girl a hand."

The old woman's eyes were like steel bullets. Their awareness, aliveness, contrasted strangely with cheeks withered like prunes and old lips rather ridiculously rouged.

"Oh," he said, somewhat startled. "I thought she rated it. Darn good shot."

"She made good shots all along. And received only a smattering of applause, as the fellows say. But"—disapproval thinned that surprisingly able tone—"let the Graydon give that girl a hand."

"That's a good-looking girl with wavy hair, eh? Well, before I tell you why she hasn't, if I do, we'll see the finish of this match."

"During the talk, the redhead had ached her first service. She changed course. The bright-haired Hildy Sands tossed up a ball. A blistering smash, good as gold, raising a white chalk-puff at Miss Graydon's service line. The ball crashed against the backstop, shivering the wire."

The old lady chuckled. "Know what that reminds me of? Helen Wills, one time years ago. The gallery was all against her. But she just gave that gallery the horse laugh and stuck 'em in, in the way that girl's doing. I like her."

"You were going to tell me why she—"

Asides and glances passed between the young women who watched the tennis match.

Crest—and engaged to his host's daughter—his interests were definitely elsewhere.

BEFORE he could get an answer, Hildy Sands won set and match. Instantly she ran to the net, engaged an impulsive hand. Bill thought Miss Graydon slow in advancing to shake that hand.

"Well, that's that." The spectators, melting away, distracted the old lady's attention. "Run up to the Inn, will you, young man? And send back one of those bell-hops, that I've never yet seen hop, to push me!"

Bill laughed. "I'll push you myself, Mrs. —"

"Faster, Mrs. Jake Fasker." The shrewd light-gray eyes twinkled at him. "Never heard of me, have you?"

"Oh, yes," he admitted.

"Mrs. Fasker waited a second. Then: 'As I said, I'm a gossip nowadays. But I don't dish dirt, Bill Jarvis. Unless there's sufficient reason. You, however, look like a good guy. Fact is, yourself and myself and the sulter family, I think, are about the only good guys in this plush-lined hostility. The rest are a peck of snobs. And, for my money, you could also spell that with an 'I.' Slobs!"

"You'll get me, exactly," Bill said.

"You won't. But you'd get something else from somebody else sooner or later. With a malicious twist on it, no doubt. So I'll tell you first. Because I'm sorry for Hilda Sands and I'd like you to be nice to her, if you have a chance."

"Well, sure. Why wouldn't I be?"

MRS. FASKER screwed her head around and looked up. "I think you would. But most of them aren't. You see, some kind—it and unknown—Saul has spread it around that Hilda's father is a jailbird."

Bill whistled. "Why would anyone want to hurt the girl?"

"The old lady shrugged. "I don't know. You see, I suspect that Hilda Sands is just too attractive and—well, generally good to suit the rest of the women here. You may have noticed, Bill, that there's a preponderance of females at the hotel. Personable gentlemen, like yourself, are pretty scarce. You'll probably be torn limb from limb, though you are promised to Beverly Coulter."

TV Audience Hears Fatal Shot, Sees Slumped Body In Baseball Park Suicide

HOUSTON—(AP)—Houston television listeners heard a 50-year-old laundryman commit suicide Sunday night at a Texas League baseball game.

Stanford B. Twente shot himself to death as he sat beside telecaster Dick Gottlieb in a press box at Buffalo Stadium. The shot was heard over television and throughout the stadium.

Seconds later a TV camera focused on Twente's slumped body. Police had a report a half-hour earlier he had told a bar waitress he was going to kill himself and "to watch me at the end of the fifth."

The shooting occurred as Pitcher Don Stephens of Houston stepped to the plate to start the last half of the sixth inning against Tulsa. Justice of the Peace Tom Maes was among those watching the game on television. He returned an inquest verdict of suicide without leaving his home.

"I saw the man on television," Maes told Detective George Chapman.

Twente died in a hospital about two hours after the shooting. Police said a .41 caliber bullet struck him behind his right ear.

Twente appeared at the television booth and told Gottlieb, "I got something to tell you."

Police Find Note

Gottlieb waved the man away and continued narrating the game. Twente was seated between the announcer and the TV engineer, Lee Bennett. Just as Bennett started to get Twente to leave the box, Twente pulled a pistol, shot himself and fell across the engineer.

The TV camera was focused on the Houston dugout and listeners saw the Houston players suddenly turn and look toward the press box.

The camera then swung toward Gottlieb, who told his audience: "Ladies and gentlemen, a tremendous thing has just happened. A gentleman has just shot himself. I return you now to the studio."

