WEATHER

Clear to partly cloudy Tuesday night and Wednesday. No important temperature changes. Maximum temperature Monday 84 degrees, minimum Tuesday 42 degrees.

Allies Move Up As Reds Retreat

Withdrawal Of Defenders Unexplained

SEOUL—(P)—United Nations forces expanded their slim bridgehead north of the Chongchon River Tuesday as some Communists mysteriously withdrew on the North-west Korean war front.

Two U. S. 24th Division regiments and the British Commonwealth Brigade moved ahead two and one-fourth miles after a heavy air bombing in the Pakchon area north-west of the bridgehead at Anju. There was little opposition on this front although Red concentrations had applied heavy pressure as late as Monday.

Light General Election Vote Indicated Here

Midland County citizens liked the polls Tuesday to contribute their votes to the nationwide off-year general election.

Only 118 votes had been cast in the 18 city boxes at 11 a. m. but by the time the polls close at 7 p. m. election officials believe, approximately 2,000 voters will have marked their ballots.

Midland County has a voting potential of approximately 6,000. At the Midland Youth Center, where the heaviest vote usually is cast, only 42 persons from Precinct 7 had voted at 11 a. m.

13 At One Box
In Precinct 6, only 13 voters had showed up at the Girl Scout Little House, where almost 900 votes were cast in the last primary election.

Precinct 1 reported 35 votes in its courthouse polling booth, and Precinct 5 at the City-County Auditorium had 26 votes at 11 a. m.

There was little, of course, to stir the interest of local voters. The Democratic slate of county candidates was unopposed and, in the state races, the Republicans were given little chance of upsetting the traditional Democratic vote.

McCamey Soldier Gets Battle Award
TOKYO—(P)—Thirty officers and enlisted men of the U. S. First Cavalry Division were awarded decorations Tuesday.

Silver Star Medals went to: M/Sgt. Dod M. Rains of Aspermont, Texas, for skillfully commanding his machine gun section during a mass enemy attack August 3 near Kumchon.

M/Sgt. Bobbie K. Horton of Minnola, Texas, for staying for three days in an exposed observation post and directing friendly fire during the First Cavalry Division's breakthrough from the Pusan perimeter in the Nakdong River section.

Bronze Star Medal with "V" for valor: Sgt. William J. C. Curry of McCamey, Texas.

Florida Precinct Does Job Quickly
BROWNS FARM, FLA.—(P)—This small Palm Beach County voting precinct closed its polls at 7:40 a. m. (CST) Tuesday after 14 of its 15 registered voters cast ballots.

One voter was out of the community and there was no chance of his returning.

Thirteen voted for George Smathers for U. S. senator; one for Republican John Booth.

Explosion In England Kills Three, Hurts 25

HARWICH, ENGLAND—(P)—A violent blast at an explosives plant near here Tuesday killed at least three men and injured 25. Another worker is missing.

The explosion occurred in the mixing room at a factory owned by the Explosives and Chemicals Products, Ltd.

The factory is on Bramble Island, at the mouth of the River Naze on the North Sea coast, five miles south of Harwich and 75 miles northeast of London.

The blast broke windows in Clacton, 10 miles away. Villagers of Great Oakley, a mile and a half from the factory, said it went off like a "great bomb."

There were 200 workers in the plant when the explosion occurred. Officials said the factory was producing industrial explosives.

Most of the injured were cut and bruised by flying glass and debris.

By The Associated Press
Texans couldn't blame the weather for keeping them away from the polls in the general election Tuesday. The Weather Bureau reported clear to partly cloudy skies and mild temperatures.

More of the same was forecast for Wednesday.

Monday, maximum temperatures mostly were in the 70's. Lowest overnight reading was 33 degrees at Oona; most others were in the 40's and 50's.

Large Early Vote Turnout Indicates 'Off-Year' Record

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Political Reporter
Hot contests in the big population states brought out a heavy early vote and pointed to a probable record pileup of ballots Tuesday, in the "off-year" congressional elections.

Long lines formed at polling places in Ohio, where Senator Robert A. Taft—Mr. Republican to many—was battling Democrat Joe Ferguson for the Senate. The turnout of voters also was heavy in New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts and other key states.

In 32 states, the voters were picking governors as well as helping to decide whether the Democrats or Republicans will control Congress in the two critical years ahead. At stake for Congress were 432 House and 36 Senate seats.

Despite the bitterness of many campaigns—some were the roughest, toughest of many years, the forenoon hours passed without any violence or incidents.

To guard against disorders, New York City put all of its 19,000 police on duty and backed them up with 1,000 special deputies and hundreds of civilian volunteer watchers for law violations.

Weather Favorable
For most of the country, the weather was good. There were light showers early in the day from Eastern Colorado to Iowa. Light snow, mixed with rain, fell in the Lake Superior region.

Predictions from national and state election officials pointed to a total vote of around 42,000,000. By comparison, the largest vote ever cast before in a non-presidential election year was 37,304,380 in 1938.

One state was not voting in the congressional elections. Maine elected a Republican governor and three House members in September.

In many states, the contests apparently were so close the crop of election forecasts was smaller than usual, though Republicans talked hopefully of capturing both the House and Senate while the Democrats scoffed at that.

Republicans counted on last-hour voter reaction to the confused Korean war situation to help provide

UN Diplomats Study Problems Of Chinese Intervention In Korea

LAKE SUCCESS—(P)—United Nations diplomats conferred Tuesday on how to handle General MacArthur's charges that Communist China has sent her troops into Korea.

They had only 24 hours to make one of the most significant decisions in the history of the world organization. The Security Council meets in emergency session Wednesday morning to consider the charges.

There was the fear World War III might erupt if they label the Chinese Reds aggressors and authorize UN military action to combat them. Such a war seemed inevitable if Russia supported her ally—the Communist government of Peking.

Under Eyes Of World
On the other hand was the knowledge that the world looked to the UN to take a clear-cut stand opposing aggression.

Responsible diplomatic circles said Monday night Western diplomats currently favor a restatement of the UN's order for all states to refrain from giving aid to the North Koreans, without mentioning China by name.

Western governments, it is understood, are making every effort to avoid putting Red China into a position where she would either be forced into open war or forced to acknowledge a retreat. They want to help Peking "save face" now to prevent all-out war later.

The American position is said to be that real intervention already is a matter of record, but that it may be possible to get the Peking government out of Korea by diplomatic pressure rather than military action.

Two Found Dead In Crashed Plane
HOUSTON—(P)—The wreckage of a private airplane, containing the bodies of a pilot and a passenger, was found near Sabins, Mexico, at 7 a. m. Tuesday, climaxing an extensive 18-hour land and air search, according to a spokesman from the Ellington Air Force Base Fifth Air Rescue Squadron.

Officials said the men, who disappeared after hiring the plane from San Antonio Aviation, Inc., at 5 p. m. Sunday, were identified from wallets found on the bodies as Felipe Gloria, the pilot, and Raymon Lopez, a passenger, both of San Antonio.

Grand Jury Returns Six Indictments
A 70th District Court grand jury Monday returned six indictments when it reported to Judge Paul Moss.

The indictments included four for swindling, one for rape and one for theft by baillee.

Line Up! 700 To 800 Odessa Game Tickets On Sale Thursday
Between 700 and 800 additional tickets to Saturday's football game between Midland and Odessa will go on sale at 5 p. m. Thursday at the south gate of the Memorial Stadium here, school officials announced Tuesday. The tickets will be limited four to a person.

The duets are for west side temporary bleacher and Section W (north end) seats. All are reserved. A crowd of more than 13,000 fans is expected to see the Armistice Day classic.

Official said none of the extra seat tickets have been sent to Odessa.

They Break Even In New Hampshire
HART'S LOCATION, N. H.—(P)—This tiny mountain village—claiming to be the first in the nation to report in Tuesday's election—saw the Republicans and Democrats break even.

Two years ago, the Republicans carried this hamlet 10 to 1. The big switch came when Democrat Robert P. Bingham edged Governor Adams (R) 5 to 4.

U. S. Senator Charles W. Tobey, veteran Republican seeking a third term, won out 6 to 4 over Democrat Emmett J. Kelley.

Republican Congressman Chester E. Merrow topped Democrat Frank L. Sullivan 6-4.

