Million Reds Swarm Over North Korea

UN Gets Plan For Peace

LAKE SUCCESS—(AP)—India's Sir Benegal Rau Tuesday laid before the United Nations a plan designed to halt the fighting in Korea and resolve other Far Eastern problems.

In presenting the plan for a group of Asian and Middle East countries, Rau said he was convinced from his talks with Chinese Communist Envoy Wu Hsiu-Chuan the Peiping government wants peace. He warned, however, that the Chinese people seem to be moving toward a sort of Monroe (hands off) Doctrine for the Far East.

Rau proposed the Chinese Reds be given a direct voice in settling outstanding Asian problems after the basis for a ceasefire in Korea is worked out. The Middle East-Asian plan was embodied in two resolutions worked out in a series of closed-door conferences just before the political committee met Tuesday morning. Rau asked for top priority consideration of the proposals.

The committee overrode Soviet opposition and decided to begin debate at once on the new proposals. The vote was 48 to 5 (Soviet bloc) with four abstentions. Ecuador, Turkey, Thailand and Nationalist China abstained.

Kline Says U. S. Must Stay Prepared To Fight For Long Time

DALLAS—(AP)—Alan B. Kline, head of the powerful American Farm Bureau Federation, said Tuesday the U. S. must be ready to fight for many years.

The Vinton, Iowa, hog farmer, in his lengthy annual report to the farmers' convention, dwelt on the relation of farming, war and inflation. He stressed his belief production and not price controls is the answer to inflation.

Kline also urged more taxes. He said, "We must increase production and efficiency, but most important of all in this struggle with inflation, we must pay the bill. This means taxes. The cost of the war is paid by the people in any case. The choice is—shall we pay it with taxes or shall we pay it with inflation?"

Shivers Warns Of 'Fuel Dictator'

HOUSTON—(AP)—Texas Gov. Allan Shivers Tuesday said certain federal officials are seeking to establish a "fuel dictator" to regulate uses of oil and gas.

New Baptist Church Building Fund Drive At Two-Thirds Mark

The $500,000 building campaign of the First Baptist Church has topped the two-thirds mark.

Clinton Myrick, general campaign chairman, reported at a report dinner at the church Monday night that $342,971 already has been subscribed.

With 69 per cent of the funds assured, campaign leaders said they hoped to announce final victory at the next report dinner at 8:30 p.m. Friday in the church recreation hall.

TALLEY, PROMINENT OIL MAN, DIES IN DALLAS
DALLAS—(AP)—Ralph Talley, 62, of Dallas, widely known in Southwest oil circles, died Tuesday. He had been superintendent of the land department of Magnolia Petroleum Company since 1923.

MARINES ESCAPE FROM TRAP—The first truckload of U. S. Marines rolls into city of Hungnam, on east coast of North Korea, after fighting their way out of Chinese trap at the Chosin Reservoir. They came 50 tortuous miles through Chinese-infested mountains to safety.

Appeal Made For Funds To Fight Cancer

An appeal for financial assistance in fighting cancer in this area came Tuesday following the organization Monday night of the Midland Memorial Hospital Cancer Clinic Foundation.

Jack Wicker, Midland banker, was named chairman of the board of trustees of the organization which will handle the funds for the newly-established cancer clinic.

"Any funds we receive," said a spokesman for the foundation, "will be used to furnish necessary tools for the doctors and to help pay for treatment of charity cases."

"The doctors themselves will give their services without charge. This is a vital program in this community and we need further assistance."

"We raised some funds Monday night but still don't have enough to assure even the most essential equipment needed for the success of the clinic."

Fifty Midland citizens were on hand for the organization of the foundation and they heard a discussion of cancer, presented by J. Louis Neff, Houston, director of the Texas division of the American Cancer Society.

Neff also presented a movie "From One Cell," dealing with the cancer problem.

Present, too, at the meeting were Dr. C. B. Britt, chief of the Midland Memorial Hospital medical staff, and the doctors who will operate the clinic under the direction of Dr. Kurt Lekisgh.

M. L. McGee presided at the meeting while H. Winston Hull, former district chairman of the Texas division of the cancer society, introduced Neff.

Serving with Wicker on the board of trustees are McGee, Hull, Mrs. J. L. Crump, J. Harvey Herd, Gerald Fitzgerald and Dr. Lekisgh.

Survivors include the widow; the parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McDonald of Arlington, Va.; a brother, Vernon R. McDonald of New Orleans, and a sister, Mrs. James Martin of Jackson, Miss.

Marines' Casualty Figure Scaled Down

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Marine Headquarters Tuesday scaled down its estimates of the casualties suffered by the First Marine division in breaking out of the Chinese Communist trap in the Changjin Reservoir area of Korea.

The Marines put the figure at 3,000 to 3,300 and said the number includes those disabled by sickness and exposure to winter weather.

Actual battle losses—in killed, and missing—were estimated at about half the total.

Headquarters supplied the new casualty toll after Marine officials had given varying estimates on the basis of a field report. This report said the division's three infantry regiments were only at 70 per cent strength after the 10-day battle.

The first estimates ranged up to 6,500 and were calculated, in part, on the assumption that other units had suffered about the same losses as the infantry groups.

The revised figure would make the total casualties roughly equal to the World War II Marine losses in the 70-hour battle for Tarawa. The Tarawa toll is limited, however, to actual battle casualties.

Record Christmas Mail Predicted

Monday was by far the heaviest day for parcel mailing thus far this season, Postmaster N. G. Oates announced Tuesday, and it was the biggest day the Midland Post Office ever has shown this early in the Christmas mailing season.

Although the letter and Christmas card handle was not extra heavy Monday, Oates related that 31,000 pieces were handled, which is about 10,000 above a normal day. Oates credited the rise directly to greeting cards. Through December 8, the Midland office had canceled 33,000 more cards and letters during the month than it had at the same time last year.

"The increase in the number of parcels being mailed now can mean one of two things," Oates said, "either that folks are mailing their packages earlier than usual or there will be a big rise in the number of parcels."

"If people are mailing their packages earlier, it will mean quicker service and better handling. If the early spurt of parcel mailing indicates a bigger load, this will easily be the biggest season Midland has ever had and our facilities will be heavily burdened."

December 19 was the Midland office's biggest day last year in the letter-card department. Over 66,000 pieces of mail were posted then, and Oates expects that mark to fall before the current rush subsides.

House Group Sets Hearing In Midland

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The House Agriculture subcommittee will hold a hearing in Midland, Texas, December 18 on migratory labor, Chairman Bob Poage (D-Texas) announced.

The committee is trying to determine if a law is needed to improve the farm labor program.

Rep. Ken Rogan (D-Texas) plans to take part in the hearing. All interested persons are invited.

Poage was enroute to Dallas Tuesday to address the Farm Bureau Wednesday.

No direct information from Washington concerning the subcommittee hearing had been received here Tuesday. It had been announced Monday that Midland was being considered as a site for the meeting.

It is expected that discussions will center around the effect of the wage and hour law on cotton picking.

Farm operators from a wide West Texas area are expected to be on hand to testify at the hearing.

Clear Skies Promise No Relief To Texans Fighting Grass Fires

By The Associated Press
Clear skies Tuesday promised no relief to weary Texans fighting a scourge of grass and brush fires which threaten to continue until general rains dampen scorched fields and pastures throughout the state.

Two persons died Monday from the raging flames and the Central Texas city of Keene was saved after it was half encircled by wind-fed blazes.

As firemen and volunteers fight the fires, officers are investigating reports that at least some of the blazes were set by arsonists.

The fire victims were: Mrs. Etta Hennington, 90, who was too terrified to flee and died in a prairie fire that burned down the shed in which she took refuge in the Burke community south of Lufkin.

Mrs. R. B. Harper, 46, of Beaumont, who died Monday of burns suffered Sunday while she fought a grass fire near Bessamy.

Man Is Trapped
A San Antonio man, Paul Estrella, 72, was trapped Sunday when fire destroyed his small home in an outbreak of fires that swept the San Antonio area over the weekend.

An unidentified Baytown fireman received serious burns Monday.

Most Of UN Forces Driven Out Of North

TOKYO—(AP)—Some 27 Chinese Communist divisions—including 8,000 to 14,000 fierce Mongolian cavalrymen—Tuesday pressed menacing feelers toward South Korea after driving the bulk of the United Nations forces from the north.

Shaggy little Mongolian ponies and supply caravans of two-humped camels such as the medieval conqueror Genghis Khan used centuries ago gave bizarre but effective mobility to the vanguard of Red China's 1,900,000-man force as it streamed unopposed over almost all of North Korea.

In the West, the bulk of the Allied Eighth Army had withdrawn to parallel 38, the old boundary between North and South Korea. In the Northeast, most of the U. S. 10th Corps was huddled on the Hamhung coastal plain. This force was 130 air miles deep in Red Korea, but it was surrounded by Communist forces and the road south was blocked. At the nearby port of Hungnam, a UN fleet was standing by in readiness to evacuate the encircled 10th Corps.

An American Army Regiment, the Seventh Division's 17th that once stood on the Manchurian border, was somewhere in the frozen wasteland and presumably withdrawing toward Hungnam. Its movements were shrouded for security reasons.

So, too, were the positions of two South Korean divisions, the Third and Capital. At full strength they would total about 30,000 men. They had struck along the Northeast coast within 40 miles of Soviet Siberia when masses of Red Chinese turned the tide and the order was given to withdraw.

C. Of C. Plan For Voting Is Adopted

Members of the Midland Chamber of Commerce Tuesday noon voted to amend the by-laws of the organization to provide for the election of directors by ballot of the membership at large.

The action was taken at a special membership meeting held in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer. President Robert L. Wood presided.

The by-laws change was the first voted by the Chamber members in a number of years. It does away with the old method of electing directors by voice vote of members attending the annual membership banquet in January of each year.

