LBJ Stresses Vital Roles For Helium

WASHINGTON (AP) — The vital role of helium in defense and space activities was underscored by President Johnson this week in his budget.

He asked $20 million in added borrowing authority for the government's helium conservation program under which increasing quantities of the gas are being stored near Amarillo against future needs.

Hoffa Jury Still Drags

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Government hopes that testimony would begin today in James R. Hoffa's jury-tampering trial faded in the face of virtually no progress toward selecting the jury.

James F. Neal, chief government prosecutor from Washington, asked a federal judge for permission to excuse his witness for the weekend.

"It appears we won't get a jury before late today," said Neal, "and by then it would be too late to begin presenting testimony."

His request was considered for a later ruling. Government attorneys confidently had expected the jury to be seated this morning, planning to offer their first witnesses during the afternoon.

But an attorney for Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, doubted agreement could be reached before late afternoon, if then, on a jury of 12 members and 4 alternates.

Selection of the jury started last Monday and has proceeded slowly despite U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Wilson's personally talking over questioning of prospective jurors.

Hoffa and five other men are charged with attempting to influence the jury in his 1962 conspiracy trial at Nashville. That trial ended with a hung jury.

At the start of today's session, 11 jurors had been seated tentatively. Another 14 were summoned for questioning.

The defense mounted a new drive to toss out the entire panel of prospective jurors.

Act Promptly For Documents

The Herald currently has on hand several complete packets of the Americana Historical Documents, plus a supply of the individual items. But there will be no re-orders, and the offering is to be withdrawn very soon.

If you haven't obtained these handsome, rich treasures that mean so much to the American heritage, you should do so at once. The full packet of 12 is $3.06, the individual documents are 25¢ each.

to hydrogen, is extracted from natural gas, in which most of it used to go to waste. There wasn't much use for it prior to World War II except for inflating balloons and dirigible airships, helium being noted for its lifting power and non-inflammability.

AN INCREASE The amount asked by the President for the helium program is $14 million more than the authorization for the current fiscal year and up $6 million over the preceding year.

Under the program, money for purchase of helium is borrowed from the treasury and repaid from government sales of the gas. The Bureau of Mines estimates sales in the next fiscal year will bring in $24.4 million, compared with receipts of $21.1 million in the preceding year.

The program, authorized by Congress in 1960, thus appears to be getting into high gear.

FIVE PLANTS The government operates five helium extraction plants and contracts with four private firms for purchase of their production. The helium is extracted from pipeline gas and then piped to storage in the old Cliffside Oil Field near Amarillo.

"About 787 million cubic feet of helium are expected to be produced from government plants in 1965," the President said in his budget message.

and 3.7 billion cubic feet will be produced for the government by private contractors. Of this total, about 3.9 billion cubic feet will be conserved for the nation's future needs.

TEXAS SITES The government's extraction plants are at Exell and Amarillo, Otis, Kan.; Keyes, Okla.; and Shiprock, N. M. The Mines Bureau has contracts for purchase of helium produced by Phillips Petroleum Co. plants in Hansford County and Dumas in Texas; Cities Service Helix Co., at Ulysses, Kan.; National Helium Corp. at Liberal, Kan.; and Northern Helix Co. at Bushton, Kan.

All of these plants now are in operation. Of the helium the government sells, 80 to 85 per cent goes to defense, space and other federal agencies, the rest to private industry.

Murphy Quits Glasscock Post

GARDEN CITY — B. L. Murphy resigned as superintendent of the Glasscock County schools here Thursday night at a called meeting of the school board.

Murphy said he was not prepared to discuss his future plans but "did have two or three things in mind." The board took no action toward naming a successor.

Murphy has been in the Garden City school system 11 years. He served the first five years as high school principal and has been the superintendent for the past six. He succeeded W. A. Wilson as superintendent.

A native of Red River County, Murphy attended and graduated from East Texas State College at Commerce.

GOP Senses Election Issue In Johnson's Stereo Gift

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said the expensive stereo set delivered to his home in 1959 was simply a gift from old friend Robert G. Baker, Senate Democratic leader.

Mike Mansfield says this explanation should end the matter. But Republicans, sensing an election year issue, are pressing this and other facets of the Senate Rules Committee's inquiry into the complicated business dealing of Baker, a former Johnson protegee who quit under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate Democrats.

"The Baker family gave us a stereo set," Johnson said Thursday at a White House conference. "We had . . . exchanged gifts before. He was an employee of the public and had no business pending before me and so far as I knew expected nothing in return any more than

I did when I had presented him with gifts."

VOLUNTEERS The President volunteered this explanation a day after the Senate committee released testimony by Don B. Reynolds, an associate of Baker in a local insurance firm, who said he sent the $52 stereo record player to Johnson's home at Baker's suggestion.

Reynolds said he paid for the set after selling Johnson—then the Senate Democratic leader—the first half of $200,000 in life insurance policies. The insurance firm, who said he also agreed to buy $1,200 worth of advertising time on the Austin television station controlled by the Johnson family.

The President made no mention of the advertising purchase.

ANSWERED Asked for comment, Mansfield said "The President is to be commended for stepping right out and answering the allegations and for laying the cards on the table. The charge has been answered."

House Democratic leader Carl Albert said "the statement should stand on its own feet."

On the Republican side, Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen could not be reached for comment and Charles A. Halleck declined to discuss the matter. But Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, who has called for a separate House investigation of Baker's business dealings, told newsmen that Johnson's remarks make it "more imperative Rules Committee call Bobby Baker, put him under oath and ask him whether he paid for this record player."

Gross said the President's statement "flies directly in the face of sworn testimony of Reynolds that he bought and paid for the stereo."

L. Westbrook Dies At Angelo

SAN ANGELO (AP) — Col. Lawrence Westbrook, a distinguished wartime and civilian employe of the nation who was decorated by Great Britain, died today.

Westbrook, 74, held many key federal posts until his retirement about 10 years ago. After retirement, he lived for about five years in Hot Springs, Ark., before moving to San Angelo.

He was a native of Belton. In 1933, he was appointed the first director of the Texas Relief Commission. From there he moved through a long succession of government posts aimed at putting the American farmer back on his feet after the depression.

Westbrook was national director of Rural Rehabilitation and Drouth Relief and national director of Rural Resettlement. He was chairman of the advisory board of the Works Project Administration in Texas.

During World War II, Westbrook was a colonel in the special planning commission of the general staff. He was president of the U.S. Joint Purchasing Board in the South Pacific and was director of the American economic mission to New Zealand.

Survivors include his widow; three sons, Joel and Hiram of Waco and Lawrence Jr. of Midland; and a daughter, Mrs. William Brown of Hot Springs. Funeral services were incomplete.

Ready To Talk Panama Issues, Says Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has affirmed U.S. willingness to discuss with Panama all differences between the two countries—differences that reportedly are narrowing within the councils of the Inter-American Peace Committee.

The President took this conciliatory stance in a statement he read Thursday in an impromptu news conference at the White House. He said he had spoken to members of the peace committee earlier in the day and stated "our willingness to engage without limitation or delay in a full and frank review and reconsideration of all issues between our two countries."

SINCE RIOTS The committee, an arm of the Organization of American States has been trying to mediate the dispute since riots in the Panama Canal Zone Jan. 9 and 10 led to a rupture in U.S.-Panama relations.

The United States and Panama are not represented on the committee, but delegates from the two countries attended a committee session Thursday and authoritative sources reported a draft agreement to end the disagreement had been turned over to them.

Another session was scheduled for this afternoon, the delay presumably to give the Panamanian and U.S. delegates time to consult their governments.

1963 TREATY Panama has refused to discuss a resumption of relations unless the United States agrees in advance to renegotiate the 1903 treaty which gave "in perpetuity" to construct, operate and maintain the Panama Canal.

"We have no preconditions to the resumption of peaceful discussions," Johnson said in his statement. "We are bound by no preconceptions of what they will produce. And we hope that Panama can take the same approach."

A similarly conciliatory note was sounded by Panama's President Robert Chiari in an interview in Panama City with the Washington Post.

Recognition Move Explained To LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP)—French President Charles de Gaulle has sent word to President Johnson that he decided to recognize Red China primarily because he felt it unwise in a rapidly changing world to ignore any longer the largest and most powerful nation in the Far East.

De Gaulle's argument, made known to the State Department and White House through various diplomatic channels, boiled down to a contention that the U.S. policy of trying to isolate the Communist mainland of China from the world of allied nations is unproductive and out of date.

The latest and perhaps most comprehensive presentation of De Gaulle's views on this alliance-straining issue was made by Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson when he conferred here Wednesday with President Johnson.

PEARSON TALKS Pearson came here following a visit to Paris last week during which he had several talks with the French leader.

