Communists Score New Advances

Another Discovery Is Indicated In Howard By Brown 1 Branon

A new oil and gas discovery appears to be in the making in Northeast Howard County at George Brown of Houston No. 1 Lloyd Branon, wildcat 16 miles northeast of Big Spring.

That prospector recovered 3,300 feet of clean oil during a 45-minute drillstem test in a reef lime at 7,297-7,336 feet. Practically all of that petroleum ungraded from the pipe while it was being pulled.

Testing Again
Operator then deepened 24 feet to 7,360 feet, and is preparing to run another drillstem test in a Branon. Location is 667.3 feet from south and 652.7 feet from west lines of section 18, block 27, H&G survey. It is one and one-half miles south and one-quarter of a mile east of Sunray Oil Corporation (Barnsdall), No. 3 Wilson, a drilling well on the southeast side of the East Vealmoor field.

In the 45-minute drillstem test at 7,297-7,336 feet, Brown's No. 1 Branon had a strong blow of air at the surface immediately after the tester was opened.

Strong Gas Blow
Gas came to the surface in four minutes and there was an extremely strong blow of gas for the remainder of the period.

No fluid came to the top while the tester was open. However, when seven stands of gas filled drill pipe had been pulled, it started unloading drilling mud. When 44 stands had been pulled the pipe started unloading oil.

The oil stream went high into the derrick, and practically all of the 3,300 feet of new oil which had been recovered during the test was kicked out.

When the tester was pulled out of the hole very little fluid was left in it. There were no signs of formation water.

Good Pressures
Hydrostatic pressure during the test was 3,800 pounds. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 675 pounds. Shut in bottom hole pressure was 3,300 pounds.

Top of the reef lime making the oil is at 7,296 feet, which is on a datum of minus 4,750 feet.

According to some geological correlations that makes the Brown prospect 210 feet high to the Sunray No. 3 Wilson, which has not yet tested the reef pay, but which has shown that it likely will produce.

Amanca Has Offsets
The prospective new pay opener is on a 40-acre lease farmed out to Brown by Amanca Oil Corporation and Southland Royalty Company. Amanca has approximately 1,000 acres of scattered leases in that area, including three direct offsets and one diagonal offset to the new oil and gas well.

Acreage In Cotton Near Record Low

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Texas had 7,200,000 acres of cotton in cultivation on July 1, the Agriculture Department reported Monday.

This was about 34 per cent less than the total acreage under cultivation for the same period last season.

The department said the total on July 1 for the nation was 19,032,000 acres. This was 31.3 per cent smaller than a year ago.

No forecast of production was given. But if the yield to the acre equals the 1939-48 average of about 250 pounds, production would be about 9,500,000 bales of 500 pounds weight. Production last year was 16,127,000 bales, the fourth largest of record.

Estimate Due August 1
This year's crop is being produced under a rigid production control and marketing quota program designed to hold production to not more than 12,000,000 bales.

Should the acre yield equal last year's average figure of 284 pounds, production this year would be about 10,816,000 bales. The first estimates of this year's production will be given August 1.

The acreage on July 1 last year was 27,719,000.

The indicated acreage by states and the percentage of last year's July 1 acreage, respectively, included: Oklahoma 1,050,000 acres or 78 per cent of last year's July 1 acreage; Texas 7,200,000 or 66; New Mexico 189,000 or 64; Arizona 290,000 or 72; California 519,000 or 64.

American-Egyptian cotton is not under acreage control this year. Hence, planting of this type of cotton was increased to 110,500 acres or nearly 20 times last year's acreage. Nearly all of the American-Egyptian acreage is in West Texas, New Mexico and Arizona.

270 Persons Die In Five Earthquakes

BOGOTA, COLOMBIA — (AP)—The Health Ministry announced Monday 270 persons died in weekend earthquakes in Colombia.

Another 17,000 are injured or homeless in seven towns of North-Central Colombia, newspaper reports indicated.

The Health Ministry said its death figures came from provincial health authorities at Cucuta, who are supervising relief work.

The towns of Arboleda, Cucutilla and Salazar and the country area around them suffered most from the wave of five quakes. The ministry said nothing is left standing in Arboleda, which had 20,000 population.

The newspaper El Siglo estimated material damage at the equivalent of $31,050,000. El Tiempo figured the damage at about $20,700,000. The government has rushed help by aircraft.

Both newspapers said Arboleda, a town of 7,000, was almost destroyed and that Cucutilla, of about 14,000 inhabitants, also was almost destroyed. Electric power failed after the shocks and the towns were in darkness, which contributed to the panic among the inhabitants.

Communications Cut
Another town, Salazar de las Palmas, population about 21,000, was also hit severely.

The government rushed troops, police forces, and doctors, food, drugs and tents to the affected towns.

El Siglo said one house out of every four was damaged in Santander del Norte Department.

El Siglo also said five tremors were registered: at 9:30 p.m. Saturday; 10:45 p.m. Saturday; 4 a.m. Sunday; 8 a.m. Sunday and 5:30 p.m. Sunday.

Other towns affected were: Barrintos, Quebrada Honda, Monte Cristo and San Jose de Avila. Among those where the shocks were also strong were Mutiscua and Toledo, where two churches were leveled.

Cucuta, Durania and Toledo also felt the shocks.

'Lost' Yankee Unit Escapes Encirclement

TOKYO — (AP)—Northern Communist troops battled to within 20 air miles of Taejon, South Korea's temporary capital, early Tuesday after a "lost" U. S. battalion had fought its way out of a trap and the first American victims of Red atrocity were found.

Bound and shot in the face, the bodies of seven American soldiers were found in a see-saw battle area Monday. They were not members of the "lost" battalion, which has rejoined its regiment and is ready for action.

General MacArthur, in his 12:02 a.m. Tuesday communique, told of the new North Korean advances. He said the strike was made by the North Korean First Division, which had hemmed in the unidentified "lost" battalion for two days before it slugged its way free.

MacArthur said the division has advanced south from Chonan to Chongon, a tiny village 18 miles by road south of Chonan and 25 miles by air northwest of Taejon. The communique said another force, probably the enemy Third Division, was in contact with American forces at Chochiwon, 15 miles southeast of Chonan and 20 miles by air across the country northwest of Taejon.

Enemy Presses Mornings
At Chinchon, the Second North Korean Division, the main element of a South Korean corps on a front just south of the city, the communique reported.

MacArthur said enemy pressure gained some ground in the Umsong-Chungju area, some 70 miles northeast of Chonan. Units of the 18th North Korean Division there forced back Southern Republic troops to high ground northwest of Umsong, he said.

Chungju, a major city in the Umsong fighting area, an enemy battalion, with other forces opposed South Korean troops, MacArthur's communique said.

The United Nations commander said increased activities on the east coast still indicated southward pressure with opposition from friendly forces (likely Allied Naval and Air).

MacArthur said there was evidence the main of the North Korean Communists was slipping un-

Seven U. S. Prisoners Found Slain

By O. H. P. KING
ADVANCED AMERICAN HEADQUARTERS IN KOREA — (AP)—The bodies of seven American soldiers, their hands tied behind them, were found by the roadside in territory recaptured from the Communist North Koreans Monday.

Each had been killed by a bullet in the face.

The bodies were found by Lt. D. C. Gates of Joiner, Texas.

Gates said he found the Americans Monday afternoon after four of them had gone to a front line area subsequently lost and regained.

"They turned a corner and ran into two tanks," he said.

One jeep turned around and made a dash for it, Gates said. The driver was killed but his companion escaped.

Hands Tied Behind Them
An observation post saw two in each of two other jeeps surrender," Gates said. "When I arrived on the spot I found my four men and three mortar men, their hands tied behind them and a bullet fired into each face."

Gates said the Americans had been assigned to move ammunition forward.

He said Americans and North Korean troops still were fighting over possession of the area where the atrocities occurred at the time he left to make report to nearby American headquarters.

Hours before the murder of the Americans was discovered, Tokyo headquarters reported American planes had dropped leaflets informing North Korean troops they could expect decent treatment if captured. The leaflets also said General MacArthur "will expect similar treatment for American nationals and members of the armed forces of the United States as well as of all other persons who might fall into North Korean hands."

Lomax-Zonne Spot 8,000-Foot Wildcat In NE Howard Area

Lomax Brothers Drilling Company and R. J. Zonne of Midland are to start operations by July 15 on their No. 1 L. M. Anderson, which is to be an 8,000-foot wildcat in Northeast Howard County, to test the Pennsylvanian limestone reef.

It is about 17 miles north and slightly east of Big Spring, and will be located 660 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 11, block 31, TP survey, T-2-N.

Southwest Of Discovery
That makes the prospector two miles west and a little south of George Brown No. 1 Branon, new discovery from the Pennsylvanian limestone reef.

The Lomax and Zonne venture is on a deal worked up by Zonne. He took a farmout from Southern Production Company of Shreveport, La., and then made a trade with Lomax to drill the well. Zonne retains an interest.

18-Year-Old Youth Questioned In Knife Slaying Of Student

SAN ANTONIO — (AP)— Sheriff Owen Kilday Monday was questioning an 18-year-old youth in the knife slaying of a Texas A&M College senior at a Von Ormy Night Club Sunday night.

Jack Solesher, 23, of Weslaco, on duty at the ROTC Summer Camp at Kelly Air Force Base, was found dead on arrival at a hospital here early Monday. He had been stabbed seven times.

Six hours after the cadet was brought to the hospital, Deputy Sheriffs Tony Morin and Jack Howard arrested the 18-year-old suspect at a room at the YMCA here. They found bloody clothing and a six-inch knife in a sheath, they said.

Solesher was brought to the hospital by four San Antonio youths. They told officers they had found him on the side of a road two miles west of Von Ormy. However, under questioning the officers said the youths admitted they had picked up the cadet in the parking lot of the night club.

The owner of the club, the deputies said, told them an altercation had taken place outside the building shortly before Sunday midnight.

21 Persons Killed In French Plane Crash

CASABLANCA, FRENCH MOROCCO — (AP)—Twenty-one persons were killed in the crash of a French passenger plane soon after it took off from Casablanca Airport Sunday.

Nine surviving passengers were injured, eight of them critically. A woman and her child living near the crash scene were burned severely when a blazing piece of wreckage fell on their house.

All those aboard the plane, a DC-3 on a flight from Paris to Dakar, were French. The plane was operated by Aigle-Azur (Blue Eagle) line.

It was the fourth French air crash in less than a month and brought to more than 100 the number of dead in those disasters.

Nation Faces New Rail Strike Threat

CHICAGO — (AP)—With one major rail walkout ended, the nation faced possibility of another Monday.

A strike by AFL switchmen which had stopped service on four roads and hampered a fifth was halted in two stages by government pressure.

A federal court late Saturday night sent the last 1,500 striking switchmen back to work.

Monday, three other rail unions met in Chicago to decide whether their 250,000 members will strike to back up their demands for a shorter work week and higher pay. They are the trainmen, conductors and yardmasters.

A cooling off period under the Railway Labor Act ends Saturday, leaving these unions free to strike at any time after that. A spokesman for the Order of Railway Conductors said the court order to the switchmen and government seizure of the Rock Island Lines Saturday "have not made any difference in our thinking."

Wildcat Is Scheduled Near SW Kent Opener

Drilling & Exploration Company has staked 8,000-foot wildcat in Southwest Kent County one and one-half miles northwest of Kewanee Oil Company's recently completed Pennsylvanian lime discovery.

The D&E No. 1-D Wilson Connell is to be 860 feet from south and west lines of section 5, block 5, H&G survey, and two miles northeast of the town of Pular.

Operations on the No. 1-D Connell are to begin by July 15.

Midland Youth Breaks Into Jail

Midland County Sheriff Ed Darnell declares he has seen everything now.

Saturday night a 16-year-old Midland youth walked out and climbed into the car with Darnell and the Officers Hollis and Cabiness of the Police Department at a drive-in here.

"Take me to jail. I want to be locked up for," the boy told the officers.

"What have you done to be locked up for?" Darnell asked.

"Nothing," replied the youth, "but I want to go to jail."

The officers explained they couldn't arrest him if he hadn't violated the law. The explanation was too much.

The youth stepped from the car, walked to the front of the drive-in and kicked out a plate glass window.

"Now lock me up," he begged.