The proposed change in by-laws was presented by Tom Sealy, a member of a special committee, which also included R. D. (Bob) Scruggs, chairman, John P. Butler and Bill Collins. Directors, at their November meeting, had agreed to submit the proposal to the membership for adoption or rejection. The Chamber has 40 directors.

Under the new procedure, one-third of the directors will be elected each year for three-year terms. The retiring board members will serve as a nominating committee which will nominate 26 persons whose names will be submitted to the membership by mail not later than December 28, each year. Members will be instructed to vote for 13 of the nominees, or to write in the names of such other members as they desire.

The ballots will be returned to the Chamber of Commerce, postmarked not later than January 4, each year. A committee of three will be named to tabulate the votes not later than January 12. The 13 nominees receiving the greatest number of votes shall be declared elected as directors.

Officers for the ensuing year will be elected by the new Board of Directors prior to the annual membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

The outgoing president will serve as vice president for the ensuing year.

Musical Program
It was pointed out that the new method is much more democratic and affords all members of the organization the opportunity of electing directors.

A special musical program was presented at the Tuesday luncheon. Mrs. L. S. Meiser and Nancy Webb sang several Christmas selections, accompanied by Mrs. Delbert Downing.

Chamber Manager Delbert Downing outlined plans for the annual C. of C. banquet to be held the fourth Tuesday in January.

RAYMOND ROCHELLE DIES
DALLAS—(AP)—Raymond Casper Rochelle, 60, Dallas oil man, died Tuesday. He had handled independent oil interests and was manager of the oil department of the Leland Fikes interests.

H-SU Proxy To Be All-Civic Speaker
Dr. Rupert Richardson of Abilene, president of Hardin-Simmons University and one of the Southwest's best known educators, will address the annual all-civic luncheon of the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce Friday noon in Hotel Scharbauer.

The function is a major event of the community-wide, Jaycee-sponsored Christmas activities program. Members of all civic and service organizations of the city are invited and urged to attend the Christmas luncheon.

Witness Disputes Rosenberg Report
WASHINGTON—(AP)—A key witness said Tuesday he had disputed a report that Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg, assistant secretary of defense, attended Communist meetings 15 years ago.

James McGraw of New York City told a reporter after he left a closed session of the Senate Armed Services Committee: "I don't know Mrs. Rosenberg. I've never seen her in my life." McGraw was one of a group of witnesses called by the committee in its probe of charges that Mrs. Rosenberg had attended Communist meetings or was sympathetic to subversive groups. She had denied all these charges.

Price Daniel Asks Group To Continue Tidelands Battle

MIAMI, Fla. —(AP)—Texas Attorney General Price Daniel urged the National Association of Attorneys General here Tuesday to continue its fight for state ownership of Tidelands.

The Texan was the principal speaker at the association laid the Tidelands question out for official action.

For the last five years the association has sponsored state ownership legislation in Congress. It was passed in 1946 but vetoed by President Truman.

The session followed Monday's ruling of the U. S. Supreme Court that Texas and Louisiana must account for oil royalties obtained from submerged lands since June 5. It enjoined them from using the Tidelands without federal government permission.

Texas and Louisiana officials announced plans to work for congressional action restoring state ownership of Tidelands.

They were joined by Attorney General Hall Hammond of Maryland. He told the 4th annual convention here to "press for the successful passage of legislation which will restore to the states what is rightfully theirs and to this extent reverse the trend of civilization and complete federalization."

IN HOLLYWOOD

Here's What Hollywood Stars Should Get From Santa Claus

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD— Mr. S. Claus, No. 1 North Pole Ave., Arctic Circle, Dead Center. Dear Nick:

Johnson, the humanitarian, is here again. Again I'd like to help you out by giving you the low down on what the boys and girls on my block want for Christmas. But first a word of warning. During the war years I tipped you off about the dangers to expect when you arrived in Hollywood — head waiters, barrage balloons, a black market in reindeer food, etc.

Now there's an even bigger danger — television. Drive carefully, Nick, or you and your reindeer will get all tangled up on somebody's roof. Also, you better wear a green suit this year. Now for the gifts for the kids:

BING CROSBY: A chance to destroy all records and sheet music of "It Is True What They Say About Dixie?"

Santa and the COWBOY

By LUCRECE HUDGINS

SYNOPSIS: George Sanders, 7, also known as "Kid Buckaroo, Terror of the West," lies on the bank of Snow Bird in Santa Land, intending to help Santa subdue troublesome Indians there. After many adventures Bucky comes within sight of Santa Land.

CHAPTER SIX BAD TIMES IN SANTA LAND

MEANWHILE, strange and awful things had been happening in Santa Land.

On this particular night Mrs. Claus woke from a deep sleep. "Santa! Santa!" she cried, shaking Santa's bed. "There's something bothering the reindeer. Listen!"

Santa, instantly wide awake, sat up and listened. He heard a mad tramping in the stable. Santa pulled on his boots and coat and raced from the house. Lights went on all over Santa Land. All the little workers, wakened by the noise, poured from their beds and still in their pajamas and nightgowns.

Marlowe, the sledmaker, ran by Santa's side.

"What do you think it is?" he panted.

"Don't know," said Santa. "The your bathrobe around you. We can't all be getting colds just before Christmas."

At the stables they found the reindeer skittering around their stalls, rolling their eyes with fright, and pounding the floor with their hooves. While the brownie lit lanterns, Santa went to the deer, talking gently, soothing them.

"Don't see anything the matter," said Pudding. "Guess the wind frightened them."

Suddenly there was a cry from the far end of the barn. Dewey, the whistle-maker, burst from a stall and shouted: "Dasher has gone! Our very best deer has gone!"

The little folk rushed to the stall. It was empty. They hunted through the barn and the stable yard. Dasher was nowhere to be found. Santa stood silent and serious. The workers gathered around him crying, "Jindians again!"

And the workers shook with fright. For weeks the Jindians had been annoying the Santa Land workers.

"Santa! Santa!" cried Mrs. Claus. "There's something bothering the reindeer."

Now you are wondering what the Jindians are. Everyone knows that all the Indians today are good and friendly people. Well, the Jindians are the Indians who stayed warlike when the other Indians became our friends. They moved further and further north until they reached the North Pole and of course must visit the far north lands to see them.

They changed their name to Jindians so people wouldn't get them mixed up with Indians and think they were friendly.

The Jindians were very angry with Santa Claus. The Jindians said they just naturally hated good people. But the true reason was because Santa never brought them anything for Christmas. "So," said Jindian Chief Hurricane, "we fix so nobody get Christmas."

They crept into Santa Land and stole food and toys. They threw snowballs at the workers.

They had war dances and scared the little folk half to death with their whooping. But never before tonight had they done anything so serious as steal one of Santa's reindeer.

Santa left the stables and returned to his cottage. Suddenly his fairies and brownies shouted and screamed and ran after him. "Got one! I got one of the Jindians," gasped Patrick Tweedlekins, the oldest dwarf in Santa Land. He was hauling along by the collar a trembling creature, dirty and red eyed.

"And what a shabby, shaking, shameful looking Jindian he is!" jeered Tweedlekins.

"Stop, stop!" cried Santa. He went up to the captive and peered at him closely.

"Who are you?" he asked.

"Sir — s-sir," mumbled the wretched one. "I am Kid Buckaroo, Terror of the West."

Rummel Talked With Subpoenaed Officer Shortly Before Death

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)—A few hours before he was slain, Sam Rummel, for years gambler Mickey Cohen's attorney, conferred secretly with a sheriff's officer subpoenaed in a grand jury inquiry into gambling protection payoffs, police disclosed Tuesday.

Deputy Police Chief Thad Brown said Rummel talked Sunday night in his office with Sheriff's Capt. Carl H. Pearson, under subpoena to appear before the county grand jury Tuesday, and a deputy, Lawrence C. Schaffer.

Rummel, 44, was killed by a shotgun blast fired from ambush as he entered the grounds of his home in the exclusive Laurel Canyon District early Monday.

Pearson, head of the sheriff's vice squad until transferred to the records section last August 5, told Brown he and Schaffer talked with Rummel for more than an hour about legal matters involving the grand jury investigation.

The inquiry includes the tangled Guarantee Finance Company case. The firm was disclosed early this year as a huge bookmaking "front."

Eight of its officials and employees have appealed convictions on gambling law violations.

Under Investigation

The company's affairs, including alleged protection, have been under investigation by the grand jury, the California Crime Commission and the U. S. Senate Crime Investigating Committee, which rapped the sheriff's office for its handling of the case.

Brown said he had no information tying Rummel with the case.

However, in a statement to Brown, Pearson said Rummel telephoned him Sunday, asking him to bring to his office Schaffer and the records Pearson compiled on the Guarantee Finance Company.

Pearson told Brown his conference with Rummel ended about 10:40 p.m. and Rummel said he was going home.

Cohen, questioned for hours concerning the slaying, appeared nervous. He had reason to be. It was his third close associate slain in three years. Harry (Hooky) Rothman was killed in Cohen's haberdashery in 1948. And Edward (Neddie) Herbert was wounded fatally in a cafe ambush last year when Cohen was shot in the shoulder.

Water Project Hopes Are High

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Texas Mayor Clarence Whiteside of Lubbock, Mayor Gene Klein of Amarillo; City Manager A. A. Meredith and Joe Cooley of Borger were in the group.

They talked with Senators Lyndon Johnson, Tom Connally and Dennis Chavez. The New Mexico senator was reported satisfied with the compact. He previously had opposed the project as inimical to New Mexico's interests.

Secretary of Interior Chapman and Reclamation Commissioner Michael Straus were on the Texas' calling list Monday. Baxter said it has not been decided when an effort would be made to call up the bill in the Senate. The House already has approved it.

The bill provides for a $27,000,000 dam, and $54,000 aqueduct.

Leaders Say Solons Hold Tidelands Hope

NEW ORLEANS —(AP)—Louisiana officials believe the only hopes of Louisiana and Texas retaining control of their Tidelands lie in Congress.