France is expected to announce recognition next week and take immediate steps to establish full diplomatic relations with the Red regime in Peking. A week from today De Gaulle is scheduled to hold a news conference and the prospect is that he will set forth his position on the China question at that time. As now understood by top U.S. officials, his views cover these major points:

1. He feels there is a vacuum in Western policy in the Far East because of a lack of effective contact between the Western powers and the Red Chinese leadership. Thus he has argued that the Western powers will gain in the long run from struggling France move into the gap.

2. De Gaulle sees the split between the Soviet Union and Red China as a tremendous power conflict rather than an ideological doctrine as many Western experts ordinarily describe it. He feels it is important for the West to have maximum contacts with both sides in this struggle, not just with the Soviet side.

3. Under terms of the understanding which he has reached with Red China for establishing recognition, De Gaulle believes he may be laying a basis for a two-China policy since the Chinese did not lay down the condition that recognition covered also their claim to Formosa.

4. Once relations are established, De Gaulle believes it should be possible to use French influence in Peking to work for Red Chinese acceptance and support of a true policy of neutrality in Southeast Asia—where the East-West conflict now centers in South Viet Nam.

Tax Slash Given Push Toward Goal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The $11.5-billion tax bill has taken a giant stride toward enactment but whether it can become law by March 1, the administration goal, is uncertain.

The Senate Finance Committee voted 12-5 approval of the measure Thursday after 20 days of executive sessions and well over 100 separate votes.

But the floor debate cannot begin until congressional staff experts finish drafting all of the new language written into the 310-page bill by the committee. They indicated today this might well take all of next week. In that case, the debate probably would not start before Feb. 3. This would leave only seven or eight days for floor action before the passage deadline of Feb. 11 set by Democratic leaders.

MEET DEADLINE They must meet that deadline if the final enactment goal of March 1 is to be achieved. If the Senate does not pass the bill until after the Feb. 11-17 Lincoln Day recess there would be little chance to have the conference with the House over differences in the two versions and get the bill to President Johnson for signature next month.

The committee included in the bill all of the major provisions sought by Johnson. The President won a last-minute victory Thursday afternoon when he persuaded nine Democrats to kill $455-million worth of excise tax repeals which had been voted in the morning.

EXCISE TAXES Chiefly involved were excises on luggage, jewelry, cosmetics and furs. The six Republicans on the committee and two Democrats—Paul H. Douglas of Illinois and Albert Gore of Tennessee—remained for repeal of the taxes in the afternoon test.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, author of the key repeal amendments, said he would press them on the floor.

Democrats on the committee who will handle the bill on the floor said they were confident it can be kept pretty much in the form approved by the finance group.

Sponsors of the bill said they did not expect any serious efforts on the floor to change the rate cuts in the bill.

If this is correct, the final Senate version would provide cuts averaging 19 per cent and totaling about $9.2 billion for 80 million individual taxpayers and cuts averaging about 10 per cent and totaling $2.3 billion for 550,000 corporations.

All-Faiths Chapel For State Hospital Talked

Volunteer Council members Thursday undertook to pump some substance into a pair of dreams—an all-faiths chapel and a beautified cemetery for the Big Spring State Hospital.

By unanimous vote, the group voted to set up an advisory committee for the chapel project, by far the most ambitious of the two, also to support Orville Shapland, project chairman for the hospital cemetery reclamation. Dr. Jack H. Burnett, council chairman, announced the advisory panel.

Estimated cost of the chapel is $126,000—$100,000 for building, $26,000 for furnishings, etc. Rev. Max Maguire, chaplain for the hospital, said one proposal for obtaining 100 West Texas people who would pledge a thousand dollars each over a period of five years had struck immediate response.

RESPONSES "I mentioned the idea and immediately got two responses," he said. How to attract funds for the project, however, would be shaped by a committee headed by Jack Y. Smith, assisted by R. W. Whipkey, Dr. Josh Burnett, A. J. Frager, Herman Bauer, Dr. Neil Sanders and Horace Garrett, Big Spring; Mrs. Leland Croft, Odessa, Mrs. Theo Ferguson, Midland.

"One of the characteristics of mental illness is that there is not only confusion but also diffusion," Chaplain Maguire told the council. "When you have to use one room for movies, bingo games, dances and worship, it is almost impossible to separate the latter in the minds of the patients."

R. W. Whipkey, recalling previous consideration of the idea, said that it was time something concrete was done about it.

TOTAL COST The initial goal is to raise the necessary funds, since it is the policy of the state that no construction be started on such projects until the total cost is in escrow.

Charles McQuaid and E. Estes of the staff explained the plight of the last remaining place of patients who have no families to claim them. The old cemetery plot with 150 graves is unkept and eroded, and the new plot with six graves is barren with temporary markers, said Estes. Biggest problem is how to get water to the tract. Im-

'I Was Right Raising Flag,' Says Teen-Ager

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A slender youth has come back 1,500 miles to his homeland convinced of the righteousness of his flag-raising act—but troubled over its consequences in the Panama Canal Zone.

"I was right in raising the American flag," James Jenkins, 17, said Thursday after the S.S. Cristobal docked here.

"If I had the choice of doing it again," the former Balboa High School senior added, "I'd have to think about it if I knew four U.S. citizens would have been killed."

Jenkins, one of the student leaders in the Jan. 9 incident which led to bloody rioting between U.S. soldiers and Panamanians, is on his way to Cambridge, Ohio.

He will finish his education there, staying with relatives. He's returning to the states voluntarily, he says.

Jenkins, who briefly tried to elude newsmen on arrival, confirmed in his first U.S. interview that he was the student who raised the flag at Balboa High.

But the lanky, brown-haired teen-ager said he thought rioting was coming sooner or later.

"If the flag-raising hadn't happened," he said, "I think there would have been trouble anyway. I think there will be trouble in the future."

Looking back, young Jenkins said two things could have stopped it.

"The police could have prevented it," he said. "They could have prevented them (the Panamanians) from coming into the Canal Zone."

Secondly, he said, two flags side by side at the school could have headed off the demonstration.

British Troops Available For Use In Kenya Unrest

LONDON (AP) — Britain announced today it is placing British troops in Kenya at the disposal of the Kenya government to help preserve law and order.

Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys told the House of Commons the move was "purely precautionary." He said the troops had been requested by Prime Minister Jomo Kenyatta because of unrest in Kenya's East African neighbors.

In the past 13 days three new British Commonwealth countries in East Africa have been shaken by upheavals. In Zanzibar, the conservative Arab government was overthrown by a pro-Communist revolution on Jan. 12. In Tanganyika and Uganda, Kenya's neighbors on the south and west, brief army mutinies occurred this week.

The Tanganyika mutiny was accompanied by rioting and looting in which at least 17 people were killed before order was restored.

The Uganda mutiny Thursday lasted only a few hours, and Prime Minister Obote said Thursday night in Kampala, the Uganda capital, that his government was still in control.

Reports reaching Kampala said two companies of the Uganda rifle regiment mutinied in Jinja, Uganda's second largest city 45 miles northeast of this capital. The mutineers locked up Internal Affairs Minister Felix Onama, assaulted newsmen and then marched on downtown Jinja.

ASSISTANCE Britain rushed 450 soldiers from neighboring Kenya to Entebbe, near Kampala, 45 minutes after Obote requested assistance from the British government.

Reports late Thursday night said the mutinous company's British officers, who are on loan from the British army, had regained control.

"The whole army is now in barracks and all soldiers are loyal to the government," the 38-year-old prime minister announced in a radio broadcast. He said the British reinforcements probably would leave soon.

Reportedly not a shot was fired.

There was no indication what sparked the mutiny. But there was considerable speculation it took its inspiration from the army mutiny Monday in Tanganyika, southeast of Uganda across Lake Victoria.

Texas Oilmen Ask Udall To Study Import Issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas independent oil producers have asked Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall to review the oil import control program.

Representatives of the Texas producers, joined by spokesmen for independent producers from other states, asked Udall Thursday for a restudy with a view toward making the larger proportion of market growth available to domestic producers.

The executive vice president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, W. Earl Turner of Austin, told newsmen that "indices of deterioration in the domestic oil producing segment" were presented Udall.

ObjecTive

Turner said the independent producers did not feel that the important control program was reaching its objective, and his association feels that the typical or average independent producer is in difficulty. He said this is being reflected in reduction in exploration which is needed to keep reserves in proper relation to withdrawal.

Turner said the delegation from his association did not make any specific suggestions as to reduction in crude oil import nor state a position that imports are too high "though we feel that excessive imports are reflective in the deterioration."