The officers obliged him, and Monday he still was being held.

Sheriff Darnell said the boy indicated he had been having a spat with his girl friend. He also may have been involved in the theft of several articles from an automobile, police said.

Thousands Inspect Memorial Hospital

Visitors by the thousands "ohed" and "ahed" their ways through the brand new, four-story, 100-bed Midland Memorial Hospital during its open house observance Sunday afternoon.

It was the first time the huge medical facility had been thrown open for public inspection, and citizens took full advantage of the opportunity to see and inspect their new community hospital.

It was impossible to obtain an accurate count on the number of visitors from Midland and area cities, but estimates ran as high as 8,000.

The new Midland Memorial Hospital, which observed open house Sunday, will open for service at 7 a.m. Tuesday, E. R. Andres, administrator said. Adding that everything will be in perfect readiness for the first patient.

A number of room reservations have been made, and major surgery is scheduled during the day.

"From Tuesday on, the hospital will be wide open for service," Andres said.

and 10,000 persons. Observers said it was the best-attended open house function in Midland's history.

A steady stream of men, women and children poured through the installation during the open-house hours from 2 to 6 p.m., and it was necessary to extend the announced hours as visitors kept flock-

Sergeant Sought In Nude Slaying

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — An Army staff sergeant was sought Monday for questioning in the nude slaying of an attractive, 39-year-old secretary.

Mrs. Myrna Stewart was found nude and unconscious on a beach Sunday. She died at a hospital without regaining consciousness.

Two passersby, Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Baron, told police a nude soldier hailed them at 1:30 a.m. and asked for help. They quoted him:

"I dragged her so the water to reach her, then dragged her back here."

Her clothes and a sergeant's were piled at her side. The Barons went to notify police. When they returned the soldier was gone.

Police Inspector Thomas F. Fitzpatrick and Frank Olszew said the woman had been beaten with a ginger ale bottle.

Merchants To Honor First Baby Born In New Hospital

Gifts fit for a king or a queen—an infant king or queen—await the first baby born in the new $1,500,000 Midland Memorial Hospital, which will open for service Tuesday.

The attractive and useful gifts—mostly for his or her honor, but some for mother and even a few which dad can claim—are offered by 21 Midland business firms, who are anxious to honor the first baby who first will see the light of day in Midland's brand new community hospital.

Being the first baby born in the new four-story, 100-bed general hospital will be quite an honor in itself, but the many and lovely gifts provided by Midland merchants further will add to the distinctive honor.

The hospital, the largest, finest, most modern and best-equipped in this section of West Texas, observed open house Sunday afternoon. The obstetrics department, situated on the third floor, attracted as much or more attention than any other section.

No strings attached to the first baby gift. A letter from the hospital stating the baby is the first one born in the new medical facility is all that is necessary. The parents then may claim the gifts from the 21 business firms.

The donors and the gifts are listed as follows:

Kruger Jewelry Company, Sterling silver teething ring; Tidy Ditty Service, two weeks free diaper service; Penney's, 85 trade certificates; Dunlap's, quilted satin caddy-nest; Tull's Drug, complete Johnson baby set; Caffey, complete Company, electric bottle warmer; City Drug Store, 60 credit on prescriptions for mother of baby; Collier's, lovely gift for the mother; Hazen, (Continued On Page Seven)

Actor Claims It's Easier To Play All-American Roles

BY ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD—The men: John Dall is on strike against playing any more lip-dribblers on the screen. He's acting the role of an uncomplex homicide squad detective in "The Gun" and saying: "I was an All-American boy in a couple of pictures. One of them was a fright movie with Deanna Durbin. Now I want to get away from neurotics and go back to being an All-American. It's easy. You just pull your forelock down and show your teeth."

John mastered the Welsh accent for "The Corn Is Green" and then found that the Warner front office had him mixed up with an immigrant just off the boat. "They kept telling me that they had no parts for Welshman, but I be patient," he wailed. "I was under contract, but they let me go to New York for a straight romantic part in 'Dear Ruth.' But do you think I could get them to take a look at me on the stage?"

Jeff Chandler, I'm not afraid to predict, will be the bobby soxers' new swoon boy when films he has made for Fox and UI reach the screen this fall and winter. It's one of those usual Hollywood stories.

Chandler was a local radio actor, knocking himself out on half a dozen different daily shows while his agent tried to interest some studio. Finally UI saw the light, signed him up and now shares his contract with Darryl Zanuck. Both studios are convinced he's a young Gable. But just before the UI contract was signed, another studio casting director brushed him off with: "Sorry, you're not the leading man type. We'll call you when we need some mugs."

Lee J. Cobb admits he isn't the lamb that followed Mary, but neither is he the arseband that snipers accused him of being after his split with Fox earlier this year. "The only temperament I have exercised has been in the front office—never on the set. I even have an agreement with Fox to do one film this year if it's mutually acceptable."

Cobb doesn't expect to play "Death of a Salesman" in pictures — "It's a rare thing for a man who originates a role to repeat it in films, but he has plans to direct when he finds a good story."

Lanky Rod Cameron, who hasn't been corralled by any movie queen's yet, admits his engagement to Ray Bookley is colder than those movie rivers he fords on horseback. Grinning about the whole thing on the set of "The Black Hills," Rod told me: "It's all off. It was a very impulsive thing. I think I'll just stay with my horse and she can get herself a city fella."

Rod and Kay met during the filming of "Stage to Tucson," one of the series of tumbledown epics he's been making. He'd like to get back in fancy duels again for a change—"Just to prove I can do something besides ride a horse"—but he isn't kicking about his success as a buckskin hero.

"The western I make," he says, "are for adults. Lots of pecking and chasing dolls. I can order a drink at the bar, smoke a cigarette and kiss the purty gals. The kids don't have a thing to say about it."

Dick Anderson, who's being corralled and combed in Metro's latest stab, once was a messenger boy in the studio's publicity department. Gary Grant spotted him on a Hollywood television show, introduced him to Dore Schary and waded a skip-the-thanks goodbye.

"You'll see him in Lana Turner's 'No Life of Her Own' before he hits the screens in 'The Story of a Divorce' and 'Grounds for Marriage,'" Dick says his first scene with Lana was easy. "I sit in on an advertising agency conference. A lot of gals walk in and we look to see if their legs will do for posters ads. Then Lana walks in and hits her skirt. We all smile and look happy about her legs. I'm very happy I became an actor."

Richard Basehart sat comfortably at home in Hollywood while director Henry Hathaway and a camera crew photographed his suicide leap from the 15th floor of a New York skyscraper for the movie "14 Hours." A stunt man perched on the ledge and then a prop man pushed over a straw dummy for the longshot.

The New York sequences, filmed on Broadway near the Wall Street district, had a daily audience of from 2,000 to 5,000 New Yorkers during the 12-day location. The studio hired 30 extras as sidewalk gawkers but every day inquisitive New Yorkers showed the extras aside for the choice front row vantage points. Hathaway says:

Prevention Stressed In Fight Against Amebic Dysentery
By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Amebic dysentery is a worldwide problem. This is an unfavorable reflection on our use of modern medicine since we know how this disease is spread and how to prevent it. The parasite responsible for this form of dysentery travels from the intestines of one person to those of another.

Bacterial infections are spread by pollution and usually are taken into the body by swallowing in the drinking water or in the food, and by flies and direct contact. These must first have been contaminated by human waste containing the parasite.

The nature and severity of symptoms vary a great deal. The disease often develops suddenly with pain and tenderness in the abdomen. Diarrhea with bloody stools is common. Those who are attacked in this way are extremely ill and prostrated.

Death can come during this stage though most people recover from their worst symptoms. Even after the symptoms have disappeared, however, they may carry the parasites in their intestinal tract or they may develop a chronic stage of the disease in which the symptoms are far less severe.

Other victims may become infected but never develop an acute illness. Alternating periods of constipation and diarrhea with mild symptoms or even none at all are frequent. Those who do not have any symptoms but harbor the parasites are considered carriers and are, of course, just as dangerous in spreading the disease as those who are acutely ill.

When carriers or those with mild chronic symptoms handle food in public eating places or homes, they are a source of danger to others. Most city public health departments, therefore, have adopted regulations regarding the health inspection of food handlers in restaurants and hotels with the aim of eliminating carriers of amebae from this type of work.

Since the symptoms of amebic dysentery may be just like those of other conditions the only way of making a cure diagnosis is by identifying the parasites under the microscope.

There are several fairly good treatments for this disease. Several injections of a substance called emetine hydrochloride is a time-

Lions Club Will Install Officers At Outdoor Meet

Roy Carter of Kermit, governor-elect of District 2-T-2, Lions International, will install officers of the Midland Lions Club for 1950-51 at a family night barbecue at 7 p.m. Monday at Cole Park.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by the popular Lions Club International Convention Band, under the direction of Duke Jimerson.

The officers include C. Ed Pritchard, president; J. P. Carson, L. V. Bassham and J. Merson, vice presidents; C. E. Nelson, secretary-treasurer; R. H. (Rusty) Gifford, Lion tamer, and Rocky Ford, tail twister. New directors are Joe Conkling and H. Winston Hull, who All Lions and members of their families are urged to attend. Roy Minear, retiring president, said, presidents of other service clubs will attend as special guests.

What's RIGHT?
You have gotten a group of persons together for an evening who prove to have little in common, and the conversation is dull and the evening dragging.

WRONG: Try to fill in the silent moments yourself and hope that they will decide to go home early.

RIGHT: Suggest playing a card game, or watching television, or dancing, if it is a young crowd—anything to give the bored guests something to do.

Seven members of the 1950 Notre Dame baseball team were from New York. New Jersey, Michigan and Ohio had four members each.

Abundant Living

By E. STANLEY JONES

Heb. 10:9, 5; John 1:14; Gal. 6:17; Rom. 12:1.

BODILY DISHARMONY AND DISEASE

We pass on to the twelfth of the 15 major enemies of the personality. Bodily disharmony and disease. We have been a long time getting to the physical basis of abundant living. Some would have started with it as the all-important factor. We have reserved it for this place, for while we consider the physical basis important, it is not all-important. Many are compelled to live abundantly, if at all, in spite of physical conditions—and they do. I know a man left a cripple by the first world war and entirely bedridden. Yet he runs his business from his bedroom. And that bedroom is the center of a wholesome gaiety. He is one of the most magnetic persons in his town. He lives abundantly—in spite of.

While this is true, nevertheless, there is a very definite physical basis of abundant living. Body and mind are intertwined until one can scarcely say body and mind, but body-mind. If the soul and mind pass on their sicknesses to the body, then just as definitely does the body pass on its sickness to the mind and soul. The whole person becomes sick. Hawthorne says, "A bodily disease which we look upon as whole and entire itself may, after all, be but a symptom of some ailment in the spiritual part." True. And just as truly a soul disease which we look upon as whole and entire may, after all, be a symptom of some ailment in the physical part. There are many people who are castigating their souls and loading them with guilt when they should attend to their nutrition,

O God of my body, I would have it at Thy best. Thou has made me for health and rhythm; help me to present this body of mine for Thee to make out of it the very finest instrument for Thy purposes. Help every brain cell and every tissue and every nerve to be the strings upon which Thy creative fingers shall play and bring out undreamed-of harmony and effectiveness. Amen. Use That Old Jewelry To Make Different And Unusual Things

Did it ever occur to you that your dressing table drawer, your jewelry box, or even grandmother's trunk, for that matter, may hold the possibilities of a beautiful modern piece of jewelry? Better take a look, just in case.
 That diamond you had "always thought too small to bother with, that single good pearl earring, forgotten since you lost the other one, that broken watchchain which belonged to grandfather, all can add up to an enviable piece of jewelry with a little remodeling.
 Oftentimes your jeweler can offer excellent suggestions if you take your hitherto buried treasure in to him. For instance, one smart young woman found a box of old jewelry which her husband had tucked away and long since forgotten. It

Comparative Size Of New York And London Only Point Of View

NEW YORK—Which is bigger—New York or London? It all depends on how you look at it.
 The 1950 census might have settled the argument once and for all, but it didn't.
 London—that is, Greater London—claims 8,203,942 people. The city itself has about 4,000,000.
 The new census figures give New York 7,841,610, or about 400,000 short of the London total.
 But... London counts its entire metropolitan area, while New York just counts the noses inside the city limits. If New York totaled up its metropolitan area, it would zoom ahead of London with the whopping figure of 15,540,697.
 The New York metropolitan area includes the big city itself, plus four New York and eight New Jersey counties.

