C-E Terry Slated For 11,100-Foot Wildcat By Ohio

The Ohio Oil Company has slated a 11,100-foot wildcat in Central-East Terry County, six miles south and slightly west of the Mound-Lake Pennsylvania pool.

The proposed venture is Ohio's No. 1-A R. Brownfield, located 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 10, block T, D&W survey.

Drill site is approximately seven miles east southeast of Brownfield, and 12 miles north of the Corrigan-Fusselman field.

Proposed depth should possibly test into the Mississippian zone in that area. Operations are to begin in the near future.

The No. 1 Brownfield is to be 1,900 feet east of a 1,070-foot dry hole drilled by J. A. Estes.

SW Scurry Wildcat Has Permian Shows

W. C. McBride, Inc., No. 1 E. M. Conrad, Southwest Scurry County wildcat, 17 miles southwest of Snyder, and three miles south of the southwest side of the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field, logged some signs of oil in samples and put a scum of oil in the pits in drilling the section at 4,527-40 feet in a lower Permian lime.

Operator was running a drillstem test at 4,525-40 feet.

A drilling break was encountered at 4,527 feet. The section drilled so far to 4,540 feet. The formation is some zone of the lower Permian.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 73, block 24, H&TC survey. The venture was originally started to dig to around 8,000 feet to explore through the Pennsylvania lime.

It is on a 40-acre farm to McBride from Amcan Oil Corporation. Deep Rock Oil Corporation and Phillips Petroleum Company are supporting the exploration.

Cisco Discovery For Schleicher Indicated

A possible producing well has been indicated at Plymouth Oil Company's No. 1 Tomerson, wildcat in Central-North Schleicher County, 12 miles south of the Susan Peak field which is in Southeast Tom Green County.

On a drillstem test taken at 3,240 to 3,265 feet in Cisco sand, with tool open two hours, recovery was 30 feet of slightly oil cut mud, 30 feet of drilling fluid containing 50 per cent oil and 50 per cent mud.

Bottom hole flowing pressure on the test was 26-55 pounds. After 15 minutes shut-in pressure was 100 pounds.

The wildcat is now on a drillstem test at 3,270-3,324 feet in Cisco sand and lime.

When this test is completed, operator will drill ahead. Contracted depth of the project is 6,500 feet, which is sufficient to explore the Ellenburger.

Exact location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 66, block H, GH&SA survey.

Borden Opener Won't Flow, Will Reacidize

Castieman & O'Neill and Walter Duncan No. 1 Rogers, prospective reef discovery in Central-South Borden County, failed to kick-off and flow after swabbing, and operators are preparing to reacidize with 5,000 gallons.

The open hole section at 7,948-75 feet already had been treated with 500 gallons of mud acid and 1,000 gallons of regular acid.

The No. 1 Rogers developed free oil on a drillstem test of the lime reef zone, topped 162 feet below the water level of the Vesimoor-Canyon field, four miles to the west.

Location of this prospective discovery is 660 feet from northwest and 560 feet from southwest lines of section 29, block 31, T&P survey, T-1-N.

Pennsylvanian Tester Staked In NW Borden

British American Oil Producing Company and others is to begin operations in the immediate future on a Pennsylvanian wildcat in extreme Northwest Borden County.

The proposed venture, No. 1 W. T. Shockley, will be six and one-fourth miles south and slightly east of the recently discovered O'Donnell Pennsylvanian pool in Southeast Lynn County.

Exact location is 1,363 feet from the most northerly and 660 feet from the most easterly lines of section 5, block 1, E. A. Oglethorn survey.

British American acquired an undivided half-interest in approximately 3,000 acres from Shamrock Oil & Gas Corporation for the drilling of the test, which must go 200 feet into the Pennsylvanian or 9,000 feet.

Discovery In Crane Causes Large Flow

A large-flowing upper Clear Fork discovery has been reported in extreme Northwest Borden County.

Pfc. Glenn Parrott

Midland Boy Pictured In Korea-Alive

"Exhausted and unshaven American infantrymen sleep on ration boxes and rocky roadside," ran the caption under a picture from the Korean front in the July 17 issue of Life magazine.

One of the three sleeping doughboys pictured was Pfc. Glenn Parrott, 24-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Parrott, 1117 North Colorado Street, Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. Parrott were the victims of a grim and unnecessary shock over the weekend when friends and relatives deluged them with calls of condolence over the rumored death in action of their son.

The calls were appreciated, however. "We didn't know we had so many friends," Mrs. Parrott beamed.

They have received no official report on his whereabouts but he is believed to be entrenched with his comrades south of the strategic Nakdong River. Parrott is with an Intelligence and Reconnaissance Platoon in the 21st Regiment of the 25th Division.

A letter of July 19 from "somewhere in Korea" was the last word received by his parents. "There is nothing to worry about," wrote Parrott.

Shell Whines Not New

The 25th Division has been fighting doggedly against overwhelming odds since the start of hostilities six weeks ago. Observer have called the action "hotter than Bastogne," where 80,000 American soldiers died during the Battle of the Bulge.

Desperado Eludes Posse In Rugged Missouri Ozarks

EMINENCE, MO. —(P)—A crack-shot desperado, accused of killing three persons eluded a posse in rugged Southern Missouri timberlands Wednesday for the second straight day.

More than 100 men pursued 39-year-old William Harris, an ex-convict. Bloodhounds were being used in the chase.

Harris fled into the hills of the Ozarks after a triple slaying in a farmhouse near this tiny Southern Missouri town.

He is accused of killing his own daughter, four-year-old Barbara Harris; Richard Fansler, 63, a farmer, and Fansler's son, Homer L. Fansler.

The farmer's wife, Rosa, 60, and his brother-in-law, Elmer Nichols, 42, were wounded. It was believed the killing of Harris' daughter during the melee was accidental. A motive for the slayings has not been established.

★ LATE NEWS FLASHES ★

WASHINGTON —(AP)—W. Averell Harriman came back from a Tokyo meeting with Gen. Douglas MacArthur Wednesday and reported to President Truman that American forces are confident they can drive the Communists out of South Korea.

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee decided Wednesday to recommend anti-subversive legislation stronger than that proposed by President Truman.

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The White House, apparently fearing a railroad tieup as defense activities are being stepped up, Wednesday disclosed it has intervened in an effort to settle the dispute over the 40-hour work week for conductors and trainmen.

ANTWERP, BELGIUM —(AP)—Philip Johann Schmitt, former German commander of the Breenwack Concentration Camp near Antwerp, was executed by a firing squad Wednesday.

10,050 More Texans To Get Draft Notices

AUSTIN —(P)—Texas draft boards Wednesday were asked to call another 10,050 men for draft physical examinations from September 5-15.

This brings to 30,150 the number of Texans ordered called for physicals since the outbreak of hostilities in Korea.

Brig. Gen Paul L. Wakefield, state Selective Service director, said the new call is in anticipation of a call for November inductions.

No November call has been received, he said, but National Selective Service Headquarters has advised him to be prepared.

Physical examinations for the November group will be given from September 5-8 and 11-15 at Abilene, Amarillo, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Houston, San Antonio, Texarkana and Shreveport, La.

Wakefield said local board quotas for the November physicals will be the same as for the months of September and October.

He said present plans call for no other men to be asked to take physical examinations until late in October.

Reserve Deferrals

Wakefield's office also received official notice from Washington Wednesday that draft registrants enlisted in an organized reserve unit or in the National Guard will have their orders to report for physicals or inductions postponed.

The general said registrants can join organized units either before or after being placed in 1A draft status, before or after receiving an order to report for physical examination or before or after receiving an order to report for induction.

He said such men actually "swap one liability for another."

Under the new ruling, he said, draft registrants who are commissioned officers or warrant officers in the reserves or National Guard also can receive draft postponements.

Such postponements, Wakefield said, will be for an indefinite time "until terminated by the director of Selective Service in Washington."

The Owner Was Lucky, The Thief Had Remorse Pang

The pangs of remorse! And wasn't this Midland man lucky? Listen to the story:

Ernest Neill, sheet metal company owner, found a valuable pistol was missing from the glove compartment of his automobile.

"Yes, we have your gun and we got it in a strange way, the sheriff's department, reported, when Neill made known his loss.

It seems the sheriff's department had received an anonymous telephone call with the party saying: "I stole a man's gun. I am sorry I did it. It will be left in the rest room of the courthouse.

Officers hurried there and sure enough—there was the gun.

Absentee Balloting Going Slowly Here

Absentee voting for the second Democratic primary August 26 got off to a slow start this week with only seven ballots cast at noon Wednesday. The absentee balloting began Monday.

Voting via the absentee clerk will be closed August 23, County Clerk Lucille Johnson announced. All voters who will not be in Midland for the primary election are eligible to vote absentee.

Canadian River Bill Blocked In Senate

WASHINGTON —(P)—A bill to authorize an $85,000,000 project to supply Canadian River water to a dozen West Texas cities was blocked in the Senate Wednesday.

Administration leaders called the measure up under a procedure in which bills are passed without discussion if no senator objects.

Senator Schoepfel (R-Kan) objected.

MARINE PATROL MOVES FORWARD—Marines of the First Division move forward over mountainous terrain in South Korea. This is a patrol action which marked the current U. S. drive against the Communist troops.

Doughboys Break Up Mad Ko-Red 'Victory' Charge In Hand-To-Hand Combat

WITH U. S. FORCES IN SOUTH KOREA —(P)— American doughboys, driving toward Chinju, silently clasped hands on a hill five miles west of Chindong at dawn Wednesday.

Then they stormed out of their foxholes with fixed bayonets and broke up a wild Korean Red "victory" charge in hand-to-hand combat.

It was one of many skirmishes as the Army's Fifth Regimental Combat Team broke out of the Chindong bottleneck during the night and drove five miles west toward Chinju.

"We went up the hill in pitch darkness," said Capt. Frederick Griffith of Cleveland, Ohio.

"One machine gun opened up on us from our left flank and hit two of our men. But we didn't even bother with the machine gun. We kept going. The hill was our objective.

"We got up on the hill and started to dig in. Just then we heard a bunch of goats hollering 'Victory' in English from a high hill in front of us. They started to come down.

"I gave the order to fix bayonets. Then we all clasped hands before dawn.

WASHINGTON —(P)—The House Banking Committee Wednesday completed action on a bill to give President Truman broad powers to curb inflation for a limited time.

In most respects the bill is similar to one approved Monday by the Senate Banking Committee. The major difference is that the Senate bill would keep the powers in effect until June 30, 1952. The House bill would end them one year earlier.

Otherwise the two bills provide standby power for the President to impose wage and price ceilings and rationing, to allocate scarce materials, to make production loans for defense purposes and to curb consumer and real estate credit.

House leaders hoped to pass the bill late Wednesday but there was a chance the final vote may not be reached until Thursday.

Two More Texans Wounded In Korea

WASHINGTON —(P)—The Defense Department Wednesday announced the following Army casualties in the Korean area:

"Texas wounded": Pfc. Willie G. McIntosh, Austin, and S/PC Frank L. Ratcliff, Orange.

GALVESTON —(P)—The Republican candidates for governor and lieutenant governor of Texas said they were going to show the Democrats they were running.

At the close of their state convention here Tuesday the party named Ralph Currie, Dallas lawyer, to carry its banner for governor and Mrs. Marjorie McCorquodale, Houston, for lieutenant governor. Mrs. John Darden of Midland was nominated for state treasurer.

"I intend to make an active campaign and go wherever I am invited," said Currie, a well-dressed, sandy-haired 46-year-old corporation lawyer with a neatly clipped mustache.

Invaders Set Back In Two Vital Sectors

TOKYO —(P)— North Koreans Thursday retreated before U. S. onslaughts on the southern and western fronts and pilots said the enemy was preparing to flee his southern base at Chinju.

U. S. patrols were only seven miles east of that bomb-wrecked city 55 miles west of the main supply port of Pusan. Chinju is the apparent objective of a U. S. counteroffensive on the south coast.

General MacArthur's war summary said American forces farther south had run into heavy opposition in their attempt to trap North Korean troops by linking up with the main body east of Chinju.

This pinners southeast of Chinju last was reported within seven miles of closing.

Gains averaging about three miles were reported along the southern front.

The summary, covering fighting of the last 24 hours, said two enemy battalions—possibly 1,600 men—supported by tanks were "eliminated" from one bridgehead on the Nakdong River.

But the enemy still was trying to breach the river line, which protects Taegu, front-line city and refugee South Korean capital 55 miles northwest of Pusan.

The enemy was putting the pressure along the northern front—the roof of the shrunken Allied position in southeast Korea.

South Koreans were forced to make a two-mile withdrawal at unspecified points on the northern sector, the headquarters summary reported.