The 10 voters in this picturesque village on Wiley Mountain—a railroad town—were up at daybreak to vote in below-freezing weather.

Nurses In Lutkin Hospital On Strike
LUTKIN—(P)—The number of nurses on strike at the Angelina County Hospital climbed to 19 Tuesday with some of the nurses on each shift failing to report for work. The county says it hasn't the money.

However, hospital officials said the 32 patients were receiving normal care.

Eight nurses on the 8 to 11 p. m. shift refused to work Monday. Five on the 11 p. m. to 7 a. m. shift also went on strike. When the 7 a. m. to 3 p. m. shift reported Tuesday, six more were missing.

HOTEL FIRE VICTIM TENTATIVELY NAMED
CORSIKANA, TEXAS—(P)—Officials Tuesday tentatively identified the victim of last Friday's Commercial Hotel fire here as J. M. Jarvis, address unknown, about 45 years old, about six feet tall, weight about 145 pounds, brown hair.

The identification was made from laundry marks.

HELENA, MONT.—(AP)—State Aeronautics Director Frank Wiley said Tuesday a Northwest Airlines plane, with 17 passengers and a crew of four aboard, is missing on a flight over the continental divide between here and Butte.

It's Hurricane Time Again For Burly, Curly Jon Hall

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD — Behind the Screen:

Twelve years ago Sam Goldwyn flipped the master switch on a battery of 40 wind machines and blew two kids to stardom.

The kids, just out of their teens, were Dorothy Lamour and Jon Hall and the movie was a South Sea Island tale, "Hurricane."

Dorothy made a career out of a sarong but Jon hopped from the coral reefs to western hero, the film version of "Lady in the Dark."

War-time Coast Guardsman, Arabian Nights hero opposite Maria Montez, airport and orange grove owner.

Now that action pictures are back, Hollywood is turning on the wind machines again and Jon's the bare-chested hero with the wind whistling through his curly hair in Columbia's "Hurricane Island."

Jon, in a plunging neckline pirate shirt, grinned and said: "We're not trying to win an Oscar. We're just going to give the people a good, old-fashioned movie."

The ingredients in "Hurricane Island": pirate ships, Spanish gold, poison arrows, a pirate heroine (Marie Windsor), a beautiful 150-year-old princess and Jon leaping all over the place.

Zingy double-feature legend on a theater marquee: "In a Lonely Place" with "The Petty Girl."

Mickey Cohen is trying to peddle his $16,000 armored car down Mexico way... It's almost definite that Lou Costello and Bud Abbott will be making pictures under their own independent banner in England come 1951. Lou is closing a deal to buy "Golden City," London's smash musical about the African gold rush... Johnny Agar hits the high part of his see-saw career with his performance in "Breakthrough."

Top Secret
Charlie Chaplin's secret picture project, slated as a follow-up to his circus film, will be a comedy based on the life of a writer in London's Soho district... Another tough, hard-hitting role for Dick Powell. He'll play a front-page crime reporter in MGM's newspaper story, "This Is News," Home From Rome.

Constance and Doris Dowling are saying ta-ta to Italy for a while and will resume their Hollywood careers. They're the movie-town sisters who scooted over to the land of antipasto and gave Anna Magnani serious competition as stars in Italian films.

Italian moviegoers, says Doris, are nuts about Rita Hayworth, but it's Ingrid Bergman who mesmerizes them the way Mussolini did once upon a time.

Abundant Living

By E. STANLEY JONES
John 15:11; 16:33; Rom. 8:34-39
ABUNDANT LIVING "IN SPITE OF"

Abundant living is sometimes on account of, but more often, perhaps, in spite of. When circumstances are against us, we must be able to set the sails of our souls and use even adverse winds. The Christian faith does not offer exemption from sorrow and pain and frustration—it offers the power, not merely to bear, but to use these adversities. The secret of using pain and suffering and frustration is in many ways life's greatest secret. When you have learned that, you are unbeatable and unbreakable.

A young doctor said to me: "Your way of life is different from that of the psychoanalyst, who gives the patient a knowledge of himself and then hopes to resolve his difficulties; it is also different from that of the Meyer school, which would change the environment where possible, and then get the patient to lay hold on the resources of God, so that if he can't change his environment, he can use his adverse surroundings and make them serve his purposes. Yours is a more complete and adequate way of life."

He was right, except that it isn't my way! I discovered it! It is Christ's way.

The Christian "can take it," because he can take hold of adversity and use it. A teacher of slum children was drawing up a list of the qualities in Jesus which appealed to the youngsters. When the list

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Barr and daughters, Nina Gayle and Sheila Rae of Crane, Mr. and Mrs. James Mims of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Al Owens and daughters, Peggy and Karen of Crane County, and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Workman and Darlene of Rankin made up a party which spent the weekend in Austin. They attended the SMU-Texas football game Saturday.

Mrs. Hamp Carter and Mrs. R. O. White left Tuesday to attend a meeting of the Methodist Church in Del Rio.

Mrs. Randolph W. Moore and children of San Angelo have been visiting a few days in the home of Mrs. Moore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Robbins. Mr. Moore, a reserve officer in the Army, has been called to active duty and now is stationed in San Antonio.

★ THE DOCTOR SAYS ★
Malfunction Of Thyroid Gland Can Have Unpleasant Results

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

The thyroid gland which lies at the base of the neck is one of the most important glands of internal secretion. It produces a hormone which influences the general health, the rate of growth, the speed of the heartbeat, and many other functions of the human body.

This column is devoted to the underfunctioning of the gland with a lessened production of its most important hormone. When the thyroid fails entirely to manufacture its hormone in infancy and early childhood, the result is a tragic condition known as cretinism. A cretin does not grow normally, and is seriously underdeveloped. The brain of a cretin also fails to mature normally.

If the diagnosis of this condition can be made early enough, thyroid extract obtained from the glands of animals can be given as a substitute for the normal hormone, and this will bring about good results. Fortunately, cretinism is rare in most parts of the world, and is most common only in certain regions of the Swiss Alps.

A complete absence of the formation of the thyroid hormone in grown-ups results in a condition known as myxedema which also is not common. In myxedema the hair becomes thin, coarse, and loses its sheen. The skin also gets thick and dry. The pulse is slow, and there is a serious lack of pep. The basal metabolism of a patient with myxedema is generally around minus 40. Anemia is almost always present, and there are other symptoms as a rule.

A doctor loves to make a diagnosis of myxedema because the symptoms can be completely relieved by various simple means. The treatment consists merely in giving the right dose of thyroid tablets by mouth. It is true that this treatment has to be kept up indefinitely, but it is painless, not very expensive, and completely relieves the many distressing symptoms.

Hard To Detect
More difficult to diagnose and to treat than cretinism and myxedema are those patients who appear to have an incomplete loss of the secretion of the thyroid hormone. In these patients, the symptoms may be vague, sometimes including unexplained fatigue or perhaps a slight anemia. The level of the basal metabolism is often of doubtful meaning. For example, a metabolism which is not lower than minus 15 usually is considered normal.

Indeed, a person who has a metabolism of minus 25 may not have a true hypo-thyroidism, as the condition is called, and may not benefit from thyroid tablets. In such cases the doctor has a hard time deciding whether thyroid tablets should be given or not, and it may be necessary to try them in various doses, and observe the effects before any decision can be reached.

'Liberals' Betray Themselves

Many so-called liberals in this country use the phrase, "the little people," almost as a watchword. They offer themselves as the champions, the protectors, the righteous comrades of our less fortunate citizens.

Whether they realize it or not, invoking that phrase puts them under marked suspicion of insincerity. For there's a large element of condescension in it. It's patronizing. It suggests the father caring for his children, the guardian for his ward.

The truth is, among men of good will with a genuine feeling for other human beings, there is no classification of people as big and little. A man may be downtrodden, an underdog, underprivileged and in need of help. But that doesn't make him little. He's just as big a human being as the fellow who's riding high and doesn't need any help.

When you hear talk of the "little guy," you can't be blamed for feeling that the individuals who utter it are less interested in acting humanely than they are in parading their generosity of spirit.

If you stopped people at street corners or factory gates or in shops, how many do you imagine would acknowledge that they were "little men?" Probably few, if any. Even people in grave trouble don't like to be treated as wards and children. They want to feel at all times that they're the equal of any other humans, as they most certainly are.