Louisiana Attorney General Bolivar Kemp said he believes the new Congress would give the two states a quit claim deed to the Tidelands by a majority vote enough to override a presidential veto.

Kemp said the decree calling for an accounting to June 5 instead of June 23, 1947, would save Louisiana $38,000,000 in back payments.

Farm Bureau Federation Urged To Assume Lead In Drive To Cut Government Spending

DALLAS —(AP)—A college dean suggested to the American Farm Bureau Federation Tuesday that it take the lead in a government-economy drive by relinquishing some of the money Uncle Sam pays to farmers.

This was one of several suggestions by W. I. Myers, dean of the college of agriculture of Cornell University. He was a principal speaker Tuesday at the thirty-second annual federation convention opened at 11 a.m. with Allan B. Kline's annual president's address.

Grandmother Keeps Busy, Feels Good; Takes Hadacol

Keeping up with two small grandchildren as well as doing your housework can keep one woman mighty busy. And Mrs. B. R. Battle, 807 Archer, Houston, Texas, does just that. There was a time when Mrs. Battle didn't feel up to all this, though. She was bothered with stomach disturbances and vague aches and pains. Then she heard the news about HADACOL and began taking it. Now she says she feels fine. Mrs. Battle was suffering a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron which HADACOL contains.

cient systems with extra quantities of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin, but also helpful amounts of important Calcium and Phosphorus—elements so vital to help maintain good health and physical fitness.

Why These Vitamins and Minerals Come in Liquid Form
There's a very good reason why HADACOL comes in special liquid form. These precious Vitamins and Minerals are more easily and quickly absorbed into the blood stream this way—ready to go right to work. A big improvement is often noticed within a few days.

Don't Be A 'Doubting Thomas'
After reading Mrs. Battle's wonderful experience with HADACOL—how can you doubt that this great new nutritional formula will help you if your system lacks Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin?

What HADACOL did for Mrs. Battle, it can do for you if you're troubled with vague aches and pains, certain nervous disturbances, insomnia when due to an upset stomach, stomach distress and a general run-down weakened condition when they are due to deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin.

So what are you waiting for? Don't you see that HADACOL is the kind of product you need—the kind you should buy and the kind you should start taking immediately!

Sold On A Strict Money-Back Guarantee

HADACOL even helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when iron is needed) to course through your body, carrying these great health-building elements to every body organ. No wonder HADACOL helps you feel wonderful.

Be fair to yourself! Give yourself a break if you have such deficiencies! Why continue to drag yourself around—a burden to yourself and your family—when relief may be as close at hand as your nearest drugstore if you suffer a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron. This great HADACOL is inexpensive, too—costs only a small amount a day. Trial size, only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. If your drugstore does not have HADACOL, order it direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana.

'Deal' With China

A successful, effective "deal" with Red China for creation of a buffer state in Korea would be the surprise of the year.

To begin with, United Nations armies on the peninsula are in retreat, with more Korean soil falling to the Chinese invader almost every hour. It must be clear to Mao Tse-tung that under present circumstances we will be hard-pressed to keep him from hurling our forces into the sea. This is hardly an ideal bargaining position.

But even if we held better cards, what is the evidence that Mao would be willing to make a settlement of any value to us?

According to estimates from the front, the Chinese Communists now have committed a million men to the Korean campaign, though only half are as yet actually fighting. The rest are poised on the Manchurian border.

You don't muster a million soldiers against 150,000 if you mean simply to protect a smaller buffer strip near your own territory. For weeks the Chinese leaders have been telling their own people they aim to throw us out of Korea. So far nothing has occurred to cast doubt upon that intention.

The Chinese offensive plainly was premeditated. A million men are not readied for fighting overnight. The basic decision to send them into Korea must have been made a considerable time ago.

European officials who argue that General MacArthur's last offensive provoked the Chinese assault are not facing facts. When that drive was launched, apparently around 250,000 Chinese were already in Korea. What were they doing there if not preparing for their own offensive? Surely they weren't vacationing.

The behavior of the Chinese Reds in UN councils leads you to the same conclusion. General Wu and his colleagues came to Lake Success in no mood of conciliation or good will. Ignoring the long record of western friendship with China, they came to accuse us viciously and irresponsibly of the very crimes they and their Russian masters are committing.

As Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb pointed out last Summer, the Communist do not really view the UN as a peace agency. They regard it as a propaganda mechanism, a front on which they can wage war with words while they are fighting with weapons on the battlefield. Their aim is to confuse, to weaken, to divide and discredit the enemy so he may fight less effectively in the field.

That always has been Russia's game, and Red China's delegation appears wholeheartedly bent upon playing it, too.

Thus, you can search the recent record of Chinese deed and statement in vain for signs that Mao would welcome or even accept a settlement in Korea.

Yet, in spite of this weight of evidence he might astonish us and agree to some sort of terms. Supposing for an instant that those terms were not too unfavorable for us, what hope would we have that they would be long observed by China or Russia?

History has taught us that an agreement with Communists is good only so long as it serves Communist purpose. Often such accords are useful chiefly in lulling us to sleep. If we got a settlement, we'd be stuck with the stigma attaching to appeasement of communism, and would still face the risk of losing later what we'd held through the agreement.

A wiser course would seem to be to make the best fight we can to hold what we have in Korea, without getting so deeply involved that all-out war against China—with all its dangers for the decisive European theater—becomes inevitable.

Just Waking Up Now

Speaking of the wreck-ridden Long Island Railroad, an official of the Interstate Commerce Commission's Bureau of Safety made this statement:

"In my experience this is the first railroad I've encountered where the headway is so close and the traffic so dense at certain times that perhaps it requires special treatment with respect to safety devices."

We don't know how long this official has been with ICC, but offhand his words sound like quite an admission. The Long Island has been in existence a long time. It's been running under pretty much the same heavy traffic conditions for a long time.

The ICC safety bureau has jurisdiction over safety matters on all U. S. lines. What kind of job can it be doing if it is just now becoming aware of the unique traffic problem faced by this busiest of all commuter railroads?

In the light of this showing, Congress might well take a good look at the ICC's safety operations when it considers new funds for the agency next year.

Who remembers when homes were plentiful and the moving man had a load on his mind every day?

This country needs more people who get behind their work and fewer people who just get behind.

What You Might Call Facing A Crisis

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Drew Pearson says: Waldorf bellhops resent Chinese Communists; Trapped Marines are victims of serious military error; New York industrialist strives for better human relations.

WASHINGTON — Bellhops at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York, all World War II vets, are sore as a boll at the big liquor parties thrown by the Chinese Communists in the Waldorf Tower.

One bellhop, on being summoned to the Communist suite, was asked to bring up the newspapers. He loaded himself with the New York Times, New York Mirror and the Herald Tribune and rapped at the door.

Taking one look at the newspapers, the bland Chinese reprimanded: "No, no, not these papers. The Daily Worker."

The bellhop, though seething, inside, just as blandly replied: "Sorry, sir, we can't get it here. You'll have to make your own arrangements."

Trapped Marines Worried Pentagon strategists will only talk about it privately, but one of the most serious military errors of any recent war was responsible for trapping the First Marine Division and the 7th Infantry Regiment, which made their painful, gallant fight out of Hagaru.

The tragic fact is that they never would have been trapped but for three unforgivable military errors.

The first error was lack of liaison between Lt. Gen. Walton Walker, commander of the 8th Army, and Maj. Gen. Edward Almond, commander of the 10th Corps. For some strange reason, known only to MacArthur, these two generals had no battle communication with each other, but had to talk to each other by way of Tokyo some 700 miles away.

Second, both generals had their men racing for the Manchurian border to see which could get there first. Reassured by MacArthur's intelligence that they had nothing to fear from the Chinese, the troops fanned out, instead of driving forward in a strong, compact spearhead.

Furthermore, the 10th Corps under General Almond went racing off toward the north, instead of sticking close to the 8th Army.

French Ambassador Henri Bonnet, acting on instructions from his government, warned U. S. officials against this advance before it started. Specifically, he warned that there were 700 miles of Chinese border toward which MacArthur was headed, along which the Chinese were concentrated.

The British also warned against advancing into this area, and these warnings were relayed to MacArthur by Washington.

U. S. Warning Furthermore, the joint chiefs of staff cabled a reminder to MacArthur that General Almond had no battle communication with General Walker. MacArthur sent back a curt reply that he knew what he was doing.

Result was that the Chinese wisely hit at the vacuum between the 8th Army and the 10th Corps. They also hit between the advancing units of the two armies which were fanned out, not expecting resistance.

During this confusion, General Almond tried to send his Marines to close the gap between him and the 8th Army. But after a brief, bloody battle, they were forced to turn back to the Chosin Reservoir.

Then for some reason, so far not explained, the Marines were allowed to remain at the reservoir for four days, giving the Chinese and opportunity to swarm all around them and cut off escape. The Marines and 7th Infantry could just as well have pulled back toward Hungnam Harbor immediately. But with it necessary to relay orders back and forth to Tokyo, the orders did not come for four whole days.

Note — During this period, MacArthur had time to send five messages to American newspapers explaining why he was not to blame in Korea.

Human Relations You don't usually expect the chairman of a Democratic National Committee dinner to be a philosopher on human relations. Nor do you expect many big businessmen to be working Democrats. But Dwight Palmer, president of the General Cable Company, happens to be chairman of the big Democratic dinner in New York this week, and when he received a letter from an Indian Democrat calling him a nigger-loving, pro-labor Rooseveltian, Palmer wrote back:

"My job is running a company that employs about 7,000 people and we have plants in Perth Amboy and Bayonne, N. J.; Rome, N. Y.; St. Louis, Mo.; Los Angeles and Emeryville, Calif. For a long period of time I have been interested in bettering human relations by opening up jobs and upgrading people, based solely upon merit, regardless of race, creed or color.

