Scientists Study Failing Of Ranger's TV Cameras

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Space scientists sifted through coded tapes today in a search for the reason why spacecraft Ranger 6 plunged into the moon with its cameras blind to the wonders of the lunar landscape. The agonizing end to a 66-hour flight came at 1:24 a.m. (PST) Sunday when Ranger 6 reached its historic rendezvous — and six television cameras aboard wouldn't function.

laboratory directors went ahead with plans for Ranger 7's flight — an identical photo mission — pointing out that the Ranger series is designed to gather information needed for manned U.S. landings planned later this decade. The fruitless journey of Ranger 6 was the sixth straight failure in the Ranger program. The cost to date: $168 million — figures at $25 million a shot.

emotionless voice of a project engineer announced the first sign that all was not well: "There is no indication of full video power." Then, for a tense 600 seconds, the hushed crowd listened to the tone of Ranger's death song, and the engineer's words that it was unavailing: "Seven minutes to impact — still no video. "Six minutes to impact — still waiting for video power. "Five minutes to impact — three minutes — no video. "One minute to impact — no indication of full power." And then: "Five second — four — three — two — one."

TONES CEASED Suddenly the musical radio tone ceased. "Impact! Impact!" And then: "No video." A check of Ranger's radioed messages showed no sign of the code which, run through a computer, would have produced earth's first closeup pictures of the moon. Russia's Lunik 3 photographed the back side of the moon, but from a distance of more than 4,000 miles.

Hardy Moving Up Y Ladder

James M. (Bobo) Hardy, native Big Spring who started his career with the Young Men's Christian Association here, is moving up the YMCA ladder. Word reached here today that Hardy is accepting a post with the national YMCA organization in New York, to be in charge of all research and planning. He reportedly is the youngest man ever to have attained this position. For the past three years, Hardy has been head of programming for the metropolitan YMCA in Minneapolis, Minn. His date of departure for New York was not definite, but likely will be in early summer. Hardy, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Hardy, became general secretary of the YMCA here Jan. 1, 1956, remaining until the Spring of 1961. He was a guiding force in the development of the local organization, played a strong role in acquiring and training volunteer workers. He was here during the campaign to build the new YMCA facility. Hardy was honored while here with the Jaycee Distinguished Service Award, and, in January, 1961 was named by the Texas Jaycees as one of the Five Outstanding Young Men of Texas for the year. Hardy is a graduate of Southwestern University and Harvard University. While leading the Y in Big Spring, he was prominent in numerous other civic and religious organizations.

Teamster Tells Of Bribe Attempt

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A former Teamsters Union official offered a promotion to a Tennessee state trooper whose wife was on James R. Hoffa's conspiracy trial jury in 1962, a union member testified today. Oscar Pitts, like Trooper James Paschal from Woodbury, Tenn., testified reluctantly that Ewing King — on trial with the Teamsters Union president and four others on jury-tampering charges — discussed Paschal while Hoffa's earlier trial was in progress in Nashville. "Ewing says he could get him (Paschal) a promotion through Clement and Greg O'Rear," said Pitts, under repeated prodding from the government lawyers. Gov. Frank Clement, who had not taken office yet, was elected to a four-year term while the Hoffa trial was in progress; O'Rear at the time was state safety commissioner and chief of the highway patrol. Paschal's wife was removed from the jury in the 1962 Nashville trial after the government reported attempts to contact her. Her removal occurred several weeks before the end of the trial. "Ewing asked me if Paschal would take money," Pitts said. "I told him I didn't think Paschal would take money from anybody. We wanted to get him a promotion. Paschal has been a patrolman 20 to 22 years and never has had a promotion. "Ewing says he could get him a promotion. Ewing says he could get him a promotion through Clement and Greg O'Rear."

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Miami News complained in an editorial that the city has some street names that are confusing. It referred to NW South River Drive, SW North River Drive, NW North River Drive and SW South River Drive, all in the city.

Murder Trial In Fifth Week

HOUSTON (AP) — The Jack Bonds murder trial entered its fifth week today. The trial was certain to last into Tuesday, its 30th day, thus becoming the longest murder trial on Texas record. Bonds, 42, is charged with the shooting death of William Walden III, 15, on Jan. 18, 1963. Testimony has shown the motive for the shooting was the conduct of Bonds' stepdaughter, Beverly Chambers, now 16, and her relationship with Walden.

ON FLORIDA FLIGHT

Ten Persons Perish As Small Airliner Crashes

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A South Central Airline twin-engine passenger plane burst into flames immediately after takeoff today and crashed, killing at least 10 persons. The Beechcraft plane was Flight 510 which originated in Ocala and was en route to Jacksonville. D. M. Carroll, a city employe, said: "It looked like the plane was about 200 feet high. The left-hand motor cut off and the engine made a whining sound. The plane turned on its left side, just like a plane circles an airport when it's way up in the air. Then it hit the runway and exploded and burst into flames." The Federal Aviation Administration in Miami said there were 10 persons aboard the plane. South Central serves small cities in Florida, Georgia and the Carolinas. It has a fleet of eight of the twin-engine Beechcrafts.

Marina Oswald Opens Testimony In Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Warren commission, investigating the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, began today its secret interrogation of Marina Oswald, 22, widow of the accused slayer. Brought to Washington from Dallas, Tex., Sunday, Mrs. Oswald was escorted by Secret Service agents this morning to the headquarters of the presidential commission to undergo at least one day of questioning on the movements and activities of Lee Harvey Oswald, the professed Marxist who was slain two days after Kennedy was shot Nov. 22 in Dallas.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Warren commission, investigating the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, began today its secret interrogation of Marina Oswald, 22, widow of the accused slayer. Big Spring Winter Far From Over Drizzling rain, chilly winds and a promise of even worse to come confronted the early risers today. The temperature was hovering on the edge of freezing at noon. There were reports of occasional stray snowflakes. The weather forecast warned that hazardous driving would be the rule tonight and Tuesday and that a light snow, to later become freezing rain, was on tap for tonight. Tuesday will continue cold, cloudy and with probable snow. The weather was a complete face about from Sunday when a bright sun showed and the temperature climbed to near 70 degrees. Low at 8 a.m. today was 35 and the forecast indicated this would be the high for Monday. Highway patrol officers were keeping a close watch on the roads looking for the first signs of glaze.

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)

Two guerrillas were killed and one U.S. officer wounded today in the first Viet Cong raid on an American military compound since the Vietnamese war began. The grenade attack on headquarters of a detachment of 130 officers and men was launched at 4:30 a.m. in the mountain city of Kontum, 200 miles northeast of Saigon. Nine Vietnamese civil guards detailed to guard the eight-building compound were absent without leave, prompting an investigation to determine if they were involved in the incident. The Viet Cong casualties were gunned down by an American sentry, Spec. 4, Dale D. Flinn, 24, of Fowler, Kan. He was on duty because the Americans had decided not to depend on Vietnamese security. Under cover of darkness, four guerrillas cut their way through a barbed wire fence around the compound. While one guerrilla stood guard at the fence, three others ran toward a building housing field grade officers, who range in rank from major to colonel. Spotting the intruders, Flinn opened fire with his rifle, but they made it into the building and each tossed one grenade. One grenade went off in the room of a U.S. officer, wounding him and setting the building afire. As the terrorists ran for the fence, Flinn opened fire again. They shot back, but missed, and Flinn killed two of them. The other two guerrillas escaped in the darkness. The dead Viet Cong carried a 45-caliber pistol and a French submachinegun. The building burned, but the spokesman said Flinn's alertness probably saved the Americans from greater casualties. The wounded officer, whose identity was not announced, suffered burns, cuts and scrapes but was not in serious condition. He was taken to a field hospital at Nha Trang.

NO ONE PUBLIC

The commission has indicated it has no plans to hold public hearings, or admit newsmen to the questioning of any of the witnesses it may call in its attempt to fill in gaps in the chronology of events related to the assassination. The Warren commission has said Mrs. Oswald is testifying voluntarily. Plans originally were to hear her in Dallas. Tuesday in a copyrighted interview with radio-television station KRLD, Dallas, Mrs. Oswald said she was convinced her husband had killed Kennedy. Oswald, 24, had been charged with the assassination of Kennedy, the fatal shooting of Dallas policeman J. D. Tippitt and the attempted murder of Texas Gov. John B. Connally, who was wounded in the attack on the President.

TO AUTOMOBILE

Secret Service men hurried Mrs. Oswald to an automobile on her arrival. She declined to talk with reporters. An unidentified man carried her daughter, June Lee, 2. She has another child, Rachel, 3 months. Mrs. Oswald was a pharmacist in Minsk when she met Oswald in the summer of 1961. A defector from the United States, he had been refused citizenship by the Soviet Union but remained in the country as an alien. They were married shortly thereafter and left for the United States in June 1962. A trust fund has been set up for Mrs. Oswald and about $35,000 in contributions collected. She has said she wants to become an American citizen.

LAWLESS COURSE

The Board of Education called the one-day boycott a "lawless course of action" and urged all pupils and teachers to be at school. The Rev. Dr. Milton A. Galmison, leader of the demonstration, warned that the boycott will be repeated "as often as necessary" and may be climaxed with a "sustained boycott of indefinite duration if the Board of Education does not budge from its position." Galmison said leaders of the boycott do not expect violence because demonstrators have been "disciplined" but added: "There may be others motivated by hysteria who would deliberately precipitate trouble." The school board's integration plan, offered as a first step, would improve the racial balance in about 39 of 165 predominantly Negro or Puerto Rican schools by "pairing" them with adjacent schools under the Princeton Plan.

FATALLY SHOT

As Oswald was being transferred from the Dallas City Hall to the county jail he was fatally shot. Jack Ruby, Dallas night club operator, is charged with the slaying. In her interview, Oswald's widow was matter-of-fact. "I don't want to believe; but I have too much facts, and facts tell me that Lee shot Kennedy," she said. Almost immediately, Oswald's mother, Marguerite Oswald, protested that the "facts" came from Secret Service agents.

NEW YORK (AP)

An estimated quarter of New York City's one million pupils boycotted the nation's largest public school system today demanding total racial integration. The participation in the one-day demonstration was about half that anticipated by boycott leaders. The chairman of the board of education, James B. Donovan, called it "mostly a fizzle." Children remained away from classes because of "a regular campaign of intimidation," Donovan asserted. Donovan did not report the amount of absenteeism among the million-pupil school system. A spokesman for the one-day protest movement estimated that 262,000 pupils participated — about 65 per cent of the Puerto Ricans and Negroes among the one million pupils in New York City schools. But the city's 850 schools remained open in the face of the demonstration — even those in institutions with high absenteeism and some teachers marching in the civil rights picket lines. Shortly after class bells rang, authorities reported only about 2,700 pickets outside 300 schools. This was far short of the 8,000 pickets the demonstration leaders had anticipated. A spot check by the Board of Education at 27 schools showed pupil absenteeism running from none to more than one-third. Normal daily absenteeism is about 100,000. The demonstration started throughout the city without violence. About 2,000 policemen were assigned to schools and another 6,000 were ready for duty if needed. The boycott and picketing dramatized minority group dissatisfaction with the Board of Education's plan for coping with school racial imbalances resulting from living patterns. Sponsors of the protest declared that the board's intention to start busing children from one neighborhood school to another next fall is not far-reaching enough.

