Secret Amerasia Testimony Revealed

BAZOOKA EFFORT FAILS—Maj. Alexander B. Welcher sights down the barrel of a 75-millimeter rifle as the Army prepares to try to help control a burning oil well near Big Spring. After five shots failed to cut the well casing, the Army crew sent back to Fort Hood for more ammunition.

Bazooka Blasts But Oil Well Blazes On

BIG SPRING—(AP)—An Army team blasted away with a 75-millimeter rifle Saturday at a blazing oil well but failed to cut its casing in two. The soldiers ran out of ammunition after five rounds from their recoilless rifle, a two-man anti-tank weapon. More ammunition was being rushed to the well 25 miles northeast of here for another try.

However, oil men said they believed that even though the casing had not been cut completely, the blasts from the rifle had opened up the flow of blazing gas and oil somewhat. Operators of the well—the No. 1 Pan-American Holley—say that if the casing can be blown apart, the well's rotary table can be removed. This would let flames shoot directly skyward and simplify fire fighting operations at the base of the well.

Professional fire fighters haven't been able to put out the blaze. It has been roaring since the well blew out more than a week ago, killing one man. The rotary table is deflecting the burning oil downward. This causes the fire to mushroom, creating an area that's too hot for fighters to work into. The Army team, which flew from Fort Hood, is headed by Maj. Alexander B. Welcher of Oklahoma City and includes Sgt. Fred McCutcheon, Sgt. Albert J. Gonsaulin, and Cpl. S. G. Nicholson.

More 'Last-Minute' Candidates File For Public Offices

Four more candidates for county and precinct offices filed officially with the Midland County Democratic Committee Saturday, last day for candidate filing. They are Louis A. Bartha, candidate for reelection as chairman of the Midland County Democratic Executive Committee; B. W. (Boots) Brown for commissioner, Precinct 2; Joseph A. Seymour for reelection as justice of the peace, Precinct 1, Place 3; and John Hemmingsway, Jr. for constable, Precinct 1. The filing deadline was midnight Saturday. Ballot positions will be determined at a Monday night meeting of the Democratic committee.

Governor Pays Tribute To Dads

AUSTIN—(AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers Saturday called on Texans to observe Father's Day, Sunday, in worship and by displaying the American flag. "It is the fathers who are looked to in the home, the community, the state and the nation to fulfill the obligations of civic and patriotic leadership; it is through their examples and teachings that our children's futures are moulded," the governor said. ## Decision On Billion-Dollar Tax Cut Near

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A crucial decision on a billion-dollar-plus excise tax slashing bill which may determine whether it is "veto-proof" is set for Monday. The House Ways and Means Committee will vote then on proposals for a $500,000,000 yearly boost in taxes on big corporations to offset the prospective revenue loss in

Income Tax Files Bared For Probers

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman Saturday tore the seals of secrecy off the income tax records of underworld big shots. The action handed a powerful weapon to the Senate committee digging into crime and corruption. Truman ordered all executive departments to cooperate with the committee to the fullest extent. He already had told Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn) he would do everything to support the investigation. The committee can call for what it wants in federal tax returns on income, excess profits, declared value excess profits, capital stock, estates and gifts for any period up to and including 1949.

No Pre-determined List. A committee official said it has "no pre-determined list" of names of persons whose taxes it wishes to investigate. "This just cuts through the red tape and gives us access to information as we develop our cases," he said. "The names we submit will depend on the developments." Many racketeers reputedly have been meticulous about accounting for all income since Al Capone got tripped up for income tax evasion. The committee's new power will lay bare the source of that income. Although income tax returns are secret, the law provides for their disclosure in certain cases. Truman said recently the War Investigating Committee which he headed in the Senate was given the right to examine them.

Dewey Not To Run For Third Term As New York Governor

ALBANY, N. Y.—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who has renounced further presidential aspirations, announced Saturday he would not run for reelection as Governor of New York. Dewey, 48, said he was tired and run-down physically after 20 years in public life and he probably would return to private law practice when here, 2714 Franklin Street. His second term expired December 31.

"I shall not be a candidate for reelection next fall," Dewey said in a one-sentence statement. The twice-defeated Republican presidential nominee added, however, that he would continue an active interest in public affairs. Meanwhile, a floodtide of Republican support swelled across the state. It was reported that Gov. Joe R. Hanley as the party's nominee for governor.

Hanley made clear he was a candidate and would make a formal announcement Monday. Republican state leaders had pleaded with Dewey to seek reelection. He returned to New York last Thursday from a three-week vacation ordered by his doctor, and privately told the state leaders Friday he would not be a candidate again.

Joan Edwards Has Been Unconscious For 17 Months

Joan Edwards, who was injured in an automobile accident Jan. 17, 1949, still is unconscious. The pretty, blonde, former employee of The Reporter-Telegram has been unconscious 17 months. Her condition is reported no better. In fact, her condition has worsened steadily in recent weeks. Miss Edwards is at her home in Rankin, where she is cared for by her mother. She was injured in an accident near Odessa during icy weather. One person died of injuries received in the accident. Others were injured but not seriously.

Metropolitan Austin Plays Second Fiddle To Greater El Paso

CENSUS figures showed Saturday that Austin's metropolitan area had a population of 150,881, a figure which offered some consolation to El Paso. A week ago, District 10 Census Supervisor John P. Manning announced Austin's city-limit population as 131,964. This pushed the state capital into El Paso's old spot as Texas' fifth largest city. El Paso turned up in the 1950 census with 150,000 residents or 1,961 fewer than Austin. But the state's westernmost city had 197,909 in its metropolitan area—37,538 more than the metropolitan figure Manning announced Saturday for Austin.

Parleys On Far Eastern Crisis Open

TOKYO—(AP)—Defense Secretary Johnson quickly got down to cases Sunday with General MacArthur's top officers on the United States defense position in Red-managed Asia. Detailed briefings on the military and political situation opened at 9:30 a.m. Johnson flew in Saturday night with Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the U. S. joint chiefs of staff.

Two briefings are scheduled Sunday, Johnson said. One presumably will deal with the military picture, the other with the Japanese occupation. Vital questions are an early peace treaty for Japan and continued American use of military bases here. The occupation commander's staff officers are expected to stress the need for maintaining present forces in Asiatic positions—or increasing them. Doubtless they will consider Soviet, Russian military concentrations in Asia which outnumber American forces in Japan about 10 to one.

MacArthur Not Present. MacArthur did not attend the three-hour morning briefing but he will be host for the Johnson-Bradley party at luncheon. "What goes on in the meetings here will be closely guarded, of course. Johnson's schedule still remains classified (secret) and officers would not say Sunday morning whether briefings had begun. It was common knowledge, however, that in addition to drivers, stenographers and others indirectly involved. Johnson told reporters at the airport, however, the conversations with General MacArthur and other officials this week would deal with "the entire gamut of things." Information obtained here will be evaluated at Washington by the Defense Department and submitted to President Truman. He indicated any recommendations probably would not be ready before August.

Body Of Texas Boy Found In Foothills Of Nevada Mountains

WELLS, NEV.—(AP)—Ground and air searches Saturday found the body of a 13-year-old Texan, Stanley Thompson, on the sagebrush-spotted foothills of the rugged Ruby Mountains. The youth, lying at the base of a desert brush barely one-half mile from the ranch where he was last seen, apparently had died from an accidental shotgun wound. Nearly 75 searchers, afoot and on horses, discovered the boy's body almost a day after he first was reported missing. He had been hunting magpies—a black and white bird found in great numbers near this northeastern Nevada railroad and cattle town.

Inquest Set Monday. Elko County Coroner Harold Peyer said the boy apparently had discharged inadvertently the .410 gauge shotgun he was carrying. The shot ripped into the right side of the abdomen, coursed through his body and came out at his left shoulder. There were indications, Peyer said, that young Thompson did not die immediately. The boy's tracks in the ground showed he tried to take a few steps before collapsing into a sagebrush. Peyer said he died sometime during the night from loss of blood.

The coroner called an inquest Monday morning in Wells, which lies approximately 11 miles north of the Clover Valley ranch where the boy was visiting. The youthful victim arrived at the ranch Thursday from El Paso with his mother, Mrs. Laura Thompson, to visit his great-aunt, Mrs. Dennis Schoer.

Iowa Lawyer Heads U. S. Junior Chamber

CHICAGO—(AP)—Richard W. Kemler, 35-year-old Marshalltown, Iowa, lawyer, Saturday was elected president of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce. Kemler was chosen unanimously on the second ballot. Two other candidates withdrew. The statement condemned the national administration for "robbing the school children of Texas out of their 'Tidebands'." rapped the Truman health program as the "first step toward socialized medicine" and blasted the FEPC.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

DALLAS—(AP)—Dallas, Texas' second largest city, has a population of 432,805, Area Census Director James W. Stroud announced Saturday night. This is an increase of 138,071 over the 1940 population, but is 52,095 fewer than the Chamber of Commerce had estimated the count would be.

TAIPEI, FORMOSA—(AP)—Gen. Chen Yi, once one of Chiang Kai-Shek's high lieutenants, was executed Sunday on charges of conspiring with the Communists.

MANCHESTER, VT.—(AP)—Stewart P. Coleman, a director of the Standard Oil Company (NJ), said Saturday night in defense of oil imports that the alternative to free exchange of goods and services between nations is potentially a "final explosion through armed force."

PORT ARTHUR—(AP)—Striking Texas Company employees late Saturday turned down an invitation to return to work, but Texaco said this wouldn't alter plans to reopen its refinery and marine terminal here Tuesday morning.

Naval Officer Named Theft Ring Leader

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Emanuel S. Larsen, a former State Department employee who was fined $500 in the 1945 Amerasia case, has sworn to Senate investigators that former Naval Officer Andrew Roth is a "real Communist" and was "the principal conspirator" in the secret documents episode. This was learned Saturday from the official transcript of the testimony of Larsen to a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee. Larsen testified he based his opinion of Roth, who also was a defendant, on "his presence right now with Ho Chih Minh, the Communist leader in Indochina."

Roth never came to trial, the charges against him having been dropped. Larsen gave his testimony regarding Roth, one-time Naval Intelligence lieutenant, at closed sessions of the committee on June 5 and 6. Some newsmen Saturday obtained a copy of Larsen's testimony, which has not yet been made public by the inquiry group. Larsen also told the committee, it was disclosed, that in his opinion Career Diplomat John S. Service's wartime reports from China "had a Communist slant." He added, however, that he does not regard Service as a Communist or as pro-Communist.

McDonald Seeks New Court Order

AUSTIN—(AP)—J. E. McDonald Saturday asked for another order from the State Supreme Court. He requested an injunction to stop preparation of the Democratic Party primary ballot pending the court's decision on whether his name should be ordered put on the list of candidates for commissioner of agriculture. The State Democratic Executive Committee voted unanimously Monday not to certify McDonald's name for the July 22 primary. They charged the long-time commissioner of agriculture with party disloyalty. The Supreme Court will hear arguments Tuesday morning on the question of whether McDonald has a right to seek the Democratic nomination. The court was not asked to act on the injunction request before the Tuesday hearing, said Clint C. Small, Austin, one of McDonald's attorneys. But McDonald wants the injunction—if granted—to be made effective by Monday, June 26. That is when five-member primary subcommittee of the Democratic Executive Committee will meet to make up the official ballot to be sent to the printers.

Flash Floods Bring Death To Four; Cold Wave Chills Midwest

By The Associated Press Flash floods that struck in Washington State and Ohio left four dead and well over $1,000,000 in property damage Saturday. A surge of polar air that brought freezing temperatures and scattered frosts to a few sections chilled the Midwest and spread eastward. A four-hour cloudburst preceded the Ohio flood Friday night. The Moxahala and Jonathan Creeks surged out of their banks and roared down a narrow Southwestern Ohio valley. Thousands fled their homes as the flood waters hit Crooksville, Roseville and about 20 tiny mining towns. A woman was carried to her death near Crooksville. A hot kiln was exploded by the flood waters. The blast set the Acme Pottery Company plant in Crooksville afire. The entire plant was destroyed. Superintendent Edward Shower estimated the loss at $1,000,000. Two Bodies Recovered. The Washington flash flood smashed a house near Pomeroy, about 100 miles south of Spokane, and carried away three persons. Herman Baden, 76, is missing and presumed drowned. The bodies of his wife, 68, and son, Carl, 41, were recovered. Carl's wife and two children somehow escaped. A cloudburst sent the flood roaring down a gulch into the Baden home. The gulch flows into Pataha Creek, a tributary of the Snake River. The cold Canadian air that spread over the Midwest brought an abrupt end to a warm humid spell. The temperature in Chicago plunged from 82 to 47 in a few hours and tied the record low reading for the date. Land O'Lakes, Wis., had a freeze, the mercury slipping to 25.

Truck Driver Held For Wife's Murder

DALLAS—(AP)—Paul Allan Carter, 32, was charged with murder Saturday a few hours after his wife was shot to death while officers searched for a man who had been seen outside their home at nearby Carrollton. Chief Deputy Sheriff Millard Swann said Carter and his wife, Jane, mother of four small children, had been having a family feud. Carter was the object of an intensive investigation searched by a dozen officers. He was found in neighbor's yard. Deputy Sheriff L. E. Lagow said the couple had argued because of Carter's irregular working hours. He was a truck driver. Mrs. Carter called Lagow and two constables waited outside while Carter went inside the house. He said he heard a shot, saw the lights go out, and then found Mrs. Carter's body. "I called her and found her in her side, lying in the living room. Carter was missing and the search for him began."

Four pairs of ... A ... Midland ...

PEARL HARBOR—(AP)—The huge Carolina Mars took off late Saturday with 144 men on a 2,000-mile flight to California. The Navy said it was believed to be a world record passenger load for that distance. The four-engine flying boat, biggest of the Navy's fleet of air giants, roared down the lagoon of Honolulu Airport and lifted slowly into the air at 3:30 p.m. (CST). Her destination is San Diego, Calif.

No Dramatics For Carmen —Just 'Zeep And Zoom'

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Exclusively Yours: It's all mangoes-and-cream between Carmen Miranda and her producer hubby Dave Sebastian these days. Anybody who starts any talk about sour marital notes is going to get boffed by one of the pineappleas she wears on her turban.

Carmen whispered to me: "Ees wawnderful weeth us. Pipple talk too much een Hollywood. Every-body fights. You must fight." She'll do another picture at MGM in the fall, then night club appearances throughout the country and bookings that will take her to London, Paris and Portugal in 1961.

Fais are advising Carmen to plump for the Bloody Mary role when "South Pacific" is filmed, but she doesn't think she'll have more luck as a Duse than Zazu Pitts had.

"Gosh, I haven't been to a movie in so long. I forgot what popcorn smells like."

Ralph Edwards, accepting his Golden Scissor award from the California Apparel Creators as the best dressed man in California, quipped: "I understand I just nosed out Lassie. They would have given the award to Lassie but they couldn't find a place to sew on an inside label."

Ralph says he won't do kinescope for "Truth or Consequences" when it switches to TV in the fall. "It has to be on film," he says. Casting switch: Marilyn Maxwell, who usually sports sultry gowns and lush hair-do's, is wearing blue jeans and plaid shirts for her role opposite Lew Ayres in "New Mexico."

"Illegal Bride," with a Las Vegas background plus Ginger Rogers, Jack Carson and Mercedes McCambridge, will be the second movie for Fidelity Pictures. Fidelity's first, "Woman on the Run," with Ann Sheridan, Dennis O'Keefe and Robert Keith, winds up this week. Keith, the one-time film writer turned actor, tells some fabulous stories about work in 1931 with Tom Mix on the star's first talkie, "Destiny Rides Again."

Keith's story conferences were held at Mix's home, which was beautifully decorated in priceless antique French furniture. But on the furniture Mix gleefully tossed saddles and other western gear. Tom's favorite drink was brandy and champagne and, after four or five nips, he invariably would announce to anyone present: "I'm in the best physical condition of any star in Hollywood. Why? Because I've never taken a drink in my life."

"The Private Life of Dr. Paul Goebbel's" will be re-issued on the basis of Producer W. R. Frank's theory that the Russian situation has made the film more timely than ever. It was re-titled "Enemy of Women" for its original release when the public was anti-war movie minded.

ACCUSED—Alfred Dean Slack, above, is one of two men arrested by the FBI in connection with a wartime espionage plot involving Dr. Klaus Fuchs, now in prison in Britain, and Harry Gold, Philadelphia hospital research worker, charged with giving atomic secrets to Russia. Slack and the other suspect, 28-year-old David Greenglass, are being held in $100,000 bail.

Statler Group To Build $10,000,000 Hotel in Dallas

DALLAS — (AP) — $10,000,000 Hotel Statler of 800 rooms is to be built in Dallas. Plans for the hotel were announced in New York by Arthur F. Douglas, president of the Statler group, and in Dallas by Fred F. Florence, Dallas banker and president of newly-formed Cosmopolitan Hotels, Inc., of Dallas. The Statler's board of directors authorized the action Friday at a New York meeting. The deal had been hanging fire five days. Under terms of their contract with the Dallas men, the Statler group will build the hotel with their own money. Dallas business enterprises will lend $1,500,000, which will be paid back at a regular interest rate.

Jo Ann Foster Is Wed To D. Correll

PECOS—Miss Jo Ann Foster became the bride of David Correll in an informal single ring ceremony recently in the First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Paul Wright, pastor, read the ceremony, the bride chose for her wedding the bride chose a street length dress of white embroidered organza, with which she wore a white nylon hat and white accessories. Her corsage was fashioned of red rosebuds. The bride is the daughter of J. B. Foster of Kent, and is a 1960 graduate of Pecos High School. Correll is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Correll. He was graduated from Pecos High School and later attended Texas Technological College, Lubbock. He is employed by the J. P. Stubbelfield Construction Company.

Deadlocked Jury Ends Dallas Trial

DALLAS — A deadlocked jury ended the robbery trial of former Dallas pawnbroker Thomas Schwartz, 43, Saturday. Schwartz is charged with complicity in the $21,000 jewel robbery of Mrs. W. W. Shortal, her Dallas residence February 17. The case went to the jury at 11:05 p.m. Friday after three days of testimony. When the jury reported District Judge Henry King asked it continue its deliberations, but the jury said it was hopelessly deadlocked. The judge then dismissed the jury. Dallas District Attorney Will Wilson said a new trial will be sought in October when another court term begins.

President Signs Half-Billion Dollar Armed Forces Bill

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman Saturday signed an act authorizing more than a half-billion dollars worth of construction during the next two years for the armed services. In the list are millions of dollars for super-secret projects not even identified in congressional reports. The legislation also authorizes funds, which Congress must provide later, for airfields, Army posts and Naval shore installations, in this country and other parts of the world where U. S. armed forces are stationed.

Cattlemen Report Good Conditions

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Cattlemen here for a meeting of Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association directors said Saturday conditions of grass and cattle were good and demand for cattle strong. The meeting was the regular quarterly one of the directors. Jack Roach of Amarillo, a vice president, said: "We have had some rain and it has helped conditions a lot. Cattle are doing well." Horace Fawcett of Del Rio said demand has been broad for cattle and sheep at strong prices. Reports of good range conditions and demands for cattle came also from Fred Hobard of Pampa and Price Maddox of Colorado City.

Garden City Postmistress Will Retire July 1 After 31 Years Postal Service

GARDEN CITY—At the time I took over here, the post office was fourth class with little pay—depending altogether on stamp collections and box rents for compensation," Mrs. J. L. Parker, long-time Garden City postmistress, said recently. "As the years passed, business increased, however, and on July 1, 1929, the office was raised to third class, thus putting my work on a salary basis."

Two Area Counties Exceed Quotas In Independence Drive

Dawson and Andrews Counties have exceeded their quotas in the Independence Savings Bond Campaign, according to figures released Saturday from state headquarters in Dallas. Dawson bond purchases totaled $41,137.50, 267.11 per cent of its $16,000 quota. Andrews residents purchased $2,723.75 worth of bonds. The county's quota was $2,000, making its attained percentage figure 136.19.

