Movieland's Alan Ladd Dead After Top Career

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Alan Ladd, who realized a dream of driving a limousine through the same studio gate where once he had to punch a time clock, is dead at 50.

The 5-foot-6 star, who walked tall as a movie hero for 23 years, was found dead in the master bedroom of his home Wednesday. A servant who had become alarmed when the actor failed to wake up from a nap found the body.

A doctor and Police Chief Gus Kettmann said that Ladd died of natural causes, presumably a heart attack. An autopsy has been ordered.

FOR 10 DAYS
Ladd, except for a butler, had been alone in his desert home for the last 10 days. His wife, the former actress Sue Carol, was at the couple's West Los Angeles home.

"I talked with Alan three times Tuesday," she said. "He seemed in fine spirits as always. It's a terrible shock."

It was Miss Carol, who later turned agent, who heard Ladd on a 15-minute radio show.

interviewed him, signed him and later married him.
After some bit parts in movies Alan got the role of the hired gunman in "This Gun for Hire."

The picture starred Robert Preston, later to become famous as "The Music Man," but it was Ladd the fans remembered.

At the height of his popularity at Paramount, Ladd received 20,000 fan letters a month. He employed eight secretaries to answer them.

At the other table where the English were seated North and South, the bidding proceeded as depicted in the diagram. North took an optimistic view of his holding and, when his partner responded to his one heart opening with a bid of one no trump, he proceeded directly to game although he had only 18 points in high cards.

West opened the deuce of spades which was ducked in dummy, and East put up the queen to hold the trick. On the spade return, West covered the jack with the king, and declarer played North's ace. Prospects were virtually nil for South, since any attempt to win nine tricks required bringing in the club suit. This was an exceedingly dim prospect since he lacked a side entry to get to his hand, even if the suit should become established.

However, a bold front can sometimes accomplish wonders. Declarer led the jack of clubs from dummy and then topped this with the king from his own hand. The sight of the two honors on the table must have exerted a hypnotic spell on West, for he unwisely released his ace of clubs at once.

While thumbing thru our files the other morning, we ran across an interesting hand that first saw the light of day in an International Match between the United States and England. Altho the result was a tragedy for the American team, the deal provides a useful illustration of how a seemingly hopeless situation may be rescued by a resourceful declarer who retains his poise against heavy odds.

When the United States held the North-South cards, North opened the bidding in fourth position with one no trump. While the holding of an unguarded doubleton renders this call somewhat unorthodox it is to be admitted that no entirely attractive call is available. The one no trump bid was not disturbed, and in the play North suffered a one trick setback. The opening lead was a spade and, when South tried to establish his club suit, West held up the ace for one round and thereby permanently retired the dummy from the play.

Father Tells Of Threats By Youths

HOUSTON (AP)—Jack Bonds, 22, testified again today in his murder trial.

Bonds, charged with murder in the slaying of a teen-age boy, testified two hours Wednesday.

The short and slender man is charged in the shooting death of William Walden III, 15, in January 1963.

Bonds, near tears at times, told of harassment by a teenage gang and worry about his stepdaughter, Beverly.

He said his troubles started when Beverly, then 14, enrolled in 1962 at Johnston Junior High School.

He testified she skipped school and was gone all night in October 1962.

"When she showed up she told us she spent the night in a shack in the woods with Bill Walden and other boys and girls," he said.

He said on another occasion his stepdaughter was gone for three or four days.

Beverly, now 16, is married and the mother of a month old son.

Bonds said teen-age thugs raced in front of his home in a car and beat and scratched on Beverly's window in the middle of the night.

"Every time we disciplined Beverly, we would receive telephone calls from these boys and they would threaten to kill us," he said.

Prior to Bonds' testimony, Dr. J. D. Farrar, a psychologist, described Walden as a "psychopathic deviate."

Senate Summons Baker Partner For Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ernest Tucker, law partner and business associate of former Senate aide Robert G. Baker, was called for secret questioning today by the Senate Rules Committee.