The North Koreans also were building up their forces in the Yongdok sector, on the east coast end of the front.

In combat ranging from bayonet attacks to tank-busting, American doughboys forced the Reds to retreat in the deep south.

South Koreans slammed invaders back across the Nakdong River on the central front.

American attacks in the south picked up momentum and reeled the Reds backward toward ruined Chinju, Communist base.

The Fifth Regimental Combat Team was only seven miles from a link-up with the 35th Regimental Combat Team.

Two Bridgeheads Crushed

The junction may trap many Red troops. The Americans had been bogged down for two days near Chindong. They jumped off before dawn Wednesday on the new attack. Marines were rolling ahead with them.

Defenders of the Nakdong River line to the north shoved the Reds out of two river crossing bridgeheads. The U. S. 24th Division herded others into an open spot from the hills and poured artillery shells into them.

Serious threats to the important Taegu area on the central front were eased by the American and South Korean successes. The cheer— (Continued On Page 14)

Mrs. A. Benge Dies In Angelo Hospital

SAN ANGELO—Mrs. Arch Benge, 69, wife of a prominent West Texas rancher, died at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday in a hospital here. She had been ill several weeks.

Funeral services were scheduled at 5 p.m. Wednesday at the Robert Massie Funeral Home. Interment was scheduled in Fairmont Cemetery.

Mrs. Benge was active in fine arts activities and had resided in San Angelo for 30 years.

Survivors include the husband, who came to this section in 1882 and ranched in this vicinity for 50 years, and owns ranch interests in Midland and Ector Counties; a daughter, Mrs. John S. Braun, 1201 West Cuthbert Street, Midland; two other daughters, two grandsons and a granddaughter.

Texas Polio Rages Near Summer Peak

AUSTIN —(P)—Polio raged near its summer peak last week with 122 new Texas cases.

The week's incidence compared with the year's record of 124 cases reported for the week ended July 15 and again for the week ended July 15.

The new cases brought the year's total to 1,517, up 299 above incidences for the comparable period last year.

When Dan Barnhart of Denton rose to nominate someone from his district for comptroller, somebody interrupted, saying: "Well, how about old Barnhart for comptroller?" Barnhart then was named.

The Republicans worried about whether they should nominate someone for state agriculture commissioner or leave the post vacant—their usual custom to show approval of the Democratic nominee. J. E. McDonald. They decided to leave it vacant.

Other candidates: Attorney general—Nat Friedman, Houston lawyer.

Land commissioner—Charles Adams of Jacksonville.

Secret Service Nabs Counterfeit Suspects

WASHINGTON —(P)—The Secret Service Wednesday announced the arrest of two men in a lonely mountain cabin at DeSoto, Mo., on charges of passing $12,000 in counterfeit ten-dollar bills in 23 states.

Secret Service Chief U. E. Baughman said the men were scheduled for arraignment Wednesday before a U. S. commissioner in St. Louis. He named them as:

Melvin Godfrey Parsons, 57, of Crystal City, Mo., charged with manufacturing the bills.

Louis Elmer Shew, 41, of DeSoto, charged with passing the bogus money on grocers and other storekeepers throughout the West, Southwest and Southeast.

Baughman said the men were arrested separately Tuesday and Tuesday night at a cabin where Shew has been living on the edge of the Ozark Mountains.

He said complete printing equipment, including press and 40 plates, were seized, together with 25 finished ten-dollar counterfeit notes.

"Kangaroo." It's Paul Douglas' story about opening night nerves. Producers Max Gordon and Garson Kanin had a worse case of jitters than Paul himself did on opening night of "Born Yesterday." They had good reason to wonder if they were nuts putting a radio announcer into a top Broadway role. But Fred Allen reassured them with: "Don't worry about Paul. To him this is just another long commercial."

They're tossing Academy award winners into Barry Sullivan's arms these days and telling him that it's a sure sign he's arrived. Fighting Manpower U. S. Greatest Need, Says Senate Leader

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Fighting manpower was listed by Senator Tydings (D-Md.) Wednesday as America's first probable shortage in mobilizing for the future.

Tydings, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, at the same time questioned proposals for enlisting Japanese volunteers or rearming Western Germans.

"I think our biggest need in the immediate future will be trained manpower," Tydings told a reporter. "We will need more ground fighting forces."

Tydings said he thought Congress would give quick approval to President Truman's requests for about $15,000,000 additional for defense spending and foreign military arms aid. It was asked since U. S. forces went into Korea to halt Communist aggression there.

Unless there are unexpected developments outside of Korea, I think we will have plenty of funds and equipment in the near future," Tydings continued. "The squeeze, if any, will be on fighting manpower."

A reporter suggested these comments might indicate a new drive in Congress for the universal military training (UMT) programs asked several times by President Truman.

Tydings said he was not thumping for UMT but as usual would present any recommendations from the Defense Department and Army, Navy or Air Force to the Senate and his committee.

20th Annual Convention Of West Texas Press Association Slated In Abilene This Weekend

ABILENE—The men and women who edit and publish West Texas newspapers will gather in Abilene Thursday through Saturday for the 20th annual convention of the West Texas Press Association.

Business sessions will all be in Parlor A, Wooten Hotel. The convention headquarters will be at the Windsor Hotel and registrations will be taken there beginning at 4 p.m. Thursday.

Five main entertainment features have been arranged for the visitors by Howard McMahon, publisher of the host newspaper, The Reporter-News, and by John Wombie, manager of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce.

The first will be a reception Thursday evening beginning at 7 o'clock at the Abilene Club in the Wooten Hotel. The party will be given by the West Texas Fair Association, headed by D. H. Jeter.

West Texas Utilities Company will host at the Friday luncheon, 12:15 p.m. at the Wooten Hotel Ballroom. Craig will preside, Hamilton Wright of The Reporter-News will give the invocation and the luncheon address will be by Dr. Victor Chapin, Sul Ross College exchange professor from Norway.

The Reporter-News will entertain the news folk Friday night with informal dinner and dancing at the Abilene Country Club beginning at 7 p.m. Hosts will be Publisher McMahon and Managing Editor Hal Sayles.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce will give its traditional breakfast for the news association Saturday at 7:30 a.m. at the Windsor Hotel Ballroom and the West Central Texas Oil and Gas Association, of which French Robertson is president, will host the Saturday luncheon.

James N. Allison, publisher of the Midland Reporter-Telegram, will preside at the final luncheon. Gov. Allan Shivers has been invited to give the luncheon address, but it has not yet been determined whether he can be present.

Wombie, president of the Reporter-News, publisher of the Hockley County Herald and president of the association, will open the first of the business sessions Friday at 9:30 a.m. Mayor Hudson Smart of Abilene will give the welcome to the city and Gene Carter of the Baylor County Banner will make the response.

The Friday morning session will be a general one, devoted largely to study of problems facing West Texas newspapers. George Baker, publisher of the Fort Stockton Pioneer, will discuss mandatory publication laws.

The use of photography will get special attention. Don Hutcheson, Reporter-News photographer who has won a large share of press photo contests the last three years, will discuss news pictures.

Frank King, Associated Press executive from Dallas, will display prize-winning photography and Jack Harper of Harper-Standard Engraving Company will tell the newsmen how to re-touch pictures.

Main address Friday morning will be by H. R. Ekins, publisher of the Goldthwaite Eagle, who will describe his experience "From War Correspondent to Country Editor."

Ekin was a United Press correspondent in the Far East for seven years, covered the Italo-Ethiopian War and worked all over the world. In 1949 his health forced him to a different mode of living.

The general convention will gather after lunch Friday to hear an address by the state editor of Associated Press, Bill Barnard, at 2 p.m.

Then the association will be divided into two groups for special round-table discussions.

The women's panel, presided over by Mrs. R. F. Mahood of Stamford, is being introduced this year for the first time. Panel speakers will be Aileen Haas of Stamford, Kathryn Duff of The Reporter-News, Mrs. Marvin Hunter, Jr. of the Baird Star and Mrs. Carl England of the Morton Tribune.

Hunter To Preside Marvin Hunter, Jr., Baird publisher, will direct the round table for men. His speakers will be M. S. Sellers, Ring Starr, Gene Baker, Gorman; Bill Fink, representative of Merzenthaler Lino-type Company; Wendell Bedichek, Abilene Christian College publicity director; McMahon of the Reporter-News, and Ed Sprowls of Anson.

Jack Scott, Cross Plains publisher, will preside at the general meeting Saturday morning. CC Manager Wombie will speak on "Newspapers' Responsibility to the Community" and Joe Pouns of Pecos will talk about semi-weeklies. Bill Woody of San Angelo Standard-Times will discuss classified advertising.

Winners of the newspaper contests will be announced at the closing business session Saturday afternoon. New officers will be elected and invitations for the 1951 convention will be presented.

IPAA 'Producers' To Be Honored At Party In St. Louis A baseball party will be held September 30 in St. Louis, Mo., for press representatives and "producers" on the membership committee of the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

Robert L. Wood, of Midland, IPAA membership chairman, said the event would recognize the work of members of his committee. It will precede the twenty-first annual meeting of the association scheduled for October 1-3 in St. Louis.

Wood said the event would consist of an awards dinner to honor individual members for outstanding membership extension work. The group will attend the St. Louis Cardinals - Chicago Cubs tilt in Sportsman's Park, which may determine the National League's World Series team.

Oil writers arriving for early sessions of the three-day meeting will be guests at the awards dinner and the Saturday night baseball game, Wood said. Wives of qualified committee members also will be invited.

the Midland Reporter-Telegram, will preside at the final luncheon. Gov. Allan Shivers has been invited to give the luncheon address, but it has not yet been determined whether he can be present.

Wombie, president of the Reporter-News, publisher of the Hockley County Herald and president of the association, will open the first of the business sessions Friday at 9:30 a.m. Mayor Hudson Smart of Abilene will give the welcome to the city and Gene Carter of the Baylor County Banner will make the response.

Frank King, Associated Press executive from Dallas, will display prize-winning photography and Jack Harper of Harper-Standard Engraving Company will tell the newsmen how to re-touch pictures.

Main address Friday morning will be by H. R. Ekins, publisher of the Goldthwaite Eagle, who will describe his experience "From War Correspondent to Country Editor."

Ekin was a United Press correspondent in the Far East for seven years, covered the Italo-Ethiopian War and worked all over the world. In 1949 his health forced him to a different mode of living.

The general convention will gather after lunch Friday to hear an address by the state editor of Associated Press, Bill Barnard, at 2 p.m.

Then the association will be divided into two groups for special round-table discussions.

The women's panel, presided over by Mrs. R. F. Mahood of Stamford, is being introduced this year for the first time. Panel speakers will be Aileen Haas of Stamford, Kathryn Duff of The Reporter-News, Mrs. Marvin Hunter, Jr. of the Baird Star and Mrs. Carl England of the Morton Tribune.

Hunter To Preside Marvin Hunter, Jr., Baird publisher, will direct the round table for men. His speakers will be M. S. Sellers, Ring Starr, Gene Baker, Gorman; Bill Fink, representative of Merzenthaler Lino-type Company; Wendell Bedichek, Abilene Christian College publicity director; McMahon of the Reporter-News, and Ed Sprowls of Anson.

Jack Scott, Cross Plains publisher, will preside at the general meeting Saturday morning. CC Manager Wombie will speak on "Newspapers' Responsibility to the Community" and Joe Pouns of Pecos will talk about semi-weeklies. Bill Woody of San Angelo Standard-Times will discuss classified advertising.

Winners of the newspaper contests will be announced at the closing business session Saturday afternoon. New officers will be elected and invitations for the 1951 convention will be presented.

D. K. Brown Tells Baptist Brotherhood Of FBI Activities

The two things that the Federal Bureau of Investigation is primarily concerned with at the present time is the internal security of the nation which involves the Atomic Energy Act and the curtailment of subversive activities, D. K. Brown, special agent in charge of the FBI field office in El Paso, said in an address to the First Baptist Brotherhood Tuesday in the Recreational Hall.

The internal security of civilians is the responsibility of the FBI. The duties that are involved at this time are centered around the A-bomb production, research and development. The Atomic Energy Act gives the bureau its authority. However, this involves more protective measures rather than punitive, Brown stated.

The problem of subversive activities is even greater than during the last war because the larger part of the agents were aliens and could be charged with violations that would not involve an American citizen. However, today, 89 per cent of the Communist agents in America are citizens and 95 per cent of this number are American born citizens, Brown said. There is the problem of violating the individual rights of the citizen.

Not Helpless, However
However, the FBI is not completely helpless. Eleven nationwide Communist leaders have been convicted in New York City recently. Twenty-one leaders were cited for contempt of court in Los Angeles and 14 on the same charge in Denver, Colo. There is a possibility that this may eventually cause the failure to produce leaders for the Communist groups in the United States, according to Brown.