"The America of the early days, when the Anglo-Saxon strain dominated everything, is no longer with us. The influx of foreign-born from all parts of the world has made America what it is today. Each racial and religious group brought with it some of the best of its old world talents and ideals. And these all dumped into the melting pot have developed a nation that is strong, democratic and outspoken with all the freedoms that go to make up a true democracy.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service West looked pityingly at the declarer. "My boy," he said sympathetically, "some day you'll learn how to count trumps."

The declarer, our old friend Generous George, murmured polite thanks. But he looked surprisingly pleased with himself for a man who had just forgotten how many trumps were out.

East won the opening spade lead with the ace and led back his low diamond. Generous George won the second trick with the ace of diamonds and then apparently overlooked the fact that there was another trump out against him.

Instead of drawing the last trump, George led to the ace of hearts, cashed the king of hearts, and then ruffed a low heart with the deuce of diamonds. West pounced on this trick with the ten of diamonds, pleased and surprised to win a trick with his "forgotten" trump.

Bridge hand diagram showing North, West, East, and South (D) cards and trump count.

Much to West's disgust, however, George made five diamonds in spite of the way he played the hand. It seemed very unfair to West that a player who didn't count trumps nevertheless held such good cards that he couldn't lose his contract.

After winning with his ten of diamonds, West led back the ten of clubs. Dummy put up the queen. East overtook with the king, and George won with the ace. George then led the three of diamonds to dummy's seven and ruffed a low heart with the king of trumps.

This set up two low hearts in dummy. George then led the four of diamonds to dummy's eight and discarded his remaining clubs on the two established hearts (he had already discarded a low club on the king of hearts). That left declarer with only good trumps in his hand.

West would not believe you if you told him that George knew all about the missing trump. And West would think you were crazy if you told him that his over-ruff had been a fatal play.

If George had drawn two rounds of trumps, only one trump would have been left in dummy. But George needed two trump entries to dummy—one to ruff out East's last heart, and the other to cash the last two hearts in dummy.

When West took a trick with the ten of diamonds, he seemed to be getting a trick for nothing. Actually, he made it possible for Generous George to win two heart tricks in exchange. George is always willing to do business on the basis of two for him and one for the enemy!

If West had refused to over-ruff (a very difficult decision, to be sure), George would have been set. He would eventually lose two tricks in addition to the spade trick taken by the defenders at the very beginning.

PETER EDSON'S Washington News Notebook

Lack Of Staff And Organization Delay Imposition Of Price Controls

WASHINGTON —(NEA)—Main reason given for delay in slapping on price controls has been lack of staff and organization to issue regulations, handle hardship appeals and enforce compliance. Now that Toledo's ex-Mayor Michael V. DiSalle has been named price administrator, things may begin to move faster, with some positive actions early in 1951.

It is admitted that price controls on food, clothing and other cost-of-living items will be difficult to carry out. But one big unanswered question is why can't selective price controls be put on materials which exercise greatest inflationary pressure on the government's own arms buying? Increases in cost of rubber, aluminum, tin, copper and other metals have boosted the cost of an airplane by at least 10 per cent since K-day-start of the war in Korea.

Bureau of Labor Statistics wholesale price index shows that in last year, price of all commodities has advanced 18 per cent. Textiles are up 20 per cent, farm products 19 per cent, chemicals 17 per cent, building materials 15 per cent, petroleum products 10 per cent, metals eight per cent, fuel and power four per cent.

Selective controls applied at wholesale or commodity market levels might freeze prices without too much enforcement difficulty. If effective, they would make government's defense dollar go that much farther. Big catch in this proposal is whether, under the new Defense Production law, wage controls would not have to be applied at the same time in those industries on whose products ceiling prices were set. Government's hands may be effectively tied.

1950 Census Figures Last big nose-counting job before announcing final 1950 census figures has just been completed. It involved sorting out the reports on almost a million people who were away from home when the census takers called. All these ICR—individual census report cards—had to be put back in their correct places before making final count.

Six hundred enumerators worked four months to complete this task. They discovered about 200,000 people for whom duplicate returns had been made. They had been reported by home folks, and also had reported themselves as census takers caught up with them in hotels, hospitals, or on temporary jobs away from home.

Census takers had to visit 46,000, 000 U. S. dwelling units to make the 1950 count. About 12,000,000 people weren't at home on first visit, requiring two or more calls. One enumerator made 11 calls at one home before she was able to catch the occupant. Reason was that this hard-to-find person was also a census taker.

Journalism Loses Recruit Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio has stopped writing his column. He began it as a once-a-week column about a year ago. It was distributed to Ohio newspapers as part of his campaign for reelection to the Senate. Having won, he has dropped the column because he didn't want to keep on competing with the professionals.

Anti-Guerrilla Forces Army's training of anti-guerrilla "ranger" forces will be stepped up as result of Korean war experience. Army now is training four experimental ranger companies at Fort Benning Infantry School, in Georgia. One company of 110 men and five officers ultimately will be attached to every infantry division for advance reconnaissance, demolition, sabotage and guerrilla warfare.

Every man in ranger outfit must be a paratrooper, must pass above-average physical and mental tests and must volunteer for the extra hazardous service. The new training is an extension of U. S. ranger battalion operations of last war, when such outfits as Lt. Gen. Walter Krueger's "Alamo Scouts" in the Pacific, "Gastner's Cutthroats" in Alaska, and the British "Wingate's Raiders" in Burma gained fame by their daring guerrilla tactics against the Japs.

Indiana's Senator Homer Capehart was describing, for the Senate's edification, a political cartoon in which a radio set was blaring forth bad news. He was interrupted by the junior senator from Ohio, Senator John W. Bricker, and this exchange took place:

Mr. Bricker—Will the senator yield?

Mr. Capehart—I am very happy to yield.

Mr. Bricker—I should like the senator to advise whether or not the radio depicted is a Capehart machine?

Mr. Capehart—Now if I may continue—

Mr. Bricker—The purpose of the question was to find out if the reproduction was good.

Mr. Capehart—I shall not answer the able senator from Ohio because, frankly, I am in no frame of mind—

Get Materials Outlook for housing construction is that the peak will begin to be felt next Spring. Fall and Winter are normal times for decline of new building starts. Cut-back orders on aluminum, copper and other metals don't take effect till January 1. But along when the new building season would normally start, plumbing and hardware fixtures using these metals will become scarce and that will slow up construction. Again as in 1942, best advice for those who are planning to build is: Make sure your contractor has all materials in hand before you break ground. Otherwise, count on many delays.

Housing Is Slightly Easier U. S. is slightly better off on housing than it was before the last war. Population peaked in 1940 was 150,000,000 compared to 150,000,000 in 1950 census. Increase is 14 per cent. In same period, number of housing units has advanced 23 per cent from 37,000,000 to an estimated 46,000,000. About 22,000,000 families own, or are buying their own homes. This is twice as many home owners as in 1940.

"Lame Duck" The name "lame duck," applied to present post-election session of Congress, originally was coined by the English around 1740, its earliest recorded use. The name then was applied to anyone who could not meet his financial obligations in the stock market. First recorded U. S. use, according to new "Dictionary of Americanisms" to be published next year, was in Abraham Lincoln's time. The Congressional Globe, now the Congressional Record, applied the term to broken-down, defeated politicians.

Have a Laugh

By BOYCE HOUSE After the Armistice in 1918, a German official said, "The English were fighting because they wanted our colonies in Africa; the French soldiers were fighting because they wanted Alsace and Lorraine—but the American soldiers were fighting because they wanted souvenirs."

Far from new but a favorite of mine: A globe-trotter was holding forth in a hotel lobby about the wondrous countries and strange animals he had beheld. A little man in the corner at last broke in: "Mister, have you ever had delirium tremens?"

"No."

"Then," said the little man, "you ain't never been nowhere nor seen nothing."

So They Say

If the Americans intend to fight in the Far East, you must revive your cavalry. . . I am thinking you have become too mechanized. That may be good in some part of the world. But in the Far East there are places motors cannot go.

—Chinese Gen. Sun Li-jen.

In a defense period, people have just got to be willing to accept a little smaller rate of return on their money. That's part of their contribution to the defense program.

—Treasury Secretary John Snyder.

I have always felt that there were two strikes against me, and that to succeed I had to do a better job than anyone else.

—Sen.-elect John Pastore (D-R.I.), first American of Italian parents to be elected to the Senate.

We must never stop waging the fight for greater productive capacity. The simple fact is that inadequate capacity to make steel puts the brakes on our whole industrial machine and threatens both the national defense and civilian economy.

—Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman.

THE STORY: The spirits of Sgt. Eddie Engstrom's squad, wiped out in battle, are in their own heaven. The only person who can see Eddie is Margie Lon, the girl he fell in love with after he was dead. Eddie, however, sees that a local well, Max Lengert, is trying to make Margie one of his conquests and he is watching Max.

"Now this dope, Ben Greenbush, who went to work on the line tonight," Max was saying, "what are we going to do about him?"

"Ben Greenbush? I know Ben," said one of the others. This man's nickname was Flatface and it fitted because his nose had been smashed back almost to the line from his brow to his chin. He was six foot three in height and three foot six in mentality. He seemed to think that everything Max did was absolutely right.

"Ben and me went to school together until he got promoted. What's wrong with him?"

"Everything," said Max. "He goes in, they tell me, at the same wages I'm getting and I've been here six months, workin' my way up. Where's the justice in that?"

"Ben used to be one of the old hands around here," a fellow smoker explained. "Learned his trade in the bootworks."

"So what? Where's he been all the time I've been slavin' around?"

"Africa and Italy, I've heard."

"YEAH, and now he comes back and puts some guy out of a job who's been here all the time. I might say he puts two guys out of a job because look at the way he works, just like there was a fire in the yards and he had to finish before everything got burned up. Don't take no time off for a smoke or anything."

"I guess he got a pep talk from the boss when he was took back."

