'Phone Pickets Ease Activities In All Of State

By The Associated Press

Pickets patrolled before telephone exchanges at Fort Worth and Amarillo Saturday and showed for the first time at Temple as the Western Electric workers' strike went into its tenth day.

Three pickets who said they were from Austin arrived at Temple during the morning and left about 3:15 p.m. Telephone operators there went back to work immediately.

The pickets showed up at Fort Worth at 12:10 p.m. and at Amarillo at 2:30 p.m.

A Southwestern Bell spokesman in Dallas said many Bell operators in the two cities stayed on duty despite the presence of pickets outside.

"It used to be that the operators wouldn't keep on working even though they already were in the building and didn't need to cross a picket line," he said. "But some now are staying on the job."

He admitted this advantage was only temporary—that the next shift of operators would not cross the picket line when the current shift's tour of duty ended.

New Charge Planned

Except for Fort Worth and Amarillo, telephone service was normal throughout Texas Saturday. During the morning the state's telephone exchanges were entirely picket-free for the first time since the strike began November 9.

Santa Gets Ready For Annual Parade Here November 28

Midland's most spectacular parade of all time is being arranged by the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce to honor Santa Claus on his annual pre-Christmas eve visit here at 7 p.m., Tuesday, November 28, Goodrich Hejl, JayCee parade chairman, said Saturday.

The Santa Claus parade will highlight the official opening of the Christmas shopping season in Midland, when colorful street lights will be turned on and Christmas store windows unveiled at 6 p.m.

The largest crowd ever assembled in downtown Midland is expected.

The "Treasure Hunt" sponsored by the Retailers Committee of the Chamber of Commerce will be another feature of the shopping season opener.

Hejl said Saturday the starting point of the parade will be at the intersection of A and Missouri streets.

The JCCCO (Junior Chamber of Commerce Communications Office) announced Saturday a direct line to the North Pole is being completed. Linemen Andy Gump and Bob Surrey made the final connections Saturday afternoon, contacting Santa Claus late Saturday night, but line trouble developed and service was disrupted. It is hoped the difficulties will be ironed out by Monday. The JCCCO has promised to keep residents posted, passing on all messages from Santa Claus.

Streets, churches, schools, youth organizations, business firms, oil companies, civic and service clubs and others interested are invited and urged to enter floats in the procession. Parade entries should be made by telephoning Hejl at No. 2880. Each float will be placed in the parade according to its date of entry.

The floats will be judged in two divisions this year, Hejl stated. A senior division will include floats of business houses, civic and service organizations. (Continued On Page 11)

Salesman Jailed On Murder Charge After Five Killed In Shooting Spree

VINELAND, N. J.—(AP)—A mild-looking, stocky, little man who slaughtered five of his wife's relatives and wounded four other persons in a wild shooting spree Friday night was jailed on murder charges Saturday.

"I ain't saying nothin'. I don't want to enter no plea," muttered five-foot-seven Ernest Ingento Saturday when he was taken before a judge.

That was 10 hours after the 25-year-old appliance salesman and ex-GI stalked into his wife's house, a gun in each hand. He demanded to see his children.

Judge To Contest Election

FALFURRIAS, TEXAS—(AP)—Judge Sam G. Reams said Saturday he will contest his defeat for the 79th District Court judgeship by Rep. A. J. Vale of Rio Grande City.

Judge Reams had been appointed to the post by Gov. Allan Shivers and was the Democratic nominee for election to the remaining two years of the term. But a write-in movement gave the post to Vale in the November 7 election.

Vale, who was reelected as state representative from the 74th District in the same election, received 5,880 write-in votes for district judge to 5,250 for Reams.

Reams said Saturday the contest suit will be filed soon. He declined to announce details of the planned action.

The judge said that in a contest, an inquiry into the voting in the entire four-county district—Brooks, Duval, Jim Wells and Starr—is anticipated.

Vale's heaviest vote, all write-in, came in Duval County, where his total was canvassed as 4,739 to 43 votes for Judge Reams.

Republicans Offer Substitute For HST Excess Profits Levy

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Republicans opposing President Truman's excess profits tax plan proposed a substitute Saturday and said it would raise more revenue.

Sponsored by Representative Reed of New York, the GOP substitute would give corporations the choice of paying either an excess profits tax or taking an increase of 10 per cent in the present 45 per cent corporate tax rate.

If the taxpayer elected to pay under the excess profits alternative, the amount of tax paid would have to be at least 50 per cent of the current year's earnings.

Reed's plan would remain in effect until Dec. 31, 1952. The Administration program, to add $4,000,000,000 a year to the Federal Treasury, has no cutoff date. It would tax excess business profits at 75 per cent, using the four-year period 1946-1949 as a yardstick.

Doughton Disagrees—It will raise more revenue and at the same time safeguard the national economy," Reed said of his plan. "Every corporate taxpayer would have to pay his fair share and x x x new and growing businesses would not be stifled."

Representative Doughton (D-NC), chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, issued a statement rapping the Reed proposal. He said it would shift the tax burden from big corporations with high incomes to small businesses whose income has not increased since the start of the Korean war.

A proper tax plan, Doughton said, should increase the tax burden of corporations which have high income as a result of the defense program.

Gains Ground Out In Spite Of Ice, Snow

SEOUL—(AP)—U. S. Infantry Sunday pushed into Kapsan, 21 miles from the Manchurian frontier.

AP Correspondent Tom Stone, moving with the U. S. Seventh Division in sub-zero weather, said troops of the 17th Regiment entered the town at 10 a.m.

He said the Americans ran into only light resistance in covering the last two miles to the town that had been leveled by air attacks. When the 17th's final push started Sunday morning, there had been reports that Korean Red defenders were dug in just south of Kapsan.

The infantry plunged four miles Saturday through a snowstorm and minor Red resistance to within two miles of Kapsan. The temperature plummeted 34 degrees in four hours.

Behind the Seventh Division, ice and snowdrifts blocked the main UN supply route in Northeastern Korea Saturday night, but traffic was moving again Sunday.

To the northeast the South Korean Capital Division renewed its march up the coast toward the Soviet Siberian border. Shelling by the U. S. cruiser St. Paul was clearing the way.

In the northwest, 60,000 Chinese and Korean Reds were digging in on a 60-mile front below the great electric plants on the Yalu River border.

These Reds offered only slight resistance to patrols ranging eight miles or more north of Allied lines. Only scattered rifle fire was reported by the 17th Regiment. The column smashed an attempted Red trap Friday and left 128 dead Communists behind.

Five Bodies, Plane's Wreckage Are Found

ALBANY, N. Y.—(AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration said Saturday night the wreckage of a plane missing since July 20 and the bodies of five passengers had been found on Slide Mountain in Ulster County.

James Broderick, CAA aircraft specialist, said the burned wreckage of the plane had been found on the mountain in Woodland Valley, near Phoenicia.

The Beechcraft plane left Teterboro, N. J., Airport July 20 bound for Providence, R. I., but never arrived. Passengers on the craft were Joseph R. Horrigan and Mrs. Ann Gill and her two children, all of Houston, Texas.

The pilot was J. F. Aldrich. Broderick said a hunter had reported the plane was deep in the woods and "five miles from the nearest road."

Broderick said there was no doubt the wrecked plane was the one that disappeared July 20. He said the number—NC-90493—checked with that found on the missing aircraft.

Norther Dies Out To Produce Mild, Cloudy Weekend

By The Associated Press
Effects of a mild norther were off in Texas Saturday and a partly cloudy, warm weekend began.

For the first time in three weeks Saturday football games found mild weather. By mid-afternoon temperatures generally were in the high 60's, 70's or 80's.

Dalhart's early morning 30 (lowest in Texas reported to the Weather Bureau) gave way to the 60's. Salt Flat, which had reported a low of 31, had 74 degrees. Those were the only two points reporting below-freezing weather early Saturday.

Low clouds hung over the eastern half of the state and there were high, thin clouds over the western part.

Rescue Teams Seek Arizona Educator, Lost In Mountains

LAKE PLACID, N. Y.—(AP)—State police Saturday expressed fear for the safety of an Arizona educator lost more than three days on a 4,700-foot-high Porter Mountain in the Eastern Adirondacks.

An Army air rescue team, using a helicopter, Saturday joined more than 50 officials and volunteers in the unsuccessful search for Phillip Batshelder, 55, of Tucson, Ariz.

Batshelder has been lost on the mountain since he and a companion, Edward Swan, 36, of Amityville, Long Island, attempted to climb the peak last Wednesday.

Hilton Heir, Wife Escape Unhurt When Liner Forced Down

LONG BEACH, CALIF. (AP)—A four-engine TWA Constellation, among whose passengers were actress Elizabeth Taylor and her husband, Nick Hilton, made a forced landing at Long Beach airport Saturday, but no one was injured.

The captain of the Chicago and New York-bound plane said trouble developed in one engine soon after the take-off from Los Angeles International Airport.

The big craft, which was carrying 80 passengers and a crew of five, overshot the airport by about 300 yards, witnesses said, and skidded to a screeching stop yards from telephone and light poles. It crashed through a fence.

You Must Know How To Dance To Be Screen Singing Star

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—Guys and Dolls: Maybe Nelson Eddy and Jeanette MacDonald ought to be glad they're out of camera range these days.

There's a new Hollywood trend to turn every warbler into a hooper and Nelson and Jeanette would probably find themselves doing the Hucklebuck on the screen.

Vic Damone, a singer who's received the report-to-the-dance-director ultimatum along with Doris Day, Tony Martin and Jane Powell, told me:

"Nick Castle is teaching me to hoof. He's real good to me, too. Never says anything harsh or unkind. He just says 'I'm impossible.' Is he afraid of filling Sinatra's shoes at the studio?"
Laughs Vic: "I can always go back to ushering. I started at a theater in Brooklyn making $7.50 a week. Then I moved from Brooklyn theaters to the Paramount on Broadway. I used to sing in the ushers' dressing room and the band director would pass and yell:

"Shaddup! You're making too much noise!"

A movie fur designers is still blinking. A producer with a story about a stenographer called him for an expensive mink coat for his star.

"But," said the producer, "spray it or something to make it look like an imitation mink. After all, the heroine's a working girl."
"Why don't we start with an imitation mink in the first place?" the furrier wanted to know. "It will save you a lot of money."
The producer coughed and answered:

"Don't be foolish. This is a very important star."

"Why does Hollywood say such naughty, naughty things about me?"

That's what Isa Miranda, once Paramount's answer to MGM's Garbo, moaned when I asked her about the temperamental diodes she is reported to have pulled in movietown before the war.

Isa's the Italian actress who co-starred with Ray Milland in "Hotel Imperial," with George Brent in "Adventure in Diamonds," then found herself replaced by Claudette Colbert in "Zaza."

"Temperament; it's not true," Isa wailed. "I worked in 'Zaza' four or five days. Suddenly they said my English wasn't good enough. That night I felt like killing myself. Still now I don't know why I was replaced. I only know I wanted to kill myself."

Isa's now the owner of an Oscar for giving the best acting performance in the world in "The Walls of Malapaga," according to the judges at the Venice Film Festival. She goes into rehearsal any day now for Fred Finkelhoff's stage production, "Mike McCauley," in which she plays a ballerina working in the Italian underground.

The war prevented her return to Hollywood and she sold her Hollywood mink coat and jewels to keep alive in Italy. Once, she says, an abcess developed in her hip from the vitamin shots she took when there was no food. She sighed:

"No anesthetic. I just drink wine while they are operating on my hip and I am thinking, 'Oh, I want to die glamorous and beautiful like Marlene Dietrich in Hollywood spy pictures. This is no way for a movie star to die.'"

Oh, Mama!

Arthur Kennedy came right out and confessed to me that it was no lead-pipe cinch pretending that Gertrude Lawrence was anything like Whistler's Mother in "The Glass Menagerie."

"It was her legs," Kennedy whistled. "We'd be playing a mother-and-son scene and I'd get a glimpse of those Lawrence legs. Brother, she has beautiful legs."

It isn't generally known, but Kennedy first arrived in Hollywood to test for the Joel McCrea snaggled in Alfred Hitchcock's "Foreign Correspondent."

"I was 25," he said, "but I looked 14. Warners ran the test and I looked so thin and undernourished that they started giving me brother roles."

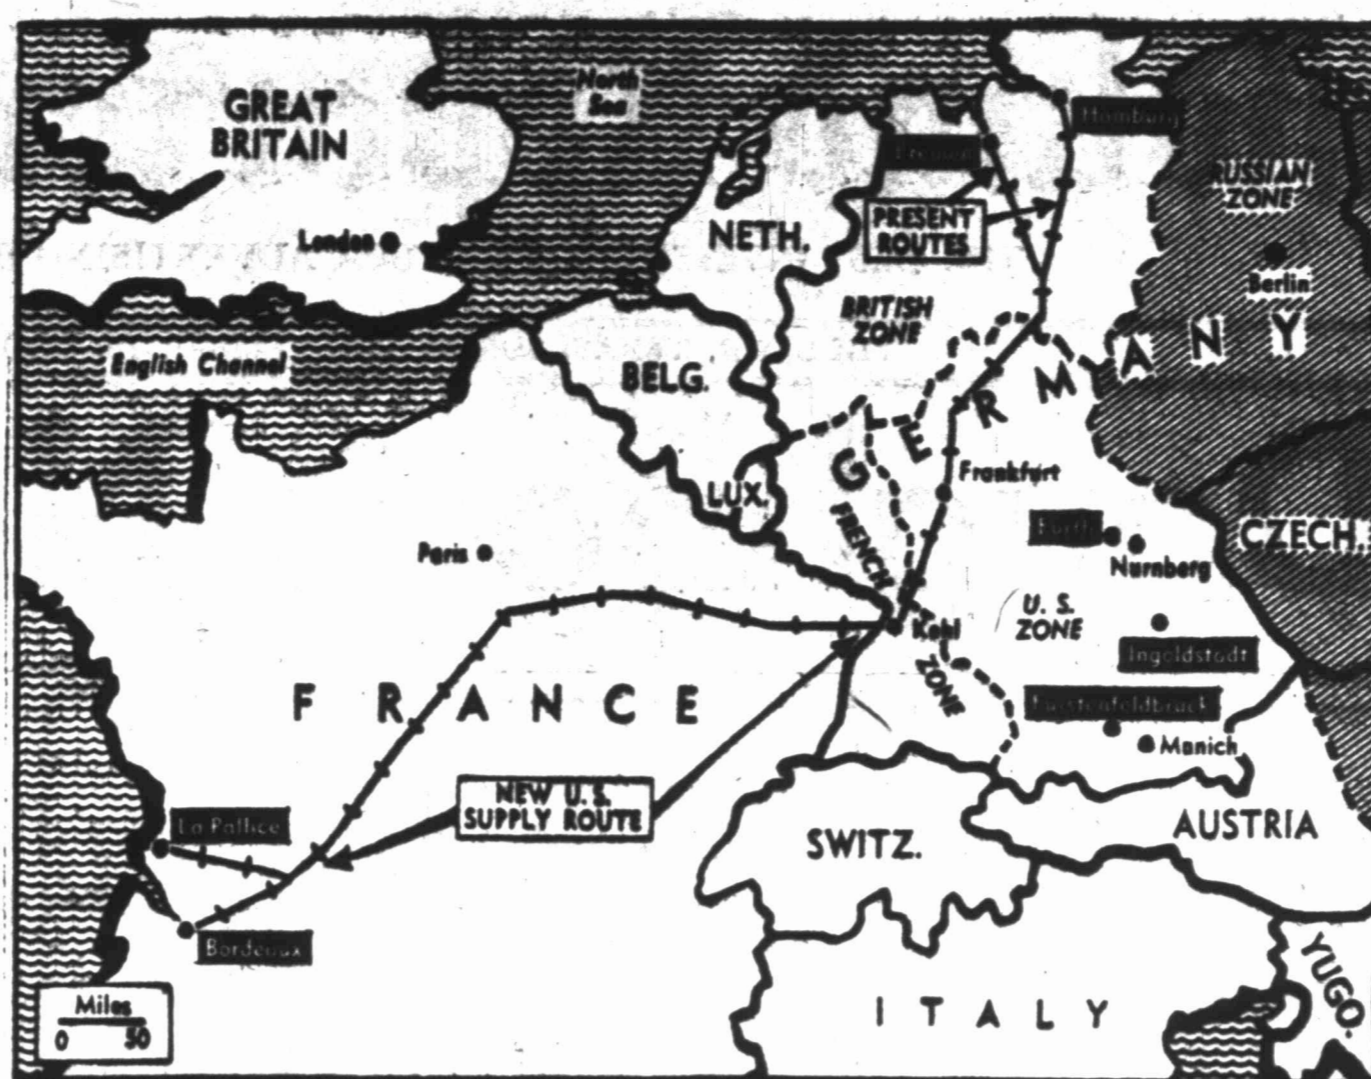

Kennedy was Jimmy Cagney's brother in "City of Conquest," Ida Lupino's brother in "Devotion," Kirk Douglas's brother in "Champion," and Donna Reed's brother "in something I don't even remember."

"A lot of times," he shuddered, "I felt like an actor in the last stage of drowning."

Kennedy admits to tightening his belt on Broadway before he hit his stride in hit plays like "All My Sons" and "Death of a Salesman."

"Once I was sent to John Logan," he related, "as the kind of actor Logan might help. The lining in my overcoat sleeve was out. Twice I tried to shake hands with Logan and twice I gave him the lining instead of my hand. Finally I tore the lining out, tore it up, said 'howjado' to Logan and rushed out of his office."

No one has ever found the body of a wild elephant that has died a natural death.

YANKS PREPARE FOR TROUBLE IN EUROPE

Because the present U. S. supply ports of Hamburg and Bremen are too exposed to a sudden Communist attack from the East, 2,000 U. S. technicians and traffic experts have been sent to Bordeaux, France, to build a new emergency railway lifeline for American military supplies. The line will run from La Pallice and Bordeaux, pass southeast of Paris to Kehl and enter Germany 80 miles from Frankfurt, headquarters of the U. S. occupation government. At the same time, the U. S. Army, in its biggest operation since occupation began, is shifting its important supply bases and lines away from exposed areas near the frontiers of Russian-held East Germany and Communist-ruled Czechoslovakia. In addition to Hamburg, Bremen and Frankfurt, other large U. S. supply bases near Red-held territory are at Furth, Ingolstadt and Furstenfeldbruck.

Release Ordered For Aliens Held For Deportation

NEW YORK (AP)—Sixteen aliens being held at Ellis Island for deportation proceedings as subversives, under the new internal security act, have been ordered freed on bail. Three are officials of the Communist Party.

Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan ruled Friday the constitutional provision authorizing reasonable bail to accused persons was applicable in deportation proceedings.

In a separate case, Joseph Saigeti, a noted concert violinist, also was held at Ellis Island under temporary exclusion from the United States.

The 56-year-old Hungarian-born virtuoso, who obtained French citizenship in 1939, was taken into custody on his arrival Thursday on the Ile De France for his twenty-fifth American concert tour.

The U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service gave no reason for his detention.

The 16 aliens in the court case were arrested on deportation charges prior to passage of the internal security act and were released in bond ranging from $1,000 to $10,000. When the act was passed, they were rearrested and denied bail.

The government contended the attorney general had authority to confine aliens pending deportation proceedings and that this power was "not subject to judicial review."

Ryan held, however, that this was arbitrary and an abuse of discretion on the part of the attorney general.

MacArthur Declares Thefts Aren't Cause Of Clothing Delays

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur advised the Army Saturday that theft of supplies has had "no bearing whatever" on "the temporary delay in delivery of winter clothing to troops in North Korean areas."
 In a message to Army Headquarters the United Nations commander said the delay in winter clothing delivery resulted entirely from a difficult supply situation caused by "the spectacularly swift advance of UN troops in pursuit of the disintegrating enemy."
 Taking notice of a published report that thefts of winter clothing in Korea had caused shortages of such equipment for American soldiers, General MacArthur told the Army:
 "Statements of large scale pilferage up to one-third of stocks of winter clothing are without factual bases. Some pilferage has occurred. However, it is emphasized that total pilferage is minor in volume and is of a degree inevitably experienced in all military operations. There is no evidence that pilferage occurring in Korea is at any greater rate than that experienced in World War II."
 John O'Donnell, New York Daily News columnist, wrote in his Washington column Friday that one-third of the winter equipment had been stolen from Pusan warehouses "by South Korean big shot racketeers—Asiatic masters of the black market."
 He said the clothing had been "resold to the South Korean civilians at black market prices."
 O'Donnell wrote "it is correct to state that the Army, as far back as three weeks ago, had filled in the huge gaps left by the Korean racketeers. The problem has been to deliver these emergency supplies to the frontlines."

Attempt To Unseat Nepal Prime Minister Still Small War, Involving Only Handful

NEW DELHI, INDIA—(AP)—The attempt of the so-called Popular Nepalese forces to unseat the prime minister of that Himalayan kingdom and take over in the name of a "people's government" still is a tea-cup war involving a few dozen, rather than hundreds, of fighters on either side.
 Since Nepal Congress Party volunteers captured Birganj, Nepal's second largest city near the Indian border, there has been little activity except skirmishes between opposing armies—if they can be called that.
 Nepal's dictator prime minister, Lieut. Gen. Mohun Shamsheer, is deploying regular troops against the insurgents, but there has been no major conflict. The rebellion started when King Tribhuvan fled to India and Shamsheer placed the monarch's three-year-old grandson on the vacant throne.
 The Congress Party forces now have turned to propaganda instead of bullets in seeking to persuade the nation's stout Gurkha troops to defect to the insurgent side.
 These rebel forces are composed of such strange bedfellows as the supporters of the exiled Ranas ousted from power two years ago, Nepalese followers who may be said to have some idealistic feeling for the nation and left-wingers who are seeking to swing Nepal into the Communist orbit.
 With the Congress troops apparently halted after reportedly winning control of the Parwanipur Bridge over the Shishia River six miles northeast of Birganj, the next development is expected to be a counterattack by trained Nepalese

Sunday Elections To Give Germans' Idea About Rearmament

FRANKFURT, GERMANY—(AP)—Five million voters in the U. S. zone of Germany may answer Sunday the question whether the West German people favor the creation of a German armed force to help defend West Europe.
 Voters in Hesse and Wuerttemberg-Baden will elect new State Parliaments after campaigns based largely on the rearmament issue.
 The results also were expected to answer these questions:
 1. Is communism gaining or losing strength among the Germans?
 2. How strong politically are the disposed refugees from Communist Eastern Europe? They are regarded by Allied observers as the most fiercely nationalistic element in Western Germany.
 Four major parties are struggling for power along with the refugees. The four are the rightist Christian Democrats and Free Democrats, the leftist Socialists and the Communists.
 The new Refugee Party is labeled the DG-BHE. This is a merger of the Deutsche Gemeinschaft (German Society), a small rightist group, and the refugee "Block of Expellees and War Victims."
 The Christian Democrats headed by Federal Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, and the Free Democrats have urged the formation of German armed units to help Western Defense.
Reds Oppose It
 The Socialists and Communists have attacked the two right wing parties for pressing the rearmament issue.
 Thus a sharp election setback for the Christian Democrats or Free Democrats would be construed widely in German political circles as a slap at Adenauer's federal coalition government.
 If the Socialists lose ground, federal government leaders are certain to say the voters have endorsed the arming of German troops.
 Similarly, a victory for Christian Democratic and Free Democratic candidates will be hailed as an endorsement of Adenauer's free enterprise economic policies. The Socialists seek strict economic controls such as are held by Britain's Labor government.
 Political observers predict the Communists will lose strength in both Hesse and Wuerttemberg-Baden. They now control 10 seats in each of the State Parliaments—about 10 per cent of the total membership.