In the past several years, the number of Communists in America has dropped from 70,000 to 54,273. The FBI now has 38,000 special agents. With the number of Communists and several thousand other radicals, it is impossible for the FBI to do its job by itself. The local law-enforcing agents and the loyal citizens of the country serve to help the bureau.

Suggestions Listed
When asked what the citizen can do to help the bureau, Brown gave these things:

1. Do not talk about security information. If you must talk, tell it to the FBI.
2. Feel free to furnish any information to the local FBI agent.
3. Avoid repeating idle rumor and gossip about suspected persons.
4. Don't make private investigations.
5. Do not form any sort of vigilante groups.
6. Be alert to phony appeals for peace and the protection of civil rights. This is the way the Communists work.

Noel Cason, a former FBI agent, introduced Brown. Wesley Martin, president, presided at the meeting. Approximately 30 persons attended.

Happy Old Couple Can Give Youth A Wonderful Lesson

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Every young married couple, it seems to me, would benefit greatly from knowing well some elderly couple who have managed to stay happy, alert and in love through the years.

It's the best reminder possible that whether a couple winds up their later years bravely facing what is ahead together the way they started out depends on how much love, mutual respect and joyful companionship they put into their marriage while it is young.

I met such an elderly couple the other day. The wife now is bed-ridden. But she's not object of pity. Her husband's loving concern for her—all the little thoughtful things he does to make her comfortable, the way she smiles at her and teases her like a young man in love, the way she laughs at his little jokes, takes pride in the things he is doing that she can no longer do with him—shows that she is a woman loved. It doesn't matter if her hair is snow white and she has to be lifted from her bed to a wheel chair to enjoy the flowers her husband tends so well, because she always has loved flowers.

Still A Beauty
"She's walked hundreds of miles with me on hunting trips," her husband said, giving her a proud smile. And then, when he showed me his den, there was on his desk a recent photograph of his wife next to a picture of her taken on her wedding day.

From the way he held each picture for a moment and studied it, it was evident that he found his wife as beautiful as a white-haired woman as she had been as a black-haired, smiling bride.

Young couples today need to know such older couples. They are a wonderful lesson in what marriage can be and mean through the years. From a happy, old couple any young husband and wife could learn more about living than from all the "How-to" books ever written by the experts. For the only real experts on living are those who have made a success of their own lives.

Arthur Trasierra, 1410 Desire St., sexton at the St. Vincent De-Paul Cemetery at New Orleans, La., thinks a sick man is a mighty poor man but a man in the pink of health is wealthy as can be. Mr. Trasierra says he is worth plenty, thanks to HADACOL, for he learned that his system lacked Vitamins B1, B2, Nicotin and Iron which HADACOL contains.

Here is Mr. Trasierra's own statement: "I had been sick for some time. The trouble mainly was in my stomach. I was unable to eat any fried food at all. I was very nervous and it affected my work. Now that I have been taking HADACOL my stomach is in tip top condition and my nerves are just fine. My appetite has improved, too, and fried foods are on our menu at least several times a week. That's because I have been taking HADACOL—and you can bet your life I won't stop taking HADACOL. I never tire of telling my friends how wonderful HADACOL is."

What HADACOL Does
HADACOL helps to build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ, and every part of your body—to the heart, liver, kidneys, and lungs, even to the eyes, hair and nails. Countless thousands whose systems were deficient in Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Nicotin are benefiting from HADACOL... even hundreds of doctors have recommended HADACOL to their patients.

Give HADACOL a chance to help you. Refuse substitutes. Don't let anyone tell you something else is "just as good." Invest on genuine HADACOL. You risk nothing because HADACOL is sold only on a strict money-back guarantee. You'll feel better with the first few bottles you take or your money will be refunded. Trial Size only $1.25. Russia's Greatest Weapons

You find waves and waves of men approaching you. You fire your machine gun and row after row goes down. But they never stop coming. You fire until the gun is hot in your hands and still that irresistible tide sweeps toward you.

It is like trying to stop the ocean coming in, and after a while you feel it is hopeless to try to stop them, and you either give up or run away.

Sounds familiar, doesn't it? Like a GI talking about the fanatical North Koreans. But it isn't. It's a former German officer telling an American reporter in Paris about the Russians in World War II.

There's a crucial parallel, however, between the North Koreans today and the Soviet soldiers of 1941-45. In the Soviet Union, in China and the various Russian satellites, human life is cheap. In much of the Communist realm, it is also plentiful.

Communism emphasizes masses of men, not individuals. A man is literally the property of the state. Whether in peace or war, he's expendable. As a soldier, he's a weapon of war in a very real sense.

Much is being made these days of Russia's great superiority over the West in tanks, planes, guns and submarines. Rightly so. But even if we devise effective defenses against this material, that will not be sufficient. How do we plan to throw back those waves upon waves of men?

Korea has shown us how hard it is to check advances by an army which utterly disregards its own manpower losses. We can be sure that wherever communism marches, that same callous use of men as weapons will be evident.

To make it worse, Russia and her Communist satellites have a defensive weapon of unparalleled value: millions of square miles of space. As it takes extraordinary means to offset the great mass of Red forces, so it requires similar measures to win and control such space.

The Western world naturally hopes it never will have to try conquering Communist manpower and space. But it is preparing to defend itself against a Soviet Union which might want war.

It's entirely fitting that we should be thinking of new and better anti-tank, anti-aircraft and anti-submarine weapons as we build that defense. But shouldn't we also be devising some highly destructive anti-human weapons?

The West can't match communism's numbers if a test comes. And we can't count, either, on the costly atomic bomb. Its practical worth against millions of men on a battlefield is unknown.

Any American and western military planning that does not take Red manpower and land area into account is unreal. The enemy foot soldier is still the man to be beaten.

Green is the most soothing color, according to a writer. Especially if there is a one, or a five, or a 10 on it.

Three's A Crowd

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Drew Pearson says: U. S. has not worked at spreading democracy; Student exchange is best way for people to get to know each other; Armed mobilization must be accompanied by moral mobilization.

WASHINGTON—This is the last column I shall write before taking a couple of weeks off, and naturally I should like to make it a good one.

However, here are some contrasts affecting our future which the American public ought to know about and which congress will have a chance to rectify—if it wants to.

Contrast number 1—Between 1-200 and 2,000 Chinese students are going to Moscow every month to become indoctrinated in the ways of the Soviet.

Meanwhile, a printer from Akron, Ohio, Fred W. Danner, walked into the State Department and offered to compensate for the niggardliness of congress by printing 1,000,000 colored booklets telling the story of America. Free. His offer was accepted.

Moral Mobilization The above pertains only to channels for telling the story of America to foreign countries. It does not pertain to telling the story of America to Americans—which also is necessary.

For when we exhibit strong moral leadership at home, such leadership spills over to other countries and gives us world leadership, too.

Contrast number 2—The Russians recently invited the publisher of three Indo-Chinese newspapers to Moscow, where they gave him a special parade of the Red Army.

Meanwhile, in Washington we entertain such important oriental visitors as the mayor of Tokyo and members of the Japanese parliament at cheaper hotels near the Union station, where we allow only $10 a day to cover all meals, hotel room and everything else—all because a niggardly Congress has cut the "exchange of persons" budget to the bone.

These distinguished visitors are told that President Truman is too busy to see them, though Stalin takes times to see leading officials. However, many state and city officials—with the notable exception of Boston—have done their best to be hospitable while federal officials have done as much as they could within their penny-pinched budget.

Contrast Number 3—In Latin America the president who is friendliest to the United States was educated at the University of Maryland and the University of California. He is President Galo Plaza of Ecuador, who also runs one of the steadiest governments in Latin America.

Many Pro-American In Argentina the navy and air force are vigorously pro-American. Reason: Their commanding officers trained as cadets in the U. S. A.

The Argentine army was partly trained by Germans and is anti-American. In Brazil, the navy is also strong for the United States because its officers went to Annapolis. The Brazilian army, trained by Europeans, did not rush to join the

Have A Laugh

Little Willie appeared from behind the palm over in the corner just as a young man was kissing the little fellow's sister. Blushing, the caller thrust his hand in his pocket and brought it out with a quarter. The boy took the money but handed back 15 cents in change, saying: "One price to all; that's the way I do business."

80 Openings Exist In Midland

Openings still exist in Midland Company E. 2nd Battalion, 112th Armored Cavalry Regiment, National Guard, for 80 new men, Warrant Officers. Royce Howard announced Wednesday. All men between the ages of 18 and 35 are eligible to enlist in the unit.

Col. Hugh J. Fitzgerald, U. S. Army instructor for the 112th Cavalry, and Maj. Rollin M. Brightbill, of Pecos, will visit the Midland unit during the regular drill period Thursday night. Everyone is invited to visit the drill.

The guard unit here is headquartered in Building T-247 at Midland Airport. Telephone number is 3900. Howard urges all young men to investigate the advantages offered by the National Guard.

That is why dollars today are not as important as ideas. That is why armed mobilization must be accompanied by moral mobilization, and most important of all why we cannot influence the world—or ourselves—without giving mankind hope.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

"We have come across a defensive play that was not actually made in one of our recent games," writes a Birmingham correspondent.

"We discovered later on that the hand could have been set by the proper play. However, we do not see how West could have known that this was the correct play.

"West led the five of spades, East played the queen, and South won with the ace. South led a small diamond, West played the nine, dummy's jack was finessed, and Bridge hand diagram showing cards in each hand and a dealer's list.

East won with the ace. East then returned the seven of spades. South played the jack, and West made the fatal mistake of winning with his king.

"Now South was sure to make his contract. He won the spade return with the ten, took his clubs, and led from dummy towards his queen of hearts. East could take the king of hearts, but could not prevent South from making the contract with two spades, two hearts, one diamond and four clubs.

"After the hand had been played, somebody pointed out that West could have defeated the contract by refusing the second round of spades. Whenever East got the lead with his king of hearts, he would return his last spade. West could then take the king and the rest of the spades.

"Is this something that West should have known? Or would you say that West was unlucky?" I am sorry to say that West was not unlucky. He should have known what the situation was.

When East returned the seven of spades, it should have been clear that he was returning his top spade. South was therefore marked with the jack and the ten. If South also had the deuce of spades, there was very little that West could do to defeat the contract.

As a matter of fact, this is a standard defensive play. When the opening leader has begun a long suit against no-trump, he should not always hasten to take a top card at the first opportunity. By ducking he may make it possible for his partner to lead the suit again when it has been fully established.

Break The Bank At that time, the Spaniards had not applied to the U. S. government for any loans, but soon after that they did. Formal application was made for a $700,000 loan to modernize and enlarge a fertilizer plant. That application now is before Export-Import Bank and may be granted some time soon, whether or not the McCarran-O'Mahoney amendment is finally approved.

In May, Andres Moreno, director of Banco-Hispano-Americano, came to Washington and talked somewhat grandly about Spain's need for credits of $1,250,000,000. As this was $400,000,000 more than the bank's total assets, the idea was rejected.

Spain then came back and began discussions on the possibility of obtaining export-import Bank loans for a total of nearly $70,000,000. For more fertilizer plants, $12,000,000; for mining machinery, $6,000,000; for commercial plants, $6,000,000; for electric power plants, $5,000,000; for railroad equipment, $15,000,000, and for tractors, $20,000,000.

The Spaniards were told to go back and prepare certain financial data on their country's economy. These data now have been submitted and are under study by Export-Import Bank officials. But formal applications for these loans have not been made yet by the Spanish government.

To these projects, however, Senator McCarran added $12,000,000 for construction and improvement of airports and $10,000,000 for cotton. The first would have a vote appeal for military-minded senators and the second for Southern cotton belt senators. The total rounds out to the $100,000,000 figure.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

How Spanish Loan Plan Was Put Across In House

WASHINGTON—There is considerable monkey business behind Nevada Senator Pat McCarran's surprise victory on the $100,000,000 Spanish loan authorization. As amended by Wyoming Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney, the McCarran proposal would direct Marshall Plan Administrator Paul Hoffman to issue $100,000,000 in notes. Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder would be directed to buy these notes. The money then would be loaned to Spain under terms of the Marshall Plan act. Export-Import Bank would be the collecting agency.

Effect of the McCarran-O'Mahoney amendment would be to give Generalissimo Francisco Franco $100,000,000 worth of Marshall Plan loan benefits, without Spain's being admitted to Marshall Plan membership. Interest rates and repayment terms would be more liberal under a Marshall Plan loan than under a straight Export-Import Bank loan. Also, Spain would not be required to live up to the obligations of other Marshall Plan countries.