So was Francis Law, a local attorney whose name was brought up in testimony about joint stock buying ventures by Baker and Robert F. Thompson, a Texas business executive.

The committee is investigating whether Baker, who resigned under fire Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, engaged in outside business deals that conflicted with his official duties or involved other improprieties.

Tucker is chairman of the Serv-U Corp., a vending machine company in which Baker has claimed to own $1 million worth of stock. A $300,000 damage suit brought by a local vending machine firm against Serv-U, Baker and others led to the committee's investigation.

In contrast to Tucker, regarded as a major witness, Law has been barely mentioned in the hearings so far.

ALL A DREAM

Ladd died a rich man but he always said: "I feel every day as if it is all a dream — and I'm going to wake up and find myself pushing scenery around again."

Funeral rites will be held Saturday at Glendale.

Ladd and his wife had been married before. Ladd had a son by his first wife, Alan, Jr., 26. Sue has a daughter, Carol Lee Veitch, 31, from her first marriage to actor Nick Stuart.

The couple had two children, Alana, 20, and David, 16.

Oswald Mom Won't Accept Probe Report

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Netherlands' new ambassador to Mexico, Baron Schelto van Heemstra, will arrive Saturday to assume his post.

DALLAS (AP)—The mother of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused slayer of President Kennedy, and her lawyer say they won't be able to accept findings of the Warren Commission unless they can question its witnesses.

They talked to newsmen Wednesday as further mental tests were given Jack Ruby, who killed Oswald two days after Kennedy was assassinated last Nov. 22. One source reported doctors found no organic brain damage.

Mrs. Marguerite Oswald and New York lawyer Mark Lane said they will continue a search "for facts that will determine the guilt or innocence" of her son although their request to cross-examine Warren Commission witnesses has been denied.

ASSASSINATION

Oswald, 24, was arrested shortly after the assassination and charged with shooting both Kennedy and a Dallas policeman. Ruby, 32, a Dallas strip joint operator, shot Oswald as officers started to move the prisoner from city to county jail.

Mrs. Oswald said again that evidence against her son was circumstantial and "no one saw Lee fire the gun."

Lane said: "I have very serious doubts as to Oswald's guilt."

He said on the basis of evidence released by Dist. Atty. Henry Wade two days after the shooting there was no case against Oswald. This information was false or contradictory and it left many questions unanswered, he said.

NOT QUESTIONED
Lane said the FBI had not questioned all the persons who could give evidence and added: "I believe the FBI adopted the theory Oswald assassinated the President and that Oswald acted alone."

He and Mrs. Oswald released letters from J. Lee Rankin, general counsel for the commission, stating it was not advisable for Lane to represent Mrs. Oswald before the commission or have access to the commission's material.

Lane said he and Mrs. Oswald would intensify their efforts to appear before the commission.

Sheriff's deputies escorted Ruby to a Dallas neurological clinic for a second straight day. He spent about four hours there.

APOLOGIZED
Seemingly calm as he passed reporters and cameramen on returning to jail, Ruby apologized to one for not answering questions the day before.

"Yesterday I was nervous and didn't expect you guys," he said.

Ruby's murder trial is set for Feb. 17 but the outcome of a Feb. 10 change of venue hearing might change the date.

At a bond hearing last week, a psychiatrist and a psychologist each said they believed Ruby suffered from organic brain damage.

The Dallas news quoted informed sources today as saying that doctors examining Ruby the past two days found no brain damage.

TAKING AWAY

Adding-to and taking-away from the word of God are severely condemned in Rev. 22:18, 19. This is reason enough for rejecting instrumental music from worship in the New Testament age. The word does not authorize it. To have it, is in effect, adding to the word. To this, my friend replied, "There is also a warning against taking away, you know. Are you sure it is God who has taken away instrumental music from worship?"