STABILIZED

He said the Texas association feels that overland exempt oil imports from Canada and oil shipments from Puerto Rico to the U. S. mainland should be stabilized at some percentage ratio in regard to total imports, just as imports from foreign countries are controlled.

Turner said natural gas imports from Canada also were discussed, asserting these "are skyrocketing and appear unlimited." He said these gas imports threaten to have a major impact on domestic oil and gas industry.

FREE EXCHANGE

E. Bruce Street of Graham, Tex., president of the Texas association, said he regarded the visit with Udall as a success and helpful in that it provided a free exchange of views important to the independent segment of the industry.

"We found he is acquainted with the situation and knows what it takes to correct it," Street said.

... YOU DON'T EXPECT TO REACH TIMBUKTU

Naturally, when you call Grandmother's phone, that's the one you expect to get, and you do. But that's not as easy as it sounds.

Your call must work its way through all sorts of interconnections, wires, cables, switches and so forth until, finally, it picks the right phone out of some 83 million in the U.S.

Yet, out of all the possible chances for mistakes, your call goes where you sent it . . . in town or out-of-town, to Grandmother, wherever she is. This sort of reliability is the result of service improvements that keep increasing the convenience and personal value of your telephone.

A Devotional For The Day

Now I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake, and in my flesh I complete what is lacking in Christ's afflictions for the sake of his body, that is the church. (Colossians 1:24, RSV.)
PRAYER: Gracious Father, forgive us for being poor ambassadors of the Word of life. We pray that we may not cling selfishly to the gospel, but with joy live and proclaim it to others. In Jesus' name. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Preserving A Principle

The new Higher Education Bill offers the hope of substantial help to many colleges for buildings restricted to certain categories of use. Where previous aid bills have been limited to tax supported schools and colleges, this one makes provisions whereby private and religious institutions can qualify for grants or long-term, low-interest loans.

Heretofore, efforts to secure federal financial assistance in this area were resisted at least in part by those jealous of the principle of separation of church and state. This philosophy basically is behind the recent Supreme Court decisions regarding the recitation of officially prescribed prayers or religious rites in public schools. It is logical then that the principle should be valid for religious observances but not for religious buildings?

Many religious bodies will hasten to take advantage of the terms of the current bill, but this does not mean that the terms of succeeding bills—if enacted—have to be identical.

The principle of separation of church and state would be served much better if the problem were attacked from another angle. Admittedly, private and parochial schools of higher learning are in need of financial help, and realism suggests that the road is going to get rougher and rougher. If the federal government is desirous of making help available, why not do it on the basis of tax credits? This formula has been used successfully to encourage businesses to expand or to purchase new equipment in replacement of antiquated machinery. Within a certain maximum percentage of one's own tax obligation, why not let that person make a direct gift to the school of his or her choice? This would take the government's hand out of it and at the same time put an obligation of performance and promotion on the schools.

Obligation To Speak Up

The phenomenon of the hero as politician is going to be seen in full flower again as John H. Glenn Jr. makes the race for a U.S. Senate seat from Ohio. It is a fair guess (though always there can be a surprise) that as is usual in such cases the candidate's views on important issues will have less emphasis than the accomplishments and personal qualities that have made him a national hero.

This is not said in denigration of Glenn as a candidate for high office. The marked abilities he has shown as senior astronaut in the space program are not at all incompatible with able performance as a representative of the people, though legislating is quite different from navigating. His notable poise and good judgment in the difficult role of hero also demonstrated that he is far more than simply a dashing Marine with a zest for adventure.

The fact remains that at this stage Glenn is pretty much an unknown quantity, politically speaking. Nothing showed this more clearly than the efforts of both Democrats and Republicans to entice him into the fold before he decided to run as a Democrat. Even now, his views on major questions have not been elaborated.

This elaboration will come, at least to some extent, as the campaign progresses. It is to be hoped that John Glenn will not stint on such exposition either in the primary race or, should he win that, in the final drive for election. When popular heroes seek high office, they have a particular obligation to demonstrate their serious and enlightened concern with the problems that must be dealt with once that office is attained.

Warning On Communist Credit

WASHINGTON — For American policy-makers the fork in the road is clearly marked with a warning sign. But whether the Western allies will pay any attention to the warning, as repeatedly underscored by Washington, is doubtful.

The sign says: "Beware of long-term credits to the Communist-bloc countries."

BEHIND THE diplomatic maneuvering is the pull of economic forces as Western Europe searches for new markets in a competition grown increasingly keen in a prosperous Europe.

Premier Khrushchev is shrewdly playing for credits. He has promised the Soviet people a huge program to produce chemical fertilizers which will raise agricultural production and the standard of living.

When the British Prime Minister, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, comes here next month credits and trade with the Soviet bloc will be one of the most important topics for discussion. The State Department was most unhappy over the British deal to sell buses and spare parts to Cuba. The British responded to criticism with: "Well, what is the difference between that and your deal to sell wheat to the Soviet Union?"

THE DIFFERENCE, from the American perspective, is the five-year credit to Cuba as against gold or dollars on the barrel head for American wheat. When Chancellor Ludwig Erhard met with the President in Texas they agreed that credits should not be advanced to the Communist-bloc countries without political concessions from the Soviet side. Khrushchev has said he will have no political strings tied to the deals he is holding out to Western business. But the British have long been convinced that West German deals with the Soviet Union are far more extensive than the announced figures would indicate. The Ruhr industrialists under a 1958 agreement, extended last year, have sold entire rayon and other artificial-fiber plants.

THIS SUSPICION increasingly colors relations between the Western allies as they look for outlets for their greatly expanded productive capacity. Now that President de Gaulle is moving to recognize Red China the race

Presidential Disability Issue Unresolved

WASHINGTON (AP) — From its beginning this country has been uneasy about two questions which never go away although the nation has acted as if it wished they would.

What happens when a president is disabled or when a president dies and there is no vice president?

Eight times—when presidents died in office and were succeeded by their vice presidents—the country has been left without a vice president, as it is now. Luckily, none of the vice presidents who became president died.

IT'S STRETCHING luck to think this can go on indefinitely. The assassination of President John F. Kennedy and the succession of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson to the presidency, leaving the No. 2 spot vacant, once again has forced a national re-examination of the problem.

Now, as in the past, ideas have been offered by the bundle. Three times Congress acted to say who becomes president if the president dies and there is no vice president. Always it had second thoughts, as it is having now. But it always ducked the task of answering the disability question: Who decides when a sorely stricken president can't carry out his duties? Who decides when he thinks he is no longer disabled?

NOW A SENATE subcommittee—on constitutional amendments—is tackling both questions: Succession and disability. It held hearings the past two days, will resume in late February.

There will be enormous disagreements, as always. The subcommittee has been drenched in proposals. And, when it's all through, no matter what it recommends, the full Congress may duck again.

The framers of the Constitution didn't try to be positive, either. THEY SAID—in case of the removal of the president from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of said office—"the same shall devolve on the vice president." They didn't say who decided on presidential disability.

They specifically left it up to Congress by law to say who became president if there was no president or vice president. Congress acted promptly, in a limited way.

By act of March 1, 1793, Congress provided for the Senate's president pro tempore and the speaker of the House, in that order, to succeed to the presidency if there was no president or vice president.

Congress wasn't satisfied. After 93 years it passed another act—on Jan. 19, 1886—knocking out the 1793 act and saying now that, if there was no president or vice president, the line of succession should be through the Cabinet, starting with the secretary of state.

After 61 more years, Congress by act of July 15, 1947, changed the line of succession again. Now it goes this way: Speaker of the House, the Senate's president pro tempore, and then the Cabinet.

(House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts is now 72 and the Senate's president pro tempore, Carl Hayden of Arizona, is 86.)

ON THE LINE of succession perhaps the most influential and persuasive suggestion was made this week by a group of lawyers called together by the American Bar Association.

They don't like the present arrangement—under that act of 1947—and suggest a constitutional amendment providing that when there is no vice president the president should nominate a person "who, upon approval by a majority of Congress in joint session, shall then become vice president."

This proposal has had a good response in Congress. Even if Congress approved and sent it to the states for ratification, this takes a lot of time and meanwhile there is no vice president.

BUT THERE is far more dispute over solving the question of presidential disability. There is no law covering this.

This is what causes uneasiness: Suppose a president feels he is no longer disabled and wants to take back his duties from the vice president but there is wide doubt that he is capable.

For this reason, it has been proposed that some group of government officials—the Cabinet, or Congress, or a commission—should decide when a president is no longer disabled. This is a big tangle, with perhaps no answer in sight.

News Events Of Yesteryear

History is an extremely interesting subject, but one we often think of in terms of centuries. Now and then I like to review what happened say 10 or 20 years ago, events in which those around me had a hand in shaping, or if they had no direct hand in the occurrences, they and at least were spectators.