Andrews had led other West Texas counties on a percentage basis since the drive opened several weeks ago. Howard County still leads the field in total sales—$48,877.50, which accounts for 41.07 per cent of its $119,000 quota. Midland Sales Lag Midland County reported sales totaling $25,143.06, 13.45 per cent of its $187,000 quota.

Midland Youth Center Gets New Face; Open House Is Tuesday

By BETTY STULTZ
For the last week, members of the Midland Youth Center have had to find their entertainment in other places. The strictly teenage center has been closed for redecoration. Some new furniture also has been added.

Members of the organization, firms and individuals have been working hard to have the project completed for the open house Tuesday.

The center now has a western atmosphere, with the light oak western furniture arranged in activity settings. Different group activities are music, located at the front of the building; quiet games such as bridge, checkers and puzzles, placed to themselves; conversation and other activities in still another spot. If you are interested in reading and writing, the balcony at the north end of the former Cadet Day Room is the place. The room, to itself, has plenty of reading material on the book shelves and also two writing tables.

Wagon Wheels
The upholstery of a couch and matching chair has a green background decorated with wagon wheels and covered wagons. Another couch and matching chairs are finished in a solid kelly green. Mixed shades of green squares cover a couch and matching chair for another interior fitting. A red suite in the western style is to be moved in the building Monday.

Bright red draw curtains cover each window. The design features colorful ranch houses, fences and cowboys riding broncs.

The banister of the balcony is done in cut work. The larger squares are suspended in the air and are linked together in the center by a central post. The fence effect and north wall of the building are painted in a green wood color.

The girls' powder room is to the right of the front entrance. Red checks will decorate the room. Straight chairs are covered in a cream straw-like material. Also downstairs is a four-shelf magazine rack. Barrel type chairs are placed around the room.

One of the most popular places is the snack bar. Members work at the fountain. Cabinet space is built in behind the fountain along the south and east walls. Soft drinks are sold. Mirrors in silver and blue decorate the back walls.

A nickelodeon was purchased some time ago through the profits received by playing the machine. Profits now are used in buying records and other necessities.

A new sign and a barbecue pit have been donated and additional lights have been installed around the outside of the building. A tile wall and outside venetian blinds add more privacy.

Conversation
"The favorite activity seems to be conversation—just dropping in the center to meet new and old friends," Mrs. Ray Gwyn told the president of a service league in San Angelo who is interested in starting a youth center there.

Special nights including watermelon suppers, wiener roasts, amateur nights, square dances, formal and informal dances, dances following football games and movies are on the center's program.

Mrs. Gwyn, Youth Center director, said attendance is very good and disciplinary problems are few.

Keeping the center up is quite a chore since it is open six days a week and has more than 200 members.

Besides recreational activities, a moral and religious balance is attained, Mrs. Gwyn said.

PANEL OKAYS STERLING

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman's reappointment of George E. Sterling to the Federal Communication Commission received unanimous approval Friday from the Senate Commerce Committee.

Oklahoma Senator Posts Bond In Texas Will Forgery Case

NORMAN, OKLA.—(AP)—Fugitive bond of $3,000 has been posted by State Senator Orval Grim of Cheyenne, Okla., on a Texas charge of forgery.

In a hearing before Peace Justice Roland Hughes, following his arrest late Friday, Grim refused to waive extradition. The bond was required pending the outcome of extradition proceedings.

Grim and five other persons were indicted Thursday by a Lipscomb County, Texas, grand jury in connection with the will of Mrs. Mattie A. Sebitts.

The woman, who left an estate of between $200,000 and $300,000, died in 1949.

Lipscomb County Sheriff E. J. Tarbox, who filed the charges April 15, explained the case this way:

"Mrs. Sebitts will filed for probate left her entire estate to her husband, M. L. Sebitts, except for $5 each to Ross and Frank Guthrie, her brothers.

Second Will Produced
But a second will was produced last March 13 by Clyde Grim and another man. Clyde Grim is an uncle of the senator. The second will claimed found in a trash barrel on the Sebitts ranch—left the entire estate to Vivian Guthrie, a nephew of Mrs. Sebitts, with the exception of two $5 grants.

Indicted besides Senator Grim were Clyde Grim, Higgins, Texas; Vivian Guthrie, Edgewood, Ill.; Ross Guthrie, Cherravale, Kan., and L. L. Padgett and L. B. Thomas, both of Ellis County, Okla.

Senator Grim, who is campaigning for reelection from the Second Oklahoma Senatorial District, termed the affair an attempt by his political opponents "to belittle me in this campaign and keep me busy with a lawsuit in order to defeat me."

Another state senator, Joe Smalley of Norman, said he would represent Grim.

BUT HE HAD PERMISSION—Midlander Visits City 'Which Wasn't There'

By BOB PRENTISS
A Midland visitor to the "city that wasn't there"—Los Alamos, N. M.—describes it as a beautiful city, perhaps the most modern in the country.

George Walters, 208 South H Street, regional director of the Blue Cross Hospital Service for the Midland area, recently spent several months in the closely-guarded city, the center of atomic energy research, as part of his company's drive to reorganize Blue Cross in the state. Walters was assigned to canvass the isolated city of 10,000 for his company.

The reference to the "city that wasn't there" stems from 1943, when atomic research was perhaps the most closely-guarded secret in history. Then called the "Manhattan Project," research was being carried on in highly secret locations. A location was needed for further tests, and the location of Los Alamos was recalled as meeting the requirements.

The city lies 100 road miles from Albuquerque, in a sparsely-populated section. The city-site is on top of a mesa, with one approach. It is surrounded by the rugged Sangre de Cristo and Jemez Mountain ranges, in some of the most rugged terrain in the United States, Walters said.

The head of the Manhattan Project had attended a school there, and the site was investigated. The city was begun in 1943 and top atomic scientists went into seclusion.

Walters said mail addressed to persons in the city was addressed to a box number in Santa Fe, but the box number were told that the post office had no such box number, and never had had such a number. For questioning purposes, Los Alamos did not exist.

Security Not Relaxed
Following the explosion of atomic bombs at Alamogordo and at Hiroshima, the secret city's existence became known—but security was not relaxed.

Walters described his stay there, a kind of security checks being made constantly.

"There is one entrance to the city," he said, "up a long, winding mountain road. The entrance gate is manned by courteous guards, but they give the definite impression that they mean business.

"Once you have gotten through that gate—and it takes official permission from within the city to get in—you drive a mile along an empty road, lined by trees. Empty, that is, except for two fully-manned Sherman tanks.

"That is the beginning of the feeling you get from being in the city. I found out after I had left that I had been checked four or five times by FBI or security agents. Even in the hotel in Los Alamos, beds are checked to see that they have been slept in."

Walters said there was no "shadowing" or visible pressure, but the feeling of being watched is ever-present. Highly secret goings-on are kept under the strictest surveillance.

A large part of the city area is restricted, and guards patrol the area on foot, by jeep, by horseback and in planes.

As an example of the efficiency of security, Walters told of seeing an unidentified aircraft over the area—a forbidden zone for all aircraft.

Within six minutes from the time notification had been given at Sandia Air Force Base near Albuquerque, jet fighters were roaring over the area, and had surrounded the hapless stranger.

The pilot was forced to follow them to Sandia, made to land, and climb from his plane. Walters said before the pilot left his plane, he was surrounded by machine guns.

The pilot, during questioning by stern Air Force officers, revealed

And Now They Growl Together

IDAHO FALLS, IDAHO — (AP) — This is a children's story.

Once upon a time there was a little boy named Dallas Day, the two and one-half-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Day of Boise, Idaho.

He went fishing with his parents, but got lost. His parents searched all over and finally found him playing with his new friend, a "kitty."

The "kitty" was only a few days old, but strangely enough it growled and growled. Dallas growled right back and the two became great friends. Luckily the mother of the "kitty" was nowhere around when Dallas found his new friend.

His father and mother said Saturday they would keep the baby bobcat until it gets too mean to handle.

Recreation facilities for workers are complete and varied, he said. Theaters, little theaters, schools, a baseball park, swimming pools, a golf course and a civic club are among the features of the city.

Los Alamos boasts a fine shopping center for its population of 10,000—which is exactly correct, Walters said.

"The authorities can tell you to the last digit how many people there are inside the gates, what each one does, and how many live in each house," he said.

Construction of the city posed problems not ordinarily encountered by builders. Its location was perfect for security—but mighty hard on builders. Everything used in the city must be trucked in by mountain road. The city's water is pumped from the bottom of the mountains.

One commercial airline is permitted rigidly scheduled flights into Los Alamos, Walters said.

Nearby Primitive Pueblo
In contrast to the ultra-modern, super-secret city of Los Alamos, Walters found a city at the opposite end of the scale only 15 miles away. San Ildefonso Indian pueblo, famous for its black pottery, is an example of primitive living by a primitive people. They still indulge in sacred Indian dances, and live in a primitive fashion.

Asked about John Q. Citizen's chance of seeing the city, Walters voiced a firm negative. No one is allowed past the heavily-guarded gates unless he has verified permission from the authorities in the city.

"It is a beautiful city, but it is no place to try to spend a vacation," Walters said.

Walters, whose home territory is the Midland area, made the trip with eight other Blue Cross representatives from all parts of the country, to do the special job. He now is back in Midland, again representing his company.

But he is looking forward to returning to finish the job, and to seeing Los Alamos—the city that might as well not be there, because you can't get in!

Traveling Cousins Have Difficulties Staying Together

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO.—(AP)—Now they are riding side by side in the front seat where they can keep an eye on each other. Those are police orders. Officers here hope they don't get lost a third time.

"They" are J. C. Arendall and his cousin, Emily C. Neal, both of Danville, Va.

Arendall forgot his cousin in Colyer, Kan., where he had stopped for gasoline.

Long distance telephone calls home got them in touch. Arendall went back to Kansas. On the way back here they stopped in Denver. And police here got a telegram: "Please locate Virginia-licensed car. Hold at station until my arrival. Driver is Conway Arendall. Emily C. Neal." The telegram was from Denver.

She had been left there in a repeat performance.

The pair was reunited here. "Keep an eye on each other," officers pleaded, sending them on their destination at Gunnison, Colo.

As many as 6,000 teeth arranged in rows are found in some specimens of sharks. Only one set of these is used at any one time.

Station Pooch Is Ace Troubleshooter

NEWARK, N. J.—(AP)—A dog with a fine sense of auto mechanics solved Irving Morris' problem Saturday.

Morris pulled his car into a gas station and complained of peculiar noises.

The station attendant rocked the car, listened to the engine but couldn't find anything.

Then Pudgy, a brown hound dog who hangs around the place, took over. He reared up in front of the car and snarled ferociously.

That did it.

Out from the small opening between the front grille and the radiator scampered a howling kitten.

JEAN HILL of Fort Worth spent the weekend in Midland visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Hill, 902 North Big Spring Street. She is employed by the American Airlines and flies to Washington, D. C. from Fort Worth.

Checks Now Imprinted in Less Than 15 Minutes

The first bank in Midland to adopt a machine, which will imprint a customer's name on new anti-forgery checks in a new record time, is The First National Bank.

Instead of waiting the usual week or two to get a personalized imprinted checkbook, a person may now obtain one in less than 15 minutes.

The new customer service gives the pocket size book holding checks. In addition, the checks have a system of protective features to guard the depositors' bank accounts. They will scream "VOID" if ordinary ink eradicator is used to tamper with the writing on the check, and depositors and the bank are insured for up to $10,000 against loss resulting from chemical erasure.

Procedure for customers to obtain the personalized checks at the local bank is so fast and simple that it is usually possible for a person opening a new checking account to obtain his imprinted checks while in the process of opening the account.

Designed and manufactured especially for The First National Bank, the checks represent the most modern scientific protection of the customer's bank account and are aimed at defeating the most skilled of present day check forgery.

That check forgery is a major racket and a definite part of big-time crime is attested by losses—alteration of date, number, payee's name, or the stipulated amount of money.

The checks are printed in dark blue ink up on blue paper. Hidden beneath the surface pattern are hundreds of invisible impressions of the word "VOID." Use of any ordinary ink eradicator in an attempt to alter data on the face of the check results in immediate development of these hidden "VOIDs," cancelling the check, forever. Mechanical erasure leaves a glaring white spot which virtually defies retinting. It is the effectiveness of these safety measures which are guaranteed by the insurance policy.

The machine which makes possible the speedy production of personalized checks, was developed after years of research at a cost of more than a quarter of a million dollars. It was first unveiled before the banking fraternity at the annual convention of the American Bankers' Association a year ago.

The patented features of The First National Bank's checks were developed by one of the most picturesque scientists in America—Burgess Smith, who has been the subject of articles in national magazines. Formerly with the U. S. Bureau of Printing and Engraving, he is widely known as the arch-enemy of counterfeiters, forgers and other swindlers against whose activities he has waged a life-long scientific battle.

Whenever a forger develops a new dodge for stealing through check crimes, Smith has another trick in his bag to check-mate them. So far he has kept a jump or two ahead of them and says he intends to continue to do so.

Congress Hums Budget Blues

A hopeful congressional experiment, the single package federal budget bill, apparently is doomed to failure after a one-year try.

When leaders of both houses agreed to wrap all appropriations into one huge measure, they did so in the belief it might save money and valuable time. The theory was that the lawmakers would gain a much clearer notion of how and where to economize if they could see the whole budget pattern rather than isolated fragments. It was felt also that the plan would permit wiser decisions on taxation needs.

Some time ago House money experts voiced disappointment over the actual operation of the idea. Now Senator Lucas of Illinois, Democratic leader in the Senate, has taken the same tack.

Rep. John Taber, New York Republican, put it most bluntly for the House side. "It's a lemon," he declared. House leaders found it took just about as long to whip the single package appropriation into shape and steer it to passage as the old individual money bills required.

Debate on the House floor, plus consideration of countless amendments, consumed four weeks. Managers of the bill said too many House members became bored at this lengthy study of a single subject. Attendance suffered and important parts of the bill didn't get the careful attention they deserved.

The feeling is that budget affairs will get better consideration when they are served up in smaller morsels interspersed with more varied legislative fare.

Though the omnibus measure won't reach the Senate floor for a few weeks at least, Senate leaders expect the same month-long review of the bill there. They aren't anticipating this monopoly of the Senate calendar.

Because the new plan has not speeded up the appropriations process, Congress probably will have to resort once more to its now familiar device of passing interim resolutions to keep federal agencies going until money is voted.

The practical difficulties encountered by the single package bill constitute a hard fact of life for those who saw in it a real chance to streamline budget-making.

No easier to swallow is the conviction of experienced appropriations men that the omnibus bill's unwieldy character makes substantial economies no more likely than under the old system.

A simplified budget procedure looks no closer than in 1949. Possibly we must look for progress first at the real starting point—the framing of budget estimates by the various departments. Yet it's hard to imagine that their product will be any simpler until the agencies themselves are simpler in form and function.

The dilemma of Congress over the budget would seem in the end to be another argument for putting into effect the 14 major plans for government reorganization proposed by the Hoover Commission but still on the shelf.

Reorganization is no guarantee of economy. But certainly confusion and haphazard growth in government are an effective barrier to saving.

Oh, Yeah? So Glad You Told Us

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Moscow promotes "Partisans of Peace"; Our military program endangered by Russian propaganda plus war-weary world; Army leaks more atomic secrets.

WASHINGTON—It looks as if the Russians had gotten the jump on us again with a new propaganda twist. This one takes advantage of Europe's vast war weariness and the fear that Western Europe might be another bloody battleground.

The propaganda twist is called "Partisans of Peace," and it first began in Stockholm where a Communist-backed meeting adopted a resolution banning atomic bombs, urging international atomic control, and demanding disarmament. Paradoxically, international control of A-bombs was just what the U. S. A. long proposed at the United Nations, but was rebuffed by Moscow.

Wary Europeans, however, forgetting this, have grasped at the Stockholm appeal like a drowning man. Fanned by the Communist press and radio, "Partisans of Peace" rallies are being held all over Europe, and have even obtained the support of such leading non-Communists as ex-Premier Francesco Nitti of Italy.

Fanning the fire, Russia expects to pick up 12,000,000 signatures in France, 4,000,000 in India, 1,000,000 in England, even boasts of getting 100,000,000 signatures to lay before the UN General Assembly in September.

In brief, while we have preached armament and more armament, Moscow has cut the ground from under us by catering to man's craving for peace.

U. S. Disarmament Plan
Chief American leaders who forecast this are Senator Brewster, Euhon of Connecticut and his colleagues who introduced a resolution proposing that the UN Assembly call a disarmament conference, with the proposal that any money saved by the U. S. A. through disarmament would be spent by the UN for world development of peaceful atomic energy.

The McMahon group recognizes that such a conference could reach no agreement as long as Russia vetoes the American proposal for international inspection of atomic energy plants. Nevertheless the mere fact that we try for disarmament helps educate the world opinion for peace.

This columnist long has pointed out that the North Atlantic Pact cannot be built on arms alone; that people-to-people gestures of friendship such as the Friendship Train, the American Legion's Tide of Toys, and American letters must create the real foundation for permanent peace.

That also is why I have suggested to President Truman himself a whistle-stop tour of Europe, so the folks over there can realize that he is just an ordinary guy, capable of human emotions, human mistakes, and, above all, not the warmonger Moscow says he is, but a believer in peace.

Finally that is why I have urged that we spend the necessary millions to penetrate the iron curtain, whether it takes weather balloons, messages stuffed into sealed bottles or propaganda smuggled across borders to get the real story of the American people's desire for peace across to the basically peace-wanting people behind the iron curtain.

Atomic Leaks
When ebullient Secretary Louis Johnson get back from Tokyo he will find on his desk a letter from the congressional Atomic Energy Committee asking him to explain certain leaks regarding so-called atomic secrets, which aren't secret any more.

The committee has in mind recent statements about baby A-bombs, atomic artillery shells and atomic guided missiles.

Real truth is it will be several years before these are completed. But thanks to Defense Department leaks, the Russians now know we are working on these weapons and probably can develop them as fast as we can.

One of these leaks came from Army Chief of Staff General Joe Collins in a fact at all levels. His speech, officially released by the Army, was objected to by advance by the Atomic Energy Commission.

Just before the speech, however, news of the atomic artillery shells leaked to the press through the Associated Press, and the entire situation became so confused that the secretary of Defense State Early announced that the atomic shell story was "100 per cent wrong."

Thus the public was in the position of having one statement from the Army and a contrary story from the undersecretary of defense. Europe Worries Over War
All this caused the State Department to get boiling mad because Secretary Acheson, just back from London, had been urged by other foreign ministers to tone down American war talk. Before he even had time to pass the word on to defense chiefs, however, the furor over atomic artillery shells broke around his ears, and Europe now thinks we are more warlike than ever.

This plays into the hand of the growing "neutrality" group behind a desk. His speech, officially released by the Communists, which says he is right, that Western Europe should stick to its own knitting, not get embroiled between the U. S. and the U. S. R.

Note—Most people have forgotten it, but all major atomic secrets have leaked under the military. The Harry Gold-Dr. Fuchs leaks to Russia occurred when the U. S. Army ruled the Manhattan project. Also the accidental release of valuable information in the Smythe report was made by Gen. Leslie Groves. Finally, though civilians are now in control, the leak on atomic artillery shells came from the military.
Merry-Go-Round
Charles Murphy of Life Magazine from thing to get the lush royalties from the Duke of Windsor memoirs that he originally expected. The king has hired a smart lawyer who is whittling down Murphy's share of the take. . . . The entire memoirs of a king's life is worth $1,000,000. Part of it was planned research. The Duke couldn't remember many things in his past, so a staff of girls was employed to read old newspapers, thus refresh the Duke's memory. . . . It was the duke who conceived the series. Life did not approach him. He had read Murphy's story of Winston Churchill, thought it was the most human portrayal he had ever read, so called Life to have Murphy do the same job on him. . . . The fact that Senator Cain, the real estate filibusterer from Washington State, is wined and dined by Morris Cafritz, has not been lost on Senate colleagues. Cafritz is the capital's biggest real estate man; Cain was elected by the Real Estate lobby. . . . Cain, incidentally, never will be reelected. The king's back home have got wise to the congressional Atomic Energy Committee asking him to explain certain leaks regarding so-called atomic secrets, which aren't secret any more.

