Midland's Census Count Set At 21,614

Long-Delayed Report Lists 12,262 Gain

The City of Midland has a population of 21,614—more than double its 1940 total—according to preliminary census figures released Saturday.

Population Of District Up 123,188

By The Associated Press
Release Saturday of 1950's preliminary census figures for Midland and Ector counties completed the count for the 16th Congressional District, comprising 19 West Texas counties. The district grew from 230,700 in 1940 to 353,888, a gain of 123,188.

French Cabinet Resigns

PARIS —(AP)— The National Assembly refused a vote of confidence Saturday and Premier Georges Bidault and his cabinet resigned. It was at the moment France was engaged in delicate negotiations over Indochina and the Schuman plan.

The vote was 352 to 230 against the government on a question of increased salaries for government employees.

The dapper little prime minister had been in office eight months. Hurl, Bidault reminded the Assembly that the franc has grown stronger and that prices have become stabilized under his middle-of-the-road government. He asked bitterly:

"Now, where is the government's reward?"
Six-Nation Parley Recedes
Four hours after Bidault quit, the six-nation conference on the Schuman plan recessed.

Bidault has threatened that his Catholic party, the Popular Republican Movement, would not cooperate in a new government if his cabinet were overthrown. If the threat sticks, new elections would have to come soon.

Bidault's disappointment was increased by the appearance of instability France gave to the world just at the moment she has taken the limelight with Foreign Minister Robert Schuman's plan to consolidate European coal and steel industries under a supra-national authority.

Schuman has lost his job, though the remains in office as a lame duck caretaker pending a new government.

Schuman Plan Hurd
Even though the conference may continue, a shadow had been cast on the brilliance of the French idea, hailed by many in the West as a great step toward European unity.

Airliner With 58 Aboard Is Believed Lost

MILWAUKEE, WIS.—(AP)— Fifty-eight persons were believed Saturday night to have died in a Northwest Airlines plane which apparently vanished over storm-churned Lake Michigan early Saturday.

Darkness forced searchers to call off much of their far-flung hunt 20 hours after the last word received from the passenger-packed plane. That was a radio report shortly after Friday midnight.

Search efforts in the air, on the surface, and even beneath the waves east and northeast of Milwaukee produced no definite clues. As the hours passed, little hope was held that any of the 58 escaped alive.

Loss of all aboard would be the nation's worst commercial airplane disaster. The last of 60 search airplanes which scoured the lake and Northern Wisconsin and Michigan were ordered to call off their hunt until daybreak.

Oil Slicks Sighted
Small boats also gave up the search. A number of large Coast Guard vessels continued looking for any survivors or wreckage. But foggy weather made visibility poor and hopes of success forlorn.

Nearly 12 hours after the plane was overdue at Minneapolis, some unidentified wreckage and oil slicks were reported found in the lake near Milwaukee.

However, a diver who descended at one spot found nothing. The Milwaukee Coast Guard Station said it had received a report of a raft having been sighted about 10 miles east of the Milwaukee breakwater light "with people aboard" and had sent boats to investigate.

Later, a Navy Patrol plane buzzed the object and determined it was a yellow balloon. No Life Rafts Carried Northwest Airlines, owners of the missing DC-4 "air coach," said its planes do not carry life rafts on domestic flights.

The capacity-laden plane, with 55 passengers and three crew members, was reported to have crashed. (Continued On Page 11)

Smith Wins Runoff With Truman Pet

RALEIGH, N. C.—(AP)— Willis Smith, Raleigh lawyer who campaigned as an opponent of President Truman's "Fair Deal," was nominated in North Carolina's senatorial primary Saturday.

Smith held a commanding lead of 24,758 votes on returns from all but 237 of the state's 1,996 precincts. It appeared impossible for his opponents, Truman friend and supporter Senator Frank Graham to overcome this lead in the remaining precincts.

Returns from these 1,724 precincts gave: Smith 258,565, Graham 233,807.

Graham Concedes
Graham conceded the victory to Smith at 9:43 p.m.

While a statement was being typed in his headquarters on the fifth floor of the Sir Walter Hotel here, Smith went down to the first floor to congratulate Smith.

In his statement, Graham said: "I congratulate Mr. Smith on his victory. I have for him every good wish in his high opportunity for service to our state, our country, and the world in this critical time."

Smith, who made President Truman, negroes and communism the paramount issues of a bitter campaign, had led steadily from the start of the primaries.

In the first primary on May 27, Smith had trailed Graham by 53,000 votes.

Nomination is equivalent to election in North Carolina.

Living Costs Jump With Meat Prices Leading Advance

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Led by meat prices, the cost of living between April 15 and May 15 took the highest jump of any month in almost two years, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said Saturday. But it still was below a year ago.

An increase of eight-tenths of one per cent was reported by the bureau in its consumers' price index on retail prices of goods and services purchased by moderate-income families in large cities. The new index on May 15 was 168.8 compared to 100 for the base period considered normal, 1935 to 1939.

Johnson Reported Set To Fight No-Aid Policy For Formosa

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary of Defense Johnson came back from a 13-day tour of Pacific defenses Saturday reportedly determined to reopen the Administration battle over Formosa and upset the present no-aid policy.

In addition, some top officials said the return of Johnson and Gen. Omar Bradley, the chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, probably will lead to an early decision by the President to go ahead with a Japanese peace settlement.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur is reported to feel that a Japanese treaty should be so drawn that it will last unchanged for 25 years, as a means of creating stability in the Far East.

The process of policy development will be speeded up here late this week when the State Department's Republican advisor, John Foster Dulles, gets back from his own conference in Tokyo with General MacArthur.

Meanwhile, from Tokyo, which Johnson and Bradley left Friday on a one-stop flight home, came a report that Johnson privately had expressed support for United States retention of the important Yokosuka Naval Base after any peace settlement with Japan.

Johnson said Bradley and he had examined the Pacific situation "solely from the standpoint of American security." Bradley said he had obtained some "fresh information."

At the Capitol, Chairman Connally (D-Texas) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said he thought Johnson and Bradley should now be able to clarify the Far Eastern picture. He declared the Far East appears to be at present the most dangerous sector in the world.

Connally added he thinks Russia is not economically strong enough to wage war anyway.

500,000 Catholics See Rites Raising Child To Sainthood

VATICAN CITY —(AP)— Maria Goretti, who died at 11 defending her virtue, was raised to sainthood Saturday before a half-million of the Roman Catholic faithful, including her mother.

The newest saint, already the "Martyr of Purity," was hailed by Pope Pius XII as an exemplar for Catholic youth over the world.

Rail Strike Set To Start Early Sunday

CHICAGO —(AP)— Four Western railroads ordered wholesale freight and passenger train cancellations Saturday in preparation for a complete shutdown before their switchmen strike at 6 a.m. (local time) Sunday.

The fifth railroad singled out for the strike—the Great Northern—said it will "do its best" to keep trains running.

The strike deadline neared with direct peace talks broken off and no sign the walkout would be averted. Strike instructions have been given to 4,000 switchmen on the five lines.

Union Walks Out
President Arthur J. Glover of the Switchmen's Union of North America and members of his strike committee left the peace talks in Chicago late Friday night.

Chairman Francis A. O'Neill of the National (Railway) Mediation Board said he was in a telephone contact with Glover and would "keep working for some break," but he gave no word of optimism.

It has been called against the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific System, Western Pacific, Chicago Great Western, Denver and Rio Grande Western and Great Northern.

The union called the strike in protest against a June 15 recommendation of a presidential fact-finding board. The board rejected the union's demand for a 40-hour week with the same take home pay they now get for a 48-hour week. The board proposed instead a 40-hour week with an 18 cents hourly pay boost.

Hot, Dry Weather Continues In Texas

Lubbock recorded its highest temperature of the Summer Saturday—99 degrees—but the South Plains city wasn't the hottest place in Texas by any means.

The mercury hit 103 at Presidio, perennial hot spot on the Rio Grande. It was 102 at Wink and Laredo and 100 at Childress and Abilene. The low maximum was 88 at Marfa—just a few miles from Presidio but high in the mountains. No rain was reported in the state.

Flames Damage Hotel Penthouse

Fire Saturday night damaged the living quarters of Mrs. Ruth Scharbauer located in a penthouse on top of Hotel Scharbauer.

Firemen said the blaze damaged a chair and rug and Venetian blinds in a bedroom of the apartment. No one was in the apartment when the blaze was discovered.

Midland Druggist Named President Of State Association

Lester Short, Midland druggist, was elected president of the Texas Pharmaceutical Association at its annual convention in Houston last week. He had served last year as first vice president of the state association.

C. H. Patterson of San Antonio was elected vice president.

San Antonio was selected as the 1951 convention city.

Mr. and Mrs. Short returned Saturday from the Houston convention, which he termed the largest in the history of the organization.

Short, owner of the City Drug Store here, formerly served as president of the West Texas Pharmaceutical Association, and was chairman of the arrangements committee when that group held its convention in Midland several years ago.

There were fractional increases in rents and miscellaneous goods and services. On the other hand, fuel, electricity and refrigeration prices dropped 1.8 per cent, house furnishings declined slightly and apparel prices were unchanged during the month.

Nine Cases Heard In District Court

In the Saturday session of the 70th District Court, Judge Paul Moss presiding, nine cases were heard. In a criminal case, a negro charged with automobile theft entered a plea of guilty and received a five-year suspended sentence.

Four divorce decrees were granted, and two civil suits involving damages were settled. One case for removal of disability of minority, and one for disability of coverture were heard by Judge Moss. Court is to reconvene July 1.

Whopper $9,000 RR Ticket Sale Made In Midland

The largest ticket sale in the history of the T&P Railroad's Midland station was made Saturday when Ray Upham, chairman of the Boy Scout Jamboree Committee, handed a check for $9,000 to D. Davis, station agent.

The check was in payment for round trip railroad fares for 123 Scouts and leaders attending the National Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa.

The Jamboree trippers will travel on five railroads, Davis said. En route to the Jamboree they will travel via T&P, Missouri Pacific, Pennsylvania and Reading lines.

They will return by way of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and will travel on New York Central, Missouri Pacific and T&P trains.

Average fare for the 123 trippers is $73.17.

relation figures were said to be included in the City of Midland total since Terminal is included in the corporate limits of the city.

City and Chamber of Commerce officials and others expressed disappointment at the long-awaited census figures. Still others said the totals are about what they expected.

"I am disappointed," Chamber of Commerce Manager Delbert Downing said when asked to comment on the census figures. "I had thought the population of the county would be 30,000. However, I know of no business or economic curtailment the census figures will cause. Our proposed improvement and (Continued On Page 11)

Midland Memorial Hospital To Hold Open House July 9

The new $1,500,000 Midland Memorial Hospital will be open for public inspection at an open house program scheduled Sunday, July 9, E. R. Andres, administrator, announced Saturday following a meeting of hospital officials.

The 100-room hospital, the largest, finest, most modern and best-equipped in West Texas, will open for business as soon thereafter as possible, Andres said.

The job of staffing, furnishing and equipping the recently completed four-story hospital fast is nearing completion, and everything is expected to be in perfect readiness for its formal opening July 9, "Everyone Invited."

"Everyone is invited to attend the open house and we hope every resident of Midland and the Permian Basin Empire will be on hand to see and inspect the area's newest and finest hospital facility," Andres stated.

The new hospital was financed by contributions from individuals, firms and organizations of Midland and area and by a federal grant.

An open-stay hospital, it will serve all residents of Midland and other Permian Basin cities.

Fireworks, Square Dancing To Feature Fun Night Celebration Monday, July 3

A "Fun Night" celebration, climaxed by the largest fireworks display ever seen in West Texas, will be staged here Monday, July 3, under the sponsorship of the Midland Lions Club, President Roy Minear announced Saturday.

The entertainment program will be held at the grounds of Midland Fair, Inc., on East Highway 90, beginning at 6:30 p.m. An exhibition of square dancing, with members of Midland clubs participating, will be presented on a specially built platform in front of the huge grandstand at Fair Park. A midway also will be in operation during the evening program.

The fireworks display will get underway at dark, Minear said. A concert also will be played by the popular Midland Lions Club International Convention Band, under the direction of Duke Jimer-son.

Proceeds from the entertainment will go to the Lions Club Band's "On To Chicago" fund. The band will attend the annual convention of Lions International in Chicago next month as an official Texas orchestra, and the holiday program here is the final event in a campaign to raise funds to finance the trip.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Delbert Downing, who is assisting in arranging and staging "Fun Night," said the special program not only will serve a fine purpose in helping the Lions Band finance its Chicago trip, but will provide Fourth of July weekend entertainment for all Midland citizens as well.

Downing said the fireworks display will be the most elaborate ever seen here, and will surpass any grandeur the fireworks shows of the last two years.

E. D. Fitzgerald's Lone Star Ramblers will furnish the music for the square dance exhibitions. Admission to the celebration will be $1 per car, with no limit to the number of persons in the automobile. Grandstand seats will be available to everyone at no extra charge.

Telescope Finds Exploding Star

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.—(AP)—The 200-inch Hale telescope has discovered an exploding star farther away than any yet reported. It took 50,000,000 years for its light to reach the earth.

The explosion was reported at a meeting of the Astronomical Society of the Pacific in a paper written by Dr. Milton Humason, of the Mount Wilson and Palomar Observatories in California.

Had the supernova been as close as Vega, a bright star visible to the naked eye, it would have been as bright as the moon, he said. The Palomar telescope, the world's largest, found the star in the Coma cluster, one of several distant universes similar to the Milky Way.

Discovery of two new dwarf stellar systems in the constellation of Leo also was announced by astronomers R. G. Harrington and Dr. Albert G. Wilson.

They said one of these—they were both recorded by Palomar's 48-inch Schmidt camera—is the smallest ever found. The scientists said the discoveries are significant because further study may yield clues about how huge island universes like the Milky Way, of which the solar system is a part, are evolved.

Marilyn Maxwell Perks Up At Chance To Do Comedy

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — BEHIND THE SCREEN: Reason for dancing lights in Marilyn Maxwell's orbs these days is the promise of a real ha-ha comedy role.

The lady is weary of playing the wrong woman.

"Ask my husband or my son," said Marilyn, "I'm not like that at all. But that key line, 'I'm expensive,' that I said in 'Champion,' keeps plaguing me. When I played Chicago little kids would rather round the stage door and yell, 'Hey, Marilyn, are you really expensive?' They broke me up. Imagine, those kids believe everything that comes from the sound track!"

Marilyn is coming a lot of sand from a desert location site out of her scalp. The stuff blew right in while she was making "New Mexico" with Lew Ayres and she says: "Arthur Loew, Jr., who was in the picture, had the right idea. He sent an envelope full of his sand to his agent and wrote on it, 'I think you're entitled to 10 per cent of everything.'"

About her marriage to Andy McIntyre:

"It's fine. I'm very, very lucky."

Now it's Ty Power who is being heckled by the British for moving his grease paint kit across the big pond for his London stage stint in "Mr. Roberts." Writes Peter Anthony in the British magazine, "Debutante":

"I have never seen Mr. Power on the stage, but I am quite certain that there is more than one good Englishman who would be equally as good in the part."

Robert Young is Sherlock-Holmesing it to find an unknown actor to play the star-making role of a pre-med student in "Storm Within the Heart," the first picture in which he will plunk his weight down in a chair marked "Director."

He laughs: "I'm looking for a young Robert Young."

But the search worries him. He says:

"I have dreams about finding this lad. He's got 30 cents in his pocket and aching for a picture break. Then I have nightmares. The lad gets to be a big star, goes Hollywood and won't even say hello to me."

Paulette Goddard, take it from actress-coach Constance Collier, is going to make Katharine Cornell

Will Receive Bids

Sealed bids for a new primary school building, shop and gymnasium will be received until July 11 by the board of trustees of the McCamey Independent School District, it was decided at a meeting of trustees recently. Bids are to be submitted in accordance with plans and specifications submitted by Buford and Peinberg, Dallas architects. The estimated cost of the building is a part of a $400,000 bond issue approved by voters in April.

The summer teen-age program in McCamey was aided Friday night by the Buck Brothers Mystery and Magic Show, given in the Park Building under the sponsorship of the Lions Club. All teen-agers who registered for the Summer program as they entered the magic show were admitted free. A charge of 30 cents was made for teen-agers not registering for the program.

Mrs. Howard Newton will open the Children's Story Hour at 10:30 a.m. July 1 in the McCamey Park Building. The story hour is to continue throughout the summer, with competent readers assigned to handle the story telling.

KOLLEGE KIDS' KAPERS

By BETTY BOBO

It's going to be a wonderful Summer. Yes, it really is. We are all so happy to be home once again, glad just to walk down the street and receive a smile from an old friend. You know, there's something about Midland that makes a person proud to call it home. Maybe it's the spirit of friendliness and hospitality the residents possess. Whatever this certain something is, the people of Midland should hold it dear to their hearts because it is a gift which many communities do not have.

A lot has been happening among the college crowd these hot days. Most of the vacationing collegians are keeping busy trying to balance work and play. Many Summer jobs have been tracked down and snatched by the vacationers. Some of the more weary ones are spending a good portion of the day just sleeping. A few have made THE BIG DECISION, and are entering into that new world called "marriage."

Betty McCain, Enid Wheeler, and Bill Shaw were married last week. Sarah Hunter and John Sorogin and Helen Caffey and Bob Hunter have wedding plans for this Summer. Dorothy and Dean Cox are among the happy newly-weds of the city. A large portion of the girls' entertainment has been furnished by parties for the prospective brides.

More Parties

Mrs. C. E. McCain and Mrs. Paul McCain honored their niece, Betty, with a Coke party, recently. This bit of conversation was heard that afternoon. (A note of explanation—the J. G. McMillians are remodeling their home, and the house has been without a roof the last week.) Sarah Hunter walked up to Jean McMillian. She said, "Oh, Jean, I just think it's terrible about your house. I'm so sorry." Jean looked puzzled and replied, "Why? I think it's pretty nice myself." Sarah continued, "John and I were driving by last night, and he told me about the kitchen stove exploding and blowing off the roof."

Dorothy Schaubauer entertained with a recent Coke party for Enid Wheeler. The refreshments were delicious and the main topic of conversation was the latest technique used by burglars. Dorothy Cox and Betty McCain also honored Sue McLemore, Bill Shaw's bride, with a Coke party. Most of the evening was spent in "ohing and ahing" over Dorothy's and Dean's new home. It really is a dream house. After a careful survey of the guests, it was discovered that all present were invited to a shower Dorothy Cox and Carol Casselman were having for Betty McCain the following morning. We all decided it would be fun to turn it into a pajama party, so pajama party it was. John Casselman, Jr., later was heard to comment he never had seen anything so silly as grown girls charging to a party in their "nighties." Brothers really must have a difficult time of it.

Guessing Game

A demonstration of stainless steel cooking utensils was held at Betty McCain's Monday evening. Dorothy Payne Holt won the vegetable guessing game, and was awarded a stainless steel pie server. Dorothy Payne and Patsy Arrington kept us entertained with a tale of "The Sleeping Beauty" at Mrs. Bell's of "Come Out, Patsy Lou." Dorothy Payne is waiting for you. Tuesday

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson
(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Congressman Wood has vitriolic vocabulary; in Wood's Georgia district the highest bidder apparently gets mail-carrier contracts; Chairman of Un-American Activities Committee must be example of good Americanism.

