NW Upton Wildcat
Gets More Shows
In Deep Section

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company and Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 G. R. Davis, Northwest Upton County wildcat, six and one-half miles southwest of the Pegasus field developed interesting shows of oil and gas in a drillstem test in the Ellenburger at 13,138-203 feet.

The tool was open one hour and 45 minutes. There was a good blow of air at the surface during the first hour of the investigation and a good show of gas for the last 45 minutes of the period.

After seven stands of drillpipe had been pulled there was free gas in the remainder of the string down to the fluid.

No Water

Fluid recovery was the 2,580 foot water blanket, which was cut with oil and gas and 400 feet of oil and gas cut drilling mud. There were no signs of formation water.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was from 1,203 to 1,222 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure, after 15 minutes, was 3,568 pounds.

Operators are preparing to core ahead, using a diamond bit.

This prospector topped the Ellenburger at 13,105 feet, which is on a datum of minus 10,241 feet. Drillstem tests from 13,100 to 13,171 feet had developed a little show of oil and gas, but not as much indication of possible production as was shown in the test at 13,138-203 feet.

Interested observers think that the latest test had a very strong show for commercial production.

Location is 680 feet from north and east lines of section 20, block 41, T-5-S.

Two Offsets Staked To Stonewall Opener

Two offsets to Roark, Hooker & A. O. Hill No. 1 C. L. Williams, recently completed conglomerate discovery in Northeast Stonewall County, have been scheduled by offset operators.

American Trading and Production Corporation will drill west-northwest offset, and Skelly Oil Company is staking a southeast offset to the discovery.

Both operators are delaying announcement of official drilldates until a more accurate survey of the area is made.

The American Trading venture possibly will be the No. 1 J. W. Simpson, located 467 feet from south and east lines of William Wade survey, Abstract 1114.

The Skelly offset presumably will be the No. 1 C. Hamilton, located 467 feet from north and east lines of A. Reed survey, Abstract 1106.

The Roark and others discovery was completed for 964.5 barrels of 40.3-gravity oil daily from an open hole section at 5,806-874 feet.

C-W Reagan Slated For Deep Wildcat

The Atlantic Refining Company is to begin operations by August 15, on a proposed 12,500-foot Ellenburger wildcat in Central-West Reagan County, two and one-half miles northeast of production in the Benedum multiphase field.

The test will be the No. 1 S. A. Hartgrove, located 660 feet from south and west lines of section 12, block H, L&SVRR survey.

Location has been staked and road is now being built to the well site.

Farmout Agreement

The S. A. Hartgrove lease on section 12 is owned by American Trading and Production Corporation, which has entered into a farmout agreement with Atlantic for the drilling of this deep test. Atlantic is obligated to drill and complete the proposed test at its own expense.

If production is established, American Trading will own one-half of the production. Also all development thereafter in that section will be for the joint account of Atlantic and American Trading on a 50-50 basis, with Atlantic acting as operator.

Atlantic also holds leases for its own account amounting to approximately 5,100 acres surrounding section 12.

Stanolind Takes Part Of SE Andrews Block

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company has acquired a one-half interest in approximately 21,000 acres of undeveloped acreage in Southeast Andrews County from Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation.

Consideration paid by Stanolind for the interest in the acreage has not been reported.

The properties are adjacent to the Midland Farms field which produces from the Grayburg lime of the Permian. There is no production on any of the acreage involved in the Stanolind and Anderson-Prichard deal.

Fasken Ranch Property

All of the acreage is in the Midland Farms ranch property which is owned by the Fasken interest of Martin County, California.

The lease is divided into eight drilling blocks. In acquiring the acreage for oil and gas development purposes Anderson-Prichard agreed to start a wildcat test on each of the eight blocks to go to around 5,000 feet to explore the San Andres, by or before March 21, 1951.

Truman Calls Upon Nation To Sacrifice

WASHINGTON—(P)—President Truman Wednesday summoned the nation to "some sacrifice" of its civilian plenty. He declared himself ready to call for "complete economic mobilization" if the defense of freedom requires.

Truman told Congress, in his midyear economic message, that price ceilings, rationing and "serious shortages" can be avoided if Congress quickly gives him limited control powers and a $5,000,000,000 tax increase.

But he warned: "We must realize that the engagement in Korea will be costly and may not be short. We must prepare against the possibility that new crises may arise elsewhere."

That hazard means, the President said, that industrial output must be stepped up—possibly by a rate of $10,000,000,000 annually before January 1—and that basic industry itself must be expanded by federal loans and guarantees.

"We cannot afford longer to risk the possibility of future desperate shortages of some of the most essential requirements for our national security," Truman said.

Must Avoid Hoarding

Safety from further Communist aggression depends, Truman said, on "production and more production," and safety from inflation depends on business and consumers alike refraining from "hoarding and avarice."

The message asked no emergency powers beyond those requested a week ago—to control credit, allocate scarce materials, limit civilian output, requisition goods, curb commodity speculation, and help finance industry's expansion for war.

It added new pressure on Congress to grant those powers, however, and its keynote was speed—

Boy Who Asked Aid For Pal Now Needs Medical Assistance

Remember Dennis Polson of Stanton?

Dennis is one of the little boys who last Christmas wrote a letter to Santa Claus, in care of The Reporter-Telegram, asking nothing for himself, but urging St. Nick to "please bring our little friend, Ronnie Dean of Stanton, enough money to have an operation on his throat."

The letter was published in The Reporter-Telegram and things began to happen. A kind Midland physician at the Western Clinic Hospital volunteered to handle Ronnie's case for free, and treatments were started immediately.

Today, Ronnie is well on the road to perfect health. Other residents of Midland, Stanton and other points contributed generously to help Ronnie back to health and happiness.

It all happened as a result of a letter to Santa Claus from Dennis, Jerry, Judy and Donnie Polson.

Dennis in Hospital

But back to Dennis Polson... Dennis now is at Western Clinic Hospital here with a broken hip, and will have to be there for an indefinite period.

"Don't you think that a good deed should be returned at a time like this?" writes "a neighbor" at Stanton. "I am sending five dollars to help in paying some of his bills, and he needs it."

Yes, it is time for a visit from Santa Claus to Dennis Polson in late July.

The Stanton neighbor is a real Santa Claus helper.

The Reporter-Telegram will be glad to receive gifts for Dennis Polson, turning them over to the Stanton boy daily.

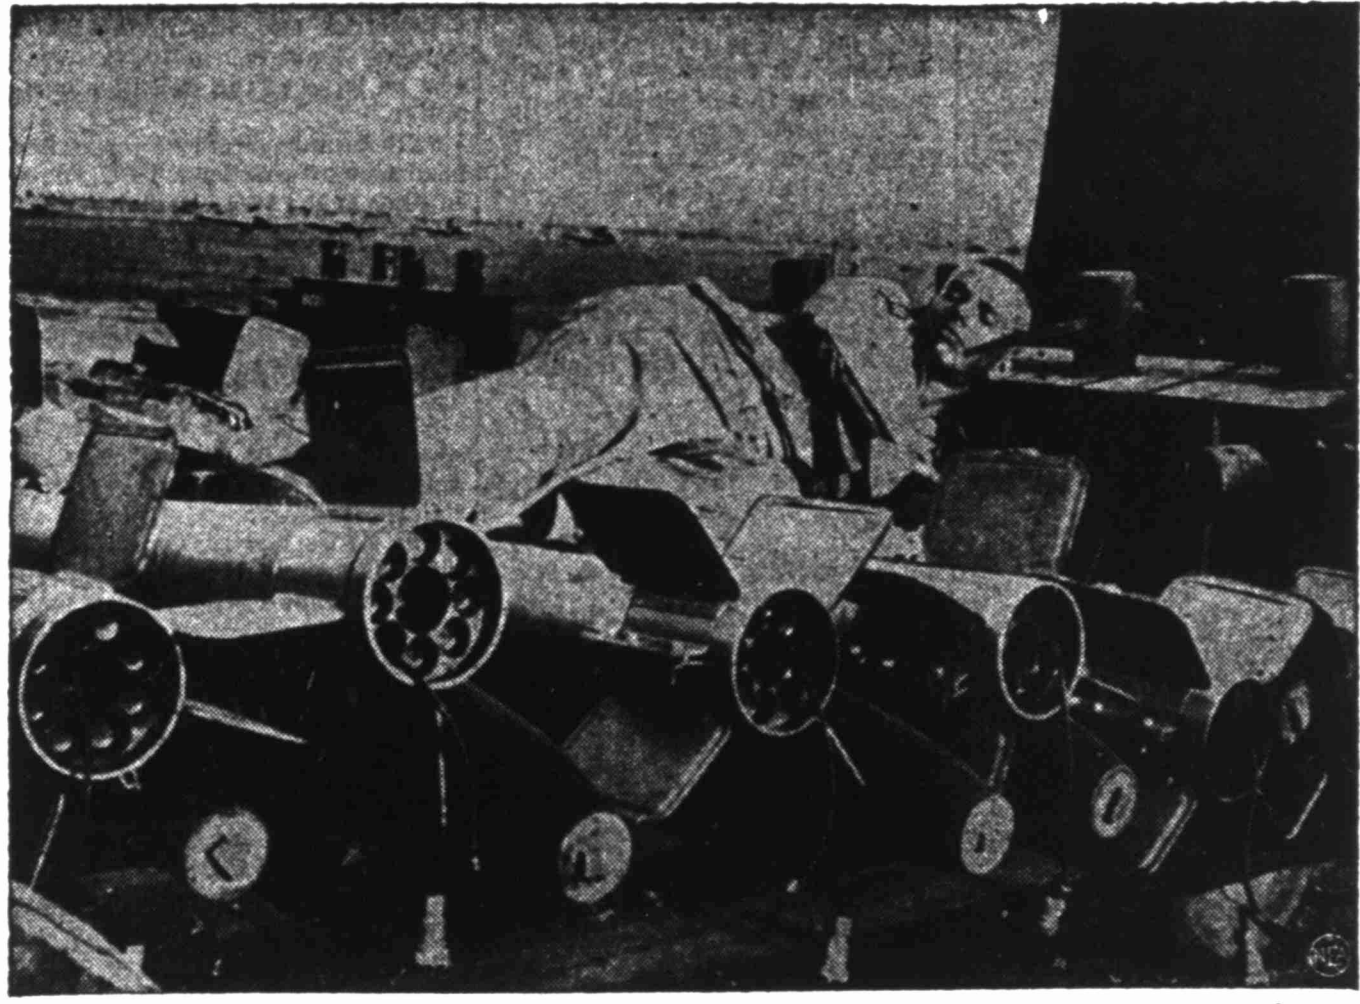

Yes, Santa Claus still is around—even in mid-Summer.