This same strange attitude of condescension crops up in problems affecting racial minorities. Too many "liberals" exhibit excessive qualities of showmanship in their defense of minority groups. They appear to be saying: "See how broadminded I am. I'm for these poor, unfortunate folk."

If you have a real understanding of human beings, your concern for their welfare comes easily, almost automatically. You don't have to advertise your sympathies to convince the world you're on the right side; it will be readily apparent from your behavior just how you feel. And you surely don't have to demote to a special category of "little people" the human beings in this land and elsewhere who need a helping hand.

If that phrase were never heard again, it'd be a healthy thing for our unluckier citizens and for the cause of genuine liberalism.

It's human to make mistakes—the trouble is some people are just too human.

Not looking where you're going when you cross the street is very likely to give you that run-down feeling.

Many divorces are due to a stale mate.

DREW PEARSON ON The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.
Drew Pearson says: HST doesn't like to lose at poker; HST feels there's a difference between Harry Truman and the President; Harold Stassen can go to Moscow, but not Harry Truman.

WASHINGTON — One of the unwritten and unknown incidents of the Wake Island conference is what General Harry Vaughan said to General Douglas MacArthur, who once fired him.

In the early stages of the war, Vaughan, then a colonel, was provost marshal in Brisbane, Australia, when MacArthur yanked him out of the job and sent him back to the U. S. A.

Perhaps this was a lucky break for Vaughan since he then attached himself to the Truman Committee, later became aide to the vice president (though most vice presidents don't have aides) and now presides at the feet of the mighty.

However, there has been no love lost between Vaughan and MacArthur since, and apparently President Truman was quite aware of this on the Wake Island flight.

While playing poker enroute home, the bemuddled military aide raked in a couple of good pots at Truman's expense, and the President finally got a little peeved.

"Clip me again, you so-and-so," he snapped, "and I'll ship you back to General MacArthur for keeps." Split personally.

Every so often, President Truman drops a remark indicating that he considers himself a split personality—that there is a difference between Harry Truman, the poker-playing ex-haber-dasher and Harry Truman, the President of the United States.

Apparently he feels he can draw a sort of curtain on his official day-time duties and lapse into another personality at night when he relaxes with Harry Vaughan and General Wallace Graham over bourbon and branched water.

A clue regarding this split personality accidentally dropped the other day when Truman was talking to a senatorial friend who had come to urge that he confer with Stalin.

The President listened attentively as the senator urged that no one wants war and that Russia by this time knows we mean business and will not be bullied. "Why don't you arrange to meet Stalin at some neutral place like Berlin or Teheran?" the senator urged.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
Samuel Stayman of New York is one of the members of the American team that is representing this country against England and the rest of Europe in an international bridge match at Bermuda.

Stayman is probably best known for the bidding convention that bears his name, described last week in this column. He can also play the cards magnificently, as this hand, taken from this Summer's national championships, clearly shows.

North knew he was taking a big risk when he raised to three no-trump. However, the hand took place towards the end of a team match, and North knew that the other team (which was a couple of thousand points behind) would be stretching all possible game hands in the effort to catch up. If the game could be made, North wanted his partner to be in it; if it couldn't be made, North knew that both teams would lose the same amount.

On the first trick, East put up the queen of clubs, and Stayman won in his own hand with the king. He returned the king of diamonds, and West played low. The fall of the eight of diamonds from the East hand encouraged Stayman to lead the queen of diamonds, in the expectation that East would have to drop the nine or jack.

This time West took his ace of diamonds. For lack of a better return (clubs looked dangerous since South might have the seven or all West knew), West led back his last diamond to East's jack. East then led his remaining club, and declarer won with the ace.

Business was picking up, since Stayman could now count on five tricks in the minor suit. But how to extract four more tricks from spades and hearts?

He cashed the last diamond, hoping that a clue would be forthcoming. Clubs looked dangerous. East signaled with the eight of hearts. Stayman reasoned that East would have thrown the nine rather than the eight if he could have done so; which meant that West held the nine of hearts. Also that East probably started with that least four and possibly five hearts headed by the king-queen. A lot of information to extract from a single eight-spot—but all of it was logical!

He therefore led the ten of hearts from his hand, letting it ride to East's queen. East knew it would do him no good to return a heart up to dummy's ace-jack, so he led a low spade. Declarer played low, allowing dummy to win with the nine.

Stayman was now sure of two spades and one heart, but still needed another trick in the major suits. He led a low spade to his ace, cashed the jack of clubs, and threw East in the lead with another spade. East had to return a heart to dummy's ace-jack, thus giving Stayman his game contract.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Beware Greeks Bearing Gifts Didn't Apply To ECA's Kri Kri

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The full story of Kri Kri, the Marshall Plan thank-you goat from Crete, never has been told. It's worth going into, if for no other reason than that it offers a little comic relief from the still funnier tin-can eating, butting and other antics of the politicians in their pre-election frenzy.

Kri Kri is now happily at home in the Washington zoo. Kri Kri is really an agrimi. This is the Greek name for a rare species of mountain goat. Kri Kri is the only one in captivity. He can jump 15 feet straight up in the air from a standing start, which is almost as high as a congressman goes in rising from his seat to denounce a distinguished colleague, sir, as a liar and scoundrel.

You may recall that Kri Kri got his pictures in all the papers early in the Fall when he first arrived from Crete with a native keeper. He—the goat, that is—originally was intended as a gift for President Truman. But since the White House was undergoing repair and Blair House was crowded, the gift was shunted to the Washington Zoo.

Besides which, there were enough goats in the White House stables, along with the Democratic donkeys, without Kri Kri.

Kri Kri's coming was originally the idea of a Cretan mountaineer, named Eftaxios Protopadakis, who discovered him. It seems there was a little village tucked in a valley of the Cretan Mountains. The sun never shone on this village, and the people were sick mostly all the time.

Along came the Marshall Plan, which suggested that they move the village around the mountain, so the sun could shine on it. This was done. Everybody got well. Eftaxios Protopadakis wanted to say thank you. When he captured the rare agrimi, the village decided that was the perfect gift.

Rest Of Story
That was all of the story that came out at the time. But behind it is the other, untold story of all the red tape and diplomatic bureaucracy it took to get Kri Kri into the country.

It began with a cable from Downey Clark, Marshall Plan information man at Athens. Bob Mullen, Marshall Plan information chief at Washington, took the matter up with Dr. William M. Mann, head of the Washington Zoo.

Doo Mann's eyes sparkled at the prospect. But he warned that there were a lot of fake agrimis around. They'd better make sure that this was a real one, and not just another run-of-the-mill mountain goat.

Another cable to Athens, asking them to check. Nothing was heard for some time. Then came a long cable. The Greeks had chartered a special plane, loaded aboard a distinguished committee headed by the president of the University of Athens, and flown it to Crete to inspect the animal. Yes, Kri Kri was a genuine agrimi.

About this time higher authorities began to weigh in. Marshall Plan Administrator William C. Foster, who reads all cables, wanted to know what it was all about. Other Marshall Plan aides asked if this would be good public relations. Wouldn't people say, "Humph! We send millions to Greece and what do we get back—a goat?"

And the State Department wanted to know what the Marshall Plan boys meant by this, and what time on their communications channels

you once your fear showed all over you—remember? Well, it still does. You were spying on me. You wanted to search my room to find evidence that would convict me. Well—," he gestured broadly—"go on. Search."

He seated himself on a straight chair by the door, nodded toward the bureau and said: "You might begin there."

SUDDENLY infuriated that he should treat her so childishly, Leena yanked open the top bureau drawer. Socks were there, meticulously arranged according to color. So were handkerchiefs. She went on to the other drawer.

Let Peter Thorne laugh up the other sleeve if he thought she wouldn't search his confounded bureau! Her probing fingers encountered paper.

"Don't think you've fooled me, cousin," he said soberly. "You found it. I know and close the door. Then, smiling faintly, he handed the key to her.

"I'm not afraid of you, Peter. Keep your key."

Have a Laugh by BOYCE HOUSE

Col. Henry Watterson, the famous Kentucky editor, was unsystematic in business matters. He used to take the money out of the cash drawer of the Louisville Courier-Journal—which was all right as he was the principal owner.