Manchurian Dogs Tough Customers, Says U. S. Officer

WASHINGTON—(AP)—An Army spokesman expressed belief Saturday that Chinese Communists probably are using savage, hardy dogs for guard duty in the fighting in North Korea.
 The officer told a reporter both the Chinese and Japanese used dogs effectively for this purpose during World War II.
 When they were holding a defensive position, he said, they often would fasten dogs a short distance forward. The dogs were tied to barbed wire defenses, to which noise makers were attached. If the dogs detected the approach of strangers, their barking and jumping created such a bedlam that it alerted the defenders.
 The Army spokesman said the dogs in Western Manchuria are an extreme savage and hardy breed. Their owners turn them loose at night to protect their homes. They are so large and savage, he added, it is unwise for human beings to walk about at night in an area where they are loose.
 The officer said he once made the mistake of barking back at a Manchurian dog which ran alongside his car, barking furiously. The dog followed his car 13 miles.

Election Analysis

Looking ahead to the likely effects of the Republicans' triumph at the polls, you can conclude only that it was a victory of marked importance. To be sure, it was no landslide. The GOP gains of five U. S. Senate seats, close to 30 House seats and seven governorships ran fairly near the expected off-year trend for the minority.

It was nevertheless highly significant for these reasons: 1. Republicans mowed down President Truman's top Senate command. Stalwarts who fell included Lucas of Illinois, majority leader; Myers of Pennsylvania, majority whip; Tydings of Maryland, chairman of the vital Armed Services Committee, and Thomas of Utah, chairman of the Labor Committee and sponsor of Taft-Hartley repeal and the Truman health program.

This means that from now to 1952 the President will have to entrust his legislative proposals to new and largely untried leadership. And it's possible the battle for the top posts may leave some scars on the contestants. 2. By cutting Democratic margins from 12 to two in the Senate, the GOP virtually destroyed effective working control in that body. In the past, coalitions of Southern Democrats and Northern Republicans often have ganged up on Truman. Now he'll be lucky to get anything through except must appropriations, military measures and limited foreign aid.

Who Won?

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: German farm children learn lesson in American democracy; A new Bob Taft meets newsmen; Employers won't hire civilian reserves.

WASHINGTON — Forty German farm kids, arriving in this country one year ago to study American farming, have just returned to Germany with an important lesson in American democracy.

They didn't learn about democracy from fancy colleges but by rubbing shoulders with typical, down-to-earth Americans. For they were adopted for one year by rural families from such one-horse towns as Wapato, Wash., Stuarts Draft, Va., Accident, Md., and Tippecanoe City, Ohio. Now they are on their way home to such one-horse towns as Bauberbachsfelsheim, Wonsheim, Oberspeitach and Ludwigsburg-Grubenbuehl, Germany.

This experiment in people-to-people friendship was sponsored jointly by the State Department and the Brethren Service Commission, a church group. Its success can be judged by the parting reactions of the German youth who stopped by the State Department enroute home. In broken English, they talked of their experiences and impressions—and the story they will carry back with them to the German people.

Walter Rieth of Obesberken, Germany, who had been staying on a farm at Denton, Md., replied that freedom meant doing what you please. But Heinz Holder of Stuttgart, who had stayed at Broadway, Va., solemnly added: "It means you can do as you please under the law if you show respect for others."

Then the State Department spokesman asked whether they found any advantages in going to American high school. "A big advantage is that you can go to high school here in most cases without paying a school fee," explained Ingeborg Halboerger of Wetzgan, who had lived at Waterside, Pa. A stocky girl, Christel Schoenberger of Stahlbuehl, who had lived with a family at Tippecanoe City, Ohio, observed: "The young people here are more respected by older people. They can give their own opinions in the home."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

I recently showed a hand in which a player had to keep some very low cards in his hand because of the psychological effect. Today we can see how important some very low cards can be in their own right and regardless of psychology.

Table with columns for NORTH (D), WEST, EAST, SOUTH, and N-S vul. It lists various card hands and their values.

ately led five rounds of trumps. His first discards from dummy were the eight, jack, and queen of clubs!

When South led his fifth trump, West could see the blank ace of clubs in the dummy. He was afraid to discard a spade, since that might easily cost a trick. He had already discarded one diamond and could have afforded to discard another. But those miserable clubs were no use to him! So he discarded the five of clubs.

North South ran the four spades, discarding the deuce of clubs from his hand on the fourth. When the fourth spade was led, dummy had left the blank ace of clubs and two diamonds; and South kept two clubs and a trump. But what was poor East to keep?

If he kept two diamonds and only one club, dummy would drop the club king with dummy's ace, and South's hand would be high with a trump and the last club. And if East kept two clubs and only one diamond, dummy would lead the low diamond for South to ruff out the king, and dummy would be high with the ace of clubs and the queen of diamonds.

West would have set the contract if he had kept both of his clubs. Then East could safely blank his king of clubs, allowing West's six of clubs to control the suit!

WRONG: In describing it to others, always add: "Of course, it isn't what I would have chosen."

RIGHT: Realize that what you would have chosen has nothing to do with what someone else likes and therefore don't mention it.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Taft Sings Different Tune In Latest Capital Interview

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Ohio's Senator Robert A. Taft, the "vicious Republican 'happy warrior'" came back to Washington to say again that he would not campaign for the GOP presidential nomination, though he would take it if offered. When he started answering questions, however, he certainly talked like a candidate.

One of Taft's greatest virtues always has been that he said exactly what he thought. That has involved him in a lot of hot fights in the past. But at his first Washington post-election press conference, he sounded a lot more like Mr. Caution than Mr. Republican.

There was little of his best "give 'em hell" technique in what he had to say. This, "would require careful consideration." That, he had "not made up his mind about." The other, "was something I don't know enough about."

He corrected an important policy statement on which he said he had been misrepresented, before he came back east.

Out there, he had given the impression that the whole arms aid program should be cut back. He had thrown a tremendous scare into some of the Democratic foreign policy planners in Washington and some governments abroad.

Here in the capital he said he was not against military aid to Europe. There would have to be some. He was not against increasing the number of American divisions sent to Western Germany. He was not against anything.

The point he wanted to make was that the scope, the method and the character of the arms aid program ought to be re-examined. Far East Policy

What about Far Eastern policy? It depended on whether we continued the bipartisan foreign policy, the senator said. The question ought to be studied very carefully.

He thought anyone who called anyone else an "isolationist" was an idiot. There just couldn't be any such thing as an isolationist.

Senator Taft saying this, mind you. The senator was asked if he would propose amendments to the Taft-Hartley act. He said there were some which he favored, and which "ought to be considered." He thought the Taft-Hartley law was here for as far ahead as he could see, but he didn't want to commit himself on all the old proposals.

Originally the senator said he had been in favor of the ban on industry-wide bargaining. It had lost by one vote in the Senate. But some of the international unions had to have industry-wide bargaining, so the subject should be reconsidered.

Should the Taft-Hartley law be invoked in the telephone strike? The senator said he didn't know enough about it. He didn't know that it involved any threat to the national security.

Would the senator continue as chairman of the Republican Policy Committee in the Senate? He hadn't decided.

Did he think there should be a change in the chairmanship of the Republican National Committee? He hadn't considered it, but he was having dinner soon with Mr. Gabrielson.

Yes, But— Did the senator think the 1950 elections indicated a trend for 1952? Yes, he did—but a lot of things could happen between now and then. Did he think rent controls should be extended? He doubted it, but if an extension was needed, they might go along with price controls. He did not believe wage and price controls were necessary at this moment. Then he hastened to add that this was purely a personal opinion. Incidentally, it is an opinion shared by President Truman.

Did Senator Taft think there should be an excess profits tax? He hadn't made up his mind. He'd go along with the taxation committees on it. He said he thought it would be impossible to pass an excess profits tax properly in the coming special session of Congress. What they ought to do is go after the whole tax program, he declared.

For the new Congress, Senator Taft said he thought the main issues would be the size of the defense program, where the money was coming from to pay for it, and how inflation could be prevented.

What was this, anyhow? Here was the senator who had taken the lead to cut European aid, to cut Korean aid, to end rent controls, to tie price controls to wage controls. He had voted against an excess profits tax last Summer. He had criticized the Administration up one side and down the other for its foreign policies.

Yet here he was, pleasant as could be, open-minded on every project, ready to recognize there was an inflationary problem.

Well, a little responsibility can be an awfully sobering influence.

Have a Laugh

The late District Judge Ed Hill of Eastland used to tell about an old negro woman who was testifying and she prefaced every answer with, "Well, I think—" The lawyer on the other side objected and Judge Hill said, "Just tell what was said and done." But she persisted and the judge said, "Never mind what you think." She said, "Judge, Yoah, Honah, I ain't no lawyer; I can't talk without thinkin'."

An old timer swears that, in his youth, he lassoed a big steer on the bank of the Llano river and, just as the catch was made, the steer jerked the slack out of the rope and the rope flipped the cowboy's expensive gold watch out of his pocket and into a deep hole of water which was known as the home of big fish. Ten years later, he returned to the same spot to fish and he snagged a bass that weighed at least 30 pounds. The fish had a large knot on its jaw and the man was about to throw the fish back when he decided to investigate the swelling. Well, sir, it was caused by the presence of that watch.

Moreover, the watch's stem had become so entangled in the fish's gills that it was wound each time the fish breathed and had lost only 19 seconds in 19 years!

More than a dozen diplomatic conferences. If we could bring about similar exchanges with Russia, we wouldn't have to worry about war.

Twenty-two months ago, when the triumphant Democratic 81st Congress roared into Washington amid shouts of "Happy Days Are Here Again" a forlorn Senator Robert Taft sat in his office.

Across the hall in the Republican policy chamber, a band of GOP liberals determined to grab away his control. "The election shows Taftism has gone out of style," remarked their leader, Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts.

HE CAME TO KILL

by ADELINE McELFRESH
Copyright 1950 by NEA Service, Inc.

XXX
THEY found Peter in the luggage compartment of his brother's new red convertible. Rigor mortis had long since done its work. His handsome face was distorted, his body horribly twisted. Leena turned away, sickened by the horrifying spectacle of a dead man whose body curved like the giant claw of Death itself.

Jasper was not in sight. Had he gone to his wife, to confront her with her crimes? "Mart!" Leena babbled out her fear.

Mart leaped toward the house, the others following. Jasper was hammering on the door of Sondra's room. The guard was trying to dislodge the key in the lock on the inside. Mrs. Carstairs, who was supposed to stay with Sondra under all circumstances, stood by, protected by the ruffled feathers of anger.

"She felt faint," she stung at Sheriff Purdy as he halted, puffing, at the door. "Wanted campor."

"Mrs. Carstairs no more's come out till Mrs. Thorne locked the door," the guard explained. "She's awful still!" He slammed his brawny shoulder against the door. It cracked, but held. Mart added his weight and together they unged. The door groaned on its hinges and gave way, spilling them into an empty room.

on his shoulders all right, Miss Leena!

Leena felt a wild urge to laugh, to be gay. Mart was her "young man." Old Arthur said so.

Then she heard Mart calling as he came in the door.

"Leena? Hey—honey!" Jumping up, Leena ran into the hall. Mart swept her into his arms, kissed her soundly and then held her away from him.

"Something in the car for you," he said, too casually.

Leena saw the twinkle in his eyes burst into a shower of infectious gaiety. She ran to the door. "Pops!" she shrieked when it opened in her face and the tall, graying man stepped inside. "Oh, Pops!"

ROGER THORNE'S arms were strong, like Mart's, and his shoulder was broad enough for the weeping that had been shut out within her for so long. Leena took full advantage of it.

"It's been bad, hasn't it? I came as fast as I could. But," and Roger Thorne looked from his daughter to Mart, "you seem to have done all right, honey. The law was on your side."

"From the first," Mart vowed.

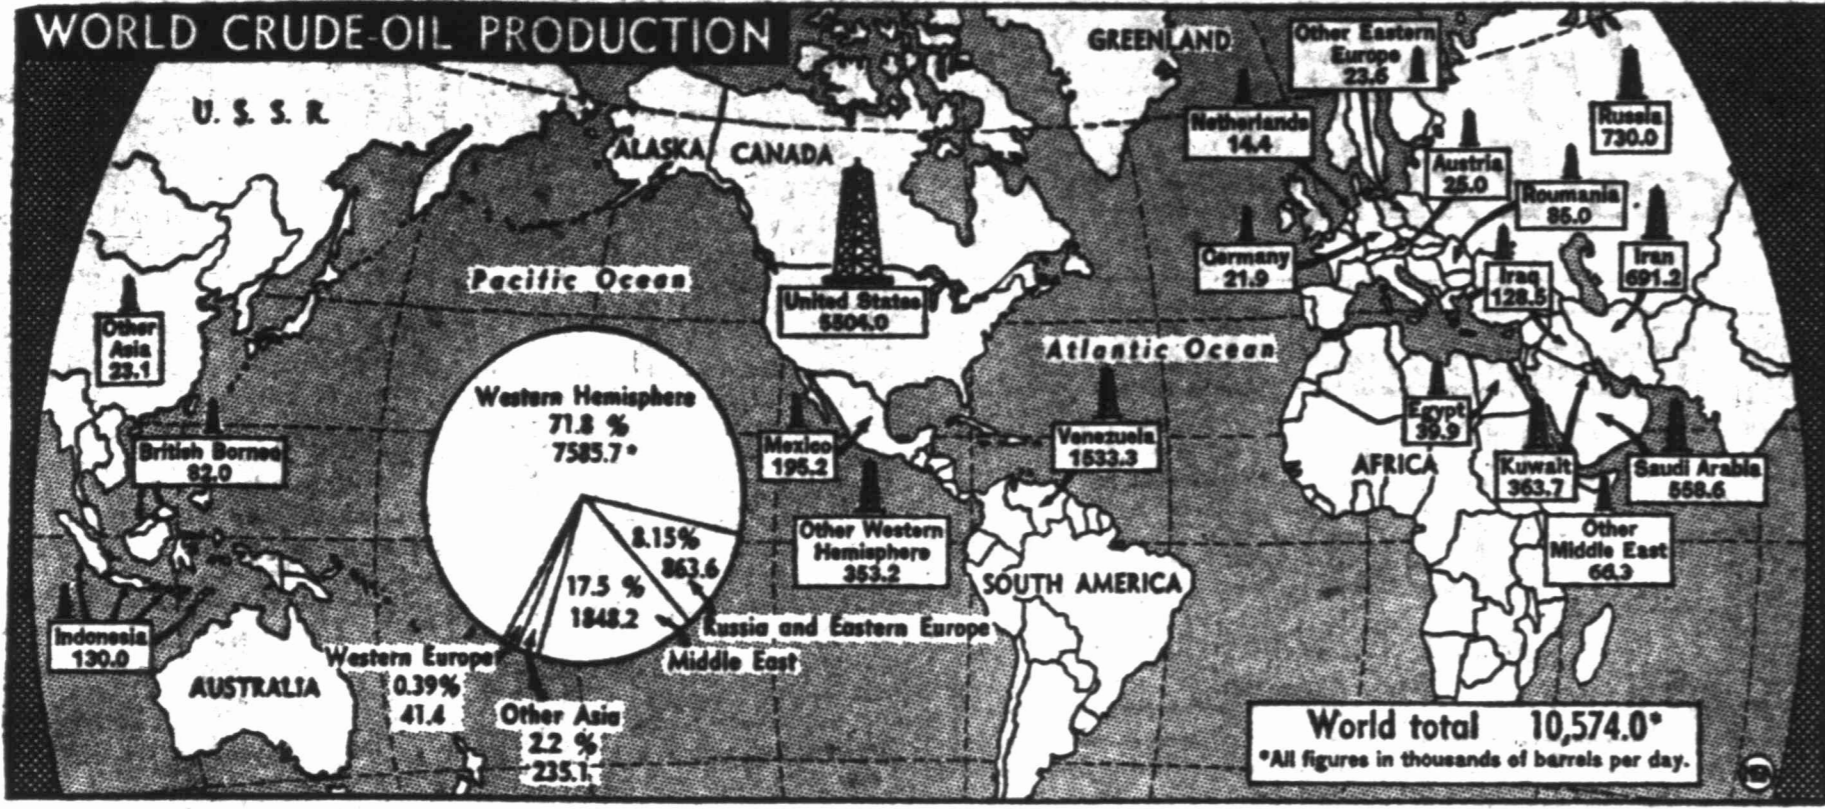

"Chucking Roger Thorne added, "Course I'd have come anyhow. A father sort of likes to give his daughter to the man who will be his son."

"Thanks, sir," Mart gripped his outstretched hand. "Thanks—Pops."

Jasper came then and they talked of murder, of the wedding, of going away—of new happiness that would last some day, to Thorne Hill.

"Sondra wanted too much," Jasper said. "Far too much. So did Peter. Me?" The husky softness faded, his voice became hard, profaned. "I was slow, satisfied—dumb—but I'm still alive."

Yes, Leena thought. Alive—and free. Free for the first time. But no, Jasper was not free. . . . He was too much a Thorne to forget it. . . . She looked at her father, and at Mart, and felt warm with happiness. She was the lucky one.

Russia and her satellites lag far behind in the world's production of vital oil. With 71.8 per cent of the world's oil concentrated in the Western Hemisphere, the area of next most strategic importance is the Middle East, producing 17.5 per cent. "Adequate protection of this area now may well slow down or stop the Russian time table for aggression," is the conclusion of a study by Chicago oil expert Gustav Eglhoff, presented at the annual meeting of the American Petroleum Institute in Los Angeles, Calif. The Newsmap above, based on data from Eglhoff's report to the institute, gives daily world crude oil production for July, 1950. Circle inset shows total for each major area and its percentage of the world total.

Washington Oil—Imports Seen As Major Threat To Renewal Of Trade Agreement Plan

WASHINGTON — A White House source has explained that oil imports, which have been rising over the last two years, are seen as a major threat to congressional renewal of the reciprocal Trade Agreements program next year.

If domestic producers of petroleum continue to fight oil imports, this source said, the result may be to turn House and Senate votes not only against oil imports, but against the whole trade agreements program. Under that program, which comes up for a three-year renewal next year, the U. S. has reduced progressively import duties and quotas on a broad list of commodities which foreign countries want to sell here. While many other industries have complained they are suffering adversely from imports, the complaints of domestic oil producers supported by coal producers have sparked the greatest interest.

At least four congressional committees studied the plight of the domestic oil and coal industries as related to oil imports last year, although none of them urged emphatic action to slow up imports. Senate Action. The White House source, who is drafting legislation to go to Congress early next year, recalled that the domestic oil producers came within one vote of Senate action to restrict oil imports to 300,000 barrels daily a little more than a year ago.

If the protests of domestic producers of oil, together with those of other industries complaining about imports, were to join forces against the reciprocal trade agreements program, a major one as the Truman administration sees it, Congress might refuse to renew the program. Imports of petroleum have been averaging about 800,000 barrels daily during most of the year, although during one week they hit a peak of above one million barrels daily. While domestic producers have complained, even such friends of the producers as William J. Murray of the Texas Railroad Commission are quick to point out that reserve producing capacity is not as great now as it was at the start of World War II. Then, the U. S. had a reserve capacity of about one million barrels daily; now it has a reserve of about a quarter million barrels.

Tidelands: Bluntest forecast yet of favorable action on tidelands comes from Rep. Ed Gossett (D-Texas) who was back in Washington last week.

Legislation must be passed to develop the tidelands, he explains. Probably, it will be taken up next year. As a result of the elections which saw several New Deal congressmen defeated, Gossett feels that "Congress will now act in favor of the states in this matter, and that we will be able to override a presidential veto in both houses of Congress in the event such a veto is forthcoming." There is "no basis for compromise" of the basic issue of state title to property within state boundaries, he says.

Murder Is Charged Driver Who Strikes, Kills Three Youths

ARANSAS PASS — Charges of murder without malice were filed after three young men were killed instantly when struck by a car. The accident occurred early Saturday on Highway 35, about 100 yards west of the Aransas Pass city limits.

Kenneth Bryan Cabiness, 20, of Aransas Pass was named in the complaint filed by Highway Patrolman J. V. Jordan. He is being held in the county jail at Sinton.

Dead are James Bowman Yardley, 20, of Aransas Pass; Harold P. Slaughter, no age listed, Freeport; and Neal J. Haskins, 15, Dorchester, Mass. All four were fishermen here and were members of the same party Friday night.

Investigating officers said Cabiness was driver of the sedan which struck the trio while they stood in front of a cafe, about 12 feet from the highway.

Officers reconstructed the accident this way: The three victims helped Cabiness out to the car, where he suddenly aroused. He drove off by himself, turned around a short time later and came back. He was trying to turn onto the cafe's parking area when the men were struck, officers believe.

"The car went on to strike a pickup truck, bending its frame, and grazed a parked sedan. The truck was knocked against a third vehicle. Only the truck was damaged badly.

Reds Claim U. S. Planes 'Invaded' China 28 Times

SAN FRANCISCO — The Chinese Communist radio at Peiping asserted Saturday U. S. war planes "invaded" China's territorial air 28 times between November 10-14.

The broadcast alleged 339 American planes took part in raids on the Manchurian side of the Yalu River.

The broadcast said six Chinese were injured and 168 houses were destroyed by bombing and strafing. The four-day period coincided with days when Russian-built jets operating from Manchurian bases were active over Korea, but there was no mention of this.

Citing the purported hour and day of each "air invasion" the Communist radio charged that on eight occasions or more American planes were over Antung City, which is connected with Simulju on the Korean side by an important rail and highway bridge system.

One bomb from a B-29 fell on the Antung side on November 13, the broadcast asserted, while seven more were dropped next day.

Two incendiary bombs falling on a village upstream from Antung were said to have killed one pig, 22 chickens, and destroyed $5,200,000 in Chinese "northeast" currency and $1,000,000 more worth of clothing and farm implements.

JUDGES, COMMISSIONERS TO CONVENE IN AUSTIN. AUSTIN — The Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association meets here next weekend.

C. Of C. Has Items Left At Stadium

"If you lost 'it' at the football game 'it' may be at the Chamber of Commerce," Manager Delbert Downing said Saturday.

He is unable to explain whether football fans get excited and leave articles of various kinds at Memorial Stadium or whether they get mad and leave them in disgust—but possessions have been left there following most home games.

Sweaters, billfold, thermos jugs and other knick-knacks left at the stadium may be claimed by identifying the articles at the Chamber of Commerce.

Annual Christmas Seal Sale Will Be

The annual Christmas Seal Sale will be launched here this week by the Midland County Tuberculosis Association, Bob Payne and R. L. Hughton, co-chairmen of the campaign, announced.

The Midland association is financed exclusively through the sale of the attractive Christmas Seals, and all residents of the community are urged to purchase and use seals this Christmas.

Sheets of seals will be mailed this week to thousands of Midland residents, sponsors said.

In Austin, Gov. Allan Shivers, stressing that "no home is safe while there is a single case of tuberculosis in the state," Saturday issued a formal memorandum urging all Texans to support the 1950 Christmas Seal Sale, conducted by the Texas Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated county associations from November 20 to December 25.

"Tuberculosis is a communicable disease and therefore a public health problem which should be the concern of every Texas resident," the governor said in issuing his official memorandum. "The work of the tuberculosis associations toward preventing and controlling tuberculosis in this state has helped to improve the health standards of Texas."

One Appeal. "The tuberculosis associations work tirelessly the year round to free this state from tuberculosis. Yet they make but one appeal a year for funds to finance their twelve-month program, aimed at the protection of all of us against this dread disease. I urge everyone to buy and use as many Christmas Seals as he can and thereby make an investment of health for the coming year."

Television Performers To Walk Out Sunday. NEW YORK — Television performers will "cease working" on four networks Sunday in a contract dispute, George H. Ransome, national executive secretary of the Television Authority, said Saturday.

He said, however, television performers would continue to work for the National Broadcasting Network while attempting "to arrive at an agreement with NBC."