Angelo Man Kills Self, Young Son

SAN ANGELO—(P)—James Anderson Chapman, 46, wounded his seven-year-old son fatally and shot himself to death Tuesday.

Chapman had been charged with larceny by his wife. She told officers he had threatened to kill her. Chapman threatened officers who investigated the charge.

Police said Chapman shot his son, Dalton, in the head as he lay sleeping. The child died early Wednesday. Justice of Peace Tom Gasaway returned a verdict of suicide in Chapman's death.

President Asks 'Quickie' Tax Boost; Solons Would Add Excess Profits Levy

WASHINGTON—(P)—President Truman's call for $5,000,000,000 in new taxes got a unenthusiastic reception in Capitol Hill Wednesday—not because of the amount asked to fight Communist aggression, but because of the tax methods the President proposed.

The "quickie" increase, if approved by Congress, would raise the annual take from individual incomes by an estimated $3,000,000,000 to about $21,900,000,000—higher than the wartime peak of $20,300,000,000 reached in 1944. Individual taxes would be boosted, beginning in October, by as much as 20 per cent.

A man with a wife and two children who earns $3,000 (after deductions but before family exemptions) now pays Uncle Sam $100. This would be jumped to $120; if his earnings were $4,000, the boost would be from $266 to $320; the $10,000 man would fork over $1,592 instead of $1,361 as at present.

First Installment Only

Truman asked that the increases be made effective on all of this year's corporation income, and on three months of this year's income of individuals. He said "speed is of the essence." His proposals were embodied Tuesday in a letter to Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Finance Committee.

And he told George this was only the first installment of new taxes—that a call for another boost might be expected, perhaps in January.

Lawmakers raised no argument on the size of the President's request. They are ready to raise taxes, but many objected to:

1. Retroactive taxation on corporations.
2. The absence of any excess profit (Continued On Page Nine)

City Park-School Grounds Merger Proposal Aired

A proposal that the grounds at Midland's various public schools be incorporated into the municipal park system was considered by the City Council at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

The proposition was advanced several weeks ago by trustees of the Midland Independent School District at a conference between city and school officials. Under the proposal the school system would make available to the city park system the grounds surrounding the various school buildings for use as parks and playgrounds, open to the public. The city would furnish water free of charge for beautifying the grounds, which would be maintained by the school system.

Recommendation

City Manager W. H. Oswald said the Park Advisory Commission had recommended adoption of the proposal.

The council members indicated interest in the proposal, but requested more specific information on the matter before taking action.

W. F. Heil, mayor pro tem, presided at the meeting in the absence of Mayor William B. Neely. Councilman H. E. Chiles also was absent.

'Peace Or Butter'—Elder Statesman Asks Quick Freeze On Prices, Wages

WASHINGTON—(P)—Elder statesman Bernard Baruch Wednesday called for all-out economic mobilization of the United States with a quick freeze on prices, wages and rents.

"Events have left us no choice," he said. "We have to mobilize."

Baruch, the government's mobilization advisor in two world wars, urged quick action in testimony prepared for the Senate Banking Committee.

The senators are weighing a bill to give President Truman limited wartime controls in the present emergency. These would not include price controls of any kind.

Baruch's recommendations included—but went far beyond—the President's requests. In his statement, Baruch referred to his former calls for economic mobilization. These led to differences between him and President Truman. Baruch has taken the position the President was not doing enough for preparedness.

'Every Man, Every Dollar'

"Our aim should be to organize the nation so that every factory and farm, every man, every dollar, every bit of material can be put to use where it will strengthen our defenses and fill the most essential needs first," Baruch told the committee.

"I propose that we organize ourselves—all our resources of men, money, materials and morale—so that whatever happens—new aggressions abroad, possible destruction at home—whatever happens, the armed forces can get what they need, when they need it, with the least necessary dislocation of the civilians."

Baruch said America has the choice of "peace or butter" and the real danger is not government control but military defeat abroad and inflation at home.

He told the senators the current bill does not go far enough.

Food Prices Climb Near Two-Year High

NEW YORK—(P)—The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index this week climbed to $6.49, eight cents above a week ago, and the highest level since early October of 1948.

The index has gained almost nine per cent since the Korean war began one month ago.

Red Legions Tighten Arc About Pusan

TOKYO—(P)—Outnumbered American and South Korean troops clung stubbornly to defense positions Wednesday in the face of "heavy pressure" along all fronts, General MacArthur's headquarters said Thursday.

A field report indicated the embattled defenders may have recaptured Hadong, only 70 miles by air west of the major American supply port of Pusan, after furious air strikes left the city ablaze.

Headquarters of the United Nations commander in Tokyo, in a release issued at 12:50 a.m. Thursday, said the First Cavalry Division had repulsed a number of North Korean attacks on the Yongdong front in the center of the defense lines. The Reds hurled waves of tanks and infantry in an effort to overwhelm the defenders.

The Fourth North Korean Division was reported continuing its virulent flanking move along Korea's west coast, while the Communist Fifth Division was "heavily engaged" on the east coast, somewhere south of Yongdok.

Fresh Enemy Forces

Fresh enemy forces—of undetermined size—were spotted by American pilots pushing south along the east coast from Samchok, 70 miles north of Yongdok, to back up the Red offensive on the extreme right wing of the line. The battle was within 25 miles of the American beachhead and supply port of Pohang, where the First Cavalry Division landed one week ago.

Headquarters said "no alarm was felt" over the flanking move of the enemy down Korea's west coast because of the small number of troops involved.

However, north and east of Yongdong where First Cavalry Division lines are under heavy pressure, the Reds were streaming through mountainous passes at Yongsan, Chong-san and Ponghwang Mountain. These were eight, 12 and 23 air miles respectively north and east of Yongdok.

The four-day battle in which the Reds won Yongdok earlier this week was the largest ground battle of the campaign thus far, with overwhelming pressure placed on four game new U. S. regiments strung along a 25 mile front.

Space Runs Out For UN Battle Team

By LEIF ERICKSON

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN KOREA—(P)—The ruddy American optimism of one week ago was sorely misplaced.

United Nations forces are running out of space to yield in their battle for time.

Quick American reinforcement is vital.

Optimism was high a week ago. Two fresh U. S. divisions were moving up to the front. There was talk of even firm plans—for an American attack.

But the overwhelming masses of Red troops kept shoving into the vital rail and highway corridor that runs from Taejon southeast to Pusan, the main U. S. supply port.

Costly Retreat

Red tanks and massed infantry forced the U. S. 24th Division to make a costly retreat from Taejon. Tuesday the Communists, still driving deeper down the corridor, hammered the U. S. First Cavalry Division out of Yongdok.

Meanwhile a Red scythe has made a lightning swing down the Yellow Sea coast and across Southwestern Korea. It has mowed down meager South Korean opposition. This sweep threatens to envelop the supply lines running from Pusan northward to the front.

The Reds—with tank support—still come on in vastly superior numbers despite tremendous losses.

Almost certainly the next battle in the Taejon-Pusan corridor will be another delaying action—with another eventual withdrawal.

Election Expense Averages 29 1-2 Cents Per Vote

The cost of holding last Saturday's Democratic primary totaled $1,199,400 or 29 1/2 cents per vote, Louis A. Bartha, Midland County Democratic Executive Committee chairman, said Wednesday. The election expense set a new record, as did the number of votes cast—4,064.

The candidates for the various county and precinct offices were assessed a total of $1,966 to defray expenses of the July and August primaries, and Bartha said no refunds to the candidates are in prospect.

The chairman said that by cutting corners, he believes expenses of the August 26 election can be held to within the $750.00 remaining in the special fund.

Survivor Describes New Red Atrocities

AN ADVANCE AIR BASE IN KOREA—(P)—A tall young tank corporal said Wednesday North Koreans forced him and two other bound American prisoners to lie face down under a tree and then machine-gunned them.

"I was the only one to escape alive," grimly said the corporal, a 21-year-old Irishman from the Bronx, N. Y. "A flight of our fighter planes frightened them off before they found out I wasn't dead."

The slender, brown-haired gunner, suffering from three bullet wounds in his left shoulder, told his story as he lay on a cot here awaiting evacuation by air to a hospital in Japan. His wrists were infected where field wire fetters had cut into the flesh.

His name was withheld. He said five American light tanks going up a road seven miles north of Yongdok Monday ran into a force of 800 guerrillas. A shell hit the gas tank of his vehicle and the crew abandoned it.

"I stayed behind long enough to put a thermite bomb into the breach of our gun and destroy it," he said. "Then I jumped into the ditch where the other four men in our crew were lying."

"The Reds came down the ditch from both ends with automatic weapons. They killed our driver. The assistant driver disappeared... I don't know what happened to him. The three of us left had to surrender."

Rainfall Totals .39 Inch In Midland

Showers which had been threatening to fall for a week finally came early Wednesday in Midland and vicinity.

The City Barn reported .38 inch recorded there and the GAA Office at Midland Air Terminal had .22 inch.

Stanton received more than a half-inch Monday and the area to the south of Midland got some precipitation Tuesday.

Sprinkles have fallen in Midland every day this week and almost every day last week but Wednesday's rain was the first in any measurable amount.

City Council Hears 'Kicks' At Overpass

Objections to the erection of an overpass at the Big Spring Street railroad crossing were voiced by several property owners in that vicinity at a meeting of the City Council Tuesday night.

L. C. Stephenson, Roy McKee and the Rev. F. W. Rogers, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, spoke against plans for an overpass, but said they would not object to an underpass on Big Spring Street.

The Commissioners Court Monday afternoon called a $1,000,000 bond election for September 9, with some of the funds, if voted, to be used for the construction of a Big Spring Street grade separation. The State Highway Department and the T&P Railway also would participate in the project.

Plans Indefinite

The visitors were told that it cannot be determined whether an underpass or an overpass will be constructed until after the bond money has been made available and the State Highway Department has completed engineering plans for the proposed project. The Highway Department, it was pointed out, will not complete its engineering work on the grade separation until after the bond issue is approved by the voters. Members of the council said drainage, right-of-way and other matters are involved.

The three speakers said an overpass would damage their property much more than would an underpass. Previous engineering estimates (Continued On Page Nine)

Hearing On Final Street Paving Units Ordered August 15

Members of the City Council, meeting Tuesday night, ordered a hearing to be held at 7:30 p.m., August 15 in the council chamber in the City Hall, on the proposed improvement of streets included in the C and D paving groups.