"We got to learn him or we'll all have to be like him." Max paused to consider the problem constructively. He dug up an idea. "Maybe he'll be took sick or have an accident. We got to be careful about a speed-up around here. If we should all work fast first thing you know there wouldn't be any reason for overtime and Sundays. We won't make big dough, but workin' regular. Any dumb-sock

Questions and Answers

Q—Is the homing instinct found in lobsters as in birds?

A—Lobsters, like birds and some fish, have a remarkable homing instinct. They will find their way back to their feeding grounds over distances of more than two miles with all sorts of obstacles put in their way.

Q—How many Americans have been elected to the New York University's Hall of Fame?

A—Six new names raise to 83 the number of distinguished citizens to be enshrined there.

can see that. And you guys know what happens every time we finish a rush job to meet a deadline—the next day we get laid off."

"Unfortunately," said Joe to Eddie, "there's just enough truth in that last statement to make the entire argument sound plausible."

"Do you think they're a bunch of saboteurs or something?" Eddie asked anxiously, "workin' for Hitler and the Nips?"

"No," Joe replied, "they're merely slightly low-grade Americans taking a personal and short range view of the situation, blind to the harm they can do."

"Another thing," continued Max. "I've heard that when we get awarded the Army-Navy E tomorrow the management is going to up our pay at the same time. Wouldn't we be suckers to work hard tonight when we can get more for tomorrow? The less we do the more coin we make."

HIS audience laughed appreciatively. All but one. He was troubled. "But we got to be patriotic."

"Sure we got to. I'm a good American, but I have to get paid as much as the next guy."

"The way I figure it," said the only man who stood up to Max, "is the men that made the rules meant everything to be the right thing. They got it right somewhere before they got to us."

"Sure," agreed Max. "It's the way things work out that makes us sore. Take for instance, now that foreman we're workin' under—Herman Blumdhell. He's an apple-polisher if I ever saw one. Just to get in right with the boss he don't care how hard he rides us guys that are doing the lifting around here. I strained my back so bad last night I could hardly sleep."

His friends thought he was joking and laughed appreciatively. "Yeah, and another thing I got against Blumdhell. The dirty so-and-so transferred my girl to the day shift so we don't go home together any more. Not that it makes any difference. I got me another girl I find today, a very tasty morsel if I do say it myself. Female bus driver."

Toy Offerings Here Complete, Red Wagons To Flying Discs

Toy makers are youngster's Christmas bright. And Midland stores have them.

Red wagons, dolls and all the other toys that have been popular for years still are available. But new and unique ideas have produced toys in keeping with these fast-moving times.

Rocket ships and flying saucers have been in the news in recent months, so toy makers have come up with the kiddies' version of both. The rocket ships which can be found in Midland stores are bright colored toys. Although they don't ever leave the ground, they give the impression that they will take off any minute as sparks fly from the rear.

The flying saucer is a spin toy. Made of a shining metal, they are sent whirling into the air by placing the saucer on a small spool and spinning the spool.

A fine weapon has been made available for the junior G-men to use in bringing lawbreakers to justice. A machinegun which shoots ping pong balls is harmless, but it gives the operator the satisfaction of "shooting" something. And the Cody Colt is another handy weapon. It produces the same noise as a cap pistol, but for ammunition it uses plain paper. Quite a novel idea.

Doll Washers. Clothes get dirty, they can be washed in their own washing machine. This little gadget is complete with agitator and drain hose. Just wind it up and watch it run.

Some children have dreamed of having their own soda fountain. Well, it is now possible for them to have one—although it isn't quite as big as some might desire. The little fountain has all the equipment—dispenser, straws, cups, cup holders, banana split dishes and spoons.

Fire trucks and buses always appeal to most kids. A very attractive version of a bus is stocked in Midland. Wind the bus up and it runs, then it stops, a bell rings and the door opens. When the door closes, the bus takes off again.

The improved fire truck has a long ladder, and when the bumper of the truck hits something the ladder shoots up and a fireman skims up it. Casting sets are also available for those who like to mold their own little cars and trucks.

A toy filling station which boasts pumps, grease rack and elevator storage facilities is another popular item on Midland's toy shelves.

Constructive Toys
A wooden wagon set is a challenging problem. The set has all the parts for a wooden stagecoach, covered wagon or plain wagon—and the young builder must construct the wagon he desires. Even the wheels must be assembled, but even the spokes have been cut to the correct size. When the job is complete, any youngster would be proud of his product and of himself for putting it together.

WILL MEET WEDNESDAY
The Child Development Group of the American Association of University Women will meet at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Robert L. Gray, 107 West Kansas Street.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And The Campfire

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, and Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, and the Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, were in the riverboat together. They were drifting down the Whispering River to Treasure Island to dig for private treasure tomorrow. Oh, but tonight they were going to have all the fun of camping out.

The boat drifted closer and closer to the island, drifting with the current. Said Daddy Ringtail: "When we bump against the bank, Mugwump here can jump to the ground with the rope to hold us."

"Careful, Mugwump," said the Huffen.

"That's right, and—Jump, Mugwump!" shouted Daddy Ringtail, because now was time for Mugwump to jump.

Mugwump jumped with the rope from the boat to the island, and the other folks jumped to help him.

Soon they had pulled the boat up high enough on the sand, and then they all worked together to unload the boxes of camping things from the boat. They took out the boxes of food and the pots and pans and the blankets and cots to sleep on.

"Huffen Puffen," said Daddy Ringtail, "you start us a fire, please, if you will."

The Huffen would, all right, all right, and so he began to pick up pieces of driftwood from the sandy beach. Driftwood is wonderful wood for a campfire. The Huffen even found a great big log for the end to be put in the fire. "As the end burns up and up," explained the Huffen, "we can push the log farther in, we can."

"I'm hungry," said Mugwump. He had finished the work of setting up the cots with blankets on them.

"Fire's ready to light," said Daddy Ringtail, because he had finished with the work of preparing the wood to light with a match. He did strike a match, and he held it down to the wood.

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log-

 section 7, block C-37, psi survey.
 The two expected producers are eight miles southeast of Weisman.

Slight Show Of Oil, Gas In Terry Test

Wilshire Oil Company No. 1 A. M. Brownfield, East-Central Terry County wildcat, four miles east of the town of Brownfield, and four miles northeast of the center of the Brownfield, South-Canyon field, developed a slight show of oil and gas in a drillstem test in a lime, shale and sand section at 10,110-120 feet.

The tool was open 20 minutes. There was a weak blow of air for 15 minutes and it then died. Recovery was three feet of drilling mud, which was slightly cut with gas and which carried a slight trace of free oil.

Drilling Break
 There was no water. The project is to drill 25 feet deeper and it probably will run another drillstem test.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of the north half of section 74, block T, D&W survey. The project encountered a drilling break at 10,100 feet, which had been corrected from a previous calculation of 10,094 feet.

The section above 10,100 feet had been 80 per cent shale, 10 per cent lime and 10 per cent sand. From 10,100 feet to 10,129 feet the section was 80 per cent lime, 10 per cent shale and 10 per cent sand.

The samples through the 10,100-120 feet zone showed some signs of oil and gas and some porosity. Some geologists think this project entered the reef lime in the Pennsylvanian at 10,100 feet. Official sources have not yet confirmed that call.

SW Lubbock Is Set For Deep Explorer

Callery & Hurt, Inc., of Houston is to start operations at once at its No. 1 Broadhead, slated 11,000-foot wildcat in Southwest Lubbock County.

The proposed destination of the project is calculated to take it into the Ellenburger.

 Location is 1,980 feet from south and 800 feet from west lines of section 70, block 20, HE&WT survey. That makes it eight miles south of Wolforth and 15 miles southwest of the City of Lubbock.
 It is on a farm out on Honolulu Oil Corporation. Humble Oil & Refining Company, Sunray Oil Corporation, Bankline Oil Company and several other concerns are reported to have agreed to support the development.

Stepouts In Gaines Report Completions

Stepouts from production in two pre-Permian areas of Gaines County have been completed as oil wells. Magnolia Petroleum Company and The Atlantic Refining Company No. 1-496 Havemeyer & Jenny, one location northwest offset to the south-west extension of the North Russell-Devonian field, in Northwest Gaines, and 16 1/2 miles northwest of Seminole, reported a 24-hour potential of 928.92 barrels of oil, and no water, flowing through a three-quarter inch choke.

The production came after the pay section in the Devonian had been treated with 1,250 gallons of acid. Gas-oil ratio was 106-1. Gravity was 40.2 degrees.

Top of the pay was at 11,066 feet. The 7-inch oil string is cemented at 10,387 feet. Total depth is 11,177 feet.

Location is 680 feet from south and east lines of section 496, block C, CO&D&NG survey.

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 8 Helen Cunningham, et al, 17 miles southwest of Seminole, and a stepout from production in the Doss-Canyon field has been finished for a daily initial production of 43.61 barrels of oil, pumping. The project made no water.

Gravity of the oil was 44.8 degrees. The well showed a gas-oil ratio of 337-1, but the gas was not regular and the well would not flow steadily and a pump was installed to produce the petroleum.

Top of the pay is at 8,875 feet. The 5 1/2-inch casing is cemented at 8,874 feet. Total depth is 8,925 feet.

Five Wildcat Sites Spotted In Rannels

Locations for five new wildcats have been staked in Rannels County.

Geophysical Surveys of Ahlberg spotted No. 1-G John W. Harris one and one-half miles southwest of Crews.

Projected depth is 4,500 feet. Rotary tools will be used to drill.

Location is 680 feet from south and east lines of tract 7, block 54, J. V. Cabrera survey. It will be three and three-quarter miles southwest of the Cree-Sykes field and five miles west of the Coleman County line.

Northwest of Ballinger
 Arthel Hanson of Ahlberg No. 1 R. H. Herring is a new 4,400-foot wildcat seven miles northwest of Ballinger in Central Rannels County.

Drillsite is 330 feet from south and east lines of section 34, H. C. Wylie survey, abstract 935 and three miles northwest of King & Davis No. 1. M. Turner, producer in the West Ballinger area.

Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once.

Six miles east of Ballinger in Southeast Rannels County, American Trading & Production Corporation has staked No. 1-82 Otto Spreen. Slated depth is 4,900 feet. Rotary tools will be used to drill the test, starting immediately.

South Of Beddo
 It is located 11,750 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of R. M. Williamson survey No. 222. That makes it three miles north of the Colorado River and five and one-quarter miles south of the Rann and Moloney production in the Beddo field.

E. K. Burt, E. M. Burt and others have staked location for their No. 1 Mrs. Lee Tinkle, one-half mile west and slightly south of Messenger No. 1 Jones, recent Gardner sand strike five miles southeast of Winters.

Location is 330 feet from north and 5,000 feet from west lines of J. C. McKean survey No. 534.

Rotary tools will be used to drill to 4,100 feet. Operations will begin soon.

In Northwest Rannels

Harry Todd of Dallas will begin drilling immediately on a 5,000-foot rotary test three miles northwest of the Lloyd-Fry sand field in Northwest Rannels County.

It is No. 1 Elizabeth Hodges and others and is located 6,439 feet from southeast and 447 feet from southwest lines of section 450, L. Forsythe survey.

Drillsite is one-half mile southwest of Wingate and three-quarters of a mile west of Hamm, Manning and Strake No. 1 Charity Face, a small pumper which was recently abandoned.

Edge Well Finaled In Andrews Region

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 8 W. T. Ford has been completed as a pumping producer from the Glorieta, middle Permian lime in the Fuhrman field of South-Central Andrews County.

The project made 190.24 barrels of 29-gravity oil on the 24-hour completion test.

The pay had been treated with 2,000 gallons of acid. The oil was cut with two per cent water.

Location is 330 feet from north and 990 feet from east lines of the Stanolind lease in section 30, block A-42, psi survey.

Top of the pay is at 5,480 feet. Total depth is at 5,588 feet. The production is from open hole.

Salt Water Found In Motley Wildcat

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Ollie Birnie, Northwest Motley County wildcat, nine miles northwest of Meisler ran a two and one-half-hour drillstem test in an unidentified formation at 8,558-75 feet.

Recovery was 30 feet of drilling mud, 150 feet of mud and salt water and 225 feet of salt water. There were no shows of oil or gas.

The prospector was to drill deeper. Location is 1,980 feet from north and 650 feet from east lines of section 1, block GP, O&M survey.

Previous reports, from unofficial sources that this project had shown considerable gas and distillate in the zone covered by the above drillstem test have not been verified and these reports now appear to have been incorrect.

Some geologists think the section at 8,558-75 feet is in the Ellenburger. That surmise has not been officially confirmed.

C-S Coke Prospector Plugged, Abandoned

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 E. H. Schuch, Central-South Coke County wildcat, 13 1/2 miles south of Robert Lee, has been plugged and abandoned on total depth of 6,685 feet in barren Ellenburger.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 6, Tom Dietrich survey. That makes it 14 1/2 miles north of San Angelo, and one and one-quarter miles north of the Tom Green County line.

After falling in the Ellenburger, the project plugged back and tested the Pennsylvanian. Extended testing in that formation failed to develop any possibilities of commercial production.

Some small amounts of oil were recovered, but water came along with the oil, and operator ordered the wildcat abandoned.

Failure In Dickens Quit In Ellenburger

C. L. Norworthy, Jr., of Dallas, has plugged his No. 1 Doc Burleson, Southeast Dickens County wildcat on a total depth of 7,511 feet in barren Ellenburger.

The venture did not log any signs of possible production in any zone it penetrated.

Location was 685 feet from south and 680 feet from west lines of section 5, block WC, J. C. Keller survey. That made it 14 miles east of Spur.

Five Locations Are Spotted In Scurry

Locations for five projects have been staked for immediate drilling in Scurry County.

Three of these new explorations are in the Cogdell field of Central-North Scurry.

The Texas Company No. 118 Fuller, 7,150-foot rotary test will be drilled 687 feet from east and 1,988 feet from south lines of section 614, block 97, H&TC survey. That makes it 15 miles north of Snyder.

Texaco spotted its No. 9 Dora E. Cunningham eight miles north of Snyder and 1,927 feet from north and 2,131 feet from west lines of section 613, block 97, H&TC survey.

Rotary tools will be used to drill the project to 7,200 feet.

Thirteen miles north of Snyder and in the Cogdell field, Texaco has staked its No. 120 P. L. Fuller. Drill-site is 682 feet from south and 2,002 feet from west lines of section 551, block 97, H&TC survey.

Rotary tools will be used in drilling to 7,150 feet.

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 3 Bearden will be a new site in the Kellier-Snyder field of Scurry County and about four miles west of Snyder.

Location of No. 3 Bearden is 487 feet from north and east lines of section 212, block 97, H&TC survey. Projected depth is 7,000 feet and rotary tools will be used to drill.

Another new location in the Kellier-Snyder field is Phillips No. 4 Bearden, projected to drill to 7,000 feet with rotary tools.

It is located 487 feet from south and east lines of northeast quarter of section 212, block 97, H&TC survey.

Extension Finaled To Denton In Lea
 Ralph Lowe of Midland reported completion for a one and three-quarter mile north extension to the Denton-Devonian field of Northeast Lea County, New Mexico.

The extension is Ralph Lowe No. 1 Dickinson, completed for a potential of 960 barrels of 44.5-gravity oil daily through a 3/4-inch choke and open hole from 12,360 to 12,385 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 1,00-1 and flowing tubing pressure ranged from 850 to 890 pounds.

Location of the new well is 680 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 35-145-37a.

Midlander Slatos Tom Green Venture

W. W. Meeker of Midland has staked location for a 6,000-foot rotary wildcat in Central-South Tom Green County, six and one-quarter miles south of the Susan Peak field.

His No. 1 W. A. West will be 600 feet from south and west lines of section 50, block 25, H&TC survey. It will be drilled on a Stanolind Oil & Gas Company farmout three miles north of the Schleicher County line and four miles northeast of C. L. Norworthy, Jr., No. 1 Will C. Jones, wildcat exploration in Tom Green County.

Midland Tex-Harvey Gets Two Locations

Applications requesting permission to drill two more prospectors in the Tex-Harvey field of Central-East Midland County have been filed with the Railroad Commission of Texas.

A. N. Hendrickson and E. E. Evinger No. 1-12 Boone-Perkins is to be drilled 683 feet from north and 688.5 feet from west lines of section 12, block 37, T-3-S, T&P survey.

Barnett & Rector will drill the No. 1-11 J. H. and L. B. Floyd 600 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 11, block 37, T-3-S, T&P survey.

Both locations are in the north-east side of the Tex-Harvey field and about 15 miles southeast of the city of Midland.

Exploration Staked In Midland Germania

James H. Snowden and others have staked location for their No. 1-18 Andrew Faskan in the Germania area of Northeast Midland County.

It is to be drilled as a Southwest stepout to production in the two-well Spraberry field.

Exact location is 680 feet from north and east lines of section 18, block 38, T-2-S, T&P survey. It is contracted to be drilled to about 8,500 feet.

Drillsite is 14 1/2 miles east of the city of Midland.

Housework Easy Without Nagging Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slow down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 60 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief - help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filter flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Eighth Army In Position To Fight Orderly Rearguard Action On Route To Seoul

By DON WHITEHEAD

TOKYO —(P)— Allied forces in Northwest Korea Tuesday were safely south of a critical point on their retreat before the massed might of Red Chinese armies.

The Eighth Army's exact position were a closely guarded military secret. But the bulk of its combat elements were south of a hazardous bend in the road south of Sariwon, 50 air miles south of Pyongyang, the Red capital.

The Army is in a position to fight an orderly rearguard action toward Seoul, the apprehensive capital of the Korean republic. The Chinese have lost any chance of trapping the Eighth Army north of the 38th parallel, arbitrary boundary between North and South Korea.

The Reds have not yet struck with a second massed attack in the Northwest. It is almost a week since they swept into Pyongyang, abandoned by the Allies in their bitter retreat from the first onslaught of Chinese hordes.

But there is no indication the Chinese have been halted. Nobody in the field expects them to stop at the 38th unless some diplomatic arrangement has been concluded beforehand.

It is evident the Allies have made plans to continue the campaign as hard as possible—but with an eye on escape routes to prevent being surrounded by superior numbers and cut to pieces.

Seas Up Defense Box
In the Northeast, the 10th Corps has set up a defense box around Hamhung, industrial city near the Sea of Japan.

From that area, AP Correspondent Tom Stone reported "there is no longer a fighting front."

U. S. Marines and infantry and some British commandos have fought their way to Hamhung and neighboring Hungnam over a bloody escape route. An American fleet is standing by to evacuate them by sea if necessary.

Obviously the battered 10th Corps units were in a position only to set up a defense perimeter—not to attack the enemy—and to protect themselves for their next move.

Stone's dispatch from Hungnam made it clear the fighting in the Northeast is near an end. Evacuation by sea appeared to be the logical next move if General MacArthur is to save this corps to fight again somewhere else.

Virtually Impossible

Retreat southward by land in the Northeast would be virtually impossible. United Nations forces have abandoned Wonsan Port, nearly 100 land miles south of Hungnam. Chinese Red forces are reported to be massed in force around Wonsan.

A land retreat would mean the 10th Corps would again have to run a gauntlet of powerful Chinese forces blocking any landward escape route.

But while the 10th Corps was boxed in at Hungnam, the Eighth Army had shaken loose around the shoulder of the main Pyongyang-Seoul Highway. This critical shoulder is a 30-mile stretch where the road bends south from Sinmak to Kumchon near the 38th parallel.

There always was the danger the Reds—massing their forces in the center part of Korea—would cut the road between Sinmak and Kumchon and bottle up the retreating Allied forces.