WASHINGTON—In fairness to Congressman John E. Wood of Georgia, here is the gist of his reply after I reported that his office had exacted a $1,000 fee from a crippled boy hit by an Army truck after a bill passed by Congress giving him relief for his injuries.

When the final vote came, Wood managed to appear on the House floor to vote, though he could hardly make it, and immediately thereafter retired to a couch in the Democratic cloakroom.

The congressman's so-called personal "eccentricities" would not have been mentioned by me, had he not asked for it. But the voting public has a right to know about them.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON—Most Capital Tourists Get Only Glimpse Of Lawmaking Procedure

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Most tourists who come to Washington never see how laws are really made. Usually they get only a glimpse of the Senate and House.

Some 200 young farm folk, here for a national meeting of 4-H Club leaders, were fortunate enough to get an inside peep at the legislative machinery.

Four Texas youngsters were among them. They are Joyce Ann Marek, Victoria; Doris Rudolph, Fashington; Richard Luensmann, Marion; and Bruce G. Gibson, Turkey.

The young farmers attended a session of the House Agriculture Committee over which Rep. W. R. (Bob) Poage of Waco presided.

While they listened eagerly, Poage outlined to them the steps that are necessary in the enactment of a law. Discussing the course of farm legislation, he said it first must be studied thoroughly by the Agriculture Committee to get the views of both proponents and opponents.

Over the years members of the various committees get to be authorities on the subject matter handled by their own group. It is understandable, therefore, why the recommendations of a committee usually determine the fate of a bill when it comes up for a vote on the floor of the House or Senate.

Reason Is Given
This is one reason why only a handful of legislators may be on the floor when a measure is under discussion, particularly if the bill is of interest to only one part of the country or a limited number of people.

So many bills go through the legislative mill that no congressman can know about them all; therefore he must rely on the judgment of his colleagues who have studied the proposal in committee.

Consequently, a great many tourists sit in the spectators' galleries briefly to hear a lawmaker address an almost empty chamber. This is particularly true in the Senate, with no limitations on debate, except in rare cases of cloture, a senator may expound at length on a subject not even remotely connected with legislation under consideration.

The more lucky among the sightseers are those who happen into the galleries when a controversial issue is under debate and a vote is impending. Then you'll find most of the legislators present and best chance of good oratory.

The most fortunate of the tourists are those like the 4-H group who sit in on a committee, for there is where most of the laws are really made. The majority of these committee meetings are open to the public.

Among other large groups of visitors in the next few days will be Boy Scouts passing through here enroute to their big jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa.

Rep. Olin E. (Tiger) Teague of College Station, who has two Boy Scout sons, got together ahead of time with Reps. Omar Burleson and George Mahon to arrange a schedule for Scouts from their districts.

A high spot for the boys will be Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Lilienthal's Atom Proposal

When David Lilienthal resigned the chairmanship of the Atomic Energy Commission, he said he wanted a chance to discuss freely the great issues affecting future atomic development.

Writing in Collier's magazine, he now has made his first important policy statement since quitting that post. He urges that the government monopoly on atomic energy be ended and that industry be given full opportunity to show what it can do in this vital field.

To critics who consistently have opposed Lilienthal for alleged "leftist" tendencies, there must be something of a shock in his glowing words for the possibilities in atomic energy development by private enterprise.

Had there been government monopoly in chemistry or electronics, he says, we would not today have the great industries which have grown up in those fields through the resourceful application of thousands of new ideas by countless individuals.

New ideas are what atomic energy needs today, adds Lilienthal, if it is to realize its promise as the nation's real industrial frontier in the next 50 years.

Properly developed, he sees atomic energy as affording the setting for "another miracle of industrial growth" in the United States.

But to Lilienthal these wonderful goals are impossible to reach so long as government keeps its tight grip on atomic knowledge.

His strongest, most alarming declaration: "It is of the deepest importance to us all that we face up to this inescapable fact—atomic knowledge in the hands of government will be intensively and successfully developed only for military purposes."

He says the AEC has tried earnestly and failed to stimulate the necessary growth of new ideas within its own narrow circle of cooperating companies.

His arguments are persuasive. All of us know our industrial greatness is keyed to the free play of inventive, imaginative minds.

Lilienthal's proposals merit the early attention of our highest leaders.

Few Blemishes Mar Record

Airplanes still are crashing into the sea with tragic loss of life. Against that backdrop, it's useful to examine the overseas flying record of the U. S. airlines, which have not been involved in these recent accidents.

A government report the other day noted that American commercial craft have been flying across the oceans for 12 years on a regular basis.

This is a performance worthy of America's high standards of public transportation safety and efficiency.

It demonstrates, too, that overwater flying is no riskier than overland. In fact, some experts argue that weather conditions and air currents are far worse on land because of mountains and other disturbing factors.

Let's Not Stop Now

It is good news that the U. S. has launched its first postwar passenger liner. When the American Export Lines' SS Independence went down the ways at Quincy, Mass., it ended 11 years of inactivity in the building of luxury vessels.

This September the Independence's sister ship, the Constitution, will be launched. Four other liners, including a $70,000,000 giant to compete with Britain's Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth, are under construction.

Unfortunately no additional vessels are planned as a follow-up to this hopeful revival in U. S. passenger shipbuilding.

Proof that marriage is a fifty-fifty proposition comes when a couple celebrates their golden anniversary.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Washington - A neat scheme to put a John L. Lewis man in charge of labor mediation; Britain's Bevin loses hope; Senator McCarthy is rebuffed by a taxi-driver.

WASHINGTON - A neat scheme to put a John L. Lewis man in charge of mediating strikes for the government has just been spiked.

Without blinking an eyelash, O'Brien replied: "No, you oughta keep still unless you can prove you've been saying. You've done yourself and Congress and the government a lot of harm."

There was a shocked pause. Then the senator asked: "What college did you go to?"

The cabbie replied that he didn't go to college, but still was able to have his opinion of McCarthy's tactics.

Getting Behind Curtains A gray-haired, enthusiastic American who made a fortune in a land his parents adopted as their own has offered the State Department a million leaflets to send behind the iron curtain.

Fred Danner, a printer from Akron, Ohio, recently told Assistant Secretary of State Ed Barrett: "No other country on earth could give me so much as the United States."

Danner has a cartoon leaflet describing life in America that he will print in any colors or languages and donate 1,000,000 copies for distribution in satellite nations.

What a terrific story we have to tell," he explodes, "of paved streets, automobiles, plumbing and electric refrigerators. We live like kings. This leaflet could make the reader in Eastern Europe think—perhaps this could be me?"

Danner's parents came from Germany, a country he visited on a 12-nation European tour last year. As a jobless printer, he walked into Akron in 1913 with $3.85 in his pocket.

It is a travesty of justice for Uncle Sam to say to racketeers and other tax evaders, "You get out of here, Go and sin no more," argued Young behind closed doors.

"It seems the more utterly fantastic that we should even contemplate something like this when the Senate is using the money of honest taxpayers to investigate these very same criminals and gangsters who have been most remiss in their income tax obligations," continued the Oklahoma.

The committee, with Congressman Forand of Rhode Island, author of the amendment, absent, agreed with Young.

Terror-Striking Senators Dale Doty, new assistant secretary of Interior, had a bad letdown when he came before a senate committee for confirmation.

For one week preceding his ordeal, Doty tried to think of every possible question the senators might ask. He turned the department up side down getting exact answers, and the night before his appearance he couldn't sleep.

Next day, Doty sat for two hours outside the committee doors. He could imagine the senators wrangling angrily and preparing stinging questions to ask him. Finally, with shaking knees, forehead perspiring, he walked in.

Doty's heart sank when ranking Republican Hugh Butler started speaking. "But all Butler asked was, 'Do I understand that both California senators have recommended Mr. Doty?'" of making an extra trick, South decided to make absolutely sure of the twelve tricks that he needed for his contract by taking out insurance against a 5-1 or 6-0 split in hearts.

"Yes," replied Chairman Joe O'Mahoney.

At the second trick, therefore, Nichols led the deuce of clubs. "Virtue was rewarded. The hearts failed to break, and South needed three club tricks to make his contract. Thanks to the pessimistic play at the second trick, the queen of clubs dropped on the third round of that suit, and South made his slam with a spade, four hearts, four diamonds, and three clubs."

It is a pleasure to learn that a new crop of pessimists is coming along to take the place of those who are growing older. It is also most encouraging to see such a high standard of play in intercollegiate bridge tournaments.

There's no doubt at all that the pessimistic lead of a club is the right play at rubber bridge. In a match-point game, however, it is open to question. I'd hate to make only two wave tricks and then find that all the other declarers made thirteen.

Midlanders' Son Stationed in Japan

YOKOTA AIR BASE, JAPAN.—(AP)—Pic. Hershel M. Dyer recently arrived in Japan and has been assigned to duty as an aircraft and engine mechanic with the Eighth Tactical Reconnaissance Squadron at Yokota Air Base, 30 miles northwest of Tokyo.

Dyer is the 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Weathers, 208 East Kentucky Street, Midland.

A former student at Lee High School, Columbus, Miss., Dyer entered the service in March, 1949, and received his basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio. He then received courses in aircraft mechanics and electronics at Chanute Field, Ill., and from there was ordered overseas.

Dyer was assigned to the Fifth Air Force upon arrival in the Far East in May and was stationed at Yokota, one of the most prominent aerial installations in the Far East.

'Cold War' Dropped From Vocabulary

NEW YORK.—The State Department is dropping "cold war" from its vocabulary and substituting "winning the peace," says Business Week Magazine.

The magazine notes that this is in keeping with what State Department planners have said all along—war with Russia is not inevitable.

But Washington is taking no chances that Russia will think we are turning soft," says the magazine. "There's a trumpet, as well as a flute, in the new foreign policy orchestration."

The publication points out that the U. S. has started to tell Russia what "winning the peace" involves. This is being done by military planners who report that defensive power now has the edge on the offense. Washington regards Stalin as a realist who is unlikely to risk war if he's faced with the facts.

Illinois Seen As Test Tube For New Rent Control Law

By PETER EDSON NEA Service Correspondent SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—The special session of the Illinois Legislature called by Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson gives this state the first opportunity to act on new rent control legislation just passed by Congress.

Illinois cities have no legislative power of their own, being creatures of the state legislature. So it was necessary to get enabling laws passed, to permit the local communities to take advantage of extended rent controls after December 31 if they want them.

Governor Stevenson has recommended this action. Illinois is therefore the guinea pig for the nation.

Seventy of the 100 Illinois counties now are without rent laws. Of the 439 smaller communities that have retained rent controls, 145 are in the Chicago-Cook County area.

Only one request for decontrol was filed in Springfield this year. It came from a little community of 500 in Southern Illinois. But when it was feared that Congress would not extend rent controls beyond this June 30, tenants flooded the governor's office with copies of notices they received advising them of proposed 50 to 100 per cent increases.

The whole problem, as Governor Stevenson has sized it up, is in rents of $100 per month or less in the Chicago area, and of $50 per month or less down-state. It is the problem of taking care of the poor, and the problem of perhaps 10 per cent of the landlords who would victimize the poor.

Governor Stevenson feels that if Chicago was to increase its taxes, in order to obtain operating revenues, rent advisory boards should recommend slight increases in rents, to cover the tax raise. But anything like a general 50 per cent increase in rents would, he feels, be too drastic.

Whether the state legislature will approve the governor's program was the "real uncertainty." The Republicans control the Senate. The Democrats control the House. Both have small margins. And the record of cooperation between the governor and the legislature during the 1949 session was not perfect.

Governor Stevenson began by asking the legislature for the most extensive reform program in the state's history. Having been elected by a record majority of more than 500,000, he thought he had a mandate. Maybe he bit off more than the legislature could chew.

The governor claimed that he got two-thirds of the things he asked for. His major back was on his request for a convention to draft a new state constitution. This failed in the House. A two-thirds majority was required. The vote fell five short of the necessary 102. Democrats supported it almost unanimously. But several Republicans who had supported the call for a constitutional convention when it was a GOP proposal in 1947, voted against it in 1949 on purely partisan grounds.

By that action, Illinois lost its chance to give its cities more home rule and provide the much-needed tax reform. As the next best thing, the governor supported a so-called Gateway amendment which would permit the voters to pass on three amendments to the constitution at one time. This proposal is on the ballots for the November election.

One other major setback which Governor Stevenson received was on his proposal for an Employment Practices Commission. Race relations in Illinois are pretty tense. Southern Illinois, around Cairo, is farther South than Louisville and has complete segregation.

On the positive side, as governor points with pride to the work of his Little Hoover Commission, which worked on state government reorganization, the improvement in administration and the greater appropriations for the school system, reorganization of the Department of Mines, overhauling of public assistance programs and the management of state hospitals and institutions.

Even Republicans concede that the governor's staffing of his major assistants and his braintrust in the governor's mansion were good, and not mere political spoils appointments.

But, says the governor, though what he did in one year was more than had been done in many 10-year periods in the past, it was a mere beginning. He could work at this political reform for eight years and still not get it all done.

As to whether he will seek a second term as governor, he is somewhat evasive. After all, he was 2 1/2 years more to serve in his first term. When the time comes to make that decision, it will be necessary to look at the record and see how much service of good government has been given the people. That's the real test in determining whether any politician should be returned to office.

Questions and Answers

Q—What historic incident inspired Longfellow to write the poem Evangeline? A—The expulsion of the French peasants, the Acadians, from Nova Scotia and their resettlement in Louisiana. Evangeline was the heroine of this tragic poem.

"I just couldn't believe it. You say you got this out of Bev's bag?"

"Yes, I felt like a sneak thief at the time, but now I know I was justified. I was on the dock the other day when Caroline yanked the bag away from you. She was too stupid to cooperate for the occasion. And her excuse sounded pretty flimsy. So, nosey Fasker decided that there must be something in that bag which Bill Jarvis wasn't supposed to see."

"But," he objected, "Bev herself sent me for the glasses."

"Sure," Bev remembered the clipping, after you'd started. No doubt she had a bad moment, then."

Suddenly Bill was aware of a load lifted from his mind. He had no notion why, if she'd fallen for Lloyd, Bev had let him come up here. But, probably because the invitation was of long standing, and its cancellation would have been difficult to explain to the elder Coulters.

"Now," Mrs. Fasker was saying, "I told nobody else. You can tell Hildy, if you like. But let it stop there. Certainly I wouldn't want that nice Coulters man to find out."

"Don't worry!"

JUST then light footsteps sounded from the front of the veranda. Bill jerked erect; craned his neck. Something like a tall slim wraith slipped down the steps toward the lake.

"Mrs. Fasker," he said swiftly, "tomorrow I'll tell you just how swell I..."

Her thin old hand fluttered. "I know. Well, go on! Go on!"

But as he sprang away, she called: "Bill!"

He bounced back, fidgeting visibly. "Yes?"

"Let her wait," advised Mrs. Fasker, "because you'll probably be doing the waiting for the rest of your natural life. But I just wanted to say, it couldn't happen to a nicer guy." She grinned up at him. "Now beat it, young Bill! You're making me nervous."

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And The Campfire

It was early in the morning and cold, way down the river there when Daddy Ringtail stepped out of the riverboat with all the monkey family.

vacation time?" Mother Ringtail wanted to know.

Daddy Ringtail said he had never seen it that cold on a Summer morning, but then he was used to waking up in his monkey house, the one that was up in the top of the very tall tree, in the middle of the Great Forest. That night, you know, they had slept in the riverboat as it floated down the river.

Mother Ringtail was a little bit wet, I think, and so was everyone, for the wind had started to blow in the night, making little happy, and with a droopy, droopy tail, because he was wet and cold. Daddy Ringtail put little bits of grass together. Then he put some little pieces of wood together, and then some bigger and bigger ones. He struck the match and held it to the grass. White smoke came from the grass and then the grass caught fire. The yellow fire made the wood begin to burn, and blue wood-smoke curled up in the air. The flames crackled and popped and there was a beautiful campfire, warm and cheerful.

It felt good to everyone, and soon everybody was laughing and talking the happiest ever, even Mugwump. There's nothing any more cheerful than a campfire, I guess, but the thing to remember is always to be careful with it so that the forest doesn't catch fire too. Happy day!

Reef Discovery Indicated In SW Terry Prospector

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation No. 1 H. C. Beyer, Southwest Terry County wildcat, has shown as a probable commercial oil gas discovery from a lime reef-possibly Wolfcamp of the lower Permian.

The prospector recovered 74 barrels of free, clean, pipe line oil during a three hour drillstem test at 9,897-9,730 feet. None of the oil flowed out at the surface while the tester was open.

However, practically all of the oil unloaded while the drill pipe was being pulled. There was no formation water with the oil.

The oil fill-up in the drill pipe during three hour test was at the rate of 24.18 barrels per hour. Gravity was 41 degrees.

Operator is preparing to core the reef lime was topped at 9,705 feet. Elevation is 3,277 feet. That gives the project a datum of minus 6,428 feet on that marker.

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Sawyer, a deep dry hole about six miles to the northeast topped the same lime reef at 10,375 feet.

Interested observers calculated that the Anderson-Prichard discovery is at least 600 feet high, structurally, to the Stanolind failure.

The indicated new field opener is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 39, block DD, John H. Gibson survey. It is three miles southeast of Wellman and 10 miles southwest of Brownfield.

There was a strong blow of air at the surface as soon as the tester was opened. It continued for 55 minutes and was replaced by a strong blow of gas. The gas continued for 1 1/2 hours during the three-hour drillstem test.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure rose from zero at the start of the test to 750 pounds at the time the tool was closed.

Shut-in bottom pressure, after 15 minutes was 4,000 pounds. Hydrostatic pressure was 4,750 pounds.

Should the wildcat yield oil on a regular production test from the 9,897-9,730 foot horizon the way it acted on the drillstem test, it would make approximately 600 barrels of oil per day naturally.

It was originally started out to drill to 12,500 feet to test into the Pennsylvanian and to possibly go to the Fusselman.

The Yates sandy lime of the upper Permian in West - Central Pecot County, seven miles west of the town of Fort Stockton.

This development is 330 feet from south and east lines of section 16, block 146, T&STL survey, and two miles southwest of the Fort Stockton field.

It topped the Yates at 2,630 feet, on an elevation of 2,930 feet, to give it a datum of plus 300 feet.

A string of 5 1/2-inch casing is cemented at 2,406 feet. Total depth is 2,870 feet.

After the plug was drilled out to bottom operator shot the interval at 2,650-2,825 feet with 410 quarts of nitroglycerin.

5,500 MCFPD

After the hole was cleaned out the well has shown for a gas flow of 5,500,000 cubic feet per day, with a little oil. There is no formation water.

The City of Fort Stockton is running a pipe line to the new discovery and will purchase the gas for distribution through the municipal gas system.

The Fort Stockton gas supply now comes from the Fort Stockton field and it is understood that the gas volume in that area is decreasing.

The Meriwether No. 1 Leon Farms is on a one-half section lease selected on a farmstead deal with Stanolind Oil & Gas Company. That concern retains an override on the acreage.