Two minutes later the telecast of the baseball game was resumed.

Police found a note on Twente, dated June 3, addressed to "whom it may concern." The note read: "I leave all my possessions to my boy, Bailey Twente, Anderson, S. C. My wife has my insurance policy."

NEAR DEATH — Bushman, six-foot, two-inch, $100,000 gorilla of Chicago's Lincoln Park Zoo, is near death from a combination of heart disease, arthritis and old age. The 550-pound ape's age is estimated at more than 20 years.

Oklahoma Gets Hard Jolt In Early Census Returns

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—Preliminary census reports reveal a startling exodus from the farms in the last decade which may cost the state a population loss exceeding a quarter-million people and at least one—and maybe two—seats in Congress.

Only two congressional districts have completed preliminary counts. But enough counties from all parts of the state have reported to warn state officials of what's coming.

With few exceptions each new census figure repeats an old refrain—population losses in farm areas, towns gaining population but an overall loss.

Chambers of commerce and state newspapers are exhorting every true Oklahoman to be counted. Gov. Roy J. Turner took to the radio to support this campaign.

Why can't Oklahoma keep 'em on the farm?

Federal agriculture officials, surprised by the first reports, made an independent survey. U. S. Agriculture Department Statistician K. D. Blood said fewer people are owning more and more farms in the state.

Small Farmers Move Out

He said severe soil erosion and in many cases poor country roads made it more economical for small farmers to sell out and move to other states or get good-paying jobs in the cities.

Blood added that bigger operators have bought up the small farms for "land spreads" to start stock farms or cattle ranches. Others want more land to expand their farm mechanization operations.

The officials found schools, church and homes in the rural areas are being abandoned in the wake of the slow migration.

The Seventh Congressional District's preliminary report Sunday showed a 29,714 loss in 11 counties in Southwestern Oklahoma. Earlier, the Sixth District in South Central Oklahoma showed a 9,129 loss for nine counties. Even heavier losses are expected in many eastern sections.

Oil Fields Lose 20,000

Seminole County for instance—once the center of booming Oklahoma oil activity—alone has lost more than 20,000. Its county seat of Wevoka lost almost 4,000.

Okfuskee County in Eastern Oklahoma lost more than 8,000 persons—5,000 of them school age children. Other oddities: Kiowa has the same population it had in 1940, Indianola lost one, and Guthrie—the first state capital—gained one resident in 10 years.

State officials estimated before the census count started the state stood to lose one of its eight congressional seats if the population loss reached 250,000. Now Oklahoma leaders fear the loss may exceed that figure, endangering two seats.

Extent of the loss came as a surprise. Most state towns are enjoying a building and business boom and farm income has remained high in the last few years.

Oklahoma Plane Crash Kills Two

SHAWNEE, OKLA.—(AP)—A Texan and a former Texan died Sunday in the crash of a light plane about three miles southwest of Shawnee.

They were Frank Carter who came here from Gainesville, Texas, and was manager of the Shawnee Appearance Store, and Ted Wheeler, Oklahoma Baptist University student whose home is Longview, Texas.

Witnesses said the men were flying low near a farm home when a wing struck an oil derrick. The plane plummeted to earth and burned.

The two men were delivering issues of the Shawnee News-Star to farm subscribers.

Johnson, Bradley Take Off For Tokyo

FAIRFIELD-SUISUN AIR BASE, CALIF.—(AP)—Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson and Gen. Omar N. Bradley left here by plane at 2:25 a.m. Monday enroute to Tokyo.

They were due at Hickam Field, Honolulu in about 10 hours.

Informed sources said the U. S. defense officials were going to discuss a possible Japanese peace treaty with Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Curious Thousands Visit Ailing Gorilla

CHICAGO—(AP)—A crowd of about 120,000 persons broke all attendance records at the Lincoln Park Zoo Sunday to see Bushman, the famous but ailing gorilla.

The 500-pound Bushman, usually a pleasing performer, was too sick to pay much attention to the audience which filed past his cage.

But Dr. Lester Fisher, zoo veterinarian, says he is more encouraged by Bushman's condition—the breathes better and seems more comfortable. He became acutely ill Thursday, apparently from old age (he's 22), arthritis, and a heart condition.

