Livermore Stakes Reagan Prospector

George F. Livermore, Inc., No. 1 D. H. Hughes is to be a 10,700-foot wildcat in North-Central Reagan County. The location is 600 feet from south and west lines of section 19, block F, O&G survey. That makes it five miles north-east of Stiles and 15 miles north-west of Big Lake. Operations are to begin immediately.

Clear Fork Project Slated For Andrews

Fair and Woodward of San Antonio are to start operations at once on No. 1 Hall-McWhorter, which is projected to 7,700 feet to test the lower Clear Fork of the Permian in Northwest Andrews County. Location is 600 feet from south and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 8, block A-29, pal survey. That makes it one half of a mile east of the Garrett M. Smith No. 1 McWhorter-Hall, flowing discovery of the Smith-Clear Fork field which was completed several months ago.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Hall, a one south offset to the Smith discovery was recently plugged and abandoned as a failure, after being low and dry in the pay which was found by the pool opener. The Fair and Woodward project is 24 miles northwest of the town of Andrews.

Honolulu Completes E-C Terry Stepout

Honolulu Oil Corporation and a Union Oil Company of California have completed their No. 1 McGowan as a southeast stepout to production in the Brownfield, South-Canyon field of East-Central Terry County. The new well was finished for a daily initial production of 2,704.8 barrels of 43-gravity oil, flowing naturally through a one-inch opening on tubing from open hole pay at 9,925-10,100 feet in the Canyon reef lime.

The well had a shut-in of 170 months of one psi when gas-oil ratio was 875-1. Flowing tubing pressure was 250 pounds. casing pressure was 550 pounds. The 24-hour potential was based on an actual flow of 450.08 barrels of oil in six hours.

Location is 600 feet from north and west lines of the north half of the southwest quarter of section 72, block T, D&W survey. The new well is one half of a mile south of the discovery well in the Brownfield, South-Canyon field.

It topped the reef at 9,925 feet, on an elevation of 3,263 feet. Honolulu is rigging up for its No. 1 McGowan which is to be one location south of the partnership's new producer. It will be 600 feet from south and west lines of section 72, block T, D&W survey and is slated to dig to 10,100 feet to try production in the reef. Drilling will start at once.

Reagan Test Plugs Back To Wolfcamp

Biskwood & Nichols Company No. 1 Daniel, North-Central Reagan County wildcat, located 600 feet from south and west lines of section 40, block 25, T&P survey, A-S-S, made salt water, with only slight shows of oil and gas in the Ellenburger. The prospector has plugged back and will make production tests on a section in the Wolfcamp of the Permian.

After topping the Ellenburger at 11,105 feet, on an elevation of 3,687 feet the exploration drilled to 11,147 feet and ran a 45-minute drill-stem test at 11,139-147 feet. There was a weak blow of air for 20 minutes and it then died. Recovery was 180 feet of heavy drilling mud with no shows of oil or gas. The wildcat was then deepened to 11,175 feet. Two efforts to run a drill-stem test at 11,145-175 feet were unsuccessful. However the third attempt to test that interval was satisfactory.

The tool was open two hours. The tester was plugged with cement the first hour, but was open the second hour. Recovery was 90 feet of drilling mud slightly cut with oil and gas, 270 feet of muddy salt water and 700 feet of salt water.

Operator has now plugged back to 9,145 feet in the Lower Permian and will cement 3 1/2-inch casing at 8,800 feet to allow making production tests on a zone in the Wolfcamp. The section to be tested did not show any indications of any sort of fluid on an electric log. However, some oil appeared in the mud which was drawn through the pits while the section was being drilled and the testing will be to try to learn (Continued On Page 13)

UN Forces Brace For Red Attack

Materials Hoarding Is Banned

WASHINGTON — (P) — The National Production Authority Thursday banned hoarding of 55 scarce materials essential to defense and civilian production.

The order makes it illegal for businessmen, consumers or householders to accumulate these products in excess of the "reasonable demands." It also specifically prohibits acquiring the products for resale at prices in excess of prevailing market prices—a provision aimed at "black marketing."

The 55 items include cement, softwood lumber and plywood, paper and paperboard, cast iron soil pipe, and a long list of metals and chemicals.

Any violation of the order is punishable by up to $10,000 fine and a year's imprisonment.

The anti-hoarding decree extends and re-enforces an earlier NPA inventory control order which applied only to business and industry and covered only 26 materials.

Effective At Once
The new order, effective at once, accomplishes these ends:
1. It sets up a ban against household hoarding and starts a list to which NPA later could add such items as automobile tires, cars and other consumer goods — though none of these is named in the present order.
2. It plugs a loophole in the original (Continued On Page 13)

Myron G. Blalock, Texas Democratic Party Leader, Dies

MARSHALL — (P) — Myron G. Blalock, 59, Texas Democratic Party leader who did much to rally Texas to the support of Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, died Thursday.

The attorney died of a heart attack at his Marshall home before dawn. Blalock, a slender man with graying hair, was national committee man from Texas from 1940 up into the postwar years. He was a former civil appeals court judge at Texarkana, a former state legislator, and Myron G. Blalock was President Roosevelt's 1936 and 1940 Texas campaign manager. He was best known for his efforts to keep Texas Democrats in line behind the Administration of presidential nominees.

Blalock led the pro-Roosevelt faction's fight against the anti-Roosevelt "Texas Regulars" in 1944. His role was that of peacemaker between warring factions of the party. But where he failed to make peace he threw his support solidly to the Administration. He was a party man and intensely loyal to the party's nominees.

McGrath Announces Suspension Of U. S. Attorney In Louisiana

SHREVEPORT, LA. — (P) — Harvey L. Carey, relieved U. S. attorney for the Western District of Louisiana, says, "If my friends and the public will bear with me I feel confident that the entire matter will be cleared up satisfactorily."

Attorney General McGrath announced Carey's suspension in Washington late Wednesday, placing the district attorney "on temporary leave status pending the outcome of the investigations of allegations concerning the conduct of the attorney."

Carey, 35, has been U. S. district attorney since last August 23. The assistant U. S. district attorney, William J. Flenken, took over the office temporarily.

Carey succeeded Malcolm E. LaFarge, whose term expired and who sought the Democratic nomination in opposition to U. S. Senator Russell Long. Previously, in the 1948 campaign, Carey had served as Fourth District campaign manager for Gov. Earl K. Long.

Both Senator Long and Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) recommended Carey's appointment. They were not available immediately for comment on McGrath's action.

After the Justice Department announcement, Carey and Flenken conferred in the district attorney's office in Shreveport. After they emerged, Carey told newsmen McGrath's action was not a suspension, but a temporary leave. He added he planned to leave town on a visit, but he did not say where he was going.

Flenken said "I don't know anything. All I know is that I have been told to take over as U. S. attorney while Harvey is on leave status."

In Washington, McGrath told reporters "I do not think it fair to discuss the Louisiana inquiry until it is completed."

Departmental officials have predicted 211 persons will die violently before the holiday season ends at midnight January 1.

At the same time, the "working group" of research scientists demanded the lifting of all Allied restrictions imposed on German scientific work.

The group was founded by Karl Arnold, Christian Democratic minister president of the British Zone, State of Northrhine-Westphalia.

quartets rushed out a special release Thursday to tell the world Wednesday's secrets. Among other things, he said the enemy knew the when and where of the evacuation.

Draft Call In March To Take 80,000

WASHINGTON — (P) — The Army Thursday issued a draft call for 80,000 men in March. This will bring the total of Army requests for draftees to 450,000 since the outbreak of the Korean war.

The 80,000 asked for March is the same quota requested in January and February. The Defense Department announcement said the Navy, Air Force and Marines "do not plan to place calls upon the Selective Service system in March."

Only the Army has used the draft up to now. The original quotas for January and February were boosted on December 12 to provide 90,000 draftees in each of the two months. The first call for January was only 40,000 and the original call for February was 50,000.

The draft calls are part of a build up to give the Army a combat force equal to 24 divisions when it reaches its current expansion goal next July 1.

Although the figure used by the Defense Department involves only 18 divisions, an Army official told a reporter the fighting force will be augmented by the so-called regimental combat teams to equal the strength of 24 full divisions.

When the Korean war started, the Army had 10 divisions, with none of them at full war strength except for a division in Germany. There were about three divisions in the United States. Only one of these, the 82nd Airborne, had anything approaching effective strength and that was only 60 or 70 per cent of full strength.

At the present time, the Army has 11 regular divisions, plus four National Guard divisions and two Guard regimental combat teams which have been brought into federal service. Two more guard divisions will be federalized next month.

Another Regular Army division will be formed in late spring or early next summer. This, it was learned, will be an armored outfit. Currently the Army has only one armored division, the 2nd, which has been based at Fort Hood, Texas.

Midland and the surrounding area was warming steadily, however by mid-morning Thursday. At 10:15 a.m. the temperature was 34 degrees, which coincided with Wednesday's high mark.

Rising temperatures were expected Thursday night and Friday, with clear to partly cloudy skies.

St. Mark's To Join Prayer For Peace
Midland's St. Mark's Methodist Church will join Sunday with the denominations' about nine million members in a national mid-century prayer for peace, according to the Rev. James B. Sharp, pastor.

The special call to prayer was sounded by the Methodist Council of Bishops and the church's General Board of Evangelism.

French Give Up Outposts In Indochina

SAIGON, INDOCHINA — (P) — Battered by waves of Communist-led Vietnam attacks, French forces Thursday withdrew from two outposts of their shrinking North Indochina frontier salient. It looked like the first phase of the long expected Vietnam general offensive.

After a hard-fought battle, the outnumbered French garrison at Binhluu, 35 miles southwest of Monay, withdrew and joined a relief column. During the battle the relief column itself had briefly re-occupied the post. Most of the garrison escaped, a communique reported.

At the same time, French troops pulled back several miles on the extreme western flank of the salient. They abandoned the outpost at Chasson, 10 miles northwest of the key French position at Thanh Yen. The renewed attacks by the Communist-led Nationalists on the frontier salient coincided with other Vietnam drives north of Hanoi. A French military spokesman said these attacks were stopped, but he admitted the first phase of the big Nationalist offensive may have begun.

To Be Evacuated
French shipping sources in Singapore said all French women and children in Indochina are to be evacuated on the advice of the French military authorities there. They said the 10,000-ton liner Le Conte De Lisle, just returned by Japan to France, will go at once from Yokohama to Saigon, and that other vessels—possibly five or six—will join the operation in January.

French reserves are reported to have shifted to the coastal zone to prevent any large scale Vietnam offensive. The evacuation of Saigon and Hanoi is being planned.

A military spokesman said five Vietnam battalions have been identified in the vicinity of the frontier salient and he added the enemy offensive in the area is continuing.

So far the French appear not to have suffered any heavy casualties in the frontier battle. Only a part of the small Binhluu garrison was lost and casualties were said to have been light during the Chasson withdrawal.

A French communique claimed heavy losses inflicted on the Vietnam in the Binhluu sector.

Move Started To Free Companion Of Sandra Peterson

GAINEVILLE — (P) — A move was underway Thursday to free Loretta Fay Manning, 16, who was involved in the sensational hitchhike slaying of Brady real estate man Lewis Patterson.

Loretta Fay was sent to the school here at the time her companion, Sandra Peterson, 18, of Somerville, Mass., was given a life sentence for the slaying of Patterson.

During the trial, Loretta Fay made a dramatic witness chair appearance to claim she held the gun that killed Patterson. She testified Sandra was under the influence of narcotics at the time and did not know what had happened.

Sandra, then 17, was held in jail until she reached the age of 18 and could be tried for murder under Texas law. She was given a life sentence.

19 Communist Divisions Set For Big Push

TOKYO — (P) — United Nations forces manning the 150-mile defense line across Korea's midsection braced Thursday against the expected flood of massed Red manpower.

General MacArthur predicted that more than 19 Red divisions—up to 190,000 men—would rush against his tightened new lines in the next two weeks.

The UN commander said Communist China has mobilized its "war effort on a national scale." In his war summary, MacArthur said the last known location of the 19 divisions, which compose the Chinese Communist Fourth Field Army, placed them in a position to hit the Eighth Army sometime between January 1 and 10. He said there were six Chinese corps in the area and that limited attacks in lesser strength of one or more armies (corps) could be launched at any time, but a coordinated attack could be expected by the tenth of next month.