Reply: It is impossible to take away something which has never been a part of the worship. I know instrumental music was once a part of Old Testament worship. But has it ever been a part of New Testament worship? If so, where in the New Testament is it made a part of the worship of this age? My friend would have saved himself a lot of time and talk, if he had only produced a Scripture which authorizes this kind of music today. It is significant that he did not even attempt to do so.

Senate Opens Tax Debating

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate begins debate today on the $11.6-billion tax cut bill and administration forces are confident it will be passed overwhelmingly, probably late next week. Several floor fights are in prospect before the final vote, but the major rate cut provisions of the bill are expected to survive. These provisions will mean substantial savings for practically every individual and corporate income taxpayer in the nation. President Johnson has put the bill at the top of his legislative list along with civil rights and has made repeated public and private appeals for early action. The administration claims a tax cut would spur economic growth and cut into unemployment. The Treasury Wednesday released new tables showing what savings the committee's version would mean for a four-person family which files a return with itemized deductions. The tax cut would be $82 for such a family with $5,000 income, $159 for one in the $7,500 bracket, $287 for one with $12,500 income, and $542 for a $100,000 family.

Annual Rodeo Dates Fixed

Dates for the annual show of the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion have been set June 2-6, Charlie Creighton, president, announced today.

The association is announcing its dates now in response to numerous inquiries, he said. Jiggs and Eira Beutler of Elk City, Okla. again will furnish the livestock for the production. Specialty acts and other features of the rodeo will be announced later.

The Big Spring rodeo is one of the oldest continuous western productions in the region, having originated in 1932. With the exception of a year during World War II, a rodeo has been held annually.

College Officials To Attend Meet

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, and Ben Johnson, dean, are planning to attend a regional junior college meeting at the University of Oklahoma Friday through Sunday.

Improvement of instruction in the Community College is the theme of the parley for administrators and faculty members of two-year colleges in Oklahoma, Arkansas, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, New Mexico and Texas.

Speakers include Sen. Wayne Morse, Chairman of the Senate education subcommittee, who will be the keynote; Dr. Joseph Cosand, president of St. Louis (Mo.) Community College; James W. Reynolds, professor of education at the University of Texas; Dr. James G. Harlow, dean of the OU College of education; and Dr. C. C. Colver, his counterpart at the University of Texas. The conference is sponsored jointly by Oklahoma and Texas universities and by the Kellogg Foundation.

would pay half the cost of $3,437 if the request is approved in Austin and by the regional office of the Office for Civil Defense Mobilization (OCDM) in Denton, according to Assistant City Manager Roy Anderson.

Anderson pointed out the application does not obligate the city to purchase any of the machines. "This is just a request for approval of matching funds," he explained, "and we can buy all, some or none of the radios."

According to the application, the city needs three 30-watt two-way radiophones to replace worn out radios being used by police. The wave band is 37.18 megacycles. Cost for each of these radios would be $708, and it would cost $30 for installation of each one.

The base station on South Mountain is about 15 years old and in need of replacement, Anderson said. Replacement items needed are one 100-watt Model J716Jb radio ($790), a remote chassis ($46), a high gain antenna system ($185) and a console with microphone ($250). Installation cost for the new station would be $150.

The city also is asking for five 35-watt mobile two-way radiophones for use in the public works department. The wave band would be 194.98 megacycles. Cost for each radio would be $618, and installation costs would be $30 each.

Eight radios are now in use by the engineering, sanitation and street divisions of the department of public works, Anderson said. Presently, there are no radios used by the water and sewer departments, he explained.

All of the radios, for both police and public works departments, would serve a dual purpose. They would be used in civil defense in addition to their normal uses.

U.S. Continues Effort To Link Hoffa To Jury

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — The government continues today with its attempt to link James R. Hoffa to alleged efforts to fix a jury.

Names of two of Hoffa's five codefendants have been partially connected through a series of mysterious telephone calls, and prosecutor James Neal said Wednesday he would connect all six with "one big solid chain of evidence."

Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, and the others are charged with trying to influence jurors in Hoffa's 1962 trial at Nashville on a charge of conspiracy. The trial ended in a hung jury.