C-E Midland Tester Runs Middle String

Forest Oil Corporation and associates No. 1 Pio Crespi, Spraberry wildcat in Central-East Midland County, has set intermediate casing at 4,900 feet.

This venture, located eight miles southeast of the city of Midland and six miles northeast of the Texas-Harvey field, is slated to go to approximately 8,000 feet to test the Spraberry sand of the Permian.

Exact location of the No. 1 Pio Crespi is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 17, block 38, T&P survey, T-2-S.

Ellenburger Project Due In Sweetie Peck

General American Oil Company, discoverer operator of the Sweetie Peck field in Southwest Midland County, has staked its No. 3-E Peck in that multiphase area.

Slated to be drilled to the Ellenburger pay at approximately 13,500 feet, the No. 3-E Peck is to be on a quarter of a mile east of the discovery well.

Drillsite is 660 feet from east and 665 feet from north lines of the northwest quarter of section 21, block 41, T-4-S, T&P survey.

This new pool is 30 miles southwest of the city of Midland. Commercial production from the Wolfcamp of the Permian, Pennsylvanian, Devonian, and Ellenburger zones already has been developed in the Sweetie Peck field.

Two-Well Clairmont Pool To Get Outpost

Sun Oil Company has scheduled a north outpost to the two - well Clairmont - Lower Pennsylvanian pool in Central Kent County.

Sun No. 1 E. A. Teague will be one-location north of the same operator's No. 1 Sampson, east offset to the discovery well.

The No. 1 Teague is to be 660 feet from south and west lines of section 10, block 98, H&TC survey, and one mile southwest of Clairmont.

Slated depth is approximately 6,900 feet. Operations are to begin by June 30.

Kewanee Offsets Reef Opener In SW Kent

Kewanee Oil Company has staked a one-location north offset to its recent Pennsylvanian lime discovery in Southwest Kent County.

The proposed venture, Kewanee No. 1-D Will, will be 660 feet from south and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 3, block 4, H&GN survey, and 15 miles southwest of Clairmont.

The No. 1-D Will is one-location north of the No. 1-C Will which is in the process of being completed from perforations in a Pennsylvanian lime at 6,853-6,871 feet. From this zone is flowed approximately eight barrels of oil hourly through a three-eighths inch choke.

Storage is now being built preparatory to completion tests.

Midland's Discovery To Drill Plug Sunday

Production tests on Midland County's new Ellenburger discovery are slated to begin early Sunday afternoon.

Operator of the Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2 Sparks at that time will drill plug, set on five and one-half inch casing at 12,944 feet, and begin completion tests from open hole section at 12,944-970 feet.

Seventy-five more sacks of cement have been squeezed behind the plug string to make doubly sure it is set properly.

This discovery, located 11 1/4 miles southwest of the city of Midland, previously flowed 123.71 barrels of 53.9 gravity oil hourly from the Ellenburger on a drillstem test.

It also developed flowing production from the Pennsylvanian, but that zone is now cased off. Plans for developing Pennsylvanian have not been reported.

The No. 2 Parks is 660 feet from north and 2,180 feet from west lines of section 10, M. Daugherty survey.

Two Martin Testers Making More Hole

Martin County's two deep wildcats are both making more hole.

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-E-B George W. Glass, in the southwest section of the county, 12 miles north of Midland and 18 miles west of Stanton, had reached 10,214 feet in lime and shale, and was boring deeper.

This venture is projected to 13,500 feet to test the Ellenburger. It has logged some shows of possible production in the lower Permian Spraberry and Dean sections. Many interested observers think those shows could be developed for commercial production.

Spartan No. 1 Wolcott is projected to 13,000 feet to test into the Ellenburger.

Mitchell Prospector Flowing Water, Oil

John W. Murchison and Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Womack, wildcat in Northwest Mitchell County, is still flowing.

MAGNOLIA GOES HIGHER—Magnolia Petroleum Company generally "goes deeper"—as it hunts new oil reserves—but on one project in the Permian Basin the company "is going higher," as it adds three floors to its Midland office building. The original structure was completed and occupied in June, 1947. It has two floors above ground, and a full basement. Now the steel frame for an additional three floors is almost completed and masonry work is to be started in a few days.

WASHINGTON OIL—Domestic Producers, Coal Unions May Battle It Out Soon For Fuel Markets

WASHINGTON—John L. Lewis and the domestic oil producers may be fighting side by side today against oil imports, but signs indicate they will be engaged in a bitter, cut-throat battle soon for fuel markets.

In fact, there is every reason to believe the coal producers and unions may seek government action to shackle the oil and gas industries, to keep them out of heating oil markets, while encouraging coal.

A drive for the creation of a Federal Energy Commission to control coal, oil and water power just at the Federal Power Commission, with its far-reaching authority controls natural gas is conceivable, if not already underway.

Resolutions looking toward the creation of a national energy policy are before Congress right now. They call for hearings by senate and House committees. Both coal unions and operators have given them the green light. But no oil man familiar with the subject feels happy about the resolutions, the fact-finding studies they would launch, or the conclusions they might come to.

Temporary Commission

But the fact is, if Congress, either this year or early next year, does not embark upon a study of just this sort, President Truman may launch one under his executive powers. The plan for presidential entry into the picture already have been drawn; they call for creation of a Temporary National Fuel Commission.

If the alliance of John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers heartens American petroleum producers and it is the real drive behind the effort of Senator Matthew Neely (D-W.Va.) and his subcommittee to limit oil imports, it must be judged carefully.

For instance, the same issue of the union's journal that called for "every coal company, every miner" to fight oil imports also stated: "Competition from foreign oil and from natural gas . . . tends to undermine the coal industry by disruption of its markets."

If coal operators have any different ideas, they are not apparent.

For the government-activating National Bituminous Coal Advisory Council has just adopted a resolution calling for study and preparation of a coal "policy" for the United States. Secretary of Interior Chapman has given his green light to the study.

The resolution, which begins with a preamble calling for a tariff hike to $1.05 a barrel on oil imports and other steps to curb oil imports also explains:

Long-Range Supply

"The nation's fuel resources must be so utilized as to provide a secure and long-range supply of fuel and at the same time to insure the availability of the particular fuels immediately necessary to support the stepped-up demands of any military emergency that may arise."

Oil men following the resolution read into this statement the charge of "oil shortage."

"We are of the view that the common sense demands the establishment of a policy that embraces all sources of energy."

Adoption of the resolution, at an Interior Department meeting, was followed by creation of a coal-man committee to make the study. C. J. Potter of Pittsburgh, of the Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal Company, was named chairman.

Members named are: George H. Love, Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company, R. E. Snobberger, Bimbley Coal Company, Milton H. Pies, Alabama Coal Company, Paul L. Shields, Spring Canyon Coal Company, L. N. Thomas Carbon Fuel Company, Ezra Van Horn, Ohio Coal Association, and L. E. Tierney, Eastern Coal Company.

How much oil should be imported? If the level were 600,000 barrels daily instead of almost 900,000, the American producers would be satisfied.

That's what some producer spokesmen told a National Petroleum Council imports committee, which met in executive session last week. Chances are that the committee, when it makes a report to the council and Interior Secretary Chapman next month won't suggest any specific figure.

Oil men are also looking for a change in the Senate Judiciary Committee this summer may turn into a three-ring circus—at least there'll be three rings to it. For the present plan is to break up the senators on the committee into three groups:

Oil Companies Give College Fellowships

AUSTIN—Two petroleum engineering fellowships and a scholarship totaling $3,200 will be available at the University of Texas for the 1950-51 long session, Dr. H. H. Power, petroleum engineering department chairman, announced.

A $1,250 Stanolind Oil and Gas Company graduate fellowship will be awarded on a basis of scholarship and research qualifications. Applications should include an official college grade transcript, photograph, marital status, experience record, and three references.

The recipient of a $1,200 Shell Oil Company graduate fellowship will receive in addition $300 for research expenses plus reimbursement for tuition and fees.

For College Seniors

The Shell fellow will not be obliged to fulfill any special research requirements. The grant will cover the 1951 Summer session as well as the long session mentioned.

Any student who has completed his junior year and can meet University of Texas scholarship standards is eligible for a $750 Socony-Vacuum Oil Company scholarship. The recipient must have Socony-Vacuum approval of his character, personality, initiative and cooperativeness with associates.

Applications should be sent to Petroleum Engineering Department, University of Texas, Austin, Texas.

Lobby Added To RRC In Midland

G. D. Lobley has been named assistant deputy supervisor in the Midland office of the oil and gas division of the Railroad Commission of Texas.

He replaces Art Murr, who recently resigned to enter business for himself.

Lobley is a native of Abilene and a 1949 graduate from Abilene Christian College. Before receiving his degree in accounting, he served as a B-24 pilot during World War II.

That project was in the same section with the two abandoned DeKalb locations. It was one location southwest of the Chisum field, Siuro-Devonian discovery, and was more than 200 feet low to that producer. It did not find any shows of oil or gas.

That eliminated the DeKalb locations.

Pumper Completed

In Northeast Eddy County, almost on the Lea County line, and two miles east of the Shugart field.

Back Again

Finally, Ginsburg tried to get a commission as a colonel, was turned down as too young, and finally entered service at a lower rank. He emerged some years later as a captain, and then dropped out of sight.

Recently, he turned up as the $10,000 a year administrative assistant to Senator Matthew Neely (D-W.Va.). The senator, now completing a report on his six-week, intensive study into the damage from oil imports, has an illustrious New Dealer at his elbow to help with the report, if needed.

A British proposal to resolve the sterling oil-dollar oil controversy asserts the dollar content of British oil is only 15 per cent. The State Department interprets the statement as Britain's refusal to talk out the matter, or an insult to American intelligence. . . . The Keogh oil imports report, calling for a voluntary reduction in imports, may never be issued. Rep. Wright Patman (D-Texas) is sitting on it. Some American producers are trying to smother him out. . . . Socony-Vacuum Oil Company is offering small refiners a pre-fabricated oil refinery for making high octane gasoline. It claims it will speed the day when high compression autos and high octane gasoline to go with them are in use. . . . The Mexican oil loan is alive again, but it may be months before anything is done to give Mexico the funds.

Two Wildcats Are Staked In Chisum Vicinity Of Chaves

HOBBS, N. M.—Locations for two new wildcats have been staked in Central Chaves County in the vicinity of the recently discovered Chisum field. One of the prospectors is to be a 6,600-foot exploration to test the Siluro-Devonian, the pay which was found productive in the Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 1 State, opener of the field. The other is to explore the Permian lime above 2,000 feet. That zone has shown possibilities of producing in several developments in that sector of Chaves County.

DeKalb Agricultural Association, Inc., No. 2-X-A Compton-State is to be the 6,600-foot wildcat. It is located 660 feet from north and east lines of section 15-11-27e.

That puts it approximately two miles northwest of the Honolulu No. 1 State, the Siluro-Devonian discovery. It is due to start operations in the near future. It is about 17 miles east and a little south of Roswell.

2,000-Feet Tester

Delfern Oil Company of Lubbock, Texas, No. 1 State-Levick is to be the 2,000-foot prospector. It is approximately 16 miles east of Roswell and 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 36-6-29e. Drilling is to begin soon.

DeKalb has plugged and abandoned two shallow wildcats, and has also abandoned two locations in the Chisum area.

The plugged projects are:

DeKalb No. 2-X Compton-State, a wildcat located 630 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 15-11-26e, which drilled to 1,993 feet in San Andres lime.

It had a show of gas at 1,890 feet, a show of oil at 1,930-35 feet and developed salt water at 1,993 feet. The shows of gas and oil were not sufficient to make an oil well and the project was plugged.

DeKalb No. 1 Compton-State, located 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 26-11-26e, penetrated to a total depth of 2,300 feet in lower Permian lime and failed to find any possibilities of production and it has been plugged and abandoned.

Hinkle Abandoned

DeKalb No. 1 Clarence E. Hinkle, location which had been staked for a 6,600-foot exploration to test the Siluro-Devonian pay, and which was 660 feet from north and 1,936 feet from east lines of section 24-11-27e, has been abandoned.

DeKalb No. 2 Clarence E. Hinkle, another wildcat location, 660 feet from north and 645 feet from east lines of section 24-11-27e, has also been abandoned.

Both those locations were eliminated as possibilities from the Siluro-Devonian when Honolulu No. 1 Hinkle, located 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 24-11-27e, was plugged and abandoned as a dry hole on total depth of 7,315 feet in granite.

That project was in the same section with the two abandoned DeKalb locations. It was one location southwest of the Chisum field, Siuro-Devonian discovery, and was more than 200 feet low to that producer. It did not find any shows of oil or gas.

That eliminated the DeKalb locations.

Pumper Completed

In Northeast Eddy County, almost on the Lea County line, and two miles east of the Shugart field.

Olen Featherstone has completed a small pumping producer at his No. 1 State, a wildcat located 2,310 feet from south and 330 feet from east lines of section 36-18-31a.

This new discovery completed for a 24-hour pumping potential of 27 barrels of 36.8-gravity oil from pay in Permian lime at 3,113-30 feet. The section at 3,110-30 feet had been shot with 63 quarts of nitro glycerin. The production is from open hole with 7-inch casing cemented at 3,083 feet.

Shell Oil Company No. 1-A State is to a 10,000-foot prospector to the Pennsylvanian line in Northwest Lea County, about 16 miles northwest of Lovington.

It is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 34-14-33e. Drilling is to start in the near future.

This venture is in the vicinity of Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1 Saunders, recently completed discovery from the Pennsylvanian lime.

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1-BTC State is a new exploration for the Hightower field in Northwest Lea County, 25 miles northwest of Lovington.

It is 1,880 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 27-12-30e. Drilling to 11,000 feet to test into the Devonian is to start soon.

Bough Stepout Falls

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-B Walker - Federal, on the outside of the proven area in the Bough-Pennsylvanian line field in Northeast Lea County, and 660 feet from south and 643 feet from west lines of section 6-9-36e, has been temporarily abandoned on total depth of 10,225 feet in dry lime and dolomite. The prospector has not developed any shows of commercial production.

Allan Hargrave of Midland No. 1 Mascho-Federal, Central-Southwest Lea County wildcat, 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 24-22-33e, has been plugged and abandoned on total depth of 4,497 feet in barren dolomite.

It developed a hole full of sulphur water at the bottom and does not report logging any shows of oil or gas.

Olson Drilling Company No. 1 Nobles Trust estate, 40 miles northeast of Roswell, in Northeast Chaves County, and 1,980 feet from south and 2,180 feet from west lines of section 18-45-27e, had reached 7,695 feet in schist and quartzite, and was drilling deeper.

It is due to encounter solid granite at any time. Up to now it has not found any signs of commercial oil production. It had some shows of gas in the Pennsylvanian lime, which may be tested further after the granite is reached.

Bottomed In Dolomite

Union Oil Corporation No. 1 State-Fairbank, Southeast Chaves County wildcat, 10 miles south of the Caprock field, and 2,080 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 24-14-31e, was bottomed at 10,653 feet in an unidentified dolomite, and was milling on junk.

When that obstruction is recovered the venture will bore deeper.

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1-BTA State, staked 10,000-foot wildcat in Central - East Chaves County, and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 22-8a-32e, had progressed under 7,738 feet in shale, and was boring deeper.

It has not reported having found any shows of oil or gas in any zone it has drilled through.

Delta Gulf Schedules Ellenburger Wildcat In Far C-W Scurry

Drilling is to start soon at an 8,800-foot wildcat in Central-West Scurry County, less than one mile east of the Borden County line.

The prospector will be Delta Gulf Drilling Company and Delta Drilling Company No. 1 H. H. Eiland. It is to be 660 feet from east and 616.7 feet from south lines of section 283, block 97, H&TC survey.

That puts it 14 miles west and two miles north of Snyder and approximately five miles west of the nearest production in the Kelley-Snyder field and about the same distance northwest of the closest completed oil wells in the Diamond M-Canyon field.

The prospected destination of 8,800 feet for the Delta Gulf and Delta No. 1 Eiland is calculated to take it into the Ellenburger.

Extreme NW Fisher Gets Deep Wildcat

Baker-Taylor Drilling Company and L. H. Puckett, of Amarillo, No. 1 J. D. Gray estate is slated to be a 7,000-foot wildcat to test the Pennsylvanian lime in extreme Northwest Fisher County, 10 miles northwest of Rotan.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of the J. P. Baird survey. Operations are due to be started in the near future.

Hennen, Who Located Yates Discovery, Will Retire From Service On July 1

Ray V. Hennen, of Midland, who is credited with having done the geological work which resulted in the discovery of the Yates field in Pecos County, will retire July 1 from his position as chief geologist for Hiawatha Oil & Gas Company.

Ray V. Hennen and his wife are to move from Midland to a home they have acquired at 627 Elizabeth Street in the Terrell Hills addition to San Antonio.

He will give up active direction of the geological department of Hiawatha, and will also relinquish his duties as manager of the concern's West Texas district land and geological departments, which operate out of offices in Midland.

However, Hennen is to continue to be associated with Hiawatha on a consulting basis, despite the fact that he was 75 years old on June 18. Hennen has had an exciting and interesting career since he graduated from the West Virginia University in 1901 as an engineer.

Immediately following his graduation he went to work for Carter Oil Company. Since then he has been employed by the West Virginia Geological Survey, Transcontinental Oil Company, Hannibal Gas Company, General Oil Sales Corporation, Republic Oil Corporation and Hiawatha.

Worked in Dakota
In addition he had two stretches as a consulting geologist and during 1940-42 he was in partnership with Thomas W. Leach and A. M. Frueh on an oil and gas lease play in the Dakota Basin of North Dakota.

During that period he made a semi-detailed reconnaissance geological investigation of an area which covered more than 10,000 square miles in the Dakota region.

Hennen has worked in all areas of the North American continent and in Cuba, Brazil, Venezuela and Colombia.

While chief geologist for Transcontinental Oil Company, Hennen recommended the acquisition by that company of the oil and gas leases on the Yates Dome in East Pecos County which the Yates oil field was later discovered.

Drove Yates Stake
Hennen drove the stake for the location of the discovery well of that field. It developed the largest oil producer ever reported in the world in the Transcontinental and Mid-Kansas No. 30-A Yates, which on September 23, 1929, flowed 8,528.4 barrels of oil per hour for a Railroad Commission potential of 204,681 barrels per day from pay above total depth of 1,070 feet in Yates lime.

He is also given much credit for the development of the Big Lake oil field in Reagan County, and of numerous other prolific fields in other parts of the United States.

Richardson To Open Consulting Office, To Quit Barnsdall

Carl B. Richardson of Tulsa has resigned as research geologist with Barnsdall Oil Company and will become an independent consulting geologist, effective July 1. He plans to remain in Tulsa.

Carl B. Richardson has specialized in limestone reefs, and is widely known for his research. He delivered his paper on West Texas reefs at the national convention of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists in Chicago in April.

He has been with Barnsdall Oil Company for 13 years. Principally, he has worked with problems of regional geology.

Honolulu Suggests Chaves Opener Be Named For Pioneer

Honolulu Oil Corporation has suggested that its recent Siluro-Devonian discovery in Central-Southeast Chaves County be named "Chisum field," in honor of the pioneer John Simpson Chisum.