"The character of a major military effort by the Chinese Communist government, though initially masked under the treacherous guise of a 'volunteer participation,' is only too apparent in the deployment of all elements of the Third and Fourth Field Armies, which represent two out of the five field armies constituting the entire military structure of China," the communique said.

Effort Recognizable
"This war effort on a national scale is recognizable in their military budget. According to reliable sources, the Chinese Reds in Peking have appropriated the spending of eight billion dollars for war purposes in 1951. This is probably the biggest military budget in Chinese history. It is estimated it is three times greater than the Chinese Communist military budget for 1950, and eight times more than the Chinese nationalist government has ever spent in one year."

The vanguard of a 1,350,000 Communist force, mostly Chinese, was only 35 miles north of Seoul Thursday night.

A U. S. Eighth Army briefing officer said two Chinese armies of about 60,000 men were massing 30 miles north and northwest of the apprehensive South Korean capital. Little ground action was reported. Patrols from both sides probed lines for weak spots and strength.

In the air, Far East Air Force and Fifth Air Force planes hammered at Red troops immediately behind the enemy lines. Two Russian-made MIG-15s were reported destroyed and a third damaged in a series of three engagements with U. S. F-80 jets over North Korea.

Parallel Parking To Be Extended In Business Area
Parallel parking of automobiles will be extended Monday to four blocks in the heart of Midland's business district.

The area included in an order announced Thursday extends on both sides of Main Street from Illinois to Missouri Streets, and on Texas between Loring and Main.

Col. Milan N. Flaync, director of public safety, said marking will be completed during the weekend and alternate meters will be removed. The announcement of the extension came after a two-week trial period for parallel parking on the streets bordering the Midland County Courthouse.

City Manager W. H. Overall said reaction to this test project had been encouraging and reported that it, along with other new traffic regulations, had increased the flow of traffic in that area.

The replacement of angle parking with parallel parking virtually adds another lane of traffic in each direction. This, in turn, permits an uninterrupted flow of traffic even when a motorist is leaving his parking place.

"The new system," said Colonel Flaync, "will mean a little less parking space available in these areas but we believe that the increased flow of traffic will more than compensate for this."

Officers will continue to enforce regulations put into effect two weeks ago, barring right hand turns on a red light and, during specified rush hours, left hand turns at certain intersections.

U. S. Casualties Mount To 38,325
WASHINGTON — (P) — Announced U. S. casualties in the Korean war rose to 38,325 through midnight December 22, an increase of 1,904 over the cumulative total reported in the previous week.

The Department of Defense, emphasized the figures Thursday, recalled that they represent only the number of notifications sent to next of kin and do not reflect all casualties suffered through December 22. The total included 4,482 deaths. Of these, 5,742 were killed in action, 684 died of wounds and six deaths were recorded among men who had been reported missing in action. The wounded total was 27,012, including those who died later of wounds.

Court Orders Four Theater Chains To Revise Practices

OKLAHOMA CITY. (AP)—Four theater chains in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico were under federal court orders Thursday to revise their practices and divorce their operations.

All the companies have changed their corporate forms since April, 1950, when the suit started.

The companies are the R. E. Griffith Company and Westex Theater Company of Dallas and the Griffith Amusement and Griffith Consolidated Companies of Oklahoma City.

The Video Independent Theaters, Inc., owns properties once held by the four concerns. President Henry B. Griffith of Video said he considered the decision binding on the new firm.

Judge Edgar S. Vaughn specifically divorced properties in Oklahoma from those in Texas and New Mexico. His ruling prohibits the firms or their successors from booking films for all their theaters in a single deal. The ruling forces the chain to contract for films for each theater separately.

Jeanette, Gene Plan 'Stage Tricks' For Broadway Play

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
HOLLYWOOD — Behind the Screen: If Lynn Fontanne and Alfred Lunt can get away with it, so can Jeanette MacDonald and Gene Raymond.

I mean the little stage tricks that a Mr. and Mrs. can uncoil behind the footlights.

Jeanette and Gene are working up some fancy boudoir touches for their first Broadway co-starring play with music, "The Guardsman." I couldn't worm the surprises out of Jeanette, but she whispered:

"Remember the scene in 'O Mistress Mine' when Lynn put her hand on Alfred's leg and went tickle-tickle-tickle? That's what I mean."

They'll be putting Jeanette's name up in lights as a Broadway star for the first time since 1929 when the epic M-G-M play opened next Spring. After warbling in four flops, Ernst Lubitsch snared her out of the Chicago company of a musical called "Boom-Boom" back in '29 to play the queen with Maurice Chevalier in "The Love Parade."

"What a title — 'Boom-Boom'!" Jeanette shuddered. "It can be said that I left the stage with a bang."

Cary Grant, known then as Archie Leach, was in the show with me. We were both not very good."

Success By A Hair

Betty Grains is the only Hollywood star who gets her crowning glory brushed and curled by the mother of another star, Marie Braselle is Betty's hairdresser and MGM's Keefe Braselle is Marie's progeny.

Says Keefe:

"Betty used to get me on the set so that producers would see me and tell everybody that I was Marie Braselle's son. Now she introduces mother as the mother of Keefe Braselle."

Marge and Gower Champion, the dance team, are up at bat for the third time in MGM's "Show Boat." Their first movie try in Bing Crosby's "Mr. Music" will hit the silver screens soon, but their second stint for RKO's "Two Tickets to Broadway" flizzed when Howard Hughes ordered the choreography they had devised after months of work tossed in the ashcan.

"We weren't disappointed, just frustrated," Marge told me. "As Gower says, we got absolutely nothing out of it but a home and a swimming pool."

The Champions turned Janet Leigh into a prancing, high-kicking Vera Ellen during their assignments to the picture.

"Everybody will be amazed," Marge enthused. "Janet's just fabulous as a dancer. I worked for 10 years before I got to the place where she was after five months."

Rita's Image

Mary Castle, Columbia's dead ringer for Rita Hayworth, isn't losing any shut-eye over worry of what will happen to her when Princess Aly Khan reports back to the lot next March or April. Looking more like Rita than Rita, Mary told me on the set of "Criminal Lawyer."

"I'm going as much as possible to avoid the resemblance. I'm tired of people rushing up to me and screaming, 'Rita, darling, when did you get back?'"

The publicity boys already are priming the studio lenses to pop the flash bulbs when Rita meets Mary.

"It ought to be very interesting," shrugged Rita's spittin' image.

Dorothy Lamour will play the role of a circus serialist who swings by her teeth in C. B. DeMille's circus epic, "The Greatest Show on Earth." Preparing for the part, Dottie has been undergoing a grueling routine of neck, arm and torso exercises. A double will do Dottie's high flying, but there will be enough closeups to give her a good workout. Watching Dottie exercise, husband Bill Howard cracked: "It's a great role, honey, but do you think you'll ever get it off the ground?"

Man Who Claimed To Be Notorious Outlaw Is Dead

HICO, TEXAS. (AP)—Brushy Bill Roberts died Wednesday with his boots on and far from the frontier land he claimed he roamed as Billy The Kid.

The aged cowboy dropped dead of a heart attack as he walked the streets of Hico. He was dressed as always, in a fringed frontier shirt, cowboy hat and boots.

He was known as O. L. (Brushy Bill) Roberts, but he claimed he really was Billy The Kid, the bold young desperado who has become an American legend.

Gov. T. J. Mabry of New Mexico recently refused Roberts' plea for a pardon as Billy The Kid.

Roberts claimed the story of The Kid's death at the hands of Sheriff Pat Garrett in Fort Sumner, N. M., in 1881 was just legend.

Revises Stories

When a St. Louis man, W. A. Morrison, petitioned for the pardon for Billy The Kid, it revived all the romantic stories, all the tales, and all the escapades of the New York City youngster who ended as one of the West's most notorious outlaws.

Roberts claimed it wasn't true The Kid was shot to death in a rooming house shortly after his escape from the Lincoln, N. M., courthouse jail.

William H. Bonney, Billy The Kid, had been convicted of shooting a sheriff and was waiting to be hung when he broke jail.

The man who died here had said he was 90 years old. He and his wife lived in a shack and Roberts had many documents which he said supported his stories of early day adventures and Indian fighting.

Roberts moved to this little town from Gladewater, a dozen years ago.

Execution Of Negro Scheduled Thursday

HUNTSVILLE. (AP)—Edward Ernoel Johnson, Jr., 30-year-old Houston negro, is scheduled to die in the electric chair Thursday night for the rape of an 11-year-old white girl.

Testimony at Johnson's trial was that he lured the girl away from a church playground November 19, 1949, by telling her a priest wanted to see her.

Johnson was sentenced to death last December 13. He later appealed the conviction because he had been indicted under the name of George Honey Young. The indictment was changed and the appeal denied.

visions had been badly mauled and the North Korean units were at reduced strength but they could have given us a lot of trouble."

There were three phases of the withdrawal. General Almond said the corps entered phase one December 15. That day the First Marine Division completed loading on the ships. At that time the defenses are extended roughly 8,000 yards from the beach.

Hanhung, which had been the corps command post location, was evacuated. Yonpo Airfield was vacated by the First Marine Air Wing on December 15 also, but still was included in the defense perimeter because it was needed to carry out supplies and troops.

The ROK (Republic of Korea) Third Division sailed south directly from Songjin. The rest of the ROK troops were cleared from Hungnam by December 17.

On December 20, the defense perimeter was reduced to phase two proportions with a two-division front—the Third Division on the left flank and the Seventh on the right. Yonpo Airfield was used to ship out troops and supplies until December 18. In an eight-day period ending December 18, smaller troop units totaling 2,500 men and several tons of supplies were sent out of Yonpo.

The U. S. Seventh Division was on board ship by December 22 as the Third Division took the defense line set for phase three.

In the final phase, just before the Third Division withdrew, the defense area had shrunk to a maximum of 4,000 yards. The Seventh regiment held the left flank. The Puerto Rican 65th Regiment held the center. The 15th Regiment, which included one negro battalion, was on the right flank.

All artillery battalions of the divisions continued firing until dawn on the final day of the withdrawal, Sunday.

Resolve To Be More Beautiful—

All this rushing around takes its toll on beauty. If you've neglected to care for your hair, as most of us do at this busy season, why not make a New Year's resolution to make it up in the coming year by making regular appointments with FOSTER'S BEAUTY SHOP, 505 North Main. Let skilled beauticians analyze your particular kind of hair and give you exactly the kind of wave you want—soft, natural, long-lasting. Call 2460 today.

New Year's Eve—

When good friends get together, the celebration calls for something special. You'll find party accessories at MIDLAND HARDWARE AND FURNITURE COMPANY, GIFT DEPARTMENT, to lend the right note of gaiety and make your party a memorable occasion. There are crepe paper table cloths and napkins decorated with New Year's motifs in bright colors. Paper plates and cups are also featured in assorted sizes, decorated with the same motifs. The gift department has everything to make your party a success and to save work afterwards.

Enjoy Your Home More—

Give the inside of your home a new look with custom made slip covers and drapes designed by MRS. L. S. HENSY, Andrews Highway. Mrs. Hensy will come to your home and measure your furniture and windows. She is an experienced interior decorator and can create magic with fabrics. Just call 1184 and make an appointment. She can help you achieve the decorator effect you desire. Her tailoring is exquisite and the slip covers fit with an "upholstered" look. Being an expert seamstress, Mrs. Hensy also does all types of sewing.

Awake Refreshed—

Arise to each new day with renewed zest for living. Go to work and play with the vitality and vigor that comes only from relaxed, undisturbed sleep. You can do it with an Everhot Electric Automatic Blanket from BASIN SUPPLY COMPANY. No heavy covers—no turning and tossing in tumbled bed clothes—no 2 o'clock chill—just gentle, constant, unvarying warmth at exactly the right temperature that suits you best.

From Dreams To Reality—

Your dream house can become a reality when you take your ideas to LLOYD PONDER, BUILDING CONTRACTOR. He will design a house to conform with your own specifications and those of your lending agency. Mr. Ponder builds homes which are in the $12,000 to $20,000 class. You don't have to accept substitutes. Have your home planned the way you want it, to suit your individual needs. Call 4478 for more information.

Have You Been Putting Off Seat Covers—

Resolve now to put them on—while you can have a complete selection of patterns and fabrics. MILLER BROTHERS TRIM SHOP, 114 East Wall (rear), has a tremendous selection of new patterns in Saran, both bold and conservative, and Boltax, is featured in beautiful pearlized patterns and a choice of vivid colors. When the interior of your car is upholstered with Saran or Boltax, or a combination of the two, you have beauty that lasts as long as the car. Plastic is also sold by the yard for home decorating.