But with this danger past, military men are breathing easier, confident the enemy no longer can threaten the army with a sweeping flank move.

Laughton Fans Rush Booth For Tickets To Thursday Show

Charles Laughton fans by the hundreds are rushing the ticket booth at Tallorine, Inc. to obtain duets for the "Evening with Charles Laughton" performance scheduled Thursday in the Midland High School Auditorium. Members of the Midland B&PW Club, sponsoring organization, say the "one man show" will be the top entertainment event ever presented here. And they are anxious for as many Midland and area residents as possible to see the famed actor.

Laughton, by the way, is a man who was described recently by one critic as "having more irons in the fire than the village blacksmith." In addition to his current personal appearance tour, Laughton now has an actively functioning group of actors whom he has trained in Hollywood, who recently made their debut after more than two years of training in "The Cherry Orchard" and received unanimous praise from Los Angeles critics.

Act Is In Demand
Laughton's reading "act" now is in demand from both television and radio sponsors and it is likely that 1951 will see the actor handling programs in both media. When he returns from this tour Laughton will set to work with Charles Boyer on rehearsals of George Bernard Shaw's "Don Juan in Hell," which Laughton will direct for a national tour early in '51. Laughton operates on the theory that a "busy actor is a happy actor" and confesses that it works for him since he never has been more fully occupied nor happier in his entire long career.

Abundant Living

By E. STANLEY JONES

ADJUSTING OUR VOCABULARY TO FACT

We have been studying how to adjust ourselves to passing time if we are to live abundantly and freely. We turn now to another adjustment—the adjustment of our vocabulary to fact.

Words often lose their relation to fact. They are like institutions in this respect; for institutions, given at first for the purpose of expressing life, often end by throttling that very life, and so must be constantly readjusted and perpetually realigned to their original purposes. In like manner, our words often throttle the life they are intended to express and hence need constant reconversion and readjustment.

This is particularly true of religious words. They become sacrosanct, but all out of touch with reality. We will have to go over our vocabulary with relentless inquiry to see if we are using words out of which the content has dropped. This is important, for the younger generation has a strong sense of reality—it can sniff unreality from afar. The young people of our high schools and colleges usually give the speaker the first five minutes to prove he has reality. If they hear only words they will take out a book and read it!

We must reclothe the eternal truths of the Gospel in the language that each age can understand. But even that will not do, if the reclothing is just adopting the words of a new age. The words must have content, reality in them, or they will say nothing.

Language is a symbol, and has to be changed constantly to fit the facts. The symbols are not the facts. A map is not the territory it represents—a map constantly has to be changed to bring it nearer the facts. Maps of the air, used by aviators, have to be changed every few minutes, or they become dangerous. Vocabularies that are not being constantly changed to fit the facts of life become dangerous.

But we dislike change, especially in words. An elder is a certain denomination felt that the statement put out by the 1911 Conference was sacrosanct; and when the Church charged it, he committed suicide. But the Church would have committed suicide if it hadn't made the words fit the facts.

O God, perhaps I, too, am caught in phrases and words, and am a prisoner of my vocabulary. Then break up my speech; tear down my words, for they may be unreal and hollow. I know that nothing real will perish in the shakedown. So I surrender my words and my phrases to Thee. Make them over, and help me to co-operate in remaking them. Amen.

'Grasshoppers' Descend On MAT

A swarm of "grasshoppers" swooped down Monday on Midland Air Terminal.

They were the tiny artillery observation planes used by the Army.

"For a month now," reported Clyde G. Sharrer, city aviation director, "they've been making Midland a regular stop on cross-country flights."

There were 90 of the tiny planes in the two groups that landed Monday to refuel and let their pilots stretch their legs.

The planes are based at Fort Hill, Okla., and Sharrer said groups ranging from 20 to 50 landed at the terminal every two or three days.

'Make Them Pay When They Foul,' Latest Allen Cry

NEW YORK —(AP)—"Make them pay when they foul" is the newest Phog Allen battle cry in 80 years of unceasing—and generally unsuccessful—efforts to remake the game of basketball.

The volatile Kansas coach has made little progress over the years with his pet: raising the baskets to 12 feet and reinstating the center jump. But Phog says he isn't discouraged and his latest is the waiving of foul shots to take the ball out of bounds.

Phog stresses the ball control or possession type of play. He figures his Jayhawkers will score more and give fewer points by trying for field goals instead of taking free throws and chance on giving the ball to the opposition.

One convert has taken up the Kansas theory—which might work well for tall teams. Ossie Cowles had his Minnesota five try only four foul shots against Oklahoma Monday night, waiting several others to hold on to the ball and try for two-pointers instead. However, that didn't help the Gophers. They lost anyway 66-45.

In other games Monday night, Iowa, pre-season Big Ten favorite, again lost, this time to Butler 54-51. Murray State defeated New Mexico A&M 65-55 for its fourth straight. Missouri defeated Ohio State 61-51 and California fought off Nebraska 62-59.

Club Owners Vote Against Chandler Contract Renewal

By JOE REICHLER
ST. PETERSBURG, FLA. —(AP)— Failure to renew Albert B. Chandler's contract as baseball commissioner exploded a bombshell Monday night that left the entire sports world agog.

Flabbergasted by the major league club owners decision, the baseball people attending the Winter meetings were wondering what the next move would be. About the calmest persons here were the club owners themselves.

The most surprised man was Chandler. So stunned was the commissioner upon hearing the adverse news that he immediately resigned, then changed his mind and decided to finish out his current five-year term which expires May 1, 1952.

The anti-Chandler group is willing to buy up his contract if he will resign. Chandler's pay was officially announced last December to be $63,000 a year. It was then that the owners voted to grant him a $15,000 raise.

One anti-Chandler leader, who declined the use of his name, said owners were prepared to free Chandler on the spot but cited a baseball rule that forbids the releasing of the commissioner before the expiration of his contract.

Termed Best Thing
"We are prepared to pay him for the remaining 17 months tomorrow," the owner said, "if he were to resign. That would be the best thing for the commissioner to do. It would save a lot of embarrassment."

Wichita Falls and Lubbock once apiece while Highland Park (Dallas) and Breckenridge each has tied for it. Wichita Falls and Highland Park have been in the state playoff the most, each having made 15 appearances. Breckenridge is next with 13 and Austin has been there 10 times.

Lubbock has won six district titles, Harlingen and Baytown five each and Conroe three.

The quarter-finals Saturday afternoon match former champions in two instances. Wichita Falls and Lubbock clash at Lubbock while Highland Park will be at Breckenridge.

Conroe plays at Baytown and Harlingen at Austin in the other games.

EIGHT TEAMS IN MEET
ABILENE —(AP)— Eight teams have entered the fourth annual Hardin-Simmons University High School Basketball tournament here Friday and Saturday. They are Big Spring, Abilene, Poly of Fort Worth, Stephenville, Lamesa, Plainview, Brownwood and Burkett.

Midland-Pecos In Cage Tilt Tuesday

The Pecos Eagles will tangle with the Midland Bulldogs in a pair of cage tilts Tuesday night in the Midland High School gym. The 'B' fives clash at 6:30 p.m. with the varsity game to follow immediately—about 8 p.m.

Both 'B' and varsity fives have identical records, with one game won and one game lost.

King's Row

By LARRY KING

So Midland will play in District 1-AAA next season. That's quite all right with this corner. Naturally, we would like to have seen Midland go into the higher AAAA classification along with Odessa, San Angelo, Lubbock, and other powers.

But since it didn't happen and doesn't look as if it will, we can see some bright spots in the deal after all.

First of all, the Bulldogs will be faced with a problem of rebuilding a team riddled by graduation next Fall and that alone will be enough to keep the coaches busy. Secondly, the Midland team does not yet have adequate replacements to play in the tough district and finish the season in shape for tough contests.

And, this way with 1951 in the AAA, perhaps the kids can absorb more playing time on more or less equal footing with opponents and be ready for the 'big ups' in 1952.

Of course the new district groupings will cause much speculation as to whether or not the Class AAA champion could defeat the Class AAAA title holder. The two may play if they desire, but probably one of the two won't desire to do so.

The AAA champ may figure the AAAA has too much stuff and will not want to endanger its record by playing a ball club that may be superior in weight and numbers.

Or, should the AAA winner want to play, the four-AAA winner may not be willing to risk its laurels against the lower school—for it would have nothing much to gain and everything to lose.

Some of the teams in AAA whacked several of the super AAAA teams last season.

Our own Midland Bulldogs took Yaleta 14-7, quelled Forest of Dallas 21-2 and upended Lubbock 38-33.

Other teams to play in the 1-AAA loop next year won some against "superior" competition too. Sweetwater nipped Odessa and tied Lubbock. Lamesa whammed Jefferson El Paso 40-0. Big Spring took Bowie El Paso 21-0 and ousted Yaleta 13-7. Plainview banged Bowie EP 35-0 and tipped Borger.

Other teams around the state did all right also. Breckenridge beat a flock of 'em, including Wichita Falls (18-0), San Angelo (7-0), Abilene (13-0) and Riverside of Fort Worth (25-0). The Buckies haven't yet been scored on by next year's super groups—and they still are in the running for the whole darn state title and are, in fact, the only unbeaten, untied team still playing in the now "senior" group.

Coriscana, Lufkin, Sweetwater, Breckenridge and Conroe are just a few of the always rugged teams that will be in the AAA bracket. So you can see it isn't such an "inferior" bracket after all.

Garvin Beauchamp, likable mentor of Abilene Christian College, and coach of the only unbeaten collegiate team in Texas, gave a sparkling talk to members of the Booster Club Monday night.

Beauchamp praised his Wildcats as a "bunch of kids who wanted to play ball" and said there was "not one case of jealousy on the squad because some boys played a lot and other didn't play much."

The AOC boss said he loses but five boys off his present squad this year, but stated: "I know we won't win it straight next season."

Beauchamp's 1950 eleven did just that, taking 10 in regular season play and tripping Gustavus Adolphus in a post season bowl game at Evansville, Ind.