Neal's promise was made after Harvey Silets, attorney for a defendant, Allen Dorfman, had moved for a mistrial or a separate trial for each defendant.

"In three days of testimony," Silets said, "the government has not offered one word of testimony or a single exhibit which mentions my client."

The motion was overruled.

Despite Slave Ring, Mexico Not Wideopen

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A white slave ring's brutal treatment of young girls in Mexico has received worldwide publicity and raised the question: Is this a wild, wideopen country? The answer is "No."

On the contrary, Mexico bans vices tolerated in some countries and rigidly controls others. Efforts are being made to cut down on prostitution, which touched off the sensation in San Francisco Del Rincon, a small town in the State of Guanajuato. In this case a worried mother seeking her missing 14-year-old daughter caused police to launch an investigation which so far has uncovered 17 bodies and brought to light details of ruthless white slave operations.

PROMISES

Authorities say many girls were lured from poverty-stricken homes with promises of good jobs, then forced into prostitution. If they rebelled, refused to cooperate or tried to break free, they were beaten, sometimes burned.

Just how many were killed is not yet known, but police believe the figure will be higher than the 17 so far authenticated.

Two sisters—Delfina Gonzalez Valenzuela, 56, and Maria de Jesus Gonzalez Valenzuela, 36—admit operating houses of prostitution and providing girls for others. They deny the murders but are being held for trial.

The story shocked Mexico. Some felt Mexico's image abroad had been tarnished. These point to what Mexico is doing and has done in the fight against vice:

CAMPAIGN

In Mexico City, one of the world's 10 largest cities, Mayor Ernesto Uruchurtu has launched an intensive campaign against prostitutes. This capital's red light district was once one of the largest anywhere, but a few years ago Uruchurtu ordered a raid which wiped it out almost overnight. It would be unrealistic to say there is no prostitution here now. There is. But there is no wideopen district and prostitutes are regularly arrested and fined.

The campaign is not confined to Mexico City. Most major cities and even many border points are clamping down on red light areas. The campaign might be more successful if Mexico's economy improved. Many ignorant, illiterate girls are easily enticed into a business which offers them more money than they ever saw before.

NO GAMBLING

Gambling, tolerated in many countries, is banned in Mexico, even though many persons—including some prominent in government, industry and labor—think supervised, legal gambling might help the all-important tourist trade.

Mexico does permit and even encourages a nationwide lottery. But this is government operated and profits go to hospitals, orphanages and other welfare projects. There are a few horse race tracks where betting is permitted under supervision.

Mexico is doing all it can to wipe out the dope racket. Narcotics producers—such as those who grow and sell marijuana—and vendors are targets of continuous raids.

Smugglers are facing an increasingly difficult time as Mexico's border police and federal agents improve their efficiency. Criminals trying to escape from the United States or other countries do not find Mexico an easy hide away. Often they are quickly located, and deported as undesirable aliens.

Standby Fire Trucks Okayed

City commissioners Tuesday authorized the fire department to have a truck on standby duty for residents who burn weeds on their property.

Commissioner W. L. Thompson, noting that small fires seem to be on the increase, said he would like for the city to do something about high weeds on vacant lots around town.

"It would be better for the fire department to burn the weeds now than to be called later," Thompson observed.

Advised the city could be held liable for any damage resulting to neighboring property from firemen burning weeds, the commissioners hit upon the plan for property owners to burn the weeds with the city providing a standby fire truck.

Anyone who wants a fire truck to stand by while he burns weeds on his lot should notify the city beforehand, said City Manager Larry Crow. "If a truck can be spared, we'll ask that one stand by," he explained.

How Indifferent Can You Get?

Most men would go slightly ga-ga in a situation like this, but not actor Henry Fonda. He's busy reading a trade magazine while waiting to play another scene in the movie "Sex and the Single Girl." The legs are part of a display in a hosiery establishment of which Fonda is the owner at Hollywood. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Long, Slow Rains Soak Mid-Section Of Texas

By The Associated Press

Slow, steady rains soaked a promise of green spring into thirsty cropland and ranges across Texas' vast mid-section today.