The committee has in mind recent statements about baby A-bombs, atomic artillery shells and atomic guided missiles. Real truth is it will be several years before these are completed. But thanks to Defense Department leaks, the Russians now know we are working on these weapons and probably can develop them as fast as we can.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
"We have a problem as to the correct percentage play," writes a Dallas reader. "The argument developed as a result of this hand."
West opened the ten of spades, dummy played the king, and East won with the ace. East led the queen of spades at the second trick and South ruffed. "South next laid down the king of hearts, and continued with the ten of hearts. West played a low trump both times, and South had to decide whether or not to finesse. "As you can see, a finesse would have enabled him to make his contract. Actually South put up dummy's ace of hearts, thus losing the contract. He even went as far as to give up a trump trick and two clubs.

"South claims he followed the rule that you finesse with eight trumps but not with nine trumps. North feels sure that the odds are in favor of a finesse through West, but cannot prove it. Who is correct?"
North is correct. When you have no information about the unseen cards, you follow the old rule that South quoted. The rule actually says "With eight ever, with nine, never." It must be emphasized, however, that this old rule applies only when you have no information about the hands of the opponents.

In this case, however, South had heard East bid three spades in the face of strong bidding by North-South. Would East do so with two losing cards in the suit that had been bid against him? As any experienced bridge player knows, East would be much more likely to bid three spades if his hand contained only one heart than if his hand contained two hearts.

The bidding and West's choice of the opening lead indicated that East held at least seven spades. This alone would cause the odds to favor a finesse through West for the queen of hearts. With seven spades in his hand, East had only six cards in which to hold an assortment of hearts, diamonds and clubs. West, with only three spades in his hand, had ten cards in which to hold an assortment of hearts, diamonds and clubs.

Admittedly the United Nations is an imperfect organization, but so long as this forum remains open there are cracks in the Iron Curtain through which some of our ideas will penetrate.
—Gen. George C. Marshall.

I still hope that the unity among all the Western democracies and Atlantic powers will ward off from us the terror and unspeakable miseries of a third world war.
—Winston Churchill.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

American Guard's Campaign Paid Off In Indiana Primary

By PETER EDSON
NEA Service Correspondent
ANDERSON, IND.—When the organizers of the Anderson American Guard decided to launch their good government movement to clean up local political conditions, they figured that the cost of educating the voters and arousing public interest would be about $1 per head. Madison County has a population of about 100,000. That meant a budget of $100,000 for a 15-month period—October, 1949, to December, 1950. This would carry them through the May, 1950, primary and the November election.

Actually, the Guard's executive director, young C. O. (Chuck) Harbaugh, says it has operated on something less than that. He estimates costs will be about $78,000. Most of this has gone for printing newspaper advertising and radio time.

The Guard's staff, in addition to the $12,000-a-year director, includes a research director, an auditor, a publicity man, two secretaries and a messenger. Headquarters is in the first floor of a big old frame house a few blocks off Main Street. It has a neon sign to make clear its location and its open operations.

The dues were put at $5 per family unit. The Guard now claims membership of about 4,000, in about 2,500 family units. That means about $12,500 from memberships. The Guard decided it would take no money from corporations or business firms. But several individuals have contributed $1,000 apiece, others $500, $200, $100, $50, $20, $10. Thoroughly Organized

It was decided to organize from the bottom up, instead of from the top down. There are 65 precincts in the 14 townships of Madison County. The average precinct had about 600 to 800 voters. In a few rural areas, the township was the precinct. In the city the precincts took in 10 to 30 city blocks.

The organization never was carried down to the block level, though that is planned for the November election. But there were neighborhood organizations, with one Democrat and one Republican in charge of every precinct. There were Democratic and Republican co-captains.

In 11 of the rural precincts, there were dirt farmer captains. But in the city it was the women who did the educating in the major league. At 9 o'clock in the morning, 2 o'clock in the afternoon, 8 o'clock at night—in schools, churches, private homes, over the back fence. All meetings were open.

The big show was the primary, and it was aimed at the May primary. What were the officers to be elected—what did they do? What were their salaries? How long were they elected for? What did a congressman do, a circuit court judge, the prosecuting attorney, the state legislator, the county clerk, recorder and commissioners, the township trustees, justice of the peace, constable?

Next, who were the candidates? Their names, their records? Here the American Guard decided to publish a "Voters' Manual." It is a 56-page pamphlet. I'm told that when the Guard took the copy for this manual to one Indianapolis print shop, UAW-CIO headquarters in Detroit called up the printer and told him if he took the job, he never would get any more union business. He passed it up. But another union shop took it, and the booklet came out with a union label.

Some of the candidates refused to submit biographical data for the Voters' Manual. Of 40 candidates who failed to make such response after three invitations, only six were elected.

CIO-Backed Candidates
One other statistic offered is that of 18 candidates endorsed by the CIO-PAC—15 Democrats and three Republicans—six were nominated and 12 were elected to office in the election. The CIO union papers blasted the Q—For what is copper named?

A—Copper gets its name from Cyprus, the Mediterranean island. The English word "copper," the Latin word "cuprum" and the Greek word "kupros" all come from forms of Cyprus. Copper has been mined on the island for more than 2000 years.

Q—When was the last perfect game pitched in the major leagues?
A—It was pitched by Charles C. Robertson of the Chicago White Sox against Detroit in 1922.

Q—Who was our youngest vice president?
A—John C. Breckinridge, who took the oath of office at the age of 36.

Q—Do dogs have fleas just in the summer months?
A—Fleas seem to be more prevalent in the hot months, but dogs harbor fleas at any season of the year.

Q—How strong is an egg?
A—According to tests made at Cornell University, the average pressure required to break an egg was 9.8 pounds, with the highest being 18.7 pounds. Pressure was applied from end to end. It was found that the pressure required for breaking was about three to four pounds less when applied to the sides of the egg.

CITIES BURN BURY RUBBISH
CHICAGO (AP)—Most cities get rid of refuse by burning it and using it to fill in low or excavated land. The American Public Works Association reported this, and added: "Bill popular, but on the decline." The old-fashioned method of getting rid of garbage by feeding it to the hogs.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

One Convert Gets Another

DALLAS—(AP)—Texas has made another convert—the brother of the man who was once judged the man who hated Texas most.

Jerry Halloran, Cincinnati, Ohio, is following in the footsteps of his brother, Ray. It all started two years ago when the Madisonville Sidewalk Cattlemen's Association sponsored a contest for the ex-GI stationed in Texas during the war who hated the state the most. Out of entries from every state Terry's brother, Ray, won.

Ray cursed the state for its freezing weather, insufferable heat, dust, mud, no pretty scenery and no pretty girls. After he left Texas he was seven months a Japanese prisoner of war. Only then, he claimed, did he figure out the reason why he'd been stationed from one end of Texas to another. It was to harden him for those seven months. Even then he figured Japan was easier.

Changes His Mind

But the Cattlemen's association changed his mind. It took three weeks and a visit to every major city in the state, steaks three times a day, and the state's prettiest gals. They wined and dined him, talked Texas and showed him Texas as a veritable paradise. The story hit the front pages of almost every daily in the country.

Jerry says Ray has talked of little else since. In fact, he talked so glowingly that this Spring when Jerry graduated from college he decided to see for himself. Staying at Denison, he's sailed and fished Lake Texoma. Dallas entertainment and dates, Texas steaks and scenery have confirmed further his brother's seemingly exaggerated reports.

"My brother really sent me down here to see if things hadn't gone to pot. They haven't," he says.

Jerry returns home Sunday after one week of Texas. Now he can sing a duet of this state's praises with his brother, the man who might claim title as the one who loves Texas most.

JayCees Announce 1950 Award Winners

CHICAGO—(AP)—Tennessee junior chambers won three of the five 1950 U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce sweepstakes awards for civic activities and projects.

The awards to local and state junior chambers were announced Saturday at a banquet for 5,000 delegates attending the thirtieth annual convention.

The congressman and his youngest boy, Richard, 10, are enjoying a glass of milk fresh from the faucet while the kitty named "Panther" awaits his turn.

Memorial Hospital Has Two Additional Staff Members

E. R. Andres, administrator of the Midland Memorial Hospital, Saturday announced the appointment of two additional members of the hospital staff. Jo Betty Donald, nurse-anesthetist, has reported for duty. John Linsco will be the chief medical technologist, Andres said.

Miss Donald is from Birmingham, Ala. She is a graduate of the Levi Memorial School of Nursing and did post-graduate surgical work at Poly Clinic-Hospital in New York City.

She was an anesthetist at Barnes Hospital in St. Louis and is a member of the Association of Nurse-Anesthetists.

Navy Man

Linsco is from Spartansburg, S. C. He was graduated from the United States Medical School in Washington, D. C., in 1927, and for the last 20 years has been an instructor in the Chelsea Naval Hospital in Boston, Mass., the Philadelphia Naval Hospital in Philadelphia and in the United States Naval Medical School in Washington.

He was in the Hospital Corps in San Diego, Calif., and the United States Naval Medical School in Bethesda, Md.

For the last two and one-half years, he has been with the Spartansburg County General Hospital in South Carolina, where he was instructor and chief medical technologist.

During his 29 years in the Navy, he received the Navy Cross in 1929, the Marine Corps Expedition Medal in 1923, and, during World War II, the Asiatic and Pacific Medal, the American Defense Medal and others.

Crash Kills AF Instructor, Cadet

BELLS, TEXAS—(AP)—An Air Force instructor and cadet were killed Friday when their plane crashed in a field near here.

Killed were First Lt. Clarke M. Wiseley, 28, of Denison, and Cadet Howard Buvens, Jr., of Albuquerque, N. M.

The instructor was checking Buvens in his final work in advance training at Perrin Air Force Base, Sherman, at the time of the accident. The cadet was to have been transferred to Williams Air Force Base, Chandler, Ariz., for jet training.

Buvens is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Buvens of Albuquerque. Wiseley, a pilot-instructor at Perrin Field for two and a half years, is survived by his widow and two children, who lived with him at Denison.

Five Arab League States Sign Treaty

ALEXANDRIA, EGYPT.—(AP)—Five of the Arab League's seven member states signed a collective security pact Saturday, pledging mutual help in case of attack.

Egypt, Syria, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia and Yemen signed the agreement. Iraq abstained. Jordan is boycotting the current session of the league council because of a dispute over Jordan's annexation of Eastern Palestine.

Potential Of 480.88 BOPD Made By C-W Kent Wildcat

Earl S. Heysler, Jr., of Dallas, and associates, have completed No. 3 Lohman, Central-West Kent County wildcat, six miles west of Clearmont, for a daily initial production of 480.88 barrels of clean oil. There was no water with the oil.

This new producer is two and one-quarter miles south of Caroline Hunt trust estate No. 1 Young, the discovery well of the Salt Creek-Canyon field. It is located 660 feet from north and west lines of section 114, block G, W&NW survey.

The potential gauge of 480.88 barrels of oil was calculated from an actual six-hour flow of 120.22 barrels of oil, through a three-quarter inch tubing choke. It followed a 12-hour steady flow.

The production is from section at 6,474-6,534 feet in the Canyon reef lime. The zone at 6,474-6,516 feet is producing through perforations in the casing. It had been treated with 8,000 gallons of acid.

The interval at 6,516-6,534 feet is producing from open hole. A 4,000-gallon acid injection had been used in that horizon.

Heysler No. 2 Lohman topped the Canyon reef at 6,470 feet, on a datum of 4,484 feet, to make it 217 feet low on the top of the reef to the same marker in the Salt Creek-Canyon discovery.

This well is one and three-quarters of a mile south of the nearest completed producers in that field.

Kewanee Discovery In SW Kent Is To Inject More Acid

Kewanee Oil Company No. 1-C Wildcat, Central-West Kent County discovery from the Pennsylvanian lime, six miles northwest of the Cogdell-Canyon field, and 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 3, block 4, H&CN survey, swabbed and flowed 132 barrels of 37.2 gravity oil in 12 hours from perforated section at 6,853-71 feet, after that zone had been washed with 800 gallons of mud acid.

There was no formation water. Operator is preparing to inject a 1,000-gallon treatment of regular acid through the perforations.

This venture is bottomed at 6,850 feet and the 5 1/2-inch casing is cemented at total depth.

Top of the Pennsylvanian lime which is producing in the Kewanee wildcat is at 6,850 feet, which is on a datum of minus 4,830 feet.

Further testing will follow the 1,000-gallon acid treatment.

Tex-Harvey Extender Flowing To Finish

Morris T. Spencer, (formerly Comanche Corporation), No. 1 G. B. Leach, Central-East Midland County wildcat, one mile north of the northeast side of the Tex-Harvey field, was flowing at the average rate of 12 barrels of oil per hour from pay in the Spraberry section of the lower Permian between 7,128 feet and total depth of 7,400 feet. Size of the choke through which the oil was being produced had not been reported. The extender is due to take potential test and complete at once.

The section making the oil had been treated with nitro glycerin. It has not reported having developed any water from the producing horizon.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 3, block 37, TP survey, T-3-S.

Glendale Completes C-E Midland Oiler

Glendale Oil Corporation No. 1 Weiner-Dixon in the Tex-Harvey field, Central-East Midland County, about 1 1/2 miles southeast of the city of Midland, and at the center of the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 9, block 37, TP survey, T-3-S, has been completed for a daily initial production of 312 barrels of 40.4 gravity oil.

The potential was flowing through a 10 1/4-inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio was 500-1.

The production was from open hole between the bottom of the 5 1/2-inch casing, cemented at 7,050 feet and the total depth of 7,400 feet. Top of the pay is at 7,075 feet in the Spraberry zone of the lower Permian.

The producing horizon had been shot with 788 quarts of nitro glycerin.

The oil produced on the potential test had a shakedown of one per cent water.

Peck Project Gets Pennsylvanian Oil

General American Oil Company and associates No. 1-E Peck, one-quarter of a mile south of the discovery well of the "Sweetie" Peck multi-pay field in the Southwest Midland County, 30 miles southwest of the city of Midland, flowed from the Pennsylvanian in a drillstem test at 10,159-342 feet.

Permian Basin OIL & GAS LOG
James C. Watson
Oil Editor

Peck field showed for production from the Wolfcamp, the Pennsylvanian and the Devonian, as well as from the Ellenburger, the section from which it was completed.

C-E Irion Project Gets Good Oil Signs

Promising shows of oil have been logged in Central-East Irion County at Wilshire Oil Company and Balboa Oil Company No. 1 Brooks, slotted 7,500-foot wildcat to explore the Ellenburger. The prospect was found good indications of production in the Leonard lime of the lower Permian in cores and drilling samples from 3,766 feet to 3,910 feet.

The zone from 3,766 feet to 3,886 feet was cored and the interval at 3,886-3,910 feet was drilled. The section from 3,910 feet to the current bottom at 4,000 feet is lower Permian.

Operators are now reaming down to bottom and as soon as that activity is completed they plan to run a drillstem test on the zone which has developed the indications of possible production.

It will likely be Tuesday before the project is in condition to run the drillstem test.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 21, block 3, H&TC survey. That puts the wildcat five miles southwest of Tankerville, and about the same distance west of the Clear Fork of the Clear River.

Elevation is 2,315 feet. Top of the San Andres is at 780 feet, which is a datum of plus 1,535 feet. Top of the Florietta is at 1,200 feet, which is plus 1,115 feet. Top of the Clear Fork is at 1,700, which is plus 615 feet.

The Wilshire-Balboa No. 1 Brooks, slotted at 3,833 feet in the lower Leonard, which is said by some geologists to be the same point as was found at 4,163 feet in Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Williams, deep dry hole several miles away.

On some correlations that is said to make the Wilshire-Balboa project approximately 350 feet higher, structurally, than the Stanolind failure.

Prospects Improve At Martin Wildcat

Prospects for making some sort of a producer and a discovery from the Ellenburger are improving slightly at the Texas Company No. 1-X State, Northwest Martin County, one mile north of the northeast side of the Tex-Harvey field, was flowing at the average rate of 12 barrels of oil per hour from pay in the Spraberry section of the lower Permian between 7,128 feet and total depth of 7,400 feet. Size of the choke through which the oil was being produced had not been reported. The extender is due to take potential test and complete at once.

The section making the oil had been treated with nitro glycerin. It has not reported having developed any water from the producing horizon.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 3, block 37, TP survey, T-3-S.

Houston Oil To Drill NW Terry Venture

Houston Oil Company of Texas is to start drilling in the near future at its No. 1 H. C. Tinson and others, which is to be a 10,000-foot wildcat to explore the Pennsylvanian lime in Northwest Terry County.

The prospect will be one mile west of the two-mound Lake field which produces from the Pennsylvanian lime.

Location is 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 396, block 97, H&TC survey.

Sunray Oil Corporation has patented its No. 2 L. S. Bentell from the B zone of the Strawn in the North Snyder-Strawn field.

Producing from perforations at 7,999-7,415 feet, it completed naturally for 369.28 barrels of 42.4-gravity oil and no water in 24 hours. Production flowed through a one-half inch choke.

The No. 2 Bentell was nonproductive in the lower, or G zone of the Strawn, so operators plugged back and completed from the upper pay level.

The new producer is bottomed at 7,604 feet. Five and one-half inch casing is set at 7,504 feet. Gas-oil ratio from the upper zone was 425-1.

The No. 2 Bentell is 467 feet from west and 1,979 feet from north lines of the lease in section 26, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

Chapman & McFarlin Producing Company has completed its second well in the Cogdell "4900" field in Central-South Kent County.

WASHINGTON OIL—House Subcommittee Calls For Voluntary Program To Reduce Petroleum Imports

WASHINGTON—A voluntary, industry program to reduce oil imports, sanctioned if needed by "quickie" legislation by Congress, is called for in a House Small Business subcommittee report which has been drafted for approval of the full committee.

The report admits that oil imports at the present level have hurt domestic oil producers and coal producers; it warns that if they continue to increase, serious harm may be done to the domestic economy.

But that way to correct the situation is not to hike tariffs to $1 a barrel nor to set up quotas on oil imports, the subcommittee draft explains.

To either of these would set a "rigid" and inflexible pattern which might become embarrassing to Congress and the oil industry in the event an abnormally cold winter or other development brought unusually heavy demands for petroleum that might go unmet.

Kerr-McGee Industries, Inc., has the rotary contract. El Capitan No. 1-A Connell well is 2,310 feet from north and 330 feet from east lines of section 8, block B-26, pel survey. It is slightly less than one mile south of the closest San Andres production in the C-Bar field.

El Capitan No. 1-A Connell well is 2,310 feet from north and 330 feet from east lines of section 8, block B-26, pel survey. It is slightly less than one mile south of the closest San Andres production in the C-Bar field.

L. N. Schooler of Colorado City has the rotary contract. Both ventures are to drill to at least 3,800 feet—unless they develop production in the San Andres lime at a lesser depth.

Amerada Spots Offset To East Vealmoor Pool

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Morgan Coates is to be a stepout from production from the Pennsylvanian lime in the East Vealmoor pool along the Borden-Howard County line, about 18 miles north of Big Springs.

The exploration will be 667 feet from south and 653 feet from west lines of section 14, block 27, H&TC survey.

That makes it one location east of the nearest completed producer at Knickerbocker.

Drilling to 7,500 feet, or production in the Pennsylvanian lime, at a lesser depth is to start immediately.

C-E Howard Wildcat Finishes As Pumper

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Louis Hutto, Central-East Howard County wildcat, two and one-half miles southwest of Coahoma has been officially completed as a pumping discovery from the lower Permian.

On the official Railroad Commission potential test the well pumped 26.59 barrels of 25-gravity oil, plus one per cent water.

The production was through perforations in the casing at 7,370-7,430 feet. That interval had been treated with a total of 6,000 gallons of acid.