Old Hair-Do Hides Beauty

By ALICIA HART
 NEA Staff Writer
 Don't let your hair-do tattle about your age.
 An outdated style is more aging than the mere graying hairs.
 That doesn't mean you have to make drastic changes in hair length to subtract years from your appearance. It's the line, not the length, that does it. So says Antoinette of the Plaza, hair stylist whose clientele includes many of New York's smartest women.
 To prove her point she cites a typical middle-aged hair style. This one has three deeply ridged waves on one side, two on the other and the ends gathered into a tight sausage roll in back. Remember it? It was not stuff 20-odd years ago.
 Today, the tight, horizontal waves are unflatteringly harsh and do nothing to display the beauty of silver hair.
 A minimum amount of snipping and shaping is needed to give this old-timer new flattery, says Antoinette. She re-styles it by slanting a deep smooth wave upward and back from the face on each side. Ends are brushed out in loose curls to create a softening frame for the face.
 Although hair is kept medium long, the lift of the wave and the halo of curls make it look shorter, a la current styles.

Convoy Is Readied At California Port

SAN DIEGO, CALIF.—With the Navy dropping the secrecy curtain on some activities, a huge convoy is being readied at this port, apparently to carry troops and equipment to Korea.
 In port Monday are the 12,000-ton escort carrier Badoeng Strait, the transport General A. E. Anderson, a cargo ship and four destroyers. The Badoeng Strait was detached from maneuvers in Hawaii last week. Although the Navy wouldn't say, it was presumed the carrier may ferry planes to the P. East.
 Flatcars of tanks, tractors and other heavy gear arrived Sunday from Camp Pendleton Marine Base.

Fighting In Korea Makes Probable New Defense Fund Needs

WASHINGTON—(AP)—House Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) said after a White House conference of congressional leaders Monday there is a "probability" more military appropriations will be asked because of the Korean fighting.
 Rayburn told reporters President Truman did not say he would seek more defense money.
 "But I think it is a probability," Rayburn added.
 He said he was confident Congress would vote whatever funds were needed.
 At the Pentagon, meantime, military men said the United States now has enough men and equipment in Korea to slow the Communist advance, but that no one should expect an immediate turn in the tide of battle.
Pentagon Urges 'Caution'
 The tone of the Pentagon forenoon "briefing" for newsmen was generally of caution against over-optimism as a result of the week-end's heavy air strikes against the North Koreans.
 Any request from President Truman for more military appropriations might mean the end of the pending bill to cut excise taxes by more than a billion dollars.
 Some influential Congress members already have taken a "go slow" attitude on tax cuts in view of the international situation.
 The White House conference was attended by the congressional Democratic "Big Four"—Rayburn, Vice President Barkley, Senate Leader Lucas (Ill.) and House Leader McCormack (Miss.).
 Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, was called in and gave them a general summary of the Korean situation.

Everything Will Thornberg Ate Disagreed With Him Until He Took HADACOL

Found his trouble was due to lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin in his system!

In case after case where people had given up all hope of obtaining relief from such stomach distress, simply wonderful experiences are being reported after taking this great new HADACOL for deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin in the system.

Everyone is talking about HADACOL and the wonderful good it is doing for weak, run-down men, women and children who have such deficiencies.
 For instance, here's an interesting experience which Mr. and Mrs. Will Thornberg* jointly write about. They live in Garner, North Carolina.

"My husband, 60 years old, had suffered with stomach distress for quite some time. Everything he ate seemed to disagree with him. A friend told me about HADACOL and how much it had helped her. I insisted that my husband give it a fair trial. He had tried so many medicines without any result that he had begun to think nothing would help him.

"He is on his fourth bottle now. He can eat anything he wants, and it doesn't hurt him. He says he can recommend HADACOL gladly to anyone suffering as he did. Thanks so much for HADACOL."

Many Doctors Recommend HADACOL
 Ask your own doctor if this isn't so. A lack of only a small amount of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin can cause much stomach distress—indigestion, heartburn, gas, bloating, a "nervous" stomach which can't, and refuses to, digest your food properly.
 So why punish yourself and keep on taking quick-acting antacids which give symptomatic relief. Be fair to yourself—relieve the REAL CAUSE of your trouble due to such deficiencies.

And thanks to HADACOL—it's now possible to do so.

Get That Wonderful HADACOL Feeling

HADACOL not only supplies deficient systems with more than their daily needs of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin but also beneficial amounts of precious Calcium, Phosphorus and Magnesium—so vital to maintain good health.

Know the joy of being able to eat a square meal. Be able to eat the foods you like and enjoy them without suffering gas, heartburn and painful indigestion afterwards.
 And the best news, yet! Continued use of this great HADACOL helps keep such stomach disturbances from coming back! Truly one of the greatest blessings of the times! So start this very day—get that wonderful, wonderful HADACOL feeling everyone is talking about. Trial-size bottle, only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50.

Crisis-Inviting Policy

Our leaders' brave response to the Russian challenge in Korea should not blind us to the fact that America up to now has behaved in a fashion which would invite such a crisis.

Neither President Truman, his topflight advisers or Congress can escape blame for political, military and psychological mistakes that helped set the stage for communism's march against South Korea.

No fair individual would argue that from 1945 on we should have seen the Russians for what they are. They were our wartime allies, and we could not overnight begin regarding them as potential enemies.

In the light of that knowledge, which has been continuously reinforced by events ever since, the United States has committed errors that stamp us as still immature and unrealistic in world affairs.

For example, we withdrew our occupation troops from South Korea 18 months ago. We did this because President Syngman Rhee of the new Korean republic requested it; because Russia was gaining propaganda advantage from her removal of troops from North Korea, and because our military men said the country was strategically indefensible and thus worthless in the broad Pacific defense pattern.

We shrugged off the really critical fact: that the departing Russians had left behind them a strong, well-equipped North Korean puppet army, while South Korea had only ill-trained, inadequately armed defenders.

To be sure, the U. S. voted arms aid to South Korea, but it has been painfully slow in arriving. To pin hope on South Korea's ability to save itself if attacked was obviously a gross misjudgment almost devoid of realism.

Formosa illustrates our failures, too. American military leaders disagreed over its strategic worth, and those who rated it secondary won Truman's ear. Their views were underlined by Secretary of State Acheson's belief that intervention to protect Formosa meant outraging Asiatics who are showing more and more desire to work out their destinies without western help.

But now we have reversed our attitude on the ground that the Korean war alters the picture. It certainly does. But the threat to Korea always was there. If Korea originally was considered indefensible and yet its possession by a hostile power is reason for us to safeguard Formosa, why shouldn't we have prepared to defend the island from the start?

In keeping hands off Formosa we may have smoothed the nationalist feelings of several Asiatic countries; but on the other hand we did ourselves much harm by convincing many leaders there that we had no intent to act firmly against communism in Asia.

Our long indecision regarding vital Indo-China is in the same category. We recently have reaffirmed our purpose to aid the French in their hot war against Ho Chi Minh's Red forces. But we have been and still are dangerously slow in making that purpose effective.

By these failures, by these withdrawals and half-hearted gestures of support, we have encouraged the Russians to move forward, probing Asia's soft spots. Had we appraised the situation maturely and realistically and acted with unmistakable firmness on the basis of such an appraisal, Russia would have been discouraged from advancing.

Perhaps we can learn from this Korean war that the time to show our true fiber is before a crisis develops. Not every showdown can be averted, nor should it be. But the wisdom and bravery that now is going into this one might better have been expended in preventing it from arising.

Disturbed because East Berliners can wander into the city's western zones and see attractive goods for sale in shop windows, the Soviet-run stores of the eastern section have hit on a solution.

They now are displaying their own attractive array of consumer items in the windows. There's only one hitch—you can't buy the stuff. Apparently it's just laid out to prove that the Communists can at least make it, even if not in sufficient volume to sell.

During the recent heralded German Red youth rally in Berlin, this little scheme had a try-out. The government put some sausages out on loan to the shops, and they promptly were strung in windows to impress the throngs of youngsters from out of town.

Later, after the kids had dispersed, the Communist officials called in their loan. The strings of sausages disappeared, presumably returning to the Government Sausage Reserve, or wherever the Reds keep such treasures.

The later people turn in at night the less they turn out during the day.

Gosh! Aren't Things Bad Enough?

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Washington—A general who branches a swag and talks in a crisp British accent is catching bricks at the Pentagon for whopping intelligence errors on Korea.

He is Maj. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby, 58, German-born chief of MacArthur's Intelligence who has been with him since Manila days.

Willoughby copies his boss in both stance and garb, even to the scarf inside the open-throated shirt.

A few weeks before the Korea attack, General Willoughby dismissed Korea as "not important" in talks with visiting firemen from Washington.

"You must keep your eye on the Reds and know what they will do next," Willoughby pontificated. "You can take it from me, Iran is the place to watch. An attack very soon, old boy."

This essentially was the briefing given Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson and Gen. Omar Bradley in Tokyo. In fact, General Bradley, returning to Washington, was most cautious about committing aid to Korea because of Willoughby's advice.

Two errors of judgment laid at General Willoughby's door are:

1. The National Security Council decision that Korea's threat was to its "internal security." This was made despite a report from General Willoughby's own staff that there were some 70 tanks in North Korea.

Tanks are strictly an offensive weapon, and now the key to the Communist successes. Yet Willoughby attached no significance to the presence of these tanks.

2. Operating the South Korean army. In his first teletype conversations with the Pentagon after the invasion, General MacArthur confidently expected the Southerners to take a firm stand. Actually, the Southern army fell apart in virtually a complete rout. This has dangerously imperiled United Nations supply lines and ports.

Note—To one delegation from Washington, General Willoughby lectured on the importance of prestige in the Orient. "It's the way you live, you know, that counts," he declaimed.

Capturing the South. For years, Republicans have been hoping to capture or even make a dent in the solid Democratic South—without success. Now it looks as if they could do it.

Jonathan Daniels, who used to be of the Roosevelt-Truman secretaries, had a heart-to-heart talk with his old boss in the White House the other day and told him how.

Daniels, who has been one of Truman's most loyal supporters, warned that the administration's continued blind support for the FEPC (Fair Employment Practices Commission) was ruining the Democratic Party in the South, and would even defeat the best parts of the Truman program in the North.

Daniels, who comes from North Carolina and is the son of Woodrow Wilson's liberal secretary of the Navy, gave Truman a case history showing how Senator Frank Graham, former president of the University of North Carolina and one of the outstanding liberals in the South, had been defeated for the Senate only because of the negro FEPC question. He also cited the Senate primary in South Carolina where the two candidates, Gov. Strom Thurmond, Dixiecrat, and Senator Olin Johnston, both are trying to outdo each other in castigating the negro.

Smart GOP Tactics. It is doubtful if Jonathan Daniels' talk with the President made too much of an impression. Daniels had talked to him before—in Chicago last May and again last Fall—without result.

It also is significant that certain Republican leaders such as Senator Brewster of Maine, who voted for FEPC, have been using FEPC to undermine the Democratic Party in the South. It likewise is significant

The average player takes many finesses that the expert avoids. The reason is that the expert tries to develop other resources in the hope that something better than a finesse will turn up.

This does not mean, however, that the expert has no use for a finesse. In many hands it is the normal play. As a matter of fact, there are times when the expert takes a finesse that the average player wouldn't dream of. An example of this kind is shown in today's hand.

South's jump to four hearts showed a very strong hand. It was not an attempt to "dose" the hand at a game bid. South wanted his partner to continue the bidding if he had a good hand. As it happened, however, North had a poor hand and therefore passed.

The contract would have been made easily if the ace of diamonds had been in the West hand instead of in the East hand; or if North had held the king of clubs instead of the king of diamonds. With either of these slight changes it would be impossible to defeat a contract of four hearts.

In the play, West opened the jack of diamonds, dummy put up the king and East won with the ace. East cashed the queen of diamonds and then shifted to the queen of clubs.

South took the ace of clubs, not playing with deep regret that he was apparently doomed to lose two club tricks. Since he could afford to lose only one more trick, the contract seemed hopeless.