Occasionally heavy downpours punctuated the mostly gentle rainfall, which started the day before. A collision of a car and a pickup truck killed three persons in one such storm Wednesday. It happened 9 miles west of Albany on U.S. 180.

Up to 2 1/2 inches of moisture accumulated in places and measurements generally exceeded an inch in a sector bounded by lines linking Abilene, Wichita Falls, Sherman, Waco and Brownwood.

Moist air pushing inland from the Gulf of Mexico kept rain, thundershowers or drizzle falling before daylight from an Amarillo-Wink line in West Texas eastward through Central Texas.

Bond Sales Stump Toe

District No. 5, normally one of the leaders in United Savings Bond sales for Area I, stumped its toe during 1963.

Although December sales rallied, the year's total was $1,079, or 68.7 per cent of the year's quota. District No. 2, in the Panhandle, slipped under this with 63.8, but other districts were on the order of 80-90 per cent of quota.

December sales in this district amounted to $126,396, according to a report from Larson Lloyd, chairman. Howard County, under Robert W. Currie, accounted for $65,337 of these sales.

For the state, sales in December amounted to $15,873,039, making $145,334,910 for the year, or 96.5 per cent of the goal.

By counties, the sale record for December, (the year in parenthesis) and per cent of goal, follows: Andrews $4,448 (35.104) 70.2; Borden (no sales inasmuch as there is no bank in the county); Dawson $12,296 ($79,764) 79.7; Gaines $6,278 ($107,907) 98.0; Howard $65,337 ($498,429) 74.4; Martin $4,221 ($24,005) 60.0; Mitchell $10,130 ($162,455) 64.9; Scurry $23,684 ($171,926) 52.0; total $126,396 ($1,079,604) 68.7.

Former Senator To Oppose Pool

AUSTIN (AP)—Former State Sen. Robert Baker of Houston announced Wednesday he will oppose U.S. Rep. Joe Pool's reelection bid and charged Pool with voting like a Republican.

Baker, 42, said he is seeking Pool's seat because "a Democratic administration deserves more support from Democratic congressmen than it has received from the incumbent."

Baker, a lawyer, served in the Texas House in 1952-56 and in the Texas Senate in 1958-62. He ran third in the 1962 Democratic primary race for lieutenant governor.

DESPITE 'GRINGO GET OUT' CRY

Canal Vital To Panama's Existence

PANAMA (AP)—To a schoolchild in the United States, Balboa is the man who discovered the Pacific Ocean. In Panama, Balboa means a U.S. naval station and town, the hub of the present crisis between the United States and Panama.

To U.S. citizens living in the Canal Zone, Balboa is a lovely tropical home they would hate to give up. It is a home made possible by their country's vital interest in maintaining the canal.

In the wake of bloody rioting, Panama President Roberto Chari's official stance is that the United States must agree to negotiate a new Canal Zone treaty before Panama will restore diplomatic relations with Washington. Panama wants the new treaty to provide for an eventual takeover by Panama of the 50-mile-long, 10-mile-wide zone and its canal.

EXISTENCE
No matter how unpopular they are with Panamanians, Balboa and the Canal Zone and the U.S.

role there are vitally important to the immediate existence of Panama itself.

Every year $85 million flows into the Panamanian economy from the zone and its residents. There are many smaller—but real—benefits to the Panamanian.

What would happen if the present concept of the Canal Zone disappeared as most Panamanians hope will happen soon?

NOT MEASURED
Even before the eggs have been laid, Panamanians are counting their chickens. It seems most have not measured the consequences of a change nor care to.

"Just get the gringos out. We will take over from there," is a popular consensus.

But there is another view held by some Panamanians who also are anxious to see the zone's status changed.