Custom Made Store Fixtures—

You can display your merchandise more attractively when you have your shop fixtures designed to suit your individual needs. MIDLAND PLANING MILL, 415 South Baird, will design and build show cases, shelves, cosmetic counters, restaurant counters, shadow boxes and any other fixture to display your particular type merchandise to a greater advantage in a minimum of space. Shoes, for instance, can be displayed in window shelves in a manner to show more pairs. Call 2930 for estimates on any type commercial fixtures.

For Growing Feet—

Because of Pied Piper research in design, these shoes have "ceiling room" for growing feet, and because of Pied Piper exclusive patented features, more and more mothers prefer them. Give your child the distinctive benefits of Pied Piper shoes, featured at PELLETIER SHOES, 404 West Illinois. There are no fillers to cause bumps or ridges in these sensible shoes . . . they are smoother, stronger and more flexible.

It's About Time—

Ring two dates on your new calendar—to make you remember that your watch needs cleaning and adjustment, at least twice a year. COOKER'S WATCH REPAIR SERVICE, located in Cam-Worth Drug, 1408 North Big Spring, can give you expert service. Mr. Cooker is an expert watchmaker with the experience and ability to do the work well. Your watch is an investment, often a sizable one, so protect it by giving it regular attention.

Build For The Future—

When you build with concrete blocks you're building for permanency. Whether it's a garage, fence, barbecue pit, barn, farm house or other structures, THE BASIN CONCRETE BLOCK COMPANY, 204 North Dallas, is able to supply the needs of builders, ranchers, farmers and other home owners. All types of concrete and tile are featured. For beauty, strength and durability, also, mixed Sak-Rite Mortar Mix and gravel mix, water proof paint and cement paint. Call 3976 for estimates.

Just A Little Initiative—

It's so nice to know that if you're a handyman—it's quite handy, too, to get everything for any household repairs at MIDWEST LUMBER COMPANY, 1802 West North Fort Street. You provide the labor and the company will provide you with the finest of materials, tools and advice, too, for repairs around the house. Resolve to do those fix-up jobs soon for Winter's just begun. It doesn't require a lot of money to remodel or repair, just a little initiative and the right materials—so get the hammer. Pa!

Be On Time In '51—

Resolve to be on time in the coming year with a good, dependable watch. Get a famous Elgin Watch from CRUISE JEWELRY COMPANY, 120 West Wall, on easy terms. You are given a generous trade-in allowance on your old watch. A good timepiece is an investment, as it may mean the difference between success and failure. Don't wait any longer. Take advantage of this wonderful opportunity to own the watch of your choice. The store features men's and ladies' watches.

Start Magazine Subscriptions Now—

Start your subscriptions the first of the year and have entertainment, accounts of world events and fashion news all the year. On Winter evenings, too, you can curl up with your favorite magazine and enjoy an evening of good reading. Call JOHNSON'S NEWS AGENCY, telephone 680, and order your 1951 subscriptions now. You can get Glamor, Charm, Bazaar, Better Homes and Gardens, Good Housekeeping, and many others.

A Splash Of Color—

A bright New Year inspires us to make improvements in our homes. If you want to add a bright splash of color, why not begin with the bathroom? No one can start the day feeling gloomy when he is surrounded with color and beauty. MIDLAND HARDWARE AND FURNITURE COMPANY, LINEN DEPARTMENT, has just received a shipment of taffeta shower sets—that are water-repellent, of course, and are available in your choice of colors.

Do Something About Household Pests—

New Year's resolutions are easy to make but hard to keep—but here's one you'll want to put into effect immediately and it's so easy! Do something about those roaches in the pantry. These embarrassing pests can be completely eliminated with a little Johnston's No-Roach from MIDLAND HARDWARE AND FURNITURE COMPANY. Just brush it on wherever roaches are likely to appear—it knocks 'em dead! Odorless and colorless, it's absolutely safe to use in the home.

For Restful Sleep—

Some of the best things in life can be bought, and with a Universal or G-E Electric Blanket from PHILLIPS ELECTRIC COMPANY, you have a number of them—luxury and relaxation that wakes you in the morning bright-eyed and refreshed—all these wonderful things in one feather-light cover for your bed! There is also the Westinghouse Electric Sheet that you place between the bedsheet and top covering and it gives restful, even warmth.

Save Your Home From Deterioration—

Resolve to do all those fix-up jobs you've been putting off. Brighten and freshen your home inside and out with famous DuPont Paints from J. C. VELVIN LUMBER COMPANY, 204 North Fort Worth. You'll find materials for those repair jobs and also all kinds of builders' hardware. It's a wise homeowner who keeps his home in good repair and nothing protects from deterioration more than regular paint jobs.

Protects Your Entire Family—

Of course, we hope that you'll never need the benefits of a polio insurance. For your own peace of mind, we urge you to investigate the policy offered by NEELY AGENCY, Crawford Hotel. In the event of polio, you and your entire family receive medical expenses. The cost for one year is $12—after the first year, the cost is $10. Your whole family is protected for less than 50¢ per day. Call 2390 for more information.

Mid-Century Prayer

It is very encouraging to note that a call for mass prayer on the eve of a new half century is spreading rapidly across a troubled United States.

The appeal for the observance is being heeded from thickly-populated areas to the smallest hamlets throughout the nation. Christians everywhere are asking everyone to join in the mass prayer for peace.

In Midland and in other Permian Basin Empire cities, plans have been announced for special prayer services in most churches Sunday. A watch service of prayer and fellowship will be held here Sunday night...

In the words of the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, president of the National Council, "Surely it is fitting that the year 1951, which may be fraught with destiny for mankind, should be begun in a spirit of prayer rather than of thoughtless revelry."

Bishop Sherrill urges all citizens everywhere to pray "for a peace which is the fruit of righteousness."

War is not inevitable, and surely such a mass prayer will do much to bring peace to a troubled world. It is past time but certainly not too late for America and other nations to turn to God, beseeching Him to bring peace to a world which twice in the first half of the Twentieth Century has been engulfed in global wars.

The spiritual foundation of our national life will be bolstered by such a movement and by faith and confidence that prayer and earnest negotiation can preserve peace.

Such fellowship in God is essential in this time of crisis, and particularly as we begin a new half century.

Brainpower Snarls Manpower

War or no war, this nation needs to husband its brainiest manpower for the highly specialized tasks of medicine, science, and similar skilled occupations. Much of this manpower was wasted in World War II.

The Selective Service Agency now is trying to work out a draft deferment policy that will direct men of high mental promise into the posts where they're badly needed.

It is not an enviable assignment. Any careless plan will run the risk of dividing our young men into "smart boys" and "dumbbells." It also could appear to make military service a punishment for scholastic dullness.

Our keenest educational minds should attend to this problem without delay.

Some day we may wind up getting our food in pill form. And we don't mind at all if they are to be taken after meals.

But This Time It's For Peace

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1950, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: General Chennault fights Communism; Who'd be shot first by Reds; Greatest need is to bring British, Americans together.

WASHINGTON — Claire Chennault, a big leathery man who speaks with a gruff intensity, has a plan for starting fires against Stalinism in Asia.

The famous Flying Tiger general who fought with the Chinese Nationalists has been pounding on doors in Washington and saying: "Let's arm the hatred against Russia which is spreading across China. The greatest fear of the Communist is of the guerrillas—a million of whom hold great pockets of the mainland. We should drop weapons to them, and smuggle munitions across the borders."

"The spirit of revolt is so strong in China today," says Chennault, "that Communist members don't dare go out alone for fear of being ambushed. The Communists control only the cities, the rail centers and the ports. The best troops are engaged in Korea, Tibet and along the Indo-Chinese border. But the guerrillas have only the arms they can steal. If we give them help, they can take the pressure off Korea."

According to the intelligence slipped out of China to General Chennault, this is the picture of the Chinese mainland: Mao Tse-Tung, the titular boss of Red China, is acting as a moderator between quarrelling Communist war lords and pressure from Moscow.

The general in command of Chinese troops fighting in Korea, Lin Piao, is Russian-trained and violently pro-Soviet. When the Kremlin strategy switched this Spring, away from the conquest of Hong Kong, Lin Piao moved his 350,000 troops north to Manchuria.

Protecting the Chinese coastal area in the south, he left playboy Gen. Chen Yi, who has 500,000 troops stretched from Shanghai to Canton. General Chen, noted for his conceit and his drinking, is bitterly attacked by General Lin of being a "bad Communist."

So They Say

There's powerful support in Washington for the idea of paying for the war as we go. This is probably the first time in history that there is virtually unanimous opinion to do that.

Ralph Robey, chief economist for the National Association of Manufacturers, says: "If ever a time imposed a test, not alone of strength, but of character, upon our people, this is the time."

Secretary of State Dean Acheson, who is vigorously rearmament of the United States should be undertaken not in any spirit of defeatism, but with high hopes for freedom and peace.

Some prices are clearly out of line and should be controlled. Rep. Thomas Jenkins (R-Ohio), says: "There is no amount of discipline in the world that will make me vote for the Brannan (farm) plan or socialized medicine."

We believe that recent events in China may present a case-history which, if adequately explored, documented and reported, will serve further to alert the people of Asia and the Pacific and indeed of all the world to a danger to which none of us can be indifferent.

Stop spending; little lending; no giving. Rep. Robert F. Rich (R-Pa.), offering a six-word slogan for the "Lame Duck" Congress.

Have a Laugh

An Irishman said, "The flea is a lively critter; when you put your finger on 'im, he's not there."

And of another creature, he declared, "The frog is a remarkable animal; when he runs, he hops; and when he stands up, he sits down."

And I've always liked the one about the Irishman who was asked why he was painting a fence so fast. He answered: "I don't have much paint so I'm hurrying to finish before it gives out."

What's Right?

You are getting ready to leave a party given in honor of an out-of-town houseguest of your hostess. Hostess says "Good-bye" to your host and says but don't make a point of searching out the guest of honor as you leave.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

"Which suit would you choose as a trump suit?" asks my friend Alfred Sheinwald, who acted as my eyes and ears during the recent world's championship bridge tournament in Bermuda.

The answer, as shown in a hand from the Bermuda tournament, will be a surprise to many players. When my teammates encountered this hand in the tournament, Howard Bohenan made eleven tricks at hearts with the South cards.

East ruffed the opening lead in dummy, got to his hand twice with high diamonds to ruff his remaining clubs in dummy, and then led the ace and king of spades.

East ruffed the second spade and returned a club. Schenken ruffed, cashed the ace of trumps, and led another trump. All the trumps dropped, so that was that.

Played at hearts, the only question is how many heart tricks must be lost. Schenken was a bit lucky to lose only two heart tricks (a better defense would have caused him to lose another), but he'd have had to be very unlucky to lose more than three heart tricks.

In the other room, the English team held the North-South cards; and they played the hand at four spades. In the combined hands they held just as many spades as hearts, and the spades were stronger.

The trouble was that North still had to lose the same two heart tricks—but he also had to worry about the spades. When they broke badly, down he went. North could have made his contract if he had played West for spade length from the very beginning, but he'd have had no chance for his contract if East had held the four spades.

Nevertheless, four spades went down. The moral is that when you have a choice between two long suits for a game contract, the weaker suit usually makes the better trump.

For a slam contract you have to bid the stronger suit as a general rule, since you can't afford to name a trump in which you will lose two tricks.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Economic Warfare Today Presents Many Complications

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Waging economic warfare in the present international emergency presents some new problems. There is one school of thought in Washington that the right way to deal with the Communist world would be to boycott it, isolate it, shut it off completely from all trade with western civilization.

It is argued that this is the logical end development to the policy of trying to contain international communism. It is argued that this strategy will succeed where trying to deal with communism and get along with it has failed.

The question this poses is a nice balance between the requirements of the two worlds. The western world is not entirely self-sufficient. The Communist world needs principally machinery. The non-Communist world needs raw materials in ever-increasing supply.

Today's world scramble for raw materials has many queer angles. One paradox is that part of the shortage is directly attributable to Europe's amazing postwar recovery.

With all the non-Communist European countries except perhaps Greece and Austria now producing more goods than they did before World War II, and for bigger populations, they're naturally chewing up more raw materials at a faster rate than ever before.

Europe's dollar "shortage" rapidly is disappearing. But Europe now can't buy all the raw materials she needs because there aren't enough to go around.