The purpose of the hearing will be to determine whether abutting property will be increased in value at least to the extent of the cost of paving.

Brown and Root, Inc., of Houston recently was awarded a contract for the paving project, which will conclude the city's current 500-block paving program.

The council also adopted an ordinance rescinding action of several cross streets previously ordered improved in the C and D groups.

Another ordinance amending the procedure in submitting plans for council approval was adopted on second and final reading.

ANKARA, TURKEY —(AP)— Turkey has offered 4,500 fully armed troops to fight the Communists in Korea.

Officials said these men would not be a token force, but a trained, hard-hitting military unit. They would be equipped with American arms received under the current U. S. military aid program.

When Is Fellow Called Young? Bob Would Like The Answer

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—In a town where skeletons, elevator shoes, body padding, undeclared husbands and a lot of other weird miscellany clutter closets, Robert Young is the only star with a ghost who snickers at his sex appeal.

It's the ectoplasmic heckler around the Young manse that keeps him from casually unbuttoning his shirt like Alan Ladd or stalking crowded rooms like Erlo Pinza.

"All right, so I'm not a Clark Gable," Bob goes around muttering.

The ghost drifted through his keyhole during his MGM days, Bob thinks.

That's when a producer—"a B-picture version of a producer," snarls the haunted star—told him that he had lots of talent but "no male oomph or wham."

"It loused me up for a long time," Bob sighs. "It bothered me. But I didn't do anything about it. Then I began to study this sex appeal thing. I found out that most of the hoo and cry is raised about guys who look like they couldn't fight their way out of a paper sack. After that I stopped worrying."

"If I posed bare-chested with the wind in my hair," he says, "the laughter wouldn't stop for six months."

He's never been able to figure out why, if he's the type who can't heat up the cold popcorn rattling around in paper bags, people are always getting him confused with Robert Montgomery and Robert Taylor.

Bob (Sey) Triplets

The Bob named Young has a couple of million stories about being mistaken for the Bobs named Montgomery and Taylor.

One that he's tried to forget happened 15 years ago when Frank Whitbeck, Metro's advertising genius, took over the microphone for the first time at the premiere of a big studio epic.

"Premieres bore me stiff, but I told Frank I'd be there," Bob recalls. "The poor guy was dying for fear that Norma Shearer's car wouldn't drive up at the stroke of 8:30. So I agreed to stand on the platform behind him. Came broadcast time and Frank started off, 'Ladies and gentlemen, you've seen him many times on the screen, you remember his performances in dozens of pictures, he's always great, one of our top stars—this went on and on, it sounded like he was talking about Lincoln—and now I give you your friend and mine, Robert MONTGOMERY!"

A silence like primordial dusk came over the spectators, Bob tells it, and Whitbeck, realizing his mistake, rushed back to the mike, apologized and said:

"Of course, I meant Robert TAYLOR!"

Bob shudders: "Whitbeck looked at me, gulped and assumed the expression of a man who is about to sit down in the electric chair."

A few weeks ago, Bob and Jane Wyman flew to Kansas City to give the Hollywood touch to the city's 100th anniversary and to sound the "Movies Are Better Than Ever" theme.

Mayor Kemp addressed a huge rally at the close of the celebration, thanked all the committee members, then said:

"And most of all, ladies and gentlemen, I want to thank Miss Jane Wyman and Mr. Robert Montgomery!"

Bob says that 25,000 lips and tongues emitted the loudest Bronx cheer ever heard. "Poor Mayor Kemp. He saw 25,000 votes go down the drain."

Morgan Manner

Autograph hunters usually count on the Robert Young crowd, and even a cheerful smile after they've torn the shirt off his back.

That's because Bob always keeps in mind the late Frank Morgan's sage advice to stars:

"Show 'em a lot of teeth and hair."

Bob has a financial interest in a picture in which he co-starred with Betsy Drake, but he isn't sure of the title—"they threatened to call it 'Her Sin' but I balked."

It's a long way from his days as a Pasadena Playhouse eager-beaver and his first screen click with Helen Hayes in "The Sin of Madelon Claudet."

"I saw a re-issue of it recently," he laughs. "The audience howled. My neck was sticking way out of my collar, my hands were dangling out my sleeves. I looked just like Roddy McDowell."

Patrolmen filed 3,390 speeding charges during the month, Patrol Chief Walter J. Elliott said.

TEXAN SUFFOCATES UNDER COTTONSEED HULLS

QUANAH, TEXAS —(AP)— Harry H. Duckworth, 61, suffocated Tuesday night when buried under eight feet of cottonseed hulls.

Rescuers showed 26 minutes before they could reach Duckworth, trapped by the cotton seed as it flowed into a mill seed house where he was working.

The couple, former Corsicana residents, returned immediately to Pampa, where they will live.

Hugh Reynolds Given Gift Party Friday

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Reynolds, who were married recently in San Angelo, were honored with a gift party Friday night. Mrs. Haden Conine was hostess in the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fares Reynolds.

A blue and yellow theme was used throughout the decorations and an arrangement of blue and yellow daisies was on the coffee table.

About 25 guests attended. The men were entertained with 42 games in the yard while the women played games in the house.

All eclipses repeat themselves after a period of approximately 18 years and 12 days. This period of time is known as the "Saros."

Mr. Seymour Marks, 1229 Morrison St., thinks his son Gregory is the finest little boy in St. Louis, Missouri, and he isn't a bit ashamed to admit it. He also says he used to be cross, irritable and nervous, but HADACOL put a stop to all that when he found he was suffering from a lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron.

Mr. Marks was mighty proud to make the following statement: "Before I began taking HADACOL there was many a night that I lay awake. I just couldn't get any sleep. Food didn't agree with me and my stomach gave me all sorts of trouble. I took only two bottles of HADACOL before I was feeling much better. Now I am in the best of condition and have only HADACOL to thank. One of my cousins told me about HADACOL and I have told many more people about the fine results I have had from HADACOL."

You, Too Will Be Amazed

at the wonderful results HADACOL can bring you, as it has to thousands and thousands of other fine folks who suffered a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin, and Iron, which HADACOL contains. HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ, and every part of your body—to the heart, liver, kidneys and lungs, even to the eyes, hair and nails.

Monroe Tells Plans For Midland Schools At Brotherhood Meet

Frank Monroe, superintendent of Midland public schools, presented plans and possibilities for the Midland public schools for the next few years in a talk to the First Baptist Brotherhood Tuesday at a luncheon in the Recreational Hall. Thurman Pylant presided over the luncheon in the absence of Wesley Martin, president, and Rusty Gifford led the group singing. Charles Mathews introduced Monroe.

The anticipated enrollment of the high school students for the negro school, is 80, which will double last year's enrollment, Monroe said. The new negro high school building will be complete for the Fall term. Although the school is not accredited it is hoped that it may become an accredited school this year. In addition to the regular academic studies plans are being made to offer homemaking, shop, lab science and business administration in the school. The new gymnasium will be a combination gym and auditorium and will be equipped with bleachers for 400 persons and a stage as well as playing courts for sports.

Monroe said school officials are expecting 900 students in Midland High School this year. The Junior high school was overcrowded with 950 students last year. Anticipating even greater numbers this year, plans have been made to keep the six grade students of South Elementary, North Elementary and the new elementary school, in those schools and have only students from West Elementary, Latin American and Terminal schools in sixth grades in the junior high building. This would make the enrollment approximately 850, according to Monroe.

School officials anticipate an increase in the number of students in the next two or three years that will necessitate two new elementary schools and one new junior high school. Of course, Monroe added, this is all uncertain and it isn't possible to know actually what will be needed.

People Want Truth About War

In any war, the problem of security inevitably leads to conflict between the military and the front-line correspondents...

This Korean war presents special difficulties. Officially it isn't a war, so there's no censorship.

Add to these factors the extremely confused and fluid fighting that has marked the war so far, and you have the ingredients for trouble.

Following this, his press relations officer banned two prominent news agency correspondents from the Korean front.

The officer conceded the factual truth of their dispatches but complained the stories "made the Army look bad" and "gave aid and comfort to the enemy."

But in the light of all the circumstances, the complaints seem unduly harsh. MacArthur appears to have had a just complaint, for instance, against the newsman who reported a "lost battalion" wiped out.

U. S. newsmen have gone to the Korean fighting front at risk of their lives to tell the American people what really is happening.

Admittedly front-line reporters see and hear only what is within their narrow range. They grasp isolated fragments of the full story.

Nevertheless the flesh and blood meaning of war can't be gained by people at home in any other way.

The communiques are necessary to provide the detached, rounded, calmer view of the fighting.

Sometimes the field reports, taken together, tell the overall story more quickly and realistically than do the guarded communiques.

Hard decisions and possibly heavy sacrifices lay ahead for the American people. They can act wisely only if they know all the truth that is compatible with genuine military security.

'Well, Well! American Deserters!'

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc. Drew Pearson says: Indian woman ambassador chides Secretary Acheson; Communist radio tells of U. S. imperialism in Korea; Army rebuffs French and Swedish newsmen.

WASHINGTON—The only woman ambassador in the Washington diplomatic corps is Madame Pandit Nehru, the sister of the prime minister of India.

Wearing the traditional white veil and flowing robes of India, Madame Nehru went to the State Department the other day to hand Secretary of State Acheson a note written by her prime minister brother.

"You forget, Mr. Acheson, that I served as ambassador to Russia," she shot back Madame Nehru. "I know the Russians well. And I think also you forget your geography. India has a border with Red Russia on one side and Red China on the other."

"But I am here pleading with you for your own good, Mr. Secretary. For the United States must not lose India. We can be and are your best friends, your best ambassadors in the East. You must not lose India, Indonesia, and Indonesia. Unless you show them a way to peace, however, you will."

Secretary Acheson agreed that the United States certainly could not afford to lose this vital part of the world, and promised a sympathetic study of the whole problem.

What most people in this country don't realize is that the Communist dog recalls a daily stream of propaganda into the villages of China, Northern Indo-China, and as much of the Orient as possible, telling how the imperialistic United States has invaded Korea.

And, since radio in the village square is the chief means of communicating with a large part of Asia, a lot of Orientals have come to believe this.

That's why it is so important to send Philippine Gen. Carlos Romulo, president of the UN Assembly, to Korea to show Asiatics that other Asiatics emphatically are behind the United States.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Twenty thousand men are walking the streets of London," runs the old saying, "homeless and penniless—because they failed to lead trumps." If you're inclined to pity these poor unfortunates, shed a tear at the same time for the equally miserable thousands who drew trumps when they shouldn't have.