South's only chance was to set up a long spade in dummy and eventually discard one of the losing clubs on that spade. In order to do so, he had to ruff three spades in his own hand and still get back to dummy to cash the last spade. Therefore South would have to enter dummy three times outside of the spade suit!

Declarer began his campaign by leading his singleton spade to dummy's ace and ruffing a spade return with the ace of trumps. He then led the five of trumps toward dummy. When West played the seven of hearts, declarer finessed dummy's eight of hearts!

When this finesse succeeded, West clutched his cards closely to his chest and glared at declarer. He was wrong to be suspicious. South had not been sure his finesse would succeed. He had been willing to risk a two-trick defeat in order to play for a contract.

South continued by ruffing another spade with the king of trumps. He next led the six of hearts to dummy's ten and ruffed a third spade with the queen of hearts.

By now all of the spades and trumps held by the opponents had been played. South could therefore lead his deuce of hearts to dummy's three of hearts. This gave dummy the lead and enabled declarer to cash the last spade. South then cheerfully conceded one losing club and scored game and rubber with great satisfaction.

MONA MCGRAW ENROLLS IN NURSING SCHOOL
OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA.—Mona McGraw of Midland, Texas, is one of 80 students admitted to the University of Oklahoma School of Nursing here recently.

that Guy Gabrielson, chairman of the Republican National Committee, made an unadvertised trip to South Carolina the other day where Republicans secretly are backing Gov. Strom Thurmond, former Dixiecrat candidate for President.

Meanwhile, here is the inside story of the "Battle of North Carolina," which shows how the GOP now has learned how to invade the South in sheep's clothing.

Up until June 5, 1950, Willis Smith, Senator Graham's opponent for the first primary, had not asked for a runoff. He was 50,000 votes behind Graham, and it looked as if he could not overcome his lead.

But on June 5 the Supreme Court handed down one of its historic decisions, opposing segregation in the University of Texas. This was announced in North Carolina newspapers on June 6 and one day later Willis Smith seized this as a heavenly opportunity to defeat Frank Graham.

Graham previously had held a state-wide examination for candidates to West Point, announcing that he would appoint the man with the highest grade, and a negro came out as third alternate. This was one of Smith's best weapons.

Helping him spread the anti-negro propaganda were large amounts of Republican money, some of it raised by Senator Brewster, chairman of the Senate Republican Reflection Committee. Among other things, Brewster inserted in the Congressional Record a Reader's Digest version of a book by isolationist, pro-Fascist John T. Flynn, castigating Graham.

Graham's enemies exceeded the allotted space, so part was paid for by someone other than the taxpayers. At any rate a million reprints were made and mailed from a box number in Grand Central Station, New York to boxholders in North Carolina.

Ex-Convict Enters Fight. One of the organizations which mailed these reprints was the Committee for Constitutional Government, headed by Dr. E. Rumely, an ex-convict, jailed during World War I for being the agent of the Kaiser. Many reprints were mailed under the frank of Congressman Ralph W. Gray, New York Republican, friend of General Eisenhower, and who has loaned his frank to almost every pro-Fascist organization in the United States.

On top of this, Republicans cleverly crammed negro names into the "National Association for the Advancement of Colored People." There is no such society. But there is a man's most loyal supporters, warned that the administration's continued blind support for the FEPC (Fair Employment Practices Commission) was ruining the Democratic Party in the South, and would even defeat the best parts of the Truman program in the North.

Daniels, who comes from North Carolina and is the son of Woodrow Wilson's liberal secretary of the Navy, gave Truman a case history showing how Senator Frank Graham, former president of the University of North Carolina and one of the outstanding liberals in the South, had been defeated for the Senate only because of the negro FEPC question. He also cited the Senate primary in South Carolina where the two candidates, Gov. Strom Thurmond, Dixiecrat, and Senator Olin Johnston, both are trying to outdo each other in castigating the negro.

Smart GOP Tactics. It is doubtful if Jonathan Daniels' talk with the President made too much of an impression. Daniels had talked to him before—in Chicago last May and again last Fall—without result.

It also is significant that certain Republican leaders such as Senator Brewster of Maine, who voted for FEPC, have been using FEPC to undermine the Democratic Party in the South. It likewise is significant

Ohio's Lausche Rides Fence With Labor Right Behind Him

By PETER EDSON
NEA Service Correspondent
COLUMBUS, OHIO—Ohio's Democratic Gov. J. Frank Lausche has tossed a hand grenade into Buckeye politics. His somewhat ambiguous statement about endorsing Ohio's Senator Robert A. Taft or his opponent, State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson, has caused a lot of ducking for cover.

Republicans seized the Lausche statement as an indication that he would endorse Taft. Democrats just as promptly belittled the statement. They said it didn't mean anything, because it was so fuzzily worded. Or else that it didn't make any difference.

Independents put still another interpretation on it. They maintained that Lausche isn't particularly interested in whether Taft or Ferguson wins. They say that Lausche's statement was a typical trick of a past master in political strategy. And that it is similar to the Lausche tactics in the 1948 Truman-Dewey campaign.

It is claimed that all Lausche is interested in is his own success. By putting out a somewhat unnecessary statement which seemed to endorse Taft, Lausche was only making a bid for Republican and business support for his own campaign for reelection to a third term as Ohio's governor.

Lausche's Endorsement. The inside political dope, however, discounts all such speculation. And it reveals that the Lausche statement was a much more important endorsement of Taft than even the Republicans may have realized. For two reasons:

1. It has not been publicized, but before Lausche issued his statement, the Democratic national headquarters offered Governor Lausche a large campaign contribution for probable spending if he would endorse Ferguson as Democratic candidate for U. S. senator.

Lausche turned down this offer. 2. For some time past, Lausche has carried around with him two different statements on the senatorial race in Ohio. One was the statement he issued, which has caused all the argument. The other, and as yet unused statement, is a direct and unmistakable endorsement of Taft.

These statements apparently were drawn up shortly after Senator Taft and Governor Lausche appeared on the same platform at Ohio West-

Questions and Answers

Q—Why is New York City called Gotham?
A—Gotham was a village in England whose inhabitants were proverbial for their follies. Washington Irving applied the name Gotham to New York, satirizing the short-sightedness of many of the inhabitants.

Q—What is an explanation of the word canter, the easy gallop of a horse?
A—The word is a shortened form of Canterbury. It goes back to the days when medieval pilgrims paced their miles and pilgrimages along the road to Canterbury Cathedral in England. The original expression was Canterbury pace, or gallop.

Q—How do sharks bear their young?
A—Many sharks, unlike most fish, give birth to living young.

Q—Who is considered America's first financier?
A—Robert Morris. His skill as a financier, and his patriotic use of his private fortune, more than any other, saved the country from bankruptcy. From 1781 to 1784 he had complete control of the finances of the country.

Q—What is the Marshall Plan?
A—The Marshall Plan is a shortened form of Canterbury. It goes back to the days when medieval pilgrims paced their miles and pilgrimages along the road to Canterbury Cathedral in England. The original expression was Canterbury pace, or gallop.

running against Lausche. For the CIO's PAC to endorse a Republican candidate for governor in Ohio, where it is exerting every effort to defeat "Mr. Republican" Taft, would be far more of a sensation than for Lausche to vote for Taft.

LITTLE DOC By Walt Coburn. Copyright 1950 by NEA Service, Inc.

I stopped at the little cow town of Wolf Point, Mont., at the unholy hour of 3 o'clock in the morning, just long enough for the single passenger to alight in the thin cold drizzle of a late April rain.

The conductor and a white-jacketed porter and a man in a shabby brown suit were standing in the vestibule. The porter went down the pullman steps ahead with his stool, a heavy suitcase and a brand new leather doctor's bag with the name JOHN SAND, M.D., in gilt lettering on the side.

Tears came into the eyes of the man in the shabby brown suit and his lips trembled. "God bless you, Doc," he managed to say.

"Thanks for everything, Doc," the conductor said. "This Great Northern Railway owes you something. I'll write it into my report."

John Sand's young face flushed a little. He went down the platform steps and almost missed the stool in the dark. The porter grabbed him in time to save him from getting a nasty fall in the wet cinder embankment of the roadbed.

"Should be a law, yessuh! Should be some kind of a station platform even at these whistle stops." The porter shook his head and refused the half-dollar tip.

"No, suh, thank you just the same. Not from you, Cap'n. Them folks travelin' tourist should be givin' eternal thanks for the job you done paying for a stationroom and fetchin' that baby child into this cold world."

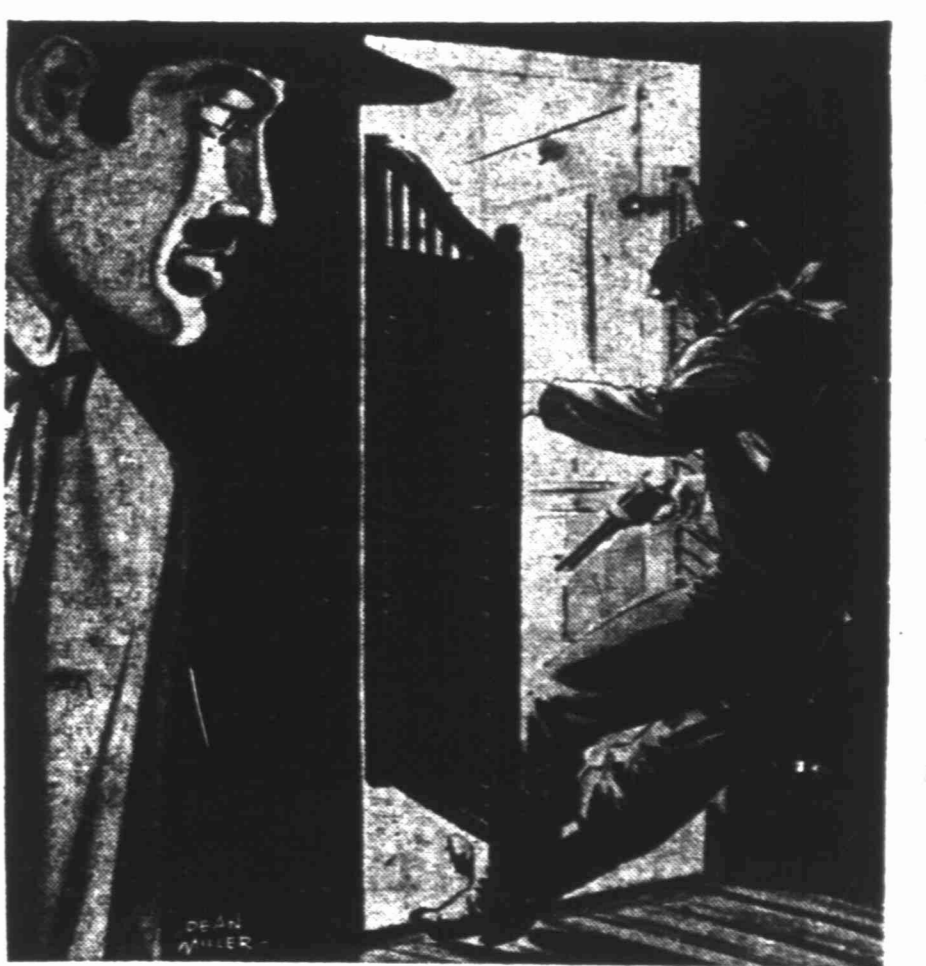

"Thank you, George, for all the help you gave me," John Sand held out a hand. He shook hands with the porter whose face broke into a grin when he picked up the stool and climbed the steps.

JOHN SAND, M.D., stood there by the railway tracks and watched the train pull out. Bell clanging, steam hissing a white warm cloud through the black drizzle. Red and green lights winking in the blackness. A long mournful blast of the locomotive whistle.

"Wolf Point, Montana," John Sand spoke aloud through the faint self-mocking grin. "End of the line."

He stood in the black drizzle, shivering a little, as if he were waiting for something to happen. Like he was listening for the sound of the wolf howl that George, the porter, had prophesied.

When it came, John Sand gave a little start. A wolf had picked up the mournful echo of the locomotive whistle and the dismal howl sounded. In a few seconds it became a chorus that seemed to surround the man, and for a few moments there was something like fear swept over him. He had read about wolves that traveled in small frame shack that housed the telegrapher. Then John Sand could make out three or four blobs of yellow light about a hundred yards distant. That would be the main street of the cow town and the lights came from the row of saloons that stood open 24 hours a day.