ONLY A FEW DAYS ago I was scanning the newspapers of a decade ago, as the news was presented to Big Springers. Once again it was impressed on me why accounts dated 10 and 20 years ago, carried in many newspapers, have such avid readership.

Ten years ago on April 18 Lt. Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser emerged as a power when he became premier of Egypt, taking the place of the ill Mohamed Naguib, who resigned but hung around as a figurehead president. In Brazil, on Aug. 24, President Getulio Vargas of Brazil committed suicide. And the world was less than a year away from the prophetic announcement by the Russians that they would put a large vehicle into space ahead of the United States.

IN THE SPORTS world the impossible was accomplished—twice—when the barrier of the four-minute mile was broken. The mark was first broken on May 6, 1954 by Roger Bannister when he was clocked at 3:59.4. Just over a month later, on June 21, John Landy, an Australian miler, also reached track's greatest goal and set a new world record of 3:58.00.

Big things were going on in Big Spring and about Big Springers. July 15, 1954 was an eventful day for four men at Cosden Refinery.

Henry Covert, Eddie Anderson, Richard Laswell and Carroll Chouteau were rushed to the hospital when they were overcome by gas from a pocket which had collected overnight in a tank car used by the company.

EIGHT DAYS later the FCC awarded to Big Spring Broadcasting Co. a permit to build a television station.

Water also made the news. On May 11 heavy downpours dented one of the area's worst droughts with an average of 2½ inches falling on the county. The lowland section of western Big Spring was flooded and numerous families were forced from their homes. Many citizens took typhoid shots to safeguard themselves against the hazards presented by stagnant water.

That year Lake J. B. Thomas and its accessory facilities were chosen as one of the "Seven Engineering Wonders of Texas" by a committee of the Texas Section of the American Society of Civil Engineers. It placed third behind the greater Fort Worth International Airport, the Houston ship channel and Lower Colorado River Authority. The latter tied for second.

IN VILLA ACUNA, Mex., Pat McCormick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McCormick of Big Spring, was seriously injured on Sept. 5 when she was gored by a charging bull as she turned her back on the animal to accept cheers for her bravery in bullfighting. She stayed with the business, however, to establish quite a reputation in the arena.

These are only a few of the news highlights of that eventful year. I wonder what news of 1964 will read like 10 years from now.

Covering Up With Jewels

Christmas gift catalogues are a never failing source of inspiration and an index of American ingenuity. Four years ago, about the time the itchy bumpy polka dot bikini had made the jump from the Riviera to our own native beaches, I received a Yuletide catalogue from an Atlantic City, N. J., gift shoppe.

At the time, modesty (my own) kept me from mentioning the shoppe's most exotic gift offering, illustrated and described in its catalogue's Yuletide offerings. It was—and is—a "Belly Button Beauty Kit" assembled for "the well UN-dressed woman."

MY PREVIOUS reluctance to discuss this unusual beauty aid has been banished by the peek-a-boo fashions decreed this spring for the well-dressed woman. My friends among fashion editors and experts tell me that the bodice or blouse is slashed to the waist line and sometimes below it in the spring and summer offerings of haute couture.

Indeed, the slash has never gone as far south as in the present mode, which puts me in mind of the Atlantic City shoppe and its beauty accessories. So slashed are the cocktail dresses and so filmy their materials that it is difficult to tell them from a nightgown, except that the latter now tends to have more material and be less transparent—just in case of fire, probably.

CLEAVAGE we always have with us. Sometimes it runs from east to west or horizontally. In fact, usually it is horizontal, as in the great days of Diana Dors, Mae West, Jayne Mansfield, Marilyn Monroe, et al. And the movie censors require tulle or bows or a discreetly placed rose.

But then, semi-occasionally, cleavage runs north to south or vertically.

The Government's Figures

WASHINGTON—For the last three days, the American people, and particularly the news correspondents in Washington, have been deluged with an avalanche of figures. This has been designed to prove that the United States from 1961 to 1963 has gone through a period of unexampled prosperity and that even better times are ahead for 1964. But the figures given are not complete and in many respects are meaningless, if not misleading.

THUS, THE "GROSS national product"—the phrase supposed to describe the output of the whole economic system—is given in the President's economic report as reaching $623 billion in the year 1964. This is $239 billion above what it was in 1954, just a decade earlier.

But more than 40 per cent of this rise is due to higher prices. If compared with the prices of goods and services in 1954 and the value of the dollar at that time, the "gross national product" this year would not be $623 billion. It would be $517.4 billion, which is $154.3 billion above what it was ten years ago.

THE PRESIDENT also points to corporate profits as having made a 44 per cent rise in the last three years. This, however, is from a low point in 1961 and is not based on any annual figures. He says that a further rise will come with the tax cut. But a study of the fine print in the same big volume of statistics handed to the press this week discloses that corporate profits are projected at 4.9 per cent of the "gross national product" for 1964. This is less than what it has been in 11 of the 17 years since World War II.

THE SAD TRUTH is that corporate profits as a total figure are meaningless. The entire private-enterprise system, even by the President's figures, will retain in 1964 only $30.5 billion after taxes. Profit margins are rarely

And we are in the vertical decline at the moment.

IF, IN THE horizontal era, a yard of tulle or a cabbage rose can preserve modesty for those who haven't the courage of their endowments or, more probably, the endowments themselves, there is similar help in this age of vertical cleavage.

But it is nothing so simple as tulle or a flower. For the woman who does not have the courage of her 1964 peek-a-boo, there is the sequin or rhinestone brassiere expressly designed to augment intrepidity and the nightgown look. If milady is wearing a sequin or rhinestone bra with her see-through attire, the betting is six, two and even that she is wearing a ball gown rather than a nightgown and is on her way to a party rather than to bed. The bra is the key to the situation, which otherwise could be embarrassing.

THE RHINESTONE brassiere is a logical next step in the continuing development of this garment. Its mechanization has been going on apace for the past two decades, beginning with simple wiring and proceeding to armor plate. I can remember when any woman who could hold a needle and thread could mend a bra. But any repair work on the modern types requires an arc welder.

EVEN THOUGH it is still January and there are 300-some-odd days until next Christmas, I can already foresee the breath-taking, absolutely fabulous gift suggestions with which the Neiman-Marcus catalogue annually stuns its aficionados.

Not for it the rhinestone bra! Neiman-Marcus will undoubtedly be offering the real McCoy in perfect blue-white diamonds on a platinum chain base. It will be the perfect gift for the girl who has everything and wants a good place to put it. (Copyright, 1964, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

examined in government reports, and the fact remains that the narrowness of many of these margins prevents the investment of capital and discourages the expansion projects through which jobs can be created for the people who need them.

The assertion is made by the President that a tax cut now is necessary to stimulate the economy. But the economic report in some sections gives the impression that the economy is really riding high and doesn't need a tax cut as a stimulus. These viewpoints are contradictory.

THE PRESIDENT, incidentally, threw a scare into business in his latest economic report to Congress when he emphasized his intention to take action against business men if they raise prices, but he did not offer any hint of governmental action with respect to wage demands that could substantially increase the cost of operating businesses in America.

Another statement which the President made and which is causing many worries in the business world was the announcement of his decision to ask Congress to pass a law delegating to a group of private citizens the right to impose penalties for overtime. This would be accomplished by authorizing "higher overtime penalty rates on an industry-by-industry basis where tripartite industry committees determine that such rates could create more jobs without unduly raising costs." This is like the "NRA" scheme of New Deal days which was declared unconstitutional in 1935.

BUT THE MOST disconcerting factor in the whole economic picture is the continuing deficits in the federal budget and the intention of the United States Treasury to keep on borrowing money to make up for the loss in revenue that will arise when taxes are reduced.

Mentally Retarded Children Can Be Helped

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I read with interest and dismay a letter written to you and your reply to the woman with a brain-damaged child.

There is help, there are people who are concerned, and something can be done. My brother has such a child who had been taken to various doctors. Then one recommended—institute. It has a program designed to develop that part of the brain which is not damaged. Due to this program children have been taught to walk, to talk, to read and in general become normal. In many cases these children have surpassed the mentality of so-called normal children of equal age.

Please pass this information along—S. R.

I agree that much can often be done for either the retarded or the brain-damaged child. There is no doubt that, in the past, many such children have been shunted aside or "written off" without any effort to develop their capabilities.

After all, normal children have to be trained, or "taught" or whatever you want to call the process of imparting knowledge. A normal child, subjected to being ignored or thrust aside, will not develop to his potential capabilities. This, regrettably, has happened at times. Perhaps it still happens.