West opened the king of spades and continued the suit, South ruffing the second round with the ten of hearts. Now if South tried to draw trumps he would have to use up all of his trumps to draw those held by West; He would then be able to cash his top cards in the minor suits.

Bridge hand diagram showing cards in each hand and a dealer's position.

trumps and his four top cards in the minors, for a one-trick set.

After ruffing the second spade, South decided to set up the dummy and draw trumps from the North hand. With this object in mind he led the eight of hearts to dummy's nine, and ruffed a third spade with the jack of hearts.

By this time East had failed to follow suit in both spades and hearts. It was therefore clear that West had begun with five spades and four hearts. At this point, West held one spade, two hearts, and his original four cards in the minor suits.

If South made the mistake of leading clubs first, he would make only one diamond trick. West would ruff the second diamond and lead the queen of clubs. This would limit declarer to nine tricks.

South could not tell that West held a singleton diamond. However, it was important for South to begin the minor suit in which West was short. Since declarer could see eight diamonds in the combined hands and only five clubs, he quite properly decided that West was more likely to be short in diamonds than in clubs.

Acting on this assumption, South cashed the ace of diamonds and led a low diamond towards dummy. West was helpless to defeat the contract after this play. If he discarded, dummy would take the king of diamonds and declarer would then cash his two clubs and a trump, fulfilling his contract.

If West ruffed the low diamond, dummy would play low. West could next cash his spade, but would then have to lead a trump or a club. In either case, dummy could take the king of clubs and the king of hearts, thus drawing the last trump. It would then be safe to cash the king of diamonds, and South's ace of clubs would take the tenth trick.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

President's Defense Program Requires Some Clarification

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON—Everyone in Washington is running around somewhat frantically trying to figure out in specific terms just what President Truman's new defense program means to him or his business.

Operating heads of government agencies supposed to have a part in the job still are vague on the details. They haven't been told who is to do what, except in a most general way.

Clarification apparently awaits testimony by top policy officials before congressional committees.

Congress may of course drastically amend the proposed "defense production act of 1950," sent to Capitol Hill by the White House, so the effect of new defense curbs and controls on business and consumers can't be measured until Congress completes action.

A few general deductions are possible. A $10,000,000,000 increase in defense spending means roughly a 25 to 30 per cent increase in taxes, since the President specified this Korean war should be conducted on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Congress may of course throw out all their recommendations and write its own tax bill. One other general deduction from the President's message to Congress is that no new government agency—like the War Production Board of the last war—is to be created to handle mobilization.

Five Fields Of Control For the time being at least, all defense programs will be handled by existing departments and independent offices.

Five main fields of control are outlined by the President's message: Allocation and priorities over scarce materials will be handled by Department of Commerce. Commodities exchange control over scrap metal will be handled by Department of Agriculture. Credit controls will be handled by Federal Reserve Board.

Production loan guarantees and stockpiling will be handled by Reconstruction Finance Corporation or its subsidiaries. Housing credit control will be handled by Federal Housing Administration and its dependent agencies.

Consumer rationing and price controls are ruled out by the President's message and by the draft of the new defense production act, for the time being at least.

Voluntary allocation of materials is apparently out. The Taft Act, which set up voluntary allocations over steel, was allowed to expire in August, 1949. Industry didn't like it and now prefers rigid government controls.

Department of Commerce now runs the export control program and determines synthetic rubber production rates. Its import controls all have expired, with the lifting of allocations of tin. Commodities exchange authority in Department of Agriculture now has limited control over brokers, futures, and customers' funds in trading on the principal U. S. grown crops.

Stock Market Control Two years ago the President proposed that CEAs be given control over margins and speculation, but Congress would not grant it. Now the President is asking for it again. Resumption of credit controls probably will mean a return to something like Federal Reserve Board's regulation of wartime credit. Federal housing administration credit controls will be aimed not only at limiting mortgages, but also in channeling scarce building materials into defense production. Just what a "production loan guarantee" will be, as called for by the President, remains to be seen. During the last war, Federal Reserve Board had a V-loan program, in which it guaranteed loans on contracts made by Army, Navy and Air Force. The new idea seems to be to channel all these loans into private banking institutions, with guarantees made by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The way in which the new "defense production act" was put together is not without interest. National Security Resources Board now headed by Stuart W. Symington, has been drafting mobilization legislation ever since it was created. It has had recommendations from all government agencies, to meet all possible situations.

When the White House staff, under presidential counsel Charles V. Murphy, was called on to draft a new mobilization law to meet the Korean limited emergency, it was possible to pick various proposals and put them together in relatively short time. Together explains why the new composite sent to Congress by the White House came as such a complete surprise to many of the agencies.

This was not the all-out mobilization bill they had been looking for.

Questions and Answers

Q—What do airmen mean by visibility?

A—Visibility is the horizontal distance along the ground a pilot can see. It is affected, of course, by haze or precipitation.

Q—How is the Chinese language read?

A—Chinese is read from top to bottom, then to top of next left column.

Q—Where did Abraham Lincoln sign the Emancipation Proclamation?

A—The Blue Bedroom, above the southern end of the East Room of the White House is where President Lincoln signed the proclamation.

Q—What causes the Hot Springs of Arkansas?

A—One explanation is that these springs began as meteoric water or rainfall which seeps downward through sandy, porous layers and is heated by a buried mass of slowly cooling rock. A second explanation is that the water has never been near the surface before, but is discharged by buried, cooling rocks.

A pay-as-we-go basis. But where or how the Administration proposes to levy the extra taxes will have to await the President's promised special message and testimony by Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder.

FUNNY FACE

By James Gunn

Copyright 1950 by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Jack Leaning and Ellie Lane, theatrical friends of mine, married more than 22 years ago and made a hit as a musical comedy dance team. Their success was due to Ellie's natural instinct for comedy and Jack's handsome, which served as a backdrop for her capers. Ellie seemed always to shudder when Jack called her by her real name "Funny Face," and soon I learned a strange reason for her reaction. Ellie had told me once that she believed she was the plucky looking—even ugly—wife of a very handsome man. I couldn't convince her otherwise. "Someday," she told me, "Jack will realize what he's struck with."

LATER, when Ellie and I were alone, she was nervous and silent. We talked about the act, and she said harshly, "I made up my mind that if they were going to laugh at me, the Little Match Girl, I think I wanted them to. If I'm stuck with this face I might as well get some good out of it at least."

She was intensely bitter. I had never heard her talk like that before, and she went on: "It's no joke thinking up the kind of stuff we do. And of course Jack's as much help as a hole in the head. Give him a party and a pretty girl and he's the wit of the world, but on the stage he has as much sense as comedy as the Little Match Girl. But there's still no reason I should take it out on Jack. It's not his fault that he's good looking and the girls go after him. It's not his fault that he's popular with people and I sit in a corner. None of it's his fault. I just wish he understood a little more. He thinks I love making an ass of myself on stage; he thinks I'm happy as a clam. I asked him once not to joke about my looks in front of other people. I've never seen anybody so surprised. He was so hurt & couldn't be too hard on him. He still calls me 'Funny Face,' and every time I hear it I want to kill him and shoot myself."

IT WAS difficult to get around to what I wanted to say. He loved Ellie very much, and really he believed she was happy. "Of course I call her Funny Face. I always have. She isn't pretty, nobody said she was. Who cares?" "Ellie cares."

"You're crazy. There are thousands of beautiful girls, but there's only one Ellie." I said: "Well, you always have plenty of pretty girls around you." "Well, of course there are always girls with the show—Suddenly he looked at me in consternation. "Look, Ellie doesn't think I've been cheating on her, does she? I go out without her a lot, she always wants to stay home, but I wouldn't do a thing like that."

I said hastily, "No, she doesn't think so. That isn't it at all." He looked relieved. "Well, I hope not. She knows I wouldn't do anything to hurt her. Honestly, she's really happy. She must have been tired last night."

I heard from them about a year later. They had taken time out for Ellie to have a child, a girl, whom they named Janet. They went back to work; Jack's income disappeared in 1929, but they were doing well enough so that the loss did not matter. AND THEN one day Jack came to my office. I had not even known he was in town. The moment I saw him I knew something was very wrong. He looked desperate and lost. "Where's Ellie?" I asked. "In Reno, getting a divorce." I was shocked. He had obviously taken it very hard. He was completely bewildered. "I don't know what happened. Everything was going along fine. She was sort of moody now and then, and she'd hardly go out at all. But she seemed to be all right most of the time. We hadn't quarreled or anything. And then one day she just said she was leaving. She said she had to, and that was all." "Couldn't you make her talk to you?" "I tried. She said she still loved me. It wasn't that. And she knows I love her. I can't understand it. I haven't been carrying on, and I know there isn't another man for her. I told her I wouldn't go out so much, if that upset her. She just said it wouldn't make any difference."

"I persuaded her to wait a month before she left for Reno. She wouldn't stay with me, but a couple of times I saw her. She was perfectly nice, the same as always, but she wouldn't unbend. When the month was up she still wanted the divorce. Well, I couldn't make it tough for her after that. I asked her what grounds she wanted to use, and she said 'ugliness.' I guess that was a joke—the legal grounds are mental cruelty or something, the usual thing."

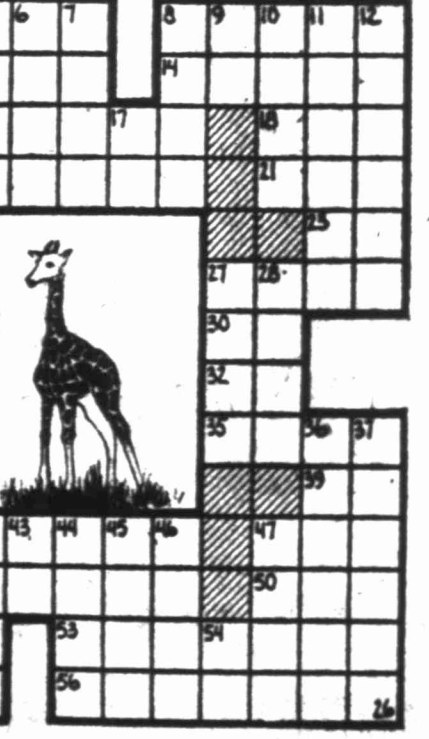

I could guess what had happened, but there was no point in giving Jack my opinion. He was miserable enough, and he would never be able to understand Ellie's feelings about being called "Funny Face." (To Be Continued)

Check Yourself Next Time You Lunch With A Woman

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

You can count on one or all of these things happening when two women meet downtown for lunch:

One will arrive late and breathless, full of apologies and explanations of all the last-minute things that went wrong at home or at the office.