John Sand picked up his suitcase and bag and headed in that direction. It had rained just enough to make the gumbo clay sticky and the going was heavy. He stopped a couple of times to get his wind but he dared not lower the heavy suitcase into the sticky mud. The next best thing was to shift the load to his other hand and that required a little juggling of his doctor's bag.

He was across the rutted muddy road that served as the main street when a gunshot exploded inside the saloon nearest him. Then came several shots that seemed to blend into one. John Sand stood tracked in the mud and stared at the tense, brief little drama of life and death.

A BIG man reeled backwards through the short half swinging doors with a gun in his hand. He stumbled and fell and lay there, sprawled motionless on the wide plank sidewalk.

A second man shoved through the doors and stood there with a gun in his hand looking down at the fallen man. The gun pointed down at its victim.

He took a short step forward and nudged the man with the toe of his boot.

The last gun echoes died in the black wet night. The howling of the wolves had ceased and there was only silence, and for the man who lay on the wet plank sidewalk, it was the eternal silence of death.

The man who stood over the fallen giant was obviously a cow-

South Carolina's Voters Have Choice Of Truman Foes

In the Senate race, they have a choice between Gov. J. Strom Thurmond and Senator Olin J. Johnston, both of whom have been proclaiming across the state their opposition to Truman's civil rights program and their disappointment with him as President.

Love-Nest Shooting At Mountain Cabin Is Fatal To Woman

BREWSTER, N. Y.—(AP)—A 30-year-old New York woman was shot fatally early Monday as she tracked her husband and a wealthy woman friend to a secluded mountain cabin in quest of divorce evidence.

Mrs. Andrea Gehr, a refugee from Germany, was the victim. Her estranged husband, Herbert, 35, an assistant television director for the American Broadcasting Company, was charged with homicide. His companion, Mrs. Dorothea Matthews, was held for questioning.

Mrs. Matthews, 30-year-old brunette, has been involved for two years in a sensational divorce battle with her wealthy husband, Mark, owner of a New York City messenger service.

State police said Gehr opened fire with a rifle when her wife, a friend and four private detectives ratted the screen door of the Birch Hill cottage in the nearby town of Patterson.

Two of the detectives were wounded. Gehr and Mrs. Matthews drove rapidly away. They were arrested by police at Armonk, Westchester County, less than two hours later.

Police quoted Gehr as saying he fired because he thought the cabin was being approached by prowlers.

Communists—

MacArthur said light bombers from the Fifth Air Force performed close support and bombed troops, vehicles, tanks and trucks with reported good results.

Napalm, the firebomb, was used with reported excellent results, the general's communique said. Napalm is a secret soap-like mixture that splatters flaming gasoline when the bomb bursts.

The advance of the North Korean troops on the populous western side of the Korean Peninsula carried them to within 20 air miles of Taejeon, MacArthur said the Reds were at Chichwon, a rail junction.

Taejeon is the temporary capital of the South Korean government. But even as these reverses were reported, Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer said in a radio interview that the Allies had stopped the Communist drive that had rolled relentlessly for two weeks.

Communication troubles were another heartening news Monday. General MacArthur, United Nations commander, said the North Koreans, who raced down the peninsula against opposition for two weeks, were having communication troubles since Sunday's relentless air blows.

The "lost" battalion was cut off in an all-night battle July 8-9 near Chichwon, about 50 miles south of the Red-held Republican capital of Seoul.

To get back it slugged its way through an enemy force that outnumbered it 10 to one in men and armament.

MacArthur praised it for its "bold and most successful holding, delaying and rear-guard action." The unit was not identified. It now is in good location, the United Nations commander said.

The tough Americans cut their way through the North Korean First Division to get out.

The battalion had been in a forward position during the battle when it was encircled by the Communists. There was no mention in MacArthur's communique of the battalion's losses. He did not explain its "bold operation."

Employment Records Due To Surpass 1948

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The number of American job-holders may break all records this year, running over the 61,600,000 peak of 1948.

The Labor Department said Sunday that all economic signs point to a record year for employment.

Robert R. Goodwin, director of the department's Bureau of Employment Security, released a report on a survey of 99 major production areas and a number of smaller communities.

Goodwin said that with the total employment figure at 61,482,000 in June, "there seems little doubt but that employment this year will exceed the 61,600,000 peak established in 1948."

The whole nation shares in the bright outlook, he said, "but the greatest proportionate increase is due in the Far West."

JAPAN TO ORGANIZE RESERVE POLICE FORCE

TOKYO —(AP)—A tentative plan to organize a 75,000-man reserve Japanese police force was drafted Monday by the government.

General MacArthur, occupation commander and United Nations leader in the war against North Korean Communists, sanctioned the plan.

MUSTANGS TO THE RESCUE—F-80 Shooting Star jet fighter planes, like those pictured below, haven't done well against Russian-built Yaks in Korea. They're just too darned fast. So they will soon be replaced by Mustang fighters—battle-proved veterans of World War II—like the P-51 shown above. The jets are handicapped by distance. Operating from Japanese bases 800 miles away, they are limited to 10 minutes or less over the target area. Their speed is a handicap—if the Shooting Star pilot misses his first pass at a North Korean plane his 600-miles-per-hour ship is 40 miles away before he can turn for another shot. The North American Mustangs have a top speed of 450 miles per hour, are highly maneuverable, can spend an hour or more over a target and are well-suited to low-altitude fighting. Jets are designed for high-altitude, high-speed combat.

Visitor From Belgium Observes Opening Of New Midland Hospital

A most interested observer at Sunday's open house function at the new Midland Memorial Hospital was Claude Lion of Brussels, Belgium, who is in the United States to study American business methods. He is associated with Wylatt C. Hedrick's architectural and engineering firm in Port Worth, and was in Midland for the hospital opening with W. H. Myers, public relations director for the Hedrick firm.

Lion arrived in Texas about two months ago after having spent the last two and a half years in Lima, Peru. He was high in his praises of the new Midland hospital.

"I like the United States, but I like Texas better," Lion told a Reporter-Telegram reporter. (Texas would do well to adopt the young Belgian.)

SAN ANTONIO —(AP)— A Second Fourth Army combat unit has been alerted for immediate transfer to the Far East Command.

Lt. Gen. Erroy Lutes, the Fourth's commander, made an announcement Sunday. He would not say what unit it was or the number of men involved.

Previously the command had announced that an anti-aircraft unit had been alerted for movement.

Texan Reported Wounded In Korea

DR. B. M. KENT DOCTOR HERE

Dr. B. M. Kent of Houston, medical examiner for the Humble Oil and Refining Company, was here Sunday to attend the opening of the new Midland Memorial Hospital.

Hospital—

(Continued From Page One) ing to the hospital. Every room, department, division and facility of the $1,500,000 institution was open, and visitors did not miss a thing from the top floor to the basement.

Beautiful flowers sent by friends and well-wishers were placed at vantage points throughout the hospital.

Officers, trustees and founders of the Midland Memorial Foundation, members of the active medical staff, nurses, department heads, hospital staff members, and members of the Women's Auxiliary to the Hospital were on duty throughout the afternoon to greet the visitors and escort them through the main building and the nurses' home.

Comments concerning the new hospital, which will open for service Tuesday, were many and varied—all favorable. But "beautiful," "fine," "exceptionally well-equipped," "lovely," "huge," "elaborate," "modern," "the very latest thing," "well arranged," "nothing has been overlooked," and "dream hospital," perhaps were the most popular descriptive words and phrases heard by a roving reporter.

"I have been in many hospitals, but this is by far the finest and best-equipped institution I ever have seen," one visitor commented. Other comments

An 81-year-old man commented that Midland has provided the best in hospital facilities and that the huge installation will mesh much to the city and section in the years to come.

Doctors praised the very latest equipment and facilities provided in the hospital.

"It would be a real pleasure to be confined in this hospital," one visitor said.

All agreed the new hospital further will enhance Midland's position as the medical center of the Permian Basin Empire.

Most of the open house visitors were amazed at the size, completeness, neatness, furnishings and equipment of the hospital and nurses' home. All were enthusiastic. Floor Arrangement

Every floor of the hospital is a complete unit, well-equipped for its particular service operation. The fourth floor is exclusively for surgery, and has completely equipped surgery rooms. The third floor is designed primarily for obstetrics cases. It has two large delivery rooms, general nursery and patient rooms. General patient rooms are located on the second floor. The first floor houses the lobby, offices, medical and staff rooms, out-patient department, X-ray department, conference room, therapy rooms, laboratories, dining rooms and kitchen. Storage rooms, boiler room, shop, laundry, issue and receiving rooms, locker rooms, ambulance entrance, morgue and other facilities are situated in the basement. From top to bottom, it is the most complete and best-equipped hospital in West Texas.

Hospital officials and personnel Monday expressed appreciation to all those who visited the hospital, those who sent flowers and to everyone who had a part in the arranging and staging of the successful open house function.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Two Little Bugs

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, was sitting on the ground by the Elephant Path, waiting to see what he could see. Before very long there came the Happy Donkey, pulling a wagon with the Featherman asleep in the seat. "Happy day, Daddy Ringtail," Happy said, because that is the forest way of saying "hello."

Donkey. And then Happy said: "Daddy Ringtail, do you like bugs?"

came in the house, but he thought that he liked bugs all right, if they were bugs that didn't bother people. "Anyway," said Happy, "I wish you would talk to the bugs here with me. These bugs are quarreling and quarreling, and I don't like to hear it."

Daddy Ringtail thought about this. He did and he didn't like bugs. He didn't like bugs that

"Oh no you don't," the second bug said. "I ride on Happy's back, and I travel just as far as you do."

"You don't either!" said the first bug. "I do too!" said the second. "Quiet! Quiet!" said Happy. "Daddy Ringtail, can't you do anything to stop their quarreling?"

Really, though, Daddy Ringtail couldn't see that it made a bit of difference, and so he said: "I think it's this way: The first bug travels farther, because he is on the wagon wheel, and he goes around and around as well as forward to where you are going. But the second bug there on Happy's back is the one who gets there first."

TOMORROW'S NEWS TODAY—In case you've wondered why you're getting Friday battle stories from Korea in your Thursday newspaper, the answer is right here. Korea is located just four hours west of the International Date Line in the Pacific—an imaginary line where when it's Friday on the west side it's Thursday on the east. Korean time is 14 hours ahead of New York's, so Korea's Friday is more than half gone before New York's even begins. The Newschart above gives comparative times for Korea and the four U. S. time zones. If you happen to be on Daylight Saving Time, you'd better forget the whole thing.

American Planes Rip North Korean Tank-Led Hordes

TOKYO—(AP)—Some 150 American planes, in round-the-clock attacks, caught North Korean tank and troop columns in a Sunday traffic jam and raked them with concentrated fire from machine guns to fire-bombs.

Heavy troop casualties were noted. Forty-six tanks were destroyed or damaged, said a Far East Air Force (FEAF) communique. That brought total air claims of 123 tanks knocked out in two weeks of war.

The Communist columns were moving bumper to bumper toward the front south of Chonan—50 miles from Seoul.

The communique said the expanded air program pounded Red bridges and supply lines the breadth of the war-torn Asian peninsula.

The "marked success," said the communique, was attributed to coordinated air and ground control of air operations permitting fast concentration of aerial firepower on points where it was needed.

Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer said Allied planes, including Australian, in 15 days have destroyed or damaged 123 North Korean tanks, 41 planes and a vast amount of other equipment. They have flown 1,570 sorties.

To Fly Day And Night
Stratemeyer, commander of the FEAF, reported U. S. Air Force combat losses for that period total 20 combat and five transport planes. Nine American airmen have been killed, five wounded and 12 are missing.

The FEAF commander told newsman planes will fly day and night against the North Koreans. The stepped-up air attack, Stratemeyer said, "will shortly make itself felt in no unambiguous terms. Vital (North Korean) supplies such as gasoline and ammunition are known to be short in many localities. Strategic strikes on rail, bridge and highway communications already have brought numerous reports of bottlenecks in North Korean transportation."

Stratemeyer said air reinforcements are here or enroute, including three groups of B-29 Superfortresses and U. S. Marine planes.