In other words, this is a back-door approach. Similar Spanish aid proposals have been made by Senator McCarran in the past, but they have always been defeated. The last time was April of this year, when the vote was 35 senators for the Spanish loan, to 46 against.

War Forces 'Aye' Vote The switch to a 67 to 15 vote for Senator McCarran largely is a result of the Korean crisis. It also is the result of considerable pressure from the Department of Defense, which for some months has been eager to have Spain cut in on North Atlantic Pact defense plans. Congress—and the Senate in particular—now wants to do everything it can to build up military strength against Communist threats all over the world. And the sky seems to be the limit on what Congress is willing to appropriate for this end.

During the Senate debate on the McCarran-O'Mahoney amendment, however, there were a couple of distortions of fact. One was a statement that the State Department was opposed to a Spanish loan. The other was a statement that the Export-Import Bank had been slow in granting credit to Spain. It was for these reasons that the Senate wanted to force the issue by requiring that loans be made through the Marshall Plan.

As a matter of record, on April 27, Senate Foreign Relations Committee Chairman Tom Connally released a letter from Secretary of State Dean Acheson which said: "... the normal channel for credit from the United States government, namely the Export-Import Bank, is open to Spain on the same basis as any other country. ... The department believes that this normal channel, of which the Spaniards have not yet availed themselves, should be utilized for projects in Spain requiring financial assistance from the United States government."

At that time, the Spaniards had not applied to the U. S. government for any loans, but soon after that they did. Formal application was made for a $700,000 loan to modernize and enlarge a fertilizer plant. That application now is before Export-Import Bank and may be granted some time soon, whether or not the McCarran-O'Mahoney amendment is finally approved.

In May, Andres Moreno, director of Banco-Hispano-Americano, came to Washington and talked somewhat grandly about Spain's need for credits of $1,250,000,000. As this was $400,000,000 more than the bank's total assets, the idea was rejected.

Questions and Answers

Q—How should a puppy be registered? A—You cannot register a pup unless the litter has been registered. That does not mean that each pup in a litter has to be registered individually, but rather that the breeder registers the litter as a whole.

Q—What type of religion is Lamalism? A—Lamalism practiced in Tibet, is a form of Buddhism.

Q—What nation besides the United States celebrates its independence on July 4? A—The Philippines. On July 4, 1946, the independent Republic of the Philippines was proclaimed.

Q—Why is South Carolina called the Palmetto State? A—During the attack on Fort Sullivan, in Charleston Harbor, 1776, it was found that the soft palmetto logs of which the fort was built did not splinter when hit by shells from the British fleet. The shells burrowed into the palmetto logs with little effect, thus aiding the South Carolinians, who later expressed their gratitude to the tree by making it the nickname of their state.

THE STORY: Del Derram, private detective, is hired by Frank Phajol, a commercial diamond dealer, as a bodyguard on a trip to Copper City, Ariz., to sell $25,000 worth of diamonds. A big spender, a big spender, a big spender, Derram is to take the job in spite of Phajol's reputation for being a "carbon." Later Pat tells Derram her father served a prison term for jewel robbery, but she insists that he is not a criminal.

Phajol got the huge lot of diamonds he is taking to Copper City. The briefcase as I carried her bag into the hotel. Phajol wanted to carry his own. He registered for us all.

The clerk accepted the briefcase and locked it in the safe's strongbox. He nodded. "She told me about the call. I'm not letting it worry me. I gather Pat also told you some other things she had best left unsaid. Please do not pry into my private affairs. You need not worry about my diamonds being stolen from Meeking. All you are hired to do is to protect them."

I WENT down to the lobby by the stairs. It was deserted save for the elderly man who looked as if he might be a preacher. I went over to the desk. To the clerk I said: "The old guy with the sanctimonious puss—who is he?"

"The desk clerk grinned. "The old-time gambler from Brewery Gulch."

"Good heavens! I thought he was a preacher!" I took another look at the old man and laughed. I decided I need not worry about him. I went on into the barroom. It was empty except for the bartender. I climbed on a stool and ordered a bottle of beer. The bartender served it.

"Quite a town you've got here. Lots of ore comes out of these hills I guess."

"The bartender nodded. "Lots of ore. You had they can't get more ore. No wonder, the scale, I climbed on a stool and ordered a bottle of beer. The bartender served it. "What's your line, mister?"

"Just seeing the sights." The bartender looked relieved.

"A guy's got to be careful what he says about the company," the bartender said. "The company owns all the mines. The hotel, the big store and everything."

I looked at the unopened Gladstone from the trunk of the compartment. One, the big one, would be his, the small, expensive one, would be Pat's. She hung on to

UN Members Map Strategy To Break Soviet Stranglehold

LAKE SUCCESS—United Nations Security Council members mapped strategy Wednesday to break Russian President Jakob A. Malik's one-man stranglehold and filibuster which has stopped the council in its tracks.

The Russians were not invited to the informal conferences which occupied most other delegations. The council recessed Tuesday until Thursday afternoon after getting nowhere in one of the most bitter heated sessions since Malik took over the presidency August 1.

Taking the floor when he wished as Soviet delegate, Malik threw another resolution into the council, this one seeking to condemn the U. S. Air Force for bombings in North Korea. He did this after making new charges that the U. S. is the aggressor in Korea, dictating the role the UN is playing.

Warren R. Austin, U. S. delegation chief, retorted pointedly: "Who hasn't cooperated with 53 other UN members in the Korean action? Who could call off the North Korea invaders? What member of this Security Council is assisting the invaders in the Security Council?"

Malik Stalls Action
In each case, Austin answered himself: "The Soviet Union."

But Malik refused to allow Austin's resolution of July 31, denouncing the North Koreans and demanding that aid for them be outlawed, to come up for a discussion. He refused to seat the South Korean representative unless the council agreed to hear a North Korean.

The meeting still was bogged down in a writer of procedure when it gave up until Thursday. Malik wanted it to meet Wednesday and talk about the bombing of North Korea but was voted down 9 to 1, with one abstention—Yugoslavia.

After the meeting, Ernest Gross, a U. S. delegate, said a number of courses are possible to meet Malik's obstruction.

The most extreme, he said, would be to change the rules of the council of electing a president and make them effective immediately—virtually throwing Malik out of the chair.

Pierce Brooks Is Midland Visitor

Insurance man Pierce Brooks of Dallas County Wednesday brought his campaign for lieutenant governor to Midland, speaking to a group of citizens in a special meeting room at the Hotel Scharbauer.

Brooks, president of the Texas Safety Council, spoke out in favor of a highway safety program and for redistricting of the state for senatorial and representative election purposes. Under the proposed redistricting, the West Texas area would receive a larger representation in the Texas Legislature.

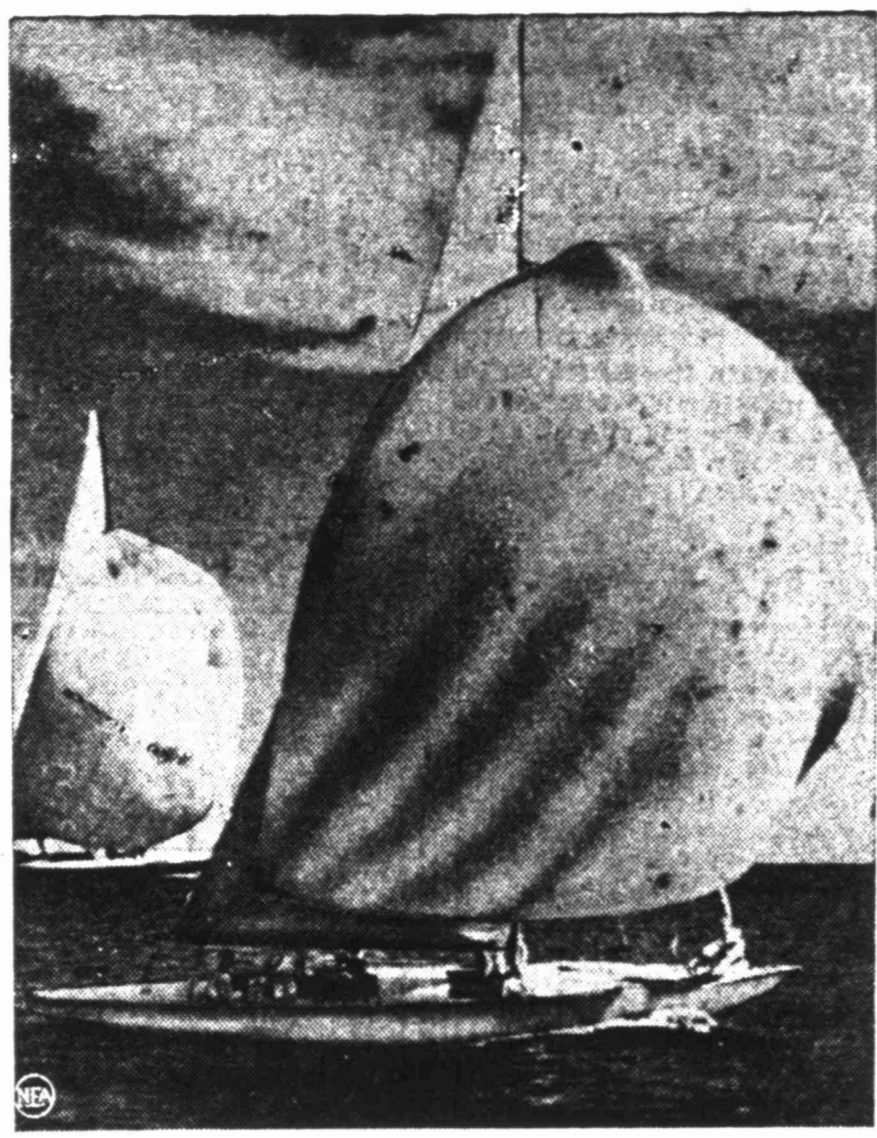

He was to continue his campaign with talks Wednesday afternoon in Big Spring and Abilene.

Ko-Reds Use Women, Children To Prevent Bombing Of Troops

TOKYO—(AP)—U. S. Marine pilots reported Wednesday that North Koreans are using women and children to prevent bombing of some Communist troop concentrations.

Leatherneck airmen said when they flew over some villages where the enemy is known to be assembling, the streets were teeming with women and children.

No men or troops could be seen. The premises were concealed in houses.

The Marines said they refrained from bombing these areas for fear of inflicting heavy casualties on non-combatants.

The carrier-based Leathernecks' first strikes this week were along the Pusan, U. S. supply port.

They hit machine gun positions, artillery and mortar emplacements and troops, as well as tanks and transport. Fliers estimated that in one attack Monday they knocked out 40 trucks, two tanks and started large fires at Chinju and Tandong.

Strategic railway and highway targets in North Korea were blasted Tuesday in widespread strikes by Air Force bombers.

An air war summary released by General MacArthur's headquarters said B-29's struck key rail yards at Pyongyang as well as important bridges on rail lines and highways channeling war material to the Reds on the fighting fronts.

Twin-engine B-26 light bombers lashed out in a heavy foray against the Communist-held seaport of Inchon. They dropped 32 half-ton bombs on industrial and dock installations in a daylight assault.

Surveys reported excellent results in all operations.

Old Sol Continues Assault On Texas

By The Associated Press
Old Sol continued his heat offensive on Texas Wednesday.

A few isolated thundershowers launched cooling counter-attacks — but the general weather picture remained: hot and dry.

During the 24-hour period ended at 6:30 a. m. Wednesday, scattered showers skipped across West Texas. The heaviest rains were .18 inch at Amarillo, resulting in a baseball game being called off, .49 at Wink and .44 at Dalhart. Traces of precipitation fell at Lubbock, Ozona and Childress.

Presidio remained the state's hot spot Tuesday with a high of 105 for the second straight day. Other high readings included 103 at Junction; 101 at Big Spring, Dallas, Fort Worth and Wink; and 100 degrees at Laredo and Cotulla.

The Navajo Indian tribe of Arizona and New Mexico numbers more than 50,000.

Grass Stains Need Not Be A Problem

Outdoor enthusiasts who are bringing home empty picnic baskets and stained play clothes these days should enjoy that well-fed feeling and stop worrying about the food or grass stains picked up at the picnic.

The worry-free formula recommended by textile chemists for home treatment of food stains is a simple one—rinsing in cold water before the garment is laundered.

Women who experiment with household stain removal products to remove either food or grass stains are the ones who are liable to run into trouble. Cellulose-acetate rayon, for example, which is widely used for warm weather clothing should be kept clear of solvents containing acetone (used as finger nail polish removers), the chemist advises. Such solvents will remove the spot—and the garment, too. They dissolve acetate. Oxalic acids may also disintegrate cellulose fibers, especially if permitted to dry into the fabric.