But he would fail to put a slip of paper in the drawer so the bookkeeper would know the amount he had taken.

The bookkeeper kept after him and Watterson promised, in the future, to put in a slip. Next day, when the bookkeeper opened the drawer, there was this memo, "I took it all, Watterson."

My high school teacher, J. L. Highaw of Memphis, Tenn., had a favorite joke which he would relate in those days: A man told a friend, "My mother-in-law is lying at death's door—but the doctor thinks he can pull her through."

Here's a teaser you can ask a friend: If you had only one match and there were a candle, an oil stove and a cigarette, which would you light first?

You'd light the match first.

HE CAME TO KILL by ADELINE McFRESH

THE STORY: When Aunt Maggie Thorne is murdered, suspicion points to Peter, her nephew, who arrived home on the eve of the crime. To kill Maggie's sister Agatha. No one, not even Peter's brother Jasper, nor Jasper's wife Lesana, seems to be telling all he knows.

After the funeral, Lesana, the victim's granddaughter, believes Peter is following her to kill her, but Peter denies it. He tells her that he is following her to the opportunity moment, and how Peter helped her to forget his request. Next Peter surprises Lesana in the act of spying on him through the transom of his door.

you once your fear showed all over you—remember? Well, it still does. You were spying on me. You wanted to search my room to find evidence that would convict me. Well—," he gestured broadly—"go on. Search."

He seated himself on a straight chair by the door, nodded toward the bureau and said: "You might begin there."

SUDDENLY infuriated that he should treat her so childishly, Leena yanked open the top bureau drawer. Socks were there, meticulously arranged according to color. So were handkerchiefs. She went on to the other drawer.

Let Peter Thorne laugh up the other sleeve if he thought she wouldn't search his confounded bureau! Her probing fingers encountered paper.

"Don't think you've fooled me, cousin," he said soberly. "You found it. I know and close the door. Then, smiling faintly, he handed the key to her.

called me. He knew Sandra from the old days, too. People like Sandra and me borrow on our baubles quite often."

Leena lifted her eyes reluctantly from Miss Aggie's jewel. It was hard to believe Peter ever had gone hungry. He looked much too suave.

She said, "Why didn't you come home?"

"And be dust under Aunt Margaret's feet—like Jasper? Oh, no, thank you, not me! Not," bitterly, "when there's a woods full of suckers in New York."

This is the Peter Thorne I hate, Leena thought, her fingers closing about the delicate gold chain of the lavalliere. This is the Peter who could do murder—if it benefited him.

"Aunt Maggie wondered why you came this time. Even Sandra was surprised." Lesana recalled Sandra's taunting greeting.

PETER stopped his pacing to stand beside her. "I've been talking far too much, but I'm trying to convince you I did not kill Aunt Margaret. I'm not quite sure, understand, but—" He hesitated; then, "I think, Lesana, I know who could do murder—if it benefited him.

Leena held her breath. If only Mart were here! Or—anybody. She didn't want to be alone with Peter any longer. The burning intensity of his manner was terrifying.

"You won't believe me, cousin," he said, coming closer. "You won't think it possible—none of them, will—but I— He drew back. "Lesana, did you hear something?" Lesana didn't. She shook her head.

Peter sprang to the door, jerked it open. But the hall was empty. He came back, shaking his head. "Someone was there, listening! I heard him, I'm sure of it!" Crossing swiftly to her side, he closed her fingers about the lavalliere. "Keep it, Lesana. When this is over, give it to Aunt Agatha. Not before, understand?" Dumbfounded, she agreed.

"And don't go on suspecting me," he pleaded. "I didn't have a chance to kill her. She was already dead when I went."

New Fiber Sheets Lighten Task Of Polish Remover

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Ever since the use of fingernail polish became popular, women have debated the best method of removing it when chipping and scarring occur. Some choose cotton for absorbency, despite its unwieldiness; others choose tissues, sacrificing absorbency for manageability.

A new product now offers the advantages of both. Real cotton fibers are pressed into sheets scarcely thicker than tissues.

These are marketed in a match-book type of package which allows for compact storage at home and non-bulkiness in your purse.

Makers recommend folding each sheet into a square and dampening it with remover. Polish will come

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And More Tar Baby

Mugwump Monkey was going to find out something for himself. First he played like he was a fox. He wanted to catch a sassy rabbit. He made a tar baby out of tar. He set Tar Baby there in the middle of the Elephant Path.

Mugwump next went behind a tree to stop the being of the fox. When he came out from behind the tree, he was now the rabbit who had the famous adventure with the tar baby. Yesir, Mugwump's rabbit name was going to be Cousin Rabbit, he decided.

Said Cousin Rabbit who was really Mugwump: "Happy day there, Tar Baby, and how are you all on a very fine day?"

Tar Baby didn't say anything. "See here, Tar Baby," said Cousin Rabbit who was really Mugwump. "You better speak when you're spoken to, and you're spoken to right now."

Tar Baby didn't say anything. This made Cousin Rabbit so very mad, he drew back his foot and smacked! There he had smacked the Tar Baby hard with his foot, but Tar Baby still wouldn't talk. Worse still, Cousin Rabbit's foot was stuck against Tar Baby where he had done the smacking.

Cousin Rabbit drew back his other foot. Smack! The other foot was stuck, and Tar Baby still wouldn't talk. Cousin Rabbit drew back his hand, and smacked! He drew back his other hand, and smacked! There both his hands were stuck along with his feet against the sticky Tar Baby. Tar Baby still wouldn't talk, and Cousin Rabbit couldn't get use. Smack! He really couldn't get loose now, for he had bumped his head against Tar Baby, and it too had stuck.

What a thing to happen to Cousin Rabbit, because Cousin Rabbit was really Mugwump that fine day. He had played like Cousin Rabbit to find out whether anyone could really be as stupid as the

Burman Finds Jap Bond Is Worthless

RANGOON—(AP)—A middle-aged Burman for five years has been trying to cash a bond representing 100,000 rupees. The bond was the first prize in a lottery run by the Japanese.

The unhappy winner has hounded government treasury offices, banks and money-lenders trying to cash in on his winning. All told him, "Sorry, no dice."

Cousin Rabbit in the story, and sure enough—there could be. Mugwump might have been stuck with Tar Baby yet, except Daddy Ringtail came along to get him loose, and are there certain things that you, like Mugwump, have to learn for yourself no matter what? Not too many, I hope. Happy day!

Physician Held After Two He Accused Of Blackmail Are Shot

MUNCIE, IND. —(P)— A prominent physician whose wife disappeared 13 years ago was held without charge Tuesday in the fatal shooting of two men he accused of blackmail.

Dr. Jules F. La Duron, 56, was picked up for questioning Monday night in his blood-splattered office, where police said they found signs of a fierce struggle.

Police Chief Harry Nelson said the doctor orally admitted he shot Siebert Louis Carter, 27-year-old taxicab driver, and Ralph Winfield Carter, 36, a welder, both of Terre Haute, Ind.

Nelson said Dr. La Duron told him he shot the brothers in an argument over their demand for $750.

Termed Blackmail Stunt
As he was taken to police headquarters, Dr. La Duron told a reporter: "It's a blackmail stunt. It's been going on since my wife disappeared."

The police chief said the doctor gave no details of the blackmailing he blamed on the Carter brothers, but described it as "blackmail of the professional nature."

A grand jury questioned Dr. La Duron after his first wife, Frieda, a Swedish-born nurse, disappeared Sept. 16, 1937. He explained then that his wife left after they quarreled.

Dr. La Duron, who has practiced medicine here for 25 years, since has been given a divorce and remarried.

Both the Carters had minor police records in Terre Haute.

Chief Nelson said Dr. La Duron reported he had made four black mail payments to the brothers in the last year—$1,000, $750, $500 and $500.

He said the doctor told him "I decided to bring this to an end" after the brothers had arranged to call at his office Monday night.

He said the button had been ripped off the uniform of a North Korean senior lieutenant captured at Chongju.

Report On Growth Features Meeting Of Baptist Brotherhood

FORT WORTH —(P)— There are 1,198 church brotherhoods in Texas, L. H. Tapscott, executive secretary, reported to the State Baptist Brotherhood convention in session here Tuesday.