Chisum was born and reared on a farm in Tennessee.

Originally the family name was Chisholm, but it was changed after an army officer, for pension purposes, listed it incorrectly after the Battle of New Orleans in 1812.

Sometimes Chisum is confused with Jesse Chisholm, for whom the famous cattle trail to the northern markets is named.

Brought First Cattle
Chisum migrated first to North Texas from Tennessee, then in 1866, followed his brother to New Mexico over a trail blazed by Loving and Goodnight.

A year later he moved 900 head of steers to Bosque Grande on the Pecos, approximately 20 miles south of Fort Sumner, and established headquarters there.

This herd was the first to range permanently in Southeast New Mexico. And the brand of the long "fence rail" streak from shoulder to hip and the "single-bob" ear cut became one of the most widely known in the Southwest.

Between 1870 and 1881, the height of his ranching career, Chisum had about 600,000 head on his vast domain, which stretched 200 miles along the Pecos River from Anton Chico on the north to Seven Rivers on the south, and from the White Mountains on the west to the Canadian River on the east.

Ranch Diminished
Chisum tried unsuccessfully to acquire a patent on this whole area from President Ulysses S. Grant.

Indian raids, rustlers and litigation greatly diminished the ranch, and after Chisum's death in 1884, it was bought by J. J. Hagerman, whose estate later sold it to Cornell University.

Advance reservations for the Tuesday night barbecue should be made with Maurice W. Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the PBLA, at his office at the Texas Company in Midland.

Opening Scheduled Saturday For Gasoline Plant In Ector

The North Cowden gasoline plant, located 15 miles northwest of Odessa on the Goldsmith road, will be officially opened Saturday. Dedication ceremonies will be held at the plant site beginning at 11:30 a.m.

William J. Murray, Jr., chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, and General Ernest O. Thompson, Commission member, each will deliver a short address at the ceremonies, with P. M. Perry, manager of the Gasoline and Chemicals division of Cities Service Oil Company, Bartlesville, Oklahoma, serving as master of ceremonies.

The dedication will be broadcast over a three station radio hookup from 11:30 to 12:00 noon. Stations which will carry the program are KOSA and KRIG, Odessa, and KCRS, Midland. Music for the official opening will be provided by the Midland Lions Club orchestra.

Guests at the dedication will include employees and executives of the companies operating in the North Cowden field, state officials, and civic leaders in the area.

The plant will be open for inspection by the public from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. Saturday.

The North Cowden plant is the latest to be completed in West Texas and will furnish facilities for one of the world's largest cooperative gas injection projects. It extracts butane, propane, and natural gasoline from casinghead gas produced in the North Cowden field. These products are then sold for commercial use. The residue or dry gas which is left after processing serves a threefold purpose. Most of it is injected back into the producing formation, since the plant is primarily a repressuring project. However, portions of the dry gas are used for plant, camp, and lease fuel, and the remainder is sold to a nearby carbon-black plant. At present, 33 unit blocks will have injection wells in the field, substantially increasing the recovery of crude oil.

Build by Stearns-Roger Manufacturing Company of Denver, Colorado, the North Cowden plant has a design capacity of 50 million cubic feet; however, this can easily be doubled by installing certain items of equipment. With this in mind, most of the process area is designed with an eye toward an eventual capacity of 100 million cubic feet.

21 Owners
Operating at its present capacity, the plant can recover 150,000 gallons of liquid products daily. This includes 35,000 gallons of propane, 23,000 gallons of butane and 92,000 gallons of 26 pound R.V.P. natural gasoline.

Stanolind Oil and Gas Company will operate the plant for the group of 21 owners which include: The Texas Company, Cities Service Oil Company, Sinclair Oil and Gas Company, Sun Oil Company, The Atlantic Refining Company, Tide Water Associated Oil Company, Continental Oil Company, Alene C. Delaney, Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation, C. C. Richardson Corporation, D. E. Kervin, William E. McBea, The Ohio Oil Company, Kiska Oil Company, Texas Gulf Producing Company, Edward E. Reigle (trustee), Acme Oil and Refining Company, C. C. Richardson, O. C. Stephens, J. C. McDonald, Janice Florine Whitfield, and Stanolind Oil and Gas Company.

Membership is restricted to men who are actually working as landmen for established oil companies or oil operators.

Advance reservations for the Tuesday night barbecue should be made with Maurice W. Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the PBLA, at his office at the Texas Company in Midland.

Reef Discovery—

more water than oil from a Pennsylvanian lime.

On the latest test reported, it flowed 82 barrels of fluid, of which 70 per cent was water and 30 per cent oil, through a one-fourth inch choke in nine and one-half hours.

Production is from perforations at 7,720-7,736 feet. The venture is bottomed at 8,338 feet in barren Ellenburger. It is plugged back to 7,800 feet and five and one-half inch casing is set at 7,792 feet.

Previously this doubtful discovery made 158 barrels of water and 67 barrels of oil in 20 1/2 hours through a one-inch choke.

The No. 1 Womack is 18 miles northeast of Colorado City and 690 feet from south and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 8, block 26, H&TC survey.

It is three miles south of the one-well Dunn-Canyon pool.

C-E Iron Wildcat Gets Oil Cut Mud

Possibilities of the development of a small production from the Leonard section of the lower Permian have been found at Wilshire Oil Company and Balboa Oil Company No. 1 Brooks, Central-East Iron County wildcat, five miles southwest of Tankersley.

The venture ran a one hour drillstem test at 3,725-4,000 feet. Recovery was 30 feet of slightly oil and gas cut drilling mud. There were no shows of formation water.

Bottom hole pressure built up from 15 pounds to 850 pounds, in a 15-minute shut-in period.

Operators are to cement 9 5/8-inch casing at 3,950 feet, to protect the pay above that point, and they will then drill on down to the Ellenburger.

This wildcat has water in the upper part of the Leonard between 3,665 feet and 3,725 feet.

It is 680 feet from north and west lines of section 21, block 3, H&TC survey.

Sun Schedules Edge Well In W-C Scurry

In an undeveloped section between the Diamond M and Kelley-Snyder fields in West Central Scurry County, the Sun Oil Company has staked its No. 1 J. W. Voss and others.

Drillsite will be 2,226 feet from east and 467 feet from north lines of section 20, block 97, H&TC survey, and nine miles west of Snyder.

If the venture misses the Canyon pay in the area, operator plans to deepen to approximately 8,100 feet in an attempt to develop some sort of production from the Strawn.

Operations are to begin immediately.

O&G Shows Recovered By Runnels Wildcat

In Runnels County one and three-fourths miles north of the discovery well of the Lloyd-Fry sand field, the Gulfshore Oil Company of Houston, No. 1 Ollie Davidson has logged shows of oil and gas in a Strawn sand.

On the one hour drillstem test at 4,280-4,344 feet, recovery was 30 feet of slightly oil and gas-cut mud.

Operators are deepening ahead below 4,943 feet at last report. The No. 1 Davidson is 330 feet from north and west lines of H. E. Baggs survey No. 100.

Humble Stakes Site In New Crane Field

Humble Oil & Refining Company has staked another exploration in the Cordona Lake-Devonian pool in Central-South Crane County.

Area AIME To Meet Monday In Odessa

The Permian Basin section of the American Institute of Mining & Metallurgical Engineers Monday night at the Roski Club in Odessa will hold its June meetings.

The session will convene at 6:30 p.m. with a social. A steak dinner will be served at seven, followed by a talk by A. W. Francis, assistant chief engineer for National Tank Company.

His subject will be "Stage Separation," which will include information regarding gravity conservation of crude oil by means of two or more stages of separation in series.

Bill Little of Midland, section chairman, will preside at the meeting.

Hitt Quits Hiawatha To Be Independent

Charles A. Hitt, Jr., is now an independent oil man and trader. Prior to June 1 he had been district landman in West Texas for Hiawatha Oil & Gas Company. He held that position for about two years before he resigned to go out on his own.

Before taking the Hiawatha job Hitt worked for other oil companies in this territory.

He is now maintaining his office at his home. He will open a downtown office when he can secure suitable quarters.

Commission Studies El Paso Natural's Expansion Request

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Power Commission is considering an application of the El Paso Natural Gas Company for permission to carry out a major expansion of its Southwestern pipeline system.

The case went to the commission Monday after final arguments. A commission spokesman said Saturday there was no way of telling when a decision may be expected.

The proposed expansion would cost $44,500,000 and would include a 433-mile pipeline from the San Juan Basin in New Mexico to Topock, Ariz.

During final arguments, Attorney Alvin R. Grambling told the commission El Paso plans to take 33,000,000,000 cubic feet of gas a year from the San Juan Basin. This, he said, would supplement gas fed into the El Paso system from the Permian Basin in Texas and New Mexico.

The San Juan line would deliver gas to the Pacific Gas and Electric Company at Topock. The line also would supply Gallup, N. M., and Winslow, Kingman, Williams, Prescott, Seligman, Flagstaff and Holbrook, Ariz.

The El Paso application also involves construction of a new 116-mile pipeline to tap flare gas production in the rich new Scurry field of Texas. Flare gas is taken from oil wells.

El Paso has contracted to deliver 150,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day, after the line is finished, to the Pacific Gas and Electric Company and 17,000,000 cubic feet a day to the Arizona and New Mexico communities.

The commission, in considering El Paso's application, is faced with a problem posed by the Interstate Natural Gas Company.

This firm, through its attorneys, demanded El Paso be required to act as a common carrier for transportation of gas from Texas and New Mexico fields to California.

Interstate's attorneys contended this requirement should be made a condition for granting the pipeline permit. They based their arguments on the mineral leasing act, which says that pipeline companies securing rights-of-way across public lands shall agree to transport gas produced on adjacent lands.

Wheelock-Weinschel of Corsicana No. 1 Schilling, wildcat one and one-quarter miles southeast of Reinecke Canyon field in Southeast Borden County, appears to have missed the Canyon reef and probably will be plugged and abandoned.

The venture now is bottomed at 7,055 feet in shale and is shut down for orders.

On a drillstem test at 6,280-98 feet, recovery was 240 feet of mud and 300 feet of salt water. At 6,986, the venture had a minus datum of 4,657 feet.

The No. 1 Schilling is 467 feet from north and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 44, block 25, H&TC survey.

Texaco's Producing Department Wins 1949 Safety Award

The producing department of The Texas Company has won the President's Award for 1949. This honor is given to the department of Texas which shows the best safety record improvement for the preceding year.

All other departments also had improved safety records.

Presentation of the award was made by H. T. Klein, president of the company, to R. F. Baker, vice president in charge of the producing department.

The trophy will be on display in the West Texas division offices in Fort Worth from June 22 to June 26. Then it will be moved to West Texas-New Mexico areas between June 26 and August 1, announced C. B. Williams, division manager.

Permian Basin Rigs Level Off At 559

The peak drilling activity in the Permian Basin appears—at least temporarily—to have been reached. Active rigs in the area on June 15 were 559, the same number as June 1, according to the Reed-Roller Bit Company survey.

Scurry County was off two from June 1 with 191 rigs active in the county on June 15; however the number of rigs in Kent County almost doubled during the 15-day period. Rigs there jumped from 8 to 15. Borden increased from 22 to 28, and Midland County, less the Pegasus-Peck area, increased from 8 to 10 rigs.

The Pegasus-Peck area dropped from 26 to 25 on June 15, however two locations have been staked in that area since this survey was made.

On June 15, 1949, there were only 357 rotary rigs in operation in West Texas and New Mexico.

Glaziers Stay Up; Semi-Pro Tourney Continues Sunday

By SHORTY SHELBERNE
Reporter-Telegram Sports Editor

The Ackery A's, the Midland Glaziers, the Odessa Stars and the Grandfalls Eagles survived the first round of the National Baseball Congress District Semi-Pro Tournament Saturday at Indian Park and will battle for the West Texas district title in the championship bracket.

The Midland Glaziers take on the Grandfalls Eagles at 3:30 p.m. Sunday in Indian Park. The field will be cut to three in the top bracket, that game, the winner will advance to the finals.

The Odessa Stars play the Ackery A's next Saturday at 3:30 p.m. to decide the other finalist for the championship title which will be played at 3:30 p.m. July 2 here.

The Midland Glaziers, losers to the Ackery nine by a 14 to 7 score in the first round, tangle with the Hobbs Oilers at 1 p.m. Sunday in the opener of the second round. The Oilers went down before a strong Midland Glazier outfit by a 13 to 6 score Saturday.

The Midland Glaziers will be a consolation bracket game. The Glaziers and the Odessa Stars flashed great pitching and powerful hitting in Saturday's first round.

Frank Roberson, former Midland High School chucker, hurled a neat six hitter in whipping the talented Hobbs nine. He was in control all the way.

Tom O'Barr, the Abilene High School chucker who lost to the Odessa Bronchos in the finals of the state high school tourney this year, elbowed the Odessa Stars to victory. He allowed only five hits as he swept Joe's Gulf Service of Midland aside.

The Gulfers' hurling blew up and errors cost them heavily, however. It was a five and five ball game until the final inning. The tilt was called at the end of six innings due to a regulation time limit effective in all tournament games.

Grandfalls broke out with a three-run eighth inning to ease by the Midland Cats 10 to 8 in one of the top games of the day. Gus Magnuson was the hurler. He was touchable until the seventh when he gave up six runs on five hits. Ray Williams relieved him and was charged with the defeat.

The Cats had taken an eight to one lead by the end of the fifth but blew it in the final two frames.

The Glaziers had little trouble with Hobbs. Singles by Marion Tredaway, Larry Buckingham, Coppe Deberry, Bud Whitson and Carl Harris were coupled with two Hobbs errors for five runs in the first inning. Roberson, hurling in great style, never allowed the Oilers to get close.

The Midland Colts jumped to a 5-3 lead in the third inning over Ackery but Mateo Sotillo weakened in the fourth and Ackery bunched him for six runs. The A's added to their score from there in to win.

Jerry Whitte was the starting hurler for Joe's Gulf and held the Odessa Stars well in check until the third. Two doubles, a single and an error provided the Stars with four runs to tie the score. Gulf counted one in the fourth to move ahead but the Stars tied it up.

Bad Inning
Came the Odessa sixth and the roof caved in. Seven runs crossed the plate and Sam Van Hooter, the ex-Midland Indian had to put out the fire. He whiffed Leo Rheingans, former Odessa Oiler, to end the inning.

Jimmy Watson's bases loaded double in the first had rocketed the Gulfers into the lead.

Tourney Schedule
The eight teams competing in the tournament played good baseball which was to the liking of the fans. Good pitching performances were plentiful.

The tournament continues with Sunday's double header at 1 p.m. and next Saturday and Sunday when the champion and consolation winner will be decided.

Oilers Edge Indians 6-5

The Midland Indians meet the Odessa Oilers at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in the first game of a doubleheader at Oiler Park in Odessa. Ken Carley will oppose Odessa's Ray Miller in the first game and John Singleton will go against Frank Dugger in the finale.

ODESSA—The league-leading Odessa Oilers had to go all out here Saturday night to edge the Midland Indians 6-5 in a 11-inning thriller.

At that, Midland had the game but let it get away. The Tribe notched tallies in the first and second frames while Patton was mowing down the derricks. Then the Redskins got two more in the seventh before Odessa scratched. The Oilers tabbed two in the bottom of the seventh. And added two more in the eighth.

Big Jim Prince poled a homer for Midland in the top of the ninth with none aboard. His mighty poke went 400 feet over the right center wall of Oiler Park.

The infuriated Gulfers came back for two runs in the last of the ninth after two were out. A stinger sizzled through Scooter Hughes and the home nine had tied up the ball game.

Toe To Toe
They slugged it out toe to toe in the 10th with no runs apiece. Midland went scoreless in the top of the 11th and then came the crusher. Batson doubled. Palmer was intentionally passed. Eastham bunted and filled the hassocks. Cearley fluted out to the infield. Monchak fluted out to the infield. Ogden lofted one to rightfield and the Midland gardener dropped it.

That was all she wrote.

Gafford, Demaret Meet In Featured Mid-Century Duel

COLUMBUS, OHIO—(AP)—The touring professionals and the stay-at-home pros broke even Saturday as eight stalwarts stalked into the quarter-finals of the $40,000 Mid-Century PGA Championship with third-round, 36-hole victories.

The tourney-tested tourists advancing into Sunday's 36-hole-man-to-man conflict over Scioto Country Club's rain-swept acres were Jimmy Demaret, the fashion plate from Ojai, Calif., Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., 1948 National Open king who has piled up 68-100 in tournament golf this month; Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., who went to the finals last year against Sam Snead, and Dave Douglas, the elongated lad from Newark, Del.

Upholding the honor of the club professionals in the play-for-play classic are Ray Gafford, 36-year-old, six-foot-two, 160-pound Texan from Dallas; Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., another 36-year-old; Henry Williams, Jr., of Seaside, Pa., 33-year-old father of three, and 42-year-old Henry Picard of Cleveland, the 1939 champion who has just about forsaken the tournament wars but who said he's playing as well as he did in his gaudy days.

Four Are Repeaters
Four of the octet—Mangrum, Palmer, Williams and Demaret—reached the quarter-finals of last year's classic at Richmond, Va. The battle lines will be clearly defined in Sunday's quarter finals, for each of the four matches over Scioto's treacherous 7,032-yard course will pit a home pro against a traveler.

The schedule calls for Gafford to meet Demaret, a fellow but transplanted Texan. Mangrum to battle Harper; Williams to tangle with Douglas, and Picard to joust with Palmer.

Lean and hungry looking Gafford took the measure of Eddie Burke, "the man who beat the man," by 4 and 3 in Friday's second round. Burke dethroned Defending Champion Sam Snead and was king for a day.

Demaret, the laughing boy of the links, staged one of goldom's great comebacks in triumphing over Denny Shute of Akron, the 1936-37 champ, 4 and 3. Jimmy, as colorful as his wardrobe, never was better than even till the twenty-ninth hole, and twice he was three down. One down at the end of 27 holes, Jimmy started burning up the course despite the rain, won five holes in a row—three with birdies—and ousted his 45-year-old foe.

Hogan Apologizes For Missing PGA
COLUMBUS, OHIO—(AP)—Ben Hogan, two-time PGA champion and 1950 National Open king, who has drawn criticism for passing up the current $40,000 PGA tournament, apologized Saturday for his absence.

In a telegram to Joe Novak, president of the Professional Golfers Association, Hogan said: "Thanks very much for your congratulatory wire after my winning the Open. Also thanks for your invitation to be a spectator and referee in the final match of the PGA."

"I am terribly sorry that circumstances beyond my control prevent me from being there. I want to wish you, Mayor (James A.) Rhodes, the PGA and the City of Columbus the best tournament ever."

"Please forgive me for not being able to participate. With best wishes and kindest personal regards to all, I am sincerely, Ben Hogan."

HORSES RUN FOR STATE
BUDAPEST, HUNGARY—(AP)—Hungarian race horses, with a few exceptions, have been nationalized. Jockeys and trainers will work for state-owned stables in the future. The owners got the equivalent of $250 to $830 for their animals. Farmers and members of the association of tolling peasants may keep their horses.