Zoo officials want watermelons and guavas for their infirmed giant. They're having trouble finding Guavas—a small tropical fruit. They'll try to locate some in Florida.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Can Do

Daddy Ringtail was sitting out on the porch of his monkey house, way up in the top of the very tall tree, right in the middle of the Great Forest. He was a very happy that the Featherman had his nest full of feathers at last, and that the Featherman wouldn't be chasing the ducks and chickens any more, trying to grab away feathers that they were still using.

noise Daddy Ringtail suddenly heard. The noise came from down on the Elephant Path. It was a duck who was making the noise, and the duck was running along as fast as he could, while right behind him was the Featherman. The Featherman was trying to grab some feathers, and he would have grabbed them too, except he tripped on long white whiskers and fell all over himself on the ground. "Featherman!" Daddy Ringtail shouted, while the duck ran quacking and quacking away.

Daddy Ringtail slid down to the ground. "Featherman!" he said. "I'm ashamed of you!" Daddy Ringtail didn't see why anyone would be trying to grab any more feathers when he already had a nest that was full, but the Featherman told him why. "It's little Mr. Fixit," the Featherman said. "He is the reason why."

Daddy Ringtail knew about little Mr. Fixit. He can fix anything, and this is what he always says: "I can put the leaves back on the trees of the forest, and I can put the feathers back on the birds!" And that is why the Featherman was chasing the duck, trying to grab some feathers, because he was afraid that little Mr. Fixit might get the feathers out of his nest and put them back on the birds. "And he can do it too," said the Featherman. Daddy Ringtail smiled and said: "Can do" and "will do" are two different things. Mr. Fixit can put the feathers back on the birds, but will he do it? The answer was "no," of course, because Mr. Fixit was much too busy with his fixing of things besides feathers, and I hope you will remember that people can do many things that they never will do. "Can do" and "will do" are not the same thing at all. Oh no. Happy day!

California contains 10,000,000 Valencia orange trees and 8,000,000 Navel orange trees, according to an estimate.

MAJOR LEAGUES-

Detroit, Yankees Annex Twin-Bills To Pace American

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

"The Red Sox won't win the pennant this year," the man said. "They folded up against the strong clubs."

The man was a Boston baseball writer. The remark was made right after Boston had buried the poor St. Louis Browns under a record shattering 29-4 count last Thursday.

Fold probably is the wrong word but there is no denying the Red Sox have had miserable luck against the first division clubs this season. In 23 games against the Yankees, Tigers and Cleveland Indians, the Sox have won nine and lost 14. That's a cellarlike .394 percentage.

Red Rolfe's Tigers heaped insult on injury Sunday when the league leaders used two left-handers who pitched nine innings apiece. Not since Cleveland's Gene Bearden beat them in the '48 pennant playoff game had an enemy outpitched them in Fenway Park.

Southpaw Hal Newhouse scattered 10 hits to beat Boston 6-2 in the opener. Lefty Ted Gray allowed only four hits in nine innings of sterling relief ball, to gain credit for the 9-6 triumph in the 14-inning second game.

Fourth In Row

The defeat was the fourth in a row for the third place Red Sox who now are six games behind the Yankees and five and a half behind Detroit. The Yanks kept pace with Detroit by sweeping both ends of a doubleheader from the Browns 1-0 and 4-2.

St. Louis' soaring Cardinals widened their first place margin in the National League to two games over Brooklyn by crushing the New York Giants 6-1 and 5-2. The best the Dodgers could do was divide a pair with the Reds in Cincinnati. The Browns won the opener 5-4 but the Reds came back to win the nightcap 8-5.

Philadelphia's third place Phillies remained a half-game behind Brooklyn, splitting a pair with the Pirates in Pittsburgh. The Phils came from behind with five runs in the eighth against Rookie Vern Law to win the first game 7-6 but the Pirates took the second 5-4 on Ralph Kiner's 13th homerun of the season.

Texas League—Bob Lemon, Ocee Outfielder, Ahead Of Home Run Pace

By The Associated Press

Bob Lemon, the Oklahoma City outfielder with the swing from the field, found out Sunday he was nudging the Clarence Kraft Texas League home run record. So that very afternoon he got out the field, fiddle and he cut out the right business.

Belling Bob put two homers over the fence against San Antonio to bring his season total to 20—two more than Kraft had in 1924 on the same date as Big Clarence drove to the league record of 55.

Lemon batted in five runs to lead Oklahoma City to a 12-6 triumph and put the Indians just one point back of third-place San Antonio.

League - leading Port Worth, which has been winning more one-run games than anybody, got a taste of its own medicine Sunday.

The Shreveport Sports edged the Cats 3-2. Bill White's homer in the fifth was the edge.