Networks affected by the announced strike are the Columbia Broadcasting System, the American Broadcasting System, the Dumont Television Network and WOR-TV.

Slaughtering and meat packing ranks second among the manufacturing industries in Canada.

Fire Destroys Two Offices, Damages Bank At Quanah

QUANAH, TEXAS — Fire destroyed two offices and damaged The First National Bank and a store here Saturday. It was controlled after a three-hour fight by the Quanah and Chillocothe Fire Departments.

Fire Marshal G. C. Marshall said defective wiring probably was the cause.

Destroyed were the offices of County Attorney Jim Sowell and Dr. J. M. Baldwin, dentist. Smoke and water damaged the bank and the Smith Garner Men's Store.

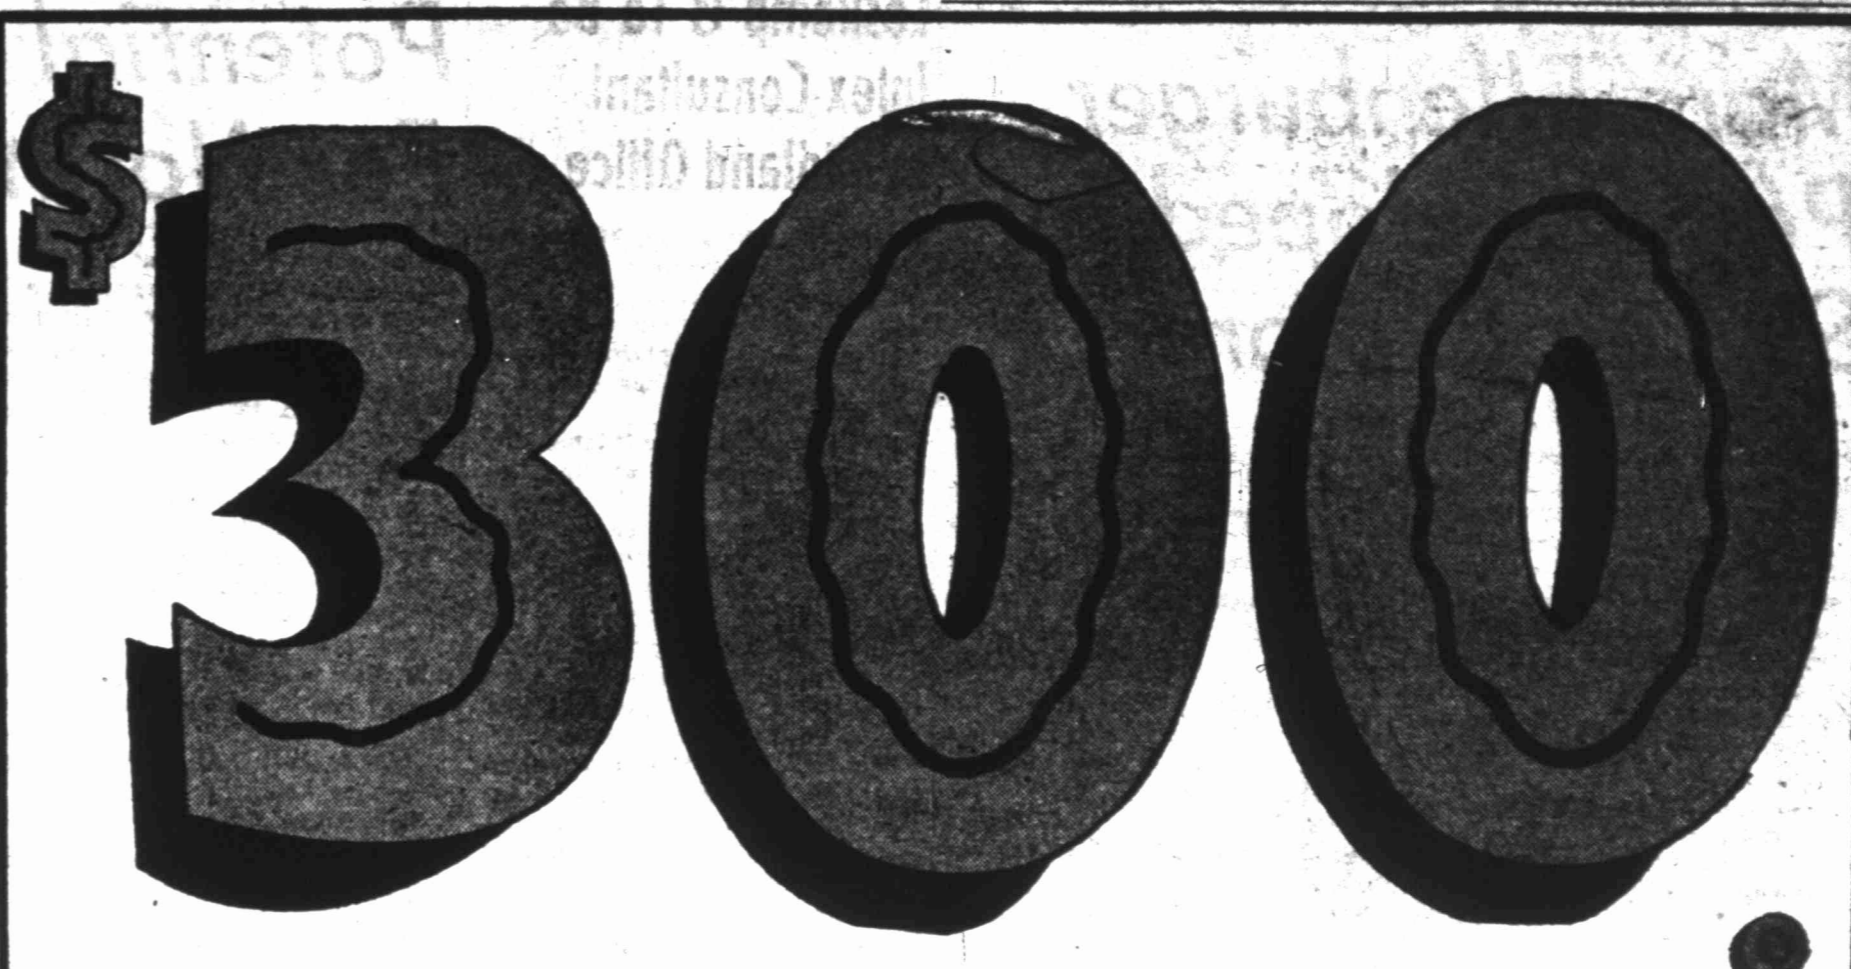

A law library built up by the late Judge W. T. Perkins and considered one of the most complete in the state was damaged.

The bank opened for business Saturday in the National Farm Loan Building. Damage tentatively was estimated at $80,000.

More Ellenburger Pay Developed In SE Lea Explorer

Tide Water Associated Oil Company has proven for more pay in the Ellenburger at its No. 3-8 State, discovery in Southeast Lea County. Operator has set five and one-half-inch oil string in 7,328 feet and will complete the opener through perforations.

On the last drillstem test, which was taken at 7,558-7,615 feet, tool was open three hours. The well did not flow on this test as it did on previous tests.

Gas came to the surface in seven minutes. Recovery was 3,790 feet of clean 42-gravity oil and 210 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut drilling mud.

Flowing pressure on tubing was 190-750 pounds. Fifteen-minute shut-in pressure was 2,875 pounds. Operator is now waiting for cement to cure.

Top Picked

Top of the Ellenburger was picked at 7,470 feet, which on a datum of minus 4,012 feet.

The No. 3-8 State was proven for a discovery on a drillstem test at 7,490-90 feet. The tool was open 30 minutes. Gas came to the surface in three minutes. Mud started flowing at the top in 16 minutes and oil began to flow in 17 minutes.

The project flowed for 12 minutes through a five-eighth-inch bottom hole choke at the estimated rate of 30 to 50 barrels of oil per hour. The fluid left in the drillpipe after the test, was circulated out.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was between 570 and 1,125 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure after 15 minutes was 2,798 pounds.

More Oil

Another drillstem test was taken at 7,490-7,544 feet. The tool was open 54 minutes. Gas came to the surface in three minutes, mud in 19 minutes and oil in 24 minutes.

The project flowed for 30 minutes through a five-eighth-inch bottom hole choke at the estimated rate of 30 to 50 barrels of oil per hour.

The remainder of the fluid in the drillpipe was circulated out and there were no signs of water.

The project was drilledstem tested again at 7,544-70 feet. The tool was open two hours and 21 minutes. Gas surfaced in 10 minutes. No fluid came to the top while the tool was open.

No Water

Recovery was 930 feet of clean oil and 210 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud. There were no signs of water.

Location of the new discovery is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 15-21s-37e.

This discovery is about one mile north of the Ohlo Oil Company No. 5 Warlick, the nearest Ellenburger producer in the Brunson field, and it is one and one-half miles southwest of Shell Oil Company No. 3-A State, a recently completed Ellenburger discovery.

It is also three miles north of Eunice and on the north side of the Drinkard-Permian field.

Casualty Is Drilling

Amerada Petroleum Corporation is drilling below 8,875 feet in line in an attempt to find more pay at its No. 2 Caudle, one and one-half mile northwest extension to the Bagley-Hightower-Pennsylvanian pool of Northwest Lea County.

The wildcat proved for an extension on a test taken from 8,565-8,717 feet. Tool was open four hours and eight minutes.

Gas was at the surface in four minutes and mud and distillate in eight minutes. It was flowed to

Loskamp Is To Be Intex Consultant In Midland Office

A. P. (Al) Loskamp, Midland oil operator, has formed a connection with Intex Oil Company, on a part-time consulting basis, and will maintain his headquarters at an office that concerns has opened in Midland.

The new Intex office is temporarily located in room 211 at the Crawford Hotel. Permanent quarters for the office have been leased in the new section of the McCollins Building, which is now under construction.

Intex Oil Company is a subsidiary of the Independent Exploration Company of Bakersfield, Calif. Main offices of Intex are in Dallas.

The company plans to organize a complete staff for carrying on an exploration development and producing operations in the Permian Basin at its new Midland office.

It already owns interests in some producing properties and in a considerable amount of undeveloped leases in this region.

Loskamp has been a resident of Midland since March 1958.

He came here as an employee of Barnsdall Oil Company. In December 1940 he joined Union Oil Company of California's Midland organization and remained with that concern until a few months ago.

At the time he resigned to go into business for himself Loskamp was manager of operations for Union's Midland division, and in that position was the ranking man for the company in this territory.

He plans to continue to do consulting work, and also to do trading on his own account.

His connection with Intex will be on a part-time consulting basis.

Potential Test Try Slated For North Pecos Explorer

Casing has been set at 5,450 feet and operator is preparing to perforate at approximately 5,340-5,415 feet opposite the Montoya and try to complete Colley & Hurt No. 1-A Wildcat North Pecos wildcat, as a gas-distillate discovery.

This wildcat drilled through 581 feet of barren Ellenburger. The only fluid found in that formation was a small amount of mud-cut sulphur water in a drillstem test at 7,945-8,061 feet.

Tool was open for ten minutes and the packer failed. Recovery was 90 feet of mud-cut sulphur water.

Hole is bottomed in the Ellenburger at 8,061 feet.

The section to be tested in the Montoya showed for a possible gas-distillate discovery when it was drilled.

Location is 1,944 feet from southeast and 660 feet from south-west lines of section 27, block 3, H&TC survey.

That puts it six miles southwest of Imperial.

Continued throughout the remainder of the test.

Tool came open when operator started out with the drillpipe and all the fluid which was recovered was lost. Indications were that there was some oil in the pipe.

When the venture reaches 7,000 feet, the Spraberry will be tested again.

Location is 662.5 feet from south and 696.1 feet from east lines of the south half of the northwest quarter of section 24, block 30, T&P survey, T-3-S.

N-C Kent Wildcat Low To Salt Creek

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware is drilling below 6,620 feet at its No. 1 Girard trust, wildcat in North-Central Kent County, and will take a drillstem test when hole reaches 6,640 feet.

The prospector topped the Pennsylvanian lime reef at 6,590 feet, elevation, 2,037 feet. That gives it a datum of minus 4,553 feet on that marker.

The No. 1 Girard trust is below the water level of the reef in wells of the Salt Creek Canyon field four miles to the south.

Location is 565 feet from south and 2,385 feet from west lines of section 9, block 1, H&GN survey.

That makes it nine miles northwest of Clairmont.

Flankers Spotted In Howard Sector

Amcon Oil Corporation has staked a location on the northeast side of the south extension to the East Vealmoor field of East-Central-North Howard County, as its No. 3-A Loyd Branon and others.

Location is 850 feet from north and 1,538 feet from west lines of section 19, block 27, H&TC survey and seven miles west of Vincent.

Rotary tools will be used to drill to 7,500 feet, beginning immediately.

A project on the southeast side of the south extension to the East Vealmoor field has been spotted by Amcon Oil Corporation and Southland Royalty Company.

It is No. 3-B Branon and is located seven miles west of Vincent, and 1,530 feet from south and 1,718 feet from west lines of section 18, block 27, H&TC survey.

Projected depth is 7,500 feet. Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once.

Howard Prospector Is To Be Acidized

Brinkerhoff Drilling Company is preparing to acidize its No. 1 Jones, Pennsylvanian lime discovery in Northeast Howard County.

Operator started to swab the fluid level down, and when the casing was opened oil started heading out. It headed for an unreported length of time. No gauge was attempted.

Operator will clean out the hole and treat it with acid in an attempt to make the venture flow.

The project had been shut in for the past several days.

Location of the No. 1 Jones is 660 feet from north and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 18, block 34, T&P survey, T-2-N.

DST Fails In Terry Spraberry Formation

Wilshire Oil Company No. 1 Brownfield, East-Central Terry County wildcat, four miles east of the town of Brownfield, failed to get any signs of possible production in the Spraberry sand and lime in a drillstem test at 7,715-61 feet.

The tool was open one hour. Recovery was 25 feet of drilling mud. There was a slight show of gas and a little oil stain in the mud.

There was no formation water. The prospector is making hole below 7,846 feet in lime and sand. It is contracted to 11,000 feet, if necessary, to explore the Pennsylvanian lime reef which is productive in the South Brownfield-Canyon field, four miles to the southwest.

The Wilshire No. 1 Brownfield had corrected to the top of the Spraberry sand to make it 7,540 feet, and give it a datum of minus 4,270 feet on that marker.

That makes it 15 feet higher than it was originally picked, when it was called at 7,555 feet.

On the datum of minus 4,270 feet, the Wilshire No. 1 Brownfield is flat with the highest wells in the South Brownfield-Canyon field. Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 61, block T, D&W survey.

SW Stonewall Test Waiting On Recovery

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware No. 1 W. F. Edwards, indicated discovery in Southwest Stonewall County 15 miles southwest of Asperment and 12 miles north of Rotan, was to come out of the hole with tester after a drillstem test at 5,215-36 feet in the Pennsylvanian lime.

Tool was open two hours and 45 minutes. A steady blow of gas was at the surface after 30 minutes. No fluid came to the top while the tester was open.

The prospector previously had recovered 935 feet of pipeline oil and 540 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut drilling mud on a two-hour drillstem test in the Pennsylvanian lime at 5,279-5,314 feet.

Location of the possible producer is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 318, block 2, H&TC survey.

Scurry Ellenburger Wildcat Is Swabbing

Thomas W. Dowell & Todd M. Pettigrew No. 1 G. E. Chorn, indicated Ellenburger discovery in Central-East Scurry County, is at total depth of 7,640 feet swabbing to clean out and test.

No gauges have been reported. It is making some oil but it is not yet cleaned and none of the recoveries so far made give any information as to the actual value of the Ellenburger pay section.

Operator cored from 7,630 feet to 7,640 feet after a drillstem test at 7,611-30 feet developed 270 feet of 44.8-gravity oil and 480 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut drilling mud. There is no formation water in the hole.

The possible discovery is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 59, block 3, H&GN survey and six and one-half miles east and slightly south of Snyder.

C-W Midland Test Coring Ellenburger

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 H. F. Timmerman, Central-West Midland County wildcat, 11 1/2 miles southwest of the City of Midland failed to develop any shows of oil or gas in a one-hour drillstem test on the top of the Ellenburger at 12,896-940 feet.

Recovery from that investigation was 15 feet of drilling fluid, with no shows of oil, gas or of formation water.

Operator is to core 15 feet deeper and will then probably run another drillstem test.

This prospector topped the Ellenburger at 12,817 feet, on an elevation of 2,851 feet. That made it 59 feet high, on that marker, to the same point in Magnolia No. 2 Parks, two and one-quarter miles to the northwest, which is the discovery well of the Parks-Ellenburger field.

No. 1 Timmerman is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 8, block 40, T&P survey, T-3-S.

This wildcat has already shown for the discovery of flowing production from the Pennsylvanian lime at 10,465-535 feet, and it has indicated possibilities of producing from the Devonian.

Editor Indicator Is Swabbing To Clean

In Southeast Ector County, operator is swabbing to clean out, test and complete a Vina Bagley estate No. 1 E. W. Cowden, discovery from the Wolfcamp at 9,455-9,527 feet.

The last reported gauge showed a flow of 220 barrels of oil in 24 hours through a one-half-inch tubing choke. That oil was cut with some drilling fluid. The pay section had been acidized with 2,000 and 6,000-gallon injections.

Location is at the center of the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 48, block 42, T&P survey and four miles northwest of the Sweetie Peak field in Southwest Midland County.

Sulphur Water Is Found In Borden

Velma Petroleum Company No. 1 Joseph Conrad, possible discovery from the Wolfcamp lime in Southeast Borden County, was to drill 10 to 20 feet deeper from 7,084 feet after recovering sulphur water on a drillstem test.

That new section will be tested. Operator tested the interval from 7,068-84 feet for two hours. Gas was at the surface after one hour. Recovery was 690 feet of gas-cut mud and 630 feet of sulphur water with no shows of oil. The test was in Pennsylvanian shale.

A previous test at 6,976-7,005 feet, with tool open two hours, developed 180 feet of slightly oil and gas-cut (Continued On Page Seven)

Prichard Is New MMC Manager

C. E. (Ed) Prichard is the new manager of Midland Map Corporation. He took over that position during the past week succeeding L. A. Austin.

Austin has severed his connection with the concern and has moved to Fort Worth.

Prichard resigned a job as chief clerk in the Midland division office of the Texas-New Mexico Pipe Line Company to become associated with Midland Map.

He had been employed by Texas-New Mexico for six and one-half years and held the chief clerk's job for the last four and one-half years of that period. He has been a Midland resident for 13 years.

Prichard is currently serving as president of the Midland Lions Club.

Midland Map Corporation makes and sells county ownership maps for the use of the petroleum industry. It started the operation in April of this year.

Midland Venture Is Running DST

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 H. S. Collings, Central-West Midland County exploration, 11 miles southwest of the city of Midland, is running a drillstem test at 12,979-993 feet, in the Ellenburger dolomite.

A core at 12,979-993 feet recovered 14 feet of fractured dolomite with oil stains on the fractures.

This exploration, located 660 feet from south and 898.6 feet from east lines of the southwest quarter of section 7, Matt Daugherty survey, SP 4169, had previously shown for flowing oil and some salt water in the section at 12,917-979 feet.

Top of the Ellenburger is at 12,910 feet. The zone at 12,960-979 feet did not show any water and carried some signs of oil and gas.

Many observers think this project has alternate streaks of oil and water in the Ellenburger. There is a possibility that those zones can be located in such a way as to where the well can be completed for steady oil production, without any water.

It is one location north of the opener of the Parks-Ellenburger field, which is now making large amounts of oil, along with some salt water.

The No. 1 Collings has already shown for production in the Wolfcamp and in two sections in the Pennsylvanian lime.

Stepout Is Staked In C-W Ector Area

The Texas Company No. 1 Fassen-Maberry is to be a one-half mile stepout from production from the Clear Fork lime of the Permian on the south side of the multipay TXL field in Central-West Ector County.

The prospector is to be in the northeast corner of section 5, block 45, T&P survey, T-2-S. It is slated to dig to about 5,900 feet to explore the Clear Fork zone and is to begin operations immediately.

Producer Added To Midland Tex-Harvey

The Tex-Harvey Oil Company has completed its No. 1-10 B. W. Floyd, and others as a new producer in the Tex-Harvey field of Central-East Midland County.

It drilled to a bottom of 8,731 feet in granite.

George Turner of Midland has spotted location for his No. 1 Turner which will be drilled in Central-Eddy County as a wildcat to 980 feet.

Exact location is 1,650 feet from south and 2,310 feet from east lines of section 5-21s-27e.

Wildcat Abandoned

Kewanee Oil Company has abandoned its No. 1-B Mitchell, semi-wildcat on the northeast edge of the Maltman-Paddock pool of Northwest Lea County.

The venture was quit in the Oraburg at 4,074 feet several months ago. Kewanee re-entered the hole and drilled on to 5,462 feet in line without getting signs of commercial production. It was abandoned in the Gloria.

Location is at the center of the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 17-7s-32e.

H. N. Smith No. 1 A. J. Mays, wildcat in Southwest Eddy County, has been plugged and abandoned as a failure at 800 feet in Delaware lime.

This failure is 1,650 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of section 10-26s-34e.

White, black and Indian, or juncea, are the best known varieties of mustard cultivated for seed.

Midland Wildcat Drilling Spraberry

J. K. Dobbs and associates No. 1 Wilson Bryant, wildcat in Central Midland county, 12 miles south of the city of Midland, is making hole in the Spraberry sand below 7,668 feet.

Operator took a drillstem test at 7,614-68 feet in the top of the Spraberry.

Tool was open for a total of 17 hours. A blow of gas was to the surface in 15 minutes and it con-

Carter Of Kermit Named Chairman Of API Permian Basin Chapter For 1951

Roy E. Carter of Kermit was named chairman of the Permian Basin Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute Saturday night, at the annual meeting of the organization.

The session was held in Odessa. Early N. Spiars of Midland was re-elected first vice chairman. Dean A. Chase of Odessa and John E. Cooper of Midland were named second and third vice chairman, respectively.

The election of new officers to guide the chapter for the next 12 months was the first event on the annual meeting program.

Variety Show Presented

The feature of the affair was a musical variety show presented by professional talent secured through the Music Corporation of America.

More than 1,200 persons attended the meeting and the barbecue dinner, which was served prior to the start of the program.

Twelve new members were elected to the organization's advisory committee.

Tex-Harvey Outposts Set For Completions

Frank and George Frankie are preparing to complete three outposts to the Tex-Harvey field in Central-East Midland County.

Their No. 1-A Floyd, one-half mile northeast stepout to the same operators No. 1-C Floyd, recently completed as a one-mile east extension to field, is at total depth of 6,960 feet in lime and shale.

Operator is preparing to run five and one-half inch casing.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 2, block 37, T-3-S, T&P survey.

The Frankie No. 2-C Floyd, one location east offset to the No. 1-C Floyd is at total depth of 7,296 feet preparing to run tubing and test.

This attempt to extend the field limits is 660 feet from south and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 11, block 37, T-3-C, T&P survey.

The same operators No. 3-C Floyd is on bottom at 5,940 feet in lime and shale preparing to cement five and one-half inch casings at that point. When this is done, pay will be drilled out and a completion attempt will be made.

The No. 3-C Floyd is one location south of the No. 1-C Floyd and 660 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 11, same block and survey.

Shell's Research Organization To Dedicate New Petroleum And Chemical Laboratory

Scientists and technicians from 135 American and 13 foreign universities and colleges staff the new consolidated laboratory for oil and chemical research to be dedicated November 21 by Shell Development Company in Emeryville, Calif. Shell Development is the research affiliate of Shell Oil Company.

Staffing the research center, one of the greatest in the western hemisphere, are physicists, chemists, mathematicians, engineers, and many other scientific specialists.

