Luncheon Honors Bride-Elect

Shirley Culbertson, bride-elect of Charles Wallace, was the honoree at a luncheon given by Mrs. Gerald Self Wednesday in the Petroleum Club.

Centering the dining table was a mixed bouquet of white flowers tied with a green bow. A silver wedding ring extended from the center of the bouquet. Placecards were green decorated with white and silver wedding bells, while bowls of green and white mints completed the two-color decoration theme.

A bouquet of Better Times roses, the bride-elect's chosen flower, was placed on the table with the bride's book. Guests were Mrs. R. E. Kimsey, Mrs. F. W. Barnett, Mrs. Charles Pierce, Mrs. Evans Dunn, Mrs. Bert Hemphill, Jr., Mrs. Paul Jordan, Mrs. Paul Anderson, Mrs. T. P. Tarwater, Mrs. Hugh Wallace, Mrs. Howard Chamlee, Mrs. M. D. Self, Susan Hemphill and Mrs. E. A. Culbertson, mother of the bride-to-be.

Bach Junior Club Has New Member

Karen Mork became a new member of the Bach Junior Club when it met Monday in the home of Mrs. Kitley.

Those playing on the program were Betty Adams, Juanele Culbert, John Daugherty, Sharon Pink, Martha Holden, Connie Kitley, John Kitley, David May, Janice Robertson, Helen Sue Thompson, Gary Scott, Annette Smith, Linda Smith, and Mrs. E. D. Williams. After the program club members played "Who Am I?"

Miss Culbertson, C. Wallace Are Dinner Honorees

Shirley Culbertson and Charles N. Wallace were honored with a buffet dinner party Thursday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Butler, 401 North Marienfeld Street.

Co-hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. R. T. German. Silver candleabra centered the white lace outwork tablecloth on each side of the tables.

The honorees were presented a gift. Twenty-five persons attended the dinner.

Mrs. S. Sisley Reviews Book

"Out of the Earth," by Louis Bromfield, was reviewed by Mrs. S. M. Sisley when the Contemporary Literature group of the American Association of University Women met Wednesday.

Mrs. Robert Burkett, 1601 West Washington Street, was hostess. Others present were Mrs. W. B. Ahlers, Mrs. W. H. Carter, Mrs. R. V. Hollingsworth, Mrs. H. C. Jones, Mrs. Hugh Loney, Mrs. John Norris and Mrs. Lee B. Park.

The next meeting will be held at 9:45 a.m. December 6 in the home of Mrs. Hollingsworth, 512 West Kansas Street. There will be no other group meeting in November.

RANKIN—Kitty Margaret Cowden, weighing six pounds, five ounces, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cowden of Crane, November 6.

The baby, born in the Midland Memorial Hospital, is the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Taylor of Rankin, maternal grandparents. The baby was named for her great-grandmother, the late Mrs. B. S. Taylor, and for her great-aunt, Maggie Taylor.

Walton Haral left Midland by plane Monday to spend a few days in Lubbock on business and to visit his mother, Mrs. Fred Hokit.

Mrs. J. W. Kennedy, Mrs. J. Q. Russell and Mrs. Walton Haral left Tuesday to attend the three-day P-TA convention in Mineral Wells.

Iva Kitchell Gives Satires On Dance

By PATTE ABBOTT

Ballerinas, chorus girls and adeleets all received their share of mimicking Thursday night when Iva Kitchell, dance satirist, appeared in the high school auditorium.

Accompanied by Harvey Brown, composer-pianist, Miss Kitchell danced and burlesqued her way through 11 sketches and two encores in the season's opener for the Midland Civic Music Association.

The opening number, "Sonatina Roccoo," took the sentimentality of the "Romantic Ballet" of the nineteenth century for its starting point. Miss Kitchell kidded her subject along through three tempo changes and discarded it only when she had made the most of its comic possibilities.

Miss Kitchell next poked gentle fun at the 1920's in the form of one particular chorus girl plodding through her routine for what the audience suspected was the umpteenth time that day.

The "Scarf Dance," Beethoven, and the "Garland Dance" by Schubert furnished the background for the third number, a takeoff called "Something Classic." Here Miss Kitchell devoted her burlesquing talent to the Duncan School of the Dance.

Kitten Dance
A pet cat named Huckleberry was the inspiration for the fourth sketch, appropriately, christened "Meow." With an over-sized ball of yarn and a bag full of kitten-like tricks, Miss Kitchell successfully burlesqued the feline set.

In "Before the Ball," Miss Kitchell caricatured a teen-ager preparing for her big date. She took the audience with her from the painstaking period of applying make-up to the inevitable 30 minutes her date waited downstairs.

The last sketch before the intermission was a lively study in contrasts entitled "The Vert Brothers (Intro and Extro)." Here the audi-

20,000,000 bottles of HADACOL have been made and sold thus far in 1950. This is a record for any product but it is even more unusual when you consider that HADACOL is advertised in only 22 states.