Chicago Babe Wins Women's Western Crown Fourth Time
DENVER—(AP)—One blistering four-under-par nine-hole stretch Saturday lifted Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias into the Women's Western Open golf championship for the fourth time.

The Chicago pro strengthened her claims to dominance in the women's golf field by whipping Peggy Kirk, courageous amateur from Findlay, Ohio, 4 and 3 to become the first ever to capture this major golf prize four times.

The Chicago seige gun rode four birdies and five pars on the second nine Saturday morning to a four-under margin while posting a three-under-par for 71 for the 18-best medal score yet reported in this tournament over the difficult Cherry Hills course.

Noor, Four-Legged Irish Wind-Splitter, Clips Citation Again

ALBANY, CALIF.—(AP)—Swift-running Noor, the four-legged wind splitter from Ireland, took the measure of mighty Citation Saturday for the fourth time in winning the $50,000 added Golden Gate Handicap in the world record-cracking time of one minute 58 1/5 for the mile and a quarter.

The invincible Irisher, after running last for nearly a mile, moved up on the outside, followed by the Calumet Farm pride.

As they charged into the stretch they picked up light-weighted On Trust, which had led from the start, and at one time held a lead of nearly 10 lengths.

Noor's winning margin was three lengths over Citation. Citation was a length ahead of On Trust.

Noor was flying in the stretch while a Northern California track record crowd of 32,900 cheered on the five-year-old son of Nasrullah. Johnny Longden was riding easily in the saddle while Steve Brooks whipped Citation furiously in the closing strides.

HALLANDALE, FLA.—(AP)—Officials of Gulfstream Park race track here still are crowing over the fine season they completed recently. Both attendance and wagering were up substantially over the 1948 season, which in turn topped the 1948 totals. This was achieved in the face of dropping totals at nearly every other track in the nation.

SPORTS PLANTS

by SHORTY SHELburnE

Harold V. Ratliff, the sports editor for The Associated Press in Dallas, has been doing his best to stir up a stinging Spring football training ever since it was voted in again by Class AA schools.

Ratliff's main yell is that Spring grid training knocks the edge off Spring sports such as track and baseball. Apparently, he thinks it should be done away with for good.

We can't rightly contest Mr. Ratliff's authority to speak on the subject but we can give a clear picture of the situation in this country.

Coaches at most schools in West Texas find it rather hard to put baseball over in the Spring. There are a number of factors against it.

District 3-AA and District 5-A are good examples of what the coaches out here think of it.

District 5-A doesn't bother to schedule baseball as a Spring sport. The attention it would be given is devoted to track and most years the boys out of that district show up in the finals at the state meet.

On the other hand it is seldom that West Texas gets a baseball team to the state meet from this area.

El Paso, where it is warmer, has had better luck and Odessa succeeded in winning the title this year. That's true in both cases but we wouldn't say West Texas is a constant contender in high school baseball.

We definitely are not campaigning against baseball for boys. We do believe, however, that the situation should be surveyed in each school and district and appropriate action taken to hold baseball competition or drop it.

Let's just take District 3-AA for example. It was strictly a losing proposition in most schools in the conference from a financial standpoint.

We propose that the place to develop young baseball players is in Junior American Legion baseball.

High school baseball is and always will be a secondary sport to football. There's no getting around it. Football is THE sport.

Baseball necessarily must be scheduled in the Spring which, like it or not, always brings cold and sandstorms and high winds in West Texas. That puts a damper on proper workouts.

When the team plays a home game, something like 30 or 40 fans usually show up at the ball park. So, the school has lost money.

We venture to say not one school in eight or 10 has a coach who is qualified to really coach baseball. It can't be done just by any member of the coaching staff. Baseball is a specialty just like football and we always go out to get the best football coach possible.

But for baseball — just assign Coach Joe Brown to it. He'll hand out the equipment. And that's usually just about all Coach Brown is qualified to do toward coaching baseball.

Another thing is, Spring sports are split when baseball is forced into the schedule. Maybe the school, like Midland, has several boys who want to play baseball but they also want to come out for the track team. Maybe they could help the track team a great deal more than they ever could the baseball team. Yet they want to play baseball.

Baseball is a seasonal sport that requires good weather and specific coaching. It doesn't have either in West Texas high schools.

So, why not, as we said before, develop baseball through the Junior American Legion program.

Drop it from the high school Spring sports and support the Junior Legion program and you will get a great deal more out of Spring sports in school and baseball in the Summer — when it definitely should be played.

As a general rule, the American Legion posts throughout the country provide adequate coaching for their Junior Legion teams. The weather is just right and the sport isn't interfering with other sports.

We say that's the ticket. The conditions are ideal.

Most coaches would favor this plan, we believe, for baseball in West Texas. It would mean just as much to the cities to have a champion in Junior Legion baseball as it would in high school baseball.

Some are staunch in their contentions that Spring football practice hinders Spring sports. If that be the case, let's move baseball into its proper place and loosen up the Spring schedule.

If that is done, there can't possibly be any conflict.

Standard, Shell Triumph In CML

Standard's Milt Montgomery fanned 11 batters and hit a two-run homer to lead his team past Rendezvous 13-7 Friday night and Shell stamped the Reporter Telegram 22-5 in a battle of cellar teams in the JayCee-sponsored City Major League.

Standard scored in every inning but the sixth in defeating Rendezvous. Outcome of the game was settled in the first inning, as Rendezvous' Sammy Koen was tagged for three runs, none of them earned, and one hit.

Art Grove gave Rendezvous supporters a moment of hope in the seventh when he poked a long three-run homer with one out, but the next two batters were retired in order to end the game.

Montgomery gave up six hits and six walks but was tough in the pinches. Third Baseman Bill Smith and Montgomery homered, both hits going to left field. A strong westerly wind aided right-hand hitters in order to end the game.

The Reporter-Telegram team started strong in the first game, scoring four runs in the first two innings, but trailed all the way. Shell's big inning was the third when they counted eight runs on six hits and four errors. John Chitwood homered.

James Beggs of Reporter and Centerfield McCormick and Joe Chappell of Shell all clouted three-run circuit blows. Shell counted 10 unearned runs on 10 Reporter errors.

A lopsided victory was chalked up in the Optimist League as the Harvesters coasted past the Buccaneers 21-6. Vannaman hit two home runs in two official trips and scored four runs for the winners. Paden also homered for the Harvesters.

Odessa Defeats Tribe By 14 To 7

The Odessa Oilers capitalized on timely base hits and erratic pitching by Midland hurlers to take a 14 to 7 decision Friday night in Indian Park. The win evened the series at one game each.

Midland combed the Odessa ace, Ray Knoblauch, for 14 hits but couldn't seem to get them at the right time.

LeRoy Jarl started for Midland and hurled and fielded a great game until he was shelled out in the eighth. Ralph Jarl finished on the mound.

Midland scored two in the first when Quentin Basco got on by error. Tex Stephenson singled, Jim Prince singled to load the bases and Lou Dawson doubled two runs home.

Al Monchak clouted a homer with Bill Cearley on base in the second to tie up the game and from there on the Oilers moved away.

Jarl starts Double-Play. Jarl added two in the fourth on a double and three singles but LeRoy Jarl pitched superb ball to hold the Oilers to two tallies. He had the bases loaded throughout the inning. Jarl made a diving catch on Ray Knoblauch's pop fly on an attempted bunt and doubled Monchak off third to end the inning.

Two more in the sixth, five in the eighth and three in the ninth led the game for Odessa.

Midland stayed close in the ball game until the eighth inning surprising. Singles by Scooter Hughes, Stephenson and George Firnback and a double by Jim Prince produced two Indian runs in the sixth.

Mike Bellone tripled to lead off the seventh and came home on Bob Phillon's long fly to center.

A walk to Prince and singles by Firnback, Bellone and Phillon added the final two Midland runs in the eighth.

Brumbelow To Coach TWC

Mike Brumbelow, Midland sporting goods dealer and veteran football coach and scout, Friday was named head football coach at Texas Western College in El Paso to succeed Jack Curtice who moved recently to Utah University as head coach.

Brumbelow is one of Texas' best-known football figures. He was an outstanding lineman at Texas Christian University during his playing days and later coached the line there at the University of Mississippi.

Brumbelow also has gained a great reputation as a football scout. He scouted the 1949 Notre Dame team for Coach Matty Bell at Southern Methodist and Bell has given much of the credit for SMU's near defeat of the Irish to Brumbelow.

The new Texas Western mentor has been in the sporting goods business since 1945. He has coached the line at the University of Mississippi.

Brumbelow was selected from a field of 30 applicants for the Texas Western position. He will draw a reported $7,600 annual salary.

Dr. W. H. Elkins, president of the school, Friday said Brumbelow was picked "because of his own coaching ability, his public personality and his general background which was felt to fit amicably into the picture at Texas Western."

Mrs. Brumbelow, the former Marjorie Klein, is a former El Paso resident.

Brumbelow, in addition to his college coaching, handled a number of football teams for the Navy during the war. He also was coach at Lufkin High School several years ago.

Brumbelow reportedly has been deeply interested in the TWC job since it opened up with the resignation of Coach Curtice. He discussed the position with Dr. Elkins several times.

"I am glad to get back into the coaching business and am especially pleased to be associated with such a great school as Texas Western," Brumbelow said after notification of his being selected.

Brumbelow was not announced anything concerning his staff of assistant coaches.

BONUS BEAUTY—The first bonus player signed by the Pirates, 21-year-old Bill Macdonald paid off handsomely in his first major league start. He limited the Phillies to three hits winning, 6-0, at Shibe Park.

Tennis Joust Opens Britain's Greatest Fortnight Of Sports

LONDON—(AP)—Britain's biggest fortnight of international sports opens Monday on the famed center court of the All-England Lawn Tennis Club at Wimbledon.

In the next 14 days the sports menu will include the British Open Golf Championship at Troon, Scotland; The Royal Regatta at Henley, England; and the Wimbledon Championships.

Four American professionals and three amateurs headed by British Amateur Champ Frank Stranahan have entered the open golf meet starting July 3.

Eight American entries, including full stars from Harvard, Dartmouth and Yale, will chase the rowing crowns on the Thames River above London starting July 5.

But the tennis at Wimbledon will be the big show.

Ed Schroeder, America's top-ranking amateur, has left his singles title undefended.

Frank Sedgman, 22-year-old Australian Davis Cup star, drew the No. 1 seeding.

Billy Talbot of New York was seeded No. 2.

Houtteman Hurls Tigers To 4-1 Win

DETROIT—(AP)—Right-hander Art Houtteman survived a New York Yankee uprising in the ninth inning Saturday to get the Detroit Tigers a 4 to 1 victory.

Yogi Berra started the rally as he hit his eighth homer into the rightfield stands to make it 4-1. Johnny Mize then doubled and moved to third as Cliff Mages singled for the Yankees' ninth hit.

That brought up pinchhitter Tommy Henrich. He grounded out to give the Tigers their second straight win in the four-game series between the two league leaders.

The score: R. H. E. New York ... 000 000 001—1 9 0 Detroit ... 300 010 00x—4 8 1

Angelo Sun Gets Hotter Than Hot

SAN ANGELO—(AP)—The sun gets powerfully hot in San Angelo. Hot enough to explode a golf ball.

Bill Martin, Soil Conservation Service surveyor and ardent golfer, left one of his golf balls on the back seat of his car Friday.

The sun's rays expanded the air inside the ball, apparently, and the ball erupted in a shower of string rubber.

When Martin returned he found the solid rubber core of the ball out of the cover and the seat covered with what looked like rubber bands.

USC Senior Breaks High Hurdles Record

COLLEGE PARK, MD.—(AP)—Big rainbow Dick Atlesley, 21-year-old USC senior, broke the world's record for the 110-yard high hurdles Saturday at the National AAU Track Championships.

Atlesley negotiated the event in 1:36 seconds at the University of Maryland, shaving one-tenth of a second from the accepted world mark held jointly by Forest Towns and Fred Wolcott.

Texan Protests Mexican Oil Loan

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Representative Combs (D-Texas) Saturday protested to Secretary of State Acheson against any U. S. loan to Mexico for petroleum development purposes.

The Texan said in a letter to Acheson he had heard reports that the long-discussed loan proposal was about to be put into effect.

"This information is most disturbing," Combs said, "and I cannot too strongly urge that no loan be made by this government to any foreign government for the purposes indicated."

Combs was referring to a Mexican loan made last year by Senator Antonio Bernudez, head of Pemex, the Mexican petroleum monopoly.

Combs, in arguing against any U. S. oil loan to Mexico, declared: "In the first place there is ample private capital available for oil development in any nation which welcomes American investment, and the money of taxpayers in this country should not be used to compete with private American investors."

Crash Injures Odessa Woman, Three Others

CLOVIS, N. M.—(AP)—A truck-car collision which spun the car 176 feet into a borrow ditch before demolishing it Saturday seriously injured four persons. The accident was on U. S. Highway 60 four miles east of Mesero, N. M., near here.

Thomas R. Craig, 33, Amarillo, driver of the Texas Transport Company truck, was not injured and the truck was not damaged.

State police said the injured in a Clovis hospital include: Mrs. E. M. Gullebeau, 31, Odessa, Texas, skull fracture and concussion.

A. L. Stecker, 62, driver of the car, Clovis, head injuries and fractured arm.

Mrs. Fern Stecker, his wife, leg cuts and fracture.

Mrs. Gullebeau's husband, riding in the car, escaped injury.

Longview Woman Travels Through Texas Countryside, Earning Living As Painter

LONGVIEW—(AP)—Jonnie McBride travels happily through the Texas countryside, making her living as an industrial painter.

She's an attractive woman, in her forties, sports a straw beret and drives a small station wagon loaded with artists' supplies and picture frames.

She has painted over the whole state—things like oil wells, lumber stacks, "dinky" trains, pipeline ditches, saw mills, cotton fields, forests, and ranches. She paints for oil men, businessmen, ranchers and industrialists who want pictures of their possessions in their living rooms and offices.

Jonnie was born in Nacogdoches. She began painting oil wells just to please herself after returning from three years of study in Europe in 1932. She did them from an artistic point of view. She changed nature's colors, and altered the size of buildings to fit her composition.

When she began to paint technically correct pictures, she wanted to learn more about rigs and derricks. When drilling crews were shy about criticizing her work on location near Pilot Point in 1932, she set a painting hotel lobby there and pretended to read a newspaper while listening for criticism.

Two-Story Doghouse

The first comment came from a crowd of onlookers who had stopped to look. One of the men exclaimed: "Who ever heard of a two-story 'dog' house. She had made a 'dog' house, sleeping quarters for drillers, fit her composition by making it two-story."

Another time, she painted a roll of wire into an oil derrick landscape when a worker suddenly pleaded: "Please, lady, don't," he said. "I'll lose my job. That roll of wire isn't supposed to be there."

Jonnie painted a picture of the first well to produce in the Talco field north of Mount Pleasant; the Whelan No. 1 near Harleton; the Fair and Wren No. 2 a jackknifed derrick in Kaufman County; the American Liberty Well in the Henderson Field, Rusk County; wells in the Hawkins field, and many others.

Some of her paintings of wells offshore in tidewater or in swamps have been done from boats.

W. C. Powell, who has a lumber company in Overton, has been one of her patrons.

The artist's studio in Longview was converted from the operating room in the former clinic of Dr. S. G. Khouiry. It has a skylight, a picture window, countless colored bottles, and an aquarium made from an old fashioned filling station gasoline tank.

For Own Pleasure

For her own pleasure, she has painted gray cypresses on the Balcon River, Cypress Creek, and Blue Hole in Hays County near Wimberly. She is known in many Texas towns, including Dallas, Fort Worth, Marshall, Henderson, Tyler, Beaumont, Athens, Jacksonville for her oils and water-colors. She spends a lot of time giving Texans art education informally. She tries to interest them in vivid paintings of life as it is naturally.

Black oil gushing from a wildcat well, white steam clouds, and the filigree pattern of an oil derrick against a bright sky makes interesting patterns, she says.

On painting trips through deserted Texas fields, across the Atlantic coast and mountain areas, and in journeys in France, Italy and Spain, Jonnie said she always felt at home.

"Now, she carries her rod, reel and tackle box wherever she goes.

"Jonnie, aren't you scared to go to all these places alone?" her friends ask.

She answers: "Why art is a universal language. Artists aren't afraid of people. A wise people aren't afraid of artists."

FBI Agents Shoot Down Henry Shelton

INDIANAPOLIS — (AP) — FBI agents mowed down Henry Harland Shelton Friday night as the man on the nation's "most wanted" list attempted to draw a gun.

Shelton was wounded critically. The only two bullets fired by the agents passed through his body.

The 41-year-old fugitive from the Northern Michigan State Prison was approached by the agents in front of an eastside tavern.

Mrs. Mason P. Harper, wife of the tavern owner, was standing about six feet from Shelton and said she heard an agent say: "Come on, fella, it's all over."

"That's what you think," the long-sought fugitive replied and reached for an automatic stick in his belt.

Both agents fired and Shelton collapsed on the sidewalk before he could shoot.

The fugitive's career in crime goes back to 1933 when he robbed a bank in Kaleva, Mich. He was serving a 60-year term for this when he and Sam Lieb, 42, escaped last Labor Day. Lieb was captured.

U. S. And Mexico To End Seven-Year-Old Trade Agreement

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States and Mexico will toss out a seven-year-old trade agreement next year, bringing to America the prospect of dealing with many products from all over the world.

The State Department and Mexico's foreign office announced jointly Friday the 1953 reciprocal trade agreement has been cancelled, effective Dec. 31, 1959.

The action not only raises American import duties on goods from Mexico, but also on products from Venezuela, Canada, Peru, Australia and other countries which have most-favored-nation trade agreements with the United States.

Major repercussions are expected to be felt in the oil and lead industries. Tariffs on much of these imports will be doubled. Other items on which duties will be boosted include:

Turpentine, naphthalic acid, sheep and lambs, matches, Tampico fiber, some types of bottles, baskets, packing boxes, tin, fluor spar, zinc sulphate, tomatoes and some other vegetables, earthenware and pottery, certain table, household, kitchen and hospital utensils, some furniture, tuna, vegetable oils, grain spirits, blankets, hats, toys, photographic negatives and others.

Burglar Raids Queen Mother's Mansion, Attacks Two Women

LONDON — (AP) — A burglar slipped into Queen Mother Mary's London mansion Saturday and used his fists and a penknife to strike down two women housekeepers who raised an alarm.

The 83-year-old dowager, mother of King George VI, slept through the screaming and excitement that took place below her bed chamber in 200-room Marlborough House, a Christopher Wren structure filled with art objects.

Two hours after the pre-dawn attack, at the end of a top-to-bottom search by police, servants and a snuffing dog, a man was found cringing in a cellar of the house. He was identified as Gerald O'Brien, a 28-year-old Irish gardener, and charged with assault and attempted burglary.

Police reconstructed the incident like this: The burglar entered unnoticed by rifle-carrying, decoated sentries who maintain a front door guard around the clock. He apparently clambered over a vine-covered garden wall and slipped in through a window.

Inside the centuries-old building, he made his way to the bedroom of Mrs. Alice Knight, 66, the queen's housekeeper. She awoke and when she screamed the intruder slashed her seven times on the head and shoulders.