Beaumont Nosed Dallas

Beaumont nosed Dallas 2-1 in a pitcher's battle. Elvin Stabelfield gave Beaumont only six hits but they were used better than the eight Ernie Nevel scattered in Dallas' direction. Clint Courtney's double in the sixth drove in Bob Marquis with the winning run.

Tulsa whitewashed Houston 6-0 with a couple of errors by Vern Harrington. Buff third baseman, leading to three Tulsa runs in the sixth. Earl York hit a three-run homer in the eighth.

Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh's home run king, belted three homers in his first five games against the Dodgers this Spring.

Broncs Top Tribe 9-1; Loss Drops Indians To Sixth

The Midland Indians will engage the Big Spring Broncs in a Longhorn League doubleheader Monday night in Steer Park at Big Spring. The first game will start at 7 p.m.

Ralph Blair and Glen Patton or Ken Carley are the probable pitchers at Midland.

Big Spring moves to Indian Park here to open a three-game series Tuesday night.

By SHORTY SHELburnE
Reporter-Telegram Sports Editor

BIG SPRING—The Big Spring Broncs used a couple of lazy home runs and three Midland errors in one inning to take a 9 to 1 decision over the Indians here Sunday afternoon. Although a doubleheader had been talked, only one game was played.

The defeat broke a tie between the two clubs for fifth place and left Midland's strangled in sixth.

The homers were hit by Julio Delatorre and Felix Gomez, both with two men on, and gave Jesus Uley all the working margin he needed as he put Midland down on six singles.

Friendly Fence

Park is friendly to the home club. Both of the home runs would have been easy outs in any other Longhorn League park.

Delatorre clouted his four-bagger with two out in the first inning. Concepcion had doubled and Pat Stacey had walked ahead of the blow.

Midland got one run—its lone tally—in the second. Jim Prince opened with a walk and advanced to second on a balk. Kenny Jones had struck out on the pitch but the balk saved him.

Jones, a hustling, fighting Indian all the way, then lined a single to the fence to plate Prince.

The Broncs were handed three runs on a silver platter in the fourth.

Three Errors

Bobby Gomez was hit by a pitched ball, Bert Baez got a single off a ball that was allowed to drop between the second baseman and outfielders and three consecutive Midland errors followed. Two of the miscues came on one ball, a double-play knock by Hernandez. Gomez and Baez scored and Hernandez ended up on third. An error on Felix Gomez' grounder allowed Hernandez to score.

LeRoy Jari relieved Singleton at the start of the fifth inning. He looked like a million dollars in the fifth, whiffing two Broncs and getting the other on a grounder to the pitcher.

The sixth was a different story. Gomez homers.

The hitters popped out, the fielders booted easy chances and the pitchers threw home run balls.

The Indians put the Big Spring Broncs back into the first division instead of moving up themselves.

What's wrong? We wish we knew. Webb has the men who can hit, field and run the bases. He has some capable pitchers even though the staff as a whole has turned sour here of late.

Those individuals need to be moulded into a ball club via some method unknown to us. They can win with ease when they are right but they've been wrong long enough to get themselves down to sixth.

When you analyze the club, you find the finest players in the league on it.

Prince at first base is going good, Bellone looks better than average at second and Quentin Basco is holding down third well enough. Scooter Hughes is the best shortstop in the league without a doubt. Tex Stephenson tops the rookie outfielders in the league in both fielding and hitting.

Lou Dawson can go get 'em in center field and he is hitting the long ball much better this year.

John Singleton can't be traded by Bob Cramer, Bob Phillion or George Firnbac.

So, what do we have?

We have a great bunch of individuals but no ball club. The club wins one now and then because one of these individual players gets hotter than usual at the plate and knocks in a bunch of runs.

The other games usually are lost because most of the players are cold and none of them gets exceptionally hot.

Wouldn't it be better if all of them just played good steady ball all the time—same ball?

The pitching is sour now. What looked like the best hurling staff in the league has turned out to be no better than average.

John Singleton can't win in a coon's age and he looked like the best prospect in ages when the season started.

Hal Wearne, Glen Patton, Ernie Nelson and Bob Blair have turned in the best performances here of late.

LeRoy Jari and Ken Carley have chucked well in spots but not consistently.

Singleton still can win a lot if he finds out what the trouble is and corrects it. He has the physical qualities.

It's mighty in to see the Midland Indians in sixth place. They never have been there before at this stage of the race.

But it was the Indians who got themselves in that shape and it's up to the Indians to get themselves out of it.

We still have faith in them. We believe they will take stock of their condition and plug the holes that need plugging.

The know sixth place isn't becoming to them and they know right now is the time to get out of it.

Will they get out?