Any type of cleanser should be thoroughly rinsed from the material before it is dried or pressed. Even cleaning preparations which are harmless in their normal, dilute form become concentrated when allowed to dry into a fabric. And in time, some concentrates may so weaken the cloth that some subsequent laundering is likely to "wash out" the spot where the stain was.

Grass stains, while a little harder to remove than food stains, don't present too much of a problem. Most of the stains will come out in the laundering treatment. If the fabric is white, a mild bleaching treatment (one part of bleach to 20 parts of water for 2 or 3 minutes) will help. Your local laundry would wash a white, grass-stained garment in a white-work formula which would include a bleach bath.

Bleach, of course, would not be used on colored clothes. If laundering failed to remove every trace of the grass stains, sponging the spots with alcohol would. Since alcohol is inflammable, experts advise that it not be used near an open flame. Excessive rubbing with either water of a cleaning agent is never advisable. Too much friction in one spot may chafe a fabric and may even damage color.

then he stopped. Maybe he was wrong, he decided. Maybe those elephants far away were really very tiny after all. Could be, and so the Huffen Puffen said, "I am going to see them, I am, I am! And I am going now."

"Huffen Puffen, wait!" Daddy Ringtail said. "Wait!"

The Huffen was about to slide to the ground. It was really Mother Ringtail who stopped him. "Supper's ready!" she called through the window.

The Huffen laughed to hear it. "I was about to forget I was hungry, I was," he said.

"But Daddy Ringtail knew it all along. He had talked about the ele-

No Sure Cure Yet For Baldness; Many Reasons For Hair Loss

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service

Everyone hates to become bald, particularly when the hair starts falling out early in life. But it is lucky that baldness is so much more common in men than in women. Just imagine the excitement if it were the other way around!

There is a strong family tendency to early baldness. In the most common variety the hair line over the temples gradually recedes and the hair becomes thin at the crown. As time goes on the hairless area becomes larger and larger until the whole top of the head is completely bald.

Although claims are made for many "hair restorers," there are too many allures from any form of treatment to justify the belief that there is a good prevention of cure. The "cures" range all the way from "singeing the hair to keep the juice from running out" (and, incidentally, the hair is not hollow), to costly instruments for "massaging" the scalp or producing some other marvelous effect on hair growth. These probably do not help much though it is true that dandruff or poor circulation in the scalp will speed the loss of hair. Consequently if there is any such condition present, treatment of the dandruff and massage of the scalp aimed at improving the circulation may delay, though it probably will not stop, the gradual loss of hair. There are other conditions which cause loss of hair. The hair frequently falls out after infectious diseases such as typhoid, scarlet fever, influenza or some toxic condition. After a while, however, the hair usually grows back in and may be heavier or even a slightly different shade. Treatment of this type of loss of hair is usually not necessary as nature takes care of the situation.

Hair Sometimes Returns
There is a condition called alopecia areata in which the hair falls out completely in roundish spots, ranging in size from that of a small coin all the way up to total loss of hair of the scalp, eyebrows and eyelashes. This is probably a true disease of some kind, though just what causes it no one has yet discovered. The hair may be gone for several months and then grow back just as before. Treatments probably hasten the regrowth in such cases. The hair can fall out also as a result of certain diseases of the scalp, such as ringworm. In such cases, it is the ringworm which has to be attacked. If it has not lasted too long, the hair generally comes back satisfactorily.

CARNIVAL

"But I can't get down the same way I got up—I fell out of a window!"

Crane News

CRANE—The Tabernacle Baptist Young People met recently at the church building with Peggy McCasland as leader. The theme of the meeting was "Prayer." Billy Don Ingram led the group-singing and was accompanied at the piano by Cecile Jean Graham. All young people are invited to the meetings.

Funeral services were held August 6 in Moundsville, W. Va., for Mrs. Lucy A. Bosworth, the mother of Guy Bosworth. She had visited in Crane many times. Two other sons also survive. Mont of Odessa and Claude of Sinton. Mr. and Mrs. Mont Bosworth and Mrs. Marguerite Bosworth of Odessa and Guy Bosworth flew to Moundsville for the services.

A "Ladies Night" meeting scheduled August 9 by the men of the First Methodist Church has been postponed until September 13, due to many of the congregation being away on vacations.

School Superintendent I. L. Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Porter and Jenny Blanche Porter and Mildred Boren, both of Post, and spending a week in Ruidoso, N. M.

An early-morning swimming party and breakfast were planned at a recent meeting of Brownie Troop No. 1. Mrs. Marion Clancy was in charge of the group. Refreshments were served to Kathy West, Mary Ellen Marshall, Ginger Maxwell, Patricia Edwards, Shirley Chrane, Penny Dulin and Maureen Clancy.

Mrs. Ella Harriet Clark has returned to her home in North Pleasanton, Texas, after attending the wedding of her granddaughter, Mrs. W. M. Lea.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Florence and daughters, Janie and Judy, of Houston were recent weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Maxwell.

A joint business meeting and social hour for the Crane American Legion Post and the Auxiliary were held recently at the Legion Hall. Hostesses for the social hour were Mrs. Reba Hendricks, Mrs. Cecil Earp, Mrs. R. D. Shaffer and Mrs. Genie Hudson.

Thursday Will Be Red-Letter Day For Pecos-Air Service

PECOS—Thursday will be a day long-remembered in Pecos as the first flight of the newly-inaugurated Trans-Texas air service drops out of the sky for a landing at the Municipal Airport. This will begin air service to the city.

Thursday is a red letter day and red letter activities are being planned by Pecos officials. Welcoming ceremonies, a special dinner given by the Rotary Club and a tour of the city are scheduled for visiting officials and guests on the inaugural flight.

The mayors of San Angelo, Fort Stockton, McCamey, Del Rio and Eagle Pass have been invited to make the ceremonial flight into Pecos along with officials of the Trans-Texas Airways and the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

First activity of the day will be at 9:18 a. m. when the first plane, Flight No. 1, takes off for Fort Stockton. At 1:32 p. m. the first flight west to El Paso is scheduled to leave. A few minutes earlier, passengers making the initial trip westward will be recognized and introduced at the airport.

Welcome To Pecos

The ceremonial plane—loaded with officials and invited guests—will land at the field at 1:29 p. m. City and Chamber of Commerce officials and a group of local businessmen will be on hand to welcome them to Pecos. Jack Hawkins, owner-manager of Radio Station KIUN, will direct activities as master of ceremonies.

Following the official welcome, the guests will be feted at a Rotary Club dinner. Archie Scott, president of the club, will introduce the visitors and Earl McKaughan, president of Trans-Texas Airways, will address the meeting.

George Hadaway, editor and publisher of Southern Flight magazine, is also scheduled to give a brief talk.

Officials and guests will be taken on a tour of the cantaloupe packing sheds later in the afternoon. The group will leave from the airport at 4:32 p. m. on the east-bound plane.

Those who will be in Pecos for the inaugural ceremonies include U. S. Congressman Ken Regan of Midland, McKaughan, Hadaway and the following Trans-Texas officers: Paul Welch, general traffic manager; John B. Connally, general counsel; M. Lamar Muse, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Maude Stanton B. Danlow, director of public relations; and Mel Anderson, sales manager.

Abundant Living

By E. STANLEY JONES

verse was spoken to Pharisees who were unconverted), then the necessity of a new birth is gone; a merely optimistic view of human nature takes the place of the tragic view of human nature as sinful and in need of redemption—therefore salvation comes by insight, instead of by repentance and surrender and faith. I appreciate that fear, but do not share it.

If the Kingdom of God is within us, written into the constitution of our beings, the way we are made to live, then sin is not less tragic, but more so. For then we sin not only against a God afar off, but also against a God who is in that Kingdom within us—it is intimate rejection, intimate slaying. Moreover, we sin not only against God; we sin also against ourselves. Sin, therefore, is not the nature of our being; it is against nature—our nature—and against the God who made it.

O God, I see that sin grows not less tragic, but more so. If I sin against the Kingdom within, then when I sin, I sin indeed, disrupt myself, my possibilities, my future, my all. And I sin against Thee—intimate Lover and King of that Kingdom. Forgive me, Amen.

Turkey To Receive U. S. Ship August 15

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Navy announced Wednesday the submarine rescue ship Bluebird will be turned over to the Turkish government August 15 at the New London, Conn., Naval Base.

Two submarines now being refitted by the Navy also are expected to go to Turkey soon under the mutual defense assistance program.

The 1,280-ton Bluebird has been attached to the U. S. Pacific Fleet since its construction in 1944. It will be renamed the Kurtaran.

Industrial activity in Japan, based on 1932-36 production being 100, rose during April to a post-war high of 104 index points.

GI Joe Does About Face In His Rating Of Korean 'Gooks'

By HAL BOYLE
 WITH U. S. TROOPS IN KOREA — After being pushed back steadily for five weeks, GI Joe has decided that what he calls "the gooks" are first-rate fighting men. American soldiers first held the North Korean troops in complete contempt as a jokester army. They regarded them as a rabble of barbarians in arms, who would crumble and run at the first shock of real battle.

Never has a military force been more rudely disillusioned. The two below-strength infantry companies which first made a contact with the Reds by artillery fire on July 5 were left dazed and unbelieving by the resulting reaction.

They had expected to be heavily outnumbered. What they hadn't expected was to be outnumbered by a trained group of fighters with more tanks, anti-tank guns and automatic weapons than the Americans.

Confused, baffled

They were almost as surprised as a U. S. cavalry regiment would have been in the last century if it had gone to quell an Indian uprising and found the Redskins had the firepower of a modern panzer division.

The American soldier today is confused and baffled by the fact that so far in Korea he hasn't been able to meet the Reds on equal terms. Only the great U. S. edge in the air kept the Korea venture from becoming a disaster.

The GI has fought bravely and well, saving American honor with his blood in a war he didn't start against a people who did. He also has had the disadvantage of fighting in a land whose customs, terrain and language are totally unfamiliar to him—a soil on which the enemy is at home.

He feels himself a stranger in a war he doesn't know much about. But daily the American soldier is toughening in his mission. He is tired of retreating. He is angry.

Briton Demands German Equality In European Defense

STRASBOURG, FRANCE. — (AP) — British Conservative Robert Boothby called Wednesday for Germany's participation in Western defense on equal terms with other nations.

In the first major statement in the European Consultative Assembly from a member of his party, Boothby asserted that Western Europe's defenses are "for all practical purposes still non-existent," and urged immediate action to meet the threat of totalitarian communism.

"Either Germany is in our Western European Union on equal terms, or she remains out and occupied," said Boothby. "We have to make our choice and we have to make it now."

Boothby asserted that unless Germany is brought within this defense framework, the Western nations are not defensible.

"If Germany comes in, then she will have to make her full contribution to our joint defense on the same terms as everyone else," said Boothby.

Boothby said Germany, too, has a choice to make, and he added: "My most fervent hope is that she will choose to come with us."

Pentagon Sees Reds' Pincers As Perilous But Not Disastrous

By ELTON C. FAY
 WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Pentagon high command was keeping a watchful eye Wednesday on the North Korean pincer move aimed at the important United Nations communications and supply center of Taegu.

It was viewed here as potentially dangerous, but not necessarily disastrous.

Through Taegu's rail and highway center flow the ammunition, supplies and reinforcements needed by American and South Korean divisions manning the central northern front, along the Nakdong River line on which a firm foothold is being attempted. The fall of Taegu thus would be more than a loss of territory and another dent in the now contracted defense perimeter. The problem of supply from the rear area of Pusan would become even worse.

But, it was pointed out, even if the defense line at Taegu should be pushed back, there are a number of good positions in mountainous country behind the city along which a new defense sector could be established.

Not Final Line

The Pentagon has insisted that the Nakdong River line and the area near it should not be considered as definitely the final line, that a fall-back to a still shorter inner position in the hilly country to the southeast might become necessary.

While an estimated 12,000 Korean Reds pushed across the Nakdong River in three prongs, one of which had moved up to a dozen miles from Taegu Tuesday night, American infantry and Marines on the south flank were making progress with their own attack there, the first large offensive action against the enemy.

Veteran military men here saw nothing unprecedented in the fact that each side should have mounted an offensive almost simultaneously. They remarked that was a common tactical practice and a risk armies must take. When one side commits large forces to an attack at a certain point, the other side makes its own strike elsewhere for the two-fold purpose of gaining ground and attempting to divert some strength from the opposition's attack to his own menaced area.

Handicaps To Continue

Handicaps for the American troops which have existed all through the Korean retreat phase will continue even during offensive actions, it is pointed out.