Incidentally, the AOC boys made quite a hit in Indiana with their cowboy boots and hats. And they sang on the radio at the request of many of the Evansville people who had heard of the "Singing Christians," as the AOC boys are sometimes called.

Wilkerson Is Voted Year's No. 1 Coach

NEW YORK —(AP)— Boyish Bud Wilkerson not only led his Oklahoma football team to the national championship this year but turned in the season's best coaching job in doing it.

That's the opinion of sports writers and broadcasters, participating in the Associated Press year-end poll.

Wilkerson won out for top coaching honors in a close race with Charley Caldwell of Princeton and Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf, the old master from California.

The writers and broadcasters were asked: "Who did the best coaching job in 1950?" Replies brought votes for 38 coaches with the 34-year-old Wilkerson a strong favorite. He received 44 votes. Caldwell, who led Princeton through a nine-game schedule without mishap, drew 30 while Waldorf collected 26.

Others getting five or more votes included George Sauer of Baylor, Bob Neyland of Tennessee, and Blair Cherry of Texas.

Wilkerson's Oklahoma Sooners swept through another perfect season to extend their winning streak to 31 games. They accepted a bid to play in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans for the third straight time, meeting Kentucky.

Failure To Play Out Game No Longer Has Bearing On Pennant

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA. —(AP)— The American League Tuesday eliminated any possibility of a pennant being won, or lost, through a club's failure to play out the schedule because of rain or any other "act of God."

This precedent-shattering legislation was the most important news to come out of the opening sessions of the major league baseball meetings here. The American, as well as the National League, also voted to eliminate the bonus rule and to end the high school agreement. This, however, was a forgone conclusion since the Minor leagues voted it out unanimously last week.

The trading mart produced only one deal. And that was of secondary nature. The busy Chicago White Sox, who started the pot boiling Sunday by trading pitchers Bill Wright and Ray Scarborough to Boston for Allen Zarella, Joe Dobson and Dick Littlefield, exchanged veteran outfielders with Washington. They sent 33-year-old Mike McCormick to the Nats for 34-year-old Eddie Stewart.

By unanimous vote, the American League decreed that after the close of the season the president could assign two extra days for the playing off of postponed contests which might affect the championship. The resolution was submitted by the New York Yankees, who went to the final day before winning the flag in 1949 and the last three days before repeating the feat in '50.

It happened when Quarterback Ted Sifton and Fullback Alton Green faked a jump pass and a line plunge so neatly the referee blew the play dead after Green had advanced five yards. Actually, he never had the ball at all. It had been handed to a halfback coming around who swept the end for a tidy gain. But the confused referee brought the ball back to the place Green had been whistled down.

"I've worked games for Michigan, Illinois and several Big Ten teams and Notre Dame," the official later told Beauchamp, "and I've been fooled for a moment before. But that's the first time I've ever been completely lost."

And that's a pretty swell tribute to the classy Wildcats and their gentleman coach, to say the least Sifton's man-under magic.

Big Spring's Steers seem to be the class of the 3-AAA cage teams thus far in non-conference play. The Steers have three wins, having licked Snyder (38-11), Plainview (32-27) and Colorado City (35-21).

Next in line is Midland, with a 1-1 record, having lost to Crane 46-40 and defeated the same five 21-19.

Lamesa has a 1-3 record. The Tornados opened by taking Sweetwater 37-34, but the last three games have been dropped to Carlsbad, N. M. (39-37), Bowie El Paso (38-36) and Jefferson El Paso by a 47-39 score.

Odessa has three losing efforts, falling to Amarillo 41-38, Borger 63-25 and Childress 38-20. No report has been received on the progress of the Lubbock five.

Robbed Aggies Get Their Money Back

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Texas Aggies, robbed while beating Georgia 40-30 in the Presidential Cup football game Saturday, had their money back Tuesday.

Charles E. Garity, general chairman of the game, gave Coach Harry Stittler a check for $672 to cover the losses. A thief entered the Aggie locker room during the game and lifted wallets and watches. Stittler said Garity's action was "an excellent example of Washington hospitality."

AF To Survey Big Spring Site

BIG SPRING—The Big Spring Municipal Airport is going to be considered by the Air Force in its survey of possible facilities in the expanded emergency program. A telegram received here Monday from Senator Lyndon Johnson and Rep. George Mahon said the Air Training Command will visit in Big Spring in the near future to obtain planning data. The wire warned that this was not a commitment that the field used as a bombardier school during World War II, would be reactivated.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL

The Spirit of Christmas Present showed Scrooge streets full of happy people, on their way to friendly holiday gatherings.

The Spirit took Scrooge to a lonely, dimly lit room, where the keepers forgot their loneliness long enough to wish each other "Merry Christmas!"

On a storm-tossed drift, the spirit showed Scrooge a dark and every hard-bitten member of the crew had a kind word, one for another, because it was Christmas.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

War Materials Flow Behind Iron Curtain From West Germany

FRANKFURT—(P)—Highly strategic war materials are flowing behind the Soviet Iron Curtain from West Germany and the Western Allies are powerless to stop them. Such crucial articles as machine tools, ball bearings, optical supplies, steel tubing and raw steel are being moved secretly into the Soviet satellite bloc.

Allied officials believe that much—or most—of this material finds its way directly to Russia.

It is authoritatively believed also that quantities of rolling stock purchased from U. S. Army surplus has been deviously shipped to Soviet satellites for relay to Russia.

The Western Allies find themselves helpless. They have export licensing power only over certain specific strategic materials. The rest are licensed by the West German government. It does not have the power or means to police the ultimate destination of purchased products.

Allied sources said they have no way of determining the exact amount of contraband that has gone to the Soviets. But "we feel it was and is of sufficient quantity to make a substantial contribution to the Communist bloc's war potential," one source added.

Allied sources who declined to be identified explained how the East—at a time when the United Nations are sorely beset in Korea—acquires vital materials from the West.

Steel Disappears
A Ruhr firm, for example, exports steel to West Berlin buyers who ostensibly are legitimate dealers. But after the steel reaches Berlin, it disappears. The Allies believe it is taken quietly to East Berlin and from there shipped to Russia, or to one of her satellites.

Officials said perhaps as much as $6,000,000 to $8,000,000 worth of steel has been illegally shipped to the East thus far in 1950.

Another source said a shipment of American lead which arrived in The Netherlands went down the Rhine to Switzerland. The lead then went on to Stettin, Poland. American officials were aware of the transaction but were unable to interere. Switzerland until Monday had no export controls and had become a favored spot for international speculators. The little nation's decision to impose export and import controls may close that avenue.

Initial receivers of contraband slipping under the Iron Curtain have been Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia, Allied officials said. But they make no bones that they are convinced Russia ultimately gets the lion's share.

Steps Are Requested
Recently the Allied high commission asked West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to have his government take steps to stop these movements of strategic materials to the East. Some officials say the Germans don't have adequate border police to halt the movement of contraband.

These are some of the ways, officials say, illicit shipments are made: Some contraband goes east under false papers. Other shipments are sold through Communist intermediaries who have set up dummy firms in West Germany. These are busy milking the strategic industries of the West German Republic. These dummy firms are "fronts" for other intermediaries in Switzerland, Sweden or The Netherlands, whose job is to see that such shipments roll to Russia and its satellites.

Some authoritative quarters believe at least a portion of U. S. Army surplus stocks have been sent to the east.

In this, too, their hands are all but tied. The first Lenoir car, built in 1863, had a 1 1/2-horsepower motor.

Curfew Clamped On Rioting Singapore

SINGAPORE — (P) — Police clamped a dusk-to-dawn curfew on riot-torn Singapore Tuesday night. The toll from two days of fighting over the fate of a Moslem-reared Dutch girl rose to 14 dead and more than 140 injured.

The British colony's Supreme Court, meanwhile, ruled the girl's Roman Catholic Dutch mother could take 13-year-old Maria Bertha Hertogh back to Holland with her.

Thousands of fanatic Moslems in two days of bitter rioting have tried to kidnap the child and return her to the Malay woman who for eight years reared her, and to the Moslem schoolteacher Maria Bertha married last Summer.

Fighting, which began with a mob attack Monday on the Supreme Court Building, continued in the city's two-mile-square Moslem quarter. It was cordoned off by

Peter Fraser, UN Founder, Is Dead

WELLINGTON, NEW ZEALAND

(P)—Peter Fraser, 86, former New Zealand prime minister and a founder of the United Nations, died Tuesday. Jailed as a Socialist objector to World War I, he rose to become one of the commonwealth's great leaders in World War II. The Scottish-born farmer's son, who headed New Zealand's Labor government from 1940 to 1949, had suffered several heart attacks since he was stricken with pneumonia in October. Monday he rallied and left his bed for the first time since October 3. Then came the fatal relapse.

Ken Regan Presents 'Congress Directory' To Midland Library

Congressman Ken Regan has presented to the Midland County Library an interesting publication which has been compiled and issued by the Congressional Joint Committee on Printing entitled: "Biographical Directory of the American Congress—1774-1949."

The first 18 years of this time the Continental Congress was in existence and sketches of its membership also are contained in the volume.

Congressman Regan said it will be impossible to send copies to individuals, since each congressman received a quota of less than a dozen.

In presenting the book to the library, the Midland legislator said he hopes it will prove of general interest to the community.

Solon Says Economic Controls Due Soon

WASHINGTON — (P) — Senator George (D-Ga.) predicted Tuesday any national emergency declared soon by President Truman will be only the forerunner of price and wage controls next month.

George, who heads the Senate Finance Committee, told a reporter he thinks the time is fast approaching when economic controls will be clamped down. He predicted the President will act during January at the latest.

Senator Lyndon Johnson (D-Texas), chairman of a Senate Armed Services Preparedness subcommittee, said the time already has arrived for such controls. Johnson was one of many members of Congress who have been urging immediate action.