They discuss each item on the menu, before deciding what they want to eat.

At least one of them will ask if she can have peas substituted for green beans, or vice versa.

If one is overweight, she'll devote quite a little time to discussing her latest attempt to reduce, before deciding to order pie with whipped cream for dessert. And she'll certainly ease her conscience with: "I really shouldn't—but..."

Knife, Fork And Ax

If they are working women, some other woman in the office will get a verbal going-over before the dessert arrives. If they are housewives, some other housewife will get the same treatment. After all, what's the point of two women meeting for lunch if they don't have one person in common to pick to pieces?

Though they seem absorbed in their conversation, they'll not be so engrossed that they won't glance up to see how every woman who walks into the restaurant is dressed.

When it comes time for the check there'll be an argument over who is to pay. Chances are they'll end up by each paying her own and leaving her own tip—but if one wins the argument the other will insist on leaving the tip.

About the time they reach the door one of them will discover that she left a glove or a package and will have to go back for a look.

But still it's fun to meet another woman for lunch.

Processing Stages For Selectees In Texas Are Outlined

Selectees reporting to U. S. Army Induction Centers in Texas will be processed in two stages, officials of the Southwestern Recruiting District, U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force, announced Wednesday.

The pre-induction stage begins with a reception and roll call, followed by an orientation to acquaint the selectees with general processing procedures. Next, a written mental examination is taken by each man. This determines whether he is initially qualified for military service.

Later in the day, a thorough physical examination is given, including chest X-ray, blood tests and general condition. Upon completion of the pre-induction processing, registrants will be advised that they have been classified into one of the following categories: accepted, status undetermined pending further investigation, or rejected. In all cases, registrants will be furnished transportation home and those scheduled to return for induction will remain home not less than 21 days nor more than 120.

To Check Records

Upon returning for induction processing, records of the men will be checked for completeness and the selectees then will receive another orientation talk during which they will be informed as to the purpose and significance of the induction, processing steps ahead, and location of personnel counselors who will assist them with their problems.

After this, records will be issued to each registrant and they will proceed through the remainder of their processing, including another physical to determine if disease is present, or intercurrent illness or injury has developed. If accepted at this point, the oath of enlistment is administered and the new soldier is on his way to the training divisions.

The Army presently is operating training centers at Fort Ord, Calif., and Fort Riley, Kan.

IPAA Moves To Head Off Steel Shortage

TULSA, OKLA. — Domestic oil producers are fearful government regulations growing out of the international situation will breed a scarcity of oil field materials such as that experienced during World War II.

The Independent Petroleum Association of America has moved to head off such a shortage by appointment of an Oil and Gas Field Materials Committee headed by Bryan W. Payne, independent oil operator of Tyler, Texas.

Russell B. Brown, IPAA general counsel, said operators already are faced with difficulties in buying casing, and warned, "Perhaps steel normally going to pipe mills is being diverted to other industries."

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Red Herring

The Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, was going to play a game with Train Chaser, the dog who chases trains. The game was going to be one of fox and hounds. The Huffen was going to be the fox for the hounds to chase. Train Chaser was going to do the chasing. "Ready, Huffen?" Daddy Ringtail asked. "Your old friend, the Huffen, is ready he is," said the Huffen. "Go!" Daddy Ringtail shouted, and away ran the Huffen through the forest. Train Chaser barked to a trick. He had a red herring in his shirt, and there is an old saying that hounds can never follow a trail of a fox if a herring—a red herring—is dragged across the trail.

The Huffen stopped. He listened for Train Chaser's bark away in the distance. The Huffen took the red herring by the tail and dragged it across the trail he had made through the forest. He was hungry, but he didn't stop to eat the red herring. He threw it in the bushes and away he ran—and on for Train Chaser to try to catch him. It was fun to play the game of fox and hounds—with the Huffen being the fox, and Train Chaser being the hounds.

Pretty soon, along came Train Chaser, sniffing and sniffing at the place where the Huffen had dragged the red herring across the trail. Train Chaser sniffed and sniffed away toward the bush where the red herring was. The red herring looked good enough to eat, and it was good enough to eat. And so Train Chaser washed it and ate it, which was even more fun than chasing a

Abundant Living

By E. STANLEY JONES

Disciplined to the Kingdom... We have thought that man is made for freedom. He is. But freedom can come only through obedience. I am free from the policeman if I obey the laws he represents—within the framework of the laws he represents. I am free from the freedom I enjoy. If I obey the laws of the United States, I am free within the boundaries of that country.

If you are disciplined to yourself and your own desires, then you are free within the area of yourself and your desires. You have chosen a small unit of allegiance, hence you become small. Moreover, you become disliked by others to whom you have no loyalty or love. In the end, you dislike yourself for being so small, and for being disliked by others. This is a vicious circle, a descending spiral. But if you are disciplined to the Kingdom, you will like yourself for the greatness and nobility of your loyalties and allegiances, and other people will respond to you, for you respond to them; and, best of all, the universe will take sides with you, will back you, and will make you feel at home and free. This is an ascending spiral.

When I am disciplined to the Kingdom of God and obey its laws, then I am free within the limits of its area. But its area is universal; therefore I am universally free. The Christian, disciplined to the Kingdom of God, is the only universal person universally free. He is a cosmic person.

A woman who had been all tied up with fears, a physical and nervous wreck, writes after her release: "The sense of freedom and release, the new understanding, and the something that seems almost like finding a sixth sense is wonderful." That "sixth sense" is the cosmic sense, a sense of being universalized, of a cosmic at-homeness, of being in tune with the sum total of reality. Being disciplined to the total Order, in a total way, with every part moving toward a single goal, you become a narrow person with a narrow purpose. But at the very moment you are narrowed you are broadened into the purposes and the life of the Kingdom. You are totally free.

O God, I want every area of my life to own one allegiance, and one alone. For I cannot be an undisciplined person, or disciplined to too small an allegiance. I cannot rest till I am under the sway of the Ultimate, nor until the Ultimate has the ultimate sway. In Jesus' name. Amen.

North Koreans Still Get Supplies Despite Repeated Air Blows

TOKYO—(AP)—A spokesman for General MacArthur said Wednesday "we have the greatest respect" for the way North Koreans are supplying their troops at the front. Allied air power has struck repeated blows at the long North Korean supply lines, but the oil, ammunition and other vital Red needs keep rolling along.

There is no indication, the spokesman said, that the North Koreans have been unable to maintain their supply lines, keep ammunition flowing to the front and keep tanks operating. Concentrated fighter sweeps show very little movement along roads during the day. However, the Communists are repeating German methods of the last war in Italy when convoys moved at night over secondary roads and paths.

Conscription Fills Gap The spokesman said North Koreans have been making replacements apparently within 10 days, permitting them to keep their forces up to strength. Conscription largely is filling the gap. He declined to estimate total North Korean losses, but said one guess is 18,000.

Almost 1,500,000 Koreans formerly lived in Manchuria, the spokesman said, adding: "Large numbers have since been recognized in the Chinese Communist Armies. Undoubtedly they were trained there as officers." "This has supplied the tough backbone of trained men essential for a force on the offensive."

Koreans learned guerrilla tactics and fighting during the last 40 years while dependents of the Japanese. Despite a Japanese garrison in Korea of two full divisions and large numbers of military and ordinary police the Koreans maintained guerrilla activity. "Nobody had to train them in doing this," the officer commented, and added: "Guerrillas picked up so far are mainly armed with Japanese weapons of World War II and 'some' 'Russian automatic weapons.'"

Ko-Reds Use Human Shield To Get Four Tanks Across Bridge

By DON WHITEHEAD AN ADVANCED U. S. COMMAND POST IN KOREA —(AP)—A U. S. officer said Wednesday North Koreans herded several hundred Korean men, women and children before them in Wednesday's attack around Yongdong. The non-combatants were used as a shield for four tanks to cross a bridge, said Major William O. Witherspoon, of South San Francisco.

The Americans withheld their fire and the tanks got up to positions for attack. This is the way Witherspoon described the fighting, in which the Americans fell back east of Yongdong. The withdrawal was orderly and casualties were reported not heavy.

The Reds opened their drive against Yongdong Monday, striking at the American left flank. The Reds also hit the right side, but were thrown back with heavy losses. Planes and ground troops knocked out six of eight enemy tanks. Then the commanding general decided to regroup the U. S. forces Tuesday night a few hundred yards east of the line to give the defenders better positions.

His Right Flank But the enemy again struck the American right flank at 5 p. m. and fought on. There was a little enemy artillery fire. The infantry then came swarming through the mountains around the flanks of the unit. At 1:30 a. m. Wednesday North Koreans attacked the American left flank which was in the process of drawing back.

The major said this was the drive led by four tanks herding the non-combatants before them. The bridge had been mined by the Americans and they would have blown it up otherwise. "The U. S. troops just couldn't open fire on those women and children," Witherspoon said. Fortunately, the Americans began late Tuesday pulling their artillery back and getting heavy equipment toward the rear.

Saves Artillery This foresight undoubtedly saved the artillery. It prevented a road jam which would have been caught in a crossfire of infiltrating Communists. Supporting the retreating Americans was artillery under the command of Brig. Gen. Charles D. Palmer, who told Associated Press correspondent O. H. P. King: "We can, and we will, hold off the enemy all day long."

Maj. Gen. Hobart R. Gay, commander of the First Cavalry Division, told King U. S. artillery was pounding the enemy with 80 shots to every Communist shell directed at American lines. No Red fire reached American positions Wednesday, King said, but the previous two days American artillery was hit by exceptionally accurate Red fire indicating communications from enemy observers behind our lines, a staff spokesman said.

Taken By Surprise The night attack caught the Americans by surprise. All day long the Red artillery had been quiet. There had been little activity at the front since noon. On the right flank, an American regiment, which had beaten back two Red attacks Tuesday morning was cocky and confident. But the attack, starting at 5 p. m., came in too much force. The enemy had sifted through the U. S. lines, threatening the entire position. So the Americans began falling back in moonlight across the rice paddies and rugged ridges.

Cpl. Orville Thomas of Sandusky, Mich., a rifleman, said the Reds hit his position on the left flank about 2 a. m. Wednesday. "The first we knew there were four tanks coming down the road with direct fire on us," he said. The enemy was dropping mortar fire on the infantry also, so Thomas jumped over an embankment and escaped along a railroad. Pfc. Merrill Small of New Paltz, N. Y., was in a heavy mortar company on the right flank. He said his unit was hit about 2 a. m. when snipers and machinegunners closed in around them. "I had to stay in my foxhole until 6 a. m.," Small said. "Then I made a break for it."