Among them are these:

1. Language difficulties. This difficulty exists not only between Americans and their South Korean allies, but causes complications in other ways. Patrols sent out to scout ahead in advance often need guides from among natives living in the area or find they must talk with villagers for information.
2. The lack of adequate highways for moving supply trucks and weapons. Many Korean roads are single-lane affairs—a traffic headache when convoys must move up with supplies while others must head back empty for reloading at the rear. Rain turns these country lanes into ribbons of bottomless mud. Bridges, built for animal-drawn vehicles, can't carry the weight of trucks and tanks without virtually rebuilding.
3. The kind of country in which the Korean war is being fought is strange to a large percentage of the Americans fighting it. Almost all officers and enlisted men who are veterans of World War II and who are now fighting in Korea did their wartime campaigning in Europe. Many of the tactics of close-in fighting used by the enemy are different from those encountered in encounters with German and Italian troops in Europe.

Party Leaders Rush To Introduce First Anti-Subversive Bill

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Democrats and Republicans maneuvered Wednesday to get their own versions of anti-Communist and anti-subversive bills before the Senate. Each side charged the other with playing politics.

In the House two committees were in a race to get to the floor first with anti-Communist legislation.

Armed with an appeal by President Truman for authority to register foreign trained spies and saboteurs, Senator Lucas (D-Ill.) asked the Democratic Policy Committee to study the possibility of combining several security bills into a Democratic-backed single-package measure. Truman made his request Tuesday in a 3,500-word message to Congress.

Led by Senators Ferguson of Michigan and Mundt of South Dakota, who have a bill of their own, Republicans talked over parliamentary plans to force action on a Communist registration bill the President called "unnecessary, ineffective and dangerous."

House Has Two Versions

Chairman Celler (D-N.Y.), of the House Judiciary Committee, told reporters he will begin work immediately to put the President's ideas into legislative form and hopes to begin public hearings next week. But the House Un-American Activities Committee already has held extensive public hearings on proposals to curb communism. Chairman Wood (D-Ga.) said he hopes to have a bill ready before the end of this week.

There was speculation that a bill by Wood, himself, might form the basis for the committee bill. This proposal would make it unlawful for a member of the Communist Party to work for the government or to hold a job connected with defense production.

It presumably would be broadened to include at least some features of a controversial measure sponsored by Representative Nixon (R-Calif.) and generally referred to as the Mundt-Nixon bill. But by using Wood's bill as a starting basis, the Democratic majority of the committee would be getting away from a Republican label.

Warning Against Hysteria

Truman left no doubt he was talking about the Mundt-Ferguson bill in the Senate when he said measures proposing "to impose severe penalties for normal political activities on the part of certain groups, including Communists and Communist line followers" may do more harm than good.

Asserting that "we must not be swept away by a wave of hysteria," Truman called in a message read to both houses for (1) an extended statute of limitations (now three years) on peacetime espionage, (2) registration of foreign trained spies and saboteurs, and (3) broader presidential authority to fix security regulations on military base and defense establishments.

Rolls may be frozen baked or unbaked, but the unbaked ones don't always turn out so well.

French Leader Says U. S., British Troops Could Save Europe

PARIS — (AP) — A high French official said Wednesday six American and six British divisions stationed in Germany would keep a Russian attack away from Western Europe for at least a year, and perhaps permanently.

In that year, he said, Europe could go a long way toward establishing its own adequate defense force — providing all-out American aid was given.

The official, who asked that his name be withheld, said the actual presence of more American troops would remove one great European fear—the belief that Russian attack would result in quick occupation of all Europe before America came to the rescue.

The presence of American soldiers, he continued, would convince the Russians even more than U. S. action in Korea that aggression in Europe would mean immediate war with the United States.

Quick American assistance in Korea has helped to convince the French the United States would come quickly to Europe's rescue in the case of a Russian attack.

Want 'Cash In Advance'

But the conviction is not deep-rooted. The French remember American aid came in the first World War only after France was almost beaten, and in the second war only after the country had been thoroughly beaten and long occupied.

What France wants this time is cash in advance—in the form of American troops already on the spot. Evidently this was emphasized at the recent meeting of Atlantic Pact deputies in London.

In return for this commitment of American troops to European soil, France evidently would accept all American commander over all forces in Germany. These probably

Wallace Quits Progressive Party

NEW YORK — (AP) — Henry Wallace resigned from the Progressive Party Tuesday night because it condemns the American stand in Korea.

The action completed a split which began three weeks ago between Wallace and the party that organized to run him for President in 1948.

Three weeks ago, Wallace made public his own support for the U. S. and UN actions in Korea—while the party's national committee issued a statement opposing the American action.

Wallace said then he would wait for action on the party's rank and file before making a further move. Since then, the Progressives' state party organizations have voted overwhelmingly to pack up the national committee.

Wallace said he had no immediate political plans. He gave his decision in a two-paragraph note to C. B. Baldwin, his long-time political aide and the Progressive Party secretary.

Tax 'Strike' Hurts East Texas City

GLADEWATER — (AP) — Taxpayers have been on a "strike" for more than a week and this East Texas city has been forced to pare its operating expenses to the bone.

Already, 19 employees have been dropped.

Deadlines for payment of taxes, without penalties, was August 1. Of $200,000 in assessments, more than $120,000 remains unpaid.

Apparently the "strike" is in protest to the city's extension of its boundaries last November. Scores of property owners, including some major oil companies, have withheld payment.

The tax fight has reached the courts. T. M. Armstrong, owner of property assessed as $157,800, has filed a suit in Judge Fred Erisman's District Court, attacking the legality of the annexation. He is seeking an injunction to restrain the city from imposing or collecting taxes on property within the annexed area.

Funeral services were to be held Wednesday at Gilmer with interment in Winnsboro.

Death Ruled Accidental

BROWNSVILLE, TEXAS. — (AP) — Justice of the Peace Manuel Diaz de Leon Tuesday returned a verdict of accidental death in the death of Harold William Gaddis of Alba, Texas. Gaddis' body was found Sunday in a tub of hot water at a hotel here.

Ford Organizes For Defense Production

DETROIT — (AP) — The Ford Motor Company Wednesday set up a defense production division to coordinate all defense and mobilization planning for the company.

The new division will conduct negotiations with defense agencies. Executive Vice President E. R. Breech appointed Richard E. Kravie general manager of the division. Robert E. Busey will serve as the division's chief engineer in charge of design and product engineering.

What France wants this time is cash in advance—in the form of American troops already on the spot. Evidently this was emphasized at the recent meeting of Atlantic Pact deputies in London.

In return for this commitment of American troops to European soil, France evidently would accept all American commander over all forces in Germany. These probably

Waitress Loses Out In Fight For Estate Of Wealthy Showman

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Superior Judge Roy L. Herndon Tuesday threw out of court the claim of Mrs. Carrie J. Adair for the $1,000,000 estate of the late showman Sid Grauman.

Mrs. Adair testified she and Grauman met in 1916 in Texas, and lived together as man and wife.

The court held Mrs. Adair, a waitress, was not Grauman's widow, and cannot inherit part of his estate, either by virtue of a common-law marriage or through a supposed will.

Judge Herndon ruled that other testimony about Grauman's activities impeached her claims.

Current population of the Ryukyu Islands is slightly under 1,000,000 with more than half living on Okinawa.

First of the Fine Cars in Value

YOU can see this man has made his mark in life, and while his heart's still young.

You can tell he likes action for his money — that he knows a fine car needn't be the most expensive to give the greatest value.

Yes, such are the things you know of any man, when you note that his car is a ROADMASTER.

Follow him on his spirited way as he pilots this lively motorcar through traffic. Even the lightweights are no match for this road-steady husky — not with the 152-horsepower straight-eight Fireball engine that purrs beneath its bonnet.

Maneuver beside him at the next stop light. Then just try to get away as smoothly, swiftly and silently as Dynaflo Drive gets his ROADMASTER going — and keeps it rolling without shifting, even automatically.

But don't waste time merely envying the man in this great car! Why not emulate him?

With all its outsize room, interior luxury and exterior grace — with all its front-rank prestige, rare performance and matchless ride — a ROADMASTER can be yours for less than some smaller cars cost.

In fact, even if you had a fortune to spend, you couldn't make a more fortunate buy in the fine-car field.

So we suggest you try a few minutes behind the wheel. We're confident they will convince you that ROADMASTER has everything you could ever ask for in any motorcar — although your Buick dealer asks a good bit less for ROADMASTER than you might pay for other top-line cars.

Only BUICK has Dynaflo Drive

AND WITH IT GOES: HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD fender, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

Prince On Mound As Indians Lose Tilt To Swatters

The Midland Indians Wednesday move to Roswell for a two-game series with the Rockets. They return home Friday to engage the Sweetwater Swatters in a pair.

LeRoy Jari is due to pitch the opener at Roswell.

SWEETWATER—The Midland Indians staged a diamond show seldom equalled here Tuesday night but in the final accounting, Sweetwater was on the long end of a 10-9 score.

Manager Jim Prince never had been known for his ability as a pitcher before the tilt, but he established it with a three-inning relief stint.

Prince relieved starter Ralph Blair in the sixth after Blair lost his control and the Swatters were knocking everything he threw for extra bases.

Big Jim put out the fire and it looked for a time as if he might notch a mound victory.

The Indians gave Blair a three-run lead in the first frame but he couldn't hold it. Sweetwater counted one each in the first, second and third innings to knot the score.

Midland regained the lead with one in the fourth but the Swatters worked Blair over for two in the fifth and three in the sixth before Prince relieved him.

With Sweetwater leading 8-4 in the eighth, Prince clouted a three-run homer over the right field fence to put the Indians back out front. The four-bagger came after Mike Bellone had doubled home two runs earlier to cut the Swatter lead to 8-6.

Prince had things going his way even as late as the bottom of the eighth until a ball got by George Firnback in center field and set up two runs. Dom Chioia doubled them home and gave the Swatters the win.

The Indians copped their share of extra-base knocks with Mike Bellone, Lou Dawson and Quentin Basco getting doubles, Tex Stephenson a triple and Prince a homer.

WT-NM League—Pampa Takes Pair Over Lamesa Lobos

By The Associated Press

The Pampa Oilers aren't about to let any club take the lead from them—they demonstrated that with a twin lacing of second-place Lamesa Tuesday night 7-3 and 14-7. The double killing boosted the Oilers to three and one-half games over Lamesa.

Lubbock whipped Borger 8-5 and Lubbock throttled Abilene 14-2. The Albuquerque-Amarillo tilt was rained out.

George Payte pitched the Oilers to the victory in the first game. Bill Capps hit two homers for Lamesa. In the nightcap the Oilers pounded out 13 hits in their plate attack.

Lubbock blasted four Abilene hurlers for 20 hits as Charles Garmon gave up seven. Six Abilene errors also aided in the scoring.

Clovis staved off late inning rallies by Borger to win. Clovis picked up his runs on nine hits, eight walks and four Borger errors.

WIN IN BLIND BOGEY

Betty LeBlonde and Rosemary McLaren copped honors in a Blind Bogey held Sunday at Ranchland Hills Country Club. A good entry field played in the event.

Robinson-Fusari To Tangle Wednesday

JERSEY CITY—(AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, eager to mingle with the middleweights, probably makes his swan song as welter champion at 8 p. m. Wednesday against Charlie Fusari in a Damone Runyon Cancer Fund show.

Not that Robinson expects to lose his title to the 25-year-old challenger from Irvington, N. J., in the Roosevelt Stadium ring. He figures to romp home like a 1 to 5 shot. But the grind of making the weight is getting him down.

Robinson admitted as much Tuesday at his Pompton Lakes, N. J., camp when he said "Win, lose or draw, this is the last." Later he added that he meant "Last if I get a middleweight title shot at Jake LaMotta."

But that middleweight shot with LaMotta may be a long time coming. Promoters are working on it but there's nothing in sight yet.

FAST RACE IN PROSPECT

NEW YORK—(AP)—Yonkers Raceway's $25,000 Yonkers Derby August 17 will bring together nine side-wheelers who have hit or lowered the 2:00 minute mark, charmed circle of harness racing. They are Good Time, 1:58 4/5, Gratian McKlyo, Jerry The First, Hayes Hanover, Riley Hanover and White Mountain Boy, 1:59 4/5, and Brother Harmony, Dr. Stanton and Noble F. 2:00 flat.

SHIRLEY MAY FAILS—A protesting Shirley May France, Somerset, Mass., high school girl, was pulled from the icy English Channel in her second attempt to swim the channel, just five miles short of a victory by her trainer, Harry Boudakian. Here, Boudakian assists Shirley May don a coat of grease just before she entered the water to begin her attempt.

Tonnemaker, Doak Walker Head 'Stars'

CHICAGO—(AP)—Doak Walker, three-time All-American halfback from Southern Methodist University, and Clayton Tonnemaker, 235-pound center from Minnesota, will lead the College All-Stars against the Philadelphia Eagles in Soldier Field Friday night.