Tapscott's report was a highlight of the morning program, which also was to include an address by Dr. H. G. Bennett, Stillwater, president of Oklahoma A&M College.

Other parts of Tapscott's report showed that 136 new Brotherhoods were organized during the last year, with District 12, in the Dallas area, leading with 24, Districts 2 and 4 each organizing ten new Brotherhoods during the year.

Each of the 17 districts held encampments during 1950, with the District 12, Fort Worth area encampment leading with an attendance of 1,147 at Camp Copas.

The Brotherhood convention was to close Tuesday afternoon, making way for the opening of the Baptist General Convention.

Talks by J. Burton Craig, Sunday layman; Dr. Walter H. McKensie, head of United Texas Drys, and Dr. Harold L. Rickett, Galveston pastor, were scheduled at the final Brotherhood session.

Monday night's opening session of the Brotherhood was featured by talks by U. S. Senator Tom Connally and Rep. Brooks Hays of Arkansas, vice president of the Southern Baptist Convention.

No Dictator But Christ
Christianity still will be marching on when communism is but a memory of a dark and evil period in world history, Connally said.

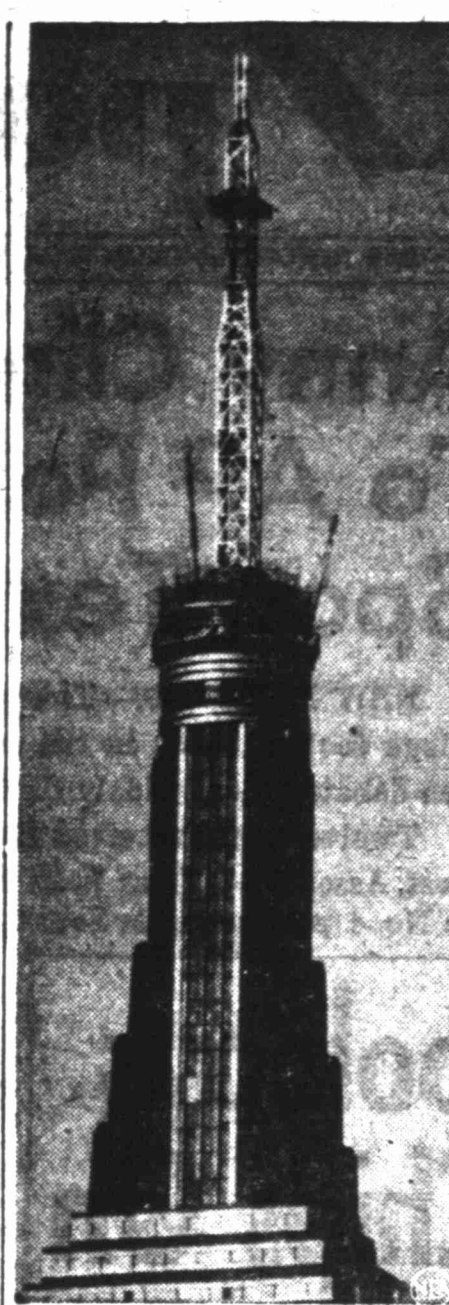

"The United States will worship no dictator except the Lord Jesus Christ whom we are proud to serve," he added.

Declaring that Christianity had overcome persecutions from its inception, Connally said that it would be the final winner over communism, just as it had been over Imperial Rome.

Mayor Edgar Deen will welcome the Baptist General Convention of Texas to Fort Worth at the first session. William Fleming, elected president at the El Paso Convention in 1949, will preside for the first time.

Principal address on the opening program will be by Dr. R. G. Lee, Memphis, Tenn., president of the Southern Baptist Convention, and one of the outstanding pulpits orators of the denomination.

Other features on the opening BGCCT program include the election of trustees for Baylor University, a talk by Baylor President White and music by the Baylor Choir.

Girl Says Former Teacher Forced Her Into Marriage

BECKLEY, W. VA. —(P)— Seventeen-year-old student nurse Ann Tabor, back home Tuesday after being missing for eight days, told authorities her former high school social science teacher had abducted her and forced her to marry him.

Lewis G. Daniel, 33 years old and a divorced father of two, was in the Raleigh County jail after giving himself up. State Police Corporal R. G. Coen said he would be charged with abduction.

Miss Tabor turned up at her home in Naoma Monday. She had been missing since October 29 when she disappeared in Daniel's car from in front of a Charleston hospital.

Signs Of Beating
Coen said the girl showed slight signs of having been beaten. She was placed under a physician's care.

Daniel, a teacher at Marsh Fork High School on Montcoal, told reporters the marriage took place last Friday at Grant, Ky. He denied there was any force involved.

According to Raleigh County court records, Daniel was divorced September 11 and forbidden to re-marry for 60 days.

Daniel said Monday he took the girl to Kentucky to marry her because he thought the court order wouldn't apply in another state.

Guatemala Election Flareup Fatal To 17

GUATEMALA, GUATEMALA —(P)— Seventeen persons were killed as troops beat off an armed assault Sunday on a key military base near the capital, the government disclosed Monday night. Seven others were wounded.

Some 60 persons took part in the attack, which climaxed a tension growing with the approach of this week's presidential elections.

The government said the incident will not cause postponement of the elections, set for Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

One of the main issues of the presidential campaign is the question of Communist influence in the country. Opposition groups claim the Reds wield too much power under President Juan Jose Arévalo.

The government took steps recently to curb Communist activity.

Bulldogs Take Solid, Serious Workout, Aimed At Victory

By TANNER LAINE
It wasn't a fanatical workout! It wasn't a frenzied, haste-makes-waste, hell-bent-for-election workout similar to the charge of a bunch of gook Koreans with rice likker under their belts.

But rather it was a sound, solid, coolly analytical, plenty of ammunition and manpower workout similar to the "we are going to stay" charge of U. S. Marines.

Yes, it was a real workout the Midland High School Bulldogs took Monday.

They were getting ready for Odessa.

The desire to beat Odessa burns deeply within those Bulldogs and their coaches. They don't have to tell you. It's there. And we don't have to publish it in the paper. It is a living thing.

For any one of you who has lived in Midland since 1940 knows what we mean. The humiliating, the cringing, the over-bearing, the rub-it-in defeats of other years are coming back for review.

But not for duplication! Because, get it and get it straight

Midland is out to beat Odessa Saturday in Memorial Stadium. The 1950 Bulldogs can do it, too.

'One Mistake, Son'
"One mistake, son, and a fast Odessa back will circle you for a touchdown," Coach Tugboat Jones told one of his boys Monday. Then the coach put his arm around the kid and talked earnestly to him: "Do it this way, son."

What a sight that workout was Monday—if you love kids and like to see them get coaching that means something. Something that will do them good in the game of life.

The coaches took each boy and talked his assignment over with him. They talked to the team as a whole. But talking wasn't all. They went over and over what is required.

The line worked. The backs worked. The team worked.

As surely as if the bloody jerseys of boys who went down fighting Odessa in vain were hanging from the goal-posts as reminders to the 1950 Bulldogs—the workout Monday was designed to get this year's Purple ready for the battle of the year.

The offense got a polishing. The defense got a thorough going over—by everybody.

Graham Mackey, rugged defensive end who missed the Big Spring game, was back at his post Monday, smacking 'em. Only two of the big linemen were out of action. These two were Pete English, guard, and Guy Vanderpool, tackle. They were in uniform without pads. And they got plenty of running. Roy Kinsey, back, also was without pads. The rest of the backs were ready, willing and able.

20 Miles West
Twenty miles west of here Monday, behind locked gates—the mighty Odessa Bronchos worked. There, too, a storm was being cooked up. It was designed—Beat Midland!

Can the Bronchos continue the slaughter of nine straight years? Have they come lately into a potent outfit which intends to go all the way down the Texas schoolboy trail to the finals and to the crown.

Oh, the mighty Bronchos would like to do just that.

What's to keep them from it? Well, they have to win District 3-AA first and who is in the way?

The Midland Bulldogs are in the way, brother.

And how! Here's how: with hearts set on winning this one. With burning desire kindled even last Summer and even before that as a bus load of boys returned from Odessa last Fall, beaten unmercifully 55-7. Their coach talked to them earnestly then, as he did Monday:

"Boys, remember!"
"You can beat Odessa."