Many Schools Represented

Among American schools with the largest number of graduates on the staff are the University of California, University of Illinois, Harvard, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Stanford University, University of Washington, University of Wisconsin, and the University of Minnesota.

Foreign-trained scientists come from schools in The Netherlands, Czechoslovakia, Germany, Canada, Australia, Switzerland, Hungary, Austria, and Scotland.

According to Dr. M. E. Spaght, president of Shell Development, more than 1,100 people are employed by the research organization which was started in 1928 and has been expanded several times since.

"An Idea Factory"

"The accent in this laboratory has always been on ideas," Spaght said. "We believe ideas and the progress to which they lead are the best guarantee of security and prosperity for the future. Ideas that started in Shell Development have already produced synthetic glycerine, synthetic ethyl alcohol, synthetic toluene for TNT, the first commercial quantities of 100 octane gasoline, and many other oil-derived products."

McLaughlin Is To Speak For PB AIME Gathering

Donald H. McLaughlin, president of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers will be the guest speaker for a meeting of the Permian Basin Section of that organization to be held in Midland at 8 p.m., November 25.

The affair will be at the American Legion Hall in this city.

New officers for the section will be elected at a short business session which will precede the address by McLaughlin.

Present officers of the group are W. N. (Bill) Little, chairman; Ray Howard, vice chairman, and Joe Chastain, secretary-treasurer.

Woods Is Patient In Fort Worth Hospital

E. H. (Hazen) Woods, district geologist in Midland for the West Texas-New Mexico territory for Sinclair Oil & Gas Company is expected to be a patient in Harris Hospital in Fort Worth for at least eight weeks.

Woods received several major injuries early last week in an automobile accident in Fort Worth. He was reported to be showing satisfactory recovery, but his physicians have advised his family and business associates that he will have to stay in the Fort Worth hospital until at least the first of the year before he can be brought to Midland.

He suffered multiple fractures of both hips and also had several ribs broken in the accident. It appears that he was thrown through the windshield of the car in which he was a passenger as he has lacerations on his head and body.

T. B. (Tom) Romine, assistant division geologist for Sinclair in Fort Worth, who was in the same automobile with Woods when the accident happened suffered several major fractures and also has several severe flesh wounds. He is also reported to be making a satisfactory recovery.

Shell Will Build Refinery Units

Plans to construct two new refinery units, largest of their kind ever built, were announced Saturday by Shell Oil Company.

Called Platforming Units, the new installations are designed to raise the supply and quality of motor gasoline, and at the same time to maintain top production of all other petroleum products for military and civilian needs.

The process to be used, which was developed by the Universal Oil Products Company, will convert low quality naphthas into high-octane-number components for gasoline.

One unit will be built at the Shell's Wood River, Ill., Refinery; the other, identical to the first, will be built at Houston, Texas.

"Each Platforming Unit will process naphthas at the rate of 630,000 gallons a day and will cover an area the size of a city block," F. S. Cuirow, vice president in charge of manufacturing, stated.

TEXAS OIL ROUNDUP—

Experts Not Alarmed Over New Series Of Production Cutback

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON —(AP)— Oil economists see no need for alarm in a new series of cutbacks in the nation's crude oil production.

Speakers at the thirtieth annual meeting of the American Petroleum Institute in Los Angeles last week predicted continued strong demand for petroleum next year.

They look upon recent production cutbacks, particularly in Texas, as a normal aftermath of an all-time record output peak reached in September.

Texas crude allowances, in three months, have been slashed 311,833 barrels per day, including a 160,068 barrel December cutback ordered last week.

Possible steel shortages were listed in Los Angeles as among the most disturbing factors involved in the industry's 1951 business outlook.

Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman said shortages of specialized steel products already appear to have reached "alarming proportions."

He said the Petroleum Administration for Defense is mapping plans to meet the situation but warned some sort of regulation of the use of steel may be necessary if adequate supplies are not available.

The sharp December cutback in Texas crude oil output results from a belief current national stocks in storage are ample.

Storage Geology

George Good, Tide Water Associated Oil Company, told the Texas Railroad Commission's statewide allowable hearing Tuesday oil men would have difficulty in finding storage space in January under current output levels.

Crude oil storage in the United States totaled 244,935,000 barrels as of November 4, an increase of 130,000 from the previous week.

Storage for three of the four principal refined products increased during the week ending November 11. Gasoline stocks climbed 1,115,000 barrels to 103,465,000 after slumping abnormally for two weeks.

Kerosene jumped 9,000,000 barrels to 29,033,000, while heavy fuel oil climbed 451,000 to 45,140,000 barrels.

Light fuel oils registered the only decline, falling 165,000 barrels to 86,721,000 after an unusually warm early winter had caused a series of minor increases.

Opponents of foreign oil imports found a note of optimism in API's weekly statistical report.

Crude oil imports for the week ending November 11 were placed at 390,000 barrels daily, a decline of 63,200 from the previous week. Crude imports for the four weeks ending November 11 averaged 440,700 barrels daily.

Middle East oil fields, a primary target of opponents of foreign imports, figured prominently in the Los Angeles convention.

Gustav Egloff, Universal Oil Products Company, Chicago, said the fight against communism demands adequate protection be given immediately to the Middle East oil area.

"Russia is much less likely to start a war if she does not have this prolific source of oil," Egloff said. "By maintaining control in the hands of the democratic countries, the tide may eventually be turned against communist expansion and peace maintained throughout the world."

Egloff placed total world crude oil production at 10,500,000 barrels per day, with the United States holding 52 per cent, the Middle East 17 per cent, Venezuela 14.5 per cent and Russia and her satellites eight per cent.

Russia's combined total of crude oil and synthetic oils, he said, probably is about 1,000,000 barrels a day, less than 10 per cent of total world output.

"In any long conflict Russia would have to get more oil," he said, "and the Middle East stands as the most obvious point to seize because of its proximity."

mud with a sulphur odor and 60 feet of mud.

This prospector showed for a discovery on a driftless test at 6,175-6,235 feet.

Recovery was 180 feet of drizzing mud, 540 feet of oil and 4,050 feet of oil and gas out salt water, which was estimated to have been 20 per cent oil.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 21, block 20, Lavaca Navigation Company survey and seven miles north of Vinson.

Crockett Ventures Are To Be Plugged

Ted Weiner et al has issued plugging orders for two North-Central Crockett County wildcats.

Their No. 1 George Bean is to be abandoned at 1,280 feet in Grayburg lime where sulphur water was developed.

Location is 250 feet from north 490 feet from west lines of section 24, block UV, GC&SP survey and 15 miles northwest of Oona.

The other failure is the operator's No. 1 J. M. Shannon estate in section 40, block UV, GC&SP survey. It failed to develop commercial production in drilling to 7,800 feet.

Wildcats In Gaines Plugged, Abandoned

Phil Reagan has plugged and abandoned two wildcats he drilled in Northwest Gaines County.

Both were on Robertson land and were in section 346, block G, CO&D&RGNG survey.

Reagan No. 1 Robertson drilled to 8,139 feet in lower Permian lime and shale. It had some interesting shows of oil and gas. However, extended testing failed to develop any commercial production.

Reagan No. 2 Robertson penetrated to 5,390 feet and logged no show of petroleum.

Both prospectors have now been filled with cement and they are listed as failures.

Mustard is related to cabbage, cauliflower and turnip.

Rail Board Issues Incomplete Report

AUSTIN —(AP)— The Railroad Commission issued an incomplete state oil report Saturday, figures not having been received from its West Texas District office this week.

The incomplete state totals showed 147 oil well completions, 10 gas wells and 86 dry holes.

Eight wildcat oil wells, no gasers and 42 dry holes were drilled.

Eighty-two dry wells, two gas wells and 83 oil wells were plugged.

The total average calendar day crude oil allowable as of Saturday was 2,731,260 barrels, up 14,233 barrels from the previous Saturday.

The Katanga area in southeast Belgian Congo is second only to the Rand of South Africa in mining wealth.

Rice Crashes A&M's Dream House In Unbelievable Upset

COLLEGE STATION—(AP)—Rice crashed Texas A&M's castle of dreams Saturday, fashioning an unbelievable 21-13 upset that handed the Southwest Conference championship and Cotton Bowl host spot to Texas.

The stout Aggies made a tense, gallant effort in the last period that brought thrills to a roaring throng of 30,000, but time ran out on A&M hopes as the Cadets battered futilely at a great Rice line in the shadow of the Blue's goal line.

The Rice line whipped the Aggie wall soundly for more than three periods with Gordon (Sonny) Wyatt leading a blistering charge between the A&M tackles.

Owls Never Behind

Rice scored with the opening kickoff and never was behind.

Until Saturday, A&M had a chance of at least gaining a tie for the championship but the Rice defeat, coupled with Texas' 21-7 victory over Texas Christian ended the race.

Giant Paul Gloski and slender Bill Howton geared the Rice line to its mightiest effort of the season. Gloski led the center of the Owl ramparts in gouging great holes in A&M while Howton, who played all except 10 seconds of the game, was a wizard at turning in Aggie end runs and weaving and feinting Aggie defenders out of position as he took some telling passes. Gloski also was the grandest man on the field on defense.

Smith Bottled Up

Rice bottled up Bob Smith, the great Aggie fullback, as he had not been stepped before this season.

The Aggie powerman got 101 yards in 27 tries. But when the chips were down and it really meant something the Owls piled on Smith like a ton of bricks.

Wyatt and Bill Burkhalter were the damaging boys for Rice. Wyatt netted 89 yards and Burkhalter 110. Wyatt was the man who kept the drives alive with his mostly short but telling gains. He carried the ball 26 times.

Vernon Glass, Rice quarterback, completed six passes for 99 yards.

Rice marched 61 yards to a touchdown with the opening kickoff, which Burkhalter ran out from his three to the 29. It required just 12 plays as Bill Burkhalter and Sonny Wyatt pounded the Aggie line with a 17-yard pass from Vernon Glass to Sonny McCurry keeping the drive going. Burkhalter skidded over guard from the Aggie six-yard line for the score. Bill Wright kicked the extra point.

A&M reached into Rice territory only once in the first period and that was as the result of a Rice fumble.

Aggies Finally Ramble

On the other hand Rice smashed to the A&M 12 only to lose the ball on a fumble.

Another fumble halted a potent Rice surge early in the second period and from the A&M 48 the Aggies, with Bill Tidwell, Glenn Lippman and Smith cracking the line, rolled to the Rice 24. But Rex Proctor intercepted Dick Gardemal's pass to stop the drive.

The Aggies were not to be denied, however, and late in the second period they rumbled 67 yards to a touchdown in 14 plays. The payoff was a pass into the end zone from the Rice eight-yard line which Andy Hillhouse wrestled away from Rice's Dickie Haddock. Gardemal threw it. Darrow Hooper's try for extra point was wide and the half ended with Rice leading 7-0.

Just as the second period closed Rice smashed to the Aggie 26 before losing the ball. A 25-yard pass from Glass to Bill Howton featured the drive.

Rice Sews It Up

Rice actually sewed up the game in the third period with a 91-yard touchdown drive. George Glauser went through a wide hole at center for the score and Wright again converted.

The Owls whipped down to the A&M 18 the next time they got the ball, then as the fourth period opened stamped 52 yards for their final touchdown. Wyatt rammed center from the Aggie one and Wright kicked his third extra point.

The Aggies came to life at last. Taking the kickoff on their 46 after a good runback by Tidwell, they thundered virtually unhindered to the score against the tiring Owls. Tidwell leaped through center for the 12 for the touchdown and Hooper this time converted.

The Aggies had Rice on the run the remainder of the game.

Rice pounded out 260 yards on the ground and 99 in the air. A&M got 218 rushing and 64 passing.

WORST SEAT—Replying to a coach's criticism, officials say he has the poorest seat in the stadium. This photograph of George Munger seems to bear them out. Pennsylvania's coach appears to be praying, and it was expected that he might do just that when the Quakers met Wisconsin at Franklin Field.

Texas Grabs SWC Crown In 21-7 Win

FORT WORTH —(AP)— Texas' bruising Longhorns smashed stubborn Texas Christian University 21-7 Saturday and roared into the New Year's Cotton Bowl game as Southwestern Conference champion.

Two lightning fourth-quarter touchdowns snapped a 7-7 deadlock and Rice's 21-13 victory over Texas A&M

Army Eases By Stanford

PALO ALTO, CALIF. —(AP)— While his coaching father peered anxiously through the rain and gloom, Army quarterback Bob Blaik whipped an arrow-straight pass to End Dan Foldsberg to give Army a hard-fought 7-0 victory over Stanford in their intercollegiate football game here Saturday.

The scoring play, good for 28 yards, came late in the third period, and cracked the strain for some 40,000 fans soaked by a steady downpour. Foldsberg, from Dallas, Texas, and his true-throwing teammate, Blaik, thus maintained Army's great record for the year, unbeaten and untied.

From early indications, the two teams seemed destined to play a scoreless tie. Stanford, beaten twice this season and tied once, came up with a stubborn defense and at times outcharged the Black Knights.

But young Blaik called his shots in a fashion so masterful that his strict disciplinarian father, Earl "Red" Blaik, could find no fault.

12,000 Cotton Bowl Tickets Go On Sale Monday At Texas U

FORT WORTH —(AP)— The University of Texas will put 12,000 Cotton Bowl tickets on sale Monday, Business Manager Ed Ollie, said Saturday.

Applications will be received for a three-day period, November 20-22 inclusive, and each purchaser will be limited to two tickets, priced at $4.50 each. Ticket applications should be accompanied by a check or money order to cover the price of tickets, plus a 15-cent mailing charge.

The applications will be screened and the priority groups will be given first preference. The priority groups are made up of dues-paying members of the Ex-Students Association, "T" letter men and voting members of the faculty.

Eight thousand tickets will be held back for the student blanket tax holders, who will draw them on December 11-13. The number held back for the students is based on the student attendance at this year's Texas-Oklahoma game.

Texas will act as host team in the Cotton Bowl. The visiting team will receive an allotment of 10,000 tickets.

Notre Dame, Iowa Play To 14-14 Tie

IOWA CITY, IOWA —(AP)— Iowa and Notre Dame entertained a capacity crowd of 52,863 fans Saturday with a vicious football duel that ended in a 14-14 tie.

Notre Dame had to come back to get the lead. The Irish were struck by two first-quarter Iowa touchdowns, then settled down to a long, uphill grind.

At the finish Iowa appeared to be willing to settle for the tie. The Hawks let the clock run out with 10 seconds to go on a fourth down on the Notre Dame 45.

Notre Dame got its tie on an 80-yard march in the third period. Bob Williams cunningly mixed passes with runs and personally made the score from two feet out.

Abilene B Teamer Sets Punt Record

ABILENE —(AP)— Is this a record for high school football?

Billy Paul of the Abilene B team punted 96 yards from scrimmage Friday against the Brownwood B team.

The ball traveled 65 yards in the air and rolled to Brownwood's two-yard line. Actually, the kick traveled 107 yards. Paul was standing nine yards deep in the end zone when he booted it.

The Abilene team won the game 40-0.

Gavilan Decisions Graham To Hold Contender Rating

NEW YORK —(AP)— Kid Gavilan is New York's No. 1 welterweight contender, but that designation is about as important as an admiral in the Swiss navy.

The Cuban Keed gained a 10-round decision over Irish Billy Graham in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Next on the Keed's agenda is a bout with Tony Janiro, the classy Youngstown, Ohio, middleweight, December 4. After that, he will get a garden shot either December 15 or 22 against Gene (Silent) Haskins or Paddy Young, both middleweights.

Graham probably will take on Lightweight Champion Ike Williams in a non-title 10 in December.

It goes to show how far Welter Champ Ray Robinson has out-stripped his division. The contenders are meeting lightweight and middleweights. Ray already has beaten Gavilan twice and easily mastered Charlie Fusari, who is NBA Commissioner Abe Green's choice as No. 1 welter contender.

Hears Blue-Gray Call

FORT WORTH —(AP)— Texas Christian University Football Coach L. R. (Dutch) Meyer will assist the head coach of the South squad in the annual Blue-Gray post-season football game at Montgomery, Ala., December 30.

Colorado Mines Edges N. M. Aggies

LAS CRUCES, N. M. —(AP)— Colorado Mines of Mines spotted the New Mexico Aggies 13 points in the first quarter Saturday, then came back to win 14-13 and disappoint a homecoming crowd.

Mines tallied the winning touchdown in the third quarter on Aggie Herb Adams' blocked kick. The ball bounced back into the end zone where Bill Cook fell on it for a touchdown.

Barnes' kick made it 14-13.

I Love Old Jess, Says Cherry After Owls Upset Aggies

FORT WORTH —(AP)— That (Bobby) Dillon is sure a handy man, isn't he?" commented Texas Coach Blair Cherry after Dillon's 46-yard touchdown return with an intercepted pass sewed up a 21-7 victory over Texas Christian Saturday and the Longhorns clinched the Southwest Conference championship and the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day invitation.

He, perhaps, was thinking of that 84-yard touchdown run with a punt that Dillon made the week before to give Texas a 27-7 victory over Baylor.

Or that 50-yard touchdown run with the intercepted pass that put Texas ahead of Oklahoma 13-7 early this year. The Steers lost this game, though, 14-13. It is their only defeat thus far.

"I love Old Jess (Neely)," sighed Cherry.

It was Neely's Rice club that assured the Longhorns the championship by beating Texas A&M.

"As usual," he commented, "TCU played us a terrific ball game. They simply played hell out of us."

This will be the first and last title for Cherry, who is retiring as a coach after this season to enter business. He took over as mentor from Dana X. Bible in 1947, two years after Texas' last previous conference championship.

Said Coach L. R. (Dutch) Meyer of TCU, "It was a good game."

Southwest Conference Race Over

By The Associated Press

There are five games to play but for all purposes the Southwest Conference football race is over. Texas has won its first championship since 1945 and is in as the host team in the Cotton Bowl.

Texas took the title Saturday by beating Texas Christian 21-7 while Texas A&M, the last team with a chance to overhaul the Longhorns, fell before Rice 21-13.

Southern Methodist and Baylor play at Dallas and Rice and Texas Christian get together at Houston next Saturday. November 30 Texas and A&M meet at Austin and December 2 Southern Methodist and Texas Christian play at Dallas and Rice and Baylor battle at Waco.

Arkansas has finished the conference schedule, having only a game November 23 with Tulsa of the Missouri Valley to play.

King's Row

Call 'em the Comeback Kids, call them the Bulldozing Bulldogs, the Tugboat Terror, the Single-Wing Slashers, or just call them the Midland Bulldogs. But whatever you call them, they make up a ball team.

Midland came back from the short end of a 7-6 score, a tie score of 26-26, and the small end of a 33-32 score to oust Lubbock 38 to 33.

Sure, Lubbock came back from an even greater handicap. It swept back after being behind 26 to 7, to tally 19 points in less than seven minutes and pull even. And the Westerners even went ahead, with just over five minutes to play. But Midland wouldn't give up. That determination paid off in a ball game on the winning side of the ledger.

Coach Tugboat Jones paid a compliment to both elevens after the game when he said in the dressing room: "I think Lubbock was great in coming back after being so far behind. And I think our kids were just as great in bouncing back to win the game."

The win leaves Midland with a 7-2 record for the season. The last time the Purple won seven games was in 1940. The record that year was 7 won, two lost and one tied. Midland finished second to Big Spring in the district that year. If the Bulldogs take Lamesa in the Thanksgiving Day tilt next Thursday, it will be Midland's best season in the won-lost column since the 1939 team won nine and lost one.

End Duane Bush stamped himself as a serious contender for all-district honors with his fine offensive performance in the Lubbock tilt. Bush snagged all of five passes tossed to him. Last week against Odessa, Bush grabbed the same number.

Reed Gilmore, we reported to you last week, never had scored a touchdown for Midland. So what does Gilmore do? He romps for TD's against Lubbock on runs of 100 and 51 yards. Maybe we should have called this to Gilmore's attention sooner.

Jimmy O'Neal, Dalton Byerley and Stan Coker, three boys we called upon to give a good performance against Lubbock, didn't let us down.

Coker really got rough and mean in the Bulldog line, and Byerley was doing some fine blocking and tackling. O'Neal gave his best performance since the Sweetwater game. Of course, Lubbock made a lot of yardage through the line. But that Taylor would have gone for yards against anyone. And, come to think of it, the Midland line opened a few holes in the Lubbock forward wall too, didn't it?

Bob Wood, husky Purple tackle, was laughing about Jerry Culp's touchdown against the Westerners. "When O'Neal hit that boy (Davis) and he dropped the ball, I fell on it and thought I had it for a touchdown," he said. "So I got up and started yelling I had scored. But Jerry had more of the ball than I did and said: 'The heck you scored. I did.' So he handed the ball to the official and there I was without my touchdown."

But Bob didn't seem very disappointed over the whole thing. The six points went on the Midland side of the scoreboard—and that's all that really mattered.

We heard someone say Lubbock got all the bad breaks in the game Friday. But it "Ain't necessarily so."

Look at the record: Midland got a touchdown by getting a fumble behind the goal line. Lubbock set one up by recovering the ball on the Midland 14. Taylor broke away for

Better Club Won, Says Aggie Mentor

COLLEGE STATION —(AP)— Coach Harry Stiteler of the erstwhile Texas Aggies had short but pungent comment Saturday over the 21-13 licking his team took from the Rice Owls.

It ruined Aggie hopes, knocked them out of a chance of a tie for the Southwest Conference title and a shot in the Cotton Bowl—probably any bowl.

"We took a licking, that's all," said the little gray-haired mentor of A&M. "Today, out there, a better ball club won. No one of our squad was hurt—just feelings."

Coach Jess Neely of Rice attributed the line showing to the fact that his team was in its best physical condition of any time this season except the week of the game with Pittsburg.

"I thought our boys played a very fine game," he said. "We displayed the same form as we did in our victory over Louisiana State. I couldn't single out any individual Rice players who were more outstanding than their teammates because all played fine ball."

Kermit Racks DC 19-8 For Title

KERMIT —(AP)— The Yellow Jackets of Kermit High School sewed up their first championship in the history of the school here Saturday afternoon, beating back the challenge of the Denver City Wildcats 19 to 8. But the Kermit team had to overcome numerous fumbles, penalties and an inspired Denver City team to turn the trick.

The Wildcats tallied first in the initial stanza, when the Denver City line smothered Kermit Back Pat Haygood behind his on goal line to chalk up a 2-0 lead on a safety.

Kermit could not strike paydirt until the middle portion of the second quarter when Big Wayne Cuthvause, the outstanding back on the field, ripped 71 yards off tackle to score. Rick Spinks converted and Kermit was in front 7-2.

The score went to 13-2 in the final minutes of the first half, when in position to score from five yards out in the first period. A 41-yard pass sent the Stuver across the goal line in the second. Red Phillips intercepted a pass on the Arizona 10 and three plays later Earl Jackson plunged over as the half ended.

Gene Ross picked up an Arizona fumble and ran 21 yards for a marker in the third quarter. Tech recovered another Arizona fumble in the same period and scored a few plays later when Judson Routh plunged for the touchdown.

J. W. Thompson made the other Raider touchdown late in the final period, plunging from three yards out. Dick Jackson kicked three conversions.

Texas Tech Raiders Spoil Homecoming For Arizona 39-7

TUCSON, ARIZ. —(AP)— Texas Tech completely dominated the University of Arizona Saturday as it took a 39-7 Border Conference grid victory before an Arizona Homecoming crowd of 15,500.

Long passes and interceptions or recovered fumbles set up five of the Texas Tech Red Raiders' scores.

A 45-yard pass put Earl Jackson in position to score from five yards out in the first period. A 41-yard pass sent the Stuver across the goal line in the second. Red Phillips intercepted a pass on the Arizona 10 and three plays later Earl Jackson plunged over as the half ended.