Let's take the opposite condition. Either retarded or brain-damaged children can be trained, but there will be a limit as to what they can learn or understand.

Frequently a retarded child will have a remarkably good memory. Yet not "understand." But because of that, such children can with patience be trained to have certain skills even though they may not understand the reasons.

All this is fine. Everybody—don't you think so, too?—should learn to use such abilities as he can. Most of us should be averagely good. The genius should be exceptionally good. The genius should be exceptionally good. The retarded should be as capable as their condition permits.

Hawks Await New Challenge

The Howard County Jayhawks put their Western Junior College Conference lead on the line tomorrow night in the HCJC gym as they tangle with the South Plains Texans in an 8 o'clock contest.

San Angelo, the Western Conference's only other unbeaten club, goes to Borger tonight to oppose Frank Phillips.

For the Hawks, with a 6-0 loop mark, it will be the second time to see the Texans in action. In an earlier game in December, the Hawks squeaked past with a 71-66 victory in Levelland.

When the Texans hit the floor, locals will get to see one of the outstanding players in the conference—Tommy Patton. In the last outing when these two clubs met, Patton was the high point man for the night as he garnered 24 points. He showed more than average ability in being able to hit a basket from any part of the floor.

Another boy to watch will be Charles Turbough, who had 13 against the Hawks. Other probable starters will be John Crippin, Max Swinburne, and Don Ford.

The Jayhawks will probably go with their usual lineup, which includes Tom Carter, Eddy Nelson, Keith Bond, Terry Williams and Jim Oldham.

There are reports some members of the squad, including at least one regular, is skating on thin ice scholastically but the results won't be known until next Wednesday.

Moser Chief Speaker At Saturday Party

The Downtown Lions Club, in line with a long-time custom, spreads a meal for the 1963 Big Spring High School football team at 7 o'clock Saturday night in the Cosden Country Club.

Chief speaker for the event will be Charles (Chuck) Moser, well-known director of athletics of the Abilene public schools and a popular speaker.

Several awards will be handed out to athletes during the party, including one to the most valuable back, most valuable lineman and the individual with the highest scholarship rating.

The awards will repose in the trophy room at the high school, incidentally, since Texas Interscholastic League rules dictate that the boy cannot retain the prizes.

Moser compiled a fabulous coaching record at Abilene High. He also coached at McAllen High in the Texas Valley.

All told, he served as a head coach for 14 years. During that time, his teams won 141 games, while losing only 29. Six of his Abilene teams were crowned district titlists and he guided his Eagles to three consecutive state crowns—in 1954-55-56.

A native of Chillicothe, Mo.,

CHUCK MOSER

Moser played his college football at the University of Missouri as a center under Dan Faurot. He roomed with the great Paul Christman in college and accompanied the Missouri football team to the Orange Bowl in Miami, Fla., in 1940 to perform against Bill Alexander's Georgia Tech club. Missouri lost in that decision in a real cliffhanger, 21-14.

Moser coached for seven years at McAllen, hired out as the Corpus Christi Miller mentor but stayed there only one week when the Abilene job opened up in 1953. He retired as the Abilene mentor after the 1959 season, when a second high school opened up in Abilene, in order to concentrate on duties as director of athletics.

Moser is also well known for his civic work in Abilene. He has served as president of the Kiwanis Club there, been chairman of the board at St. Paul's Methodist Church and as chairman of Abilene's United Fund drive.

He and Mrs. Moser have two girls, one a freshman at Texas Tech and the other an eighth grade student at Abilene Jefferson Junior High.

He coached the fabulous Glyn Gregory-Jimmy Carpenter team in Abilene, which is regarded as one of the greatest in Texas schoolboy history.

James Tidwell will serve as master of ceremonies at the banquet. Steer coaches will be guests, along with the players.

No Decision Made On Card

The 1965 District 2-AAAA football schedule came in for liberal discussion at a meeting of the executive held at the Big Spring Country Club Thursday but absolutely nothing was done about it.

The multiple-school cities expressed some dissatisfaction with the schedule. And after talking about the matter, each school was asked to prepare a schedule before another meeting to be held in August.

In other football matters, the coaches commended Tommy Hart, Big Spring Herald sports editor for keeping district statistics. The coaches also expressed an interest in again voting on the all-district team now selected by the sports writers.

Touching on basketball, it was decided that, in case of a three-way tie for the title, the odd man in a coin flip will be eliminated from the playoff but will be declared a tri-champ. Then the other two teams will meet in a one-game playoff.

However, the Interscholastic League will be contacted to see if a three-way playoff can be held.

The coaches voted to reverse sites for the 1964-65 basketball season but exact dates haven't been set.

The problem is complicated because play usually starts on the first Friday in January and the first Friday in 1965 falls on Jan. 1.

Eligibility of Marvin Rex Young of Odessa Permian was okayed, and parking fees at San Angelo home football games were mentioned in other business.

Evans Will Get Dallas Chance

DALLAS — Flanker Jimmy Evans of Texas Western, has signed with the Dallas Cowboys, the club announced recently.

Evans was one of three players the Cowboys chose on the sixth round, the others being Billy Luthridge of Georgia Tech and Jim Curry of Cincinnati whose draft rights were acquired by trade.

A 6-1, 188-pounder, Evans played both halfback and end in college. Evans, 22, played at Big Spring High School and attended Howard County Junior College before entering Texas Western.

Hayworth Back At Monterey

Bobby Hayworth, former Big Spring High School quarterback, has returned to Lubbock Monterey High School as a coaching aide under James Odum.

Hayworth has been employed as first assistant at Iowa Park High School the past year. Odum replaced Bill Dubose recently as coach of the Plainsmen.

James Schillingburg recently resigned as a Monterey coach to enter the insurance field.

Dozier Records 7,241 In Meet

DALLAS, (AP) — Here is how Texans stand after eight rounds in the finals of the All-Star Bowling Tournament.

Men: Bill Lillard, Dallas, sixth, total score, 7,764. E. B. Dozier, Lubbock, 7,241; Don Ellis, Houston 7,175.

Officers will probably be elected during the conclave. The club is being formed to boost and support athletic teams fielded by the local college. Its membership ranks are open to anyone who has performed for HCJC in past years, no matter where they live.

PAT WASHBURN'S The Roundtable

ODDS AND ENDS: Skeet shooting is a sport of perfection. One local shooter who incidentally is a state champion in his class, won the title by hitting 199 out of 200 birds. This was slightly above his average—he averages 97.6 every time he shoots 100 birds...

Ric Riccardo, a Chicago restaurant owner, is also a volleyball player. And of some renown, for he's considered an almost sure bet to make the 1964 U.S. Olympic team.

Ever wonder how hard a good player hits a volleyball? Riccardo's "spike" shot has been clocked at 81 m.p.h. That's only 17 m.p.h. slower than Bob Felier's fastball.

The spike is the chief offensive weapon in volleyball, a rapid downward smash usually delivered by a front line player.

A player-coach who knows Riccardo well says this: "A lot of people consider volleyball a girl's game... but then they haven't been hit in the head with one of Ric's spike shots."

Handball originated with the Egyptians about 4,000 years ago. The Romans left traces of a game called pelota, which was played by hitting a ball against a wall with the bare hand. A game of handball closely resembling today's game was played throughout Ireland in the tenth century.

Curling, a big sport in Switzerland, is played on ice with circular stones that weigh approximately 44 pounds. The stones are slid at a bulleye 138 feet away with the player getting the closest to the small one foot circle in the middle getting the point.

Although the sport is virtually unknown in this part of the country, lacrosse is big in the East. All-Americans are named every year with Navy, Army, Maryland, and John Hopkins turning out powerhouses annually. Many boys consider it more of an honor to be an All-American in lacrosse than football—that's how popular and big it is.

The game is similar in many ways to football, so much so that many well-known gridgers go on to achieve fame in both sports. Personalities who made All-American at lacrosse include Army's PETE DAWKINS and "LONELY END" CARPENTER, and Maryland's one and only JIMMY BROWN (who's now with the Cleveland Browns).

I knew one boy who had played for Johns Hopkins and he had over 40 scars all over his body from the game...

Talking about speed, how would you like to get on the court with BIG BILL TILDEN when he was at his prime with a tennis racket. He was clocked at hitting a ball 220 feet a second or 150 miles per hour.

And then there's softball. A good softball pitcher can actually throw faster than any of his counterparts now tossing in the major leagues. In one test, one of the top hurlers in the under-arm style got his pitch clocked at 104 m.p.h.

According to the guy, most good softball pitchers like to average right at 100 m.p.h.

Did you know that the sport of swimming is the world's most physically tiring sport? And ja-lai requires a better eye, more speed, activity and surer control over every muscle of the body than any other sport in existence.