"The officers and airmen have performed so superbly, both in daring and efficiency, I have nothing but praise for them," Stratemeyer said. "The results are outstanding, unbelievable and in some cases miraculous."

Four Divisions Blasted
Stratemeyer said Americans are building air fields in South Korea. Four Red divisions were caught.

German Refugees Show Strength In British Zone Vote

KIEL, GERMANY—(AP)—German refugees from Communist Eastern Europe who showed themselves Sunday to be a strong potential political force in West Germany Monday began an ambitious program.

In parliamentary voting Sunday they got almost a quarter of the vote in the Schleswig-Holstein elections and won 16 of the State Parliament's 68 seats. There were 1,341,754 votes cast.

It was the first time West Germany's 10,000,000 refugees had an opportunity for concerted action. They showed they could be a cohesive force.

Almost 1,000,000 of them live in squalor—in this little North German state. West German observers watched their first test at the polls as an indication of the future.

Monday Waldemar Kraft, first chairman of the Refugee Party, outlined a brief initial program. Kraft declared one of the first moves would be to organize the Refugee Party on a West German federal republic level.

To Ask Disolution
This done, he said, the Refugees would demand dissolution of the current Federal Parliament and new elections in which the Refugee Party would take an active part.

The new group cut deeply into the strength of the established political parties. The left wing Social Democratic Party, which has governed Schleswig-Holstein for several years, lost its parliamentary majority. It received less than one-third of the vote.

The right wing bloc—the Christian Democrats, Free Democrats and the German Party—won first place by pooling their strength behind the same candidates in each of the 46 electoral districts.

The combine is similar to the right wing coalition federal government at Bonn, and opposes the state's present socialist planned economy.

Final official tabulation gave this division of the legislative seats: right wing bloc, 31; Social Democrats, 18; Refugees, 16; South Schleswig Voters Union, four.

Air Group Bombing Korea Dropped First World War II Bombs

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Air Force's 19th Bombardment Group, whose B-29s have been bombing enemy targets in Korea, were the first U. S. unit to drop bombs in World War II. Capt. Colin Kelly was one of its pilots.

The 19th, equipped with the early model B-29, based at Clark Field in the Philippines when the Japanese struck. Its 93rd Squadron was operating on the morning of Dec. 7, 1941, from another field, and thus escaped the hammering the enemy planes gave all aircraft at Clark.

Among the pilots who got their B-29s into the air was Kelly, one of the first Americans to die in World War II. His bomber went down after bombing a Japanese battleship.

Losses Cut Strength
Although losses steadily whittled down the group's strength, the outfit hung on at Philippine bases, conducting bombing operations until December 24.

On that day, the group flew to Australia and later continued pounding Japanese targets. Late in 1942 it was ordered back to the United States. In 1944, after being reformed and trained, the group went back into the war with B-29s. After reaching Guam early in 1945, the 19th joined in the long range air bombardment of the Japanese homeland.

Col. Theodore Quentin Graf, 45-year-old native of Columbia, Mo., currently is group commander. Graf fought in the Mediterranean air campaign during World War II.

Renowned American Fighting Unit Again To Go Overseas

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(AP)—The guy who wears a badge that looks like the other side of a buffalo nickel is going overseas again—ready to fight for America.

He's done it before, he's ready now, and he'll do it anytime he's called on.

Who is he? He's the guy with the Indianhead patch on his shoulder—the GI Joes who have worn this emblem of the Second Infantry Division proudly and with great combat success in two world wars.

It's a famous division. Everyone in the Army knows it—and knows its record. It has been alerted at its Fort Lewis, Wash., base to get ready to go to the Far East.

And this news must send a thrill of warm memory through tens of thousands of Americans of two generations. Some who served with the Second Infantry at the Argonne in 1918 had sons who went with it from the hedgerows of Normandy to the River Elbe between 1944 and 1945.

Emergency Outfit
I don't know who posed for the profile Indian view of their emblem—Sitting Bull, Crazy Horse, Geronimo, or a tired old buck from a dreary reservation in upper New York State.

But this I know about the Second Infantry Division from a long acquaintance—a year in wartime equals a lifetime of peace, and just a bit more—and that is this: The wearers of the Indianhead patch are an emergency outfit. Like their shoulder-to-shoulder comrades in Europe, the equally famous "Fighting First" Infantry Division, they are an old-line Regular Army outfit. On their performance depends the professional reputation of the professional American Army.

They are used to delivering in emergencies. They have a pride of arms, a tradition of performance in battle, a morale in being, that measure our military strength as a nation.

It is true they may be sent to the Pacific area as occupation troops in Japan to replace the 24th Infantry Division units summoned already to Korea. That could be temporary or permanent, as the needs of the situation develop. But I am sure General MacArthur will be less lonely to have them under his command. For the tradition this unit has is what top commanders like to rely on when the cards are down, the die is cast.

They want to have under them a division that has proved itself before in battle. Wouldn't you, if you were going to boss a big fight? Only 82 of the present 15,000 men in the division marched with it through France and Germany. But they are a hard, solid core of trained men to pass on to the youngsters the Second Division's tradition of standing firm in time of trouble.

Boston Braves Give Bean Town Hopes Of Winner

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
The word "pennant" is back in the vocabulary of the good folks up Boston way Monday. They're not referring to the Red Sox, but to Billy Southworth's Braves.

Billy the Kid's third-place warriors are only two games out of first place. They have won 17 of their last 25 games, for a roaring .680 clip. Less than a month ago—June 14 to be exact—the Braves trailed the pack by six and one-half games.

Pitching has put the Braves where they are. In the beginning Warren Spahn and Johnny Sain carried the load. Then Vern Bickford got into the picture, and recently Bob Chipman began to click to give Southworth his long desired "big four."

The Braves inched to within two games of the pace-setting Philadelphia Phils Sunday as Bickford turned in a brilliant 3-2, 13-inning victory over the New York Giants. Bickford limited the Giants to eight hits and only three walks and won out on some daring base running by Sam Jethroe.

Jethroe opened the last of the thirteen against Sal Maglie with a double and stole third, his third steal of the game and the twenty-fourth of the season. One out later Maglie intentionally walked Earl Torgerson. Sid Gordon followed with a grounder to Maglie, who bluffed Jethroe back to third and then attempted an inning-ending double play.

Sam Scores Clincher
Maglie's throw to Ed Stanky was slow and Jethroe, who injured his left knee in his steal of third, limped across the plate with the winning run as Gordon beat Stanky's relay to first.

The Phils were trounced 7-3 by the Brooklyn Dodgers but maintained their one-game edge over St. Louis. The Cards dropped a 3-2 decision to the tail-end Pittsburgh Pirates.

Erv Palica, making his first start since July of 1948, tamed the Phils on five hits.

Pittsburgh gained its third straight victory over the Cardinals by scoring twice in the seventh inning to wipe out a 2-1 deficit.

The pennant race in the American League tightened up as the Cleveland Indians knocked off the league-leading Detroit Tigers 7-6 and 5-2 before 54,299 fans in Detroit. The defeats cut the Tigers' margin over the runner-up New York Yankees to three games. The 3-1 Lemon Wino No. 12

Bob Lemon outpitched his All-Star teammate Art Houtteman to post his twelfth victory in the opener.

The Tigers assured a first four innings of the nightcap but the Indians jumped on Rookie Saul Rogovin for three runs in the sixth.

Lefty Eddie Lopat scattered nine Red Sox hits to post his tenth victory before 53,097 fans in the Yankee Stadium. Lopat blanked the Sox until the eighth when successive singles by Biddle Tebbets, Billy Goodman and Dom DiMaggio produced the lone Boston run.

St. Louis tied the Philadelphia Athletics for seventh place by beating the Chicago White Sox 4-2 while the A's split a twin bill with the Washington Senators. The A's won the opener 6-5 but lost the nightcap 2-0.

Sherm Lollar starred for the Browns, driving out homer and double, battling in a run and scoring three.

Billy Hitchcock and Sam Chapman teamed up to bring the A's victory before a slim turnout of 4,131 at Shibe Park. Hitchcock drove across three runs on three singles and Chapman knocked home two on an inside the park homer. Lefty Bob Kuzava blanked the A's on four singles in the wind-up.

The Cincinnati Reds took two from the Chicago Cubs 6-0 and 6-5. Ken Raffensberger shut out the Cubs on six hits in the opener.

Western Plastic plays host to The Reporter-Telegram nine and Rotary Engineers contests Rendezvous in softball games scheduled Monday night in the Jaycee-sponsored City Major League. An Optimist League game is set for 6 p.m.

Saturday night was a bad one for the Methodists. The Young Adults fell before the Baptists 14-7 and the Fellowship Class lost to the Presbyterians 15-10 in Church League make-up tilts.

The Baptists climbed into a first-place deadlock with the Lutherans by virtue of the victory.

Morris Williams To Be Assistant Golf Pro At MMC

Morris Williams, the ex-University of Texas ace golfer, will become an assistant professional next month at Midland Country Club, it has been announced officially.

Williams reportedly had been on a deal with the club since he won the Texas PGA title last month in 72 holes of medal play here. He nudged out Byron Nelson and Raymond Gafford, two of the ranking pros, to win the PGA.

Pro J. C. Hardwicke said Williams will move to Midland August 1 to assume his duties. Williams will work in the pro shop until Fall. He then will make the Winter circuit, opening with the Los Angeles Open and continuing in all the big tournaments.

Williams was in Midland last week to play in the Midland Country Club Invitation tournament. The deal which added him to the pro staff of the club was completed then.

Pfuger May Come Here
Rumors now are being circulated that Marion Pfuger, the 29-year-old hot shot from Austin, will join Williams in playing out of Midland. They have been close friends for several years and both played on the University of Texas golf team.

Pfuger Sunday was runnerup to Billy Maxwell in the Invitation Tournament.

Williams hails from Austin and is considered one of the top young golfers in the game. He is 20.

Hardwicke said Williams will be able to give golf lessons which he starts his work as a professional here.

If Pfuger follows Williams to Midland, he will become the fourth nationally known golfer to be attracted to Midland Country Club. The famous Bauer sisters, Marlene and Alice, started playing from MCC last year.

Architect Due Monday To Start On 18-Hole Course

Ralph Plummer, widely-known golf course architect and builder, Monday was due to arrive in Midland to start actual construction on the new Midland Country Club 18-hole layout three miles north of the city.

Plummer has been working on plans for the super course several weeks. He has designed the most modern 18-hole course ever to be proposed in West Texas.

President Percy Bridgewater of the club said the course will be constructed in the center of a 588-acre tract recently purchased from Carl Covington. The area surrounding the course will be developed and beautified.