Ellenburger Barren The project drilled to total depth of 9,347 feet in the Ellenburger. That some made water. It plugged back and set 7-inch casing at 7,680 feet. The sections between 7,430 feet and 7,680 feet were tested through casing perforations, but they failed to show for any production.

The production is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 4, block 31, TP survey, T-1-S. It is four miles west of the shallow Iatan-East Howard field.

Steputo To Central Scurry Pool Staked

Standard Oil Company of Texas has staked its No. 2-3 A. C. Martin in the North Snyder-Strawn field of Central Scurry County.

The No. 3 Martin will be a one-half mile northeast stepout from production. Drillsite is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 386, block 97, H&TC survey, and seven and one-half miles north of Snyder.

Slotted depth is 7,500 feet, which should test both the B and C zones of the Strawn.

In the Kelley-Snyder field, eight miles northwest of Snyder, Stanolind has scheduled its No. 1-1 W. R. Bell.

In Undeveloped Area Drillsite is in an undeveloped section on the west side of the Kelley-Snyder field. Exact location is 467 feet from east and 660 feet from south lines of section 396, block 97, H&TC survey.

Sunray Oil Corporation has patented its No. 2 L. S. Bentell from the B zone of the Strawn in the North Snyder-Strawn field.

Producing from perforations at 7,999-7,415 feet, it completed naturally for 369.28 barrels of 42.4-gravity oil and no water in 24 hours. Production flowed through a one-half inch choke.

The No. 2 Bentell was nonproductive in the lower, or G zone of the Strawn, so operators plugged back and completed from the upper pay level.

Senate Panel Sets June 25 For Report On Import Findings

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Chairman Neely (D-W.Va.) of a Senate Labor subcommittee looking into the effects of oil imports on domestic industry has set June 25 as the date the group will report its findings.

Public hearings wound up Friday after the group heard contradictory testimony from a major oil company official and the governor of oil-rich Oklahoma.

M. J. Rathbone, director of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, said the purchase of foreign oil is "clearly in the interest of the national economy." He opposed a move to curb the imports.

But Gov. Roy J. Turner of Oklahoma said in a statement read by Representative Albert (D-Okl.) that petroleum imports in the last 18 months have had a "serious" effect on his state, cutting into tax revenues and causing loss of jobs and a general business decline.

Neely favors curbs. Neely has made it clear he favors sharp curtailment of the overseas oil.

Support for his hand has come from witnesses representing independent oil producers, coal operators and mine unions. They have testified that oil imports have caused widespread unemployment and business setbacks in their industry.

They generally have backed a congressional proposal to increase the oil tariff from 10 1/2 cents to $1.05 a barrel.

Governor Turner, who also is chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, said that unless some such action is taken, the oil industry soon will become "decidedly unhealthy from the standpoint of employment, potential production and discovery of new reserves."

Rathbone contended that imports to date do not appear to have harmed the domestic oil industry. And foreign oil can be blamed for "only a small part of any unemployment in the coal industry," he said.

Disputing previous testimony that foreign oil is being "dumped" on the American market, Rathbone said his company sells the imported fuel oil at "precisely the same price as the equivalent product from domestic refineries."

Texas Has Banner Week With 219 Oil Well Completions

AUSTIN—(AP)—A banner week of 219 oil well completions was reported Saturday by the Texas Railroad Commission.

The year's completed wells total jumped to 4,847 compared with 4,034 a year ago.

Twenty-one gas well completions jumped to 195 total to 346, twenty more than for the same period in 1958.

Sixty-six dry holes were reported. Wildcat drilling resulted in six oil, two gas, and 32 dry holes.

Seventy-one dry wells and 17 oil wells were plugged.

The total average calendar day crude oil allowable as of Saturday was 2,390,210 barrels, up 10,981 from a week ago.

Commonwealth Pier, Boston Harbor, is 1,200 feet long, 400 feet wide, and provides berths for five 600-foot ships at a time.

RRC Designates 10 New Oil Discoveries In Permian Basin

Official pool designations for 10 recent West Texas oil discoveries have been issued by the Railroad Commission of Texas. The new pools and their discovery wells are:

Forey (Mississippi) field in Southeast Gaines County, discovered by Forest Oil Corporation and Anderson Pritchard Oil Corporation, No. 1 Paermer County School land survey.

Salt Creek (Canyon) field in West-Central Pecos County, discovered by Caroline Hunt trust estate No. 1 J. W. Young.

Connell (San Andres) field in Southwest Kent County, discovered by Drilling & Exploration Company No. 1 Wilson Connell.

Cogdell "4900" field in Central-South Kent County, discovered by Chapman & McFarlin Producing Company No. 12 D. M. Cogdell.

East Vealmoor (Canyon) field in Southeast Borden County, discovered by Farnsdall Oil Company No. 1 Wilson.

Durham (San Andres) field in Central Sterling County, discovered by M&M Production Company No. 1 Durham.

Cobb (Glorietta) field in Northeast Yoakum County, discovered by Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 1 Paul Cobb.

Abell-Beyerly pool in Central-North Pecos County, discovered by George T. Abell No. 1 Eyerly.

Abell-North San Andres pool in Central North Pecos County, discovered by George T. Abell No. 1-A-29 E. A. Hall.

TCI-Grayburg pool in Central-North Pecos County, discovered by Richardson and Bass No. 1 Johnson estate.

Governor Proclaims Swim For Health Week

AUSTIN—(AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers Saturday urged Texans to observe "Swim For Health Week" in Texas.

He designated June 19-24 as "Swim For Health Week" in Texas and urged campaigns to encourage swimmers to stay in protected waters.

Of 398 drownings in Texas waters last year, 267 occurred during the four warm-weather months beginning with May, the governor noted.

"Most of these losses of life could have been prevented if the victims had confined their swimming recreation to pools and beaches guarded by qualified American Red Cross life guards," he said.

ONE STORM DID IT ALL—A huge gully that would have taken years of normal erosion to create was ripped through a level field near Natirium, W. Va., by one furious rain and windstorm. Soil conservation officials measured the gorge at 320 feet long, 100 feet wide and 60 feet deep in spots.

Blair's Indians Drop Twin Bill

The Midland Indians will bring the San Angelo Colts home with them Sunday for a two-game series in Indian Park. Game time Sunday afternoon has been set for 3 p.m.

SAN ANGELO.—The San Angelo Colts grabbed both ends of a doubleheader from the Midland Indians here Saturday night, taking the first game 5 to 2 and copping the "nightcap," 6-1.

The Colts' Jim Price carved a neat two-hitter in the opener while his mates were combining Leroy Jarl for eight hits, Jarl, who usually finds the Colts batters to his liking, was tabbed for five runs in the third inning. The uprising was not all Jarl to blame. Manager Jimmy McClure allowed the Indians only five hits in the second game while his Colts were counting two runs each in the second, third and fifth innings.

Rotary Engineers Drop Shell, 13-5

Rotary Engineers led all the way in downing Shell 13-5 Saturday night in a make-up game of the City Major League. The Standard-Rendevous fracas was postponed. Tom Flournoy homered in the third inning for Rotary for the big blow by the winners. Leland Huffman collected a triple and double. Jess Barber doubled and Leonard Shepherd got a two-bagger to pace Rotary hitters, along with Flournoy. Pitcher Bob Dixon went all the way in racking up the victory. Bert David started on the mound for Shell but was relieved by Jack Smith. Joe Chappell hit for the circuit with two men on in the third, accounting for a majority of Shell's runs.

The line score: R. H. E. Rotary 13 3 10 x-13 9 3 Shell 5 1 0 0-5 6 4

Tigers Take Red Sox 2-1

DETROIT —(P)— American League batting champion George Kell drove in both Detroit runs as the Tigers beat the Boston Red Sox 2 to 1 Saturday to increase their lead to two and a half games over the Yanks.

The Tiger victory came as the second-place New York Yankees were bowing 7-3 to the St. Louis Browns.

Teddy Gray had to quell a ninth-inning uprising to get his seventh victory against two losses.

The Red Sox got a rally underway when Bobby Doerr singled and moved to third on Al Zarilla's double with one out. Pinch hitter Birdie Tebbets walked to load the bases.

Farnell Is Loser
Gray then struck out pinch hitter Clyde Vollmer and forced Dom DiMaggio to line out to Kell to end the game.

Mel Parnell was the loser. Detroit pushed over a first-inning run to take a lead which the Red Sox equalized in the second. The Tigers pushed over what proved to be the winning run in the fifth as Johnny Lipton singled, moved to second when Jerry Friday walked and scored on Kell's line single to right.

The score: R. H. E. Boston 2 1 0 0 0 0 1 7 1 Detroit 1 0 1 0 0 0 2 8 0 Farnell and Batts; Gray and Swift.

Junior Legion In Victory Over Jal

The Midland Junior Indians, sponsored by the Midland American Legion Post, Friday night whipped the Jal, N. M., Junior Gassers 9 to 5 in an exhibition game at Jal.

Bill Medart, ace right-hander, hurled a three-hitter at the Gassers. He whiffed 19 batters in going the seven-inning route.

Medart showed his best form of the season. M. A. Rose and Jesse Hatfield hit doubles for Midland, the only extra-base knocks of the game.

Dave Allen is manager of the Junior nine. The regular season will open Tuesday night at Indian Park with the Indians meeting the McCamey Junior Oilers.

The district has been divided into East and West divisions. The schedule for the West half of the district follows:

June 20—McCamey at Midland (night); Odessa at Stanton.
June 23—Midland at Odessa (night); Stanton at McCamey.
June 26—Stanton at Midland (night).
June 27—McCamey at Odessa (night).

June 30—Stanton at Odessa (night); Midland at McCamey.
July 4—McCamey at Stanton; Odessa at Midland (night).
July 7—Odessa at McCamey; Midland at Stanton.

Rebels-Roughnecks To Appear On NBC Opening Day Card

A special added attraction has been arranged for the opening day of the National Baseball Congress District Baseball Tournament here.

The Rebels and the Roughnecks, top teams in the Shorthorn League for boys, will play a one-inning exhibition between games of the scheduled doubleheader.

The teams play a fine brand of ball in league competition and will put on a top-flight show.

Black Indians Set For Big Tilt Monday

The Midland Black Indians are planning a big day Monday, June 19. A baseball game between the Indians and the Odessa Black Oilers will be the feature attraction.

John Hall, ace of the mound staff, will oppose the Oilers. The tilt will start at 1:30 p.m. in Indian Park.

The Black Indians have dropped only one game this season, that one to the Black Oilers.

ROWLAND WIN'S WOMEN'S COLLEGE GOLF CROWN

COLUMBUS, OHIO —(P)— Ripping four strokes off par for 15 holes, 20-year-old Betty Rowland of Rollins College Saturday won the sixth Women's National Collegiate golf crown with a startling 4 and 3 victory over Grace Lenczyk of John B. Stetson.

Cubs Outslug Giants To Win 9-7 Decision

NEW YORK —(P)— Home runs by Hank Sauer, Roy Smalley and Rube Walker paced the Chicago Cubs to a 9-7 victory over the New York Giants Saturday. Wes Westrum and Hank Thompson hit homers for the Giants.

The score: R. H. E. Chicago 9 3 0 0 0 1 9 9 1 New York 7 3 0 0 0 2 7 7 2 Schmitz, Leonard, Hiller, Ladd, Minner and Walker; Kramer, Hansen, Maglie and Westrum.

Prizes Awarded In Ladies Golf Event

Madeline Pomeroy won a prize for low putting on five blind bogey holes in a Ladies Golf Association event last week at Midland Country Club.

Frances Goodman, Louise Zonne, Gladys Melton, Sally Reeder, Mrs. Swanson, Charlotte Gaarde, Glennis Conine and Mrs. Yarbrough were other winning prizes.

Ether Howard and Marceline White carded birdies to cop honors in the event.

Golf for members of the association is scheduled again Wednesday.

Bums Clip Cards 10-2

BROOKLYN —(P)— Brooklyn, paced by home runs by Jim Russell, Roy Campanella and Duke Snider and the stout pitching of Don Newcombe, walloped St. Louis 10-2 Saturday. The win moved them within a game and a half of the front-running Cardinals.

The Dodgers supported Newcombe with a 14-hit attack against Howie Pollet, Fred Martin and Hoyt Boyer.

The Cardinals came on home runs by Red Schoendienst and Eddie Kazak in the first and ninth innings respectively.

The Dodgers lowered the boom on Pollet in the first inning, scoring four times.

Martin was touched for two runs in the fifth.

The victory was Brooklyn's seventh in ten meetings over the Cards. The Cards have dropped all five games they have played in Brooklyn.

The score: R. H. E. St. Louis 10 0 0 0 0 1 7 1 Brooklyn 10 2 0 0 2 10 14 0 Pollet, Martin, Boyer and Bucha; Newcombe and Campanella.

Pat Garner Upset In WT Fem Amateur

EL PASO —(P)— Mrs. C. D. Lee of El Paso Saturday upset favorite Pat Garner of Midland to move into the finals of the Women's West Texas Amateur Golf Tournament.

She nets Mrs. Sam O'Neal of Odessa in the 36-hole championship round Sunday.

Mrs. Lee defeated Miss Garner 2 and 1.

Mrs. O'Neal beat Mrs. T. R. Huestis of Odessa 4 and 3.

Mrs. O'Neal and Mrs. Lee are old opponents and Mrs. O'Neal holds the decision in each of their three previous meetings.

Miss Garner beat Mrs. Carl Mahan of Abilene 3 and 1 Friday in second-round play. Mrs. O'Neal defeated Mrs. Gloria Ezell of Midland 2 and 1. Mrs. Huestis eliminated Mrs. Sybil Flournoy of Midland 2 and 1, and Mrs. Lee defeated Mrs. Billie Dillon of Big Spring 2-up.

Collegiate Tennis Stars Fight In Austin For Tourney

AUSTIN —(P)— Jack Tuero of Tulane, defending national collegiate tennis champion, was rated No. 1 Saturday for the sixty-sixth annual NCAA Tournament beginning here Monday.

Tuero received top billing among the 66 singles entries but he won't be the favorite, mainly because Herbie Flam of UCLA and Earl Cochell of the University of Southern California will be on hand. Flam, seeded No. 2, and Cochell, No. 3, have been more impressive in recent play and hold higher national rankings.

Cochell and Hugh Stewart, USC, were seeded No. 1 in doubles play, followed by Flam and Gene Garrett, UCLA, No. 2; and Jack Turpin and Chick Harris, Rice, No. 3.

SPORT SLANTS

BY SHORTY SHELburnE

With all the attention—good and bad—the Midland Indians have been attracting here of late, you might think we have forgotten the Midland Bulldogs.

Not so, however. We have been keeping tabs on the boys. Each of them is pointing toward next season's football campaign. They'll be in shape when it rolls around, too, because all of them have found jobs at hard labor.

Houston Hill, Midland contractor, has employed several of the boys on construction jobs about town. He's interested in having 'em ready when September training starts.

Shepherd Roofing Company, Lee Thomas' Mattress Factory and several other firms have employed other boys.

All are drawing adequate wages for their work but the main thing from the football angle is that the work will keep 'em in top condition.

Reed Gilmore and Bob Wood have been tending on the new Methodist Church addition. Both report they are hard at it.

Stan Coker, the husky tackle who is one of the finest line prospects in history, is getting his weight down while working for a sand and gravel company.

Stan's dad, H. W. Coker, says the boy has cut down on his eating, too.

That'll help a lot in keeping his weight down. You'll agree if you ever have seen Stan eat.

Jimmy O'Neal, Larry Friday and Graham Mackey worked on a construction project for a while then did an about-face and started tearing down a building. Lloyd Mackey, a staunch backer of the Bulldogs, put 'em to work on the last job.

L. C. Thomas and Rusty Rutledge are "living by the sweat of their brows" and they'll tell you so. This pair is employed on another Houston Hill construction job. Jerry Culp is working for Shepherd Roofing Company and Charles Crowley is turning out mattresses for Lee Thomas.

Pete English and Dalton Byerley, slated to be the starting guards in next year's lineup, found work on farms.

Byerley didn't have to look any farther than to his old man, Ray, for a job driving a tractor, etc. In fact, he probably would have had it under any circumstances.

Pete plowed up a good portion of Midland County last week and is "laid by" for now. He'll be back in the field before long.

Dwane Bush and Jack Burris are others who found jobs without any trouble.

Bush took off to Indiana to get his but he's working. He'll be ready for a starting end's job next Fall. Burris is a backfield ace. He'll have to be in shape because a major part of the ball carrying is going to fall on him when the season opens.

The coaching staff is working, too. Head Man Tubboat Jones and Audrey Gill are doing this and that during the vacation period.

Red Rutledge and John Higdon are handling the Summer Recreation Program.

Keith Bobo, the new assistant coach for the B Bulldogs, just arrived and chances are he'll be introduced to a job shortly.

Pat Patterson, the C team coach, is playing softball in addition to his work.

So, football players and coaches will be ready for the season before it opens.

The Bulldogs look like a top-flight grid machine this year and it may be the best season since Wendell Williams kicked a field goal to beat Odessa back in 1940.

Win or lose, the team will be ready. That means a lot.

We have seen some in the past that definitely weren't ready and didn't ever get that way.

District Semi-Pro Tourney Opening Slated Saturday

Nine Teams From West Texas, New Mexico In

Nine teams definitely are in and a tenth is expected for the National Baseball Congress District Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament which opens a four-day run at 1 p.m. Saturday in Indian Park.

A doubleheader will be played Saturday afternoon and another doubleheader will follow Saturday night.

An afternoon twin-bill is scheduled at 1 p.m. Sunday.

The July 1-2 schedule calls for a doubleheader Saturday afternoon and a single game Saturday night, third day of the tournament.

The championship tilt and a game to decide third place will be staged Sunday afternoon, July 2.

The NBC-sanctioned event will be the biggest of its kind ever held in this area and will match the top semi-pro teams in West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

Teams Listed
Teams from Midland, Odessa, Fort Worth, Grandfalls, Ackerly and Hobbs, N. M., already have entered. The Kermit Oilers have indicated they will come in if a conflict does not arise.

The first round of play will be completed on opening day. The winning teams will advance into the championship semi-finals and the losing teams will go into the consolation bracket. Champions will be crowned in both divisions.

Regular Longhorn League prices will be charged for all doubleheaders and the championship games.

Teams entered in the tourney are playing numerous warmup games to get in shape for the title race. The winning team will be offered a trip to the state tournament at Sinton.

The champion also will share in the gate receipts.

Trophies To Be Awarded
A trophy will be awarded the runner-up team by the Service Club of Midland.

The championship trophy is awarded by Coca-Cola Bottling Company and the Midland Chamber of Commerce is awarding the trophy for the champion in consolation play.

First, second and third place teams will share in the gate receipts and all traveling teams will be paid travel expenses on a pro-rata basis.

Four Midland teams have entered the tournament.

Glaziers Stranded
The Midland Glaziers, sponsored by Midwest Paint and Glass Company, is one of the strongest appearing outfits. Frank Roberson, Max Harris and James Hill form the mound staff. Ash Hillin, an ex-pro ball player, also is on the club.

The Midland Cats, managed by Ray Williams, are close to the top from all indications.

Joe's Gulf will field a strong team and the Midland Colts will be a title threat.

Visiting Teams
Among the out-of-town teams, the Odessa Stars and Fort Worth Oilers appear the toughest. Hobbs has a heavy-hitting team with fair pitching.

The Grandfalls Eagles and Ackerly A's have capable men in their lineups.

Pairings for the first round will be made Monday.

Midland merchants and the Chamber of Commerce are cooperating in staging the tournament.

Jack Tabor Reported Improved At Stanton

STANTON — Jack Tabor, Midland High School football player who suffered a broken leg several weeks ago, is improving, doctors say. He is under treatment at Martin County Memorial Hospital here.

Tabor will be released from the hospital soon if he continues to improve. Efforts are being made to locate a wheel chair for him to use after leaving the hospital.