Robbins Is Speaker At Sul Ross Football Clinic

ALPINE — A two-day clinic for high school football coaches will be held at Sul Ross State College Feb. 21-22, according to David Slaughter, head football coach and athletic director.

High school grid coaches, including both head and assistant members, are invited to attend the clinic. There will be no charge for coaches attending the affair.

"We have lined up some fine speakers, and hope to have a good number of coaches on hand," Slaughter said. "We're going to mail out invitations to a large number of coaches right away," he added. "And hope coaches aware of this school will make every effort to attend."

Coachings planning to attend the clinic are requested to write

Steers, Bobcats Clash Here At 8:00 Tonight

The Big Spring Steers, 2-4 in district, try to stop the tall and talented San Angelo Bobcats in an 8 o'clock basketball game here tonight.

San Angelo is the defending titlist in District 2-AAAA and, although wounded, is not yet considered out of the conference race. Big Spring has been relegated to the role of spoiler, at best.

The Bobcats, coached by Dick Rittman, are also 2-4 in the standings but have acquitted themselves better in recent outings than have the locals. They appear capable of beating any foe on a given night.

San Angelo will probably start a team consisting of Ronnie Henson, 6-5, A. Z. Drones, 6-4 1/2, Bob Hetrick, 5-10; Alan McGill, 5-11; and Willie Allen, 6-1.

Big Spring is apt to go with a lineup consisting of Ronnie Banks, Albert Fierro, Deeloby Gartman, Mike Peters and Charley West.

The Steers were defeated by 19 points in their game against Abilene High earlier this week.

Drones is averaging 11 points a game for the Bobcats and is one of the top rebounders in the area. Allen is scoring almost as well.

Over the year, Henson is pacing the Tabbies with 244 points for an 18.8-game average.

For the year, Big Spring is averaging 58.7 points a game while San Angelo has scored at a rate of 55.8. Big Spring has allowed 57.4 points a start to the opposition, compared to 55.1 for the Cats.

Big Spring carries an overall record of 10-4 on the floor tonight. San Angelo is 9-11.

B teams of the two schools square away at 6:15 p.m.

In other league contests tonight, Odessa Permian clashes with Odessa High, Abilene High meets Abilene Cooper in a headliner and Midland High squares off with Midland Lee.

Grady Has Court Play

GRADY — First round action was run off Thursday in the Grady Invitational Junior High Basketball Tournament as eight schools vied for wins.

In the boys' bracket, Sands defeated Grady B, 39-29, while Forsan raced past Union, 34-26. Other games saw Garden City besting Forsan B, 33-24. Courtney getting past Greenwood, 22-17, and Grady whipping Flower Grove, 38-27.

Friday's games in the boys' bracket will be: championship division, Sands and Forsan, 7 p.m.; Garden City and Courtney, 2 p.m.; winner of the Garden City and Courtney game against Grady, 9 p.m. In the consolation class: Grady B and Union, 12 noon. Forsan B and Courtney, 4 p.m.

Finals are set for Saturday afternoon and evening.

January Is Tied For Links Lead

Lema, who followed his victory tradition of serving champagne to the press when he won last week at the Crosby tournament, said, "It's still too early to be thinking about the bubbly stuff."

The twosome hardly had a safe lead. Money-winning king, Arnold Palmer, and non-winner Jerry Steelsmith, began today's second round only one stroke behind. Breathing on their necks were five men at 68, a dozen at 69 and eight at 70.

Lema and January each putted superbly at the 6,722-yard, par 36-35-71 Harding Park municipal course, but it was the rain - softened greens which helped Lema — 1964's leading money winner — to his fine round.

While January was sinking long birdie putts, Tony was coming out of trouble onto the greens with splendid shots that dropped dead on the spongy surfaces.

LAMESA (SC) — Proponents of a move to secure a municipal golf course here indicated to Lamesa City Council Monday they intend to circulate petitions in an effort to force a bond election to decide the issue.

Backers indicated they would petition the Dawson County commissioner's court on the proposal since city officials wanted county support.

Estimated cost of the project was pegged at $45,000. Supporters want to construct the nine-hole regulation course at Pioneer Park, which is infrequently used, and on adjacent city-owned property. Total acreage available is 46 acres.

In other action, councilmen adopted on second and final reading an ordinance regulating the operation of pool and billiard tables for profit and accepted a group hospitalization plan offered by Aetna Life Insurance Co. Seven other insurance companies also bid for the policy.

Runnels Rips Lamar, 69-52

LAMESA Yearlings, paced by the 29 point effort of James Carver, raced past the visiting Lamar quintet Thursday, 69-52, in a ninth grade contest.

Taking a secure 18-7 first period lead, the Yearlings went on to a 20-22 halftime advantage. Scoring 24 points in the third quarter wrapped the game up for the Yearlings.

Gary Rogers had 16 points for Runnels while Goidan led Lamar with 16.

Deductions Big Worry For Most Taxpayers

EDITOR'S NOTE — One of the biggest questions surrounding filing income tax returns revolves about the issue of deductions for personal expenses. Here are the ABC's covering personal expenses in filing your 1963 income tax return, last of five articles.

By The Associated Press

This is an ABC on deductions for personal expenses in filing your 1963 income tax return.

Some rules:
1. You can take the standard deduction allowed everyone filing a return even though your expenses were not as much as the standard deduction gives you. And you don't have to list your expenses to prove you had them.

The standard deduction is generally 10 per cent of your income up to a limit of $1,000.

2. Or, if your expenses were actually more than the standard deduction allows, you can claim them in full but in that case you must prove you had the expenses by itemizing them.

3. Anyone can use form 1040 in making a return. Anyone itemizing must use it and cannot use 1040A.

UNDER $5,000

4. Only under-$5,000 income people can use the tax table to find their tax without figuring it. But no matter how much your income — under or over $5,000 — you must figure your own tax if you itemize expenses.

5. The over-$5,000 income people must figure their own tax, whether they take the standard deduction or itemize.

If you're one of the over-$5,000 people figuring your own tax—provided you're single or a married couple filing jointly—you take your standard deduction this way:

You subtract 10 per cent of your income—up to a limit of $1,000—before applying the tax to what's left.

But note these two rules:

UP TO LIMIT

1. A married couple filing separate returns can also deduct 10 per cent of their income for expenses but only up to a limit of $500 on each return.

2. When a husband and wife file separate returns and one of them itemizes deductions, both must use form 1040.

The list of deductions is far too long for full treatment here. Those deductions, and various rules for them, cover many pages of government guides. What follows is an attempt to condense much information but not all.

You'll get some information from the IRS instruction sheet. But if you need more than you find there or here then, for 40 cents, buy from the IRS the highly-detailed, 144-page government booklet: "Your Federal Income Tax."

FOR TRAVEL

For instance, you may need that booklet if you want to deduct for travel and entertainment expenses. The government, beginning in 1963, tightened up on the rules covering such deductions. You may need detailed information.

Also on your 1963 return you can claim a deduction, too involved for this space, for what is called retirement credit. Also you may need more information on medical and medicine expenses.

Some expenses you can deduct:

Contributions to charitable, religious, or educational organizations, such as the Community Chest, Salvation Army, churches, Red Cross, heart and cancer associations, tuberculosis societies and gifts—but not dues — to the YMCA, YWCA, YMHA, YWHA, and the American Legion.

20 PER CENT

Generally contributions cannot exceed 20 per cent of your income. But 30 per cent is allowed if one-third, or more of your contributions went to churches and tax-exempt hospitals and educational institutions.

You can make these deductions:

State income taxes, real estate and state gasoline taxes (but not federal gasoline taxes), personal property taxes, auto license and registration fees, poll taxes and most retail sales taxes.

Some people, perhaps most, have not kept records on the sales taxes they paid in 1963. As a help the IRS has published in single-sheet form what generally can be considered a reasonable deduction, without the necessity of proof, for people who pay a sales tax in the various states and the District of Columbia. If you need one, get it from your IRS collector.

You can deduct for:

DUES, FEES

Union dues, dues in professional societies, alimony payments by the person making them, fees to employment agencies, club dues if they are needed for business reasons and books or newspapers bought for use in your profession.

Also:

Interest on your house mortgage, on a life insurance policy if you pay the interest in cash, delinquent taxes, your personal note to a bank or individual, and interest on personal property bought on the installment plan.

You can deduct the net amount of actual property loss from fire, storms, theft or accident. These may or may not be business losses.

You can deduct: Expenses for your education but only if it was to help or improve you in keeping up with the skills of your job or to meet your employer's express requirements for keeping your salary. You can't deduct if the education was for personal reasons or to help you get a better job.