There has not been adequate increase in the worldwide production of raw materials, except perhaps in oil. That is where the largest share of the big international investment money has gone since the war.

Opening of the new pipelines from the Middle East's oil fields to the Mediterranean will soon greatly facilitate European supply. The Communist world may have an oil shortage in a major war, and it wants Middle East production badly.

A major difficulty for the western world is that so many of the strategic raw materials are produced in the so-called under-developed countries. Tin and rubber from Southeast Asia are the prime examples.

Countries in this area have been treated as colonies too long. They are all now handicapped by a combination of social unrest, nationalist ambition and Communist agitation. This makes their economic development hazardous.

There are leaks through the iron curtain that are hard to plug. When the Marshall Plan first was being discussed, there were some calculations that trade between Eastern and Western Europe was necessary for the survival of both.

This trade never has reached the proportions anticipated, but it is most troublesome in economic warfare. Main supply routes have been through Berlin and Western Germany, or through the "free ports" like Antwerp. There also have been direct sales by Swiss, British, Belgian and Swedish business firms.

They rationalize this trade by the somewhat political arguments that their countries are "up against the iron curtain," while the United States is relatively safe, $100 million away.

Also, Sweden has depended on what used to be German but is now Polish coal. Britain needs Russian lumber. Belgian and Swiss industries need markets for their manufactured goods, in order to live. They need grains and food products. Deprive Western Europe of its trade with the east and the only solution would be a great reduction of Europe's population. So run the arguments.

The Swedes and the Swiss point to the fact that they are neutral. They call attention to the fact that the United States, as a neutral, supplied scrap iron and petroleum to Japan before Pearl Harbor.

Finland must supply Russia with fixed quantities of machinery as reparations. The United States has even aided Finland on this, in order to help keep the country independent.

On the other side of the world, the British trade with Communist China through Hong Kong—a major irritant to the United States. It has been most profitable trade for the British. They hate to give it up. They recognize Communist China in the hope that it will help them hold Hong Kong. Red China now needs that free port.

Yet Hong Kong was a pushover for the Japanese, once they decided to take it. It will be equally easy for Red China to pick, once it decides the time is ripe.

Today China's only other source of supply for manufactured goods is Russia, which is a long overland haul. Russia's ability to supply China also is doubtful. A blockade of the China coast might soon reveal that Eastern Asia is an economic vacuum which could not long sustain a major war, in spite of its vast superiority in manpower.

Q—When were steel wire nails first made commercially in America? A—In 1875.

Q—What effect does the bursting of an atomic bomb have on the weather? A—Only a negligible effect, experienced to date indicate.

Q—Who composed "Silent Night, Holy Night"? A—The text was written by Rev. Joseph Mohr and set to music by Franz Gruber in 1818. It was known simply as "The Tyrolean Song," because it had first come from the Tyrolean Alps and with that title it was printed in 1843 for the first time.

Q—How does Buffalo rank among fresh water ports? A—The Port of Buffalo, with 37 miles of waterfront, is the greatest fresh water port in the world in value of tonnage.

Q—What is the world's most common metal? A—Aluminum, which has been estimated to make up seven per cent of the earth's crust. It is more common than iron, copper, lead or any other metal we might name.

13 Lucky Guys FRANK R. ADAMS

MARGIE LOU reached out to put her hand on Eddie's arm, but remembered, "I'm sorry it had to happen to you. Is it pretty bad?" They were on a darker side street now.

"It's a lot easier for us than for you. We know everything," all right. You and the others don't. Living and dying aren't so important, really. You find that out after you've done both. The only thing bad is when you meet somebody like you, Margie, and it's too late.

Margie gave a contented woman's laugh. "It's not too late. We can be together this evening. We'll belong to each other forever."

Forever—the sad, futile word that lovers use. For Eddie there was only the time until dawn. He couldn't tell her yet. Let her have what happiness she could until they had to part again.

"She went on planning, as women do, for an impossible, sorrowless future. "We won't ever have to be separated. Why, we could really be married. You could say, 'I take you, Margie Lou, to be my lawfully wedded wife.' Say that, Eddie."

He did. "And I say, I take you, Eddie, to be my lawfully wedded husband, to love and cherish forever and ever. Will you do us—?" "Yes, Eddie, it's happened already." She began to weep.

"You can come in with me," Margie Lou told Eddie shyly. "My room isn't very large, but you'll have to get used to it."

Margie Lou was wrong about going in. The door at the head of the outside stairs was locked. There was no light inside. No sound either. Fastened to the screen door was a white envelope.

"Oh, my goodness," called Margie Lou. "I was supposed to be home hours ago to get Aunt Ellen's supper. Why does it do this to me?" "Does what?" Eddie inquired.

She removed the note from the screen and read it under a street lamp. On a sheet of ruled tablet paper was scrawled in pencil:

"I have locked the door and taken poison. Nobody cares if I live or die. I've done it again! To block for you to come in from lobby-cats are around. Go away and never come back, you snit-bird."

Eddie laughed right out loud. "Hold it, kid! I'd bet that old witch is just having herself a time making trouble for you. You can't get in, but I can, wait."

Eddie was gone only a moment. He came back chucking "Aunt Ellen is sitting in a chair near the door getting ready to put on an act when you break in."

"But I still don't know what to do. If I stay out all night, she'll make a miserable—punish me for months."

Eddie looked at his big hand respectfully. "This was only real talk. I spank the blythe bells out of her."

A low bark interrupted him. "It's Duke here, Eddie!"

"Yeah. And someone else. Excuse me, Margie Lou," he apologized. "This won't make sense, she's talking to somebody you can't see, but I'll explain later. What goes, Joe?"

"Plenty, Sarge. We need you and your girl friend right away, double pronto. The stinkaroo and his jackal are drunk and on their way to the barkeep in Max Lange's car—he can still drive— to carry out a tiny little plan to burn up the whole place and all the barges to get even for having been through it."

North, East Texas Get Small Amount Of Sleet And Rain

By The Associated Press
A small amount of sleet and freezing drizzle fell in some parts of North and East Texas early Thursday and Wednesday night, but not enough to break the drought in those regions.

Conditions which caused the rain and sleet are moving out of the state, the Weather Bureau reported, and there's little chance of more precipitation in the immediate future.

The sleet was reported at Wichita Falls and Abilene. Freezing rain was reported at scattered points, including Sulphur Springs, Denton, Fort Worth, Dallas and Texarkana.

Light rains were reported early Thursday at Beaumont, Houston, Galveston, Palacios and Lufkin. Most of the precipitation was light, but Beaumont had a moderate fall of .43 inch.

By mid-morning, most of West Texas and the Rio Grande Valley was clear.

Occasional rain or drizzle was forecast for Southeast and extreme East Texas during the day. Friday, warmer weather is expected throughout the state.

Early morning readings were around 14 degrees where skies had cleared in West Texas, while East Texas, which had a cloud cover, reported minimum temperatures in the 30's.

Temperature readings below 20 included Lubbock 12, Childress 13, Amarillo, Wink, Midland and Dalhart 14, Ozona 16, Big Spring 17, Junction 18 and Wichita Falls 19.

Colors of stars differ depending upon their temperatures and atmosphere: Sirius and Vega, the hottest, are blue-white.

Relief Comes To Chilled Midwest

By The Associated Press
The snow-covered Midwest got some relief Thursday from the winter season's coldest weather and the end of the sub-zero blasts for the Eastern states appeared in sight.

Brief south and southwest winds brought warmer weather to the chilled midcontinent. Temperatures, which in many North Central areas dropped to record lows for the date Wednesday, moderated from the Missouri Valley eastward through the Great Lakes region to the North Atlantic states.

But it still was on the cold side in many parts of the Eastern half of the country. Generally temperatures in the Midwest were above zero as compared to the biting cold of Wednesday when readings were as low as 36 below in Wisconsin and 20 below and lower in other areas.

A low in Wisconsin Thursday was three below at Grantsburg.

U. S. Reds Draw 'Iron Curtain' Around Parleys

NEW YORK —(AP)— American Communists drew a miniature "iron curtain" around their convention sessions Thursday after opening rallies at which U. S. policies were blasted as war-making.

Approximately 2,600 delegates—at three widely separated rallies Wednesday night—cheered and applauded as speakers denounced American rearmament plans and the presence of U. S. troops in Asia.

The biggest gathering — about 1,500 persons — was at the Rockland Palace in Upper Manhattan. About 600 attended a Brooklyn rally in the Aperia Manor. Another 500 met at Hunts Point Palace in the Bronx.

Where Thursday's closed sessions were to be held was a party secret. Leaders would give no information, except to say reports would be issued at the end of each day's work. The convention runs through Saturday.

Hot Wire Causes Some Excitement

Police reported an electric wire fell to the pavement in the 1800 block of West Wall Street early Thursday morning and caused a little excitement before the current was turned off.

The wire sputtered and flames burned a portion of the pavement.

Bids Asked For Sweeper, Kettle

Bids will be received by the city Friday on the purchase of a new street sweeper and an asphalt kettle.

City Manager W. H. Oswalt said Thursday that Friday also is the deadline for submitting bids on construction of a sewer line in a portion of the Bedford Place addition.

MIDLANDERS RETURN FROM ELSA, OKLAHOMA CITY

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wycoff have returned to Midland following a visit with their daughter, Mrs. Horace Smith, in Elsa, Texas, and a trip to Oklahoma City where they were called by the serious illness of Wycoff's father, J. P. Wycoff.

They were accompanied to Oklahoma City by their son, Glenn, and daughter, Freda. They returned to Midland when the condition of Wycoff's father had improved.

Engineers Lead Off With Parley To Study Truce

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Engineers led off Thursday with the first of four railroad operating union meetings to consider a three-year truce in their wage dispute with the nation's carriers.

As 125 general chairmen of the 80,000-member Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers convened here, their grand chief expressed dissatisfaction with the three-year peace proposal reached in Washington negotiations last week.

James P. Shields, BLE head, said he would make no recommendation, one way or the other, to the general chairmen, but noted:

"We don't like the three-year moratorium on further wage movements. And there are not sufficient increases for road engineers."

When the White House announced the agreement on the wage issue last Thursday, prospects appeared bright that the operating rail union's pay dispute would not carry over into a third year. The union demands have been backed by strike threats — one of which led to government seizure of the railroads last August 26 — and more recently by wildcat strikes which hobbled Christmas mails.

Rites At McCamey For J. O. Carl

McCAMEY — Funeral services for J. O. Carl, who died at his home here Wednesday, were scheduled at 3:30 p.m. Thursday in the First Methodist Church. The Rev. Ross Welch was to officiate. Interment was scheduled in the McCamey cemetery.

Carl died of a heart ailment. He was an insurance man and a former city official.

Survivors include the widow, two sons, a daughter, two brothers and a sister.

Don't Forget The Firemen's Ball

City firemen were beginning to slick up Thursday for their annual Firemen's Ball Friday night at the VFW Hall.

They pointed out that tickets are still available at the fire station here and the one in Odessa and proceeds will be used to purchase emergency equipment for the department.

Educated Cop Who Couldn't Get Ahead Is Going To Retire

BOSTON —(AP)— Dime pounding a beat is Patrolman Edwin D. Flanders, A.B., B.L.L., LL.D.

But he wasn't promoted; he's retiring after 23 years in the department's lowest grade — despite his three college degrees.

The 60-year-old cop said he took some examinations for promotion to sergeant but never made it.

He's a bachelor of arts from Peria Law School, a bachelor of literary interpretation from Emerson College and a doctor of laws from Boston University.

Flanders says he has no special plans for his retirement but "might write a book."

UN Troops Leave Behind Worst Part Of Cold Weather

TOKYO —(AP)— United Nations troops have left behind them the worst part of the cold war in the hot war for Korea.

The withdrawal from the northeast front removed the biggest weather obstacle Allied units have yet encountered in this mountain-laced peninsula. Climatic conditions have improved generally for United Nations troops fighting on the Northwest front since they pulled below the 38th parallel.

A little more than two months of winter remain before the biting chilled winds sweeping out of the north and west begin shifting to bring warmer south and east winds from the Pacific.

The battleground today is far from the extreme mountainous Northern border where some of the bitterest cold of the war was experienced.

United States and British Marines and the American Third and Seventh Divisions found the elements as much of an enemy as the Chinese and North Korean Communists. They suffered more casualties from frozen and frostbitten toes, feet, hands and faces than they did from the Reds.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

A marriage license was issued Wednesday by County Clerk Lucille Johnson to Carl Thurman and Jackie Samuel Hale.