Civil Rights Strength Test Scheduled Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bipartisan forces backing the civil rights bill test their strength today as the House starts considering amendments to the measure. Both sides have been talking since debate opened Friday. Now it's time for voting, with the rest of the week being set aside to work on proposed changes in the 10-part bill. President Johnson and Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., have predicted the bill will come through the process without being seriously weakened. That there will be plenty of amendments offered was made clear during the two days of general debate. Southerners are unhappy with every provision

She's Mom To Her Own As Well As Mother To Many Cub Scouts

By KATHLEEN DOZIER
Being a mother is second nature to Mrs. Charles Sweeney, 1208 Douglas, and being a den mother to Cub Scouts is about as important in the scheme of things as anything she does. Last fall Mrs. Sweeney began her second term around in a den - mother role, having worked a two-year term with her older son, Chip, and his friends almost nine years ago. Now she has Marc, an eight-year-old admirer of his brother, who feels that his day-by-day existence must be patterned after Chip's.

"His den is made up of 'six sticks of dynamite,' all leaders and not a follower in the crowd," Mrs. Sweeney said. "In fact when electing a den chief, each boy would not hesitate to vote for himself, so Monday afternoon we will shuffle their name cards and draw the names of the chief and the assistant chief."

CHALLENGED
"They're such fine boys—not at all undisciplined—that I feel they are a challenge." When asked if she served as a baby-sitter the answer was "Never have I felt that, and if the Cub Scout program is carried out properly everyone is interested and busy, even the den mother."

With four children of her own, Mrs. Sweeney has definite ideas on being a mother. She loves children and has worked with them through the years, taking part in their activities. In her opinion this is necessary to maintain good family relationships. She has given of her

Aiming High

Mrs. Charles Sweeney's Cub Scouts have high hopes for 1964, beginning with their observance of the National Scout Month, February. Each received his Wolf Award last week, and this afternoon they will begin advanced work. They are, from left, Bert Boullion, Marc Sweeney, Bob Currie, Ricky Hoenig, John Taylor Jr. and David Howe. Mrs. E. H. Boullion, assistant den mother, and Mrs. Sweeney are standing, left to right.

there were about 25 youngsters here a short time later. It's always been that way, and I want it to continue like that with Marc and his friends."

MOTHERS HESITATE
Mrs. Sweeney believes that many mothers hesitate serving as den mothers, because they're afraid they can't carry out the duties. Instructions, received regularly, are very simple. These with the Cub Scout Handbook and a lot of love for boys are all that is needed to make a good den mother. "There is nothing more rewarding nor more informative," claims Mrs. Sweeney.

Mrs. Elbert H. Boullion receives much of the credit in the boys' program of work. As assistant den mother, Mrs. Boullion plays hostess much of the time, opening her home to the after-school meetings on Monday. Mrs. Sweeney helps the boys with work on achievements; Mrs. Boullion directs games.

Not the least of their help is that given by the mothers. Each provides refreshments for one month, alternating so that there are two turns during the year.

REWARDING
Rewards received? "The personal satisfaction is enough," in the opinion of Mrs. Sweeney, "but the pleasure derived by the boys makes it doubly rewarding."

This month the Cubs will observe National Scout Month with a service at the First Presbyterian Church, sponsor for Pack 48, Feb. 9, and the Blue and Gold banquet Feb. 27, also at the church.

Difference In Living Exhibited

How America can live is considerably different from how America is living in the opinion of leading design experts. This was made crystal clear to thousands of retail furniture dealers who visited the 1964 International Home Furnishings Market in Chicago.

It will be made increasingly plain to millions of consumers across the nation, during the rest of the winter and throughout the spring, because hundreds of retail establishments plan on carrying the theme into their local communities with special in-store or window displays patterned after the Chicago model rooms.

More than 50 of the show spaces at Chicago's American Furniture Mart and Merchandise Mart featured built-in room installations which were part of a carefully planned "How America Can Live" series that highlighted current trends in furnishing, decoration and color selection.

Art, Artists On Program

Oil paintings, collage, crayon and ink art and sculpture were displayed and discussed by artists Saturday afternoon at the Big Spring Country Club. The program and a tea were given for members of the 1939 Hyperion Club and their guests.

Hostesses were Mrs. J. M. Woodall, Mrs. Elmo Wasson, Mrs. E. L. Powell and Mrs. Malcolm Patterson. Mrs. R. W. Thompson and Mrs. Horace Garrett.

Mrs. Roland Schwarzenbach introduced the three artists, Mrs. W. M. Parker, Mrs. Charles Burks and H. R. Sandridge. Mrs. Parker was described as a serious painter whose impressionistic work depicts subjects as she sees them; Mrs. Burks, art instructor at Gollad School, an abstract painter; and Sandridge, art in-

The old flattened look in postures is out, claims a well-known foundation garment manufacturing company. The new rounded, natural look is in.

Naturally, the company just happens to have a new style girdle designed to mold gently any derriere not curvaceous enough by itself.

Local Girl Pianist A Finalist

Miss Rachael Phelan, daughter of Mrs. C. M. Phelan, 1404 11th Place, was one of the three piano finalists in the college division of the Midland Concerto Contest held Saturday and Sunday.

Competing with college seniors, Miss Phelan was the only freshman finalist. At North Texas State, she studies under Stefan Bardas. She is a former pupil of Mrs. Ann Gibson Houser.

Judges included Dr. Charles Webb of the University of Indiana. Others were from the University of Arizona and Texas Tech. The other two finalists were senior students from Baylor University and from Centenary College in Louisiana.

HYMNALS

Hymnals are Scripturally authorized. The authority is not specific; but generic. Bible commands are usually specific in some ways, and general in others. There may be many unnamed things that fit the general parts of the command. This may be illustrated by the command, "Go... preach the gospel" (Mark 16:15). The thing to preach is specific. It is the gospel. Nothing else. But there are many things that will fit the word, "Go." Whether one walks, drives a car or rides an airplane, he is simply going; nothing more nor less. He is not adding anything to the command. His form of transportation is included in the generic

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Good Idea Can Have Tragic Repercussions

Dear Heloise:
Here's a word of warning to parents who tie toys to a playpen or crib so their baby can't throw them on the floor:

We, too, thought tying toys with string to the crib and playpen (to avoid having to pick them up from the floor) was an excellent idea. However, one night after the baby had been put to bed, my husband was resting on the bed in her room. He fell asleep, but was awakened by the sound of the baby gasping for breath! A string, which was tied to a toy with one end and tied to the crib with the other end, had become wrapped around her throat. The harder she tried to free herself, the tighter the "noose" became. Never shall I forget this shuddering experience.

Ohio Swirls In Oil Boom

MOUNT GILEAD, Ohio (AP)—A lot of mud is being churned up in central Ohio these days. No one seems to mind, because this churning brings up oil about one time in every four tries. It began in Morrow County. Three wells (two successful) were drilled in 1959. But the oil boom didn't really get under way for a couple more years. Now:

Trustees To Meet Tuesday

Continued study of building at the Senior High School heads the agenda for a 7:30 p.m. Tuesday meeting of trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District at the Administration Building, 100 E. 10th. Representatives of the architectural firm of Atchison, Alkinson and Fox will be on hand to present advanced drawings and preliminary cost estimates of the facilities which are to be added at the school. These include two two-story wings, indoor and outdoor physical education facilities, vocational education space and other additions.

Trustees will be asked to call an election April 4 for two trustee seats whose terms expire this year. Also, they will be asked to consider a request from Frank Hardesty, Howard County Democratic chairman, for use of school facilities for the Democratic primary elections.

Charles Weeg, chairman of the public health and safety committee of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, has requested an audience with trustees regarding traffic—car and pedestrian—problems at local schools.

KP Rites Set

The rank of Knight will be conferred on a group of Lamans here Tuesday at 7:30 p.m., according to E. B. Martin, chancellor commander of the Knights of Pythias lodge. Paul Darrow will conduct the rites in the lodge hall. Refreshments will be served following the ceremony.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
Q. 1—As South you hold:
♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A Q J 10 8 6 5
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
Pass Pass 1 ♣ Double
What do you bid now?
A.—Pass. This hand does not quite measure up to the requirements for a redouble and no encouragement should be extended. An immediate raise of the clubs might be looked on by partner as showing a more distributional holding with less high card strength. If a convenient opportunity presents itself a delayed raise may be offered with this holding.

southeast Ohio 104 years ago. In 1896 the state produced 23,941,000 barrels. Less than a fourth of that has been produced in recent years, but predictions for Morrow County this year range up to 6 million barrels. Nearly 100 wells are producing in the area.

ON HOME PLATE
The wells can be seen in farm fields and backyards, around cemeteries and even on home-plate of a schoolyard baseball diamond in Edison.

Estimates of daily production (at $2.92 a barrel) vary from 17,000 to 22,000 barrels. This has meant some homework for state officials in Columbus, 45 minutes by highway to the south. Ohio has had set up few regulations about drilling.

During a five-day session in December, the legislature ordered a study and authorized the State Mines Division to set up any rules it feels necessary. Some think the proposed rules will include a ban on more than one well for any 10-acre area.

POSSIBLE WASTE
More and more talk is being heard about possible oil waste from bunching too many wells. There's also talk of somehow gathering the natural gas which now is being burned off after separation from the oil. These brilliant "flare-offs" light the night sky.

Recently a well was brought in northeast of Morrow County. This has led to speculation that the oil field may extend beneath two, three or more counties.

Sightseers jam the county's two-lane roads on weekends to see the towering drilling masts, rotary and cable tool drill rigs, and other equipment. Three crews usually work 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

CARRYING MAP
In this 140-year-old village of 2,788, much conversation is on oil. Almost every other passerby seems to be carrying a map. Deals are made everywhere.

Not all of the nearly 2,000 oil men who have poured in stay in Mount Gilead. But what space there has been in the area—offices, homes for rent or sale, rooms, hotels—is pretty well taken up.

Some distrust between landowners and oil men seeking leases is evident. Growing experience in the oil business has led some landholders to demand more than the usual one-eighth share of possible profits for a lease.

Ashland Oil & Refining Co. is buying or producing nearly 90 per cent of the field's output. Estimates of the field's future range from two to 20 years or more.