Meet The Lions—Highest Scoring Eleven In Texas

GRANGER, TEXAS—(AP)—Meet the highest scoring football team in Texas: Granger's Lions.

They have rolled up 367 points in seven games, an average of 52.4 per game. That's more than a point a minute.

They have smashed and passed to 3,197 yards—457 per game! They have held the opposition to 27 points and 936 yards rushing and passing.

Norman Cervanka, the Granger backfield ace, has scored 95 points. It's quite a team and should win the District 37 championship in Class B high school football in a breeze.

More people attend the Granger home games than there is population in this town.

Army Climbs Back To AP Poll's Top Spot; Texas Fifth

NEW YORK—(AP)—The question of who has the best college football team in the country probably never has been debated more widely than right now.

Twelve teams received first place votes in Tuesday's latest Associated Press poll, which saw Army recapture the No. 1 position from Southern Methodist.

But the Cadets, who led the rankings until replaced by the Southwesterners two weeks ago, didn't go to the top on a wave of overwhelming national acclaim.

They received only 88 of the 314 first place votes cast by sports writers and broadcasters. That was six fewer than lavished on unbeaten Ohio State, which moved up from fourth to second.

Nine of the ten top teams—all but tenth-ranked Illinois—were picked Army first—A. C. Greene of the Abilene Reporter—came closest to selecting the first ten in this week's Associated Press football poll.

Green picked the first seven in order—Army, Ohio State, Oklahoma, Kentucky, Texas, California, Southern Methodist, Princeton, Miami, Illinois.

Ohio State, which has a modern record 27-game winning streak going, received 48 first place votes, while unbeaten Kentucky got 35. California was given 14, Texas 11, Miami eight, Princeton four and SMU two.

Clemson, the thirteenth ranking eleven, polled seven No. 1 votes, unbeaten Wyoming two, and South Carolina one.

The surge of Ohio State featured the latest balloting. The Buckeyes, who have bounced back from an opening game loss to SMU to another five foes, barely were beaten out of first place.

FACIAL—Francis Ray Famechon, 129½, delivers a right uppercut to the bloodied face of Halifax' Dick Howard, 132. Famechon was awarded a split decision after 10 rounds at Montreal's Forum.

Yanks, Red Sox Dominate Scribes' All-Star Outfit

By The Associated Press
Seven players from the American and four from the National make up the 1950 major league all-star team selected for The Associated Press Tuesday by 381 sports writers and sportscasters from coast to coast.

Half of the 16 big league clubs, four in each circuit, are represented in The AP's fifth annual all-star squad.

The world champion New York Yankees and the Boston Red Sox are the only clubs to have more than one representative. In addition to Shortstop Phil Rizzuto, the most popular of the 11 selections, the Yanks landed Outfielder Joe DiMaggio and Catcher Yogi Berra.

The Red Sox provided First Baseman Walt Dropo and Utility Man Billy Goodman.

Phillies Snubbed
Not a single member of the National League champion Philadelphia Phils made the team. In fact, the only first division club to be represented is Brooklyn, one man from St. Louis, one from Pittsburgh and one from Boston complete the National League entry. Detroit and Cleveland of the American League also placed one man each.

The all-star team:
First base — Walter Dropo, Red Sox.
Second base — Jackie Robinson, Dodgers.
Third base — George Kell, Tigers.
Shortstop — Phil Rizzuto, Yankees.
Left field — Ralph Kiner, Pirates.
Right field — Stan Musial, Cardinals.
Centerfield — Joe DiMaggio, Yankees.
Catcher — Yogi Berra, Yankees.
Righthanded pitcher — Bob Lemon, Indians.
Lefthanded pitcher — Warren Spahn, Braves.
Utility — Billy Goodman, Red Sox.
No player was selected unanimously. Rizzuto, the American league's most valuable player, was named on the most ballots, 360, to win shortstop.

Texas Schoolboys Put Blue Chips On Line In 30 Games

By The Associated Press
The bluest chips go on the line this week in the Class AA division of Texas schoolboy football. Important games dot 15 of the 16 districts and championship favorites will emerge in virtually every one of them.

Baytown can sew up the title of District 12. The Ganders play Freeport and by winning could put the flag in the bag.

Other districts can reach the so-called "dormie" stage whereby teams can clinch ties for the titles.

The feature game of the state sends Odessa against Midland in District 3. Midland and Lubbock are undefeated in conference play and Odessa will be playing its first conference tilt of the campaign.

The state's six undefeated, untied teams all have games but none appears in any grave danger of falling. The elevens with perfect records are Pampa, Breckenridge, Texarkana, Cleburne, Port Arthur and Corsicana.

Pampa plays off-beaten Amarillo. Breckenridge engages Mineral Wells. Texarkana takes on Gladewater. Cleburne jousts with Weatherford. Port Arthur meets South Park (Beaumont) and Corsicana plays Hillsboro.

By The Associated Press
Sixteen games this week bring 23 of Texas' 30 college football teams into action.

Abilene Christian College, the only undefeated team in the state, plays Austin College at Sherman Saturday night. On the basis of season records, ACC would not appear in any great danger.

Friday—Stephen F. Austin vs. East Texas State at Nacogdoches.
Saturday—University of Houston vs. North Texas State at Houston, Southern Methodist vs. Texas A&M at Dallas, Rice vs. Arkansas at Fayetteville, Texas vs. Baylor at Waco, Sam Houston State vs. Southwest Texas State at Huntsville, Abilene Christian vs. Austin College at Sherman (night), Howard Payne vs. McMurry at Brownwood, Southwestern vs. Texas A&M at Kingsville (night), Texas Lutheran vs. Southeastern State at Durant, Okla. Advisory Council Urges Reshuffling Of Schoolboy Loops
AUSTIN—(AP)—Schoolboy conferences will get a reshuffling if the Interscholastic League's Advisory Council has its way.

The council voted here Monday for a reclassification to insure what it called "equitable competition."

The council's recommendations go to the league's Executive Committee, which may refer such questions to the entire league membership for vote.

There was no specific suggestion regarding how the reclassification should be made.

Other council action called for a submission to league membership the question of Spring training, provided the question of reclassification is submitted.
Gift Ceiling Changes
The council voted for a $100 ceiling for gifts to coaches with recommendation a school be suspended from league competition for violations.
Raising to $15 the limit on major awards for students was recommended because of the rising cost of sweaters and other awards.
A bid by parochial and private schools for membership in the league was turned down. State law prohibiting use of state funds on private schools was cited as the reason. The league is supported in part by tax funds.
The council also tabled, subject to further study, a suggestion the league sponsor junior high school interscholastic football and basketball competition.

Think Again, Pal; It's Not Over Yet

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS —(P)— So you think Texas is on the way to the Cotton Bowl.

Listen, pal, it's the Southwest Conference you're talking about now. What happens in this wild, unruly circuit is a scandal to the woodpecker. It's about the screwiest football on earth.

Texas is riding high. It's undefeated in conference play and has hurdled the team that was supposed to be toughest—Southern Methodist.

Ahead are Baylor, which has been beaten twice this season; Texas Christian, which has lost four, and Texas A&M, which has lost two.

Texas has to beat those three teams to be sure of the conference title and the automatic host role in the Cotton Bowl.

Think it's easy, huh? Past history in the hurly-burly Southwest indicates there's nothing easy.

Some records of the current season will show you what can be expected.

Arkansas beat Baylor 27-6. Baylor beat Texas A&M 27-20. That makes Arkansas 28 points better than A&M. Doesn't it? Well, Saturday night A&M beat Arkansas 42-13.

Saturday Texas plays Baylor at Waco. Texas beat Arkansas 19-14. That would make Texas 28 points better than Baylor. But do you want to bet that will be the margin in this game?

Two weeks from now Southern Methodist plays Arkansas. Arkansas lost to Oklahoma A&M 12-7. SMU beat Oklahoma A&M 36-0. Would you like to put money on the line that SMU beats Arkansas 61-0?

"This is what makes football so interesting," observes Matty Bell. "Nobody ever knows what's going to happen."

Poison Spray Used To Clean Up Lake

SAN ANTONIO —(P)— All fish in Lake Medina, near here, got a dose of death-dealing spray Tuesday.