In 1421, approximately 100,000 lives were lost when huge sea waves burst the dikes protecting the Netherlands and destroyed 72 villages.

Frans List, piano virtuoso, was founder of a type of playing in which the instrument attempted all resources of an orchestra.

The exceptionally thick hair of the Labrador retriever makes it a good dog for hunting water fowl in cold weather.

Retail Prices Of Many Foods Are Higher This Week

By The Associated Press
Retail prices of many foods pushed higher this week as cold weather spread across most of the nation, whetting appetites and stimulating food buying.

stock markets where snowstorms delayed or reduced shipments. Virtually the only meat item to show any notable downward was smoked hams, trimmed two to four cents a pound in many stores.

Top grade eggs were unchanged to five cents a dozen lower in most places as wholesale prices eased a little more following their sharp break a couple of weeks ago.

Chickens and turkeys held about unchanged from last week. Some lamb cuts were off a shade in scattered sections, but retail meat sources said higher wholesale quotations indicated an upward trend in consumer prices.

Butter production recently has been too low to supply the consumer market. Some trade authorities say this sharp cut in surplus butter stocks may result in a price jump, contending the only thing that has held down prices has been the government's willingness to sell its holdings at comparatively low quotations.

Almost Anything Will Aid Cold, Apparently, If You Are Convinced Of Results

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter
NEW YORK — "All untreated colds last seven days, while a treated cold can be cured in a week."

So runs an old saying, which sums up a lot of the centuries-old frustration of the human race in battling its most common affliction.

Here's the Administration's national list of foods likely to be relatively low-priced in January because of abundant supply: apples, oranges, grapefruit, cranberries, potatoes, onions, sauerkraut, pork, broiling chickens, shrimp, frozen fish fillets, cottage cheese, peanut butter and honey.

There's still no known cure, but many treatments to ease the discomfort. No wretch in the rheumy stages of a cold has ever suffered from lack of advice as to how to treat it.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Chased The Weasel

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, heard a song about a monkey who chased a weasel. "Around and around the vinegar jug—the monkey chased the weasel," said the words of the song. And then the rest of the words were something about the monkey thinking it was all for fun, and "pop" went the weasel. But you have heard the song, I guess.

Mugwump hadn't heard it before. He thought and thought about it, trying to decide what really had happened at the last of the song when "pop" went the weasel. Yes, and what did happen really? What was the noise of "pop"?

Mugwump didn't know, and Daddy Ringtail didn't know, and so away they walked down the Elephant Path, all to find the Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf. The Hufen was asleep in his hollow tree house, but his eyes came open was the Hufen Puffen. Yes, and what did make the noise of "pop" at the end of the song? What did happen to the weasel? Well no, for that matter, what happened to the monkey who was chasing? Yes and what became of the vinegar jug where around and around they were chasing?

Oh, there was no way for our friends to find the answer to all these questions, but they knew one thing they could do. They could try the story in the song to happen again. Why, they had a monkey who could chase like the one in the song, Mugwump could do it. Of course, they didn't have a weasel, but the Hufen could play like a weasel is what he was instead of a wolf. Yes, and they didn't have a vinegar jug, either, but why couldn't they chase around a tree instead? No reason at all why they couldn't, and so they made ready to do it.

International Boundary At Parallel 38 Never Was Intended By Democracies

By BELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK—(AP)—Parallel 38, where it bisects Korea, is a blood-red line now in American military history. Should the United Nations' forces have stopped there? Would the Chinese Communists have remained neutral—at least in the military sense—if the Eighth Army had remained south of the line?

There are no easy answers to these questions. They will be debated for many years in the study of this first armed collision between the Communist world and the free nations. When the Eighth Army went over the parallel it moved toward a date with destiny. These were the issues:

Parallel 38 was not, and never was intended to be an international boundary between two different Korean "states." It was a World War II military "phase line," meaning that it was fixed, for convenience, by Russian and American military commanders in the Orient. For administrative purposes, the Russians agreed to handle the surrender of the Japanese Army north of parallel 38; the Americans disarmed and demobilized the Japanese south of the line.

That was all. The creation of a "north" and "south" Korea with separate governments, separate armies, and separate areas never was envisaged (by the democracies, anyway) when the post-war settlements were being made.

Into Actual Boundary
Soviet advisors to the North Koreans, however, quickly turned parallel 38 into an actual boundary. The Iron Curtain dropped on it, and two Korean "states" thus came into being, in fact if not in law.

The UN army was created, last June and July, for two purposes. One was to destroy the North Korean forces which invaded the South. The other was to clear the way for the Korean people, unimpeded by Communist overlord, to establish a single government for both halves of the country.

The Eighth Army reached the 38th parallel on October 1. At that time, the Korean Red Army virtually had been destroyed as an organized fighting force. It was splintered into countless bands, ranging from a few hundred men to groups of regimental size (3,000) who had fled to the hills, for the most part, abandoning their heavy equipment, breaking off contact; in short, running for their lives.

Only a few of the original 16 Red divisions were pulling back in good order into North Korea.

But all of them, organized and disorganized, had orders to make their way through the mountains by back roads and goat-paths, to rendezvous points on the other side of parallel 38. In scores of places, the Eighth Army found these written instructions, or took the documents from captured offices.

North Of Border
The Red plan was to reorganize north of the "border."

In short, if the Eighth Army had halted there, the Reds would have carried out this plan, safe and unmolested in the vast reaches of North Korea. It would have been a matter of a month or two, at best, before they had re-grouped, received new arms and equipment from China, and been ready again for the field.

They then would have returned to the attack, at a time and place of their own choosing, while the Eighth Army sat quietly waiting for the blow to fall.

Hence, from the military point of view, there was no alternative. The enemy had been defeated. Not to have pursued the shattered Reds and completed the job would have been a classic of military stupidity.

Moreover, the second objective—a unified Korea under one government—could not have been attained. The Communist regime still was in Pyongyang. And with Communist troops controlling the North, no UN commission could possibly have gone up to supervise the proposed Korean elections.

Thus, from the political view as well, the job was only half finished when the army reached the parallel.

Publication Tells Of Dangers To U. S. In Nerve Gas, Germs

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON—(AP)—An enemy using nerve gas or germs might be able to halt production of American atomic weapons without ever dropping a bomb or firing a shot. Or he might paralyze, literally, the military nerve center at the Pentagon.

These possibilities are implicit in the text of a grim new book issued by the Civilian Defense Administration. Its purpose is to tell state and local defense organizations, and the people, what to expect in atomic era warfare and what to do about surviving.

The book, "Health Services and Special Weapons Defense," includes much of the previously published guidance for defense methods in atomic attack. But it also reaches far deeper into the subjects of chemical, germ and radiological warfare than any other document the government has published.

Much of the book concerns means of saving those who have been injured, but there is a chapter on what to do with the bodies of those killed by blast, poison gas, germs or fission products emitting lethal rays.

Here are some of the things the Civil Defense Administration has to say about the new weapons that may be used against the civilian population or against groups engaged in defense work:

Biological warfare—Germ warfare is neither the "absolute weapon" capable of destroying the entire population or large cities nor an impractical weapon that presents no dangers. "The truth lies between these extremes." It may be directed either against man or against the livestock and plants he eats. The materials of biological warfare—bacteria or poisons produced from bacteria—might be distributed by saboteurs before open war started or during actual hostilities. (CIA officials say no instances of such sabotage have been discovered so far).

The germs could be smuggled into the United States or spawned "within the United States by workers in clandestine laboratories."

They could be used, in addition to general attack on urban populations, "to delay military or industrial mobilization and production."

They could be put into the air circulating systems of "strategic buildings" or into the atmosphere surrounding these buildings or big war industry plants. (Thus key personnel, difficult or impossible to replace quickly in such spots as Hanford, Oak Ridge, Los Alamos or the Pentagon could be sickened or killed.)

Nerve gas—Forms of nerve gases were developed by the Germans during World War II, but not used. Nerve gas is nearly colorless and odorless. Because its action is rapid, any mechanical detection methods would have to be automatic and give the warning in a matter of seconds. There are common drugs for arresting the progress of the convulsion and suffocation produced by the effects of the gas on the nerves, but they must be administered quickly. Nerve gas could be delivered by bombs, shells or "guided missiles from distant sources." A bomb would have an effective area radiating out up to a half mile from its gas-releasing explosion, but this does not mean death would come to all within the zone. It also could be used, presumably, in the same surreptitious manner as germ weapons against strategic buildings or installations.

Thus the three new weapons—radiological poison, biological material and nerve gas—can be used much more "selectively" than the atomic bomb. They can be aimed at certain groups within a population or at the whole population of a city.

Boy Scouts Are Equipped For First Aid In Cases Of Emergency In Civil Defense Plan

This is the second in a series of articles relating to Boy Scouts' plans to supplement Civil Defense activities.

By JIM LAWSON
Boy Scout troops are equipped with first aid equipment and the Scouts have been drilled in application of first aid, so their services in this capacity will be available for the civil defense project.

Scouts do not claim to be experts in this field and their equipment is limited. They realize that their part in the civil defense program, principally, would be to assist more qualified persons.

Each Scout troop is equipped with first aid essentials such as splints, bandages and improvised stretchers. With this material they can apply first aid for lacerations and bone fractures.

They are also well drilled in treatment for shock and application of artificial respiration. They are capable of diagnosing what first aid a victim might require, and know whether or not an injured person should be moved.

Self first aid is included in the Scout training, and the pressure points used to stop arterial bleeding are common knowledge among the Scout first aiders.

In the recent Buffalo Trail Council first aid contest, over 300 Scouts participated. Teams from Midland carried off top honors in the Scout and Explorer divisions, which proves the Scouts in this area are adept at administering first aid.

In case of an emergency, the Scouts have a plan of mobilization. The scoutmaster would contact his two assistants, who in turn would notify the four patrol leaders. Each patrol consists of eight Scouts, usually, so the leader would contact his assistant and he and the assistant would personally get in touch with four Scouts. Through this system the patrol leader, who must contact only five people, has the largest task.

The names, addresses and phone numbers of the Scouts in the troop will be available and the responsible persons will use telephones, bicycles, or automobiles, if available, to carry out their assignment as quickly as possible.

The Scouts, by learning the essentials of first aid and awaiting their services to the civil defense project, are still adhering to their motto, "Be Prepared."

It's Party Time For Teen-Agers

SOFT DRINKS spark teen-age buffet on New Year's Eve.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Start the New Year off with a bang for your teen-agers and their friends. Lots to eat, an unlimited supply of chilled assorted carbonated beverages served right in the bottles and lots of fun for everybody—that's the 1951 recipe.

To solve the "big eats" problem economically but with a flourish that will delight the teen-age set, try this special recipe. It's a tangy, sweet-tart combination of meat, cheese and crisp green pepper, made with a carbonated beverage base.

Serve this Teentime Rabbit with an assortment of things to put it on in separate bowls, such as cooked rice garnished with pimiento, crisp cereal flakes, Chinese noodles and potato chips. Let the boys and girls mix some or all of these on their plates and top with the rabbit.

slightly beaten, 1 green pepper, chopped.

Dice meat into 1/4-inch cubes. Cover with contents of 1 bottle of the cola and let stand 1 hour, then drain. Slice cheese into top of double boiler. Heat over boiling water. When cheese has melted, stir in seasonings, vinegar, 3/4 cup of freshly-opened cola beverage; blend, then stir in egg until thickened. Add meat and green pepper. Cover and keep warm over hot water until ready to serve.

Double the recipe, if the party has hearty eaters, or is more than six. For fancier fare, ham, cut in cubes, may be used in place of the luncheon meat; but give it the same cola-marinating treatment.

Savory Celery

Blend together equal amounts of cream cheese, mashed liverwurst and a little minced onion; moisten to paste consistency with milk or cream. Stuff celery stalks with mixture; chill before serving.