Q. 5—As South you hold:
♠ Q 7 6 4 2 ♥ Q ♠ 8 5 4 ♠ 9 3 2
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♣ Pass South 2 ♣
3 ♣ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Four hearts. You may not make it, but it's worth trying for in any event. Partner has voluntarily contracted for nine tricks in the face of your bankruptcy announcement. Actually, you are not bankrupt at all. The queen of hearts is both a solidifying card and an entry and the spades may prove to be of use.

Q. 6—Neither vulnerable and as South you hold:
♠ A ♥ K 10 9 6 3 ♣ J 8 5 4 2 ♠ 7 3
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
Pass 3 ♣ Double ?
What do you bid?
A.—We favor an unorthodox call of three hearts for purely strategic purposes. In view of your mediocre holding with 10 great length in partner's preemptive bid, there is a strong likelihood that the opponents will bid a slam in spades. If they do, a heart lead from partner, thru the strong hand, may be of vital importance, while you still have the ace of trumps. In order to provide for that circumstance, you must get the "lead director" in now. You, of course, plan to take a save in diamonds, if the opponents permit.

Q. 7—As South you hold:
♠ J 5 ♥ 5 ♠ K Q 10 7 2 ♣ Q J 9 8 6
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♣ Pass 1 ♣ Pass
1 ♣ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Two clubs. This admittedly is an underbid but a jump to three clubs would be much too drastic an action to take with nine high card points. A jump preference would constitute a game force and in this instance, since your suit is a minor, you would hardly wish to underwrite an 11 trick commitment. If the two club bid is passed out, you are very unlikely to have missed a game.

Q. 8—As South you hold:
♠ K J ♥ Q 8 5 ♠ A Q J 10 8 3 ♠ A Q
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♣ Pass 1 ♣ Pass
1 ♣ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Two spades. This is admittedly an underbid, but, unless you hold West under strong suspicion, a cautious approach is indicated. The outstanding high card strength is banked behind you and partner's response indicates that what manager values he possesses will be of little help to you. Be content with a part score, if you can get it.

Connally To File; Kilgore In Doubt

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally said today he will file today for re-election as governor.

This ended speculation that Connally might not seek a second term because of an alleged rift between the White House and Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen, who has been considered a strong conservative Democrat challenger to Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex.

At the Associated Press Managing Editors meeting, Connally told reporters he still did not know whether Kilgore would go ahead and announce for the Senate race today, the filing deadline.

"When I last talked to him, last night, I would say his decision was pretty much a flip of a coin," Connally said. "Whatever he does, I am for him."

Connally said he talked with President Johnson Sunday but that the Kilgore matter was not the primary topic of conversation.

In answer to a question, Connally said Johnson had never told him (Connally) that Johnson did not want Kilgore to run for the Senate.

Connally said that he had given "serious consideration" to not announcing for re-election "not just because of the Kilgore matter but because of a number of other things."

He did not elaborate. Connally said that as far as he is concerned, his delay in filing for re-election had not been intended as a political pressure play to try to get Don Yarborough out of the race.

Connally said last week that he would file for re-election before the weekend.

The speculation arose when he delayed filing until today, the deadline.

Yarborough, 38, of Houston has not filed either.

In connection with his statement, that Johnson had never told him he did not want Kilgore to run, Connally said: "I do know this, the President wants nothing but peace and harmony in Texas."

Politicians speculated that a Kilgore-Ralph Yarborough race would destroy the harmony prevailing in the Democratic Party in Texas since the assassination of President Kennedy Nov. 22.

groundhog. Anyway, out of her den came Beautiful as docile and happy as usual. She ate a meal of lettuce and fruit and waddled around in the bright sun for an hour and a half.

"Then," said Dr. Mays, "She must have noticed her shadow. At any rate she wasted no more time with the Mays family. She scurried back to her nest, closed the door and we saw her no more."

Dr. Mays said that Kathryn is planning to keep a close watch on the den and find out if Beautiful pops out on March 8. That's the date ground hogs are supposed to do their re-appearance. Beautiful has just as good reason to predict weather as the next ground hog and will probably carry through in the time-honored ground hog manner.

Kathryn has had Beautiful since Sept. 17, when the big turtle was given the little girl as a birthday present.

Beautiful turned out to be a wonderful pet. She learned her name and would come when called. She would wait at the back door for her meals. She tolerated liberties and willingly accepted scratching on her knobby head by Mrs. Mays.

In mid-November, Dr. Mays says, Beautiful displayed a certain restlessness. She obviously figured it was hibernating time for turtles.

The Mays family came to Beautiful's aid and helped build a neat underground shelter in the backyard, which was cozily lined with leaves. Beautiful was grateful and promptly retired to her nest.

She was not seen again until Sunday.

Clarification To Be Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials are expected to seek clarification from Paris in the next few days as to what President Charles de Gaulle means in proposing a neutrality treaty for Southeast Asia and what he intends to do about it.

Along with De Gaulle's recognition of Red China, the neutralization plan is a source of deep concern at the highest levels of U.S. government.

From President Johnson's point of view, U.S. leaders are worried about the impact of French moves in the Far East and especially in Viet Nam.

Winning paintings from the Las Artistas Membership Show held here this past weekend will be on display all this week at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, according to Mrs. Bill Unger, club president.

This Ground Hog Sports A Shell

By SAM BLACKBURN

"Beautiful," who has just as good claim to be a judge of weather as any ground hog anywhere, made like a wood chuck Sunday and deduced the ensuing blizzard.

"Beautiful," it may be pointed out, is a 9½-pound land turtle, owned by Kathryn Mays, 7, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Floyd R. Mays, 602 Highland.

Kathryn has had Beautiful since Sept. 17, when the big turtle was given the little girl as a birthday present.

Beautiful turned out to be a wonderful pet. She learned her name and would come when called. She would wait at the back door for her meals. She tolerated liberties and willingly accepted scratching on her knobby head by Mrs. Mays.

Business Brisk For Car Tags

A sizable group of motorists were on hand at 8 a.m. Monday when Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector, opened her office.

They clutched their car titles and registration receipts in their hands, were eager to get their new 1964 car plates.

Business was brisk in the tag office and in the tax office. The exact number of plates issued was not announced but all of the deputies were kept busy.

Car plates may be purchased from now through April 1. The office is now issuing plates with the prefix DK. The 1964 car plates are black with white letters and numerals.

Car plates are also being dispensed at the Newsom Food Store and at the Lewis 5-and-10 stores.

Early tag buyers who were on hand at office opening Monday included: James E. McClure, 109 Mobile; A. P. Merworth, 1907 Scurry; Willie McDaniel, 1507 Chickasaw; Jasper Cline, Star Rt., Ackerly; and J. G. Littlejohn, 4116 Dixon.

Band Boosters Meet Tonight

Boosters of the Big Spring High School choir will meet at 7:30 p.m. today at the high school library to make plans for fund-raising projects to finance a trip of the group to California later this year. It will be preceded by an executive meeting at 7 p.m.

The planned trip will be made jointly by choir and band members to the UCLA campus in Los Angeles. It has already been approved by trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District and will be in lieu of another long trip usually taken near the end of the school year.

Jones Enters County Race

Jimmie Jones, filling station operator, filed Monday morning as candidate for county commissioner, Precinct 3. He became the sixth man to seek that post in the forthcoming Democratic primaries. Jones was the lone candidate to file with Frank Hardesty, county Democratic chairman, Monday morning.

Deadline for candidates to file for office expires at midnight today. Hardesty said he would be available at his residence tonight and would accept filings until the deadline, if such applications were properly filed out, bearing the required affidavit and provided the candidate makes payment of the $50 advance fee.

Hardesty said he heard rumors there would be still other filings but that no other applications had reached him at noon.

Dear Abby

Women Vs. Gentlemen

DEAR ABBY: Just before Christmas two ladies came into the launderette and covered all the tables with wrapping paper, ribbons, etc., and while their clothes were being washed they wrapped Christmas gifts. When my clothes were dry, I asked politely if I could use one of the tables to fold my sheets and blankets. I can't quote their replies, but I guarantee you that if these women had been men I would have punched them both right in the mouth. When my wife saw the laundry all wrinkled and unfolded, her face got as red as her hair. She said I should have called the owner of the place or the police. I said a gentleman wouldn't have done such a thing. She said when a woman shows that she is no lady, a man is relieved of the obligation to act like a gentleman. We'd like your opinion.

PHIL IN TOPEKA

DEAR PHIL: A gentleman acts like a gentleman even when a woman acts like a slob. A woman would never try to pull that stunt on another woman.

DEAR ABBY: A girl in our dorm is knitting a sweater for her "boy friend." She is the laughingstock of the dorm because this boy has been playing her for a sucker all year. He dates other girls, and when he does ask her for a date, he usually breaks it at the last minute with some phony alibi, but she always forgives him. How can we get her to realize that she is wasting her time?

CONCERNED AT BIRNKRANT HALL

DEAR CONCERNED: Don't waste yours. Apparently the girl likes wool — both the kind that goes into a sweater and the kind that is pulled over the eyes.

DEAR ABBY: I can't understand how women who don't earn any money of their own can go around bragging about the "gifts" they give their husbands. A non-working wife gets every dime she spends from her husband, doesn't she? So, isn't it the same as buying him a gift with HIS money?

JERRY

DEAR JERRY: Not necessarily. If a wife can save a little out of the grocery money by careful budgeting and frugal buying, the money she saves is hers. And if she wants to spend it on a gift for her husband, it's a gift in every sense of the word.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MARCIA S. AND BEV C.: No one is compelled to prove his innocence. The burden of proof is on the accuser.

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Park Service Wants Items

Gifts of certain objects of historical interest are being sought by the National Park Service for display in museum exhibits at units of the National Park System in the Southwest. The aid of anyone who may be able to help in the search is requested.

This appeal for assistance was made in Santa Fe, N. M., by Daniel B. Beard, director of the Southwest region of the National Park Service.

For the Fort Davis museum, the National Park Service has listed the following items as being most wanted: any musical instruments dating from the 1870's or 1880's and any documents relating to the military bands at Fort Davis; any documents relating to the 9th or 10th Cavalry or the 24th or 25th Infantry, military units that were stationed at the fort; surveying instruments of the 1850's, especially a Parkinson and Frodsham box chronometer, Gambey 8 1/2-inch sextant, and Bunten syphon barometer; a Gatling gun, 45-70; a 3-inch ordnance rifle, iron; and an 1870 Army escort wagon.

Six Oldtimers Chosen As Baseball Greats

NEW YORK (AP)—The spitball is legal in the Hall of Fame even if it is out of bounds in organized baseball. Burleigh Grimes and Urban (Red) Faber, two of the last pitchers to throw the spitball legally, were among the six new members named Sunday by the Hall of Fame veterans' committee.

Miller Huggins, the little man who managed the New York Yankees to six pennants in 12 years, and Heinie Manush, the powerful outfielder with a lifetime .330 batting average, also made the grade along with two from the pre-1900 era—John Montgomery Ward and Tim Lincecum.