It was a familiar pattern repeating itself with little hope of a change until reinforcements of American troops—or United Nations forces—are thrown into the fight to give the defenders a solid line which cannot be outflanked.

Minton Distributing Company Wins Car In Sales Contest

R. M. Minton, head of the R. M. Minton Distributing Company, Schlitz beer wholesaler for the Permian Basin Empire, was presented with a 1950 Buick sedan Tuesday night for winning one of three nation-wide sales contests sponsored by the Joseph Schlitz Brewing Company.

The award was presented at a testimonial dinner in the private dining room of Hotel Scharbauer. Minton's organization won the award for the greatest percentage of increase over quota among 38 wholesalers in 15 states west of the Mississippi River.

R. H. Macalister of Milwaukee, Wis., director of western sales for the Schlitz company, made the presentation. Also present were Douglas J. Miller of Dallas, divisional sales manager, and Patrick J. Moran, district manager. Moran was awarded a prize for district manager.

Guests Listed Other guests at the dinner were Art Joseph, president of the Jay-Cees, and Delbert Downing, manager of the Chamber of Commerce. The Minton organization won in competition with cities of much larger population, Macalister said. Close competition was offered by Wichita Falls, Amarillo, Tulsa, Seattle, Wash., Portland, Ore., Sacramento and Bakersfield, Calif. Members of the sales organization and their wives were honor guests at the dinner.

MAJOR LEAGUES—

Cleveland Stays On Streak; Just Short Way Back

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland's rampaging Indians, looking more menacing each day, loom as the real "dark horse" in the jumbled American League pennant race.

No club in the league—and that includes the pace-setting Detroit Tigers and runner-up New York Yankees—has better than Lou Boudreau's men, who have run up 12 triumphs in their last 16 games.

Whereas three weeks ago, the Indians trailed the Tigers by seven full games, they are only two and a half games out Wednesday. Thanks to a 7-6 triumph over Philadelphia Tuesday night while both the Tigers and Yankees were losing, the Indians find themselves in the best position they've been all year.

True, they still are in third place, one length back of the Yankees and three in front of the Boston Red Sox, but they are in good shape to make a whale of a battle out of it the rest of the way. They own three top flight pitchers in Bob Lemon, Bob Feller and Early Wynn. And in rookies Al Rosen and Luke Easter, they possess two of the top sluggers in the game.

Cleveland's biggest asset is the schedule. Not only is the Tribe facing a long home stand, but the three closing weeks of the season will find the Indians playing at home in 12 of the last 14 games. Should they remain anywhere near the top in the next few weeks, they will be mighty difficult to stop.

Feller was the winner Tuesday although he needed help from Lemon in the ninth. It was Bob's tenth triumph of the year. He got a big lift from Easter, who smashed his eighteenth and nineteenth homers off loser Alex Kellner.

Nip-And-Tack
The Red Sox won a 7-6 nip-and-tack affair from Detroit, scoring three runs in the eighth off Relief Pitcher Hal White to overcome a 6-4 deficit. Three runs in each of the fifth and seventh innings had enabled the Tigers to overcome an early 4-0 Boston lead. Each club used four pitchers, with Chuck Stobbs the winner and White the loser.

Stubby Overmire pitched the St. Louis Browns to a 4-3 victory over the Yankees. The little left-hander, who holds two of the three Brownie wins over New York, had a three-hit shutout until the ninth. Four hits, including a two-run homer by Johnny Mize, gave the Yankees three runs. Overmire batted in what proved to be the winning runs with a two-run single off Vic Raschi in the fifth.

Pine relief pitching by Joe Haynes and strong stickwork by Sam Mele and Gil Coan helped Washington triumph over the Chicago White Sox 7-4.

Philadelphia's Phillies moved back to the top of the National League by handing the Chicago Cubs two shutout defeats 7-0 and 1-0. Bubba Church hurled a three-hitter in the opener and Robin Roberts followed with a six-hitter. It was the latter's twelfth triumph. Johnny Klippstein and Bob Rush were the victims.

The Cubs now have suffered through three straight shutout losses. They were beaten 3-0 in the second game of Sunday's double-header with the New York Giants.

Out Front
The Phils' double win put them a half-game in front of the St. Louis Cardinals, who whipped the Brooklyn Dodgers 9-5. The Boston Braves moved into the third spot, two and a half games off the pace, by thrashing the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-2 as Johnny Sain notched his thirteenth success of the season.

A five-run eighth inning and another tally in the ninth on Bob Usher's error gave the Giants a 7-6 triumph over Cincinnati.

Faced by Del Ennis' eighteenth home run with two mates aboard, the Phils were an easy victory in the opener. They had to wait until two were out in the last of the ninth to win the second game. Richie Ashburn took care of that, lashing a single to center to score Ralph Cabellero from second.

Del Rice's three-run homer highlighted a four-run eighth inning which enabled the Cards to overcome a 5-3 Dodger lead. It marked the first St. Louis win in Ebbets Field this year.

The Cards' Stan Musial cracked a home run, double and single to extend his consecutive hitting streak through 29 games.

WT-NM League—Lamesa Idle; Pampa Gains Half Game
By The Associated Press
Lamesa fell out of a tie for the lead in the West Texas-New Mexico League Tuesday night by the simple process of being idle.

Its game with Borger was postponed because of wet grounds but Pampa beat Clovis 2-1 to take a half-game lead.

Mike Hyde limited Clovis to four scattered hits. Doubles by Don Rickson and Joe Fortin accounted for the Pampa runs.

Third-place Lubbock licked Albuquerque 4-1 with Chris Harkins allowing only six blows.

Amarillo downed Abilene 12-2 with a 16-hit attack which included four home runs. Metz LaFollette kept a dozen hits well scattered for the pitching victory.

ON THE BEAM—Ann-Sofi Peterson leaves no debts on the balance beam in Basel, Switzerland. Representing Sweden, she was one of the many skilled contestants in the world championship gymnastic meet. Representatives of Switzerland, Finland and France scored highly.

Church Loop Leader Falls

The league-leading Lutherans were joined by the Presbyterians 18-5 and the Baptists dumped the winless Fellowship Class nine 17-5 in softball games played Tuesday night in the JayCee-sponsored City Church League.

The Presbyterians jumped out in front in the first inning with a 14-run spurge and coasted in. Pitcher Johnny Kennedy threw hitless ball at the Lutherans until the fourth inning.

It was the Lutherans' first loss in the second round of loop play and boosted the idle Young Adults into first place. The Young Adults were the first high cellar team.

Jimmy Kennedy walloped two consecutive homeruns and a single to lead the Baptists over the Fellowshipists. The losers got only three hits off the Baptists' Howard.

The Tumbleweeds received a 9-0 forfeit victory over the Wildcats in the Optimist League.

Brad Rowland Will Be Ready For Grid

ABILENE (AP)—Brad Rowland, McMurry's famous football player, has become a victim of the machine age—he won't be able to keep in shape for the grid wars by pushing a lawn mower as he did last year.

McMurry College has installed power mowers.

But Brad didn't let that throw him. He got himself a job rousting the little All-Americans, who had one of college football's mightiest records in 1949, says "I wish September were already here; I'm surely looking forward to this season."

Last Season
It will be his last, for which McMurry foes will be quite glad.

Last year the halfback reported in top condition because he had been pushing a lawn mower, at a dog trot, all Summer. He led the Texas Conference in about everything. He gained 1,279 yards running with the ball, completed 16 passes for 445 yards and six touchdowns, punted 40 times for a 38.4 average, scored 108 points and played a great defensive game. He led McMurry to the conference championship and victory in the Oleander Bowl.

He had planned on using the lawn mower again this Summer but had to take the next best thing—oil field work. To keep up his speed, Brad plays baseball a couple of nights a week and is quite a third baseman.

Sad Sam Draws Indefinite Ban

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Sam Harshbary, manager of the Harlingen club in the Rio Grande Valley League, has been suspended indefinitely.

Kelly Nemeck, league president, said he was suspending Harshbary for what he termed "showmanship in bad taste" at Monday night's game between Brownville and Harlingen.

Nemeck said he was turning the matter over to George Trautman, president of the minor leagues.

Musial On 29 Game Hitting Streak

BROOKLYN (AP)—"I just go along, day to day. Relaxed. Trying to hit that ball."

Stan Musial of St. Louis talked about his 29-game batting streak through Tuesday night's game with Brooklyn. How he tried to keep it off his mind. Letting every game take care of itself.

"Lots of days I only get the one hit," he said, "I don't know how many times I've almost been stopped. Honestly I don't think much about it."

"I've been hitting the ball better since my leg has improved. I twisted it a week or 10 days ago. I was hitting to left more because of the leg. Didn't get a full swing. Now I think I'm all right again."

Since Musial last went hitless against Boston's Vern Bickford, June 25, he has hit 393 with 46 hits spryed over 29 games. During the streak he hit 13 doubles, six homers and drove in 26 runs.

Tommy Holmes of Boston holds the modern National League record of hitting safely in 37 consecutive games in 1945. Joe DiMaggio has the major league high string of 56 set in 1941.

Expanded Social Security Bill Nears Final Passage Stage

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional leaders hoped Wednesday to place on President Truman's desk before the end of next week a bill to boost federal old-age pensions. It also would bring 10,000,000 more workers into the retirement system.

Pension rates for persons retiring in the future would be increased about 100 per cent, while payments to about 3,000,000 persons already drawing benefits under the old-age and survivors insurance program would go up an average of 7 1/2 per cent, effective October 1. Maximum benefits for a family would be raised from $85 to $150 a month.

To finance the expanded social security program, payroll taxes collected by the government would more than double over the next twenty years, rising from $2,500,000,000 this year to about $6,000,000,000 in 1970.

The taxes are paid by employer and employee on a 50-50 basis.

Progressive Tax Hikes
The legislation as it now stands is a compromise of Senate and House bills worked out by a conference committee.

Agreement on the measure was reached Tuesday, although the committee will meet again next Tuesday to go over a final draft.

Senator George (D-Ga.), chairman of the Senate conferees, said that unless some substantial changes are made at the last minute, the bill should be ready for final congressional action after the Tuesday session.

The House is to act on it first and George said he hoped both branches of Congress would pass it and sent it on to President Truman before the end of next week. It is a key part of Truman's domestic program.

Payroll taxes under the compromise bill would be collected on annual earnings up to $3,600 instead of $2,000 as at present.

Longhorn League—Leaders Pick Up Ground With Wins

By The Associated Press
The leaders picked up ground in the Longhorn League race Tuesday night. Both first-place Odessa and runner-up Roswell won while third and fourth place Big Spring and Vernon were idled by rain and lost a half-game.