Walker and Tonnemaker were elected co-captains of the All-Stars by their teammates at their training camp in Delafield, Wis., Tuesday. Walker will lead the team on offense and Tonnemaker, an All-American last season, on defense. Head Coach Eddie Anderson of Holy Cross had suggested the double captaincy.

A crowd estimated at 90,000 is expected to see the seventeenth annual classic in the giant Lakefront Stadium. The Eagles, champions of the National Football League, are two-touchdown favorites. They beat the All-Stars last year 38-0, but few anticipate such a shellacking this Summer.

Model Airplane Contest At Lamesa

Midland model airplane enthusiasts are invited to a contest at Lamesa Sunday. The contest will be held from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. at the Lamesa Flying Field, seven miles north of the city.

The contest is sponsored by the Sandusters Model Airplane Club of Lamesa in cooperation with merchants of that city.

Nineteen trophies will be awarded. Individual contests include free flight, stunt, speed, PAA-load and beauty. There will be no admission for spectators.

Three Odessans Cop U. S. Amateur Spots; 'Dynamite' To Play

NEW YORK—(AP)—Bob Hope didn't make it but "Dynamite" did, so everything's going to be all right in the National Amateur Golf Tournament later this month at Minneapolis.

The field for the Silver Anniversary Championship August 21-26 was determined Tuesday in farflung 36-hole qualifying tests. An entry list of 1,033 was whacked down quickly to 210.

Bob Hope, the slide-nosed comedian, made his first major competitive venture in the trout at Beverly Hills, Calif. But the sharp-witted funnyman of the movies and radio took 80 robust swings on the first tour of the par 70 course and too many on the second. So he picked up his ball, conceding.

Lost the National Championship he deprived of a splash of color, Billy (Dynamite) Goodloe, the pride of Valdosta, Ga., generously stepped into the breach and qualified at Atlanta.

Dynamite is the round little gentleman with the shock of blond hair and flair for bright colors who already has awed the galleries of two U. S. Amateur Championships and swiped the show in the British event this Spring.

Other qualifiers included: Don Cherry, Odessa, Texas, 71-75-146.
Ted Roden, Odessa, Texas, 151.
Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Texas, 147.

Clarence (Biggie) Munn, Michigan State's head football coach, enrolled more than a hundred coaches and officials for the two-week clinic in Honolulu, Hawaii, this Summer.

MAJOR LEAGUES—

Phils Nip Bums, Increase Lead To Five Games

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The flying Phillies are a prohibitive favorite to win their first flag in 35 years. Why? Because Manager Eddie Sawyer has succeeded where most of Philadelphia's 25 previous pilots have failed.

Sawyer has convinced his men they can beat Brooklyn.

That was a feat very few former Philadelphia teams could accomplish. How well the eager, young Phils have taken the former college professor's lectures to heart is attested by Philadelphia's eight triumphs in 13 clashes with the Dodgers this season.

Until Sawyer took over as manager in the middle of the 1948 season, the Phils had failed to finish in the first division since 1932. During those 16 years, they've been able to win only the 1937 season's series from the Dodgers.

In his first full season at the helm, Sawyer saw his team hold the Brook eye in 22 games. That progressive step was largely responsible for Philadelphia's third-place finish in 1949.

This year the Phils have been even more potent, against the defending champions. Tuesday night's 6-5 decision marked the Phils' sixth win in their last seven meetings with the Brooks.

The triumph was the most coveted of the season, since it widened the Phils' first-place lead over Boston to five games—their biggest lead thus far.

The St. Louis Cardinals handed the Pittsburgh Pirates their tenth straight loss 6-4 while the New York Giants suppressed the Braves 2-1 for their eighth consecutive victory.

Boston's Red Sox made a big gain in the American League race. They trounced the New York Yankees 7-4 while the Chicago White Sox were vanquishing the front-running Detroit Tigers 9-6. The fourth-place Red Sox now are six games behind the Tigers, Cleveland and St. Louis were rained out.

Cincinnati's Reds swept the doubleheader from Chicago 10-1 and 8-0 to climb within a half game of the sixth-place Cubs. Philadelphia's Athletics blanked Washington 5-0 on Lou Brissie's two-hitter.

Young Robin Roberts gained his third straight triumph over the Brooks this year although he needed assistance from ace reliever Jim Konstanty in the ninth. It was Roberts' fifteenth victory. Don Newcombe was the loser.

Wes Westrum's nineteenth homer with a man on base in the sixth inning gave Sheldon Jones and the Giants a 2-1 triumph over Warren Spahn and the Braves. Jones allowed four hits.

Stan Musial's sixteenth homer with one on in the second proved to be the deciding blow in the Cards' triumph over the Pirates. Ralph Kiner hit his thirteenth homer for Pittsburgh.

Mel Parnell yielded eight hits for his ninth Boston victory. Al Zarilla collected two singles and a two-run homer to lead the Sox.

The White Sox overcame a 5-0 Detroit lead to win. They knocked out starter Hal White with four runs in the sixth, added two more against Hank Borowy in the seventh and finished with three off loser Paul Calvert in the eighth. Eddie Robinson's twelfth homer snapped a 6-6 tie.

BREAKS CHANNEL SWIM RECORD

Florence Chadwick, a professional swimmer from California, broke the world's record for women by swimming the English Channel in 13 hours, 23 minutes. The record has stood since 1926, when Gertrude Ederle swam the channel. Here, she receives encouragement from friends and well-wishers just before she entered the water.

'Hole-in-One's' Hold Reunion At Ranchland Hill

It was "hole-in-one's" reunion day Tuesday at Ranchland Hill Country Club. Just to be sure things didn't get dull, Jim Willis sank an ace for a couple of his buddies who had turned the trick before.

Willis was playing with Joe McQueen, Fred Rylee and Ben Wiseman. He dyed a hole-in-one on the 180-yard No. 7.

A couple of weeks ago, Rylee had cupped an ace on the 205-yard No. 3 hole at Ranchland.

Just a few days ago, McQueen made a hole-in-one at Brownwood.

Wiseman is the only non-member of the "hole-in-one's" who was playing the foursome Tuesday. He's expecting to join up any day now.

When you get that many guys in one foursome who have made a hole-in-one, it's bound to be catching.

Church Loop Leaders Tie

The Young Adults climbed back into a first-place tie on the strength of a 15-14 defeat of the Fellowship Class while the Lutherans received an 8-5 setback at the hands of the First Baptist nine in softball games played Tuesday night in the City Church League.

Pitcher Earl Monteith led the Adults past the Fellowshipers in the all-Methodist tilt. The hurler was nicked for eight blows but retaliated by smashing out a home run, triple and five singles in five trips. He drove in five runs and scored three.

The Adults' Curtis Regan and Harold Barber also homered and Hugh Bliss socked a four-bagger for the losing nine.

Nance Shines
The Young Adults trailed by one run into the sixth inning. Leftfielder Nance plated the tying and winning markers with a line single.

Playing without several key players, the Lutherans fell easy prey to the Baptists, who never trailed.

The winner's Devore had himself a home run but neglected to touch second base on the way around and became just another out when the ball was thrown leisurely to the bag.

A playoff game between the Tumbleweeds and Tidwells was halted by blowing sand in the bottom of the first inning.

Three Games Set In Softball Loops

Front-running Western Plastic will play the Rendezvous and Standard of Texas will match base knocks with an improved Reporter-Telegram nine in softball games scheduled Wednesday night in the JayCee-sponsored City Major League.

The Reporter-Telegram will be seeking its first victory in 19 starts. The second tilt of a two-out-of-three Shaughnessy playoff series matches the Cubs and Tumbleweeds. The Cubs hold a one-up advantage as the result of a forfeit in the opener.

Longhorn League— Vernon's Russell Notches 20th Win

By The Associated Press
The Longhorn League boasts its first 20-game winning pitcher Wednesday.

Cotton Russell, Vernon Duster moundman, elbowed the job against San Angelo in a 2-1 victory Tuesday night. Big Spring wallowed second-place Roswell 13-4, first-place Odessa thumped Ballinger 16-8 and Sweetwater edged Midland 10-9.

In all, there were 87 runs, 111 hits, and 28 errors chalked up in the four contests.

Russell gave up only nine hits in gaining his twentieth decision. His teammates pounded out 26, including homers by Larry Roach and Lou Ehlinger.

Big Spring batters turned loose for four runs in the seventh and an equal number in the eighth to swell its total for the night. Catcher Manuel Junco rapped a two-run homer for the Broncs.

Odessa had a big first and sixth inning in its game. The Oilers scored five runs in the first frame and seven more in the sixth. Ballinger committed nine errors. Stu Williams hit a homer for Ballinger.

Big Jim Prince hit a three-run homer for Midland, but it wasn't enough as the Sweetwater Swatters made their 14 hits count for the most runs.

Add another name golfer to the growing list for Midland.

Marion Pfluger, the ex-University of Texas golfer, now is a full-fledged Midlander and will play his golf in the future under Midland colors.

Pfluger has moved here and is employed in the accounting department of the Western Company.

Marion is known throughout Texas for his genuine wit and comical maneuvers as well as for his first-class golf game. He is one of the guys who add something to the game whenever he plays.

He still is single and currently is bunking with Morris Williams and Leon Roberts, assistant pros at Midland Country Club.

Williams and Pfluger long have been close friends and Williams' coming to Midland to take a pro job under J. C. Hardwicke is one of the big reasons Pfluger decided to take up residence here.

Another thing is, Eddie Chiles and the Western Company are a good outfit to work for and Pfluger was quick to sense it. He isn't sorry he made the decision.

Chances are you'll be hearing a lot from the Williams-Pfluger combination in Texas Pro-Amateur tournaments in the future. They'll team up for their first such outing Thursday as the Odessa Pro-Amateur gets underway.

Williams will be the pro end of the duo, naturally, because Pfluger still is an amateur.

We wouldn't be surprised if Williams and Pfluger make folks sit up and take notice in the Odessa event. They are capable of beating the best of 'em.

It hasn't been long since Williams beat out Byron Nelson and Raymond Gafford for the Texas PGA title at Midland Country Club and Pfluger finished high in the same tourney.

Pfluger came back later to take runner-up honors in the Midland Country Club Invitation Tournament. He was downed by Billy Maxwell.

Marion also was runner up in the Brady Invitation.

Last year he won the Longview and Brady meets.

They'll make a good pair. Williams and Pfluger, for the Odessa classic which offers $5,000 to the pros.

Williams will be making his first start since turning professional and Pfluger will be playing his first tourney since moving to Midland. Both will be out to do their best.

Pfluger thinks he probably won't have as much time for golf now that he's out of college.

"I'll be playing mostly on weekends and holidays," he says.

"If everything is favorable, I plan to play in the Big Spring Invitation next month."

Regardless of how much golf he gets to play, Midland is fortunate to have Marion Pfluger as a citizen.

It's a feather in the cap of any city to attract fine sports figures such as he.

Mike Lemish Does Iron-Man Role To Cop Pair For Cats

By The Associated Press
Mike Lemish pulled the strong man act in the Texas League Tuesday night to gain credit for two pitching jobs which stretched the loop-leading Fort Worth Cats' margin to five and one-half games over Beaumont.

The Cats whipped Beaumont 9-4 and 6-5. The Dallas Eagles took over third place in the loop with a twin victory over Shreveport 6-2 and 5-3. San Antonio defeated Tulsa 5-2 and Houston nipped Oklahoma City 5-3.

Lemish relieved Ray Moore in the fourth frame of the opener and tolled three frames to get the victory. In the nightcap he hurled only one inning when he relieved Carroll Berringer in the eighth. He doused a Beaumont threat and then watched his mates forge ahead on a three-run outburst in the ninth.

A two-run homer by Manager Bobby Bragan highlighted the opener. Fred Torpey smacked a circuit out in the second game for the Cats. Moose Telling rapped the two-run homer for Beaumont in the eighth and pinch hitter Ford Garrison smacked a three-run homer in the nightcap.

Lou Sleater posted his tenth victory in elbowing San Antonio to its win. Sleater gave up eight hits, including homers to Ed Knoiblauch and McMillan. Charley Grant slugged a two-run homer for the Missions. The Missions were playing under Shortstop Johnny Sullivan, who took over for Don Heffner when Heffner's father died Tuesday. Heffner left for his home in Baltimore.

UNDERGOES MINOR SURGERY
Jesse Springer, 804 West Michigan Street, district superintendent of Tidewater Oil Company, was admitted Tuesday afternoon to Midland Memorial Hospital for minor surgery.