Banker Ruben D. Carles says: "There are great opportunities—and graver problems—in returning the canal to us. One would be finding the sources to replace the $70 million to $180 million income from the zone and their accompanying effect on employment, commerce, industry and balance of payments."

COMPENSATIONS
He advocates a wide range of U.S. compensations for rights over the canal, and he wants Panama to have use of Canal Zone port facilities. Panama City, the capital, has none.

Huge machine shops and drydock installations there have lain idle since World War II. Carles believes Panama would receive considerable benefit from the operation of these facilities.

He says the $1.9 million annuity the United States now pays Panama for the canal is a paltry sum.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SECTION B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JANUARY 30, 1964 SECTION B

He's A Scrapper

This is E. Kenneth Frosild, 32, of Port Washington, N.Y., in whose favor the New York State Supreme Court ruled in his suit to have a World's Fair slogan removed from his 1964 automobile license plates. He is shown displaying plates for his two cars. One plate shows the slogan, the other shows the slogan obliterated. Meanwhile the judge ruled that Frosild, upon application, is to be provided with plates "which shall not bear the inscription 'World's Fair.'" "I took on two giants, New York State and the World's Fair and I won," said Frosild. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Freeman Scathed In FB Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Farm Bureau Federation charged today that the problem of cotton being priced out of competition with man-made fibers and cotton produced abroad was created by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman.

The federation said so in a statement prepared for a Senate Agriculture Committee hearing on bills designed to make cotton more fully competitive. The administration has indicated it favors use of payments to overcome effects of a two-price system on domestic mills.

Under the existing program, cotton is supported by rates set by Freeman at levels of about 8.5 cents a pound above world cotton prices and several cents a pound above domestic prices of man-made fibers. Foreign buyers get U.S. cotton at world prices through the operation of a subsidy paid to exporters.

The House has passed a bill which would make cotton available to domestic mills at prices on a par with those paid by their foreign competitors. Government payments would be used to do this. Price supports would not be reduced. However, Freeman has indicated he favors a plan which would allow some reduction in price supports. Resulting grower loss of income would be made up in the form of compensatory payments to growers.

PAYMENTS
The Farm Bureau said it opposes payments either to the trade, mills or growers. Instead, it said, Congress should enact legislation which would in effect require Freeman to carry out what it said was the intent of the 1958 Cotton Act—that is, gradually reduce price supports to a point where they were in line with world prices, making possible the eventual elimination of payments of any kind.

First Place
FORT WORTH (AP)—Rebecca Tyler of Gainesville rode her Cherokee Maiden to a first place Wednesday in a paint-pinto western pleasure class at the horse show at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show.

Veterinarian Seeks Office

BROWNSVILLE (AP) — Dr. Joseph B. Coulter, Brownsville veterinarian, says he will file for the seat of Rep. Joe Kilgore, D-Tex., as soon as he can get the necessary papers in order.

Coulter, a Republican, said Kilgore's decision not to seek re-election determined his entry into the race. Also announced for the office is Charles Johnson, manager of the Willacy County Navigation District.

Many Businesses Assisted With 4-H Show Trophies

ACKERLY — Businessmen in the Howard-Dawson County area can be given credit for much of the success of the Sands Community Fair and Livestock Association show held last weekend at Knott, Larry Shaw, sheep superintendent for the show, said Wednesday.

Numerous business establishments provided funds for trophies, prizes and ribbons to winners in the show.

"The association members want to thank all who encouraged the 4-H and FFA youngsters through their donations," Shaw said. "The boys already are looking forward to next year's show."

Trophies for champions were donated by Ray Adams, A. D. Brown, Raspberry Food Store, M&S Grocery, Beal Butane, Ackerly Oil Co., Newcomer Butane and the Sands FFA.

Dear Abby

Leaning On An Excuse?

DEAR ABBY: Please pass this on to other fat people who are constantly "kidded" about their weight: I am overweight and know it. But it isn't because I eat too much. I have a thyroid condition which the doctors cannot control. A fellow sent the following message to me through another employee: "If you lost 30 pounds I could be interested in you." I sent word back, "And when YOU become perfect, I might become interested in you, too."