Gene Ross picked up an Arizona fumble and ran 21 yards for a marker in the third quarter. Tech recovered another Arizona fumble in the same period and scored a few plays later when Judson Routh plunged for the touchdown.

J. W. Thompson made the other Raider touchdown late in the final period, plunging from three yards out. Dick Jackson kicked three conversions.

Houston U Downs William & Mary

HOUSTON —(AP)— Max Clark, a speedy halfback, and Frank Roddy, an alert pass defender, led the University of Houston to a 39 to 19 homecoming victory over William & Mary Saturday.

Clark scored three touchdowns and added three conversions for 21 points. Roddy paved the way for two second-half Houston touchdowns with pass interceptions deep in William & Mary territory.

A crowd of 25,242, a record for the Houston school, saw the university jump into a 16 to 9 lead, and fight off two opposition threats before dominating play in the final period.

Colorado Mines Edges N. M. Aggies

LAS CRUCES, N. M. —(AP)— Colorado Mines of Mines spotted the New Mexico Aggies 13 points in the first quarter Saturday, then came back to win 14-13 and disappoint a homecoming crowd.

Mines tallied the winning touchdown in the third quarter on Aggie Herb Adams' blocked kick. The ball bounced back into the end zone where Bill Cook fell on it for a touchdown.

Barnes' kick made it 14-13.

Dunbar Panthers Stun Carver 33-20

The Dunbar Panthers of Lubbock ousted the Midland Carver Hornets 33 to 20 in Memorial Stadium Thursday night. Lubbock used a ground attack to roll up a 20-7 halftime lead.

Carver scored twice in the final stanza on passes from Phillips to Sams.

Gilmore Races 100 Yards To TD

By LARRY KING
TEXAS TECH STADIUM, LUBBOCK—Favored Lubbock and underdog Midland clashed head on here this cool and sunny Friday afternoon, leaving 14,000 keyed up football fans in various states of frenzied hysteria, and when the final gun sounded Midland had handed the Westerners their first conference defeat of the season 38 to 33.

The boy who broke the Westerners back with a couple of pass interceptions, taking one the distance of the field for a touchdown, and running 51 yards for another score after taking a lateral, was one Reed Gilmore, the Bulldog quarterback who never had before scored a touchdown in his gridiron career.

Midland's alert opportunists cashed in on every possible scoring chance in the first half to build up a 26 to 7 lead, only to see Lubbock's fired up eleven roar back in a 19-point third quarter to knot the score and go ahead 33 to 32 with less than six minutes remaining in the ball game. But the Bulldogs displayed the mark of greatness—the ability to shine at the most crucial moment—and drove 52 yards in the final moments to tally the winning score. When Fullback L. C. Thomas slashed over from the one-yard line, only 50 seconds remained in the ball game. And Jimmy Lineberger, hustling end, smeared Lubbock Quarterback Charles Brewer for a 10-yard loss back to the Westerner 25 YL on the last play of the game to give Midland its sweet, sweet victory. By winning, the Bulldogs kept alive their hopes of ending in a tie for the District 3-AA conference title.

Bulldogs Score First
Midland drove 59 yards to touchdown and the first time it got the ball, and scored with six minutes of the initial quarter. After Larry Friday returned Dean White's kick-off from the Midland 25 to the 41-yard line, Thomas smashed into the line for two yards. Halfback Ralph Brooks tossed a pass to end Duane Bush over the line, and he lateraled to Thomas who raced to the Westerner 35-yard marker for a first down.

Both elevens scored in the third quarter. Hermleigh got its tab first. Coach Jay Williams' Cards counted on a 27-yard pass play, Back D. Newman to End Cooper. It looked for a minute as if the Red defenders had Cooper but he got away and over the line. Alton Hudnall, one of the hardest running line backs you will find, tried to run the point for the Cardinals but was stymied. That score was Stanton 20, Hermleigh 6. Final Tally

Stanton ripped 65 yards for its final score of the night. Guard James Tunnell of the Buffs pounced on a Hermleigh fumble on the Buffs' own 39. Field's Thunderers lost a little yardage in two thrusts and then fired up and roared away. Reed Koonce made the TD sweeping his own left end from about 10 yards out. Pass for the point was incomplete after the Buffs had drawn a five-yard penalty. Score: Stanton 26, Hermleigh 6.

The last quarter was a stalemate for scoring. They zig-zagged back and forth while a cold wind blew. There were a lot of passes and fumbles. Late in the battle Stanton did get down to the Hermleigh 15-yard line only to lose the ball on downs.

Wink Taps Crane 25-7
WINK—The Wink Wildcats were too wild for the Crane Golden Cranes here Friday night, and as a result the Wink eleven posted a 25-7 win in a District 5-A grid battle.

Dan Villarreal made two long touchdown dashes for the Wildcats in the first quarter and they were never headed. Quarterback Ken Vinson scored for the Wildcats on two occasions and fired nice passes to End Paul Jette all night.

The Golden Cranes could muster but one scoring drive, with Malcolm Garrett doing the honors. Wink led in every department of play. It ended the season for both elevens.

FACING THINGS—With Tom Murrin of Fordham showing a hand in his face, Georgetown's Bob Doyle returns the gesture as he picks up five yards around end.

Pups Trip Andrews

The Eighth Grade Midland Bullpups won their last game of the season Saturday by nudging Andrews 6-0. Coach Cochran's lads won three and lost four this season. Two of the losses were to ninth grade outfits.

Midland scored its winning touchdown in the first quarter of the Saturday tilt. Don Stringer, tailback, lanced a pass to Jerry Green wing-back, good for 30 yards and a TD. Green's kick for point was no good.

That was all the scoring but not all the ball game. Andrews got to the Midland 20 late in the fourth quarter but the future Bulldogs held tightly. The Purples also had staved off other Andrews threats during the encounter.

Playing good ball in the Midland line were Lee Woods, Bud Lea, Lilone Crisp and Jerry Hunt. In the backfield it was Waylon Brown, William Brooks, Stringer and Green.

McCamey Gels By Fort Stockton 13-0

FORT STOCKTON — A gallant line held the McCamey Badgers at bay on several scoring chances here Friday night but the Badgers had too much for the downtrodden Fort Stockton Panthers and won a 13-0 ball game.

Billy Stokes was the big gun for McCamey, being in the Panthers' hair all night. Stokes capped a long drive by scoring through the line from five yards out and passed to Mack Patterson for the other Badger touchdown.

Fort Stockton gained some yardage at time, but never could get enough offense together to punch the McCamey goal line.

Rowland Hurt As McMurry Indians Win Season Finale

ABILENE—(P)—McMurry College closed out its 1950 grid campaign with a convincing 30-6 victory over Southwestern University in a Texas Conference game here Friday night.

Brad Rowland, McMurry's great halfback, was removed from the game after the first play of the second half with a pulled abdominal muscle after having gained 53 yards.

Floyd Sampson, heavyweight fullback, took up the chores then and was practically a one-man team from then on, scoring two touchdowns, intercepting three passes, and tackling like a demon.

Southwestern moved 45 yards to score, passes from Frank White accounting for most of the yardage, and Kelly Burkhardt going for touchdown.

Pecos Overwhelms Monahans By 47-7

By COPE ROUTH
PECOS—The fighting Eagles of Pecos High School struck through the air and on the ground here Friday night to sink the Monahans Lobos 47-7 and gain a headlock on the District 5-A second-place position.

In quick, lightning thrusts the Eagles struck seven times.

The Lobos saw drive after drive falter as their aerials were intercepted and their ground attack spoiled by fumbles.

The Eagles scored touchdowns in almost every conceivable fashion.

George Christian, the 170-pound pile-driver, drove through the line from two-yards out for one score and then pranced 79 yards for another.

Buddy Card, the lad with the talented kicking toe, squirmed 37 yards for another touchdown.

Orlando Gutierrez, the 140-pound Eagle quarterback contributed his bit by tossing his 20th touchdown pass of the season, a neat 32-yard aerial to Card.

And Thomas Langham, who dashed 69 yards to score on the first play of the game after the kickoff, wound up the offensive by wiggling another eight yards around right end for the final tally, Monahans Awakens.

That is the story of the game, except for the brief period in waning moments of the first half when Jimmy Jenkins, a sharp-shooting Lobo back, spearheaded a 65-yard aerial attack to put the ball on the one-yard line, from where Doug Creamer shoved over the lonely Monahans score.

The enthusiasm of both teams bordered on the extreme and several players were ejected from the game for unnecessary roughness.

The Eagles of Coach Don Moser wasted no time in getting started as the more than 4,000 fans settled back in their seats after the opening kickoff.

Langham took a handoff from Gutierrez, slipped through his own right tackle, skirted the sidelines and outran the Lobos secondary to cross the goal line 69 yards away. Card missed the extra-point attempt.

The Monahans team surged right back with Curtis Elam and Gloyd Walsh hitting the line for a first down that put the ball in Pecos territory.

But there, Creamer fumbled the ball and Langham recovered on his own 45-yard line.

In seven plays, the Eagles scored on a drive featuring sprints of 23 yards and 24 yards by Langham. Christian plunged through right tackle to score and then kicked the extra point.

Late in the second quarter, the Lobos began a drive from their own 21 and worked all the way to the Eagle 38-yard line before Center Jim Hawkins intercepted one of Ted Whitmore's passes and gave Pecos the ball on its own 21.

On the next play, Christian headed for his left end, cut quickly through left tackle, shook off half a dozen tacklers and raced 79 yards to score. Card converted.

Trailing 0-20, the Lobos didn't give up.

Jenkins began his aerial attack. In four plays, his passes to Walsh, Ray Braswell and Creamer netted 50 yards and a penalty put the ball on the Pecos one-yard line. Creamer pushed across through the line and Walsh kicked the extra point.

That was the last play of the first half and the last play of the game for Creamer, who was carried from the field.

It was not until late in the third period that Pecos struck again as Gutierrez connected with Card for the touchdown pass that netted 32 yards. Christian kicked the extra point.

In the final period, the Eagles struck three more times. Christian intercepted one of Jenkins' passes on the mid-field stripe and raced across the goal line. Card took off on a 37-yard touchdown run and Lanham circled his own right end for an eight-yard touchdown sprint.

In spite of the lopsided score, Monahans picked up 20 first downs, compared to Pecos' eight. But the Eagles gained 302 yards rushing while the Lobos could total only 170.

Mustangs Down Razorbacks 14-7 In Muddy Battle

LITTLE ROCK —(P)— Southern Methodist's aerial circus foundered in the rain and mud here Saturday but bulldozing Kyle Rote powered the Mustangs to a 14-7 Southwest Conference victory over the Arkansas Razorbacks.

The game, an unsensational mud battle most of the way, broke wide open in the fourth quarter as the Razorbacks stormed to one touchdown that counted and to another which was nullified by a holding penalty.

Bowie Sinks C'Dogs

ODESSA — Odessa Bowie turned the tables on the Midland "C" team here Saturday morning, winning 38 to 20. The "C" Bulldogs had beaten Bowie early in the season 40 to 6.

But the spread formation, with backs hitting up the middle and running the ends, spelled disaster for Coach Bernard (Pat) Patterson's eleven. The team ended its season with three wins, two ties and four losses.

Midland scored first against Bowie, tallying on the third offensive try of the game. Wingsback Bill Mims scooted 50 yards on a reverse to put the little Bulldogs in front 6-0.

Rutledge Rambles — Bowie proceeded to run the kick-off back for 80 yards and tie it up 6 all. Mims tossed a pass in the flat to Rusty Rutledge in the first quarter, and he ran 30 yards after taking the five-yard toss. Spivey plowed over for the point that put Midland in front 13-6.

Odessa scored just before halftime, up the middle for 30 yards. Midland led at half 13-12.

Bowie tallied twice in the third, going up the middle. Midland pulled to within 25-20 late in the third, when Rutledge passed to Mims short in the flat and Mims went 40 yards. Clinton Noble plowed over for the point.

Odessa scored in the fourth. As Rutledge went back to pass and cooked his arm, the ball was knocked high into the air and an Odessa boy caught it, going 30 yards to score.

The winners scored over tackle in the final minutes to bring the final to 38-20. Guard Jim Mashburn and End Jim Hammett turned in fine line games for the "C" Bulldogs.

Oklahoma Sooners Roll Over Missouri For Victory No. 29

NORMAN, OKLA. —(P)— Leon Heath led Oklahoma to a 41-7 triumph over Missouri Saturday as the Sooners extended football's longest winning streak to 29 games and bid strongly for top national ranking.

Heath ripped the Missouri line apart in a sparkling first-half performance that stamped him as a candidate for All-America.

The Sooners scored twice in each of the first two periods, then turned the game over to the reserves, who outplayed the visitors in the second half.

Heath rambled 22 yards for one touchdown and set up another with runs of 23 and 22 yards. Sophomore Billy Vessels tallied twice. Buddy Jones, Oklahoma's senior safety man, returned one punt 50 yards for a touchdown and set up Heath's counter with a 35-yard punt run-back. Merrill Green and Jerry Ingram scored Oklahoma's second-half touchdowns.

Missouri, outclassed from the start, scored in the final quarter when Phil Klein tossed to Bob Henry for 11 yards and the lone Tiger touchdown.

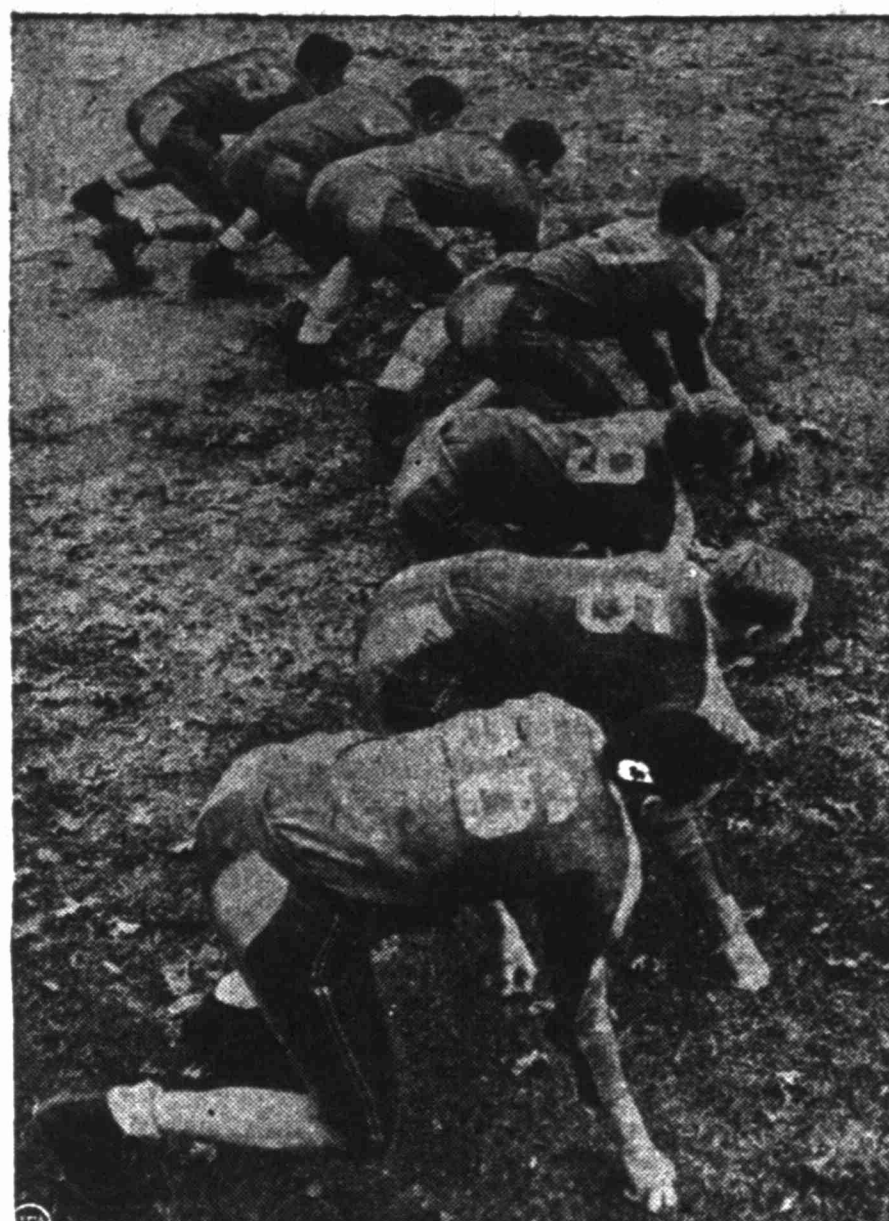

West Texas State Wins 47-31 Over Hardin-Simmons

ABILENE —(P)— Striking for four touchdowns in the first quarter, the West Texas State Buffs Saturday completed a perfect Border Conference football season with a 47-31 victory over Hardin-Simmons.

Charlie Wright and Bill Cross sparked the ground game and Gene Mayfield the aerial thrusts for West Texas State. John Ford, Hardin-Simmons' All-America candidate made 20 of 34 passes for 311 yards. Three Ford passes went for touchdowns and he smashed for one touchdown.

SJC BACKS UP CROWN — DALLAS —(P)— San Angelo Junior College sacked up the Pioneer Conference championship Friday night by thumping Schreiner Institute 30-6.

Illini Knock Bucks From Top Of Heap

CHAMPAIGN, ILL. —(P)— Illinois, the great running team, sprung two aerial touchdowns off trick plays in the second period to surprise mighty Ohio State 14-7 Saturday and shoot ahead in the Big Ten Rose Bowl race.

It was the first Big Ten loss for Ohio State, ranked last week as the nation's top team in the AP poll.

Muffled on the ground as never before this season, the Illini pecked at the Buckeyes' weakest spot, pass defense, and clicked superbly before a capacity throng of 71,119 wild fans.

The win, the Illini's fourth in five league games, shoved them ahead of Wisconsin in their torrid duel for the bowl bid. Each has one more game to play.

Fred Major Throws 'Em — Little Fred Major, wearing a chin mask to protect a broken jaw bone, faked a jump pass in the first two minutes of the second quarter and finally fired the ball to Don Stevens. The former Youngstown, Ohio, prep star snared it on the Ohio State 28 and, as defender Fred Bruney lunged at his heels, skipped loose to free for a touchdown. The play was good for 52 yards and the tally was Stevens' first in two years at Illinois.

Six minutes later the Illini thrust again through the air to what became the clinching marker. The drive was touched off by Illini Joe Hall's recovery of Chuck Gander's fumble on the Illinois 47. With hobbled Johnny Karras streaking 12 yards, the Illini covered the distance goalward in seven plays with Major finally pitching the last five yards to Stevens in the end zone.

The payoff pass came on a spread formation off a fake punt, a play nursed along in secrecy all season to be used Saturday.

Tulsa's Hurricane Smothers Wichita For Loop Bunting

TULSA —(P)— Tulsa University's Golden Hurricane, blowing with its brilliance of old, outclassed Wichita 48-9 to win the Missouri Valley Conference football championship Saturday.

It was Tulsa's first conference crown since 1947. Wichita's Wheatshockers, who have won last four straight games, were making a bid for their first title.

Win-Hungry Navy Trims Columbia 29-7

NEW YORK —(P)— Breaking a fairly tight game wide open with two touchdowns on intercepted passes in the final minute of play, a victory-hungry Navy football team defeated Columbia at Baker Field Saturday 29 to 7.

It was a bitter battle, enlivened by brief fistfights, until that final scoring spurge of the lads from Annapolis, who had been plowed under in six of their seven previous games this year.

Don Foldberg, Army's star football end, is also captain of the grid team, president of his class and a Cadet Captain and Regimental Training Officer.

Kermit And Colorado City Slate Playoff In Odessa

District Champions Kermit High School and Colorado City High School will battle in Odessa Thursday afternoon for the bi-district football crown.

Odessa was selected Saturday as the site of the game as officials of the two schools met in Kermit for a conference.

Bulldog 'B' Whams Odessa 'B' 27-19

The flashing feet of Tailback M. A. Rose led the Midland "B" team to a 27 to 19 win over the Odessa "B" eleven Saturday night in Memorial Stadium. Rose rambled for touchdowns on runs of 72, 17, three and ten yards.

Odessa scored in the first quarter with Fullback Jack Freeman going the last 17 yards on a pitchout play. Quarterback Baker converted.

Midland drove back on the running of Fullback Charles Patterson, driving to the 18, but Odessa held. The Bulldogs got their first touchdown early in the second quarter. Rose exploded over his own right side, sidestepped neatly, and blew 72 yards to touchdown land. Dick Spencer's conversion tied the score.

The "B" Bulldogs moved 53 yards late in the second quarter with Rose going over from 17 yards away, after he had gained 23 at end in two plays previously. Spencer missed the point. Midland was in front 13-7 at halftime.

A sustained drive of 58 yards early in the second half, with Fullback Jack Freeman again scoring from the eight, brought the count to a 13-13 tie. But Midland moved back late in the same period, and to the 13, Spencer, Rose and Clyde McKandless carrying, drove 62 yards. Rose smacked over from the three. Spencer converted.

Point Blocked — After Halfback Clark had romped 32 yards to the Midland one-yard line early in the fourth, Baker sneaked over to score. Jimmy Adams and Bill Leonard broke through to block the point and leave Midland in command by one point, 20 to 19.

The "B" Bulldogs sewed up the game in the final four minutes, driving 28 yards after Leonard fell on an Odessa fumble. Rose skirted over for the final marker. Spencer again converted.

Rose, McKandless, Spencer, Patterson and Robbins paced the "B" backs. Erskine at end, Leonard at center, Barney McClendon at guard, and Curry at tackle, were line standouts. It was the "B" eleven's sharpest performance of the season and gave the Bulldogs revenge for a 39-18 defeat suffered at the hands of the same team a few weeks ago.

Parilli Sets Passing Record As Kentucky Powders North Dakota

LEXINGTON, KY. —(P)— Quarterback Babe Parilli of Kentucky established a new national collegiate passing record Saturday, pitching his twenty-third scoring pass of the season early in the second quarter against North Dakota. Kentucky led at the half 56-0.

Stan Heath of Nevada set the old mark in 1948 with 22 scoring passes. In 17 minutes, Parilli passed for 198 yards to run his total this season to 1,477, a new Southeastern record.

Trading In Matador Ranch Shares Halted On London Exchange

DUNDEE, SCOTLAND —(P)— An aged Scot has brought to a halt stock exchange trading in the booming shares of the Matador Ranch of Texas.

He said only that he took the action "to protect the shareholders."

Frail, 80-year-old William Dunbar MacDougall asked the London Stock Exchange Committee to halt trading in stocks of the Matador Land and Cattle Company with 800,000 acres in the Texas Panhandle. He is its chairman.

He got his wish and the firm's stocks went off the board, even though they were booming on reports that oil prospects on Matador land showing promising results.

MacDougall's only additional comment outside the stock exchange committee was: "Wait for developments."

The oil reports gave a big lift to the firm's five shilling (70 cents) shares. Last year, they ranged between two pounds sixpence ($5.67) and two pounds thirteen shillings one penny ($7.43). Up To $17.30

When dealing was stopped last week they had zoomed to six pounds three shillings ninepence ($17.30). MacDougall wouldn't say how many shares of stock are outstanding.

According to MacDougall, the Matador Panhandle land was brought many years ago by Dundee men who thought cattle-ranching "an excellent enterprise."

The firm's biggest stockholders include Mrs. Edith M. Donovan of London, daughter of Alexander Mackay, from whom MacDougall received the reins of the company. Mackay left her $9,120 shares, now worth more than 240,000 pounds ($672,000).

MacDougall has 1,920 shares, now worth 11,880 pounds ($33,284). A former Conservative member of Parliament, Loel Guinness, has 30,272 shares.

H. P. Drought of San Antonio, Texas, is listed as a director.

Burton Attorney Faces Disbarment

NEW ORLEANS —(P)— Joe T. Cawthorn, defense attorney in the William T. Burton income tax case, has been ordered to appear before the State Supreme Court December 11 to show cause why he should not be disbarred.