LICENSES

You cannot deduct for:

Federal income taxes, federal social security payments withheld from your wages, estate and gift taxes, state inheritance taxes, fishing and hunting license fees, dog licenses, federal excise taxes on furs, jewelry, telephones, rail, bus and air tickets, wine, whiskey, gasoline, tobacco, theater tickets. And you cannot deduct self-employment taxes you pay on your earnings from self-employment.

Your tax can be reduced by excluding things like sick pay and subtracting dividend credit.

Your pay is taxable if you were home ill only seven days. But for every day you were sick at home over seven days you can deduct up to $100 a week.

But—if you were home because of injury or were hospitalized for as little as one day, you can start excluding sick pay from the first day of absence without waiting out the seven-day period which applies to illness at home.

In deducting for sick pay you may use form 1040 but can't use 1040A.

JOINT STOCK

Suppose you got dividend income from stock in domestic corporations. You can exclude the first $50 of it. You can exclude $100 if your wife owns the stock jointly with you and she files jointly with you.

And, because of what is called dividend credit, you can deduct up to 4 per cent of what's left of your dividends after deducting the $50 and $100 just explained. You must use form 1040 and can't use 1040A.

Medical expenses:

You can deduct for them if you itemize them on form 1040 but only that part of them which is more than 3 per cent of your income as shown on line 9 of 1040.

As for the cost of medicines and drugs, you can include it in your medical expenses but only that part which is more than 1 per cent of your income as shown on line 9 of form 1040.

NOT APPLY

But—if you or your wife was 65 in 1963 the 3 per cent limit for your medical care does not apply.

The rules on age don't apply when deducting for medicines or drugs—either for yourselves or your parents. You can include as medical expenses only that part of the medicine bill which is more than 1 per cent of your income as shown on line 9 of form 1040.

Father To Take Stand In Defense

HOUSTON (AP) — Jack W. Bonds was expected to testify in his own defense today in his murder trial which has been marked by 16 days of testimony about teen-age violence and near fist fights between the prosecutor and defense attorney.

Bonds, 42, is charged in the pistol slaying Jan. 18, 1963 of William John Walden, III, 14. Walden was a boy friend of Bonds' stepdaughter, Beverly.

The defense is attempting to prove that Bonds was harassed by a gang of teen-agers, some of whom were pursuing his step-daughter.

Six police officers and two school teachers testified Thursday of drinking, threats, knives, vandalism, malicious mischief and theft by a group of Johnston Junior High School youths. The school has an enrollment of 3,160, the largest among the district's junior highs.

Defense attorney Percy Foreman and prosecutor Erwin G. Ernst tangled again Thursday as they have nearly every day of the trial.

Following a heated exchange of words, Ernst told Foreman he was going to hit him if he made one more wisecrack. Deputy Sheriff Gordon Binford hurried to separate the two men and an excited spectator accidentally leaned on a light switch and plunged half the courtroom into darkness for a time.

KIWANIS COOKS

Club Makes Plans For Annual Pancake Fest

The Twelfth Annual Big Spring Kiwanis pancake supper, an event held each February which has become popular with Big Spring residents, will be served at the Howard County Junior College Student Union Building Feb. 21.

Soc Walker, general committee chairman, said committee and work assignments will be announced next week.

The Thursday luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club was an official "kick off" for the annual supper. Tickets were issued to each Kiwanis member. They cost 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children.

ALL YOU CAN EAT

In the past, the theme of the supper will be "all the pancakes you can eat for the price of your ticket."

In other years, the club has served hundreds of Big Springers at these suppers. Many residents look forward to it and make the supper a social event.

The program for Thursday was presented by Ewing Welein, chairman of the boys and girls committee. He introduced Mel Ivey, director of the capella choir of the Big Spring High School. Ivey presented his choir, which sang four selections.

GIVE $300

A special event was the presentation of a $300 check to Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College. The money, along with $350 provided by the college, will be used to build a practice board for tennis courts at HCJC.

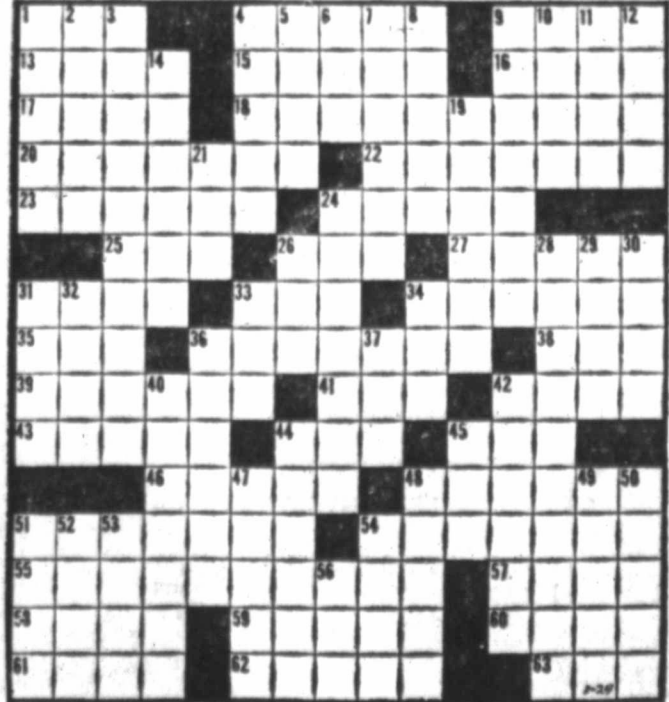

Anna Smith, tennis coach, was on hand to take part in the event. It was Miss Smith who two years ago challenged the Kiwanis to build a tennis court when they asked her to suggest something the club might do for the college. The club accepted the challenge and, with cooperation of HCJC and others, provided a modern four court facility. The courts are named for the club.

The practice board, which Miss Smith said is important in building skill at tennis, will be constructed on a fence between the court's two playing areas.

Some Southerners Confused Over Federal Poll Tax Ban

By The Associated Press

There were some bewildered voters and puzzled election officials in parts of the South today following ratification of a constitutional amendment banning payment of a poll tax as a condition for voting in federal elections.

Texas began preparing a dual poll tax system. There was talk of possible election confusion in Alabama and a special legislative session in Arkansas. The Mississippi Legislature expected to consider the matter during the present session. Virginia had a new law on the books designed to offset the effect of the amendment to some extent.

The five states, which make poll tax payments a requirement for voting, came face to face with a long expected development Thursday when South Dakota approved the 24th Amendment.

It was the 38th state to do so and thus made the amendment part of the Constitution. Ratification was required by three-fourths of the 50 states.

The amendment provided that the right to vote in any primary or general election for president or vice president, or for senator or representative in Congress, shall not be denied because of the failure to pay a poll tax or any other tax.

Here is reaction, state by state:

STATE AND FEDERAL

Poll Tax Receipt Needed To Vote In All Elections

It may well be that the action of South Dakota in ratifying the national poll tax amendment could create a confused situation in Texas in the matter of voting but one thing remains crystal clear:

If you want to insure your right to vote in all elections this year, pay the poll tax and get a poll tax receipt.

What may or may not happen after the General Services Agency certifies that the 38th state has now banned payment of poll tax or other fee as a qualification for voting in federal elections in any state, it is assured by special provision of the Texas election laws that the person who has paid his poll tax for the current year can vote in all elections held this year.

receipt or an exemption certificate and do not want to get one before Jan. 31, but still have a desire to vote in federal elections, wait for an announcement of the proper time to go to the tax assessor-collector's office to register.

Howard Poll Tax Sales Reach 6,095

Howard County's list of qualified voters crept past the 6,000 mark Thursday. Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, county tax-assessor-collector, reported that poll tax receipts and exemption certificates issued for the current year reached 6,095 at the close of business Thursday.

Mrs. LeFevre thinks that the action of South Dakota in ratifying the poll tax amendment to the federal Constitution will have a definite slowing down effect on the payment of poll tax for the remaining five days such taxes can be paid.

"We would probably have reached close to 12,000 qualified voters this year," said Mrs. LeFevre, "if the South Dakota Action had been delayed another 10 days or two weeks."

"Now, however, I am sure there will be a sharp drop in poll tax payments. A lot of voters who have paid their poll tax were interested in the presidential elections of next fall. Now they will entitle the holder, when he presents the receipt at the polls, to vote in federal elections for federal officials.

However, all of these things are for the future.

30-DAY PERIOD

There will be a little interval before the certification of the South Dakota ratification is made. And after that, there will be a 30 day period set up for people to qualify themselves.

If you have paid your poll tax and hold a receipt or if you have a certificate of exemption issued for the current poll tax year, these documents qualify you to vote in all elections held in Texas this year. You do not have to come back to the tax office later for a second receipt or certificate.