Friend, it depends on how badly they want to get out. Some clubs have stayed there all season.

But others—like the Midland Indians—have decided they want to take over first place.

SPORTS SLANTS

by SHORTY SHELburnE

The Longhorn League race is just two months old Monday and the Midland Indians have set their fastest pace in history—in reverse. The Indians are crowding the Sweetwater Swatters for seventh and if so e of the boys don't decide to start hitting the ball and giving out with a little more effort here and there, Sweetwater's seventh spot soon will belong to Harlow Webb's crew.

The next four days will tell the story for the Indians. They have five games with fourth-place Big Spring. Win 'em and they will be up. Lose 'em and they're down, but good.

The Indians had just about as much coordination in Sunday's game as a drunk man would while trying to walk a tight wire.

The hitters popped out, the fielders booted easy chances and the pitchers threw home run balls.

The Indians put the Big Spring Broncs back into the first division instead of moving up themselves.

Longhorn League—Odessa Sweeps Two To Increase Lead; Indians In Sixth

By The Associated Press

Big Spring is back in the first division of the Longhorn League. That was the only change Sunday as tight-fisted Odessa turned back the challenge of Roswell without trouble.

Odessa beat Roswell 11-4 and 6-0 to increase its first-place lead to eight and one-half games.

Big Spring straddled Midland 9-1 with Julio Delatorre and Felix Gomez contributing homers in a 10-hit attack. Delatorre drove in three runs and Gomez the same.

Odessa hammered 13 hits in knocking Roswell back in the first game while Ray Miller twirled a five-hitter for a whitewash job in the nightcap.

Big Spring replaced San Angelo in the first division when the latter took a 5-4 drubbing from last-place Ballinger. Ballinger led all the way despite a San Angelo rally in the eighth, featured by Bob Crues' homer, that netted three runs.

Vernon edged Sweetwater 4-3 as Lou Ehlinger came home on an error in the ninth and Dick Tross held the Swatters to five hits.

The scores:

W. L. Pct.
Odessa 010 000 000-1 6 4
Big Spring 300 303 00x-9 10 2
Singleton, Jari, Nelson and Jones; Uley and Hernandez.

Hogan Takes Open Title; Legs Okay

By The Associated Press

ARDMORE, PA.—(AP)—The whole golf world knew it Monday and no one dared question it—the boss man is back.

He's back with two sound legs, a new pin-hungry quality to his golf shots and a determination that marks him as one of the great masters of all time.

The climactic chapter in the fantastic Ben Hogan saga was written Sunday down the fairways and across the tricky greens of Merion's historic East Course.

"He's the greatest of them all," acknowledged Lloyd Mangrum, a tough old pro himself, after being beaten in the 18-hole triple playoff for the fifth National Open Championship.

Mangrum is a hard, netveless character on the golf course but he must have blanched at the steady stream of pars and birdies flung at him and George Fazio in the extra round.

Mangrum Gets Penalty

Hogan, moving briskly on legs once battered in a collision with a ten-ton bus, fashioned a mathematical one-under-par 69 to win easily.

Mangrum, 35 - year - old Texan playing out of Niles, Ill., shot 73, counting an unfortunate two-stroke penalty for blowing a bug off his ball, and Fazio, a balding 37-year-old home pro from Washington, D. C., registered 75.

Hogan thus picked up the strings of a championship skein interrupted by the auto accident Feb. 2, 1949, on a highway near Van Horn, Texas.

Legs Okay Now

It was feared he might never walk again. A year ago he had to navigate in a wheelchair. Early this year he essayed a comeback, on legs held together by bailing wire. Monday he is 1949 champion again—he won in 1950—and recognized king of golf.

"My legs are okay and I wish we could get everybody to forget them," the strong-jawed little man said after his victory. He resents pity. He dislikes being regarded as a freak.

He won the Open Championship, he said, not with his legs but with his head and a putter he started to throw away.

The putter he used in his blazing journey around the 6,694-yard, par 70 layout was a blade job he had decided to discard.

He picked it up in Memphis three months ago during an exhibition and stored my old brass putter in a garage back home in Fort Worth.

"I sent out an SOS for it and it came by air just before we teed off for the playoff round. I didn't change."

Marjorie Lindsay Is Trans-Miss Champion

By The Associated Press

DALLAS—(AP)—Marjorie Lindsay, who has the stamina and the shots to do it, looked toward the Western Open Monday, her first major victory—the Women's Trans-Mississippi Championship—in the bag.