Mrs. Winifred Ralph, 49, assistant housekeeper, was awakened by the struggle and ran to help. The burglar blacked both her eyes. Mrs. Knight's injuries were described as "quite serious."

Mrs. Ralph's were reported superficial. A hospital official said "both are now getting over the shock and making satisfactory progress." The intruder apparently had no time to steal anything.

Man Charged (Continued From Page One)
The slain man also wore a pair of red-and-yellow striped socks, identical to a pair found in Mrs. Ayres' car when Tanner was arrested in a river-bottom shack near his Southeast Texas town.

Tanner first said Mrs. Ayres had lent him the car in St. Louis Monday. In his new story, Tanner said Mrs. Ayres fell from a bridge while he and she were enroute by automobile from Barnhart, Mo., to Memphis, Tenn.

PAY YOUR RENT TO YOURSELF!

Whether you're paying $40 per month or $150 per month in rent, it's TOO MUCH! The rent you pay is BUYING A HOME FOR SOMEBODY ELSE!

It is possible for you to pay your rent money to yourself. Instead of buying rent receipts that have no future value, why don't you INVEST those monthly payments in a steadily-growing accumulation of value in YOUR OWN HOME? And the chances are that payments on a new home in Loma Linda will be considerably less than the rent you're now paying!

Can't make the down payment? You can't be sure of that until you let us explain how easy and how simple it is to own a home in Midland's most popular residential area.

Take a Sunday afternoon drive around Loma Linda . . . see these lovely new homes . . . and let us show you how to stop PAYING and start INVESTING!

Last Sunday In June Brings Wedding Rush

There's nothing so fair as a day in June—especially if it's a wedding day!

With the last Sunday in this, the traditional wedding month, has come a galaxy of weddings.

Enid Wheeler, daughter of Mrs. Holmes Cabbage Wheeler and the late Mr. Wheeler, and George William Gray, III, of Lubbock, were married Saturday evening in the First Presbyterian Church. Dr. Willis P. Gerhart of Abilene officiated. After a wedding trip to Mexico, the couple will live in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Bell are on a wedding trip to Colorado following their marriage Friday evening in the First Methodist Church. The bride, the former Betty McCain, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McCain. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James H. Bell of Amarillo. The Rev. Vernon Yearby and the Rev. Howard H. Hollowell officiated at the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Bell will live in Lubbock.

Weds Roswell Man

Ruby Nelle Braly of McCamey and Midland, was married to M. Sgt. W. E. Noyes of Roswell, N. M., in a Saturday morning ceremony in McCamey. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Braly of McCamey and he is the son of Mrs. R. C. Maxson of Midland. The Rev. Vernon Yearby, pastor of the Midland First Baptist Church, read the ceremony. The couple will live in Roswell after a wedding trip to Colorado.

Howard Winn Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Parker of Midland, married Jane Francis Switzer of Galveston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Switzer of Galveston, Saturday evening. The marriage was solemnized in the Central Christian Church in Galveston with the Rev. Harrell A. Rea officiating. After a wedding trip to Colorado, Mr. and Mrs. Parker will be at home in Abilene.

Mary Elizabeth Arnett of Big Spring, formerly of Midland, became the bride of Lehman Glen Richardson of Pecos and Hamlin Saturday night in Big Spring. She is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. J. William Arnett of Big Spring, formerly of Midland, and his mother is Mrs. David W. Richardson of Hamlin. The Big Spring First Baptist Church was the scene of the wedding and the ceremony was performed by the bride's father. Mr. and Mrs. Richardson will be at home in Pecos.

Wed Sunday

Hazel Clark and Roy Thompson Whitman will be married at 3:30 p.m. Sunday in her parents' home in Dallas. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Clark and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. ## Here's To The June Bride! (With A Suggestion Or Two)

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

To the June bride — with best wishes for her happiness:

If you have a lot of pre-conceived ideas of what makes a perfect wife, forget them. Study your husband. Find out what he wants out of life and try to help him achieve it. The thing man means success and happiness to him. The wife whose marriage goes on the rocks almost always says: "I was a good wife to him—but what she really means is, 'I was my idea of what a good wife ought to be.'"

Don't take marriage too seriously. Laughter will get you more than tears. And the light touch will keep day to day living gay and pleasant. As you grow into a woman, never forget the girl that you were. Some of those qualities that drew your husband to you in the first place can be a part of you through the years. Add wisdom and deeper love to those basic qualities. If you want to keep your man in love with you always.

Don't Forget Yourself! Remember that selfishness carried too far is not virtuous. A woman has to think of herself part of the time. Otherwise she becomes a doormat for her husband and children. You don't, in marriage, or anywhere else, get respect and consideration if you don't expect and demand it.

Don't fool yourself that being a good home-maker isn't an important part of being a good wife. Just as a woman takes pride in her husband's success in his chosen field, so a man takes pride in his wife's ability to be a good home-maker—the kind who isn't forever having to make apologies for the things she has neglected to do.

Even though every woman's looks fade with time, it is just as important to make the most of the looks you have at 40 as at 20—more important really.

Start always to free your love of possessiveness, for that is a quality that grows and grows unless it is controlled.

Record Sales Seen For Several Items

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A government survey shows most persons figure on being good sales prospects all this year.

The survey, by the Federal Reserve Board, pointed to good chances that sales of houses, autos and television sets may set records. Furniture, washing machines and refrigerators also were shown to be in good demand.

There was a big "if" thrown in: "The extent to which these buying plans will be carried out will depend considerably on what happens to jobs, incomes, and prices, the availability of goods and credit, and the general domestic and international situation."

Terry Cloth Dresses Shown

AP Newfeatures

PARIS—Summer dresses made of terry cloth have been introduced by veteran designer Jean Patou, this season.

In his Summer style show he uses this terry cloth for simple little dresses with narrow skirts, sleeveless bodices and wide, standup collars.

He makes them in café crème and pale rose colored material and sets them off with wide, patent leather belts, which curve to fit the top of the hips at the back. These dresses look surprisingly elegant worn with large straw hats, of the same color as the material, and high heeled sandals.

Some Green And Navy He uses it in lime green for a sweatshirt worn with navyblue shorts.

Many other French designers are showing terry cloth in variety of colors for beach wear.

Rochas, another topflight designer, combines grass green terry cloth and purple, waterproof cracker-nyl for a reversible, thick, coolie jacket. He shows it in bright butter yellow for cape-stoles that have huge pockets attached to each end of the stole.

Jacques F. th uses wide ribbed reversible terry cloth, shown in crimson and white for a choker-necked sweater worn with navy blue long trousers.

A method of predicting accurately what a miner's riches can be mined from the earth, even before deposits are explored, has been developed. The new technique promises to be useful as a means of telling what metals and other minerals foreign nations can produce.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written For NEA Service

I wonder how many Canasta players know the story of the goat who repeatedly charged at full speed into a stone wall, knocking himself unconscious several times an hour. A bystander asked the goat's owner, "Why does he do it? Is he blind?"

The owner answers, "He ain't blind. He just don't give a hang!"

When I see the way some intelligent and otherwise prudent players go all out for a frozen pack, I come to the conclusion that they also don't give a hang. For the benefit of those readers who don't enjoy charging into a stone wall, I offer the following advice: Don't compete for a frozen pack when the opponents have a far better chance to win it.

For example, suppose you and your partner each have only six cards, while the opponents each have ten cards. Both sides have melded, and one of the opponents now freezes the pack. Should you try to win the discard pile?

Not if you're in your right mind. You need a terrific combination of good luck for your side and stupid play by the opponents to get that pack. Just console yourself with the thought that you can't win every hand. Let the enemy take the pack and get their own wild card back. What can't be cured must be endured.

In such a situation, try to give the pack away early. Make the most dangerous discards immediately.

There's no great harm in losing a small discard pile; but you don't especially want to lose a really big one. Even if the opponents manage to win several small piles, that is better than letting them win one big one that contains just as many cards. Every time an opponent picks up the pack, he gives up the chance to draw from the stock. By making him pick up several small piles you make him give up several draws from the stock—from which he might get additional wild cards or red threes.

Q—I had three jacks and two wild cards on the table. The pile was frozen. I had two jacks in my hand to take the pile in case a jack was thrown. The player at my right threw a jack, and I wanted to take it. The opponents said that I would then have eight cards in my canasta of jacks. They claimed that seven was the limit. Was this correct?

A—No. You need at least seven cards to make a canasta, but there is no rule against having more than seven.

Q—Both sides had melded. The pack was frozen. A ten was discarded to me, and I put a pair of tens down on the table. I then added the ten from the discard pile. I wanted to continue to meld some of the cards in the pile, but the opponents said I could meld only the tens at that turn. I could put the discard pile in my hand and could meld from it as my next turn got out at that turn. Were they right?

A—No. You were entitled to put the pile in your hand and continue melding at that same turn.

Use leftover chicken for a variety of tempting dishes. Make sandwiches of the chicken and then dip them in batter and French-fry them; serve with currant jelly. Or cream the chicken and serve between split hot biscuits with green peas.

Mix-Match Goes Places

NEW YORK—Rayon jersey separates make the traveler's dream wardrobe come true. The six pieces shown sell for under $40. Adaptable designs outfit a girl for almost any occasion, from dawn to dinner dancing. They pack literally with a twist of the wrist into an overnight bag.

To pack the dinner skirt (right), the traveler properly twists the fabric like a piece of taffy so that accordion pleats will stay crisp. Out of her tiny suitcase, she puts the apricot and beige jersey ensemble shown left.

Dressed up for town or travel she wears a short skirt, sleeveless blouse and rib-hugging jacket (upper left inset). Without the jacket and with the addition of a soft cummerbund, she's cool and casually dressed for country informality (lower right inset). For sunning up with accordion-pleated shorts, evening wear (lower left inset) introduces the floor-length pleated skirt and brings back the jacket, this time without the blouse, to show off a deep V neckline, and the cummerbund sash-tied at the side.

The bride's uncle, Kenneth L. Porter of New York City, escorted her to the altar. She wore an ivory satin gown with covered buttons down the back to the waist. A double row of lace formed a bertha effect below an illusion yoke. The fitted bodice came to a point at the waist and the full skirt fell into a short train. Her fingertip veil of ivory satin close fitting cap. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

The maid and matron of honor wore aqua taffeta gowns fashioned with off-the-shoulder necklines with illusion yokes. Soft drapes over the hips came to small bustles in the back. They wore lace hats of aqua and aqua taffeta mitts. They carried crescent shaped bouquets of yellow carnations and ivy.

The bridesmaids wore sun yellow taffeta gowns with shawl collars, cap sleeves and fitted bodices. They wore matching mitts and yellow lace hats and carried crescent shaped bouquets of aqua carnations and ivy.

roses pinned at the waist. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of navy sheer organza over taffeta and a picture hat and white accessories.

Blend Powder To Match Skin

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

It happens every Summer. One day you glance in your dressing table mirror and your face looks as if you have applied flour instead of powder. You wonder what's happened to your make-up, and then you remember. The sun has been at work again, tanning your complexion three tones darker than your powder.

This darkening of the face slips up on most of us. We find ourselves with that pasty look before we remember to match our face powder to the change.

Sometimes that's a difficult thing to do. Your usual Winter shade is too light; and the suntan shades, fine for later on, may very well be too dark for your early-Summer tan.

A good remedy is to blend your own powder. Use your Winter shade for a base, and darken it with enough suntan powder to tone in well with your current complexion color. Mix your powders in a small, tightly-closed glass jar, shaking well to blend the two shades.

Continue darkening your powder as you tan until your face is brown enough to find flattery in a straight suntan shade.

TEEN TALK

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

Better shutter up boys, the girls are getting lens happy.

Newest coup of the filly set is the $600 in awards won by Georgia Harwood, 16, of Pittsburgh for a winning snapshot — "Summer Surf."

This is the first time in the five years a Eastman Kodak has conducted the national high school photographic awards that a girl has won the $500 grand prize. The additional $100 was for placing first in the class for pictures portraying everyday life.

Georgia, a student at Madiera School in Fairfax County, Va., snapped the picture last Summer at Fire Island, N. Y. It shows three girls running out of the surf. The judges stated that it was picked because it was an appealing, typical snapshot, well composed and featuring natural, unposed action.

Good For Girls
Photography should be a good field for girls. There aren't many of them in it and there are many facets of it in which they should excel. Particularly in commercial photography there is room for the kind of imagination women could supply to photo art. In food, fashion, costumes, a baby photographer, women could have the advantage as photographers. They have more patience than men do with babies, and usually know more about fashion, food and cosmetics than men do.

The best way to test your talent for a career in photography is with a small, inexpensive camera. Just because it is a cheap camera, do not discount the amount of training you can get from it. Focusing, lens opening, shutter speeds, lighting conditions and other fundamentals of picture taking are things that can be absorbed and applied to any camera.

After you have mastered these, you can promote yourself to an important camera with which you can produce more artistic work.

You can begin photography as a hobby, have lots of fun while you learn, and then if it appeals to you, work with an experienced photographer after school or during Summer vacation to decide whether you are really picture-wise or just a lens lover.

Hot-Rod Days
Before the days of the hot-rod driver, it was a pleasure to date a boy who owned a car or could get the use of Dad's chariot for an evening. Today, with the teenage car accident rate reaching a new high, lucky is the girl who dates a boy who uses foot power, horse and wagon or dog sled as a means of transportation.

What is a girl to do about the boy who thinks it is smart to drive like a demon, who imbibes spirits which increase his yen to speed and even engages in auto races with his buddies—while his date cringes in fright?

Many a girl is confronted with this problem today—and it worries them. Sometimes a girl will reassure Mom and Pop that her date is a fine young boy, and she and they will feel that she is in safe hands. Later when she gets in his car she may find that his hidden ambition is to be a midge auto racer. He just enjoys showing off by showing her the speed he can get out of his "old boat". Often the old boat is too old for safety even when it is traveling at a snail's pace.

Avoid Danger
If she gets home safely, let's hope she vows never to ride with him again.

If she observes his reckless driving on the way to the movie or party, and she is fearful of it, she should call Dad or Mom to pick her up, rather than chance a return engagement with danger.

If he is at the smart alec drinking age, and can't cope with the big experiment, she should call a taxicab or ask someone else to take her home.

In any case, the girl with intelligence should not ride with a "hot-shot" driver. The fact that he is the wealthiest boy in town with the flashiest convertible, the football hero with an old beat-up job, or the brightest boy in class who borrows his car from Dad, should not dim her good sense. No matter what his other attributes, if a date can't drive a car with proper caution, he is a triple-A risk, and to be avoided rather than encouraged.

Parents who lend the family car to Sonny Boy should know his driving and imbibing habits. Chances are a boy who is irresponsible in most activities will not put the reins on his emotions when driving a car.

Many a young girl wears the scar of an unfortunate experience with a careless driver. Loss of life and other casualties in the under-25 group of drivers is so high that larger insurance premiums must be paid by them than any other group in most states.

Muffins will be the same size if you use a quarter cup measure with which to fill the cups.

Jo Ann Jones Becomes Bride Of Dean Forrest In Stanton

STANTON—In a twilight ceremony held Friday in the First Methodist Church, Jo Ann Jones became the bride of Albert Dean Forrest.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Jones of Stanton and Forrest is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Forrest of Big Spring. The Rev. J. E. Harrell, pastor, read the double ring ceremony.

The couple were exchanged before an altar banked with woodwardia. Tall candelabra holding white tapers and large baskets of white stock and gladiolus completed the altar background. White tapers burned in all of the sanctuary windows. Flowers were marked with pink satin ribbon.

Wedding Program
Pre-nuptial and wedding music was presented at the organ by Mrs. Claude Houston. Preceding the ceremony she played a medley including "Melodie," Fr. Von Flotow, "Liebestraum," Liszt, and "Ave Maria," Bach-Gounod. During the candlelighting ceremony she played "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," Stults, and during the ceremony, "O Perfect Love," Barnby.

Norma Baird of Kermit, who was dressed in pale yellow organdy and wore a corsage of orchid asters, sang "Through the Years," Heyman, and "Because," D'Hardielot.

Candlelighters were Marijan Forrest of Midland, Juanes Rogers and Marijann Bailey of Big Spring and Jo Jon Hall of Stanton. Junior bridesmaids were Janelle Jones, sister of the bride and Ann Nichols, cousin of the bride. Leslie Jean Tom and Betty Carol Bennett were bridesmaids. Gracie McWhorter attended the bride as maid of honor.

Wore White Organdy
Charles Jones of Big Spring served as best man. Ushers were Neil Pryor and William Lindsay.

The bride entered the sanctuary escorted by her father. She wore an afternoon length dress of white imported Swiss organdy, combined with embroidered organdy. The basque bodice of embroidered organdy was designed with a high neckline, peter pan collar, cap sleeves, and was buttoned down the front with tiny covered buttons. The very full skirt featured double rows of deep tucks and a deep hemline. On her head she wore a small white straw cloche with a pointed brim covered in white lilies, to which was attached a shoulder length veil of imported filifil. For something old she wore an antique gold necklace, belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. Wilmer

Mrs. Albert Dean Forrest

Jones. She carried a white Bible, topped with white gardenias and pink bouvardia.

The maid of honor wore an afternoon frock of orchid organdy designed with a low round neckline, outlined by a small collar, tiny petal cap sleeves, a basque fitted bodice and a very full skirt over a taffeta slip of the same color. Her sash of velvet was a deeper shade of orchid. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow daisies.

Wore Yellow
The bridesmaids wore yellow organdy dresses featuring low square necklines with double collars forming wide-pointed revers, close-fitted bodices, cap sleeves and full skirts. Their sashes were of deeper shades of yellow velvet. Their flowers were colonial arrangements of pastel blossoms, contrasting their costumes.

Junior bridesmaids' dresses were pale blue embroidered organdy fashioned similar to the bridesmaids. They carried small pink colonial nosegays of Esther Reed daisies with streamers of pink satin ribbon caught with bouvardia.

Candlelighters wore dresses identical to those of the bridesmaids. Miss Forrest and Miss Hall wore pale green and Miss Rogers and Miss Bailey, pink. All of the bride's attendants wore garlands of flowers in ruffled net, matching their dresses.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony. Entertaining rooms were decorated with flowers carrying out the bride's chosen colors, pink and silver.

Members of the wedding party formed the receiving line. Others in the house party were Mrs. Nell Pryor, Mrs. Bill Clements of Franklin, Mrs. R. P. Odom, Mrs. L. C. Gregg of Midland, Wanda Forrest and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Forrest of Big Spring and Mr. and Mrs. Jones.

The bride's table was covered with an imported grass linen cloth, hand embroidered with mosaic cutwork. A shadow cloth of pink was used under the cloth. A silver bowl filled with pale pink roses formed the centerpiece.

Following the reception, the couple left for a short wedding trip. For travel, Mrs. Forrest chose a tangerine linen jacket dress with white linen accessories. Her corsage was of white gardenias.

Mrs. Forrest is a graduate of Stanton High School. She attended McMurry College in Abilene, where she was a member of T.I.P. social organization, the Press Club, and the Totem editing staff. Recently she has been working in the F.M.A. office in Stanton. Forrest was a graduate from the Knott High School and is associated with the Texas Electric Service Company at Big Spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bridges were hosts Thursday evening in their home for a rehearsal dinner. Guests were served buffet style on the lawn.