BUGLE OR WHISTLE?—Glenn Davis reads war news at Redlands University, Calif., training camp that looks like he may be called before playing his first professional football game with the Los Angeles Rams against the Washington Redskins at the Los Angeles Coliseum, Aug. 16. West Point's famous Mr. Outside was discharged from the Army in June.

Taylor Falls Behind In Idaho Ballot For Senate Nomination

By The Associated Press

Former Senator D. Worth Clark was inching away from Senator Glen Taylor Wednesday in their nip-and-tuck race for Idaho's Democratic Senate nomination.

In 675 precincts of 839, Clark had 23,882 and Taylor 22,427, a lead of 1,455. A third candidate, Rep. Compton White, had 13,041. During the night, first one and then the other held a slight margin. The race is for a full six-year term.

Senator Henry Dworshak, serving by appointment, won the Republican nomination for the four-year term.

His two opponents, former Rep. Abe McGrover Goff, and Fentress Kuhn, Boise businessman, conceded.

Former Wallace Partner
Taylor ran for vice president on Henry A. Wallace's Progressive Party ticket in 1948, but this year returned to the Democratic Party.

Nebraska's Republican governor, Val Peterson, won a third term nomination over two opponents. All four of the state's representatives—three Republicans and one Democrat—won re-nomination.

Walter R. Raecke, Central City attorney, was running ahead in five-way race for the Democratic governorship nomination.

Senator J. William Fulbright and six House Democrats were renominated with out opposition in Arkansas.

Midland ORC Unit To Meet Wednesday

Officers and enlisted men of Headquarters and Headquarters Company, RTC, Camp Chaffee, Ark., the Midland Organized Reserve Corps unit, will hold a regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Midland Airport.

Lt. Col. Frank Whitaker, chief of staff of the unit, will be in command, in the absence of Col. H. W. Mathews, unit commanding officer.

The training scheduled for the session includes training films on the articles of war, and on the new code of military justice recently announced by Army, Navy and Air Force, the film will show a court martial under the new regulations.

Gilbert Blankenship, plans and training officer, said.

Report Says U. S. Freighter Hits Mine

HAMBURG, GERMANY—(AP)—The 8,230-ton freighter American Planter struck a mine in the North Sea Wednesday, German shipping authorities said, and is being towed to Bremerhaven.

There were no reports of any casualties.

A spokesman for the vessel's owners, the United States Lines, refused to confirm that the ship hit a mine. The company said the cause of the accident would be investigated when the American Planter reached port.

Supreme Court, Place 3—J. E. Vickers, a former Democratic judge, of Lubbock.

They also nominated Rep. Ben Gull of Pampa, the lone Republican among Texas congressmen, to the post he now fills in the Panhandle's 18th Congressional District.

Rap National Administration
A half-dozen negroes were among the 300 delegates.

At the meeting of the State Executive Committee Monday Henry Zweifel of Fort Worth was reelected chairman. Mrs. Buck West of San Antonio was named vice chairman. Carlos Watson of Brownsville, secretary, and Ed McNab of Bertram, sergeant at arms.

In their resolutions the delegates endorsed McDonald, deplored the methods of Democrats in sending Vice President Barkley to Texas to help raise a "slush" fund, called for the removal of Secretary of State Dean Acheson and called for a thorough house-cleaning in the national government.

They also declared themselves against socialized medicine, against the "Socialist" Brannan farm plan, against federal expenditures "for political purposes such as building of dams when private enterprise can do it," and against the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law.

Speakers made open bids for the votes of Southern Democrats.

West Texas Oil And Gas Log—

An estimated flow of 50 to 60 barrels hourly was reported from perforations at 3,407-430 feet. That section had been shot with 1,000 gallons of acid, and the well kicked off after swabbing.

The 50 to 60 barrel-per-hour flow was then estimated. Water, then mud was used to kill the well. Testing was to be resumed with a heavier control head.

The No. 1 Robbins-Gulf was drilled to the Devonian at 5,033 feet. Operator then plugged back to 3,452 feet, casing and perforated.

This discovery is 660 feet from northeast and southeast lines of section 27, block 35, H&TC survey, and six miles west of McCamey.

The tool was open one and one-half hours. A slight blow of air surfaced during the first part of the test, but died by the end of the test. Recovery was 580 feet of mud with a slight show of water at the top of the recovery. No shows of oil or gas were developed.

The No. 1-C Jones is 660 feet from south and 1,984 feet from east lines of section 14, block H, D&W survey, and 17 miles east of Seagraves.

Gaines Outpost Is Ordered Plugged

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company likely will plug and abandon its No. 1-C Jones, a one-mile northwest outpost to the Cedar Lake-San Andres pool in Northeast Gaines County.

The venture was bottomed at 4,322 feet, and operator attempted to plug back to 4,734 feet. After cement plugs failed, a drillstem test with packers at 4,640 and 4,800 feet were taken.

The tool was open one and one-half hours. A slight blow of air surfaced during the first part of the test, but died by the end of the test. Recovery was 580 feet of mud with a slight show of water at the top of the recovery. No shows of oil or gas were developed.

Texas Congressmen Disagree On Cotton Quota Distribution

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A controversy among Texas members of Congress over the cotton quota bill broke out anew Wednesday before the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Representatives Mahon and Poage, Texas Democrats, voiced opposing views on a provision which applies strictly to their state.

Under discussion was a section of the pending legislation providing that in any state where 1950 cotton plantings topped 3,000,000 acres, grain sorghums, flax and other "war crops" should be regarded as cotton in figuring 1951 quotas.

Only Texas grew more than 3,000,000 acres last year.

The new provision would cause a redistribution of quotas in the state, with four South and West Texas congressional districts losing acreage while the remaining 17 districts would gain.

East Texas Congressman Mahon, whose district would be the heaviest loser, told the Senators: "We in West Texas can produce cotton at a lower cost per pound than any other place in the country."

"On the basis of principle," he said, "cotton should be planted where it can be most economically produced. We don't think you should write a provision of law here to apply just to Texas. Let us take our case along with other states in regard to operation of the cotton quota law."

It's still anybody's guess how the 1951 cotton acreage quotas under the government control program will be distributed among Texas farmers.

But one thing at this time appears fairly certain: Texas in all probability will receive the same allocation she received under the cotton acreage law for 1950, approximately 7,600,000 acres.

On July 31, after several days' debate, the House passed a general cotton quota bill. This bill now is before the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Club Holds Lionism, Induction Program

Two new members were inducted at the luncheon meeting of the Midland Lions Club Wednesday in Hotel Scharbauer. They were N. P. Taylor and Joe C. Davis.

Norman J. Maberry was chairman of a Lionism program. He briefly outlined the history of Lions International. Ed Prichard presided. Invocation was by the Rev. Clyde Lindsley.

A quartet composed of John Biggs, R. H. (Rusty) Gifford, Wesley May and Duke Jimerson sang several songs.

Pierce Brooks of Dallas, candidate for lieutenant governor, was a special guest. He spoke briefly. It was announced pictures taken at the recent Lions International convention would be shown at next week's program.

Lions are invited to attend a luncheon of the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce August 18 when John Leslie will speak.

Denmark Parliament To Quit After Voting Higher Defense Funds

COPENHAGEN, DENMARK—(AP)—Denmark's Parliament was due for dissolution Wednesday after defeat of a government austerity program, but the lawmakers planned to vote $57,000,000 in new defense funds before giving up their seats.

Following defeat of his proposed import controls in an all-night session, Premier Hans Hedtoft handed in his resignation and that of his cabinet to King Frederick IX.

The king then signed a decree dissolving Parliament at the end of Wednesday's session.

New elections, said Hedtoft, would be held September 5. Meanwhile, the cabinet would continue in office as a caretaker government.

The dissolution decree was held up, however, until Parliament's lower house could appropriate the previously announced increase in funds for the armed forces and civilian defense. The money, which is in addition to present appropriations, would be spent during the next two years.

Czech Miners Get Bonuses For Work

PRAGUE—(AP)—Miners of Czechoslovakia have been promised government bonuses up to 26,188 crowns ($527.76) each for faithful work to be handed out on Miners' Day. But some, the official news agency noted in a dispatch from the coal center of Moravska Ostrava, will take a cut in their bonuses because they skipped work a few times in the last year.

The story listed four men to get bonuses of over 20,000 crowns ($400) with the top sum going to Alois Lapis, 43, father of two. On the other hand, it said, Metodej Pazdera earned a reward of 11,003 crowns ($220.06) by going 52 per cent over his production quota—but he missed three shifts and it was cut to 887 crowns (13.74).

MHS Graduate

On June 14, 1949, he was assigned to Camp Chaffee, Ark., where he took basic training and received a certificate for leadership. He requested overseas duty and arrived at Kumamoto, Kyushu, Japan, on November 16. From Port Wood, Kumamoto, it was only a few months until the group was transferred to Korea and the subsequent battleground.

Only shortly before the move to Korea, Parrott's platoon team was runner-up for the 24th Division volleyball championship. He was selected on the all-tournament team and received a trophy.

Parrott was graduated from Midland High School in June, 1944, where he played some football and was prominent in social life and school dramatics, appearing in the senior play and one-act mystery play. Ranching was Parrott's special talent and he had worked as a cowboy on the Foy Proctor, Guy Cowden and Midkiff ranches prior to the time he reentered the armed forces. He attended most of the rodeos in the area and numbers many close acquaintances in the profession.

Yes, friends from all over West Texas will be happy to know that the rumored death of Glenn Parrott was just that—a rumor.

Two-Ton Tillies Band Together To Fight Battle Of Bulge Against Expanding Hips

LONG BEACH, CALIF.—(AP)—A bunch of two-ton tillies—137 of them—have formed Padies Anonymous to fight that war on the hips.

The group operates on the same theory as Alcoholics Anonymous—helping each other. The president and founder, a night club entertainer who weighs 281 pounds, announced the plan.

"I used to have a ship-shape figure," admits Miss 281, "but I developed an enlarged keel."

PA meets once weekly in the VFW Hall. (VFW used to stand for Veterans of Foreign Wars but now is dubbed Very Fat Women.) Members take an oath to abhor fats, sugars, starches and carbohydrates.

Then comes the time for testimonials.

Heavier Tax Hike Proposed By Taft

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) Wednesday proposed a $13,000,000,000 to $14,000,000,000-a-year increase in taxes, to put the Korean war and America's rearmament program on a pay-as-you-go basis.

This would boost the annual tax load to about $50,000,000,000, far above the previous $44,200,000,000 record top in 1945, the last year of World War II.

Taft described President Truman's $5,000,000,000 tax-boosting measure now under consideration by the Senate Finance Committee, as "merely a stop-gap" with heavier taxes to come later.

In suggesting his pay-as-you-go plan, Taft emphasized that not near all the increased tax collections would be by boosting rates. He said a large part of the increase will come from a broad expansion of the economy in the rearmament program.

Israel Reaffirms Religious Freedom

JERUSALEM—(AP)—The Israeli government says it is sticking to a policy of religious freedom for all denominations in this country. This principle again was made clear recently in a letter from the office of Premier David Ben Gurion to five Protestant church leaders.

They had protested the refusal of the Israel Broadcasting Service to permit the Hebrew portion of a scheduled Protestant religious service to be broadcast. The government replied Protestant communities are free to use the Hebrew language in their radio-cast services as long as the content does not constitute an affront to the religious feeling or sense of propriety of other religious denominations.

Water Pipe—Atomic Submarine Is Authorized In Shipbuilding Bill

A proposed military service policy, which would allow two-weeks pay to permanent city employees who enter the armed forces, was discussed at the meeting. The proposal also would retain retirement benefits for city employees while they are in service. Action on the proposal was postponed until the next regular meeting of the council.

The council voted to authorize City Manager W. H. Oswalt to purchase an estimated year's supply of water meters for the city. The city manager also was authorized to make sewer pipe purchases.

A hearing on the proposed C and D paving groups was scheduled for 7:30 p.m. August 15.

The council passed, on first reading, an ordinance requiring the grading and sale of eggs in Midland food establishments. A. E. Cass, city sanitarian, testified in behalf of the ordinance. Cass said the ordinance is similar to an ordinance presented by the United States Department of Agriculture which other West Texas cities have adopted.

Perfect Consumers The egg ordinance would require the classification of eggs into four grades in order to protect the consumer. The ordinance would exclude Midland County producers and would concern, primarily, eggs from out-of-town dealers.

The city manager proposed a new drainage system for Holloway, "M," Kentucky and Garfield Streets. The streets now are draining in a north-easterly direction but the improvement project would divert the drainage to Front Street in drainage program.

An agreement between the city and the Midland Independent School District, whereby the city would furnish water for the use on school grounds as parks, was proposed.

The school district would furnish playground equipment and would maintain and supervise the school grounds. The proposal will be offered to the Midland School Board.