Cawthorn, a Mansfield, La., attorney, is serving a two-year sentence at the federal reformatory in a conviction of conspiring to influence a Louisiana jury.

Army Defends Use Of Comic Book In ROTC Recruiting

WASHINGTON —(P)— The Army, replying to criticism of a comic book used in recruiting students for the Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC), said Saturday enrollment is up 15 per cent this fall.

Lt. Col. Robert D. Burhans said this increase in enrollment was decreasing about eight per cent. He said the fighting in Korea certainly had a lot to do with the increased ROTC enrollment. But he expressed belief the Army's program of comic books, college newspaper advertising and radio programs also had helped.

Burhans is information officer for a special Army staff agency handling reserve and ROTC affairs. This agency sent colleges thousands of the comic book, "Time of Decision."

The book has been turned down by Yale, Harvard, and most recently by the ROTC commander at Rhode Island State College. Yale thought it was below the dignity of its students and preferred to use its own brochure.

Burhans said "Time of Decision" is an information book, not a funny book. He said 99 per cent of reports received regarding the book were favorable.

"We had some nice comments from the South," he said.

Charges Filed In Big Spring Shooting

BIG SPRING — Three men were in jail Friday charged with assault with intent to murder. The charges arose out of a shooting in downtown Big Spring Thursday in which one was wounded.

George Lieberknecht was charged with doing the actual shooting. Alleged to be with him in a car at the time were William Lay and Howard Lloyd McCarty. Lieberknecht and Lay are traveling carnival employees. McCarty's occupation was not learned.

Ed Green, a Big Spring drilling company employee received two slight injuries in the shooting, one grazing his back and another scorching his cheek.

Green reportedly was standing across the street from the bus station when the shots were fired from a car a few feet away. A city policeman standing nearby made the arrests immediately.

State's Building Awards Increased To $921,653,763

AUSTIN —(P)— Award of a $7,801,964 contract to an Iowa company for construction of the United States' share of the Falcon Dam project below Laredo boosted Texas building awards to $28,124,026 last week.

The C. F. Lytle Company, and others, of Sioux City, Iowa, received the engineering contract for the American portion of the joint United States-Mexico job. This accounted for the bulk of the $9,283,064 state total in engineering awards, reported the Texas Contractor, building trade journal.

Residential lettings added $5,128,700; non-residential, $13,558,274. The accumulative total for the year soared to $921,653,763.

Six West European Nations Prepare To Pool Coal And Steel

PARIS —(P)— Six West European nations are set to pool their coal and steel under a history-making treaty based on the Schuman plan.

Delegates of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg, and the Netherlands report the pact will be signed next week.

The plan takes its names from French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, who suggested the pool last May 9. The primary French aim was to prevent another war between Germany and France.

Together, the six nations produce about a third as much steel as the United States, where the output now is hovering between 102,000,000 and 106,000,000 tons a year. The ratio of coal production is similar.

Delegates to the pool talks will meet Monday to polish up phrasing of the document they drafted to "change the destiny of these regions, for so long dedicated to the making of arms of war."

It may be four or five years before the pool plan is fully in operation and running smoothly.

The economic effect of the pact will be to erase the competition of these nations to sell the output of their mines and mills.

Politically, the negotiators are convinced, the effect is deeper. Schuman, in suggesting the pool, said, "The real test of the secular opposition of France and Germany be eliminated."

Most diplomats believe the creation of the Schuman Plan Treaty will remove the differences between France and the rest of the Western world on rearmament of Germany.

'Agreement Near On Canadian Dam Project—Johnson

SANTA FE, N. M. —(P)— Senator Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas) says agreement is near on the $88,000,000 Canadian River project in West Texas.

Senator Dennis Chavez (D-N.M.) says progress on a Canadian River compact is being made.

Writing to Chavez, who blocked congressional authorization of the project, Johnson said in a letter made public here:

"He is ready to join in amendments to protect New Mexico rights to Canadian River water.

Texas is interested only in water which falls on the Canadian watershed in Texas and this will be sufficient for the project.

"We agree now on principles. I am sure that we can agree on details and I am anxious that we agree on agreement on details before the year ends."

A copy of a letter written by Chavez in reply was received at Pampa, Texas, by Mayor C. A. Huff.

"I feel confident that those who are working on the compact on the Canadian River project will bring out a just and fair compact in the very near future," Chavez wrote.

Red China's Intervention In Korea Poses Critical Questions For U. S., UN

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON—(P)—Communist China's intervention in Korea raises the most critical strategic questions with which the U. S. has been confronted since World War II ended.

Because world peace or a great new war may hang on the answers, leaders are conducting a probing operation to uncover what the Chinese are up to.

General MacArthur's cautious forward thrust on the Korean front and President Truman's reassurances of peaceful intent toward Red China are part of the same pattern of inquiry-by-action.

The great strategic questions probably will have to be answered in three or four weeks. Prospects for a clear cut diplomatic end to the crisis have grown dimmer because of the Peiping regime's broadcast rejecting Truman's assurances. The President said the U. S. has no intention of invading Manchuria and every intention of protecting Red China's interest along the North Korean border. The Chinese said Friday night they do not believe Truman's mixture of "honeyed words and threats."

The critical queries officials say must be faced and answered fairly soon:

Assuming that the numerically superior Chinese armies try to drive UN troops out of Korea, should the United States commit larger forces?

Should the UN Air Force in Korea bomb key centers in Manchuria to cut off supplies to Korea?

Should the U. S. and its allies openly brand Communist China through the UN as an aggressor in North Korea? This is a step from which the State Department carefully has refrained.

Would air attacks on Manchuria cause the Peiping regime to declare war?

If the Chinese declare war, would the Russians, do likewise, thereby setting off World War III? Moscow published terms of a Sino-Soviet alliance providing for common action against Japan or nations associated with Japan in a war. Perhaps significantly, Moscow has been hammering propaganda charges that the U. S. is using Japanese troops in Korea.

What about Russia? Is the Korean fighting shows signs of continuing indefinitely as a kind of undeclared war, can the U. S. afford to fight that kind of war?

Since no final military decision with world communism could be reached by a victory in Korea or even by a defeat of Red China, should the U. S. and Allied powers force a showdown with the center of Communist power—Russia? Authorities say this country's major policy commitments are clear and that these points must be kept in mind:

The U. S. wants peace and will take any reasonable means to avoid war, the immediate purpose of the U. N. fight in Korea is to end the Communist aggression without letting the war spread; America's primary strategic interests considered on a global scale are in Europe, not in Asia.

Thus the aim is to bring the Korean crisis to a close and disengage American troops as quickly as possible in order to press the buildup on U. S. forces in Europe.

Reversing the situation, is obviously in Russia's interest to employ diversionary moves to prevent speed organization and equipment of Western Europe's defense forces. Some State Department experts believe Moscow would like nothing better than to get the Chinese Communists and the UN forces involved in a long undeclared war in the Korean area.

If that is the purpose of China's intervention, authorities generally are agreed it greatly increases the risk of a general war either through a series of events by which Russia would be drawn into the fighting on China's side, or

A deliberate decision in Washington and other Western capitals that they must fight communism on the battlefield they will fight its central forces and not its satellites.

Senate Republicans Prepare For Rugged Attacks On Acheson

WASHINGTON—(P)—Senate Republicans Saturday served notice that if Secretary of State Acheson is asking for a fight over foreign policy it won't be long in coming. Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) lashed back at what he labeled the "name-calling" tactics used by Acheson in attacking a proposal by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) that Congress reexamine the scope and character of military aid to Western Europe.

Senator Flanders (R-Vt.) called on Acheson to "face the facts of life" and agree to a resurvey of international commitments. Flanders said Republican gains in the general election make such a reexamination inevitable.

At Pormosa, Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) announced he will fight proposed emergency aid for Yugoslavia so long as the Truman Administration denies help to the Chinese Nationalist government and follows a "policy of appeasement in the Far East."

To Challenge Vandenberg
In another phase, some Republicans appeared likely to challenge Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) in his role as a GOP leader in the field of foreign policy. This group was organizing to back Knowland for a place on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, that Vandenberg said ought to go to Senator Morse (R-Ore.). Morse has said he supported the Administration's foreign policy objectives while disagreeing sometimes with its methods.

The Republican flare-up came as the result of a Friday speech in which Acheson took some Republicans to task. They claim they are not isolationists, he said, yet they want to uproot foreign policies and "reexamine" them. He compared them to a farmer who pulls up his crops to see if they are growing. In an obvious reference to Taft, he said these "reexaminers" seemed the same to him as isolationists.

Taft, in Cincinnati, had no comment. Ferguson told a reporter Acheson appears to believe anyone who differs from him on foreign policy or seeks to find out the facts behind decisions is an isolationist.

Flanders, who has supported major Administration foreign policy moves in the past, sided with Ferguson and Taft in calling for a new look at American commitments abroad.

A hearing will be held at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Midland to determine whether or not the temporary order shall be made permanent.

Another incident was reported at Neogoches Friday. Jack Atkins of Houston, a union investigator, says L. A. Hurta of Houston, a picket at Neogoches Friday, was struck in the face in a scuffle with a Neogoches citizen. Atkins said Hurta's glasses were broken and that his face was cut.

Of the 15,000 Western Electric workers on strike in the nation, only about 830 are in Texas. Western Electric and the various Bell systems both are subsidiaries of American Telephone and Telegraph Company. Western Electric workers install equipment and work in warehouses. Southwestern Bell takes the position that Western Electric is an independent contractor and that Bell is an innocent bystander being victimized by a dispute in which it is not directly involved.

The section of the plan which it is not directly involved, the Western Electric workers ask a 15-cent hourly wage boost and a one-year contract. The company has offered 1 1/4 cents in a two-year contract with a wage-reopening clause allowing negotiations after 18 months.

Repeating these points Saturday, Vishinsky said that, if they are ignored again, it would be idle to think of peace being achieved through the UN.

He laid special stress on the admission of Red China to the UN and said nothing at all can be decided until this is done.

The Thanksgiving Story

+ + + +

Freedom of Religion

Freedom of Expression

Midlanders this year celebrate Thanksgiving Day Thursday—November 23.

When thinking of Thanksgiving, Americans think first of the Puritans. They celebrated the first Thanksgiving Day in 1621. But at that time, and for many years, it was not a national holiday.

A woman was responsible for making Thanksgiving Day a national holiday. She was Sara Josepha Hale, the mother of Thanksgiving Day.

Mrs. Hale first came into the picture when civil war threatened the nation. She urged governors of states and territories to proclaim the last Thursday of November as Thanksgiving Day, pointing out that such a festival would serve to unite the people of the nation.

In 1789, President Washington had issued his Thanksgiving proclamation, stating a day should be set aside for Thanksgiving.

"It is the duty of all nations to thank God for the civil and religious liberty with which we are blessed and the means we have of acquiring and diffusing useful knowledge," he wrote.

Because of Mrs. Hale's influence, President Lincoln, in 1863, proclaimed a national day of Thanksgiving. And from that day on Mrs. Hale has been known as the Mother of Thanksgiving.

In 1864, a second Thanksgiving proclamation was issued by President Lincoln. Since then each President has proclaimed an annual observance of Thanksgiving Day.

And now, in 1950, we celebrate another Thanksgiving Day. Pictured on this page are a few institutions typical of the many freedoms Americans have to be thankful for this Thanksgiving Day. Each of the freedoms can be traced back to one thing—Democracy.

And in Midland, citizens have and enjoy the many freedoms which have been won through struggle, sacrifice, wars and hard work.

On Sunday Midlanders will attend the churches of their choice, and during the week they will send their children to schools which are among the finest in the world.

Freedom of enterprise is apparent in Midland by the prosperity of the city and the number of its individual enterprises. Freedom to assemble gives rise to many organizations, large and small.

Typified by the home, freedom from fear and want is one of the freedoms for which citizens should be most thankful. One could go on and on listing the freedoms for which Americans should give thanks.

And so, Thanksgiving Day will be celebrated Thursday.

On Thanksgiving Day, happy family units will attend church services before sitting down to turkey dinners. The gaiety of the occasion will be marked in most instances by a somewhat serious note as Americans consider their many blessings. Happy Thanksgiving!

Paint, Paper Perform Christmas Miracles

By ANNE LARSEN
NEA Staff Writer

If you aren't fired with enthusiasm over the idea of bedecking your home with the same old weary decorations left over from last Christmas, try something new and different this year.

One idea, contributed by Peter Hunt, whose sprightly designs are leaders in the field of American folk-art, is a wooden chandelier to brighten your living room. This is created from nothing fancier than an old wagon wheel, from which the spokes have been removed, a couple of pieces of wood, plywood and four discarded drawer pulls.

Suspend in the center of the wheel a stylized Christmas tree which can easily be cut from plywood with a power or coping saw. At the bottom of the wheel, attach two narrow planks crossed at right angles. These will support the drawer knobs, which have been hollowed out to hold candles, and stylized angels which have also been sawed out of plywood by the home handy-man.

To decorate your Yuletide chandelier, apply enamel in the various colors you choose, using the basic Peter Hunt stroke. This is a simple brush mark in the shape of a teardrop. Start the stroke with the brush flat, then gradually lift it until only the tip of the bristles

Soap-Opera Solution Won't Help To Get Husband Back

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Has a woman of forty any chance at all of winning back the love of her own, things she really likes to do, she'll be happier, and a more interesting person.

Well, if she were the heroine of a soap opera or magazine serial it would be duck soup. She'd go to a fancy beauty salon for a few weeks, buy a lot of new clothes and the timid, neglected duckling would turn into a swan. Fade-out and after the two would live happily ever after.

But a man who has lost interest in a woman isn't going to get it back simply because she loses ten pounds, finds a more becoming hair-do, and starts buying clothes that "do something for her."

All those things may be beneficial, simply because they make the woman feel less woe-begone and give her a little confidence in herself. But they aren't going to make her husband suddenly see her in a new light.

My advice to this wife is to quit worrying about making herself over to please her husband and start thinking about making herself over to please herself. If she will do more of her own, things she really likes to do, she'll be happier, and a more interesting person.

She Can't Lose
Chances are her husband will find her more interesting. If he doesn't she's still ahead, for she is getting some fun out of life, instead of sitting around feeling sorry for herself.

This probably sounds like very dull advice compared with the "make-yourself beautiful - and he'll fall - in - love - with - you - all-over-again" routine women are usually handed.

But the trouble with that old line of advice is that it just doesn't work, except in fiction and the wistful thinking of middle-aged women who feel neglected and unloved.

There are many ways to serve nutritious sweet potatoes—candied, baked, in pudding or pie, or mashed with lots of butter and seasoned with salt and pepper.

The bride's table was covered with a green velvet cloth and the centerpiece was an arrangement of bronze mums. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a replica of the bride's bouquet. Silver candelabra and a silver punch bowl were used.

Dr. R. M. Lynn To Preach At Union Thanksgiving Service

Dr. R. Matthew Lynn, who Sunday will begin his fourth year as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here, will deliver the sermon at the annual community Thanksgiving Day service scheduled at 10 a. m. Thursday in the First Christian Church. "The Goodness of the Lord" will be his subject.

The union service is sponsored by the Midland Ministerial Association. The Rev. W. R. Mann, Presbyterian missionary, will make the announcements, and the Thanksgiving prayer will be offered by the Rev. J. B. Stewart, pastor of the Asbury Methodist Church. The Rev. F. W. Rogers, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, will read the Scripture lesson. The Rev. Robert J. Snell, rector of the Trinity Episcopal Church, will give the benediction.

Nancy Webb and Mrs. Dorothy Melzer will be presented in a vocal duet.

Dr. Lynn, moderator of the Presbyterian Synod of Texas, assumed the pastorate of the First Presbyterian Church of Midland three years ago Sunday. He came here from Houston, where he was assistant pastor of that city's First Presbyterian Church.

Since Dr. Lynn came to Midland, the First Presbyterian Church here has been remodeled and enlarged and a Fellowship Hall erected at a cost of more than $225,000. The church now is sponsoring the organization of a second Presbyterian Church in Northeast Midland.

Membership in the First Church was increased from 425 three years ago to more than 803 at this time. Sunday School enrollment has tripled since Dr. Lynn became pastor.

The church, during the last three years, has contributed a total of $299,314 to all causes.

The oil from the seeds of black mustard is more pungent than that from the white variety.

Civic Music Association To Present Kirsten Flagstad

Kirsten Flagstad, soprano, will appear at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the high school auditorium under the auspices of the Midland Civic Music Association.

She returned to America in the Fall of 1949 after appearances in every major opera house in Europe, the British Isles and Buenos Aires. "Incomparably the most distinguished of living singers, her voice is more marvelous than ever. Her singing baffles description," wrote Jerome D. Bohm, music critic for the New York Herald Tribune, of Flagstad's Carnegie Hall recital last winter.

American critics have been praising Miss Flagstad every since the night of her Metropolitan Opera debut in 1935. Following her first post-war series of concerts here she left again for Europe where she appeared in operas and concerts in Zurich, Switzerland, and gave a special performance on behalf of the British War Nurses in Royal Albert Hall, London, under the patronage of Queen Elizabeth. She gave many sell-out performances in Milan and Paris.

Repeating her initial post-war triumph, she returned to the U. S. in the Winter of 1948 and then left again for the European and South American tours, from which she returned in the Fall of 1949.

According to music critics, she has the most memorable voice of this age.

RESERVATIONS should be made with Mrs. Paul Bowman at 3633-W.

Library Committee Discusses Project

A study of the library needs of the community and schools was accepted as a plan of work of the Reading and Library Service Committee when it met Thursday in the high school library.

Mrs. Vernon Bottoms, reading and library service chairman of the City Council of the Parent-Teacher Association, reminded representatives of Midland schools that "all thoughtful parents and teachers hope that today's children may come to maturity as a free people in a free world. Books, a universal medium of education in school and out, can help to make our children free."

Mrs. Bottoms outlined the duties of the chairmen of the local units. Reports were made of a library project underway in the Terminal unit.

ADMITTED FOR TREATMENT

Abundant Living

By E. STANLEY JONES

Matt. 23:8-10; Acts 13:1-3; Col. 3:11

SOME STEPS IN GETTING RID OF RACE PREJUDICE

We cannot live abundantly if we are hide-bound; and color prejudice is just that—bound by hide. If we get rid of these prejudices we shall not do so by sentimental vapors, but by facing irresistible facts. Are there such facts? Yes.

1. We have the backing of Christianity that mankind is one. "God hath made of one blood all nations . . . for to dwell on all the face of the earth." "He is your Master . . . and all ye are brethren." "There is neither Jew nor Greek . . . in Christ Jesus"—racial distinction. "The Spirit bade we go with them, making no distinction." —Peter was making a racial distinction in his mind, and the Spirit canceled this out. The early Church not only put men on a theoretical level, but actually gave them equal authority also. Paul was ordained by a negro at Antioch—"Simon (called Niger)", and "Niger" is, literally, "the Black." There is no doubt whatever that these modern color-prejudices were not in early Christianity. Then a man was looked on as a man—"a man for whom Christ died."

Paul gave the Christian conception of equality in these words regarding a slave: "no longer a mere slave; but something more than a slave—a beloved brother; especially dear to me but how much more to you as a man and as a Christian!" (Philemon 16, Moffatt.)

Christianity was to be a revelation of both God and man—and more: it was to be a faith in both. The Christian faith is therefore creative, bringing out the best in all men. Christ is the great believer in man. He is the great believer in man—not in some men, but in all men. Hence He is the hope of the world.

Our Father, give us a faith in Thee and in one another. Doubt destroys; faith builds; help us then to look on people with the eyes of kindling faith, and not with the eyes of chilling doubt. For only thus shall we be like Thee. For Thou dost believe in us when we cannot believe in ourselves. Help us to pass on Thy faith. In Jesus' name. Amen.

777 Legion Posts Of Texas Have A Common Target—Complacency, 'Let George Do It'

On December 7, the 777 American Legion Posts in Texas have a common target—complacency and "let George do it" attitude.

Commander T. E. Steele of the Midland Woods W. Lynch Post of American Legion announced that Floyd O. Rhoden, will be general chairman of the American Legion committees for "Operation Democracy" Thursday, December 7.

Overall chairman of the second annual movement to make Democracy live in every town and village in Texas is John Ben Sheppard of Gladewater, commander Steele said. Appointed by Department Commander Bill Elkins of Killean as Chairman of The American Legion's state Americanism Committee, Secretary of State Sheppard is a past national president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Becoming alarmed on a trip to Europe in 1949 over the spread of communism and the belief that Democracy was decaying through lack of interest in our institutions, Sheppard conceived the idea of letting his fellow citizens of Gladewater demonstrate to the world that aggressive action in a Democracy beats communism. Gladewater jus-ified his faith by going all out during a week-long program that later became famous as the "Gladewater Plan." The essence of that successful plan was concentrated in a one-day state-wide "Operation Democracy," December 7, 1949 by The American Legion's posts with millions of Texans joining in the celebration.

All Midland Invited
All citizens and all organizations of Midland are invited again to pitch in to make the second anniversary of "Operation Democracy" a golden one. The American Legion Commander said. The program as it did last year calls for all churches, schools and civic organizations to take part in a series of programs designed to bring home to every citizen of Midland the benefits and responsibilities of Democracy. Commander Steele said.

Proclamations by Governor Shivers and mayors of Texas cities have been issued urging every community in Texas to show enemies that Democracy is not just a philosophy but a living faith, he said.

Other appointments of important committees will be made shortly.

Air Force Says No 'Go-Between,' Pull Contracts

FORT WORTH —(AP)—The Air Force said Sunday you don't need political pull or "go-betweens" to get Air Force contracts.

The assurance came from Col. Nevery H. Warren, chief of the Air Force Procurement Field Office for an 11-state south and southwest area.

"Information has come to this office that many firms are being approached by individuals offering to assist them in obtaining Air Force contracts for a fixed fee," Warren said in a statement.

"We are most anxious to have quality manufacturers make their services available to us and we wish to assure these manufacturers that they will not have to use 'errand boys' or 'influence peddlers' who claim fame for having 'pull' or 'political ties' that will enable them to get more business from the Air Force. The manufacturer and small business man does not even need a letter of introduction to our buyer personnel."

Procedure Streamlined
The procurement chief, who is administering more than half a billion dollars in Air Force contracts, said procedure has been streamlined and simplified to spread production as equitably as possible.

He said the small business man can go to his local chamber of commerce, manufacturers association or to the nearest Air Force procurement office for information on procedure for getting his firm listed to receive invitations for bids.

"The Air Force," Warren continued, "wishes to encourage competition and increase participation by manufacturers in order to broaden the base for emergency expansion of the aviation industry and to meet the accelerated production schedules under our current program."

Gibbs Assigned To Armored Division

CAMP CHAFFEE, ARK. — Richard L. Gibbs, 511 South Loraine Street, Midland, has been assigned to the famed 5th Armored "Victory" Division for basic training.

While at Camp Chaffee with the armored division, Gibbs will get specialized training in ground warfare. When he completes basic training he will be assigned to other units for advanced training.