The purpose was to rid the lake of all rough fish such as gar and carp. But the chemical spray, prescribed by the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, also kills bass, crappie, catfish and other fish in the lake.

More fish will be planted in the lake when the spraying is complete.

King's Row

By LARRY KING

Back again after a short joust with ole man influenza and a one thought in mind: THIS IS THE WEEK TO BOUNCE THE BRONCHOS.

We see that the fellow who writes SPORTSLANE credited the Bulldogs' top-sided win over Big Spring with putting us abed with the flu—and, if this fellow was right, we probably will come down with double pneumonia should Midland beat Odessa this week. But frankly, we are willing to take our chances. Won't we have a lot to talk to the doctor about, if the Bulldogs win?

—KR—
For several years now, Midlanders have developed a holiday habit that has become quite boring and highly embarrassing. The average Midlander shuts down his business or takes off from his job, goes to either the Midland or Odessa football field and watches the Bulldogs get the pigskin stuffin' mauling out of them by the Odessa Bronchos.

The next day Mr. Midlander opens his copy of The Reporter-Telegram, turns to the sport section and reads the sad, sad, story of the Bulldog-Broncho encounter. For nine years now it has been very one-sided reading. To see what we mean go back with us a few years to 1941, when one Tanner Laine relates:

1941: "FLY FIELD, ODESSA—It wasn't 75-0 as had been predicted, but a grinding 41-6 victory that the not-to-be denied Big Red machine won over Midland Thursday afternoon."

—KR—
"The Bronchos, with a 3-AA title in sight, were as cool as the northern that swept the field, parading piston-legged halfbacks and a versatile attack that was as good as it had to be..."

—KR—
In 1942, Tanner Laine was wearing the olive drab of the Army of Uncle Sam, and Jack Lively told the sad story:

"Midland's Bulldogs lost their traditional Thanksgiving Day gridiron battle to the Odessa Bronchos Thursday 25 to 0. The Bulldogs did the best they could, but couldn't hold the powerful Bronchos machine..."

—KR—
1943: "The Midland Bulldogs battled the Odessa Bronchos, rain and a slick ball on the Odessa field Thursday afternoon, losing 26-6 to all three in the traditional Thanksgiving Day battle of the two 3-AA schools..."

—KR—
1944: "The Odessa Bronchos put over a touchdown that led the game in the last few minutes Thursday to take the Midland Bulldogs 20-7, in the annual Thanksgiving Day classic of the two rival elevens. Midland led at the half 7 to 0, but wilted in the latter stages of the game..."

Rickey To Pilot Pirates

PITTSBURGH —(P)— Branch Rickey, generally regarded as baseball's shrewdest executive, had a brand new challenge Tuesday—lifting the Pittsburgh Pirates out of the National League cellar.

Rickey is the new vice president and general manager of the Bucs—a team that hasn't won a pennant since 1927.

The 68-year-old man with the bushy eyebrows and fat cigar didn't bat an eye Monday when Pirate President John Galbreath told a news conference the rumors about Rickey coming to the Bucs were true.

A little later, when congratulatory remarks were being passed around, Rickey beamed as only Rickey can.

Five-Year Contract
Some of the details filtered out. Rickey has a five-year contract at an unannounced salary. There's a clause permitting him to extend the contract another five years.

What will happen to the club's present general manager, portly Roy Hamey?

Well, Rickey isn't prepared to say at the moment, but he smiled and added:

"I'm not familiar with the titles in the club's corporate structure. x x x But I see nothing wrong with having two or three general managers."

Roy will continue to do much the same job as he has in the past, concentrating on players. My son (Branch Rickey, Jr.) will have a similar responsibility."

Young Rickey has been associated with his father several years and was expected to go along after the "Mahtama" resigned last week as president and general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Scouts will report on the Odessa Bronchos. That, in itself, should prove interesting enough to pull a large crowd.

Booster President Russell Cotton said Tuesday: "I urge all Boosters to be present at the meeting. This is the most important Booster meeting of the year, for it precedes the most important game of the year. We expect a fine turnout—largest of the season."

You, and you, and you, will make that turnout the best. Be there. Back the Bulldogs to Beat the Bronchos.

Rotary-Anns To Be Guests Of Rotarians At Wednesday Meet

Midland Rotarians and their Rotary-Anns will meet at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer for the club's annual ladies night banquet. Presidents of other Midland service clubs and representatives of Rotary clubs in neighboring cities will attend as special guests.

The Wednesday night gathering will supplant the club's regular Thursday noon meeting, President James N. Allison said.

A special entertainment program, featuring entertainers from Amarillo and Big Spring, will be presented.

The Rev. W. R. Mann, secretary, predicted a capacity attendance at the annual event.

Skiers Purchase Some Odd Things

SUN VALLEY, IDAHO —(P)— People think that all a skier buys are warm clothes and skis are dead—wrong. They buy articles which are only remotely connected with skiing, says Fred A. Picard, who started an exclusive mail-order house for skiers at the Sun Valley resort.

A unique item Picard sells is white chonolee. Skiers like to buy them because they are in the shape of snow-balls and because they are white—usually a favorite color of skiers. Small cameras which skiers can attach to their wrists are also big-time sellers as are antimagnetic pocket watches. A special men's cologne for skiers is another of the odd items they buy. Swim-designed beer steins are sold internationally by the Sun Valley businessman.

Picard has designed a special wall paper for ski huts which he expects will be the next request. What next?

Grid Coach Talks To Optimist Club

Thurmon L. (Tugboat) Jones, Midland High School football coach, addressing the Optimist Club at its luncheon Tuesday, declared "things are on the sunny side" as the annual grid feud with Odessa approaches. "In fact," he added, "I believe we have a 50-50 chance" when the two teams meet here Saturday.

Jones reviewed the ups and downs since he took over the coaching reins here last year. He said his experience here has provided him with the greatest coaching thrills of his entire career.

V. H. (Pet) Van Horn, president, presided at the luncheon, held in Hotel Scharbauer.

Jerry Monroe introduced the speaker.

Four new members, Bill Aiken, Winston Manuel, Harold Borland and Bill Matthews, were introduced into the club, with W. P. Z. German, Jr., in charge of the ceremonies.

Van Horn announced that the board of directors has laid the groundwork for moving a building on the Boys' Workshop site at South Lamesa Road and New York Street.

Grossman Speaks At MGS Luncheon

The largest attendance in the history of the Midland Geological Society heard a talk by W. L. Grossman on the recently developed hydrofrac process at the society's semi-monthly luncheon Tuesday in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer.

More than 200 were present at the meeting.

Grossman is engineer of the Midland division of Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Company.

It was announced at the meeting that the scheduled MGS Fall barbeque would be postponed until late Spring.

Max David, president of the organization, presided at the gathering.

TB Association To Meet Tuesday Night

The November meeting of officers and directors of the Midland County Tuberculosis Association will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the organization's office in the City-County Auditorium.

Month Total Of 610 Calls Answered By Midland Police

The Midland police department answered a total of 610 complaints during the month of October, figures released by the department's identification division reveal.

Early Vote—

(Continued From Page One) The impetus for the ballot surge they seemed to need to gain a net of seven seats in the Senate and 49 in the House for control of Congress.

The GOP's chance of regaining control in Tuesday's voting appeared to hinge on the outcome of close races in California, Colorado, Connecticut, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Utah.

The Republicans apparently had only secondary hopes of picking up Democratic seats in such states as Kentucky, Maryland, Oklahoma and Washington.

The Democrats concentrated on attempts to knock off Republican senators in Colorado, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri and Ohio.

Governorship races in 13 out of 33 states were counted as close. Of these 13 state house posts, seven now are filled by Democrats and six by Republicans. Democrat governors outnumber Republicans now 29 to 19.

The 13 states with warmly contested races include California, Colorado, Connecticut, Idaho, Iowa, Maryland, Michigan, Massachusetts, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log—

(Continued From Page One) back and testing in the Clear Fork section 215, block 97, H&TC survey. Rotary tools will be used in drilling to 6,900 feet.

Terry Test Quit In Pennsylvania

The Ohio Oil Company No. 1-A A. R. Brownfield, five miles east and slightly south of Brownfield, and 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 10, block T, D&W survey, has been plugged and abandoned on total depth of 11,029 feet in lower Pennsylvanian lime.