If you do not have a poll tax that we will soon open a registration program for voters who do not want to pay poll tax but want to vote in federal elections, I am sure there will be a decrease in demand for poll tax receipts."

The registration plan, when it becomes operative, will involve no cost to the voter. The poll tax is $1.75.

Deadline for payment of poll tax or for obtaining exemption certificates is Jan. 31. Mrs. LeFevre plans to keep her office open until midnight on that date as a convenience to all voters who want to pay their poll tax.

ALABAMA

Judge Roy Mayhall, chairman of the State Democratic Central Committee, said, "this amendment will cause considerable confusion in Alabama if we are forced to hold separate elections."

"If the Alabama members of Congress are to be elected without Alabama voters paying a poll tax," Mayhall said, "it is my judgment that all voters ought to be able to participate in all elections alike."

ARKANSAS

Tentative plans are being made to call a special session of the Arkansas Legislature to set up a voter registration system, but Gov. Orval E. Faubus said he did not know when it would take place.

The governor said it might be possible to hold this summer's primaries under the poll tax system if state and federal offices are separated.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has hailed as a triumph of liberty a new amendment to the Constitution outlawing the poll tax as a requirement for voting in elections for federal office.

The 24th Amendment was written into the law of the land this election year when South Dakota Thursday became the 38th state to approve it. Ratification by three-fourths of the 50 states was required.

Johnson said in a statement it was a "verification of the people's rights which are rooted so deeply in the mainstream of this nation's history."

"This triumph, now of liberty over restriction is a grateful and proud moment for me," Johnson said.

Geologist To Begin Studies

Allan Willford, Fort Worth geologist, has arrived to begin detailed geological studies of the upper Colorado River between Robert Lee and Colorado City.

The Colorado River Municipal Water District obtained the services of Willford through permission of Texas Electric Service Company, with whom he is associated regularly.

Studies and inspections have been made by Ralph Scalapino, Austin, geologist for the consultant firm of W. A. Guyton & Associates, and by Roger Rhoades, San Francisco, Calif., one of the outstanding authorities in the nation on dam foundations. Willford will concern himself largely with coordinating the geological findings. Rhoades requested this work for consideration in reaching a recommendation to Freese, Nichols and Endress, Fort Worth, the district's engineers for a new dam on the river.

National Vote Free For Texans After 62 Years

By The Associated Press

Texas can vote free in national elections this year for the first time in 62 years.

State officials began work Friday on instructions to help county tax collectors set up facilities to issue free poll tax receipts at the same counter where poll tax payments are being accepted.

The best course for Texans, Gov. John Connally and state Democratic party officials said Thursday, is to pay poll taxes and get exemption certificates as if nothing happened.

Our Mightiest Hour

Rockets have a certain thrust — and no more. Nuclear bombs have a certain explosive force — and no more. Every powerful device on which man depends for military defense or scientific advance is limited in its energy.

But FAITH has no limits. It turns with trusting eyes to the Almighty, whose power is infinite, whose love is everlasting. It is constantly confident and courageous — because its resources cannot be exhausted.

In perilous times a great nation always finds its might in spiritual resources. And today, significantly, one of the essential elements of survival in which our stockpile dwarfs the Russians is FAITH. Khrushchev has no secret installation to match the thrust and force generated in the souls of our people by our hundreds of thousands of churches.

Think on these things as we worship together next Sunday morning . . . our mightiest hour!

New Corpus Probe Called

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—The state called a new probe today into the bankruptcy of Paul Amos Sandblom. But the investors who say he owes them an estimated $25 million may learn very little about what happened to their money.

William M. King, state securities commissioner, ordered the probe, and banned the public and newsmen. Sandblom's nationwide financial empire, operated out of his insurance agency, crumbled Jan. 7 when he became a voluntary bankrupt. He surrendered to federal officers five days later and has been unable to post the $125,000 in bonds asked by state and federal agencies. Sandblom is charged with dealing illegally in securities.

GOOD ESTIMATE
Roberts Burke, appointed receiver for Sandblom's assets, said an estimate of $25 million in debts is a good one. Assets found so far total $27,000. No one in authority has said what happened to the $25 million, assuming Burke's estimate is correct.

Sandblom isn't talking. At a bankruptcy hearing last week he invoked the 5th Amendment 128 times in declining to answer questions.

The 39-year-old Sandblom did say he had no money hidden under his control. But he would not say if he has other property or if he placed property in someone else's name.

NOT TALKING
Persons who invested money with Sandblom decline to talk for publication if their names are to be used.

But talking to several of them indicates this happened: About eight years ago Sandblom told acquaintances he knew of investments which would bring high interest—as much as 50 per cent a year, says the Rev. Glen Norman, pastor of the Corpus Christi Second Baptist Church. The minister is an investor with Sandblom.

Sandblom said the money would be loaned to contractors who needed operating capital until they received payment for completion of their contracts.

The word spread from person to person until an estimated 3,000 to 4,000 persons residing from coast to coast invested with him.

KNEW NOTHING
However Sandblom's accountant and his bookkeeper, A. Earl Jourde and Richard G. Lockwood, testified that they knew nothing about dealings for high-way contractor loans.

Referee Burke said he had seen deposit slips of $900,000 covering income for one day. As late as December, Sandblom offered to return any principal with very few takers. About a month ago, Sandblom and his wife moved into a home estimated to cost $70,000.

Said Darrell Hester, an attorney for some investors: "The creditors had no inkling that he was on the verge of bankruptcy. They all hope it turns out to be a bad dream."

FROM IOWA
Sandblom came here 11 years ago from Waterloo, Iowa, where he operated an insurance agency for three years.

In a short time, he built his agency in Corpus Christi into one of the city's four largest. Five years ago he was divorced from his first wife. They had two children, both teenagers now.

A year later Sandblom married his secretary and adopted her daughter by a previous marriage.

Long Service

Mrs. Florence I. Weaver, receptionist at the Webb AFB Hospital, recently received an award for having completed 20 years of service. The award was made by Col. Rex D. Fryer, Webb wing commander.

Dorough Is Sentenced

William Ralph Dorough, who pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary some weeks ago and then filed a motion for a new trial to give him time to get his personal affairs in order, appeared in 118th District Court Thursday afternoon for sentencing.

Judge Ralph Caton sentenced him to three years in the penitentiary.

He was found guilty of the burglary some months ago of Zora's Cafe on the Lamesa Highway.

DEAR ABBY
He's Paying High Price

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a husband who is a walking adding machine? Our friends are slowly drifting away because of him. For example, he counts the number of cookies each guest consumes, and he tells them to bring their own tea bags! He is downright insulting. He will sit right there at the dinner table and tell his guests how much the meat costs a pound, and butter, too. Then he wonders why everybody has lost his appetite. My nerves are ragged and my blood pressure is very high. How can I make him realize what he is doing?
DEAR ABBY: The only hope for your husband is a psychiatrist. One visit should do the trick. When he finds out how much it costs, he'll probably snap out of it.

DEAR ABBY: I have just returned from another fruitless shopping trip through our local stores. I have a teen-age daughter who is, and always has been, dogged by the problem of overweight. She is a lovely, sensitive girl. Because of her exceptional personality she has many friends. My problem? CLOTHES! I wonder if clothes manufacturers think that everyone who wears a size 20 or 40 has to look like "granny"? Why don't they make youthful styles in the larger sizes for teenagers?
DEAR MOM: Dress manufacturers design for the masses, and the teen-ager who requires a size 20 or 40 is exceptional. If your daughter is difficult to fit, buy patterns and fabric and have a dressmaker make them. The ideal solution, of course, would be to put her on a diet under the watchful eye of a physician, and eventually get her exceptional personality into a size 12.

DEAR ABBY: Last June we sent our niece a wedding gift that cost us $50 and mailed it to her in another state. We never got one word of acknowledgment, so we wrote to her mother who lives in the same city, and asked if the package was ever received. We said we'd have it traced if she didn't get it. The mother wrote back, "The kids got the gift but they have been so busy trying to get their apartment furnished, and with the baby coming and all, please don't be angry with them for not writing." Abby, how can young people be so lax? We've had the same experience with graduation and Christmas gifts. But these same people are Johnny-on-the-spot with announcements of every kind. How does one handle this?
DEAR HURT: Any girl who is old enough to be married is responsible for her own actions, so it's unfair (and unkind) to expect her mother to make her apologies. You should have written directly to the girl. If one fails to acknowledge a graduation or Christmas gift, and then has the nerve to send a birth announcement, the announcement should be disregarded.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ELK-HART": You can't stop people from thinking. But you can start them!
Get it off your chest. For a personal unpublished reply, write to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.