Advertising has sold the first bottle of HADACOL to many folks; HADACOL is a very meritorious product and the results it has obtained have made possible the sale of these 20,000,000 bottles in 10 months.

Faith has been an important factor in the development of HADACOL — faith made possible its creation and the faith the American people have placed in my product has been responsible for its growth. I pledge to the American people that the faith they have placed in HADACOL will never be violated.

Truthfully,

Health Unit Discussed At Altrusa Meet

Mrs. John Fitzgerald, a director of the Tuberculosis Association, explained the purposes of the Midland Public Health Unit at the regular Thursday luncheon meeting of the Altrusa Club in Hotel Scharbauer.

The speaker outlined the work of the health clinic which provides aid to crippled children, maintains a dental clinic and supplies facilities for the examination and immunization of well children.

She described new facilities which will be available in the near future for the detection and treatment of cancer. The facilities will be available through the Midland Memorial Hospital. The Tuberculosis Association is financed by the sale of Christmas Seals, she explained.

Lubbock Altrusa

Bertie Boone, president, read a letter from the Lubbock Altrusa Club, inviting Midland members to be guests at a joint meeting of the Altrusa Club and Delta Kappa Gamma on November 8. The key speaker will be Lena Clauve, college professor of Albuquerque, N. M., who is president-elect of Altrusa International.

District officers and presidents of near Lubbock Altrusa Clubs will be guests at a dinner given in Miss Clauve's honor before the evening meeting. All guests are invited to a dessert coffee, which will be held in the Hilton Hotel.

Christmas Party

The club welcomed Hilda Blair-Ray, who has just returned to Midland from several months vacation in Wisconsin. Plans were discussed for a Christmas party December 14. The gifts and funds will be sent to the sanatorium in Carlsbad.

Estella Brown was named chairman of arrangements for the December meeting. Ada Phillips, who recently was appointed district chairman of international relations, reported that a Christmas gift has been sent to Altrusa's Korean nurse, Mrs. In-Ai Yang, who plans to return to Korea soon to join her family.

Ann Clark Named Treasurer Of Rankin B&PW Club

RANKIN—The Rankin Business & Professional Women's Clubs met for its business-luncheon Thursday, with president Naomi Midkiff presiding.

The invocation was given by Elizabeth Rains. Ann Clark was elected treasurer of the club to take the place of Jane Still, resigned, and a committee was appointed on arrangements for a covered dish dinner which the club will have the night of November 28 in the Park Building. Mrs. Rains made a report on the progress of the Boy Scout fund drive in which a committee from the B&PW is assisting. A committee also was appointed to meet with the Commissioners Court Monday in connection with the cleanup campaign.

Lelia Workman gave a report on the district conference held in McCamey October 28 and 29.

Attending the meeting Thursday were Ann Clark, Naomi Midkiff, Edna Mae Patton, Sybil Patton, Margaret Wheeler, Lelia Workman, Dale Williamson, Lelia King, Elizabeth Rains, Mrs. Godsey and Gertrude Rhorick.

+Rankin News+

RANKIN—Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Rankin went Thursday, to San Angelo where Mrs. Rankin is receiving medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Eades returned Tuesday from a trip to Arnett, Okla.

The WMU of the First Baptist Church is packing a box of used clothing for the Buckner Orphans Home. Clothing will be accepted all next week by Mrs. G. C. Fitzgerald and Mrs. Tyson Midkiff.

Don Still, son of Supt. and Mrs. Hamilton Still, is in a Dallas hospital, where he underwent surgery recently. His condition is reported as satisfactorily.

WHY SHOULD THE WESTERN ELECTRIC STRIKE THREATEN YOUR TELEPHONE SERVICE?

The pickets you see in front of the telephone building today are NOT telephone employees.

The dispute which threatens your telephone service is NOT between the Telephone Company and the Union representing our employees.

Union leaders are attempting to keep you from getting normal telephone service solely because of a strike by Western Electric employees against the Western Electric Company.

Western Electric employees are NOT our employees. They have the same status as workers for any of the many independent contractors called into our buildings to do work.

The Telephone Company can do nothing about meeting their union's demand.

Nor is the Telephone Company asking its employees to do their work while they are on strike.

Yet, picket lines representing only 3 Western Electric workers in Midland are trying to keep 241 telephone people here away from their jobs and trying to interrupt the telephone service of a community of 23,200 people.

Does this make sense? Why should 241 employees of this Company in the city of Midland, which we serve, be victims of a dispute which affects, at most, 831 employees in the entire state of an entirely separate company—a company which is not a public utility with the same responsibility to the public as the Telephone Company?

It is the responsibility of telephone employees and Company alike to give uninterrupted telephone service. We shall continue every effort to keep your service as nearly normal as possible. And hope that more telephone people will recognize this responsibility to their friends and neighbors as the real issue becomes clear.

"POLICE ACTION" PROVES COSTLY—American casualties in Korea are just about equal to the combined number suffered by U. S. forces in three previous wars as shown by the Newschart above. Korean figures cover casualties through Oct. 27, latest date for which Defense Department had complete data. Total has been greatly increased by new Chinese-North Korean counter-offensive.