The venture found no signs of commercial petroleum production. Some observers think the formation at the total depth is the Bend lime.

SW Dawson Wildcat Plugged, Abandoned

Auld and Brill No. 1 C. B. Grisom, Southeast Dawson County wildcat, four miles northeast of Sparsburg, and three and one-half miles southwest of the Sprberry multipay field is to be plugged and abandoned at total depth of 9,562 feet in barren Pennsylvanian lime.

It took a one hour and 30 minute drillstem test at 9,528-59 feet. Recovery was 8,670 feet of salt water. There were no shows of oil or gas.

None of the upper formations offered any possibilities of production.

Location is 660 feet from east and north lines of section 17, block 34, T&P survey, T-4-N.

Yoakum Project Is Abandoned In Lime

Cabot Carbon Company No. 1-A Walsler and others, wildcat five miles northeast of Plains in Northeast Yoakum County has been plugged and abandoned on total depth of 5,345 feet in San Andres lime.

This prospector had some good shows of oil but it failed to produce in commercial quantities after being treated with acid.

After the last acid treatment it swabbed dry and has now been ordered plugged and abandoned.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 317, block D. J. H. Gibson survey. It is one location north of Hunt Oil Company No. 1 Graham, a dry hole completed several years ago. It had some shows of oil and gas but not enough to make commercial production.

Other complaints included: abandoned children, two; assault, three; barking dogs, five; death messages, four; damaged property eight; indecent exposure, three; juvenile cases, three; lost articles, three; molesting, three; reckless driving, three; stolen automobiles, five (four recovered); abandoned cars, five; death investigation, three; dog bites, three; emergency messages, five; hot checking, four; investigations, eight; missing persons, three; mental investigations, two; pedestrian and auto, five; run-aways, three; shooting (accidental), two; utility complaints, 12; injured in automobile, 16.

The great temple of Amon, erected some 4000 years ago, is considered to be the oldest building in the world.

The prospector is listed as abandoned and plugged.

Cities Service Oil Company No. 1-B Burney, in Southwest Scurry, one mile south of production in the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field, and 1,980 feet from south and 570 feet from west lines of section 146, block 97, H&TC survey, is on a total depth of 7,725 feet in lower Pennsylvanian lime.

It found no shows of possible production in any horizon of the Pennsylvanian, and is circulating while waiting on orders.

Pierston-Siebert Oil Company of Texas owns the rights on the lease above 4,900 feet and that concern is reported to be considering taking the project over and plugging it.

South Korean patrols entered the deserted no-man's-land town of Won, northeast of Anju, Monday night. The ROK's reported there were no Red troops in the town but enemy forces occupied nearby hills.

Allied troops and artillery turned back several probing attacks Monday night and Tuesday north of Anju and northeast of Kuntu. They were small scale.

Airmen spotted Red troops and supplies rolling south from the Yalu River on Manchuria's border to the fighting front.

But an expected full-scale attack by three to four Chinese and Korean Red divisions failed to develop.

Operations Stopped At Martin Explorer

Gulf Oil Corporation has temporarily abandoned its No. 1-E-B George W. Glass, deep wildcat in Southwest Martin County, 18 miles west of Stanton and 12 miles north of Midland.

This prospector drilled to a total depth of 12,915 feet in barren Ellenburger. That formation showed only salt water.

It was plugged back to 10,823 feet and 7-inch casing was cemented at 10,700 feet to test the Pennsylvanian.

That formation was tested through perforations at the casing for an extended period. Several injections of acid were used.

The zone developed small amounts of oil and gas, along with some water. Continued swabbing finally developed only water.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 13, block T, T&P survey, T-1-N.

Gulf No. 2-E-B Glass, one half of a mile north and one eighth of a mile east of the apparent failure at the same concern's No. 1-E-B Glass has reached 5,090 feet in lime and was making more hole.

It is 662 feet from south and 670 feet from east lines of section 12, block 39, T&P survey, T-1-N. This wildcat is projected to 13,000 feet, to explore the Ellenburger.

The test was at 8,962-9,012 feet. The tool was open two and one-half hours. Recovery was 180 feet of drilling mud and 1,530 feet of salt water.

Original destination of the venture was to 9,000 feet, or a test of the Pennsylvanian limes. It is now making hole below 9,012 feet, while operators are deciding the future of the exploration.

Allies Move—

Fifth Air Force fighter-bombers and light bombers rocketed, strafed and bombed all along the front and as far north as Kanggye, the Reds' frontier command center.

Tokchon, northeast of Anju, was hit hard.

The Air Force said 600 enemy troops were killed, and two tanks, five artillery pieces, 43 vehicles and six supply buildings destroyed.

Allied officers were preplexed at the Chinese withdrawal in an area where they had forced UN troops back as much as 50 miles. They speculated the Chinese either were regrouping for a large-scale attack or were deploying new lines.

In the latter event, officers said it was possible the Chinese intend only to hold a buffer area guarding the Yalu River hydro-electric power grid, vital to Manchurian industry.

Red forces on the Chongchon River bridgehead area north of Anju withdrew after the U. S. 24th Division counterattacked Monday.

The doughboys regained ground lost in early morning enemy attacks.

Airmen spotted Red troops and supplies rolling south from the Yalu River on Manchuria's border to the fighting front.

But an expected full-scale attack by three to four Chinese and Korean Red divisions failed to develop.

Communist-Style Confession Now Heard In Hungary

VIENNA — (AP) — The popular Communist confession "I was bad, but I won't be bad any more" has spread from Moscow to Communist Hungary. The government newspaper "Szabad Nep" recently carried one by Ferenc Ladanyi, "worthy actor of the Hungarian People's Republic." It said:

"In the film 'Sing While You Live', confessed Ladanyi, 'I played the part of a (Communist) Party secretary in a factory. Did I ever see such a party secretary in life? I didn't. Did I talk to one? I didn't. Did I watch him at work? Never.

"I only knew the party secretary of the National Theater—but then he is an actor like me and not an iron worker."

"Also the criticism that in my role, my hair was long and dangling to my neck, was very just, I admit treating my role rather slightly."

SISAL (HARD FIBER CORDAGE) $7.1 MILLION	BAUXITE (ALUMINUM ORE) $4.5 MILLION

+ Jacoby On Canasta +

A simple little matter like keeping score shouldn't bother canasta players, but judging by my mail it does. Here are a few questions and answers.

Q—At the start of the last hand my side had a score of 4860 and the opponents 4240. They went out and also gained point on us on the next hand. When we totaled the score we had 5390 and they had 5200. They claim that they win the game since they went out and outscored us on the last hand. Are they right?

A—They could not be more wrong. The laws of canasta clearly provide that if both sides cross the 5000 point mark the side with the greater number of points wins the game.

Q—The other night we played four games against another couple. We won the first three by small scores and they slaughtered us in the last game. As a result we lost points on the evening. Should not there be a bonus awarded to the side that wins the game?

A—The laws commission believes that canasta is a game of points and that the addition of a game bonus would not improve the game. If course, you were out of luck on this particular occasion but the chances are that the next time you play you may reverse the procedure and win the big game.

Q—When the hand is over do you get credit both for your canastas and for the cards in them?

A—Yes. You enter your score in two parts. First your bonus count representing your canasta and other bonuses. Second your card count representing a plus for all your melded cards and a minus for all your unmelded cards. The net card count is usually plus.

Q—When our opponents went out we had melded a canasta of five kings and two deuces. Our only other meld was three jacks. The cards left in our hands counted 90 against us. Our opponents claimed that we were not entitled to the canasta bonus because we had to use some of the cards in our canasta to pay for the cards left in our hands. Will you comment?

A—The opponents are wrong. Once you make a canasta the bonus

East-West Cold War Poses New Problem
BERLIN — (AP) — It's a bit difficult for Staakeners to find their way through the East-West cold war. Staaken is a small western suburb, about 10 miles from the heart of Berlin. Its eastern half is British, its western half Russian.

When Communist attack "western imperialists," East Staakeners look at the Russian sentries on guard in the western part of their town. For West Staakeners, the "West" still is Russian zone, to which their part of the suburb was ceded by four-power agreement in 1945.

But the "East" is British East Staaken, and still farther to the east, lies West Berlin.