Odessa rapped LeRoy Jarl for 11 hits and a 9-2 victory over Midland. Jarl did better at bat than pitching—he hit a homer. Bill Cearley blasted a circuiter for Odessa.

Frank Hill pitched a seven-hitter as Roswell whitewashed San Angelo 6-0. Bob Souza drove in three runs with a double and homer.

Too many walks allowed Sweetwater to pile up an early lead and stave off a Ballinger rally for an 8-5 victory. Ballinger pushed over five runs in the sixth but the damage already had been done.

The scores: R H E

Rotary-Plastic Tilt Heads CML Slate

The third-place Rotary Engineers challenge front-running Western Plastic and fifth-place Shell plays the fourth-place Rendezvous squad in softball games scheduled Wednesday night in the JayCee-sponsored City Major League.

The feature first game probably will match two undefeated pitchers, Rotary's Lefty Martin and Jack Dunlap of Western Plastic. Dunlap is the league's best with a mark of eight victories. Martin has won two tilts, one a no-hitter.

A Rotary victory would throw the league leadership into three-way snarl with Western Plastic, Standard and Rotary sharing the top spot with 11 wins and four defeats each.

An Optimist League game is set for 6 p.m. on the Wadley Park diamond.

Letter Fails To Bolster Evidence

SEATTLE (AP)—James T. Swanson was asked in divorce court "Who was your sweetheart while you were in Alaska?"

"No one," he replied.

His wife's counsel then produced a letter written by Swanson when he was mining in Alaska last year. It said in part:

"Wait until next time, I'll tell you all about my new honey. Is she streamlined?"

Swanson guffawed.

"That was no woman," he said. "It was my new dragline—$50,000 worth, and was I proud of her."

Texas League—Tight Race Shapes Up For Third Spot

By The Associated Press
The tightest fight in the Texas League now is for third place. Only two games separate four clubs in the scrap for this spot. It got that way Tuesday night when San Antonio lost 3-0 to Dallas.

The gold-plated Dallas Eagles moved into the first division for the first time this season and now are just one game back of San Antonio, which holds down third place.

Fort Worth's league-leading Cats prevented, for the nonce, any further gain by the flying Beaumont Roughnecks.

Beaumont won again to stay four and one-half games back.

Two extra-inning games featured Tuesday night's festivities. These long, drawn-out affairs are picking up as the race gets hottest.

Extra Innings
Houston has figured in three in three nights, playing a total of 43 innings. Tuesday night the Buifs forced Fort Worth to 14 innings before losing 3-2. Ken Staples broke up the game with a line drive over the left fielder's head. Don Hoak hit a two-run homer in the twelfth to stave off defeat.

The other extra-inning affair found Beaumont pushing over three runs in the eleventh to lick Oklahoma City 8-5. Eight Roughs went to the plate in that last inning. Keith Thomas was the big gun for Shreveport, driving in three runs with two doubles.

Tulsa broke a four-game losing streak by licking Shreveport 7-2. The Oilers sewed it up in the fifth with a three-run burst featuring Wally Post's triple. Jim Arrea pitched two-hit ball for seven innings then was sent to the showers from three Shreveport hits.

Wayne McLeland notched his fifteenth victory of the season in hurling Dallas to its win over San Antonio. He scattered four hits. Dallas got three unearned runs in the seventh to win the game. Lou Steater allowed Dallas only five hits but he walked four.

Tulsa Oil Man Is Broadmoor Surprise

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO.—(AP)—A wealthy Tulsa, Okla., oil man, Loy Martin, proved a surprise package in the annual Broadmoor Invitational Golf Tourney, whacking out a 66 to take medalist honors.

The 66 put him four under par and shaded such notables as Denver's Fred Newton, 1946 title winner, and another Denverite Claude Wright, defending champion.

It was a dim day for champions. Newton shooting 74 and Wright 75.

But it was, all in all, a flashy day for Oklahomaans, with Dee Replogie of Oklahoma City slugging out a 71 and J. C. Hamilton of Tulsa doing likewise, to post second-best qualifying scores of the day.

Some 200 players are tramping the plus links of the Broadmoor Country Club in quest of the cup, or experience, or just plain exercise.

Other championship flight results included: Charles Wallace, Midland, Texas, 76.

Rio Grande League To Hold Playoffs

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The Rio Grande Valley League Shaughnessy play-off has been announced by League President Kelly Nemick.

The four top teams of the six-club league will meet in the play-off with the first-place club playing the fourth-place outfit and the second and third-place clubs playing each other. Each series, as well as the final, will be seven games.

Howard County JC Drops Grid Sport

COORSICANA (AP)—The Texas Junior College Conference will have only 10 football teams this fall—five in each zone.

Gaston T. Gooch, dean-registrar of Navarro College and secretary of the conference, said three schools that had planned football have decided to drop out. Hillsboro Junior College, Howard County of Big Spring and Clifton College are the three.

This leaves Odessa, Decatur, Ranger, Weatherford and Cisco in the West Zone, and Panola (Carthage), Henderson (Athens), Allen Academy, Blinn and Navarro in the East zone.

Oilers Take 9-2 Win From Indians; Finale Wednesday

The Midland Indians and the Odessa Oilers go at it again Wednesday night in Indian Park in the finale of a three-game series. Game time is 8:15 p.m.

Glen Patton or Leon Hayes will work for the Indians. Ray Knoblauch is the likely starter for Odessa.

The Odessa Oilers didn't leave any question about it Tuesday night as they took a 9 to 2 decision from the Midland Indians in Indian Park. The Oilers scored early and late to win going away.

LeRoy Jarl did all the pitching—and most of the hitting for Midland. He clouted a double and a home run to drive in all the Midland runs.

Al Sokolowski worked for the Oilers and did himself proud. He struck out nine and allowed only seven hits.

The Oilers got two in the second on an error which put Leo Eastham on base. Bill Cearley's triple and Emil Ogden's single.

Jarl Hits
Walks to Lou Dawson and Bob Phillips and Jarl's double gave the Indians one in the same frame.

The Oilers came back with one in the fifth on a single by Bill Hooverter and two errors. That was the ball game for them.

The runs they picked up later on Cearley's two-ply homer and a triple by Les Palmer, a double by Al Monchak and a fly ball weren't needed. A single by Sokolowski and a double by Loy Barerra in the ninth added one for insurance.

Jarl hit his homer in the seventh with no one on base.

SPORTS SLANTS

Fans here are wondering why umpires George Thomas and Happy Sykes didn't shift in Tuesday night's game after Sykes worked behind the plate Monday night.

The reason is both of the arbiters are ailing. Sykes has a sore leg and Thomas is nursing an aching head.

Thomas got himself clipped with a wrench or a pair of pliers or something up at Vernon Sunday.

The round boy called a close play at home plate in a tight ball game and the Vernon fans didn't like it much.

When the game was over the crowd thronged the ump's. Two policemen and the chief of the department couldn't keep 'em off Thomas.

While the crowd was gathered about the umpires and their escort, some one jumped into the middle of it and whammed Thomas on the noodle.

He is carrying a nice gash now where he was struck. That's the first violence of the season that has reached the stage of actual blows with the ump's.

There surely have been a lot of verbal licks hurled at them, however.

The Warren Sliters, proud parents of a seven-pound daughter, are receiving visitors at C. S. Whites, 800 South Weatherford.

It would be nice if the Midland baseball fans who liked Sliter so well last season would take along a gift or two.

Down at Sweetwater, the fans held a Warren Sliter night not long ago and chipped in with some gifts for the new arrival.

Billy Maxwell, the belting amateur golfer from North Texas State and Odessa, Sunday celebrated his birthday anniversary in real style.

Billy turned 21 Sunday and while he was turning that way he was winning the championship in the Levelland Country Club's Invitation Tournament.

It wasn't long ago he won the Midland Country Club Invitation title.

Al Monchak, manager of the Odessa Oilers, had nothing but high praise for Scooter Hughes after Monday night's ball game here.

Scooter went in the hole and gloved balls he wasn't even due to touch, and a couple of them were hit by the Oiler pilot.

"I was strictly major league fielding Hughes turned in," declared Al.

On a drillstem test at 7,348-58 feet, recovery after one hour was 3,070 feet of drilling mud, 60 feet of gas cut mud and 120 feet of slightly oil and gas cut mud, with no shows of water.

C-E Kent Test

The No. 1 Wallace is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 46, block 97, H&T survey.

Britain Will Send Troops To Korea

LONDON — (AP) — Britain announced Wednesday she has decided to send ground troops into Korea.
The British Admiralty earlier disclosed plans to put the Far Eastern fleet on a "full scale war footing" immediately.
The decision to back up American "GI's" in Korea with British soldiers was made public by Defense Minister Emmanuel Shirlwell in the House of Commons.
Shirlwell told the House: "The government today notified the United Nations we are prepared to send to Korea an effective land reinforcement, including infantry, armor, artillery and engineers, together with the administrative backing required to maintain it."
The Commonwealth nations of Australia and New Zealand had made similar announcements, following the lead of Turkey and Thailand (Siam).