Prince's Home Run Gives Tribe Split In Twin-Bill

SAN ANGELO—The Midland Indians came back in the nightcap to take a 5-2 decision from the San Angelo Colts here Friday night and gained a split in a doubleheader. The Colts won the opener 7-0 behind the four-hit hurling of Indio Beltran.

Jim Prince smashed out a three-run homer in the eighth inning of the nightcap after the score had remained tied at 2-2 since the third. The powerful blow provided the winning margin and gave John Singleton his seventh victory of the year.

Prince previously had doubled home one run and scored another. He had three hits in four trips to the plate.

Patton Loser
Glen Patton hurled beautiful ball in the early innings of the first tilt but weakened at other times to allow the Colts to bunch their hits. He gave up only eight safeties but two of them were triples.

Singleton showed his best stuff in weeks. He notched six wins early but recently has been in a slump. He went the distance in Friday night's victory.

Scouter Hughes turned in some fine fielding for the Indians and the hitting of George Firnback, Lou Dawson and Mike Bellone aided the cause. In addition to Prince, they were the only Indians touching Derwood Cox in the finale.

NEW YORK — Although Zollie (Tugboat) Tot of the New York football Yanks once was in a car that rolled over four times, he doesn't rate the experience as harrowing as the thing that happened to his old LSU teammate, Y. A. Tittle, now with the Baltimore Colts.

Tittle's pants slid to half mast in the Mississippi game of 1947, just when Ya-Ya was in the clear and apparently headed for a touchdown.

THEY BROUGHT 'EM BACK—Joe O'Callaghan and Clarence Dixon, McCamey fishermen, didn't have to "tell about the big one that got away." They brought 'em back. The fish, ranging in weight from 45 down to 25 pounds, were caught near Del Rio on the Rio Grande River.

Women's West Texas Golf Association Names New Officers

EL PASO—(P)—Mrs. O. B. Stevens of Abilene is the new president of the Women's West Texas Golf Association.

Mrs. E. W. (Bill) London of Brownwood was elected vice president at the meeting in conjunction with the thirteenth annual tournament here. A secretary-treasurer will be appointed later.

Brownwood was chosen as site for the 1951 tournament.

New directors elected were: Mrs. Herschell Ezell of Midland, Mrs. G. A. Dillon of Big Spring, Mrs. E. L. Chilton and Mrs. C. E. Foster of Odessa, Mrs. Paul Hill of Sweetwater, Mrs. Douglas Jones of Abilene, Mrs. Hiram Parks, Mrs. J. C. Hughes and Mrs. T. E. Patterson of Lubbock, Mrs. Pearl Ellison and Mrs. F. Langdon Koons of El Paso, Mrs. Carter Lindsay of Plainview, Mrs. Lucille Morris of Fort Worth, Mrs. J. H. Lockaby of San Angelo and Mrs. H. L. Lobstein of Brownwood.

The peninsula of Italy nowhere exceeds 150 miles in breadth, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

A LADDER TO OVERCOME INSINCERITIES

We now come to our ladder on which we may step up out of the pits of insincerities into the open light of frank and crystal living. (1) Relax in the presence of God with all defenses down. In this relaxed condition allow anything to come to the surface of your thinking with barriers all down. I want every inconsistency to be brought to the surface, however disagreeable. Then let your mind wander at liberty across your life. Let it fasten on any place of insincerity it will.

(2) Recognize insincerities for what they are—don't rationalize them into something else. The mind is a part of the ego, whose function is to defend the ego against the truth. It will immediately leap to the defense. It will push its tentacles in all directions to find reasons, clumsy or clever, to explain why. Reasoning is usually finding reasons to justify one's own emotions. We think with our emotions. The mind will gather flowers from everywhere, and place them on the sore spot, to prove that the sore spot is a garden and not what it is—a dung heap.

(3) If you are not to rationalize insincerities, neither are you to rationalize them. On the bottom of an art object given to an institution, I saw an inscription written so that everyone could see: "Thine, O Lord, be the glory forever. Presented by..." It was obvious that the first phrase was a pious religious frontage to justify the obvious intention of the donor—to get a good share of the "glory" for himself.

(4) Don't confess marginal insincerities and sins and leave the central ones untouched. This is a very definite tendency. I have seen people confess to impatience when they ought to confess to an egocentric life; to unkindness to someone when they should confess to wholesale exploitation and greed; to an unkind deed when the whole life is filled with unkind attitudes. Someone defended Hitler because he did not drink or smoke. O God, I am boring deep—help me to be relentless. When my drill strikes hard resistances, help me to go through. For I want to strike the clear living water of Thy presence and power. Save me from stopping this side of the In Jesus' name. Amen. ### PORK ROAST

When buying a pork roast, allow one pound for each half pound of meat and bone for every serving. Roasts of three pounds or more from the leg, rib, loin, shoulder (either bone-in or boned), make excellent roasts. Roast fat side up on a rack in an open pan at a low (325 degree F.) oven.

Bayonne, N. J., is the world's foremost oil refining center.

Pique costume accents (upper left) must be kept snowy white to add that crisp look to dark summer clothes. Laundry tricks make this easy. X marks the spot where the model (lower left) will sew snaps on collar to speed removal from dress. She stretches collar while damp (upper right) to cut down ironing time. Lower right, stubborn dirt in a washable hat gets the brush-off.

Tricks Clean White Things

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Sharp white touches that put the crisp edge on Summer's black fashions can take a lot of time in upkeep unless you bone up on cleaning shortcuts.

It's easier, for example, to snap clean collars and cuffs on a basic black linen or pique dress than it is to sew them on after each washing.

Wash new collars and cuffs before you sew on snaps to allow for initial shrinkage. To line up snaps on a collar with their mates on the dress neckline, basic collar in place. With a pencil or chalk, make an X on the inside of the collar and a corresponding X on the dress neckline. Rip out basting thread and sew one-half of the snap over the X on the collar; the other half over the X on the dress.

You'll speed up washbasin laundry if you suds white accessories before they are really soiled. Squeezing out fabric in rich suds is all that is usually required to float out soil. On washable pique hats or on the back of a collar, however, you may need to scrub with a soft brush to rout perspiration or make-up stains.

"Finger pressing" the fabric while it is still wet cuts down time spent over a hot iron. To do this, stretch the collar or cuff firmly along the seam line and gently across the straight of the fabric. This eases it back into original shape and size with less risk of shrinkage and fewer wrinkles to iron out. If your accessories are of a textured fabric such as pique, use a huck towel as a press cloth when you iron to avoid flattening the crinkly surface or putting a shine on it.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written For NEA Service

We have already discussed the general principle of freezing when the opponents make their initial meld before your side does. As with any game, there are three rules to keep in mind.

The first rule is: Think before you freeze. The second rule is: Think again. And the third rule is: Keep a-thinking.

The reason for all this caution is that during the early stages of a hand you can choose from among several different lines of play. One way is to sit tight, meld when you can, make a canasta quickly, and meld out. Another way is to compete for the discard pile without freezing. A third way is to go all out for the pile by freezing it. Once you freeze the pile you don't have much choice any more. In a very short time you will either have the pile in your possession—or you will be fighting desperately to get it. If it gets away from you, and the opponents have also melded while you haven't, the hand will probably be a major disaster for your side.

That is why you think so hard before freezing. You can afford to take a small loss on any hand. You don't want to take a really big loss. This doesn't mean that an early freeze is always unwise. It does mean that such a freeze is a dangerous two-edged weapon. Don't use it unless you're quite sure that you're not going to cut yourself. For example, suppose both sides need 50 points for the initial meld. The player at your left makes the first meld for his side by putting down three aces from his hand. The discard pile is quite small.

Your partner discards a black three, and the next player discards a five. After the draw, you hold the following cards: Joker K-K Q-Q 10-10 9-9 7-7 4. Should you freeze the pack by discarding your Joker?

No. This is a very poor freeze. It is true that you are discarding an eight-card hand, but you have no assurance that you can discard safely. Moreover, you don't know whether or not your partner can discard safely. To clinch it you have no reason to suppose that you can get the pack quickly. Your better play is to meld the Joker with one of the pairs. This puts you on even terms with the opponents. If you lose the pack soon, the chances are that you could not have saved it by freezing.

Q—I asked permission to go out, and my partner said "Yes." I made a canasta and got down to one card, which I was going to discard. The opponent then pointed out that I had not drawn. I drew, and then had two unmeldable cards in my hand. I could discard only one of them, so couldn't meld out. What should be done?

A—Discard one of those two cards and continue the hand. Your side must pay a penalty of 100 points when the hand is scored.

Home sunbath devotees will find sunlamps more effective when used in combination with heat lamps. Lighting engineers say the heat lamp causes a mild perspiration, which makes the skin more susceptible to the radiation from the sunlamp.

The economical way to get that necessary door or window frame is to give them your specifications and let them make it to order.

Bridal Gifts—

This is the time of year when showers and weddings create a gift problem. The right gift and the most welcome gift is a fine electrical appliance from CAMERON'S bridal themed collection of roasters, toasters, coffeemakers, egg cookers and other appliances. Ronson table lighters will also please the discriminating hostess. Something personal in a lovely dresser set or a flattering gift of perfume would delight the bride-to-be.

Ever Hear Of Narcissus?—

He spent a lot of time admiring his reflection in a pool of water. We don't advocate you doing that, but we do think it'd be a good idea for all men to look in a mirror once in a while. If their appearance isn't all it might be, something should be done about it. THE TOWER BARBER SHOP, in the Tower Building, and THE PETROLEUM BARBER SHOP, in the Petroleum Building, specialize in "hair washing about it." A haircut, shave, manicure and shine will do wonders for you.

Reputation—

Why not entrust your hauling problems to a house that is known for its careful work? CITY TRANSFER COMPANY, 213 South Baird, has built up for itself a reputation of integrity and service that is unequalled—it costs no more to get the best! The company specializes in hauling—no job too big or too small for these experienced men to undertake. ### Eddie Darnell is Married in Roswell

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Sawyers are at home in Odessa after their marriage Monday in Roswell, N. M., and a wedding trip to Suldoso, N. M. The bride is the former Eddie Juan Darnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Darnell of Midland. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. John Dawson of Midland.

The single-ring ceremony was read in the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Caraway. The Rev. Mr. Teder, pastor of the Roswell Presbyterian Church, officiated. The background was a flower-covered arch flanked with candelabra and baskets of white gladiolus.

Mrs. Richard Rowan of Austin was her sister's only attendant. Caraway was best man. Susan and Alan Caraway lighted candles. Mrs. John Herring played wedding music and accompanied Jack Deason, who sang "Through the Years," Youmans.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a ballerina-length white lace dress and white hat. She carried a white Bible topped with white roses. The matron-of-honor wore a sky-blue lace dress and white accessories. Her bouquet was of yellow roses.

Mrs. Darnell wore a natural-colored silk shantung suit and toast-colored accessories. After the ceremony, a wedding supper was held in the garden of the Caraway home.

When the couple left for Suldoso, the bride was wearing a natural-colored linen suit and brown accessories.

They are at home at 1401 North Doty Street in Odessa, where the bridegroom is employed by the Superior Oil Company.

She is the former Loweta Wreyford and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McMurray of Kermit.

Area Political Meet Slated In Alpine

ALPINE—A "People's Day in Politics" theme will be followed in a huge open-to-all political gathering to be held here June 26-28. Dr. J. E. Wright, sponsor, announced.

The three candidates for Congress from the 16th District have been invited to attend the two-day session for personal conferences and addresses. Citizens are invited to submit questions they would like the different candidates to answer. The questions will be forwarded to the office-seekers in advance of the meeting dates.

Candidates for governor also have been invited to attend. Dr. Wright said the purpose of the gathering is to stimulate voter interest and to acquaint voters with the actual views and objectives of each candidate.

The public is invited to attend the political assembly.

For a salad luncheon serve peeled halves and cottage cheese on a bed of watercress or salad green. Add company the salad with sour cream or French dressing.

A FIRST FATHER'S DAY— 'Authority' Finds Dad Has His Day But There Are Other Angles, Too

By TANNER LAINE
Last year we couldn't write this story, with authority. Ah yes, but this year, we can—Father's Day!

If you want our authority to write this story, go out to West Parker Street and listen. You will hear that five-month-old authority, but definitely.

He's no different from yours, perhaps. You Midland dads know whereof we speak. But these are precious days and one of life's best romances—a man guiding the steps of a child. A boy seeing the world through the eyes of a man!

And that goes for daughters and dads, too.

Father's day has rescued dad from obscurity. For 24 hours, he will be allowed to enjoy the illusion he still is the Grand Nabob. Mom and the kids will slip him a loud necktie and new slippers to go around his bread-winning bunions.

He will have two blissful weeks to enjoy them—before the first of the month arrives.

Higher Prestige
Anyhow, dad's prestige today is higher than it was in 1907 when Mother's Day was founded.

Mrs. John Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Wash., proposed Father's Day in 1909. She was one of six brothers and sisters raised by their father, William Smart, a Civil War veteran, after their mother died.

The Spokane Ministers Association sponsored the first citywide Father's Day in 1910. President Coolidge recommended its nationwide observance in 1924.

Looking over history, dad might conclude he's lucky to rate even one special day a year.

Back in ancient Greece, a festival honored Zeus, father of the gods. His sacred statues were crowned with laurel wreaths. But Zeus also was patron of human fathers. So dutiful sons anointed the then traditional gift to dad of a cluster of ripe grapes.

Pharaoh Ramesses II was Egypt's champion father—103 sons and 59 daughters. They battled so savagely over the throne that no succeeding Pharaoh dared have a large family. Champion father of all time was Emperor Mulai Ismail of Morocco, who died in 1727 at the age of 81, leaving 548 sons and 340 daughters.

The Bible records that King Solomon had many wives (700) but it doesn't record how many youngsters called the equivalent of "hiya, pop, you old rascal!"

Confused Nation
The only man to ever have 1,000 wives, apparently was Ram V. or King Chulalong Korn of Siam. When he died in 1910, he left 134 sons and 236 daughters—so many budding princes and princesses that the confused nation has been rocked by civil war ever since.

In our present day, dad's authority hits the bottom in West Africa. There, when a son wants permission to marry he asks his eldest brother.

Yep, pop comes into his own on Father's Day. Until he's a child, he is the father of a June bride. Then he is the forgotten man of 365 days, not just 364.

These aren't ours originally. However, some handed down 10 good guidelines to a safe and better world through father-child relationships. They are worth remembering on Father's Day.

Father-Child Guideposts

1. The wise father encourages a respect for other nations, an understanding of other peoples.
2. He gives his child confidence through the safety of a happy home.
3. He instills in his child that he is no better than others, despite any differences.
4. He is quick to offer a helping hand in times of trouble.
5. He schools his child in good sportsmanship and fair play—win, lose or draw.
6. He gains respect and love of his child not by force but through companionship and wisdom.
7. He encourages his child in community affairs, he teaches him the importance of good citizenship.
8. He instills in his child a respect for law and order.
9. He teaches his child that intolerance and ignorance are alien to a world of peace.
10. Through spiritual guidance, he teaches his child that greatness and goodness go hand in hand.

Far be it from us to tell you how to rear your child. We have our hands full.

What was that sound we heard from the nursery at our house? Coming, son!

★ TEEN TALK ★

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newscasters

Along with the birds and the bees and the flowers, the swimming season is upon us. Teen-agers are climbing into smart new bathing suits and dipping a ticklish toe in the salty brine or posing themselves prettily on pool diving boards.

All of which brings with it the inevitable word of caution. This one comes from Robert Hubbard, water safety chairman of the Brooklyn Red Cross, who says:

"Years of statistical compilation show that 70 per cent of all drownings occur within 40 feet of shore, and that less than one-quarter of our so-called swimmers are really proficient at the sport. Past reports from the New York City Health Department have indicated that the largest number of accidental drownings in the metropolitan area claim the lives of adolescent boys and young men, indicating that the show-off, seeking to impress his friends, is perhaps our greatest single beach-front risk."

Swimming Rules

Hubbard lists these "do's" and "don'ts" for swimmers:

1. Don't swim in unguarded areas.
2. Obey the instructions of life guards—immediately.
3. Remain in water of depth equal to your swimming ability. Watch out for holes in the lake or ocean bottom.
4. Don't attempt swims or stunts beyond your own experience. Better a live spectator than a drowned show-off.
5. Don't dive in shallow water or water of unknown depth. Broken teeth, bruised noses, broken necks or back and fractured skulls may result.
6. Swim with a "buddy," who will always know where you are.
7. Remain within buoyed lifelines or other markers designating safe swimming areas.
8. Don't swim immediately after eating.
9. If you get a muscle cramp, knead it. Don't become a stricken, but ask the nearest swimmer to stand by.
10. Don't duck or push others under water.
11. Don't swim for any distance unless accompanied by a boat.
12. Turn over on your back and float if you are too tired to return to shore.
13. Don't dive from a canoe or row boat since it can move out of reach before you reach the surface.

Woman's Place

Is woman's place in the home? Teen-agers seem to think so, even if mothers do not necessarily agree. Forty-seven per cent of the girls in reply to a question asked by Senator Scholastic, high school student weekly magazine, declared that a woman's place was first, last and always in the home. Sixty-five per cent of the boys felt that a woman could not combine successfully marriage and a career.

Most of the youngsters queried seemed to feel that cold greenbacks were not a substitute for Mom's nice warm welcome at the end of the day and good old-fashioned apple pie. You can have your ready-to-eat store foods, the kids want Mom's chicken dumplings.

Perhaps when these girls marry, settle down and rear their own families, they might have different opinions. Washing machines, deep-freezers, prepared bakery mixes have made Mom's life at home simple and easy. But it is enough to keep her busy throughout the day? Women who have too much time on their hands often wittle away hours at bridge parties, where at least conversation might be stimulating. Others find their way to psychiatrists for comfort, because they can't interpret that restless feeling.

Particularly today when so many women take advantage of a college education, they need some outlet for their accumulated knowledge, after marriage. If we are training women exclusively for the home, then perhaps college courses should be slanted toward home duties—efficient housekeeping, baby care and needlework—instead of the cultural and creative arts which stimulate woman's imagination.

Many women combine marriage and a career, successfully. They bring fresh ideas into their homes each day, and never are at a loss to keep conversation in an interesting vane.

Often the reasons for divorce cited by errant husbands is that their wives are too busy with the house and children to be companionable and understanding.

Billfold Cuts Purse Clutter

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

No woman can maintain a neat and feminine look if she carries a handbag overflowing with old receipts, keys, fabric samples, bobby pins, change, old ticket stubs and other odds and ends.

But eliminating this clutter isn't always easy. Certain things are essential—wallet, change, keys, cards and identification.

A new billfold which will hold all of these plus photographs is now available. Its difference lies in its design, which is intended to keep a full billfold flat and trim. This is accomplished by use of a gold-plated "face" which also gives the billfold glamor and provides a place for a monogram. It's the metal which keeps this carry-all looking flat and neat even when it's crammed full.

In addition to its other compartments, this billfold has a hidden flap for private papers or bills of large denomination.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drugstore and ask for 4 ounces of liquid D-cosmetin. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose belly fat and help regain slenderness, more successful curves if restful pounds are

lost. LOST 40 POUNDS

Traylor-Williams Nuptials Solemnized

Estelle Traylor and Roy Williams, both of Midland, were married Saturday in Albuquerque, N. M., in a simple garden ceremony in the home of her sister, Mrs. Roy Mathews.

She is the daughter of Mrs. L. C. Kinsler of Sweetwater and his father is F. H. Williams of San Angelo. A Methodist minister read the double-ring ceremony.

Only a few intimate friends of the couple attended the ceremony. Mrs. Mathews was her sister's only attendant. Mathews was best man. Kern Ensemble.

The bride wore an ecru-colored afternoon dress of bound voile trimmed with ecru-colored lace. It was gathered at the waist and fashioned with a low neckline.

The only trimming was a gold mesh belt and her accessories were ecru and natural. Her corsage was a single orchid.

A small reception in the Mathews home followed the ceremony. Mrs. Williams will be entertained with a coffee later this week in Midland. The couple plans a wedding trip in July to South Texas and Oklahoma.