In some ways Ward was the most remarkable of the group. A jack-of-all-trades as a player, Ward was the only man to collect more than 2,000 hits, 2,151, and also to win more than 100 games, 158, as a pitcher. Ward, active from 1878 to 1914, managed three clubs, acted as president of the Boston Braves, pitched a perfect game for Providence in 1880, organized the Players' Brotherhood and also was the lawyer for the National League.

O'BRIEN PRESENT

Big Time Stars Lubbock Bound

LUBBOCK (AP) — Former Olympic performers and defending champions are top drawing cards for tonight's third annual Lubbock indoor track meet.

Parry O'Brien, the shot put king who won the 1952 and 1956 Olympics event and placed second in the 1960 games with a 62-foot, 8 1/2 inch put, tops the Olympics list.

Other Olympians are Earl Young of Abilene Christian College, Ralph Boston of Tennessee State and Tom Watson of Alabama.

Boston won the 1960 Olympics broad jump with a record leap of 26 feet and 7 3/4 inches. Young ran on the winning relay team in Rome, and Watson was fourth in the Olympics broad jump in 1960.

O'Brien will face Randy Matson, Texas A&M freshman from Pampa, in the shot put. O'Brien's 62 feet and 8 1/2 inches in the 1960 Olympics will be pressed by the Aggie freshman who has also broken the 60-foot mark.

Boston is scheduled to compete in three events: broad jump, high jump and 60-yard hurdles.

Young will run in the 500-yard dash here while Watson will compete in the broad jump and the 60-yard dash.

Among the defending champions—11 in all—will be Jim Hewitt of Oklahoma who holds the 60-yard dash record here with a 7.4 seconds time. Others include: Jack Miller of Oklahoma State, the 500-yard dash champion at 59.8 seconds, a tie with Ted Nelson of Texas A&M who did the same time in 1962.

John Baker of New Mexico, last year's mile runner. Fred Hansen of Rice, pole vaulter who has been over 15 feet and tied C. K. Yang of UCLA for first place last year. Jim Lancaster of Baylor, the Lubbock Indoor's shot put king. Russ Laverty of Oklahoma State who tied for first place in the high jump last year and has done 6-9.

Oklahoma State won the two-mile relay last year and has three runners back. Abilene Christian College returns two members from its winning mile relay team. The Lubbock team won the women's four-lap relay and has all four runners back.

In the high jump, Mark Brady, former Oklahoma star who went 7-4 last year, appears to be Laverty's top opponent. Boston and Bobby May of Rice will contest Hewitt for the 60-yard high hurdles title.

BURLEIGH GRIMES

assists for a second baseman that still is in the book. The addition of the six new men boosted the total membership in the Cooperstown, N.Y., museum to an even 100. The new members were picked by the veterans' committee from players who had been retired at least 20 years.

Grimes, 70, and Faber, 75, were among the group of four pitchers permitted to continue use of the spitball after Brown legislated off the book. Grimes actually was the last. He was active until 1934, retiring with a 270-212 won-lost record. Although he finished up with the Yankees, Grimes earned all but one of his victories in the National League at Pittsburgh, Brooklyn, New York, Boston, St. Louis and Chicago. He lives in Trenton, Mo.

Faber, who works for the Cook County highway department in Chicago, spent his entire career from 1914 to 1933 with the White Sox for whom he won 253 games and lost 211.

Although Huggins was a second baseman at Cincinnati and St. Louis from 1904 to 1916 it was as a manager that he was voted into the Hall of Fame. After five years at St. Louis he took over the Yanks in 1918 and managed them until his death at the age of 50 in 1929.

Manush, 62, played in the majors from 1923 to 1939 and spent most of his career in the American League with Detroit, St. Louis, Washington and Boston. He finished up with Brooklyn and later managed in the minors, scouted and coached. In 1928 he won the batting title at Detroit with a .378 average.

Keefe, winner of 346 games from 1890 to 1893, has been topped by only six pitchers in the history of the game. In 1886 he won 42 for the New York Giants and in 1888 he won 19 straight, a mark later tied by Rube Marquard of New York in 1912.

who has also broken the 60-foot mark.

The field finals begin at 7 p.m. with the first running final set an hour later (CST). There will be no preliminaries.

Another ice queen, 22-year-old Sjoukje Dijkstra of Holland, added the Olympic gold medal for figure skating Sunday night to the two world crowns she won in 1962 and 1963.

Eero Maentynanta, 26-year-old Finnish customs officials from above the arctic circle, earlier captured his second cross-country skiing gold medal. He took the 15 kilometers after previously winning the 30 kilometers.

His victory brought Finland's total of medals to five, second only to Russia.

Russia's Speedster

Ladia Skoblikova wears the four gold medals she won to break precedent by becoming the first competitor to win four titles in the Winter Olympics. The Russian school teacher is shown Sunday after winning the 3,000-meter speed skating title at Innsbruck. Earlier she had won the 500, 1,000, and 1,500 meter events. (AP WIREPHOTO).

USSR Sweeps To 15th Medal

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—Plucky Jean Saubert of Lakeview, Ore., added a silver medal to her earlier bronze with a flashing run in the women's giant slalom ski race and young Yank figure skaters got off to a strong start Monday in the United States' brightest day in the ninth Winter Olympic Games.

Miss Saubert, 21-year-old Oregon State coed, broke the monopoly of France's brilliant Alpine sister team by tying Christine Gottschel for second—a fraction of a second behind Christine's sister, Marielle, the gold medalist.

The winning time was 1 minute, 52.24 seconds. Jean and Christine did 1:53.11. Jean's two medals are the only ones collected so far by the U.S. team. The Soviet Union, on the other hand, is making a team runaway of the Games, with a total of 15—six gold, five silver and four bronze.

The Russians picked up another silver in the Nordic combined, the only other final of the day, with the gold going to Tor-Mad Knutsen, a 32-year-old Norwegian skier who had been thought too old for such a rigorous skiing test.

Knutsen sped the 9.3 miles of the crosscountry in 50 minutes, 58.6 seconds for 469.20 points. In the start of the men's figure skating competition at the Ice Stadium, Scotty Allen, the 15-year-old schoolboy national champion from Smoke Rise, N.J., shot into fourth place in the first two of five compulsory figures. The final three will be skated Tuesday.

Manfred Schnelldorfer of Germany assumed the lead with 383.0 points. Four of Russia's gold medals—a record number for one competitor at the Winter Olympics—belonged to one person. The proud owner is a dimpled blonde speed skater, 24-year-old Lidia Skoblikova.

She completed her feat Sunday by winning the 3,000-meters race after being victorious at the other three distances. Because of the thaw, water squirted from her blades as she skated across the finish.

Another ice queen, 22-year-old Sjoukje Dijkstra of Holland, added the Olympic gold medal for figure skating Sunday night to the two world crowns she won in 1962 and 1963.

Demaret Is Loser In Golf Showdown

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Tommy Jacobs is getting a little bolder and Jimmy Demaret is getting a little older. Which is not only a rhyme but a reason the $50,000 Palm Springs Golf Classic turned out the way it did.

Jacobs won it, beating Demaret on the second hole of a sudden-death playoff Sunday after they finished the regulation 90 holes in 353 strokes each, seven under par.

Demaret, 53, offered this wry salute to his 28-year-old adversary: "Tommy's a good boy and it was nice he could win it. After all, I've got a lot of years left and he's about through."

Demaret, who hasn't won a PGA tournament in nearly seven years, admitted the 90-hole exercise left him slightly exhausted. In the playoff, he gave away 25 years.

Jacobs, who has a home at nearby Bermuda Dunes Country Club, won the playoff with a nine-inch putt for a par three on the 92nd hole. Demaret, whose drive left him about 40 feet to the left of the green, was lying three when Jacobs holed out.

There was a tie after every round. It was Charlie Sifford the second round and Sifford and Jacobs after the first round, Sifford and Doug Sanders after and Bob Charles after the third round. Bill Casper and Chuck Courtney were tied going into the fifth round and Jacobs and Demaret, of course, were tied after 90 holes. Jacobs got $7,500 of the $50,000 purse. Demaret, who plays only five or six tournaments a year, won $4,000.

Charles and Don January finished in a third-place tie at 354, one shot behind Demaret and Jacobs, and got $3,100 each. Courtney and Bob Goaly were another stroke back and picked up $2,450 apiece.

McNeeley Fights Contender Jones

Tom McNeeley, the big brawler from Arlington, Mass., who was considered all washed up not too long ago, gets another crack at the big time tonight when he meets heavyweight contender Doug Jones at the New York Coliseum.

The strapping 26-year-old former football tackle is a 2-1 underdog to the second-ranked contender from New York. It is a 10-rounder.

Rupp Seeks Win No. 700 At Ga.

Adolph Rupp doesn't much care for cramped old Woodruff Hall in Athens, Ga. Never did. At least not since Feb. 13, 1951.

That's the day he lost his first game as head coach of the Kentucky basketball team. It was at Woodruff Hall. And home-standing Georgia, then as now, was a defensive club. Georgia won, 25-16.

Chances are that the score will be higher than that tonight when Rupp again takes his Wildcats into Woodruff Hall—he once vowed he never would again—but it's likely to be a test of Georgia's defense.

Rupp will be seeking his 700th victory as the Kentucky coach and the Wildcats, ranked fourth in the nation, will be gunning for the Southeastern Conference lead.

"We've had the defense all along," Georgia Coach Red Lawson said. "If only our shooters could get hot."

They did Saturday, knocking Tennessee out of the league lead 79-67. Kentucky, at the same time, beat Florida 77-72, running its season record to 15-2. It was the Wildcats' fifth straight in the league after two opening round losses.

The game is one of three involving nationally ranked teams tonight. The others have second-ranked Michigan at Ohio State in an important Big Ten struggle and No. 5 Vanderbilt at Alabama.

Kentucky and Michigan won their only games last week, but Vanderbilt put its high standing in jeopardy with an 81-63 defeat by Auburn. Michigan, 15-1, romped over Michigan State 95-79.

Close Games Seen Sunday

A Hollywood script writer couldn't have improved on Sunday afternoon's National Basketball Association dramatics. The plot went something like this:

Act I. Scene: St. Louis—The Hawks, 11 points down late in the first half, overtake crippled Los Angeles in the third period, drop behind again, then come back a second time to win, 107-105, and drop the Lakers from first to third in the West.

Act II. Scene: Baltimore—San Francisco, forced into overtime by an 8-1 Baltimore Bullets closing burst, fires back in the extra period for a 120-118 victory and grabs the Western lead, three percentage points ahead of St. Louis and a half-game up on Los Angeles.

Act III. Scene: Boston—Oscar Robertson scores 48 points and Jerry Lucas flips in a pair of free throws with 11 seconds left in another overtime thriller as Cincinnati nips the Celtics, 119-117, and cuts Boston's Eastern margin to three games.