Teentime Rabbit
(Serves 4-6)

One 12-ounce can luncheon meat, 2 bottles cola carbonated beverage, 1/2 pound packaged processed American cheese, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard, 2 teaspoons vinegar, 1 egg,

I Cor. 13:10-11; II Cor. 10:3-8; I John 2:14-17

A LADDER FOR MIDDLE AGE

We now present a ladder for middle age:

1. Watch for decaying enthusiasms and ideals. Look out for a desire for softness and comfort. Remember that if "heaven lies about us in our infancy," then the world lies about our middle age. You are very liable to settle down, become safe—and decay. A middle-aged woman said in one of our Ashtams: "I'm about to jell into the kind of a woman I don't want to be."
2. Watch the growing power of money over you. The person may gradually become a purse-stuffed and stuffy.
3. Watch the growing power of the crowd upon you. In middle age we cease being different, take on protective resemblance to our environment, fit into the crowd—and die of suffocation.
4. Watch for a flare-up of sex. "The dangerous forties" must not be extended to "the dangerous fifties" as the span of life grows longer. Don't be afraid of this period, for it has its compensations, but watch and control this period of "flare-up." If you are as good a man at 40 as you were at 20 you may take courage.
5. Watch your middle. There are four signs of approaching age: baldness, bifocals, bridges, and bulges! Watch those bulges—you may have God fattened out of you.
6. Be converted at 40, on general principles. If you were converted in youth, be reconverted along about middle age to take you through the days ahead with victory and a growing spiritual vitality.
7. Remain a hero to your child. A youth in one of our meetings, after his father had spoken: "I want to say ditto to what my father has said, only putting in some exclamation points." Your child dittoes you, with accentuation.
8. Keep interests outside of your immediate family, so that when the children grow up and leave, you will not feel lost.

9. Keep a growing mind and soul after the body stops growing. "Education is change"—then be continually educated.

10. Keep a living center—God—amid all the changes.

My Father God, I am now getting to the time of life when the fires of life tend to burn low. Oh, don't let them go out within me. For if they die, then I die. As I go along I am gathering experience—help me to make that larger experience into full expression. Help me to grow in usefulness and power and love. I thank Thee that I can and will. Amen.

Reckless Flying Charges Are Filed

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — Reckless flying charges were on file Thursday against Melvin Davis, accused of carrying too many passengers toward Camp Peck, La.

Airport Manager Dewey Doyall halted his plane at Longview, Texas. He said Davis told him he let off one passenger at Paris, Texas, and still had eight in the five-passenger Cessna plane.

Bradley Hands Hoosiers First Loss In Close Tilt

NEW YORK—(AP)—None of the basketball-playing Bradley regulars wears glasses but Coach Forrest Anderson might take them to the doctor for a checkup.

The boys came up Wednesday night with a case of farsightedness. They had their eyes trained so hard on a Saturday night revenge battle with Kentucky down in New Orleans that powerful Indiana almost upset them, and before the home folks, too.

But Charley Grover, an old Bradley reliable, dropped in the winning field goal with 14 seconds left to hand the Hoosiers their first loss 64-62.

Before that Indiana's shorter cagers used a preening defense to fluster the country's No. 2 team. The Big Ten team led 51-43 with 12 minutes to play but six straight free throws pulled Bradley up close again. Free throws won the game for the Braves. They tried 35 and sank 28. The No. 5 Hoosiers had a 25-18 field-goal mark.

Bradley will carry a 10-0 record into the Sugar Bowl tournament against St. Louis (8-1) Friday night. If the Braves win, they will meet the winner of the Kentucky-Syracuse game. They're hoping to best Kentucky makes it. The Southerners, No. 1 team in this week's Associated Press poll, whipped the Braves 71-66 in the same tournament last December.

Midland Teams To Enter Crane Tourney

Two Midland Independent cage teams—the Rotary Engineers and Western Plastic Company—will enter an Independent basketball tournament at Crane, January 4-5-6.

The field is expected to be strong, with Bill Hale Motors and Holder Grocery of Odessa fielding entries, along with a team each from Andrews and Crane. Several other teams may enter.

No announcement of the brackets have been made yet, but is expected within a few days.

Western Plastic will journey to Garden City Tuesday night for a warm-up game with a team there. Rotary will engage Holder Grocery of Odessa in the John M. Cowden Junior High School gym at 8 p.m. Friday. Rotary has won four games without a defeat. Western Plastic has yet to see cage action.

Cotton Bowl Cage Meet Opens Thursday

DALLAS—(AP)—Texas Christian plays Texas Tech and Southern Methodist opposes North Texas State Thursday night in opening the Cotton Bowl All-College Basketball tournament.

Friday night TCU plays North Texas State while Southern Methodist meets Texas Tech. Four high-scorers will vie in the four games. Jack Brown of Southern Methodist has scored 109 points this year in nine games. George McLeod of Texas Christian has rolled up 108 in eight games. Ed Kelly of North Texas State has pushed in 96 points. Paul Nolen of Texas Tech boasts the season's best scoring mark for a single game. He tallied 32 against Toledo University.

Bulldogs Leave For Howard Payne Meet; Brooks Not Playing

A squad of 11 Midland High School basketball boys left Midland by private cars at 6:55 a.m. Thursday, to enter the Howard Payne College Invitational basketball tournament.

Midland will clash with Pampa in the opening round of play at 2:10 p.m. Sweetwater and Olney get the tournament underway at 1 p.m.

The Bulldogs will be without the services of Ralph Brooks, six-foot, one-inch center. Brooks is working during the holidays and did not make the trip, according to Coach F. D. (Red) Rutledge. The loss of Brooks made the Midland cause seem even more dismal. With a 2-3 won-lost record, Midland is a decided underdog to the Pampa team that has tasted defeat but one time in seven starts.

A total of 16 teams is in the three-day tourney that will run through Saturday night. Each team is assured of playing at least two games in the double elimination go.

Midland boys who made the trip were: Reed Gilmore, Robert Keisling, John Van Buskirk, Dale Stice, Norman Drake, Buddy Johnson, Corky Moss, Roy Kinsey, Winifred Brinson, Bob Burks and John Wright.

Rowland To Add Evidence To Theory When He Performs Saturday For West All-Stars

ABILENE—(AP)—Brad Rowland will take the field for the West All-Stars in San Francisco Saturday to add testimony to the theory that it's the size of the man rather than the size of the school that counts.

As Vernon Hilliard, athletic director for 607-strong McMurry College pointed out: "Brad's selection proves that football's greatest honors are open to players from small colleges."

Professional scouts and sports writers agree Rowland could star in big-time competition; consequently, many fans have lamented the fact Rowland did not perform for a Southwest Conference school.

A large school could have made good use of Rowland, but because of the specialist-and-platoon style of play, he probably would not have been recognized over the nation as the all-around player he actually is—a runner, passer, punter, and defensive standout.

Near Home Town

Rowland chose McMurry because he would be permitted to play varsity ball as a freshman and because the squad would be small enough to guarantee him plenty of action. Also, he liked the college itself, 40 miles from his home town of Hamlin.

From the time Rowland, in his first game, helped lead McMurry to a 22-7 upset over New Mexico A&M, in September, 1947, he was in the limelight. He gained an All-Texas Conference first team berth for four years—the first time in his history this was accomplished by any player.

For three of the four years he was named "most valuable player" in the conference.

Twice The Associated Press selected him on its Little All-America first eleven.

Greater Achievement

A Little All-America selection may not loom so mighty in the eyes of the casual observer, but in one sense it represents a greater achievement than making an All-America.

All-America players are chosen from the approximately 150 major schools. Little All-Americans come from the ranks of the minors, numbering four or five times as many colleges.

Selectors are not likely to be influenced by pictures in magazines' mid-Summer football pre-views. Without the benefit of high-powered publicity, the Little All-Americans are chosen on a basis of recommendations from coaches and sports writers who have seen them in action.

Bill Guinn, West Texas Sportsman, Dies At San Angelo

SAN ANGELO—One of West Texas' most sports-minded men, William Alexander (Bill) Guinn, 56, died here at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday at Shannon Memorial Hospital.

Guinn suffered an attack of virus pneumonia about a year ago and never completely recovered. About six weeks ago he became seriously ill.

He made a fortune in the oil business and since moving to his ranch on Dove Creek near Knickerbocker in 1940 he has been best known to West Texans as president of the San Angelo Colts baseball team. He also was vice president of the Longhorn League.

Bill Guinn's first love was sports, particularly baseball. He was known as the "Father of Guinn Field," which was so named by the other stockholders in honor of the time and effort he put into bringing San Angelo a winning team.

Mexia Texans To Meet Louisianians In Milk Bowl Tilt

WACO—(AP)—The New Orleans Mighty Mites, boasting one of the best bowl game records in the nation, will battle the Mexia Texans here Saturday in the second annual Milk Bowl.

The Mites, a team of boys not over 14 years of age and not weighing more than 100 pounds, are the cream of the crop in a city-wide recreation department of football leagues in New Orleans. Included are two boys picked on the All-America kid team selected by the Pop Warner Foundation of Philadelphia, a 20-year-old eastern leaver of pee-wee teams.

They are Richey Pettibon, brother of John Pettibon, Notre Dame star, and Roy Brondum. This year's team has won seven games and tied one, scoring 183 points to 18 for the opposition. The Mexia team, coached by J. C. Collier, former college star and now a railway express employe, have won three and lost one in a four-game schedule, scoring 82 points to 18.

Ben Hogan Eyes Masters Tourney

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Ben Hogan, National Open golf champion, said his next regular tournament appearance would be the Masters at Augusta, Ga., April 5-8.

He returned here recently from Hollywood, Calif., where he has been advisor in the production of a movie based on his life.

There had been some speculation Hogan planned to return to tournament competition in the Los Angeles Open next month. That's the tournament where he launched his comeback last January after a near-fatal automobile accident in 1948.

The University of Arizona basketball team is aiming for its sixth consecutive Border Conference title this season.

Oklahoma, Kentucky Coaches Tell Why Teams Got To Bowl

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—Oklahoma and Kentucky followed different roads to the Sugar Bowl, but that'll be hard to realize when the two football teams get into action here Monday.

Both teams throw a lot of passes, use a lot of deception and win a lot of games.

But there is a big difference between them. Oklahoma, now working out at Biloxi, Miss., rose to become the nation's No. 1 team, because its morale wouldn't allow a defeat.

Kentucky took its place in the national spotlight because its team was willing to pay the price. Kentucky is holding drills at Baton Rouge, La.

From Man Who Knows

The description of each team came from the man who knows it best—Head Coach Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma and Head Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Kentucky.

Wilkinson watched his team work out Wednesday and commented: "They are small for a major college team. They're light. They're young. They're inexperienced. But they inherited a feeling from last year's team—they won't admit they are beaten. They have a winning attitude."

Bryant said his team won because it was willing to work, to give up holidays and recreation and to grit its teeth and give a little bit more when it was necessary."

Aerial Statistics Give Wolverines Edge Over Bears

PASADENA, CALIF.—(AP)—California's Golden Bears will have to displayed marked development in the air over the regular season if they expect match the potentialities of Michigan in the air on New Year's Day.

Aerial statistics for the Fall campaign give the Wolverines a marked edge, and their ace thrower, Tailback Chuck Ortmann, gained almost as many yards by himself as all the California chuckers combined.

Thus the news that leaked out of California's drill grounds at San Bernardino Thursday was interesting. Cal, said the rumors, still is concentrating on pass plays. Michigan's Mr. Ortmann, despite injuries which curtailed his play and capabilities all season, completed 41 out of 105 attempts, had seven intercepted and gained a net 596 yards for an average of 30.0. California kept statistics of six of their passers and they gained a total of 648 yards.

Schleicher Opener Completes Flowing

Frank and George Frank and Shell Oil Company No. 1 R. S. Williams, Northwest Schleicher County wildcat, two miles south of the Tankersley-Strawn field, which is in Southeast Irion County, has been completed as a flowing discovery from a middle Permian lime through perforations in the casing at 4,288-4,305 feet.

The well reported a 24-hour potential of 298.1 barrels of 34.2 gravity oil, plus 9.5 per cent water. The change on the completion test was through a 20/64th inch tubing choke. The perforated zone had been washed with 500 gallons of acid. Flowing tubing pressure was 190 pounds.

Location is 690 feet from south and 810 feet from west lines of section 26, HE&WT survey.

Bottom Plugged Off

This exploration had previously reported a 24-hour potential of 399.7 barrels of 39.2 gravity oil, flowing from perforated section at 5,530-40 feet in the Wolfcamp, lower Permian.

That production declined quickly to practically nothing and the operators then plugged back to 4,415 feet and perforated the section at 4,288-4,305 feet for the testing which has now resulted in the completion of an oil well and the discovery of a new producing area.