There Will Be A Fur Coat In Your Price Range Next Winter

By DOROTHY BOE
Associated Press Fashion Editor

NEW YORK—Whether your budget is keyed to mink or mouton, there will be a fur coat within your price range next winter.

The furriers have gone to town in perfecting the handling, dyeing, bleaching and styling of furs so that even the least expensive pelts have an opulent look.

Among the so-called budget furs, muskrat remains the favorite, appearing in colors ranging from ivory, through natural silvery beige and blue-gray to deep mink and sable tones.

Outer Is New
And a newly dramatized pelt is otter, shown this year in softly handled toony beige tones in both casual and dressy styles.

Most important new silhouettes on the fur coat horizon is the slim, straight sheath in three-quarter length. This is shown in every pelt and every price range, is expected to be even more popular next year.

The short, nipped jacket is another top style of the coming season, done often in a combination of furs such as mink-trimmed Persian or Persian-trimmed seal.

The full, wrapped full length coat is popular also, designed to be wrapped around the body and clutched on one hip.

More fitted fur coats are in evidence this season, especially the tailored officer's coat, belted in back, with military collar and double-breasted closing.

Push-up and short sleeves are high-style notes on many of the new furs, some coats being shown with no sleeves at all, but a cape collar coming to the elbows.

Shoulders are more natural, rounded or sloped, and collars are once more strongly in vogue, up to and including the sailor collar.

Color is increasingly important in the fur coat picture, with a deep navy blue rivaling the popularity of black, and a full range of rainbow colors available in budget furs such as mole, mouton and in some instances Hudson seal.

High Fashion
Golden mustard is a new high fashion color shown in expensive Russian broadtail as well as in the budget furs. Bright red moleskin is shown in brief jackets for the college crowd, bright green mouton is another campus color, dark green is shown in some of the high-price furs, and others are shown in burgundy, pale gray, toony brown, ivory and, of course, deep blue.

Women should wear furs in Summer as well as Winter, maintain the furriers, showing jackets and small fur hats. In Summer ermine, broadtail and seal.

Sheared Raccoon
Sheared raccoon also is gaining favor in the sturdy budget class, and the new mouton coats, lowest priced of all, lighter and more supple than before.

For the luxury brackets, mink the magnificent is available in a dozen mutations, ranging from white through all the silvery gray and ivory shades, to a brown that is almost black and the regal Kohlnoor mutation, black and white.

For evening wear, the fur fancier may choose between white mink, ermine and silky Russian broadtail, if she has an unlimited checking account. Or if she has to watch her pennies, she may have a white muskrat, mouton or American broadtail that looks almost as luxurious at 10 paces.

Mary Arnett Is Wed To Glen Richardson

With her father officiating at the ceremony and her grandfather giving her in marriage, Mary Elizabeth Arnett became the bride of Lehman Glen Richardson of Pecos and Hamlin Saturday night in Big Spring.

The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Arnett of Big Spring, formerly of Midland. The bridegroom's mother is Mrs. David W. Richardson of Hamlin.

The bride's father, missionary for District Eight of Texas Baptists, solemnized the marriage in the Big Spring First Baptist Church. The double-ring ceremony was read before an altar banked with greenery against a white background. A white lattice work arch had a fan-shaped trellis covered with fern and red roses on either side.

Ablene Organist, Ann Gaines of Ablene was organist and played a medley of familiar songs as prelude music. Glenn Murray, accompanied by Miss Gaines, sang "There's No Tomorrow" and "I'll Walk Beside You" before the ceremony.

Elizabeth Barrett Browning's "How Do I Love Thee" was read with "Because," D'Hardelot as background music. "The Lord's Prayer," Malotte was sung as a benediction. J. G. Arnett of Big Spring escorted his granddaughter, whose gown was of oyster white satin, designed with an off-shoulder neckline. The fitted basque bodice, long pointed sleeves and skirt were trimmed with Italian illusion ruffles. The back of the bodice ended in a modified bustle which formed a cathedral train.

Her fingertip-length veil of matching illusion fell from a beaded tiara. Her showered bridal bouquet was centered with a single orchid on a white ribbon. The only bridal ornament was a single strand of pearls.

Maid Of Honor
The bride's sister, Grace Arnett of Big Spring, was maid of honor. Her ballerina-length dress was of pastel blue embossed organza with a fitted midriff and Peter Pan collar. The darker blue sash tied in a bustle effect.

The two bridesmaids, college roommates of the bride, were Billie Bates of Big Spring and Sylvia Holliman of Midland. They wore dresses fashioned like the maid of honor's—Miss Bates' yellow, and Miss Holliman's pink.

Their bouquets were gladioli shaped into butterfly bodies with embossed organza wings matching the dress shades.

Flower Girl
Harriet Arnett, younger sister of the bride, was flower girl and wore a reproduction of the bride's gown. Her showered nosegay was centered with a vanda orchid.

Bob Atkinson of Hamlin was best man. Bert Mann of Orange, J. C. Rose and Duane Brown of Hamlin and Jack Iardren of Water Valley were ushers. Gale Branscum of Rotan was ring bearer.

Mrs. Arnett's dress was powder blue and she wore navy accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a light blue ensemble. Both had vanda orchid corsages.

Mrs. O. H. Raggett of Midland and Mrs. J. G. Arnett of Big Spring, grandmothers of the bride, were special wedding guests.

Reception Held
A reception in the Arnett home was held immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. Beatrice Bolding, Rita Branscum, Dorothy Crabtree, Floy Cutbirth and Mrs. Bill Irwin were in the house party.

The traditional wedding cake topped with miniature bride and bridegroom figurines was used on the table. Arrangements of daisies were used around the cake and the punch bowl.

When the couple left for Ablene, Mrs. Richardson was wearing a navy blue jumper suit and navy and white accessories. Her corsage was an orchid. A wedding trip through Colorado, Wyoming and Canada is planned when the bridegroom finishes a Summer term in Hardin-Simmons University in Ablene.

After September 1, they will be at home in Pecos, where both are employed in the school system.

Mrs. Richardson is graduate of Midland High School and Hardin-Simmons University. The bridegroom attended Hamlin High School, the University of Oklahoma and Hardin-Simmons University.

Cottons Aid Vacation Budget

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer
NEW YORK — Good news for the girl who is trying to juggle a smart new dress on a vacation budget and cotton sheers which offer a lot of fashion for a little money.

Smart styling banishes the budget-priced look from New York-designed dresses of printed voile, dark dotted Swiss and other heat-defying sheers.

One dress may serve a vacationer's need for two. Typical is the fashionable mating this Summer of redingote and dress. In one such combination, the redingote of multi-color voile is teamed with a sunback dress of spun linen in a bright solid color.

Together, the two units make a smart town-wear ensemble. When the redingote, banded tuxedo-style and belted with matching spun linen is removed, there's the dress ready to take the sun on its own. The dress has shoulder straps, shirred bustline and a flared skirt.

Small, neat patterns such as Persian border prints on voile treated for crease-resistance make cool-looking and practical dresses for the traveler. In one smart style, solid borders of the print voile—printed with small mosaics on a tinted background—make a midriff of color for a shirtwaist dress with a demure collar, push-up sleeves and pearl-buttoned bodice.

Among the dark sheers lined up for the vacationer's choice are dresses of dark-dyed dotted Swiss. Navy blue or black Swiss dotted in red or white, for example, is usually brightened by touches of white pique. One tailored dress with a pleated skirt is frosted with white pique at collar, cap sleeves and full front closing. More sparkle is added by a red patent belt and buttons lined up from neckline to hem.

National Guardsmen Report 'Good Chow'; Will Be Happy When Extensive Drill Is Over

NORTH FORT HOOD—The chow has been good, but everyone is anxious to get back to "that good home cooking." At least, that is the word received from members of Company "E," Second Battalion, 112th Armored Cavalry, which is composed of Midland national guardsmen in field training at North Fort Hood.

With the two-week training period almost over, the Midland unit is engaged in a maneuver calculated to defeat and capture the green-clad "Aggressor Force."

The maneuvers are grimly reminiscent to veterans of the past war, but recall the present need for preparation. The assault upon the "Aggressor's" key positions is accompanied by the heavy boom of howitzers and swirling clouds of dust sent up by lines of M24 and M4A1 tanks and darting jeeps moving to and from the training area.

The Midland unit will return to the home station with a great deal more knowledge and it will be ready for expansion at the conclusion of the training period.

Capt. Max A. Schumann, Company Commander, has been in charge of tank driving and tank gunnery. Company "E's" tank crew is composed of Sgt. James L. O'Brien, Cpl. Robert E. Drake, Pfc. Ralph W. Arnett, Pvt. Glynnon D. Eaton and Rct. Spencer E. Smith.

The mortar squad is led by Lt. George E. Utermoile. Pvt. Edward Scoggins and Pfc. George E. Elliott are the enlisted men.

Lt. William R. Bourland is in charge of the rifle squad, with Sgt. Nathan N. Wakefield, Sgt. Robert L. Miller, Cpl. Bob L. Davis and Rct. Alton C. Scoggins.

Warrant Officer Royce J. Howard is in charge of the administrative section with First Sgt. Joe M. Watson, Sgt. Robert Howard, Cpl. Douglas C. Hedges, Pvt. Ornan K. Martin and Pvt. James G. Throckmorton participating.

Lt. Paul H. Jones, Jr., has charge of communications at Second Battalion Headquarters and Capt. Edward N. Gideon has been responsible for any loosening of belts. He procured food and all other supplies for the unit.

Experts Give Advice On Choice Of Finish For Hardwood Floors

In varnishing an oak floor, be sure to use a type of varnish recommended specifically for hardwood floors, home maintenance experts advise.

So-called all-purpose varnish, which may produce excellent results when used on furniture, is not sufficiently tough to withstand the traffic on floors. Good floor varnish, on the other hand, should give several years of satisfactory service if the floor is properly cared for.

Even longer lasting is a comparatively new type of finish which is being used on an increasingly large scale by home owners and professional floor maintenance men. Known as floor seal or penetrating seal, the material differs from other finishes in that it does not form a mere surface coating. It penetrates the wood, seals the fibers together and in effect becomes a part of the wood itself. Practically immune to scratches, it provides exceptionally effective protection of beauty of grain, which is characteristic of oak flooring.

Biggest tide in the world is in the Bay of Fundy, where the extreme rise and fall differs by 70 feet.

Questions And Answers

Q. What is meant by dry wall construction?

A. Dry wall construction is a general term used to describe any wall other than a plastered one. While there are some homes being built with dry wall construction throughout, it is common to see this method used in special rooms or areas. Insulating board tiles and plans, for example, frequently are used to finish walls and ceilings. This treatment especially is popular for libraries, game rooms and informal living rooms.

Q. I find it necessary to refinish my plastered ceilings which are badly cracked. I am undecided whether to patch the cracks, replaster or use a new ceiling material like insulating board tiles. Which do you suggest?

A. If there are only a few small cracks, you might consider filling them with patching plaster and then repainting. A plastering job calls for professional help. Covering ceilings with insulating board tiles is a job you can do yourself, and it has the added advantage of insulating and decorating in one operation.

Q. Is an insulated home necessary in warm climates?

A. Yes, even primitive peoples use insulating materials to keep heat out. For example, the south sea islander keeps cool in a thatched hut constructed of dried sea grass. The hollow fiber of the grass, which is a natural insulation, protects them from the heat of the sun. A more practical way today to insulate is to use a modern building material like insulating board.

Q. How can insulating board be cleaned?

A. There are several ways. Dust may be removed from the surface of insulating board by brushing lightly with a whiskbroom, by rubbing with another piece of insulating board, by vacuum cleaning with a brush attachment, or by means of wall-paper cleaner. Heavy smudges may be removed with fine sandpaper. Grease spots are removed by several treatments with a rag or sponge soaked in naphtha.

Syria Is Doubtful About U. S. Gifts

DAMASCUS —(AP)— Gifts from American children to Syrian children were distributed recently by the Red Cross at Homs.

The newspaper "Al Ayyam" in Damascus commented the "noble feeling" of the American children was appreciated because we can differentiate the innocent sympathy of these youngsters from that of American statesmen. However, the newspaper "Al Suri Al Jadid," published at Homs, said:

"Duty requires that the director of public instruction reject these gifts from persons who want to establish friendship by force. We do not want the friendship of a person who shakes hands with his right hand and stabs us from the back with his left."

Poison Ivy Antidote Still Only A Hope

CAMBRIDGE, MASS. —(AP)— Poison ivy is so mean it would kill itself if it didn't manufacture its own antidote, according to Dr. Irwin W. Sizer, Massachusetts Institute of Technology scientist. In a five-year study, just completed, he has found the antidote is an enzyme or catalyst called laccase. The laccase keeps the poison ivy vine flourishing by constantly changing the irritants before they can kill the plant.

But don't rush down to your neighborhood drugist yet for a bottle of laccase. Just keep away from the three-leaved poisoner of backyard and wayside. Medical men still are figuring how to apply Dr. Sizer's discovery.

Private Memorial Dedicated To Fliers

CLINTON, ILL. —(AP)— On the night of Feb. 5, 1943, an Army plane crashed on the John Gibson farm. Five officers and men were killed.

Mrs. Gibson decided that they should not be forgotten. She put up a homemade plaque bearing their names at the scene of their deaths. Each Fourth of July, Armistice Day and Memorial Day, she places five flags in a half circle about the plaque and lays a bouquet of flowers in the center.

'Revenooers' Ignore Still In Tennessee

HICKORY VALLEY, TENN. —(AP)— There's a still in this little farming community that goes full blast off and on and the "revenooers" don't mind at all. It is used to make oil-of-sassafras, not corn-squeezin' or moonshine.

It's easy to tell when the still is working. If you're anywhere in the valley your nose will pick up the sassafras smell. And it doesn't take long for the tellers in banks in surrounding towns to tell when the still has been at work. The money paid out to farmers and to helpers winds up in the bank and always Eldon Rowk feature columnist for the Memphis Press-Scimitar, says one person who did complain was a negro helper at the still, who asked for his pay in some money that didn't smell. "This here money's too easy for my wife to find," he said.

Used Home Value Increased By Modernization Program

The owner of a pre-war home faces a dollar loss in its value this year as the sellers' market gives way to a buyers' market. So said over 60 per cent of a panel of builders, architects and other authorities in Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information.

This opinion is based on the large number of new homes erected this year, and the probability of a new all-time high record. The new homes are up-to-the-minute in design, equipped with more conveniences, and generally have more "buying-appeal" than their forerunners. Demand for used homes began to drop last year as the doubling-up of families eased as actual home costs became lower.

The home owner can protect his investment by modernizing his house, says the Bureau. This may be done without heavy financial strain through an FHA - insured mortgage payable over three years. What today's home-buyer wants is a house that is in good repair, with modern plumbing and bathroom, automatic heating plant, and full insulation for greater year-round comfort.

As many homes have been modernized to some extent in recent years this does not mean that every house area will have to be brought up-to-date. A 1945 kitchen, for instance, should look as well today as when installed.

Larger Rooms
Modernized used home has more intrinsic value than many newly-built structures. Its rooms generally are larger than rooms in the bulk of modern construction, and it is otherwise a better dollar value, foot for foot, than some house being built today.

A home-owner who lets repair and modernization work lapse is undermining his own investment in his house, the Bureau declared, because needed small repairs develop into large ones if neglected. The same principle holds for modernization needs. The work may be spread over a period of time if the owner desires. He should not permit any area of his house to become antiquated, because sooner or later he will have on his hands a white elephant with little or no market value.

Lone Star Special Pulls Out With Permian Basin Scouts Going To National Jamboree

By BOB PRENTISS

The long, low whistle of a train Sunday morning signaled the beginning of a great adventure for 109 Boy Scouts of the 17-county Buffalo Trail Council, as they boarded the Lone Star Special for the National Scout Jamboree.

The first Scouts of the Buffalo Trail Council boarded the train at 4:30 a.m. at Pecos. Stops followed at Monahans, Odessa, Midland, Big Spring, Colorado City and Sweetwater. The 21 Midland Scouts and Explorers were lined up at the T&P Station ready to board the special at 6:30 a.m.

Two side-trips are planned for the Jamboree-bound Scouts before the big show begins. The special train will go through Fort Worth, Texarkana, St. Louis and on to Washington, where a layover has been arranged. Guided tours will be conducted to show the Texans the nation's capital.

After a 12-hour stay in Washington, the Scouts will entrain for New York, where an 18-hour stay is planned. Guided tours are to be conducted in the morning, with the afternoon and evening free for group activities under the supervision of leaders.

The Scouts will entrain from New York at 1 a.m. June 29, to go to Valley Forge State Park, Pa., the site of the Jamboree which is expected to attract more than 47,000 Scouts and Explorers from the U. S. and foreign countries.

The nine-day camp will be highlighted by an address by President Truman, among other notables. Competitions will be staged and the mass camp will be the scene of many planned activities.

Will Barter
Barter between Scouts from various sections of the country, and between American Scouts and their foreign counterparts is expected to be a main order of business.

The West Texas delegation is to take another side-trip, to Niagara Falls, N. Y., on the return trip, and will arrive in Midland at 7 a.m. July 11.

W. R. Upham and J. R. McDonald, both of Midland, and Henry Norris of Sweetwater are in charge of the Buffalo Trail Council representatives in three troops.

One Scoutmaster and two assistants will be responsible for each of the three troops from this area.

Clyde Johnson, also of Midland, is assistant Scoutmaster of Post No. 3, composed of Explorer Scouts from the entire council area.

Midland Explorers and Scouts include: Charles Shepherd, Bob Pine, Jr., Jerry McDonald, George Friday, Parrot, Hedges, Donald Webb and Lee Snead, all Explorer Scouts; and Gene Hunter, James Barron, Edwin Patterson, Lanny Story, Steve Thorson, Bill Aldrich, Dale Wheeler, Tommie Vannaman, Joe Turner, Harry Hinkle, James Upham, Don Greer, Stanley Putnam and Bud Bray, all Scouts.

George Friday, a member of Explorer Post 151, will act as reporter for the Midland group, and will file reports to The Reporter-Telegram, outlining the activities of the group.

Home Builders Put Spotlight On The Garage

With new garages being built close to the house or facing the street, this is rapidly becoming the age of the "glorified garage."

The garage is no longer just an accessory. As an integral part of modern living, it is receiving as much planning and building attention as the rest of the house. Attached garages are considered the handiest, especially if a rear or side door leads directly into the house. This type also is cheaper, according to builders, because one wall serves for both the garage and the house.

Breezeaway
The connected garage, one that is connected to the house by a breeze-way, has several advantages of its own. It adds width to the small house if the breezeway and garage are up front. An outdoor living room can be made simply by screening the breezeway. Setting the garage and breezeway at right angles in the back of the house also will help to screen off the service or private areas.

Not everyone can move his garage up front, so the next best thing is to make the back-of-the-lot or detached garage useable. A clean-up and pack-up job is the first step in saving this type garage from becoming an alley orphan. Where only half of a two-car garage is being used, remodelers are converting the unused space into workshops, playhouses and summer porches.