The Lakers lost their fifth straight since Jerry West was sidelined with a broken thumb last Sunday. Two buckets by Bill Bridges put the Hawks ahead to stay with 5:21 remaining. Richie Guerin and Len Wilkins led St. Louis with 22 points apiece.

The proud owner is a dimpled blonde speed skater, 24-year-old Lidia Skoblikova.

She completed her feat Sunday by winning the 3,000-meters race after being victorious at the other three distances. Because of the thaw, water squirted from her blades as she skated across the finish.

PAT WASHBURN'S The Roundtable

Optimists are interesting. At times they can be surprisingly right when predicting the outcome of a game in which the sports writers never gave one team a chance—and then they can always be wrong. But a true optimist never admits he or she was wrong—they never look back, always ahead with the comment, "Oh well, what's one loss. We'll win the rest of the games."

Take the students at Howard County. They're optimistic and rightly so, because they've got a ball team that's won and won. But that was before EDDY NELSON went the route of ineffectibility due to grades—but the true optimist disregards this completely. Like one girl at HCJC said: "We can win without Nelson. Look at the last game—three of our starters were out and we still beat South Plains." Of course, when I mentioned the fact that Nelson, the team's second high scorer for the season, had hit 20 points in this his last game of the year, her smile kind of drooped and her blonde hair just bobbed angrily. Oh well, some people just can't face the facts...

BUD WERNER, U.S. Olympic skier: "There are only two places in any race—first and second. I want first."

WARREN SPAHN, the highest paid pitcher in baseball today with an estimated salary of $85,000, talking about being on the mound last season for the Milwaukee Braves and manager BOBBY BRAGAN: "There were a few times when he (Bragan) came out to see me last season and I knew he wanted to take me out, but I'd say: 'Let me pitch to one more man' and he'd just look at me and go back to the bench and I'd get the guy out and go on from there. Might have meant five or six wins to me..."

"I don't want to be a hero at the expense of the team. We have to win and, now and then, the ball just doesn't go where you want it to or you can't get anything on it. Then it's time to give somebody else a chance."

Eight championship basketball games, including two regionally televised contests, mark Southwest Conference play this week.

The Aggies outlasted a stubborn Rice Owl team 74-70 Saturday night to stay on top of the pack, still undefeated in the SWC race.

The defending champions, Texas, lost to Texas Tech at Lubbock 94-90 as officials called 61 fouls, 35 of them on the disappointing Longhorns. In other Saturday night games, SMU whipped TCU 79-67, and Arkansas nipped Baylor 74-70 in a regionally televised afternoon game.

VA Shoddy Care Report Denied

HOUSTON (AP)—An American Legion representative says patients at Veterans Administration hospitals are receiving second class medical care because of budget cuts.

This was denied Sunday by Dr. John Claiborne, director of the Houston VA Hospital, but he said he has been forced to operate expanded services with the same amount of money.

Hershel Doyle, 47, of Denver, Colo., a national field representative of the Legion, said in an interview the fault does not lie with the individual hospitals but with severe budget cuts ordered in Washington.

Doyle covers an eight-state area for the Legion to help veterans seeking benefits. He periodically inspects VA hospitals and reports his findings to the Legion's National Rehabilitation Commission.

His assessment of the care given in VA hospitals came as Doyle attended a weekend conference of the Texas Department of the American Legion.

He said the situation nationally is such that a large number of medical schools affiliated with VA hospitals, and whose specialists are available to the VA, are concerned about the quality of patient care and are considering withdrawal from the program.

"The VA, on a dollar-for-dollar basis (with private hospitals), is giving the finest care in the world today," Claiborne said.

In his analysis of the Houston hospital's budget, Doyle noted it was required to absorb about $20,000 in the last fiscal year for the operation of its outpatient clinic. Doyle said the only way the hospital could absorb this cost was by reducing the number of employees.

Claiborne said he had to release 30 to 40 persons.

He said this step did not reduce the available care and, by shifting some employees and hiring some others, he felt it strengthened the overall program.

Earnings Of MoPac Rise

ST. LOUIS — Consolidated earnings of the Missouri Pacific Railroad in 1963 rose to $24,671,308 from $22,249,651 in the previous year, Downing B. Jenks, president, has announced.

The better showing was attributed by Jenks to a rise in car loadings and revenues, coupled with increased operating efficiency and a reduction of expenses. This produced earnings equal to $12.34 per share of Class A stock, compared with $12.07 per Class A share in 1962, he said.

By eliminating income tax credits resulting from depreciation guidelines, or through the use of generally accepted accounting principles, 1963 consolidated net income would be $14,171,249, or $7.86 per Class A share, compared with $12,719,513, or $6.90 per share in 1962.

Operating revenues increased by $2,137,451 in 1963 to a total of $392,168,378, while operating expenses of $297,892,062 were $3,635,117 below those of the previous year.

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation 219. At all drug counters.

Barry Blasts Policies On War, Panama

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater charged today the U.S.-backed war on Communist rebels in South Viet Nam is "drifting toward disaster."

He said U.S. policy on the dispute over the Panal Canal is "stuck in the mud of indecision."

Campaigning for the Republican presidential nomination, the Arizona senator blamed the Johnson administration for current troubles in the Southeast Asian and Latin American crisis spots.

"I charge that this administration is fumbling, is failing," said Goldwater. "I charge that freedom is falling around the world."

It was Goldwater's toughest campaign attack on administration foreign policy.

The senator went after Minnesota's 26 convention votes with a crowded afternoon campaign schedule in Minneapolis and St. Paul.

He tackled Johnson's foreign policy in an address prepared for a luncheon gathering of his Minnesota backer.

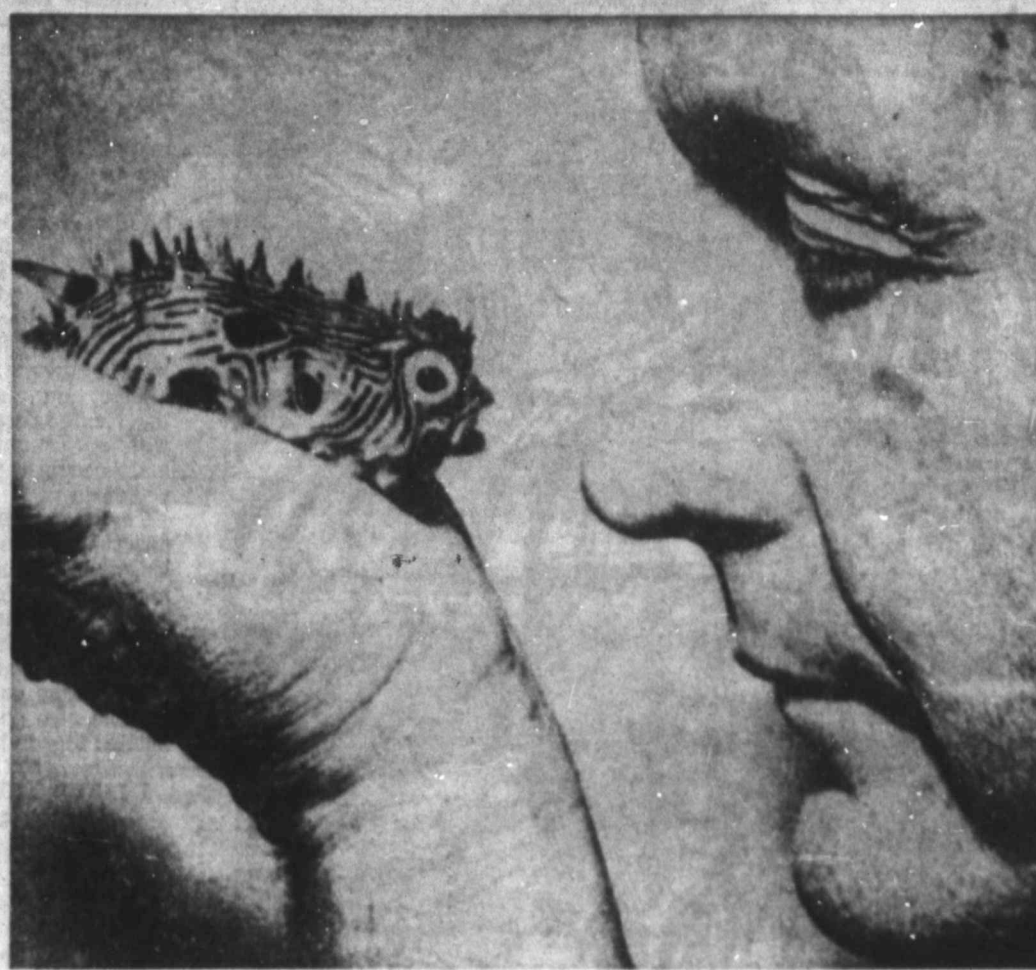

Goldwater also planned a round of receptions for state Republicans and his campaign workers, and rallies at St. Paul.

"There is a new coup in South Viet Nam and the war there is drifting toward disaster," Goldwater said. "Where is the administration? Still off making promises to buy votes at home while the world smolders and burns."

"And how can we expect the same administration, the same foreign policy fumbler who neutralized Laos—how can we expect them to do better in Viet Nam?" he asked.

On the crisis over the Panama Canal, he asked: "Where has Lyndon been while Panama burned? Fiddling with his political promises, telling the nation that Republican criticism amuses him—or maybe listening to his Bobby Baker stereo set."

Dealing with Cuba, he said the U.S. wall of isolation "that was supposed to keep it from exporting murder and subversion throughout Latin America crumbled even as it was being built."

Terrazas Announces For County Commission Post

Simon (Cy) Terrazas has announced his candidacy for county commissioner of Precinct 1.

Terrazas, a local business man and former Cosden employe, has resided in Big Spring and Howard County for over 35 years. He and his wife, Claudine, own their home at 1001 Bell, where they reside with two of their children, Simon Jr., a sophomore in high school and active in athletics, and Mary Alice, a fourth grader. Their oldest daughter, Claudean, attends Texas Tech.

In announcing his candidacy, Terrazas issued the following statement:

"I have lived in Howard County for more than 35 years and have seen Big Spring grow from a small town to a thriving city. I believe that through a progressive administration the city and county can continue to grow and progress.

"While the majority of my interests are in Precinct 1, I know and realize that the commissioners court serves the entire county. My experience as a business man and my knowledge of conditions in Precinct 1, as well as the county, well qualify me to serve as your county commissioner. We need more and better roads in the county, and I believe that through careful planning, more and better roads can be built in Howard

SIMON (CY) TERRAZAS

County for less money.

"By careful planning, we can keep abreast of the times, and can look and plan ahead in such a way that the taxpayers can get more for their tax dollar.

"Eight years ago the voters of Precinct 1 placed me in the run-off. I am deeply grateful for the votes and support that I received and ask their continued support. I sincerely ask all of the voters of Precinct 1 to elect me your commissioner. Realizing that the affairs of the county are big business, I shall devote my time, knowledge and experience so as to operate it as such a business."