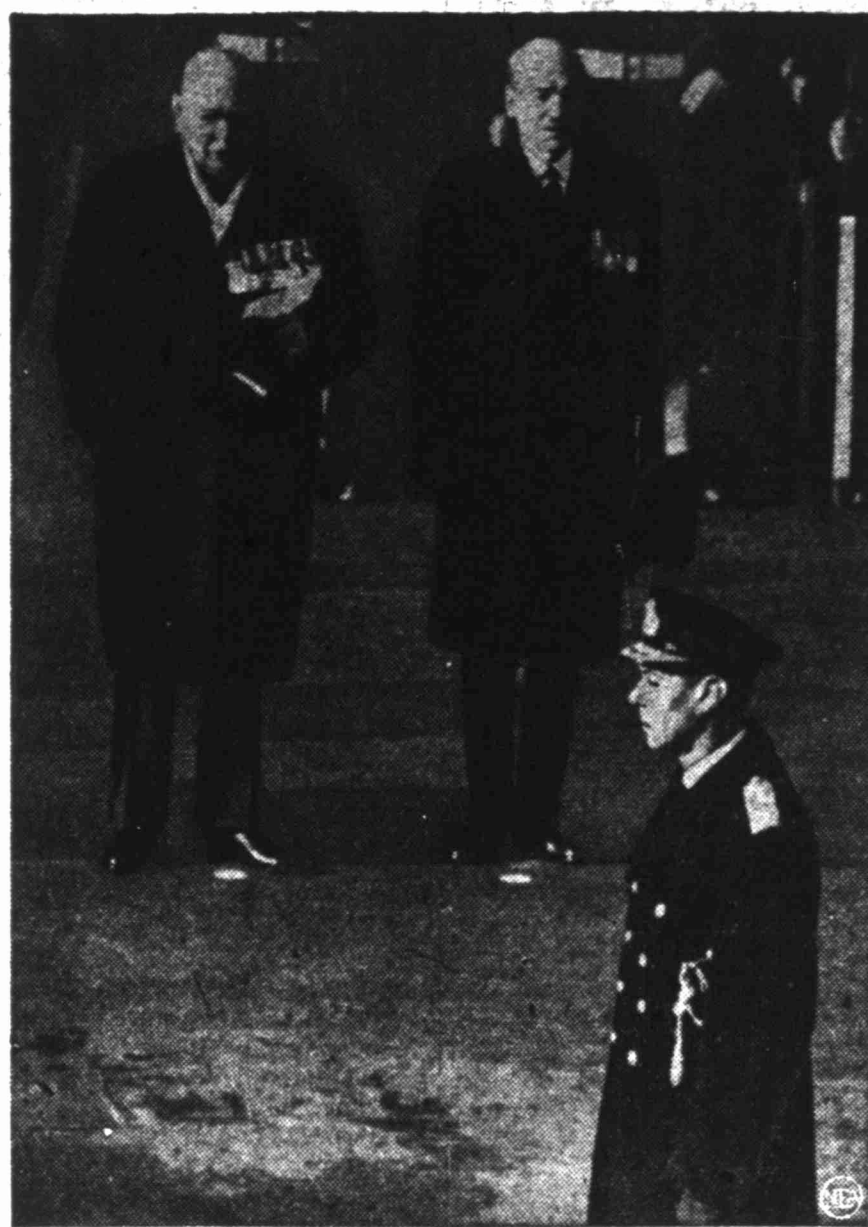

Commanded by Brig. Gen. Claude B. Ferenbaugh, the 5th Armored Division is one of the famous armored divisions of World War II. The division participated in the Normandy invasion in 1944 and fought through France and Germany with Gen. George Patton's Third Army. The division was reactivated at Camp Chaffee to train recruits from Texas, Oklahoma, Mississippi, Arkansas, New Mexico and Louisiana in the "know how" of ground warfare. Realistic training will be given all recruits assigned to the 5th Armored Division by officers and enlisted men who served in combat during the last war.

Reds Resort To Coal In Their Propaganda

VIENNA —(AP)—Sovietized Eastern Europe loses no opportunity to make Communist propaganda in the West—even in its trade agreements. Hundreds of thousands of pieces of coal, just delivered to Austria from Poland, bear the imprint of the hammer and sickle. A Vienna newspaper commented: "The Communist coal faces the same fate as Communist newspapers, brochures and leaflets... they will go into the oven."

AVOID GUESS WORK
Make a habit of saving informative tags that come attached to household utensils and linen. Write on each tag or label just what merchandise it refers to. Then when that item needs washing, you won't have to try to remember; you'll have professional advice in print.

Q. and A. You and the Service

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— Q. My boy was recently sent to an Army training camp. Is it true that they are not sending any more lads to combat zones?

A. No. The Army is not saying where it will or will not send men.

Q. My oldest son was killed in World War II. My only other son was reported missing in action in Korea but was found all right and is now in Japan. I understand that sole surviving sons will be let out of the Army. If this is true, to whom do I write?

A. Sole surviving sons will be kept out of combat, but are not being discharged. If you want to request that your son be kept from any more action write to the Adjutant General of the Army, Washington 25, D. C.

Q. I am a college graduate with a degree in electrical engineering.

A. Not less than 10 days. But the registrant won't be inducted sooner than 21 days after he is notified by his local board that he is acceptable to the armed forces. When he gets that first notice he will know that his induction is certain and he can start to wind up his personal affairs.

Q. Without my glasses my vision is 20/1000. However, with glasses my vision is perfect. Will I be qualified for the Army under these conditions? If so will it be limited service?

A. Yes. The type of service you will get will be determined after you are inducted.

Q. My brother was killed in World War II. I have another brother who is serving with me in the Army. Will we both be kept out of a combat zone?

A. The rule is that only sole surviving sons may be kept out of combat zones. Neither of you is a sole surviving son so presumably you can both be sent to a combat zone.

Q. I am going into the service on active duty. My service pay will be one-quarter of what I have been getting in civilian life. What about the debts I owe on my car, home, television set and furniture?

A. The Army will make arrangements to reduce your payments while you are in service. You will eventually have to pay for these things but there is a law which forces creditors to accept temporarily reduced payments.

Don't wait until the Christmas rush to bring the season's decorations out of hiding. Perk up wreaths, ribbons and tree ornaments now and save yourself from a chore later. Sad Days Are Here For Used Car Dealers; Many Quit, Others Look To Regulation End

By EDD BOUTT
Associated Press Staff

These are sad days for Texas used car dealers.

Most are swearing, some have quit the business and others pray that Regulation "W" will be repealed. Only some who deal in jalopies express satisfaction.

It's the same story over the nation. Regulation "W," set up by the board of governors of the federal reserve system to keep down credit buying, requires that a person pay one-third down on a car and the rest in 15 months.

"My customers can't pay one-third down on a car and even if they could they wouldn't be able to pay it out in 15 months," L. P. Penon, a big, red-faced second-hand dealer in Dallas said. "It looks like I'll just have to close the gates."

But another Dallas dealer, Dave Sharp deals in cars 10 years old or older, and gives another view: "The big boys are hollering. But my business is as good or better than ever. My cars are junkers and don't sell for much anyway. They cost me more now, but I just add it on to the customer's price. And I've always charged more than a third down and given the customer less than 15 months to pay the balance."

This month the National Association of Used-Car Dealers met in the north Texas city to talk about Regulation "W." Collectively, they said sales were off 50 to 75 per cent.

Survey Results Given
A survey of the market in Texas shows:

1. The price of old cars (pre World War II) is up from $25 to $100. New car dealers have boosted slightly, the prices they charge used car dealers for older cars, the new car dealers obtain as trade-ins, fractionally, the prices of 1948-1950 trade-ins they sell to used car dealers.

2. Because the new car dealer isn't selling as many new cars, he hasn't as many trade-ins to sell used car dealers.

3. The demand for the old jalopies has increased since Regulation "W" went into effect in September.

The used car association threatens to take its case to Congress. Many of its members feel consumer credit control should be lifted from the jurisdiction of the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System. They want an independent board with representatives from the automotive industry.

Dallas used car dealers were interviewed:

David Karlen, who sells late-model used cars, said his business dropped from 50 cars a month to 15.

May Lay Off Men
Maury Shallette, thinks he'll have to let some of his mechanics go.

"I can't buy cars, and I can't sell them. I'd buy a bunch of old crates if I could find them. They just aren't to be found."

Rudy Bergfield handles old cars mostly, says he's not hurt.

W. D. McDowell believes things will get better when "more money gets into circulation."

Where's the money coming from? "Oh, war plants, new jobs, and so on. There'll be plenty of money soon and people can make these big down payments and monthly installments," he explained.

Dave Karlen, late-model dealer said he may be able to survive the new credit rule.

"I own my own lot, and finance many of my sales. But most Texas dealers have to pay high rent and many of them have to floor-board their cars (floor-board in the used car business means to borrow money to buy a car).

"Sometimes the interest runs pretty high. The dealer has got to move the car or have it eaten up by interest, Karlen explained.

"I used to wholesale a lot of used cars out in the state, but that phase of my business is gone too. I can't find the cars to sell."

CHILD IS ADMITTED
Jo Ann Land, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Land, 603 South Mineola Street, was admitted Friday to Midland Memorial Hospital as a medical patient.

It is a lot of fun to wander around the table and look at all the hands when a canasta game is in progress. Also, it is remarkable how much better you can play when you see four hands. However, in the case I am about to discuss it should not be necessary to see four hands to realize what was wrong with East's play.

Both sides needed 120 and the dealer froze the pack by turning up a joker. After several rounds of play South melded A-A-2 and Joker-9-9. West drew and discarded and after making his draw North thought a while (obviously about meldings), finally discarded not to meld and simply discarded.

East drew and melded Joker-king-king and 2-8-8. West added one king to the meld and nothing happened for a couple of rounds.

Finally poor East drew and found himself holding one deuce, one king, two queens and a ten. Three tens had been discarded and it was a cinch that South did not have a pair of tens among his five cards.

Also, I had seen the South hand and knew this. Also, I had seen West's hand and knew that he had the worst collection of tripe imaginable. No wild cards or sets of three and only a few pairs. However, West did have plenty of safe discards. His hand was so bad that no one could use his cards.

Poor East counted the cards remaining in the stock and found that he had six more discards to make assuming that the hand went to the end. He knew his king was safe since two kings had been discarded and he decided to throw it.

East's next draw was the king and he discarded that also. His next draw was a second ten spot and here is where East went as wrong as it is possible to go wrong.

East discarded a queen. South got the discard pile and before the smoke of the hand had cleared away North and South had picked up over 3000 points.

Actually a ten would still have been a safe discard and as pointed out earlier South should have known that a ten was very likely to be safe. However, South should have thrown his wild card away. Two rounds back he had given up his play for out by throwing away a king. At that time he still had six rounds to go.

Now he had four rounds to go, or three after that discard. He might draw badly and have to give away the pack later, but he was discarding to a five card hand and he might well draw safe cards on the last three rounds.

Finally, my real quarrel with East's line of play is that he swapped horses in mid-stream for no good reason. When he threw the first king he had decided to try to play safely to the end. Once having made that decision he should have stuck to it as long as he possibly could.

Maxwell-Maddox Wedding Solemnized

Allen Maxwell became the bride of R. L. Maddox, Jr., in a double ring ceremony before a few close friends in the First Presbyterian Church Friday night with Dr. R. Matthew Lynn officiating.

The bride wore a soft blue wool jersey dress with Winter white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid. Her attendant, Mrs. V. H. Van Horn, Jr., wore a navy blue suit and a pink hat. Her shoes and handbag were of navy blue. She wore a corsage of pink camellias.

Jack McGaughey was the best man. Mrs. Maddox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Maxwell of Strawn, Texas, is a graduate of Texas State College for Women in Denton and has been employed in Midland for the last several years by the Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware.

Maddox is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Maddox of Mexia and is manager of Modern Cleaners in Midland. After a wedding trip to Houston and New Orleans, the couple will be at home at 1906 North Carrizo Street.

VISITOR IS ADMITTED
Mrs. Homer A. Burwell, Pinwell, was admitted to Midland Memorial Hospital Friday as a medical patient.

Players Present 'Glass Menagerie'

"The Glass Menagerie," a play by Tennessee Williams, was presented by the Barter Theater of Virginia Friday in the high school auditorium. The play was under the sponsorship of the Lions Club and the Business and Professional Women's Club.

The atmosphere for the play was created by mood music before the curtain opened. Rex Farrington, who played the role of the son, also was the narrator.

As the play opens he begins to relate comedy "memories" about his mother and sister, portrayed by Mary Perry and Barbara van Orman. The only other character in the play is the gentleman caller, played by Howard Hunter.

Setting
The play takes place in a dingy apartment in St. Louis and is centered around a mother's dreams for her crippled daughter. The mother remembers herself as a Southern belle with many gentleman callers and is very concerned about her daughter who is not interested in gentlemen.

Mary Perry, the mother, is a veteran of a quarter of a century on Broadway. This is her fourth season to play the role of the mother in "The Glass Menagerie." She and the other three in the play gave a wonderful performance.

Lighting Effects
The most impressive thing throughout the production was the lighting effects. The picture of the father, a telephone worker who fell in love with long distance and left, lit up whenever he was referred to. The play was directed by Owen Phillips. The setting was done by Virginia Johnston, the lighting by Albin Aukerlund and costumes, Warren Cautchen. The original music was composed by Paul Bowles.

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

By DALMON McNAIR

The market was strong and active on 1,450 head at Midland Livestock Auction Company sale Thursday. The run was predominately Hereford stocker cattle and numerous bunches of good and choice cows, calves and yearlings were offered.

Stocker cows auctioned at $17 to $20 and cow and calf pairs at $175 to $250. The A. B. Connell C-Bar ranch of Penwell consigned 75 Hereford cows out of which one bunch of 45 good 4-8 year olds went as a group for $21,300 cwt.

Stocker steer calves brought $28.50 to $32 while heifer calves drew $27 to $30 with a few higher. Steer yearlings moved at $27 to $29. Kenneth Smith of Marfa consigned 154 Hereford heifer yearlings that weighed around 550 pounds and sold in bunches at $139 to $164 a head. Others drew from $115 to $170.

Fat Calves
Fat calves and yearlings cleared at $25 to $28.50, mediums $22 to $25, commons and culls $10 to $22. Fat cows were bid from $19 to $22, mediums $18 to $19, canners and cutters $13.50 to $18. Bulls sold for $20 to $23.

Other principal consignors and buyers were John Thornton, J. N. M., J. W. Spinks, Kermit, Wadell Brothers (Jim and R. T.) of Odessa and Kermit; Hugh Ratliff, Tom Elrod, Son Hendrick and C. C. Blackwell of Odessa; Key and Evans and Sons, Fort Davis; Pat Watts, Pecos; Jim and Bluford Thornton, John Wilson and Parker and Parker of Poyte, Charles Beecher, Fort Stockton; J. E. Midland consignors were Buster Cole, George Glass, D. W. McCormick, Bill Moore, Sam Preston, Joe Hoard, Herd Midkiff, W. S. Hudson, F. D. Hughey, Foy Proctor who consigned 135 Herefords, Dr. Y. D. McMurry, M. F. King, J. D. Poe, J. T. Marchant, Tom Nance, Bennie Bizzell, W. Bryany, A. C. Francis and Robert M. Turner.

Visits were made recently to 16 of the 26 ranches in Texas on which field tests for controlling mesquite are being conducted. The off-station tests are being carried on by the ranchers under the direction of C. E. Fisher, superintendent of the Spur Experiment Station and Dale W. Young, assistant agronomist with the Bureau of Plant Industry, and with the assistance of local county agents and FMA.

The group making the tour, which was led by Fisher, included representatives of the Production and Marketing Administration, the Agricultural Experiment Station, the Extension Service, chemical research men, and airplane operators.

Tour Observations
From observations made on the tour, the ester of 2, 4, 5-T still appears to be the best chemical for control of mesquite. Three-fourths pound of acid of 2, 4, 5-T in three gallons of water and one gallon of diesel oil gave the most consistent and promising result in all the tests studied. Included were sprouts, seedlings, and small and large trees.

Mesquite on the ranches visited was sprayed by airplane during the Spring of 1950. A. H. Walker, range specialist for the Texas A&M Extension Service and one of the group making the tour, says that, although it is too soon to determine the final results of the spraying, the work definitely looks promising.

Range and pasture feed deteriorated sharply in all areas during October in the unseasonably warm, open weather, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports. Over the northern half of the state, however, this warm open weather permitted curing before frost of the generally abundant range feed supply. General rains were needed over the state. In the extreme southern and coastal counties, particularly the Coastal Bend, dry grass was very short as the drought continued. In the north and northwest, rains were needed to develop a good root system on wheat being grazed. A substantial number of cattle already were on early seeded wheat in the Plains, but root systems were not well established on many fields, and cattle were pulling up the plants. All range feed was reported at 81 per cent on November 1, which was the same as the 10-year average for that period, but recorded a seven point decline from the very good condition a month earlier.

Cattle In Good Shape
Cattle were going into the winter carrying good flesh except in the extreme south and coastal counties where ranges are critically dry and feed short. All classes of available cattle are moving in volume onto the High Plains wheat pastures. Farmers and ranchmen generally are holding all top heifer calves and yearlings for replacements. On November 1, condition of all cattle was reported at 85 per cent. This was three points below the condition a month earlier, but two points above average, the report continued.

Ewes are going into the winter in generally good condition. Cured range feed supplies over the Plateau generally are plentiful; however, growth of winter grass and weeds have been checked by continued dry weather during the last month. General rains were needed to bring this new green feed along. Country demand is absorbing the limited ewe and ewe lamb offerings, with many old ewes being retained in breeding herds. Most everybody in the sheep country is trying to increase breeding flocks. Sheep were reported at 85 per cent condition on November 1, compared with 88 a month ago and 84 per cent the 10-year average.

Texas farm cash income advanced 36 per cent from August to total an estimated $180,061,000 in September, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

decreased marketings of cotton, cottonseed, wheat, sheep, calves, and fruit and vegetables offset increases for rice, cattle, hogs, and wool.

Cotton was the greatest source of farm cash income during September, bringing Texas farmers $90,210,000. Marketing of cattle and cottonseed totaled $18,763,000, and $18,490,000, respectively.

Champion cowboys, the best of the nation's circuit, will ride and wrestle for more than $30,000 at the San Antonio Livestock Exposition February 16-25, at the Bexar County Coliseum. Lucian Jones, rodeo chairman of the stock show, revealed that the exposition had contracted the Everett Colborn World's Championship Rodeo for 15 performances during the exhibition.

Colborn will bring to San Antonio 500 head of wild livestock including bucking horses for bareback and saddlebronc riding, wild steers and Brahman bulls for bull-dogging and bull riding, saddle horses for arena work, calves and cattle for calf roping and cutting horse contests.

Prize Money
The prize money will be made up of $15,000 from the livestock exposition, which included $3,000 for each of the five events, to which is added the entry fees of the cowboy contestants.

The rugged rodeo has been approved by the Rodeo Cowboy Association as a major show and places it as a major attraction.

Entry fees for the cowboy contestants are: saddle bronc, $30; bull riding, $30; calf roping, $100; bareback bronc riding, $30, and bull-dogging, $50.

Informant Claims Bormann In Chile

SANTIAGO, CHILE —(AP)— Martin Bormann, former Nazi leader, was in Chile two years ago, says Pabeo Hesselin, former Deputy at the Reichstag. Hesselin, who is living in Chile, said:

"I saw Bormann many times when he appeared at the Reichstag in 1930. In February of 1946 on a road that leads to the Argentine border I encountered three riders. I immediately recognized Bormann among them. He himself addressed one of his companions, saying: 'Das war doch Hesselin (That is Hesselin), and turned his horse to the Argentine border at full gallop. Later I knew from a German citizen whose name I am not permitted to reveal that Bormann lived around there under the name of Juan Gomez and had made many trips to Chilean territory. He also told me that Bormann would leave soon for Europe to collaborate with the organization of the Nazi underground movement."

Hesselin said Bormann came to South America aboard a German submarine just after Germany's collapse in the last war.

Farmers Urged To Save Cotton Seed

Farmers in the Midland area were urged Saturday to save an adequate supply of good-quality cotton seed in planning a 1951 crop to meet an expected increase in the demand.

Charles Champion, administrative official in Midland for the Production and Marketing Administration, pointed out that there will be no marketing quotas or acreage allotments for next year's crop.

"A national cotton crop of at least 16 million bales," he said, "is needed to supply expected domestic and export demand."

"To have enough to build an adequate reserve, more than 16 million bales will be needed."

He explained that to meet this demand, cotton-growers will have to expand their acreage next year. "But the factor requiring immediate action by the farmer," he added, "is that of saving an adequate supply of high-quality seed of the varieties best adapted to the local area of production."

North-Central and Northeast Texas cotton farmers favored Rowden, Deltapine and Mebane varieties in their plantings for 1950-51, while those in the High and Low Plains chose from many varieties, the University of Texas Cotton Merchandising Research Division reports.

Sixty-two per cent of the fields in U. S. Department of Agriculture Crop Reporting District 4 contained Rowden and 21 per cent Mebane, data from county agents, ginners, and seed breeders in the North-Central Texas area reveal.

In a District 5 (Northeast Texas) survey, Deltapine was favored by 39 per cent, Rowden by 20 per cent, and Mebane by 11 per cent of the farmers.

High and Low Plains planters—in District 1-N, 1-S, and 2—spread their choice over a wide range, with Northern Star, Paymaster, Hybrid, Macha, Mebane, Lockett, Deltapine, Western Prolific, Half and Half, Lankart, and Qualla having a slight edge over other varieties.

Dell City, Texas' youngest city, which has boomed in the last four years with the discovery of a vast underground reservoir, is one of the best irrigation-well projects in the South, according to George B. Hall, western district manager for Western Cotton Oil, says.

Dell City, located in the shadow of Guadalupe Peak, highest point in Texas, is 80 miles east of El Paso in heart of the Guadalupe Basin and 50 miles from any other farm land.

U. S. Savings Bond Campaign Launched In Farming Areas

A campaign to sell more savings bonds to farm people as part of the national defense program, as well as for the benefit of the farmer, now is going on in all agricultural areas of the nation, including Midland County. The reasons for this were given Saturday by John P. Butler, county chairman of the U. S. Savings Bonds Committee.

"Heavy defense spending has started another creeping inflation," Butler explained. "Employment and consumer income nationally are at all time high levels and climbing higher. This extra income helps push prices up. The farmer always has been the hardest hit by price inflation and recession; prices of farm products go up last and drop first."

In 1948-49, he pointed out, farmers' net income nationally fell off 20 per cent, while the goods the farmer had to buy came down very little if at all. In addition, the farmer is operating one of the riskiest businesses of all, at the mercy of weather, pests, plant and livestock diseases and market fluctuations over which he has no control.

Outlook For 1951
The outlook for next year, according to Department of Agriculture and other forecasts, is that farm income nationally will be about the same in dollars as this year, or a bit more. But the farmer should not forget, Butler added, that his main concern is not how many dollars he takes in but what those dollars are worth to him. He therefore is interested in checking inflation in the prices of goods, equipment and supplies at he has to buy in order to live and operate.

"Farmers work hard for their money; they should make their money work for them, instead of letting it lie idle, Butler concluded. "I know of no better paying safe investment than U. S. Savings Bonds, and no better way to invest the reserve funds that the prudent farmer must keep accumulating for his own protection."

There will be no farm-to-farm bond selling campaign in Midland County this Fall, Butler said, but farmers are being urged to invest in savings Bonds by voluntary action.

ENJOY YOURSELF —

it's saner than you think

It would be easy to let the breathtaking power, the luxurious ride and the gleaming good looks of a Buick sweep you off your feet.

And once you've sampled the sweet response of Dynaflo Drive*—you feel a big lack in anything else.

But let's be practical about all this.

What does it cost to buy—and to own—this star performer?

The first answer is a look at delivered prices—and most people still are surprised to find that a car which offers so much actually costs so little.

That's true, whether you put the SPECIAL, the SUPER or the superb ROADMASTER against other cars of comparable dimensions. They certainly shine on a first-cost basis.

But this is only half the story, as you'll soon find out on any used-car lot.

Year in, year out, the resale prices of Buicks stay much closer to first cost than the prices of cars with lesser merit.

And among recent models, Buicks with Dynaflo Drive command such a premium that you can almost figure you get this dream drive for free.

So why not let yourself go? Why not walk right into your Buick dealer's now and say, put me down for one of those!