Schleicher Is Due 6,000-Foot Tester

Cooper Gas Company of San Angelo and Shell Oil Company No. 1 Will Lovelace is to be a 6,000-foot wildcat to explore the Strawn lime in Central Schleicher County, three miles northwest of the Page field. Location is 2,463 feet from west and 1,990 feet from north lines of section 5, block EEE, T. J. Cartwright survey. Western Drilling Company has the rotary contract. Actual operations are to start in a few days.

San Andres Strike Indicated In Crane

Fiacid Oil Company has developed commercial production from the San Andres-Permian lime at its No. 1 A. R. Eppenaar, Southeast Crane County wildcat, 10 miles south of the town of Crane, and that concern is slated to complete the new discovery and put in on production.

It is located 660 feet from north and east lines of section 14, block 6, H&TC survey, and three and one-half miles west of the south side of the shallow McCamey field. The development has flowed 20 barrels of oil per hour for seven hours from perforated section in the San Andres at 2,718-30 feet. In addition to the oil which was produced during the seven hours the prospect made between five and ten per cent water during the testing.

The oil was 35.8 gravity. Flowing tubing pressure was 75 pounds. Casing pressure was 150 pounds. The exploration drilled to a total depth of 3,001 feet in lime and cemented 7 5/8th inch casing at that point.

The pipe was perforated at 2,915-3,001 feet. That formation did not give up any fluid and it refused to take acid. The project was then plugged back to 2,800 feet and the zone at 2,710-30 feet was perforated and test and the flowing production was developed.

The exploration was originally started to dig to 3,200 feet to test the Devonian. However, when the San Andres production was found operator decided to complete the well from that pay.

Kimble Field Gets Second Exploration

A. W. Gregg of Houston has staked his second location in the Ken-Pennsylvanian field in Central-West Kimble County.

It is No. 2 Otto Thiers, which is projected to 3,000 feet with rotary tools.

Location is four miles west of Rowlett and 660 feet from south and 330 feet from east lines of section 80, block A, GWT&P survey.

It is 400 feet northeast of the same operator's No. 1 Thiers, a newly staked location. Operations on No. 2 Thiers will begin immediately.

Crosby Wildcat Is Waiting On Orders

National Associated Petroleum Company of Tulsa, Okla., No. 1 L. M. Abel, wildcat in Central Crosby County, was shut down for orders at 8,415 feet in lime, after packer failed on two attempts at a drill-stem test from 8,270 feet to total depth.

The prospector is located 660 feet from south and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 9, block 3, WC survey.

It is nine miles southwest of Crosbyton.

Two Oilers Listed In Tex-Harvey Pool

El Tee Oil Company and Carlton Beal each have reported the completion of one prospector at the east side of the Tex-Harvey field in Central-East Midland County.

The El Tee producer is one-half mile southeast of production and 687.1 feet from north and 674.2 feet from west lines of section 24, block 37, T-3-S, T&P survey.

It was potentialized for a daily natural flow of 440.07 barrels of 37.1-gravity oil through an 8/64-inch choke.

Gas-oil ratio was 610-1. Pay was topped at 6,988 feet. Hole is bottomed at 7,198 feet.

Tubing pressure on the final test was 125 pounds. A packer was used in the casing.

It was completed as the El Tee No. 1-24 Floyd Estate.

Carlton Beal's No. 1-13 Corbin-Ross was finished for 27 barrels of 37.4-gravity oil on a 24-hour flowing test. The new producer made one-tenth per cent water. Gas-oil ratio was 515-1.

Pay in the No. 1-13 Corbin-Ross was topped at 6,960 feet and total depth is 7,234 feet. Open hole is shot with 648 quarts of nitroglycerin.

Tubing pressure on the completion test was 112 pounds. A packer was used in the casing.

Location of the producer is 658.8 feet from west and 687.7 feet from north lines of the southeast quarter of section 13, block 37, T-3-S, T&P survey. That makes it three-quarters of one mile northeast of El Tee No. 1-24 Floyd estate.

SW Oldham Gets Deep Prospector

George P. Livermore, Inc., of Lubbock has staked location for a 7,000-foot wildcat in Southwest Oldham County. The project will be Livermore and associates No. 1 Malcolm Moser.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 26-7n-1e. The project is to dig to 7,000 feet, unless it encounters granite or commercial production before reaching that level.

Operations are slated to begin at once.

The wildcat is on a large block of acres which had been assembled by California interests. J. H. Sears and Taft McGee of Hereford took a checkerboard spread out of the block and assumed an obligation to drill the wildcat.

It is now understood that Sears and McGee have made a deal with Livermore to drill the well in return for some of the acreage and for an unspecified amount of cash.

Informed sources report that Sears and McGee will have an interest in the leases and in the well.

The wildcat is located in an area called the Glen Rio Dome region.

W-C Lubbock Wildcat Is Waiting On Orders

Bankline Oil Company, Wilshire Oil Company and Basin Oil Company No. 1 Elliott, West-Central Lubbock County wildcat, is at total depth of 11,400 feet in granite wash waiting on orders.

The base of the Ellenburger was picked at 11,340 feet on a datum of minus 8,070 feet.

No indications of possible commercial production were encountered while drilling to the present total depth of 11,400 feet.

Location of the No. 1 Elliott is 1,980 feet from east and 650 feet from south lines of section 33, block JS, EL&RR survey.

Offset To Wellman Discovery Is D & A

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation, No. 2 H. C. Bevers, one location west of the discovery well of the Wellman field in Southwest Terry County is to be plugged and abandoned at total depth of 12,700 feet in an unidentified pre-Woodford dolomite.

The project topped the dolomite at 12,645 feet. It drilled to 12,700 feet and ran a 90-minute drillstem test with the packer at 12,650 feet.

A 2,610-foot water blanket was used. Gas surfaced in eight minutes. There was a steady blow of gas throughout the remainder of the test.

Recovery was the 2,610-foot water

3. It discourages the entry of individuals into the business of speculative buying in hopes of making resales to industrial consumers later at higher prices. Such speculative trading, particularly by newcomers in the field looking for a quick profit, often is termed "gray market" or "black market" operations.

The list of materials covered includes:

Building materials—cast iron soil pipe and pressure pipe; gypsum board, lath and sheathing; insulation material made of pulp; insulation board which contains paper; Portland cement.

Lumber Included

Lumber products—softwood flooring, railroad ties and mine ties; softwood plywood; woodpulp.

Paper products—all converted paper and board products; paper, paperboard and construction paper and board materials.

Iron and steel—pig iron; gray iron castings; carbon, alloy and stainless steel products ranging from ingots to sheets, strip, rods and wire; rough forgings; iron and steel scrap.

Other metals and minerals—aluminum in crude and semi-fabricated form, and scrap; antimony, asbestos; cadmium; cerium; chromium; cobalt; columbium; copper; industrial diamonds lead; magnesium; manganese; mica; molybdenum; nickel; platinum; talc; tantalum; tin; tungsten; vanadium; zinc; zircon; non-ferrous scrap.

Chemicals—benzene; carbon tetrachloride; dichlorobenzene; glycerin; methanol; methyl chloride; methylene chloride; phthalic anhydride; polyethylene; styrene and polystyrene; titanium pigments; trichloroethylene.

Miscellaneous—hog bristles.

An NPA spokesman said the ban against accumulating paper and paper products in excess of "reasonable demands" applies to newspaper and other printing paper.

Important Discovery Looms In Old Field

ORANGE —(P)—The Sun Oil Company Thursday apparently had made an important new discovery in an old oil and gas producing territory. A company spokesman said Sun's Brooks No. 1 wildcat, eight miles east of Orange in Louisiana, "looks like a good producer of some sort—we don't yet know what."

The spokesman said the well was shut in with 3,700 pounds of pressure on the tubing while crews awaited orders for a production test.

Exact depth of the prospective pay zone was not announced but was known to be somewhere around 11,000 feet, one of the deepest finds on the Gulf coast.

CHARTER GRANTED

AUSTIN —(P)—Domestic charters granted Thursday include: Lone Star Game Club, Midland, Hunting club, Capital stock $1,000. Incorporators, Sid Cooper, R. Fitzgerald, Earl Gilbert.

blanket and 5,410 feet of sulphur water.

This prospector was extra low to the discovery of the Wellman field and it did not find any signs of commercial production in any zone it drilled through.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 39, block DD, John H. Gibson survey.

Some observers had reported that the section above 12,700 feet was in the Ellenburger. Operator representatives say that assumption is in error. The formation has not been identified as to age except that it is pre-Woodford.

Coyotes Rated Seven Points Over Austin

By The Associated Press

Wichita Falls Coyotes will be seven-point favorites to beat Austin at Dallas Saturday and repeat as state champion of Class AA schoolboy football.

The odds-makers have agreed it should be a close game but not as close as last year when Wichita Falls beat Austin 14-13.

Austin looked to its offense in the final home field workout Thursday. Coach Johnny Kitchen was alarmed over the impotency of the Maroons last week when they got only 59 yards rushing and 27 passing and had to score on a long punt return in order to beat Baytown 7-6.

Meanwhile Wichita Falls also sharpened its offense, already one of the most high-powered in Texas, after spending a couple of days working on the defensive side.

Back Delynn Patterson and Tackle Raymond Atkins are nursing ankle injuries in the Wichita Falls camp but are expected to be ready for Saturday's game.

MARKET VOLUME LARGE

NEW YORK —(P)—The stock market pulled through a huge volume of selling with scarcely a tremor Thursday. At the start of business demand was vigorous enough to give prices a mild lift, gains generally being less than 1/8 share. Almost immediately traders began to throw hundreds and thousands of shares on the market.

IT'S A GOOD WAY TO BUILD BOYS IN

King's Row

By LARRY KING
The Midland Bulldogs may find the going just a bit rugged for the next three days in the Howard Payne College Invitational Basketball Tournament.

Of the 16 teams entered, Midland couldn't be rated higher than number 14 on the basis of team records. With a 2-3 record against Class A competition, the Bulldogs have been far from impressive.

At times, Coach F. D. Rutledge's squad has looked pretty good. But on the other hand, the boys haven't been sharp in over-all play.

Rutledge has the Bulldogs working on the fast break. He wants a team that can zoom from goal to goal in a hurry and put the ball through the hoop.

Thus far, the kids haven't been able to do both at once. Against Crane in the first game here they could move the ball but couldn't hit the hoop. The same situation was present when the team visited Crane. And at Brownfield, they could not move at all until the fourth quarter—and then it was too late.

Perhaps with a few more games under their belts, the Bulldogs will turn up with a pretty good cage team after all. Rutledge expects to win some games, and we think he will. But in the Howard Payne Tournament Midland has drawn a Pampa team that has a 6-1 won-loss record. Like we said, their chances look pretty slim.

But the tournament is a good place to get some experience against good ball teams. That's the reason Midland entered. Perhaps it will pay off when the conference chase starts.

Latest rumor circulating around West Texas sport circles is that Howard (Bull) Lynch is being considered for the coaching job at Texas Tech.

Lynch was let out at Amarillo High School after a 10-year reign as head coach there, when the school board failed to renew his contract.

John O'Dell Morgan resigned at Texas Tech after his 1950 team won but three of 11 games this year.

Lynch might make a good coach at Tech at that. His record of 126 wins, 29 losses and a single tie over a 10-year period at Amarillo is quite impressive. But the thing is only in the rumor stage, and no one knows if Lynch has even been so much as contacted by Texas Tech officials.

At left half is Willford "Whizzer" White, the Arizona State scoring wonder. Brad Rowland, who at McMurry Teachers College in Texas, made the Little All-America twice, is at right half.

When Lou Boudreau participated in 134 double plays for Cleveland in 1944, he set a major league record for shortstop which still stands.

Improvement Seen In West Grid Team

SAN FRANCISCO —(P)—A huge scoring gridiron spectacle which still may be decided by only a point or a single touchdown was shaping up Thursday for Saturday's East-West Shrine charity game.

Unless wet weather puts the brakes on the scoring capabilities of the two classy teams put together for the 60,000 sellout at Kezar Stadium it looks like they will be good for at least four or five touchdowns apiece.

Although some dopsters have been inclined to favor the East, with its array of name players, by as much as a touchdown, the West's showing in training has been more and more impressive.

The West coaches have been going to town with one offensive backfield which, from all indications, can do just about everything. It has Kyle Rote, the great Southern Methodist running back, at full.

At left half is Willford "Whizzer" White, the Arizona State scoring wonder. Brad Rowland, who at McMurry Teachers College in Texas, made the Little All-America twice, is at right half.