Labor To Drive For Pension Hike

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union, whose contracts often set national patterns, is going to drive hard for improved fringe benefits, particularly pensions, in 1964.

The UAW is leaving no doubt that fringe improvement will be an all-out goal, even if the union unexpectedly were to pass up seeking a substantial wage increase, or possibly profit-sharing, in the wake of one of the auto industry's most lucrative years.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said he will not ask contracts which would result in price increases, but he wrote President Johnson the industry could cut car prices $200 and still grant wage increases and fringe benefits.

Ford Motor Co. reported that fringes such as pensions, life and hospital-medical insurance and supplemental unemployment benefits cost 77 cents for every hour worked by every production employe in 1962. A spokesman estimated 1963 costs were "substantially higher."

General Motors said employe insurance cost it $175 million in 1962; supplemental unemployment benefits $42 million, and 40,236 retirees drew $42 million in pensions.

Fringe figure breakdowns for 1963 are not available from any of the automakers. The bureau of Labor Statistics reports the hourly straight-time pay of auto workers averaged $3.

Wages have risen seven cents an hour on a cost-of-living escalator carried forward in the two-year contracts which expire Aug. 31. For every .5 of a point the cost of living indexes rises or falls, wages go up or down a penny an hour.

Attorneys Set For Rape Trial

LAMESA (SC)—Prosecution and defense attorneys have indicated that they are ready to proceed Feb. 4 when the state is scheduled to try Harold L. Byars, 17, for the Dec. 28, 1963 rape of a Welch woman.

District Atty. George H. Hansard said he would seek the death penalty. A special venire of 75 persons has been called for duty by Judge Truett Smith.

The 106th District Court judge also appointed Ray Renner, Lamesa, and Kent Wagonseller, Lubbock, to defend the accused.

Joins Bank

LAMESA (SC)—Norman W. Stewart, formerly of Artesia, N. M., has been elected first vice president of the First National Bank. Stewart will be moving from Waxahachie, where he has been managing officer of the Waxahachie Federal Savings and Loan Association, and expects to assume his duties here Feb. 10. A native of Jacksboro, Stewart is a graduate of the University of Texas.

Berry Attends CD Meeting

W. D. Berry, Howard County Civil Defense director, is among over 400 civil defense officials from over Texas attending the fourth annual conference of Texas Civil Defense Directors in Austin today and Tuesday. The meeting is held at the Stephen F. Austin Hotel.

The statewide conference is the first of its kind since Gov. John Connally transferred the state office of Defense and Disaster Relief from the executive department to the Department of Public Safety. DPS Director Homer Garrison Jr. was named State Defense and Disaster Relief coordinator last year.

The program includes addresses by Chief George Busby, DPS inspection and planning division; Bill Parker, Denton, regional director of the office of Civil Defense, and others.

Col. Garrison addressed the assembly at 12:30 p.m. today.

Governor Connally also attended the meeting. The rest of the session will be given over to discussion groups.

Cancer Directors To Meet Tuesday

A Devotional For The Day

"I know the plans I have for you, says the Lord, plans for welfare and not for evil, to give you a future and a hope." (Jeremiah 29:11. RSV.)

PRAYER: O God, our Father, whose love is from everlasting to everlasting upon all Thy children, give us grace in every time of trial or temptation to put our trust in Thee. Guided by Thy wisdom and empowered by Thy spirit, may we enter that life of victory and peace whereby Thou dost give us a future and a hope; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

The Local Political Scene

Howard Countians who paid their poll tax — and, gratifyingly, there are a record number of them — will get their money's worth in the May primaries.

The lists apparently have closed on candidate filings and on the local level there will be plenty of competition. For all offices, from that of District Attorney on down, the people are presented choices.

Four seek the nomination for District Clerk, six are out for the sheriff's job; four for the commission-ership of Precinct 1 and five for that of Precinct 3.

These are all on the Democratic ticket; and, come November, there will be a couple of Republican bidders for local office: sheriff and commissioner of Precinct 3.

Interest obviously will be less intense in district and state races. George Mahon, for Congress; David Ratliff, for State Senate; and Ed Carpenter for State Legislature, all are unopposed.

And it is not a bad bet that state offices will remain safely in the hands of incumbents. Governor John Connally has done such a good job and has achieved such warm acceptance from Texans during his first term that he ought to be given an overpowering vote of confidence. We believe that Preston Smith as lieutenant governor and Waggoner Carr as attorney general deserve and will receive the same.

With the U.S. Senate race as the possible exception, it appears now that the political sparks — at least through May — will be generated on the home front.

More Families Coming

The economic statisticians have reminded before, and remind again, that the continuing "baby crop" is about the biggest thing to keep planning for.

This, in spite of the fact that the birth rate recently has declined. A government source says this decline has been 14 per cent since 1957.

But — the postwar baby boom is about to bring its multitude of offspring into the marrying years. The 1946-47 babies turn 17 and 18 this year.

In terms of U.S. population growth, this can be of great impact. Even if there are to be fewer babies per mother (an apparent current trend), there will still be many more mothers.

As families come into being as such, the impact on the market is tremendous. More housing, and possibly larger housing units; more furniture and appliances; in fact, more of everything.

There is every indication that the population growth will continue, may even be accelerated. Come recessions or periods of growth, come tax changes or not, come whatever economic factor the experts care to cite, the fact remains that an expanding population must mean more business, in virtually every area.

David Lawrence

The Policy Of Wishful Thinking

WASHINGTON — Troubles are multiplying all over the world for the United States government, which still refuses to look facts in the face and instead follows a policy of wishful thinking and avoidance of realistic truths.

For the biggest single fact is that, whether in South Vietnam or Cyprus or Berlin or Africa or Cuba or Panama, the hand of evil is Communist and is directed by the Kremlin.

ALTHOUGH the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Southeast Asia Alliance are supposed to hold things together against Russia and Red China, another unpleasant fact is that a major partner in both alliances — France — has just broken away. This helped to cause the overthrow of the government in South Vietnam, where the fear had developed that French intimacy with the Red Chinese would, by the deceptive process of "neutralization," hand the country over to the Communists.

Yet, in the midst of such intrigue, the United States maintains 15,500 troops in South Vietnam, where already more than 100 Americans have lost their lives and many others have been wounded. About $1.5 million a day is the cost to the taxpayers of this country.

BUT AS THE Communist apparatus spreads its operations throughout the world and meddles in Cuba, in Panama, and in other Latin-American countries, as well as in Africa and Asia, the main culprit — the Soviet government — is treated as if no crime has been committed anywhere. Subversion by the Communists is denounced and infiltration condemned, but the United States continues futile talkfests in Geneva on the subject of "disarmament," even as the Russians themselves refuse to take the word of the American government that an unarmed training plane strayed across a boundary. There is not the slightest sign of the mutual trust and good faith so essential to any successful negotiation between civilized governments.

THE SOVIET government, which is responsible for the provocation of trouble on every continent, maintains an innocent posture, and the free world selfishly and foolishly consents to furnish economic aid to the Communist side of the "cold war." It is a tragic situation for which the peoples of the West must take much of the blame.

Despite all the mischief being wrought by the Moscow government, the sending of goods — including the sale of wheat — and the lending of money to the "cold war" enemy are considered legitimate. This is vigorously defended in London, Paris and Washington, as well as in other capitals of this hemisphere.

WHAT IS THE answer? It is to sever commercial and eventually, if necessary, diplomatic relations with any government that cannot be trusted to keep its word and that refuses to cease violating the oldest principles of international law and the words of the United Nations Charter which condemn any interference by an outside power in the internal affairs of any other country.

Unless policies in the Western World are based on fundamental principle instead of expediency, chaos will result and the situation will bring the big war that nobody wants. If, as alleged by Secretary of Defense McNamara, the United States is militarily stronger than Russia, then the insufficient to cause the Kremlin to stop meddling in the internal affairs of other countries. But there is doubt whether this armed power means anything, because the free governments of the world continue to pussyfoot policies.

RESOLUTION has become an obsolete word. The appeasement at Munich is scornfully referred to nowadays as ancient history because it happened 25 years ago. But it cannot be forgotten that less than 12 months afterward in a credulous world the most destructive war of all times broke out.

Billy Graham

I have heard you say, "All you have to do to become a Christian is to accept Christ." But, when you think about it Christ imposes some responsibility upon us, doesn't He? G.M.

Just about everyone wants religion, and I suppose you could say that just about everyone HAS some kind of religion. But most of us want a religion that doesn't cost too much.

We are "bargain hunters" by nature. Most people want good teeth, but too few will pay the price in time, inconvenience, suffering, and money, to get good teeth.

Most women want to be slimmer than they are, but they hunt the "easy" way to lose weight, rather than suffer the tortures of dieting. Everyone wants good health, but how many will give up smoking and drinking, when they are sure it is injurious to their health? To be sure, they want good health, but not bad enough to pay a price for it.

The same is true of religion. We want a faith that doesn't require too much from us. Like the rich young ruler, when Christ says, "Follow Me," we are inclined to go away — back to our miserable little lives of cheap pleasure and purposelessness. You are right, "All one must do to be a Christian is to accept Christ," but the full implication is a pretty big order!

De Gaulle's Mysticism Shows Signs Of Pettishness

WASHINGTON (AP)—French President Charles de Gaulle, like a man descending the mountain with two tablets of stone, for a year has issued pronouncements saying "no" to American policy.

He banned the British from the European Common Market; refused to agree to a nuclear test-ban treaty; advocated neutralization of Southeast Asia; and recognized the sovereignty of Red China.

In each case he acknowledged some benefit to France. Americans can't consider this a mortal sin by itself, since they are concerned about benefits to this country.

BUT HE IS part of the Western world. If there were a few more De Gaulles there could be no alliance.

His repeated negations have been explained by apologists as the work of a man with a mystical belief in the revival of French greatness. But there has been pettishness in much of what he did, almost hostility.

There can be doubt that much of his mysticism is any more than political and personal immaturity.

There is immaturity in his obsessive nationalism which would have been more fitting in the 18th Century when Napoleon was emerging and French horizons seemed unlimited.

BUT WESTERN Europe's nationalism brought two world wars and chaos. To try to restore it as intensely as De Gaulle is doing is to turn the clock back.

He has given demoralized France stability since he started his reign in 1958—reign is not an inaccurate word, for France now looks more like a monarchy than a republic—but there is no assurance the deluge won't follow him.

His personal immaturity is in his need for grandeur and the trappings of grandeur, in himself and France. He resents what he considers affronts and to maintain his ego retaliates with obstruction, like a child tearing toys.

ON JAN. 14, 1963 he arranged for a news conference at such a time and with such a purpose — just shortly before the late President John F. Kennedy addressed Congress — that he torpedoed the President.