There's no time like the present for showing your good judgment.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail
And Green Nose

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, was walking along by a fence that was new with paint of green. Yes, and the Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, was with him. "We mustn't touch the fence, we mustn't," said the Huffen, "because the paint is wet, it is."
"Sure," said Mugwump, "because all paint is wet at first, and it comes off on you if you touch it."
But soon our friends had stopped by a little hole in the fence where people could look through the hole to see what was on the other side. The Huffen looked, and so did Mugwump. There was nothing on the other side of the fence at all, but—the Huffen chuckled when he looked at Mugwump. Mugwump chuckled now at the sight of the Huffen. They laughed and laughed together, but the Huffen Puffen was thinking: "That boy! That Mugwump! He looks very funny, he does, with green paint now on his nose."

The Huffen laughed to think this thought and Mugwump laughed, and the both of them laughed together. "It sure is funny, it is," said the Huffen.
"Sure," said Mugwump, but he was thinking of the Huffen's nose, and he didn't know that his own nose was green from the green paint where his nose had touched the fence.
Said the Huffen: "I think, I do, that it might be fun to find Daddy Ringtail. He would like to do some laughing with us." And so away they hurried to find Daddy Ringtail, and as soon as they found him, the Huffen said: "Look at Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy! He has a nose of green, he does, all from the green paint on it."

The Huffen laughed some more. Daddy Ringtail laughed out loud to hear him, and so did Mugwump. All of them laughed and laughed and laughed.

"Ah me," Daddy Ringtail said at last. "Huffen Puffen, you have the greenest nose of anybody." And the Huffen did, and hadn't known it, or maybe he wouldn't have laughed so much at Mugwump. Ah me indeed. If people could only see themselves as others see them. Happy day!

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON—

Lyndon B. Johnson Is Texan Most Affected By Results Of Election

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Texan probably most affected by the November 7 congressional elections—except for the defeated Republican Rep. Ben Guillion of Pampa—is Senator Lyndon B. Johnson.

The junior Texas senator has been thrust more into the limelight by the defeat of such Administration stalwarts as Senators Millard Tydings of Maryland and Scott Lucas of Illinois.

Although in the Senate only two years, Johnson already had become chairman of an armed Services subcommittee charged with keeping an eye on defence preparations. The spot is comparable to that in which President Harry Truman first gained national attention.

The defeat of Tydings automatically moves Johnson up to fourth Democratic position on the whole Armed Services Committee. Ahead of him in the 82nd Congress, starting next January 3, will be Senator Russell (D-Ga.) as chairman, Senator Byrd (D-Va.) and Senator Chapman (D-Ky.).

In the defeat of Senator Lucas the Democrats lost their Senate floor leader.

Four senators prominently mentioned for that influential position are Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico, Ernest W. McFarland of Arizona, Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming and Russell.

Arguments have been raised to show that none of these may get the job. Anderson left the cabinet when chances for Truman's reelection in 1948 looked dim, and he differed with the President over the Brannan farm plan. McFarland is not regarded by some to be as militant a leader as the party would like. O'Mahoney views often have differed with those of Southerners, and he is a foe of state ownership of the Tidelands. Russell is from a deep-South state and some think he might not be willing to accept the job; Lucas ran into trouble while trying to speak for the Administration on Legislative matters and at the same time represent a strong two-party state.

Among other possibilities for the job is Texas' Senator Johnson.

On the other side of the Capitol Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas will continue as speaker of the house, but he'll find the job harder.

At the beginning of the present 81st Congress the division was 261 Democrats, 199 Republicans, one

Bermuda Population Increase Disclosed

HAMILTON, BERMUDA—(AP)—Unofficial figures on Bermuda's census completed recently show an increase of 21 per cent in the civilian population over 1939, when the last census was taken. The 1960 census shows a total civilian population of 37,254, an increase of 6,440 over the 1939 count.

The returns indicate a marked trend toward population increases in outlying parishes and a decrease in the city of Hamilton. This is presumably due to the advent in 1946 of motor vehicles in Bermuda for civilian use, making Hamilton accessible from any point on the islands.

THE BULLDOG

Written By The Journalism Class Of Midland High School

THE BARKS

The Midland Bulldogs, still trying to finish high in the district race, tangled with the tough Lamesa Tornados Thursday, November 23. The Bulldogs will be winding up the 1950 3-AA season with this annual Turkey-Day classic at Lamesa.

The Bulldogs will outweigh the Tornados on the line and probably in the backfield, but the Lamesa small line has stood up to such lines at Lubbock and Pampa. To make up for their lack of left, the Tornados maintain a fine passing attack, which has accounted for the larger part of the Lamesa scoring.

Lamesa will also be out to top the Bulldogs because of last season's 34-20 Thanksgiving loss to Midland.

These Bulldogs will be playing their last game against a district foe: Jack Burris, Jimmy O'Neal, L. C. Thomas, Reed Gilmore, Bob Wood, Graham Mackey, Charles Crowley, Dwayne Bush, Bill Medard, Bob Burks, Jerry Culp, David Laverty, Guy Vanderpool, Robert Melton, W. H. Black, Bill Spence, Glenn Baker, Fred Underwood and Bill Grissett.

The Bulldogs still were ranked 15 in Phil Collier's rating of the top class AA teams, even though they met defeat at the hands of the Odessa Bronchos. Ranking in the number 15 spot out of 79 class AA teams is a well-deserved honor for the Bulldogs.

The "B" Bulldogs tangled with the Big Spring "B" Steers at the home of the Steers Saturday, November 25. The Midland Bees blasted the "B" Steers in an earlier tilt at Midland.

Congratulations, freshmen! Midland's vastly improved freshmen have finished their '50 football campaign. The frosh closed with a 53-27 victory over Big Spring. The Dogie freshmen took an earlier victory over Midland, so it was a fine way to end the season for the "C" Bulldogs on a revenge note.

The Junior Classical League, the Latin Club, had just received club pins.

The Junior play, "Meet Me In St. Louis," earned much praise and applause when presented in the Junior High School Auditorium.

The Student Council was planning the first MHS Homecoming, featuring a Midland-Odessa football game and a cafeteria dance. Six weeks test time was nearing again.

Five dollars will be spent for a book to be placed in the library on the Joe Akins shelf.

Well received were the presentation by the student actors of "Minor Miracles," "My Cousin From Sweden" and "This Night Shall Pass."

The actors were students in the high school speech department.

The Queen, her attendants, and their escorts will be honored at the annual Queen Coronation to be held Feb. 9, 1951.

Lubbock Presents Assembly

At 10 o'clock on the morning of November 15, Lubbock High School presented the first 1950 District 3-AA Exchange Assembly to MHS. Terry Young, President of LHS student body, serving as master of ceremonies, opened the program by introducing the pianist, Gerre Hancock, who accompanied all the singers and dancers throughout the program.

Gloria Snell, Iris Brunson, and June Franklin sang and danced to "If You Knew Susy."

Officers Presented: Introductions of school officers included Terry Young, president; Melvin Deardoff, vice president; and Lola Anderson, secretary.

Joyce Smith sang a solo, "Bonaparte's Retreat." Travis Hammer and Faye Crawley followed with a duet of "Tea For Two." A tap dance in the background featured Ann Schnell and Shirley Smith.

Travis Bain, accompanied by Janis Snodgrass on the accordion, whistled "Indian Love Call." Barbara Sander followed with a short talk.

A solo, "It Had To Be You," featured Faye Crawley. Next on the program was a quartet including Travis Hammer, Clarence Whiteside, Tommy Raney, and Terry Hancock, singing "The Girl That I Marry."

Travis Hammer next sang "Mona Lisa" which was followed by a short speech by Terry Young telling about the Lubbock High School customs and alma mater, and inviting all MHS students to the Lubbock-Midland game and a sock hop.

All of the cast assembled to sing "Play A Simple Melody" and then ended the program with the Lubbock Alma Mater.

An assembly group from MHS will go to Lubbock on November 30 to present a program there.

Jere Bass Departs From Midland High

Jere Bass, well-known English instructor of MHS, is well on his way to Trenton, Tenn.

Bass left on the 10:30 a.m. plane Saturday for a 10-day visit with his parents before rejoining the Midland group in Abilene November 29.

He taught in MHS approximately 16 months before his induction into the Army.

Jere Bass was honored at a "farewell coffee" held in the Home Economics Dining Room, Thursday, November 16.

The hostess, Lucille Wilkinson, served coffee and donuts to the guests, consisting of faculty members.

The students of MHS want to extend their sincere wishes for a speedy return.

Library News

This week the library is "sporting" a new typewriter. This typewriter is especially convenient because it possesses a special library keyboard which includes "foreign accent" marks. It also has provisions for card typing.

The Joe Akin Memorial Book Fund now has the money for three books. Those contributing the money are the Drill Squad, the Gold Jackets, and the Student Council.

Of the new books in the library this week, "Center Court" (Jacobs) will be of particular interest to the girls with its story of a girl tennis champion.

"Oklahoma Kickoff" (Keith) will interest all the football fans and players. In this book, the story of football is told using as a background the University of Oklahoma's social history.

Three Newcomers Extended Welcome

MHS found three new students exploring its corridors last week. Besides being new, these students have something else in common: they are all classified as juniors.

These newcomers are Eloise O'Donnell, who hails from Odessa; Nancy Gail Cooper, whose previous alma mater was Plainview; and James McClatchy, a former Wink student.

Midland High extends its heartfelt welcome to these new MHS'ers.

Take Care Of MHS

To make MHS perfect in every phase has always been the dream of everyone, students and faculty. When any piece of property is damaged or destroyed, the school is just that far from its goal.

The library makes up one of the most important parts of our school and is always a center of activity. The books in the library are there for student use and when someone defaces or destroys a book or magazine, he is hurting himself as well as anyone else. If certain library privileges are taken away, it won't be so easy to get that special report you were assigned or read that story you've heard so much about.

Let's not only take care of the books and magazines in the library, but every piece of property at school; and make MHS the most beautiful, most admired and most perfect high school in Texas.

At Last It's Here

The 1950-51 MHS Student Directory and Hand Book is now on sale. The directory and handbook, previously two separate booklets, have been combined in one 36-page booklet, which can be purchased from any member of the Student Council for 25 cents.

This booklet contains information which is both useful and necessary. The handbook division contains graduation requirements, rules of good sportsmanship, regulations of the school program, honor roll requirements, rules for the pupils, and the school motto, colors, and songs. The Board of Education and Administrative Officers are also listed.

The directory division contains the classification, name, address, and phone number of each student in MHS. Each year the Student Council gathers and compiles the information for the booklet.

Emily Hamilton was chairman of the committee in charge of the directory and handbook. Fern Claybrook, Patty Hammond, Beverly Keisling, Martha Stone, and Sue Johnson typed and proofread the booklet for publication. Principal Mathews approved it and made the necessary changes.

Be sure and purchase your directory.

Gym Echoes' Cheer 'On Ye Bulldogs!'

"On Ye Bulldogs, On Ye Bulldogs, On to Victory" resounded through the gym at the high school, Monday afternoon during a special pep rally. The yells and cheers echoing from the stands proved that Midland High School is still behind their football team 100 per cent!

"What's the good word?" called the cheerleaders. "Beat Lubbock! Beat the Westerners!" came back the joyful answer. Then Principal Charles Mathews came to the microphone.

"Everyone of the boys on the A team that is going to romp over Lubbock Friday, get to your feet!" he said. As a single body, without a moment's hesitation, the entire team rose to their feet, smiles spreading over their faces as the applause and cheers boomed forth. Principal Mathews next addressed the student body.

"Everyone of you who are going with me Friday to see our boys whip Lubbock, stand up!" he said. Practically the entire student body surged to their feet, yelling, cheering, and clapping.

Yes, Bulldogs, the entire school is backing you, 100 per cent. We will always be there to cheer you on, to watch you "beat the tar" out of your opponents. Let's go get 'em, Bulldogs. We aren't out of the running yet, by a long shot! Prove your stuff. Show 'em that Midland has the best team in the state of Texas, no matter what the odds!

Family Relations Class Gives Report

"Persons who plan to adopt a child have to be 21 years older than the child. They also must present a letter of recommendation from a doctor and preacher." These were points brought out in a report given in the Family Relations class by Jeanie Bunt and Sue King.

Other reports given were: uniform marriage and divorce laws by Aubrey Whiteaker and Annie Lee Everett; installment plan by Beverly Keisling; checking account by Glenda Hamblton; lay away plan by Annell Kinard; laws related to the family by Delores Cain and Delores Wilson; and how to make a will by Peggy Lucas and Earline Hancock.

Judge Keith is to be guest speaker in the Family Relations Class, November 21. He will answer any questions that the girls might ask on the above topics.

At A Glance

The MHS teachers, who literally fought off raging fans, to protect the referees at the Midland-Odessa game, were nothing less than heroic. It was unanimously agreed by the Midland coaches that the officials were competent and fair. It seems that some fans lost money in bets on the game and were trying to take it out on the referees.

An Art Exhibit began on November 15 and will last until November 22 in the MHS cafeteria. Originals of contemporary American painting and nineteenth century French and English originals are on display. The public is invited.

The MHS Band staged a 40-minute musical program in a regular assembly Wednesday.

Last Thursday night, November 9, the Band Aldes voted to buy a tape recorder for the band. It will cost $278.50.

Pep Rally Held To Boost Team

On Thursday, November 16, MHS held its pre-Lubbock tilt pep rally in the high school gymnasium. The purpose of the rally was to prepare the student body for the game and to boost the morale of the team after the previous week's defeat.

To the thunderous roar of cheers and the MHS fight song, "On Ye Bulldogs," a team of Midland boys learned that their school always is backing them, win or lose. Cheerleaders Toya Chappie, Corky Moss, Larry Mayfield and Maxine Hill led yells throughout the rally. Bulldogs, Bob Burks and Bill Medard made short talks on the team's feelings about the game. Coach (Red) Rutledge gave an account of the Lubbock team.

The pep rally closed with the singing of the "Alma Mater." Eddie Erdelatz, Navy's new head coach, scouted a game for Coach Earl Black of Army when the latter was coaching at Dartmouth.

The result seems to be the portrait of a soft, substantial citizen who might well be the embodiment of Republican conservatism.

Club News

Yates Brown, president; Jimmy Lock, vice president; Joanne Hunsada, secretary; and Mary Schneider, reporter, are the new officers for the Distributive Education Club.

The "M" Club, composed of the lettermen of MHS, have made plans for a hay ride and weiner roast for December 2. Duane Bush, president, appointed Reed Gilmore, Jack Burris, Jimmy O'Neal, and L. C. Thomas as a committee to arrange for food, entertainment, and transportation.

Shirley Pulliam has been elected president of the Charn and Personality Club. Other officers included Patsy Pyle, vice president; Roxie Smith, secretary; Leora Crawford, treasurer; and Barbara King, reporter.

This club was organized to improve its members in personality, mental attitude and appearance, by reading newspaper articles and having guest speakers.

Ranch-Style House Bids For All-American Title

The one-story ranch-style house seems the strongest bidder for the title of All-American Home of the 1960s.

More than half of the homes being built in the nation are of spread-out one-story design, according to a survey by a leading home magazine.

First favored in the West, the ranch-style house rapidly has become popular in all parts of the country. It even competes with more traditional styles in New England.

The one-story house is the typical new home of the New York metropolitan area. It is shown by the latest study of the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics. This report covers homes started in the last quarter of 1949.

More Window Space

Most types of new homes have lots of window space. A majority of new homes have porches or patios. The porches usually are at the rear or to one side of the house.

Frame houses continue to be the most popular, with four out of five new homes having that construction. Asbestos-cement siding shingles are being used on a greatly increased scale as the exterior finish. Builders have found them economical as well as attractive and homebuyers are impressed with their fire-safety and low maintenance features.

Space Better Utilized

Although typical 1950 - model homes are smaller than those of earlier generations, builders say that space is used better nowadays. One modern technique is open planning, which makes a large room do the work of several one-use rooms. Thus, dining rooms often lose out in favor of eating space in the living room and kitchen.

New homes also show strong trends toward inclusion of fireplaces, hobby or recreation rooms, second bathrooms or powder rooms, and dens.

All in all, American homes going up in 1960 put a new accent on full, informal and comfortable living.

Texas Yellow Pine Inventories Drop

HOUSTON—Shipments of Texas yellow pine for the week ended November 4 dropped 0.8 per cent from the preceding week and were down 11.4 per cent from the comparable period last year, according to the current report of comparative samplings from 21 identical Texas mills.

Inventories continued their downward march and J. B. Edens, president of the Texas Lumber Manufacturers Association which releases a weekly barometer report of Texas lumber conditions, pointed out that stocks on hand at the end of the week of November 4 had fallen 1.4 per cent from the preceding week. They were down 40.8 per cent from the comparable period in 1949, he added.

Orders booked, however, continued firm, gaining 7.9 per cent over the week of October 28.

Actual production, the barometer showed, was down 2.3 per cent from the preceding week and 7.2 per cent from the comparable period last year.

Meteorite Search Is Declared Futile

WINSLOW, ARIZ. —(P)— Search for the giant meteorite that fell in Northern Arizona 20,000 to 50,000 years ago can be abandoned, Dr. H. H. Nininger, noted authority on meteorites, believes. The scientist, who owns the meteor crater museum near here, said no huge meteorite exists. He believes it exploded after striking the ground, leaving no single mass of material.

For years scientists have been walking around, over and in the crater looking for the meteor, and, he said, all the while they were actually "walking on it" in the form of metallic dust scattered over the area. His finding is based on a study of the minute meteoric fragments found in and for 100 miles around the 4,150-foot crater.

"These little fragments, some of them only fine dust, are spherical," he said. "This indicates they condensed from vapor—which in turn would indicate the meteorite exploded, creating the crater."

Dr. Nininger said the mass that struck the earth undoubtedly weighed several thousand tons, but he discounted previous beliefs it may have been nearly a mile in diameter. His estimate is closer to 150 feet.

A recent translated paper on a meteor that fell in Siberia in 1947 indicates the same thing happened there, Dr. Nininger said, and added any meteorite more than 10 feet in diameter would probably explode upon striking the earth. Meteor crater is a major tourist attraction in northern Arizona.

Resident Of Malay Sleeps With Python

MUAR, MALAYA —(P)— Hasnah, a 21-year-old married Malay woman sleeps with a 21-foot, 137-pound python every Thursday night—the Moslem sabbath. She does this because she thinks the python is the reincarnation of her mother-in-law.

Tuan Haji Yunos, her husband, said he dreamed three days after his mother's death that she had come to the house in the form of a python. Then the python came. Hasnah and the python seem to get along well. But the big snake's appetite is enormous. It consumes seven pounds of meat every morning and evening.

HOME OWNERS QUESTION BOX

Q—How should window screens be prepared for winter storage?

A—Brush the wire netting to remove any dirt collected in the mesh. A coat of paint should be applied to rusty screening, but brush off the rust before putting on the paint. Use a special screen paint or a regular exterior paint thinned with turpentine or linseed oil to prevent the paint from filling the mesh.

Q—What should be done if a tabletop, too close to an open window, becomes splashed with rain?

A—First, the moisture should be mopped up with a clean cloth or chamois. Then, as soon as the surface is thoroughly dry, furniture cream should be applied liberally, rubbed in, and the surplus wiped off.

Q—What color should I make my roof to blend with gray shingles and yellow window shutters?

A—There are numerous solid or blended colors of asphalt shingles which you might like. It all depends on your personal taste. However, you are approaching the problem backwards. Because the roof is so large and prominent, the asphalt shingle color should be selected first, and all other colors should be picked to harmonize with the roof.

Q—How can a sticking drawer be made to work easily?

A—If the sticking is not too serious, it can be remedied by rubbing wax along the top edges. If this fails, pull the drawer out and sand the edges a trifle.

Q—What kind of enamel is best for stoves and stove pipes?

A—Stoves, stove pipes and other metal objects that are subject to excessive heat can be refinished with a special, heat-resistant enamel. While designed to withstand rather high temperatures, it will not last long on surfaces which become red hot. Caution: Do not apply the finish while the surface is hot.

State Shows Big Increase Of Gas In Home Heating

The number of Texas homes equipped with gas heat increased by 75,289 during the last year, a report by the state's utility firms points out.

About 75,866 more homes will get gas heat in the next year if heating materials continue to be available by the end of 1961, the report continues. This increase of 16 per cent in homes with gas heating over the two-year period is the result of the rapid expansion of natural gas pipe lines on which $73,607,000 has been spent in the state since 1946.

Pipe lines and storage facilities, authorized by the Federal Power Commission in Texas and adjoining states since V-J Day, have brought natural gas into Texas in such greatly increased volume that many more thousands of homes and major industries now have the advantage of the low-cost fuel. Many large and small communities have been aided.

This new natural gas construction is part of a nationwide expansion program, in the course of which the gas utility industry has spent three billion dollars since August, 1945. There now are almost 300,000 miles of pipe line in service in the United States, delivering energy for manufacturing and house-hold uses at an annual rate exceeding four thousand billion cubic feet.

Because supply still does not meet demand, the gas utilities plan still further expansion through 1964. Of the approximately $3,140,000,000 to be spent in the coming five-year period, about $2,750,000,000 will be used by the natural gas industry.

"MAD WOMAN" TO ISRAEL

TEL AVIV — (P) — Giraudoux' "Mad Woman of Chailiot" now is being performed by the Hebrew Worker's theatre "Ohel" in Tel Aviv. Excerpts were broadcast. The play, one critic wrote, "had been confusing audiences in Europe and America for several years and will probably confuse Israel audiences as well . . ."

PILGRIM GEESSE

DES MOINES —(P)— A flock of blue-blooded geese—their ancestors came over on the Mayflower—is owned by Louis Betz of Elberon. The birds are called "Pilgrims" after the people who brought them to this country in 1620. They are smaller than the Emden and Toulon breeds later imported from France and Germany. The Pilgrim breed became nearly extinct until an eastern goose fancier started breeding them.

RECTANGULAR PLAN—Rectangular lines and an uncomplicated plan make this house economical to construct. It contains two bedrooms, bath, utility room, kitchen, combination living room and dining area, and four closets. The rooms are conveniently located in this 836-square foot house. The gable roof has a wide over-hang front and rear.

Cluttered Kitchen Usually Traceable To Lack Of Storage

If your kitchen becomes cluttered and you spend undue time keeping it orderly, the fault probably lies in the kitchen itself, rather than in you or your work habits. Even the most efficient homemaker can't function smoothly if her kitchen "lets her down" because of inadequate or badly located storage space.

Extra storage for the extra supplies needed by today's homemakers can be provided in almost any kitchen, points out a Title Council of America home modernization report. Here are some of its suggestions:

1. An addition shelf built in below present wall cabinets will take care of spices, juice glasses and even small cans. Only 15 inches of space is needed between wall cabinets and the workspace under them, so don't let additional area go to waste if you can use it in this way.

2. If your kitchen sink has a drainboard at only one side, consider building a base cabinet at the other. Finishing the cabinet countertop with a waterproof material such as clay tile will provide a work surface which can be cleaned and won't be damaged by hot dishes.

3. The space beneath the sink can be turned into valuable storage space. Don't just hide it with a "skirt," but instead have it boxed in so that you can build two or three shelves in the enclosed area.

4. A floor to ceiling cupboard can be built into as little as a foot of waste space beside the kitchen range. It's wise to finish the side next to the range with fireproof clay tile, which won't be damaged by high temperatures.

5. A table on wheels or casters will simplify meal preparation in a poorly arranged kitchen. You can assemble materials on it, use it as work surface and later wheel supplies back to their storage spot.

6. If there is really no space for extra cupboards and cabinets, you can relieve congestion by storing in the basement or garage such little-used equipment as the roasting pan for the Thanksgiving turkey.

7. Keep supplies to a working minimum.

8. Rearrange equipment and supplies so that all items are near the point of first use and can be returned quickly to their right place.