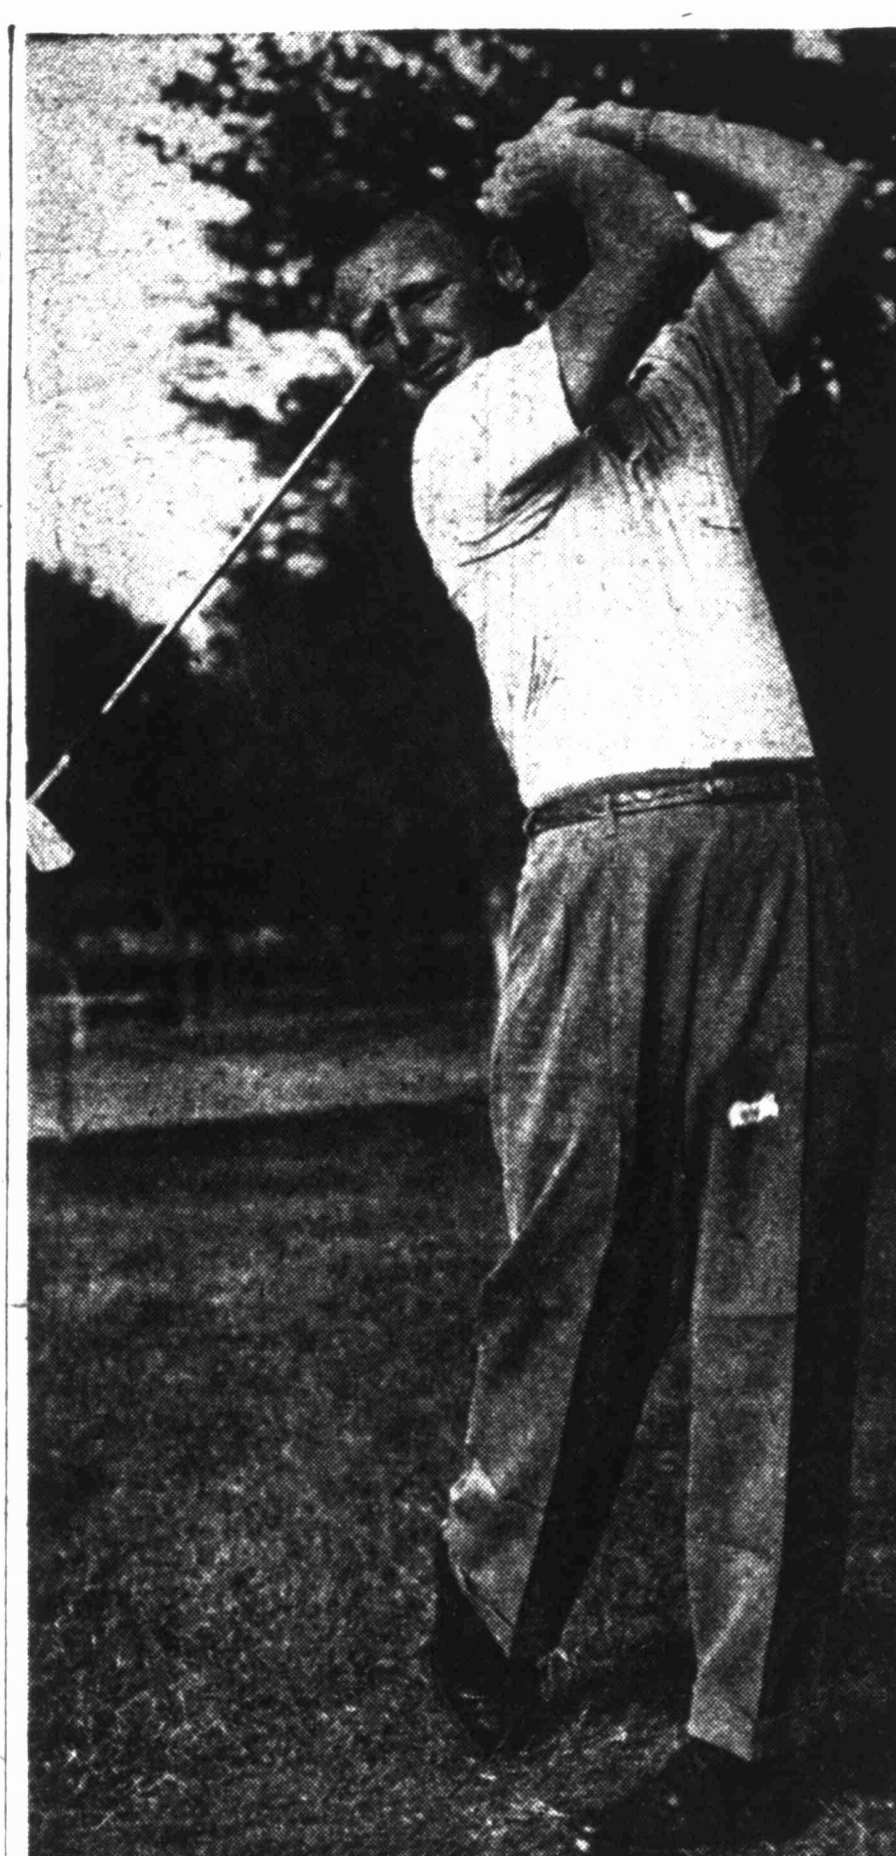

Bridgewater said the course will be centrally located in an effort to protect the greens from damage by sandstorms which usually blow here in the Spring. Trees and grass will be planted around the playing area to hold the sand.

Club House Remodeling
Work is progressing on enlargement of the club house in Midland. A new kitchen, enlarged ball room, private dining room and sun porch will be provided when construction is completed. The present club house will be used even after the new golf course is completed.

A locker room and small club house will be erected at the new course.

The Midland Country Club layout will give Midland two 18-hole courses. Ranchland Hill Country Club, north of the city, has constructed its last nine holes and the full course will be opened for play soon.

Nine holes have been in operation at Ranchland since last year. The present nine-holes course at Midland Country Club will remain in operation.

MIDLAND INVITATION CHAMP—Billy Maxwell of Odessa and North Texas State College Sunday won the Midland Country Club Invitation Tournament. It was his first major victory of the year. He finished with a 10-under-par medal score for 32 holes.

Maxwell Is MCC Champ

The championship of the Midland Country Club Invitation Golf Tournament Sunday found its way into the hands of an Odessa golfer but not a soul could begrudge it. Billy Maxwell won the title with one of the most spectacular rounds of golf ever seen on the MCC course.

Billy turned back Marion Pfuger, the ex-University of Texas star, 4 and 3 in the final hole.

Maxwell and Pfuger were even at the end of the first 18 holes and both were five under par at 67.

The next nine holes told the story as Maxwell moved away. He kept his game in the groove to finish 10 under par. The match ended on the thirty-second hole.

Maxwell's iron shots were unbelievable. He actually had so much stuff on the ball some golfers who were watching the match said it was too much.

Pfuger's game left little to be desired. Buster Reed, a teammate of Maxwell at North Texas State, matched his buddy as he won the championship consolation title. He whipped capable Tommy Roberts, the New Mexico champion, 4-3. Reed did it a little more decisively, however.

Roberts was three down at the turn. Reed kept up his hot game to finish 10 under par for the 32 holes the match covered.

Graham Mackey, recent winner of the Country Club title, copped the first flight consolation with a 6 and 5 victory over Robert Wheeler of Ranchland Hill Country Club.

Cliff Hall bested H. T. Brady 1-up for the second flight title in an all-Midland battle. Holt Malone won the consolation end of the flight with a 4 and 3 victory over Dick McKnight in another all-Midland deal.

Argument Over Who Will Be Next For Ezzard Charles

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — James Mintz, the excitable co-manager of Heavyweight Champion Ezzard Charles, says he expects Charles' next opponent will be chosen within a week.

That statement caused plenty of argument.

Buffalo promoter Charley Pinto insists Charles is going to defend his title against Freddie Beschore of Harrisburg, Pa., in Buffalo during the third week of August.

But Mintz denies anything is set for a Beschore match, which already has been postponed twice when Charles came up with injuries.

Informed that Pinto says "Mintz is bound by contract and we expect him to live up to it," Charles' manager sputtered and declared: "I've got some sort of a contract to fight Beschore but there's nothing in it that says Beschore has to be our next opponent. The International Boxing Club in New York has the first claim to Charles' services. Al Weill of the IBC will have a lot to say who Charles fights and when."

Chrisco Blanks Roswell 5 To 0; Tribe At Home

The Midland Indians open a two-day home stand at 8:15 p.m. Monday in Indian Park. The Roswell Rockets will furnish the opposition.

Ralph Blair or John Singleton will hurl Monday night's game against the Rockets.

ROSWELL—The Midland Indians whipped the Roswell Rockets 5 to 0 here Sunday night to gain a two-out-of-three edge in the three-game series just ended.

Darwin Chrisco, fireballer recently purchased from Lubbock by Midland, set the Rockets down with six hits as he notched his first victory. He was effective all the way, serving up an assortment of breaking stuff and fast balls to the Rockets.

Chrisco bested Roswell's ace, Ray Drake, in the tilt after he had relieved Hess in the second.

The Indians gave Chrisco a two-run lead in the second. Lou Dawson walked, Kenny Jones doubled and Mike Bellone doubled.

Jim Prince smashed out a bases-empty homer in the third to increase the lead to 3-0.

In the sixth, George Firnbach and Bob Cramer doubled in succession to add one more.

Tex Stephenson singled in the ninth with two out and went to third on Prince's single. Manager Harold Webb put on the double-steal and it worked. Tom Jordan's throw to second was high and Prince was safe. Stephenson scored easily, getting credit for a steal at home with the fifth run.

Stephenson clouted four singles in five trips and Prince had three for four, including his homer. Firnbach and Cramer had two hits each.

Raschi, Roberts To Start Tuesday

CHICAGO —(AP)— The American League Monday ruled a strong 8-5 favorite to continue its dominance over the victory-starved Nationals in Tuesday's seventeenth renewal of baseball's All-Star Game.

The fact that Vic Raschi, veteran pitcher of the New York Yankees, will open up against inexperienced Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phils has no bearing on the one-sided odds.

The Americans probably would be favorites to win simply because they've made a career out of knocking the tail out of their inter-league rivals in the mid-Summer and World's Series classics. Ever since the mighty Babe Ruth blasted his two-run homer to give it a 4-2 victory in the first All-Star game 17 years ago the American League has had the upper hand and now leads 12 games to 4.

Game Still Popular
 Despite the big edge by one league, the game continues to maintain a strong hold on the public. A capacity Comiskey Park crowd of 49,000 will watch. Requests for more than 200,000 tickets were received.

Each team will use at least three hurlers. No pitcher is allowed to work more than three innings. Manager Burt Shotton of the Nationals is expected to follow Roberts (10-4) with his own Preacher Roe (10-4) and the New York Giants' Larry Jansen (9-5). Roe, the bellwether of the Brooklyn staff, is the only southpaw.

Casey Stengel, the American League's leader, may send a Yankee, Tommy Byrne, (9-3) in the middle three innings and close with Chicago's Ray Scarborough (8-8). If the other pitchers are needed they will come from among Warren Spahn, Boston and Don Newcombe, Brooklyn, of the National and Allie Reynolds, New York; Bob Feller, Cleveland and Ted Gray, Detroit, of the American. The rest—Bob Rush, Cubs; Ewell Blackwell, Cincinnati; Jim Konstanty, Phils; Bob Lemon, Cleveland and Art Houtteman, Detroit, were used Sunday.

Player Obtained On Waiver May Be Fire Dallas Eagles Need

DALLAS —(AP)— Old Man Dick Burnett, to whom $2,000 is just pin money, made one of his best, if not the best, investments of his tenure in baseball a week ago.

He bought a young fellow named Jim Halkard at the Texas League waiver price from Shreveport. Burnett needed more punch and flashier fielding at first base.

Halkard, who was a jack-of-all trades at Shreveport and got nowhere fast, made an auspicious start with Dallas. He went in as a pinch-hitter and clubbed a home run.

He stepped in as a regular with the Eagles last Tuesday and got three hits in seven appearances against Tulsa in a doubleheader. Then he started paying Burnett back the $2,000. Friday night against Fort Worth he hit a homer for the winning margin. Saturday night he batted in three runs as Dallas beat Tulsa 4-0.

Crowds Increase
 There were 11,792 fans in the stands here the past two nights with 6,233 turning out the first night. It was an unbelievable attendance for a Saturday night.

Halkard was a major reason. Not only has he been knocking the cover off the ball but he has been sensational at fielding. He got an unassisted double play against Tulsa that was a dilly. He also turned in a gem of a fielding play against Tulsa Sunday night and walked four times in five trips to the plate.

"He's the spark Dallas has been needing," the fans kept saying as they watched the 25-year-old who has been in professional ball seven seasons.

Ike Williams To Meet Costner Monday

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— When Lightweight Champion Ike Williams enters the ring Monday night to battle George (Sugar) Costner he'll have one target in mind: a crack at the welterweight crown now worn by Sugar Ray Robinson. Williams long has yearned for a chance to move up in the ranks and challenge the formidable Robinson. He's hoping that a good showing over Costner—preferably by the knockout route—will grease the way. Robinson recently shellacked Costner and Williams wants to show he can do it too.

Williams isn't worried about whipping Costner in their 10-round fight. "That'll be easy," says Williams. But Costner, a Camden, N. J., negro, thinks the king of the 135 pounders is being just a wee bit optimistic.

Costner, insisting he'll win, has been quoted as saying he'll knock Williams. But that's a bet very few, if any, of the experts are willing to wager on.

Five Negroes Killed In Crossing Accident

DENMARK, S. C.—(AP)—Five negroes were killed when a Seaboard Airline train demolished their car on a railroad crossing near here Sunday.