Kennedy happily announced a "new era of interdependence and unity taking shape" in Europe which "we regard as a welcome partner . . . not a rival." He was thinking of the creation of the European Common Market.

But by the time he got the words out De Gaulle had already demonstrated how little unity there was by announcing he was banning Britain from the market. He said Britain was not a European nation.

THIS WAS nationalism at its worst. With Britain out of the market, France figured to dominate it, although the market was intended as one more step toward subordinating nationalism to common interests.

That wasn't all De Gaulle did that day. He rejected American-British proposals for a multilateral NATO nuclear force armed with Polaris missile-firing submarines.

The United States, Britain and the Soviet Union on July 25 initiated a nuclear test-ban treaty. Four days later, De Gaulle said France would not sign and intended to develop its own nuclear weapons.

THEN ON AUG. 29—although the United States has pumped billions in aid into South Vietnam to help the war against the Communist guerrillas of North Vietnam—De Gaulle proposed the two Viet Nams be neutralized with French help. Such a step could wreck the whole Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

France had been driven out of Viet Nam in 1954, after holding it as a colony since the 19th century. Neutralization, with the United States withdrawn, might enable France to recapture some of its old influence.

Golden Silence Avoids Fuss

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

One way to keep peace in the family is to keep mum before meals. A survey found that most quarrels between husbands and wives erupt just before the dinner hour.

The present generation has seen a great religious revival in this country, but, according to Catholic Digest magazine, 100 million Americans still profess no particular religious faith.

To Your Good Health

Several Symptoms Mark Meniere's Disease

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Dear Dr. Molner: My wife, 73, thinks she has Meniere's disease. From time to time she has intense dizzy spells.—H. L. W.

Dear Doctor: I have Meniere's disease and have been told that it is always incurable. I am on a low salt diet and am getting nicotinic acid, but still have two to four attacks a week.—J. G.

I cannot agree that Meniere's disease is always "incurable"—sometimes it is and sometimes it isn't.

Furthermore, in my opinion too many people think they have Meniere's disease when they don't; they actually have some other kind of ear ailment. They then give up too soon, and just decide to get along as best they can with it, instead of, perhaps, tracing the trouble to something else, and having it treated.

Don't assume that recurring dizzy spells (vertigo) are necessarily Meniere's disease. The first letter today is an example.

With Meniere's disease a definite group of symptoms must be present: Dizziness, in which objects seem to move; hearing is decreased or lost; either a low or high tone of ringing in the ears. Along with these are usually nausea, vomiting and sweating. Just one of these symptoms does not constitute Meniere's disease.

But with Meniere's, attacks are recurrent and usually come on suddenly. I recall one case vividly. A man sneezed violently while driving his automobile. He became dizzy and pulled to the curb.

When he stepped out of his car, he couldn't stand up. His ears rang and he lost a good deal of his ability to hear.

He was assumed to be drunk, but examination showed that he wasn't. He had Meniere's disease.

He responded to treatment within 10 days, and to the best of my knowledge has had no further trouble.

Treatment? Salt restriction to reduce water retention in the body; drugs on the order of nicotinic acid or histamine to alter the circulation; dramamine or other drugs to prevent nausea; correction of focal infections in nose or throat—all of these can be at the root of the trouble. In extreme cases, sometimes surgery is required, but this usually involves complete loss of hearing, and therefore should not be undertaken until more conservative treatments have been exhausted.

Around The Rim

Death Sentence For Smoking

One thing and another: Granted that the incidence of lung cancer among smokers is high, no one expects our Congress to take the action Russia did against tobacco users many years ago. At one time, it was a capital offense there to be caught pulling on a fag and offenders were put to death.

That was one thing which couldn't be blamed on Lenin or Stalin, however. That was before their time.

WATCH THOSE eye teeth, if they're the least bit loose.

An enterprising group of thieves stole a three-room display house in Mobile, Ala., last year. To complete the clean sweep, they also made off with a German shepherd dog which had been brought in to serve as a watch dog.

They exercised more care than an unscrupulous individual in Los Angeles, who probably wasn't cut out to be a crook in the first place. He made his way into a building, all right, and proceeded to throw some suede jackets out of the window. Two policemen, after getting out from under the pile, put the arm on the luckless guy and hustled him to headquarters.

I LIKED THE story about the city family who moved to the country for the summer.

They wondered about the problem of getting rid of their garbage, since there was no garbage collection. So the head of the household hailed a farmer living nearby and told him of his problem.

"Oh, we feed it to the pigs," the farmer replied.

The city fellow bought a nice young pig and the farmer solved the problem nicely. Fork came along, and the family was ready to move back to the city. The husband and father looked up the same farmer and asked him if he'd like to buy a pig.

"I might, if the price is right," the farmer bargained.

"Well," the city man said thoughtfully, "we gave $10 for him, and he's been used all summer. Would $5 be too much?"

Mrs. Smith Is Frank About It All

Before the Republican Presidential primaries are ended, more than one G.O.P. candidate may be tempted to go up and down the nation chalking up a sign reading "Yank, Go Home!"

The Yankee thus advised would be Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, (R-Maine) the latest Republican Presidential candidate. She brings to the Presidential primaries much needed, class, as well as courage and character.

"WHERE'S MY strength? I don't know yet. But I'll find out," the senior Senator from Maine, whom I have known and admired for two decades as a woman and a fine public servant, said a few days ago. "I will appeal to a lot of people who can't vote for Governor Rockefeller and who won't vote for Senator Goldwater because of his philosophy.

"I'm a third force. I call myself a moderate," the Senator continued. "My candidacy in the primaries will give the moderate voter a choice so he won't stay home on primary day.

"MY MAIL HAS grown steadily from every part of the Union in the past year. It comes from both men and women. And I am impressed by the fact that it is not emotional mail. Its tone is both sound and steady.

"In reality, I have had more political experience than all the rest of them put together. That is, the other candidates, either avowed or in the wings. Neither Senator Goldwater nor Governor Rockefeller has had my experience in Washington, and certainly not Governor Scranton or Governor Romney," said the only woman who has ever served in both branches of Congress. Sen. Smith served four terms in the House before her election to the Senate in 1948.

"I AM THE second ranking Republican on the Armed Services Committee; the ranking Republican on the Space Committee and the fourth ranking Republican on the Appropriations Committee," Sen. Smith said, naming three of the Senate's most important committees. "I am also a member of the Senate Preparedness Investigating subcommittee and a member of the Republican Policy Committee.

"I am going into the New Hampshire primary on my own, and not against anyone," she continued. "I don't have any money and it would be out of character for me to spend a lot. I shall have no paid workers, no paid publicity and no paid campaign material. I shall go about a lot on foot, as is my practice.

"I HAVE NO illusions," Sen. Smith keeps repeating. She knows she will never get the Republican Presidential nomination. She refuses even to discuss the Vice Presidential post on the sound theory that the Presidency is her goal.

"If you make a good showing in the primaries, what kind of a lever will you be able to exert on the G.O.P. convention?" I asked.

"It's too early to say," she said, frankly.

"I CAN ONLY campaign on the weekends," Sen. Smith explained. "I can't do anything that will take me away from Washington and the job to which I have been elected.

The woman who has received forty honorary collegiate degrees but never went to college, and who clerked in the five-and-dime and worked as a telephone operator to put herself through high school does not ask chivalry from the masculine-dominated press. Nor has she gotten it.

Marching As To War

WASHINGTON — It may be that some awareness of a religious mission in the Cold War is becoming assertive.

Chief Justice Warren was in the congregation at St. Matthews Cathedral here on January 26th when the Most Reverend John J. Russell, Bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Richmond, used his sermon to tear into the "neutrality" toward religion expressed by the Supreme Court.

BISHOP RUSSELL deplored the "widespread belief . . . that the Government should be neutral concerning religion and non-religion." He related this "neutrality" to a "lowering of moral standards" in the American nation. He was evidently referring to this passage from the Supreme Court's 1962 decision which outlawed prayers in public schools. The high court declared:

"The First Amendment leaves the Government in a position not of hostility toward religion but of neutrality."

ON THE SUNDAY immediately preceding — January 19th — the congregation of St. John's Episcopal Church in Georgetown heard a much stronger assault upon the Supreme Court and its decision which abolished school prayers. Senator Milward Simpson of Wyoming, a lay reader, preached a guest sermon which contained the caustic sentence:

"Most obviously the prayers at the beginning of each session of the Supreme Court have not established religion there. We undoubtedly all agree in the doctrine of separation of Church and State," he said, and then asked, "but do we agree on a doctrine of separation of God and State?"

SIMPSON WENT on to list results that have followed the Supreme Court's ruling. Court decisions leading to expunging of the Lord's Prayer and Biblical questions from school curricula have been given. Cases which pertain to the abolition of religious references in "The Star-Spangled Banner" and "America," as sung in schools, have been brought up. A case is pending in California for the elimination of "In God We Trust" on our coinage. Left-wing groups are working to abolish school programs that concern Christmas, Easter, Thanksgiving and baccalaureate services.

None of this is coincidental, in Simpson's opinion. He sees it as part of a larger conspiracy to demoralize the country.

"IT MAY SOUND fantastic, but it's true," he told the congregation, which included a Cabinet member, an Ambassador and this member of the press. "The blows are being timed so that time itself will soften them, or we become engrossed with other demanding problems, before the next one hits. There is a relentless determination . . ."

In the morning mail of January 27th, there appeared a press release from the Synod of Bishops, Russian Orthodox Church outside of Russia. The release began:

"IN 1958, a seven-year plan to destroy religion in the U.S.S.R. was put into effect. The persecution of religion . . . is now threatening to bring it to the miserable situation that existed before the World War II."

A Roman Catholic Bishop, a religious-minded Protestant Senator, the Russian Orthodox Synod — all speaking their thoughts separately, and within a span of eight days—do not, of course, constitute a spiritual awakening. Only the people could bring such an event into being. Nevertheless, there is something here to give us thought.

Fire Water

RICHMOND, Ky. (AP)—Water was partly to blame for the fire in Mrs. Woodrow Hinkle's auto.

She had left several jugs of water on the floor behind the front seat and several hours later smoke began pouring from the vehicle.

President Can't Stop GOP--Pena

AUSTIN (AP) — A liberal Democratic leader says that as President, Lyndon B. Johnson will strengthen the party in Texas as but cannot stop Republican growth in the state.

This view was expressed by Albert Pena, president of the Political Association of Spanish Speaking Organizations, during a panel discussion Sunday at the annual meeting of the Texas Associated Press Managing Editors Association.

Other members of the panel were State Sen. Charles Herring of Austin, a Democrat; Roy Evans, secretary-treasurer of the Texas AFL-CIO, and Mrs. Ike Kampmann, Republican national committeewoman for Texas.

At their two-day meeting the managing editors will discuss the Associated Press news report and consider means for improvement.