Miss Lindsay, husky 25-year-old brunette from Decatur, Ill., Sunday swarmed to a 7 and 6 triumph over willowy Gracie DeMoss of Corvallis, Ore., to climax the biggest Trans-Mississippi of them all.

Miss Lindsay departed for her home and will go next week to Denver for the Western Open. She said she felt if she could continue to play as well there as she had in the finals here Sunday she had a good chance at the title.

Blistered Par

The pretty brunette blistered par 37-36-73 over the 5,856-yard Lakewood Country Club course with a great exhibition of driving and some sensational putting. The third nine holes in the 36-hole finals was a masterpiece. She ripped women's par by four strokes and licked men's par by three.

Women Pilots Take Off On Air Junket; One Is Eliminated

DALLAS —(P)— Women pilots, racing against time across the United States in the fourth annual "Ninety Nines" Air Race, were on the way Monday on the second lap of their journey.

At darkness Sunday, all 33 of the planes, hurrying from San Diego, Calif., to Greenville, S. C., were accounted for. They were scattered from Tucson, Ariz., to El Paso, Texas.

Three planes had reached El Paso, one Columbus, N. M., one Delaware Springs, Texas, one Needles, Calif., and 27 Tucson, Ariz.

Race headquarters reported that One entry was out of the 2480-mile race. Solo flyer Mary Packard of Vallejo, Calif., was eliminated when she came down at Needles, Calif., which was not a designated stop.

Odesa, Texas, is the major city sponsor this year with a contribution for prizes of $1,500. Greenville is contributing $300.

All planes must reach Greenville to remain in the race by Friday noon, June 16, Eastern Standard Time. Winners will be figured on an elapsed time and plane horsepower basis.

The Ninety-Nines, international organization of women pilots, said even the slowest plane should reach Greenville long before the deadline. Some of the contestants are professional flyers and some fly for fun. Most are married. At least seven are mothers. One is a grandmother.

Auto Race Driver Is Burned Fatally By Flaming Gasoline

ATLANTA —(P)— Skipper Hershery, auto race driver, died early Monday, 12 hours after he was thrown from his flaming car into a pool of blazing gasoline.

The 27-year-old St. Augustine, Fla., driver had sat in the flames Sunday, stunned and helpless, for about five minutes. All his clothing except his underwear burned off before firemen could get to him.

Hershery's modified stock car burst into flames on a curve on the eighty-first lap of a scheduled 100-mile race at Lakewood Park's dirt track. Out of control, the machine slammed into a fence, bounced back on the track and dumped Hershery into a flaming pool of gasoline.

Before a fire truck and ambulance could reach the stricken driver, course officials had to flag down the other cars. By that time Hershery had managed to roll over and was at the edge of the burning fuel when firemen got to him.

The racer, which stopped upright, burned 10 or 15 minutes before the flames were extinguished.

The race was called off at the end of 81 miles. Jack Smith of Roswell, Ga., was declared the winner.

A mattress in a residence at 305 South Lamesa Road was damaged by fire early Sunday. Midland firemen answered the call and reported the blaze out on arrival.

Four Persons Drown When Cruiser Rides Over River Spillway

PITTSBURGH —(P)— The raging waters of an Allegheny River spillway took four lives Sunday but rivermen who refused to quit rescue efforts in the face of terrifying odds pulled four others to safety.

One riverman, 50-year-old Old Wright, died a hero.

He tried desperately to save six persons who rode over a 11-foot dam in their 25-foot cabin cruiser 15 miles northeast of Pittsburgh.

The four who survived a night of horror were battered and beaten, inside and out.

They clung to the cruiser as it bobbed furiously in the foaming, swirling spillway. For seven hours they watched scores of rescue attempts fail.

A blimp, a seaplane and even men in a rowboat tried to reach them. Just as it seemed their cruiser would capsize, they were pulled to safety by the volunteer crew of a small river towboat piloted by a veteran skipper who willingly took his chance with fate. He won his gamble—and lost his boat as it overturned in the maelstrom.

Six On Cruiser

There were six on the cruiser when it missed a lock and went over the dam.

Wright and his boss, veteran lockmaster James Woffenden, went to their rescue in an 18-foot skiff.

The small craft was smashed to pieces and Woffenden and Wright jumped to the cruiser.

Then, one by one, the four who died began going overboard, Woffenden declared.

"It was a nightmare x x x I tried to get everybody to hang on tight and wait for help but it wasn't long before one of the women was swept overboard. The next was Hull. Then another woman fell in. Finally a man disappeared. That left four of us."