DEAR ABBY: You could be right—but you could also be rationalizing. Only you and your physician know. On the other hand, 30 pounds is a cheap price for a little romance.

DEAR ABBY: A former boy friend GAVE me his high school graduation ring. I think he said he paid $16 for it. We quit going together and he now wants his ring back. I told him he GAVE it to me and now it was MINE. I want to keep it as a remembrance as it has sentimental value. He offered to BUY it from me. I told him if he wanted the ring that had he could order another one just like it, but he wants the one I have. I still don't want to part with it. Should I let him buy it off me or should I keep it, or should I give it back?

DEAR MEMORIES: GIVE him the ring.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a clergyman and he is too soft-hearted to complain, but I think it's time somebody spoke up about the way the members of a congregation abuse their clergyman. We have people coming to our home all the time for private conferences with my husband. He is not a psychiatrist, and he shouldn't have to be the referee for family battles, either. He has his hands full trying to do all the things a conscientious clergyman must do, which includes weddings, funerals, Sunday school classes, regular sick calls, his sermons and then all the civic functions he must attend. I think he is being taken advantage of when people bring him their personal problems. He gives so much of himself to strangers he hardly has time for his family. If you print this, keep me anonymous for obvious reasons. Thank you.

DEAR WIFE: Your husband's profession demands that he must listen to a certain amount of "personal problems." Don't add to his burden by protesting too much. His job is tough enough.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BEL AIR ROAD: It's true, "Even a clock that isn't working is right twice a day." But who wants to rely on a clock that isn't working?

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., for Abby's new booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Plat Okayed For Theatre

City commissioners Tuesday approved a plat showing an entrance and exit plan for a drive-in theatre on Wasson Road. Approval of the plan, worked out between Ike Robb and the department of public works, also constitutes approval of Robb's request for a zone change from 1F-2 (single family residential) to R (retail).

According to the plan submitted by Robb, traffic entrances and exits will be on the west side of Wasson Road at the north end of the theatre screen. Robb, agent for South Mountain Land Company, also had requested a zone change from 1F-2 (single family residential) to R (retail) for a 32.57 acre tract east of US 87, south of Marcy Drive and west of Gollad. It was approved on second reading Tuesday.

Also approved on second reading was a request by W. A. Moore Jr., agent for three land owners, for a zone change from GR (general residence) to NS (neighborhood service) for property located south of IS 20, east of North Nolan and west of North Gollad. A service station is to be erected on the property. The property owners are S. A. Wilson, L. D. Rockwell and G. F. Smith.

Vegetable Crop Damage Helps Up Living Costs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mainly because of weather damage to vegetable crops, the cost of living rose two-tenths of one per cent last month, the Labor Department said today in reporting an unusual increase in December prices. It was only the third time in the last 10 years that the cost of living rose in December, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

also contributed to the rise in grocery prices. Other factors that made it more expensive to live in December included a 0.3 per cent increase in housing costs, and increases in public transit fares and gasoline prices. In a year-end review of prices situation, a spokesman said: "Prices of practically everything were higher over the year." The spokesman said food prices could be expected to go even higher in January's index but that expected decreases in clothing and household appliances would probably help balance it off.

Your Family's Silent Partner

lying there on the doorstep it can't speak, or move or hear. But open it in your hands and it becomes a living, powerful partner in daily living. In the decisions you make, the opinions you form. It takes you to the highest chambers of government. It takes you to the heart of history in the making. In short, it tells you what in the world is happening and why.

But people depend on it for needs beyond the need to know. It's where families turn when something's to be bought or sold. It's where hints on health, cooking, religion, amusements, dressmaking, etiquette, marriage are found.

It's where charities first turn for help, and a place where a letter to the editor is published. It's where campaigns are fought and lost dogs are found. It's where criminals are exposed and newlyweds applauded. Where birth and death meet on the same page.