SPEAKERS

Among the speakers Sunday were Turner Catledge, managing editor of the New York Times; Bill Mauldin, noted cartoonist, and Wes Gallagher, general manager of The Associated Press.

Gallagher discussed the growth of The Associated Press, but said statistics on employees and miles of news wires could not tell the full story.

"You can measure it only in terms of men," he said.

"The AP is nothing more than men linked together by electronics . . . to gather an unbiased news report."

Gallagher said the present political year will offer challenges but he promised the managing editors that The Associated Press will continue to refuse to project solid election count figures into estimates and will not use computer estimates of the outcome.

BE LOCAL

Catledge said that a newspaper, even the internationally known Times, must be a local newspaper primarily.

Of the West Coast edition of the Times, recently discontinued, he said:

"We had it burnt into us as in no other way that a newspaper is a local matter."

Mauldin, who can trace his career back to Abilene, Tex., while he was a member of the 45th Infantry Division, called for more freedom for editorial cartoonists.

He said that while an editorial writer remains anonymous, a cartoonist's work carries his name and thus he should be allowed latitude in his approach to issues.

Mauldin also urged that more local cartoonists be encouraged.

RESPONSES

"You get immediate, quick responses" from local cartoons, he said.

During the panel discussion, Pena called the two-party system in Texas a "healthy thing."

He predicted President Johnson would emerge in 1964 as a Democrat "in the Truman mold—a give 'em hell on the domestic issues and conservative on fiscal policies."

Evans called Texas' 1963 government "unresponsive" and asked managing editors for their newspapers to crusade for pro-labor legislation in 1964, primarily a minimum wage law.

MORE SHAPED

Herring said the "politics of Texas in 1964 probably will be shaped more by the people sitting in this audience (the editors) than by the groups represented on this panel."

He predicted Johnson would win in the November election. He also forecast victories for Gov. John Connally, who is seeking re-election, and Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., who announced Saturday he will seek a second full term.

Mrs. Kampmann, a Republican worker in Texas since 1948, outlined her party's progress since then. She said, for instance, that Republicans had three office holders in 1960 and 39 in 1963.

GOLDWATER

She said the expectation of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., as this year's GOP presidential nominee, "has been a big help in attracting good Republican candidates for statewide offices."

She said Goldwater has 400 solidly committed delegate votes for the presidential nomination at the GOP national convention and is gaining strength daily.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, has "no great national support," said Mrs. Kampmann.

"She certainly will be a colorful attraction at the convention, though."

Mrs. Smith recently announced she is a candidate for the Republican nomination for president.

Ore Carrier Squeezes Into Canal

Snow Up To Seven Inches Forecast For South Plains

Warnings of heavy snow up to 7 inches and hazardous driving conditions were issued for Northwest Texas today as a new blast of winter moved into the state. Three to five inches of snow was expected to cover most of the Panhandle - Plains by nightfall with as much as 7 inches in some West Central sections. The snow was expected to reach as far south as the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

A pre-dawn freeze at Amarillo turned misting rain into ice that glazed city streets. Two persons were taken to hospitals as scores of traffic accidents were reported. One underpass was closed because of the ice hazard. A snow that started in mid-morning kept traffic snarled with accidents being reported to police at the rate of one every two minutes.

AT MULESHOE
Steel-like snow covered the ground at Muleshoe by mid-morning while just across the state line at Clovis in New Mexico an inch of snow had fallen. Two highways in New Mexico were closed by heavy snows.

Lubbock was among the many points reporting snow behind the cold front which was almost stationary along a line running from near Wichita Falls to San Angelo and Alpine.

Rain, drizzle and fog covered much of the state early today as minimum temperatures ranged from 25 degrees at Dalhart to 63 at Brownsville.

The rain was expected to turn to sleet or snow as the front pushed deeper into the state during the day.

The Weather Bureau said that the heaviest snows would probably occur in the area of Guthrie and Big Spring in Central West Texas.

WARNING ISSUED
The State Highway Department issued a hazardous driving warning for the Panhandle area because of the snow.

The new storm moved southward into the state from New Mexico where three to six inches of snow fell earlier today. Cold, blustery winds brought drifting snow and near blizzard conditions to the northern part of New Mexico.

In Texas the colder weather was expected to reach the central portion of the state late tonight and spread to the south-east area by Tuesday.

The predicted lows for tonight ranged from 18 degrees in the Panhandle to freezing weather in the central part of the state.

Man Injured In Cafe Shooting

A 20-year-old Big Spring man was shot in the hip shortly after midnight Saturday following a fracas at Speck's Drive-In, US 87 north, police said.

Joe Alcantas Ramirez, shooting victim, was taken to Howard County Hospital Foundation by a friend following the shooting, police said. The bullet passed through Ramirez' body, police said, pointing out they do not know what weapon was used since the slug has not been recovered.

The young man was released from the hospital Monday morning. Detectives said his condition is good. No arrests have been made in connection with the shooting, but Ramirez discussed the incident with detectives following his release from the hospital.

Conservatives Looking For Senate Candidate

By The Associated Press
 Conservative Texas Democrats hoped to know by nightfall Monday whether they will have an experienced candidate running against U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

The Senate race was the big uncertainty left for Democrats on the last day for filing by candidates in the May 2 primary elections. Since Houston businessman and former congressman Lloyd Bentsen of Houston withdrew last month as a potential challenger of Yarborough, speculation has drifted mainly between U.S. Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen and former Gov. Allan Shivers.

Attention focused on Kilgore in recent days and was heightened by his announcement Wednesday that he would not seek re-election. During a weekend trip to Austin, however, Kilgore said he had made no decision.

LITTLE CONCERN
 Yarborough, meanwhile, announced Saturday for his second term and showed little concern over the scramble to pit another opponent against him. Pledging full support of President Johnson, Yarborough said he was sure the President will not work against his re-election. He has had one opponent, John Van Cronkhite of Dallas, for several weeks. Yarborough also said he doubted the entry of Don Yarborough in the governor's race increased the senator's chances for another opponent because "the present governor said long before he wanted to see me replaced."

LIGHT BALLOT
 The low number of Democratic candidates in the Senate and governor's races matched a light ballot shaping up in most other races. An exception is the congressman-at-large post, for which four have announced. Republicans, however, are making party history with a new high of three candidates seeking the nomination for a statewide office. They are George Bush, Houston oil man; Dr. Milton Davis, Dallas surgeon; and Robert Morris of Dallas, former counsel of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee. All are running for U.S. senator. Two Dallas candidates, insurance agent C. G. Weakley Jr. and oil man Jack Crichton, are seeking the GOP gubernatorial nomination. State Rep. Horace Houston of Dallas has announced as a candidate for the GOP nomination for lieutenant governor. No Republicans filed before Monday for the congressman-at-large race, where Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas faces three fellow Democrats: former State Sen. Robert Baker of Houston, Bill Elkins of Greenville and Dan Sullivan of Andrews.

FROM TEMPLE
 Bill Hayes, Temple businessman who ran for lieutenant governor in 1962, said he would file for the GOP nomination for congressman-at-large. In other statewide races: Albert Fuentes Jr. of San Antonio will challenge Lt. Gov. Preston Smith. Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr had no opponents before Monday. Millard Shivers of Waco will try to unseat Agriculture Commissioner John White. The winner will meet John B. Armstrong of Kingsville, a Republican. State Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler has an opponent, Fred N. Williams of Dallas. State Comptroller Robert Calvert has no Democratic opposition but Dallas Calmes of Houston will be a GOP candidate for the post.

Wheat Announcement Expected This Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington: Wheat: Announcement is expected early this week of the sale of 26 million bushels of wheat to Russia. The exporter is believed to be Cargill, Inc., a major Minneapolis concern. Some 7.84 million bushels of durum wheat are thought to be part of the deal. It is known that the Agriculture Department has agreed to pay export subsidies averaging 78.5 cents a bushel on the durum wheat, and this may lead to criticism in some congressional quarters. The subsidy compares with an average of 73.5 cents a bushel to be paid on about 13 million bushels of durum sold to Russia by the Continental Grain Co. of Minneapolis and New York. Smaller amounts of durum sold to other countries lately have ranged as low as 56 cents a bushel. The department says a rise in durum prices accounts for 78.5 cent subsidy. But the fact that subsidies on Russian-bound wheat are running considerably higher than those on wheat sold elsewhere led to congressional complaints that the department is paying not only the difference between domestic and world prices but a part of the cost of transportation on American ships. The export subsidy is designed to enable American exporters to meet the competition posed by lower priced world markets. Antismoking: The Air Force surgeon general said today his service will undertake a "soft sell" campaign aimed at weaning young airmen from cigarette smoking. "The young ones are the ones we really want to get to," Maj. Gen. Richard L. Bohannon told a reporter. The key word in the campaign is persuasion — not prohibition. A nonsmoker himself, the Air Force's top doctor said he doubts that any bans on buying, possessing or using tobacco would work.

Falcon proves it's America's toughest compact in the rugged Monte Carlo Rallye!

Four Falcons started from Oslo, four from Paris, on routes calculated to be equal in difficulty and length. Weather conditions varied from clear, bitter cold through freezing fog to blinding snow—and the time schedules made no provision for delays. Here a Falcon swirls through a sudden snow shower, testing traction in a practice run.

Falcon entered two classes in Europe's 2,700-mile winter ordeal—won them both and finished 2nd overall out of 299 cars. That's durability!

In the Rallye's five special Alpine sections, Falcon was first overall in four, tied for first in one. That's roadability!

In the Rallye's final test around the Monte Carlo racing course, Falcons were first and second. That's maneuverability!

MONTE CARLO—The 33rd Monte Carlo Rallye started with 299 cars. Some 2,700 miles and 8½ days later, only 163 were still in the rally when the field struggled into Monaco—but they included all eight of the specially equipped Falcons that originally started! This eight-out-of-eight record was perhaps more remarkable than the fact that, despite a handicap formula that favored the smallest cars, a Falcon captured second place overall. One car can have luck... but eight have to have total performance. Because the Rallye samples every variety of weather and road conditions the continent can provide, and because it winds up on the most remote byways in the French Maritime Alps, it is a supreme test of all the car's abilities. Falcon steering had to be flawless on glare ice above a 1,000-foot drop. Those fabulous V-8's had to run like dynamos. The final results in the Monte Carlo Rallye gave Falcon 2nd place overall, 1st in Class 8 of the Touring category, 1st and 2nd in Class 5 of the much tougher Grand Touring category, 1st and 2nd in the final three-lap test on the Monte Carlo circuit. The best finish by a Valiant was 88th overall. Falcon gained invaluable experience in how to build a car better, make it tougher, sharpen up its total performance. That's the real reason Ford is interested in open competition—and why Ford-built cars have got so much more to show drivers. Drive one and see: it won't have six lights, or a horn you can hear for four miles in stormy weather, or the other special rally equipment—but it'll sure surprise you!

TRY TOTAL PERFORMANCE FOR A CHANGE!