Both have been Midland residents several years. She is associated with the Llano Beauty Shop and he is employed by the G. B. Mayfield Company.

LIVING IN BIG SPRING—Mr. and Mrs. Grady Pulley are at home in Big Spring after their marriage June 3 in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Smith, 509 South Weatherford Street. Mrs. Pulley is the former Wanda Smith. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Pulley, 406 South Lamesa Road.

Sheer Blouses Call For Lingerie Check

NEA Staff Writer
This Spring's sheer blouses, in nylon or organdy, are designed to show off pretty slips. But this means that bra and slip straps must be immaculate and neat.

Lingerie must be in perfect condition to show off spring's sheer nylon and organdy blouses. held together by safety pins. Go through your dresser and sort out your lingerie. Mend the slips and bras that are in good condition and wearable. Discard those beyond repair. Then be sure your lingerie is kept snowy white. It's a good idea, too, to coordinate your blouse and lingerie colors. Pink bra straps peeking through a sheer white blouse don't carry the right impression of daintiness. The new white bras and slips which carry a tiny embroidered motif are fine for spicing up sheer blouses.

Denmark's Prince George To Marry British Divorcee

LONDON—(P)—Denmark's blond Prince George, whose name gossips often have linked romantically with that of Britain's Princess Margaret, will wed Queen Elizabeth's divorcee niece, auburn-haired Anne, Viscountess Anson.
The Danish Embassy here announced the engagement Saturday. It gave no wedding date. Prince George, acting military attache at the Danish Embassy here and a dashing figure in London's high society, said the wedding won't be before August or September. He is a second cousin of King Frederik IX of Denmark.
The viscountess was married to Viscount Anson, a major in the Grenadier Guards, in April, 1928. She won a divorce in 1948 on the ground that her husband deserted her three years before. She has custody of their two children, a son, now 11, and a daughter, now nine. The viscountess is 32; Prince George is 30.

Two Midlanders Named On State Youth Committee

Two Midlanders have been selected for membership on the Texas State Committee for the Midcentury White House Conference on Children and Youth.
They are Sheriff Ed Darnell and Mrs. J. Howard Hodge, prominent Midland clubwoman.
The state committee will meet at Austin June 23. It will review the work in Texas in behalf of children and youth and will select delegates to the national conference.
Each decade, since 1909, a White House Conference has been held in Washington under sponsorship of the President. The fifth conference will be held in December this year. Purpose of the conference will be "to consider how we can develop in children the mental, emotional, and spiritual qualities essential to individual happiness and responsible citizenship, and what physical, economic and social conditions are deemed necessary to this development."

BEAUTICIANS WILL MEET MONDAY NIGHT

The Beauticians Association will meet at 8 p.m. Monday in the Petroleum Beauty Shop. Reports will be given on the state convention held in Fort Worth recently. C. E. Koonces On Wedding Trip; Will Return To Midland Home

CRANE—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Koonce are in Carlsbad, N. M., on a wedding trip and will be at home in Midland after their return.
The bride is the former Billie Barbara Lovelace, who was married Wednesday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Lovelace in Crane. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Koonce of Midland.
The Rev. H. D. Christian, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Crane, officiated at the single-ring ceremony. Only members of the immediate families were present for the marriage.
Mrs. Charles Lovelace, sister-in-law of the bride, was her only attendant. Mr. Lovelace was best man.
White Ensemble
The bride wore a white linen suit with an Irish lace over-yoke. Her accessories were white linen.
A small reception was held after the wedding. A large, heart-shaped

Miss Reid wore a yellow and navy dress and carried yellow corsages fashioned into a colonial bouquet trimmed with white satin ribbon.
After the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Jerry Vaughn, 2701 West Washington Street.
Mrs. Vaughn received guests and Mona McGraw and Lois Shelburne were at the guest book. Lily Gilbert poured punch and Mrs. Armstrong, sister of the bride, cut the cake.
At Home
Miniature figurines of a bride and groom decorated the three-tiered, white wedding cake. Crystal candelabra, with bud vases filled with white flowers on either side, formed the centerpiece. White gladioli, Maroon daisies and other white flowers were used as reception decorations.
After a few days, the couple will be at home at 204 Wolcott Street. Both Mr. and Mrs. Odom are employed at Grammer-Murphy's, she in the office and he in the shoe department.
The bride's mother and Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong were the out-of-city guests.

Open House Is Planned For Youth Center

The Midland Youth Center will hold open house from 9 to 9 p.m. Tuesday, officials announced Saturday. The center has been closed recently for repairs and redecoration.

Senior directors of the center are W. S. Blackman, Raymond Leggett, J. J. Black, Winston Hull, chairman, Elizabeth Williams, K. C. Slough, and R. W. Anguish.

The youth council includes Emily Hamilton, chairman; David Anguish, vice chairman; Corky Moss, honor council chairman; Clint Morgan, vice chairman of honor council; Mary Ann McRae, secretary; Jo Dean Downing, reporter; and Lynn Griffith, historian. David Lavery, Phyllis Foyar, Margi Carter, Benny Stanley and Howard Drew compose the membership committee. The building and grounds committee includes Max Schafer, Mark McGinnis, Morris Basham and Grace Bales.

Richard Patton, Diana Daugherty, Sue Ann Francis, Harold Atkinson and Maxine Hill make up the program and decorations committee. The service committee includes David Weaver, Bill Eskine, Gail Baker, Dianne Anderson and Wilms Like.

Area Scout Board Meets In Midland

A joint meeting of local finance chairmen with board members of the Permian Basin Area Girl Scout Council will be held June 20 in Monahans, it was decided at a meeting of area officials here Thursday.

A finance chairman will be elected and plans for annual finance campaigns in cities not having Community Chests will be mapped at the Monahans gathering. Local drives will be conducted simultaneously this year. The budget for the area also will be discussed.

At the meeting here, reports were heard concerning new organizations in Andrews, Crane and Iraan. J. J. Black discussed preliminary plans for the enlargement of the Permian Basin Area Girl Scout Camp at Mitre Peak near Alpine.

Use Adhesive Tape To Erase Frowns

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

To prevent frown lines, stop frowning. Often you're not aware you're frowning when you concentrate. Soon, the tiny lines are permanent. Or you get lost frowns from failure to wear glasses when you need them.

Since frown lines are both aging and unpleasant, start to counteract them by making yourself aware that you frown. When you're at work, reading, sewing, or at the movies, remember to keep your face smooth and pleasant.

To remedy damage already done, try triangular adhesive patches. Then, while you take an afternoon nap or work in the garden, use one of these patches. Dampen the back with water, draw the skin smooth with one hand, slide the patch into position and hold it firmly until it adheres. Keep it on from ten minutes to half a day. These minute patches will help to eliminate small wrinkles and minimize larger ones.

When you remove the patch, be sure to cream the area which it covered.

For a delicious sandwich filling, mix half a cup of ground cooked ham with a half cup of finely cut celery, a small package of cream cheese and a little minced green pepper or parsley. Serve with lettuce and mayonnaise between whole-wheat bread slices.

Camouflage Poor Short Cut

By ALICIA HART

Hair that has been bobbed off not wisely but too well poses an awkward problem for the girl who wants to let it grow to a more flattering length. For several weeks, she's apt to find her hairline feathered with scraggly, uneven ends which are too long to look near

Midland Girls Go To Summer Camp

A group of Girl Scouts and Brownies from Midland will attend the second week of camp at the Permian Basin Area Girl Scout Camp located in Fern Canyon near Mitre Peak in Jeff Davis County, June 18 through June 24.

Intermediates planning to attend are Nannett Hays, Patsy Gale Peters, Connie Kinney, Jan Houck, Judith Roper, Marie Louise Spiars, Patty Ann Spiars, Betty Goss, Susanne Hood, Sally Gwin Glass, Carol Ann Beasley and Tori Anne Redden. Brownies include Joan Kinney, Ollie Dell Dawkins, Judith Orson, Peggy Lee Pierott, Gretchen Meisenheimer, Nancy Estes and Judy Beasley.

Valley View Club Elects Delegates

Mrs. B. L. Mason was nominated Texas Home Demonstration chairman, Mrs. Bennie Bizzell, a delegate to the state convention at Big Spring in July and Mrs. D. M. Bizzell, alternate, in the meeting of the Valley View Home Demonstration Club Friday.

Two visitors present were Mrs. W. W. Heidelberg of the Mabey Lease and Wandie Pain of Valley View. Members attending were Mrs. Joe Heidelberg, Mrs. M. E. Huff, Mrs. J. M. Davidson, Mrs. Bartlett, Mrs. Earl Pain and Mrs. I. J. Howard.

McCamey Party Compliments Bride-Elect

McCAMEY—Yvonne Gober, who was to marry Jack Randall Cook Saturday night, was honored with a shower Thursday in the Shell Recreation Hall. The wedding was to be in the First Christian Church in McCamey.

Hostesses were Mrs. Bob Turpin, Mrs. W. T. Thomas, Mrs. C. C. Roberts, Mrs. C. L. Cook, Mrs. H. R. Maxey, Mrs. I. M. White, Mrs. Jack Garner, Mrs. Lewis Woodward, Mrs. F. J. Hogg and Mrs. T. H. Hardin.

The bride-elect and her mother, Mrs. Ernest Gober, received guests, assisted by the hostesses.

Midland Bank Cites New Service Feature

The First National Bank of Midland Saturday announced a new service for customers—insured, personally imprinted checks "while you wait."

The bank has adopted a new-type machine which will imprint a customer's name on new anti-forgery checks in record time, bank officials said. A minimum charge is made for the service.

The machine which makes possible the speedy production of the personalized checks will be on display this week in the bank's lobby. Officials said the service represents the most modern scientific protection of the customer's bank account in addition to providing personalized pocket size checks.

Midland Delegates Attend Church Meet

Two delegates from the First Presbyterian Church in Midland are attending the annual Synod Senior Fellowship Conference at Moor Ranch, Hunt, Texas. They are Susanne Young and Peggy Charlton.

The conference will close June 22. The Rev. Robert P. Douglass of Houston is the director. The conference is sponsored by the Synod Committee of Religious Education, and is designed to give opportunity for fellowship, inspiration, instruction, and a challenge to Christian life and service.

ATTEND FUNERAL
Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Birkhead, Cecilia and E. P., Jr., were in Lamesa Thursday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Birkhead's grandfather, D. G. Hurst. Hurst, 85, is survived by his widow and five children.

Pecos News

PECOS—Funeral services were held June 14 for Mrs. Nellie Makine Hosie, 78, who died June 13. Services were held in the Methodist Church in Toyah, with the Rev. Paul Wright, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Pecos, presiding. Mrs. Hosie was a long-time resident of Toyah. Survivors include a daughter, Dr. Norene Rogers of Pecos, a son, Floyd W. Hosie of Albion, Pa., two grandsons and two granddaughters. Interment was in the Toyah cemetery.

Girl Scouts and Brownies from Pecos attending camp at Mitre Peak are Carol Lattimore, Janice Crow and Cynthia Ann Crow. Judy Elaine Hall, Sandra Kay Shaw and Dorothy Fletcher will join them for the second week of camp. Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Frewit recently have been Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Sanford of Jackson, Miss. Sanford is a nephew of Mrs. Frewit.

Union services are being conducted each Sunday night by the First Christian, First Presbyterian and First Methodist Churches. Services Sunday are to be held in the First Presbyterian Church, with the Rev. Paul Wright, pastor, delivering the message.

DELICIOUS SOUP

Use the giblets, neck and wing tips from a chicken to make a soup. Add a few cups of water, about half a teaspoon of salt, a few peppercorns, a small carrot and some celery leaves. Cover and simmer about three-quarters of an hour. Strain and serve with a little cooked rice, adding additional seasoning if desired.

ENDEARING YOUNG CHARM

Nothing seems more important to the adolescent girl in the family than having a room of her very own. It must be more than just a bedroom. It should be an attractive retreat where she can withdraw to dream and ponder. A study nook. A place to throw a slumber party. Above all, it should be individualized just for HER.

In the above sketch checked gingham and ingenuity have combined to achieve an effect as young as Springtime. One entire wall has been covered with blue-and-white checked gingham. (There's a special fabric paste for this.) The other walls have been painted a deep blue—a striking background for the gingham curtains with wide white ruffles, and gingham lamp shades.

Maternity Styles Go Summery

NEW YORK—Smart and practical maternity fashions adapt new Summer styles to suit the mother-to-be. Clever design insures a long life for these clothes after the baby comes. Sheer nylon printed in shades of pale green and yellow make the soft, full-skirted dress (left). This dress which boasts nylon's easy washability has a drawstring waistband adjustment cleverly concealed beneath the smartly-styled bow-tied sash. The practical appeal of wardrobe separates is combined in the ensemble (right). A white plique top is shown with a sleeveless pale blue blouse and navy gabardine skirt. The skirt which is cut slim and straight has two zippered closings on each side to permit an expansion of 12 inches around the waistline. — Kay Sherwood, NEA Staff Writer.

Beauty Sticks Strictly To Growing Iris

A recent article in the TESCO Roundup, publication of the Texas Electric Service Company, tells about a Midlander's hobby. The article:
"The average flower garden around a house usually consists of a varied assortment of flowers of many shapes and colors. Not so the flower garden of J. H. Beatty, Midland distributor stocker."
"Beatty sticks strictly to growing iris. He has approximately 50 different kinds of iris, each of a different color."
"One of his more beautiful plants is a yellow-blooming Old-Kala. Beatty says the breeder of this particular iris got the name from hearing some Greek boys trying to say OK. For the last three years, the Old-Kala has topped the list of the country's 100 best iris, as picked by the American Iris Society."
"Green Thumb"
"Beatty got his start from his father who lives in Waco and raises iris commercially. With his background and a "green thumb," Beatty hopes to enlarge his gardens even more and fill them up with the other 50-odd varieties, and maybe have a few to offer the people of Midland who like beautiful iris."
A picture of Beatty and some of his products was carried with the article.

Monahans To Host Big Square Dance

MONAHANS—The biggest dance hall in the world, the Million Barrel Tank, will be the scene of a gigantic square dance festival here June 24.

The open air stadium-like structure was originally designed to store oil but the walls cracked and it was abandoned. The local Boots and Calico Square Dance Club, under the direction of Jim S. Williams, has secured the use of the tank and preparations have been made to accommodate a minimum of 100 square dancing 800 dancers — at the June 24 affair.

Jimmy King's Square Dance Band will furnish the music and Ray Watson of Hobbs, N. M., will do the calling and serve as master of ceremonies.

Spectators may drive their cars into the huge bowl for a good view of the proceedings and the acoustics are such that every sound is clearly audible in even the remotest parts. Last year, at a similar festival more than 1,500 spectators witnessed the dance.

TO MARRY IN JUNE—Mr. and Mrs. James Jones of Stanton have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jo Anne, to Albert Dean Forrest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Forrest of Big Spring. The marriage will be solemnized Friday in the First Methodist Church in Stanton.

Some Workers Not Getting SS Credit

Some workers in Midland County are not getting credit for the social security taxes they are paying, according to George D. Clark, manager of the San Angelo social security office.

Employers are required to file reports every three months, showing each employee's name, social security number, and total wages for the quarter. A few employers continue to file reports without furnishing social security numbers for all employees. Some reports are incorrect because the employer makes a mistake in copying the worker's number.

"A few of the mistakes made in reporting wages can be corrected in our central office," Clark said, but most of them require correspondence or personal contact with the employer or the worker. If we don't succeed in correcting the error, the employee loses credit for his wages. This may reduce the amount of the benefit which the worker or his family will receive. In rare cases, it might eliminate the benefit altogether, since benefits cannot be paid unless our records show enough wages for the worker to qualify.

The employee can help the Social Security Administration to keep accurate wage records by taking care of his social security card, and by showing it to his employer whenever he starts on a new job. The employer can help by reporting the worker's name and number exactly as they appear on the card. Workers should be required to present official social security cards, since numbers stamped on metal plates or copied on scraps of paper frequently turn out to be incorrect.

Bible Schools Close As More Are Planned For July And August

Vacation Bible schools in Midland were completed in four more churches last week and none are scheduled this week.

The First Methodist Church closed its school Friday with an enrollment of 190 and an average attendance of 189. A special service for the parents is scheduled for 7 p.m. Sunday. The children will demonstrate what they have learned and display their handwork.

The Assembly of God Church also completed its school Friday with special programs for the parents in the departments during the final morning session. The enrollment was 40 and the average attendance 32.

With an average attendance of 70 the Church of the Nazarene will present its pupils in a short program at the close of the Sunday School hour Sunday morning. The First Baptist Church of Christ had its special service Wednesday night.

A week ago the First Baptist Church and the Mexican Baptist Mission completed their schools. The First Baptist Church had an enrollment of 308 and an average attendance of 256. The average attendance of the Mexican Bible School was 55.

The Assembly of God Church will begin its Bible School about the last of June. The Bellevue Baptist Church has scheduled its school July 10-21. July 8-15 is the date for the Calvary Baptist School. The First Presbyterian Church will conduct its school July 31 through August 17.

The First Christian Church will begin its school July 17. Probably the first two weeks in August will be devoted to the school for the Grace Lutheran Church.

Midland Patrolman At Camp Pendleton

CAMP PENDLETON, CALIF.—Cpl. Jimmie W. Parks, of 304 South Pease Street, Midland, Texas, is undergoing two weeks of on-the-job Marine training here.

He is on temporary active duty as a member of the United States Marine Corps Volunteer Reserve.

Corporal Parks is one of the many thousands of Marine Reservists, both organized and unorganized, who will be trained this Summer at Camp Joseph H. Pendleton, huge Leatherneck training base in Southern California. The 1960 Reserve Training program is the most extensive in the history of the Marine Corps.

During his training, Corporal Parks will be attached to the Enlisted Junior Intelligence Course.

Corporal Parks played several years of football as tackle for Seymour, Texas, High School. He enlisted in the Marines in February, 1946, and served overseas in Tsingtao, China, during the repatriation of the Japanese to their homeland. His civilian job is that of a Texas Highway Patrolman at Midland.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON— Discussion Continues On Five States Out Of Texas

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON — (AP)— Another highly-placed Texan says it's time the Lone Star State exercised its historic right to divide itself into five states.

This time it's Rep. Lloyd Bentsen, Jr., of McAllen. Bentsen's views, expressed in his weekly newsletter, corresponds to a statement made at Amarillo recently by Gen. Ernest C. Thompson of the Texas Railroad Commission.

Both say they are motivated by the same thing: A feeling that eight votes in the Senate might give Texas a better chance to retain control of its Tidelands. The Supreme Court ruled recently that the federal government has paramount rights to the Tidelands.

The Rio Grand Valley congressman said:

"Apparently this is the time for Texas to exercise the option it retained when it joined up with the Union.

"Now is the time for Texas to break down into five states as is Texas' privilege and send 10 senators to Washington. With 10 senators Texas would have almost one-tenth of the senatorial representation in the country, and then perhaps our northern Democrats would lend a more attentive ear to Texas problems.

No Longer Largest

"With Alaska poised for admission to the Union, Texas would no longer be the biggest state in the Union anyway after that happened.

"Needless to say Texas would still want to keep the name of Texas.

A probably compromise would be to name the five states East Texas, West Texas, Central Texas, South Texas—and, lest our northern friends might think we were too obviously bidding for their support, instead of North Texas we'd call it Upper South Texas."

John Nance Garner, former speaker of the House and later Vice President, used to say Texans ought to consider the idea seriously, because of the extra eight votes they'd get in the Senate. He would concede in the same breath that the chances of such action were pretty remote.

Around the capital:

The experience of two Texans has been cited by the Veterans Administration to show how war-incurred physical handicaps can be overcome.

After telling how two other ex-GI's in wheelchairs had gone into nearby business in Michigan, the VA in a nationally-circulated bulletin said:

"Five hundred miles south, in Dallas, two World War II veterans who lost most of their eyesight in battle action have opened a restaurant that is netting them good incomes."

One is Quentin King, whose optic nerve was injured when a Jap dive bomber hit the destroyer on which he served. His partner is Dayton Bledsoe, wounded when he stumbled across the German anti-tank mine hidden on a French road.