Authorities listed the lost, in addition to Wright, as: Mrs. William Fisher, 29; Mrs. Carol Kreis, about 30, wife of one of the rescued, and William Lahey, Jr., about 25.

The rescued were Woffenden, James McHugh, 24, owner of the cruiser; Charles Reilly, 34, and Jack Kreis, 28.

Four Persons Drown In Boating Accidents

CHICAGO —(P)— The Coast Guard has abandoned search for the bodies of four persons who apparently drowned in boating accidents in wind swept Lake Michigan Saturday.

Adella Verbello, 35, an employee of the Army Quartermaster Depot, was pitched off the forward deck of a small cabin sailboat when a gust-swept threw her a buoyant cushion but she disappeared.

The other victims of another mishap were believed to be Toby Baker, 20, of Chicago, Peter Teucher, 24, and his brother, Eric, 26, University of Chicago students from Montreal, Quebec.

New Atomic Missiles Pose Problem Of Adequate Defense

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The development of several types of long-range, high-speed guided missiles, now revealed to have atomic warheads, is so far along that the military planners have begun to do some serious stewing about the next obvious problem—a satisfactory defense against them.

The assumption is that if you've got a pretty good new weapon, it probably won't be long before the enemy will have the same thing. So you better start worrying about a defense. As it works out now, the development of a new weapon and an adequate defense against it are practically the same program.

Details and capabilities of the various missiles which are very close to what the services call "operational" are top secret. But certain general information has been revealed about them piecemeal. There are several methods of guiding the missiles which have been more or less successful. The "homing" type of missile is attracted to metal, heat, light, sound or a combination of them. There's the missile which is actually guided during the full flight.

But perhaps the most effective guidance system is the one that is pre-set or pre-aimed at a specific target. This system includes complicated methods for correcting errors of navigation caused by winds and other factors. It is most adaptable to high speed and long range. The performance of such a missile permits it to hit a target as well as a plane can by dropping bombs, be capable of ranges well more than 1,000 miles and be able to travel at supersonic speeds.

Surprise Attack
It is this latter type of guided missile which has the defense experts most concerned. It's the one the enemy most likely will use for any surprise attack.

That description of a missile's capabilities makes it sound pretty invincible. Like the German V-2 which nobody knew was coming until after it exploded, what possible defense could there be against it after it was fired? The answer to this part of the problem has been found in the development of the missile itself, the experts admit.

If a missile travels 3,000 miles per hour, an anti-missile missile has to travel a little faster to knock it out. The defensive missile can be of much shorter range, so it wouldn't be hard to give it that extra speed, the experts say. But how could you ever hit a missile going 3,000 miles an hour?

And that, too, is no technical obstacle, they say. The same electronics gear that sends a missile unerringly to a target can be adapted to send an anti-missile to it. This involves homing devices. The way the planners have sized it up, the problem gets more complicated in the other direction, not in getting a missile which will knock out another missile, but on the ground, waiting for an attack.

It's obvious that any anti-missile, missile, to be effective, would have to be sitting on the ground, loaded, cocked and connected to a radar device which automatically would fire it when the enemy's missile came in range. Human reflexes would be too slow in any of these stages to be any good.

Thus, the final human decision to be made in any guided missile defense system is when to have the radar turned on. And that gets into an evaluation of the available intelligence information or the tenuousness of an international situation, which is getting away from the strictly military aspects of a missile defense.

In the last analysis, the really limiting factor in setting up a defense against guided missiles is national economy. All the elaborate and complicated electronic devices and radar which are involved in such a defense are fantastically expensive. It's many times more costly than any comparably adequate defense Uncle Sam has ever provided for its citizens before.

If hard realities force the start of such a project, the problem would be to decide what cities or areas would have to be protected first. The prospect of putting a simple radar screen for airplanes along the West Coast staggers the government budgeteers now. With such a screen as only the most elementary part of a missile defense system, how much would it cost?

That question, the military planners hope they are never alive to have to face. As one of them admits:

"The guided missile is the first weapon ever developed for which there is really only one defense, no matter how you analyze it. And that is world peace."

Science Seeks Cause Of Fire-Fly's Glow

OAK RIDGE, TENN.—(AP)—Science wants to know what makes a fire-fly glow.

Dr. Bernard L. Strehler, a Johns Hopkins University scientist, has ordered 100,000 fireflies to try to find out.

He told Oak Ridge youngsters he'd pay 25 cents per 100 for all the live lightning bugs they bring in.

Scientists know a substance called luciferin causes the fireflies to glow, but they don't know how the bugs make the stuff.

"That's what we want to find out," Dr. Strehler said. "I think this research should be very enlightening."