An eyewitness said the north-bound passenger train slammed into the car, which apparently had stalled on the tracks. Three men in the car were dead when officers arrived. Another man and his 13-year-old daughter died shortly afterwards.

Sergeant's Wife To Search Island For Missing Mate

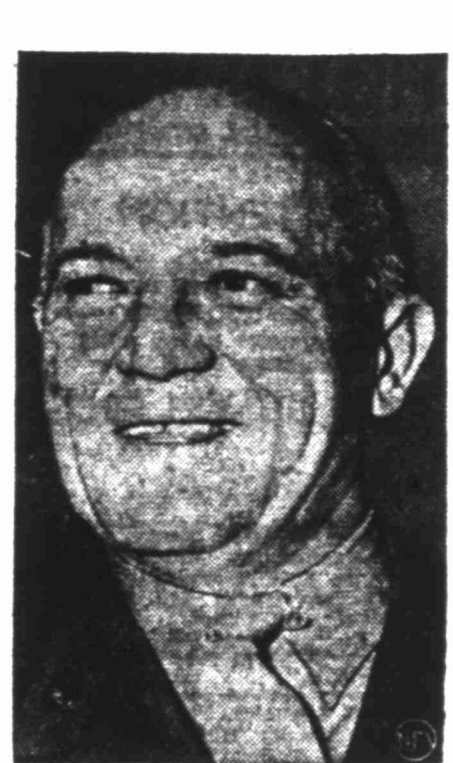

PORT WORTH —(AP)— A Fort Worth Air Force sergeant's wife has started to lonely Princess Royal Island off British Columbia in search of her husband who has been declared dead.

Mrs. Neal A. Straley, accompanied by Mack F. Phillips, Garber, Okla., father of another B-36 crewman, set out in a 40-foot fishing ketch from Prince Rupert, B. C., Sunday. Phillips' son, Capt. William M. Phillips, 29, also has been declared dead.

Three other crewmen were lost and 12 were rescued in the Queen Charlotte Island group last February after the crash of a B-36. The crew, enroute to Port Worth from Alaska, bailed out of the plane when it caught fire.

The searchers made arrangements with the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce for the ketch, captained by George Fritz, and a pair of Indian guides. The search will continue for at least 10 days.

Mrs. Straley and Phillips left Port Worth Wednesday night by air for Prince Rupert.

ARMS AID LEADER—

Maj. Gen. Graves B. Erskine, above, former commander of the First Marine Division, heads the military team on a special U. S. survey group enroute to East Asia to determine priorities for arms aid to Indo-China, the Philippines, Indonesia, Malaya, Burma and Thailand. The group, charged with "accelerating" military aid to the Red-menaced countries, is made up of representatives of the State and Defense Departments and Economic Cooperation Administration.

Texas Gunner Is New Contender For 'First Yak' Honor

AN AMERICAN AIR BASE IN JAPAN—(AP)—Members of a B-26 bomb group stationed here claim S/Sgt. Nile S. Mickley of Houston, Texas, shot down the first North Korean plane of the war.

Just last week another member of the squadron, Sgt. William F. Smith of New Bloomfield, Mo., was credited with getting the first Red Korean plane on June 30. But Monday, squadron members said Mickley was in the gun turret of a B-26 over Korea on June 28 when Yak-3 planes came up from behind. One Yak poured four rockets at the flight of three American bombers.

Mickley and the other two gunners fired back. As the Houston gunner fired a heavy burst the Russian-made plane went down. His bag was confirmed by his pilot, Capt. Dale P. Simpson of Sweetwater, Texas, and another gunner, Sgt. William F. Keyes of Brighton, Mass.

Ezio Pinza And Wife Expect Third Baby

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)—Ezio Pinza, 58, and his wife, Doris, are expecting a third child in December.

The celebrated basso, here for his first movie role, made the disclosure Sunday. Only last September Pinza became a grandfather when his daughter by a previous marriage, Claudia, gave birth to a boy.

Pinza and his wife, the former Doris Leak, were married in November, 1940. Their two other children are Ciella, eight, and Peter, six.

Quick Thinking By Two Buddies Saves U. S. Airman's Life

AN AMERICAN AIR BASE IN JAPAN—(AP)—Capt. Richard J. Andrews of Leominster, Mass., is alive Monday because of the skill and quick thinking of two buddies.

Capt. Dale P. Simpson of Sweetwater, Texas, and S/Sgt. Dayan O. Adsit of Westport, N. Y., Four days ago the three took their B-26 bomber on a low level bombing and strafing mission south of Suwon.

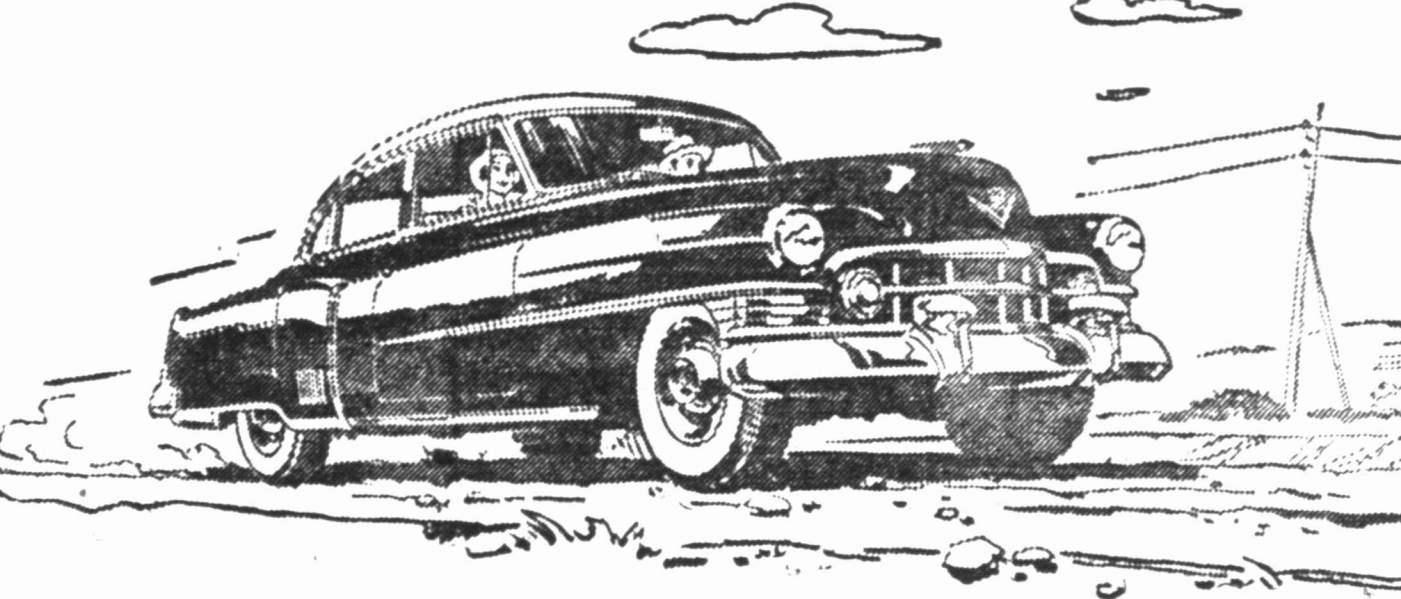

A shell ripped through the cockpit. It smashed the jaw and severed the jugular vein of navigator Andrews. Glass and shell fragments pierced Simpson's hands.

Simpson thrust a first aid compress against Andrews' throat, meanwhile flying the plane. He called gunner Adsit to help. While Adsit held the compress, Simpson dropped bombs and rockets on the target and headed full speed for home.

At their base, doctors said Andrews was in "amazingly good condition."

Next Best Thing to a New Road!

YOU must understand, of course, that nothing in the world can take the place of a beautiful ribbon of improved highway——stretching so enticingly out into the open country, and all but beseeching you to come for a ride!
 But under the happiest auspices, you will have to do much of your driving, for years to come, down roads and highways that leave something to be desired——and how lucky you'll be if you ride them out in a 1950 Cadillac!
 In recent years, Cadillac has carried out a tremendous program of research and improvement to achieve a finer "rough-road" ride. The development work has covered steering, springs, shock absorbers, frame, wheels, tires, shackles—and all the attendant engineering problems involved.

 In the 1950 Cadillacs, this program has come to full fruition—and the results are simply a revelation.
 First, you get wonderful balance. The car "stays put"—and you have a reassuring feeling of stability, even when the going's uncommonly rough.
 And your ride is amazingly level. You "float" over the bumps and the depressions, ever so gently. Ordinary shocks are simply absorbed.
 And, of course, the remarkable quietness, of both body and chassis, shows up most dramatically on the roughest roads. For quality tells its finest story when the pressure is greatest.

 Yes, there can be no question that a 1950 Cadillac is the next best thing to a new road!
 But, of course, comfort is only one of Cadillac's superlative virtues.
 It's Cadillac for beauty, too—and for safety, and performance, and long life, and economy. And, above all, for prestige. In fact, it's Cadillac for everything that makes a motor car a joy to possess and a pleasure to drive.
 Why not get acquainted with this wonderful car? We'd be happy to see you any time.

Protestant Church Notables From 44 Countries Assemble

TORONTO, CANADA — (AP) — Ninety men and women from 44 countries met in a high-ceiling room on the elm-shaded University of Toronto campus Sunday in a scene reminiscent of the United Nations General Assembly. They composed the Central Committee of the World Council of Churches, founded at Amsterdam in 1948. The 90 members represent about 160,000,000 church members of all major Christian confessions except Roman Catholicism. The committee, empowered to act for the council's assembly, is studying religious liberty and other world-wide religious problems. The assembly meets every five years. In the chair sat the Rt. Rev. Kennedy Allen Bell, lord bishop of Chichester, England. Earlier he gravely had told the delegates that the Korean war "forms the tragic background of our meeting and calls us all to prayer and thought and action." Beside the bishop was the general secretary of the world council, Dr. W. A. Visser 't Hooft of Geneva, Switzerland. In his report to the committee Sunday night Dr. Visser 't Hooft declared the council must use "all possible opportunities" to keep in touch with Christians in Soviet-dominated lands. There is danger, he said, that they will be forgotten "gradually at the moment when they are in the midst of their great spiritual battles."

Voluminous Reports Before it adjourns on Saturday, the committee will discuss and act on voluminous preliminary reports. Its agenda includes minority church rights in countries dominated by a single state - recognized religious group, racial discrimination, and Christian judgments on existing political and social systems. These are some of the delegates, who include 32 representatives from the United States and Canada: Bishop Otto Dibelius of the Evangelical Church in Germany, whose diocese extends through both east and west zones. Bishop Leonardo Diaz Granada of the United Church of Christ, Visayas area, Philippine Islands, a leader in the move to unite the United Evangelical Church with other evangelical bodies in the Philippines. Pastor Martin Niemoeller, president of the Evangelical Church in Hesse and Nassau, Germany, who was a U-boat commander in World War I and recently attracted wide attention for his statement on behalf of German unity. Dr. Marc Boegner of Paris, a leader of the Reformed Church and one of the six presidents of the World Council. Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of the New York area, one of the World Council presidents. Dr. Franklin C. Meyer of New York, president of the United Lutheran Church in America, largest Lutheran body in the U. S. and Canada. Archbishop Germanos of the Greek Orthodox Church, ecumenical patriarchate of Constantinople to the archbishop of Canterbury.

Switchmen Return To Jobs Under U. S. Court Order

CHICAGO — (AP) — The 1,500 switchmen who had been ordered to return to work by a federal court order last week, resumed their strike against the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad have bowed to a court order and returned to work. Arthur J. Glover, president of the AFL Switchmen's Union of North America, told the men late Saturday night that in view of the court order "we have no choice now." The order with which Glover quickly complied was a temporary injunction issued by Federal Judge John Knight in Buffalo, N. Y., headquarters city for the union. It came only a few hours after the Army had seized the 8,000-mile line under order of President Truman. Passenger trains began moving over the line Sunday, the first since the strike began two weeks ago. Freight service was expected to be resumed in a day or two. Glover made it clear his back to work order was issued under protest and that it does not mean the union's dispute with the railroad is at an end. A hearing on whether Judge Knight's temporary injunction shall be extended or made permanent has been set for July 17 in Buffalo. Glover said he would be at the hearing.