King started out first, opening a restaurant in Grand Prairie, near Dallas. Last September, after taking in Bledsoe, he opened a restaurant in Dallas. Jointly they bought a second.

"The veterans work hard," the VA continued, "starting at 6 a.m. and closing at 9 or 10 p.m. But business is so good they are thinking about purchasing a third restaurant."

+ Crane News +

CRANE—The general contracting firm of Wilks, Dake and Steed of Tyler was awarded the contract for water and sewer lines in the newly-approved Russell Heights addition, at a recent meeting of the city council. The bid was for $18,809.55. The new addition was platted and accepted by the city at the meeting.

Dr. and Mrs. Jerry Kethley are visiting in Crane. Mrs. Kethley is the former Billie Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Allen. Dr. Kethley is a recent graduate of Southwestern Medical School in Dallas.

Ora Abrams, outstanding girl of the high school junior class, is attending Girls State, in which representatives from all parts of Texas study the state government system. Ora joined two Odessa representatives in the trip to Austin. The meeting is to run until June 20. The American Legion Auxiliary financed her trip to Austin.

Church Construction

Construction work has begun on the new First Baptist Church building, and pouring of concrete is expected to be completed soon. Volunteer labor has reduced greatly the cash outlay so far in the construction work.

Mr. and Mrs. George McElveen are parents of a son, Monty Dale, born June 11 at Crane Memorial Hospital. He weighed six pounds, 12 ounces.

The City of Crane is urging persons not counted in the census to call at the city hall for enumeration. J. K. Price, city superintendent, reports water meter connections indicate Crane has a higher population than the 2,156 announced in preliminary count.

Buddy Cottle, who has been a patient in the Crane Memorial Hospital for several weeks, has been transferred to Corpus Christi. Efforts were made to place him in a state hospital, but failed. The Child Welfare Association of Odessa and friends are to assist in paying the $125 monthly fee.

Midland Graduate At Air Force Base

REESE AIR BASE—Second Lieutenant Carroll C. Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest D. Sanders, 709 East Gypsy Street, Hobbs, N. M., recently has been assigned to the Public Information Office, Reese Air Force Base, Texas, for a 90-day tour of active duty.

Sanders received his commission from the Air ROTC at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, in May, 1950. He has been a student at Tech for the past three years, and is majoring in Journalism and Government.

During the war, Sanders served with the 20th Air Force on Guam, as an airplane mechanic. He is a graduate of Midland High School.

Invest Time In Good Looks

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Good grooming takes time and a certain investment in beauty aids. In order to use your grooming time efficiently, try making a list both of the schedule you must follow and the equipment you use.

That way you'll know exactly how to allot your time, what you have on hand to work with and, before it's worn out or used up, what must be replaced. It's inefficient to get yourself ready for a shampoo only to find that the shampoo jar is not in the bathroom, as you'd assumed, but on the drugstore shelf three blocks away.

No two grooming schedules will be exactly alike, since no two women have exactly the same beauty problems. You may prefer to split up your tasks morning and night, or to do them all at night. You might need only 20 minutes each evening, while another woman requires 45 minutes. But you're sure to want to set aside one evening each week for such things as a shampoo, pedicure and a facial. Whatever your schedule, if you see it on paper it's easier to be faithful to it.

The same is true of your beauty equipment. When you list every single tweezer and orange stick and hair net you own, you not only know just what you need in addition, but what should be discarded. It simplifies things and often saves you money as well as time.

McCAMEY—John Buchanan, band and choral director in McCamey High School for five years, has resigned and will teach in Uvalde next year. Mrs. Buchanan, a teacher in the McCamey schools, also resigned. Resignations of both were accepted at a recent meeting of the school board.

Francis Falcon, district exploration engineer for Shell Oil Company, is to be principal speaker at the Chamber of Commerce banquet and election here June 20. He will speak on "Petroleum Geology of McCamey and Its Trade Territory."

The mammoth birthday cake planned for McCamey's twenty-fifth birthday August 18 and 19 was assured transportation when John Mark's Trucking Company volunteered a flat-bed truck for use in carrying the cake. The cake is to be the largest ever baked in West Texas, and will be served at the climax of a huge free barbecue on August 19. J. W. O. Hayes will bake the cake.

W. M. Day, Jr., Upton County agent, recently issued an invitation to all ranchers in the area to attend a Field Day at the Sonora Experiment Station June 20. Activities begin at 9 a.m.

Patricia Wigle of Leamington, Ont., is visiting in the home of L. C. Griswold, Eunice Faye Griswold, a graduate of Bowling Green State University, accompanied Miss Wigle. Miss Wigle is a recent graduate of the school, and Miss Griswold is a teacher there.

The McCamey Lions Club will hear a discussion of the DDT program in McCamey and Upton County at their Monday meeting.

Green lima beans and thin sliced celery makes a good combination when they are cooked and served buttered. Or they may be cooked, drained and chilled, then served with French dressing in salad greens.

Roy Smith, chairman, said a county or city official will conduct the discussion.

Bill Moore, American Legion post commander, announced election of officers will be held at the regular meeting Tuesday. A nominating committee, composed of John Hines, Lynn Griswold and L. W. Guber will report at the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ingram returned Sunday from a visit with Mrs. Ingram's mother, Mrs. E. J. Howard in Natchitoches, La., and with Ingram's brother and sister in Baton Rouge and Shreveport.

The McCamey Promenaders will entertain with a dance June 24 in the McCamey Park Building. C. G. Lyles Band, from Crane, will play.

George C. Gray was admitted to the Crane hospital recently for medical treatment.

Mrs. F. G. Reimers has been released from a San Angelo hospital. She was under treatment for a broken hip sustained in an automobile accident. Her condition is reported good.

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —
By DALMON McNAIR

The market was strong and active on all classes of cattle at Midland Livestock Auction Company sale Thursday. Fourteen hundred and sixty head were received and sold.

Two hundred good quality Hereford cow and calf pairs offered by Kenneth Smith, Marfa, brought $232 to $253. Plain cow and calf pairs sold for $180 to $225.

Fat calves and yearlings went at $24 to $29 and mediums were $20 to $24. Medium cows brought $17 to $19.50. No fat cows were offered. Canners and cutters sold for $13 to $17 and bulls in the medium class were bid from $18.50 to $20.50.

Stocker steer calves auctioned for $28 to $31 and light weights went higher. Stocker heifer calves brought $27 to $31. One lot of 260 heifers that weighed 410 pounds got their owner an even $30 cwt.

Stocker steer yearlings went from $24 to $28.50 and stocker heifer yearlings at $25 to $30.

A. R. Eppenauer and Son of Marfa and Fort Davis, have contracted to Turkington Brothers of Letts, Iowa, 66 highly finished Hereford steer yearlings at $30.50 per hundred pounds with delivery at Marfa on or before July 15. The figure sets an all-time high for cattle of this class in the High-land area, and under the net weighing conditions, with effect given to freight, handling charges and shrink incidental to movement to market is perhaps the highest paid in the nation during the current season. The steers were produced on the Eppenauer ranches in the Davis Mountains.

Some contracting of calves for Fall delivery is underway in the Midland territory, according to reports. Frank Williamson of Midland has contracted 350 mixed calves to Homer Ingham at 26 cents per pound.

An Andrews rancher reportedly has contracted several bunches of West Texas calves at 27 cents.

"And the price may go higher than that this season," an observer stated. Other contracts reported include: Guy Cowden to Homer Ingham, about 500 steer yearlings at 25 cents for Fall delivery; and Sherwood Foster of Midland to Sam Batze of Stamford, through Morris Cooper of Midland, steer calf crop, 27 cents for October delivery.

Judge Roy Bean, 1949 grand champion steer of the Chicago International Livestock Exposition, has gone the way of all good steers—to beef.

But, before he found his way to a Chicago meat processing firm, the Pecos County champion was exhibited before an estimated 4,000-000 persons at state fairs, livestock shows and farm events.

Raised and exhibited by the Pecos County 4-H Club, the prize animal was bought at the Chicago show by Dearborn Motors of Detroit. So great was the demand to see the near-perfect steer that the Detroit firm hired a cargo plane, outfitted it with a special gilded stall and loading ramp, and sent the Judge on tour.

Even in his final days the Judge was a champ. The meat processing firm stated that the steer's dressing percentage was 66 per cent, and added that the figure is "one of the best dressings in percentage in our experience."

Despite his long trips about the country, the champion steer was in excellent condition when slaughtered. His official weight at the time of his purchase was 1,300 pounds. When slaughtered the live weight was 1,421 pounds. The "hot" dressed weight was 938 pounds.

One train car-load of barley and another of oats have been combined in the Pecos area and are being moved out to the Fort Worth market, according to Kenneth Bond of the Pecos Enterprise.

The shipment of this type of grain is unusual in this country where cotton is the chief crop.

The barley was grown by W. F. Turk and loaded at Veriben. The grain was unloaded from the trucks directly into the car. The car of oats was grown and shipped at Valley farms on the PVS railway. At least one more car is expected to be shipped out before the harvest is completed.

Recent rains in Texas have placed ranges and pastures in good shape in all areas except some western Trans-Pecos counties, the Texas Weekly Crop and Weather Bulletin reports.

Over in East Texas, grass was getting sappy and most bottom land pastures were soggy. Showers in the eastern Trans-Pecos counties are expected to bring along new feed and additional showers in the High Plains as well as the extreme southern counties should be very beneficial to range feed.

All classes of livestock appear to be in good condition. Yearling and Spring lambs continue to be marketed in heavy volume. A strong country demand for stocker cows, calves, ewes and ewe lambs continues.

Cotton is fruiting heavily in the Lower Rio Grande Valley where the first bale of the season was ginned May 31. Early planted fields were blooming as far north as Fort Bend County. Torrential rains in the Brownsville vicinity have caused severe local flood damage. Several thousand acres of inadequately drained land were under water. Some loss of acreage also resulted from flooded fields in scattered areas of East Texas. Continued heavy rains over central, northern and eastern counties interfered with cultivation of growing crops and delayed completion of planting.

Early insect control practices now are widespread as many fields are heavily infested with thrips, boll weevils, boll worms and other insects. Planting of cotton has neared completion in southern counties of the Lower Rolling Plains and made good progress in extreme northwest and High Plains areas.

In the Midland vicinity most of the cotton has been planted although some farmers still are replanting cotton damaged by recent hail and high winds. Moisture conditions in this area appear to be good.

Long strides toward the improvement of the junior livestock raising program in Midland County were made last week at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors.

A report by R. L. Miller, director in charge of the agriculture and livestock committee, brought quick results from Chamber directors.

Miller's report concerned the giving of prizes to stimulate interest in the care of show animals in the four divisions of the annual Spring Junior Livestock show.

He hardly had finished the report when volunteers began offering prizes. Clarence Scharbauer, Jr., Texas Electric Service Company, Jack B. Wilkinson and The Reporter-Telegram each promised to give a pair of boots to the 4-H Club boy who shows the best improvement from July, 1950 to March, 1951.

Robert L. Wood and C. E. (Bud) Bissell will give a $50 and $25 bond to the club boy who submits the best and second best written record and report of the care and feeding of his animals. The report must be kept by the club boy himself.

The Chamber of Commerce promised continued cooperation in the program, but will be dependent upon the county agent and the vocational agriculture teacher to set up the mechanics of the project.

Italian Farmers Settle In Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO—(P)—A group of 32 Pescara farmers have left Rio for Bahia state as advance guard for 500 families to come later.

They intend to set up farm colonies near Turist. The government of Bahia has agreed to furnish each family 50 hectares of land, three cows, one pig and some chickens.

T. Primo, agronomist in charge, said the plan is sponsored by a cooperative which pays for transportation from Italy and supplies the farmers with equipment and seeds.

Taxes Going Up As Farm, Ranch Incomes Go Down

COLLEGE STATION—(P)—Taxes on Texas farms and ranches are going up, while farm income declines.

The trends were reported by two Texas A&M professors, Robert G. Cherry and L. P. Gabbard. They are assistant professor and head, respectively, of A&M's Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology.

Such taxes averaged 25.7 cents an acre in 1949, a 15 per cent increase over 22.4 cents in 1948, they said.

Taxes per acre have advanced for three successive years, indicating a distinct upward trend and marking an end to a long period of stabilized levies. For the 11-year period, 1938-46, taxes varied only slightly from an average of 18 cents per acre.

The typical farm or ranch tax bill in 1949 was 40 per cent above that level.

Most of the rise in 1949 was accounted for by increases in state and school district taxes. County and special district levies were up only slightly.

Though state taxes are a relatively small proportion of total farm and ranch real estate levies, an advance in the state rate of 72 cents, from 42 cents the previous year, was the most significant item in the 1949 tax increase.

Gilmer-Aikin school legislation was a factor in higher school taxes. A considerable number of farms and ranches formerly were in "dormant" common school districts with little or no taxes. During 1949 these school units were consolidated with active districts, resulting in higher levies.

Increases in individual counties and type-of-farming areas varied widely. Of 197 counties in the survey, only three, Jim Wells, Eastland and Atascosa, registered declines of as much as five per cent.

All type-of-farming areas showed some increase. The highest occurred in the blackland area and in the northern counties of the Grand Prairie. These are the areas where many of the state's common school districts are concentrated and where numerous consolidations have recently occurred.

Smallest increases were in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, parts of the Coast Prairie and the Canadian River grazing area.

Declining prices for agricultural products during 1949 in the face of higher taxes caused a precipitous upswing in the ratio of taxes to prices.

The index of prices received for agricultural commodities in Texas declined from 310 in 1948 to 275 in 1949, according to the USDA Bureau of Agricultural Economics, while the tax index rose from 249 to 286. The movement of taxes and prices in opposite directions resulted in a tax-price ratio of 1.04 in 1949.

Cantaloupe Queen To Be Selected At Pecos, June 29

PECOS—Selection of Pecos' third Cantaloupe Queen will be made June 29, when a contest sponsored by Beta Sigma Phi sorority and the Chamber of Commerce is staged in City auditorium.

Entries for the 1950 Queen contest will be accepted immediately, Elizabeth Glasscock, Beta Sigma Phi president, said. All local merchants and businessmen are being contacted and invited to sponsor entries in the contest. The names of contestants may be given to Miss Glasscock, to Alton Hughes, Chamber of Commerce manager, or to the Beta Sigma Phi representative who contacts the businessmen.

Requirements for a girl planning to enter the contest stipulate that she must be 16 years of age or older, unmarried and a resident of Pecos. Each contestant will appear twice on the stage, once in an evening dress and the second time in a bathing suit.

CLOSING SCHOOL BELL ALSO IS START SIGNAL

KANKAKEE, ILL.—(P)—The bell that ends the school term each June is a starting signal for Mable and Luis Martin.

For 12 years the sisters, both school teachers, have spent their Summer vacations trotting about the globe. They have visited 46 countries and islands abroad. Their travel target this season is South America.

Will the trend of taxes continue upward? There are some indications that it will. Operating costs of local governments may rise further, principally because of demands for expanded services and the need for more teachers as school enrollments increase. Capital needs—for roads, school buildings, hospitals and other public improvements—have not yet been fully met. Higher assessments are administratively feasible; rate structures of counties and school districts have been broadened in recent years.

Long Staple Gin Is Being Built At Pecos

PECOS—Western Cottonoil Company has started construction on a long staple cotton gin here, the first in this immediate area.

The gin is being built near the Western Cottonoil Pecos gin, about a mile and a half south of Pecos on the Balcones highway. It is expected to be completed within the next 30 to 40 days, Troy Patrick, division gin manager, said.

The gin will be one of the best equipped in the nation. Patrick said, using the most modern machinery available for long staple ginning. It should be able to process all the long staple cotton produced in this area, more than 30,000 acres this year.

The long staple cotton, relatively new in production in the United States, requires a longer growing period than short staple varieties. It probably will not be ready for ginning until the first of October.

Western Cottonoil operates five short staple cotton gins in Reeves county and another nearby in Barrow county, just across the line in Ward county.

Shivers, Regan And Wemple Will Attend Annual Pecos Rodeo

PECOS—Gov. Allan Shivers, Rep. Ken Regan and Fred Wemple, chairman of the State Highway Commission, have indicated they will attend at least one performance of the 1950 West of the Pecos Rodeo, July 1-4. Both Regan and Wemple are from Midland.

Emmett Beauchamp, president of the rodeo association, read letters from both Regan and Wemple at a recent meeting of directors. Wemple said he probably will attend the July 4 performance, but his final acceptance would depend on a Highway Commission hearing to be held in Austin about that time.

Regan said he will be in Pecos to attend a Pecos rodeo since the show was made an annual affair 21 years ago.

Atlantic City's famed boardwalk is eight miles long and 60 feet wide. Virginia and Ohio each have given seven presidents to the United States.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
 Drew Pearson says: Democrats would broaden Amerasia probe to include Chicago Tribune; Wartime case against Tribune for revealing Battle of Midway secrets was dropped mysteriously; Democrats want other Justice Department mysteries, as well as Amerasia, aired.

WASHINGTON — Several Democratic senators are giving unadvised support to the Republican proposal for a separate committee to investigate the Justice Department and the Amerasia case.

The Democrats don't want their strategy known to the Republicans, but what they are planning to do is broaden the Justice Department probe to include other wartime cases which were hushed up, particularly the mysterious shaming of the Chicago Tribune prosecution for giving aid and comfort to the Japanese following the Battle of Midway.

So far the Justice Department never has given an explanation as to why a grand jury, called to indict the Chicago Tribune for a serious breach of wartime secrets, suddenly was called off.

The Democrats also have in mind probing another mysterious case involving the Chicago Tribune when it published on Dec. 5, 1941—two days before Pearl Harbor—a sensational story about American mobilization showing that the United States planned to build up an army of 10,000,000 men. The story was documented by confidential informants exchanged between the President and the secretaries of War and Navy, making it obvious that the Tribune had got hold of one of the most important military secrets in the nation.

The New York Daily News and the Washington Times-Herald, owned by the Tribune, published identical stories, and some members of the Administration urged prosecution at that time.

The matter was dropped, however, and Democratic senators now believe that it would be a good idea for the public to know why.

They feel that these two cases against the Chicago Tribune are identical with the Amerasia case in which State Department secrets also were disclosed.

The Battle of Midway disclosure by the Chicago Tribune was considered even more damaging to the national security. At that time Stanley Johnston wrote a story for the Tribune that the U. S. Navy knew the complete strength of the Japanese fleet in advance, and the fact that it was headed for Midway Island. The Tribune even published the exact number of Japanese ships and gave their names.

Obviously the Navy's possession of this advance information was due to superior intelligence work. In fact, it became known after the war that the Navy's amazing knowledge was because we were breaking Japan's secret code.

This permitted the Navy to bring ships and planes from all over the Pacific two weeks in advance of the battle and concentrate them at Midway. The West Coast of the U. S. A. was left almost unguarded.

Had the Japs become aware of what was happening and shifted their tactics, the cities of Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, etc., would have been defenseless.

But the American system of breaking Japanese codes worked so perfectly that the U. S. Navy knew, attack on his severest newspaper critic. The Navy, however, insisted. So William D. Mitchell, Republican attorney general under Hoover, was selected to present the case to a Chicago grand jury.

What finally happened during the trial never has been revealed. In the middle of the grand jury hearing, Mitchell suddenly called off the prosecution. To this day no explanation ever has been given as to why a federal grand jury was convened to indict the Chicago Tribune, but topped the case like a hot potato.

Democratic senators now believe that, along with the Amerasia case, the Justice Department should be called upon for an explanation, plus a further explanation of failure to prosecute the Tribune for its Dec. 5, 1941, disclosure of U. S. mobilization plans in case of war.

Senators missed a flurry on the edge of the Senate floor after rent control was extended. A disappointed landlady, anticipating a chance to raise rents, charged past guards, screaming hysterically: "Oh, what have you done to us!"