When Lou Boudreau participated in 134 double plays for Cleveland in 1944, he set a major league record for shortstop which still stands.

Youth Center Chatter

By JOYCE HOWELL

Did you have a Merry Christmas? We certainly did! We have decided it would be nice to have Christmas—and Christmas vacations more than just once a year.

Of course, most of the talk this last week has centered around the Christmas gifts the teeners received. Watches, clothes, typewriters, luggage, and a few exceptionally—and we do mean exceptionally—lucky teeners got their own cars for Christmas. It seems as though the younger brothers and sisters of many teeners received some lovely presents for Christmas and you should hear the older ones! "When I was that age—" Yes, well, confess—we are just as guilty as the next one.

This last week was busy for all and the next few days before school starts also will be busy ones. A week ago the members of the high school band and their guests or dates had a lovely party in the Band Hall. Presents of small toys were exchanged and then given to the Fire Department for distribution for White Christmas.

Mr. Hoffman, the band director, had another surprise in store for the band members Friday morning at rehearsal. A big pot of hard candy was distributed among the members.

Exes On Hand

Of course, all the high school exes were wandering through the halls and visiting classrooms Friday and it was extremely difficult for the "poor unfortunates" who were still in their classes.

Friday night was the date of the semi-formal Youth Center dance. Teeners we hadn't seen for ages (or so it seemed) were there. Those who came with the sole intention of dancing were sadly disappointed—most of the evening was spent greeting old friends and sounds of "How do you like school? Are you going back?" and "If Uncle Sam doesn't get me, I'll be going back" filled the room.

The Senior Girl Scouts were the hostesses for a formal dance in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Schorbauer last Saturday night. This dance began at 8:30 and ended around 12:30.

About 12:15 a.m. Sunday we attended another "event" at which a lot of teeners were on hand. This wasn't a happy occasion at all for it was a fire at the J. D. Dillard residence. Many of you know Bill Dillard for he often is seen at the Youth Center. Richard Patton, David Weaver, Tommy Vannaman, Charles Sheppard, L. D. Whigham and many, many other boys helped the fire department by dragging out furniture and helping with the hose.

Back From Kerrville

Virginia Breedlove has returned from visiting at Schreiner Institute for a short time. Virginia still is bubbling over with the events which took place during her visit.

Sunday all the teen-agers were busy delivering Christmas presents and the excitement mounted rapidly. Midnight church services were well attended and a few families opened their gifts afterward. Of course, Monday was the BIG DAY for everyone.

"Partying" was on the agenda Monday afternoon. At each house teeners stopped a minute to "ooh" and "aah" over gifts and then take a bite of something to eat. We just bet there were a lot of teeners with very unhappy stomachs late Monday.

Nancy Steadman is one teener who went on a long Christmas vacation.

Nancy and her parents went to Warrenton, Ga. (Sue Corser supplied with the spelling) for the holidays. Nancy will be back tomorrow.

Tuesday night the members of the Senior class of 1950 held a reunion at the Officers Club. Dancing was the main attraction and everyone had a wonderful time. Members of the class of '50 and their dates attended.

Center Reunion

Jo Ann Reagan and a car load of girls had their own reunion with a car load of boys—Wayne Richardson's car—in front of the Center last Tuesday. As close as we can figure, the teeners had a pleasant discussion which lasted close to half an hour.

A lot of YC members were surprised to find the Youth Center has been closed occasionally during the holidays and as it is a favorite meeting place, everyone is happy when it is open.

Jack Mobley with his little interpretation of a "smooth" beverage really did entertain everyone at the party for the members of the class of '50. Bill Burnside, Jim Chaucery, Preston Conner, Harold Drew, and Jack also helped provide an impromptu floor show during the evening. Hot chocolate and cookies were served.

Bonnie Roan is another teener who had a very nice Christmas vacation trip. Ronnie spent Christmas Day in Sweetwater with his family and relatives. He also went to the Kermit-Wharton play-off for the state championship. Of course, this game has been the subject of much discussion lately. Who won? Why? Wharton did!

Formal Dance Set

Don't forget the big formal dance at the Youth Center Friday night. If you don't have a date yet, you had better get busy! The music for this dance will be supplied by Jimmy Furman and his orchestra, from nine o'clock until twelve. From eight until nine and after twelve the juke box will be played for those who really enjoy dancing. Free refreshments also will be served.

"Partying" was in order for a lot of people Christmas day. Jerlen Jewell, Toya Chapple, Gloria Anguish, Rosalynn Leggett, Shirley Harrison, June Hazlip, Margie Cramer, Roxie Leonard, Virginia Breedlove and a few others made the rounds of the friends' homes.

A dance Monday night in the Crystal Ballroom, given by George Glass, also was well attended. Teeners were to be found either at the dance or at the show. Seems as though everyone wanted to know what the other fellow had gotten for Christmas and they had decided to find their friends.

New Dances Introduced

A lot of the college teeners have found a new assortment of jokes, ideas, and such at school. New dances—or at least they are new to most of the Midland teeners—also have been introduced. All the college students have convinced the high school students there is only one place to be during the Winter away at school!

We're about out of news for this week, so tune in again next week—or should we say next year? We'll be back with more YC news. Don't forget about the Youth Center dance Friday night—we hope to see you there!

Pat Cross Lost Prize Present Of Christmas

How would you feel if you lost your best Christmas present?

And what would be worse, that present was a live, lovable puppy.

Well, that's the situation for Miss Pat Cross of Midland.

She's pretty sad about it, and with reason.

The puppy is a rare Cairn terrier.

It looks like a Scottie and is red with perky ears. It is a registered dog with papers. The lost pup is about eight to 10 inches high. It is too young to answer to the name Leadie.

Have a lead, if you have this dog, please return it to its owner. Or supply any information you may have.

Pat Cross can be contacted at Plymouth Oil Company, telephone number 2341, or at 807 North C Street.

Blalock—

Blalock quit the post of committee man in 1948. Wright Morrow of Houston succeeded him.

In recent years, he had been practicing law here and operating his dairy farm.

He rose to leadership of the Texas Democratic Party during the Roosevelt Administration.

Blalock was a Franklin D. Roosevelt man when the Democratic Party in Texas was split sharply in 1944.

His political career began with a term in the Texas House of Representatives, 1918 to 1918. He was awarded his law degree from the University of Texas in 1916 while serving in the House.

After serving as a captain and major in the Army during the first World War, Blalock returned to Marshall to enter law practice.

In 1932 he was named chief justice of the Texas Court of Civil Appeals, 6th District, at Texarkana. From 1934 to 1938 he held the powerful post of chairman of the Texas State Democratic Executive Committee.

A National Guardsman, Blalock was called to active duty in 1940.

In the Spring of 1943 he suffered a heart attack and spent several weeks in Walter Reed Hospital in Washington.

He was a key figure at the State Democratic Convention in May, 1944, when an anti-Roosevelt faction of the party bolted from the meeting at Austin and held a rump session to elect its own slate of nominees for the state electoral college. He first tried to reconcile the two groups. Unable to do so, he threw his full support to the Roosevelt-Truman campaign.

Blalock received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Texas in 1914 and his law degree in 1916. He married Bertha Mary Storey on Aug. 22, 1917. They had three children.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Friday at the First Methodist Church with Dr. Guy Jones, pastor, officiating.

Fabulous McCarthy's Daughters Wed Sons Of Banker, Cobbler

HOUSTON (AP)—The eldest daughter of the fabulous Glenn McCarthy honeymooned Thursday with the son of a banker. Another daughter stood proudly as the wife of a cobbler's son. Mary Margaret, 19, oldest daughter of the wealthy oil man, was married Wednesday night to Harry Richards, Jr., of Houston in a lavish manner. The runaway marriage of Glenna Lee McCarthy, 17, to George Pontikes was confirmed by McCarthy only a few hours before the big church wedding. Pontikes, 18-year-old Rice Institute football player and son of a Houston shoe repair shop owner, watched as his bride served her sister as matron of honor. Glenna Lee and Pontikes were married in Waco December 2 by a justice of the peace. It was McCarthy, who himself had eloped with the teen-age daughter of a wealthy oil man, who confirmed the marriage. A senior in high school, Glenna Lee will be 18 Sunday. She is a cheer leader at the public school where Pontikes starred in football and basketball. 500 Guests Present Five hundred guests attended the church ceremony Wednesday night and a reception followed at the $250,000 McCarthy mansion. Six bridesmaids, including two other younger sisters, Lea and Faustine, attended Mary Margaret. There were six groomsmen. The only attendant for Glenna Lee and Pontikes was his father. At the reception following Mary Margaret's wedding, the receiving line included Glenna Lee. Both she and Pontikes wore a gold wedding band. McCarthy declined to elaborate on his simple statement that Glenna Lee and Pontikes were "married" but did admit the wedding was a "surprise." In 1930 McCarthy, then a struggling son of an oil well driller, eloped with Faustine Lee, daughter of Oil Man W. E. Lee. He vowed he would become wealthier than the Lees—and did. Starting as a wildcat oil well operator, McCarthy has founded an empire that includes a chain of community newspapers and the $18,000,000 Shamrock Hotel, along with numerous oil and gas holdings.

★ THE DOCTOR SAYS ★

Beware Of Carbon Monoxide Poisoning In Winter Months

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Every newspaper reader has seen headlines telling of some man or woman who was found dead sitting in a car in a closed garage. The coroner usually finds that the cause of death was carbon monoxide produced by running the motor of the car in a place without fresh air and oxygen. The exhaust of a car, for example, pushes carbon monoxide into the air. When breathed in, this odorless gas combines with a portion of the blood known as hemoglobin which normally carries oxygen to the tissues. If carbon monoxide replaces oxygen in the hemoglobin, the tissues are starved for life-giving oxygen. It quickly causes unconsciousness and death soon after.

The danger from carbon monoxide poisoning always is greater in Winter than in Summer. Because of the cold weather, houses and garages likely are to be shut up tight and fresh air does not circulate as it does in the Summer. This means that a furnace, heater, or running the motor of an automobile in a closed garage will produce carbon monoxide which is not promptly diluted with oxygen.

If only small amounts of carbon monoxide are present warning symptoms may be present such as headache, dizziness, desire to vomit, muscular weakness, and a generally uncomfortable feeling. It is only when large amounts of carbon monoxide are present that the victim becomes drowsy and unconscious so fast that these symptoms are lacking.

Chronic poisoning from carbon monoxide probably does not exist. One would expect it to be found in people who are exposed to small amounts of carbon monoxide for long periods of time, such as those working in certain mining operations, about furnaces, or in garages. Actually such persons do not seem to be harmed in any way.

Word To Wise

The use of defective stoves or furnaces and running the motors of automobiles in closed garages, however, are invitations to the next world.

If still alive a person who has been exposed to carbon monoxide should be removed from the bad air at once. Artificial respiration and giving oxygen as soon as possible are desirable.

HAVE YOU A PUNY CHILD?

HADACOL May Relieve the Cause of Distress that is Dragging Your Child Down IF DUE TO A LACK OF VITAMINS B₁, B₂, IRON AND NIACIN

You don't want your child to lag behind, be below par, unable to keep up with the other kids. Medical science has verified the fact that a lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin in the system can drag children down, cause them to fall behind in their development.

HADACOL the wonderful nutritional formula has been specially compounded to overcome just such deficiencies. Results are what count and mothers are writing us about the help HADACOL has given their children who were suffering from such deficiencies.

Here is just one example—a letter from Mrs. Edgar L. Johnston, Lake, Mississippi, whose son was suffering from a deficiency of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin. Mrs. Johnston writes: "About two and a half years ago, our little boy, James Edgar had fever, and had to stay in bed for several months. He was so weak. We had to give him liver, and all kinds of food that would build blood. He couldn't run and play. Also his food hurt him. I heard about HADACOL. I decided to try it. I could tell a great difference. He has taken fourteen bottles. He is eleven years old, weighs 92 pounds, plays on the school ball team, rides his bike, runs and plays like other boys and feels grand, always all night, without waking. I can never praise HADACOL enough. I have recommended it to all my friends and got them to take it. They are thrilled over finding such a fine product. If your child, like James Edgar, is run-down, lagging behind because of deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin, why not try HADACOL today. Many doctors recommend it for their patients, for their own families. Trial size bottle, $1.25; large family or hospital size, $3.50. Money-back guarantee. BOYS! GIRLS! BIG FREE COMIC BOOK!