The scientist said he came here because of a plentiful supply of lightning bugs in this area and Oak Ridge's excellent biology laboratory.

Reds Not Involved In Boston Robbery

WASHINGTON — (AP) — FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover has told Congress his agency has been "looking very carefully" for an evidence linking Communists with the recent million-dollar robbery of the Brinks Armored Car Service in Boston.

While he said "that would be a very fine sum of money to have available for subversive purposes," Hoover added that the FBI has turned up no evidence thus far that Communists were behind the robbery.

East Germans Talk War In Defense Of Cession To Poland

BERLIN — (AP) — A Soviet occupation newspaper threatened Sunday that "any attempt to annul Poland's annexation of German territory would provoke a new war."

The comment, in the official organ of the Soviet control commission, Taegliche Rundschau, termed the Oder-Neisse River border between Poland and East Germany as "the final and enduring frontier of peace."

Both the West German government and the Western Allies have assailed the announcement last Wednesday that the East German and Polish governments had agreed on the river line as the "permanent" boundary. The line cedes to Poland 35,986 square miles of former German territory which Poland had administered under the Potsdam Agreement.

West Disagrees
The Western Allies contend that the final fate of this territory must be decided in the German peace treaty.

The United States had refused to recognize the Oder-Neisse line, because "it intended at a given time to make the unclarified frontier the occasion for a third world war, as Hitler used the Polish Corridor."

Western Allied sources termed the newspaper's charges a new attempt to convince the Soviet bloc countries that Western nations are preparing armed aggression against them.

Meanwhile at Fulda, in West Germany, 50,000 refugees from the former Polish-occupied section of Germany and from Czechoslovakia staged a protest march and rally against the Polish-East German agreement. No incidents were reported.

Malaya Hopes For New Ore Market

SINGAPORE — (AP) — Malaya's largest iron mine has sent Britain a trial shipment of ore in the hopes of developing a new market. Operated by the Eastern Mining and Metals Company, Ltd., the mine, formerly Japanese-owned and situated at Dungun, Trengganu state, north of Malaya, has sold 300,000 tons of ore to Japan this year.

Malayan iron ore is of a higher grade than that now mined in England. Malaya is the only country in the Far East now producing iron ore.

Texas has the largest number of counties of all the states of the Union.

Connecticut GOP To Nominate Slate For Showdown Fight

By The Associated Press
In a two-day convention this week, Connecticut Republicans pick a slate of candidates for what may be one of the nation's hardest fought political battles next November.

Involved in the Connecticut balloting Wednesday and Thursday will be two seats that might well decide whether the Democrats are to continue to control—or the Republicans take over—the Senate in the 82nd Congress.

Also at stake in the November test will be whatever presidential or vice presidential ambitions Democratic Gov. Chester Bowles may be nourishing.

Although the advance picture is clouded, the race for the GOP nomination to oppose Bowles seems to lie between Rep. John Davis Lodge of Westport, Conn., and J. Kenneth Bradley, also of Westport, former GOP national committeeman.

Bowles is certain of renomination at the State's Democratic Convention July 28 and 29. Senators Brien McMahon and William Benton, the latter an appointee of Bowles to replace a Republican, are scheduled to be the senatorial nominations.

Connecticut Republicans regard Joseph E. Talbot of Naugatuck, former House member, as the likely nominee to oppose McMahon. They gave the edge to Prescott S. Bush of Greenwich, former head of the United Service Organizations, as the likely opponent for Benton.

Republicans sorely need to pick up two Senate seats in Connecticut if they are to make a net gain of seven to give them control of the Senate, where they now are outnumbered 54 to 42 by the Democrats.

The resignation of former Senator Raymond Baldwin to take a state court appointment by Bowles cost them one Connecticut seat last year.

Benton's defeat will be the chief objective of their drive, although they also hope to knock off McMahon. The Republicans are out to get Bowles, if they can, for they recognize in him a possible contender for Democratic presidential or vice presidential honors in 1952.

COAL TO STEEL

It takes 40,000 tons of coal to produce the power needed to fabricate the steel for a 35,000-ton battleship. This is a complete day's output for more than 6700 coal miners.

Oldest known printed book was produced in China in the year 868, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Have A Laugh

By BOYCE HOUSE

Simkins was explaining how things were in his home. "My wife and I agreed at the very beginning, when we were married four years ago, that she should have her way on the little things and I should have my way on the big things," he said.

"How has it worked out?" "Well," Simkins responded, "so far no big things have arisen." The first American clocks were made of wood.