The guards gave chase, caught her before she reached any of the senators. As she was escorted out, she flung a parting insult over her shoulder at Senator Myers of Pennsylvania, who voted for rent control. "That fat slob Myers!" she yelled. "The lady was from Philadelphia."

Note — The man who engineered the rent control bill through the Senate was South Carolina's efficient Burnet Maybank, who helped pioneer better housing when he was mayor of Charleston, S. C. He did not make any loud speeches, but worked behind the scenes lining up Southerners whose inclination was to vote against rent control. Maybank even got Senator George of Georgia to promise not to oppose the bill "actively." However, George double-crossed Maybank after strong pressure from the Real Estate Lobby.

Secretary of the Navy Knox, owner of the competing Chicago Daily News, was against prosecution. So was Roosevelt. He felt prosecution of the Tribune would look like an

Installment Buying Grows Like Famous Tree In Brooklyn

By SAM DAWSON
 NEW YORK — (AP)—Buying on time has been growing like a weed since the war. Growing even faster is the practice of insuring the instants of those who buy on the cuff.

That prevents loss to the credit company, bank or merchant, if the man who "owns" a car, washing machine, or television set should die before he finally gets it paid for.

Installment credit has about doubled since 1941, but insuring the lives of debtors has increased to eight times its 1941 level. Growing also is the total of personal income, now about two and one-fourth times as high as in 1941.

Now at the record high of 113 billion dollars, installment credit has gained by 31 per cent in a year. Some observers fear it is accounting for too much of this year's prosperity, especially in the auto and home building fields. If the boom topples — and some think its legs aren't too steady — the record installment debt could cause trouble quickly.

In Minneapolis recently, William A. Reckman, president of the Western Bank & Trust Company of Cincinnati, told the American Institute of Banking: "It would be well to plan now for a period ahead when the ability of the borrower to make repayments as and when due may be strained, if not impossible."

Supporting this, perhaps, is the Federal Reserve Board's report that more than three in each ten family spending units spent more than they earned last year.

But others point to the record heights to which personal income has climbed, almost 213 billion dollars a year now. Installment credit is only one-nineteenth of that, and these observers point out that the ratio of debt to income was much higher in other periods.

Billie Pigg Receives Outstanding Award
 ABILENE—Billie Pigg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pigg, 606 South Baird Street, Midland, received an award for outstanding work done in the Pres. Club at Abilene Christian College during the 1949-50 school year. She also was recognized for being elected to membership in the Campus Service Organization through the field of journalism.

Awards were made May 29, at the annual presentation of awards by Don H. Morris, president of the college.

Miss Pigg, a senior student majoring in secretarial training, was a member of the 1949-50 annual staff, Kitten Klub, girls' pep organization, and the Ko-Jo-Kai social club.

Your Child Needs Speech Training

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
 AP Education Writer

Because most children learn to speak as they grow up, we have come to look upon speech as something every child will develop by itself at the proper time.

Yet, says Ethel Bridgford, speech and hearing specialist of the Rapid City Public Schools and South Dakota Division of Crippled Children, speech is not an inherited talent.

Writing in the South Dakota Education Association Journal, she points out:

No Organ For Speech

"We have our eyes with which to see and our ears with which to hear, but we have not created with no organ primarily for speech. The organs we use for speech are primarily for eating, breathing, and maintaining life. Each person must train these organs to take on the added burden of speech."

She comments that the traditional attitude toward the child whose speech deviates from the normal pattern of other children's has been, "Oh, leave him alone! He'll outgrow it!" But for every child with sufficient ability, motivation, and favorable environment who is able to overcome his speech difficulties there are many who are not successful, whose ambitions are frequently thwarted and whose lives and personalities are sometimes distorted because of the neglect of their speech. This "leave-it-alone-and-he'll-outgrow-it" attitude has not proved good advice, she says as "there are one and a half million speech defectives of school age in this country alone."

About 60 to 70 per cent of speech difficulties in school children are due to the fact they have not learned to make and to use speech sounds correctly. They substitute, omit, or distort the production of sounds.

Training Improves

Training in speech improvement, at least in the first five grades, she maintains, should be a definite part of the elementary school curriculum. If fifteen minutes daily could be assigned to this work, the results would show not only better speakers, but better spellers, better readers and better students. This doesn't mean speech improvement should cease after the fifteen minute period, nor at the end of the fifth grade. Rather, all classroom activities and all subjects should be used to teach good speech habits to children.

Nor should speech training be confined to the school alone. Each and every parent would do well to attempt a speech correction program. This can be developed in an organized, systematic and progressive manner through the cooperation of the school.

Exercise, Massage Banish Double Chin

By ALICIA HART
 NEA Staff Writer

A double chin can creep up on you gradually. Since no woman really wants one, it's heartening to know that persistence and patience will get rid of the extra chin.

To get back that firm chin line, you'll need both exercise and massage. Begin by standing erect, stomach flat, hands on hips. Tilt your head sharply toward the right shoulder 10 times, then 10 times toward the left shoulder as far as you can go. With each tilt, stretch your neck so you feel the pull of the neck muscles.

Now tilt your head back 10 times in rapid succession, making sure you feel the stretch of the muscles. Repeat these three exercises morning and night and watch the rapid return of a firm jaw line.

If massaging your chin, start at the base of your throat and work up. Use a good lubricating cream and never pull down on the throat or chin. Slap your chin with quick, light blows. Repeat the massage twice a day.

Once those chins have returned to just one, don't stop your exercises. Keep them up faithfully and you'll never have to worry about double trouble.

Candidate Fairey Is Midland Visitor

Tom Fairey of Austin, candidate for the Office of State Commissioner of Agriculture, visited briefly in Midland Saturday while enroute to Odessa to spend Father's Day in the home of his parents there. The Austin man, who formerly resided in Odessa, was accompanied by his son, Bob, who is assisting him in the statewide election campaign.

Fairey said he has visited practically every section of the state and will step-up the tempo of his vote-getting campaign between now and the July 22 primary. He campaigned in Midland and other West Texas cities several weeks ago. He said he is "most optimistic" as to the outcome of the election.

The 41-year-old Travis County farmer and stockman pledges an administration in which Texans can take pride. His platform includes: improvement of the Agriculture Department's efficiency and service, and active cooperation with other agricultural agencies.

Daddy Ringtail And The Mighty One

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, had seen a little ant pick up a piece of scrambled coconut as big for the size of an ant as an elephant would be for the size of Mugwump. Imagine. What if Mugwump were strong enough to pick up an elephant? Yes, and if he were that strong, people would call him Mugwump, The Mighty One. Oh, the things he would do if he were really Mugwump, The Mighty One. First of all, he would give old Huffy Tuffy a talking to. Huffy Tuffy was very huffy and very tuffy. He was the huffiest, and the tuffest, somebody in the whole forest. Huffy Tuffy was always saying. Often he was rough in his play in a way that Mugwump Monkey would find himself hurt. Oh, it wasn't that Huffy was always wanting to hurt somebody. Huffy didn't realize, of course, how very strong he was. He needed for someone to show him how it was when someone very strong got to playing too rough and hurt people.

Yes, and Mugwump was just the fellow to show old Huffy Tuffy. Mugwump, The Mighty One, would have to show him, and there came Huffy now to be shown. To help with the showing, Mugwump put an imaginator cap on the top of Huffy's head.

"And now," said Mugwump, "I am Mugwump, The Mighty One." Huffy could well imagine it, of course, because of the imaginator cap on his head, and he listened while Mugwump gave him the talking-to that he shouldn't be quite so huffy with people. But now that Mugwump Monkey was Mugwump, The Mighty One, would he be getting huffy with Huffy Tuffy? Oh no. He said he wouldn't. He said he wouldn't kerbong old Huffy in the head with a noise "kerbong." No sir, he wouldn't, and to be sure that Huffy understood what was not to be done, Mugwump kerbonged him in the head to show him. "Kerbong!" "Aho!" shouted Huffy, but he wasn't huffy or tuffy about it. He was wearing the imaginator cap for Mugwump now to be The Mighty One, and Huffy had to be shown how it is when people play too rough. Well, Huffy was shown without anyone really being hurt, I am glad to say, and that was that, all on a very fine day. Happy day!

Special Paints Made To Protect Masonry Surfaces

Exterior surfaces of stone, brick, concrete and stucco will "inevitably succumb" to the attack of natural weather elements unless the material is given proper maintenance treatment, says American Builder magazine.

The magazine explains that paints for these masonry surfaces can be divided into four classes: cement-water paint, resin-emulsion paint, oil paint, and paint containing rubber.

Cement-water paint is suitable for application on walls that are damp at the time of painting or that might become damp later as a result of structural defects. It also is recommended for new structures and for open-texture surfaces such as cinder block.

Relatively dry, glossy surfaces should be painted with resin-emulsion paint or paint containing rubber. American Builder says. Cast concrete and tile are masonry surfaces of this kind.

For dry walls constructed so that they will remain dry after painting, the magazine suggests oil paint.

Paints in these four classes should not be used on floors. Masonry floors need a hard-drying paint with good water resistance and good gloss retention, the publication says.

Home Improvement Planned In Stages; Repair Work First

Home improvement programs can be broken down into three stages. In the order in which the work usually is done, these are:

- 1—Urgent repairs. For example, covering a leaky roof with asphalt shingles needs to be done without delay because a sound roof is essential for protecting all the rest of a house and its contents.
- 2—Modernization for better living. For example, new kitchen cabinets might not be necessary but they add to the appearance of the house and make kitchen work easier.
- 3—Additions for future use. Finishing of rooms in an attic or a basement or construction of a new section for a dwelling are improvements in this category.

A WOMAN'S place in the HOME

The limited floor area in small, low-cost homes is being put to its maximum use by home builders.

Especially designed furniture and built-in items are going into spaces that otherwise would be wasted.

reports the National Association of Home Builders' monthly magazine, "Correlator."

The built-in chest below, with a large mirror, was built between two sections of storage walls by Carl M. Freeman, a Washington, D. C., builder. The chest provides storage drawers without taking up floor space.

Architect Herman York, of New York, has utilized a wide variety of built-in features to add to the spaciousness and charm of small homes which he has designed.

His gifts three possible designs for separator partitions between the front door entrance and the living room:

(1) Keeping children cool in Summer is easy with a small wading pool, only two feet deep to insure safety for very tiny tots, can be converted into a lily pond when the kids grow up. (2) A sturdy tree branch, some thick rope and a traditional swing that has entertained children and built muscles for centuries. (3) Large kitchen windows overlooking the yard give the housewife an observation post for child supervision as she cooks.

Simple Sandbox
(4) The beach won't be missed if the yard boasts a simple sandbox. (5) The shore or lake side won't seem so inviting if there's an open shower in the yard or a semi-enclosed one on the back porch. A waterproof quarry tile base will prevent mud formation by the yard shower. It will protect flooring from the porch shower.

(6) A whole day in the open is possible for youngsters who play on sets up a service bar at the kitchen window or doorway. The backyard "picnic" will be nearer if served on a wrought-iron table with clay tile top. This table can be left out overnight without harm from rain or dust. (7) Kids love marsh-mallow roasts. They can enjoy them without creating fire hazards if the yard has a simple barbecue or open fireplace.

(8) Outdoor gyms, with flying rings, small slide and parallel bars can be purchased at most department stores. (9) Play equipment such as balls, bats, and gloves can be stored in a combination bench-storage box which makes a pleasant spot for grownups' relaxing in the evening.

Pioneer Air Lines Reports Five-Month Passenger Increase

DALLAS—An increase of 21 per cent in the number of passengers carried for the first five months of 1950 over the same period in 1949 has been reported by Pioneer Air Lines.

In the same comparative periods, air freight ton miles were up 105 per cent, air express up 67 per cent, air mail 13 per cent, and excess baggage, some 19 per cent, Harding L. Lawrence, vice-president of traffic and sales for Pioneer, said.

The number of passengers increased from 39,241 in the first five months of 1949 to 47,547 for the like period in 1950 while passenger miles (number of passengers times miles traveled) increased 20 per cent from 10,534,938 miles to 12,806,774 miles, Lawrence added.

Some 23,665 ton miles of air freight were transported in the 1949 period in comparison to 46,498 ton miles in 1950; express, 10,372 to 17,289; excess baggage, 5,360 to 6,401 and air mail 34,897 to 39,505.

In the 1950 period, some 98.88 per cent of all Pioneer flights were completed in comparison to an operating factor of 92.77 per cent for the five months in 1949.

Home Owner Can Fight Cold War Against Fire

This will be the most disastrous year in the nation's history for home owners, if fire losses continue to rise at the present rate. April's fire losses totaled $61,005,000, or 11.4 per cent higher than April fire losses in 1949. During the first four months of 1950, total property loss from fires was $251,236,000, as compared with $243,854,000 for the first four months of 1949.

Ninety per cent of all fires can be prevented. Heating the list of fire causes, says the National Board of Fire Underwriters, is careless use of matches and smoking materials, from which almost 1/3 of all fires start. Faulty and overheated heating equipment cause almost 1/4 of the annual destruction.

Careless use of flammable liquids like kerosene, gasoline and cleaning fluids causes 12 per cent of home fires, while the fourth major cause is faulty and overloaded electrical wiring and appliances, accounting for 10 per cent of all blazes.

Bad Housekeeping
Most buildings burn as a result of bad housekeeping or because their construction is not sufficiently fire-safe. Fire prevention experts say that the clean house seldom burns while the unkempt one frequently does.

Attics and basements cluttered with old newspapers, discarded furniture and other flammable material constitute a serious hazard. Few householders realize that by permitting such accumulations they invite disaster.

Every home owner has learned the rules that should be observed for preventing fire—elimination of rubbishy matches in metal containers out of reach of children; careful use of electric irons and other appliances, disconnecting them when left even for a moment; disposal of oily rags in metal containers; no smoking in bed, and extinguishing of matches and cigarettes; no debris around the furnace, and so on.

Built-in Safety
Homes also burn because they are not constructed with maximum fire-safety in mind.

Lack of fire-stops within walls is a major contribution to fire losses. A hollow wall is a natural fire through which flames instantly can spread to the whole structure. Solid blocks of gypsum or lumber placed at intervals between all wall studs will prevent flames spreading through the walls. Many homes lack such protection. This can be remedied, however, by blowing the concealed hollow wall spaces full of naturally non-combustible mineral wool insulation. National Bureau of Standards tests show that a wood lath wall filled with mineral wool will stop the passage of fire for one hour. Furthermore, the insulation helps remove a leading fire cause by ending the necessity for heavy firing of the furnace.

Confinement of fire to the place where it starts is all-important. Fire Department officials say that the first five minutes at any fire are worth the next five hours.

Complete Wiring Rates Top Priority
Efficient, convenient and economical service from electric lights and appliances is possible only when wiring is adequate. With the steady development of new electric facilities, complete wiring rates top consideration in home-planning.

The house which is not sufficiently wired soon will be out-moded, and its value reduced, architects declare.

An entrance cable must be provided to admit enough electricity for future as well as present needs, plus enough circuits of large enough wire and plenty of outlets and switches properly located. A single outlet often is covered by a heavy piece of furniture. To overcome this, a wired strip with an outlet every two or three feet may be placed on top of the baseboard.

Bad Housekeeping
Most buildings burn as a result of bad housekeeping or because their construction is not sufficiently fire-safe. Fire prevention experts say that the clean house seldom burns while the unkempt one frequently does.

Attics and basements cluttered with old newspapers, discarded furniture and other flammable material constitute a serious hazard. Few householders realize that by permitting such accumulations they invite disaster.

Every home owner has learned the rules that should be observed for preventing fire—elimination of rubbishy matches in metal containers out of reach of children; careful use of electric irons and other appliances, disconnecting them when left even for a moment; disposal of oily rags in metal containers; no smoking in bed, and extinguishing of matches and cigarettes; no debris around the furnace, and so on.

Built-in Safety
Homes also burn because they are not constructed with maximum fire-safety in mind.

Lack of fire-stops within walls is a major contribution to fire losses. A hollow wall is a natural fire through which flames instantly can spread to the whole structure. Solid blocks of gypsum or lumber placed at intervals between all wall studs will prevent flames spreading through the walls. Many homes lack such protection. This can be remedied, however, by blowing the concealed hollow wall spaces full of naturally non-combustible mineral wool insulation. National Bureau of Standards tests show that a wood lath wall filled with mineral wool will stop the passage of fire for one hour. Furthermore, the insulation helps remove a leading fire cause by ending the necessity for heavy firing of the furnace.

Confinement of fire to the place where it starts is all-important. Fire Department officials say that the first five minutes at any fire are worth the next five hours.

Complete Wiring Rates Top Priority
Efficient, convenient and economical service from electric lights and appliances is possible only when wiring is adequate. With the steady development of new electric facilities, complete wiring rates top consideration in home-planning.

The house which is not sufficiently wired soon will be out-moded, and its value reduced, architects declare.

An entrance cable must be provided to admit enough electricity for future as well as present needs, plus enough circuits of large enough wire and plenty of outlets and switches properly located. A single outlet often is covered by a heavy piece of furniture. To overcome this, a wired strip with an outlet every two or three feet may be placed on top of the baseboard.

Helps To Be Pretty, But That's Not Enough To Make It In Kilgore College Rangerettes

KILGORE—(P)—When Miss Gussie Nell Davis, instigator and guiding light of the Kilgore College Rangerettes, hangs out the sign "Tryouts Today," she has to step back quick.

Each September there is a stampede for the 25 to 30 places open in the nationally-famous precision drill and dance unit. From 150 to 170 girls seek these places.

Every gal with two arms and two legs wants to get into the act, which already has led to performances in the Rose Bowl, Cotton Bowl, Shamrock Bowl, Sugar Bowl—and coming up, the game between the college all-stars and the champions of professional football at Soldier's Field in Chicago. It marks the tenth year of the unit. To be a Rangerette is the epitome of the college life among the East Texas beauties.

Miss Davis surveys all available talent in two days, selecting the lucky few.

"The type of girl we like is one with a lot of ginger, one we have to 'keep after'—still a refined girl, not a tough. A pretty face also helps," Miss Davis says.

Best Foot Forward

The Rangerettes always put their best foot forward, installing the classiest chassis and the prettiest faces as the officers.

Beauty without ability is not enough, however.

The intricate nine-minute dance routines can't be done with two left feet. The chorus line hands out jobs strictly on ability.

"We don't want a girl who doesn't have dates," says Miss Davis. "For that very reason keeping Rangerettes is our hardest task. Many get married. We had ten marry at mid-term. A married girl can stay in the Rangerettes provided she stays in school.

"The boys give us our biggest headaches at practice sessions. We practice 90 minutes a day, and are always late starting because some few hold hands at the door until the last possible moment."

The Rangerettes are not a sideline at Kilgore College.

Miss Davis' sole duty is "her girls." Kilgore College has hired Denard Haden, one of the outstanding dancing choreographers in the Southwest, to help with the routines.

Miss Davis conducts reducing classes, classes in how to gain, not only in weight but in personality; instructions in walking, sitting, clothes, makeup, hair and how to pose for photographers.

"We want a girl to look her most glamorous," Miss Davis says. "We do everything to make them interesting looking."

To stay a member of the Rangerettes, the girls must maintain a C average. There are an even dozen Phi Beta Kappas among all those pretty faces.

Two Elements

In the 10-year history of the dancing unit there have been only two elements.

"Both of those came during the war," says Miss Davis. "When there was a shortage of time along with all the other shortages."

Miss Davis came to Kilgore College in 1940 from Greenville High School. College President B. E. Masters gave her a free hand and the Rangerettes were the result.

Though the football players grumble about the stands emptying after the half-time show, and virtually all other college activities take a back seat to the group, all of Kilgore busts its buttons when the girls step high, wide and handsome into the big time.

GETTING DOWN TO BRASS TACKS—THEY DON'T STICK

PORT WASHINGTON, N. Y.—(P)—Getting too many puttees? You might try combing your gravel for nails.

Tom Wins used a powerful magnet on the one at his house recently—and picked up about a pound of assorted ones. There was one drawback: he noticed several brass tacks, but his magnet didn't affect these of course, and he hasn't any idea how many remain.