HISTORIC MASS—This was the impressive scene inside St. Peter's Basilica as Pope Pius XII said mass to conclude the ceremony of the proclamation of the dogma of Assumption of the Virgin Mary into heaven. The Pope is flanked by the greatest assemblage of Roman Catholic prelates in the 2000-year history of the Church. Outside the Basilica, an estimated 700,000 people jammed the square to overflow during the historic ceremony.

WEIRD SCENE—Dressed in hooded black gowns that leave only the eyes, hands and feet exposed, villagers of Montepulciano, Italy, carry huge symbolic nails and pincers in a dramatic procession representing the Passion of Christ. The scene is from the film "The Forbidden Christ," first screen venture of noted Italian author Curzio Malaparte.

HAS NICE CALVES—Virginia Orr, 17, crowned Golden Guernsey Girl for 1950, at the Novato, Calif., Cow Palace, hugs two calves who won celebrity by being born during the contest. Virginia has her own herd of 10 Guerneys and received the 4-H Achievement Award for 1950.

RUSHING THE SEASON—You might think it's a little early, but Santa Claus has to plan well in the future to take care of all his obligations on Dec. 25. At left above, "Santa," impersonated by Master Sgt. Morris Yurak at Mitchel Air Force Base, N. Y., loads a huge "Karton for Korea" with the help of pilots, Lt. Edward Snyder, center, and Capt. John Murray. At right, Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus arrive by helicopter at Allentown, Pa., for their first appearance of the season, "loaded to the rotors" with gifts for good little kiddies.

UP TO SCRATCH—New Yorkers' eyebrows raised when they recently got a glimpse of Juliette Margien's fingernails. After 28 years in Hollywood caring for screen stars' nails, she believes long nails enhance a woman's attractiveness. Her right hand has "short" nails (for shaking hands) while those on her left hand (for glamor) are 3 1/2 inches long.

GALLANT GENDARME—The long arm of the law—Police Lt. John Marler, in this case—reaches out to accuse Mrs. Lester F. Cook of courtesy while driving through Atlanta, Ga. Police there are presenting poses to motorists in recognition of polite, careful driving. Mrs. Cook stopped to let a pedestrian pass, then made a turn after giving the correct (yes, correct) signal.

General Dwight Eisenhower — Molder Of Allied Armies

Artist's sketch of General "Ike" as a soldier. In Europe he would command a unified army of 50 divisions, plus strong naval forces and a mighty air armada.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, liberator of Europe in 1944-45, is slated to be recalled from his civilian job as president of Columbia University to head up the collective armed forces being formed by 12 North Atlantic Pact nations for the defense of Western Europe. Here are some candid glimpses of the famous five-star general, who has told President Truman "I am always available for any duty in uniform to which I am assigned."

Greeting General MacArthur in Japan, 1946. He was MacArthur's aide in the mid-thirties, and—as U. S. chief of staff—Mac's boss from 1945 to 1948.

Daddy Ringtail And The Firewood

The nights were getting cooler and cooler, there in the Great Forest, and so were the days. The Summer was almost gone. Mother Ringtail knew that before long the wind would blow so cold from the North, and maybe the freezing rains would come, and sweaters and coats would feel good again, and a great fire would have to be roaring there in the fireplace. "Daddy Ringtail," Mother Ringtail said one shivery morning, "fire-lighting time is going to be here before we know it."

Daddy Ringtail said he knew it. "I'll have to get some firewood," he said. "I'll ask the Huffen Puffen to help me."

Sammy Ringtail, the monkey boy, heard all this talk about firewood, and about Daddy Ringtail asking the Huffen Puffen to help him get it. "Oh! Mother Ringtail!" Sammy said. "All my toys are there in the firewood box! I'd better put them some where else before Daddy Ringtail and the Huffen bring the firewood up to the monkey house!"

But Mother Ringtail said: "There isn't any hurry. The Huffen is lazy, you know." Sammy smiled to himself. He did know that the Huffen Puffen was lazy. He remembered how it was the year before, when fire-lighting time had almost come again. Daddy Ringtail had asked the Huffen to help with the firewood, but the Huffen had been too tired. Another day he had been too busy. And every day the Huffen had been too lazy. After many days, Daddy Ringtail finally got the firewood all by himself.

"And it will be that way this year, I guess," Mother Ringtail said. And so Sammy left his toys in the firewood box on the morning that I'm telling you about. But Daddy Ringtail came back in a little while. "The Huffen is tired today," he said, "and now I'm going for firewood myself."

Sammy jumped when he heard Daddy Ringtail say it. He jumped in a hurry to get his toys out of the firewood box. He knew what would soon be there... firewood and more firewood. For Daddy Ringtail had said he wasn't going to wait on anybody's help to get it. Oh, things will usually get done all right, when you decide to do them yourself. Happy day!