Monroey Ousts Oklahoma's Thomas; Long, McMath Win

By The Associated Press
A generation of political successes ended Wednesday for Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma in his defeat in a bitter Democratic primary runoff.
Thomas, a veteran of 28 years in Congress (all but four in the Senate) and chairman of the powerful Agriculture Committee, conceded early Wednesday to Rep. Mike Monroey.
"There's not much else I can do," he told an Associated Press reporter in Washington.
National interest centered on the Oklahoma election with other primaries also being held in Louisiana and Arkansas.
Senator Russell E. Long, son of the late Huey P. Long, the Louisiana senatorial race. In Arkansas, Gov. Sid McMath, who generally supports the Truman Administration, bested former Gov. Ben Laney, an anti-Trumanite, in the contest for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.
Monroey jumped his lead over Thomas to 24,950 votes with only 48 precincts still to be heard from. The latest count is 236,791 for Monroey, 211,831 for Thomas.
Murray Leading Coe
Senator Long in Louisiana won a six-year term hands down. He has served two years of an unexpired term.
Malcolm LaParque of Shreveport Tuesday night gave up his fight for the Democratic nomination — in Louisiana the same thing as election — in the face of Long's better than two to one lead.
In Arkansas, McMath claimed victory early when he was 7,000 votes ahead, and said the results of the primary "will kill the Dixiecrat movement in the South and thus eliminate it from the nation."
With 2,055 of the state's 2,237 precincts reporting the unofficial count was McMath 184,757, Laney 10,436.

speed in both law-making and nominations-making.
The powers requested, Truman said, not only will meet present needs but will perform another essential service—to "build up our preparedness" for more drastic steps if the military situation worsens.
Plans Are Drawn
"Detailed plans for these further steps" have been drawn, Truman disclosed, and he added:
"If it should become necessary, I shall without hesitation ask the Congress for the grant of the powers to implement these further plans, whether for complete economic mobilization or for further intermediate action depending upon the need."
On the voluntary side, the President asked—
Of business: Restraint in pricing its products and in buying materials for inventory. And, most particularly, expansion of industry's capacity to turn out the basic products needed for war or peace.
Industrial Peace
Of labor: Avoidance of wage demands "which might lead to another inflationary spiral. And above all, an effort with management to achieve industrial peace."
Of the public: Avoidance of scare-buying.
"The best rule to follow is to buy normally," Truman said.
"The current outlook is that serious shortages of consumer goods will not develop, unless they are created artificially by speculative or panicky acquisition of goods far in excess of actual need."
"This rule applies to business buying as well. Those of us who are not now called upon to make great sacrifices should certainly, in justice to those in the armed services, refrain from hoarding or avarice."

pays indicated an underpass would be more expensive than an overpass.
McKee, who spoke at length concerning the project, said he never has voted against an improvement bond issue in Midland and that he would vote to vote against this one. He asked the city and county to issue a joint statement as to their intentions concerning the grade separation proposal.
He also inquired as to the status of the $35,000 in bond money voted for an underpass several years ago. He was advised that the funds still are available.
Favors Underpass
Councilman Jack Wilkinson, who also is a member of the Highway Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, said he favors an underpass instead of an overpass if it can be worked out satisfactorily. He called on the visitors to support the bond issue proposal and said, "This is an opportunity we cannot afford to let pass."
Mayor Pro Tem W. F. Hehl said he believes all members of the council favor the underpass if it is at all practical from an engineering standpoint.
B. H. Spaw questioned the council as to plans for the grade separation and the proposed widening of Front Street.

speed in both law-making and nominations-making.
The powers requested, Truman said, not only will meet present needs but will perform another essential service—to "build up our preparedness" for more drastic steps if the military situation worsens.
Plans Are Drawn
"Detailed plans for these further steps" have been drawn, Truman disclosed, and he added:
"If it should become necessary, I shall without hesitation ask the Congress for the grant of the powers to implement these further plans, whether for complete economic mobilization or for further intermediate action depending upon the need."
On the voluntary side, the President asked—
Of business: Restraint in pricing its products and in buying materials for inventory. And, most particularly, expansion of industry's capacity to turn out the basic products needed for war or peace.
Industrial Peace
Of labor: Avoidance of wage demands "which might lead to another inflationary spiral. And above all, an effort with management to achieve industrial peace."
Of the public: Avoidance of scare-buying.
"The best rule to follow is to buy normally," Truman said.
"The current outlook is that serious shortages of consumer goods will not develop, unless they are created artificially by speculative or panicky acquisition of goods far in excess of actual need."
"This rule applies to business buying as well. Those of us who are not now called upon to make great sacrifices should certainly, in justice to those in the armed services, refrain from hoarding or avarice."

pany on a bid of $155 per foot, with a five-cent-per-foot discount. The Eureka bid was not the lowest received, but the council authorized its acceptance upon recommendation of the Fire Department. The low bid, $135 per foot, was submitted by the Quaker Fire Hose Company. Bids also were submitted by the Bi-Lateral Fire Hose Company, the M. B. McKee Company, and the Fyrtier Fire Hose Company.
Plats of certain tracts in the Northwest Acres Addition, submitted by John Stille, and Blocks 1 and 2, Urbandise Addition, submitted by M. W. Collier, Jr., were approved by the council upon recommendation of the Planning and Zoning Commission.
City Manager W. H. Oswald was authorized to advertise for bids for the sale of Buildings T-152 and T-548 at Midland Air Terminal.
A resolution was adopted authorizing the acceptance of federal funds to be used in an airport lighting improvement program at Midland Air Terminal.

City Council— Hearing—

pays indicated an underpass would be more expensive than an overpass.
McKee, who spoke at length concerning the project, said he never has voted against an improvement bond issue in Midland and that he would vote to vote against this one. He asked the city and county to issue a joint statement as to their intentions concerning the grade separation proposal.
He also inquired as to the status of the $35,000 in bond money voted for an underpass several years ago. He was advised that the funds still are available.
Favors Underpass
Councilman Jack Wilkinson, who also is a member of the Highway Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, said he favors an underpass instead of an overpass if it can be worked out satisfactorily. He called on the visitors to support the bond issue proposal and said, "This is an opportunity we cannot afford to let pass."
Mayor Pro Tem W. F. Hehl said he believes all members of the council favor the underpass if it is at all practical from an engineering standpoint.
B. H. Spaw questioned the council as to plans for the grade separation and the proposed widening of Front Street.

George announced the finance committee will take up the President's tax plan next Wednesday, but he said flatly he doubts the committee will make corporation tax increases retroactive to cover all of 1950 income, as the President proposed. The added tax is more likely to affect only the last quarter of the year, he indicated.
George said consideration of excess profits taxes can wait until January.
Truman's Proposals
This is what Truman proposed:
1. Take the peace-time bill, 000,000 excise tax cutting bill off the shelf where it was put when the Korean war started. Cut out the $1,000,000 excise cut, and then use the bill's skeleton to build the body of a $5,000,000,000 emergency tax increase. Retain the loophole-plugging, corporate dividend withholding and life insurance company taxes of the old bill.
2. Raise corporation rates, effective in 1950 income, from 38 per cent to about 45 per cent.
The proposed change would increase the taxes of corporation earning $5,000 or less by 19.5 per cent. Those earning between $31,250 and $71,428 would have their taxes cut. Then higher rates than at present would apply on corporations earning more than $71,428.
3. Increase individual income tax rates to the levels of 1945, by removing the reductions from those levels made in

Second Arms Aid Bill Looms As First Awaits Signature

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The new $1,222,500,000 foreign arms aid bill aimed at speeding up anti-Communist defense preparations around the world was ready for President Truman's signature Wednesday.

The measure authorizes a second year of American military assistance to friendly nations. It is to be followed soon by a new, and probably larger, request to Congress for more money for the same purpose. Some of Truman's advisers have recommended an additional $5,000,000,000 to meet the Korean crisis.

In the meantime, officials reported these developments in the effort to speed the flow of arms to North Atlantic Treaty nations and others receiving American backing.

1. Between $200,000,000 and $300,000,000 in orders have been placed this month without waiting for enactment of the second year program. Congress authorized the advance obligation of one month's funds at the highest rate of spending in the previous three months.

2. New depots soon may be opened and double work shifts ordered to shorten the weeks required for taking tanks, planes and other World War II weapons and equipment out of storage. Officials said the Defense Department has about decided on these steps for some ordinance, Air Force and Navy establishments.

After a slow start in getting the vast arms enterprise moving, an estimated 75,000 tons already has been shipped abroad.

Just what Truman will ask as the next installment hinges on the current meeting in London of the North Atlantic Council deputies.

The $1,222,500,000 arms authorization went to the White House a week ago immediately after President Truman laid down his $10,000,000,000 rearmament program for this country. The House approved it 361 to 1; the Senate 66 to 0.

State Property Tax Rate Set At 72 Cents

AUSTIN — (AP) — A statewide property tax rate totaling 72 cents on the $100 valuation was authorized Tuesday for the last time by the Automatic Tax Board.

Collection of the tax—levied for general revenue, public school, college building and confederate pension purposes—will begin October 1 and will be based on valuations as of January 1 this year.

Gov. Allan Shivers, chairman, and Comptroller Robert S. Calvert and Treasurer Jesse James, who make up the board, acted automatically in setting a 30-cent rate for general revenue purposes, 35 cents for schools, five cents for college buildings and two cents for the Confederate Pension Fund.

The 30-cent tax for the general revenue fund will not be levied statewide after this year. Texas voters repealed it by constitutional amendment in 1948, but left the state the right to levy the tax in counties receiving tax remissions. Other counties may assess the tax if the people vote to pay it for road building or flood control purposes.

Calvert estimated the general revenue fund will lose some 10 million dollars a year as a result of the repeal of this tax.

New Zealand Calls For Korea Volunteers

AUCKLAND, NEW ZEALAND — (AP) — Prime Minister Sydney Holland told the House of Commons Wednesday New Zealand has decided to send an artillery combat force to fight in Korea.

He said enlistment of volunteers would begin Thursday morning. It was not announced immediately how many men the government hoped to enroll for the overseas task.

Stuttering May Be Cured By Understanding Parents

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Stuttering is the most common type of speech disorder. The stut-terer constantly is embarrassed and too often becomes anxious, abnor- mally shy and terribly self-consci- ous. Since about 1,300,000 people in the United States are believed to stutter, this is no minor problem.

Stuttering is not inherited, but some people seem to be born with a greater tendency to stutter than others. Perhaps everyone has some tendency in this direction but the mental strain or emotional shock which causes this speech defect does not affect everyone. In any event, many children do not stutter at first and develop this difficulty only after some years. A calm home with absence of conflict and feeling of security for the child probably pre- vents stuttering in many who would have had this trouble under less favorable circumstances.

When a child has developed stut- tering, treatment should be begun at once. This includes special speech training methods and under- standing care in the home. A child who stutters should never be pun- ished with the object of breaking the habit. Calmness of the parents and avoidance of pressure on the child are most important.

Speech is formed principally by the larynx or voice box, the tongue and the lips. The stut-terer rarely has any structural abnormality of these parts. Stuttering, therefore, is a nervous or emotional distur- bance rather than a physical defect.

This, of course, does not mean that the stut-terer can stop at will or that he intends to stutter. Often the contrary is true. Often the stut-terer gets into most difficulty when he tries the hardest to stop it.

Calmness Helps Cure
Games and amusements which are too exciting or stimulating should be avoided. Family quarrels are most undesirable. In general, during the early stage of stuttering the effort should be to promote a calm life for the stuttering child in which quarrelling and excitement are avoided. Special schools often help the parents in conquering the difficulty. It is difficult for the stuttering youngster to avoid a feel- ing of inferiority and parents should be sympathetically aware of this additional problem.

Many severe stutters have con- quered their difficulty fully or par- tially. Stuttering does not mean that a youngster will not be able to take an active part in life. Many stutters as well as those with other speech defects have led highly successful lives in spite of their speech obstacle. When everyone works together on the problem much can be done for it.