William Bundy Shaw Marries Kermit Girl

Wearing a blue opal necklace—an heirloom from the bridegroom's grandparents—Mary Sue McLemore of Kermit became the bride of William Bundy Shaw of Midland Saturday morning in Kermit.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl McLemore of Kermit. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. Henry Shaw of Midland.

The opal necklace was the bride's only jewelry and she wore it for something old, something new and something blue. The necklace was given to Shaw's grandmother, Mrs. W. A. Bundy of Wichita Falls, by her husband during their wedding trip 50 years ago.

The Rev. Ronald E. Hubbard read the double-ring ceremony in the Community Church, which was decorated with Marooni daisies.

Prelude Music
Joy Moore of Kermit was the organist and played "Ave Maria," Schubert; and "Adagio," Chantilly, as the guests entered the church. She accompanied Mrs. W. H. Griffin of Andrews, who sang "Because," "D'Harlelot," and "Through the Years." Youmans, Miss Moore also played the traditional wedding marches and "Clair de Lune," Debussy, during the ceremony.

Shirley Boudreaux of Kermit was maid of honor and Mrs. W. M. McDaniel of Wink was matron of honor. Sandra Shaw of Midland, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

Henry Shaw, Jr., of Midland was his brother's best man. Dean Cox and Frank Shepard of Midland were ushers.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. She wore a two-piece aqua costume suit with a matching hat. The suit skirt was simply styled and the jacket featured open work at the lower edge and around the lapels.

The hat had the same detailed trim and featured an open crown. The bride's mits were white lace, lined with the suit material. She carried a white Bible topped with daisies.

Miss Boudreaux and Mrs. McDaniel wore dresses of yellow shades and contrasting accessories. Miss Boudreaux's bouquet was of blue daisies and Mrs. McDaniel's was fashioned from yellow daisies. Miss Shaw wore a white organy dress with white accessories. Her pink daisy bouquet was in a white basket.

Mrs. McLemore chose a navy blue redingote over navy blue tulle for her daughter's wedding. The coat and dress were trimmed with white and her accessories were a combination of the two colors. Her corsage was of white gardenias.

The bridegroom's mother wore a navy and white shester dress with navy accessories. Immediately after the ceremony, a reception was held in the parlor of the church. Summer flowers were used in decorating the reception room and a white lace cloth over aqua covered the table.

The bride and bridegroom were assisted in receiving by their parents. Other house party members were Mrs. Clinton Ferrell, Mrs. S. J. Vinson, Mrs. J. F. Boudreaux, Mrs. Norman Horner, Mrs. John Moore and Mrs. Griffin. After a wedding trip to New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Shaw will be at home at 600 North Olive Street in Kermit until Fall, when Shaw plans to reenter the University of Texas. He was graduated from Allen Military Academy in Bryan and attended the University of Texas, where he was a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity.

Mrs. Shaw was graduated from Kermit High School and attended North Texas State College in Denton. She is a past worthy advisor of the Kermit Rainbow Assembly.

Gober-Cook Vows Read In McCamey

McCAMEY—In a recent mid-afternoon ceremony, Yvonne Gober and Jack Randall Cook were married in the First Christian Church in McCamey.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gober of McCamey, was married by her father. She wore a ballerina length dress of white organy decorated in embossed roses. Her accessories were a white picture straw hat and white linen pumps. White gladioli centered with Vanda orchids made up the bride's bouquet.

Mrs. Lewis Woodward of Sheffield attended the bride as matron of honor. Daphne Gober, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid. Both wore navy blue dresses with white accessories and carried colonial bouquets of white gladioli.

R. F. Turpin served as best man for the double ring ceremony performed by Bill Gipson, minister of the Church of Christ in Rankin. Jerry Jackson of Breckenridge, cousin of the bridegroom, was the usher.

A reception was held following the wedding in the home of the bride's parents. The bride is a graduate of McCamey High School and San Angelo Business College and has been employed with the C. W. Brown Motor Company. Cook is a graduate of Caddo High School and has attended Weatherford Junior College and Tarleton State College in Stephenville. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. ### Abundant Living

By E. STANLEY JONES

John 14:25-26; 15:26; 16:7-14.
THE HOLY SPIRIT WORKS IN THE SUBCONSCIOUS

We come now to the question: Can the whole nature be changed conscious and subconscious? If so, how? The answer is that Christianity provides for this deeper cleansing in its teaching and provision of receiving of the Holy Spirit. The area of the work of the Holy Spirit is largely, though not entirely, in the realm of the subconscious. There the Holy Spirit works—purifying, redirecting, and dedicating age-long driving instincts. The wild horses of nature roaming in all directions are tamed and harnessed to the purposes of the Kingdom. The Holy Spirit is tamer and redeemer, for only He can work at those depths. "For the Spirit fathoms everything, even the depths of God" (1 Corinthians 2:10, Moffatt)—and man. But the Holy Spirit not only fathoms the depths of man; He refashions the depths of man and unites man at the center, so that the conscious and the subconscious speak the same language, understand each other, drive for the same goals, and own a common Lord.

But here is where the Christian Church is weakest. It believes in and teaches the Holy Spirit—partly. The disciples were at this stage when Jesus said to them: "He (the Holy Spirit) remains with you and will be within you" (John 14:17, Moffatt). The Holy Spirit was with them, but not within them. The same is true today. Most Christians know the Holy Spirit is with them—He disturbs them by momentary touches, by flashes of nearness, by illuminations and insights, by saying here and saving there. But all this is "with," and not "within." He goads us rather than guides us, illuminates rather than invigorates, prods us into activity rather than penetrates all activities—it is from without in, instead of from within out. The capital and government is on the outside, rather than on the inside. This sense of outside-ness will persist in religion until we enter into what the disciples entered into at Pentecost. There they passed over from the "with" stage to the "within" stage. Their religion was no longer a prodding, but a penetration; no longer a restriction, but a release.

O Spirit of God, I, too, long for this withinness—I would be every whit whole. I would have the seat of Thy authority within me. For I cannot conceive that Thou hast come so far in Thy redemption and wilt not come the full way. Thou wilt not stop on the threshold—Thou wilt move within. Come, Spirit, come—within, within, entirely within. Amen. (From the book "Abundant Living," published by Abingdon-Cokesbury Press of New York and Nashville. Copyright. Released by NEA Service.)

Good Taste For The Millions
Is The Aim Of This Designer

Chief interest of Russel Wright, industrial designer, is the white collar home. His designs are in thousands of American homes.

BY GAILE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—Russel Wright, a tall, lean, graying man, is an industrial designer whose chief interest is the white-collar home. He is fond of mass production in good taste, at a low or medium price, which will get into as many homes as possible throughout the country.

"This fondness has put several hundred thousand sets of Wright-designed dinnerware on American tables, and his lamps, rugs, maple furniture, radios and sectional upholstered furniture in thousands of American homes.

"What's the principle back of the Russel Wright designs?"

"Well, you might say I like to design things which make living and entertaining easier," he explains. "I don't like formality, I'm in favor of a democratic way of living."

"It's become a sort of religion with me," he says, "to see that designs in good taste, in the medium price brackets, replace cheap, vulgar imitations."

As an example, Wright held up a machine-made lace tablecloth. Then he brought out a gray cotton cloth, its pattern picked out by drawn threads.

"These cloths were made on the same loom. The gray cloth is my translation of poor taste into good taste. I often get something which is cheap and in bad taste, or expensive but still in bad taste, — and give it a new and entirely different life."

In the interests of cutting down on housework and making entertaining fun, not drudgery, Wright has designed a set of china in which you can cook, which can go to the table and later be used to store food away in the refrigerator. This same set is meant to stack in a minimum space, for careful use of space is another Wright principle.

In the fall, a complete line of Wright-designed furniture for slim budgets will appear. Many of the pieces serve a dual purpose.

"There's a reading chair," he says. "It has a back tall enough so you can rest your head against it while you read. Ordinary chairs are no good for reading; they give you a crick in the neck. And it has a pocket on one side for magazines and an arm which flips up on the other side to give you a writing surface. You can almost keep house in that chair."

Russel Wright has never had much training as a designer. His family wanted him to study law at Princeton. He formed an immediate and enduring aversion to law and left college rather rapidly to work in a theater, under Norman Bel Geddes. As a set designer, he often made his own stage furnishings and properties because he couldn't find what he wanted. Soon, he had opened up shop for himself and was doing furniture.

He knew nothing about dinnerware when he started to design it; he just felt that people would like simple pottery in solid colors. So he gave it to them.

Wardrobe Can Cause Fatigue

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Ill-fitting clothes, though many women aren't aware of it, are among the many causes of fatigue. That makes a strong case for checking up on your clothes and their fit, with view to banishing that tired feeling.

As an experiment, try wearing a girdle that's too tight to allow you to breathe easily. All women own such a girdle at some time. But rarely do they associate the accompanying irritation, the all-gone feeling, with the garment.

Go for a long walk, or go shopping, in a pair of spindly, high-heeled sandals. Your nerves will jump, your feet will ache, your head will pound correspondingly and you'll go home regretting that you ever started out.

Most women also possess, at some time, a hat which is too snug and tight. It produces headaches, jumpy nerves, irritation and fatigue. Tight garters, a wide belt with a buckle which prods, a dress in a heavy fabric which sags and pulls at the shoulders—these are just a few of the many clothing items which produce a feeling of weariness.

Such garments should either be altered to fit or discarded entirely. They aren't earning their way.

American Airlines
Sets New Records

American Airlines in May broke all records for the number of passenger miles flown in one month by a single air carrier. Woody Campbell, American station agent here, said Saturday.

To set the new mark, the Flagship Fleet surpassed its own previous record, established in June last year, by more than six million passenger miles.

During May, AA carried 323,830 passengers a total of 162,113,299 passenger miles. The load factor for the month was 68.1 per cent. In the previous record month, 194-009,534 passenger miles were flown, and in May, 1949, the total was 143,534,479. This May showed a 12.9 per cent increase over a year ago.

Mail, express and freight, while not at record levels, were much heavier than in May, 1949. Flagships carried 15.1 per cent more mail ton-miles, 21.3 per cent more express ton-miles and 22.7 per cent more Airfreight ton-miles than it did last year during May.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR LIVES is one of the trusts the locomotive engineer shares with the Physician. Before the engineer is allowed to pilot a passenger train, he has to serve in minor capacities for years, to learn the function of all the parts of a locomotive, passes many rigid examinations, and is periodically re-examined. He must be mentally and physically qualified to handle the job.

Responsibility for lives is the thought behind the rigid requirements of entry in all Medical Schools, the long years of study, the years of internship and post-graduate work served under experienced Doctors, the thorough and difficult examinations before Medical Boards. All these precautions are solely for the public welfare, and are the result of Medical experience and Medical supervision. Do not tamper with responsibility for lives—keep political hands off Medical education and service.

Holy Year Pilgrims Shunning Jerusalem

JERUSALEM —(AP)—The Roman Catholic Holy Year has brought far fewer pilgrims than expected to the holy land. Religious leaders on the Arab side say one reason is the uneasy truce between the Arabs and the Jews. Pilgrims have stayed away, they say, for fear of complications in crossing the border between Israel and Jordan.

Generally unsettled conditions and unavailability of other than the simplest housing accommodations have been among other major reasons.

Church sources say that fewer than 1,000 pilgrims in organized parties have visited Jerusalem since last Christmas—the beginning of the Holy Year. They estimate another 1,000 persons, not necessarily Holy Year pilgrims, have come in small groups of two to five persons. The biggest crowd was at Easter time.

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —
By DALMON McNAIR

The market was steady to weaker Thursday on 1020 head of cattle at Midland Livestock Auction Company sale. Butcher cattle were 25 to 50 cents cwt lower and some classes of stockers were lower.

Fat calves and yearlings sold for $24 to $29 while mediums went at $20 to $24. Fat cows brought $18 to $21 and medium cows $16.50 to $18. Canners and cutters moved for $13 to $16.50. Most bulls sold for $19 to $21. One good herd bull brought $23.

Medium grade stocker steer calves sold for $27.50 to $29 and steer yearlings for $25 to $27. Heifer yearlings sold by the head for $110 to $130.

Managers of the sale said a good run of stocker cattle is expected next week.

Ranges and pastures now are supplying generous quantities of green feed over practically the entire state, according to the Texas Weekly Crop and Weather Bulletin. However, the green feed supply is limited in some northwestern High Plains and western Trans-Pecos counties where only light showers have occurred. Marketing of Spring lambs continues to taper off, but still is running above the comparable period a year ago. All classes of livestock are doing well. Screw worm infestations continue unusually general and severe.

Farmers in all sections of the state have made rapid progress in catching up with field work. Last week was the first full week of open weather over the entire state since the Spring drought-breaking rains started in mid-April. Wheat harvest was in full swing in the Low Rolling Plains, southern and central counties on the High Plains, and a few fields were ready in the northern High Plains counties.

All areas made excellent progress in the cultivation of growing crops and in the mowing of hay. Late sorghum planting was active in the northwest. Cotton chopping was extended into extreme northern counties as picking got underway in the Lower Valley. High day temperatures along with the favorable moisture from earlier rains stimulated rapid vegetative development of all Spring planted crops. Scattered showers in northern High Plains counties over last weekend will be beneficial for germination and early growth of feed crops which were just going into the ground.

Cotton insects are beginning to show up in Midland County. County Agent Charles Green, who spent the greater part of last week checking cotton crops in the county, says thrips and aphids have been found in moderate to heavy quantities on several crops. A few fleahoppers also are beginning to show.

Green says the thrips and aphids are so small that it is hard to detect them. They usually begin to work on the plant during the four to six-leaf stage and work on the tender growing bud zone. Enough of them weaken a plant enough to prevent it from fruiting.

Green promises to help anyone on infection counts and he will help discuss control methods. He urges all cotton farmers to keep a close check on their young plants and take proper control methods at an early date.

The annual Sterling City Open Rodeo will be held Tuesday and Wednesday with both performances scheduled at night. Among the events to be staged are bareback and bronc riding, bulldogging, calf roping, bull riding, barrel racing and match roping. A free barbecue will be held at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Dude Cressy of Gatesville will furnish the show for the rodeo.

Crowded out of the old stand by a fast growing city the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion will hold its eighteenth annual Rodeo this year in a new location and with an all new plant. Construction on the new bowl type arena, located two miles west of Big Spring, has advanced to the point that officials of this pioneer association announce that the show will be held and on their traditional dates in August.

The new location contains 44 acres which will provide ample parking room as well as space for the arena, chutes and corrals. It is accessible from three main routes which will give relief to the traffic problems.

The arena, the first all concrete one to be erected in the southwest, occupies a natural bowl shaped area and will be built as a natural amphitheater, with the top tier of seats at the adjoining ground level. The submerged bowl will eliminate wind and dust annoyances. Seating capacity for the plant will be 7,500 with every seat a good one. There will be no posts or pillars to obstruct spectators' view. The Big Spring Cowboy Reunion, sponsors of the annual Big Spring Rodeo, is an organization of ranchers, business and professional men of Howard County whose interest is keeping alive the spirit of the old west and in providing Big Spring with a first class rodeo each year.

Plans for the 1960 Rodeo on August 2 through 5, call for the biggest show ever staged in the eighteen year history of the Association, with $3,400 to be added to the entrance fees for the purses. The Big Spring show annually attracts the nation's leading professional competitors.

About one fifth of the cotton improvement groups already have applied for the benefits due them under the Smith-Dooley Act, according to H. J. Matejovsky, cotton representative of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration in Abilene.

Applications for these services can be secured from cotton classing office, PMA office, County Agent, or gin. They should be sent immediately to PO Box 2001, Abilene, Texas.

"Our goal is to get all applications in by July 15," Matejovsky explained. "This will give farmers time to make arrangements for sampling. Also, it will help cotton classing offices get ready to operate at full speed when the season starts."

Directors of the San Angelo Fat Stock Show and Rodeo have voted to divorce the rodeo from the annual late Winter stock show.

The directors passed a resolution, presented by H. E. McCullough, general chairman, which, if approved by directors of the Board of City Development, show and rodeo sponsor, would eliminate the rodeo at stock show time in March and add it to the annual Summer Horse Show, usually held in May.

M. B. Inman, Jr., San Angelo, has been named acting secretary of the Concho Hereford Association. His selection was made at a meeting of directors, held in San Angelo.

Inman succeeds James Grote, who has resigned and is moving to San Antonio.

McCamey and Rankin 4-H Club boys have returned from College station where they participated in the Rifle Team contest, winning sixth place. They were accompanied by County Agent W. M. Day.

Annual XII Reunion To Bring Together Pioneer Cowhands

DALHART —(AP)—The fourteenth annual XII Reunion—which will bring together men who once worked for the Panhandle's 3,000,000-acre ranch—will be held July 28-29.

The men's families, and other pioneers who rode the range a half century or more ago, also will be on hand.

Frank B. Farwell, Sr., chairman of the General XII Committee which masterminds the show, is himself an old XII cowhand, and a grand nephew of the original owners, U. S. Senator Chas. B. Farwell and his brother, John V. Farwell, Chicago financiers.

The Farwell brothers acquired the acreage back in the 1880's from the State of Texas in payment of building the $3,000,000 state capitol, still in use at Austin. They developed it into a great ranch, with seven division headquarters, running 150,000 cattle and working scores of hard-riding, straight-shooting men.

Entertainment Planned

The entertainment already scheduled includes a big parade; two professional rodeo performances; carnival rides only for children; the Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy Band of Abilene, which will be here Thursday, Friday and Saturday; the Lane Trio Trampolene Act, an aerial trapeze drama of Vancouver, Wash.; the sheep dog act which has won such unstinted acclaim at Denver, Houston, San Antonio and other cities; Tommy Duncan and his dance band from the West coast, and rodeo clown Buddy Reger of Woodward, Okla. More will be scheduled, Farwell said.

In the sheep dog act, the master gives orders to his two dogs solely by means of whistles. They, in turn, work untrained sheep, herding them into rings marked on the ground in the rodeo arena, or driving them into small pens. Farwell and others who have seen it call it amazing.

U. S. Speakers Told To Emphasize Peace

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The word has gone out to Washington officials to be "stern" harder in "cold war" speeches, on American desires and efforts for peace.

Officials who related this said that Western European leaders at the London foreign ministers meeting last month advised that the U. S. was sounding too belligerent. These leaders said Russian propagandists were using the situation to describe the U. S. as a warmonger.

Also, the phrase "cold war" is losing some official favor. Officials think too many people regard it as meaning a "hot war" is on the way.

ROOKIE POLICEMAN'S Vice Raid Is Dud

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. —(AP)—Things are pretty hot for a rookie policeman these days.

His crackdown on bigtime gambling backfired.

The officer overheard several men placing bets. He raced to the telephone to call for reinforcements to the place in the alley behind the Sunshine Theater.

Led by the rookie, the officers closed in. The voices were coming from the sound track of the theater.

PROWLER IN THE NIGHT

ROCK ISLAND, ILL. —(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lerch heard a prowler in the house. They looked, found nobody. Then, in the still of the night, came the soft sounds of feet stealing down the interior stairs. They search again, but in vain. An hour later there was a noise and a dim figure at the back door. Police were called. They captured the marauder. It was a raccoon.
